HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by The Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, December 27
AS EXPECTED, MOTORISTS will pay more at the pump in the coming year. Some consumers, however, are already paying up to $1.20 for unleaded gasoline. An increase in Middle East crude oil is to blame for the rising cost with sources indicating that December gasoline prices are only a fore-runner of what motorists can expect to pay in 1980. Michigan motorists pay the highest state and federal gasoline taxes in the country, about 19.2 cents a gallon.

Friday, December 28
A FEDERAL APPEALS court ruled that the U.S. government can legally deport Iranian students whose visas are not proper. In overturning a District Court ruling, the appeals court stated that it is not up to the courts to pass judgment on foreign policy. A White House spokesman indicated that the decision upholds the administrative view that the embassy takeover was a violation of international law. A lawyer for the Confederation of Iranian students said the decision will be appealed.

Saturday, December 29
ALTHOUGH RHODESIA'S seven-year-old war ended midnight Friday, violence still plagued the country with reports of 32 more people killed in guerrilla warfare. An armistice followed 102 days of negotiations in London. British Governor Lord Soames urged both sides to respect a 1,300-man Commonwealth force sent to insure peace. A British military spokesman said a land mine exploded under a police car ushering in the Commonwealth troops. Several policemen also were reported injured.

Sunday, December 30
PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER used the Washington-Moscow "hot line" to warn Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev to halt infiltration of troops into Afghanistan. The President said the Soviets would face "serious consequences" if the reportedly 25,000 Russian troops did not pull out of the country that borders Iran. Sources at the White House said Mr. Brezhnev replied to Mr. Carter's request, but no details were released. Political Muslim leaders and the Western European Communists joined Mr. Carter's condemnation of the Soviets.

Monday, December 31
UNITED NATIONS Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim will go to Tehran in an effort to negotiate the release of the 50 American hostages held captive since early November. Student militants holding the hostages said Mr. Waldheim will not be received as a negotiator because he is "not trustworthy." Mr. Waldheim said he received an invitation to Tehran "as a result of contacts established in the last few weeks." If his mission fails to gain the release of the hostages, the Security Council will meet to discuss a possible trade embargo against Iran.

Tuesday, January 1
IN A VICTORY for Washington, the United Nations Security Council decided yesterday to impose sanctions against Iran if it rejects a final call for the immediate release of the 50 American hostages held in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran. After three days of debate, the council adopted by a vote of 11-0, with four abstentions, including the Soviet Union, an American-initiated resolution that commits the council to mandatory enforcement measures if the hostage crisis is not solved by Monday.

Brownell Students Help Crossroads Aid Needy

Hundreds of cans of food made their way to Crossroads, the social service unit of Saint Paul's Cathedral, over the Christmas holidays thanks to the work of Student Council and seventh and eighth grade students at Brownell Middle School. Packing the contributions into boxes late last month are, (from left to right), FATHER JAMES McLAREN, director of Crossroads, council members MOLLY ARPIN and MERRITT MEADE, sponsor DORIS ZENN and Principal WILLIAM CHRISTOFFERSON. Crossroads will distribute the food to deserving families in the Detroit area.

Parking No Problem in GPF... Yet

But Mayor's Commission Feels Situation of Commuters Leaving Cars, Then Taking Bus, Could Worsen

By David Kramer
As the price of gasoline continues to soar, residents of the Pointes are likely to encounter a new problem — commuters leaving their cars on city streets and taking the bus. Some residents, notably in The Farms, already have encountered it.
Largely through the prodding of Farms Councilwoman Nancy Waugaman, that council had instructed the Mayor's Advisory Planning Commission to look into the problem of non-residents parking in the Moross-Chalfonte area.
The commission responded that the problem wasn't large enough at present to warrant action, but added the situation could worsen as the energy pinch tightens.
Very Disappointed
The council at its Monday, December 17, meeting, agreed to table the matter for a six-month period.
"I'm extremely disappointed," Mrs. Waugaman said. "I feel a problem exists and I don't concur with (the planning commission), at all."
The commission based its

Safety Factors at Mack, Vernier Intersection To Occupy GPW Officials

Council Set to Consider Contract for Major Construction Work at January 7 Meeting; Public Safety Director Dankel Also Offers Suggestions for Improvements

By Roger A. Waha
The subject of the Mack avenue-Vernier road intersection has occupied, and will continue to occupy, the attention of Woods officials as the council on Monday, December 17, considered two separate communications.
One, from Public Safety Director John Dankel, explored the recent accident where a 12-year-old girl reportedly ran against a "don't walk" signal and was hit by a car, while the other was an agreement between the city and the Wayne County Road Commission for resurfacing the intersection.
On the latter, the council unanimously approved the pact, with the work scheduled to transpire this spring in conjunction with major construction work, including the realigning of traffic lanes and the tapering of medians, toward improving the intersection area.
Major Concern
The contract with the Michigan Department of Transportation for the big program is scheduled for consideration by the council at its Monday, January 7, meeting.
Last spring, The Woods received program approval from the Federal Highway Administration for 90 percent Federal Aid Safety funding for the project, i.e., with 90 percent of the estimated cost, (placed at over

GP City Also Makes Plans For New Year

While Officials Focus Upon Future Projects, Smoke Alarms Still Remain Available for Elderly, Handicapped, Low Income Residents; Weatherization, Rehabilitation Project Monies Also on Hand

By Susan McDonald
If Grosse Pointe City's old pump house ever catches on fire it is going to make one heck of a noise. The pump house is where hundreds of new, buzzing smoke alarms are currently being stored while City officials look for elderly, handicapped or low income residents who need them.
They'll be installed, free of charge, in the homes of qualifying citizens by contractors hired by SOC, (Seniors Onward for Change, Inc.).
To get an alarm, (or two or three, depending on the size of your home), you must be over 65, handicapped or have low to moderate income, ($13,300 or under for a family of two).
Offer Other Aid
Smoke alarms are not all The City has to give away this year. There is still about $9,000 left to help residents "weatherize" their homes for the winter and even more for rehabilitation projects.
The money all comes from The City's 1979 Community Development Block Grant, (CDBG), program which netted the community almost $140,000 last year.
The City is getting ready to make application for another grant for 1980 as well. Public hearings on the application have been scheduled on two dates next month—Monday, January 14, at 10:30 a.m. and Monday, January 21, at 7:30 p.m. Both will be at City offices, 17147 Maumee avenue.
City officials are hoping citizens come to the hearings with new ideas for community improvement projects that may be funded by the CDBG.
Right now, officials are considering a number of ways to use their basic, $80,000, 1980 grant. Included are a new water main under St. Paul avenue, tree grates for The Village shopping

Yule Sales Sparkle for Merchants

Most Businesses Contacted Call 1979 Christmas Buying Period Exceptional

By Joanne N. Gouleche
Despite the bleak economic outlook for 1980, the Chrysler plight and double-digit inflation, it appears that Christmas shoppers in Grosse Pointe may have put more presents under the tree this year.
Pointe merchants sampled the 1979 Christmas buying period exceptional.
"The last three days before Christmas were the busiest ever in the history of the store," said Sloane Barbour, sales manager for Pointe Electronics, 19755 Mack avenue.

Officials Await Word As January 1 Deadline Passes Regarding State-Mandated EMT Requirements

By David Kramer
While The Woods begins a new five-member Emergency Medical Technician, (EMT), unit to operate its ambulance, Farms officials, unable to meet state requirements, once again have applied for an extension to the compliance deadline, which was Tuesday, January 1.
No word has yet been received from the state on whether the service will be allowed to operate for another six months while the Fire Department sends two more men to EMT school. But City Manager Andrew Bremer stated he "fully expects to be in operation" after the first of the year.
The Farms' one-year extension expired on January 1, with the department then having just one licensed EMT in its ranks. Early this year, two more will finish their training, and two others should be trained and licensed by the middle part of the year, Mr. Bremer said, indicating the five men would be sufficient to meet requirements.
No Consolidation Plans
State law requires one EMT in the patient compartment of an ambulance on each run.
The department lost an EMT trained man when its newest member left the force a short time ago.
Mr. Bremer said he has no

Shutterbugs Meet Tuesday

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will meet Tuesday, January 8, at 7:45 p.m. for a nature and slide competition. The assignment for the meeting is bark.
The club will gather at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, and visitors are welcome.

Woods Eyes Projects for 1980 Year

Residents Have Chance to Offer Comments on Proposed Program

By Roger A. Waha
Applications for the 1980 Community Development Block Grant, (CDBG), program are due on Friday, February 1, and Woods officials are in the midst of preparing various projects for consideration by the Wayne County Office of Program Development and Coordination.
The CDBG Advisory Commission met on Wednesday, December 19, to tackle the project selection process and the council at its regular meeting Monday, December 17, unanimously set two public hearing dates as part of the program's requirements.
Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara said the first hearing, which will be held Monday, January 7, is to solicit proposals, while the second hearing, which is set for Monday, January 21, presents the city's selection of projects to the public for acceptance or rejection.
Awaits Final Total
As in past years, The Woods is seeking a total of $120,000 for a variety of projects and, according to Terrence Jarvis, community development coordinator, Office of Program Development and Coordination, the chances are good that the city will receive that amount.
"For planning purposes, we told the communities that they should receive their base allocation figure as in previous years," he said.
Last year's entitlement figure, he continued, was $6,208,000 with 32 communities participating in the program. While no final figure for this year's program has been announced by HUD, (Department of Housing and Urban Development), Mr. Jarvis stated he expects the amount to be less than last year, possibly between $5.9 to $6 million.
A reason for the expected lower figure is because Inksler, a previous participant, is going out on its own. Mr. Jarvis anticipates a specific figure will be forthcoming about the middle of this month.

