"This is entirely new to any of us," said Mr. Petersen, while Director Dankel stated he was "floored" over it, indicating he feels its a defect in the legislation. However, with the five-man EMT concept, he said the job could still be done if such is the case.

Views Financing
 Meanwhile, officials also learned there was a possibility that the city could receive a six-month extension. But it would first have to be approved by the Southeastern Michigan Council on Emergency Medical Services, according to City Attorney George Catlin based upon his review of state statutes, not by the public health department. This will be further explored by officials.

In his report, Mr. Petersen recommended three options including the establishment of an EMS division. The two others were to provide an EMS program with current personnel, (which the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Association opposes), or to contract with an area municipality, (but nothing appears immediately feasible, he noted).

interim costs for six months could come from such sources as the current budget's contingency fund, (partial), municipal improvement fund, capital improvement fund, (general fund), parking enterprise fund and a monthly service charge added to the water-sewer bill.

The Best Way

"Every source of revenue to help offset the costs to provide such state-mandated service should be thoroughly reviewed. Included as possible revenue sources are the following: (1), resident and non-resident user fees, (2), contractual fees with other cities, (3), transportation fees with area hospitals," he noted.

les Amendment" also was cited in this respect.

Potential Source

Acknowledging this concern, Mr. Petersen cited the January 1 deadline, while noting he hoped through attrition in public safety that some so-called excess positions could be eliminated. He also said the demise of the Youth Service Division, (as all men were Woods officers), compounded the situation.

As a potential source of revenue, Mr. Petersen indicated the city could make its ambulance service available to Saint John for the transportation of patients between hospitals or clinics, if hospital officials are interested.

For his part, Mr. Novitke, in citing the long deliberations on this issue, felt it was a necessary service which the city should provide and that lack of action shouldn't be prolonged any longer.

On the new EMS division, Mr. Petersen cited several advantages including an immediate solution to the problem, complete control over the standard of service and good response time. Five men also would enable the department to retain a 40-hour week.

Disadvantages include a considerable increase in budget requirements and an additional build-up of departmental manpower.

On financing the new division, Mr. Petersen felt that

Of all the options, Director Dankel called the creation of a new EMS division the "neatest, cleanest, most effective way to provide a quality service."

And with this approach, Det. Stephen Petrik, president of the local union, said he could live with it as long as the new personnel don't handle fire or police work.

The projected cost increases and the need to explore potential revenue sources was foremost in the minds of council members.

Mr. Grady, for instance, felt the option was the most extravagant in terms of cost. He indicated if five personnel were added, consideration should be given toward eliminating five other jobs as it would be difficult to administer the 1980-81 budget in maintaining the tax level. The limitations of the Head-

Stolen Items

(Continued from Page 1) contacted police around 2:55 a.m. on the 6th after he heard his dog barking and looked out his window. He spotted a pick-up going along the drive with its lights off. It stopped and the suspect exited, removed a bench from a neighbor's property and placed it inside the vehicle, police said.

Cpl. Thomas Kerving and Officer Michael VanDeGinste responded to the scene, received the information and ultimately stopped a pick-up, matching the description of the wanted vehicle, on Cook road.

The driver also matched the description of the suspect and a white wrought iron bench was discovered inside. Police also said, while en route to the station, the man asked, "How did you catch me?"

In an interview with Exe. Lt. Jack Patterson and Det. Thomas Podeszwick, Borden admitted taking the bench from the Fairway drive home. Upon being questioned about other thefts of wrought iron furniture in the area, police said he admitted taking such articles at other times over a month and a half period prior to his arrest.

Borden ultimately gave Dets. Hamel and Stephen Petrik permission to search his home in relation to other stolen furniture from The Woods area. Police stated he filled out and signed a voluntary permission to search form provided by the department.

A search of the home and garage resulted in the confiscation of the 17 pieces of furniture including chairs, love seats, flower boxes and a table.

Board Visits Ford House

Some of Grosse Pointe's few remaining mansions, the 60 room Edsel & Eleanor Ford Home on Gaukler Point, was the site of a workshop for almost 50 public school administrators and members of the Board of Education on Friday, November 16.

The workshop was held to consider "future challenges the district will encounter and to clarify the roles of the trustees and administrators in meeting those challenges," according to Carl Schoessel, assistant to the superintendent for community services.

Curtis VanVoorhees, chairperson of the department of administration and supervision at the University of Michigan, addressed the workshop on "Board-Administrators Relationships."

The trustees and administrators also enjoyed dinner and cocktails in the 51-year-old house, which was recently listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

Designed by architect Albert Kahn in the English Cotswold style, the house is not open to the general public for viewing but regularly hosts charitable functions and benefits and cultural events.

The house, situated on 65 acres of lakeshore property, is maintained by a full-time staff of 25, financed by a $15 million endowment left in the will of the late Eleanor Ford.

The house has been maintained almost exactly as Mrs. Ford left it when she died in 1976. Only a few paintings, donated in her will to the Detroit Institute of Arts, have been removed and replaced by reproductions. The remaining furnishings are intact.

Home, Business Security Survey to Start in Woods

As part of its developing Crime Prevention Program, the Woods Department of Public Safety will begin an inspection of homes and businesses on Monday, November 26, as part of an unfolding security survey in the community.

"We want to offer to home owners and business people a building security check which will take about a half hour," said Exe. Lt. Jack Patterson.

Noting the program is a voluntary one, the lieutenant stated, "We'll make an evaluation of the home or business place regarding security and offer recommendations on any weaknesses via a check-off sheet that the individual may have."

For purposes of covering the entire city, the department has divided the municipality into seven sections with all of them ultimately being canvassed. Three of the sections are west of Mack avenue and four are east of Mack.

Officers will begin with the southwest section of the city—an area encompassing the municipal building on the north, Mack on the east, the Seven-Mack Shopping Center, south, and the Harper Woods border on the west.

Crime Prevention and Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook will spearhead the program. Both he and Lt. Patterson indicated any citizen who is in a hurry for such an inspection may call the department at 886-2700 and officers will respond within a day or two to the home or business.

"We'll check the perimeter of the building, exterior doors and windows, shrubs and lighting and make recommendations to the citizen," said Officer Crook. Obstructions to vision and any potential hiding places also will be viewed.

Inside, officers will offer suggestions for storing valuables, while citing the "Operation ID" program in which valuables are all marked with the resident's driver's license number. Fire prevention, e.g., smoke alarms, also will be discussed.

"We'll give a copy of the checklist to the citizen and hope he or she volunteers to have a follow-up check. We want to know if the people follow through," said Officer Crook. "We are looking at simple, inexpensive actions for citizens to take on home and building security."

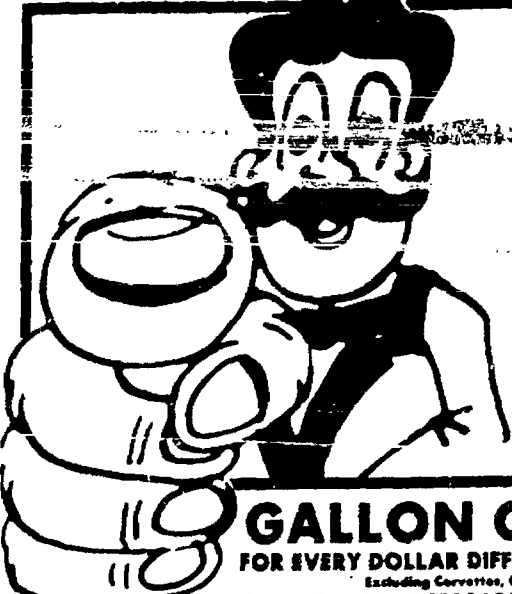

A key objective of the program is to deter criminals from entering a home or place of business. "We can follow up after a break-in occurs but we want to attempt to do this before an incident happens," the officer stressed.

All officers, including those in uniform and in plain-clothes, e.g., detective bureau personnel, will be program, with Officer Crook noting, if a citizen says he is not interested in an inspection as yet, he will be given a card discussing the survey.

He then can call the department at a later date if he desires.

Officer Crook added all officers will have proper identification when approaching the residents, although not all will probably be in uniform.

Christmas is right around the corner and with it comes the traditional Christmas concert and tea sponsored by South High Mothers' and North High Parents' clubs.

The event, a free Christmas gift to the community, will take place Friday, December 7, in the North High Performing Arts Center, 707 Vernier road, at 1 p.m.

The choral program will be presented by the South High A Capella Choir under the direction of Charles Gleason and the North High Choir directed by Herman Clein. Music selections have not yet been chosen.

The tea will immediately follow the choir's performance.

Co-chairmen for the event are Sally Bernard from South and Terry DeClaire and Jean Azar from North. South student choral president Terry Gibney and North student choral president David Oberiski also will be helping with the concert and tea festivities.

South choir member Lorri White commented, "I think it's great that the choirs from both schools can get together and sing for Christmas."

Bed Cutting Report Viewed

(Continued from Page 1) cense, it can apply other pressures, like refusing to approve certificates of need, which are necessary for any capital expenditures over $150,000.

It is conceivable, then, that a hospital could be forced out of business over a period of years because it couldn't expend funds just to bring the facility up to code, explained one hospital official, who asked not to be identified.

Provide Impetus Enforcement wouldn't take place, however, until the hospitals have been granted five years to achieve the bed cutting objectives, according to Glenn Wesselmann, executive vice-president and chief operating officer at Saint John. During that period, it is expected that area hospital officials will meet to discuss ways to help each other out.

Options include merging or consolidating services. Mr. Wesselmann noted Saint John, he said, has a responsibility, just as the other hospitals do, to get involved in discussing such options.

Such talks have actually been going on for years, but the CHPC plan may provide the impetus for more serious consideration, sources say.

The CHPC scores were based on a set of criteria designed to measure the role of the facility in the community, and how well the hospital utilized its facilities.

For example, a question asked how many births occur in the hospital's obstetrics unit each year.

Since more births obviously take place in a larger unit, hospitals with smaller units and those who don't use them to capacity suffer under such criteria. However, one question actually asks whether the hospital has less than 200 beds. Negative points are received by those who fall short.

These are the criteria objected to by Ralph Wilgarde, administrator of Cottage, who termed them "unfairly biased" and "a direct attempt to put (hospitals under 200 beds), out of business."

Other criteria judge the makeup of the hospital's governing board. Specific questions relate to the consumer representation as well as residency, age, sex and racial makeup of the board.

Saint John, by CHPC standards, gained points for its neo-natal intensive care unit, its cardiac catheterization unit and its coronary surgery. They were rated as "areas of uniqueness" and "high utilization," Mr. Wesselmann noted.

