

Members of the St. Paul Vacation Bible School held a song filled program last Friday entitled "All Things Bright and Beautiful." The program consisted of songs, creative dramas, dance and finally, a launch of prayer balloons over Lake St. Clair that had children and parents alike soaring nearly as high as the balloons they released. As the balloons floated above St. Paul Church Shores Trustee Patti Galvin and her twin children John and Julie, 7, wished them a happy voyage.

Woods approves downtown zone

By Gregory Jakub

Grosse Pointe Woods city planners set the stage this week for allowing the development of a "downtown" district at the 12.5 acre site of the 7-Mack Shopping Center.

The Woods Council and Planning Commission Monday night reviewed a proposed "high intensity city center district" plan which the council adopted as a chapter of the city's new zoning ordinance on Aug. 3.

The plan provides the legal guidelines to encourage the development of a combination commercial, office, and residential complex similar to those in downtown Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, or Chicago's John Hancock Center.

According to the plan developed by Gerald Luedtke and Associates, Inc., the high intensity city center district's purpose is to "create a strong community focal point and to promote welfare by enhancing the city's tax base."

The exact location of the city center district will be in the revised zoning map to be finalized later.

Although the plan would allow high rise developments, city officials built in certain controls that will allow the city to determine the size and shape of such projects.

Even though a downtown development project could be 20 years away, there was a sense of urgency at Monday's meeting caused by the Woods' rapidly expanding neighbor—St. John Hospital.

St. John's parent company, the St. Clair Health Care Corporation, owns the 7-Mack Shopping Center, Woods officials said that part of the city center plan's purpose is to protect their tax base by preventing the hospital from developing the 7-Mack area on a tax-exempt basis.

"(The Woods) has no desire to have St. John make all their property tax exempt. (The new ordinance) keeps all of Grosse Pointe Woods' tax base at least 85 percent taxable," according to Woods' planning consultant Brandon Rogers of Parkins/Rogers and Associates, Inc. who incorporated the city center plan into the new zoning ordinance.

Woods City manager Chester Petersen and Planning Commissioner Robert Fraley concurred that the city center plan is partially aimed at heading off the hospital's expansion.

While most of the talk was about the possibility of high-rise development at the 7-Mack site or possibly elsewhere in the Woods, there were those who advocated maintaining the city's current "low-profile" of single-family detached residences.

"THE MAJOR ISSUE is how much intensity of residential and commercial does this city want," said Rogers summarizing the options open to city

Man drowns at Neff Park

By Susan McDonald

Lake St. Clair claimed its third victim of the season in Grosse Pointe on Wednesday, Aug. 19, when a 39-year-old St. Clair Shores man drowned after a late night boat ride.

The victim was Gerald E. Lamb, of St. Clair Shores, a truck driver and father of four children.

Police said the accident occurred after Lamb returned to the City's Neff Park Marina at about 1 a.m. Wednesday after a cruise with his wife, mother-in-law, and brother and sisters-in-law. City Public Safety Officer John Onstwedder and his wife, witnesses said Lamb was the first person to get off the boat and was seen standing on the dock.

"When we looked again, he was just gone. There was no splash, no yell, nothing," said PSO Onstwedder.

Police, Coast Guard and volunteer divers searched the lake until 2 a.m. when Lamb's body was found under the hull of a large sail boat by volunteer Leon Sheoyan. He was declared dead on arrival at the hospital.

Two other persons have died this summer in the lake off Grosse Pointe. Gregory Wojcik, 15, of Ridgemont Road, drowned June 25, after he was struck by the propellers of a cruiser. That accident occurred about 200 yards out from the Crescent Sail Club where witnesses said Wojcik was swimming with two friends on a rubber raft. No charges were filed against the driver of the boat.

A Detroit man, Stanfer C. Brookshire, 47, drowned June 5, after he dove into the Lake near Windmill Pointe Drive to swim to friends in a boat. Brookshire, known as "Chicko," fished regularly off shore near the Helin property. His body was found several days later in the Detroit River.

Teleprompter begins cable tests in City

By Susan McDonald

Two hundred Grosse Pointe City households will be asked to help Teleprompter Corp. test new, computerized meter reading devices under an agreement approved last week by the city council.

The tests will make use of Grosse Pointe's recently installed cable TV lines to transmit water meter data to a computer at a remote location. The computer processes the information and bills are printed, ready to mail.

The objective of the test is to prove that this new service is a "reliable, accurate and cost effective alternative to manual meter reading," according to Teleprompter's Robert D. Bilodeau, director of new service development.

Teleprompter will eventually offer the service at a cost to Grosse Pointe City and other communities in which it has franchises.

TEST HOUSEHOLDS will not be required to subscribe to any cable TV services, according to Teleprompter's Bilodeau. Participants must allow the firm's representatives inside their house to install special cable equipment and periodic entry by meter readers who will be checking the system's accuracy. The test will last about 90 days after all 200 volunteers have been signed up and installed.

Councilman Robert Nugent, who reviewed the proposal, said it could eventually save the city money by reducing the manpower needed for manual meter reading.

"We have no doubt about the technology. We believe we'll be doing a service to citizens," Nugent said.

Other advantages to the system, according to Nugent, are its ability to tie in burglary and smoke alarms for 24-hour a day service. If the system is adopted by the City after the tests are complete, alarm services may be offered for a price, he said.

The new round of tests are similar to ones conducted over telephone lines more than a year ago by the firm Datavision. Several dozen City homes were involved with those experiments which proved successful, according to company officials.

This time, the data will be transmitted over Grosse Pointe Cable, Inc.'s coaxial lines, made of a core of wire, surrounded by foam, surrounded by wire. Cable lines are a better, more accurate transmitter of data than telephone lines. Datavision will sell Teleprompter much of the high-technology equipment needed to conduct the tests, according to Grosse Pointe City Manager Thomas Kressbach.

City Councilman Lorenzo Browning, who last year abstained from votes on Datavision tests because he is a company official, voted in favor of the agreement with Teleprompter.

City Mayor David Robb, abstained from the Aug. 17 vote on Teleprompter tests because he "has represented Teleprompter and Grosse Pointe Cable" as an attorney. The measure was approved by a 4-0 vote, with Councilmen William Montgomery and George Henry absent and not voting.

Mayor Robb has been one of a handful of local residents at the forefront of cable development in Grosse Pointe, both as mayor of the City and in other capacities. He is legal partner of John Rickel, who was president of the War Memorial Association at the time the unusual, five-city cable TV franchise agreement was developed.

Under the agreement substantial control and profit from Grosse Pointe's television system is placed in the hands of the War Memorial Association, through a non-profit corporation called Grosse Pointe Cable TV, Inc. Other shareholders in Grosse Pointe Cable TV are Teleprompter and the five cities which awarded their franchises in 1979: Grosse Pointe City, Farms, Woods Park and Harper Woods. The Shores' contract went to a Cox Cable system in southern Macomb County.

The law firm, Rickel, Urso, Wokas, Earle and Robb, also has represented Teleprompter and Grosse Pointe Cable TV, Inc., in legal matters, including the recent sale of more than $7 million in bonds to finance improvements to the system.

Plans and progress on Hill set in concrete

By Tom Greenwood

The proposed builders of a Hill office building and parking deck both confirmed this week they are firmly committed to the projects, but have been stymied by the interdependency of the projects and red tape.

Appearing before the Farms council Monday night was Peter Bologna, of the 81 Investment Co., proposed builders of a three story office-retail building on Kercheval near Muir Road.

In his appearance, Bologna stressed his company still remains committed to the project, but feels two problems are preventing groundbreaking.

"The first item," he said "is the parking deck. My building is dependent upon construction of the deck. The second item is financing. I can get financing from a number of institutions that are very interested in my building, but only after I have a building permit or when Cottage Hospital (proposed builder of the parking deck) announces they're going to construct the deck."

"I can't get my permit or loan until Cottage receives the okay to move ahead. Cottage can't move ahead because they're temporarily held up by legal restraints from the state."

Reached in his office, Cottage Hospital Administrator Ralph Wilgarde confirmed that the hospital is still very enthused about the parking deck.

"We hope and intend to build the parking deck with or without Mr. Bologna's building," he said. "We feel it's a project that we and the Hill have needed for a long time."

"Our problem is that in order for a hospital to spend money, we have to file a 'certificate of need.' It takes weeks and weeks to get a decision on these certificates. It has to be okayed by the State Health Department and the Health Planning Council of Michigan. So I really don't know where we are exactly at this time."

Wilgarde did say that an announcement giving a go ahead for the deck by the first of February, 1982 "wouldn't be out of line."

Wilgarde pegged the cost of the project at roughly $15 million. The deck would offer approximately 250 spaces, and would run parallel to Muir Road from about the main entrance of the hospital to two houses short of Kercheval Road.

WILGARDE ALSO confirmed that if the hospital erected the deck, the parking rates would probably be substantially lower than the 80 cents per hour proposed under the original construction plan.

Bologna told the council on Aug. 24 that he found conditions on the Hill "a bit worrisome."

"It troubles me that this project continues to be difficult," he said. "In surveys we've taken, we found that week by week, month by month, people are finding less of a need for the deck as the meters are used less and less."

However Bologna did agree with Farms Mayor James Dingeman that the future of the Hill looked brighter with the opening of three new businesses in the last few weeks, plus renewed interest shown in the Bronze Door restaurant.

"I'm confident we will receive financial backing for the office building," said Bologna. "I must admit I'm a little shell shocked and battle weary after three years of planning."

"But we're still committed to the Farms and the Hill to go ahead with this project."

Keeping the City green

The Grosse Pointe City Council last week approved a $28,000 "retree" program to combat the devastating effect of Dutch elm disease along city streets.

The $28,000 allocation, approved Aug. 17, will replace 80 or so trees lost so far this year on public property and will add 200 new trees to the City's north-south and east-west residential streets. In all about 280 trees of a variety of species will be planted after bids are taken next month.

The city, whose streets were once lined with old towering elms, has been losing the giant trees at a rate of about 130 a year for several years, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach. Experts predict the entire elm population in the U.S. may disappear within 20 years.

The city manager said he considers its tree-lined streets and yards one of the city's greatest natural resources and said the "retree" program is an important one.

"I think when citizens look back 40-50 years from now they will thank this council," he said at the Aug. 17 meeting.

Teacher talks still lag

By Joanne Gouleche

Grosse Pointe teacher union president Curt Lange Monday said negotiators have reached tentative agreement on minor issues facing this year's contract talks, but still remain far apart at the bargaining table on questions of salary, fringe benefits and classroom size.

Lange said the mood of the talks is "professional," but added there has been no significant progress since talks resumed the first of August.

"We met yesterday (Monday, Aug. 24) and will be meeting all this week. A lot has to be done in the next few weeks," Lange said.

STUDENTS ARE scheduled to head back to the classroom Wednesday, Sept. 9—one issue tentatively agreed on by negotiators earlier this month. Teacher contracts for the system's more than 500 teachers expires Aug. 31.

School board negotiator Ronald Tonks did not return phone calls to a News reporter. When contacted on Monday, Tonk's secretary said he wasn't accepting any calls because he was about to enter a negotiating meeting.

The Michigan Education Association's umbrella union Local 1 announced last week the settlement of South Lake teacher talks, awarding the educators there a 21 percent, two-year pact. South Lake teachers must ratify the new contract when they return to school in September.

At a Local 1 press conference Aug. 18, Lange made firm the bargaining unit's commitment to a regional strike if any neighboring school board attempts to replace fired teachers.

Local 1's president Gary Cynowa strongly defended teachers' right to strike.

Woods approves new 'downtown' zone at Mack-7

planners through the new zoning ordinance.

Related to the intensity of development is a new parking zone ordinance yet to be adopted by the council. The ordinance proposes a stringent requirement of four parking spaces for each dwelling unit whether it is a single home or high-rise residence, Rogers said.

Commissioner Fraley said the parking requirement was favored by the Planning Commission because it would limit the size and shape of a high-rise development.

Green city

from the city's Capital Projects Improvement Reserve, Kressbach said.

In addition to regular replacement, the city operates a "substantial" Dutch elm disease control program and has an active City Tree Commission working to preserve greenery. The citizen volunteers inject city trees with a chemical believed to prevent Dutch elm.

Under the new program trees will be planted on north-south streets (Mack to Jefferson) where gaps exist and where elm tree underplanting would be prudent, according to Kressbach. Trees also will be planted on cross streets (Cadieux to Fisher) which are now without trees in many areas. The cross street planting will be less dense and spaced to avoid utility lines, street lights and existing yard trees, Kressbach said.

Councilman Robert Novitke also favored the parking requirement saying: "I think the council would want a fairly stringent requirement so we have some control over developers."

The council voted 4 to 1 to adopt the strict parking requirement at its next meeting. The only no vote came from Councilman Thomas Farner who said the strict guidelines would deter development in the city. Councilmen Frederick Lovelace and Daniel Grady were absent.

However, Councilman Novitke said that the Woods' attorney had advised them that the strict parking ordinance could be appealed and wouldn't stand in the way if there was a development project that the city favored but didn't conform to the parking ordinance.

In terms of height, the city center plan proposes that no structure shall exceed 100 feet (10 to 12 floors) or 20 feet plus one foot for each foot of building setback from a single-family residential property line.

It also says that no building shall be located to cast a shadow on any existing single-family residential structure for more than two hours on Dec. 21.

There are three more new chapters proposed for the new zoning ordinance which are related to the city center chapter. They involve office districts parking districts, and height requirements. Included in these chapters is a proposal to convert some areas now zoned residential to parking districts.

Those proposals are scheduled to be discussed by another joint meeting between the council and planning commission scheduled for Monday, Aug. 31 at 7:30 p.m. in the Woods Councilroom.

Only the city center chapter of the new zoning ordinance has received final approval from the Planning Commission and the council. The other 17 chapters still await final approval from the two bodies.

Teachers

"We must have a means to break an impasse when negotiations reach a standstill," Cynowa said.

More than 100,000 students enrolled in Local 1 districts would be affected by a strike, Cynowa said.

In response to a question about the Air Traffic Controllers strike and subsequent firings, Cynowa said he doesn't think it would have any impact on teachers' ability or willingness to strike.

An area-wide strike would be considered only if a school board fired teachers and then tried to open schools with substitutes, Cynowa said.

After talks lagged at the bargaining table in 1979, five Local 1 districts went on strike. That year, a new two-year contract for Grosse Pointe teachers was approved only hours before educators were set to carry picket signs. Teachers in Grosse Pointe have not walked off their jobs since 1969.

The 1979 Grosse Pointe pact gave teachers a 9 percent pay hike each year with improvements in dental coverage and life insurance.

'Annie' film to raise funds for channel 56

The largest individual fundraising event in the history of public broadcasting was revealed Wednesday, Aug. 19 — an announcement that the film version of "Annie" will premiere in motion picture theaters around the country during late spring and summer of 1982 as benefits for channel 56 and most other local PBS stations. This is the first joint effort between public television and the Hollywood film industry.

The announcement was made by Frank Price, president of Columbia Pictures, Ray Stark, chairman of the board of Rastar Films, and Lawrence Grossman, president of PSB. "Annie" is a Rastar film for Columbia release.

WTVS President and General Manager Jack Caldwell joined in announcing the station's commitment to the national fundraising project. "Channel 56 is pleased to be a part of this exciting endeavor," said Caldwell. His comments were made in connection with a live-via-satellite closed-circuit teleconference, beamed to all the nation's public television licensees from KCET, Los Angeles, which will act as central coordinator for the project.

"Annie" will have its premieres in New York, Los Angeles and Toronto in mid-May, followed by the premieres in Detroit and the other key cities across the country in mid-June 1982.

Through the cooperation of Columbia Pictures and Stark, who personally produced

"Annie," more than 100 public television stations will benefit from fundraising premieres of "Annie." In addition to WTVS, stations from Juneau, Alaska, to Miami, Florida, and from Yos Angeles to New York City have already committed to holding the "Annie" fundraising theater premieres in their markets.

In making the national announcement, Price, Stark and Grossman all emphasized the timeliness of having the film industry assist public television in dramatic new method of generating support.

"We are delighted that Rastar and Columbia can offer 'Annie' — surely the entertainment event of 1982 — as a revenue-producing entity for public television, one of America's most important cultural services," said Price.

"This exciting project is totally in keeping with President Reagan's budget policy," said Stark "in which private sector commercial entities work with publicly-funded arts groups to generate badly-needed funds. We would be very hopeful that this alliance between Columbia and public television sets an example for the private sector in finding new ways to support PBS."

