A CHEMOTHERAPY PATIENT candidly testified before Lansing lawmakers that she uses marijuana to overcome the pain and nausea from chemotherapy. Debra Negen of Grand Rapids said her minister father routinely asks other members of the Negen family to purchase marijuana for his dying 21-year-old daughter. Although acknowledging the uneasiness about buying marijuana for his daughter, the Rev. Gordon Negen said he cannot understand why morphine can be used for chemotherapy patients and marijuana cannot.

THE UAW AND Ford Motor Company reached tentative agreement on a new three-year pact only 34 minutes before a strike deadline Thursday night. Specifics of the new contract that will affect some 197,000 Ford workers will be announced sometime next week when the union's national Ford council meets. Earlier, however, stumbling blocks in negotiations were voluntary overtime and paid personal holidays.

FEMINISTS BECAME CRITICAL of the Pope when he reaffirmed the church's stand on artificial birth control before a group of 800 bishops in Chicago. Although church observers were really not surprised to hear the Pope's view on birth control, it left little room for church liberals seeking to relax birth control guidelines. The Pope also reaffirmed traditional church beliefs on premarital sex, abortion and homosexual acts, while urging the bishops to be firm against "materialism, against rampant secularism and against moral permissiveness."

SOVIET PRESIDENT LEONID Brezhnev told East Germans that Moscow will begin troop reduction in that country within the next 12 months. The Soviet leader, who spoke during televised ceremonies in celebration of East Germany's 30th anniversary, said 20,000 troops and 1,000 tanks will be removed. Mr. Brezhnev vowed that his country has not increased "by a single missile" nuclear bomb carriers in its European territories. U.S. reaction to Mr. Brezhnev's announcement was "positive," increasing the likelihood of a Salt II treaty passage in the Senate.

FOR THE FIRST time since 1960, Cuban President Fidel Castro will visit the United Nations and reportedly will serve as chairman of the 93-nation bloc of non-aligned countries. Mr. Castro's visit comes at a time when the U.S. and Cuba are in recent conflict over the presence of Soviet troops in Cuba. The last time the Cuban leader visited the UN, he spoke for four hours and 20 minutes, making it the longest UN speech up to that time. Mr. Castro also refused to pay $400-a-day charges for his entourage of 80 at a nearby hotel, saying he could do better by camping out in Central Park.

DETROIT SCHOOL KIDS had to brown bag it as some 700 school bus drivers and food delivery workers went on strike Monday, cancelling hot lunches for 70,000 students. Last week, members of Teamsters Local 214 voted to walk out after failing to come to some kind of tentative agreement with the Board of Education. The striking workers have been without a contract since Aug. 31. School officials report that attendance has been running 70 to 80 percent normal in spite of the strike.

Wardwell House Is Project for Camp Fire

You have probably passed this house on Jefferson avenue at Three Mile drive many times. But did you know it is said to be the oldest house in The Pointe? Area Campfire Girls are hoping to raise enough money to erect a State Historical Marker for the Wardwell House next year. The house, at 16109 Jefferson avenue was owned by a French farmer in the 1860's. In a subsequent remodeling, a French franc coin dated 1789 was found in a dining room wall. The house is now owned by Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Three Mile Drive Mystery— Is It Oldest House in Pointe?

By Joanne N. Gouleche

Before 1800, it was known as Private Claim 391, a strip of land that extended three miles from Lake Saint Clair to Gratiot avenue. Some 180 years later on that strip of land, stands a house that is said to be the oldest brick house in The Pointe. Others claim it to be the oldest brick house in Southeastern Michigan. Whatever the claims, the house at 16109 Jefferson avenue at Three Mile drive is filled with a fascinating history.

City Is First to Back War Memorial TV Plan

By David Kramer

The City became the first of the Pointes since The Shores to reach a decision on cable television, with its council voting unanimously to go with the War Memorial Association's plan.

The vote came despite the presentation of a revised proposal by C. Thompson Wells of Mega Vision Company, which claimed to offer the city more economic benefits under its plan.

Just one resident spoke at the public hearing before the vote was taken at a special meeting, Monday, October 8. John Rickel, chairman of the War Memorial's Cable television committee and president of the War Memorial Association, said after the vote that if three of the four remaining cities approve the operating ordinance, 25 percent of the system could be operational by the beginning of next summer. Teleprompter Inc., their system manager, already has 100 miles of cable nearby ready to go up immediately. Negotiations are currently underway towards using Saint John Hospital as an earth station for the antenna, with the offices for the system located in the Seven Mile-Mack shopping center.

Mayor David Robb, a partner of John Rickel's in a law firm, abstained from voting on the ordinance. The ordinance would mean nothing if three more cities don't approve it. The Farmers will hold a second special meeting on cable TV Monday, October 22, while The Park has tabled the question until a special meeting November 12, after the election. The ordinance has passed its first reading stage in both The Woods and Harper Woods, with both cities scheduled to consider it at the final reading stage, and possible passage, Monday, October 15.

Harper Woods City Manager Ronald Bultman said the ordinance is expected to pass in that city. While programming differs little from each proposal, Mega Vision, in its latest offer to the cities, planned to "donate" two studios, worth $250,000 together, to the public schools.

Mr. Wells stated that the partnership proposed by his firm would not only offer the cities more in financial returns, but would make those returns available years sooner. "We have yet to be invited to make a proposal to this city council," he said. Urging the council to take its time making a decision, he added "You probably haven't had a more important decision to make."

But Mr. Robb said afterward that councilmen had been presented copies of Mega Vision's original proposal that was drafted before the War Memorial drew up its own. He added that Mega Vision was again allowed to speak at the last council meeting in September. Councilman George Henry, who made the motion to ap-

Mr. Guoin further claimed that a Joseph Morin owned it before 1796. Yet Library of Congress data lists Henry Seitz as original owner and 1860 as construction date on the house.

More than likely responsible for the confusion in ownership of the house was the Great Fire of 1805, which destroyed many land records in the area.

Goes to Church

Up until two years ago, Helen Wardwell occupied the house for more than 65 years. She moved there as a bride in 1912. Her father, Henry Russell purchased the ribbon farm in the late 1890's at a state land sale and turned it into the Three Mile subdivision — so named because the land was exactly three miles inland from the lake.

When Mrs. Wardwell died two years ago, she bequeathed the house to Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, which presently owns and uses the house as a manse and for other church purposes. Gus Jahnke, church administrator, said funds for renovation were furnished by the Wardwell family and a few members and friends of the church.

Mrs. Wardwell's father did extensive remodeling to the house himself, especially to the lower floor. The present living room was once three small rooms with a cooking fireplace. You can still see the niches in the brick where cooking cranes once hung.

In a subsequent remodeling, a 1789 French franc coin was found in a dining room wall. In some places, the walls are 14 inches of solid brick—brick that is thought to have been used as ballast on French fur ships returning to America in the 1700's. Before Mr. Russell purchased the farm, a second frame house was built 20 feet to the rear of the existing structure, serving as a residence while the brick house stored grain.

The Village's only policeman, Charles Valentine, occupied the second house and is said to have enforced the law only on Sundays because he preferred farming the rest of the week. The two dwellings were eventually joined.

FP Marathon This Sunday

About twice the number of runners are expected in the second annual Free Press International Marathon Sunday, October 14.

The event will host nearly 4,000 athletes who will attempt to get through the 26 mile, 385 yard distance in one piece.

While the course through the Pointes will be the same as last year, the runners will be two miles further along in the course by the time they reach the area, due to a moving back of the starting line in Windsor.

That move came as a result of Windsor officials' wish to have more of the race in Canada, and because runners' wish to have less of the race on Belle Isle. Free Press officials said. In the Pointes, the first runners should reach the Park city limits or Jefferson avenue at about 10:05. Those at Lakeshore and Kerby roads should see the leaders at about 10:25, and those watching in The Village, about 10:35.

Runners will hope for temperatures in the 50's or low 60's, according to Bob Hays of Moran road, one of those Pointers who will run it. Last year's mid 80's were a little too warm for ideal conditions, he said.

Both the men's and women's winners have registered for the marathon this year. They are Robert McOmber of Bowling Green, O., and Erma Tranter of Chicago, Ill.

One lane of traffic will be blocked off through The Park, City and Farms along Jefferson and Lakeshore, in The Farms along Kerby and Kercheval and in The City and Park along Kercheval.

In addition, Farms police will seal all vehicular traffic between Lakeshore and Kercheval, and Fisher and Kerby, for a 40 minute period, probably between 10:45 a.m. and 11:25 a.m., according to Police Chief Robert Ferber.

Free Press Managing Editor Neal Shine told Chief Ferber at a recent council meeting he had notified Grosse Pointe Memorial and Saint Paul Churches of the race and the anticipated times.

Both the North and South High School marching bands will be on hand along the course to cheer the runners along. According to Hays, runners should be having to work a little by the time they're midway through the Pointes, (about 17 miles), so they'll need all the cheering they can get.

GPW Barricades Fall Pending Traffic Survey

Council Authorizes Removal of Blockades in Four Streets, While Seeking Cooperation to Solve Multi-Jurisdictional Problem from State Officials

By Roger A. Waha

The temporary barricades blocking four streets in The Woods came down last week after the council voted 3-2 to remove the blockades pending the results of a traffic study of the northwest area which is due within 30 days.

At the Tuesday, October 2, meeting the council authorized City Administrator Chester E. Petersen to prepare a letter for northwest area citizens to send to their state representatives.

The objective is to convince the Michigan Department of Transportation to alleviate what Mr. Petersen calls "a serious traffic problem in our city," much of which stems from the exit ramp off I-94 and Eight Mile road.

The motion also authorizes a strong resolution from the council to state representatives informing them if no solution comes from the state level it's possible the barricades will be erected again.

Experiment Fails At its regular meeting Monday, October 1, the council explored the problem and was told by Public Safety Director John Dankel that the temporary barricade experiment was a failure.

The session was then recessed until the 2nd in order to give the director time to chart a sign plan, suggested by Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, to prevent through traffic on residential streets by diverting all traffic toward Vernier road.

As it turned out, the plan, which would have directed peak morning and afternoon traffic south along Helen avenue to Vernier, never materialized. When the council finally approved the barricade-removal, it was the fifth motion offered during the evening.

The Goodell-Grivas traffic survey will analyze through traffic in the target area to determine the source of the high volume and will produce

Vote to Walk Unless Pact Is Reached

School Board Calls for Fact-Finder, Teams to Meet Wednesday

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe teachers said they will walk out of their classrooms Monday, October 15, if a tentative agreement with the School Board is not reached this week.

If a strike is called, it will be the first in Grosse Pointe since a one and a half day walkout in 1969.

Teachers voted 339-114 to withhold services at a membership meeting Sunday, October 7. The Board of Education responded the following day with a decision to request intervention by a state fact-finding.

Bargaining teams for both sides agreed to make a final attempt to avert the strike by meeting Wednesday, October 10, at 4 p.m.

Want to Teach

"We are most anxious to negotiate this week and get a settlement before Monday," said local union president Curt Lange.

"Grosse Pointe teachers want to teach, not strike. We went back to school this fall in good faith. But enough is enough, we won't wait until April again for a contract," Mr. Lange said.

Spokesmen for both teams agree there are basically three issues remaining on the table — money, lay-off and recall, and the length of the work year.

The union has requested 11 and 12 percent annual pay increases and the Board last offered nine percent hikes for three years.

The lay-off and recall dispute "relates directly to job security" according to Mr. Lange, and is a hot issue with teachers in the system, which annually reduces its staff by at least 20 people.

The two sides were apparently making steady progress at the bargaining table until mid-September. Teachers returned to school early that month without a contract saying they were hopeful the outstanding issues could be settled within a few weeks.

But the union bargainers walked out of a negotiation session on September 15, and told their membership to

Senior Citizens' Forum Is First Stop For Council Candidates in The Woods

By David Kramer

Anyone running for political office in the Pointes these days would be foolish to believe he could ignore the senior citizens. Not only does the senior population of all the Pointes equal the total population of The Farms, but seniors, as a group, tend to take their voting rights seriously in local elections.

Thus it was no surprise when all seven candidates for Woods mayor and council gathered up for the candidates' gathering sponsored by the Woods Senior Citizen Commission, perhaps the most organized and vocal group of seniors in the Pointes.

Concerns of the approximately 100 seniors attending the October 4 session ranged from the structuring and organization of the commission to obtaining a well-defined meeting place at the Lakefront Park.

Outgoing Mayor Benjamin Pinkos was there too, and while first declining to steal the show from the candidates, reluctantly took the podium for a few minutes. He took the opportunity to point out the importance of the seniors commission, calling it a "strong political force" and a catalyst for solving problems and needs.

Indeed, figures gathered by the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Association in 1978 show that the senior citizen population doubled from 1970, jumping from nine percent in 1970 to 14 percent in 1977. A public school survey in 1978 put the percentage even higher, at 15.7 percent for those 60 years and older.

For the Pointes as a whole, the school census put the figure at 14.8 percent, with the City having the greatest percentage, (18.3), of seniors.

The candidates forum wasn't exactly impartial, and commissioner Irene Sutton several times reminded the audience of mayoral candidate George Cueter's present involvement as council representative to the senior citizens commission. Mr. Cueter said he was "pretty well familiar with the needs of seniors" and felt the remainder of the public should be made aware of them.

Opponent George Freeman pointed out that slow progress has been made on issues during his nine years on the council, and expressed dismay that out of a population of 14,000 registered voters, only about 4,000 vote in city elections.

"I'll run on my past history," he said

Woods Council Votes to Remove Barricades

(Continued from Page 1) pose solutions. It will be completed prior to the Monday, November 5 meeting, the last council meeting before the November 6 election.

Domino Effect
"If the traffic survey is done (by November 5), we, (the current council), should resolve it and not move it on to the new party," noted councilman Thomas Fahrner. Many concerns intertwined as the barricade experiment continued from Brys drive to Roslyn road to Hampton road and finally to Ridgmont road on Thursday, September 27.

For many Woods residents, there was a domino effect of increasing volumes of traffic on the street next to the barricaded thoroughfare. Officials in both St. Clair Shores and Harper Woods said there were higher traffic flows in the immediate area and citizens in the former community, in particular, complained loudly about the situation.

Trying to put the entire situation into some perspective, Mr. Petersen said, after the meeting on the 2nd, "If nothing else comes out of this fiasco, we have proven our traffic problem is a multi-jurisdictional problem."

"Tortuous Process"
"We have tried for about five years to get other jurisdictions, (i.e., St. Clair Shores, Harper Woods, the county and state), to help us and we have been unsuccessful."

"The barricades did bring the situation to a head, showing it wasn't just a local problem. We shouldn't be called upon to carry the full burden to solve this multi-jurisdictional problem."

