Stores Report Confusion Over Tax Repeal Lessens

By Nancy Kramer
 Pointers may not have wanted the sales tax on food repealed. It was voted down in each community during the November election. But residents, nevertheless, seem to be coping admirably with the changes the repeal has wrought on their super-market habits.

Local grocers said things were somewhat confused at first, but all felt smoother operations were just around the corner.

Co-owners of Salem Square on The Hill, Mel Ferdinande and Fred Wolski said last Thursday, January 2, that in their initial contact with the repeal, many customers thought it a big nuisance. "We're still in the early stages though, as far as confusion goes," they reflected.

Stores have been making a special effort to minimize inconvenience for their customers. Some cashiers have been trained under the new system so they can easily recognize taxable and non-taxable goods.

At A&P in The Village, cashiers are assisting in the customers' sorting process.

Almost all stores are offering guidelines that itemize taxable and non-taxable goods. "We have lists available on customer request," said Mr. Wolski and Mr. Ferdinande. Farmer Jack on Mack avenue also is supplying its customers with lists.

"We have lists," A&P manager Anthony Costanza noted, "and charts throughout the store explaining to customers what to do."

Customers can do their bit to ease the initial confusion, the grocers agreed. Almost all stores are asking that taxable items be placed on the counter first.

A cashier at Salem Square, Tony Garofolo, said this makes his job simpler: "I can compute the tax and get that out of the way first and then it takes less time."

He admitted he was a little lost at first, but by Thursday afternoon, he had what was and what wasn't taxable pretty much straight in his mind.

Guidelines issued by the government are somewhat sketchy and the Salem Square owners said there are a few questionable items. "We have to make a decision that won't hurt the customers' feelings or hurt the government, since we are held accountable by them," Mr. Ferdinande remarked.

Many stores are investing in new registers that will simplify computation for cashiers. Salem Square has put in an order for three computer-type machines which cost in the neighborhood of $1,900 to $2,500.

It is for this reason perhaps, that many shoppers feel they will pay for the repeal in the long run, but stores as yet, have not been making customers absorb the extra cost.

"I'll take some getting used to," commented the Salem Square owners last week, but by Tuesday, January 7, Mr. Costanza said at A&P, "Things are running smoothly. I think it's been pretty much accepted."

IN THE BEGINNING

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by Him; and without Him was not any thing made that was made. In Him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not. John 1:1-5.

Youth Accepted Under Drug Law

The Youth Service Division, (YSD), reported that a 17-year-old Woods youth, charged with possession of marijuana, was accepted by Wayne County Circuit Court under Section 47 of the Controlled Substances Law and Rules of the State, (1973), recently.

This section is open for those who have not had previous convictions for narcotics arrests, officers said.

At the same time, Bruce Robb was placed on two year's probation and issued costs of $330. If he breaks his probation, he'll be required to serve 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction, police said.

Robb was charged with possession with the intent to deliver 812 grams of marijuana contrary to the provisions of Michigan's Controlled Substance Act, and with unlawfully delivering 20.2 grams of marijuana contrary to the provisions of the act.

He was arrested last June 27 on the charges after a six-month surveillance of his home by the YSD.

Young Thieves Rob Newsboy

A 14-year-old Park boy, a Detroit Free Press carrier, was robbed of his personal money on New Year's Day, January 1, by two youths, one white and the other black, according to information given to Park police.

The hold-up victim, whose name not be mentioned for fear of possible reprisals, was making his deliveries at 5:06 a.m. in the 1200 block of Maryland, when he was approached by the pair of thieves, just as the newsboy was coming down the porch steps of a house.

The thieves demanded whatever money their victim was carrying, and while the white boy searched the 14-year-old, the black youth kept a lookout for police, or approaching persons.

The newsboy said the pair took $14 in currency from him and then fled the area on foot, according to information released by Lt. Gordon Duncan.

The robbers ran north to Vernor, then west to Alter road in Detroit and disappeared.

The robbery victim said the white boy was about 15- or 16-years-old; and the black youth was about 16-years-old. He was unable to give a description of the clothing or features of the youthful thieves, the lieutenant said.

Pair Charged With Larceny

A 25-year-old Detroit woman and a 35-year-old Detroit man were arraigned on felony warrants charging them with larceny in a building and carrying a concealed weapon in The Woods Municipal Court last week.

