Man Charged in Murder

Wayne County Jail pending his examination February 28.
Police Chief Henry Coonce said Eubank had been treated for psychiatric problems in the past.

A Musician
Neighbors of the Eubank family, some unaware that a murder had occurred on their block until Monday afternoon, said Eubank was very interested in music and that he had his own rock band.
A former school friend said Eubank "was very intelligent and an excellent guitar player."

Murphy's father, Robert, said his son paid Eubank a visit Saturday night to talk about the band.
"I'm got him the job in the band. He went over to his house to discuss a show," the elder Murphy said.
It was later reported that Eubank became depressed after he was fired from his job at a lounge in Detroit that same day. Police said he was employed at the Alley Cat Lounge in Detroit.
Park Resident
Murphy's father said his son had just gotten out of the Coast Guard and was in the process of going back to school. He was interested in becoming a writer.

The Murphys were former residents of the Park and had moved to Ludington three months ago, his father said.
Services for Murphy were held on Wednesday, February 20, at the Alexander-Rye Funeral Home and St. Simon Catholic Church in Ludington.
He is survived by his father and stepmother, Robert and Ann; two brothers; four sisters; two stepbrothers; and one step sister.
Interment was in Lakeview Cemetery in Ludington.

The officers also are members of the medical staff's executive committee which consists of the department chiefs and secretaries who are elected by their peers.
The executive committee coordinates the activities and general policies of the medical staff departments.

Robert J. Griffin, MD, is chief of the department of medicine. Nabil T. Tawile, MD, is secretary. Dr. McNeill is chief of the department of surgery, and Dr. Marshall is secretary.
William G. Fenner, MD, is chief of the department of family practice. Archie W. Bedell, MD, is secretary. R. John Bradford, MD, is chief of obstetrics-gynecology, while Magdy M. Hanna, MD, is secretary.
Ahmad N. Azar, MD, is chief of pediatrics. Jose M. Borrego, MD, is chief of special services and Denis A. Luz, MD, is secretary.

Pointers Greet

Paul Bergmoser, president of Chrysler Corporation, will be honored next month at a reception at The Roostertail designed to introduce Chrysler's chief operating officer to the public.

Profits from the $100 per person reception ($150 for an individual and spouse) will benefit Cleary College, the 97-year-old Ypsilanti business college which has supplied thousands of management executives, accountants and executive secretaries to the automotive industry and other manufacturing and business enterprises in Southeastern Michigan.

Gov. William G. Milliken and Detroit Mayor Coleman E. Young are honorary chairmen of the reception. Among area businessmen co-chairing the event include Pointers Oscar L. Olson, president of Olsonite Corporation; Ross Roy, chairman of Ross Roy, Inc. and Robert M. Surdam, chairman of National Bank of Detroit.

The new debedding plan is now available for public inspection at the CHPC office, 1200 Book Building, Detroit, and in the offices of the Public Health Director of Wayne County. Copies also are available in public libraries throughout southeastern Michigan.

Final consideration by the Statewide Health Coordinating Council is expected to take place at the end of March, after public hearings are held.

The plan then must be approved by the Michigan Department of Public Health and the state legislature. Hospitals then will be allowed a five year period in which to effect the consolidations and cuts.

North Hosts
BOEC Confab

Saturday, February 2, was an exciting day for BOEC students of Region IV East.

Each year, BOEC, (Business Office Education Club), sponsors a Regional Conference in all seven regions. This year, North High School was host under the direction of Donna Leung and Paul A. Pierron, regional advisor.

Students from 22 schools throughout Region IV East joined to compete in office skills and business-oriented events.

Advisors, judges and graders from each of the schools worked steadily to get students registered, prepared for, and enthused about the competitive event.

The conference concluded with an Awards Presentation in North's Performing Arts Center conducted by three of the 1979-80 BOEC State Officers; North High's Fran Gammicchia, state reporter; Cindy Geoffrey, state treasurer; and Shelly Bellefeuille, state secretary.

The top eight students received awards. These finalists from each of the competitive events are now eligible to compete at the state conference, which will be held at the Detroit Plaza Hotel on March 13, 14 and 15.

Youth Corps
Seeks Workers

The 1980 Youth Conservation Corps is looking for youth to work on needed conservation projects throughout Michigan. It is expected that about 1,500 positions will be filled for the period between mid-June and mid-August, according to Ross D. Dodge, YCC coordinator.

YCC is open to youths, between 15 and 18 years of age of all social, economic, educational and racial groups. All projects are co-educational and enrollees will be selected at random from completed applications within the recruitment area of each project, Dodge said.

Enrollees are paid $18.60 per day. Handicapped youths are urged to submit applications.

Applications for the YCC can be obtained by writing to YCC, Box 30028, Lansing 48909.

Bogan Called Back for More

The Wolverine Jazz Band, one of Detroit's most popular Dixieland Bands, performed at the Annual Central Illinois Jazz Festival, February 1 and 2, as one of the seven bands representing the nation's top jazz musicians.

In programming the seven bands, the Wolverines were scheduled for Friday and Saturday shows. Both resulted in numerous standing ovations and a spontaneous demand by the audience to schedule the Wolverines again Saturday night, according to Chet Bogan, band leader, of Sunningdale.

A petition was prepared and, within a short time, handed to the promoters with several hundred signatures.

After a short meeting, the management decided the Chet Bogan Wolverine Jazz Band with Dixie Belle would be added to the Saturday night program. In addition, the Wolverines were scheduled for next year's Jazz Festival.

The band was organized by Bogan and specializes in traditional Dixieland Jazz.

Bogan, a dentist by trade, has researched the early New Orleans Jazz bands and writes all of the arrangements with a philosophy of creating a blend of authentic tunes played with today's phrasing and chord structure. In orchestrating these old tunes, his objective is to create a full tight sound on the ensemble choruses yet retaining the freedom and openness of improvisation.

The present side men in the Wolverine group are Steve Zelle, banjo; Tom L. Saunders, tuba; Mike Pokrefka, drums; Stu Sanders, trombone; and Wally Tronanko, clarinet.

At present, the group performs locally every Tuesday at the Lido on the Lake in St. Clair Shores. It also will appear in concert on Sunday February 24, at 3 p.m. for Jim Taylor's Detroit Hot Jazz Society, at Mr. Christians on Main Street and 12 Mile in Royal Oak. All Jazz lovers are welcome. Tickets are $5 at the door.

Jazz Artist Visits North

Bess Bonnier, well-known jazz pianist, will serve as artist-in-residence at North High School until the end of the semester. Bonnier's services are being sponsored by a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts and contributions from the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Academic Enrichment and the Grosse Pointe North Parents' Club.

A professional pianist Bonnier also is a teacher at the Center for Creative Studies, a co-ordinator of the Detroit Institute of Arts Summer Jazz Program and has been artist-in-residence at Cass Tech for three years with the Detroit Public Schools.

The jazz artist intends to teach a jazz course relating jazz to other arts as well as helping students recognize the unique jazz styles as America's contribution to the field of music.

In accordance with this she is planning a mixed program of lectures, music and individual clinics featuring outside performers to meet with the students.

Tax Lecture For Elderly

Patrick J. Mansfield, senior tax consultant of Touche Ross and Company, will lecture at a meeting of Grosse Pointe Chapter #2151 of the American Association of Retired Persons on Monday, February 25, at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road.

Mansfield will discuss 1980 Social Security tax rules, tax changes affecting personal income taxes for 1979 and retirement income credit. He will also speak on various estate planning topics including annual gift exclusion and information on the new Michigan Probate code.

Future activities of the AARP include a trip to the Grand Old Opry in Nashville, Tenn., from March 27 to March 31.

Senate Vote on District Court Bill

A bill to create a district court in Grosse Pointe was reported out of the Senate Judiciary committee last week and is expected to come up for a full vote on February 20, according to the legislation's sponsor Sen. John Kelly.

The act (SB 860) passed through judiciary without amendment, Kelly said. The proposed court reorganization is based on general consensus reached early this month by representatives of Grosse Pointe cities, he added.

The proposal calls for creation of a single Grosse Pointe court with two electoral divisions. Two judges will be elected for six-year terms—one from a division covering the Park and City and the other from the Farms, Woods and Shores.

Set Election

If approved by the legislature, the new court will begin operation January 1, 1981. A special election for judges will probably be held this fall and the two seats are expected to inspire heated competition between current municipal judges as well as newcomers to the field.

The current judges will receive incumbent designation in the election and will be able to transfer into the state pension system with full credit for municipal service, Kelly said.

