HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, August 2

A WHITE HOUSE MEMO, which surfaced during the Senate's Wednesday questioning of H. R. Haldeman, brought forth evidence that John Mitchell may have lied under oath during his testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee. The memo, sent to Mr. Haldeman from Charles Colson with a copy sent to Mitchell, then Attorney General, indicates that a Justice Department anti-trust ruling in favor of ITT had been influenced by the company's promise to give $400,000 for the 1972 Republican National Convention. During questioning before the Judiciary Committee in March, 1972, Mitchell said he knew nothing about the financial arrangements.

Friday, August 3

THE FIRST SPACE RESCUE in history may be necessary to aid the three Skylab astronauts in their return to earth. Leaks in the two control rockets which astronauts Alan Bean, Owen Garriott and Jack Louisa must use in returning to earth, reduced the control system to "minimum flyable condition." A spaceship and crew is on hand at Cape Kennedy for the rescue. The only major change in the crew's schedule is the delay of the space walk.

Saturday, August 4

L. PATRICK GRAY, former acting director of the FBI, told the Senate Watergate Committee on Friday that he got himself involved in misdeeds and deliberate lies concerning the documents given to him by John Ehrlichman and John Dean in 1972. He said he burned the politically controversial documents in his Christmas trash with the understanding that was what Dean and Ehrlichman wanted him to do. He admitted his error in accepting the documents in the first place and filing them in a separate FBI file.

Sunday, August 5

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE Thurgood Marshall issued an order Saturday permitting the bombing of Cambodia. The action reversed an order issued earlier by Justice William O. Douglas which would have stopped the bombing. Marshall said he had conferred with the other members of the Court, and they had all agreed with his order. Marshall had ruled on Wednesday he was powerless to stop the bombing. However, his action late Saturday was in response to an urgent government plea after Douglas' ruling.

Monday, August 6

TWO ARAB GUERRILLAS, firing machine guns and throwing grenades, killed three persons Sunday and injured 55 in a lounge at the Athens airport. Two of the dead were Americans. The guerrillas held about 40 persons hostages but released them two hours later. The two guerrillas demanded to speak with the ambassador from Egypt but surrendered after they were told he could not be reached. Most of the passengers were waiting to board a Swissair flight to Geneva and a TWA flight to New York.

Tuesday, August 7

TWO SKYLAB ASTRO-NAUTS spent six and one-half hours in space yesterday, breaking all spacewalk records. Jack Louisa and Owen Garriott spent the time outside the space laboratory erecting a new sunshade, changing film in the telescopes and doing other odd jobs. Back inside, astronaut Alan Bean operated the controls of the spaceship. The record time spent in space more than doubled the record set by the first Skylab crew in June.

Center Urges Support for Blood Drive

Collection Will Be Held Today, August 9, from 2 to 8 p.m.

A special blood collection will be held by the American Red Cross at The War Memorial Center, 32 Lake Shore road, today, Thursday, August 9, from 2 to 8 p.m.

The present supply in the Community Blood Bank has been reduced to a dangerously low amount as many units have been released to those in need since the February drive, reports the Center. All Pointers who can possibly give at this time are urged to make this very real contribution to the community's needs.

No Appointment

The bloodmobile unit will be set up in the ballroom overlooking Lake St. Clair. The Center says that 20 minutes should be sufficient time to allow for a donation.

An appointment is not necessary. Anyone in good health from 18 to 60 who is free of heart or blood ailments, and is not pregnant, are urged to give.

Mrs. Albert Goolsby, president of the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Bank, is in charge of the present drive. Assisting her are Mesdames Robert Ebersole, Richard Piper and William Cook.

Baby sitters will be provided, if needed, by calling the Center at 881-7511. Transportation can be arranged.

Park Bank Suffers Second Hold-Up in Three Weeks

A lone black male held up the Michigan Bank, 15010 East Jefferson avenue, Monday, August 6, and fled with an undetermined amount of cash, according to information released by Park Lieutenant Gordon Duncan.

This was the second hold-up at the bank within a three-week period. On Friday, July 20, a black female escaped with less than $1,000 in cash a minute before the bank closed.

Lieutenant Duncan said the thief handed a teller a note demanding money, pulled out a small nickel plated revolver and fled with the cash in a small, brown paper bag.

Detroit Reviews 31 Memorable Years of Working in The Pointe

Osie Robinson, Who Tended His Janitorial Duties at Many Businesses, Shares Insights on The Growth of The Area, Its People And on Life

By Roger A. Waha

Although he lives in Detroit, Osie Robinson, 59, has the credentials to make him a true Pointer. He has shared his engaging personality with residents, primarily in The Farms and The City, for 31 years while tending his janitorial duties at a variety of businesses.

"I worked in practically every store on the Hill when they opened up," he said. The first three buildings on Kercheval from Muir road, (formerly Oak street), to McMillan which Osie knew of when he came to The Pointe were the Punch and Judy Bar, (the building occupied by the Bronze Door), the Standard service station next door and Arthur Paselk's Flower Shop, (at one time the building housed a confectionary shop). The rest of the immediate area was "mostly wide-open country," said Osie.

Many Businesses
His first place of employment was at Piche's Barber Shop in the Village from 1942-44. After that, Osie's employers read like a "Who's Who" of on the Hill and in the Village businesses.

In 1945, he started work at the Punch and Judy bar where he stayed until 1960. When London East took over the bar about 1961, he remained until the following year. From 1945-1949 Osie worked at Francois Restaurant. And from 1945 up to now, past and present NEWS employes have appreciated Osie's presence.

His "list of credits" also includes Kilgore and Hurd in 1947, and when Picard-Norton bought the business in 1964, Osie remained until the following year; Higgins and Frank Men's Store, ca. 1957-60; Homer Warren's Real Estate, 1958-61, (this building is now occupied by the William J. Champion Co. on Kercheval); E. J. Hickey Men's Store and First of Michigan Corporation, both 1962-68, and Hamlin's Market in the mid-1960's.

In 1962, Osie started work at the group of Johnstone and Johnstone real estate offices. He left the Dorthen-Mack office and Morang office, (Detroit), in 1968. However, he still works at the Mack-Harvard office and main office on Kercheval. And he remains a loyal employe at the Paselk Flower Shop, where he started in 1961.

Open Land
As he did in 1942, Osie takes the bus, (at one time a streetcar), every morning to The Pointe. "When I first came out to the community, Kercheval was paved as far as Moross and the old DSR streetcar ran down East Jefferson from Detroit to Fisher road in Grosse Pointe," he recalls.

Back in the early 40's, the land was open and the wildlife was plentiful. Where the Kercheval on the Hill parking lot now lies, an unkempt hill once hosted annual dog shows sponsored by Francois in the mid-40's, Osie said.

"Where Frank Adam is located, that strip of land was once vacant except for a one-room real estate office at the corner of Hall Place and Kercheval. The rest was marsh land where pheasants, rabbits, raccoons and squirrels would run. By 1947, when the dealership was built, and in the late 40's when the area began growing, the wildlife lost a comfortable habitat."

"Practically everywhere in the Grosse Pointe area there was vacant land. Around where North High School is located, it used to be farm land where residents would raise their crops. There was less tension. It was like liv-

GP Grocers Cite Cut in Beef Supply

Survey Shows Many Merchants Are Running Below Normal Amounts; Expect Less in Future Weeks

By Len Singer

Most Pointe area grocers are feeling the sting of the beef shortage which has swept across the country, and now are preparing for harder times in the coming weeks.

The ceiling on beef prices, which is scheduled to be lifted Wednesday, September 12, has kept much of the beef supply off the market. The meat packing industry, however, has put pressure on the Nixon administration to have the ceiling lifted sooner.

In a random survey taken Thursday-Friday, August 2-3, most local merchants said they were already running below their normal amounts of beef, and were expecting less in the future weeks.

Dick Pastoria, co-manager of Kroger's, 16919 Kercheval, said his total beef tonnage was down, but so far he hadn't had any real problems. He was uncertain what would happen in the coming weeks.

"Right now, it all depends on the buyer," Mr. Pastoria said. "It's a day-by-day thing."

Al Lang, from Lang's Village Meats, 17045 Kercheval, said he was receiving only 23 tons.

Speer, Urso Win Primary

Park voters selected Municipal Judge William E. Speer and John R. Urso to appear on the November 6 general election ballot.

In the primary election Tuesday, August 7, about 1,193 voters turned out to cast their ballots for three candidates. Beverly C. Grobbel finished third.

The unofficial results show Judge Speer with 500 votes, Mr. Urso with 392 and Mrs. Grobbel with 301. There are approximately 9,000 registered voters in The Park.

Judge Speer, who has been The Park's Municipal Judge for four years, also is a lawyer and a trial attorney for the U.S. Department of Justice.

Mr. Urso is an Associate Professor of Law at the University of Detroit and director of the University's Urban Law Program.

Farms Holds Discussion on Dodge Estate

Viewpoints and Ideas Shared at August 6 Council Meeting; Solons to Establish Procedures for Site Plan Review

By Holly Angell

The multi-faceted problem of the Dodge Estate development came before The Farms Council again at their Monday night meeting, August 6.

Although no final decisions were reached concerning the property and the 60-room Rose Terrace, various views and ideas were presented and discussed.

A petition had been filed on behalf of Superior Lake Enterprises by Paul Townsend, Jr. of the firm of Dykema, Gossett, Spencer, Goodnow and Trigg. The petition asked for an amendment to the zoning ordinance and a request for variances as well as approval of site and architectural plans.

First Petition

This is the first petition to come before The Farms' new zoning ordinance, adopted in July. The ordinance requires a site plan review of all structures other than single family. However, procedures for review had not yet been determined.

Mr. Townsend detailed the variance requests as preliminary information. As stated in the ordinance the height requirement for houses is a maximum of 30 feet and two and one half stories.

Rose Terrace stands at 56 feet and three stories. The architect's plans, as they stand now, are to divide the first floor into two stories, making the Terrace four stories.

The plans include building separate units on the property. Two story units would be built between the house and Jefferson avenue. However, three story units have been designed for the lake front property.

Property Drops
Mr. Townsend cited the fact that the property drops 20 feet on the lake side of the house. Therefore, the tops of the units would be no higher than the Jefferson avenue units.

In regards to the set-back requirements, the idea is to build the units symmetrical in respect to the house. However, since Rose Terrace is not on the center of the property, the set-back requirements would not be met on the Grosse Pointe City side.

Furthermore, the architects have tried to preserve as many trees as possible in order to retain the park-like atmosphere of the property. At this point in time, only eight trees would be removed, but a spacing variance would have to be granted.