The pair, Celestine Britton, of 695 Brainard, and Thomas Bennett Gist, of 18988 Washburn, were arrested after allegedly lifting two hams from Wrigley's Market, 19231 Mack avenue, on Thursday, January 2.

Both defendants stood mute and not guilty pleas were entered for them by the court. Their examination date was scheduled for yesterday, January 8. Police said the pair were unable to secure an attorney so arrangements were made to appoint one for them.

The woman was released to Detroit authorities on their capias, (a writ of arrest), on a larceny charge, while Gist was held in lieu of a $5,000 bond or two sureties.

At the scene, Officer Charles Philip Hamel learned that two employes saw Gist allegedly drop a ham into her large purse, which was around the size of an overnight bag. When she was stopped inside the store, two hams, with a combined total value of $31.26, were found. At the station, a search revealed a .22 caliber eight-shot high standard revolver also in her purse.

Farms Patrolman Gordon Evans assisted at the scene.

Will Exchange Church Clergy

Saint Paul's Church and Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, will jointly observe the Octave for Christian Unity Saturday, January 18, and Sunday, January 19. The churches will exchange clergy at all services beginning with the 5 p.m. Saturday service and through all Sunday morning services.

The neighboring Roman Catholic and Episcopal parishes have jointly observed the octave for four years.

At an 8 p.m. Sunday service at Saint Paul's, the preacher will be Dr. Robert H. Whitaker, Director of the Diocesan School of Theology. Dr. Whitaker has trained both Episcopal and Roman Catholic permanent deacons in their scriptural studies.

A pot-luck supper from 5 to 7:30 p.m. at Christ Church Undercroft will precede this service. Refreshments will be served following the service in the Saint Paul school cafeteria.

Reservations must be made by Thursday, January 16. They may be made by calling the church offices—Saint Paul's at 885-8855, or Christ Church at 885-4841.

The Lake Shore Division includes the Gratiot-Harper operation of Great Lakes Transit in a consolidated division from the management standpoint.

Have Suspect In R/A Case

Woods police are almost certain they will be able to get a warrant charging a 22-year-old Royal Oak Township man with armed robbery, stemming from his alleged involvement in holding up the Elias Brothers Restaurant, 20710 Mack avenue, early Saturday evening, January 4. Around $580 was taken in the incident.

The suspect was apprehended by Livonia police for investigation of a holdup in their city.

Woods police were notified by teletype of his arrest and, in an interview, the man admitted his involvement in the Elias robbery, stated he had no gun and that the money had already been spent.

An Elias cashier told Officer Jack Treppa the suspect ordered a sandwich to go. When the order was ready, he placed his hand across his chest and under his coat as if he had a gun.

He handed her three pennies and said, "If you don't hand me all the money, I'll blow your head off."

The man was given a stack of $10 bills and then ran out the door.

The owner and another employee chased him into the parking lot at which time the suspect jumped into an auto, which had been left with its engine running.

As the robber pulled out of the lot, the employee repeatedly kicked the vehicle's left side. The car then escaped going north on Mack.

Slate Monteith Science Fair

Monteith School's sixth graders are busy giving finishing touches to a vast and colorful array of demonstrations and experiments that will go on display at the school's Science Fair and PTO Open House which will be held Monday, January 13, from 7-9 p.m.

All parents, relatives and friends of Monteith students are welcome to attend.

The students did all their work on the projects outside of school with many beginning as far back as October.

Blue ribbons will be awarded to those whose work shows special merit. Judges are Mrs. Jeanne Cholak, Mrs. Roseanne Fleming, Mrs. Barbara Krause and principal John Hammel.

The sixth graders will be on hand in Monteith Hall to answer questions about their exhibits. All classrooms will be open until 8 p.m. so that parents can meet teachers and see first-hand the science activities in which their children have been involved.

Four short science films also will be shown: "Drop of Water," "Spiders," "This is the Moon" and "Sounds around Us."

Students and parents will compete for a $5 prize in the office by trying to guess how many nails are contained in a jar. Refreshments will be served.

This is Monteith's fourth Science Fair and the event has become popular. It's usually attended by approximately 1,000 people.

Woods Studies Planners' Plans

Two recommendations from the Planning Commission focusing upon Sunningdale Park were unanimously referred to the Committee of the Whole by The Woods Council.

This action transpired at the regular meeting Monday, January 6.

