Thursday, January 25 FORMER PRESIDENT LYNDON B. JOHNSON was buried in his family ceme-tery on the L.B.J. Ranch in the Texas hill country. An estimated 10,000 persons attended the ceremony and listened to the eulogies of evangelist Billy Graham and former Texas governor John B. Connally. The ceremony, held on a rain-dampened, cold pasture, was attended by Mr. Johnson's close friends and neighbors and many leading political figures. Mr. Johnson, 64, was fatally stricken with a heart attack at his ranch three days earlier. The ranch cere-mony followed services in Washington.

PRESIDENT NIXON unveiled a budget totaling $268 billion for the 1974 fiscal year beginning next July 1. This figure is an $18 billion increase from 1973. President Nixon explained that he had broken away from a meeting with bipartisan congressional leaders on the budget, which will be submitted to Congress Monday. He gave no further details on the next budget, but other officials hinted that it would slash deeply into "Great Society" programs which Mr. Nixon does not feel are necessary.

Saturday, January 27 WILLIAM P. ROGERS, Secretary of State, joined with representatives of South Vietnam, North Vietnam, and the Viet Cong in signing peace documents in Paris ending the Vietnam war. 600 Bagels Sold in Five Minutes at Pierce!

Preparing for the onslaught of 750 Pierce Middle School students and faculty members ready to buy 600 bagels at the recent Bagel Sale to aid India's famine victims are students (left to right) BILL MICHALAK, JANE PERRY, TERI YOUNGQUIST, BOB BARKER, RICHARD PARKS, ANNE BICKLEY and PATTY McCAF-FERTY. The seventh grade students are in Mrs. Doris Cook's social studies classes which are studying non-Western cultures this term. Recently the students were alerted to the critical famine problem in India today, the aftermath of a severe drought, and decided to start a drive to aid the hungry. Over $200 has been raised through three bagel sales and collection cannisters placed in the school. That sum will be matched by the Pierce student government, bringing the total to $400. It seems that student Bill Michalak can't wait to sample the goods!

Although there were less alarms, the size of the fires in 1972 resulted in the higher monetary loss. The sergeant cited two dwelling fires, both caused by burning candles, which resulted in an estimated, combined loss of $6,000 to $7,000 last year.

The breakdown of alarms for 1972 and 1971 shows 16 for dwellings each year; auto fires, five in 1972, one in 1971; grass, brush fires, two in 1972, 11 in 1971; all other fires, (e.g., marine, garage, etc.), nine in 1972, 10 in 1971 and false alarms, 13 in 1972, 12 in 1971. Mutual aid responses for

More Clearances

While the increase in burglaries can be reflected to more activity, Chief Henry Coonce emphasized the department's clearance rate is over the 20 percent rise. Clearances jumped from 39 in 1971 to 63 last year.

The biggest decrease in minor crimes concerns larcenies. For example, during 1972, 286 bicycles were stolen as against 338 in 1971. In 1972 there were 28 narcotic offenses with 24 persons charged under state and local laws, (state charges pertain to those arrested before a city ordinance went into effect last March). In 1971, there were seven narcotic offenses recorded with five charges filed.

Chief Koonce said he was pleased with the general decline of serious crime in last year, 28 in 1971). The chief cited numerous reasons for the decline including more on-the-street contact on the part of officers, the possibility of receiving some benefit of increased spending via federal agencies over the past few years, the work of the Youth Service Division, the overall education of the public and the increased awareness of minority problems.

Like his colleague in The Park, Farms Chief Robert Ferber was very pleased with the overall reduction of major areas of crime.

In his report, Chief Ferber notes three armed robberies occurred in 1972 as against two in 1971 and five in 1970. Two of the offenses were cleared by arrest last year (Continued on Page 6)

Each of the hospitals also offers area residents a variety of health education programs such as the Smoking Clinic at St. John, the Co-op Pro-gram at Cottage for high school nurses' aids and orderlies, and Bon Secours' first aid training program for Girl Scouts. The three hospitals offer diabetes instruction on the problems of detection and Cottage's $7,000,000 expansion program increased the hospital's capacity from 115 beds to 184. The three-year expansion program also made possible the establishment of a new psychiatric ward with 33 beds, the only facility of its type between Mt. Clemens and Detroit. Cottage also set up a Continued Care Unit on the second floor of the new wing, an area for patients no longer needing continuous bed care but not well enough to be discharged.

Bon Secours' Plans

Bon Secours' expansion program, scheduled to last until 1975, will increase the number of beds from 166 to 320. Also in the plans is an increase in physical therapy services and the construction of a radio isotopes laboratory for therapeutic radiology. The five-year $18,000,000 program will expand all areas of the hospital's facilities and serv-

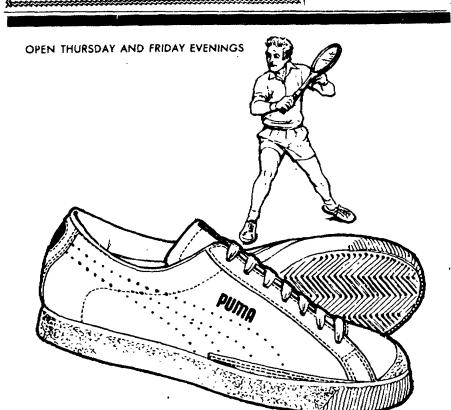

St. John has made medical news recently by providing a neo-natal intensive care unit. The hospital also has its own infant transportation unit to give mother and child intensive care en route to the hospital. Another outstanding facility of St. John's is its coronary care unit complete with a catheterization laboratory which detects blocked passages to the heart, Future expansion plans of St. John are contingent on the findings of the hospital consulting firm.

