MICHIGAN BELL customers will be charged 20 cents for each directory assistance call they make in excess of 20 per month beginning June 1981. The new cost was ordered by the Michigan Public Service Commission. Under the plan customers may request up to three numbers per assistance call, but it will not affect those calls made from hospitals, hotels or pay phones. Handicapped people are eligible to apply for an exemption to the new assistance charge. Michigan will join 30 other states who participate in charged directory assistance calls.

FEDERAL SAFETY experts said pilot and crew error caused a TWA jet carrying 87 persons over the Flint area last April to suddenly nose dive several thousand feet. TWA called the findings "speculative allegations." The probes indicated that either a crew member or the pilot activated a slat on the right wing of the jet that triggered the fall. The jet later made an emergency landing at Detroit Metropolitan Airport with no serious injuries reported. The National Transportation Safety Board will hear more testimony before making a final decision on the mishap.

DETROIT COUNCILMAN Kenneth Cockrel thinks it would be a good idea if the city sat on Chrysler Corporation's board of directors. The remark was made in line with the council's decision to meet with the auto maker next week to discuss a federally-funded $28 million plant in Detroit. The city also would like a commitment from Chrysler that if such a plant is built, the auto maker will not abandon its other plants in Detroit. Mr. Cockrel expressed a desire to fill the seat.

FORMER SUPREME COURT Justice William O. Douglas, often accused of a too-liberal stance on the high court, died Saturday in Washington's Walter Reed Army Medical Center. The 81-year-old retired justice was appointed to the bench by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1975 after suffering a stroke. Although Mr. Douglas was known for his liberal views, he was not a man who always did what he preached. He once barred reporters from hearing a speech on secrecy in government.

UNLESS RUSSIA pulls its troops out of Afghanistan within a month, President Jimmy Carter will urge the United States to boycott the summer Olympic games in Moscow. White House sources indicated that such a possibility is very slim and that the boycott almost is a certainty. New Olympic sites being considered include Los Angeles and Montreal, but it is not yet known whether such a transfer can be made in time from Moscow. Meanwhile, the President made it clear that the U.S. is ready to use "military action" to protect Pakistan.

PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER took the lead in Iowa Monday night beating opponent Sen. Edward Kennedy in the first official vote count for the 1980 presidential campaign. The President won with an overwhelming 59 percent with Mr. Kennedy trailing with 32 percent. The results almost guarantee the President Iowa's 50 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Association Members Review Their 'Treasury'

These Grosse Pointe Ministerial Association members got the first glimpse of "A Treasury of Family Resources" when it came fresh off the presses this week in time for the Celebrating Families Fair Sunday, February 3, at the War Memorial. The mammoth publication was part of the Celebrating Families project led by, (from left to right), REV. DAVID ESHLEMAN, Grosse

Windmill Pointe Rate Will Fall

Park Council Learns Detroit to Drop Assessment of Strip of Property

By Joanne N. Gouleche
The Park Council learned earlier this month that Detroit will lower its assessment of a strip of property it owns in Windmill Pointe Park. City Attorney Herold McC. Deason said Detroit has agreed to reduce its assessment of property extending east from Fox Creek to portions of the park from $150,550 to $149,800.

It was only last year that Detroit lowered the assessment from $173,160 to the $150,550 figure. Detroit originally assessed the property at $218,050.

Next month, both municipalities will meet to settle on the $149,800 rate, and at a recent council meeting, Mr. Deason said it would be futile for The Park to negotiate an even lower rate.

Has Waged Battle
The Park would be unsuccessful to seek further reassessment and, in fact, would be risking a higher assessment from the Michigan Tax Tribunal.

"My recommendation is that the council accept the assessment level negotiated on behalf of the city and stop the litigation," the city attorney said.

For the last four years, The Park has been battling with Detroit over the taxed (Continued on Page 6)

Celebrating Families Project Reaches Climax With Big Family Fair

Spirited Conclusion to Months of Participation Set for February 3 at War Memorial; Resource Book to Make Its Debut at Event

By Susan McDonald
Come February everyone needs something to shake them out of the winter doldrums so, how about a fair? A colorful extravaganza of entertainment and information geared to people of all ages and interests is planned for Sunday, February 3, at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road.

It's a Family Fair, a spirited conclusion to the ecumenical Celebrating Families project that most local churches participated in throughout the fall.

The fair will give families an opportunity to come together in a fun, festive atmosphere to celebrate "just being a family." At the same time, sponsors will offer loads of information about resources in the community that can help improve and protect the family life style.

Many Have Booths
From 2 to 7 p.m. there will be continuous entertainment throughout the Center from such groups as the Christ Church Men's Choir, Saint Clair Children's Choir and Promenaders and Star-makers square dance clubs.

Information booths along the way will vary from the International Institute's demonstration of ethnic crafts and cooking to the public library's visual arts display.

The fair also will offer a chance for dozens of local service and interest groups to show and explain their work. The Grosse Pointe Artists Association will have displays spread throughout the Center. Several local hospitals and churches have taken booths along with the Northeast Guidance Center, Seniors Onward for Change, Inc., (SOC), and Pregnancy Aid.

The League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe will be on hand with several community leaders to answer questions. At the same time, the league will conduct a mock presidential election, including all the presently declared candidates for office. If surveys are your thing, stop into the Morality in Media booth where a study of television viewing will be made.

"First" for Pointe
Outside, if there's snow, there will be plenty of activity including a snow sculpture contest and cross-country skiing in the yard.

The event is geared to families and so is its price. Any family—mother, son, uncle and grandma—can enter for a $2 optional donation. Everyone is invited. The suggested donation for singles is $1.

Another aspect of the Celebrating Families project—a book of family resources—will make its debut at the fair as well.

The "Treasury of Family Resources" will go on sale for $4 a copy on fair day. It's a compendium of anecdotes, essays, stories and community resources, prepared by editor Linda Sullivan and scores of writers, to help families "awaken and energize" their lives together.

Charge Man In Assault Of Teacher

Dance Instructor Surprised by Suspect in Her Home in Woods Incident

A Woods Municipal Court examination date was scheduled for yesterday, January 23, for a 33-year-old Detroit man who's charged in the assault of his 62-year-old dance teacher Sunday night, January 13.

Charged in the incident, which left both in blood-stained clothes, is Conrad Victor Joseph of Simms street. He was arraigned on two separate counts—breaking and entering with intent to commit felonious assault and felonious assault — on Tuesday, January 15. The suspect was held in lieu of a $25,000 bond pending the examination date.

At this point, Woods police are not clear over the motive of the assault on Grace G. Thomas of Stanhope road.

Expresses Surprise
"I'm surprised she's still alive because of the viciousness of the attack," said Public Safety Director John Dankel, who added he was bewildered at this point over the motive as the suspect had been uncommunicative.

Miss Thomas was reported in stable condition after minor surgery, (not related to the incident), on Monday, January 21, at Saint John Hospital.

Police said she was struck on the head with a hammer, knocked down some stairs and was allegedly chased by the suspect with a butcher knife, besides physically struggling with her assailant.

Executive Lt. Jack Patterson said the suspect was known to Miss Thomas for about two years, and at one time she dismissed him from her dance class. He pointed out that the suspect also came to her house and did some work in the past, while indicating that he allegedly cut her phone line after entering the house on the 13th.

After the incident occurred, the suspect, based upon a reported description, was arrested by off-duty Officer Carl Schuster, who monitored an earlier radio broadcast.

Roll Down Stairs
Upon the arrival of police at the scene, responding officers found the victim bloodied about the face and hands and lying in the front vestibule of her home. She also said she was surprised

Headway Being Made to Solve Traffic Problem

City Managers of Woods, Harper Woods, St. Clair Shores Hold Meeting This Week; HW Council Takes Action to Improve Traffic Signalization at Vernier and I-94 Service Road

By Roger A. Waha
Movement between officials of three cities toward reaching solutions to solve the heavy vehicular traffic problem in the northwest area of The Woods is continuing with the joint meeting between the Woods, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores Councils Monday evening, January 14, acting as a positive springboard.

At the meeting, coordinated by The Woods, council representatives discussed a study of the area conducted by Goodell-Grivas, Inc., and ultimately zeroed in upon several areas which officials felt should be explored further toward alleviating the problem.

It has affected The Woods, (particularly Brys drive citizens for over four years), and most recently the two neighboring communities, particularly after Woods officials decided to barricade four northwest area streets.

Views Trial Period
Council representatives agreed to review all the comments made at the joint meeting with their staffs in the hope recommendations would be forthcoming by mid-February. Based upon the session, the city managers of the three cities were scheduled to meet Tuesday afternoon, January 22, (after press time), to consider actions toward arriving at a solution, (or solutions).

Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said last week his city has requested Rep. William Bryant to ask the Michigan Department of Transportation to do an evaluation and impact study on the feasibility of closing the Old Eight Mile road overpass to motorists between 3 and 6 p.m. on weekdays only.

In a related action, Harper Woods City Manager Ronald Bultman said his city is requesting the Department of Transportation to do an evaluation and impact study on the feasibility of closing the Old Eight Mile road cut-through at Vernier.

On these actions, Mr. Petersen said if the cut-through is closed off and bridge traffic between 3 and 6 p.m. is prohibited, a 90-day trial period should ensue to evaluate what happens.

Support to Restructure Detroit Water Board Seen

Support for an effort to restructure the Detroit Metropolitan Water and Sewer System into a regional water and wastewater system was given by the Woods Council via a resolution at a recent regular meeting.

Oakland County Drain Commissioner George W. Kuhn said many local units of government have been deeply concerned about the ever-increasing Detroit sanitary sewer and water rates over the past five years.

He also cited similar concerns about the adequacy of the management, unnecessary residency requirements and the lack of proper representation on the Detroit Water Board which now controls the water supply for 97 communities and the sewage treatment for 76.

Pointes Eye Spending Of $400,000

Farms, Park, City and Woods Gearing for Variety of Projects Pending County Approval

By The News Staff
Four Grosse Pointe councils this week aired plans to apply for almost $400,000 in federal assistance from the Community Development Block Grant, (CDBG), program.

Applications for projects ranging from home repairs to underground water mains were discussed in public hearings held recently in The Farms, Park, City and Woods.

The public paid attention to the hearings — even in The Park where participation in the CDBG program was a major issue in a controversy in last fall's council election over federal funds and alleged low-income housing "strings."

Three councils, The City, Farms and Woods, approved their applications this week. The Park will vote Monday, January 28.

Together the cities qualify for almost $400,000 in basic grants: The Woods, $120,000, The Park, $99,000, The Farms, $99,000, and The City, $80,000. The grants are allocated on the basis of population. The Shores doesn't participate in the program.

Over the last six years the communities have netted about $1.5 million from the CDBG program, which is funded by HUD and administered by Wayne County.

The Farms Council unanimously approved the administration's recommendations for the use of its $99,000 on Monday, January 21. The recommendations included the use of $85,474 for development of a parking lot on the Richard School playground.

Most of the remainder of the money, ($6,526), would be allocated to the minor home repair program of Seniors Onward for Change, Inc., (SOC), with the remainder, ($5,000), going for administration costs.

An alternate program also was okayed in case the use of funds for the parking lot is not approved. That program includes $42,000 for new water main loop construction between the new industrial arts building at South High and Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Lentz, Hiller Earn Awards

Woods Sgt. William Lentz and Park Patrolman David Hiller were honored at the 22nd annual Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge 102, Presidential Ball and Installation Saturday evening, January 19, at the Harper Woods Community Center.

Sgt. Lentz received the Police Officer of the Year award for his heroism in saving the life of a woman at a house fire in Hollywood road in below freezing temperatures early last year. The sergeant rescued the woman from a smoke-filled second floor after earlier attempts had failed.

Patrolman Hiller earned the Award of Valor for his attempts to rescue two youths who drowned after their car plunged into Fox Creek near Windmill Pointe drive and Alter road last October.

Lodge president, Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel, said the awards were presented by Woods Sgt. Thomas Kane, chairman of the Police Officer of the Year committee, and Woods Det. Stephen Petrik, president of the state FOP.

Lodge 102 serves police officers of all the Pointes and Harper Woods.

More projects called for under the alternate program are the following:
• SOC minor home repair

program — $8,526.
• Installing protective gratings for 31 trees on Kercheval avenue between Hall place and Fisher road — $9,300.

• Planting 18 trees in the same area of The Hill — $7,200.

City Clerk Richard G. Solak told the council that while "it's very difficult to receive money for a parking lot," talks with Wayne County block grant administrators indicated the proposal "has a better chance than most."

Mr. Solak said the property exchange between the schools and The Farms should take place soon. In that exchange, The Farms will get that portion of the Richard School playground adjacent to Kercheval avenue, while the schools will get a portion of McMillan road to close off and thus make the playground on the Ridge road side of the school contiguous with Messner Field.