Hospitals with teaching programs were afforded an advantage by the CHPC criteria. Saint John has a teaching program; Cottage and Bon Secours officials had no formal reaction to the news of the proposed cuts.

Public Relations Director Wanda Walls said the hospital hadn't been officially notified of the proposals, which call for a 21-bed reduction there. Sources said the hospital lost points for inadequate utilization of its pediatrics and obstetrics units.

Mr. Wilgarde, whose hospital would be by far the hardest hit of the three, said he didn't know what would happen to the hospital if the bed cut numbers were upheld. That reduction of about one-third capacity, he said, "may not be enough to support all the ancillary services we have."

Mr. Wilgarde said he can't see how a merger with Bon Secours would help the situation as no beds would be cut by such a move.

The intent of the bed cutting plan is to make hospitals in the group scoring the lowest, (including Cottage), go out of business, or consolidate. However, some hospitals may be leery of merging their services because they are unsure of how anti-trust legislation may apply to them.

Court cases so far have indicated that hospitals needn't fear such legislation.

CHPC will hold a public hearing on the proposal on Thursday, December 13, at its offices in the Book Building, downtown Detroit. The plan then must be approved by its board of directors.

After that, it goes to the Statewide Health Coordination Council (SHCC), which also must approve or modify the plan. Mr. Farley said that because the recommendations for southeastern Michigan are more specific than for the remainder of the state, they are likely to be taken seriously by SHCC.

SHCC then passes the plan on to the Department of Public Health, which may or may not approve it.

Should the measures ultimately be adopted, hospitals would surely challenge the findings in court. Mr. Wilgarde already has said Cottage "will take every legal recourse open to us to fight bed reduction."

CHPC is one of eight health systems agencies (HSA), in Michigan. It is empowered by state law to prepare a plan to reduce excess hospital capacity in areas needing it.

CHPC's 29-member debedding commission is composed of representatives of the health care industry, industry, labor, insurance and consumers. The commission has worked since November 1978 on its debedding plan.

Revised District Court Bill Goes to Legislature

By Susan McDonald

State Sen. John Kelly said this week he will present a drastically revised version of his Grosse Pointe district court bill to the legislature next week which he is confident will be approved before the Christmas break.

Major revisions have been made in the proposal in line with resolutions recently approved by three local city councils. The court system has been trimmed down considerably—from two districts for the five Pointes to just one district and from four appointed judges to two.

The new version also postpones the implementation date until January 1981, instead of 1980 as originally proposed.

The revisions came after almost two months of public hearings and private meetings with local officials. This month three councils took formal stands on the issue. They agreed on only one aspect: Grosse Pointe should form a single district.

The courts in Grosse Pointe and East Detroit are the only municipal courts left in the State of Michigan. Conversion to a uniform state court system was ordered in the 1963 constitution.

A district court will give Pointers their first local full-time court of record where civil cases, up to $10,000, as well as criminal cases, may be heard.

The cost of such an operation has been of major concern to local officials and firm estimates of start-up and operation budgets are not available.

Sen. Kelly has requested a $500,000 appropriation to finance a new court facility, but he is not optimistic about funding this year.

"Our hands have really been tied as far as seeking financing for the conversion," explained Sen. Kelly's Administrative Assistant James Garavaglia.

"But once we get the legislation moving, with support from the local councils, I think our chances of getting some money will improve."

Construction of the new facility may involve more than just a new court facility, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach of Grosse Pointe City.

"If we do decide to build a new facility, I think the Grosse Pointes should consider incorporating a central dispatch, (for police and fire), and a central lock-up in the building as well," Mr. Kressbach said at the Monday, November 19, council meeting.

"It may force the price of the building up to $1 million, but it might be well worth it from the cost-saving point of view."

The City Council was the latest group to take a formal stand on the court issue on Monday. It unanimously approved a resolution calling for a single Grosse Pointe district, with one judge, elected in 1981.

The Shores Council was the first to formally speak out on the court issue. Village President Gerald C. Schroeder presented a policy statement at a public hearing last month that called for one district for The Pointe with two judges.

The Farms Council on Monday, November 12, also approved the two-judge, one-district version and added a request that the district be drawn up into two divisions, one containing The Park and City, the other The Woods, Farms and Shores. Judges would run for office from each division.

All three councils opposed the "grandfathering" provision of Sen. Kelly's original draft which would have made all four of Grosse Pointe's current judges into district judges for the first two years of the court operation.

That provision was taken out of the draft when it was revised down to a two-judge system.

Sen. Kelly said he initiated discussion of the district court proposal because of frequent talk in the Senate of including Grosse Pointe in a reorganization plan for Detroit's court system.

Inclusion in a Detroit system would be against the best interests of Pointers, Sen. Kelly said, because of the sharp differences in the communities and the possible costs involved.

Maire Kids Visit Capitol

The White House, the U.S. Capitol, the Supreme Court and the Library of Congress were some of the sites that 45 fifth-graders from Maire School visited earlier this month on their trip to Washington, D.C.

This was the 26th trip for the students, but the first time they had flown. The fifth graders offset part of the cost of their trip by sponsoring fund raisers.

While touring the Arlington National Cemetery, the fifth graders witnessed the changing of the guards and took part in a wreath laying ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Lisa Gilbert and Mickey Vyletel laid the wreath in behalf of the Maire School students.

While visiting the U.S. Senate, Michigan Sen. Carl Levin met with the students for a question and answer session. The students also ordered a flag, which had flown over the Capitol, for their school.

Murder Investigation

Mrs. Clyne, 44, left the office of a psychiatrist On-the-Hill at 6 p.m. Wednesday, October 31. A frequent long walker, she was known to walk a route east on Kercheval to Kerby, north on Kerby to Charlevoix and west on Charlevoix to her home on McMillan.

According to police, she rarely deviated from this route. Mrs. Clyne also had a very distinctive walking stride, they said, striding with her shoulders thrown back. Described as a shy woman, police said it was "extremely unlikely" she would have entered the car of a stranger.

Her fully-clothed body was found by a nearby resident in the bushes along the sidewalk on the north side of Kercheval between Merriweather and Lothrop about 6:40 p.m. She had been stabbed 11 times with a narrow bladed instrument in the left chest and side.

Sgt. Van Tiem said further autopsy results were not helpful in determining the angle of the attack, apparently because of the number of wounds inflicted. It is still unknown whether Mrs. Clyne was stabbed on the street or dumped from a car after the attack.

One thing is known; she died at the place she was found. Police have determined this from the leaves and twigs she was clutching when found.

A state Police hypnotist also was brought in to interview people close to the case last week.

MORE ELDERLY WOMEN

The ratio of men to women aged 65 and older has been dwindling since the turn of the century. According to government statistics, in 1900 there was an approximately even number of men and women aged 65 and older, but by 1977 there were only 68.7 men for each 100 women of that age.

Thieves Enter Woods Home

Thieves entered a Brys drive home and took around $1,600 in assorted currency and a wedding ring of unknown value, according to a report received by Woods police.

The incident, which was reported Friday morning, November 16, apparently occurred on Wednesday, November 14, when Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Montreuil went out to dinner.

The citizens contacted police after discovering that some articles in the house were moved and ring missing. They also said the side door wasn't locked when they went out to dinner.

Leave your problems in the dark—that will make the world brighter for everyone.

GPW Police Report Three Break-ins in Two Days

Three burglaries of residences, including one in which the culprits maliciously destroyed the interior of a home, were reported to Woods police within a two-day period earlier this month.

Besides the vandalism in the Saturday, November 10, break-in of Arthur Keller's Broadstone road residence, Det. Charles Philip Hamel said a number of items were reported missing including an oriental rug, valued at around $1,000, two shotguns, a rifle, a portable color TV, portable radio, a stereo and a tape recorder.

In noting the entire house was ransacked, Det. Hamel stated the vandalism included a series of acts such as dumping unpacked boxes on the floor, (the citizen only moved in on Saturday, November 3), and throwing the contents around the rooms.

The destruction also included kicking or throwing five quart cans and a gallon can of red paint into the basement, with the gallon can spewing its contents on the floor at the bottom of the stairs.

Besides that, the culprits poked holes in some living room furniture, and sprayed the refrigerator, living room walls and furniture, some clothes, stairway walls, a hallway and bedrooms with green paint.

Police said entry was gained by breaking out a piece of plywood in the family room door and then reaching in and unlocking it.

In another burglary also reported on the 10th, thieves entered the home of Gordon Miller in Woods lane.

Det. Hamel said some ransacking of the premises took place, with the culprits taking around $400 in cash, a stamp collection of unknown value, a black and white television set and two jewelry boxes with articles of unknown value.

In this incident, police said entry was gained via a side door leading to the attached garage. After entering the garage, the thieves removed hinge pins from the door leading into the home and pried it open.

On the 9th, Mrs. Elena Portera of Broadstone road reported that her home had been entered.

Det. Hamel stated around $3,000 in cash was taken, along with a large collection of gold and diamond jewelry of unknown value, a roll of 25 Susan B. Anthony dollars and several silver certificates in $1 and $5 denominations.

Entry was gained through a glass door at the rear of the home, with the sliding door being pried open.

The detective added that the citizen is offering a $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of suspects and the return of the jewelry. Anyone having such information should call Det. Hamel at 886-2700.

To Eye Tragedy On TV Show

A former Park resident and her husband will discuss on an upcoming segment of the Phil Donahue Show the loss of their son in relation to what she says were pressures put on them by the Christian Science church in 1977 to keep him away from medical treatment.

It will be aired on Thursday, November 29, at 9 a.m. on WJBK-TV, Channel 2.

Dr. Rita Swan, who has since moved to North Dakota, said two children between the ages of one and 14 died in The Park in 1977. "The parents of both children were Christian Scientists, members of a church which rejects medical treatment, diagnosis and immunizations for children and adults alike," she states.

Her son, Matthew, died of the Hemophilus influenzae form of meningitis at 16 months of age after what she called "12 desperate days." Dr. Swan said she now wants to alert the public to adopt laws for the protection of Christian Science children.

She said she contacted "Phil Donahue's people and they immediately decided to do a show on it." In noting the show was taped Monday, November 5, Dr. Swan indicated she related her experiences to the host and audience and then answered questions.

New School Opens in Park

There is a new concept in education taking root in Kercheval in The Park. Jack and Jill Nursery School, with its new owners Sandy Gillespie and Donna Ireton, has been remodeled physically and conceptually.

A private school which offers parent involvement and a creative environment, it emphasizes the child's self-concept. It is open to children 2½ to 5 years old.

