District Court Bill May Alter

Based Upon Approach Taken by Woods Council, Sen. Kelly Cites His Flexibility on Plan

By Susan McDonald and Roger A. Waha

The much-disputed Grosse Pointe district court bill may be revised once again before it becomes law based on demands for a separate court made by the Woods Council earlier this month.

Introduced in the senate in December, the bill is based on agreement reached by four other Grosse Pointe councils on the basic structure of the proposed court system.

Have Another Idea
The district court would provide The Pointe with its first, full-time court of record where both civil and criminal cases could be heard.

Owners of Two GP Woods Specialty Restaurants Seeking Tavern License

Le Cafe Francais, Da Edoardo Only Applicants to Meet Deadline for Special Council Hearing on January 23; Document Would Permit Serving of Beer, Wine Only

By Roger A. Waha

The owners of two specialty restaurants who have expressed the most interest in obtaining a tavern license, (permitting the serving of beer and wine only), for their establishments will present their cases before the Woods Council at a special hearing on Wednesday, January 23, in the council chambers, 20025 Mack avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

Charles Moraco and Ronald Serba of Le Cafe Francais, 20311 Mack avenue, and Edward Barbieri and his son, Edward Jr., of Da Edoardo, 19767 Mack, were the only ones to meet the Wednesday, January 9, deadline set by officials for submitting applications for the hearing.

At that time, the council, based upon voter approval of a November 6 referendum question by a 2,452 to 1,680 margin, will consider issuing one tavern license in the community.

Have Time Limit
With the favorable vote, the ordinance is amended and if the solons decline to issue the document, the authorization remains for a future time.

The Woods' has five Class C liquor licenses and could have up to a total of 15 documents, either Class C or tavern licenses, pending council approval.

Plans Being Made for CDBG Funds

Four Pointes Holding Hearings, Preparing for 1980 Year

By The NEWS Staff

The widened street curbs and decorative street lighting of the Kercheval Revitalization Project approved a year ago in The Park are becoming a reality.

Last January, the Park Council okayed the plan to spruce up a part of the city that was an eyesore to the businessmen on the commercial strip and to those who patronized the merchants.

To Vote on "Recs"

Since then, trees have been planted, old curbs removed and soon, decorative lighting will be installed along the three block professional service center of interior decorators, printers and dry cleaners.

So far, the project has met with success and city officials say they are optimistic about the project right on through the completion date of 1982. (Continued on Page 4)

Cities Seeking Solutions to Traffic Problem

Officials in Woods, Harper Woods, St. Clair Shores to Explore Several Areas after Joint Meeting on Monday; Recommendations Scheduled to Be Forthcoming within 30 Days

By Roger A. Waha

A spirit of cooperation was apparent between members of the Woods, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores Councils as they met to discuss possible solutions to the traffic problem in the northwest area of The Woods at a joint session on Monday evening, January 14, at Parcels School. An estimated 100 citizens attended the session.

Besides reviewing a study of the area conducted by Goodell-Grivas, Inc., several suggestions were offered for consideration toward alleviating the problem which has affected The Woods for over four years and most recently the two neighboring communities.

Officials discussed the 15 alternatives offered in the traffic study but, at this time, didn't settle on any one via a solid consensus of opinion.

Improve Flow

However, the councils did agree to review all the comments made, (with an emphasis upon several possible actions), with their staffs in the hope that recommendations would be forthcoming within 30 days.

Some agreement appeared to be reached in the following areas:

• To open up the island at Helen avenue and Vernier road, which Woods officials said was closed in 1967 because of a fatal accident. Such an action, officials feel, would improve the overall traffic flow.

• At the Old Eight Mile and Vernier road intersection by Eastland, consideration will be given to closing a crossover area stopping motorists from entering Eight Mile from Vernier.

• At the southbound I-94 exit ramp at Eight Mile road, signalization of the exit ramp will be viewed. This location is under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Department of Transportation, with the department proposing such a change. Possible prohibitions of left hand turns off of the ramp also will be considered.

In relation to this, the intersection of I-94 and Vernier road also is under state jurisdiction and the Department of Transportation has proposed the installation of turning phases at this location.

Board Sets Election for March 24

Voters to Consider Three-Year Package As Officials Point to Lower Tax Rate

By Susan McDonald

Voters will be asked to approve a renewal of the current tax rate when they go to the polls in late March to pass judgment on a three-year millage package for Grosse Pointe schools.

The election date, March 24, and tax rate were approved by the Board of Education at its Monday, January 14, meeting.

Voters will be asked to approve the same millage rate—26.55 for schools and 1.42 for libraries—that was endorsed by a 3-1 margin in the last election in 1977.

Form Committee
But school officials say home owners will actually be paying a lower tax rate over the three-year life of the package because of "roll-backs" mandated by the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment.

According to Headlee, property taxes cannot increase more than the rate of inflation, measured by the Consumer Price Index. Local governments must "roll back" millage rates to compensate for rapidly increasing property values.

School Board President Laurance Harwood said Monday that he is "delighted" the administration was able to come to the Board with a lower millage proposal.

"We are optimistic that citizens of the school district will support the millage renewal request," he said. A citizens' committee is presently being formed to provide more information about the request to the community, Mr. Harwood added.

Based on Projection.
The current, total authorized millage rate of 38.22 mills will be continued for the next three years if the proposal is approved by voters in March. (One mill equals $1 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation of property.)

That rate includes the basic school and library taxes, plus debt retirement and county-authorized levies.

Because of Headlee, the rate was "rolled back" to 37.02 mills for the 1979-80 school year. Under the proposed package, it will be reduced again to 36.12 next year, to 36.97 in 1981-82 and 37.85 in 1982-83. (Continued on Page 2)

Minor Home Repair Plan Is Resumed

After Temporary Moratorium, SOC Active Again; Organization's Calendar Year Budget Placed at $108,526

By Roger A. Waha

It was definitely a "Happy New Year" for officials of Seniors Onward for Change, Inc., (SOC), as their minor home repair and maintenance program, serving senior citizens in four Pointes and Harper Woods, resumed after it was suspended early last September.

The service fell under a temporary moratorium in the fall after it had gone at a fast clip since last February because current funds had been exhausted and outstanding obligations, e.g., the paying of taxes, had to be met.

Seek New Location
In the interim, several actions have been taken by program officials including renewing contracts with the various municipalities for the 1980 calendar year, with SOC personnel dealing directly with each community.

"We also were able to hire an office manager, (Helen Fitzsimons of Mapleton road), and we're looking for another place to move," said Louise TeWalt, SOC's acting president. As part of its evaluation of outside programs and space requirements, Grosse Pointe Woods Presby- (Continued on Page 8)

Mack-Vernier Improvements Set to Start in Spring

By Roger A. Waha

A contract for major improvements at the Mack avenue-Vernier road intersection was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, January 7.

With the council's approval of the pact, which was entered into by and between the city, the Michigan Department of Transportation and the Board of County Road Commissioners of Wayne County, actual construction work, which includes the realigning of traffic lanes and the tapering of medians, is anticipated to begin in the spring.

In conjunction with this work, the intersection also will be resurfaced as the solons approved an agreement between the city and the road commission for such work on Monday, December 17.

The estimated cost of the major construction work is placed at $204,700. Last spring, The Woods received program approval from the Federal Highway Administration for 90 percent Federal Aid Safety funding for the project, with 90 percent of the cost being paid by the federal government and 10 percent by the city. Meanwhile, the estimated cost of the resurfacing is $37,900, with the board of county road commissioners agreeing to pay two-thirds of the amount and the city, one-third.

Woods Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara said both phases of work will be bid concurrently, with the state advertising for bids in each instance and awarding the contract.

The improvement of Vernier road, according to the contract encompasses the following:

• The realignment of eastbound Vernier easterly of Mack for a distance of approximately 600 feet including the bituminous surface

ing. • The widening of the crossover between eastbound and westbound Vernier which is located approximately 400 feet easterly of Mack. (Continued on Page 2)

A main focus of the overall construction, this perspective, seen last summer, will disappear, and the ever-present possibility of a vehicle going over the curb and sidewalk and striking children will be minimized.

This diagram shows the major improvements planned at the intersection. In conjunction with the main construction work, including the reappeared as an outgrowth of the two-hour meeting, cited by St. Clair Shores Mayor Frank J. McPharlin and St. Clair Shores Councilman John A. Roberts, was to get the traffic, which is currently using area residential streets, back onto the main arteries. To do so, officials seemed to agree that cooperation would not only have to transpire between the three communities but also with state officials.

Solutions Sought to Ease Problem

Mr. Roberts also felt that both Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores were unavoidably placed in an adversary role with The Woods because 14 of the 15 traffic study recommendations, sans alternative one, do nothing, would increase traffic on Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores streets while decreasing traffic on Woods streets.

In response, Harper Woods Mayor T. A. Penszynski indicated that the adversary role could be turned around. "In Harper Woods, some of the alternatives with modifications can be lived with. I feel that the same can be said for St. Clair Shores," he said, while stressing the need to come to grips with the problem.

Staff recommendations also were shared, with Woods Public Safety Director John Dankel saying his first choice would be alternative 15 as cited in the traffic study. This views Prototype E in city planning consultant Brandon M. Roger's land use plan and involves the looping or connection of streets.

Director Dankel felt the proposed barricade on Brys drive, however, should be moved from the Helen intersection to the Eight Mile intersection.

This, according to the study, would be a long-range solution, not involving the cooperation of the other cities, and it would probably be the most expensive choice.

His second choice was alternative nine, a combination of traffic diverters, one-way streets, operational improvements beyond the study area and peak hour turn prohibition at Canton and Vernier. He felt this long-range program had a main disadvantage, i.e., extensive cooperation from the other cities.

Harper Woods City Manager Ronald Bullman gave staff reports from his police and fire chiefs, plus his public works superintendent. The do nothing alternative was focused upon, along with alternative 14, connecting existing Old Eight Mile right-of-ways.

Meanwhile, St. Clair Shores City Manager Robert James cited the do nothing alternative as the best for his community, while noting every solution except the do nothing one would transfer traffic into his city.

"Usual Step"

He added the do nothing alternative would be best at this time until the amount of projected traffic for streets within his city could be verified.

No Department of Transportation official was in attendance, although a letter was received from Paul J. Riley, district traffic and safety engineer. It viewed the areas in which the department has jurisdiction.

A Macomb County Road Commission official was in attendance but said he had no comments to make, while the Wayne County Road Commission wasn't represented.

Sen. John Hertel, who said in his experience he had never seen three city councils sit down and take such an "unusual step" toward solving a problem before the public, was complimented by many officials for his handling of the session.

At one point, citizens, depending on their viewpoints, cheered and booed a comment offered, but the senator's quick action prevented any further displays from occurring.

Local legislators attending the meeting included Sen. Gilbert DiNello and Rep. William Bryant.

Mack-Vernier Work

The construction of a left turn storage lane along the north curb line of the eastbound roadway westerly of the crossover.

The widening of westbound Vernier along the southerly curb line from Mack westerly approximately 300 feet to the existing crossover.

The construction of an eastbound to westbound crossover with taper approximately 400 feet westerly of Mack.

Meanwhile, the resurfacing within the Vernier intersection will include joint and crack repair, base repair and necessary related work.

Traffic safety in the intersection area has been a concern of officials and citizens for some time, with a primary focus being the southeast corner of the intersection.

In this respect, the possibility remains that a vehicle, because the traffic lanes aren't wide enough to open the curb and sidewalk at that corner, when youngsters leaving Parcels School are ready to cross, with death and/or injury resulting.

Playing a key role in the approval of the application was the fatal accident in May 1978 in which a 13-year-old Harper Woods boy was killed when his bike made contact with a city garbage truck as he attempted to cross the intersection.

In the past, county and state officials had indicated to city officials that the numbers and kinds of accidents weren't indicative of a poorly engineered intersection but all recognized that the location is a potentially hazardous one.

A past county study revealed some 60,000 cars travel through the intersection on a daily basis.

Early last month a seventh grade student left Parcels and apparently ran against a "don't walk" signal from the southeast corner of the intersection when she was struck, and seriously injured, by a car.

After this accident, Woods officers met with Parcels School officials and students to see if some type of traffic control committee might be set up at the school, wherein students would monitor and/or assist with pedestrian traffic on their own peer level.

A further meeting was held Wednesday, January 9, between school officials and students, with Principal Morris Hanzek indicating three youngsters volunteered to serve on such a committee. But he said he had hoped for between six to eight to participate.

Some students, as Mr. Hanzek expected, felt the grade difference played a role in the lack of expected response. Seventh graders, he said, felt that eighth graders wouldn't pay attention to them, while some eighth graders stated they weren't interested in the program.

However, Mr. Hanzek stressed he isn't giving up in trying to obtain further volunteers, while hoping an interested teacher might even agree to sponsor such a committee.

