LYNETTE FROMME was found guilty late Wednesday night of attempting to assassinate President Ford. A unanimous jury of eight women and four men returned the verdict against Miss Fromme with the defendant absent from the courtroom. Miss Fromme became the first person in history to be covered under a special law governing presidential assassinations and attempts. The conviction carries a maximum prison term of life with parole possible after 15 years.

THE WIDOW OF DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING said Thursday his assassination apparently was caused by a government conspiracy, and investigation into his slaying should be reopened. "I don't have the facts but at this stage I say it appears there was a conspiracy in the death of my husband," Coretta King said. The FBI had acknowledged earlier that it undertook a harassment campaign to discredit King but has concluded that James Earl Ray acted alone in King's assassination. Mrs. King, on a three-nation African tour, gave her views before a meeting with Kenyan women leaders arranged by the U.S. Information Service.

THE DETROIT SYMPHONY Orchestra management and musicians reached a tentative agreement early Saturday morning to end an eight-week old contract dispute that had shut down the symphony for the bulk of the season. Dawson Lewis, chief negotiator for management, said that if the musicians ratify the agreement, the symphony will hold previously scheduled concerts Thursday evening, Friday morning and Saturday evening.

THE BIGGEST EARTHQUAKE to hit Hawaii in more than a century struck the active Kilauea volcano Saturday, setting off spectacular lava eruptions 100 feet high and a tidal wave alert. A group of beachfront campers was trapped by the crashing earth and water, and officials said at least one was killed and 19 were injured. Beaches all around the island were evacuated. The quake registered 7.2 on the Richter scale — a major earthquake.

PRESIDENT FORD Monday morning in Tokyo on Friday morning for a one-hour refueling stopover, then took off for Peking and five days of talks with Chinese leaders. Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger were greeted at Tokyo's Haneda Airport by Foreign Minister Kiichi Miyazawa and a representative of Emperor Hirohito. The imperial household official relayed Hirohito's message wishing Ford a successful trip to China, Indonesia and the Philippines.

THE SPORTS WORLD mourned the death of All-Star second baseman Nellie Fox this week. The long-time Chicago White Sox great died of skin cancer in Baltimore Monday night, December 1. Teamed up with shortstop Luis Aparicio, Fox provided one of the smoothest double play teams in baseball. Fox will long be remembered for the huge chaw of tobacco in his cheek and his grit on the playing field. He was 47.

It was qualification day for members of The Farms Police Department Sunday, November 30, as Sgt. ARNOLD PARSONS, (far left), and Cpl. RONALD WOOTEN, (middle), watch range officer Cpl. OTTO GLANERT, (with pistol), demonstrate the correct way to handle their weapon.

GP Shores Public Safety Contracts Grant Officers Pay, Cost-of-Living Hike

Negotiations Restricted to Wages Only with Limit Set at 5.5 Percent; New Talks to Start in February for 1976-77 Agreement

By James J. Njaim
New contracts between the Shores and its officers of the Public Safety Department, approved by the Village council on Tuesday, November 18, became official with the signature of Shores Village President Gerald Schroeder on Wednesday, November 26. The contracts, which only involve wages, were made retroactive to July 1.

Separate contracts were negotiated by the Grosse Pointe Shores Command Officers Association, (GPSCOA), and the Grosse Pointe Shores Public Safety Officers Association, (GPSPSOA). Members of both Associations had ratified the agreements, which needed the signature of Mr. Schroeder, who was out of town.

Everyone Satisfied
Cpl. Daniel Fronczak, president of the GPSCOA, comprised of sergeants and corporals, Gary Mitchell, president of the GPSPSOA, and Village Superintendent Thomas Jeffrey expressed satisfaction that the negotiations were concluded successfully.

Both Associations are under a two-year contract which limits negotiations only to wages and cost-of-living escalator clauses. The contracts expire on June 30, 1976.

The GPSCOA contract last year granted the sergeants and corporals $17,815 and $16,415, respectively, which includes a 10c cost-of-living hike. The new increase granted, plus the cost-of-living according to the Detroit Metropolitan Index, gives the sergeants a wage hike to $18,795,

Police Kept 'On Target' By Practice

Required to Take Marksmanship Qualification Tests Annually; Fire at Silhouettes

By Tom Greenwood
"All ready on the right. All ready on the left. All ready on the firing line. Commence firing."

There's a split second of silence, then suddenly the air is filled with the punching, crackling sound of weapons firing furiously at silhouetted figures.

After 10 seconds, a whistle blows and silence falls on the smoke-filled room. The scene is the basement of the Woods Public Safety Building on Mack avenue. The men firing are members of The Farms Police Department taking part in their yearly marksmanship qualifications.

The range officer for the course is Farms Police Cpl. Otto Glanert, a 19-year veteran of the force. Cpl. Glanert, who recently completed the Smith and Wesson Academy Advanced Firearms and Non-Lethal Weapons School in Springfield, Mass., is responsible for the recent renovation of the qualification course has undergone.

Targets Changed
In years past, the policemen shot at conventional targets while standing in the middle of the room squeezing off shots at a bullseye target image. Now the men fire a combat course at humanoid silhouettes scored as to vital areas.

"This typifies the type of shooting a policeman would actually use on the street," said Cpl. Glanert. "The combat course tries to get the officer to be instinctive in drawing his weapon and using it accurately."

Each Grosse Pointe officer must qualify on the combat course once a year. Farms officers also participate in practice shoots held in the garage on The Farms Police Department once every few months.

Does It Monthly
Cpl. Glanert himself shoots more often, coming to complete the combat course twice a month.

"Last year was our first attempt at the combat course and everyone seemed to enjoy it," he said. "Some even wanted around to shoot again. It was different that urges the men to get out and shoot on their own is good."

Each officer shoots 60 rounds over a 45-minute period. This includes shooting six rounds in the dark using

Youths Robbed At Knife Point

Two 15-year-old boys told Woods police they were robbed at knife point by two males Friday evening, November 28. One youth lost $3 in the incident, while the other lost $2.

The victimized pair flagged down a scout car in front of Parcels School, 20600 Mack avenue, near the playground, and said they had just been robbed in the parking lot off Sunningdale Park.

They said one of the robbers, who told the boys to give them all their money, flashed a four- to five-inch knife. The culprits then entered a van, which went south on Sunningdale Park.

The knife-wielder was described as a new Ford, red in color, with blonde shoulder length hair. The other robber was described as white with brown hair done in an Afro style. He wore a leather jacket. The van was described as a new Ford, red in color. It had mirror windows in the rear doors, no windows on its sides and chrome bumpers.

Youth Service Division Detectives Pursue Idea of Eastern District Branch in Effort Towards Better Understanding of Problems Faced in Area

By Roger A. Waha
In an attempt to obtain better service from and improved communication with the Wayne County Juvenile Court, members of the Youth Service Division, (YSD), are pursuing the idea of an eastern district branch of juvenile court which would include all the Pointes and Harper Woods. In relation to this is the thought of having a judge or referee, having the community in mind and sympathetic to its problems, presiding over cases.

While the YSD has expressed its concern on both the service and communication fronts in the past, and while such a local focus type of plan isn't brand new, there appears to be a concentrated effort at this time to view proposals which could alleviate some problems which the division says it faces.

However, what specifically happens on this subject awaits a presentation to the YSD's Board of Managers, (including all Pointe city managers and a School Board representative), at its meeting early next year.

Talk to School Board
The NEWS explored the thoughts and ideas of YSD Dets. Patrick Fagan, Wayne Baum, Stuart Gerow and Donald Schmalz, along with those of Woods Public Safety Director Henry Marchand and Juvenile Court referee George Lilly, who lives in The Pointe, in relation to such a framework and its potential advantages.

Dets. Fagan and Baum viewed this topic as part of a presentation, which focused upon the division, its function, types of criminal activity investigated and plans for the coming year, to the School Board at its Monday, November 10, meeting.

"We wanted the seed regarding our thinking of pursuing a district type of juvenile court in some way, or having a visiting juvenile judge or referee come to the area," said Det. Fagan, who added, "We haven't approached the court on it as yet."

School Board Meeting Dec. 8

The regular monthly meeting of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education will be held at 8 p.m. on Monday, December 8, in the Board Room of the schools' Administration Building, 389 St. Clair avenue.

Joan R. Hanpeter, president of the Board, will chair the meeting. Dr. James A. Adams, superintendent of schools, will present his recommendations for the trustees' action.

The meeting is open to the public.

Store Robbery Suspect Picked Up in Wyoming

A suspect, wanted for the April 1974 armed hold-up of the Village Kroger store, has been apprehended by police in Rockspring, Wyo.

