EDWARD KENNEDY, Democratic senator from Massachusetts, spent the holidays in Alabama with Governor George Wallace. Kennedy was seeking to bridge the gap between the South and North and unite the Democratic party. Wallace, who was shot and crippled in the 1972 Presidential campaign, was a one-time adversary of Kennedy's. Kennedy, in a Fourth of July speech, praised the Governor as well as criticizing the Nixon administration in the Watergate affair. He also presented Wallace with Decatur, Alabama's annual award for exemplifying American principals.

Friday, July 6

THE COMMERCE DEPARTMENT released a list of 41 agricultural items yesterday that are subject to export controls. The controls were put on the items in an effort to restrain costs of farm products and meat at home by limiting sales abroad. Soybeans and cottonseeds were high on the list. By controlling them, the cost of feeding livestock and poultry in the U.S. will hopefully be reduced and the price of meat and chicken for consumers will be cut.

Saturday, July 7

AMERICAN AIRLINES revealed Friday that the company had made illegal cash contributions to Nixon's reelection campaign. The request for the funds came from Nixon's personal lawyer, Herbert Kalmbach. It was at a time when American was seeking presidential approval of an airline merger case, which it eventually lost. An airline official said the company felt it had to contribute money "in fear of what would happen if it were not given." Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox will probably bring charges against American and others in the investigation of illegal campaign contributions.

Sunday, July 8

PRESIDENT NIXON said Saturday that he would not appear before the Senate Watergate committee and would not allow the committee to see any of his papers. In a letter to Senator Sym Erwin, chairman of the committee, Nixon defended his stand because of his "constitutional obligation to preserve intact the powers and prerogatives of the presidency." The letter, made public by press secretary Ronald Ziegler, was the first communication the President has had with the committee since early May.

114 PEACE CORPS volunteers are being held in Uganda, four of them from Michigan. Uganda President Idi Amin said Sunday they will be under armed detention until he is assured they are not mercenaries going to neighboring Rwanda, which lies south of Uganda. The volunteers were detained Saturday when their chartered plane stopped for refueling and was forced to return to Uganda. The detention brings to the fore the deteriorating relations between Uganda and the United States.

Tuesday, July 10

FIFTEEN MAJOR OIL firms have had a suit filed against them by the State of Florida. Florida Attorney General Robert Shevin said that the basis of the suit is that there is no gas shortage, that the supposed shortage was brought about by the firms to keep prices high and force out competitors. The suit asks that the firms' monopolies be broken up. Some of the companies named are Gulf, Texaco, Shell, Sun Oil, Exxon, Marathon and Standard Oil.

Parcels Scouts Earn Eagle Honors

AMLUXEN, JAMES AMLUXEN, RICHARD GREGG, HUGH GREGG, MICHAEL ZAPYTOWSKI, JOHN FURTAW and PAT GRACE. The troop's scoutmaster is Dennis G. Crooks.

New Center Being Built At St. John

Two-Level Structure on Front of Building Expected to Be Completed in Late 1974

Ground was broken Thursday, July 5, for the Saint John Hospital Center for Health Education. Over 60 representatives of the Board of Trustees, Fontbonne Auxiliary, Men's Guild, Medical Staff and Administration were present at the formal ceremonies.

The addition will consist of a two-level structure connected to the front of the present building. A decorative wall, enclosing two garden courts, will define the new structure and integrate its design into that of the present hospital.

High Lake Waters Make Seawall Very Dangerous

It is a very dangerous thing to be walking on the cement portion of the seawall along Lake Shore road, as two unknown girls, one of whom slipped and fell into the lake; and two unknown men, one of whom fell in while trying to rescue the "dunked" young lady, can tell you.

Trio of Business Places In City About to Undergo Face-Lifting Operations

Walton-Pierce Taking over Best Building; Harrison and Lee Real Estate Structures Also Being Renovated

Grosse Pointe City is going to have a partial face-lifting in the next few months. At a special meeting held on Thursday, July 5, The City Council approved three site development plans: the Lee Real Estate building on Mack avenue, the Best and Company building and the Harrison building, both in the Village.

The first of the facials involves the property on the corner of Lincoln road and Mack avenue, the former Lee Real Estate building. Architect Robert Wood detailed renovations for the building which include the construction of an addition to make better use of the structural space.

Mr. Wood emphasized the landscaping aspect of the plans which will complement structural lines and conceal building flaws, particularly in the back. The front parking area will be hedged, and the alley paved.

River Claims Theft Suspect

A 36-year-old Detroit man, who was charged with the breaking and entering of an occupied dwelling in The Shores, drowned off the foot of St. Jean Sunday, July 18, after fishing from a dock.

Woods Gives Approval to Curfew Law

Measure Regulates Hours Children Under 17 and 12 Can Congregate

The Woods Council unanimously adopted an ordinance to regulate the hours children under 17 years of age may be in or on the public streets, highways, alleys and parks.

The superintendent said that during the open house of the Plant held on June 24, approximately 250 people took advantage of the tour of the building, and a large majority, including young people, expressed a deep interest and were delighted that the water will be fluoridated.

Prevents Loitering A "near riot" situation, according to Woods police, was created last year when some 200 teenagers blocked streets, started fires, pulled up traffic signs and fired eggs and other missiles at civilian vehicles and scout cars in the area of Barnes and Our Lady Star of the Sea Schools.

Farms to Install Fluoride System To Treat Water

Solons Complying with Statute Enacted by State Legislature in 1968; Fluoridation Was Big Issue in 1950s

The Farms council on Monday, July 2, turned down seven bids for the installation of a fluoridation system at the Water Filtration Plant, 29 Moross road, at Lake Shore road.

The bids, City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., informed the solons, were higher than anticipated estimates and recommended that the bids be rejected and that the Water Department sub-contract a part of the project and install the remaining portion. By doing this, he said, there will be a saving of $3,000 to the city.

Acting on the city manager's recommendation, the council agreed to give the contract to the Art Tucker Excavating company, which will furnish and install a fiberglass storage tank, according to specifications set by Hubbel, Roth and Clark, Incorporated, city engineers, at a cost of $9,180.

Have Ordered Tank Wendell Baker, superintendent of the plant, said that personnel of his department can install the rest of the fluoridation equipment, such as the pump and feeders, for a total of $1,000. He said that a 6,000-gallon tank to hold the chemical has been ordered by the company given the contract to install it, and it should be ready in about six weeks. The tank will be located at the rear of the Filtration Plant, he added.

The total cost of the program was set at $10,180. The rejected bids ran from a low of $13,030 to a high of $18,595.