Millage Rate

Those figures are based on a three-year projection of school finances that involved a lot of guesswork about future property values and inflation rates, according to school officials.

Administrators estimated that local property values will increase 15 percent for the 1980-81 fiscal year and that the Consumer Price Index would settle at about 11.3 percent. They estimate property values increasing at eight percent and inflation at 10 percent each year following that.

The millage proposal also was discussed last week by School Board members and some raised concerns about finding enough money in the package for improvements in the school program.

Mr. Harwood said on Monday that the schools have "every intention" of continuing improvements in the school system. He said he believes there will be about three percent of the budget available each year to expand and improve programs and buildings.

Probation Program May Not Get Additional Funds

By David Kramer The Farms Council threw a monkey wrench into the plans of the Grosse Pointe Volunteer Probation Program. For, in deciding not to grant the program its full requested share for this fiscal year's budget, it also placed in jeopardy about $3,600 in funds from The Woods.

That odd circumstance was due to a catch in The Woods' earlier council resolution that said it would grant its requested increase only if the other Pointes approved theirs. While The City and Shores did just that, (The Park had already approved its requested share), The Farms chose to approve only a pro-rated share of the extra $1,962 it was asked to give. While an exact figure wasn't put on that share, the council's clear intention was that the probation program get six months' worth of the additional cash, or about $900. This figure is in addition to the $4,975 it previously set aside in this year's budget for the program.

The probation program had asked for a $9,861 addition to last year's $25,000 operating budget. Each city's share is based on its percentage of the total population. Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said The Farms' move means the program will not receive the $3,673 The Woods made contingent upon other cities' approval. However, he did not rule out the possibility the matter would be brought up again for consideration before the council.

The Woods' contribution of $9,312.50, which was last fiscal year's contribution, will be unaffected by The Farms' action. Park Judge Beverly Grobel, president of the proba-

Thieves Hit Patmon Olds

A new car, 12 car batteries and several radios and tapes, with a combined value of over $10,000, were taken from Patmon Oldsmobile, 15205 Jefferson Avenue, sometime early Monday morning, January 14. Police said the thieves gained entry through a rear window. There are no suspects in the incident.

At present, the department has two paid personnel. Mrs. O'Shea and a secretary. While hired for a part-time position, Mrs. O'Shea has worked full-time for over a year, for no additional pay. But the council felt that if the department had existed so far this fiscal year without the additional money, there was no sense in approving the full amount requested.

"I think if he, (Judge Pytell), wants the full shot he should be here in May at budget time," said Mrs. Waugaman. "I personally don't care what the other cities do." The motion to pro-rate the city's share was made by Councilman Jack Cudlip, who asked Judge Pytell whether the organization had accountants do its books. The judge answered affirmatively.

Man Charged In City B-E

An 18-year-old City man was charged with breaking and entering Saturday, January 10, after police found him hiding in the basement of a Neff road home, according to official reports. The man, Brian Lee Pearce of Neff road, is in the Wayne County Jail. His bond was set at $15,000.

Police were called to the home of Mrs. G. E. Essington, 77, in Neff road late Saturday evening when the woman said she heard noises in her basement. Police said they found Pearce hiding in the basement behind the furnace. He was charged with breaking and entering an occupied dwelling with intent to commit larceny. His examination will be held on Wednesday, January 23.

Scouts to Aid Woods Police

As part of its developing Crime Prevention Program, the Woods Department of Public Safety will be accelerating its home and business inspection effort later this month. The literature focuses upon the security survey and indicates it will take an officer around a half hour to inspect a home, apartment or business. If police find that a criminal could easily enter a building, officers will indicate where, for example, door moldings are weak, locks are faulty or where there are other security weaknesses.

It also invites citizens to call the department at 886-2700 if they wish such a security survey. Plans then call for a new target area to be isolated after about a month's time and emphasis upon the first area.

Pointes Preparing Block Grant Programs

The project has been funded with 1978 and 1979 Community Development Block Grants, (CDBG), of $99,000 each. Total project costs should exceed $275,000. The first of two public hearings this month to consider proposals for the 1980 CDBG allocation of $99,000 was held on Tuesday, January 15, (after press time), before the Park's Citizens Advisory Board. Earlier, City Manager John R. Crawford said the 1980 CDBG program, if approved, would be poured into the Kercheval project. "At this time, we are not recommending any new projects."

The Park Council will vote on the recommendations of the advisory board on Monday, January 28.

A Good "Shot"
Phase I of the Kercheval facelift, (Wayburn and Maryland road intersections), should be completed by this spring, Mr. Crawford said.

Bids on Phase II, (Lake-pointe road intersection), and Phase III, (Beaconsfield avenue intersection), also will be solicited this year.

Architect John Stevens is the man behind Kercheval's new look. He is creating a physical identity distinct from the battered businesses that line the street across Aller road in Detroit.

Some months ago, Kercheval itself was marked with rundown buildings, one of which was the former Dump Bar demolished last fall. The Old Coach Stop Lounge, 15115 Kercheval, is now the site of a new eatery, Sparky Herbert's, and according to owners Bob Mowbray and Darrell Finken, "business is very good."

Most businessmen on Kercheval agree that the Kercheval project has been "a shot in the arm" in the once decayed commercial strip.

Encouraged by activity in the area, seven new businesses opened up along Kercheval last year.

Topics on List
Some of those merchants have been doing a little renovating of their own, including Joseph's Car Care Center, Bernie Falk Health Studio and Art's Party Store, the first business on Kercheval to borrow money from the federally-funded 312 low-interest loan program for businessmen.

With several CDBG-funded housing improvement programs already underway in The City, its officials plan to switch courses this year and concentrate on capital improvement projects that may be funded with its $80,000 basic grant for 1980.

The proposals were discussed at a public hearing attended by three citizens Monday, January 14. The City Council will vote on them Monday, January 21.

On top of The City's project list is a new water main under St. Paul avenue from Cadieux to St. Clair. The $60,000 project will replace the old six-inch main with a 12-inch main, increasing pressure to homes, Bon Secours Hospital and the Village shopping area and improving fire protection, according to Lee Birmingham, administrative assistant.

Another $10,000 will be used to complete funding for a project approved last year — the widening of Notre Dame avenue between Kercheval and the alley north.

A $35,000 grant was received for the project in 1979, but that amount fell short of the total project price. The City hopes to complete the widening — and unsnarl the perpetual traffic jam at Notre Dame — sometime this summer.

Parking Lot Project
The remainder of the 1980 grant will be used for administration, according to Mr. Birmingham.

Three programs funded by earlier grants will continue in The City through 1980, including a housing revitalization grant program, home weatherization grant program and smoke alarm giveaway.

The community still has about $35,000 left for revitalization grants to low and moderate income residents. Funds for weatherization and smoke alarms also are available.

The Farms will hold a public hearing to gain citizen input into the 1980 CDBG program on Monday, January 21, during the city council meeting. City Clerk Richard Solak said the city expects to be allocated $99,000 in CDBG funds, the same amount as last year.

While a portion of that amount will likely be allocated to Seniors Onward for Change, Inc. (SOC), The Farms also hopes to gain some of the funds for the long-delayed parking lot project at the lower end of the On-the-Hill area.

A survey done for The Farms last year was successful in identifying a small area of The Farms that qualified for the CDBG funds. That area included Muir and Mapleton roads, the Hill area, Meadow lane and a block each of McKinley and Fisher roads.

Raises Concern
Those funds were used for street repair, water and sewer main work and improved street lighting.

The Woods Council on Monday, January 7, held the first of two hearings on the city's proposed CDBG program for 1980, with the objective of soliciting proposals for the year.

No citizens spoke on the program, while the council considered the recommendation of its CDBG Citizens Advisory Commission, offered at the group's Wednesday, December 19, meeting.

The commission recommended the following projects at a combined total of $120,000: A code attainment program for low and moderate income households in the neighborhood strategy area, $2,500; Seniors Onward for Change, Inc. (SOC), minor home repair program, $10,000; street improvements and repairs, $46,000; and commercial district improvements, $61,500.

Based upon a concern expressed by Councilman Thomas Fahrner on the latter, focusing on the looping of Hollywood and Ridge-mont in the commercial district which he said wasn't solved, the council unanimously referred the minutes back to the commission for potential correction at its Wednesday, January 16, meeting.

Meanwhile, the solons will again consider the proposed program on January 21 when the selection of projects will be presented to the public for its acceptance or rejection.

Break in Main Closes Mason

Mason Elementary students got an extra two days vacation last week when their school was closed because of a water main break that flooded the basement with more than two feet of water. School maintenance personnel worked for more than 20 hours to repair the fracture in a six-inch main directly underneath the 51-year-old building.

The process was slowed somewhat when workers discovered the valve controlling the flow of water to the school from the city had been sealed over in the most recent resurfacing of Vernier road. Workers had to chip the valve open to cut off the gush of water.

The leak was discovered at 7 a.m. Thursday, January 10 and school was closed Thursday and Friday.

Mason teachers were assigned to work as substitute teachers in other Grosse Pointe schools during the two-day period, Principal William Mestdagh said.

Some papers stored in the basement were damaged by the flood, but there was little structural damage to the building. The break was believed to be caused simply by "old age," Mr. Mestdagh said.

Mason students will not have to make up the missed days of school later this year. "They'll just have to work a little harder the next couple of weeks," Mr. Mestdagh said.

Calvary Sets Open House

Citizens who have wondered how a senior center operates will have a chance to find out during an open house next month.

Robs Woman Of Jewelry

A 77-year-old City woman lost $5,000 in jewelry to a pair of thieves who tricked her into letting them into her home last week.

The victim, whose name was not released, told police she discovered the jewels were missing shortly after a visit by two white females in their mid-30s with strong Italian accents on Wednesday, January 9.

The two women came to her door asking for a pencil and paper so they could leave a note on the door of a house down the street. They told the victim they were responding to a newspaper ad and hoped to find cleaning work at the house, but discovered no one was home.

The victim invited both women into her home and talked to them for about 20 minutes. One of the thieves then asked for a drink of water and they both followed her into the kitchen and asked that she run the water for a few minutes so it would be cold.

Sometime during their stay, one or both of the women apparently went to a back bedroom and pocketed several pieces of jewelry including a diamond pendant, opal brooch, ring and necklace set, an amethyst bracelet, gold Phi Beta Kappa key and several heavy gold chains and bracelets. The victim estimated their value at about $5,000.

The woman described one of the thieves as about 5'3" tall, 170 pounds, with a round face, brown hair and eyes. The other was described as about the same height, but frail looking.

The victim also told police she asked the women for their telephone number because she thought she might be able to give them some work. The women wouldn't give her their number, however.

GP Farms Urged to Move Forward on Cable TV Law

By David Kramer

Project plans for the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association's cable TV system could be delayed as the result of The Farms dragging its heels on approving a cable TV ordinance, association president John Rickel warned the Farms Council.

Appearing before the council Monday, January 7, to ask its approval of designation of the project area, a step in the bond issuance process, Mr. Rickel said that mapping of the system had been completed, and the cable company was "waiting on a day-by-day basis" for an ordinance from The Farms.

Speaking to city attorneys, Mr. Rickel chided them for what he felt was an unnecessary delay in the project plans.

"George Catlin, (Woods city attorney), put it rather succinctly when he said there are probably over 100 ordinances I've written for The Woods that could be challenged as unconstitutional, but at some point you have to move forward," he said.

But City Attorney Lawrence Campbell said the questions being researched by city attorneys weren't minor ones, while adding, "We're pushing to do what we can."

Some of those questions are in regards to the fee schedule, noted City Attorney Kathleen Lewis, an area Mr.

Rickel said was particularly subject to modification by the other cities.

Several councilmen, including Mayor James Dingeman, instructed the city attorneys to speed up the process if possible.

Mr. Rickel said later that The Farms' inaction on the ordinance was a handicap to the project, but that that city, on the other hand, was the first to approve the project area designation, which, in effect, is approval of the bond issue.

The Park at its Monday, January 7, meeting tabled an identical resolution for 30 days, as several council members there felt they needed more time to study the issue.

Because of the possibility The Farms may include some unforeseen conditions in its version of the ordinance, construction cannot begin prior to that approval, Mr. Rickel said. While Teleprompter Corp., the technical manager, was hoping to begin construction in mid-March, that date may have to be pushed back as a result.

He said the first "turn-on" should come in mid-summer, with about 15 turn-ons comprising the entire system. By Christmas 1980, 90 percent of the system should be complete according to current timetables.

Financing for the $5 million project is by industrial revenue bonds issued through the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation. The cities' full faith and credit do not back the bonds. Teleprompter will advance 25 percent of the funds needed to start the system.

FLEC Views Family Life

The public is invited to attend a series of lectures and workshops for improving the quality of family life presented by the Family Life Education Council, (FLEC).

All the forums will be held on Monday evenings at Saint Paul Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop road, at 7:30 p.m.