Seek Best Uses It's hoped that the Joint Committee will make recom-mendations for the best utilisation of the new facilities in planning community health programs and community hospital care services. In that way, hospitals may be run as efficiently as possible,

The man stuck his head through the opened car window and pointed a revolver at the doctor and demanded his wallet. After the wallet was handed to the gunman, Dr. Kumar was told to continue on his way and not to look back. The man disappeared.

The doctor drove to Jefferson and Bedford, where he stopped a police car crew and reported the hold-up. The officers called the station to report the crime and to ask for assistance in looking for the suspect. A search of the area failed to locate the wanted man.

Dr. Kumar said that his wallet contained 93 dollars in cash, his operator's li-cense and personal papers.

The Detroit hold-up took place at the rear of 1117 Wayburn, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hardy. The front portion of their

Still Studying Storage Law

By Roger A. Waha

The Woods' proposed or-dinance to prohibit the outside storage of boats, boat trailers, house trailers, mobile homes, vacation campers and other equipment for temporary or mobile living quar-ters within the city remains under study, and isn't expected to come before the council until early spring, according to City Adminis-trator Chester E. Petersen.

Since a meeting between the citizens' committee and the Planning Commission October 24, two further meetings have been held between the committee and City Attorney George Catlin. Each time revisions were made in the proposed draft. Mr. Petersen said another meeting will be scheduled within a month to finalize the word-

Mr. Catlin said, during the meetings, the proposed measure was discussed in detail. suggestions were made on the proposed wording and the ordinance was re-drafted according to suggested changes. When the ordinance first came before the council last summer, some 90 residents voiced their displeasure. The council unanimously referred the ordinance to the Committee of the Whole for further study, and an appointment of the citizens' committee to make recommendations to the C-W with a report back to the council.

Devonshire, was arrested by 1:30 a.m., regarding family trouble at the Devonshire January 25, and charged with address, from the young attempted felonious assault. man's mother. Almond's two sisters and a brother were also home at the time.

Answering the trouble call were Sgt. Walter Paton and Patrolmen Steven Molitor, Paul Konefke, Edward Serwach and Robert Chester.

On arrival, the officers were asked into the house by the mother, but advised to enter through the kitchen landing door. The policemen, on entering the residence, found Almond standing on the top landing, about six steps from the kitchen landing, holding the shotgun. He threatened the policemen with the weapon, the lieutenant said.

The officers spent about 10 to 20 minutes trying to talk Almond into putting down the weapon, but without success. When their efforts failed, all the policemen made a sudden dash up the short stairway, and by sheer weight of numbers, subdued Almond and took the shotgun away from him,

A warrant charging felonious assault was disapproved by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office, but a warrant for attempted felonious assault was granted. Almond was arraigned before Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer later in the day, for a preliminary hearing. The judge set yesterday, January 31, as the day for examination. Almond was ordered held on a $20,000 bond, and was detained in the local jail cell until the examination when he could not post the bond.

"The officers at the scene showed remarkable restraint," Lt. Duncan said, "in that not a single officer drew his service revolver during the confrontation. Standing in the face of a loaded shotgun is a serious thing, and the sergeant and patrolmen had every right because of the fact they were threatened with a loaded wcapon, to shoot to kill, especially when they did not know what the young man's next move would be.

"All six officers are to be commended, in my opinion, for doing a terrific job. They even subdued the subject without inflicting any bodily

Hypertension Forum Slated

"High Blood Pressure What's New?" is the title of a public forum on hypertension, or high blood pressure, slated for Tuesday, February 20, at 7:30 p.m., in the chapel of Saint John Hospital.

Hypertension is a common condition affecting over 20,000,000 Americans. Among types of cardiovascular disease, hypertension stands out because it can be controlled; yet today its control constitutes a major unmet challenge to the medical profession.

Recent developments in determining the causes of hypertension and new developments in its treatment and control will be discussed at this forum which is open to the public. It is being presented by the Saint John Hospital Guild as part of its Community Health Education Program in cooperation with the medical staff at the hospital.

Appearing on the program are Clarence E. Rupe, M.D., chief of medicine; Hugh C. Henderson, M.D., internist and chairman of Saint John Hospital's Coronary Care Committee; and Joseph Beals M.D., internist, specializing in kidney disease, all of Saint John's medica! staff.

Among the subjects they will present are the diseases and disorders leading to high blood pressure, its effects on the heart, kidneys and brain, and new therapy techniques for the cure or centrol of hyat 10:45 a.m.

The officers first spotted the youths, aged 13, 15 and 16 years, walking north on Washington. As they turned east on St. Paul avenue, they began acting suspicious as they kept turning around to watch the City officers.

When stopped by the police and questioned why they were not in school, the youths said they went to South High School. Asked where they lived, the youths became

The truants were taken to the City police station where they were searched. The 15year-old youth proved to be a City resident and his parents were contacted. On his per-

Class Offered By Squadron

For the sixth consecutive year the Grosse Pointe Power Squadron, in co-operation with the Department of Community Services, will offer free instruction to students between the ages of 12 and 16 who wish to qualify for their "Safe Boating Certificate."

Over 1,400 students have successfully fulfilled the requirements and received their certificates.

Under the Marine Safety Act of 1967, young people in this age group are required to have a safety certificate in their possession when operating a power hoat if not accompanied by a person 16 years of age or older.

The Safe Boating Course will be offered at Brownell Middle School beginning Monday, February 12, at 3:30 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. Students will register at the first session. Classes will run for four consecutive weeks.