Sgt. Duncan MacEachern and Officer Dennis VanDale, of The City Police force, flew to Rockspring on Monday, December 1, to bring the suspect, John William Alexeas, back to face trial.

Alexeas, 35, was arraigned along with Kenneth Borchman, 31, last April 16, on an armed robbery charge stemming from the attempted robbery of $21,000 from the Kercheval avenue Kroger store. Alexeas skipped out on $10,000 bond some time before his June trial date.

He was apparently employed as a construction worker in Rockspring when that town's sheriff spotted him.

City police received word of his apprehension on November 14, and had just begun the time-consuming process of applying for a Governor's Warrant for extradition when Alexeas suddenly waived his right to a hearing, according to Lt. Robert VanTiem.

He will now face armed robbery charges in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Borchman was convicted of the robbery last year, and is now serving a four-year probationary sentence.

Police foiled the daylight robbery of the manager's office with the help of a Purotor armored car employee. While the Purotor man held one suspect, police chased the other through the Maire School playground to Loraine, where he was finally captured at gunpoint. All the loot was recovered.

Farms Says No to Plea Of Center

Council Unanimously Turns Down Request for Permission to Sell Liquor at Some Events

By Tom Greenwood
It was standing room only at city hall last night as The Farms Council dealt with a request from the War Memorial Association to be granted a Class C liquor license to be located at the Center.

Proponents and opponents of the request filled the chambers as both sides showed evidence of presenting their case.

Speaking for the War Memorial Association were Mrs. Albert Dickson and John Nicholson, Council for the Association was John Dykema.

Mrs. Dickson started the meeting by reading a prepared letter in which she said she hoped the War Memorial, council and residents of The Farms could settle their problems to their mutual benefit. She presented a "symbolic" petition to the chambers, representing a number of people who were in favor of the War Memorial's request.

Been Good Neighbor
She also said the War Memorial has always tried to be a good neighbor to the people living around the Center. Examples given were a large trash compactor the Center had purchased to "make things easier on our neighbors to the north" and the War Memorial's planned support for a new water main in The Farms.

Mr. Nicholson said he represented the board of directors of the War Memorial and that they had decided by a 12-2 vote to ask for a 90 day postponement of the public hearing so that "a dialogue might be set up between The Farms and the War Memorial."

Mr. Nicholson said there was much misunderstanding between all concerned and that the War Memorial felt their plans had not been properly understood.

He gave as an example an article that appeared in the "Detroit News" stating that the Center wanted to hold an Presently, the latest departure on the Jefferson Beach route from Grand Circus Park is at 7:20 p.m.

On the Charlevoix line, there will be service extensions of several miles, on both the inbound and the outbound routes.

First, on the inbound Charlevoix route, buses now leaving from Jefferson and Nine Mile for Detroit will begin leaving from Jefferson and Shook. Those buses include the 5:57 a.m., the 6:14 a.m., the 12:09 p.m., the 12:38 p.m., the 2:08 p.m. and the 3:02 p.m.

ACLU Studies Intervention

The American Civil Liberties Union's, (ACLU), Detroit branch board of directors has decided, pending a further study, not to intervene in the case of The Woods' lawsuit, recently filed in Wayne County Circuit Court, against the "Forever Family," a religious fellowship group.

The ACLU's committee of lawyers had recommended intervention in the case regarding defending the "Forever Family" on Thursday, November 20. However, Kathleen Smith, associate director, ACLU, said on Monday, December 1, the board of directors, based upon the fact situation they had before them, reported they couldn't intervene at this time.

While noting the request was denied at the board's Tuesday, November 25, meeting, based upon the facts presented, she indicated the ACLU will further investigate the fact situation in an attempt to obtain more information on the case.

A Wayne County Circuit Court hearing on the lawsuit is scheduled for Friday, December 12, before Judge Joseph Rashid to show cause why a permanent injunction should not be issued, based upon the city's complaint, in this matter.

The Woods' lawsuit seeks a temporary and permanent injunction to prevent the use of the premises at 1785 Roslyn road, (by the "Forever Family"), for religious meetings.

Farms Nixes License Plea

Maintaining this was untrue, Mr. Nicholson said the purpose of the license was to serve wine with meals and to allow drinks to be sold at functions held only by "organizations" such as: Kiwanis, Rotarians, Jaycees, etc.

Opponents Give Views

Many members of the audience opposed to the request gave their views on the proposal. They objected mainly to two points: the proximity of the War Memorial to residential areas and the fact that children use the facilities at the Center.

One question from the audience asked if the problem wasn't moot, citing a law that states liquor may not be served next to a church. The church referred to was Grosse Pointe Memorial located next to the Center.

Subsequent investigation showed the law stated "no liquor may be served within 500 feet of a church, unless the church says it doesn't object." Mayor Dingeman pointed out that the council had received a letter from the Memorial Church stating that they had no objections to the Center's plans.

Called Unnecessary

Other residents said the request was unnecessary since the War Memorial itself can be granted five temporary 24-hour liquor licenses during the year for various functions. In addition, they said, organizations using the facilities of the Center may also be granted 24 hour status.

After more debate between the War Memorial Association, the council and residents of The Farms, a vote was taken whether or not to grant a 90-day postponement to the War Memorial.

The council voted 4-2 not to grant the postponement, with one abstention. The reason cited for the denial was that the request had been before the council for 10 months, and "it was time to act on it."

Mr. Nicholson said the members representing the War Memorial Association had neither the power to present the Center's case, nor the facilities at hand to do so.

Farms resident Edward F. Wunsch, representing various Farms citizens, presented to the council petitions and letters opposed to

THE YULE LOG

The burning of the Yule log began as part of a pagan celebration marking the winter solstice. The tradition was later adapted by Christians who brought the log into the house on Christmas Eve, lighting it with a bit of tinder from the Yule fire of the preceding year. The log was believed to possess the power to protect from evil and to destroy old hatreds and misunderstandings. If the blaze went out in the night the household could expect ill luck in the future.

Police Marksmanship

The men start shooting at seven yards from the target, drop back to 15 yards and finally fire 20 yards from the target. Cpl. Glanert gives full instructions on each phase of the shooting before it starts.

"Studies have shown that most gunfights with police are within seven yards... and are unexpected. This course gets the officer used to getting his weapon out quickly and using it accurately," said Cpl. Glanert.

Different Positions

The police also shoot from different positions. Practice is given in standing, crouching, kneeling and prone positions.

The most harrowing part of the exercise comes near the end of the course when officers shoot in total darkness, using only a flashlight to illuminate the targets.

The shooter stands seven yards off his target, holding his flashlight fully extended perpendicular to his body. The officer fires six rounds at the target. After this, he turns off the light, re-loads his weapon and fires six more rounds at the target in total darkness. The flashlight cannot be used again.

Effect Is Sobering

The effect is sobering to most officers. "Of course the officer would never be in an atmosphere of total darkness on the street," said Cpl. Glanert. "There are always street lights, reflections on rainy surfaces and car lights. But this exercise gives the officers a chance to experience what it's like to fire in a totally darkened situation."

While most officers hit the target using the flashlight, the marksmanship drops while shooting in total darkness.

The silhouettes sit in front of massive steel sheets, angled to deflect all shots into sand filled troughs at the bottom of the steel barricades. There's little chance for ricochets, but the feeling in the dark is an uneasy one.

"No one likes the idea he may have to use his weapon against someone someday," said Cpl. Glanert. "Today's officer gets the best training available. It's not like the old days when they gave you a badge and a gun and told you to hit the streets."

"Today, you've got to be prepared."

LARGER STOP SIGNS

Two stop signs on Brys drive at Helen avenue were recently changed from 24-inch to 30-inch signs, reported The Woods Department of Public Safety.

Pointes Assess Vandalism Cost

By Jim Crockaert
Vandalism to city property in the Pointes seems to be more of a nuisance thing than a major problem, according to officials in the five cities. Only Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said that his city was experiencing damage running into the tens of thousands of dollars.

Mr. Petersen said that The Woods encounters vandalism to parking meters and traffic control devices, along with so-called "jawn jobs" which alone cost Woods' residents about $30,000 annually. There is no special fund to cover the damages, so property owners must handle the costs.

Thomas Kressbach, city manager of The City, said that vandalism is not high in cost, but it is a nuisance in the sense that service is disrupted and facilities are disfigured. "The damage isn't in the tens of thousands but it is expensive; it's petty vandalism, but it adds up — $20 here, $100 there," Mr. Kressbach said.

