

Compromise

with the survey conclusion. However, "there is not enough hard data to decide whether there should be a parking lot or not," Novitke said.

A THIRD PARTY, realtor Thomas Handlos, entered the discussion at the meeting. Handlos owns the vacant lot adjacent to the lot slated for the planned parking lot. Last May, he tried to get council clearance to develop his lot but was turned down after residents opposed the project at a public hearing.

At last week's meeting, Handlos proposed a combination residence-office on his property to be built at the same time as the proposed parking lot. He said later that he thought the joint development could meet the parking needs of the area, make use of vacant land, and give residents privacy and protect their property values.

Novitke said later that he thought the council would be receptive to a joint development that satisfied all parties involved.

The two lots in question are zoned for residential use but can be used for other purposes if the council so decides.

Telephone scam

sure the money has been drawn out. Police say a few hours later a "trusted friend" picks up the money. Some time later the victim discovers her real relative never made such a request.

In a meeting last week with local police departments and the Michigan State Police, authorities issued a warning to local banks to be wary of elderly women withdrawing large amounts of money from their accounts.

Police said they are looking for two suspects who may be behind the phone scam. The "pick up man" who comes by the victim's home to "get the package" has been described as a 17 to 20-year-old white male, 5'4", 135 pounds with brown eyes and brown hair.

Another suspect seen in banks observing the women in their transactions is described as an 18 to 20-year-old white male, 5'6", 190 pounds with green eyes and dark curly hair and mustache.

Not all the phony calls have been successful. A Shores woman told police recently she received a phone call from a young man last Dec. 22 in desperate need of $4,000 to settle a gambling debt.

Police said the woman became suspicious when the young man called her "grandma." The woman told police her grandchildren usually call her "nana."

Austin workshops help you cope with stress

No one can avoid stress. Everyone can be assertive. Two workshops have been scheduled by the Northeast Guidance Center to explore these topics. Both workshops will be held Fridays at the Wayne County Community College, Austin Center, 18300 E. Warren Avenue, beginning Feb. 20.

The Stress Workshop will provide an in depth experience in learning how to identify sources of stress and how to reduce its effect on your life. A problem solving approach will be used as members of the group actively learn to identify their own sources of stress and create ways to minimize it.

The workshop will run for six weeks and will be led by Richard Lance, who has a Master's of Social Work from the University of Michigan and has been a Northeast Guidance Center staff member for a year and a half. Lance has presented numerous workshops for churches, schools, and business groups and has developed a variety of materials which will be distributed to workshop participants. Lance is also leading a group related to the special stress experienced by the unemployed.

"Assertiveness is basically an effective way to communicate by expressing yourself honestly and clearly. This skill can be utilized for positive results in all areas of your life," says Colleen Reynolds-Reed of the Assertiveness Workshop.

The four week program will include techniques for learning how to assert yourself, how to be happier with yourself, and how to communicate more effectively. Participants will be encouraged to give examples from own experiences, and the group will discuss different techniques which can be utilized. Ms. Reynolds-Reed, a Master's of Social Work graduate of Michigan State University, has received special assertiveness training from the Wayne State University Psychology Department and has recently completed an assertiveness workshop for women at St. Matthew Church in Detroit.

The fee for the six week Stress Workshop is $30, and the fee for the four week Assertiveness Workshop is $20. Child care will be provided for an additional charge of $1 per child, per session. Reduced fees and scholarships are available, but enrollment is limited. To make a reservation or for further information, call Northeast Guidance Center at 824-8000, Ext. 290.

Get ready to fly

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Aviation Ground School begins Thursday, Feb. 12, from 7 to 10 p.m. and continues under Don Jones' instruction through May 28. Jones is an FAA Certified Ground Instructor.

The course will familiarize students with the theory of aerodynamics and should qualify them to pass the FAA written Private Pilot Examination. Planes and all their various systems are covered as well as airport and traffic control, navigation and responses to weather. Federal air regulations are taught in their entirety, a tour of a flight control tower is included and students are taught cross country planning.

Real estate developer Weston Seyburn purchased the parcel of land at 18850 East Jefferson in 1924 and he and his wife "Winnie" used the mansion as a summer home until her death last spring.

Soon after, visitors strolled through the home to browse and bid on Mrs. Seyburn's huge collection of oriental rugs, French antiques, sculptures, paintings and a 1965 Rolls Royce Silver Shadow.

Mrs. Seyburn was the daughter of auto pioneer John F. Dodge. Rose Terrace, the Jefferson Avenue home of Mrs. Seyburn's aunt, Mrs. Anna Thompson Dodge, came the way of the wrecking ball several years ago to make room for a new subdivision.

Warning from Rep. Bryant

State Rep. Bill Bryant said last week constituents have told him the Michigan Anti-drug Coalition has telephoned local residents asking for contributions on the premise they will ask Rep. Bryant to sponsor or support an anti-drug paraphernalia bill.

Rep. Bryant asks area residents not to contribute to the group, which he says is an arm of the radical right U.S. Labor Party.

He says he supports the bill but believes the group is "dishonest" and "dangerous."

YOU'RE INVITED

... A Guided Tour of your Grosse Pointe War Memorial

GREAT HALL

"Alger House" was given to our community by the Russell A. Alger family. Their former home became the focal point of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association. Its purpose is not only to memorialize the young people who served (and the 120 who died) in the armed forces, but also to provide for the continuing enrichment of community life.

FRIES AUDITORIUM

Fries Auditorium was made possible by a large bequest from the William H. Fries estate. With additional donations, the building was dedicated in 1962. Furnishings were a gift from Walter B. Ford II. There is a ballroom on the entry level and a 450-seat theater on the lake level. It is the home of the Grosse Pointe Theatre.

DINING ROOM

All the rooms of Alger House are beautiful, but thanks to the people who use them, they are also functional. The dining room, for example, may serve as the site for a music lesson in one instance and for a Men's Club meeting the next. Volunteer-service groups, study groups and youth organizations meet here, too.

LIBRARY

A dance class in the library may seem a little unlikely, but it's a good example of the way in which our facilities are utilized. The Center houses everything from community organization meetings to perhaps the largest senior program in the United States. And there are clubs for everything from bridge and chess to Parents Without Partners.

CRYSTAL BALLROOM

Located on the entry level of Fries Auditorium, the Crystal Ballroom is the site of large gatherings of all kinds—including our own well-attended annual meeting. There are children's parties, a Viennese Ball, dances for teens. In addition, fine food accommodation is available in conjunction with meetings and programs.

ART WING

The Art Wing, opened in 1977, has two large studios, each of which can be divided into smaller class areas. Class offerings range from basic drawing through acrylic, oil and water-color paints—and also included sculpture, weaving, jewelry and calligraphy. Special art exhibits are held periodically and are open to the public.

Dear Grosse Pointer:

As you can see, the focus of your Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center is on making it possible for all kinds of people to do all kinds of things in a beautiful and inspiring atmosphere.

Last year over a quarter of a million Grosse Pointers—from tots to seniors—came through the doors, and they participated in a range of activities that this page could not begin to cover. The Center is an invaluable asset to Grosse Pointe.