GPW Amends Storage Law

An ordinance amendment, focusing upon the law governing the outside storage of boats and trailers, was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its second reading stage.
This action was taken at its regular meeting Monday, December 17.
Prior to the amendment, City Attorney George Catlin said the section, which says that such outside storage must not exceed more than 72 hours within any seven-day period, was impossible to enforce.
"We would have had to have the vehicle checked four or six times during a shift to make sure it wasn't moved within 72 hours," he pointed out, while noting the addition of the word "presumed" would help in this situation.
The measure now says, "A violation of this section shall be presumed when any such equipment or vehicle is parked continuously for three consecutive days between the hours of 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. wherein permission for such parking has not been granted by the Director of Public Safety."
This ordinance becomes effective 20 days after its enactment date.

Woods Welcomes Five New EMTs

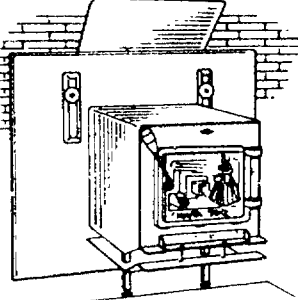

The Woods' newly created specialized civilian Emergency Medical Service division within public safety began its operation Wednesday, December 26, with an orientation process before becoming operational on Saturday, December 29. All five members are licensed Emergency Medical Technicians, (EMTs), while two also are para-medics. They are, (from left to right), JOHN DRYER, 22, PAUL BISSONETTE, 32, SALLY SULLIVAN, 20, CHARLES RORK, 24, a licensed para-med, and ROBIN MUMPER, 24, also a licensed para-med.

Juvenile Counseling Plan to Be Explored

By Susan McDonald
Representatives of the Center Point Crisis Center and five Pointe police departments will meet early this month to hammer out details of a new program to counsel juveniles caught breaking the law.
"We have most of the details worked out and are ready to present a tentative contract to the police," said Jane Hoey, a member of the board of Center Point's parent organization FLEC, (Family Life Education Council).
Under the proposal, youths caught committing crimes in The Pointe would be referred, with parental consent, to Center Point's volunteer staff for guidance and counseling.
The service will be offered to the cities free of charge

(Continued from Page 1) cooperative effort between Gerald Luedtke and Associates, Inc., and William Kessler and Associates, Inc., which will focus upon improvements for the commercial area on both sides of Mack avenue between Vernier road and the St. Clair Shores city limits. The study, along with some actual work, reaches $61,500.

Do Some Switching

• Street repair work which also will include sewer work, e.g., replacing deteriorating catch basins. This totals $46,000.

• An allocation of $10,000 to SOC, (Seniors Onward) for Change, Inc.).

• A code attainment plan wherein citizens living in the area could have their homes inspected for potential code violations, with the objective being that they could have the violations corrected themselves.

The study and ensuing design plan would include an architectural redesign of all buildings within the study area, recommendations on street furniture, plantings, paving, parking, signage, treatment of vacant lots, traffic control, special zoning regulations and financing approaches. Its estimated cost is placed at around $50,000.

However, Mr. McNamara pointed out the advisory commission wanted to reduce the study and its cost for more immediate implementation in the "bricks and mortar" area. In this respect, he said members are looking at street furniture and plantings, for instance, in an effort to get actual work underway.

A commission sub-committee is scheduled to meet sometime before the council meeting to do some switching in the area of costs, i.e., reduce the expense of the study and the $50,000 figure with more of an emphasis upon actual implementation, he added.

City Also Makes Plans

Was The First

The City has used its CDBG funds for a variety of projects since it joined the program in 1976, including street resurfacing, ramping sidewalks, building bicycle racks and adding light fixtures. The money also has helped buy a new fire truck, establish a spot home demolition program and build parking lots.

The City was the first community in The Pointe to begin a housing revitalization program with CDBG funds. Based on a 1975 survey of its housing stock, officials estimated that about 80 homes were in need of substantial rehabilitation.

Under the program, citizens receive grants to help repair roofs, foundations, plumbing and electrical problems in their homes.

To receive grants or smoke alarms, citizens must fill out application forms at city offices. To qualify for weatherization grants residents must be in the low income category and have less than $10,000 in assets, excluding their home, its furnishings and car.

The grants of up to $1,000 must be used to help cut heat and electric bills by installation of such items as insulation, storm windows or thermostat setbacks.

GPF Parking

(Continued from Page 1) findings on a survey conducted by the police department which found an average of 10 non-resident vehicles parked in the area on working days. Using a license plate check, the department sent questionnaires to the regular non-resident parkers.

Virtually all of those questioned were from communities other than the Pointes, and all were parked there to ride the two SEMTA bus lines that go by there.

Most said they would park in off-street lots if they were available, but that when they did park in the lot behind Sears Roebuck and Krogers on Mack, they were ticketed.

As part of its information for the council, the planning commission included a report by Public Service Director John DeFoe on the situation in other Pointes. Police officials in the other communities contacted by Mr. DeFoe generally agreed that commuter parking was not a major problem.

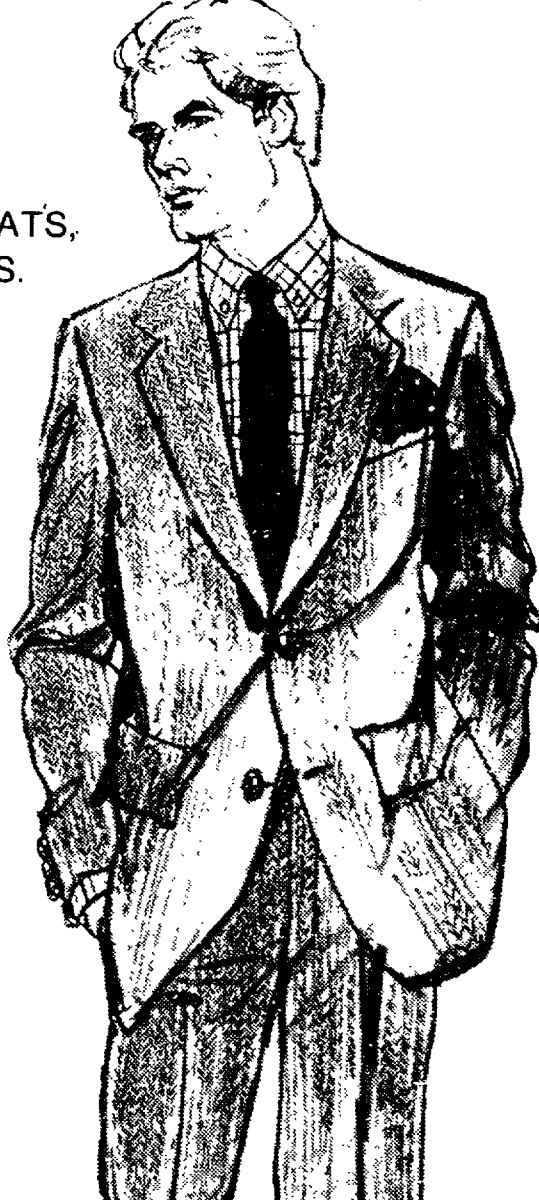

More Lots Sought

Commission member Melvin Rousek met with SEMTA officials who told him they were attempting to obtain more park and ride lots. Discussions have been held toward using property located at Jefferson and Alter roads for this purpose. Use of the lot would require tearing down a building.

Eastland Shopping Center recently initiated a park and ride lot, and federal and state funds to develop additional lots are more readily available than in past years, Mr. Rousek's report said, adding that in past years, The Woods had offered land for such a lot.

The commission recommended that The Farms and SEMTA officials meet to discuss the park and ride situation on the east side.

Ambulance

Meanwhile, St. Clair Health Services Corporation, an affiliate of Saint John Hospital, which made two proposals to the Pointes to operate a para-medical-equipped ambulance service, dropped its offer as a result of The Woods' decision to go with its own five-member unit.

John Staub, director of the St. Clair Ambulatory Care Corporation, said the service wouldn't be feasible without the population base of The Woods to support it.

Pointe city officials have bitterly protested state and federal regulations which will eventually require ambulance personnel to be trained as para-medics, claiming there are three hospitals within a very short drive of any spot in the Pointes, and advanced emergency training is therefore unnecessary.

Star Girls Mark Yule

By Cathy Pieronek
 Our Lady Star of the Sea High School's annual Christmas celebration was held on Thursday, December 20.