Visitors are welcome anytime between 9 and 11 a.m. on weekdays to observe the new school. For further information, call 885-2537.

HEALTH CARE PROBLEMS

Nearly 25 percent of all Americans (51 million), including millions of older persons in rural or inner-city areas, do not have factory access to health care services. Another 28 million Americans who have no insurance coverage at all must be cared for in public facilities subsidized by local, state or federal funds.

Juvenile Counseling Discussed

The YSD handled all crimes involving youths in The Pointe and included counseling in its program. FLEC is a non-profit organization "dedicated to the strengthening of the family unit through community oriented programs." It has operated Center Point, located in a building behind the Grosse Pointe United Church, for eight years.

Free of Charge

"Center Point has a long history of counseling young adults in a crisis," said Jane Hoey, FLEC board member and chairperson of its Center Point advisory committee.

Counselors from Center Point receive 60 hours of training in emphatic listening skills, values clarification and problem solving. The staff currently includes nine workers but that number is expected to double after the current training session, according to Marianne Cook of the Center Point staff.

Because its counselors work on a volunteer basis, Center Point said it will provide the counseling service to the cities free of charge, according to Chief Ferber.

Mrs. Hoey proposed the new counseling program last month in a letter to all five Grosse Pointe police chiefs, mayors and city managers.

In the letter, Mrs. Hoey noted that the YSD served a "critical function" of "diversion of juvenile first offenders away from the juvenile courts and the dehumanizing experience of institutional proceedings."

Stressed The Need

"It is critical for our civic leaders and members of our community to recognize that Center Point, a community service organization... funded largely by private contributions, has the resources, the supervision and the professional consultation services to take on the YSD's critical function of prevention and diversion within our juvenile justice system," she said.

The need for an alternative to the juvenile court system and youth home was stressed by several community leaders at a September "town hall" on juvenile crime, sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Michigan Court of Appeals Judge George Bashara told 200 people at the meeting that "Wayne County Juvenile Court is no place for persons involved in petty misdemeanors who are in need of serious, one-to-one counseling."

His comments were echoed by Sue Kinnaird, an active South High School mother and former volunteer at the Youth Home.

"It is awesome to see what kids learn at the Youth Home. Our children do not belong there with the more serious offenders," she told the town hall audience.

Small Portion

Shortly after that meeting a 14-member task force on juvenile crime was formed by School Board Vice-President Jon Gandelot. No firm progress has been reported by that group to date, however.

Chief Ferber said he is very encouraged about the discussions with Center Point, but added that the proposed program would not completely replace the services that were offered by the YSD.

"Keep in mind, counseling was a very small portion of what the YSD did," he said.

The chief plans to meet again with Center Point representatives when research is completed on details of the agreement, Chief Ferber added.

Board Names Canvassers

Kathleen Wade and John Urso were appointed to the public school system's Board of Canvassers for four-year terms at the Board of Education's Monday, November 12, meeting.

The new members fill positions formerly held by Helen Graves and Kenneth Fox, whose terms expire at the end of this year. Ms. Wade is a Republican and Mr. Urso a Democrat.

Wine Lines

By John Lundberg

All of the great red Burgundies are made from the Pinot Noir grape. Known for its superb balance, fruitiness and lightness, it is at its prime 10 years after vintage but is drinkable after 3 to 4 years. Sugar is added to fermenting grape juice increasing its alcohol content and fullness in French vineyards. California Pinot Noirs, since sugar is prohibited, have a lightness that is lacking in the French Burgundies and do not run the risk of imbalance that some sugar-added Burgundies seem to have.

For proper balance when it comes to the beer, wine and other beverages of your choice, come to PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit. We maintain a balance of beverages to please the discriminating and meet the budgets of all. By Susan McDonald
The Barnes classroom is a happy room, painted in bright yellows and oranges and filled with toys and games. Its walls are covered with the products of dozens of holiday art projects.

And last Friday, November 17, was a happy day — one of the happiest of all. The five year old students in Sandra Kuhl's developmental kindergarten class at Barnes had been working all week on the makings for a proper Thanksgiving feast. They colored placemats one day, cut out Pilgrim and Indian costumes the next and even helped prepare the pies and sauces for a real turkey dinner with all the fixings.

And Friday was the day mom and dad, the superintendent of schools and a couple of reporters were going to come enjoy the feast. And enjoy they did. Parents and visitors consumed mounds of stuffing, cranberries, squash, corn, fruit and turkey and listened to the Pilgrim story, told and retold from heart by the students.

The kids were proud of what they had done. Parents were even prouder. For these, somewhat special kids, that's important. The seven children in the class are there because pre-school tests, taken when they were two years old, indicated they needed some extra help before they went into regular classes.

The developmental kindergarten is where they go for that help. "Our program is an unusual one. There are very few of these run across the country, even though they are highly recommended by education experts," according to Reg Sienkiewicz, director of special education for Pointe schools.

"These children are not learning disabled or retarded, they just have certain developmental lags. This class gives them a year to mature with small group and individual instruction to help them catch up," he explained.

"But it's really a preventive program. Without this help these kids would likely become frustrated in a regular classroom, develop a poor self concept or become behavior problems." So Mrs. Kulka and her aide Carol Evans work on those lags—whether they be social skills, language or coordination—and make sure that school and learning is an enjoyable experience for each of their students.

Preparing the Thanksgiving dinner "was a great chance for the kids to learn to work together and to follow instructions and to get a great deal of satisfaction from having a finished product," says Mrs. Kulka.

"These are kids who are bound to have a lot of frustration in their futures. I want them to like school and to think positively about it."

Mrs. Kulka likes to involve the entire family in the program. And she apparently is having no problem at that—every single parent showed up for lunch and the clean-up Friday.

"I think this is one of the best programs I've ever seen," said one mother, Linda McGratty. "Sandra cares about the kids, she knows them and their problems."

"We've seen tremendous growth in our son since he's been here." Any special program takes lots of special help and Sandra had plenty of that last week, including the donation of a hefty turkey by the Salem Square Market in Kercheval avenue.

Ann Ardussi to Resign From Board on Friday

By Susan McDonald
School Board Trustee Ann Ardussi, who announced in August she will resign from her post, made her departure official at a meeting last week.

The effective date of Mrs. Ardussi's resignation is Friday, November 23, which means the remaining trustees have until the Monday, December 10, Board meeting to appoint a replacement.

Coffee Pot Is Blamed in Fire

An overheated coffee pot is being cited as the cause of a four-family flat fire in The Park on Thursday, November 15.

When firefighters arrived at the 1614 Beaconsfield avenue dwelling, they discovered flames were confined to the kitchen and hallway of one of the flats.

Assistant Chief David Taylor suffered injuries to his left rib cage when he tried to pry open a door.

No one was home at the time of the blaze, but another resident in the building called the fire department when she discovered smoke coming from the flat. Chief Phillip M. Costa said there was considerable smoke damage throughout the three other flats.

School Board President Laurance Harwood acknowledged this week that the trustees are split over the question of who to appoint.

"The Board is not unanimous on where the person should come from," Mr. Harwood said. "Should it be an ex-School Board member, a former candidate for the office or a member of the community who is neither of those?"

Mr. Harwood added that he is confident the trustees will work out an agreement on the appointment before the December 10 meeting.

When she formally announced her resignation Monday, November 12, Mrs. Ardussi indicated a definite preference on which route the Board should take in selecting a replacement.

"I ask the School Board to appoint a former Board member to my post until the June election," Mrs. Ardussi said.

Mrs. Ardussi was elected to the Board in 1977 and her term would have expired in 1981. Whoever replaces her will have to run for reelection in June 1980, during the annual school election if the individual hopes to continue serving on the Board.

Mrs. Ardussi resigned her post because the family is moving to Flossmoor, a suburb of Chicago, Ill., where her husband, Phillip, recently accepted a position with Allis Chalmers.

At her last meeting, Mrs. Ardussi told Board members that she has seen "real progress" during her time on the Board in the math and English programs in Grosse Pointe — two major areas of concern for her before coming on the Board.

"I still have concerns about music and the middle school curriculum," Mrs. Ardussi said. "I'll be keeping in touch to see how you progress with those programs, too."

A replacement for Mrs. Ardussi must be named within 20 days of her resignation, according to the state school code.

Manufacturers Bank introduces Neighborhood Interest.
It's the highest bank interest allowable in Grosse Pointe.

Earn more interest on your savings in a shorter time. Our Money Market Time Deposit offers you the highest interest rate currently available to individuals on a short-term deposit. Just make a deposit of $10,000 or more with us for 26 weeks. The interest rate is tied to the auction average of U.S. Treasury Bills, on a discount basis, and changes weekly. But the rate established at the time of your deposit remains constant until maturity.

For example: the interest rate for this week (Nov. 22 to Nov. 28) is 12.035%. Your earnings after 26 weeks, $608.44.

The higher rate of interest results in higher earnings for you, when left to maturity. No bank or savings and loan institution can pay you more. There are restrictions, however. Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal of funds, and prohibit the compounding of interest. The certificates are renewable at maturity at the then prevailing rate.

Alley in GP Park Causes Concern

By Joanne N. Gouleche

Residents of Wayburn road appealed to the Park Council on Tuesday, November 13, to do something about a 10-foot wide alley that the residents say is drawing rats into their backyards because of tall weeds and litter.

Located between Wayburn and Maryland and Goethe and Charlevoix, the alley is of no use to the city since it will not accommodate garbage trucks. It has become a haven for rats according to residents, who watch them from their back doorsteps.

Mrs. Wehrwein is one Wayburn resident who has been fighting with the city since 1977 to have the alley paved.

The city, however, would like to vacate the alley and divide up the property among the adjoining property owners of Wayburn and Maryland. But Mrs. Wehrwein said most of her neighbors don't want the extra five feet of property.

"Some of the people around here are just too old to take care of any more property," she said, including her 92 year old next door neighbor.

Mrs. Wehrwein said the city has failed in the past to keep the weeds under control. Kids walking up and down the alley tossing cans and litter hasn't helped matters either, she pointed out.

"If they offered all the property to me, I would take it," she said, indicating that she felt at least a few of her neighbors would welcome an additional five feet attached to their backyards.

At the meeting, City Manager John R. Crawford told the residents that the city could either pave the alley, kill the weeds, fence the alley off at one end or vacate it and offer it to the residents.

Councilwoman Ann M. MacDonald said, "If it is city property, then we should do something about it. We should clean it up and give it to the people."

The council asked City Attorney Herold McC. Deason to find out if the city can legally vacate the alley without the consent of the property owners.

The city manager later indicated that the "best interests of the property owners would be for the city to vacate the property and give it to the residents."