WTVS/56 is compiling an "Annie" task force of volunteers and station supporters headed by Mrs. Frank S. (Phyllis) Marra of Bloomfield Hills. Key Detroit-area business and political leaders will be invited to join a national campaign.

Hertel says deregulate U.S. shipping industry

Acknowledging that all "too often there has been a barrier between business and government," freshman Congressman Dennis Hertel presented his case for deregulation of the U.S. shipping industry to members of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce World Trade Club at a special luncheon Aug. 20 at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The purpose of the congressman's presentation was to explain the provisions of a bill currently pending before the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee which would adversely affect the shipment of goods across the Canadian "land bridge" railway system.

Hertel explained that the Port of Detroit currently handles a substantial volume of containerized shipments which originate on the east coast and are shipped by rail across southern Canada to Windsor where the goods are transported by barge across the Detroit River before being shipped to delivery points throughout the Midwest.

"I have found that shipping rates across the Canadian land bridge are up to 50 percent cheaper than other routes and that Detroit has a special opportunity to do business through the Canadian land bridge that is a great boost to the Port of Detroit," Hertel said.

Hertel stated that House Bill 3637 which is currently before the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee would eliminate the advantage which the current system possesses in order to promote east coast shipping interests. Since the proposed changes in the tariff procedure would hurt Detroit and the Midwest both in terms of jobs and consumer costs, Hertel told members that he has introduced and is working for the passage of a substitute amendment which would effectively deregulate the entire shipping industry, eliminate the filing of tariff rates with the National Maritime Commission and open all intercoastal shipping to the effects of free market competition.

According to the congressman who sits on the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, his amendment would change the bill to say that "no one (shipper) has to file rates with the Commission 30 days in advance."

"Each shipper would be able to bargain for his own rates thus promoting competitiveness and flexibility," said Hertel.

Hertel told his audience of trade business representatives that he did not expect the legislation to come up for final consideration and hearings before the committee until mid-September. In the meantime, he urged the 100 people in attendance to join with him in supporting this bi-partisan regional issue to help insure the future of the Port of Detroit.

"Wish not so much as to live long as to live well."

When Ben Franklin penned those words for "Poor Richard's Almanac," neither the probability of long life (although he lived to be 84) nor a life free of disease was likely.

Today one of the most startling demographic changes is the vast increase in the absolute number and relative proportion of older people. In these better days of longer lives, improved methods of making those lives healthier and more enjoyable are being implemented.

Much of the impetus for these improvements comes from the National Institute on Aging (NIA).

In 1974 Congress recognized the need for the NIA. Its purpose then as it is now is to fund scientific research which will help to improve the quality of life, enhance services to the old and help contain rising health care costs.

Motivation for creating the institute came about because of a need to study the aging process, a biological condition common to all; to see how the economic, social and psychological factors associated with aging combine to exclude older Americans from the full life to which their years, service and experience entitle them, and because there was no American institution that was dedicated to the study of the various aspects of aging and the related training of necessary personnel.

Some aging research was done by the National Heart Institute beginning in 1948. In 1963, another organization, the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development came into existence—its mission calling for research on aging. These programs were transferred to the NIA and became the foundation of the current program. Although the NIA is presently one of the smallest of the 11 institutes of the National Institute of Health, it is predicted that during the 1980s it will necessarily become much larger to keep up with the problems of a rapidly increasing number of older citizens.

NIA CONCERNS itself with studies within its own laboratories, research grants to other institutions including hospitals, medical schools, universities and as a disseminator of public information in the form of scientific reports and grants.

Research is an important factor in the study of old age. We know that there are physical, cognitive and emotional changes which occur after the middle years. To understand the events that occur in later life, NIA supports a Gerontology Research Center. Situated along side the Baltimore City Hospital, it is a modern four-story building where guest researchers from universities, medical schools and other research institutions (both here and abroad) share the laboratory space and special resources of the center for collaborated studies on aging.

Furthermore NIA encourages and fosters research on aging at universities, hospitals and medical centers throughout the nation. Biological, medical, psychological and social aspects of aging are all explored.

Molecules, those tiny building blocks of life which form subcellular structure and their cells which in turn are organized as tissues and organs of the body are researched to determine what happens in the aging process.

Collagen, the major component of connective tissue is of special interest because an understanding of collagen could bring about improvements in the treatment of joint inflammation and alterations in the skin, that occur with age. Investigations at the molecular level should have great impact on the mechanisms of age-dependent changes in kidney function, muscle

Intruder seen in Woods home
A Grosse Pointe Woods woman was surprised by an intruder in her home on Friday, Aug. 14 after she fell asleep in her living room and left a side door unlocked.

The woman said most of the first floor lights were on in her home on Littlestone and her family was asleep upstairs when she fell asleep on the living room couch, police said. She was awakened about 3:30 a.m. by a noise and saw a man standing in her dining room. When she got up the subject ran, police said.

The woman described the intruder as a white male in his mid 20s and about six foot one inches tall. He had a thin build, light hair and medium beard, police said.

The woman told police that nothing was disturbed or taken from her home.

A smile is a curve that looks as good on a man as a woman.

Pointer gets Air Force post

Air Force Reserve Colonel Richard H. Kleimann, a native of Grosse Pointe Park, has been named commander of the 434th Tactical Fighter Wing at Grissam Air Force Base, Indiana. The 434th TFW directs the activities of approximately 3,000 Air Force Reservists.

Kleimann graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in 1948 and received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Tri-State University, Angola, Ind., in 1952. The following year he received a second B.S. degree from Tri-State, in administrative engineering. Kleimann has also done graduate work in business administration at Wayne State University.

His military education includes completion of the Air Command and Staff College, the Industrial College of the Armed Forces and the Air War College. His military career began in 1955.

Rated a command pilot, Kleimann has more than 5,000 hours of flying experience in a broad spectrum of Air Force aircraft.

Kleimann is a member of the Grissom AFB Community Council, the Air Force Association, the Reserve Officers Association and the Air Force Sergeant's Association. He's also received numerous decorations and service awards.

Colonel Kleimann and his wife, the former: May Waizel of Ganado, Tex., have four children, Kristin, Karen, Greta and Hal.

Cheap things-to-do-beat the summer time blues

By Tad Goodwin

Summer is running out, but many of us have already run out of money. Here are some ideas for inexpensive activities, or, cheap-things-to-do to beat the summertime blues.

The cheapest and easiest summer activity is to walk around. Just put on shoes, walk out the door and keep going. This is a wonderful way to waste time. It's healthy exercise too.

With careful charting of your course you can stop at several friend's houses in one walk. If you are feeling adventurous you can take a walk with a friend. Walking is a good time to talk.

One nice thing to do while walking is to "paddle around." Word has it that paddling around means to take off the shoes, roll up the pant legs and walk by the edge of the lake. Along Lakeshore Road might be a good place to paddle around.

A variation of the walk is the bike ride. Most people can't find their bikes behind all the other things in their garage. Taking a bike ride can be a great excuse to see if the bike is still there.

ONE OF THE problems with bicycles is that the tires become brittle after sitting 10 years. Don't be too disappointed if the tires no longer hold air. Just take a walk instead.

Reading is a nice way to spend summer hours. The Grosse Pointe Public Libraries contain a wealth of reading material. The many periodicals can be particularly enjoyable. The libraries are air-conditioned, so they can be an escape from summer heat.

Hanging out at the lakefront park is another cheap thing to do. A lot of people have been hanging out at the park all summer. They are probably bored. But they are relaxed and tan.

Window shopping is an inexpensive although potentially dangerous activity. Either walk, peddle, or drive to one of the several local shopping districts. Then, wander from store to store imagining you have a million dollars to spend. Warning! Do not bring along money or credit cards when window shopping.

"Bowling is the cheapest form of entertainment in the world," (next to walking around,) according to Sharon Degriek of Grosse Pointe Woods Bowling at 20422 Mack. They charge 90 cents per game and 50 cents to rent shoes.

THE MONTREUX-DETROIT Jazz Festival is coming up. There will be dozens of free jazz concerts at Hart Plaza and around town from Sept. 4 through Sept. 7. The concerts are scheduled from about noon through the evenings on each of these days. Call the Detroit Visitors Information Center at 863-0879 during any day for specifics.

The Ethnic Festivals are still happening downtown at Hart Plaza. The Yugoslavian Festival will be this weekend, Aug. 28, 29, 30, and the Festival of India will be Sept. 11, 12, 13, the weekend after the Jazz Festival.

Parking downtown can be expensive. Alternatives to high-priced parking are either to park away from the activities and walk, or to take a bus downtown.

A visit to the Cultural Center located at Woodward and Warren downtown is another activity that is inexpensive but requires some form of transportation.

The Detroit Institute of Arts is located in the Cultural Center. Admission is free. There are also The Detroit Historical Museum, The Children's Museum, The Detroit Science Center, and The Detroit Public Library. The Library is free, but the others charge a small admission fee.

Another possibility for cheap summer fun might be Metro Beach at 16 Mile Road and the lake. Admission to the beach is $2 per carload unless you have the $7 season sticker.

In addition to visuals and sunbathing on the beach, there is swimming in Lake St. Claire and in the olympic size swimming pool. There is an outside roller skating rink that costs $1.25, with skates to rent at $1.

A bit more sophisticated than "padding," this position is also appropriate down on Lakeshore.

Sailors and Indians might enjoy a short canoe trip at $1 per person. There is also a put and take golf course and a par-three golf course. Both are 18 hole courses. BACK IN TOWN, there are a few inexpensive movie houses. The Esquire on Jefferson in the Park often charges $1.50 for decent first-run movies. The Shores

Madrid at Nine Mile and Mack charges $1 for the early matinee and $2 after. The Punch and Judy on Kercheval on the Hill charges $1.50 before 1 p.m. and $1.50 for children, $3 for adults after 1 p.m. The Punch and Judy is also showing off-beat movies Fridays and Saturdays at midnight at $2.50 a crack.

'Celebration' dance begins on Sept. 14

"Celebration" is the name of the new six-week session of classes offered by Dance Slimnastics, Ltd., a non-profit corporation, starting the week of Sept. 14.

The classes consist of simple, vigorous dances for non-dancers and dancers with emphasis on fun and a good individual fitness workout.

Dancers will improve their cardio-vascular and respiratory endurance, muscle tone, strength, flexibility and coordination. It is also a highly creative way to release tension and stress.

Classes will be held at Christ the King Lutheran Church, 20338 Mack, and Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19850 Mack.

An afternoon class will be held at St. Michael's Episcopal Church, 20475 Sunningdale Park. For further information please call 886-7534 or 882-3054.

Dance Slimnastics, Ltd. will hold a demonstration at the Michigan State Fair on Sept. 4, at 12:30 in the International Grove.

Hotline helps insurance woes

Each month, 400 to 500 Michigan residents call the Insurance Information Hotline to ask questions or request help in solving insurance problems.

Sponsored by Michigan Association of Insurance Companies, the toll-free service was established to give consumers quick access to information on insurance. Callers also get assistance when they have difficulty with their own insurance company.

The toll-free number is 1-800-292-0712. It is listed in the yellow pages of most telephone directories, under Michigan Association of Insurance Companies.

The Hotline is open five days a week, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Consumers most often call the Hotline about car insurance. There is still a great deal of confusion about No-Fault coverage and the new "Essential Insurance" law. Inquiries about homeowners insurance, claim settlements and premium costs also rank high on the list.

If Hotline personnel can't provide information or solve a problem on the spot, they get in touch with the consumer's insurance company. They have contacts with key people in the main office of all insurance companies, and can expedite handling of consumer inquiries. If there is a disagreement, the Hotline will ask the company to review and reconsider the matter.

Long makes conducting debut with orchestra

E. Daniel Long will be the new conductor of the Grosse Pointe Honors Orchestra which makes its debut this fall in Grosse Pointe. Long is in his 14th year at Slauson Intermediate School in Ann Arbor. He has conducted both the bands and orchestras, but is presently dividing his time between the orchestra program and elementary schools that feed into Slauson. He holds degrees from Chadron State College (Chadron, Nebraska) and the University of Colorado.

musical experience by playing in a large orchestra with accomplished young musicians. Eligibility for the Orchestra is extended to any student living in Grosse Pointe or attending a public or private school in the area. Membership must be by the recommendation of the school music program.

E. Daniel Long is the new conductor for the Grosse Pointe Honors Orchestra which will debut this fall. Long also works in the music department at Slauson Intermediate School in Ann Arbor.

Before coming to Ann Arbor, he taught in public schools in Nebraska. The Slauson Concert Orchestra performed in the 1980 Midwest Conference in Ann Arbor. Long is presently on the Midwest Conference Planning Committee representing the American String Teachers Association of Michigan. He was elected the Orchestra Teacher of the Year in 1981 by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

The Grosse Pointe Honors Orchestra offers music students through grade nine the opportunity to enrich their

The orchestra will present one community concert in March, perform with the Grosse Pointe Public School Orchestra in Review, and concert tour the Grosse Pointe Public and Private Schools.

The Grosse Pointe Honors Orchestra, formerly the Youth Symphony, will provide a large orchestral experience, which is not always available in all schools, playing music more advanced than they are normally accustomed to play.

Many young people in this community have continued their musical endeavors in college or community orchestras such as the Grosse Pointe Symphony and various other chamber music groups.

The News regretfully learned at press time of the death of Ms. Marie Louise Anderson, 95, on Tuesday, Aug. 25, at the Maroun Nursing Home.

A very independent soul, Ms. Anderson lived for years on Cranford Lane, and was a founding member of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club. Funeral arrangements are incomplete. Contact the Verheyden Funeral Home for more information.

Orff and Suzuki at Center

The Detroit Community Music School and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will offer Suzuki violin instruction and Orff musical development this fall.

A free demonstration by Detroit Music School faculty will take place at the War Memorial Tuesday, Sept. 8 at 7 p.m. Parents and children are invited.

Through listening to recorded music, and through proper techniques, motivation, and reinforcement, Suzuki violin instruction can enrich children's lives through intimate contact with music and the satisfaction from doing something well. With the help of parents and the stimulation of peer group, children play instruments chosen for them. Rote learning, the acquiring of a large repertoire, performing experiences and the encouragement of a skilled faculty member form a positive musical foundation for further development.

Orff is a unique philosophy of musical development based on the work of composer Carl Orff. This method frees children's creativity and guides the child to become musically expressive and knowledgeable. Based on the natural activities of children's speech, singing and movement, the program helps them become more musically aware and capable as they express themselves in song, chant, and movement. For all children, Orff can lead to musical skills, awakened imagination, eagerness to learn, and stimulation of mental processes that aid in their lifelong pursuit in learning.

Classes begin Sept. 14. Children meet once weekly on Mondays or Wednesdays at 4 p.m. for 45 minutes of Suzuki instruction and 45 minutes of Orff. Private instruction twice monthly in Suzuki is included in tuition. The course is 32 weeks and costs are $14 per week for combined Orff and Suzuki, $12 per week for Suzuki only, and $3.50 per week for Orff only.

Classes are limited to six and will be divided into three age groups: 4 and 5, 6 and 7, 8 and up. First eight weeks tuition is payable at time of enrollment. The second 8 weeks payment is due Nov. 9.

Structural losses from arson in the United States jumped from $179 million in 1969 to $1.25 billion in 1979.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has reached the enlightening conclusion that about one-third of the nearly 5 million Americans who have more than one job are not greedy. They really need the additional income to cover basic living expenses.

SEMTA will require students ID Aug. 31

Young people, between the ages of 8 and 18, who ride Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEM-TA) buses which service schools will be required to show proof of age to qualify for the SEMTA youth fare effective Aug. 31.

Students who attend the following Pointe area schools will be affected by the new policy: Bishop Gallagher, Harper Woods; Brownell Middle School; Dominican, Grosse Pointe North, Grosse Pointe South; Notre Dame, Parcels Middle School; and Regina High.

Accepted pieces of identification include a student school identification card which bears a photograph and date of birth, a Michigan driver's license or a SEMTA special youth fare identification card.

SEMTA special youth fare identification cards may be obtained by requesting an application form. The completed form should be returned with $1 (check or money order) and a head and shoulder, 1" x 1 1/4" photograph of the applicant to: SEMTA Special Fare, P.O. Box 333, Detroit, Mich. 48231.

Applications for the special youth fare identification pass will be available after Aug. 24 and may be obtained at the SEMTA Office, 660 Woodward Avenue, 48226 or by calling the SEMTA Customer Information Center at 962-5515 or toll free 1-800-482-5161.