The students began their joyous preparations at Thanksgiving when they assisted in the annual clothing drive. The spirit of giving continued through the season when Star's students helped collect and pack food for needy area families.

Then the day of celebration began on the 20th with doughnuts for all, a Christmas present from Star's principal, Donald Sloan.

After a morning of shortened classes, the girls were entertained by Star's own choral group, the Starlights, under the direction of Janet Drolshagen. The Drama Club presented its holiday production, "The Nutcracker," with Lynda Fulgenzi starring as Clara, the little girl whose Nutcracker, played by Cathy Beale, comes to a magical life.

The girls were then honored by a visit from Santa Claus, alias Senior Class president, Jill Van Hollebeke, who distributed presents to the faculty and staff and "Kris Kringle" gifts from the girls to each other.

Students then reflected on the true spirit of the holiday at a special all-school Mass celebrated by Father Hector Saulino, Star's assistant pastor.

In the evening, Star's Student Council sponsored the annual Christmas Dance at the War Memorial. Many alumnae joined with Star's students and their dates as they danced to the music of "Contraband."

Troop 96 Holds Court of Honor

The Court of Honor, held Monday, December 17, of Scout Troop 96, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, is the culmination of a very active program for the 60 young men of the troop. The scouts received 139 awards at the event held in the Barbour Chapel.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of Eagle Scout awards to Herman Guevara, the son of the Walter Guevaras of Washington road, and Matthew Van Tiem, the son of the Thomas A. Van Tiems of Village Lane. The presentations were made by Scoutmaster Dave Steele and swim coach John Sfire.

The Life award was presented to William Bissell, Andy Clay and Vince Van Tiem. Star awards were earned by Ernest Blazar and Chris Bollinger. Chris Hillmich, Mike Lawrence and Richard Riehl were given the First Class awards.

Second Class awards were presented to Walter Guevara, Jim Hillmich and Curt West. Phil Antonson, Jim Barlow, Andy Bedsworth, Dave Blumer, Janson Colegrove, Dave Fugua, Pontus Genberg, Dan Grow, Gardner Martin, James Reynolds, Kirk Sanders, Terry Treiber and Jeff Van Tassel received the Tenderfoot award.

Brian Brooks, George Charbonneau, Tom Dingell, Patrick Frost, Mark Gall, Keith Leaman and Paul Srebernak were presented the Scout award.

Vandals Hit Bouncers' Cars

Cars owned by two bouncers at an East Warren avenue bowling alley were damaged by vandals on Sunday, December 24, in the parking lot of the Rams Horn Restaurant, 17410 Mack avenue, according to City police.

Vandals smashed the windshields, rear and side windows of both cars and flattened two tires on each vehicle at around 3 a.m. Sunday, police said.

The owners of the cars, Tony Coston of Detroit and Mark Kotula of Harper Woods, told police they had thrown several people out of the bowling alley earlier that evening. They suspect the vandalism was an act of retribution.

Police estimated the damage at about $600.

Training Plan Hit by Woods Council

A resolution against driver training for ambulance operators was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, December 17.

Public Safety Director John Dankel reported to the solons that one of the elements provided in the original Emergency Medical Service Act was a program of driver certification.

He then said he received documents from the state indicating that all persons employed by the city who operate ambulances will have to participate in a one-week approved driver training, (ambulance), school between now and the end of 1982.

"I think this requirement is absurd when viewed in the context of our public safety operation. Our men are trained and experienced in the operation of emergency vehicles ranging in size from a four-door sedan to a 45,000-pound fire truck," he stated.

Director Dankel suggested the council then approved the resolution.

GP Woods Solon Hits Lack of Confab Reports

By Roger A. Waha

When it came time to consider approving the expenses of three Woods officials who attended the National League of Cities convention in Las Vegas, Nev., recently, one councilman expressed his displeasure over several factors and voted "no" on the three motions of approval.

Councilman Thomas Fahrner on Monday, December 17, felt, before the expenditures of Mayor George S. Freeman and Councilmen John Sabol and Robert E. Novitke were approved, some kind of report from attending officials should be given on what transpired at the confab and what its value was.

"No matter who goes, we should let the people know where we went and what happens," said Mr. Fahrner, who has, in the past, indicated some concern in this area, particularly in relation to National League of Cities confabs.

The councilman stated he didn't recall receiving an agenda of the gathering this summer, although his colleagues indicated one was made available at that time. Mr. Fahrner also stated he didn't recall seeing any reports from participating officials in two years regarding the conference and "we don't even have the right to vote at the national one."

As it turned out, the expenses of the trio of officials were approved by a 5-1 count, with Mr. Fahrner voting "no" in each case and the affected official abstaining from voting on his expenses.

The expenses were approved as follows: Mr. Freeman, $890.00, Mr. Sabol, $223, and Mr. Novitke, $671.03. The costs, it was said, didn't include the conference registration fee, with the bulk encompassing lodging, transportation and meals.

Monies for such conferences are allocated in the city council budget for a fiscal year and for 1979-80 the total is $28,259. Through this November 30, a total of $9,529.53 has been expended from the budget.

On a related matter, Mr. Fahrner also questioned if the participating official or the city paid for costs of travel prior to and after the specific days of any given conference.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen pointed out it's the city's expense, with the policy being that elected and appointed officials, plus department heads, being permitted to go before and leave the day after a conference.

"Going the day before is nothing unreasonable," added Mr. Sabol, in relation to transportation scheduling in such cases.

Good New Year Depends on You

There are things we can all do to make a healthier, happier New Year, says the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan in a news release.

"Experts estimate that half of the deaths that occur in this country each year are due primarily to unhealthy behavior or life styles. We do ourselves in," officials say.

Human biological factors themselves account for only 20 percent of the deaths. Environmental factors are responsible for another 20 percent. Only 10 percent are because of inadequacies in health care.

In 1979, for the first time, the U.S. Surgeon General issued a major report on preventing illness. A central theme of the report was that the health of our citizens could be improved dramatically by the following:

- Elimination of cigaret smoking.
- Reduction of alcohol misuse.
- Moderate dietary changes to reduce intake of excess calories, fat, salt and sugar.
- Moderate exercise.
- Periodic screening for major disorders such as high blood pressure and certain cancers.
- Adherence to speed laws and use of seat belts.

Students View Leadership

A group of select high school students from North, South, Star of the Sea and University Liggett Schools will participate in the first annual Grosse Pointe Student Leadership Workshop on Thursday, February 21, at the War Memorial.

The workshop, which will be moderated by the Rev. George Andrews of University Liggett, is aimed at bringing students together to understand leadership styles and to apply those styles to day-to-day situations.

Rev. Andrews will be assisted by Jim Schrage, a member of the program committee at the War Memorial. Rev. Andrews participated in an International Student Leadership Seminar, held at Notre Dame University, and hopes to apply the format from that seminar to the one in Grosse Pointe.

Students who are helping put the program together are Chris Lynch, Scott Turnbull and Kathy Heck from North High, John Gillooly, John Cammett and Greta Lindvedt from South, Anne VanHollebeke and Cathy Boyle from Star of the Sea and Bill Mackey, Andrea Feeser and Carolyn Danaher from University Liggett.

Those students will invite about 30 more from each high school to participate in the program. The students who are invited must be active leaders or members of clubs and organizations.

Aerobic Dance Classes Slated

Every year following the festive holiday season, millions of Americans resolve to "trim off inches" and "get back in shape." Unfortunately, by February, most of these good intentions have gone unfulfilled.

For 1980, however, everyone can keep their resolutions. How? By participating in Aerobic Dancing's "Winners!" session which begins Monday, January 7, in the Grosse Pointe area.

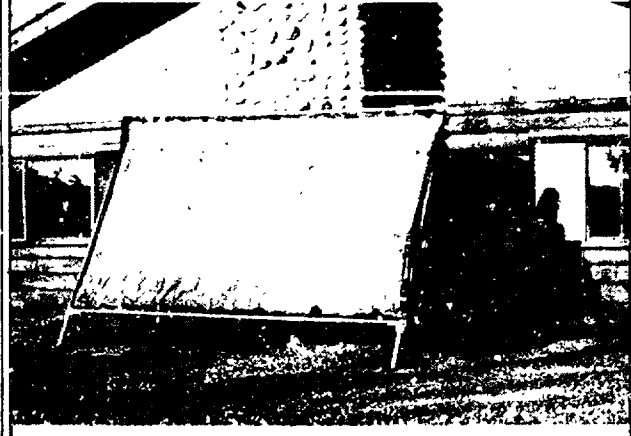

This 12-week session will allow students to "trim holiday excess" through simple, vigorous dance movements, choreographed to everyone's favorite music. Aerobic Dancing combines all the essentials of a complete physical fitness program, officials say.

And, if twice a week sessions are not enough, you can take Aerobic Dancing home with you, too. "Aerobic Dancing," by Jacki Sorensen, is now a complete book program that you can do on your own. It's been published in time to make your New Year a trim one!

For a schedule of "Winners!" classes in your area, write Aerobic Dancing, Inc., 1130 Parker, number 311, Detroit 48214, or call 822-2022.

