While it may appear a client just couldn't wait to get into the Courtyard Salon last Friday, that was not the case. The 71-year-old Detroit man behind the wheel of this car told police he was leaving the parking lot adjacent to the salon when he accidentally accelerated, crossing Kercheval Place, striking another car and smashing into the building. The man was treated for minor injuries at Bon Secours Hospital and got a ticket from City police for careless driving.

State Cuts Aid to School, Cities

By Dean Brierly

The $97 million cuts in state spending ordered by Gov. Milliken last Wednesday will cost Grosse Pointe a total of $250,000 to the school system and $102,-800 to the five city governments.

The cuts were approved last week by the House and Senate appropriations committees and are targeted at helping to balance the state budget.

More than half of the cuts, a total of $58 million, will come at the expense of the schools and city govern-

Locally, the state cutbacks in edu-cation will translate directly into higher taxes for Grosse Pointers next year, according to public school administrators.

LOCAL SCHOOL spokesmen said they are "pretty confident" there will be another, similar reduction within the year. And at a meeting of the appropriations committee last week to announce the current cutbacks, state Budget Director Gerald Miller confirmed there will be additional cuts in next year's budget which will be made in the coming weeks.

According to Superintendent William Coats, the school anticipates a loss of one half of its state aid ($410,000) for fiscal year 1980-81. The school board has not formally set its tax rate for the coming year so that it, unlike the cities, can adjust its millage rate to compensate for the lost revenue.

Coats proposed hiking the tax rate up one-half mill higher than the rate set forth in the budget presented to the board earlier this month. That rate was 33.62 mills, a 10.2 percent increase over last year. The new rate of 34.09 mills represents an 11.9 percent jump.

"That adjustment will compensate for the state cuts already approved by the governor and the cuts we anticipate within the year," Coats

"I'm not going to speak to any program cuts yet, but there is a chance I may come back to the board with recommendations for reduced expenditures later this summer," he

Should program cuts become a reality, Coats said state funded programs will be the most likely targets. These include the hot lunch program, driver's education and special educa-

STATE REP. William Bryant said he felt local cities would take the cuts "reluctant resignation," and cited the current recession and steadily declining financial figures as reasons for the cuts. He added that next year will be even worse.

"As we put the next state budget together on October 1, we'll be $600 million below what it costs to fund current programs," he said.

That means the Pointes will have to wait until 1982 to elect a judge for a district court to begin in 1983, since state law prevents the election of judges in odd-numbered years. The five existing municipal courts will continue operating until that time.

By Gregory Jakub

Legislation that would have provided for the Grosse Pointe District Court was signed by Gov. Milliken on May 22—the Thursday before Memorial Day. The bill required the five Pointes to produce resolutions on the following Tuesday indicating the number of courts and judges they

The three-day Memorial Day weekend necessitated an emergency meeting at 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, May 27 -the deadline day - at which the cities agreed they wanted one judge and one court to cover all the Pointes.

But the 11th hour consensus was too late for all the cities to formalize their resolutions. Only the Park, Shores, and City were able to submit the required documents to the local office of the State Court Administrator before the deadline. The result is that the bill, which was hammered out during months of legislative debate, died at 4 p.m. Tuesday, May 27.

State Rep. William Bryant, who organized Tuesday's last-minute meeting, blamed lawmakers involved with the bill for holding up its passage since December, 1979.

"It's our (legislators') fault it went on so long because we all couldn't do what Kelly wanted us to do. I apologize for that," Bryant said at the meeting. He referred to debate over the bill in which Bryant and Sen. John Hertel supported a one-judge system while Sen. John Kelly, who designed the original legislation, held out for two judges.

Kelly said he was disappointed that "I JUST SPENT well over a year and a half trying to get a consensus . there isn't more you could do unless you spent your whole life on one picce of legislation, Kelly said. He added that it is unfortunate that the bill was ultimately defeated not on its merits but by its many revisions which made it inoperative.

Park Councilman Douglas Graham said he was somewhat relieved that district court formation will be delayed until 1983 because the cities would not have had enough time to make a smooth transition by January.

"1983 ought to be just fine with everybody . . . We're probably all relieved that we can now do this in an orderly fashion," Graham said.

Graham suggested the next step would be for lawmakers to draw up legislation to form the court in 1983.

The conversion from municipal courts to district courts is mandated by a 1974 state law. The Pointes, East Detroit, and Detroit are the only communities in the state that still have municipal courts.

District Courts handle all civil cases for more than $1,500 and less than $10,000. Presently, such cases originating in the Pointes are transferred downtown to Detroit's Common Pleas

The postponement of a Grosse Pointe District Court until 1983 means those cases will continue to go downtown while civil cases under $1,500 will still be heard in one of the Pointes five municipal courts.

Complications will begin when Detroit's Common Pleas Court is reor-ganized as expected. Then all Com-

Board Election to Be Decided Monday

By Susan McDonald

The race for election to the board of education that began in mid-winter will come to an end Monday at the polls.

If usual trends persist, about 5,000 Grosse Pointe voters will cast ballots Monday for three of six candidates seeking the $400 a year positions.

Two will be named to four-year board terms currently held by Joan Hanpeter and William Fleming. A one-year seat now occupied by Catherine Brierly also will be decided.

Competing for the four-year terms are incumbent Hanpeter, Marie Du-Coin, Roger Mourad and David Mikesell. William Huetteman and incumbent Brierly are squaring off for the short term.

Polls at 10 local elementary schools will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. election day,

STRANGELY ENOUGH, the most competitive contest this spring also has the lowest stakes—a one-year term on the board that was created by the resignation last summer of Ann Ardussi.

Brierly, 42, was appointed by a 4-2 vote to fill the seat in December and is asking voters to allow her to finish out the remaining year of the

Ever since the Park Council announced its plans to force Mitchell's roofing company to pack up and leave the city a couple of weeks ago, the businessman says he has been harassed by phone calls and left a victim of vicious vandalism.

Mitchell is pointing the finger at local residents, who have been fight-ing with the city for years to force the roofer to tidy up his business on Charlevoix.

Residents are especially angry over the company's smelly tar buckets, which sometimes are stored no more than a couple of feet from residents' backyard fences.

CEMENT SLABS thrown through at least 20 of his windows and attacks on company vehicles in recent weeks, Mitchell says, are more than sheer coincidence of his plight with the city.

