Three Candidates Vie for Bench in Park Primary

"As your Municipal Judge, I would develop a program in the schools where the legal process and the consequences of breaking the law could be explained. I would establish a probation department, staffed by community volunteers, which could effectively deal with youthful and first time offenders by utilizing community organizations such as FLEC, (Family Life Education Council)."

"My background and training best equip me to serve as your Municipal Judge," he added. Mr. Urso is an Associate Professor of Law at the University of Detroit Law School, and director of the University of Detroit Urban Law Program.

Lawyers Society, Michigan Municipal Judges Association, Federal Bar Association, and the American Judges Association.

Mrs. Grobbel is a member of the State Bar of Michigan and a charter member of the Criminal Law Section. She also is a member of the Michigan Professional Police Association and is dean, Lambda Chapter Kappa Beta Pi legal sorority.

Mr. Urso is a member of the Michigan Bar Association and the Detroit Bar Association. He also is a hearing examiner, State of Michigan Commission on Civil Rights.

Each candidate is kept busy in civic associations, too. Mr. Urso is a charter member of the Grosse Pointe Jaycees, and a board member of the Grosse Pointe Interfaith Center. Mrs. Grobbel is a member of the St. Claire School Board.

Judge Speer is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, Grosse Pointe Crisis Club and the Michigan Professional Police Association.

University, 1968.

The judge of The Park Municipal Court is elected for a four year term beginning January 1 of the year following his election. His salary is $6,000 annually and the judge may retain a private law practice or other employment not conflicting with the office.

Court is normally held one day each week. Court jurisdiction includes civil lawsuits involving not more than $1,500, all criminal matters involving violation of City Ordinance and Charter Provisions, and all State criminal matters where the maximum penalty does not exceed a $500 fine and/or imprisonment for one year.

In addition, the Municipal Judge acts as Magistrate for the purpose of arraigning, setting bond and binding defendants in more serious criminal matters over to trial in the Wayne County Circuit Court.

Farms Loses Decision

ment of the grade of corporal, a supervisory position was created, defined by the chief of police in 1970. The duties of a corporal were defined as follows:

In the absence of a sergeant, the duties of a corporal will be identical to that of a police sergeant as specified in the rules and regulations governing The Farms Police Department. At all other times the corporal will be the junior officer in command and will fulfill the responsibility assigned to him by the shift commander.

As the GPFPOA contended, and upheld by Sperka and the MERC, "it can be seen that the corporals to be created by this order were only to perform 'special duties' in the absence of the sergeant. As to the performance of responsibilities to be assigned by a superior, this would be in fact the same duty to obey as any patrolman."

The full board further ruled the testimony elicited showed that prior to the creation of the position of corporal, in the absence of a sergeant or higher authority, the senior patrolman performed the same functions as the sergeant as to the proper maintenance of the station house.

Further, testimony showed that when a corporal was on patrol in a car, his duties and responsibilities were to perform the same functions as a patrolman.

No Conflict

The Association contended that in a case, recommendations made by a corporal are reviewed by his immediate sergeant, the lieutenant, and finally the chief of police. This does not indicate the acceptance of recommendations on their face without independent consideration.

It would appear, the GPFPOA claimed, to be more likely that the corporals' recommendations are equivalent to suggestions made by an employee of non-supervisory status.

The use of a company suggestion box, the Association claimed further, does not create a supervisor. The "recommendation" of a long-time and knowledgeable employee does not elevate him to supervisory status. The corporals are merely a conduit for the transmission of orders and are acting according to routinely oriented program.

The members of the Commission said they found that no conflict of interest exists between those in the position of corporal and the personnel included in the supervisory unit.

Elated at Ruling

Patrolmen John Farley and Charles Reichling, president and vice-president, respectively, of the GPFPOA, expressed elation that the case was ruled in the organization's favor.

"We are of the opinion that the Commission's decision has completely demolished the city's case," they said. "This has gone to the MERC twice, and we won each time."

O'Meara said he will meet with Farms administration officials at the earliest possible time to consider whether to appeal the Commission's findings.

"We do not agree with the decision," he said, "but we must discuss whether to accept it, or appeal. If we decide to appeal, it will be to the State Court of Appeals."

Smart Youths Follow Advice

A hazardous condition at the vacant lot east of Morningside drive at Briarcliff was swiftly corrected by Woods Public Safety Officer Patrick DeVine Thursday, July 26.

While on patrol, the officer spotted five youths digging a four-by-four-by-four-foot hole and a trench under the sidewalk in the northeast lot, plus another large hole in the southeast lot.

The youths, three eight-year-olds and two seven-year-olds, were told about the threat of a cave-in, and were instructed to refill the holes and trench.

When Officer DeVine checked back an hour later, he found the hazard eliminated as the youths wisely took his advice.

City to Have Parking Ramp

The Grosse Pointe City Council, at a special meeting on Wednesday, July 25, awarded a contract to Kronk and Tocco Inc. of Oak Park for the construction of the parking ramp behind Jacobson's In-The-Village.

The City received seven bids from construction firms with Kronk and Tocco citing the lowest figure of $750,000. The bids were opened on Monday, July 23, and reviewed and awarded on Wednesday.

The construction of the three-tiered parking structure will begin in the end of August, after the City sells its bonds. Bonds open Monday, August 13. The ramp will be completed in the spring of 1974.

Fire Rips Garage in G.P. Woods

Structure and Contents Totally Destroyed; Two Autos Receive Damage, One Extensively

Fire totally destroyed a two-and-a-half garage at the rear of the Jerome Rochon residence, 1983 Littlestone road, Wednesday, July 25.

A Chevrolet Vega also suffered extensive damage, while a Ford station wagon received minor damage, according to a Woods Department of Public Safety report.

Six firefighters fought the blaze for some 30 minutes before extinguishing it. No injuries were reported. Sergeant Bernard Kelly, who was at the scene, said, "We are unable to determine the cause because of the amount of extensive damage. The investigation is closed."

Spreads Quickly
 The fire started in the garage's northwest corner but quickly spread via gasoline and varnish remover cans stored in the vicinity.

The destroyed contents included six bicycles, children's play toys, power tools, including a sander and saw, plus other sundries.

Neighbor Kathy Agustitus told police she spotted a small fire around 7:18 a.m. and dashed to the Rochon home so they could move the autos parked in front of the garage. She soon heard what she believed were multiple explosions and the small fire then doubled in size before swallowing the entire front of the structure. Another neighbor, Evelyn Stearns, called the department.

Saves One Car
 Mr. Rochon said when he went to the garage, it was engulfed. He drove his station wagon back from the building but was unable to recover the Vega.

He reported, in addition to items normally found within a garage, he also stored two gas cans of two and a half gallon capacity (one full and one empty), plus two cans of furniture stripper.

Mrs. Rochon told investigating officers she placed several rags saturated with Swedish oil upon some newspapers, which was atop a box of discarded items. She placed the rags in the garage around 12:30 a.m. on the 25th.

Besides Sergeant Kelly, other firefighters included Officers Thomas Hunke, Patrick McMath, Bruce Marone, Patrick Fagan and Charles Philip Hamel.

Vandals Blast Autos in Shores

Some autos parked on Colonial road were victimized by vandals Thursday, July 19, and Friday, July 20. The Shores Department of Public Safety received six reports of damage to windshields or mirrors.

Several car owners were attending a party on the 19th and returned to discover the destruction. A Park resident reported two B-B holes which shattered some glass in a 1968 Oldsmobile, while another Park citizen found a B-B hole in the windshield of a 1971 Continental, and a broken radio antenna.

Upon hearing of the vandalism to other guests a Highland Park resident checked his auto Tuesday, July 24, and discovered a B-B hole in the rear-view mirror. Meanwhile, a Farms citizen found a B-B hole in the windshield, and the mirror, of a 1970 Cadillac. Another Farms citizen reported a B-B hole in the windshield of a 1973 Cadillac.

Finally, a Colonial road citizen told police on the 20th someone fired seven holes into the windshield of a 1968 Chrysler and four holes into a 1973 Oldsmobile. At that time, an area check also revealed a B-B hole in the windshield of a 1970 Volkswagon at another Colonial residence.

Cyclist Falls, Injured by Car

A 13-year-old Detroit boy was conveyed to Bon Secours Hospital by Park emergency ambulance Tuesday, July 24, when he lost control of his bicycle and fell against a passing car, causing a severe laceration over his left eye. He was reported to be in temporary serious condition and placed in an intensive care unit after an emergency operation.

According to information released by Park authorities, the boy, Richard Parrott, of 1585 Alter road, lost control of his bike and toppled to the pavement, just as a car, driven east on Kercheval by William T. O'Donnel, of 521 Fisher road, was passing by on the avenue, 32 feet east of Beaconsfield.

Richard was pedaling his two-wheeler on the south side of Kercheval, against traffic, which is improper. The lad fell and struck his head on the right front bumper of the auto, police said. O'Donnel swerved in an attempt to avoid hitting the young man, but in vain.

Lt. Gordon Duncan said the boy, in hitting his head, suffered a gash from the scalp to directly over his eye, and to the left temple. His skull was not fractured.

Fire Chief Phillip Costa said Richard was prevented from losing a great deal of blood by the fast action and the first aid given to him at the scene and en route to the hospital by Firefighters Joseph Clark and Paul Baz.

recreation program." At the same time, Mr. Petersen felt facilities and services for senior citizens in European countries were "way ahead" of ours.

The Woods is currently considering a senior citizen program of its own. Some money has been set aside in the 1973-74 city budget "to explore the possibility of setting up a senior citizens recreation program in cooperation with The Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church. This is where some of the information I gained can be applicable in setting up this type of program," he stated.

For this proposed program, which is geared for sometime in the fall, he suggested a social-mix type of activity as a first step, plus the formation of a senior citizens committee for their thoughts and ideas.

And after returning from his trip, Mr. Petersen discovered a letter from some citizens requesting consideration on the construction of future housing for Woods senior citizens.

"Reach More People"

Under the general heading of "leisure," Mr. Petersen pointed out, "Others have combined educational facilities with recreational facilities. We have done this to a degree. For example, the cooperation with the school system in the maintenance of baseball diamonds. But there is still room for improvement in this area regarding the use of facilities."

From his own perspective, he noted The Woods Presbyterian Church uses the gym facilities of the school system, not only for exercise and recreation programs, but for social and hobby craft activities as well.

As an example for improvement in this area, Mr. Petersen said the facilities at North High School are not being taken advantage of on a community-wide basis. The auditorium and stage could be used as a performing arts center where theatrical productions could be staged for the whole community. While noting The Grosse Pointe War Memorial does a good job of this, he still stressed "expansion" and "reaching more people."