Frank Sladen, a Hill merchant, the only citizen to speak at the public hearing, commended the use of the money for the parking lot. Mr. Sladen noted additional parking would be needed at the other end of The Hill, even if the parking structure near Cottage Hospital becomes a reality.

Set to Revitalize

Only a handful of residents turned up at The Park's CDBG hearing Tuesday night, January 15. But the handful were a far cry from The Park's CDBG hearings a year ago when citizens packed the council chambers demanding to know if their city would be forced to build low-income housing if The Park used the federal money.

With the council chambers virtually empty, no citizens spoke before the Citizens Advisory Board, which recommended that the 1980 CDBG of $99,000 be used to continue The Park's revitalization of Kercheval avenue.

City Manager John R. Crawford said he doesn't expect any problem with The Park receiving its 1980 grant money.

So far, the Kercheval project has been funded with 1970 and 1979 CDBG allocations of $99,000 each. Phase I of the facelift, (Wayburn and Maryland road intersections), to be completed by late spring, used $85,300 in 1979 federal block grant monies.

The remaining $4,000 of that grant is expected to be tacked onto the 1980 grant to complete Phase II, (Lakepointe avenue intersection), estimated at $101,154.

Kercheval architect John Stevens placed Phase III, (Beaconsfield avenue intersection), costs at $74,000.

No Intimidation Seen
A year ago, the grant monies stirred groups in The Park to speak out against the alleged "strings" tied to the program. The city flatly denied any obligation to HUD or Wayne County.

Especially vocal was Proud of The Park, (POP), which rallied against the use of CDBG funds by circulating flyers door-to-door in the community.

But POP's main objection was the use of federal funds for residential purposes and not for the commercial Kercheval project.

The group later led an unsuccessful petition drive in the community to halt the CDBG money for residential use.

The CDBG controversy carried on through The Park's November election where it appeared to be the only issue on the minds of some candidates and the residents, who attended public forums in the community.

But HUD apparently did not intimidate the voters of

The Park who reelected Mayor Matthew C. Patterson and overwhelmingly voted down three ballot proposals asking voters to approve the use of city, state and federal monies in the community.

The City Council approved its 1980 grant application on the 21st, hoping to direct most of the funds, ($80,000), to replace a water main under St. Paul avenue from Cadieux road to St. Clair avenue.

The replacement of the old six-inch main with a 12-inch main will improve water pressure and fire protection to residents, Bon Secours Hospital and the Village shopping area, according to City officials.

Have Revamped Plan

Another $10,000 will be used to complete funding for the widening of Notre Dame avenue in the Village a project that also was approved last year. The project is aimed at easing traffic jams in the busy commercial strip.

The remainder of the funds will be used for administration of those programs, plus one providing grants for home improvement and weatherization for low and moderate income residents.

A revamped $120,000 block grant program from the one originally proposed by the CDBG Citizens Advisory Commission was approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting on the 21st.

One key addition to the original proposal was the inclusion of $30,000 for Emergency Medical Service funding based upon the initiative of Councilman Robert E. Novitke.

He felt the department's new Emergency Medical Technician, (EMT), unit would benefit low to moderate income residents, (a program criteria), particularly senior citizens.

He proposed that $15,000 go toward providing equipment and another $15,000 for training, vehicle maintenance, et al., but no salaries.

Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara said such a request was worth trying, although he indicated he had some reservations that it might not specifically meet program guidelines.

He pointed out, for instance, the EMT funding proposal could apply to any person on a low to moderate income scale, the city's neighborhood strategy area, (the northwest section), notwithstanding. "The problem is that the block grant program is basically a bricks and mortar program but it's worth a try to submit the application," he said.

Mr. McNamara also said the possibility remained that officials might be able to structure a project benefiting the EMT program, while cautioning officials not to get their hopes up for what could be a "marginal project."

Expenses Concern
If the EMT plan isn't approved, Mr. McNamara said alternate projects could be included in the application if one or more of those approved by the council for submission was refused.

In response to a question from Councilman John Sabol, who cast the lone negative vote on the application, Mr. McNamara explained that the main request of block grant officials is that the program benefit low to moderate income citizens and that it meet guidelines. The councilman had expressed concern over any stipulations upon the city regarding the spending of monies.

Block grant officials do urge that a balanced program be prepared, i.e., one that looks at all facets of community development, added Mr. McNamara.

In response, Mr. Sabol felt the city was forced by the government to perhaps spend money in areas which weren't that important, calling it "needless spending and government control."

For his part, he would have like to see a major emphasis upon water and sewer work sans commercial district improvements, e.g., street furniture, plantings, improved parking, signage, et al., which was originally placed at $61,500.

The list of approved projects includes the following: EMT service, $30,000; street improvements and repairs, $46,000; SOC, $10,000; re-routing water mains which now run under culvert which were part of the old Girard Drain, $17,500; and the reduced amount of $16,500 for commercial district improvements.

Cottage Offers Tour Program

Cottage Hospital's volunteer services department has developed a hospital tour program for school groups from the third to seventh grades. This expands upon the hospital's successful "Introduction to the Hospital for Very Small People" program begun last year.

Tours are limited to groups of 25 and will only be conducted on Fridays. There is no charge for the tours, but advance reservations must be made by calling Margaret Hutchings, director of volunteer services, at 884-8800, extension 2455, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Ralph Wilgarde, hospital administrator, said children will be able to tour several non-patient areas of the hospital, including the laboratory, x-ray and nuclear medicine. Slides will be shown of various departments of the hospital that are normally not open to the public.

Various aspects of the health care delivery system will be discussed on par with the grade level of the group. One member of the group, for example, might be gowned as a surgeon.

New Fireman Fulfills Dream

The newest Farms fireman comes from a long line of smoke-eaters. Not only were William Lanzi's father and grandfather firefighters, but two of his brothers are, too, fighting the flames in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Even his great-grandfather was a volunteer fireman. So as Mr. Lanzi, 25, puts it, "I've been hanging around fire halls all my life," and getting the job in The Farms "is like a dream come true."

Now living in Harper Woods, Mr. Lanzi is a graduate of South High School and holds an associate degree in liberal arts from Macomb County Community College. He hopes to pursue his education at Wayne State University in criminal justice. That is, if he can find a schedule of classes to work around a fireman's hours.

Mr. Lanzi was born and raised in the Jefferson-Chalmers area. Although he spent several years looking at life in California and Hawaii, he moved back to the Detroit area because, he says, his roots are here and he likes the people here. Before getting his job with The Farms, he did linoleum work.

He enjoys playing soccer, hockey, racquetball and scuba diving.

GPW Police Report Six Burglaries in Three Days

Six burglaries of residences were reported to Woods police over the weekend of January 11 to 13, and two more, including the entry of a business, were reported midway through last week. Silver articles and jewelry were prominent items taken in some of the break-ins, with all of the incidents under the investigation of the detective bureau.

On Friday, January 11, three of the burglaries were reported, all within a two-hour period.

Thieves entered the residence of James Pike of West Ida lane through an attached garage, with a door lock being pried to gain entry to the home. Articles reported missing included three gold necklaces, two watches, three gold rings, a gold high school ring with a green stone, cuff links, tie tacs, all of unknown value, and a 22 caliber blue steel gun.

The home of John Burghardt in Severn road also was burglarized, with the thieves breaking a pane of glass in a door and then reaching through to unlock it. Police said missing items included two silver goblets and plates, a silver set of eating utensils and plates and a brown mink wrap, valued at between $5,000 to $7,000.

That same day, thieves entered the home of John O'Brien of Newcastle road by breaking out a window in the rear door. Articles reported missing included two silver-plated candle holders, an eight-piece setting of Gorham sterling silver, chantilly pattern, valued at $2,500, a silver candy dish, a Nikon 35mm camera with lens case and accessories, a ring with nine sapphires in the shape of a diamond with a diamond in the center and a silver watch with a silver band.

One break-in was reported on Saturday, January 12. This occurred at the home of Merlin Bero in Fairway drive, with the culprits entering by breaking a rear door window. Police said items found missing included an antique silver tea pot and silver pitcher, two silver dinner ware sets, (service of eight, including several extra serving utensils), and $50 taken from a wallet in a purse.

On Sunday, January 13, two burglaries were reported. One occurred at the home of Charles Spade in Hawthorne road, where the thieves entered through a rear door after breaking out some glass. Two color television sets, one valued at around $650 and the other, $425, were taken, along with a short wave radio, valued at $400. Some jewelry also was reported missing but police have no information on these items as yet.

Meanwhile, around $3,000 was taken from a suit at the home of Samuel Sanom of Coventry lane, police said. Thieves entered the residence by breaking out a basement window.

Then, on Tuesday, January 15, a citizen walking home past Pointe Cyclery, 20373 Mack avenue, discovered the front window broken out. Investigation revealed that two bike wheels, one red and the other black, were taken from inside the window. Their replacement value was placed at $75. The cost of replacing the five-by-10-foot pane of glass, which was apparently broken by a piece of concrete, is around $200.

The home of Joan Lee Young of Norwood drive was reported entered on Wednesday, January 16. The culprits broke a pane of glass in a kitchen window and reached inside to open it to gain entry. Articles discovered missing include a mink and leather brown jacket, valued at around $1,000; an imitation, dark brown fur coat, $200; an eight-track car stereo, $100; and one lady's ring with three large diamonds and 16 smaller ones, of unknown value.

Police said in most of the incidents, the thieves entered the majority of rooms in the homes. At the same time, officers added that some of the citizens are in the midst of compiling lists of missing articles and their values.

Office Workers Okay Contract

The Board of Education and 100 school office workers last week agreed on a new three-year contract calling for 10.7 percent annual improvements in wages and fringe benefits.

The agreement was approved by a 72-12 vote of the Grosse Pointe Association of Educational Office Personnel on Friday, January 11. The School Board unanimously approved it Monday, January 14.

The agreement is "basically the same" economic package approved by Grosse Pointe teachers after a threatened strike this fall, according to the School Board's Personnel Director Ronald Tonks.

Teachers okayed a two-year agreement, expiring in 1981, while office personnel agreed to a three-year contract, expiring in 1982.

School plant and cafeteria workers compose the only bargaining unit which does not yet have a contract with the School Board. Mediation sessions between the workers and school negotiators are scheduled to begin today, January 24, according to Mr. Tonks. There are 133 members of that bargaining unit. Its contract expired last June.

Farms, Park, City, Woods Hold Community Development Block Grant Hearings

Edison power lines are proposed to be put underground in Muir road, (where they currently run along the front of homes), at a cost of $23,000.

Commands Usage
More projects called for under the alternate program are the following:
• SOC minor home repair

SEE JIM LYNCH AT McGLONE CADILLAC 881-6600

program — $8,526.
• Installing protective gratings for 31 trees on Kercheval avenue between Hall place and Fisher road — $9,300.
• Planting 18 trees in the same area of The Hill — $7,200.
City Clerk Richard G. Solak told the council that while "it's very difficult to receive money for a parking lot," talks with Wayne County block grant administrators indicated the proposal "has a better chance than most."
Mr. Solak said the property exchange between the schools and The Farms should take place soon. In that exchange, The Farms will get that portion of the Richard School playground adjacent to Kercheval avenue, while the schools will get a portion of McMillan road to close off and thus make the playground on the Ridge road side of the school contiguous with Messner Field.

Frank Sladen, a Hill merchant, the only citizen to speak at the public hearing, commended the use of the money for the parking lot. Mr. Sladen noted additional parking would be needed at the other end of The Hill, even if the parking structure near Cottage Hospital becomes a reality.

Set to Revitalize
Only a handful of residents turned up at The Park's CDBG hearing Tuesday night, January 15. But the handful were a far cry from The Park's CDBG hearings a year ago when citizens packed the council chambers demanding to know if their city would be forced to build low-income housing if The Park used the federal money.
With the council chambers virtually empty, no citizens spoke before the Citizens Advisory Board, which recommended that the 1980 CDBG of $99,000 be used to continue The Park's revitalization of Kercheval avenue.
City Manager John R. Crawford said he doesn't expect any problem with The Park receiving its 1980 grant money.

So far, the Kercheval project has been funded with 1978 and 1979 CDBG allocations of $99,000 each. Phase I of the facelift, (Wayburn and Maryland road intersections), to be completed by late spring, used $85,300 in 1979 federal block grant monies.
The remaining $4,000 of that grant is expected to be tacked onto the 1980 grant to complete Phase II, (Lakepointe avenue intersection), estimated at $101,154.
Kercheval architect John Stevens placed Phase III, (Beaconsfield avenue intersection), costs at $74,000.
No Intimidation Seen
A year ago, the grant monies stirred groups in The Park to speak out against the alleged "strings" tied to the program. The city flatly denied any obligation to HUD or Wayne County.
Especially vocal was Proud of The Park, (POP), which rallied against the use of CDBG funds by circulating flyers door-to-door in the community.
But POP's main objection was the use of federal funds for residential purposes and not for the commercial Kercheval project.
The group later led an unsuccessful petition drive in the community to halt the CDBG money for residential use.