"I am fairly convinced that the neighbors around here are involved in all this," he said. Mitchell also

DBT Grants Pointe Pedlar Extension

Joyce Detwiler, owner of the Pedlar, is asking "congratulations for what?"

In an unexpected move, the bank extended the lease of the Pedlar and other shops on Fisher road until June, 1981 and is paying some big money to spread that message through Grosse Pointe newspapers.

Detwiler, along with other merchants recently asked the bank to extend their lease to give them time to locate new sites.

THE BANK HAS a hold on the Fisher property after purchasing it last October to construct a new fullservice bank and trust facility. The purchase will force merchants to set up business elsewhere and has triggered a local campaign to keep the Pedlar just where it is.

Detwiler said she is "enthusiastic" about the lease extension, but the real issue of whether the Pedlar and other shops can remain on Fisher road has not been resolved.

"We are very pleased with the bank's decision, but we still are not at all happy as Grosse Pointers to have our viable shopping center eaten up by a large corporation," Detwiler

The Pedlar owner said she still intends to pursue the purchase of her building from the bank.

Meanwhile, the bank has kept fairly quiet and has watched a group of local residents stage a protest march, secure petitions and hint at a boycott of the bank to keep Detroit Bank and Trust off Fisher road.

Heading up the Save Our Shops campaign is Farms resident Elaine Hartmann, who is expecting lots of people to join her fight 7:30 p.m. tonight, June 5, at a town meeting at Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church on

Both Friends and Foes of Le Cafe Rally for Support

By Gregory Jakub

A letter is circulating this week in about 12 Grosse Pointe stores seeking support for efforts by one of Grosse Pointe's most popular restaurants, Le Cafe Français, to win approval for a tavern license from Grosse Pointe Woods.

But the Woods Council has started its own effort aimed at limiting the number of liquor and tavern licenses that can be approved in the city.

The letter campaign was started by Shores resident Karen Watson who said she is concerned about the future of Le Cafe located in the Kimberly Korner on Mack. Le Cafe owner Charles Moraco has been struggling for about two years to obtain city approval to serve beer and wine with his specialty menu which he says is crucial to the continued success of his business.

Watson said she hopes to collect "thousands" of signatures from patrons of shops such as the Pointe Pedlar and Sign of the Mermaid on the Hill to convince the council to favor Le Cafe's application.

BUT THE WOODS council has begun an effort to clarify a city ordinance governing the approval of tav-

Those local units of government, namely the five Pointes, have already approved their budgets for this fiscal year, with the exception of the Shores, and will have to make adjust. ments because of the cuts.

The Park, which will be denied $27,000, had already trimmed some $200,000 from its original budget proposal. Milliken's order may force that city to lay off some employes.

"There is just no where else in our budget to cut," said city manager John Crawford, "It appears to me that some kind of layoffs will be required. I don't know what departments will be hit or how many people will go yet."

council to approve a tavern license application. The council interpreted that to mean only one license application could be approved and passed over Le Cafe's application in favor of another specialty restaurant on Mack-Da Edoardo.

Le Cafe took legal action and won a decision in April this year from Wayne County Circuit Court which said the tayern license ordinance does allow the Woods council to approve more than one application.

The Woods Council however, disagreed with the court's decision and is appealing it. In the meantime, Le Cafe's tavern license application is in limbo

Two weeks ago, Le Cafe took further legal action to force the council to explain why it hasn't yet considered Le Cafe's application in light of the court's earlier ruling

Woods city attorney George Catlin will appear in circut court tomorrow, June 6, representing the council. Catlin has also filed a motion to quash the court order.

CRAWFORD SAID some services would be affected as well. He mentioned shortening the park season, reducing the number of days the city picks up trash or deferring its obligation to the Grosse Pointe-Clinton Refuce Authority.

At this stage, the Park is the only city considering layoffs. The Woods will suffer a $39,000 cut. City manager Frederick G. Hornfisher admitted it would affect the Woods "a great deal," but doesn't yet know in which

He said the city has to study the situation and should know sometime this week where it stands.

Farms assessor Carrol C. Lock said the $20,000 cut for his city would affect them "very little."

"We're not going to cut out fire service or park police cars," he said. "It's not going to cripple us. It's only a $20,000 cut out of $4 million. Where it's going to affect us is a year from now. We'll have to pick up in taxes what the state doesn't give us or else reduce services somewhere."

Lock said the bad news to the Farms is not the cut itself, but the fact his city traditionally receives little support from the state. Seen in this light, he said, the cut doesn't amount to much.

Manager Thomas W. Kressbach of the City said the $11,000 cut it will receive will put "another crimp in an already strapped budget."

WHILE HE said the City has no plans for immediate changes, Kressbach looked ahead to additional cuts the State will make for its next fiscal quarter beginning October 1.

He said the City would look for areas of potential reduction and stated further cuts could affect rubbish pick up, recreation and public

"There will be no layoffs based on an $11,000 cut," he said. "What's really going to count is how they (the state) balance on October 1."

Although Grosse Pointe Shores will lose only $5,200, village manager Thomas K. Jefferis stated that if the city wants to maintain its present level of services, the state cut will have to be made up somewhere. However, he said it was too early to tell exactly where yet.

peter and Mikesell. All three declared their candidacy in a joint statement five months ago and have conducted joint fund raisers.

CANDIDATE Roger Mourad has accused the trio of forming a slate that will cripple their independence if they are elected to the board. Huetteman has defended the coalition as merely a way to simplify fund raising efforts.

Mourad, 48, is an attorney and father of seven. He has spoken out most often in recent campaign appearances on alleged problems in Grosse Pointe's middle school program. He received his LL.D. degree from the University of Detroit Law

Also running for a four-year term is Marie DuCoin, 40, the wife of South High Counselor Norman Du-Coin and mother of three. DuCoin, who attended Eastern Michigan University, has pointed out weaknesses in the English program at the elementary schools in recent appearances and bemoaned the fact there is no standard text for English at that level

She is competing against Mikesell, 42, a labor relations attorney and graduate of University of Michigan's law school. He has sought voter support on the basis of his professional expertise and ability to deal with 'some of the most difficult and important problems facing the board' arising from the teachers' association with Local One of the Michigan Education Association.