Continuing the discussion on "leisure," he said, "There was an interesting session focusing upon the control of the environment in cities to provide an atmosphere for relaxation and leisure time, e.g., the development of a beautification type of program to provide an opportunity for people to use their free time."

Eye Opener
It wasn't only the Congress, however, which provided a wealth of information but the study missions as well. At each city, the American Embassy would brief the delegates on the highlights of that metropolis. Besides that, receptions with local officials were held at the cities.

The mission to Paris provided a real eye opener for Mr. Petersen. An entire new city, which will accommodate 2,000,000 people upon completion, was undergoing construction five miles outside of Paris. "This new city is a challenging concept," he said. "It was started in 1968 and it's scheduled for completion in 1980."

A unique feature of this city's planning is that most vehicular movement will be underground, while an "expansion of green" will envelope the ground level.

Technology Lag
Mr. Petersen spent four days in Moscow and met with officials who explained the municipal operation of

Set Ice Cream Social Aug. 5

The Mariners of Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church are inviting the community to participate in their annual Ice Cream Social Sunday, August 5, from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

The social will be held on the Church lawn; in case of rain it will be moved to the Church Fellowship Hall.

Tickets will be 30 cents for single-dip sundaes and 60 cents for double-dip sundaes or pie a-la-mode. Free boxcar train rides, through the courtesy of American Legion Post 303, will be provided for the children.

Proceeds from the event will be used to further benevolent causes of the church and community.

the city at several sessions. "My counterpart as a city manager would be the chief of internal administration," he said. "There is no city manager as such in Russia."

After riding subways in many cities including Toronto, New York and Mexico City, Mr. Petersen said, "Moscow has one of the finest subway systems anywhere in the world. They are clean and most economical." In the same vein, he noted the automobile was not "in abundance" there.

Many aspects of the Russian government and way of life are behind the Western World, he felt. In the area of technology, for instance, Mr. Petersen said there is a bad need of computers in Russia. "Having been a former building inspector, Russia's building construction technology is lagging, too." He also noted "the apparent restriction of movement."

Major Problem
While in Moscow, the American delegation held a reception for Russian officials where everyone had an opportunity to exchange ideas and viewpoints.

As a guest of the American Embassy, delegates were told by Embassy officials that drug abuse is not a problem in Russia. But alcoholism is a prominent difficulty, while an increasing crime problem is embezzlement.

And not without a touch of humor, Mr. Petersen shared this sidelight, "In order to qualify for a driver's license in Russia, you also have to pass a mechanical test, and be licensed as a mechanic."

Institute Concern

Besides viewing the Kremlin and Red Square, delegates had an opportunity to visit the Institute of U.S. Studies in Moscow. At the institute, "a group of highly professional people study the U.S. system, its good and bad points," reported Mr. Petersen.

No Russian officials appeared concerned over the Watergate affair, he said. However, they did express some concern if the good relations would continue between both countries under a Democratic administration.

"On behalf of the delegates, Mayor Gribbs said it was the unanimous opinion that relationships would be a non-partisan issue in the future," said Mr. Petersen. "We tried to stress that the American people didn't feel that way," i.e., regarding sharing the same concern as the Russians."

On to Leningrad
From Moscow, the delegation spent three days in Leningrad. "It is a very highly industrial city," he said. "We had the opportunity to visit a large export manufacturer of electric turbines and generators. Practically all the shoes sold in Russia are made in Leningrad."

Mr. Petersen said the population of Moscow is around 7,400,000, while Leningrad's totals some 4,000,000. Leningrad, which sports 365 bridges in the city, "seemed to be more liberal and progressive than Moscow, e.g., in the construction and operation of its hotels which have a Western Hemisphere influence."

While there, the delegates were invited to a reception by the American Consul General, The Honorable Culver Gleysteen, in connection with the official opening of consular offices, and for an Independence Day observance. The highlight to delegates was an old-fashioned American buffet and that American staple—Coca-Cola... all you could drink... with ICE. "This was a welcome sight to everyone," Mr. Petersen confessed.

Many Papers

The Leningrad stop also included a visit to the city hall, (the former palace of a czar), a hydrofoil boat ride to a national park, a trip to the Hermitage, a Russian museum, and a reception for delegates at the "Friendship House," similar to that held in Moscow.

Police Arrest Weaving Driver

A 22-year-old Detroit man was arrested and issued three traffic violations by Woods police after officers spotted his smoking, weaving auto on Vernier road shortly after 5 a.m. Sunday, July 29.

Michael Robert Howard was issued violations for the unlawful display or representation of an operator's license, Michigan operator's license not in his immediate possession and driving under the influence of liquor. He was released after payment of $100 cash bond, pending his court appearance Wednesday, September 12.

While patrolling on Vernier, Corporal Robert Setchell and Officer William Duster saw Howard's vehicle swerving in the inside lane, striking the curb several times.

As the officers approached Lee court, Howard veered sharply across Vernier into Lee court with a great amount of smoke emitting from the auto, police said.

Thinking the auto was on fire, the officers took a carbon dioxide fire extinguisher from their trunk. Corporal Setchell assisted Howard from the car and, at that time, it was determined the engine had been run either without oil or water as the compartment was reported extremely hot.

Howard produced a Florida temporary driver permit and identified himself as Daniel Turner. Police stated a strong odor of alcohol was on his breath, and he was unsteady on his feet.

When asked if he ever had a Michigan operator's license, Howard told the officers that he did not.

At the station, he made a phone call and said someone would come out with his bond. A short time later, his parents arrived and identified themselves accordingly. Police said they were holding no one by that name, but had arrested a Daniel Turner. The situation was soon clarified when "Daniel" turned out to be really "Michael."

Pointer Uses 'Icy' Test To Spot Arteriosclerosis

A Hutzel Hospital doctor, Ignatios J. Voudoukis, M.D., of Lakepointe road, has found that with a pan of ice-cold water and the instrument used to measure blood pressure, hardening of the arteries can be detected before the patient has any symptoms of the disease.

And since hardening of the arteries begins at an early age and is a significant factor in most heart attacks, the doctor suggests that the simple test become a standard procedure in all physical examinations, particularly for men, beginning with teenagers.

Dr. Voudoukis, chief of the section of hypertension in the department of medicine at Hutzel Hospital in the Detroit Medical Center, describes his test in an article scheduled for publication in the September issue of "Angiology," a major medical magazine.

He said the test need not be given by a doctor, but can be administered by a nurse, medical technician or layman who knows how to take a blood pressure reading.

First, the patient's blood pressure is taken in routine fashion every five minutes for a half-hour while the patient lies relaxed in a darkened room. The lowest blood pressure reading, called the base-line, is established for comparative purposes.

Then the patient places his left hand in a basin of ice water for a minute while the blood pressure in his right arm is recorded. If the systolic pressure is sharply higher than the base-line, hardening of the arteries (arteriosclerosis), is indicated.

Systolic blood pressure is the measurement obtained when the heart contracts to force blood into the arteries. Because hardening of the arteries afflicts a large percentage of the population, Dr. Voudoukis recommends that the cold water test become a part of routine physical examinations. In cases where hardening of the arteries is indicated by the response, more definitive types of tests can be administered to pinpoint the area of restricted blood circulation.

Dr. Voudoukis, who is also a clinical assistant professor at the Wayne State University School of Medicine, has used the cold water test on more than 2,000 patients since 1965.

On 641 patients, (303 men and 338 women), he subjected his data to computer analysis and documented his observations.

His data also showed that patients with pure hypertension had little elevation in blood pressure during the test. This finding was of particular interest, Dr. Voudoukis said, because the cold response test was originally developed by two doctors about 40 years ago in the hopes that it would provide a way of diagnosing hypertension. When the test failed to meet its expectations it was shelved until Dr. Voudoukis began his work.

In a few months Dr. Voudoukis expects to receive further computer data to correlate the response to the cold water test with a number of factors including diet, smoking, work habits and other variables.

Midland Hosts Fire Chiefs

Midland, Mich., hosted 406 fire chiefs from throughout the State, including four from The Pointe, at a four-day conference Sunday-Wednesday, July 15-18.

Attending the conference from The Pointe were Park Chief Phillip Costa; City Chief Robert Marshall; Farms Chief Michael Beaupre and Woods Public Safety Director Henry Marchand. Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale was unable to participate.

The conference was sponsored by the Michigan Fire Chiefs Association and was very informative, according to a report received from the chiefs.

Several speakers talked about up-to-date firefighting equipment and their uses, and new techniques in combating various types of fires.

The chiefs were guests of the Dow Chemical Company, at whose building varied demonstrations were shown, including which type of newly developed chemicals are best suited in extinguishing electrical fires, and other types of conflagrations before flames get out of control.

The chiefs were given a tour of the Dow Building, and shown how the different chemicals are made. They also were shown how to douse inflammable and corrosive material with the chemicals.

FIRES HOLE-IN-ONE

Former Pointer Albert Beaupre, of St. Clair Shores, fired a hole-in-one in recent golf play. He made his ace on the 210-yard third hole at Palmer Park. Mr. Beaupre had a 38 for nine holes.

Cadieux Cottage Leaves Pointe Scene

(Continued from Page 1) able to protect themselves or to spread the alarm in case of an Indian attack. Cadillac first granted land to farmers in 1707 on both sides of the Detroit river. The grants are known as private claims in today's land abstracts. Many of the boundaries have been preserved by streets named after the original grantees such as Beaubien, Riopelle, Chene and Campau in Detroit and Rivard, Cadieux, and Moross in Grosse Pointe.

When the United States took over the area in 1796, there was some confusion as to who truly owned the lands. As it turned out, only eight of the titles had been confirmed by the King of France. However, the U.S. Congress confirmed all those claims by the inhabitants who had occupied, improved and settled the area prior to 1796.

One of the first grants went to Cadillac's interpreter, Francois Fafrad de Lorme. In the grants, it was specified that the land had to have fences to form the boundaries. In many cases, they were just boulders and bushes. Cadillac was relatively generous in establishing rent rates. Usually it consisted of a yearly allotment of fur or coins. However, when the English took over the area, the French farmers had to pay taxes.

When the French began to worry about their western possessions, the government held out inducements to the colonists to settle in the area. They received such gratuities as a gun, hoe, ax, saw, six hens, a cock, six pounds of gun powder and 12 pounds of lead.

The area in and surrounding Detroit was abundant with animals, providing fur and food. It has been said, with tongue in cheek, the reason for the early French settlement of Detroit was so that the King of France, Louis 14th, could wear a beaver hat. Although that may have been the hidden reason, the obvious one was that the French wanted to partake in the lucrative fur trade.

