They Shall Not Pass! Well, okay, they can pass. But I'm going to watch them very closely as they go by. That seems to be the philosophy of this bashful Beagle who has his own watchtower topping a long stockade fence on the corner of Lincoln and St. Paul. While every dog may have his day, it's not every canine that attains this high a station in life.

Two finalists named for superintendent

By Susan McDonald

West Bloomfield School Supt. Jerry Herman and Dr. Kenneth Brummel, superintendent in Westport, Conn., are finalists for the top job in Grosse Pointe public schools, the board of education announced Tuesday.

The two were selected from a field of 105 applicants to replace Dr. William Coats who will move to Ann Arbor this July as a full professor in University of Michigan's school of education.

Grosse Pointe Board President Jon Gandelot said the trustees hope to name the new superintendent within two weeks. Three board members visited Westport this week to investigate Brummel's work there, he said. Public interviews with the two finalists may be scheduled before the selection, Gandelot added.

Both candidates "have outstanding reputations as administrators, are good curriculum people and are from districts with high standards," Gandelot said.

Herman, 50, has been superintendent in West Bloomfield for eight years and is a candidate for the superintendent position in the 65,000-student Jefferson Parish outside New Orleans, La. The Louisiana school board is expected to announce its selection this week. Herman also reportedly applied for a similar post in Adrian but was not appointed.

He's a native of Michigan's Upper Peninsula and received his Bachelor's degree from Northern Michigan in 1952, his Master's at University of Michigan in 1956 and Ph.D. at University of Michigan in educational administration in 1959.

Herman previously was superintendent in Youngstown, N.Y. He's married and the father of six children.

BRUMMEL, 46, is a Holland, Mich., native who attended Stanford and received his Master's degree in education from Harvard and Ph.D. from Columbia University. He worked as a teacher at Tappan Junior High School in Detroit in the late 1950s and went to Westport, Conn., as a teacher. He was named superintendent of that district in 1973.

He is married and the father of three children.

Gandelot said Westport's school district is similar, but smaller than Grosse Pointe's. West Bloomfield schools currently have about 5,500 students, compared to Grosse Pointe's 8,600.

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education has been interviewing candidates in closed meetings for two weeks. It began its search for a replacement for Coats in March and is offering "liberal benefits" including a superintendent's house and multi-year contract. Dr. Coats is currently paid $50,500 a year and receives a bonus determined by the board.

Local School Board member Dorothy Kennel, who chaired the search committee, went to Westport this week with trustees Catherine Brierly and Laurance Harwood to "talk to people and ask a lot of questions" in finalist Brummel's home district. She said she doubts if the follow up interviews with the two candidates "will serve any purpose but to prolong the thing."

Group home decision pending in Lansing

By Susan McDonald

A proposed group home for the retarded in Grosse Pointe Park cleared its final inspection last week and a decision on whether or not to grant a license to the facility could come as early as tomorrow from Department of Social Services Director John Dempsey who has indicated he will personally review the case, according to a DDS spokesman.

In an effort to stop six retarded adults from moving into the home at 1030 Bedford Road, neighbors said this week they plan to seek a temporary restraining order in Wayne County Circuit Court to stop the procedure until "all sides have had their chance to be heard," according to attorney Pieter vanHorne.

The residents also have filed a lawsuit naming DDS, the Department of Mental Health, and the Department of Management and Budget, to keep the home out of their neighborhood. In addition, an administrative complaint against DDS for its handling of the selection is being investigated at the insistence of neighbors. The city of Grosse Pointe Park has filed similar lawsuits and complaints.

Attorney vanHorne said he expects the neighbors' request for a temporary restraining order will go before circuit court Judge Roland Olzak late this week.

The residents who would move into the Bedford home are currently in the Plymouth Center for Human Development, which has been ordered by Federal court to move most of its inmates into other facilities by 1983.

Officials at the Plymouth Center say they are proceeding as normal with plans to move the residents into 1030 Bedford. Four females and two males all between the ages of 24 and 28 years have been selected for the home in Grosse Pointe. They are severely to profoundly retarded, according to Plymouth official Frank Schuch.

"These people have minimal self-care skills and training in the home will concentrate on that," Schuch said. All six will leave the home during the day five days a week for varied activities—two will attend school and the other four will work in a "sheltered" shop.

Schuch said the six residents have been notified they may be moving to Grosse Pointe. Two of the six are native Grosse Pointers.

Forget Harry and remember Carrie

By Joanne Gouleche

Three years ago, a college professor told Carrie Smith she had a "voice" working inside her when she submitted a story for a creative writing class about a mid-thirties couple on the brink of divorce.

Carrie didn't know it then, but the professor would be correct in his prediction. There was indeed a voice, enough so that three years later New York publishers Simon & Schuster turned Carrie's classroom assignment into her first novel, "Forget Harry."

It's a humorous story about a suburban housewife who decides the marriage to her husband-cop Harry has drifted, leaving them little in common except for the electric blanket they are forced to share on cold nights.

While the heroine housewife daydreams about mid-afternoon interludes with her pear-loving lover, her husband Harry knows only to soothe an argument with his wife by sending her a truckload of flowers—day old from the local funeral home

How can a 23-year-old single woman like Carrie Smith relate the intimacies of a 15-year marriage gone sour? Carrie confesses:

"I guess it is a serious topic in a way. It's about something that does happen to a lot of people nowadays. But I really wanted to entertain people. I really wanted to do it with a good sense of humor and compassion towards all the characters."

"Forget Harry" began as a class paper at the University of Michigan for Carrie, who now resides in Grosse Pointe Woods.

When Carrie submitted the paper to her professor, he told her "it's a voice working for you" and encouraged her to develop the characters.

Carrie did while "kind of getting to know this woman, kind of getting to be her in a way because I was using the first person voice. I think that's what helped me to write about someone I'm obviously not and about a situation I haven't gone through."

While at U of M, the paper (then only a few chapters) won the prestigious 1979 Avery Hopwood Fiction

Award. A judge in the writing contest for U of M students liked Carrie's entry so well that he passed it on to his agent who then eventually passed it on to Simon & Schuster.

Carrie says the agent had no luck in submitting "Forget Harry" to magazines, including the "New Yorker." "Every writer wants to be published in the New Yorker," Carrie laughs.

But in between it all, Carrie now admits she didn't think it would happen so suddenly.

"It's always been my goal to be published. I really didn't think it would happen this quickly.

"It was, I think, a lot of luck and chance. I'm not saying it wasn't also (Continued on Page 11A)

Liquor license turmoil brews again in Woods

By Gregory Jakub

The Grosse Pointe Woods City Council on Monday, April 6, upheld its tradition of denying approval to liquor license applicants and may have instigated another challenge to that tradition.

The council refused to approve an application from the owners of the Bonanza Restaurant at 20460 Mack who intended to buy the dormant Class C liquor license formerly owned by the bankrupt Gabby's Restaurant on Mack near Moross.

One of the Bonanza owners, Jay Bielfield, a West Bloomfield attorney, said the council gave no reasons for disapproving his application and he intends to request reconsideration by the council.

"I'M GOING TO write a letter and ask them to reconsider," said Bielfield after the April 6 meeting. "If they (councilmen) don't reply or give me reconsideration, I'll take alternate remedies."

Bielfield and his associates, John Maxwell, an attorney from Bloomfield Hills, and businessman Norbert Murray of Clare, Mich. collectively own 21 Bonanza Restaurants in the state under the name of Maxwell Enterprises, Inc. Their plan is to buy the Gabby's license which has been held in escrow since 1979 and use it to convert the Bonanza on Mack to Peoples—a cafeteria style, family restaurant that serves beer and wine.

The council voted 4-3 against approving the license transfer. Councilman John Sabol said his no vote was consistent with his belief that no additional licenses should be issued in the Woods.

Councilman Thomas Fahrner said that he disapproved the applicants because he was unsure of their financial status and wanted to avoid repeating (Continued on Page 11A)

Park boaters have an eye on election

By Joanne Gouleche

It just may be too soon, but no one has yet stepped forward in Grosse Pointe Park and publicly announced candidacy for three council slots this November.

But the city's vocal boater's association is taking an active early interest in the election and is asking residents not to return some city officials to their seats.

In a letter to its members last week, the Windmill Pointe Marina Boat Owners Association told boaters they will "have to begin to take an active part in the selection of candidates and the election of officials" this November.

Bill Farrant, author of the letter and WPMBOA secretary, admits the boaters aren't a political group, but reminds members "politically active groups get results."

THE BOATERS are fuming over a council decision last February to raise well rates 38 to 50 percent. The 170-member WPMBOA is also questioning the city's practice of transferring marina "surplus" monies into the general fund. Farrant and other boaters claim there can't be a surplus when the Park's piers remain in poor condition.

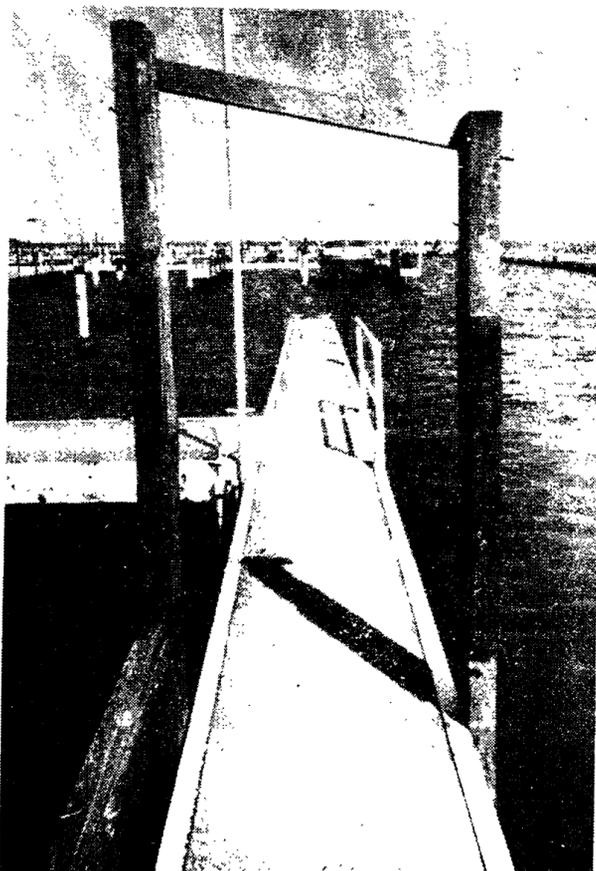

The city hasn't hiked well rates since 1979 and says it can legally (Continued on Page 11A)

Rocking the boat

Boaters are having their say about boat dock conditions in the Park and in the Woods, where a low bridge is blocking piers.

Critics pin bridge delay on Woods

By Gregory Jakub

A Wayne County official last week blamed internal difficulties in the Grosse Pointe Woods administration for causing the failure of the city's efforts to improve its marina at Lakefront Park.

The effort involves plans approved by the Woods Council last July to rebuild the park's Milk River Bridge and increase the availability of reasonably priced boat docks. Since 1973, rising water levels have prevented many boaters from clearing the bridge and using 53 of the park's 234 boat wells.

Even though a number of obstacles have been cleared since last July, the plan has never left the drawing board—much to the frustration of boaters and city councilmen who support it.

"(Any) difficulties the city may have in carrying out this bridge project are internal," according to a April 7 letter to the Grosse Pointe News from Wayne County Drain Commissioner Charles N. Youngblood, who is also secretary to the Milk River Intercounty Drainage Board.

Youngblood's letter was prompted by a March 15 News story in which city officials claimed the Drainage (Continued on Page 2A)

Students win at art fair

The first Youth Art Fair on Sunday, April 5, hosted by the Grosse Pointe Public Library, exhibited 140 art pieces of ceramics, graphic designs, photographs, paintings, etchings, weavings, and other art works.

First prize winners were: Lancelot Lie from University Liggett for a sailboat painting; second prize went to Elizabeth Veestra, also from University Liggett school for a red weaving and third prize went to Amy Andris for her grey ceramic animals from Parcels school.

