HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by The Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, February 1
EXILED RELIGIOUS leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini returned to Iran after 15 years to a triumphant welcome by two million followers in Tehran. Khomeini has said he intends to overthrow the government of prime minister Shapur Bakhtiar and establish an Islamic republic. The government hopes to convince the religious leader to enter negotiations that could lead to a compromise solution to the Iranian political crisis. Khomeini, however, has shown no signs he is willing to negotiate, and has the popular backing.

FORD MOTOR CO. is making design changes to automatic transmissions that federal safety investigators say possibly killed at least 23 people by accidentally slipping into reverse from park when idling. The changes are designed to make it more difficult to misplace the gearshift lever in reverse when it is intended to be in park. The company asserts there are no dangerous design flaws, as federal investigators suspect.

Saturday, February 3
FORD MOTOR CO. was ordered by an Indiana judge to stand trial on criminal charges stemming from the deaths of three teenage girls in the rear-end collision of a Ford Pinto last year. The case has attracted national attention because of precedents it could set if Ford is found guilty. In the past, corporations have been only civilly liable for their products. This case will be the first criminal liability case against a corporation. Ford announced it was recalling 1.4 million Pintos last June, but didn't begin mailing out the notices until a month after the three were killed.

Sunday, February 4
SOME 4,000 WAYNE County employees threatened to strike this week, cutting off essential services such as sewage treatment, hospital admissions, jail inmate processing and court operations. The strike could cause raw sewage to be pumped into the Detroit River, shut down admission operations at Wayne County General Hospital and sharply curtail operations of county courts. Leaders of Council 25 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees set a strike deadline of Wednesday.

Monday, February 5
IRANIAN PRIME MINISTER Shapur Bakhtiar warned he would "answer a bullet with a bullet" if Moslem leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini incites a holy war to gain power. Bakhtiar said he would tolerate Khomeini's religious opposition so long as it remained peaceful, but would arrest and execute anyone calling for overthrow of his government by force. Meanwhile, an aide to Khomeini said Iran, the number two exporter of oil, should reduce its oil production by as much as 60 percent, probably causing shortages among industrial nations.

Tuesday, February 6
THOUSAND OF FARMERS snarled morning rush hour traffic in Washington, D.C., Monday, driving their tractors and trucks down the major thoroughfares in a protest demonstration demanding higher crop price supports. Police swiftly herded the machines and men into an area and effectively prevented them from causing similar problems with the evening rush hour. Several skirmishes between the farmers and police resulted when the farmers attempted to break through police barricades.

Helps Celebrate Camp Fire Girls Candy Sale

Tomorrow, Friday, February 9, marks the beginning of the annual Camp Fire Girls Candy Sale, with the proceeds enabling the Detroit Area Council of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., to maintain Camp Wathana and fund programs that enrich the girls' lives. In celebration of the sale, Woods Mayor BENJAMIN W. PINKOS purchases candy from Discovery Club members MARGERY MILLER, (center), an eighth grade student at Parcels, and CHERYL RINKE (second from right), a seventh grader at Parcels. Lending support are club advisors MARILEE RINKE, (next to the mayor), and MARLENE MILLER. The organization says orders for candy may be placed by calling 886-1309.

Rotarians Aid Seniors With Grant

Senior Citizen Center Building Fund to Receive $25,000 over Three-Year Period

By Susan McDonald

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club has become the first major local contributor to the Neighborhood Club's senior citizen center building fund with a $25,000 grant unanimously approved by the group last month.

The grant, to be delivered over a three-year period, is one of the largest gifts ever made by the 110-member club. The money will help finance a $500,000 addition to the Neighborhood Club designed to meet the social and recreational needs of The Pointe's growing senior citizen population.

"It's high time that the citizenry started working to alleviate some of the problems of senior citizens in our community," said Rotary Club spokesman Fred Sibley this week.

Campaign Launched

"This well-conceived project will do much to help our senior citizens satisfy their social and recreational needs," he said.

Announcement of the grant came just in time to launch the Neighborhood Club's community wide fund raising campaign for the building project, which began Sunday. (Continued on Page 4)

Special Needs Survey Could Help GP Farms Get Block-Grant Funds

City Officials Hope Results Will Aid Municipality in Qualifying for $99,000; On-The-Hill District Most Frequently Mentioned Regarding Use of Monies

By David Kramer

The Farms got the results of its special needs survey last week, and from the looks of it, it may help the city barely squeak by in its efforts to qualify for up to $99,000 in federal money next year.

The funds, administered under Wayne County Community Development Block Grant program, (CDBG), guidelines, must be determined to benefit an area with a percentage of its residents classified as low to moderate income families.

Neither The Farms or CDBG administrators know exactly what that percentage will be, since it is yet to be determined at the federal level for next year. In past years, however, the figure has been around 30 percent, and The Farms, in its needs area, has identified a 28 percent figure.

Expected to Drop

City Clerk Richard G. Sokal said CDBG administrators have indicated to him that the 28 percent figure would be enough to qualify the city, since the federal requirements are expected to drop somewhat.

The survey area included Muir, Mapleton and Fisher roads between Grosse Pointe boulevard and Ridge road, and Meadow lane and McKinley avenue between Kercheval and Ridge.

Included in the area is the On-the-Hill shopping district, which both city officials and residents of the needs area would like to see federal money used for. Maintaining the Hill "as a viable shopping area" was the most frequently mentioned response regarding the use of the funds.

The survey, conducted by Yee-Minard and Associates, in cooperation with Parkins, Rogers and Associates, shows that in the area, 24 percent of those questioned reported having low to moderate incomes, defined for CDBG purposes as $15,900 or less for a family of four, while 13 percent of those questioned refused to give their income.

By excluding those refusing to divulge how much they make, the surveyors advised. (Continued on Page 6)

City Police Resist Plan For Merger

Teamsters Representing Officers, Take Municipality to Court with Unfair Labor Practices Charge

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe City's long-awaited consolidation of police and fire departments is again meeting with resistance from the men on the force.

This time it's the Teamsters, representing City police, who are taking the city to court with an unfair labor practices charge related to the consolidation.

The hearing on the charge, scheduled for Tuesday, February 13, will mark the third time the city has been hauled into court over the plan, which will eliminate police and fire units and create a department of public safety officers who will perform both crime and firefighting duties.

Nix Public Safety

City firemen have bitterly resisted the consolidation since it was approved by the council in October 1976, with unfair labor practices charges and circuit court action. The City scored victories in both cases, and plans to implement the consolidation on July 1.

In the most recent charge, filed Friday, February 2, the teamsters allege the city violated police officers' rights by turning over bargaining rights for public safety officers to the firefighters' union, in a contract signed with Firefighters Local 1975 last fall.

"The police officers don't want to be public safety officers and they don't want to be governed by the firemen's union," explained Teamsters Local 214 representative Bill Mendenhall.

"The city can't implement a public safety department unless they bargain with me. I represent the policemen."

Crossing Bridges

City Manager Thomas Kressbach said he doesn't think the Teamsters' charge will delay implementation of the plan any further.

"Training and planning are proceeding. Our target date is July 1, 1979, and I think we'll make it. We've obviously had to cross various bridges in the past as we tried to implement this. This question, (of representation), (Continued on Page 6)

Farms Studying Proposal to End Parking Problem

Southfield Firm Would Construct And Operate Multi-Level Structure on Portion of Areas Owned by City And Cottage Hospital

By David Kramer

A Southfield firm has approached The Farms with a plan to build a parking structure On-the-Hill, and the council indicated its interest in the proposal at its regular meeting Monday, February 5.

The structure proposed by the developer, Richard C. Rich and Associates, would be a multi-level deck built on land presently owned by both Cottage Hospital and the city-owned municipal lot.

According to a preliminary draft of an agreement between the city and Rich, the minimum number of parking spaces would be 200.

"Tighten Up" Pact

Rich plans to first do a study to determine if the need for parking exists and if it is economically feasible. Plans presently call for the developer to bear the full costs of the study, unless The Farms backs out after Rich decides the project is feasible.

City Attorney George McKean said he would work with Rich's attorney to "tighten up" the rough draft of an agreement, which currently limits the city's liability to $30,000 if it backs out. Such an agreement would have to be signed before the feasibility study began.

In any case, the project itself would not begin until next year, according to City Manager Andrew Bremer.

If determined feasible, the city and hospital would lease the land to Rich, which would build and operate the structure at its own expense. Financing would be by industrial revenue bonds, issued by an "economic development corporation" composed of nine members appointed by the council.

There would be no cost to the taxpayer, with bond sales and debt retirement being the responsibility of Rich.

Close Off Muir

According to Rich's proposal, the structure would be built on what is primarily Cottage Hospital land. Depending on the size determined feasible, the deck also would cover about one-third of the present metered municipal lot.

The proposal calls for the closing off of Muir road about halfway between Kercheval and Ridge, and the funneling (Continued on Page 4)

Alleged 'Cat Burglar' Gets Three to Five Years

Floyd Harris Jr., 27, of Dickerson, Detroit, pled guilty to seven counts of receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 at a trial held before Detroit Recorder-Clerk Judge Michael F. Sapala on Thursday, February 1. The judge sentenced Harris to from three to five years in Jackson Prison.

Harris was the alleged "cat burglar" who had been surrounding communities for several months before his arrest early last October by Park and Detroit detectives.

Park Chief Henry O. Cronce said, although it was a certainty that Harris was the alleged "cat," there was no proof that he was actually in the homes that were reported burglarized.

However, loot from many of the homes, including residences in The Park, City Farms and Detroit, were found in the convicted man's house.