Youths who do not have proper identification for school trips will be required to pay the full fare; and for contracted school trips, an identification card will be required for boarding. SEMTA youth fare policy, which went into effect July 1 discounts the regular one-way adult fare by 25 cents. The current fare policy is a change from the previous policy which allowed youth to pay a flat rate of 40 cents.

The youth identification policy is part of the following new 10 point SEMTA Passenger Conduct Code:

- Students are expected to show their identification cards upon boarding the bus, and whenever requested to do so by the bus driver.
- Student passengers who do not have proper identification will pay the full fare, and/or may be prevented from riding the bus.

- Passengers who have seats are expected to remain in their seats once the bus has left its destination. There will be no standing while seats remain available.

- Passengers are requested to line up in single file to allow for quick boarding.

- Passengers are expected not to smoke, eat or drink on the bus.

- Windows are to remain closed on the bus during the winter, and passengers are expected to keep hands, arms, etc., inside the bus.

- Obscenities, profanity and yelling will not be tolerated.

- Passengers will not wrestle, fight or push on the bus.

- Passengers are expected not to throw items inside the bus or out of the bus.

- Passengers should not operate radios, tape players/recorders, etc., to the distraction of other passengers or the drivers.

with a few of our student passengers. Because many of our students ride regular route service, a policy that respects their rights as well as the rights of other passengers was needed," said SEMTA General Manager Larry E. Salci.

In a letter mailed to tri-county school district officials in August, Salci outlined the Passenger Conduct Code and outlined procedures SEMTA may take in the event problems arise on any bus carrying student passengers.

"If a problem arises before the bus leaves the school, the driver has been instructed to remain at the school and contact a school official and his or her supervisor. The bus will remain at the school until the problem is resolved," Salci said. "Once the bus is on the road and a problem arises, the driver may either drive directly to the nearest police station and contact his or her supervisor, and if possible school officials, or return the bus to the school and notify his or her supervisor and school officials. The trip will not resolve until the problem is resolved, or it may be discontinued for the remainder of the day with SEMTA supervisory approval," he pointed out.

When disorderly conduct persists, SEMTA will discontinue the service or the part of the service that is primarily used by the students causing the problem.

On the first occurrence, a specific trip or part of a trip may be discontinued as outlined above. As a result of a second incident within a school year, the specific trip in question may be discontinued or rerouted for an indefinite period of time, usually 10 school days, until SEMTA is confident that service may resume without further incident. In the event of a third occurrence, SEMTA may cancel or reroute the service for the remainder of the school year.

"Thousands of taxpayer's dollars are spent each year to repair and replace slashed seats, remove graffiti, and even to clean or replace passengers' clothing soiled or ruined by food or gum left on seats," Salci said.

Youth classes start Sept. 28

The Youth Enrichment Program, operated this fall by the department of continuing education of the public school system, will consist of 34 special after-school and Saturday classes in a wide range of subjects.

Most youth enrichment classes begin the week of Sept. 28. New-for-fall classes are Basket Weaving, Bread-Making, Creative Dance, Learn New Crafts, Modern Jazz Dance and Painting.

Also new this fall are two Saturday classes which parents and children may elect: Pewabic for Weekend Potters and Workshop in Creative Cooking for Parents and Children.

Other classes in youth enrichment are Ballet, Copper Craft, Creative Dramatics, Figure Skating, French, Fun in the Gym, International Cooking, Lapidary, Nimble Fingers Typing, Spanish, Tap Dance, Tennis and Woodchoppers' Hour.

Information on the Youth Enrichment Program will be found in the flyer of the Department of Continuing Education which was mailed to all residents in the school district this week. Call 343-2178 for more information.

Meet the masters of art

Among the 57 brand new classes scheduled for the fall term of the public schools' Department of Continuing Education is a continuation of the popular series called "Adventures in Understanding Art" which was introduced last winter.

The emphasis in this new series beginning Oct. 7 is on painting, with illustrated lectures in the lives and major works of artists representing three periods: Renaissance, Baroque, and Modern. Teacher of this innovative, six-part offering will be June Nelson, university instructor, author and art historian.

The illustrated lectures in this series may be purchased individually at $4, or all six for $21, if purchased before Oct. 1. Prior enrollment is urged, the winter session was oversubscribed.

The first in the series, "Adventures in Understanding Painting: Giotto, to be held Oct. 7, will deal with a pioneer in Gothic painting. Under the influence of 13th-century sculpture, Giotto broke with Byzantine traditions to portray more individualized faces, more natural poses, and the convincing but underplayed emotions that brought a new humanism to Medieval art.

On Oct. 14 the second in the series, on Michelangelo, will be presented.

"Although his real love was sculpture, Michelangelo was forced by papal and financial pressures to do painting and architecture as well," according to Mrs. Nelson.

"Most of his painting is mural work done in fresco, with one of the greatest monuments of the High Renaissance his series of frescoes on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in the Vatican. The overpowering scale and activity in his painting forecast the Baroque art of the seventeenth century," she explained.

Rembrandt will be the topic of the Oct. 21 presentation. Mrs. Nelson says that although portraits were an important source of income for him, Rembrandt painted an unusually large number of religious subjects, many of them done, like his self-portraits, for his own satisfaction.

"Like Caravaggio, but unlike Rubens, Rembrandt visualized Biblical events in terms of common people with unheroic proportions and individual features, although he did occasionally use exotic costumes for accessories," the art historian added.

Fourth presentation on Rubens is slated for Oct. 28. Although Rubens' early painting included some relatively quiet compositions, the majority of his work shows a remarkable assimilation of the violent action and dazzling light of Tintoretto, the massive figures of Michelangelo, the spotlighting of Caravaggio, and the warm color of Venetian painting.

Matisse, whose early work revealed an interest in Impressionism, will be the fifth painter whose works will be investigated, on Nov. 4.

The sixth and final presentation, on Nov. 11, will be on Picasso.

All classes in this series will be held from 1:30 to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays in room A-56 of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte Avenue.

Prime Time for seniors

activity and metabolism.

Study of the cell could lead to methods for early detection of cellular aging and the control or reversal of adverse changes which take place. Body cells age and die because they lack the ability to repair themselves as a result of metabolic processes or adverse environmental effects.

STUDIES OF animals are made and the results are considered of prime importance. Because an animal's environment can be closely controlled, (diet, lighting, temperature, etc.) meaningful scientific data can be gleaned which is not possible to secure from the study of man. Maintained in a disease-free environment, the study of animals yields data relating to life span, growth patterns and age associated diseases.

As people age, their resistance to disease weakens. Animal studies show that it is possible to bolster that immunity and thus increase the span of life. For example, it has been shown that diet profoundly affects the immune system of mice. These studies indicate that man's immune system may age less rapidly with better nutrition.

Currently the NIA has a special program to determine the role nutrition plays in the aging process; the role of nutrition in prevention of disease that often accompanies old age and whether or not nutritional requirements change with age.

Recently a NIA-supported study revealed that protein requirements for a 35-year-old are no different from one who is 65 years old. Prior to this finding, it was assumed that nutritional requirements would alter as one grew older.

Another study which the NIA supports is the pharmacology of aging. The concern here is whether drugs used on younger patients being treated for heart ailments, kidney problems and impairment of the blood vessels, digestive tract and nervous system should be given to older patients. It has been observed that certain classes of therapeutic drugs provoke unusual and thus far, unexplained responses when administered to older patients.

Again animals were used for testing and it was revealed that drugs used to treat disturbance in the heartbeat were not as effective in older animals as they were in younger ones.

WHILE THE study of animals has provided valuable information on the aging process, the NIA also sponsors clinical research on age-related diseases and the aging process in man.

In a Baltimore study conducted at the Gerontology Research Center a study is being conducted whereby 650 volunteers ranging in age from 20 to 96 years old report to the center every 18 months for extensive study. This study is made of the same individuals over a period of years to determine those aspects of aging which are truly a result of the body's aging process. The study which began in 1958 has already yielded valuable scientific information. We now know that functional lung damage caused by heavy smoking can be reversed when the individual stops smoking. We are also aware that as a person ages, his ability to handle sugar as well as the effectiveness of his kidneys decreases.

Research is not limited to just the physical aspects of aging. Research is also being carried out on the impact of the social, economic and cultural impact of our rapidly increasing older population. The purpose of these studies is to determine which alterations in behavior and personality are a functional disease, which are a function of age related causes and which are a function of society's attitude toward older people. When the reasons for behavioral changes are understood, scientists can then work to develop techniques to eliminate them.

Currently the NIA is developing a major program to distinguish brain disease (such as Alzheimer's disease) and normal aging changes. Studies show very minimal loss of intelligence in older people but such things as weakened sense of sight or hearing can effect perception.

We are so attuned to the here and now benefits which contribute to better living for older citizens, such as better housing, improved health services, efficient transportation etc., that little thought is given to such institutions as the NIA. Yet in the end, it is through the research which it supports that older citizens will live longer and better lives.

'Sycamores' wins final approval

The Grosse Pointe City Council last week granted final plat approval to developers of the Wesson Seyburn Estate, at 16850 East Jefferson Avenue. The 18-lot subdivision which will replace the mansion owned by the socially prominent Seyburn family will be called The Sycamores, a name apparently inspired by the rows of Sycamore trees which line the estate's long drive to the lake.

The new street which will be built off Jefferson will be called Sycamore Lane.

The council granted final plat approval after getting clearance from City Attorney Richard Hinks, who said the plats are in "good working order" and are eligible for final approval from other agencies.

Developers, from 1001 Services, Inc., also presented the council with three "speculation" house designs, drawn by a trio of local builders. One of the homes will feature the front doors from the original Seyburn mansion, which was demolished.

The council, sitting as the Board of Zoning Appeals, earlier approved lot size variances for 16 of the 18 lots that will be built. The city's code calls for 12,000 square-foot lots in RA-1 districts. Several Sycamores lots will be under 10,000 square feet.

Spokesmen from 1001 Services, a subsidiary of First Federal Savings, have described the planned $250,000 homes as geared to low maintenance and first floor living. Architect for the project is former Pointer Jim Gibson, now of John's Island, Fla.

The new homes replace the 16-bedroom Seyburn Estate which was built in the early 1920's for Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hewitt Brown and later purchased by real estate developer Wesson Seyburn. Mrs. Seyburn, who died in 1980, was the daughter of auto pioneer John F. Dodge.

The house was dismantled by DuMouchelle Art Galleries at an auction in June and most of its fine mantles, chandeliers, paneling, doors and cupboards were sold. Workmen completed demolition of the building early this month.

Cottage offers cancer series

Caring for the Cancer Patient, a series of four free workshops for cancer patients, their families, and other interested friends will begin Monday, Sept. 14, at 6:30 p.m. in boardroom B on the lower level of Cottage Hospital.

The program will continue on the next three Monday evenings, Sept. 21, 28, and Oct. 5. The series is open to everyone who cares for the terminally ill.

Formerly called "The Caring Person," the series provides instruction on all aspects of home care for the cancer patient, including basic nursing techniques, prescription management, nutrition aids, and how to lift and position a patient in bed.

For more information, call Cottage Hospital at 884-8600, extension 2390.

Lost a watch? Call the cops

Rackham gets Pointe director

John A. Smith, of Grosse Pointe Park, has been appointed Musical Director and Conductor of the Rackham Symphony Choir. The choir, which will be singing a number of major works during the 1981-82 season, including Berlioz's "Childhood of Christ" with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, will be holding auditions on Aug. 25 and 27 and Sept. 1, 2, and 9. Telephone 831-2870 for audition appointments.

John A. Smith comes to Rackham from Ann Arbor and the University of Michigan, where he was conductor of the Women's Choir and aMaizin' Blues, lecturer in music, and Assistant to the Dean for Admissions and Counseling at the School of Music, all between 1968 and 1980.

Smith was also Director of Music at Trinity Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor, tenor soloist at Kirk in the Hills in Bloomfield Hills, and a member of the Kenneth Jewell Chorale of Detroit.

The new director is the Choir's fourth since its founding in 1949 by Professor Maynard Klein, also of the University of Michigan School of Music. Smith succeeds Phillip T. Jenkins, who has moved to Philadelphia to become Executive Director of the Settlement Music School there.

Other Pointers in the Rackham Symphony Choir are Al Lewyn, George Lilly, Darryl Fred Andreychuck, Rena Ha-

John A. Smith

Lewyn, George Lilly, Darryl Worth and Cosme Cruz.

W. German youths slated to perform

The Osnabruck Youth Orchestra of West Germany will visit the Detroit area from Aug. 30 until Sept. 2, as part of the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp International Exchange Program.

Most members of the 80-piece orchestra will stay in Grosse Pointe homes while visiting the area according to Russ Reed, chairman of the committee that is making arrangements for the group's visit.

The Osnabruck Youth Orchestra will perform a concert at the Michigan State Fair on Monday, Aug. 31 at 4:30 p.m. The program will include works by Sibelius, Beethoven, Handel and Brahms and will be performed in the Band Shell on the State Fair grounds which is located at Woodward and Eight Mile Road.

The Blue Lake International Orchestra visited the city of Osnabruck during the summer, 1980. That group was directed by Russ Reed and performed in several cities in West Germany and Paris, France.

The Osnabruck Youth Orchestra is directed by Klaus Lassmann and Rolf Lieske. The Orce. is one of six groups from foreign countries to tour and perform in the United States this summer as part of the Blue Lake International exchange program. Members of the Osnabruck Orchestra range in age from 12 to 22. Their performance at the Michigan State Fair will be their final concert before returning to West Germany.

The Osnabruck Orchestra arrived in Toronto on Aug. 15 and has visited Niagara Falls, Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp, Kalamazoo, Michigan City, Lansing, Bay City and Flint before coming to the Detroit area. Most of the members of the orchestra will be staying with families in the Pointes.

Wooten, Winter promoted by Chief Ferber

Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber recently announced the promotions of two Farms officers and the hiring of a third policeman by the department.

Promoted to sergeant and corporal respectively were Ronald Wooten and John Winter.

Born and raised in the Detroit area, Sgt. Wooten has been with the Farms Police Department for 21 years. A Navy veteran, he joined the police force after serving with the San Diego Police Department. He was chosen "Police Officer of the Year" by the Fraternal Order of Police in 1978.

Sgt. Wooten lives in the Farms with his wife Heidi and daughters Diane and Sharon.

Cpl. Winter, a 10-year veteran of the force, has received 15 citations for outstanding police work, including two for pulling men out of submerged cars in Lake St. Clair.

A Viet Nam veteran, Cpl. Winter served 30 months in Viet Nam during a 16-year Air Force career. Cpl. Winter is also head of the 19-member Grosse Pointe Farms Emergency Support Unit. Cpl. Winter lives in the Farms with his wife Mary and is the father of our sons.

Chief Ferber said both men were "highly deserving of their promotions, and exemplified the highest standards of police dedication and professionalism."

The chief also welcomed to the department Ptl. John Hager, who served six years with the Detroit Police Department before coming to the Farms. The son of a Detroit police sergeant, Ptl. Hager was described by Chief Ferber as an "outstanding, community oriented officer with an excellent record in Detroit."

Ptl. Hager and his wife Joann live in Detroit.

Farms girl is finalist in pageant

Alice D. Peck

Miss Alicia D. Peck, 12, daughter of Marilyn Peck of Moross Road in Grosse Pointe Farms, and the late Francis D. Peck has been selected as a finalist in the 1981 Miss Michigan National Pre-Teen Pageant to be held at the Sheraton-Southfield Hotel, Oct. 3. The pageant is the official state finals for the Miss National Pre-Teen pageant to be held in the fall this year and is affiliated with the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant, now in its 10th year and nationally televised.

The winner of the state pageant will receive a $200 cash award, crown, banner and round trip flight to the national pageant to compete with other state winners for the title of Miss National Pre-Teen of 1981.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, leadership, poise, personality and appearance. There is no swim suit or talent competition.

Miss Peck is being sponsored by Williams Manufacturing Company. Her hobbies include skating, skiing, tennis, softball, reading, writing, painting, sewing, choir, swimming and gymnastics.

Mack Avenue mini bus needs a name

It doesn't have a name yet, but when a new mini-bus starts making its rounds on Mack Avenue in the Woods, business owners and shoppers should call the service a blessing.

On Saturdays starting Sept. 19 through March 27, a mini-bus will shuttle shoppers between Brys Drive and Moross and could cure one of the area's biggest problems—parking.

If it is successful, the merchants will fund the service beyond its six-month trial run, according to Jerry McNamara, Woods administrative aide.

For now, the bus will run every Saturday, Friday service will be added during the Christmas season. Shoppers can ride free with tickets available from Mack Avenue merchants who are promoting the service in hopes that it will lead to booming business. Without tickets, bus fare is 10 cents.

