Better watch out!

Tis the season to be wary, con men coming

By Tom Greenwood

With the holiday season fast approaching, many persons are busy preparing their Christmas lists. After all, it is a time for giving.

However, con artists, flim-flam men, shoplifters and bad check artists are also making a list and checking it twice. Their aim is to remove the joy from your hearts, and the jingle from your pocket.

To them, it's a time for taking.

"There's three 'G's' that make a swindle operation possible," said William J. Kalmar, vice-president at Detroit Bank and Trust, "goodness, gullibility and greed. There are two 'C's' to prevent a swindle: carefulness and common sense."

KALMAR SAID there are two major reasons why swindles occur more frequently during the holidays. First, people have more money on their person as they throw themselves into the Christmas season.

Secondly people are less discrimating and more trusting during the holiday season. Their defenses are relaxed. Consequently, they're targets for the con man, Kalmar advises to be on guard for some of the more tried and true Christmas capers. These include the con artists trying to make believe he has a "hot" ring, watch or bracelet for sale at bargain basement prices.

Usually, this approach is acted out on street corners or in parking lots. Embellishing his act with furtive looks over the shoulder, shifting of weight from foot to foot and speaking in. whispered tones, the seller convinces the "mark" he is talking to an actual thief with property he wants to unload quickly. Unfortunately, those buying his act usually find their bargain is nothing more than worthless cut glass.

Another scam that literally stinks, finds well meaning men buying expensive, well-known perfumes for wives or sweethearts at prices far rates whiff from an actual bottle of expensive perfume, the con sells a bottle whose label is a carefully misspelled version of the actual product.

IF THE VICTIM is very lucky, he's exchanged his money for an imitation or watered down bottle of the original. More often than not, the vial contains only colored water.

High on the list of popular scams this time of year is the unsolicited C.O.D. package. In this one, an official-looking delivery van pulls up, and a uniformed driver approaches with a package addressed to your next door neighbor. Saying your neighbor isn't home, he asks if you'd be a good fellow and accept the package.

If you refuse, he explains your neighbor will be compelled to stand in long lines at the post office to pick up the package, which is, by the way, perishable. Since you're a friendly person, you fork over $13.95, intend-

In last week's News, it was incorrectly reported that the League Shop, 98 Kercheval, on the Hill had closed its doors. The League Shop, in fact, has moved a few steps away to 70 Kercheval, on the Hill.

ing to collect from your neighbor when he returns.

Surprise! Your neighbor wasn't expecting any package. Upon inspection, you find the remains of a cooked goose. It's obvious who's goose was cooked in this caper.

Tis better to give than receive. Just remember, if you're going to give, give wisely. During the Christmas season, hundreds of worthwhile, charitable organizations solicit your hard earned money. Many of them send unsolicited small gifts through the mail, accompanied with a request for a small donation.

LAWS IN several states allow the recipient to keep the items without obligation. Don't feel you have to comply by sending money just because your dog chewed up the so-called 'hand-painted tie.'

There have also been instances where con men have dressed up like Santa Claus and stood on street corners ringing a bell and soliciting money from passers-by. Be careful who you give your money to in all

Keir case adjourned until Dec. 12

By Tom Greenwood

A prosecution motion to try a Farms youth as an adult in the October strangulation murder of 81-year-old Elizabeth Keir has been adjourned until Friday, Dec. 12, by Judge Gladys Barsamian, of the Wayne County
Probate Court, Juvenile Divi-

At that time, the court will hear testimony from the State Department of Corrections and the State Department of Social Services as to suitability and security of facilities for treatment of the 15-year-old boy.

Dr. Patricia Carpenter, director of the Child Study Clinic for the Wayne County Juvenile Division, testified Monday, Nov. 24, that the South High freshman accused in the murder of Mrs. Keir should have treatment in a secure facility.

DR. CARPENTER answered ques-

ick Metry and prosecution attorney Nels Olson for over an hour. The Farms Police Department was represented at the hearing by Officer in Charge Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem and Det. Sam Cardella.

This is the third adjournment in the court proceedings involving the Farms teenager, Previous hearings were held before Judge Barsamian on Oct. 31 and Monday. Meanwhile, the murder suspect is being held in the Wayne County Youth Home.

Mrs Keir's body was discovered sprawled on the living room floor of her Kerby Road home by neighbors Tuesday morning, Oct. 7. She had been beaten, raped and strangled. Police believe she had been killed sometime late Monday afternoon,

The suspect, who lives in the Merriweather-Charlevoix area, was arrested at South High School Thursday, Oct. 9, after a police search of noon, Oct, 7, police detained him not knowing he would be a suspect in the murder. He was later released.

It was also learned by the News that ironically, Mrs. Keir had babysat for neighbors living within a few houses of the suspect on the day of her murder. She was dropped off at her home at about 2:50 p.m. by the Police said earlier they are also questioning the suspect in the murder last Halloween of Jean Clyne, whose body was found in the area of Merriweather and Kercheval Avenue.

Mrs. Clyne had been stabbed several times in the chest. Her body was discovered by a local youth in the early evening of Oct. 31, 1979. Police have made no arrests in that case despite a lengthy investigation including use of a psychic, psychologists and a tracking dog.

Kids get help with a 'touchy' subject

By Joanne Gouleche

It's pure delight for some youngsters to be propped on grandpa's knee and be tickled on the tummy or nuzzled behind

But for many more youngsters, the thought of having to sit on a favorite relative's lap to be kissed goodnight turns a once enjoyable experience into a nightmare — especially when that nice bear hug develops into unwanted fondling and caress-

Parents rarely discuss sexual abuse of children with their kids. The words just don't come easy. It's almost never discussed by the innocent victims-it's too embarrassing.

According to the Northeast Guidance Center as many as 2,500 cases of child sexual abuse will be unreported this year in Wayne County. In almost 75 percent of cases reported, the child knows his offender, and it's usually a relative or friend of the family.

THAT'S WHAT makes it so frustrating and confusing for parents and kids alike.

To break the communication barriers on sexual exploitation of children, a company of actors stepped on stage at Parcells Middle School last week and dramatized through clever skits simple, everyday occurrences of touch, and what kids can do if they are sexually assaulted. The program was sponsored by the Junior League

Appropriately titled, "Touch," the Illusion Theater's presentation geared itself to good and bad touch experiences. A skit on a first kiss revealed good caring touch, while another on wrestling with big brother showed hurting touch.

The actors helped kids, and parents, too, identify when life's touch experiences may be bordering on sexual assault.

Some of the kids squirmed and giggled in their auditorium seats, while others had their own point of view on sexual abuse. "It happens when someone crawls into your bed at night and starts looking around." "It's when someone forces you to undress."

"It's scary."

WITH THE recollection of their own sexual experiences, the theater group sorted through the myths of the kids and advised it's best to tell someone when sexual abuse occurs. Most of the kids said they would tell a parent, teacher or the police if sexual abuse happened to them.

The Minneapolis-based theater group works out of that city's school system to aid in classroom understanding of the sensitive issue of child sexual abuse.