District judges will be paid a minimum of $30,000, the amount provided by the state. Most cities supplement that salary by several thousand dollars.

The court reorganization would provide Grosse Pointe with its first full-time court of record, where civil and criminal cases may be heard.

Help from State

Under the present municipal system, each city elects its own judge and operates a part-time court with very limited civil and small claims jurisdiction.

The Grosse Pointes, East Detroit and Detroit are the only cities in Michigan still operating municipal courts.

If SB 860 is approved, the five cities will be charged with drawing up a plan for court administration and financing. If agreement is not reached, the state Supreme Court Administrative Office may step in.

To Discuss 'Acid Rain'

"Acid Rain Drops Keep Falling On My Head," will be the topic at the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe Thursday, February 28, meeting at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, 655 Cook road.

Robert Butler will discuss acid rain and pollution control following a dinner served in the Club House at 7:15 p.m. A cash bar will be available from 6:30 p.m.

Butler, a resident of the City, is a mechanical engineer consultant to Camp, Dresser and McKee.

Reservations can be made by sending a check for $8.50 made out to the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe, to Mrs. Robert C. Everett, 70 Woodland Shores, Grosse Pointe Shores, 48238 or by calling Aralynn Vinande at 884-1754 or Leila Lynch at 884-1856.

Rotary Marks Its 75th Year

The Rotary International is celebrating its 75th anniversary this month and Grosse Pointe Rotarians marked the occasion with a special message from former International director Hugh Archer on Monday, February 18.

The International, formed in Chicago in 1905, has grown to encompass 850,000 members in 18,374 clubs across the U.S. and 150 other nations.

The Grosse Pointe Club, chartered in 1937, includes more than 100 business and professional men. It has given more than $500,000 to local projects such as scholarships to high school students, development of George Elworthy Field, donations to the Family Life Education Council, the Neighborhood Club, local sports teams and the annual sponsorship of students from foreign countries.

In addition, it has made large contributions to local hospitals, the War Memorial and public libraries. Awards also are given each year to outstanding high school students.

Camera Club Hosts Contest

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will meet on Tuesday, February 26, at Brownell Middle School, 280 Chalfonte.

The club's special program will be a pictorial competition by the Greater Detroit Camera Club Council. Visitors are welcome to attend at 7:45 p.m.

Wine Lines

by John Lundberg

More so than whites, red wines usually are full bodied and hearty in flavor. It is their strength and robustness that makes them such good companions for red meats, thick steaks and large slices of roast beef. Sometimes, however, a rich red wine is a little more than is desired. If that is the case, look to the reds that are somewhat lighter, yet still full of taste and substance. Try beaujolais, bardolino, vulpolicella, or zinfandel. Beaujolais and bardolinos can be chilled slightly and may well be the perfect red, warm weather picnic wines, a little coolness and a lot of taste.

The best fact about life is that there is such a variety of tastes. PARKIE'S PARTY SHOP, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit, is pleased to have so successfully met the varied and discriminating tastes of this community for such a long time. Stop in today and discover the exquisite selection and the range of tastes that are available on the shelves of PARKIE'S PARTY SHOP. From a pleasing selection of liquors to a wide selection of wines to domestic and imported beers as well as tasty related "snacks," your tastes will be amazed. Open 10-10 Mon.-Thurs., 10-11 Fri. & Sat., noon-10 Sun. Tel. 885-0626.

DECA Contest Held at North

Weekends are normally quiet around the halls of North High School, but last Saturday was anything but normal.

The Grosse Pointe school was the scene of the annual district competition sponsored by the Michigan Association of DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America), an organization of students enrolled in Marketing and Retailing programs in high schools throughout the nation.

One of DECA's objectives is to provide opportunities for members to meet on a regional, state and national level to compete in job skills areas.

Thomas Boos, Distributive Education Coordinator at

North and this year's conference chairperson, and Roxanne Rivard, DECA regional vice-president had been planning the conference for many months. The event attracted nearly 200 students from 12 high schools in Southeastern Michigan.

According to Ms. Rivard, "the most difficult and time-consuming job was finding an adequate number of judges for each of the contest areas. Had it not been for the tremendous support of the local business community, the conference would have been impossible to stage."

The judges, for the competition were: Thomas Murphy (Jacobson's), Ann Cunningham (Hudson's), Carol Czeckowski (Sears), Carol Mastroianni and Rene Creath (Penney's), Thomas Brune (Atwood Lawn Spray Co.), Charles Hinton (General Tire Service), Carl Bengtson (Radio Shack), Larry Jenuwine (Macomb Candy and Tobacco), Chet Yavor (Beaupre Mobil Service), Bill Woo (Woo's Restaurant), Brian Killian (Perlmutter and Freiwald), Carmen Forkin (Rainbow Bridge), and Joseph L. Leonard, Ruth Shriman, Paul Pierron, and Donna Leung.

In the competition, students were given three complex competency tests in their selected area of marketing. First, second, and third places were awarded for each individual test, and trophies were for the three highest overall performances at each of two competitive levels; Manager/Owner and Master Employee.

In all, 144 trophies were awarded during the awards ceremony staged in the North Performing Arts Center.

North High students dominated the competition by capturing 44 awards.

Taking over all series honors were Brian Calka, Nick Masson, Melinda Bissa, Ken Howell, Bob Mazey, Bonnie Bonanno, Fred Andary, Liz Sauter, Jon DuCoin, Sharon Wiley and Marisa Didur. Students who won awards on individual events were Tracy Zigas, Terry Jarvis, Ron Simon, Jim Jara, Ron Battaino, Rene Pilette, Karl Lauri and Cheryl Stevens.

Regional winners will compete next at the State DECA Conference to be held at the Hyatt-Regency Hotel (Dearborn) in late March.

Who is the profession they would most like to follow? young people 14 to 25 recently told pollsters. Plumbing was the least desired.

DYR Board Name Members

New members of the Board of Directors of the Detroit Young Republicans were appointed to their posts at the club's monthly meeting held February 5. Among the new board members appointed by President Mark Valente III were nine Grosse Pointe residents who will serve one year terms.

Local residents serving are Rosalie Bryk, assistant at Kerby Elementary School, Bill Brucker of Merriweather, Kathleen Burke of Sheldon, Toni Dawood of Berkshire, Cliff Dirksen of Harcourt, Linda Eugenio of Whittier, Doug Glendening of Webber, Andrea Graham of Radnor circle, Jeffrey Harness of Fair Acres and Richard Scarfone of Mack.

Farms Charges 4 with Larceny

One Ferndale and three Madison Heights men were arrested early Monday morning, February 18, on larceny charges following a call from Farms resident Frank Aragona of Lakeshore road.

Public Safety officers Philip Miglio and Gerald Deburghraeve arrested Timothy Michael Belanger, 18, of 1297 Elliot, Madison Heights, James Charles Mitchell, 17, of 1204 Jennifer, Madison Heights, Timothy David Shumate, 18, of 1365 Delong, Madison Heights, and Kris Thomas Kolevar, 18, of 3343 Chester, Ferndale.

Aragona told police he observed a blue van in his driveway at approximately 1:55 a.m. He reported seeing two white males exit the van and remove two driveway lamp tops from his property. The driver then got out and broke off a large, oval-shaped glass porch lamp, got back in the van, and drove off at high speed, he reported.

Acting on an alert, public safety officers Harry Hamilton and John Fresard spotted and subsequently stopped the van at the corner of Vernier and Lakeshore. A search of its contents turned up some of the stolen items reported by Mr. Aragona and other items believed stolen but not yet reported from other homeowners in the Farms.

The four were taken to the Farms police station and were released on personal recognizance and will be notified of court dates.

Stolen items recovered from the van were a brass lamp fixture, two gunmetal lamp globes, a blue metal "private property" sign, a blue wood "Crescent Sail Club" sign, a wreath with a blue ribbon and an Evette Clarinet with the name Tina Jones inscribed on its case.

King Named To BS Board

Former Grosse Pointe mayor and city council member John L. King was appointed to the Bon Secours Hospital Board of Trustees at a meeting last month.

King brings significant legal expertise to the board. A former assistant attorney general for the state of Ohio, King currently serves as a member of the firm, Berry, Moornar, King, Lott and Cook, located in Detroit.

Musical Revue Set for March

Grosse Pointe Theatre will stage a musical revue at Fries Auditorium on Tuesday, March 4, during the War Memorial's 1980 Family Participation Campaign.