Detroit authorities pressed for prosecution because Harris' house is in their jurisdiction.

His arrest resulted when Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt and Dets. Philip Love, Donald Kramer and James Warner of Detroit's Conner Station, 15th Precinct, worked together and pooled their information from intensive investigations.

The Detroit policemen, armed with a search warrant, went to his place of residence with Sgt. LaPratt, where they found many (Continued on Page 4)

Residents To Consider 2 Questions

On March 20, Citizens Will View Pair of Tavern Licenses, Cable TV Franchise for Community

By Roger A. Waha

Woods voters will consider two questions, one viewing tavern licenses and the other cable television, at the polls next month as the council at its regular meeting Monday, February 5, unanimously set a special election date of Tuesday, March 20.

Based upon the successful initiatory petition drive of owners Charles Moraco and Ronald Serba of Le Cafe Francais, 20311 Mack avenue, and Edward Barbieri and his son, Edward Jr., of Da Edoardo, 19787 Mack, citizens will decide if two tavern licenses should be issued in the city.

The owners combined their efforts in the petition drive toward obtaining tavern licenses, (permitting the serving of beer and wine only), for their respective specialty restaurants, while indicating the need of being able to serve a glass of wine with meals.

No Guarantee

Citizens will vote either "yes" or "no" on the question which asks if they favor the adoption of an ordinance amending the city code to provide that the council may approve or signify its approval of the issuance of two tavern licenses within the city?

If the vote is favorable, that's no guarantee that the council, which has collectively indicated some exhaustion over the initiatory petition process, will approve the issuance of the documents to Le Cafe and Da Edoardo, or to anyone else for that matter.

This is despite the fact that the petitioners, like Alex Barty of Gabby's Restaurant and Jack Degriek of GPW Recreation who were both interested in Class C licenses, may be considered favorites if any documents are issued.

On the other hand, if the voters nix the question, no tavern licenses are apt to be issued. (The city could have up to a combined total of 15 Class C or tavern licenses, pending council approval.)

In an effort to give citizens an explanation of the question, officials plan on having the March quarterly edition of "Update," covering the months of April, May and June, come out earlier so information on the election may be included. It's hoped the publication will be available on or around March 15.

The vote to have this question placed on the ballot was 5-1 with Councilman John Sabol voting "no" and Councilman Robert E. Novitke excused from the meeting.

Hear Presentation

Meanwhile, to tap the interest of citizens on having cable television in the community, the council unanimously voted to place an advisory question on the ballot.

Although the precise wording of the question wasn't determined at the meeting, it will, in effect, ask residents if they favor having the council proceed with an investigation of a cable TV franchise for the community at no cost to the city? (Continued on Page 2)

Broken Pipe Closes Maire

A few hundred Maire Elementary School students got an unexpected day off Friday, February 2, when a broken water pipe forced school personnel to close the building for one day.

The break caused no real damage to the building, but it did flood and freeze the playground area.

Write form the rolls on which the train of life travels. Guys who jump at conclusions scare all the best ones away.

Special Election Set in Woods for March 20

On Monday night, Bruce N. Burnham of the company addressed the solons and citizens in attendance, exploring the cable picture and answering questions. After the presentation was concluded, the council unanimously received and placed on file the information, while indicating if further interest was generated and more info was obtained, this subject would be placed on a future agenda.

Mr. Burnham stressed the attributes of Cox Cable, noting that it has some 600,000 subscribers across the country and was financially "a very strong company" collecting $6.5 million in gross revenues last year.

Wait and See
Saying St. Clair Shores awarded a cable TV franchise to Cox, with the design of the system currently underway, he stated a 35-channel two-way system utilizing both satellite and local services is being considered for The Woods, with three channels being donated for community usage.

One resident felt the council should hear presentations from other companies before making any decisions, while another expressed concern over the running of lines to subscriber's homes, or underground, and what effect it would have on the property of non-subscribers regarding potential infringement.

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos explained several public hearings would have to be held if any cable television proposal was considered by the city.

For now, however, officials will await citizen interest in this respect via the vote on the ballot question.

(The council also received a communication from another company, Maclean-Hunter Cable TV Limited, of Rexdale, Ont., Canada, and placed the letter on file at its Monday, January 22, meeting, while the Shores Council considered a communication from Cox on Tuesday, January 23. The solons accepted it and decided to study the request further.)

Ambulance Service Eyed
In relation to other proposed ballot questions, Councilman George Cueter asked City Administrator Chester E. Petersen if he wanted the solons to consider more subjects inasmuch as a six-week leeway to have the ballots printed was needed.

Mr. Petersen told the NEWS he was considering four questions but the majority of the council apparently didn't want to explore this subject, (which was viewed at the end of the agenda after the meeting had run over four hours). As a result, only the two items will be eyed by voters.

The city administrator declined to cite all four but indicated one proposed question would have viewed an additional tax levy of up to one mill toward maintaining the type of ambulance service mandated by the state, (a decidedly sore spot with the solons).

Mr. Petersen said he wanted some citizen input on this matter in relation to the question of costs while viewing the Headlee amendment, its restrictions and yet unknown ramifications. (Headlee ties the maximum yearly increase in property tax to a level not exceeding the percentage rise in consumer prices.)

While the city has received a one-year extension on its request regarding compliance as provided in state statutes so it will not be necessary for the Public Safety Department to provide an emergency medical technician in the ambulance until January 1, 1980, the solons are currently exploring the state of its ambulance service, including cost factors, in relation to the laws.

"Nibbling Away"
Mr. Petersen felt a vote on this question would be helpful during budget preparation time in relation to the potential spending of monies in this area and other cost containment possibilities because of Headlee.

On other potential ballot questions, Mr. Sabol wanted the views of citizens regarding the combined total of 15 Class C or tavern licenses which the community is permitted to have. However, the majority of the council declined to place this matter on the ballot.

"So far the people who are interested in getting a liquor license have been nibbling away at the total one or two at a time," he said, while wondering if the citizens understand what is happening. "If the citizens are aware that 15 licenses could exist on Mack, (within a short boundary radius), they may not care for that. I wanted to hit them with the full thing," continued Mr. Sabol.

The councilman stated the city now has five C licenses and he wanted to know if residents were in favor of an additional 10 licenses. "They may not go for this," he added.

Seeks Amendment
In a final note, Edward Purdy of Kenmore road, wanted officials to investigate a city charter amendment in which initiatory petition or referendum petition drives would not culminate in a special election but rather during a general election.

The charter says that a special election must be called within 60 days from the time the initiative proposal is submitted, if no election is to be held in the city for any other purpose within 150 days from the time the petitions are presented to the council and the solons don't adopt the ordinance.

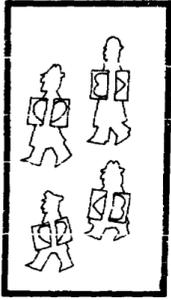

Saying he was in favor of such drives, Mr. Purdy did feel the present procedure made a mockery of the democratic process.

"People ought to have a chance to vote in an election they know is coming up to settle these kinds of questions," he said. City Attorney George Catlin stated the charter deals with more than the initiatory or referendum type of action, but officials indicated they would explore this matter further.

Hospital Gets Nuclear Unit

Bon Secours Hospital recently opened its nuclear medicine unit, which provides new and greater accuracy in the diagnosis of internal disorders.

In many cases, the special procedures of nuclear medicine are beneficial because they provide examination of internal organs without surgery.

A division of Bon Secours' radiology department, nuclear medicine performs safe diagnosis of tumors, cysts and other inflammatory, internal conditions.

During tests in the nuclear medicine unit, the radiation from nuclear isotopes, which are injected by a simple technique, are scanned to provide pictures of virtually any organ in the body.

By offering a full range of services, Bon Secours unit can meet the needs of outpatients whose tests require only a few hours, as well as the needs of patients staying in the hospital.

To increase patient safety, Bon Secours' unit includes a portable isotope scanner which can be wheeled to the patient's bedside.

Bon Secours' nuclear medicine facilities are considered the most advanced in the eastside metropolitan area, according to the hospital. They were made possible by donations from the Mary and George Herbert Zimmerman family.

Arson Blamed In Car Blaze

A man was seen running from the site of an apparent arson which destroyed a luxury car parked in the driveway of a Farms home on Tuesday, January 30.

Police said the fire, which occurred at the home of Bessie Frontiera of Chalfonte road appeared to be set with gasoline poured over the car. Fragments of a plastic container and disposable lighter were found nearby.

Farms firemen put out the blaze before it spread to a second luxury car also parked in the drive.

Witnesses said they saw a young man with dark hair and clothes run from the burning vehicle and into a waiting car parked and running on Maison road. Police have no suspects yet.

GPW Police Preparing Crime Prevention Program

(Continued from Page 1) a three-day program for patrol officers at Macomb County Community College. At this time, department personnel are in the process of gathering resource material from a variety of sources, including other police departments, toward developing an active and viable program.

As planned, it will encompass many areas including Operation Identification wherein citizens may engrave property with their driver's license numbers, (an ongoing program), neighborhood watch, robbery and purse snatchings, burglary prevention for homes and businesses, self-protection for women, security surveys of homes and businesses and fire prevention, auto theft, shoplifting and narcotics and dangerous drugs.

Sets His Goal
News via the media and the city's quarterly publication, "Update," are the first steps in launching the program so all citizens will be aware of developments, he said.

At the same time, the department will continue building up its resources, while already planning several programs for senior citizens at The Pointe's Out-Wayne County Nutrition Site, housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue.

