

Pointes try again to plan District Court in 1983

By Gregory Jakub

Grosse Pointe's five-member District Court team held its first — and final — meeting on Thursday, May 7, and unanimously agreed to transform the Pointe's five municipal courts into a new one judge, one district court in January, 1983.

THE AGREEMENT also gives the Pointes the option of electing a second judge for the single Pointe court district in 1984 or '86 if the new court's caseload greatly increases.

During the next year, legislation forming the court will develop in two stages: Sen. John Kelly (D-Det.) will draft a district court bill which each of the Pointes will review then formally approve to facilitate its passage through the Legislature, according to James Garavaglia, Sen. Kelly's administrative assistant.

Pointe city managers will then meet with Kelly to determine court location, financing, accounting systems, and other details, Garavaglia said.

The plan's goal is to elect a Grosse Pointe District judge in the fall, 1982 general election and start the court the following January. For Pointes the new court means civil cases between $1,500 and $10,000 would be heard by a local judge in a local courtroom instead of at the soon-to-be abolished Common Pleas court in downtown Detroit.

Last Thursday's meeting, called by Kelly, ended months of speculation about whether the newly formed District Court team could agree on how many judges and districts are needed to handle the Pointes' projected caseload. Team members are Park Councilman Anthony Spada, City of Grosse Pointe Mayor David Robb, Woods Councilman Frederick Lovelace, Shores Councilwoman Patricia Galvin and Farms Mayor Pro Tem Lloyd Semple.

A year ago, a Pointe court reorganization bill sponsored by Kelly died after political delays and uncertainty about the number of judges caused the bill to expire.

LEGISLATION resulting from last week's team effort should differ only slightly from last year's ill-fated bill, Garavaglia said. The previous plan gave the Pointes several options as to the number of districts and judges. The new plan gives the Pointes only the option to add one judge later if needed.

According to Woods Councilman Frederick Lovelace, the advantage of a one-court district for the Pointes is that administrative costs for a single district will be less than two districts.

Lovelace added that even though he and others feel a 1974 state law mandating the abolition of municipal courts is forcing the Pointes to establish a district court, the timing of Kelly's court plan is appropriate.

"This is an ideal time because we (the Pointes) have input into the formation of legislation. We've held out quite a while, but now we have to look at which way is the most economical and how to give people the best service," Lovelace said.

He added that the Pointes should determine a court site by late this year or early 1982 so that transition costs could be included in spring municipal budget planning.

FINDING A COURT site is the next task facing Pointe officials who have already a number of possible locations. Grosse Pointe Park officials have previously discussed the possibility of modifying their present court room for use as a District Court.

However, Park Councilman Anthony Spada said "we don't know what we want" since there are still a number of alternate court locations in the Park and elsewhere.

Lovelace of the Woods said that although his city council favors a centrally located District Court, it is possible that the Woods could modify its municipal building to house the new court if needed.

Others have speculated that the 7-Mack Shopping Center, the School Board offices on St. Clair, and a vacant car dealership on the Hill are possible court sites, Lovelace said.

Students get down in dig project

By Gregory Jakub

When Grosse Pointe North High students say they "dig" Mr. Weng's senior anthropology class, they mean dig.

The class spent a rainy day two weeks ago on a field trip to the muddy grounds of the Edsel and Eleanor Ford Estate to literally get their hands on parts of Grosse Pointe's past.

Twenty-seven students dug through six to 12 inches of soggy ground and clay at points determined with a metal detector. They found an array of farm implements such as 15 horse-shoes, chains, door hinges, a horse's curry comb, chooks, and hand-made nails. Other finds, such as parts from a plowshare, spike tooth harrow, and eavener, were reminiscent of primitive tools.

The archeological dig was one of many that teacher Herman Weng has led during the last seven years. The cache of artifacts found at the Ford Estate was the best ever, Weng said.

"The day we found these things it was under the worst conditions, but they are the best we've ever found," Weng said.

To some, the tableful of rusty implements might be considered junk, Weng said.

"Of course, their junk is our treasure. . . Everything we've found took thousands of years to develop and was designed to be as practical as possible," said Weng explaining the historical significance of some of the artifacts.

The significance of other objects was a little more obvious—such as the Pfeiffer beer bottle dated 1920.

Based on the objects and reports done on each dig site, Weng and the class determined that the area might have been a farm dump or a blacksmith shop during the 1920s.

Most of the objects were found by three students: Jeff Boni, a senior who spent part of his Easter vacation combing the Ford Estate with a metal detector, and juniors Chris Joseph and John Justice who uncovered most of the objects from one spot.

"We just started finding one thing after another," said Joseph pointing to belt buckles, broken window panes, and door latches. "It was like a gold mine."

Weng said he plans to return next year and continue exploring the site including an old well that has long since been dried up and filled.

School Board joins fight against state tax cut plan

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe's School Board Monday joined a growing tide of opposition among educators to the governor's tax plan by approving a strongly-worded resolution encouraging a "no" vote in the May 19 election.

The Board voted 6-1 for the resolution calling Proposal "A" a tax shift, rather than a cut, which threatens local school systems with financial instability and a loss of local control.

The proposal will go before voters in a special state election next Tuesday, May 19. It calls for a 50 percent reduction in most property taxes paid to local units of government, to be replaced by revenue generated by an increase from 4 to 5.5 percent in the sales tax collected by the state. The proposal also increases "circuit-breaker" tax exemptions for some taxpayers and limits future growth of property taxes to 6 percent a year.

But, "what is being billed as a tax reduction is really quite misleading," according to Supt. William Coats, who encouraged the Board to take a stand against Proposal "A."

"The only thing voters are really being asked to approve May 19 is a higher sales tax," Coats said Monday. "The net, overall tax savings to most people amounts to, at most, a few hundred dollars."

The superintendent told the Board the proposal does bring "a very clear shift in control" over school systems' purse strings, away from local boards of education and to the state, which would fund almost half of the system's budget if "A" is approved and implemented.

"The (tax) money should stay here, not in Washington or Lansing. The people here do a pretty good job watching over it," Coats said.

The only Board member who supported Proposal "A" Monday was Ronald Dalby, who said "I do believe the people of this state are going to insist upon a cut in taxes" and "I don't think we can continue to suppress that."

Members of the teachers' union, affiliated with the Michigan Education Association, were also on hand Monday to encourage opposition to the governor's proposal.

Curt Lange, president of the MEA local, said the tax proposal "would devastate education in the state." The MEA was one of the first education groups to come out in opposition to the tax plan, but it has since been joined by the state PTO-PTA Council, several local boards of education and a new Coalition of Teachers and Administrators for Responsible School

Park Council okays lot sale to Effort

By Joanne Gouleche

The Grosse Pointe Park Council finally approved the controversial purchase of two city properties for a parking lot at a Monday meeting which often ran out of control.

During the hour and a half of resident grandstanding and mutterings of council recall, Councilman Anthony Spada stepped into center stage and continually brought issue with Effort, Inc., the firm seeking to purchase the property at Jefferson and Lakepointe.

Spada's remarks were applauded by more than 75 residents in the audience who want the city to keep the lots as park land and worry that another piece of commercial property on Jefferson will lower surrounding residential values.

At one point in the meeting Councilman Roger McNeill walked away from his seat in disgust at the unruly interruptions from residents in the councilroom.

"Mr. Mayor, either we are going to have order or I'm going home," McNeill said.

H. Ford Prince, president of Effort, Inc., owns a two-story building adjacent to the vacant lots and wants to refurbish a dilapidated bump shop behind his building and convert it into more office space. Before he can do that, however, he needs the additional parking the lot would give him.

When City Attorney Herold Deason informed the council Monday night that the Michigan Department of Commerce had reinstated the corporate status of Effort, Inc., Spada demanded to know why the city attorney was working in the legal behalf of the corporation.

Deason said it was the legal opinion of the city that Effort's offer to purchase the lots still remained valid.

"Are you doing legal work for Effort, Inc.?" Spada asked Deason.

"I take exception to that, Mr. Spada," Mayor Matthew Patterson shot back.

"I don't recall asking our city attorney to spend money to research this," Spada snapped. "I respectfully challenge the legal opinion."

Spada charged at the council's April 27 meeting that his personal contact with the commerce department indicated Effort, Inc. had not

This 'weekend cowboy' is part of space shuttle team

By Tom Greenwood

They're "not just weekend cowboys" anymore. And you can quote Farms resident Fred—correction—make that Major Fred Lambert, of the 305th Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron headquartered at Selfridge Air National Guard Base in Mt. Clemens.

The 305th, which flies HC-130's (Hercules) and Sikorsky HH-3's (Heli-copters known as Jolly Green Giants), was recently responsible for nearly 80 percent of the rescue plans covering the launch of the Space Shuttle Columbia during its historic flight last month.

Major Lambert was aircraft commander of the Hercules crew responsible for the rescue of the astronauts if they had ejected. The crew's secondary mission, the one they actually accomplished, was the location and recovery of the booster tanks used to rocket the shuttle into space.

"Actually, the mission was a piece of cake," said Maj. Lambert. "Quite within the everyday capabilities of the crew. Everything went smoothly, with no problems. We departed the Monday before the launch and returned on Monday, April 13."

However, something interesting did happen after the launch, while the crew was trying to locate the boosters. "They had splashed down about 150 miles due East of the cape, and we radioed the other ships that a Russian trawler was nearest to the tanks, and was closing fast.

"A Coast Guard cutter intercepted and ordered it to leave the area. They didn't, of course. They just stopped dead in the water, about five miles from the site. We flew down fairly close to them and snapped some photos."

The crew of the Hercules consisted of nine highly trained men, including three paracue members trained as paramedics, parachutists and scuba divers. "All the men were reservists," said Maj. Lambert. "All hard workers who functioned as a unit."

"In actuality, many duties are fulfilled by reservists now that active duty forces are cutting back," said Maj. Lambert. "The reserves are becoming leaner and more professional. The Air Force realizes this, and consequently we train with and fly in the newest equipment available to the services."

According to Maj. Lambert, the 305th, as part of the 403rd Rescue and Weather Reconnaissance Wing at Selfridge, has earned a reputation as a responsible, ready-for-anything outfit.

They have been called upon during the Pueblo crisis, during the Viet Nam war, and also filled in for active duty units picked to undertake the Iranian rescue mission.

"One of our most unpleasant tasks was to transport bodies back from Guyana after the Jonestown suicides," said Maj. Lambert. "That was simply unbelievable."

More duties include being responsible for all rescue missions in the eastern part of the U.S. from the Great Lakes region to the East coast. They take part in NATO exercises and fly convoy rescue missions along Air Force One when the president is in the area.

"As far as the space shuttle is concerned, we will continue to maintain rescue procedures and booster recovery for the next five missions," added Maj. Lambert. "After that we

Group home case set for Friday hearing

A suit to stop a group home for the retarded from locating in the Park is scheduled to be heard tomorrow in Wayne County Circuit Court. But an attorney representing the state said this week it is unlikely the issue will be settled then.

The lawsuit, brought by homeowners on Bedford Road in the Park, is scheduled to go before Judge Robert L. Colombo at 9 a.m. Friday, May 15. Neighbors are seeking a preliminary injunction to stop the Department of Social Services from licensing the home and to prevent the Department of Mental Health from moving residents in.

The neighbors won a temporary restraining order to that effect last month and have succeeded in keeping the home, at 1030 Bedford, empty ever since.

Assistant Attorney General Tom Wheeler, who will represent the Department of Mental Health and Management and Budget at tomorrow's hearing, said his case is "quite complicated" and he doesn't expect it to be fully settled at the hearing.

Wheeler will defend the department on several key issues brought up by opponents of the group home pertaining to the $2,100 a month lease (reportedly the highest in the state for a facility of its kind), and the process used to select the site in Grosse Pointe.

The Department of Mental Health announced plans in February to move six retarded adults into the home at 1030 Bedford as part of a program to return mentally handicapped residents of the Plymouth Center for Human Development to their home communities. The Center is under Federal court order to move most of its 600 residents to community facilities by 1983 as the result of a suit brought by the Michigan Association for Retarded Citizens.

The state has selected four females and two males between the ages of 24 and 25 years for the Pointe home. Two of them are natives of Grosse Pointe, according to Frank Schuch, of the Plymouth Center.

The proposed residents were informed they would be moving several weeks ago and have toured the house with Donna Kimber, of Community Administrative Services, Inc., home administrator, according to neighbors.

While Wheeler represents Mental Health and Management and Budget, the Department of Social Services will be represented by Assistant Attorney General William Basinger. Attorney Pieter vanHorne will speak for the residents.

LWV forum examines group homes

A community forum to discuss group homes for the developmentally disabled in residential communities will be conducted by the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters next Tuesday, May 19, at 8 p.m. at Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee.

Cosponsoring the event with the LWV are the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Association, the local Association for Retarded Citizens and the Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice.

A panel including representatives from the Plymouth Center for Human Development, the Department of Mental Health and Department of Social Services will be on hand to answer written questions from the audience. The meeting will be conducted along established LWV guidelines. The public is invited.

Study shows grads do well

Statistics compiled by Wayne State University's Placement Office show that starting salaries offered to this year's college graduates have been only mildly affected by the current sluggish economy.

John A. Crusoe, director of the office, said almost all of the fields surveyed at the bachelor degree level offered starting increases in salaries over last year.

Highest pay offers went to engineering graduates with typical salaries as follows: metallurgical, $27,108; chemical, $22,632; industrial, $22,356; mechanical, $21,936; electrical, $20,628; and civil, $19,140.

According to the WSU survey, salary offers to mechanical engineers rebounded by more than 20 percent from last year as students sought and found employment opportunities in non automotive related areas. Overall, engineering salary offers increased nine percent over last year. Results of the survey, however, showed that business bachelor degree level graduates did not fare as well as the engineers. Marketing graduates started at $16,704, management, $16,548 and accounting/finance, $15,468.

Accounting graduates appeared to have faced a good market nationally, but saw a declining demand for their degree in the Detroit area. Overall, business salary offers gained 1.1 percent over last year.

Other typical bachelor level salary offers received by WSU graduates included: pharmacy, $22,932; sciences, $19,620; computer science, $19,476; nursing, $16,788; medical technology, $16,632; social sciences, $14,496; and humanities, $12,492.

At the masters level most salary offers received by WSU graduates showed significant improvement over last year.

Park Council approves lot sale to Effort been on file as a corporation since 1979. That was enough to void Prince's offer to purchase the property, Spada said.

At Monday's meeting, Prince blamed the late filing on an administrative goof up and said the annual form registered with the commerce department naming corporate officers was not filed by the corporation's accountant as it was supposed to be.

But Spada warned the council that the city was leaving itself open to a suit by the residents if Deason didn't put the legal opinion into writing. After the council approved the lot purchase (along with Spada's no-vote), Spada then wanted to table the matter until the opinion was in writing.

When the discussion turned to the specifics of the lot purchase, Councilman Douglas Graham was concerned if Prince could live up to his financial obligation of completing the $225,000 estimated cost of the project. Graham said he needed a "clear indication of the wherewithal" to renovate the bump shop and admitted his "confidence was a bit shaken" after Spada's findings last month.

"What we owe and what we own is favorable," Prince said.

BUT GRAHAM also wanted assurances from Prince that he will make improvements to the bump shop before breaking ground for the parking lot. Graham said he wanted to make sure the "concerns of the neighborhood would be dealt with" when he added a number of conditions to the sale of the lots.