Mikesell was harshly criticized at a recent candidate forum for not voting in this year's millage election.

Joan Hanpeter, 50, an eight-year board veteran seeking her third term of office, has campaigned heavily on her record in office, improvement in local students' scores on assessment tests and new reading, science and writing programs.

She is the mother of four children and is currently employed by an office equipment company. She received her B.A. degree in government from Cor-

Seniors Say Goodbye to Four Years of High School

By Dean Brierly

"We rowdy, we crazy, we the class of 80." That was the rallying cry Friday as North and South Highs' graduating classes celebrated cap and gown day before leaving on annual class picnics.

As in past years, many departing seniors upheld the timeless traditions of flinging water balloons and squirting shaving cream at passing cars and students. Most of the cars had slogans rainted on them heralding the end of the four-year stint in high school and were filled with seniors yelling, drinking and generally having a good Mike Guthat at South called cap and gown day "the best day of anything that we do. Better than the prom, better than graduation day.

"Everybody gets a little crazy," he said, and proceeded to send a welldirected handful of shaving cream at one of his buddies.

Chris Gamble said he and his friends were out to keep up the traditions-shaving cream, water balloons, firecrackers, milk cartons, full, of course, and power shows, accelerating off an oil slick.

"This year we're starting a new trend-a keg at Three Mile Park," he added.

Just then a slogan-covered car drove by and Gamble, Gutirat and several cohorts attacked it with shaving cream, doing justice to the prevailing high spirits of the day.

Adding to the excitement of the day at South was the jazz band and local rock band Sorcerer, which played to the seniors in the gym while caps and gowns were handed

While many of the seniors were outside raising a little hell, others paused to reflect on the four years they spent in high school.

For John Fikany, the prospect of seeing his friends split up and headed in different directions is something he's not looking forward to.

"You miss all your friends," he said. "There's a lot of people you won't see for a while and a lot of people you'll never see again. I also had a lct of good teachers who helped me out. I guess high school gives you a lot of knowledge about what life is of school."

Tracy McCabe will miss all the extracurricular activities which she says makes high school worthwhile.

When you join all the groups, you become a part of the school itself. I'm also going to miss the feeling of high school—being able to think later about what you want to do with the rest of your life. We have to start pratending it's for real now."

Lori Vesely has mixed emotions about leaving high school.

"I'm happy and sad at the same time. I'm excited and apprehensive about college. High school has been a good experience. It teaches you how to get along with other people and how to cope with different situations.'

One student who will not miss high school is Tim Mason.

"Grosse Pointe's a nice place, but the people . . ." he says. "I've lived here six years and don't know anyone, I'm excited to get out of here."

Students at South while looking forward to moving onto new challenges and new people, also are excited about holding graduation cere-supposed to be like after you get out monies out on the front lawn this year, as opposed to using the football field as in years past.

> According to South's new principal, Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, the idea first came up during a meeting he had with members of the senior class when he took over last December.

> Although he realized it would entail a lot more cost and effort to hold the ceremonies on the front lawn, Spagnoli went ahead and pressed for it because "the students at South have been very cooperative and understanding of what the school is all

> While the school board provides funds for graduation activities, the extra cost involved in building a platform and stage necessitated dona-tions from the Mothers and Dads Clubs of $1,000 apiece.

> Spagnoli said if all goes well, the ceremonies should be "magnificent" and something the students can remember in the years to come.

Mike Mahon says holding the cere. monies in front of the school will be "starting a new tradition, something different for the 1980's. It's really

The home care program will operate out of Michigan Cancer Foundation Service Centers located in Grosse Pointe Woods, Royal Oak, Dearborn, and Detroit's west side as well as the Meyer L. Prentis Cancer Center in Detroit. To enter the program, cancer patients in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties need to be referred by their physician.

The Foundation's Home Assistance - Program (HAP) provides the services of an interdisciplinary team made up of physician, oncology nurse, social worker and home health aides,

"These HAP teams are committed to improving the quality of life for cancer patients by developing a comprehensive care package that is administered at home and involves the support and assistance of the family," Dr. Brennan said.

The HAP pilot program began with financial assistance from the United Foundation. Since 1976, it has been funded by the Metropolitan Detroit Cancer Control Program, a five-year demonstration project cosponsored by the National Cancer Institute to coordinate local cancer agencies and services. Federal funds for the grant terminate in June 1981

Three youths were arrested last Saturday night after a large outdoor party on Lochmoor boulevard resulted in a scuffle between a Grosse Pointe Woods police officer and rowdy partygoers.

At about 10:30 p.m. Saturday, three officers responded to several complaints of loud music and kids running through yards. Upon arriving at the Lochmoor address, police found about 200 young people at a yard party where a live band was playing.

The party's host was told that the group would have to disperse and an officer attempted to stop the music, police said.

A 19-year-old Woods youth began yelling obscenities at the officers and led the crowd in taunting the police, according to police.

When two officers grabbed the youth to arrest him and lead him away, the youth continued velling and fell to the ground causing the of-ficer to fall with him, police

As the two scuffled on the ground, a crowd formed around them and began kicking and pouring beer over them, police said. Several other officers broke through the crowd and helped handcuff the youth, while other officers broke up the party,

One of the arrested youths was later released. The party host was ticketed and police are seeking warrants against two youths involved in the scuffle, police said.

When planning how large your wine cellar should be, consider how much wine you normally drink and how long you will want it stored. If wines will have to be stored for a long time before they are ripe for drinking, a larger cellar will be needed than if young drinking wines are favored. Cabernet Sauvignon should be stored for about 12 years. Zinfandel and Pinot Noir for 6 years and most whites for two to four years. It is best to store wines, set aside for future drinking, in racks, while wines for current consump-

On the first day Garcia will critique each participating publication so that staff members can gain insight on ways to improve. The second day will see participants working with Garcia in redesigning their own papers.

"It will be a good experience," commented Price. "We have to do our own paste up there, and the Tower is hoping to do more of its own production in the near future. We would like to be able to bring back some skills that we can teach."

In other news relating to the paper, eight Tower staff members have been inducted into Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalism. To qualify for membership, staffers had to rank in the top third of their class and have done work equivalent to writing 800 inches of newspaper stories.

debedding plan be delayed South Teacher Stresses develop a revised second year Early Reading Skills

By Libby Dietrich

Every teacher is a teacher her stationing program. of reading," Marybeth Carduck, English teacher at South High School, wrote in School System and has used an article recently published in the 1980 yearbook of the erature and history. Michigan Council of Teachers of English.