Fulfilling the requirements outlined by the Department of Natural Resources will entitle students to their certificates. The requirements are 100 per cent attendance, completed homework assignments and a passing grade on the final examination.

For additional information, contact Past Commander John H. Wood at 884-7823.

The other two youths, 16-year-old from Richland, Michigan, and a 13-year-old from Detroit, were turned over to an official from Boys' Republic where the two are in residence.

After the youths were ta-ken to The City police station, the handling of the case was turned over to the Youth Service Division.

Center Slates Concert Feb. 4

Twelve cellos will be playing at the War Memorial Sunday, February 4, when the Grosse Pointe Chamber Music Players present another program of music for fellow musicians and interested music lovers. The concert begins at 3 p.m.

Nine musicians, including solo cellist Steven Eliason, are from South High. They will perform the Villa-Lobos "Bachianas Brasileiras No. 5" with Ann West, soprano soloist at the Grosse Pointe Presbyterian Church, who will sing the composer's difficult and mostly nonverbal voice part. Russell Reed will conduct.

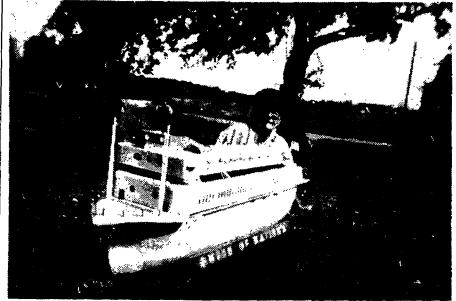

This group received a standing ovation when they recently played the work at Ann Arbor.

Another cellist, Don Trout, opens the program with J. S. Bach's Suite No. 2 for un-accompanied cello. Ramon Lawrence will be the cellist in Lee Noble's Piano Quartet, joining forces with Lillian Freedland, piano, Seymour Kushner, violin, and the composer himself on clar-

Still another cellist, Robert Koenig, plays with Kay Engel, piano, and Andrew Surmak, violin, in a performance of Dvorak's Piano Trio in E minor, the "Dumky."

Hospital Names New Trustees

The Bon Secours Hospital Board of Trustees announced the appointment of three new Trustees last week: Sister Mary Ruth, C.B.S., Sister Theophane, C. B. S., and Dwight J. Dutcher, M.D.

Sister Mary Ruth and Sister Theophane belong to the congregation of the Sisters of Bon Secours and hold administrative positions in hospitals in Richmond, Va., and Baltimore, Md. respectively. Both have worked in the Grosse Pointe Hospital in the past.

Dr. Dutcher, a practicing family physician, just completed his accord term as president of the hospital's medical staff, Sister Mary Ruth serves as administrative assistant at the 351 hed St. Mary's Hospital of Richmond. She holds a master of science degree in nursing from Catholic University of America, and Detroit is her hometown. Her VA 1-2000 Mmother, Mrs. Arthur J. Fox, resides on Notre Dame road. She served on the Stroke Rehabilitation Board of Heart Association of Maryland from 1967-1971. She is a member of the Sisters of Bon Secours Apostolate Commission. Sister Theophane holds the position of Provincial Councillor and Assistant Provincial of the Sisters of Bon Secours. She also serves as assistant director and Board member of the 221 bed Bon Secours Hospital in Baltimore. A graduate of the School of Nursing of Mercy Hospital, Johnstown, Pa., Sister Theophane served the order at the Grosse Pointe hospital from 1948 to 1962, serving the last two years as superior. As assistant provincial, Sister Theophane, serves in a vice-presidential capacity for The Bon Secours Order in the United States.

Dr. Dutcher is now in his 21st year as a member of the Bon Secours Hospital medical staff. A resident of The Pointe, Dr. Dutcher received his undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan and his M.D. from Wayne State University. He currently serves as a delegate to the Michigan Medical Society and as a council member of the Wayne County Medical Society.

The largest decrease in reported attempted breakins and breaking and entry occurred in residential homes. 53 last year, 102 in 1971 and 71 in 1970.

Reasons for Drop

Chief Ferber attributes the decrease in these offenses in part to arrests and convictions for such offenses in the early part of 1972, (seven persons were apprehended while in the act of commit-ting such offenses in a oneweek period during February), increased surveillance by the Detective Bureau, increased uniform patrol and the growing use of residential burglary alarm systems.

encies on such thefts. Drug Arrests Rise Farms police, often in conjunction with the Youth Service Division, made 82 drug law arrests last year, 69 in 1971 and 28 in 1970. The majority of persons arrested ranged from 15 to 23 years of age. The vast majority of drugs involved were marijuana, (or marijuana derivitives), and other hallucinagenic drugs. Only five arrests involving heroin were group ranging from 17 to 23.

During 1972, 276 property damage accidents were investigated, a reduction of 46 from 1971. Last year 73 personal injury accidents were investigated, a drop of five from 1971. And one fatal accident was investigated last year as against none in 1971. In his "Restrospect 1972"

report, Chief Ferber said perhaps the most significant development in 1972 occurred in the fall when members of The Farms' "Emergency Support Unit" were requested to assist regular Farms police officers at high school football games with crowd and traffic control under Sergeant Eugene Boylan, unit liaison officer. Four to six volunteer unit members were placed under the control of a Farms officer and assigned to each South home football game.

Other 1972 highlights include the "Juvenile Contact Card" and the "All Purpose Warning Card," plus the creation of a department hold-

Wins Highest Scouting Honor

Over 65 guests and members of Boy Scout Troop 74 attended the Thursday, January 25, troop Banquet and Court of Honor when Tim Boyse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Boyse, of Washington road, received scouting's highest honor - the Eagle Rank Award.