The most expensive vandalism problem The Park faces is replacing traffic signs. (A No Parking sign costs $20), according to Park City Manager Robert A. Stone. "We have had some damage at the parks, but that hasn't been too bad recently," he added.

Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis said that even though The Shores doesn't get as much exposure as the other Pointes, it does get a comparable share, especially at parks and playgrounds.

Andrew Bremer, Farms City Manager, lauded The Farms Police Department for that city's low vandalism rate. "Vandalism to city property is not of the magnitude to break out figures on it," Bremer said.

Car Overturns Injuring Two

Two men were injured, one seriously, in an auto accident that occurred 1:53 a.m. Saturday, November 29, in The Farms.

Taken to Saint John Hospital were Kenneth Alan Flaska, 24, of 1873 Manchester, the driver of the car. His condition was listed as serious.

In intensive care, and classified as serious to critical was Jerry Koning, 30, of 953 Washington.

Witnesses told police that the car, a 1969 yellow Triumph, was heading up Stephens from Charlevoix, when it hit the curb on the west side of the street. The car turned over in the air and ended upside down and pointed in the opposite direction.

The passenger, Koning, was thrown from the car, landing behind it.

The driver of the car was pinned inside the wreckage, and began crying for help. A neighbor, Clarence J. McLeod, pulled the driver clear of the wreckage and wrapped him in a blanket.

Other neighbors called an ambulance and the police.

Flaska was ticketed by Farms police for reckless driving and carrying improper license plates. A blood alcohol analysis requested by the police was performed at Saint John Hospital and proved positive for both men.

Helpful Youth Gest No Thanks

An 18-year-old Harper Woods youth, after doing a good deed, was given a nasty "thank you" by two males, who he said assaulted him and damaged his car, reported Woods police.

While investigating another complaint, Officer John Harwood was hailed by the youth around 11:30 p.m. on Thanksgiving Day, November 27.

The lad said he was about to attend a party at the Amvets Building, Harper Woods, when the pair asked if he would give their girlfriends a ride home. The youth agreed to help and look the two girls home.

After he and the twosome returned to the Amvets Building, they asked the youth to go to the parking lot but he said he'd park in the street.

He then asked the passengers for gas money for the favor he performed. The two refused to pay, and also to exit the auto. But after the youth exited, the pair did the same.

At this point, the youth told police both males jumped him, without provocation, and ripped his shirt. The lad fled to the Amvets Building to seek assistance.

He returned with two friends and found the twosome smashing his car. Upon seeing the trio, the two attackers dashed from the area, with one leaving his coat behind.

Officers reported all windows of the complainant's 1971, two-door vehicle, with the exception of the vent windows and the left rear window, were shattered. The auto's antenna also was broken and its roof depressed.

One of the subjects was described as having blond hair and being clean shaven, and was about 5'11" tall and between 140-150 pounds. The other was described as having red hair and a beard, and also was around 5'11" tall and between 140-150 pounds.

The incident is under investigation by the Detective Bureau.

A week ago this gentleman began his 50th year in the automobile business. All at the same location.

Meet Erwin Bauer.

We're confident his story is unique in all Detroit and Southeastern Michigan . . . and possibly in all the world. Erwin Bauer on Monday, November 24 started his 50th year of employment at Seymour Cadillac, East Jefferson, just three minutes from Detroit's new Renaissance Center, and some ten minutes from his Grosse Pointe home.

Mr. Bauer's first twenty years were with the then Cadillac Factory Branch's service department. Product knowledge plus his natural way with the public gained him the position of Senior Write-up man.

Then in early 1947 Cadillac offered him a choice of new career opportunities. One, he could come to the Zone Office in an executive service capacity . . . or two, he could go into sales at the location which had been his home away from home during the years which saw his marriage to wife Agnes and the birth of their daughter Beverly.

He chose the latter assignment, and so now the rest is history. And in his own words "it's been exciting history."

Twenty-nine full, rewarding years during which he's sold more than 2,500 Cadillacs to, he trusts, some 2,500 satisfied customers. At seventy-plus years of age he still looks eagerly toward the beginning of each new day . . . and its opportunities.

While not as yet considering retirement, he does enjoy his senior salesman status and its more relaxed scheduling. He quickly adds, though, "if one of my customers wants to see me anytime between 8 am Monday and 6 pm Friday, believe me, I'll be there."

With an attitude and drive like that, small wonder this salute to Erwin Bauer, a dedicated employee, a true gentleman and a fine friend and associate.

Thieves Enter Two Residences

Two breaking and entering reports were received by The Woods Public Safety Department on Tuesday, November 25. In one incident, which was reported around 9 p.m., the thieves took an estimated total of $3,548 in articles.

The missing items, taken from the East Kings court home, include a silver and white fox cape, valued at around $500; a 19-inch color television set, $450; and around $1,500 in women's jewelry, including rings, earrings and bracelets.

More articles are a small black jewelry box with around $200 worth of men's cuff links; a pocket calculator, tan in color, $15; and an 18 carat gold chain, (12-years-old), which was worth $200 new.

Still other goods include a lady's necklace, $100; a men's antique watch and braided gold chain, $500; a 35mm camera, $80; 200-300 unwrapped pennies; six rolls of silver quarters; and a $20 gold piece, of unknown value.

Police said entry was gained by prying open the east side door wall in this instance.

In the second incident, the complainant said he and his wife left their Stanhope avenue apartment around 1 p.m. and returned about 5:45 p.m. to discover the burglary.

Several items were reported missing including a portable, color 19-inch television set, of unknown value; two 8mm movie projectors, valued at around $150 and $80 respectively; a four-band radio, $50; and two watches, of unknown value.

Officers reported entry was gained by prying the door jamb near the lock and forcing the catch back.

A check of the outer door revealed pry marks as the culprits apparently pried open this door to enter the lobby of the building. In order to enter the complex, a person has to ring an apartment, police added.

Church Singers To Do Messiah

The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Cantata Singers with the Chamber Singers and soloists will present Part One of George Frideric Handel's "Messiah" on Sunday, December 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the Church, 16 Lakeshore road. Donations are $2 for adults and $1 for children under 12.

The Cantata Singers are a semi-professional group with members coming from the Pointes, Birmingham, Detroit and St. Clair Shores. The orchestra, conducted by Paul L. Reynolds, director of music for the Church, will consist of local musicians.

Soloists for the performance will be Nancy von Oeyen, soprano; Cynthia Blough, mezzo-soprano; James Hopkins and John Carter Cole.

According to Mr. Reynolds, Part One is the prologue to Parts Two and Three, when viewed as just one part of a massive Baroque masterpiece. Part One draws from the Prophets for the bulk of its libretto with a few passages from the Gospels of Luke and Matthew.

The first performance of "Messiah" was a benefit in Dublin for the Society for Relieving Prisoners, the Charitable Infirmary and Mercers Hospital on April 13, 1742. The work was commissioned for these organizations by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, the Duke of Devonshire and was often played in Dublin for charitable purposes.

Tiffany Shops Set Yule Walk

The large Tiffany shades on the lamp posts between Haverhill and Three Mile drive on Mack denote Tiffany lane, a small shopping area. On Sunday, December 7, for the ninth consecutive year the merchants will sponsor their annual Christmas Walk—from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Santa will be on hand to talk to children in the neighborhood, while the special guests will be children from Holy Trinity School. Merchants will host a party for the children at a local restaurant and present them with gifts from some of the shops. In return, the children will impart the "true spirit" of Christmas with carols.

The public is invited to visit the shops in Tiffany lane, and to join in the holiday festivities at the Christmas Walk. This year, rather than have lavish outdoor decorations, merchants have decided to donate the cost of same to Holy Trinity Parish. Though decorations may be fewer, holiday specials will be in evidence.

SANTA GETS STARTED

Santa Claus got his start in America when Dutch colonists who settled New York, brought their belief in St. Nicholas, a generous bishop who came to be regarded as a special friend of children. They believed that in early December, St. Nicholas visited the children while they slept, leaving gifts for those who were good and switches for those who were not.

GPS Contracts

PSOA, PSOs Harry Hamilton, Robert Bensinger, Bruce Darlington and GPSPSOA Attorney Armand Bove.

Cpl. Fronczak and PSO Mitchell said that they were extremely pleased with the contracts and in the manner Mr. Jefferis and Mr. Killebrew handled the negotiations with representatives of both Associations. They both said they are looking forward to the talks scheduled in February for the 1976-77 contracts.

Mr. Jefferis and Mr. Killebrew expressed their appreciation for the way the Public Safety Department representatives conducted themselves during the talks, and were glad that the discussions were concluded to everyone's satisfaction.