"We feel theater can do what movies and television can't," said Bonnie Morris, one of the theater's producing directors.

"Sexual abuse is a violation of the physical being," she said.

Three years ago, the theater linked itself to the Sexual Assault Services division in the Office of the Hennepin County in Minneapolis and agreed to serve as the media component for the Child Sexual Abuse Prevention Project,

The theater group later established an applied theater division. Its program director, Cordelia Kent, explained sexual abuse of children occurs when "someone forces or tricks you into touch."

Ms. Kent said classroom contact with Minneapolis youngsters revealed their misconceptions of child sexual abuse. Kids are often told of sexual abuse by strangers and usually never of the possibility of it happening with parents and relatives.

Men's Night returns to the Village

Men's Night, a Grosse Pointe holiday tradition, will return to the Village Tuesday, Dec. 2, from 7 to 10 p.m. But this year, the extended shopping hours are designed to give all working people an extra night to shop in preparation for Christmas.

Men's Night will feature informal modeling, special gift wrapping services, special sales and entertainment throughout the Village.

Size charts for shoppers are available in advance of the event at any member store of the Grosse Pointe Village Association. When completed, these charts will allow gift-buyers to be much more exact about the prospective purchases for Christmas giving.

With the agreement of the City of Grosse Pointe Council, Kercheval will be closed the length of the Village. The latest model cars from local dealerships will be displayed for viewing the length of Kercheval throughout Men's Night.

Christmas carolers will travel through the Village, and various stores will feature entertainment, including such diverse offerings as a string quartet, a banjo band, carolers, and barbershop singers. Coffee and cookies will be available at several Village stores,

Parking will be available for shoppers at no charge in the structure between 7 and 10 p.m.

District Court bill may wait until 1981

By Susan McDonald

Uncertainty about the politically-charged issue of Detroit court reorganization has left a bill to convert Grosse Pointe to a district court system stranded in the Senate Judiciary Committee where it will likely remain until the legislature's 1981 ses-

An aide to Judiciary Chairman Sen. Basil Brown (D-Highland Park) said last week the committee has received no requests to place the bill on the committee agenda since it was sent to Judiciary Oct, 3.

"Unless someone requests action, chances are it will not be put on the agenda this year," according to the aide, Cathy McClelland,

The Judiciary Committee has three more meetings scheduled before the legislature breaks for Christmas, about

The Grosse Pointe bill (No. 1283) was introduced into the Senate in September by Sen, John Kelly, (D-Detroit). It was the second proposal for Grosse Pointe court conversion considered in Lansing this year. An earlier bill, also written by Kelly, was approved by both chambers, but expired in June before five Grosse Pointe city councils could come to agreement on the structure of the

The cities disagreed about the number of judges, location of a central court and financing of the new court earlier this year.

The new bill again forces the cities to decide what the shape of the new court will be. The bill requires resolutions of agreement from all five councils to be submitted on May 4, 1982 at the latest.

The cities may choose to form a court under the jurisdiction of one judge, elected at large throughout the five Pointes, two judges elected at large, or two judges elected from two divisions in Grosse Pointe.

The new court would combine the functions of the Pointe's current five municipal courts and would expand jurisdiction to include civil cases, which currently go to Detroit's Common Pleas Court for hearing.

Chances are it won't be put on the agenda.

When Kelly's earlier bill expired last summer, several local city leaders said they were relieved to have won more time from Lansing to plan the Grosse Pointe conversion to a district system, Besides Detroit and East Detroit Grosse Pointe courts are the only system in the state not to have completed the conversion.

A switch to a district system is not mandatory until Detroit's court is converted, according to Kelly. The Detroit conversion will create a jurisdictional gap—leaving the civil cases that currently go to Common Pleas out of Grosse Pointe without court to be heard in.

Legislation to reorganize Detroit Courts has been tied up in conference committee for several weeks and looks as if it also will be postponed until next year. The legislation consolidates administrative functions of Detroit Recorder's Court and Wayne County Circuit Court and replaces Common Pleas with a Detroit District

Police officials say that increased crime in some Grosse Pointe communities is caused by a slumping economy which motivates sneak-thieves to take advantage of poorly secured dwellings. Other thieves are more crafty, like the one who last week found a way to break through the front window of the Camera Center on Kercheval in the Village (pictured above), even though the window is wired with alarms,

Burglars cash in during hard times, police say

By Gregory Jakub

Grosse Pointe police officials are blaming the area's sagging economy for recent crime waves that have caused a nearly 100 percent increase over last year's burglary and larceny rates.

Statistics show that burglaries of residences in Grosse Pointe Woods through October 1980 total 88-55 more than the total number of burglaries in 1979. Burglaries of businesses and public buildings total 107 through October 1980 compared to last year's total of 57.

Larcenies at residences in the Woods have jumped to 74 as of October, 1980 compared to 41 for all of 1979. Larcenies at businesses and public places in the Woods total 144 through October 1980 which is 91 more than 1979's total. Grosse Pointe Shores also reported 13 breaking and enterings so far in 1980 compared to five in 1979. Shores' larcenies also jumped from last year's total of 43 to 62 so far in 1980.

The other Pointes show increases in these crime categories also but none were as dramatic as the rate increase in the Woods.

"We're suffering from the same things that everyone is suffering from in the area . . . economic conditions," according to Woods Public Safety Executive Lt. Jack Patterson,

Thieves are interested in a variety of items such as silver, jewelry, and appliances that can be turned into cash quickly, added Patterson, citing a recent burglary on Oxford in which a thief cleared a home of about $2,500 worth of furnishings. To get those items, thieves are hitting homes at almost all hours of the day, Patterson said, Recent burglaries have been committed in the daytime, early evening, and early there may be three different groups of thieves preying on Woods homes, Patterson said.

Patterson said that even though the burglary rate is up 100 percent, he considers last year's total to be relatively low. He attributes the statistical increase to a rash of burglaries in the spring by a professional group working in the Pointes and Harrer Woods.

An arrest made in the spring in connection with those burglaries helped Woods police curb them until August, when break-ins increased again, Patterson said.

The burglary rate in Grosse Pointe City is up slightly over last year and Police Chief Bruce Kenndy said the increase is probably due to the esca-lation of the gold and silver prices.

The economic situation has something to do with it . . . and the fact that the stolen goods are so easily disposed of by fly-by-night buyers, Kennedy said referring to gold and silver buyers that sometimes work out of motel rocms.

In the Park, Police Chief Henry Coonce said figures to October, 1980 show that crime is stable compared to last year. "We are holding our own. would say we are not all that bad, about a three-and-a-half percent increase," Coonce said.

In the Farms where the only murder in the Pointes was recorded this year, statistics show 82 more lar-cenies than 1979's total of 316.

Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber said the increase is directly related to the economy which also tends to create family tension and violent

In addition, all such equipment must be installed in ac cordance with National Fire Protection Association standards.

"Even universal compliance with these new regulations would only take care of part of the problem," Buck les states, "It's equally important to keep the equipment in top working order The latest statistics show that its improper care and maintenance cause 54 per cent of related fires.