Eighth grade winners were: First prize — Joe Maiorano from Pierce Middle School for his pen and ink drawing; second prize went to Barbara Giroux from Brownell for her three dimensional school scene and third prize went to Ann Davies from Brownell school for her fruit ceramics.

Other winners were: ninth grade, Wendi White from University Liggett; 10th grade, Kim Beers from Grosse Pointe South; 11th grade, Catherine Capps from North 12th grade, Michelle Maxon from South.

On display were works created by students from nine Grosse Pointe schools: Grosse Pointe North and South High, Brownell, Pierce, Parcels, St. Paul's, University Liggett, Star of the Sea and the Grosse Pointe Academy.

The contest was judged Saturday, April 4, by three individuals from our community, who specialize in art. Mr. Krentzin, Mrs. Proffit, and Mrs. Prudden. Grades seven through 12 participated from these schools and three ribbons were awarded to each class.

Critics blame bridge delay on Woods

Board was holding up construction of the bridge.

Youngblood challenged that statement in his letter stating that the Drainage Board's Nov. 6, 1980 minutes show that it tentatively approved the bridge plan and sent copies of its action to Woods City Administrator-Clerk Chester Petersen.

However, at a March 23 meeting with the Woods Boat Club, Woods Councilmen Frederick Lovelace, and Robert Novitke, and city engineer Laurence Pate said they were not aware of the Drainage Board's approval of the bridge plan.

The apparent lack of Drainage Board approval and doubts about whether the city could now afford the bridge's inflated $300,000 price tag were enough to slow progress once again.

"I was under the impression in July that we were to proceed with this. There is constantly some obstacle that is preventing the implementation of this council's intent," said a frustrated Councilman Novitke after hearing at the meeting that the city lacked Drainage Board approval. Also at that meeting, City Administrator-Clerk Petersen said that the city had not pursued a ruling from the apparently unresponsive Drainage Board because the city's recent budget crisis had been a priority concern.

Petersen also received a copy of Youngblood's letter and when asked to comment on it said he had attended the Nov. 6 meeting where the Drainage Board acted on the project.

Petersen said that he probably verbally reported the board's action to the council and that the board's minutes "were probably on the council agenda and placed on file," although he couldn't say on what date. A check with Woods city records showed the Milk River Intercountry Drainage Board minutes of Nov. 6 never appeared on any council agenda to the present date, according to Woods Deputy Clerk Louise Warnke.

When asked to comment on the apparent discrepancy in information, Woods Mayor George Freeman said that he never saw a copy of the Drainage Board minutes and speculated that they were lost in the mail.

Freeman did admit that the lack of information could have hindered progress on the bridge and hinted at possible internal problems.

"How can we know what is going on unless we get a copy of (the minutes) . . . If they are in (the Woods Council's) minutes, maybe we've been misled a bit," Freeman said.

Councilman Lovelace said he never saw a response from the Drainage Board and said "the council will take appropriate action" if information was withheld.

City Administrator Petersen said that no information has been withheld from the council.

Others involved with the bridge issue were more direct, blaming the city for the delays.

"It sounds to me as if the city fathers knew this and either forgot about it or don't want to know about it," said Al Kunert, chairman of the Recreation Commission which hammered out the bridge plan last July.

Woods Boat Club member Larry Sullivan has been the main mover behind much of the efforts to gain support for the bridge project. He has frequently blamed the city for failing to do its part to make the bridge plan reality. Sullivan said that Youngblood's letter verifies that the root of the problem has been "total mismanagement" of the city.

Auto Club says

Roadways will be busy with Easter travelers

With motorists facing no gasoline shortages and airlines offering special discount fares, the annual Easter week migration to warm-weather destinations could be the heaviest since 1978 despite Michigan's economic problems, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"For the first Easter holiday in three years motorists will find gasoline available everywhere in the United States," said Auto Club's Touring Manager Joseph Ratke.

"Requests from Auto Club members for travel routings to Florida, Texas, California, Nevada and Arizona are up 17 percent over the 1980 pre-Easter period," reports Ratke.

Florida continues to be the most popular destination for Auto Club members. Travel routings to the Sunshine State are up more than 3 percent.

Texas, with its promise of jobs luring many Michiganders, is the second most requested destination with inquiries up 117 percent over the same period in 1980. The only major warm-weather destination not showing an increase is Mexico, which is down 43 percent.

Florida officials report a strong rebound in March from a 6 to 8 percent decline in tourism during January and February. They blame the early 1981 dropoff on cold weather, adverse publicity about Miami and unemployment in the Midwest.

Motorists in Florida will find approximately 60 percent of service stations open daylight hours Easter Sunday (April 19). Gasoline prices are slightly lower than those in Michigan, ranging from a low of $1.348 for full-serve regular to a high of $1.523 for premium unleaded.

Lodging space is scarce in the traditional beach areas of southern Florida and near Disney World in central Florida. Auto Club urges travelers to confirm reservations before heading south. Airlines report heavy bookings on peak travel days, especially April 16 to 18 for outgoing flights and April 20 and 24 to 26 for returning flights. Persons who don't insist on flying on those dates will have little difficulty finding space.

Since this is one of the busiest times of the year for airports, Auto Club suggests that passengers arrive at least one hour prior to departure and arrange to be transported to and from the airport because of the heavy demand for parking over holidays.

Most Easter weekend auto travel in Michigan is confined to a 50-mile radius of motorists' homes. Peak travel time is usually between 6 and 10 p.m. on Easter Sunday when families are returning home from reunions with relatives and friends.

An Auto Club pre-holiday survey of 300 service stations along main roads shows 57 percent plan to operate Easter Sunday. After 9 p.m., 28 percent are open while 10 percent will operate past midnight.

In the Detroit area on Easter, 32 percent will pump gas daylight hours, 18 percent after 9 p.m. and 14 percent after midnight.

Last year, 10 persons were killed on Michigan highways during Easter weekend, three fewer than the previous year.

Puppets tell story at ULS

The stars in last Thursday's University Liggett lower school assembly were puppets from the program entitled "Kids on the Block." The colorful characters ranging from three to five feet tall told the story of what it is like to be handicapped. Special education staff members Sue Klein and Linda Korver from Grosse Pointe schools operated the puppets in the "bunraku" style of Japan in which the puppeteer is dressed in black and is almost invisible behind the puppet.

ULS students in grades three, four and five were introduced to Mark, afflicted with cerebral palsy, and Mandy who is deaf. To a fascinated audience, Mark described how he performs simple functions like dressing and spoke about how he feels when people stare at him. Mandy, who reads lips, also taught the ULS youngsters some sign language.

Following the performance a question and answer session developed. Students were very curious and spoke to the puppets as if they were their peers ignoring the adults puppeteers. They began to discover a world that most non-disabled youngsters are, at best, afraid of.

The "Kids on the Block" program has achieved enormous success in classrooms throughout the country. Grosse Pointe's puppeteers Sue Klein and Linda Korver traveled to Washington, D.C. to learn to use the puppets.

All set to do their best as the singing Von Tropp family this Saturday, April 18, in a free performance of "The Sound of Music" at the War Memorial are the seven stars of the show: (left to right), Marla Kurz, as Marta; Heather Cross, as Brigetta; Wendy Willett, as Louisa; Matt Seely, as Capt. Von Tropp; Jennifer Marshall, as Maria; Joey Posch, as Frederick and David Bryant as Kurt.

Easter musical at the Fries

The first in a series of free community events sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial in conjunction with its Family Participation Campaign will be held this Saturday, April 18, at 2 p.m. in the Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore Road.

Grosse Pointe Children's Theater, under the direction of Sally Reynolds with musical direction by Mrs. John Mazer, will present scenes from "The Sound of Music." Complimentary tickets may be picked up by residents at the business office of the War Memorial on a first-come, first-served basis.

In keeping with the spirit of Easter, and the theme, "Love in our hearts, wasn't put there to stay. Love isn't love until we give it away," actors from Children's Theater hope to bring joy and happiness in what is their Easter gift to the community.

A second performance will be given on Monday evening, April 20, for the residents of the St. Joseph Home for the Aged.

The cast includes South High freshman, Jennifer Marshall in the lead role as Maria, and Matt Seely, from North High, portraying Captain Von Trapp. Others in the cast include Lisle Wendy Honstain; Frederick, Joey Posch; Louisa, Wendy Willett and Ann Vick; Brigitta, Heather Cross and Cathy Obeid; Kurt, David Bryant; Marta, Marla Kurz and Mary Fran Obeid; and Grell, Miles Vick and Donna Obeid.

The play will be about 45 minutes long. Scenes from "Love from Judy," a musical version of "Daddy Long Legs," will follow. This three act musical will be performed on May 8, 9, 15, 16.

Cinema canoes down Amazon

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "Amazona," a 16mm movie by Fern and Rip Zwickel, Monday, April 20, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore Road. The public is invited to attend the film showing without charge. The Social Hour following is limited to Cinema League members, however.

The film begins with a visit to the native Indians who inhabit the San Blas Islands off the coast of Panama, where they are photographed making the intricate Cuna Molas, unusual applique embroideries.

There are views of Igassu Falls, one of the most impressive natural spectacles in the world, and Brasilia, center of government.

The Amazon River adventure started in Iquitos where the Zwickels entered the jungle by boat with a guide. They visited the Yagua Indians and photographed stilted houses grass-skirted natives with deadly blow guns, and river market activity. A visit was made to a rosewood distillery and orchid farm.

Manaos, the rubber capital of the world in the early 20th century, is famous for its Opera House, where Enrico Caruso once sang. Built in Paris, it was brought up the Amazon piece by piece.

Belem, a city near the delta where the Amazon surges out into the Atlantic, is on the main channel 10 miles wide.

The photographers embarked on an exciting five-day trip on the Mariwine River in a dugout canoe. A guide and two pole boys guided them through the rapids. At one of their jungle stops, they filmed the complete process of making sun bread, a staple food of the jungle made from manioc roots.

One exciting moment of the river trip was to pick up a native woman "hitchhiker" who gave birth to her baby in the Zwickel's dugout canoe.

Tickets for the Grosse Pointe Cinema League's Annual Banquet and Film Festival, at $9 per person, will be available at this meeting or at the War Memorial Office.

Learn to save a life tonight

The Friends of Bon Secours Hospital will offer training in two life saving skills at the War Memorial, on Thursday, April 16 at 7:15 p.m.

Instructors from Bon Secours will demonstrate cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), an emergency treatment for victims of heart attack, shock, drowning or suffocation. Instructors will also demonstrate an emergency treatment for choking victims.

Admission is free, however, reservations are necessary. Phone 343-1520 for tickets or information.

Individuals already certified in CPR may be recertified in CPR on April 16 at 7 p.m. No tickets or reservations are necessary for recertification.

This health education program is offered by The Friends of Bon Secours Hospital as part of the community health education series, "Town Hall for Health." The activity is presented under the chairmanship of Mrs. Kenneth Adler.

Did you know that there are several different kinds of wine glasses? The largest is generally a red wine glass, also known as the claret. It has an eight ounce capacity and can be used for every wine except sherry and port. Many stemware patterns include only the claret as the wine glass because it is acceptable for serving any wine. There is also a white wine glass which holds six ounces. It can be used to serve any white wine except for the Rhine variety.

If you have the glass, we have the wine. PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit, has the wines that are a perfect compliment for any glass, any meal, and any occasion. ### South singers score high

By Thomas Kitchen

The Pointe Singers, South's vocal ensemble, and three soloists continued their fine showings in the vocal music festivals by receiving superior and excellent ratings at the State Vocal Solo and Ensemble Festival on Saturday, April 4 in Flint.

The 16-member Pointe Singers were judged on sight-reading and performance, and received superior ratings (1) in both categories. The groups were rated superior, excellent, good or poor. Over 80 ensemble groups from throughout Michigan participated.