Mr. Townsend also mentioned a maximum of 36 units could be developed on the property. An erroneous figure of 45 was cited in the petition. Thirteen of the units would be developed in Rose Terrace. The remaining 23 would be built on the nine

Woods Okays Resurfacing Of Six Tennis Courts

By Roger A. Waha

Tennis enthusiasts in The Woods should be pleased to learn six of the city's courts, (four at Ghesquiere Park and two at Lakefront Park), will be receiving a "beauty treatment."

In action taken at the regular council meeting Monday, August 6, the solons unanimously approved Councilman Benjamin W. Pinkos' motion that the resurfacing contract be awarded to the American Coating Corporation in the amount of $5,619.

The Ghesquiere Park "Magic Square" courts will cost $2,394; the other two Ghesquiere courts will run $1,710, and the Lakefront Park courts will cost $1,515.

Ink 3-Year Agreement With Union

Pact Provides Increased Pay, Improved Benefits for DPW, Office Employes

By Roger A. Waha

For the first time in the history of The Woods, a three-year contract has been inked between the city and a union representing its employes.

The agreement, between the municipality and Local 1121 of Council 23, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO, was officially signed at the regular council meeting Monday, August 6.

Local 1121 represents a combined total of 52 Department of Public Works and office employes. The contract, retroactive to July 1, 1973, runs to June 30, 1976. It further amends the July 20, 1970, agreement and incorporates the previous amendments to the September 11, 1972, agreement.

Express Pleasure

Both City Administrator Chester E. Petersen and Local 1121 president Angus Goodhan expressed their pleasure at climaxing the agreement. "We appreciated the fine, spirited cooperation of Local 1121 during the negotiations," said Mr. Petersen, while Mr. Goodhan noted, "We seem to reach an agreement fairly easily."

Mr. Petersen also said, "We mutually took a different approach to negotiations by deciding at the outset, after demands were presented by both sides, we would sit down like gentlemen and screen out the top priorities in demands. And we went from there. We reduced the demands at the outset on a mutual basis."

Mayor Pro Tem Marvin R. Boutin, in referring to the three-year contract, said, "This is a first as far as labor negotiations are concerned to my knowledge."

Rise in Pay
The contract provides increased pay for employes, plus improved changes in fringe benefits.

Mr. Petersen said, "The first year calls for a 26-cent an hour across the board increase for all employes; the second year calls for a 27-cent an hour across the board increase, and the third year calls for a 25-cent increase."

For example, a starting clerk-dispatcher in The Department of Public Safety will receive $3.89 the first year, $4.16 the second and $4.41 the third year.

The varied fringe benefits include a family eye care plan. All regular full-time employes are provided with group hospitalization and surgical insurance with a $2 deductible prescription rider clause and eye care plan, with dependents (the spouse and children up to and including 18-year-olds), also being covered.

Other Benefits

Vacation leave time has been increased, too. Beginning with the sixth year of continuous service, each full-time employe will earn vacation leave, with pay, at the rate of 15 working days per each year. This is up from 12 days. After 10 years, the days jump from 18 to 20, and after 15 years, they increase from 22 to 25.

Uniform allowances for all public works employes, (excluding mechanics), clerk-dispatchers and meter maids have been improved.

A public works operator, for instance, is provided with three summer and winter shirts and pairs of trousers, a winter coat, a lightweight spring jacket and a fluorescent vest. The latter is required when an employe makes emergency repairs or performs other services at night upon any public right.

Robert Orr Dies Aug. 1 At St. John

Pointe Loses Loyal Friend in Passing of Library Director

Robert M. Orr, who helped build the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries into one of the finest library systems in the country, died on Wednesday, August 1, in St. John Hospital. He was 59 years old.

Mr. Orr was Director of the Grosse Pointe Libraries since 1949. Although most of his life was devoted to library related work, he also gave much of his time to community affairs. His loss will be greatly felt.

Vast Background

A native of Springfield, Ill., Mr. Orr attended the University of Illinois where he received his bachelor of arts degree and his graduate degree in library science.

After graduation, he was junior assistant at the Detroit Public Library for two years, leaving in 1939 to become Assistant Extension Librarian at the Springfield Branch of the Illinois Public Library.

He became Regional Library Director of the Works Progress Administration and served in the U. S. Army Air Force from 1941 to 1945.

After the war, Mr. Orr became Regional Director of the Illinois State Library. He left that position in 1947 to become Librarian in Michigan's Branch County.

In 1949, he came to Grosse Pointe. Mr. Orr was a member

'Adopted' Pointer Reviews His Life in The Community

ing in a small town where everyone knew each other and appreciated each other. Since then, it has changed like any large community," he said.

Special Place

In the "old" days, Osie felt The Farms and City Councils were "tougher" on building sites than they are today. Enforcement of the zoning ordinances were stricter then. "It was tougher to put a second floor on a one floor building" back in the 40's, he noted.

The Punch and Judy Bar seems to have a special place in Osie's heart when he referred to it as a place for "old-timers" in the mid to late 40's. At that time, he saw Mickey Cochrane, Horace Dodge and Henry Ford in the bar, and "there were no kids in the streets in those days."

"It ultimately became a hangout for the younger generation during the late 1950's. There was no trouble but the kids went into these places. It was hard after being around older people so long."

Osie originally was hired at the Punch and Judy when he was working at Piche's. "A young guy, (18-years-old), wasn't old enough to work in a bar in those days, so the boss hired me. It was the first bar built in Grosse Pointe Farms and it originated from a man who owned a blind pig. He then bought the bar."

Changing Scene

He has seen many changes in the community and cited the progress in building as a major one. "It shocked me to think I'd see Grosse Pointe built up." In the 1940's, for instance, there were the old mansions and not those "new ranch houses."

A prominent sport in the 1940's was ice-fishing and Osie recalls, "Ice boating and fishing have passed from the scene. Everybody had an ice shanty back then." And the horse and buggy junk men have vanished from the area, too.

But something which hasn't changed is the friendliness of the community. "The people I've been in contact with haven't changed. They age right along with me. Most people out here are friendly. "I've had lots of pleasant memories since I've been out here," he said.

Memorable People

Osie has been associated with many nice people during his 31 years in The Pointe. However, four of the most memorable individuals include Robert B. Edgar, editor and general manager of the NEWS; the late John Humes, owner of the Punch and Judy Bar; the late Francois Lemmer, owner of Francois Restaurant, and Barton Trail of Trail Apothecary Shop on Kercheval.

Of Mr. Edgar, Osie said, "I never came to him without him listening to my conversation. He's been nice to me since I've been here and deserves to be appreciated." In 1967, when Osie lost the sight of one eye because of a detached retina, he said Mr. Edgar assisted him when he was unable to get help from any organization. Mr. Edgar contacted someone who could help him. And when his wife broke her leg last year, "Mr. Edgar gave me the money to pay the hospital bill," Osie said.

"He has done more for me than anybody I've worked for in Grosse Pointe. I've been with him ever since his four kids were teenagers," he added.

Osie described Mr. Humes as a man "you could sit and talk to—he was always willing to do something for you." Mr. Lemmer as a "nice man to be associated with—I appreciated working for him," and Mr. Trail as "nice and gentleman-like, and generous."

Walking Their Beat

Being a "veteran" of the community, Osie says most of the police officers he's known are not on the force anymore. But there are exceptions. "Andy Teetaert was just a patrolman who's now moved up to Chief of Police in The City."

Other officers whom he has known for many years include Farms Sergeants Eugene Boylan, Marvin Krebs and Alfred Martin, and City Sergeant Douglas Allor and City Officer James Cronin. "I remember the time I came out when police officers were walking their beat, not driving. They also were on curb details to make extra money when they were off duty," he said.

Worked as Cook

Osie has been a hard worker all his life. Born in Topeka, Kans., on November 12, 1913, Osie was graduated from a Topeka high school around 1928. He worked nights as a cook in a restaurant there and during the depression worked on the WPA and other governmental organizations cutting trees, clearing land and building streets in his home state.

"I've worked in a restaurant practically all my life and was a dinner cook in Topeka, Little Rock, Ark., and at Francois in Grosse Pointe. I also worked as a cook in a hospital kitchen at the Topeka Air Force Base in the 1930's."

"I came to Detroit in the late 1930's. I had a brother here who had a job for me in a dynamo plant. I lived with him and settled down," he said. Then Osie came to The Pointe and has worked here ever since.

While he has no hobbies per se, NEWS employees who have heard him sing admit he has a lovely voice. In fact, Osie was part of a radio quartet in Topeka from 1928-32. Every Sunday night, the group, all high school chums, would sing spirituals on a half hour program.

Treat Others Right

While discussing his life, Osie provides a sprinkling of wisdom which contains food for thought. "I've had a pretty nice, peaceful life. There have been some rough days financially, but physically, it has been a good life."

Despite the fact Osie lost the sight of an eye, has arthritis in one leg, (which was broken seven years ago), and in his hands, he tells those who mention his difficulty in going to work: "I have courage. I just don't give up. If I start out, God will give me the strength to get there. There is always someone worse off than you."

A Biblical passage from Job is important to him. Osie recalls Job called his wife a foolish woman when she told him to curse God when his cattle died. Job said, "Of all my appointed times, I'll wait until my change comes."

In noting "we only have so long to go," Osie tries to live by the Golden Rule. "Since grade school, I never try to judge people by who they are or what they are. I feel that every man, woman and child have to live in a way that can be respected. If people treat others right, and they are treated right, that makes for a very decent person."

Comments on Youth

While discussing the youth of today and yesterday, Osie felt in the 1940's, for example, young people were "more respectful than they are now," although there were some "bad ones."

"Today, there are very few kids I would trust for anything. Some act like 'mad dogs' when you try to befriend them. There are a lot of good ones, though, only they are hard to find. They are off by themselves, unlike the 'street bunch.'"

"Some families raise their children, while some don't have time," he emphasized.

"I think to myself a child brought up in the right way will usually end up in the right way. Beating a child doesn't prove anything. My mother told me, 'The more you beat a plow, the sharper it gets.'"

Prayer Is "Great"

"I want to live, learn and pray. Prayer is one of the greatest things. I was raised that way and had a good, Christian mother. Her children didn't stray from her teachings, even when they grew up," said Osie.

With great feeling for his mother, Osie recalled when his father died in 1914, (he was over a year old), his mother did laundry work at her home in Topeka to raise her family of six, including Osie's two brothers and sisters. "She was both mother and father to us," he said.

"She died in 1944 from cancer. I still miss her."

Now, his whole family is gone including 21 relatives. "I'm the only one left so I came a long way. I don't let it throw me. I have to live this life. They're gone. I buried my family. I'll die someday and someone will have to do the same for me."

Concluding, he said, "I can't believe people who don't believe there's a supreme being. How was the world created? I have to believe what I was taught. When I die, I'll have to carry it to my grave."

YFU Sets Homecoming Concert Aug. 11

The annual homecoming concert of the 1973 Youth for Understanding Choral and String Ensemble will be given at the University of Michigan's Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor Saturday, August 11, at 8 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend this free concert.