Along with Carduck's article were many other English teachers' and professors' ideas and concepts of reading, including one by Grosse ability," she said. Pointe North English teacher, Linda Banovetz.

Carduck wrote her article "A Teacher is a Teacher of Name Leaders Reading" as a position paper on reading in college. The article was published in the 1980 yearbook, "Reading."

Carduck commented, "I was trying to suggest to all teachers that if they demand that their students read, they should also teach the necessary reading skills." She went on to explain that there is a problem with students not getting the purpose out of their reading. She stated in her article, "The secondary school teachers can assume that the student entering the seventh or ninth grade has had much reading instruction. He or she has been introduced to, practiced, and mastered a countless number of reading skills. However, most of these skills have been taught in isolation from content. The emphasis has been placed on the skill to be mastered, not on the content of the passages used."

She thinks the problem starts in the fourth or fifth grade, when the students are learning and practicing how to read, instead of understanding the purpose behind the reading.

"When reading starts to become a task for students and the material gets harder. the child gets worse grades in more subjects," Carduck

She ended her article by saying, "If an all-school developmental reading program were started in every middle and high school, content teachers would probably be amazed to find that their seemingly lazy students could actually be motivated to read well, to think clearly, to discuss logically and, most important, to learn successfully."

In an article, "Stationing as a Reading Management Technique," Mrs. Banovetz explained a stationing program, including diagrams and figures, that she has found successful through her teaching career.

One of the most successful methods I've found for individualizing and working more effectively with students' reading is stationing," she said.

Mrs. Banovetz, who will transfer over to South High School next fall to teach Reading Workshop and act as a reading consultant, was approached by MCTE offi-

Congratulations, Mrs. Detwiler, you have made your point!

DETROITBANK Corporation will extend your lease at the Pointe Pedlar to the date you have chosen as most satisfactory to you—June 1, 1981. We will also extend the rental agreements of all other tenants at 403-415 Fisher Road to that date. After all, many of us at DETROIT-BANK Corporation live and shop in Grosse Pointe too (some of us at the Pointe Pedlar), and even though we are a five billion dollar banking corporation, that five billion dollars is made up largely of small business and householder accounts like yours.

We have no desire to subject you or your friends and co-tenants to unnecessary inconvenience. Quite the contrary. We have instructed our property management division to continue to give you assistance and advice where possible.

And while we regret the inconvenience and dislocation that always accompanies a move, we think in the long run you will approve of what we are trying to do for the community:

- We have over 10,000 DETROIT-BANK customers in the Grosse Pointes who will now have their own conveniently located banking and trust office, where none existed before.
- We are creating new jobs in Grosse Pointe.
- The tax base of the City of Grosse Pointe for our property will be significantly increased from its present amount.
- The total project, including land, construction and architecture will exceed $1,000,000.

- Over 100 of us live in the Grosse Pointes.
- Our new annual Grosse Pointe payroll expenditure will exceed a quarter of a million dollars.
- We, of course, will be as actively involved in the Grosse Pointe community as we are in the other communities where we operate banks.

And wait until you see our new Grosse Pointe Headquarters. It will maintain the understated good taste for which Grosse Pointe is noted. As our planning progresses, we will keep everyone informed of what we're doing.

In the meantime, as you requested, Mrs. Detwiler, you'll have the time to select a new location and complete your buying trips for the coming fall and Christmas seasons, the peak retailing times of the year. What with exchanging Christmas gifts and the January sales, you'll be busy right through next spring. So we agree with you that a year, until June 1, 1981, does seem like an adequate length of time.

We are glad we have found a way to accommodate your request, and we wish you, your partners and your neighbors on Fisher Road a prosperous and successful coming year.

the National Association of "A survey of 22 major metropolitan areas indicates that the sharp decline in existing home sales is behind Carlson said, "Respondents said there has been increased buyer interest in resale properties. This interest should give rise to increased sales, which should continue in the months ahead."

Based on the telephone survey, Carlson said it appears that May sales will be about 2.5 million units on a seasonally adjusted annual basis, a moderate increase from the 2.4 million existing home sales in April.

Carlson said that conditions vary across the country, with the South and the West reporting sales either comparable to April or slight ly improved, while metropolitan areas in other regions no longer are reporting steep

"In these areas," he added, "we anticipate improvements in June."

Prior to the sales slump, prices of existing homes were increasing at doubledigit rates—faster, in fact, than the overall inflation rate. Carlson said.

"The last six months, however, have seen some moderation in the rate of increase in home prices," he said. "The survey reveals that home prices in general are remaining stable or increasing at a more modest annual rate, equal to about half the rate of inflation."

The survey suggested, he said, that should sales increase further, the inventory of existing home listings would be depleted quickly and the rate of home price appreciation could parallel the overall rate of inflation.

The survey also disclosed that not only are mortgage loans becoming less expensive, but also more avail-

Agency Aids Tax Problems

April 15 may end the "tax filing season" for most people, but it may not necessarily be the end of their tax problems.

Taxpayers who feel that their complaints and problems are not getting prompt attention from the Internal Revenue Service can get assistance from the Problem Resolution Procedure (PRP) Office, the IRS says.

The Problem Resolution Office handles such matters as taxpayers' complaints about late refunds, incorrect hillings, or the status of a taxpayer's account or examination.

A typical PRP case would be the following: a taxpayer needs a copy of a return filed in 1976 and calls IRS. A few weeks later, the taxpayer still hasn't received the return, or a letter of explanation. More calls to the IRS bring the same result, with no explanation for the delay. The taxpayer should then call the PRP office. Generally, PRP will try to resolve the problem within five days, the IRS says.

Where a delay is unavoidable, PRP will give the taxpayer a status report and a projected completion date. During 1979, PRP helped over 72,000 taxpayers with difficult problems or complaints.

The IRS emphasizes that PRP is not a substitute for normal taxpayer assistance, and it cannot overturn decisions made during an examination. Neither can PRP handle Freedom of Information requests, complaints about IRS hiring practices, or Privacy Act inquiries. A call to the IRS on these matters will be transferred to the proper office.