In the soloist's part of the festival, Kathy Prost, Laura Stanczyk, and Jim Stevenson were able to sing solos because of their superior ratings in the District Festival. Prost was rated superior and Stanczyk and Stevenson were scored excellent.

Even though the State Festival was the last one South will be competing in, there is still more music before the end of the school year. On Saturday, May 16, a big night is on tap as the Concert Choir, Symphony Orchestra, and Symphonic Band highlight an evening of music at Orchestra Hall. Just 11 days after that on May 27, a Pop Concert is scheduled, featuring all the Choral groups at South.

'Rosary Murders' author to speak at War Memorial

William X. Kienzle, author of "The Rosary Murders" and two other popular mystery novels will speak at the annual Friends of The Grosse Pointe Public Library dinner-meeting on Tuesday, May 5 at Fries Banquet Room in The Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Perhaps the most dazzling local success story since Judith Guest (author of "Ordinary People"), Kienzle catapulted onto the literary scene just three years ago and has already completed his third book, "Mind Over Murder." "The Rosary Murders," his first mystery, quickly ascended to the top 10 list in hardcover, became a Bantam paperback and a movie crew is scheduled to move into Detroit in the next few months to begin the motion picture production of it. He is currently under contract to complete seven books.

Despite all of this success, unassuming Kienzle, who doesn't even have an agent, continues to quietly work away at his latest effort. All the books are thrillers and they all star Father Bob Koesler, a super-sleuth priest, who is billed as the literary successor of G. K. Chesterton's famous Father Brown.

What makes the books especially interesting to local readers is that the settings are all Detroit. The good guys and the bad guys move on Jefferson, swing on to Van Dyke, call on priests at local parishes and get written up in the News and Free Press (especially the latter because Kienzle's wife, Javon, is a former Free Press writer).

Kienzle is known to be a witty and entertaining speaker. Friends' annual dinner will also highlight their achievements of the year with President Frank Sladen, Jr., presiding. Chairman of the Social Committee who planned the affair is Mrs. Ross T. Kogel. All Grosse Pointers are invited to join the Friends at their dinner. Contact the library at 343-2074 for more information.

Creelman will appeal dismissal

Parcells Middle School teacher Frank Creelman, who was fired last month by the Board of Education because of alleged insubordination and other charges brought against him by administrators, has appealed his dismissal to the Michigan Tenure Commission a commission spokesman said.

The spokesman, Steven Amberg, said the appeal petition was filed March 31 and details of it will not be made public unless Creelman requests it. Board of Education attorneys have 20 days to answer the appeal. The Tenure Commission could order a rehearing of the case and return Creelman to the classroom if it finds in his favor, Amberg said.

Creelman, 39, taught shop and social studies at Parcells in the Woods for 14 years. He was fired by a unanimous vote of the school board on March 5, after several days of public hearings on some 14 charges brought against him by administrators.

The schools alleged Creelman secretly recorded priate conversations with administrators and refused to answer questions about his showing of the film "The Guyana Tragedy: The Jim Jones Story" to his seventh and eighth grade social studies classes. School attorneys also alleged Creelman intimidated and harassed other staff members and yelled at administrators and a student in public.

Creelman, a resident of Dearborn, could not be reached for comment.

Woods to revise sign law to allow more coverage

A recent Grosse Pointe Woods ordinance that seeks to limit window coverage by signs to 10 percent will be modified by the city because the limit is too hard to enforce.

At its April 6 meeting, the Woods Council approved a motion to increase the limit to 20 percent. The final form of the revised ordinance is yet to be written and adopted by the council.

In its current form, the revised ordinance says "No sign or banner shall be permitted to be affixed or painted on the inside, outside or within three feet of any glass window ... (if it) occupies more than 20 percent of the total area of said window ..."

The original intent of the ordinance was to eliminate excessive signage in some businesses and to provide increased visibility into businesses for crime prevention purposes.

Chief Building Inspector Earl Wakely has been issuing violations since the law was passed Oct. 1 and said that a recent count showed about 30 businesses were in violation of the 10 percent limit.

Wakely said the ordinance was designed to control the clutter created by signs that are fixed directly to windows. The problem in enforcing the 10 percent limit came in the cases of neon signs and other permanent signs that were above the 10 percent limit but were not unsightly or did not block views, Wakely said.

Hearing tests at Memorial

A mobile hearing test unit will be set up in the War Memorial's parking lot on Thursday, April 23, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Provided by the Better Hearing Center free hearing tests and evaluations will be made in a controlled sound booth staffed by doctors and audiologists.

Former Polish ambassador will speak at Bon Secours

The medical staff of Bon Secours Hospital will present the 32nd annual Clinic Day program on Wednesday, April 29.

During the day, Bon Secours Hospital staff physicians and residents will present abstracts of original papers based on clinical research.

Richard T. Davies, former U.S. Ambassador to Poland, will be the guest speaker during the evening program. Davies retired from the government in 1980 after nearly 33 years in the Foreign Service. Twenty-five of those years were spent in assignments involving U.S. relations with the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe and 14 in Eastern Europe, with particular emphasis on Poland. During two assignments there, Ambassador and Mrs. Davies lived in Warsaw for more than seven years.

Davies will discuss the crisis in Poland in a presentation entitled "Quo Vadis?—Poland's future and U.S. policy."

The Bon Secours Hospital

Medical Staff will also present the Semmes and Holden Awards during the evening program.

The Semmes Awards are bestowed twice yearly to the house officer who best exemplify the spirit of the Sisters of Bon Secours. According to Dr. Richard C. Connelly, director of medical education, awardees demonstrate exemplary interest and a sympathetic attitude toward patients and their families.

The Holden Awards are conferred annually for outstanding original papers written by resident physicians during their service at Bon Secours. The papers are based on investigation and research in clinical medicine and surgery.

Burglars get cash and silver

A 77-year-old Grosse Pointe Woods woman was awakened in her bedroom on Saturday, April 4 by two burglars who left her unharmed but took $100 in cash and some sterling silver.

Grosse Pointe Woods Officer Steven Backlund said the woman who lives on North Renaud Road was awakened about 4 a.m., turned on a light and saw a man going through her dresser. Noticing the woman, the intruder said: "Now that you are awake, just sit there and no harm will come to you," police said.

The man had kept his hand over his face so she could not identify him, the woman said. The man asked her where her good jewelry was and she told him she didn't have any, police said. He then called to his accomplice in another room telling him to cut the phone cord, police said. The culprits then told the woman to stay in bed and they fled through a rear door.

Police arrived after the woman called them from a neighbor's home and found the home ransacked. The culprits had gained entry by sliding a glass door on a back porch and breaking an inner window leading to the dining room, police said. Detectives are investigating the incident.

Poupard kids raise cash for St. Jude

What do doll houses, baseball, fashions, racing cars and St. Jude Children's Research Hospital have in common? The skill of mathematics.

Twenty-eight sixth graders at Poupard Elementary School used their math skills in the recent Danny Thomas Math-a-Thon program to raise over $638 for research of children's cancer and other tragic diseases at St. Jude, a Memphis, Tenn. hospital.

"We at Poupard were thrilled to share in this experience. It allowed our youngsters an opportunity to help other children overcome these dreaded diseases," said Bernie LeMieux, the program coordinator.

"I would like to thank the students and their parents for a tremendous effort," LeMieux said. "Hopefully we can expand the program to other grades next year."

Students who participated in the program received a certificate, a T-shirt (if they raised $25 or more) and the top collector received a calculator. Jody Pellow, a sixth grade student in LeMieux's room was the top money collector with $64 pledged.

"When you consider that 28 students collected $638, which averages out to $22.80 per participant, it is difficult to say young people are not responsible," said LeMieux.

The Math-a-Thon is a nationally organized program operated by and for St. Jude's Hospital. Math-a-Thons have raised several thousand dollars for research on children's diseases.

Other participants were

Styx is back in Paradise

By Nick Charles

On July 7, 1958 the Chicago Star printed that "workmen finished the demolition of the Paradise Theatre located on the city's west side." Even though the theater has been gone for more than 20 years it has been brought back in the magical world of music.

The Chicago group Styx has just released its 10th album, "Paradise Theatre," (A&M) dedicated to the late great Paradise Theatre. In a way Styx will bring the Theatre to life once more on April 30 and May 1 at Joe Louis Arena.

The composition of album number 10 is much like the band's seventh album, "The Grand Illusion." It has a very definite concept and is told like a story with a fairly clear beginning, middle and end.

Act one is set up by vocalist/keyboardist and extreme showman Dennis DeYoung. "A. D. 1928" begins the saga of the "Paradise Theatre" which was the year it was built.

Guitarists Tommy Shaw and James Young (J. Y.) help add to the middle of the story on the song "Rockin' the Paradise." Shaw, who trimmed his blond locks for the $4 million tour, also contributed one of the album's hottest songs which is receiving heavy radio air-play called "Too Much Time On My Hands."

Shaw's tall and lanky counterpart, J. Y., who is usually responsible for the harder rockers, added "Half-Penny, Two-Penny" and co-wrote the powerful "Snowblind" with DeYoung. Styx's powerful rhythm section which is made up of the Panozzo brothers; bassist Chuck and drummer John, put a definite conclusion to the Paradise Theatre story.

DeYoung has added another song to his long list of hit single ballads. Even though the group was formed in 1968 it wasn't until 1974 when a song from their second album caught on, it was called "Lady." DeYoung followed up the successful formula with "Suite Madame Blue" from "Equinox," "Jennifer" from "Crystal Ball," "Come Sail Away" from "The Grand Illusion," "First Time" and "Babe" from Cornerstone and his latest hit "The Best of Times."

Even though many critics say Styx is making money instead of music, Styx sticks with what they believe in. They are a peoples' band and with all of these hits, they must be doing something right.

Jazz according to Bonnier

The Grosse Pointe Foundation for Academic Enrichment and the Grosse Pointe North Parent's Club again have made it possible for the "History of Jazz" workshops to be presented to the American Studies students.

Bess Bonnier, an outstanding professional jazz pianist and artist-in-residence at the Detroit Institute of Arts is conducting her workshops at Grosse Pointe North High. This program is a continuation of one begun last year.

Bonnier is currently presenting a series covering the Blues, New Orleans Jazz, Chicago Style Jazz, the Big Band era, Be-Bop and "cool" jazz. She is also working with individual students from Mr. Nate Judson's Band and Orchestra program.

Bonnier was invited to participate in the Band and Orchestra's "Cabaret" evening on April 3. Parents and music lovers from the community joined in this evening of fine entertainment.

Color video-tapes of the Jazz Workshop Series are being developed by Mr. Don Richards, Grosse Pointe North's Audio-Visual Coordinator and placed in North's film library for faculty, student and community use.

Woods bans pool diving

Because of a 1979 accident in which a 20-year-old man was paralyzed and is suing the city for $10 million in damages, Grosse Pointe Woods is prohibiting all unsupervised diving at the main pool in Lakefront Park.

Following a recommendation from the city's insurance carrier, the Woods Council voted on April 6 to paint "no diving" on the pool deck and instruct lifeguards to enforce the regulation.

The accident that prompted the new rule happened in July, 1979 when Raymond Copiellie of Prestwick Road dove into the pool, which varies from two to four feet in depth, and struck his head on the bottom. He is now confined to a wheelchair and studies engineering at Wayne State University. His case is expected to go to trial in about four years.

The diving ban will not apply to the deep diving pool. Since the city's insurance policies will be up for bids in May, a new insurer might not require the ban on diving and the rule could be lifted, according to Councilman Fredrick Lovelace.

North orators take district honors

Twenty-one North High School students went to the District Speech competition Friday, April 3, at East Detroit High and brought back six first, six second, and a third place. Four other speakers reached the final round before being eliminated.

The 12 first and second place finishers competed in the regionals at Bishop Borgess High School last Saturday, April 11, where first and second place finishers qualify for the State contest.