"Another problem results from users not understanding the tremendous amounts of heat radiated in the immediate vicinity by woodburning. These super temperatures, which can approach 2,000 degrees in the firebox, were the direct cause of more than half the accidental fires created by solid fuel stoves and fireplaces in the past heating season.

"It is also distressing to note that firewood, obviously stacked too close to the burning area, was the type of material first ignited in about four out of 10 cases."

The insurance industry executive warns that creosote deposits in stovepipes and chimneys are a serious fire hazard and the main reason for their frequent cleaning need. Dark in color and with an unpleasant odor, creosote is a byproduct of woodburning that layers the interior of pipes and chimneys with a continued coating. Ifheavy deposits become very? hot, they burst into flame.

Use of wood that hasn'tbeen cut and stored in a dry location for at least a year produces the most creosote. but even seasoned wood produces some.

"Clean-up of creosote and soot can be done by an ambitious homeowner, but its a tough, dirty job." Buckles said. "Fortunately, professional chimney sweeps have made a great comeback. They have the right equipment to do a safe and efficient job. so it's usually best to give them the assignment. Most are now listed in the advertising section of telephone

-For Senior Citizens-

By Marian Trainor

Thanksgiving is a very special holiday. After the summer picnics and barbecues, it is pleasant to go indoors with those you love and share the warmth and coziness of being together around a festive table.

And festive it is with the family's best china, crystal and silver laid out on snow white linen. No paper products on this day. No informal dishes. Elegant party fare is the order of the day beginning with the royal turkey bird all crackling brown, sending off delicious smells of savory dressing; work-of-art salads and sumptuous Digestions are taxed and diets forgotten. But nevermind. Enjoy! Enjoy! Tomorrow is another day but with its coming, the guilt feelings begin. Bathroom scales are furtively approached. Defense mechanisms begin to work.

There are still leftovers. In these times who wants to throw them away? Freeze them. No. The texture and taste are not the same. Besides who wants to starve for one day of indiscretion? Who wants to spoil the memory of a beautiful day by paying for it with a stringent diet?

Take heart. And speaking of heart, this suggestion will not only help to alleviate the results of the sumptuous dinner, but will also help to shore-up that vital organ.

I'm talking about exercise. Not just hit or miss but an exercise program designed for older citizens to increase their stamina. It has several benefits. Besides adding to one's sense of well-being, it increases the efficiency of the heart and lungs, increases muscular strength and endurance, improves balance, flexibility, coordination and agility.

EVEN IF KEEPING fit has been sacrificed to other demands of life, it's possible to pick up at some level of performance and work yourself up. The exertion expended will pay off with a lively way of life. The way to keep lively is to be lively. The way to stay active is to following the Seine Valley neau. move. Energy begets energy, and the to the channel coast. Just as you need sufficient financial reserves, you also need a bankroll of physical resources.

Most medical authorities support the belief that exercise helps a person look, feel and work better.

Proper exercise can improve posture by increasing the tone of supporting muscles, and there is no more tell-tale sign of aging than stooped

It is generally accepted that physically active individuals suffer less from heart attacks, but did you also know that an active person who experiences a coronary will probably have a less severe form and will be more apt to survive the experience?

Exercise is a recommended method of weight reduction and if necessary coupled with proper dietary controls.

Involvement in some sort of physical activity helps to reduce mental fatigue, tension, strain and boredom. If illness cr accidents occur, the person in good physical condition is better able to cope and to follow a rehabilitation program. Exercise makes you feel good and if you feel good, you look good. The physically active and able person usually has a positive feeling about himself. He or she is ready for new and interesting experiences.

The Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Citizens added $1,500 to its coffers last week at a benefit showing of "Best Boy," an Academy Award - winning film about a retarded youth, according to benefit chairman Bruce Maters.

More than 330 people at-tended the film and reception Wednesday, Nov. 19, at the Punch and Judy Theater.

According to Maters, of Kenmore Drive in the Woods, the funds will be used by the association to fund a group home for retarded adults in Grosse Pointe. The association, made up of about parents, recently approached the Board of Education about the purchase of its superintendent's residence, 51 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, for a group home.

The board, however, has not yet decided if it will sell the home after current Superintendent William Coats leaves his position next sum-

McClure resigns after 10 years as NHS head

By Thomas Kitchen South High

McClure decided South's National Honor Society (NHS) needed a change. Mrs. McClure, a South counselor for 23 years, resigned this year from her role as NHS sponsor, "I felt that I had sponsored it long After 10 years of dedicated enough, and we were running enthusiastic service, Vorita out of new ideas. We need someone with new suggestions who can broaden the organization," Mrs. McClure

If anyone is directly responsible for the NHS' success over the past decade, it has to be Mrs. McClure. In 1970, ex-South principal Jerry Gerich asked Mrs. McClure if she could help establish a strong school organization which would assist the Student Association and be a model for the students. "At that time, our SA wasn't op-erating very well because the students weren't supporting it. This came at a shakey period, and we needed a stable organization as a model for the school," Mrs. McClure

Recently, the NHS recog-nized Mrs. McClure with a special award for her service. I was absolutely stunned when I received the award and I didn't know about it beforehand. The kids have been cooperative and wonderful to work with," Mrs. Mc-Clure explained.

Tina Johnson, a senior at South and NHS president, presented Mrs. McClure with the award and thanked her for the job she did so faith-"She guided us and told us her own ideas, but she let the Honor Society members decide for themselves.'

Taking over the role as NHS sponsor is Mr. Russell Luttinen, Mrs. McClure has been working with him and helping him in the new job.

Muscle strength decreases with advancing yours, but the decline can be lessened by keeping the muscles toned through exercise. Strength and endurance can be promoted by increasing the number of times an exercise is repeated or by increasing speed of movement. Arm circles, knee bends and wing circles are good exercises to increase muscle strength.

Some older people tend to lose their sense of balance, particularly if bi-focal or tri-focal glasses are needed. Walking a straight line, hopping on one foot and then the other and the stork stand (standing on one foot) are excellent to correct this.

The ability to move the joints is important but aging and disease can cause joints to lose their elasticity. Side leg rises, lying on the floor and lifting the head and shoulders off the floor are good exercise for this. Exercises of the joints help to slow down the onset and development of Concern that older people do not tax themselves has resulted in putting everything within reach to avoid bending and stretching. Instead opportunities to bend, move and stretch should be provided to keep joints flexible, muscles strong and the heart

It is important to "warmup" to so full for fall term that apprepare your body for vigorous activity with easy stretching, pulling and rotating exercises.

Periods of vigorous activity should be alternated with periods of lesser stress. This is termed interval training, and can be applied to such activities as walking or jogging.

By putting increasing workloads on your system, you can advance your year, physical condition. This is called the "overload principle." For example, if you begin with repeating an exercise five times, try six and then work

A word about smoking. If you have relations. They're aware that never smoked, don't start and if you a second language is a valudo, stop. Bronchitis, emphysema and able asset.' lung cancer are related to the length of time and frequency a patient has smoked. Happily it is possible to overcome some of the side effects. The sooner the smoker stops, the better are the chances of improved health.

