Thursday, March 29 THE NATIONAL FARM-ER'S ORGANIZATION advised its members to withhold hogs, cattle and lambs from the market in response to the housewives' revolt against skyrocketing meat prices. As the nationwide movement to stop buying meat gained momentum, prices dipped at livestock markets. Beef cattle prices joined a slide started Tuesday by pork, but the beef drop was not nearly as great. April 1-7 has been slated as Meat Moratorium Week.

Sailors Turn Out to Fight Floods

Spring limbering up chores occupy sailors slinging sandbags as members of the 150-man Grosse Pointe Sail Club turned out last Saturday on very short notice in answer to a plea from Grosse Pointe Park for help to combat flood waters of Lake St. Clair. "Foul weather gear, boots and your favorite shovel," was the way Commodore C. DALE NOUSE, (right), put the appeal to Rear Commodore DONALD G. BODDY, (left), and other members of the famed racing club that each summer starts more sailboats in races than the other dozen area yacht clubs put together. In responding to the emergency call for the backbreaking, hand-blistering work, one member observed, "Good a way as any to get toughened up for summer." True to the club's competitive form, the sailors who turned out at the Three Mile Park parking lot quickly organized themselves into teams and raced through 25 yards of wet sand. "Quite a crew," said Don Guinan, director of the Windmill Pointe Park and himself a member of the club that in 1973 is celebrating its silver anniversary.

The decision is significant in that it is not controlling on Center Drive the Michigan Supreme Court in the Milliken versus Green property tax case. The reason for this is that the Michigan From 1,072 Court could rule independently on Michigan constitutional law rather than U. S. constitutional law as did Justice G. Residents Asked to Be Mennen Williams in his original opinion before it was set aside for the rehearing.

Undercuts Opinion The underlying rationale of the Rodriquez opinion, however, substantially undercuts the earlier opinion written by Justice Williams and cast aside most of the arguments relied upon by him. Mr. West expressed confidence that the Michigan Supreme Court, when it issues its opinion following the recent rehearing, will closely follow the Rodriquez case. The language used by the U. S. Supreme Court is also of great significance as it relates to the segregation case. The court specifically discussed the question of local school district control and held that it was a legitimate state interest.

Furthermore, the maintenance of local school districts, even where the state had ultimate power if it chose to exercise it, was not a mere sham as claimed in Justice Thurgood Marshall's dissenting opinion.

to be constitutionally valid. Mr. West also mentioned that Grosse Pointe could take at least some small measure of credit for the Rodriquez decision. The school district was a signatory and financial contributor to the amicus curiae brief, (a document written by concerned parties), which was filed with the United States Supreme Court by the Attorney Generals of 30 states.

With the approval of the four propositions, the schools and libraries will be able to continue at their present levels. They will also provide for some restoration of pro-grams that had been cur-tailed since the 1969-1970 school year.

Proposition #1, the renewal of the 20.9 operating schools mills for one year passed by a 3.01 to 1 margin. A total of 12,887 persons voted, 9,698 in favor of the proposition and 3,189 against

The voter turnout was about 30 percent with 12,887 persons voting. Dr. Theos Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, felt it was a fair voter turnout. It was not as great as last September's millage election, where over 18,000 persons voted.

Dr. Anderson said he thought all the proposals pass. But he wasn't surprised that proposition #3 passed with a close margin. However, he went on to say that he was "pleasantly surprised that the Propositions #I and #2 passed by such a great margin. The margin was greater than it was in September.'

Upon seeing the additional scout cars, police said the group began running in all directions. However, 11 members of the original group, some of whom were in their late teens, were detained. The youths were ultimately warned and sent on their way.

A request from SEMTA. (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority), to The Woods requesting payment for deficits incurred during the quarter ending December 31, 1972, was found unacceptable by the council at the regular meeting Monday, April 2.

Deficit Request

The council apparently wanted a certified audit for the quarter before action was taken. Acting Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said SEMTA should be contacted and resubmit "a proper statement"

However, there was nothing to show if the profit was applied to the third month's deficit, it was said. So Councilman Kenneth W. Boerner's motion that a corrected statement be submitted was unanimously approved.