The show will feature excerpts from "West Side Story," "Anything Goes," "Gypsy," and "A Chorus Line." Diane Sullivan will produce the show, which is under the direction of Dee Shaheen. Jim Alvaro will be stage manager and Vickie Urbanick will be in charge of costumes. Free tickets may be picked up at the War Memorial for the 8:30 p.m. show.

South Students Appear on Public TV

A group of Grosse Pointe South students discussed the controversial drug problem with a medical panel on public television's channel 56 on Thursday, February 14.

The students, mostly seniors, had responded to a request by South High assistant principal Sheila Joyce for participants for the program.

Tab Deadline Is February 29

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin reminds all vehicle owners that Friday, February 29, is the last day for purchasing 1980 license plate tabs by mail.

Between now and then Michigan motorists have an opportunity to save time and money — as well as to avoid being caught in the traditional "March madness" for the purchase of license plate tabs.

"Although our 214 Secretary of State branch offices are generally located so vehicle owners are within 20 miles of an office, the 40 mile round trip to purchase plate tabs now could cost as much as three or four dollars for gasoline," Austin said.

"For the price of a postage stamp, vehicle owners can purchase their plate tabs by mail and at the same time avoid being caught in the last minute plate tab rush."

According to Austin, 1980 mail sales are running 18 percent ahead of 1979 mail sales. More than 860,000 individual vehicle owners have purchased 1980 plate tabs by mail. However, sales in the branches are down and this means that the rush will be worse than ever. Motorists wanting to avoid this have between now and February 29th to buy their plate tabs by mail.

Center Sets Travelogue

Only a very few places remain open for the Wednesday, March 5, international dinner and travelogue on Portugal narrated by Chris Borden of California.

The complete evening — dinner with tax and service included plus the show — is $11.25. The show only is $8. Seats are reserved both for dinner and the show.

Situated in the southwest corner of Europe and occupying part of the Iberian peninsula, Portugal is roughly the size of Indiana. Today's headlines are focusing attention on this country, which is Latin in culture, but with powerful Muslim influences.

Throughout history the sea has nurtured Portugal, while mountains and desert lands separate it from neighboring Spain. From the sea comes rains. From the sea the people have acquired a love of independence, (never more aptly demonstrated than during the current political conflict), and a thirst for adventure which led them to magnificent discoveries.

This is a film story of Portugal today. All six principal areas of the country are explored, a typical day from sunrise to sunset in Lisbon and the central, northern, eastern and southern sections, as well as the island of Madeira.

Chris Borden has climbed the Matterhorn, surfed 20-foot waves in Hawaii, driven through the jungles of Mexico, filmed the spell-binding Monkey Dance on Bali and trekked to 16,000 feet to the base of Mt. Everest in Nepal.

Tony Receives Scholarship

Senior Tony LoVasco, of North High School has been awarded the Wayne State University McLaren Theatre Incentive Scholarship for the fall. The award is given each year to a graduating high school senior who upon audition and recommendation shows unusual dramatic ability.

Tony auditioned along with some 45 other local high school seniors presenting a scene from Frank Gilroy's "The Subject Was Roses" and a soliloquy from "Hamlet," a role which Tony starred in at North for which he received a special acting award. He also has had leading roles in Theatre North productions of "Tartuffe," "A Flea in Her Ear," "Star Spangled Girl," "Annie Get Your Gun," "The Three Musketeers" and "Funny Girl."

Cello-Piano Recital Set

Painter Stephen Eliason, cellist, will perform a recital with pianist Kathryn Grabenstein in the Music Room of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Friday, February 29 at 8 p.m.

Eliason, who was the first winner of the Thomas Nestor Award while a student at South High School, is currently principal cellist with the Pontiac/Oakland Symphony. Last fall he performed the Schumann Cello Concerto with that orchestra.

In addition, Eliason plays with the Warren Symphony and the Michigan Opera Theatre Orchestra.

Miss Grabenstein is currently on the faculty of the University of South Dakota, and has also participated in the Schoenberg Festival at the University of Southern California.

The two musicians will perform music of Kabalevsky, Shostakovich, Stravinsky and Rachmaninoff. Tickets will be available at the door.

WHEN YOU ADD UP THE COSTS, DRIVING DOWNTOWN TO WORK JUST DOESN'T ADD UP.

MAYBE DRIVING YOUR CAR HAS BECOME JUST A VERY EXPENSIVE HABIT.

Jumping into the car every morning, turning the key and sallying forth to work is almost second-nature to most people. Probably including you. But with gas at a buck something a gallon (some experts say it's heading for $2.00) and parking rates going sky high, maybe it's time for you to take stock. What does it actually cost you to drive to work? And is it really worth it? Especially when you consider that SEMTA may offer you a very attractive alternative.

GAS PAINS ARE ONLY PART OF THE PROBLEM.

When you add the cost of gas to the other costs of driving your car to work — oil, tires, maintenance and things like insurance, depreciation and license fees — you've got a sizeable piece of change. For instance, say you live in the Birmingham area and drive to the Renaissance Center, perhaps 20 miles each way. The Federal Highway Administration has computed the annual cost of such a commute at $1,857.00 for a standard-size car. It's enough to make you think, isn't it?

WHAT DOES IT COST TO HAVE YOUR CAR SIT AROUND ALL DAY WHILE YOU WORK?

Besides requiring gasoline, oil, tires, insurance, etc., your car does something else that costs you: It occupies space. What we have to deal with is an object averaging some 15 feet long and six feet wide that must be safely and securely stored all day, every working day. And the charge for this essential service is considerable. Depending on where you park downtown, and whether it's an inside or outside location, typical charges range from $30.00 to $85.00 per month. If we take an average of $55.00, that amounts to $660.00 a year. Just to have your car sitting there all day doing nothing.

IF YOU'RE THINKING THERE'S GOT TO BE A BETTER WAY, YOU'RE RIGHT.

Adding up the driving and parking costs for our mythical — but typical — Birmingham commuter, we arrive at a thumping $2,517.00 per year. So what do we have to suggest? Us. With buses and trains that more and more people are relying on. Kiss & Ride bus stops where a loved one can affectionately drop you off and pick you up. Park & Ride lots where you can park all day for free. And a SEMTACARD that lets you ride for a mere fraction of the cost of driving. Just $480.00 per year for the daily Birmingham commute, in fact, instead of $2,517.00. When you add everything up, it's easy to talk yourself out of your car and into our bus. For information, call 962-5515 in Detroit, or 1 (800) 462-5161 toll-free.

There's a lot riding on us.

SHS, Faculty Work Together

By Lynn Puscas
 An important requirement in establishing a favorable school environment is effective communication between the students and faculty. South's High School Principal Dr. Joseph Spagnoli is headed in that direction and is meeting with seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen individually. These meetings give students an opportunity to express their views and opinions about various activities taking place in the school. To begin the series of assemblies, Dr. Spagnoli met with the Juniors earlier this month to discuss the Junior Prom. With the help of Dr. Spagnoli, plans are underway to have the prom at the Lochmoor Club. The assembly with the seniors focused on upcoming graduation. Dr. Spagnoli will meet with the freshman and sophomore classes later this month.

With an important public school and public library millage renewal election set by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education for March 24, residents of the school district should be aware they may enroll, free of charge, in a new offering sponsored by the public schools' Division of Instruction — Continuing Education. The class, "Understanding Local Public Education" will be held at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday evenings. The first session, held February 13, featured Dr. William Coats, superintendent of schools, whose topic was "An Overview of our Schools Today." Roger McCaig, Director of Research and Development, addressed the topic, "What Research Tells us about the Quality of Our Public Schools."

The class meeting on February 20 will be handled by Dr. Alfreda Frost, director of elementary education, and Robert D. Welch, director of secondary education, assisted by members of the Division of Instruction. The topic is "Instruction Is Our Business."

League Honors Handicapped

The Gerald C. Schroeder Award, named after a prominent Shores resident, will be presented to Marlene Chapman at the 59th Annual Meeting of League for the Handicapped-Goodwill Industries, to be held at Wayne State University's McGregor Memorial Conference Center at 12 noon on Monday, February 25.

Mrs. Chapman will receive the award as the outstanding "League-Goodwill Graduate" who has attained the greatest success in competitive employment. Despite a hearing impairment, Mrs. Chapman is a permanent employee of the Michigan Cancer Foundation as a Registry Technician responsible for filming and coding for the Coding and Document Control Unit.

The award was named for Schroeder, who is Shores Village President, in recognition of his years of service and extreme interest and activity in the League-Goodwill organization. Schroeder has been with the organization since the mid-1950's and is a past president of the Board at Goodwill.