Seniors' Needs Viewed

quite as poignantly as the individual's expressions of need, and provided several comments for meeting participants.

For example, an 88 year old widow, who cares for her invalid daughter, said, "Would love to know what to do for peace," while an 88 year old Harper Woods widower copes with worries of "health and loneliness."

On this, Mrs. TeWalt said she hopes that necessary monies to get the program going again from participating cities, (all the Pointes, except The Park, plus Harper Woods), and the county will be released soon so it can become operational again by mid-December.

SOC's budget for 1980 is placed at around $108,000 via Community Development Block Grant monies, although that sum does not include deductions for administrative costs.

MICHIGAN BELL CONSUMER TIPS

If you've ever forgotten how to get a needed phone number for a distant city — outside your own area code — you may want to clip this ad and keep it near your phone as a reminder. Here's all you do: First, dial "0" and ask the operator for the area code, if you don't already know. Then, for Long Distance Directory assistance directory, dial "1," plus the area code for that city, then 555-1212. You will reach a Long Distance directory assistance operator who will give you the number. Once you have the number, write it down so the next time you need it, you can dial it direct and save. If you don't have a good place to write it down, we have a place for you... your Personal Telephone Directory — a handy book for keeping your personal list of local and out-of-town phone numbers. It's free. Just call your Michigan Bell business office and ask for a copy.

Crossing Guard Bill Supported

A resolution supporting Senate Bill 696 viewing the cost of a crossing guard program was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at a recent meeting.

The bill proposed to amend Public Act 227 of 1978 to require that each school district with a crossing guard program pay the costs of furnishing guards and signs.

The resolution notes that the council is in favor of placing the cost burden of school crossing protection upon the school district and not the community where each school happens to be located.

It also indicates that the council would support similar legislation which would require school districts to pay the costs of school crossing guards.

Fund Raising Approach Proves Viable at Punch

By David Kramer

The second live professional theater production at the Punch and Judy Theater will open Saturday, December 15. A Christmas show, it will be a benefit for the World Medical Relief Fund, (WMRF).

Entitled "Here's Love," the play will be a musical version of "Miracle on 34th Street." Appropriately, proceeds from the first showing will go to the WMRF to assist in sending medical supplies to the Cambodian refugees in Thailand.

Marc Etter, theater manager, is using a new approach in his attempts to get live professional drama catch on at the Punch — fund raising.

"We discovered, as a result of our run of 'Alice in Wonderland,' that the response from the public was limited. We decided we needed an other approach to fill the Punch and Judy up," he said.

"Fund raising had nothing but good attached to it. It fills the house, it makes money for the group using it and it gives everyone a chance to see a live professional stage production right in their own backyard."

WMRF, a Detroit based organization, was founded in 1953. A non-profit, non-denominational and non-political group, it to date has shipped over 4,894 tons valued at over $329 million for the care of the world's destitute sick in developing countries and the U.S.

Part of the group's work includes providing ophthalmologists and optometrists with eyeglasses to enable them to extend their services to those in underdeveloped countries.

WMRF has a staff of nine and some 600 volunteers. In their own words, the group exists on free will offerings and begs all medical supplies and operating necessities.

Mr. Etter has succeeded in lining up the Kerby School PTO for the Sunday, December 16, matinee, and the Roosevelt Elementary School in East Detroit has signed up for the next weekend's two matinees, also as fund raisers.

While he's delighted that he's gotten the four fund raisers so far, Mr. Etter would like to get more, as he hopes to run the show for a month.

Matinee performances of "Here's Love," like those of "Alice," will be in the "Day at the Theater" format. Along with a shortened version of the play, kids get a workshop which includes meeting the actors and going backstage to see how it's done.

Mr. Etter describes his program as "a critical success," saying he has received

Smoke Alarms, Insulation Grants Available in City

By Susan McDonald

The City has 500 new smoke alarms and $9,200 for home weatherization grants ready to distribute to qualified residents, according to Administrative Assistant Lee Birmingham.

To qualify for free installation of smoke alarms, residents must be 65 years or older or handicapped or have low to moderate income, $13,300 for a family of two, $11,650 for a one-member family.

To qualify for a grant of up to $1,000 for home weatherization, residents must be in the low income category and have less than $10,000 in assets, excluding their home, its furnishings and car.

Interested citizens may apply at the city office, 17147 Maumee avenue.

Both programs are part of the Community Development Block Grant, funded by HUD, (Department of Housing and Urban Development), and administered by Wayne County.

The smoke alarms will be installed by contractors employed by Seniors Unwarranted Change, (SOC). One purpose of the smoke alarm distribution is to heighten awareness of the SOC program among City residents, Mr. Birmingham said.

SOC received $29,500 from The City this year to complete minor home repairs for senior citizens in the community.

The home weatherization grants are designed to cut heat and electricity bills for low income homeowners.

Grants may be used to install insulation, storm windows or thermostat setbacks, Mr. Birmingham said. The funds will be distributed as outright grants with no code inspection or property lien required, he added.

According to a survey of City residents conducted last year, Mr. Birmingham estimated there are at least 45 low income households which qualify for the weatherization program.

Bands at South Perform Nov. 29

In their first performance of the year, South's Concert and Symphony Bands will play Thursday, November 29, in South's Auditorium, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard, at 8 p.m.

Ralph Miller, director and music teacher at South, will direct the groups, with Brian Topolewski, his student teacher from Michigan State, leading them in two songs.

The Concert Band, comprised of freshmen and first year musicians, will play first, performing "Orange Bowl March" and "Landmark Overture."

Meanwhile, the Symphony Band will conclude the evening with a number of songs from "Russian Sailors Dance" to "Ballet Parisian."

There is no admission charge.

Crisis in Iran Spurs Support

"I guess it shows what can happen when a crisis hits our country."

Pat Feagan of The Park said she really doesn't know how it all began but the Iranian crisis, which has dominated the headlines for the past two weeks, has drawn a group of Pointers together to show their support of what President Jimmy Carter is doing to demand the release of American hostages in Tehran.

Ms. Feagan said she rides the bus every day to work and lately, the topic of conversation has been the Iranian situation. Soon, however, some individuals thought it might be a good idea to meet and discuss ways in which they could show their support of the President.

"We agreed that we could start by displaying the American flag in front of our homes. Politically, we are not all Carter supporters, but we agreed in this situation that this is what we could do to show our support of the President," Ms. Feagan said.

She said although it sounds "simple and silly," displaying the American flag in front of her Maryland road home has made her feel like a patriot.

Ms. Feagan hopes other residents will be encouraged to fly their flags, too.

Pick Dingeman Farms Mayor

Farms Mayor James Dingeman was unanimously re-elected to his office by fellow council members at their Monday, November 12, meeting. No one else was nominated for the office.

Mr. Dingeman, a council member since his appointment in 1966, received the highest number of votes in the Tuesday, November 6, election. The mayoral term is two years, although his council term is four.

Lloyd Semple, a four-year veteran who was the next highest vote-getter in the election, was unanimously chosen as mayor pro-tem, also a two-year term.

New council members Harry T. Echlin, who will serve a four-year term, and Gail Kaess, who will serve for two, were sworn into office by City Clerk Richard Solak.

Former Mayor Pro-tem W. James Mast was presented with a plaque honoring him for his eight years of service to the council.

The council also cited Councilman Harry R. Fruehauf.

'Faith Alive' Program Set

Christ Church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard, will host a Faith Alive Weekend from Friday, November 30 through Sunday, December 2.

Episcopalians have traditionally been associated with a quiet reserve and a sedate acknowledgement of their faith. Faith Alive is emphasizing that humans live more fully when they can love completely; that lives should be cherished; that the maintenance of inner integrity should have a high priority.

Faith Alive has happened in over 500 Episcopal parishes and missions of more than 80 dioceses. Forty-eight Episcopalians are arriving from all over the country to join Christ Church parishioners to document and validate that a Faith Alive Weekend is making a difference in their lives.

The weekend begins on Thursday, November 29, with a 24-hour prayer vigil and a parish-wide dinner on Friday evening. Throughout the weekend there will be gatherings at Christ Church and in homes throughout The Pointe.

Faith Alive is an opportunity to ask questions and share concerns and experiences or just listen. The weekend will conclude with a Thanksgiving and Evaluation session for parishioners on Sunday evening.

The Melikin Puppet Theater from Chicago, Ill., performed before an enthusiastic audience of University Liggett Lower School students Monday, November 12.

Its performance was sponsored by the Lower School Parents Association and was entitled "Totem Tales."

Puppeteers enacted a variety of Indian folk love tales encompassing lessons on customs and religion. The audience included students in kindergarten through grades five who were impressed by the colorful, hand-made puppets and the setting created by the performers which captured the mood of an American Indian reservation.

Summing up the audience's view, University Liggett third grade teacher Marlene Watson commented, "It was the best puppet show I've seen."

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Quietly, without fanfare or desire for recognition, the Children's Hospital of Michigan Grosse Pointe Guild meets each week.

The 20 women who founded the group have dwindled to 15 now, through moves and retirements, but the current members, whose ages range from under 60 to over 80, continue to meet every Tuesday morning in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Using materials sent by Children's, they make bite blocks which keep a child under anesthesia from swallowing its tongue. They prepare tracheotomy dressings, post-tracheotomy trays and stockinets to fit over casts on arms or legs.

"We do anything we're asked to do," says Norma Hinzman, current president of the group. They've been doing it, weekly, for 30 years.

Just once, they didn't. The guild was invited to a tea at the hospital, where members were to receive volunteer pins in recognition of their re-

Helping Santa at The Children's Home

This year, as in the past, the young residents of the Children's Home of Detroit are making Christmas favors for patients who will be confined to Cottage Hospital during the holiday season. Pictured above with a trio of Santa's Helpers is MELANIE YOUNG, arts and crafts instructor. The program is part of the children's involvement in the community, just as the community, for years, has been deeply and significantly involved in the Home. Founded in Detroit in 1836, relocated in Cook road in 1950, it offers residential treatment services for youngsters.

It is a quiet, park-like place. Passing motorists may not realize that the complex, with its cottages and administration building, well-groomed grounds and greenery, houses 60 children.

Through the years, residents of Grosse Pointe have generously supported the Children's Home of Detroit. Take the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club as an example: for a number of years, the club has provided plants and assistance to help the children grow flowers around their cottages.

A group of Farm and Garden members, including Miss Marie Louise Anderson, Mrs. Frederic P. Hart and Mrs. Robert Weber, has demonstrated understanding and patience in working with the children — whose enthusiasm often compensates for their lack of expertise.

