HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by The Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, February 8
KEY WAYNE COUNTY WORKERS were ordered back to work by a circuit court judge after he agreed with the county that thousands of dollars worth of equipment would be ruined without necessary maintenance. The judge ordered 49 striking workers back to sewage pumping stations, 40 to the jail and 19 to the Medical Examiner's office. The temporary order also directs the county and union to resume bargaining today, after employees walked off the job yesterday in a contract dispute centering on wages. The workers ordered back ignored the order throughout today.

Friday, February 9
GOV. WILLIAM MILLIKEN and other state officials spoke out against federal proposals that might ban Sunday gasoline sales, saying such a move would adversely affect the $8 billion tourist industry. Federal Energy Secretary James Schlesinger said that forcing stations to close on Sundays was one move being considered as part of an overall plan to reduce oil consumption and increase public awareness of the energy crisis caused by the situation in Iran.

Saturday, February 10
THE UNITED STATES for the first time publicly cautioned China against an attack on Vietnam, expressing concern for the possibility of an expanded conflict in Southeast Asia. The statement was issued by the State Department just four days after Chinese Vice-Premier Teng Hsiao-ping finished his U.S. tour, amid reports that China has made a significant buildup of military forces along its border with Vietnam. The Soviets have already issued a warning to the Chinese on the matter.

Sunday, February 11
ARMED CIVILIANS and mutinous air force cadets battled the Shah's Imperial Guard in a civil war that engulfed much of eastern Tehran in Iran. The bloodiest fighting in five months dispelled any notions of unity among the country's military. Dozens of U.S. military advisors had to be airlifted out of the country, and hospitals reported more than 160 dead and 500 wounded late Saturday. Among the dead was an American reporter, Joe Alex Morris Jr. of the "Los Angeles Times."

Monday, February 12
IRAN'S PRIME MINISTER Shapour Bakhtiar reportedly resigned Sunday after the country's military chief threw his support to Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. The withdrawal of military support appeared to mean the end for the 2,500-year-old Iranian monarchy, which depended heavily on loyal, united troops. Gen. Abbas Gharabaghi, chief of the armed forces, said he would support the "revolutionary" Islamic republic set up by Khomeini. Meanwhile, insurgents took over much of the capital city of Tehran.

Tuesday, February 15
THE ROYAL PALACE of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi fell peacefully to the Islamic revolution as the last military units loyal to the Iranian government surrendered Monday. While the religious movement was left in nominal control of the country, anarchy reigned in the streets of Tehran and it was questionable how much control the new government had. Armed Iranians rounded up about 50 Americans and took them to the headquarters of religious leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, whose aides apologized to them and released them.

Woods Heralds New City Flag at Meeting

"This is the most beautiful flag I have ever seen," commented Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos during the presentation ceremony of The Woods' new city flag at the Monday, February 5, council meeting. Steven Stopin, 21, of Hollywood avenue was the winner of the flag contest held last year under the auspices of the Beautification Commission. One flag went to Mr. Stopin, a North High School graduate, who's attending Macomb County Community College, while the other will be hung in the council chambers. Those participating in

GPF Hits Lakeshore Repaving

Council Again Voices Opposition to Sharing Any Costs of Resurfacing Thoroughfare

By David Kramer
With several members terming it "blackmail," the Farms Council once again voiced its strong opposition to sharing any portion of the costs of resurfacing Lakeshore road, while suggesting court action against the Wayne County Road Commission.

At the council's Monday, February 5, meeting, the city officials got some answers back from the road commission clarifying how much The Farms would be asked to contribute to the project, and they didn't like what they heard.

Entire Stretch Eyed
At issue is whether The Farms will agree to put up about $12,500 for the resurfacing of Lakeshore between Moross and the north city limits.

Hawthorne Road Citizens Air Worry over Projects

By Roger A. Waha
The status of what may, or may not, happen to Hawthorne road remains a major concern to citizens who live in the area. In an effort to further explore proposed sewer work and expansion of the street, the Woods Council agreed to a meeting of officials and residents on Thursday, March 1 in the council chambers, 20025 Mack avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

North High School Coach Explores Program, Which Confronts Students, Adults with Challenge of Serving Jesus Christ

By David Kramer
Most students and parents at North High School know Ray Ritter as coach of the varsity basketball team that is currently vying for top spot in the Bi-County League. He's also known as North's golf coach.

Mr. Ritter estimates there are about 4,000 members of the FCA in Michigan, of which the majority are high school athletes. The high school groups are known as "huddles," and the adult groups or "chapters" primarily function to support the huddle.

Meet Every Week
North's huddle is composed of about 25 girls and 20 boys. They meet once a week, three times a month separated, and the other time together, discussing the Holy Bible, listening to speakers and watching films. "The basic purpose of the

By Roger A. Waha
The subject of school crossing guards, originally in relation to a request for additional hours at the Mack avenue-Vernier road intersection, was viewed by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 5.

However, as it turned out, the initial discussion wasn't in regard to Public Safety Director John Dankel's memo on the bid to lengthen the hours, but on the city footing the entire crossing guard bill when officials indicated, children in two other communities benefit from The Woods' guards but pay nothing.

The main focus of the concern of Woods officials was The Shores, (a disturbing point to the council in the past), which, they said, receives most of the benefits in comparison to The Farms.

Correction

In the February 1 edition of the NEWS, a front page story about the ramifications of the Headlee amendment reported that properly assessments, specifically the SEV, (state equalized valuation), in the Pointes have risen 12 to 14 percent "yearly."

Board Receives Good News on Testing Scores

Trustees Learn of School District's Unofficial, Top State Ranking on Michigan Educational Assessment Program Results; Presentation Given by Director of Research and Development

By Susan McDonald
Average scores on this year's Michigan Educational Assessment Program have unofficially earned the Grosse Pointe School District the rank of number one in the state, local officials announced this week.

Although the state avoids ranking districts officially, each year The Pointes' Director of Research and Development Roger McCaig prepares a report on the district's overall state standing for presentation to the Board of Education.

This year, Mr. McCaig had good news for the trustees at their Monday, February 12, meeting. Grosse Pointe schools, he said, have moved from a number seven position in the state in 1976, to number four in 1977 and number one in 1978, when composite scores are compared.

Make No Claim
"Nobody's sitting on their laurels, because we're not first in every category yet, but I'm very proud of this," Trustee William Huetteman said about the test scores. "Next time you see your kid tell him, 'Hey, you're number one.'"

The tests, taken by fourth and seventh grade students this fall, measure math and English skills. Scores reflect the percent of students who mastered 75 percent or more of the test objectives.

In his presentation to the Board, Mr. McCaig stressed that while the tests reflect valuable information about achievement in basic skills, they fall far short of measuring the overall quality of the schools.

He emphasized that the number one ranking is an unofficial one. "No claim is made that student achievement in the basic skills is better in Grosse Pointe than all other school districts" in (Continued on Page 8)

Concerns over Federal Programs Shared by POP

By Susan McDonald
With its petition drive to stop federal projects well underway, Proud Of The Park (POP), held its first meeting for the general public last week and, also for the first time presented some of its concerns about federal programs to the Park Council.

The group, led by one-time council candidate Dean Prunke, has trudged door-to-door through large areas of The Park in recent weeks with its petition and emotional arguments against the use of federal Community Development Block Grant, (CDBG), funds in the community.

Seniors Set To Launch Big Project

Minor Home Repair And Maintenance Program Expected To Be Started Not Later Than March 1

By Roger A. Waha
A dream of a group of senior citizens in the community to meet the needs of their fellows is nearing fruition as final preparations are under way on the part of SOC, (Seniors Onward for Change, Inc.), toward launching a minor home repair and maintenance program in four Pointes and Harper Woods on or before Thursday, March 1.

An outgrowth of The Pointes' Out-Wayne County Nutrition Site for seniors, housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, SOC developed to pinpoint, and attack, the needs of seniors in the Pointes and Harper Woods.

With the selection of its program directors, Mary Aley and Diane Heavner, who are co-directors of the nutrition site, the naming of its board of directors and the assurance of receiving $49,982 for 1978-79 to get the home repair program underway, members of the non-profit corporation are looking forward to penetrating the gamut of needs facing local seniors.