North students swept the District's in three events. Gina Parise and Peggy Barrett placed first and second in Storytelling. Mark Osler finished first and Paul Sylvester second in extemporaneous speaking. In the ninth and tenth grade section of impromptu speaking, Rob Zein named John Panourgias first and David Loren second.

In the open division of impromptu speaking, Rob Zeiger took first place in every round.

In the dramatic duo readings which were also divided into a ninth and tenth grade section and an open section, North also had winners — Cindy Tennent and Joe Serwach and Astrid Romero and Ron Cornell.

D'Ann Stemmielen's second place in humorous reading qualified her for the regionals, and Franci Lucido's third place in serious reading makes her an alternate to the next level of competition.

The Spring Speech activities are part of the statewide program of speech opportunities for high school students sponsored by the Michigan Interscholastic Forensic Association. The Spring Speech competition includes informative speaking, oratory, and radio broadcasting. North had no entrants in oratory or radio broadcasting.

Liquor license turmoil brewing in the Woods

 The situation that resulted when Gabby's license was approved, Gabby's filed bankruptcy shortly after it received its liquor license.

Mayor George Freeman and Councilman Fredrick Lovelace said after the meeting that since the transfer would have made Bielfield, Maxwell and Murray personal owners of the license, they needed more personal financial information about the trio before they could approve their request.

"We've always done that (request personal financial statements) in the past. It's a precedent," according to Freeman.

"I feel I need more information spelled out to make a decision on an issue as important as a liquor license," Freeman added.

However, Bielfield said the information he provided to the council at the April 6 meeting answered a written request the council made after cross examining him at the March 16 council meeting.

"They told me they would send me a written statement requesting information. Everything they asked for they got (at the April 6 meeting.) They never requested a personal financial statement in the letter," Bielfield said.

Bielfield would not say what means of "alternate remedies" he would seek if the Woods council will not reply or grant him reconsideration.

The last successful liquor license applicants were Ronald Serba and Charles Morocco, owners of Le Cafe Francais on Mack. They took the city to court before their tavern license application was approved.

The Le Cafe case prompted the city to pass an ordinance that put a ceiling on the number of licenses that could be approved. The ordinance limits licenses to the current two tavern (beer and wine only) and four class C (liquor).

The total of six operating licenses in the Woods is far below the quota of 15 that the Michigan Liquor Control Commission has allotted to the city according to its population size.

You can 'Forget Harry' but not Carrie

 a good piece of writing, but it was also luck—the fact that a certain person did the judging at the Hopwoods, liked it and passed it on (to Simon & Schuster). It could still be sitting at home.

Never mind "Forget Harry" sitting on the shelf, Carrie is "almost done" with her second novel. It, too, is a book about relationships, but this time tells the tale of a woman in her mid-twenties.

Carrie, who does most of her writing in the evening after jogging and dinner, is a private investigator by day for the R. Winger Detective Agency in St. Clair Shores "where she gets to talk to a lot of interesting people."

"I wanted a job which was nine to five, but where you don't have to bring something home. It's something apart from my writing."

The agency checks out claims by auto companies and manufacturers to see whether they are legitimate or "whether these people are out bowling or skiing."

Carrie, who enjoys her private eye life, would someday like to be able to try out different jobs "just as experience for writing."

"If you have a certain kind of job, you learn about certain kind of people that you can use in your writing. If you just wrote (all the time), you kind of lose touch with the real world," Carrie says.

Carrie's advice for young budding writers is to "stay light." "One thing I really don't want myself and other people to do is at the age of 23 think they conquer the world."

Park voters talk politics

 transfer marina funds into the general ledger once revenues have been used to retire marina bonds, (issued four years ago by the city) and maintain the 270-well piers.

The boaters disagree. Farrant said the association has filed with state Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley's office for an opinion on the city's action.

The WPMBOA letter cites Mayor Matthew Patterson and council members Douglas Graham, John Prost, John Filew and Roger McNeill for their "cavalier treatment" of the boaters at recent council meetings.

"In regards to the meetings with the city council and mayor, it is a matter of some importance to note with grave concern the disrespect and discourtesy manifested by the majority of the council members and the mayor when WPMBOA attempted to present our objections to the rent increases . . ."

THE LETTER goes on to say "it would be worthwhile to give some thought to the removal and/or replacement of the 'old guard' with some new councilmen and mayor."

Meetings between the boaters and the council have been characteristic of shouting matches, residents say. During those meetings, several residents specifically criticized Mayor Patterson.

Patterson hasn't said if he intends to run for his ninth term in office this fall. Graham, Filew and Councilman Ann MacDonald's terms will expire this November also. The letter was not critical of Mrs. MacDonald, who said she will not run again this November. Candidates have until June 16 to file for office.

Graham said he was "disappointed" by the WPMBOA letter and thought meetings with the boat owners had ended on a "positive note."

Member and former president of the WPMBOA, Vince LoCicero, stepped down from his post last week after he disagreed with boat board members about the letter.

LoCicero said his "positions and opinions" about the marina issue "differed from what the rest of the board felt."

Coping with divorce and the death of a child or spouse are times when we need support and understanding from the people around us. As we go through the inevitable grief process, we need to know what changes in our attitudes and feelings to expect and where we can go for help, if needed. We need skills in being able to adjust to the changes in our life.

The session is entitled, "Preparing for the Future: Facing Divorce, Widowhood, and Loss of a Child."

Each participant can attend two workshops followed by lunch and a keynote address, "Lifelines to Coping" by June Shada, founding member, Coordinating Council of Widowed Services of Southeastern Michigan. The workshops will be led by selected experts from the Detroit Metropolitan area and will include: "Young Widowhood," Sister Margaret Basso, Co-founder, Coordinating Council of Widowed Services of Southeastern Michigan; "Divorce," Kay Thompson, Divorce Counselor and Parents Without Partners Advisor; "Losing A Child," Father James Meyer, Director of Chaplaincy, Hutzel Hospital; Associate Chaplain, Children's Hospital of Michigan; "Widowhood after 50," June Shada, Coordinator of Adult Education, Detroit Public Schools; Founding Member of Coordinating Council of Widowed Services; "Helping Children Cope With Divorce," Wendy Appleton, Support Group Leader for SPACE, a community service for widowed and divorced persons and their families; "Family Reactions to Loss," Sister Margaret Basso, Co-founder Coordinating Council of Widowed Services of Southeastern Michigan; "Single Parenting — Managing Alone," Mona Sheppard-Forbes, Executive Director, Woman Center, Detroit; "Developing Your Own Support System," Alice M. ## Why does anyone run?

With only two candidates in the field, there apparently will be no contest for the two seats on the Grosse Pointe school board that will be filled in the June 8 election. It still is possible for a write-in candidate to stir up a contest but that appears unlikely in view of the excellent qualifications of the candidates who have filed.

While some surprise has been expressed at the paucity of candidates, perhaps a more appropriate question to ask at this time is why anyone would be willing to serve in these jobs. They are time consuming. They pay only $400 a year. And they involve dealing with a host of people and problems that cannot be satisfied with easy answers.

EVERY PARENT WHO has a child in school regards himself as an expert on some phase of school operations, if not all of them. Every taxpayer — and especially the taxpayer whose children already have completed their schooling — knows perfectly well that taxes are too high. Teachers and administrators have their own ideas about how the schools should be run and indeed these two groups often propose plans that are different from those of the school board and different from each other.

So why do people serve in such thankless positions in local communities? Certainly it's not for the fame or fortune involved. Nor is school board service regarded as an especially effective way to start a career of public service. Nor, in fact, can the individual board member claim any great credit for accomplishments because any plaudits have to be shared with other like-minded board members, or, as is more often the case, with the professional administrator eager to build a personal reputation.

So if, in short, school board members tend to be blamed when things go wrong and get little praise when they go right, why do they submit themselves to this kind of treatment?

In the end, they serve because of their interest in and concern for public education. They are dedicated to the belief that the schools offer the open door to opportunity in American society. In the Grosse Pointes, they know an excellent school system can become even better in terms of service to students and society. Above all, they regard our young people as this community's greatest natural resource and they want to do their part to see that the schools give this resource every opportunity to reach its full potential.

The news media, of course, do not make the role of the school board member any easier. In general, the news media want the news about the schools and other public institutions as soon as possible and as completely as possible. Sometimes there are differences between the media and the school board, as in the case of the current board withholding the names of the candidates it interviews for superintendent.

The board feels constrained to withhold the names in deference to candidates who may not have informed their present employers of their intentions to seek the job. The news media feel the public is entitled to know something about the caliber of the candidates seeking the job so that the people can have some basis for judging whether the board made the best choice possible. But these kinds of differences are traditional between people who hold public office and the news media and each side does its job with its own interests in mind.

SO WHILE IT might be more exciting to have another school board campaign, and more information might become available to the public about the operations of the schools if there were one or more contests, this newspaper does not really deplore the situation when the community enlists two high quality candidates who appear capable of providing the leadership the school system requires and has enjoyed for so long.

Let's deal on Lakeshore

As the weather warms up, so does the continuing "war" over the potholes on Lakeshore in Grosse Pointe Farms. As the spring breakup makes Lakeshore more and more of an obstacle course, more and more drivers are complaining, as recent letters to the editor of the Grosse Pointe News attest. As anyone who has driven on Lakeshore recently knows, motorists have real cause for their complaints.

The Farms clearly has principle on its side in the dispute. It can and does point to the fact that Lakeshore is a county road running through the Farms and therefore the Farms should not be required to pay even part of the cost of repaving it. If the Farms finances the cost this time, officials contend, the road commission is likely to regard that as a happy precedent for not paying for paving Lakeshore or other county roads in the Farms in the future.

HOWEVER, THE only trouble with that principle is that it already has been breached. The Farms did pay for paving the section from Warner to Fisher Road back in 1975. So the logic of relying on this principle now escapes us, although we can understand why the Farms does not want to continue picking up the tab for work it believes the road commission is responsible for performing.

Meanwhile, drivers who continue on Lakeshore from the Farms to the Shores find it easy riding. The Shores finally got tired of waiting for the county road commission to pick up the entire bill and made peace by assuming part of the cost itself. The work was completed last fall and that section of Lakeshore came through the winter in good shape.

Before the Pointes start losing some of their distinguished citizens in Lakeshore potholes, something is going to have to give. At this point, we suggest the Farms make the best deal it can with the county road commission, even if it means further bending its principle largely because Wayne County is in such desperate financial straits it is unlikely to be able to resume its normal road aid to municipalities for years to come.

If the Farms doesn't want to bend, perhaps it ought to start a public fund raiser for the benefit of Lakeshore. Those Pointers who drive Lakeshore regularly might be asked to contribute to the repair of their favorite pothole. For the individual motorist, making such a contribution might even be cheaper than repairing the damage caused when his car dropped into a Lakeshore pothole.

Letters to The Editor

Nature Center will aid injured animals

To the Editor:

In response to your recent editorial concerning the Chinese ringneck pheasant whose fate is still unknown, I would like to inform you of the following: The Belle Isle Urban Nature Center will accept all injured wild animals and game birds. The majority of the animals that are on display at the Nature Center were either brought to the Center by a concerned citizen or were found by the staff and are in various stages of recuperation.

The Injured Animal Shelter is presently housing, among other animals, three foxes, a coyote, raccoons, a red tailed hawk, a great horned owl, and a swan. When the animal or bird is "cured" and is able to care for itself, it is set free in an appropriate setting. If it is decided by the staff that the animal could not survive on its own, it is given a permanent home. (At this point I should add that any medical attention, operations, etc. that are required for the animals and birds are done by the Michigan Humane Society, free of charge.)

The Nature Center is open Wednesday through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the phone number is 824-6077.

Ironically enough, the same week you ran the editorial on the pheasant, your front page carried a picture of Tom Molyneux, the very dedicated supervisor at the Nature Center, giving ing a lecture on Conservation to Maire School children.