Another woman to receive an award is Gloria Hernandez. Miss Hernandez, who has a history of kidney problems, will be given the Dr. John J. Lee Award as the Sheltered Workshop "Worker of the Year." She works for the Industrial Sewing Department of League-Goodwill and is rated one of the best employees in the department by her supervisor.

Gas Cooking May Hurt Lungs

Burning stove gas may have an unexpected effect—on children's lungs.

A Harvard researcher has found a slight but statistically significant reduction in lung function in children raised in homes with gas stoves—compared with children from homes where electric stoves are used. The study involved 8,000 children between the ages of six and nine.

According to Frank Speizer, MD, at the Harvard Medical School, the main difference between the two groups was reflected in pulmonary function tests. Children from homes with gas stoves performed less well on two critical tests: the volume of air they could inhale, and the amount they could exhale in one second. These tests are used to detect any impairment in how lungs function and to detect lung disease.

Dr. Speizer, who is a medical advisor to the American Lung Association on environmental and occupational health, is continuing the study to determine if the responses of the children's lungs will change.

Other measures—such as the presence or absence of air conditioning, the type of cooking gas used and the family's socio-economic status—showed no correlation with lung function. The overriding factor in the difference between the two groups of children was the type of stove, gas or electric, in the home.

The researchers also concluded that the children exposed to gas stoves had 15 percent more respiratory illnesses between birth and two years. Dr. Speizer attributed the cause to greater levels of nitrogen dioxide produced from gas stove combustion. Nitrogen dioxide is an acutely irritating gas that can damage the lungs.

Children's lungs, says the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan, are more affected by pollutants in the air than are adults.

APPEARANCE
 When an Emory University student made a study of seven employees of a Montgomery, Ala., menswear store he found that in addition to the theory that "clothes make the man" they make the sales as well. Over a three month period, the salesmen who wore business suits grossed 43 percent more than those who wore ties but not jackets, and 60 percent more than those without ties or jackets. The salesmen's age, experience or assignment in the store seemed not to matter.

Dear Grosse Pointer:

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, a gift to our community from the Russell A. Alger family, is one of the architectural gems of the entire midwest.

But its purpose is people.

The people who use it — senior people, family-raising people, single people, teen people, little people. About 252,000 came through the doors last year.

And the people of about 6,000 families helped to support it.

Once each year, we ask for your tax-deductible support, because it is our only source of continuing funds. We are asking again — for 1980. Our goal is $160,000...just 3 percent more than our 1979 goal.

Please study our picture book — you'll see a lot of your friends in it. And please fill out your membership card now.

Thank you.

Mason to Host Student Lunch

Representatives from each of the 10 Grosse Pointe elementary schools will participate in a student government luncheon meeting at the Mason Elementary School today, February 21.

The primary purpose of this program is to provide students from the various schools an opportunity to become acquainted with other student government members and to share dialogue regarding each school's program.

During the meeting the students will be treated to a luncheon, a musical presentation by students of the Mason instrumental program, a message from Dr. Alfreda Frost, director of elementary education, and conclude with small student-group discussions.

Mason School Student Council members from grades two through six will host the luncheon meeting.

Hundreds Lack Vaccines; May Be Excluded March 4

By Greg Clark
Hundreds of students may leave Grosse Pointe South on March 3 and not be permitted to return to classes on March 4.

The reason — many students have not filled out and returned state-required vaccination forms. Although 1,200 students are in the clear, more than 600 students have not returned the proper forms. There is a good possibility many of these students need to update their vaccinations.

Vaccinations were given free of charge at South High on January 29, 30 and 31. Massive attempts to inform the public of the importance of these vaccinations have been made since September. South spent $600 in the postal costs alone to get the word out about vaccinations. A spokesman for the vaccination clinic at South said, "Many residences received as many as three notices."

The state is insisting on these immunizations because of the large outbreaks of measles and rubella in Michigan in 1978. A spokesman from the Wayne County Health Department said "There were 8,006 cases of measles and 3,376 cases of rubella in Michigan in 1978."

Because of the outbreaks, 1979 was a year dedicated to putting the hammer down on immunizations. The Board of Education and the Department of Health decided that it was time to enforce the laws pertaining to the requirement of updated immunization records for students in the state of Michigan.

Bert Notestine, a spokesman from the Emmett County Health Department, said, "The old vaccination was found to be too weak. Many people who were getting the measles had already been vaccinated. Some vaccinations issued before January, 1968, are not effective vaccinations. Also, all vaccinations which were issued to children younger than 15 months old are not effective vaccinations."

A spokesman from the Department of Health in Lansing said, "30 percent of Michigan's students still need to update their vaccination records."

Rubella, (also known as German measles), is a common disease of children which also may affect adults. The sickness usually lasts about three days. If a pregnant woman gets rubella, there is a good chance that she may have a miscarriage.

Energy Is Made From Garbage

Some attempts to convert garbage into energy have failed. But some are succeeding — without polluting the air.

One of the successes is the Refuse Energy Systems Company in Saugus, Mass., the first such operation to make a profit and operate without government help. As such, it may become a model for communities eager to dispose of waste without causing air and water pollution.

The Saugus facility burns three million pounds of garbage every day at a temperature of 1,650 degrees. At this intense heat almost everything burns to a cinder. The heat fires boilers that produce steam, which in turn is used by a nearby company to generate heat and electricity.

Magnets remove any scrap iron from the ash that is left. Even the ash itself is used to resurface highways.

One of the most fascinating features of the facility is a "negative pressure system" that works much like a vacuum cleaner and sucks in outside air from the area where the garbage is dumped. As a result, there is hardly any smell inside the plant and none outside.

Creating non-polluting energy from waste may play more of a role in our future, says the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan. Presently it costs billions of dollars every year to dispose of the hundreds of billions of pounds of solid waste in this country. And no usable energy at all is created.

To find out more about curbing air pollution from all kinds of sources and protecting everyone's lungs, contact the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan at 961-1697.

SHS Captures Art Honors

By Bridget Janson
South High School student photographers dominated the Scholastic Art Contest, winning more awards than ever before.

In photography entries, Lisa Spindler was top winner. She received three certificates, along with four blue ribbons. She won more awards than any other student in Southeast Michigan.

Jay Nickeson also was awarded three blue ribbons. Maria Vann won a single blue ribbon, along with four certificates, followed by Ace Dickson with one blue ribbon and one certificate.

In the art exhibits, Julia Ann Grisby, Greg Roman and Diana Weinkle were blue ribbon finalists. Karen Epler was a blue ribbon runner-up.

Blue ribbon winners will be on display at Wayne State University later this month before going to New York for national judging.

Wood Stoves Are Dangerous

Woodburning stoves are becoming a popular way to beat rising fuel prices—but they also are dangerous unless strict operating guidelines are observed, according to John Dankel, director of public safety in the Woods.

The number of fire alarms related to woodburning stoves is increasing rapidly. Statewide fire incident statistics show the number of wood stove related fires increased from 463 in 1977-78 to 759 the following year. The upward trend appears to be even greater this season. Through December, 11 woodburning related deaths were reported in Michigan.

Improper maintenance and installation appear to be the major causes of the fires. To prevent such hazards, the following steps are suggested.

- All heating appliances must be properly installed according to manufacturer's clearances from combustible surfaces.
- Do not connect solid fuel burning appliances to chimneys designed for oil or gas furnaces. Chimneys must be properly constructed to be used with solid fuel appliances because of the high temperature they generate.
- Only one appliance should be connected to a single chimney flue.
- All chimneys are susceptible to creosote build-up which is the leading cause of chimney fires. Chimneys should be cleaned and inspected regularly.
- If you have doubts about your equipment have it checked by your local fire department.
- Keep a dry chemical fire extinguisher near the appliance or chimney flue. Never point the extinguisher down the flue.

STANDARD FEDERAL SAVINGS HAS A PLAN FOR YOUR RETIREMENT.

If you don't presently participate in a retirement plan, now is the time to look into a tax-sheltered retirement plan at Standard Federal Savings. The contributions are tax deductible, and the interest earned on your retirement plan is tax deferred until retirement, making it possible to build a substantial retirement fund.

WHY COME TO STANDARD FEDERAL FOR A RETIREMENT PLAN?

