An Open Letter to the Teachers and Citizens of the Grosse Pointe Public School System

FROM: THE GROSSE POINTE EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

The Association's negotiating team has made a table offer which expands the issue of salary to include both class size and program restoration. In a bold, imaginative, and positive move calculated to avoid impasse, the Association is providing the Board ample latitude to address the perplexing problems of crowded classrooms and program erosion which has plagued our school system in recent years.

In essence, the proposal calls for the retention of the current staff over the life of the agreement but would not obligate the Board to expend a greater sum than that recommended in the Fact-Finding report, unless the District experiences an increase in enrollment. The Association posture demonstrates a professional concern for class size and curriculum development while the Association's acceptance of the $1,627,000 recommended by Fact-Finder Lean Herman affords the Board the opportunity to answer the anxieties expressed by parents concerning class size and at the same time partially restore program cuts made in the past several

To understand the reasoning behind the proposal, you must remember that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education has publicly announced their acceptance of the Fact-Finding report.

The Association is now prepared to accept the Fact-Finding report. Even though it does not provide equity to the teachers of Grosse Pointe, we will accept it because the Association does not wish to see a disruption in the educational process.

It is readily apparent to the Association that the Fact-Finding recommendation will seriously erode the "real wage" of the Grosse Pointe teacher. However, if teachers must suffer a reduction in "real wage," the Association is determined that the students and community shall not suffer a similar reduction in quality education.

The Fact-Finding report mentions the sum of $1,627,000 to be spent over a three year period of time. That sum is based on a professional staff of 570 teachers. If projected student decreased enrollment is a reality over the next two years, the proposal offered by the Association will help restore a measure of quality in education expected and demanded by the com-

By spending the money and not reducing the 570 teaching positions, class size would be reduced and program that has been so drastically cut in the past three years could be improved. One should remember that we have lost approximately 20% of the teaching staff in the past three to four years. However, if the student population were to increase instead of decrease, we would expect that the Board would accept the commitment and challenge to raise additional mones to pay for additional staff. The quality of education demanded in Grosse Pointe can not be had for cut-rate prices.

in summary

- 1. The Association will accept the fact-finding report based upon our new proposal.
- 2. The Association will take a stand on class size.
- 3. The Association is concerned about the quality of education in Grosse Pointe.

Don't delay! Our new low-cost home insulation program can cut gas heating costs up to 17%.

In just a few short weeks, many of our customers' around Michigan have taken advantage of a new program to hold down heating bills and help save Natural Gas, too, The program was developed at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, which is seeking ways to conserve Natural Gas and hold down utility bills by the wise use of energy.

The heart of the program is installing ceiling insulation in your home. It's quick. Economical. Easy. In fact, a recent government study found "the most significant opportunity" for homeowners to conserve energy was through "improved insulation of houses," [which] "would benefit the individual homeowner by reducing winter fuel bills, summer air conditioning bills, size and capital cost of heating and cooling equipment, and air pollution." The Michigan Public Service Commission has found that many homeowners could achieve fuel savings of as much as 17% by having six inches of insulation in their attics. Naturally, results for your home may vary due to architectural differences and your heating habits.

To help you realize fuel savings in your home, we've designed an easy home insulation program. Here's how it works.

First, you can install the ceiling insulation yourself. It's a simple do-it-yourself project-and the most economical way to put in ceiling insulation. Many customers can accomplish the task for less than $100.

To assist you in the project, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company has even prepared a helpful booklet that shows just how to do the job.

Secondly, you can call a contractor of your choice and arrange to have the work done. Or call Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. We'll have one of our participating insulation subcontractors install it for you, which can also be easy on your budget. Many houses with up to 1,000 square feet in the ceiling area can be insulated for less than $200. And, there's a payment plan to suit most every customer. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay just 20% down at the time the contract is signedthen simply have the remaining cost included in your gas bill. Pay it off on your next three gas bills with no interest or carrying charges.

