South High 'Big Spenders' Show They CARE

By Susan McDonald

The same kids who won a nationwide reputation for big spending on booze and drugs tried to show the world a different side last week.

Early Thursday morning on the stage at South High School, the president of the National Honor Society presented a check for $2,830 to CARE for food and clothing for Cambodian refugees.

There were no daily newspaper or wire service reporters there to pick up a story. In fact, the representative from CARE who was invited to receive the donation didn't even make it.

It was quite unlike the national hoopla given to an earlier South High venture when a student survey allegedly found they spend more than $4,000 a year on themselves and $80 a month on booze and drugs.

That story was picked up and printed in dozens of papers across the nation. "Students Opt For Drugs," a headline from the San Antonio, Tex., Express, was typical of the coverage.

There's not much chance the CARE contribution will receive as much attention. But the students aren't really bothered by that.

The kids had fun raising the money. They sponsored dances, concerts, a "rent-a-jock" day and bakesales galore.

The fund-raising project started out with the National Honor Society and Student Association. It ended by almost tripling the original goal of $1,000.

"As far as I know this is the most money we've ever raised in a single drive," said Honor Society President

Grace Lee.

"It all started when Time magazine came out with that cover about the refugees. A lot of kids also saw that magazine and the project just started to spread."

Most of the money, about $2,000, came as direct contributions from students, according to Grace, some as large as $50. The hat was passed in homerooms and two classes, taught by Carl Justice and Susan Reames, engaged in a spirited competition for funds. The result was more than $400 from each room.

Other clubs, such as Students in Action for Education, the Key Club, Varsity Club, Band and Choir, also joined in.

South's Principal Dr. Joseph Spagnoli filled in for the missing CARE representative Thursday morning and accepted the check from Grace.

"I'm overwhelmed by the sensitivity you've shown to the needs of others with this contribution," Dr. Spagnoli said. "There was an injustice done to you people and the entire school by the distortion of that survey."

"The unfairness that I see is that it was so magnified but the beautiful thing you've done here has been overlooked."

The students seem less worried about the attention the contribution may, or may not, get.

"That survey was a joke," said Mark Wehrmeister, president of the Key Club. "This is different. A lot of students are getting involved in this."

"Besides, we didn't need all the money anyway."

Mourad Begins Campaign For Board Seat

By Susan McDonald

One more Board of Education hopeful threw his hat into the ring this week. Roger P. Mourad, 48, an attorney and father of seven, announced he will seek a spot on the School Board in the June annual election.

Mourad is the fourth person to enter the race. Last week three other Pointers launched their election campaigns, including current Board member Joan Hanpeter, former member William Huetteman and newcomer David Mikesell.

All but Huetteman are seeking four-year terms on the Board. Huetteman will run for a one-year term. That seat is currently held by Cathy Briery who was appointed earlier this year to fill the mid-term vacancy created by Ann Arducci's resignation.

Mourad, an attorney with Dickinson, Pike, Mourad, Brandt and Hanlon, is a native of Grosse Pointe and a graduate of the public school system, as well as Michigan State University and University of Detroit Law School.

"This school system educated me, my brothers and sisters and all of my kids. I figure maybe I owe the school system something now," he said.

Although he says he is not running on a particular slate, Mourad has some definite areas of concern about the school system.

"I think we have to re-assess the role of our middle schools for one. I think kids have to be challenged more in middle school. There seems to be sort of a lull in the education system there," he said.

Another of his concerns centers on the special education program.

"The 250 or so kids in that program should be on the conscience of everyone in this community," he said. "There may be valid questions about the adequacy of training given teachers in that program. And there is much to be desired as far as providing them with a good physical education program."

Mourad has been an active parent in the north district and currently has children attending Barnes Elementary and North High school as well as University of Michigan and Michigan State's James Madison School.

His wife, Kathleen, will serve as co-chairman of his campaign along with Jan O'Leary. Other members of his campaign organization are John Chase, treasurer, Charles Rutherford, Eileen Wilzky and Bob Knapp.

The other candidates include Hanpeter, an eight-year veteran of the Board and former president. She and Huetteman stress the need for experienced members on the Board, and both point out that, by election time,

Le Cafe Renews Bid for License

By Joanne N. Gouleche

Le Cafe Francais owners Charles Moraco and Ronald Serba, defeated in their bid to get the tavern license they desperately need to stay in business, are not going to give up their fight—at least not yet.

Moraco and Serba appeared before the Woods Council early this week and announced that they were applying for a tavern license.

The two are hinging their case on one word that their attorney says complies with the tavern ordinance.

Last month, the council issued the controversial license to Da Edoardo, another restaurant specializing in fine European cuisine.

"A Travesty"

Both restaurants insist they need the tavern license to serve wine with their specially prepared meals. Business has dwindled considerably over the last few months for Le Cafe and Edoardo because of the lacking license.

Earlier Moraco called the council decision a "travesty." It was he who led a successful petition drive last November to get the tavern question on the ballot asking if a tavern (beer and wine) license should be issued in the city.

At the council meeting Monday night, Moraco's attorney, James Callahan, said Le Cafe is doing "no more, no less" than what the ordinance states and that is ap-

Pedlar Protesters Plan A March

By Susan McDonald

The Save Our Shops movement switched into full gear this week and, in response, the president of Detroitbank Corporation issued a written statement about the controversy surrounding the Pointe Pedlar, a popular Fisher road gourmet cooking store.

The bank recently purchased the building that houses the Pedlar and five other small shops and has announced plans to replace them with a new bank subsidiary to provide trust services, according to a press release from Detroitbank President Donald R. Mandich.

"The Fisher road location would be more convenient for Grosse Pointe residents and would eliminate the necessity for traveling downtown to transact trust business," Mandich said.

"Because many trust clients are elderly, the corporation believes this is an important consideration."

Big Business

But many area residents—still angry over the recent loss of another popular store, Salem Square—are not taking the loss of the Pedlar passively.

Save Our Shops is the slogan that dozens of concerned residents are rallying around.

The group is concerned that "many small shop owners are being forced to close their doors or move to new and possibly remote areas because of the purchase of their locations by big business establishments," according to their literature.

March Set

"Immediate and positive action is needed to maintain our community businesses."

Immediate protest is needed now," they said.

Plans for that protest were laid out at a meeting Monday, February 4. The group will begin its crusade this Saturday, February 9, by passing out flyers to as many area residents as they can reach.

Then, the following Saturday, a protest march through Grosse Pointe's business district will be held, beginning at 11 a.m. The march will

Opponents Stay Away As Park Council OKs CDBG

By Joanne N. Gouleche

The people weren't there, but the questions were the same.

A public hearing on the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program in the Park last month apparently didn't stir the interests of the community.

But the 20 residents who did attend the meeting had the same questions on their minds as did the 200 people who filled the council chambers at last year's controversial CDBG hearings.

Mistrust of HUD, the federal agency which coordinates the block grant program through Wayne County, and the possibility of low-income housing in the Park, were some of the questions directed at the Park Council.

Newly-elected Councilman Anthony Spada, who campaigned against HUD during last November's election, even had some questions of his own.

"I want to know if the Park receives its money from HUD," Spada said.

"Indirectly yes," said City Manager John R. Crawford, explaining that the Park deals directly with Wayne County because its population is under 50,000.

Dearborn, Livonia and Westland, cities with populations over 50,000, go directly through HUD.

community development coordinator, Wayne County will be cooperating with 31 communities in seeking $5.9 million in "allocated" funds for 1980.

The dollar figure is not definite until Congress completes work on the Housing Authorization Bill.

The Park will qualify for $99,000 in grant monies, all of which will go directly to completing Phase II of the Kercheval Revitalization Project. Its council approved the grant monies for the project last week by a 5-1 vote.

The Kercheval facelift was approved by the council a year ago in the midst of much political opposition to the project, especially from a group calling itself Proud of the Park (POP).

The group basically objected to the use of federal money in the community. But none of the familiar POP faces showed up at the meeting last month.

While some residents were critical of the block grant program, others were thankful for it.

"Certain people refuse to see that this program will be helpful to the community. Nothing destroys a community faster than boarded up buildings and empty stores," said a long-time resident of the Park.

According to Terry Jarvis,

Material Witnesses May Provide Clue to Slaying

By David Kramer

In the first solid development in the three-month-old Clyne murder case, Farms police Tuesday released the descriptions of two men and a woman they think were involved in, or witnesses of, the Halloween knife slaying.

Admitting their own attempts to locate the persons, whom they termed "possible material witnesses," have so far been fruitless, police enlisted the help of the news media in publicizing the descriptions.

Two of the three described persons were seen by unnamed witnesses in different locations just minutes before the victim was found.

Both were walking on the Kercheval sidewalk within a block of the spot where Jeanne Clyne was found dead. One man was spotted five to 10 minutes before the murder discovery, within several hundred feet of the murder site. The other was seen on the opposite side of Kercheval, near Merriweather, walking toward Lothrop.

A Good Chance

Then, more than one hour after the slain woman was found, the three were seen together, at the corner of Kercheval and Lothrop.

In a joint statement, Det. Sgt. George Van Tien and Police Chief Robert Ferber said the time element involved and the locations where the three were seen "indicate a high probability that they may possess valuable information with regard to the investigation."

Ferber speculated that one or more of the trio may have worked in the area, with one or more of the others accompanying them to their jobs. He said the fact the three were seen by several witnesses under hypnosis lends credence to their sightings.

While police have put together composites for two of the three, the male subject seen on the corner of Merriweather was described in words only. He was said to be a black male, 20, to 25-years-old, about six feet tall with short curly hair, some facial hair, and dark skin. He was wearing a dark blue baseball-style cap with a square patch. The patch was said to be white with gold lettering, rounded at the corners and trimmed in gold. He also wore a dark blue waist length jacket, blue jeans and white tennis shoes.

In other developments concerning the case, police revealed they had utilized the tracking dog used in the Hoffa murder case to attempt to trace Mrs. Clyne's path the night of the murder. The dog, after leaving her psychiatrist's office on the Hill, crossed Kercheval and proceeded north on the fake side of the street until reaching Merriweather. The dog then crossed over to the other side of Kercheval and continued to the murder site, Ferber said.

Interestingly, Ferber noted, the spot where the dog crossed back over Kercheval was where one of the men was seen walking.

Ferber, in his annual report, also reveals the investigation made use of psychics and behavioral scientists to construct profiles of the killer and to determine what he may have done.

In the three-month period of last year, a total of about $11,500 was spent in Farms police overtime on the case, the report said.

Farms Det. Earl Field said the man seen on Merriweather and Kercheval was actually spoken to by a witness. He added that when the three were seen together later in the evening, only general descriptions of the men were available.

Since the murder, Field said, detectives from the Farms and the Michigan State Police have gone over stabbings in Detroit and Ferndale, as well as one that occurred in Cass County, Mich., four days after the Farms murder.

Thorough autopsy results

This man, whom police emphasize was "handsome" and muscular, with a "thick neck," was the one seen closest to the murder site, just minutes before the body was found. He was described as about 25, 5'10", with short afro hair and dark skin. He was wearing a baseball cap with a red emblem and visor. He was seen walking north on Kercheval just a few feet from the murder site between Merriweather and Lothrop.

This woman, said to be in her 20's, was seen at the corner of Kercheval and Lothrop between 7:45 and 8 p.m. — over an hour after the murder victim was found — in the company of the two men seen earlier that night in the area. She was described as having dark skin and high cheekbones, with hair in "corn rows." Police say the expression pictured represents how she was seen by witnesses.