Discussing the upcoming traffic survey, Mr. Petersen added, "If we can't get cooperation to solve the problem, our council may be back with something similar (to the barricades)," or cul-de-sacs.

On the same theme, Director Dankel called the situation "a frustrating, tortuous process for me, the council and the citizens."

He added the barricades came down so the city could do an honest, thorough traffic survey, "not from any pressures from the cities."

Reaction to the removal of the barricades from St. Clair Shores and Harper Woods officials was expectedly favorable.

"A Big Step"
Distressed over the situation, the St. Clair Shores Council on Monday, September 24, authorized City Attorney John Yoe to institute legal action against The Woods regarding the alleged shifting of the traffic burden into their community because of the barricades. However, Assistant City Manager Bob Helmer, based upon The Woods' action, said last week "I feel we'll stop the lawsuit and not pursue it any further. We'll await the study results, (from the Goell-Grivas survey), for review by all three communities."

He said the traffic study route was the best one to take.

Harper Woods City Manager Ronald J. Bultman also called the action "a big step in the right direction."

"I'm glad to see they have decided that this matter needed further study and research, he said. His council on October 1 approved an eight-point program to deal with the barricade situation, and indicated it opposed barricades anywhere along its borders.

On Giving Notice
"The intent of the recommendation was to list a series of alternatives which citizens or the government could take to indicate their displeasure and pressure Grosse Pointe Woods to remove the barricades permanently," he said.

"We would give Grosse Pointe Woods 30 days advance notice to remove all the barricades. If not, then Harper Woods would consider any or all of the various alternatives," (Woods officials were informed of this last week.)

The recommendations included petitions, attending council meetings to voice displeasure, refusing to patronize Woods businesses, and joining in a lawsuit with St. Clair Shores against The Woods.

In a report to his council, Mr. Bultman also reviewed actions being considered by the state, including the installation of a traffic signal at the exit ramp off I-94 and Eight Mile road, replacing the three-way stop, within a year.

He also pointed out the state will modify the existing traffic signals at Vernier and Harper avenue to provide additional turning phases to expedite traffic.

Mixed Reviews
However, Mr. Bultman noted that the state feels there's no traffic flow problem on Eight Mile east of Harper, and thus no traffic flow changes were recommended on I-94, Harper or Eight Mile road.

Mr. Petersen had earlier noted no recommendation for a "no left turn" sign off the Old Eight Mile exit ramp was offered.

Meanwhile, at The Woods meeting, the sign proposal received mixed reviews from about 40 citizens in attendance. The majority expressed a negative opinion. Director Dankel personally was against the plan for several reasons, saying it will inconvenience area citizens coming and going.

"Iron Curtain"
Mr. Cueter, based upon a talk he had with Sen. John Hertel, said the citizens should get the message across to state officials. He suggested Mr. Petersen prepare a letter for residents to send to their representatives and get the Michigan Department of Transportation moving with a strongly worded council resolution.

In fact, Mr. Cueter said he was in favor of erecting a barricade in Hollywood avenue. He said barricade removal would "be giving in to the arguments the two communities have against us."

He added, "We won't resolve the problem, the problem lies with the state."

"We've had no solution except cul-de-sacs, (suggested by northwest area citizen representative Bruce VanFarowe), commented Mr. Pinkos. He noted such a plan would require condemnation and legal proceedings.

The mayor said he was in favor of the sign plan and the elimination of the barricades.

Climax Reached
The situation finally came to a climax when Mr. Fahrner's original motion to remove all the barricades and proceed with the sign plan was voted against Councilman

George S. Freeman's substitute motion.

(In between, substitute motions from Mr. Cueter and Mr. Novitke failed to gain any support.)

Mr. Freeman moved that the Brys barricade remain and the sign plan proceed with the visuals for a 60-day trial period pending the traffic study report. He also stipulated that there be extra traffic enforcement during the critical morning and afternoon hours.

The substitute motion failed 3-2 with Mr. Freeman and Mr. Novitke voting in favor, while the original motion also failed 3-2 with Mr. Fahrner and Mr. Pinkos voting "yes."

Touch of Irony
This stalemate led to a short recess and council discussion resulting in Mr. Fahrner's motion. This passed with Mr. Pinkos and Mr. Novitke voting in opposition.

With this, a citizen asked, "How long after the survey will the barricades go up?"

Director Dankel responded that the council will receive the traffic survey report in time for the November 5 meeting, and then consider a number of alternatives, selecting which one it feels best.

He added, not without a touch of light irony, "If the council wishes to barricade the streets, we've got the material."

Next Legal Step
A four-hour meeting with a state mediator last week failed to break the stalemate.

The contract between the Board and 553 teachers and librarians expired at the end of June.

Ronald Tonks, spokesman for the Board's negotiating team, said he recommended both sides enter fact-finding because "it is the next legal step provided in the statutes."

"I hope teachers recognize that," Mr. Tonks said. "The only way we can avert a strike is to keep on talking. Our best offer is on the table and it's fair, reasonable and equitable compared to the settlements in surrounding districts."

Restaurant Tries Again for License

By Roger A. Waha

The co-owners of Le Cafe Francais, a restaurant specializing in French cuisine, completed a successful initiatory petition drive last month in their effort to obtain a tavern license, (permitting the serving of beer and wine, not liquor), for their establishment.

With the petitions submitted and the necessary amount of signatures certified, the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, October 1, unanimously authorized City Attorney George Catlin to prepare the necessary question for submission to the Wayne County Election Commission for the Tuesday, November 6, ballot.

Voters will be asked whether or not the city code should be amended to provide for the insurance of one additional tavern license in the city.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen reported to the council that 75 petition signature sheets containing 1,875 signatures were submitted, with a total of 1,501 being certified in accordance with city charter provisions.

The certified signatures represented more than the required 10 percent of current registered voters: 14,068.

This effort on the parts of co-owners Ronald Serba and Charles Moraco to obtain a tavern license for their restaurant, located at 20311 Mack avenue, is their second within the year. Both have indicated they must be able to serve wine with meals or they may have to close their establishment.

In March, their combined effort with the owners of Da Edoardo to obtain two tavern licenses failed when, in a special election, voters defeated the referendary question governing the issuance of two such licenses.

Since that time, according to Mr. Serba and Mr. Moraco, the situation regarding Le Cafe's continued operation in the community has grown bleaker.

Mr. Serba is pleased over citizen response and cooperation in the most recent petition drive. "People are concerned over losing the restaurant," he said.

"We found that many people who came forth to obtain signatures felt the corner, (the Kimberly Korner complex), has been here a long time and that it has been a credit to the community."

Mr. Moraco stated that if the restaurant, which has been suffering a diminishing dinner business for many months, cannot obtain a tavern license, it will close in a short period of time.

"We're on the verge of it right now," he said. "It's do or die. If we don't get the license, we're closing."

If the voters approve the referendary question in November, that's no guarantee that the council will approve the issuance of an additional tavern license to Le Cafe or any other establishment. If citizens nix the question, however, the chance that the document will be issued is unlikely.

The Woods could have up to 15 Class C, (permitting the serving of liquor), or tavern licenses pending council approval. At this time, there are five Class C-licensed establishments in the city.

In a final note, based upon a request from Mr. Serba which was approved by the council on Monday, September 17, the co-owners will pay about $200 to the city in overtime costs for personnel who worked additional hours validating signatures on the petitions.

Mr. Petersen said one regular employe worked overtime, while four temporary people were brought in.

Art Classes Set at Center

Noted international artist and Prix de Rome winner Zubei Kachadoorian will instruct classes at the Memorial's Art School, 32 Lakeshore road, on Thursday evenings, October 18 through December 13 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Mr. Kachadoorian has had one-man gallery exhibits at Viviano Gallery and Delacorte Gallery, both in New York City; Gallery Grueze, Paris; France, and Main Street Gallery, Chicago.

He has exhibited at the Milwaukee and Pasadena Museums; Galleria Nazionale, Rome; Spolito, Smithsonian Institute; and the Corcoran Gallery and Birmingham Museum, Birmingham, England.

His works are in the Detroit Institute of Arts, The Art Institute of Chicago, Tate Gallery of London, the Smithsonian Institute and the Worcester, Massachusetts Art Museum.

Mr. Kachadoorian attended Meinzingen Art School and was a private pupil with Carlos Lopez and Francis De Erdily. He also was a student at the Oxbow Art School, the Skowhigan School of Painting and Sculpture and the Colorado Fine Arts Center.

He appears in "Art, U.S.A. Now," "Who's Who in American Art" and "The International Directory of Arts."

Fee for Mr. Kachadoorian's "Multiple Discipline" class is $70 for eight weeks. Students will work from life model in all media.

JOY Offers Jobs for Youth

By Lynn Puscas

Every year, students seem to be complaining about the same thing, not having any money. There's a solution to this problem called J.O.Y. (Job Opportunities for Youth), a non-profit organization run by the Neighborhood Club.

J.O.Y. started nearly eight years ago and attracts several hundred students every year. Its goal is to help students get jobs and being a recent student of a Grosse Pointe school is its only requirement.

It offers jobs varying from babysitting to lawn maintenance. When a person calls in need of help, JOY gives them the names of three students who have signed up, then places those names at the bottom of the list and moves three more names to the top.

In past years, the program has produced excellent results which gives many students extra spending money and even some permanent jobs. JOY makes repeated visits to Grosse Pointe high schools for students who are interested in signing up. It can also be located at the Neighborhood Club from 9 to 11 a.m. Monday through Friday.

Health Discovery! will be held between 12 and 5 p.m. at the Bon Secours Hospital Family Health Center, 25901 East Jefferson avenue, St. Clair Shores.

Pianist Crossen Opens Symphony Season Oct. 21

Pianist Janet Crossen, who grew up in Grosse Pointe and is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Crossen of Tonnancour place, will be the special guest artist at the first concert of the Grosse Pointe Symphony's 1979-80 season on Sunday, October 21, at 3:30 p.m., in the Parcels School Auditorium, 20660 Mack avenue.

Miss Crossen will perform the Beethoven Concerto No. 1 in C Major for Piano and Orchestra, under the direction of the symphony's longtime conductor Felix Resnick. The program will also include the overture to Auber's three-act comic opera "Fra Diavolo," "Suite algerienne" by Saint-Saens and "Midsommarvaka," the first of three Swedish rhapsodies by Aliven.

After graduating from the Interlochen Arts Academy in 1971, Miss Crossen received her Bachelor of Music degree from Indiana University in 1975. While a freshman at that institution she was the only undergraduate accepted into the class of the distinguished Menahem Pressler, with whom she continued to study the length of her four-year stay at Indiana. Janet earned her Master of Music in 1977 from State University of New York at Stony Brook, where she studied with Martin Canin and Gilbert Kalish.

Since 1972 Miss Crossen has played numerous solo recitals in New York state, Indiana and Michigan. Her most recent local appearance was during the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church 1977 Musicale Series.

She also has performed frequently in chamber music recitals, covering a wide and varied repertoire, and has played contemporary repertoire for small ensembles, including duo-piano works by Messiaen, Bartok, Crumb and Stravinsky.

Janet started her piano studies at age seven and at 10 also took up the French horn, which led to several teen-age years as a horn player with the Grosse Pointe Symphony and with the bands and orchestras of the Grosse Pointe public schools. She also performed piano and French horn works in the Tuesday Musicale Student League and attended the National Music Camp at Interlochen for three summers.

After many years of local keyboard study with Winifred Fenton, the late Camilla Ehrlich and the late Gizi Szanto, plus French horn lessons, Miss Crosser decided, at age 16, to make the piano her area of concentration.

"I made that choice," says Janet, "because of the piano's large and varied repertoire and its solo possibilities."

Now a resident of Ann Arbor, Miss Crossen currently divides her time between teaching and the pursuit of a solo and chamber music performance career. In addition to private pupils she instructs at Eastern Michigan University and University of Michigan Extension.

Grosse Pointe Symphony enthusiasts on the afternoon of October 21 will have an opportunity to meet the artist in person, as well as the members of the community's own classical music orchestra, at the reception following the concert.

Tickets are priced at $5 for adults and $2 for students; they may be ordered in advance by phoning 886-9102 or 884-7837 or may be purchased on concert day at the box office.

1979-80 season tickets for the Grosse Pointe Symphony, which include admission to four concerts and membership in the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society, may be purchased at a considerable saving over the single concert ticket price: adults, $16, students, $6. Interested persons are invited to call the above phone numbers for further information.

LWV Studies Government

The League of Women Voters, (LWV), will study financing government services in Michigan on Wednesday, October 17, at Saint Paul Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop road, at 9:15 a.m.

The committee government services financing committee will present information to help the league arrive at an intelligent consensus in November. Data has been gathered from a series of background papers prepared by the state committee.

Recent articles on the "Effects of Taxation Limitation Amendment of 1978", and a "Brief Summary of the Fiscal Restrictions in the Michigan Constitution" will be among some of the publications available for purchase.

The program will examine the tax structure in Michigan; the fiscal relationships among the federal, state and local governments and budgetary procedures. The LWV's 1971 position on taxation also will be re-evaluated. The Representative Government committee consists of Dorothy Crocker, Sylvia Keating, Mary Louise Krebs, Cynthia Warner and Suzanne Suski, chairman.

The committee urges all of its members to attend this important meeting as well as any interested citizens. Babysitting is available with advance notice.

For more information, call Suzanne Suski at 822-9348.

Think of Pets In The Winter

Fall is the time when people think of buying winter coats to keep themselves warm in the coming cold weather. People should also think ahead about their pets and how to keep them warm this winter, says ARK Humane Education Service.

For an outdoor dog, a doghouse is a necessity, says ARK, which will send a free brochure on how to build a doghouse and how to care for an outdoor dog.

Write to ARK at Post Office Box 65, Warren, Mich., 48090 for the information.

Seniors Hold Forum

(Continued from Page 1) Council candidate Frederick Lovelace, an administrator with Blue Cross-Blue Shield, said the city needed to improve its public image with neighboring cities, especially as it concerns the question of street barricades in the northwest area. Other concerns are the northeast drain sewer, traffic problems in other areas, and the maintenance of the ambulance service.

"An open line of communication should be established with other cities," he said. Tim Mucciante thinks his experience as aides to a state legislator and Sen. Carl Levin make him qualified for council. Presently the most pertinent issue to him is the northwest traffic flow problem. He urged the communities involved to "take off your coats, loosen your ties and talk."

Arthur Kuehnel, who has been an assistant councilman in The Woods, for 16 years, and legislative representative for the Grosse Pointe Jaycees, has also been involved with the Grosse Pointe Clown Corps for 16 years. He favors cul-de-sacs in the northwest area, cleaner alleys and a return of a youth service division type organization.