The recommendations stem from two unanimous Commission votes on a pair of separate motions at their November 26 meeting. One was that the portion of Sunningdale Park between Sunningdale drive and Lochmoor boulevard not be vacated.

The second motion was that the portion of Sunningdale Park between the drive and boulevard not be paved and that it be left in its unimproved condition, i.e., a gravel road.

Commissioner Thomas Fahrner had earlier said these actions were taken by the commissioners, based upon the wishes of area residents.

Generally speaking, friends fall into two categories—those we need and those who need us.

Boat Dockage Plan Criticized

That of "bug-a-boo," The Woods' boat dockage "bumping" procedure as outlined in Ordinance No. 269, was the subject of further comment at the regular council meeting Monday, January 6.

The fifth letter received by the council viewing this procedure, and the fourth fixing it, was unanimously referred to the Committee of the Whole, (C-W), for further study with all earlier, related info.

Around 14 older boat space renters were recently notified they will be "bumped" from their docks and, as a result, will have to go back on the dockage waiting list.

Kenneth F. Meloche, of Raymond road, addressed the council and stressed some points made in his letter. He, like a number of other citizens who spoke, felt discriminated against. "I resist the idea of handing over what I have spent time and money to build (regarding recreation facilities), because someone has had to wait to get on the list," he wrote.

Mr. Meloche felt senior citizens and retirees, like himself, should be given special consideration "since so much more is provided for those younger."

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos emphasized once again this will be a difficult problem to solve but the council will hash it out in an upcoming C-W session which Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hailmann will attend.

The mayor also said in past years no residents really had to be bumped and at this stage he had no idea what the future would hold regarding this procedure.

Saint John Hospital and Cottage Hospital were both out of the running in the New Year's baby competition since neither hospital had any deliveries that day.

WCCC Board's Actions Opposed

The Woods Council unanimously voted to draft a resolution similar to the City of Allen Park's, which opposes the expenditures of funds by Wayne County Community College, (WCCC), at the regular meeting Monday, January 6.

The Allen Park measure says many taxpayer complaints have been received on the imposition of a millage for the construction of new instructional facilities by the college. It stresses that county taxpayers have previously rejected the proposition for the new construction by the college.

It also says the board of trustees, while within the law, have failed to acknowledge the vote of taxpayers and the state of the economy. So, the city urged its State Representative and senators that P.A. No. 331 of 1966, as amended, "be reviewed so as to permit taxation with representation, or in the alternative, to restrict the expenditure of funds" by the college.

At the same time, Woods Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan, irked over what she called "taxation without representation," wanted to investigate the possible test of such a law in the courts with other interested communities. Her motion referring this matter to the Committee of the Whole for further study was unanimously approved.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Trying to sell your home, yourself, can leave you feeling down and out — just plain disgusted. You fixed up the wrong things, or the right things the wrong way. An oil stained driveway, a loose brick on the front steps, a sticking door, or a dripping kitchen faucet — you got so used to them, you do not see them any more, but others do at first glance. Fundamental value is there, but the picture is spoiled. Money could have been spent where it counted. But you are not a professional, so how are you to know?

When you are selling, GROSSE POINTE REAL ESTATE CO., 18710 Mack Ave., 882-0087 can be very helpful in many aspects such as by helping you set a fair market price on your property. We will then use our knowledge and experience to see that you receive a fair value. We have many ready buyers and will give your home extended coverage through our advertising program. Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-5, Sun. noon-5, other times by appointment.

Juvenile Car Thief Nabbed

A 15-year-old Detroit boy was arrested by Detroit police on December 26, when he was found to be driving an automobile reported stolen from a Park car sales dealership, it was disclosed on Thursday, January 2, by Park Lt. Gordon Duncan.

The juvenile was released to the Grosse Pointe Youth Service Division for further investigation and disposition of the matter.

The car, a 1972 Buick station wagon, was stolen from Richard Buick, a sales firm, where the vehicle had been left by its owner for service, the lieutenant said.

It was not revealed if the 15-year-old was alone in the break-in of the firm's building, but he was behind the wheel when spotted on December 27, by officers of the Mack Avenue Station, Seventh Precinct, and taken into custody, after which he was released to Park authorities.

The sales firm, located at 15127 Kercheval, was entered by breaking the glass of the rear door and reaching in and unlatching the lock, Lt. Duncan said.