Once a year we ask for your support, because it is our only source of continuing funds. In 1980 the tax-deductible gifts of over 6,000 families helped us to meet our goal. The goal this year is $170,000. Your support is vitally needed.

Please think of all the ways in which you and your family can enjoy the Center in 1981. And please send in your membership card now.

Thank you.

Who's the father of Grosse Pointe?

Doorways to the past: Historic haunts of Grosse Pointe

By Margie Reins Smith

Quick. Who is the father of our country? Who is the father of Grosse Pointe? Commodore Alexander Grant probably deserves the honor of the second title, both figuratively and literally.

Alexander Grant was the first person to clear land and build a substantial-sized permanent residence on Grosse Pointe soil.

He married and raised a large family in Grosse Pointe—11 girls and one boy—thereby setting himself up for the father of Grosse Pointe title even more literally.

Grant was a contemporary of George Washington and probably was acquainted with the father of our country, as well, since they both served the British king in the same military campaign during the 1750's.

COMMODORE GRANT'S Grosse Pointe home—called Grant's Castle because of its grandiose proportions—stood at the junction of present-day Moran Road and Lakeshore Road. It was built about 1775, the year before the Declaration of Independence was adopted, and parts of it remained standing for 100 years, according to records. Some accounts accuse Grant of using British soldiers and sailors to help build and staff his private residence, but whether this is true or not is unclear.

Today, the Grosse Pointe Academy, St. Paul

Church, and Moran Road itself occupy parts of Grant's acreage. Nothing of Grant's Castle is left, except detailed descriptions of its grandeur. It was reportedly 160 feet long, made from huge oak timbers cut from the surrounding area. It stretched two stories high and was completely surrounded by a two-story veranda. The spaces between the hewn timbers were filled with plaster and the corners of the logs were neatly dovetailed.

Grant's property (formally registered as Private Claim No. 231 in the year 1808) embraced nine acres on the lakefront, and reached 7 1/2 acres back into the wilderness—640 acres in all.

Alexander Grant was the third son of a landed Scotsman, and was born on May 20, 1734 in Invernesshire, Scotland. He joined the British navy and was sent to the colonies in 1757. He was first put in charge of a ship on Lake Champlain but eventually became Commander of the Great Lakes during a time when Detroit was the center of naval operations for the British in North America.

GRANT MOVED to Detroit just about the time the Eastern Colonials were plotting to throw a shipment of tea into Boston Harbor. He married a 16-year-old French-speaking Catholic girl named Therese Barthe. In 1774, the year of their marriage, Grant was 40, English-speaking, and non-Catholic.

The following year he set about clearing his niche in the wilderness of Grosse Pointe, building his spacious castle, and beginning his family.

Grant's Castle became renowned for its animated parties and its open-door hospitality. The Grants were known as a lively family. The commodore was obliged to entertain various dignitaries and it is said that the great Indian Chief, Tecumseh, was a guest at Grant's Castle.

The Grants reportedly owned the first harpsichord in the area.

The Grant girls, according to an old letter, were noted as "the finest girls in this part of the country." They evidently attracted naval and military officers that were stationed at the fort in Detroit. Many of the girls married officers and most of Grant's descendants today live in various parts of Canada.

Commodore Grant's only son was adopted. The story goes that one day Mrs. Grant noticed a 3-year old boy in the midst of a party of Chippewa Indians. She discovered they had captured the boy during a raid on an Ohio settlement. Mrs. Grant, it is said, persuaded her husband to buy the boy from the Indians.

THE GRANTS named him John, adopted him, and he later grew up to inherit part of the Commodore's estate.

after the Revolutionary War was settled and the Northwest Territory was solidly American property, but he never became an American citizen. He held an administrative position with Upper Canada and sat on the executive and legislative councils—all the while, living in Grosse Pointe.

Grant's Castle was for sale in 1820, seven years after Grant's death at age 79. It became the property of George Moran and the final remnants of the building were finally torn down in 1875.

Theodore Parsons Hall owned John Grant's portion of the land in the late 1800's and built another house of grand proportions, called Tonanacour. Hall's house reputedly contained, the old walnut staircase, mantelpiece, and doors from Grant's Castle.

ULS students win honors

After participating in a number of meets sponsored by the Continental Math League, University Liggett Middle School students ranked ed third in regional competition (Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan), and 13th nationally for levels 7 and 8.

On level 7 and 8, Lee Pelton and Carolyn Seydel earned national recognition for perfect scores on the first meet. In addition, Jeff Sweet and Lee Pelton were honored for perfect scores on the second meet while Peter Hardy was cited for his performance on level 5 to 6.

The Continental Math League ranked Lee Pelton among the top 40 students who participated in these meets nationwide and in the top seven regionally.

Small firms dominate

More than 99 percent of all manufacturing in Japan is conducted by small to medium enterprises—those with fewer than 300 employees. That segment of Japanese industry accounts for about 72 percent of all employees engaged in manufacturing there. Their production is 52 percent of the nation's total manufacturing output.

Experiencing the arts

Wood carver John Macheski (above) was one of several artists from the Grosse Pointe Academy and the Center for Creative Studies who presented a day of experiencing the arts at University Liggett Middle School last week. Other artists participating in the program were Paolo Coppini, Frederick B. Ford, V. Durbin Thibodeau, Cindy Bankowski, John Q. Adams, Marcus Colbert and Carole DeVos. The group demonstrated painting, printmaking, graphic design and silk screen.

Charity cooks at Brownell

The winter roster of cooking classes offered by the Department of Continuing Education of the public school system includes three which are brand-new to the schedule, including two by noted teacher, Charity Suezek, and one devoted to low-calorie microwaves recipes.

"The classes, beginning in February, are scheduled for the convenience not only of those who like week-night classes, but also for those who wish to make the most of Friday night and Saturday," says Dr. George T. Edgington, supervisor of continuing education.

"Charity Suezek Presents Culinary Reminiscences of a South African Sojourn," a two-session demonstration class, will be held on Tuesdays, Feb. 17 and 24 in room C-7 of Brownell Middle School. Fee is $12.

"Charity Suezek Presents Recipes from Tidewater Virginia" will be held on Saturdays, Feb. 21 and 28 in room

C-7 of Brownell Middle School. Fee is $12.

In addition to Mrs. Suezek's class, the Department of Continuing Education and the staff of the MicroPlace are co-sponsoring "Microwave Cooking—Low Calorie" offered in two sections on Friday afternoon and evening. Two classes will be offered beginning on Friday, Feb. 20—an afternoon class from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., and an evening class from 7 to 9 p.m.

A Saturday morning class will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 beginning Feb. 21. All classes will be held in room C-5 of Brownell Middle School. Fee for each four-week class is $30.

To enroll in classes in the Continuing Education program, mail a check or stop in person at the office of Continuing Education, 260 Chalfonte Avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236.

TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS AND DEPOSITORS

We are pleased to report that net income for the fourth quarter of 1980 was $12,931,000, up 7.8% from the $11,995,000 recorded in the fourth quarter of 1979. Despite continued economic problems within Michigan this was the best earnings quarter in the history of Michigan National Corporation. However, net income for 1980 of $40.0 million, or $3.98 per share, was down 9.4% from the record $44.1 million, or $4.39 per share, recorded in 1979.

During the year it became apparent that the Federal Reserve's encouragement of high interest rate policies to combat inflation was having devastating effects on Michigan's economy. The automotive industry remained depressed, with consequent losses in employment. While statistics recently released by the University of Michigan show that the number of wage earners in Michigan, due to the growing number of dual-income households, has decreased only slightly, primary industrial jobs have, in fact, declined significantly. To help alleviate these conditions, Michigan National Corporation banks, on December 19, 1980, announced that they were cutting their prime rate to 18%, which was 3½% below that of other major banks.

Two weeks prior to the prime rate announcement, our banks made an equally important reduction in consumer loan rates. In both consumer and commercial lending areas we were the first major financial institution in the nation to take action against the latest round of debilitating high money rates that have plagued our economy throughout most of 1980.

Our banks' unilateral action could be costly in terms of earnings but will be meaningful, since they served more businesses and consumers than any other financial organization in the state. It is our hope that we will be joined by other financial institutions that also have an interest in stimulating Michigan's economy. The problems that confront us, however, are more complex than a simple reduction in money rates.

In countries such as Japan and West Germany, there appears to exist a greater partnership between government and business than that which prevails in the United States. The most important aspect of this partnership is the ability of businesses in those countries to invest in capital equipment at a rapid rate. The business tax incentives presently enjoyed by these major industrial powers must be evaluated. The encouragement of capital investment to create higher productivity and a more competitive position internationally cannot be over-emphasized.

It is apparent that the Federal Reserve cannot fight the economic battles alone. It is important that both our state and national governments review the dampening effects of current taxes on capital investment and productivity. We look forward with great anticipation to the policies of the new administration and Congress in guiding this country toward sounder fiscal and business policies.

Sincerely,

Stanford C. Stoddard

Carol goes for Jr. Miss title

Grosse Pointe Woods resident Carol Hayter is among 32 women who will compete in the 23rd Michigan Junior Miss Pageant Jan. 30 and 31 in Marshall. The senior high school students will vie for more than $11,000 in cash scholarships in addition to grants and awards from 25 Michigan and seven out-of-state universities.

Ms. Hayter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hayter of the Park and is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club.

The South High student will present a piano solo for the talent competition. Her musical honors include scholarships to Blue Lake Music Camp and the Interlochen National Music Camp for the last four years, awards for Outstanding Musicianship in the National Musical Federation and the National Music

Guild for the last three years and district, state and national honors for her work on the piano.

Carol is a member of the Michigan Youth Symphony and the Grosse Pointe Junior Symphony and is violinist with the Honor Orchestra for Outstanding Musicians.

She is a member of the Latin Club, Michigan Junior Classical League and the St. Clare of Montefalco Church.

South scholar in line for U of D award

Sharon O'Keefe, a senior at South, has been nominated by University of Detroit faculty members to compete for one of 10 Insignis four-year scholarships.

The nationwide competition has 80 finalists, with about a month left for additional applications.

Finalists are chosen by faculty committees based on a graduating student's performance in school and on ACT and SAT tests. Candidates must be within the top 10 percent of their class and have scored within the 95th percentile on the tests. Applicants also are judged on their performance in an on-campus interview.

Ms. O'Keefe, 17, said she is within the top five percent in her senior class and scored 1250 on her Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT).

Because Ms. O'Keefe is an Insignis candidate, she has been awarded the annually renewable half-tuition Trustees' Incentive Award, which allows her to attend U of D for half of the cost of normal tuition, which is between $4,000 and $6,000 a year, depending on the student's major.

Cinema League tours Gaspe

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "Gaspe and New England," a color slide presentation by Howard E. Riley, on Monday, Feb. 2, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore Road.

Area residents are invited to attend the program without charge. The social hour following is limited to Cinema League members.

The program follows Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence with short stops at Toronto and Quebec. A short detour is made up the Saguenay River and down the Atlantic shore of the Gaspe Peninsula to the little village of Perce.

A brief visit is made to Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia's Peggy's Cove.

Of special interest are scenes of Cape Breton Island and Grand Pre, the setting of the Evangeline story.

Learn to understand the effects of stress

Looking for a way to live up the winter doldrums? St. Clare of Montefalco Adult Continuing Education Department and University Courses in Adult Education, a service co-sponsored by the University of Michigan and Wayne State University, are jointly sponsoring two courses to begin next month.

"Stress Management" offers participants the opportunity to come to an understanding of the effect of stress on the body, mind, and emotions, and to learn new techniques for stress management. Karen Hamp, M.S.W., a psychotherapist at the Growth Center, draws upon her experience as a workshop facilitator in teaching the course at 7 p.m.

"Literature of Christian Spirituality" examines the Biblical and Greek traditions at the foundation of western spirituality and traces them in the writings of St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas, the Franciscans, the Jesuits, and others. The instructor for this course is Vaughan Adams, local lecturer, and associate professor of Philosophy at the U of D. Class begins at 7:30 p.m.

Both courses begin on Feb. 3 and run for eight weeks. The course fee is $55 for each course, and a fee reduction plan is available for senior citizens and members of the same family who enroll in "Literature of Christian Spirituality."

Classes are held at St. Clare of Montefalco School, Sweeney Center Building, Charlevoix at Audubon Grosse Pointe Park.

Ms. O'Keefe said that even if she does not receive the scholarship she will attend U of D. Her parents, Brian and Rose Ann O'Keefe, also attended U of D. "My father got me interested (in college) because he is involved with U of D," she said.

Mr. O'Keefe is a committee member at the university, which is 104 years old, with about 7,000 students.

Sharon intends to major in chemistry in college, but also commented that law interests her very much.

"I could switch my major possibly to a pre-law program," she said. "When I am out of college, I might go into law school."

Ms. O'Keefe said that she studies about two hours a day and has a 3.9 grade point average.

Americans carrying cash

More than $32 billion is now in circulation in $100 bills, says the Treasury Department. Americans are carrying more cash these days, due largely to inflation. In 1960 there was $3.48 in checking accounts for every dollar circulating. In 1970 checking balances had dropped to $2.14 for every $1 in cash.

A Fisher Road resident returned home last week and discovered thieves had taken $600 in stereo equipment.

According to police, the resident found an open rear door. Police are investigating that incident and another burglary that occurred Jan. 22 at a Washington Road home.

Prime Time
 For Senior Citizens

By Marian Trainor

In an image conscious world, it is important to maintain and protect a good image and to strenuously protest whatever detracts from the value and dignity of the individual's place in the social constellation.

One is reminded of the need to constantly monitor the impression conveyed by certain labels attached to particular groups by a quote attributed to Pearl Bailey, singer, actress and student at Georgetown University who, allegedly, was insulted by a reference to her as a Senior Citizen. She said:

"NEXT SEMESTER, I'll be a senior but not a senior citizen. When I was growing up, older people were respected but now, when children start thinking about their fathers and mothers as senior citizens, they think about sending them away to some village where they only have to see them once in a week."