The superintendent said that during the open house of the Plant held on June 24, approximately 250 people took advantage of the tour of the building, and a large majority, including young people, expressed a deep interest and were delighted that the water will be fluoridated. Some of the older residents expressed concern, but none voiced any active opposition.

Baker said that he held talks with Michigan Health Department officials regarding the delay in the installation of the tank, and received approval from these officials. The mandatory fluoridation of all consumable water was passed by the State Legislature in 1968, with the law stipulating that each community's residents could vote on whether or not they want the chemical in their water.

Shores Trustees Approve Budget Total of $970,000

Displaying bull's eye accuracy, The Shores 1972-73 budget missed its financial mark by only two-tenths of one percent. The figure came to light as the Shores trustees reviewed last year's budget at the Tuesday night, June 24, council meeting and appropriated amounts for the 1973-74 budget.

Raps Farms Council for Its Action

Resident Reacts to Announcement that Fluoride Will Be Added to Water July 19

Criticism of the Farms City Council for its decision to add fluoride to the water supply used by the residents of both the Farms and the City of Grosse Pointe, without giving the voters of these municipalities a chance to express their opinions, is contained in the following letter.

I wish to go on record as stating that responsibility for the contents of this "Letter To The Editor," (in re Grosse Pointe Farms Council action of July 2, 1973), is mine alone; that it does not represent the thinking of any other individual or any organization.

Last week we celebrated Independence Day, each in his own fashion. Whatever our individual pursuits, the true meaning of this particular holiday undoubtedly crossed the minds of many people leaving them secure in the knowledge of their rights as citizens of this great country. Perhaps, at times, with this feeling of security we take much for granted. The right to vote, for instance, is sometimes neglected, but if we were to wake up on July 5th and read the headline, "Grosse Pointe Farms Residents Lose the Right to Vote," we would storm the City Hall with a barrage of questions, demanding answers.

Well, we did not wake up to such a headline, but a small article in the Detroit News of July 5 did state that on Monday, July 2, 1973; "The Grosse Pointe Farms council approved the purchase of equipment to put fluoride in water pumped from the city's filtration plant on Moross near Lake Shore. The plant serves residents of Grosse Pointe Farms and the City of Grosse Pointe." The article further stated that "Grosse Pointe Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr. said Tuesday (July 3) that this action is necessary under a state law which requires fluoride in all public water supplies by July 19 unless the community is exempted by a local vote."

The Grosse Pointe News of June 21 carried an excellent article on the Farms Filtration Plant, with an invitation to residents to visit this facility on June 24. Nothing was mentioned in regard to the impending approval of fluoride in our water. (Continued on Page 2)

Fix Gas Leak In Renaud Rd.

A gas leak at a North Renaud Road residence caused concern in The Woods Saturday, July 7. The leak was corrected within an hour by the gas company, and a street blockade was then lifted.

The citizen told Woods Public Safety Officer Patrick DeVine a cement company was removing sections of concrete from his drive near the sidewalk, when they damaged a gas pipe. At the scene, Officer John DeLora detected a very strong odor of gas. The gas could also be heard escaping from the damaged pipe at an extreme rate. The officer immediately contacted other units. Sergeant James Davidson had responding officers evacuate homes near the damaged pipe. Police said North Renaud was blocked from Wedgewood to the North Renaud-South Renaud intersection. All vehicles and pedestrian traffic were kept from the area until the leak was stopped.

Do each task assigned to you thoroughly and the results will take care of themselves.

Resident Raps Farms; Seeks Vote on Fluoridation

(Continued from Page 1) dell Baker, plant superintendent, told of the advancement in the technique to collect, purify and distribute water. He stated that water is taken for granted, that the average citizen gives little thought to the miracle of clean water. He further stated, "This service is done so quietly, the public doesn't even know the industry exists." This is a rather frightening statement in view of the council's move on July 2. According to the Detroit News article, the state fluoridation bill was approved in 1968, and, as Mr. Bremer stated, it provides for a vote on this matter by the residents. At present, it is not the question of the merits or hazards of fluoridation. The immediate question is why did the council not allow the residents of Grosse Pointe Farms to vote on this question; why did the council wait until just 17 days before the final date of compliance of the law, namely July 19, to include this matter in its agenda? We wonder whether this action received unanimous approval of all members of the council. In all fairness, the names of those members who did not favor this action should be made known.

For those residents who are not aware of the historical background, Grosse Pointe Farms fluoridated its water from 1951 to 1955. It was a heated issue at the time and emotions ran high as evidence "pro" and "con" was brought to the attention of the people. In January 1955 the residents carried on a campaign to secure 1300 signatures on petitions to put the question to a conclusive vote. With the short time allowed for gathering signatures they managed to get 803 valid signatures and the council agreed to put the question to a vote, with the stipulation that it would only be "advisory." On April 7, 1955 residents voted on the question, 1832 against fluoridation and 1368 in favor of continuing it. On May 2, 1955 the council voted to immediately discontinue the addition of fluoride in our water.

It is this writer's belief that the council has used poor judgment in by-passing the residents and their right to vote on this matter. To rectify this injustice the following steps are suggested:

1. To immediately contact the state and petition for a delay of 6 months to a year beyond the compliance date of July 19, 1973.

2. To rescind the motion approving the purchase of equipment to put fluoride in our water. (Mr. Bremer said such equipment would cost $10,000.)

3. Publish notice of a hearing on this matter, in the Grosse Pointe News, at the next regular council meeting.

4. Secure the help of organizations such as the Women's Republican Club, the League of Women Voters and other study groups and conduct a "pro" and "con" educational program on the subject of fluoridation in the community together with provision for said information to be published in the Grosse Pointe News.

5. After said educational program has taken place, to put the question of fluoridation once more on the ballot at a regular election.

It is assumed that, since the state law of 1968 provides for local vote on the part of residents of the community, it is not necessary to seek signatures on petitions in order to hold such an election or to arrive at a conclusive result. We are all so deeply concerned with the many problems confronting us in our beloved country these days. Let us not, however, lose sight of the fact that democracy and good government begin at the grass-root level. If we allow our rights to be eroded at the local level, how can we possibly hope to retain those rights on the state and national level?

Sincerely, Sunny Hausmann (Mrs. F. W. H. Jr.) McMillan road, Grosse Pointe Farms

Just hope for the best — then buckle down and work for it. Success in this life depends much on habits and appearances.

Plan Fluoride System

"You only have to go across the city limits into Detroit, and you have fluoridated water, and a great number of cities, towns and villages in the Metropolitan area purchase their water from Detroit. A full reading of the law states that a city's ruling body can adopt fluoridation by resolution, and that is what we did."

Law Prescribes Amount Baker said that the fluoride is distributed according to Michigan law, that is, four and one half gallons is added to one million gallons of water. Health officials said that fluoridation programs can reduce tooth decay by as much as 60 per cent.