Much of this information comes by way of a U.S. Dept. of Health and Welfare pamphlet: "The Fitness Challenge—in the Later Years." It is an excellent booklet. It outlines a gradual fitness program complete with instructions, diagrams, order in which exercises should be performed and a daily fitness and activity score

So, as you settle back on Thanks-giving and are at peace with the world after consuming a four-star meal, think a little about working it off with exercises that will trim and vigorate and result in your having more bounce to the ounce.

Programs' to control toxic substances and phosphorus in the Great Lakes ecosystem have produced positive but limited results and much remains to be done if the U.S. and Canada are to fulfill commitments made in the 1978 Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement.

That was the conclusion of the Great Lakes Quality Water Board, made public last week in the group's first report on the 1978 agreement.

The board noted that there were decreased loads of certain contaminants throughout the system in 1979, but cautioned that these declines should not be interpreted to mean that all necessary controls have been implemented.

Pollutants which enter the system through the atmosphere are a particular con-cern of the board as recent studies indicate that the atmosphere is a significant source of pollutants in Lakes Superior, Michigan and

The board is equally concerned about the hazardous waste disposal issue.

Programs to limit the discharge of phosphorus from municipal plants in the Great Lakes Basin have caused significant reductions, according to the board, but a number of municipal plants on Lakes Erie and Ontario are not yet achieving the agreed upon limit and have the potential to exceed the compliance deadlines of the 1978 agreement. The board strongly recommended governments increase their efforts to insure all municipal sewage treatment plants meet the phosphorus loading targets specified in the agreement. The board reiterated its recommendations that Ohio and Pennsylvania adopt a phosphate detergent limitation that are within the Great Lakes Basin.

Problems often begin when someone who has kept warm through strenuous activity has to slow down or stop. A person can quickly become so chilled that his fingers get clumsy and he can't think clearly. Proper clothing—in-cluding footgear to keep your feet dry and warm, headgear, gloves or mittens, a moisture-absorbing layer next to your skin to wick perspiration away and an exterior wind-breaking layer— minimizes the danger of chilling.

A spokesman for the company marketing the product says it is almed at attracting "a growing number of health-conscious smokers." The company promotes its product through a multimillion-dollar radio and television advertising campaign. Because the cigarete contains no tobacco, the product is the first cigarete promotion allowed on the airwaves since Congress voted to ban tobacco cigarete commercials a decade ago. In Michigan, the cigarete is exempt from special tobacco taxes.

According to the manufacturers, the aroma of the nontobacco smoke was one of the most difficult problems to be overcome by the company's chemists and flavor consultants, Although a similar cigarete, composed large-ly of the shredded husks of cocoa beans, was test-marketed in 1977, the product was not suitable for large-scale distribution until scientists added chemicals and citrus derivatives to the cocoa base to diminish its smell, according to the lung association.

The program, Wilcox 'explains, is coordinated by the Michigan Department of can be put into action in Transportation and represents major areas throughout the a unique four-pronged attack on ridesharing problems:

1. Vanpooling-Michigan's ridesharing program for state employes, Starting with three vans and 31 state employes in 1977, the program currently involves 118 vanpools and approximately 1,350 state employes-making it among the largest in the country for public employes.

2. Michivan — Originated after the State Legislature directed the Transportation Department to develop ridesharing program assistance to private companies, public agencies and other qualified groups. Transportation director John P. Woodford pre-dicts, "Within a year or two we expect to have several hundred vanpools operating in the MichiVan program.'

3. Ridesharing Offices-Operating in major population areas to coordinate vanpool and carpool programs and local bus systems.

4 Roadside Parking Areas Designed to provide safe, off-the-road parking areas where carpoolers can leave their cars in outlying areas. One hundred and thirty car pool parking lots are currently provided.

The state's Department of Transportation estimates that each van each vear eliminates more than five tons of air pollution, saves 5,000 gallons of gas and saves individual motorists $1,000.

However, as Wilcox points out, ridesharing creates a need for multi-passenger vehicles such as vans, whether a private carpool or a group program is involved. "Extra passengers mean the driver must be more responsible for all those riding with him. In addition, the driver must adjust to the extra weight of the passengers and the driving characteristics of a different type of vehicle.

Education cuts are severe

In view of the sharp reductions Gov. William Milliken is recommending in spending for public education at all levels, it is essential to remember the important role education plays in the lives of this nation, its leaders and its citi-

David Broder, the highly-regarded syndicated newspaper columnist, says in his new book, "Changing of the Guard," that the United States is reaping a rich reward for the investment this nation has made in the past two decades in its system of public education.

After interviewing a wide variety of people, Broder writes that he found it reassuring "to see that public education remains, for many of our next leaders, what it was for earlier generations—the pathway to knowledge of, and participation in, a larger world."

Yet now financing for education in this state is to be further reduced at all levels-elementary and secondary schools, community colleges and state colleges and universities—as a result of the governor's budget-balancing proposal.

There may be no alternative. In the recession and inflation in which this area finds itself, it may be impossible to increase taxes on any products, even luxuries, and expect to offset the revenue losses the state is experiencing.

YET THE PEOPLE of this state ought to know what they are doing if they cut bone as well as fat from education programs. The fact is that in the last decade or so, the support for higher education in Michigan already has declined sharply in comparison with the support provided in other states. As a consequence. Michigan has moved down from the top 10 states in per capita support of higher education to the bottom 10-and will fall further under the governor's order.

Furthermore, tuition levels for the entire system of higher education already are the highest of any state. These facts mean that many young people in Michigan already have more difficulty in financing their educations at state-supported colleges and universities than their peers in other states. This in turn means that Michigan will jeopardize its own future by depriving itself of many qualified people like those turned out in previous years by this state's system of higher education,

During the Cultural Revolution in the People's Republic of China, the government closed most of China's colleges and universities. Only now is the higher education system of that country getting back to normal. In the meantime the Chinese discovered they had deprived themselves of the intellectual resources and abilities that could have been provided by a generation of young people if they had been able to attend college.

China is not the United States. But if this country is to maintain its progress in science, technology and many other fields, it will continue to require hundreds of thousands of trained young people. The United States, like China, cannot afford to lose the contributions college-trained people can make. And Michigan, as an important cog in the nation's industrial machine, cannot afford such losses either.

WE ARE TOLD that it is time to recognize there are limits on what the state and federal governments can do for its citizens. We agree. But we suggest that reductions in state support for education should be weighed very carefully to make certain Michigan is not doing itself a long-term disservice in order to serve short-term demands.

We have said before that young people are the nation's greatest natural resource. They fill the same role_in each state and community. The governor and the Legislature now will have to ask themselves whether the state can afford to lose some of this resource. whether the state's leaders can find alternative sources of revenue or whether they can make alternative reductions to spare Michigan this

A Reagan recovery?

On a small scale, the reductions in state aid to the Grosse Pointes illustrate the problem faced by President-elect Ronald Reagan as he tackles the job of cutting back on federal spending in his efforts to balance the federal budget and control inflation.