This is too bad that Pearl feels this way because whether she likes it or not she has reached an age in her life when she is regarded as a "senior citizen."

Moreover what she apparently doesn't realize is that she, by her very accomplishments could do much to remove the castigation which she attaches to the term. One wishes that instead of disavowing what she cannot wholly ignore, she would instead hold herself up as a shining example to those "children" who she says correlate "senior citizen" with dependency, joylessness and being useless.

This is far from being true. Life expectancy has increased. In the past decade the death rate among people over 65 has fallen 14 percent. Not only are Americans living longer, they are healthier, more mentally alert and, even in these inflationary times, better off financially than they were in previous eras.

All of this adds up to a segment of society that is enjoying what might be termed a new lease on life that is continually being extended and bettered by the advocacy of local agencies which are listening to what by sheer numbers is a moving force in voter constituency. Added to this are citizen groups such as our own local SOC (Seniors Onward for Change) church and neighborhood groups who are working together for better social legislation and to provide not merely recreation but fun because what is provided is more than a means of passing the time. There are lunches and dinners, cards and bingo, dances and trips, crafts and study groups.

THESE, PEARL, are Senior Citizens and a far cry from your interpretation of what is the fastest growing segment of society. Every ninth citizen, or 11 percent of the total population, is over age 65. The population of 23 million is increasing at twice the rate of the population in general, a phenomenon dubbed "the graying of America." By the year 2000, every fifth American will be over age 62.

They will be, and are now, young-old people, not old-old people as you see them. They are vintage 81 Senior Citizens and not disturbed by being termed so. They are living their life not enduring it.

Their state might be likened to another occurrence peculiar to this decade, that of job-mobility. We are reading of people in the work force that are extending their vistas by moving from one occupation to another. They no longer remain in an occupation they consider unrewarding. With courage and some forethought, they move on to second and even third careers. This same attitude reflects the thinking of those who formerly retired as a stereotype of dependency and inactivity.

Being a senior citizen no longer bears with it that connotation. Older citizens are now retiring to what might well be termed an added stopover in the journey through life. It can be a phase akin to the freedom of childhood when one is free of responsibility, with time and energy to enjoy the pleasure of just doing what one pleases whether it be working at some enjoyable task, play that involves pleasurable activities or just sitting contemplating the past, the present and the meaning of it all.

Not that it is all sweetness and light. Sadly, there are those who are dependent. But do you know who is working hardest to alleviate their condition? Other senior citizens. They are working for better benefits, better housing, better nutrition, more ways to reach the lonely, the sick, the handicapped.

These people need help from alert, energetic older citizens like yourself, Pearl. For instance, there is a great gap in the problem of mental health care for older men and women. This problem is mentioned because so many other problems tie in with it.

Older people, and one wonders if younger people would not be affected also, if they were faced with such basic problems as health maintenance, adequate diet, communication with others, and the privilege of remaining in a home, which was maintained over a lifetime.

Medicare does not pay for prescription drugs, eye glasses, dental care or hearing aids. The lack of these needed services often increases the isolation and consequent mental health problems of senior citizens.

Meals on Wheels reach only a very small proportion of those who would be eligible for this useful service.

A MASSIVE program of Federal reimbursement for property taxes is needed for the elderly. This would be expensive from a short term view but over the long haul would not only save money but more importantly human misery.

The lack of such services can result, as pointed out by Dr. Robert Butler, director of the National Institute on Aging (NIA) in some 100 reversible conditions that mimic senility. In other words, many of those senior citizens referred to as being "shut up in homes where children visit one a week" could be alert and happy members of a society which in their productive years they helped to support.

Preventive measures are the first line of defense against senility but there remains those for whom such measures are too late. What is being done and what should be done to help them?

Medicare pays only $250 annually for outpatient treatment for mental illness. Happily that has been raised to $750 in the budget for 1981. Currently the co payment for mental illness is 20-80. This should be raised to 50-50 as is the case for physical illness. Another discrimination is the limit.

Thieves hit two homes in Woods

Burglars hit two Grosse Pointe Woods homes recently and took a variety of jewelry, cameras and stereo equipment.

On Friday, Jan. 16, residents of a home on Ida Lane left about 8 a.m. and returned about 11 p.m. and found their home was broken into, police said.

The culprits had broken out a small leaded glass panel in the front door and unlocked it. The residents reported two sterling silver bowls and a 35mm camera were taken, police said.

On Sunday, Jan. 18, a resident on Roslyn discovered that someone had used a plastic milk carton to reach and pry open a sliding rear window in the rear of the home. The house was ransacked and a camera, jewelry, stereo equipment, $300 in cash, and a 300 pound tool cabinet were reported missing.

Wild kids plague Brazil

Brazil's cities are terrorized by juvenile criminals. In Sao Paulo, a city of 100 million, police estimate there are 1,200 gangs of children around with some 10,000 weapons ranging from simple air pistols to modern automatics. The condition, it is believed, is the result of an economic boom during the past 15 years which transformed Brazil from an agrarian to an industrial nation.

New! Checking Accounts with Interest

Until now, you've never had interest paid on your checking account. But on January 1, 1981, you'll have the chance to take advantage of a brand new service from Standard Federal Savings — checking accounts with interest. In addition to providing savings accounts which pay the highest rate available on insured savings, Standard Federal also offers the opportunity to earn the highest interest allowed on your checking account.

These accounts will earn 5¼% annual interest — continuously compounded — adding interest every month to your account for an effective annual yield of 5.467%. This is the highest interest allowed on checking accounts.

You may open an account in any amount. However, with a minimum balance of $500.00 OR an average daily balance of $1,000.00, you may write all the checks you wish, with no monthly service charge. (A $5.00 monthly fee is assessed if you go below the minimum or average requirements).

- Each month you'll receive a detailed statement of your account which lists your checks in numerical order, your deposits, any service charges assessed and the interest earned during the statement period.
- Personalized checks are printed free of charge if you choose not to have your checks returned with your monthly statement. There will be a charge for printing personalized checks if you wish to have your checks returned to you. With either option, you may select a style that provides a carbon copy of each check for your records.

- A permanent record of each check will be kept by Standard Federal Savings. If you need a copy for any reason, microfilm copies of as many as 25 checks per year (or all checks relating to an IRS audit) will be provided at no charge.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

The Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra opens the 10th season of Detroit Symphony Preludes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial tomorrow, Friday, Jan. 30, at 11 a.m. Two other Preludes will be presented, on Fridays, March 6 and April 10.

"This series of three luncheon-programs featuring members of the Detroit Symphony has been presented annually as a means for becoming better acquainted with the talents of our orchestra," says Mado (Mrs. Kim K.) Lie, of Windmill Pointe Drive, this year's Preludes chairperson.