The letter showed for the December deficit The Woods' share would be 27 percent of $1,721, a payment of $465, according to the community's agreement with the Author-

> Mrs. Neff's table of contents is impressive. She has committed 214 stories to memory and does not repeat a tale for three years. During the summer, she reads the entire section of folk and fairy tales in the library and selects the stories she likes best for the following year. She has some favorites of course, folk tales from Appal-

The story time at the Park is held for eight weeks during the fall and eight weeks during the spring. There is also a summer story time which is held outside, under the umbrella tree,

Has Many Followers

Mrs. Neff's fans and followers are many. At least sixty children attend each story session. They range in grades from kindergarten to sixth. (A good story knows no age boundaries). And they come from all over—Defer, Maire Trombly, St. Clare, St. Am-

Mrs. Neff tells her own tale of the first story time eight years ago when 236 children attended. "I was petrified. I had never told a story before." The numbers have diminished somewhat, but the Park Branch story hour is still the most well-attended in the Pointe.

The final story time of the spring session at the Park was held Wednesday, March 28. Pre-story, the library was swarming with children involved in the noisy discovery of new books and familiar characters.

Then began the line-up for the trek to the music room in Pierce Middle School and of course the tale. The children were squirming with excitement and anticipation. But as soon as Mrs. Neff began

The stories are more than entertainment, for Mrs. Neff questions the group about strange words and their meanings. When she asked if they knew what a dunce was, most of the wee ones cried no. However, one young boy piped up with a "I know, my mother calls me that all the time."

The children are encouraged to bring their library cards on story day. These are deposited in a box and a few are picked at random at the end of the hour. The owners of those selected are able to check out a copy of the book from which the day's tales

Stampede Follows

Story time does not end with the final tale. After the march back to the library, there is a stampede to the children's section for more books. Mrs. Neff is again surrounded, this time with questions and for book advice.

Mrs. Neff feels children are reading as much as they did before the television era. However, now they are more apt to buy their own books rather than take them out of the library.

But not even a 50-cent paperback and the pride of ownership can diminish the allure of a story made audible.

Mrs. Neff thoroughly enjoys elementary school children and says story time is the favorite part of my job." As a master of her craft, she is a favorite among children.

Doctor Named In Warrants

Dr. Edwin J. Hammer, 63, of 905 Berkshire, was arrested in his office on Monday, March 26, on two warrants obtained by Michigan State Police Intelligence officers, accusing him of two counts of violating the Controlled Substance Act.

According to information released by Park Lt. Gordon Duncan, the doctor's arrest climaxed an investigation conducted by State authori-ties, in conjunction with Park eral Narcotics Bureau, dating back to 1970.

Dr. Hammer, it was said, issued prescriptions for controlled drugs, in amounts more than normally pre-scribed, and issued them to "patients", without benefit of examinations.

He is charged on two counts because he issued prescriptions to two State Police undercover agents, who cierk. Both Bremer and Lock asked for and received prescriptions on request.

The warrants charge Dr. Hammer with issuing, delivering and dispensing; and not acting in an ordinary course of professional medical practice

The doctor was arraigned for a preliminary hearing in The Park Muncipal Court, before Woods Judge Don J. Goodrow, who presided in the absence of Park Judge William E. Speer.

Judge Goodrow set bond of $1,000 on each count, and set examination date for Wednesday, April 18. The examination will be held by Judge The lieutenant said that the warrants were obtained by the State authorities. Park police were originally given the information which was in turn given to State and Federal authorities. The three agencies cooperated in the investigation.

The State undercover agents made the arrest when, it was alleged, Dr. Hammer issued a prescription without normal medical procedures capped a successful season Dave Seagram and Kevin capped a successful season by capturing the Southeastern Michigan Hockey League

After disposing of the Madison Heights #2 team by a 9-0 score, the Cougars took on the more formidable Madison Heights #1 team. After a slow start, the Cougars defeated Madison Heights, 6-1. Cougar scorers were Dave Seagram with a three-goal "hat trick," Jeff Kydd, with two goals, and Ben Amore with one.

The Cougars then defeated Fraser in the league finals, 4-0. Bad blood had been developed between these teams during the season with Fra-ser being the only team with record was 22-4-1.

McMahon opened the scoring with single goals. Chick Taylor sealed Fraser's fate with two goals. One of Chick's goals was a break-away on the Fraser goal tender.