Finally, you can pay for the job over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.)

Whichever you choose, you'll be taking an important step toward holding down your heating bills. And cutting down on the use of Natural Gas. Why not plan on doing it now. Contact us today for additional details. And if you're a do-it-yourselfer, ask for our free booklet.

Woods police are looking for a suspect, fitting the composite picture above, who held up Grosse Pointe Valet, 21155 Mack avenue, early Monday evening, November 5. The picture is based on a description of the subject given to police.

An 18-year-old woman told police the man came into the cleaners, pulled a gun from his right coat pocket, pointed it at the complainant and said, "Give me the money." According to the report, the complainant answered, "You've got to be kidding," at which point the man replied, "Really?"

The thief then placed the gun back into his coat pocket, walked to the cash register and removed $101. He told the woman to "get in the back and lie down," from his right coat pocket, in the back and lie down," which she refused to do. The culprit then said, "Stay right here" and fled through the front door, walking north on Mack and west on Brys.

Soup Labels!

Fifth grader Beth Crane really shows her best side in supporting Maire School's latest P.T.A. sponsored program, "Labels for Educa-tion." The Maire P.T.A. hopes to collect 26,400 Campbell's Soup labels by Saturday, December 8, so they may be redeemed for eight portable cassette recorders. These recorders will become a part of Marie's new language program.

So far, the school is about one-fourth of the way to their goal and each day brings more labels. A record of each room's contribution is recorded on a weekly basis and the room with the best ratio of labels to students is in for a special P.T.A. prize.

Relatives and friends have been encouraged to save for the Maire children, but perhaps the most unusual contribution came from a town in Ohio. Inside an envelope were 17 labels and a note which read, "My son was in Maire School when it first opened and we still receive the Grosse Pointe News, please include these labels in your contest."

Both children and parents have been advised that it is not a contest to buy Campbell's Soup. However, if a family normally buys the product, the school can now use the labels. The Maire School office will be happy to accept labels from residents or non-residents who would like to help the P.T.A. reach its goal.

Commercial Foods: Expanding Your Future

The commercial foods co-op program at Grosse Pointe North and South High Schools are about the same. The kids who are on co-op take a class relating to the program called Commercial Foods. In the class, we learn how to get along with our employers and discuss problems concerning our jobs. Besides this, the class is really a lab in food preparation, where we cook everything from appetizers to full course dinners.

About North, Judy says, "In my class all the kids work at different places. Some are: Kavan's, Big Boys, Palmers, and Dino's. I work at Bonanza on Mack and Eight mile. do various jobs such as working fryers, preparation work, and bussing tables. I enjoy my work, because it offers vacation and is beneficial to me. I meet all kinds of people and encounter many different situations. So far, co-op has been a rewarding experience."

"Here are Mary Ann Morosi (L) and Lisa Bartoszewicz (R), both dietary aides at St. John's hospital, pulling a food cart on their way to deliver dinner trays to patients."

"The kids at South," Lisa says, "work mostly at St. John's, The Whittier Towers, Jacobson's and Burger Chef. I work at St. John's as a dietary aide. I do everything from passing out trays to patients to washing dishes. I really like my job because the hours are good and I still have time to do things. Usually I work four hours a night, at least five days a week. Co-op has given me the chance to work of the second half, set up a with people in a field that I want to expand my learning in.

All in all, we feel the program is very wor All in all, we feel the program is very worthwhile and interesting to us. Besides earning credit while working, we are also gaining experience that will help us later in life. To be able to have such a chance is great! And at North and South we are very lucky to have this co-op Commercial Foods program!

The Home Economics Co-op involves many job areas. Most of them involve assisting and caring for people of various ages in various ways. The jobs this year include caring for the elederly or ill, mother's helper, physical therapy, interior design, and nursery school.

Maureen O'Keefe, in her first year in the co-op program, spends her weekday afternoons with an elderly couple, keeping them company and then preparing their dinner. "I like to cook and I love people. I want to work with the handi-capped and this program is just right for me."