Primary Focus
At this point, a special telephone line to SOC headquarters, (at the church for the time being), is expected to be installed by next week in order for the program to be fully operational.

Stressing that the primary focus of the minor home repair program is toward helping low-to-moderate income and handicapped seniors, Mrs. Heavner said, "We're just starting, but until we get rolling there will be no overnight service. It will be on a first come, first serve basis."

Currently in the process of lining up individuals or groups to do the chores, which range from repairing leaky faucets to minor roof work, SOC officials are decidedly excited over the long-range prospects of the program and the cooperation and support rendered by local communities.

"I'm pleased over the communities getting together, along with the school system class, (for students who are interested in learning minor home repair skills), said Mrs. Aley, who also noted, "People are changing their attitudes."

For his part, Bert Francis, president of SOC and a member of the Woods Senior Citizens Commission, stressed, "We're really discovering who we are."

Pointes Change Meeting Dates

The date of a second meeting of the Woods Council this month has been changed from Monday, February 19, (Washington's birthday), to Monday, February 26, in the municipal building, 20025 Mack avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

Seniors' Project Ready to Start

 For Mrs. Aley and Mrs. Heavner, who, at the site, have worked long hours to tap and meet the needs of seniors, such a program is a hope come true.

"We would like to see the chore service grow to the extent that anyone coming out of surgery, (for example), would be able to have their shopping service done for them," said Mrs. Heavner.

While future growth and progress remain in their minds, SOC officials also realize they "have to get on the board." With the $49,982, mostly in Community Development Block Grant special needs funds, they are looking forward to doing just that.

For 1978-79, the allocations of the five communities which will benefit from the program is as follows: The Woods, $6,675 in special needs monies, plus an additional $8,325 in block grant funds, for a total of $15,000; Harper Woods, $11,917; The City, $9,471; The Farms, $8,326; and The Shores, $5,068.

At this point, The Park isn't a direct participant, although SOC officials suggest seniors needing aid should call City Manager John Crawford.

As planned, The Woods, based on the council's action last November, will act as the managing municipality and work with SOC, which will act as a sub-contractor, to make certain that program monies will be properly disbursed in the municipalities.

Plans Underway
 Current plans call for the citizens needing minor home repair work to call the SOC number, (for this week only, the nutrition site number, 886-4532), so an application can be filled out and ultimately signed by the resident. A tentative charge of $4 will ensue for the call and labor, while any materials will be additional.

At this stage, SOC officials plan to utilize retirees, professional people, young people, perhaps some father and son teams, church groups, Girl and Boy Scout troops and civic organizations to do the labor. Some will be paid, some will not, (in fact, some don't even want to be paid). However, further preparation is transpiring on these "logistical" questions.

Carrying much of the responsibility for this program are Mrs. Aley and Mrs. Heavner, who are sharing a full-time position, with each working around 20 hours per week. Their combined pay is placed at around $15,000, and they will be working under the guidance of the board of directors.

While eyeing final adjustments to get the 1978-79 program started, SOC officials for the past few weeks have striven to contact local communities to provide monies for the 1979-80 program.

"This is difficult to do because SOC hasn't received a single dollar to spend, (as yet), to demonstrate its competence. It's a barrel we are over," said Mr. Francis.

In this respect, The Woods has already approved $10,000 of its block grant funds for 1979-80 to be allocated to SOC, while The Farms as part of its planned program, (encompassing $99,000 in monies), also has agreed to continue its support of SOC.

Eye Referral Service
 Nonetheless, despite being temporarily "over a barrel," SOC officials have no doubt over the necessity of the total program and that it, in fact, will be a success, while welcoming the ensuing challenge.

(For the future, an estimated figure of $90,000 for the six communities is being considered on an annual basis toward doing an "excellent job," noted Mr. Francis.)

Making an effort to reach the citizens, to identify a human service program local officials would like to see in effect in their communities remains a prominent objective of the organization, he said. In relation to this, SOC officials hope to ultimately develop a full-fledged information and referral program for local seniors.

Mr. Francis takes great pains to point out the use of block grant funds for "brick and mortar" projects, while emphasizing the need to focus such monies on human services.

Hoping that all the communities will consider this point, Mr. Francis said he's looking ahead to a total community goal of recognizing the needs of seniors and systematically planning to meet those needs.

Support Needed
 At the same time, SOC officials are viewing other objectives such as having a visiting nurses program and having each city, (except Harper Woods, which already has such a program), explore the Dial-a-Ride concept toward linking seniors in the six communities.

Besides Mrs. Aley and Mrs. Heavner, who resigned their seats on SOC's board as a condition of employment, others who are playing important roles in the program, besides Mr. Francis, include Arthur H. Jamesen, first vice-president; Louise Te-Walt, second vice-president; Howard Hush, former executive director of Wayne County Family Services; third vice-president; Joann Ryan, recording secretary; Adele Ryder, corresponding secretary; and Robert B. Kinhead, treasurer.

On importance, when you get down to basics, it will be up to the entire community to make this program a viable and productive one.

 have an opportunity to take some official action on this matter.

He then moved, and his colleagues unanimously agreed, that The Shores should be sent a bill for its share of the crossing guard cost for fiscal year 1978-79, with the document being presented for the council's consideration at its rescheduled meeting on Monday, February 26.

For fiscal year 1978-79, the estimated total cost would be about $22,000. At this point, officials are in the process of figuring what The Shores' share would be, based upon a percentage of Village young people who utilize crossings in which The Woods provides crossing guards.

Discusses Request
 Indicating Shores officials have only been approached unofficially on this matter, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen told the council that Shores residents going to Ferry, Mason, Monteith, Barnes, Parcels and Our

Youth Bureau Has Drug Info

Free drug abuse information is available to the community at the Youth Service Division's, (YSD), office located in Woods public safety department headquarters, 20025 Mack avenue.

The YSD has a stock of pamphlets for young people, school personnel, representatives of clubs and other organizations and interested citizens.

Pamphlets cover such areas as amphetamines, barbiturates, cocaine, delirants, hallucinogens, heroin, opiates and marijuana.

Besides the pamphlets, the division has other drug abuse information on a limited basis.

If any group is interested in having a YSD officer speak on the subject of drug abuse, the division may be contacted at 886-2908 during normal business hours.

TROFI ATTENDS
 University Liggett School English teacher Vincent Trofi recently attended the meeting of the Modern Language Ass'n. in New York City. Among the presentations in which he participated was a special preview of films of five Shakespearean plays to be presented on American television in the coming months.

Lady Star of the Sea receive crossing guard supervision, while Farms residents going to Barnes also benefit.

Councilman John Sabol said if The Shores' proposed share was negligible, it might not be worthwhile to potentially jeopardize any relationship The Woods has with the Village. But, in citing the principle of the matter, Mr. Pinkos felt a contribution to The Woods for the benefit of Shores youngsters should transpire.

In commenting upon the Woods Council's action, Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis, somewhat surprised, said, "It's very interesting. We, (the Village), pay a good share of the bill for the Youth Service Division, (of which The Woods is managing municipality), and get little out of it. I think it's interesting."

On the subject of additional hours, Director Dankel said at a recent meeting with the parents and staff of Mason and Parcels Schools, a request was made to expand the hours at Mack and Vernier to include the time that Parcels students are crossing in the area.

Saying there are two guards which work at that location, he stated each would have to work one additional half hour in the morning and afternoon, (although a citizen indicated around 15 minutes in each instance might be sufficient).

The guards currently receive $4.40 per hour, with the request implying an additional expenditure of $8.80 per day, (based upon the 30-minute time frame), the director said.

Thoughts Expressed
 According to his calculations, for about 100 days of school remaining, the cost would be $880, while for a full school year, it would be around $1,584. He then asked if the council could approve the additional expenditure?

Officials discussed the request with several thoughts being expressed including the expense may not be warranted, the current difficulty in finding additional guards, the need for a specific recommendation from public safety and the attempt to seek Federal Aid Safety funding for proposed improvements at the intersection, (and if the grant is approved, would additional guard hours be necessary?).