Dockage Fee Due Date Set

A recommendation from the Citizens Recreation Commission on boat dockage fees was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, December 17.

The commission and the council had discussed this issue before with members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club and other interested citizens. Several concerns were expressed including the need to know about the "bumping" procedure as soon as possible.

In the motion of approval, one-third of the dockage fee, non-refundable, will be due on January 15, for the 80 wells on the lake side of the marina, with the balance due on April 15. Space allotments also will be made by February 15.

As part of the motion, payments by applicants for 156 downriver wells will be due in full on April 15, with no pre-payment necessary for these wells.

Ed Williams, recreation commission chairman, said the payment of one-third of the fee would hold a person responsible if he or she wanted a well. He felt such a payment was needed by January 15 so any person who might be "bumped" would have time to find a well elsewhere.

Related to this, a recommendation from the commission on increasing boat dockage fees was recently referred by the council to the Committee of the Whole, City Comptroller Frederick G. Hornfisher and the commission for further study.

An objective of this action is to determine the exact need of raising such rates.

The commission had recommended that the fees be increased to keep up with rising costs, with downstream wells going from $220 to $270 per season and those upstream jumping from $130 to $165.

Wine Lines

By John Lundberg

Rituals and traditions are often based on practical and/or health considerations. Dietary laws especially fit this description. People were to eat or not eat certain foods in combination either because they carried or caused disease, or because they were scarce or especially precious. Some people feel that some traditions are pointless now that we can prevent diseases from most foods. People rebel against popular traditions such as drinking red wine with red meats and white wines with poultry or fish. What they forget is that the basis of wine drinking tradition still makes sense.

Whatever your preference, whether traditional, modern or even "futuristic," chances are excellent that you will discover the beverage of your choice at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit. With a wide selection of sizes, brands, flavors and even countries, we are proud to offer the liquors, beers and wines that appeal to most all tastes. Your drinking pleasure is our main concern at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE. Stop in and see us today. Open 10-10 Mon.-Thurs., 10-11 Fri. & Sat., noon-10 Sun. Tel. 885-0626.

Safety Factors at Intersection

(Continued from Page 1) a vehicle, because traffic lanes aren't aligned, could go over the curb and sidewalk at the southeast corner of Mack and Vernier when youngsters leaving Parcels School, 20600 Mack, are ready to cross, with death and/or injury resulting.

Playing a key role in the approval of the application was the fatal accident in May 1978 in which a 13-year-old Harper Woods boy was killed when his bike made contact with a city garbage truck as he attempted to cross the intersection.

Local, county and state officials had earlier indicated that they recognize that the intersection is a potentially hazardous one.

On the resurfacing agreement, the estimated cost is placed at between $30,000 to $40,000 with the board of county road commissioners agreeing to pay two-thirds of the amount and the city, one-third.

Upon execution of the pact, the city will commence to prepare plans and specifications for the project, with the plans being subject to the approval of the board's engineering department.

The agreement indicates that the city shall make application for federal funds for the project, which shall be used to proportionately reduce the cost to the parties if such funds are received by the city.

It also points out that the project contract will be awarded by the Department of Transportation.

The latest accident occurred on Wednesday afternoon, December 1, when the seventh grade student left Parcels and apparently ran against the "don't walk" signal from the southeast corner of the intersection when she was struck by the car.

Safety factors at the busy intersection have always been a concern and shortly after the mishap, Woods officers met with school officials and students to see if some type of traffic control committee might be set up at the school, wherein students would monitor and/or assist with pedestrian traffic at their own peer level.

For his part, Director Dankel, in examining the facts of the accident, while attempting to discover any practical ideas for improving the safety of the students, suggested a three-point plan after a meeting with Executive Lt. Jack Patterson and Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook.

One action which already has been taken was increasing the adult crossing staff from two to three, with the additional person being primarily responsible for working the southeast corner of the intersection, keeping children out of the roadway except when being properly crossed.

An additional enforcement effort, with juvenile tickets being given to particular offenders, also would help in controlling improper actions on the parts of some students, he said. Youth Officer Patrick DeVine has been assigned to this project.

The third approach, which is already underway, is to increase the department's educational effort at Parcels.

Director Dankel, in acknowledging these were short range solutions, suggested officials explore more substantial long term changes that might be compatible with the construction in the spring.

As an example, he felt that the possibility of completely relocating the school crossing away from the intersection via a pedestrian overpass from Mack and Vernier was worth studying. The director said he will discuss this more fully with the city engineers.

Another suggestion was the possible use of flashing warning lights on all four legs of the intersection, which "should be pushed vigorously with the county."

While telling the council there's some opposition to this idea at the county level regarding its effectiveness in an urban environment, Director Dankel stated he disagreed with this viewpoint.

In fact, he said last week Goodell-Grivas, Inc., is currently preparing some working drawings and cost estimates for the council's consideration on this proposal. A main objective would be to make motorists more aware of an active school crossing via the flashing lights.

For such a project to become a reality, he added it would have to be approved by both the council and the county.

R/A Turns Out To Be False

A reported robbery armed, (R/A), at the Mack-Hawthorne Arco Service Station, 20805 Mack avenue, on November 29 actually turned out to be a flim-flam incident, reported Woods police.

After a follow-up investigation of the alleged robbery, in which around $695 was originally reported taken by a suspect, police learned from a young employe that a robbery really didn't occur at all.

Det. Stephen Petrik said a man walked in, pulled three cards from his pocket and got the youth and a friend involved in a game in which the youth lost more than $300.

Hence, police were able to clear and close the case.

Yule Sales Sparkle

(Continued from Page 1) TVs and especially Sony consumer products. He theorized that the gas crunch may be playing a part in people deciding to spend money on a color TV rather than on a ski outfit.

Ed Hickey of Hickey's In-the-Village said he had an "even season" compared to his Christmas sales of last year, but had increased purchases of fine neckwear, blazers, patterned slacks and cashmere outerwear and sweaters this year.

Studio Camera, 20229 Mack, reported business as "very, very good," with owner Ahmed Ismael saying Minolta cameras were popular with Christmas shoppers.

Gold Glitters

It was a good year, too, for the jewelry business. Edmund Ahee of Ahee's Jewelry, 20139 Mack, said the recent publicity of steadily rising gold prices have made people more conscious about gold jewelry. Mr. Ahee said pearls, along with watches and fine jewelry, sold very well, too.

Bill Williams of Charterhouse and Company, 16835 Kercheval avenue, said "Gold jewelry sold very briskly," especially fine gold chains and bracelets, but surprisingly slow were cocktail rings.

Best selling record albums this Christmas were by Sticks, Led Zeppelin, Super Tramp and Donna Summer. Bob Clark of Harmony House, 19683 Mack, said he experienced a slight decrease in sales, noting record albums have gone up since last year.

Some of the bigger retailers in the area also reported increased yule sales.

Credit over Cash

A spokesman for Sears and Roebuck said sales for the Seven Mile and Mack store were "way up over last year," beating sales projections, while Jacobson's termed the Christmas season as "excellent."

One area that experienced sagging sales were ski outlets. The lack of snow has caused sales to dip in purchases of skis, poles and boots.

"For the first time in many years, Boyne Mountain was closed Thanksgiving Day," said Pete Schummer of Schummer's Ski Shop, 20778 Mack.

Mr. Schummer said his sales were about even through mid-December and then they began to drop. Ski clothing, however, sold quite well.

And most area merchants indicated that their customers used credit to make their purchases.

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Farms MICHIGAN NOTICE OF HEARING ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

Notice is hereby given that the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the City Hall, 90 Kerby Road, Grosse Pointe Farms on MONDAY, JANUARY 21, 1980

at 8:00 P.M. to hear the appeal of Mr. Peter Bologna of 81 Investment Company, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of an office building located on the premises at 131 Kercheval and further extending along the northwesterly boundary of such property and along the right-of-way of Kercheval Avenue to the Muir Road right-of-way. Such Permit issuance was denied for reason that:

1- Sufficient off-street parking would not be available on the property to meet the requirements of the City's Zoning Ordinance under Section 1504, Item 9. Three Hundred (300) parking spaces are required according to building use criteria under Section 1504, Item 9 of the City's Zoning Ordinance, whereas the plan of proposed construction provides no parking spaces. Under the provisions of Section 1504, Item 9, the Board may grant exceptions to off street parking requirements where it determines after a hearing that the requirements are excessive or unduly burdensome for any of several reasons specified, including that publicly owned parking facilities are available reasonably nearby.

2 - The proposed office structure has a building height of 37 feet, thereby exceeding the maximum building height of 30 feet as specified for a B-1 Local Business District in Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance, thereby requiring that a variance be granted from such provisions.

The Hearing will be public. Interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

Counseling

A similar counseling service was provided by the now-defunct Youth Service Division which was disbanded in June.

"It is critical for our civic leaders and members of our community to recognize that Center Point... has the resources, the supervision and professional consultation services to take on the (Youth Service Division's) critical function of prevention and diversion within our juvenile justice system," Mrs. Hoey said in a letter to police officers this fall.