Shawn Almond, also new to the co-op program, makes daily visits to a lady with multiple sclerosis and says her job is "most fulfilling". The lady has difficulty getting around so Shawn "acts as her legs"

Two other girls work as mothers' helpers. In each case the mother has to work so the girls meet the children, who he girls de light houseare just arriving home f keeping and they cook dinner, giving the mother time to

She is responsible for checking for the student, coordinator, supplies, making patient lists, bringing the patients to the therapy room, and cleaning up. Best of all she helps the doctor and learns how to run the machines. "I didn't expect this kind of job," commented Laurie, "but I love it and I look forward to it every day. Now I am considering riences the employer

The most common job in the Home Economics co-op is a teacher's aid at a nursery school. Basically the teachers aids surpervise and help the kids. Great satisfaction is got ten from this line of work. The co-op students agree that it is fascinating to watch over the kids playing, because plays is a child's work.

The Home Economics program offers students many opportunities. Many students use the program as a start in a career. All those in the Home Economics Co-op enjoy Coordinator-South High The cooperative education program is actually an in-correct usage of terms. Cooperative is a method of instruction, and not a program. The cooperative method is using the community resources to provide experiences for young adults in an area of their interest. The programs are in the Business Department, Home Economics Department, and Industrial Arts Department.

A student participates in the program by planning his school experience early. Some programs require a preparatory course that pro-vides job entry skills for the student. Any student entering the program during his senior year must first talk with the perspective coordinator be-fore he is enrolled by his counselor. The conference involves three things: stating an interest area, suggesting an employment field, and long range career goals. The requirements are good at-tendance, school record and references. The student obtains employment in three ways.

1. The coordinator sets up an appointment with a perspective employer and then the student has competitive interview for the position.

2. The student has been employed and the company agrees to expand the student's experience.

3. The student gains em-ployment through his own efforts and the company agrees to participate in the program.

The student usually receives payment for his efforts as well as school credit. There are certain employnot always paid during this training period. However, once they obtain the necessary skills for job entry, he is paid the going rate.

A key to the cooperative method of instruction is the training plan. The training ployer. The purpose of the plan is to provide guidelines for the parties involved as to what kind of experience the student is interested in having and what kind of expewilling to provide. The evaluation of the student varies with the program he is enrolled in. The employer agrees to evaluate the student every eight weeks of employment. The rating involves personality, knowledge the coordinator and apears on the student report card.

Togetherness a Booming Business

By Barb Gares and Pam Kramer

Are you interested in the business field and finding out

Business is a wide and open field with interesting things to do and learn if one is willing to put forth a little time and effort to find out what it's about. Now more than ever students taking part in Office Education are seeing that there is a whole new future related to a business orientated

Through the Co-op program offered in the high schools we have been able to get a first hand look at the business community. A student can get on the job experience and find out what working for a living is about. The student is also being trained in an Office Education class which is related ment areas that require to the job. Mrs. Holcomb and Mr. Pierron, the coordinators training prior to part-time for Office Education, work with the students individually to employment. The student is give them classroom assignments that relate to the work they are responsible for in their office jobs.

Mary Ellen Koufos, who works for the Board of Education says, "The Office Ed class allows me to broaden my business background as it relates to the world of work. The projects I am given build my business skills and therefore help me to be more efficient on my job.'

The opportunities of a Co-op student are unlimited.
While on the job the student is constantly changing assignplan is developed by the stu-dent, coordinator, and em-place in their firm.

Pam Kramer who works at N.B.D. tells us that, "Not only does this program teach me various skills and techniques; it also helps me to develop as a person. It aids in building relationships between the young and the old. For instance, I've found that my boss helps me and I help her and together we grow in understanding."

Katie Sullivan of Edgar and Associates mentioned that co-op is helping her to build her future. "It gives me a realistic outlook on life and an image of what to expect as I

"Co-op is great! I get an education, work experience, school creidts, and best of all a little spending money," remarked Mary Sue Bartkowiak of Crown Life Insurance.