There's no current budget for the program, with the director noting, "We're not anticipating doing anything which will cost a great deal of money."

We may ask for some crime prevention funds in the next budget for the purchase or renting of films or for slide presentations, for subscriptions to magazines, for attending meetings and for the printing and reproducing of materials, said Director Dankel.

He also hopes to seek support from various community organizations such as the Grosse Pointe Lawyers' Wives and the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs who have indicated a willingness in the past to participate in such endeavors.

"We want a real reduction in preventable crimes," such as burglaries, larcenies and auto thefts. I hope to see this in the December 1979 year-end report in comparison to the 1978 report," he said. "I'm not sure we'll make it but that's my goal."

Harden The Target
Its success depends on the willingness of citizens and merchants to cooperate.

"We can't do the job by ourselves, we must educate the citizens to help themselves first and us second," he said, while noting success also depends on the residents and merchants adopting "strategies" officers tell them about.

"There's no way we can make any building in town burglar-proof but we can make them burglar resistant," continued Director Dankel in citing the "target-hardening" principle and efforts to delay, deny, deter and detect any suspected criminal activity.

For his part, Officer Crook, who joined the department in July 1971, is excited over the possibilities of the new program. "I hope the citizens will respond to the information we will have in making the program work. We'll do our part to get the information out through the news media and 'Update,'" he said.

Late last year, he attended the Basic Crime Prevention School, Macomb County Criminal Justice Center, for

Farms Eying Proposal

Hospital land that would be built on is presently used for surface parking, and is located across the street from the hospital.

Heartily Added
If taxed at its full rate, Rich would keep all revenues.

Another issue is whether the city can review Rich's feasibility study with its own planners to see if they agree on the study.

Rich and Associates have built a number of such parking structures, including one in Flint in which Mr. McKean's firm was involved.

"I heartily agree with it," said Councilman Jack Cudlip, in his motion to approve pursuit of the agreement with Rich. "I feel the viability of the Hill is contingent upon this and other things."

Rotarians

So far the club has collected $395,000 for the project, including grants from the Kresge Foundation, McGregor Foundation and individual leadership gifts ranging from $50 to $25,000, according to club director John Bruce.

The club hopes to collect the additional $105,000 needed for the project through contributions from individuals, businesses and community organizations throughout the community, according to Mr. Bruce.

Ground-breaking for the new center is scheduled for early April. The building will be constructed adjacent to the Neighborhood Club's present facilities at 17150 Waterloo avenue.

The club announced plans for the new seniors' center last October, citing the growing senior citizen population in The Pointe — estimated at about 14 percent of the total population — and the lack of facilities in the area suited to seniors' needs.

Club officers plan to house a variety of programs geared toward seniors in the new center, including recreation, social service, counseling and travel programs.

The 9,500-square foot addition will house a kitchen, a large, multi-purpose room and several meeting rooms. Mr. Bruce said he hopes the center will serve as a clearing house for programs geared toward the elderly throughout The Pointe.

The building project was recipient of a $75,000 challenge grant from the Kresge Foundation and a $25,000 grant from the McGregor Foundation earlier this year.

The Neighborhood Club, which was incorporated 65 years ago, offers a variety of recreational programs and organized sports activities for youths and adults. Paid membership totaled 7,000 persons last year.

'Cat Burglar'

It was after a Farms home was burglarized on September 20, resulting in a high speed chase of the burglar by Farms, Woods and Harper Woods police, that The Park officer was able to piece the evidence together with that obtained by the Detroit policeman, and his activities were brought to an end.

On October 2, Harris was arraigned in Woods Municipal Court on a charge of breaking and entering an occupied dwelling with intent to commit larceny. A week later, after examination, the accused man was bound over for trial in circuit court by Woods Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis.

On Wednesday, December 6, a Wayne County Circuit Court jury, after a two-day trial, unanimously found Harris guilty of the woods burglary.

On September 29, Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Vernon Boewe dismissed six of the seven counts of receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 because of technicalities, but the Probe Unit of the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office re-evaluated the evidence, presented a stronger case and obtained new warrants on the dismissed counts, which climaxed with Harris being sent to prison.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

You've probably heard the news that's been humming about on all medias about the turn around of Detroit Real Estate. Well it's true. Property that sold for $25,000 last year has just sold for $35,000. This appreciation comparable to our Pointes—and better!

This was bound to happen, however. Comparable property in Grosse Pointe is priced twice our Detroit neighbors. Before the Detroit turn around, comparable Grosse Pointe property was selling for three times as much.

We all know having an economically healthy community next door helps our values. Some say it's the Renaissance Center, we agree, however there's an even more important forte and that's the people who live in the community. They have proven to be stable citizens. They have not given to panic and they have continued to develop their property. And then you have the biggest single factor and that is the fact that the community has organized and planned on an association level. This is what Indian Village did and their success has been phenomenal!

We hope Grosse Pointe homeowners can recognize the value of this. Community spirit in a way is the advance planning to assure that a City doesn't one day find itself deserted and abandoned by the homeowners. Speaking of leaving Grosse Pointe—the sales associates at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 are trained professionals. If you're considering listing you should call them first. They will discuss the proper time and the proper price to fit in with your schedule. That's 882-0087.

Accidents, Fire And Crime Drop Slightly in Shores

The Shores Public Safety Department recorded a total of 100 traffic accidents from January 1 through December 31, 1978, as compared to 92 during the 12 months of 1977, according to information released by Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale.

Of the total number of accidents last year, 19 involved injuries to drivers and/or passengers and 81 were non-injury mishaps. No fatalities occurred. The total number of violation tickets issued came to 2,648, of which 122 were traffic arrests made for violations of village or juvenile ordinances.

Of the 92 accidents in 1977, one was a fatal, 14 resulted in some type of injury, such as whiplash, bleeding, et al., and 77 were non-injuries. One hundred and sixty-seven persons were arrested for involving village and juvenile ordinance violations.

"According to our records, we have had a drop of 252 traffic violation arrests last year because of our 119 movable radar units," Chief Vitale said. "We added another unit in 1977. We now have two, which I am certain is responsible for the down trend in traffic violations. The patrol cars equipped with these radar units are plainly visible to motorists and I feel that this has deterred many from breaking speed laws."

The total number of miles patrolled by scout car crews in 1978 is set at 183,629, as compared to 171,826 miles in 1977, the chief said.

The Public Safety Department, which functions in the dual role as a fire department and police officers act as firemen. answered 56 fire alarms in 1978. In 1977, total alarms answered was 40.

In 1978 the fire runs included 13 to residences, four were in answer to cars blaze, six were grass fires, and one alarm was to a boat fire. There were 18 false alarms, all of which were accidental, Chief Vitale said.

The Shores department responded to eight calls for assistance under the Mutual Fire Aid Pact, and in turn called only once for assistance under the pact.

By comparison, during 1977, the department answered alarms to 10 residential fires, five car fires, four grass fires, and responded to one boat reported in flames. There were eight false alarms, none of which were malicious.

Chief Vitale said that last year the department also responded to six miscellaneous fire alarms, as compared to seven the year before.

The fire loss in 1978 was cut to more than half of that in 1977, the chief said. The loss last year amounted to $13,000. The previous year it was $30,500.

Crime-wise, there was a very slight drop in larcenies over $200. According to last year's records, 14 larcenies were reported, whereas in 1977 it was 16. Twelve assaults, (physical and verbal), were reported in 1978, and only five the previous year.

Bicycles reported stolen last year numbered 22, of which four were recovered, and 18 were stolen in 1977, of which six were recovered.

"We really have had no big increase in major crimes, which can be attributed to our good public safety officers, who are doing a tremendous job, and the excellent cooperation we have been receiving from our citizens who have been reporting all suspicious persons and activities," Chief Vitale said. "We urge our citizens to report anything they might think is suspicious."

"When the people work with their police department it shows that they are concerned about their community and their neighbors. We would rather answer a call and find nothing wrong, than not receive a call because a citizen does not think it is worth bothering about, and have something happen."

Chief Vitale expressed his deepest appreciation to the residents of The Shores for the help they rendered to his department during the past year. The officers cannot be everywhere at one time and when the people act as the eyes and ears and report incidents promptly, criminals would never stand a chance, he said.

Church Offers Drama for Kids

Dramatics for Children, a new program designed to give kids from 8 to 18 a wide variety of on-stage and backstage training, will begin Saturday, February 17, at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee avenue.

Faces Bribery Arraignment

A Park man accused of trying to bribe a state lottery official waived exam last month and is scheduled for arraignment Friday, February 9, in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The man, Mohamad Haidar Ahmad, 40, of Maryland avenue, was arrested in Oak Park in December after a nine-week investigation by the Lottery Bureau, state police and attorney general's staff.

He was arrested after he allegedly gave $300 inside a Christmas card to an assistant regional manager of the lottery in exchange for bogus approval of the location of two daily lottery ticket terminals, according to Attorney General Frank Kelley.

The contact between Ahmad and the lottery official took place under the surveillance of the state police, Mr. Kelley said.

The arrest of Ahmad on December 19 was the first bribery arrest in the history of the Michigan lottery. The charge carries a maximum penalty of four years in prison and/or a $2,000 fine.

Save A Baby - with A Kiss

Park Mayor MATTHEW C. PATTERSON signs a proclamation declaring February 11 through 18 "Kiss Your Baby" week to launch a public awareness campaign against Cystic Fibrosis, a serious lung-damaging disease that strikes one out of 1,600 American children. With an affectionate arm on the mayor's shoulder is DEBORAH SCHULER, the Metropolitan Detroit Cystic Fibrosis Poster Child. Looking on is DARLENE KRATO of The Farms, general chairman of the public awareness campaign.

