IRANIAN FOREIGN Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh revealed that Iranian authorities had uncovered a plot to assassinate UN Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim. But the authorities said they foiled the attempt, believed to be by "outside agents." Mr. Waldheim is in Tehran negotiating the release of the 50 American hostages held captive since early November. No details of the alleged plot were released. UN sources are indicating that Mr. Waldheim may meet later this week with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

INTERNATIONAL UAW bargaining with Chrysler Corporation came to an end after UAW leaders from Canadian Chrysler voted not to accept a contract that calls for further concessions on the part of Canadian workers. Sources said the workers felt U.S. Congressional action was "political" and, therefore, did not bind them into making sacrifices to help out the ailing automaker. Such feeling among the Canadian UAW leaders will mean that U.S. hourly employees will have to make additional sacrifices.

JOY ADAMSON always knew she might meet the kind of death she suffered late last week when she was reportedly mauled by an African lion at a remote game park in Kenya. Mrs. Adamson, 69, wrote about her experience of raising a motherless lion in "Born Free" and later in "Living Free" and "Forever Free." Her game warden husband introduced his Austrian wife to a lion cub named Elsa in 1956. It was Elsa whom she based her books upon. Police found Mrs. Adamson face down at the game park with severe wounds on her hands, arms and head. A murder investigation also is underway.

SOVIETS CALLED President Jimmy Carter's partial embargo of U.S. grain to Russia a "flagrant violation" against détente, a term coined in 1962 when relations were eased between the Soviets and the U.S. The Kremlin denounced Mr. Carter's actions as retreating to "tactics from the cold war arsenal." The grain embargo and a halt to technical shipments to Russia were ordered by Mr. Carter after reportedly some 50,000 Soviet troops invaded Afghanistan, attempting to maintain pro-Moscow rule.

LOCAL UAW LEADERS from around the U.S. will meet tomorrow to vote on a tentative renegotiated Chrysler contract that asks for $4.46 million in concessions from the union. The concessions were required as part of the $3.5 billion Chrysler aid package from Congress, which President Jimmy Carter signed into law today. Chrysler workers in seven other unions are being asked to sacrifice $16.5 million in contract provisions, including giving up paid personal holidays and bonus payments.

Tuesday, January 8

AS HE SIGNED into law a $3.5 billion bail out program for Chrysler Corporation, President Jimmy Carter said the automaker's preservation is important to the competitive nature of the American automotive industry. The Chrysler package guarantees up to $1.5 billion in federal loan guarantees, but also requires state governments to foot at least $250 million in aid before any of the federal loan guarantees become available. Gov. William Milliken said Michigan would commit itself to $150 million.

Fire Rips Through St. Clair Terrace

Men and equipment from three neighboring communities helped City public safety officers fight a three-hour blaze Sunday, January 6, at a terrace condominium at 484 St. Clair avenue. Only one apartment suffered extensive damage from the fire leaving a woman and her three teenage children homeless. Officials believe the fire was started by careless smoking. (See story, bottom of columns two and three.)

Hill Parking Structure Progresses

Farms EDC Okays Resolution Aimed Toward Getting Project Started

By David Kramer

A parking structure on-the-hill came several steps closer to reality with approval of three resolutions aimed toward getting the project started by the Farms Economic Development Corporation, (EDC), Thursday, January 3.

Richard C. Rich and Associates, proposers of the structure, revealed they are considering a deck with between 270 and 380 spaces. The exact size will be determined by their feasibility study, expected to be completed in the next few weeks. The structure will be built on land currently owned by Cottage Hospital and used for employee parking, and on a portion of the existing municipal lot. Mr. Rich told EDC members additions could be built onto the deck, if later deemed necessary.

Views Debedding Plan Parking fees may range from 25 to 30 cents per half hour, he said, but part of the capacity will be available for leasing.

EDC member Robert Hannon questioned how the debedding plan currently being considered by state health planners might affect Rich's plans, since the proposed loss of 62 beds at Cottage could

Pointe Nutrition Program Officials in Process of Investigating New Location

Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Task Force Evaluating Relationship between Church, Food Plan for Seniors As Activities of Each Expand; Site Council Forms Sub-Committee to Explore Other Locations Should Need Arise

By Roger A. Waha

Officials of The Pointe's Food and Nutrition Program, sponsored by Wayne County, marked their third anniversary Friday, January 4, at the program's current site in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue. Ironically, a question remains at this time as to whether the program, which primarily serves senior citizens of the Pointes and Harper Woods, will be able to continue at the church for another year.

After it became a reality in November 1978 at temporary headquarters in the American Legion Hall, 20916 Mack, church officials gave their permission for the program to use their facilities free of charge Monday through Friday between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

But now, because of a growth of both church programs and nutrition center activities, the question of space and scheduling is becoming a problem.

Simultaneous Actions As a result, two simultaneous actions are taking place. A task force of nine church members has been formed to evaluate whether the relationship between the church and the nutrition program should continue.

In response to this action, the nutrition site council last month agreed to form a sub-committee of four to investigate the possibility of obtaining another location should the need arise.

In pointing out that church officials regularly evaluate the relationship of outside organizations using the building's facilities, Dr. Robert C. Linthicum, pastor, said such evaluations focus upon present and projected building usage for such organizations and for church programs.

Such an evaluation regarding the nutrition program occurred during the first year but not during the second year.

"We recognize that conditions change," he stated, while noting that church programming is expanding and "we attempt to look at where we want to go as a church."

Saying he personally has received little input from members of the congregation regarding the nutrition program, Dr. Linthicum stated the task force will give members the opportunity to share their feelings.

Session to Decide Three main alternatives will be considered by task force members, who will offer their recommendation to the session, the church's governing body. They include the following:

• The church would withdraw the use of its facilities. "If this happens, we would give the nutrition center four or five months lead time," said Dr. Linthicum.

• The nutrition center would be permitted to continue for another year.

• A greater use of church facilities would be given nutrition program officials.

In reviewing the growth of church programs, Dr. Linthicum said, "Programs in the areas of education and community ministry escalated last February and March. Around October, many of the programs developed on a theoretical basis actually began to be implemented, with full implementation set between this March and June."

The session requested that the task force complete its report in time for the governing body's mid-February meeting. A decision could be made at that time or even possibly later.

Main Concern For his part, Dr. Linthicum feels the program at the church "is only scratching the surface of what needs to be done and what could be done."

"It's kind of a tragedy that the nutrition program is dependent at this stage of its development on using somebody else's quarters, and has to be limited by that."

Meanwhile, based upon a letter from Dr. Linthicum last November, the nutrition site council decided to pursue the formation of the sub-committee to investigate what other locations might be available if the program has to relocate, said Adele C. Ryder, council chairwoman.

In stressing it was best not to wait in this instance, she said the sub-committee, chaired by Woods Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara, was formed. Other members include Nora Blixt, Barbara Youngblood and Stewart Sharrow.

Idea for Pointe Lobbyist Given Okay in Woods

Councilman Grady Offers Proposal for Community Development Advisor to Pursue Interests of The Area on Various Levels; Officials of Other Municipalities Will Be Contacted for Their Thoughts

By Roger A. Waha

Businesses have them—so do large municipalities and unions. And a Woods councilman feels a lobbyist in Lansing for the Pointes and Harper Woods to "see that our best interests are heard" would be a good idea.

Councilman Dan Grady offered his proposal for a community development advisor at the council's regular meeting Monday, January 7, and his colleagues, based upon Councilman Robert E. Novitke's unanimously passed motion, felt the idea was worth pursuing.

In feeling it would ultimately be a policy decision for all the councils to make, Mr. Novitke moved that Mr. Grady and Mayor George S. Freeman contact officials of the other communities for their thoughts on such a unified lobbying action at the county, state and even national level.

Cites Difference

As part of his motion, Mr. Novitke referred this matter to the Committee of the Whole for further study at which time feedback from the other officials will be discussed and assessed.

While acknowledging the community's elected representatives and their contributions, Mr. Grady pointed out there's a difference in someone having a small amount of time in looking at The Pointe's best interests and in someone having a greater amount of time.

"We should support a representative to look at our interests so we can be sure we're staying up with proposed legislation and available aid," he said, while estimating it could cost between $50,000 to $80,000 for such an individual with the community, in effect, having its own Lansing office.

Feeling such a proposal would save The Pointe time, money and energy, it also would "see that our citizens are best represented in Lansing," stated Mr. Grady.

In reviewing what sparked the proposal in his mind, he explained, "It has appeared

Bid to Renovate Former Nurses Residence Denied

By David Kramer

Cottage Hospital was hit hard once again by a government agency when its request for approval to renovate the former nurses residence was denied by the Michigan Department of Public Health, (MDPH), last month.

The hospital had applied for a certificate of need to spend some $810,000 converting the dormitory-like structure into offices and a day care center for children of hospital employees.

Ironically, the agency which has come under fire from Cottage supporters for its bed cutting plan—the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan, (CHPC), had recommended approval of the project to the state.

Cottage Administrator Ralph Wilgarde said the hos-

Trustees Set To Vote on Plan Jan. 14

Total of 38.22 Mills Being Considered with Hike of 1.2 Mills Seen Because of 'Rollback'

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe school leaders began the new year talking about taxes and gearing up for a millage campaign just three months away.

Present plans call for going to voters at the end of March to seek approval of a three-year package identical to the one approved in 1977 by a 3-1 margin.

School board trustees debated the proposal made by Superintendent Dr. William Coats at their first meeting of the new year Monday, January 7.

Based on Projection Dr. Coats proposed the trustees ask for approval of a 26.55 mill levy for schools and 1.42 for libraries. (One mill equals $1 for every $1,000 of state equalized valuation of property.)

That levy, added to 8.65 mills authorized by the county and 1.6 mills for debt retirement, puts the total assessment to 38.22 mills for the next three years.

The trustees are scheduled to vote on the proposal and the March 24 election date at their Monday, January 14, meeting.

The proposal is based on a three-year financial projection that "involved a lot of guess work," according to school officials. The projection estimates property values, restricted by the Headlee Amendment, will increase from eight to 12 percent annually over the life of the proposal.

Dr. Coats said the proposal will provide enough revenue to simply maintain current programs over the next three years.

Trustee Jon Gandelot said he is concerned that there is no room in the millage proposal for improvements in programs that have come to be expected by Grosse Pointe voters.

"More Complex" "I'm concerned there is no provision for an increase in programs . . . that has traditionally been set at three percent each year," Mr. Gandelot said.

Dr. Coats responded by saying such improvements are "in our thinking."

Even though the millage proposal calls for a renewal of the present voter-approved rate, it will mean an increase in the actual rate levied because of a tax "rollback" that was approved by the School Board in 1979.

The Board in July decreased the tax levy by almost five percent in response to the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment. The Amendment (Continued on Page 2)

MACLD Meets On January 15

Dr. Lorrie Colletti will be the featured speaker at the Tuesday, January 15, meeting of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, (MACLD).

The Grosse Pointe Chapter will meet at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue, at 8 p.m. in the upstairs meeting room.

Dr. Colletti will discuss the problems learning disabled students encounter in their daily living and two films will be shown.

A psychologist in private practice in St. Clair Shores, Dr. Colletti was formerly on the staff of the Grosse Pointe public schools.

Parents of learning disabled students are urged to attend the meeting to gain insight into the many problems faced by their children. Membership Chairman Audrey Barton can be reached at 886-2518. Sue LeClerc, president, will provide further information at 884-6378.

Birthstones!JANUARY — GARNET

The Garnet is an exceptional jewel. This stone is not just one gem, but an entire family of gems found in almost every part of the world and available in every color except blue.

As a birthstone, the Garnet stands for constancy, true friendship and fidelity, a fact which makes the Garnet an especially appropriate gift for one's friends or family.

We have an especially nice collection, ideal for rings, pendants, earrings.

FEBRUARY — AMETHYST

The deep, violet-hued Amethyst means perfection, and where beauty is concerned, this jewel may truly be called ideal for many reasons. Not so hard as the Diamond, and in recent times for less expensive, the Amethyst offers the qualities of transparency, lovely coloring and soft brilliance.

Pointe Lobbyist Idea

(Continued from Page 1) to me that more and more we are having very expensive programs imposed upon the city by outside forces such as the state legislature and federal officials."

"Come Out Even"

Saying he has no big argument with the deep intent of many programs, e.g., state-mandated Emergency Medical Technician requirements, and ensuing attempts to provide more improved services, Mr. Grady cited "unreasonable demands" and immense costs often being thrust upon local communities along the way.

With a community development coordinator, he felt there would be a better opportunity to directly provide input toward, for example, changing legislation "to provide what we see locally" as our needs.

Special interest groups won't be ignored, he said, but, with such a coordinator, the communities might at least "come out even with them" regarding having their needs served.

"The coordinator would represent our interests on a full-time basis, giving us some opportunity for an equal hearing," Mr. Grady stressed.

The proposal, he added, also was a way "of bringing together even further the communities" via a joint effort working toward a common goal.

Will Take Time

For his part, Mr. Freeman said, "It would be of some value if all the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods got together to have someone lobbying for us."

He felt smaller cities have been neglected and that more leverage was needed with the state.

Indicating that details of the proposal have to be worked out, he said it was still in the "dreaming stage," and that it was something that will not be done quickly.