Councilman E. D. Grady wanted the request studied further by Director Dankel, with an ensuing recommendation on the proper implementation of what should be done in relation to both elementary and middle school students. His motion to this effect was unanimously approved.

Mr. Grady also wanted to see if there might be any other alternatives on this subject, rather than expending any additional monies.

Wine Lines
by John Lundberg

You don't need to make elaborate preparations for a wine tasting party. One glass per person is enough. You need pitchers of fresh water for rinsing glasses and dry crackers or bread for clearing palates between wines. One bottle of wine usually contains 24 ounces, and for a good tasting of 8 wines or so, plan on a half bottle per guest. One good idea is to taste different brands of the same type, for example, different Beaujolais. Try comparing French wines with their American counterparts. Or just try the wines you've been curious about for a long time. Any way you do it, a wine tasting makes a good party.

When you're in the mood for trying different beverages, it's time to come to PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit, where our friendly and knowledgeable staff always stands ready to assist you in the selection of a tantalizing beverage for a special occasion or for just an evening's pleasure. Students in the fourth grade at Saint Paul's School try to figure out which of two nine-month-old Siberian Tiger cubs they've got: Romulus or Remus? The pair were in town to help promote the Chrysler Marine exhibit at the Cobo Hall boat show last week. Life span of the Siberian, an endangered species, and the largest tiger in the world, is 12 to 15 years in the wild and 25 to 30 years in captivity. They can grow to be 600 pounds. Chrysler helps to pick up the costs for breeding the species, of which only about 50 breeding females remain. Romulus and Remus will be donated to a zoo when they attain age in about three years.

Re-evaluations Tabled in GPW

A review and re-evaluation of administrative officers in The Woods, tabled in December to the Monday, February 5, meeting, has been tabled once again.

Councilman E. D. Grady, a member of a council sub-committee with John Sabol and Robert E. Novitke, said the trio was scheduled to meet prior to February 5 and then report its findings to the entire council for its consideration.

However, Mr. Grady indicated further preparatory work remains to be done and moved that the entire matter be tabled to the first meeting next month, scheduled for Monday, March 5.

Administrative officers under consideration include the city administrator-clerk, city comptroller-assessor, city attorney, city engineer and city physician, with such areas as salaries and performance being viewed.

In December, the council expressed some concern over whether such a meeting would have to be open to the public.

Under the "Open Meetings Law," the session couldn't be closed in relation to questions of salaries and evaluations. However, the solons were told a sub-committee of the council could conduct the review but it couldn't be a quorum because the meeting would then have to be open to the public.

Nothing's wrong in charging it up to experience if you can cash in on the lesson learned.

GP Symphony Presents Third Concert Feb. 18

The third concert of the Grosse Pointe Symphony's Silver Anniversary season will be played on Sunday, February 18, in the Parcels School auditorium, 20600 Mack avenue, at 3:30 p.m. under the direction of Felix Resnick.

The featured artist will be pianist Fedora Horowitz, who will perform, for her first appearance with the local symphony, Beethoven's Concerto No. 3 in C minor for Piano and Orchestra.

Another spotlighted performer will be South High School senior David DeFauw, xylophone, in "Fantasy on Japanese Woodprints" by Hovhannes, an American composer born in Massachusetts, who developed a special interest in Asiatic and Middle Eastern music.

A five-year student of the xylophone, David is one of two 1978 winners of the Thomas Nester Scholarship, given annually to honor the founder of the Grosse Pointe Symphony.

In addition to his xylophone studies, David is involved musically at South with the school orchestra, the wind ensemble, the jazz band, and has also been a percussionist with the Michigan Youth Orchestra.

The Thomas Nester Scholarship provides recipients cash awards for study, the invaluable experience of playing for a full season with Grosse Pointe's 25-year-old community symphony, plus the opportunity to make a featured appearance during a concert.

One of five brothers, David aspires to a professional career in music and will continue his musical studies at university next year.

Miss Horowitz comes to The Pointe with an interesting international background of study and performance.

Born in Roumania, she made her debut at the age of 12 with the Roumanian Broadcasting Orchestra. Following graduation from the State Conservatory of Bucharest, she emigrated to Israel.

POP Eyes Programs

Instead Mrs. Keating and Park resident Daniel Schaithberger discussed their concerns about the program at the Pierce meeting, which was attended by about 160 people.

Mr. Schaithberger's discussion of the legal aspects of the CDBG program was based on a report prepared a few years ago for the City of Warren by its attorney W. Thomas Marrocco Jr. Mr. Schaithberger concluded that continuing the CDBG program, which The Park and City have been involved in for four years, may erode local control of zoning and other housing practices. But the Pierce School meeting also was marked by loud, vicious verbal attacks on members of the Park Council who were present. That trend continued at The Park's Monday, February 12, council meeting, during which POP introduced itself and a long list of questions to city officials.

The council plans to respond to POP's queries — which ranged from details of the housing rehabilitation program to the council's opinion of sections of federal law — at its next meeting, Monday, February 26.

Though POP has spoken out only on the issue of the CDBG program thus far, the group's suggested by-laws seem to imply it may have far broader political ambitions.

Membership is open to all Park residents, property owners, merchants and licensed professional practitioners whose businesses are located in The Park.

But membership is limited by the following lengthy clause: "Any member may join and participate in any other organization in Grosse Pointe Park... provided that other organization does not have goals and purposes in conflict with this organization... endorse non-partisan candidates for public office in Grosse Pointe Park other than those endorsed by this organization or take a position on a non-partisan political issue in Grosse Pointe Park different than the position of this organization..."

The clause continues, "All members of this organization shall support the candidates endorsed and positions on public issues determined by the general membership of this organization. Support for rival candidates or a contrary position on a public issue by any member may be cause for expulsion."

Another section under "membership" notes that the POP "executive committee may from time to time identify and designate other organizations in Grosse Pointe Park or elsewhere which in the judgment of two-thirds majority of the executive committee has goals and purpose in conflict with the goals and purpose of this organization and notify all members of this organization of the designation."

There seems to be some disagreement among POP executive committee members about the by-laws. Although one member said they had been formally adopted, Mr. Brunke said the group is still "tinkering" with the document.

Other members of the executive committee are William S. Faber Jr., vice-chairman, Susanne T. Kraus, secretary, and Diane Sturtevant, Albert Jacoby, Mathew Connor, Anthony Spada and Vincent Murray.

Mr. Brunke said the group's petition drive, now in its third week, has been very successful, although he did not have total figures available.

The petition states the undersigned request The Park cease its efforts to obtain "federal block grant funds, other federal funds or any federal-related state and county funds, for use in any manner for residential and/or private property in the City of Grosse Pointe Park, and that any monies already received from the above sources for such purposes be returned."

Liggett Plans An Open House

The early and lower schools, (pre-kindergarten to grade five), at University Liggett School will host an Open House on Sunday, February 25, from 2 to 4 p.m. For more information, call Toby David at 886-4220.

Repaving

Councilmen also found out, via a letter from Thomas P. O'Rourke, managing director of the commission, that the cost of repaving the entire county-owned portion of the road located in The Farms has never been estimated. However, "a very preliminary current estimate would be $465,000," said Mr. O'Rourke.

For the entire stretch of Lakeshore between Warner and the north city limits, then, The Farms would be asked to pay $38,750, with the Federal Highway Administration picking up the lion's share of the tab, $348,750, and the balance by the road commission, $77,500.

Prior to 1975, the road commission did not ask for any local funds to pave roads termed county thoroughfares. However, since then, it has asked the communities to share one-third of the projects' costs, raising its expenses have risen much faster than its income.

Since the policy was instituted, all Wayne County communities except The Farms, The Shores and Romulus have agreed to participate, road commission figures show.

Several months ago, however, the two Pointes were notified that federal funds were being obtained to cover 70 percent of their requested one-third share. The funds come from a program known as Federal Aid Urban System.

The Farms, however, continues to hold that maintaining the road is the sole responsibility of the county. Several members of the council have said the principle of the matter should be adhered to toward avoiding setting a precedent.

"If we cave in to the tune of almost $40,000, the next move will be Mack, then Moross, then where are we going to be?" asked Mayor James Dingeman. "If we have to include $40,000 to $50,000 a year to maintain county roads, it's going to put us in a bad position at budget time."