The Young Women's Home Association, a local charitable organization, has elected to give its support by contributing attractive cottage furniture and rugs. Easter would not be complete without a basket for each child, made by the Daughters of the British Empire.

In the fall, just before school opens, members of the Kiwanis Club of Grosse Pointe have traditionally provided games and treats for the children at their annual picnic at the Woods Park.

Then there's Tau Beta Association ... Tau Beta's excellent camp facilities at Columbiaville, Mich., are a special treat for the Home's youngsters during a seven-day camping session.

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church's Tuxis Club, under the direction of The Reverend David Antonson, provides an exciting pre-Halloween happening. This year the Tuxis teens were at it again, on October 28, entertaining the children with pumpkin carving, apple bobbing, games and a costume contest. Additional Halloween pumpkins were donated by the Grosse Pointe Jaycees.

Occasionally, a spontaneous contact may result in a program activity. A telephone call from a member of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Senior Men's Orchestra was the spark that led to arrangements for a Christmas concert, to be held at the Home on December 11.

Tapestry Tradition Is Link With Past

East Area Questers Enjoy Tour of Edsel & Eleanor Ford House, Raise Funds for Restoration of Alger House Hangings

Members of the seven East Area Questers Chapters and their friends had a very special day in late October: a tour of the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House plus Mrs. Carl J. Kasza's lecture on "Tapestries—An Intriguing Link With the Past."

Mrs. Kasza illustrated her talk with her collection of slides and some historical examples, both from her private collection and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Alger House.

She has always been interested in the history and use of design through textiles. She studied textiles and historic interior design via an exacting apprenticeship in the Belicki School of Arts and Literature in Moscow and at the University of Poland. She continued her studies in colleges in England and America, and holds both Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees.

She is co-chairman of the War Memorial's House committee. As a member of the War Memorial's Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Kasza and Harriette Slowin initiated a three-day seminar on the techniques of restoring Alger House's tapestries.

The women they trained formed the nucleus of the War Memorial's Tapestry Guild, which has begun a five-year program to restore and rehang the badly damaged tapestries.

Mrs. Michael J. Brennan, president of the Michigan State Organization of Questers, also addressed the group. She explained the objectives of Questers, which are to educate by research and study of antiques and to donate funds to the preservation and restoration of memorials, historical buildings and landmarks.

Paul Alandt, executive director of the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House, welcomed the ladies and gave a brief sketch of the house's history.

The fund raising event was sponsored by the East Area Questers Chapters.

Their presidents are Mrs. Fred Winfield, Fox Creek Chapter, Mrs. David Van Note, Grand Marais Chapter, Mrs. John Martin, Grosse Pointe Chapter, Miss Wanda Lee, Fear Tree Chapter, Mrs. Gordon Sorenson, Pettipointe Chapter, Mrs. Joseph Scanlan, Ribbon Farms Chapter, and Mrs. Leo Hardwick, Windmill Pointe Chapter.

Mrs. Frederick Schumann was chairman of the day, assisted by co-chairman Mrs. Richard Mertz.

Other East Area Questers who helped plan and carry out the delightful program were the Mesdames Manuel Papista, Vene Whims, Ralph Glahn, Paul Knopf, Kryn Nagelkirk, Martin Tepatti, Richard Cameron, Fred Wicklund, Oscar Teeg, Harold Lee, A. J. Christie, Edward Gruca, Donald Draper, Alex Domin and Gilder Jackson.

Ohio State Survives in 'Enemy' Territory

Not all Buckeyes are in Ohio. Over 3,000 Ohio State alumni live in the Detroit area—more than 125 of them in The Pointe—and for all of those the BIG weekend of the year is the one on which Ohio State meets the University of Michigan in the Big 10's highest voltage football contest. According to the OSU alumni, half the fun of living in Michigan is being an OSU alum that weekend! There were television parties around town to cheer the Bucks to victory last Saturday, November 17, and

500 OSU supporters gathered at a gala brunch, sponsored by the Ohio State University Alumni Club of Detroit, at the Holiday Inn in Ann Arbor. Officers of the university and of the international alumni association were there. OSU cheerleaders led the group in plenty of pre-game chanting before it was time to board the buses for the ride to the stadium. In charge of it all were Marilyn and Terry Applegate, of Buckingham road. Terry is vice-president and president-elect of the Detroit

A House for Santa?

Well, it could be... or it could be a potting shed, or a playhouse... you've seen the little building at various locations around town, and you'll be seeing it again tomorrow, in the Grosse Pointe Santa Claus Parade, and this Christmas it will be a very special gift for someone, for it's been donated by Active Industries to raise funds for LINC, (Linking Individuals and Needs in the Community), and will be awarded on Thursday, December 13, to someone who has purchased a prize ticket, ($1 each, six for $5), from Dianne Miller, 886-7568, or the LINC office, 331-8700, or from volunteers like Pierce student E.J. OLDE, (in the baseball cap), on special display days. The lady smiling in the background, behind young Mr. Olde, is MARILYN BLAKE, project coordinator for Operation LINC. The six by eight foot structure has redwood siding, two windows with window boxes and a door that locks. Inside, there's a beamed ceiling, paneled walls—even brown shag carpeting.

Club. Marilyn is membership chairman. Among other Pointers active in the local OSU Alumni Association are John and Suzanne Smucker, of Trembley road, (John is club treasurer), Don Stoessel, of Roslyn road, who played on Woody Hayes' first Rose Bowl Team, and Carl Rentzler, of Whittier road, another OSU varsity footballer.

Keith and Linda Mandish, of Rivard boulevard, are recent graduates. Dr. Thomas Boyd, of Harvard road, is over 90. Television personality Dean Miller, of Thorn Tree road, is a loyal OSU alum, as are Bill Aurelius, of Harvard road, Jerry Blake, of Willow Tree place, Ron and Debby Brooks, of Berkshire road, Dwight Brown, of Moross road, and William Champion, of Lewiston road.

So are John and Melanie Fisher, of Sunningdale drive, Walter and Carol Gray, of Centerbrook road, Dr. Jim Kackley and his wife, Betty, of Elmsleigh lane, Ed and Marge Price, of Lakepointe avenue, Art Weinkle, of Lorraine road, and Bill Wetmore, of Barrington road. ## Miss Hamby Wed To Mr. Krausmann

Mrs. Robert L. Tar Is Honor Matron for Her Sister, Whose Gown of Ivory Dulcette Silk-Satin Is Lace-Accented

A reception at Lochmoor Club followed the noon wedding of Laura Elizabeth Hamby and Russell John Krausmann Saturday, September 29, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

The Reverend Ralph V. Barton celebrated the nuptial mass for which the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston C. Hamby, of Maison road, chose a gown of ivory dulcette silk-satin styled with a fitted bodice of peau d'ange lace, a Victorian neckline and long, fitted sleeves.

Her full, circular train was accented by a deep border of matching lace, and a lace

Rau-Shattuck Troth Is Told

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Shattuck, of Warren, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Kay Marguerite, to Robert Carl Rau, son of Melvin Rau, of Country Club drive, and the late Grace Goers Rau.

The bride-elect, an alumna of Mott High School, is currently enrolled in pre-Respiratory Therapy studies at Macomb County Community College where the bridegroom, a graduate of Grosse Pointe North High School, is also a student.

He plans on entering Emergency Medical Technician Training at Detroit General Hospital in the fall of 1980.

Currently, both Miss Shattuck and her fiancé are employed at Saratoga General Hospital.

Following the engagement announcement, the young couple enjoyed a "night on the town" courtesy of the bride-elect's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jon Mueller, of Faircrest, Detroit. They dined at Giulio and Sons in the Hyatt Regency, then viewed a Post-dinner performance by The Lettermen at DB's.

Camelot headpiece held her chapel length veil of ivory silk illusion.

She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, white carnations, daisies and baby's-breath, with the prayerbook her maternal grandmother had carried on her wedding day in 1912.

The Russell Krausmanns

Marriage vows were spoken in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church Saturday, September 29, by LAURA ELIZABETH HAMBY, daughter of the Winston C. Hamby's, of Maison road, and Mr. Krausmann, son of the Richard Krausmanns, of Lincoln road.

Honor matron Mrs. Robert L. Tar, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids Barbara Gormley, their cousin, Julie Krausmann, the bridegroom's sister, and Catherine Viviano wore sleeveless, full length dresses of tangerine and yellow floral print chiffon over taffeta, with matching flowered chiffon shawls.

Each carried a straw basket filled with miniature yellow mums and baby's-breath, the honor attendant's accented with tangerine Sweetheart roses.

Flower girl Meghan Monroe, another cousin of the bride, wore a long dress of white organdy over yellow taffeta and carried a small straw basket of miniature yellow mums and baby's-breath.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Krausmann, of Lincoln road, asked William Bolton to act as best man. In the usher corps were two brothers of the bridegroom, Richard Krausmann, Setting Saturday, October 13, for the noon wedding of ANNE MARIE BAYER, daughter of the Charles M. Bayers, of Grosse Pointe boulevard, and Mr. Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. John Burke, of Lewiston road, was Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore.

heirloom mantilla of rosepointe lace over a cathedral length illusion veil which was attached to a Juliet cap, and carried a bouquet of stephanotis, phalaenopsis orchids and variegated foliage.

Katherine Bayer was honor maid for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Varty, of Denver, Colo., and Colleen Burke, sisters of the bridegroom. Mrs. Arthur Rohde, of Chevy Chase, Md., Mrs. David Kramer and Anne Mason, of Denver.

Their floor length dresses of wine chiffon in a small floral bouquet and subdued leaf print were styled with one-shoulder, Grecian blouson bodices, over which they wore short jackets of matching chiffon print.

They carried small cricket boxes filled with multi-colored silk flowers.

Flower girls Lisa and Christie Roberts, cousins of the bride, in burgundy-smocked, long dresses of vanilla chambray, carried baskets of the multi-colored silk flowers.

Robert Burke came from Villanova University to act as best man for his brother. Guests were seated by Charles M. Bayer, Jr., brother of the bride, William Hurley, of Seattle, Wash., Michael Roney, of Birmingham, Robert Duker and Mr. Kramer.

The bride's mother wore an afternoon dress of lavender and green print chiffon and pinned white phalaenopsis orchids to her purse. The bridegroom's mother selected a street length dress of beige silk, featuring a deep V collar trimmed in wine silk.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Bernard A. Clark, of Neff road, chose a short, red print silk gown to which she pinned white cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Cyril J. Burke, of Balfour road, wore navy blue chiffon.

Recertified as a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice, as required every six years by the ABFP, was Pointer DR. ARCHIE W. BEDELL.