Tomorrow morning's program, "My Harp at Thy Sweet Voice," features DSO principal harpist Elise Ilku and lyric coloratura soprano Carolyn Grimes.

In March, in "Bartok's Opera: Men's Lib and Duke Bluebeard's Castle," Bruce Carr, DSO assistant manager, will sample selections from Maestro Antal Dorati's concert performance of Bartok's only opera, which will inaugurate the Detroit Symphony's Bartok Festival.

In April, "Percussion Behind Bars," highlighting members of the DSO's percussion section, concludes the series.

Each program begins at 11 in the morning and is followed by a question and answer period. Luncheon is served at 12:15 p.m. The full series of Preludes luncheons and programs is $25. The series

Tuesday Musicale swings American at its next concert

Tuesday Musicale of Detroit will participate in the National Federation of Music Clubs' Parade of American Music by presenting a concert of American music next Tuesday, Feb. 3, at 10:30 a.m. in the Lecture Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Original compositions by members of Tuesday Musicale's own Composers' Group will be featured.

The Composers' Group, established over 40 years ago, was first featured in a Tuesday Musicale concert in 1940. That program and this Tuesday's both include compositions by Mrs. C. E. Exley, of Lakeshore Lane, the group's current chairman, and by her co-chairman, Mrs. Marcus W. Frost, of Birmingham.

The Musicale's current president, Mrs. Eugene T. Ignasiak, of Dorthen Road, will introduce general program chairman Mrs. Fred W. Pagel, of Aline Drive. Mrs. Exley is chairman of the day.

The concert opens with two haikus, "Spring Robe" and "Winter Night," written and set to music by Mrs. Frost. These and two more of her songs, "Long Memories" and "Thou wilt not hear" (first performed for Tuesday Musicale in 1940), will be sung by soprano Anna Speck, of Troy, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Donald P. Macintosh, of Birmingham.

Mrs. Frost's "Whole Tone Capers" and "Meditation on a Whole Tone" plus "Satiric Dances I and II" by Miss Dorothy James, of Florida, and "Portrait of a Dancer" by a past Tuesday Musicale member, pianist Gizi Santo, will be performed by pianist

Mrs. T. Darell Eubank, of Berkshire Road.

"Le Journee" by Mrs. Donald Lebenbom, of Birmingham, will be played by two guest artists: Joan Berendt, English horn, and pianist Beverly LaBata.

Soprano Mrs. Paul E. Ewing, of Farmington Hills, and pianist Mrs. Harry Peets, of Farmington, will perform five compositions by Mrs. Theodore D. Slabey, of Farmington Hills: four songs based on poems by Emily Dickinson and "Silver" (words by June Rado), which features soprano, piano, breadpan, spaghetti tongs, cymbal — and the audience.

Mrs. Lebenbom's "Three Facets of the Dialogue" will be performed by Mrs. Eubank and guest flutist Linda Dobberton.

Two poems, "Waiting" by John Bourroughs and "Time You Old Gypsy Man" by Ralph Hodgson, set to music by Mrs. Charles Bryant, of Williamsburg, Mich., will be sung by soprano Mrs. C. J. Ground, of Barrington Road, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Edward Wilson, of St. Clair Shores.

Mrs. Bryant's piano duets "Berceuse" and "Donkey Drag," performed by duetists Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. James F. Gerlach, of Utica, will close the program.

These are highlights.

See how they sparkle. And glitter. And glow. Would you like to have some in your hair? You can. With our special conditioners. We have some that come out of jars. And others that come out of thin glass vials. And we can tell you which one would work best for you, while not depriving your hair of any body. If need be, we can even give you more. Like to have a hairdresser who knows all about such things? The light on to us. Quick.

The Michael Smiths

Marriage vows were spoken Friday evening, September 19, at Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore by PATRICIA WEAVER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Weaver, of Van Antwerp Road, and Mr. Smith, son of the Ronald Smiths, of New Baltimore.

Autumn wedding for Miss Weaver

Joan Holmes comes from Arizona to attend her sister as she speaks vows to Michael Smith; reception follows at NYC

Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore was the setting for the autumn wedding of Patricia Weaver, daughter of the Wayland Weavers, of Van Antwerp Road, and Michael Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Smith, of New Baltimore.

The 6 o'clock ceremony Friday, September 19, at which Monsignor Francis X. Canfield presided was followed by a reception at the Detroit Yacht Club. The newlyweds vacationed in Florida and are at home in Mount Clemens.

The bride selected an Empire-waisted gown of white organza, Alencon lace and seed pearl appliques accented her fitted bodice and Queen Anne neckline, and her long, fitted organza sleeves ended in lace at the wrists.

More lace detailed her cathedral train. Her illusion veil, fingertip length, fell from a Juliet cap of pearls and lace. She carried a cascade of carnations, stephanotis and pink Sweetheart roses.

Joan Holmes came from Scottsdale, Ariz., to serve as her sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Kyle Marowski, Mari Knopp, of Mount Pleasant, Gayle Issette, of Lupton, and Marilyn Smith. Their coral dresses featured criss-cross, spaghetti-strapped bodices, cummerbunds and chiffon caplets. Each carried a nosegay of pink carnations and white snowdrift mums.

Ronald Smith acted as best man for his brother. In the usher corps were Curtice Mink, Lawrence Burns, Joseph Baratta, Joseph Scalisi, of Delray Beach, Fla., John Weaver, of Phoenix, Ariz., brother of the bride, and Joseph Clor.

Amy Weaver, of Phoenix, was flower girl for her aunt. Jason Smith, the bridegroom's nephew, was ring bearer.

A beaded belt accented the bride's mother's gown, floor length, long-sleeved and coral in color. The bridegroom's mother chose a taupe gown, also floor length and long-sleeved, styled with a draped bodice and sash. Each mother wore a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Elizabeth Cass DAR Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will present Good Citizens Awards and pins to 10 high school seniors at a 1 p.m. tea Monday, Feb. 2, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The mothers of the students, selected for their outstanding qualities of leadership, dependability, service and patriotism, also will be honored.

This year's Elizabeth Cass Good Citizen cites are Christina Johnson, representing Grosse Pointe South High School; Mark Allen Rolain, Grosse Pointe North; Emily D. Vandenberg, Bishop Gallagher; Karen Burbulla, Lincoln Senior; Karen Slappey, Hamtramck; Adrienne Yerke, Harper Woods Secondary; Lori Noel, Warren; Mary E. Cieslak, Saint Florian; Carole Lynn Kowalczyk, Saint Ladislaus; and Cecelia M. DeLave, Regina High.

Bridge Group meets Feb. 4

The Grosse Pointe Woman's Club Bridge Group gathers next Wednesday, Feb. 4, in the Reception Room of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Alger House for a noon sandwich and dessert buffet luncheon and an afternoon of card playing. The program is open to all Woman's Club members who enjoy bridge, but reservations are required and must be made by this Saturday, Jan. 31, by contacting Mrs. Lloyd A. Beemer, bridge chairman, at 881-3615. Mrs. Glenn S. Lockwood is assisting Mrs. Beemer in planning the day.