Candidate William Wilson pointed out his mother in the audience, calling her his "direct pipeline to the senior citizens." He said he admired the initiative of the Woods in setting up the barricades since no "concrete" help was offered by Harper Woods or St. Clair Shores in the problem.

He would like to see increased cooperation between the cities in the future, and is concerned about requiring seniors to bring their homes up to code before selling them.

Councilman Robert Novitke, a two-year veteran, said his priorities as councilman are "maintaining the residential and financial integrity of the city."

Two Die

Earlier that evening, Brian and Chris were at the birthday party of a friend, Maureen Craig, 18, who overheard the two talking about race cars.

"Brian was talking about how fast his car could go for such an old car," Ms. Craig said.

Ms. Craig said that she left the room where the discussion took place and when she returned Brian and Chris were gone.

"I began to worry when they didn't return for a while," she said.

Later that evening she received a call from a friend who told her there was a bad accident in Windmill Pointe and Alter. A description of the victims matched that of Brian and Chris.

Brian was a senior at North High and "liked anything mechanical," according to his uncle, Don Smith. Brian was the owner of the accident car.

Chris was a 1976 graduate of North and attended community college.

Services for Brian will be held today, Thursday, October 11, at the A. H. Peters Funeral Home at 11 a.m.

He is survived by his parents, Edgar and Delores; two sisters, Mrs. Edward Divito and Deborah, and one brother, Dale.

Interment will be in Glen Eden Cemetery. Services for Chris were held on Wednesday, October 10, at the A. H. Peters Funeral Home.

He is survived by his mother, Sattre; one sister, Candace and one brother, Gregory.

Interment was in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

ENTENMAN NAMED

Alfred M. Entenman Jr. of The Pointe was recently named president of Hoad Engineers, Inc., in Ypsilanti. Mr. Entenman is a registered professional engineer in 39 states and a member of the National Council of Engineers. A graduate of Cornell University in civil engineering, he later pursued his graduate studies at Columbia University. Hoad Engineers has provided professional consulting architectural and engineering services for over 250 domestic and international corporations.

City Okays Cable

(Continued from Page 1) prove the ordinance, said afterward his decision was based on both the consolidation aspect of the venture and the fact that Teleprompter is the largest cable firm in the country.

If the ordinance is passed by the other city councils, residents can expect to pay $7.50 per month for basic pay service. That service will offer improved reception of all Detroit existing channels, two independent commercial "superstations," (WTCC Atlanta and WGN, Chicago), two all-sports channels, including a station which broadcasts all events at Madison Square Garden.

More included under the basic service charge are a children's channel, a financial information channel, 24-hour news channel, live debates of the U.S. House of Representatives, a weather radar channel, and a religious channel devoted to local religious life.

Others still are a consumer shopping channel comparing prices in the area and a number of channels available to city government, schools and other local groups.

In addition to the basic service, a number of "pay TV" services are available, each for $6.95 a month. Such services show recent film fare and big name entertainment, commercial free. One "mini-channel" is offered for $3.95.

Several innovative services are proposed to be made available as soon as they are fully developed. They include fire and burglar alarms and medical alert, video games, and the possibility of home computers.

Mega Vision's proposal offers basically the same programming, but the Pay TV services are priced a little higher. Their proposal offers a 20 percent senior citizen discount, not available under the War Memorial's.

Mega Vision has offered the cities 15 percent limited partnership in its system, which would cover the four Pointes, excluding Harper Woods. Because of tax laws, the partnership arrangement could end up returning an amount close to that offered.

Camera Club Meets Tuesday

Nature print and slide competition will be featured when the Grosse Pointe Camera Club convenes on Tuesday, October 16, at 7:45 p.m. at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue. Visitors are welcome.

WSU Sponsors Manuscript Day

Aspiring high school authors will have an opportunity to test their writing skills in the fourth annual Manuscript Day Competition sponsored by the Wayne State University, (WSU), English Department.

Competition is open to junior and senior students in all Michigan high schools—public, parochial and private. Each school may submit up to five manuscripts.

Rules of the competition call for students to submit manuscripts through their high school English Department. Prose entries must be between one and 15 pages; verse, between 25 and 50 lines. All works are eligible unless they have already earned recognition outside the writer's high school. WSU faculty members will serve on the panel of judges.

Professor Brad Field, chairman of the Manuscript Day Committee, said the deadline for entries is Tuesday, October 30. Awards will be presented on Manuscript Day, November 28, an all-day event to be held on the WSU campus.

A total of 65 finalists will be selected in the competition. Each will receive a Certificate of Recognition along with an invitation to spend the day on the WSU campus, meeting faculty members and students.

A luncheon is planned in honor of the 65 students who also will see a matinee performance of Brian Friel's "Philadelphia Here I Come" which will be playing at the Hilberry Theater on campus.

Members of the WSU English Department will critique the papers of the finalists during their day on campus.

Top prizes in the competition will be two Merit Scholarships worth $1,000 per year and renewable in all four years of study at WSU. Third and fourth prize winners will receive $1,000 tuition awards, and fifth and six prize winners, $500 tuition awards.

Further information may be obtained by calling Professor Field or Professor John Bassett at the WSU English Department, 577-2451.

FLEC Launches '79 Fund Drive

FLEC, The Family Life Education Council, has announced a goal of $90,000 for its 1979 fund raising effort according to Dr. John Burrows, president of the privately-funded east side social service agency.

In announcing the fund drive — to run through November—Dr. Burrows noted, while most citizens have heard of FLEC and some may have an appreciation for its programs, few realize what a vital role the organization plays in our community.

"FLEC has grown, filling first one need, then another, spilling over into the community and insinuating itself into the fabric of our daily lives. It can be safely stated that FLEC has served almost everyone of us, or someone we know and love, at one time or another," Dr. Burrows said.

FLEC is nondenominational and independent. It is supported privately by the community through contributions.

Among the programs sponsored by FLEC are a Medical Clinic, offering a wide range of services to an average of 15 clients each night that the clinic is open; an Alcohol Education program that has been expanded at the middle and elementary schools for 6th grade students and The Dialogue adult "help line." FLEC's "first aid" phone service, which operates six days each week with an increasing number of calls.

Center Point, a youth counseling program serving young people and a Legal Center, open on Wednesday evenings, also are sponsored by FLEC.

Anyone wishing to contribute to FLEC's 1979 fund drive may do so by sending a check to FLEC, 260 Chalfonte, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236.

Cottage Offers Free CPR Class

Cottage Hospital will offer a free cardiopulmonary resuscitation, (CPR), class to the public, Monday, October 29, from 7 to 10 p.m. The program will be held in board rooms A and B on the lower level of the hospital. Reservations are limited and must be made in advance by calling the Educational department at 884-8600, extension 2390.

Participants in the CPR class will learn some basic anatomy, the most common heart attack signals, and how to activate the emergency medical services system to obtain help. They will also learn how to do rescue breathing and one man CPR.

James R. Tarrant, director of education, said the class will be taught the American Heart Association's "ABCs" of cardiopulmonary resuscitation: airway, breathing and circulation. Four certified instructors including a physician and two registered nurses will conduct the class.

Participants will use a manikin for practice and will see a brief slide presentation. Those who successfully complete the class will receive a card and certification good for one year in Michigan.

The class is prepared in cooperation with the Committee on Emergency Cardiac Care by the American Heart Association.

Sailor Gets Soggy Surprise

Bob Burman figured his wallet was gone for good when he lost it overboard while sailing in the North Channel race Saturday, September 29. Although he didn't know exactly when it left him, he figured out it got out of his pocket while he was flying the spinnaker up the river on Pointer Sloane Barbour's Cal 25, Cal-lope.

A day later he got a phone call. You guessed it. Ed Kann was sailing his boat back from the Great Lakes Sailboat Show and just happened to spot a slightly soggy wallet floating by about a mile and a half off of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Mr. Burman, who figured the wallet had to have been afloat for 24 to 30 hours, was surprised it floated at all. Although it took a couple days for the contents to dry out, everything was intact, he said.

MACLD to Hear Psychologists

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will hold its first meeting of the season on Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Central Library, at 10 Kercheval avenue.

Dr. Robert Barnard and Diane Barnard, Grosse Pointe school psychologists, will be the guest speakers. Their topic will be Psychological Testing: The Learning Disabled Student.

They will discuss the tests they administer to the students prior to educational planning and placement.

Having a learning disability often means being frustrated and feeling failure unless diagnosed and remedied. There are federal and state laws guaranteeing educational rights. If you are a concerned parent and desire the kind of instruction your child should have, join other parents of MACLD.

Students Win Recognition

University Liggett Upper School Head Douglas MacKean announced last week that seven seniors have received recognition as National Merit Scholars.

Six students earned letters of commendation, Andreas Drath, Kelly Lampe, Tom Robinson, Julie Ryan, Martha Salot and Trina Vanderzee, while one, Mike McKinnon, gained semifinalist ranking.

National Merit scholars are chosen on the basis of Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests, normally taken during their sophomore year.

Commended scholars cannot continue in the competition for scholarships, but they are identified to colleges and universities as students who "demonstrate exceptional academic promise."

Semifinalists may continue in the competition process to win scholarships offered by the National Merit organization, by corporations and by colleges.

Liggett Gets A Face Lift

Major improvements to University Liggett School, (ULS), facilities were made during the summer with the support of the board of trustees' Building and Grounds and Finance Committees, chaired by Laurence Buhl Jr. and John Vanderzee, respectively.

The maintenance program was based on priorities suggested by all school divisions. George Herbst, ULS director of financial affairs, and Anne Thompson, from Ford and Earl Design Associates, organized the improvement efforts, according to the school.

Building interiors received the most attention. Complementing the natural materials used to construct the Minoru Yamasaki addition on the Cook road campus, earth-toned carpeting was installed in all corridors and in the dining room.

Two projects highlighted efforts at the Middle School campus in Eriecroff drive. A listening station was built in the library for the music program, and a reading room was designed and extensively equipped with audio-visual hard and software. Additional improvements in the Middle School were made to the art, gym and dining areas.

Major acquisitions of classroom furniture and the installation of multi-hued student lockers contribute to the updating of the Upper School facility.

Throughout both campuses, extensive painting was undertaken and the first phase of a plan to update all classroom heating units for energy efficiency was begun. The Cook road campus kitchen underwent major equipment changes to update the quality of food service.

Frosh Parents Bid to South

The parents of all freshmen and new students at South High School are invited to attend a parents' night on Monday, October 15, at 7:30 p.m.

Parents will first meet as a group with the school administrators, William Mogk, principal, and Frances French, Donald Messing, Sheila Joyce and Charles Hollosy at 7:30 p.m.

Next the parents will meet with each child's individual counselor. This year's counseling staff consists of Richard Alexander, Jean Campbell, Norman DuCoin, Gerald Morrison, Robert Hanson, Teresa Lloyd, Vorita McClure and Cecil Vogt.

The counselors' objective is to inform the parents about attendance policies and to try to plan for each student's individual interests and future classes.

Saturdays Are Special For These GP Students

By Lara Measelle

Socializing and developing friendships are big factors in our everyday lives, but these common privileges are not available to many handicapped or retarded people.

To help, a program was formed 10 years ago, designed to bring handicapped and retarded people together to get them involved in a sport and, most important, to let friendships develop and to let these people take pride in their achievements.

The program is sponsored by Community Services and directed by Carl Schoessel, who is actively in charge and concerned with recruiting volunteers.

Dick Ralph and Joan Stanczyk also help organize the program, which began last Saturday at Brownell school, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The handicapped or retarded people, ranging from age one to 30, are taught the basics of swimming and stroke techniques.

Many of members of the group already know how to swim and spend time practicing or being with other group members.

During this hour and a half, the group members are engaged in water games with student volunteers and group leaders, meeting new friends and, most important, being with people who share the same problems as they do.

Many of the group members come to the program and work towards swimming in the Special Olympics.

This Saturday session is the only source of extra curricular activity for most of the group members. The group consists mainly of less severely handicapped cases. Therefore, the program is not federally funded by the government.

More programs for the handicapped and retarded are being discussed, such as a music therapy session, and a gym class. Many of the student volunteers are from South, North and other area high schools. People interested in being volunteers are encouraged to contact Community Services.

The program stops at Christmas for the holiday season, and starts up again for another session after vacation. It is scheduled for every Saturday from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The only requirement for volunteers is attendance at a Grosse Pointe high school.

Schools Plan Seniors' Class

"Seminars for Seniors," a tuition-free program for Pointers 60 years or older, will open on Friday, October 12, with the topic "Photography for You," presented by Helen M. Beaumont and Alice Case of the Grosse Pointe Camera Club.

The seminar meets every Friday for five weeks at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue, or Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue. The talks begin at 1 p.m.

On October 19, Dan Holley, Tom Conway and Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell will discuss a variety of topics.

One of the series highlights will be the October 26 meeting, a demonstration of Japanese Cooking by Eiko and Kazuo Ishimoto, the former owners of Imbari, a Japanese restaurant in Warren. This the only session to meet at Brownell.

Other meeting topics are "Opportunities for Senior Citizens" on November 2 and "Leisure-Time Activities with A Purpose" on November 9.

Interested persons should complete registration forms in the recently circulated Adult Education flyers and send them to Continuing Education, 260 Chalfonte avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236.

GPF Considers Law on Hours

An ordinance that would limit the hours of operation of restaurants, drug and grocery stores to 11 p.m. was set for a public hearing before the Farms Council on Monday, October 15.

The ordinance specifically excludes establishments licensed by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, and does not include gas stations or theaters.

Councilman Lloyd Semple

at a recent meeting questioned why gas stations weren't included, when what he understood was the impetus for the proposed ordinance was the upcoming move by the Standard On-the-Hill station to a location down the block, and noise concerns by residents in that area.

City manager Andrew Bremer pointed out that additions could be made to types of regulated businesses if the council desires.

Although not mentioned, the ordinance's inclusion of drug stores among regulated businesses came after the announcement that a Perry Drug Store will move into the Hill district next year.

Councilmen discussed the possibility of such an ordinance after it was learned last August Perry would be moving in. Several of the chain's stores are 24-hour operations.

The proposed ordinance, as written, makes a violation a misdemeanor, punishable by up to 90 days in jail or $500. Each day's violation is considered a separate offense.

If the council agrees the ordinance should be passed, it can do so at the October 15 meeting, with any amendments it feels are necessary.

Needs Students To Help Seniors

The Foreign Language Service Practicum at Wayne State University is seeking students who wish to earn credit by visiting foreign-born elderly in local nursing homes and conversing with them in their mother tongue.

Wayne State University students who can read, write and speak a foreign language can earn two credits per quarter through participation in the Practicum.

Students will be expected to perform a wide range of services including acting as interpreter for nursing home and community agency staff, translating documents, writing letters, reading aloud to those with failing eyesight and generally providing conversation and companionship to persons isolated because of the language barrier.