"It will take a lot of thought and time to come up with a good solution to make all the communities happy," he added while noting all the municipalities, if they felt the proposal was viable, would have to budget for such a lobbyist.

Officials to Explore NW Area Traffic Flow in GPW

A public hearing focusing upon the traffic flow in the northwest area of The Woods will be held on Monday, January 14, in the Parcels School auditorium, 20600 Mack avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

Conducted by Tne Woods, it will involve the participation of both officials and citizens of Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores. Representatives of the Michigan Department of Transportation, the Wayne County and Macomb County Road Commissions and Sens. John Hertel and Gilbert DiNello, and Rep. William Bryant, also were invited to attend.

At the hearing, a traffic study of the area prepared by Goodell-Grivas, Inc., will be reviewed. It presents 15 alternatives for consideration to relieve the heavy traffic problem which has plagued Brys drive citizens for over four years and most recently residents in the other two communities.

Some of the alternatives would be in conjunction with the neighboring communities, while others would be via unilateral action of Woods officials only.

It is also hoped recommendations toward alleviating the problems will be forthcoming.

Officials of all three cities recently expressed an optimism, through a spirit of cooperation, that a solution could be reached at the meeting — one which would be reasonably, if not completely, amicable to all.

A proposed agenda has been completed for the meeting. After the call to order and an introduction by Woods Mayor George S. Freeman, Dennis A. Randolph, traffic and transportation engineer, Goodell-Grivas, will review the survey.

Recommendations from various city government staffs will be received, and state and county officials will offer their comments.

An opportunity will then be given the combined councils to question the traffic consultants, plus state, county and staff members of the local governments.

Afterward, citizens will address the combined councils, which will then further discuss the issue and possibly offer recommendations.

Board Sets Millage Proposal

(Continued from Page 1) ment says that property taxes cannot increase more than the rate of inflation measured by the Consumer Price Index, which was about eight percent for the 1979 fiscal year.

"The whole thing is more complex this year because of Headlee," said Dr. Coats. "Technically this is an increase of 1.2 mills for schools because of the rollback."

Suggests Date Change

To get the millage campaign formally underway, Board President Laurance Harwood Monday suggested that trustees begin scouting around for local citizens willing to work as millage campaign chairmen. He asked trustees for a list of names by January 14.

Trustee Joan Hanpeter proposed, without success, changing the date of the election from Monday, March 24, to the following day. The change would generate a bigger turnout at the polls because people are more accustomed to voting on Tuesday, the traditional day for city, state and national elections, she said.

Only trustee Dorothy Kenel supported the notion, however.

The current millage authorization expires on June 30.

Pointe Nutrition Program

(Continued from Page 1) to point out the church was the best location because of its size and lack of steps for seniors to climb.

"Where we are going is the main concern," she continued, "and the sub-committee will give its report as soon as information is available."

Chance to Share

For his part, Mr. McNamara said, "The big problem is to find some location willing to provide space free, and it may cost a host some expense. It's a heck of a problem and it points out how generous they (church officials), have been."

As part of the sub-committee's effort, he stated, "We have to consider the worst possibility... that the session will not approve continuation for another year, but we hope that it doesn't occur."

So far, Mr. McNamara has talked to some sources, including two local churches, without success.

Since its birth in the community, the nutrition program has filled a definite need for many seniors. While the hot noon-time meals have their importance, officials said that the program offers seniors a chance to get together and share a variety of experiences.

"People don't realize how lonely seniors are," observed Mrs. Ryder.

Besides the aspect of socialization, the program currently offers a variety of classes including two sewing courses, minor home repair, legal affairs, humanities and a very popular exercise course, in which between 90 and 100 seniors regularly participate. Square dancing also is a popular activity.

Utilized Program

The Pointe's program appears to be one of the most utilized in the county. Theresa LaCour, assistant director for the Out-Wayne County Nutrition Program, said around three percent of all meals served on a weekly basis are served at the community's site, while noting there also are 50 other locations.

A weekly average of 364 meals are served at The Pointe's site, she said, and Mrs. Ryder indicated sometimes the figure reaches 500 meals per week.

A combined total of 14,255 meals per week are served at the other sites, with this averaging out to around 285 meals per site.

Volunteers have played major roles in serving site participants, (Alma Townsend, site aide, for instance, has already piled up an estimated 1,500 hours of work since May 1977), and the need remains for more in a variety of areas.

These include working in the kitchen, making coffee, setting up tables, registering new citizens and driving seniors to and from the site and also delivering meals to the homebound. Residents interested in helping should call JoAnne Spencer, site manager, at 886-4532.

Christ Church Sets Programs

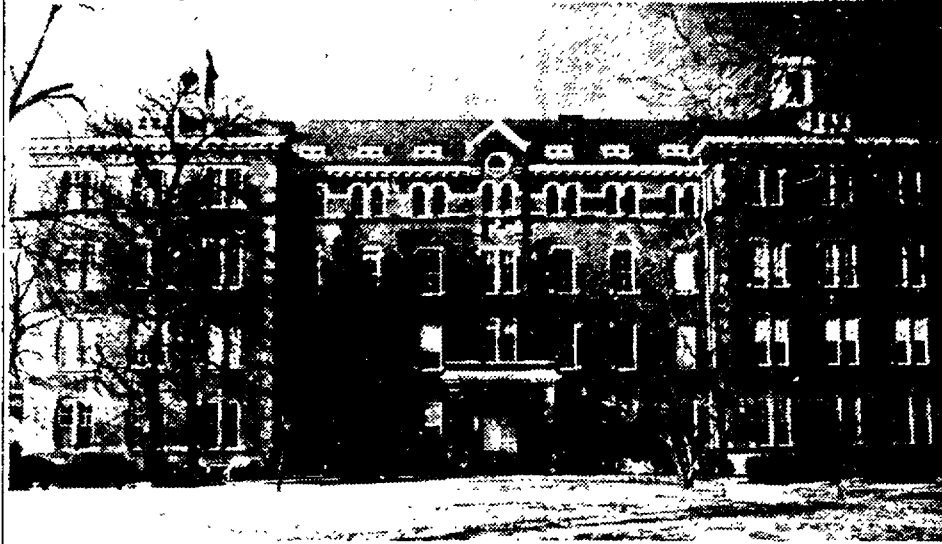

"Adopting A Refugee Family" and "New Roles for Today's Women" are topics set for presentation this month at the Christ Church Adult Forum from 10:15 to 11 a.m. in Miller Hall, (located directly behind Christ Church), at 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

On Sunday, January 13, representatives from Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will discuss their adoption of a refugee family. Christ Church also is planning to sponsor a family from the far east.

Mrs. Theodore Buttrick and Laurance Harwood are co-chairing this new parish project initiated by the Episcopal Church Women, (ECW), of Christ Church.

Then on Sunday, January 27, Sister Betty Flaherty, pastoral minister for Saint Paul On-the-Lake parish, will discuss the changing and expanding role of the laity.

The landmark Grosse Pointe Academy building in Lakeshore road is getting ready for its 100th birthday in 1983 with a variety of renovation projects that will be supported, in part, by this year's annual "giving campaign."

City Considers Closing Street

City engineers are in the process of preparing cost estimates of a proposal to close one of the community's few remaining dirt roads because of persistent complaints from neighbors.

The road is Charles place, actually a stub of a street just south of St. Paul that connects Washington, Roosevelt place and Rivard. The proposal calls for closing the street between Washington and Roosevelt only.

But closing Charles may involve more than just dumping down some blacktop. At a recent council meeting, City Manager Thomas Kressbach said a new sewer connection and a cul-de-sac also may be needed to close the road.

Such improvements would cost and City Council members did not seem inclined to pay.

"I don't think closing

Charles should cost the city a nickel," said Councilman William Montgomery. "The applicants should assume the costs because they will be the ones to benefit."

The applicants are Tory Creech and Mrs. Edwin Fisher, both of whom live in Washington road on either side of Charles. They have proposed The City close the street and turn 30 feet of property over to each of them.

Mrs. Fisher, who's lived in The City for 30 years, called the street a "nuisance" and an eyesore.

"It's a dark secluded place and a lover's lane," she said. "It's unbelievable the little artifacts you find there. It's a general dumping ground."

Mrs. Fisher pointed out that the city would benefit by closing the road because of extra revenue from taxes she and Mr. Creech would pay on their 30-foot parcels.

"Our taxes have tripled in 30 years here. I see no reason the city can't come up with some money to do something for this street," Mrs. Fisher said.

The City's most recent master plan for development calls for closing Charles as well as Goethe, west of University and east of Neff road. The report notes that the streets do not serve any public purpose and may pose development problems in the future.

Doctor Wins Service Award

Franklin D. McDonald, MD, professor of medicine and director of the Nephrology Division at Wayne State University School of Medicine, and chief of the Nephrology Section of Hutzel Hospital, has been named a 1979 recipient of the Distinguished Service Award of the National Kidney Foundation.

Dr. McDonald of The Park, received the award for his many contributions as a volunteer of the foundation and, in particular, for his service as representative to the American Blood Commission.

He also is a member of the foundation's National Medical Advisory Board, Committee on Health and Scientific Affairs, Community and Patient Services Committee and serves as the secretary-treasurer of the Council on Dialysis and Transplantation.

A 1958 graduate of Saint Joseph's College in Philadelphia, Dr. McDonald received his medical degree in 1962 from Temple University in Philadelphia.

The National Kidney Foundation is the major health agency seeking the total answer to prevention, treatment and cure of diseases of the kidney. The foundation's many faceted programs bring help and hope to millions of people suffering from kidney and urinary tract diseases through research, patient and community services, professional education and public information.

Renovation Bid Denied

(Continued from Page 1) cases of need is presently in force by MDPH in southeast Michigan, as part of its findings that there is an excess of hospital beds in the area. Only those projects which do not seek to expand hospital services are likely to be approved.

A certificate of need is necessary for any capital expenditure by a hospital over $150,000.

While no hospital services were planned for the nurses residence, Cottage had planned to use the space freed in the hospital building for that purpose.

Mr. Wilgarde said the denial was "standard procedure" and came as no surprise to him.

The nurses residence, located at 158 Ridge road, was built in 1928 and closed in 1978, badly in need of repairs. The dormitory structure, with communal bathrooms, had been home in earlier days to nurses in an area where low cost housing and rentals were difficult to find.

CHPC, the local health systems agency which drew up the controversial plan to cut nearly 2,500 beds in southeastern Michigan, including 62 at Cottage, had recommended that Cottage be allowed to renovate the building.

Cottage has been the most vocal of any affected hospital in its opposition to that plan. Supporters say the cut of over one-third of its beds would almost invariably mean the end for the hospital as it presently exists.

The plan was approved by the CHPC last month and sent to the Statewide Health Coordinating Council (SHCC). In its approval, however, CHPC asked for more time to reconsider the plan. SHCC has yet to act on that request.

If SHCC should approve the bed cut plan, MDPH would then consider it. In the event of approval, the state legislature would consider it.

Even if the bed cuts are approved at every step, hospitals such as Cottage are bound to fight the mandates in court. Thus the five-year compliance deadlines for bed reduction could end up dragging out much longer.

Structure Progresses

J. Bryan Williams of the city attorney's law firm pointed out the bond underwriters wouldn't issue bonds if they considered the bed cut plan a great risk to the project.

And Councilman Lloyd Semple, also an EDC member, stated that even in the event Cottage closed because of the bed cut plan, a new use of the facility wouldn't necessarily reduce parking demand. In the event of a merger with another hospital, for instance, use as an outpatient facility would actually bring a greater parking demand.

Program Views Care for Dying

"The Caring Person," a continuing series of monthly programs and information sessions for those who must care for the dying, particularly cancer patients, will begin Monday, January 14, in Cottage Hospital's board room A on the lower level, 159 Kercheval avenue. The program, which begins at 6:30 p.m., is free and open to anyone who needs it.

Health care professionals from a variety of specialties including nursing, physical therapy, dietary, pharmacy, occupational therapy and social work will speak about the application of their techniques and skills to the needs of the patient cared for at home and will answer questions from those who care for them.

Included among the topics to be covered on Monday and in future months are nursing, diet, lifting and positioning, breathing problems, pain control and prescriptions, diversional activities, accepting death and the use of community resources. Other professionals will answer insurance and legal questions.

Hospital Administrator Ralph Wilgarde said, "The Caring Person" was developed to answer the need for an information service of this type in our community.

"It is designed also to provide a support group for those sharing a common experience of caring for the terminal patient as well as insure that the patient himself continues to receive the best of care and understanding even while at home."

Ambulance

"In each event where an emergency response to Grosse Pointe Shores would occur, additional personnel would be required to be called in on overtime or standby time in Grosse Pointe Park," said City Manager John R. Crawford.

The Park's recommended fee of a $6,000 retainer plus $125 per run in excess of 50 runs per year for The Shores, was several thousand dollars cheaper than a six-month proposal offered to the community by The Woods last year. It amounted to $9,750.

That community already has its own specialized civilian emergency medical service division of five licensed EMTs.

Shores Councilman Carl Heeden said that while The Park's decision was "disappointing," alternatives for the Village might be to possibly renegotiate with The Woods or to contact private ambulance companies, something Shores officials had discounted previously, since most private companies are located in the downriver area.

Ambulance runs for The Shores averaged out to about 40 runs per year.