The 1973 Choral and String Ensemble left on June 25 for a six-week Latin American tour, and have presented concerts in Colombia, Venezuela, Costa Rica, El Salvador and Guatemala. They returned to Metro Airport Wednesday evening, August 8.

The conductor of the YFU

Chorale is Robert Pratt, and Gabriel Villasurda is the conductor of the String Ensemble. The assistant conductor of the Chorale is Leonard Riccinto, vocal music director at South High School. Vanessa Helin, Becky Hewens, Diane Swanson, and Howard Wooden, all graduates of South High, are members of the YFU Chorale.

The Chorale and String Ensemble are two of several programs offered by the Youth for Understanding Teenage Exchange Program. The international headquarters is in Ann Arbor.

The program, which operates in Europe, Asia, South

America and Africa, brings foreign students to our country and sends American students overseas in cooperation with the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the Department of State of the United States.

Each Chorale and Ensemble member must qualify first as an exchange student, in addition to being recommended by his school music director and passing a musical audition. This year there are 30 Michigan and Ohio high schools represented.

In their 16 years of existence the YFU Chorales have traveled in Europe and South America, appearing in major cities and at many important festivals. The String Ensemble is in its third year.

Bruce Unwin, 16, of Moran road, is represented by a photographic study of the textures in an old wooden door. Wayne Triner, 16, of Westchester road, is represented by a moody night photo of a misty alley in the premiere exhibit of winners in the 1973 Scholastic/Kodak Photography Awards.

Unwin's picture won a $20 Honor Award in the color category and Triner's picture won a $20 Honor Award in the black-and-white category.

about 50 percent of his normal beef shipment. He said he is managing to serve his clientele and hasn't noticed any hoarding or panic buying. "People realize there is a shortage, and they are taking only what's available," Mr. Lang said. The A&P store, 17120 Kercheval, is receiving 25-50 percent of its normal beef supply, according to manager Anthony Costanza. He said people are buying more pork and poultry, usually slow sellers, to make up the difference.

Mr. Costanza said he has noticed no hoarding or panic buying, and complimented his customers on the way they've accepted the shortage. "They know there is a shortage, and there is just so much beef to go around," Mr. Costanza said. "They're buying what they can without complaining."

Going, Going... George Van, in charge of meat at Verbrugge Market, 17328 Mack, said the store was limiting the amount of beef customers could buy. "We are getting less than half our normal amount of beef," Mr. Van said. "If we limit sales, everyone can have a little."

He also said he could run out of beef sometime this week if the price freeze isn't lifted. The Village Food Market, 18330 Mack, is running below its normal amount of beef, according to Alex Bell, and they also could run out this week.

"When it's gone, it's gone," said Mr. Bell. "Why prolong the agony?" Go Fishing? Frank Orlando, of the Alexander and Polen Meat Market, 19337 Mack, said he stocked up on beef because he knew the shortage was coming. He said many people had been panic buying because of stories about the shortage.

"The people are scared," Mr. Orlando said. "I had a lady in here this morning who bought a whole side of beef." Mr. Orlando said he would be able to keep his store open through August, but was uncertain what would happen after that.

"We might just have to close up and go fishing," he added. Tony Schulte, assistant manager at Farmer Jack's, 20382 Mack, said he has been receiving less than 50 percent of his beef supply. "We get five shipments of meat a week," Mr. Schulte said.

Cottage Hospital's family album went on display this week.

More than 1,000 photographs of the hospital's "alumni" — men, women and children who were born there — are arranged by decades in a large leather-bound album. The huge book is exhibited on a table in the hospital lobby.

On the first page is a picture of Albert Dean Beaupre, of St. Clair Shores, who was the sixth baby to be born at Cottage. He arrived September 18, 1919, just seven months after the hospital was founded. The last pages of the album are filled with pictures of babies born in the 1970's.

"These pictures were collected two years ago, just before the dedication of the hospital's new wing in November 1971," said Ralph L. Wilgarde, Cottage administrator. "They were mounted on large screens and exhibited through the six-day dedication ceremonies."

"We are greatly indebted to the late Mrs. Beatrice Block, a member of the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital," he went on, "because she laboriously removed the photographs from the screens so that we might mount them in the album."

said, "and they have been getting smaller. "I don't see how things can get much worse."

Not Making Money Sam Hakim, who runs the Food Basket, 20915 Mack, said he hasn't had any problems stocking beef so far. "It might be better if I run out of beef," Mr. Hakim said. "The way prices are now I'm not making any money on it anyway."

He was uncertain what would happen in the coming weeks, but was confident that things would work out. "We can make up for the lack of beef by selling more lamb and pork," Mr. Ferdinand said. Lee McMonigle of Hamlin's, 89 Kercheval, said so far he hasn't had any trouble getting beef, but added he wasn't certain about the future.

His comments summed up the feelings of most of the area's merchants. "It all depends on Uncle Sam," Mr. McMonigle said. "If he lifts the freeze, we're okay. If he doesn't, well, we won't have any beef."

Six Courts

"Mr. Hallmann found that the Detroit Parks and Recreation Department had conducted an exhaustive survey and tests of different surfacing materials. After its study, Detroit's department recommended, as far as player acceptance and general all around maintenance were concerned, that plexipave was the best material." Mr. Petersen added he and Mr. Hallmann based their recommendation to the council on the Detroit report, which totaled over 60 pages.

In a June 26 memo to Mr. Petersen, Mr. Hallmann reported the tennis facilities director at the Jeffersonian Apartment Building told him plexipave has been on their courts for the last eight years with no trouble and very little wear.

William Briggs, director of the parks and recreation department in Detroit, told Mr. Hallmann the plexipave courts are all in fine condition and are preferred by Motor City tennis players. At the meeting, a discussion was held between the council and the residents on the possibility of constructing more courts in the future.

Mr. Pinkos told the residents this matter is under consideration by the Committee of the Whole. He wanted "to move it along" with other needed recreational improvements for the community, which includes improvement of the swimming pool and marina at Lakefront Park.

The residents also expressed concern about a better policing policy of the courts, plus the factor of court availability for everyone. These matters are scheduled to be looked into by the administration and the parks and recreation department.

Oil Spill on Newcastle road Leads to Violation

An oil slick in front of a Newcastle road residence during a heavy rainstorm Wednesday afternoon, August 1, led to the issuance of a violation to Pointe Dodge. It was for injurious material found on thoroughfares, deposit of (oil in street). The dealership's court date is scheduled for Wednesday, September 5.

The violation was sent by certified mail to the dealership's new address, 18001 Mack avenue, on Friday, August 3. Pointe Dodge once occupied the building at 18291 Mack, near Newcastle. The structure is scheduled to be utilized by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company for a service store.

Due to the heavy rain, then in progress, water from Newcastle road was draining towards the home of John Chivas where a flood situation was developing, said Woods Public Safety Officer Albert Abend in his report. The water had a large quantity of oil which Mr. Chivas said was coming from Pointe Dodge.

A check of the indoor service area showed a large amount of oil and water covering the floor from the area of the grease rack to the Newcastle overhead doors to the driveway approach, police said. From there, the mixture went to the curb line and followed a path to the vicinity of Mr. Chivas' home where the waste was over the curbs.

A Pointe Dodge employe told Lieutenant Allan Selby every time there's a heavy rainfall, this mixture bubbles out of the drains within the service area. Police immediately notified the highway department to open the drains near Mr. Chivas' home, and the street was then flushed by the department's apparatus.

The following afternoon, (August 2), Lieutenant Selby went to Pointe Dodge to check on the condition of the immediate area. He requested an employe to cover the oil inside the building with some absorbent material for containment purposes.

Upon inspecting the area, the lieutenant found waste oil still running out under an overhead door on the building's west side. This oil had created a large, dangerous slick on the alley at the rear of the building, police said.

In addition, vehicles leaving the building had carried oil onto the street and sidewalk at the structure's south end, (Newcastle road).

Lieutenant Selby, in his report, said it was his opinion this condition was potentially injurious to persons walking, driving and riding bicycles on Newcastle and in the alley. So, he contacted a Department of Public Works stand-by man to put sand on the oil at the rear of Pointe Dodge.

This oil spillage isn't the first one in that area. Around 30 Newcastle road residents complained of a similar incident involving Pointe Dodge at The Woods' regular council meeting Monday, July 2. This spillage occurred during a rainstorm Thursday, June 28.

Park Sets Day Of Fun Aug. 19

The Park's Family Fun-fastic Day is set for Sunday, August 19. The day will consist of games, races and prizes for all ages.

Highlights of the event will be the goldfish chase and penny scramble for the children, and a greased watermelon pushing contest for both children and adults.

A schedule of all activities for ages two through 102, will be available at the Windmill Pointe Park gatehouse on the 19th. The exact time and area for each individual event will be listed.

The fun will begin at 12 noon for all Park residents and their guests who want to participate.

Focus on Dodge Estate

He asked the council that hearing dates be established as soon as possible to expedite the Dodge estate matter.

City's Views City Mayor John King was present at the meeting to give The City's views on the Rose Terrace development. "Rose Terrace is away from the main area of The Farms but is in the prime residential area of The City."

He cited the Ranger property which abuts the Dodge estate and is of comparative size.

Mayor King asked the council to consider the "overall concept of Grosse Pointe" when making their decision. He stated he would hate to see Grosse Pointe become another Chicago Lakeshore.

He mentioned The City Council had rejected condominium building on the Hoffman estate in The City. It is now a subdivision with single family homes being built.

Mayor King felt if one of the Grosse Pointes built condominiums, it would start a trend of condominiums and high rises, which would compound traffic and sewer problems along Lakeshore and Jefferson.

In addition, Mayor King felt if Rose Terrace were developed into condominium units, the Rangers also would petition to establish condominiums on their property, resulting in 720 feet of condominium frontage on Jefferson.

Mayor King said parking and spacing must be taken into consideration with at least two car spaces provided for each dweller. And he believed traffic would be a problem since Jefferson avenue is relatively narrow at the Dodge estate.

The matter was adjourned for two weeks, during which time The Farms Council will establish procedures and ground rules for site plan review. The developers will be notified as to the necessary plans for review presentation.

Park Woman Thwarts Thief

A 34-year-old Lakepointe road woman, alone in a bedroom, heard a noise around 4 a.m. Monday, August 5, jumped-up and discovered a cat burglar standing in her midst.

Her scream chased the thief to a second floor porch from which he jumped and disappeared into the darkness, according to Park Lieutenant Gordon Duncan.

The male culprit was described at around 5'6" tall and of a medium build. No loss was reported to police.

Sears Manager Thwarts Second Bad Check Artist

Eddie J. Lloyd, 25, of 2148 Algonquin, Detroit, was bound over for a Wednesday, August 15, trial in Wayne County Circuit Court, following a hearing in The Farms Municipal Court Wednesday, August 1, on a charge of uttering and publishing. City Municipal Judge Douglas Paterson presided in the absence of Judge Robert Pytell.