"This is another step to encourage area residents to discover the hundreds of shops and services available right in their backyards," according to Al Adams, owner of A and A Rep. Repair on Mack and president of the Grosse Pointe Business and Professional Association.

To pique interest in the new service, the association is sponsoring a "name the mini-bus contest" with a $25 first prize and other merchandise, Adams said. Entry forms are available from association members. Mini-bus schedules and bus stop locations will be available from merchants or SEMTA which is providing the vehicle.

The six-month trial project will cost $10,908 to be paid by the Woods with state transportation tax credit funds which citizens pay when purchasing license plates.

Adams said the association hopes the service will alleviate some of the traffic congestion on Mack which is particularly heavy all day on Saturdays.

He said the service is also expected to be a great help to seniors since similar service in Pontiac was found to be used mostly by senior citizens.

McNamara said the shuttle bus idea originated with the merchants and was recently mentioned in a comprehensive study that suggested methods of preventing the spread of blight on Mack Avenue.

Author adventurous "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" is said to be the first novel ever to be written on a typewriter. This was in 1875. Mark Twain himself did the typing—on a Remington.

INTEREST ON CHECKING

Come to Standard Federal Savings for Interest on Checking, plus a FREE gift.

If you've put off opening a new interest-earning checking account, now's the time to open one. Because right now, when you open a new Standard Federal checking account with $500.00 or more, you'll get the double advantage of 5 1/4% interest, plus a free gift!

Standard Federal checking accounts earn the highest interest allowed by law.

These accounts earn 5 1/4% interest, continuously compounded, for an effective annual yield of 5.467%.

You may open an account in any amount. However, with a minimum balance of $500.00, OR an average daily balance of $1,000.00, you may write all the checks you wish, with no monthly service charge. (A $5.00 monthly fee is assessed if you go below the minimum or average requirements).

1. Each month you'll receive a detailed statement of your account which lists your checks in numerical order, your deposits, any service charges assessed and the interest earned during the statement period.

2. Personalized checks are printed free of charge if you choose not to have your checks returned with your monthly statement. There will be a charge for printing personalized checks if you wish to have your checks returned to you. With either option you may select a style that provides a carbon copy of each check for your records.
3. A permanent record of each check will be kept by Standard Federal Savings. If you need a copy for any reason, microfilm copies of as many as 25 checks per year (or all checks relating to an IRS audit) will be provided at no charge.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS 62 YEARS OF AGE AND OLDER:

Customers 62 years of age and older who have direct deposit of social security or other retirement checks into any Standard Federal Savings account will pay no monthly service charge on their checking accounts.

Choose a FREE gift when you open a new Standard Federal checking account with $500.00 or more. Take your choice of a handsome chrome pen and pencil set, beautifully packaged for gift giving; or a pocket-size calculator with handy carrying case.

Gifts are limited to new checking accounts opened with $500.00 or more. Regulations restrict the number of gifts to one per account and no individual may receive more than one gift. No gifts are allowed for funds transferred from one Standard Federal Savings account to another. Gifts cannot be mailed. This offer good for a limited time only.

Robbed of $400 on Lakeshore

A St. Clair Shores man complained to Farms police that he was robbed of $400 at knifepoint while walking along Lakeshore Road near Provencal. The man said he was out for a stroll at 4 a.m. Friday morning Aug. 21, when a 1976 burgundy colored Cadillac Seville pulled to the curb and a man on the passenger's side called out a greeting. The victim walked to the car, thinking it might be a friend, when the passenger got out and pointed a knife at his stomach. The driver of the car pinned his arms while his partner rifled the victim's clothing. During the robbery, the victim was cut slightly on the hand. After the robbery, the suspects drove away east bound on Lakeshore. One assailant was described as a white male, 6'2", with a heavy build and blond hair. The other man was not described.

Medicare premiums explained in booklet

The monthly premium for the medical insurance part of Medicare increased to $11 for the 12-month period starting this July, according to James T. Moslener, District Manager of the Social Security office located on Mack Avenue. Medicare insurance helps pay for doctor's services, no matter where they are received in the United States, in an office, home, hospital, or elsewhere; for outpatient hospital services; for home, and for other medical services and supplies not covered by Medicare hospital insurance. For most covered services, medical insurance pays 80 percent of the approved charges after the patient has incurred $80 in approved charges — the annual deductible — for the year. Because of the way approved charges are figured and because of the rates of inflation in medical care prices, however, approved charges are often less than doctor's or suppliers' actual charges. Medicare is available to nearly everyone 65 or older, people of any age with permanent kidney failure, and to people who have been getting social security disability checks for 24 months or longer. A free leaflet, "A Brief Explanation of Medicare," can be obtained which contains more information about Medicare protection. To get this leaflet or if you have questions call the Social Security general information number at 493-1111 or visit the local Social Security office at 17420 Mack.

Harper Woods man arrested in pharmacy

Grosse Pointe Woods police arrested a 17-year-old Harper Woods man Tuesday, Aug. 11 in connection with an attempted burglary at Hollywood Pharmacy, 20835 Mack. Police received a silent burglar alarm from the store about 2:11 a.m. Tuesday and went to investigate with the store owner. After finding no sign of forced entry, Officer Steven Backlund and Corporal Robert Setchell entered the store and found a man crouching behind a display case, police said. They also said a plastic bag containing various drugs was found. The next day, Kenneth Chambers, 17, of Harper Woods was charged.

GP public schools offer 59 classes

The department of continuing education of the Grosse Pointe public school system will offer a total of 59 single-session classes (one-night stands) for the fall term beginning in September. Thirty-six of the One-Night stands are new for fall, while the remainder have drawn an enthusiastic response in the last year and were successful enough to be repeated.

Two series of classes, "Adventures in Understanding Painting" and a cooking course taught by Charity Sucek may be taken as a single course (for a reduction in fee) or by individual components.

Taught by art historian Elaine Nelson, "Adventure in Understanding Painting" examines the works of six artists: Giotto, Michelangelo, Rubens, Rembrandt, Matisse and Picasso.

Cooking with Charity Sucek will cover holiday dinners, such as basic cooking techniques as broiling, poaching, sauteing, and steaming. Also included are classes devoted to ideas for leftovers, casseroles and cooking with wine.

A special three-session Saturday workshop by Charity Sucek will focus on bread, pastries and special holiday breads.

Other new single-session classes for fall are "Extra Sensory Perception," "Facing an IRS Audit: Learn to Survive It," "Film-Making: An Introduction," "Income Tax Deductions and Credits: Learn the Difference," "Past Life Recall," "Patchwork Clothing Construction Workshop," "Plan a Mexican Fiesta," "Pressed Flowers," "Say Hello to Your Psychic Self," and "Seminole Patchwork Workshop."

Rob and Betty Young of Culinary Consultants, Inc., will again present "Wine-Tasting: What's It All About?" and will introduce "All That Sparkles is Not Champagne!" and "Wines for Holiday Entertaining."

Three classes in the "Consumer Awareness" category will be offered. "Microwave Ovens" will be repeated, while "Computer Concepts for Small Businesses" and "The Word Processor" are new.

Last year's popular single-session dance classes taught by Mary and Don Derenosky have been increased from an hour to an hour and one-half by popular demand. This fall they will offer longer versions of last year's classes on the waltz, and polka, and the tango.

Dr. Michael Skaff of Academic Resources will present "Understanding Your Hand-Held Calculator."

George Martin, of G & M Consultants, will again teach "How to Complain Effectively," "How to Make the Most of Your Time," "Writing for Results" and in addition, Mr. Martin will introduce "Medical Terminology: An Introduction," "Project Planning" and "Building Two-Way Communication."

Popular single-session classes which are being repeated this fall are "Divorce - Its Legal Aspects" taught by attorney Robert Ihrie, "Handwriting Analysis" taught by Irene Stefkoff Scheffler, "Furniture Maintenance" by Richard Weems of the Coach House, and "Wilderness Survival and First Aid" by Walter Prowlany.

"Make Authentic Italian Pizza!" and "Pasta: Make It from Scratch!" will again be taught by Teresa Galise.

Earl Field, Grosse Pointe Farms detective will repeat his presentation, "Protect Your Home and Property."

Forrest Geary, adult education expert and outstanding rose gardener will inaugurate a new class, "Get Your Roses Ready for Winter!"

"Refunding and Couponing" will again be taught by Mary Jo Travillian and Kathy Kurap.

What's on cable

Thursday, Aug. 27—Channel 17

● 6:30 p.m.—Hank Luks vs. Crime—Luks talks with Sue Ellen Killian from DARE, Downriver Anti-Rape Effort. Ms. Killian was a victim of the crime, and talks about the trauma of rape, and how it affected her life. She also discusses DARE and how she tries to help other rape victims. (First of two-parts.)

● 7 p.m.—Grosse Pointe Prodigies — The talent of the youth in our community is highlighted in these two programs. "Young Pointers Play" features children from 7-18 years old playing piano. Various levels of accomplishment are evident in these skilled youngsters.

"You Gotta Have Art!" examines children's art. Classes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial result in a wide variety of art mediums that the children learn. This program highlights the spring art show here the children displayed their work.

● 7:30 p.m.—To Your Best Health — This new weekly series deals with health care and our community. St. John Hospital's first program is "A Gift, An Obligation," which documents the need for vaccinating children against polio, measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Monday, Aug. 31—Channel 3

● 7 p.m.—Sports Shorts — Host Jeff Kirk continues to talk with local professionals in order to help you improve your leisure sports. Professionals include Tom Boyd with swimming tips, Tommy Smith with horsebackriding tips, and Anita Sohaski with tennis tips.

● 7:20 p.m.—Home of the Free, Land of the Brave—Coverage of the fourth annual Free-For-All, an event where local high school students participate in a rousing marshmallow fight.

● 7:30 p.m.—Our Golden Years — Marian Trainor Prime Time for Seniors. Host Dennis Loffreda visits with Marian Trainor, columnist for the Grosse Pointe News, about senior citizens and our community.

Tuesday, Sept. 1—Channel 17

● 6:30 p.m.—Hank Luks vs. Crime—Rape is the topic for this week's show as Luks talks with Sue Ellen Killian about her experiences and efforts to deal with trauma that results from the crime. (First in a two-part series).

● 7 p.m.—Grosse Pointe Prodigies — Two programs that focus on the talents of the young people in our community. Included are a young people's piano recital and a children's art show.

7:30 p.m.—To Your Best Health — This program, entitled "Seeing" featuring actress Helen Hayes, is a drama that celebrates the miracle of sight and examines the dangers of glaucoma, a symptomless disease that is this country's second leading cause of blindness.

Ethnic, health and microwave cooking classes this fall

The department of continuing education of Grosse Pointe public schools has scheduled a total of 20 cooking classes for the fall term of its adult program beginning in mid-September. The classes range in duration from a single evening to an eight-week series.

This fall's program features five offerings by Charity Sucek, Grosse Pointe's own acclaimed master cooking teacher. As a convenience to students, a number of her classes may be purchased individually or as part of a series at a reduction in fee.

The roster of offerings is a varied one that includes not only classes in Japanese and Chinese cuisine, a new advanced Italian cooking class, another new one "All About Tofu," but also has several devoted to party foods and ideas including one called "Plan a Mexican Fiesta."

The schedule includes two classes on creative cooking for parents of young children, one of which will be held on Saturday, Oct. 24. Both parents and children will be involved. Classes in the use of the food processor and microwave oven are also planned.

The chronological schedule that follows lists all Continuing Education cooking classes by their starting dates.

"All About Tofu," co-sponsored with No Nonsense Naturals, will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. in room 198 of South High School, 11 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, beginning on Thursday, Sept. 17.

The fee for the five-week class, taught by Linda Wheeler-Jones, will be $30.

"Creative Cooking for Parents of Young Children" is a four-week class slated to begin at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 21 in room C-5 of Brownell Middle School. It will be taught by home economist Anne Ryan.

Mrs. Ryan will also teach a three-week version of the class called "Workshop in Creative Cooking for Parents and Children" beginning at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 24, in room C-7 of Brownell Middle School.

Fee for the three-week class, in which parents may enroll with their children, is $20 each.

Mrs. Sucek will present "Seasonal Foods: Fall," a two-week class beginning at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 22 in room C-5 of Brownell Middle School.

"Fabulous Party Foods," taught by Mrs. Ryan will be scheduled from 10 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 26 at Brownell. Fee for the four-week class is $16.

"Consumer Awareness: Microwave Ovens" will be held from 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 26 in room C-5 of Brownell Middle School. Fee for the single session is $3. The class is co-sponsored by the staff of MicroPlace.

"Make Authentic Italian

"Pizza" is a single-session class to be held at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 23, in room 198 of South High. Fee for the class taught by Teresa Galise is $5.

"Natural Foods II" is a six-week class beginning on Wednesday, Sept. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in room 145 of South High School. Fee for the six-week class, co-sponsored with No Nonsense Naturals, is $30.

A beginning class in "Chinese Cooking" will start at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 23, in room C-5 of Brownell Middle School. Fee for the eight-week class taught by Hsiao Mei Chen is $24.

"Italian Cooking III" is a five-week class that begins at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 30, in room 198 of South High School. Fee for the class taught by Ms. Galise is $15.

"Japanese Cooking" is a four-week class taught by Eiko and Kazuo Ishimoto beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 30, in room C-7 of Brownell Middle School. Fee is $12.

Two classes in basic "Microwave Cooking" will begin in room C-5 of Brownell Middle School on Thursday, Oct. 1. An afternoon section starts at 1:30 p.m. and the evening section starts at 7 p.m. Fee for the four-week class, which is co-sponsored with the staff of the MicroPlace, is $30.

Volunteers needed at Memorial

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial sponsors several volunteer groups that are looking for volunteer workers to join their ranks.

Twice each year under the leadership of Mrs. Alfred Goolsby the Center sponsors visits by the Red Cross Bloodmobile and maintains a community blood bank for free loan of blood to Grosse Pointers in case of emergency.

A group known as the Cancer Crusaders is held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Mondays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Volunteers give whatever time they can; many bring a sack lunch (coffee is provided) and stay the whole day. They make cancer pads, prepare and distribute raw materials to other volunteer groups and act as a collection point. Clean, ironed white material is always needed. They also distribute the latest cancer information available and service patients.

The Service Guild for Children's Hospital is the only group permitted to work away from the hospital. They meet each Tuesday at the Center, 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. to make many of the supplies needed at the hospital such as bandages, tracheotomy pads, bite blocks, etc. Volunteers earn nurse's caps, uniforms and service stripes according to length of service. New members are always needed and welcomed for these groups.

Mrs. John McNamara gives free instruction each Thursday morning to sighted people helping them to transcribe texts and reading materials for the blind. Beginning each fall, students study a course prescribed by the Library of Congress and in the spring submit manuscripts which when approved earn them certificates as official transcribers enabling them to work for schools, leader dog, the Red Cross and other groups.

Play bridge at War Memorial

Those looking for a friendly game of duplicate bridge in lovely surroundings will find it at Grosse Pointe War Memorial where Connie Gibbs Hodgeman is the American Contract Bridge League certified director.

Duplicate games are scheduled three times a week at the center beginning Aug. 31. The games are held from 12:30 to 4 p.m. Mondays and on Tuesdays and Fridays from 7:30 to 11 p.m. Free coffee and snacks are served at every game. All duplicate bridge players are welcome. Prize money is distributed at the end of each session of play which usually involves 24 boards. Masterpoints are also earned. There are special incentive games scheduled throughout the season often for charity at which extra points may be earned by players in accordance with official regulations. Grosse Pointe duplicate players also regularly participate in local and national tournaments where their rec-

It's a long way from Miami

One of five elderly people from a Miami boarding home who were apparently abandoned in Detroit Aug. 13 without money or supervision turned up in Grosse Pointe City on Thursday, Aug. 20. A local resident brought John Flowers, 51, into the city police station on Maumee after he found him wandering near Neff and Jefferson. Flowers told police he lived in Norma Hall in Miami, but said he had been brought up to Detroit in June and was living on Bloom Street. Flowers told police he walked over to Neff Road from Detroit.

"We notified Detroit and they came and picked him up," said Det. Lt. Robert VanTiem. No one had reported Flowers missing. Police are searching for Lucille Walker, who ran the Miami boarding home and brought her clients to Detroit because Florida authorities were about to close down the home. Florida social services officials have been reported saying.

Learn bridge from a pro

Among the more than 250 class sections for adults scheduled this fall by the Department of Continuing Education of The Grosse Pointe Public School System are six for those with an interest in learning to play Bridge or in refreshing unused Bridge playing skills.