Thomas Kressbach, Grosse Pointe city manager, whose community buys its water from the Farms, said in a phone interview, that two years ago, the City solons approved the use of the chemical, after receiving petitions from a majority of residents. The City is the Farms' only customer. The other Pointes, Harper Woods and surrounding communities in the Metropolitan area buy their water from Detroit, which has used fluoride for a number of years.

The fluoridation of the Farms' water stirred quite a controversy in late 1954, when the city announced that it would use the chemical.

Opponents of the matter presented a petition, bearing 803 names, to the solons demanding a referendum be held to determine if the people wanted fluoride in their drinking water. The council agreed to place the matter on the April 1955 ballot, but strictly as an "advisory" issue.

In a landslide, 1,800 voters, who cast ballots for city officials, opposed the use of fluoride and 1,300 favored it.

Proponents for the chemical, claimed that the vote was not a true expression of the people, and demanded that the matter be again voted upon in November 1956, during the federal and state elections, at which time more voters were expected to cast ballots. This was done and this time, the vote ran 3,036 to 2,986 in favor of fluoridation.

It is interesting to note that following the April 1955 "advisory" vote, the council approved the use of the chemical. Fluoride was used for only one month, after which it was discontinued, and the matter has remained status quo since.

Police Arrest Burglar in Act

Two Detroit police officers while on routine patrol at 3:35 a.m. on Monday, July 2, observed a man emerging from an alley at the rear of 15510 Mack avenue, carrying a stereo radio and speaker. On sighting the policemen, the suspect dropped the equipment and attempted to flee from the area on foot, but was apprehended a short distance away.

According to information released by Park Lt. Gordon Duncan, Patrolmen Walter Stick and James Lantagier of Detroit's Conner Station, Fifteenth Precinct, cruising east on the Detroit side of the avenue, saw Robert M. Higgins, 20, no known address, leaving the alley with the equipment in his hands. The lieutenant said that the radio and speaker had been taken from the dental office of Dr. Richard Knoff, located at the Mack address.

After making the arrest, the Detroit patrolmen notified their station, from where Park authorities were called and informed that Higgins was in custody at Mack and Somerset. Higgins was released to Park police and taken to the station and booked and charged with breaking and entering into a business place. At 4:15 p.m., Monday, Higgins was arraigned for a preliminary hearing before Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer, who ordered Higgins held in lieu of $5,000 bond, and set examination for yesterday, July 11. The accused man was held in the local cell because of crowded conditions at Wayne County jail.

Ask Binding Arbitration On Pay for Woods Police

By Roger A. Waha
 The Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Association, (GPWPOA), has filed for binding arbitration towards settling its 1973-74 contract dispute with the city.

Public Safety Officer Patrick Fagan, association president said an "impasse" was reached in the bargaining" so members, who had to file for binding arbitration before fiscal year 1973-74 ended, did so on Friday, June 29.

"The principle problem is we can't seem to reach a definition on what is 'public safety.' The city wants to compare us to police departments and we want a separate definition and to be in a class all by ourselves," said Officer Fagan.

No 'Blue Flis' Officers in the city's Department of Public Safety have both police and fire-fighting responsibilities. In The Pointe, The Shores is the only other community to have a public safety department.

At the same time, Officer Fagan emphasized the 35-member association, (excluding corporals, sergeants and lieutenants), still has a good relationship with the city. "However, we're still working under last year's contract," he stated.

Even though the association has reached an "impasse" with the city, Officer Fagan made it clear residents would not be hampered with police "blue flu" or a "work slowdown." He said, "We don't feel the citizens should suffer because we have no contract."

Nix Agreement In reviewing negotiating sessions with the city, the officer said the association submitted its original proposal on January 31. Four meetings were held in May, followed by two meetings with a mediator in June. At that time, a tentative agreement was reached. This agreement, he said, was turned down by the association.

Attorney Michael C. Kovaleski, who represents the association, described the current situation as an "unhappy" and "costly" one. While the matter remains under his study, Mr. Kovaleski felt the officers were entitled to "just compensation."

City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher said The Woods last year, for example, took a police salary for cities similar in size and added extra money for public safety duties, e.g., fire-fighting. As of Tuesday noon, Mr. Hornfisher said the city hasn't heard from the association as yet.

Elworthy Field Trees Damaged

Five trees were severely damaged on Elworthy Field over the July 4th holiday. Doug Collinson, Superintendent of Public Works in Grosse Pointe City, discovered the destruction on Thursday, July 5.

City Police Chief Andrew Teetaert said the tops of the trees had apparently been hit with a baseball bat. They were flowering crabs and were among the 13 that had been donated to the Field by the Women's Garden Council.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach cited the incident as a "senseless act of vandalism and reprehensible from my point of view."

He went on to say he hoped if residents see attempted vandalism of trees that they contact the Police Department so the culprits could be apprehended.

The trees were planted last year and had been thriving. They will probably not survive the damage and will have to be replaced.

New Plans

The final site plans concerned the Harrison building in The Village. Plans had been put before the council on Monday, June 18, but were rejected since they did not fit in with the Williamsburg motif of the Village.

The new plans, presented by C Ward Omans, representing the Village Land Company, consisted of the addition of pre-fab white wood shutters to the upper windows. The entire building would be painted in a Williamsburg red. Mr. Rogers took it upon himself to help in the selection of the paint so it would not clash with other Village buildings.

The lower brick aluminum

Shores Courts

(Continued from Page 1) tributions, hopes of a new tennis court were dashed early this year as Mr. Beck received construction bids exceeding the estimated price. Instead of a court costing $7,000 or $8,000 as expected, firms were submitting bids over the $10,000 mark.

In devising this year's budget, the Shores trustees set aside another $3,000 for court facilities, and decided to draw an amount from another fund for Parks and Recreation facilities. Even with the additional revenues, Mr. Beck and Mr. Haigh are still relying heavily on more contributions from Shores residents.

"Shores residents will make the tennis courts possible," Mr. Beck commented recently.

Those residents who wish to see two new tennis courts at the George Osius Park at the earliest possible date, and who have not been contacted by Mr. Haigh, may send checks to his residence at 28 Hawthorne road, payable to the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores.

The two new courts will be constructed in front of the two existing courts in the northeast corner of the lake-side park.

facade, which would hold the signs of prospective tenants, would be of white wood.

City Mayor John King suggested the addition of a colonial portico over the center of the building would be replaced with a small window. In addition, the delivery door will be substituted with glass and aluminum doors, accented by shutters.

Prospective tenants will be advised in the lease that they are responsible for front additions. The council will give final approval to these renovations. The building provides for five separate shops as well as office space on the second floor.