Lloyd is accused in a warrant, approved by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office, of attempting to pass a stolen check in the amount of $198.56, drawn on the National Bank of Detroit, at the Sears Store, Mack and Morris. The offense occurred on Friday, July 27.

Farms Det. Earl Field said Lloyd had cashed a Whittier-Balfour Arco check for more than $190 at the store on the July date, and returned later that afternoon to try to cash another of the gas station's checks. The second try was thwarted by the store manager, who detained Lloyd and called Farms authorities.

Lloyd was arrested by Patrolman Gordon Evans, who also arrested a second man, identified as David A. Donaldson, 25, of 4890 Canyon, Detroit, when Lloyd was permitted to go out to a waiting car, in which Donaldson was sitting, to notify him of his predicament.

When Evans asked Donaldson for identification and for a registration proving the ownership of the car, Donaldson was unable to present the items. He was then taken into custody.

Lloyd and Donaldson were taken to the station, and Field was called to interrogate the pair.

At 10:45 p.m., Field said, while questioning the two men, he received a phone call from the owner of the Whittier-Balfour Arco gas station, 9935 Whittier, Detroit. The owner stated that several blank checks had been stolen from his office.

The detective sent a teletype message to Lansing on the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) machine. The return information revealed that Donaldson was wanted on a $500 traffic warrant bond by Detroit authorities.

The gas station owner said he did not know Lloyd, but Donaldson was a part-time employee at his place of business. Donaldson was released to Detroit authorities on their warrant.

Lloyd was arraigned for a preliminary hearing before Judge Pytell on Saturday, July 28, and detained in the local cell in default of $5,000 cash bond, pending the August 1 examination. The bond was cancelled by Judge Paterson when it was found that Lloyd was a parole violator, and he was bound over to Circuit Court without bond. Lloyd's parole officer placed a hold on him.

According to information released by Field, Lloyd entered the Sears store almost at closing time to try and cash the second check, which was made out to, and endorsed by, the accused man.

A woman cashier notified the store manager the man had been in the store earlier, and on presentation of real identification, had a check cashed in the amount of $192. It was this that aroused the suspicion of the manager, who detained Lloyd and called police.

This incident occurred eight days after another phony check artist tried to cash a bogus check for $149.40 drawn on the Manufacturers Bank. This man was identified as being Curtis E. Sanders, 24, of Cloverlawn, Detroit.

When a woman cashier went to the manager's office to inform him of the amount of the check, the manager became suspicious and went out to talk to the suspect. Sanders, on seeing the manager, ran out the front door.

Farms Approve Transceiver Bid

The Farms Council, at its meeting on Monday, August 6, approved a bid from General Electric to furnish the city with six portable, hand-held transceivers.

Of the bids received and reviewed, General Electric cited the lowest figure of $4,920, $820 per radio transceiver.

About 75 per cent of the monies for the transceivers comes from federal funds, the remaining 25 per cent comes from the community. The money was set aside in last year's radio budget.

'Open Bottle' Means Trouble

The so-called "Open Bottle Bill" is fair warning to motorists who drink as they drive. In fact, it also is a warning to any passengers who drink intoxicating beverages in a vehicle on the public highways.

The law took immediate effect Wednesday, July 11, when Public Act 49 was signed into law by Governor William C. Milliken.

It states "a person shall not transport or possess any alcoholic liquor in a container which is open, uncapped, or upon which the seal is broken, within the passenger compartment of a vehicle on the highways of this state. If the vehicle does not have a trunk or compartment separate from the passenger compartment, a container which is open, uncapped, or upon which the seal is broken shall be encased or enclosed."

According to Colonel John R. Plants, director, Michigan State Police, Public Act 49 is actually an amendment to the 1933 Michigan statutes dealing with liquor control and traffic.

Colonel Plants stated, "There is some confusion I think in the public mind about this law. The law previously stated that you cannot consume alcoholic beverages on the highway. This still is the case. Only now, we have strengthened it by adding the 'open container' amendment to the existing law. Hopefully this will help the enforcement problem."

"In the past, even though the intent of the law has been quite clear, an officer had to literally see a person drinking liquor, beer or any alcoholic beverages in the highway before an offense could be charged."

The law, which was requested by the Michigan State Police, is considered another enforcement tool in the attack on the drinking driver, who is involved in 50 percent of Michigan's fatal traffic accidents. It is now being enforced.

According to information released by Field, Lloyd entered the Sears store almost at closing time to try and cash the second check, which was made out to, and endorsed by, the accused man.

A woman cashier notified the store manager the man had been in the store earlier, and on presentation of real identification, had a check cashed in the amount of $192. It was this that aroused the suspicion of the manager, who detained Lloyd and called police.

This incident occurred eight days after another phony check artist tried to cash a bogus check for $149.40 drawn on the Manufacturers Bank. This man was identified as being Curtis E. Sanders, 24, of Cloverlawn, Detroit.

When a woman cashier went to the manager's office to inform him of the amount of the check, the manager became suspicious and went out to talk to the suspect. Sanders, on seeing the manager, ran out the front door.

The manager and another employe chased Sanders for more than a half a mile before apprehending him and returning him to the store. Sanders was released to Field, who was dispatched to Sears. This incident took place Thursday, July 19.

The detective said Sanders used identification belonging to a James E. Malchow, Jr., of Southfield, which was either found or stolen.

Sanders, it was said, took this identification to a branch of the Secretary of State's Office, and obtained a temporary driver's permit using Malchow's full name and address.

Sanders put his own picture on the permit and placed his thumb print on the back of the document. The print proved the suspect's true identity.

The manager said he became suspicious and called the bank, and an official informed him the check was fraudulent.

Field obtained a warrant from the Prosecutor's Office and Sanders was arraigned before Judge Pytell for a preliminary hearing Friday, July 20. The man was released on $10,000 personal bond over the objections of Field. A personal bond requires no sureties or cash, only the signature of the accused.

He was to have appeared for examination before Judge Pytell on August 1, but the examination has been postponed to a later date.

A conviction of uttering and publishing, (forging of legal documents), can mean up to 14 years in prison.

Here's a baseball riddle you can have some fun with... How can a team get three triples and three singles in one inning, and still not score a run? ... Answer: First two men triple and are out at the plate trying for an inside-the-park homer... Next man triples and stays at third... Next two men get infield singles with the runner holding third... Last man smacks a ground ball that hits runner going from first to second... Batter gets credit for a hit, but runner is out, making three triples, three singles, three outs... and no run!

Did you know there used to be big league baseball teams with the nicknames of "Spiders," "Bees" and "Blue Jays"? ... Do you know which teams had these names? ... "Spiders" was the early nickname for Cleveland's team... The Braves were known as "Bees" in the 1930's... And the Phillies changed their name to "Blue Jays" at one time in the 1940's.

Do you have any idea what was the smallest city ever to have a big league baseball team? ... Answer is Troy, N.Y. ... Troy was in the National League from 1879 to 1882.

I bet you didn't know that Ted Ewald Chevrolet according to Chevrolet Motor Division rankings, earned the number 1 position in customer sales satisfaction in the metropolitan area.

Bank Features Ethnic 'Fest' Photos of Pointer

Detroit Bank and Trust will exhibit 48 color photographs in its main office lobby from Monday, August 6, through Friday, August 31. The photos present exotic sights and mysteries of the world through pictorial interpretations of Detroit's Ethnic Festivals from the past two years.

The photographs are the works of Barbara M. Angelo, of Southfield, and her father, Frederick McGraw, of The Park, both of whom are international award-winning photographers.

Selected from hundreds of color transparencies, the prints in the exhibit range in size from 16- by 20-inches to 20- by 24-inches. Thirty-eight of the photographs have never been seen before.

Both Mrs. Angelo and Mr. McGraw travel extensively and work as a team. Detroit's ethnic festivals, however, give them an opportunity to photograph the crafts, cultures and cuisine of many nations without leaving their home town.

They also are known for their travelogues, which are narrated on tape with background music. These films have been shown locally to groups, such as the Women's City Club, Grosse Pointe Cinema League, Grosse Pointe War Memorial, Motor City Camera Club and the Birmingham Community Center.

Mr. McGraw holds a Juris Doctor's degree from the University of Michigan Law School and is a past president of the Detroit Bar Association. He is well known to numerous, leading attorneys throughout the country and has both taught law and maintained a private practice. He was the former City Attorney of The Park and St. Clair Shores.

In addition, Mr. McGraw has been a member of the Photographic Society of America for more than 20 years and a member of the Grosse Pointe Camera Club for over 25 years.

Mrs. Angelo received her photographic training from her father and Edward A. Ketterer, well known to area photographers for years because of his historic work in refining rotogravure printing techniques. Mrs. Angelo has been involved extensively in photography since 1963.

Their publication credits include features they have done in The Detroit News, Detroit Free Press and Michigan Motor News.

Major Medical

Under major medical insurance, all regular full-time employees will have group hospitalization and surgical insurance with a $2 deductible prescription rider clause, a major medical clause and an eye care plan, with dependents being covered.

The contract also contains improvements in funeral leave. In the event of the death of a husband, wife, child, step-child, mother or father, the employee will receive, without loss of pay, a leave period not to exceed five days.

Mr. Petersen and Anthony Gauresimo, director of the Department of Public Works, were city negotiating representatives. Union "reps" included Mr. Goodhan, Thomas Melton, international representative of Council 23, Albert Krulock, DPW worker, Diane Kamper, clerk-dispatcher, and employe John Endres.

Civic Group Picks Officers

New officers and directors were elected to the Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association at a recent breakfast meeting at Jacobsons, 17030 Kercheval.

Harold Horen of Walton-Pierce was elected association president and E. J. Hickey of E. J. Hickey Company was elected treasurer. Directors chosen were Dan Lemanske, Notre Dame Pharmacy; Richard Gardner, National Bank of Detroit; Paul Nelson, Jacobsons, and Larry Carlson, Kresges.

The association stresses civic responsibility by the Village merchants, and provides parking for employes and customers. Activities of the association include beautification programs for the Village and major promotions throughout the year such as the traditional "Santa Claus Arrival" and "Men's Night."

Pointers Win in Flint Net Tournament

Seven young Pointers participated in the Flint Junior Tennis Tournament held Wednesday-Saturday, August 1-4 in Flint. They were victorious in five out of the seven matches played.

In the Boys 18 Doubles match, Mark Thompson of The Park and Doug Bengals of Birmingham defeated Jeff Coggins and Scott Graves of Flint, 6-2, 6-1.

The Boys 18 Singles was won by Kevin Bolar of Detroit, over Mark Thompson, 2-6, 6-4, 6-0.

The Boys Singles was taken by Robert Sorscher of Flint, winning over Drew Mascarin of The Shores, 6-1, 6-4.