SEMCOG Report Shows Drop in Building Permits

The number of residential building permits recorded during the first six months of 1979 reflects a substantial decrease over those issued during the same period of 1978, according to a recently released study by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, (SEMCOG).

"Residential Construction in Southeast Michigan — First Six Months, 1979" indicated that the number of permits fell from a total of 13,560 units in 1978 to 11,428 units last year, a decline of 15.7 percent.

A comparison of the first six months of 1978 to the same period in 1979 shows that declines occurred among detached single family units of 20.3 percent, (2,086 units), and among multi-family units of 3.1 percent, (102 units).

In The Pointe, The Shores showed the most activity with a total of 10 permits issued for detached single family units. The City was next with five similar permits, followed by The Park with two. The Farms had two detached single family unit permits issued but also had one demolition for a net total of one. The Woods issued no permits at all.

The report documents a significant decline in housing activity in five counties of southeast Michigan, with an increase in housing activity in only two counties.

"This decline in housing is due, in part, to the high cost of home mortgages," said

Justine Barns, chairwoman of SEMCOG's Housing Subcommittee and Westland city councilwoman.

Macomb County showed the highest numerical decline in housing permits issued, down 1,119 from 3,525 in 1978 to 2,406 in 1979. On a percentage basis, Washtenaw County showed the highest drop — 58.9 percent — from 1,361 in 1978 to 559 in 1979.

Other counties recording a decline in authorized units include Livingston County, down 16.7 percent, and Wayne County, down 8.8 percent.

St. Clair County appears to be holding its own with only a slight decrease, (0.8 percent), in housing units authorized, from 364 in 1978 to 361 in 1979.

Monroe County recorded a 23.2 percent increase in new units authorized from 319 in 1978 to 398 in 1979. The only other county to show an increase was Oakland, which gained 2.3 percent from 4,466 permits in 1978 to 4,567 permits in 1979.

The top 10 communities in southeast Michigan for total new units authorized during the first six months of 1979 were Farmington Hills, (820), Canton Township, (553), Clinton Township, (547), Troy, (544), Avon Township, (515), Waterford Township, (419), Sterling Heights, (398), Detroit, (379), Macomb Township, (318), and Van Buren Township, (268).

The report also showed a decline in demolitions in the region. Detroit led the region in demolitions, recording 3,042 in the first six months of 1979.

Winter Concert Time for South

South High School's instrumental music department has scheduled its annual winter concert for Wednesday, January 16, at Parcels Middle School, 20600 Mack Avenue, at 8 p.m.

The Symphony Orchestra will perform Mozart's Titus Overture, Vaughan-Williams' English Folk Songs Suite, Saint-Saens' Danse Macabre and the Russian Easter Overture by Rimsky-Korsakoff.

Director Ralph Miller will turn his baton to guest conductor Brian Topolewski, a student teacher from Michigan State University, for the Danse.

The South High Wind Ensemble also will perform The Sinfonians by Williams and Armenian Dances by A. Reed. Admission charge is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students.

GETTING LIGHTER
About 30 pounds of aluminum was used in building the average passenger car in 1955. That amount has grown to 115 pounds today, and there are predictions that 300 pounds per car will be used by 1985.

College Sets Registration

Registration for Wayne Community College Community Services/Continuing Education classes will be held Monday, January 14 through Friday, January 18, at the Austin Center, 18300 East Warren Avenue, Detroit.

Students must pre-register if they plan to attend CS/CE classes. Registrations will not be accepted at the first class session, with classes beginning the week of Monday, January 21.

"Self-Help Health: Self-Hypnosis" will be taught at the Austin Center this term. Two classes, "Hatha Yoga," and "Real Estate: Licensing Preparation," will meet at North High School, 707 Vernier Road.

Interested students may register for any CS/CE class on January 15 to 16 from 2 to 8 p.m.; on January 17 from 7 a.m. to 12 noon; and on January 18 from 2 to 5 p.m.

Students also may pre-register at the new Community Service office, 2036 Woodward Avenue, in downtown Detroit.

Pierrot Series Offers Austrian Film

The next in the series of George Pierrot selected travelogues and international dinners at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, will feature "Austria And The Danube," a color film narrated by Ken Wolfgang on Thursday, January 31.

The dinner of Viennese specialties will be served in the Crystal Ballroom at 6:30 p.m. The show will be given in the Fries Theater at 8 p.m.

Tables and seats will be reserved for the dinner and the show. The complete evening, dinner and show, (tax and service included), is $11.25. The show alone is $3.

Reflecting upon Austria, Mr. Wolfgang will note the changes brought by wars on Austria's geography before bringing the film to a series of Austrian experiences — the Murtal Bahn, a narrow gauge train ride in St. Styria, a gypsy wagon train in Burgenland, cruising the Danube, a visit to Wolfgangsee and its White Horse Inn of operetta fame, climbing the Alpine Meadows and the Mountains of the Tyrol and Salzburg's Marionette Theater.

Austria also is the country where the Christmas carol "Silent Night" was composed. The film begins with Strauss' waltzes and ends with Beethoven's "Ode to Joy."

10 Grand Lost In Pigeon Drop

A 26-year-old Detroit woman was taken for $10,420 by two swindlers working a "pigeon drop" in The Village area late last month. It was the second report of the classic scam in The City this winter.

The latest victim, who lives in Nottingham Road, told police she was in the Kercheval-Cadieux area when she was approached by two women, both black and about 25-years-old.

The swindlers told the victim they had just found a lot of cash and showed her a box containing a four-inch-thick stack of bills, bonds and foreign money.

The victim was told that if she could get some cash, the women would "double her money." She responded by withdrawing $10,420 from her account, police said.

Once they had the cash, the swindlers told the victim they would take it to an attorney they knew in the Jacobson's building who would record the serial numbers of the bills. They departed with the cash and were not seen again.

The incident occurred on Thursday, December 21, at about 11 a.m.

Both City and Detroit police are working on the case, interviewing the victim, whose name they would not release, and a bank teller who saw the swindlers.

One of the women said her name was Carol and she came from Chicago. She was described as about 5'2" tall, 100 pounds with straight hair and a dark complexion. The other was described as 5'8" tall with a natural hair style.

Offers Guide On Diesel Fuel

A statewide guide to service stations selling diesel fuel in Michigan has been published by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

The booklet contains the names and locations plus phone numbers of 219 stations in 150 cities and is available to Auto Club members through its 55 statewide offices.

It provides other information for the diesel-burning motorist, such as grade of fuel sold and whether a diesel mechanic and road service are available.

Language Classes Set

Most foreign language classes slated for the winter term of the Department of Continuing Education of the Grosse Pointe Public School System will begin the week of January 14.

Opportunities exist for learning, re-learning or refreshing skills in nine languages: French, German, Greek, Italian, Japanese, Polish, Russian, Spanish and Ukrainian.

Among the winter offerings are two newcomers: Japanese Conversation for Travelers and Russian Conversation for Travelers. Two recently-introduced classes are being repeated: Conversational Greek for The Traveler and French for Fun.

Kazuo Ishimoto, who with his wife, Eiko, taught Japanese Cooking in the fall, returns from a late-fall trip to Japan to teach Japanese Conversation for Travelers beginning Monday, January 21, in Room B-207 of North High School, 707 Vernier road, at 7:30 p.m. Fee for the eight-week class is $20.

Richard Wright, trained as a Russian language specialist during his military service and who visited the Soviet Union last summer, joins the staff with Russian Conversation for Travelers on January 21 in Room A-59 of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, at 7:30 p.m. Fee for the six-week class is $15.

Conversational Greek for The Traveler, offered successfully for the first time last spring, is being repeated for 10 weeks beginning on Wednesday, January 16, in Room B-111 of North High at 7:30 p.m. Taught by Thea Kavadas, the fee is $25.

French for Fun, a seven-week offering scheduled for the first time in the fall, is being repeated with Aphrodite Roumell as the teacher. This is for the student who does not plan to continue with French and who just wishes a smattering. The class starts on January 14 in Room A-13 of Brownell at 7:30 p.m. The fee is $17.50.

The second phase of the program in Adult Education begins on Tuesday, January 15, for students of French and German.

German — Phase II and French — Phase II are a continuation of the 10-week classes begun in the fall and are designed for the serious student who wishes to attain mastery of the basics through completion of a standardized text over a two-year period.

German — Phase II meets January 15 in Room 144 of South High School, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard, at 7:30 p.m. The course is taught by Irene Roland. French — Phase II, taught by Mrs. Roumell, meets January 15 in Room A-61 of Brownell.

Advanced German, a class which requires ability equivalent to a year of college German, will be continued on Wednesday nights beginning January 16 in Room 144 of South High at 7:30 p.m. Taught by Irene Roland, the fee is $25.

An introductory class in Polish will begin January 14 in Room 242 of South High at 7:30 p.m. The 10-week offering, taught by Cecilia Barowicz, focuses on basic grammar and pronunciation. The fee is $25.

Spanish for students of all levels is scheduled for the winter term, too. Beginners may enroll for the class beginning January 14 at 7:30 while those with some proficiency will start in Intermediate on January 15 at 7:30 p.m. Advanced Spanish will be held beginning January 16 at 7:30 p.m. Jorge Carrera, veteran language instructor, will teach all three classes. Fee for each class is $25.

Ukrainian, offered this fall for the first time, will be continued. Ukrainian — Phase II, taught by Vera Andruskiw, is scheduled to begin Thursday, January 17, in Room B-207 of North High at 7:30 p.m. The fee is $25.

Italian, taught by Teresa Taranta, will be offered in Room A-11 of Brownell Tuesday, beginning January 15, at 7:30. Fee is $25.

Those wishing to enroll for classes offered by the public schools' Department of Continuing Education may do so by completing a registration form and mailing it with a check to Continuing Education, 260 Chalfonte avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236.

Registration forms are found in the green flyer mailed to all homes in the school district, (also available in the public libraries), and in the Continuing Education office located in Room A-22 of Brownell. Office hours are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday.

Liggett Casts 'Sound of Music'

The University Liggett School, (ULS), Players have concluded auditions for "The Sound of Music," the second production of their 1979-80 season. The musical, to be performed February 1, 2, 3, 8 and 9, calls for a cast of nearly 40.

ULS drama instructor Chuck Gifford awarded leading roles to sophomore Elizabeth Endicott as Maria, and senior Bill Mackay as Captain Von Trapp. Both upper schoolers are experienced performers and have participated in the ULS Players fall comedy, "You Can't Take It With You." Bill also played a leading role in last year's musical, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

Performing as the Von Trapp children are Cheryl Malloch, David Smith, Dawn Hogan, Jack Scott, Robert Lambrecht Jr., Robert Fenion, Jamie Eisey, Mary DeHaven, Carol Cracchiolo, Lynn Holland, Natalie Cracchiolo, Tom Stanczyk and Susan Anslow.

The 16-member chorus for the February musical consists of Shelly White, Lisa Burwell, Tammy Lapo, Amy Sparrow, Beth Rizzo, Carolyn Danaher, Suzanne Zinn, Lauri Kahle, Kim Wood, Gwyn Treiber, Whitney Fite, Kerry Fitzsimmons, Sarah Young, Cindy Budinger, Roxanne Lie and Lori Berger.

An evening performance on February 2 will benefit the ULS Chapter of the American Field Service. Preceding that performance, a gourmet dinner will be served.

Further information on general ticket sales, patron tickets or benefit tickets may be obtained through the ULS Main Office at 884-4444.

For safety and high income...paid monthly...it's difficult to match GNMA Mortgage-Backed Certificates. They bear a U.S. Government guarantee on "the timely payment of both principal and interest." Since many GNMA's are now selling at discount from the original issue price, the face amount interest (varying upwards from 6%) actually yields over 11% for current investors.

What are GNMA Certificates?

GNMA stands for Government National Mortgage Association, a part of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The money raised by the sale of these GNMA Guaranteed Certificates is used to finance mortgages. GNMA guarantees timely payment of both principal and interest on these Mortgage-Backed Certificates, and its guarantee is backed by the full faith and credit of the government of the United States of America.

When you buy a Certificate, sold by Kidder, Peabody in units of $25,000, you purchase a share of a pool of insured FHA or VA mortgages. Each certificate issued against the specific "pool" is GNMA guaranteed. You enjoy a number of advantages which were designed initially to attract money from pension funds and other institutional investors into residential and health-care facility mortgages. But if you're a substantial individual investor, you also can obtain all the benefits for your own personal "pension fund."

Advantages of GNMA Certificates

- They currently yield over 11% compared to an approximate 10% on comparable maturing U.S. Government Bonds.
- Principal and interest, and their timely payment, are guaranteed by the U.S. Government.
- Interest and principal come in convenient monthly payments...ideal for wealthy retired people or those interested in current income with a high degree of safety.
- There are none of the traditional and often necessary burdens of ordinary mortgage investment...no legal expenses, no administrative work, and no worry about late payments.
- GNMA Certificates can be turned into cash more readily than ordinary mortgages.
- No interest penalty is charged if Certificates are sold prior to maturity.
- Attractive investment for large and small corporations with excess cash.

Being wise is usually easy enough—being wise at the right time is the problem.

SELF-DISCIPLINE

Avoiding anger and irritation is an art that must be practiced to be acquired.