During the first 100 years of the settlement of Detroit, there was little development of the Grosse Pointe area. Most of the farmers lived off the land and did almost no trading in Detroit.

The supposed father of Grosse Pointe was Alexander Grant who died in 1813 and turned over his property to George Moran. Grant, who built a large log cabin known as Grant's Castle near the area of St. Paul's church and the Sacred Heart Convent, was instrumental in developing the interior of the area.

The township of Grosse Pointe, which was formerly a part of Hamtramck Township, came into being in 1846. The first real road into the interior was built in 1851. Grosse Pointe boulevard was opened from Fisher road to Weir lane about 1895.

It was with the opening up of the area that the real development came. Detroit residents looked to Grosse Pointe as an ideal location for their summer homes. It was then that the small farm houses made way for the larger mansions. And when the summer homes became permanent residences, Grosse Pointe the suburb was born.

Along with the increased development of Grosse Pointe came more detailed and complete records of the area. Facts of the earlier times are sketchy and often indefinite.

The recorded history of the Cadieux Cottage begins in 1836 when Nickolas Gouin turned over 118 acres of land with the cottage to Michael Cadieux. This was the area approximately between Cadieux road and St. Clair avenue bordering on the lake. Michael Cadieux died in 1865 leaving his widow, Archange Cadieux and 16 children, seven which were adopted. The cottage was then located on what is now Jefferson avenue and later moved to Dr. Whittaker's property.

After the Cadieux residence, and a vacancy period, the cottage was used in the 1920's as the headquarters for a lawn bowling group. Dr. Whittaker still has some of the old bowling balls. The Whittaker children later used the cottage as a bath house to change bathing suits in the summer and ice skates in the winter.

The cottage consisted of a large downstairs room with a huge stone fireplace. When the cottage was torn down, the fireplace was used for a time for barbecues until it too was dismantled. There also was a small kitchen and side wash room. The second story was a huge dormitory for sleeping.

The cottage, typical of the French farm houses, was constructed of boards, made from the trees in the area. These were held together by pegs and square nails, made by hand. Nail making was a very important industry at the time of the building and workers were in great demand. It is possible to determine the approximate age of a building by the nails. Although the cottage is generally dated at about 1830, the nails found in the cottage date it prior to that time, as far back as 1808.

The Cottage, which is a symbol of Grosse Pointe's past, fortunately, may have a future. Dr. Whittaker, a knowledgeable historian, numbered each stone and board when the cottage was dismantled. It now belongs to the City of Detroit and has been moved downriver to Fort Wayne. It will hopefully then be rebuilt in time for the United States' 200th birthday party in 1976.

Charge 'Scare Run' Boater

(Continued from Page 1) an extremely high rate of speed in the cove between The Farms Pier-Park and The Crescent Sail Yacht Club, which is a low speed area.

Kelly and Miglio said they saw Miss LaRose jump out of the boat into the water and swim towards shore. Deburghaave, who then arrived at the scene, said the girl was several feet away when she suddenly yelled for help. The boat was approximately 150 feet away from the breakwall when the girl dove into the water, he said.

The girl screamed she was too tired to make it the rest of the way, and was unable to swim anymore. At this point the officer ran to his scout car, got the life preserver, tossed it to Miss LaRose and pulled her to safety. She was released to Kelly and Miglio, who were watching the proceedings from the Pier-Park, after the Coast Guard was notified.

Personnel from the St. Clair Shores Coast Guard Station arrived and towed Allor's boat to the park marina. They issued Allor three watercraft violation tickets: one for having no number on the craft; another for having no boat registration on his person, and a third for operating a boat without lights.

Following this, Allor and Miss LaRose were taken to The Farms station. En route, Miss LaRose opened the scout car door three times in an effort to allow Allor to get out. On the third try, the young man exited the vehicle, but was quickly put back in.

At the station, Miss LaRose was issued a violation ticket for interfering with the duties of a police officer. Allor was given a ticket for the reckless operation of a watercraft, in that he was intoxicated and made several high speed runs in an attempt to scare, and a second ticket, for being drunk in a public place. The arresting officers said they were of the opinion that Miss LaRose, too, had been drinking.

About 12 complaints were received from persons fishing off the Pier-Park and the seawall on the speeding and the noise of the motor. Several fishermen also complained Allor came so close that the boat severed their fishing lines.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you by TED EWALD

Here's a tough baseball question - Who holds the all-time big league record for batting in the most runs in one season? ... Answer is NOT Babe Ruth or Lou Gehrig or Jimmy Foxx or Ted Williams or any of the sluggers you usually think of first ... Record is held by Mack Wilson who drove in 190 runs for the Cubs in 1930 ... Nobody has ever topped that - although, Lou Gehrig and Hank Greenberg have driven in over 180 runs in a season.

Some baseball fans go a whole lifetime without ever seeing a triple play - but fans who attended a minor league game in Panca City, Okla., June 28, 1957 had the unusual experience of seeing not only one triple play, but two of them - IN SUCCESSIVE INNINGS!

The first triple play came in the last half of the first inning, and then there was another one in the top half of the second!

Now that everybody's talking about homerun records as Aaron approaches Ruth's mark - here are the all time leaders as of July 23, 1973.

1. Ruth (714), 2. Aaron (700), 3. Mays (658), 4. Killebrew (544), 5. Frank Robinson (538), 6. Mantle (526), 7. Foxe (524), 8. Williams (521), 9. Matthews (512), 10. Banks (512).

Let me tell you that Ted Ewald Chevrolet according to Chevrolet Motor Division rankings, earned the number 1 position in customer sales satisfaction in the metropolitan area.

Farms Begins Kerby Repairs

Curbing on both sides of Kerby road currently is being repaired and when this is completed, the resurfacing of the road will begin, said John DeFoe, Farms director of Public Service, Friday, July 27. Two companies were given contracts for the separate projects, which will cost the city approximately $50,000.

Mr. DeFoe did not give a breakdown on what it would cost for the curbing or the resurfacing, only the total figure.

He said the contract for the repair of about 3,000 lineal feet of curbs on Kerby was given to the Vanopdenbosch Construction Company, who also will raise the catch basins in preparation for the paving. Doing the resurfacing job, with one and one-half inch of asphalt, will be the Cook Construction and Paving Company.

Mr. DeFoe said the curb repairs and resurfacing will be from Chalfonte to Lake Shore roads, and if all goes according to schedule, the entire project should be completed by Saturday, September 1.

He said the work on Kerby is the only major road program that the city will do this year.

Pointer Meets, Hosts Her Pen Pal after 23 Years

By Roger A. Waha
Twenty-three years is a long time for two pen pals to loyally correspond. During that period, countless letters have been written, pictures of each "pal" and their families, plus voice recordings, have been exchanged.

But the ladies had never met, not until now.

For six weeks, Mrs. Thomas J. Moehring, of Moran road, will host her honored guest, Michiko Yamazaki, of Morioka, Japan, and her two sons, 10 and 12.

Michiko arrived on Wednesday, July 25, and already their meeting has been "fun," said Mrs. Moehring, (who was known to her Maire School students as "Miss Seltzer" from 1958-1965). "It's almost as if I already knew her. We recognized each other right away at the airport."

"Now, we'll get to know each other on a personal basis," she continued. With her husband and sons, Scott, 7, and Dandy, 5, Mrs. Moehring exclaimed, "All seven of us in a two bedroom house!"

At this point, the pen pals are "swapping languages." Unlike her sons, Michiko, speaks some English. But after six weeks you can bet most communication problems in the household will be solved.

Mrs. Moehring said Michiko will see various locales during her stay, including a tour of Michigan and Ohio and a visit to Niagra Falls. When she and her sons leave for home, Mrs. Moehring will accompany them to Los Angeles and on a tour of Disneyland.

Their friendship began when Michiko, via a missionary, originally wrote to Mrs. Moehring. It was then cultivated through the ensuing years. Now, with Michiko's visit, their relationship will bloom even further into something each will pricelessly treasure more than before.

At 4:55 a.m. on the 26th, the tree started burning again and the fire had to be extinguished by Public Safety Officer Gary Mitchell, assisted by Officers Robert Bensinger and Archie Grieve. Later that morning, police reported that county workers were cutting the pugnacious tree down.

That should make every one happy, except, perhaps, for the local "four-footed" contingent.

The eighth annual Roland Gray Tennis Memorial Tournament for local youngsters was completed last week. The age group winners included Lisa Peck who defeated Rachel Krickstein for the girls 10 and under title. In the boys' division, Jeff Smith defeated Billy Cunningham.

In the 12 and under group, Elizabeth Ford defeated Jennifer Tewes and Tom Thurber downed Keith Horne. The 14 and under bracket was taken by Judy Hodges as she beat Lisa Wood. The boys' winner was Frank Willard over Harry Jewett III.

The 16 and under singles was won by Sheila Peck when she defeated Sheelah Donahue. Frank Willard beat Richard Brown to gain a second age group championship. The 18 and under phase was taken by Kathy Krickstein over Sheila Peck. The boys' champion was Sandy Smith who defeated Leo Hurley.

Center Plans Tom Jones Nite

Those who act promptly can still get aboard the War Memorial's chartered, air conditioned bus to Pine Knob to hear Tom Jones Thursday, August 16. This is the final Pine Knob trip of the season and promises to be a sell-out performance.

The bus, with set-ups and coffee aboard, leaves the War Memorial at 6 p.m. A box supper is available at $2.25. Patrons also may bring their own picnic basket as well as lawn chairs which will be stowed in the luggage compartment.

Lee Tout Sails To Second Spot

Pointer Lee Tout took second place in the U.S. National Wayfarer Championships at Annapolis, Md., in recent competition. Tout was last year's co-skipper of the Canada's Cup contender, Aggressive.

Jeff Jones of Dearborn, who was defending his title won on Lake St. Clair last year, was "number one."

The third place trophy went to Dick Rothery of Rochester, Mich., to complete the sweep by Detroit area Wayfarer sailors. Thirty sailors represented the five fleets in the Eastern United States.

Burning Tree Causes Trouble

A stubborn, "burned-up" tree, which wouldn't say "die" (until it was cut down, of course), gave Shores firefighters a busy time Wednesday, July 25, and Thursday, July 26, before it met its demise.

The willow tree, located on county property across from 515 Lake Shore road, must have been out of "tears" for it tried a fiery attention-getting technique via spontaneous combustion. The fire began in the tree's hollow core and then extended to its interior.

Firefighters responded to a call at 1:02 p.m. on the 25th and attempted to extinguish the blaze via the booster line. The flames were curtailed but not completely eliminated as the tree remained smoldering. When the booster tank was almost drained, personnel had to refill it.