At first glance it appeared that nothing was taken when the burglary was discovered by employees who had come to work early in the morning of December 26. It was not until work was to have begun at the station wagon that the vehicle was discovered missing and Park police notified.

The name of the owner was not released, but the lieutenant said the station wagon was valued at $2,400.

Former War Memorial photography instructor Joseph P. Messana is featuring a class at the Pointe workshop of sculptor Frank Varga Jr. Saturday morning, January 11, as part of his winter on-location photography workshop course which began Saturday, January 4, and concludes on March 15.

This is the fourth year in which Mr. Messana has conducted such workshops and the first time such a session has been held at Mr. Varga's studio. "This is the first time in the history of the studio that a class has been brought inside and pieces of sculpture specially lit," said Mr. Messana, a frequent speaker at Grosse Pointe Camera Club meetings.

He said all photographers will be given a lecture on composition and how to lens a sculptor and his students working in their natural setting. A special tea will be held after the 10 a.m.-12 noon session.

"This is one of the highlights of the entire winter course," stated Mr. Messana, who added this class is limited to 20 persons. Space for this session, at $7 per person, must be reserved before the 11th.

Two other highlights of the winter program include an ice and snow shooting session with the photographing of outside winter scenes and ice formations. This class, which will be held on Saturday, February 15, will begin along Lakeshore road at St. Paul's on the Lake and continue to Mount Clemens.

The other session, Friday-Sunday, February 7-9, is a special weekend at Sugar Loaf Village to lens skiers and winter scenes.

Students are required to bring their own cameras, tripod, light meter, lenses and other equipment for the classes which he says are becoming more exciting because of the approach taken. "Nothing is done inside a studio but on actual locations," he stressed.

For further information on the Varga session and the overall program, call Mr. Messana at 821-6619.

Thieves Enter 4 Woods Homes

Four breaking and entering reports were received by The Woods Department of Public Safety between Sunday, December 29, and Wednesday, January 1. Two of the incidents were reported on New Year's Day.

A neighbor discovered the break-in at a Roslyn road residence on the 29th and notified the department, as the residents were away. Upon their return home, they said the following items were found missing:

A portable, five-inch black and white AM-FM "pop-up" TV-radio, valued at $169; a see-through plastic bank containing around $2 in change; a camera, $20; and an unknown amount of pennies taken from a mug.

Entry was gained by forcing open a back door.

Thieves entered a Paget court home two days later. Woods officers received information of this incident when a "911" call was transferred to them from Detroit police. The culprits entered through a rear sliding door and ransacked several rooms before taking a stereo set, valued at around $1,500, plus a camera, $800.

Then a Hawthorne road resident returned home during the early morning hours New Year's Day to discover the burglary of his house. The thieves snatched a stereo receiver, valued at approximately $350, from the family room and a 21-inch color TV set, $400, from the living room.

Entry was gained by prying

Nature Films Being Offered

Pointe resident Stephen M. Stackpole, who is devoting his life to conservation for survival, will present two color nature films in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium free of charge on Monday evening, January 20, at 8 p.m. They are "Ospreys in Michigan," an "Endangered Species" and "Pawns of the Everglades."

Mr. Stackpole is striving to save the fish hawk in Michigan and prevent the danger to the Everglades National Park due to environmental abuse and water diversion.

Mr. Stackpole attended the College of Wooster and has long been associated with the Cranbrook Institute of Science assisting its botanists and naturalists in mounting plant specimens and photographing wild flowers. He also aided the curator of education by making auxiliary projections for Cranbrook's planetarium.

Since 1966, Mr. Stackpole and his co-worker, Thomas Fraser, in conjunction with Sergy Postupalsky of the University of Wisconsin have increased the nearly extinct Osprey population of Michigan by installing a new type of nesting platform particularly in the Fletcher Pond area near Alpena. In 1969, the group formed Conservation for Survival and research is now underway in the Florida Everglades.

All who are interested in preservation of our birds and wildlife are urged to attend this illustrated lecture, ask questions and become informed. Complimentary tickets are now available at the Center office.

Routes to Florida's Lures

The wintertime lure of warm, sunny Florida should be even more tantalizing to vacationing Michiganders this year as the Sunshine State is offering some of the best bargains in recent years, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Motorists heading south will find a wide choice of rooms in all areas of Florida and at rates that are only a dollar or two higher than last winter," explains Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

"Many motels and hotels also are offering package rates that further reduce total costs for vacations ranging from three days to three weeks," he adds. "This is especially true in the Miami and central Florida areas, where demand for rooms is well below capacity."