"I plan on working in a hospital," explained Karen Bur-"I work for Dr. Gregory and I am getting an idea of what medical work is like.'

of job and application of skills. The evaluation completed by the employer is explains excitedly when asked about co-op turned into a letter grade by "Sure all the people you meet aren't to "Sure all the people you meet aren't the greatest," says Jeanette Heboa of the Free Press, "but I've found that through school, work, and B.O.E.C. I can surely get along with people easier." Jeanette mentioned "B.O.E.C." which stands for Business Office Education Clubs. Both North and South work together in making it one of the most active clubs in the Grosse Pointe High Schools. It is composed mainly of juniors and seniors who are currently enrolled in business classes. One of the clubs aims is to work with and relate to people effectively in a business and social manner. To help in community affairs and let the people know the young are willing to lend a hand and become involved. Also the club raises money from various activities in order to attend State and National conventions which relate to different fields of business.

"B.O.E.C. is great for me," added Barb Gares, "it has taught me that fun and responsibility coincide. I have been in the club two years, and I feel I have learned how to accept assistance from adults. Because our projects are so varied we never lack enthusiasm." The club already began their activities. To start off the year we went on a camping trip. "We got to know each other more closely so we could work better as a united club," states Pam.

At Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter we plan to take care of a needy family. "We will get to know the family members. For instance, for Halloween we took some of the young family members out begging then to Burger Chef. Knowing who you're helping makes it a special kind of gift that gives us all a good feeling," remarked Mary Jo Jennings who works for L. T. Elsey and Sons.

The club has begun their fund raising by selling pop-corn balls and Tootsie Roll Banks which went over well with parents, relatives, bosses, and friends. Now we will begin to sell stationary which will make nice Christmas gifts. "We're looking forward to an exciting year," explained Theresa Wood who works for the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center, "cause we're always doing something new and doing it together."

In general we feel that because of the co-op program, B.O.E.C. and the business community, we are receiving a well rounded education for which we are grateful. "We're all like one big happy family," said Liane Palazzola cheerfully, "we share the same interests and ideas -it's something that becomes a part of us."

"The whole program is great except for one thing-all us girls wouldn't mind if more guys were interested in the Business Administration typing and shorthand. They don't know what they're miss-program.

Distributive Education: Asset To Marketing

The Distributive Education program is a business course which offers people experiences in marketing and distribution. It allows a person to work in a store so he can gain the experience of retail selling, stock-keeping, display, and

The first step toward a job in retailing starts in a students junior year in a Distributive Education I class. It is organized to teach a pupil the basic aspects of retailing. The student's attitute, dress, and attendance are polished to develop good human relations in the marketing world and ensure a better employer-employee relationship. After learning the principles of retailing, a senior student advances into Co-op Distributive Education II. The class that is taken goes beyond retailing and concentrates on training and developing a future ambitious retailer. Each student then obtains a job related to his interests in preparation for a future career. The pupil is evaluated by his employer and recives class credit for his job.

Anyone enrolled in Distributive Education can participate in a club called D.E.C.A., which stands for Distributive Education Clubs of America. It is a program designed to develop future leaders for marketing and distribution. There are many purposes of D.E.C.A. some of which include:

1. To develop a sense of individual responsibilities

2. To provide opportunities for an intelligent choice of carrers in distribution

3. To create an understanding of our free competitive enterprise system

4. To develop an understanding of civic and social obligations of those associated in marketing.

Currently, D.E.C.A. is involved in an onti-shoplifting campaign which is sponsored by the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce.

The following students from North and South High Schools were asked how they would benefit from Distributive Education Co-op. They commented as follows:

Paul Chirco, a salesman at Sears. "I think I am able to cope with customer complaints since a large part of our discussion in class deals with human relations

Renee Piche, a salesgirl at Kay Baum. "I feel I am getting a better understanding of the retailing field that I wish to continue in."