"The road commission has stepped beyond their prerogative," agreed Councilman Jack Cudlip.

Police Chief Robert Ferber suggested that Rep. William R. Bryant be asked to seek an opinion from the state attorney general as to the legality of the commission seeking local aid.

Meanwhile, the county's offer still stands for the section of Lakeshore between Moross and Provincial: pay us $12,500 and we'll pave it for you this year.

Cinema League Views Scotland

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "Bonnie Scotland," a color slide program by the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Kettlewell, when it meets in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road, February 19, at 8 p.m.

The Kettlewells traveled by automobile to photograph the mountainous, rolling hills and quaint villages of this charming country.

There are fascinating views of Edinburgh, the administrative and cultural capital of Scotland, with its lovely landscaped gardens and historic castle.

Highlights of the ancient city of Glasgow also is included in the presentation.

The public is invited to attend this showing without charge. A special hour for Cinema League members and their invited guests follows the program.

Air Worry over Projects

(Continued from Page 1) We're concerned about changing the aesthetic value of Hawthorne road," said Mr. Lovelace, while citing the loss of some trees via the proposed work as an example.

He wanted to know what the residents could do to keep their thoroughfare at its current dimensions of about 20' 6" without jeopardizing any resurfacing or repaving, or the flow of any state or federal monies into the community.

Questions also were asked on the reasons for the replacement and lowering of sewers in Hawthorne from Marter to the east city limits, (first planned for 1979-80 but now delayed to 1980-81 because of changing priorities), and for the replacement and expansion of the street from Marter to the east city limits, (originally eyed for 1980-81 but delayed until 1981-82).

Mr. Petersen, in citing the bad flooding which occurred in the summer of 1976, felt Hawthorne was one thoroughfare which received a good share of the aggravation, (although some citizens disagreed).

"This is why the council and my office prepared a proposed 10-year capital improvement program to remedy areas with flooded basements and with shallow city sewers," he said.

On the condition of the street, Mr. Petersen stated it was in a bad way, while stressing it needs a new base and will thus have to be completely replaced. We have to comply with existing state engineering statutes for parking on one side and need a 25-foot width for such parking," he said.

City Attorney George Catlin, in further clarifying the situation said if the street was only resurfaced, it could remain at its present width. However, if it's entirely replaced, it has to be widened and the city must comply or get the state to change its requirement.

In reply to a question on what would happen if the city contemplated replacing the street and keeping it at its same width, Mr. Catlin indicated he would research the matter.

During the discussion, a citizen asked if Hawthorne was expanded to a 25-foot width in The Woods, what would happen to the street at The Shores' boundary?

That's a good point, said Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos in response.

The questions asked in the letter, which officials attempted to answer, included the following: * If we formally request that the street be widened and such petition is granted, can you and will you prohibit street parking, or make the street one way in either direction?

This would be the council's prerogative. For himself, Mr. Pinkos said, generally speaking, there would be no prohibition of on-street parking unless residents requested this by petition or unless the Public Safety Department felt there was a hazard. On the one-way question, a public hearing would have to be held.

* Is the proposed work on our street and other streets in The Woods being done to comply with state or federal acts which affect the amount of money given to the city from gasoline taxes or any transportation taxes?

Mr. Petersen said Public Act 51 of the State of Michigan sets standards for the width of local streets. He stated planned work will not affect the amount of money the city receives via gas taxes.

* Will sidewalks be moved back? (No, said Mr. Petersen.) Will water lines? (No.) Fire hydrants? (Very few.) Will street lights be moved back? (About half.)

What about driveway approaches and whose responsibility will it be to repair any damage done? "In all probability, all new driveway approaches will be constructed. Any damages, repair or replacement costs will be borne by the city," said Mr. Petersen.

* Will the city, in a few years, make it mandatory that residents lower the sewer line from the street connection into their homes? The city will connect all existing house sewers to the new city sewer at the municipality's expense, said Mr. Petersen. However, he noted the city will not lower a citizen's house sewer out to the city main. This would be up to the resident but it's not mandatory that this transpires.

Aware of the interest and the number of questions which remain, Mr. Pinkos felt it was necessary to schedule a separate meeting, with the city engineer's office represented, to alleviate citizen concerns.

At the same time, he made it clear the council would do nothing about these proposed projects until it has all the necessary information it requires.

In a final note, the proposed 10-year capital improvement program is considered by the solons at budget time and it's possible, during any given fiscal year, an additional tax levy will not be approved or that certain planned projects may be adjusted or even cancelled.

Christian Athletes

The FCA puts out its own monthly publication, "The Christian Athlete," filled with advice on problems peculiar to athletes and coaches. It also contains some interesting profiles.

"The FCA is mainly concerned with the high school players and coaches," he said, while noting there also is pro involvement. Fifteen of the Dallas Cowboys organization alone are members, and their coach, Tom Landry, is the FCA's national chairman of the board of directors.

"In our society where there's so much adulation for the athlete, the athlete has some unusual pressures. Christ can give you some perspective," Mr. Ritter explained.

Coaches also have conferences. Mr. Ritter last year attended one himself in Estes Park, Colo.

This is a special year for the FCA: it's been 25 years since an Oklahoma coach, (Don McClanahan), developed the idea behind the group, and Dodger owner Branch Rickey and several Pittsburgh businessmen agreed to underwrite the costs of the group for a year.

Mr. Ritter hopes to get someone instrumental in the founding of the fellowship to speak at a 25th anniversary banquet set for May here in Michigan.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

With the property values in Detroit rebounding to unbelievable heights it's time to re-evaluate where our future "potential homes" might be. There are still houses in the Pointes that are selling in the thirties. These houses, we feel, will be appreciated to the sixties within the next three years.

Help from HW Sought by GPW

Proposed additional signing within Harper Woods is currently being considered by police officials of that community in an effort to alleviate heavy vehicular traffic on residential streets in the northwest area of Grosse Pointe Woods and the northeast area of Harper Woods.

Through the efforts of Brys drive citizen representative Bruce E. VanFarowe, Woods Public Safety Director John Dankel and Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook, the proposal is under study by Harper Woods officials.

Mr. VanFarowe in a letter to Harper Woods City Manager Ronald Boltman sought that city's assistance in solving the traffic flow problems that affect Brys, Roslyn, Hampton and Ridgemoor.

In fact, some Harper Woods citizens living in Roslyn road signed a statement indicating they would have no objection to signs being erected on their street to divert traffic from the northwest limits of Grosse Pointe Woods, i.e., Roslyn.

Director Dankel, meanwhile, has been in touch with Harper Woods police officials on the proposal as has Officer Crook, who met on Wednesday, January 31, that community's traffic safety officer.

Since that meeting, Officer Crook has directed a letter exploring the additional signing, which he said would include "no left turn" signs being placed on southbound Canton onto Roslyn, Hampton and Ridgemoor, and a "no right turn" sign from East Eight Mile road onto Roslyn.

Saying Grosse Pointe Woods would be responsible for installing and maintaining the signs, Officer Crook noted Harper Woods has to make the decision on the plan, which would be for a trial basis.

"The idea is to have motorists use the main arteries such as Vernier, Mack and Harper avenue and stay off the residential streets," he stressed.

Communications on this plan were considered by the Grosse Pointe Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 5, with the solons referring them to the Committee of the Who's for further study.

New Program Set for Seniors

A humanities program for senior citizens, co-sponsored by Grosse Pointe Public Library and The Pointe's Library and The Pointe's Nutrition Site for Seniors, housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, will begin Tuesday, February 20, and continue for seven weeks at the church from 12:45 to 1:45 p.m.

Helen Leonard, coordinator of the library's outreach program, will be the discussion leader. She will utilize reading selections, films and tapes in exploring the theme, "The Family in Literature and History."

Enrollment for the program, which is free, is limited to 20 seniors. All materials will be provided. Those who are interested should call the nutrition site at 886-4532 or Mrs. Leonard at 343-2093.

Feiffer's 'Knock Knock' Presented by GP Theater

In an effort to make more seats available to the public, the Grosse Pointe Theater, (GPT), has added four additional performances to its current production of Jules Feiffer's "Knock Knock."