The CDBG controversy carried on through The Park's November election where it appeared to be the only issue on the minds of some candidates and the residents, who attended public forums in the community.
But HUD apparently did not intimidate the voters of

The Park who reelected Mayor Matthew C. Patterson and overwhelmingly voted down three ballot proposals asking voters to approve the use of city, state and federal monies in the community.
The City Council approved its 1980 grant application on the 21st, hoping to direct most of the funds, ($60,000), to replace a water main under St. Paul avenue from Cadieux road to St. Clair avenue.
The replacement of the old six-inch main with a 12-inch main will improve water pressure and fire protection to residents, Bon Secours Hospital and the Village shopping area, according to City officials.

Have Revamped Plan
Another $10,000 will be used to complete funding for the widening of Notre Dame avenue in the Village. A project that also was approved last year. The project is aimed at easing traffic jams in the busy commercial strip.
The remainder of the funds will be used for administration of those programs, plus one providing grants for home improvement and weatherization for low and moderate income residents.

A revamped $120,000 block grant program from the one originally proposed by the CDBG Citizens Advisory Commission was approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting on the 21st.
One key addition to the original proposal was the inclusion of $30,000 for Emergency Medical Service funding based upon the initiative of Councilman Robert E. Novitke.
He felt the department's new Emergency Medical Technician, (EMT), unit would benefit low to moderate income residents, (a program criteria), particularly senior citizens.
He proposed that $15,000 go toward providing equipment and another $15,000 for training, vehicle maintenance, et al., but no salaries.
Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara said such a request was worth trying, although he indicated he had some reservations that it might not specifically meet program guidelines.
He pointed out, for instance, the EMT funding proposal could apply to any person on a low to moderate income scale, the city's neighborhood strategy area, (the northwest section), notwithstanding. "The problem is that the block grant program is basically a bricks and mortar program but it's worth a try to submit the application," he said.

Mr. McNamara also said the possibility remained that officials might be able to structure a project benefiting the EMT program, while cautioning officials not to get their hopes up for what could be a "marginal project."
Expenses Concern
If the EMT plan isn't approved, Mr. McNamara said alternate projects could be included in the application if one or more of those approved by the council for submission was refused.

In response to a question from Councilman John Sabol, who cast the lone negative vote on the application, Mr. McNamara explained that the main request of block grant officials is that the program benefit low to moderate income citizens and that it meet guidelines. The councilman had expressed concern over any stipulations upon the city regarding the spending of monies.
Block grant officials do urge that a balanced program be prepared, i.e., one that looks at all facets of community development, added Mr. McNamara.

In response, Mr. Sabol felt the city was forced by the government to perhaps spend money in areas which weren't that important, calling it "needless spending and government control."
For his part, he would have like to see a major emphasis upon water and sewer work sans commercial district improvements, e.g., street furniture, plantings, improved parking, signage, et al., which was originally placed at $61,500.

The list of approved projects includes the following: EMT service, $30,000; street improvements and repairs, $46,000; SOC, $10,000; re-routing water mains which now run under culverts which were part of the old Girard Drain, $17,500; and the reduced amount of $16,500 for commercial district improvements.

Cottage Offers Tour Program

Cottage Hospital's volunteer services department has developed a hospital tour program for school groups from the third to seventh grades. This expands upon the hospital's successful "Introduction to the Hospital for Very Small People" program begun last year.

Tours are limited to groups of 25 and will only be conducted on Fridays. There is no charge for the tours, but advance reservations must be made by calling Margaret Hutchings, director of volunteer services, at 884-8800, extension 2455, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Ralph Wilgarde, hospital administrator, said children will be able to tour several non-patient areas of the hospital, including the laboratory, x-ray and nuclear medicine. Slides will be shown of various departments of the hospital that are normally not open to the public.

Various aspects of the health care delivery system will be discussed on par with the grade level of the group. One member of the group, for example, might be gowned as a surgeon.

New Fireman Fulfills Dream

The newest Farms fireman comes from a long line of smoke-eaters. Not only were William Lanzi's father and grandfather firefighters, but two of his brothers are, too, fighting the flames in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Even his great-grandfather was a volunteer fireman. So as Mr. Lanzi, 25, puts it, "I've been hanging around fire halls all my life," and getting the job in The Farms "is like a dream come true."

Now living in Harper Woods, Mr. Lanzi is a graduate of South High School and holds an associate degree in liberal arts from Macomb County Community College. He hopes to pursue his education at Wayne State University in criminal justice. That is, if he can find a schedule of classes to work around a fireman's hours.

Mr. Lanzi was born and raised in the Jefferson-Chalmers area. Although he spent several years looking at life in California and Hawaii, he moved back to the Detroit area because, he says, his roots are here and he likes the people here. Before getting his job with The Farms, he did linoleum work.

He enjoys playing soccer, hockey, racquetball and scuba diving.

GPW Police Report Six Burglaries in Three Days

Six burglaries of residences were reported to Woods police over the weekend of January 11 to 13, and two more, including the entry of a business, were reported midway through last week. Silver articles and jewelry were prominent items taken in some of the break-ins, with all of the incidents under the investigation of the detective bureau.

On Friday, January 11, three of the burglaries were reported, all within a two-hour period.

Thieves entered the residence of James Pike of West Ida lane through an attached garage, with a door lock being pried to gain entry to the home. Articles reported missing included three gold necklaces, two watches, three gold rings, a gold high school ring with a green stone, cuff links, tie tacs, all of unknown value, and a .22 caliber blue steel gun.

The home of John Burhardt in Severn road also was burglarized, with the thieves breaking a pane of glass in a door and then reaching through to unlock it. Police said missing items included two silver goblets and plates, a silver set of eating utensils and plates and a brown mink wrap, valued at between $5,000 to $7,000.

That same day, thieves entered the home of John O'Brien of Newcastle road by breaking out a window in the rear door. Articles reported missing included two silver-plated candle holders, an eight-piece setting of Gorham sterling silver, chintilly pattern, valued at $2,500, a silver candy dish, a Nikon 35mm camera with lens case and accessories, a ring with nine sapphires in the shape of a diamond with a diamond in the center and a silver watch with a silver band.

One break-in was reported on Saturday, January 12. This occurred at the home of Merlin Bero in Fairway drive, with the culprits entering by breaking a rear door window. Police said items found missing included an antique silver tea pot and silver pitcher, two silver dinner ware sets, (service of eight, including several extra serving utensils), and $50 taken from a wallet in a purse.

On Sunday, January 13, two burglaries were reported. One occurred at the home of Charles Spade in Hawthorne road, where the thieves entered through a rear door after breaking out some glass. Two color television sets, one valued at around $850 and the other, $425, were taken, along with a short wave radio valued at $400. Some jewelry also was reported missing but police have no information on these items as yet.

Meanwhile, around $3,000 was taken from a suit at the home of Samuel Sanom of Coventry lane, police said. Thieves entered the residence by breaking out a basement window.

Then, on Tuesday, January 15, a citizen walking home past Pointe Cyclery, 20373 Mack avenue, discovered the front window broken out. Investigation revealed that two bike wheels, one red and the other black, were taken from inside the window. Their replacement value was placed at $75. The cost of replacing the five-by-10-foot pane of glass, which was apparently broken by a piece of concrete, is around $200.

The home of Joan Lee Young of Norwood drive was reported entered on Wednesday, January 16. The culprits broke a pane of glass in a kitchen window and reached inside to open it to gain entry. Articles discovered missing include a mink and leather brown jacket, valued at around $1,000; an imitation, dark brown fur coat, $200; an eight-track car stereo, $100; and one lady's ring with three large diamonds and 16 smaller ones, of unknown value.

Police said in most of the incidents, the thieves entered the majority of rooms in the homes. At the same time, officers added that some of the citizens are in the midst of compiling lists of missing articles and their values.

Office Workers Okay Contract

The Board of Education and 100 school office workers last week agreed on a new three-year contract calling for 10.7 percent annual improvements in wages and fringe benefits.

The agreement was approved by a 72-12 vote of the Grosse Pointe Association of Educational Office Personnel on Friday, January 11. The School Board unanimously approved it Monday, January 14.

The agreement is "basically the same" economic package approved by Grosse Pointe teachers after a threatened strike this fall, according to the School Board's Personnel Director Ronald Tonks.

Teachers okayed a two-year agreement, expiring in 1981, while office personnel agreed to a three-year contract, expiring in 1982.

School plant and cafeteria workers compose the only bargaining unit which does not yet have a contract with the School Board. Mediation sessions between the workers and school negotiators are scheduled to begin today, January 24, according to Mr. Tonks. There are 133 members of that bargaining unit. Its contract expired last June.

Suspect Charged in Assault of Teacher

In a statement given to police at the hospital, Miss Thomas said she had just come home from her theater group and noticed a basement window broken out. She went inside, noticed her dogs were fine and checked the basement and found no one there. After noticing some of her wine was gone, she discovered the suspect upstairs lying on the floor.

He came at her, struck her with a hammer and started choking her before both rolled down the stairs to the first floor, police said.

At this point, she attempted to calm him down and he told her he would take her to the hospital. As they approached the back door, she said the suspect pushed her down the basement stairs and then went down and attempted to slash at her eyes with a broken bottle, according to the report.

Loses Possession

She said she somehow broke free, ran upstairs and went outside. Once outside, the suspect came at her with a knife and a struggle ensued on the front lawn of a neighbor. The man lost possession of the knife and she grabbed and threw it into a driveway. The suspect then fled east on Stanhope before being subsequently arrested.

An initial departmental emergency medical technician report indicated that the woman was alert and bleeding moderately from the head.

Considerable bleeding had taken place to cover her face, hands and clothing and she was suffering from lacerations and contusions to the side of her head, the report said.

Officer Schuster arrested the suspect in the area of Mack avenue and Elizabeth court shortly after monitoring the broadcast. The officer also said the suspect's hands, face and clothing appeared to be covered with blood.

No Similarity

Lt. Patterson explained in such a case where a citizen feels that his or her home has been burglarized, police should be immediately contacted by the resident, who shouldn't go inside.

Miss Thomas, who runs a dance school called the Grace Thomas Little School of Dance at 11139 Morang, Detroit, reportedly has danced professionally in the U.S. and Europe for over 20 years.

Meanwhile, Farms police questioned Joseph in relation to the Halloween evening murder of Jeanne C. Clynne, with Police Chief Robert Ferber saying the man was never a suspect and there was no similarity in the two incidents.

Making Headway

(Continued from Page 1) "This could possibly reduce vehicular traffic on residential streets in the northwest area by 30 to 40 percent," noted Mr. Petersen, who then felt such traffic could be reduced to a tolerable limit. At the same time, he indicated traffic also would be reduced in both neighboring cities and not work a hardship on any community.

Agreement Approved

Meanwhile, the Harper Woods Council on Monday, January 21, based upon the advice of Mr. Bultman, took action on one of two recommendations, while tabling the other.

The council agreed to enter into a "Cost Agreement for Traffic Signal Control" with the state toward improving traffic signalization at Vernier road and the I-94 service road.

Mr. Bultman said the objective of such improvements is to expedite movement along Vernier to reduce traffic back-up and to reduce the traffic flow on local streets.

As part of the agreement, the city will pay 25 percent of the cost, ($4,375), and the state 75 percent, ($15,125). In relation to this, the city also will pay a yearly maintenance fee of 25 percent, ($345), while the state will pay a similar fee of 75 percent.

Meanwhile, his recommendation viewing the off-ramp off of I-94 at Old Eight Mile road, which now has a three-way stop sign, to request the state to put up a traffic signal there, was tabled for further information.

As part of the agreement, the city would have to pay 50 percent of the cost and the state, the other half. Mr. Bultman said the council wanted to learn why one agreement stipulated the city pay 25 percent and the other, 50 percent. Hence, the tabling action.

For his part, St. Clair Shores City Manager Robert Janes viewed the meeting of city managers, while hoping sessions also would include representatives from the Department of Transportation and the Wayne County and Macomb County Road Commissions, to work out a method of determining what effect the recommendations as proposed at the joint meeting would have.

Main areas in which agreement appeared to be reached at the joint meeting included the following:

To open up the island at Helen avenue and Vernier road, which Woods officials said was closed in 1967 because of a fatal accident.

At the Old Eight Mile and Vernier road intersection by Eastland, consideration will be given to closing the cross-over area stopping motorists from entering Eight Mile from Vernier.

At the southbound I-94 exit ramp at Eight Mile road, signalization of the exit ramp will be viewed. This location is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Transportation, with the department proposing such a change. Possible prohibitions of left hand turns off of the ramp also will be considered.

In relation to this, the intersection of I-94 and Vernier road also is under state jurisdiction and the Department of Transportation has proposed the installation of turning phases at this location.

A major theme which appeared as an outgrowth of the session was to get the traffic, which is currently using area residential streets, back onto the main arteries.