The forestry division of the Wayne County Road Commission was contacted about the situation. The division was told of the peril the tree presented to vehicular and marine traffic, and it reported a crew would be sent to the scene.

At 4:55 a.m. on the 26th, the tree started burning again and the fire had to be extinguished by Public Safety Officer Gary Mitchell, assisted by Officers Robert Bensinger and Archie Grieve. Later that morning, police reported that county workers were cutting the pugnacious tree down.

That should make every one happy, except, perhaps, for the local "four-footed" contingent.

Higher Tennis Court Cost

(Continued from Page 1) Slone said, was the inclement weather that has plagued the area. If all goes according to schedule, the new courts should be ready by late August or early September if at all.

"I know this will be a disappointment to enthusiasts of the sport," the city manager said, "but what has happened was beyond our control."

There will be no lighting around the courts at Three Mile Drive Park, he pointed out, because it is felt that tennis buffs will have plenty of time under Daylight Savings Time, from April to October, to make use of these facilities.

However, the situation at Windmill Pointe Park is different, he pointed out further.

It is necessary to replace the lighting there because the lighting is obsolete and the bases of the lamps are dangerously rusted.

The courts at this park will also be resurfaced along with the installation of the lighting system, he said.

Slone stated tennis buffs wishing to use the present tennis courts must apply in advance, and when their applications are approved, they will be permitted to use the facilities for only one hour. This is in order to give others an equal opportunity to use the courts. This method has proved very successful, he said.

The one-hour use schedule also will apply to the new courts when they are completed, Slone added.

Youth Damages 14 Cars at North High

(Continued from Page 1) the address he had given them. The youth was nabbed as he rode into the driveway of his home.

Vehicles receiving extensive damage, according to police, include a 1973 Plymouth, which had heavy destruction to the engine compartment, plus damage to the driver control panel and interior, (estimated loss $250); a 1973 Volkswagen with extensive damage to its engine compartment, (hoses and wires ripped out), and a broken distributor cap, (estimated loss, $150), and a 1973 Dodge, which was set afire, (estimated damage, $175).

In a supplementary report, Officer Russell Allard said he picked up a pile of burnt matches from a destroyed spot on the front seat. Six unlit matches also were discovered on the floor. This auto also had its inside rear-view mirror and sun visor broken, police added.

Other Destruction
 The other 11 vehicles and damages sustained include four 1973 Plymouths, three with radio antennas broken off and one with a bent antenna, (estimated damage in each case, $20); 1973 Plymouth, left outside remote control rear-view mirror destroyed, ($50); Chevrolet Vega, bent windshield wiper control arm, ($15).

More damaged vehicles include a 1973 Dodge, bent radio antenna, ($20); two 1973 Plymouths with their radio antennas and outside rear-view mirrors broken off, ($45 in each case); 1973 Plymouth, radio antenna pulled off, plus several scratches to a door, ($75).

They also will change over to Blue Cross, Blue Shield Master Medical. In addition, they will receive partial overtime pay, up to $1,000. Beyond the $1,000 limit, they will receive an extra day off.

In the salary aspect of the contract, as of July 1, 1973, the salary will increase from $12,300 to $13,300 and as of July 1, 1974, it will increase to $14,000.

Mr. Mazer said after the contract is formally signed.

The City has agreed to set up a conference to evaluate and analyze the pilot program. As it stands now, City firefighters answer calls in both The Farms and The Park five times, compared to every one they respond to in The City.

President of The City firefighters is Steve Madar with Tim Champagne serving as vice-president and Richard Tucher as secretary-treasurer.

Both the police and fire departments had filed for arbitration, yet an agreement was reached before it was necessary. City Finance Director Dennis Foran and City Attorney for Labor Relations Gil Cox represented The City during the negotiations. City Police Chief Andrew Teetaert and Fire Chief Robert Marshall also attended the sessions.

Pointers Win Tennis Title

Two Pointers teamed to win the men's doubles title in the East Detroit Adult Open tennis tournament Monday, July 23.

Bob Wood and George Haggarty combined to beat Rick Zabor, of Fraser, and Marty Jacobs, of East Detroit, 6-2, 6-4, in the finals.

Wood is the athletic director at University-Liggett school, as well as tennis and basketball coach.

In other results, Jeff Schatzberg and Cathy Mascarin, also of The Pointe, reached the finals in the mixed doubles, but were defeated.

TM Talk Set For August 2

What's a simple natural mental technique producing deep rest and increased clarity of mind? It's Transcendental Meditation (TM). Already enjoying the practice and its benefits are hundreds of Pointers, and their number reportedly continues to grow each month.

An introductory lecture welcoming all Pointers will be given at the War Memorial at 8 p.m. Thursday, August 2.

For what reason do so many citizens in our community and across the country begin Transcendental Meditation?

Simply because they realize that in our fast paced society an individual must continually be more creative and progressive, says TM instructors. This is not only to maintain their present successful level but to enrich and expand that happiness by utilizing more of their own mental potential.

TM is a spontaneous natural process that allows greater use of the individual's creative capacity in an integrated manner.

Basically the foremost benefits are deep rest and increasing alertness. Deep physiological rest allows the body to rebuild necessary tissues leaving the resistance to disease higher and developing the ability to sustain more fulfilling activity. And enjoying inner calm allows the mind to realize more of its full creative value, instructors note.

Studies in major universities, (e.g., University of Michigan, Stanford, Harvard), have shown the physiological results of TM to be always natural and beneficial.

Subjectively speaking, the improved psychology of a person systematically experiencing deep rest and a greater degree of mental clarity verifies the benefits.

"We only need to look a step further to see that allowing individuals to improve on their own basis can only result in a happier, more productive and fulfilling community," the instructors feel.

DBC Does Well In Huge Regatta

Several Pointers aided The Detroit Boat Club crew in a strong showing at the 91st Royal Canadian Henley at St. Catharines, Ont., Thursday-Sunday, July 26-29.

The DBC was successful in every qualifying heat it entered, which allowed the crew to compete in nine final events.

Chris Richard, of Barrington road, and stroke Brian Brennan took an easy victory in the junior heavyweight pair with coxswain Mark Miller. They advanced to the senior event but were defeated by the Long Beach, Calif., entry.

John Carababas, of Maryland road, and Richard were in the heavyweight eight which took a second in its heat, and finished fourth in the six boat final.

A lightweight DBC craft capped a successful season with a runaway in the junior 145-pound four with coxswain.

The crew comprised of Paul Ruble, III, of East Jefferson avenue, Charles Rossiter, Jr., Franklin Miller, V, of Barrington road, and stroke Risdon Schwartz, of Trombley road, with coxswain Miller, held a commanding lead at the 1,000 meter mark and watched the Belmont Hills entry from Boston and the St. Catharines crew fight for second place.

The four then advanced to the senior event and finished third, two-feet behind the Leander entry from Hamilton, Ont.

Roslyn road resident Paul Fuchs, a senior at The University of Michigan, led international champion Larry Klecatski of New York until the 1,000 meter mark but finished second. Dr. Klecatski also won the 145-pound, 500-meter "dash" in which Fuchs came in fourth. Only 10 feet separated the first four boats in this event.

Going into the final day of competition, the DBC, coached by Dr. Richard Bell, was in second place in total regatta points to St. Catharines.

This year's event was the largest ever held and involved some 1,100 oarsmen from 49 crews of three North American nations. Crowds estimated between 3-5,000 lined the course and grandstands to watch the final events Saturday and Sunday.

Woods Americans Win District Six Tournament

By Roger A. Waha

The Grosse Pointe Woods Americans routed the Shelby-Utica Nationals, 14-3, to win the District Six Little League tournament Saturday, July 28, and then went on to face the District Five champion, Taylor North Central, Monday, July 30.

In a close game, Taylor defeated The Woods Americans, 3-1, to advance to the State finals Friday, August 3, in Grand Rapids.

Pointer Arthur H. Getz, district six administrator, had sound words of praise for coach Bob Arthur and his team.

"This team, in all my years of experience, (20 years affiliation with the Little League program), would be considered one of the best. Bob Arthur's influence filtered down to the kids, who conducted themselves in a perfect fashion.

"The community and our district can really be proud of these kids," he said.

In the championship game against Shelby-Utica, winning pitcher Bruce Stafford gave up three hits and was backed by the power hitting of Karl Tech and Bob Brown. Tech smacked out three hits, including two homers, and had six RBI's, while Brown blasted a homer.

In other District Six action, the Mount Clemens Internationals routed G.P. City, 18-9, on Monday, July 23.

The Woods Americans eliminated The Park Nationals, 10-0, behind Stafford's no-hitter Tuesday, July 24. Stafford walked only one batter. Tech, with a three-run homer, and Brown with three hits, led the offensive attack.

Woods Nationals' pitcher Scott Engel lost a tough one to the Shelby-Utica Americans, 1-0. Engel, who fired a no-hitter earlier against the L'Anse Creuse Internationals, gave up two hits in the loss, while the Shelby pitcher gave up only one.

Then, on Thursday, July 26, The Woods Americans

Babe Ruth Results

PARK CITY, FARMS

The Metropolitan Club Indians, behind the one-hit pitching of Dick Borland, defeated the Burger Chef White Sox, 7-1, in a playoff game to determine the American League championship. While Borland was fanning six, the Indian offense was collecting eight hits including two singles and a double by Tom Lott, and two singles each by Win Fisher and Chad Morris.

The World Series was a different story, however, when the Astro Uniform Phillies, who were the National League champions by virtue of a playoff win over the East Side Key and Bike Cardinals, defeated the Indians in two straight to take the 1973 Babe Ruth League honors.

In tournament play, the American League 14-15-year-old All Stars won two straight only to be defeated in the District Championship game by Harper Woods. Both victories were of the "cliff hanger" variety with Grosse Pointe edging Clintondale National, 7-6, and then getting by L'Anse Creuse, 5-5.

Borland pitched the first win allowing six hits while striking out seven. Chad Morris, with two doubles, and Bob Boydell's two singles led the Grosse Pointe offense.

Rick Pfeiffer, in relief of Win Fisher, was the winning pitcher in the L'Anse Creuse game. Brian Cammett, with three hits, sparked Grosse Pointe's hitting attack.

Five errors in the first inning of the final game put Grosse Pointe in the hole before they ever got to bat. Harper Woods never let up and the final score was 15-1.

The 13-year-old American League All-Star team behind the pitching of Dunc MacEachern won their opening tournament game beating Clintondale, 9-1, but were defeated in second round play.

The National League 13-year-old All-Stars also played very well in winning three straight to gain the championship round of the tournament. In succession they beat Clintondale, 15-0, L'Anse Creuse South, 9-7, and Grosse Pointe Woods West, 24-4. The title game was a close, well-played affair with the Grosse Pointe Woods Automotive League squad emerging victorious in extra innings by a 3-2 score.