Crusader against the lots, resident Mary Romig, interrupted Graham's remarks and wanted to know why the council wasn't listening to the residents.

"Mr. Mayor, I have been coming to these meetings for seven months now. Why is the city promoting a parking lot when the residents don't want one?" Ms. Romig asked.

Another resident complained of the city's inability to manage another parking lot near Lakepointe and Kercheval.

There was also confusion about who actually approved the sale of the lots — the council or the city's Zoning Board of Appeals. City attorney Deason said since both bodies are actually one in the same, they could unanimously approve the lot sale.

Prince has said he intends to move Effort, Inc. offices into the proposed office space along with his own company, Unified Employee Benefits. Effort, Inc., is a Troy-based non-profit group which places the retarded in the corporation's two group homes in Detroit and Howell.

School Board fights 'A'

Financing, of which Coats and Lange are members.

Proponents of the plan, including Grosse Pointe's State Rep. William Bryant Jr., argue that if Proposal "A" is not approved May 19, a far more drastic tax cut plan promoted by Robert Tisch will be placed on the ballot and approved next year.

Bryant points out that Tisch's last tax cut proposal won 44 percent approval in the state in the fall of 1980. "I think he'd win if he got on the ballot again," Bryant said in an earlier interview.

But teacher union leader Lange likened that thinking to "committing suicide now because someone's says they might assassinate you next year."

Tax plan on the ballot

This is the official ballot text for Proposal "A" as it will appear in the Tuesday, May 19, special election.

PROPOSAL A

Proposal to reduce property taxes, reduce city income taxes, limit growth of property tax revenues, return additional sales tax to local governments and schools and give state lottery profits to school aid fund.

The proposed amendment would:

1. Reduce by 50 percent homestead property taxes used for operating schools and local governments. Reduction limited to $1,400.00 in 1981 and changed yearly as home values change.
 2. Reduce by 50 percent local individual income taxes on first $40,000 of taxable income.
 3. Make state return to local governments all funds lost by above reductions.
 4. Limit yearly property tax revenue growth to 6 percent by property type unless raised by local voters.
 5. Raise sales tax from 4 percent to 5.5 percent. Raise must be returned to local governments and schools.
 6. Let farms and forests be assessed at use value.
 7. Give state lottery profits to school aid fund.
- Should this amendment be adopted?

Royal Ballet presents Cinderella on cable TV Saturday, May 23

Who is the most popular fictional heroine of all time? Scarlett O'Hara? Juliet of "Romeo and Juliet"? Lucy Ricardo?

All of those women have been beloved by audiences for years, but for sheer persistence and longevity the all-time champ has to be Cinderella. The story of the mistreated young girl who is transformed into a beautiful princess has been told and retold in books, plays, movies, animated cartoons, musical comedies and television shows since the invention of each of those media. "Cinderella" also serves as the basis for the plots of hundreds of other stories. When the movie "Rocky" was released, nearly every critic remarked that the tale of the about to be has-been boxer was "a modern day Cinderella story."

One of the classic retellings of "Cinderella" is the Royal Ballet's production of the fairy tale with music by Prokofiev. First produced in 1948, the ballet, choreographed by Sir Frederick Ashton, was the first full-length English ballet. ARTS, Alpha Repertory Television Service, the new channel on Grosse Pointe Cable TV will present the Royal Ballet's production of "Cinderella," Saturday, May 23.

Videotaped during a recent live performance at the Royal Opera House at Covent Garden, the production supervised by Sir Frederick Ashton, stars Lesley Collier as Cinderella and Anthony Dowell, one of England's leading dancers, as Prince Charming.

The story of "Cinderella" is familiar to all, but the tales surrounding its many versions through the years deserve, if not a book, at least a few lines of their own. Herewith, "The Trivia Buff's Guide To Cinderella."

Perhaps the earliest Cinderella story is an Egyptian version from 670 B.C. called "Rhodopis and Psammitichus." Rhodope is bathing when an eagle snatches one of her slippers. The eagle drops the slipper at Memphis where King Psammitichus is conducting a court of justice. The king, taken by the beauty of the slipper, issues a proclamation that its owner be brought to him. Rhodope is finally found, and after a brief courtship, marries the king.

The fairy godmother in the earliest French version of the story was a cow. "Cendrasette" is the tale of a woman with two daughters, one of which she disliked (Cendrasette). Cendrasette is made to spin cotton or else suffer the penalty of a beating. Fortunately, Cendrasette was friends with a cow who had mastered this task. The other daughter tried to get the cow to spin cotton for her too, but the cow refused. When the mother found out she ordered the cow slain. Before the execution, the cow told Cendrasette to gather the bones, wrap them in its hide, then wish upon them. As a result, Cendrasette received three beautiful dresses which she used to captivate a Prince.

In the original French version Cendrasette wore a "pantoufle en vair," a slipper of fur. In translation it was mistaken for "pantoufle en verre," or slipper of glass. Slippers of fur trimmed in sable were actually worn by royalty in those days.

Party leaders look for 'fair' reapportionment

By Gregory Jakub

Anything can happen during Michigan's complex political reapportionment process, but ideally a number of politically balanced electoral districts will result from a plan based on fairness, the leaders of Michigan's two political parties said at a forum last week in Grosse Pointe.

The problem now, as in the past, is that each party has its own idea of what is fair and the courts may have to make the final decision at a cost of up to $150,000 to each party, the leaders said.

The complicated task of reapportionment was discussed last week at North High by a panel including state GOP Chairman Mel Larsen and Democratic Chairperson Libby Maynard sponsored by the 14th District's Concerned Republican Committee.

Using freshly computed 1980 census data, both parties will expend most of their energy between now and January 1 hammering out a plan to redraw boundaries and eliminate one of Michigan's 19 Congressional districts due to a statewide population drop, the leaders said.

Many northeastern states face the same problem as Michigan since census data show that about 17 congressional seats will follow population shifts to the sunbelt, according to panel member Alex Gage, senior political analyst for Market Opinion Research.

Locally, the 14th District, including the Pointes, Detroit's east side, Hamtramck, and southern Macomb County, has lost 55,358 people or 11.8 percent of its population.

Does that mean the 14th will disappear off the political map, asked one observer at the meeting.

That's the kind of question facing the legislature and governor who will redraw Congressional districts, Gage said.

State Senatorial and House districts will be redrawn by an eight-member bi-partisan commission that convenes June 1.

Ideally, their goals will be to arrive at politically balanced "swing districts," Gage said. Larsen added, "the decision will not be to eliminate any district per se" but modify districts and look at which incumbent will run against another. But how those decisions are arrived at might depend on who had lunch with whom on a certain day, added Gage.

Even though the specific guidelines for reapportionment are unclear, "the one-man, one vote concept comes through loud and clear," said Larsen referring to a 1964 Supreme Court decision that said one person's vote should be equal to another's in a Congressional election.

One suggested scenario says Detroit's 1st and 13th Districts will expand to include the Detroit portions of the 14th and 17th and make two black districts. That change might affect the support base of Democratic Congressman Dennis Hertel (Detroit) and William Broadhead (Detroit, west side) since the Detroit segments of their districts are what makes them Democratic, Gage said.

Other factors affecting the current reapportionment effort are the use of computers which will allow each party to see the effects of voter precinct distribution at the touch of a button, Gage said. Highly sophisticated computer capabilities will give each party an advantage over previous reapportionment efforts in 1962 and 1972, Larsen added.

Also, the courts stepped in when reapportionment commissions became deadlocked during both previous attempts. Currently, the Supreme Court has shown an unwillingness to get involved in politics, according to Larsen.

"There is a real possibility that the Supreme Court could throw the whole process out as unconstitutional and give it to the legislature and the governor," Larsen said.

One thing is certain, added Larsen, that "sparks will be flying when incumbents notice that their districts are getting chopped up."

Guidance Center kicks off its Mental Health Week

"Get Under the Umbrella for Good Mental Health" is the theme for the Northeast Guidance Center's eighth annual Mental Health Week. The purpose of the week is to encourage public awareness of the positive and preventive aspects of mental health. Special activities are held each year during the month of May, which has been declared National Mental Health Month.

The Northeast Guidance Center, a comprehensive community mental health agency which serves Northeast Detroit, Harper Woods, and the Grosse Pointes, provides a full range of consultation, educational, diagnostic and treatment services for persons of all ages.

Mental Health Week will begin Monday, May 18, with a variety of educational workshops which will be presented at 7 p.m. at Peace Lutheran School, 15760 East Warren in Detroit. Folding Beds Antiques
Folding beds were first successfully manufactured in this country in 1875. The object then was just the same as today: to save space in small apartments.

What good vision really means

"20/20 vision" means the ability to see detail at 20' as clearly as most people do.

But, to be a safe driver, for example, you also need depth perception to judge distances between cars; peripheral vision to see cars approaching from your right or left; and eye coordination so that you can see a single image.

In addition, you need night vision to see under low light conditions, and color perception so that you can distinguish between the different colors of traffic lights.

Obviously, good vision requires a lot more than being able to read the 20/20 line on the test chart. And changes in vision since your last test may go unnoticed. A periodic check-up by an ophthalmologist — a medical eye specialist — will insure that any loss of vision is detected as early as possible.

32 Pointe teachers laid off

Pink slips have been delivered to 32 Grosse Pointe public school teachers, 11 of whom may be offered part time employment next year. The list was approved last month by the board of education and may be revised if openings should occur because of additional retirements and resignations.

Supt. William Coats said the lay offs are necessary because of a further decline in enrollment of almost 500 students projected for next year and a loss of state and federal funds for psychologists, consultants and skills development teachers. The net reduction represents almost 25 full-time teaching positions.

Full time teachers who will be terminated June 12 include Carol Bartos, Richard School, Mary Costello, Defer, Marilyn Dietz, Monteith, Camille Ecklund, Monteith, Daniel Griesbaum, South, Barbara Grogan, Poupard, Gregory Heffner, Brownell and Parcelis, Denise Homuth, Ferry, Bruce Kerfgen, South, Rosemarie Kersten, Ferry, Linda Kline, Parcelis, Nancy Kline, Defer, Judy Morlan, Defer, Henry Pichla, Ferry, Marianne Schrod, Poupard, Jean Strachan, Barnes and Defer, and Michael Wasilewski, Brownell and Pierce.

Part time teachers whose last day is June 12, include Mary Adamo, Parcelis, Marlene Harris, Richard, Carolyn Roberts, South, and Stephen Zaraneck, South.

Teachers who were laid off but may be offered part time work next year include Joseph Beer, Pierce, Mark Davids, South, Marcia Cook, North and South, Janet Gawrysiak, North, Mary Miller, North and South, Ronald Papa, South, Sharon Schmidt, South, Beverly Smith, Poupard and Trombly, Nancy Swanson, special education, Diane Wheeler, Richard, and Randi Zwada, Parcelis and Pierce.

Mexico Expanding Industry

Mexico plans to invest $2.5 billion to increase its petrochemical capacity by 80 percent in the next decade — from 13 million tons to 23 million. The industry is 85 percent government-controlled.

Drug, alcohol seminars

They have a message for teens

By Joanne Gouleche
"I've really learned a lot this week about alcohol and pot. I've never really drank much, so I'm not going to worry about that, but the story of your life started a conversation with my mother, and she told me about what she went through with her father, who was an alcoholic. It made us a lot closer. You have definitely scared me off pot. No more!"

—Student reaction to an alcohol and drug seminar sponsored by The Freedom from Chemical Dependency Foundation, Inc.

Some Grosse Pointe parents are hoping to hear similar responses from their own teenagers next week when experts from The Freedom from Chemical Dependency Foundation, Inc. step into South High School classrooms as part of a week-long seminar on alcohol and drug abuse.

It's been a six-month effort by the school's Mother's Club along with financial backing of the Dads' Club, Grosse Pointe Lions, the Rotary Club, the Soroptimists, Detroit Bank & Trust and Michigan National Bank—Grosse Pointe to bring the Massachusetts-based FCD to Grosse Pointe youngsters.

In next week's meetings with Foundation representatives, themselves reformed alcoholics and drug abusers, discussion will be aimed at South's 10th graders.

Mother's Club president Ann Dalby said the success of FCD's substance abuse program at University Liggett School last fall spurred interest in alerting South teens to the problems of routinely drinking a six-pack and smoking marijuana.

Mrs. Dalby said the program is sure to open eyes to alcohol and drug abuse and will leave teens making up their own minds whether to use or not to use alcohol and drugs.

"We want to say 'Hey, kids, it's not just your problem. It's society's,'" Mrs. Dalby said.

Local faculty reaction to FCD's focus on the effect of alcoholism on the family, treatment for the alcoholic, and the dangers of Cocaine and Heroin was excellent, Mrs. Dalby said. The foundation visited South in March for a one-day intensive introductory discussion on how to address substance abuse in this country's schools.

The FCD, founded in 1976, has acquainted teenagers in hundreds of schools across the country on alcohol and drug problems. FCD trustees believe "education offers the greatest hope of preventing and combatting the spread of chemical dependency."

Grosse Pointe parents are invited to attend a FCD presentation on Tuesday, May 19, 7:30 p.m. in South's gymnasium. A similar discussion will be aimed at leaders of community organizations, churches and schools, Wednesday evening, May 20.

Woods group will sell flowers Saturday

The Grosse Pointe Woods Beautification Commission will sponsor its annual flower sale on Saturday, May 16, at 8 a.m. or Sunday, May 17 in case of rain. Impatiens and begonias, 43 count for $9.75, and peonias and marigolds, 72 count for $7.50 will be available.

The sale will take place on the front lawn of the Woods Municipal Building on Mack. Proceeds will be used to improve the city appearance.

State drops POP investigation

By Joanne Gouleche

State investigators ended their probe into the activities of a Grosse Pointe Park political group because of the death last month of the organization's president, the man alleged to have violated the state's Campaign Finance Act.

Michigan Department of State spokesman, Ann Corgan, said Grosse Pointe Park attorney John Axe withdrew his complaint last week against Proud of Our Park, Inc. and its president, the late Matthew E. Connor, for failing to file an organizational statement under the 1976 Finance Act. The act states that any group which spends $200 or more to endorse or oppose candidates in an election must file the statement and list contributors to their campaign.

In his letter of complaint to the state nearly two years ago, Axe claimed Connor and POP "produced and distributed" campaign flyers endorsing and opposing candidates in Grosse Pointe Park's 1979 mayoral election.

Axe said since he felt Connor was the only person actively involved in POP, he dropped the complaint.

An informal hearing was scheduled in Lansing on May 11 on the allegations that POP spent money to influence the outcome of the Park election. The Finance Act prohibits any corporation from spending such monies and considers it a felony punishable up to a $10,000 fine.

Ms. Corgan said the state turned up evidence that POP may have not filed pre and post election statements, also required under the act.

"I'm not real happy about dropping the complaint because we have put a lot of work into the case," Ms. Corgan said. "But with the budget as tight as it is, we just cannot afford to pursue the case if the complainant says he won't come up and testify."

POP's flyers demanded voters remove Mayor Matthew C. Patterson from office for accepting HUD monies into the Park. POP claimed there were "strings" attached to the federal help.

While it doesn't quite look like a brand new station, the difference between the empty Standard station now and the way it looked three weeks ago is startling. Located at Muir and Kercheval, the site was littered with cans, trash, broken glass and gas tanks. After a gentle reminder by the News, property owner Peter Bologna, of the 81 Investment Co., quickly cleaned up the site, giving us all a much improved view.