Meadow Brook Plans A Golden Christmas

Meadow Brook Hall, one of Michigan's most magnificent historic homes, invites the public to help celebrate the Golden Anniversary and at the same time help preserve the 100-room Tudor style mansion for future generations via a Golden Christmas Walk.

The hall, on the campus of Oakland University, Rochester, will be lavishly dressed in holiday finery and open for daily tours Wednesday, November 28, through Sunday, December 2, from 10 to 5:30 o'clock each day except Wednesday, when the hours are 10 in the morning to 9 in the evening.

Proceeds from this annual Christmas Walk are used for the preservation of the hall. All creative talents, floral decorations and production efforts are donated by florists, special exhibitors and volunteers.

Colony Town Club to Meet

Colony Town Club was founded for the purpose of furthering the cultural, educational, social and philanthropic purposes of its members—and two of those purposes, social and cultural, will be pursued when the club meets Tuesday, November 27, at the Detroit Yacht Club.

A social hour starting at 11:30 o'clock will be followed by luncheon. Then Mrs. Alfred W. Massnick, of Lochmoor boulevard, chairman, of the day, will introduce Shirley Euwer who will present a program of show songs, with piano accompaniment by Jeanne Denby. Both are members of the Rosedale Community Players.

Assisting Mrs. Massnick are committee members Mrs. Joan Aida Brown, Mrs. William Hosbein and Mrs. George E. Rogers, all Pointers, Mrs. Frank S. Perkin, of St. Clair Shores, and Mrs. Stewart R. Boyer, Mrs. Sterling S. Richhart and Mrs. Ralph Zander, of Detroit.

Williams-Atwell Vows Exchanged

Bride Wears Mother's Gown of Chantilly Lace Appliqued over Satin with Mantilla of Alencon Lace

At home in New York City are Mr and Mrs. Charles Rockwell Williams, who vacationed in the following the wedding Saturday, October 6, in Fox Chapel Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Williams is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Burton Atwell, of Pittsburgh and John's Island, Vero Beach, Fla. Dr. Atwell is associate professor of Surgery at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine and president of the Pittsburgh Academy of Medicine.

Mr. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Williams, of Provencal road. The 6:30 o'clock ceremony at which The Reverend Henry Lawrence Thompson, III, and The Reverend Willard Wellman officiated was followed by a reception at Pittsburgh's Fox Chapel Golf Club.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of Chantilly lace appliqued over satin, and a cathedral length mantilla of Alencon lace. She carried white gardenias.

She was attended by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert F. Atwell, of Myrtle Beach, S.C., as honor matron, and by Regina D. Higgins, of Villanova, Pa., as honor maid.

Bridesmaids were Judith M. Williams, of Washington, D.C., the bridegroom's sister, Karen C. Hay, Mrs. Russell P. Pennoyer and Mrs. William Whetzel, all of New York City, Carolyn A. Wening, of Beaver Falls, Pa., the bride's niece, Mrs. Henry L. Thompson, III, of Paoli, Pa., and Gayle I. Garland, of Pittsburgh.

They wore cowl-necked jersey dresses with bodice designs in burgundy, salmon and peach, and carried rubrum lilies and baby's-breath.

Richard E. Williams was his son's best man. Ushers included Robert F. Atwell, the bride's brother, Henry P. Williams, III, of Weston, Mass., and Richard G. Williams, of Chicago, brothers of the bridegroom, James B. Perry, of Grosse Pointe, Thomas W. Wynne and Paul Archer, both of New York City, Richard W. Mellow, of St. Louis, Mo., Roger W. Hull, Jr., of Chicago, and D. Mason Granger, of Memphis, Tenn.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of champagne colored French illusion silk chiffon. The bridegroom's mother wore aqua silk chiffon. Each chose a gardenia corsage.

Among family members attending the wedding were The Honorable and Mrs. G. Mennen Williams and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Burns, of Grosse Pointe.

More were Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Lounsbury Griffith, Jr., of Fayetteville, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. George S. Mennen, of Chester, N.J., Mr. and Mrs. John H. Davis, Jr., of Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Harry A. Inman, of Alexandria, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Edward Markworth, of Rocky River, O.

To Mix Tuxedos And Tennis Shoes

Hors d'Oeuvres Prepared And Judged by Celebrities Will Precede Elegant Dinner And Dancing at Hamilton Place

A slightly irreverent gourmet gala, "Tuxedos and Tennis Shoes," scheduled for Monday, December 10, at Hamilton Place, will benefit the Metropolitan March of Dimes.

General chairpersons Craig and MaryAnna Hall are working with Duglass Duglass, presiding spirit of the evening, and an all-star cast of executive committee members to produce this unusual, exciting event.

Local and national celebrities will be on hand to prepare hors d'oeuvres for a panel of prestigious judges including Jane Wyatt, Gael Greene, Bob Talbert, Tish Myers, Richard Findlater, Grosse Pointe's Mary Conway and Harry Satchwell, whose new edition of "Meet, Eat and Enjoy Greater Detroit" is just out, and George Perrot... "if we're lucky."

The contestants' recipes will be prepared in quantity for the guests by the chef of Hamilton Place, and while the judging is taking place the Pastiche Wind Quintet will play, the 36 young women of the Michigan Aquarius Swim Club will perform in Hamilton Place's pool and Chuck Muer's raw bar will be available at a variety of places — such as the diving board.

Lester Lanin Plays in Ann Arbor Dec. 1

Lester Lanin, who has played for thousands of weddings and debutante balls and is well known in The Pointe, is coming to Ann Arbor to conduct his 15-piece orchestra at the Michigan League Saturday, December 1, at the fourth annual benefit for Saint Joseph Mercy Hospital's Equipment Fund.

There'll be cabaret style entertainment in the league's various dining areas, including a Mexican Mariachi band, excerpts from "Porgy and Bess" sung by Willis Patterson and Jacqueline Green from the University of Michigan's School of Music, "Fat Bob" Taylor singing selections from "Fiddler on the Roof," jazz pianist James Dapogny and vocalist Carlotta Wilson and John McCollum, University of Michigan School of Music, with a medley of Irish melodies.

There'll be a champagne reception in the league course from 8 to 9 o'clock, dinner and dancing from 9 until 1 in the morning.

Benefit tickets are available at $150 per couple Patron, $500 per couple Special Patron and $1,000 per couple Benefactor. There's also a "Holiday" Host category: eight tickets for a $2,500 donation.

Ticket information may be obtained by writing the hospital's Development Office, P.O. Box 995, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48106, or calling 572-4040.

The Harry Calcotts, III

At a late afternoon ceremony Saturday, September 22, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church ELIZABETH ALLEN GRAM, daughter of the Harris James Grams, of Moran road, and Mr. Calcutt, son of the Harry C. Calcotts, II, of Traverse City, were married.

Miss Gram Is Wed To Harry Calcutt, III

They Vacation in London And Motor Through Scotland Following Mid-September Rites in Memorial Church

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Club followed the wedding of Elizabeth Allen Gram and Harry C. Calcutt, III, Saturday, September 22, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris James Gram, of Moran road, wore the ivory satin and antique lace gown worn by her great-aunt, Marian Edwards, in 1913, with a small, satin hat in the style of that period, and a mid-length veil.

She carried a traditional cascade of roses, stephanotis and greens.

Carol Frances Gram was honor maid for her sister at the 4:30 o'clock rites at which Dr. Ray Kiely presided.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Laughlin, another sister, Mary Win Calcutt, the bridegroom's sister, Wendy Ewald, Mrs. Randolph Donahue, Mrs. Charles Barr, of Baltimore, Md., and Helen Edwards Thomas, of Doyles-town, Pa., the bride's cousin.

Their dresses of pale pink organza were dotted with small flowers in violet and rose shades. They carried small bouquets of violet and rose flowers and wore matching, small wreaths in their hair.

Harvey Calcutt came from San Francisco, Calif., to act as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Calcutt, II, of Traverse City.

In the usher corps were William Calcutt, a brother, Albert Zimmerman, William Royce, John Keillogg and John Beers, of Traverse City, and Walter Shmid, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Gram chose a long gown of blue, flowered organza for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress in shades of peacock blue. Orchids formed both mothers' corsages.

The newlyweds vacationed in Great Britain, visiting London and motoring and golfing in Scotland. They will make their home in Traverse City.

Tri-Deltas to Entertain at Children's Hospital

Members of the Grosse Pointe-Detroit Alumnae Chapter of Delta Delta Delta will give a party for patients at Children's Hospital on Thursday, December 6, at 1 o'clock.

This special event will be the local celebration of Sleighbell Day, on which collegiate and alumnae Tri-for their philanthropy: support of hospitals which focus on childhood cancer, oncology and hematology.

At Children's the festivities will feature a magic show by Don Bosco, followed by a pinata and refreshments. All area Tri-Deltas are invited to join in the fun, and may call Mrs. A. Jack Galsterer at 886-8735

Reliefs Reflect Persepolis Life

Three recently-acquired reliefs from Persepolis, (5th-4th century B.C.), are displayed now in the Detroit Institute of Arts along with another relief of the same origin already in the collection.

The importance of these reliefs is emphasized by the recent installation of the museum's Ancient Iranian Art Gallery by William H. Peck, curator of Ancient Art, and his staff. Together, the four form one of the nation's finest small groups of Persepolis reliefs.

They were acquired with funds raised by the Antiquaries of the Founders Society and from the Robert H. Tannahill Foundation Fund. They date from the powerful Achaemenid Empire, founded by Cyrus the Great, which ruled the entire Middle East for three centuries.

Persepolis was the ceremonial and cult capitol, begun by Darius the Great, completed by Xerxes and Artaxerxes. Here kings received New Year Festival tribute from throughout the empire.

The Art Institute's polished grey limestone reliefs once decorated stairways and banqueting halls at Persepolis. They represent Persian court servants bringing food to the royal feast, a Persian spearman and a Persian court official with staff ushering tribute bearers into the presence of the king.

Influences from Assyria and Ionian Greece combine in the reliefs to form a court style which is uniquely Iranian.

The Detroit Institute of Arts is open to the public Tuesday through Sunday from 9:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

From Another Pointe of View

remarkable service. The guild said thank you very much, but the tea would take time from the work at hand and what, after all, was more important? Really—and this certainly DID NOT mean that they WEREN'T grateful—the members would prefer to get on with their work.

So Helen Cooper, director of volunteers, at Harbor, traveled to The Pointe to present the pins during one of the guild's Tuesday morning working sessions at the War Memorial.

"We can all talk and still work," says Mrs. Hinzman, describing those sessions.