- INTEREST RATES depend on the term of the certificate you choose. For example, the interest rate in February on the 2 1/2-Year Money Market Account is 10.65% for an effective annual yield of 11.403%. Other certificate programs can be used to open a retirement account as well. This would include the 26-Week Money Market Account and the $100,000.00 Non-Negotiable Account if the minimum balance requirements are met.
- INSURANCE All contributions made to a retirement account are insured to $100,000.00 for each individual.
- WE OFFER ALL THESE RETIREMENT PLANS:
REGULAR IRA an account which you contribute to for your own retirement. Each year you can contribute up to 15% of your earned income or a maximum of $1,500.00, whichever is less.

Park League Sets Meeting

All Park adults interested in baseball for 13-15-year-olds are requested to attend a meeting on Thursday, February 21, at 8 p.m., in the Neighborhood Club.

"We hope to have a Babe Ruth Baseball League again this year," said Lou Cerre, league president. "However, we must have new people to help us. All of last year's officers have resigned since their sons have graduated from the league."

"After we get the adults to handle registration of the players, we'll have tryouts and all players will be placed on a team," continued Cerre.

"All we're asking for is a few hours of a parent's time to get the league started and that's why it's important to attend the meeting. We also want to discuss whether we should go into a major and minor league format this year," he said.

Club Cagers Wrap Up Year

The Neighborhood Club 1979-80 men's and men's over 30 basketball leagues have ended their seven regular season games.

The men's league, made up of 16 teams was divided into two separate tournaments, with upper and lower divisions.

Teams were placed by their final records. The over 30 leagues combined divisions of six teams each to make one tournament.

Each of the 28 teams in the league will participate in the post-season double elimination tournament.

At the end of regular season play, the Green Division in the men's league was headed by the Cavanaugh Insurance Vikings at 7-0. The Blue Angels, Whiz Kids and Simon Says were all tied for second place at 5-2. Flying Machine bar and The Forty Liners had a 2-5 standing, followed by Union Street bar and the Hustler at 1-6.

In the White Division, of men's league the Suns were on top with a perfect 7-0 mark, followed closely by Cal's Hot Tips, 6-1. Tied for third place with 4-3 marks were the Inebriates, Archetypes and Average White Team.

The Barristers finished the season at 2-5. First Christian Reformed Church ended up at 1-6, while Valente's Men's Formal Wear was 0-7.

In the Over 30 League, Your Place Lounge was undefeated in seven games. The Spirits of Grosse Pointe and Murvay Tool were tied with a 5-2 record. Defour Insurance and Ross Roy Raiders accumulated 4-3 marks. Last Harrah's, Solicitors Senior Jocks and the Jaguars ended their season with 3-4 records. Amoco Red Flags and the Dandy Bar had 2-5 marks, leaving the Holy Hooper with a 1-6 record.

Slate Soccer Registration

The American Youth Soccer Organization (AYSO), will hold a registration day this Saturday, February 23, from 1 to 5 p.m. at Guardian Angels School, 15261 Alma at Kelly, Detroit. A fee of $12 or $24 per family is due at registration.

According to AYSO Region 52, (including Detroit, the Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods, East Detroit and Roseville) the youngsters will be registered on their interest and enthusiasm rather than their merit as soccer players. Each team will have 15 players and players will play a minimum of one-half of every game. Practices will be held as near as possible to the players' homes. Uniforms will be supplied by the American Youth Soccer Organization. The season begins April 1 and ends approximately June 30.

Farms Doctor Is on Staff At Lake Placid Olympics

A prominent Farms Chiropractor was recently appointed a member of the Commission on Sports Medicine Modalities of the U.S. Olympic Council on Sports Medicine. Dr. George J. Goodheart of Beaupre road represents the first Doctor of Chiropractic ever to hold a position on any of the policy-making bodies of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

Dr. Goodheart's appointment is the result of long-time negotiations with the sports medicine council for inclusion of chiropractic representation in matters dealing with health care of U.S. Olympic athletes.

Dr. Irving I. Dardik, chairman of the sports medicine council, announced Goodheart's appointment following the latter's attendance at a meeting of the Commission on Sports Medicine Modalities January 4.

The Commission contacted Dr. Goodheart based on recommendations from fellow chiropractors and began interviewing him in late October. His election was unanimous.

Dr. Goodheart is a member of the American Chiropractic Association, a director of the National Chiropractic Mutual Insurance Company and is the author and developer of Applied Kinesiology. He has lectured and taught at all of the Chiropractic colleges in the United States and Canada and has received numerous awards for his Chiropractic research, including Certificates of Merit from Logan and Palmer Chiropractic Colleges.

Commenting on his appointment, Dr. Goodheart said, "I welcome the opportunity to provide chiropractic services to our Olympic athletes. Chiropractic is uniquely related to the nervous and musculo-skeletal systems and can provide therapeutic and preventative support, as well as improved performance potentials."

Dr. Goodheart's wife recently returned from Lake Placid where she spent time with her husband, and says he has already been putting his talents to use.

"He has his own private trailer and has treated several American ski-jumpers and cross-country skiers," she said. "In addition, when doctors from the Canadian team learned of his presence, they asked him to treat three Canadian skiers. So far everything's turned out real well."

WSU Honors GP's Iler

H. Grant Iler was posthumously inducted into the Wayne State Athletic Hall of Fame during ceremonies on February 9 at WSU's McGregor Memorial Center at 11:30 a.m.

Iler lived in the Park until his death in 1963. He was the first nine letter-winner in Wayne State history. He earned three letters each in football, basketball and track and field. Iler captained all three teams his senior year in 1920-21.

Though Iler was a three-sport athlete, his most outstanding accomplishments came on the football field. He kicked a 52 yard field goal in 1920, which still stands as the oldest football record at Wayne State.

He also threw the javelin, discus and shotput for the track team. Besides his collegiate track competition, Iler also participated in the City of Detroit Athletic Organization track and field program where he won numerous medals of honor.

Born in Detroit in 1900, Iler received his Masters in engineering from the University of Michigan in 1924 and went on to work for Michigan Bell where he served as a General Plant Supervisor. He later became an independent company relations manager.

Active in the community, Iler was involved for several years with the Boy Scouts of America "Sea Scouts." He served as the executive officer of the Oliver H. Perry in 1940, on which he would take the sea scouts for two-week cruises on the Great Lakes. Iler was also very active with the March of Dimes and began the Exchange Club in Grand Rapids in the late 1930's.

The 1980 Induction Ceremony will bring the WSU total Hall of Fame membership to 29.

North High Cheerleaders Place Fifth

The Grosse Pointe North Varsity Cheerleading squad placed fifth in the Class A Championship at the Second Annual Michigan Cheerleading Coaches Association State Finals, held Saturday, February 2 at Central Michigan University.

The team had earned the right to compete in the State Finals by placing in the top third in their class at the regional competition in January.

Each squad presented three cheers to the fourteen judge panel and were evaluated on precision, execution, enthusiasm, floor presence, appearance and voice.

The Michigan Cheerleading Coaches Association, sponsor of the championships, was founded in February 1978 to upgrade the quality of cheerleading coaching.

Star Spikers Undeclared

By Catherine Snyder
Our Lady Star of the Sea High School's varsity volleyball team won two matches, one against Pontiac Catholic on Thursday, January 17, and the other against St. Florian on Monday, January 21. Star beat Pontiac Catholic in two games, 15-5 and 15-6, in a best two out of three games.

The St. Florian match was considerably more challenging as Star relied on the excellent serving of sophomore Lucie Cooper to rally back in the first game from 14-11 to win 16-14, and from a 12-12 tie to a 15-12 win to take the match in the second game.

Star now has a record of 3-0 in league play, and is 4-0 overall.

Swimmers Win

By Lara Measelle
By winning the last meet of the season, South's swim team compiled a 10-1 dual meet record, their only loss coming in a non-league meet. The team defeated East Detroit, 106-58, and took first in all but three events. The team's strongest event was the 100 fly. The shutout was led by Mark Clark, with a time of 55.528. Second place went to Jeff Measelle, followed by Brian Burke in third.

Another strong event was the 200 medley relay, in which South's first place team of Mark Mulier, Don Hiles, Bill Bradfield and Kevin Chown clocked a time of 1:47.139. South's other team of Andy Scott, Mike Bartoszewicz, Clark and Rob Wood followed in second place.

In the 100 breaststroke, the Devils took the top two spots. The blue was won by Hiles with a time of 1:07.059. Second place went to Bartoszewicz for his time of 1:08.067.

In the 100 back, Mulier won the six points for the first spot. In the 200 individual medley, Matt Van Tiem took first, beating the Shamrocks' second place swimmer by more than six seconds. Last week, Van Tiem was awarded an over-all first place in this same event.