French Class Set at Center

Beginning French will be taught in the winter quarter at the War Memorial Center, 32 Lakeshore road. The class will be held Wednesdays January 30 through March 19, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. for 10 weeks for a fee of $40. Janet Bachrach Schroeder, the instructor, has much practical usage of the language as well as having learned its basic grammatical constructions, idioms and an extensive vocabulary. Since she was, however, primarily educated in this country, she understands the differences between the two languages.

Disaster Fund Gets United Foundation Aid

The United Foundation has approved a $376,114 grant to the American Red Cross Southeastern Michigan Chapter for world wide disaster relief operations.

The National Red Cross has designated that amount as the local Red Cross' quota in a $15 million campaign to replenish the American Red Cross disaster fund.

This grant is in addition to the annual Torch Drive allocation that the Southeastern Michigan Chapter receives as a member agency.

In citing the reason for the funds' depletion, the Red Cross states that $23,000,000 in national disaster funds were committed by the American Red Cross between July 1 and October 9, 1979, and that this has virtually depleted the Disaster Revolving Fund.

Some of the major disasters for which funds were used included Hurricane David, Hurricane Frederic, Tropical Storm Claudette and the Mississippi and South Texas Floods. Locally, services also were provided for families in the metropolitan Detroit community affected by the ice storm of last April.

"This is the 11th time the UF has met an emergency request from the Red Cross for disaster relief, thereby eliminating the need for an additional fund raising campaign in our community," said Pointer Joseph L. Hudson Jr., president and chief executive officer of the J.L. Hudson Company and chairman of the UF board.

"Thanks to careful planning and wise budgeting, the United Foundation is able to grant this money from its Emergency and Stabilization Fund, thereby, freeing the local Red Cross to concentrate its resources on providing services and disaster relief in the tri-county area rather than fund raising," continued Mr. Hudson. The Red Cross provides food, clothing, medical care, transportation, temporary housing and furnishings for disaster victims, and UF money is at work in disaster areas hours after tragedy strikes because a portion of each annual Torch Drive allocation to the Red Cross also goes to the national disaster fund.

When informed of the grant, Duane E. Jolinson, executive director of the local American Red Cross, said, "This grant represents the largest single contribution from a United Way organization to the National Disaster campaign and the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross is again grateful to the United Foundation for its prompt response to a crisis."

Nab GPF Youth with Property

A 17-year-old Farms youth was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 when alert Farms officers spotted a suspicious car, followed footprints to a nearby location and found the youth hiding in some bushes with stereo equipment taken in a burglary earlier that night.

Daniel Lock was released on $2,000 personal bond after his arraignment Sunday, December 30, by Park Municipal Judge Beverly Grobbel. His exam was set for Wednesday, January 9, (after press time.)

Police identified the equipment he had as coming from a Radio Shack store in East Detroit. The car from which the footprints led was taken from the home of Joseph Simon on Lothrop road, it was discovered.

Patrolmen Johannes Winter and David Beekman became suspicious when they approached the car parked in Ridgmont road at about 5 a.m. Friday, December 28, because it, unlike other cars in the area, had totally clear windows. Windows of other parked cars had thick coatings of frost on them.

On closer inspection, keys were found still swinging in the ignition, police said.

Officer Winter then followed the footprints in the frost-covered grass into the rear area of Grosse Pointe Florists, 174 Kerby road, where he found the youth hiding.

Det. Earl Field, calling area Radio Shack stores, learned a breaking and entering had occurred earlier that evening, and five pieces of stereo equipment were missing. The store manager later identified the tape deck the youth had when he was caught, and a stereo receiver found in his home, as coming from the burglary.

The three other pieces of equipment, two Realistic in-dash car radios and a digital microprocessor receiver, are still listed as missing, Det. Field said.

TV Violence Essay Topic

A $100 savings bond will be given for the winning essay in the Morality in Media of Michigan's annual youth essay contest, Tuesday, January 15, to April 1.

The topic will be "Do you feel that TV sponsors should be held accountable to the American family, their best customers, when they advertise on shows featuring excessive sex and violence?"

Students must be residents of Michigan and in high school grades nine through 12. Essays must be original—not exceeding 500 words—and be signed by a parent and an English teacher.

Entries should be mailed to Morality in Media of Michigan, P.O. Box 8621, Detroit 48224. Essays must be received no later than April 1. For more information, call M. J. Mengden at 881-2871, Mrs. K. S. Froelich at 882-7819 or Mrs. E. F. Kliber at 885-0537.

DENIS J. BRACKEN

Services for Mr. Bracken, 68, of The Shores will be held today, January 10, in Old Saint Mary's Church, St. Antoine and Monroe, Detroit, at 10 a.m. Arrangements are being handled by the Verheyden Funeral Home.

He died on Sunday, January 6, in Bon Secours Hospital.

Mr. Bracken retired in 1970 as a Ford Motor Company vice-president after a 41-year career in the automobile industry. At the time of his death he was a partner in the firm of Bracken, Seccrest, Tompkins and Associates, senior management consultants.

At the time of his retirement, Mr. Bracken was vice-president of basic product operations, in charge of Ford's glass, steel and general services divisions. He joined Ford in 1933 as the general manufacturing manager of Lincoln-Mercury Division.

He was appointed general manufacturing manager of Ford Division in 1960, and later that year was given the task of organizing and staffing the newly-formed automotive assembly division with responsibility for all car and truck assembly activities.

Mr. Bracken was elected a company vice-president in April 1963, and was named vice-president of the stamping, assembly and steel group. He was appointed to his final post in the company in January 1967.

Before joining Ford, Mr. Bracken was vice-president and general manager of Motor Products Corporation for seven years.

Born in Kansas City, Mo., Mr. Bracken was graduated from General Motors Institute and spent 17 years with General Motors in a variety of management and engineering assignments.

He was a fellow of the Engineering Society of Detroit, a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, the American Ordnance Association and the Detroit Athletic Club. He also was a member of the Detroit Golf Club, the Orchard Lake Country Club, a former trustee and board chairman of the Michigan Heart Association and a former trustee of Bon Secours Hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret; three sons, James, Richard and Bruce; and 11 grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Michigan Heart Association or Old Saint Mary's Church.

Interment will be in Los Angeles, Calif.

HOWARD F. SMITH

Memorial services for Mr. Smith, 59, of The Farms were held on Saturday, January 5, in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Arrangements were handled by the William R. Hamilton Company.

He died on Thursday, January 3, in University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Smith was the president of the LaSalle Building Corporation in Detroit. He was a trustee at Cottage Hospital.

He was a member of the Country Club of Detroit, the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts, the Detroit Zoological Society, the Grosse Pointe Club, the University Liggett School Alumni Association, Yondotega Club, the University Club and the Yale Alumni Association.

Mr. Smith is survived by his wife, Gussie M.; a daughter, Mrs. Fay Heilman; a stepson, Theodore H. Eaton; two sisters and two grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the H. Marvin Pollard Institute for Cancer Research, University Hospital, Ann Arbor, Mich. Cremation was private.

THOMAS H. CONWAY JR.

Battle over Wayburn Road Is Continuing

By Joanne N. Gouleche

The question of whether the people living in Wayburn road are residents of The Park is still being debated more than two months after a Wayne County Circuit Court judge ruled that they are Park residents.

Recent developments in the Wayburn road boundary battle have left the residents still without a city.

Detroit attorney Carl Rashid, Jr. said a motion for a new trial in the matter will come before Circuit Court Judge Roland L. Olzak tomorrow, Friday, January 11.

Late last year, Judge Olzak ruled that the 450 or so homeowners that lined the west side of Wayburn and part of Barrington road are residents of The Park.

In an eight-page decision, the judge stated that the boundary line between Detroit and The Park is 200 feet east of the center line of Alter road and not 200 feet east of the easterly side of Alter, as it had been previously.

The boundary change puts most of the 100 homes into The Park.

Mr. Rashid said he will ask Judge Olzak to reconsider his decision that the true boundary became established when the Village of Grosse Pointe Park was incorporated in 1907. The incorporation puts the boundary line 200 feet east of the center line of Alter—and all the homes in The Park.

Meanwhile, a class action suit was filed in circuit court last week by Wayburn and Barrington residents seeking a refund of back taxes paid to Detroit over a 70-year period.

Fed up with paying the income tax to Detroit, the residents went to the Michigan Tax Tribunal in 1972 to exclude themselves from paying the tax.

But it proved unsuccessful after the Tribunal ruled later that it did not have jurisdiction over boundary matters. Since then, residents have been in circuit court with the issue.

When the Wayburn issue is resolved, it will mean some long-awaited relief with police and fire protection. Presently, if a crime is committed in the back of the house, it's Detroit's venue, but if it occurs in the front part of the home, Park officers respond.

A complete victory in circuit court will assure The Park an increase in its tax base. Pointe schools also stand to gain tax dollars.

Mr. Rashid said if the motion for a new trial is denied, he will appeal.

Short Takes at South

Varsity Comeback
By Tom Kliskalt
After getting off to a slow 1-2 start, South's varsity cagers have won three straight games and now own a 4-2 record overall and a 2-1 record in the Eastern Michigan League.

South's latest victories were a 66-50 trouncing of Port Huron Northern on Friday, January 4, and a six-point decision over cross-town rival North Friday, December 28.

Port Huron Northern played South tough in the first half, and even led by five points after one quarter, but the Blue Devils came out firing in the second half and pulled away convincingly.

John DeBoer, who has recently been playing outstanding basketball, led South with 18 points.

The Blue Devils were blessed with a holiday treat as they pulled off a 49-43 victory over the Norsemen.

South will host Mount Clemens Friday, January 11, and St. Clair Shores Lake Shore on Tuesday, January 15. Both games start at 8 p.m.

JV Evens Record
By Marianne Schultz
Determined to end the previous losing streak, South's JV cagers triumphed in their last three games, raising their season record to 3-3.

Port Huron Northern, North High and Port Huron were all unsuccessful in second quarter attempts as South prevailed.

Big Ski Race Set for Jan. 26

Skiers participating in the fourth annual North American VASA Race, Michigan's largest cross-country ski event being held Saturday, January 26, in Traverse City, will face a newly designed and more exciting course.

"I'm very excited about the improvements we are making on the VASA's first 25 kilometers, and it will be more enjoyable for all," said John DeBoer, former Olympic skier and designer of the VASA.

The new course begins at an altitude of 625 feet and finishes at 820 feet with the highest point being 985 feet at 16.5 kilometers.

Two nationally known companies, the Stroh Brewery Company and Chef Pierre, Inc., join the Park Place Motor Inn and Ranch Rudolf as major sponsors of this year's VASA, a nationally sanctioned points race.

Two additional classes have been added to this year's race — one for the Midwest Collegiate Ski Association and one for Senior Elites who do not desire to ski the full 50 kilometers. The 50-kilometer event is open only to Senior and Veteran Elite skiers. Skiers without a United States Ski Association competitor card must race the 25 kilometer course in the Citizen Class.

The first U.S. citizen 21 years or older to finish in the Elite Senior Men's Class will win an expense paid trip in March to compete in the Swedish Vasaloppet in Mora, Sweden.

For the first Elite Women's finisher with the same qualifications, the prize is an expense-paid trip to compete in February at the American Birkebeiner in Telemark, Wis.

Trophies are awarded to the top three racers in each class, and all finishers receive a prize.

For registration forms and more information, entrants can call (616) 946-5410, or write the Park Place Motor Inn, 300 State street, Traverse City, Mich. 49684.

North Cheerleaders Go on Winning Streak

By Angela LoVasco
After winning first place at an International Cheerleading Foundation summer camp at Ferris State College and second place at the United States Cheerleading Association's competition in Lansing, the North High School varsity cheerleaders continued in further competition.

First, they entered a competition sponsored by the International Cheerleaders Association, which also sponsored camps last summer. The competition consisted of 100 other first-place winners from different ICF camps all over the country.

Each squad had to submit a notebook describing activities, accomplishments and goals. The squads were ranked nationally according to the notebook's proficiency and each squad's performance at the summer camp. North's varsity cheerleaders ranked high in competition with an impressive fourth place.

The next competition North entered was the Midwest regional competition, sponsored by the National High School Cheerleading Championships. There were nine regional contests held throughout the U.S., with each first-place winner moving on to Florida for a nationally televised final competition.

North's cheerleaders attended the regional held at Ohio State University. There were over 45 other high school squads in this competition.

North's squad qualified for the final round, in which they finished in sixth place. North's squad also was rewarded with many individual "superior" ribbons.

In their most recent competition, the varsity cheerleaders were accompanied by the junior varsity and freshmen squads. The competition, held at Dearborn Heights Crestwood High School, was conducted by the Kansas University cheerleaders.

The three North squads brought home a total of seven trophies, four of them being first-place awards. Two spirit trophies were presented to all three squads.

The freshmen did an excellent job in the freshmen class A division, placing first. The junior varsity also were outstanding by winning second place in the junior varsity class A division, and first in the junior varsity open division.

Finally, the varsity gave an excellent performance and achieved two first place trophies, one in the varsity class A division and another in the varsity open division.

Nelson Teaches New Art Class

June Nelson, art historian, linguist, author, book reviewer and resident of The Farms, is slated to teach a new 10-week class, "Art: An Introduction to Prehistoric, Ancient and Medieval Times," which begins on Monday, January 14, in Room A-61 of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte Avenue. The fee is $25.