The series will feature three speakers from the Detroit area.

Dr. William Jones, assistant professor of the School of Human and Educational Services of Oakland University, will begin the series on Monday, January 21. Dr. Jones will speak on the subject of grief and loss in one's life. He is a consultant for Grosse Pointe Hospital, and is both Wayne County and the Michigan Department of Public Health on sudden infant death syndrome.

The second speaker in the forum series will be Mrs. Joan Halter, president of Organizational Consultants, Inc., who will speak on "Getting Organized - Making Every Day Count," on Monday, February 18.

A group of three workshops will be given by Sean Hogan, ACSW, on Mondays, March 10, 17 and 24 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. She will speak on the subject of being single.

Further information on any of these programs may be obtained by calling the FLEC office at 885-3510. A $1 donation at the door would be appreciated, officials add.

GP Police Aid In R/A Arrest

Four detectives from two Pointe police departments helped in the apprehension of a man and his accomplice believed responsible for the robbery armed, (R/A), and shooting at a Farmer Jack's store located in Harper avenue, Harper Woods.

In the incident which occurred Thursday afternoon, January 10, the men, after shooting a cashier in the buttocks, escaped with about $1,300 from the store, fled in a car west on Harper and entered a bar located at Lakepointe and Harper.

An estimated 40 police officers from Detroit, Harper Woods and the Pointes then converged and surrounded the bar and arrested the holdup man and his accomplice.

The wounded woman was treated at Saint John Hospital and released several hours later.

Aiding in the arrest from The Farms were Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem and Det. Earl Field, who were patrolling at the time they heard the call. Det. Thomas Podewitz and Det. Stephen Petrik also responded.

Recovered in the apprehension were a .38 cal. revolver and the car used in the holdup.

Wine Lines
 By John Lundberg

Wine has been with us for centuries, but no one is quite sure how long corkscrews have been around. The earliest patented English corkscrew was made in 1795, but enthusiasts are quite sure that they appeared quite a bit earlier, in Germany in 1680, for example. Some students of the subject theorize that corkscrews were copied from wad hooks which were used to pull the wadding from a muzzle-loading cannon after it misfired. That would be quite a heritage for the instrument that opens the wonders of fine wine to us.

Another wonderful instrument for opening the world onto fine and distinctive beverages is PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit. Come through our portals and enter upon the world which features the nectar of the gods. Come in and discover an array of tastes that will tantalize your imagination. Don't delay another day. Today is the day that you can gaze upon a whole world of ecstasy. Stop in now. Open 10-10 Mon.-Thurs., 10-11 Fri. & Sat., noon-10 Sun. Tel. 885-0626.

WINE WISDOM:
 If the cork crumbles while being extracted, pour the wine through a screen.

Final Denouement Still Pending in Wayburn Case

By Joanne N. Gouleche

It could take at least a year or more before the home owners in Wayburn road will know if they are residents of The Park or Detroit. Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Roland L. Olzark denied Detroit's request for a new trial in the Wayburn boundary dispute last week. But Detroit attorney Carl Rashid Jr. said he will appeal the judge's decision.

In an eight-page decision last November, Judge Olzark stated that the 450 home owners in Wayburn and part of Barrington road are residents of The Park, ruling that the boundary line between the two municipalities is determined by measuring 200 feet east of the center line of Alter road and not 200 feet east of the easterly side of Alter, as it has been for a number of years.

The judge further ruled that the true boundary line became established when the Village of Grosse Pointe Park was incorporated in 1907, which puts the boundary line 200 feet east of the center line and all the homes in The Park.

Attorneys for The Park have argued that the legislature made it clear in 1907 that the boundary line is 200 feet east of the center line and that the legislature has full authority to establish such municipal boundaries.

But attorneys for Detroit have argued, too, that subsequent acts put the boundary line back to 200 feet east of the easterly side of Alter.

Earlier this month, the residents filed a class action suit in circuit court seeking refund of income taxes paid to Detroit over a 70-year period. Their protest to the Michigan Tax Tribunal in 1972 proved futile after the agency ruled that it does not have jurisdiction over boundary matters.

The lengthy appeal process will mean more headaches for the residents if a crime is committed in their homes. As it now stands, if a burglar enters a Wayburn home from the rear, Detroit officers respond, but if he enters through the front door, it's The Park's venue.

Residents also will be faced with voting in either city and sending their children to schools in either system.

Meanwhile, both Detroit and The Park will have to wait it out to see which of the two cities will add substantial dollars to its tax base.

Small Bomb Found at NH

A small, suspected bomb, which was found in a hallway at North High School last month, turned out to be an active device which malfunctioned according to a report given Woods police by the Michigan State Police Crime Lab in Madison Heights.

Woods Youth Officer Patrick DeVine said the crime lab reported that the device was a small time bomb which failed to go off. "There was a danger of it going off as the clock was set for it to activate, but it malfunctioned," he stated.

Found inside the black tape of the bomb was 46 one and a half-inch firecrackers on a common fuse wrapped in a high resistance wire. There was an electric explosive device containing a battery, a clock and a portion of a Pepsi can.

While the device probably wouldn't have caused any injuries or structural damage if it exploded on the floor, it could have seriously hurt a person's hand if it went off while being held, noted Officer DeVine.

And, as it turned out, it was originally handled by some three or four people.

North High Principal G. Bruce Feighner said it was found on December 13 in a corridor, with the device being delivered to him by one of the visiting teachers. "Three or four people handled it. We felt it was a hoax because of its amateurish construction," he pointed out.

Several of the firecrackers were visible and Mr. Feighner said he ultimately placed it outside the building and notified police.

He added this was the first time in his administrative experience covering some 23 years that such an incident has occurred.

Officer DeVine suggested to the administration that if any similar device is found in the future that no one should tamper with it.

In this case, he stressed that the incident is still under investigation and that an excellent set of fingerprints were discovered inside the device.

Inconsistency
A survey of 2,284 American youths, ages 14 to 25, revealed 90 percent agreed cigaret smoking is one of the causes of lung cancer, yet 35 percent admitted smoking daily. Ninety percent also agreed exercising is beneficial, but only 73 percent exercised regularly.

GP Chorus Seeks New Members

The Grosse Pointe Community Chorus invites anyone over 18 who can carry a tune, and is genuinely interested in singing with a congenial mixed choral group, to attend its first rehearsal and sign-up on Tuesday, January 22.

It will be held in Parcels School, 20600 Mack avenue, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 127.

Registration fee is $7 for individuals, and $13 for couples. No auditions are required, and members need not be Pointe residents.

Rehearsals are held each Tuesday evening in Parcels at 8 p.m. and registrations will close after the third rehearsal on Tuesday, February 5. There is a particular need for male voices.

The chorus is under the direction of Richard B. Johns, with Frances Wilson as accompanist. It is a self-supporting, non-profit organization of men and women desiring to participate in choral singing, and is co-sponsored by the Department of Community Services and the Board of Education. Further information may be obtained by calling 886-0710.

HOMICIDES UP IN BRITAIN

Crimes of homicide in Britain jumped 21 percent in 1978 over the previous year. Absence of capital punishment, which the country abolished 14 years ago, was blamed by many for the large increase. Periodic efforts to restore hangings, even for the most heinous crimes, have failed in parliament by large margins.

SOC Resumes Minor Home Repair Plan

(Continued from Page 1) terian Church officials have requested that SOC move its headquarters in the building by March 31.

"We're in the process of investigating the possibility for further locations and we're also trying to obtain some office furniture and equipment," she said.

At the same time, new members are being added to SOC's current 21-member board of directors and committees are being formed.

For the 1980 calendar year, SOC's total budget reaches $108,526, with the various communities holding five percent for their own administrative costs. The figure minus such administrative costs is $103,100.

Of this amount, $78,000 comes from Community Development Block Grant, (CDBG), special needs monies via the following allocations: $26,500 requested by The Woods in behalf of itself, The Farms and Shores; $26,500 from Harper Woods; and $25,000 from The City.

Remaining funds come from the following communities' CDBG program: $10,000 from The Woods, $8,526 from The Farms, $6,000 from Harper Woods and $6,000 from The City via a previous funding transfer.

Line Up Orders
With the funding squared away and the hiring of Mrs. Fitzsimons, SOC officials are ready for the full resumption of the program.

"We are trying to get our back orders, (numbering around 200), and new orders lined up," with an emphasis upon inside work, said Mrs. Fitzsimons, who's responsible for work scheduling and bookkeeping, (including the preparation of reports to participating municipalities on a monthly basis).

Officially joining SOC last month, she was selected from a half dozen applicants for the post based upon her interest, ability and experience, including being an office manager for architectural and engineering firms.

SOC currently has around six, semi-retired field men, who are paid on an hourly basis, to do the minor home repair work which includes such tasks as repairing leaky faucets, electrical switches, lamp cords, stopped up sinks and plastering work.

Both Mrs. TeWalt and Mrs. Fitzsimons stress the importance of the men having some empathy with the citizens they serve, while pointing out the difficulty many seniors, who own their homes, have in keeping them up.

In one instance, one citizen, they discovered, was unable to change a light bulb because of a painful case of arthritis.

Views Procedure
The SOC office is open for calls at 884-2790 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mrs. Fitzsimons said the procedure when a citizen calls in a need includes the filling out of an intake card.

The citizen's name, age, telephone number and income, (which is confidential), will be taken, along with the specific problem which needs work. Officials will then pinpoint whether the citizen meets low to moderate income requirements under CDBG guidelines.

Low income for one person is placed at $8,950, while for a moderate income it's $11,000. For a family of two, the figures are $7,950 and $13,300, respectively, while for a family of three, they are $8,950 and $14,350, respectively.

(The poverty level, according to Department of Housing and Urban Development figures is $3,400 for one person, $4,500 for a family of two and $5,600 for a family of three.)

If the citizen is qualified, officials will explain what can be done and what can't be done, with the emphasis being upon minor home maintenance.

A work order will ultimately be completed, the field man will do the job and fill in the time he arrives and completes the repairs, and then the client signs the order, confirming that the job has been done.

Pursue Assessment
As the program has continued, and developed, officials remain ever aware of the wide range of needs seniors in the community have, with the minor home repair program being only a key first step toward attacking them.

One of the organization's many objectives is to discover how deep the areas of need are. A main part of this effort is the needs assessment effort being conducted by Terry Treiber and Sue Kinaird, members of SOC's board of directors and program committee.

Last November, an estimated 40 representatives of various community organizations participated in a "brainstorming" session on assessing the needs of seniors in a program coordinated by SOC.

As the assessment continues, a further meeting will be held sometime next month to explore the results of a questionnaire, said Mrs. TeWalt.

At the November meeting, participants were asked to help in two other ways. One was to complete a "Development of Resources" form which asks the organization representative to list such resources to which seniors are referred, while also listing services required for which no resources for help are known.

Need Volunteers
Representatives also were requested to fill out a sheet on their own organization. This includes the services it offers seniors, any requirements, other pertinent details and if it takes referrals.

In conjunction with this effort, Elaine F. Reed, SOC program developer, is continuing her needs assessment survey in the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods area via a grant from the Wayne County Office on Aging.

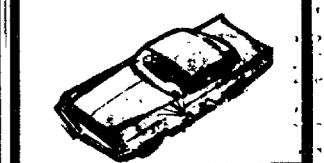

In relation to this overall effort, Mrs. TeWalt pointed out that SOC is pursuing and even expanding upon the discovery of needs facing seniors which were initially uncovered at The Pointe's Food and Nutrition Program site by former co-directors Diane Heavener and Mary Aley.

With the minor home repair program in full swing again, office volunteers are needed to help out Mrs. Fitzsimons and Helen Francis with the variety of responsibilities. Citizens should call the SOC number if they would like to participate.

Time may be a great healer, but it's up to you to help out.

GPW to View Proposed Code

A proposed property maintenance code for The Woods will be considered for a first reading by the council at its regular meeting Monday, January 21.

It was last considered by the Planning Commission in November at which time the commissioners unanimously voted to send it back to the council and administration for implementation.

At that time, the commission also recommended a proposed amendment which says if another inspection of a structure is necessary, an additional sum of 50 percent of the original inspection fee will be charged.

The council set the first reading date of the proposal at its regular meeting Monday, January 7.

Over 11 1/2% yield on your money... from a Government-Guaranteed Security. And the income is paid monthly.

Not just for 6 months, but year after year after year
For safety and high income... paid monthly... it's difficult to match GNMA Mortgage-Backed Certificates. They bear a U.S. Government guarantee on "the timely payment of both principal and interest." Since many GNMA's are now selling at discount from the original issue price, the face amount interest (varying upwards from 6%) actually yields over 11% for current investors.*

What are GNMA Certificates?