Julie McClure of The Farms defeated Pam Bacon of Birmingham, 6-4, 6-4 in the Girls 18 Singles.

Miss McClure also was victorious in the Girls 18 Doubles along with Ginger Horne, also of The Farms. They defeated Mary Jane Lang and Ruth Lang of Flint, 6-3, 6-3.

The Girls 14 Doubles was won by Susan Marcarin of

The Shores and Maggie Godfrey of Ann Arbor, who defeated Debbie and Diane Bland of Flint, 6-0, 6-0.

Anna VanWalghem of The Woods took the Girls 13 Singles, winning over Vicki Narde of Flint, 6-4, 6-3.

Pointe Veterans to Obtain Checks Faster

Pointe veterans should be aware of a new Veterans Administration computer program to speed checks to G.I. Bill students...

VA computers will automatically generate a package of papers to veterans. These include a Certificate of Eligibility (COE)...

The package also will tell veterans their remaining G.I. Bill eligibility time, about counseling and tutorial services...

Mr. Johnson said under the new concept, veterans can complete the application and present it, along with the COE, to school officials...

When veterans request advance payment on the application forms, checks will be waiting at the institution for delivery to them upon registration.

Schools with approved courses for veterans have been notified of the new form and procedure.

GPSSA Teams Tie for First

Three Grosse Pointe Softball Association (GPSSA) division A teams finished in a tie for first place after concluding regular season play.

Schavi's, Art Van and Carissimi finished at 14-4, followed by the Fontana Brothers at 10-8...

Keg-A-Brew claimed top spot in division B action with a 12-7 mark. The Marauders finished a close second at 11-8...

In last weekend's play Keg-A-Brew won two of three contests. They blasted the A's, 7-0, on Saturday...

Then, Keg-A-Brew dumped the Marauders, 13-8, on Sunday, August 5.

Art Van defeated the Binjers, 6-4, and the Marauders nipped the Challengers, 8-7, in other action Saturday.

The GPSSA will feature playoff competition beginning the weekend of August 11-12.

DYC Ends Lochmoor's Reign As Swim Champions

The Detroit Yacht Club Swim Team reached their ultimate goal Sunday, August 5, by winning the Michigan Inter-Club Swimming Association Championship with a total of 587 points.

The insurance to take victory, Pointers Sara Brieden took a gold medal and a new league record in the girls' 10 year and under 25M fly with a time of 17.17.

Other DYC Pointers who brought home the "gold" were Laurie DeSantis and Eric Rodin. Laurie placed first in the 50M breaststroke for girls 11 and 12 years. She also placed third in the 50M free, winning a bronze medal. Eric won the 50M breaststroke for boys 13 and 14 years, and also placed fifth in the 50M fly.

Third place finishers were: individual — Matt Sobieski, Betsy Brieden; relay — Eric Rodin, Nick Trost. Fourth Placers: relay — Sandy Fires, Nancy Wittwer, Laurie DeSantis; individual — Joanne Pellerito, Gerri Nichols, Toby Lindheim. Fifth Placers: individual — Sue Brieden, Todd Lindheim, Nancy Wittwer.

Gives Warning On Squirrels

Every year Pointe residents of all ages take pity on local bushy tailed inhabitants and busy toiled inhabitants and provide a balance to their diet by hand feeding them. All well and good... almost.

Squirrels are not always selective in taking peanuts from your hand and just might take a bite of your finger for a second course. If you are one of the unlucky ones who is "squirrel-bitten," you're in good company...

An estimated 15 squirrel bite reports have been tabulated from January-July in The Farms. Already, four squirrels, a rabbit and a hamster have travelled the dismal road to the Health Department.

"Squirrels are nice for the community, they add a touch of nature. It's not fair to the animals," said Chief Ferber.

So the next time you have an urge to feed an optimistic squirrel—stop and think. Not only of yourself but of the blinking eyes watching you.

Time Remains For Tiger Buses

G.P. Park Swimmers Win Inter-City League Crown

For the fourth year in a row The Park Swim Team won the Inter-City League Championships held Friday, August 3, at The Woods pool.

The Park finished first in team points with 253, followed by The Woods team with 188 points for second place. St. Clair Shores and The Farms tied for third place with 187 points.

Winning the "gold" for The Park team were Tom Gaitley, (25 breast) in the 9-10 age group plus Theresa Blake, (50 back and 50 breast), and Debbie King, (50 free and 50 fly), in the 11-12 age group.

In the 13-14 age group, Megan Montagne won the 50 free and the 50 back, while Steve Swanson won the 50 free for boys.

The Park swimmers also won four of the seven relay events: the girls 12 and under medley relay comprised of Theresa Blake, Tracey Nelson, Debbie King and Tricia Richardson; the mixed medley relay comprised of Mickey Montagne, Tom Hessburg, Craig Swanson and Judy Perkins; the boys free relay made up of Steve Swanson, Mike Gaitley, Tim Nelson and Bob Czechowicz.

Aces Net Chance For Trip, Cash

Two Woods residents have qualified to win a free trip to Scotland and $1,000 in cash as a result of scoring holes-in-one at the Gowanie Golf Club.

St. James Slates Folk Service

St. James Lutheran Church, McMillan road at Kercheval Avenue, will conduct its traditional summer Folk Service with Holy Communion Thursday, August 16, at 8 p.m.

The Folk Service, with the special music led by a guitar, choir of eight young people, will offer an inspiring worship experience of joyful fellowship. Pastor George Kurz will preach the sermon on "The Parable of the Compassionate Father," (Luke 15, 20-24).

Police Divide Playoff Games

The Pointe police softball team is still alive in Macomb-Oakland Softball League playoff action after splitting two games Sunday, August 5.

After dropping a 13-11 decision to the State Police in their opener, the Pointers came back to rout their second game opponents when they scored some 20 runs to their "victims" three.

GPSC Members Swim in Meets

Several members of the Grosse Pointe Swim Club participated in the 17th Annual Water Wonderland Meet which is sponsored by the Michigan AAU.

Tom Shook placed as an alternate in the 50 backstroke. At Brennan Pools, Ray Bernard placed in nine events, won the 100, 13 and 14 backstroke event, placed second in the 50 free and the 200 backstroke at 2:31.7 and placed high in the 200 individual medley.

Jim Shook's time of 1:25.5 in the boys' 100-meter breaststroke was good for fourth place to put him in the finals in boys 12 and 14.

Dearborn Country Club took fourth place with 432 points, Birmingham AC was fifth with 431, Oakland Hills CC was sixth with 348, and Grosse Pointe Yacht Club came in seventh with 331.

Plum Hollow finished second in the meet with 482 points while Lochmoor took third with 442. Three of Lochmoor's swimmers were individual gold medal winners.

Tom Filgo took the 15 and 16 boys' 50M free in 26:55.2 and was fourth in the 50M fly. Pam Hallman and Julie Eugenio each won two gold medals. Pam placed first in the girls' 15 and 16 year 50M fly and teamed up with Cheryl Stoyka, Mary Ann Bozich and Julie for a victory in the 200 M free girls' relay.

Dearborn Country Club took fourth place with 432 points, Birmingham AC was fifth with 431, Oakland Hills CC was sixth with 348, and Grosse Pointe Yacht Club came in seventh with 331.

Three Pointers will be turning the turf on Western Michigan University's football team this season. Senior guard Jim Parker, 21, junior tackle Roger Ulmer, 20, and freshman guard Jack Reinelt, 18, hope to help WMU improve its 1972 mark of 7-3-1 this year.

Parker, who is 6-4 and weighs 235 pounds, has demonstrated ability but has been bothered by injuries over the last two years. He was an all-league grinder and basketball player at South High and was "MVP" on both teams.

The 6-3, 225-pound Ulmer has shown signs of potential but needs more experience and consistency, according to WMU's football fact book.

One View From The Capitol
 By William R. Bryant, Jr.

The State Legislature is out of session for a while now. The saying which appears on one of my colleague's doors reads, "No man's life, liberty or property is safe while the legislature is in session."

To me, the reason which that statement is true is that legislators tend to want to do things and show their constituents they are doing things. To the extent the legislature is a full time body, as our has nearly become, this means there are 148 legislators pushing their own bills and bills they feel would be to their credit.

Many Bills
 There are about 4,000 bills introduced in the State House and about 1,500 in the Senate each term. Fortunately, only a much smaller number pass, many are similar and many are minor bills correcting or updating older laws.

But, this huge number of bills does include many major, substantive proposals. Pending now, for example, is a housing code, a revised Probate Code, a revised criminal code and, by fall, a revised mental health code.

Others pending are major bills which regulate the day-to-day lives of businesses, seek to protect consumers against fraud and against themselves and otherwise seek to "protect" people from supposed wrongs of others.

Natural Reaction
 The basic cause of over-legislation, other than a full-time legislature, is in the natural reaction to problems. By this, I mean when a substantial number of similar situations arise which it seems should not happen, or that should be illegal or at least controlled, the tendency is to pass a general law to somehow correct this defect in human relation-

What Goes On at Your Library
 By Virginia Leonard

Robert M. Orr, director of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries, is no longer with us. He expired Wednesday, August 1, after a long and courageous bout with cancer. We shall all miss him; the libraries will never be quite the same.

Twenty-one years ago I walked into The Park Branch, (which at that time was the Main Library), looking for a job. I'd worked some time at the Detroit Public Library, taken some time out to produce two sons. But the lure of the library called, I felt the boys were old enough to be cared for, (one was going to school), so I was looking for a part time job. I was ushered in to meet a kindly, jovial, thoroughly nice man, the not-too-old director, and after a long interview I was offered the part-time job of cataloger, with hours that suited me very much.

The future and potential of the libraries were painted by Mr. Orr with great enthusiasm. In one year the new Central Library, at Fisher and Kercheval, would be opened, and books by the thousands had to be ordered and processed. This would be our job. The goal at that time seemed far away. As the books came zeroing in on us, box after box, Mrs. Helen Finster and I, plus clerical help, found we had our hands full. We worked in one of the large rooms in Pierce School. It was a very hot summer, there was no air conditioning, but somehow we made it on time.

Always in the background was Mr. Orr, with abounding faith, plans, hope and ardor for the project. His whole heart and soul were bound up in that new library. The opening of The Woods Branch had been a shot in the arm that winter, and we could almost taste and smell what fun it would be, (not to mention the hard work), to have a brand new library!

The new library was opened on schedule, and I have never seen any one as pleased as Mr. Orr was. He had a new office and could hardly wait to put some of his plans, hopes and ambitions into action. From then on, during the rest of his entire lifetime, he seemed to put the libraries, their problems, their successes, their personnel, ahead of everything and everyone else. He was always ready to listen to your difficulties, suggestions and small successes or failures. He felt that the very best service to the patron was our aim. He held meetings to keep the staff apprised of what was going on in the outer library world. He gave the staff a chance to present problems and triumphs.