Lakeshore Road practicality

To the Editor:

The tragedy of Lakeshore Road continues. It is now in as bad a shape as almost any thoroughfare in America. The condition of Lakeshore in the Grosse Pointe Farms area is actually dangerous and destructive. The travelers on Lakeshore are daily ruining their tires and having their cars put out of alignment.

Everyone is well aware of the stalemate between the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and the city of Grosse Pointe Farms. But how long are we residents of Grosse Pointe going to have to suffer because of this battle of principle? There comes a time when practicality must overrule principle. I sincerely believe that time has come.

The citizens of Grosse Pointe are among the highest taxpayers in the county, state or nation. We deserve to have our main thoroughfare in A-1 condition. Mayor James Dingeman of Grosse Pointe Farms and the Grosse Pointe Farms City Council should take immediate action to insure that we do.

Senator's Capitol Report

By John F. Kelly

The crusade for tax reductions has produced another proposal for providing relief at the state level of government. While most of the procedures governing the property tax are within the control of locally elected city councils, the governor and legislative leaders produced a package on local property and city income taxes that should be well received by Grosse Pointe residents and municipal governments alike — especially so among our senior citizens.

The proposal, "A," is scheduled for a vote in a special election to be held on May 18. In brief, the plan will:

- Cut property taxes levied for operating purposes by 50 percent, with a homeowner able to receive a property tax cut up to $1,400. The $1,400 maximum would increase annually according to the combined statewide average increase in residential and agricultural assessments. Senior citizens with an income under $5,000 would pay no taxes, including debt retirement on property.
- Cut city income taxes by 50 percent, with suburban residents who work in Detroit eligible for up to a $100 cut in non-resident taxes.
- Limit the growth of property tax revenue collected on various classes of property to six percent a year. If the tax revenue from a class of property is more than six percent higher than the total collected the previous year, the aggregate tax bill for that class would be reduced to the six percent limit. This provision will help limit skyrocketing property assessments, and allow the voters to decide if increased taxes are necessary to maintain municipal services.

- Increased "circuit-breaker" relief, which gives state income tax rebates to taxpayers whose local property tax bills exceed 2.5 percent of their incomes, (this had been 3.5 percent in 1980).
- Cut state spending by an estimated $250 million.
- Reimburse local units of government and school districts for all present and future revenue lost from the property and city income tax cuts.
- Raise the state sales tax from 4 to 5.5 percent to help reimburse local units for lost revenue. (The regressive nature of this tax is offset by the fact that sales tax is not levied on either food or drugs, the major purchases of lower income groups.)

If proposal "A" is approved by the voters, the credits will be reflected in this summer's tax bills. In these times of economic recession for Michigan this is a responsible plan that merits your serious review and consideration. Write my office if you wish an advance copy of the proposal.

On another tax front, several Grosse Pointe seniors have made inquiries regarding the proposed changes in Michigan's Intangibles Tax Act, which taxes stocks, bonds, securities, annuities and other financial instruments. For many of our seniors this is a critical source of support income.

One version of the change, SB 16, exempts from the tax any intangible property belonging to persons 65 or older if at least 50 percent of that person's income is derived from intangibles. HB 4249 increases the deduction from the tax from $175 to $280 for those 65 or older, and for those filing jointly (if both are over 65) the deduction would rise from $350 to not more than $525. SB 7 would repeal the tax entirely.

All three proposals are currently being considered in committee.

The effects of these two sets of tax change proposals will have considerable impact here in the Pointes. When roughly 20 percent of our residents are seniors, a greater percentage than the number of children in school, we realize how critical income issues become. Suggestions on issues are needed. Write Sen. John Kelly, State Capitol, Lansing, 48908.

Know Your Schools

By Superintendent William Coats

From "Book Worms" to a "Summer in Europe," the Grosse Pointe public school system has planned a variety of classes and activities for the 1981 Summer School Program.

As in previous years, the program contains offerings in basic and enrichment courses through both a five-week program and a series of six-day mini-courses. The five-week session will begin on June 22 and the mini-courses will be conducted from Aug. 11 through 13 and 18 through 20.

The summer elementary offerings (for students entering grades two through six) and the middle school courses (for students entering grades seven through nine) will be taught at Brownell Middle School on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. The high school program, in which adult residents can also participate, will meet Monday through Friday at North High School. All minicourses will be given at Brownell.

Strengthening and review work in the basic skills at the elementary and middle school level will be available through reading and mathematics workshops and a language skills course. At the high school level, nearly all of the required, basic courses will be offered.

ENRICHMENT COURSES such as "Book Worms," "On-Stage," "Computer Mathematics," "Beginning and Advanced Instrumental Music," "Sewing" and "Typing" will be available to elementary and middle school students, while high school students and adults can select from a variety of art, English, home economics, industrial education, mathematics and social studies enrichment classes.

Mini-course offerings include classes in the basic skills and enrichment activities in puppetry, microcomputers, music and Chisanbop. In addition, a 21-day "Summer in Europe" tour of selected European cities such as Madrid, Rome, Florence, Paris and London has also been planned for those who want to learn about European culture and society on a first-hand basis.

Details about all of these classes, announcements of summer activities offered by the Department of Community Services, and information about summer driver education are contained in a flyer which is being mailed to all residents of the school district over the next two weeks. For further information after receiving the flyer, call 343-2023 (elementary) or 343-2025 (secondary).

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant, Jr.

The Legislature is finishing the proposed budget for the next state fiscal year which begins Oct. 1.

The last budget item is the Social Services' budget, the welfare budget.

Michigan has been generous with those in need, compared to most other states. When, however, the economy in our state is down, it is necessary to ask if some cut in benefit rates is called for.

The Republican proposal was to set the benefit level at 10 percent above the average of other major industrial states. It would have meant approximately a 10 percent reduction in benefit levels and saved the state well over $50 million. We got the amendment adopted on the first try but the Democratic leadership then got their troops in line and defeated the amendment.

Something is very wrong about having income maintenance mechanisms, including welfare, supplemental unemployment and TRA benefits, at such high levels that the mobility of people is stifled. Part of the lack of mobility is home ownership and it is understandable people can not sell and move when mortgages are so difficult and expensive for prospective buyers and there are not enough buyers.

Somehow, though, we need to increase mobility of people who have little prospect of returning to work at their former employment. It is mobility that brought people to the auto and defense plants of Pontiac, Flint and Detroit. If those jobs are gone, why are the people still here?

Grosse Pointers will be beating a path to Bloomfield Hills and back this spring, traveling to Pine Ridge Drive to view the $1 million English Tudor Showhouse decorated by 22 members of the Michigan Chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers.

It will be open for tours May 1 through 23 to benefit the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The 1981 Showhouse is a fund raising project sponsored by the Junior Women's and Women's Associations for the DSO and the A.S.I.D.'s Michigan Chapter, and the symphony women's groups have joined forces to plan a very special preview evening Wednesday, April 29.

It starts with a 6 to 8 p.m. viewing of the Showhouse. It continues at Bloomfield Hills Country Club, where cocktail supper will be served from 7 to 10 p.m.

Grosse Pointers have been involved in the project since the beginning. Pointer Gayle (Mrs. Andrew) Camden is A.S.I.D. co-chairman of the Showhouse, with Henry Demant, of Huntington Woods.

Park resident Debbie (Mrs. Howard) Tischler has been in charge of mailing. Another Park resident, Nancy (Mrs. John) Burrows shares parking and transportation responsibilities with Jackie (Mrs. David) Ong, of Bloomfield Hills.

Operation LINC (Linking Individuals to Needs in the Community) completes 10 years of service this June. Now settled into a new location in the Northeast Guidance Center's main administrative building at 13340 East Warren Avenue, Detroit, LINC has assisted more than 300 agencies and grass-roots organizations during its decade-long operations.

Groups hear about Operation LINC from others we have assisted or from publicity we receive, and call our office. LINC averages about four new calls per month.

A preliminary report is prepared and passed on to LINC's research chairman, who is responsible for setting up a visit by two LINC volunteers. After hearing their report, the LINC board of directors votes on whether to accept this new organization into its program.

What are the volunteers looking for when they make their visit?

"First, we look at the facility," explains current research chairman Gabriele Pluhar. "There has to be evidence that it is operating and doing what it says it is."

It must be in Wayne County, non-profit and non-political, receive insufficient or irregular funding and be trying to serve the needs of the disadvantaged. It should show evidence of community support and involvement.

Approximately 80 percent of all applications for help are accepted, says Mrs. Pluhar. The requests, which fall most often into the areas of clothing, furniture and office equipment, are placed on file as other LINC volunteers work to fill them.

THREE AGENCIES currently in our "active" files are First Step, a western Wayne County program offering counseling and emergency assistance to battered wives; Snow Community Day Care Center and Detroit Transit Alternative, a facility offering help to runaway youth.

FIRST STEP, 8381 Farmington Road, Westland, was begun in April, 1979, and provides counseling, legal assistance and basic emergency services to battered wives. A staff of 11 works with 60 to 80 new families each month in western Wayne County. Operational funds come from federal, state and local government sources.

First Step is in need of an office copying machine, reports coordinator Deborah Benjamin, as

Auxiliary Docents are new addition to War Memorial

Recent visitors to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial have been pleasantly surprised to find a newly formed Docent Committee available to groups wishing to tour the former home of Russell Alger. The Docents provide a guided tour, with information about the history of Alger House and its furnishings. They are the latest innovation in a long list of activities, programs and projects of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Auxiliary.

In the works is an Alger House Guide Book with photographs by Kay Welcenbach, who is also chairman of the Docents.

The auxiliary is over four years old now. It is for both men and women. Its annual meeting and luncheon is set for next Tuesday, April 21. The program starts at 11:30 a.m.; during it, the auxiliary will celebrate past achievements and outline future objectives. On one thing all agree: new members are needed for all phases of the organization.

Ellie Stephenson, the auxiliary's first president in 1977 and '78, began the difficult tasks of sorting priorities and selecting various leaders for projects. Notable accomplishments under her guidance included renovation of the main office and the beginning of a concerted, ongoing restoration program. The Tapestry Guild, under Harriet Slown, started with a program of research and investigation that culminated in a workshop demonstrating repair and maintenance procedures. Several women meet weekly to do the arduous restoration. They have completely reinforced one 16th century hanging and begun a second one, preserving these antiques for posterity.

Marian Bockstanz, president in 1979 and '80, devoted her time to the completion of the first two years' more difficult tasks and the start of several new ones. More paintings were cleaned, restored and rehung, their frames reglued and re-finished. Solar screening shades were added to protect art and furniture. The Culinary Office was redesigned and refurnished and items were added to the historic collection. Re-upholstery was a running theme during Marian's administration. Virginia Kasza is art consultant and technical assistant on many of the auxiliary's projects. Nancy Heenan is responsible for the beauty of outdoor and indoor plantings and the supervision of their care. Ruth McNamara has kept accurate records of both the volunteers and the hours they have given to Grosse Pointe's unique community center; Ruth herself has donated untold hours in service to the blind. The auxiliary's new president for 1981-82 is Mary Ann Draper, who for years has provided guidance and attention to detail in selecting hosts, hostesses and theater ushers for the War Memorial's myriad activities. The auxiliary's motto continues to be Service, Restoration and Preservation.

Safari night for Jardiniers

Members of La Societe des Jardiniers and their husbands journeyed out to Farmington Hills early in the month for a buffet supper at the show-place home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Yagoda. The Yagodas (she is a member and former officer of the garden club), who have been on several African safaris, entertained guests with comments on their display of artifacts from Africa and other stops on their round-the-world travels.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Viane, also of Farmington Hills, co-hosted the evening.

Mrs. Thomas Molloy was the Jardiniers' hostess for this year's Treasures and Trinkets sale at the Shore Club. Again this year, Suburbia Garden Club members were guests at the Treasures and Trinkets luncheon, and helped to make the sale a great success.

Co-hostess for this March event was Mrs. Jerry Deeney.