Woods Okays Curfew Law

He added the council felt this year-around approach was better, and more practical, than gearing it to a specific day.

A North Oxford road resident via a letter to the council offered her support for the measure. "Though we would not want it to cover an individual child, the group law would at least give the police some help in controlling mobs which seem to be occurring more frequently."

The citizen continued by saying, "As far as 'Devil's Night' is concerned, the harm does begin earlier, but how this is to be controlled by anyone other than parents, I don't know. Sometimes parents have got to stand up and be counted among concerned individuals and tell their children they

Lake Level

The chief pointed out, too, that because of the constant washing over of the cement area by high waves, moss, which thrives in damp areas, has formed on the walkway of the seawall.

"The girl and the man were very lucky they were not drowned or hurt," Chief Ferber added.

"People are allowed to sit on the grass over looking the wall, but a city ordinance prohibits fishing or swimming in the lake or picnicking on the section between Lake Shore and the wall," the chief added further.

Parents are urged to find out where their children are going and to impress upon them that the seawall is no place to do any fishing, Ferber said. There are plenty of good fishing areas in the Municipal Pier-Park, he emphasized.

Approve Block Party in Woods

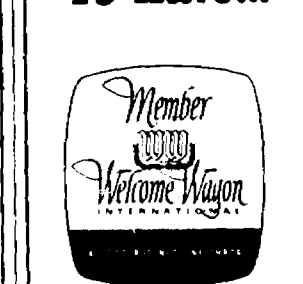

The residents of Crescent lane and the south side of Cook road have The Woods Council's unanimous approval to block off the center portion of Crescent lane for a block party Saturday, July 28, from 3 p.m. to 12 a.m.

Based on the recommendation of Public Safety Director Henry Marchand, the council okayed the party at the regular meeting Monday, July 2.

The affair's purpose is to introduce all new residents to the neighborhood.

CAPTURE IGUANA
 City Officers Donald Boyer and Jerome Petz captured an escaped iguana in a garage in Rivard boulevard on Friday, July 6. They had responded to a call from a resident who discovered the reptile. The officers returned the iguana to its home in Washington road.

Newcastle Road Residents Complain of Pointe Dodge

By Roger Waha
 Around 30 Newcastle road residents attacked the condition of the grounds around the immediate area of Pointe Dodge, 19391 Mack avenue, and the dealership itself, at the regular meeting of The Woods Council Monday, July 2.

The citizens requested action against Pointe Dodge stemming from oil waste which washed from the service garage area onto the street and alley during the Thursday, June 28, rain-storm. Waste oil floated on the street's flooded portion which encompassed some lawns between the sidewalk and the curb, Woods police said.

Building inspector Earl Wakely said the waste was apparently caused when the sewer backed up out of the dealer's hoist pit, (which contains a grease and oil interceptor), came up to floor level and then washed the oil with it down Newcastle road.

Sore Spots
 This, however, was only one sore spot with the residents. They complained about the condition of the alley, which is "coated with stones," near Pointe Dodge, (one person said, "If you saw the alley, you'd be ashamed to say you lived in Grosse Pointe Woods"); that some employees were driving out of the one-way alley the wrong way, driving backwards on occasion and too fast for conditions, and on the vacant lot at the Southwest corner of Newcastle and Mack.

In fact, a communication from 92 Newcastle road residents regarding the purchase of the lot for use as a municipal parking lot was unanimously referred to the Committee of the Whole by the council at the regular meeting Thursday, May 17. The letter voiced complaints about "the filth and the nuisance of the lot" which, it was said, citizens have lived with for "many, many years."

To Buy Lot
 After the regular meeting July 2, the council met as the C-W to discuss plans of action. City Attorney George Catlin reported the solons authorized City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher to make an offer and purchase the lot from Chrysler Corporation's Realty Division. This has been done and the city is now awaiting a response from Chrysler.

Secondly, Mr. Catlin has contacted the attorney for Pointe Dodge regarding liability for lawn damage sustained from the oil wash. He is currently waiting word on whether Pointe Dodge will assume liability for damages. If they do not, Mr. Catlin said the city will see to it the lawns are repaired.

Around 14 citizens had their lawns covered with oil. Mr. Catlin estimated the overall damage at about $2,000. He noted the grass would not only be replaced but that top soil would have to be removed due to the extent of the destruction.

Goodyear Store
 The NEWS contacted Kenneth Mead, of Pointe Dodge, who said he has never seen anyone drive the wrong way down the alley. Mr. Mead also emphasized Pointe Dodge has been ticketed for parking violations only. He added the dealership is moving from the Mack avenue building in three weeks.

On this point, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company intends to open a service store at the Mack address. A Board of Appeals hearing date of Monday, August 6, has been set for Goodyear at the regular council meeting on that date. Goodyear had a certificate of occupancy denied because of a deficiency in off-street parking requirements.

A Ride With City Police Opens Eyes of Reporter

By Holly Angell
 In order to obtain a police eye's view of Grosse Pointe City, I spent last Friday evening, July 6, in a scout car. The two-hour ride revealed a completely peaceful community with no trace of crime and no reason for paranoia on the part of the residents.

My officers in charge were David Teolis, a six-year veteran of the force and Richard Lanski, a nine-year veteran. The scout car, No. 23, was equipped with a radio, which relayed all calls from the five Pointes as well as Harper Woods, a microphone to return calls and a foreboding-looking yet rarely used 12 gauge shot gun attached to the dash board.

The car also doubled as an ambulance and contained a stretcher, oxygen — and a beach towel.

Corporal Edmond Benthuis had given me a pre-ride briefing, a teasing attempt to prepare me for the worst. I was forgiven for not knowing how to use a gun but reprimanded for my ignorance of the intricacies of a can of mace.

So I entered the car armed only with paper, pen and a potential scream. The paper and pen were put to good use; the scream was unnecessary.

The two hours were spent on routine patrol. The police officers drove around the city to insure that all was in safe working order. The radio was on at all times to keep the officers aware of what was happening in other sections and to dispatch them immediately to a problem area.

That Friday there was an occasional call in Harper Woods and a barking dog complaint in The Farms. Other than that it was all quiet in The Pointes. The officers never follow a set pattern in their patrol, in order to keep regularity at a minimum and surprise at a maximum. However, they are extremely thorough. We covered all the streets, parking lots and back alleys, some of which I never knew existed.

The ride not only emphasized a sense of safety and security that pervades the City but also a sense of community. It was obviously summer in the City and the residents were out in full force.

Elworthy Field was doing a thriving business, inhabited by tennis players, baseball players and playground players. Bicyclists abounded, many en famille.