Special Needs Survey

(Continued from Page 1) justed the figures to 28 percent low to moderate income, and the remaining 72 percent were termed high income.

Many Shop on Hill
An astonishingly high 98 percent of the households in the area consisted of one or two members, with 58 percent having a single occupant. Eighty-seven percent of the residents own their homes, and about one-third of them are over 60-years-old.

Helpful to The Farms' desire to use the money On-the-Hill was the finding that over 90 percent of area people shop there, with 80 percent saying they went there at least once a week.

Aside from maintaining the Hill, which was favored by 46 percent of those surveyed, 33 percent wanted federal funds used for a street tree-planting program. An equal number wanted to see it go to improved off-street parking.

Twenty-nine percent felt the federal money should be used to provide better traffic control, and 17 percent wanted to see it go for housing rehabilitation opportunities for qualifying residents. Fourteen percent felt the funds should go to improving the condition of streets.

Residents of the area disagree on the adequacy of the parking facilities On-the-Hill, with 47 percent feeling there is enough and 37 feeling there isn't. Fourteen percent are undecided on the issue.

Request Approved
Parking on their streets is viewed by a significant 49 percent as being a problem, and 33 percent think commercial districts or through traffic on their streets creates a nuisance in their neighborhood.

Cottage Hospital has been used by 77 percent of those surveyed, and two-thirds of those who haven't used the facilities there would be inclined to do so if the need arose.

The Farms Council at its Monday, January 22, meeting approved the request of the administration to seek next year's funds for resurfacing Kercheval and Grosse Pointe Boulevard, and installing a water main connecting the Meadow Lane dead end main into a loop.

In addition, the council agreed to continue its participation in SOC, (Seniors Onward for Change), in their program of minor home repairs.

The Farms has tried unsuccessfully for two years to obtain CDBG funds, but was never able to identify an area within the city meeting program requirements. The survey was designed to scientifically pinpoint such an area.

The city will now make formal application through CDBG administrators for the $99,000 for which it is eligible.

The signs of cystic fibrosis and other lung-damaging diseases include recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing with excessive mucus, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite with poor weight gain and clubbing, (enlargement of fingertips). Cystic fibrosis signs also include persistent bulky diarrhea and nasal polyps.

The members of Alpha

Chi Omega Sorority are coordinating the first annual "Kiss Your Baby" week for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation in the metropolitan Detroit area. This education campaign is being headed by Darlene Krato of The Farms, who serves on the Cystic Fibrosis board of directors.

Those serving on the steering committee are Carol Tock and Joan Ketterman of The Park, Donna Weinle of The City, Elana Kerastotis of The Woods, Judy Mussel of Fraser, Judy Thompson of Auburn Heights, Kitty Stephenson of Orchard Lake, Virginia Koon and Ann Molyneux of Canton and Marsha Livermore of Plymouth, who serves as president of the Detroit area Alpha Chi's.

Local chairman is Joan Armbruster of The Park.

On behalf of the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, the Alpha Chi Omegas urges everyone to "Kiss Your Baby" with very special attention and watch for the signs of lung-damaging disease in all children.

For more information, contact the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation at 965-1721.

Resist Plan

Attorney for The City, Gil Cox, said the city is being caught "in the middle between the Teamsters' desire to represent the men and the firefighters' association's desire to do the same."

The unfair labor practices charges "just not supported by the facts," he added.

"We've offered to negotiate with the Teamsters many times on public safety, but they've refused because of technical excuses," Mr. Cox said.

On Saving Money
"Rather than resolve our problems at the bargaining table, they go to MERC, (Michigan Employment Relations Commission), with charges against the city."

The consolidation plan, approved after almost a year of study by the council, is aimed at saving money for the financially squeezed community by making its work force more efficient.

After several months of resistance, City firefighters reluctantly agreed to participate in public safety training programs after they were ordered to do so by a state arbitrator in January 1978.

Police officers, who had agreed to take public safety training in past contracts, had not openly resisted the plan up until now.

Brownell Sets Winter Concert

Musicians from Brownell Middle School will present their annual mid-winter concert Wednesday, February 14, at the Parcels School auditorium, 20600 Mack avenue, at 8 p.m.

In addition to the Cadet Band, Concert Band and Orchestra, the Brownell Choirs will perform this year, along with a few of the school's winners of the recent Solo and Ensemble Festival, held in Livonia last month.

The instrumental groups, conducted by Christina E. Judson, will present works by Fendley, Sontag, Vivaldi, Mozart and Erickson, among others. Under the direction of Sue Weiss, the choir will perform "Do I Hear A Waltz," "Gaudeamus Hodie" and "Selections from Annie."

Tickets are available at the door at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

PRECIOUS JEWELRY APPRAISAL

Quite a few of our readers received valuable jewelry gifts for Christmas. It was very satisfying to see our customers' enjoyment in selecting these fine gifts for their loved ones.

You will want to have expensive pieces insured against loss, theft or damage, so you should plan to come into the store soon to have a complete written appraisal made for each item.

A well-detailed appraisal helps your insurance company provide an acceptable substitute for the article. It should include a complete description of the jewelry item and the gemstones used; the quality of cutting, color and clarity of diamonds with evaluation systems explained; special identifying characteristics of the stones and mounting; comments of the method used in the identification and grading of metals and stones; and, finally, the estimated replacement cost as of the appraisal date.

An insurance replacement appraisal should be considered every two or three years since the costs of material and labor change. So, if you've neglected your old jewelry, you might want to bring it in for a new appraisal.

We have a pamphlet published by the American Gem Society describing the appraisal process in greater detail. We'd be happy to give you a copy and answer any questions you might have about this important procedure. Kiska Jewelers, 65 Federal Blvd.,

Burglary Not Juveniles' Bag
 Two young would-be burglars who tried to break into the home of John Blake of Whittier road were arrested by Park police on Saturday, February 3, when bicycle wheel tracks led to the home of one of the culprits, according to Police Chief Henry O. Coonce.
 Police were called when witnesses saw two juveniles attempting to break into the Blake residence. The pair unsuccessfully attempted to get into the residence, first through the front door, the milk chute, side door and finally through the basement window, the glass of which had been broken.

 The youngsters tried to reach through the broken glass section to unlock the window, and when their efforts were thwarted, they left the area.

Sgt. Bobby McAlister and Patrolmen Steven Johnson, Robert Roach, Randal Crain and John Schulte were dispatched to the scene but the young duo had already left. However, one of the juveniles had left the area on a bike and the officers tracked the tire marks through the snow and arrived at the home of one of the culprits, a 13-year-old boy, who lives two blocks away. The youngster then implicated a 14-year-old male friend.
 Both juveniles were released to the Youth Service Division for further disposition of the matter, the chief said.

Pleads Guilty Of Extortion

Farms police apparently closed the book on their nine-month-old extortion case when the major figure in the case pled guilty as charged.
 Fred Karam, also known as Fred Bommarito, of Detroit, faces an April 4 sentencing date in front of Circuit Court Judge Patrick Duggan, where he could get up to 10 years on the charge of soliciting to do great bodily harm less than murder. He pled guilty to the charge on Monday, January 29.

Police said Karam hired two other men, Dennis Charles Prebee and Gilbert John Richard, to break the kneecaps of a Farms resident and merchant last April. The pair instead attempted to extort $5,000 from the man, whose name they decline to reveal.
 Prebee and Richard later pled guilty to the extortion charge, after being apprehended by a massive police force shortly after the "drop" of the $5,000. Officers from the State police and various Wayne and Oakland County police agencies took part in the arrest, which occurred in St. Clair Shores.
 Police said Karam was "personally motivated" in his attempts to get the resident, but would not elaborate.

Hunt History Has Many Facts

Six tons of passenger pigeons were once shipped out of Petoskey every day. Catholics at one time were allowed to eat beaver meat on fast days because the Pope classified this animal as a fish since it spent so much of its time in the water.
 A prominent early Michigan sportsman considered the golden plover to be the most delicious of all game birds.

These are a few of the facts contained in "Hunter's Heritage: A History of Hunting in Michigan," a book just published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, (MUCC).
 Written by Dr. Eugene T. Petersen, a leading Michigan historian, "Hunter's Heritage" traces the history of that pursuit in Michigan from before the arrival of the white man to the present.
 MUCC, a nonprofit federation of sportsmen's and conservation clubs, undertook publication of the book to insure the preservation of Dr. Petersen's unusual record of the role of hunting in the development of Michigan. The book contains dozens of drawings and early photographs.

GP City Sells Bonds for Park

A $225,000 City bond issue, earmarked for a renovation of the lakefront Neff Park, was purchased by the National Bank of Detroit, the lowest of four bidders, on Monday, January 29.

National bank won the issue with a 5.513793 percent interest rate. Other bids ranged as high as 6.09 percent.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach said he was very pleased with the number of bidders and the interest rate received. The City, he said, has an AA rating from Moody's Investment Service.
 The bond issue was okayed by a wide margin of City voters in a special election last September. The money will be used to increase marina space, improve docks and replace the pool filter system, among other objectives.

The council also reviewed detailed plans for the construction work at Neff Park at the Monday meeting.

A special committee made up of Councilmen Arthur Fettes, Jeanette Duffield, Mr. Kressbach and architect John Stevens will make further recommendations on refinements to the plans in time for contract approval this month.

Shores Officers Finish Course

Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale informed the Shores Council Tuesday morning, January 23, with the graduation of Det. Sgt. Frank Mustazza, all command officers of the department have completed a three-day course in supervision.