Three films for Cinema League

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present three 16mm movies by Dr. Walter Thuerle — "Portugal," "Island of Madeira" and "Austria" — when it meets on Monday evening, May 18, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium.

The public is invited to attend the program without charge. The social hour following is limited to Cinema League members.

An automobile is used to tour Madeira, often called "the Pearl of the Atlantic," which lies 625 miles to the southwest of Lisbon. Original Portuguese music and sound effects accompany the movie as viewers tour the beautiful island.

"Austria" was awarded first prize in the Michigan Movie Club competition. The film begins in Vienna and travels on to the Woerthersee in Carinthia. The photograph or was snowbound for a few days on the highway to the Grossglockner.

Salzburg and Innsburg are filmed, and there are lovely views of the beautiful lakes of Traunsee, Mondsee and Wolfgangsee. Shown are Dachstein Mountain and its caves. There are original Austrian dances and music, as well as a stage festival with colorful scenes and background music.

The Cinema League will close its season with this presentation and will reopen on Monday, Sept. 21.

Price wins Medal of Merit for community work

By Scott Bowles
South High

Sue Price, a National Honor Society member and student journalist, will receive the Congressman's Medal of Merit as the outstanding South High senior on Wednesday, May 20.

The award goes each year to a senior who is an active social studies student, does well academically, and contributes to the school and community in such activities as clubs and charity drives.

Nominees were selected by the social studies staff. Application forms were given on Wednesday, April 29, to those chosen to compete. The students were asked to list social studies courses taken, school and community activities they took part in while attending South.

The applications were returned to a five-member committee of South social studies teachers, headed by Dr. James Kaloger.

The committee chose Price on Friday, May 1, and Kaloger informed her later that day that she had won.

"I was surprised," Sue said, "because I was competing against some of the best seniors in the class."

Sue has a 3.78 grade point average over her first three years at South. She said she expects her grade point average to be "a little higher" by the end of her senior year.

Sue has received awards previously. She has been on South's weekly publication, The Tower, for three years, and she has won several writing awards. As a sophomore, one of her news stories was voted as the best in the state by the Michigan Inter-Scholastic Press Association. She also won first place in a Detroit News writing contest.

She has taken six social studies courses: civics, advanced Placement, United States history, sociology, western civilization and Russian history.

Sue, 17, is a member of South's Timettes, a group that helps time boys' and girls' athletic events. In the community, Sue has worked with her church youth group and the Red Cross blood drive.

Sue plans to attend Ohio State University and is contemplating a major in journalism. A staff member of U.S. Rep. Dennis Hertel will present Sue with her medal at the May 20 ceremony at South.

Forum on tuition tax credit

"Tuition Tax Credit—Now or Never?" is the question to be answered during a public forum sponsored by the Parents' League of Independent Schools on Wednesday, May 20, 8 p.m. at Roper City and Country School, 2190 North Woodward Avenue, Bloomfield Hills.

Grosse Pointe Marilyn Lundy, President of Citizens for Educational Freedom will speak on behalf of the proposed bill (S.B. 550), while Rowland McKinley, Jr., headmaster, University School, Chagrin Falls, Ohio and member of the National Association of Independent Schools (NAIS) will speak opposed.

A panel composed of Dr. John Pagen, superintendent of Waterford Schools, John Poplawski, headmaster of Grosse Pointe Academy, and Dr. Ronald Trowbridge, vice-president of Hillsdale College will question the speakers. Herbert Moore, Director of Cranbrook Schools will act as moderator to facilitate questions from the audience.

Sen. Robert Packwood (R-Oregon) and Sen. Daniel Moynihan (D-New York) introduced the Tuition Tax Relief Act of 1981 in the U.S. Senate (S.B. 550) in February which aims to provide a Federal Income Tax credit for college, vocational, elementary and secondary tuition. It would give a 50 percent credit up to $500 maximum at the end of a three year phase-in period. Should the tax liability be less than $500, the credit would be refunded directly to the taxpayer.

Although the bill includes strong civil rights language to guarantee that no tax credit would be available to students who attend schools which discriminate on the basis of race, and also includes the "Archer Amendment," which confirms that tax credits will not be considered government aid to independent or parochial schools, strong opposition to the bill is expected.

Co-chairman of the forum, Barbara Schuster of West Bloomfield and Jean Conway of Birmingham are being assisted by the following area women: Mary Phillips, Nadja Saraf of Birmingham, Ann Fecko, Becky Santiago, Irma Elder, Pam Butrus of Bloomfield Hills, Dorothy Lim of West Bloomfield, Diane Bosquette of Franklin, Mary Bishop, Diane Deane of Detroit and Kathy Honhart, and Vi Maelstrom of Dryden Plains, Gaye Budinger, Laura Evans and Maureen Mercier of Grosse Pointe.

Admission is $3 for an adult ticket, $1.50 per student. Call Ann Fecko, 642-5572 for ticket information.

Pianist Tocco heads 24th Summer Music Festival season

By Irene Moran

Plans for the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival's 24th season were announced May 3 at a committee meeting held in the Fair Acres Drive home of Dr. and Mrs. John M. Lesesne.

The 1981 series of five star-studded concerts will be presented in the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore, with the exception of one outdoor performance on July 29. They will take place on consecutive Wednesdays, beginning July 8 and ending August 5. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford, continues in her role as general chairman of the Festival for the fourth consecutive year.

"The Festival is recognized as one of the leading music festivals in the state, attracting music lovers from far and near. Everyone is invited. We look forward to seeing our neighboring friends at the concerts, Mrs. Sanford said.

Festival founder Alexander C. Sucek added: "And this summer, because of popular demand, we're bringing some artists for return engagements." Sucek is this season's artistic director.

Pianist James Tocco opens the season with a recital on Wednesday, July 8. Tocco, a native of Detroit, returns to the Grosse Pointe concert stage after an absence of several years. He was featured as guest soloist with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra in 1962. His program will include selections by Chopin, MacDowell and Beethoven.

Today, as a recognized international artist, Tocco's music has been heard throughout the United States and Europe. His appearances have been both with major orchestras and in recital, including a special invitational concert at the White House and at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C.

Some of his orchestral performances have been with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Washington's National Symphony, the Detroit, Atlanta and Baltimore Symphonies, the Munich Philharmonic, the Amsterdam Philharmonic and the Austrian Radio Symphony. He has also appeared in the Salzburg and Dubrovnik Festivals and in Italy's Spoleto Festival.

Returning to the Fries stage on Wednesday, July 15, will be the singing husband and wife team of Barbara Meister and David Bender. Bringing a bit of Broadway entertainment with them, the couple will also feature songs from Viennese operettas, the best of Jeanette McDonald and Nelson Eddy romantic duets, show tunes from Gershwin, Cole Porter and others.

Since their 1979 concert here, the handsome team has appeared with major symphony orchestras throughout the U.S., including those in Denver, San Antonio, Baltimore and Milwaukee, and just recently have returned from successful engagements in Baden-Baden and Munich, West Germany.

On Wednesday, July 22, an evening of chamber music will be played by the Kottler-Staples-Chanteaux Trio. Its members are Mischa Kottler, pianist; Gordon Staples, violinist; and Marcy Chanteaux, cellist. Their program will consist of works by Bach, Beethoven, Ravel and Handel-Halvorsen.

Mischa Kottler was born in Kiev, Russia. His rich musical life began with studies at the early age of four. At age seven he entered the Imperial Conservatory of Kiev, and two years later was ready for a concert tour of the Ukraine. He continued his studies in Paris with Alfred Cortot and in Vienna with Emil von Sauer.

Kottler has concertized extensively both in the United States and abroad. However, Detroit takes claim to his virtuosity that has offered so much to music in the community. Mr. Kottler retired from the Detroit Symphony after holding the post of official pianist for 22 years.

Gordon Staples, familiar to the Detroit audiences for his many fine performances, was named concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in 1968, and has frequently appeared as soloist with the orchestra.

Staples was born in Los Angeles and began playing the violin at age six. At age 10, his family moved to Vancouver, Canada, where he studied with Gregori Garbovitzky. His concertizing began when he was only 13, and at 14 he was staff soloist for the Canadian Broadcast Company. Further study followed with Jami Szanto at the Philadelphia Academy of Music, from which Staples was graduated, and with D. C. Dounis in New York. He concertized extensively in the United States, Latin America and Canada before joining the Detroit Symphony in 1955. Staples was also instrumental in helping form the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival.

Marcy Chanteaux, born in Aberdeen, S. D., received training in piano, harp, chord and cello. At age 16, she was winner of the National String Competition. She was previously a cellist with the Washington National Symphony before joining the Detroit Symphony Orchestra as a pianist in 1970, and a year later became its official pianist. After four years she moved to the cello section and in 1979 was chosen to her present post as assistant principal.

Chanteaux is a member of the Brio Trio and the Wayne State University music faculty. Her concertizing includes performances for Community Concerts held throughout the United States. She made her solo debut with the Detroit Symphony this year in April.

Staples and Chanteaux were heard last season in trio with pianist Leonard Pennario, who made his Grosse Pointe debut with the Festival in 1979.

Get ready for some real swinging to ragtime and jazz music on Wednesday, July 29, when James Dapogny's coming back with his Chicago Jazz Band; creating sounds of the period from 1900 to 1945. The eight-piece group of all-star musicians, each steeped in the jazz tradition, can vary instrumentation and size to suit a wide variety of styles.

Their program will include "Chicago in the 1920s," "Jazz into Pop," and "Small Band Jazz: 1917-1945." You'll be listening to music as it was performed by Louis Armstrong, Bix Beiderbecke, Hoagy Carmichael, Eddie Condon, Duke Ellington, Benny Goodman, Jelly Roll Morton, Red Nichols, King Oliver, Fats Waller and others. Dapogny does all the arranging for the band.

The Jazz Band will be staged outdoors on the lakeside terrace of the Memorial's Alger House. Should it be a rainy day, the group will perform in the Fries Auditorium.

In last summer's series the Festival initiated a Young Artist Debut Concert with the purpose of giving a young pianist an opportunity to appear in the Festival. Elizabeth Lesesne, daughter of Grosse Pointers Dr. and Mrs. John M. Lesesne was featured.

For this season's debut concert, the Festival sought its young artist via a pre-festival piano competition held in March. Out of the statewide 18 entries, 21-year-old Stephanie Leon was judged as winner. She will be closing the Festival with a recital on Wednesday, August 5, playing works by Haydn, Bach, Brahms, Chopin and Debussy.

Pianist Stephanie Leon received her earlier training at the Detroit Community Music School with Albert J. Fillmore. She is presently a student of Dr. Charles Fisher at the University of Michigan School of Music. She attended the National Music Camp at Interlochen Center for the Arts and the Red Fox Music Camp in Massachusetts.

Stephanie's concerto repertoire has been heard with several orchestras, among them the South High School, Grand Rapids Youth, Detroit Symphony, and New Orleans Philharmonic orchestras and the University of Michigan Philharmonia. She has also played solo recitals.

Since the age of 14, Stephanie has been a constant award recipient. Most recent she also was winner of the University of Michigan Concerto, MMTA Wurlitzer Collegiate Artist and Lansing Matinee-Musicale Young Artist Award competitions. Her Festival award also includes a concerto performance with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra next season, under Maestro Felix Resnick. Stephanie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Leon, of the Farms.

In honor of the performing artists, a reception will follow in the Fries Crystal Ballroom after the performances.

For lack of adequate space,

The Festival was first held outdoors—and its staging was unique. The musicians performed on the front entrance steps of the Memorial's Alger House.

Festivalgoers are welcome to arrive as early as 6:30 p.m. for pre-concert picnicking on the lakeside grounds or terrace. Families and friends may bring their own picnic baskets or pick up their ordered box supper prepared in the Memorial kitchen by Natalie Patten, catering manager. In case of rain, picnic fun moves indoors.

Assisting Mrs. Sanford in festival duties are Grosse Pointers Mrs. Lyndle R. Martin, reception chairman, Irene Moran, public relations, and Mrs. William O. Bradley, Jr., ticket chairman. Mrs. Bradley's committee includes Pointers Mr. and Mrs. James P. Diamond, Dr. Lyndle R. Martin, and Mrs. Charles Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Reindel, III, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rickel, Sterling S. Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scharfenberg and Sucek. Also, of the Pointe, are the Mesdames Marshall E. Collins, Philip D. Dexter, John E. Engstrom, Harold D. Gumpert, Robert G. Hartwick, Winfield S. Jewell, Jr., John M. Lesesne, Thomas V. LoCicero, Kenneth Locke, Joseph J. Marshall, John J. Nolan, Jr., Jerome Remick, Jr., Robert A. Sucek and Volrad J. VonBerg.

A special effort has been made to hold admission prices at a popular level. "In fact," Sucek said, "they're slightly lower than last year. In addition, since we're trying to bring artists for broad family appeal, children and student tickets are half price across the board."

The regular series of five concerts is priced at $35 per person (reserved seats). Single concert admission is $8, with the exception of the Young Artist Concert, which is $5. Lawn admission for the Chicago Jazz Band concert only is $4 (bring own blankets and folding chairs). Picnic box suppers are $5 each by prepaid reservation three days prior to each concert date.

Advance ticket orders may be purchased at the Memorial Center from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Saturday, or order by check payable and mailed to Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, 32 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236. Office telephone is 881-7511. Mrs. Sanford (881-1256) and Mrs. Bradley (886-0079) are also taking reservations.

Breathers set club date

Breathing retraining and relaxation is the topic of discussion for the May meeting of the Eastside Breathers' Club, sponsored by the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan (ALASEM). The self-support group for emphysema and chronic bronchitis victims will hold its meeting Tuesday, May 19, at 1:30 p.m. at Georgian East Extended Care Facility, 21401 Mack Avenue, the Woods.

Breathers' Club members will discuss pursed-lip and diaphragmatic breathing techniques, as well as relaxation procedures. With the help of breathing retraining and carefully selected exercises, chronic lung disease patients can learn to make the best use of the breathing capacity they have.

"Poto and Cobengo," the film Newsweek called "the most original and unusual documentary around" will be shown by Detroit Film Theatre on Friday, May 22. Showtimes are 7 and 9:30 p.m. in the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium.

Individual general admission tickets at $2 each and D.F.T.'s 10-ticket $15 discount coupon book are available in advance through the Art Institute ticket office (832-2730).

Released in 1980, the film focuses on the celebrated case of six-year-old twins from southern California who battled psychologists with a language of their own invention, and explores the attendant media hype.

On Saturday, May 23, at 7 and 9:30 p.m., John Huston's 1976 film, "The Man Who Would Be King," starring Sean Connery and Michael Caine, will be shown. Called "exhilaratingly far-fetched" by critic Pauline Kael, the film is the story of two con-artists who set themselves up as kings in 1880s India, and is based on the Rudyard Kipling classic.

For ticket information, call the Art Institute ticket office at 832-2730.

The meeting is open to the public at no charge. Call 778-3264 or 372-2398 for more information.

Recognition night at NHS

More than 300 North High students will be recognized at the annual Awards Night Monday, May 18 in the school auditorium.

Letters of invitation to the honorees and their parents were mailed last week. Among the many awards to be given are the Congressman's Medal of Merit, the Rotary Band Award, certificates for outstanding achievement in various school departments, and recognition for college and university scholarships.

The Parents Club will present dictionaries to students in the top five percent of the class and serve refreshments.

This is one of a series of recognition ceremonies held during the year. Outstanding athletes are honored, as are top students in the school's cooperative programs, and Band and Orchestra programs.