Mr. Orr was proud of new features that were added to our basic collection. Witness the burgeoning of the Audio Visual Department, which started out only as "some records." He was so proud of our unique tool collection, (a gift from the Rotary Club), the art prints, etc. His Book Reviews and Book Review Classes became well known all over the Pointes, and it was with deep regret that his health and lack of time forced him to stop giving them.

He was astute enough, when his expansion plans failed, to move all of the books out in the open where the public could have access to them, move the Processing Department upstairs into these now-empty rooms, and give the AV Department a home of its own. The balcony was enlarged to accommodate more easily the director's secretary, her staff and the Friends secretary.

The only way one can pay tribute adequately to Mr. Orr is to wind some of the history of the library into the tapestry of my column, since he was indeed Mr. Grosse Pointe Public Library itself. He felt keenly its defeats, he thoroughly enjoyed its successes. To various outside meetings I'm sure he took his joie de vivre and faith, so that other librarians and community groups picked up his great enthusiasm. He had such faith that in the end we would come through rejoicing. Of course we had some dark days — and may have more ahead of us, but I have never seen a man so thoroughly dedicated to his tasks — so joyous in carrying them out.

I've had to personalize this tribute to Mr. Robert M. Orr. I'd known him for 21 years, and always found him cooperative, helpful and friendly. I have lost a dear friend.

Letters to the Editor

(Editor's Note: This communication is in response to a letter from City Mayor John L. King, published in the August 2 edition of the NEWS. Mayor King, in turn, responded to a letter from this citizen which was published in the July 26 edition.)

Dear Sir:

This is getting to be a "debate" about Doro Construction Company. Mr. Mayor, the only reason I didn't divulge my name was because the Grosse Pointe News said it wasn't necessary as I'm a widow and want to live peaceably. I don't wish to have any repercussions from Doro's "henchmen."

No wonder Fraser and Utica citizens didn't complain. They didn't have to pay for their sidewalks — The City did. If I didn't have to pay, I wouldn't have complained either, even though they did tear up the lawn and crack up the cement that wasn't supposed to be cracked.

Mr. Mayor, take a stroll down Rivard road from Maumee to East Jefferson and particularly note the two driveways I mentioned in my previous letter, (336 Rivard and between 330-342 Rivard). Scrutinize the sidewalks and note all the patches.

What, also, is going to be done about repairing the damaged lawns? Mine is O.K. only because my daughter and I repaired it.

I love The City of Grosse

From Another Pointe of View

By Kathy Duff

A romantic "Picnic On The Grass" at the Meadow Brook Hall Gardens in Rochester has been planned by the Meadow Brook Gallery Associates for Saturday, August 18.

The picnic will be followed by a concert under the stars at the Meadow Brook Music Festival's Howard C. Baldwin Pavilion, featuring noted French pianist Philippe Entremont and the internationally renowned conductor, Hiroyuki Iwaki.

The $20-a-person ticket price will include a picnic planned by Meadow Brook Hall's gourmet caterer, Nils Johanssen, the concert at 8:30 p.m., and a year's membership to the Meadow Brook Gallery Associates, if they are not members already. $10 of the $20 is tax deductible.

Proceeds from "Picnic On The Grass" will be used to fund the Meadow Brook Art Gallery's unusual multi-media presentation of "Found Industrial Objects—Unintended Art," an exhibit that utilizes the often beautiful and dynamic forms and colors found in the industrial environment, which is planned for next October.

Short and to The Pointe

One day in the early 50's, an unknown man approached Pointer CHARLES A. J. KOTCHER, SR., to ask for financial help. He had a wife and eight children to support; he had nowhere to turn, and chanced a meeting with Mr. Kotcher because Kotcher Cadillac was in his neighborhood. Mr. Kotcher undertook this case, which was later called the Parkside Project. Other friends heard about it, and banded together to do the same . . . and thus began what is known today as the Crisis Club. When the organization was incorporated in 1956, Mr. Kotcher became the president for the following three years, and has been a trustee since. Currently, the Crisis Club has approximately 400 business and professional men who anonymously aid persons who have reached a financial crisis. On Tuesday, July 17, the Grosse Pointe Crisis Club held their annual summer outing and golf tournament at the St. Clair River Country Club. It was a day of great honor when Mr. Kotcher received a certificate from the Common Council of the City of Detroit, a key to the City and a certificate from Mayor Gribbs, and a plaque from the Grosse Pointe Crisis Club.

MRS. KAY KIRBY, of McMillan road, was named to a two-year appointment as editor of the Michigan AAUW Bulletin and member of the Board of Directors for the Michigan Division of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. Kirby previously served the Michigan Division as Legislative Chairman and Area Representative for Education. A graduate of Michigan State University, Mrs. Kirby was Women's Editor of the Birmingham Eccentric, a correspondent for the Associated Press, and a freelance writer for the Detroit News and other area newspapers.

Exciting Year for Detroit Symphony

Many New Musical Offerings Included in 1973-74 Concert Schedule; Thursday and Saturday Night Concerts Continue to Stress Classical

Twenty-two first Detroit Symphony performances are listed for the Orchestra's 1973-74 subscription concert season, which opens Thursday, September 20. Among this number are works by jazz great Dave Brubeck and the 18th Century French-Afro composer Chevalier de St. Georges.

Newly announced additions to the 1973-74 Detroit Symphony Orchestra's exciting concert season include the following: The new Zodiac Series, designed especially for college students and with appeal for the young single crowd, will feature 7:30 p.m. Prelude programs before each of four Friday evening 8:30 concert dates.

The Preludes are offered without additional charge to Zodiac concertgoers, many of whom will qualify for half-price student subscriptions. Highlighting a Friday, October 19, date will be a performance of "Carmina Burana" by Orff, Rafael Fruhbeck de Burgos conducting.

The Prelude that evening will be "The Art of Spanish Piano," featuring pianist Enrique Perez de Guzman. On Friday, November 23, when the Orchestra will be conducted by Paul Freeman, the pre-concert Prelude will be a panel of experts addressing themselves to the subject of "The Black Influence on Symphonic Music."

An all-Brubeck program on Friday, January 18, will be preceded by "Jazz in Art," a Prelude featuring Dave Brubeck. The final Zodiac concert of the season, which will be conducted by Aldo Ceccato will feature a 7:30 p.m. Prelude performance of Debussy's String Quartet. Orchestra members Bogos Mortechnikian, violin; James Waring, violin; David Ireland, viola and Mario DiFiore, cello, will perform.

Two special seasonal concerts also have been added to the 1973-74 schedule. A Christmas "Pops" Concert, conducted by Richard Hayman, is planned for Friday evening, December 14, at 8:30. The Rackham Symphony Choir will be featured with the Orchestra in songs of the season. On Sunday afternoon, April 7, at 3:30, a Pension Fund Palm Sunday Concert will be conducted by Paul Freeman, the Orchestra's Conductor-in-Residence.

There's 'HOPE' For Yacht Club

It was Showboat '73 at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Saturday night, August 4, as helicopters, parachute jumpers and jets added to the excitement already created by the many club members participating in the parade.

The boat that won first place was the Good Ship HOPE owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kalin. As his guests and partakers of the hospital scene were Dr. and Mrs. Jerry DiMasio, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Bruno, Colonel and Mrs. Don Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haney, all of Grosse Pointe.

All aboard were dressed for surgery and the operation was a complete success on the bow of the ship!

Miss Graves Wed In Historic Church

Couple Now at Home in West Roxbury, Mass., While Both Complete Graduate Studies

Boston's Old North Church was the setting for the wedding of Christina Adrienne Graves, of Buckingham road, and Theodore John Southgate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Southgate, of Riverton, N.J., on Tuesday, June 26. The Reverend Robert Gollege, Vicar of Old North, officiated at the 10 o'clock rites, assisted by A. Edward Southgate, Patriarch of the Philadelphia Stake, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, the bridegroom's grandfather. A luncheon reception followed at the Wellesley College Club, Wellesley, Mass.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of organza and silk organza. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a Camelot headpiece of pearls and matching lace, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses, daisies, and baby's breath.

Susan Patricia Converse, of Riverside, Conn., was maid of honor, wearing a long white organza Empire gown, embroidered with green leaves and Venise point lace.

Identically gowned in long white cambric dresses figured with red and blue flowers were matrons of honor Mrs. J. Willis Graves, the bride's sister-in-law, of Grand Haven, Mich., and Mrs. Lawrence L. Martin, of Lingsburg, Mich., and bridesmaids Janet Weeks Brinkerhoff, of Hartford, Conn., and Rebecca Jean Southgate, sister of the bridegroom, of Cinnaminson, N.J.

The bride's mother wore a long Empire gown of green chiffon with a Mandarin collar. Mrs. Southgate wore a long gown of flowered voile over taffeta with a cowl collar. Both mothers wore corsages of white cymbidium orchids.

The duties of best man were shared by the bride's brother, James Willis Graves, of Grand Haven, Mich., and Michael John Anderson, of Philadelphia, Pa. The bride's younger brother, John David Nicholas Graves, ushered with Edward Emerson Kriebel, of Norristown, Pa., and John Charles Richmond, of Hingham, Mass.

The bride is a graduate of the Emma Willard School, in Troy, N.Y., and of Wellesley College, where she was a Wellesley College Scholar. She is currently a graduate student of Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary in South Hamilton, Mass.

The bridegroom was graduated magna cum laude in 1971 from the University of Pennsylvania, where he was affiliated with Phi Kappa Sigma. He is currently completing his Ph.D. in mathematics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The couple will live in West Roxbury, Mass., while completing their studies. They plan a fall wedding trip to the Virgin Islands.

Art Museum Offers Elite Tour of Spain

Grosse Pointers are perhaps some of the best traveled persons in the country, and as such are of special interest to William A. Bostick, administrator of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

As a fund-raising activity for the museum, "España Esplendida" is offered by the Founders Society to one or two Pointe couples who would like to spend $3,260 for a three-week great art and food tour of Spain beginning Wednesday, September 5.

A donation of $350 to the museum is included in the two-person cost. Mr. Bostick, an art historian and gourmet, will act as tour guide. He may be reached at 831-0360.

Mrs. Theodore Southgate

CHRISTINA ADRIENNE GRAVES, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Henry Graves, of Buckingham road, became the bride of Theodore John Southgate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Southgate, of Riverton, N.J., on Tuesday, June 26, in Boston's Old North Church.

'Welcome' Club Plans Lunch

Members of the Welcome Wagon of Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods are currently planning their Annual Scholarship Benefit Luncheon-Fashion Show to be held Thursday, October 25, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom.

Proceeds from the annual event are directed towards nursing scholarships. Recipients of present nursing scholarships are Denise Pilon, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital;

Suzanne Sullivan, at Ford Hospital; and Holly Lab-singer who has attended Wayne State University and who is going on to Bronson to earn her degree. The Annual Luncheon and Fashion Show is the main source of revenue.