In addition to 30 years of effort and time on behalf of Children's small patients, the guild has given funds to purchase needed equipment for the hospital. "Some of our members would have an afternoon tea and ask those attending to contribute $1," Mrs. Hinzman explains.

In time, those dollar bills plus quarters saved from the coffee fund grew to sizeable amounts. "We've given money toward the lockers in the volunteer office, in memory of the late Charlotte St. Onge, a splendid volunteer at Children's," Mrs. Hinzman reports.

The guild also bought a transport incubator, gave funds for dialysis equipment and, most recently, contributed $200 to Reye's Syndrome research.

An impressive record for a small group. A simple reason for that record. "We are all very child-minded," says Mrs. Hinzman. Not to mention dedicated . . . and devoted . . .

Meet, Eat—and Enjoy!

There was meeting and MUCH enjoying down at The Rhinoceros as Grosse Pointe's Mary Conway and Harry Satchwell launched the fifth edition of their very popular "Meet, Eat and Enjoy Greater Detroit" earlier this month.

As always, the book is addictive. "I'm just going to look up ONE menu"—and an hour later you're shrouded for air, visions of duck a l'orange and chocolate mousse dancing in your head, dying to go out to dinner.

If that's not practical, (it's midnight, say, and you're blow-drying your just-washed hair), there's nothing to keep you from your own kitchen. The volume of recipes contributed by people-around-town is intriguing, if I do say so myself, mine is one of them).

Now: if you've wondered how Mary and Harry choose the restaurants they include in their book, and why they exclude some, here's an opportunity to find out.

The authors will tell all, discussing their favorite eating places and describing how they came to put their book together, at the Woods Branch of the Grosse Pointe Public Library next Monday evening, November 26, at 7 o'clock.

The public is invited. There is no charge. Questions are encouraged. Answers will be given.

Fashion Group Benefit

In its 50th anniversary year, The Fashion Group, Inc., is again joining forces with the Detroit Police Department to raise funds for Police Athletic League programs for underprivileged children.

And for two special fashion scholarships: one dedicated to the late Margaret Rice, a charter member of The Fashion Group and a great contributor to its growth and vitality, the other dedicated to the late Marji Kunz, fondly remembered for her worldwide coverage of the fashion scene.

Fund raising vehicle is a fabulous auction of special acquisitions and designer clothes for men, women and children, set for Sunday, December 2, in the Renaissance Ballroom of the Detroit Plaza Hotel.

The fun begins at 1 o'clock and continues until the last bid is in. Tickets are $5 advance sale, $7 at the door. They may be obtained from any Fashion Group member, P.A.L., (224-4080), or Executive Deputy Chief James Bannon's Office, Detroit Police Department, (224-4480).

Madrigal Club to Give Two Christmas Concerts

The Detroit Madrigal Club, celebrating its 64th year, will present its Christmas Concert twice this holiday season: at First Methodist Church of Ferndale Sunday afternoon, December 2, at 3 o'clock, and at Bloomfield Hills Baptist Church Sunday evening, December 16, at 8 o'clock.

The group of women from all areas of metropolitan Detroit, under the direction of Carolyn Eynon, accompanied by Pamela Dameron, is dedicating the program to the youth of the world in honor of The Year of The Child.

Choral selections will include music by Bach, Luboff, Vivaldi and Brahms as well as other pieces in keeping with the holiday spirit.

Admission, (adults $3.50, students and senior citizens $2.50), will be charged to defray costs. Tickets for both concerts will be available at the door. Further information may be obtained by calling Li Quezada, 357-0385.

Parsons Art Is on Display at Lochmoor

Paintings by Chuck Parsons are featured this month at Lochmoor Club. Mr. Parsons works in acrylics and blends soft, muted colors in impressionistic studies of wildlife and sport scenes.

Also included in the Lochmoor exhibit, his first in the Detroit area, are some interesting figure studies and

His paintings show interest in design and color rather than perfect execution of detail. "I purposely stay away from the realistic traditional style prevalent on calendars and duck stamps," he explains.

"I try to show the subject in its natural habitat, perhaps just a glimpse of it, a suggestion of its color and markings." Chuck Parsons studied at the American Academy of Art in Chicago. He worked in the commercial art field for 15 years before moving to Harbor Springs.

His work also is currently on display at Country Parson Gallery in Harbor Springs and the Bowen Gallery in Buena Vista, Colo.

boxes from the Russian villages of Palekh, Mstera, Fedoskino and Kholvi. Each is a signed original and the colors are oriental in inspiration—rich oranges, reds and yellows, brilliant blues and opulent golds — on backgrounds of jet black or red.

From Nigeria come straw trays in varied sizes and a multitude of intricate designs, excellent for wall decorations.

From Peru there are contemporary ceramics in sizes to fit all decorative needs. Each ceramic piece has a white slip over terra cotta as a background to bold, black line themes. The motifs are distinctively Amazonian. Decorated fabrics are available, too.

Michigan craftsmen also contribute to the gift ideas. George Lindino's wooden toys are sure to please children of all ages, and jewelry created by Roz Balkan and Kery McBride is a fashionable gift choice.

Finally, books on just about every topic in the arts are available. The recently published "Alex Katz" by Irving Sandler is a superb gift idea—especially as 20 of the books were recently autographed by Katz.

Among all the holiday suggestions is a just released four-color gift "Pocketlogue" designed to assist gift giving year-round. This new catalogue is a Founders Society project, available to all museum visitors for 25 cents.

The catalogue also may be ordered by mail, by sending 25 cents to Katherine Shemeld, D1A, 5200 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48202.

Basse-Mashour Vows Are Spoken

The Reverend Riah Abu-Assal, of Christ Church, Nazareth, Israel, Bestows Special Blessing on The Couple

Mrs. Elizabeth Mashour wore a cathedral length silk-satin coat with a hooded capelet re-embroidered French lace over a decolletage gown featuring lace appliques at the bodice and deep hemline, for her marriage to Roger Charles Basse.

Pale silk roses were tucked under the hood and at the neckline of the coat. She carried a satin and lace muff with matching silk roses, orchids and ivy.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Mashour, of Blairmoor court, who entertained at a reception at Red Run Golf Club following the early evening rites Friday, October 19, in Christ Church, Detroit.

The Reverend Samuel S. Johnston presided at the 6 o'clock nuptials. A special blessing was given by The Reverend Riah Abu-Assal, of Christ Church, Nazareth, who came from Israel for the wedding.

Christine Ann Mashour was honor maid for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Mark Walker and Susan Lynn Mashour, two other sisters of the bride, Mrs. James Scott Crofton, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs.

Robert J. Guy and Mrs. Michael J. Brede, Carolyn Ann Sanom, the bride's cousin, was a junior bridesmaid.

They wore dresses of claret chiffon, softly flounced at their bateau necklines and hems. They carried cymbidium orchids, celosia and ivy, and wore wreaths of celosia in their hair.

Mr. Basse, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Basse, of Birmingham, asked William C. White, of Joplin, Mo., to act as best man.

The usher corps included William J. and Richard A. Basse, brothers of the bridegroom, Steven Kinnear, the bride's cousin, Mr. Crofton, Mr. Brede and Lawrence J. Franklin. George Alexander Mashour, the bride's brother, served as junior groomsmen.

The bride's mother wore a layered dress of sunlit bronze silk chiffon, its uneven hemline forming a slight train in back. She carried a spray of brown orchids.

A capelet covered the shirred, fitted bodice of the beige cream silk chiffon gown Mrs. Basse selected for her son's wedding. She carried natural cymbidium orchids.

The newlyweds will be making their home in Farmington Hills.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's aunt and uncles, Mrs. Dan Paul and Richard G. and Nelson G. Mashour, and her cousins, Barbara Ann Mashour and Sandra Mashour, as well as Salem Saig, Mrs. Ronald Soud, Stephanie John and Cheryl Abdelnour, all of Jacksonville, Fla.

Others were Esse Seder and Sandra Seder, also from Jacksonville, The Reverend Dr. and Mrs. Frederic B. Burnham, of Chappaqua, N.Y., and the Richard G. White, of Sewanee, Tenn.

More were Richard Gatt, of Jackson Heights, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meloche, of Northwood, O., Robert Tourek, of East Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Duane E. Johnson, Jr., of Northbrook, Ill., and Mrs. Raymond S. Gibbs, of St. Joseph.

Mrs. Roger C. Basse

Speaking her marriage vows Friday evening, October 19, in Christ Church, Detroit, to Mr. Basse, son of the William A. Bases, of Birmingham, was MARY ELIZABETH MASHOUR, daughter of the Alexander M. Mashours, of Blairmoor court.

NH Girl Cagers Playing Well

By Wright Wilson
Both girls basketball squads at North High School are on hot streaks. Both the JV and varsity teams have been dominating their Bi-County League opponents while boasting five-game winning streaks.

Coached by Bill Taylor, North's JV is tied for the Bi-County lead with an 11-2 record.

The JV team has been employing an explosive offense with a consistent defense in their last five contests.

Judy Thams led North with 12 points on Thursday, November 1, as North downed Lakeview, 44-30. North then demolished Brablec, 61-21, in what coach Taylor calls the team's "finest offensive effort of the season."

Amy Walkowiak put in 17 as the lady Norsemen next defeated South Lake, 48-21. They later beat Lakeshore, 48-39, behind Jeanne Souliere's 14 points.

On Thursday, November 15, the JVs added their fifth win in a row with a tight 35-32 victory over Clintondale. The girls won the game in the second half after trailing by five points at half-time.

Meanwhile, the North varsity team currently stands in third place in the league. Fraser and L'Anse Creuse are tied for top spot at 22-1, and North trails at 9-4.

The varsity opened its undefeated November schedule with a 42-19 victory over Lakeview. North's excellent full-court defense forced 36 Lakeview turnovers.

Getting revenge for an earlier loss, North then defeated Brablec, 58-44. Teresa Mazzei scored 19 points for North.

In the next contest, a defensive battle, the lady Norsemen outscored South Lake, 37-25. North defensive stars were Patty Misukiewicz with 11 rebounds and Nicole Walter with seven steals.

Pam Stewart scored 18 and added 12 rebounds in North's 53-34 conquest over Lakeshore. North blew the game open in the fourth quarter with many easy lay-ups.

For its fifth win in a row, North then set back Clintondale, 66-57. North led by one point at halftime, but scored 40 in the second half.

After finishing their seasons with games against L'Anse Creuse, the varsity squad moves into post-season play with district competition next week.