After opening night on Wednesday, February 14, the show will continue its run Thursday, February 15, through Sunday, February 18, plus Wednesday, February 21, through Saturday, February 24.

All performances begin at 8:30 with the exception of Sunday's curtain at 7:30 p.m. Good seats are available for all nights by calling 881-4004.

Mr. Feiffer is a man with an original sense of humor, and he is in fine form in "Knock Knock." Although the play only has four characters, there is a lot of knocking at the door, and you can never be sure who is going to enter. In the most important case, it is no less than Joan of Arc in full armor.

It seems she had originally been Cinderella, but had changed her identity when her prospective bridegroom objected that her feet were too big. But she has an important message to deliver.

She wants to persuade two old men that the sky is disappearing and they should leave their cabin in the woods and accompany her to Heaven. The old men have been living in the cabin for years and had never once left it.

Cohn and Abe, as their names are, think of themselves as friends but they have got on each other's nerves and are constantly quarreling. One is a skeptic who is satisfied with what he knows, while the other wants to gather more knowledge.

But Joan-Cinderella is easily satisfied to remain in the old house and be their servant. Although it more or less makes a few philosophical points and its two central male characters are Jewish, GPT members would hesitate to call "Knock Knock" philosophical or a Jewish comedy or farce, since it is basically merely a very funny play that doesn't bother essentially with either philosophy or race.

The role of Cohn is played by John Diebel of Belanger road, who has 15 years of experience with GPT. Over the years he has performed in and has directed many of the shows produced by the group. In his spare time he composes music and has written several plays.

Bill McCarthy plays the role of the other half of this nutty combination. He was recently seen in "Hello Dolly" as the naive Barnaby Tucker, he also was seen as Martini in "One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest."

The role of Joan of Arc is played by Suzy Stebbins of McMillan road. She is completing her first year with GPT and has become one of the mainstays of the group.

Lois Bendler of St. Clair Shores plays the multifaceted Helen Wiseman. This is a drastic change of pace as she most recently played the beautiful Anna in GPT's production of "The King and I."

The voices heard throughout the play are done by Mary Anne Gustafson of Detroit and George Valenta of Hall place.

The man who made all this comedy happen is Dennis Wickline of Detroit, who directed "How The Other Half Loves." The endless hours that he and his wife, Olivia, (stage manager), have put in is reflected in the production.

Dick Vreeland of Audubon road is the producer. He has produced and has been stage manager and technical director for other GPT productions.

Boat Well Fees Hiked by Farms

Farms boat owners who dock at the Pier Park will be hit with an approximate 30 percent increase in the price of their well rentals this year.

At its Monday, February 5, meeting, the Farms Council unanimously approved the recommendation of City Manager Andrew Bremer for the increases, which range from $10 for a Sunfish rack, (from $20 to $30), to $80 for a 31'x15' well in the new harbor, ($250 to $330).

In a memo to the council, Mr. Bremer said the increases "reflect the thinking of the council, as I perceived it during the budget discussions of 1978."

"The proposed increases reflect the ever-increasing costs of labor, goods and services being experienced by the City of Grosse Pointe Farms."

While voting for the increase, Councilwoman Nancy Waugaman expressed regret that the Farms Boat Club wasn't consulted in the matter.

Mr. Bremer said the move was designed to "recover a portion of our costs." One such cost was $40,000 to $50,000 spent last year maintaining the old harbor.

The increase will be the third price hike in seven years for Farms' boaters. The City also raised its well rental fees for this year.

Bryant Picked by Governor

Gov. William G. Milliken recently announced he has designated five emergency interim successors, including Pointe Rep. William Bryant Jr. as required by a 1969 law designed to guarantee continuity of state government in the event of war or civil disorder. The law requires that the governor designate the successors in order of succession if the governor, lieutenant governor, the elected secretary of state, the elected attorney general, the president pro tempore of the senate and speaker of the house are not able or are unavailable to exercise the powers and duties of their offices.

The five men named by the governor in order of their succession include the following:

Sen. Robert Vander Laan, minority leader, Grand Rapids; Sen. John S. Mowat Jr., caucus chairman, Adrian; Rep. Bryant, minority leader; Rep. Donald Van Singel, caucus chairman, Grant; and State Treasurer Loren C. Monroe, Detroit.

Jaycees Plan DSA Banquet

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees are in search of nominees for their 1978 Distinguished Service Award, (DSA). The award will be presented on Wednesday, March 7, at the Ninth Annual DSA Banquet to be held at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, 555 Cook road.

Wallace Helin, past president of the Jaycees and general chairman of this year's event, said nominations are welcome from anyone in the community with the criteria that the nominee be a male, age 18 to 36, who either lives or works in the Pointes.

Mr. Helin stated that noteworthy contributions to one's profession, civic and/or religious organizations are factors in the selection of the winner.

The winner will be decided upon on Wednesday, February 28, by a Senior Selection Committee consisting of Edmund T. Ahee, of Ahee Jewelry Co., Clarence Wascher, general store manager, Jacobson's, Carl A. Schoessel, assistant to the superintendent for community services for the Grosse Pointe Public School System, and last year's Distinguished Service Award recipient, John E. Chouinard, current president of the Jaycees, and Mr. Helin.

Mr. Helin said that anyone wishing to nominate an individual can call him at 921-0888 for the necessary nomination form and a detailed explanation of the rules governing the nominations.

He stated that all nominations must be submitted prior to the judging, and that the public is welcome to attend the banquet.

Good News on Scores

(Continued from Page 1) the state," Mr. McCaig explained in an interview before the Board presentation. "The scores do warrant the conclusion that the achievement of Grosse Pointe students is extremely high and that Grosse Pointe is among the quality districts in terms of achievement in basic skills."

Fraction Above
 Grosse Pointe's average, or composite, score for all four categories — fourth grade math, fourth grade English, seventh grade math and seventh grade English — was 87.3 percent mastery, just a fraction above the school district next on the scale, which had an 87 percent composite score. The average state composite score was about 84 percent.

Pointe students showed slight improvement over last year in two of the four categories: grade four math, up to 94.4 percent mastery from 94, and grade seven math, up to 81.5 percent mastery from 76.6.

Mr. McCaig attributed the gains in mathematics to three programs in the schools, including an elementary math study and adoption of new texts last year, increased instruction in the metric system of measurement and a program to emphasize teaching of life skills in math in the fifth and sixth grade classrooms.

Scores declined slightly compared to last year in two areas. Grade four reading went from 88 to 85 percent mastery and grade seven reading from 88.4 to 88.2 percent mastery.

Average scores for each of the 10 elementary schools in The Pointe show general conformity in most skill areas.

To Eye Weakness
 Grade four math, for instance, ranged, on a building to building basis, from a top score of 98.2 percent at Kerby Elementary School to a low of 88.3 percent at another elementary school. In grade four reading, the range was slightly larger, from 94.7 percent mastery, again at Kerby, to a low of 76.3 percent.

At the seventh grade level, the range appears even greater. In math, scores from the "feeder" schools ranged from a high of 90.7 at Barnes Elementary, down to a low of 68.2 percent. In English, the percent of mastery ranged from 97.7 percent at two schools, Barnes and Monteith, to a low, again, of 68.2 percent.

While Mr. McCaig warned that comparing scores from individual buildings is risky because of the small samples, (about 60 students per school), he said the administration will look closely at the test results to find areas of weakness that may be improved by better teaching methods.

Center Drive

Fries, and the Art Building was constructed with funds left by the late Robert H. Tannahill, plus monies raised by the Grosse Pointe Artists Ass'n and monies of other major donors.

Giving to the Center is a sound community investment to keep this living War Memorial going and to perpetuate the kind of life for which Pointers fought and died, and whom the Memorial honors on its bronze plaques, officials note.

The Center serves 250,000 users annually. It has active programs for youth, families and senior citizens, plus a wide educational program with classes in the arts, language, music, skills and crafts and physical fitness.

Education at the Center begins with nursery school and extends through courses for college credit. Theatrical productions, films and travelogues, lectures and exhibits are scheduled throughout the year. Meetings and activities of hundreds of community groups are housed and provided with food accommodations.