 THE PARK PHARMACY

Most people can recognize color. There are many who are color-weak, and a few that are totally color-blind—that is, they see black and white only. The most common color blindness is red-green blindness. To these people the entire color spectrum is seen in yellow and blue tones. This condition is inheritable, and is more common in men than women, affecting between five to eight per cent of the male population. Color blindness is a factor to consider when choosing an occupation.

Many factors account for the fine service given by pharmacists at THE PARK PHARMACY, 15324 E. Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park. Our professional staff is dedicated to giving personalized, prompt, and friendly attention to each customer. We keep individual and family records of medications to safeguard your prescriptions and to help you keep accurate records for tax purposes. Visit THE PARK PHARMACY for all your health and beauty needs, baby supplies, liquors, and greeting cards. We also sell and rent convalescent aids including wheel chairs, walkers, crutches, etc. Call us at 822-2580.

MANY POE FILMS
 Director Roger Corman is probably best known for his horror films. Some are based on the works of Edgar Allan Poe. These chillers include "The House of Usher," "The Pit and the Pendulum," "Premature Burial," "Tales of Terror," "The Raven," "The Haunted Palace" and "The Masque of the Red Death."

GM Previews Visits Schools
 General Motor's traveling road show of scientific research, Previews of Progress, visited three Pointe schools this week. The show, which is gauged to inspire interest in science and technology in students with live demonstrations of laser beams, solar energy and catalytic converters, visited Parcels, Brownell and Pierce Middle Schools on Monday, December 3. Previews will be shown at about 2,000 schools this year and be seen by over one million students and adults. It begins to appear now that prosperity is an affliction.

Shores Family Shares Bounty

Officers who were on duty at The Shores Public Safety Department on Thanksgiving Day, November 27, were not home for the national celebration, but they were treated to a grand Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings, thanks to a family whose name was kept anonymous. Without a doubt, the thoughts of the public safety officers were of home and being seated around their tables eating a bountiful dinner with their respective families. But, this was not to be because of the time of the shift duty.

The PSOs probably thought about eating hamburgers, with a possible doughnut, or a sweet roll, for dessert when they came into the station off patrol. But, they did not have to.

This anonymous family was thinking of their policemen, and spent the time, energy and money to purchase and prepare a sumptuous Thanksgiving dinner just for the fellows on duty and "the guys" really enjoyed it. Echoing the sentiments of his officers, Chief Joseph Vitale had this to say:

"We certainly appreciate the generosity of this wonderful family. Their kind gesture made the officers' duty time more pleasant, and although it was not like having Thanksgiving dinner at home, this was next to it.

"The Village of Grosse Pointe Shores is a great community to work for, not only because of the fact that we like our jobs, but also because the people we serve make our work most pleasant. The people in this Village are fabulous."

St. Paul's Fair This Saturday

Saint Paul's Catholic School, 170 Grosse Pointe boulevard, will host a Christmas fair, craft show and flea market on Saturday, December 6, from 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Fairgoers can watch craftsmen make original creations of porcelain, dolls, jewelry, quilting, applique and Christmas ornaments.

An international snack bar will carry candy canes, cotton candy and holiday cookies from foreign lands. Attic treasures and collectibles will be featured at a flea market.

The fair is sponsored by the Teacher-Parent Guild of Saint Paul's School and all proceeds will benefit the school. Chairmen for the Fair are: Mrs. Thomas P. Smith, general chairman; Mrs. Gerard Toenjes, assistant chairman; Mrs. James Creagh, craft show; Mrs. Robert Curran, flea market; Mrs. Rudolph Stonisch, Christmas cookies; Mrs. Jan Lehman, decorations; Mrs. Lawrence Garska, Girl Scout holiday baked goods; Mrs. Richard Graves, international foods; and Mrs. Charles Reinowski, publicity. General co-ordinator for the fair is St. Paul's Teacher-Parent Guild president, Richard Beyrle.

South Debaters in First Place

South High School's debate team, in only its second year of competition, is riding in first place in the Eastern Michigan League, (EML), with two debates remaining. South is also competing in the Southeastern Novice League.

On Saturday, November 22, the team placed fourth out of the nearly 100 teams who entered the Taylor Truman tournament. South won seven out of eight rounds and was one of five teams which finished with a 7-1 record.

South's team, coached by Anne Cowley, is composed of veterans Stewart Kurtz, Terry Berg and Bill Donahue, with newcomers Don Clark and Bruce Young rounding out the squad.

Novice team members are Sue Arducci, Barbara Gohhaart, Tom Durkin, Mallie Mills, Paul Pellerito, Rick Hawley, Bob Krueger, John Howell and Carole Ruwart.

Competitive debating is only one facet of South's program. Three new debate classes, with an enrollment of 62 students, have been added to the curriculum this year.

Remaining EML debates are Thursday, December 4, at Port Huron and Thursday, December 11, at Sterling Heights. Novice League debates remaining are December 4 and December 11 at Warren Woods High School.

Library Slates Pewabic Talk on Dec. 6

After six years of "living, sleeping and dreaming the stuff," Lillian M. Pear, is ready to share her extensive research of Pewabic pottery with Pointers at a lecture on Saturday, December 6, at 2 p.m. in the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

The Pointe, according to Mrs. Pear, of Trombly road, has the second highest concentration of the pottery in many homes and public buildings, next only to Indian Village in Detroit. Included is a Three Mile drive home that was once owned by the late Mary Chase Perry Stratton, Pewabic pottery's creator.

"There are so many people who have it in their homes and just cover it up or tear it down, that I feel it is very important to spread the word about its value, which has quadrupled, and its beauty," Mrs. Pear said.

Mrs. Pear has traveled throughout the country researching the pottery that made its way from Mrs. Stratton's Jefferson avenue studio into factories, schools and churches from coast to coast. She has collected several hundred photographs and documents which she will show at the Saturday lecture.

Most of her research began with the original work orders from the Pewabic plant, that are now kept in the Michigan State University Archives, Mrs. Pear said.

"Mrs. Stratton was an archivist's delight," Mrs. Pear said. "I didn't have to take anyone's word for anything, but could check everything for myself."

Scouts Holding Clothing Drive

Boy Scouts and their leaders from the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be out in force on Saturday, December 6, to collect filled clothing bags in the annual "Good Turn" clothing drive for Goodwill Industries. The bags were recently distributed to 300,000 homes in the metropolitan area.

Four Boy Scout troops and two Cub Packs from the area are participating in the drive. Involved are: Troop 61 from Saint Paul's Catholic Church, Troop 93 from Children's Home of Detroit, Troop 156 from Christ Episcopal Church, Troop 471 from Salem Memorial Lutheran Church, Pack 85 from Monteth School PTO, and Pack 86 from Trombly School PTA.

The Scouts are asking that householders fill their bags and have them on their front porches by 10 a.m. The Scouts will pick up the filled bags and take them to a large truck stationed in their area for loading and transport to the Goodwill warehouse.

The purpose of the drive is to provide a backlog of materials to sustain employment opportunities for the handicapped workers of the Goodwill Industries division of League-Goodwill.

Scouts are asking that material collected on December 6 be confined to clothing and small articles. Large items, such as furniture, will be collected by Goodwill at a later date by arranging for a truck pick-up.

Grosse Pointe Crisis Club Members Find Happiness

Eighteen years ago, a family was found penniless . . . without food, or clothing and living in a car! At their own expense, a small group of business and professional men fed, clothed and found lodgings for them. It was through this first humanitarian act that the Grosse Pointe Crisis Club was formed.

CRISIS . . . A prominent Grosse Pointe executive living in a $100,000 plus home, had exhausted his savings as a result of a critical and continuing illness. The family was living on peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. The Grosse Pointe Crisis Club came to their aid.

CRISIS . . . A pregnant girl from California wandered into the St. Clair Shores Fire Department. She had come to Detroit to marry the expectant father, who rejected her. She was penniless, without friends, food, or lodging. The Grosse Pointe Crisis Club flew her back to California.

CRISIS . . . A Lebanese child, whose survival depended on open heart surgery, was flown to Detroit, along with her parents, who, in turn, were clothed and housed during the child's recuperation, and, subsequently, all were flown back to Lebanon by The Grosse Pointe Crisis Club.

Each of the 350 members of this remarkable group of men is pledged "TO ACT FAST IN AN EMERGENCY, OR CRISIS NOT COVERED BY THE POLICIES OF OTHER CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS."

A non-profit organization, the Grosse Pointe Crisis Club meets once a month and each member is assessed $20 a year, from which it draws its financial resources. If the coffers run dry, the members dip into their own pockets and meet the 'crisis' at hand.