The needs in this area are tremendous, officials say. Over 900,000 persons in metropolitan Detroit declared a foreign language as mother tongue in the 1970 U.S. Census.

For further information, call 577-3024.

GP Park Group Names Officers

The Park Beautification Commission elected officers for the 1979-80 year at its meeting on Monday, October 1.

Elected were Cynthia Brooks, chairman; John Stevens, vice-chairman; Gail Urso; recording secretary; Carol Dettmer, corresponding secretary; and Frank Gildea, treasurer.

The commission also discussed recent tours of Jefferson avenue, Charlevoix road and Windmill Pointe drive and concluded that the area needs more trees.

NCCE Promotes Parent Rights

Do parents have the right to appeal their child's suspension from school?

Yes, parents in every state have this right.

This is one of 21 parent rights listed on a wallet-size card published by the National Committee for Citizens in Education, (NCCE), a parent advocacy group with more than 300 affiliates throughout the country and headquarters in Columbia, Md.

The card, first published three years ago, has been distributed free to more than 100,000 individual parents in all parts of the U.S., according to a NCCE release. A Spanish-language version has been given to tens of thousands of Hispanic parents. Since its first publication, the card has been revised twice.

The card was first prepared after all 50 states and the District of Columbia were surveyed to find out what rights parents had.

Some other rights parents in all states have are as follows:

- They may take legal action against a school official who has disciplined their child with "excessive or unreasonable" physical force.

- They can insist that their handicapped child be placed in an "appropriate" public school program. They also must be consulted about the evaluation and placement of their child.

- They may inspect all their child's school records and challenge those they think are untrue or unfair.

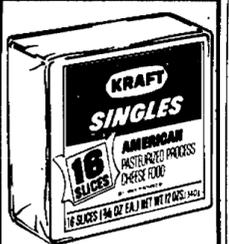

- They may appeal a school policy or decision that prevents their child from expressing controversial views that are not obscene or libelous and don't cause serious disruption.

Any parent or other citizen may obtain a free Parent Rights Card for their wallet or purse by simply calling NCCE's toll-free number: 800 followed by the letters N-E-T-W-O-R-K.

Schools and organizations that wish to distribute cards may purchase them in bulk for a modest fee.

Traditionally, wine has been named by the kind of grape that goes into it. It does not matter where the grape originally came from, as long as the grape goes into that wine. Another way that wines are named are from their place of origin. So we have the Burgundy, Chablis, Moselle, Bordeaux, etc. But what is confusing is that wines bearing a similarity in taste to these may be named the same though not come from the same region. So we have Chilean Burgundy, California Chablis, and Australian Moselle.

What's in a name? Well, a good way to find out is to come to PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit, and discover just how much our name can mean to you. From the traditional to the contemporary, from the everyday to the rare, we have the beers, wines and other beverages that have been delighting the tastes and fancies of our customers for quite some time. Handicapped Students Are Focus of New Law

The new federal law requiring public schools to educate all handicapped children also calls on schools to involve parents.

But are they? The National Committee for Citizens in Education, (NCEE), has surveyed parents across the country to find out how much their schools have involved them, according to an NCEE news release.

NCEE is a parent advocacy organization, with more than 300 affiliates throughout the country and headquarters in Columbia, Md.

The survey results will be announced this fall. In the meantime, NCEE is advising parents how they can make sure the schools are helping their child.

The law requires public schools to prepare an Individual Educational Plan, (IEP), for each handicapped student. The student's parents should have a say in drafting the IEP.

Here is what parents can do to keep tabs on what the schools are doing for their child:

- If, after evaluating your child, public school officials did not invite you to an IEP meeting, ask when the meeting will be scheduled. The law requires such a session.

- Before the IEP meeting, jot down questions you want to ask school officials. Make a list of what educational and special services you think the schools should provide. Bring the questions and list with you to the meeting.

- At the IEP meeting, make sure the plan will meet your child's special needs for learning how to take care of himself, how to master basic skills in academic subjects, how to get along with other people and how to master basic physical skills such as muscle coordination.

- Have school officials explain what specific steps will be taken over the short term, (three months), and the long term, (school year), to achieve learning goals.

- Find out how much time your child will spend in regular classes and how much time in special classes. Ask what school officials expect each type of setting to do for your child.

- If school officials admit that a certain service would be helpful for your child but that they can't supply it for one reason or another, ask for a full explanation. Then decide whether the service is important enough for you to press school officials to supply it.

- Find out when school officials plan to review your child's progress under the IEP. A date should be set, and you should be involved in the review.

Before parents leave an IEP meeting, they should ask about the process for appealing decisions made by school officials.

Parents may appeal school officials' evaluation and classification of their child as well as provisions made through the IEP. Parents also may appeal if they are being charged for services the school district is supposed to pay for. An appeal is initially made to the proper authority in the state education department.

Parents who plan an appeal should be prepared to show why school officials' evaluation and classification of their child is in error. This may be based on other professional opinions or experiences in other schools.

Parents also should be prepared to show why the IEP as decided by school officials will not meet the needs of their child. Again, this position may be based on other professional opinion and experience.

Park Woman Enjoys Hobby

Maralyn Domzalski of The Park has turned her high school hobby into a business. It's known as Sports Replay Inc., and that's pretty much what it is.

Better known as "charting a football game," it's an occupation familiar to football coaches and sports reporters, as well as diehard fans.

Mrs. Domzalski has put together a booklet which makes it all very convenient for charters. Known as "Chart A Game," it can provide the ardent fan with a library full of past games, play-by-play.

She is in the process of marketing her creation, and Sears Roebuck and Company is conducting a test on its national marketability.

An introductory mail offer of three booklets is available for $5.95, (also includes marking pens), by writing to Sports Replay Inc., Box 36598, Grosse Pointe 48236.

Local AARP Eyes History

Because of the size and expanding activities of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons, (AARP), officials felt that a concise review and updating of its origin, nature and purposes was necessary.

The national organization was formed 21 years ago and now has over 11,300,000 members and over 3,000 local chapters.

Until 1974, the closest chapter to Pointers was in Harper Woods. At that time a group decided to form a chapter in The Pointe. The first planning meeting took place on August 12, 1974, and a steering committee was formed. After considerable effort, the first general meeting of the proposed Grosse Pointe Chapter for all the Pointes was held on October 28, 1974, with Mrs. Nora Blixt acting as president.

Over 200 persons were present in the Fellowship Hall of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church and most signed up for membership. Local annual dues are $2 per person.

Many steps were taken to set up by-laws, incorporation papers, standing committees and other necessary adjuncts to qualify for national chartering. The charter was granted on October 27, 1975.

The membership grew rapidly and had to be limited to 700 because of limitations in meeting accommodations. Starting September 22, 1975, meetings have been held at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, and attendance is usually over 300. A waiting list has been established and vacancies are filled as they develop.

The officers, directors and committee chairpersons are 20 in number and have been effective in not only organizing meetings with speakers or events, but in planning trips, special affairs, educational programs and organizing special meetings for persons with special interests.

Not only do members do things for their own enjoyment, or to help each other, but the chapter has regularly been of service to others in the community, observing the AARP motto of "To Serve, Not to Be Served."

Regular meetings are usually held on the fourth Monday of the month, except in July and August.

Information about membership can be obtained from Mrs. Alfred J. Fincham at 882-3074.

Last Service Set at Salem

Salem Lutheran Church, 4743 Iroquois in Detroit, will observe its 92nd and final anniversary service on Sunday, October 14, with services beginning at 10:45 a.m.

Dr. Norman A. Menter, former pastor and presently Assistant to the President of Trinity Lutheran Seminary in Columbus, O., will be the guest speaker. There will be special choral music, with former members invited to join Salem's Chancel Choir.

This will be the last anniversary service, as Salem has voted to disband, and has recently sold the church. An invitation is extended to all former members and friends.

Cider Sipping Season Here

A stop at one of southern Michigan's 92 cider mills this fall is as traditional as raking leaves or following football, reports the Automobile Club of Michigan.

At many of the mills listed in the Auto Club's 1979 Cider Mill Guide, visitors can watch apple harvesting in nearby orchards and view pressing operations while sipping fresh cider and eating doughnuts.

Auto Club's guide lists 32 mills in southeast Michigan, 35 in west Michigan and 25 in east Michigan.

"Cider was one of the most popular drinks of early, rural America," explains Joseph Ratke, Auto Club's touring manager. "During the mid-19th century when three of every four Americans lived on a farm, homemade cider presses were as common as woodburning stoves."

Michigan ranks third in the nation in apple production and first in production of Jonathons and Northern Spies, two favorite varieties of cider apples.

Some mills offer custom pressing, where customers can bring their own apples and containers and pay the operator to extract the juice. The mills range in size from the tiny roadside stands with farm-size presses to huge operations with hydraulic presses and modern equipment.

"Some cider mills stay open all year, but the peak apple-picking season is from early September through October," said Mr. Ratke. "We advise persons interested in watching pressing operations to telephone ahead. Many mills operate on irregular schedules dictated by availability of apples."

The cost of cider this fall should range from $1.50 to $2.80 per gallon with doughnuts priced between $1 and $2.20 per dozen. Some mills allow customers to bring their own containers to save approximately 25 cents per gallon.

Persons can spend many hours at a cider mill enjoying such features as horse-drawn wagon rides, orchard tours, antique and gift shops and animal farms. One mill offers live country and western music on weekends while others offer pumpkin picking or winter activities such as cross-country skiing and sleigh rides.

PURPOSE IN LIFE
Folks who find something to be, something to do and someone to love, will lead an interesting and happy life.

Traffic Flow Eyed in Bid

A petition containing 45 signatures, seeking the Woods Council's aid toward alleviating "a dangerous traffic hazard in our neighborhood," was received from citizens living in Hollywood road by the solons at their regular meeting Monday, September 17.

The council unanimously referred the document to the Department of Public Safety, with a report back by the Monday, October 15, meeting.

Residents requested that all commercial traffic, (with a focus upon trucks), be banned from Hollywood from Mack avenue west to the city boundary.

They also asked that traffic exiting onto Hollywood from the Arnold's Drug Store parking lot located on the southwest corner of Mack and Hollywood be allowed to turn right only.

ECKANKAR A Way of Life Grosse Pointe War Memorial FRI. OCT. 19, 7:30 P.M.

Tel-Law, a free public service that turns any telephone into a handy source of legal information, has come to the Detroit area. Sponsored by the Detroit Bar Association, Tel-Law is more than 50 different pre-recorded messages on general legal topics.

To hear one of the messages over the phone, a person calls 962-1000 and asks the operator for the message the caller chooses from a Tel-Law brochure. The Tel-Law library includes messages on consumer protection, divorce, free legal aid, help for senior citizens, financial and employment problems, general law and other subjects.

"In order for our legal system to be effective, every citizen must know their rights," said John A. Krsul, president of the Detroit Bar Association. "Our Tel-Law program makes this kind of information readily available to anyone in the community free of charge."

Copies of the Tel-Law brochure are available from the Detroit Public Library's TIP service, the Detroit Police Department and the Detroit Bar Association.

"Lawyers have reviewed the messages and they are presented in clear, easy to understand English. Much of the information concerning everyday legal problems is relatively simple if it is put into everyday language."

Tel-Law lines are open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. However, Tel-Law is in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Anyone who calls Tel-Law after hours will hear a preselected Tel-Law message of general interest.

Mr. Krsul emphasized that Tel-Law information is not legal advice, and if a person has a legal problem they should consult their attorney.

Tel-Law is the Detroit Bar Association's solution to the long-time problem of getting information on everyday legal problems to members of the community.

However, the information supplied through Tel-Law will help a person determine the severity of their legal problem. "Tel-Law will never take the place of an attorney, but it may help a person decide whether or not they need one," Mr. Krsul said.

Nurse Joins South Staff

By Libby Dietrich After almost 10 years without having a full time nurse at South High, Judith Navarre has recently been appointed to man the school clinic.

A South graduate, Mrs. Navarre will be working with the Grosse Pointe Health Education Council with the Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation, sex education and breast self examination classes.

South High principal William Mogk explained how happy he is to have a nurse back in the school system. "I feel we have needed a nurse all along."

Even though Mrs. Navarre is employed full time at South, volunteer mothers are still needed. "I think the volunteer mothers are very important," Mrs. Navarre pointed out.

The Wayne County Board of Health is requiring all ninth through 12th graders to have immunization records brought up to date. This will take up much of her time.

After working in Saint John Hospital's emergency room and the East Side Pediatric Clinic, Mrs. Navarre said she liked the combination of both she finds in the school clinic.

She also stressed that she "wants the students to feel they can come down to the clinic for any kind of medical problem."

The telephone number of the Detroit Bar Association's Lawyer Referral Service is mentioned at the close of each Tel-Law message which refers people to lawyers if they feel they need to see a lawyer but do not have one.

Citizens can obtain a Tel-Law brochure at several locations including the following:

- All Detroit Police stations and mini-stations.
• All branches of the Detroit Public Library.
• Michigan Employment Security Commission offices.
• All seven Communities United for Action centers.
• The centers are located in Highland Park, Ecorse, River Rouge, Taylor, Inkster, Romulus and Sumpter.
• All five Oakland Community College, (OCC), campuses. Brochures are available at the library of each campus. OCC has campuses in Auburn Heights, Union Lake, Farmington Hills, Royal Oak and Oak Park.
• By calling or writing the Detroit Bar Association, 600 Woodward ave., Detroit 48226, telephone 961-6120.

Parents Night Set at South

Parents of South High students will find themselves in their children's shoes and classes, on Wednesday, October 24, as South sponsors its annual "Back to School Night."

The purpose of this night is for parents to go through their son's or daughter's classes. They will spend 16 minutes in each class, where the teacher will discuss class objectives and grading policies.

After this night of school, the parents will meet in the boys' gym for a social hour.

Classes will be in the faculty lounge in the old school building, Mack avenue and Audubon road.

The sessions also are open to inactive Catholics who seek membership and reconciliation within the Roman Catholic Community. Divorced and remarried Catholics are especially welcome.

There is no charge for the classes. Those wishing to participate should contact Fr. McCormick at 885-4960.

AARP Meets On October 22

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of AARP, (American Association of Retired Persons), will meet on Monday, October 22, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, at 1 p.m.

Featured will be a talk and discussion of insurance by Richard Edison of the Chicago office of the Colonial-Penn Insurance Co. This company has long cooperated with AARP to develop programs suitable and available to the elderly person, officials say. Those members who have Penn policies and have any questions should bring along their remittance cards.

On Monday, September 24, Vince Desmond of the Detroit Tigers public relations staff shared some amusing anecdotes and also predicted great progress in the next few years for the Tigers because of their present developing young talent, both on the team and in the farm system.