"Travelers who stay just a few miles away from such popular attractions as Disney World and Miami Beach can save between $10 and $20 per day in room rates," Ratke points out. "The Sunny Isles area, located just north of Miami Beach, has a number of good motels with room rates significantly less expensive than those right on Miami Beach."

"With gasoline plentiful along all major routes to Florida as well as in the Sunshine State, Florida should be especially attractive to winter vacationers," he states.

Ratke notes, however, that a dismal economy coupled with high unemployment in Michigan could take the luster off winter vacation plans for more than 200,000 Michiganders who normally travel to Florida between De-

Showcase to be in operation February 20. It will be a permanent part of Circus World, which will be a multi-million dollar entertainment complex at Barnum City when completed.

Popular Cypress Gardens now has a new section of stylized areas called Gardens of the World. Currently open are the American, Dutch, Mediterranean and English gardens. Additional gardens are set for future construction.

In the Daytona Beach area, the exotic Marco Polo World reconstructs the travel of the famous Italian explorer through five-theme areas: China, Japan, India, Venice and Turkey.

The Miami Seaquarium has added a $500,000, 1,800-seat and TV complexes. A renovated Scenic Monorail ride also has been re-opened.

At Tampa's Busch Gardens, several innovations have been added, including a mile-long sky ride offering an "eagle's-eye view" of the African veldt where animals roam free, and the peanut-powered "Mem," an Indian elephant.

"Michiganders interested in visiting these varied and highly scattered entertainment attractions should select the best routes to and from Florida destinations to conserve time and fuel," suggests Ratke.

Auto Club's accompanying map shows the four easiest and safest routes to Florida, one including a partial alternate. The routes are labeled A, B, C and D.

East Michigan motorists will find Route A via I-75 the most direct to Florida. It goes through Cincinnati, Lexington, Knoxville and Chattanooga, but skirts Atlanta with a bypass. This route is 1,394 miles long with 1,363 miles of four-lane highway.

Route A has only 50 miles of semi-mountainous country through Kentucky and Tennessee with $4.80 in tolls. A 28-mile stretch of I-75 in Tennessee between Lenoir City and Athens, south of Knoxville, was scheduled for completion in late December.

Since all but three miles of its 1,459-mile length is four-lane highway, Route B is preferred by many Michigan motorists. It is the most direct route for West Michigan travelers, and it can be reached via Fort Wayne and Indianapolis from western and central Michigan. East

Club Launches Cage Program

The Neighborhood Club has launched its 1975 activities with a boys' basketball program. The Collegiate League, fourth grade, began Tuesday, January 7, at Brownell Middle School.

Today, Thursday, January 9, the Pro League, South Division, begins at Pierce Middle School.

On Saturday, January 11, three divisions start their seasons. At Brownell, Pro League, North Division and Central Division will play.

A Senior League will start at North High School. Spectators are welcome to watch any of these competitions at no charge.

More information on the leagues can be obtained by calling the Club at 885-4600.

Michigan motorists go by way of Toledo, Cincinnati and Louisville.

This route has virtually no mountain roadway and often offers better driving conditions in the winter than other southern routes. While it is 66 miles longer than Route A, driving time is the same for both.

Route B-1, which includes Route B to Nashville, is 1,499 miles long and has less freeway than Route B. Its chief advantage is an alternate to Route B in case of bad weather around Chattanooga and Atlanta. Tolls are $5.40 for both Routes B and B-1.

Longest of the routes is C at 1,576 miles with 1,227 miles of divided highway. Tolls are $8.30. Motorists should check winter road conditions in Ohio and Pennsylvania before using this scenic route, which meanders through Virginia's Shenandoah Valley and the central Carolinas.

Route D is recommended for spring, summer and fall travel. Snow and ice conditions in winter in West Virginia and North Carolina may make roads hazardous. This is the most scenic route with 1,490 miles and 1,127 miles of freeway. Tolls are $7.

Chorus Seeks New Members

The Grosse Pointe Community Chorus is inviting all singers over 16 years of age to sing with the chorus for the spring concert. No auditions or tryouts are required and Pointe residency is not necessary for membership.