Through the dedicated efforts of these men, whose occupations range from that of chairman of the board of one of Detroit's largest automotive companies . . . to that of a garage mechanic—thousands of individuals and families are 'rescued' from disheartening circumstances and many lives are saved. Lieutenant Jay Ritchie, of the St. Clair Shores Police Department, contacted Grosse Pointe Crisis Club member Jay Louwers when he heard of a family that was in critical need of 'fast action'.

With a wife who had undergone kidney surgery, as well as a hysterectomy after the birth of their third child . . . Mr. X, (as he will be referred to), found himself with $4,000 in medical bills . . . utilities that had been turned off . . . the possible loss of his home . . . and his children in desperate need of food and clothing.

It all began as a result of a 5-month job layoff . . . the loss of his hospitalization . . . and a $1,000 loan.

The Grosse Pointe Crisis Club took immediate action. Within hours, $200 in clothing was purchased for the children . . . house and utility debts were paid . . . and an extended payment schedule was arranged for so that Mr. X could comfortably meet his medical payments. As for Thanksgiving . . . Lieutenant Ritchie and Mr.

Louwers personally delivered a six-course dinner to the door of Mr. and Mrs. X. Prepared especially for them, courtesy of the Georgian Inn, Gratiot avenue at 13 Mile road in Roseville . . . the feast included a 35 lb. turkey, butternut squash, cheese fondue, homemade bread and, naturally, homemade mincemeat pie.

What does The Grosse Pointe Crisis Club get in return? "A kind of unutterable happiness that comes when you've been able to help your fellow man," according to Mr. Louwers.

Youth Service Division Seeks Better Service from Juvenile Court

(Continued from Page 1) For his part, Det. Fagan indicated there would be no detention facility, only a location, e.g., a municipal courtroom, which would be used to hear cases for juveniles in the area.

Some Not Afraid "The way we operate now, (and still would), is to use every type of diversionary program first," he stated. If none of these programs works for a youth, then an application for a petition would be filed with Juvenile Court.

Even now, he noted, "We still hesitate to send a youth to Juvenile Court due to its location," (e.g., time spent travelling to downtown Detroit). But if the investigating officer feels such contact is necessary, the youth would

Vicious Dogs Kill Pet Poodle

A 10-year-old French poodle, relaxing on its owners' front porch, was viciously attacked and killed by two large Alaskan malamutes, according to a report made to Park police on Wednesday, November 28.

Glen Elliott, of 968 Barrington road, told investigating officers that he went to get his mail from the mailbox and witnessed the attack on his pet. The killer canines fled when Mr. Elliott came out the door of his house, escaping between two houses.

Officers surmised that the killer dogs were passing the Elliott residence and on seeing the Elliott pet, named "Pepper," alone, mauled and killed the little poodle.

probably be referred to the court.

"Now, to some juveniles and their parents' way of thinking, Juvenile Court is not something to be afraid of," said Det. Fagan. "Some take it seriously but others do not."

When an officer makes an application for a petition, the court can take several actions. For instance, the detective said if it's denied or no action at all is taken on it, the juvenile doesn't hear from the court. We, (the YSD), file an application and notify the juvenile we've done so, and if there's no contact from the court, the youth could feel nothing really detrimental happens to him, he stated.

Other Concerns In relation to this, Det. Fagan also expressed a concern that it's hard to keep the recidivism rate down, while questioning the overall "certainty of punishment" aspect.

He also noted the court can adjust a petition, i.e., contact the juvenile and his or her parents and talk with them. He termed this a warning and release type of situation. As a result, Det. Fagan said some young people really feel nothing is done to them by the court, while noting he's unclear what the term "adjusted" specifically means in any given case.

He did say the court does contact the division if a petition is authorized.

Under the proposal of a visiting judge or referee at a local facility, "at least the juvenile would appear in front of the judge or referee" and learn immediately what action is taken and why, he said.

This one-to-one contact would have more "club" than Juvenile Court and perhaps some youths might not feel the court process "is a lark," he felt.

Views Adult Level

The nature of our cases "fall down" on the Juvenile Court list as they are not as serious when compared with other cases handled by the court such as murder, for example, said Det. Fagan. "But this doesn't take away our problems."

A total of 121 petitions were filed in 1974. "That's around 10 cases a month and it's well within a visiting judge or referee's schedule to hear these." While this amount could fluctuate during any given year, he felt such a proposal would be feasible.

"Adults, (charged with offenses), stay in the local area and can even have a court trial in their own community," he said. As an example, an adult could have his arraignment and examination in the local court. Then he could be bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court for trial, depending on the charge, circumstances, et al.

All hearings, he stated, are done at Juvenile Court, and he questioned why such a framework, as seen on the adult level, couldn't be applied on the juvenile level.

First Step

We wanted to plant the seed and investigate possible avenues to see if such proposals are feasible, said Det. Fagan. If they are, the question is how to implement them, such as obtaining a facility on a local level.

Det. Fagan said the first step is to approach the YSD's

Board of Managers and "let them know our way of thinking. I feel a more efficient job could be done with this type of service. Maybe they can spur some action. This is the reason why we went before the School Board."

The Board of Managers' backing is necessary, he noted. "We want to be placed on their agenda and try to appeal for their assistance."

Another aspect of the communication problem from the division's viewpoint is seen in the results of the 121 filed petitions last year. A total of 43 were authorized, 21 were referred to the probation department, 18 were denied, 13 were adjusted, six were referred to another agency, (including a pair to the YSD counseling program, and 20, no action.

Det. Fagan said, for example, he has no idea what specific action transpired on the 13 adjusted petitions and he doesn't know what precisely happened regarding the 20 "no action" petitions.

Local Problems

Meanwhile, Det. Baum said the YSD is designed to handle juvenile crime, to prevent problems and to service the people in the community, e.g., via its counseling program.

He feels young people requiring a court hearing should appear before someone who has a total grasp of the problems in the area. The detective would prefer cases to be heard via a district division of Probate Court, including The Pointe-Harper Woods area, as opposed to Juvenile Court downtown where they are assigned on a "helter skelter" basis.

"We should have a judge or referee who is familiar with our problems here," added Det. Baum, who indicated that individual doesn't have to be a "visiting" official.

Det. Gerow stated he wants someone sympathetic to the problems which are faced in the area, "someone who can place himself out here and understand our problems."

Facility Would Help

Echoing these statements, Det. Schmaltz felt that with a judge or referee who hears cases in the area, closer contact would ensue between the juvenile, his family, the police and the court on a local level.

In fact, he would like to see another facility to provide shelter for young people the division takes to the Wayne County Youth Home. Now, there are instances when youths have to mix with other juveniles, some of whom are charged with more serious crimes, with such cases, he said, taking up the court docket.

Det. Schmaltz feels such a detention facility wouldn't have to be a large one; however, it would be an extension of the entire Juvenile Court system and handle suburbs as an eastside outbranch. He views such a facility as short time in nature, perhaps for one or two days until a juvenile comes before a judge or referee.

Director Marchand feels such a localized approach would be more convenient for parents and law enforcement officials in comparison to travelling downtown on cases.

"If we had someone on a local level, cognizant of our problems and handling cases from our point of view rather than by the (larger) city concept of youth problems, it would be to our advantage," he said, while noting the way it is now, not much is being done to straighten things out.

Excellent Idea

Mr. Lilly agrees. "This was one of the proposals I made when I ran for probate judge — to locate the court closer to the neighborhood," he stated. "I'm 100 percent in favor of it. It's an excellent idea.

"It would put a child closer to his own home, in a less threatening atmosphere. And a person, (i.e., a judge or referee), familiar with the area can be more meaningful in his approach to a delinquency problem."

In noting that there's a branch court in Westland where a referee visits two days a week, Mr. Lilly said, to his knowledge, there's nothing similar on the east side.

He has no objection to a judge or referee, for instance, using an existing facility in the area and emphasized he makes no distinction between an eastside branch of the court and a facility which could be used periodically.

However, he said it would be more prudent to start with a facility on a local level. If this works and a greater need arises, it would be feasible to start a branch office.

Could Aid Court

At the same time, he concurred in Det. Fagan's view regarding the local municipal court and its handling of adult cases with a similar approach for juveniles. "I see no reason why the same concept can't be applied for juveniles," stated Mr. Lilly.

There's yet another positive side to such an approach from his perspective. "There's more good to be gained as it would relieve our dockets here," he said.

In fact, he stressed Juvenile Court was "bursting at the seams" with its big volume of cases and "tremendous flow of people."

Anything which could help that situation is good in itself, added Mr. Lilly.