In the free events, South placed first only once, but went on to close second and third place finishes, including a second by Tom Bartsch. The 50 free was won by East Detroit, with South's Wood and Fenton Remick taking second and third.

Bradfield won the gold in the 100 free with his time of 51.116. In the 500, Larry McDonald came back to defeat East Detroit's Smialek, who had beaten him earlier in the season.

In diving, South took second, third and fourth, finishing with a score of 48-30. The winning trio consisted of Andy Backman, Jim Pagel and Pat McKee.

The meet was the final one for the team's graduating seniors. The six team members who have contributed to the team's four-year championship of the E.M.L. include Bill Bradfield, Kevin Chown, Rob Wood, Ace Dickson, Brad Swegles and Mike Schueler.

Frosh Lose

By John Schultz
South's freshman basketball team continued its dismal season, losing to Kelly Junior High and North High this past week.

In a defensive struggle, South came out on the short end of a 32-30 decision, losing its second game in two weeks to North. It was close the whole way as Phil Agby scored six of his game high 10 points in the first quarter, giving the Blue Devils an 8-4 lead.

The frosh used a new 1-3-1 defense to hold the Norseman intact throughout the game. Boe Wojek scored 10 second-half points to lead North.

Paul Rentz scored seven and Dave Millar and Chris Cruthis netted four points apiece for the Devils.

South's defense proved ineffective against Kelly's 2-3 offense as the opposition continually burned the Devils for easy layups, and coasted to a 47-40 win.

South again held the lead after the first quarter but Dave Taylor's 22 points secured the win for Kelly.

Bill Rathsburg led the frosh with 12 points. Phil Agby and Joe Schultz chipped in with six points apiece, while Rich Moellering, Adam Jankowski and Rentz had four points each.

Skaters Win

The ULS varsity ice hockey team won its 17th game of the season by defeating St. Clair Shores Lake Shore 5-2 on Thursday, February 14 at the St. Clair Shores Civic Arena. The teams tied in an earlier meeting this season.

The Knights dominated early but were unable to put the puck in the net until late in the first period. A Lake Shore player received three minor penalties at the 12:48 mark, and forty seconds later Jamie Todd found the back of the net on a pass from John Hindle. Thirty seconds later Hindle deflected a Kris Robbins slapshot past the Lake Shore net minder to put ULS up 2-0 as the period ended.

Lake Shore struck at the 3:13 mark of the second period. ULS forward Jeff Karash increased the margin to 3-1 when he put in a rebound shot after linemate Allen Taber hit the goal post.

Thirteen seconds later, Lake Shore edged to within one goal when ULS let down their defense. Erich Avedisian scored in the last minute of the period for the Knights on a pass from Karash to put the team up by two.

Rich Carron finished the scoring when he placed a shot in the Lake Shore net on a pass from Marty Wittmer.

The Knights faced the Ramblers of Fraser High School for the Blue division title of the Michigan Metro High School Hockey League, on Monday, February 18.

Playoffs begin Monday, February 25 at the St. Clair Shores Civic Arena when the Knights take on River Rouge.

$100,000 to Go for War Memorial Center Drive

Valentine's Day recorded nearly $60,000 in tax deductible gifts to the Memorial Center from over 2,100 Grosse Pointers. The center's volunteer Board of Directors headed by John M. Rickel is extremely grateful for the prompt response so far to the Memorial's appeal for the continued support of the community and cultural complex.

Mr. Rickel noted that the lake shore property and buildings of the War Memorial were gifts to the five Grosse Pointe communities by the Russell Alger family and William Hayes-Fries. The Center uses no tax monies and is nearly three-quarters self supporting through income from a small endowment and fees for services, classes and programs.

The remaining one-quarter of monies needed to maintain and operate the center must come from the community in the form of voluntary tax free gifts. The amount needed this year is $160,000 up just three percent over 1979, even in the face of 13 percent inflation. The Board of Directors of War Memorial is confident that Pointers will help maintain this community asset.

The Center has something for everyone. It provides theater, films, travelogues and holiday programs. For youth there is supervised guitar, dance and theater instruction.

There is a variety of free medical support services including free loan of hospital equipment and blood in case of emergency. Volunteer groups such as a service guild for Children's Hospital, braille transcription, cancer center and training courses in emergencies and home nursing are sponsored.

Accommodations for hundreds of community groups are provided—service clubs, civic committees, professional associations and charitable and educational agencies are among these.

Senior citizen activities include programs for both men and women. The Grosse Pointe Senior Men's Club organized by the center and making its home there has over 1,000 members and the most active and high level program offered anywhere in the U.S.

Cultural opportunities at the center include concerts, theater, lectures, exhibits and educational tours. A wide variety of special interests are served through the Chess Club, Cinema League, Chamber Music Players, bridge and garden groups, language clubs and Parents Without Partners. There is a wide variety of study opportunities for people of all ages in arts, crafts, "how to" skills, college credit courses, physical fitness and music to mention just a few.

Chamber Music Slates Concert

The February program of the Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe has been slated for Sunday, February 24, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Vocal and instrumental music by Faure, Dvorak, Massenet, Gounod, Schumann and Hovhaness will be presented.

Featured performers will be Ernestine Nimmons, soprano; Laurence LaGore, piano; Minka Christoff, cello; Virginia Shover, piano; and Laurie Lindemulder and Alice Ellison, piano duetists.

Admission to the 2:30 p.m. program is $2 at the door.

Collect Labels For Foundation

Campbell, Franco-American, Swanson and V-8 food labels are being collected by the Foundation for Exceptional Children through Saturday, March 8.

The labels will help the foundation purchase some much needed equipment for the handicapped children attending the week-day program at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Labels should be sent to the Foundation, 16 Lake shore, Grosse Pointe Farms 48236. Call 885-8660 between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. for pickups.

St. Ambrose Sets Fair Date

A three-day fair sponsored by St. Ambrose Parish is scheduled to begin Friday, February 22, at St. Ambrose school, 1091 Alter road.

Activities will include games of skill and chance, entertainment by clowns, refreshments and a Saturday night disco. All proceeds go towards operation and maintenance of the school. For further information, call St. Ambrose School at 823-0177 or Mrs. Carol Herman at 963-8421.

B-E Epidemic Grows in GPW

Breaking and enterings continued at a rapid pace in the Woods, where a total of seven incidents were reported to police over the weekend of February 15-17.

Five of the burglaries were of residences, while Woods and Farms police cooperated in apprehending two Woods juveniles in the break-in of one of two businesses.

The youths were arrested after they were seen attempting to climb through a window at Curio and Knight Inc., 19391 Mack, according to reports. Police were alerted to the break-in by an alarm. The youths, 16-years-old, were turned over to their parents pending charges.

Residences continue to be hit for the recently more valuable silver and jewelry, police report. One burglary of an Edmonton road home on February 16 netted thieves an estimated $20,000 in assorted jewelry and $2,500 in cash.

That same day, a Lochmoor resident reported an estimated $17,250 in silver missing from his home during a one hour and 15 minute period.

Other homes were broken into while the owners were out of town vacationing. The homes were all entered either by prying open doors, or breaking glass out of a door or window, then reaching inside to unlock them.

Schaak Electronics, 20746 Mack, was broken into at 3:30 a.m. February 17. The perpetrators there smashed in a window with a tire iron, reached in and made off with three stereo receivers valued at $747 total. A witness in the nearby Onassis Coney Island said he saw a man putting boxes into a car described as a white over black Olds or Buick station wagon with no hubcaps and one taillight.

Despite arriving just minutes after the alarm went off a police search of the area was fruitless.

Locations of the other residential burglaries were Perrien place, North Brys and West Doyle. In the latter break-in, the thieves grabbed a pillowcase from one of the beds in the home and used it for carrying their loot.

New Magazine Comes to South

By Marianne Schultz
Imprints, a new creative student writing and artwork publication, arrived at South High School last week and is meeting a positive response from students.

The first issue was distributed February 15. A literary magazine has not been published at South for 10 years.

Principal Dr. Joseph Spagnoli resurrected the supplement to the "Tower" newspaper for non-journalistic works and followed through with the help of journalism teacher Bob Button and English teacher John Stephens.

"Imprints adds a new dimension for South's talented writers," said Lisa Howenstein, a senior. "A lot of people were glad to see a supplement to publish creative works."

Sophomore Jim Blondell said "Imprints definitely has a future with South students for years to come."

The eight-page magazine includes award-winning photos, fictional stories and poems created by South students.

One contribution of special interest is "Escape Through the Looking Glass," written by Christine Duetsch. Her story deals with Alice in Wonderland and mathematical principles. Her work was one of the top entries in the recent Michigan Junior Science and Humanities Symposium.