Owners Vow to Fight

(Continued from Page 1) limitation and does not mean "one" in all circumstances. "The council still has the authority to grant a tavern license," Callahan said, citing two legal cases when "a" was defined as meaning more than one. But City Attorney George Catlin disagreed with Callahan's interpretation. "If 'a' was used in that context, it would destroy the ordinance entirely," the attorney said. "Most people have a commonsense notion of what 'a' means. To think otherwise, would be a distortion of the English language." Catlin later said that if "a" means more than one, the council then could issue as many licenses as it wished. The council did support a motion by Councilman Dan Grady to appeal to Gov. William Milliken for his influence on legislation regarding a special license issued by the Liquor Control Commission without regard to population. Serba and his wife, Billie, said that while they appreciate Grady's motion for a special license for the cafe, if the restaurant does not receive support, the Kimberly Korner complex will be put on the market to the highest bidder. "Councilman Sabol (John) stated at the meeting that business is business and the council must get on with theirs. So we, too, feel that we must make sure our restaurant shows a profit. "We have been good neighbors to the community for 20 years—perhaps our time has come to move on." Moraco's attorney said he will seek through a court order to show the council that it has the power to issue a tavern license. Another attorney, William Bufalino, Sr., also has joined the Le Cafe cause.

The building, according to Mandich, will be partly rebuilt and the remaining portion will be renovated and tied to the new structure. Additional parking will be provided by a reduction in the size of the existing building. Mandich, a Pointer, also said the new bank will not have drive-in windows and will conform entirely to local zoning codes. He also denied rumors that the new operation will expand further beyond the Fisher building. "There are no plans to go beyond the existing site on Fisher road and there are no plans to remove houses on Lincoln road. In addition, there are no plans to request zoning changes for that purpose," Mandich said. Can't Stop "It is expected the new facility will be attractive and harmonious to the community." City administrators also have expressed some concern about the effect the loss of the Pedlar will have on the small Fisher road commercial district. Despite a long-range plan calling for commercial development of the area, City Manager Thomas Kressbach thinks there is little the city can do to stop the bank.

Seek Three in Murder

(Continued from Page 1) revealed the stab wounds were probably made by an eight-inch long pair of medical shears. Mrs. Clyne had been stabbed 11 times near the left breast, with some of the wounds puncturing the heart, lungs and spleen, he said. The deepest wound was about four inches. Mrs. Clyne, 44, of McMillan road was found in the bushes along the Kercheval sidewalk between Merrilweather and Lothrop shortly after 6:30 p.m. October 31. Suffering from a back ailment, she frequently took long walks that took her along that route on her way home from her psychiatrist's office. However, police still aren't sure whether she was stabbed on the sidewalk or picked up in a car, stabbed there, and dumped along Kercheval. The autopsy revealed she could have stumbled a few feet before she collapsed from the wounds. In December, police released a diagram showing the locations of various cars seen the night of the murder, parked or stopped in the area with their headlights on. Police would not speculate whether there was a connection between the cars seen and the persons on foot.

Coye Resigns As WSU Dean

Pointer Dr. Robert D. Coye recently announced he will resign as dean of the Wayne State University School of Medicine, according to a press release from the school. Dr. Coye, who became dean in 1971, had been asked by WSU President Thomas Bonner to continue as dean beyond the end of his current term. "But after lengthy consideration of the offer," Dr. Coye said, "I would like to return to the ranks of the faculty ... on or before September 1980." Dr. Bonner praised Dr. Coye's work as dean and noted the WSU medical school has grown to be one of the largest in the country with an enrollment of almost 1,800 students. Dr. Coye was professor of pathology at the University of Wisconsin when he was named dean. He is a graduate of Williams College.

Huettman also spent eight years on the School Board and chose not to run for reelection last spring. Another candidate is Mike-sell, an attorney who specializes in labor relations. There will be two, four-year terms and one, two-year term up for grabs in the election. One current trustee, William Fleming, has announced he will not seek reelection. Briery said she has not yet made up her mind about running for another term. Petitions of candidacy became available from central offices, 389 St. Clair avenue, on February 7. They must be filed by April 7. The election will be held on June 9.

Car Theft Down, Robbery Up Says '79 Farms Report

By David Kramer

More than one category of major crime increased last year in the Farms.

While the city's most notorious crime, the knife slaying of Jeanne Clyne, was the first homicide since 1978, there were two rapes last year, the first time in six years any sexual assaults have occurred.

Some of the other highlights of the Farms police department's annual report for 1979 are:

- Car thefts reached a 20 year low, with 20 less incidents than occurred in 1978 (from 37 to 17).

- Incidents of robbery nearly doubled, from six in 1978 to 10 last year.

- While burglaries in the Farms remained nearly constant, increasing from 1978's 82 incidents to last year's 86, residential break-ins were way down, with a corresponding increase in commercial incidents.

- Of the 378 incidents of larceny last year (up slightly from 361 in 1978) 41 percent involved the theft of bicycles. Eighty-six percent of the stolen bikes were removed from garages.

In his report, Police Chief Robert Ferber predicted that criminal activity in 1980 will "correlate directly to the state of the economy in the metropolitan area."

"I am assuming at best that property crimes will parallel 1979 rates, and at worst, they will exceed 1979 rates," he said.

He also noted that personnel shortages that have plagued the department for the past year should be resolved by April, when two new patrol officers (including the Pointe's first policewoman) will begin duty, along with a new clerk-dispatcher. The problems were brought about when one officer left the force just months after he was hired and another was allowed to resign. In addition, Sgt. Arnold Parsons suffered a heart attack, and the Clyne murder investigation resulted in a uniformed corporal being reassigned to the detective bureau.

Ferber stated that due to the demise of the Youth Service Division, the Farms has been unable to absorb the case load left behind (an average of 16 percent of all Farms initial or incident follow-ups over the past eight and a half years).

"Hopefully this problem will be resolved during 1980," the chief said.

Of the total of 123 felony arrests made during 1979, 33 percent of them were juveniles. Of 333 misdemeanor arrests, over half were juveniles.

Other arrest statistics show that 24 percent of felony arrests were of Farms residents, while 42 percent were residents of a Pointe or Harper Woods. Of the misdemeanor arrests, 32 percent were from the Farms, and 53 percent were residents of the Pointes or Harper Woods.

Traffic accidents dropped slightly to a five-year low, with the highest accident location remaining the Mack and Moross intersection, with 16 reported in the Farms section of the intersection alone.

Malicious destruction of property incidents (vandalism) on the other hand, jumped from a 1978 level of 221 to 247 last year for a five-year high.

Center Hosts Battle O' Bands

By Tom Thompson

The War Memorial will welcome its seventh annual Battle of the Bands this Saturday, February 9. The contest will determine, by popular vote, the best rock'n'roll band in the Grosse Pointe area. Tickets are on sale for $3.

Among 12 potential contestants, student auditioners Bob Orban and Mark Restum selected the six most promising bands to appear at the Battle. The finalists are Ocean, Rampage, Sorcerer, Antidote, (last year's favorite), Eruption and Triology.

The concert will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m., with two bands playing simultaneously on separate floors for 50 minutes each. The audience will decide on the winner by writing in its vote on the ticket stub.

Jack Dotson, coordinator of student activities at the War Memorial, commented, "Even though two bands will be playing at a time, to save time, the acoustics will still be great, with no sound overflowing between the two floors."

The winner of the Battle will not only gain the prestige of being named the most talented band in the Pointes, but also will take home one half of the concert's profits. The runners-up will split the remaining profits.

Holz to Chair Baker Group

Sen. Howard Baker recently announced the appointment of Yvonne M. Holz of Hawthorne road as the 14th District Chairman of the "Baker for President" committee.

Mrs. Holz is a South High School and Michigan State University graduate. She has been active in Republican politics as past president of the Eastside Young Republicans and Campaign Coordinator for Gov. William Milliken's reelection in 1978 and is currently a precinct delegate.

City Boat Club Names Officers

Retiring Commodore James H. Finney was honored at the Grosse Pointe Boat Club's annual meeting and Commodore's Ball Saturday, January 19, at the Bayview Yacht Club.

A new slate of officers headed by Commodore Arthur G. Behn of Washington road was elected at the meeting. Earl A. Raynal of Washington road was elected vice-commodore and Charles L. Howe of St. Clair avenue is rear commodore. Continuing as secretary-treasurer is James O. Hoyt of St. Paul avenue.

Elected to the club's board of directors were Richard Bourne of Kercheval avenue, George Rosetos of Rivard boulevard and Charles P. Weiss of Washington road.

The club's 1979 activities were reviewed during the meeting which followed dinner and preceded dancing.

A highlight of the meeting was the conferring of an honorary title of Commodore upon the late Barbara Howe. The award was accepted by Rear Commodore Howe, the late Mrs. Howe's husband.

GIOVAN APPOINTED

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge William J. Giovan of The Park was recently named one of three faculty members of a seminar on evidence law for judges at the University of Miami. Judge Giovan was a member of the Michigan Supreme Court committee which proposed rules of evidence for statewide use.

NHS Welcomes New Students

Eighth grade students and their parents attended a special orientation program at North High School on January 31. About 550 young people and adults from both public and parochial schools heard the department heads describe the course offerings available to freshmen in September of 1980.

After the auditorium presentations, everyone was invited to tour the building, where many rooms were open and teachers were present to discuss both the facilities and the courses.

The program was one of a series of events designed to orient new students to North. Student representatives, administrators, and counselors have visited middle schools to discuss activities and courses open to freshmen.

Curriculum guides have been distributed to all students and schools involved in order to help incoming freshmen make a wise selection of courses for their first year.

Students intending to come to North from St. Peters, Star of the Sea, Our Lady Queen of Peace, and St. Joan of Arc may obtain curriculum guides in their school offices.

Anyone else interested in information about enrollment at North High School may obtain the guides at North. Enrollment information for upper classmen and women may also be obtained in the school office.

U-M Real Estate Class Begins Today

An advanced course in real estate business will be offered in The Farms this winter by the statewide Real Estate Program of the University of Michigan.

The course begins today, Thursday, February 7, and will meet each Thursday and Friday for 11 sessions from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon. It will be held at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road. Real Estate Business II is an advanced residential brokerage course designed for established salespersons and brokers. It will cover real estate market analysis, appraisal, taxation, condominiums, land development, recreational real estate and closings.

Although advance registration for the course is advised, students also may register at the class site prior to the opening session.

The U-M Extension Service, the Graduate School of Business Administration and the Michigan Association of Realtors cooperate in offering the state-certified courses, which have been approved for the granting of Continuing Education Units, (CEUs), and can lead to the respected U-M Certificate in Real Estate.

For further information on this course and others scheduled this winter at a variety of locations around the state, contact the Real Estate Program, University of Michigan Extension Service, 350 South Thayer, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48109, or call 763-2170.

The University of Michigan Real Estate Program, now in its 33rd year, offers courses for the professional benefit of both experienced persons and those new to or interested in the real estate field.

Library Group Largest in U.S.

Grosse Pointe is known for many things — a beautiful community, excellent schools and lakeside parks — but how many realize that one of our most impressive statistics belongs to the Grosse Pointe Friends of the Library Organization? It is the largest Friends group in the country. Organized in 1946 by citizens interested in books, magazines and other intellectual material, the group's annual membership drive, (now in progress), has raised almost $30,000 in a single year through dues, gifts and bequests. The funds are funneled into needy library projects not possible through the regular budget.

Last year, the Friends' contributions purchased new furniture for the main reading room of the Central Library, paid for extensive landscaping at Central, sponsored the Friends Film Forum, Oral History projects and supplemented the audiovisual budget.

This year plans include further improvements to building and grounds, a super-active Library Week and additional A-V equipment.

Through its projects the group focuses on the use of the library, to encourage citizens to use the books and services for enjoyment and appreciation.

As an indicator of how citizens appreciate its library system the Friends' membership has doubled in the past decade, from 2,200 members to over 4,300 last year. One of the highlights of the Friends' activities each year is the annual meeting, and last year's meeting featured a playback of the year's activities, dinner and a talk by Detroit Symphony Orchestra conductor Antal Dorati.

Friends are hoping to increase its numbers even more this year. This year's president is Frank J. Sladen Jr. and membership chairman is John C. Prost. There are 16 directors who serve voluntarily each year. All citizens are invited to join the group.