Village President Gerald C. Schroeder and the trustees appeared pleased with the report and on viewing a certificate mailed to Sgt. Mustazza.

The council was informed that the Michigan Law Enforcement Training Council sponsored a program through Michigan State University's School of Labor and Industrial Relations. The course was "Law Enforcement Officers Principles of Supervision" and was held at the Criminal Justice Institute of Detroit.

Chief Vitale said all command officers were sent to the school at different times so they all would be able to attend.

Besides Sgt. Mustazza, the others who completed the course and received certificates were Lt. Charles Wenrich, Sgts. Stanley Otulakowski and James Jurcak and Cpls. Chester Painter, Daniel Fronczak and William Marshall, all of the uniform division.

ULS Aids Kids Plan College

University Liggett School, (ULS), held its annual College Inforama for junior students and their parents last month. The program, coordinated by college placement director Muriel Brock, provides general information about college application procedures to students who in the following year will be applying to colleges.

The program at the school's Cook road campus presented criteria for the students' consideration in selecting a college and outlined a college planning timetable to the students and their parents.

The timetable coordinates University Liggett's program of college advising with the testing, application and decision dates established by the colleges to which University Liggett students apply.

The College Inforama is part of ULS's total college counseling program. In addition to the Inforama, the school presents a College Information Night each fall, in which a panel of college admissions officers discusses admissions procedures and other issues of concern to applicants and their parents.

Throughout the year, the ULS college counseling staff works individually with students.

Junior and senior students have frequent opportunities to meet with the representatives of the more than 100 colleges and universities who visit ULS each year.

Heart Disease Decrease Seen

Talk about inflation these days and all you'll get from most people is a muttered, "So what else is new?" Americans have resigned themselves to the cost of everyday needs — from bread to automobiles — creeping relentlessly up.

But if inflation isn't news, deflation is. It just doesn't happen that often.

However, that's exactly the kind of news that comes from the Michigan Heart Ass'n during Heart Month, (February).

"We are greatly encouraged that deaths from heart disease, which has been our nation's number one killer for several decades, have declined 30 percent since 1950," said Dr. Richard Antell, Flint internist who is president of the association.

"In fact, the rate of decline seems to be accelerating, since over one third of it has taken place just since 1972."

"In 1977, there were 35,713 deaths from cardiovascular disease in Michigan. It was the number one cause of death—and still is today. However, that's 3,000 fewer deaths than in 1972."

What is responsible for the decline and how can it be speeded up even more?

"We can point to several things we believe are responsible," said Dr. Antell. "Research is one big reason. The Michigan Heart Ass'n has spent more than $14 million on research, and nationwide the American Heart

Ass'n, and its other affiliates have spent more than $300 million since 1949.

"Research has provided more sophisticated techniques in diagnosis, surgery and treatment, which helps the person who has heart disease. And research has also greatly increased our knowledge of the risk factors that lead to heart disease."

The risk factors of heart disease can be divided into two major categories: the ones you have little control over, (such as heredity, race, age and sex), and the ones you can change.

Fortunately, the list of risk factors you can do something about is the longer of the two:

- High blood pressure—a major cause of heart attack and stroke. High blood pressure is easily detected and usually simple to control.
- Smoking—a person who smokes more than a pack of cigarettes a day has nearly twice the risk of heart attack and nearly five times the risk of stroke of a non-smoker.
- Cholesterol—a blood cholesterol measurement of 250 or above triples the risk of heart attack and stroke.
- Overweight—being overweight also increases the chances of heart attack and stroke.
- Stress—a common environmental factor which may contribute to cardiovascular disease. Often, stressful situations can be identified and changes made.
- Lack of exercise—Recent studies have provided increasing evidence that those people who get regular exercise stand less chance of heart attack than those who do not.

"Our efforts to educate people about the risk factors of cardiovascular disease seem to be paying off," Dr. Antell said.

The Michigan Heart Ass'n is a United Way Agency.

Four dual meet victories were achieved in the past two weeks for North High School's varsity swimmers, boosting their record to a perfect seven wins in seven meets.

Their most dynamic performance of the season came on Tuesday, January 23, when they said "adieu" to South High School, whipping them, 98-74. A solid team effort was given by the Norsemen, as they collected seven victories to South's four.

Dave Howe captured the 200 and 100 freestyle events, while Mike Brown dove onto new varsity and pool records for the second straight meet.

Other strong performers were Brad Dillman's 5:12.7 clocking in the 500 free, and Tom Shook's individual medley time of 2:07.1.

Breaststrokers Mark Stoyka, Eric Tech and John Wooton swept the first three places in that event to ice the meet, and the 400 free relay team of Matt Baker, Cam Brady, Vince Cusumano and Howe united for a 3:27.2 first place finish.

Swimmer John Wooton cited the total team performance by commenting, "Everyone was real excited for the meet because South was recently rated in the top ten in the state. We knew we had to go out and swim our best, so everyone got in the pool, they did it, and the final score showed it."

This meet marked the final performance of Rich Causley, a diver who graduated at the end of the semester. The team wishes much good luck and future success for Rich.

The Norsemen took on Lakeshore High, their first Bi-County league foe, on Thursday, January 25, and their performance was an indication of why they have been undefeated in the league for so long. North took first in all 11 events, and swept, first, second, and third, in eight of those as they defeated the Shorians, 139-33.

The meet opened as Bill Nixon, Wooton, Howe, and Brady took first in the 200 medley relay. Hank Bock won the 200 free in 2:00.4, followed by Shook's IM victory in 2:07.7.

North swept the 50 free with the performances of Howe, Cusumano and Brady. Lakeshore had no divers, so it was easy for Brown to achieve another victory.

Howe swam to a 57.2 in the 100 butterfly, and Baker outdove North's Nixon, (54.0), in the 100 free.

Victory in the 500 belonged to Dillman, while Shook took the backstroke event. Tech posted 1:06.2 in the 100 breaststroke before North sent the Shorians back to the bus while winning the 400 free relay.

Tenth-ranked Dearborn gave the Norsemen their toughest competition to date, but North reigned supreme, 43-40.

NHS exhibited supreme depth in this contest, which came down to the wire. North only won four events, but took second and third in the remaining seven to accumulate their score.

Winners included Howe, who took the 200 free in 1:48.9, the 100 free with 50.5, and combined with Brady, Baker and Cusumano for a 3:27.7 in the 400 free relay. Brown captured the diving event, scoring 279.3.

The tankers then upped their league record to 2-0, whipping Lakview, 119-51. North had winners in nine events, sweeping seven of those nine.

Fine performances were seen in these events: the 100 fly, won by Dave Oberiski in 1:01.5, followed by Rich Flynn and Bock.

Nixon took the 100 free in 53 seconds, nosing out Dillman and Bob Luberto, and a 1:09.7 clocking in the 100 breaststroke was taken by Wooton, with Rob Baldwin and Scott Kinney completing the sweep.

North Frosh Closing Year

By Tom Smith

The North High School freshmen are currently closing down their basketball season. In a game played on Tuesday, January 30, they beat St. Clair Shores Chipewas, 51-48.

"It was the best defense and overall game played all season," commented coach Gary McIlroy. "We rebounded well and played great."

A highlight of the game was Marty McEnree getting five points and 11 assists. High scorers were Andy Pfau with 21 and 3-5 from the line, and Craig Stafford, with 17 and 4-4 from the line.

North has a record of 6-5. Their next game will be on Friday, February 9, against South High School on the road.

Cagers at ULS Win And Lose

By Kevin Karson

University Liggett School, (ULS), dropped a 77-72 decision to Southfield Christian on Tuesday, January 30. It was the sixth consecutive loss for Liggett.

The first half was all Southfield Christian as the visitors led at halftime, 49-26. Liggett put in a bid for a comeback in the second half, twice closing the gap to five points, but it was too little and too late as Southfield Christian, (8-3), held on to win what turned out to be a close game.

Jack Roberts led all scorers with 30 points, tops for Liggett players this year. John Bencie added 13 and Kevin Wouitield had 11.

On Thursday night, February 1, ULS came back and broke the string with an impressive 51-41 victory over Cranbrook. The score was tied 11-11 at the end of the first quarter, but after that, it was all Liggett.

The Knights led by five, 26-23, at the half and by 11, 43-32, at the end of the third quarter. Many times in the second half, Liggett led by as much as 15 points.

Junior Kevin Karson took scoring honors with 18 points. The Liggett center also pulled down 15 rebounds. Bencie netted 15 for Liggett.

GP Park Ruth Loop Needs Aid

Parents interested in the Park Babe Ruth baseball league are requested to attend an emergency meeting Tuesday, February 13, at 8 p.m. in the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo avenue, to determine whether there is enough interest to conduct a '79 season.

"More than 150 boys are expected to enroll in the league this year, but unless we get some help in administering the league, we'll have to cancel the '79 season," said Lou Cerre, league president.

"It's merely a matter of parents helping at enrollment time, distributing the new uniforms and assisting in coaching," he continued. "This is too big a load for the few parents participating now."

League vice-president Tony Caputo said, "We expect to have eight teams for boys 13 to 15, and two teams for boys 16 to 18-years-old. It's impossible to run a sports program of this size without parental help. That's why we're asking all interested Park citizens to attend the February 13 meeting."

Battling for Position

The second meeting of North and South High this year produced an upset victory for the Blue Devils, 54-33, in a game played on Tuesday, January 30, at South. An earlier meeting in the season on North's home court resulted in an easy win for the Norsemen. High scorer for the Devils was Bob Baker, with 18, while North's Glenn Williams, despite being held to just three in the second half, had 20 for the game. North is currently vying for top spot in the Bi-County League.