Mike Day, a stockboy at Lerner Shop. "I think I have learned how business operates better, while working with a closely related class helping me understand more fully retailing methods."

Leigh Lane, a stockgirl at Jaboson's. "Since I studied all phases of distribution, I feel I am able to do a better job because I know why my job is important."

Medical Aids: Full Speed Ahead

By Kathy Schulte, Med Co-Op Student

The field of medicine is expanding greatly and growing tual Drafting states he "joined co-op to get a better start in broader every day as there are more people going into specific areas than ever before. Medical co-op is a fairly new deliver blueprints, also in my spare time odd jobs keep my program to help students of the high school level in deciding whether or not this career would be suitable for them. Students are able to choose anywhere from a nurse's aide (orderly) to an assistant laboratory technician. They also have some of the co-op students going into Therapy (Physi-Occupational, Respiratory) Departments and working as Medical Assistants in the Hospitals.

When applying for this particular program, school coordinators are available to council students on the who, what, when, where and whys of the field. The program's medical aid co-ordinator for both Grosse Pointe Schools (North and South) is Mrs. Loujane Beynon. In qualifying for the program, one has to go through enrollment, and then a personal interview. Unlike some of the other co-op programs it is a bit harder to get into as not everybody is accepted. There are limited training facilities for just so many students from each school and the program is split into the summer (6 weeks) and the fall session (8 weeks). Both classes are taught by the Inservice Co-ordinator at Cottage

After the training is completed (classroom and practical experiences on the floors), there is a small graduation cere mony with the students and parents attending. The Co-op's are then placed in Convalescent Homes, Clinics, Doctor Offices and many are lucky enough to work at Cottage

Of those students at Cottage Hospital, when asked it they thought their job was worth the hard work, Bonnie Bell replied. "It I didn't like my job I wouldn't stay in it. True, it is hard work, but it doesn't matter because I plan to continue into a career of nursing."

Both Jane Gleason and Jane Schaafsma said that being a Medical Aid made it a lot easier to talk to people and to see people as they really are.

Speaking from a male's point of view, Cam Smith comments: "It's not exactly what I expected but it teaches you a lot and prepares you more for a career in the medical

"More importantly, both parties were and are fully aware of the fact that our enrollment projections predict a significant decline in the number of pupils we will have next year and in 1975-76. Should these predictions come to pass, the Board plans to reduce the number of teachers employed annually more or less in proportion to the decline in pupil enroll-

"GPEA's proposal number 2 would lock the Board into a completely untenable posi-tion. We expect our enrollment to decline by about 600 pupils in 1974-75 and by another 700 pupils in 1975-76. and we would expect to reduce our staff by 55-65 teachers by 1975-76 school year. Failure to do so would result in our staffing ratio soaring unprecedented heights, heights the electorate has re-peatedly said it would not finance. We will, however, continue, as we have been doing, to strive for even better pro-"We all recognize the benefits a richer staffing ratio would bring. The Board would very much like to see this come to pass. However, the Board also knows that some tax payers are not so inclined or at least are not prepared for a quantum leap of this nature at this time.

"The Association's third proposal asks that the Board contract to spend the approximately $100,000 difference between its demands and the fact-finder's report on what the Association terms program and curriculum improvement for the children of the district. The Board applauds this sentiment, and, as stated above, is committed to pursuing this objective but cannot and will not make this part of a contractual agreement. It would be somewhat akin to #2 in that the Board would be committing the tax-payers to something they may or may not be will-ing to fund. It is not a prudent subject to be negotiated

"Let me illustrate how this Board has already done what the teachers are asking in their proposal #3. Last March, we put before the electorate a request for 0.6 mills to restore staff and program. This passed by a 3-2 margin and gave the Board about $250,000 to do the kinds of things the teachers are now demanding be contract-

"I repeat, the Board accepts with enthusiasm the first of the new proposals the Association has made. It is the basis for a fair and equitable settlement for both parties and I urge the Association leadership to present it to its membership for a ratification vote. Points 2 and 3, while generally commendable philosophically, the Board must reject as unrealistic.

grams in the appropriate forum, the ballot box and not through the vehicle of a collective bargaining agrecment."