A slate of candidates also was nominated for next year's officers at AARP.

SH Resurrects Debate Teams

By Mark Clark
For the first time in several years South High School is financing a debate team, therefore making it a school activity, according to Mike Wasilewski, debate coach.

"At one time South's debate team was the best in the Metro area," said Mr. Wasilewski.

"With the help of some needed volunteers we again hope to be among the best. The more volunteers, the better they'll be prepared for the state tournament."

The varsity debate team is composed of Phil Gaglio, Greg Drajs, Richard Benoit and Mike Murphy, with the novice team including Kris Fellows, Carla Glidden, Sharon O'Keefe, John Hartzell, Paul Matta and Pam Kingwell.

These teams will compete against other schools in the district debate tournaments. The varsity team also will compete in the state tournament.

Volunteers are urged to contact Mr. Wasilewski at South during the school day. Experience is helpful.

Frank Kelley Eyes Headlee

Units of local government are prohibited from increasing the rate of an existing tax above that rate authorized by law or charter without the approval of a majority of qualified electors, said Attorney General Frank J. Kelley in a recent opinion issued to help clarify the Headlee Amendment approved by voters last November.

In a separate opinion related to the Headlee Amendment, Mr. Kelley said that the monthly tax of $3 assessed on mobile homes may not be increased by the Legislature because the tax is a local one paid to the respective municipality.

"The Headlee Amendment represents a new departure in terms of a constitutional limitation on government taxing and spending," Mr. Kelley said. "No Michigan court has yet addressed itself to interpreting the sections, (of law), added by the adoption of this proposal."

Questions directed to the Attorney General as a result of the Headlee Amendment have been numerous and complex, reports the news release from his office.

Mr. Kelley's most recent opinions related to the Headlee Amendment were in response to one question from State Rep. Claude A. Trim, who asked about the $3 tax on mobile homes, and State Sens. Harry A. DeMaso, Harry Gast, William Sederburg, Richard Allen, Alvin DeGrow, John Mowat, Donald Bishop and Robert VanderLaan.

The senators asked for an opinion related to the term "maximum authorized rate" as included in the 1963 Michigan State Constitution; an interpretation of the term "rollback;" and an answer to the question of whether special tax assessments are subject to limitations imposed by the Headlee Amendment.

After extensive research, the Attorney General said that the "maximum authorized rate" stipulates that local governments cannot increase the rate of an existing tax above that rate authorized by law or charter without the approval of a majority of qualified voters.

Under certain conditions, Mr. Kelley said, the property tax levy of a township must be "rolled back" unless the qualified electors in that township restore the tax rate or vote for additional millage.

"The tax limitations of the Headlee Amendment only apply to 'property taxes and other local taxes and state taxation and spending.' A charge imposed only on property owners benefited has been held to be a special assessment and not a tax.

"It is, therefore, my opinion that special assessments are not limited by the Headlee Amendment," Mr. Kelley added.

Players Ready for First Show

By Patty Gibney
Pointe Players, South High School's student theater group, will start off the year with a fall production of "Cactus Flower," featuring a cast of almost all new talent.

The play will be presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 15, 16 and 17, in South's auditorium, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

The "Cactus Flower" plot centers on how the characters are led to trouble by keeping a lie going. The four lead roles will be played by Betsy Pitt, Jeff Eisenbrey, Scott Patterson and Kathy Connell.

Other members of the cast include Mike Mahon, Terry Gibney, Brian Sullivan, Lisa Keegan, Jean Carter, Ted Parr and Diane Crea.

Other plans for this school year include a musical, for which director Bruce Keegen plans to thoroughly scout for "new talent." Mr. Keegen also asks that anyone having pre-1950 clothing, shoes and hats donate them to the acting group because a third floor fire at the school last spring destroyed many costumes.

It's limited to 20 students and the cost is $75 per person.

For further information, call Mr. Messena at 821-6619.

from 8 to 9 p.m. The fee for these classes is $22 for 10 weeks.

ULS Kickers 10-2-1; Win Tournament Spot

The ULS Knights Soccer Team started another winning streak by defeating Oakland Christian by a score of 9-0.

The Knights dominated the game with excellent defensive and offensive play. Jeff Kling scored with two goals, Jason Smith with one, Sal Cavaliere with one and Rich Carron with five goals.

The Knights kept on winning with a 3-1 victory over Cranbrook on September 28. The game was hard fought, but ULS made its shots count, while Cranbrook could hit only one shot. Scoring for ULS were Jeff Kling, Kris Robbins and Rich Carron.

The Knights took another victory Tuesday, October 2, winning a 3-0 game against Hamtramck. Most of the game was played in the midfield, but ULS's Robbins made one goal, and Carron, two.

day, October 4, 10-0. The Knights totally dominated the game and by winning guaranteed themselves a place in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference, (MIAC), tournament.

Players scoring for the Knights were Kling with two goals, Timo Elo with two goals, Smith with one goal, Carron with two goals, and Larry Van Kirk with three goals.

The Knights refused to lose, winning a hard fought game against Inter-City Christian, Friday, October 5, 4-3. The first half was a deadlock with both teams scoring twice, but in the second half ULS came out and scored two quick goals to clinch the game while their opponents could only get one back. Robbins hit one goal, Elo, two, and Cavaliere one goal.

Though a rigorous week for the Knights, it proved to be a very successful one. Their overall record now stands at 10-2-1.

ULS Netters Have Full Week

The past week was a long hard one for the University Liggett School, (ULS), girls varsity tennis team, which met some of its toughest competition. They presently rank number two in Class A.

North, a Conference A team, won six of seven matches, leaving ULS's record at 2-2. The number two doubles team of Amy Salot and Laura Barlow won the only match by a score of 7-6, 4-6, 7-5.

On Thursday, September 28, ULS played another home game against Our Lady Star of the Sea, winning this confrontation, 6-1. Overwhelming performances were given by number three singles player Shelley White with a score of 6-2, 6-0; number one doubles Julie Doerer and Carolyn Danaher, with a score of 6-0, 6-2; and number two doubles Amy Salot and Laura Barlow with a score of 6-0, 6-1. This brought their overall record to three wins and two losses.

ULS met South High School the next day and lost to the Conference A state champs, 0-7. The playing of the South team was unbeatable as they evened the ULS record again at 3-3. South has now been ranked number one in the state by the Michigan High School Tennis Coaches Association.

Friday night members of the ULS team housed the East Grand Rapids team, number five in the state, for their match the next day. All of the matches were close, but the ULS girls finally beat Grand Rapids, Seniors Carolyn Danaher and Julie Doerer at the number one doubles position, ended the day with a tremendous three-set match, defeating their opponents by a score of 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

ULS's total record is now 4-3 and they are presently ranked number four in the state.

South Makes It Two In a Row

Ted Formanczyk led South to its second straight victory last Saturday, October 6, as the Blue Devils crushed Roseville, 36-0.

It was no contest as South dominated from start to finish.

Formanczyk came up with 123 yards in 11 carries and three touchdowns. He had touchdown runs of 56, 11, and eight yards enroute to his biggest game of the season.

South's quarterback John Heidt hit Mike Smith for a 29 yard touchdown pass, and Mark Schneider intercepted a Roseville pass, and then ran 39 yards for a touchdown to round up South's scoring.

For the second week in a row South's defense did not allow the opponent to score.

South will play Port Huron in its annual homecoming game on Saturday, October 13, at 1:30 p.m.

SH Netters Perfect Again

Another week of perfect matches and quality playing was chalked up by South's girls varsity tennis team, as the final scores of the three matches played last week were 7-0.

The weeks started off with South defeating L'Anse Creuse North, 7-0.

Blue Devils doubles teams also had perfect scores, taking the matches 6-0, 6-0.

South went on to beat Port Huron in an away meet last Wednesday.

This week concluded with a 7-0 victory over Stevenson in the match played last Friday. This match differed from the other season matches as the team played eight game pro sets instead of the usual two out of three sets. The difference in the game scoring did not interfere with the teams playing as most every match had an outcome of 8-0 scores.

North High Swimmers Have 3-1 Mark

By Wright Wilson
Returning letter winners compose a large part of North High's girls swimming squad this year, as 16 return to this year's team, totally consisting of 28.

There are nine seniors, one of the largest senior groups the team has ever had. Two seniors rotate as the team's co-captains, and a vote is taken at the end of the season for the two demonstrating the best leadership.

The team, coached by Fred Michalik, stands at 3-1 so far, with decisions coming in four non-league dual meets. North beat Warren Tower and lost to Ann Arbor Pioneer, but more recently turned in fine performances, taking two meets from Warren Cousino and Rochester Adams.

Cousino was drenched, 134-37, on Tuesday, October 2. Frances Shook made the state cut in the 100-yard breaststroke, clocking 1:13.8. Other North winners were Jenny Elie, in the 200 free, Jane Beck with the 50 free, Jill Figley's 5:59 in the 500 free, Cheryl Stoyka in the 100 butterfly, and Amy Rentzler with the 100 free.

Colleen and Mary Walter, two transfer students from Fraser, won the diving and 100 backstroke, respectively.

North next defeated Rochester Adams, 93-78. Elie made the 100 free state cut, and the 200 medley relay also achieved that status.

The relay, composed of Shook, Stoyka, Jeannette

Metes, and Elie, clocked 1:56.1. Shook was also a double winner with victories in the backstroke and individual medley.

Michalik feels that North will not have such an easy time in the Bi-County League this time, as he remarked, "This will be the tightest Bi-County race ever. Lakeview and South look strong, but we'll still be in there, punching away."

North is in good shape at present, with three individuals and a relay qualifying for state so far. Besides the medley relay, (from the Adams meet), and Elie's 100 free, (also versus Adams), Shook has qualified in the 100 breaststroke, (versus Cousino), and the individual medley with 2:18.5. In addition, Stoyka also has made the cut in the breaststroke, posting a time of 1:11.1.

The North team opens its league schedule tonight, October 11, with a home meet against Lakeshore.

Successful at yet another invitational were the North High boys varsity, JV, and girls cross country teams.

The boys varsity squad defended its title at the Ann Arbor Pioneer Invitational, while the girls team captured second place.

The boys' total of 52 points was the highest of this season, but was still far ahead of second place Pioneer with 124 and Warren Mott, who finished third with 163.

SH Girls Are Running Well

The girls cross country team, with a 5-0 record, battled 16 other schools on a cold, rainy afternoon, Saturday, October 6, at the Ann Arbor Pioneer Invitational, coming out in the top five.

The league meet is coming up with four teams running and coach Steve Zarnak is confident of winning. Regional action comes after league and hopefully the team will qualify for State.

South defeated Roseville, 21-35. Finishing first in 1943 was Jane Wilson, with Valerie Stone running second in 20.15. South also had a win against Port Huron Northern earlier in the week, with the opponent having only three running, two under minimum to make it official.

North Gridders Make it 3-0

By Wright Wilson
Mud, rain and general slop accompanied North High's varsity football team last Saturday as it turned back Lakeshore, 10-0, renewing a fierce rivalry.

Lakeshore previously had a 24-game Bi-County League winning streak dating back to 1975, when the Norsemen beat them last. The Shorians won each of the games in 1976, 1977 and 1978, which had played important parts when determining the league champions.

North's victory puts them all alone in first place in the Bi-County with a 3-0 record. Lakeshore trails with 2-1.

The poor weather played a large factor in the game, as the ball repeatedly changed hands in the first half. With 1:30 left in the half, quarterback Bob Brown connected with Jim Rothlis for a 70-yard TD pass. The extra point was added by Jerry Bockstanz.

Bockstanz closed out the scoring midway through the third quarter with a 31-yard field goal.

The North defense's finest hour came in the fourth quarter with four minutes left in the game, as it held Lakeshore for a series after the Shorians had driven all the way to North's two yard line. This was the second shutout of the season for the varsity.

The JV, meanwhile, allowed Lakeshore 13 points,

By Tim O'Neill
Even though South High School wouldn't sponsor a sky diving club, three students took their first successful 3,000-foot plunge at Grand Blanc, Sunday, September 30.

The three students, headed by South Student Association President John Gillooly, jumped as part of the Detroit Parachuting Club.

Peter Albrecht, Jeff Griffith and Gillooly planned a second jump for Sunday, October 7.

The group couldn't get sponsorship from South because of the nature of the club and because of recent diving accidents.

The jump lasted four minutes, with the chutes opening in about three seconds.

"It was really excellent and we are going to do it again with more people, even though the school will not sponsor our activities," Gillooly said.

The original cost is $45 per person for the first jump, which includes four hours of instruction. The next jumps will cost $17.

SH Netters Perfect Again

Another week of perfect matches and quality playing was chalked up by South's girls varsity tennis team, as the final scores of the three matches played last week were 7-0.

The weeks started off with South defeating L'Anse Creuse North, 7-0.

Blue Devils doubles teams also had perfect scores, taking the matches 6-0, 6-0.

South went on to beat Port Huron in an away meet last Wednesday.

This week concluded with a 7-0 victory over Stevenson in the match played last Friday. This match differed from the other season matches as the team played eight game pro sets instead of the usual two out of three sets. The difference in the game scoring did not interfere with the teams playing as most every match had an outcome of 8-0 scores.

Correction

On last week's sports page, it was incorrectly reported that Glenn Piche was the quarterback during South High's varsity football victory over Mount Clemens. Actually John Heidt played at that position. On the same page, a story about the South girls tennis team listed the score of a doubles match with North High incorrectly. The score of the match, won by the team of Nancy Wright and Lee Robinson, was 7-5, 6-7, 7-5, not 6-3, 6-4, as was reported. The errors were due to incorrect information submitted by South.

Carelessness too often turns holidays into hollow days.

SH Timettes Aid Swimmers

By Bridget Janson
The Grosse Pointe community is well aware of the South High cheerleaders that "rah" the football players on to a victory, but very few people know about the girls in the short yellow skirts and navy crewneck sweaters, who support the boys swim team. These girls are known as Timettes.

"There are many duties of a Timette," said Patty Gibney, one of two head Timettes. "They include decorating the swimmers' lockers before a meet, baking cookies for them after the meets, and working at the meets so they run smoothly."

Gibney continued that many Timettes are needed to run a successful meet. The girls have many jobs, which include timing the boys, recording the scores, working the score boards and dropping the fail and start flags.

The work takes much time, but the girls feel rewarded because they have participated in a school activity.

The boys swim team starts its season in December, but the Timettes are already having bake sales to pay for new shirts and sweaters.

The Varsity Timettes for this year were chosen about three weeks ago.