The ceremonies at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church began with the presentation of the colors by Richard Boman, Tim Boyse and Steve Getz. Following the Invocation by Ted Jacobs, guests enjoyed a dinner prepared by the church.

A total of 19 Scouts were recognized at the banquet by Keith Leibbrand, advancement chairman, who awarded 80 Merit Badges. The Eagle Award was presented by Gerald Webster, scoutmaster of Troop 74.

Tim Boyse started with Troop 74 in September 1970, and by the end of 1971 he had advanced past Second Class Scout and First Class Scout to attain the rank of Star Scout. In April 1972, Tim became a Star Scout at the same award ceremony that his brother, Matthew, received his Eagle Award Troop 74. Tim also serves Troop 74 as assistant senior patrol leader.

. Special guests for this year's banquet included Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, (he is an assistant scoutmaster), Dave Foster, assistant scoutmaster, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jacobs, representing Richard School, Tom Parker, district Rose Society executive for the Lakeshore District, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beever, (he is district commissioner of the Lakeshore District, Detroit Area Council).

Troop 74 is proud of its newest Eagle Scout, Tim Boyse, and is also proud of the work and activities carried on by the Troop in its service to the community in conservation and public service projects throughout the year. Troop meetings continue on a regular basis every Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. at Richard School as the Troop starts its 30th

The Mercedes-Benz 280C: the joys of owning the world's most carefully understated coupe.

SOME CAR BUYERS refuse to be carried away by flamboyant styling. Fine machinery and functional efficiency rank first in their demands.

These buyers will find a perfect match in the new Mercedes-Benz 280C Coupe. Here is a pillarless five-seater that makes its case on engineering depth instead of surface glitter.

The 280C weighs one and a half tons, carries five adults and costs $9,518.* Its first impression is one of understated elegance; but only as your experience deepens over the miles and the months will its mechanical virtues unfold.

A painless model change

Technically speaking, the 280C is a new model for 1973. Engineering changes from the preceding 250C include a new double-overhead-eam 2.8-litre engine, wider wheel rims, and radial ply tires.

But aside from a nameplate that now reads 280C instead of 250C, exterior changes were shunned. A handsome car remains a handsome car. Current Mercedes-Benz Coupe owners do not fee! suddenly betrayed.

The painless model change. Some day it may be universal.

The engineers prevail — again

You can detect the fine hand of engineering logic even in the 280C's graceful roof line.

This hardtop roof is so carefully shaped that it neither cramps rear-seat headroom nor blocks the driver's rearward vision.

That roof is fused to a body built to rival Mercedes-Benzsedans for structural strength. Body panels are welded to a platform chassis rather than bolted to a frame. If you caught a raw Coupe body before painting began, you would count more than 6,000 individual welding points. Separate subframes carry the engine and suspension. Rubber "biscuits" are strategically placed to help cushion the chassis against flexing motions of the engine and drive train.

Startling measurements

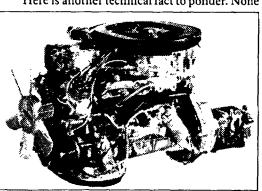

The 280C is lighter by more than 1000 lbs., shorter by as much as 3 feet than its major domestic coupe rivals. Yet observe that the 280C's 19.8 cubic feet of trunk space exceed them all, that important interior dimensions virtually match them all.

Note too that the 280C turns in a circle of only 36.4 feet, slightly tighter than a VW 1200 "Beetle." Those larger cars do not.

A trimmer car can use a trimmer engine size;

the engineers capitalized on the 280's lighter weight by fitting it with a beautifully smooth new double-overhead-camshaft engine - an engine that revs up to 6500 rpm, feels unstrained at 80 mph, but displaces only 2.8 litres in cylinder capacity. Size of engines used by the 280's major price competitors: 7 litres and over.

Here is another technical fact to ponder. None

Double-overhead-cam engine revs to 6500 rpm

280C roof line stresses function, not fashion of the 280C's heavyweight competitors, 7-litre engines and all, sees fit to offer-even as an extracost option - what this Coupe provides as standard equipment: four-wheel, caliper-type disc brakes.

Power-assisted steering comes as standard too. It is remarkable for the precise steering feel it transmits; manual effort is reduced but sensitivity is not sacrificed. This is one power steering system designed to keep you in touch with the road.

That padded lever on the console is the shifter for a 4-speed automatic transmission, also standard. If you prefer shifting for yourself you can snap through the gears manually.

Fully independent suspension

If riding smoothness and softness were the only goals, Mercedes-Benz engineers would have likely given the 280C the same kind of suspension as its domestic "luxury" rivals: independent at front, solid one-piece axle at the rear.

But adroit handling was also the goal-and stability on rough roads. So the engineers suspended each of the 280C's r wheels on its own separate axle: fully inde pendent suspension, in simple terms. The same suspension principle used on 200-mph racing cars.

You won't feel the benefits of independent suspension in the showroom. But try a winding, potholed road.

Understated comfort

You ride in seats padded not only with foam rubber but also natural fibers, laid over a network of hand-tied coil springs.

The steering-wheel hub, doors, armrests, even the ashtrays in the rear are padded. Precise fitting of windows and doors is intended to help minimize those shrieks and whistles of the wind at highway speeds.

Seal the windows closed and flick on the builtin air conditioner: you will feel sealed off from the turmoil of the outside world as your 280C sweeps

Step outside and check some of the 280C's thoughtfully practical details. Those wraparound chrome bumpers are protected by thick wraparound rubber bumpers. A rubber-lined rail runs along the body sides. The chrome roof strips are more than ornaments: the engineers put them there as ski-rack anchors.