Farm Police Chief Robert Ferber, who holds a degree in social work himself, agrees that diversion from the Wayne County Juvenile Court system is needed.

"It's important to do something for the offender Wayne County won't take," Chief Ferber said. "If there is no counseling program, many local offenders will get no treatment at all."

Mrs. Hoey said she feels Center Point is a good agency for the counseling program because of its long history of counseling youths in crisis.

Counselors at Center Point are trained for 80 hours in emphatic listening skills, values clarification and problem solving. They work on a volunteer basis and are supervised by volunteers with Master's degrees in social work and psychiatry.

"I feel very confident that we have a capable staff," Mrs. Hoey said. "It would, of course, be wonderful if this community had the money to hire professional, degreed social workers for the program but, after all, the reason the Youth Service Division folded was because nobody wanted to pay for it anymore."

CITY OF Grosse Pointe MICHIGAN INVITATION TO BID ELM TREE SPRAYING

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids, waive any irregularities, and to accept the bid which is in the best interest of the City.

Specifications and bid forms may be obtained from the City Offices, and completed bids shall be submitted to the City of Grosse Pointe, Attention, Thomas W. Kressbach, City Manager, 17147 Maumee Avenue, Grosse Pointe, Michigan 48230. Bids shall be sealed and plainly marked, "TREE SPRAYING BID."

SEMTA Picks Regional System, Okays Merger

A comprehensive regional transportation system, and a merger with the Detroit-Department of Transportation, (D-DOT), were both approved Tuesday, December 18, by the board of the southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority. (SEMTA).

The issue of merger had been one of the major stumbling blocks to the final selection of a regional system, reports a SEMTA news release.

Details of the merger were ironed out between the SEMTA board and Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young only a few days before the December 18 deadline the board had set for itself as the date to select a regional transit plan.

The plan, adopted by an 11-vote majority of the 15-member SEMTA board, includes an approximately 12.8 mile light rail line which would operate from downtown Detroit to 10 Mile road. A total of 8.2 miles of the system, reaching from downtown Detroit to Six Mile road, would be subsurface.

It also includes an additional 315 regular buses to be used in local and express service; over 300 additional small buses to be used for general public Dial-A-Ride and for special elderly and handicapped service; expanded commuter rail service on the existing Pontiac to Detroit line, all-day service between Ann Arbor and Detroit and new peak-hour service between Mount Clemens and Detroit; and an approximately three-mile people mover system in the Detroit Central Business District.

The plan chosen by the board was a variation of one of seven improvement plans under consideration. The board chose the plan labeled

X-1—however, they extended the light rail line in the original X-1 plan by approximately two miles.

All other elements of that plan remain the same. The cost of the original X-1 plan, (including all service expansion), was $1.44 billion. The extension is expected to add approximately $75 million to that total.

A resolution to merge SEMTA and the D-DOT was adopted unanimously. The resolution reads in part that "SEMTA and the City of Detroit (will) merge into a single regionwide public transportation system governed by a policy board that would protect the interests of all parties and operating under the direction of a single general manager."

The resolution assures that the city shall get fair value for its system, and the employees will be assured of protection for their jobs, wages, benefits and working conditions. It also assures that the service in the City of Detroit shall be restored to a minimum of that provided in 1976, before city service reductions.

It specifies that the merger issue be submitted to the people of Detroit for a vote in or before 1982. However, according to SEMTA General Manager Larry E. Salci, "The referendum is, of course, important, but at this point we do not foresee any major opposition on the part of Detroit citizens to a merger."

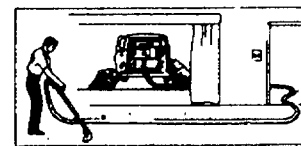

"The citizens of Detroit, like other citizens of this region, have expressed an overwhelming desire for improved transit services, and that can best be accomplished by one coordinated system."

"Detroiters have made it known to the board—which has five Detroit representatives—that they want their interests protected in the event of a merger, and the SEMTA board has committed itself to doing just that."

SEMTA currently maintains a purchase of service agreement with D-DOT which has provided the necessary funding for the city to continue its operations.

In or before 1982, a taxation proposal to fund operating deficits of the regional system will be presented to the voters of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

Fire Insurance View Received

An opinion from City Attorney George Catlin on municipal fire insurance was unanimously received and placed on file by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, December 17.

Mr. Catlin, in short, indicated that the city cannot go into the insurance business after officials several months ago asked that he explore the feasibility of submitting to the electorate an advisory question as to whether the city should embark upon a city owned and operated fire insurance company.

This concept was earlier mentioned by the mayor of Westland in connection with cable television warning systems, with Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen feeling such an idea had some merit.

Mr. Catlin cited a clause in the State Constitution which says, "Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, no city or village shall have the power to loan its credit for any private purpose or, except as provided by law, for any public purpose."

He pointed out that the courts have determined that the clause prohibits private business endeavors by cities.

"A review of the specific powers granted to Home Rule Cities by legislative action does not reveal any authority that could be construed as legal grounds for a municipality to enter into the fire insurance business."

"In my opinion, such authority would require an amendment to the Michigan Constitution and enabling legislation," said Mr. Catlin.

Stindt Named College Provost

Shores resident Dr. Jewell E. Stindt was recently appointed Schoolcraft College's new provost and vice-president for instructional affairs.

Dr. Stindt, selected from a field of nearly 60 applicants, will be the college's chief instructional officer and second in command, administratively, to President C. Nelson Grote.

The new provost worked and attended Wayne State University for nearly 10 years before completing her Bachelor's degree in 1958 with high distinction in history and English. Dr. Stindt later received her Master's degree at the University of Michigan with major work in education and history.

During that time, she began a 10-year period as a teacher at Detroit's Von Stuben Junior High School and at Denby High School. While at Denby, Dr. Stindt helped develop sociology studies for adoption throughout the Detroit system.

In 1969, Dr. Stindt joined the staff of Wayne County Community College where she taught and later became regional director at the time of accepting her new post at Schoolcraft. Her assignments at the college also included divisional head, department chairperson, academic dean and interim academic vice-president. She also developed the first women's studies program in Michigan in 1976.

Liggett Maintains Top Ranking

The University Liggett School, (ULS), varsity ice hockey team maintained its number one ranking in Michigan Class B High School hockey by recording three victories before breaking for the holiday vacation.

Allen Park Saint Francis Cabrini came to the McCann Rink on Wednesday, December 19, with the hopes of a win but ended up losing, 8-2.

The end of the first period had Cabrini leading, 2-1. Although the Knights outshot their visiting opponents 14-9, Jamie Todd tallied the only ULS goal in that period.

The second period brought much more success for the unbeaten Knights with 17 shots and six goals.

St. Paul Wins Own Tourney

Saint Paul's hustling sixth grade boy's basketball team recorded victories over Saint Clare of Montefalco on Saturday, December 22, and Saint Gertrude on Sunday, December 23, to win the 1979 Saint Paul Christmas Tournament and remain undefeated after six games.

The Saint Paul Lakers opened their tournament by defeating previously unbeaten Saint Clare, 23-14. The Lakers, who started slowly in the first half, outscored their opponent, 13-2, in the third quarter to take a comfortable 23-8 lead into the final stanza.

A strong second half zone defense was led by Jerry Joliet, Dave Fellows and Ted Kolp. On offense, the leading scorers were P. J. Imesch and Tom Fellows with 10 and nine points, respectively.

In the championship game, Saint Paul passed the ball to a 23-10 halftime lead and went on to defeat Saint Gertrude, 35-25. Imesch led an unselfish Laker offense with good ball-handling and eight points. Fellows also contributed a fine offensive performance by scoring 15 points.

On defense, an aggressive man-to-man led by Fellows, Kolp, Jerry Joliet, Bill Adl-hoch and Rick Campbell forced Saint Gertrude into a number of costly turnovers.

In addition to the performance of the Saint Paul regulars, coach Robert Potter cited the support of substitutes John Joliet, Joe Moon-ey, Ken Irvin, Drew Allison, Roger Rimka, Mark Belan-ger, Kyle Anderson, Joe Cobb, Cliff Grabowski, Kevin Irvin, Bill Smith, Bucky Holland, Peter Droste, Kevin English and Ray Echlin.

and no goals, ULS goals were scored by Allen Taber, three, Rich Carron, Erich Avedisian and Dave Parker. The third period brought Taber's fourth goal of the night and the victory.

On Friday, December 21, ULS opened its first annual University Liggett Holiday Invitational Hockey Tournament with an 11-2 trouncing of Windsor's S. J. Brennan School. Goals were scored by Todd, three, Carron two, Taber, two, Parker, Steve Valice, Biff Fisher and Avedisian.

Both the Brennan goals were scored in the third period, with ULS goaltenders Drew Mascarin and Ted Maitland combining for 13 saves.

In the second game of the night Windsor's Vincent Massey beat Birmingham Brother Rice, 9-2, and won the opportunity to play ULS in the championship game the following evening. On Saturday, December 22, the consolation game was won by Brother Rice, which beat Brennan, 8-0. Brother Rice goalie Mike Roche played an excellent game.