GNMA stands for Government National Mortgage Association, a part of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The money raised by the sale of these GNMA Guaranteed Certificates is used to finance mortgages. GNMA guarantees timely payment of both principal and interest on these Mortgage-Backed Certificates, and its guarantee is backed by the full faith and credit of the government of the United States of America.

When you buy a Certificate, sold by Kidder, Peabody in units of $25,000, you purchase a share of a pool of insured FHA or VA mortgages. Each certificate issued against the specific "pool" is GNMA guaranteed. You enjoy a number of advantages which were designed initially to attract money from pension funds and other institutional investors into residential and health-care facility mortgages. But if you're a substantial individual investor, you also can obtain all the benefits for your own personal "pension fund."

Advantages of GNMA Certificates

- They currently yield over 11% compared to an approximate 10% on comparable maturing U.S. Government Bonds.
- Principal and interest, and their timely payment, are guaranteed by the U.S. Government.
- Interest and principal come in convenient monthly payments... ideal for wealthy retired people or those interested in current income with a high degree of safety.
- There are none of the traditional and often necessary burdens of ordinary mortgage investment... no legal expenses, no administrative work, and no worry about late payments.
- GNMA Certificates can be turned into cash more readily than ordinary mortgages.
- No interest penalty is charged if Certificates are sold prior to maturity.
- Attractive investment for large and small corporations with excess cash.

ES, Ill.—The story of a small fortune, lost because a housewife had no other glass plate was a collector's item, recently sold to a neighbor.

In a letter to J. R. MacArthur, chairman of the Bradford Exchange, the largest trading center in collector's plates, a Madison, Wis., woman wrote: "I had a Lalique glass plate... which I sold to a friend for $40. I had heard of you at that time."

The plate she sold is usually valued at more than $1,800. Although Arthur points out that the price is exceptionally high, he said, "I'm afraid you may be losing hundreds or thousands of dollars by not knowing what your plates are worth."

To aid in identifying valuable plates, the change issues a report that includes current prices on more than 900 plates, guidelines on what to look for and when to buy, and the plate evaluation checklist used by the exchange.

Cottage Gets X-Ray System

The radiology department at Cottage Hospital has recently converted to a new system for diagnostic x-rays which require shorter exposure times, thereby reducing radiation exposure for patients and staff of up to 60 percent.

Dr. David H. Barker, chief of staff and chief radiologist, said Cottage is the only hospital in the northeastern area of metropolitan Detroit to offer this new system, which was developed by the Eastman Kodak Company. He also pointed out that shorter exposure times allow for higher quality and better diagnostic x-rays.

Ann Burns, chief radiologic technologist, said the Kodak Lanex screens contain phosphor compounds based on "rare earth" elements that absorb and convert x-rays to light more efficiently than methods previously used. She noted that those who work with x-rays also are exposed to less radiation with one study indicating as much as a 62 percent reduction.

Protection of the staff and patients at Cottage Hospital has always been carefully controlled and monitored to maintain minimum radiation levels, hospital officials note.

Folk tales and modern tales — a program of scenes and studies by children ages eight to 13, will be offered on Friday, January 25, at Trombly School, 820 Beaconsfield avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

Dramatics for Children, which meets on Saturday mornings at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, will stage its winter recital for families and friends.

For 12 weeks, under the guidance of Nona Blum, assisted by Alice Snyder, the young people have been working on dramatic arts, from speech to mime and from improvisation to recitation.

The first semester is coming to a close for South High students and with its completion comes traditional final examinations in one-semester classes and a different schedule of classes to accommodate the exams.

Exams are scheduled for Wednesday, January 23, and Thursday, January 24. Only three classes will be held each day, but for 90 minutes each. Second, fourth and sixth hours will be held on Wednesday, and first, third and fifth hours will be on Thursday. Classes will begin at 8:35 a.m. and run until 2:05 p.m.

Absences on the day of a final examination are excused only if there is a phone call from a parent. Students may make up their examinations within two weeks after the end of the semester, (February 8), if the absence is excused.
There will be no classes for students on Friday, January 25, to provide teachers with a record day to complete their paper work.

Tavern License Hearing Jan. 23

Family Restaurant), and Joseph Parente.
While the owners of Le Cafe and Da Edoardo were the only ones to meet the deadline, officials said Mr. Parente wrote and requested that a C or tavern license be held in escrow until a location was obtained.

At the hearing, representatives from Le Cafe and Da Edoardo will be given, according to previous guidelines, 15 minutes to speak. Afterward, the council will deliberate on the matter.

Conduct Drive
The referendary question was placed on the ballot after the successful initiatory petition drive of Mr. Moraco and Mr. Serba, who both have stressed the need of being able to serve a glass of wine with their specially prepared French cuisine to avoid closing their establishment because of a diminishing dinner business over many months.

"Absolute and total frustration" is the way Mr. Moraco had earlier described his situation, while also saying that it had come down to this—"Either the community wants us or it doesn't."

Meanwhile, Mr. Barbieri and Edward Jr. also have emphasized the need to be able to serve a glass of wine with their meals. In fact, they decided to close their establishment on Monday, December 31, because they felt they could no longer stay in business without a tavern license.

Besides their strong feelings that they need a tavern license, the owners of both restaurants also stand on a common ground in other areas, including declining any interest in serving hard liquor.

Another was a combined initiatory petition drive effort on their parts for the issuance of two tavern licenses. This ended in defeat last March when citizens, at a special election, voted down the question.

Caused Great Concern
Both restaurants also were subjects of Woods Department of Public Safety investigations, (Le Cafe last spring and Da Edoardo last November), for allegedly serving wine, at an unlicensed establishment in violation of the state Liquor Control Act and Rules.

In each case, a warrant request was denied by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office, with the respective owners being warned to cease such a practice, to which they agreed.

The investigations, the owners have indicated, have caused them great concern, adding to the overall aura of frustration, while affecting their businesses.

Meanwhile, the application guidelines and criteria requirements which must be met are varied.

Guidelines must include the location of the establishment, zoning district, legal description and layout of the plat, including proposed parking facilities; evidence of financial responsibility; personal and previous business references; and type of restaurant, seating capacity.

Criteria which the council will consider includes a recommendation from the Department of Public Safety; a recommendation from Building Inspector Earl Wakely based upon several areas; the financial responsibility of the applicant; and the character of the establishment to be licensed, (the sale of beer or wine, in this instance, must be in connection with and incidental to a bona fide restaurant operation offering a full and complete food menu).

Bleak Outlook
Over the past several months, both the owners and city officials have expressed an interest in the status of Senate Bill 370, which remains in the House Liquor Control Committee. In fact, the council supported the legislation via a resolution last September.

The bill focuses upon the authorization of special tavern licenses to be issued by the Liquor Control Commission, (LCC), to commercial establishments without regard to population quantities.

It provides that such licenses would be non-transferable and could be authorized only by establishments having at least 75 percent of their sales derived from the sale of foods or goods other than alcoholic beverages.

In its resolution, the council also stipulated that the issuance of special tavern licenses would be subject to local governmental approval.

Councilman Dan Grady, who has played a role in the legislation's development, felt such a bill would be suited not only to The Woods but to other communities as well.

But, with some gloom, he indicated last week that the special interests of liquor service individuals will probably prevail and such provisions will not become a reality.

State Rep. William Bryant also confirmed that hopes for such provisions appear dim, indicating efforts are underway to remove the special license provisions. He added, at this time, he had no idea when the bill will come out of committee.

Opinions Sought
City Attorney George Catlin, meanwhile, was asked earlier by the council to prepare opinions on the subject of tavern licenses prior to the special hearing.

On the question, "Can a tavern license be upgraded to a Class C license?", he said it cannot without the approval of the council, with the solons not being able to approve such without the ordinance being amended.

The other question is if a tavern license is granted, could the owners of an establishment increase its size without the permission of the council and/or the LCC? On this, Mr. Catlin said the owners would have to apply to the LCC for such permission, with the city having no veto power.

Arson Cause Of Simon Fire

After an extensive investigation, the State Fire Marshal's office confirmed last week that arson was the cause of a fire that destroyed the Simon family garage in Mack avenue last December. Sgt. Werner Cyrax of the State Police division concluded the blaze was arson after several on-site inspections and laboratory tests of samples of dirt, gravel and burned debris.

The structure, an old barn converted to a garage, was completely flattened by the fire, reported anonymously at about 2:10 a.m. on December 8.

There was no insurance on the barn or its contents, according to Robert Birch, attorney for the Simon family. The City called for a third-party investigation of the fire by the state because it is currently involved in litigation with the owners in Wayne County Circuit Court.

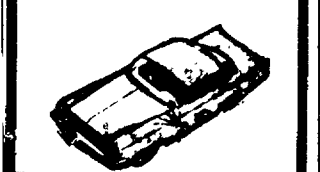

The garage was condemned last summer by the City Council after repeated complaints about its dilapidated condition from neighbors. However, its owner, Florence Simon, won a temporary restraining order stopping demolition in circuit court.

The 50' by 25' structure was completely demolished in the blaze but no one was injured.

City police questioned and released one suspect in the case and plan to continue their investigation.

proved Monday, January 7. The council agreed to support "the creation of a district court... to be known as the Grosse Pointe Woods District Court"

One possibility, he said, would be formation of two districts, one called Grosse Pointe including The City, Farms and Park, and the other called the Grosse Pointe Woods District.

Cinema League Views Baroque

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "In Search of The Baroque," a dual-projector color slide presentation by Mary Ellen Tappan, on Monday, January 21, in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m.

"In Search of The Baroque" will take the audience on an automobile tour of one of the most picturesque parts of Europe. Beginning in Munich, the camera explores Mad Ludwig's palaces of Nymphenburg and Linderhof and the by-ways of the Bavarian Alps and Austrian Tyrol to baroque abbeys and hidden alpine villages.

KELLEY PROMOTED Kevin Kelley, formerly of McMillan road, was recently promoted to assistant marketing director at The Village at Smugglers' Notch, a year round resort in Jeffersonville, Vt.

discussed with representatives of all the cities this month, Sen. Kelly said. The Woods Council, which in the past has come out strongly against a district court system, changed its position after hearing a report from municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis on the 7th.

"Grosse Pointe had better make up its mind or the legislature will make up our mind," the judge said. Based upon the discussion, Councilman Frederick Lovelace moved that City Attorney George Catlin draft a resolution indicating the council's support of the conversion outlined by Judge Denis.

Another Councilman Robert B. Novitke expressed concern over control of the court and asked who carried the decision-making weight. Mr. Levitt replied that local councils would have to meet and work out a system of court administration.

Mr. Grady amended his motion to allow for the inclusion of The Shores under a cost-sharing agreement, but continued to stress the need to have the new court serve Woods citizens.

He also said the court should be named for the city to maintain community identity. His motion was unanimously approved by the council.

The other four Pointe councils have expressed strong concern about the cost of converting from the municipal to district court system.

Deadlines Set For Vaccines

By Bridget Janson Time is running out for students at South High who don't have their immunization forms completed.

Immunization requirements were sent to all parents in October and about 80 percent of the forms are either outdated or have not been returned to the school at all.

All dated records of immunizations must be on file with the school nurse no later than March 3, 1980. If the requirements have not been met, students will be excluded from school.

Students may, of course, have the boosters given by their private physician. If this is not practical, the Wayne County Board of Health will provide this service at South on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 29 and 30, with parental consent.

Senior Seminar Starts New Year

The public schools' Seminar for Seniors will continue into the new year with five Friday sessions in February, all held in the Exhibition Room of the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue, at 1 p.m.

On February 1, Ed Kiska will talk about Appreciating the Value and Beauty of Gemstones. Adelaide Wilson will explore an Adventure in Parapsychology on February 6, followed by an illustrated lecture on Art History by June Nelson on February 15.

Personal Estate Planning will be Robert Thrie's topic February 22, followed on February 29 by A New Hobby for You: Quilting, by Candy DeMaggio. Eugene Davis will discuss Bargeello Needlepoint also at the February 29 meeting.

Kitchen Grease Blamed in Park Fire

A large pan of grease left unattended on a stove completely destroyed the kitchen and caused extensive heat and smoke damage to a Park home Sunday afternoon, January 13.

David J. Gonda and his family of 1215 Nottingham road were sitting down to Sunday dinner when his wife realized that she had forgotten to turn off the stove.

But when Mr. Gonda went into the kitchen, the grease had already turned into vapor, bursting into flames.

When firefighters arrived at the three-alarm blaze, flames had reached the second floor of the house. The City and The Farms aided in putting out the fire while The Shores and The Woods stood on standby alert.

No injuries were reported during the blaze. Dollar damage to the Nottingham home was not available.

Fire Chief Phillip M. Costa said a disconnected smoke detector was found on the second floor.