Films Feature Stan and Ollie

The slap-stick antics of Stan and Ollie, better known as Laurel and Hardy, can be viewed on Thursday, February 14, in the Exhibition Room of the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

The black-and-white films begin at 7:30 p.m.

In "Birthmarks" Stan and Ollie, a "big-time" vaudeville team, have to travel from one theater to another in the upper berth of an open Pullman car.

"Blotto" reveals Ollie as a bachelor and Stan married to Anita. Ollie would like a night out-on-the-town, but Stan needs an excuse to tell Anita. As Anita listens in on the extension phone, the boys work it out. They head for the speakeasy, but Anita supplies the theatrical finale.

In "Fixeruppers" the boys are greeting card salesmen. At one stop they are met by a tearful Mae Busch, whose artist-husband neglects her for his work. They try to make the husband jealous with great success.

In "Hoose-Gow" during the days of prohibition, Stan and Ollie find themselves occupying a paddy-wagon heading for the penitentiary because they were "watching a raid."

Mason Scouts Celebrate 50th

Mason School Cub Scout Pack 290 will celebrate its 50th anniversary with a Blue and Gold Banquet on Thursday, February 28.

The cubs and their parents will gather at Revere Hall, 24725 Jefferson, at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 per person. Call 884-9579 for reservations.

Last month, the scouts held their annual pinewood derby. Thirty-three boys participated with their home-made, wood-block cars on a 50-foot track.

Valentine Day Social at Maire

The PTO at Maire Elementary School will sponsor a Valentine Day ice cream social on Thursday, February 14, from 6:30 to 8:30 in the school gym.

Ice cream sundaes, coffee and other edibles will be served and there will be roving entertainment all evening long.

Little JEAN POSCH of the Academy Lower School is one of several young artists who will contribute to the show.

Students and staff will join with the Grosse Pointe Academy's prestigious colony of artists to present an Art and Photography Show on Sunday, February 10.

The studios of resident artists Paolo Coppini, Sister Matsuzaki, Virginia Thibodeau, Franc Varga, Anthony Vlahontones and Arlene Voelker will be opened for patrons during show hours, from 2 to 6 p.m.

In addition, many non-resident artists and photographers, including Terrence Carmichael, Edward Chesney, Mike Mikos, Ruth Petzold, William Plante and Janice Trimpe, will be on hand to show their work and answer questions.

The Academy's art teacher Margaret Hall has been working with students since September to produce at least one piece of art from each child in grades one through eight. The work of those budding artists will be on display for parents throughout the school.

Some of the Academy family will get in the act too. Work will be displayed by Mrs. Robert Bommer, Lois and Joseph Busch, Stephen Donaldson, Michael French, Lenore Gimpert, John M. Poplawski, Heidi Roesch, Nancy Roman, Joyce and Larry Swart, Scott Tily and Mrs. Lee Wulfmeier III.

To add a little flavor to the Academy's first professional art show Charity Sucek will be on hand demonstrating her gourmet cooking skills. Other refreshments that will be on sale are wine and cheese, pizza and soft drinks, sponsored by the school athletic department.

At the same time the Garden Club will put on a plant show and various needlepoint kits representing the school logo will be on sale.

Chairman of the event is Sharon Cure of Whittier road.

Real Estate Course Set

Real Estate Fundamentals repeated at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, began on Wednesday, January 30 and runs through March 19, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The course will be taught by attorney William Ghesquire and will aid those preparing for the Real Estate licensing examination.

Mr. Ghesquire will attempt to answer all basic legal questions relating to real estate. The Red Book, the Detroit Board of Realtors' publication, will be used as a text.

Covered in the course will be listing, orders to purchase, land contracts, mortgages, liens, leases, deeds, both warranty and quick claim, and the assignments of interests to the buyer and seller.

The fee is $35 for eight weeks.

Music Group Seeks Members

The Grosse Pointe All-City String Orchestra is looking for new members. The orchestra, in its third season, includes violins, violas, cellos and basses.

Membership is by application and includes all grades up through the seventh in all Pointe schools, both public and private. The orchestra will meet one day a week for an hour and a half.

Mrs. Christina E. Judston, instrumental music director at Brownell Middle School, will conduct the orchestra. Students interested in joining should send an application (available through instrumental teachers) to Mrs. Judston at Brownell, 280 Chalfonte, with a check for $7.50 by today, February 7.

ULS Receives McGregor Grant

A grant from the McGregor Foundation recently enabled University Liggett School (ULS) to offer new opportunities in science and reading.

In science classrooms, a new computer and printer pose problems to challenge physics, chemistry and general science students. The computer permits extensive use of graphics, thus inviting students to write programs which display physics and chemistry functions.

Supporting the laboratory approach to science at ULS, the grant also supplied five microscopes, a laser and an air track. Science department head Darrel Watson stressed that the equipment is important for both demonstrations and student experimentation.

The ULS Middle School reading center also benefited from the McGregor Foundation grant. The reading center, used by all sixth grade students, received two major pieces of equipment. A controlled reader has helped to increase reading speeds by training students to regulate their eye movements.

Two Arrested On Dope Count

Two Farms youths were charged by City police Friday, January 25, with possession of marijuana.

The youths, Charles P. Stockwell, 18, of Touraine road, and Gordon F. Kasza, 17, of Allard road, were arrested and released on $100 bond. Their exams are set for Wednesday, February 27.

City police while on routine patrol spotted a car driven in an erratic manner by Stockwell at about 12 midnight on Friday near St. Clair avenue, according to reports.

The officers followed him to Bishop road, where he pulled over. Police said they detected a strong odor of alcohol on Stockwell and arrested him for driving under the influence of liquor.

When they searched him they also found a bag of suspected marijuana in his pocket, police said.

Kasza and a 15-year-old Park girl also were in the car with Stockwell, according to police. Kasza was arrested after police observed him allegedly trying to slip two more bags of suspected marijuana under the car seat, according to the report.

At police headquarters, Stockwell refused to take a breathalyzer test and was charged with driving under the influence and possession of marijuana, police said.

Kasza also was arraigned on the latter charge. The girl was released.

Auction Nets Rotary $21,000

The spirit was lighthearted, but the cause very serious, when Grosse Pointe Rotarians consummated their fund-raising efforts at their third annual Auction Party, January 26.

Vic Caputo, Jerry Hodak and Sonny Elliot were on hand to spearhead the auction at Jacobson's.

"They put their hearts and souls in keeping the bidding high," said spokesman Rich Shammus. The outcome was a whopping $21,000.

Jack Cobau and Steve Tsangalias, co-chairmen of the affair, said the lion's share of the proceeds will be directed to the new Senior Citizens Center which is part of the Neighborhood Club.

Assault Case Exam Delayed

The examination date for a 33-year-old Detroit man on two charges relating to the assault of his 82-year-old dance teacher on Sunday night, January 13, was adjourned from Wednesday, January 23, to Wednesday, February 6, reported Woods police.

Conrad Victor Joseph of Simms street is charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit felonious assault and felonious assault in an incident in which Grace G. Thomas of Stanhope road was victimized.

Police said the exam was adjourned because Miss Thomas was unable to testify as she remained in Saint John Hospital. The hospital reported she had minor surgery, (not related to the incident), and was discharged on Thursday, January 24.

Joseph is charged in the incident wherein Miss Thomas was struck with a hammer, knocked down some stairs and was allegedly chased by the suspect with a butcher knife. Police said she also physically struggled with her assailant.

Joseph is being held in the Wayne County Jail, pending the new examination.

ATTENDS WORKSHOP
 Noel Selewski of The Woods was recently among 29 leading district agency field representatives of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company who attended an intermediate estate and business planning workshop in Boston. Representatives are selected to attend the six-day session on the basis of outstanding sales achievements.

Family Education Council Has Its Own Home—At Last

After years of boarding with friends and neighbors, FLEC, the Family Life Education Council, has finally got a home of its own with the recent acquisition of the Grosse Pointe Orthopedics Building, 18412 Mack avenue at Moran.
 The new facility is comprised of 3,500 square feet and already includes many of the laboratories, examining room, counseling offices and general business offices that the east side volunteer social service agency uses on a daily basis.

In announcing the new headquarters, Dr. John H. Burrows, MD, FLEC president said: "We are very pleased with our new home—which we needed desperately. FLEC has been sleeping around, metaphorically speaking, ever since its inception in 1966.

"Center Point rented space at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, our general offices were in Brownell Junior High, we held meetings at a variety of churches and places. They were all very nice to us, but it was inefficient and thus, in a sense costly. Now at last, we are all together."

The terms of the purchase were $86,000 with $4,000 down, and no payments until June 1980, when $12,500 payment is due. At that time a beginning arrangement of $1,000 each month must be paid through 1986. There will be additional payments in 1981 and 1982 of $7,500. The entire balance shall be due and payable in 1986.

'Macbeth' Comes Alive at ULS

To increase their appreciation and understanding of William Shakespeare's tragedy "Macbeth," University Liggett School sophomore English students attended the Hilberry Repertory Company's production in January at Wayne State University.
 Upper School classes studied "Macbeth" for several weeks before attending the Hilberry performance. Preparative coursework included oral reading, speech memorization, written analysis, objective tests and illustration of quotations.
 In addition, the English Department sponsored a dramatic contest in which participants delivered monologues and dialogues from "Macbeth."
 "The performance gave the play more meaning for me," said sophomore, Sarah Thurber, "and our study helped me to understand what happened on stage."

Star Girls Speak Up

By Leslie Burson

The forensic team from Our Lady Star of the Sea High School participated in the second Detroit Catholic League Forensics competition on January 27.

The team met at Regina High School along with many other schools throughout the Detroit Archdiocese.

Under the guidance of Teresa Goulet, a new member of Star's English faculty and the high school's forensic coach, Star's entrants did well.

Theresa Meehan took fifth place with a serious reading. In the dramatic presentation Kathleen Sengstock placed sixth. Both girls are now eligible to enter in the League's National Competition.

'The Shadow Box' Opens Next Week

"The Shadow Box," the 1976 prize-winning drama by Michael Cristofer, will open next week at Grosse Pointe Theater's first Studio Theater production. The play will run for three performances only. Opening night is Friday, February 15, with performances Saturday and Sunday, February 16 and 17.

"The Shadow Box" will be presented in the Crystal Ballroom of the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore. Curtain time is 8 p.m. It is being directed by Ciro Vitale of St. Clair Shores and produced by Diane Peters of Hollywood avenue.

The play is an illuminating, hopeful story about three terminally ill patients and their families as they grow through the psychological stages that lead them to accept their fate.

The scene is a cottage colony attached to a hospital in California. There, dying patients spend their last days with their loved ones, in as normal a setting as possible.

The three patients are a blue-collar worker, a jaunty old woman in a wheelchair, and a bisexual writer-philosopher. With compassion and humor, these people come to terms with the facts of death, at the same time clinging to life as long as possible.

"The Shadow Box" was originally produced at the famous Long Wharf Theater in New Haven. It moved to Broadway in March, 1977, received enthusiastic reviews, and ran for 315 performances.

The drama has the rare distinction of winning in 1977 both the Pulitzer Prize and Tony Award. It was the tenth play ever to receive both awards.

In the Grosse Pointe Theater production the three family groups will be played as follows: In Cottage One, Joe, the construction worker, by John Diebel of Belanger avenue; his dumbly loyal wife, Maggie, by Pat Villagegas, of Lincoln road; and his son, Steve, by Tony Morse, of McMillan road, a student at Brownell Junior High.

In Cottage Two: Brian, the writer, by Jim McHugh;

Mark, his young lover, by Brian Gagne; and Beverly, his glamorous drunken whore of an ex-wife, a temporary and unexpected guest, by Kathy Grabruck. All are from Detroit.

In Cottage Three: Felicity, the crusty old lady, by Ann Diebel of Betanger avenue, attended by her self-effacing daughter, Agnes, played by Suellen Fausel of Waterford.