Mr. Lord Replies

Mr. Lord summarized the teachers' position as follows: "The Association's negotiating team has made a table offer which expands the issue of salary to include both class size and program restoration. In a bold imaginative, and positive move calculated to avoid impasse, the Association is providing the Board ample latitude to address the perplexing problems of crowded classrooms and program erosion which has plagued our school system in recent years.

"In essence, the proposal calls for the retention of the current staff over the life of the agreement but would not obligate the Board to expend a greater sum than that rec-ommended in the Fact-Finding report, unless the District experiences an increase in enrollment. The Association posture demonstrates a professional concern for class size and curriculum development while the Association's acceptance of the $1,627,000 recommended by Fact-Finder Leon Herman affords the Board the opportunity to answer the anxieties expressed by parents concerning class size and at the same time partially restore program cuts made in the past several years, "To understand the reasoning behind the proposal, you must remember that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education has publicly announced their acceptance of the Fact-Finding report.

"The Association is now prepared to accept the Fact-Finding report. Even though it does not provide equity to the teachers of Grosse Pointe, we will accept it because the Association does not wish to see a disruption in the educational process.

"It is readily apparent to the Association that the Fact-Finding recommendation will seriously erode the "real wage" of the Grosse Pointe teacher. However, if teachers must suffer a reduction in "real wage," the Association is determined that the students and community shall not suffer a similar reduction in quality education.

"The Fact-Finding report mentions the sum of $1,627,000 to be spent over a three year period of time. That sum is based on a professional staff of 570 teachers. If projected student de creased enrollment is a reality over the next two years, the proposal offered by the Association will help restore a measure of quality in education expected and demanded by the community.

"By spending the money and not reducing the 570 teaching positions, class size would be reduced and protically cut in the past three years could be improved. One should remember that we have lost approximately 20% of the teaching staff in the past three to four years. However, if the student pop ulation were to increase in-stead of decrease, we would expect that the Board would accept the commitment and challenge to raise additional monies to pay for additional staff. The quality of education demanded in Grosse Pointe cannot be had for cut rate prices.

Baron Gridders Defeat Lions in Three Games

In a season finale, the On the following play Bob Grosse Pointe Red Barons and the Grosse Pointe Lions Baron TDs on a quarterback renewed their annual rivalry sneak. Sunday, November 4, at South Baker later connected on a TD pass to John Long, and Carl Tech and Bob Brown High School's field.

A large crowd was on hand to witness the games, all won by the Barons, between these two fine teams.

This year the responsibility of hosting the event fell upon the Lions. The Lions responded graciously and with enthusiasm in providing a very enjoyable and well organized program for both the ballplayers and parents.

The opening ceremonies preceding the Freshman game began with a color guard from the River Rouge High School Marine ROTC unit. A large American flag was carried from midfield to the flagpole at the east end of the stadium by specially selected players representing both teams.

It was also Father's Day for the Lions. As each Lion ballplayer was introduced, he was accompanied to midfield by his father.

Why They Bought. Some bought hefore the building was finished. Others have looked around and thoughtfully compared condominium living to home ownership and apartment renting, they then made their move to the Jefferson Apartments.

They were influenced by the convenient prime location, all new construction and truly gracious living. Here is a typical spacious floor plan of an apartment home which features 9 foot ceilings, natural fireplaces, individual heating and cooling, top of the line G. There are three separate elevators and approximately a thousand square feet of private storage. Exterior maintenance, gardening and snow removal are arranged. Residents are homeowners and enjoy tax deductions and the investment security of being a property owner and equity advantages.