Opinion Cited

Officials of the three cities also learned of an opinion from Attorney General Frank Kelley last week on the subject of barricades, which, they indicated, came from Sen. Gilbert DiNello's office.

Mr. Kelley ruled that The Woods has the power to barricade its streets and the two neighboring communities have no recourse to stop such a move.

He said that residents have no right of direct travel upon city streets in a neighboring community even if drivers are inconvenienced by the barricaded streets.

"This has been the contention of this city all along," said Mr. Petersen, who noted it supports court cases on record. "I hope we can mutually agree to have a plan which will reduce traffic in the northwest area without going through this extreme later."

Old Trousseau Is on Display

The Woods Branch of the Library, 20600 Mack avenue, is displaying through January a handmade Italian trousseau from the early 1900's on loan from Mrs. Elizabeth Pilot of The Woods.

The exhibit features examples of embroidery, weaving and cutwork. Included are household items such as towels, pillowcases, nightgowns, aprons and baby garments made in anticipation of a marriage and family.

The articles represent the work of the girls of the Schiapparelli family — two of whom emigrated to the U.S. in 1920 from the Piedmont region of Italy.

Trust Office Viewed at City Site

They announced the bank's plan in a recent newsletter to their customers and, so far, results have come in the form of several letters from concerned citizens to bank and city officials.

Respond to Requests

"We hope there is enough voiced dissent among Grosse Pointe people that the bank might consider moving elsewhere," said Joyce Detwiler, president of Pointe Pedlar. "There is always other property available for a bank, like the new office building that's going up On-the-Hill, for instance."

The bank gave notice in November to the Pedlar and five other tenants in the Fisher road building, but it has not yet prepared firm plans for the site.

Charles Snell, marketing and public relations director for Detroit Bank and Trust, said the firm purchased the Pedlar building, which it had managed for several years, to respond to requests from "a large number of people who have expressed interest in a trust office in that neighborhood."

Presently, the bank has trust offices located in downtown Detroit and Birmingham.

Mr. Snell said the bank has not yet applied to the state for approval of the new office and has no architectural plans for the proposed building.

"We're sorry that people are upset about the purchase," Mr. Snell said. "We don't intend to build anything that would not be beneficial to the neighborhood. We want to build an office that will be more convenient for the large number of customers we have in that area."

Site Plan Review

City Manager Thomas Kressbach said the bank has not yet formally contacted his office about its plans, although it will have to go before the council for site plan review before a new building is constructed.

Mr. Kressbach acknowledged the move "could have a detrimental effect" on the small shopping district in Fisher road.

"My initial reaction, however, is that there is nothing we can do," Mr. Kressbach said. "It's an unfortunate situation where the corporate planning process isn't meshing with the city planning process. Objectively, we'd like to have both the bank and the Pedlar in there."

The district is zoned for local business, (C-1). Two other banks are located in similar, C-1 districts in The City. Despite its long-range plans to develop Fisher for commercial use, The City probably cannot legally stop the bank from moving in because of zoning.

Backgammon Club Forms

A new Backgammon group is being formed at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road. It will meet Tuesday evenings, beginning February 5, in a private room of the Alger House from 7:30 to 11 p.m.

The group is for play and a test of skill rather than for instructions.

However, relatively new and intermediate players will learn much from the company of more experienced backgammoners. Dues are being set at $10 a year.

South's Ready For March Move

By Tim O'Neill

As the finishing touches are put on South High School's new Industrial Arts building, there is a lot of speculation going on inside the main building as to what the new facility will be like.

Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, South's acting principal, said he hopes the students will be able to move into the new facility sometime during March. One of his main priorities is "I want the seniors to be able to use the new facilities. They are really great," Dr. Spagnoli said.

"The building is a tremendous addition to our industrial arts program and I expect the students will feel the same also," the principal said.

Dr. Spagnoli commented that the girls' gym in South's main building is messed up from the woods and metals shop classes using the gym. Once everything is moved into the new building South will concentrate on reorganizing the main and S buildings.

"I expect everything to be fully functional next fall," Dr. Spagnoli said with assurance.

On the other hand, the teachers who look forward to moving into the new building are the ones who were moved out of their old classrooms.

Robert Rathbun, a drawing and painting teacher, is very happy with the new facilities, commenting, "I am very impressed with the amount of space and the lighting is excellent. It will be very good for drawing and painting."

Moving over there isn't the easiest and Julie Meighan, the art department chairperson, says, "It will be difficult to move in the middle of the semester." She also is looking forward to the drawing and painting studio which is appealing.

Not only are the art facilities going to be outstanding, but the automotive shop will really be an asset to the automotive classes which have been hurt the most by the temporary change in facilities.

SH Publishes New Magazine

By Joe Srebernak
A new dimension in South High School publications, a creative writing and art magazine printed as a supplement to the "Tower," will come off the presses for the first time in mid-February.

The publication, the first of two this year and more next year, is the end result of a year's planning by South teachers, who were given the go-ahead recently by acting South Principal Dr. Joseph Spagnoli. Alma Fleming, English department chairman, said the teachers had originally planned to begin the project during the 1980-81 school year.

The reason for the sudden change of plans was Dr. Spagnoli's arrival at South. He felt that if the project got off the ground now, while enthusiasm was the strongest, the publication would get off to a better start.

Dr. Spagnoli has many displays of student art in his office and believes that in the type of institution South is, it is very important for student talents to be displayed for others to admire.

It was decided at a meeting by Dr. Spagnoli, Mrs. Fleming, Robert Button, journalism teacher, John Stephens, creative writing teacher, and Frances French, assistant principal, that Mr. Stephens' creative writing classes would be in charge of selecting and editing material submitted by any student in the school.

Satisfactory material would then be given to Mr. Button's journalism class, Newspoint, in charge of layout and design, which would decide what would be printed on the basis of student interest and available space.

The last publication at South which printed journalistic writing by students was discontinued a number of years ago due to a lack of funds. It was called Proem and was printed in a 52-page annual magazine.

While a similar type of publication was considered for this year, the amount of money saved by publishing the project as a supplement swayed the vote. Printing on the glossy paper costs much more than printing on newsprint, so spread over one year, students would be getting about the same amount of reading for a cheaper price.

Another reason for the supplement type of printing is that 1,500 subscribers are immediately exposed to the writing, plus those at home who read the paper, at an additional cost to them.

Besides short stories, poems and other printed material, art work and photography will have a place in this new publication.

The deadline for all written material is Monday, January 28, and it should be submitted to Mr. Stephens. Art and photography must be submitted to Mr. Button by Monday, February 4. Suggestions for a name for this publication also are being accepted until February 4.

GPW Public Safety Auxiliaries Cited

Five members of the Woods Department of Public Safety auxiliary force were cited at the group's annual Christmas party last month at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. The men were honored for their years of service after announcing they would be leaving the citizen volunteer unit. Offering good wishes were Woods Mayor GEORGE S. FREEMAN, (far left), and Cpl. ROBERT SETCHELL,

Cities Plan Energy Saving

Planning now going on at the community level will be a crucial factor in determining the nation's energy future, according to Hermar Koenig and Lawrence Sommers of Michigan State University.

A glut of cheap energy, said the professors, enabled 30 million people to move from rural areas and small towns and settle in automobile-based, energy-inefficient urban/suburban complexes in the '40s, '50s and '60s.

The unplanned inner-city decay and suburban sprawl that resulted from that migration will have to change as liquid fossil fuel energy supplies decline and energy becomes increasingly more expensive, Mr. Koenig and Mr. Sommers contended.

The crucial issue, they said, is whether communities plan for that change or risk calamity by simply letting it happen.

The future of U.S. settlements, the MSU professors maintained, is a trend toward more compact communities. To be energy efficient, they said, urban concentrations have to be large enough and dense enough to cut costs of transportation and heating but not so large that lines of supply and of waste disposal become unwieldy and energy intensive.

Their argument was largely based on analysis of the "real" cost of energy—that is, the cost of a unit of energy in terms of average wages for an hour of labor, or the amount of energy that an hour of work can buy in any given year.

Center Slates Artist Coppini

Paolo Coppini of the Little Art Academy in Florence, Italy, will teach a course in "The Techniques of Oil Painting in Still Life and Portraiture" in the new art wing of the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, on Thursdays, January 31 through April 3, from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Since coming to the United States, Mr. Coppini has established a studio at the Grosse Pointe Academy and has done much art work for churches in the area.

The fee for the 10-week course is $50.

Amendment To Bill Eyed

The Woods Council at a recent regular meeting unanimously passed a resolution focusing upon House Bill 4211, which is presently under the consideration of the House of Representatives.

It concerns the licensing of ambulance attendants and has been amended by the Senate to allow an ambulance to be operated without emergency medical technicians, (EMTs), in the patient compartment.

The bill provides that at least two ambulance attendants staff such a vehicle if it is owned and operated by a non-profit corporation, is further staffed by non-paid volunteers and, further, that such organization does not charge a fee for services.

Officials feel the proposed legislation should also encompass municipalities, as well as non-profit corporations providing emergency ambulance service under the same or similar conditions.

As a result, the council urged that the bill be further amended in accordance with this view.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to Sens. John Hertel and Gilbert DiNello and Rep. William Bryant.

Silver Taken in GP Farms Burglary

Silver was again one of the objects of burglars who hit a Belanger road home in The Farms Tuesday evening, January 15.

Police believe the perpetrators of breaking and entering in Moran road the same evening were scared off before they could take anything from that home. Luckily for the owner in that case, his silver was hidden, police said.

A sterling silver service for 12 valued at $3,000 was taken from the Belanger road home, along with two cameras, values unknown. Entry was gained by breaking a pane of glass in a side door and reaching in to unlock it.

Cpl. Joseph Miller, the responding officer, said every room in the house had been searched, including the attic and basement.

The residents, who requested their names be withheld, said the home was vacant from 8:30 p.m. to about 12 midnight.

Earlier that evening, police received a call from a woman who was watching the home of Brian Geraghty in Moran road. Calling from a neighbor's home, the woman told police she had driven into the back yard of the home and entered through the back door, which had broken glass around it.

The woman said she saw a number of articles piled near the back door, including two long-guns. Grabbing the guns, she fled next door.

Responding officers found two pieces of stereo equipment removed from their cabinet in the living room and left on the floor, still connected.

Since a curtain rod had been pulled from the frame on the kitchen window, police speculated that the thieves may have seen the car pull into the driveway, run to the rear window to have a look, left everything and fled via the front door, which was found open.

Police said there apparently was no loss in the Moran breaking and entering.

Support to Restructure

(Continued from Page 1) placing the management and operation of wholesale water and sewer services in the Detroit metropolitan area under a new Regional Water and Sewer Commission.

The drive seeks to have the Home Rule Cities Act, Act 279 of the Public Acts of 1969, amended. The amendment provides for the control and operation of municipal water and sewage disposal systems that serve more than 25 percent of the state's population by a Regional Water and Sewer Commission to be elected by a Metropolitan Water and Sewer Council representative of the total water and sewer service area of the system.

The citizens committee is seeking 300,000 signatures by May 15 to obtain a statewide referendum in the November general election. A total of 229,327 signatures are required to place the question on the ballot.

The new regional management structure will guarantee the City of Detroit at least three members on the new Regional Water and Sewer Commission. The 97 suburban water and sewer customer communities will elect the other six members of the commission.

The new regional commission will be responsible for the hiring of the director and deputy director and provide general management and operating control for the delivery of wholesale water and sewer services for the system.

In its resolution, the Woods Council says the Detroit Wastewater Treatment Plant has been cited by the Environmental Protection Agency as the nation's single largest source of pollution to the Great Lakes, and that over the past few years wholesale sewage treatment rates have increased for metropolitan Detroit customers by more than 530 percent.

It also points out that the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department still has "massive problems" in the areas of adequate staffing and training of personnel.

"More than half of the population served by the metropolitan Detroit Water and Sewer System is located outside the City of Detroit, and more than half of the revenues of the system, based on user charges, are paid by customers located outside the City of Detroit," the resolution says.

As a result, the council strongly supports the program of the Citizens for Regional Water and Sewer System to engage in legislative efforts, including the support of the initiatory petition drive, for the restructuring of the Detroit system into a regional system operated by a Regional Water and Sewer Commission to be elected by representatives of all of the communities served by the system.

The Park and Harper Woods also have expressed support for this petition drive.

Program Eyes Owning Home

"Home Ownership in The Grosse Pointes," a new program in the popular adult education offerings of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, is designed to help citizens protect the biggest investment they will probably make in their lifetime — their home.

Programs will be held on five Thursday evenings, beginning February 14, at Brownell Middle School, 280 Chalfonte avenue from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

There will be lectures, panel discussions and plenty of time for questions from the audience.

Featured on the program will be men and women with wide experience in such fields as investment counseling, real estate, mortgages, real estate laws and municipal services.

"Housing As An Investment" will be one evening session on investment choices such as stocks, bonds, real estate, et al.

"Protecting Your Housing Investment" will deal with maintenance, modernization, codes, municipal services, certificates of occupancy and other related topics.