North to Play at Silverdome Next Week

By Wright Wilson

Coming off a victory against Fraser, North High School's basketball team is currently sharing the top slot in the Bi-County League.

The Norsemen will be defending their position on Wednesday, February 14, in a milestone game—they will take on the South Lake Cavaliers in the Pontiac Silverdome. This is one of a series of high school basketball games played prior to the Detroit Pistons' contests this season.

South Lake is currently 3-5 in the league and previously snapped Fraser's 11-game winning streak. The Norsemen are 6-2 and are holding steady in a tight Bi-County race.

South Lake representatives will be at North High on Monday, February 12, selling tickets for the game. The price is $8, which includes a prime seat for the North game at 5 p.m. and for the Pistons-Denver Nuggets contest at 8 p.m. Admission to the Pistons game would automatically be $7 above.

Denver boasts the talents of superstars George McGinnis and David Thompson. The latter was named MVP of the Sunday, February 4, NBA All-Star game at the Silverdome, and bagged 73 points in his last appearance against the Pistons.

MORT CRIM TALKS WITH:

"Detroit's New Americans"

Who are they? The Arabs. The Latinos. The Yugoslavs. The Koreans. And others.

Where do they live and work? How can we help them adjust? How long will it take them to realize their great American dream?

What do they bring to Detroit? And what brought them to Detroit — possibly the most ethnically diverse city in the world?

Mort Crim looks into these questions in an informative News 4 special report, "Detroit's New Americans", starting Monday, February 5th, and continuing throughout this month.

Don't miss Mort Crim with: "Detroit's New Americans", on News 4 Detroit.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

The final 1978-1979 Board of Education goal to be addressed in this series of columns is the goal to Conduct Long-Range Planning.

Although this goal encompasses many issues, I will use this column to discuss only those of enrollment projections and future utilization of school buildings using a future column to discuss other issues related to our future planning.

Like nearly every other school district in Michigan, the Grosse Pointe School System is experiencing declining student enrollments. During the 1971-1972 school year, our enrollment level reached its peak at 13,529 students.

Since that time there has been a decline to the present level of approximately 10,000 students. Projections indicate that there could be further reduction of as many as 2,000 students over the next five years before the enrollment level stabilizes.

As a result of this trend, we have reached a point where, from a pure management perspective, several of our schools could be closed. Specifically, our present enrollment could be accommodated even if we closed three elementary and one middle school.

Despite the possibility of closing some buildings, at the December meeting the Board took action to maintain our existing organizational pattern and operate all schools in the present manner for at least the next two years.

This action followed a recommendation to the Board which was based upon numerous discussions with staff members and parents representing all school buildings and segments of the community.

These discussions revealed that Grosse Pointe has long supported its neighborhood schools, taking pride in them as positive features of this community. We are committed to insuring that school facilities continue to contribute to the image and stability of the community.

Everyone, who determine what the priorities should be, not a few supposed leaders in Lansing.

Further, we pledge to get out of the rarified atmosphere in Lansing and listen to the people, to actively solicit their views on all subjects relating to state government.

We have found these concepts to be so refreshing it is almost sad. People are shocked that any group of politicians would actually commit themselves to listening, asking for input and promising to fight for the priorities of the people.

We are very serious about pursuing the Taxpayers' Agenda and we want, need and ask for your input.

As a starting point, we have drafted what we feel are some of the top priorities of Michigan taxpayers, but the document will change and, as I said, the idea is really to commit to the process.

It is our opinion that top on the priority list of the people, in the change of law, is for increased, straightforward, non-graduated property tax relief.

In the program area, we think the people want and demand a mental health system of which they can be proud, or which provides good and humane services to those in need.

We need your input on whatever you believe are priority needs. Please let me hear from you.

GPF Building Slows in 1978

The Farms experienced about a seven percent drop in the value of new construction begun last year compared to 1977, according to figures released by the building department.

A total value of $2,297,500 in new structures was begun last year, down from $2,788,255 in 1977.

New residences declined from 15 in 1977 to 11 last year, while miscellaneous structures, (garages, additions, sheds, et al.), also were down in number from 1977, but had a greater value.

No new businesses were built last year, in contrast to the two in 1977 that were worth $400,000.

Director of Public Services John DeFoe said the figures were normal, blaming the small decline on the lack of business activity.

ity of the community. So, rather than close a facility, we are taking advantage of the available space to provide instructional alternatives, expand our community education programs and increase use of facilities by community organizations, such as senior citizens' clubs.

Despite this expanded use of school buildings, we may eventually reach the point where it would be best to consolidate our operations and close one or more facilities. If we do reach that point, we are extremely reluctant to let a building stand vacant representing an open invitation to vandalism and inappropriate use of the grounds.

Rather than be a party to the creation of a community eyesore, we would seriously consider selling a building to a buyer who could put it to a constructive use.

At this time we feel that we need the next two years to determine longer-range plans before taking action to close an instructional facility. Even though enrollment projections are often speculative, there is some indication that a leveling off of our student population may occur, followed by a gradual increase.

Our recent school census showed a slight increase and as these preschool children enter school, the enrollment could move back up to our present level.

Obviously, we would not want to liquidate one or more buildings only to find that we might need them several years from now.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

The wreck of a 17th century Spanish galleon was discovered 85 miles off the coast of the Dominican Republic by Burt Webber Jr., a treasure hunter from Annville, Pa., late last November. It is believed that the wreck holds more than $40 million in treasure.

The wreck was of the Spanish galleon Concepcion, which sank in 1641. A salvage expedition in 1687 had recovered part of the cargo—32 tons of silver—but Webber was convinced that the Concepcion held much more treasure.

Certainly Webber or some other member of the salvage team will in time write a book about their incredible expedition. Meanwhile, there is no lack of published books on the subject of archaeology. Rich tombs, lost cities, hoards of priceless manuscripts, galleys submerged with their cargoes—these are the stuff of which the romance of archaeology is made.

Kurt W. Marek, a German born newspaperman and publisher, wrote GODS, GRAVES AND SCHOLARS in 1949. Under the pseudonym C. W. Ceram, the book was published in America by Knopf, Inc., in 1951.

A second revised and substantially enlarged edition was published by Knopf, Inc., in 1967.

Ceram's book popularized archaeology. Now the masses could snare in the excitement and color of this comparatively new science.

The author divided the book into five sections. The first section deals with Pompeii, Troy, Mycenae and Crete. Section two is about the empires of Egypt. Here the reader will learn about the tomb of Tutankhamen and the curse of the Pharaohs.

In the remaining sections, the kingdoms of Assyria, Babylonia and Sumeria are discussed followed by the empires of the Aztecs, the Mayas and the Toltecs.

An author with a more scientific approach to archaeology for the layman is Louis A. Brennan. His book BEGINNER'S GUIDE TO ARCHAEOLOGY, (Stackpole Books, 1973), is a modern digger's step-by-step introduction to the expert way of unearthing the past.

Although the book is set up like a college textbook, there is a wealth of information within its 318 pages of value to the citizen archaeologist and conservationist.

Charles Berlitz, the grandson of the man who founded the famous Berlitz language schools, has written an easy to read, exciting book on the lost civilizations in the Americas.

His book MYSTERIES FROM FORGOTTEN WORLDS, (Doubleday, 1972), is filled with fascinating historical puzzles. Did the legendary island empire of Atlantis really exist? Why was the Pyramid of the Sun built in Teotihuacan, Mexico—and by whom? How was a whole city built on a mountaintop at an elevation of 6,850 feet? The book contains 48 pages of photographs which greatly add to its value.

Three books concerned with underwater archaeology or sunken treasure—the terms are interchangeable—are SUNKEN HISTORY, (Chilton, 1963), by Robert Silverberg; THE TREASURE DIVER'S GUIDE, (Doubleday, 1972), written by John S. Potter Jr.; and TREASURE SEEKERS, (Walker, 1967), by Hans Roden.

Each book tells of successful archaeology finds that have brought riches to a few and a wealth of information about the history of human civilization.

While we grapple with today's problems, the search goes on to discover more about our past.

Center Offers Karate Class

A new term in Tae Kwan Do, Korean Karate, known as the art of the open hand, is scheduled at the War Memorial, 22 Lakeshore road, on Fridays, February 23 to April 13, at 7 p.m.

The classes are taught by advanced members of the Karate Club under the direction of Sang Kyu Shim, who introduced Korean Karate in this country.

The fee is $25 for eight weeks. The course is open to both students and adults of each sex.

The Karate loose-fitting uniform is worn and sashes of different colors are awarded on the basis of examination and advancement.

Agency Seeks to Help Deaf

It is estimated that more than 5,000 persons in Michigan who are deaf or hearing impaired and underemployed or unemployed.

Some are unable to find a well-paying job because they do not have a particular job skill or the necessary education. Others may need a hearing aid or surgery to correct a hearing loss. Still others may have met with employer prejudice when looking for work.

The Michigan Bureau of Rehabilitation is a state/federal agency that exists to help such persons—and those with other handicaps such as any physical, emotional or mental limitation—find meaningful jobs.

A division of the Michigan Department of Education, the bureau has 25 field offices around the state that serve hearing-impaired-deaf persons. The Detroit Eastern District Office serves those living in Northeast Detroit, Harper Woods and The Pointe.

Each deaf person who applies for bureau services is teamed up with a trained counselor. Together, the counselor and client decide what services are needed to help the client reach his or her employment potential. These services could include medical tests, work tests, training for work and assistance in finding a job.