280C Coupes now available

The first new 280C Coupes have now landed in America. Contact your authorized Mercedes-Benz dealer to see and test drive this different kind of coupe. In its understatement lies one of the shrewdest automobile investments you may ever make.

- Location. John's Island is a private residential resort located at Vero Beach in subtropical Florida just 65 miles North of Palm
- Privacy. Natural geography and a manned gatehouse assure John's Island residents total privacy and security. The property is bordered on the East by 21/2 miles of private oceanfront, on the West by 10 miles of Indian River waterways.
- Golf. A championship 18 hole golf course designed by Pete Dye and Jack Nicklaus forms a permanent 167 acre green belt in the heart of the John's Island property. A second course designed by Pete Dye is under construction assuring residents unhurried, varied play. Errie Ball is Director of Golf. The John's Island Club is private and offers full dining, pro shop and locker facilities. Our Beach and Tennis Club is now under construction
- Environment. At John's Island more trees have been relocated than other private Florida communities have removed large, heavily wooded homesites on the golf course, its lakes and John's Island Sound are presently available

- for sale, Also, Oceanfront Condominiums, private residences and South Village Townhouse Apartments. Some properties are available for rental.
- Design Building. John's Island maintains its own construction company, Town Island Builders. exclusively for the property owners' use. James E., Gibson, A.I.A. is resident architect. Complete maintenance service is available for the absentee owner. Property owners are guaranteed the highest standards of design and materials.
- Residents. The average age of the John's Island property owner is 52. You probably know someone who lives at John's Island. fither on a personal basis or by reputation.
- Zoning. Zoning at John's Island limits building height to 3 stories. Strong deed restrictions further protect property owners.
- Management. John's Island is owned and administered by E Llwyd Ecclestone and Roy D. Chapin III. A detailed and illustrated brochure on the property may be obtained by writing Mr Chapin, John's Island Drive, Vero Beach, Florida 32960

BACK ACHES

Fully 90 pct. of BACK ACHES are from internal organ irritation by referred or reflexed pain. It is the nerve functional breakdown of the internal organs, which are the result of the improper living and eating habits.

BACK ACHES usually respond (it is a rare case that does not respond) to ZONE THERAPY (compression massage of the terminal nerve endings) PHYSIO THERAPY (diathermy, sinusoidal and galvanic current, ultra sonic and manipulation) REFLEXOLOGY METHODS (pressure on terminal nerve endings) ACUPUNCTURE with needles coming soon.

BACK ACHES are usually eliminated in one to ten treatments. The above treatments are nature's natural GOD'S methods, they are inexpensive, there is no danger, no damage, no side effects, they have no equal and no comparison. The time of each visit is about two hours. This system of treatments are available by calling 886-1010 for an appointment or more information.

Remember BACK PAIN is a symptom of a condition, (nature's warning that something is wrong, that nature has reached its tolerance point). And when not taken care of with the proper and most effective treatments other serious conditions develop

'Mini-Concert' Held at Pierce

Pierce Middle School sev enth and eighth grade music students were treated to a mini-concert recently when Mrs. Thomas Miller, of Lakeland avenue, gave a lecture and concert with her recorder collection. In her collection are sopranino, sopra-no, alto, tenor and bass recorders, woodwind instruments used as the sole accompaniment in Shakespeare's plays. The presentation was before Mrs. Judith Bailey's choral music classes.

Mrs. Miller's discussion of the history, mechanics and techniques of the recorder were enhanced by her playing a mini-concert. Selections included were a Bouree, by Michael Praetorius; Saltarello and Gaillarde, anony-mous; Econs Ago Blue, by R. Dorough (1960), and All Good Gifts, from "Godspell" which has a part written for recorder.

One student, Matt Erwin, sight-read the musical accompaniment for the Bongo drums. The concluding selection, heard as a recording, was a Concerto for Recorder in C Major by Vivaldi.

A major objective in the choral music classes is to provide the students with a variety of musical experiences. It was all the more rewarding in the case of the recorder concert as Mrs. Miller has children in The Pointe school system and was doating her time and

BUYING A SECURITY SYSTEM?

When you buy an apartment at

The Iefferson Apartments Grosse Pointe's newest condominium

... you get not one, but a network of the most modern security systems to guard you, your home and your possessions.

A CLOSED TV MONITORING SYSTEM covers the entrance, outside parking areas and inside garage. The caller can be viewed from a selected channel on the owner's TV set in each apartment. The doorman and manager's office views the same areas.

THE ENTRY COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM is a new system conceived and engineered by Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Using a touchtone panel telephone in the lobby, the caller dials the owner's apartment. This enables each party to have a private conversation. During the time the caller is in the entrance vestibule, he is under surveillance by the concealed TV camera.

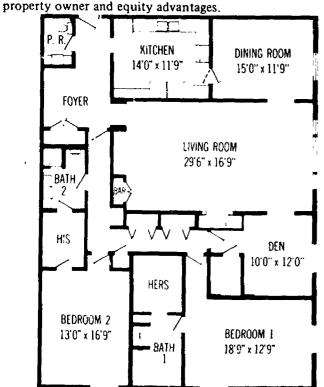

AN ON-GUARD ALERT SYSTEM features a control panel in the manager's apartment and the attendant's office. This notifies of any intrusion into any apartment when the occupants are away. The doorman or manager controls the system by activating the apartment's security supervision at the request of the owner.

THE FIRE PROTECTION ALERT SYSTEM gives added protection to all occupants of the building and will insure notification of each individual occupant of a fire in an unoccupied apartment.