The supplement contains no advertisements and is funded by the school. Imprints is available to Tower subscribers free and is sold individually at South for 15 cents. Additional copies will be published in late April.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Dr. Vaclav Kejr will leave Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, where he has been serving as Ecumenical Minister, at the end of the month, to return with Mrs. Kejr to Czechoslovakia, taking with him warm memories of his welcome in this time around in The States.

It's a far cry from his first welcome to America. Let Dr. Kejr, former moderator of the Synod of the Evangelical Church of Czech Brethren, now retired, explain:

"I can remember several great days in my life which left deep marks on my soul. When I preached in the Bethlehem Chapel of Prague in which Jan Hus preached the Gospel 550 years ago . . . when I conducted the services for young people of our church in Saint Martin in the Wall, in which Magister Jakoubek served the Lord's Supper in both ways, bread and wine again, after 600 years . . ."

Another great day came when Dr. Kejr ad-

To Parade Spring Fashions for DSO

American and International Collections to Be Featured Following Luncheon at Hyatt Regency in Mid-March

Pointers Ellie Bundeson, Stephanie Germack, Marjorie Jewell, Mado Lie, Mary Nolan, Pat Young and Rose LoCicero are members of the ticket sales committee for Fashion Appassionata, a spring fashion show to be presented Thursday, March 20, by the J. L. Hudson Company and the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Festivities will begin with an 11 o'clock social hour in the Hubbard Ballroom of the Hyatt Regency, Dearborn, where luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock.

Then comes the parade of clothes, and general chairperson Nancy Keenan promises "an exciting show with an added bonus this year—not one designer, but fashions from several designers, elegant and appropriate to the Detroit scene."

There'll be styles for men and women from the spring and summer collections of the best American and international designers. Gretchen Snow, Hudson's Fashion Events manager, will present clothes inspired by the art themes of the 20s, 30s and 40s: "Everything for city sights, city play and city romance from day into night."

This spring's fashion mood, according to Ms. Snow, is "Big City Shape."

Thus the popular annual luncheon and fashion show benefit salutes the City and the Symphony, with fashions reflecting Detroit's Renaissance.

Information on tickets at $16 general admission, $35 patron and $75 benefactor may be obtained by contacting Jeanne Schlitters, who opened her Bloomfield Hills home for the ticket sales committee's kick-off luncheon Friday, February 1, at 852-8485, or Pat Young at 886-0829. All proceeds benefit the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Robert E. Dewar will entertain patron ticket holders at a luncheon in her Bloomfield Hills home Tuesday, February 26.

The Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony was established in 1928 to promote the orchestra by encouraging attendance at concerts, increasing public enthusiasm and securing friends and financial support.

A Mardi Gras at Marygrove

Marygrove College's third annual Mardi Gras fund raising benefit, set for Saturday evening, February 23, in Madame Cadillac Hall on the Marygrove campus, will feature a potpourri of entertainment ranging from Dixieland jazz to ballet performed by members of Dance Detroit, Marygrove's resident dance company.

Revenue from tickets—$500 per couple Benefactor, $75 per couple Sponsor—is earmarked this year for a special project: to provide more than one-third of the funds necessary to match a newly awarded National Endowment for the Humanities Challenge Grant.

Traditionally, too, the Mardi Gras committee awards a Marygrove scholarship in the name of one of the party's Benefactors.

Tickets and further information may be obtained by calling 862-8013 or 862-8000, Extension 252.

The newlyweds, who vacationed on a Caribbean cruise before Christmas, are residing in Somerset road, Detroit, while the bridegroom completes work at Wayne State University toward a degree in Chemical Engineering.

The bride, an Eastern Michigan University graduate with a degree in Sociology, is a member of the WSU Dance Company.

They plan to return to Venezuela this summer, and remain there for two years before coming back to the United States.

The former Miss France chose a floor length gown of ivory chiffon, styled with a bodice of Alencon lace and pearls and a chapel train falling from a natural waistline, for her late afternoon wedding.

Seed pearls edged the ivory chiffon Juliet cap that held her waltz length veil. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and ivy. She was attended at the 4:30 o'clock ceremony by her sister, Karen France, as honor maid, and bridesmaids Eva (Mrs. Robert) France, their sister-in-law, Leslie Milano, of Cleveland, O., and Gail Haddad.

They wore floor length dresses of aubergine Qiana, featuring draped bodices and split tulip skirts. Wine-edged white carnations, pink carnations and pink roses formed their bouquets.

Flower girl was Carrie Jacques, a neighbor and friend of the bride.

Humberto Rojas came from Ypsilanti to serve as the bridegroom's best man. Guests were seated by the bride's brothers, Dr. Robert France and John M. France, and by Oswaldo Torres, a countryman and friend of the bridegroom.

Mrs. France selected a gown of grey-blue Qiana, floor length and crystal-

From Another Pointe of View

dressed the Comenius Theological Faculty in the auditorium maximum of Prague's Charles University, another when he addressed the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in Chicago in 1970.

"But the greatest of them all was the day on which I was released from Ellis Island in 1925, to enter upon the American soil."

He had come to study for the Ministry at the University of Dubuque, Iowa, with $32 in his pocket and a letter of invitation from the president of the university stating that with an on-campus job, and help from the Presbyterian Church, young Vaclav ought to be able to make his way well in America. Unfortunately, the Ellis Island officials thought otherwise. Nobody, they reasoned, could get anywhere on $32. "The tribunal of three decided to send me back to Czechoslovakia by the ship of the White Star Line in the shortest possible time."

But they allowed him to petition their decision to the State Department in Washington, and pending that petition they placed him in a large hall with iron-barred windows. There some 60 men, "unwanted criminals condemned for deportation or men with the same lot as mine," stared at the newcomer.

The young Czech had never seen so many people of so many colors and nationalities. "Some of them with hardened faces and sharp, scrutinizing eyes tried to speak to me. Others looked at me with suspicion and disgust."

Vaclav had prayed that he wouldn't be put right back on a ship. Now he found a little corner where he could be alone and prayed again. He had never felt so alone.

"For the night we were led to another hall with iron beds." Vaclav waited until all the beds were taken, then took the one that was left. It was an upper, so up he climbed, stuffed his purse with his precious $32 into the pillow under his head, and finally, sadly, fell asleep.

A second day followed the first. "During the second night I was awakened by a hand reaching for the purse under my head. Impulsively, the fist of my right hand hit the face of the intruder. The blow and exclamation interrupted the silence of the night, and immediately the lights went on and the guard, with a pistol in his hand, was in the middle of the room, calling it to order."

Orchestra Hall Hosts Phillips

Daniel Phillips, violinist, will be soloist at the fourth Praeludium concert at Orchestra Hall Saturday, March 1, at 8 o'clock.

True to their purpose of presenting fine artists—those with years of concert experience and younger performers—the Friends for Orchestra Hall have once more reached into the ranks of award winners to feature Mr. Phillips, 1978 recipient of the Michaels Award of Young Concert Artists.

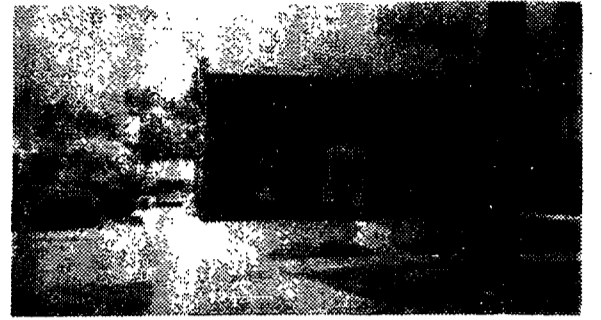

This award is given only when the jury deems an artist worthy of the honor: there have been many years when no Michaels Award was given.

As recipient of the award, Daniel Phillips received a solo recital at Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall in February, 1978, and is now in the process of fulfilling his 1979-80 engagements with major United States orchestras. His Lincoln Center recital drew rave reviews in the New York Times, as have his appearances at New York's Frick Museum and the Chorocon Gallery in Washington, D.C.

Pro Musica to Present 'Musica Camera' Trio

Pro Musica Society will bring the instrumental trio Musica Camera to Detroit for the first time Friday, February 29, as the second attraction in its 1979-80 concert series.

Based at the University of Minnesota, the young people who make up the trio include the husband and wife team of Tanya Remenikova, (cello), and Alexander Braginsky, (piano). The third member, Dr. John Anderson, (clarinet), is a native of Michigan.