For, as last week's News reported, the spending cutbacks proposed by Gov. William Milliken, subject to approval by the Legislature, would mean cuts totaling more than $75,000 to Pointe city governments and could mean substantially greater reductions to the school system, depending on where the cuts finally will come in state aid to the schools.

Grosse Pointe is a substantial community which can stand the loss of state aid better than many other communities but local units of government obviously will have to make decisions about whether to cut services or seek other financing. Public reaction as well as legal requirements and human needs in the long run will determine which rcute various units of government will follow. But cutbacks appear to be the most likely way they will

Washington, meaning both Congress and the executive department, will have to make similar decisions about the federal budget. In most cases, Washington also will opt for a reduction in specific services because Congress, like the Michigan Legislature, is not likely to welcome new forms of taxation.

The most hopeful sign is that economic recovery is finally beginning, even though the renewed rise in interest rates is hurting the housing industry and construction in general. If the economy starts moving out of its current lethargy, reviving business will generate more profits, more jobs and, in turn, more taxes even at reduced

Farms, and in some other business locations in the Pointes, that economic revival can't come too soon. The Hill has lost some retailers because of economic pressures, especially the decline in the auto business, but many others report are still doing extremely

The point is that even a prosperous area such as this one feels the economic pinch in the private enterprise sector as well as the public

In fact, even before the governor proposed cuts in state aid, communities such as the Pointes were losing revenues from declines in state-collected sales, income, single business, gas and weight taxes which are shared in varying degress with local governments.

While it is little solace to Michigan residents, the recession is also hitting this state's neighbors. Those visiting Columbus for the Michigan-Ohio State football game, for example, found the Columbus papers predicting a $350 million state deficit, in violation of the state constitution, by June 30, 1981. And Ohio legislators were debating whether they could cut services sufficiently to balance the budget or would have to vote tax increases. The Ohio dilemma sounded familiar to Michigan fans who fortunately, were able to forget their state's troubles for a few hours in celebrating the Wolverines' victory.

Michigan has been harder hit by the recession than any other state but all Americans are affected to some degree. That is why they are hopeful that the Reagan administration will be able to deliver on the president-elect's promise to get the economy going again. If a Reagan recovery occurs, the prospec-tive cutbacks in spending at all levels of government can be borne with a good deal less financial pain and personal suffering.

Budget cuts miss the mark

To the Editor:

At long last there seems to be nearuniversal agreement in Lansing that the state's budget should be cut. However, there is another equally important issue: what should be cut.

I feel the cuts proposed by Governor Milliken are knee-jerk, "cut services—not staff" reactions intended to preserve the bureaucracy at all

And it is only natural that that is the approach when you look at those who made the budget and decisions: bureaucrats whose basic instinct is to preserve bureaucracy. Again, at all

Why else would they propose laying off hundreds of personnel who care directly for mental patients while maintaining the central administrative staff in Lansing?

Why else does Milliken want to close state parks and campgrounds and lay off park rangers and lifeguards, while keeping intact the Department of Natural Resources' state office? Milliken even recommended increasing the DNR public relations staff's budget up to $2.5 million. What a sense of priorities: punish the public by closing parks but hire more high-paid image-makers to promote a resource that is no longer available.

Nowhere is this more apparent than in his attitude toward the welfare system. Milliken wants to cut 10 per-cent off the amount people on General Assistance receive. Instead, why not clean up the system, getting rid of those not deserving? His proposal slowly strangles all recipients - deserving or not.

In addition, Milliken's solution to the unemployment crisis in Michigan is to hire 28 new persons to work as 'placement specialists," We currently have more than 14,000 employes of the Department of Social Services and 6,100 employes of the Michigan Employment Security Commission. How on earth could 28 new employes accomplish something 20,100 have been unable to do?

The Milliken cuts show his lingering faith in the Lansing bureaucracy. Just give them a little more money, a few more experts, and they'll solve all our problems for us.

already know: the Lansing bureaucracy is not the solution—it's part of the problem.

The ensuing years have provided these women with acceptance and love from the parish and have helped many of them move into an independent living and

A not-so depressed Hill?

I take exception to the remarks on page one of last week's Grosse Pointe News about business on "the Hill" area, and suggest your reporter check

Far from going out of business, the League Shop has moved a few doors west into larger and more beautiful surroundings. The Standard Station moved a block west; Peter Bologna and Associates plan a new building on that vacated space and London East opens its door again after the first of the year,

We in business on the Hill feel the far from being a depressed area, it is doing very well, and will continue to do so in the future.

A highlight of the Pointe Walk is the Tuscan Manor originally built and owned by Charles Dean. It's listed in the Detroit Historical Book, and its 25-foot, domed ceilings were handcrafted by Italian artisans.

Also featured in The Pointe is a very special house of Italian Renaissance design. This home is very like a miniature Detroit Institute of Arts. Well . . . perhaps not so "miniature:" there's a flowing fountain in its atrium, and the dining room table seats 24. It will be set for Christmas dinner on Grosse Pointe's Walk Day.

General chairperson of the 1980 Christmas Walk, a Symphony Juniors' annual fund raising project for the orchestra, is Phyllis (Mrs. David D.) Patton. Co-chairing the Grosse Pointe Walk are Joyce (Mrs. Richard) Unti and Louise Lee. Ticket information may be obtained on our side of town by calling 886-3594.

And if you plan to go walking on "the other side of town" next Thursday, there's a service you should know about. Busses for the Dec. 4 Walk will be available from the Birmingham Community House. Call the Special Events Department, 644-5832, for information about this.

Another fund raiser for the DSO

Looking past Christmas, there's another BIG Detroit Symphony Orchestra fund raiser coming up that you should know about. A sales committee kick-off luncheon for the 18th publication of The Detroit Symphony Orchestra Edition, a special, full-size supplement to the Detroit News, was held recently at the Bloomfield Hills home of Marcia

Once upon a time, the Detroit Symphony Radio Marathon was sponsored by the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. This year, it's jointly sponsored by the Junior Women's and Women's Associations.

Publication of the DSO Edition is set for Sunday, Feb. 22, when 900,000 copies will be distributed IN CONJUNCTION WITH the sixth annual DSO Radio Marathon, this year expanded to a 60-hour broadcast during the week of March 1 over WQRS-FM.

And, since the two fund raising projects are complementary this year, there's a new option available to Corporate Sponsors and Business Patrons of the DSO Edition. They will also be aired as Corporate Sponsors and Business Patrons of the DSO Radio Marathon before and during the marathon broadcast.

Park resident Pat Young is general chairperson of the DSO Radio Marathon. She may be contacted at 886-6829 by anyone who would like to donate a premium.

DCB's concert' to benefit DIT

The Detroit Concert Band, headquartered on Mack Avenue in The Woods, will present a benefit concert for the Detroit Institute of Technology, co-sponsored by DIT and the Michigan Council for the Arts, at 3 p.m. this Sunday afternoon, Nov. 30, at the Redford Theatre.

Dr. Leonard B. Smith, conductor of the DCB, dedicated to keeping alive the music and memory of the late John Philip Sousa, has devoted the past 35 years of his life to the development of the band as a cohesive, professional organization.