Talk to focus on Grass Bay

The meeting of the Windmill Pointe Garden Club next Wednesday, Feb. 4, at the Roslyn Road home of Mrs. Daniel Beck who will be assisted by co-hostess Mrs. Richard Cameron, of Westchester Road, promises to be of great interest, for it will feature as speakers Caroline Gray and Nancy Passfield, of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, who will talk about the need to purchase Grass Bay, an 80-acre parcel of land on Lake Huron in Cheboygan County.

The area is unique in that it contains 250 plant species, including orchids. It is a naturalist's paradise, and has been used by the University of Michigan Biological Station since the early 1950s for scientific studies.

The Nature Conservancy, a national non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation of ecologically important land, has an option to purchase Grass Bay, but funds are needed to acquire the parcel. Mrs. William Milliken, wife of Michigan's Governor, is a Nature Conservancy board member. The help of all state garden clubs, private individuals, corporations and businesses is being sought to acquire the Grass Bay purchase funds.

Children's Home report
At the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Children's Home of Detroit, held in mid-January at the Home on Cook Road, Mrs. Thomas A. Garred, president, reviewed 1980's accomplishments.
It was quite a year, for during it the Home saw a major project completed: remodeling of the Special Education facility and the building of a new gymnasium. Mrs. Garred also expressed her appreciation to the many donors whose generosity made this project possible.

The Home has been located in Grosse Pointe Woods since 1950, but it was founded more than 100 years before that, in 1836, and is one of the oldest child caring institutions in Michigan. It is a voluntary, non-profit agency serving pre-adolescent children, and is governed by a board of trustees, many of whom reside in The Pointe area.

Anniversary Year ahead
Members of the Junior Group of League for the Handicapped-Goodwill Industries gather Monday, at the Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, for their February meeting. Co-chairing the 11:30 a.m. gathering are Mrs. John Pappas, of Fisher Road, and Mrs. George Pantely, of St. Clair Shores.
After a most successful Antiques Fair and Market last November — there was a 20 percent increase in attendance over 1979 — the Juniors, not resting on their 1980 laurels, are hard at work again, busily planning their next Antiques Fair, to be held in November, 1981, at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn.

And, as 1981 is Goodwill Industries' 60th anniversary year, there'll be considerable talk at Monday's meeting on just how and when the Juniors will help celebrate this milestone in Goodwill's history.

The Goodwill Juniors not only put on the Antiques Fair, their principal annual fund raiser (the fair is one of the Midwest's finest), but are active throughout the year, helping the physically and mentally handicapped men and women who are residents of the Taylor-Bodkin and Saint Ambrose Homes learn the practical skills that will enable them to lead more productive lives.

The Junior Group's motto, since its inception in 1933, has been "Helping the Handicapped to Help Themselves." There are no plans to change that motto—ever.

Happy 100th, Jennie!
Jennie Frazier moved from Detroit to Grosse Pointe Farms when she was five. She attended Saint Paul's School, and was married to the late Edward Trombley in Saint Paul's Church.

And she lived in their home on Kerby Road until December, 1979, when, almost 99 years old, she was no longer able to live alone and moved to Roseville, to the home of her son, Philip Trombley.

Jennie's 100th birthday is next Tuesday, Feb. 3, and the family—besides Philip, Jennie had two other sons, the late Courtney and the late Floyd Trombley, and a daughter, Blanche Taylor, now of Merritt Island, Fla.; there are also four grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild—is planning a celebration in her honor this Sunday.

We join them in wishing Jennie a very, very happy 100th.

Sunday at Walbri Manor
Dr. and Mrs. Ben Weinberg are opening Walbri Manor this Sunday for a fund raiser for the International Visitors Council of Metropolitan Detroit. The Weinbergs' Bloomfield Hills home was originally the hunting lodge of Walter O. Briggs, and Sunday's benefit there has to be the bargain of the decade: tickets are a mere $12.50 per person, and there'll be an open bar, special appetizers, valet parking and entertainment by comedian Don Melvoine.

Party proceeds go to the agency, located in RenCen, that serves sponsored international visitors on short term visits to the Detroit area by arranging for professional consultations, field trips and home dinner hospitality.

IVC has done its job for visitors from 80 different countries. Grosse Pointe's William Dance is president of the Council's board of directors; two other Pointers, Edmund F. Rushton and Mrs. Joseph A. Vance Jr., serve on that board. Information on the council and the benefit may be obtained by calling 259-2680.

To give grants in arts details

The Michigan Council for the Arts will sponsor local Grants Assistance Days, providing an opportunity for potential MCA applicants to meet individually with MCA staff and discuss application preparation and project development, on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 9 and 10, at Michigan Council for the Arts headquarters on Sixth Street in Detroit.

Bertha Masor, National Endowment for the Arts representative for the Great Lakes Region, also will be available to discuss possible NEA applications. Assistance Days consist of a series of half-hour, pre-scheduled, free consultations. Consultancies must be arranged for in advance by contacting Carolyn Moore at the MCA, 256-3717.

RUTHANN SEARS, daughter of MR. and MRS. RAYMOND SEARS, of Yorktown Road, was named to the Dean's List at Wheaton College for the first quarter of the 1980-81 academic year.

DRC's February colors are red, white and blue

Valentine hearts and the patriotic colors of red, white and blue will highlight tables in the University Club's ladies dining room Tuesday, Feb. 10, when Detroit Review Club members gather there for a festive luncheon and a program by Major General William Weinstein, USMCR, Ret.

Mrs. James Mullaney, of Hillcrest Road, DRC president, will act as official hostess. Daniel C. Beattie is sponsoring the group at the University Club. Luncheon arrangements were made by Mrs. H. Lloyd Patterson, DRC's program chairman, and Mrs. Leonard Wise, of Shoreham Road, social chairman.

Mrs. Aaron E. Wilcox, of Lorraine Road, past-president of the DRC, is chairman of the day. She will introduce General Weinstein who will address the question: Can the United States afford an all-volunteer military force? Astrologist extraordinaire Lou Wilcox notes that the speaker was born Dec. 9, under the ambitious, dual Sign of Sagittarius. He has been successful, both in the Marine Corps and as a trial lawyer.

He enlisted in the Marines a year after graduation from Wayne State University. He served in the Pacific in World War II and, before retiring from active duty, was Deputy Commander of the Fleet Marine Force-Atlantic.

He is a partner in the law firm of Weinstein, Kroll and Gordon, P.C., and has been a national vice-president of the Navy League of the United States since assuming his law practice. He is a lecturer at the Michigan Practicing Law Institute and the University of Tennessee Law School and has spoken to various Bar Associations across the country.

General Weinstein served as chairman of the Recorder's Court Committee of the Detroit Bar, chairman of the Negligence Section of the Michigan State Bar and was a member of the Michigan Supreme Court Committee on Standard Jury Instructions from 1968 to 1971.

Bonsai Society plans program

"Growing Bonsai under Fluorescent Lights" will be the topic when the Daijina Ki Bonsai Society meets next Wednesday, Feb. 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval Avenue at Fisher Road.