Taxpayers can contact PRP by calling IRS taxpayer assistance and asking for the PRP office. The toll-free telephone number for calls from area code 313 is 800-listing 2,500 mapped lakes in Michigan are available free to fishermen and boaters from the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC).

Arranged by counties, the index pinpoints the locations of Michigan's best lakes for fishing and boating, indicates the size of each lake, and explains how to obtain maps of each of the lakes,

The maps themselves show lake depths, shoreline contours, bottom types, and other characteristics of each lake - information that is helpful to fishermen and boaters and essential to fish management by the Department of Natural Resources, the agency that conducted the surveys on which the maps are based.

In addition to the lake maps listings, the index contains a chapter on "The Scientific Approach to Lake Fishing" and sections on topographic maps of Michigan and nautical charts of the Great Lakes and how to obtain them.

MUCC, a private, non-profit federation of sportsmen's and conservation clubs, is the state's largest distributor of maps.

He was sitting on a bench there, looking a little tired, a little discouraged. Obviously of retirement age, one could see that he had not retired from life. There was a snap to his dress, he was meticulously groomed and there was not a hint of a slouch to his bearing. It was evident that 'here was a well disciplined person who would never fall into a pattern of sloppy, easy living and that life without dignity for him would be inconceivable.

She too, had an air of dignity but in her, one could detect a vulnerability. It showed in her gentle face and in her mannerisms that now betrayed a frustrated helplessness. It was a pretty face that had in her youth been beautiful. Even now she was attractive. Her carefully cut clothes, coiffed hair and subdued makeup presented a pleasing picture.

All around them swirled the activity of the shopping center—an art fair, a fashion show, weary mothers tugging tired children, young lovers strolling hand in hand, totally absorbed in each other, little groups deciding where to go for lunch or what store was best for whatever all of it punctuated by canned music. A Link Is Made

A group carrying backpacks entered the mall. Evidently they had chosen this place as the point where they would be picked up and driven to camp.

... He looked up and his eyes met hers. "That's not my idea of a vacation," he said.

She smiled. "Mine either. When I vacation I like a little luxury."

for them had once been very good. But they seemed so suited. Was there a moment in time when each one questioned whether or not a new relationship would be rewarding or would spail the memory of the old?; Did they ponder the possibility of adjusting old habits and ways to those of another?

The tow truck pulled up. She hesitated.

Would she offer to help him find his car once hers was started or would a reticence outmoded today but part of her background, prevent her from making such a forward gesture?

Would he make the first moveperhaps ask if he might call her? They rose

Their words to each other seemed to be bound together by the unspoken losses they had sustained as their lives became diminished by the passing years; by grown children leaving to fulfill their own lives; of satisfying work halted by retirement; by the death of a chosen mate who was loved and who loved them best

Neither put into words the pain of sitting at an empty table and remembering voices mingled with the rattling of dishes and clinking of silver; nor of the longing for someone who was committed to sharing their lives and shielding them from an often indifferent and competitive world.

One could guess that each had left unspoken the difficulty of reaching out into a fast moving world to try to find a new life there and know the pride that kept them from admitting, even to themselves, that they were not self sufficient.

"It was nice talking to you," she murmured.

He took her outstretched hand in his, "Good luck to you," he said.

And so they parted, leaving us to conjecture.

Was it a brief encounter soon to be forgotten or sometimes, in the quiet loneliness of their homes, would they think of each other and perhaps think of their meeting as a lost opportunity to share past memories and find a short period of happiness together?

How Many Will Vote?

Only about a quarter of the registered voters in the Grosse Pointes went to the polls in the recent presidential primary but if precedent establishes a pattern even fewer are likely to cast ballots in the board of education election Monday, June 9. While just over 10,000 cast ballots in the Pointes in the presidential primary, that total has been company has developed a fine repuexceeded in school elections only when millage issues were involved.

Last year only 5,258 people voted in the school election. In 1978, the total was 4,878 and in 1977 it was 5,501. While 17,629 voted in the combined millage and board election in 1976, only 732 went to the poils in the 1975 election.

Considering the fact that 42,601 persons were registered in the school district as of December 1, 1979, that's not a very impressive voting record for the Pointes. And in comparison with the presidential primary figures which included only the Pointes, the school district totals include 4,377 voters in Lake Township and part of Harper Woods. So the voting in regular school elections leaves much to be desired.

In a way, that lack of voting interest is surprising. Voters generally are closer to the problems of their local communities than they are to the state and national problems that beset us. Conversely, individual votes tend to have a smaller impact on national issues than on local ones.

FOR EXAMPLE, Grosse Pointers turned out a higher proportion of voters in the presidential primary than any other area of the state - but wound up supporting a GOP candidate, George Bush, who promptly bowed out of the presidential race. Grosse Pointe Republicans who backed Bush still hope they didn't waste their votes. They still see the possibility that the strong Bush showing and Gov. William Milliken's endorsement of him might nudge Ronald Reagan a notch closer to the political middle of the road. But at the moment pretend to know. But now that the legislation is that is more of a hope and a possibility than a

With the schools, however, a strong turnout in Monday's election could have significance, regardless of who wins the board seats. A good-sized turnout would alert the board that the natives are not only restless but concerned about costs, taxes, the quality of education and specific problems facing the school system.

A good-sized turnout would alert the school administration, too, that it must be ready to justify its recommendations not only to the board but to the public as well. In a period of recession and inflation, many Grosse Pointers are concerned about the costs of all public services and the increasing load of taxes required to meet them. The schools are not exempt from this concern.

TRUE, THE POINTES are proud of the quality of their public school system. It is one of the community's finest assets. But nobody is suggesting that efforts to maintain and even improve quality be curtailed. However, the average citizen by just going to the polls can provide an additional incentive to the winning candidates as well as to the holdover board members to keep an even closer watch on the costs and the taxes required to maintain quality educational programs.

Voters should remember that if they know in advance they will not be able to get to the polls Monday, they will have the opportunity to vote by absent voter ballots through Saturday, and can even obtain emergency absent voters applications on election day in cases where they can't apply by Saturday. So voters will have little excuse for not casting their ballots in person or in absentia,

There will be little excuse, except, perhaps, for lack of interest and that would be a surprising admission for anyone with a direct stake in an enterprise—our public school system—that will spend almost $32 million next year.