The other head Timette is Lisa Nuyen. The rest of the squad consists of Kim Suhrheinrich, Whitney Semple, Bridget Janson, Lora Cross, Marianne Dennis, Meg Mercier, Molly Higgins, Peggy Higgins, Robin Overby, Amy Welsh, Michelle Stoyka, Diana Weinle, Patty Stricher, Gina Bartoszewicz, Sandy Boettcher, Julie Kirch, Sue Price, Katie O'Bryan, Marcy Taylor, Anne Rentz, Maureen Keelan and Kristin Ditmars.

Ford Accepts Hockey Post

Bruce A. Norris, president of the Detroit Hockey Club, recently announced that Henry Ford II has accepted the position of honorary chairman of the National Hockey League All-Star Banquet to be held next February 4 at the Detroit Plaza Hotel.

Mr. Norris, attending a National Hockey League board of governors meeting in Toronto, Ont., made the announcement to his fellow governors.

"I am elated that Henry Ford II, chairman of the board of the Ford Motor Company, would recognize the significance of such a venture and accept this position. Hosting the All-Star activities is just another example of the continuing renaissance of the City of Detroit, a project to a great extent spearheaded by Mr. Ford," he said.

Hosting the National Hockey League's premier attraction each year is rotated among all teams, and Detroit will not have the opportunity for another 20 years.

Customarily, all proceeds from the banquet are turned over to a charity, the selection of which is up to the hosting club. An announcement regarding this year's philanthropy selection is expected shortly.

ULS Golfers Sweep Pair

The University Liggett golf team boosted its record to 7-5 with two victories this past week. The victories came with the double medalist play of Steve Valice.

The first victory avenged a defeat two weeks earlier as the Knights beat L'Anse Creuse in a rematch. Valice shot a 39 and Jamie Todd a 41 to defeat the golfers from L'Anse Creuse 164-171.

After a rained-out match on Tuesday, October 2, against Country Day at Oakland Hills Country Club, ULS then scored its second consecutive victory at the hands of Clarenceville with a shaky 175, but that was good enough for the victory as its opponents shot a 178.

This week, ULS has its two toughest away matches against Cranbrook and Country Day which will decide the league champion for this season.

ULS Hockey Undeclared

The defending state championship University Liggett School girls varsity field hockey team is off to another perfect season with a 5-0-0 midseason record.

On September 25, ULS won its home opener, 1-0, against Maumee, O. The ULS team then traveled to Ottawa Hills, on September 27, for a well-played 2-1 victory.

The girls were victorious in their next two away games against Kingswood of Bloomfield Hills and Dearborn Fordson, with 1-0 scores in both games.

This past weekend, ULS coach Muriel Brock took her team to Shaker Heights, O., for its annual games against Hathaway Brown and Laurel. Although the journey to Ohio was a long one, the girls still displayed great quickness by defeating its opponents 1-0 and 5-1 respectively.

Captain Lisa Fruehauf has led the ULS attack with four goals. The other forwards are Chris Tolleson, Sheila Howenstein, Jennie Bencie, Sarah Thurber, BB Jewett and Annie McMillan.

The defensive squad includes Marianne Hernwick, Heidi Henkel, Martha Salot, Heather Robbins, Jennie DeMello, Patsy Roby, Tracy Taber and goalie Michel Ambrozy.

The JV field hockey team also has had a successful season to date, with an outstanding record of 5-1. After beating Kingswood 5-1 on Tuesday, October 2, and Fordson 4-1 on Thursday, October 4, the team set out for Cleveland for games against Hathaway Brown and Laurel on Saturday, October 6.

In the first half, Anne Gravel's goal put the team on top. However, Hathaway Brown came back in the second half to win 3-2.

After this defeat, the JV squad was determined to beat Laurel. Chrissy Ford's score in the first half gave the team the goal they needed to win the game against Laurel, 1-0.

South JV Gets Its First Win

By Joe Srebernak South High's JV football team recorded its first victory of the season Thursday, October 4, by defeating Roseville 8-6. The Blue Devils had been winless in four starts.

Roseville went ahead 6-0

early in the first quarter, driving down the field after the opening kickoff and running it in off tackle. They attempted a two point conversion, but failed.

South's touchdown came later in the first quarter after it drove from the 50 to Roseville's 36. A 20 yard pass from Kip Saile to Joe Yots brought them to the Roseville 16.

South tied the score on the touchdown pass from Saile to Yots. Saile ran the ball in for two points on a broken pass play.

In the second quarter, South was forced to punt deep in its territory, but a bad snap gave Roseville the ball on South's 10-yard line. After four plays and no success at scoring, Roseville turned the ball over on downs at the South eight yard line.

South's second play from scrimmage was intercepted at its own 15 yard line. South's defense again snuffed the offense from Roseville, this time pushing them back to the 19 before Roseville handed the ball over.

South also had a drive bog down, this time in the third quarter. Thanks to Tom Wilson's pass reception at the Roseville 35, the Devils drove to the 15, where they had a pass picked off at the 10 and returned to the 24.

Another drive of South's ended in a pass being intercepted by a Roseville player. Thanks to pass interference, South got the ball on Roseville's 11 yard line. The next pass was intercepted in the end zone, with 1:46 left in the game. Roseville failed to capitalize on this opportunity, and ran out the clock.

Port Huron Northern hosts the Blue Devils today, October 11, at 4 p.m.

South Tankers Split 2 Meets

By Mark Clark Mercy High School showed no mercy as it handed South's girls swim team its first loss of the season Tuesday, October 2, 65-8. South, however, got back on the winning track Thursday, October 4, as it beat Stevenson 128-27. South now stands at 3-1.

Tuesday's meet against Mercy was a disappointment, as the opponents won every event. However, a few outstanding swimmers were recorded by South.

Whitney Semple's clocking of 1:06.0 in the 100-yard backstroke and Sara McLeod's time of 1:11.4 in the 100-yard breaststroke were both good enough to earn them a spot in the state championships in November.

South came back in Thursday's meet against Stevenson to sweep all three places in every event except one in turning in an almost perfect meet.

South's 200-yard medley relay team of Julie Robinson, Mary Lou Coyle, Lara Measelle and Kathy Erley turned in a winning time of 2:05.1, and the 400-yard freestyle team of Erley, McLeod, Semple and Measelle turned in their best time of the year in 3:59.4.

Three more swimmers posted best times. They were Erley in the 100-yard butterfly in 1:04.9; Maureen Cross, the 500-yard freestyle in 5:47.0; and Julie Robinson's 100-yard backstroke in 1:12.9.

Other winners for South were Cross in the 200-yard freestyle in 2:10.9; Semple in the 50-yard freestyle in 26.6; Coyle in the 200-yard I.M. in 2:34.4; and the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:17.8. Winning the diving was Lori Giesekeing with a score of 139.12.

South was scheduled to swim against Mount Clemens Tuesday, October 9.

Change in Recreation Patterns Is Predicted

The limited availability of gasoline will curtail recreational activities that involve traveling long distances by car and will increase the use of recreational resources closer to heavily populated areas, according to a Michigan State University Geography professor.

Michael Chubb has spent three years researching the relationship between recreation and energy.

He predicts that people will cut back on how often and how far they drive, and that they will become more selective about the places they choose to visit by automobile.

"Recreation occupies one-third of Americans' time," Chubb says. "Half of the automobile driving in this country is related to recreational activity."

He has concluded that several changes in travel patterns are likely. Extra-urban trips will be shorter and less frequent and tend to involve only one main destination. People will generally stay longer at one place on extended vacations.

Fewer people will drive distances of 100 miles or more on weekend trips, and vacationers will stay at a central location from which they can travel short distances to sites in several directions.

"Because people in some regions are afraid gas stations won't be open, they tend to go only as far as they can go and come back on one tank of gas, about 75 to 100 miles," Chubb observes.

Resorts that have relied on weekend vacationers may enhance their business if they alter their facilities and programs to appeal to people on extended vacations, he suggests.

They would then have an advantage over more distant resorts that rely on vacationers who live more than 100 miles away and travel by car.

And conservation measures must be undertaken to reduce gasoline usage, Chubb says. Trains are an efficient method of mass transit, but to rebuild outdated railroads to support extensive rail traffic would require millions of dollars.

"Gradually, the bus is going to make a comeback," Chubb predicts. "Many people will resume taking buses to vacation areas, particularly to get to ski resorts far from urban areas."

"It appears the gasoline supply is likely to remain at current levels for some years," he adds, "if the supply were very low and gas rationed, tourism would suffer."

"However, if gas were rationed under current circumstances, tourism could actually be enhanced in some areas. If people have enough gas to get to work and make other necessary trips, they could save their gas coupons and travel long distances."

Chubb says governments on all levels will be pressured to provide more and better opportunities for people to engage in activities like camping, swimming, boating and fishing in areas closer to home.

Parks, theaters, libraries, sports stadiums and museums in out-of-the-way locations may have reduced attendance, but those in central locations, as well as traveling shows and exhibits and special community events, should be well attended.

The shift to utilizing urban recreational resources could have several positive effects. State and national parks, currently stressed by overuse, may receive fewer visitors.

Urban parks may become safer when more people use them at night, with a decrease in vandalism and littering as more people come to value the area.

Public facilities may receive more financial support as recreation is viewed as an essential rather than an optional service.

More people may become actively involved with the planning, protection and maintenance of local resources, to the benefit of people in urban areas with limited recreational opportunities.

Chubb emphasizes the need to develop public transportation systems. This is especially important for the poor, unemployed, elderly and disabled.

Without public transportation, these people will be left with almost no recreational opportunities at all, he says.

What Goes On at Your Library
By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

Community theater has been a fixture of American cultural life for a long time. It's growing and capturing a fair share of the entertainment market. In our part of town we have several, and they are well patronized. They do a good job and you don't have to drive that far. Mostly they offer the tried and true, the successes of the recent past, guaranteeing everybody a good time. You're not taking a chance. But once in a while an amateur group will take a flyer on something different and that's okay too. You know it when you buy the ticket and if you don't enjoy it, you can always let it drop that you support "avant garde" theater or whatever. Just kidding. There is a definite place for original work and the off-beat and community theater is one of the best places for it.

But no matter what the production, one thing is certain—a lot of sweat, long hours, frayed nerves and love have gone into it. The cast on stage is but the tip of the iceberg.

While the audience is busily engaged by the action on stage, people backstage are watching too, waiting for that moment when a particular responsibility must be carried out, and fast. That's the production or backstage crew busily engaged in keeping things moving just right. Getting the production to run smoothly takes good organization and lots of know-how.

Know-how is the subject of the books noted here and they are sure to be of use to even veteran theater workers.

A HANDBOOK OF THE THEATRE (Heinemann Educational Books), by Esme Crampton is a practical setting-forth of fundamentals aimed at both professional and amateur. Theater history even up to the present day is highlighted. The nature of drama is discussed and along with many practical suggestions the "average production schedule" is especially helpful.

Another handbook by Jean Dalrymple, THE COMPLETE HANDBOOK FOR COMMUNITY THEATRE (Drake), concentrates on the amateur and so is more basic in orientation. Particular problems of amateur groups are addressed beginning with picking the play and ending with the post mortem.

THE COMPLETE PLAY PRODUCTION HANDBOOK (Crowell), by Carl Allensworth is a fuller discussion of some aspects of production. Five chapters are devoted to the role of the director. Two chapters cover acting technique and approach to a part. This book is good for schools and colleges as well as community theater groups.

The art of direction is the subject of DIRECTING IN THE THEATRE (Theatre Arts Books), written by well-known English director, Hugh Morrison. He sees the role of director as the star performer of the whole effort, being the link between the playwright and actor, capable of bringing about new approaches and giving shape to the play. In all this book is a pleasing mixture of theory and practice.

Technical discussion vis-a-vis the gathering and making of props is found in THEATRE PROPS (Drama Book Specialists), by Motley. The main section of the book consists of a series of articles by experts in the field.

SCENE DESIGN AND STAGE LIGHTING (Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc.), is the third edition of a very successful technical book by W. Oren Parker and Harvey K. Smith. Many new techniques and production styles are included with emphasis on more expressive use of stage lighting. A new section on color use has been added to this edition which is basically a teaching text.

Theater mavens will note on these books just because the subject is so familiar and cherished by them. But theater-goers with no experience or knowledge of backstage life will find the discussions revealing and informative providing yet another dimension for the enjoyment of theater.

Letters to The Editor of The NEWS

To the Editor:
The predominant community response to the demise of the Grosse Pointe Youth Services Division, (YSD), has largely consisted of retrospective gratitude and quiet resignation.

However, the supporters of the view that an agency like YSD is no longer needed are overlooking a critical function that the agency and others like it had successfully performed: the diversion of juvenile first offenders away from the juvenile courts and the dehumanizing experience of institutional proceedings.

It is important for our civic leaders and members of our community to recognize that Center Point, a community service organization sponsored by the Family Life Education Council, (FLEC), and funded largely by private contributions, has the resources, the supervision, and the professional consultation services to take on YSD critical function of prevention and diversion within our juvenile justice system.

Center Point already has the resources to counsel juvenile first offenders referred by our local police departments. This kind of service is necessary in a progressive community and is a valuable organization in our community to help young adults and families in crisis.

Sincerely,
Jane K. Hoey,
Chairperson,
Center Point Advisory Committee,
FLEC Board

our area. Pedestrians, mothers with baby strollers, bicycle riders trying to cross Mack in the snow buildup on the parkway, motorists trying to cross to get to the bank, doctor's offices, shops, soon caused that mistake to be rectified. We appear to need King Solomon types on our city council since the best solution is lost to us, that of extending Eight Mile Road through Brys Woods, where it could have fed through-traffic into Mack avenue.

The barricades were planned to reroute traffic down Helen street to Vernier, a move which if implemented will add about a mile to my driving distance. Multiply that by weeks, a year and hundreds of gallons of gasoline can be wasted by the hundreds of motorists taking that route.

Vernier is a residential as well as a multiple-lane thoroughfare. And what about its two schools, Parcels and Mason, with the extra traffic that entails? Won't traffic buildup problems occur next spring when street widening operations commence, a measure brought about as a result of the fatal accident to a student at the corner of Mack and Vernier?

Doesn't the traffic count include residents of those streets who may make several trips a day pursuing errands, as many of us do? Who speaks for the maligned motorists, the through-traffic victims? The neighbors just a couple of blocks away, like myself who have lived in the area for more than 13 years. On the other side of Mack we're also aware of the increase in traffic on our streets. We are a natural route to the many fine new homes that have been constructed in northeast Grosse Pointe Woods.

A new church has been built which attracts hundreds of people to this corner of Grosse Pointe Woods, with its popular exercise and adult education classes, nursery school, neighborhood fairs, bingo nights!

Some of our children have grown up in just that number of years and now drive their own cars and vans, adding to the traffic increase.