The championship game brought a capacity crowd and some excellent hockey to the Cook road rink, with ULS winning, 4-3.

At the end of the first period of play the score was 2-0 in favor of the Massey Mustangs. Taber started the ULS scoring with a goal in the first minute of the second period, but after excellent goaltending and a Massey goal, the period ended 3-1 with Massey on top. ULS outshot Massey 10-3 in that period.

Marty Wittmer then scored for ULS at the 2:17 mark of

ULS Cagers Start Slowly

University Liggett School's, (ULS), basketball team has started slowly this season, dropping its first three games. The Knights lost to Harper Woods, 46-44, Detroit Country Day, 52-42, and to a very good Cranbrook team, 55-25.

The Knights, however, won their last two games before the Christmas holidays and at present have a record of 2-3.

The first victory came when the Knights traveled to Ann Arbor to play Greenhills, who, at that time, were undefeated. In that game, ULS won, 47-46.

The winning basket was made on a pass from Jeff Parks to Kevin Karson who scored with just three seconds left on the clock. Karson was also high scorer with 14 points and Parks had 10 points.

ULS started its new league, the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference, with a victory over a good Roseville Baptist Academy team, 58-47. The leading scorers for the Knights were Jeff Parks with 17, Kevin Jackson with 12 and Jerry Parks with 10.

The Knights are coached by Jack Wachter and John Nader.

South Frosh Lose Third

By John Schultz

South High's freshman basketball team suffered its third loss of the season in as many tries on Tuesday, December 18, as it bowed to Mount Clemens, 54-46.

The Blue Devils held a slight lead throughout most of the first half before losing their rebounding edge late in the second quarter, and Mount Clemens edged out to a 25-24 halftime lead.

The second half was all Mount Clemens as its fast break enabled it to open up an 11-point lead, but the Devils' aggressive full-court press kept them in the game.

At 6:28 of the period, Kris Robbins tied the score on a slap shot and Taber scored the winning goal with 2:59 left in the game. The Knights held on for the victory and the tournament trophy, outshooting Massey, 31-14.

Four members of the ULS squad were named to the All-Tournament team: Bill Seaver and Valice, defense, captain Taber and Todd, forwards. Other members of the team included Massey junior goaltender Greg Pouget and senior forward Keith Pierce, along with Brother Rice senior forward Tim Dugan.

After the Christmas break, the Knights play their Alumni on Saturday, January 5, at 6 p.m. and open the second half of the season with an away game at Birmingham Andover on Wednesday, January 9.

points. Phil Agby and Chris Cruthis rebounded well, both netting six points. Bill Rathsburg and Paul Rentz also scored six points apiece.

The frosh will regroup over vacation and prepare for its next game at Guest Junior High Tuesday, January 8, at 4 p.m.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:
In response to a letter by A. J. Cutting of Windmill Pointe drive in your December 27 issue, I would like to pose a question to Mr. Cutting regarding his intent in the matter concerning the sympathy strike vote by Grosse Pointe teachers and its possible effect on the outcome of the next millage proposal.
Mr. Cutting suggested that the next millage proposal might well be turned down to "show" the Grosse Pointe teachers what can happen when they "antagonize" the voters of Grosse Pointe and put their union obligations before the welfare of the students of the Grosse Pointe schools.
The veto of a millage proposal would surely result in a number of pink slips and many cuts in what Mr. Cutting called "non-essential school facilities and probable curtailment of programs which are more cultural than educational."
It would seem Mr. Cutting is showing more vengeance toward Grosse Pointe educators than he is in the welfare of Grosse Pointe students.
Whose welfare is being considered when a millage is vetoed to spite the teachers involved and not a thought is given to the students who are deprived of a well-rounded education administered by qualified personnel?

Play Dramatic Moment in Show

Award-Winning 'Equus' Staged by GP Theater

"Equus," the long-running, award-winning dramatic hit of London and New York by Peter Shaffer, opens Wednesday, January 9, as the second presentation of Grosse Pointe Theater's, (GPT), 32nd consecutive season.
The drama will run for nine performances — January 9 to 13, and 16 to 19 in Fries Auditorium of the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road. All performances are at 8 p.m.
It is directed by Barbara Bentley and produced by Lucy Rea, both of Detroit.
"Equus" opened in London at the National Theater in 1973 and was a sensation. It roved the next year to Broadway, where again it became a smash hit, running a total of 1,209 performances. The original New York cast starred Anthony Hopkins as the psychiatrist and Peter Firth as the stableboy. Later, Richard Burton and Tony Perkins played the psychiatrist.
"Equus" won a long list of "Best Play" awards, including the Tony, New York Drama Critics' Circle, Outer Circle and the Drama Desk awards.

Woods Church Plans Classes

Sunday morning Adult Education Classes start January 6 at Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, at 9:30 a.m.
The classes include the following:
Teach Your Parents Well—The goal for this course is to provide a forum for high school youth and parents to express viewpoints on topics of mutual interest and concern. The class will be led by a parent, a high school youth and a recent college graduate.
Timothy: The Timid Disciple—Timothy, a timid man, entered a life of risk-taking when he became a traveling companion of Saint Paul. This course will focus upon the meaning of courageous discipleship through inductive Bible study in II Timothy and selected reading from Dietrich Bonhoeffer's "The Cost of Discipleship."
What Is A Presbyterian?—A class for prospective members to learn more about the Presbyterian Church and, in particular, the direction of the congregation.
Jesus—What were the intentions, goals and perceptions of Jesus? What were His objectives? What did He believe about God, humanity and Himself? Dr. Robert Lintchum will preach a series of sermons on Jesus, beginning in January.
This course will make use of these sermons to more deeply study the mind and intentions of Jesus, in order to more clearly define God's will.
Classes run concurrently with Sunday School for children. Nursery care is provided for children two and under.
For further information, call the church at 886-4300.

The play is a gripping confrontation between a sophisticated psychiatrist, Martin Dysart, and an emotionally disturbed stableboy, Alan Strang. The boy has suddenly blinded six horses in the stable where he works. The psychiatrist's task is to learn why he committed this terrible crime — to wring the secret from the boy's unconscious and relieve his guilt and fear.
The unraveling of the mystery makes "Equus" a spine-chilling suspense play, a psychiatric detective story. On another level, Dysart discovers that the boy, in practicing his ritualistic worship of horses, has enjoyed a passion that the psychiatrist painfully realizes is missing from his own unexciting life.
In the GPT production, Dean Erskine of St. Clair Shores plays Martin Dysart, Brian Gagne of Detroit portrays Alan Strang, the stableboy.
Others in the cast include Nancy Sortor and Marshall Murri, both of St. Clair Shores, (Dora and Frank Strang), as the bigoted parents of the boy; and Mary Lou Mantho, of Maumee avenue, (Hesther), as a lady magistrate who sends the boy to the psychiatrist, rather than to prison.
More are Cheryl Guttridge of Grosse Pointe boulevard, a student at South High School, as Jill, the enticing young girl who precipitates the tragedy; John Diebel of Belanger road, (Dalton, the stablemaster); and Gigi Gagini of Detroit, (the nurse).

Michael Eddy of Detroit plays "Nugget," the "horse" with whom the boy performs his ritual night rides. The other "horses" are Paul Kratochwill of West Doyle place, a student at North High School; Jerry Orlovski of Utica; Don Ross of Warren; Michael Saxton of Barfour road; and Peter Walliko of Detroit.
In the GPT version of "Equus," the set follows closely the ingenious abstract design of the original production. It is built to resemble a three-sided ring which serves as the psychiatrist's office, a hospital room and the stable.
Special seating has been constructed on stage, on which members of the audience sit along with the actors. The actors get up to perform their scenes and when they finish, they return to their seats on stage. The effect is one of strong audience involvement in the play, and a mood of high intensity.
The "horses," dressed in brown, stand upright. Their "heads" are wire frames, constructed to resemble the outline of a horse's head. The audience thus is able to see the actors' faces. Their feet are elevated on four-inch metallic "hooves."
For the GPT production, the horses' "heads" and "hooves" were designed by Mike Mikos, a well-known Detroit artist.
Production staff for "Equus" includes Jesse Villegas of Lincoln road, stage manager; Harry Stult of Harper Woods, technical director; Marge Guertler of Meadow lane, costumes; Harry Albertson of Warren and Steve Linne of Lakepointe avenue, lighting; Kathy Grabruck of Detroit, make-up; Mark Elias of Detroit, properties and set dressing; Bill Clyne of Detroit, sound; and L. Dean Russell of Sunningdale drive, mime coach.
Good seats are available for all performances of "Equus." The special on-stage seats are priced at $2.50. Regular theater seats are $5.
For ticket information, call the GPT box office at 881-4004.