By the time World War II started and he entered the service with the United States Navy Band, Dr. Smith already had experience as a professional band and symphony musician,

He has played with the Philadelphia Orchestra and was first trumpet with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, but he is undoubtedly best known for his "William Tell Overture" trumpet in-troduction to the Lone Rang-er radio show.

Smith has perpetuated the Sousa tradition so well that he and the DCB were invited some years ago to participate in a British Broadcasting Company production on the Sousa band and its history. The program received wide acclaim...

Dr. Smith and the DCB have recorded seven volumes of Sousa marches, one soloist albmm, and have another two Sousa march albums in Tickets for Sunday's concert, at $8.50, $7.50 and $6.50, are available from DIT's Office of Development, 962-0830, Extension 312, and from the Redford Theatre box office.

Christmas festivities for Alpha Xi Deltas

"Kris Kringle's Krazy Kaper" is the theme of the Christmas party for Grosse Pointe Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta, their husbands and guests, set for Saturday, Dec. 6, at 8 p.m. at the Merri-weather Road home of Mrs. Arthur Leslie.

Champagne punch served with many of the members' favorite hors d'oeuvres, will be followed by a special holi-day dessert. Each alumna has been asked to bring a Christmas-wrapped present for a gift exchange.

Further information on the evening, being coordinated by Mrs. Richard Swinbank, may be obtained by contact-

Sports figures will greet preview. Receptions also are guests at Wright Kay's of planned at Wright Kay's Bir-Grosse Pointe, Kercheval Avenue in The Village, tomorrow, Friday, Nov. 28, at a 6 Town Center store Sunday, to 9 o'clock invitational re-Nov. 30. Music, celebrities, chamception benefitting the March of Dimes. It's the first showing of more than $3 million worth of gems and jewelry from five different companies to be displayed during Wright Kay's annual holiday gala

Talk to herald Adams exhibit

A lecture by filmmaker/ photographer Willard Van Dyke this Monday, Dec. 1, will introduce "Ansel Adams and the West," an exhibit of the master photographer's work which opens to the public Tuesday, Dec. 2, and will continue through Sunday, Jan. 11, at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

"Ansel Adams and the Western Photographers" will be Van Dyke's topic at 8:15 p.m. in the DIA auditorium. Advance tickets are $3 (Founders members $2; senior citizens and students with ID $1) at the art institute ticket office.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the sponsoring Department of Graphic Arts, 833-9830.

Van Dyke's career in photography and film making spans the same half-century as that of his friend and colleague, Ansel Adams.

Van Dyke was a founding member of Group f/64, established on the West Coast in 1932. Its members included Ansel Adams, Edward Weston and Imogene Cunningham.

The organization promoted the art of photography as a sharp-focused, detailed, straight medium that should embody clarity of vision.

After the 1930s Van Dyke devoted most of his time to documentary film making. For many years he was director of the Film Department at the Museum of Modern Art; more recently, he has returned to still photography. He lives and works in New York City.

Van Dyke organized the Edward Weston exhibition seen at the Detroit Institute of Arts in 1975 and, during a three-day residency here. attracted enthusiastic standing-room audiences for discussions, lectures and tours of the show.

"Ansel Adams and the West," in the Art Institute's Schwartz Graphic Arts Galleries will feature approxi-mately 150 photographs. It will be open to the public ing her at 778-0067. General during regular museum admission will be $1, 50 cents hours: 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday.

"Coach of the Year" honors for Regelbrugge, McEvers

By Tim Saunders North High

Coach Guido Regelbrugge, who led North's varsity soccer team to a stunning first year division championship, was named coach of the year in the "New Team Division" of the Metro Suburban Soccer League last

Along with the division award, Regelbrugge was also nominated by the Michigan High School Coaching Association for State Coach of the Year honors.

Coaching awards are certainly nothing new to Regelbrugge. Amidst his numerous awards, his being named Michigan's top youth soccer coach is surely the most pres-

Considering the team's fantastic year, no one could have been surprised at Regelbrugge winning the award. However, the coach's own initial reaction was a bit un-

"I was not at all eager about the award, because I have my titles," Regelbrugge said. "There were other coaches who were equally deserving."

He was made aware of the voting the night before North met Roseville Brablec on Nov. 11. Jim Adams, the Brablec coach, had impressed Regelbrugge very much during the year and Regelbrugge decided that if Brablec beat North the next day he would ask that the award be given to Adams. The next day North defeated Brablec, 3-1.

More and more today when a coach receives an award like this, it is usually not because of his coaching ability but because he had the right players and had to do little to get them to win. In Regelbrugge's situation this is not the case.

On Aug. 11 coach Regelbrugge started with over 45 players, many of whom had little or no organized soccer involvement

Following a month of endless practicing of fundamentals and game situations, the team was anxious to try its luck in the new league. Regelbrugge, however, warned the squad not to expect too much,

"I was concerned mostly with our defense, and how they'd handle themselves once they got into a game," he said, "and that's what we worked on the most in the pre-

"After their second shutout in as many games, I was convinced they'd be fine.' Ironically, the defense was the team's strong point all year, yielding just two goals in divisional play,

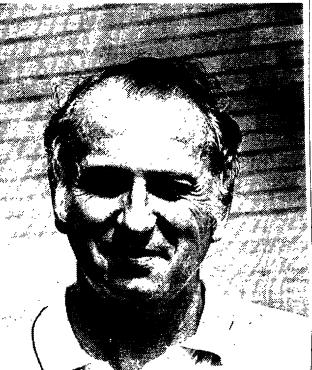

The biggest factor in the team's success, according to Regelbrugge, was the amount of discipline. That's a trademark of Regelbrugge's teams. He insists on getting 100 percent from his players all the timewhether it's in a game or practice.

"Other than the discipline, no one system works for every team and that's the secret to coaching in any sport," Regelbrugge said.

"The difference between a successful coach and one that's not, is that instead of trying to fit a team to a certain system, a coach must devise a system to fit the team. It's the ability to analyze a team and make up a system that will work with the players he has that determines the effectiveness of a coach."

After 35 years in the game, Regelbrugge apparently has that ability and as long as he is a coach at Grosse Pointe North, you can be sure that North will have a contending soccer team.

Banner year for Knights

The University Liggett Knights ended their varsity soccer season with 16 victories, six losses and two ties. They finished first in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference and won the league tournament, as well as taking second in both the league and the playoff for the Metro Suburban Soccer League.

Head coach Gomez commented, "We had the youngest team in the school's history with six sophomores in the field and a freshman goalie."

Captain Bill Gore added, "That fact that we competed with some Class A and B schools and that we brought three trophies to University Liggett School is a great accomplishment."

At the recent athletic banquet, Gore and co-captain seniors Warren Hardy and Tony Alcantara were recognized, Sophomore Rob Ryan was elected the Most Improved Player. A veteran of four years with the varsity, Kris Robbins, received the Most Valuable Player Award. Gore was the recipient of the Coach Gomez Trophy for spirit, loyalty, and performance.