Some residents sat on their front porch watching the world go by while others were out for a walk, stopping to talk with friends. And Officers Teolis and Lanski, who recognized many of the residents, gave and received greetings.

The officers said that they never knew when they would have a busy night. Since daylight savings was put into effect, a lot of activity doesn't start until midnight.

Furthermore, during the summer, the community is quieter since many residents are on vacation. There are also fewer driving violations since more people are on bikes to preserve gas and health.

The shifts for City officers are divided up into morning, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., afternoon, 4 p.m. to 12 midnight and evening, 12 midnight to 8 a.m. The city has 18 officers on the force with five men handling one shift. The shifts are arranged on a two-week rotating basis.

The officers have to take written and oral exams to qualify for the force. Then it's onto the police academy for 320 hours of training. Courses include use of weapons, vehicle codes, court procedures, self-defense—all aspects of public safety. Many of the officers continue taking courses after they have finished their basic training.

An officer has to be on the force three years to become a corporal and five years to become a sergeant. In addition, they must also take another test.

One of the biggest problems during the summer is bicycle riders. The officers are planning to take a tougher line on those who are reckless and careless.

Officers Teolis stated that "We try to give everyone a fair shake" and will warn a rider when he is violating a rule. However, if he continues to do so, then he will be ticketed."

The plan was put into action Friday night. One nine-year-old who was riding in the street, was told to get on the sidewalk. And two boys on a tandem were rewarded with a "beautiful" when they stuck out their hands indicating a turn.

The police provide myriad service besides patrolling the streets and maintaining peace. Their duties range from giving a sympathetic ear to a resident who wanted to talk, to nabbing bicycle thieves, from capturing an escaped iguana to dispelling parked couples—all manner of complaints and requests. They fill a multitude of roles.

Their duties also embrace tolerating the presence of a reporter during their patrol of the community on a hot summer evening.

Hold Regatta At Crescent

Ron Rostorfer, of The Woods put together a perfect 1-1-1 series to win the Michigan District Championships on Saturday and Sunday, July 7 and 8, at the Crescent Sail Yacht Club. The race was a one design class, made up of the 17 and a half foot Thistle. Mr. Rostorfer was assisted by his wife, Dottie and Fred Pettit.

The regatta, under the direction of Rod Clouse, regatta chairman, was entered by 32 boats from as far away as Louisville, Ky. Fourteen boats qualified to attend the national championships to be held in August in Canada. The championship course was set up by Bill Cox, race committee chairman.

Loren Sherry of Crescent finished second, followed by Dan Stevenson of the Indianapolis Sail Club, Tony Alper, also of Indianapolis, and Mr. Clouse of Crescent.

Woods Getting Safety Plaque

A plaque signifying the Automobile Club of Michigan's Grand Award for pedestrian safety will be presented to Woods city officials at a luncheon today, Thursday, July 12, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

This was the third Grand Award the city has won in the last seven years. Outside of Detroit, The Woods is the only Michigan city ever to receive the award, the highest honor given by the AAA. The award cited The Woods as the safest U. S. city of its size for pedestrians during the 34th National AAA Pedestrian Safety Inventory.

Piggins Takes Telethon Post

Pointer Edward S. Piggins, Jr., was recently named chairman of the Detroit Jaycees' 24-hour telethon which will be presented Friday, August 3, on TV-20, to raise money for the mentally and physically retarded children in the community. All monies raised from this event will be used to educate and train these handicapped youths. Hal Cornelius of the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Children has wished Mr. Piggins success with the telethon. Pointer Charley Manos is scheduled as one of the masters of ceremonies for the event. The Detroit Association for Retarded Children was founded by concerned parents in 1952. In its attempts to obtain appropriate community sponsored programming for mentally retarded, the DARC engaged in pilot programs to demonstrate that training can lessen their dependence and increase their contribution to the community.

Farms, County to Share Storm Drain Outlet Cost

On Monday, July 2, the Farms council was informed that the Wayne County Road Commission has accepted its offer to pay 20 percent of the total construction cost to correct a drainage problem at Lake Shore and Moross roads.

It was disclosed that the Road Commission can start on the proposed improvement as soon as the Farms remits a check in the amount of $2,464, representing 20 percent of the estimated $12,326.55 cost. City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., told the council that the WCRC had south a higher percentage payment from the city, which was rejected.

Robert A. Larson, WCRC's director of Transportation Programs, said that in the event the work costs less than the estimate, a pro rata share will be reimbursed to the city when the project is completed. However, if the cost should be higher, the Farms will be billed its pro rata share of the increase. Farms Director of Public Service John DeFoe said that the flooding is due to the fact that two catch basins at the corner of Moross have no outlet. This he pointed out is caused by the high level of lake water which caused sand to block the existing outlet at the north end of the Municipal Pier-Park.

As a result of the high lake level and sand blockage, DeFoe said, a new outlet must be constructed to allow storm water to drain from the intersection following heavy rains.

Both the Farms and the County use the same outlet, the director said, which is the reason for the cost shaving.

Shores Budget

(Continued from Page 1) Another financial headache is the new Grosse Pointe Clinton Refuse Disposal Authority. Whereas it cost The Shores $7,470 to dispose of its garbage two years ago through a landfill operation, it cost the village $8,443 to burn its refuse last year in the new incinerator. The village also had to pay $9,553 towards bond principal. Other expenditures which proved unexpectedly high last year were insurance, sanitation, gasoline and office supply costs.

The good news is that Shores residents will not be asked to pay higher taxes this year, as the trustees unanimously approved a 16.25 mills tax rate or $16.25 for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation. It is the same tax rate as last year, so the only Shores residents who will pay more taxes are those who have made additions or improvements to their homes.

The 1973-74 budget is set at $970,000, or about $34,000 over last year's budget. The gap will be made up by further Federal Revenue Sharing allotments in addition to state shared taxes. The Shores is also hoping that a major construction job, such as the repaving and repiping of Colonial road, and the repaving of Hampton and Roslyn road, at a combined cost of $50,000, will not appear in 1973.

OKAY SOLICITATION

The Woods Council unanimously gave the green light to the National Society for Autistic Children so they may install canisters in various businesses to solicit funds. The action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, July 2. The society began a fund raising drive throughout the nation Sunday, June 24.

Cottage Leases Parking Spots

The parking situation at Cottage Hospital was eased somewhat when, as of Tuesday, July 10, the hospital was allocated 25 parking spaces for lease in the former "free" parking strip in the municipal lot alongside the Muir property line at the rear of the Mill Business District.

All department heads and some members of the clerical staff in the hospital's personnel and administrative offices were assigned the spaces. Each person granted the right to park in the strip was issued a sticker to attach to the rear window of his or her car, indicating that they have the use of space there.