Featured speaker is Jack Wikle, naturalist-educator at Michigan State University's Hidden Lake Gardens near Tipton, who has been growing bonsai outdoors for 17 years and under lights for five and who last year, at the Great Lakes Bonsai Exhibition in Cleveland, received the Don Hund Memorial Award for Excellence in Bonsai.

Wikle will show slides and have pots and trees available for purchase.

Men and women interested in the culture of bonsai are welcome at any and all programs of the Daijina Ki Bonsai Society of Grosse Pointe, a non-profit organization formed to enhance the knowledge and enjoyment of bonsai and other arts related to Japanese culture, and to bring together the novice and the more knowledgeable bonsai practitioner for mutual enjoyment of the miniature landscape art.

Reg Skewes, of Yorkshire Road, is Daijina Ki's current president. Further information about the group may be obtained by calling 882-3194.

"ALOHA"

"Aloha." It's the Hawaiian greeting of friendship and welcome. And you'll hear it often on these romantic islands. You'll hear it on the beautiful sandy beaches that stretch for miles along an azure surf. In the mountains that reach toward the heavens. You'll sense it in the blueness of crystal Hawaiian skies. And you'll feel it in the caresses of the warm Hawaiian sun. Start your vacation by playing golf, tennis, water skiing, sightseeing or just lying in the sun. Go back-packing, horseback riding, surfing, scuba diving. Soon you'll find yourself in perfect step with the leisurely and relaxing Hawaiian way of life.

Hawaiian travel programs leave almost every day for one to three weeks, stay in luxurious hotels to condominiums and you may visit one or all of the islands as you choose. Also, stop over in California or Las Vegas to complete your memorable vacation.

Offer basketry on Saturdays

A 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. two-Saturday workshop Feb. 14 and 21 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will feature instruction in basketry by Scott Smith, formerly of Greenfield Village. Participants will learn how to make traditional hen baskets — not apple baskets, as announced in the War Memorial's recent activity mailer.

Fee for both sessions is $23. Advance enrollment is requested at the center's office on Lakeshore Road, so that the proper amount of materials may be on hand.

The Hen Basket workshops will be followed on Saturdays, Feb. 28 and March 7, by Market Basket workshops and on Saturdays, March 21 and 28, by Melon Basket workshops.

Smith exhibit opens Feb. 1

The first major retrospective of drawings by American sculptor David Smith will open at the Detroit Institute of Arts Sunday, Feb. 1, and remain there through Sunday, March 15.

"David Smith: The Drawings" charts the development of the imaginative sculptor who often wrote and lectured about the importance of drawing. The exhibition is comprised of some 140 works from all stages of the artist's career.

"Drawing is the most direct, closest to the true self, the most natural celebration of man. It may have been the first celebration of man with his secret self — even before song," Smith said.

The exhibition includes samples from Smith's years of study at the Art Students League (1928-32) and untitled late '30s drawings reflecting various influences on his work, from constructivism, cubism and collage to Hieronymus Bosch, surrealism and the School of Paris.

Smith's political consciousness comes through in drawings related to his plaques, "Medals for Dishonor," and create motifs which reappear in later drawings.

Many of Smith's drawings through the mid-1940s were studies made in anticipation of sculpture. Smith's post-World War II drawings became increasingly abstract and complex — and, for the first time, use of color is prominent.

One hundred drawings from Smith's prolific '50s and early '60s use calligraphy, oriental embellishment and colorful spray drawing. Drawings reminiscent of natural sources reveal Smith's interest in landscape.

The retrospective was organized by Paul Cummings, adjunct curator of Drawings at the Whitney Museum of American Art, New York City. The 128-page catalogue, featuring 17 color plates and 92 black and white illustrations, is $12 in the Museum Shops.

David Smith was born in Decatur, Ind., in 1906. He left the midwest in 1926 for Washington, D.C., and later moved to New York City. He enrolled in the Art Students League and studied painting until 1932.

He produced his first piece of sculpture in 1931 and his series of three steel heads, begun in 1933, may have introduced welded sculpture to the United States.

Smith settled in Bolton's Landing, N.Y., in 1940. Here, he created nearly 500 pieces of sculpture and thousands of drawings. He died in 1965 following an auto collision.

The Art Institute collection includes his stainless steel sculpture, "Cubi I," acquired in 1966 by the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts.

"David Smith: The Drawings" is open to the public without charge in the Schwartz Graphic Arts Galleries during regular museum hours: Tuesday through Sunday, 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Mascarin comes home a pro

By Ron Angel

The Shores' Sue Mascarin, a University Liggett school junior, became a professional tennis player Jan. 1 of this year. It was the next step after being named junior player of the year for 1980, having won the Italian and U.S. junior titles, and the girls' 18s singles title of the Orange Bowl World Junior Tennis Championships in Miami, Fla. on Dec. 28.

Mascarin, who will not be 17 until the summer, started off her professional career with the first stop of the Avon circuit in Kansas City. She defeated Caroline Stoll in the opening round of play and lost in the second round to Mima Jausovec of Yugoslavia.

She is not participating in this Cincinnati tournament because of exams, but is scheduled to return to the tour at the 64 player draw in Chicago, Jan. 26-Feb. 1.

The Avon Championships of Detroit, which saw Sue appearing as a junior qualifier in 1979 and 1980, will definitely be her most interesting stop to date as a professional, with the hometown crowd lending vocal support in each round she competes.

Having won her first professional title at 14 defeating Renee Richards, nothing but success should be in her future.

Other Grosse Pointers to remember are Meghan McMahon, of the Park, who lost to Lisa Bonder of Saline, for the right to participate in this year's Avon. Bonder was the first seed of that qualification playoff. Renee Krickstein, of the Woods, made it to the semi-finals before losing to McMahon. The tournament itself is titled, "The Avon Championships of Detroit," presented by the Greater Detroit Oldsmobile Dealers for the second year in a row. In these trying economic times, especially in the automotive market, a heartfelt thanks should go to the Oldsmobile Dealers Association for their help.

The competition takes place at Cobo Hall, beginning with 1st round play on Monday, Feb. 2 and concluding with the finals on Sunday, Feb. 8.

A field of 32 players, vying for $150,000 in prize money, will be headlined by such notables as Tracy Austin, Billie Jean King, Pam Shriver, fast-rising Hana Mandlikova, a finalist at last year's U.S. open and of course, Grosse Pointe's own Sue Mascarin.

First place singles winner will receive $30,000 and the winning doubles team will split $11,000. Starting times for play will vary daily.

Billie Jean King will be defending her singles title of 1980, as well as her doubles victory with partner Ilana Kloss, of South Africa. Betty Stove, of the Netherlands, one of the finest doubles players in the world comments on the Detroit stop and Avon circuit in general.

"The modern schedule is so demanding that every player cannot be at every tournament," Stove says. "We will all appreciate that and always try to provide a good field for them."

On the heels of Stove's comments, the Junior League of Birmingham, which is in

South AD Hollosy is honored

By Ned Sparrow
South High

South's athletic director, Charles Hollosy, has been selected for the Michigan High School Coaches' Hall of Fame. Hollosy, a teacher and coach for 32 years, is currently in his 20th year at South.