Vandals Pick On Motorist

A 25-year-old Detroit man was victimized by four youths, who vandalized his automobile on Friday evening, November 28.

The man told Woods police he stopped for a traffic signal at eastbound Vernier road at Marter and four youths, between 16-18 years of age, motioned him to roll down his window. The man didn't comply.

While going east on Vernier, the youths then began to throw beer cans at the man's car.

The forsome went north on Morningside and stopped at Anita avenue. The man exited his auto and went to speak to the youths.

At this point, the compliant told police they proceeded to pour a bottle of wine over his car and kick in the door on the diver's side before leaving the scene west on Anita.

Austin Cagers Post 1st Win

By Paul T. Denis
Austin's varsity basketball team under the direction of second-year head coach John Switchulis, started their 1975-76 campaign off on the right foot with a 48-47 win over Bishop Gallagher. Senior forward Dan Matzka hit a 25-footer as time ran out for the victory. Senior forward Bob Keuten led the team in scoring with 12 points while Matzka added 10 points. In addition to Keuten and Matzka, the starting line up has the only two other seniors on the squad, Center Rich Kaminski and guard Phil Colletti. Guard Joe Sabatella is the only junior in the starting lineup. The 11 other members of the squad are all juniors. This is in keeping with coach Switchulis' theory of keeping the classes together if at all possible.

The junior varsity squad is made up entirely of sophomores. They also opened their season against Bishop Gallagher and posted a convincing 47-37 victory. Leading the team in scoring was guard Mark VanSile with 12 points. Bob Conway added 11 points and 10 rebounds. Center Kevin Norris pulled down 14 rebounds to lead the team in that category. He also added eight points.

Making a complete sweep, the freshman team also defeated Gallagher by a score of 49-46. Guard Tom Renner led the frosh with 15 points. Larry Lundy added 10 points. The Friars will open their league season on Friday, December 5, against Pontiac Catholic at Austin. The junior varsity contest will begin at 6 p.m. followed by the varsity game at 8 p.m.

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant

The time has come when business and industry must become more aware of, and get more involved in, the political process.

To some degree, and at times in unfortunate ways, they have become involved in Federal elections, especially for president. To a far lesser degree they have been involved in gubernatorial elections.

Other than pollution and safety standards, however, business and industry must come to understand that the political entity which can and does have the greatest impact on business and the costs of doing business is the State legislature.

It must be realized that the State legislature has such impact. Second, business and industry should understand that this calls for greater input from them, and, third, they should know that it is possible to have greater impact.

The Michigan Manufacturers Association (MMA), and State Chamber of Commerce are not doing the job they should on behalf of their membership, probably largely because those groups have been unable to excite their memberships to a point sufficient to provide the drive needed for greater impact.

Some trade and professional groups, including the medical profession and realtors, have formed political action committees.

These committees do minor lobbying and hand out minor political donations at election times but mostly have the effect of encouraging no change in legislative membership and even rewarding opponents of their business by donating to incumbents they determine are probably going to win re-election anyway.

Three things are needed to provide business and industry, the providers of jobs, with the political impact they need and deserve.

First, the MMA and State Chamber must be made much more effective as educators of both the business community and the legislature.

Second, business and industry must create a statewide pro-business political action group, adequately funded, which will support Democratic and Republican candidates whom local business views as the best candidates for a legislative atmosphere conducive to a healthy and balanced business climate, a climate in which private enterprise is appreciated and encouraged.

Third, individual business and industry leaders and executives must rid themselves of their naivete and apathy and, both as citizens and as people interested in the continuation and betterment of the free enterprise system, get involved in the political process.

Some of you who read this column are involved, but don't take offense, because you know that 90 percent of your friends and associates are not involved.

Getting involved means becoming aware of issues, educating yourself as to what's happening. It means communicating with your elected officials.

The most effective way is face-to-face, second is telephone, third is telegram or mailgram and last is regular letter. But each is effective.

Getting involved also means being active in campaigns. Call your Republican or Democratic headquarters. Work in a campaign. Contribute to the party or a candidate you support.

This nation and the political system on which we all rely demands political awareness and sophistication on the part of the entire electorate, and even more certainly, demands it of those who would wish to have impact on the making of laws and, in general, on the conduct of their government.

Skaters Sought By Ice Follies

The 40th Anniversary Edition of Ice Follies which continues through Sunday, December 7 at Olympia Stadium will hold skaters auditions today, December 4, after the 7:30 p.m. performance.

Ice Follies' scouts and coaches are constantly searching for new skating talent. The first requirement to become an Ice Follies skater is a knowledge of the basic jumps and spins of figure skating. Beyond that, appearance and enthusiasm are plus factors.

Prospective applicants must be at least 18 years of age or a high school graduate.

Applicants are requested to bring their own skates. Judging will be done by the Ice Follies coaching staff, headed by Richard Dwyer, director of personnel.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur M. Woodford
Chief of Central Library

It is only in the last few years that the subject of rape, like the topics of sex and death, has been openly discussed. This has been reflected in the publication of a variety of books about rape, several of which have recently been purchased by your Grosse Pointe Public Libraries.

Susan Landress, the central character in W. Ware Lynch's true-life story RAPE: ONE VICTIM'S STORY (Follett) was as helpless in the courtroom as she was in the small New York City park where she was suddenly, brutally assaulted. Actually a composite of four recent rape cases, this compelling book points up sharply and unforgettably the inability of a prosecutor to obtain a conviction where the law places the burden of proof on the victim and the (usually nonexistent) witness.

Worse still, in our male-oriented society, there is a strong inclination to doubt a rape victim's innocence. The defense need only cast suspicion on the victim's character by fair means or foul. Lynch's chilling account is supported by statements from a Yale University professor and a New York criminal lawyer. The author is a capable investigative writer, and this book deserves a wide readership.

AGAINST RAPE (Farrar, Straus) by Andra Medea and Kathleen Thompson is as sharp as a karate chop about the reasons why men rape women. Ms. Medea and Ms. Thompson, both founders of Chicago Women Against Rape and well known for their lectures on the subject, are brief, eloquent, and to-the-point in defining rape and setting this "deadly insult" to a woman's personhood in its psychological, social and legal contexts. Seldom has the dominant male attitude toward women "as property"—especially as this attitude is embodied in laws covering rape—been so incisively encapsulated. Ms. Medea teaches self-defense, and doubtless has contributed parts of this book, (illustrated by live drawings), which describe defense techniques.

In his book THE CHARGE IS RAPE (Playboy Press), Gerald Astor shows none of the outraged incision of the outraged Medea and Kathleen Thompson in AGAINST RAPE. However, he does write well and knows the unique problems of police and lawyers on rape cases. Astor presents seven chapters with a mix of serious discussion with detailed rape descriptions, some famous historic rapes, and tales told by rape victims. He discusses such questions as, "Is rape a crime worse than murder as some prosecutors say?" "Is rape a political act, as some feminists say?" "Is rape an impossibility, as some defense lawyers say?" Astor is a freelance writer and former assistant managing editor of "Look." In 1967, Astor served on the U. S. Commission on Civil Disorder (Kerner Commission).

HOW TO SAY NO TO A RAPIST AND SURVIVE (Random House) is written by Frederic Storaska, Executive Director of the National Organization for the Prevention of Rape and Assault. Here he presents a concrete, detailed program on how women can protect themselves from rape and violence. The book emphasizes not what to do after the rape has occurred, but how to avoid—and survive—severe attacks. In most situations the author recommends trying to defuse all elements of violence as much as you can until you can get to safety. Storaska offers useful advice on a variety of predicaments, including information for parents and teachers on how to protect children from sexual molestation.

Probably the best book of this group is Susan Brownmiller's AGAINST OUR WILL (Simon and Schuster). Comprehensive, deeply researched, wholly absorbing, this book brings rape completely out of the closet. Unflinchingly, she looks at rape as a phenomenon from biblical times through Vietnam, and examines as well homosexual rape, inter-racial rape, child molestation. Rape, she demonstrates, has been mythologized; rapist and victim have been glorified along with the conditions which support the myth. Suppressive criminological statistics provide a portrait of a rapist as a young thug, while his victim is almost invariably just that: a victim. Mrs. Brownmiller, who wrote under two grants, concludes this definitive work with an excellent bibliography. Never a liberationist ideologue, the author will appeal to the same readership that made SEXUAL POLITICS and THE FEMALE EUNUCH such influential works.