THE ENTRY COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM is a new system conceived and engineered by Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Using a touchtone panel telephone in the lobby, the caller dials the owner's apartment. This enables each party to have a private conversation. During the time the caller is in the entrance vestibule, he is under surveillance by the concealed TV camera.

AN ON-GUARD ALERT SYSTEM features a control panel in the manager's apartment and the attendant's office. This notifies of an intrusion into any apartment when the occupants are away. The doorman or manager controls the system by activating the apartment's security supervision at the request of the owner.

THE FIRE PROTECTION ALERT SYSTEM gives supervision added protection to all occupants of the building and will insure notification of each individual occupant of a fire in an unoccupied apartment.

Further elements of security are the uniformed doorman-attendant and around the clock resident caretakers.

The Jefferson Apartments is located 2 blocks from a beautiful park with boat slips, 3 blocks from Grosse Pointe Village shopping, 20 minutes from downtown Detroit by bus.

Completing Plans For Scarecrow Ball

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Despite the Energy Crisis there'll be glitter and glimmer galore at the 20th annual Saint John Hospital Fontbonne Auxiliary White Christmas Ball.

The ladies themselves, in bright and beautiful formal gowns, are enough to light up any room. The smiles on party-goers' faces generate warmth enough to heat a castle.

Fontbonne's White Christmas Balls have always created their own electricity.

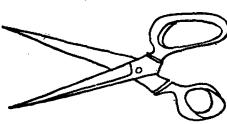

This year's charity gala is planned for Saturday, December 8, at the Roostertail. There'll be cocktails at 7:30, a gourmet dinner an hour later and dancing all night to the music of Austin Moro's 14-piece band.

There'll be special art treasure prizes, including an original floral oil by Virginia Thibodeau, a bronze Madonna and Child by Bernice Carmichael and a Howard Nordlund landscape.

All three are prominent Michigan artists, the Mesdames Thibodeau and Carmichael residing—as we're sure you know-in The Pointe.

This is a scissors.

It cuts hair. And how well hair is cut determines how well hair sets and how long a set lasts. A scissors must cut with your hair, never against it. A scissors must cut enough, but never too much. We use a scissors this way-skillfully and sparingly. And we get beautiful results. Like to see? We'd love to show you.

FIRST OFFERING

A STATELY HOUSE located in the Farms just a few feet from the lake has become even more attractive because now it is available for purchase. Designed by Albert Kahn Associates, this petite mansion offers a large entrance foyer with marble floor, a large formal living room with magnificent fireplace; and the dining room, library and living room all face the lake. Five bedrooms and four baths comprise the second floor. This one will appeal to everyone . . . we wish we had more.

OPEN SUNDAY 2 UNTIL 5 562 N. ROSEDALE

IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY. Tired of run-of-themill over-priced stereotyped ranches? This unique plan really puts "enough" distance between master wing and the kids, combines three generous bedrooms plus den or 4th bedroom, and two full baths. Attached 2 car garage, low traffic street and a dry basement complete the picture. Priced below State Equalized Valuation, in the low 50's. Everyone likes nice surprises and we predict this won't stay long on the market.

1212 BISHOP COMMANDS YOUR IMMEDIATE ATTENTION if you are seriously interested into moving into a brick center entrance colonial with matching bay windows flanking the front door. That rustic family room with dark stained flooring and reclaimed brick walls and paneling is sure to lure you to stay awhile. Upstairs are four bedrooms and two baths. All this on a lot of 100 foot frontage and superbly landscaped.

WITH APPOINTMENTS PLEASE

THIS TWO-YEAR-OLD Georgian Colonial is one of Grosse Pointe's show places! With five bedrooms, three baths, complemented with two powder rooms, library, and spectacular kitchen, and two family rooms with natural fireplaces and a wet bar, first floor laundry room; what more could you ask for?