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Farms MICHIGAN Notice of Hearing Zoning Board of Appeals

Notice is hereby given that the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the City Hall, 90 Kerby Road, Grosse Pointe Farms on MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1980

at 8:00 P.M. to hear the appeal of Mr. Peter Bologna of 81 Investment Company, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of an office building located on the premises at 131 Kercheval and further extending along the northwesterly boundary of such property and along the right-of-way of Kercheval Avenue to the Muir Road right-of-way. Such Permit issuance was denied for reason that:

Under the provisions of Section 1504, Item 9, the Board may grant exceptions to off street parking requirements where it determines after a hearing that the requirements are excessive or unduly burdensome for any of several reasons specified, including that publicly owned parking facilities are available reasonably nearby.

The Hearing will be public. Interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

Highlights at North High School

Spikers Hopeful

By Wright Wilson
There are team sports, and there are individual sports. The one perhaps most demanding of teamwork is volleyball. Luckily, coach Ann Anderson identifies teamwork as one of the strong points of the volleyball teams at North High.

Coach Anderson returns for her third year of directing the varsity squad. She competed for North High for two years when the school organized a team and, although she did not compete on the team in college at Michigan State, she is still an active player.

Ann also cites the leadership of the co-captains, seniors Jenny Naz and Maureen Toomey. Both captains are returning letter-winners along with Jamie Mackintosh and Nancy Olen. Seniors Cheryl Boyle and Sue Mezger also performed on the varsity last year.

Sue Bergeron, Judy Cherry, Karen McDonald and Lynn Rice saw JV action last year, while Teressa Mazzei and Peggy Cadieux are new to the team.

The team begins its Bi-County League schedule Monday evening, January 21, with a match at L'Anse Creuse. "How we fare in the league this season depends on how we progress during these non-league matches at the beginning of the year," commented coach Anderson.

So far, three non-league matches have taken place, and the mark is set at 1-2 for the varsity.

First off, North dropped its season opener to Washington Eisenhower. The scores were 15-7 and 15-9. North's initial victory of the year came in three games versus East Detroit. After losing the first, 15-6, Bergeron served North to a 5-0 lead in the second game and a 15-10 decision for North. Cadieux helped with three spikes. North secured the win by taking the final game, 15-5. Olen's serves gave North a 4-0 lead, and North had the last nine points. Toomey accounted for seven points in this game by serving.

More recently, North was defeated in two games by cross-town rival South High. In an exciting match, the final totals were 15-7 and 15-11.

North also has a JV volleyball team. The spirited group is directed by coach Mette Morck. They currently stand 0-3 after meeting the JV teams from Eisenhower, East Detroit and South.

with 10 points.

Individual scoring over the first six games has been pretty equal. Coach Burns commends Scott DeClaire and Bob Wujek as his defensive stars, and Bill McEnroe for his high amount of assists.

Remaining members of the team include Jim Arthur, Dave Babcock, Steve Ciarravino, Ray Francis, Ken Kerby, Greg Labadie, John Menzo, Jim Mestdaugh, Mirko Mikelic, Rich Pelt and Ken Sanders.

Coach Burns added, "I also hope to see many of these boys playing at the varsity level in a few years."

Wrestlers Do Well

Many honors have come lately for the North wrestling teams, who have recently participated in record breaking dual meets and a tough invitational.

On Thursday, January 10, the Norsemen totally dominated Lakeview at both the varsity and JV levels. The varsity team set a new scoring record in a 64-9 romp, while the JVs crushed Lakeview, 38-3.

Frosh Cagers 3-3

Prep stars of the future? Only time will tell for the 15 members of the freshman basketball team at North. After being selected from tryouts by coach Scott Burns, the team has a bright future in store.

This is the first season of coaching the frosh for Burns. He also piloted the girls varsity basketball team this past fall at North.

He stresses that the team goal is to "try and play as well as we can every time we go out on the floor."

Burns added, "We're coming along real good — we're starting to improve, and now we're playing with more intensity and enthusiasm."

After six contests, their record stands at an even 3-3. North won its first two contests over South Lake, 44-17, and L'Anse Creuse, 50-44. However, the team dropped its next three to Fraser Richards, Lakeview and Notre Dame, although the greatest margin was by eight points.

In action Friday, January 11, North evened its mark with a 58-47 win over Lakeshore Rogers. Mark Davey led a balanced scoring attack

South had two more events in which they won the top three places. In the 100 back Jeff Colton won with a time of 59.6. He was followed by Andy Scott and Mark Mulier.

The 100 breast event was ruled by South as Hiles headed the wins with a time of 1:09.4, followed by Mike Bartoszewicz and Brad Swegles.

Frosh Get First

By John Schultz
South's freshman basketball team won its first game of the season Friday, January 11, as it beat Grant Junior High, 68-43.
The Blue Devils dominated every phase of the game in the first half, as Phil Agby's five points helped South open up a 17-6 first quarter lead. Pat Schulte, Marty Montagne and Agby controlled the rebounding. Dave Millar scored all of his eight points in the second period as the frosh widened the margin to 37-14 at the half.

Grant used a fast break in the third period as it outscored South 18-4 and pulled to within four early in the final period. But South slowed the pace down with a deliberate offense and Bill Rathsburg netted four field goals in the final five minutes as South won it going away.

Rathsburg and Agby led the scoring with 12 and 11 points, respectively. Millar was good for eight and Montagne and Chris Crutish finished with five points apiece.

Earlier in the week, the Blue Devils traveled to Guest Junior High and suffered a 51-32 setback.

The situation looked dim from the start as they fell behind 25-12 at halftime and never made a serious comeback attempt.

Rich Moellering led South with seven points. Rathsburg and Crutish rebounded well, netting six and five points, respectively.

Coming off the bench to score in both games were Paul Rentz, Scott Thistlethwaite, Joe Schultz, Millar and Schulte.

South's record now stands at 1-4. Missed free throws have contributed greatly to the team's losing record. The Blue Devils have connected on just over 40 percent, (31 of 73).

Wrestlers Busy

By Tim O'Neill
Last week was particularly busy for the South wrestlers. The Blue Devils took two tough losses earlier in the week, and then pulled themselves together for a big tournament on Saturday, January 12.

In the match against Port Huron Northern on Tuesday, January 8 the Blue Devils lost, 51-15. Although they lost, they received strong performances from Tim Keenan and Joe Srebernak, who both pinned their opponents.

South also got a big win from Greg Lapinski. In their match Thursday, January 10, the Blue Devils fell to the highly ranked Mount Clemens team, 47-15. Once again South received a strong performance from Lapinski, who pinned his opponent in one minute and 50 seconds.

The Mount Clemens team was highly favored, and South coach Kevin Sommers said he was "just looking for good individual performances."

Then on the 12th, the Blue Devils headed out to Lake Shore High School for the Shorian Tournament. There were six teams present, and members from the various teams were entered into competition according to their weight class.

Making it into the consolation finals for South was Srebernak, who wrestled the maximum of four matches in one day. For South, Dave Balcirak pinned two of his opponents on his way to a second place finish in the 105-pound weight class of the junior varsity level.

South also claimed a first place in the 145-pound class of the junior varsity level, where Peter Grifo took the honors.

The Blue Devils were scheduled to wrestle at North High early this week and take on Stevenson tomorrow.

South's record now stands at 1-4. Missed free throws have contributed greatly to the team's losing record. The Blue Devils have connected on just over 40 percent, (31 of 73).

Cage Streak Ends

By Tom Kisskalt
South's varsity cagers' winning streak came to an end Friday, January 11, as the Bathers from Mount Clemens invaded Blue Devil territory and came away with a 63-56 victory. John DeBoer's outstanding playmaking wasn't enough as the Bathers won their second game of the season.

South's defeat ended a three-game winning streak. The Blue Devils now post a 4-4 overall record and are 2-2 in the Eastern Michigan League.

The Blue Devils will play Roseville Friday, January 18, and East Detroit on Tuesday, January 22. Both games are away and start at 8 p.m.

Gymnasts Win 1st

By Anne Modak
South's girls gymnastics team won its first meet Wednesday, January 9, when it defeated Berkeley High, 68.25-54.31.

The girls expect a good year of competition as Marcie Semerad placed first in both the balance beam and floor exercise. Ann Vismara took first in parallel bars as South took three of the four events.

champion of his weight class, and John Spillan, Coury and Giard, who placed third in their classes. Others taking honors were John Karamanos and Bruce Hutcheon, each finishing fourth.

Six of North's JV wrestlers finished in the top three of their respective divisions, leading North to a fine second-place total. Umbarger was the champion in his JV class. North also chalked up three seconds and two thirds via Matt Simon, Jim Seagram and Cramer, and Gene Ingrao and John Marlow.

Particularly helpful in the running of this tournament were the North Wrestling Statisticians. The girls did the scoring, timing and statistical work for the 28 teams present. All of the teams, especially hosting school Lakeshore, expressed their sincere thanks.

Cagers Drop Pair

North's varsity basketball team enjoyed first place in the Bi-County League for one week, but South Lake knocked them down the ladder with an upset Friday, January 11.

Before the South Lake contest, North was undefeated, (3-0), in the Bi-County, but was offset by four losses in their non-league contests. Friday's result sets their current mark at 3-5.

Eleven Norsemen scored when North beat L'Anse Creuse, 62-34. Mark Sanders' 10 rebounds helped North gain a 42-30 edge in that department, one of the keys to the outcome. Dan McEnroe played an excellent defensive game.

Leading scorers in the L'Anse Creuse game were Bob Brown, netting 18 points, and Jim Davey with 15. Game honors went to the Lancers' Rick Holcomb with 20.

North was not so lucky in their non-league contest at Notre Dame. The Fighting Irish scored the first 14 points and coasted to a 72-52 decision. Both teams gained many points from foul shots as the officials called a tight game.

In Friday's action, South Lake used its effective four-corner offense to post a 46-40 victory over North. The Cavs posted 12 straight points at the end of the first half, and outscored North in the third quarter.

North threatened in the final period and tied the score at 38, but couldn't capitalize in their final scoring chances. Davey scored 15 points for the Norsemen.

The Norsemen JV squad is only 2-6 this season, but upped its Bi-County mark to 2-2 with a victory over South Lake on Friday. Craig Stafford had 18 points and paced North to a 51-33 win.

SH Students Pass The Hat for CARE in Cambodia

Without many of the basic necessities of life, the starving citizens of Cambodia are desperate for outside assistance. Although they probably aren't even aware of the efforts South High students are making thousands of miles away, the drive to raise cash here will help feed and house hundreds of their unfortunates.

The CARE Cambodia drive at South High raised over $2,200 through many activities, the most productive of which was a general, pass-the-hat collection.

The results had a special meaning to students in Carl Justice's and Susan Reames' homeroom classes. The students shelled out donations every day in close competition with other classes and Mr. Justice's room won the battle in the last day.

The first day, one class collected over $20, the other a mere $2. By the end of the two-weeks, almost $900 was collected between the two classes alone.

Mr. Justice's class collected $442, just $21 more than Mrs. Reames' class.

Although the battle ended, much of the excitement still lives in South's halls. In Mr. Justice's class Gail Pollack gave over $50 while another student, Anne Day, found $40 to give. Mr. Justice added that there were at least four other students who gave over $30.

"The best part," said Mr. Justice, "was the last day. We had $200 in the morning, and finished the day with $250 more. It was a fun competition."

Student counselor Vorita McClure commented, "My hopes are that the students will continue this generous pattern throughout their lives."

In addition to the $2,200 donated by students through class collections, other donations are coming in from a rock concert, a school dance to be held Friday, January 18, and some school organizations.

All this cash will be sent directly to CARE, designated for Cambodia.

If one doesn't think $2,200 will go very far, consider this—$5 will serve 100 children a daily bowl of nutritious porridge for a week; $10 builds schooling space for one child; and $15 provides one week of medical training for a student nurse.

Some contributors donated money by attending a rock concert benefit by a South band, Sorcerer, which performed before a sold out crowd in South's auditorium Tuesday, January 8. The event raised over $300 for CARE.

The group Rampage warmed up the stage by performing some popular favorites from Ted Nugent, the Who, Black Sabbath and others.

Then Sorcerer took the stage with a burst of energy, supported by South's PA system and Marshall amplifiers. The first song, "Real Me" by the Who, was well done and the audience sensed this was

Woods Council Facing Enormous Responsibility

The fate of two specialty restaurants in The Woods could be decided by the council at a Wednesday, January 23, special hearing when it considers whether or not to issue one tavern license, (permitting the sale of beer and wine only), in the community. (See story, Page 1.)

It seems only fair that the owners of the two establishments, Le Cafe Francais and Da Edoardo, will be in the final running for the document because they, in fact, have shown the most interest over many, many months in obtaining such a license. They were the only ones to meet the Wednesday, January 9, deadline for submitting applications to city hall for the hearing.

Voters in November approved a referendum question by a 2,452 to 1,680 margin, thus amending the ordinance to permit the issuance of a tavern license. If the council decides not to issue the document on the 23rd, the authorization remains for a future time.