From Another Pointe Of View

Farms resident Helen Anton heads the Souvenir Program Patrons Committee, and among the participating studios are three that are Pointe-based: William Denler & Company, Lambert-Brow Interiors, Inc., and Reilly & Sands, Ltd.

The Showhouse living room has been designed by William H. Denler, F.A.S.I.D., to create a romantic atmosphere in a casual setting. He's using warm colors and old world fabrics, combining new and antique furnishings, working with pattern on pattern and accenting the whole with intriguing accessories.

Lambert-Brow's Norman Nelson Brow, A.S.I.D., Sue Wessinger, A.S.I.D., and Jack E. Beardsley, A.S.I.D., accepted responsibility for the foyer and balcony.

Their center entrance hall reflects an old world ambiance in tune with today's living. They're using vibrant, fresh colors to give a feeling of warmth and welcome and background wallpaper in a small, subtle design to accent paintings and fine accessories.

Their seating arrangement is upholstered in a Fortuny-type print repeated in the portieres.

S. Douglas Sands, A.S.I.D., has placed an 18th century crystal and gilt chandelier in the dining room. Cinnabar lacquered paneling reflects its fire and sparkle.

The table and chairs, of mellow wood, will rest on a multi-colored Dhurrie, its border reflecting the Chinese yellow of the ceiling. Furniture, art and accessories are a blend of the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries.

And these are just three of the rooms to be featured in this year's Showhouse. It's a new house, custom built by Abbey Homes, and the A.S.I.D. decorators are designing super motifs for the kitchen and breakfast room, family room and music room, powder room, upstairs bedroom areas and a uniquely shaped studio.

There are a pair of special Showhouse features, too: the Music Box Boutique and a Garden Shoppe. Showhouse tour ticket prices are $4 through April 30, $5 thereafter. Groups of 20 or more will be admitted at $3.50 per person.

Tickets are available at Hudson's (Thomas C. Grabowski, A.S.I.D., of Hudson's Interior Design Studio, is doing the family room), all CTC outlets or by writing to Symphony A.S.I.D. Showhouse, P.O. Box 221, Bloomfield Hills, Mich. 48313. Tickets also will be available at the door.

The Showhouse is located north of Long Lake Road and east of Lahser Road, in Echo Ridge, on the grounds of the former Emory Clark estate which, along with other estates in the area, was the site of fox hunting by the Bloomfield Open Hunt in the 1920s.

WICI to hold honors meeting on April 27

The impact of attempts by special interest groups such as the Moral Majority to pressure broadcast programming and advertising will be the topic of Richard Salant, vice-chairman of the National Broadcasting Company, speaker at the annual honors meeting of the Detroit Chapter of Women in Communications, Inc., Monday evening, April 27, at the Michigan Inn.

Salant, a national WICI Headliner of the Year last fall, came to NBC in May, 1979, from CBS, where he had been president of CBS News for 16 years.
 Reservations for the event that will name a local Headliner, the winner of the chapter's first Vanguard Award and its annual college scholarship winner may be made by mail, at $25 per person, (checks should be sent to Marcia Danner, Michigan Living, Auto Club Drive, Dearborn, Mich. 48126), or by calling 336-1500.

In Saint James Lutheran Church Saturday, November 1, ELIZABETH MARIE SCHOENEGGE, daughter of the Walter Schoenegges, of Berkshire Road, spoke her marriage vows to Mr. Forcelle, son of the Ernest Forcelles, of Silver Bay, Minn.

Miss Schoenegge wed in November

She selects lace gown and cap and silk veil for ceremony at which she becomes bride of Richard Joseph Forcelle

Elizabeth Marie Schoenegge chose a gown of white lace for her marriage Saturday, November 1, in Saint James Lutheran Church to Richard Joseph Forcelle. The 5 o'clock rites, at which The Reverend George Schelter presided, were followed by a reception at Stapleton Hall.

The bridal dress was designed with a high, lace collar and a skirt fashioned of lace tiers extending into a cathedral length train.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schoenegge, of Berkshire Road, selected a lace Juliet cap to hold her silk veil. White roses and baby's-breath formed her Colonial bouquet.

She was attended by honor maid Lisa Wilson Mathews and bridesmaid Mrs. David E. Couser, the former Kimberly Black, in long, mauve dresses with ivory lace yokes, carrying Colonial arrangements of mauve, rose and white roses, with baby's-breath.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Forcelle, of Silver Bay, Minn., asked Larry Beck to act as best man. Ushering were David Rinehart, Ron Kvame, Gregg Hagg and Kurt Schoenegge.

It was a Naval wedding; all the men in the wedding party, with the exception of Kurt Schoenegge, brother of the bride, were the bridegroom's fellow recruiting officers.

The mother of the bride and the mother of the bridegroom both selected formal length gowns, the former's pale blue in color, with a lace jacket, the latter's navy blue, trimmed in white. Their flowers were white rosebuds.

The newlyweds vacationed in northern Michigan. They are making their home at Selfridge Air National Guard Base.

Offer excerpts from 'Anoush'
In an unusual operatic "backers audition" last week, Michigan Opera Theatre General Director David DiChiera presented excerpts from MOT's forthcoming production of "Anoush" to some 500 guests at a benefit luncheon sponsored by the Detroit Armenian Women's Club. The idea behind the event was to provide financial support for the ambitious project, scheduled to open Oct. 30 and run six performances at the Music Hall.
"Anoush," by Armen Tigranian, is the national opera of Armenia. It has never before been professionally produced in the western world, nor has it ever previously been sung in English.
Citing "Anoush" as a perfect example of a type of nationalistic opera of the 19th century which derived its inspiration from the Italian model but adapted it to reflect the unique traditions of its own homeland, DiChiera stressed MOT's commitment to exploring many such unfamiliar works over the next decade.
"Detroit is wonderfully well suited to this endeavor," he noted, "because of the rich cultural mix represented in the city. And virtually every culture has at least one operatic masterwork little known outside its homeland. Discovering them will be an exciting adventure for all of us."
With George Darden, the company's guest coach-accompanist, at the piano, DiChiera illustrated the ways in which the musical traditions of Armenia differ from those of the western world.
To show how these differences are reflected in "Anoush," MOT Artist Intern Diane Jamison, soprano, sang the title character's Willow Song in its new English translation. Baritone Andreas Poulimenos, last season's Don Giovanni at MOT, sang another aria from the opera in its native Armenian.
Mrs. Ara Berberian chaired the benefit, which was held in the cultural building of Saint John's Armenian Church in Southfield. Mrs. Rerj H. Haidostian is serving as general chairman for "Anoush" fund raising.
To date, more than $30,000 has been contributed toward the exceptional expenses involved in mounting a production that is totally new in all its components, from costumes and sets through copying the score and translating the libretto.

Miss Barrett says vows to Mr. King
 Bride is attended by three sisters, bridegroom by three brothers; newlyweds vacation on Sanibel Island

A gown of ivory silk chiffon, styled with a short train and a bodice trimmed with French lace and seed pearls, was Maureen Ann Barrett's choice for her marriage Saturday morning, January 31, in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore to Mark Gerard King.

Her fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap accented with matching lace. White roses, baby's-breath and stephanotis formed her bouquet.

She was attended by three sisters, Nancy Barrett as honor maid and Anne Barrett and Mary Lou Dunipace, of Bowling Green, O., as bridesmaids, in dresses of huckleberry Qiana featuring blouson bodices and accordion pleated skirts, carrying pink carnations and baby's-breath.
 They are the daughters of Dr. and Mrs. F. Mullen Barrett, of Touraine Road.
 The bridegroom was attended by three brothers, Max King as best man and ushers David and John King. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Max King, of Bloomfield Township.

The 10 o'clock rites at which Monsignor Francis X. Canfield presided were followed by a reception in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Ballroom.

The newlyweds vacationed in Florida, on Sanibel Island. They are at home in St. Clair Shores.

Mrs. Barrett chose a dress of American Beauty chiffon, with a ruffled neckline, for her daughter's wedding. She carried a gardenia corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a dress of grey chiffon with a lace yoke. Her corsage, too, was a gardenia.

Cynthia Shortt will be bride
 Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Shortt, of Sarasota, Fla., formerly of Prestwick Road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia Margaret, to Paul Theodore Gohlke, son of Helen Gohlke, of Fraser, and the late Theodore E. of Science degree from Michigan State University where she affiliated with Chi Omega sorority, now works as a personnel consultant for American Personnel in Southfield.
 Her fiancé, who was graduated from Osborn High School, manages Production Tapping Company in Sterling Heights.

The group's agenda calls for installation of a slate of officers for 1981-82 headed by Mrs. Erwin Goring as president and Mrs. Henry Lampman and Mrs. Kenn as first and second vice-presidents, respectively.

Mrs. Edward Wells will serve as secretary, Mrs. Marc Brown as treasurer.

The chapter members will tour the Wardwell House, one of the oldest residences in the area, dating back to pre-1796 when records show it was inhabited by a Joseph Morin. Mrs. Carter will give an account of its history.

Wilson-Maxon nuptials planned for September

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Maxon, of Kalamazoo, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jennifer, to W. Barry Wilson, son of Mrs. James P. Grizzard, and Wallace S. Wilson, both of Houston, Tex.

Miss Maxon is the granddaughter of Mrs. Paul Maxon and Mrs. Richard W. Bachmann, both of Grosse Pointe Farms, and the late Mr. Maxon and Mr. Bachmann.

The bride-elect and her fiancé are both freelance photographers, currently working in Los Angeles, Calif., and plan to move their studio to Houston in the near future. A September wedding is planned, in Kalamazoo.

To demonstrate pruning

The Grosse Pointe Rose Society will present its annual spring pruning demonstration this Saturday, April 18, in the garden of Mary Taveggia, 11941 Lakepointe, between Morang and Seven Mile Road, from 2 until 5 p.m. All rose growers are invited to attend.

Paul Desmet, of Briarstone Road, is in charge of the program. He will be assisted by several of the society's knowledgeable rose growers. The demonstration is an excellent opportunity to see how all varieties of roses should be pruned in order for the plants to produce to their maximum ability. Those who bring rose clippers will have the opportunity to prune a plant under the guidance of a Consulting Rosarian.

There'll also be an opportunity to have rose clippers sharpened so they will make good, clean cuts without mashing the cane. Pointer NORMA RUSH-TON, a representative of Children's Oncology Services of Michigan, Inc., recently accepted a check for $2,550 for Ronald McDonald House. The funds were raised by the Beta Eta chapter of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority at the University of Michigan.

Pointer of Interest

By Peggy O'Connor

The 1981 Grosse Pointe Academy Action Auction has a tough act to follow this year—its own. Action Auction raised $175,000 in 1980 and, given the tough economic times, might be hard pressed to repeat such a resounding success.

Despite the times, the Academy folks are giving it their best shot. In addition to the usual array of fabulous auction items, the 1981 Action Auction will feature a number of firsts, including a change in location, says Tom Sieber, 1981 Action Auction co-chairman.

"We knew that with the growth of the Action Auction we'd have to find a place other than the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. The Detroit Athletic Club will provide a very elegant setting for the auction."

Sieber is co-chairing the auction with his wife, Judy. They've worked on production for the last two years, and have devoted their attention to the 1981 auction since last April. The early start was to search for new surroundings for the fast-growing auction.

The Milwaukee, Wis., native spends his time away from the Action Auction as chairman and president of Alloys Unlimited, Inc. And despite the fact that Sieber has been devoting a lot of energy to the Academy's major fundraising event, Sieber says he really doesn't mind.

"Really, this is the first charity I've been involved with where I've spent time and money—and I love it. You couldn't do all of this, put up with all of the grief, if you didn't love it."

Part of that "grief" came in moving the auction, one of his major duties this year. "We moved to the Detroit Athletic Club because to continue the growth, we had to move. The growth has been amazing. Five years ago, we made $44,000; last year it was $175,000," Sieber says.