Rehearsals will begin Tuesday, January 14, from 8-10 p.m., at Parcels Middle School. Registration will take place the first three Tuesdays from 7:30-8 p.m.

The spring concert is scheduled for Sunday, April 13. President of the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus is John Slimko. Director of the singers is Richard Johns, Choir Master at Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church. He may be reached at 888-0710 for further information.

If you expect to be popular, give a minimum of advice and a maximum of applause.

Look ahead and prepare — that way you'll never have to look back and regret.

Detroit Auto Show Starts Jan. 11

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

A few last holiday notes before we let this year's Christmas Present fade into Christmas Past: Did you manage to get down to the Moross House in East Jefferson avenue for the Christmas Show sponsored by the Harper Woods Garden Club? If you didn't you really missed something, for the 1974 Show was perfectly beautiful, thanks in large part to the efforts of HWGC President Mrs. Laddy Rice, of Hawthorne road.

And Pointers did very well in the ribbons categories. For instance: in the "Deck the Halls" (mantels) division, a blue was awarded to Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., of Ridge road, a red to Mrs. Benjamin H. Paddock, III, of Lincoln road.

Mrs. Ford Ballantyne, Jr., of Beverly road, picked up a red for "Silent Night" (table arrangements), and Mrs. Rice received a blue for "In a Manger of Straw," (wreaths).

In the Horticulture Division Mrs. Ray Smith took one blue ribbon, Mrs. Pierre V. Heftler two blues and one red.

The Mesdames Hudson, Paddock and Ballantyne are, incidentally, all members of the Garden Club of Michigan.

This is a telephone.

It's also how to make yourself feel positively reborn. All you do is lift the receiver, dial the number directly below and say I'd like to make an appointment for a new me. Which, this winter, could involve any number of pretty things. Like deciding to be a redhead for once in your life. Or wearing curls again. Or going from short to shorter. If you've been toying with a change and hesitating and toying and hesitating — c'mon, we're just a tingle away.

in the Maumee avenue block facing Bon Secours Hospital, and each year, in the Christmas season, their front windows glow with single candles, casting a rosy light out on the snow.

It's a picture . . . and it's appreciated, as this note, addressed to "The Christmas Card House" and dropped off by hand in the Bruces' mail basket, attests:

"I wonder if you realize the pleasure you have brought to many at Bon Secours Hospital during the holiday season, with your beautifully lighted house?"

"I work as a nurse attendant in Pediatrics, which is on the northeast side of the Hospital and in a good spot to enjoy your lights. Many nights I've held children up to watch in awe . . . and many parents have commented, too."

The note is signed simply "Thanks! W.G."—but we've learned that W.G. stands for Wilma Ingalls, of Yorkshire road.

The Bruces consider Wilma's note their nicest Christmas present of all this year.

Dancing in The New Year—at Church

Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church was the scene of one of our town's most gala New Year's Eve celebrations as some 75 Church members and friends gathered to dance to the music of the Don Barbour Quintet and enjoy a delicious Midnight Meal provided by the guests.

Ula Perry and Nell Barbour planned the successful evening, preceded by a series of cocktail parties in various homes throughout The Pointe. At the Devonshire road residence of Mr. and Mrs. Don Zito wishes for a "Happy New Year!" blended with cries of "So sorry you're leaving . . . We'll miss you . . ."

The Zitros are moving to Bay Village, O., this week.

There are two new works in Harbinger's repertory as it begins its fifth performing season. The group has danced in regional festivals as well as locally, where it's been "guest artist" with both the Detroit and Grosse Pointe Symphonies.

New Symphony Year Beginning This Week

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 53rd performance in Hill Auditorium opens the New Year with a pair of concerts this Thursday evening, January 9, at 8:30 o'clock and Sunday afternoon, January 12, at 3:30 o'clock.

On the podium for the first time since last October will be DSO music director Aldo Ceccato, who spent the last October, he spent November and December on an extensive guest conducting tour of Europe and Israel where he made his debut with the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra.

Lorn Hollander began piano lessons when he was four. From the age of eight until he was 20 he studied with the late Eduard Steuermann at Juilliard School.

He made his first major orchestral appearance with the DSO in December, 1958, when he was only 14, and has since performed in well over a dozen DSO concerts in Ford Auditorium, on tour and at the Worcester Festival.

His most recent DSO appearance was at Meadow Brook last summer. At the end of this month he will appear with the Orchestra at Carnegie Hall in New York.