Further elements of security are the uniformed doorman-attendant and resident caretakers.

Besides security, you also get really gracious living. Here is a typical spacious floor plan of an apartment home which features 9 foot ceilings, individual heating and cooling, top of the line G. Jim Bird, Pete Grambo and Rob Heidt were standouts in South's victory over North. Bird's 19 points was tops in the game, while Grambo scored 10. Both Heidt and Grambo played excellent defensive games.

The strain on the players and coaches showed as five technical fouls were called in the game. Throughout the first two periods the contest was close, with South holding a 22-20 edge at half-over North. Wyandotte overcame commanding leads by South on two occasions to earn their victory. After South streaked to a 10-0 lead, the game appeared to be wrapped up but Wyandotte turned the tables in the second quarter to gain a 23-20 halftime lead. The Devils retaliated and again appeared to have the game sewed up with a 41-33 lead after three periods.

that I am an Albert Camus buff. Thus, I was glad to see a "first novel" (published posthumously, of course, since Camus was killed in an automobile accident in 1960) appear now. A HAPPY DEATH was written between 1936 and 1938, and in 1972 was published in English for the first time. This represents a work of his early twenties at a time when he was just developing his own philosophical and literary consciousness which eventually was to mean so much to the post-war generation. He was a disciple of Sartre and others of this ilk, but his theory of the absurd was to be a happier one than that of Sartre and Kierkegaard. In A HAPPY DEATH, the protagonist's name is Patrice Mersault. In his well-known THE STRAN-GER, the hero's name is Meursault; as I remember, his first name is never given. Thus one feels that A HAP-PY DEATH foreshadows THE STRANGER, but in the former Camus seems much closer to his main character.

A HAPPY DEATH is divided into two parts: "Nat-ural death" and "Conscious death." In the first part, Mersault, in cold blood, shoots a legless friend named Zagreus, and is interested to note that he dies with a smile on his face. Mersault had done it partly because he knows that Zagreus had a considerable sum of money, and partly to put the cripple out of what he considered his misery. The rest of this part is flashback, ending with Mersault leaving the country, his health uncertain, but his wallet full.

The second part of the book shows Mersault in his wanderings in Prague, through Genoa to Algiers, his life with various women, his final departure for the Chenoua, where he moves into a house by the sea, contracts pleurisy and dies. To interpret, Mersault feels happiness escaping him so he returns to the sun, to women, and finally solitude. In dying he feels a certain sort of happiness and finally understands the smile on Zagreus' face. To him, death is like a stone. "'In a thought. The ascent stopped. And stone among stones, he returned in the joy of his heart to the truth of the motionless worlds."

To understand and appreciate fully this novel of Camus', one should really have read some of his other works. In each lies his theory of the absurd: that the universe is cold and unfeeling, with no God to guide one, but man must rise above this and ness, discover some raison School and been a Fellow of d'etre, and emerge stronger. His willingness to "beat the Dr. Viscott is now in private universe" is in contrast to psychiatric practice and Sartre whose approach to this lives in Massachusetts.

Some of you already know | problem of "absurdity" was negative and grim. In some ways this new novel reminds me of Camus' play CALIGULA, in which the protagonist goes to terrible and excruciating methods to find happiness. Camus is "strong stuff" but if you can take him, you will find fine writing, intriguing philosophy, (whether you agree with him or not) and something very different. My only despair, back in 1960, was to read of his senseless death in an automobile accident. Camus would have felt that this was the epitome of the absurd. Now we jump in an entirely different direction. Another new book, which I have just finished reading, and have enjoyed, is David Vis-cott's THE MAKING OF A PSYCHIATRIST. In his "Author's note" he says: "My intention in writing this book was to give the reader a sense of what it took to become a psychiatrist. In order to do this there were several enormous problems to overcome. The reader had to be educated and taught a great deal of psychiatry. To do this in a straightforward way would, I felt, also be boring and unpalatable." Thus Dr. Viscott decided the easiest way would be to tell his own story about becoming a psychiatrist, so that the reader could identify with what he was doing. This required honesty, and somehow this honesty, which does come through, makes the author quite human. Consequently, the author gives us a totally personal account of his training from medical school through his own analysis, a provocative appraisal of traditional attitudes and techniques, and an insight into the human principles guiding his own practice and philosophy of psychiatry. Holding fast to his honesty, he occasionally gives some shocking firsthand reports of the damage that can be done by frightened, incompetent practitioners; he also gives us pictures of gifted, dedicated therapists. He casts some rather telling doubts on the efficacy of psychiatrists who sit silent with their patients for hours, days, years—sug-gesting that perhaps "the psychiatrist's love is his silence" may in reality be his ignorance!

The author is a graduate of Dartmouth College and Tufts Medical School, has been a Resident in Psychiatry at University Hospital in Boston, Psychiatric Fellow at Boston State Hospital and Chief Resident at University Hospital Psychiatric Clinic. He has taught on the faculty of Bos-ton University Medical it's Law-Medicine Institute.

One of the foremost authorities on American artist Winslow Homer, Professor John Wilmerding, of Dart-mouth College, will give a lecture, "Winslow Homer and 19th Century Ideas," at the Detroit Institute of Arts next Wednesday, February 7, at 8 o'clock.

The lecture will be pre cedeá by a candlelight-andwine dinner at 6 o'clock in the North Court of the museum.

The dinner is under auspices of the Associates of the American Wing.

Mr. Wilmerding's invitation to Detroit was prompted by his recent book, "Winslow Homer," published in late

Most persons feel "at home" with the artist's work, as Homer shares the American artist's passion for accuracy and observation of nature, a tradition in American painting stretching from Audubon to Andrew Wyeth.