We are no nebulous stream of motorists heading for distant regions. St. Clair Shores neighbors drive our streets just as we use theirs. Those of us who have used Brys/Eight Mile as a direct route, (not a short cut), to stores on Harper, the Eastland Center, and Eight Mile Road as well as the I-94 expressway know only too well the speeding cars that endanger our children too!

We must make a constant effort to guide them into playing on the sidewalks not in the street and to crossing the streets carefully. This is one small reflection in the excellent record that Grosse Pointe Woods has for traffic safety.

Must we not all share the burden, since we are all the ones who create it? A tactic should be tried that would be more fair to all.

Why has the proposal to create one-way streets in the heaviest traffic-flow area been steadfastly rejected? Brys could be one-way going west, starting from the alleyway close to Mack. This would preserve the parking spaces on either side of the street and allow for a turnaround for patrons of businesses facing Mack.

Roslyn could be one-way going east with the same exception for two-way traffic close to Mack.

During the heaviest traffic-flow periods signage could be installed at Roslyn and Helen to divert half of it to Hampton, instead of at every corner to divert traffic to Vernier. How about creating humps across the busiest streets to further slow down over-the-speed-limit motorists?

Our "suburban war" has threatened all of us with the possibility of lawsuits, the banning of commercial vehicles serving Grosse Pointe Woods from Harper Woods streets, the boycotting of local businesses. Plus a threat to start drives to cut Grosse Pointe Woods' community development grant from Wayne County and to cut money from state highway funds.

The National Fire Underwriters Board would be made aware of the increased response time the barricades cost emergency vehicles—a move that could lead to higher insurance rates for Grosse Pointe Woods residents and businesses. How can our city solons even consider replacing the barricades? Do they consider these threats unlikely to be carried out? I'd rather not test it myself.

Vernier road does not need more local traffic to add to the noxious fumes our children already have to breathe in as they walk to school. Junior High students still ride their bicycles precariously across Vernier at Sunningdale. And Grosse Pointe doesn't need the false reputation of being a snobbish community, trying to seal itself off from the rest of the world.

Yours truly,
H. W. Martin,
Of Brys Drive

meaningful and essential cost-of-living allowance.

According to the consumer price index, as of August 1979, cost-of-living statistics for wage earners in the metropolitan Detroit area show an increase of 13.5 percent for the year.

To compensate Social Security recipients for the soaring increase in consumer prices, payments were raised 9.9 percent in July of 1979. The resultant increase in Social Security deductions from teachers' paychecks further erodes the Board's present economic offer.

The Board of Education considers the teachers and librarians of the Grosse Pointe School System among the best in Wayne County. But, in comparing teachers' salaries in other Wayne County public school systems, we find that Wayne-Westland, Plymouth and Riverview offer much higher salary schedules.

For example, under the present terms offered Grosse Pointe teachers and librarians, the masters degree maximum salary in Grosse Pointe would be $25,513, while the maximums in Wayne-Westland and Plymouth are $27,281 and $27,020 respectively.

The Board is offering lower salaries to Grosse Pointe teachers than teachers in less solvent school districts are currently receiving.

We cannot have the public services we want, a prestigious public school and library system, under the Board's present economic offer. More cannot be had for less.

Sincerely yours,
Bob Button,

To the Editor:
Citizen spokesman Bruce Van Farrowe of Brys drive stated in a recent column in this paper, that the City of Grosse Pointe Woods' responsibility is to protect the interest of its citizens. This is in regard to the brouhaha of the barricades on Brys, Roslyn, Hampton and Ridge-mount.

Is a small segment of the population being overprotected, while denying the rights of the majority of taxpayers east of Mack avenue? Who speaks for us? People like myself who somehow thought they had a right of thoroughfare after driving those streets for more than 13 years.

The barricades which came down last week, may go up again. They created little islands of security for some people, but created dissension with our good neighbors in Harper Woods.

We have a mutual police and emergency fire pact with them and need to maintain cooperation and friendly relations between the two communities as well as with our St. Clair Shores neighbors, whose streets regularly serve Grosse Pointe Woods traffic.

How else could we get to our churches, supermarkets and our lakefront park, located in St. Clair Shores?

We have been confused by traffic signs that seem to appear and disappear with mysterious regularity, traffic studies that seem to offer no "please everybody" solutions and an unbelievable barricade across Brys and Roslyn at Mack avenue, last winter.

We have a large concentration of senior citizens in

One of the major unresolved issues in negotiations between the Grosse Pointe teachers and Board of Education is teachers' salaries.

The Board has made an offer of a nine percent increase per year. The negotiating team for the Grosse Pointe Education Association has rejected the offer because it does not provide a

To the Editor:
The majority of metropolitan Detroiters now feel good about and safe in a downtown to which almost half come monthly and in which one in five now say they would like to live.

But even though serious crime downtown decreased 40 percent in just two years, less than half the population recognizes, or believes, that such a dramatic reversal has occurred.

These are the central findings of a comprehensive study released at a news conference recently by Citizens Research Council of Michigan and the Webber Foundations.

Citizens Research Council, a private, non-profit public policy research organization, directed the study of 1968 to 1977 crime statistics and trends, the people and economic structure of downtown Detroit's 1.75-square-mile, 125,000-daytime-population 1st Precinct and surveys of public attitudes toward crime and the downtown.

The Webber Foundations provided the initiative for the study, as well as funded a large portion of the study and survey expenses.

The improving image of the downtown was identified through a random sampling of the tri-county population in November 1978 which found that almost three-fourths of the respondents expressed optimism about the future of downtown Detroit. And three-fourths also felt safe alone downtown during the day. This sense of security dipped to one-third after dark.

"A further expression of optimism," said Robert E. Pickup, a Pointer and Citizens Research Council vice president-executive director, "is the fact that 27 percent of tri-county respondents expressed interest in downtown Detroit housing if it is made available in the next five years."

If a significant portion of the demand materialized from the large number of persons the survey sample represents, he said, the area would be transformed by such a large influx of new downtown residents and housing.

The study also found that three-quarters of tri-county residents had been downtown in the year prior to the survey, with only 15 percent of Detroiters and 30 percent of suburban residents not having been downtown. More than 40 percent said they came downtown more than once a month, a response representing almost 1.5 million adults. While seven percent classified themselves as working downtown, 17 percent reported coming downtown at least once a week.

Serious crime in the 1st Precinct declined 40 percent between 1976 and 1978, the study found. From a mid-decade peak of 9,740 cases in 1975, a dip occurred in 1976, followed by an extremely sharp decline to 6,310 cases in 1977. In 1978, serious crime dropped to the lowest level—5,644 cases—in the 11 years of the study. 1968 to 1978.

Crimes against persons—homicide, rape, assault and robbery—were down 28 percent to an average of four crimes against persons a day in 1978 from an average of seven such crimes a day in 1975.

Crimes against property—burglary, larceny-theft and auto theft—fell 43 percent to an average of 11 a day in 1978, compared with the 20-crimes-a-day average of 1976.

But only 40 percent of the tri-county respondents interviewed in the November 1978 opinion survey believed that crime in Detroit's 1st Precinct had decreased in recent years, while an equal percentage thought it had remained constant or had increased.

Mr. Pickup said surveys commissioned by New Detroit from 1971 through 1978 indicate that "the relative importance of the crime problem in the public mind varied from year to year as crime totals varied, but with a time lag.

T&C Is Winner for Children's

Everyone wins in the annual Tennis and Crumpets tournament. Hundreds of participants enjoyed play in Grosse Pointe under beautiful skies Saturday and Sunday, September 15 and 16, and the field was narrowed with four couples emerging victorious at the finals the following Saturday.

Scott Davidson and Frances Evans were the Open Class winners. The A Division was captured by Roger Powers and Toni Robinson, the B Division by John Valenti and Sue Blashill, Stewart McMillan and Diane Kingswell took C Division honors.

The city-wide T&C Superfinals, hosted by the Farmington Racquet Club Sunday, September 23, pitted finalists from The Pointe, Oakland County, Dearborn and Downriver areas against one another.

Scott Davidson and Frances Evans took Open Division honors. Oakland County swept the A, B and C categories, making them overall tournament winners.

The 12th annual tennis tournament not only brought enjoyment for all participants but was a "winner" for Children's Hospital of Michigan which, as always, reaped the benefits of T&C's financial success.

Inside the Mothers Club

Anne Cowley, a member of Grosse Pointe South High School's English Department faculty, spoke on the Writing Consultant Program, a new service available at South High this year, at the South High School Mothers' Club board meeting Monday, October 1.

Through this program, both teachers and students may consult with one of six English teachers to get help with writing assignments in "non-English" classes.

Some of the program's goals are to raise the quality of writing in all disciplines, to dispel the myth that writing skills are only for the English Department, to help students with contests, to set up a materials file and to help students with writing problems.

Teachers will be able to get advice on how to create a writing assignment, how to present writing information to their classes, how to write a research paper and what to check a paper for. The six teacher consultants will be available during school hours as well as before and after school, upon request.

Various Mothers' Club committee reports indicate that October has turned into a busy month on the Mothers' Club calendar. Besides all the activities involved with South High's Homecoming this Saturday, October 13, there is the Friday, October 19, Mothers' Club benefit performance of "Guys and Dolls" at the Alger Theatre.

And South High's annual Back to School Night is scheduled for Wednesday, October 24. The Mothers' Club has traditionally provided refreshments for parents during the social hour portion of the Back to School program, but this year John

Annual Benefit Planned By Detroit Review Club

The ballroom of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club will be a blaze of fall colors when members and guests of the Detroit Review Club gather there at noon Thursday, October 25, for DRC's fund raising luncheon, fashion show and bridge party.

Mrs. James Mullaney, of Hillcrest road, DRC first vice-president, is in charge of the benefit this year. It's been a once-a-year event since 1895, four years after the club was organized in 1891, and remains DRC's only annual fund raising activity.

Mrs. Robert Kefgen, of Wicks lane, DRC president, will be acting in a dual role at the 1979 philanthropic party: as official hostess and coordinator of the fashion show.

Talented Mrs. Harry Graham, of Vernier road, heads the committee that has been busy making tallies in colorful leaf shapes. Fashioning handmade candles is Mrs. Graham's hobby, and she is using her own in the luncheon table centerpieces.

The gold, green, yellow and orange candles will be circled by greens and centered on yellow linen tablecloths. At the end of the afternoon, the centerpieces will go home with a lady at each table.

Yellow chrysanthemum plants are to line the runways where fashions by Da-wood Boutique will be shown, with commentary by Mrs. Alfred W. Massnick, of Lochmoor boulevard.

DRC member models will include Pointers Mrs. Marvin Beaupre, Mrs. Francis J. Robinson, Mrs. James Stuart, Jr., and Mrs. Leonard Wise. Others are Mrs. Robert Gerisch, of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Stephen Moreland, of Farmington Hills, and two DRC past-presidents, Mrs.

Mrs. Francis M. Quigley, of Shore Club drive, has designed several stunning money trees which will be among the prizes given away. Mrs. Litchfield and Mrs. Beaupre will be receiving the prizes that DRC members have been asked to donate.

Mrs. Beddo and Mrs. Ansel Rice are accepting reservations. Donation is $8.75 including the luncheon, fashion show and bridge.

Enjoy Music For A While

Music For A While opened its fourth season last Friday, October 5, in what may be the ultimate setting for chamber music: the gallery of the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House in Lakeshore road, where the elegantly carved vault ceiling, beautiful Oriental rugs and spectacular view of Lake St. Clair added luster to an already-popular concert series.

The program opened with Zigeunerlieder, Op. 103 and Op. 112, sung by Nancy von Oeyen, Pamela Powley, Phillip Mooney and Carroll Strickland. Janet Young, of Loraine road, was at the piano.

She was joined by Elizabeth Peterson, of Bedford road, for a performance of 15 Hungarian Peasant Songs by Bartok.

The final group of songs, Schumann's Spanisches Liederspiel, Op. 74, were sung in various combinations by von Oeyen, Powley, Mooney and Strickland. Pianist for this part of the program was John Guinn, Detroit Free Press music critic.

Two more concerts are scheduled for this season. Roma Riddell, soprano, of Bishop road, Susan Ivers Barna, flute, Lawrence LaGore, of Three Mile drive, piano, Patricia Terry, harp, and Elizabeth Watson, French horn, will perform Sunday afternoon, November 11.

The series closes Friday evening, March 21, with the piano duet team of Ellison and Lindemulder, (Alice Ellison, of Roslyn road, and Laurie Lindemulder, of Balfour road), mezzo-soprano Elsie Inselman, Lawrence LaGore, piano, Minka Christoff, cello, and Virginia Shover, of Hampton road, piano.

An afterglow in the Ford House's beautifully appointed dining room follows each concert. The series is sold out for the current season.

Women Awards, the presentation ceremony is returning to its original site—Detroit.

As of this year, 122 honorees from the United States and other parts of the world have been designated Northwood Distinguished Women. The presentation ceremonies have been held in a different city each year, and previous honorees are invited back each year to applaud the new recipients.

Three fellow Pointers, Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy, Mrs. Wilber Brucker and Mrs. J. Addison Bartush, will welcome Mrs. Larson to their Distinguished Women ranks. A fellow member of Marian's Distinguished Women Class of '79 is Helen Wallbank Milliken, wife of Michigan's Governor.

Marian Larson chaired the first Muscular Dystrophy organization in Michigan for the purpose of fund raising, but her primary project now is Northwood.

"I am solely devoted to Northwood because of the 100 percent support given by Northwood to all graduates going into the world," she explains. "No other college can claim this, and I am extremely proud of Northwood's complete independence from all government help."

Distinguished women have always been attracted to Northwood. A group of them, women who have received honorary degrees from Northwood and women who have received Achievement in the Arts Awards, form the executive committee of Northwood National Women's Board, chaired by former Senator Margaret Chase Smith.

The board, founded in 1959 and now 1,800 members strong, has been instrumental in promoting the college, aiding in job placement, providing scholarship funds, underwriting new curriculums, raising money and in general serving to advance Northwood's management of education and free enterprise philosophies.

These are Marian Larson's philosophies. Her own life has been spent largely as a wife and mother, but she's never been "just a" housewife, "just a" mother, "just an" anything. She takes the world view, and that view brings her into the world.

She was born in Cobalt, Ont., spent her childhood in Michigan and California, modeled for movie designer Adrian in Beverly Hills before her marriage to Carl Edward Larson. They had four children: Signe, Robert and Reese Larson, and the late Lynn Larson.

Music has always been an important part of Marian's life. She was a student at the Meglen Dance Studio in Hollywood, and has sung through the years with various a capella choirs.

WSU Frosh Want Better Jobs

The typical Wayne State University freshman is a political moderate who ranked in the top quarter of his high school class and is attending WSU to "get a better job" and to "learn more about things."

