HENRY KISSINGER will go to Paris in mid-May to meet with North Vietnam's Le Duc Tho in an attempt to patch up the deteriorating Vietnam cease-fire agree-ment. The meeting between the two will be their first since Kissinger visited Hanoi in February. William Sulli-van, assistant Secretary of State and former Paris negotiator, will meet this Friday Nguyen Co Thach, with North Vietnamese foreign minister, for initial consultations paving the way for Kissinger's visit. A state department spokesman said the United States initiated the meeting plans.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS has come to Michigan for the first time in five years. Sunday will mark the beginning of sunny nights when the State will move the clocks ahead one hour. The lost hour will be picked up on October 28 when savings time comes to an end. Four counties in the Upper Peninsula, however, closely alligned with Wisconsin, will join that state in Central Daylight Time. The battle to convert Michigan to daylight savings has been long and bitter. Golfers and tennis players In Burglary will undoubtedly rejoice: will undoubtedly rejoice; drive-in movies will suffer.

Special Council Meeting Called After Earlier Gathering

By Roger A. Waha

By James J. Njaim There may be apathy in communities along the res of Lake St. Clair and the other Creat Lake unanimously agreed to lift the suspension of boat mooring at the city's Lake Front Park as of Tues-day, May 1. The restric-tion had been unani-Diking and sandbagging are still given top priorities for the simple reason the danger of floods has not mously approved at the regular meeting Monday, April 16.

However, Mayor Pro Tem Marvin R. Boutin said he didn't feel the state of emer-gency, which existed three weeks ago because of the storm, was "with us today." And he emphasized there was no intent to deny use of mooring facilities.

Form Committee

The special meeting was called after an estimated 185 residents jammed the council chambers seeking a solution to the slippery condition of the docks. After an hour of discussion, a committee was formed of Woods Boat Club members and non-members to seek definite action. A "state of emergency" apparently existed because some residents had their boats in dry dock and had to get them out by May 1. With the suspension, they were unable to use the docking facilities.

As for the docks, the coun-cil and the committee agreed they should be raised as isome docks remain under water while water is just beneath others. In fact, Donald Hallmann, director of parks and recreation, said there was a 4'4" clearance between the Jefferson Street Bridge and the water level. up in the past, and he had discussed it with the school at orneys. He stated that the types of activities allowed on the playing fields can be restricted, but it is difficult to supervise the fields on a 24hour basis.

He went on to say that during school session, the school programs have first priority. Outside of school hours, the fields can be used by the public in accordance with board policy. In the past, the board has not limited the fields to Grosse Pointe use alone. Dr. Theos Anderson, super-

Warn Family About Cycling

Some bears come out of hibernation in spring, while some youngsters break out their motorcycles and begin "putt-putting" on Pointe sidewalks, which is dangerous for them, pedestrians, animals and private property.

Woods Public Safety Officer John Albrecht responded to such a complaint Tuesday, April 24, when a Loch-moor boulevard resident contacted police.

The officer spoke with a 12-year-old boy and his father about the matter. The father said he would not allow his son to ride on the sidewalk in the future.

Ever wonder why golf courses have 18 holes instead of some other number? ... Actually, in the early days of golf's development in England, different courses did have different number of holes ... For example, when the first British Open was played, at the Prestwick Club in 1860, that course had only 12 holes ... Some ather courses then had 7 holes, some had 14 ... But the most famous course, the St. Andrews Club of Scotland, just happened to have 18 holes — and in the years following 1860, other courses increased to 18 holes merely to follow the pattern set by St. Andrews ... And, thus 18 holes became the standard for golf courses every-

Farms police took a report from Thomas Williams of Detroit, who told investigating officers that a black man, about six-feet threebefore, inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds, and wearing a black-blue diamond pattern sweater-coat and trousers, a black hat and blue highheeled shoes, entered the credit department and asked that a check totaling $245.89 be cashed. The check was drawn on the Madison National Bank, and was one of several reported stolen from the M. and G. Engineering company, Warren, Mich., about Williams said the man presented a Sears credit card for identification. The card was from out-state, which caused him to be suspicious, Williams said. The check was made payable to a Michael C. Mertz.

which would equalize per pupil expenditure throughout the State. This would prohibit area residents from determining the amount they want to spend on education and would set definite millage ceilings.