Pointers teach kids the dangers of choking

"Don't run with food in your mouth — chew carefully and slowly — keep small toys out of the mouth." That's the message members of the Grosse Pointe Alpha Xi Delta Sorority are bringing area nursery and preschool children this spring on behalf of the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan (ALASEM).

Alerting small children to the dangers of choking is the lesson Pointers Shirley Brogan and Anne Lewis have presented to Grosse Pointe area day care centers and nursery schools as part of an educational campaign sponsored by the Lung Association to prevent the most common cause of accidental death in the home to children under age six. Aspiration of foreign objects (choking) kills 2,000 children a year in the United States.

With the help of "Chewy the Clown" and "Sammy the Puppet," Shirley and Anne lead students in hands-on exercises designed to teach the importance of chewing food thoroughly, not running or laughing with food in the mouth and keeping toys and small trinkets out of the mouth. The 20-minute puppet show which Shirley Brogan scripted herself, helps preschoolers understand how the lungs function and what happens when a small, hard object becomes lodged in the lungs instead of going into the stomach.

The Lung Association reminds us that children have a natural urge to put things in their mouths. Buttons, beads, pins and even small bits of unchewed food such as crisp bacon and peanuts can go into the lungs instead of the stomach. There may be choking, wheezing, loss of breath, and occasionally even death. The object may even stay in the lung and cause trouble months or years later.

For more information on this subject and how to protect the lungs of young children, call the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan at 961-1697 for a free copy of their pamphlet, "Keep Your Child From Choking."

University Liggett pre-schoolers get a lesson on the lungs and how to prevent choking from Shirley Brogan, a member of the Grosse Pointe Alpha Xi Delta

Sorority, as part of an educational campaign sponsored by the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan (ALASEM.)

Animals could hold the key to aging

A field mouse in the wild is lucky to live to be a year old. Yet, its cousin, the pocket mouse may live to five years of age. Why do some animals live long than others? And how do different animal species regard their elders?

According to International Wildlife magazine, scientists are studying senescence, or aging, in wildlife to find out the answers to these questions, and in turn, to better understand the processes involved in human aging.

The answer to the mouse mystery is simple. "Some small mammals may live longer than others of similar size because they spend part of their lives in hibernation or in dormancy, their bodies barely functioning," explains the National Wildlife Federation's bi-monthly publication. Thus the pocket mouse, which spends the hot desert season in a state of torpor, will live much longer than the on-the-go field mouse.

Until recently, almost everything we knew about animals that live to be old came from zoos. Longevity records for zoo animals, says International Wildlife, include: a 77-year-old elephant; a 65-year-old vulture; a 49-year-old hippopotamus; a 38-year-old zebra. Cold-blooded animals last even longer, with tortoises reaching 150 years; sturgeon, 100; carp, 50; and toads, 36.

Unfortunately, zoo records can be misleading since animals tend to live longer in the security of a zoo than they do in the wild. However, such records do give us an appreciation for some species' potential life spans.

"Animals that are most likely to live to be old in the wild are those which, as adults, have no predators except man," says International Wildlife. Most of these are large — elephants, hippos, rhinos, lions, tigers and wolves. But some, such as the Galapagos tortoise, survive not only because of their large size, but also because of their isolated habitat.

Scientists have found that a wild animal's age can be estimated in many ways, such as by inspecting the lens from a rabbit's eye, the thickness of baleen plates in the mouths of whales, the annual rings in the horns of sheep and antelope, and tooth wear, or in some species, "rings" in a tooth. Teeth are, in fact, one of the most important considerations for life in the wild; research shows that most wild animals live only as long as their teeth hold out.

After spending years living among some species in the wild, animal behaviorists have observed that in the "social" species — those animals that live and travel in groups — older males and females are treated quite differently. "Males are generally of prime importance to a social group only when they are dominant," says International Wildlife. Eventually, older males are driven from a group by younger males when their strength and breeding capacity have been reduced by age.

Older females, in contrast, do not seem to suffer this loss of social status. Among most species, old females usually continue to reproduce, although they have fewer offspring than the younger females. Female elephants up to fifty years of age continue to function as "matriarchs" in their social groups, and even the feeblest lionesses are allowed to share the kills of other pride members.

Polish Aid Society meets

In celebration of the Polish Aid Society's 80th anniversary, a luncheon and card party will be held on Wednesday, May 20, at 12 noon at the War Memorial.

The Society was founded in 1901 as a woman's community service group to help needy families. Over the years, the focus of their work has been centered on the elderly of the Polish community — known as the Golden Agers Program.

At the present time, about 100 Golden Agers meet every Tuesday at St. Stanislaus Parish for lunch and a social hour. The program is directed by Mrs. Edward Uryga. Among the Society's other contributions are: The Michigan League of Crippled Children and the Laski School for the Blind Children in Poland.

Polish Aid Society President, Mrs. Weir Burkman, has named Mrs. John Worzniak as Chairperson of the May 20th luncheon.

Prime Time

For Senior Citizens

By Marian Trainor

Much has been written about President Reagan's economic program and its affects on older Americans. Opponents of the program point out Medicaid help will be cut by $1 billion during the next fiscal year and by $5 billion by 1986. The President refutes by promising that the truly needy and the elderly will not be hurt by the program.

"Not so" counters the opposition. They say with health-care costs rising even more sharply than the high rate of inflation, a limitation on the federal contribution to the program which is now funded jointly with the states, would result in the states bearing most of the burden of any further rise in hospital, nursing home and doctor fees.

This could result in limiting the number of people accepted for Medicaid benefits or slashing Medicaid, which differs from Medicare in that it aids those people under 65 who cannot afford the care they need.

It could force many poor people to postpone treatment of ailments until they require hospitalization. On the face of it the federal government saves money, but what is saved at the federal level on preventive care will be spent at a state level on the much more expensive hospital care. This is particularly true in cases requiring nursing home care.

Proponents of Reagan's program argue present federal programs will be lumped into block grants and turned over to the states thus eliminating bureaucratic red tape and letting states establish their own priorities.

"TOO COSTLY," counters the opposition. They believe that such services as home-delivered Meals on Wheels, Homemaker Services and Senior Centers would suffer. Under this plan local agencies would be forced to jostle for their money at the state level rather be assured of regular federal support.

And there are other concerns. Food stamps would be reduced by $1.8 billion at a time when the number of older persons receiving food stamps has increased and the cost of food has escalated. Under the formula which denies food stamps to people with incomes over 130 percent of the poverty line, most needy elderly would be ineligible.

Other cuts include funding for aged research and a change in the cost-of-living index for retired civil service workers. Under the new plan the index would be done annually, instead of twice a year as it now is calculated.

From the other side of the fence come promises from those who support President Reagan's budget "reform." They say that social programs will not only be maintained but more money will be spent on services during the next four years.

The big argument here is that the "social safety net" program will command an increasingly large portion of the budget moving from 3.6 percent of the 1981 budget to 40.6 percent of the 1984 budget. Under the "social safety net" (a concept initiated in 1930 under the New Deal) the "truly needy" will be protected by Social Security benefits, unemployment benefits and cash benefits for dependent families. This concept embraces the elderly, the disabled and veterans.

WHICH VOICES should we heed? Where shall we turn for reassurance that older Americans will not be deprived under the President's program? Older citizens have lived through hard times—and some good times. They are willing to share the burden of establishing fiscal responsibility but it is one they feel all Americans should assume equally.

NOTICE OF HEARING ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the City Hall at 90 Kerby Road.

Monday, June 1, 1981

at 8:00 p.m. to hear the appeal of Michael and Jill Cavanaugh owner of the premises located at 261 Kerby, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of a "sport court" at their home at the foregoing address. Lyons wins science medal

By Thomas Kitchen South High

For over 60 years, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of New York has annually awarded its Rensselaer Medal to secondary school students who have distinguished themselves in science and mathematics. Junior David Lyons was recently selected as South High School's recipient for this year.

David was chosen because his name came up the most times when all South science and math teachers and counselors were asked to submit their two best students in either science or math.

"I couldn't believe it when I heard the news. I didn't even know I was in contention for the award," Lyons said. "I've always been interested in math and science though, going all the way back to grade school."

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, founded in 1824 as the first college in the U.S. to award degrees in science and engineering, also offers Rensselaer Medal Scholarships.

Prime Time for Seniors

If senior citizens are to retain what is needed to insure the necessities of life—good nutrition, adequate housing, medical care and contact with the outside world made possible by available transportation and Senior Centers—it would appear that they are going to have to become very active politically both as individuals and groups. They are going to have to let elected officials at the state and federal level know their needs so that when money is apportioned, a fair share will be allotted to them under the program.

Much has been done. There is a rising consciousness and respect for older voters at both the state and federal level.

IN CALIFORNIA, for instance, where state coffers have been sharply reduced, Cong. David Drier conceded after spending a day living the life of a senior constituent, receiving Social Security counseling, lunching with nutrition program participants and being transported through the district in a van designed for the handicapped, that older Americans have been grossly neglected by our society.

"We tend to forget that it is they who have built this country," Drier said. "We should not only think of them as senior citizens, rather we should draw on their experience and consider them elder statesmen."

Another gesture which connotes a respect for the opinions of older Americans and a desire to acquaint them with the workings of government so that they can proceed with knowledge to attain benefits through legislation is the Senior Citizens Internship Program.

This program was instituted by Con. Elwood Hills, Pete Bersten and newly-elected William Roth. This year it is being held in May, which has been declared Older American Month in Washington. During this time, senior interns will be hosted on Capitol Hill. This time the Congressional Senior Citizens Intern Program will celebrate its ninth anniversary. In 1973, when it began, four members of Congress sponsored eight interns. This small group has grown with each passing year. Participations have increased more than 30-fold. This year more than 200 house and senate offices will sponsor more than 250 senior citizen interns from 48 states, the District of Columbia, the Virgin Islands, Guam and American Samoa.

The main objective of the program is to provide older Americans with the opportunity to gain insight into the legislative process, especially in areas concerning the aging. During the interns' one-week visit in Washington, representatives of congressional committees, federal organizations and private organizations will discuss the different federal programs, legislation and community activities with respect to the elderly. The program also provides members of congress an opportunity to learn the needs of the elderly and how effectively government is meeting those needs. All in all it is a very informative and educational program.

Views of the News

But will it work?

President Reagan scored an impressive victory when the Democratic House approved his 1982 budget but the vote may not necessarily herald the "fundamental change" in American government that Speaker Thomas O'Neill (D-Mass.) warned against.

True, it will mean less federal spending on such social programs as health, housing, education and food stamps. It will mean less federal help for many individual Americans. It will even wipe out the federally-funded youth and Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) jobs programs. It will mean a leaner federal establishment — but it still won't mean the end of all federal assistance.

For example, income security programs, which suffered the largest dollar cut, $13.9 billion, still would get $241.2 billion as contrasted with the $255.1 billion in former President Carter's budget. These items include Social Security and federal retirement programs, unemployment compensation, food stamps, child nutrition, subsidized low-income housing, welfare and other aid to the poor. Despite these and other cuts in social programs, a narrowed safety net still protects the most needy and most deserving Americans.

YET THESE CUTBACKS in social programs provoked the most resistance to the President's proposals. As a result, liberal Democrats came up with their own alternatives. A proposal by the congressional Black Caucus that would have retained nearly $25 billion in social spending went down to defeat along with another alternative to restore $2 billion to social programs and balance the budget by closing tax loopholes and postponing income tax reductions for one year.

Seven Michigan Democrats, including Rep. Dennis Hertel of the 14th District, supported both of these alternatives and then joined four of their Democratic colleagues in voting against the Reagan budget. Despite the President's high popularity at the moment, they obviously are counting on voters in their districts to rebel against Mr. Reagan's budget cuts in social programs once they become effective.

Hertel told the Grosse Pointe News he was especially concerned about proposed cuts in education including vocational education. He pointed out these cuts come at a time when the military needs higher calibre recruits to operate its complicated modern weaponry and industry is trying to increase productivity to improve its competitive status with Japan and other foreign countries. He makes an excellent point.

The congressman said mail from his district opposed many of the Reagan budget proposals, especially in education and in areas affecting senior citizens. From the Grosse Pointes, however, his mail supported the Reagan budget, except for the deep cuts in education. But, he pointed out, some changes may be made in funding for specific programs when appropriations bills go through Congress, although he expects the spending totals to approximate those in the overall budget. He still feels, as he told the News earlier, that he could support about 75 percent of the Reagan budget proposals.

But in the House vote, only one Michigan Democrat, Rep. Don Albosta of St. Charles, broke with his party to support the Reagan budget, which meant that the Michigan delegation voted 11-8 against it. But nationally 62 other Democrats — mostly from the South — backed the President and thus forged a new Republican-conservative Democrat coalition that no doubt will play an important role on future House issues.

WITH CONGRESSIONAL approval of the budget now assured because of the support of the Republican majority in the Senate, attention turns to the administration's proposed three-year income tax cut. That contest promises to be considerably closer than the vote on the budget because not all Southern Democrats and not even all Republicans support the administration's tax plan. Many fear it would wipe out the hopes of controlling inflation by releasing the tax dollars it would save into the spending stream.

That, of course, raises the biggest question of all about the Reagan economic program. The question is simply: Will it work? Nobody really knows for certain. If it doesn't control inflation and doesn't get the economy moving at a faster pace, the Republicans can expect serious repercussions in the 1982 and 1984 elections.

But for the moment at least the Reagan administration is riding high and the President is firmly in the saddle. Let's hope he's not riding for a fall.

Scare tactics imperil 'A'

"Scare" tactics and the complexity of the issues involved still could defeat Proposal "A" in the May 19 election despite the renewed support it is getting from Gov. William Milliken and legislative leaders.

The proposal is also being squeezed from opposite sides by those who contend it would curtail state and local services as well as school revenues and by those who think it doesn't go far enough in guaranteeing tax relief.

So Proposal "A" is being opposed by the Michigan Education Association and many educators, including retiring Superintendent of Schools William Coas and the Grosse Pointe school board, because of fears it would reduce school revenues and curtail local control over the schools.

It is being fought by taxpayer groups and supporters of Robert Tisch, the Shiawassee County drain commissioner, who claim it is really a "massive tax increase" and tax shift, and thus no substitute for Tisch II which they threaten to put on the ballot in 1982.

And it is being criticized by some home builders, realtors and automobile organizations on grounds it would increase prices of housing and automobiles by boosting the sales tax from 4 percent to 5.5 percent.

WHILE NO FORM OF tax relief would satisfy all of these conflicting organizations and their viewpoints, honest differences of opinion can be involved in many of the positions taken. But the same cannot be said for the "scare" stories that are being circulated by some opponents of Proposal "A."

One such story, for example, contends that the proposal would require the Legislature to establish a value-added tax, one that applies to each stage of manufacturing or procession based on the value that has been added to the raw materials or parts used.

But the attorney general's office, while it does not issue formal opinions on pending ballot questions, told the Free Press it could find nothing in the legislation that changes or adds to the Legislature's authority to impose such a tax. In fact, the Legislature already has such authority but it has not exercised it and does not have any intention of doing so, regardless of what happens to Proposal "A."

Another "scare" story predicts that every city and charter township will impose an income tax within two years because Proposal "A" requires the state to reimburse local governments for the 50 percent exemption of local individual income taxes provided for in the legislation. Yet such income taxes could not be imposed without a vote of the people in the specific jurisdiction.