The winter term, Part I, will focus initially on the visual and tactile elements of art, functions of design, subject matter, techniques and problems of value judgment. Major topics of the class are Prehistoric, Near Eastern, Egyptian, Aegean, Greek, Etruscan, Roman, Early Christian, Byzantine, Romanesque and Gothic Art.

Part II, to be offered at a later date, will deal with Renaissance through Modern Art.

Mrs. Nelson holds degrees from Drexel University in Philadelphia and from Wayne State University and has done graduate work at the Universita degli Studi and the Accademia de Belle Arti in Florence, Italy, as well as at the Institute of Fine Arts at New York University.

She has been an instructor in Art History on the staff of Wayne State University and the University of Michigan.

Author of "Harry Bertola, Sculptor," published by the Wayne State University Press in 1970, Mrs. Nelson has been a reviewer for the "Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism," and assisted with the editing of "The Twilight of The Medici," a catalog for a show at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Those wishing to enroll for this and other classes offered by the public schools' Department of Continuing Education may do so by completing a registration form and mailing it with a check to Continuing Education, 280 Chalfonte Avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms 48236.

GP Woods Studies Report on Northeast Relief Sewer

A report from Pate, Hirn and Bogue, Inc., city engineers, on storm water diversion and downspout disconnection for the northeast area was received last month by the Woods Council, which will soon have to make a decision on the proposed northeast relief storm sewer project.

The council referred the report to the Committee of the Whole, (C-W), with a C-W meeting being planned for next month to discuss the document with City Engineer Larry Pate and affected citizens.

This project was explored by the solons on several occasions last year and now with the requested report from Mr. Pate being completed, the council will have to reach a decision on the relief sewer.

Possible alternatives include whether to go ahead with the entire project, which has an estimated cost of around $650,000, limit the size of the project to a most critical area or to not pursue the project at all, going instead with the disconnection of downspouts at area homes.

A telephone survey was conducted last fall in an attempt to put the status of the project into a clearer focus regarding flooded basements due to the big storm in July 1978, plus any other similar problems.

Some officials had hoped the project would start over two years ago but, based upon discussions and concerns expressed by council members last year, it became enveloped in an air of some uncertainty.

The uncertainty became most apparent at the August 20 meeting as officials seemed unsure of whether to go ahead with the total program, part of it or forget the whole project regarding need.

This was the last time the council viewed this subject, (prior to last month). At that time, Councilman Thomas Fahrner told his colleagues he learned that around one-third of the water which goes into the system reportedly came from University Liggett School property.

Based upon this, if the water draining from Liggett was eliminated, perhaps citizens in the immediate area wouldn't have much of a problem with flooded basements, he felt.

As a result, he suggested that the city engineer investigate the possibility of going from the Milk River up to Wedgewood with the relief sewer, check any potential flooding conditions and then ask area citizens to disconnect their downspouts, (which had been a main topic of prior discussions).

The council ultimately approved a motion requesting Mr. Pate to research the possibility of Mr. Fahrner's suggestion, including a cost estimate, with consideration also being given to extend the sewer at a later time if necessary.

Officials also approved the preparation of the survey in order to pinpoint the overall status of flooded basements in the area.

In his report, Mr. Pate reviewed the history of the basement flooding experience noting that in February 1977 he compiled a report based upon the problems which ensued due to the intense rainfall in July 1978.

Two recommendations were made at that time to help reduce flooding in the event such a rainfall occurred again or, in some cases, to reduce flooding that apparently occurs periodically.

One recommendation was to construct a storm water relief sewer, while the other was to disconnect 50 percent of building downspouts.

After unsuccessful efforts to outlet a pipe line across private property to the Milk River within city limits, he said plans were completed with the storm sewer reaching the Milk River through a public right-of-way in St. Clair Shores.

Mr. Pate also indicated upstream from the outlet it was possible to place the storm sewer in an easement across the Liggett school property and in public rights-of-way or, upstream from Liggett School, to acquire easements to place the conduit immediately adjacent to rights-of-way lines on the private property side of walks with the anticipation that costs for removing and replacing individual driveways, sidewalks and sodding lawns would be less expensive than removing and replacing concrete pavement.

But officials were unsuccessful in obtaining 36 easements from affected citizens with an estimated 30 residents, who attended a special meeting, saying they felt lines should be put under the street. (In fact, on the question of disconnecting downspouts, some citizens were for such an action while others were in opposition.)

Hence, the request for the survey.

The survey area, encompassing 437 homes, mainly included River road on the west, Perrien place and Liggett School property on the north, the east city limits and Blairmoor court on the south. He noted that Liggett School has an approximate roof area equal to another 26 homes.

Mr. Pate reported that of the 437 homes, 140 or about 32 percent experienced varying amounts of basement water from the July 1978 storm. Meanwhile, a total of 223 or about 51 percent never experienced flooded basements, while 15 or about three percent had previously experienced basement water but not during the July 1978 storm.

Of the 437 homes, 87 or about 20 percent have disconnected all or one-half of their downspouts.

He then pointed out of a total of 79 homes within the limits of the area indicated to divert surface water runoff to a separate storm sewer system, 41 homes or around 52 percent had varying amounts of basement water due to the July 1978 storm.

Of a total of 43 homes downstream from the relief area on Woods lane and Moorland to Wedgewood drive, 30 homes or around 70 percent, which had varying amounts of water in basements from the storm, would receive a direct benefit in the form of sewer relief by the physical diversion of surface water runoff.

Of these 112 homes, 71 or around 63 percent would be directly affected, favorably by the proposed relief sewer, with the 112 homes representing about 26 percent of the total amount of homes surveyed.

The effort to disconnect front downspouts should proceed as originally recommended in key affected areas, indicated Mr. Pate.

As for the Liggett School site, he said the location, including parking lots, driveways and tennis courts with existing on-site sewers and catch basins, plus downspouts from roof areas, adds to the problem created by almost instantaneous inflow of storm water into the city system.

"While the disconnection of downspouts and diversion of catch basin runoff would greatly increase the theoretical capacity of the city combined sewer system, the point of entry of the entire school site to the system is (one) where the existing sewer capacity is not strained. Unfortunately, the diversion of the school discharge flow has little or no immediate effect on the upper reaches of the Briarcliff combined sewer," he said.

"For high intensity rainfalls, those near or exceeding present 10-year storm water runoff frequencies, the upper ends of the respective sewers in Briarcliff, Moorland, Woods lane, Canterbury and Blairmoor court are simply not large enough to receive and transport total runoff without additional surface storage and diversion."

In calling the council's consideration of the report a "physical and political decision" which it must make, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said around $400,000 via a special capital improvements tax levy is currently on hand and that further funds could be budgeted by the time the project is completed, (if, in fact, the council decides to go ahead with the total program).

He emphasized the need to immediately reach a decision so the city can seek bids, consider them and accept a quote, with all of these actions having to take place in February and March. It could be May before actual construction work would begin.

On the latter, Liggett officials have already requested assurances that construction wouldn't take place before school lets out in the summer and after it resumes in the fall in order to minimize disruption of activities.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

I trust that all future propaganda about the joys and benefits of life in the Grosse Pointes will afford due recognition to our active chapter of the Grinch Society, whose patron and role-model is probably that well-beloved alternative to Saint Nick, the Ayatollah Khomeini.

Midway through the Christmas season, we regrettably removed the couple of modest strings of outdoor lights that we had originally put out: not because we had run out of the Christmas spirit; not because some neighbors and others had not commented favorably upon this slight effort; not even because of qualms about our next electric bill.

Rather because, upon our return home the other evening, we found that half the bulbs from one of the strings of lights had been removed, or, to put it less euphemistically, stolen.

We have accepted this direct ultimatum from the Grinch. We apologize for our temerity in so naively following our own inclinations and the customs of our forebears.

We shall never repeat this mistake, and if from time to time we fail or decline to do other things proposed within the community, we are sure that it will be understood that we are acting from both sincere conviction to, and direct and obvious threat from the spirit of Grinch.

If, of course, any stray clergymen and odd congressmen wish to negotiate to free us from this constraint, we shall, of course, welcome their efforts with all the enthusiasm that now seems characteristic of the American people.

Most sincerely,
Glenn D. Jackson,
Of Rivard boulevard,

To the Editor:

I was one of the many "watchers" at the roof fire at St. Clair and Maumee (on Sunday, January 8). I went to see what was happening — a human need of all of us — and I remained to admire the calm, competent work of all the firemen there.

The firefighters had frigid weather, high winds that eventually took another roof, and smoke as well as fire to fight. All the "battle" was on the roof — sloping and steep. It was an education to learn how the newest ladders added to the effectiveness of getting the fire under control.

Regardless of the fire equipment used, the firemen had to be skilled in moving about on the roofs and the ladders when smoke must have cut their vision and cold water, if not ice, endangered their steps.

When the fire blazed out of the building and engulfed much of the roof, the firemen kept their cool and worked on.

In case they — or non-gawkers — think we who came and watched were "just curious." We were that, plus admiring of the excellent work being done plus learning how fires are fought and how hard they are to put out, once started.

I am writing this to publicly say the fire teams of The City, Farms and Park, and any other ones there, did an excellent job and they and their families deserve to be very proud of their work.

Church Hosts ND Choral

The University of Notre Dame Choral and String Ensemble will visit The Farms on Sunday, January 13, as the group travels through the Midwest on its 1979-80 tour. This nationally known choral group, which recently performed with the Indianapolis Symphony, will be singing in Saint Paul Catholic Church, 157 Lakeshore road, at 10 a.m. mass.

One of the group's members is Maura Sendelbach of Handy road, while a former Pointer, Michelle Schneider, also participates.

The Notre Dame Choral is a mixed ensemble consisting of 26 highly selected voices. The group has been in existence since the 1973 school year, and since that time has rapidly become the premiere choral ensemble of the Notre Dame Department of Music.

Its repertoire consists of sacred and secular music by composers representative of the best choral tradition.

LESS AND MORE
As the number of hospital beds declined to 1,381,000 in 1978 (28,000 fewer than in 1977), the number of patients admitted to U. S. hospitals reached 37.2 million, a 0.5 percent increase.

Solve Problems with Help of PS

The East-side chapter of Parent Support, (PS), will present a program on the "no-lose" method of family problem solving with Kathleen R. Bufton on Thursday, January 10, in the Bethany Room of St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop road, at 7:30 p.m. It is free and open to the public.

Ms. Bufton is an extension home economist with the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University. She will discuss how family problems may be solved through better communication and techniques which achieve better family harmony.

PS provides parents with alternative methods for dealing with the problems of family living. For those who have completed the PET training course or other parent educational programs, the monthly sessions provide valuable refresher information, officials say.

For more information, telephone Ms. Bufton at 721-6565.

Table wines are simply wines made by fermenting the juice of freshly squeezed grapes. They have no foreign substances added. Usually drunk with food, they contain 9-14% alcohol by volume. They are named by grape names, place names or types. American wine makers usually name their wines by variety while Europeans usually name theirs after the places where the grapes are grown. Things get confusing, though, when American wines are made of European grape types in different blends.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length dress of seafoam green peau de soie. The bridegroom's mother also selected a floor length dress, of blue and grey silk organza.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Tim Wade, of Bowling Green, O., Miss Craigie Zildgian, of Boston, Mass., Miss Gail Hulick of Sterling, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. William Ferree and Miss Kristie Hill, of Indianapolis, Ind.

The newlyweds are at home in Metamora.

Sell-Out Dates For Williams

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra debut of pianist and recording star Roger Williams, who will join Richard Hayman, DSO principal pops conductor, and the orchestra Friday evening, January 11, at 8:30 o'clock and Sunday afternoon, January 13, at 3:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium, is sold out.

Roger Williams' album sales have passed the 17 million mark. His music is heard in many foreign lands. His overseas tours are so popular that he is forced to limit his concert appearances to one tour per year in the United States.

He started piano at the age of three, encouraged by his mother, a former college symphony director. By age eight he was composing music and had learned to play 13 instruments.

He attended the Juilliard School of Music and studied with jazz greats Teddy Wilson and Leonard Tristano.

Williams' biggest and best-known singles include "Autumn Leaves," "Born Free" and "Somewhere My Love."

Alpha Phi's Lollipop Sale Opens Jan. 25

The Detroit-East Suburban Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Phi will hold a workshop Monday morning, January 14, at 9:30 o'clock in the Washington road home of Mrs. Richard Dietz.

Members will be making posters and covering coffee cans in preparation for the annual Alpha Phi Lollipop Sale, starting Friday, January 25, and ending Wednesday, February 14.

Each year, proceeds from the sale of the 20-cent, heart-shaped lollipops go toward the purchase of cardiac equipment for a local hospital or to some heart-related projects.

The lollipop committee — Mrs. William Cole, Mrs. Daniel Brown and Mrs. James Greenfield — will soon be contacting chapter members, teachers and the many area businesses which, in the past, have generously placed cans of lollipops on their counters.

Mrs. Dietz, Mrs. Roger Muller and Mrs. Floyd Nixon have offered their homes for lollipop pickup.

May Wedding Date Is Made

Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Rohr, of Devonshire road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Marie, to Alexander Wood, son of Judge and Mrs. Alexander C. Wood, III, of Moorestown, N.J. A May wedding is planned.

Miss Rohr was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School and received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Brown University. She is currently attending Columbia University Graduate Business School.

Mr. Wood also was graduated from Brown University, with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Soroptimists Keeping Busy

Soroptimist International of Grosse Pointe, that energetic group of professional and business women, have been — true to form — extremely active this autumn.