Ten-week classes taught by veteran instructor Pauline Bontekoe are slated to begin on Monday, Sept. 14 in room B-4 of Parcels Middle School, 20600 Mack Avenue. Class fee is $31 with a special Senior Citizen rate of $23.50.

Bridge classes for beginners will be held at 1 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 14 and at 7:45 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 15. An intermediate Bridge class, recommended for players who wish to brush up, has been set for 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 15.

Advanced Bridge will begin at 7:45 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 17. In addition, a class for players (Play Rubber Bridge) has been set for 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 16.

Early enrollment is urged for Bridge classes as any which do not draw a minimum number of participants will be cancelled. Call 343-2178 for more information.

Course views Reagan tax cut

The impact of the Reagan Tax Cut Bill will be part of a financial planning course and the tax shelter course offered at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial this fall.

The financial planning course begins Monday, Sept. 14 from 8 to 10 p.m. and runs five weeks.

The tax shelter course begins Thursday, Sept. 17 from 8 to 10 p.m., also for five weeks.

The cost is $50 per course (tax-deductible). Both courses have been offered in the past. They are sponsored by the Financial Institute of America. Instructor is William C. Halbert, of Birmingham.

Chess Club at War Memorial

The Chess Club at Grosse Pointe War Memorial meets every Tuesday from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 1.

Membership to maintain the boards, sets, etc. is $8.50 a year. The Chess Club is open to men, women and students of all ages.

Membership in the Grosse Pointe Chess Club also qualifies one to compete in the Detroit Metro Chess Competitions. For further information call Robert Gault, president, 881-0335.

Which way for Milliken?

Rep. William Bryant of Grosse Pointe, leader of Republicans in the state House of Representatives, has been quoted as saying that he doesn't think Gov. William Milliken will run for reelection in 1982. But if Milliken has made his decision, he certainly hasn't announced it, which prompts additional speculation about his future intentions.

Milliken apparently has four options: to run for reelection, to seek the U.S. Senate seat now held by Sen. Donald Reigle, to accept a presidential appointment of some kind or to bow out of politics. Yet he can't make his decision in a vacuum. He must also consider the wishes of his party, both at the state and national levels.

The Detroit News recent poll of Michigan GOP district chairmen showed that Milliken, in the minds of the majority of the 11 chairmen who responded, would be the strongest candidate the Republicans could field either for governor or U.S. senate, even though they also agreed that Milliken's popularity has declined during his current term.

Much of that criticism comes from the conservative wing of the party which has always felt Milliken is too liberal for traditional Republicans. Some of it comes from the bitter foes of abortion who resent Milliken's vetoes of state legislation which would have cut off state funding of abortions. And some of it comes from conservatives who think Milliken has "overstayed his political welcome," as one district chairwoman told the Detroit News.

THIS CRITICISM, which reflects the belief that the national mood has moved toward the conservative cause, has prompted the entry of several conservative candidates into the race for governor. Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson is making the most noise. Sen. John Welborn is already attacking Milliken's record. And Richard Headlee, the insurance executive turned tax crusader, also is being talked about although he seems to be a reluctant dragon.

Even so, among the 11 district chairmen who responded, Milliken remains the favorite candidate for governor or U.S. senator, with Milliken's hand-picked lieutenant governor, James H. Brickley, as the second most popular candidate for both jobs. So while conservative strength may have gained, Milliken still would be a formidable contender should he decide to seek either the governorship or the Senate seat.

But the national Republican Party also may have something to say about Milliken's decision. The Republican National Committee and its chairman, Richard Richards, have been talking about attaining majority status by the end of the decade. In their minds, that means having Republicans control the U.S. Senate (as they do now), the U.S. House of Representatives (which they don't control), a majority of the governors' mansions (now held by Democrats), and even the state legislatures, the county courthouses and the city halls across the country. That's quite a tall order.

It is no secret that Milliken is not as conservative as Ronald Reagan. In the 1980 campaign, Milliken supported George Bush in the Michigan presidential primary and helped Bush score a big victory. That victory, coming shortly before the GOP National Convention, helped put Bush in the No. 2 spot on the ticket. But the question now is whether the Republican national leaders, in their attempt to become the majority party, will be willing to broaden their base and accept people like Milliken as Republican leaders, or insist that all Republicans be reborn in Reagan's image.

TRADITIONALLY, the party in power loses seats across the board in off-year elections. So realistically, the national GOP leaders would be wiser to encourage Milliken to run for reelection or the Senate than to encourage lesser-known Michigan conservatives to seek those posts simply because they are ideologically purer than Bill Milliken by the Reagan Republican standards.

Republicans, it appears, do have a chance to become the majority party. But they are unlikely to do so if they discard winners such as Bill Milliken in favor of ideologically purer conservatives who are likely to lose. If President Reagan is as pragmatic as he claims to be, he obviously will not discard winners who still support most of his programs in favor of unknowns who may support all of the Reagan programs — but can't win.

So as Milliken reviews his options, he obviously can't consider just his own wishes. He will have to think about the desires of Republicans in Michigan and nationally as well. And Michigan citizens, Republicans and non-Republicans alike, ought to make their views known to GOP state and national leaders if they believe, as this paper does, that Milliken has been an excellent, courageous governor and could play an important role in 1982 in helping the GOP move ahead toward its goal of becoming the majority party once again.

A new approach is welcome

A sensible attitude toward the state's community placement program that has created controversies in the Pointes and elsewhere in the state was expressed this week by C. Patrick Babcock, acting director of the Department of Mental Health.

Babcock, who succeeded Dr. Frank M. Cehberg in the state post, told the Grosse Pointe News that his approach to community placement is a little different from Cehberg's although he, too, is committed to the program.

"We've created a special office to monitor the community placement program that reports directly to me," he said. "We're writing new rules to strengthen community notice policies. We're trying to develop a policy that will prohibit the kind of arrangement (as in Grosse Pointe Park) through adoption of more strict standards."

Babcock also has asked the state Ethics Board to rule on possible conflict-of-interest violations involving ties by three employees in the mental health department to the community placement program. He asked for the review in response to a June report by the state auditor general's office that criticized the placement program.

HOWEVER, BABCOCK is not asking for a review of the Grosse Pointe Park case which involved the leasing by Dr. Andrew W. Barrer of his Bedford Road residence for use as a group home. Babcock pointed out that Barrer is not an employee of the department at the present time and is not mentioned in the auditor general's report.

Yet Barrer was mentioned in the ruling by Judge Robert Colombo who declared the state's lease on the Bedford Road home null and void. Colombo indicated that the lease had resulted in "unjust enrichment" to Barrer because it was at the rate of $2,100 a month, reportedly the highest in the state for a home of its kind, and contended that Barrer was still in effect a public servant although he is now employed by a private agency that had a contract with the state to provide services to developmentally disabled persons.

But Babcock said that there is no state law prohibiting a former state employee from doing business with his former colleagues. He said when he had served as a legislative liaison for Gov. William Milliken, the governor had tried to get some kind of a law enacted and still supports such legislation but that it is difficult to write without violating the rights of employees.

The new rules already in effect will, however, limit return on investment to 12 percent for owners leasing their residences to the state for use as group homes. In the Bedford Road case, the attorney for the neighbors who successfully brought suit to nullify the state's lease had claimed Barrer was earning about 14 percent on his investment.

These developments appear to be all to the good. We've said before that the state could have avoided a great deal of controversy by paying more attention to community opinion in locating and leasing group homes. It now appears the new rules and policies will require the state to keep a closer eye on the whole program and Babcock himself is setting up machinery that will make it certain he will be kept informed.

Perhaps all involved in community placement have learned something. That includes state officials and other supporters of the program as well as local officials and neighbors worried about the impact of group homes on their communities. The millennium obviously has not yet arrived but community placement ought to be more acceptable if the state enforces the new policies Babcock is putting into effect.

National award-winner

"To Form a Vision" was the theme of the 98th National Convention and Rose Show of the American Rose Society held in Denver, Colo., in mid-June. Nearly 400 delegates from 32 states participated in the convention, highlighted by the Rose Show in the Centennial Square Ballroom of Stouffer's Denver Inn. Seventy-eight exhibitors displayed more than 1,000 rose blooms and 57 arrangements. Among those participating was nine-year-old Amy Stephens (above) of the Shores, a junior member of the A.R.S. Amy was awarded the Silver Certificate for Miniature Rose Arrangements, a second-place national award, for her creation titled "Gold Dust." She used the miniature roses Lynn Ann and Littlest Angel which were highlighted with passion flower vine in a macramé-bead mounted on a small piece of slate. Amy and her younger brother, William, maintain their own miniature rose beds of about 40 roses each.

Piano, voice lessons set

Beginning with the fall semester, private lessons in piano and voice will be offered at the Dominican Convent of Bishop Gallagher High School. Interested students and parents from all parishes are invited to contact Sister Phyllis Nutting, O.P. Ph.D. at 888-1147 from 7 to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday evenings. Registrations will be accepted during the remainder of August through the first week of September.

League plans a bazaar

Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters president Suzanne Suski (left) and silk-screen artist Sharon Blake are displaying an example of the silk-screen prints that will be for sale at the League's fifth annual Art Bazaar on Saturday, Sept. 26 from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road. Admission is free to the bazaar where 50 artisans will show their works intended to appeal to every taste and budget. A raffle, refreshments, and baked goods will also be for sale. All proceeds will go to support the voter information work by the League. An added attraction this year will be the appearance of various elected officials who will discuss issues with bazaar-goers. For booth information, call Mrs. Tacke at 885-9276 after 6 p.m. or Mrs. Vinande at 884-1754.

Kiwanis fetes Dick Beach

Richard H. Beach, (right) of Harcourt Road, was recently honored by the Kiwanis Club of Grosse Pointe for his civic, Catholic charity and school work, by Kiwanis President Roger Scott (left). Beach, who has been a Kiwanian for the past 35 years, has supported his club as chairman of many committees and as a member of the Board of Directors for 20 years. Beach is also past president of the Jaycees and is a recipient of the Gold Key. He holds bachelors and masters degrees and has completed work for his doctorate. He has worked in Michigan Public Schools as a superintendent, principal, coach and counselor and was voted outstanding educator of Wayne County in 1970. Beach organized the first Key Club in South High School 17 years ago and is still its faculty advisor.

Another reason to vote 'Yes'

By accepting cost-of-living allowances of $7,675 apiece on top of their regular $16,190 salaries, members of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners are now following a practice which would be prohibited if voters adopt the County charter Nov. 3.

George E. Ward, president of the Wayne County Charter Commission, has pointed out the charter provides that any change in compensation must be approved by the new county commission at least 60 days prior to the primary election in which candidates for the next term are to be nominated. So that would rule out any automatic, unvoted pay hikes.

The Grosse Pointe News last week criticized the COLA payments as a kind of official "scam" which strengthened the arguments in favor of adopting the charter which would reduce the commissioners in numbers and in political power. But we didn't know at that time that the charter in effect banned a continuation of the COLA practice. The additional information adds new support to the arguments for the adoption of the charter in the November election.

Since the commissioners are asking county union members to defer their fourth quarter COLA payments until next year, they are really saving to the county employees, "Do as we say, not as we do." It's good to know that this ethically reprehensible practice would be ended if the voters approved the charter — as we hope they will do.

"I have never," said one well-known area jeweler, "seen such high quality jewelry at a local auction." He had just seen, for the first time, the jewelry contributions to the Archives of American Art Auction-1981—and you can see them too, the week before the Auction, next Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 1 and 2, from noon to 5 p.m. at Somerset Mall.

The Auction itself is scheduled for the following Wednesday, Sept. 9, at the Detroit Athletic Club, where the objects going up for bids will be exhibited in the Pontchartrain Room from 1 to 4 p.m. and during a wine and cheese reception from 6 to 8 p.m., when the bidding starts.

Auction Day admission is by ticket, for a donation of $7.50 per person, entitling the donor to the wine and cheese reception, an illustrated, priced catalogue and the privilege of bidding. Ticket information may be obtained by contacting the Archives Office, 226-7544.

Mrs. David Jacknow and Mrs. Abbott Schlain are co-chairing the fifth annual Archives Auction. Grosse Pointers among the committee assisting them include Ruth Vance, Dottie Doerer, Peter Kaufman, Jane Manogian, Diane and Tom Schoenith, Anne and Reginald Harnett, Leland Bates, Howard Livingstone, Edythe and Donald Longyear and Rosalie and Charles Vortriede.

Everything going on the Auction block has been donated, all services contributed, and that means that every cent of the Auction proceeds will go to the Archives of American Art: a national, non-profit organization affiliated with the Smithsonian Institution.

The Archives has assembled the world's largest collection of material documenting the history of visual arts in this country. More than seven million items of original source material are available on microfilm to scholars, graduate students, writers and researchers.

To focus on topics for today

Exploring current trends in our lifestyle and values is the theme of a new series being planned for the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center this fall; the project was announced last week by Mrs. Charles Mosher, of Touraine Road, chairman of the Council of Sponsors, a division of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Auxiliary.

Council members believe there is a need in the community for a program that is as informative and intellectually stimulating as a college course, but not so confining or regular as a formal academic program. It could, for example, follow the tradition of the Fries Forum presented by the Center for several years. The Forum brought speakers in various fields whose special knowledge and points of view were of particularly strong current interest, to The Pointe.

The first events of the new Enlightenment Series are scheduled for September. Speaker for these opening programs will be native Detroit and religious leader Sherwin T. Wine, whose ideas and discussions of current books have aroused great interest and controversy.

Touch is early learning tool for your children

One of the earliest ways of learning is through the sense of touch. Growing Child, a monthly child development newsletter, reports that long after a baby has gained control of her eyes — at about four months—and has begun to learn through them, she will continue to learn by holding, touching, handling and mouthing objects. The world is full of many things which have different "feels." One of a child's earliest ways of learning about what is "out there" is through touching and being touched. The idea that some things are the "same" and some are "different" is one of the most basic of all early learnings. One way to help a child learn more about the "same and different" is to give her many opportunities to feel many interesting "feels." The active, even fussy, baby never lacks for stimulation of lifting and handling; however the placid or "good" baby may be deprived of stimulation because she never makes demands on her parents.

All babies, active or placid, can benefit from gentle stimulation. Before her bath, place your baby on her stomach and gently stroke and rub her back, arms and legs with your hand. Pat her gently all over or tap her with your fingertips. Sometimes rub her gently with something soft and velvety. A piece of soft corduroy is excellent.

After bath, don't just pat her dry. Rub her arms, legs, stomach and back with a soft towel. Kiss her head, hands, feet. Play with her toes as you talk to her. Pat her feet together. Make bubbling noises against the skin in the hollow of her neck.

A ticklish baby is often hypersensitive to touch because she has not had enough stimulation of her sense of touch. If your baby is ticklish, begin by using her own hands to rub and pat her body. As she learns to trust her own touch, you can gradually begin using your own hand.

Remember, too, that a very light touch is more "ticky" than a firmer touch. A gentle but firm touch with the whole palm of your hand is less apt to tickle than a feather-like stroking with the tips of your fingers. Be careful to proceed cautiously with a ticklish baby. Watch her face and be sensitive to her responses, and you will be able to develop normal sensation.

You can get more information on this subject and on the physical and social development of children up to six years old by writing to Growing Child, 22 North Second Street, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Ind. 47902. When writing, include your child's birthdate.

Engaged

The engagement of CARLA ELIZABETH REICHERT and John Bradley Snell has been announced by her parents Dr. and Mrs. Carl E. Reichert Jr., of Cloverly Road. A mid-November wedding is planned.

The bride-elect, an alumna of Grosse Pointe South High School who attended Miami of Ohio and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Michigan State University, is a graduate of the Institute for Para-Legal Training and the training program (stock broker) for Merrill-Lynch account executives. She is affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority.

Her fiancé, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Snell, of Decatur, Ill., was graduated from Decatur High School and the University of Illinois and holds a Master of Business Administration degree from Georgia Tech. He is affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta. He is currently a commodities trader at the Board of Trade in Chicago.

Orchid Show/Congress scheduled in October

The 385 members of the Michigan Orchid Society are preparing for the largest horticultural event ever to be held in the Detroit area: an orchid show, free to the public, featuring thousands of orchids from all over the United States and judged by Certified American Orchid Society Judges.