Mr. Wilmerding has written several books on 19th Century American art, in-cluding "The Genius of American Painting" and "A History of American Marine Paintings."

His other activities include book reviews, art magazine articles and catalog writing. He is a frequent lecturer at colleges and art museums.

Special invitations to the dinner and lecture have been sent to the 200-member Associates of the American Wing. Members of the local Harvard and Dartmouth Clubs have also been invited as the speaker received his Bachelors, Masters and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard before assuming a teaching position at Dartmouth.

President Mrs. W. A. Mc-Clellan, of Van Antwerp road, introduced the speaker, Shirly M. Gustafson, who discussed services offered by the City of Detroit for the visually handicapped.

Miss Gustafson is supervisor of classes for the Blind and Partially Sighted, Detroit Board of Education.

These services begin as soon as a child with a sight problem is born. A pre-school counselor works with mother and child to help them adjust to the immediate problem.

The blind child enters school as early as age three, to prepare him with mobility and confidence for later experiences.

He learns Braille and is instructed in music and crafts. After the third grade, he enters regular classes with sighted students.

Mrs. Slattery Steps Down

Children's Hospital is missing someone.

Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery, of Lakeshore road, has retired after 17 years as president and chairman of Children's board of trustees, and although she'll continue as a member of the board, and retain her position as vice-president of the Detroit Medical Center Corporation, representing Children's, it's not quite the same thing.

Margaret Slattery will no longer be captain of The former Mrs. Frank Couzens followed a family tradition of service to Children's.

Her father-in-law, James Couzens, (former Mayor of Detroit and United States Senator), served as first president of the joint board of Children's in 1922, and in 1926 built a new three-story Hospital

Mrs. Slattery, who came to Detroit as the bride of Frank Couzens in 1922, joined Children's board in 1932. In 1950, Frank Couzens died. Five years later, his widow married Gerry Slattery.

Elected president of Children's board in 1956, she held that office until 1972, when she was elected unanimously to the newly-created position of chairman of the board. She's been a "worker," not a "name-lender."

She encouraged expansion of medical services while maintaining the Hospital's standard of excellence, and, when the need for a new hospital became apparent in the late 50's, she, more than any other individual, was the force behind the fund-raising

Friends, relatives, strangers, foundations, corporations... None was exempt from her efforts.

No wonder those who know her often refer to Shildren's as "Murph Slattery's Hospital." Others call her "Mrs. Children's Hospital."

When the doors of the new $27 million Children's Hospital opened in March, 1971, in the Detroit Medical Center, it was a tribute to Murph's vision, dedication and tireless efforts.

Children's honored her on her retirement, of

"Murph—Once in a Lifetime" was title of the program at her farewell dinner, held Friday, January 19, in the New Children's board rooms. Dinner chairman was Mrs. Lynn Townsend.

In attendance were members of the executive staff of the Medical Committee, Mrs. Slattery's fellow trustees, and her children: Pointers Frank Couzens, Jr., and Mrs. Edward (Peggy) Roney; Mrs. Leo (Barbara) Brennan, Jr., and James Couzens, II, of Birmingham; Mary Couzens, of Freeport, Ill., George L. Couzens, of Miami, and Mrs. Peter (Patty) Quail, of St. George, Ont.

Master of Ceremonies was Eugene Arnfeld. Guest speakers included John J. Pollack, M.D., Children's Chief of Staff, Paul V. Woolley, Jr., M.D., Chief of Pediatrics, Robert H. Gregg, M.D., Hospital president, and Hugo V. Hullerman, M.D., retired executive vice-president.

A surprise speaker was Gerry Slattery, who described, humorously, what life as the husband of (Continued on Page 28)

Handicapped Scouting Workshop Scheduled

A special information and training workshop for Girl Scout leaders who have handicapped girls in their troops will be conducted by the Girl Scouts of Metropoli-tan Detroit Tuesday evening, February 6, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock at the Marygrove College Conference Center.

The workshop is being supervised by GSMD staff members Ivy Reed, director of Program Development, and Patt Stanton, field executive.

According to Mrs. Reed, There are more than 80 troops in the Council with one or more handicapped girls as members. Many leaders working with these girls have not had previous ex-perience in dealing with ex-ceptional youngsters.

"In the workshop, we will attempt to provide special training and valuable resource information for these leaders."

Key speaker will be Dr. Hugh Watson,a River Rouge school psychologist, who will present an overall view of working with handicapped

The leaders will also hear several other speakers, and will have an opportunity to ask questions and discuss individual problems and solutions. Two Girl Scout volunteers who have had extensive experience working with mentally retarded children will serve as workshop resource people.

David Cooper To Talk Here

David Cooper, bureau chief of the Detroit Free Press Lansing Bureau, will discuss the issue of "Lobbying and the Michigan Legislature" at an open meeting of the 14th Congressional District Common Cause organization. The lecture will be at the Grosse Unitarian Church. 17150 Maumee, Monday evening, February 12, at 8 p.m. The newsman, who has long observed the Michigan legislature and lobbyists, will sketch briefly the general conditions of lobbying in Lansing and then open the floor to questions. Anyone concerned about this issue or interested in Common Cause is invited to attend by Mrs. William Read, of McMillan road, telephone coordinator for Common

Cause in the area. Jewelry Lost In Woods B-E

Thieves entered a Hampton road home Thursday, January 25, and took various pieces of jewelry valued at around $900.