"And we don't want to see any of these cars with stickers in the hospital parking lot," commented Cottage Administrator Ralph L. Wilgarde. "we need more than 25 spaces to make parking at Cottage more convenient for our visitors and staff, but at least this is a good start toward alleviating the problem."

The hospital was leased the spaces when Hill businessmen, who petitioned the Farms council for spots for themselves and their employees, failed to back up their requests, thereby leaving a large number of spaces vacant.

Each space is leased at $10 a month, payable quarterly, or $30 every three months. On payment of the $30, a colored sticker is issued, a different color on renewal, indicating that the quarterly fee has been paid. Parking is by permit only and violators are ticketed and fined $10.

Gun Carrier On Probation

Robert Lee Lewis, 45, of Pontiac, received three years probation for a charge of carrying a dangerous weapon. He appeared in Circuit Court before Judge Roland Olzak on Thursday, July 5. Lewis was stopped by City Police on Friday, December 29, for speeding. On further investigation, the police discovered a .32 caliber automatic next to the driver's seat along with six spare rounds of ammunition.

Zenn to Play WSU Basketball

Pointer Bob Samaras, Wayne State University's new head basketball coach, has signed 6-foot guard Ron Zenn of North High School to a letter of intent for 1973-74.

This is Samaras' first recruit via a letter of intent since being named the head coach.

Zenn won All-State, All-Metro and All-Suburban mention last winter as well as All-East and All Bi-County League first team selection for North.

Samaras describes Zenn as an outstanding defensive player, an excellent ball-handler and an able scorer. He's also a very good student, academically, as well.

In late May, Samaras was handed WSU's cage spot on a permanent basis. He replaced seven-year coach Frank Gompert, who is on a leave of absence for 1973-74.

Farms, Kogan Exchange Property Behind Sears

A meeting was held with Farms city officials and Jay M. Kogan, owner of the Sears branch store, Mack and Moross, and other commercial buildings in the shopping center, at which a mutual agreement was reached, to relocate the 30-foot drive at the rear of Sears, according to information released by John DeFoe, director of Public Service on Friday, July 6.

The meeting was held in the Farms Municipal Building, with Police Chief Robert Ferber and Police Lt. Ignatius Backman present.

DeFoe said that the present traffic situation behind the store has been a growing problem for many months because of the greater vehicular traffic and the number of trucks loading and unloading behind the store.

Adding to the problem, the director said, is the location of the Sears Service garage and package pick-up, which are located adjacent to the present drive.

DeFoe prepared a plan whereby the existing 30-foot drive would be moved about 18 feet to the east of the alley entrance, which is now being used as a parking area along the present brick wall directly behind the store.

A satisfactory agreement was reached between the Farms and Kogan, who consented to trade the present parking strip along the brick wall, belong to Sears, for a portion of the existing 30-foot roadway owned by the city.

DeFoe pointed out that this was not a legal property transaction, that is, there was no sale of properties, which extend about 200 feet into the alley from the Moross road approach, but that this was just a mutual exchange, with each party retaining title to the sections involved. This mutual exchange is primarily to provide traffic relief.

A letter from Sears store officials indicated that they had no objections to the plan.

Kogan also agreed to pay a portion of the cost of relocating the drive. It was disclosed that his cost will amount to $1,000, and the cost to the city will be $1,200.

DeFoe said that the Farms will prepare plans and specifications and provide the necessary provision after the contract has been concluded with whichever firm submits the lowest bid.

DeFoe also said that future maintenance of the relocated drive will be provided by the city.

The Farms council has already approved the exchange, and it is hoped that the construction work will be completed before the start of school in September.

Parking throughout the entire alley is prohibited, but was allowed against the wall where cars were waiting for service.

With the acquisition of the land from Kogan, the wall, and the bumpers will remain standing, to protect the wall, but "No Parking, Standing or Stopping" signs will be posted.

Fuse Box Fire Damages Home

A fire which began in the fuse box at the home of Charles Daas, 601 Lincoln road, and crept up through the walls of the home, was extinguished by the City Fire Department on Tuesday, July 3.

Fire Chief Robert Marshall, Sergeant Gerald Mehl, Firemen Archie McEachern and Donald Prystup responded to the call with all apparatus. Off duty firemen Lt. Parnell D'Hooghe and Richard Tucher were also on the scene along with three firemen and a truck from The Farms.

When the firemen arrived, they discovered smoke seeping from the eaves and from the bricks below the eaves. A booster line was pulled to the third floor and the wall opened just below the eaves. However, the firemen found after opening the wall that the fire had originated from downstairs.

In the basement they found the fuse box engulfed in flames. A second booster was brought in to put out this fire. Open flames had also broken through the wall in an upstairs back bedroom. It was extinguished with the first booster. In addition, a portion of the garage ceiling was opened to check the direction of the fire.

The firemen determined that the fire had started in the fuse box and wires and traveled up between the walls along the joists and water pipes to the roof.

There was smoke and fire damage as well as extensive structural damage.

Plan Carnival To Battle MD

A Carnival Against Muscular Dystrophy sponsored by four youngsters "who care" will be held at The Woods Presbyterian Church parking lot, 1950 Mack avenue, Tuesday, July 17.

The Woods Council unanimously approved the event with a stipulation the sponsors work in public with the Department of Public Safety. The action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, July 2.

The youngsters, Bobby Steiber, 12, Michael Steiber, 11, John Bissa, 9, and Carl Bengtson, 11, are "veterans" in the fight against dystrophy.

Last year, Bobby, Michael and John held a carnival as did Carl, who also sponsored one in 1971. Bobby, Michael and John netted some $150 from this effort, while Carl reportedly gained $500, (with a moon-walk as a special attraction), in 1972 and around $150 the previous year.

As in the prior affairs, all monies were given to the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America. In the past, the lads were aware of the dystrophy campaign across the nation, wished to do their part and this year decided to merge their forces toward a "big time" affair.

The event, which is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., will feature a moon-walk. A soft drink refreshment trailer, game tent and new sales booth also are planned. Adult supervisors will assist for the entire day.

The youngsters, who have done everything on their own including contacting the church and the council, are seeking donations from citizens and businesses to help make this affair "a really big show."

Bobby said a generator is needed for the rides, not to mention a snow cone and sugar candy machine. And any goods for the new sale booth and for a raffle will be appreciated. If you would like to assist, call Bobby or Michael at 886-2487.

All donations are tax deductible.

Reverend John Olert, Jr., in a communication to the council, reported the church trustees approved the youngsters' request to hold the event at the church's lot.

"Having assured ourselves of adult supervision and having been assured of bodily injury and property damage insurance to the amount of $500,000 we agree that the lot can be made available," he said.