A clique at the convention

To the Editor: As noted in the News story on the presidential primary last week, 'Grosse Pointers led the statewide trend by backing George Bush twoto-one in voting . . . The count showed Bush won 19 delegates."

However, as it developed at the Republican district convention held last Wednesday night at South High School, only three of the 19 Bush delegates were selected by the convention being held this Saturday, June 7, at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Those of us supporting Bush, who were in most cases elected with large majorities, were denied the opportunity to represent the largest group of voters in Grosse Pointe by a small, cleverly controlling group.

I wish to thank all of you who supported me. Unfortunately, I must report that the clique which controlled the district convention chose to select the person I soundly defeated as a delegate to the state convention to represent you and your

To the Editor: Grady Roofing Company has been located in Grosse Pointe Park since 1937. During the past 43 years our tation for providing excellent service to the people living in the Grosse Pointe area. Therefore, we are not unresponsive to the needs of our city and neighbors.

Within the last six years, our company has purchased several buildings and parking lots on Charlevoix avenue in Grosse Pointe Park for the purpose of warehousing materials and parking trucks and equipment.
These premises were purchased and utilized with the full knowledge and permission of the Grosse Pointe Park City Manager and the Director of the Department of Public Services.

Recently, our company was advised by Grosse Pointe Park officials that our use of our premises is in violation of certain city ordinances. We were also given a list of 28 code violations relating to minor exterior repairs to our buildings.

We completed 26 of the 28 repairs in a prompt manner. We have de-clined to discontinue the use of our premises because (a) we had been given prior permission by city offi-cials to use the premises; and (b) we presently have nowhere else from which to conduct our business.

However, we have advised the Grosse Pointe Park Zoning Board of Appeals that we intend to relocate our commercial operations outside of the City limits within 18 months and have requested a formal ordinance variance in the meantime.

Grady Roofing Company wishes to cooperate with the City of Grosse Pointe Park and our neighbors. However, we obviously do not intend to "shut down the business permanently." Frankly, we do not believe that our request for an ordinance variance of 18 months is an unreasonable request from a business which has been located in Grosse Pointe Park for 43

Senior's View Of Board Race

To the Editor:

This is an open letter to the citizens of the Grosse Pointe School system. I wish to ask some questions and make some comments.

Some candidates (for board of education) have claimed that because of experience, they should be reelected. I ask you, were they experienced when they were elected to their first term? They are experienced in what? Certainly not in how to communicate between the administration and the teaching staff. They are experienced however, in renewing a certain contract and increasing

When a millage election is due, the cry from the Board and administration is that the children will suffer because of cutbacks in certain subjects, such as art, music and gym.

Do you realize what has happened when the millage passes? Either another administrator is added to the central office staff or the superintendent has been given an increase in salary so he can "feel comfortable." I'm certain many of us (senior citizens) could live very comfortably on over $50,000 a year.

There are too many "chiefs and not enough Indians." With a drop in enrollment there should be a drop in the number of chiefs. Our tax money should be used for the children's programs—not for salaries for more administrators.

Do you know that the school law states that the board of education has the privilege of interviewing each applicant for a teaching position? Why then does the director of personnel carry out that duty?

Another question. Do we elect candidates to sit and sleep at board meetings? Is that in the interest of the schools?

Communication between the board and teaching staff is nil.

In my opinion the long profiles of some endorsed candidates don't inform the readers of their expertise in the field of education. What has happened to the English program in the elementary schools? In the late 1960s the textbooks were withdrawn by an administrator. Since then, the teachers have used their own resources. There is no common English textbook. How well can English (or grammar) be taught from the readers or spelling books? Students entering the middle schools have no basic knowledge of proper English usage, unless taught by the parents.

A former Board member has said the school system is a corporation. Since when? That is a question for citizens to ponder.

The freedoms given us by the Bill of Rights seem to be fast disappearing. Not only taken away by the federal government, but by our local school board. The board has told the administrators to stay away from campaign fund raisers.

Wake up all citizens of the school district. Eight is enough,

No Orchestra Review?

To the Editor,

For the past two weeks we have looked in vain for Grosse Pointe News coverage of the splendid performance of the Grosse Pointe South Symphony Orchestra on April 25 in Orchestra Hall,

These talented, well-rehearsed students played and the choral group sang a classical and light-classical program to a packed house leaving an audience spellbound and mildly astonished to have heard such a professional program from their own youngsters capably led by Ralph Miller, South High's new music instrumental director and Charles Gleason, Vocal Music Director,

It should be obvious "to the News" that Grosse Pointers value the quality of their schools. It's time the reporting of our local newspaper reflected the same values as the community.

Everyone Lost on Court

The controversy over whether the proposed Grosse Pointe District Court should have one or two judges came to an end last Tuesday with both sides losing. There will be no Grosse Pointe District Court until 1983 at the earliest.

It is disappointing that so much time and effort had to go down the drain after legislative compromises had been achieved, the bill had been passed by both houses of the legislature and the legislation had been signed into law by the gov-ernor. The blame for the final death of the legislation has to be put on a provision that required habitants. Two soon to be the five Pointes to produce resolutions in a limited period of time that would indicate the number of courts and judges they wanted. The governing bodies of the Pointes simply failed to meet the

This book dead for a couple of years, some officials say they are relieved at the delay because it will give the councils of the Pointes more time to plan for the transition. One Park councilman said 1983 ought to be "just fine with everybody" because the Pointes now will be able to plan in a more orderly

Probably so. But if the dire predictions about the delays in some civil suits because of the anticipated overloading of Wayne County Circuit Court come to pass, they will prove that the postponement of the legislation won't be "just fine with everybody" and especially not with litigants whose cases will be tied up in court for additional months, if not years.

FROM THE OFFICIAL view, the delay is understandable and accepted as giving the local governments needed time to do better planning. But from the public's view, the Pointes' delay in the implementation of the state requirements to convert municipal courts into a district court represents another failure of government to meet citizens' needs in a timely fashion.

And it's also true that justice delayed is justice

A Spring Tea for Nancy
The English-Speaking Union may opt for brunch, but when it comes to the Daughters of the British Empire, tea is definitely THE way to enter-

Fifteen members of the DBE's Vincent Massey Chapter had a delightful time recently at the Washington road home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Hillegas, who gave a tea party to honor Nancy Nancekivell.