The outstanding player in this game was Cougar goaltender Doug Tito. Doug earned this shutout with a series of sensational saves that kept the Cougars in the game until the offense put the contest out of reach for

Fraser. The Cougars concluded a successful 85-game season, winning 50, losing 26 and tieing nine. Their South-Hockey

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

The entire Grosse Pointe | day, April 11, at 4 p.m.; Public School System is ex then at the Park Branch on tremely pleased that the citizens, by voting affirmatively on all four propositions at tral Library Co. Saturday, the recent election, elected April 14, at 20 and 11 a.m. to continue high quality serv- Please, everybod; do turn ice to the community. Na- out for some or all of our turally, the Library is so very to stay alive and function, and we do indeed pledge ourselves to give good service, in all three agencies, in every way possible. It is you, our loyal and concerned publis, who have made all this possible.

It is that time of year when National Library Week rolls around. This year the dates are April 8 through 14. The flyer before me informs me (and will inform you), that the theme is "Widen Your World . . . Read." The cute little book mark shows us a bird with a long neck, happy eyes, (in anticipation of the reading materials that lie ahead of him, we hope!) and a slogan: "Get Ahead . . . Read." So let's get with it-

On Wednesday, April 11, at 1:30 p.m. there will be a program on Flower Arranging by Mrs. Ford Ballantyne, Jr. Since spring is here and summer is coming, this might be a very helpful lecture for those of you with a green thumb, or artisty in your blood.

At the Park Branch its contribution, on Wednesday, April 11, at 8 p.m., will be "Pointers' for Vacation Planning." by Mrs. Bette Sullivan of Mr. Q. Travel. If you don't want to grow flowers, then perhaps the travel bug has hit you; you may have itchy feet for foreign climes, and you may need some "pointers" to help you in this direction. Have you taken a good look at your home lately? Does it need some help—like a paint job, some reupholstering, or new furniture? Then the program planned for the Woods Branch, on Tuesday, April 10, at 8 p.m., might be right up your alley. "In-terior Decorating," by Mrs. Kennedy DiFazio, interior de-signer of the J. L. Hudson Studio of Interior Design, at Eastland, might be just what you need. You can't say we we haven't picked three timely spring topics!

Perhaps you remember the balloons that we've always had for National Library Week? Having participated in the blowing up of these lovely colored things in years past, I certainly can't forget! So-for children of all ages we have Mr. Doug Mc-Kinnon—"The Balloon Man", who will be appearing at all Woods Branch on Wednes- life in this community.

programs. As you have just pleased that it will be able demonstrated to us by your vote, you do care about libraries, so we want you to help us celebrate. We call your attention to a very interesting poster for National Library Week. It embraces so many things dear to libraries. First, a globe of the world, (and can't you go ail over the world via a library!) Also, there is a Bible, a copy of SOUL ON ICE, a quili pen dipped in ink, some vague, (to me), scientific material in the background, and a candle. (I neglected to tell you these are on the first of two shelves.) Moving up, there is a copy of MOBY DICK, THE AUTO BIOGRAPHY OF THOMAS JEFFERSON, a pair of spectacles, a bust of Mark Twain, (I think), draped by an American flag, a large key hanging on a hook, an old poster (or is it the cover of an old book?) showing two children of that generation, with the single word READ. Other books standing on this second shelf are LIFE ON THE MISSISSIPPI, LEAVES OF GRASS, TRAVELS WITH CHARLIE WALDEN, ect. The coloring, arrangement of objects, and start-ling white bust (which is really the focal point) make for a poster worthy of National Library Week. Jumping again, we want you to know about the new copies of KNOW YOUR GROSSE POINTE: PARK, CITY, FARMS, WOODS, SHORES, put out by the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe. The League works to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government, and is a national non-partisan organization. It does not support or oppose candidates or political parties. It does, however, encourage members to be active in the political party of their choice. This new edition is published to acquaint Grosse Pointers with the governmental, social and historical facts of their community. It is the 3rd edition, and brings up-to-date and further develops the information contained in the first two editions (1954 and 1963). It is hoped that KNOW YOUR GROSSE POINTE will help citizens to participate more fully in the responthree agencies. First, at the sibilities and pleasures of

POVERTY DILEMMA

The executive edict to eliminate O.E.O. on the premise that the war on poverty has failed due to mismanagement, graft, and rising numbers of poor without a constructive alternative as though the problem will go away, is ludicrous!