"It is understood that the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church is only making the property available for this one purpose and does not assume any responsibility either for supervision, traffic safety, bodily injury or property damage," Reverend Olert added.

Parking Plea Hearing Slated

The Board of Appeals hearing on the request of S. D. Palazzolo, owner of the land at Mack avenue and Fleetwood, for a variance in off-street parking requirements in order to permit the construction of an office building, has been adjourned. At the regular meeting Monday, July 2, The Woods Council passed a motion to adjourn the hearing until the Monday, July 16, meeting when the solons will reconvene as the Board of Appeals. The vote was 4-1.

Mr. Palazzolo's parking lot would have 15 spaces but the zoning ordinance requires 19 so he's deficient by four.

During the discussion between the council and Mr. Palazzolo it was revealed the building had an extension of the first floor over the second floor. Councilman Conrad A. Naegel asked if the floors could be reversed so around five additional parking spaces could be gained. Mr. Palazzolo said he would have to discuss this matter with the architect regarding costs. Further information on this point is scheduled for exploration at the July 16 meeting.

Mr. Palazzolo said he intended to construct a two-story brick building which would "complement the neighborhood." The offices, he stated, would be utilized by attorneys, manufacturing agents and other "good tenants."

No one spoke for the building, (outside of Mr. Palazzolo), while three residents spoke against the proposal. These citizens, who live near the corner, were concerned about parking congestion in the immediate area. In this respect, Mayor Pro Tem Marvin R. Boutin read a communication from Public Safety Director Henry Marchand that off-street parking facilities were not sufficient for the size of the proposed building.

SEMCOG Report Totals Pointe Building

The authorization of 39,834 new housing units was recorded in 1972, according to a recent issue of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, (SEMCOG), Data Digest. This total was 4,301 less than in 1971 but 11,348 more than reported in 1970.

"These figures must be viewed with the fact that 1970 was the lowest year since 1963 and 1971 was a very 'good' home building year, due to the high money costs of 1970 which delayed the building of many units until 1971," reports the digest.

In the Pointe area, The Woods had a net total of 33 dwelling units based on residential building permits issued in the Southeast Michigan Region. The Shores had 11, The City, nine, The Farms, five, and The Park, three, according to the report.

Of The Woods' total, 26 were for detached single family units, two were for two-family units, six were for multi-family units for a gross total of 34, less one demolition, making the net total 33.

In The Shores, eight were for detached single family units and three were for multi-family units, totaling 11. The City had three detached single family unit permits, four for two-family units and two for multi-family units for their nine.

All of The Farms' five permits were for detached single family units, while The Park's three permits also were for such units.

The digest notes, as in 1969, 1972 housing units in multi-family structures outnumbered detached single family units. Fifty-three percent of all authorized units were within multi-family structures.

"The primary incidence of the multi-family authorization was not in Detroit," says the report. "More than 92 percent of the units were beyond the corporate limits of Detroit."

The right viewpoint in life will make your burdens light.

Car Theft Victim Refuses To Assist in Prosecution

Car theft charges against two men were dismissed by Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell on Thursday, June 28, when the victim of the theft refused to prosecute. The two were arrested by Farms police on June 15, on warrants accusing them with conspiracy and possession of a stolen motor vehicle with intent to pass title.

Ordered freed were Bruce T. Binder, 22, of 12297 Riad, Detroit, and William Lee Brooks, 32, of 24465 Phlox, East Detroit.

Judge Pytell dismissed the charges when the complainant, Dr. Alan M. Belkin of Southfield, said he did not have time to prosecute because his patients come first.

A third man was involved in the case, but Farms authorities said that charges against this man will be dropped in view of the refusal of the doctor to press charges against Binder and Brooks, Police Chief Robert Ferber said.

The stolen vehicle, a 1973 Lincoln Continental, leased by Dr. Belkin, was recovered when the pair were arrested on June 15 by Patrolman Timothy Morrison and Cpl. Otto Glanert, after Morrison stopped the car with Binder and Brooks in it. Glanert arrived in response to Morrison's call for assistance.

Chief Ferber was irate when the charges were dropped, and stated it was a "shame that a citizen would not cooperate with police in the prosecution." "One of the biggest cancers in our society is crime," the chief said, "and if we

School Board Elects Officers

At the annual meeting of the Board of Education, held Monday, July 9, officers were elected for the 1973-1974 school year.

Robert Warner will replace William Huettman as board president. Mr. Huettman was elected vice president with Muir Snow III serving as treasurer and Mrs. Joan Hantpeter continuing as secretary.

The two new school trustees, Mrs. Melissa Maghielse and Laurance Harwood were sworn in at the meeting and officially began their terms.

Committee heads were also selected. Mr. Snow will chair the South High Building Committee assisted by Mrs. Hantpeter and Mr. Harwood.

Mrs. Hantpeter will be chairman of the Communications Committee. Also serving will be Mr. Harwood and Mrs. Maghielse. In addition, Mrs. Maghielse will be Legislation chairman.

Heading the newly formed Finance Committee will be Donald Semmler aided by Mr. Huettman and Mrs. Snow.

The firm of Hill, Lewis, Adams, Goodrich and Tait will continue on as the school attorney.

Meetings of the board will be held on the second Monday of each month at North High until building is completed at South High. The meetings will then be held on a rotating basis at the two schools.

Special meetings will be held at the school administration building on St. Clair avenue.

cannot get the cooperation of citizens in fighting crime, our hands are tied and there is nothing we can do." Judge Pytell informed Dr. Belkin that it is the duty of a citizen to prosecute in matters of crime, but if the citizen refuses to assist in the prosecution, then there is nothing the court can do.

"The police officers involved in the investigation of the theft, spent many hours putting the case together," the judge said. "They had an excellent case. However, the cooperation of the witness is very important, and if the witness refuses to cooperate, then the hands of the police are tied."

Binder and Brooks were arrested by Morrison, after they were seen leaving the rear of 94 Muir road at 3:18 a.m. on the June date. The officer asked for a check on the license plate over his police radio. The return reply revealed that the plates were fraudulently issued and Morrison stopped the car and its occupants.

Suspicious activities were noted at the rear of 94 Muir road by a citizen, who informed Farms authorities that cars were being parked in the rear yard at that address.

A second car, a 1973 Mercury Cougar, reported to have been stolen from Roseville, was recovered behind the Muir address.

Following the arrest of Binder and Brooks, Dets. Joseph Miller and Earl Field, and Patrolman John Farley, working in plain clothes, conducted an intensive investigation, including working on their own time, which uncovered a stolen car operation extending from Michigan to the Florida Coast.