In addition to these honors, many players were recognized by the leagues. Robbins, Gore, Marty Wittmer, and Larry Van Kirk were selected members of the first All-Star Team of the MIAC. Each earned a certificate and a medal.

Alcantara, Jerry Steketee, Ryan, and Hardy were placed on the second team. Robbins, Wittmer, and Van Kirk made the first team of the MSSL; Gore and Alcantara

"The future of soccer at ULS is bright in view of the success of four soccer teams in the Lower School, three in the Middle School, and three in the Upper School, as well as the summer soccer clinic," coach Gomez added.

ULS skaters tie opener

The University Liggett School varsity ice hockey season got off to a good start by tying St. Clair Shores South Lake, 3-3, on Nov. 21.

The Knights fell behind early when South Lake scored two power play goals, one coming with five minutes left in the first period, and the other early in the second Team captain Steve Valice began the scoring for ULS with a power play goal on a pass from Marty Wittmer at 6:43 left in the second period. South Lake struck back just 30 second later and the period ended with the Knights down by two.

The third period opened with the momentum returning to the Knights. Ron Schocker put in a back hand shot on a pass from Erich Avedisian to make the score 3-2. Pete Ulrich tied the score with four minutes left in the game. Wittmer assisted.

The ULLS defense, led by the outstanding goaltending of Ted Maitland, slammed the door on South Lake in the third period while the offense ruled the ice. The Knights outshot South Lake 36-29.

The ULS skaters' next game is Saturday, Nov. 29, at 7:30 p.m. against Lakeview at the St. Clair Shores Civic Arena.

ULS cagers off to flying start

The ULS girls' varsity basketball team has launched its 1980 season in fine style. Opening with a 42-21 triumph over Greenhills at home on Nov. 13, the Knights followed up with a 36-27 victory over Kingswood on Nov. 18 and a 42-6 romp at Detroit Country Day School on Nov. 20.

Bruins continue winning ways

The Bantam "A" Grosse Pointe Bruins hockey team continued its winning ways with two more victories last week, Adray league foe. North Macomb, was defeated 4-0, before the Bruins stopped Taylor, 3-1, in an non-league contest,

Goalie Rick Lass paced the victory over North Macomb with his third league shutout. Mike Brykalski added two goals in the Dan Follis opened the scoring in the first period when he converted passes from Stacey Rickert and Brykalski. Keith Barich deflected Chris Luongo's blue line drive for the game's second goal. Follis drew the second assist on the play.

Brykalski's two goals wrapped up the victory. Luongo and Follis assisted on the first goal. Rickert and Bob Nelson drew points on Brykalski's second goal.

Later in the week, the Bruins traveled to Taylor to face an undefeated Taylor squad. After falling behind 1-0, the Bruins rallied with two power play goals to hand Taylor its first defeat.

Rickert tied the game at 1-1 early in the first period when he converted a pass from Follis. Five minutes later, Rankin Barker put Grosse Pointe ahead 2-1 with a power play goal. Luongo and Brykalski drew assists on the play.

Barich iced the victory when he scored with Taylor shorthanded in the third period. John Russell and Greg Henchel assisted on the goal.

The two-victory week gave Grosse Pointe a league record of 7-1-1, 12-4-1 overall. The Bruins will play in the annual Thanksgiving tournament beginning on Nov. 27.

Teams from Ann Arbor, Flint and Toronto will compete with Grosse Pointe squads in the tournament.

Boys' basketball season is set

By Scott Bowles South High

The Neighborhood Club, in its 68th season, starts its boys basketball season Saturday Jan. 10.

The girls' league has already started play and will end its season just before Christ-ter by Oct. 23. The basketball program is for boys and girls in grades three to 12. To particpate, players must join the Neighborhood Club and pay a $9.50 membership fee. There is an additional fee to play basketball. This fee varies according to the age level of the players. It is $13 for third graders, $18 for fourth graders and $21 for those in grades five through 10.

Eleventh and twelfth graders must form their own teams and pay a team fee of $185. High school players will have three practices before their first games on Jan.

All teams will play a six-game regular season followed by a double-elimination, round-robin playoff tournament in which all teams participate.

Each team will have one practice session, lasting one and a half hours, each week. The season itself ends the first week in

A trophy will be presented to each member of the championship and runner-up teams, as decided in the tournament at the end of the season.

Greg Brynaert, head of the basketball program, says enrollment in the basketball program has been declining.

"Every year we are picking up fewer kids," he adds. "This year, since the junior high schools are starting their own basketball programs, it's hard for us to even guess how many kids will be playing basket-

Brynaert says the reason for the decline is a drop in school enrollment.

"We are getting (between) 10 and 20 percent of each age group playing basket-ball," Brynaert says. "That is a fairly decent number."

The Neighborhood Club is a non-profit organization whose programs are paid for entitrely by the fees from participants and donations from sponsors. All coaches in the basketball program are volunteers.

The Neighborhood Club advertises in the newspaper for referees. High school students are asked to referee and are sent to clinics that teach refereeing skills.

The Neighborhood Club has been operating since 1912. The basketball program, which is as old as the Neighborhood Club itself; held its first games in a gymnasium at Elworthy Field, a park in Grosse Pointe

> ON BEHALF of the Colonial Shop, Jack. Kitty & Sonja, wish you all a Blessed Thanksgiving, one of the things for which we'll be thankful, will be your continued patronage and sup port. When all is said and done, the most important factor in the success of The Colonial Shop, has been you, our cherished customers and friends.

WELCOME! Yes, Wacky would like to welcome his new neighbor, Tom Karas, a recent graduate of University of Detroit Dental School, whose setting up shop in the quaint Victorian ginger bread home right next door to The Colonial Shop. Though, the setting and the service he plans to provide will be old fashioned (evening and Saturday hours), his equipment is strictly space-age. So, if you're looking for a dentist, Wacky recommends you give him a call at 775-3960. THOUGH, this week, Goubling is in. Wacky's still got plenty to crow about, cause Colonial is jammed with its usual, unusual selection of exciting antiques, gifts and collectibles. One thing you won't find when you visit The Colonial Shop this week are overpriced leftover. turkeys. A sample of the treasures Wacky's got waiting for you includes: a beautiful Loetz pitcher 2 discontinued Royal Doultan figurines, a pink, Patrician butter dish, a pink Holiday butter dish, a vellow Princess covered sugar bowl, 2 magnificent antique Bisque figurine, 20 back issues B&G Christmas plates, a 1980 Goebel Hummell annual (for $85), 2 charming little German Half dolls, a gorgeous English Pratt ware wash set that includes a bowl and pitcher, chamber pots, shaving mug and many other pieces, several more old Hummell figurines, an interesting Venetian glass bird, a Royal Worcester figurine and just loads more, really! Hurry on out and have a look at the Colonial Shop, 25701 Jef-ferson, near 10 Mile, Monday-Saturday, 11 - 6. 772 0430. Your Master Charge and Visa are welcomed. and don't forget, we buy. -itoo!