The bureau also may provide living costs during work training, surgical services, hearing aids, sign language training, speech reading and may find an interpreter when needed.

The medical and hearing exams and counseling and job placement are without charge. The client, however, may be asked to pay for part of the costs of training, surgical services, hearing aids and room and board during training if they are able.

Last year, bureau counselors helped 298 deaf persons find jobs. These persons were earning an average of $152 a week at the time their cases were closed as "rehabilitated." When initially seen by bureau counselors, these clients were drawing a total of $8,900 from public assistance each month. When their cases were closed, this was reduced 50 percent.

If you are hearing impaired or deaf and interested in the bureau's services, contact Juanita Hughes, counselor at 1200 Sixth Street, Michigan State Plaza Building, 3rd Floor North Tower, Detroit 48226 or Howard Watson, assistant office supervisor, at 256-9641. The office is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Referrals for assistance because of other disabilities can be taken by Ms. Hughes or Mr. Watson.

Calendar Helps Save Dollars

The Michigan Consumers Council recently released its 1978 Consumer Calendar for consumers who want to keep up-to-date and avoid common seasonal problems.

"We've found that many of the same types of problems crop up at similar times year after year," said Executive Director Linda Joy.

"The calendar describes typical consumer problems, provides tips on how to avoid them and tells where to go for help.

"For example, many consumers are in the market for a new car when the new models come out in October," Ms. Joy continued. "For that month's tip we suggest consumers price the package of options on new cars just as carefully as the car itself.

We also explain how important it is to shop for credit because that's a major expense as well."

As the state's clearinghouse for consumer information, the Consumers Council has prepared many brochures and fact sheets on consumer issues which are available without charge to the public. Each month of the calendar highlights one of these publications, Ms. Joy said.

Seniors' Class Gets Underway

The third meeting of Grosse Pointe School System's new, tuition-free class, Seminar for Seniors, will be held in the auditorium of Parcels Middle School, 20600 Mack avenue, today, February 8, at 1:30 p.m.

Speaker will be James Dahaner, local realtor, whose topic will be "A Lesson in Understanding Local Real Estate."

Dr. William Coats, superintendent, addressed the seminar last week, calling the class for senior citizens "evidence of the interest which the Board of Education and staff have in extending school services to an important segment of the community."

Dr. Coats added that the class is a direct outgrowth of the Board's goal to "improve services to the community at large" during the 1978-79 school year.

Other speakers and topics scheduled for the Thursday seminars are Lauraine Packer on "A Sampler of Leisure Time Activities," February 15; Marilyn Gunther on "Senior Citizens Are Consumers Too," February 22; Verlyn Thomas on "Senior Citizens And Their Families," March 1; and Jeanette Duffield on "Cooking for Singles Or Couples," March 8.

More are Ester Porter presenting a travelogue on far away places, March 15; Robert Ihrie on "Personal Estate Planning," March 22; and Gerald Fouchey and Mike Juliano on "Simple Home Repairs," March 29.

Agape Breakfast Slated at Church

The Reverend Patrick Lowry, Ecumenical Minister from Belfast, Ireland, Will Discuss Women in A Stress Situation

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church has invited women of area churches to an Agape Breakfast next Tuesday, February 13, at 9:30 in the morning in the church's Fellowship Hall.

The Reverend Patrick Lowry, pastor of Newtownbreda, (St. John's), in Belfast, Ireland, serving for five weeks as ecumenical minister at Memorial Church, will speak on "Women in a Stress Situation."

"Conflict in Ireland has caused suffering and distress to everyone, and most particularly to the women and children," The Reverend Lowry observes.

Women, he says, participate at all levels of the conflict, some reacting with hate, bitterness and violence, others working for a peaceful reconciliation.

The Agape Breakfast, a tradition at Memorial Church for the past several years, is a Christian Love Feast.

"Agape" is the Greek word for "love of humanity" or "brotherly love."

Mrs. David T. George, director of Christian Education for Memorial Church, will lead the devotions next Tuesday. Mrs. Alfred S. Warren, Jr., president of the Women's Association, will welcome guests and introduce The Reverend Lowry.

Service Guild members Mrs. William J. Scott, Mrs. William Fox and Mrs. Robert J. Van Raaphorst are planning the meal and decorations which will feature a love chain made of wheat weavings in the shape of hearts.

Baby sitting will be available. Reservations may be made by calling the church office, 882-5330.

But let any of these things happen and—plinkety, plink, here come the kinks. What's a girl like this to do? Easy. A girl like this comes to us and gets her hair straightened all neat and silky and then icky-poo weather will hardly ever bother her at all. If you have a friend with the aforesaid problem, be nice.  High fire stoneware is the specialty of Vigland, who returned to northern Michigan to establish a year-around studio and summer shop in Benzonia with his wife.
 His pieces are distinguished by sensuous glazes and unusually bright colors which are very difficult to achieve in the 2,300-degree firing.
 Jaris, a Grand Valley State College ceramics instructor, maintains a Grand Rapids studio where slab-built and salt-glazed pots are his forte. The "orange peel" texture of the glazes on these less traditional shapes creates a feeling that is uniquely his.
 The Pewabic Pottery, one of MSU's Lifelong Education Programs, serves greater Detroit as an adult ceramic school, a ceramic museum, a gallery and an historic site. Adult tour groups should call for reservations.

Inside the Mothers Club

Russell Reed, speaking at the Grosse Pointe South High School Mothers Club meeting January 8, described the music groups at South High as "performance oriented" and geared to increasing the technical capabilities of students.

Both Symphony Band and Wind Ensemble as well as Orchestra have received First Division festival ratings.

The student-run Executive Council sponsors many activities, from dances and a car rally to a Homecoming float, pops concert and fruit sale. Great responsibility is entailed, as the students handle $25,000 throughout the year.

Future possibilities for South's music program include a guitar group as well as a course in beginning piano and keyboard harmony. The Music Study committee is evaluating and planning changes in the program for grades K through 12.

To Fete Farms Boat Club Commodores

The Chateau Rouge will be the setting Saturday, February 24, for the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club's annual Commodores Ball, honoring Immediate Past Commodore RICHARD SHANNON and his wife VIRGINIA, (left), and introducing incoming 1979 Commodore RONALD HICKS and his wife ROSEMARY. The party, under the chairmanship of Past Commodore and Mrs. Robert Maddox, also will introduce 1979 Vice Commodore Jerry Austerberry and Rear Commodore Cal Magill, plus Mildred Koepplin, secretary, Billie Jacoby, treasurer, and directors Sonny Gorenflo, Lawrence Einfeldt, Jim Kidd, Jerry Malooly and Robert Pytell. Festivities begin with cocktails at 7:30 o'clock. Dinner will be served at 8:30, and dancing will continue until 1:30 in the morning. Reservations may be made by calling Florence Maddox, 882-5214, or Billie Jacoby, 881-9185.

Students wishing to apply for college or vocational school scholarships should pick up application forms in Dr. Robert J. Hanson's of-rice. They must be returned before March 5.

Ninth and 10th grade students will be given an opportunity to take a course in Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation. The program is sponsored by the Health Education Council.

Bon Secours Hospital is offering a free course for parents who wish to become CPR instructors, meeting on February 7, 14, 21 and 28. There is a need for at least two more Resusci-Annies, ($300 each), for the program. The dummies would be used by the entire community.

Burl Von Allmen, faculty sponsor of South's most popular club, the Ski Club, described the trials, tribulations and delights of taking 100 students on ski trips, the logistics of reserving buses, finding chaperones, (parent chaperones are ALWAYS needed), equipping students with tow tickets, renting skis, et al.

After trying different methods of selecting members, he designed the present system of guaranteeing trip reservations to seniors and juniors who have been previous Ski Club members, with freshman and sophomore participants chosen by lottery.

The Health Education Council, which provides services and information, fluoride treatments, CPR education and breast exam education, is seeking more members.

Current Mothers Club membership stands at 490.

Frances French, assistant principal, discussed new course selection. The new program of studies is being given to students who are working with counselors to select programs for next year.

A Co-op Programs presentation was scheduled for the Mothers Club meeting last Tuesday, February 5, at noon, with reservations required as luncheon was served by Co-op students.

MOT Presents A Double Bill

Michigan Opera Theatre's eighth season closes with a double bill combining a perennial favorite, Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci," with an American opera, Gruenberg's "The Emperor Jones," which has not been produced in this country since its debut at the Metropolitan in 1933.

Performance dates at the Music Hall Center are Friday, February 9, Sunday, February 11, Wednesday, February 14, and Friday and Saturday, February 16 and 17.

Tickets may be obtained by calling the box office, 963-7680, between 10 and 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

"The Emperor Jones," based on the Eugene O'Neill play of the same name, starred Lawrence Tibbett in its Met premier. Paul Robeson sang the title role in concert in Carnegie Hall in 1940, but except for a few performances in Europe the opera has not been produced since then.

MOT's revival will star Andrew Smith in his MOT debut, as Brutus Jones, the escaped convict whose brutality eventually brings about his downfall. He will be appearing February 9, 11, 14 and 17.

David Arnold, also making his MOT debut, will sing the role February 16.

The production also will feature dancer and choreographer Clifford Fears as the Witch Doctor.

"I Pagliacci" will feature John West as Canio, Marianna Christos as Nedda and Charles Long as Tonio.

Both Mr. West and Miss Christos have appeared with MOT before. Mr. West in last season's "Carmen." Miss Christos in the 1975-76 season's "La Boheme." Charles Long will be making his MOT debut.