The fact is that 80% of the poor are aged and disabled. That fitting into the system is a skill that takes many of us a lifetime; that economic knowhow and finesse are achieved thru planned policies not available to the poor; that we maintain welfare thru the higher echelon of defense and industry; that we sustain failing industries thru subsidies with nary a dissenting cry, strikes us as unfair.

Perhaps to add salt to the poor's wounds, some of the Grosse Pointe communities are debating in their council meetings how best to spend their Revenue Sharing fundswhether to manicure their swimming pools OR add to the public safety fund.

The inadequate housing, recreation, proper education and multitudinal services which make our lives most comfortable are needed badly among the poor. Criticizing it and doing away with the programs without any CONSTRUCTH'E ALTERNATII ES, other than the Revenue Sharing Fund, is destructive. Think about it! Let's do something about it!!

All you've ever wanted to know about Grosse Pointe, and didn't know where to ask . . . is no longer a problem. The League of Women Voters have published a pooklet entitled "Know Your Grosse Pointe" which will be ready for distribution next Monday, April 9.

White Elephant Time, Again

The Planned Parenthood White Elephant Sale finally has come of age with the establishment of a year-round collection center to store donated White Elephants. In past years, members have surrendered their garages as the May second-hand sale approached, much to the dismay of husbands and family members who had to park their cars in the street. The only remuneration a family received was to watch their garage fill up with an assortment of Pointe relics and curios, everything from snow-shoes to two-fifths of a set of Wedgewood china.

This year's sale will be held Thursday, May 10, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. at Chirst Church, Grosse Pointe. Generally recognized as one of the top rumfage sales in the area, the fund-raiser is now in its 17th year.

LUXURY HOTEL

So what?

Every good businessman knows that any product – including a hotel – has to be something more than new to be worth its salt

When we first open our doors, we'll be something more than new. We'll be everything you've ever wanted in a site for your business meetings - large or small. Our six meeting rooms can seat groups of 600 quite comfortably. One room alone can seat 450 for banquets. Of course, each room is completely soundproofed and all can be arranged to fit the exact requirements of your meeting. Smaller facilities are available for seminars, planning sessions and high-fevel conferences.

And after the meeting, you can entertain friends and associates in a split-level hospitality suite, featuring complete kitchen and bar facilities. Or have a leisurely meal at one of our two gourmet restaurants. Stroll through the exclusive shops of Somerset Mall – adjacent to the Inn. Swim in our four seasons pool, ski, take in a movie, concert or play, or have an evening cheering for one of Detroit's big league sports teams. Our suburban Troy location makes it all yours for the doing in and around the Inn.

So you see, we're doing a lot more than opening up another new hotel. We're opening a great new hotel.

A timely and interesting "Mao's China," has selected. Filmed in been 1971 in color, it is the first major documentary about life in Communist China, and about the effects of Mao Tse-Tung's cultural revolution. As up-to-date as today's headlines, the film explores China's big cities, the collective farms, the People's militia, the theater, schools, factories and home life.

There are fascinating glimpses of the "May 7th Schools" for the training of people who have strayed from Maoist thought, and of the Chinese medical discovery, acupuncture. Literary Background Hixie's mother also wanted to give her daughter a literary background. As the town did not have an adequate bookstore, she wrote Scrib-ner's Publishing House, in New York City, twice a year to order books. Hixie still remembers the summer when she couldn't go out and play with her friends until she had read a certain portion of Ho-mer's Illiad each day.

Hixie inherited that independence, as shown by her choice of college after she finished high school in Luf-

She decided to go "up north" to college as she had seen snow in a National Geographic magazine and decided to see firsthand that marvelous white stuff. Combining her love of music, she selected the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

She is still up here with the snow and her music, Currently she is involved with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra in assembling the orchestra's program for the last concert of the 20th season. The task fell to her by being an energetic member of the Orchestra's Board of Trustees.

The first season was launched on March 7, 1954. Hixie, realizing that the confusion over 1973 being painting gear, and is willing to prove her Confederate background by mentioning phony started in 1954, explained that there were TWO seasons that first year. The orchestra first Few Professionals "There were just a few professional musicians in the orchestra, then as now. The group is composed of students, housewives and businessmen, lawyers and bankers, who enjoy playing an instrument and wish to play in a community orchestra.