There will be one session devoted to various methods of financing a housing purchase — mortgages, land contracts and future directions in-home financing.

Other sessions will deal with the role of the real estate professional, real estate ethics and local customs and what to look for when you buy a house.

"Home Ownership in The Grosse Pointes" is co-sponsored by the Continuing Education Division of the Grosse Pointe Public School System and the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Board.

Reservations may be made by writing to Box D-7, the "Grosse Pointe News," 99 Kercheval avenue, Grosse Pointe 48236, or by using the coupon which appears in the brokers section of this issue of the NEWS.

Camp Strives To Help Youths

Pointer C. Kenneth Perry Jr., president of the board of directors of Camp Happy Hollow, Inc., recently announced the establishment of a new, comprehensive, respite care program at the camp-site at Mayville, Mich.

The purpose of this new program is to serve various state agencies and private individuals in placing clients who require short term care and supervision until a more permanent situation can be established.

He also stated that many times there is an emergency or illness in a family which necessitates the immediate placement of a handicapped child or young adult in a respite care position.

These two types of situations are primarily the reason for the development of this service, noted Mr. Perry.

Camp Happy Hollow, Inc., was founded in 1957 as a summer camp for mentally impaired youngsters and young adults. In 1976, a new camp was built in Mayville, equipped with the facilities to operate on a year round basis.

Marsha A. Reid, formerly an instructor of Southwest Missouri State University, is the full-time executive director.

She emphasizes the fact that Camp Happy Hollow is adequately ready to accept any type of children and young adults which have mental, physical and/or emotional related problems.

For further information, call Camp Happy Hollow at 1-517-873-3666 and ask for Miss Reid.

Rate to Fall

Prior to 1976, Detroit did not assess taxes on the Windmill Pointe property.

But it was around that time when the Chalmers-Jefferson Block Club went to court to force The Park to pay the taxes after one of its members was denied access to the park.

Seeks Reduction

The club felt that since a portion of the park property was in Detroit, its members should be allowed to enter.

Although the council accepted Mr. Deason's recommendation to accept the lower assessment, Councilman Dr. Roger F. McNeill felt the city should seek to reduce the new rate before the tax tribunal.

Dr. McNeill noted that several of his neighbors in Windmill Pointe drive went before the tax agency and came back with lowered assessments on their property.

"We should have our day in court, too. Municipalities should be collecting taxes, not paying taxes," he said.

The lower assessment will entitle The Park a tax refund of about $3,000 from Detroit.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Vacations will never seem the same if the penny post card ever becomes a two-center.

Clown Corps Seeks Members

New member registration dates for the Grosse Pointe Clown Corps have been scheduled for the next three months, reports corps chairman Arthur J. Kuehnel.

False Reports

Besides "your youth is being held at The Woods' station" calls, Officer DeVine cited several other false reports including one involving a kidnapping threat, a car dealer and the repossession of a citizen's auto and a "rumble" in the North High School parking lot with baseball bats and chains. (On the latter, a related trouble in progress call in the gym also proved to be false.)

In citing the terror some parents have felt because of the calls, Officer DeVine indicated they should not entirely disbelieve them but, before coming overly alarmed, should contact their local police department to confirm the information given.

Any number given by the caller should not be used.

At the same time, he pointed to the waste of time, along with the inherent dangers involved of quickly responding personnel, in such cases.

Officer DeVine, in feeling a group of youths may be responsible, added he has some leads in these incidents.

Wine Lines
By John Lundberg

The Pinot Noir is what makes the red wines of the Burgundy region in France great. The Pinot Blanc is the secondary grape of the region producing white Burgundies. In California, though, the Pinot Blanc is not considered a secondary grape and flourishes to produce an excellent white, fruity wine. Pinot Blanc is a great wine to enhance the taste of a simple fish meal. It is also good with cold cuts, or for those times when you are not sure what wine to drink when having spaghetti with clam sauce or even a tuna salad sandwich.

If you are searching for something pleasing, tasteful and interesting to drink, whether for a banquet or an afternoon snack as you enjoy your favorite sporting event, then the answer is PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit. Our shelves are stocked with an array of beers, wines and liquors that meet the distinctive demands of everyone for every purpose. In addition, we have a large selection of related products to go along with those fine beverages that will add the crowning touch to your enjoyment. Jr. Symphony Concert Slated

Duo soloists will join the Grosse Pointe Junior Symphony in presenting a Winter Concert on Tuesday, January 29, in the Parcels Middle School auditorium, 20600 Mack avenue, at 8 p.m.

Mary Skewes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Skewes of Yorkshire road, and Stephen Willison, son of the J. David Willisons of Heather lane, both symphony members, were chosen as soloists by auditions last fall.

A sophomore at South High School and a member of the South Symphony Orchestra, Mary will perform the first movement of the Concerto for Viola and String Orchestra by Handshkin.

She has been playing the viola for six years and has attended the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp.

Stephen is a member of the trumpet section of the North High School Symphony Band and Symphonv Orchestra. A sophomore and a trumpeter for six years, he also attended the Csehy Music Camp in Pennsylvania.

This student musician will present the second and third movements of the Concerto for Trumpet and Orchestra by Haydn during the concert.

The symphony, in its eighth season and conducted this year by Nathan Judson, director of instrumental music at North, will present the Judas Maccabaeus Suite by Handel, the Barrel Organ Waltz from the "Gadfly" by Shostakovich, Op. 97a, and the Fugue in G minor, ("The Lesser"), by J. S. Bach.

The program will continue with the Dance of the Tumblers from "The Snow Maiden" by Rimsky-Korsakoff, and the Swedish Rhapsody from "Midsommarvaka" by Alfvén, Op. 19.

It will conclude with Musical Highlights from "Annie" by Strouse. Tickets, at $1.50 for adults, $1 for students, with no charge for senior citizens, are available from any symphony member or at the box office the evening of the concert.

More information is available by calling 343-2240 or 886-4914.

The symphony members, all chosen by audition, are students through grade 10 in Grosse Pointe's public and private schools. They attend weekly, after-school rehearsals throughout the school year to prepare for two evening concerts a year.

The symphony also tours the local schools twice a year, presenting concerts for the students.

Many members in the symphony's eight-year history have enrolled in leading music schools throughout the country following their graduation from high school, continuing their studies as soloists or ensemble performers.

Grosse Pointe Junior Symphony's board of directors planning the concert includes Mr. Judson, Bruce Feighner, North High School principal, Betty Morris, president, Donald McNew, secretary, Christina Judson, treasurer, Mrs. Barbara Ambrose and Joseph Bauer.

More are Ann Ditmars, May Krager, Ralph Miller, Sharon Seaver and Ann Wallace.

Widow's Gift To Mark Field

Two months ago the Board of Education voted to rename the large playground next to Richard School after its late principal, Clarence J. Messner. This month the trustees voted to accept a gift of $1,000 from Dr. Messner's widow for a sign or monument to mark the honor.

The renaming of the field, formerly called McMillan, was inspired by a committee planning Richard's 50th anniversary this spring. The Board hopes to settle on an appropriate marker for the field by that time.

Dr. Messner, an ardent nature lover and conservationist, was the school's first principal, serving from 1930 until his retirement in 1962. He died last May.

GPW, GPF Churchgoers Hit by Thief

Three incidents wherein citizens attending church were victimized occurred on Sunday, January 20, with two of the larceny reports occurring in The Woods and one in The Farms.

Fourteen citizens were victimized at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, when a male suspect took a man's camel hair coat valued at $175, which police believe he wore when seen by an usher, and a variety of articles from the purses of 13 women.

These items included money, ranging from $7 to around $60, credit cards and many driver's licenses.

The usher told Officer Robert Rabe he saw the suspect in the basement cloak room where the ladies choir leaves their coats and purses.

Before he could detain the suspect, the man left. After noticing the purses in disarray on the floor, the usher called police, with a check of the area proving negative.

The suspect was described as around 45 years of age, about 5'8" tall, with gray hair. He also was wearing the full-length camel hair coat.

In the other Woods case, two coats were removed from Saint Michael's Episcopal Church, 20475 Sunningdale drive. Taken from the cloak room was a woman's full length mink coat, valued at between $2,000 and $3,000, and a man's full length gabardine coat, valued at around $75.

Two incidents of stolen coats were reported to Farms police by churchgoers at the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, 211 Moross road. Both coats were removed from the coat rack at the rear of the church during services.

Short Takes at South High

Despite the fine play of Phil Agby, South's freshman basketball team suffered two straight losses last week. Agby dominated the rebounding and led the scoring with 28 points in the two games and hit on six of eight free throws in the Highland Park contest.

Dave Millar scored 11 second half points in a losing effort, as Highland Park's speed on the fast break was too much for South. Daryl Lowe led the opposition scoring with 18 points as the Parkers dealt the Blue Devils a 69-43 setback.

Agby led the scoring with 12 points. Ken Fromm came off the bench to net six points. Bill Rathsburg, Marty Montagne and Paul Rentz scored four points apiece.

The frosh played better at Kelly Junior High, as they took a two-point first quarter lead. They trailed by only four points midway through the final period, before John Santaana poured in 11 points in the last four minutes as Kelly moved away to a 60-48 win.

It was a two-man show as Dave Taylor and Santaana combined for 46 of Kelly's 60 points.

South's scoring was more balanced, as Agby led the way with 14. Rathsburg was good for eight before fouling out in the fourth quarter. Millar netted eight points and Montagne, Rentz and Rich Moellering contributed six points each.

South's record now stands at 1-6. The frosh will try to improve their record as they face L'Anse Creuse North at home on Friday, January 25, and travel to Oakwood on Tuesday, January 29.

played two outstanding games last week as they crushed St. Clair Shores Lake Shore and lost a tough game at the hands of Roseville.

Glenn Piche and John DeBoer put on outstanding performances for the home crowd as the Blue Devils rolled to a 76-56 victory over Lake Shore. Piche pumped in 25 points and DeBoer, the team's leading scorer for the year, added another 20 points. South made 20 of 25 free throws, and that proved to be the difference.

Roseville nipped South 45-43. It was a see-saw battle the whole game. A Roseville field goal with 1:22 left in the game proved to be the difference.

Chris Ellis had a chance to tie the game with 10 seconds left, but his layup didn't fall and Roseville prevailed.

Roseville's victory was its eighth straight. They now lead the Eastern Michigan League with a 5-0 record and an 8-1 overall record. South is currently 2-3 in the EML and 5-5 overall.

The Blue Devils will host L'Anse Creuse North Friday, January 25, at 8 p.m.

Sports at University-Liggett

Skaters Lose 1st

After a tremendous first half of the season, the ULS varsity ice hockey team lost a game to number one ranked Class A power Trenton, and a heartbreaker to the always tough Brother Rice.

On Wednesday, December 18, at Liggett's McCann Ice Rink, Trenton walked away with a 5-2 victory. Trenton was leading after a power play goal in the first period, 1-0, when Dave Parker scored for Liggett on a two-on-one pass from Jamie Todd.

In the second, Trenton answered four minutes later with a goal and added two more before the period ended. Liggett staged a strong attack late in the second period only to be turned away by Trenton goalie Alan Good.

Allen Taber scored the final ULS tally of the evening before Trenton added its last.

On Saturday, January 19, ULS traveled to Birmingham to play Brother Rice and lost, 3-2. It was a close checking, low scoring affair with Kris Robbins getting the only goal of the first period to give Liggett a 1-0 lead.

The second period saw Brother Rice score twice, once on a breakaway and once on a power play. Rich Carron scored on a pass from Robbins to start the third period and tie the game.

Rice scored with only 34 seconds left to win the game and give ULS its second loss in a row. It was Liggett's first loss in the Michigan Metro High School League.

On Friday, January 25, ULS travels to Allen Park Saint Frances Cabrini, and on Saturday, January 26, it hosts arch rival Cranbrook for a 6 p.m. face off.

But the Knights' fire was then snuffed by a one-point loss to the Oakland Christian Lancers. The game ended at 58-57 when an Oakland Christian player blocked a ULS shot in the last second of play. Tony Alicantara earned recognition as the Knights' outstanding player on defense, also adding five points to the Knights' total.

Cagers Split 4

By Bill Gore
ULS varsity cagers split their last four games. After losing to Southfield Christian on Tuesday, January 8, the Knights rebounded with a hard-fought 59-53 win over the Huron Valley Hawks on Friday, January 11.

Kevin Jackson, the game's high scorer, contributed 20 points to help lift the Knights to victory.

The Knights kept the fire alive by defeating the Lutheran Northwest Crusaders, 53-37, on Thursday, January 17. Twelve of 15 ULS players scored.

Swimmers Do Well

By Lara Measelle
Blue Devil varsity swimmers Jeff Measelle and Larry MacDonald set two pool records, winning firsts on Thursday, January 17, in a swim meet against Mount Clemens, which South won, 114-42.