The Club hopes to have approximately 250 to 300 women at the October luncheon. Persons wishing to advertise in the fashion show program should contact Betty Selden, 19792 Edshire lane, 881-7558.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Lescohier, of Bedford road, announce the engagement of Mrs. Lescohier's daughter, KAREN MARIE KRISTOPIK, to Maruin James Knorp.

The bride-elect was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School in 1972. She is currently employed by the J. L. Hudson Company.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Knorp, of Royal Oak, was graduated from Kimball High School in 1971. He is presently studying architecture at Lawrence Institute of Technology and is employed by Beaver Precision Products.

The couple plan a home wedding next July.

Catherine Hayes Bride on June 30

Couple at Home in Fort Wayne Following Wedding Trip to Paradise Island in the Bahamas

At a 5 o'clock ceremony in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church Saturday, June 30, Catherine Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Hayes, of Oxford road, exchanged wedding vows with David Robert Tyler, of Fort Wayne, Ind. The bridegroom's parent are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tyler, of Flushing, Mich.

Dr. John Olert officiated at the rites which were followed by a champagne dinner reception in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The bride selected a white silk organza gown fashioned with an Alencon lace applique bodice and long full sleeves repeating the applique lace motif. Her full skirt fell from a fitted waistline to a chapel train. An Alencon lace headpiece held her silk illusion finger-tip veil. She carried a cascade of white rosebuds and stephanotis, accented with elegance carnations and ivy.

Serving as her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Stephen Anderson, of Mt. Pleasant, wore a lavender and pink floral silk organza halter dress with matching elbow-length cape. Her cascade bouquet of elegance carnations, fern, starflowers and ivy, was tied with deep purple velvet ribbon matching the bow in her hair.

Dressed identically were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Steven Jackson, of Lansing, and Becky Sue Tyler, of Flushing, sisters of the groom; Mrs. Michael Bos, of Holland, formerly Chris Carlson of Grosse Pointe, and Barbara Bachtel, of Columbus, Ohio, a Michigan State sorority sister.

Flower girl, Molly Brown, of Lansing, wore a pink silk organza gown with lace-embroidered ruffles from waist to the floor. She carried a white wicker basket of elegance carnations and fern. Bearing the rings on a satin pillow the bride's parents had used in their wedding, was the cousin of the bride, Christopher Jones, of Port Huron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Jones, formerly of Grosse Pointe.

Timothy Tyler, of Flushing, acted as his brother's best man. The ushers included John Paul Hayes, brother of the bride; brothers-in-law, Steven Jackson, of Lansing, and Stephen Anderson, of

Mrs. David R. Tyler

Married at a 5 o'clock ceremony in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church on Saturday, June 30, were CATHERINE HAYES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Hayes, of Oxford road, and David Robert Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tyler, of Flushing, Mich.

Mt. Pleasant; and Craig Calvert, of Augusta, Ga., a fraternity brother of the bridegroom at Michigan State.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hayes chose a long lavender and pink floral silk organza gown made with self-ruffled scoop neck, long sleeves ruffled at the wrist, and lavender velvet ribbon at the waist. Her wrist corsage was cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Tyler's pink silk jersey suit dress was fashioned with a long accordion-pleated skirt and gold-belted jacket. She wore a gardenia corsage. After a wedding trip to Paradise Island in the Bahamas, the couple is at home in Fort Wayne where Mr. Tyler is associated with the Allen County Planning Commission.

Speaking in the evening symposium at the 1973 Raoul Wallenberg Lectures at The University of Michigan College of Architecture and Design in October is Pointer WILLIAM KESSLER, an architect, a fellow of the American Institute of Architects and the designer of many award-winning buildings.

Symphony Presents Series of Free Concerts

Pointers who enjoy melodies from Broadway, favorite arias from the world's most beloved operas and the music of Tchaikovsky, all presented in a summery outdoor setting, should take advantage of the 1973 Detroit Symphony Summer Music Theatre, Thursday, August 23, through Sunday, September 2. The free outdoor performances, which begin at 8 p.m., will once again be conducted by the Orchestra's conductor-in-residence, Paul Freeman.

Scheduled in three Detroit locations, the series is presented in co-operation with the City of Detroit Parks and Recreation Department.

First stop for the Orchestra and eleven guest vocalists will be Belle Isle (Remick Memorial Music Shell) on Thursday through Sunday, August 23, 24, 25 and 26. A sequence of three programs will be performed, repeating the second program on August 26.

The second week of Summer Music Theatre opens at Mercy College on August 28, 29 and 30, then concludes with August 31, September 1 and 2 performances at Rouge Park near Joy Road and Lahser.

The three programs and their performance dates are as follows:

Program 1—(August 23, 28 and 31) Excerpts from Bizet's "Carmen" the finale of Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4, selections from Lerner and Loewe's "Gigi" and Bock and Ripley's "Fiddler on the Roof."

Program 2—August 24, 29 and September 1) Excerpts from Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci," Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture" plus selections from Jerome Kern's "Showboat."

Program 3—(August 25, 30 and September 2) Excerpts from Puccini's "La Boheme," the third movement from Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6 and selections from Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma" and "The King and I."

Exhibiting their work at the second St. Clair Art Fair last weekend were Pointers ALICE BALFREY, CHLOE BOEM, BETTE PRUDDEN and LEO SALVAGGIO, JR.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT J. FRY, JR., of Alexandria, Va., announce the birth of their first child, a son, ROBERT JAMES, III, on July 10. Mrs. Fry is the former JANE HELLWIG, daughter of MR. and MRS. JIM HELLWIG, of Kenmore drive. Paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. ROBERT J. FRY, of Saginaw, Mich.

Sally Slater Bride In June Wedding

Couple Are Making Their Home in Kent, O., as Bridegroom Completes Senior Year at Kent State University

Now at home in Kent, O., after their Saturday, June 23, wedding in the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church are Mr. and Mrs. Timothy John Rosberg.

For her 7 o'clock wedding, at which the Reverend Roy Hutcheon presided, the former Sally Elizabeth Slater selected a gown of white organza with Scheffli embroidery forming the bodice and short, two-tiered, sleeves.

Her attached chapel train was finished with bands of embroidery at the hem. A cap of matching embroidery held her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Slater, of Lewiston road, carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses.

Serving as matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. John Huige, of Minneapolis, Minn. Also dressing in a yellow voile sleeveless dress of honor, Susan Head, of Hinsdale, Ill. Bridesmaids, dressed in green voile, were Jane Collison, of Northbrook, Ill.; Joan Johnson, of Geneva, Ill.; Janet Recor, of Fraser, Colo.; and Perry Bowen.

The attendants wore white picture hats trimmed with ribbon matching their dresses. White baskets of yellow and white daisies completed their outfits.

Acting as best man was Jack Streich, of Barrington, Ill. In the usher corps were Skip Slater, a brother of the bride, Jeffrey Rosberg, brother of the bridegroom, of Wood Dale, Ill.; Stuart Waterson, of Charlottesville, Va.; William Shank, of Indianapolis, Ind.; and Scott Sward, of Rolling Meadows, Ill. The bridegroom is the son of the J. Wesley Rosbergs, of Cleveland Heights.

Autumn Rites For Miss Evans

Dr. and Mrs. Gomer P. Evans, of Berkshire road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kimberly Ann, to Thomas Wendell Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Merrill, of Des Moines, Iowa.

Both the bride-elect and her fiance are 1971 graduates of Grinnell College. Mr. Merrill recently completed two years of study as a Rhodes Scholar at Magdalen College, Oxford University, England.

An early September garden wedding is planned.

ding Mrs. Slater selected a gown of pink silk with lace trim. Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Rosberg, chose a powder blue gown trimmed with white lace. Both mothers had cream cymbidium orchid corsages.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Virginia Beach after the wedding reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Earl Madill, of Port Huron, and grandparents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sward, of Cleveland Heights, and Mrs. Holger

Gerilyn Beaufait Weds Mr. DePauw

Couple Vacation in Northern Michigan Before Making Their Home in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Now at home in Grand Rapids, Mich., are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Arthur DePauw, who were married on Friday, June 22, in St. Clare of Montefalco Church. The Reverend Edward J. Sweeney presided at the 5 o'clock rites which were followed by a reception at Imperial Hall.

The bride, Gerilyn Marie Beaufait, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Louis Beaufait, of Cadieux road, selected a white silk organza gown for her wedding. The dress was fashioned with a Victorian neckline and a square yoke of lace. Matching lace bordered the semi-empire waist, full skirt and train. A Juliet headpiece caught her tiered illusion veil.

She carried a small Williamsburg bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, white stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy.

Serving as her sister's maid of honor was Luann Marie Beaufait. Bridesmaids included three sisters of the bridegroom, Mary DePauw, Renee DePauw and Gabrielle DePauw, of Armada, Mich.; Lucy Maillette, of Bay City and Susan Patterson.

The attendants were dressed in sheer cotton floral prints of pink, lavender and blue on a white background. The bridesmaids' waists were tied with powder blue French grosgrain sashes; the maid of honor, in a lavender grosgrain sash. They carried white baskets filled with daisies, pink carnations, purple statice and blue straw flowers.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DePauw, Jr., of Armada, Mich., asked Kyle A. Raskas, of Grand Rapids, to act as best man. In the usher corps were E. William Fowler, of Shelby, Mich.; Michael S. Barry, of Benton Harbor, Mich.; Timothy R. Wolanski, of Kent City, Mich.; Gary C. Stefaniak, also of Bay City; and Paul MacLeod, a cousin of the bridegroom, of Washington, Mich.

Mrs. Beaufait chose a long powder blue crepe dress. The neckline, sleeves and jacket were trimmed with match-

Bride's Four Sisters Participate in Afternoon Service at Our Lady Star of the Sea Church

Suzanne M. Burkli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Burkli, of Blairmoor court, became the bride of the Brian G. Berlenbach, son of the Carl P. Berlenbachs, of Norwood drive, on Friday, July 6, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

The 6:30 o'clock rites, at which the Reverend Ralph V. Barton presided, were followed by a reception at the Lochmoor Club.

For her afternoon wedding, the former Miss Burkli selected an Empire gown of candlelight silk organza fashioned with re-embroidered Alencon lace on the bodice, high collar and cuffs. The skirt and chapel train were also bordered in Alencon lace. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a Camelot headpiece of lace and pearls.

She held a Colonial bouquet of white miniature carnations, yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Michele Burkli acted as her sister's maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were two more sisters of the bride, Christine Burkli and Judi Burkli; and Jana Teitelbaum, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of yellow with tiny white dots, the maid of honor's was in mint green. Their dresses were fashioned with halter tops edged with ruffles; ruffles also edged the hemline. Matching ruffled shawls and Colonial bouquets completed their outfits. They wore small bunches of green star flowers and baby's breath in their hair.