The annual meeting of the American Orchid Society and the Mid-American Orchid Congress will be held in conjunction with this event. Congress headquarters is the Michigan Inn. The show will be presented Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 24 and 25, at the Tel-Twelve Mall. Orchid plants will be sold during show hours. Congress participants will be offered tours to Greenfield Village, RenCen, the Belle Isle Conservatory, Windsor (Canada) and Great Lakes Orchids in Monroe. A series of lectures on Terrestrial Orchids of the United States, Mexico and Canada will be given at the Michigan Inn; an additional feature, presented by authorities from Michigan and surrounding states, will be a symposium on North American Terrestrial Orchids.

Bride-elect

The engagement of COLLEEN PATRICIA EKIN and Jerome Leo Kuhnlein Jr. has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ekin, of Fairholme Road.

Miss Ekin, a member of Our Lady Star of the Sea High School's Class of 1977, attended Macomb County Community College and is presently employed by Dr. J. Richard Dunlap, an orthodontist in the Pointe area.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Leo Kuhnlein, of Farmington, is a graduate of Farmington High School, Class of 1976, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Bio-Chemistry from Kalamazoo College. He has spent the past year studying Emergency Medicine at Wayne State University and will be attending a British Medical School this fall.

New president for Musicale

The Tuesday Musicale of Detroit, celebrating its 69th year, has elected Mrs. Russell H. Skitch, of Balfour Road, as its president. Nora Skitch brings both scholarship and dedication to the office. She is an internationally known concert singer, former president of the Detroit Conservatory of Music and former state and national president of the Daughters of the British Empire in the United States.

She is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Canada and a Fellowship winner of the Julliard Graduate School of Music in New York City.

In the late 70s, Mrs. Skitch was decorated by Queen Elizabeth II in Buckingham Palace. She received the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, awarded for her contribution to the arts and to British-American relationships.

Joining Mrs. Skitch on the Tuesday Musicale 1981-82 executive board are Grosse Pointers Mrs. John A. Hendrie, Mrs. George Peterson, Mrs. E. W. Allison, Mrs. Robert Crossen, Mrs. Carl Ground and Mrs. Philip Dexter, with Mrs. Donald Anderson and Mrs. Peter Siciliano. Directors include Mrs. Richard B. Johns, Mrs. Thomas Clark, Mrs. H. McQueen, Mrs. Donald Meunch, Miss Anna Speck and Mrs. Roy Zimmerman.

Committee Chairpersons include Pointers Mrs. Arnold Lungershausen, Mrs. John Melson, Mrs. Charles Exley, Mrs. Robert Shover, Mrs. Rose Lee Tyler, Mrs. S. Vermillion, Mrs. Thomas Young, Mrs. Homer Howes, Mrs. John Trute, Mrs. Winfield Jewell Jr., Mrs. Eugene T. Ignasiak, Mrs. Burt E. Taylor, Mrs. Joseph Shaheen, Mrs. Martin Klerck and Mrs. K. A. Johnson, serving with Mrs. V. Everett Kinsey, Mrs. Michel Skaff, Mrs. Douglas MacIntosh, Mrs. John T. McMullen, Mrs. William Mededith, Miss Bernadine Ment, Mrs. Berj. H. Haidostian, Mrs. David Lehenbaum, Mrs. Theodore D. Slabey, Miss Esther Peters, Mrs. Joseph Padye Jr. Mrs. John W. Griffin, Mrs. Edward Wilson and Mrs. Peter Siciliano, plus Mrs. C. E. Pardee and Mrs. Harry Peets.

WSU Theatre's Leone is cited

Leonard Leone, director of the Wayne State University Theatre, is recipient of the American Theatre Association's 1981 Award of Merit for Distinguished Service to Educational Theatre. The award, the association's highest, was presented to him at ATA's recent national convention in Dallas, Tex.

Leone was cited for creation of the Hilberry graduate repertory theatre, for restoring the historic Bonstelle Theatre and for initiating the Globe Theatre reconstruction to be built on the Detroit River, as well as for the general excellence of the theatre program at WSU.

The Joseph A. Clors

Marriage vows were spoken at an evening ceremony Saturday, May 16, in Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church by KYLE ELIZABETH MAROWSKA and Mr. Clor. Their parents are the Robert E. Marowskes, of Fordercroft Road, and the Edward L. Clors, of Huntington Boulevard.

Kyle E. Marowske wed to J. A. Clor

Spring ceremony is followed by reception at Detroit Athletic Club; pair vacation in The Netherlands Antilles

The Reverend Kenneth Lentz and The Reverend Father Daniel Compto, of Our Lady Queen of Peace Church, presided at the mid-May wedding of Kyle Elizabeth Marowske and Joseph Albert Clor in Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Marowske, of Fordercroft Road, hosted a reception at the Detroit Athletic Club following the 6 o'clock rites Saturday, May 16.

The newlyweds vacationed on St. Maarten in The Netherlands Antilles. They are making their home on Norwood Drive in Harper Woods.

The former Miss Marowske selected a traditional, white wedding gown, fashioned of knit chiffon and beaded Venise lace, styled with a Queen Anne neckline, a capelet of Brussels embroidery and an Empire-waisted, circular skirt that ended in a deep Schiffl lace and pearl-embroidered hem.

She carried stephanotis, white roses and ivy, arranged on an Oriental fan edged with white lace and pearls and centered with hand-painted pink and blue flowers.

Matching Schiffl embroidery and pearls edged her cathedral length veil, which fell from a Schiffl-embroidered cap. She wore her mother's wedding garter and placed the same sixpence in her shoe that had been carried by her mother and sister-in-law at their weddings.

Honor matron was Patricia Weaver Smith, of Mount Clemens. Bridesmaids were Cheryl Marowske, the bride's sister-in-law, Judith Pink, the bridegroom's sister, Debra Stachler, the bride's cousin, and Melissa Johnson, of Hammond, Ind., the bride's sorority sister at Valparaiso University.

The square, spaghetti-strapped bodices of their white polyester cotton voile dresses, lace-accented at neck and waistband, with lace-paneled skirts, were covered with flyaway-sleeved, blouson overbouses.

They carried white lace fans with lace ribbons, on which were arranged pink Sweetheart roses, white carnations and ivy sprinkled with blue silk forget-me-nots.

Mr. Clor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Clor, of Huntington Boulevard, asked his brother-in-law, Peter Pink, to act as best man. Groomsmen were Gary Marowske, brother of the bride, John Clor, the bridegroom's brother, Mark Dunny, of Grand Rapids, the bridegroom's roommate at Central Michigan University, and Mike Smith.

Ushers were Jerry Clor, another brother of the bridegroom, and Kevin Burns, cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of blue knit chiffon featuring a beaded bodice, draped neckline, flyaway sleeves and tulip-paneled skirt. Matching satin ribbon accented her waist, and she pinned a corsage of white roses and baby's breath to her clutch purse.

The bridegroom's mother also selected a blue dress, of polyester cotton voile, its spaghetti bodice with a lace-accented yoke of Brussels embroidery covered with a short-sleeved, high-waisted jacket. She, too, pinned white roses and baby's-breath to her purse.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Verplanck and Mrs. Charles Black, of Lakeland, Fla., and Mrs. William Brodbeck and her daughter Nancy, of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mr. Sendelbach takes a bride

Louis Edward Sendelbach Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Edward Sendelbach, of Handy Road, claimed Robyn Lynn Ruohonen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruohonen, of Paw Paw, as his bride Saturday, August 22, at a late morning ceremony in Saint Mary's Catholic Church, Paw Paw.

Presiding at the 11 o'clock rites, which were followed by a reception in Saint Mary's Hall, were Father Donald Taylor, The Reverend William Payne and The Reverend Paul Patterson.

The newlyweds will return from a vacation in Upper Michigan to make their home in Oak Ridge, Tenn., where the bridegroom has been accepted into the Doctoral Program of Bio-Medical Sciences at Oak Ridge National Laboratories, Biology Division, University of Tennessee, and the bride will be employed as an Intensive Care Nurse at Oak Ridge Hospital.

The former Miss Ruohonen chose a traditional gown, the Sweetheart neckline of its Alencon lace bodice outlined in seed pearls, a chiffon overlay covering its chiffon skirt, featuring a short train.

Her short, illusion veil fell from a monk's cap. Long, white satin streamers accented her bouquet of white daisies and greens.

Lori Ann Ruohonen, honor maid for her sister, wore an Empire-waisted dress of pale orchid chiffon, its V-necked, spaghetti-strapped bodice covered with a mandarin-collared chiffon overlay capelet.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically, were Michelle Crose and Carol Williams, both of Paw Paw, and Maura Sendelbach, the bridegroom's sister.

Best man was David Smith, of Kalamazoo. Ushers were David McShane, George Heidt and David Bailey, of Parchment, Mich.

The mother of the bride wore a street length dress of multicolored, pale orchid and pink chiffon. The bridegroom's mother selected a street length dress and jacket ensemble of pale orchid chiffon, with a pale pink bodice and cummerbund. Both mothers' flowers were daisies.

The Gary S. Hills

Marriage vows were exchanged by PATRICIA ANN TEPSICH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tepsich, of Loraine, O., and Mr. Hill, son of the John Hills, of Willison Road, Monday, June 15, in Loraine's Northminster United Presbyterian Church.

Florida is home for Gary S. Hills

Patricia Ann Tepsich is attended by a sister as she speaks vows in Loraine, O.; their brother is best man

Gary Stephen Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, of Willison Road, claimed Patricia Ann Tepsich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tepsich, of Loraine, O., as his bride at an early evening ceremony.

Setting for the 5 o'clock rites Monday, June 15, was Loraine's Northminster Presbyterian Church.

The former Miss Tepsich chose a gown of beige silk and lace for her wedding. Orchids, carnations and baby's-breath formed her bou-quet. She was attended by her sister, Kathleen Obbey, who wore beige silk. Their brother, Mark Tepsich, acted as best man for the bridegroom.

The newlyweds are making their home in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Audition dates slated by Cantata Academy

Vocal auditions for the Cantata Academy of Metropolitan Detroit's 22nd season have been scheduled for 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 5, and Saturday, Sept. 12. Three Autumn Dates for DSO Women

The Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, a vital cultural resource in the metropolitan area since 1914, will end September with a flurry of activity.

The group's eighth annual picnic for orchestra members is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 23, in the Symphony Orchestra courtyard. The following evening, Thursday, Sept. 24, at 5:30 p.m. in the Renaissance Club, the DSO Women will host their annual Symphony Season Opening Night Dinner (black tie, of course), and the next Wednesday, Sept. 30, is reserved for another annual event: the Association's New Member Tea.

Detroit Symphony Women, drawn from all walks of life, give freely of their time to encourage concert attendance, increase public enthusiasm for the orchestra and secure friends and financial support for it. Apropos the latter purpose be advised that, at the Association's annual meeting this year at the Birmingham Country Club, Mrs. Robert Gerisch, outgoing president, presented a check for $126,000, profits from the group's fund raising events during the past year, to the DSO.

Mrs. Gerisch has been succeeded by Mrs. Eric Wiltshire, of Bloomfield Hills, as Association president. Among those assisting her on the executive board are a trio of Pointers: Mrs. Frank A. Germack Jr., first vice-president, Mrs. Kim K. Lie, vice-president, and Mrs. Henry Domzalski, recording secretary.

Science Center Night for Adults

Several Grosse Pointe members of the Board of directors of the Children's Center, oldest and largest community-based provider of mental health services for children (infants through teens) in Michigan, are involved in a very special benefit for the organization, to be held Thursday evening, Sept. 17, at the Detroit Science Center.

It's billed as "A Night for Adults at the Detroit Science Center" and will get off to a sociable start at 6 p.m. with a wine and cheese reception during which guests will have an opportunity to view the magic of David Hermelin as well as various scientific experiments and exhibits.

Later, two wrap-around movies, "Ocean" and "Nomads of the Deep," will be run off in the Omnimax Space Theater, one of only seven theaters in the world designed specifically for the showing of such total-dimension films.

Among localities involved in the project are Mrs. Jack Pickering, Children's Center board treasurer; Mrs. Joseph J. Marshall, secretary, who also handles Children's Center public relations; Max L. Gardner, M.D., the board's immediate past-president; Mrs. Edward Gushee, trustee; and Mrs. Perry TeWalt, Richard E. Hinks and Alfred R. Ruether, now associate board members.

Grosse Pointer Carol LaFond, Children's Center staff member, is also working on the project. It's being chaired by K. Peter Knudsen, a Children's Center vice-president, and Kempf Hogan, and it's open to the public at $40 per couple, with reservations requested by Friday, Sept. 11. Interested? The number to call for further information is 831-5535.

A Bit of Background on the Two Centers

The Children's Center, an outgrowth of a philanthropic trust to benefit children established in 1929 by Senator James Couzens, now provides services at its Alexandrine East headquarters in the Detroit Medical Center and at five satellite locations, including a group home, scattered throughout the city.

Construction of the Detroit Science Center's handsome headquarters on John R and Farnsworth, kitty-corner from the Detroit Institute of Arts, was made possible in large part by a generous gift from the D. M. Ferry Jr. Trustee Corporation. The Couzens and Ferry families have maintained their community-minded traditions through the years, so it seems especially fitting that a benefit for a Center born through the generosity of one prominent Detroit family should be held at a Center born through the generosity of another.

A Bit of Background on the Two Movies

If you've never been to the Detroit Science Center's Space Theater (poor you!), you've an eye-opening treat in store for you benefit night. You'll feel as if you're "in" the film, for it's 77mm—three times larger than Cinerama—and the sound comes from a six-channel stereo magnetic audio tape system.

In "Ocean," you'll take a night swim through thousands of squid, frolic with frisky sea lions, look at several sharks and enjoy a close encounter with an amiable octopus. "Nomads of the Deep" explores the fascinating life styles and habitats of whales.

'Annie' benefit work begins

The largest individual fund raising event in the history of Public Broadcasting is set for next spring and summer when the film version of "Annie" premieres in motion picture theaters around the country in a series of benefits for local PBS stations.

Among them is Detroit's WTWS/Channel 56, and among those working with Phyllis (Mrs. Frank S.) Marra, of Bloomfield Hills, general chairman of the local "Annie" benefit, is Grosse Pointe's Tom Schoenhub, benefit coordinator.

This is the first joint effort between Public Television and the Hollywood film industry. "Annie" will have its premieres in New York, Los Angeles and Toronto in mid-May; they will be followed by local premieres benefiting PBS stations from June 1, Alaska, to Miami, Fla.

Bill Kennedy

See Historical Society exhibit at the Library

Visitors to the Grosse Pointe Central Library this month are finding the showcase display presented by the Grosse Pointe Historical Society of great interest. The display, which features many photographs of Grosse Pointe locations, houses and people for decades past, also contains rare books on Grosse Pointe history as well as newspaper clippings, documents and letters.

The Grosse Pointe Historical Society, begun in the 1940s, was until last year housed at the library. In February, 1980, it became a private, non-profit organization and moved to its own headquarters on the second floor of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Visitors are always welcome to view the records and artifacts of early Grosse Pointe which make the rapidly growing collections so interesting. Miss Jean Doderhoff, curator, is on duty every Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. New members are welcome; anyone with an interest in learning about and preserving the history of the area may join.

Original founders of the Society were trustees Eugene R. Cadieux, W. Hawkins Ferry and Mrs. Robert Hamilton.

Other members of the board of trustees are Dr.

Alexander Blain, Mrs. Carl J. Dalligan, Mrs. Peter Dixon, Mrs. Don T. Galvin, Mrs. H. James Gram and John A. Hammel. Others are George G. Jerome, John W. Lake, Mrs. William Ledyard, Mrs. Clifford Lorange, Mrs. James McMillan, Hudson Mead, Mrs. Gary C. Miller, Mrs. Sidney Probert, Francis W. Robinson, Frank J. Sladen, Dr. Goldwin Smith, Wallace C. Toles and Charles Wright III. Still more are George N. Zinn Jr., Mrs. J. McGregor Dodds and Dr. Alfred N. Whittaker.

The library display, arranged by Mrs. Probert, will remain on view until mid-September.

Will wed

Early December wedding plans are being made by CAROLYN ELIZABETH CHICOINE and Michael John Zouras whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Mason Chicoine, of Stratton Place.

The bride-elect attended Ohio Wesleyan University and is currently studying Fine Arts and Photography at Arizona State University. She is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Zouras, of Redondo Beach, Calif., attended Long Beach State in California and now plays baseball for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Schedule card party at St. Juliana Hall

The Servants of Mary Auxiliary has scheduled a benefit card party for Sunday afternoon, Aug. 30, starting at 2 p.m., at Saint Juliana Hall, Chalmers at Longview in Detroit. Admission donation is $2.50 per person. Refreshments and prizes will be featured.