Both operas are being staged and directed by Rhoda Levine, with sets designed for MOT by Neil Jampolis.

More on Music

Roma Riddell, of Bishop road, will be featured tomorrow evening in the first opera ever to be presented on the seven-year-old Laudenslager Music Series: Hugo Weisgall's "The Stronger."

It's a one-act drama, based on the play by August Strindberg. Three other chamber works, Rossini's Sonata No. 1 in G major for strings, Bernhard Heiden's Sonata for Saxophone and Piano and Brahms' Piano Quartet No. 3 in C minor, are included on the program to be conducted by Arthur Stephan, scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock at Orchestra Hall.

Saxophonist Jack Kripl and pianist Lawrence LaGore, of Three Mile drive, will be the Heiden sonata soloists. Other performers include violinists James Waring and Inez Redman, violist David Ireland, cellist Marcy Chanteaux and bass Maxim Janowsky.

As always after Laudenslager concerts, the audience is invited to meet informally with the artists over refreshments in the Orchestra Hall loge.

Ticket information is available from the "En Concert" office in the Rackham Building, 832-7400, or from the Orchestra Hall box office, 833-3700.

A Fascinating Journey

While most of us were sponding a traditional Christmas at home, Beverlie Lyles, daughter of Mrs. Philip Skillman, of Fisher road, was in the midst of an incredible journey.

Bev, a graduate of the Grosse Pointe Academy of the Sacred Heart and Marymount College, flew to Albuquerque December 20, picked up a car, checked into a motel and waited for her traveling companion, Mademoiselle Magazine editor Doris Antum, who is very involved with Indian tribes in Arizona.

Together, they spent the next 10 days exploring the art and culture of the native Americans of the Southwest.

They visited potters and weavers, studios and private homes. They saw dances and pageants, ate bread pudding with cheese, ("Delicious!"), chili and Indian cookies.

Among the most fascinating of a series of fascinating stops was Jamez, where the two travelers were invited into The Child Jesus' Home.

It is a private home, volunteered by the family or chosen by the tribe. "Everyone in the village brings their riches to decorate this pueblo," Bev explains.

A draped ceiling was formed of some 40 fringed squares of red and green silk. The walls were covered with blankets, handwoven rugs, baskets, jewelry... even silver foil.

The creche stood in one corner, framed by two arches made of ladies' white leggings, and hanging above it were hundreds of cotton threads: a snow-storm.

There were red peppers hanging on threads, too. There were blowout eggs painted to resemble Indian pots, with little feathers on top.

"The whole place," reports Bev, "was a Fantasy Island to me." The reports sit, close to the creche, greeting friends. The dancers come in between dances.

"We sat along the walls, waiting to be invited into the next room for the feast." It was served by the ladies of the village, in their best tribal dress.

"We were each given a bowl and a cracked cup, and I had a little chili and some pie and the smoky blue bread..."

She never missed turkey and all the trimmings.

Accessories... is an important word in making a fashion statement. One accessory that can update your wardrobe faster than any other is a new colorful waist gatherer. The new crochet tie-belts at Walton-Pierce come in bright yellow or red... also in taupe, navy or black. There is a black crochet stretch belt with mock tortoise clasps. A new look Palizzio handbag of simulated ostrich is another way to accent fashion. There are single string large beads in fashionable mauve or turquoise. Fashion color bangle bracelets are from Les Bernard with little three dollar tags. Color is the news in accessorizing. The new rayon-acrylic knit tops from Hark in jewel colors of jade, sapphire and ruby come with a simple round neckline or a V. To top off fashion try a new little natural straw. Some come with veiling. Ultra Suede berets, Scotch caps and cloches are found in pastel colors for spring. In the separates collection are great new skirts. One is a navy linen look skirt with a front slit. Another good looking skirt in beige has a stripe string belt that wraps the waist. It is meant to go with a deep blue blouse. Get a head start on Spring. Stop by Walton-Pierce and see all the sunny new fashions.

JOAN THORNTON, OF HOLIDAY ROAD, (FAR LEFT), LEADS HER FIT FAMILY ON A JOG AROUND THE GYM

By Janet Mueller
Talk about a fit family! Talk about Chuck Thornton, an insurance salesman for Triple A—and the national doubles masters three-wall outdoor handball champion, and a marathon runner. Talk about the children: Kyle, 23, Shari, 21, Chip, 18, and 13-year-old Krista.

Kyle is a make-up consultant, midwest representative for Ethera Cosmetics. She's a lady who knew, from the time she was 16, what she wanted, joined the co-op program at Grosse Pointe North High School, trained at Sibley's, moved on to Leon's after she was graduated. She's a racewalker and a former teacher of swimming classes for babies, (three months through pre-school), with Grosse Pointe Community Services.

Shari taught those swimming classes, too. Now she jogs two miles a day, works as a dental assistant and is studying to be a Dental Hygienist. She is married to Patrick DeVine, a Grosse Pointe Woods policeman and pre-law student. Pat's a runner. Chip is a North High senior, sprinter on the track team. He weight trains regularly in the basement to build up muscle endurance.

Krista swims at Brownell with the Grosse Pointe Swim Club team. Then There's Grandma. Now talk about their grandmother, Helen Natzka. Most grandmothers are content with a bleacher seat, cheering the children on, right? Well... when it came to the Belle Isle run, there was Helen, in the rain, running with the best of them. When it came to the Belle Isle run, all the Thorntons, plus Helen, plus three handball player friends of Chuck's, plus Joan Thornton's sister, were out there. Everybody ran, walked or racewalked.

Now let's talk about Joan Thornton, who ran in the October Marathon. With a little help from her friends. "The whole family helped out. I have to say that the most support for the marathon came from Grosse Pointe residents." Joan's class ladies were out in force, yelling and jumping and applauding as their teacher raced by.

Chuck ran the last miles with her. Pat took an earlier turn. So did the husband of her partner in Vital Woman, Inc., Deanna Hawthorne. So did Deanna.

So Joan didn't win, (although she made a respectable showing): that's not the point. The point is she ran. The point is she's a fit, and happy lady.

The Two Go Together. The old healthy mind/healthy body bit really is true. Joan loves to read, is active at church and has always been into athletics. She swam competitively and competed in gymnastics as a teen. She began teaching swimming 13 years ago at the Eastside YMCA.

And there she met Deanna, who came down to the Y with her little boy. They became walking, then running friends. "It's so much easier if you have a friend to run with."

Deanna and Joan meet at 6:30 in the morning four or five times a week and run six miles. They started the YMCA Fitness Camps for Women: one-week sessions at a "very rustic" retreat near Holly. The program grew from 20 to 150 women in the first year.

They started Vital Woman, to promote the quality of life, joy of living and self-awareness through fitness of mind and body. They offer a total program, exercise through nutrition, with options ranging from Yoga to Jazz.

You Must Enjoy It. For options are important. "There's no one way to keep fit," Joan explains. You must discover a program that works for you. AND ONE THAT YOU ENJOY, for if you don't enjoy it, you won't be able to do it—and then you'll be right back where you were before: doing nothing.

Vital Woman is currently operating in six adult education districts, offering specific classes plus a "Showcase of Programs" designed to present fitness options. Deanna and Joan lecture as well as teach. They've conducted Fitness Days at Macomb College and Lambton College in Ontario, ("We're international!"), and have an overnight Fitness Health-Spa coming up at Mercy College.

Check-in is 5:30 o'clock Friday evening, February 23. Check-out is 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, February 24. In between there'll be opportunities to sample DanceFit, FigureFit, Yoga and Jazz, to swim and have a Fitness Profile, to learn beauty secrets in a Make-Up Clinic. The numbers to call for more information and reservations, (a must), are 882-2349 and 476-8010.

She's a Cardholder. Joan Thornton holds instructor cards in Water Safety and Aquatic Specialist, and is a YMCA Certified Nutrition Workshop instructor. She has attended Dr. Golding's Fitness Specialist Workshop at Kent State University and the Slim Living Nutritional Education and Motivation Workshop.

She is a member of the American Medical Joggers Association and a former dance instructor. She originated the Grosse Pointe Community Services' Baby Swim Program.

She's been involved in fitness in Grosse Pointe, through the Continuing Education Department, since long before Vital Woman. She started Grosse Pointe Ladies' volleyball. She taught Women's Swim—and found herself doing so many exercises for her students in the locker room that she brought the exercises out to the pool deck, and into the pool.

Introduced Dance. She and Deanna introduced Aerobic Dancing to The Pointe, and taught all local classes in it until last year. Vital Woman has originated and designed two special, new programs: FigureFit and Body Contouring. Vital Woman

He was born in Germany in 1926 and emigrated with his parents to Israel when he was six years old.

He received his earliest training from his mother, who was a concert pianist, and later began studying violin with members of the orchestra in Tel Aviv.

Torkanowsky arrived in New York in 1948 to study violin with Raphael Bronstein. From 1954 to 1959 he studied conducting at L'Ecole Montoux.

Senior Citizens group. They perform a fitness medley to music that is a delight—and an amazement to those who sat down at 35, 45, 55 and haven't gotten up since.

The idea is to get the idea across that fitness isn't an age; it's a stage. You're never too young or never too old to become a fit person. And becoming one, being one, is such fun!

Talk to Joan Thornton. She's not jogging six miles every morning because it feels so good when she stops. She's enjoying every minute of that early morning run, and she's enjoying the all-day feeling of well-being that being fit brings. Talk to Joan's family.

Finally: talk to yourself. Tell yourself to "move it, do it," get up out of that chair and get going. Take your own advice... and enjoy!