Mrs. Williams, thinking that it was just a scrap of paper, started to throw it in the fireplace. Hixie probably didn't know she could move that fast. Tenor Solcist

The upcoming Grosse Pointe Symphony performance on Sunday, April 15, will be highlighted by tenor soloist Jerrold Van der Schaff. Mrs. Robert L. Kaiser wrote the program notes for the concert which includes works by Gershwin, Mozart and Benjamin Britten.

What we try to provide is a family concert, offering a selection of music which will appeal to varying tastes.' Hixie commented. The music format has not varied greatly from the first concert which featured music by Schubert Bizet and Verdi. The Symphony has seen four conductors as Wayne Dunlop was followed by Emil Rabb and Henri Nosco. Felix Resnick is the present conductor, now in his 13th year of leading the Grosse Pointe musicians. He is also conductor of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, besides his role as assistant principal second violinist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Avid Rose Grower Besides her love of music, Hixie has become an avid rose grower. With the help of her husband, she planted two L-shaped rose gardens in her backyard last summer. Presently, the only hint of summer grandeur are about 30 overturned bushel baskets to protect the seedlings from Michigan winter weather. Named "Outstanding Novice" by the Grosse Pointe Rose Society last year, Hixie carried off five blue ribbons, three red, and one yellow ribbon from the Detroit Rose Show last year. The ribbons are displayed in her basement greenroom illuminated Grow-lux florescent

She got out the paintbrush, a gallon of white paint, and went to work. Her husband, in turn, got out the camera and took a picture of Hixie-as-painter, in complete to show it to any visitor. Last Sunday night, April 1, the Society held a dance at the Grosse Yacht Club. As there is a definite selection process for those who receive invitations, most are college graduates employed in a more or less respectable occupation, there was a certain uniformity among the guests. The get-together had all the excitement of a Young Republican gathering and, indeed, there is a large crossover between the two organizations.

A person will also get the unsettling feeling that he will never again see so many certified singles in one place.

Besides providing an avenue for singles to meet, the dance also benefits a worthwhile organization in the Detroit area. The Optometric Institute and Clinic of Detroit, Inc., will receive about $4,000 from the Yacht Club dance as each guest paid between $10 and $12.50 to attend the affair which has a cash bar after the first drink.

However, over 400 young singles did not find the price too stiff. Matter of fact, one of the main headaches of the Executive Committee is having to turn away the persons with bootlegged invitations when some tell-tale grey hair hints that they are over the 35-year-old age limit.

But for the 20 to 35-year-old set, an invitation to a First Society dance can spell a good time.

He mounts the photographs of the roses, crocuses, Chinese dogwood flowers, red begonias, and assorted wild flowers, in well-catalogued albums.

The Sanford's photo albums also recall the many trips the couple has taken. When they were in Russia, Mr. Sanford said that they were allowed to photograph any sites they wished; only bridges, tunnels and military installations were forbidden. Mr. Stanford has recorded visits to Russian schools, showing the schoolgirls dressed in light blue tunics and singing songs glor ifying Lenin. He also photographed state ceremonies in commemoration of Lenin's 100th birthday and May Day celebrations in Red Square decorated with several-story high posters of Lenin, Marx and Engels. One of the most amusing pictures is the Russian equivalent of a soft drink machine. It looks similar to those in the United States, except there is only one cup and a small jet of water to clean the cup between uses! Walloon Lake Cottage In the summer, it's up to do her share, so she brought out a Confederate flag she "just happened" to have around the house. Since the flag measures only six inches by four inches. Hixie realized that it wasn't noticed that much. So she wrote to friends in Texas and told them "to find me the biggest Confederate flag you can!" and to send it to her. That "biggest" flag is now hanging in the back sun porch, joined by a flag of Texas (which is just as big). The only local consternation the two flags ever created was when one visitor thought the flag of Texas was a Cuban flag. Hixie assured her it wasn't, and was able background by mentioning that her great-grandfather was assassinated by a Union 20229 MACK ~ in the Woods sympathizer.

her family's 200-foot front lawn lined with rose gordens, Hixie admits that she misses it a bit. However, she quickly points out that she wouldn't trade the cultural benefits of Detroit for anything, as she enjoys so much the Grosse Pointe Symphony and the Detroit Symphony.

But, somehow, the visitor feels that Hixie has the last say, as in order to look out onto her beautiful rose garden, a person has to look between the two flags!