McLeod-Perry rites planned

Early October wedding plans are being made by Gail Rae Perry and Edward Joan McLeod whose engagement has been announced by her mother, Mrs. June Swift Perry, of East Detroit.

Miss Perry, who is also the daughter of Guido Perry, of Roseville, was graduated from East Detroit High School and Ferris State College and is a practicing Court Reporter. She has served as vice-president of Phi Gamma Nu and is a Provisional Member of the Junior League of Detroit.

Mr. McLeod, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Clarence J. McLeod, of Stephens Road, is an alumnus of Grosse Pointe South High School and holds a degree in Business Administration from Ferris State College. He has served as vice-president of Delta Sigma Pi.

He now resides in Seattle, Wash., where he is associated with the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

Trio of Bach brunch dates

Brunch with Bach, the popular Sunday morning attraction at the Detroit Institute of Arts, will offer three informal chamber concerts by local professional musicians during September.

Harpist Deborah Feld performs music by Handel and Salveo at 10 and 11:30 a.m. Sept. 13 in the museum's Crystal Gallery. Featured there at 10 and 11:30 a.m. Sept. 20 in a program entitled Instruments I Have Known and Loved will be Suzanne LaCroix, soprano, and Bernard Katz, piano.

Shaul Ben-Meir, flute, and Muriel Kilby, piano, will perform music by Piston and Doppler at 10 and 11:30 a.m. Sept. 27.

Tickets are available at $7 for the full brunch (main course, fruit, bread and beverage), $6 for a continental brunch (nut bread and butter, fruit compote, cottage cheese and beverage) or $3 for the concert and coffee only.

Advanced reservations are required. Call 832-2730.

July wedding date revealed

Candice Lee Swanson, of Notre Dame Avenue, and Jeffrey Michael Arpino, of Anita Avenue, exchanged marriage vows Friday evening, July 31, at a 7:30 o'clock ceremony in Grosse Pointe.

The bride is the daughter of former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. David Swanson, who now reside in Midland. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Arpino, also formerly of The Pointe now of Fort Pierce, Fla.

The newlyweds are making their home on Notre Dame Avenue.

To marry

The engagement of CAROLYN L. LEVICK and Dr. Dan C. Deligianis was announced by her parents, Shores residents Dr. and Mrs. Walter G. Levick, at a dinner party at Lochmoor Club earlier this month. The wedding is planned for early summer, 1982.

Miss Levick, a graduate of Our Lady Star of the Sea High School, received her Bachelor of Social Science degree in Home Economics from the University of Windsor and her Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from Nazareth College. She is presently completing her Nursing Internship at Bon Secours Hospital.

Dr. Deligianis, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Constantine Deligianis, of Port Huron, is a graduate of Port Huron Northern High School. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Biology from Albion College, where he affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, and his Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Athens, Greece. He is now completing his residency in Ophthalmology at Henry Ford Hospital.

Suzi Kole marries at Star of the Sea

Dr. and Mrs. Edward J. Sarrine will make their home in Tampa, Fla., after Caribbean wedding cruise

Suzi Kole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Mushenski, of Ford Court, became the bride of Dr. Edward J. Sarrine, son of the Russell Sarrines, of Jackson, on Saturday, August 22, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church. The Reverend Hector J. Saulino officiated at the 5:30 o'clock rites.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at Fairlane Club, where Harry Tiechert, of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and a trio of violinists played during the cocktail and dinner hours. Dancing followed, to music by the Dan Yessian Arrangement.

After a Caribbean vacation the newlyweds will be at home at Carrollwood Village in Tampa, Fla. The bridegroom is a dentist in Tampa. The bride is a professional model.

The former Miss Kole wore a wedding gown of white English net on which appliques of French Alencon lace were embroidered with clusters of seed pearls. Her Watteau style cathedral train ended in a deep satin hem that was scalloped and heavily embroidered with pearls.

Matching pearl-embroidered satin edged her long, net and lace sleeves. A double layer of silk veiling embroidered with flowers and a cathedral length veil of silk illusion were caught by her petal headpiece, of satin heavily encrusted with pearls and paillettes. She carried a cascade of gardenias, stephanotis and English ivy.

They carried bouquets of deep peach roses, white pom-poms, peach carnations, white statice and English ivy.

Flower girl Laura Hutton, in a long dress accented with peach flowers and ribbons, wore a wreath of white and peach flowers and baby's-breath in her hair and carried a basket of rose petals.

Russell Sarrine II, of Jackson, was his brother's best man. In the usher corps were Dr. Gary Greely, of Ann Arbor, Dr. Dennis Hoorn, of Kalamazoo, and Dr. Thomas Rockwell, of Tampa, all fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, and two more brothers of the bridegroom: Robert Sarrine, of Beaumont, Tex., and Thomas Sarrine, of Jackson.

Mrs. Mushenski selected a one-shouldered gown of pale peach chiffon with a double-tiered skirt for her daughter's wedding. A sheer stole was attached to her shoulder with a cluster of rhinestones, which fell into a sunburst pattern across her back.

Seed pearls trimmed the neck and Empire waist of the sand-colored Qiana gown, featuring a chiffon cape, selected by the bridegroom's mother. Both mothers wore wrist corsages of white cattleya orchids.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Ralph McNally and her daughter Roni Jo, of Dover, N.J., Ms. Paulette Ladaich and Ed Bark, of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Thomas Rockwell and Ken DeVane, of Tampa, former Pointer Mrs. Ray Harms, who now resides in St. Andrews, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Allen McInnis, of Stanford, Conn.

The Paul T. Gohlkes

On the lakeside lawn of the St. Clair Inn Saturday, June 20, CYNTHIA MARGARET SHORTT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Shortt, who moved recently from Prestwick Road to Sarasota, Fla., was married to Mr. Gohlke, son of Mrs. Theodore Gohlke, of Fraser, and the late Mr. Gohlke.

JAMES ALAN BONNER, academic honors from Duke son of JOSEPH B. BONNER, University this spring. of Barrington Road, received

Miss Shortt bride of Paul T. Gohlke

St. Clair Inn is setting for outdoor ceremony in mid-June; Sandra and Susan Shortt attend their sister

At home in Mount Clemens are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Theodore Gohlke, who vacationed on Cape Cod following the noon ceremony Saturday, June 20, on the banks of the St. Clair River, on the lawn of the St. Clair Inn, at which they exchanged marriage vows.

Mrs. Gohlke is the former Cynthia Margaret Shortt, daughter of the Jack D. Shortts, who moved recently from Prestwick Road to Sarasota, Fla. Mr. Gohlke is the son of Mrs. Theodore Gohlke, of Fraser, and the late Mr. Gohlke. St. Clair Mayor John Cummings presided at the marriage service. A reception followed at the St. Clair Inn. The bride's gown featured a cap-sleeved bodice of r-embroidered Alencon lace, styled with a Queen Anne neckline, and a floor length skirt of pleated organza trimmed with Chantilly lace. Matching Alencon lace trimmed the cap that caught her waist length veil. She carried a cascade of gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley, white Sweetheart roses and ivy.

Honor attendant Kathleen Bennett, of Clairview Road, and bridesmaids Sandra Shortt, of Mount Clemens, and Susan Shortt, of Lansing, sisters of the bride, wore floor length dresses of yellow Qiana, accented at bodice and hem with a floral border print, and matching shawls.

They carried bouquets of yellow and white daisies, Sonia roses and chrysanthemums.

William Hosbein, of Ann Arbor, was best man, Ushering were Allen Gohl, a cousin of the bridegroom, and James Trombly.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Catherine and Benjamin Gohlke, the bridegroom's daughter and son.

The mother of the bride wore a cream knit, street length dress and jacket ensemble. Yellow Sweetheart roses, chrysanthemums and baby's-breath formed her corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a street length dress and jacket ensemble of navy, pink and white Qiana, and a corsage of pink Sweetheart roses and white daisies.

Enlightenment series set for fall

(Continued from Page 1B) ment, Wine is a popular lecturer, well-known throughout the metropolitan Detroit community for his thought-provoking commentaries on contemporary values. He will present three programs at the War Memorial on Wednesday mornings, Sept. 16, 23 and 30. The specific subjects, which will be based on current best selling books, are now under consideration and will be announced in early September. Council members planning the new series and spearheading the campaign to make it well attended are the Mesdames William J. Denler II, Robert H. Healy, F. Charles Kaess III, Peter Stalker II and Henry M. Woodhouse.

The Council of Sponsors was formed this year to undertake development of special new activities and encourage attendance and use of the War Memorial Center. Its first project, last May, was The Domestics and The Imports: a very successful wine tasting. Further information on the Council and its activities of the Enlightenment Series may be obtained by calling the Center, 881-7511.

Craft program dates at DGC

A series of fall craft classes begins Wednesday, Sept. 16, at the Detroit Garden Center, headquartered in The Moross House on East Jefferson Avenue, and will continue there weekly through Nov. 4.

The programs, for DGC members, run from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Fee for each is $3, plus materials cost. Pre-registration is required, for class size is limited. Participants should bring brown bag luncheons; coffee or tea will be provided.

DGC membership, with dues of $5 per year, is open to everyone. Further information may be obtained by calling 259-6363, any Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, between 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Virginia Litteral and Aiyce Sarver are co-chairmen of the eight-class series, which opens with Fernande Biglin's Small Calico Box program. The following Wednesday, Sept. 23, Caroline Jamison will show how to make a Colonial Herb Wreath.

Aldana Kardos' Three-Dimensional Hanging class is set for Sept. 30. Grace Kabel will lead a Splint Basket Wall Hanging class Oct. 7, and Irene Losin will conduct a Spiced Wall Hanger class Oct. 14.

A Della Robia Cone Wreath will be Mary Ungewitter's subject Oct. 21. Leona Lienau will focus on a Sweet Gum Ball Tree Oct. 28, and the series closes Nov. 4, with Dorothy Lewandowski's Velvet Kaleidoscope Tote Bag class.

Assist School for the Deaf

The Lutheran Ladies Auxiliary for the Deaf begins its 104th year of school support activities Tuesday, Sept. 1, with a business meeting following an 11:30 a.m. potluck luncheon at the School on East Nevada Street near Van Dyke Avenue in Detroit.

The auxiliary's first fund raising activity of the season will be a luncheon and card party beginning at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 29, at the School. Donation is $3. Reservations should be made by contacting Clara Manske at 882-4683 or Ruth Haase at 527-8824.

Party proceeds will augment the auxiliary's scholarship fund for School students. Mrs. Martin Moellering is the auxiliary's current president. The Reverend Joseph Fabrey, of Christ the King Lutheran Church in Grosse Pointe Woods, will again serve as the group's pastoral counselor.

Set Metropolitan Rose Society session Sunday

The Metropolitan Rose Society will meet this Sunday, Aug. 30, at 2 p.m. at Olivet Lutheran Church on Van Dyke Avenue at East Outer Drive to hear Richard Schmidt, Consulting Rosarian, Accredited American Rose Society Judge and past-president of the Detroit Rose Society, explain and demonstrate how roses should be prepared for use in the home and for the show table.

Outdoor water color programs

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center has arranged for a pair of autumn outdoor, on-location workshops conducted by Carol Lachuisa, watercolorist for 30 years, following an introductory, complimentary demonstration of watercolor techniques at the War Memorial Thursday, Sept. 10, at 1 p.m.

Romeo will be the workshop setting the following Thursday, Sept. 17. The day's program will include a morning demonstration by the instructor. Individual approach of each student will be stressed. Rain date for the Romeo workshop is Thursday, Sept. 24.

Fall color on the Clinton River will be offered Thursday, Oct. 8, with a rain date of the following Thursday, Oct. 15.

Both workshops will meet at the War Memorial at 9:30 a.m. and return at 3:15 p.m. Fee for each program is $15. Participants should bring sack lunches.

Lachuisa studied under Ugo Grazzotti in Rome. She has had several shows, most recently at the G.P.Y.C.

Miss Lake married to Timothy Miller

Rebecca Lake Schmitt and Linda Lake are honor attendants for their sister at evening ceremony

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Chandler Lake entertained at a reception at their Harbor Hill home following the spring wedding of their daughter, Janet Ellen Lake, and Timothy Paul Miller in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

Presiding at the 7:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday, May 16, was Dr. Roy Hutcheon. The newlyweds vacationed at Madeira Beach, Fla., and are now at home in St. Clair Shores.

The former Miss Lake chose a traditional gown accented with Alencon lace which banded her neck and formed her bodice. Matching lace appliques were featured on her long sleeves of English net and the front of her A-line, Empire skirt of satin, styled with a scalloped hem band.

Still more lace appliques trimmed her veil, which fell from a lace Juliet cap. She carried a cascade of white carnations, pink Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath.

Rebecca Lake Schmitt, of Madison, Wis., and Linda Lake, of Ann Arbor, served as their sister's honor matron and maid, respectively. Bridesmaids were Cindy Miller, of Midland, the bride-

Grosse Pointe Congregational Church was the setting for the evening ceremony Saturday, May 16, at which JANET ELLEN LAKE, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Chandler Lake, of Harbor Hill, was married to Mr. Miller, son of the Paul William Millers, of Midland.

Senior Ladies meet at Center

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Senior Ladies Club begins its fall season with a light sandwich luncheon and card party at noon Wednesday, Sept. 9, at the Center. It is not necessary to have a foursome or partner to participate; tables will be arranged. Rides can also usually be arranged for those who need them.

Membership in the club, which meets the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month, is open to all ladies 60 or over in the five Grosse Pointes. Dues are $9 per year. Fee for each sandwich luncheon is $2.50 for members, $3.25 for guests.

Terry-Sullivan troth is told

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Sullivan, of Fort Washington, Md., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn Elaine, to Sydney Lee Terry Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Lee Terry, of Moross Road. The wedding is planned for next spring.

Miss Sullivan, an alumna of Friendly Senior High School who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from the University of Maryland, is an officer of the Equitable Trust Company, Rockville, Md.

Her fiancé, a Grosse Pointe South High School alumnus, received his Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the University of Michigan and his L.L.B. from Wayne State University Law School. He is a member of the Michigan and District of Columbia Bar Associations, and of Psi Upsilon, and is currently an attorney with the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington, D.C.

Offer new Secretarial Review Course in fall

The Detroit Chapter of Professional Secretaries International, in cooperation with the Detroit College of Business in Dearborn, will offer its newly reorganized Secretarial Review Course at DCB on Saturdays starting Sept. 12.

Five subjects will be offered in the morning from 9 a.m. through noon. Three subjects will be offered from 1 to 4 p.m.

Subjects offered Sept. 12 through Dec. 12 are Behavioral Science in Business, Business Law and Office Procedures and Administration/Secretarial Skills and Decision Making, Word and Data Processing, Accounting, Economics and Management will be offered from Dec. 19 through April 3, 1982.

Registrations are now being accepted. Additional information may be obtained by calling 992-3050.

The Review Course has been especially structured to aid those planning to take the Certified Professional Secretary Examination, but it is also of value to all secretaries who would like to update and improve their skills in eight important areas.

Jazz honors for Johnson

Candy Johnson, the late jazz saxophonist, will be honored in memorial concerts tonight, Thursday, Aug. 27, at 7 and 9:30 p.m. as part of the Detroit Institute of Arts' Jazz at The Institute series in the museum's Crystal Gallery.

Five of Johnson's colleagues — Lefty Edwards, Herbie Williams, Alma Smith, Leonard White and Al Johnson — will be featured guest artists. Tickets at $8 per set are available at the door or may be purchased in advance through the DIA ticket office, 832-2730.

As at all Jazz at The Institute programs, wine, beer, soft drinks and snacks will be available at nominal cost.

The Cover Story ... at Walton-Pierce features a good selection of short and long coats. There is the Mackintosh authentic peacoat that comes in camel, green, gray, beige or white. Then there are peacoats in navy or brown quilt from Couture Specialties. "The natural resource for fake furs" is Style VI Ltd. and you'll find short coats of nutria, Siberian wolf and feathered raccoon in many styles. One reverses and they call it Furlversible. In the collection of long coats you'll find 100% cashmere in a creamy beige boy coat. There are pure Mongolian camel hair coats in wraps, double and single breasted styles ... some in petite sizes. A tan quilted coat reverses to red and a gray to pink. A smart quilted coat comes in brown or black and is edged with beige corning. A handsome poplin all weather coat from Count Romi sports a notched collar of Australian opossum and is pile lined. Navy or black coats come in many styles from casual to dressy. Two outstanding coats from Triger are in a deep purple. One is a soft blend of wool and mohair ... The other, a sophisticated cut with an unusual neckline is in smooth melton. Going from the practical to the romantic, takes you to the Lingerie Department where Luci Ann's copper toned nylon "at home" gown is lavished with copper sequins around the neckline and at the cuffs.