BYC Swimmers Dump Lochmoor in Dual Meet

By Mrs. Patricia Lindheim History was made Thursday evening, July 26, in the Lochmoor Club Pool.

After a record string of 53 consecutive dual meet wins Lochmoor was defeated by the Detroit Yacht Club in its final dual meet of the season.

In their first loss in nine InterClub summer seasons Lochmoor scored 214 to BYC's 231. Forly members of the BYC team live in The Pointe and have been working hard for this long awaited victory.

Coach Jeff Longstreth has, in two years, brought BYC's team to full strength with 80 natators, most of whom swim all year around in the BYC summer season and A.A.U. winter season.

DYC 13- and 14-year-old boys made a clean sweep of their events with outstanding performances by Eric Rodin in the 50M. breast, (34.7), 50M. back, (35.0), and 50M fly, (32.8), and by Matt Sobieski in the 50M. free, (27.6).

Another Pointer, Nick Trost, took three individual events in the 11- and 12-year boy's 50M. back, (37.5), 50M. fly, (34.2), and 50M. free. Other reportedly excellent performances were made by double individual event winners Sara Brieden and Laurie DeSantis.

DYC Pointers bringing home at least one blue ribbon for individual events or relays were: Gerri Nichols, Bill Brownell, Nancy Wittwer, Barrie Fires, David Wittwer, Jack Nelson and Todd Lindheim.

Swimmers bringing home red, white, yellow and green ribbons who live in The Pointe include Sue Trost, Carol Sobieski, Marbarett Sobieski, Sandy Fires, Bob

Schavi's Has Big Weekend

Schavi's had a fine weekend in Grosse Pointe Softball Association, (GPSA), play as the club swept two games. They routed the East Warren Binjers, 13-3, on Saturday, July 28, and came back the following day to nip the Marauders, 10-9.

In other Saturday action, the Challengers took care of Kassler Electric, 7-0, while Art Van bounced Keg-A-Brew, 12-5.

Then on Sunday, July 29, Keg-A-Brew smashed the Challengers, 10-3, as Jay Kisskalt blasted a three-run homer for the winners. Art Reny homered in the Binjers' 17-2 rout of the Challengers, while Carissimi dumped Art Van, 13-9.

BUYING A SECURITY SYSTEM?

When you buy an apartment at

The Jefferson Apartments Grosse Pointe's newest condominium

... you get not one, but a network of the most modern security systems to guard you, your home and your possessions.

A CLOSED TV MONITORING SYSTEM covers the entrance, outside parking areas and inside garage. The caller can be viewed from a selected channel on the owner's TV set in each apartment. The doorman and manager's office views the same areas.

THE ENTRY COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM is a new system conceived and engineered by Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Using a touchtone panel telephone in the lobby, the caller dials the owner's apartment. This enables each party to have a private conversation. During the time the caller is in the entrance vestibule, he is under surveillance by the concealed TV camera.

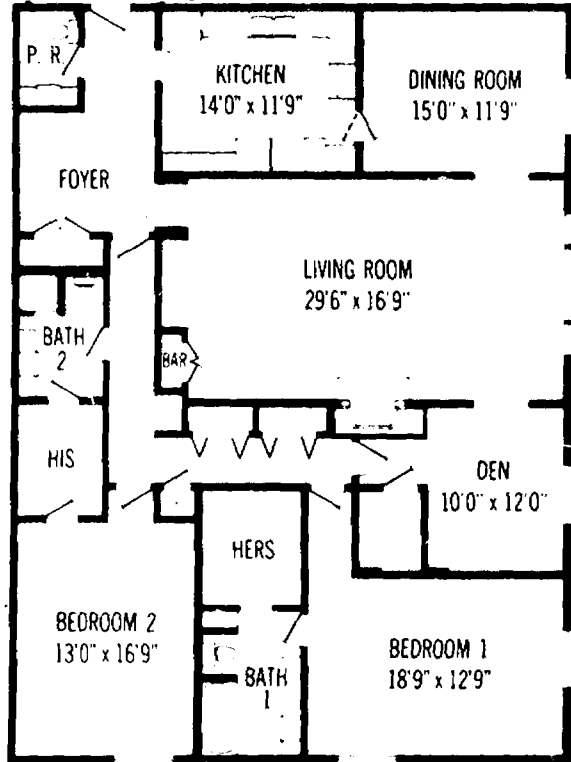

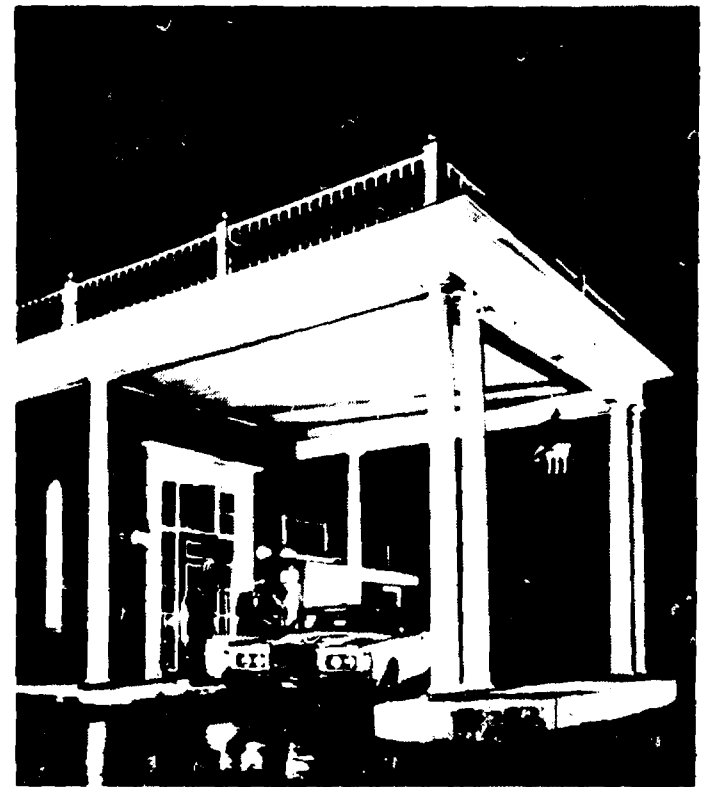

AN ON-GUARD ALERT SYSTEM features a control panel in the manager's apartment and the attendant's office. This notifies of any intrusion into any apartment when the occupants are away. The doorman or manager controls the system by activating the apartment's security supervision at the request of the owner.

THE FIRE PROTECTION ALERT SYSTEM gives added protection to all occupants of the building and will insure notification of each individual occupant of a fire in an unoccupied apartment.

Further elements of security are the uniformed doorman-attendant and resident caretakers.

Besides security, you also get really gracious living. Here is a typical spacious floor plan of an apartment home which features 9 foot ceilings, individual heating and cooling, top of the line G. E. kitchen with an icemaker and a washer-dryer. A wet bar is conveniently located for entertaining. Insulated walls, floors, plumbing and windows insure maximum quiet. Natural fireplaces, naturally.

There are three separate elevators and approximately a thousand square feet of private storage. Exterior maintenance, gardening and snow removal are arranged. The Jefferson Apartments is an adult community. Residents are home owners and enjoy tax deductions and the investment security of being a property owner and equity advantages.

The Jefferson Apartments is located 2 blocks from a beautiful park with boat slips, 3 blocks from Grosse Pointe Village shopping, 20 minutes from downtown Detroit by bus.

Don't worry about selling your home. Visit us and learn of our new trade-in program for your home, and our new pricing policy.

The model apartment is open 12 to 5 daily except Wednesday. Enter on Neff or St. Clair Roads.

End Monteith Summer School

Summer School does not have to be a torturous experience. Although some may think that classroom learning during the vacation months of June and July is a next to impossible task, the small class size, the individual attention and the variety of courses and projects, outweigh the in-door detriments.

Monteith Elementary's end of summer school program on Thursday, July 26, proved to observers and participants alike that the six-week session was a worthy and worthwhile experience.

The program consisted of an hour long musical extravaganza entitled "Let There Be Music." With teacher Mrs. May Krager on piano, the students played a variety of songs ranging from old, old favorites as "Mary's Little Lamb," to the hand clapper Michigan Victors song, to a recent old favorite, "Give My Regards to Broadway."

Mrs. Krager praised her 40 students citing them as "the greatest group of kids I've taught." Some of them had started out as beginners and ended the session in the advanced group. And those in the beginning group, who had just picked up instruments for the first time in June, also were able to make music.

The young musicians, fifth and sixth graders, included serious and studious violinists, feel tapping trumpet players, soloists and even a girl drummer. And the non-music students concluded each number with whistles and cheers.

After the concert, guests were treated to punch and cookies while they viewed the art work created by the students and the teaching aides used during the course of the summer.

Art teacher Mrs. Paula Miriani took her eight students through the gamut of art forms. On display were hand puppets, macrame hanging containers for vases, ceramic tile wind chimes, air sculptures made from paper and bamboo, multi-colored collages and painted boat scenes.

The Monteith Summer School, under the director of Rita Flaherty, had 123 second through sixth graders this year. Courses offered were math, reading and languages as well as the art and music enrichment program.

And now, it's on to vacation.

One View From The Capitol
 By William R. Bryant, Jr.

The State budget is finally settled, except the Governor will chip away here and there with some minor line item vetoes.

The State budget process is not as bad as the federal in which new budgets sometimes appear up to six or eight months into that fiscal year, making planning almost impossible.

But, our State process is bad. It is too time consuming for all concerned. Therefore, I propose a two-year "biennial" budget process by which the first year we would adopt a two-year budget.

The second year budget changes would be submitted and gone over in detail along with evaluation reports on various programs and projects.

Whereas now, we adopt a whole new budget from scratch each year and the only committees which review it are the Appropriations Committees. Under the biennial proposal, the second year changes would be reviewed first by the substantive committee responsible for that area of State operation.

This proposal has the advantages of an annual review but a biennial budget frees institutions, departments and the Governor from the idiosyncrasy of an annual total budget review and provides much needed time for more careful, detailed evaluation of specific, limited areas, with the important additional benefit of review by committees other than just the Appropriations Committees.

Senator Robert VanDerlaan, Senate Republican leader, and Dr. Jack Dempsey, budget director, are ready to talk seriously about this proposal.

Who knows, we might even see state budgets adopted before the new fiscal year starts.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

In the last issue of the Grosse Pointe News (July 26 issue), you published a letter from an untamed Rivard resident beraating the City of Grosse Pointe Council for its sidewalk work. We are always concerned when citizens refuse to divulge their names.