Genealogical Research Society Meets Jan. 12

The Detroit Society for Genealogical Research will meet at 2 o'clock this Saturday, January 12, in the Explorer's Room of the Detroit Public Library in Woodward avenue, for a program offering an opportunity for group discussion of individual problems. "Brainstorming in Genealogy," conducted by Betty Lou Morris.

Individual consultations with society members will be available during the morning in the Burton Historical Collection.

November found the Pointe Soroptimists at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, hosting their annual brunch for prospective members, which was well attended by current members as well as prospective.

New members Pat Ollis, (Mack Avenue Drapery), Dorothy Salmay, (Joseph of Grosse Pointe Beauty Salon), Patricia Vitale, (Yorkshire Food Market), Dortha Verbrugge, (Verbrugge Market), Lillian Forrest, (Lily Pulitzer), and Lois Troup, (Grosse Pointe Business Service), were installed and received their pins at the December meeting.

Also in December, the busy career ladies managed time for a Christmas gathering. This year's holiday party setting was the lovely, new home of member Adele Salmay.

The Brian Rohr Kempers

JANICE DIEHL, daughter of the Robert J. Diehls, of Buckingham road, and Mr. Rohr-kemper, son of the William Rohr Kempers, of Country Club drive, exchanged marriage vows Friday evening, September 21, in Saint Clare de Montefalco Church.

Rohrkemper-Diehl Vows Are Spoken

Five Sisters Attend Bride at Mid-September Rites; Newlyweds Are at Home in Troy After Bermuda Vacation

Father James Halstead presided at the autumn marriage of Janice Diehl and Brian Rohrkemper Friday evening, September 21, in Saint Clare de Montefalco Church.

The 6 o'clock rites were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial after which the newlyweds left to vacation on Bermuda. They are at home in Troy.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Diehl, of Buckingham road, wore a gown of white chiffon styled with a rounded, scalloped neckline and long, full sleeves ending in deep lace cuffs.

Her cathedral train fell from a high yoke and her bodice was covered with appliques of Alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls.

A beaded cap of matching lace held her lace-edged, fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of red roses and white stephanotis.

Linda Diehl, honor maid for her sister, was in a high-collared, slit-sleeved dress of royal blue Qiana. Bridesmaids, dressed identically in powder blue, were four other sisters, Lisa Diehl, Nancy Diehl, Diane Diehl, of Phoenix, Ariz., and Kathy Diehl Worhach, of Boston, Mass., and Debbie Toepel. Each wore an arrangement of baby's-breath and carnations in her hair.

Jim Rohrkemper was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Rohrkemper, of Country Club drive.

Ushering were Mark Gawlik, of Pontiac, Frank Palazzolo, Randy Arickx and Brian Winter, of Mount Clemens.

The mother of the bride wore a long-sleeved, V-necked dress of dusty rose Qiana. The bridegroom's mother's gown, also long-sleeved, was fashioned of navy blue chiffon. Each selected a white orchid corsage.

The new Mrs. Rohrkemper received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Accounting from Michigan State University. She is an auditor with Ernst & Ernst.

The bridegroom, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management from Michigan State University, works for Western Union.

June Wedding Date Is Made

Mid-June wedding plans are being made by Julie Ann Juenemann and Kurt Edward Stanley whose engagement has been announced by her father, Joseph Guy Juenemann, Jr., of South Brys drive.

The bride-elect, who is also the daughter of the late Betty Juenemann, was graduated from Michigan State University and is working toward a Ph.D. at the University of Pennsylvania.

Grand Marais Club to Meet

Grand Marais Garden Club members will gather Monday, January 14, at noon in the Barclay road home of Mrs. Kennard Jones for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Thomas Carey and Mrs. Paul Nagel will assist the hostess. The program, on Garden Pictures, will be presented by club member Mrs. Henry Young.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Stanley, of Kalamazoo, received his Bachelor of Science degree from Michigan State University.

Set Farr-Fisch Rites in Spring

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fisch, who moved before Christmas from North Duval road to Naples, Fla., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Linda Ann, to Kevin Patrick Farr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tokemitt, of Petoskey, and Raymond Farr, of Lennon road. The wedding is planned for May.

Both the bride-elect and her fiancé are Grosse Pointe North High School graduates.

She holds a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Western Michigan University, where she affiliated with Beta Alpha Psi national accounting fraternity. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Northern Michigan University.

To Marry

April wedding plans are being made by MICHELLE DIANE VANDRIESSCHE and William C. Soltys whose engagement has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Roger Vandriessche, of Harvard road.

The bride-elect, who is also the daughter of the late Mr. Vandriessche, was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School and Western Michigan University, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Occupational Therapy.

She is affiliated with Pi Theta Epsilon, honorary occupational therapy fraternity, and is presently an Occupational Therapist with the Hines Veterans Administration Hospital, Hines, Ill., where her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casimir Soltys, of Chicago, is a medical administrator.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Chicago's DeLaSalle High School.

From Another Pointe of View

Mr. Worcester, who has served as chairman of the DePetris Fund campaign, will announce the latest figures in the fund raising drive.

The goal is $30,000. The fund, established last year in memory of Vincent R. DePetris, one of the founders of the Grosse Pointe Garden Center, will provide support for the lakeside Trial Gardens at the War Memorial.

The program for the day will feature colored slides and commentary by Harriet Saperstein, Principal for the City of Detroit, Department of Recreation, whose presentation is entitled "The Renaissance of Our River."

Further information regarding the luncheon and reservations at $6 per person can be obtained by contacting the Garden Center office at the War Memorial.

Ninth Year for Preludes

The Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra is preparing to present its ninth season of Detroit Symphony Preludes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The Preludes are set for Fridays, January 25, February 22 and March 14, at 11 in the morning. They feature members of the DSO in a series designed to introduce the players to the public and to help the public become better acquainted with the talents of the orchestra.

Each program is followed by a question-and-answer period and luncheon at 12:15 o'clock.

This month's Prelude, with the intriguing title of "Snakes in the Brass" or "Serpents Among the Reeds," will feature Robert Eliason, curator of Musical Instruments, Henry Ford Museum, discussing and playing some of the antique instruments from the museum's collection. Assisting him will be Wesley Jacobs, DSO Principal Tuba.

February's "Go for Baroque—and then" presents DSO Flutist Shaul Ben-Meir and DSO pianist Muriel Kilby in a program spanning the Baroque to 20th Century periods.

The Detroit String Quartet—DSO Cellist Mario Di Fiore, DSO Violist David Ireland and DSO Violinists Inez Redman and James Waring—closes the series in March with "Such Notes As, Warbled to the Strings."

Vinci-Chamberlain Vows Exchanged

Washington, D.C., Is Setting for Autumn Rites; Lace Accents Bride's Ivory Chiffon Wedding Gown

At home in Bethesda, Md., are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Anthony Vinci, who vacationed on Hilton Head Island, S.C., following their marriage Saturday, October 13, in Saint Alban's Parish, Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Vinci is the former Lynne Chamberlain, daughter of Mrs. Warren Chamberlain, of Alexandria, Va., and the late Lieutenant Colonel Warren Chamberlain (AUS). Mr. Vinci is the son of Mr.

Driscoll-Benes Troth Is Told

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Benes, of West Bloomfield, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Christine Ann, to Mark Wood Driscoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Driscoll, of Whittier road. An early May wedding is planned.

Miss Benes and her fiancé are both graduates of Michigan State University, where she affiliated with Chi Omega sorority. She also holds a Master of Arts degree from Oakland University.

and Mrs. Anthony John Vinci, of Lakecrest lane, who hosted the wedding party and out-of-town guests at the rehearsal dinner at the Cosmos Club the evening before the wedding.

The Reverend Theodore Eastman, Rector, officiated at the 1 o'clock ceremony.

The Richard A. Vincis

Marriage vows were spoken Saturday, October 13, in Saint Alban's Parish, Washington, D.C., by LYNNE CHAMBERLAIN, daughter of Mrs. Warren Chamberlain, of Alexandria, Va., and the late Lieutenant Colonel Warren Chamberlain, and Mr. Vinci, son of the Anthony John Vincis, of Lakecrest lane.

David Flowers, principal trumpet of the National Symphony Orchestra, played The Prince of Denmark's Marche by Jeremiah Clarke. Altar flowers were a large arrangement of white Fuji mums.

The service was followed by a reception at The Officer's Club, Fort Lesley J. McNair.

A blouson overblouse covered the lace-embroidered, fitted bodice of the bride's full-skirted gown of ivory chiffon. Her long, full sleeves were gathered at the wrists with scalloped cuffs of matching embroidered lace.

Her fingertip length, illusion veil fell from a coronet of white silk lilies and baby's-breath, matching the flowers in her bouquet.

Her honor attendant, in a long, fluid-skirted slip dress of ashes of roses jersey, with a dolman-sleeved, belted blouson overblouse of silk chiffon, ending in a short peplum, was Pamela Edwards, of Charlottesville, Va.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically, were Paula Schaeffer and Audrey Wolf, both of Washington, D.C., and two sisters of the bride, Cathy Chamberlain, of San Diego, Calif., and Lori Chamberlain, of Lake Tahoe, Calif.

They carried silk flowers, rose-colored day lilies and baby's-breath, and wore matching small floral arrangements in their hair.

Best man was H. Burckley Cole, of Charlottesville. Guests were seated by Grosse Pointers Terrence Griffin, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, and Benjamin Warren, who divides his time between The Pointe and Washington. by Stuart Thayer, of Washington, Tom Patterson, of Fisher's Island, Conn., and Washington, and Stephen Vinci, the bridegroom's brother, who also served as crucifer.

The mother of the bride wore a street length dress of russet chiffon over a muted pattern of topaz and russet shades. Russet lilies formed her wrist corsage.

The bridegroom's mother chose a long-sleeved, street length dress of hand-dyed French silk chiffon patterned in muted shades of rose, lavender and silver. She wore a wrist corsage of white lilies.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin, of New York City, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Vincent Vinci, also of New York City.

Also from New York came Virginia Vinci and John Vinci and the bridegroom's sister, Vanessa Vinci. Mrs. Terrence Griffin, another

DiChiera Heads Opera America

Dr. David DiChiera, Michigan Opera Theatre general director, was elected president of Opera America at its annual meeting held recently in Miami.

DiChiera, third president in the association's 10-year history, succeeds John Crosby, general manager of the Santa Fe Opera.

Opera America, chartered in 1970 by 17 opera companies including San Francisco, the Lyric in Chicago and the Metropolitan, has grown to a membership of 50 full members and 25 correspondent companies from the United States, Canada and South America.

Michigan Opera Theatre joined Opera America in 1973. The following year DiChiera was elected to the board.

He has served the association as vice president, member of the Executive committee and chairman of numerous committees including Appointments and Guidance, Special Constituencies and the National Auditions Program.

Opera America is the second 10-year-old DiChiera is responsible for: his own Michigan Opera Theatre celebrates its 10th anniversary subscription season September 12 through November 1.

Under DiChiera's artistic leadership, Michigan Opera Theatre was propelled into national prominence with the world premier of "Washington Square" and major revivals of "Emperor Jones," "Regina," "Porgy and Bess,"

Meeting Today For Fox Creek

Co-hostess Mrs. John Lee Thompson will assist Mrs. Kenneth Steketee when she entertains the Fox Creek Chapter of Quilters today, Thursday, January 10, at 1 o'clock. The program will feature a Fox Creek member, Mrs. Robert Reas, talking on "Baskets."

"The Tender Land" and "The Most Happy Fella."

"We are grateful for the national reputation we have attained in so short a time," DiChiera says, "but we are even more grateful for the support we have received from our loyal subscribers and contributors. Without them, none of this would or could have happened."

Offer Classes at Assumption

Assumption Cultural Center has something for every interest in over 70 winter program class offerings.

The center, located in Marter road, began its popular Kalosomatics fitness program Monday, January 7. Some openings remain in morning, afternoon and evening sessions for men, women, children and seniors.

Three new Kalosomatics sessions include an Early Bird Men's session Monday and Wednesday from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock, a Co-ed Advanced session Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock and a Kiddie Kalo class for the three- to five-year-old Tuesday through Friday from 9 to 9:30 o'clock.

All other classes begin Monday, January 14. Adult offerings include disco, tap, ballet, Greek folk dancing, calligraphy, investment counseling, tax preparation, photography, art, needlepoint, quilting, knitting, crocheting, macrame, basketry, golf, tennis, karate, Greek language, English for the foreign born, beauty workshops, one-night Greek cooking demonstrations, a nutrition workshop and CPR training.

Youth offerings include drama, arts and crafts, needlepoint, calligraphy, Poise and Polish for the young teen, Perfectly Proper for the elementary-aged child, tennis, karate, gymnastics, disco, ballet, tap and jazz. Instruction continues in Greek and Italian language and in Greek dancing.

Registrations are being taken now. Further information may be obtained by calling 779-6111.

The James N. Fishers

Fisher-Hammer Rites Celebrated

Evening Ceremony Is Followed by Reception at Imperial House; Acapulco Is Newlyweds' Vacation Destination

Setting for the autumn wedding of Janet Marie Hammer, daughter of the Robert A. Hammers, of Heather lane, and James Neville Fisher, son of the E. Dawson Fishers, of Peach Tree lane, was Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

Presiding at the 6:30 o'clock rites Friday evening, October 12, was The Reverend Ralph Barton, assisted by The Reverend Joseph F. Hartman, OSA, from Flint.