Flower girl Jennifer Burkli, a younger sister of the bride, was dressed in a yellow gown ruffled at the neck neckline, accented by crystal beads. Both mothers carried two cymbidium orchids on their purses.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Kaufman, of Independence, Kans.; and the bridegroom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Feingold, of Mt. Bethel, Pa.

Following a wedding trip to Nassau, Florida and Atlanta, Ga., the couple are at home in Mt. Clemens.

PEPPER WHITELOW, OF NEFF ROAD

By Kathy Duff

If you hear the name "Pepper," you know who it is. The name might be mentioned at a Grosse Pointe Symphony Society Board meeting...

There's only ONE Pepper. Just ask anyone. "I've always been community oriented. First as a wife and mother of two children who was involved in their activities..."

Wins Award Many Pointers, who were regulars at School Board meetings, often watched school trustees and administrators nervously scan the audience after a controversial remark...

News Reporter Pepper joined the staff of the NEWS eight years ago when she found that she had extra time because her two children, Brian and Wendy, were students at Brownell and Monteith.

"I soon found myself very involved with the environmental group, Environmental Action Now (EAN), the Family Life Education Council (FLEC) and the Youth Service Division (YSD)." "It was very exciting when the National Bank of Detroit joined forces with EAN and proposed the ecology projects for each of the five Pointes."

"I was covering the Woods Council when the Youth Service Division was proposed. It started as an idea, and became a reality through the efforts of its proposers. The officers, the city officials, the school administrators were so eager to help the kids."

"I started to write what I call 'Mother Features.' I knew the trauma mothers went through on seeing their children attend the first day of school, on watching their daughters having their ears pierced, on submitting second-hand clothes to rummage shops (they sneered at my old clothes as though they were rags!)"

"Reading the news submitted by the Grosse Pointe Public School System also led to an increased interest in the schools since I have always been interested in education," says Pepper.

Pepper's "interest" in the school system caused the schools many anxious moments, especially when incidents happened at Board of Education meetings revealing problems within the system. However, Pepper's "interest" also generated gratitude for the schools' achievements when her articles described many of the outstanding activities going on think that the YSD is one of the best things that has happened in The Pointe." Pepper knows the organizations personally as she was the one Pointer contacted when they wanted to get something done.

Pepper was there with helpful advice, a bit of inside information, and finally, a "now-go-get-it-done" push. Her vivid writing reflected her close contact with the organizations since Pepper made it a people-to-people affair, and would not rely on a series of typed releases.

Other activities included serving on the Northeast Guidance Clinic Board and editing the annual news supplement, "The Guidance Gazette." Something which might be considered far afield, but isn't for Pepper, was when she was asked to act as a judge of the Farms Regatta Beauty Contest! And she's been asked to help pick a queen every year since!

Although Pepper will stress her years immediately before becoming a "professional"—those years she spent involved in Girl Scout, Cub Scout and Little League activities—Pepper had an exciting mini-career before she married.

Talk Show A native of Lakewood, Ohio, a town located on the west side of Cleveland, Pepper became involved in young drama groups such as the "Curtain Pullers," a group within the Cleveland Players. She later was selected to the National Thespians.

When she was in her late teens and early 20's, the exciting place to be was in radio and television work, and Pepper joined the program staff of a late night television talk show.

Her first part on the television show was truly a "walk-on" part, as the producers would only let her sit on the set and smile sweetly, while the master of ceremonies interviewed the guests.

"A trademark of the show was my face superimposed on a rose, if you can believe it! Finally, enough people wrote the station and asked who 'that girl' was. So they let me start talking on the show..."

Once Pepper started talking, she soon had her own show. It was called "Pepper's Party"—so if you hear the name "Pepper" mentioned around Cleveland, it is probably our Pepper.

"I also did some modeling then, some photographic assignments and runway work," Pepper commented as she slipped into fashion lingo. Asked what fashions were like during that period, Pepper said that they were very similar to the fashions being shown today.

CHEESE SOUFFLE Contributed by Mrs. Gladys Barkley Sibley for the Memorial Church Cookbook, "Gourmet Pointers." 1 cup milk 1 cup bread crumbs (2 slices) 1 1/2 cups grated cheese (1 1/2 pkgs. grated cheddar should be rather sharp) 1/4 tsp. dry mustard 1/2 tsp. salt 3 eggs (separated) Scald milk in double boiler. Add bread crumbs and egg yolks slightly beaten and salted. Cook this mixture, stirring constantly until just cooked. Add cheese and stir well, also mustard. Remove from stove and from the hot water in double boiler. Let stand for 10 minutes to cool. Fold in whites of eggs beaten stiff. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Pour mixture into quart casserole which sits in pan of boiling water. Sprinkle paprika on top of mixture before baking. Bake for at least 30 minutes or until silver knife comes out of center dry. Serve at once.

"Matter of fact, if I had kept the clothes I modeled, I would now be one of the best dressed gals around!"

Then, as today, she seemed to be a Jack-of-all-trades when it came to spreading the word. She wrote copy for an advertising agency and also taught at a radio and TV school.

Sometime during this period she managed to graduate from Lakewood High School and to attend Case Western Reserve.

Currently, Pepper is in the public relations department of Saint John Hospital working with the Fontbonne Auxiliary. Heading the public relations department is another Pointer, Duncan Laidlaw, who works with the Men's Guild.

Hospital Editor "I feel as though I moved from a newspaper family in 1972 to a hospital family. In both jobs, I am involved with people, and honestly, I can't imagine not being involved with people. Our philosophy at Saint John is 'Caring and Care,' and we are really doing that at Saint John."

Persons often ask Pepper if she doesn't miss writing in her new position. The comment will usually prompt a chuckle from Pepper because she edits both the quarterly hospital publication, "Horizons," and the monthly inner-hospital newspaper, "The Voice."

In any given issue of "The Voice," our girl reporter might cover everything from the 12th Annual Employee Awards Banquet to softball team action. It's a good thing that Pepper is interested in anything that the employees are involved in, because her enthusiasm is carried in the articles she writes for the publication.

In one column, she might write a serious profile of a hospital staff member. In another column, after putting on her Joe Falls cap, she might write about the men's softball team, "all the boys are really hitting that ball."

"The most rewarding part of editing the inner-hospital newspaper is the comments I receive from the staffers. They love to read about their hospital friends and to keep in touch with hospital activities. It makes it all worthwhile."

The Pointer recently was tapped by the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society Board to become a member. Now Pepper has another horn to toot, as everyone knows that she can't let a newsworthy item go unnoticed, be it a music scholarship or an upcoming concert.

"We are really looking forward to our 21st Season which will open with a concert on Sunday afternoon, October 14. We're so proud of our symphony as the concerts are excellent. Felix Resnick will again conduct the four concert series this year."

Pepper makes her home in Neff road. Her oldest son, Brian, is a student at Michigan State University and plans to enter the legal profession. Wendy, also a South High School graduate, is now pursuing a career in modeling. She recently signed with the Leslie Fargo modeling agency.

"Even though I lived in many places before moving here, I consider Grosse

Trip to Italy for Ski Club

A European ski trip especially for families during the Christmas holidays is being offered by the Grosse Pointe Ski Club, under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association.

The group will depart, Thursday, December 27, via Alitalia airlines, DC-8, for Milan, Italy, and return to Detroit, on Sunday, January 6, 1974. The skiers will go from Milan to Madonna D'Campiglio, the future site of the 1980 Winter Olympics.

E. Marshall Green, president of the ski club, said that a special package has been put together encouraging the inclusion of children on a half-fare and youth-fare basis. The non-ski family as well as the ski-family is urged to sign up since the land-package is separate from the flight-package.

Due to international air travel regulations, it is necessary to complete arrangements by Friday, August 10. Pointers should call the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 881-7511 for further details.

Any one interested in becoming a member of the club for any of the winter ski trips may receive information through the War Memorial.

Big Splash for Suburbia Club

Suburbia Garden Club members, their daughters and, for some, grandchildren will enjoy the Annual Splash-In at the pool of Mrs. Herbert Epstein, in Windmill Pointe drive on Tuesday, August 14.

It is one of Suburbia's favorite events as Mrs. Epstein is not only an avid gardener but also quite a culinary artist. A strictly social event, the members get a chance to show off their progeny and catch up on summer news.

It is the garden club's silver year, and the members celebrated by entertaining their husbands recently at a tennis, pool and cook-out party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Domzolski, in Windmill Pointe drive.

Slate Meeting For Ketchum

Members of the Elizabeth Ketchum Group of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will get together on Friday, August 10, to compare notes on their summer activities and to make plans for fall projects. President, Mrs. Raymond W. Eddy, will hold the informal meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence E. Maguire, hostess of the day, at 1417 Lochmoor boulevard.

Carl's Corner

We congratulate the new Miss Grosse Pointe Farms, Miss Michaela Murphy.

Five Pointers recently participated in the annual Cecchetti Ballet Conference and Seminar held at Michigan State University. Receiving instruction in the Cecchetti method of ballet which places special emphasis on style and quality of movement, along with other classes, were ANN DAVIDSON, SALLY FACE, MARIEL OAKMAN, ANNA PLATT and MICHELE KAPP.

Pointe my home. My parents still live in Lakewood, and we visit them a few times every year. My father was a restaurateur, and I think he communicated his love of people to me.

"I really am a Grosse Pointe believer, as I am aware of our great school system and of the many worthwhile organizations and activities here."

And, if the rest of us are aware of the school system, and the organizations and activities, there's a good chance that Pepper told us about them.

73 Torch Drive Adds 2 Pointers

Two more Pointers have joined the 1973 United Foundation Torch Drive.

They are Peter A. Dow, of Ridge road, Chrysler Corporation Director of Advertising for U.S. Automotive Sales and Service, and John R. (Jack) Barlow, of Lakecrest lane, BBD&O vice-president.

Promotion chairman for the 1973 Torch Drive, John A. Ford, of East Jefferson avenue, announced the appointments.

As chairman for the advertising group, Mr. Dow will oversee the preparation of newspaper ads, billboards, posters and outdoor advertising. He will have the help of some of the Detroit area's leading media people, as will Mr. Barlow, who heads the special events group. Mr. Barlow's campaign assignment involves lining up talent, speakers, bands and entertainment for the Torch Drive luncheons, the popular "Miss Torch" contest, radio and TV spots (including a TV documentary shown on all major channels during the campaign) and the promotion of special days during the campaign.

One of these is "Sports Day," when the community's leading sportswriters and broadcasters vote for Sportsman and Sportswoman of the year.

The opening date of the 1973 United Foundation Torch Drive is Tuesday, October 16. The money goal, to benefit more than 140 health and community services in the tri-county area, will be set sometime in September. More than $32 million was raised last year.