Another "scare" story along the same line asks whether Proposal "A" sets an absolute 6 percent cap on property tax increases and then answers its own question with a resounding "No." But nobody contends that the 6 percent cap on property tax growth is absolute. The proposal limits the annual increase in revenues generated from property tax levies on specific classes of property in local governmental units to 6 percent but it also permits that limitation to be increased or waived by approval of a majority of the voters.

Such stories point up one difficulty of answering criticisms of the proposal. On the one hand, some people say it would tend to limit local control over the schools and municipal affairs by putting a greater reliance on state financing. Yet, on the other hand, other cities are leery of local control, want absolute caps and limits on all kinds of taxes and fear giving the people the right to vote taxes up or down even on a local level.

SUCH A LACK of belief in representative government, especially when coupled with loose and unproven charges of "deception" made against the state leaders responsible for drafting Proposal "A," raises questions about the intent of some of the proposal's foes. Some of them, and Tisch specifically, have political ambitions of their own and are using Proposal "A" to build their own political followings. The question then becomes one of whether voters wish to believe men who already have the responsibility of guiding the affairs of the state or those who merely want to win such positions themselves and apparently will say almost anything to achieve their ends.

Letters to The Editor

Farms should not reward inefficiency

To the Editor:

I have read with interest the recent series in the Detroit News entitled "Inside The Wayne County Road Commission" and your May 7 editorial which called for "steps to make the Wayne County Road Commission meet the standards of efficient and economical service being sought by all levels of public service these days."

I am in complete agreement with your position, but I found it ironic that the editorial closely followed your prior editorial plea to the Grosse Pointe Farms Council, requesting it to succumb to the demands of the Road Commission (which entity now brings to your mind the quote "power leads to corrupt; absolute power corrupts absolutely") by making a voluntary contribution of Farms residents' tax dollars for the purpose of paving Lakeshore Road.

The dispute between the city of Grosse Pointe Farms and the Road Commission over the paving of Lakeshore Road is simple: (a) the Road Commission has the clear and absolute statutory responsibility for maintenance and repair of that portion of Lakeshore which is designated a County Road; and (b) the Road Commission, while acknowledging that Lakeshore should be resurfaced, claims it is "short of cash" and will resurface Lakeshore only if the city of Grosse Pointe Farms transfers funds to the Road Commission Treasury in an amount sufficient to offset a significant portion of such resurfacing costs. It appears to me, and I hope it is now clear to you, that the Road Commission's financial difficulties result to a degree, from the inefficiencies, favoritism and other matters disclosed by the Detroit News, and to which you have alluded.

Unfortunately, the Road Commission has been successful in obtaining favorable response to similar demands for cash contributions made on other communities where the road requiring resurfacing was essential to the economic life or ingress and egress for a substantial number of citizens in that community. Such is not the case with Lakeshore as it runs through the Farms, and the Farms Council in refusing to give in to the Road Commission has been firm in its resolve to maintain high "standards of efficiency" for its citizens and taxpayers.

Above and beyond the compelling arguments to not give Farms' tax dollars to the Road Commission under any circumstances, relinquishing now to the pressures emanating from (1) the Road Commission, (2) your newspaper and (3) persons who resided outside of the Farms, would reward the Road Commission for its inefficiencies and other transgressions. In light of what you now know, I hope you will rethink your editorial position on the paving of Lakeshore Road.

Educators against 'A'

To the Editor:

Recent press accounts regarding Proposal "A" have given the false impression that the tax proposal has overwhelming support within the educational community. This misleading representation is the result of selectively seeking input from those educators intimidated by the spectre of Robert Tisch. Upon analysis, it is apparent that those supporting Proposal "A" are not motivated by what is in the best interests of education. In response, a broad based coalition of teachers and administrators within the metropolitan area has formed to take a stand against the proposal and inform the electorate of its devastating consequences for public education.

One View from the Capitol

By William Bryant, Jr.

The growth of property taxes from year to year, as assessments on homes increase rapidly with inflation, has been and is a major problem and source of complaint.

One aspect of Proposal "A" deals with this problem of homestead taxes going up so rapidly. The problem has been less severe in the Pointes than elsewhere because local taxing units in some years have actually cut the tax rate, the number of mills levied. This has happened when assessments went up so much the local government didn't need all the additional revenue they would have gotten if they had levied the same number of mills they did in the prior year. But, increases have been a problem here, also.

Proposal "A" says, for homeowners, that if the residential class of property goes up in value by more than 6 percent, the taxing unit has to reduce the tax bill of each owner so there is only an average of a 6 percent increase. They could only get more than a 6 percent increase if local voters approved an increase in millage or if they approved a higher limit over 6 percent.

Assessments on residential property will be up 20 percent to 25 percent in most of the Pointes this year. That means that in a city where home assessments increase an average of 20 percent, and no additional tax is voted, the 6 percent cap provision of Proposal "A" will cut the operational tax by that city by 14 percent from what it would have been without Proposal "A."

After whatever cut the 6 percent cap provides, then you also will be entitled to the exemption from 50 percent of the remaining operational tax levy up to a $1,400 exemption.

After that exemption you may still pay enough property tax to be entitled to the property tax credit on your state income tax, and that credit can still go up to $1,200.

But Proposal "A" is a real net tax cut and I hope you will vote for it. After all, when was the last time you got to vote on a $250 million tax cut?

Treasure-toting friends of University Liggett School were beating a path to the door of Mrs. Peter Stroh's Provencal Road home mid-week last week, where a delectable array of desserts and confections donated by metropolitan area restaurants and gourmet shops was the reward for their donations (minimum value: $25) to the Tomorrow's Treasures booth to be featured at the 1981 Grosse Pointe Antiques Show sponsored by University Liggett School.

The show, now in its 16th year, held on the ULS Middle School campus on Briarcliff Drive, will be open to the public for four days, June 18 to 21, and will feature 54 nationally recognized antiques dealers from 20 states.

We'll have lots of specific information—where and how to get tickets, all about special events, e.g.—for you later in the spring, but right now we'd like to tell you about Tomorrow's Treasures.

Slate Movie/Television Council's Awards Lunch

The Greater Detroit Motion Picture and Television Council will stage its annual Awards Luncheon next Tuesday, May 19, at the Detroit Yacht Club. Assisting Mrs. Alfred W. Massnick, of Lochmoor Boulevard, chairman of the event, with plans for the day are Mrs. H. Lloyd Patterson, Mrs. Irving Palman and Mrs. Harry A. Sampeer. The post-luncheon program will be presented by Bruce Kefgen, director of Speech and Drama at Grosse Pointe South High School, who will introduce South High's Pointe Players award-winning production of "A Clown Show."

The Motion Picture/TV Council, composed of individual members and representatives of civic, educational, religious and cultural groups, was organized in 1936 and became a charter member of the Federation of Motion Picture Councils, Inc., federated in 1954.

The Greater Detroit Council has been the recipient of the Clara Edwards Memorial Award three times and has received honorable mention six times. The Edwards Award is given in recognition of exemplary efforts in promoting better film production.

Recognizing the influence of motion pictures and television upon social life, the council endeavors to stimulate interest in better films, to urge booking of more educational and travel films for the theater and television audience and to emphasize parental responsibility in the selection of motion pictures and entertainment on television.

But at no time does the council assume the position of censor. Its motto is: "Support the Best — Forget the Rest."

Among the Greater Detroit Council's proudest achievements is establishment, in 1968, in cooperation with the Board of Education, of the Youth Film Forum. The forum's purpose is to involve high school students in the arts and sciences of motion pictures. Participating members include students from public, parochial and suburban schools, representatives from the Board of Education, teachers, theater owners, members of the Greater Detroit Council and knowledgeable discussion leaders from the media.

Awards are given annually to selected theater owners and/or managers and others in the community for outstanding cooperation with and service to the Greater Detroit Motion Picture and Television Council.

This year's award winner is Gary Puce, director of Promotions, Robert Solomon Advertising, for his outstanding cooperation with the Youth Film Forum.

A golden Four Octave event

Fifty years ago, eight young women who had served their allotted time as members of the Student League of Tuesday Musicales decided to continue their friendship in a small, informal music club of their own.

They met at the home of Elizabeth (Mrs. W. Terrance) Bannan, and decided to call their group the Four Octave Club. Active membership would be limited to 32, to permit a large percentage of members to appear in each impromptu program. The programs would be held monthly, in the homes of members.

The programs later became more formal, and were held for many years at the Women's City Club. Mrs. Bannan, the club's first president, was succeeded by the late Mrs. Philip Baker, Mrs. John M. Chase, Ruth Burczyk and a distinguished list of well-known musicians.

Four Octave Club meetings are held now at Marygrove College. Celia (Mrs. Walter) Marony is the current president. Mrs. William Fitzgerald, Mrs. Joseph Nagel and Mrs. Grace Smith are the social chairpersons. Mrs. R.J. Viculin handles publicity.

And this year, on the first Wednesday in May, members of the Four Octave Club gathered at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial for a very special Golden Anniversary program and luncheon.

Founding member Mrs. Bannan, the club's honorary president, was there, along with two other founding members: Mrs. Charles Beck, who came from Toledo, and Mrs. Harry Daniels, of Farmington.

Pointers among the club's current members include Ruth Burczyk, of Littlestone Road, Ellen Rose Fitzgerald, of Ballantyne Road, Carolyn Nagel, of Audubon Road, Marion Smith, of East Jefferson Avenue, Alma Exley, of Lakeshore Road, Betty Crossen, of Tonnancour Place, Peggy Haddad, of Blossom Lane, Johanna Gilbert, of University Place, and Jean Ground, of Barrington Road.

To marry

Mr and Mrs. Melvin E. Urteal, of Bishop Road, are announcing the engagement of his daughter, MARILYN ANNE URTEAL, to John Alexander Blake, son of Mary Adelaide McIntyre, of Lafayette, La., and Gordon H. Blake, of St. Clair Shores. An early August wedding is planned.

The bride-elect, who is also the daughter of the late Virginia Urteal, was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School and expects to receive her Associate of Applied Science degree in Business Management in December from Macomb County Community College, where she was named to the fall, 1980, Dean's List of honor students.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Grosse Pointe North High School and a Certified Auto Mechanic.

Tri-Deltas schedule springtime activities

Members of the Grosse Pointe-Detroit Alumnae Chapter of Delta Delta Delta, in the midst of a busy year-end schedule, gather next Thursday, May 21, at 11 a.m. in the Stephens Road home of Mrs. David Sutter for their annual Pansy Luncheon.

A salad sampler menu will be served at 12:30 p.m. and Mrs. Oscar P. Pearson, of Detroit, who has completed 50 years as a fraternity member, will be recognized as a Golden Circle honoree.

The party is open to all area Tri-Deltas, who may call Mrs. Thomas Schulte, 881-0338, or Mrs. Patrick Clark, 881-3101, for reservations.

The local Tri-Deltas also are completing their year's fund raising projects, which included a May 1 and 2 garage sale at the home of Mrs. Donald Venderbush. A second project, gift wrap sales, is on-going, with proceeds earmarked for support of the fraternity's philanthropy: children's oncology research.

Final event of the year is a picnic on Harsen's Island. It's set for Sunday, June 14, at 2 p.m. Host couples will be Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schueler, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schroth and Mr. and Mrs. Don Ball.

The picnic is open to all Tri-Deltas and their husbands/escorts. Mrs. Douglas Peoples, 885-8253, is the person to contact for further information.

Holly Honhart to say vows

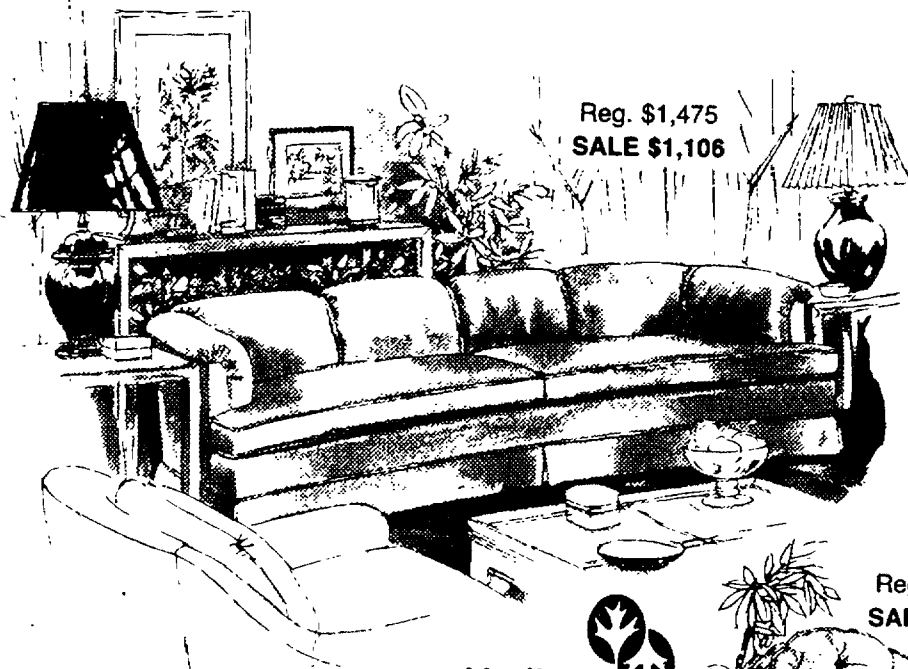

Planning a late June garden wedding at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, are Holly Hannah Honhart and Charles Edward Crandall whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Honhart Jr., of South Renaud Road.

The bride-elect, who holds a degree in Civil Technology (Engineering) and is presently associated with Giffels Inc., is a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate as is her fiancé, who is employed at Gale Enterprises. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Crandall, of Beaconsfield Avenue.

because it's (a) something new, (b) something very exciting, (c) something which directly benefits ULS.

Listen to Mrs. Henry Woodhouse, Tomorrow's Treasures chairman: "This booth has particular importance because proceeds from all sales go directly to the University Liggett Scholarship and Endowment Funds," she points out. "Contrary to popular belief, none of the dollars resulting from the sale of antiques go to the school."

"ULS benefits solely from sales of admissions, catalogues, food and special events such as the Preview Party, the Young Collectors Evenings—and this year from the Tomorrow's Treasures booth."

Tomorrow's Treasures will be located on the second floor of the Middle School, just above the main entrance to the show.

It will be stocked with a potpourri of used silver, brass, linens, crystal, paintings, books, furniture, et al., all donated by ULS families, alumni and friends, all offered at very affordable prices.

Although none of the items are old enough to classify as antiques, many do have value as collectibles. Pick them up now, and by the 22nd century, who knows . . . ?

Yesterday's Treasures: Orchestra Hall

The Provisional Class of the Junior League of Detroit is working to establish an archives for Orchestra Hall, and has issued a call to all persons who may have bits of Orchestra Hall memorabilia tucked away in attics, trunks or family albums.

Old programs and newspaper clippings, artifacts and information pertaining to the history, performers and restoration of Orchestra Hall—or, as it was known for a time, the Paradise Theater—would be welcome contributions.

Anyone who wishes to donate items to the archives may contact Renee van Dewater at 833-3702, or send the material to her at Orchestra Hall, 3711 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48201.

Yesterday's Treasures: 20 Quester Years

Twenty years ago, Mable Van Dagens gathered a group of some 12 Pointe friends together in her Moran Road home to introduce them, and The Pointe area, to Questers: the organization which delights in discovering and uncovering the beauties, oddities and experiences of the past.

Mable, a member of Questers Pontchartrain Chapter 138, asked Dorothy Snetzinger of that chapter to present a program on Jewelry. As the morning progressed, a new Questers Chapter, Grosse Pointe Chapter 147, was founded.