The contract to Doro Construction Company was awarded on a bid basis. All bidders are checked out as to their financial capabilities, ability to perform the services required and good character. From our examination we found that Doro had performed satisfactorily for the City of Fraser and City of Utica. It is about to begin a contract for the City of Birmingham.

A performance bond was required of the contractor. The telephone number and address of Doro was given to every home owner in a letter submitted by the City's Building Inspector. To date we have found the cement work to be satisfactory, however the clean up and certain construction methods have not met our standards and for these reasons The City has terminated its contract with Doro Construction Company.

We can only say that a citizen who refuses to give his or her name when making a complaint cannot be taken too seriously.

Very truly yours,
 John L. King
 Mayor

Dear Sir:

In answer to the NEWS picture, "Can Anyone Pinpoint This Location?" (July 26 edition):

The house shown in the picture was located on what is now Henry Ford's property at Lakeshore and Provenal road.

This house now stands at the southeast corner of Grosse Pointe boulevard and Lakeview avenue.

The original owner of the Lakeshore property was Mrs. Weir. Provenal road was Weir lane years back.

What Goes On at Your Library
 By Virginia Leonard

A library is largely composed of books; and books are almost entirely composed of words. The words, taken as a whole, comprise a language—whether English, French, Swahili or whatever. You speak the language of your household, your family, whether you are of that nationality or not; and when you read, you read books written in that language.

So, we are back in the library and its vast holdings. Communication is a vital part of your life. In order to communicate, (except orally), you must do it either by reading or writing. What you write may well turn out to be a book, pamphlet or article that will give information and establish rapport with others. The whole idea becomes a bit heady.

To me, semantics is a fascinating subject. In addition to the complexity and interest in words, you have the many languages to play around with. If your interest lies in words, meanings, derivations, etc., then the more languages you know, the more fun you can have matching up all of these meanings, derivations—it becomes a puzzle, a maze, and, seriously, a science.

In quoting from THE LOOM OF LANGUAGE by Frederick Bodmer: "In spite of all obstacles, anyone who has been brought up to speak the Anglo-American language enjoys a peculiarly favored position. It is a hybrid. It has a basic stratum of words derived from the same stock as German, Dutch, and the Scandinavian languages. It has assimilated thousands of Latin origin. It has also incorporated an impressive battery of Greek roots. A random sample of one word from each of the first thousand pages of the CONCISE OXFORD DICTIONARY gives the following figures: "words of Romance . . . origin 53.6 per cent; . . . Teutonic . . . 31.1 per cent, Greek, 10.8 per cent."

Geoffrey Wagner has written a fascinating book ON THE WISDOM OF WORDS. He also emphasizes the importance of communication. In this age of technical communication, mass media and visual aids, he brings us around again to the importance of words—of verbal wisdom. The range through-

For one festive evening in August, the Polish eagle will reign and the red-and-white colors of the Polish flag will predominate at stately Meadow Brook Hall, the 100-room Tudor mansion and estate of the late Matilda Dodge Wilson on the campus of Oakland University in Rochester.

The event will herald the Friends of Polish Art of Detroit's royal welcome to Poland's brilliant young conductor, Kazimierz Kord, who will be making his American orchestral debut, conducting the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at the Meadow Brook Music Festival's Howard C. Baldwin Pavilion.

The concert will take place on Saturday evening, August 11, at 8:30 o'clock, and will feature as guest soloist the young pianist, Misha Dichter, born in Shanghai of Polish parentage. Following the concert, Friends of Polish Art members and their guests will convene at Meadow Brook Hall for a festive Polish Afterglow, "przyjecie," and tour of the $20,000,000 baronial estate, with its superb art collection.

Grosse Pointers will play an active role in the gala evening as Mrs. Vincent C. Chrypinski, of Trom-

In the excitement of wedding planning, one name was not present in the wedding list although the person was most definitely present. HAROLD PARKER of Moorland drive, who was a close friend of the late DR. SEIFERLEIN, gave the bride, SHEILA SEIFERLEIN, to BRUCE GUDAT in the Friday, July 13, ceremony at Peace Lutheran Church.

A very surprised couple Monday night, July 30, were MR. and MRS. GREGORY KASSAB when their parents, MR. and MRS. EDWARD J. KASSAB, of Renaud road, threw a surprise anniversary party for them. The 20 friends of the young couple waited somewhat breathlessly in the Kassab's back family room for 40 minutes and three false alarms. The reason for the delay was that the younger Mrs. Kassab had to ride her new bicycle, an anniversary gift from her husband, Greg, around their Shore Club residence. Besides the guests, who came from as far as Ann Arbor and Lansing for the party, Greg's sister, CAROL and younger brother, TOM, were at the party. A third brother, ROBBIE, is spending the summer in Europe.

The Summer Youth Music Festival, held at Michigan State University, recently came to its conclusion on Saturday, July 21. With stress on individual help during the two-week session, each student had the opportunity to do work in vocal music, instrumental music, piano, organ and music theory with members of the MSU music faculty. One highlight was the presentation of two jazz concerts, one given by students interested in jazz and another given by well-known visiting jazz artists. The music festival ended with an evening demonstrating the skills learned in various classes. KATHY KIMEL, daughter of the HARRY KIMELS, of Middlesex road, played in the regular band and in the jazz concert. DIANE SHEPHERD, daughter of the RICHARD SHEPHERDS, of Beaconsfield road, played in the regular band and the flute ensemble. Playing in the band, the orchestra and the woodwind ensemble was MELISSA COX, daughter of MR. and MRS. JAMES COX, of Nottingham road. Included in the band, orchestra and flute ensemble was JEANETTE RICE, daughter of MR. and MRS. NEIL RICE, formerly of The Pointe, now of Fairfax, Va.

Visiting for ten days in Grosse Pointe from Nantes, France, are M. and Mme. YVES GRAFF. They are staying at the home of Mme. Graff's sister-in-law, MRS. ALEXANDRE ARENE, of McMillan road. The Graffs depart the Pointe on Friday, July 27 for Chicago, San Francisco, Las Vegas and New York, before returning to Nantes.

Mrs. Robert C. Voisine, of Roseville, announces the engagement of her daughter, Pamela Jane Voisine, to Thomas Anthony Boos, son of Mrs. John R. Boos, of Littlestone road, and the late Mr. Boos.

Her fiancé was graduated from De La Salle Collegiate High School in 1969 and from Delta College in Bay City, Mich., with an A.B.S. degree in Marketing. He is presently at Western Michigan University working on a B.S. degree in Distributive Teacher Education.

The couple plan a late April wedding.

Winners of Men's Doubles Invitational Will Be Announced at the Old-Fashioned Steak Roast

There will be a steak roast at the Lochmoor Club on Saturday night, August 18. That night, trophies for the Men's Doubles Invitational Tournament will be awarded to the winners of the competition scheduled to end that day.

Serving as general chairmen are Dr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Mikula, of Hampton road.

Decorations for the party will have a definitely old-fashioned appeal as a barber-shop quartet will entertain the Lochmoor guests as they join for cocktails at 7 o'clock.

Large kites in bright colors will be flying in both the lobby of the club and outside. Adding another nostalgic touch will be flower-roped gingham swings arcing from the ceiling and outside trees.

An orange crate lemonade stand, recalling the ones set up on street corners by young entrepreneurs, will serve stiff-fer beverages the night of the party. The steaks will be charcoaled on outside grills.

A photographer will be on hand and "someone special" has been promised to arrive with favorite desserts. One of the guests will receive a Gay 90's garden swing.

Providing the dancing music will be Danny Jaye and his musicians.

Helping the Mikulas with party plans are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Grady, of Sunningdale drive; Mr. and Mrs. Berj Capp, of North Oxford road; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lowther, of Littlestone road; and Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schoof, of Lochmoor boulevard.

These are tears.

One day back in 1960, we remember seeing three of them. But not since. Mostly nice big smiles are what we see around our place. On our stylists. On our shampooists. On everyone from our receptionist to our maid. And on our clients, too. Who very much approve the careful way we cut and color and condition and comb and—oh well, everything! If you'd like a very happy hairdresser who specializes in clients of the same, see us. The only place we believe in tears is at the movies.

Following a Wedding Trip to Lake Michigan, Couple Will Make Home in Oxford, Mich.

Suzanne Marrie Van Doren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Van Doren, of Yorktown road, became the bride of Michael Alan Morrison, at a 7 o'clock ceremony on Friday, July 27, in St. Joan of Arc Church. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Morrison, of Rochester.

For the evening ceremony, at which the Reverend Eugene Carinci officiated, the bride's ivory peau de soi gown with Alencon lace on the bodice and cap sleeves was completed by a long train. Her floor-length ivory tulle veil was topped by a circlet of baby's breath. She carried a bouquet of tea roses surrounded by baby's breath and ferns.

The bride asked Karen Bozimoski, of Yorktown road, to be the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Ann Sadovsky, of Bloomfield Hills, and Gerda Wimmer, of Detroit. Respectively, the bridesmaids wore violet, pink, and yellow cotton voile dresses fashioned with scooped necklines and large ruffled sleeves. They carried nosegays of white daisies and violets.

Mrs. Van Doren chose a floor-length, shrimp-colored chiffon dress featuring a beaded bodice and an Empire waist. Mrs. Morrison wore a floor-length, pink and white checked sheath with a matching coat.

A reception at the Redwood Inn followed the rites at which the Chaplin Harkness presided.

For her wedding, the bride wore a heavy lace gown accented by a wide-brimmed sheer hat with lace trim. Blue, yellow and white daisies and baby's breath formed the bridal bouquet.

Posters to Help Poison Control

The second annual poster contest on the subject of "Poison Prevention," open to children from pre-school to age 13, was announced this week.

The contest will run from Sunday, August 5, to Saturday, September 8, and will offer three statewide prizes of $100, one in each age category, and three local prizes of $15.

In their posters, the children must illustrate how to prevent home poisonings or show why safeguarding against home poisonings is important.

A local prize of $15 will be awarded to the child submitting the winning poster in each category. The winners will be selected by a local panel. Age categories are: under 7; 7-9 years and 10-13 years.

Winning local posters will be submitted to the statewide competition and will be eligible for one of the three $100 state awards. They will also be displayed at the local Arnold stores, the sponsor of the contest.

Local winners in last year's contest included two Pointe girls, Patricia Ziolkowski, 6, and Sandra Ellis, 13.

Posters must be no smaller than 8 1/2 by 11 inches and no larger than 14 by 22 inches. They may be dropped off at the local Arnold Pharmacy through Saturday, September 8. Each child must sign his name, address, phone number, age, school and the name of the recreation program he participates in, (if he does so) on the back of the poster.