Being a Non-Smoker Can Do More than Just Improve Your Health

It Can Reduce Your Homeowners Insurance Rates By 10%, Too!

We've known for years that not smoking was a good idea for health reasons, and now, it's a good idea for homeowners insurance reasons, too Citizens Insurance Company of America is offering a 10% discount on homeowners insurance for ing a 10% association for events in statistics for one-mon-smoking households.

All you have to do to qualify is to verify that no one residing in your home has smoked for the past year, and your Citizens homeowners premium is reduced by 10%. It's that simple

Warner on Tuesdays

This year the annual family night around the Christmas Tree will take place in the Crystal Ballroom of Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center Tuesday evening, Dec. 9. The evening, beginning at 5:30, will feature a bazaar of gifts and stocking stuffers for sale made by students of South High.

This will be followed at 6 p.m. by a tree trimming with everyone invited to hang ornaments. Dinner will then be served at 6:30 at tables around the tree.

At 7:30 the Christmas program will be introduced by Charles Gleason, director of Vocal Music at South High. The program will feature the Pointe Singers and will conclude with families attending joining the high school group in singing carols.

Dinner is $7.25 (tax and service included) for adults, REASONABLE - INSURED FREE ESTIMATES $3.50 for elementary school and pre-school children and pre-school children.

at Memorial

A truly gala holiday event will be the glittering Viennese Ball to be held Friday, Dec. 12 from 9 p.m. to midnight in the War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom, Guests will be limited to 250 so early reservations are suggested.

Tickets are $9 and may be purchased at the Center's office, 32 Lakeshore, or be mailed with check made out to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Those attending are requested to wear black tie and ball gowns. They will dance to the music of the 20-piece Johann Strauss Waltz orchestra from Ann Arbor under the direction of Allen Warner. Sparkling refreshments will be available.

A pleasant interlude will be provided by Alexander; and Maribel Suczek singing Austrian Christmas carols in German and accompanying themselves on guitar and accordian

The Jazz Band and Marching Band are both extracurricular activities, though students receive credits for the others.

The Concert Band, directed by Miller, is mainly a training group for students lacking the skill or experience for Symphony Band or Wind Ensemble. Members are chosen based on middle school teacher recommendation. They play with the Symphony Band at performances.

The Symphony Band is basically an intermediate band, between the ability of the Concert Band and the Wind Ensemble. Musical literature is studied and a variety of performances are scheduled.

This year, the Symphony is scheduled to play three concerts: Friday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p.m., for a War Memorial Christmas party; Saturday Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m., in South's gym; and Wednesday, April 15, at 8 p.m., along with the Jazz Band, in South's auditorium. The "elite" of the South

Cards benefit special groups

Christmas greetings—It's the season for giving

Michigan Cancer Foundation

Cards from the Michigan Cancer Foundation are now available at the East Service Center, 21312 Mack, in the Woods, or by calling 881-2413. The foundation offers four choices of cards, two general in theme and two religious. Prices are $6 and $9 per box of 25. The deadline for ordering imprinted cards is past, but regular cards may be picked up at the center from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

It's a holiday tradition at RenCen

The Renaissance Center will educate and entertain Christmas sightseers in Metropolitan Detroit this holiday season.

A special holiday program features 10 life-size vignettes of ethnic holiday celebrations around the world, visiting choir groups, a child-size gingerbread house, and, of course, Jolly Old St. Nick.

The holiday presentation of tradition appears along with animated ice-skating figures, icebeaded trees, storybook reindeer and poinsettia-lined walkways.

"The entire family will enjoy seeing our displays of ethnic holiday customs and in learning how each country has contributed to the pageantry we celebrate in the United States," said Wayne S. Doran, president, Detroit Downtown Development Corporation.

The vignettes will be on exhibit until Jan. 4, and are located in cocitail pods surrounding the atrum of the Detroit Plaza Hotel. They focus on customs of England, France, Germany, Italy Greece, Mexico, Poland, Sweden, Hanukkah and the Chines Land New Year, Yuletide traditions of each nation come any through beautifully de igned from and descriptive audo io e a La

Each on the cal scene presents life ive it as on a large, Taiseit star grageant in itself. Open decree of lay books and describing the recordings illuminate eace ation's holiday custom and readitional dress emplies at the ethnic customs.

Lag certs joyfully ring through Renaissance Center as various choirs, chorales, bands, handbell ringers and lively ethnic dance groups present the sounds of the season on the Promenade Level, near the waterfall.

In the European tradition of Hansel and Gretel, a child-size gingerbread house in the lobby of the Detroit Plaza Hotel is shingled with giant-sized cookies held together with frosting.

Besides seeing the gingerbread house, youngsters will especially want to visit Santa's all-white Victorian gazebo on the walkway at the South (Riverside) entrance. They can chat with St. Nick himself, parents may bring cameras for a "Santa and me" photo and each child will receive a coloring book. Santa will be at Renaissance Center Friday, Nov. 28, to Wednesday, Dec. 24 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday to Saturday, and from noon to 4 p.m.

Extended hours of shopping throughout Renaissance Center's World of Shops, to Sunday, Dec. 28, include Monday to Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Sunday, 12 noon to 6 p.m. Retail shops will be closed Christmas Day

Self-parking is offered to shoppers for $1 from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday and Friday and during retail hours on Saturday and Sunday. Parking is available in east and south lots with validated tickets from participating retsaurants and retail

With the Christmas season fast upon us, cards and greetings to family members and old friends are a must. Since most people have enough to do just shopping for presents, why not make things a little easier for yourself and order some cards by mail?

While you're at it, you can also help any one of the several worthy organizations presented on this page by purchasing your Christmas cards from them. But you'd better hurry, the deadline for ordering personalized Christmas cards is only days away. Seasons Greet-

Foundation for Exceptional Children

Grosse Pointe's Foundation for Exceptional Children is offering 25 cards at $4 with imprinting charges of $4 for the first 100 cards or less, plus $1.50 for each 100 extra cards or less. Imprinting deadline is Monday, Dec. 1.

Checks should be made out to the Foundation for Exceptional Children, at 16 Lakeshore Road, (Grosse Pointe Memorial Church) 48236. The foundation office is open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

American Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society offers six variety of cards, 25 per box, ranging from $7.50 to $11 a box. Card imprint charges are $2.75 for the first box and $1.25 for each additional box.

Envelope imprinting charges are $4.50 for the first box and $1.75 per additional box. Imprinting deadline is Monday, Dec. 1. Non-imprint deadline is Monday, Dec. 8 for mail orders.

Cards are also available at the following metro-Detroit locations: Metro-Detroit Area Office, 29500 Southfield Road, Southfield, Mich. 48076, 557-5353; Residential Headquarters, 19403 West Warren, Detroit, 271-4160 and the Butzel Family Center, 7737 Kercheval, Detroit, 923-5144.

For all mail orders include $1.95 postage and handling for the first two boxes, and 50 cents for each additional box.

American Lung Association

This year the American Lung Association is offering 12 styles of cards ranging from $5.50 to $9.25 per box of 25. Imprinting costs vary with cards ordered, but extra lines are $2 each per card number.