One of six coaches admitted to the Hall of Fame this year, Hollosy has coached basketball at South, but because of last year's changes in the role of athletic director, he no longer coaches. He has served as athletic director at South since 1967.

"I guess I miss it like one would miss being an athlete," Hollosy said. "The hardest thing for anyone leaving coaching is being away from the kids."

Others from the Grosse Pointe School system who have received the honor include the late Frank Banach, long-time South swimming coach, and Ed Wernet, South football coach and North athletic director and football coach. Wernet has been retired for four years.

Requirements for the Hall of Fame include a minimum of 25 years in coaching as well as testimonials from those who work with and know the candidate.

"I had been under consideration for the last four or five years. It's the kind of thing where there are a lot of people on the waiting list," Hollosy said.

Hollosy attended Eastern Michigan University and earned a Masters degree in Administrative Physical Education and Athletics at the University of Michigan.

Marlies win South Bend tourney

Aggressive offensive checking, superb defensive play and nearly flawless goaltending carried the Grosse Pointe Marloros AA Pee Wee travel hockey club to an important tournament win in South Bend, Ind., last weekend.

The Marlies joined other Pee Wee AA travel hockey clubs from Cleveland Heights and Wilmette, Ill. as well as the host team South Bend, in the third annual Irish Rover Invitational.

The contests were held on the campus of Notre Dame University at the ice rink complex of the athletic and convocation center on Jan. 24 and 25.

The Marlies swept through the tournament field to go undefeated and win first place in the Pee Wee division. Goaltending was key to the victory as Grosse Pointe netminders Coley Connolly and Bill Tectos shared the nets and allowed only four goals in three games including one shutout.

Marlie shooters supported their goalies by totaling 13 tallies in the three games.

Grosse Pointe's first opponent was Wilmette, ranked third in the state of Illinois. The Marlies fell behind 1-0 in the first period before running off three consecutive tallies. Grosse Pointe won the contest, 4-2.

Andrew Roy started the Marlie scoring when he deflected a shot from the point by Mike Kramer. Grosse Pointe went ahead when Joe Sullivan skated behind the enemy net and sent a centering pass to teammate Richard Pisogna who was cruising in the slot. Pisogna beat the goalie with a blistering wrist shot.

The next Marlie tally turned out to be the winner. Sullivan took a pass from Brian Nettle, skated through two Wilmette defenders and missed on his first shot but jammed in the rebound.

Wilmette scored once more in the first period, before Marlie defenseman Mike Amore closed out the scoring with a "long distance" slap shot.

Grosse Pointe played its second tournament contest against Cleveland Heights four hours after the Wilmette game. Grosse Pointe dominated the Foresters in all phases of the game, scoring in every period for a 6-0 win.

Sullivan opened the Marlie scoring, beating the goaltender from close in. Nettle drew an assist on the play. Jamie Parker hit the net on a beautiful set-up play by Sullivan. Kevin Tisdale opened the third period by deflecting a backhand shot from Sullivan past the sprawled goaltender.

Later in the period, Grosse Pointe's aggressive brand of forechecking paid off when Parker stole the puck at the Forester's blue line and went in all alone to beat the goalie. Nettle banged in a quick shot from directly in front of the net on a Marlie penalty-killing play for the fifth goal.

Roy set up the play from the corner by beating the defense to the puck and quickly feeding a centering pass. Tisdale provided the final Marloro goal when he changed the direction on a blue line shot by defenseman Kramer.

The final game of the tournament was a magnificent struggle between two evenly matched opponents. Grosse Pointe and South Bend entered the final game with identical 2-0 records.

South Bend competes in the tough Indiana "open" Pee Wee bracket and is currently ranked number one in the state.

Grosse Pointe's superior skating speed was the difference as the Marlies won the contest, 3-2, to wrap up the tournament. Grosse Pointe broke on top 3-0 before South Bend roared back with two late game goals to make the closing moments anxious ones.

Tisdale got the Marlies rolling with a goal in the first minute of play. Sullivan started the play by breaking in over the South Bend blue line and centering a perfect pass to Tisdale who was all alone in front of the net.

Parker put the Marlies two goals up by stealing a loose pass in the enemy zone and beating the goalie with a quick wrist shot from 20 feet out.

Kramer got what turned out to be the winning goal at the 9:20 mark when he lifted a shot from the blue line. South Bend made it close in the last few minutes when it pulled its goalie to put on a sixth attacker. Grosse Pointe weathered the storm and skated off with the game and tournament victory.

Club league records are in

The Neighborhood Club Sullivan Rollins Furs are both 1-5.

The White Division is led by Cash Box Lounge Hot Tips and J.B.'s Boys with an undefeated record of 5-0. Jim Saros Realty is in first place with a perfect 5-0 record.

Your Place Lounge holds second place with a 4-1 mark. Spirits of Grosse Pointe, McBready and Adlhoach, and Addy-Morand Machinery Red Flags are tied with three wins and two losses each.

Dandy Bar and the Cougars each stand at 2-3 and Lakeshore Warehouse, I Don't Know, and Holy Hoopers are all 1-4.

The Men's Open Basketball League is divided into three divisions. In the Blue Division, the Suns are on top at 5-0. The Cavanaugh Insurance Vikings are 4-1, and Union Street Saloon is 3-2.

Art Van Archetypes, Michaelangelo's Snarks, and Si-Mon Says each have a 2-3 record. The Barristers and

DUGAN WINS AGAIN
Pat Dugan, 39, of the Woods, turned in a time of 11:44 to win his age group's two mile run in the Lipke Track Program event at Metro Beach last weekend. Dugan has won the event in that group (35-39) for three straight weeks.

LOCAL SKATERS SCORE

Michigan Tech defenseman Jeff Johnston, of the Woods added to his scoring totals last week when he scored a goal and assist to bring his record to 14 points. Johnston is a junior at Tech. Notre Dame winger Jeff Logan, of the Shores, scored one goal and assisted on two others to bring his scoring total to 25 points—good for the team scoring leadership.

ULS cagers win thriller

The University Liggett School basketball team returned to its winning ways on Friday, Jan. 23 with a thrilling 67-65 victory over Huron Valley Lutheran. The win upped the Knights record to 7-3.

The game was extremely hard-fought throughout, with neither team able to establish a significant lead until Huron Valley pulled ahead by six points midway through the final quarter.

Aggressive defense produced the turnovers necessary for ULS to pull itself back into the game in the final minutes. The winning basket came when Jerry Parks scored with no time showing on the clock. Kevin Jackson sparked the Knights with 26 points and 16 rebounds while Jeff Parks added 19 points and Joe Walker contributed 10 rebounds.

The Knights' next home game is tomorrow, Friday, Jan. 30, with the junior varsity beginning at 6:30 and the varsity at 8.

The junior varsity netters maintained their perfect record, topping Huron Valley Lutheran, 61-31, and moving their total to 10-0.