He adds that the total will probably be about the same because of the poor economy. "Consequently, we had to go out and spend more money because the local merchants just couldn't make as many of the $20-$50 item donations."

As hard as the Action Auction has been hit by a downturn in the economy, the Grosse Pointe Academy itself has felt the pinch where it hurts—in its educational funding.

"There is a deficit per child at the Academy," Sieber says. Tuition is high, but it just doesn't do the job. Plus, we don't have people leaving us big endowments. The Action Auction is the Academy's major fundraiser. Hopefully, the auction and the annual giving drive will cover our needs.

"The Action Auction, however, is primarily to help bring in money for the educational deficits. Any money left over would go to making improvements."

Sieber says he is excited about Action Auction '81 because of the way it draws the community outside the Academy to participate. Those who are drawn to the DAC on Saturday, May 9, will participate in what Sieber hopes will be "a more relaxed, yet more elegant evening."

To begin that elegant evening, auction guests will arrive at the DAC, take advantage of free valet parking, and head for the second floor where the Silent Auction will take place from 4 to 6 p.m.

"We have a revised and improved computer system for the Silent Auction," Sieber says. Bidders can enjoy hors d'oeuvres and cocktails while their bids are fed continuously into computers which will relay the top bidder's paddle number into five banks of monitors located throughout the DAC.

A slide program detailing the Academy's educational techniques and featuring the Academy and its kids will be shown at 6:30 as Silent Auction bidders make their way to the assembly level for a preview of the Live Auction and the raffle drawing.

THOMAS G. SIEBER, CO-CHAIRMAN OF THE 1981 GROSSE POINTE ACADEMY'S ACTION AUCTION, AND HIS CHILDREN: ACADEMY STUDENTS ELIZABETH AND JONATHAN SIEBER, OF SUNSET LANE.

In another first for the Action Auction, Chrysler chairman Lee Iacocca will draw the raffle winner of a new, fully equipped K-Car at about 6:45 p.m. Then auctioneer Larry DuMouchelle will preside over the Live Auction, which should last from 7 to 9 p.m.

Among the wide assortment of items Mr. DuMouchelle will auction off are returns from past auctions, such as a cruise to the Bahamas, the popular Ford freighter trip, a vacation, villa in Acapulco, ski vacations in Aspen and Big Sky, a Leroy Neiman print, a playfort, playhouse and dollhouse, and delightful repasts cooked up by Rudy Stonisch and Charity Sucek.

As great as those sound, veteran bidders will probably begin licking their chops at the thought of the new items at Action Auction '81. Among those is a "Mystery trip"—with interesting extras, a valuable grandfather clock, an Oriental rug and a hand-carved Chinese screen, tickets to the 1982 Superbowl in Pontiac—and to top it all off—a long weekend at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

And in a night of firsts, the Action Auction will conclude with a gourmet, sit-down dinner, followed by dancing. "We really feel this will be an elegant evening. Because this dinner is a first, reservations should be made as soon as possible," Sieber says.

Reservations for the post-auction dinner and the three preview parties (another first), may be obtained by contacting Tony Roesch at 886-1820 or 886-1221.

Even though it's been a lot of work, Sieber says he's had fun getting involved. And Academy students Elizabeth and Jonathon have gotten involved as well, as they spent part of their Florida vacation selling raffle tickets.

The night of fun and "elegance" at the DAC on May 9 will probably bear out what Action Auction co-chairman Tom Sieber says of the whole experience: "Once you get involved, it's absolutely fantastic."

MARY C. WRIGHT, of Fleetwood Road, is among 330 high school or community college student who are recipients of the 1981-82 Recognition of Excellence Awards given by Eastern Michigan University. Winners of the $1,000 scholarships must have earned a minimum 3.5 grade point average in high school and demonstrate outstanding leadership. Mary is a Bishop Gallagher High School student.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol—and penny-wise—cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt ROTH, featuring, this week, a dinner based on PORK.

Due to modern procedures pork is no longer the fatty meat of yore; in fact, it is approximately 50 percent less in calories than years ago. Pork must always be served well done which further helps to eliminate more fat. Many old cookbooks recommended cooking pork to an internal temperature of 185° but researchers have found it is well done at 170°—leaving the meat more juicy, tender and tasty.

Pork is highly nutritious and should not be overlooked. Small amounts of pork enhance the flavor of many another otherwise mundane dish.

One delicious menu featuring pork is:

- Gingered Pork*
- Brown Rice
- Steamed Broccoli
- Tray of Crudites*, Ranch Dressing
- Divine Apple Crisp*

*Do not overlook cauliflower and broccoli flowerets, sliced zucchini and Jerusalem artichokes (sometimes called Sunchokes) for your crudite tray.

GINGERED PORK
1 Lb. very lean pork, cut into 1-inch cubes
2 Tbsp. flour
1/4 cup canned chicken broth
1/4 cup water
2 Tbsp. soy sauce
2 Tbsp. sherry wine
2 Tbsp. green onions with tops, thinly sliced
1 very small clove garlic, crushed
1 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. ground ginger
Dash of pepper
Hot cooked brown rice
Shake pork cubes with flour in a paper bag. Heat oil in large heavy skillet. Add all of meat and brown quickly; remove with slotted spoon; reserve meat. Pour remaining oil from skillet. Combine chicken broth, water, soy sauce and sherry in skillet. Add onion, garlic, sugar, ginger, pepper and browned pork. Bring to boil; lower heat; cover; simmer 15 minutes or until pork is tender. Serve over hot brown rice. Makes 4 servings. Calories about 235 per serving. Cholesterol about 69 mgs.

DIVINE APPLE CRISP
One of the most delicious desserts and so very healthy!

- 4 cups peeled, cored and thinly sliced cooking apples
- 1 cup crushed corn flakes
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
- 1/4 cup raisins
- 1/4 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/4 cup apricot, apple or other compatible fruit juice

1/4 cup margarine, melted
Spread apple slices in 10x2-inch round glass baking dish or souffle dish. Cover with fruit juice. Combine remaining ingredients, mixing until crumbly. Sprinkle evenly over apples.

Bake in preheated 350° oven about 30 minutes or until topping is browned and apples are very well done. Serve warm with whipped topping. Makes 6 servings. VARIATIONS—apples may be replaced by a 30-ounce can of plums, apricots, peaches or other similar fruit. Drain fruit, seed and cut into quarters. Use 1/4 cup of fruit juice from the can for moisture.

Can Babcock & company make North No. 1 in '81?

By Tim Saunders
North High

Question: Which was the last high school baseball team to win the Class A State Championship more than once in its history?

Answer: No team has accomplished that feat. That's the task facing coach Frank Sumner and the Grosse Pointe North varsity baseball team in 1981 as they try to match last year's remarkable 29-4 record and go after their second consecutive state high school baseball championship.

Sumner welcomes back eight players from last year and his 18 man roster is made up of nine seniors, seven juniors and two sophomores.

Missing in the 1981 addition will be the power which characterized last year's team. That team battled .364 and hit 30 home runs. Still, Sumner feels that the speed and teams ability to hit for average will provide them with more than enough runs to make a legitimate run at the state title once again.

If things go as planned the number of necessary runs will be held to a minimum because the major strength on this team is found within the pitching corps. Of the 18-man squad, 11 have had previous pitching experience.

The staff is led by senior co-captain Bill Babcock, "Dollar Bill"—as he's called by his teammates—is coming off a 13.0 year in which he recorded an unbelievable .27 ERA. In 77 innings last year Babcock struck out 125 batters while walking only 19. He also pitched seven shutouts and two no-hitters in the state tournament.

John Hackett, another left hander, will be the number two starter after going 4.0 last year. Hackett will play a major role this season as will John Clem, Scott Young and John Menzo who will be expected to hold down the remaining starting assignments.

Sumner realizes that the success of this team could rely heavily on the pitching he gets from his starters. A good year from at least two other pitchers aside from Babcock could be the key to the entire season.

Defensively the Norsemen should have a very solid team anchored by catcher Pete Mogk. His leadership qualities coupled with a repeat of last year's .333 average will be a big asset.

Co-captain John Clem moves from third to short this season to make room for junior John Muller who will hold down the hot corner.

Dave Monarch will be the first baseman, backed up by Chris Flood. Second base will be handled by sophomore John Menzo. "I've really been impressed with his ability around the bag," said Sumner, "John has very quick hands."

Centerfielder Scott Young will take charge in the outfield and could turn out to be the most valuable player in the regular lineup. He's got the strongest arm in the outfield, has great speed and proved his offensive ability last year with a 328 average, two homeruns and 20 RBI.

Eric Schubert will be in rightfield while the leftfield job is still open with Craig Stafford, Bruce Stewart and Dave Babcock vying for the starting job.

Don Luberto will serve as designated hitter as well as backup to Mogk behind the plate. The remainder of the squad includes pitcher Dave Wittwer, infielder Bob Boesiger and outfielders Chris Neal and Bob Henry.

North's season will not be an easy one as Sumner points out. "We have probably the toughest schedule this year and will be playing four of the top teams in the state."

Certainly the Norsemen would have to be considered the likely favorite to win the Bi County but beyond that is still a question mark. Although no team has ever won the state title more than once in tournament history, Sumner is convinced that they have as good a chance as any. "Like our motto says," Sumner adds, "we want to be Number One in '81."

Last year, lefthanded pitcher Bill Babcock helped pitch Grosse Pointe North to a state Class A baseball title. Above, Babcock poses with his 1980 Most Valuable Player trophy. The Norsemen are counting on Babcock, as well as pitchers John Hackett, John Clem, Scott Young and John Menzo to bring them an unprecedented second straight championship.

All Pointes swimmers finish fifth in close meet

By Earl Duignan

The All Pointes Swim Club concluded its Michigan Metro Winter League season by scoring 590 points and a fifth place finish in the 10 team league championships, held at Southfield High School.

The championship meet, which pits the two best swimmers from each team in the respective age groups and stroke categories, was captured by regular season champion Clarenceville with 1,005 points.

Although the fifth place finish was slightly lower than head coach Les Roddis had anticipated, the young east siders fell only nine and 16 points short of fourth and third place, respectively.

As the meet unfolded, it became evident that it was actually three meets in one. Clarenceville and the Dearborn Recreation Dolphins conducted a dual meet for the championship with the Dolphins finishing a distant second with 875 points.

The battle for third evolved into a triangular struggle between All Pointes, the Michigan Stingrays, and Livonia Spartan Aquatic Club, with the latter emerging from the three way competition with 606 points and a third place in the standings.

The host Southfield team finished a distant sixth with 487 points to finish atop the bottom half of the meet standings.

There were several noteworthy individual performances for the local swimmers as they captured five of the 51 championship events. Three of the five winners were in the 8 & under age bracket as Lori Ruohomaki, Mike Bucciero, and Dan Shanle all came away with individual honors.

All three combined with Denise Vittiglio to record a second place finish in the 100 yard mixed free style relay in 1:03.38. In individual events, Ruohomaki recorded a first by capturing the girls' 25 yard free style event in 16.67.

Bucciero won the boys' 25 yard breast stroke event in 19.23, and recorded a 15.64 in finishing third in the 25 yard free style. Shanle's victory came in the 25 yard back stroke as he recorded a 17.54.

Sue Benoit recorded a narrow victory in the girls' 12 & under 50 yard event with a time of 31.94, as well as capturing a second in the 50 yard butterfly event in 31.61.

In boys' competition, Andy Scott established a new league standard in the 18 & under back stroke with a time of 56.38, eclipsing the old mark by more than one-half second. Scott also recorded a second in the boys' 13 & up 200 yard individual medley in 2:05.76.

Local bowlers roll strikes for ALASEM

American Lung Association community services received a generous boost last month from Grosse Pointe area youth bowlers who raised $1,400 for the prevention and control of lung disease.

Members of the youth bowling leagues at Grosse Pointe Woods Bowling, on Mack Avenue, participated in a Bowl-A-Thon fund raising program by collecting pledges for every pin they toppled. Participating teams included a boys' VFW, girls' VFW and Harper Woods Recreation Department leagues which bowl weekly.