Wine Lines

by Pat Ulatowski

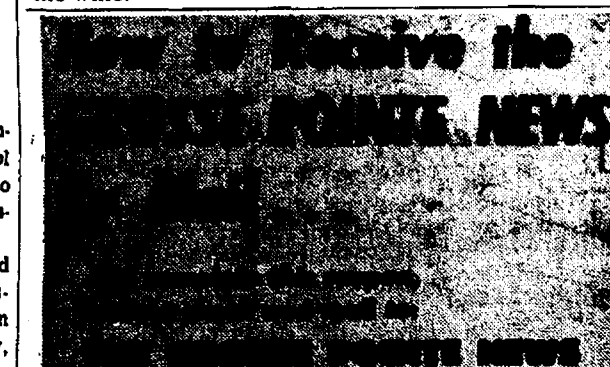

What is good with white wine? It turns out that what you serve with your wine (or vice versa) is really a matter of personal taste. White wine, especially dry white or fortified wine such as sherry is always good with hors d'oeuvres, with a soup dish, or with egg dishes. Shellfish, caviar, Smorgasbord are all occasions to serve a dry wine, or a dry sparkling wine. Fish is delicious with any dry or medium dry white or rose wine, even sparkling white wine is the perfect accompaniment for fish dishes. White meat is also an occasion for the white wine.

And you'll find a full selection of fine white wines at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626. In addition, we have a wide array of red and rose wines, champagnes, cordials, liquors and beers for your holiday entertaining. The complete party shoppe, we also carry all types of mixes, fancy spreads, party crackers, nuts, cheeses, and plastic glasses. Hours: 10-10 Mon-Thur; 10-11 Fri, Sat; noon-10 Sun.

WINE WISDOM:

The stem of a wine glass is important and should be long enough to keep the heat of the hand from the wine.

September Rites For Miss Dowdall

Scott Douglas Deacons Write Their Own Marriage Service; They Are at Home in Detroit After Vacation in the South

Marriage vows were exchanged Saturday, September 27, in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore by Deborah Marie Dowdall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dowdall, of Moran road, and Scott Douglas Deacon.

Father James Cronk presided at the noon rites, written by the bride's two brothers, Michael and Dan Dowdall, were the assistants, and David Dowdall, the bride's eldest brother, escorted his mother into the church.

The former Miss Dowdall chose a tiered white voile wedding gown, styled with an Empire bodice and full, tiered bell sleeves. The gown was lace-accented, the bride's fingertip veil edged in matching lace. Clusters of baby's-breath studded her bouquet of blue and white carnations. In powder blue and white checked frocks, sleeveless and featuring matching shawls, were honor maid Mary Jo Heidt and bridesmaids Kathy Jo Dowdall, the bride's younger sister, their cousin Mrs. Michael Phelps, of Indian Head, Pa., Susan Kramer and Sandra Reinman. They carried arrangements of dried flowers, in shades of blue.

Mr. Deacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Deacon, of Detroit, asked Wally C. Duncan, Jr., of Washington, D.C., to act as best man. Brad and Rick Deacon, brothers of the bridegroom, Robert Newman and Mark Woods seated the guests.

After a reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, the newlyweds left to vacation in several southern states, visiting the Smoky Mountains. They are at home in Harlow street, Detroit.

The bride's mother wore a long-sleeved gown of powder blue knit. The bridegroom's mother's gown, also long-sleeved, was fashioned of pale aqua jersey. Both mothers and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Herbert Leitke, wore single white gardenia corsages.

Crossroads Focus For Christmas Tea

League of Women Voters' Program Will Feature Inner City Crisis Center; North High's Honeytones to Sing

Father James McLaren, rector of Saint Michael's Episcopal Church and director of Crossroads, will speak at the annual Christmas tea sponsored by the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, to be held at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church in Chalfonte avenue next Wednesday, December 10, at 12:30 o'clock.

Crossroads is a crisis center located at Woodward and Warren avenues in Detroit. It serves as an emergency relief and counselling base, predominantly for people of the inner city.

The center is manned six days a week, mostly by dedicated volunteers.

The League of Women

Voters has long been concerned with social problems. Locally, statewide and nationally, the League supports legislation to promote decent standards of food, clothing and shelter for persons unable to work—or for those to whom jobs are not available.

Mary Malott is opening her home from 2 to 5 o'clock for the Saint Mary Academy, Monroe, Alumnae's annual Christmas Tea this year. Mary Ann and Christine are students at the Academy, the last Catholic all-girls boarding school still operating in the state. Sister Rita is a member of the Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, who operate the school. Mrs. Thomas K. Camp Fire Girls Art Entries Are Judged

Two of the five finalists whose entries in the Detroit phase of the National Camp Fire Print-Making Art Competition will be forwarded to National Camp Fire offices in New York City for final judging in January are Pointes: Debby Lubera, who titled her print "Little Horse in the Woods," and Cheryl

Anne Rinke, who calls her print "Desert Pony."

Both girls are members of an Adventurers group led by Arlene Cramer, as is semi-finalist Kelly Kurtz, who submitted "The Sunny Day."

Four other semi-finalists, Susan Prosky, cited for "Springtime," Debby Gibney, for "Finger Lickin' Good," Camille Nowosielski, for "Penguin," and Debbie McAllister, for "Red Sail on the Sunset," are members of Joan Hanpeter's Adventurers. Still another Pointe semi-finalist is Teresa Rogers, member of Connie Paton's Adventurers, cited for "Scarecrow."

The Detroit Area Council's 10 semi-finalist entries will be displayed at Detroit

Youtheatre in February. All finalists received passes to Master Paintings from the Hermitage, the current special exhibit at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The 1975 Print-Making competition is the third national Camp Fire art contest. The medium in 1973 was painting. Last year, girls submitted works done in fibers.

In preparation for this year's competition, Camp Fire Girls Detroit Area Council, through a grant from Michigan Council for the Arts, offered print-making techniques workshops to leaders and junior and senior high school Camp Fire members in September and October.

The shore of Cecret Lake, high in Utah's Wasatch Mountains, was the setting Saturday, October 4, for the wedding of Beverly Mina Beach, who has been making her home in Salt Lake City, and Robin Eric Beasley, of Park City, Utah.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Allen R. Beach, of Moran road, Beach, of Moran road. The Douglas Beasleys, of Walnut Creek, Calif., are the bridegroom's parents.

The 1:30 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Jay Confar, of Wasatch Presbyterian Church, Salt Lake City, presided, were followed by a reception at Snowbird Ski Resort. Both the bride and bridegroom are affiliated with the Snowbird Ski Association at Utah.

The newlyweds vacationed at Lake Tahoe and motored through the northwest to British Columbia before returning to Park City to make

Alpha Mu DKG Holds Annual Holiday Tea

Blanche Kefgen is opening her Wickes lane home at 4 o'clock this afternoon, Thursday, December 4, for Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma's annual Christmas tea. Members of the board will serve as hostesses.

Decor Reflects City's History

It's a red, white and blue Christmas in parts of the Detroit Historical Museum this Bicentennial year, coupled with more traditional decorations placed by the Detroit Historical Society during its annual "Hanging of the Greens" Sunday, November 23.

but outdoor trees cater to the birds via suet, peanut butter and pine cones, and a glimpse inside Street windows leaves no doubt that it's Christmas. Two tall toy soldiers and a guardhouse stand in the two-story windows over the Kirby entrance. Museum decorations will remain up for visitors' enjoyment through the holidays.

Guild members, including Painters Mrs. Robert O. Arner, Mrs. Allan Cooke, Ms. Janette Duster, Mrs. Grant Keough, Mrs. Heywood Knighton and Mrs. Erwin Stotzer, and their families used the theme "Children's Toys" to make every corner of the museum reflect Christmas at a particular time in Detroit's history. The Streets of Detroit have no indoor trees, as dictated by the custom of the period.