After a reception at Imperial House, the newlyweds left to vacation in Acapulco, Mexico. They are making their home in St. Joseph.

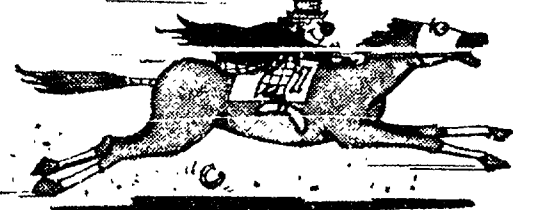

Seed pearls and sequins accented the embroidered lace Empire bodice of the bride's white silk organza gown, styled with a Queen Anne neckline and a full, tiered skirt circled with wide bands of lace, extending into a long train.

Matching embroidered lace banded her triple-tiered veil, which fell from a high headpiece of lace encrusted with pearls and sequins. Silk roses, stephanotis and baby's breath adorned her Colonial bouquet.

Carol Hammer, honor maid for her sister, and bridesmaids Mrs. George Dierickx, another sister, Janet Fisher, the bridegroom's sister, who also was vocalist during the ceremony, Mrs. Robert Hammer, a sister-in-law, and Janet Mayloch wore floor length

At a late afternoon ceremony Saturday, October 20, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church SUSAN LYNN TRENTACOSTA, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trentacosta, of Fairway drive, was married to Mr. Humphrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Humphrey, of Milesburg, Pa.

Spotlight Art of Great Lakes

The Dossin Great Lakes Museum on Belle Isle has on display in its special exhibits room a fine collection of original marine art work from its own extensive holdings.

"Our Own" spotlights some of the historically significant vessels from the traditions of the Great Lakes: steamers such as the "City of Cleveland," the "Tashmoo," the "City of Alpena" and "Western World," plus the tugboats "Kellogg" and the "Francis B. Hackett."

The 36 works cover over a century of art, from the 1850s to the 1970s, and include oils, watercolors, lithographs and prints.

Among the artists are Seth Arca Whipple, Karl Kuttuff, James Clary and Howard Sprague. Robert Hopkin, the well-known late 19th century painter, is represented by "Comment Ca Va," an oil painting of a French family of the 1870s peddling home-made goods to passing ships from their own small craft.

"Our Own" will be on display at the museum, located in Strand drive along the Canadian side of the island, until Sunday, February 3. Hours are 10 to 5:45 o'clock Wednesday through Sunday. The telephone number for more information is 824-5157.

Miss Trentacosta Is Autumn Bride

Reed Hart Humphreys Vacation in Virgin Islands Following Mid-October Rites; Are at Home in Kalamazoo

Self-fabric gardenias accented the gown of white silk-faced satin selected by Susan Lynn Trentacosta for her marriage Saturday, October 20, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church to Reed Hart Humphrey.

Her off-the-shoulder bodice featured diagonal satin bands, and her chapel-trained skirt was bordered with three bias bands of satin and scattered gardenias.

White satin also banded her fingertip mantilla. She carried a cascade of white roses, miniature carnations and stephanotis.

The bride is the daughter of the Jack Trentacostas, of Fairway drive, the bridegroom the son of the Max Humphreys, of Milesburg, Pa.

The 4 o'clock rites at which The Reverend David Antonson presided were followed by a reception at the Detroit Yacht Club, after which the newlyweds left to vacation for 10 days on St. Croix in the Virgin Islands. They are at home in Kalamazoo.

Award Grant To Marygrove

The National Endowment for the Humanities has awarded a three-year, $150,000 challenge grant to Detroit's Marygrove College, which will receive $1 in federal funds for every $3 raised from private sources.

Announcing the award, Marygrove's Interim President Dr. Wade Ellis stated that the $600,000 total funding will be used to preserve and expand the humanities holdings of the library, repair and refurbish the Liberal Arts classroom building and rebuild the college endowment.

New Season For Suburbia

Suburbia Garden Club held its first meeting of the 1980s Tuesday, January 8, at the Windmill Pointe drive home of Mrs. Henry Domzalski. Co-hostess was Mrs. Diamond Phillips. A book review by Ernest Stratelak of the Grosse Pointe Library followed the business meeting and luncheon.

DIA to Host Nigerian Art

The most spectacular loan of African art ever made to the United States will begin an eight-month tour of three American cities in mid-January, under patronage of the Government of Nigeria. Treasures of Ancient Nigeria: Legacy of 2,000 Years will open at the Detroit Institute of Arts, co-organizer of the exhibition, then visit the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

Detroit museum officials describe it as a rare display of two millennia of African tradition. They say it is unprecedented and largely possible because the Nigerian Museum is now constructing a new wing in Nigeria's capital city of Lagos.

Funding for the United States tour has come from grants by Mobil, the National Endowment for the Arts and the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts. It is also supported by a Federal Indemnity from the Federal Council on the Arts and Humanities.

The 100 objects, including Benin bronze plaques and the earliest West African art discovered by recent archaeology, represent an historical span which predates the Golden Age of Greece and the Birth of Christ.

Two works, a pair of bronze leopards, royal symbols of the Kingdom of Benin, are valued in excess of $1 million each. A fragment of what is believed to be the first representation of an elephant in Black African art is also in the show.

Another prize piece is a bronze casting of a queen from Ife, (1200-1500 A.D.), with intricate technique which, curators say, rivals the best work done by Western Renaissance artists.

The exhibition, organized by Michael Kan, deputy director and curator of African, Oceanic and New World Cultures at the Detroit Institute of Arts, and Dr. Ekpo Eyo, director of the Nigerian Federal Department on Antiquities, is designed to acquaint Americans with the media used by African artisans over the centuries, bronze, terracotta, ivory and stone, and to illustrate the cultural continuum of Nigerian artistic tradition as now defined by archaeologists and art historians.

The show includes works from the earliest known Nigerian tradition, the Nok culture, (500 B.C.-200 A.D.), representative objects from Igbo-Ukwu, a site in south-east Nigeria which dates to the mid-ninth century A.D. and the court art of the states of Ife, (1200-1500 A.D.), and Benin, (1400-1897 A.D.).

Also included will be the sculpture of the Yoruba people. As heirs to an artistic tradition that began with Nok and is closely associated with Ife and Benin, the Yoruba form a continuous link between ancient traditions and modern times.

Rogoff Debut for Detroit's Symphony

Herbert Blomstedt will be on the podium at Ford Auditorium as pianist Ilan Rogoff makes his debut with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Thursday and Saturday evenings, January 10 and 12, at 8:30 o'clock.

The program includes Schubert/Liszt's Wanderer Fantasy and Bruckner's Symphony No. 4.

Tickets for both concerts are available at the Ford Auditorium box office at $11, $9, $8, $7 and $5. Master Charge and VISA charge card customers may phone in orders at 962-5524.

In addition, a limited number of tickets for students and senior citizens will be available one hour prior to the concerts.

Ilan Rogoff, born in Tel-Aviv to a family of musicians, studied with Karol Klein at the Tel-Aviv Academy and made his first appearance with the Academy Orchestra at the age of 12.

He continued his studies with Stefan Askenase at the Royal Conservatoire in Brussels and with Leonard Shure in New York, where he was later coached by Claudio Arrau and Vladimir Horowitz. Rogoff debuted in 1970 with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. That appearance was followed by engagements with visiting European orchestras in the United States and with the Boston, Baltimore, Minneapolis and St. Louis Symphony Orchestras.

Dual Exhibit at Pewabic

Connoisseurs of ceramics as an art form will see contrasting pots and sculpture by two young artists in the first 1980 show at Michigan State University's Pewabic Pottery.

Michael Crumb, a Michigan potter, and Penelope Fleming, a ceramic sculptor from Pennsylvania, will be featured at Pewabic January 13 through February 9.

Opening day hours this Sunday are noon to 5 o'clock. Regular hours are noon to 4:30 o'clock Monday through Saturday.

Crumb produces sophisticated functional ware in high-fire porcelain, using bright glazes and free-form surface drawings. His style for individual pieces and well-matched sets might be called American Oriental.

Against Crumb's porcelain, the bold, dark forms of Fleming's sculptural pieces suggest the primeval mystery of life.

As part of MSU's Lifelong Education Programs, Pewabic offers adults avocational and college credit classes in ceramics. Individuals, fami-

Who said things are slow, interest rates are down to 12¼% with 20% down, 5-10% mortgages are available. Land contracts and a few assumptions. Home owners are aware of the great tax advantages of home ownership, maybe your present home isn't bringing you the full tax savings you need. Maybe you should start thinking of moving up. Experts say by 1990 at a 7% inflation rate a $100,000.00 home will be worth $200,000.00 That's like a $10,000.00 increase in pay each year for 10 years, not including the tax advantages you'll save. Maybe you should seriously think of that move before things become too tight. If you don't presently own a home, and if you paid any taxes last year you're missing out on great savings, give us a call and we'll give you a few ideas for the year to come on a new home and that tax savings you've been missing.

Schools Offer Youth Classes

Two new Youth Enrichment classes called "S is for Schulerwerk," co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe public school system's Division of Instruction-Continuing Education and the Detroit Community Music School, are slated to begin on Tuesday, January 29, in the music room of Montclair School, 1275 Cook road, at 4:30 and 5:30 p.m.

Parents wishing to enroll their children in either class should take them to a registration/orientation meeting on Tuesday, January 22, at 4:30 p.m. at Montclair. Those planning to attend the registration/orientation session are asked to complete an enrollment form and mail it as soon as possible to Continuing Education, 260 Chalfonte, Grosse Pointe Farms 48236. The fee should not be included with the enrollment form; it will be collected at the orientation program.

The new winter program, an outgrowth of a six-week pilot course offered this fall, consists of two 18-week classes.

The first, "Music And Movement," scheduled from 4:30 to 5:15 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, is designed to provide access to the creative modalities of music performance, improvisation and compositions to school age children with learning disabilities.

The second, "Parent Participation for The Primary Age Autistic Child," scheduled from 5:30 to 6 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, is a program for the early primary-aged autistic child, or severely language and behaviorally impaired child.

Music activities will incorporate imitation, chanting, movement and rhythm, with in a rondo, (repetition, digression, repetition), structure to introduce or reinforce basic communication, pre-academic, motor development and social skills. Sign language may be used with those children for whom it is appropriate.

The $125 fee for either class may be paid in two installments: the first half is due at the time of registration on January 22; the second half is due April 1. The 18-week series of classes will observe the spring vacation period in the public schools beginning on Thursday, April 3, at 2:30 p.m., ending Monday, April 14, and will conclude on Thursday, June 5.

The educational method and philosophy of German composer, Carl Orff, has been adapted to meet students' special needs and to provide a satisfying and reinforcing behavioral, personal and academic experience. Current studies support the fact that academic and intellectual capabilities are strengthened by the stimulation and encouragement of creative activities. The performing arts offer an excellent opportunity for growth by teaching new skills for self-expression and self-discipline, officials say.

The classes will be conducted by Mary Walsh Roberts, director of the Music Therapy Division at the Detroit Community Music School. Mrs. Roberts has worked extensively throughout the Detroit and surrounding areas as music therapist, workshop clinician and special education consultant. She has worked successfully with physically, mentally and emotionally impaired children and adults.

"Music performance is not the main target of the therapist. Music is the means to an end, the motivating factor. It is a natural organizer of time and energy, with many functions of learning and production parallel to all other communications. In an informal atmosphere, children can participate in fun activities which assist them in developing or reintegrating important behavioral functions while they grow in the music learning process," Mrs. Roberts states.

"That is why this particular method employed by a professional music therapist is so important to children with special language, social, sensory or motor development needs. They can be challenged, but to meet attainable goals, which build confidence in the process."

The Detroit Community Music School, located at 200 East Kirby, was the first such institution in Michigan accredited by the National Guild of Community Schools of the Arts.

For more information, call Continuing Education at 343-2178.

School Hosts Ham Dinner

Lutheran High School East Boosters will host an all you can eat ham dinner on Sunday, February 3, at 20100 Kelly road, Harper Woods, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Tickets, on sale at the door, are $4 for adults and $2.50 for grade schoolers. Preschoolers may eat free.

For more information, call 371-8750.

Day Care Home Hearing Slated

A legislative hearing on House Bill 4521, (proposed change of licensing of family day care homes to registration of day care homes) will be held Monday, January 21, at Guardian Angels School at 1 p.m.

The school is located in the area of Kelly road at Houston-Whitney, (just below Six Mile road).

Family day care home operators, parents using day care homes and interested citizens are invited to attend.

For further information, call Tency O'Connor at 527-5903.

GPW Council Acts on 'Recs'

Several recommendations from the Woods Council sitting at the Committee of the Whole, (C-W), were accepted by the solons at a recent regular meeting.

These included approving guidelines for regulating advisory city commissions and the deletion of several subjects from the agenda.

Groups affected by the guidelines, totaling 13, include the Senior Citizens, Beautification, Community Tree, Citizens Recreation and Community Development Block Grant Advisory Commissions.

Some of the guidelines affecting the groups include the following:

Members must be appointed by the mayor and are subject to council approval; members must be appointed for a three-year period; the commissions must attempt to reach the broadest base of citizen input and participation; and commissions must develop and submit reports to the council regarding their on-going activities and plans for future projects.