The Interviewer, a God-like unseen voice, who tries to teach his charges to face the inevitable, is portrayed by Carolyn Kaump of Detroit.

Production staff for "The Shadow Box" includes: Jean Bowles of Hampton road, stage manager; Tom Gallagher of Hampton road, technical director; Mary Anne Gustafson of Detroit, costumes; Chuck Chrisman of Vernier road, lights; Michele Karl of St. Clair avenue, makeup; Emma Jean Evans of Detroit and Carol Purdon of Village lane, set dressing and properties; and Don Ross of Warren, sound.

Studio Theater is a new concept at GPT this year. Its aim is to provide exciting theater, at the same time "keeping it simple"—that is, presenting the plays with the highest quality of acting and directing, but without a full set and technical trappings.

The Studio Theater plays will be shown in an "open-stage" format, with specially-constructed risers on which chairs seating 200 will be placed.

Tickets, priced at $3, are available by calling 881-4004.

The temporary parking ban on the 800 block of Nottingham has been extended—again.

Last week, the Park Council voted to continue the ban for 60 days between Fairfax and Hally until residents on the block could be polled about alternate parking on their street.

The ban, initiated on the small stretch of Nottingham last February, prohibits parking on the west side of the street on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, cars must be removed from the east side of the street.

In each case, cars have to be off Nottingham by 11 a.m. or residents face a ticket and possible towing violation.

Originally, residents petitioned the city to order the ban so their street could be properly maintained, especially during the winter. The council has since extended the ban twice.

But now residents say the 11 a.m. curfew is inconvenient and is causing headaches for those who take the bus to work each day.

"The concept of the ban is very good, but the implementation of it is ridiculous," said Maureen Sheahan, a resident who filed a formal complaint with the city about the ban last year.

Calling the ban "a civil experiment that turned into a civil disaster," for residents, Sheahan said its "ludicrous" to think that people are going to return to their homes at 11 a.m. to move their cars.

Police said they issue between 10 to 15 tickets a week to cars that are not moved by 11 a.m.

At Monday's council meeting, City Manager John R. Crawford said Nottingham's appearance has been "significantly improved" since the ban went into effect. Residents on Nottingham can expect a questionnaire from the city about the ban in their mailboxes soon.

Kathy Is South Good Citizen

By Patty Gibney
Senior Kathy Connell has been chosen to represent South High this year in a nation-wide citizenship competition sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Kathy was nominated for the contest by South administrators, teachers, and students.

According to Kathy, every high school in the United States nominates one person, male or female, to go into chapter competition and then on to state competition, where there will be one first place winner, one second place winner and eight runners-up.

The first place winner from each state will then go on to the national competition, and be eligible for scholarships.

South is sponsored by the Elizabeth Cass Chapter. There are nine other schools in the chapter, including North and Regina.

The 10 nominees from the Elizabeth Cass Chapter were honored at the War Memorial on February 4.

Kathy is a very active person and this summer was elected Miss Grosse Pointe Farms. Her school activities include the Student Association, Pointe Players and Honor Society.

Neville Solos With Orchestra

Pointe pianist Ruth Neville will be a soloist at the young artists concert of the Pontiac Oakland Symphony Orchestra to be held Friday, February 15, at Oakland University.

Ms. Neville, a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Music, was an audition-winner for the event. She is working towards a Masters degree at Oakland University and teaches at the Grosse Pointe Conservatory and the Mildred Briggs Music Studio on the Hill. The concert will be held in Varner Hall on the Rochester campus at 8 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students and seniors.

Inter-Faith Tour Looks At Future of Renaissance

What is the future of Detroit? Where is it headed? Will its Renaissance be community-wide or will it remain downtown? What will be the impact on the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods?

These questions and more will be explored during a tour sponsored by the Youth Task Force of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice on Saturday, February 16, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Designed to examine neighborhood life in Detroit, as well as its rich ethnic and racial history, the tour is called "Detroit and Its Neighborhoods: A Community-Wide Renaissance or Impossible Dream?" It is part of the Center's larger program approach.

"The Youth Task Force is a group of adult and young people who seek to share their knowledge about the city of Detroit and the future of Grosse Pointe with groups of young people and adults of all ages," explained Jere Thomas, of Manchester road, chairperson of the Youth Task Force.

"The primary purpose of the Task Force, and the Center's program efforts in this area, is to prepare our young people to better understand and live more effectively, in a multi-racial, multi-cultural world."

The tour is an all-day experience with a lunch break at Greektown. There is a $6 fee for transportation, ($4.00 for Inter-Faith Center members).

The deadline for registration and payment is Wednesday, February 13. The tour is limited to a small group.

The tour is an ideal family activity for parents and their high school-age youth. Tours also can be arranged for youth and community groups on an appointment basis.

For further information or to register, contact the Inter-Faith Center at 824-0350.

Computer Team Takes Second

Four students recently represented North High at a regional computer contest sponsored by the University of Detroit. North's team of seniors Ken Deman, Mike Seagram, Doug Smith and Dan Wishart placed second among the field of Detroit-area schools.

The contest was set up so that each group was given four problems to solve by using a computer, within the allotted time of three hours.

The winning team, from Birmingham Seaholm, solved two of the problems. North's quartet solved one, and came close to solving a second. None of the other schools present, including South High, solved any of the questions.

Smith explained, "We may have been able to solve more. The other schools did their work using CRTs, (a type of computer), while we used teletype machines, which are inferior to the CRTs."

Seaholm's team qualified for an advanced computer competition.

Woods Okays Big Confab

Approval was given to any member of the Woods Council to attend the 1980 Congressional-City Conference March 15 to 18 in Washington, D.C., with the reimbursement of all necessary expenses.

This action was taken by the solons at a recent regular meeting.

A main focus of the conference will be upon general revenue sharing and the Community Development Block Grant program.

Both programs together funnel nearly $11 billion to state and local governments each year, but 1980 could be the last year as both programs will expire on September 30 unless Congress re-authorizes them.

Other areas which will be viewed include the President's budget, local energy and conservation programs.

ULS Students 'Lend-A-Hand'

Late November marked the start of the Upper School-Pre-Kindergarten "Lend-A-Hand" program at University Liggett School, (ULS). Foregoing a study hall, Upper School volunteers spend one hour each week serving as friends and helpers to the three and four year olds enrolled in pre-kindergarten.

Eight students are participating in the "Lend-A-Hand" program. They include freshmen Monica Brane, Beth Danaher, Anthony Papista, Cheryl Dombrowski, Donald George, John French and seniors Lisa Fruhauf and Beth Epstein.

Pre-kindergarten administrative assistant and coordinator of the program, Centie Strong, who appreciates the time given and concern displayed by the upper schoolers, said, "Little ones love to have the older students' undivided attention. The upper schoolers have naturally eased themselves into our program, always arriving eager and enthusiastic to be with us."

Typically, a 40-minute helping period includes listening to a child's story or encouraging a youngster to teach the older student how to crawl through tunnels. At other times, assistance may be needed to create a greeting card or to make doughnuts.

In all these tasks, patience is essential. The upper schoolers have begun to discover that each child learns differently, and that as teachers, they must adjust their approaches to suit the individual. Helpers agree that the challenge of teaching has clear rewards, often mirrored in the faces of the youngsters.

From Sewing to Soyocraft, New Adult Classes Begin

A dozen new classes sponsored by the Department of Continuing Education of the public school system will begin in February.

Three new classes begin today, February 7. They are Shakespeare: Mirth and Despair, Bread Dough Art and the ABC's of Real Estate Law.

Shakespeare: Mirth and Despair, is a six-week class taught by George Yacup, which will include background to Elizabethan Theater and William Shakespeare.

"The Taming of the Shrew" will be discussed both as an expression of the comic spirit as well as a means of foreshadowing major themes pervading the author's work.

"King Lear" will be read and analyzed in the light of the traditional concept of Shakespearean tragedy. Fee for this class, which begins at 7 p.m. in room 243 at South High School, is $15.

It's outrageous—the idea of making art out of a loaf of bread. But it can be done. Bread is mixed with glue, colored, formed into flowers and other decorations, then painted. Bread Dough Art is a four-week class taught by Karen Lynch. Fee for the course, to be held in room C-3 of Brownell Middle School, is $10.

The ABC's of Real Estate Law, taught by attorney William Ghesquiere, provides an orderly approach to the study of Michigan's laws and real estate practices. The essentials of real estate forms and documents will be carefully discussed. Simplified explanations are used.

Offers to purchase, warranty deeds, title insurance policies, mortgages and land contracts and closing statements are among the real estate "apparatus" examined. Fee for the eight-week class, to be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Thursdays in room 176 of South High, is $20.

Soyocraft Workshop, a three-week class on the making and use of soy products in cooking will be taught by Bonnie Breidenbach beginning tomorrow, February 8, in room C-5 of Brownell Middle School. Fee is $15.

Four other new classes are set to begin the week of February 11.

Who Gets What When You Die?, to begin Tuesday, February 12, will be taught by Robert H. Pytell. This offering is based on recent changes in the laws of descent and distribution and the rights that husbands and wives have in the estates of their deceased spouse and answers such questions as: Will creditors take it all? What if my husband hasn't left me enough? What about second marriages and pre-nuptial agreements?

Fee for the two-week class, to be held at 8 p.m. in room 164 of South High is $5.

Understanding Local Public Education, scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, February 13, has been designed to provide interested citizens with an opportunity to learn first-hand about the total operation of the local public school system.

Topics to be included are goals for the year and the means of achieving them in such key areas as instruction, research, and management. Time will be provided in each session for questions and answers. No fee is charged for this four-week class which is held in room A-13 of Brownell.

A two-week Workshop in Advanced Japanese Cooking, to begin Thursday, February 14, is a new offering which goes beyond harumaki, teriyaki and sukiyaki and includes dishes made with sushi and the more exotic sashimi and somono.

Fee is $5, plus the cost of food. The class meets in room C-5 of Brownell Middle School and is taught by Eiko Ishimoto.

In addition to the preceding, three other new Continuing Education classes will be available later in February. They are A Contemporary Issue: Status of the American Indian, Pattern and Garment Alterations and Advanced Workshop in Natural Foods Cooking.

A Contemporary Issue: Status of the American Indian is a new mini-class designed to acquaint those interested to the history, culture, traditions, and contemporary problems of American Indians. Fee for the two-week class, to be taught by Robert Welch, Director of Secondary Education in the public schools, is $5. The first class will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in room B-227 of North High School.

Pattern and Garment Alterations begins at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, February 21, in room 192 of South High School. Taught by Joyce Bauhof, students will learn to alter a pattern to make a new garment or to alter an already-made garment. Aim of this new, five-week class is to get the pattern and the garment to fit the body correctly. Fee for the class is $12.50.

Advanced Workshop in Natural Foods Cooking is a new, four-week class, co-sponsored with No Nonsense Naturals.

This class incorporates much of the knowledge and material gained in earlier courses, with an emphasis on new foods and more advanced techniques of preparing them. Fee is $15 for the class which begins Thursday, February 28.

Those interested in enrolling should do so immediately. Students may enroll in person at the offices of Continuing Education in Brownell Middle School or may mail their tuition checks to the office at 260 Chalfonte avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236.

For more information call 343-2178 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays except Friday, when the office closes at 4 p.m.

Having a good idea isn't enough—you must stick with it until you prove it's a good one.

AMC Reopens Doors

Pointe businessmen Bob Raynal and Joe Ricci recently purchased the Grosse Pointe AMC/Jeep/Renault, Inc. American Motors dealership on Mack.

The dealership will sell and service American Motors Spirit, Concord and Eagle automobiles; Jeep CJ, Cherokee and Wagoneer vehicles and Renault's Le Car.

Raynal, 46, and Ricci, 30, both were previously associated with Raynal Brothers in Detroit.