The purpose of the Study and Action Committee is to prevent such measures. The Committee, as described by Dr. Eddington, is the legislative arm of the PTA Council. It serves as an umbrella organ to do the legislative chores and to get the community involved in individual legislative action.

Immediate Action

The Committee's influence in Lansing comes from immediate action by residents. When the issues are hot, it is important and necessary for residents to write their representatives. It is only through such participatory means that Grosse Pointe will have a voice in what happens to the school system lation action and must de-and the quality of education. pend on the Study and Acand the quality of education.

Mrs. Richard C. Mills, cochairman of the Study and Action Committee said the Committee had contacted high millage districts around the State and urged them to write their representatives about the legislation.

Every good businessman knows that any product - including a hotel - has to be something more than new to be worth its salt.

When we first open our doors, we'll be something more than new. We'll be everything you've ever wanted in a site for your business meetings – large or small. Our six meeting rooms can seat groups of 600 quite comfortably. One room alone can seat 450 for banquets. Of course, each room is completely soundproofed and all can be arranged to fit the exact requirements of your meeting. Smaller facilities are available for seminars, planning sessions and high-level conferences.

And after the meeting, you can entertain triends and associates in a split-level hospitality suite, featuring complete kitchen and bar facilities. Or have a leisurely meal at one of our two gourmet restaurants. Stroll through the exclusive shops of Somerset Mall-adjacent to the Inn. Swim in our four seasons pool, ski, take in a movie, concert or play, or have an evening cheering for one of Detroit's big league sports teams. Our suburban Troy location makes it all yours for the doing in and around the Inn.

So you see, we're doing a lot more than opening up another new hotel.

We're opening a great new hotel and of Birmingham's recent centennial. She was also head of a citizen's Action Committee that brought about a professional urban design plan for the city. She is currently serving on the City Planning and Community House boards of Birmingham and on the Citizen's Advisory Council of Oakland Community College. Mrs. Willett is also an accomplished pressed-flower artist and an author. Her book, "He Speaks to Me," published in 1968, is a treasury of inspirational messages drawn from her sensitive observations of nature,

During the tea following the program, some of Mrs. Willett's pressed-flower art will be on display. Mrs. G. Howard Willett, III, of Harcourt road, daughterin-law of the speaker, is general chairman of the day, assisted by another community-minded woman Farms Councilwoman Mrs. Nancy Waugaman. Mrs. John Mertz will be in charge of the dining room with Mrs. Douglas Rasmussen providing appropriate decorations of spring flowers.

Mrs. James Lafler is arranging the program, and Mrs. John R. Cobau, 881-1467, is handling tickets which may also be obtained at the church for $1. The Reverend Eugene Locke will open the program with devotional readings.

Name Dropping ... is no no when it comes to writing about the Jefferson Apartments. I'd like to name drop but I can't. People ask who is buying condominium homes at the Jefferson Apartments. Well the list sounds like Who's Who. There is an award winner of one of the highest civic honors; an art collector who lends his paintings to the museum; a member of an outstanding Detroit banking family; a well known connoisseur, restauranteur; a sportsman who is an international winner in yachting circles; an outstanding advertising executive; a retired board chairman; and those who take an active part in the city's industry and social life. Some bought before the building was finished. Others have looked around and thoughtfully compared condominium living to home ownership and apartment renting, they then made their move to the Jefferson Apartments. They were influenced by the convenient prime location, the all-new design, the three security systems, the top of the line appliances, the unusual large spacious rooms, the super insulation, the natural fireplace, the private. storage, the services of a doorman, the freedom from exterior maintenance and so much more.