Highlights of the meet were Measelle's 200 free record breaking time which wiped out a seven-year pool record by one and a half seconds. MacDonald likewise captured a pool and South varsity record, winning the 500-yard free.

Impressive swims were turned in by Mike Bartoszewicz, who won first in the 100 breast, turning in a time of 1:08.2 and Rob Wood in the 50 free. He placed first.

South swept two events, winning first, second and third place. In the 100 free, Measelle was followed by Bartsch and Wood. The second sweep was in the 100 backstroke event with Jeff Colton taking first and Mark Muller and Dan Levitt placing second and third, respectively.

Other firsts were credited Bartoszewicz in the 200 IM and Clark in the 100 fly. Both relays took first.

The 200 medley of Colton, Hiles, Clark and Bartsch took first ahead of South's two other relay teams, which took 2nd and 3rd. The 400 free relay team of Measelle, Bartsch, Bradfield and Kevin Chown clocked an impressive time to win the event. The team's next meet is scheduled for Thursday, January 24, at East Detroit.

Navy 'Rep' Talks at SH

By Tom Kisskalt
U.S. Naval Academy representative, Greg Lawler, was at South High School on Monday, January 7, to talk to students interested in the Academy.

Greg is in his second year at the Academy and has recently visited 10 high schools in lower Michigan to talk and generate interest about the Academy.

Greg attended Harper Woods Notre Dame High School and played varsity basketball there. He said that he wants to make his career as a Naval officer. He is currently playing intramural basketball and participating in track at the Academy.

Next semester he will be carrying 21 hours of credit, a very heavy load in contrast to the 15 hours that most college students will be taking.

The U.S. Naval Academy is regarded as one of the strongest colleges both academically and in athletics in the country. It also has the finest computer technology equipment in the world, according to Greg.

The days at the Academy consist first of going to classes, then doing drills and marching, and then any athletics in which one is involved.

Greg stated the Academy is tough, but worthwhile for anyone interested.

Rotary Club Plans Auction

The Rotary Club of Grosse Pointe plans to consummate its fund raising efforts by having a banquet and auction party Saturday, January 26, at Jacobson's In-the-Village.

This year's club auctioneers will include Vic Caputo, Sonny Eliot and Jerry Hodak. Over 100 gifts have been donated by Rotary members and outside patrons. President Mark Valente says that this annual auction should net approximately $20,000.

A large share of this money will be pledged to the new Neighborhood Club Senior Citizens Community Center, officials add.

Star Spikers Win 2nd Match

By Catherine Snyder
Our Lady Star of the Sea High School's varsity volleyball team won its second match of the season at home Monday, January 14, against Cardinal Mooney High School.

With the help of Cindy Meier's nine-point serving streak, Star took the first game, 15-2. The second game, in a best two out of three match, did not prove to be any more difficult than the first, with Star winning decisively, 15-3.

Star's overall record now stands at 2-0.

Racquetball Form

By Lynn Puscas
One of the most rapidly growing sports among all age groups is the fast-moving and exciting game of racquetball.

To give teens the opportunity to learn or continue their already obtained skill in racquetball, South has started its second season of the Blue Devil Racquetball Club. The club, sponsored by Greg Heffner, a science teacher, is available to any student at South interested in playing racquetball.

The games will be played every Friday at Rose Shores East Racquetball Club in Roseville, (near 13 Mile road). Cost of joining the club is $30 for old members and an additional $2 for new members, which covers the cost for the South Racquetball shirts they receive upon joining. Students belonging to the club will have to provide their own means of transportation.

Since the racquetball club had an overwhelming success in the first season, a second season was started Friday, January 18, and will continue until March 28. Already this season 65 enthusiastic Racquetballers have joined the Blue Devil Racquetball club.

Edwards Wins 2 Ski Medals

Tracey Edwards of Moross road won two bronze medals for her two third place finishes in downhill races held Friday, January 11, at Boyne Mountain.

About 70 Junior Alpine ski racers from Michigan took part in the ski races sponsored by the Central Division of the United States Ski Association, (CUSSA). Low point racers will be invited to compete in the Divisionals at Boyne Mountain February 26 to 29 against competitors from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan's Upper Peninsula and Ohio.

The same U.S. Ski Association program is repeated in other areas of the country. It encourages young racers to participate in competition and serves as a method of recognizing the most skilled racers.

Krickstein Wins Tennis Tourney

Aaron Krickstein of The Woods was the winner of the Southeast Michigan Tennis Association Boys 14 Indoor Championship held the weekend of January 11 to 13 at the Lochmoor Club.

Krickstein defeated top-seeded Robby Weiss of Chicago in the finals, 6-4, 6-1. Weiss recently won the Boys 14 National Indoor Championship, and Krickstein's victory over him was the first in several meetings.

Consolation winner was David Jenkins of Grand Rapids, who defeated Paul Koscielski of South Bend, Ind., 6-1, 6-1.

Letters to The Editor of The NEWS

To the Editor:
 After returning from a week-long vacation, on a flight which was delayed more than an hour and a half, I arrived just after 3 a.m. to where I had left my car parked in Grosse Pointe City to find that the car had been let out of my rear tires. Needless to say, this was a great inconvenience, but the friend who met me at the airport was glad to drop me at my mother's home, also in The City. Early that afternoon, after resting for a few hours, I called for a tow truck to meet me back at the car to take it to a service station. I felt rather foolish when the tow truck arrived and there was no car there! I went up to the house in front of which the car had been parked only hours earlier to see if she knew what had happened. The very pleasant lady at 366 Rivard said she didn't know anything about it, but suggested I immediately contact the police.

wonderful people up north think about as much of you, as you think of them. It's about time all of you realized that civilized life does exist beyond Alter road. This letter will not change Grosse Pointe. It was this way long before I was born, and will probably be this way long after I am gone, but I hope this makes some people realize that there is more to life than the good 'ol pink and green. Sincerely, W. C. Bruce, Holly, Michigan

To the Editor:
 I am replying to a letter published in your paper, (January 17 edition), concerning the condition of Lakeshore road. By this time, I am sure that everyone in the Grosse Pointes must know that the policy of the Wayne County Road Commission is to pay for 92 percent of the resurfacing of a county road, with the principle through which the road runs, paying the remaining eight percent. Time and again I have arranged meetings with either council members or representatives from The Farms and The Shores, with members of the road commission. Since then, the Shores Council and the road commission have worked out an arrangement suitable to all parties. Lakeshore road, in The Shores, has now been assigned top priority status and will be resurfaced this summer.

The officer at the desk in the station said there was no record of having had my car towed away. After checking they realized my car had been impounded, but they had neglected to make any record of it. (A natural error for a police force as large and busy as that of Grosse Pointe City.) Asking how to retrieve my car, the officer said he would not give me the address until I paid the $10 ticket. Why did I get a ticket, and why was my car towed away? Well, of course, it was because of the law that says you may not park on any residential street for more than 48 hours, everyone knows that! The officer did concede that this law is rarely enforced unless there is a request to have the auto removed. The policeman said "a woman at 366 Rivard had called and complained." I truly pity this woman who has obviously been sheltered from such a thing as "Do unto others..." and "Thou shalt not lie." After going to the bank to cash a check, which was very difficult since I don't live in Grosse Pointe, I returned to the police station, paid my ticket and found out that my car was half way downtown. That was at 3:15, and I arrived at the car pound by 3:45, only to find out that the lot closed at 3 p.m. Of course there's no reason City police should be aware of that fact. Now my total bill for this adventure included the ticket, towing, daily storage fee, a day's pay and car repair. It was just over $100. Well, the method to all this madness is that I am a third generation Grosse Pointer, who recently moved to one of those quaint little rural towns up north that everyone thinks they've heard of. In comparison, after the freezing rain of December 16, my car slid off an icy road up north into a ditch. The lady whose house I sought aid at was possibly the most hospitable and kind woman I have had the pleasure to come across. Some of the finest people I know and my very best of friends are Grosse Pointers. But it's the people like the police and the woman on Rivard that have earned Grosse Pointe the stereotyped reputation that I deny up north. Well I shall deny it no longer, but now if people ask I will say I'm from Holly, not Grosse Pointe. To all people like the resident of Rivard, and all others like her, may I say that the warm,

I worked out an arrangement between the road commission and The Farms, whereby The Farms would contribute $12,000 to repave Lakeshore over a four year period — interest free. This is $3,000 a year with no interest, but The Farms Council voted down this proposal. Consequently the road commission and the council are locked in a stalemate. Since I can clearly see the stalemate and realize that, because of it all the people in the Grosse Pointes are suffering, 10 months ago, at my own expense, I filed a lawsuit against the Wayne County Road Commission. At that time and many times since, I have asked the Farms Council to join me in the lawsuit, but again they opted against any action. Those who read the local daily newspapers will know that I have spearheaded reorganization of the county which, in turn, has resulted in an expose detailing the autonomy of the Wayne County Road Commission. As I have stated repeatedly, they operate independently of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and the only way this will change is by a change of the existing law by the state legislature. This, then, should make it quite clear that there is no way any one person, including myself or the Governor of the state, can issue an ultimatum to the road commission to resurface Lakeshore. The answer lies with the cooperation of the Farms Council, and until they change their position, re-surfacing of Lakeshore in The Farms will remain stalled. In view of the above, I know the knowledgeable and responsible voters in the Grosse Pointes can understand the problem. In spite of this problem, I shall continue my endeavors to bring these two parties to an equitable agreement. I would like to thank the "Grosse Pointe News" for allowing me the opportunity to explain and to update the voters on the true facts of the Lakeshore road resurfacing situation. Sincerely, Ervin A. Steiner Jr., Commissioner, First District

 As recent news accounts have reported, the Board of Education took action on a millage proposal at its January monthly meeting. The Board unanimously adopted a resolution asking the electorate to grant the authority to establish the maximum voted millage rates at the identical levels approved in March 1977.

County's Accomplishments Are Reviewed by Steiner

Improved and expanded senior citizen services led the list of 1979 accomplishments of Wayne County government, according to a year-end assessment last week by Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner Jr., who represents District One that includes the Pointes and adjacent far-east Detroit. In addition, Mr. Steiner in a news release said that county residents will gain from new employment programs and the attraction of more federal dollars for a variety of needs in 1980 because of measures adopted by the board last year. "Knowing our own financial limits, we worked hard for more federal funds that will be applied towards programs ranging from energy conservation to economic development measures and public works projects," he said. "We also balanced our budget within $300,000 to $400,000 despite an $18 million deficit." He said that he considers adoption of the $281 million budget an exceptional achievement, "when you take into account the position expressed by the Governor and some members of the legislature which hinders rather than helps half the population of the state." Improvements for senior citizens began last January with appointment of an 18-member task force of commissioners to study ways to better the daily hot noon meal program. Since then, with the aid of a $138,000 grant from the State Office of Services to the Aging, up to 200 more seniors in Highland Park and Hamtramck are eligible to receive free home-delivered meals through an experimental project that will be implemented out-county and throughout the state if it proves successful. The program provides two meals a day, one hot and one cold, Mr. Steiner noted. In addition, a new scratch cooking program was opened at "J" Building on the General Hospital grounds in Westland to offer more inexpensive and varied menus. On the hospital grounds, another seniors program also expanded in 1979 was the gardening project which now accommodates 230 lots measuring 50 feet square, and the seniors also are allowed to sell the plants they raise in the hospital greenhouse. To continue a flow of federal dollars and provide employment, said Mr. Steiner, last year the board formed the Private Industry Council, (PIC), to qualify for a $2 million program replacing aspects of CETA being phased out. The emphasis for PIC is private sector training and employment rather than in government and public agencies as before. For the sixth consecutive year the Board approved involvement in federally funded summer job programs for youth. Last year the programs authorized $3.25 per hour for up to six weeks and served nearly 4,000 youngsters, said Mr. Steiner. The commissioners also approved measures enabling the Economic Development Corporation, (EDC), established by them to provide for issuance of up to $40 million in revenue bonds for financing nine commercial and industrial projects creating 400 jobs. At the board's request, the EDC is assisting the City of Hamtramck following announcement of the closing of the Dodge Main assembly plant, and with help from Congressman Lucien N. Nedzi, has engaged an expert Maryland consulting firm to also help. Mr. Steiner also highlighted the following 1979 accomplishments: • Established an Energy Management Council to create and guide a county-wide energy conservation program. • Brought in $6.5 million in federal funds under the Community Development Block Grant program which altogether has realized about $22.5 million in five years of participation by the county. • Relieved the county of a deficit operation with sale of the Walter P. Reuther Long Term Care facility to the State for $12 million. Now in his fourth consecutive two-year term on the County Board of Commissioners, Mr. Steiner is the new vice-chairman of the Ways and Means Committee comprised of all 27 commissioners and the authority over all expenditures. He also is a member of the Public Works Committee that oversees major new construction and maintenance projects.