From that beginning, in 1961, came six more Pointe Questers Chapters: Pear Tree 193, founded in 1964; Grand Marais 215, in 1965; Fox Creek 216, also in 1965; Pettipointe 243, in 1966; Ribbon Farms 323, in 1968; and Windmill Pointe 385, in 1969.

Last Tuesday, Jane Mertz (Grosse Pointe Chapter) was delegated to get Mable, by hook or by crook, to the Vernier Road home of Marion Hopson (Pear Tree Chapter), one of Mable's original 12 two decades ago.

There, as Mable walked through the door, 10 friends, members of local Questers chapters, rose to toast their founder, guest of honor at a surprise luncheon for 12.

It was hoped that Dorothy Snetzinger would be able to do a reprise of her Jewelry program, but dental problems prevailed . . . so a representative from each chapter gave a brief account of her chapter's current activities.

Those present included Joanne Noyes (Fox Creek), Elizabeth Stuart (Grand Marais), Ginny Guinn (Pontchartrain), Frederica Glahn (Ribbon Farms), Marilee Rinke (Pettipointe), Charlotte Goring (Windmill Pointe), Ellen Bird (Grosse Pointe) and prospective members Johanna Gilbert and Janet Allen.

Today's Treasures: on View Tonight

"The Party in the Studios," the patrons' preview of the 55th Annual Student Exhibition and Sale at the Center for Creative Studies-College of Art and Design, starts at 5:30 p.m. tonight, and before it's over guests will have a chance to sample a delicious cocktail buffet, enjoy beautiful music, watch special demonstrations (glass blowing) and—best of all—view the talented CCS students' work.

Proceeds from this annual fund raising affair go directly to the CCS Student Scholarship Fund. Membership contributions for two are $50 General, $150 Patron and $500 Benefactor. Ticket information may be obtained by calling Anne Larson at 872-3118.

Grosse Pointe's Bill and Lorrie Howenstein are co-chairing this year's Members Preview Committee, and Lorrie reported a few days ago that attendance at the party has reached the 400 mark, with new memberships coming in every day.

Other Pointers on the committee are John Booth II and Becky Booth, Bill Chapin, Keith and Mary Kay Crain, Marty and Bill Cox, Bob Evans Jr. and Frances Evans, Alfred Brush Ford, Bill and Margot Kessler, Dick and Jane Manogian, Tom and Diane Schoenith, Marc and Joan Smith and CCS board of trustees members Lawrence Buhl Jr., Walter B. Ford II and Ruth Vance.

Another DSO recording date

Four works by American phonies by 20th century composer Aaron Copland plus Polish composer Karol Szymanowski, will be released later this month by London Records.

The Szymanowski album will receive its premier air play over WQRS Timeless FM 105 at 5 p.m., Sunday, May 24, on the program "New Recordings." The album will be available in Detroit area stores beginning May 25.

The orchestra moved to the United Artists Theatre in downtown Detroit for recording sessions May 11 through 13. Both discs were recorded digitally.

The Copland selections are "El Salon Mexico," "Fanfare for the Common Man," "Dance Symphony" and four dance episodes from the ballet "Rodeo."

Last spring, the orchestra and Maestro Dorati recorded four digital discs at the United Artists. The first of these albums, containing the Second and Third Symphonies by 20th century Polish composer Karol Szymanowski, will be released later this month by London Records. The Szymanowski album will receive its premier air play over WQRS Timeless FM 105 at 5 p.m., Sunday, May 24, on the program "New Recordings." The album will be available in Detroit area stores beginning May 25. Other available London releases by the Detroit Symphony under the baton of Antal Dorati include an all-Tchaikovsky album, a collection of favorite Rhapsodies, a Bartok album featuring Suite No. 1 and Two Pictures plus the world premier recording of the entire Richard Strauss opera "Die Aegyptische Helena," available as a multi-disc set.

Fashion luncheon for Stapleton date is next Thursday

"Be an Angel and Come" is the invitation again extended by Friends of Stapleton Center to their annual spring luncheon and fashion show. It starts at noon next Thursday, May 21, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium. The party is a benefit for Stapleton Center, a retirement home for 62 men and women, located on Detroit's East Side. Past Friends' projects have provided funds for the home's beautifully landscaped courtyard and gardens, designed in a four seasons' theme.

Monies raised via this year's party will go toward equipping a beauty salon for the residents and toward purchase of a much-needed new station wagon for transporting retirees to doctors, hospitals, et al.

Among Friends' service projects are monthly birthday parties and holiday festivities at Stapleton.

Mrs. Edmond Dilworth, of Bloomfield Hills, is current president of the support group. Grosse Pointe's Mrs. Charles T. Fisher Jr. and Mrs. Joseph Flaherty, of Bloomfield Hills, are co-chairing the 1981 benefit.

Committee members assisting them with arrangements include the Mesdames Robert Thibodeau, Walter B. Fisher, Joseph E. Bejin, George Jaglowicz, Emmet Tracy, L. Verne Ansel and William P. Chester and Rosemary Ryan, all of Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Richard Nrowczynski, Mrs. Thomas A. Murphy, Mrs. Aloysius F. Power and Mrs. Jerry T. Flanigan.

Fashions, from Grosse Pointe's Maria Dinon, will be modeled to musical accompaniment by Rachael Ryan by Pointers Sarah Fisher Dingeman, Mrs. Walter B. Fisher, Mrs. Eugene Gargaro, Mrs. Lee Elsey, Mrs. Ronald Patek, Mrs. Henry Ritter, Mrs. Alfred E. Fisher and Mrs. Philip Roehm.

Reservations at $12 per person must be received by today, Thursday, May 14, by Mrs. Thomas J. Fitzgerald, of St. Clair Shores.

MOT brings an opera to School for the Deaf

Overture to Opera, Michigan Opera Theatre's traveling troupe of professional singers and musicians, has been delighting audiences in schools, shopping malls, churches and other community centers with a wide variety of programs designed to convey the excitement of musical theater to people of all ages and interests — but the MOT performers face perhaps their most challenging audience tomorrow, Friday, May 15, when they appear before 115 deaf and learning disabled youngsters, ages 3 to 17, who are pupils at Detroit's Lutheran School for the Deaf.

The children will see a special performance of "Fair Means or Foul," a fantasy opera written by Seymour Barab, one of America's foremost composers of children's music.

The MOT production, first presented earlier this spring, is the world premier of Barab's newest work.

What is opera doing in a school for the deaf? "Opera is musical theater," explains Karen DiChiera, MOT's director of education. "It is the combination of sound and movement, of drama, language and design. If you take away any one of those things, you still have the other entertaining aspects."

Nor will the effect of the music be totally lost on the deaf students, according to Pastor Rodney R. Rynearson, the school's executive director. When MOT presented a performance of "Rumplestiltskin" last year, he notes, "the deaf children were tremendously impressed with the power of the singing voices. They could see that something terrific was happening on the stage."

After the performance, the singers performed excerpts as the pupils, hands resting on the singers' diaphragms, "heard" the music through vibrations.

The children will be familiar with the opera through scripts provided by MOT, and Pastor Rynearson will provide sign language summaries during the performance itself. As it does for all school appearances, MOT has furnished teachers with guides designed to integrate the performance into regular classroom activity.

The appearance at the Lutheran School for the Deaf is part of MOT's ongoing efforts to bring the excitement of opera to the handicapped.

The MOT troupe recently appeared at the Oakman Orphanage School in Detroit and at Pontiac's Clinton Valley Center. Tapes of MOT performances and background information for the blind and visually handicapped are also distributed through the county library systems.

The Lutheran School performances of "Fair Means or Foul" is part of dedication ceremonies for a new chapel portrait of Clara Elizabeth Knudsen, a school benefactor who was Karen DiChiera's grandmother. The performance is being sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vanderkloot, Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. S.E. Knudsen.

Will wed

Early August wedding plans are being made by ANITA-SUE RETFORD and Michael John Barger whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Retford, of Lakeshore Road.

Miss Retford attended University Liggett School and Hillsdale College and received her Associate degree in Dental Hygiene from Kalamazoo Valley Community College.

Mr. Barger, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barger, of Farmington, Minn., attended Farmington High School and holds a bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration from Ohio University. He is employed by the Federal Aviation Administration.

Ohio setting for April rites

Carol Livingston, daughter of Mrs. James J. Livingston, of Fisher Road, and the late Mr. Livingston, was married Saturday, April 25, in Berea, O., to Keith Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas, of Berea.

The former Miss Livingston, a graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School and Michigan State University, where she affiliated with Sigma Kappa sorority, was attended by her sister, Barbara Quart, and escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, Steven Quart.

The bridegroom, an Ohio State University graduate who now works as an engineer for IBM in Boulder, Colo., asked his father to act as best man.

Carol is a Kelly Girl payroll supervisor. The newlyweds will make their home in Boulder.

Camps offered by Girl Scouts

Girls six to 17 years old, non-scouts as well as Girl Scouts, can plan for at least a week of summertime activities by registering for Michigan Metro Girl Scout Council's Day Camps, located at seven sites throughout the metropolitan Detroit area.

Further information and/or a day camp application may be obtained by contacting Michigan Metro Girl Scouts, 964-4475.

A grand finale to Theatre Arts 70th season

Theatre Arts Club closes its 70th anniversary season with an original musical written and directed by member Margaret (Mrs. David) Lindner tomorrow, Friday, May 15, at The Players Playhouse on East Jefferson Avenue.

During the year, the all-woman drama group gives its performances in the afternoon — but the last production of the season is always an evening gala: a black tie affair (husbands and escorts are invited) with an 8:30 p.m. curtain, and the show is followed by a celebration supper.

Margaret Lindner is also doing the set and properties designs for her play. The cast includes Dorothy (Mrs. Ellsworth) Allison, Mary (Mrs. George) Belanger, Sharon (Mrs. James) Conti, Johanna (Mrs. Ellwyn) Gilbert, Irene (Mrs. Paul) Gracey, Jean (Mrs. Carl) Ground, Dorothy (Mrs. Eugene) Ignasiak, Peg (Mrs. R. Gerald) Jordan, Marge (Mrs. O.) Kallin, Mary Ellen (Mrs. Martin) Klerx, Monica (Mrs. Richard) Locke, Audrey (Mrs. William) Lowrey, Trudy (Mrs. Thomas) Rhoades, Rita (Mrs. Ben) Stormes, Linn (Mrs. Stephen) Toth, Marge (Mrs. Kenneth) Locke and Arme (Mrs. Milton) Volkens.

Acompanist is Audrey (Mrs. Joseph) Jennings. Producers are the Mesdames Edward Johnson and W. Victor Benjamin. Committees for the show properties, under the aegis of Mrs. Conti; costumes, Mrs. B. Fred Guertler, Mrs. Charles McDonald, Mrs. Harold Davis and Mrs. Albert Beretech; make-up, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Sidney Probert and Mrs. Frederick Neumann; and lighting, Mrs. James R. Doll and Mrs. William Turner Jr.

Stage manager will be Mrs. Murray Young. Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. Richard Henritze were in charge of the rehearsal luncheons.

Assisting 70th anniversary committee chairman Mrs. Diamond T. Phillips are Mrs. Bernard Whitley, Mrs. Conti, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. William Coyle.

Planning the post-performance supper is Mrs. Victor Briedenbach, with assistance from a committee including Mrs. Raymond Duffy Jr., Mrs. Whitley, Mrs. Theodore Worthman, Mrs. Ray W. Smith and Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. J. Ross Bush, Theatre Arts' current president, will propose the champagne toast honoring past-presidents and the club.

Per tradition, the evening will open with the Theatre Arts Choral Ensemble singing the Theatre Arts Song, composed by Mrs. Jennings.

Sunny Days nursery

Sunny Days, a program for three and four-year-old children, is holding a spring tea and open house for interested mothers at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church on Mack Avenue next Tuesday, May 19, at 7:30 p.m.

The Sunny Days mother participation philosophy will be explained, and there will be opportunities to tour classrooms, meet teachers and board members and enroll children for the next semester.

Sunny Days is a program of the Woods Presbyterian Church, for community children. It consists of two-hour class periods, twice a week, designed to provide an atmosphere for the development of motor skills. It utilizes activities accenting group involvement, such as stories, singing, crafts, free play, games, nature studies and field trips — with praise and recognition of efforts.

It is non-denominational, but seeks to develop a child's relationship with others in a Christian environment, folto hold open house at Woods Presbyterian loving the Paulist Press' "A Sense of Me" curriculum. It is under the supervision of Jean Wahlig, Carol Bosley and mothers.

"Miss Jean," formerly with the Grosse Pointe Woods Nursery Playgroup, Inc., has an Associate Degree in Early Child Care and is beginning her 25th year of teaching pre-school children.

"Mrs. Bosley," who has recently returned to teaching, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Elementary Education and has two children of her own. Her volunteer experience encompasses service as a den, band and room mother, girl scout helper and elementary school librarian.

Sunny Days' board members for the 1981-82 school year are Kathleen Stevenson, president; Linda Zachary, vice-president; Carmen Dotterer, membership chairman; Judy Wilcox, personnel and health chairman; and Lynda Grippi, treasurer.

Further information may be obtained by calling 886-5540 or 885-6267.

For Summer Parties . . . there are so many delightful dresses at Walton-Pierce. How about a white on white patterned woven cotton cut to show off a sun tan? It's banded and bowed with black grosgrain. A double rope black belt ties the waist. Pick a delectable peach crepe bolero jacket dress ensemble for evening. The bolero is softly cut with a ruffled collar. It tops a halter neck dress that's accented with a full blown rose. Another flattering color choice is amethyst. It is used for a beautiful two piece organza evening dress. One of the most outstanding evening dresses is a strapless gown with a cascade of ruffles down the front of the skirt that's cut to show off your pretty legs. It comes with a ruffled stole. Getting ready for 'The Greenery'

Grosse Pointe Garden Center board members MRS. H. ROLLIN ALLEN and MRS. CHARLES A. BIGELOW (left and right) anticipate "The Greenery," the Garden Center's annual community Horticulture and Bonsai Show, to be staged this spring on Thursday, May 23, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, and remind everyone that contributions to the House Plant Sale on that day will be most warmly welcomed.

All Garden Center board members look forward each year to this show and to its planning sessions, held in Garden Center headquarters at the War Memorial, for they are exciting occasions during which committees meet to perfect arrangements and at the same time further friendships that have formed or been enhanced while working on Garden Center projects.

Incidentally, the only requirements for membership in the Pointe Garden Center are a love of gardens, gardening and people. New members are always welcomed with enthusiasm and may participate as much or as little as they choose in Garden Center affairs.

"Greenery" hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Mrs. John A. Dodds, the Garden Center's membership chairman, will be on hand all day long, ready to tell interested show visitors how they can become Pointe Garden Center members.

Mrs. Bill O. Brink is general chairman of "The Greenery." Mrs. Carl B. Larsen is co-chairman. Mrs. Monte J. Edelen and Mrs. Harley Higbie will be responsible for the Bonsai displays. Mrs. Harold R. Smith is entry chairman.

Others on the show committee include Mrs. Robert Russell, placement; Mrs. Allen, judges and clerks; Mrs. Henry S. Walker, chairman of the judges' luncheon; and Mrs. William A. Cole, properties and staging. Mrs. Sidney H. Probert is handling publicity.

Further information on "The Greenery" may be obtained by calling the Grosse Pointe Garden Center, 881-4594, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, a menu built around STEAKS.