"We're looking forward to servicing the Grosse Pointe and eastside Detroit market," Raynal said. "I believe that in the 80's, the buying public will reverse the current trend to buy imports and will return to passenger cars and utility vehicles built in this country."

The dealership is open for sales from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., Mondays and Thursdays, and from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

A grand opening celebration is planned for March.

Lambrech Elected

John W. Lambrecht of the Farms was recently elected secretary of the Central Business District Association. Lambrecht, vice-president of Lambrecht Realty Company, also serves as president of the Detroit Board of Realtors.

Joins Pool

Barbara S. Snyder, RN, BSN, recently joined the Farms office of the Medical Personnel Pool, as an associate director of nursing. Snyder is a graduate of Michigan State University and a member of the American Nurse Association, Michigan League for Nursing and PEO Sisterhood.

Fisher Named V-P

Woods resident E. Dawson Fisher, director of community relations at the Michigan Cancer Foundation, was recently named a vice-president. Fisher is responsible for non-government funding and for public relations and communications services.

Joins N.Y. Office

Pointer Kerry P. Schaeffner recently joined the New York office of L. F. Rothschild, Unterberg, Towbin as an account executive. Schaeffner was formerly a broker with Bache, Halsey, Stuart, Shields, Inc. in their New York, San Francisco and Detroit offices.

Firm Names Bay

Former Pointer Harold G. Bay was recently promoted to president of the Bloomfield Hills office of D'Arcy-MacManus and Masius Advertising. Bay will continue as management supervisor of the Pontiac account. He joined the agency in 1968 as a copy supervisor on the Pontiac Motor Division account. Bay became group creative supervisor of that account in 1969 and was promoted to vice-president in 1971. In 1976, he became senior vice-president and management supervisor of the Pontiac account. Bay is a 1955 graduate of Grosse Pointe High School. He later received his Bachelor's degree in psychology from the University of Michigan. The new president is a member of the Adercraft Club of Detroit and the University of Michigan Alumni Club of Detroit.

Suffers Loss

A reported decrease in sales closed the doors of Patmon Oldsmobile Inc. on Jefferson last month. A spokesman for the dealership said it is not known when, or if, Patmon will reopen for business.

Mengden Moves On

Former Pointer Anne E. Mengden was recently named senior investment officer at Citibank in New York City. Mengden is a graduate of the University of Michigan and the Amos Tuck School of Business in New Hampshire.

Ritter Promoted

Woods resident Henry L. Ritter, a member of the Structural/Civil Department of Albert Kahn Associates, Inc., Architects and Engineers, was recently named assistant chief structural engineer. Ritter, a 13-year veteran with the Kahn organization, earned both his Bachelor's and Master's degrees in civil engineering from the University of Notre Dame. He is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Institute of Steel Construction and the Chi Epsilon National Civil Engineering Honor Society.

IRS Sets Up Phone Lines

The Internal Revenue Service recently announced the installation of special phone lines for ordering tax forms and publications.

More than 90 free publications, covering such tax subjects as child care, benefits for older Americans or sale of residence, are available free from IRS.

Likewise, a myriad of common or special-use forms; e.g., the Form 2120, "Multiple Support Agreement," or Form 6251 for computing the "alternative minimum tax," will be mailed to taxpayers upon request.

Forms and publications now can be ordered through one of three special toll-free phone numbers just installed by IRS. The numbers are for forms and publications ordering only, not for tax information questions, IRS says.

The new service will permit callers to place orders on phone lines separate from the busier lines used by thousands of taxpayers who call daily seeking tax information and advice.

The "forms number" when calling from Detroit is 237-0794. Elsewhere in the 313 dialing area, taxpayers should call 1-800-462-9910. For all other area codes, the number is 1-800-482-0828.

ULS Students Tour the DIA

University Liggett kindergartners traveled to the Detroit Institute of Art Thursday, January 24, accompanied by their teacher Barbara Kelly. Pretending to be great explorers, the youngsters searched for special colors, shapes and animals on gallery walls and tiled flooring.

Led by docents especially trained to guide this age group, the kindergartners were fascinated by the mummies, knights and the restored 200 year old Whitby House.

President of the Detroit Institute of Art's Docents and ULS parent Mrs. David Fitzsimmons arranged the field trip.

'Cults' Topic Of Discussion

Cults will be the topic of a two-part series at Christ Church Grosse Pointe, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard, on Sunday, February 10 and February 17 from 10:15 to 11 a.m. in Miller Hall.

The Reverend William J. Wood, Episcopal Chaplain at Wayne State University, will be the discussion leader.

On February 10 an historical perspective and description of some of the more active cults today, including Unification Church and Hare Krishna, will be discussed.

The dynamics of cults, how they work, who is attracted to them and some of the legal problems will be discussed February 17.

This adult forum presentation is planned by the Continuing Life Education Committee of Christ Church. Chairman is Mrs. C. Porter Strother.

Mailman Hero In B-E Caper

An alert mailman on his route in the Shores led public safety officers to the arrest of a Canton Township man and a Redford youth who were allegedly found burglarizing a Lochmoor home last weekend.

The mailman, Paul Yantus told police that he observed two white males park a vehicle on Sunningdale and then walk into the front door of the Lochmoor residence.

Yantus said he went into a nearby house and a neighbor called the police who arrived on the scene and observed the two alleged burglars inside the house looking at different objects.

Police later apprehended the two, Eric Sirvis, 25, and a 15-year-old youth at the front door. Police entered the home and found a shopping bag half full of jewelry. Sirvis was arraigned on the breaking and entering charge before Municipal Court Judge J. Patrick Denis on February 2. His examination before the judge is set for February 13.

The youth was released to his parents.

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Farms MICHIGAN NOTICE OF HEARING ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the City Hall at 90 Kerby Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, on Monday, February 25, 1980 at 8:00 p.m. to hear the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Germack, Jr., owners of the premises located at 35 Warner Road, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of a new addition to the rear of their home at the foregoing address. Such permit issuance was denied for reason that:

- 1. The residence located on the foregoing premises is non-conforming for reason that it projects into the rear yard space in violation of the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance, and in accordance with the provisions of Article XV, Section 1502, Item 4-A of the City's Zoning Ordinance, no such structure may be enlarged or structurally altered unless a variance is granted.
 - 2. The proposed addition to the rear of the home located at the foregoing address further infringes upon minimum required open rear yard space of 30 feet, leaving a rear yard of 23.5 feet, and thereby requiring a variance from the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance.
- The Hearing will be public; interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

Highlight of Sigma Gamma Association's 75th anniversary luncheon meeting was the presentation of the Laura Butler Higbie Award to Mrs. L. R. Marentette.

The award, given for outstanding contributions to Sigma Gamma's community efforts through the Detroit Institute for Children, was presented to Mrs. Marentette by Mrs. J. M. Booth, of Birmingham.

Setting for the presentation was the Grosse Pointe Club. Date was the last Saturday in January, Michigan's cold mid-winter, but mood was definitely warm as Sigma Gamma's Junior members held a sale of potted spring bulbs to benefit their association which sponsors the Detroit Institute for Children: a United Foundation Agency.

And the mood continued warm as a gift of ap-

March Gala in Roostertail's River Room Will Help Build Detroit Artists Market Scholarship Fund

Come "Dance on the River" say the invitations designed by Barbara Greene, to music by world-famous Regine's of New York City, enjoy delicious omelettes at midnight, prepared by Larry Rattner, view an exhibit of works by Michigan artists . . .

And — not incidentally — help to build the Scholarship Fund of the Detroit Artists Market.

But fund raising is not the only purpose of this fabulous benefit ball, set for Saturday, March 8, from 9 until 2 o'clock in the Roostertail's River Room.

The party planners' goal is not only to add to the Scholarship Fund, but to create more awareness of the Detroit Artists Market as one of the outstanding galleries in southeastern Michigan.

The Market is a non-profit gallery, (the only one of its kind in Michigan), founded in 1932 to promote local and contemporary art. It is run by two professionals and many volunteers.

It presents an exhibition each month, showcasing a noteworthy local artist or group. It also holds a professional jury once a month; any artist from southeastern Michigan may submit work for sale and exhibition.

Because of the Market's overall popularity, the Riverfront Ball committee has been able to draw on talented persons from both sides of Detroit to serve on a variety of subcommittees. General co-chairmen are Grosse Pointe's Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Booth, II, and William R. Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. Burton D. Farberman, of Huntington Woods, and Mr. and Mrs. K. Peter Knudson, of Bloomfield Hills.

The Pointe party committee contingent includes Mrs. Robert L. Benkert, Mrs. Derek I. Meier, Mrs. Michael L. Barry, Andrew L. Camden, Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Platt, Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Auction VIII Benefit for U. of D. High

A pair of young Pointers, University of Detroit High School students ROBERT BOWEN, (left), and BILL YOUNG, observe as The Reverend P. DOUGLAS KELLER, S.J., approves a jeroboam of rare French wine, one of hundreds of items arriving for the school's High Time Auction VIII, to be presented Saturday evening, February 16, in the Renaissance Center's Plaza Hotel Ballroom. There will be special parking accommodations for guests at the party, which will run from 5:30 to 1 o'clock. Admission is by reservation only. Tickets may be obtained by calling 862-5400.

General chairpersons this year are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stevens and Mary Anne Chutorash. Among their committee heads and coordinators are three Pointers: Pat (Mrs. John) Young, acquisitions chairman, Nancy Nordstrom, in charge of the Mother's Boutique, and Barbara (Mrs. James) Stickford, advisory chairman.

U. of D. High School is over a century old, with a strong, dedicated alumni association. Spearheading the auction's alumni affiliations this year are Pointer Emil Berg, a 1950 graduate, and Carl Schmidt, Jr., of West Bloomfield, Class of '37.

Another Pointer resident, James McDonald, past recipient of the school's Outstanding Alumnus Award, is honorary chairman of Auction VIII.

It was the Alumni Association which started the High

Time Auctions almost a decade ago. Three men—Father Keller, then the school's principal, now Development director and an Auction VIII advisor, Pointer Larry DuMouchelle, of DuMouchelle Auction Galleries, who has served as auctioneer each year, and Farmington businessman Conrad Chapman, Alumni Association president at the time — combined to initiate the fund raiser for U. of D. High.

The evening's format changes only slightly from year to year. The atmosphere is typically auction, with hundreds of items going up on the block, and DuMouchelle keeps the bids coming in. There is also a very popular silent auction, plus floor games for the guests. The pages of High Time

Auction VIII's catalogue are crammed with trips, tickets for sports, plays and other entertainment events, cars and condominiums, ski packages and hunting excursions, parties and appliances, art and antiques, wines and spirits and myriad more goods and services.

The U. of D. High Mother's Club has stocked a boutique with handmade articles, toys, holiday decorations, needlecraft kits, jams and jellies. All are pre-priced.

Dining and dancing are included in the festivities. Music will be provided by Contraband. Father Robert Kopek, S.J., is auction photographer. Father James Riley, S.J., U. of D. High treasurer, will be assisted at the auction by cashier Ronald Naski.

New Gowanie Season Ahead

Members of the board of Gowanie Golf Club Women's Association gathered Wednesday, January 30, at the Lincoln road home of their 1980 president, Mrs. Stanley Kramer, to plan their golf season. Mrs. Kramer led the discussion of scheduled events.

The April agenda includes a tee-off breakfast on the 17th, a golf clinic conducted by club professional Jack Clark on the 24th and a luncheon-fashion show on the 29th. Officers serving with Mrs. Kramer include Mrs. Stanley Dzuiba, vice-president, Mrs. Carl Meier, secretary, and Mrs. Russell Hamlin, treasurer.

Board members are Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Richard Miller, Mrs. Bud Skantze, Mrs. Ted Worthman and Mrs. Frank Kaufman.

Nine-hole co-chairmen are Mrs. John Benedict and Mrs. William Dougherty.