These and other characteristics emerged in a survey of 1,000 WSU freshmen selected in a computerized random sampling from among those who never before attended any college.

The survey was part of a nationwide poll of more than a quarter-million first-time freshmen at 566 institutions of higher learning, coordinated for the 13th straight year by the American Council on Education and the University at Los Angeles.

Six of every 10 respondents to the WSU questionnaire said they were middle-of-the-road politically. Another 30 percent termed themselves liberal. Nationwide percentages for those two responses were 54 and 27, respectively.

Just 9.7 percent of the Wayne State freshmen called themselves conservative, compared with 17.4 percent in the nationwide poll.

More than 75 percent of the WSU group listed "get a better job" as a very important reason for attending college and 72 percent checked "learn more about things." Both percentages followed the national average.

In the WSU group 68 percent ranked academically in the top quarter of their high school class, 1 percent above the nationwide norm. More than 95 percent were in the top half, compared with 92 percent of freshmen nationwide.

Nearly 49 percent of the WSU respondents reported high school grades averaging A-minus or better, 11 percent higher than the national norm. Wayne State frosh apparently are aware of grade inflation, however: 74 percent agree that "grading in high school is too easy," 6 percent more than the nationwide result.

Nearly 59 percent of Wayne State freshmen reported estimated parental income between $15,000 and $35,000, compared with 52 percent of all students answering that question.

But 25 percent of all institutions reported parental income of $35,000 and up while only 10.5 percent of the WSU frosh come from families at that income level. At the other end of the scale, 31 percent of WSU's freshmen reported parental income of less than $15,000 compared with 23 percent nationally.

Percentage variations may be explained partly by the fact that 35 percent of all students polled had a father whose occupation was "businessman" while just 20 percent of the WSU group gave that response.

Conversely, 19 percent of the WSU respondents reported their fathers were "skilled workers," compared with 8 percent nationally.

More than 48 percent of the WSU group—compared with just 20 percent nationally—reported they plan to work part-time to finance college expenses. Just over half of the Wayne State frosh said they are receiving parental aid of $600 or more but, on a national basis, four out of five are.

Among WSU freshmen 65 percent expect to make at least a B average, (49 percent nationally), 82 percent expect to earn at least a bachelor's degree, (81 percent) and 75 percent expect to find a job in their preferred field, (75 percent).

On some issues, Wayne State freshmen as a group were strikingly more conservative than the respondents comprising the national norm. Some examples:

Only 24.5 percent at WSU said they would violate laws in opposition to their own views. (31.1 percent nationally); 48 percent at WSU said abortion should be legalized, (61.6 percent nationally); 33.6 percent at WSU said it's all right to live together before marriage, (46 percent nationally); 35 percent at WSU said sex is permissible if people like each other, (51 percent nationally); 44.6 percent said marijuana should be legalized, (52.4 percent nationally).

Paris Di Santo, vice-president, director and general sales manager of Johnstone and Johnstone realty firm, addressed the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Counsellors on Thursday, September 20, at the War Memorial.

The Grosse Pointe Counsellors, (formerly Grosse Pointe Women's Counsellors), is a professional real estate group whose membership has expanded to include mortgage people, attorneys and others whose interests are related to the exchange of properties.

On the third Thursday of each month, the group hosts an educational program. On October 18, Douglas Graham of Standard Federal Savings and Loan will discuss mortgage interest rates, the general economy and present a mortgage guide for buyers and real estate.

For further information, call Barbara Wirth of Schweitzer's at 886-5800 no later than Monday, October 15, for luncheon reservations.

The Musica Series of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will open its fifth season with 400 Years of Music for Trumpets and Organ on Sunday, October 14, at 16 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m.

Artists will be Arthur Vidrich, who is a blind organist, and trumpeters Byron Pearson and David Brown. The program will feature music of Albinoni, Bach, Hovhannes, Gervaise, Manfredini, Peeters, Persichetti and Vierne.

Mr. Pearson is assistant professor of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music and has performed with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, the New Orleans Philharmonic and the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Brown is principal trumpet with the Toledo Symphony Orchestra and has performed at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Vidrich began his musical training at the age of eight as a student at the Western Pennsylvania School for Blind Children. As a student at the University of Michigan he became the first visually limited student in the history of that institution to earn the doctor of musical arts degree.

Admission is $4 for adults and $1 for students. A catered reception will follow in the lounge.

You know about Posh quality fabrics, lovely prints and excellent workmanship. Drop by and enjoy the newest styles that preview spring. Although it's nice to think about vacations in warm sunny climates the reality for now is Michigan weather . . . chilly beautiful fall and cold white winter. When the first snowflake falls be ready with a stunning pewter poplin coat lined with Australian opossum from Count Romi. You'll be warm and fashionable in a pretend wolf coat with double breasted good looks belted with off white leather and brass. It is from a collection of man copied furs that includes a wolf jacket that closes with brass toggles and is edged and lined with tan poplin. A favorite fur trimmed coat is a classic cut of spot beige brushed wool with a dyed Norwegian blue fox collar. There are also smart untrimmed wool coats to take you fashionably thru fall and winter. Anglo wove an interesting boucle black wool for a fitted coat with interesting button down the side styling. Distinctive good looks is seen in a gray wool coat edged with gray leather around the stand up collar and down the front. A gray leather belt slips thru the waist gathering it. Warm up for winter with a new coat from Walton-Pierce.

The warm, rich look of real wood is what you'll find in Wood-Mode, Rutt and Coppes cabinets. Each is custom built for your new kitchen, or any room in your home. At Mutschler Kitchens, Inc., 20227 Mack Avenue, 884-3700.

MRS. JAMES L. SCHUELER, OF WHITTIER ROAD

By Janet Mueller

It was one of those domestic moments in the basement — laundry in one hand, detergent in the other — and the phone rang . . . and Sally Schueler said to the lady from the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's nominating committee, "Sure: why not? I've been assistant recording secretary; I wouldn't mind moving up a notch."

And the voice on the other end of the phone said, "You don't understand. We want you as president."

Fortunately, Sally's not easily thrown. With six sons, you get used to rolling with the punches.

"We have a very special family. Ten years ago, we combined his and mine into one busy household."

Starting at The Top There's James L. Schueler, Jr., who has just moved with his wife, Katie, and their children, three-and-a-half-year-old Sara and James, III, a year-and-a-half, from Littlestone road to Battle Creek.

It was a business move. James, Jr. is with Clark Equipment Company, regional sales manager for its Great Lakes Division in Battle Creek.

There's John Robert, now with the Atlanta Newspapers, formerly with the Miami Herald as assistant circulation manager. He's just purchased a bachelor house.

There's Stephen Cary, in his fourth year in the Navy. He's Quartermaster on the S.S. Lang, which left in March for ports all over the world. In July, the Lang picked up its first Boat People.

There's David, an Accounting major in his second year at Michigan State. Since David is a basketball fiend, he's terribly happy about his choice of a university.

There's Peter James, who has just entered Eastern Michigan University. Peter was in Band and Orchestra at Grosse Pointe South High, and hopes to see something of Russell Reed in Ypsilanti.

And in Conclusion Finally, there's Michael, at 17 the last one at home. He's busy working on the senior float for South High's Homecoming this Saturday, and he's reveling in all the peace and quiet this year, enjoying the best "munchies," phone, car and television stations. Michael is on the South High swim team.

So how has Sally kept her sanity? "All you need for success in this family is a continuous conveyor belt from the grocery store directly to the kitchen."

Actually, she's been having

Tour of Homes, Sally's painting of an iris was among them.

This year, the Garden Center's House Tour prizes have been donated by local merchants. Sally is pictured with them in the photo above.

The House Tour is the BIG event on the Garden Center's fall agenda. It's coming up the weekend after next, Saturday and Sunday, October 20 and 21.

"We have a history, a tradition, of procuring the most beautiful homes in the Pointe for our tour, and the Pointe has some of the loveliest homes in the United States," Sally says. This year is no exception.

House Tour Homes The six 1979 tour houses are Mr. and Mrs. John P. Jagger's brick Colonial in Buckingham road, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bigelow's Farm Colonial in Bedford road, the Italian-style residence of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer T. Heenan in Bishop road, Mr. and Mrs. Bill O. Brink's Edgemore road Colonial, the Tuscan villa in Lewiston road that is home to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ruffner, Jr., and the French-style residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley in Irvine lane.

They'll be open between 1 and 5 o'clock tour days, and tickets will be available at each of the tour days — but those in the know plan to get their tickets in advance, for with each ticket comes a brochure telling what to look for in each house, with a map telling how to get from house to house.

Tickets are $6 each. They may be obtained at the Grosse Pointe Garden Center Room on the second floor of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, (its telephone number is 881-4594), or at the War Memorial office, (881-7511).

In the three years since she's been a Garden Center member, Sally Schueler has gotten to know that room well. Its windows overlook the lake and gardens. It is beautifully appointed, with a comprehensive gardening library for the community's use and convenience. Visitors are welcome at any time.

The Garden Center is open on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, from 10 in the morning to 4 in the afternoon.

Garden Club Affiliates There are 21 garden clubs affiliated with the Pointe Garden Center, which has a membership of more than 700, and Sally Schueler and the Garden Center board would like to see each of those clubs use the Garden Center Room for one meeting a year. To become familiar with it . . .

After all, Sally was an avid gardener, member of the Reservations may be made at Mr. McCourt's, The Mole Hole, Jacobson's Children's Department, The Small Scene, TenO'Clock Schollar, and Village Shoes.

Grosse Pointe Book Village's "Once A Year 10% Off Sale" runs through October 20 at 16837 Kercheval, in the Village. The entire stock of the Book Village is on sale for this special happening (except magazines, clearance, sale, and special order books). It's a great idea for these inflationary times, when books make the best lasting gifts!

MR. and MRS. JOHN FAULKNER, of Warren, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, REBECCA JANE, July 29. Mrs. Faulkner is the former SANDRA REINMAN, daughter of the JOSEPH REINMANS, of Ridgmont road. Paternal grandmother is MRS. LILIAH FAULKNER, of Romeo.

MARISA DIDUR, as a Grosse Pointe South High School senior, daughter of MR. and MRS. RICHARD DIDUR, and MARK HACA-LA, as a Grosse Pointe North High School junior, son of the MARTIN HACA-LAS, participated in a recent Trendsetter Workshop sponsored by Central Michigan University's Department of Journalism.

DAVID F. HANSEN, son of MR. and MRS. TOBEY HANSEN, of Crescent lane, was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration during Ithaca College's spring commencement. David, a University Liggett School 1975 graduate, was chosen for Delta Mu Delta national honorary society in Business Administration, named a teaching assistant and elected vice-president of the Budget Commission for Student Congress. His biography appears in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Harsens Island Garden Club and The Pointe Garden Club, content with them, before she really knew anything at all about the Garden Center. Except that it was there. Somewhere.

Came a phone call, asking if she'd be interested in joining the Garden Center. "That telephone call was one of the nicest gifts I've ever received. It led to a wonderful association with a group of women who are like a second family: women who are devoted, who really accomplish things."

So when the second phone call came, asking if she'd consider making the leap from secretary to president, what could Sally say?

She'd gotten so much. Now it was giving time.

"I've never been president of anything!" But in three years she'd learned the secret of the Garden Center's success. In the Garden Center, if you need all the help you can get, you'll get it.

Works Both Ways (The Garden Center's pretty bright that way, too. If the Garden Center finds someone who can do a good job, that person will get a good job to do).

Pre-Garden Center, Sally Schueler admits she didn't know what she was missing. Now President Schueler would like to spread the word: "We sponsor Bonsai classes, workshops, fall and spring lectures and horticulture and/or flower shows. Members receive mailings of garden literature and a newsletter."

All for annual dues of $5, $10, or $20 for Active, Sustaining or Contributing memberships, respectively.

You know the Trial Gardens located on the lakeshore at the War Memorial, focal point for innumerable receptions and community activities over the past 27 years? The gardens that have won many awards and enriched the lives of thousands?

They are planned, planted and maintained by volunteers from the Garden Center and its member clubs, and Sally Schueler has just three words to say about those voluncoming text series, and is writing a teen novel. Jo Wunsch's short fiction and non-fiction have appeared in a number of national magazines. She is the author of a modern suspense novel, "The Aerie," and of three teen novels, "Flying Skis," "Passport to Russia" and "Summer of Decision," and has just completed a new mystery novel and a teen novel.

Both are interesting, articulate professionals, typical of the creative writers who will be speaking at Oakland, where information on the schedule for one or both days may be obtained by contacting the Conference Department, 377-3272.

McCreight's Book Is Out

Speaking of writers . . . John L. McCreight, associate pastor for Parish Life, Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, is the author of "Adding to The Church Daily," published last month by the C.S.S. Publishing Company, Lima, O.

Mr. McCreight was educated at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary and Muskingum College, New Concord, O. He received a Doctor of Ministry degree from Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, Calif., and has been a leader in helping to create structures for effective church life.

"Adding to The Church Daily" is described by the publisher as a basic one-year program for new member recruitment that would be an excellent resource for the pastor and lay leader in any congregation.

An Extraordinary Experience

It was an extraordinary event: Pope John Paul II joining in an ecumenical prayer service with leaders of eight Protestant and Orthodox Christian religions in Notre Dame Chapel, tucked away in a tree-shaded corner of the 28-acre Trinity College campus in Washington, D.C.

It was an extraordinary experience for the 600 guests gathered in the chapel last Sunday, among them a mother-daughter team of local Trinity alumnae: Marcella (Mrs. Bartholomew A.) Seymour, who moved recently with her daughter; Dorothy, to Harbor Hill after many years' residence in Edgemont Park, and Isabel (Mrs. John W., Jr.) Fitzer, of Bloomfield Hills, who followed in Marcella's footsteps at Trinity and is now a trustee of the first Catholic women's four-year college in the United States.

teers, who DO show up: "They are fantastic!"

Trial Garden Fund

The Tour of Homes is the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's only fund raiser of the year, but the Trial Gardens are supported by the Garden Center through a special fund, the Vincent DePetris Memorial Fund, living tribute to a loved and honored Pointe horticulturist who was one of the Garden Center's founders nearly 30 years ago.

The fund, an ongoing and very active Garden Center project, has a goal of $30,000. It was advanced substantially thanks to a recent benefit concert by brilliant young coloratura soprano Elizabeth Parcells, a native Pointer.

But there's still a ways to go . . . and President Schueler and her board, and all the Garden Center members, hope there will be widespread financial support in the community, so the DePetris Fund will truly represent the interest and involvement of all those who find the use of the War Memorial, its ground and facilities, and the Garden Center such a rewarding experience.

Contributions are tax deductible and may be made to Grosse Pointe Garden Center — DePetris Fund.

You can drop them off when you drop in at the Garden Center to pick up your House Tour tickets.