"We hope to make children and parents more aware of the dangers of home poisoning through this contest," said Geoffrey Stebbins, Arnold vice president and director of pharmacies.

"We're holding it as a summer program because that is the time when youngsters have free time."

More than 700,000 children accidentally swallow potentially dangerous substances in the home each year. More than three quarters of the victims are children under five. Frequently the substances swallowed aren't thought of as poison—such as aspirin, furniture polish, sleeping pills or bug spray, he said.

Another hazard to small children not generally recognized: the leaves or berries of many common garden or wild plants may be deadly poisonous.

As part of their emphasis on home safety, Arnold stores are offering free child-proof pill vials to anyone who brings their old pill bottles in for exchange.

The head of the summer recreation program coordinating the contest in the Pointe area is Mrs. Donald Strachan at the Neighborhood Club. The closest Arnold Pharmacy is located at 20853 Mack avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods.

New Zealand Rites For Miss Brinkman

Bride Wears Antique Brussels Lace Veil Worn by Both Grandmother and Mother at Their Weddings

Now at home on a dairy farm outside of Hamilton, New Zealand, are the John Morris Pollards. The pair were married on Saturday, May 5, in the Waikato Hospital chapel in Hamilton.

The bride, the former Margot Mary Brinkman, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Geoffrey L. Brinkman, formerly of Grosse Pointe and more recently of Hamilton where Dr. Brinkman is in charge of the Waikato Hospital complex. The bridegroom is the son of Group Captain and Mrs. M. C. Pollard, of Wellington, New Zealand.

For her wedding, the bride selected a gown of sheer material over satin. The dress, trimmed with guipure lace, featured a fitted bodice with long sleeves. A band of fresh flowers held her antique Brussels lace veil, worn by her grandmother and mother. Ann Brinkman served as her sister's maid of honor. Another sister, Susan Brinkman, acted as bridesmaid. Both were dressed in gowns of gold floral sheer over silk which were tied with green velvet ribbons. Matching gold shoes completed their outfits.

The bride's two brothers were altar boys and her eldest brother, David, was an usher. The bride was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School in 1969. For several years, she was a senior lifeguard at the Grosse Pointe City Park. The bridegroom, now manager of the dairy farm, is a former football star.

Newlyweds Will Make Their Home in Grand Rapids Where Bridegroom Completes Studies at Calvin College

Meredith Jan Holmes and James Edward Van Eck, Jr., were married at an afternoon service by the Reverend Harvey Brink in the Christian Reformed Church, in Battle Creek, on Saturday, July 7. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harmon Holmes, of Battle Creek; the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. James Edward Van Eck, of Lothrop road.

A reception at the Battle Creek Country Club followed the 3:30 o'clock rites, after which the couple left for a southern vacation.

The bride wore a gown of white jersey, accented with an Empire waistline and trimmed with seed pearls on the mandarin collar and cuffs. Her flowers of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy were arranged in a cascade bouquet.

She wore a circlet of stephanotis in her hair. Annette Connelly, of Milwaukee, Wis., was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Karen Gappa, of Milwaukee, Wis., Sandra Gray, of Blakesburg, Iowa, and Carol Van Eck, sister of the bridegroom.

bridegroom's cousin, and Gordon and Jeffrey Holmes, brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Holmes chose a floor-length gown of beige jersey with matching sweater accented in satin. Mrs. Van Eck selected a long aqua-mist crepe gown fashioned with an Empire waistline. Both mothers carried floral arrangements of tiny carnations, purple statice and blue baby's breath.

The bride is a graduate of Patricia Stevens Career College in Milwaukee, Wis. Mr. Van Eck is a senior at Calvin College, Grand Rapids, where the couple will make their home.

They were dressed alike in apricot jersey gowns with matching cowled Eton jackets and carried bouquets of miniature carnations, daisies, purple statice and baby's breath, with a small cluster of the flowers in their hair.

Thomas Lotterman, of Grand Rapids, served as best man. Ushers were Donald Van Eck, of Detroit, the

Glancy Trains on View at Historical Museum

Representative items from the Glancy train collection are now on view on the second floor of the Detroit Historical Museum, Woodward at Kirby. The exhibit opened on Tuesday, July 31.

The Detroit Historical Museum recently received the gift of the unique Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., train collection. The collection, the result of a life-long interest, includes not only trains but all types of accessories—houses, railway stations, car, oil derricks, loading devices, plus a circus, a wild west show, a farm and a replica of the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

Because of the sheer volume of items which must be sorted and catalogued, it will be several months before the collection can be shown in working order. Hopefully, the Museum's Christmas toy show will include the complete collection.

REBECCA CHAPMAN, of Grayton road, will be taking the special course for college women at Katherine Gibbs School in Boston. She is a graduate of Mount Vernon Junior College. Miss Chapman is the daughter of MR. C. BREWSTER CHAPMAN and MRS. CHARLOTTE EASTON.

New Fashions For Students

There's hope for the Pointe parents who are sending their children away to college for the first year. There is a chance, just a chance, that the kids won't convert their entire wardrobes into army surplus gear. There is a chance, just a chance, that they won't insist on wearing blue jeans and t-shirts to the family's Thanksgiving dinner on their first return home from college.

The "Super Grub Look" of faded Levis and old flannel work shirts is losing its popularity and is being replaced by the "Early 1900's Look" in college classrooms.

This is an analysis of fall campus fashions by Betty Bornemeier and Joy Hansen, clothing specialists in the Eastern Michigan University home economics department. "The 'Grub Look' will never be completely replaced," said Mrs. Bornemeier, "but more students will dress up for class and the girls will wear more feminine clothing."

"The change will be most evident with the girls," Mrs. Hansen predicted. "They will wear coordinated outfits like full-legged pants and matching jackets. Long dresses may even return but the shorter skirt should remain popular. Male fashions will also be more coordinated."

The "Early 1900's Look" is also called the "Soft" or "Romantic Look." It consists of soft, easy-care fabrics for both men and women. There will be lace and ruffles for women and pastel colors for men. The style is influenced by the first three decades of the century.

Whatever the style, freshmen will spend much less time and money preparing a college wardrobe than the student in the 1950's did, according to the EMU specialists.

It was not unusual for a student, from a middle-income family to spend $600 on clothing for the first year of college. Expensive lists were compiled for a complete change in wardrobe.

"The freshman in the 1970's has a much better idea of what to expect in all areas of college life including clothing," Mrs. Bornemeier said. "He can wear what he wore in high school. There is much more freedom and less emphasis on money in clothing today."

Functional clothing that is easy to care for and comfortable rule the selections of today's student. Budget lists are not needed as the Army Surplus outlet may attract as many student shoppers as an exclusive clothing store.

The winter coat is probably the biggest investment a student will make. Few students will buy formal clothes.

"There is no real need for formal clothing in school," Mrs. Hansen said. "Not one student in my clothing construction class last year had a dress at school. They left them at home. Casual wear was all they ever needed."

The specialists agree that there will be fads in fashion like "hot pants" but that the student will not let fashion "experts" dictate clothing styles and will select clothes for self-expression.

WILLIAM H. KLINGBEIL, Jr., of Hawthorne road, recently received his Bachelor of Science from the University of Michigan, majoring in economics. He is presently employed with Opel in Zimmer, West Germany.

Recently, Technical SERGEANT LAWRENCE L. LOOS, son of MR. and MRS. ELMER A. LOOS, of Roslyn road, earned a U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award. He is assigned at Chicksands RAF Station, England, with the 6950th Security Group which received the award for over-all professionalism and excellence from June 1, 1970 through May, 1972. Sergeant Loos, who has served in Vietnam, attended the University of Maryland European Division in France and England, and the Far East Division, Thailand.

Ladies Dinner For St. Mary's

Acting as fashion show chairman of the fourth annual Orchard Lake Ladies Dinner Dance is Mrs. Peter F. Nowosielski, of Berkshire road. The date of Wednesday, August 22, has been set for the affair to be held at the Royalty House in Warren.

Last year, almost 300 women attended the dinner which supports the Orchard Lake schools, SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary, St. Mary's College and St. Mary's Preparatory, located in a wooded lake area near Bloomfield Hills. The schools have served the educational, religious and cultural needs of the Polish-American community in the United States since 1885.

This year's festivities will begin with hors d'oeuvres and cocktails at 3:30 p.m. Chudik's of Birmingham will present a kaleidoscope of ladies fashions, furs and jewelry for all occasions in a fashion show beginning at 4:45 p.m. Cocktails at 6 p.m. will precede the 7:30 p.m. dinner.

Throughout the afternoon and evening, the four piece orchestra of Eugene Zajac will provide music ranging from soft background sounds to lively rhythms of the traditional Polkas.

The Ladies Dinner Committee invites interested Pointers to write the Orchard Lake Ladies Dinner, Orchard Lake Schools, Orchard Lake, Mich., 48034, or telephone 1-313-682-1885, ext. 10. All tickets are $50.00 per person and are available on an individual or a group basis.

In discussing the upcoming dinner, Mrs. Nowosielski mentioned one surprise her fashion show committee had in store for her. At the last meeting of the committee, an evening dress was waiting for her to model, even though Mrs. Nowosielski had not scheduled herself in the show.

It was just the verdict of her committee that she should also be in the show!

DR. CLIFFORD BENSON, of Hendrie lane, recently attended the annual meeting of the British Association of Pediatric Surgery. Held at London University, Dr. Benson was a participant and moderator at the session. He is a professor of clinical surgery at Wayne State University Medical School.

The University of Evansville, Evansville, Ind., named CHERYL LYNCH, of Balauntyne road, to the spring quarter Dean's list.

A DELIGHTFUL FOOLER

COUNT 'EM! Five bedrooms and two large baths are what the second floor of this great colonial has to offer. There is a spacious entrance foyer with natural slate floor to impress you as you enter the smart, double front doors. Large living room, separate dining room, and a super kitchen with complete builtins has a sensible access to the family room with fireplace. From this informal room sliding glass doors lead to a brick patio and yard landscaped for privacy. The house is air conditioned, in the peak of condition, and full of tradition.

FIRST ADVERTISED IN THE FARMS

Begin with landscaping so attractive it makes you stop and look again. Now step into the house itself. The Cathedral ceiling in the spacious living room is dramatically emphasized by one wall of rich paneling, which should cause a shiver of excitement down the back, and add extra sparkle to the eye. Central air conditioning will help to restore your normal 98.6°—allowing you to see other fine points such as two bedrooms, two baths and the dining room-family room.

Warning: To delay seeing this home is to invite disappointment.