Mrs. Jim Maurer, past-president, and Mrs. William Vincent, past golf-chairman, were at the luncheon as honorary advisors.

Colon Cancer Group Formed

The Michigan Cancer Foundation's East Service Center in Mack avenue is organizing a winter discussion group for women who have had surgery for cancer of the colon.

"Our groups are structured so that participants can freely discuss their concerns, fears and difficulties surrounding the total cancer experience," says Jane Schaefer, MSW, coordinator of Rehabilitation Services for the foundation.

"The ostomy group will attempt to meet the individual needs of its members," she continues. "We will deal with the women's social, marital, vocational and economic concerns."

"And the supportive atmosphere within the group encourages the expression of emotional feelings." The group will be led by a specially trained social worker and Registered Nurse and will meet for eight weekly sessions on Thursdays, from 2:30 to 4 o'clock, beginning today, Thursday, February 7.

Enrollment is limited and there is no fee. Further information may be obtained by calling the center, 881-2416 weekdays.

The MCF is a Torch Drive/United Way agency.

Slate Chrysanthemum Society's Next Meeting

The Greater Detroit Chrysanthemum Society will meet Sunday, February 10, at 2:30 o'clock in the Tel-Twelve Community Room to hear Albert Kazak's program on Bio-Dynamic Gardening. The public is invited, parking is free and there is no admission charge.

Mr. Kazak's presentation pertains to the force of the sun, moon and earth in gardening, on the light, bacterial and biological forces that make the earth come alive and grow flowers.

The speaker, a graduate of Wayne State University, recently retired from his position as industrial engineer with Parke Davis, is a director of the Greater Detroit Chrysanthemum Society. He grows flowers and vegetables on one-and-a-half acres at his residence in Farmington Hills.

Pair Planning Summer Rites

Planning a mid-August wedding in Saint James Church, Grosse Ile, are Victoria Maria Bucacink and Robert Fulwell Shurly whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bucacink, of Country Club drive.

The bride-elect was graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School and expects to receive her degree in Speech Communication from Wayne State University in December.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Richard Shurly, of Grosse Ile, holds both Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees from Eastern Michigan University. He is presently associated with General Binding Corporation, Southfield.

RUTH PEABODY IS NOW ASSOCIATED WITH OUR NEW ART NEEDLEWORK DEPARTMENT IN OUR STORE FOR THE HOME. We are very pleased to have her expertise available to customers. Her talent at custom painting canvas and ability to instruct are well-known and appreciated by novice and expert alike. Our needlework shop will have a full range of supplies and hand painted canvases for personal accessories, clothing and home decorative projects. Come in soon and be creatively inspired. Ruth Peabody will be happy to assist you with your project whether beginner or advanced in the needle arts.

Betrothed

May wedding plans are being made by LINDA LEE CLEMENT and Bardhyl Rustem Sejfulla whose engagement has been announced by her mother, Marjorie I. Clement, of Blairmoor court.

The bride-elect is a Grosse Pointe South High School alumna. Her fiance, son of Mrs. Rustem Sejfulla, of Belanger avenue, and the late Mr. Sejfulla, holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Wayne State University's College of Engineering.

The Richard Moores

Mr. Moore, son of the Dwight Moores, of Belanger road, claimed ELIZABETH ANNE (Betsy) WILLIAMS, daughter of Mrs. June Williams, of University place, and Art Williams, of Westchester road, as his bride Saturday, December 15, in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

Moore-Williams Vows Exchanged

Nine-Year-Old Steven Moore Is Best Man for His Father; Six-Year-Old Scott Moore Is Ring Bearer

A reception at the Troy home of R. Edward Barry followed the Saturday, December 15, wedding of Elizabeth Anne (Betsy) Williams and Richard R. Moore. Dr. Robert C. Linthicum officiated at the 1 o'clock rites in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. June Williams, of University place, and Art Williams, of Westchester road, the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Moore, of Belanger road.

The newlyweds vacationed in Toronto. They are at home in St. Clair Shores.

The former Miss Williams' accordion-pleated gown of white Qiana featured lace-trimmed sleeves, a lace collar and lace-trimmed bodice. She wore white miniature carnations, red Sweetheart roses and baby's-breath in her hair and carried a bouquet of matching flowers.

She was attended by her honor maid Bonnie Ferguson and bridesmaids Lori Metz, a former roommate, and Mrs. R. Edward Barry, the bridegroom's sister. They wore burgundy dresses, accordion-pleated, with capes.

Pink Sweetheart roses, miniature Elegance carnations and baby's-breath formed their bouquets.

Nine-year-old Steven Moore was his father's best man. Ring bearer was six-year-old Scott Moore. Steven's brother. Ushers were Mark Pinney and Mr. Barry.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom both wore afternoon dresses, the former's plum-colored, the latter's lavender. White miniature carnations formed their corsages.

Heart of Gold Honors Go to Philip Meathe

Philip J. Meathe, of Grosse Pointe boulevard, was among 12 volunteers honored for outstanding community service Tuesday, February 5, at the 13th annual United Foundation Heart of Gold luncheon at Cobo Hall.

Nearly 2,000 metropolitan area residents attended the event which is co-sponsored by the Heart of Gold Award Council and Women for the United Foundation.

In addition to Meathe, heart-shaped gold mementos symbolizing extraordinary volunteer service were awarded to Nena Dillick, of Birmingham, Martha Gelder, Betty Gerisch, Phyllis McLean, Ivabell Harlan and Catherine F. Vieson, of Bloomfield Hills, Josephine Kessler, of Huntington Woods, Reginald Flores, of Redford Township, and Martha Montgomery, Beulah Groehn-Croxford and Eugene Parker, of Detroit.

Extending their congratulations were UF Executive Vice President H. Clay Howell, WUF President Mary Lou Miller and Charles T. Smith, Jr., chairman of the Board of Detroit's Central Business District Association.

Guest speaker was Patricia Carbine, editor-in-chief and publisher of Ms. Magazine. As president and chief executive officer of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Associates, one of the largest architectural, engineering and planning firms in the United States, Meathe has extended his professional knowledge to his volunteer efforts in aiding the City of Detroit.

The Detroit Urban League, in nominating Meathe, explained: "We nominate an individual who has risen to excellence in business without losing his concern and commitment to improving the quality of life and access to opportunity for all the residents of his community."

Meathe is an active member of the Central Business District Association. Presently, he serves as chairman of the board of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce and is also chairman of Mayor Coleman A. Young's Private Industry Council.

The council will work to train low-income and poorly-educated youth for employment in the private sector. Meathe's other volunteer efforts include the Detroit

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schadier, of Blairmoor court.

Sale Date Set By Camp Fire

This year, the Detroit Area Camp Fire Council hopes to raise $45,000 from its annual Candy Sale, which opens Friday, February 22, and will run through March 3. Candy buyers have their choice of Cadbury Milk Chocolate with crisped rice or Cadbury Carmello, priced at $1 a bar.

This annual sale is the single largest fund-raising effort of Camp Fire's Detroit Area Council. Proceeds provide 38 percent of the council's yearly operating budget, and also help maintain Camp Wathana, a 380-acre resident facility near Holly.

Camp Wathana is open all year for a variety of camping experiences for non-members as well as Camp Fire members. Opportunities range from a summer resident program for girls six to 17 to group and family camping outings in the fall, winter and spring.

Further information on how to purchase Camp Fire Candy may be obtained by calling 833-2870. Camp Fire is a Torch Drive Agency serving Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Livingston counties.

Set Salvation Army Auxiliary's Meeting

The Auxiliary to the Salvation Army has scheduled its next meeting for Monday, February 11, at 11 o'clock at Salvation Army Headquarters in North Main street, Royal Oak.

Following a brown bag luncheon at noon, (dessert and coffee will be served).

Mrs. R.F. Goodard will display and talk on her collection of antique dolls.

Luncheon reservations are being taken by Mrs. Rose Sinnott at TI 6-4787, Mrs. Frank Voorheis at 646-2309 and Mrs. Enid Gee at 642-5145.

Slate St. Olaf Choir Concert

The internationally renowned St. Olaf Choir from Northfield, Minn., will sing at Orchestra Hall Wednesday, February 13, at 8 o'clock.

The choir, conducted by Dr. Kenneth Jennings, has been an audience favorite on both its United States and European tours which have included visits to the nation's leading concert halls as well as to small-town churches and some of the world's most majestic cathedrals.

As a whole, the program the choir will present at Orchestra Hall is a tour de force of the great choral heritage of the Lutheran Church.

It contains three works by the German composer Heinrich Schutz, Cantate Domino, O Lord, Creator of All Things and I Am the Resurrection and the Life, plus Johann Sebastian Bach's exuberant motet Sing Ye to the Lord.

Another section of the program will feature Edvard Grieg's Hvad est du dog

From Czechoslovakia to the Pointe

MRS. JAN NYBOER, of Cadieux road, (right) enjoys a happy reunion with DR. and MRS. VACLAV KEJR, of Czechoslovakia, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church where Dr. Kejr is serving as Ecumenical Minister. Mrs. Kejr will be guest speaker at the Agape Breakfast to which the public is invited next Tuesday, February 12, at 9:30 o'clock in the church's Fellowship Hall. The Kejrs and Nyboers became friends in 1970 while Dr. Nyboer was participating in a six month Exchange Scientist program in Prague. Dr. Kejr, now retired, was moderator of the Synod of the Evangelical Church of Czech Brethren, the highest office of that church.

Mrs. Kejr will tell of her life as the American wife of a prominent Christian Minister in Czechoslovakia, beginning in 1933 when she went from her home in Chicago to Prague to be married, through World War II and the subsequent political and social changes in Czechoslovakia to the present time.

She will tell of the women of her church and the sacrifices they must make for their Christian beliefs.

Following her remarks, Dr. Kejr will join his wife at the podium for a question and answer period.

The annual Agape Breakfast, (Agape means brotherly love), is a tradition at Memorial Church, enjoyed by the whole community.

Mrs. Alfred S. Warren Jr., president of the Church Women's Association, will welcome the guests. Mrs.

David T. George, director of Christian Education, will lead the devotions. Mrs. Nyboer will introduce her longtime friends.

Service Guild co-chairman Mrs. Joseph Dunlap is planning the decorations and the breakfast.

Reservations may be made at the church office in Lakeshore road or by calling 882-5330. Nursery care will be available.

Skjn, (How Lovely Thou Art), O Crux by the contemporary Norwegian Knut Nystedt, A Hymn to the Nativity by British composer Kenneth Leighton and The Exaltation of Christ by Charles Forsberg.

The work by Forsberg, a member of the St. Olaf College Music faculty, was written for the St. Olaf Choir and is receiving its premier performance on this 1980 tour.

Also included on the program are two recently published motets by Aaron Copland: Help Us, O Lord and Sing Ye Praises to Our King.

F. Melius Christiansen is represented with O Day Full of Grace and his classic arrangement of the simple hymn tune Beautiful Savior.

"It seems appropriate," Dr. Jennings notes, "that on this 60th anniversary of the St. Olaf Choir's first East Coast concert tour our program is largely composed of the great music of the church."

"The purpose of that 1920 tour, which included New York, Washington, Philadelphia and many stops between here and there, was to demonstrate the beauty and the appeal of sacred music performed with excellence. That is still our purpose."

Jennings regards a Richard Strauss composition, little known and seldom performed in this country, as the major work on the program. Titled "Hymne," it is a lengthy piece written for 16-part chorus, in contrast to the usual four or eight parts for mixed chorus, and performed a cappella.

Difficult musically, the piece has all the sweep and grandeur of Strauss' symphonic works and demonstrates as well his supreme mastery of polyphonic technique.

Proceeds from the concert will be equally divided between the St. Olaf Alumni Association and Orchestra Hall. Tickets at $7 per person are available at the Orchestra Hall box office and Hudson's.