Mr. Hollander has performed with more than 50 major orchestras on four continents and on every key recital series in the United States, and has been seen on television more than any other classical artist.

His London debut in 1971 with the London Philharmonic Orchestra under Aldo Ceccato was termed an "uncommon pleasure" by the critic of The Times. His Blossom Festival appearance with Ceccato last summer was received with highest acclaim.

Bach's Clavier Concerto No. 1 (BWV 1052) is the final version of what was perhaps originally a violin concerto. Bach arranged it for himself or one of his sons—to perform with the Leipzig Collegium Musicum during the early 1730's.

Strauss's "Burleske" was also composed for his own use, in 1885-86, but it was not performed until five years later, with the composer conducting rather than playing, at Eisenach, (coincidentally, Bach's birthplace). Dvorak's Eighth Symphony, Opus 88, (formerly known as No. 4), was also premiered in 1890, in Prague.

Spring Benefit to Aid Hutzel Hospital

When it comes to planning a fund-raising event the Hutzel Hospital dinner-dance committee takes nothing for granted.

The committee has started preparations for its affair a full five months in advance of the May 31 date at Hillcrest Country Club, despite the fact that this established social event has a history of three consecutive successful years.

Chairing the committee for Hutzel's largest annual fund-raising project is Patty Mack, wife of the Hospital's president Dr. Robert E. Mack, of Bloomfield Hills.

Co-chairing is Barbara Boyce, of Berkshire road, whose husband Dr. Charles Boyce is on the Hospital's medical staff.

Mrs. Mack and Mrs. Boyce are directing the activities of a group which includes wives of Hutzel physicians, administrators and members of the Volunteer League and trustees.

Committee members, responsible for ticket sales, are spread throughout Detroit, Grosse Pointe, the Birmingham-Bloomfield area, Southfield, Dearborn and Troy.

Proceeds from the late-spring benefit will go into the Hospital's building fund. Hutzel Hospital, located in the Detroit Medical Center, has been serving the Detroit metropolitan area for more than a century.

St. Paul Co-op Nursery Compiling Membership

Saint Paul Lutheran Co-operative Nursery, a non-profit organization, is compiling its membership list for the 1975-76 school year.

A four-year-old class, meeting three mornings a week and limited to 24 children, is taught by Mrs. John Williams, assisted by Mrs. James Ireton.

Three-year-olds meet two mornings a week. They are taught by Mrs. Francis Lamb, also assisted by Mrs. Ireton.

A co-op nursery is one in which the mothers share in the "teaching" of the class, on a general once-a-month schedule. Saint Paul also boasts a large variety of equipment and experienced teachers to help prepare children for kindergarten by making school a good experience.

Anyone with children who will be ready for nursery school next year, or in the next few years, may contact Mrs. James Ketzler, 882-2887, for further information.

Artists Market Exhibit Slated

"Painters Vision," designed to expose the diversity and intensity of Detroit painting and featuring work by Gary Armstrong, Ken Bracken, Richard Brooker, Bill Clark, Lucille Nawara, Virginia Conder, Patricia Quinlan, Paul Zenian, Gary Huber and Rick Vian, opens tomorrow, Friday, January 10, with a 5 to 8 o'clock invitational reception at the Detroit Artists Market.

The exhibit will run through Saturday, February 8, at the galleries in Randolph street. Gallery hours are 10 to 5 o'clock Monday through Saturday.

Ceccato Given Hamburg Post

Detroit Symphony Orchestra music director Aldo Ceccato has been appointed general music director of the Hamburg Philharmonic effective with the 1975-76 concert season.

Ceccato's acceptance of this additional conducting post makes him one of a group of leading conductors who hold dual music directorships. He has been music director of the Detroit Symphony since May 1974.

In his new role Ceccato will conduct eight weeks of the 12-week Hamburg Philharmonic symphonic concert season during 1975-76.

His Detroit responsibilities will include conducting 16 weeks of subscription and tour concerts during the regular season.

Announcement of the Italian-born conductor's new European post came as the maestro and his family were spending the holiday season in Milan, Italy.

Ceccato returns to the Detroit Symphony today, January 9, for a pair of subscription concerts in Ford Auditorium with Lorin Hollander as guest pianist.

The bride-elect was graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School and Michigan State University and is presently teaching in the Taylor Public Schools.