Grosse Pointe Woods Bowling has generously hosted the American Lung Association Bowl-A-Thon fund raiser for the fourth year.

For the second year, volunteer members of the Grosse Pointe Alumnae chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority coordinated the program for the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan (ALASEM).

Bowl-A-Thon participants competed for awards including first, second and third place plaques for the three persons in each league collecting the most pledges. Other awards included "Champion Bowler" T-shirts.

Overall Bowl-A-Thon winner was Paul Cyr, 15, of the Woods. He raised $262 for the American Lung Association. Other Pointe residents receiving awards were Paula Papalexou, 10, of Fisher road and Mike Tomlinson, 8, of Edmundton Drive.

Harper Woods bowlers who won top honors were Becky Chosy, 10, Danny Capizzo, 11, Milly DeLorenzo, 12, and Julie Mertz, 11.

Kim Sauer, 12, and Mike Hinz, both St. Clair Shores residents, also received Bowl-A-Thon awards.

"We are very proud of our youth bowlers who are always eager to help those less fortunate than themselves," said Jack DeGriek, proprietor of Grosse Pointe Woods Bowling.

MBT offers bicycle tours through scenic Michigan

The early 1800's inventor of the first bicycle probably would be amazed by today's lightweight, specialized versions of his creation. Today's model differs greatly from the initial pedalless, hard-to-steer wooden bike one rested upon while propelling self and vehicle along by pushing on the ground with the feet.

Typically, refinements were added quickly, including pedals, better steering, a high front wheel, and rubber tires, all by the mid-1800's. Daily use of the bicycle, as well as recreational uses, developed into a craze in this country by the 1890's. Then the fad died around the turn of the century, and did not see much of a revival until after World War II. From that point on, with occasional plateaus or declines, the use of bicycles as recreational vehicles and everyday transportation by American adults has climbed.

Interest in bicycling, enhanced by our nation's increasing interest in physical well being, as well as by fuel shortages and higher gasoline prices, has gained a new expression in the last few years with the formation of numerous bicycle touring organizations around the country. One such organization, offering two-, three-, and five-day bicycle tours is convenient northern Michigan, is Michigan Bicycle Touring (MBT).

MBT tours are designed for all levels of cyclists, with each day's routes including multiple mileage choices so a rider can do a ride that's comfortable. "The idea is that there are tours anyone can handle," says MBT director Michael Robold. "We are planning 48 two-day tours, four three-day tours, and 12 five-day tours for 1981." Distances can vary from 10 to 110 miles in a day. MBT and other biking organizations combine the best of independence and service in their tours. At least two tour guides accompany riders during the day to be available in case of mechanical failures. Lodging arrangements and most meals are included in MBT's tour price, this year ranging from $99 to $118 for two-day tours.

Details of various MBT tours and the schedule for 1981 can be obtained free by contacting MBT by writing Michigan Bicycle Touring, 162 Golfview Drive (MD) Brooklyn, Mich., 49230.

Burns named to net team

Our Lady Star of the Sea High School graduate Beth Burns, a junior physical education major at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids, has been named a member of the women's tennis team by head coach Lenore Kalenda. The nine-member team began its season on March 26 when it challenged cross-town rival Calvin College. The highlight and conclusion of the season will be at the SMAIAW state tourney May 7 through 9. Burns graduated in 1978 from Star, where she participated in basketball, volleyball and softball. She received all-league honors for two years and most valuable player honors in basketball and all-league and all-city honors for three years in softball. She was also named most valuable player for all four years in softball. Burns is the daughter of Don and Ann Burns of Moross Road.

Aquinas College netter

Joan Dennehy, above, a tennis standout and 1979 graduate of Our Lady Star of the Sea High School, has been chosen as a member of the women's tennis team at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids. The 1981 women's tennis season began on March 26 when the Saints challenged cross-town rival Galvin College. The highlight and conclusion of the season will be on May 7-9 when the squad will participate in the SMAIAW state tourney. At Our Lady Star of the Sea, Dennehy participated on both the volleyball and tennis teams. As a four-year varsity tennis letter-winner, she received most valuable honors and led her team to the women's Class D title her senior year. Dennehy, a sophomore at Aquinas, plans to major in social science. She is the daughter of John and Joan Dennehy of Kensington Road.

Get ready to run

By Deanne Hawthorne
 Vital Options, Inc.

Michigan weather being what it is, it's important to dress properly when you're out walking, jogging or running and getting in shape to join in the fun on May 3 at Cottage Hospital's "Start A Healthy Habit" fun run walk.

Walking, jogging and running are wonderful exercise programs because you can do them practically anywhere and with so little equipment. The most important piece of equipment is your shoes.

A shoe with arch support, heel stability and a sole with cushioning to absorb shock is a must. This is one area where you shouldn't skimp. Without proper shoes, you may find that you will have discomfort in your knees, ankles or hips.

Most area athletic shops have knowledgeable salespeople who will help you select the proper shoe. Remember to leave a thumb's width in the toe area. Runners usually buy shoes a half size larger than their regular shoe size. This will prevent blisters on the ends of your toes as well as blackened toenails from constant pressure.

Keep in mind that your head is your thermostat. A hat during the winter months is a must. Layering is the way to go. Wear a jogging suit, turtle neck and gloves. Now that springtime is here, you may want to remove the hat and gloves, replace the turtle neck with a t-shirt, and the jogging pants with shorts. Don't take off too much too soon. It's important to keep your muscles warm.

Vital Options, Inc. will be available each Saturday morning at South High track at 8 a.m. to help you start your healthy habit and get in shape for the fun run walk.

Your participation also will benefit the community. Proceeds from the run/walk will go to the hospital's new ambulatory surgical unit. Entries are available at Cottage Hospital or area libraries and stores. Walkers are also welcome.

Walkers get ready— SUPERWALK '81 is set

The 11th Annual March of Dimes SUPERWALK has gone national in 1981 with WALK AMERICA as the theme. Popular local rock star Bob Seger is honorary chairman of SUPERWALK as it gears for takeoff on Sunday, April 26, 8 a.m. at Belle Isle, Stony Creek and the Silverdome.

With clowns, celebrities, sports personalities, antique fire engines, hot air balloons, free Vernors along all routes, and a hoped for great spring day, SUPERWALK '81 promises to be the largest, most successful walking event for charity in the country.

WDRQ, Vernors and 7-Eleven Stores are co-sponsoring the event and more than 25,000 SUPERWALKERS are expected to cover the 32 kilometers.

Foot care, "poop out" buses, communications, first aid and more than 500 volunteers will help make the event a safe comfortable one for all participants.

The Belle Isle SUPERWALK begins at the Casino at 8 a.m. Shuttle buses will be available for participants from Jefferson to the Casino. Buses will also be available at Northland, Eastland and Westland for early morning transportation to the Casino. Late afternoon return trips to the individual shopping centers will be made. A fee and a reservation is required for this service and may be obtained by calling 863-3000.

WalkAmerica's SUPERWALK '81 will be held on April 26, rain or shine. In the event of a downpour, the walkathon will be shortened and Superwalkers will be given 4 kilometers credit for each kilometer completed up to a total of 32.

Superwalkers are asked to wear light-colored clothing, to obey traffic signals and stay on designated walkways

ULS Knights start baseball season with win

By Bill Gore
ULS

The ULS baseball team started off its season with a 7-2 victory over the Roseville Baptist Academy Eagles.

The Knights controlled the entire game by jumping out to a quick two run lead in the first inning. With the strong pitching of sophomore John Kulka, the Knights were able to hold the Eagles scoreless until the third inning.

The Knights countered with a run in the fourth inning before the Eagles scored again during that inning.

The Knights rallied for three runs in the fifth inning to clinch the game.

Finishing on the mound in fine style was sophomore Jeff Parks, who relieved Kulka in the sixth inning.

The big bats for the Knights were senior Mike Kirkpatrick with two hits and two RBIs and senior Peter Ulrich with two hits and one RBI.

Parks also recorded one hit and three stolen bases.

The defensive star of the game was pitcher Kulka who earned seven strikeouts while giving up only two hits and no walks.

South High netters ready to begin year

By Mark Clark
South High

Despite a heavy graduation loss, South's tennis team is looking forward to another successful season. With the loss of rival Port Huron Northern from the schedule due to a millage failure, the Blue Devils are heavy favorites to claim the EML title.

"We shouldn't have much trouble winning this year.

Port Huron Northern was always the toughest competition," observed coach Donald Zysk.

South's biggest question mark this year will be in the doubles' competition where only one team is back from last year. Returnees Todd Ciavola and Todd Pierce will fill the void left at No. 1 doubles, but the other vacancies remain to be filled.

Vying for the other spots are the teams of Brian Doyal and Peter Ruwart, brothers John and Rick Pastoria, and Peter Wack and John Miksell.

In singles, three returning players, Karl Tewes, Steve Kornmeier and Bill Kohr, should give the inexperienced Devils good balance. Other singles players looking to contribute are Steve Kosmos, Casey Grow, Tim Stubenrouch, Spencer Newton and Mike Friedholm.

Although at this point it is unknown who South will play in the regional competition, tough dual matches expected this season will be against North, ULS and Trenton.

The Devils opened their season at L'Anse Creuse North on Wednesday, April 15, and will play East Detroit on April 17 at home at 4 p.m.

ULS varsity netters take first win

The ULS varsity tennis team opened its 1981 season on a successful note by defeating South Lake High School, 7-0. Individual winners for ULS were: Kris Robbins, No. 1 singles; Gar Knight, No. 2 singles; Steve Pack, No. 3 singles; Todd McCoy, No. 4 singles; Frank Crociata-John Ekelman, No. 1 doubles; Mike Ottaway-John Polizzi, No. 2 doubles; and Brian Hunt-John MacLeod, No. 3 doubles.

The Knights traveled to Kalamazoo on April 10 for a four-team invitational featuring four of the top high school tennis teams in Michigan. ULS tied for second with Three Rivers, each with 25 points.

Kalamazoo Loy Norrix was first with 32 points and East Grand Rapids fourth with 16 points. Robbins won the No. 1 singles championship, Gar Knight at No. 2 singles, Steve Pack at No. 3 singles and John MacLeod and Brian Hunt at No. 3 doubles were runners-up in their fights.

ULS, winner of nine consecutive state championships, travels to Cleveland, Ohio, on April 17 to play the top two teams in Ohio.

The outlook for this year's team is very bright. With four freshmen in the top ten, coach Robert Wood looks for tremendous improvement as the season progresses. A tenth consecutive state championship is a possibility, but that will depend on the anticipated improvement of all players.

Pitching key in JV softball

By Rick Richner
South High

"This year I have more and better pitchers than I've had in the last three years," says John Bruce, coach of the 1981 South's JV softball team.

"A few of our pitchers really have potential," Bruce added. "They have a tendency to give up walks, but that's to be expected because they're basically inexperienced. The pitching overall, has been exceptional."

Although the pitching seems to be a major plus for the squad, it isn't to say that pitching is the team's only strength. "We have very consistent hitting," Bruce said, "the last two years South has had the best hitting in the EML."

"I'm really pleased with the girls," continued Bruce, "but, I'm not concerned with winning as much as I am about learning."

South needs softball depth

By Susan Sweetman
South High

Returning with four experienced players, a great defensive infield and a potentially strong hitting staff, South's varsity softball team is ready to face cross town rival North on April 22.

The team experienced the loss of many fine players due to last year's graduation, but coach Jan Hooper said, "We had experience last year, but now we are using members of the JV team and they're pretty good."

Hooper expects that most of the team's strength will come from returning players like Helen Conlon at third base and as catcher, plus shortstop Anne Rosasco.

Junior Dina Dijani is returning to second base this year and Amy Armbruster is at third, Lisa Greco will play shortstop.

South lost their first scrimmage of the season to North.