Johnson Leads MSU Stickers

Julie Johnson of The Woods will lead the Michigan State University Spartans Women's field hockey team in its first ever bid for the AIAW national field hockey title in Princeton, N.J., at the end of the month.

Johnson is a junior at MSU, and a graduate of University Liggett School.

MSU won its second consecutive state championship (MAIAW) at Marquette earlier this month. It qualified them for the Midwest championships which were played at Central Michigan University Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10.

MSU qualified for a shot at the national title by virtue of its wins over the University of Wisconsin and CMU.

Johnson is MSU's leading scorer to date with 13 goals for her credit. She is majoring in elementary education and has been an honors student since entering the school.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson of Newcastle road.

Norsemen Take Soccer Trophy

The Grosse Pointe Norsemen (not North High), soccer team recently won the first-place trophy in the under-12 division of soccer competition sponsored by the Michigan Youth Soccer League, (MYSL).

Team members were awarded their trophies after defeating the Celtic Lions, 3-1, in the final game of the season. Trophies were presented by Eugene Gunnery of MYSL.

The Norsemen captured the title with an outstanding season record of 8-0-2.

The Norsemen are coached by Alex McNeill and Dr. Mike Fozo.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Council will be considering the following ordinance for second reading and final adoption at its meeting scheduled for December 3, 1979.
AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND TITLE II, CHAPTER 1, SECTION 54 OF THE CITY CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE WOODS OF 1975 TO PROVIDE A NEW SCHEDULE OF FEES FOR THE RATES TO BE CHARGED FOR WATER SERVICE:
THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE WOODS ORDAINS:
Section 1. That Title II, Chapter 1, Section 54 of the City Code of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods of 1975 be amended to read as follows:
Section 2-1-54 Water-Sewer Rates. A combined water-sewer rate is hereby established to cover the cost of water, sewage treatment, to improve such system and to maintain and administer same.
For water and sewer used, a rate of $13.08 per thousand cubic feet shall be charged. Computation shall be made in units of 100 cubic feet; provided that fractions of 100 cubic feet shall be computed to the nearest 100 cubic foot unit.
A minimum combined water-sewerage service charge of 1,500 cubic feet of water consumed per quarter shall be made.
All water and sewage disposal bills shall be rendered quarterly by the Division of Water Service of the Department of Public Works and shall be due and payable on the fifteenth (15) day of the month following the end of the quarter. A penalty of ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the bill shall be added in the event the bill is not paid on or before the due date.
The rates for water-sewer hereinbefore fixed shall become effective with all bills rendered on or after January 1, 1980.
The Division of Water Service of the Department of Public Works shall have the right and power to shut off the supply of water to any property where the payment of the water bill, after rendered in manner above specified, is delinquent.

HAVE A HAPPY THANKSGIVING FROM . . .

R.G. Edgar & Associates

CLASSIC . . . CLASSIC . . .

Center entrance southern Colonial. Freshly painted both inside and out. This brick residence with towering white pillars features living room, dining room, kitchen, den and half bath on the first floor. The second floor has three bedrooms and two baths. For extras we have an all brick two car garage, white picket fence and flowers still in the garden if you hurry!

BEAUTIFUL TREE LINED STREET

Three bedroom colonial with a charming kitchen and eating nook, plus a formal dining room. Extra large family room, and railed sundeck off master bedroom. Newly painted interior, and newer roof. Land Contract terms available.

LOCATION

LINCOLN . . . Sitting deep on a lot close to Jefferson is this early American one story with plenty of privacy and lots of room to grow. Two first floor bedrooms, plus a loft third bedroom. Smartly decorated and a modern, sleek kitchen adds charm and interest, plus a contemporary touch.

LOCATION

WINDMILL POINTE DRIVE . . . This executive home features a first floor master suite, panelled library, dining room, modern kitchen and a winterized Florida room. The second floor has three more bedrooms and two baths. Lots of land, lovely patio and beautiful gardens to complete the setting.

RENTAL

Grosse Pointe Woods, four bedrooms, two baths. Available Dec. 15th to June 1. Children welcome. $700 per month plus security.

RENTAL

Grosse Pointe Shores three bedroom ranch available from December 1st to May 1st. $750 per month plus security.

TWO FAMILY FLAT

Tax deduction, appreciation, cash flow . . . Pick your need, one or all three? This fine two family flat located in a prime area. Both units feature living room with natural fireplace, formal dining, kitchen with eating space, two bedrooms and a screened porch. All utilities are separate, new roof and a three car garage make this an investment worth investigating. Terms negotiable.

ST. CLAIR SHORES

Beautifully decorated ranch near Marter Road. Large country kitchen opens onto a 30 foot family room. Three bedrooms, two full baths, two fireplaces plus panelled rec room with wet bar. Owner transferred. Priced to sell!!!

LOCATION

Provencal . . . Spectacular view from this masterpiece of a house, designed for entertaining in a grand manner. Its exceptional appointments include step down living room, den and formal dining room, all accessible from the two story foyer. The winding staircase leads to five bedrooms and three full baths, with additional living quarters on the third floor.

LOCATION

Cloverly . . . Center entrance colonial features four bedrooms and three baths plus an additional bedroom and bath on the first floor. Panelled library, two natural fireplaces, year round garden room, and an apartment over the attached garage. Oh yes, there's a swimming pool.

GROSSE POINTE SCHOOL SYSTEM

All aluminum two bedroom home on a deep lot in Harper Woods. Living room, dining room, nice kitchen, all for under Twenty Thousand Dollars.

'PS' Group Views Stress

The East-side Chapter of "P.S." (Parent Support), will present a program on stress and disease as they relate to the total family with Richard W. Fournier on Thursday, December 13, in the Bethany Room of Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop road, at 7:30 p.m.

It is free and open to the general public.

Mr. Fournier, who is associated with the Saint Francis Home for Boys, is a certified PET instructor. One time associated with the Archdiocese of Detroit, he will discuss stress and disease as they relate to the problems encountered in family living.

Parent Support is an organization which helps parents achieve greater family harmony through the use of effective parenting skills. For those who have completed the PET training course or other parent awareness educational programs, the monthly sessions of Parent Support provide valuable refreshers.

The chapter is affiliated with the Family Life Education service of Michigan State University's Wayne County Extension Service.

For more information about Parent Support or to receive its monthly information newsletter, call the Wayne County Extension Service office at 721-8565.

Less Travel Expected During Thanksgiving

While motorists are expected to travel four percent fewer miles in the state this Thanksgiving than last year, Automobile Club of Michigan says this holiday has the potential of being the most dangerous on roads this year.

"We are concerned by the recent cutback in State Police patrols due to budget shortages which means their road patrols will be cut at least one-third during the upcoming holiday," said Auto Club Safety and Traffic Engineering Manager Arthur C. Gibson, in a news release.

Thanksgiving is traditionally the most dangerous period of the year. For the past three years, an average 23 persons have died over the three summer holidays compared with 27 for the Thanksgiving period.

"All of the most dangerous factors are at play during this holiday," said Mr. Gibson. "Those factors are short trips near home, more hours of darkness, heavy use of alcohol and poor driving conditions due to ice and snow."

Motorists in Michigan are expected to travel 350 million miles during the Thanksgiving holiday which began at 6 p.m. Wednesday, November 21, and ends at midnight Sunday, November 25.

Auto Club bases its mileage figure on a five percent drop in touring requests from its members, a five percent decline in motor vehicle travel reported by the Michigan Department of Transportation and a three percent decline in touring according to the Michigan Travel Bureau.

Last Thanksgiving Day holiday, 29 persons were killed in 25 accidents. All but one of the fatal mishaps occurred in darkness, 76 percent happened within 25 miles of the driver's home and 60 percent of the at-fault drivers were known or suspected to have been drinking.

"Only one of the motorist-incident victims was wearing safety belts," explained Mr. Gibson.

Heavy traffic is expected today, Thanksgiving Day, November 22, in Detroit for the annual J.L. Hudson Company's parade and in Pontiac for the Detroit Lions football game.

The Thanksgiving Day parade begins at 9:15 a.m. at the corner of Woodward and Putnam. More than 500,000 spectators are expected to line the route to watch the two and a half-hour parade.

A less than capacity crowd of 62,000 is expected to attend the 12:30 p.m. Lions-Chicago Bears game at the Silverdome. Motorists not attending the contest should avoid stadium-area surface streets and the I-75 freeway near Pontiac one hour before and after the game, which should end around 3:30 p.m.

Some heavy pockets of traffic also are expected on the state's major arteries with schools or other facilities bound for holiday destinations and deer hunters heading for the woods during the final weekend of the firearm season.

Major airlines report many flights booked for the week-ends before and after Thanksgiving, especially to warm weather destinations.

Twenty-five of Michigan's 57 ski lodges plan to open for skiers over the Thanksgiving holiday weekend if weather permits. They include the following:

Southeast Michigan — Mt. Gramplan, near Oxford, Mt. Holly, near Holly, and Mt. Brighton, near Brighton.

West Michigan — Nub's Nob and Boyne Highlands, near Harbor Springs; Boyne Mt., near Boyne Falls; Sugar Loaf, Timberlee and Traverse City Holiday, near Traverse City; Crystal Mt., near Thompsonville; Lost Pines near Harrietta; Caberfae, near Cadillac; Cannonsburg, near Cannonsburg; Timber Ridge, near Gobles; Swiss Valley, near Jones; Royal Valley, near Buchanan; and Middleville, near Middleville.

East Michigan — Tyrolean Hills, near Gaylord, and Mio Mt., near Mio.

Upper Peninsula — Porcupine Mt., near Ontonagon; Indianhead Mt., near Wakefield; Big Powderhorn and Blackjack, near Bessemer; Ski Brule, near Iron River; and Pine Mt., near Iron Mountain.

Wilson Named to Bar Position

Pointe attorney Edward Reilly Wilson III has been named co-chairperson, with Jeanette A. Paskin, of the State Bar of Michigan's Committee on Appellate Court Administration.

The committee monitors the administration, organization and operation of the Michigan appellate courts for effective administration of justice.

Announcement of the one-year appointment was recently made by State Bar president Ivan Barris.

Mr. Wilson, who lives in

The Woods, is the principal attorney in the office of the Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney.

He is a member of the Michigan State Bar, the American Bar Association and the Detroit Bar Association. He is a member of the Governor's Commission on Criminal Justice and a member of the Public Safety and Justice Committee of New Detroit, Incorporated.

Mr. Wilson attended Wayne State University where he was awarded a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry and a Juris Doctor degree.

PATMON V-P

The Greater Detroit Oldsmobile Dealers Association recently appointed Willie Patmon of The Park as vice-president for the 1979-80 term.