Detroit Retired School Personnel Meet Feb. 8

The Detroit Association of Retired School Personnel will meet at 1 o'clock Friday, February 8, in Westminster Presbyterian Church Fellowship Hall, Hubbell at West Outer drive, Detroit, to hear Michael Kobran, administration engineer in the Detroit Department of Transportation's Engineering Department.

Mr. Kobran, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Lehigh University and has a degree in Public Administration from Wayne State University, presented a paper on Activity Center Improvements in Detroit at last year's national convention of the Society of Civil Engineers.

He co-authored an article in last July's "Traffic Quarterly" entitled Transportation's Role in Downtown Detroit's Revitalization.

He is a native of New Jersey, and has been with the City of Detroit for almost 20 years.

Tax aides began work at Tindall Recreation Center Wednesday, January 16, and at Kronk Senior Center Monday, January 21. Help is available, at no charge, to DARS members and community senior citizens. Further information may be obtained by calling the centers.

The DARS, anticipating federal, state and local income tax returns due in April, has launched its 1980 Tax-Aid Program, a service provided by association officers and member volunteers. Elsa Holderried, president-elect, is coordinator. Volunteers include Berniece Fred-

Tour Features Pewabic Work

The Park Avenue Club, (formerly the Women's City Club), and Pewabic Pottery will be two of the featured stops Sunday, February 17, on a Pewabic in Detroit Architecture Tour sponsored by the Detroit Historical Society in cooperation with the Detroit Historical Museum.

Both buildings were designed by architect William B. Stratton who married Pewabic's founder, Mary Chase Perry, in 1918. Her brilliant blue, delicate grey, green and brown tiles, sometimes tinged with gold or opalescence, added charm and character to many of his buildings.

The tour will originate at the Historical Museum at approximately 1:30 o'clock and return there by 5 o'clock. Travel will be aboard the Historymobile, so that cars may be left in the museum's parking lot.

Tickets, which must be purchased in advance, may be obtained by sending checks or money orders, ($4 for Historical Society members, $5 for non-members), to the Detroit Historical Society, 5401 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48202. The final tour in the Historical Society's winter series, scheduled for Sunday, March 23, will focus on Detroit's historical theaters and movie palaces.

Local Church Women to Meet

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational/American Baptist Church will hold its monthly meeting next Tuesday, February 12, at the church.
 Mrs. William Reid, the new president, will officiate at the business session at 11:15 in the morning in the church lounge. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock by the Naomi Group.
 The afternoon program, "A Trip Around the World" with films and commentary, will be presented by three well known ladies of the church: Mrs. William M. Adams, Mrs. Bernice Bates and Mrs. Frank Seydler.
 Reservations should be made at the church office before Monday, February 11. Baby sitting arrangements may be made by contacting the church office, also by Monday.

Bride-Elect

The engagement of CYNTHIA SUZANNE REYNOLDS and Michael Glennon Connors has been announced by her parents, Sissy Reynolds, of Grayton road, and Sydney Reynolds, of East Jefferson avenue, Detroit. A September wedding is being planned.
 The bride-elect attended Dominican High School and was graduated cum laude with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Telecommunications from Michigan State University, where she affiliated with Alpha Phi sorority.
 She is presently an assistant media buyer with Kenyon & Eckhardt Advertising, Inc.
 Her fiance, son of Mrs. Robert Connors, of Oxford road, and the late Mr. Connors, is an Austin Prep School alumnus. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Marketing from Michigan State University, where he was a Senior Class Council representative and affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity.
 He is a marketing representative for Mobil Oil Corporation in Kalamazoo.

Tuesday Musicale Sets Two Concerts

First Program to Be Dedicated to Parade of American Music; Second Will Feature Works by Johannes Brahms
 Tuesday Musicale of Detroit salutes United States composers and German composer and pianist Johannes Brahms in its concerts this month, set for February 12 and 26. Both will be held at 10:30 o'clock in the Lecture Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts.
 President Mrs. Eugene T. Ignasiak, of Dorthen road, will dedicate the February 12 concert to the Michigan and National Federations of Music Clubs' Parade of American Music which promotes the performance of works by United States composers.
 The all-American program, chaired by Mrs. C. E. Pardee, Jr., will open with Roy Harris' Abraham Lincoln Walks At Midnight.
 Contralto Mrs. Ellwyn A. Gilbert, of University place, pianist Mrs. Burt E. Taylor, Jr., of Ridge road, violinist Mrs. George Peterson, of Bedford road, and cellist Mrs. Paul G. Eliason, of Ballfour road, will be the performers.
 Mrs. Robert S. Laing follows with Paul Hindemith's Sonata No. 3 for Piano.
 Mrs. Harold Gaide, soprano, and Mrs. Douglas P. MacIntosh, pianist, will perform William Roy's The Little Rose, John Brodwin Kennedy's April and the aria "Somehow I Never Could Believe" from Kurt Weill's Street Scene.
 Piano duettists Mrs. Laing and Mrs. T. Darell Eubank, of Berkshire road, will perform the finale: Robert Kurka's Dance Suite Opus 29.
 The all-Brahms program, chaired by Mrs. Gilbert, opens with four songs—Volkslied, Vergeblisches Standchen, Wiegenlied and Von ewiger Liebe — featuring soprano Mrs. David G. vonOeyen, of Detroit, with Mrs. Thomas I. Young, of Loraine road, at the piano.
 Mrs. Walter J. Burczyk, of Littlestone road, will perform piano solos Capriccio Op. 116 No. 3, Intermezzo Op. 118 No. 6 and Rhapsody in B minor.
 Mrs. Gilbert will team with Mrs. Robert J. Crossen, of Tonnancour place, pianist, to present Four Serious Songs: Denn es gehet dem Menschen, Ich Wandte mich, O Tod, wie better and Wenn ich mit Menschen-und mit Engelnzungen redete.
 The finale, Trio No. 1 in B major, Op. 8, will be performed by Mrs. MacIntosh, piano, Mrs. Ara Zerounian, violin, and guest cellist Minka Christoff.

Talk on Herbs For Suburbia
 Suburbia Garden Club met on Tuesday, February 5, at the Belle Meade home of Mrs. Herbert Epstein for a business session, luncheon and program featuring Mrs. Jack Wion speaking on "The Pleasurable Use of Herbs,"

Rose Society Meets Feb. 13
 The Grosse Pointe Rose Society will hold its first meeting of the New Year next Wednesday, February 13, at 7:45 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road, to hear Angelo Taveggia analyze new rose varieties.
 The program is designed to coincide with the time of year when rose fanciers start to think about the beautiful roses they will have in June. It is also the time when many people make serious mistakes by ordering roses that should not be planted in the Great Lakes District from national nurseries.
 Those who prefer to buy plants from local nurseries or garden stores should also be careful to select the right varieties, for roses that will not grow well in this area may be prone to mildew and blackspot, may open too fast or be very sparse bloomers. Some varieties cannot stand Michigan's severe winters.
 Mr. Taveggia, certified as a Consulting Rosarian and Accredited Judge by the American Rose Society, grows approximately 400 rose plants, including Hybrid Teas, Grandifloras and Floribundas.
 His program will cover what to look for when ordering from a catalogue or from pictures displayed at local nurseries plus how, where and when to order new plants. He also will give his recommendations on older roses that have proved to be excellent as show or garden varieties.
 Kenneth Wheeler, president of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society, invites all rose growers in Grosse Pointe, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores to attend the meeting and recommends they bring notebooks.
 Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

One Million Visit Museum
 Final 1979 attendance figures at the Detroit Institute of Arts have been announced by museum director Frederick J. Cummings.
 In Detroit, enjoying permanent collections, special exhibitions or the performing arts were 1,021,059 visitors. In outstate Michigan another 300,000 people attended eight traveling shows, live Theatre performances or popular art lectures.
 "The Art Institute," notes Dr. Cummings, "has new momentum in its programs and building services. The 1980s should see further attendance increases to the 1,500,000 level in Detroit and 2,000,000 statewide."
 The three major exhibitions during 1979 were "The Second Empire: Art in France Under Napoleon III," "Noguchi's Imaginary Landscapes" and "John Singer Sargent and the Edwardian Age."
 The Performing Arts Department, which accounted for 236,140 of the 1,021,059 attendance in Detroit and 225,000 more throughout Michigan, offered the Wasail Feast in the museum's Great Hall on seven December evenings, the World Adventure Series on Sunday afternoons, Brunch with Bach on Sunday mornings, the 34-week Detroit Theatre season, the weekend Film Theatre and Jazz at the Institute.

Gary Bertini To Lead DSO

Gary Bertini begins a three week guest conducting engagement with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra with concerts tonight, Thursday, February 7, Friday, February 8, and Saturday, February 9, at Ford Auditorium. Cellist Yo-Yo Ma is the featured soloist.

The Thursday and Saturday evening performances are at 8:30 o'clock. Friday morning's NBD Coffee Concert at 10:45 will be preceded by a complimentary coffee hour at 9:30.

The program includes Rousset's "Bacchus et Ariane" Suite No. 2, Saint-Saens' Cello Concerto No. 1 and Berlioz' "Symphonie Fantastique."

Tickets for the Thursday and Saturday concerts are available at $9, $8, $7 and $5. In addition, a limited number of $2 tickets for students and senior citizens will be available one hour prior to the concerts.

Tickets for the Friday morning NBD Coffee Concert are 9, $7.50 and $6.

Tickets for all performances are available at the Ford Auditorium, box office, Master Charge and VISA charge card customers may phone in orders at 962-5524.

Bertini received his musical education in Israel and at the Conservatorio National Verdi in Milan. He completed his studies in conducting at the Paris Conservatoire National and in Musicology at the Sorbonne.

He made his debut with the Israel Philharmonic in 1955 and has since appeared regularly with this orchestra; founded and is music director of the Israel Chamber Orchestra and of the Rinat Chamber Choir, has conducted many of the major orchestras in the world and, since 1971, has been principal guest conductor of the Scottish National Orchestra.

Since 1975 he has been a professor at the University of Tel Aviv.

In 1978 he was appointed artistic advisor of the Israel Festival. In 1978 he became musical director and principal conductor of the Jerusalem Symphony Orchestra.

This is his fourth appearance with the DSO. He made

Showroom Preview Benefits HOPE

Viewing a $25,000 17th Century Dutch floral painting, one of many art objects in the new Baker Knapp & Tubbs Detroit Showroom in the Michigan Design Center, Troy, where all proceeds from a charity preview Sunday, February 10, from 5 to 7 o'clock will go to Project HOPE, are ALLAN WARNER, manager of the new showroom, MRS. GEORGE P. JOHNSON, JR., (center), of Willow Tree place, one of HOPE's hostesses for the charity preview, and former Pointer MRS. CHARLES A.

BARLOW who is co-chairing the event with Mrs. Paul L. Nine. There will be hors d'oeuvres and cocktails, courtesy of Baker Knapp & Tubbs. A replica of the original Baker planter stand in the Baker Museum, Holland, Mich., valued at over $500, will be awarded during the party. Donation is $12.50 per person. Ticket information may be obtained by calling the Project HOPE office in Troy, 649-4775. Another Pointer among the hostesses you'll see at the preview is Mrs. Donald C. Longyear.

his debut with the orchestra in January, 1978.

Yo-Yo Ma, born October 7, 1955, in Paris, of Chinese parents, began his cello studies with his father at the age of four and gave his first recital at the Institute of Art and Archeology at the University of Paris at the age of six.

Since 1982 he has studied with Janos Scholz and with Leonard Rose at the Juilliard School of Music. He was awarded the Avery Fisher Prize in 1978.

His career has burgeoned with recitals and solo appearances with major American symphony orchestras since he was invited to appear in The American Pageant of the Arts on national television with Leonard Bernstein some 10 years ago. He is a graduate of Harvard University and plays a rare Italian Goffriller cello made in 1722.