Deleted items included a recommendation of the Senior Citizens Commission that the city investigate the feasibility of a Dial-A-Ride bus to be used by all Woods citizens, along with an accompanying cost study on a per capita basis.

At the same time, the council agreed to delete a proposed free parking program for resident senior citizens, with Councilman Dan Grady noting at the recent C-W meeting that more of a turnover is needed at such meters. Concerns over enforcement of the proposal also were expressed.

Meanwhile, the C-W also agreed to table a variety of agenda items pertaining to parks and recreation matters until sometime in February. Plans call for members of the Citizens Recreation Commission to be in attendance at that session.

Burglars Hit Farms Homes

Farms police are as yet unsure whether a recent rash of burglaries is the result of one person or a group. They also are unsure, but doubtful, whether the work was that of the man they dubbed "Big Foot" who escaped from prison two months ago.

But three homes have been entered during a recent six-day period, two of them in the same immediate neighborhood. And one burglary resulted in the loss of about $30,000 worth of jewelry and silver.

The latest incidents occurred in Lexington road and Colonial court, with the former residence, belonging to Fred Hillger, being entered sometime between Sunday, December 16, and Saturday, December 22, through a rear door located inside a sunporch. A pane of glass had been smashed in the door.

Although there was evidence of a room to room search, nothing was reported missing by the owner, who had just returned from out of town. However, a television set had been removed from its stand and placed elsewhere, police said.

In the early evening of Thursday, December 20, a burglar entered the home of Lory Bernier and made off with about $250 worth of jewelry while the home owner's son was asleep. Police said the son heard nothing.

In that incident, a television set also was taken from its stand but left at the scene. Entry was apparently gained by crawling through a basement window after it had been kicked in.

Police reports indicated the burglar had to be small to fit through the window, and that once through, he may have opened the door for a helper.

An Allard road woman told police she saw a suspicious looking you'll knocking on the door of a neighbor's home as she arrived home about 6:20 p.m. on that day. When she went out a few minutes later, the subject was knocking on the door of another home.

The subject was described as 16- or 17-years-old, about 5'8" tall, of medium weight with hair just below the bottom of the ear. He was last seen entering a car which left the area, she told police.

Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem warned residents to be wary of strangers who go door to door asking for fictitious names, saying they were most probably scouting homes for burglary. He urged residents who see such actions to call police.

Sgt. Van Tiem is doubtful that the recent break-ins are the work of convicted burglar Jerry James Woeltje, the alleged "Big Foot" whose arrest in May 1978 cleared over 100 cases in the Pointes and other east side communities.

Woeltje escaped from a minimum security prison on October 31 where he was serving a three- to 10-year sentence for the breaking and entering of a Moross road home.

Men, Women Gap Persists

The Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor has issued a revised edition of "The Earnings Gap between Women and Men." According to the publication, women have to work nearly nine days to gross the same amount that men gross in five days, reports a department news release.

The latest earnings data, which are for 1977, show that among full-time workers employed throughout the year, men earned $14,626 while women earned $8,618. This indicates that women earned only 59 cents for every dollar men earned.

Data also shows that the differential has remained at about its present level since 1961, in spite of the employment gains women have made in recent years. The gap is wider, however, than it was in 1955, when women earned about 64 cents for every dollar men earned.

The publication discusses factors related to the earnings gap, such as the concentration of women in low-paying traditional jobs and the large number of new entrants to the labor force who are in or near the entry level of jobs.

Differences in the occupations and industries in which men are employed, their educational attainment and work experience are highlighted.

Single free copies of the publication are available from the Women's Bureau, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C., 20210. The publication is for sale at $1.50 a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 20402.

The reason we don't like some people is that they try to do too much—and do it.

Pointe Counter Points

So Smart . . . the contrast of white and navy. No wonder it's such a perennial favorite. At Walton-Pierce you'll find a display of navy and white fashions from many designers and in a wide size range. Joan Leslie puts together a navy crepe jacket and skirt with a white ruffled blouse for a feminine, fashionable look. Wear it now under furs. Wear it south. You'll be glad to have it come spring. Posh does a navy look in a dress and jacket combination of breeze-light wool crepe. The jaunty short jacket buttons once. Navy knit trimmed with bright green on the jacket and dress travels everywhere in style. For those of you who wear half sizes, First Lady offers a navy knit dress with a white and navy striped role V neck collar. Another half size line is Kohler and the creamy white crepe dress with a navy tie at the neck, navy cuffs and hemline from this line is a lovely cruise choice. The dress is one piece with a two piece look. Navy and white is also found in the Sportswear Department. We like the way Austin Hill lets you put it together. A poly/cotton blend white skirt is belted with a white and navy stripe belt. There is also a navy skirt in the same fabric with a navy belt striped with white. Either goes beautifully with a white three button jacket. Of course, there are so many other combinations in the new cruise collection. We like the ivory white crepe dress from Jerry Silverman designed by Frank Tignino. It is applied with purple curved stripes down one side front and back. Just the thing to wear out to dinner . . . south.

FRANCES SCHONENBERG, OF McMILLAN ROAD

By Ann Wallace

"I wanted to see the world." And she did, at least the part that extends across our country from Massachusetts to Montana, including Detroit, Michigan, and eventually Grosse Pointe. Mrs. John Schonenberg, Jr., is a native of Andover, Mass., near Boston. She was graduated cum laude from the Abbot Academy in Andover and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the University of Michigan.

And then she was employed as a reporter for the Ravalli Republican in Hamilton, Mont., and as a public relations person for the Montana Fish and Game Department.

Frances found that "there were not too many college graduates in Montana. The natives of the area found employment elsewhere once their education was complete.

"But those who stayed were just marvelous — the best of all," Fran, however, discovered in time that she was desirous of more intellectual companionship and decided to make a move.

Back East, to Detroit Her sister and her husband, who lived in Detroit at that time, encouraged Fran to move here. She did and found employment in public relations with Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

"I met my husband there and we moved to Grosse Pointe," says Mrs. Schonenberg, who began her involvement some 21 years ago with the American Association of University Women when she visited the AAUW table during a Newcomer's Tea.

Still maintaining her Boston accent, Fran explains that AAUW and the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, of which she has been a member for 10 years, have been of great interest to her through the years.

Currently wearing the hat of the president of the LWV and still holding various offices in AAUW, Fran has assumed still another hat: that of working woman.

"Salary Corporation gives me a chance to work in an area that I, AAUW and the league have long been interested," notes Mrs. Schonenberg, who is Salary's office manager.

The president of the corporation, which also stocks wind turbine generators, is Bror Hanson, former McMillan road neighbor who now resides in Fairhaven.

Energy from Sun The system utilizes solar energy to heat water in containers which have been installed on the south facing roof of a private home or building.

"In these days of energy shortages, it is necessary to develop all possible means of energy conservation," says Frances, who adds that she enjoys working, especially since it is part time.

"Now that the children are away from home, my working and volunteer worlds fill my hours."

The Schonenberg children all are boys. Mark, the youngest, is a freshman Engineering student at Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis. Eric, a sophomore at Purdue, is a Mechanical Engineering major.

Bob is employed as an engineer for Avco in Connecticut.

after funeral luncheons and family get-togethers. Enjoy delicious food, excellent cocktails, homemade bread and desserts and gracious service. There's convenient free, private parking at Perini's, 10721 Whittier. For reservations call 371-2484.

cut. The only non-engineer, John, a musician who plays the clarinet and bassoon, resides in California.

The predominance of mathematics and engineering in the family might have been influenced by their father, John, who is an actuary.

Math Runs in Family A native of Long Island, N.Y., Mr. Schonenberg explains that actuarial science involves the mathematics of insurance, and continues that financial problems are solved using expert knowledge of probability and interest rates in computing premium rates or the amount of money to be deposited for pension funds to meet obligations of the fund.

Though not as busy with mathematics as her husband, Fran has been equally busy with the League of Women Voters for the past few months.

The League's voter forums took place in The Pointe preceding the elections held early in November.

The Grosse Pointe League, organized in Grosse Pointe Park in 1950 as a result of a request from citizens to investigate the possibility of corruption of the city's council, has developed into a community resource with a commitment of promoting political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government.

Voter service in the form of voter forums, where the candidates or issues are presented, or literature, which is distributed throughout the community, involves most of the league's work.

Information for the community in such publications as "Know Your Grosse Pointe," or "The State We're In," or, on the national level, "The Voter," are available.

Serves Community Other examples of LWV booklets distributed nationally include The Inflation Squeeze, Nuclear Equation and Interviews on Salt II. Many more current issues are discussed in a wealth of information that is available to members of the league "which, by the way, invites men to join," says Mrs. Schonenberg.

"The LWV never endorses candidates or political parties," continues Frances. "It will, however, present all candidates in a forum situation so that the public may have the opportunity of seeing and hearing the potential office holders express their views on issues."

In the recent election, league moderators for the forums organized details for their forums in a community in which they did not reside — Woods League residents went to the Park and vice versa.

This occurred, says Fran, "to insure that a chairman would be as impartial as possible in moderating the forums where candidates answered written questions from the audience."

The Grosse Pointe LWV also will provide voter service in communities other than the Pointes.

It recently organized a candidate's forum in the Harper Woods Library for Harper Woods voters.

Willing to Help "We are willing to help where we can," notes Mrs. Schonenberg. "Anyone who would like assistance may contact me at any time."

"The forum and candidates' guides, which are distributed throughout the community, fulfill our first priority in any community. We also want to assist in the registration of voters for future elections."

In the past, a league member would register high school students as they would attain their 18th birthday. "But now the high school principal takes care of that responsibility."

Membership in the League is open to anyone 18 years or older. Fran adds that in the Grosse Pointe League, about one-third of the members hold either full-time or part-time jobs.

For that reason, meetings are held both in the daytime and evening for the convenience of all the members. "Our membership now consists of about 100 very dedicated people, all working to provide the best possible service to the voters of the community," Mrs. Schonenberg continues.

and attends meetings of the Michigan Education Forum, Michigan Education Seminars and the Education Legislative Advisory Council to the State Board of Education.

Fran also has served on an ad hoc committee to study national health care plans and co-authored a slide show presentation explaining responsibilities of representatives.

As a change of pace, Mrs. Schonenberg has served as a volunteer resource person at Grosse Pointe South High School.

"I assist Helen Calas, a para-professional, when she needs to fulfill some other duties," explains Frances.

Yet Another Job "I enjoy assisting the students or parents in finding some information for a project, such as a term paper."

She has been involved with the Citizens' Advisory Council, Adult Education-Continuing Education and continued her work as a community advisor on Title IX and advisor to Wayne County Circuit Court Domestic Relations court-watching.

A junior Great Books discussion leader and secretary and director of the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council, Mrs. Schonenberg also is active with the Interfaith Center for Racial Justice and the Equal Justice task force for Recorder's Court study.

She has been an alternate member of the Wayne County Efficiency Task Force and tutored at the L'Ingemann Elementary School, Detroit.

"Our League of Women Voters is branching out now to include the Detroit Metropolitan Area League so that urban issues may be studied, with ensuing recommendations after a careful study by the membership."

Fran, in her travels to Lansing as the league's representative, does let the dust settle every now and then, long enough to invite everyone to join the league and get involved with its purposes of voter education and voter service.

Ninth Year for Unity

For the ninth consecutive year, The Committee to Study Ecumenism will sponsor observances of a special Week of Christian Unity in Grosse Pointe, and members of all churches in the Pointe area are invited to join in the celebration.

Christian Unity Week opens Saturday, January 19, and Sunday, January 20, when members of the sponsoring congregations, (Christ Church, Saint Paul's Roman Catholic and Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran), attend worship services at a participating church other than their own.

Pulpit exchanges take place the following weekend, January 26 and 27, with the culminating service set for Sunday evening, January 27, at Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church. Featured speaker will be M. Nadine Foley, O.P., Ph.D., a member of the General Council of the Adrian Dominican Congregation.

Visitors to Ecumenical services will be especially welcome at Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore Saturday, January 19, at 5 o'clock, and Sunday, January 20, at 8:30, 10 and 11:30 in the morning . . . at Christ Church, Episcopal, Sunday, January 20, at the 8, 9:15 and 11:15 o'clock services . . . and at Saint Paul Lutheran Sunday, January 20, at 9:15 and 11 o'clock.

Each of the churches will offer coffee and fellowship after these services.

Participating clergy include The Reverend Robert E. McGregor, Rector, The Reverend J. Gary Fulton and The Reverend William E. Tudor, of Christ Church; Monsignor Francis X. Canfield and Father Michael A. Donovan, of Saint Paul's Roman Catholic Church; and Dr. Kenneth R. Lentz and The Reverend Paul E. Christ, Pastors of Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran.

man Business major and Grosse Pointe South 1979 graduate.

MARY BETH PYTELL, daughter of the ROBERT H. PYTELLS, of Kenwood court, was elected to Albion College's 1979 Homecoming Court which reigned over weekend events during September.

Enrolled in the freshman class at Pine Manor College is DEBORAH L. MCKINLEY, daughter of MR. and MRS. ROY E. BARBIER, of Touraine road.

Pointer HUGO S. HIGBIE has been named to the 1979-80 Parents committee at Colby-Sawyer College where his daughter FAYE is a junior American Studies major.