DETECTIVE JOHN R. KENDALL, OF THE GROSSE POINTE YOUTH SERVICE DIVISION

By Kathy Duff

There's no such thing as a "routine" day at the Grosse Pointe Youth Service Division, the intermunicipal police division which handles youth-oriented criminal activity.

A call might come in at 9:45 a.m. that a 14-year-old girl was discovered missing. She didn't show up at South High School that morning, yet her mother said that she had left for school at 8 a.m. At 11:50 a.m., a call might come in from North High School that a 10th grader had just "O.D."ed, or overdosed, and that an officer should meet the ambulance at St. John Hospital. It's obvious that the kid had some "bad stuff." It's the YSD officer's responsibility to find out who sold the drug to him, and what other students might soon O.D. as a result of it.

Founded in 1970, the YSD was established to deal exclusively with youth-oriented crime. It was the consensus of school officials, the policeman on the street, and city fathers that a special bureau should be created to handle the growing juvenile delinquency problems which centered around larcenies, drug-related crimes, and increasing family trouble resulting from the "generation gap." It was realized that a 13-year-old boy, caught with two marijuana cigarettes in his pocket was not in the same league as a 40-year-old car thief with a 20-year record.

More importantly, there had to be a group of law enforcement officers who were sensitive to youth problems, who could tell them what would happen if they messed with drugs and other criminal activity, or at last resort, to counsel them so that they wouldn't make the same mistake twice.

"During the school year, I will usually speak with two or three school classes a week," Detective John R. Kendall of the YSD commented at the Woods Police Station, home base for the bureau.

The Woods station was selected as the office for the YSD as it is the managing municipality. The Woods also had shown a sensitivity to youth-oriented law enforcement as it had sponsored a drug education program and had assigned an officer, Marty Trombley, to act as a liaison officer at North High School before the YSD was created.

School Office As the liaison officer at South High School, Detective Kendall's second office is located on the first floor of the high school. It's important that he remain in the middle of things as he has to

The Opticians . . . at Woods Optical Studios, 19599 Mack Avenue, are looking for good homes for all unsold sun glasses. They are making room for advance styles in those soon-to-be-needed . . . (time flies) . . . ski goggles. They marked these smart sun glasses 50% off! Naturally, as with all eyewear, sold at Woods Optical Studios, these sun glasses are optically correct for your precious eyes.

Do you have a favorite wine but can't find it? Do you have a question on wine: but your local beer store owner does not have the answer or maybe the time to answer? Would you like to discuss what might be an appropriate wine to serve when your husband's boss is coming to dinner or better yet the wine that is right for just the two of you? The Vineyarder will be pleased to help, 21016 Mack, Grosse Pointe Woods, 882-0140.

is geared towards raising the youth's self-image, towards giving him a more positive approach to life.

Detective Kendall has been with the YSD since its organization in 1970. Four officers were accepted into the division, two officers to work as liaison officers at each of the high schools (Detective Michael Ferrance is at North High School). The two additional officers, Tom Podeszick and Jim Davidson were assigned to be investigators in each of the districts. Recently, Officer Donald Schmalz replaced Davidson as investigator for the South district.

Police Policeman Before joining the YSD, Detective Kendall was a member of the Grosse Pointe Park police department.

Asked why he decided to go into police work, the officer laughed, shook his head and said, "That's on every police exam.

"I'll put it this way. I like working with people, and I think that I am doing something worthwhile for the students, for the community."

In reviewing his three and a half years with the Park police department, the detective feels that it helped put his current work with the YSD in perspective.

"When I was on the Park police force as a patrolman, I was involved with every type of criminal behavior. You see everything, from larcenies of stores to break-ins at residences. You see what type of criminal problem Grosse Pointe has.

"Without the help of the officer on the street in Grosse Pointe, the YSD would not be a success. We are always working with the five police departments as they will refer a case to us, and help us in attempting to solve the case."

During the time Detective Kendall was a member of The Park police force, he served as secretary of the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge 102. It was his idea to start a newsletter, called "The Hot Sheet," after the police list of current stolen cars.

Edits News Sheet The Newsletter would announce everything from an upcoming FOP picnic ("Dress casually and bring a can of mosquito repellent.") to reporting on police riot training. A section was reserved for news from each of the six stations. One station might report the birth of a child to one of the officers, another might award a "bronze bumper award" to an officer who hit a garbage truck in his scout car. Space was also reserved for editorial comment.

"It's ironic that I devoted one issue to a discussion of the proposed Youth Services Division before I thought of applying myself. Writing the article was what made me originally think about joining the YSD."

A native of Windsor, Ont., the detective's family moved to Detroit in 1950. He attended Southeastern High School, graduating from the school in 1961. After attending Wayne State University for a year, he joined the U.S. Air Force for a four-year stint.

It was in the Air Force that the officer got his first experience with police work as he trained in the air police. He served in Da Nang, South Vietnam, for one year, assigned to base security, law enforcement and counter insurgency. A special assignment was providing V.I.P. security which included guarding such visiting celebrities as the Bob Hope Troupe.

Asked if he got to protect personally Miss Universe when she appeared with Bob Hope, Detective Kendall recalled, with more than a slight note of remorse in his voice that his assignment was to protect the band.

After returning to the States after his tour of duty, he spent several months reviewing which profession he wished to enter. It was during this time that he took extensive flying lessons as he considered a career as a professional pilot.

"I was bored, and I realized that I wanted to get back into police work. I heard that there was an opening at The Park, so I spoke with Chief Arthur Louwers. I soon found myself in uniform."

Police Training Detective Kendall is one who will stress the difference in police work today—1973—in contrast to police work 30 years ago.

"It's a profession, and the officers continually take update courses at police academies and local community colleges. After I joined The Park force, I was sent to the Metropolitan Police Academy of Michigan for an intensive six-week course. Later, when I was put on the midnight to 8 a.m., I went back to Wayne to get my bachelor's degree in police science."

The detective received his degree in June 1972. However, it will be back-to-school for the officer this fall as he was recently accepted to the University of Detroit Law School.

After Detective Kendall joined the YSD, he found that he had to take additional courses in his new position. Courses followed at the Mott School in Flint for school liaison officers and drug abuse, at Oakland County Community College and in Chicago for other youth-oriented law enforcement problems.

"As the idea of a Youth Service Department was so new, the first year was spent in organizing the department. Many adult groups in Grosse Pointe wished to have a youth officer address their group, so I found myself giving several lectures a month to groups such as the Eastside Lions Club, the Maire Elementary School P.T.A. and the South High School Mothers Club. They all wanted to know what was happening with youth, and what they could do to help."

Man of the Year For his contribution to the YSD and his service to the community, Detective Kendall was given the Man of the Year Award, or the Distinguished Service Award, by the Grosse Pointe Jaycees at their annual awards banquet in February 1972.

Another high point of the detective's career was a citation letter from the Federal Bureau of Narcotics for the part he played in the recognition and apprehension of a heroin smuggler. The dealer was arrested at the Detroit Greyhound Terminal as he took his handbag, packed with heroin, from a bus terminal locker. It was the largest seizure to date in the Detroit area.

"The YSD works closely with the Detroit-based Federal Bureau of Narcotics and the Detroit Police Department Drug Division. If we are ever criticized for not spending all of our time working in Grosse Pointe, I will just point out how closely linked juvenile crime in Grosse Pointe is with the Detroit east side."

bley road, is president of the Friends of Polish Art. Wayne County Circuit Court Judge and Mrs. Roland L. Olzak, of St. Clair avenue, are co-hosts for the concert and dinner. Mrs. Olzak, the former Halina Winiarski, is a well-known lyric soprano in the Polish community.

Maestro Kord is a native of Silesia, Poland, and a graduate of the Music School in Katowice, Academy of Music in Leningrad, and Cracow School of Music. In 1960, he was engaged as conductor of the Warsaw Opera, and in 1962, artistic director of the Cracow Opera, responsible for the staging of opera and ballet. In 1968, he was named to his present position of Director of the Polish National Television and Radio Orchestra, with which he has toured Italy, France and Germany. He has appeared as guest conductor of the Vienna State Opera, the Theatre of Munich, and the Duesseldorf Opera.

He made his American Metropolitan Opera debut in December, 1972, conducting the opera "Pique Dame" by Tchaikovsky. Following his orchestral debut in August, conducting the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, he will appear with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at the Ravinia Festival. Later, he will conduct concerts at the Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires, and the opera "Boris Godunov" at the San Francisco Opera. In the fall of 1974, he will tour the United States with the Polish National Television and Radio Orchestra.

message that crime and drug abuse are no way out. In 1971, he asked two high school students, whose hobby was folk singing, to accompany him when he spoke to adult and student groups. His latest project, besides the Youth Motivation Clinic, is to organize a band of police officers (along the lines of Detroit's Les Cochons Bleus) to entertain students at special events.

Interest In Music However, organizing a band of police officers is a natural for the detective as he plays the guitar and piano himself. His latest hobby is trying to play the piano in the "honky-tonk" fashion. Last fall, the detective surprised some young Grosse Pointers by buying a blue Honda Scrambler 350 and cruising around town. Tennis is another summer activity for the detective.

It seems that the only person who can get around Detective Kendall, who has the reputation of a tough cop when the situation warrants, is his one-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Kimberly. He has been married to the former Sharon Wise for over six years.

Reviews Position In summarizing his present position as youth officer, Detective Kendall admitted that it was sometimes a difficult thing to be both a counselor and a cop.

"We get about 10 calls a week from parents and kids who just want to come in for counseling. The hard thing is that we have to remain police officers as we are responsible for the safety of the kids in Grosse Pointe and we do make arrests."

"I could be a super critic of Grosse Pointe because I see the seamy side of the community in dealing with the kids that get into trouble and the families which are having problems."

"Yet I can't be, because in 1969, when the drug problem came in, Grosse Pointe did not wait for the federal government to authorize funds for drug control and education programs. The groups here such as FLEC (Family Life Education Council), the Junior League, the South High Mothers Club, and many other groups immediately made a commitment to try to control the drug problem and the growing number of problems youths seemed to be encountering.

"The YSD is part of that commitment. It's not a token commitment, an expensive commitment. But I know we're doing some good."

GEORGE MESRITZ, son of MR. and MRS. JEAN MESRITZ, formerly of The Pointe, now of Shore Club road, was named to the dean's list at Colby College for his work during the second semester.

As always, Leon Se-hoyan is trying to make life in Grosse Pointe a little nicer for all of us. This time, good old Leon has got Grosse Pointe's men wanting to get their hair cut. He's opened a Men's Hair Styling Salon and a great girl, Phyllis, runs it.

To top it all off, a guy can finally get his hair cut the way he wants it! Keep up the good work, Leon!