THIS LITTLE BIG HOUSE has two master bedrooms and a super family room with fireplace. The charm of a deadend street is always appealing, and looking ahead to next summer you can plan on swimming in your own backyard pool and enjoying the comfort of central air conditioning.

CONSIDERED BY MANY to be one of the best condominium complexes in the Pointe this particular apartment has four bedrooms and two baths on the second floor and two more rooms on the third. There is a den and lavatory on the main floor and large breakfast room to complement the kitchen.

Recovering from a variety of sprained muscles, bruised shins and frost-bitten fingers are a group of 45 alumnae of Grosse Pointe University School, Liggett and the Sacred Heart Convent who met in field hockey action Sunday, November 11, on the U.LS field.

For the fourth year in a row, the united G.P.U.S. and Liggett grads proved too much for the Convent alumnae as they carried away their fourth win. The final score was 2-1, with right halfback Mrs. James Anderson and center forward Kathy Duff scoring for G.P.U.S.-Liggett and Merrill Casgrain scoring for the Convent. "In the process of researching the German theologian, I had to locate and translate 1600 pages of Oporin's writings in Latin. I found it fascinating—I know that it would probably put you to sleep-but I found it fascin-

As a true scholar, Pastor Lentz makes light of his academic accomplishments, acting as though translating 1600 pages of Latin were as simple as breathing. However, it was a big leap for an Ohio seminary student to decide to go to the University of Heidelburg, the oldest German university, and then

"Thinking back; it really was insane. I arrived in Germany without knowing the German language and without being admitted to the University. I took a crash eight-week course in German once I arrived. They gave us 35 classroom hours a week and we lived and breathed German for eight weeks

> "The first class was a disaster. The professor walked in (and he looked just like Professor Flubber-Dubber on the old Howdy Doody show). immediately went into his lecture, and I couldn't understand one word. Not one word," Pastor Lentz said, shaking his head.

Members of the Society's executive committee are Jeff Broderick, Charlie Miller, Janet Corten, William Miller, Dolores Dowdall, Judy O'Keefe, Paul Heltzel, Wiley Pickett, Kathy Tobin, Gail Kornmeier, Martha Prendergast, Barry Leonard, Linda Rossi, Greg McDuffee and John Thomas.

"It was a fine experience because I was given 'experience in all areas of the church's activities. I also taught in a German school. One of my classes, a group of 16 high school students, was just great because they were fascinated with an American teacher. They wanted to learn, and would listen to everything I said. Just last year, when I was back to Germany on a visit, one of the girls organized a class reunion,

"Yet one of my other classes, a class of 50 nine-year-old boys, proved to be a nightmare. The idea of German discipline is simply not true; they were as undisciplined as they come. The only way I could control the class was to act as though I were mad. It was absolute chaos.

Pastor Lentz returned to the United States after re-ceiving a "call" from St. John Evangelical Lutheran Church in Dola, Ohio.

The church was facing a decline in membership and it was my responsibility to revitalize the church and get the parishioners involved again in their church.

"I felt that it was most important that I build a personal relationship with the congregation. I would have the young members over to my house for study and discussion sessions. Last spring, I took a group of teenagers on a sailing trip from Florida to the Bahamas. "As far as the older parishioners, I tried to become a part of the community, to visit them in their homes, to become involved in community clubs. Two things helped introduce me to the community. First, while in Germany, I took a series of slides of the historic churches, the gardens, the scenic spots, I was soon beseiged with requests to show the slides at garden club meetings, Kiwanis clubs, and so on. ·I also do magic shows."

Asked if he had mastered slight-of-hand magic tricks or if he specialized in gimmick tricks, Pastor Lentz said that he could only do the gag tricks.

Turns Into Comedy "But only half of the tricks usually work, so it ends up being a comedy routine most of the time.'

At St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, which is located at the intersection of Lothrop and Chalfonte avenue, Pastor Lentz will be in charge of education, youth activities and evangelism, (membership). It must be a good feeling for any pastor to know that he was asked back by a congregation who respected his work as a vicar.