The question reached the ballot based upon the successful initiatory petition drive of owners Charles Moraco and Ronald Serba of Le Cafe, which is housed in the Kimberly Korner of shops at Lochmoor boulevard and Mack avenue. Without such a license permitting them to serve a glass of wine with their specially prepared French cooking, they have indicated their restaurant will close.

Meanwhile, owners Edward Barbieri and his son, Edward Jr., of Da Edoardo are in the same situation. In fact, they closed their restaurant in Mack avenue on Monday, December 31, saying they will not be able to continue without a tavern license.

It's a shame that the two establishments find themselves in such a dire dilemma because the demise of both restaurants, (not to mention the effect on the entire Kimberly Korner complex in the case of Le Cafe), wouldn't only be a loss to The Woods but to the entire Pointe community.

Whether a tavern license would be a saving factor depends on who you ask. However, the NEWS feels in both cases such a license would be a plus, particularly in relation to the effort which goes into the preparation of the food and the special type of food being offered.

The council has an enormous responsibility in rendering its decision. The people have spoken in favor of an additional tavern license and, realistically, if one is issued, Le Cafe might be the sentimental favorite in many eyes because of the petition drive.

Based upon voter approval of the referendum question, plus the bleak circumstances surrounding the two restaurants, one license should be issued. And from the perspective of the NEWS, it's a pity both restaurants won't be fortunate enough to obtain such a document.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:
A new decade is starting and Lakeshore road is still in a deplorable condition. It is one of the worst streets in all of the Detroit area. You are the Wayne County commissioner and this is part of the county. I see it as your direct responsibility to solve this problem.

It is easy to point the finger of blame at someone else, but nothing counts until it is accomplished. Good politicians have a way of working things out.

You seem so successful in your private business ventures, I can't understand why after all these years you can't get the Lakeshore road problem solved. I do understand it is partially solved, but until Lakeshore road is in a good, driveable condition and has been resurfaced I, and I am sure all the other voters in the area, will hold you responsible.

Sincerely,
Roger Stanton,
Of Stratford place,
Grosse Pointe City

(Editor's Note: This letter was written to Wayne County Commissioner Erv Steiner, with a copy being sent to the NEWS.)

To the Editor:
A few weeks ago I read an article in the "Grosse Pointe News" stating that the police department will come out to our homes to inspect the safety of our homes and to inspect our locks against burglary.

Now gentlemen, most people who live in this area, I would assume, have a better than average intelligence and income. Are you telling me that we can not independently check our own locks?

I think that government at all levels should start to understand that the taxpayers of this country want less government intervention into our lives and pocket books. We are tired of the free lunch psychology created by governmental programs.

While this program is obviously of little consequence as compared to the grandiose programs at the federal and state level, it does indicate our local government has not comprehended the mood of our country.

Let's pull our individual heads out of the sand and tell our elected officials that we want no part of an Orwellian era.

Mrs. R. Tapper,
Of West Doyle place,
Grosse Pointe Woods

(Editor's Note: The article in question, published in the November 22, 1979, edition of the NEWS, viewed a home and business inspection service offered by the Woods Department of Public Safety as part of its developing Crime Prevention Program.)

To the Editor:
I would like to thank your advertising staff for being so kind and patient in printing my "lost" ad for my son John's cat "Gnash" for such a long period of time.

I wish I could also thank all those people in Grosse Pointe and Detroit who sympathized with our plight and called about orange and white cats they had seen that seemed lost.

Some kind souls crawled through bushes with me, walked up and down streets, left their jobs and met me at their homes to help search when cats had inconveniently not "stayed put" for me to view them.

I also would like your readers to know that we never found "Gnash" and now feel, in view of the length of time he has been gone and the cold weather, that he either has met an unfortunate end or, more hopefully, has found a new home as did two of the little strays people called us about.

They are now happily living with us and one will go back to Ann Arbor with my son when he returns to school.

Thank you again for your help.

Sincerely,
Mrs. John Dodge,
Of Yorkshire road,

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

As we celebrated the New Year and moved into another decade there was much speculation about what life in the '80s would be like. A concern to those of us in education is what's ahead for schools in this new decade.

In an article which recently appeared in "Education USA" several policy makers and national education leaders were asked what they thought the major educational issues of the 1980s would be. While space limitations don't allow me to review every comment that was made, I do want to focus on some of the ideas presented in the article.

William Pharis, executive director of the National Association of Elementary School Principals, views the adaptation of schools to the new technology as crucial.

"The marriage of video cassettes, TV and inexpensive computers will offer dramatic new possibilities for information presentation and problem solving," Mr. Pharis indicates. He also believes that much of the school's present role and routine could be made obsolete as a result of the new technology.

Mr. Pharis and other authorities agree that educators need to be prepared and working on the development of a complimentary relationship between technology and the schools.

Another challenge of the '80s is the continually escalating cost of public education despite declining enrollments. Just as one example, Paul Salmon, executive director of the American Association of School Administrators, warns, "We haven't begun to see energy cost escalation—for every $1 budgeted for energy today, schools will need $6 by 1989."

Anne Campbell, president of the Council of Chief State School Officials, also believes that finances will be a crucial educational issue of the '80s. According to her, the future of the public schools will depend on how the organization and financing of education are settled among public, private and parochial interests.

Rep. Carl Perkins, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, concurs, stating that the role of Congress in the next decade will be to help find a more equitable way of financing education with federal involvement but not federal control.

Other concerns raised by those interviewed were dealing with an indifferent public; striking a balance among "utilitarian education," liberal arts and values education; focusing on community and continuing education; and making changes in teacher education.

So we enter the '80s with opposing forces on the schools — increase and decline. The increases in education are in terms of higher expectations, more technology for instruction and more teaching and learning, while the declines are evident in enrollment, financial support and even local control of education.

No one knows for sure what the next 10 years will bring, but it is definite that educators have their work cut out for them if schools are to do quality jobs for their communities.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters, Director of Public Libraries

Last week Al Kaline, Detroit's baseball hero, was voted into Baseball's Hall of Fame. Readers may find a biography of Kaline written in 1973, when he was still an active player, of especial interest today.

AL KALINE AND THE DETROIT TIGERS, (Henry Regnery Company, 1973), was written by Hal Butler. The biography concentrates on Kaline's first 20 years with the Tigers.

Ed Katalinas' role in scouting and signing Kaline to a Tiger contract on the day following Al's high school graduation is recounted in detail within the first chapter. The balance of the book is devoted to describing an almost unbelievable baseball career. A number of photographs depict Al as player, husband and father.

Kaline's baseball career ended two years after this book was published, and now we've had the opportunity of seeing how he adjusted to a life outside of baseball.

We find that his championship qualities were not left on the baseball field.

A man that has more medals and has received more awards than Al Kaline is Mohammed Riza Pahlevi. Mohammed Riza's medals were self-bestowed and the awards are the usual homage paid to an absolute ruler by his subjects.

Mohammed Riza Pahlevi, better known as the Shah of Iran, is now the central figure in a diplomatic standoff between the United States and Iran. How all of this happened is well known to the American public.

The Shah still remains a mysterious figure. Was he as bad as the Iranian "students" say he was or as good as some American political figures claim?

Dress was optional, but mood was definitely gala when members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club gathered to celebrate their club's 40th birthday.

Helen Keyes' home in St. Clair Shores was the setting last week for the festive potluck luncheon.

Of the three charter members left in the club, only one, Mrs. Elton Ireland, could be present. Marie (Mrs. Waid) McKnight and Olive (Mrs. Arthur) Hollinger are wintering, (lucky ladies!), in a warmer climate.

But Dona Ireland did much more than just show the 40-year flag. She's Woods Garden Club historian, and through the years she has carefully kept a log of the club's outstanding events, and of some sad ones: deaths, moves, et al.

And for this Very Special Birthday Party she put them all together in a documentary: a delightful history that has been taped and put into a booklet which will be passed and signed by every member.

Lovely idea, isn't it? Mrs. Ireland's fellow club members thought so, too, and expressed their thought via a thank-you corsage for their charming historian.

New Year Begins For 'Lighter Side'

Brazil's Los Indios Tabajaras Will Play Return Engagement in War Memorial's Fries Auditorium January 25

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's first Lighter Side of Life program in 1980 is scheduled for Friday evening, January 25, and will feature the return of the international entertainers "Los Indios Tabajaras."

The gala evening begins with cocktails by subscription around the fire at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club at 6 o'clock. It continues with a candlelight dinner in the War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom at 7:30.

The show begins at 9 o'clock. The complete evening, including admission to the Hunt Club, dinner in the Crystal Ballroom and the performance, is $18.50, (tax and service absorbed); the show only is $8.50.

Tables may be reserved for parties of all sizes in the dining room, and there also is reserved seating for the performance. Parties of 15 or more receive a 15 percent discount per person for the show.

Los Indios Tabajaras, duoguitarists from Brazil, are brothers. They are acclaimed as virtuosos on four continents, for they have appeared in the theaters and concert halls of both Americas, Europe and Asia.

The success story of Los Indios Tabajaras is all the more fascinating when it is set against their origin. They were illiterate, barefoot boys, two of 30 children, living in primeval isolation among their people, the primitive Tabajaras Indian tribe, in the equatorial rain forest of northeastern Brazil. Walking one day in the forest, they came upon a guitar. It was a strange object to them and so fearful were they of touching it that the instrument remained hidden for weeks. When curiosity at last had to be satisfied and the boys touched the strings, the strange sounds they brought forth changed their lives.

Their success story begins in Rio de Janeiro, to which they walked with 16 members of their family—a distance of 3,000 miles.

The family found work, and the embryonic guitarists managed to get a booking at a local cafe. They applied themselves to their poor instrument, strumming away tenaciously until they were able to accompany themselves.

Accomplished musicians today, they smile when they talk about that early experience in Rio... but at the time they were cruelly hurt to learn that audiences came only to laugh at the Indian boys' grotesque sounds. But however poor their technique, it was flashy—and did command attention.

With the tenacity and perseverance that has marked their career they worked more and more, without any instruction, to master their

UCAE to Offer Quartet of Courses in Pointe

University Courses in Adult Education, (Wayne State University/University of Michigan), will co-sponsor four university-level noncredit courses with the Grosse Pointe Public Schools this winter.

"The Western Mind in Revolution," "Victorian Gentlemen: David Copperfield, Omar Khayyam and others" and "Ireland" meet on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock at Grosse Pointe South High School.

"Art in Process: How Drawings and Paintings Come To Be" meets at the Central Library on Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 3 o'clock.

"The Western Mind in Revolution: Six Reinterpretations of the Human Condition" will be taught by James Beall, an attorney who offers courses in Western Thought for UCAE.

Originally devised by New York University, this course examines how man's concept of himself and his world was transformed by the thinking of Copernicus, (astronomy), Descartes, (philosophy), Darwin, (biology), Marx, (sociology), Freud, (psychology), and Einstein (physics).

The course begins February 18 and concludes March 5. Fees are $45, (senior citizens and each additional family member, $24).

Pointe area residents know Kenneth Angvall as a tennis instructor par excellence. This semester they—like his students at Wayne State University—will share his knowledge of Victorian literature.

"Victorian Gentlemen" focuses on the writings of Charles Dickens, the most popular novelist of all time, and Edward Fitzgerald, author of "The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," the most popular poem in English.

Dr. Angvall examines the ways in which both authors reflect the concerns of men and women today as in the past. The class begins January 22 and concludes March 25. Fees are $53, (senior citizens and each additional family member, $28).

craft project for the bedridden.

Sarah Group meets for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Edward Schutte in McKinley avenue at 12:30 o'clock. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. John Bennett, Mrs. Henry Johnson and Mrs. Melvin Var Dagens. Dorothy Collins from Bakers Boutique, will give a cake decorating demonstration.

Rachel Group will enjoy a spaghetti dinner at 7:30 in the evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Tapper in West Doyle place. Election of new officers and an auction will be this group's program.

The Irish mystique involves castles and kings, poets and saints, but Irish history also contains political upheaval and international migration. "Ireland" deals with the paradoxes, traditions, ideals and beliefs that motivate the Irish.

Patrick McDunn, the instructor, is director of the Oakland County Irish Studies Program. A long-time teacher of English literature, he is also a popular Irish pub singer.

The course begins January 29 and concludes April 1. Fees are $53, (senior citizens and each additional family member, $28).

"Art in Process: How Drawings and Paintings Come To Be" invites participants to enter the minds of artists at work. Taught by artists, it speaks to such questions as "How does the artist decide what to paint? What makes him or her choose a particular medium? How does the artist know when a painting or drawing is finished?"

Class sessions include illustrated lectures on the techniques of artists past and present, some student participation and a studio field trip.

The afternoon class, taught by Marilyn Magreta and Susan Wenrich, meets February 13 and 27, March 12 and 26 and April 9, 23 and 30 from 1 to 3 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe Central Library.