Enough Lip Service, GP P&J Needs Real Support

It's hard to figure Grosse Pointe some time. Take the situation at the Punch and Judy Theater, for example. On the one hand, most everyone believes the Punch should remain open, and they might even be happy that it is currently operated by a man who has de-emphasized the rock shows in favor of popular old movies and live drama.
On the other hand, it seems that no matter what shows at the Punch, Pointers don't support the old place. Popular sentiment seems to be "keep it open just in case I want to go sometime." But the sad fact remains the only presentation that keeps the place open is the midnight showing of a cult film known as the "Rocky Horror Picture Show," a sorry excuse for culture.
This despite the fact Marc Etter, theater manager, has put together two plays since he took over management there in the summer. The most recent, entitled "Here's Love," a musical adaptation of "A Miracle on 34th Street," was, by Mr. Etter's own account, "lacking the polish it could have had" if the "Theater on a String Repertory Players" had had more time to work on it.
That assessment is an accurate one. The rare theater organ, while sounding very good, was a little too loud, and voices were hard to hear at times. An occasional line also was forgotten.
But, like Mr. Etter, the NEWS agrees that everyone who went to it enjoyed the acting and the music, under the direction of the multi-talented Wayman Ezell.
Unfortunately, the last performance on Sunday, December 23, was given before a nearly empty theater. If it hadn't been for the estimated 50 kids from the Children's Home of Detroit who were allowed to attend from funds donated by the Parke Davis Company, there would have been only around a dozen customers in the audience.
What makes it even sadder is that closing night was supposed to be a benefit for the World Medical Relief Fund, a non-profit group that sends medical supplies to the needy of the world. Despite extensive promotion, including much free air time on WXYZ radio, Mr. Etter ended up with next to nothing for a very worthy charity and its current, time-honored mission of aiding Cambodian refugees.
The play itself was well-executed, with a particularly delightful performance by The Woods' own Auen Russell, who displays three distinct talents in one show: acting, singing and dancing.
While Mr. Etter has had greater critical and popular success with his children's matinees, which are an abbreviated form of the adult-length evening shows, plus a question and answer period and a show around backstage, the adult version, (especially being a holiday oriented feature), was good, entertaining family fare.
Mr. Etter, himself a veteran actor with children's theater groups, originally had hoped to run "Here's Love" until at least after the beginning of the year. Alas, theater existence is ephemeral; without public support it can't survive.
Plans for the future are tenuous right now, Mr. Etter says, but he hasn't given up on the live theater concept yet, and some things are in the works.
His fund raising concept for "Here's Love" went over with several elementary schools, (including a sellout performance with Kerby School), but each of those takes a lot of time and effort to set up.
As for the general public, Mr. Etter has reluctantly concluded he can't count on it for support. And isn't that a sad comment for a professional theater in the backyard of a community that considers itself cultured?
D. K.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:
It is apparent to me that Charles Fossati, who wrote a December 20 "Letter to the Editor," has allowed his personal feelings to obstruct both reality and legality.
Mr. Fossati accuses the Grosse Pointe Woods police of "harassing businessmen." He refers to the recent detection of illegal wine serving practices by Da Edoardo.
I would like to point out to Mr. Fossati that the function of a police department is to enforce all local, state and national laws. So, the fact that they did indeed find wine being served illegally is not harassment—it is doing the job they are paid to do.
Mr. Fossati seems to be saying that both Da Edoardo and Le Cafe Francais are above the law. This type of thinking is totally irrational. Both of these restaurants chose to operate in Grosse Pointe Woods with the knowledge that they might not be able to serve alcoholic beverages. This was their choice.
But it is also the choice of the residents of Grosse Pointe Woods that these restaurants not be allowed to serve wine. And if these restaurants feel that recent events make people feel sorry for their plight, they are sadly mistaken.
Finally, Mr. Fossati's equation that "to serve such food without wine is like trying to drive a car without tires" is unbelievable. Tires are a necessary part of a car and without them a car will not drive. But wine is not necessary in order to eat, whether it be fine cuisine or a hamburger.
Sincerely,
Susan Fancett,
Of West Emory court,

GP Woods Buys Six New Public Safety Vehicles

By Roger A. Waha
Five 1980 mid-size Aspens and one Aspen station wagon will make up the Woods Department of Public Safety's fleet as the council at its regular meeting Monday, December 17, unanimously accepted the bids of Colonial Dodge, Inc., of East Detroit for the vehicles.
The bid for the five cars with police packages reached $30,181.15, plus $125 each for a push bumper, while the station wagon costs $6,027.43.
With the new vehicles, which have an expected delivery date of between 60 and 120 days, the current 1978 models will ultimately be sold on a sealed bid basis.
The cars will be dark blue in color, with the exception of the radar car, which will be light blue. The station wagon will be utilized by the shift commander and it will carry a variety of emergency equipment, said Public Safety Director John Dankel.
He also pointed out, with the total fleet mileage averaging between 275,000 to 300,000 on an annual basis, it was time to purchase the new vehicles.
At the meeting, the council discussed whether it would be best to purchase the mid-size cars or five full-size cars at a total cost of $32,953.15, plus $125 each for a push bumper, from Colonial.
While we should be concerned with the safety and comfort of the officers, we also should be concerned with fuel economy and resale value, too, said Councilman Dan Grady, who offered the substitute motion to purchase the mid-size cars. Councilman Thomas Fahrner had made the original motion to buy the full-size vehicles.
City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, who recommended the mid-size vehicles, pointed out that the EPA mileage ratings were 13 in the city and 18 on the highway, while the full-size cars had ratings of 11 and 17, respectively.
He also noted that everyone would have to become used to smaller cars in the future.
While feeling the full-size vehicles would offer more comfort for the officers, Director Dankel admitted, while there were some advantages to having a larger car, smaller vehicles would be more prevalent in the future.

Councilman John Sabol suggested that a possible mixture of vehicles, e.g., one full-size car and four mid-size ones, might be considered. But the director felt it wasn't a good idea to mix the fleet and that by doing so, personnel problems might arise.

Guidance Center Seeks Volunteers

Make New Year's Resolution to Give A 'Gift of Time' to Community Mental Health Facility in 1980

An information and orientation coffee focusing on the new volunteer program being formed at the Northeast Guidance Center has been scheduled for next Wednesday, January 9, from 1 to 3 in the afternoon at the center offices in East Warren avenue.

NEGC, the comprehensive community mental health facility serving northeast Detroit, Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods, operates programs providing a wide range of mental health services to individuals of all ages.

At present, volunteers are especially needed for the Child Day Treatment Program which provides clinical and educational services for 30 emotionally disturbed children between the ages of six and 18.

The main goal of Child Day Treatment is to help children achieve control over their inappropriate behavior and to supportively reintroduce them into a less restrictive, more normal childhood environment as soon as possible.

Child Day Treatment volunteers must be mature adults who are interested in working with the emotionally disturbed child. The choice of volunteer activities ranges from tutoring and arts and crafts through wood shop, recreation and service as general classroom aides.

The volunteers' rewards are a feeling of satisfaction and personal growth. They receive a general mental health orientation and specific on-the-job training while serving as essential parts of

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Here's a nice, upbeat story on which to start the New Year... Did you know that the Grosse Pointe Congregational/American Baptist Church School recently became a parent?

The Church School has "spiritually adopted" a child through the Foster Parents Mission Club, located in Moravian drive, Fraser, an organization dedicated to aiding destitute children in underdeveloped countries of the world.

The Church School's son is nine-year-old Ai do moe, cared for by the PIME Missionaries at their mission of Fang in northern Thailand.

Ai do moe's parents belong to the Lahu tribe, hundreds of whom have fled across the Red Chinese border into Thailand. They are illiterate and live in the mountains.

They bring their children to Fang in order that their sons and daughters may receive better care and some schooling. With the help of the Grosse Pointe Congregational/American Baptist Church School, Ai do moe is fed, clothed and hopefully will receive at least a basic education.

The Church School donates $8 a month towards its child's care, plus $5 per year to help defray office expenses in Fraser. That's an annual total of $101—and that's less than 28 cents per day!

The adoption support is purposely kept at the barest minimum so that a greater number of needy children will receive some supplemental aid. All donations are, of course, tax deductible.

And, although no members of the Church School may ever get to Thailand to meet their foster son, they are entitled to write to him through his mission superiors.

Since the Foster Parents Mission Club spends no funds to hire administrators, secretaries, social workers or interpreters in the mission field, the club cannot promise its members much in the way of correspondence or progress reports.

Detroit Garden Center Focus on Decoupage

The Moross House in East Jefferson avenue, headquarters of the Detroit Garden Center, will be the site of a special exhibit presented by the National Guild of Decoupeurs' Michigan and Great Lakes Chapters in mid-January.

The show will feature decoupage items including lamps, clocks, candle columns, fireplace screens, tables, a set of dishes, wall hangings and tabletop pieces Tuesday through Thursday, January 15, 16 and 17. Exhibit hours are 10 in the morning to 3 in the afternoon all three days.

The event has a double purpose: to spotlight the variety of decoupage techniques that can be used in any home decor, and to raise funds to support the DGC. The guild will offer visual aid programs on Tuesday and Wednesday and will conduct mini-lectures on Thursday to familiarize the public with decoupage basics.