Meanwhile, free hospital equipment is loaned to those in need as is blood, while Center groups work to transcribe for the blind, make needed supplies for Children's Hospital and assist cancer patients.

The Center has served the Pointes 30 years and the love affair between Grosse Pointes and the Memorial has continuously grown, officials add.

GPW Reports Slight Hike in Accidents Last Year

By Roger A. Waha

The traffic safety picture in The Woods last year was dimmed by two fatal accidents and a slight increase in reported mishaps, from 294 in 1977 to 310 in 1978, a 5.44 percent increase.

At the same time, reported pedestrian injuries increased from three to five last year. However, according to the department, for the 21st straight year, no pedestrian fatalities occurred.

The two fatal accidents last year, as against none in 1977, occurred in May when a 13-year-old Harper Woods boy was killed when his bike made contact with a city garbage truck at the Mack avenue-Vernier road intersection, and in July when a 71-year-old Detroit man died seven hours after being involved in an automobile accident at Marter and Roslyn roads.

Non-fatal mishaps increased from 72 to 75 last year, while property damage accidents rose from 222 to 233. Meanwhile, persons injured in such incidents dropped from 106 to 92 in 1978.

The majority of reported accidents occurred on Mack, south of Vernier road, mainly because of the longer stretch of highway, with 114 mishaps occurring in 1978 as against 85 two years ago.

In other statistics, bicycle-motor vehicle accidents dropped by one last year, going from 11 to 10.

Expressing some concern over the rise in reported accidents, Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook, in an attempt to assist citizens, cited several contributing factors in relation to causes.

The most prominent was motorists failing to yield the right-of-way, with 100 of 310 mishaps occurring because of this fact. Noting that many of the accidents happen along Mack avenue, he said a major problem in this respect is disobeying stop signs, plus improper starts from a parked position.

Following too closely, resulting in 48 mishaps, was the second largest factor. "We're back to Mack again. Due to the volume of traffic, a great deal of rear-end collisions occur," said Officer Crook, who noted, "The majority of accidents aren't angle accidents because of the traffic lights."

Driver inattention resulted in 28 mishaps, while speeding too fast for conditions caused 21.

Awareness of these problems is important, the officer indicated, while noting motorists should be more attentive behind the wheel and, hopefully, reported accidents will then decrease.

"The drivers must take on the responsibility for reducing accidents," he emphasized.

For those male motorists who consistently claim that "women drivers" are an aggravation on the road, Officer Crook said of the 533 citizens responsible for driving cars which were involved in accidents, 294 were males and 239 were females, (the sex of three are unreported).

The bulk of these mishaps had drivers between the ages of 20 and 54 behind the wheel, while 18-year-old drivers were involved in 29 accidents and those 75 and over were involved in 24.

"People must look into their own driving habits," he stressed, while indicating that young people coming out of driver education programs in the schools have solid knowledge on how to drive, with parental concern and assistance an important contributing factor.

This year, the officer said all the troops will be informed of the hike in reported accidents and contributing circumstances, with an effort being made in the issuance of violations, (which dropped from 5,928 in 1977 to 2,923 last year).

As for the youngsters, he stated intensive work will continue in the schools in emphasizing bicycle, pedestrian and fire safety.

In the area of pedestrian accidents, the five persons who were injured were either teenagers or adults, with the youngest 15 years of age. He said most mishaps resulted because the pedestrian was at fault, and no one of elementary school age was in-involved while citing the department's program in the schools.

"The parents are concerned about their children," he stated, "and I feel education is a contributing factor at the elementary school age."

The Woods earned its Fifth Grand Award from the Automobile Club of Michigan last year for its pedestrian safety record in 1977, (no pedestrian traffic death in 20 years). This award is the highest honor in the AAA Pedestrian Safety Program.

For 1978, the city also has a good chance to earn another honor as no pedestrian traffic death occurred.

On this point, several citizens in Harper Woods questioned the city's pedestrian safety record in relation to the death of the 13-year-old boy last May.

One resident, Dale Glenn, a friend of the deceased boy's family, recently contacted the NEWS and questioned the classification of the accident by the department, i.e., a pedalcycle mishap as against a pedestrian accident.

Based upon the department's investigation of the incident, including statements from witnesses, officials said the boy was on the bicycle when the accident occurred.

This information was submitted to the Auto Club and officials said it would be up to the AAA if it agrees with the department's classification of the accident based upon the reports.

Academy Sets An Open House

The Grosse Pointe Academy's board of trustees, Headmaster John Poplawski, faculty, students and parents will combine forces to host the school's annual Open House on Sunday, February 25, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Families interested in learning more about the Academy, 171 Lakeshore road, will visit classrooms in session, tour facilities and enjoy the historic 22-acre campus overlooking Lake Saint Clair.

The Academy is an independent, co-educational school which respects and honors the culture and beliefs of all religious persuasions.

The Academy's Montessori Early School accepts children two and a half to five years of age. A Montessori education works with the child's deep love and need for purposeful work. Early school students engage in exercises that expose them to French, math, science and social studies which form the foundation for their future academic life.

The Academy offers a complete elementary educational facility including an extensive library, science and language laboratories, gymnasium and outdoor athletic fields and tennis courts.

A low student-teacher ratio, team teaching, emphasis on the basic learning skills and the development of self-esteem and a positive attitude toward learning are features of an Academy education, officials say.

Refreshments will be served at the open house.

Crime Is Topic For Park West

Coonce, Commander Alfred Bensmiller of Detroit's Fifth Precinct, and Sister Helen Edward, president of the Jefferson-Alter-Kercheval Block Club, which has been actively involved in a "Neighborhood Watch" crime prevention program.

Marjorie Young of Beaconsfield avenue will lead the meeting as chairman of the Park West safety committee. Written material and a supply of "shriek alarms" will be available.

Park West's steering committee also will meet today, February 15, at 8 p.m. in the basement of First Christian Reformed Church to plan future meetings.

Series Offers French Music

The Musica Series of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will present William De Turk in an organ recital, featuring French music of the 19th and 20th centuries, on Sunday, February 18, at 7:30 p.m.

The program will include music for solo organ and music for organ, brass and percussion. The instrumental ensemble will be conducted by Russell Reed, director of instrumental music at South High School.

Mr. De Turk is the director of music at Memorial Church. He received the Master of Music degree in organ performance from the University of Michigan and has performed in the United States and Europe.

The first half of the program will consist of two works for solo organ, "Chorale No. 2 in B Minor" by Cesar Franck and "Variations on A Noel" by Marcel Dupre. This will be followed by a lecture-demonstration of the organ.

The organ console will be in the middle of the Chancel so that the audience will be able to see the performer, and also so that the performer can demonstrate and explain parts of the instrument to the audience.

During the intermission an opportunity will be provided to see the organ console and pipe chamber at close range. The Allan Sheldon Memorial Organ was built in 1959 by the M.P. Moller Co. It consists of four manuals controlling 67 ranks of pipes, with a total of 3,888 pipes.

The program will be music for organ, brass and percussion, "Grand Chorus Dialogue" by Eugene Gigout, "Lord, Save Thy People" by Charles Marie Widor and "Poeme Heroique" by Marcel Dupre.

Instrumentalists from the Poinites will be Carolyn Curtis and Andrew Sloss, (trumpet), Stephanie Beck, (French horn), John Miller, Edward Vermet and Walter Van Tiem, (trombone), Christopher Powell, (tuba), and David DeFauw, (percussion).

Renovation Set For GPW Truck

The Woods' 1956 American LaFrance fire engine, which was recently struck by a car, will soon be renovated at the council at its regular meeting Monday, February 5, unanimously accepted the bid of the Youngs Equipment Co., Inc., of Southfield in the amount of $11,623.

As part of the work, the color of the vehicle will go from red to lime yellow to match the color of the department's new Seagraves pumper which should be delivered this summer. The work should be completed within four to six weeks.

Original plans called for major repairs to the American LaFrance engine after the delivery of the new Seagraves truck. However, due to the accident, which resulted in sizeable damage to the vehicle, including the complete destruction of all compartments on its left side, it was decided to immediately seek estimates on a complete renovation.