An evening class, taught by Catherine Guinn, meets at the Rackham Building in Detroit's Cultural Center Mondays from 7 to 9 o'clock January 21 through March 3.

Fees for either class are $45, (senior citizens and each additional family member, $24).

To register for UCAE courses or to receive a catalog, call 577-4665. Registrations for Grosse Pointe courses also are accepted at the Grosse Pointe Public Schools Continuing Education office located in Brownell Middle School, (342-2179).

Some educators and parents see television as something that youngsters should avoid. Watching too much television, they say, takes time away from creative, independent activities.

Former Philadelphia school teacher Michael McAndrew agrees—but only to a certain extent.

For the past nine years, McAndrew has been using television to help students improve reading and writing skills.

What McAndrew does is provide students with scripts of television programs.

Students are much more interested in reading scripts of their favorite shows than in reading their regular school work, says McAndrew. So he uses the scripts as a step in getting students into the habit of reading.

McAndrew's first success in using television scripts came when he was teaching in a Philadelphia high school.

TV Scripts Aim Kids at Print

"When they were introduced into those 11th and 12th grade classrooms, where students had been reading at about the sixth-grade level, the excitement was overwhelming," he says. "The students automatically became voracious readers."

"It wasn't a matter of having them automatically reading something that they weren't capable of reading before, but now they were running up saying, 'I can't read this, but I want to learn.'"

McAndrew's program has grown from Philadelphia to include most major cities in the country.

Working with a Philadelphia production company, and with the help of the three television networks, McAndrew provides 10 scripts a year to students in the fourth through 12th grades.

Dear Diane and Tom:

It was Palm Beach in the winter, the Roostertail at night, The food was just wonderful, a mixture, Oh, so right.

With models, jewels and bathing suits, what more could people ask? The band was swinging too and fro, so equal to the task.

We thank you Schoenith's, both of you, for being perfect hosts. We thank you for a perfect night and to you both a toast.

Mrs. Martin A. Bay

Married Saturday evening, December 15, in Immanuel Lutheran Church to Mr. Bay, son of the Raymond Bays, of Petoskey, was SUSAN MARIE THOMAS, daughter of The Reverend Dr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas, of Balfour road.

'Lighter Side' Program

In 1947 they went to Mexico to give concerts, and there began serious study of the fundamentals of music.

The elder, Natalico, concentrated on melody. The younger, Antonio, stayed with accompaniment. Natalico made many transcriptions from classics for piano, violin and even full orchestra, and the two developed their own, unique style.

The guitarists toured Chile in 1949 as a duo. They began their international career in 1950 with a first trip to Europe, where they were highly acclaimed.

Their career brought engagements in the United States at several supper clubs and on nationwide television. RCA recorded their provocative "Maria Elena," it was a sensation. Today, Los Indios Tabajaras enjoy a major record career.

During recent seasons, Los Indios Tabajaras have delighted and excited concert audiences in almost every large city and university in the United States. Through television appearances on shows hosted by Ed Sullivan, David Frost, Johnny Carson, Mike Douglas and Arthur Godfrey, the guitarists are favorites of millions of Americans and Canadians.

Last season, the Canadian Broadcasting Company produced a radio special on them. On the other side of the world, in Tokyo, the Japanese Broadcasting Company produced a television special.

Their unique program, blending classical, popular and folk music, provides an evening of timeless and exquisite listening pleasure. They are to the guitar what Arthur Fiedler and Mantovani are to orchestras.

Their War Memorial program is in two parts: Part I—Folkloric and Popular: Escrava Mariquinha, Bayon Bon, At Lake Shore, Pajaro Campana, Vals Criollo, My Isle of Golden Dreams, Sakura Sakura, Beautiful Dreamer and Autumn; Part II—Classical: Sevilla, Master Piece, Prelude Op. 28 No. 4, Las Abejas, Tristeese, Hora Staccato, Swan Lake, Prelude Patita III and Fond Memory of Wattle Tree.

Candlelight Rites for Susan Thomas

She Becomes Bride of Martin Anthony Bay in Immanuel Lutheran Church; They Are at Home in St. Clair Shores

A gown of white Qiana, styled with a Queen Anne neckline and a bodice of beaded Alencon lace, was Susan Marie Thomas' choice for her mid-December marriage to Martin Anthony Bay.

Matching lace trimmed her chapel train and fingertip length veil. She carried a cascade of white roses, baby's-breath and ivy.

She is the daughter of The Reverend Dr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas, of Balfour road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bay, of Petoskey.

Presiding at the 7 o'clock candlelight rites Saturday, December 15, in Immanuel Lutheran Church were The Reverend Constantine Trued, Immanuel's former pastor, The Reverend Dr. Thomas, father of the bride, and The Reverend William Stoba, C.S.R., cousin of the bridegroom.

Soloist was Mrs. David Steele. Honored guests included the bride's grandparents, Mrs. Lyman Moore, of Mansfield, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Peters, of Birmingham, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Harriet Grix, of Petoskey.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The newlyweds vacationed in California and are at home in St. Clair Shores.

In dresses of burgundy Qiana with matching chiffon overblouses were Deborah Thomas, who served as her sister's honor maid, and bridesmaids Carol Becker, of Mount Clemens, the bride's gagements include the Berlin Philharmonic, the Concertgebouw Orchestra of Amsterdam, the major orchestras of England and the Israel Philharmonic.

Kim Becker, Walter Hahn and Gregory Back, ushered. The mother of the bride wore a gown of Nile green chiffon. The bridegroom's mother chose pale blue chiffon. Pink rosebuds formed both mothers' wrist corsages.

During 1978, Mr. Davis led the Toronto Symphony on tours of the North American East Coast and the People's Republic of China. He conducts at the Glyndebourne Opera Festival each year and will make his Metropolitan Opera conducting debut during the 1980-81 season.

He also studied with Franco Petrarca in Rome and, upon his return to England, worked extensively as a keyboard player with the Academy of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, with whom he made many recordings.

This is his third appearance with the DSO.

Nathan Gordon was born in New York and spent his early years in Cleveland where he attended the Institute of Music.

After completing his formal musical education at the Juilliard School, he embarked on a distinguished career which has included membership in the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, the Pittsburgh and Chautauqua Symphonies, the Symphony of the Air—which toured the Far East—and the NBC Symphony under Arturo Toscanini.

Pointe Counter Points

By Pat Rousseau

Fashion Fun . . . the new skirts from Mr. Hank . . . some come with matching kerchiefs at Walton-Pierce. We love the perky green frog on a blue lily pad, touched with red that floats on a sea of sunny yellow. This is the amusing print for an umbrella pleated skirt. It packs in one pleat and yes it has a matching kerchief. Pair it with a blue, red or green T top from Mr. Hank. Another fun print is hot pink apples on bright green. You can top this skirt with a hot pink, too . . . green, too. Fresh white flowers with green center are scattered on another skirt. There is a red geranium print and more. For bright, light packing ideas you can interchange skirts and tops. For a more dress-up fashion look, Robert Leonard binds a black linen jacket with red and ensembles it with a black and white dotted dress. Baron Peters combined navy, white and tan in a smart print dress and trims it with tan Ultrasuede. Tiny red tulips are scattered on a white polyester and rayon blend dress and jacket that is trimmed with red grosgrain. A linen-look navy jacket tops a navy and beige stripe-tweed print that is a versatile traveler. A navy silk-like shirt dress is accented with petite white flowers. Navy and white dotted print circle and tie at the neck and cuff the long sleeves. For those of you who wear half sizes there's a good looking beige jersey dress printed with deep blue leaves. Just as we were about to leave Walton-Pierce a new shipment of Wilroy separates arrived.

'Minnie's Boys' To Open Feb. 1

Dinner Theater comes to Eastland Mall Friday, February 1, when the musical comedy "Minnie's Boys" based on the early career of the Marx Brothers, premieres at Stouffers Eastland Restaurant.

It features a book by Arthur Marx and Robert Fisher, music by Larry Grossman and lyrics by Hal Hackady, and was originally produced on Broadway by Arthur Whitelaw, Max J. Brown and Byron Goldman.

The Stouffers Eastland production is under the direction of Dennis Wickline whose credits include the local feature film Sinner Luck Holmes and The Pitthenstein Sword.

The show also features choreography by Arlene Schoenherr, musical direction by Wayman Ezell, and Joyce Schultheiss, of Lincoln road, in the title role of Minnie Marx.

Ms. Schultheiss, a former president of Port Huron Little Theater, twice served as president of the Community Theater Association of Michigan. Last spring she received the Best Actress Award at the Mort Furry Drama Festival, for her role in "Sea-horse."

The Marx Brothers are portrayed by Mike Trudel, of Beaconsfield avenue, (Groucho), Bill McCarthy, (Harpo), Mike Boccia, (Chico), and Jim Alvaro, (Zeppo).

Other cast members are David McDonald, veteran of Detroit area dinner theater, Mike Evans, who has appeared with Grand Circus Exchange and Detroit Opera Theater, Grosse Pointe Theater members Jane Mary and Joe Lucido, of Brys drive, and George Hunt, of Trombley road, and Alger Theater's Miss Adelaide from "Guys and Dolls," Suzy Stebbins, of McMillan road.

Short and to The Pointe

She attended Humboldt and State University, Calif., last summer for a National Science Foundation Program in which she studied Math, Marine Biology and Oceanography.

Pointers of Interest

By Peggy O'Connor

Sweden, Finland, West Germany, Denmark and the Philippines are different countries with different customs. Their common denominator here is five polite, well informed and eloquent students, who are spending the year at Grosse Pointe South High.

Aare-Silv Buenger, of Hamburg, West Germany, likes life in the United States, but like most American citizens, the 18-year-old foreign exchange student at Grosse Pointe South High School has certain criticisms of this country.

Andy, as he is called by almost everyone, is impressed by the variety of things to do in the metropolitan Detroit area. However, as a teenager without a car, he can't always get involved in as many activities as he would like.

"At home, I pay by the month to use the subway — but here there is no public transportation and it is hard to get around without a car. I have to depend on other people," he says.

Andy is used to being independent. He lives alone with his mother, Marie Buenger, a secretary, and says that he is treated like an adult in Germany and likes being on his own.

"Here I am sometimes treated like a kid, you know: I am underage here while at home I am not," he says.

Respect for Teachers Andy prefers the school system in America and especially likes attending South High. Schools in West Germany, he says, are in session for most of the year, with about 13 weeks off for holidays. Also, he likes the ability to pick his own courses.

At South, he is studying Latin IV, American Studies, Modern European History and Spanish I. He must study 13 subjects per year in West Germany, which leaves very little room for electives.

One thing he has noticed about going to school at South High is the way the teacher-student relationship differs from that in West Germany.

"I think that the students here have more respect for the teachers than German kids have, and here teachers are more concerned with the kids. In Germany, the teachers are civil servants and don't seem to take the time that teachers here do."

Andy is staying with John and Ilene Waszelewski, of Berkshire road. He arrived in America last August 29 and will remain here through the school year.

Misses Rye Bread

Lone Larsen, of Fjerritslev, Denmark, views life as a foreign exchange student in quite another way. Her opinions might be different because of her background — she lives on a farm in Denmark with her parents, Olav and Valborg Larsen, and has five brothers and sisters.

Comparing her home to Grosse Pointe, Lone says, "In some ways it is different because I live in the country in Denmark and now I live in a big town." South High, she says, is bigger than her home school where there were about 100 students. Lone feels that school in America is easier than at home in Denmark. She thinks students here should take advantage of that and get part time jobs to earn money, something that is difficult for students to do in Denmark. "It is very hard to get a job in Europe. School is harder and there is no time to earn extra money."

PAMELA ABBOTT, daughter of the C. RICHARD ABBOTT, of University place; TIMOTHY HURLEY, son of the WILLIAM L. HURLEYS, of Lakeland avenue, and RENATO STARICCO, son of the RENATO STARICCOS, of Lakeland road, both based in Strabourg; MICHAEL KRAUSMANN, son of MR. and MRS. JAMES E. KRAUSMANN, of McMillan road, and JOAN THOMSON, daughter of MR. and MRS.

Lone has been in the United States since September 1, (a car accident delayed her arrival for two weeks), and is staying with the Richard Levitan family in Lincoln road. She has traveled to Chicago and would like to see more of the country.

"I would like to go to Washington, D.C., and see the White House," she says. She would also like to visit California and Florida.

She says that she isn't homesick and that she writes home once or twice weekly, "more since I hurt my knee." What does Lone miss most about Denmark?

"The rye bread. It's not as good as at home," she says.

Likes Snow

Of the five students, Nelson Santiago, of the Philippines, has had to make the greatest adjustment to one of Michigan's less-than-attractive aspects — its weather. All the students expressed surprise over the unpredictability of the Michigan climate, but Nelson doesn't mind one feature of the area: snow.

"It's my first experience with snow and I like it," he says.