Nancy, a past-regent of the chapter, has retired to London, Ont., and she's very happy there, (you can tell by the way she looks, very pretty, and the way she acts, very vivacious), but she does admit to missing her friends here.

So the reunion party was the very best gift Mabel and Art Hillegas could have given their houseguest.

Among those enjoying the afternoon was Mrs. John McCreadie, here from England to visit her daughter, Janet Wheatley, for a year. We'd go on a bit on Mrs. McCreadie, but you already know a great deal about her: she was profiled at the beginning of May as a NEWS "Pointer of Interest."

Another special and very welcome guest was Mrs. Edward W. Wells, from the Princess Beatrice Chapter of the Daughters of the British Empire.

A Special Summer for John

While the Greater Detroit Chapter of Children's International Summer Villages hosts one village during July on the grounds of the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Bloomfield Hills, 11-yearold John Grierson, of Lochmoor boulevard, will join children from 12 nations at another CISVillage —in France's Auvergne Province.

It will be a very special summer for John, as it will for all CISVillages children.

They come from everywhere, Costa Rica to Belgium, Poland to Liberia, in delegations of four, two boys and two girls, each delegation accompanied by an adult leader.

The children are all 11-year-olds: mature enough to be away from home, and stamped by their own cultures, but open enough and young enough to accept each other without prejudice.

No language skills are required, for the children have always shown a remarkable aptitude for communication, surmounting the language bar-

They participate in dramatics, singing, sports, arts and crafts, folk dancing and cultural activities-and through being together, sharing together, doing together, they begin to realize that the differences between them are interesting-but much less important than the likenesses that bind them

CISVillages are held in many different locations around the world each year. More than 20,000 children from nearly 80 nations have participated in the summer camps since the movement was founded in 1951, in Cincinnati, by psychologist Dr. Doris Twitchell Allen.

CISV research on older "graduates" of the program shows that a significant number become involved in both governmental and independent peace-and-understanding endeavors, and this, after all, is what CISV is all about: to foster international friendship and understanding in the hope of achieving peaceful solutions to world problems. The basic premise of CISV is that peace is possible only as individuals and groups learn to live together as friends.

This will be the fourth time in the last 13 years that the Detroit Chapter has been host to a CIS-Village. The three previous camps were held at Marygrove College, the last in 1976.

Jackson Offers Visitors Recreation and History

There's a unique combina. The Museum's prize possestion of history, art, technol- sion is the Apollo 9 Comogy and recreation available to both residents and visitors of the Jackson area. In this world today. It has particular southeastern Michigan city, significance to the Space the old mingles quite comfortably with the new.

The Michigan Space Center is a testimony to man's historic footsteps into space. In contrast, the Ella Sharp Museum and farm park allows visitors to step back in

The Ella Sharp Museum is refreshingly atypical. There tual piece of moon rock, learn are no formal lectures or how the astronauts travel slide presentations, rather over the surface of the moon the museum has a very live and how they handle even able and homelike atmosphere. It has become a town landmark and cultural cen-

The museum complex began as a farm in 1855 when Abraham Wing purchased it for his widowed daughter, Mary Farnsworth, Mary subsequently married Dwight year-round but the city comes Merriman On Valentine's Day in 1857, Ella, the couple's first and only surviving child was born and the young couple began enlarging the farmhouse. By 1865, the estate included over 600 acres with fields, livestock and orchards.

When Ella married attorney John Sharp in 1881 they and comes complete with lived in the Merriman family farmhouse After John's death in 1908, Ella continued to manage the farm un- plays, as well as many of the til her death in 1912. Ella willed the house and land to the city of Jackson to be used as a museum and city

The park, as it is today, includes 525 acres, equipped with a golf course, swimming Michigan destinations, write pool, nine ball fields, tennis courts and rose gardens. In addition to the fully restored farmhouse museum, there's a gallery building with an exhibit area and artist studio, an authentic log house, country store, the restored Dibble Ferry Opens School 'typical of those in the mid-nineteenth century), the Peter F. Hurst planetarium, and a wildflower garden and nature trail.

The Merriman-Sharp farmhouse is a stunning example of Victorian architecture, furnished and decorated appropriate to its time of occupancy from 1856 to 1912. Visitors will find examples of period decor throughout the entire house-from the sitting room, to the textile room; from the sewing room to the toy room, featuring a charming collection of toys dating from the late 1800's to the early 1900's.

The Museum and park are open year round, except on Mondays, major holidays and the month of January.

The Michigan Space Center takes a look at a more recent period in American history. The Center, located on the campus of Jackson Community College, spans the history of space travel, serving as a tribute to the thirteen astronauts with ties in Michigan.

An 85 foot Mercury Redstone Rocket and gigantic engines from Saturn 5 are the first sights visitors see when approaching the Center. A tour inside offers a fascinating learning experience.

"BUY" APPOINTMENTS, PLEASE!

CAN A HOME BE A RESORT ALSO? Yes, if it has an expensive elaborate lower level "gaming room" yes if there's a fine modern pool with full decking for summer fun! Now give us a call and we'll tell you about the house!

IF YOU DARE TO BE DIFFERENT - It isn't a residence for the "button down" collar group . . . it wasn't meant to be. When you see the exciting master bedroom with its own private elevated studio and the luxurious bath it's enough to cause the heart to beat a bit faster. Yet a home can be romantic and practical, too, as you'll see by the first floor laundry, just off one of the finest kitchens now available in this price range. And there's so much more . . . See for yourself if you're curious; make it yours if you dare!

SEEING IS BELIEVING — THERE'S MORE HOUSE AND MORE VALUE THAN MEETS THE EYE! Consider the spacious lot (75x145) that's fenced, the attached two car garage, library, three bedrooms, modern kitchen and a bath and a half, plus an anxious seller at $89,900 and you could be the lucky person that calls this bargain "home!

"CONDO CLASSIC" - Conventional, but not typical, this extra nice two bedroom, 132 bath townhouse has a fine, modern kitchen, central air condition ing, full basement, covered parking for two cars great location, land contract terms and a buy-now $82.500 price!

GREENFIELD VILLAGE CHARM — How about a full 13 month warranty on this fine four bedroom, 112 bath New England Salt Box Colonial . all at a most reasonable $89,900!