There is no charge to view the exhibit or attend the educational programs. Funds will be raised via prize tickets, available at $1 each from today, Thursday, January 3, until the prizes are awarded at 2 o'clock Thursday, January 17.

Tickets may be obtained at the Moross House, the first federally assisted Historic Preservation Project in Michigan.

The guild hopes, in cooperation with the DGC, to conduct future educational programs at Moross House.

Miss Ekin Married To James Booden

Midsummer Rites Are Followed by Reception at Georgian Inn; Pair at Home in Kalamazoo after East Coast Vacation

Susan Lynne Ekin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Ekin, of Fairholme road, spoke her marriage vows Saturday, July 28, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church to James Allen Booden.

Father Ralph V. Barton celebrated the nuptial mass. Altar boy was the bride's brother, Christopher Ekin.

A dinner reception followed at the Georgian inn, after which the newlyweds left to vacation on the East Coast. They are at home in Kalamazoo.

The bodice and long sleeves of the bride's candlelight Qiana gown were accented with Alencon and Venice lace. Matching lace bordered her cathedral train and chapel length veil of French illusion.

At The Walton-Pierce Sale . . . you can fill in your winter wardrobe and save. There are quilted coats, fur trimmed coats, corduroy coats and more. The selection of dresses on sale is still good. Of course you know that this is a good time of the year to stock up on underfashions because the famous name brands of bras and girdles go on sale now. While you're shopping and saving, do take a look at the great new cruise fashions that always preview spring. The colors are so refreshing. Take the grotto green Ultrasuede three-piece costume for example. It's a classic. Kohler has fashioned a smart beige suit for the custom size woman and it's all silk. For those of you who like the Sanibel look, you'll love all the new tops that go with those easy to pack umbrella pleated skirts. The new prints are delightful. To wear right now and into spring are the new Mondri separates. They are made in Germany and are of fine wool . . . either knit or breeze-light wool crepe. The group is built around navy skirts, jackets or sweater jackets. The other color choice is bright red. Blouses either solid, print or striped coordinate beautifully. Peach blush is a flattering color for everyone and the new wool suit from Devon Hall also is cut to flatter most figures. Looking ahead to spring, we saw a page from Town and Country the March issue, which features a beautiful long gown from Adele Simpson and Walton-Pierce has a credit line which means you can see it at 16828 Kercheval.

Backstage Look at Orchestra Hall

The three Pointers were among more than 30 individuals from communities across the tri-county area and Canada who met recently at historic Orchestra Hall to prepare for the benefit performance.

Jim Elkin, chairman of the St. Olaf Choir committee, told the group that the St. Olaf Choir is given credit for the tremendous growth of a cappella singing in colleges, high schools and churches.

"The 65-voice choir of students from St. Olaf College of Northfield, Minn., has set the standards and continues to maintain the highest credenials in artistic achievement in the performance of the best in choral literature," Elkin said.

Kallai noted that St. Olaf's 1980 tour, under the direction of Kenneth Jennings, will take it back to the same cultural centers where the choir gave birth to its reputation and changed the course of choral performance 60 years ago.

"The St. Olaf Choir has made annual tours in the United States since 1912," Kallai said, "but the 1920 tour to the major music centers of the eastern coastal states first projected the group into national limelight."

The 1980 tour will include performances at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., January 31, the University of Illinois, Urbana, February 1, Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, D.C., February 5, Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts in New York City, February 10, and finally to Orchestra Hall in Detroit, where tickets at $7 are available at the Orchestra Hall box office, 833-3700, and Hudson's.

DRC to Open Year Tuesday

Members and guests of the Detroit Review Club will gather Tuesday, January 8, at Detroit's First Presbyterian Church in Woodward avenue for the club's first meeting of the new year.

The mother church of Fort Street, Jefferson Avenue, Westminster and John Monteith United Presbyterian Churches was founded in 1816 as the First Protestant Society of Detroit.

In its long history it has had only 14 pastors, the first of whom was The Reverend John Monteith, one of the founders of the University of Michigan and the U. of M.'s first president.

Mrs. H. Lloyd Patterson, DRC program chairman, and Mrs. Harry Graham, social affairs chairman, are in charge of the program and luncheon arrangements. Mrs. Louis Thurmon is chairman of the day.

President Mrs. Robert Kef-gen, of Wicks lane, will conduct a brief business meeting after the noon luncheon. The afternoon program will feature the church's pastor, The Reverend Kenneth V. Kettlewell, speaking on "Renaissance."

The Reverend Kettlewell was graduated magna cum laude from Muskingum College, New Concord, O., with a Bachelor of Arts degree and from Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, Pa., with a Master of Divinity degree.

He holds an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Muskingum College.

He served for three months as a member of a Christian Education team in The Philippines, was speaker for two National Missions Cowboy Camp meetings in New Mexico and has led tours in England, Scotland, The Holy Land, France, Switzerland, Yugoslavia, Austria and Hungary.

But the youngsters do appreciate mail, and the fact that someone far away cares about them, and they repay their Foster Parents in the only way they can: by remembering them in daily prayers.

That is, after all, the best repayment the Foster Parents could have, for they know that the caring works both ways.

At present, this Bridge of Caring extends between 4,500 "adopted" youngsters and 3,100 individual and group members of the Fraser club . . . and there's lots of room for expansion.

Hundreds of needy children in Bangladesh, Burma, India, Thailand and West Africa remain on the Foster Parents Mission Club waiting lists.

Fun In The Sun

Three years ago, Robert and Honor Williams Barit opted for the sun and began dividing their time between Indian Wells, Calif., where they built a winter home, and Michigan, where they maintain a summer residence.

They threw themselves into the Palm Springs life as they had into life here, continuing their tradition of community service, becoming extensively involved in the desert community.

Remember how, as activities coordinator for the Detroit Institute of Arts, Mrs. Barit planned social events and conducted fund raising and membership drives? Remember how she worked for the Detroit Grand Opera Association?

Well, it didn't take long for the Palm Springs people to figure out that in the Barits they had a couple who really know about the planning and staging of special events . . . and so, three years after their move to the desert, the Barits are serving as chairmen of the 1980 Bob Hope Desert Classic Ball.

They were appointed by H. Lauren Lewis, president of the Desert Classic board of directors, and took charge of the myriad details involved in staging the magnificent, $200-per-couple party.

It will be presented Monday evening, January 7, at Palm Springs' Riviera Hotel. It will, as always, feature entertainment by Bob Hope and other celebrities.

It is the official kickoff for the five-day PGA golf tournament which, since its inception in 1960, has raised nearly $8 million in net proceeds for local charity and the Eisenhower Medical Center.

The Barits have enjoyed the project, especially as it has given them the opportunity of working with a committee of 100 desert residents, many of whom they met for the first time through their mutual commitment to the ball.

"But mostly," says Honor Barit, "we are proud to work on a project that does so much for the local charities."

enrolled in the Moscow Central School for Gifted Children, attached to the Moscow Conservatory, where she studied with Anaida Sumbatyan until she was 16.

From 16 to 21 she worked at the conservatory with Aleksandr Goldenweiser. From 1965 to 1975 she taught at the conservatory.

After graduation she was first introduced to the outside world at the Marguerite Long-Jacques Thibaud Competition of 1963 in Paris, placing second among a host of other pianists.

In 1965 she won first prize at the Rio de Janeiro Competition. In 1969 she won second prize at the International Beethoven Competition in Vienna.

DSO Debuts

the season on three different occasions: at the YMHA in a New Emigre Series, at the Metropolitan Museum in a sonata program with the eminent Soviet-emigre pianist Albert Markov and in recital at Carnegie Hall.

She also will make her West Coast debuts with the Oakland and Santa Barbara Symphonies and appear in recital in Los Angeles and Fresno.

During 1978 and 1979 she played return engagements with the El Paso Symphony, (scene of her United States debut), and the Norfolk Symphony, made her London orchestral debut in Royal Albert Hall and, in Paris, her recital debut.

In the summer of 1979 she was guest soloist at the Flagstaff Festival and at Temple University Music Festival in Ambler, Pa., where she played with the Pittsburgh Symphony under Skrowaczewski.

Where other emigre artists have had relatively little trouble in coming out of the USSR of late, Madame Yablonskaya had a difficult time. When she applied for her exit visa, she lost her position at the Moscow Conservatory where she had been a prized teacher for 10 years, and was deprived of all engagements.

After two years of great hardship during which she was obliged to sell all her possessions, including her piano, just to survive, she was finally allowed to leave with her young son. They arrived in New York in June of 1977.

Unknown and unheralded, with hardly a chance to catch up after two years of not playing, she made her first United States appearance in October, 1977, with the El Paso Symphony and gave such a towering performance of Tchaikovsky's Concerto No. 1 that the city's three music critics rushed to extol her.

Two weeks later, after her recital debut at Alice Tully Hall, the New York critics were no less impressed.

In October of 1978 she made her Carnegie Hall recital debut, in the middle of New York's newspaper strike, and played to a packed and cheering house. Since then she has won great success with every appearance and is often re-engaged on the spot, as she was this past spring after her debut in London.

She has made three recordings for the Connoisseur Society, due for release this month.