The vehicle was taken to Youngs, the Seagraves dealers from which the department ordered its new truck, for a mechanical evaluation, with the vehicle receiving a plus report, and for estimates for body renovation, said Public Safety Director John Dankel.

With the truck reported to be in mechanically sound condition, and with the work already being paid for via vehicle maintenance funds, bids were sought for restoration work. Besides Youngs, only one other bid was received, from Fire Trucks, Inc., in the amount of $12,942.

The bids provided for a complete reconditioning of the body, including work on the damaged and rusted out compartments.

"Our goal in renovating this truck will be to provide a second or reserve engine for our city that is in good condition and fit for daily use if needed," said Director Dankel.

"We feel that by providing this renovation work at this time we can extend the life of this truck some eight to 10 years."

The director also offered a reminder — that the entire cost of the project will not be borne by the city. "Because extensive damage was done to the truck in the accident, the insurance company will pay a portion of the $11,623," he said, with this figure being placed at between $1,500 to $2,000.

Margaret Hindle of The Woods, a sophomore at Western Michigan University, is one of 11 members of WMU's women's field hockey team who have been awarded letters as a result of their contributions during the team's 12-6-1 season. Miss Hindle is a graduate of University Liggett School.

GPW Purchases Cash Register

The Woods Council at a recent meeting unanimously concurred in a recommendation from City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher and authorized the purchase of a new NCR cash register to replace one which is 16-years-old.

Saying the point has been reached where officials are unable to receive replacement parts, Mr. Hornfisher recommended the purchase of the NCR register at a cost of $5,029.

Two other quotes for registers were placed at $3,415.50 and $3,880 but he said both these models record amounts up to only $9,999.99 and "we frequently receive checks from mortgage companies in excess of $500,000."

BACHLE HONORED
Farms resident Carl F. Bachle was recently honored by the Society of Automotive Engineers with election to the group's Fellow grade of membership. Mr. Bachle was cited as being widely known for his accomplishment in development of air cooled engines for military tanks. The Fellow grade of membership is a means to recognize outstanding engineering accomplishments, according to SAE.

Maire Parents Set Meeting

The Maire Elementary School PTO will hold its next meeting in the school gym, 740 Cadieux road, Thursday, February 22, at 7:30 p.m.

Art curriculum at Maire and will feature student demonstrations. Dr. Alfreida Frost, director of elementary education, will be a special guest of the PTO.

Seniors' Health Clinic Continues

Pointe seniors are reminded of the free health screening tests available to those 60-and-over which continue at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, until Thursday, March 1.

The program is sponsored by the Wayne County Health Department and is available by appointment only on Mondays through Thursday. It includes extensive tests and takes roughly an hour and a half.

Included are vision and hearing tests, as well as a number of blood tests for anemia and diabetes, a urinalysis and blood pressure test. Women are taught breast self-examination, and a pap smear is taken.

A public health nurse reviews test results with the participant, and suggests areas where medical attention should be sought. The nurse will then follow up to see that her advice has been taken.

The program is open to residents of Wayne County, excluding Detroit residents. For an appointment, call 274-2800, ext. 258.

To Hold 'Float' For Foundation

Swimmers and pledges are needed for the Foundation for Academic Enrichment "Foundation Float," to be held Saturday, February 24, at the North High School pool, 707 Vernier road, between 1 and 5 p.m.

Dr. Patrick Jewell is chairman of the third annual Float. All proceeds will be used to fund recreational programs for mentally and physically handicapped children who attend the foundation's program at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Swimmers from the Grosse Pointe Swim Club Masters' group, the foundation's Teen Club and several area high school swim teams are already lined up for the Float.

Persons wishing to participate may call Dr. Jewell at 343-0790 or the foundation at 885-8660 for more information.

The foundation is a non-profit organization and all contributions are tax deductible.

If you go through life, and accomplish nothing, growing old seems to be a waste of time.

Swim Teacher Gets Surprise

Twenty five years ago the "Grosse Pointe News" carried the following article, dated February 18, 1954, under the heading of Girl Scout News.

"The second term of the swimming program is in full swing with new instructors, Mr. George Wibby of the American Red Cross assisted by Mr. William Herrick. To say, 'the joint is jumping' would be to put it too mildly since the High pool is a very busy place on Tuesday nights."

Mr. Wibby is still teaching the Girl Scouts to swim on Tuesday nights at South High and recently over 100 girls and their parents surprised him with an anniversary party held in the Social Hall of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

After having agreed to talk to the troop which meets there on Monday nights about careers in Red Cross, it was a shock to find his pupils gathered to honor him.

Mrs. Charles Kinnaird, president of Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit, presented him with a certificate of appreciation from the council, and Mrs. Edward Kay, Girl Scout swimming chairman for Grosse Pointe, presented a plaque with an appropriate inscription.

But the highlight, for him, was the stack of notes and letters which the girls had written to him.

Along with the swimmers, the Girl Scouts who are currently volunteering their Tuesday nights as instructor aides include Katrina Bresser, Julie Ebner, Anne Franco, Mary Rosasco and Norma Robertson.

Several former scouts who had helped with the program while in school, or as adults, included Sandy Cox of Bowling Green, O.; Lindsey Crooks of Royal Oak; Pamela Rapatee Ford, Kathy Morrison Gasser of St. Clair Shores, Diana May Hicks, Nancy Pierson Jones, Linda Christofaro Soltrich, Missie Lewis of Sterling Heights, and Delia Kay Wodtke of Mount Clemens.

Besides Mrs. Kinnaird, the Girl Scout Council was represented by Mrs. Ruth Millen, field executive for Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods.

Mrs. Paul Blackburn and Mrs. William Knight served refreshments, assisted by members of the hostess troop, No. 385, Colette Gilewicz Jones, Marylynn Blair, Cathy Quinlan, Carolyn Pentis, Suzanne Clark, Annmarie Monahan and Maria Psahos.

John Quinlan, a senior at North High School, took pictures throughout the festivities.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

A year ago today, the Detroit Science Center moved into a new, beautiful building at the corner of John R and East Warren avenue, behind the Detroit Institute of Arts.

It's been a grand year: a year of new ideas, initiative and progress, all of which demand personal involvement, participation and responsibility, and from exhibit sponsors to the board of trustees, from weekly volunteers to the president himself, Grosse Pointers have been an integral part of the Science Center's success.

Through its first year the Science Center has gratefully received volunteer aid from many local Junior League members, including the Mesdames Harry R. Kurrie, III, Torrence Creech, Paul Gilleran, James Hulme, Jorg M. A. Lehnert, Paul Rothenburg and Frederick L. Olds.

Service in various capacities, from orientation leader to gift shop cashier, clerical worker to brochure distributor, comes to an overwhelming 1,000 hours, but besides volunteer action in the field the Junior League has contributed time and financial

This is a hairdresser looking at your face.

In other words, this is a hairdresser that cares. He doesn't consider his clients faceless ladies in shapeless robes. He considers them interesting individuals. Which is why he studies their faces and texture of their hair. It's also why we get the most beautiful results. This kind of hairdresser isn't easy to come by. But if you come by our place, you'll find quite a few. You see, it's the only kind of hairdresser we believe in.

Daddario-Hurley Vows Exchanged

Newlyweds Are at Home in Dallas After Palm Beach Vacation; Bride Wears Mother's Veil, Mother-in-Law's Wedding Gown

A reception at the Detroit Club followed the afternoon wedding of Ann Elizabeth Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lefevre Hurley, of Lakeland avenue, and Stephen Michael Daddario, son of The Honorable and Mrs. Emilio Q. Daddario, of Washington, D.C.

Monsignor Francis X. Canfield officiated at the 2 o'clock rites Saturday, January 20, in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

The newlyweds vacationed in Palm Beach, Fla. They are now in residence in Dallas, Tex., where the bridegroom has been making his home.

The bride wore her mother-in-law's candlelight satin wedding gown and her mother's veil of Brussels and Rosepointe lace. Alba lilies, stephanotis and ivy formed the bridal bouquet.