Alliance Plans Film Showing

The Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe will open 1975 with a fun-for-everyone film showing this Sunday afternoon, January 12, at 3 o'clock in University Liggett School's Cook road campus auditorium.

"Marry me... Marry me" (Mazel Tov), presented in French with English subtitles, stars Claude Berri in a cinematic feast of life revolving around a betrothal and marriage. Among its most amusing scenes is a dialogue between Berri and his future father-in-law. The finale is a beautiful marriage scene.

Claude Berri is well known for his role in the film "Le Poulet" as well as "The Two of Us."

This 1969 production is in color. It is free to Alliance members.

WILLIAM L. HURLEY, OF LAKELAND AVENUE

By Janet Mueller

"I've always been interested in books and reading and history. American History in particular, so when I was asked to serve on the board of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library I thought there's nothing better I would like to do."

Bill Hurley has been on the Friends' board four-and-a-half years now. He is a vice-president, as is Doris (Mrs. Wilber M., Jr.) Brucker.

William D. Dahling is the group's current president. Walter B. Fisher serves as treasurer, Mrs. John A. Barr as secretary.

Board members are William J. Adams, Ralph Burton, Monsignor Francis X. Canfield, Mrs. Don T. Galvin, Jr., William B. Hall, Mrs. T. H. Mecke, Jr., B. Courtney Rankin, Frank J. Sladen, Jr., Pepper Whitelaw and Mrs. Charles Wright, III. Dr. Alfred H. Whitaker is director emeritus.

They Meet Monthly They get together once a month, (summer months excepted), to discuss and decide where, when and how they can help their Library.

They're the tip of the iceberg, representing nearly 4,000 Grosse Pointe Library Friends. That's a very good group, numerically, in a community of Grosse Pointe's size: a lot of Friends... but the Friends want all the Friends they can get.

And each year, in January, they set out to get them. Bill Hurley is chairman of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library's January membership campaign this year.

Beautiful Resolution... take stock of your looks in the New Year. If you're completely satisfied, that's great. If you're not, Tess Nepi, with a license in cosmetology, will analyze your skin and makeup and recommend a better look for you.

CHRIS MOTKE, of Washington road, performed an exotic belly dance for her bowling league at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club at the league's Christmas luncheon Wednesday, December 11, and made a return engagement for the GPCY bowling league Friday, December 13.

Grosse Pointe South High School graduate KENNETH L. WELLS, son of the JEROME WELLS RITERS, of Beaconsfield avenue, has enlisted in the United States Air Force and will begin training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., March 14.

JEAN C. HUDSON, a graduate of Miss Porter's School in Farmington, Conn., where she played tennis, field hockey and volleyball, now a sophomore at Wesleyan University, daughter of MR. and MRS. JOSEPH L. HUDSON, JR., of Ridge road, has been awarded a letter in recognition of her contributions to the 1974 Wesleyan women's varsity field hockey team.

All Friends would agree that their most important membership dividend is intangible: an increased awareness of the opportunities for enjoyment and education available for themselves and their children at the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

Bill Hurley was proposed for the board by the Friends' nominating committee, which seeks to maintain a balanced group of concerned individuals who can be helpful and reflect the community as a whole.

Bill brought to the board not just community concern and commitment and a reader's delight in books but the cachet of a man who has an author in the family.

Memberships dues, which form the basis for Friends' funds, are supplemented from time to time by special gifts from individuals and foundations.

The funds are channeled through the Friends' appropriations committee.

Grosse Pointe's Public Library, which registers 28,034 users out of 67,560 residents, is a full-service library, providing films, a unique tool collection, framed art prints, taped music and book reviews, records and cassettes as well as the traditional printed materials.

It can serve as headquarters for special programs and promotions. For example, the Library expects to take a very active role in Grosse Pointe's observance of the American Bicentennial, sponsoring it at the local level.

"Bi-Centennial committees are being organized now," Bill Hurley reports, "and we expect to be VERY active over the next two-year period."

There's also Clifford, 23, Celeste, 20, and eight-year-old Elton, all of whom strum along with their siblings but won't be available for the Garden Center program.

They're The Forresters, children of the Edward James Forresters, of St. Clair avenue, and their music is a combination of happy tunes from the Roaring 20's, minstrel and vaudeville eras, their style reminiscent of Eddie Peabody, with some contemporary chord additions.