ONCE UPON A TIME - There was a Mini-Mansion, in a desirable Village close to the market. The owner took great pride in his residence; only the best materials and craftsman were allowed to improve this five bedroom, three-and-a-half bath residence, and realizing that the money lenders were asking an "arm and a leg" for mortgages, he offered to hold a $100,000 land contract at 11% for some lucky buyer — too good to be true? No. Too good to last? Yes!

GOING, GOING, GONE? You can't expect a beautiful four bedroom, 21/2 bath English Tudor with library and Florida room to last long at $118,500. With virtually no competition and many showings it won't, yet there may yet be time — if you don't DUTCH COLONIAL (IN THE FARMS) - $77,000 hasn't bought much in the Farms for a long time. Until now. Three bedrooms, fireplace, den 50x150 lot detached garage and it's in nice condition . would you like to know more?

Wedding, Engagement Submission Guidelines

Yes, Virginia . . . the NEWS welcomes news of your wedding or engagement, but, to make it easier for us—and for You—there are a few simple rules we'd like you to follow.

Submission of Copy: Forms for both weddings and engagements are available at the NEWS office. If at all possible, we'd like you to use them. It's not that we think you're not bright enough to write your own engagement/wedding notice; it's that (a) every newspaper has its own style, and our forms conform to our style, (b) in the heat of the moment you may overlook a piece of essential information. such as your own or your bridegroom's name. Don't laugh: you'd be surprised at how many people give us detailed descriptions of their wedding gowns, and neglect to mention such items as when and where they were married.

How to Get Forms: Stop by the NEWS office and pick them up. Send us a stamped, self-addressed envelope and we'll mail them to you. Specify which form, (wedding, engagement, both), you want.

How to Fill Out Forms: LEGIBLY! The typewriter is, we think, a grand invention. We appreciate those who use it. If you can't type, please PRINT. Your handwriting may be distinctive, exquisite . . . but if your name is Moarley, and your 'o" is indistinguishable from your "a"—don't blame us if your name comes out Moorley.

Submission of Pictures: We accept black-and-white photographs, 5x7 or 8x10. We DO NOT accept color photographs. We do not return photographs. We do hold them upon request, at the NEWS office, for pick-up within a reasonable time, (up to three months).

How to Submit Pictures: With the wedding/ engagement form. DO NOT send them in separately; the result is (a) a "mystery picture" sitting on top of someone's desk until that someone can manage to slough it off on someone else's desk—nobody likes a mystery picture, (b) a story written, edited, set in type—and then the whole process must begin again, because a wedding/engagement with a picture is captioned and set in a different manner than one without a picture.

What Pictures to Submit: We are sorry, but because of space limitations we accept engagement pictures of Grosse Pointe girls only. We accept wedding pictures of (a) Grosse Pointe girls alone, (b) Grosse Pointe brides and their bridegrooms, (c) Grosse Pointe bridegrooms and their brides. The rule is: the Grosse Pointer MUST BE IN the pic-

How to Get Copy and Pictures to the NEWS: By foot, By horse, By car. By U.S. Mail. The NEWS office is located at 99 Kercheval on-the-hill, next to Perry Drugs. That's in Grosse Pointe Farms. Zip Code: 48236.

. . the Golden Rule for those who submit ANY information to ANY paper: always include a telephone number WHERE YOU CAN BE REACHED DURING THE DAY in case there are There are nine infractions any questions.

Giants Win First Half

By Joy Williams

The Giants became the champions of the first half of the season by beating the Red Legs 7-6. With one out in the bottom of the sixth and the bases loaded. Dave Arnold was hit by a pitch and forced Tony Taylor home with the winning run.

Red Leg Richard Waller opened the scoring with a solo home run in the first inning. Rich Cordova's triple tied the game at the bottom of the first. Cordova later broke open the scoring with a three-run homer.

Going into the sixth inning, the Giants were leading 6-3, but Red Leg Mike MacMichael's three-run homer tied the score. The Giants then came back to win.

MacMichael had struck out the side in three separate innings for the Red Legs before being replaced. Giant pitchers Tim Hudson and Rich Cordova combined to strike out 13 Red Legs. In earlier action Jay Williams' bases-loaded triple broke an eighth-inning tie as the Pirates downed the Giants, 15-11, and forced the Giants into the playoff game. Jeff Van Tassell homered twice and Kevin Aardema once for the Pirates, Other triples were hit by Pirates Danny Cimini and Brian Aardema, and Pirate Chris Ross doubled twice.

The Orioles defeated the Red Sox, 17-9, with a home run by Tom MacMillan. Tim Overbey had three doubles and Marty Saad one for the Orioles. John Saad doubled for the Red Saad for the Red Sox, home run barrage by Rich Cordova, Dave Arnold and Tim Hudson led the Giants to a 19-12 victory over the Cardinals. Doug Lucas hit a grand-slam home run and Lucas, Jay Henze and Dylan Cole doubled for the

THOUGH we put in air conditioning this week it sure didn't cool off the action any! Things came and went through this place by the car load. No sooner than we unwrap a box of goodies and put them out they would sell and we'd have to wrap them right back up again. Whew! Some of the great things you'll miss if you don't visit us this week include: a beautiful Duncan Phyfe dining room set, a two tier table, an Edward Marshall Boehm swan, a signed Webb mother of pearl satin glass Muffineer, an opalescent daisy and fern barber bottle, some cute solid glass ponies made from Heisey molds by Mosser glass. A hand paint. ed Nortake vase, an art deco server designed by Mav Hamilton for Vernor Kilns, a J.D.K. Hilda Doll, a pair of mother of pearl inlaid opera glasses, and much, much more. You've memo to advertisers

Advertising costs are not based on the number of eyes that see your message. the number of fingers turning these pages, or the number of hats a reader wearsat least they shouldn't be.

Some media projections leave you guessing, though.

We figure it is the nose that counts—one per customer. In fact, we feel accurate circulation figures are so important to you that we have the Audit Bureau of Circulations do our nose counting for us.

ABC sets the standards. Their specially-trained auditors do the counting. And they publish a report on the facts as they found them to be.

Your assurance that you get full circulation value when you advertise in

Grosse Pointe News

As a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, our circulation records and practices are subject to the scrutiny of regular field audits and the discipline of ABCdetermined standards.