GP Memorial Meets A Need

To meet a need within the Grosse Pointe community, noted Presbyterian minister, Rev. Carl Singer Fisher, D.D., of Johnstown, Pa., has come out of a short-lived retirement. For the next five months, Dr. Fisher will serve the large congregation of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, as interim associate minister of parish life. A national search is under way for the most qualified candidate available to fill this essential post in the structure of Grosse Pointe's oldest Protestant association.

Council Offers Consumers' Aid

Consumers who want to be forewarned about common seasonal problems can now get a copy of Michigan's 1980 Consumer Calendar released recently by the Michigan Consumers Council. "Each month describes a problem consumers may encounter during the year," explained Executive Director Linda Joy. "It gives practical advice on what to do and where to go for help. For example, many consumers are in the market for home insulation in September. So for that month we suggest consumers look for the product label which tells how effectively the material retains heat. "Perhaps more importantly, however, the calendar lets consumers know that our toll-free Consumers Council Guideline is available to counsel them on all types of consumer matters. They can simply dial toll-free 373-0947 in the Lansing area, 963-8806 in Detroit or 1-800-292-5680 in any other area of the state." Consumers who would like a copy of the 1980 Consumer Calendar can write the Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Building, 106 W. Allegan, Lansing 48933 or call the toll-free Consumers Council Guideline. There is no charge for the calendar.

PAPAYA SIZE REDUCED
 The papaya, popular in Hawaii and other tropical islands, was originally a much larger fruit—some the size of small watermelons. The small papaya in the islands today was introduced from Barbados, and named "solo" to indicate it is a one-person portion.

Students Join Smoking Battle

By Joe Srebrnak
 South High's National Honor Society members are preparing programs, films, lectures and discussions to educate fifth grade students about the effects of lighting a cigarette. The program, under the guidance of counselor Vorita McClure, involves a complete presentation of all aspects of the smoking scene. The 10 teaching teams involve one boy and girl for each Grosse Pointe elementary school. The teams will visit all public, parochial and private schools in the district. The American Cancer Society donates useful materials, films and information to students through Louise TeWait, who will screen new films and lend instructional machines to demonstrate lung cancer results from the tar and nicotine of cigarettes. The six-year-old project distributes a film for teachers to show and discuss. The cartoon, "Puff The Dragon" is being replaced by a new and updated movie. Another element in the presentation includes the demonstration of a smoke machine. A cigarette is lit and put into the device which pulls out the tar and nicotine onto white gauze. Pupils are then informed what can happen to the lungs and the result may be deadly. Open discussion follows, as instructors answer questions posed by the students. Reactions on smoking, drugs and alcohol are answered by the South students. As the session closes, students are encouraged to produce creative drawings showing what knowledge they have gained. Drawings will be displayed in South's show cases. SOLUTION In the final analysis it's the results that count—not big plans or broken promises.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Lois and Bewley Priestman had had their Fisher road home for years, and they loved it, and loved The Pointe, but when Bewley retired from General Motors they decided to do something they had wanted to do for years: tear down their "cottage" on Harsens Island and build a permanent, year-round home there.

And they did . . . and, during the holidays, they invited a goodly group out to see what they had done.

It was a super party, a fine fun, "uncatered" affair. The guest list included members of several women's clubs, the Detroit Boat Club and the Optimist Club of Grosse Pointe, reflecting the Priestmans' involvements through the years, and the many friends they have made through those involvements.

Bewley, English-born, a graduate of Oxford, has been an active Pointe Optimist.

Lois, a musician, has been a vice-president of the Detroit Review Club and the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club, has been responsible for many benefit parties and has provided piano or organ accompaniment for several benefit fashion shows given by both organizations.

She's been active, too, in Theatre Arts, as an actress, singer and dancer. Most of the Priestmans' guests have been equally active, veteran benefit-party planners for various organizations, and, knowing how much work goes on behind the scenes for a successful party, they were delighted to pitch in to make the Priestman party super-successful.

The men volunteered to act as the reception committee. Ken Locke, (he's a past-president of the Boat Club, and therefore knows just about everybody), Jack Mills and Milton Osgood arrived early to do the honors.

Among the past-presidents present was Doro-

Camp Is Tau Beta Gathering's Focus

Marguerite Stroh, Who Joined in 1906, Is Honored for 74 Years of Service to Her Organization

The Grosse Pointe Club was the setting earlier this month for Tau Beta's annual meeting, with Mrs. Henry M. Woodhouse, president, calling the group to order on a lovely sunny Saturday on the shores of Lake St. Clair.

One highlight of the gathering was the induction of four new trustees: Mrs. Edward B. Caulkins, Jr., Mrs. Laurence C. Connor, Mrs. Henry C. Kohring and Mrs. Roger K. Powers.

Another was the acceptance of associate members into full membership.

A third was a showing of the Tau Beta Camp movie, and an extensive and exciting report on the camp located in Columbiaville, just 65 miles from Detroit.

It was announced that the Eleanor Clay Ford Farmhouse has been renovated and winterized for use by nonprofit and private groups. The farmhouse sleeps 10 and can accommodate more for meetings or outings during the day.

The Kanzler Cabin, which sleeps 40, is available for rent during April, May, June, September and October.

Renovation of the rest of the camp is almost complete, with all facilities scheduled to be available for use by the spring. There are sleeping cabins to accommodate 88 and the David and Bethine Whitney Dining Hall, which can seat 115.

Other facilities are the Marion Wilcox Activities Building, an infirmary and staff housing.

And there is a lake, for swimming, canoeing and fishing activities . . . and a nature trail is in the process of being developed.

The camp report was received with enthusiasm and excitement by all members.

Yet another highlight of the meeting came when Mrs. Woodhouse honored Miss Marguerite Stroh, who joined Tau Beta in 1906 and has been an active member for 74 years. Her devotion, energy, service and support continue to be a source of inspiration for the younger members.

Fairless-Koperwas Vows Are Spoken

Newlyweds Vacation in Bahamas After Early Autumn Rites; Are at Home in North Brys Drive

Mr. and Mrs. Mark David Fairless left Greenfield Village's Martha Mary Chapel following their candlelight wedding there Sunday, September 2, to enter the first of two horsedrawn carriages which took them, and members of their wedding party, around the village.

Mrs. Fairless, the former Kristine Lynn Koperwas, who had been making her home in Bishop road, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Koperwas, of Warren.

Mr. Fairless, of North Brys drive, a University of Michigan honors graduate with a Bachelors degree in Finance, is the son of Mrs. David Hale Fairless, formerly of North Brys drive, and the late Mr. Fairless.

The 5 o'clock ceremony at which Dr. Dale Ihrie, of Lakeshore Presbyterian Church, presided was followed by a reception at Camoron Hall, Taylor.

The newlyweds vacationed for a week in The Bahamas. They are at home in North Brys drive.

Lace formed the cap sleeves and high neckline of the bride's white Qiana gown.

Floral appliques accented her sheer yoke, and her cathedral train was lace-edged.

She wore a matching, waltz length veil and carried a dozen white roses, stephanotis and English baby's-breath.

Honor maid Susan Bledsoe wore a spaghetti-strapped dress of dusty rose Qiana with a matching, short-sleeved jacket.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically in wine Qiana, were two sisters of the bride, Mrs. Dennis Plansker and Mrs. James Trieloff, and Therese Nottingham, Marilyn Swiatek and Susan Harris. Each carried a single, pink rose, with baby's-breath.

Flower girl was Heather Plansker, the bride's niece.

Edward Cutlip was best man. Guests were seated by Mr. Plansker, Mr. Trieloff, Donald Koperwas, brother of the bride, Edward Howell and Howard Frazier.

The mother of the bride wore a long gown of grey chiffon over a pink floral underskirt. Pink Sweetheart roses and baby's-breath formed her corsage.

Gravelle-Mast Troth Is Told

Mr. and Mrs. W. James Mast, of Cloverly road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jana Ann, to David Lawrence Gravelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Gravelle, of Windsor, Ont.

Miss Mast was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School and attended Endicott College. Her fiancé, a graduate of Ryerson Polytechnical Institute, is associated with the Ontario Educational Communications Authority in Toronto.

Artist Shows At Lochmoor

An exhibit of drawings and paintings by Detroit artist Tony Williams opened at Lochmoor Club Saturday, January 19, and will continue there through February.

This is the first one man show for Mr. Williams, a graduate of the Society of Arts and Crafts, (now the Center for Creative Studies), who has been teaching there since 1968 as assistant professor of Figure Painting and Drawing.

He has exhibited in juried shows including, most recently, the Focus Gallery Figure Show in Detroit, and has been involved both in promoting a new Detroit magazine about local artists and in public relations activities for the Michigan Art Association.

Star Students Honor A Pair of Special Teachers

by Cathy Pieronek

Our Lady Star of the Sea High School girls honored two very special teachers last Thursday, January 17, at a mass attended by the entire student body. The two women, MARGARITA IBARLUZEA, (left), and Sister LUCILLE HAMACEK, S.S.J.T.O.S.P., will be leaving Star at the end of the semester after nine and a half years of dedicated service.

Mrs. Ibarluzea began teaching at Star in 1970 in the Spanish and Home Economics Departments. She gradually shifted her area of teaching to World History and Spanish. Her service, though, went beyond educating the minds of so many girls.

She has given unselfishly of herself as moderator of the freshman classes for the past several years, senior class advisor this year and organizer of numerous activities at school such as Open House, Senior Graduation Breakfast and Spanish Club.

Each year she accompanies several Spanish students on an Easter trip to Mexico. In keeping with her interests in the arts, Mrs. Ibarluzea will be teaching several classes in framemaking at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Sister Lucille, who is moving to Elkhart, Ind., has taught at Star in the English Department since 1970, and has served as English Department Head. She will be greatly missed in other school related activities as well.

She was the moderator of the Senior class for many years and always efficiently organized the beautiful spring commencement exercises.

Shortly after arriving at Star, Sister Lu became moderator of the Drama Club and instituted Star's first Forensics Team, whose members have ranked very highly in national competition. In addition, for the past five years Sister Lu has taken several area students on the American Field Services trip to Europe.

At the special mass, several students and Donald Sloan, Star's principal, spoke of Mrs. Ibarluzea and Sister Lucille and their service to the school. Said Mr. Sloan: "They will be greatly missed for the dedication, service, but most of all, the friendship which they have brought to Star of the Sea."

Then the two teachers were presented with gifts from the entire school. Sister Lucille received a slide projector, in keeping with her interest in photography. Mrs. Ibarluzea was presented with a book of the complete works of Norman Rockwell, and a gift certificate.

Briggs, M.D., (internal medicine/allergy), and Michael Michaels, M.D., (ophthalmology).

The evening begins at 8:20 o'clock with a reception in the Plaza's Cabot Room. Dinner will be served in the Columbus Room. Music for dining and dancing will be provided by the Fenby-Carr Orchestra.

From Another Pointe of View

thea Bush, whose husband, Ross, has served on the Boat Club's board of directors.

Dorothea, active in Theatre Arts, has served as president of both the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Women's Association and the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association.

Many members of the Pointe Symphony Women's group were there, including Lou Wilcox, (who came with Ed, of course), a former Women's City Club program chairman-who has been president of the Detroit Review Club.

Lou is also a member of the Historic Memorials Society, and a past-president of that group, Evelyn Osgood, (she and Milton are active Detroit Boat Club members), was busy at the Priestman party talking to Dr. Donald Wicke and his wife Maureen who, like the Priestmans and the Osgoods themselves, are now permanent members of the Harsens Island social set.

The H. Lloyd Pattersons were busy chatting, too. Kay, a long-time member of the Catholic Study Club, is a past-president of the Detroit Review Club and its current program chairman.

Madeline Warner, past-president of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club, was busy talking to members of that organization while her husband Dick, current president of the Pointe Optimists, chatted with past-presidents John Christian, Marvin Beaupre, Bob Ordway and Ruby and Irvin Butterfield, who entertained in the Optimist Show.

Helen Beaupre, Marvin's wife, is currently the Detroit Review Club's corresponding secretary and hospitality chairman for Theatre Arts.

Among the other guests were Helen and Jack Mills, active in Fine Arts and Theatre Arts, Kay and Bill Baird, active in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and the Boat Club, and Bea and Joe Scalon, active in Saint Paul's Church, (Bea's a past-president of the Saint Paul's women's group).

And, of course, Gertrude Ordway came with Bob, and Marge Locke, a past-president of Theatre Arts, with Ken.

Since his retirement, Bewley Priestman has found a hobby in designing and making jewelry. Conversation piece at the party was his double-strand silver necklace.

Another conversation piece was the beautiful gold pendant and chain circling Marie Christie's neck, a 50th anniversary gift from her husband, Augustus.

But the biggest conversation piece of all was the Priestmans' beautiful home with its sweeping views of the South Channel, its 10-foot stone fireplace that heats both the living room and the family room where guests dined on tables covered with aqua cloths centered with hurricane lamps.

And everywhere, Lois' interest in music is evident. There's a grand piano in the living room, a console in the family room, and the music room, off the bedroom wing, has two organs.