This is Yo-Yo Ma's second appearance with the Detroit Symphony. He made his DSO debut in July of 1978 at the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

Review Club Meets Feb. 12

The University Club will be the scene for the Tuesday, February 12, luncheon and program of the Detroit Review Club. Daniel C. Beattie, former writer of the "Lone Ranger," "Green Hornet" and "Challenge of the Yukon," is sponsoring the DRC luncheon.

Mrs. Harry Graham, social activities chairman, is in charge of the table arrangements, and Mrs. Robert Kefgen, of Wicks Lane, DRC president, will act as official hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. Lloyd Patterson, program chairman and past-president. Mrs. Aaron E. Wilcox, another past-president, is chairman of the day. She will introduce the afternoon's speaker, Mary Ellen Kirby, former club editor, beauty editor, feature writer, metro and general assignment reporter with the Detroit News city room, presently an investigative reporter for Contact 10.

The title of her talk is "Glamour and The Hammer." Glamour refers to the interesting, unpublished tidbits Mary Ellen will disclose about the celebrities she has interviewed. They range from Eva Gabor, ("She has the most gorgeous skin I have ever seen. A true beauty!"), to designers Halston and Oscar de la Renta, from hair stylists Vidal Sassoon and Kenneth to perfumer Henry Calisher to Eileen Ford, head of the internationally known modeling agency.

The Hammer portion of the program will focus on the role Contact 10 plays in trying to solve consumer problems and answer questions, and how a Contact 10 investigative reporter goes about finding the answers.

Miss Kirby, born and raised in Monroe where she was graduated from Saint Mary's Academy, attended Mercy College before transferring to Michigan State University where she received her degree from the Journalism School. She is a member of the MSU Alumni Club and the Detroit Press Club.

Kappa Kappa Gammas Plan A Social Evening

Cocktails and a light buffet will be served to local Kappa Kappa Gammas and their escorts Sunday, February 17, from 5 to 8 o'clock at the Lincoln road home of Betsy and Dick Boynton.

Invitations have been sent and arrangements made by committee members Anne Clark, Betty Coddington, Nancy Chuba, Laurie Huette-man, Lee Miller, Lois Potter, Graechen Stewart, Fran Tanner and Marcia Winzer.

Nancy, current president of the local KKG's, urges all area alumnae to attend this annual party featuring fun and songs.

Daughters of Isabella Slate Social Evening
 Ama Deus Circle 616, Hall in East Warren avenue. Daughters of Isabella, has scheduled a social evening starting at 8 o'clock Monday, February 25, at Gabriel Richard Knights of Columbus. Co-chairladies are Asma Adary, 371-7441, Jane Boyle, 682-2868, and Lillian Matthews, 468-2788.

Silk Flower Sessions Set

Two short series of Silk Flower Workshops, each running four weeks, will be taught by Judy Schulte this season at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. The beginning program, scheduled from 12:30 to 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoons, starts next Wednesday, February 13, and will run through March 5. It will be followed by a more advanced workshop, also on Wednesday afternoons, March 12 through April 2. Fee for each course is $35 plus the cost of materials. Further information may be obtained by contacting the War Memorial, 881-7511.

Lakeside Palette Club Focus on Landscapes

St. Clair Shores artist Anthony Warren will demonstrate landscape painting in oils at Lakeside Palette Club's general meeting Tuesday, February 12, at 7:30 in the evening in the Teen Room of the St. Clair Shores Recreation Center in East Jefferson avenue. The program is open to the public, for a small donation. Refreshments will be served.

Mott Grant Aids Artrain

Michigan Artrain, Inc., has received a $50,000 grant from the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation of Flint for community arts development.

The grant is the foundation's second for support of Artrain staff work in helping communities to plan for and promote visits and take advantage later of the interest and momentum generated.

The first of about 13 stops being scheduled for Artrain's 10th annual tour will be in Albion April 7 to 11. The six railroad cars housing an art museum and a studio for working artists will be in Detroit July 12 to 20, making Artrain one of the community attractions for delegates and others attending the Republican National Convention July 15 to 18.

At least 40 of 95 community arts councils in Michigan owe their origin to visits made by Artrain. More than two million persons have seen the Artrain.

The Charles Stewart Mott Foundation is a private foundation with assets of about $400 million that awards over 350 grants a year for programs fostering community self-improvement.

Pair of Special Events to Aid March of Dimes

Mayor Coleman A. Young will be the first political figure ever honored as Humanitarian of the Year at the Metropolitan March of Dimes eighth annual Sweetheart Ball, set for Saturday, February 9, at the Radisson Cadillac Hotel.

Young's commitment to and revitalization of the City of Detroit led to his selection.

Under Secretary of the Interior James Joseph has been appointed by President Jimmy Carter to represent him at the event, and to make the presentation to Mayor Young.

Judge Damon J. Keith is honorary executive chairman of the elegant evening. Friends of the mayor and representatives of business, unions and government are serving on the executive committee. Florine Mark and Sondra Berlin, Weight Watcher executives and March of Dimes board members and volunteers, are general chairmen.

A four-foot long cake depicting Detroit's riverfront development is being especially constructed by the Fred Sanders Company for the gala. It will include Detroit's new trolley and trolley line.

Northern High School's ROTC will provide escort duties and color guard. Harpist Onita Saunders will play during the cocktail hour, which begins at 6:30 o'clock. The Charles E. Moore New Orleans Jazz Band also will entertain.

Dinner is set for 8, the presentation ceremonies for approximately 9:15 o'clock. Tickets at $100 per person are all-inclusive and are tax deductible. Proceeds will go toward a March of Dimes Comprehensive Teenage Pregnancy Program at Ford Hospital. Further information is available at 864-6000.

The March of Dimes Fashion Extravaganza organization, founded by the late Dr. Violet T. Lewis, will celebrate its 27th consecutive year on the Detroit fashion scene when it hosts the 1980 March of Dimes Fashion Extravaganza Sunday, February 10, from 1:30 to 5:30 o'clock in the Detroit Plaza Hotel's Columbus Room.

This year's fashions come from the American Designers New York Collection, including Bill Blass, Jean Noel for Star of Siam, Scott Barrie, Luis Estevez, Diane Von Furstenberg, Cole of California, Gottex of Israel, Vera Maxwell, Bern Conrad, Ralph Lauren, Frank Masandrea for Steve Lawrence, Irka, Odette Barsa and others.

Martha Jean "The Queen" Steinberg, a fashion attraction in her own right, will commentate, and there is an elegant dinner included in the ticket price of $17.50. Information and tickets are available by calling Anna Colbert, 273-0046, or the March of Dimes office, 864-6000.

There will be no tickets at the door... and as in years past, the event is expected to be a sellout.

Nancy Allen is general chairwoman. A portion of her committee includes LaTrelle Powers, Robelye Dungy, Lillian Howard, Betty Howard, Maggie Farris, Leona Head, Anna Colbert, Sue Johnson and Delores Mills. Fashion Extravaganza's efforts have raised more than $500,000 for the March of Dimes goals to alleviate and defeat birth defects.

Questers Plan Silver Session

Silver Smithing will be the topic of conversation tomorrow, Friday, February 8, when the Grand Marais Chapter of Questers meets at 9:30 in the morning at the Merriweather road home of Mrs. Charles E. Fisher to hear a well-known crafter of metals describe the techniques of handmade silver, illustrating her talk with pictures.

At the chapter's January meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Cornelius G. Egan in Fisher road, the hostess proudly displayed the large dollhouse built in the late 1800s by her great-great-grandfather.

She informed the members that with each generation the house was remodeled to keep up with the new trends... at one time it actually possessed running water!

Delta Gamma Alumnae To Meet Next Monday

The Grosse Pointe Alumnae Association of Delta Gamma will meet next Monday, February 11, at 1 o'clock in the Glen Arbor home of Louise (Mrs. Gene) Fry where a representative from the Grosse Pointe School Board's Administration Office will bring members up to date on and evaluate the School System's Pre-School Vision Screening Program.

Delta Gammas have actively participated in vision screening since the program's inception 10 years ago. Reservations for Monday afternoon's meeting should be made by contacting Mrs. Fry, 886-8902.

Program Focus On Egg Decor

Maxine (Mrs. Robert) Ebersole assisted hostess Shirley (Mrs. William) Bedard at a Trowel and Error Garden Club meeting in late January. The program, "Eggs Can Be Beautiful," was presented by Mrs. Carl Larsen who brought examples of her art — egg shells decorated with wax designs and jewel-encrusted ones with hinged doors opening on miniature scenes — to share with club members.

Organ, Trumpet Concert Set at Salem Lutheran

An organ and trumpet concert at Salem Memorial Lutheran Church in Moross road Sunday, February 17, at 4 o'clock will feature Dr. Arthur Vidrich on the church's tracker organ and Byron Pearson and David Brown on trumpets.

Dr. Vidrich is the first blind person to receive a Doctorate in Organ Performance from the University of Michigan. Pearson teaches at Oberlin College and Brown is the Toledo Symphony's principal trumpet. They will perform works by Francescini, Bach, Martini, Moulter and Manfredini.

Admission donation is $2.50 at the door. Students will be admitted for $1. The blind will be admitted free. Further information may be obtained by calling the church office, 881-9210 or 881-9211.

Newest Research Findings:
Low tar MERIT 100's preferred over high tar leaders in tests comparing taste and tar levels.

Merit 100's Victory!

Smokers Prefer MERIT 100's 3 To 1!

New taste-test results prove it.

Proof: A significant majority of 100's smokers rate MERIT 100's taste as good as—or better than—leading high tar 100's. Even cigarettes having 60% more tar!

Proof: Of the 95% stating a preference, 3 out of 4 smokers chose the MERIT low tar/good taste combination over high tar leaders when tar levels were revealed.

MERIT 100's: Proven Long

Term Alternative To High Tar Brands.

New national smoker study results prove it.

Proof: The overwhelming majority of MERIT 100's smokers polled feel they didn't sacrifice taste in switching from high tar cigarettes.

Proof: 97% of MERIT 100's smokers don't miss former high tar brands.

Proof: 9 out of 10 enjoy smoking as much since switching to MERIT 100's, are glad they switched, and report MERIT 100's is the best tasting low tar they've ever tried.

You've read the results. The conclusion is clearer than ever: MERIT 100's delivers a winning combination of taste and low tar.

A combination that's attracting more and more smokers every day and—more importantly—satisfying them long term.

168 HILLCREST LANE

OPEN SUNDAY 2:30-5:00

DROP WHATEVER YOU'RE DOING and hurry over to 168 Hillcrest Lane, near Kercheval and the lakefront park. We have just listed this early American Colonial, built in 1958 by Richard Kimbrough. Lovely garden room overlooking the secluded patio, 3 bedrooms, two of which easily accommodate twin beds, and 2 1/2 baths. The kitchen has built-ins and a breakfast area, and the home has central air conditioning.

IF A LOCATION CLOSE TO A SCHOOL is important to your family, be sure to inspect 1390 AUDUBON Sunday. It has all the extras for a family with children - paneled recreation room, large enclosed porch, 3 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, dressing room, 48-foot lot. Occupancy is available immediately and owner will consider a land contract.

SHOWN BY APPOINTMENT

LOOKING FOR SOMETHING DIFFERENT? This contemporary at 781 LAKESHORE is unique in every way! So many surprising features - a lava rock waterfall and garden pool, attached greenhouse, lanai, 4 fireplaces, family room with bar. Also spacious modern kitchen, library, 3 or 4 bedrooms, 2 baths and 2 lavatories.

NEAR THE LAKE AT 813 WHITTIER we are offering an attractive white colonial with a library and a family room on the first floor, a carpeted recreation room with a fireplace in the basement and 5 bedrooms with 3 baths on the second floor. Two-car attached garage, 75-foot lot. PRICE REDUCED!

PROVENCAL ROAD HAS its own special charm, and so does this colonial overlooking the golf course. Library, family room with fireplace and bar, 4 bedrooms, 3 1/2 baths plus semi-finished apartment above the 4-car attached garage. Recently decorated.