Choice of beef is very important. Prime and highest qualities of beef have the most marbling; however, that marbling constitutes the fat that is most difficult to remove. For the cholesterol and calorie conscious, the lean and cheaper cuts are the most judicious choices — and with proper preparation can be the most tasty and succulent. Beef is the American all-time favorite, but researchers advise that smaller servings will be acceptable if all possible fat is removed.

This is a very pleasing menu, especially because of its varied textures.

Babe Ruth League opens

By Al Hillenbrand

The Farms-City Babe Ruth League season opened on May 2 with games in the American and All-American leagues.

In the American League, the Indians and White Sox started the season off at Kerby Field. After falling behind, 9-4, the Indians scored a record 17 runs in the seventh to top the White Sox, 21-9. The Indian offense was led by Dave Spindler, who had three hits. Mike Bauer, Mike Wild, Jed Reganti and Rick Suhrheinrich contributed two hits each.

Derrick Stevens had four hits for the White Sox. Bauer was the winning pitcher. In the second game at Kerby Field, the Tigers defeated the Red Sox, 10-3. Jeff Cunningham limited the defending league champions to three hits while Tiger teammate Jeff Steele led the offense with a double and four RBI. John Williamson had two hits for the Red Sox.

On May 4, the Yankees exploded for 10 runs in the third to defeat the Indians, 14-8. Rich Hunt had a triple and four RBI. Richard Jones had two doubles and Chuck Kaess had three hits to pace the Yankee attack. Jones was the winning pitcher.

The Tigers topped the White Sox, 11-5, on May 5. Matt Lane was the winning pitcher but needed relief help from Keith Kovalick. The Yankees and Red Sox battled to an 8-8 tie on May 7. The game was called in the seventh due to darkness.

Rick Waugaman had two doubles, a home run and two RBI, and Williamson had a triple for the Red Sox offense. Scott White had two doubles and two RBI and Jim Fitzsimmons had a double to pace the Yankee attack.

The Tigers gained their third straight victory on May 8 by edging the Indians, 9-5. Robby Wood led the Tigers with two doubles. Kovalick and Matt Lane also doubled for the Tigers. Wild tripled for the Indians. Cunningham recorded his second victory of the season as he earned nine strikeouts. Steele made a diving outfield catch to start a Tiger double play.

The All American League opened its season on May 2 at Elworthy Field as the Angels beat the Red Legs, 10-5. Taylor Lincoln led the Angel attack with two RBI. The Red Legs' Bob Pytell hit a triple. Bob Clark made a diving catch in right to give Ray Colby the win.

The Park Expos defeated the Rangers, 14-5, in the second game at Elworthy. In the fourth inning, the Expos erupted for 11 runs off four Ranger pitchers. The outburst came after George Baer had held them hitless for three innings. The Rangers outlived the Expos, but walks and errors made the difference in the game. Scott Miller had a double for the Rangers.

On May 3, the Brewers defeated the Twins, 6-3. Dave Maddox and Mike Santo delivered key hits in the fifth to secure the Brewer victory. Maddox earned 12 strikeouts.

The Angels beat the Twins, 11-2, on May 4. The Angels' offense was led by Colby, Lincoln and Eric Cholack, as each collected two RBI. The Angels' Jeff McKean made a diving catch with two men on base to double up the runner at first base and erase a Twins' rally. Cholack had a three-hitter for the win.

On May 5, the Rangers beat the Brewers, 8-6. Mike Williams led the Rangers with a triple, single and two RBI. Miller doubled. Curt Swatkiewicz was the winning pitcher.

By Bob Waldeck

Grosse Pointe North's JV baseball team won four of five games last week to increase its Bi-County League record to 5-0 while amassing an 11-2 season mark.

"Our pitching and defensive play have been outstanding," said coach Dan Gripsbaum. "In our 11 wins, we have had 11 complete games from our pitchers. They have been throwing strikes and have given up few walks. And lately our hitters have come alive."

The Norsemen split a doubleheader with L'Anse Creuse North on May 4, losing the opener, 6-4, before winning the second game, 4-2. In the first game, L'Anse Creuse North scored five times in the first two innings to take a lead the Norsemen never overcame.

The Norsemen fought back in their second inning when Rich Stroebe doubled to left and Jos Haas singled. Dennis Cyr then hit a fly ball which the left fielder dropped to score Stroebe.

In the fourth, North scored another run on singles by Marty Mitchell, Stroebe and Haas. Scott Brady singled to start North's sixth inning, took second and third on wild pitches before Stroebe knocked him in with a sacrifice fly.

L'Anse Creuse North added a run in the seventh before the Norsemen scored once more. Cyr singled, went to second on a groundout, stole third and scored on an over-throw. North starting pitcher Bob Wujek went the first 5-2/3 innings and was relieved by Mike Hall.

The Norsemen fared better in the nightcap with a 4-2 victory as southpaw Dave Waldeck scattered six hits while striking out seven for his second win of the season. L'Anse Creuse North again opened the scoring with two runs in the second inning, but the Norsemen tied it in the fifth as Steven Walker led off with a double to right.

Bob Bava then hit a bunt single before Fred Schultz forced him at second. Schultz stole second, Waldeck walked and Kevin Dundon grounded out as Walker scored. Mitchell followed with a single to drive in Schultz.

North won the game in the seventh as Schultz doubled, Waldeck singled and Dundon drew a walk. Mitchell then singled to score pinch-runner Brady and Stroebe hit a sacrifice fly to score Waldeck.

Stroebe led North's attack in the two games with two doubles and two singles while Mitchell hit three singles. Schultz had a double and a single. Brady, Cyr, Haas and Waldeck each hit two singles while Walker had a double and Bava and John Matouk hit singles.

North traveled to L'Anse Creuse on May 6 and won easily, 12-3. Freshman fireballer Mike Hall won his second game of the year, recording eight strikeouts and giving up six hits.

The Norsemen scored four times in the first inning on four walks and a three-run homer by Cyr. They added two runs in the third inning as Schultz doubled in a run and later scored on a passed ball.

L'Anse Creuse got a run in the third, but North scored four more times in the fifth on three walks and hits by Mitchell, Stroebe, Brady and Cyr. The Norsemen scored twice more in the seventh on a two-run single by Gerry Vento.

Cyr paced North's 14-hit attack with a home run and a single. Stroebe connected for a double and a single as Mitchell and Vento each hit two singles. Schultz had a double while Haas, Matouk, Dundon, Brady and Wujek had a single each.

North concluded its successful week by beating Clintondale twice, 11-3 and 2-0, on May 8. In the first contest, pitcher Wujek won his fifth game, allowing only six hits.

The Norsemen scored once in the first on singles by Haas and Stroebe and a sacrifice by Dundon. Clintondale took a 3-1 lead in the second before North tied the game with two runs in the third as Dundon singled. Stroebe smacked a double and Cyr singled.

North scored six times to put the game away in the fourth as Hall led off with a single. Vento was hit by

North JV runs mark to 11-2 with four win week

a pitch and Haas and Dundon hit singles. Mitchell then reached base on an error before Stroebe walked and Brady knocked in two runs with a single. One more run was scored in the fifth as Hall doubled and Vento drove him in with a single. Mike Marasco accounted for North's final tally with a solo home run in the sixth. Other hitters who contributed to North's 16-hit barrage were Stroebe with a double and single; Haas, Schultz and Dundon with two singles each and Vento, Bava, Brady, Tim Sheridan and Cyr with a single each. Right hander Haas won his second game of the year in the nightcap on a fine two-hit performance in a 2-0 victory.

North scored a run in the fifth inning when Walker got to second on a two-base error and pinch-runner Schultz advanced to third on an out. Haas then scored Schultz with a single.
Cyr provided his team's final run in the sixth inning with a solo home run to left. Cyr also had a single in the game while Haas, Stroebe, Mitchell and Walker each had a base hit.

Stat girls Kelley Brady, Peggy King, Janna Miller and Julie Ulmer have assisted the coaching staff this season.

South girls up track record to 4-1

The South girls' track team defeated L'Anse Creuse North last week, 64-59, and upped its record to 4-1. The girls' season has been marked by many outstanding performances, including those which set new school records.

Senior team captains Jane Wilson and Renee Lanz have helped pace the team with first place finishes in their events in each meet. Wilson has dominated the two mile run and Lanz has turned in consistent performances on the high jump — always scoring over five feet.

Sophomore Valerie Stone has established school records in both the 1600 and 800 meter runs, with times of 5:27 and 2:27. She also anchors the school record-holding mile relays team which also includes freshmen Linda Feola and Eileen O'Shee and junior Mary Rosasco.

Feola is the team's top point scorer and has several outstanding performances, including a 16 foot, 7 inch long jump and 62.7 time in the 400 meter.

Junior Cathy Maher, state regional champion and 1980 state finalist in the 200 meter hurdles, has continued to capture first place finishes in the hurdles this year, as well as anchor both sprint relay teams.

South's wins this season have come against Highland Park, Bishop Gallagher, Roseville and L'Anse Creuse North. The girls' only loss came at the hands of East Detroit.

Team members adding needed depth include freshmen Karen Fellows and Wendy Flynn, sophomores Suzanne Cebrowski and Jill Tingley, and juniors Susan Platt and Sarah Scranton.

Coach Steve Zarnack notes that while South's distance runners have been the heart of the team this season, the sprinters have also come along very well. The sprinters are made up of freshmen and sophomores who should continue to improve at their events, Zarnack adds.

The girls recently competed in the Central Michigan University Relays and fared extremely well, placing in four events. Lanz was second in the high jump and the mile relay team of Rosasco, O'Shee, Feola and Stone was fifth.

The distance medley relay team, comprised of Rosasco, Feola, Wilson and Stone placed fourth and then came back to earn a second place finish in the middle distance relay.

South placed fifth overall in the meet, which included 70 schools from four different classes.

The girls have two dual meets remaining and look forward to the state regionals and Eastern Michigan League championship meet — both to be held at South. The regionals are this Saturday, May 16, at 10 a.m., with 25 teams competing.

The E.M.L. championship meet will take place at 3 p.m., Tuesday, May 19 at South.

South's Colton, Bartsch named

South High swimmers Tom Bartsch and Jeff Colton were recently awarded All-State swimming honors for their first place finishes in the boys' high school state meet.

Bartsch set a state record time of 21.7 seconds in winning the 50 yard freestyle. According to South High, Bartsch was the first high school sophomore to break a high school state record in 50 years.

Colton finished first in the 100 yard backstroke. His state record time of 54.1 seconds earned him the All-State honors. Colton is a junior at South.

In addition to his All-State honors, Bartsch was listed in the April, 1981 edition of Swimming World Magazine. His time was among the top 25 times nationally for the 13-14 year-old group.

Leverenz classes set

Learning to sail is an exciting challenge—and it need not be difficult. The Jack Leverenz Great Lakes Sailing School re-opens Saturday, May 16 for a season of intensive sailing instruction on Lake St. Clair.

Cost is $195 weekdays, $125 weekends and $150 weekday evenings. There is a 10 percent discount for couples signing up together. Upon completion of the course, a certificate is awarded each student attesting to his/her proficiency.

The 1981 summer program is offered in three different time periods, weekdays, weekends, and weekday evenings. In addition to learning how to rig a boat, sail away from the dock, sail in any desired direction, head up, head down, come about, gybe, return to the dock and properly put the boat away, students learn the basic theory of sail, including why the boat moves through the water and why the sails power the boat.

Also taught is knot tying, nautical terminology, safety procedures and consumer advice for those wishing to buy or charter a sailboat.

The boats used are 23-foot keel boats designed especially for teaching sailing. There is a professional instructor and no more than four students on the boat at all times.

Complete information and brochure may be obtained by calling 886-7887, or writing Jack Leverenz Sailing Schools, 377 Fisher Road, Suite G, Grosse Pointe, Mich. 48230.

SH trackmen drop two meets

By Dawn Locniskar
South High

Grosse Pointe South's boys' varsity track team fell last week, losing 88-46, to L'Anse Creuse North. The team then took 14th place out of 21 teams at the Troy Athens Relays May 9.

High scores in the meet against L'Anse Creuse North came from Pat Böll in the discus, John Szymanski in the shotput, Paul Hedemark in the pole vault, Mike Arbaugh in the high jump and Bill Peattie with a "well-run" 4:39 mile.

"We only scored in one event, but for once the sprinters came around. We had a few very well run races from them," noted coach Ed Bonne.

Finishing in fourth place was the pole vault relay of Hedemark, Bill Waugaman and Erick Frakes.

The boys' next meets include the Regional meet hosted by South on May 16 and the Eastern Michigan League (EML) meet at South on May 16.

Correction

The caption for a picture on Page 14D of the May 7 issue incorrectly identified the fish as perch. According to the fishermen, it was a pike. The News regrets any inconvenience the error may have caused the fishermen, the Department of Natural Resources and the fish.

The list of awards in the Cottage Hospital Fun Run/Walk published May 7 should have included Hermann Geisert, 80, as a walker, not a runner.

Rowing makes a comeback

By Mark Clark
South High

Rowing is making a comeback at South High. For the first time since 1946, South has a rowing team. The team is sponsored and financed by the Detroit Boat Club but is composed of South students.

"Back in the 1940's rowing was a popular sport at South and people are now starting to realize how satisfying a sport it is. I hope we can keep a good program going at South," said Brian Benz, a second-year rower.

The team, which has been training for three months at 5:30 a.m. and at night for three days a week, was impressive in winning the Wyandotte Regatta on May 2.

The winning eight man shell in the Junior Division consisted of Sean Welch, Benz, Brian Carion, Lazar Raynal, Stuart Campbell, Steve Wescott, Greg Buch, Jim Hartman and Greg Gersch, who was coxswain.

"I think this win shows that we have a legitimate shot at a good showing at Nationals," Campbell said.

The Blue Devils will compete in the American Schoolboy Nationals in Delaware on May 21, 22 and 23. South will be represented by the winning crew from the Wyandotte Regatta, as well as another eight man crew.

This regatta decides the best in high school, with teams from all over the United States and Canada competing.

A main reason for the Devil's early success is their coach, Dr. Richard Bell. "He gets the most out of us," says Benz.

"He'll make us row up to eight miles and then make us run six miles a day. He's a tough coach," Campbell added.

The team's backbreaking workouts will continue throughout the summer. They will also continue to compete in regattas. In July, the Devils will travel to New York to compete at the Youth Trials in hopes of qualifying for the Youth National team sponsored by the United States Olympic Committee.

SH softball team strugglin'

By Susan Sweetman
South High

"It's time to regroup," said coach Jan Hooper, after South's Varsity softball team finished last weeks play with a 2-2 record and lost a key player for the season.

The Blue Devils played L'Anse Creuse North May 8, and lost, 18-4.

In a game against Mt. Clemens on May 7, South lost Lisa Keegan, starting catcher, when she broke her ankle. The Blue Devils won, 15-11.

In nonleague competition on May 5, South lost to Lakeview, 12-5. "It was a close game against Roseville on May 4, but South won, 9-8.

"Our hitting isn't too bad," Hooper commented. "But, we're allowing the other teams to have big innings with walks, errors and hits."

South's overall record is 5-4. They are 2-3 in their league. "There is no way we can catch the league title with three losses," Hooper said. "We may be able to stay ahead of Mt. Clemens, though." East Detroit is leading the league.

1980 records reveal

Young drivers show higher accident rate

State traffic accident records for 1980 will continue to verify the need for charging young drivers higher auto insurance rates than older motorists, the Michigan Association of Insurance Companies said recently.