Setting for the Saturday, January 20, wedding of ANN ELIZABETH HURLEY, daughter of the William Lefevre Hurleys, of Lakeland avenue, and Mr. Daddario, son of The Honorable Emilio Q. and Mrs. Daddario, of Washington, D.C., was Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

Boulder, Colo., (the former Frances Fitzgerald, daughter of The Honorable Neal Fitzgerald), Mrs. Edgar P. Heurtematte, of Washington, D.C., and Maureen O'Connor, of New York City, wore floor length dresses of soft rose silk jacquard. Front and back pin tucks were released below their waists. They carried arrangements of varied silk flowers in deep burgundy shades, with fresh ivy and camelia leaves.

Richard C. Daddario came from Washington to act as best man for his brother. Guests were seated by Michael Fix and Mr. Heurtematte, both of Washington, Leo Hurley, of Atlanta, Ga., the bride's brother, and John Koch, of Garland, Tex. Mrs. Hurley selected a mid-calf chiffon print, striped in grape satin, for her daughter's wedding. Her long sleeves ended in ruffles.

Fashion Flirtation Will Benefit DSO

Past Patron Ticket Holders Preview Piece from John Anthony's Collection at Party in The Pointe

The Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and the J. L. Hudson Company will present John Anthony's "Fashion Flirtation" Tuesday, February 27, at Fairlane Manor, Dearborn.

It is the Detroit Symphony Women's only fund raising project this season and the designer himself will attend, bringing his entire spring/summer collection—some 90 fashions.

Luncheon, at 12:30 o'clock, will be preceded by a social hour beginning at 11:30. Seating will be at tables for 10, assigned on a first come, first served basis.

Information on tickets, at $15 general admission, $25 patron and $50 benefactor, may be obtained by contacting Mrs. John E. Young, Jr., at 886-6829.

Since all proceeds go to the DSO, the tickets are tax deductible.

Patron ticket holders of the past two years received a preview of the fashion event late in January at a buffet luncheon in The Pointe, when Gretchen Snow, director of Hudson's Fashion Bureau, unveiled the Star of the Party: a black linen suit, its sole adornment a bright pink, breast pocket handkerchief.

The suit, from John Anthony's spring collection, had been flown in from New York that morning and was returned by plane that afternoon.

Each departing guest was given a Sweetheart rose, "for you are sweethearts" explained patron chairman Mrs. Charles M. Endicott, whose goal is a patron at each of the 150 fashion luncheon tables.

Pair Vacation in Tennessee, Are at Home in Georgia; Mrs. Brian Marone Serves As Honor Matron for Her Sister

Matching lace edged her bouffant, illusion veil, and she carried white roses.

Mrs. Brian Marone, honor attendant for her sister, and bridesmaids Mrs. James P. Howe, Mary-Elaine Howe, a cousin, Laura Maceroni and Gayle Hyde, sister of the bridegroom, wore long, burgundy frocks.

Flower girl Tracy Howe, the bride's niece, was in a floor length, pink dress. Her flowers, like those of the senior attendants, were pink miniature roses.

Present Tocco at Pro Musica

Detroit-born pianist James Tocco, whose high school years were spent at Austin Catholic Prep School, will perform a solo recital at Pro Musica's second concert of the season Friday, February 23, at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Tocco's first scholarship enabled him to start music study at Wayne State University. A second took him to the Salzburg Mozarteum.

When he won a scholarship from the French government, the Tocco family, (James is the youngest of 13 children) raised money for him to live and study for a year in Paris.

Tocco is one of only a few American pianists to win eight major international competitions, including first prize at the 1973 Munich International Competition.

During the past few seasons he has traveled extensively to play concerts in the United States, Europe, South America and the Middle East, including a Command Gala Performance for the Shah of Iran with Andre Kostelanetz.

He was the first pianist invited by President and Mrs. Gerald Ford to perform at a state dinner at the White House, and was one of 13 young American pianists chosen to commission a work from an American composer and perform it in the Kennedy Center during the Bicentennial.

Currently, he is artist-in-residence at Indiana University. During the summers he

May Bride

Planning a mid-May wedding are GALE M. EUGENIO and Barry C. Merrill whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Roy A. Eugenio, of Wedgewood drive.

The bride-elect, a Grosse Pointe North High School graduate, expects to receive her Dental Hygiene degree from Kalamazoo Valley Community College in April.

Her fiance, son of the Ken Merrills, of Plymouth, is an alumnus of Plymouth Salem High School. He is with Ford Motor Company, in the Service Research Division, and is working toward a degree in Automotive Management.

is a favorite artist at the Wolf Trap Center near Washington, D.C.

Pro Musica of Detroit is bringing Tocco to town for the second of its annual series of three Friday evening programs at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Each concert is followed by a social hour during which members of the audience and guests have a chance to chat with the artists and other members of Pro Musica.

The society has been active for more than half a century, bringing artists on the threshold of world renown and composers performing their own works to the Detroit area.

While Pro Musica's emphasis is on season membership subscriptions, a limited number of single admissions are available for Tocco's concert and the final concert of the season, featuring the young operatic tenor Casar Antonio Suarez April 27.

Season memberships are $20. Single admissions are $9, and may be purchased by mail order. Inquiries concerning tickets and memberships may be addressed to Pro Musica, 740 Hawthorne road, Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan 48236, (881-9750).

From Another Pointe of View

support for research and development of a new exhibit.

A special Detroit Science Center Project Committee, chaired by Mrs. Robert A. Vieweg, has examined possible exhibits with multi-dimensional appeal. Mrs. William J. Gehrke, working for that committee, seeking possible space artifacts from NASA, unexpectedly allocated a 16-foot NIKE missile which will soon be stationed on the Science Center Plaza level.

The Project Committee is still pursuing its own contribution to the center. It is especially interested in the Command Module Egress Trainer and White Room used in the Apollo Space Program.

But the Pointer who has contributed most to the Science Center is, undoubtedly, Dexter Ferry, its founder and president, who has given of himself totally to promote science for the public.

Mr. Ferry is the first to express his appreciation to the patrons—200,000 plus in the first year—who prove daily that there is an interest and need in the area for a growing resource devoted to science.

You can prove it by me. I've been down, and been fascinated, especially by the wrap-around Space Theater and "Cosmos," a film that literally took me into and out of this world.

The Space Theater begins the Science Center's second year today with a new film, "Genesis." I can't wait to see it.

Mary and Harry Take us to Toronto

Grosse Pointe's un-anonymous gourmets, Mary Conway and Harry Satchwell, not content with Meeting, Eating and Enjoying Detroit, have gone international.

Their new book is a mini-vacation guide to "North America's Newest Great City," Toronto, and it's crammed with facts, figures and inside information—and 20 mouth-watering menus that make me want to swim the Detroit River, (I'll BREAK the ice), and start hitch-hiking across Ontario.

So I'll live on Cadbury bars and cold cheese sandwiches until I get there . . . so when I get there, will I ever live!

Don and Dick Have a Reunion

They grew up together, in Morgantown, W.Va. They worked their way through school together, writing and giving performances.

But Dick chose Medicine, while Don . . . Don just kept on performing. He's still at it.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Knotts stopped off in Berkshire road the last weekend in January, on their way to Atlanta, Ga., where Mr. Knotts is starring with Tim Conway in a film entitled "The Prize Fighter," (he recently completed another film with Tim Conway, "The Apple Dumpling Gang Rides Again," scheduled for release this spring), to visit with Dr. and Mrs. Richard J. Ferrara.

It was a good weekend and a good reunion, and Dick was able to report to Don that he still steps before the footlights occasionally.

The next performances of Dr. Ferrara's "New Orleans Medical Caravan" are scheduled for April 25 and 26 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

They're both benefits for FLEC, Grosse Pointe's Family Life Education Council.

April Bride

A late April wedding is being planned by KAREN MARIE MARTIN and Pierre Frederick Graves, both Police Officers in Miami, Fla., whose engagement was announced New Year's Eve, at a family gathering, by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John I. Martin, Jr., of Renaud road.

Miss Martin attended Our Lady Star of the Sea High School, was graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School and received her Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice from Florida University. She is presently in a Masters degree program.

Her fiance, son of Jacqueline Graves and the late Dr. Ernest A. Graves, of Alicante, Spain, received his preliminary education in Rabat, Morocco. He, too, holds a degree from Florida University.