Lynn Marie Wilhelm told Woods Public Safety Officer Douglas Dosmas she is missing the following items at this time: an engagement ring and wedding ring, $800; a gold Elgin pocket watch with initials "JPW," $50, and a gold filigree watch with

Girls Report Exposing Case

A Woods public safety of- | hat. Officer Marone put out ficer on patrol was stopped an area broadcast and checkby two teenage girls who reported a case of indecent exposure Thursday evening, January 18.

Officer Bruce Marone was told by a 17-year-old girl she and her 16-year-old girlfriend were walking on Mack avenue. They had just passed the Johnson Optical Company, 20148 Mack, when, in the vacant field next to Johnson's, they saw a man expose himself. The girls ran South on Mack to Torrey road where they stopped the officer. The man was described as a white male, around 50years-old, who was wearing dark clothes and possibly a

Take A Fashion Plunge . . . with cruise caftans, super swimsuits, hooded beach cover-ups . . . all new at Walton-Pierce. The caftans come in gaily printed jersey and in floral-lined sheers. Our favorites have a bit of fit in front (via elastic) which is more figure flattering. There's still that great flare in back. The swimsuits are bikini, one-piece and swim dresses. Many have tops or skirts to match. The clever cover-ups include eyelets, terries and cabana striped jerseys. As you know Florence Riley specializes in mastectomy fittings for bras and swimsuits and has personally selected a very special and fashionable collection for mastectomy patients.

Moving On Your Mind . . . Want all the comforts of home but few of the responsibilities? Your best move is to the Jefferson Apartments, Grosse Pointe's newest condominium. You'll love the large airy rooms with nine-foot ceilings. A doorman parks your car in a garage and receives your packages. There's a refrigerator for perishables. Exterior maintenance, gardening and snow removal are arranged. Insulated walls, floors, plumbing, windows insure maximum quiet. Fire protection and three security systems quard you while at home or away. Other conveniences include individual heating and cooling, ice makers, a washer-dryer, a wet bar with a sink for entertaining, and natural fireplaces. There are three separate elevators, and approximately 1,000 square feet of private storage. The Jefferson Apartments is an adult community. Don't worry about selling your home. Visit the model apartment and learn about the trade-in program for your home. There's a new pricing policy, too! The model is open 12 to 5 daily except Wednesday. Enter on Neff or St. Clair Roads 17111 E. Jefferson Avenue . . . 882-7708 or 886-4880 . . . Michigan Condominium Corporation.

New Adventure In Cooking . . . Jenn Air's counter top broller. It cooks everything with the same delicious flavor as an outdoor charcoal grill . . . but none of the smoke and mess. Permanent grill rock, electrically heated to consistent high intensity, sears genuine charcoal broiled flavor into any meat. It's a whole new concept of indoor cooking. This counter top broiler exhausts cooking fumes without an overhead hood. The secret is a revolutionary surface vent built-in next to the grill. It traps smoke and odor at their source and whisks them out of doors. See it in the handsome new kitchen model display at Mutschler Kitchens, 20227 Mack Avenue.

During The Month Of February . . . a new look will emerge at Michelle's Boutique, 17864 Mack Avenue. The Boutique will be redecorated, re-arranged and restocked with new lines of imported jewelry, handbags, accessories and scarves . . . mostly from France and Italy. They will have an air of sophistication and will be nicely priced. Michelle's is open until 8 Friday evenings.

In Martha's Closet . . . 375 Fisher Road, you'll find a new collection of favorite Jaeger shirts of the finest cotton. Choose white on white, pastels, stripes, plaids or a horse print (navy on white or brown on white). Prices are around $24. Martha says, "It's the year of the shirt!"

MR. AND MRS. NEIL SNOW, OF McKINLEY AVENUE

By Janet Mueller

You couldn't pay them to do what they're doing. Neither, of course, could you stop them from doing it. Neil will turn truck driver for a day, janitor for a night: Phyllis will be a chauffeur in the morning, a ticket seller in the afternoon, an usher in the evening (same day).

the Panic in Kalamazoo.

Overture to Opera had an 8:30 curtain, and at 8 o'clock the bus, carrying the entire chorus and some of the principals from Detroit to Kalamazoo, was trapped on the expressway, creeping through a blizzard.

At 8:02 Neil and Phyllis, who'd come ahead, were in costume, getting into makeup, preparing for impromptu debuts in "Tosca.

"We had to get live bodies on the stage!"

So Neil, who has no illusions about his vocal abilities, was pressed into service for a non-singing role, and Phyllis, who'd sung in a few Overture choruses, was about to trill her first on-stage solo

Neither Neil nor Phyllis is a musician. She can pick out a tune, adequately, on a piano. He plays nothing.

They're AUDIENCE, pure and simple. Interested, intelligent, enthusiastic listeners music-lovers opera buffs who want to be involved.

Met at University Both were born in Detroit, but their paths diverged before the meeting at the University of Michigan, that led to their marriage.

Neil lived in England for nine years. His stepfather was British. It was assumed that one day the family would go back to England, and so, in fact, they did.

Neil's first home was in Rivard boulevard. He went to Richard School, where his eldest son, Jonathan, nine, and daughter Jennifer, eight, now attend classes. Young George Snow, who'll be three in March, is still at home.

When Neil was 10, in anticipation of the transAtlantic she really wanted to be was move, his parents sent him a Dental Hygienist.

There was, last November, to school in Canada. In 1949, he and his brother found themselves aboard the Coronia, on her maiden voyage, sailing under the aegis of a British Colonel whom they saw "once when we went aboard and once when we got off."

The boys, 12 and 13, were being sent to England ahead of the family, to meet school schedules. They were met at the other end by their stepfather's mother.