"Preliminary figures from the Michigan State Police indicate drivers age 24 and younger, who represent about 25 percent of all licensed motorists, were involved in 36.3 percent of fatal accidents last year," said Terry N. Buckles, MAIC President.

"This is only a slight improvement from the 37.1 figure in 1979 and we expect statistics covering all types of accidents will show a similar high level. In 1979, drivers in this age group were involved in nearly 40 percent of all accidents in which ages were recorded."

"Young adults are injured in auto accidents far out of proportion to their share of the overall population," Buckles said.

Buckles noted a 1979 released study of 53,000 injury claims from across the nation found persons between 16 and 24 accounting for 32 percent of injury claims paid by auto insurers. This age group makes up 17 percent of the population.

"This closely parallels our findings from 1979 Michigan accident records," he said. "Of the 1,849 persons killed in traffic accidents, 35.2 percent were in the 15-24 age group, which also accounted for some 38 percent of all injuries.

"Payment of claims arising from such accidents can be extremely costly. One recent study identified losses in Michigan, New Jersey and Pennsylvania with ultimate costs estimated at $100,000 or more. Young adults between the ages of 16 and 24 accounted for nearly half of these large claims," Buckles said.

Buckles also said that overall traffic safety improvement expected to be reported for 1980 would not be enough to lower insurance costs in the state because of continued inflation.

"With less travel and slower average speeds, Michigan drivers have reduced their traffic accident involvement. As a result, car insurance premiums are not increasing as rapidly as they might have otherwise," he said.

During the 12 months ending March 31, 1981, auto insurance costs increased 4.3 percent, while the overall Consumer Price Index rose 10.6 percent.

"The problem, of course," Buckles concluded, "is inflation. The price of service which insurance pays for — such as car repair and medical care — has risen much faster than the overall cost of living. So, even though the traffic accidents are expected to remain below normal, auto coverage premiums will probably continue to increase."

The spring series of classes offered by Continuing Education ends the week of May 18. Featured on Monday, May 18 is "Charity Sucek Presents Low Calorie Salads" and "Dieter's Delight" on Tuesday, May 19.

"Charity Sucek Presents Low Calorie Salads for Spring!" begins at 7 p.m. in the room C-5 of Brownell School. Fee for the single session class is $6.

"Dieter's Delight" will be offered at 7:30 p.m. at North High. Taught by Kathy Kennedy, the focus is on tasty, low-calorie foods. Fee is $4.

ULS boys score track victory

The ULS boys' track team scored an overwhelming victory last Thursday by defeating Roseville Baptist Academy 96-34. The Knights won every running event and only lost three field events during the complete meet.

Point-getters for the ULS team included Jerry Stekete, who won the 100 meter and 200 meter dash and who anchored the 400 meter Relay team that won. He also placed second in the long jump. Tony Alcantara also played a big part in the victory by winning the pole vault and running on both the 400 meter and 1600 meter winning relay teams.

Double winners for ULS were Steve Jackson, in the 110 meter high hurdles and the 400 meter relay; Dave Mott in the 400 meter run and the 1600 meter relay; Jim Kitchen in the 300 meter low hurdles and the 800 meter relay and Jim Wood in the 800 meter run and the 1600 meter relay. Single event winners were Dave Van Elslander in the 3200 meter run, Ron Schocker in the discus and Kurt Schneider in the 1600 meter run.

The ULS striders headed into a tough week with three meets. They were away Tuesday at Southfield Christian to avenge their only loss of the season. They will return home today, May 14, to make up a previously rained-out meet against Huron Valley Lutheran and Lutheran Northwest. It's on the road Saturday, May 16, to Pontiac Northern to the MIAC Championship meet.

North netters ready to star

By Tim Saunders
North High

The Grosse Pointe North boys' tennis team, after playing in the shadow of cross town rivals ULS and South High, appear ready to rise up and contend with the top tennis teams in the area.

The Norsemen, having already made many of the top 10 teams in the state in the first week and a half of the season, could be just a step away from teams like ULS, Cranbrook and Ann Arbor Huron, all likely favorites for state competition.

The team opened the season at the Edsel Ford Invitational and grabbed a second place among the four teams participating with 12 points, bettered only by Cranbrook's 21. Pete Schooff and Alan Mach won the fourth doubles flight for the Norsemen.

After being shut out by the defending state champion ULS team 7-0, the Norsemen traveled to the Ann Arbor Huron Invitational which included four of the top 10 teams in the state. North took fifth place in the eight team tournament.

On April 27, the Norsemen met their first Bi-County opponent Lakeshore and swept the Shorians winning all four singles and doubles matches.

North also took part in the ULS Invitational on May 1 and 2, and came away with a third place finish behind the ULS and the Ann Arbor Pioneer team. Singles players Bill Casey and Marc Andris both got to the championship round finals while all four doubles teams won their consolation round finals.

North's doubles lineup includes Rob Zink and Tom VanPelt, Colin Bailey and Fred Lepley, Scott Turnbull and Grant Gilezen and Schooff and Jeff Lepley. The other singles players are Chris Brown and Sanjit Jayakar.

If everything goes as planned, the season should be a very big one for coach Tom Berschback and his team. The coach predicts that they will win the Bi-County and says "I expect us to be one of the major contenders in the regional competition." "I think we have our best chance" in years at beating South this season, he continued, "but Fraser and Bishop Gallagher will be right there as well."

Auto call backs lower state jobless rate

All but one of Michigan's 13 major labor market areas followed the state's lead and registered drops in their unemployment rates during March, according to estimates released last week by S. Martin Taylor, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC).

The release of local labor force estimates usually follows the release of statewide figures by about three to four weeks. On April 3, MESC had announced that the statewide jobless rate in March was 13.2 percent, down from 14.2 percent in February. The number of unemployed workers across the state in March fell by 40,000 to 564,000. The figures being released today breakdown the statewide estimates for the 13 local areas.

Taylor said that the Bay City area was the only one to register an increase in unemployment during March. The area's jobless rate rose by two-tenths of a percentage point to 14.9 percent. Taylor attributed the rise to job losses in the area's manufacturing and nonmanufacturing industries.

The Muskegon area had the largest drop as its unemployment rate fell from 16.6 percent in February to 14.9 percent in March.

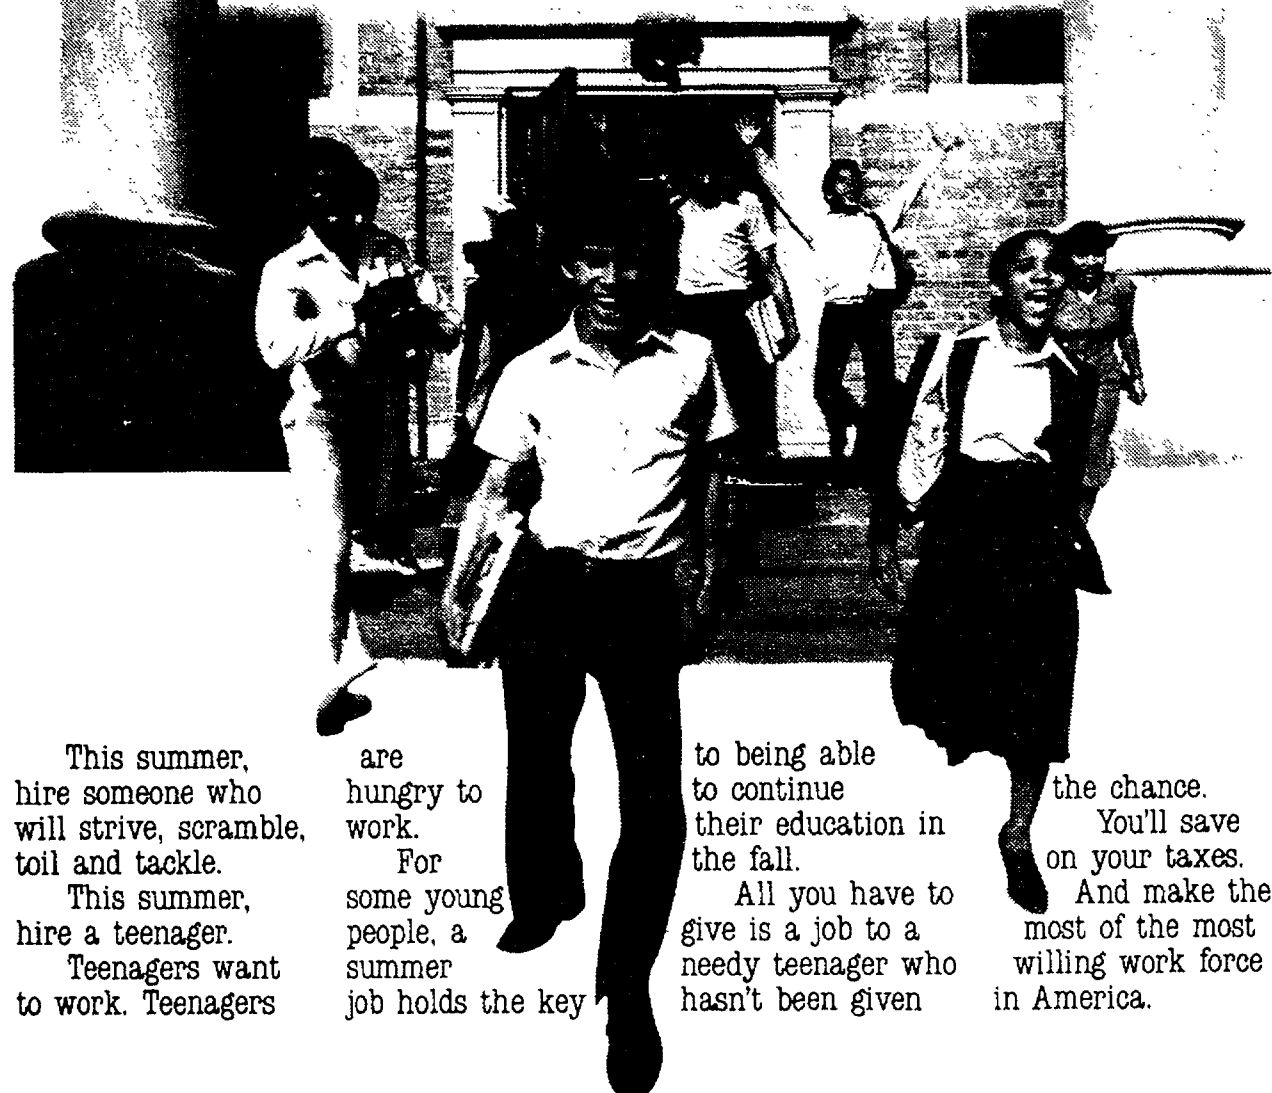

The lowest jobless rate for the month was in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area which had a rate of 8.2 percent. The highest rate was shared by the Flint area and the Upper Peninsula, both areas had rates of 16.5 percent.

Taylor attributed the statewide drop in unemployment to call backs in the auto industry along with scattered job gains in construction and retail trade.

North win streak reaches 35

By Tim Saunders
North High

On May 15, 1980, the Grosse Pointe North varsity baseball team lost to the Lakeshore Shorians, 4-3, only the fourth loss of the year. One year later, the Norsemen have not lost another ball game while putting together an unthinkable 35 game winning streak, including the first 19 games in the 1981 season.

Last week the Norsemen won three games, two coming against league teams, to improve their Bi County record to 7-0.

North's five runs in the third inning gave them a 12-2 lead. Unfortunately for L'Anse Creuse the worst was yet to come. In the fifth inning North scored 10 runs on two hits to make it 22-2.

John Clem and John Menzo each had three RBI with Menzo's coming on a three-run home run. On the mound Clem went four innings and allowed two hits before giving way to Dave Babcock who finished it up.

Immediately following that victory the Norsemen went under the lights to play Harper Woods and probably wished they could have saved some of their earlier runs, as they ended up on top of a close 5-2 score. A single, a walk and a hit batsman loaded the bases for North in the third inning with one out.

Bill Babcock drew a walk, forcing in one run and Menzo scored another with his fielder's choice. Eric Schubert hit a two-run triple to rightfield and it was 4-0.

In the fifth Clem doubled home Mogk with North's fifth run to complete the scoring, which gave winning pitcher Menzo more runs than he needed. In seven innings Menzo scattered two hits and gave up just two runs while striking out 14.

Two days later, North traveled to Clintondale where it had another field day, winning 16-0. Babcock was backed by a 14 hit attack as he gave up two hits accounting for Clintondale's only two base runners. For Babcock it was his fifth win of the year in five starts and the fifth game in which he has struck out 10 or more batters.

Clem hit his seventh home run of the year and his third with the bases loaded. His 44 RBI this year sets a school record for a season with at least 10 games to go.

John Mueller also added a three run home run in the third inning as Monark and Schubert each had two hits.

ULS second in MIAC

The ULS girls' track team turned in a superb performance in the May 9 Michigan Independent Athletic Conference track meet, placing second with 156 team points, only six points shy of first place.

ULS's toughest competitor, Southfield Christian scored 162 team points for a first place victory, while third place went to Huron Valley Lutheran with 51 points; fourth place to Bethesda, with 48 points; fifth place to Oakland Christian with 38. Lutheran Northwest took sixth place with four team points.

Excellent performances came from all members of the ULS team with each of the girls either improving, or cutting seconds off of her running event times.

Amy Salot took first place in the discus with a fine throw of 81 feet. Her best throw for the season is 85 feet and she hopes to improve that distance this Saturday, May 16 at the Regionals.

Once again sophomore Andrea Kinnannon showed power, grace and speed capturing a first place in the long jump with a jump of 15 feet eight inches; a first place in the 100 yard dash, in 11.39 seconds and a first place in the 220 yard dash in 26.36 seconds.

Leaving everyone behind, co-captain Kathy Duff finished the one mile with her best time of 5:51.11 and smoked all of the other competitors in the two mile with an excellent time of 12:37.9.

Running away with two third places and a fourth place was Sarah Glass, who participated in the 880 yard run, one mile, and two mile.

Tennis contenders at North

By Tim Saunders
North High

North boys' tennis team appears to be one of the top teams in the state this year.

The Norsemen, having already faced many of the top ten teams in the state in the first few weeks of the season could be just a step away from teams like ULS, Cranbrook and Ann Arbor Huron, all likely favorites for State Competition.

The team opened the season at the Edsel Ford quad-rangular in Edsel Ford and grabbed a second place among the four teams participating, with 12 points. Pete Schooff and Alan Mach won the fourth doubles flight for the Norsemen.

After being shut out by the defending State Champion ULS team, 7-0, the Norsemen traveled to the Ann Arbor Huron Invitational, which featured four of the top teams in the state. North took fifth place in the eight team tournament.

On April 27, the Norsemen met their first Bi-County opponent Lakeshore and swept the Shorians 8-0, winning all four singles and doubles matches.

North also took part in the ULS Invitational on May 1 and 2 and came away with a third place finish behind the teams from ULS and Ann Arbor Pioneer. Singles players Bill Casey and Marc Andris both got to the championship round while all four doubles teams won their consolation round finals.

North's doubles teams include Rob Zink and Tom VanPelt; Colin Bailey and Fred Lepley; Scott Turnbull and Grant Gilezan and Pete Schooff and Jeff Lepley. The other singles players are Chris Brown and Sanjit Jayakar.

After North's first Bi-County match, coach Tom Berschback predicted a league championship and said that "I expect to be one of the major contenders, and 4 doubles.