 Tsangalias' recently-built, (but with the craftsmanship of yesteryear), home in Oxford road. The youngsters' rooms are a delightful contrast to the traditional elegance of the rest of the house.
 Mr. and Mrs. James P. Eliades' pretty Colonial in Webber place, with its New Orleans-flavored exterior, has a perfect kitchen for preparing Christmas goodies. William Muer's one-floor condominium in East Jefferson avenue, featuring padded silk walls and pewter sinks, is literally gorgeous.
 Finally, there's the Washington road home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Doerer, its contemporary living room counterpoint to a magnificent Old World dining room, original works of art gracing its walls.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

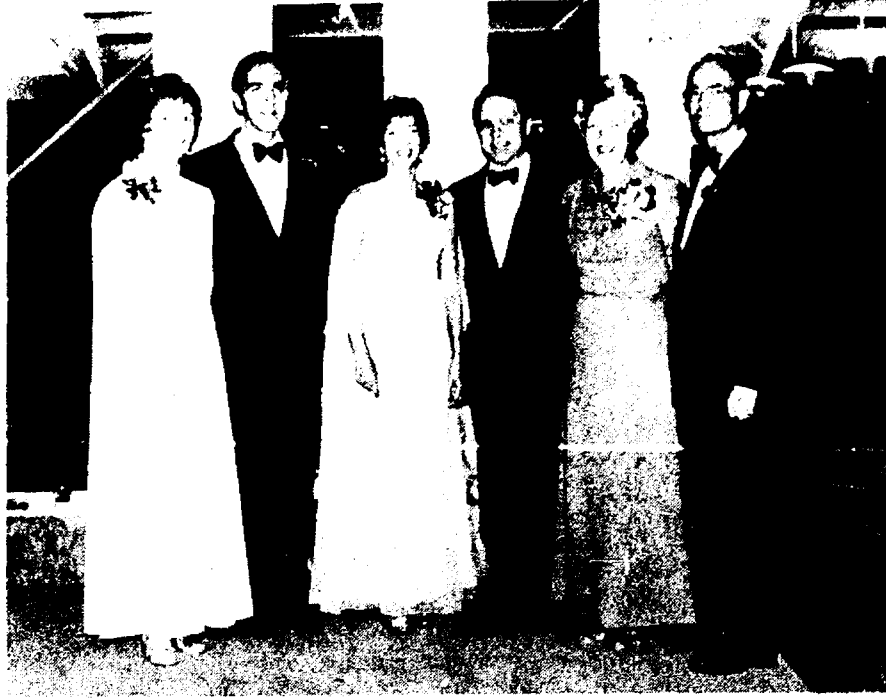

Which would you rather have if you had a choice of two houses in the same location? One has been cared for, kept in good condition, and well decorated. The other, basically of sound construction but slightly worn with finger prints and dirty walls. The kitchen is somewhat antiquated and carpets worn. The well kept home is asking $53,000.00 and the other is $47,000. There is no doubt in Real Estate peoples minds — they sell ten well decorated etc. houses to one of the other, every day!

The difference of $6,000 doesn't seem to matter. What a shame! Six thousand dollars will easily redecorate and bring the number two house up to and exceed the other.

The people at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co., 882-0087 are Pros in the revitalizing field when it comes to real estate. Their on-staff designer and decorator can point out the tricks of the trade — and at no cost to you! This is a fine and valuable service.

Did you know that Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. is the only Co. exclusively in Grosse Pointe that can put a one year warranty on the home you buy!

Hunt Club Honors Its New Officers

but also present at the Ball were Vice-President and Mrs. Edwin N. Peabody. Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres served in the Horn and Racquet Viewing Centre during a formal equestrian drill and tennis exhibition preceded the formal dinner in the clubhouse at 9:30 o'clock.

The Christmas Walk is an annual Juniors' fund-raising project benefiting the Detroit Symphony. The Mesdames John Renick and Louis Bridenstine, Jr., share the 1976 Walk's East Side chairmanship.

Tickets are $4 per person at the homes, church and chapel Walk Day, but they may be ordered in advance from Mrs. James Barker, 886-0350, at $3.50 per person. All the homes on display will be decorated for the holidays, of course.

Juniors will serve as hostesses at each Christmas Walk location, as they're doing today in Birmingham/Bloomfield where Phase I of the two-part, two-side-of-town Christmas Walk is underway. "Rudolph's Rig," the bus bearing Pointers to the Walk in Birmingham/Bloomfield, left the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Parking lot at 11:30 this morning.

So THAT'S why Our Town's streets and sidewalks seem so deserted this afternoon!

MRS. DAVID K. EASLICK, (LEFT), OF BALFOUR ROAD, AND MRS. ROBERT N. LYNCH, OF BEACON HILL.

By Janet Mueller

There were Mrs. Jack Tompkins and Mrs. Victor Wertz, serving on the board of the Boys' Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, and fellow board member Fred Cody turned to them one day and said, "We need help; we need women to work for us, to raise funds for us, to help get our message across to the public," and Ginny and Lucille took it from there.

They called their friends, and their friends called their friends, and this past summer the Women's Association of the Boys' Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit was formed.

Now here are Lucy Easlick, vice-president of the Association, and Elaine Lynch, Association "PR Person," co-chairing the Boys' Clubs Women's first major fund-raising project: the 1976 Detroit Auto Show Charity Preview.

The Boys' Clubs is one of three charitable organizations benefiting from the Auto Show Preview this year. The others are the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Macomb, Oakland and Wayne Counties, and the Northeast Guidance Center whose Assistance League is handling its share of ticket sales.

Dedicated Supporters All are very worthy causes, with very dedicated supporters beating the drums for them.

That's what Lucy and Elaine are doing, now, for the Boys' Clubs.

Elaine, (she's a GOOD PR Person), came to the interview armed with a sheet of notes to remind herself to mention such facts as: there are 10 Boys' Clubs currently operating in the metropolitan area, and one Girls' Club.

And: there are two summer camps, Drusilla Farwell on Harsens Island and Pi-Gi-Sa in a primitive area of Rouge Park, available to the Clubs' members.

And: through the Boys' Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, a breakfast program is made available to Inner City children who might otherwise have gone to school on empty stomachs.

Clubs 50 Years Old The Boys' Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, established 50 years ago, are designed to prepare boys and girls to become acceptable citizens and responsible members of their communities.

New Jersey "when Dave was in New York" to Indianapolis where he was president of Indiana Bell. He's president of Michigan Bell now.

Pets Share Their Home Two "mutts" and a Siamese cat share the Easlick home with its swimming pool back yard. Lucy uses that pool. She enjoys swimming and needlepoint, bowls and plays golf, loves Florida and could care less if winter NEVER came.

A corporate member of the Women's Association of the Boys' Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, she also volunteers her services to Project HOPE, Women for the United Foundation, the Tuberculosis and Health Society and the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The Detroit Auto Show Charity Preview, scheduled for Friday evening, January 9, will run from 7 to 9 o'clock. Show-goers will be treated to entertainment by a musical group as they tour Halls A, B and C of Cobo Hall to examine the approximately 250 new cars exhibited by domestic and foreign manufacturers.

The Show opens to the public Saturday, January 10, and runs through Sunday, January 12. It will be the 60th Auto Show sponsored by the Detroit Auto Dealers Association. It is the oldest auto show in the world under the same management.

Presidents of American Motors, Chrysler Corporation, Ford Motor Company and General Motors Corporation and their wives have been asked to sponsor the '76 Charity Preview.

Tickets are $25 per couple. "We've had enthusiastic support in addressing invitations," Lucy and Elaine report. "Volunteers have put in hours and hours of work." Groups have gathered, pens in hand, at the Boys' Clubs and in private residences.

There's been one addressing session in Birmingham, one in the Pointe at Bobbie (Mrs. Walter Buhl, III) Ford's home.

But the Mesdames Lynch and Easlick know many people may have been, inadvertently, missed. "If anyone would like to join us for the evening, PLEASE call the Boys' Clubs, 894-8500, for tickets."

Truly Fun Evening The Preview is a truly fun evening, and it's money well

Detroit's first Boys' Club opened in November, 1926, housed in two floors of a leased building, once a cigar factory, at Michigan and 35th street. The most recent Boys' Club, the metropolitan group's 10th, was acquired within the past year, in Highland Park.

And much, much more... The painting and the sketches were all done by Dick Reins, of Newberry place, who turned up in these pages a while back as a Pointer of Interest. I hope he, (the interviewee), enjoyed that interview as much as I, (the interviewer), did. Dick's made quite a thing of Painting The Pointe, and his "place portraits" are very much in demand.

Now Dick's work is available to everyone via the Bicentennial Calendar, presented by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association in collaboration with the Grosse Pointe Artists Association and the Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe.

Proceeds from its sale will go to improve art facilities at the War Memorial Center. It makes a great Christmas gift for present and past Pointers, their families and friends.

The dues are low, purposely kept within the ability of all boys to pay, but they're important: when you pay for something, you value it, and it's yours...

Last summer, the Women's Association of the Boys' Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit arranged a trip, by water, up to Harsens Island, to acquaint new members—there weren't any "old members"—with one facet of the work of the organization for which they were working.

It was a gorgeous day; so why not, next summer, a reprise? "We're talking about a possible summer fund-raiser: perhaps an outing and auction at the Camp on Harsens Island." Sounds good. So does the 1976 Detroit Auto Show Charity Preview. So do the Boys' Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, and so do Lucy Easlick and Elaine Lynch. They're good drum-beaters.