Don't get the idea that Nelson plans a life in the frozen north. Far from it. He misses the warm weather of Manila and his future plans include going to the University of the Philippines for a degree in Civil Engineering and moving to California.

Nelson likes the life style in America. "The pace of life here is fast and I like that," he says. But he also feels that Americans take many things for granted.

"Here you have fancy kitchens and cars, and people tend to take these conveniences for granted," he says.

Nelson feels that Americans as a whole are well informed and have "common sense." He certainly has the background for his opinions on American people as he has traveled to Boston, Chicago, Rochester, N.Y., and Northern Michigan since his arrival in San Francisco last July.

Nelson says that he misses his family sometimes and writes home once a week. He is staying with Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Steinhauer and their three children, of Notre Dame avenue, so the house full of people probably helps keep Nelson from missing his parents, Edgardo and Rochelle Santiago, and the four other members of the Santiago family.

JOHN R. THOMSON, of Three Mile drive, both in Aix; and CAROL CAZABON, daughter of the DENNIS C. CAZABONS, of Kensington road, Clermont-Ferrand, based in Hannover, Germany, is LAURA PICKFORD, daughter of MR. and MRS. HARVEY PICKFORD, of Hawthorne road. In Munster are SHERYL KURZE, daughter of MR. and MRS. GEORGE KURZE, of Perrien place, and WILLIAM

Language Important

One student who doesn't get homesick is Tuija Malli, of Lappeenranta, Finland. The daughter of Anssi Malli, an ophthalmologist, and Rauli Malli, a TV journalist, Tuija likes to travel and feels that her required English classes in Finland have helped her adjust to life here.

"I think you get much more out of it if you can communicate," she says of traveling.

Tuija likes the openness of the American people, but she does have a complaint about the educational system in the United States.

"The schools are good for exchange students, but not for study. Here there are no foreign language requirements. In Finland we must have three languages. Also, at home, if you fail a class you fail a whole year," she says.

Tuija was impressed, like Andy Buenger, with the fact that American students are more respectful of teachers. "Here, titles are stressed," she says. "At home we call the teachers by their first names."

Tuija enjoys basketball and playing the piano, and plans on university study after high school. She is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Frank van Deventer and their two children, of Merriweather road, and like the other students will remain in the United States until the end of the school year.

Tuija is enjoying her stay in Grosse Pointe and would like to travel more while she is here. She has been to Kalamazoo and would like to go to the White House in Washington, D.C., and to New York City because "they are the first things that come to mind about the United States," she says.

Television Different

Mats Jacobson, of Enkoping, Sweden, doesn't mind traveling, but his idea of something to do includes playing his drums. He is in the Symphony Band class at South High and misses playing his drums at home more than anything else.

The oldest son of Hakan and Birgitta Jacobson, both of whom are teachers, Mats likes school at South but points out that there are a few differences between school in America and school in Sweden.

"Here, you can't argue with teachers," he says. Also, in Sweden, Mats must carry 16 classes compared to the six courses he is taking at South.

American television is also very different from that in Sweden, according to Mats. "TV here is better than Sweden," he says. "The purpose for television here is for entertaining, but in Sweden it is all talk, more educational programs."

Mats' stay in the United States is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Rotary, as is Lone Larsen's. He is living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Persing, of Washington road, and celebrated his 16th birthday on Christmas Eve.

VANDERHOEF, son of MRS. NORMA VANDERHOEF, of Blairmoor court, Fourah Bay College, Sierra Leone, Africa, is home for KIERAN BEER, of Fairford court.

KATRINA HIGBIE, daughter of Pointers MR. and MRS. HUGO S. HIGBIE, is participating in an international program at Franklin College, Switzerland, where she is pursuing a liberal arts program in Global Relations.

(Commercial) at the British Consulate-General in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Busby live in The Pointe now, but they're originally from England.

Bill, a native of Stratford on Avon, emigrated to Canada with his wife and two children in 1948. He was sales manager and director of SKD Manufacturing Company Ltd. in Amherstburg, Ont.

He joined the staff of the British Embassy in Washington in January, 1962, as a commercial officer, and four years later was appointed Consul (Commercial) at the British Consulate-General in Detroit.

He was awarded the M.B.E.—Member of the Order of the British Empire—in 1973 in recognition of his work in the promotion of British exports to the United States.

Getting Their Just Desserts

Pierre Augier, Mme. Tyty Bachrach, Dr. Antoine Nahoum and Mlle. Nadine Semal were the envy of Grosse Pointe's gourmets this past holiday season, for to them went the honor—and the pleasure—of judging the annual high school student dessert contest sponsored by the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe.

And, after all the tasting was done, came the hard part: deciding which were the most delectable among the many delicious entries.

After much deliberation, and more than a few second and third forkfuls, final selections had to be made.

And they were . . . and the winners are a quartet of Grosse Pointe South High School students, Nancy Arlington, Marc Augier and, (jointly), Lucy Walton and Martha Hein, plus University Liggett's Richard Carron and Roxane Lie, plus DeLaSalle's Patrick Carron.

Each got his/her just desserts: a cash prize. But food wasn't the only drawing card at this year's dessert contest party. There was the chance to sing French Christmas carols, under the leadership of South High's Frank Granger.

There was the opportunity to hear last year's Pointe Alliance summer scholarship to France winner, Noel Baril, describe, enthusiastically, his experiences in Paris.

Noel, graduated now from Grosse Pointe South, is a University of Michigan student.

He's the most recent in a line of Pointe Alliance summer scholarship to France winners. Kathy Coles and Kevin Conley, dual scholarship recipients in the summer of '78, are studying at the University of Detroit and Yale, respectively.

Katie McEnroe, '78 summer scholarship to France student, is at Kalamazoo College. Steve Souris, '75 winner, has been graduated from Harvard.

Chairing the event, which drew 80-plus guests to Dr. and Mrs. Kim K. Lie's beautiful home in Windmill Pointe drive, was Mrs. S. Sidney Newhouse, teacher of French at Grosse Pointe North High School. Mrs. Newhouse is also the talented calligrapher who lettered all the name tags.

Her aides for the dessert contest gathering were Lorie (Mrs. Karl) Bertram, Genevieve (Mrs. Patrick) Carron, Marguerite (Mrs. John) Conley and Inge (Mrs. George) Vincent.

Class Views Retirement

Are you planning for your retirement or are you just going to let it happen?

Pointe residents who wish to lay the groundwork for their retirement may be interested in the class, "Are You Planning for Your Retirement?", offered by the Department of Continuing Education of the Grosse Pointe Public School System on Tuesday, February 5.

The four-week class, taught by Dr. Joel L. Olah, director of UAW Retirement Planning and Life Enrichment Project, will be in Room A-63 of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Olah, who developed the class to meet local needs and interests, has been involved in retirement planning since 1972 when he developed a model program for state employees in Michigan.

The second session of the class, on Tuesday, February 12, will deal with planning a secure future. Social security and Medicare benefits will be discussed. The session will conclude with a presentation on tactics designed to cope with inflation as investments, (insurance, savings, property, stocks and bonds). A model for a workable retirement budget also will be developed.

Protecting your rights under the law will be discussed during the Tuesday, February 19, session along with estate planning, wills and the work of the small claims court.

The final session, Tuesday, February 26, will be devoted to enjoying your home and leisure time and will include a talk on options in choosing a place to live in retirement and part-time employment.

The text for the class, "The Complete Retirement Planning Book" by Peter A. Dickinson, may be purchased in the Department of Continuing Education office, Room A-22 of Brownell.

Those wishing to enroll in the class may do so by completing a registration form and mailing it with a check to Continuing Education, 260 Chalfonte avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms 48236.

Registration forms are found in the green flyer mailed in November to all homes in the school district, (also available in the public libraries), and in the Continuing Education office. Office hours are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday.

For more information, call 343-2178.

Hospital Hosts Medical Class

The medical staff of Bon Secours Hospital is offering a 14-week program on Recent Advances in Clinical Medicine, open to physicians continuing their medical education and interested members of the public.

Supported by the James and Lynelle Holden Fund, the sessions will be held each Thursday from 7 to 8:30 a.m. and include a complimentary breakfast.

Taught by specialists directly involved in investigation, clinical medicine and teaching, the program covers the most recent knowledge of diagnosis and treatment of selected diseases.

Lecturers come from the Detroit area and include members of the Bon Secours medical staff.

The series opened January 10 with a discussion of infectious diseases by Dr. A. Martin Lerner.

Heiner Frost, MD, is presenting the heterogeneity of the human immune system this morning, January 17. Dr. Frost is an assistant professor in the departments of Internal Medicine, Immunology and Microbiology in the Wayne State University School of Medicine.

Thomas J. Petz, MD, will discuss adult respiratory distress syndrome on January 24. Dr. Petz is a clinical associate professor of medicine in the Wayne State University School of Medicine and a member of the Bon Secours Hospital medical staff.

Involved in medical education since 1948, Bon Secours is accredited for Continuing Medical Education by the Liaison Committee on Continuing Medical Education and the Michigan Board of Medicine. This program is approved for 21 hours of Category I credit on an hour for hour basis.

A request has been made to the education chairman of the Michigan Academy of Family Physicians for approval of 21 hours of credit in the prescribed category.

There is a registration fee of $30. For more information, or to enroll in the course, call R. C. Connelly, MD, director of medical education, at 343-1611.

Sex Program Set for Parents

The Health Education Council of Grosse Pointe will present another parent orientation and discussion meeting on "Sex Education of Your Child from Birth through Puberty."

The session will be held today, January 17, in Trombly School, 820 Beaconsfield road, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. and Mrs. Guy T. Doyal will lead the discussion which will offer information about a child's growth and development. Sample dialogue will be given to help parents discuss sex education at home.

Dr. Doyal is a child psychologist and Mrs. Doyal is a registered nurse.

The program will offer parents the only opportunity to preview audio-visual materials that will be shown to their children in after-school sessions this winter. Leaders of the session will present the materials used in classrooms for fourth grade girls and fifth and sixth grade boys and girls.

The Health Education Council's goal is to help parents become the primary sex educator of their children.

Arts, Craft Classes Set

Several new arts and craft classes have been added to the War Memorial's winter educational opportunities.

Chair Seat Weaving will be taught Tuesdays, January 22 through February 26, from 7 to 9 p.m. and Wednesdays, January 23 through February 27, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Students may choose either course which best fits their schedule.

The teacher is Mary Herbert, who received her training at Greenfield Village.

Students work on their own chairs using cane, paper rush, split and wicker. The fee is $35 plus materials which may be purchased either from the instructor or recommended suppliers.

Jewelry reappears on the War Memorial schedule on Tuesdays, January 22 through March 25, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Taught by Sonja Preuthun, it is open both to beginning and intermediate students. Classes will be kept small to allow for individual attention and direction on the piece of one's choice. The fee is $45.

Basketry will be taught Wednesdays, January 23 through February 27, from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and again in the evenings on the same dates from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Advance registration is required so materials can be ordered. Scott Smith, Greenfield Village instructor, will conduct the class. Instructional fee is $31 plus materials costs.

Tinsmithing, a new course at the War Memorial, will be taught by Moravian white smith, Merle Davies, on Wednesdays, January 23 through February 27, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. This early American craft enables one to turn out pieces of great colonial charm using basic skills and simple tools. The fee is $30 plus a $4 materials charge.

Class Views Retirement

Are you planning for your retirement or are you just going to let it happen?

Pointe residents who wish to lay the groundwork for their retirement may be interested in the class, "Are You Planning for Your Retirement?", offered by the Department of Continuing Education of the Grosse Pointe Public School System on Tuesday, February 5.

The four-week class, taught by Dr. Joel L. Olah, director of UAW Retirement Planning and Life Enrichment Project, will be in Room A-63 of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Olah, who developed the class to meet local needs and interests, has been involved in retirement planning since 1972 when he developed a model program for state employees in Michigan.

The second session of the class, on Tuesday, February 12, will deal with planning a secure future. Social security and Medicare benefits will be discussed. The session will conclude with a presentation on tactics designed to cope with inflation as investments, (insurance, savings, property, stocks and bonds). A model for a workable retirement budget also will be developed.

Protecting your rights under the law will be discussed during the Tuesday, February 19, session along with estate planning, wills and the work of the small claims court.

The final session, Tuesday, February 26, will be devoted to enjoying your home and leisure time and will include a talk on options in choosing a place to live in retirement and part-time employment.

The text for the class, "The Complete Retirement Planning Book" by Peter A. Dickinson, may be purchased in the Department of Continuing Education office, Room A-22 of Brownell.

Those wishing to enroll in the class may do so by completing a registration form and mailing it with a check to Continuing Education, 260 Chalfonte avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms 48236.

Registration forms are found in the green flyer mailed in November to all homes in the school district, (also available in the public libraries), and in the Continuing Education office. Office hours are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday.

For more information, call 343-2178.