Other law enforcement agencies involved in the investigation were the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Michigan State Police, the National Auto Theft Bureau and the East Detroit Police Department.

The latter agency had two warrants against Brooks, charging him with receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 in value.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Kathy Duff

As we are about halfway through the "bridal season," and phone calls from mothers-of-the-bride are coming into the NEWS office at a fast and furious pace, it's time to print our guidelines for submitting engagement and wedding announcements. In general, the following recommendations apply to ANYONE who is called upon to submit information to ANY publication, so recently-elected publicity gals are advised to read on.

When parents of a bride-to-be wish to announce their daughter's engagement, they should pick up an old copy of the NEWS and write their own announcement following the format of past engagement announcements. If a parent feels uncomfortable in writing up the article, a fact sheet may be submitted detailing the pertinent information.

Most important is to include a phone number where the information may be checked during the day, be it a business phone number of the father, mother or bride-to-be. No publicity should ever be submitted to a publication without a contact phone number.

Because of space limitations, we regret that we cannot print photographs of out-of-town brides unless pictured with their Grosse Pointe bridegroom. Any photograph submitted to a publication should be a black and white glossy print; we prefer a five-by-seven-inch print or an eight-by-ten-inch print. The same ground rules apply in submitting the wedding picture.

When the wedding date draws near, a member of the family should drop by the NEWS office and pick up a wedding form which requests the proper wedding information. All the necessary information may be detailed in the blanks provided, and there is also a space for "Remarks." In that section, the couple may list education degrees, business affiliations, special wedding decorations or future plans, whatever they wish to be included in the wedding write up.

One word of caution in filling out a wedding form. Each time a person's name is mentioned, it should be his or her formal name. For example, a matron of honor should be identified as Mrs. John Smith or Mrs. J. E. Smith, and not Shirley Smith.

The Senofsky Mack Lesser Trio consists of Berl Senofsky, violinist; Ellen Mack, pianist; and Laurence Lesser, cellist. The group had its beginning in the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore where the three served on the same faculty. They are American born and educated, and each is considered a distinguished virtuoso.

Berl Senofsky was born in Philadelphia and won his first scholarship when he was six, for study with Louis Persinger. A product of the Juilliard School, he made his New York recital debut as a winner of the Walter Naumburg Award.

Mr. Senofsky's record of concert and concerto appearances is most impressive as he has appeared with every major orchestra in the United States. He played 80 recitals in Australia during a period of six months. Other concert stops have included Moscow, Leningrad, Odessa, Minsk, Kiev and Lvov, in addition to concerts in Western and Eastern Europe, New Zealand, the Far East, South America and Mexico.

Ellen Mack, the pianist, is a native of Los Angeles, and studied at the University of Southern California. She is married to Berl Senofsky, with whom she has made world-wide tours in recital.

Cellist Laurence Lesser was named the winner in the 1966 Tchaikovsky Competition. Meadow Brook In Third Week

The third week of the Meadow Brook Music Festival will appeal to a wide range of musical taste. From the new style of Helen Reddy singing "I Am Woman" to the rousing Overture to "Girl Crazy" by George Gershwin, the week's programs also highlight artists from Andre Previn to Andre Kostelanetz, from John Browning to Benny Goodman.

Helen Reddy opens the week with a concert on Wednesday, July 11. The singer, who is now a television personality as Flip Wilson's summer replacement, is making a rare personal appearance this summer at the Music Festival. She won fame with the Grammy winning hit, "I Am Woman," and has a new single entitled "Delta Dawn," and a new album, "Long Hard Climb." The brilliant conductor of the London Symphony Orchestra, Andre Previn, is welcomed back to the Music Festival. His career includes Oscar awards for film scores as well as outstanding guest conducting appearances with the most famous orchestras in the world. His latest success is the sound-track for the newly-premiered rock opera, "Jesus Christ, Superstar." Mr. Previn will appear on Thursday, July 12, and Saturday, July 14, with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at 8:30.

Highlights of Previn's concert on Thursday is the performance of the Rachmaninoff Symphonic Dances. Pianist John Browning will be the guest artist with Mr. Previn.

Benny Goodman, fresh from an appearance at Carnegie Hall at the Newport Jazz Festival two weeks ago, will appear with his Sextet at the Meadow Brook Festival on Friday, July 13. Goodman, who brought a new dimension to the music of the thirties with his soft and subtle "chamber-music jazz," is credited with launching the swing era.

Andre Kostelanetz will bring the third week to a climax on Sunday evening, July 15, with an all-Gershwin program, commemorating the American composer's 75th birth anniversary including the music overture to "Girl Crazy," "An American in Paris," and music from "Porgy and Bess." The Sunday concert begins at 6:30.

All concerts are held at the Howard C. Baldwin Pavilion on the campus of Oakland University in Rochester. Tickets for the Meadow Brook Music Festival are available at Hudson's, Grinnell's, Wayne State University, and at the Festival Box Office. Phone orders may be placed at the Festival Box Office if charged to Master Charge or Bank Americard. For ticket information, call 377-2010, day or evening.

Detroit Museum Shows Escher's Puzzling Art

The fantastic world of the late Dutch artist M. C. Escher (1898-1972) may be seen at the Detroit Institute of Arts through Sunday, August 12, at the "Homage to Maurits Cornelis Escher" exhibition in the South Wing.

For years his work was prized only by a small group of admirers, mostly mathematicians and scientists fascinated by its logic and precision. Now the ambiguities of his perspectives and his studies of geometric infinity have been discovered by a much larger audience. Today his complex, self-perpetuating patterns appear in museum collections, as well as on record album covers, posters, textile prints and wallpaper designs.

"Adventures in Perception," a 20-minute color film exploring the interplay of time and space in Escher's work, will be shown free in the museum's Holley Room every Saturday and Sunday during the exhibition period. The exhibition is open to the public during regular museum hours Tuesday through Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

In giving names, the man's first name should be given, or two initials, and not given as J. Smith or Mrs. J. Smith. This rule applies to submitting any type of "name" release to any publication. In completing a wedding form, the relation of each attendant to the bride or bridegroom should be indicated, as well as the home address.

Finally, in reviewing the wedding form, be sure that the proper names are typed or legibly printed as we have no resident cryptographer on the NEWS staff.

If we could ever print all the "bloopers" which have appeared on the wedding forms, we could fill an X-rated Society Section. We are still worrying about the girl whose wedding was "consummated in the living room in front of family and close friends." We also wonder about the girl whose bridal bouquet consisted of "seven orchards." She must have been a very strong girl . . .

Maybe so . . . because some folks have our line pegged as purely decorative, not down-to-earth. They don't see the fact for the frou-frou. The fact is . . .