Take A Day Trip to China Next Week

Cottage Hospital Auxiliary's annual meeting and luncheon will be held Wednesday, January 30, at 11 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, and Mrs. J. J. The title refers to the fact that one cannot enter Taiwan after visiting Mainland China, nor can one enter Mainland China after visiting Taiwan. Mr. Stevens has combined pictures from separate trips for this "impossible trip." Reservations may be made by calling Ms. Nancy Davison, 884-8600, Extension 2460, by Monday, January 28. Tickets are $8.50. Guests are welcome.

Inside the Mothers Club

Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, principal of Grosse Pointe South School, spoke at the Monday, January 7, meeting of the South High Mothers Club board. He gave an update on school activities, with special emphasis on student talent within the school.

Extra efforts are being made to display student art in the showcases and halls throughout the building and, in the near future, Dr. Spagnoli would also like to see student literary talent recognized.

To make students more aware of the fine performances put on by their friends in the Music Department, the school's combined orchestra and choral groups performed their Christmas concert in December for the entire student body.

Dr. Spagnoli's aim is to get each student to identify with the school in a positive way. As part of an effort aimed at making the Mothers Club board more aware of the dif-

Toast Colony Town Project

Colony Town Club members, who believe in mixing business with pleasure, have planned a delightful way to raise funds for the Cancer Loan Closet Foundation, their club's chief philanthropic interest.

It's a wine tasting party, scheduled for next Thursday evening, January 31, in the social room of Standard Federal Savings and Loan in Mack avenue.

Husbands are, of course, invited to join in the fun which begins at 6 o'clock. Co-chairing the event are a pair of Pointers, Mrs. Fred A. Rohn and Mrs. Clinton P. Hardy.

The cocktail hour will be devoted to sampling five or six wines. The Bronte Wine Company's Robert Wozniak, who will give a dissertation on the beverage, has selected a special wine to be served with dinner: beef stroganoff and salad made by some of the club members, topped off by a delicious cake.

Among Pointers who have made early reservations are Dr. and Mrs. Walter Bernard, the John Engstroms, the Carl Hassels, the Robert Huttons, the C. Gregory Marshalls, the Alfred Massnicks, Mrs. Thomas Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parks, the Emil Traums and the Oswald Zeidlers.

Among those coming from Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham are Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Gurdjian, Mrs. Robert Marr, Mrs. Carl Schulte, Mrs. Gordon Scott and Mrs. G. Russell Widger, Sr.

SUSAN HALTER, daughter of the DAVID E. HALTERS, of Washington road, has been selected for membership in Kappa Alpha Theta at Northwestern University where she is a freshman Speech and Journalism major.

DGOA Luncheon Speaker Is Bliss

Met's Executive Director to Replace Francis Robinson, Who Is Recuperating from Unexpected Surgery

Wilber H. Mack, of Country Club drive, president of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, announced last week that Tony Bliss, the Metropolitan Opera Company's executive director, will be featured speaker at the association's annual luncheon next Monday, January 28, at Detroit's Masonic Temple.

Mr. Bliss will appear in place of the Metropolitan's tan's tour director, Francis Robinson, who was originally scheduled but is recuperating from unexpected surgery. "While it is most regrettable that the ever-popular Mr. Robinson will not appear, the association is most fortunate to have Mr. Bliss. He is the person most responsible for the revitalization of the modern Metropolitan," Mr. Mack noted. Following Bliss' appointment as executive director in 1974, the productions almost immediately became consistently better, Mack added.

"The improved quality of the performances and programming under his guidance have contributed to the Met's current reputation as the world's greatest opera company. I am sure that it will be most enlightening for the luncheon audience to hear about the Met from the man at its helm."

The association's yearly opera auditions follow the luncheon. Young singers from the area will compete for $5,000 in scholarship awards.

Luncheon tickets are available to members of the Detroit Grand Opera Association and their guests. The scholarship auditions, which begin at 2 o'clock in Masonic's Scottish Rite Cathedral, are open to the public free of charge.

Chairman of the luncheon is Mrs. Kenneth W. Cunningham, Jr. Scholarship Auditions committee chairman is Mrs. Sam B. Williams.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the DGOA office, 222 5200.

Red, white and blue were the appropriate colors chosen by Mrs. Larry F. Hannant, Junior committee chairman, for the velvet bows her committee combined with baby's breath for centerpieces on each table.

Winter Driving Tips Offered

When it comes to an update on safe winter driving techniques, the man to contact is Raymond Prince of the National Safety Council. For many years he has served as secretary of NSC's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards. He coordinates the committee's year 'round activities, including the council's annual winter driving test project at Stevens Point, Wis.

"You can't stop winter," Prince contends, "but there are new techniques that will help you keep winter from stopping you."

Prince referred to changes over the years in recommended techniques in pumping brakes on slippery road surfaces. Previously, hard, fast jabs at the brake pedal were the proper way to slow or stop on ice slicked roads. This was when cars had drum brakes on all four wheels.

A good share of today's cars, however, have disk brakes on the front and drum brakes on the rear. Pumping hard and fast does not allow the front disk brakes to release completely. With the front wheels still locked and sliding, steering is never regained—the basic objective of pumping the brakes in the first place.

"Instead," Prince emphasizes, "skid testers recommend a slower, intermittent braking action—fully on and then fully off long enough to let disk brakes release so that all wheels are rolling again."

The technique should be practiced, according to Prince, until it comes naturally and you can feel when the wheels are locked or rolling. Apply the brakes until you feel that a skid is about to start, then release, steer and pump again.

Another problem arises with late model vehicles which have high idling speeds, particularly when the engine is cold—such as leaving a private driveway to enter a street.

"What happens," Prince explains, "is that the degree of braking required to slow down to make the turn may lock the front wheels while the fast idle speed of the motor is still turning the rear wheels."

"As a result, your car is moving forward but you've lost steering control and continue moving straight ahead even though your steering wheel is turned."

"In investigating this peculiar phenomenon with an automatic drive vehicle at the council's Wisconsin test site, we found that the best technique is to shift into neutral when making this type of maneuver." After the car has steered around into its new course, the gear can be returned to "drive" and power applied gently.

Prince added this note of caution: "In some jurisdictions, it is illegal to drive in neutral gear. This prohibition probably stems from the days before automatic transmissions and high idling speeds."

In addition to these new findings, Prince urged motorists to heed the committee's not-so-new recommendations for safer winter driving:

• Get the "feel" of the road by accelerating carefully to see if wheels spin; or brake gently to see if they skid. Reduce speed accordingly.

• Have good tires with good treads. Better yet, use snow tires which provide half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires. Studded snow tires, (where permitted), offer still more help on icy surfaces.

• Always carry reinforced tire chains in the trunk of your car for use during severe snow and ice conditions. They provide four to seven times as much traction on snow or ice as regular tires.

Mr. Anderson To Take Bride

The engagement of Lori Anna Wunderlich and Steven Curtis Anderson has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolf Wunderlich, of St. Clair Shores.

The bride-elect was graduated from Lutheran High School East and holds an Associate of Arts degree from Macomb County Community College. She is currently attending Wayne State University.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Anderson, of Brys drive, is a Grosse Pointe North High School graduate and is self-employed at Anderson Decking.

The couple plans a May, 1981, wedding.

Formerly, Dr. Kass was funding coordinator for teaching programs in Learning Disabilities at the United States Office of Education in Washington, D.C., and a professor of Special Education at the University of Arizona.

"How Knowledge of Child Development Can Help the Special Education Teacher" will be Dr. Doris Sponseller's keynote topic. Dr. Sponseller, associate dean of the School of Human and Educational Services and co-director of Project Early, is currently on leave from Oakland University working with the Michigan League for Human Services.

Breakout session topics will deal with working with hearing impaired children, integrating creative movement with developmental stages, operating special education programs in public schools, changing legislation and its effects on programs for young handicapped children.

DO YOU WISH TO KNOW?

When and whom will you marry?
What the year will bring you?
If your husband or wife loves another?
If your sweetheart is true?
If you will gain your lawsuit?
How soon will you make a change?
How to regain your health?
If you will inherit money?
What are you best adapted for?
If you have enemies and whom?

If you can trust your friends?
Why your love acts strange?
If you should make business changes?
Why you lost your position?
Who has said things about you?
How long will you live?
If you will ever be healthy?
If you will travel?
If you should speculate?
Why are you unlucky?

Court, presided over the mid-afternoon rites at the Gourmet House, where a reception followed the ceremony.

The bride wore a floor length gown of ivory chiffon and lace, with ivory silk flowers in her hair.

She carried a bouquet of ivory silk tiger lilies, pheasant feathers and baby's-breath.

Barbara Ann Lovelace, in a floor length, pale peach gown, with a headpiece of peach silk flowers, served as her sister's honor maid.

Attending the bride were her daughter, Almee Kathleen Cochran, in a floor length, cocoa gown, and a sister-in-law, Theresa Ann Lovelace, in a matching gown, old rose in color. Each wore silk flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of tiger lilies, feathers and baby's-breath.

Arthur Gasiewicz was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mrs. Jane Gasiewicz, of Linden, and the late Arthur Gasiewicz.

The bride was escorted by her sons, W. Ted and Michael Todd Cochran.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length, print chiffon dress in fall colors. The bridegroom's mother chose a street length, turquoise suit.

Dr. Gasiewicz is in his third year of residency in Internal Medicine and Pediatrics at Saint John Hospital.

The newlyweds are at home in Devonshire road.

MOT Slates 10th Season

It isn't often that an opera company and an opera celebrate an anniversary together, but this fall both Michigan Opera Theatre and the Michigan Opera Theatre and Men will join in a 10th anniversary celebration. MOT's eight-week fall season begins September 12.

In honor of this dual anniversary, Michigan Opera Theatre will mount a new production of the opera with the composer-librettist Carlisle Floyd directing.

Based on the play and novel by John Steinbeck, "Of Mice and Men" will replace the previously scheduled "Lady Macbeth of Mstensk."

David DiChiera, MOT general director, notes that "It has long been one of Michigan Opera Theatre's major artistic concerns to produce, when possible, at least one important American work each season."

"It is our good fortune," DiChiera says, "that a change in Carlisle's schedule will allow us to fulfill this commitment."

MOT's season will open with Strauss' "Die Fledermaus" September 12 to September 19, followed by Floyd's "Of Mice and Men" September 26 to October 4, Mozart's "Don Giovanni" October 10 to October 18 and Verdi's "Rigoletto" October 24 to November 1.

Further information may be obtained by calling 963-3717.

ULS Field Trips Play Big Role

Did you know that it is good luck to shake the hand of a chimney sweep? That was only one of many traditions University Liggett School, (ULS), second graders discovered while observing master chimney sweeps Paul and Barbara Glass' last month.

Teacher Mary Hindle invited the Glass' to trace the history of chimney sweeps and their costume, and to stress the importance of fire prevention. Following the explanations, the second graders watched the sweeps perform their craft on Hawthorne road rooftops in The Woods.

Field trips are an important part of Lower School life, according to a ULS news release. Destinations are imaginative and topics pertinent to class activities. Frequently, field trips broaden the students' realm of experiences.

For example, Janet Hansen's second graders were able to enter bits of Egyptology into their journals after viewing the December exhibit at the Art Gallery of Windsor. Over 400 miniature reproductions of the contents of Pharaoh Tut Ankh Amen's tomb captured the children's attention.

Classes Slated At Dominican

Dominican High School, 9740 McKinney avenue, Detroit, begins its spring adult education schedule on March 5 with 30 non-credit classes in a variety of subjects. Art, Business, Creative/Fun, Dance and Language are the major subject areas. Five afternoon CPR sessions and a Stop Smoking Clinic also will be offered along with a mini self-help series including hypnosis. For further information, call the director of the Dominican Adult Education Center, Mrs. Jane Rose, at the school, (882-8500), during regular school hours.

Offers Tips To Save Gas

Right or wrong? To save gas, it's best to turn on the air-conditioner rather than open the car windows or warm up your engine for only 30 seconds before driving off.

According to the U.S. Department of Energy, it's more fuel-efficient to turn on air conditioners in late-model cars than to open the windows. At speeds of 40 mph or more, the wind drag from open windows results in more gas consumption than using the air conditioner.

Warm engines do perform best, but keeping an engine running for more than 30 seconds does no good. It takes 20 minutes of warming up to reach maximum efficiency. It's better to keep the engine only running a half-minute or so before you drive off. The engine warms up as you drive.

Short trips of five miles or less amount for 15 percent of the mileage on U.S. cars, but consume over 30 percent of the gas. Why? Because the trip is over before the engine begins to operate at peak efficiency.

In its "Drive for Conservation," the Energy Department is sponsoring a traveling exhibit that will visit 125 cities over the next year. Visitors can climb into a car mounted on a special platform and follow audio-taped instructions that show how to cut gas consumption dramatically.

Conserving gas not only saves money but also curbs air exhaust, a major cause of air pollution, says the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan.