With the support of The Michigan Council for the Arts, Pro Musica also will feature composer Barney Childs. The trio will perform a work by Dr. Childs who will speak about his composition.

This is in the tradition of Pro Musica Society which for over a half century has been dedicated to bringing artists who are on the threshold of world renown and composers in connection with performances of their works to the Detroit area.

The February program will be held at the Detroit Institute of Arts at 8:30 o'clock. As is the custom, a reception following the concert will give the audience a chance to chat with the artists and members of the society.

Information on membership and individual tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Nicholas Kondak at 881-8750.

Both Tanya Remenikova and Alexander Braginsky are natives of Moscow and studied at the Moscow Tchaikovsky Conservatoire. She was a student of Rostropovich. He studied with Goldenweiser and Gutman.

Remenikova, while a student, became a laureate of the Gaspar Cassado International Cello Competition in Florence, Italy. Braginsky gave his first recital at the age of six.

They toured Russia extensively after graduation, and in 1972 left for Israel. They have since performed there and in Belgium, England, Italy, Germany and America.

Now they have settled in Minneapolis, and both teach at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Anderson, born in Marine City, received his Bachelors and Masters degrees in Music from the University of Michigan. He earned his doctorate at Columbia University, focusing on 20th century music and the importance of unaccompanied clarinet repertoire.

Dr. Anderson has appeared as guest artist with a number of orchestras, bands and jazz ensembles. Currently, he is head of the Woodwind Department at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Childs is presently professor of Composition and Music Literature at the University of Redlands, Calif.

He received his Ph.D. in English from Stanford University. His undergraduate work, at the University of Nevada and at Oxford, was also in English and English Language and Literature, with a minor in Music and Math.

Starting as an English major and a poet, Dr. Childs became more and more concerned with music; he soon combined his talent in poetry with that of music composition.

Thus the honors bestowed upon him and the list of his published works range from musical composition to language and poetry.

Pointer of Interest; Allen M. Lomax, of Ridge Road

By Peggy O'Connor

Anyone who doubts the enthusiasm of Allen Lomax about his favorite subject — figure skating — should stop in at Grosse Pointe Community Rink some Tuesday afternoon and watch him cut a few fancy figures.

What's swamp skating? "Now, I don't want to offend anybody, but swamp skating is just skating around and around. Figure skating is a great deal more advanced," says Mr. Lomax.

And who in the area would know more about the sport than Allen Lomax? He is the current president and one of the founders of the Grosse Pointe Skating Club, a former vice-president and past Midwest chairman of the United States Figure Skating Association and a National High Test Judge for regional and national events.

He is certainly an important part of the area figure skating scene, and as Midwest chairman of the United States Figure Skating Club, his job was to "promote figure skating and abide by amateur rules and to supervise competitions leading up to the nationals and worlds" — "and the rules on amateur standing are very strict," he says.

Impressive credentials, to say the least.

A native of Evansville, Ind., Mr. Lomax studied at Harvard College and Business School. He is the retired founder of the David L. Babson Company and still lectures groups in investing.

Although Mr. Lomax also enjoys bowling and golf, it is his interest in and devotion to figure skating which is known to the community, and in fact was recognized by the Michigan State Legislature in a special tribute signed by Senator John F. Kelly.

The tribute is framed and hangs on the wall in the Lomax home. It is one of many items related to figure skating that Mr. Lomax is more than happy to show a visitor. Other prized possessions include two pair of ancient ice skates.

One pair were among those issued to all cadets at West Point to help in winter transportation at the academy. The other pair, over 100 years old, feature brass blades that curve up at the toe and have tiny, heart-shaped holes in the posts that hold the blade to the shoe of the skate.

"Some swain thought he was really impressing his girl with those skates," Mr. Lomax says.

Allen Lomax' passion for figure skating began in earnest in the late 1930's in Cleveland. A Toronto skating club performed in Cleveland and was such a hit that interested folks started a club of their own which, of course, included Mr. Lomax.

After Cleveland came the war, then a transfer to Philadelphia. There Allen Lomax joined the Philadelphia Skating and Humane Society and judged his first world champion, Dick Button.

"In Philadelphia, I met Dick Button and his coach, Gus Lucci," recalls Mr. Lomax. "I think I'm the only judge still living who judged two world champions in two generations. I judged Dick Button in his seventh test and I also judged Tim Wood."

From Philadelphia he came to Detroit where, he says, skating opportunities were few.

"The only place to skate was the Detroit Olympia and as soon as the Red Wings were out of competition it closed, leaving people looking for a place to go."

So in the 1950's the Detroit Skating Club was formed, by buying the Fisher Stables at Seven Mile and Wyoming. And out of the Detroit Skating Club has formed a group of community skating clubs like the Grosse Pointe Skating Club.

"The Grosse Pointe Club is four years old... we've always skated in the Austin, (Grosse Pointe Community), rink. The club hasn't become well enough known in the community for people to know that it is available," says Mr. Lomax.

The club is, however, beginning to be noticed in the community. Over a year ago, Mr. Lomax asked the Grosse Pointe Board of Education for some publicity—he wanted the children of the area to know there was a place for them to skate, and perhaps to learn the skills that are basic to figure skating.

The result was astonishing. Through the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, the Grosse Pointe Skating Club has attracted 150 young people.

"The Grosse Pointe Skating Club is a private club and it has extended club privileges to Grosse Pointe kids through the Board of Education," says Mr. Lomax.

These lucky kids are part of the program that is now being developed by the Grosse Pointe Skating Club and Allen Lomax.

"In addition to basic skills, we have advanced or Patch sessions for those who want to progress more rapidly. Training young people as they progress into more advanced skating is proof of a well developed program," Mr. Lomax notes.

The basic skills level is a six-test program. The skaters get badges as they pass and after six they are qualified to go into more advanced programs. They can get into what is called free skating programs. The basics are held Wednesdays and Fridays from 4 to 5 o'clock and Saturdays from 9 to 10 o'clock.

Patch sessions, or advanced skating,

ALLEN M. LOMAX, OF RIDGE ROAD

ing, are on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4 o'clock and Saturday mornings at 8 o'clock for early risers.

If the enthusiasm and devotion of its president is any indication, the Grosse Pointe Skating Club seems to be heading toward success. Mr. Lomax is very much informed about figure skating and the current leaders of the sport.

He is also very proud of the fact that a number of prominent figure skaters have their roots in the Detroit area. In fact, all of the winners of the recent Great Lakes sectional competition were members of the Detroit Skating Club.

As Mr. Lomax points out, this illustrates how a well developed program works—training young people from basics to advanced.

"We've had many good skaters in the Detroit area: Ginny Baxter, who went to the midwest and national competitions, and her contemporary, Miggs Dean Noonan, who is now a teacher in the Bloomfield Hills/Oak Park area," says Mr. Lomax.

It has been widely reported that skating rinks throughout the United States are closing due to a lack of interest coupled with increased operation costs. Mr. Lomax has his own ideas on that subject.

"The reason rinks have closed is generally because the people running them are not familiar with how to develop figure skating clubs in the rinks. Successful rinks develop both figure skating and hockey programs."

In terms of national interest, since the phenomenal success of Dorothy Hamill in the 1976 Winter Olympics, "there's more figure skating on television than ever," says Mr. Lomax. Which, of course, can only help the sport.

"Take a five or six-year-old who goes to an ice show; she decides that's for her, and she'll work her head off to be like Dorothy Hamill," he says.

The Grosse Pointe Skating Club appears to be ready to accommodate this renewed interest in figure skating. It was, according to Mr. Lomax, the first skating club to offer basic skill competitions. Last year, it included skaters from eight United States and Canadian cities.

Young people aren't the only ones who benefit from the Grosse Pointe Skating Club's growing program. "This month, notices will go out to Senior Citizens for a new adult skating program with a 10-week membership fee. A lot of adults say, 'Where can I skate?'"

"So we're trying to get a program started for them," says Mr. Lomax.

If Allen Lomax has his way, there won't be many people left in the Grosse Pointe area asking that question. He seems determined to see that the Grosse Pointe Skating program is as successful as its area counterpart, St. Clair Shores.

"St. Clair Shores is one of the largest clubs in the United States. They started out the same way: no advanced level — just parents who wanted children to have basic skills programs... through that they developed advanced skaters."

"My main interest is to see that the interest developed in the Grosse Pointe area goes on and on. As the community knows more about the sport and its potential... there doesn't seem to be anything to do but grow."

"If the people involved are energetic and enthusiastic, the program succeeds."