The Name Mutschler Kitchens ... has always stood for quality. Everyone knows that. But did you know they also are competitive in their pricing policy? When considering cabinetry for your home, be sure to let them give you an estimate ... 20227 Mack Avenue.

Special ... at the Notre Dame Pharmacy is Splash 'n Silk, a $5.50 value for $3.95. The special package includes Body Splash and Body Moisturizing Lotion.

Tony Cueter ... of Bijouterie showed us the unusual and beautiful new ring mountings that have just arrived. If you're planning on having your old ring updated be sure to see them. There are also new Seiko La Salle watches with Swiss made cases and a new selection of clocks at Bijouterie. Grosse Pointe's fine jewelry store located at 20445 Mack Avenue. Open 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m., Tuesday thru Saturday. Closed Mondays ... 886-2050.

So Suitable ... for fall, the new walking suits at Michelle's Boutique, 17864 Mack Avenue. The seven-eighth brushed mohair coat tops a matching unbrushed skirt. Choose blue, mauve or gray. Also lovely coordinating blouses available at Michelle's.

The Dress ... for a sophisticated lady is found at The Pointe Fashions. It really is a jacket ensemble by Caron. A black, beige, red and mauve look prints silky polyester. A white collar and cuffs brighten the jacket and a perky red bow accents the neck of the dress. Black leather belts the waist. No charge for alterations. Sizes 8-16 ... 15112 Kercheval ... 822-2818.

KIMBERLY KORNER ... At Lilly's bright quilted jackets with contrasting original appliques will ward off a cool breeze or catch an eye and warm a heart ... by Alfredos Wife ... also applique skirts and tunics. Lilly Pulitzer, Mack and Lochmoor. Informal modeling Wednesdays during lunch.

The Back-To-School Sale ... continues at the School Bell, 17904 Mack Avenue. Fill your school bag with value.

Face Facts ... from Woods Optical Studios. The rectangular face is long, somewhat narrow and usually a bit angular. Blusher applied low and horizontally helps add fullness as does a hair style that is flat on the top with some type of bangs or curls coming down on the forehead. The most flattering frame styles are always deep and wide to cut the length. A suggestion of rounded corners and curving lines are attractive. Stop by 19599 Mack Avenue between 7 and 8 Mile Roads and let the experts help you find your most attractive look ... 882-9711.

Don't Forget ... to stop in the NEW Mole Hole, Kercheval and St. Clair. See the new expanded store where you also will find Stahl's Bakery and the Lolly Shop ... 17100 Kercheval.

It's A Terrific Time ... to save on quality furnishings with 30% off Harden cherry furniture and Conover upholstered sofas and chairs during the White's Old House Seventy-fourth Anniversary Sale. Be sure to stop at 26717 Little Mack, St. Clair Shores. Open Thursday and Friday nights until 9. Closed Mondays ... 776-8230.

Wright's Gift And Lamp Shop ... is the place to bring your lamps for repair and to pick out new shades. Most repairs can be done while you wait. Take advantage of the convenient FREE PARKING next to the building ... 18650 Mack Avenue.

At The Arrangement ... pick up a dozen carnations for $6 or a bunch of cut flowers for $3.50. This is a weekend special. Cash and carry Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Mack at St. Clair. 885-6222.

Cornie's & Sons Plus ... has oxford, button down shirts in sizes for boys and girls. Choose pink, lavender, yellow, light blue, white, navy, burgandy, brown plus assorted stripes and patterns ... Mack Avenue one block south of 9 Mile Road in St. Clair Shores.

The prize winning photography of four Grosse Pointe students was featured this month in a display of the 1981 Scholastic/Kodak Photo Awards winners at the American Standard Inc. Exhibition Center in New York City that ends today, Thursday, Aug. 27. The exhibit includes more than 300 pictures. The young Pointers entered the competition as South High School students with Jack Summers as their photography teacher, and earned a place in this annual presentation by winning in the nationwide junior and senior high school competition sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company and conducted by Scholastic Inc.

At the top is a picture from the portfolio of 12 black-and-white photographs that earned 18-year-old JEFFERY PLANSKER, son of the Dennis H. Planskers, of Bishop Road, a fourth place, $250 Kodak scholarship grant. He also received a $20 Honor Award for this picture: a Matisse influenced interpretation of produce for a classroom assignment.

Jeffery, who plans to major in photography at the Center for Creative Studies, picked up a $50 Special Merit Award for one of his pictures, too. He found his attic an ideal shooting location, and used articles he found there as props. Four of his pictures interpret Bible verses. The scholarship competition, open only to high school seniors, challenges them to show their range of creativity, camera and darkroom skills.

The other three students, all Farms residents, won $20 Honor Awards. DOUGLAS SCHAIBLE, 17, of Mount Vernon Road, took the black-and-white "Elbow and Knee Entourage" below. The elbow and knee belongs to Douglas' sister, Doreen. Douglas plans on attending the Center for Creative Studies and becoming a commercial photographer.

Sixteen-year-old PHYLLIS HENNESSEY, daughter of Frank and Carol Hennessey, of Cloverly Road, received her award for a black-and-white "Winter Wonderland."

ELIZABETH T. JOHNSON, 17, daughter of the Glenn E. Johnsons, of Kenwood Road, begins working toward a degree in Synaesthetic Education at the School of Visual Arts and the School of Education at Syracuse University this fall. Her prize winning black-and-white photo is titled "Ballooning Man."

Judges for the 1981 competition were Alfred

New nursery school to open in the fall
The Brethren-Baptist Fellowship of the Detroit First Church of the Brethren, located on Lochmoor in Harper Woods, just southeast of Eastland Mall, will open its nursery school doors this fall. The school will offer a half-day program for children ages three and four on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings — and possibly afternoons — from September through May. Each class is limited to 15 children, under the supervision of a certified teacher and an assistant. School director and teacher is Louise Wolgemuth, experienced in both fields. Residents are invited to get acquainted with the school during open house hours, noon to 2 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m., Monday, Sept. 14. Further information and registration forms may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Wolgemuth at 652-3246 or Suzanne Ladouceur at 777-4527.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, the second of two columns on IDEAS FOR THE NEIGHBORHOOD COOKOUT utilizing summer's bounty of fresh-from-the-garden vegetables.

VEGETABLE MEDLEY
STIR-FRY
2 Tbsp. vegetable oil
1 1/4 lbs. small zucchini, cut into 1/2-inch chunks
1 1/2 cups green pepper, cut into 1-inch squares
1 cup new potatoes, pared and cut into 1/2-inch cubes
1 cup carrots, pared and sliced
1 cup onions, coarsely chopped
1 cup celery, diagonally sliced
1 cup fresh corn cut from cob
1 pkg. (6 oz.) frozen snow peas, thawed and blotted dry
1 can (16 oz.) stewed tomatoes, cut up
1 beef bouillon cube, crumbled
3/4 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. oregano
1 cup pea pods

1/2 cup strong beef broth made with 1/2 cup boiling water and 1 bouillon cube, cooled
1/2 cup soy sauce
2 Tbsp. dry sherry wine (optional)
2 tsp. granulated sugar
2 tsp. cornstarch
3 Tbsp. vegetable oil
1 cup walnuts, broken in pieces
1 cup green onions, cut into 1-inch pieces
1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, thinly sliced
1 lb. Chinese celery cabbage, cut into 1-inch pieces.

Preheat electric skillet to 350°. Add oil and heat. Add zucchini, green pepper, potatoes, carrots, onion, celery, corn, peas, stewed tomatoes, bouillon cube, salt, pepper and oregano. Cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat to 220° and simmer 15 minutes; add pea pods and cook another 3 to 4 minutes or until vegetables are tender, stirring occasionally. Makes 6 servings.
Calories about 135 per serving.
Cholesterol 0.

4 cups cooked very thin spaghetti or linguini
Remove and discard tough stems from spinach. Wash leaves thoroughly. In small bowl combine beef broth, soy sauce, sherry, sugar and cornstarch. Assemble remaining ingredients.

VEGETABLE SUKIYAKI WITH NOODLES AND WALNUTS
A most delicious all vegetable dish. The servings are so generous that a fresh fruit, when used as the dessert, makes a wonderful meal.

In a wok or large, heavy skillet heat 1 tablespoon of oil over moderately high heat. Add the walnuts and toss quickly with a spoon to coat with oil. Sprinkle with the salt and toss again for about 30 seconds. Remove from wok. Increase heat to high and add remaining 2 tablespoons oil. When hot, add onions and mushrooms and stir-fry 1 minute. Add Chinese cabbage and stir-fry 1 minute. Stir soy mixture and stir into vegetables in wok. Reduce heat to moderately high; when sauce begins to thicken, add spinach, then noodles. Cover and cook about 1 minute, until spinach starts to wilt; then stir spinach and noodles into sauce and vegetables. Cook 1 or 2 minutes longer, until noodles are hot. Stir mixture again before serving; top with salted walnuts. Makes 4 servings.
Calories about 520 per serving.

1 pkg. (10 oz.) fresh spinach

Rose Society meets Sept. 1

The Grosse Pointe Rose Society meets next Tuesday, Sept. 1, at 7:45 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval Avenue at Fisher Road, where Ann Gualdoni, president of the Metropolitan Rose Society, a Consulting Rosarian and excellent exhibitor in local and state shows, will demonstrate and explain how roses can be made more beautiful regardless of whether they are to be used in the home or put on the show table. Mrs. Gualdoni's presentation will cover when and how to cut roses from the bush, how to condition blooms so they will hold their form and last much longer, how to clean and repair damaged foliage and removal of unsightly petals in order to bring the bloom into a circular shape. In addition, Ann, who has grown many of her roses from cuttings, will show how she prepares and grows her cuttings — and as an added bonus, Joe Gualdoni will demonstrate an easy way to take the bottom out of glass jars for use in covering newly planted cuttings. Guests are, as always, welcome at this Pointe Rose Society meeting. Everyone interested in roses is invited to attend. Details of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society's Fall Rose Show, to be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 4 and 5, at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, will be announced in next week's NEWS.

Mustangs are soccer champions

For the second year in a row the Grosse Pointe Mustangs have won the Michigan Youth Soccer League under 10 soccer championship. Representing the Grosse Pointe Soccer Association, the Mustangs played teams from Warren, Fraser, Roseville, etc. The girls won all nine games played and outscored the opposition, 34-3. Over two years, the Mustangs have a 19-0-1 mark, including a 19-game winning streak following their first tie. Each winning team was comprised of different members. This year's team featured (front row, left to right) Sarah Bayko, Kate

Boccis compete in Dearborn memorial race

The 1980 Olympic Gold Medalist for the 20K Racewalk, Maurizio Damilano, will be competing in the third annual Casimiro Alongi International Memorial Racewalk being held Aug. 29 at Fordson Stadium and Aug. 30 at Levagood Park, both in Dearborn.

Other athletes who will compete include: Giorgio Damilano, (Italy) twin brother of Maurizio; Vittorio Visin (Italy); Marcel Joben (Quebec); Ray Sharp, Steve Pecinovsky, Marco Evoniuk and Jim Heiring (members of the U.S. International Team); John Padrick (member of the U.S. Jr. Team); and racewalkers from Grosse Pointe, Martin Kraft, Jeanie Bocci and Gerry Bocci. On Aug. 29, athletes will be at Brown's Chicken Restaurant from 6:30 to 9 p.m. to sign autographs, meet residents and have pictures taken. Brown's is located at Inkster Road and Cherry Hill in Garden City.

The racewalk is organized by the Wolverine Pacers and the City of Dearborn Parks and Recreation Department. The first Racewalk was held in 1979 in commemoration of Casimiro Alongi, brother of Frank Along, athletic director of the Wolverine Pacers.

Fordson Stadium is located at 13800 Ford Road, and Levagood Park is located at Silvery Lane and Wilson Drive, both in Dearborn. Starting times will be 8:30 a.m. on Aug. 29 and 8 a.m. on Aug. 30.

For more information, call 213-277-6080.

City tops Farms in 33rd annual fishing rodeo

More than 275 City and Farms residents and guests battled inclement weather to participate in the 33rd Annual Fishing Rodeo held at the Farms Pier Park on Saturday, Aug. 15.

Approximately three minutes after the starting gun sounded Eric Christian pulled in the first (a 7 inch perch) of 63 fish to be caught in the 90 minute rodeo. Six-year-old Lenny Cuglaira of the City was the overall winner of the rodeo when he landed a 22" Northern Pike. George Krappman was named the Farms champion with his 18 1/4" (cat) catch.

Although the Farms lost the annual battle, they did have the distinction of being represented by the two youngest fishing persons — Lenze Mier, 2, and Adam Gnepper, 2; Richard Pike, who caught the most fish and two female guests who traveled all the way from West Germany to participate: C. Gehl and U. Utesits.

In addition to moisture the Rodeo was also cloaked with mystery. The first and third place winners in the First Annual Fishing Rodeo Poster Contest are unknown — they failed to put their phone number in the upper right-hand corner of their posters.

In an effort to find the unknown winners, any boy or girl who entered the contest and thinks he/she forgot to put a phone number on their poster — should check in at Fishing Rodeo Headquarters at the Farms Pier Park and give the location and a brief description of their poster. Plaque, certificate and prizes are waiting for you.

Second Place in the Poster Contest was awarded to 12-year-old Cliff Grabowski, of the Farms.

Members of the Fishing Rodeo Committee who contributed time, and companies which donated items include:

Monsignor Francis Canfield, fishing rodeo chaplain; Joe Belanger, Pat Belanger, Dick Clarke, Frank Dansbury, Harry Echlin, Robert Ferber, Cliff Grabowski, Tom Graves, Fay Graves, Peter Jamerino, Cecil Kalkoff, Ann Kalkhoff, Ed Lauer, Bud McLeod, Dick Ryszewski, Thomas Trombly, George Van Tiem, Fred Wolski, fishing rodeo committee.

Contributing companies include Cadillac Coffee Co., City of Grosse Pointe Farms, Dino's Pizza, Paul Dondero—Commodore, Polish Yacht Club, Grosse Pointe City, Grosse Pointe City Police and Fire Dept., Farms Boat Club, Grosse Pointe News, Harper Sports Shop, Jerry Schoenith Enterprises, Kent Drug, Kowalski Sausage Co., Ludington News Co., Meldrum Trucking, Metropolitan Club of Grosse Pointe, McLeod Advertising Co., National Coney Island, Optimist Club of Grosse Pointe, Pepsi Cola Bottling Company, Sadel Square Foods, Inc., Sendebach, Inc., Standard on the Hill, Stroh's, Yea Old Farms Pier Grill.

Schools offer fall sports

The Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System is offering a variety of sports programs this fall.

A track program will be conducted by Steve Zaranek at North High School. Participants will receive instruction and supervised practices in sprints, hurdles, shot put, discus, pole vault, high jump and long jump.

A wrestling program for students of all abilities will also be offered at North High School. Wayne Gentry will instruct wrestling fundamentals and supervise practice sessions.

Gentry will also conduct an individualized weight training and conditioning program at South High School. Lifting and training for strength and all sports conditioning will be emphasized.

Additional information and registration procedures on all of the programs can be obtained by calling the Department of Community Services at 343-2160.

Krickstein plays tennis down under

Aaron Krickstein of the Woods, is in Australia this week, one of a select group of 12 U.S. junior tennis champions competing in McDonald's International Junior Tennis Challenge.

Aaron and his U.S. teammates — nationally ranked boys and girls aged 12-15 — will meet a team of Australia's junior champions in this first U.S./Australia junior meet. Coaching the U.S. team is former Trinity (Texas) College coach Clarence Mabry, who has coached six Wimbledon and 10 U.S. champions, including Australia's own John Newcombe.

"Veteran tennis players realize the importance of tournament matchplay in building skills and confidence," states John Newcombe, who with Tony Roche helped organize the McDonald's Junior Challenge. "With the cooperation of McDonald's in the U.S. and Australia, we're able to give our junior tennis stars this vital experience. And, with the quality field competing in the tournament, we anticipate seeing some very exciting young players." Newcombe adds.

Beginning Aug. 21, the two teams started a seven-city tour, including Brisbane, Newcastle, Wollongong, Sydney, Adelaide, Melbourne and Canberra.

The series will be played on a point score basis leading up to the Grand Final on Sept. 12 and 13 at the National Indoor Sports Centre in Canberra, Australia's Prime Minister Fraser will host the final event. Competitors will each play one-set matches in singles and doubles, and the winner will be determined by accumulated games credited to each nation.

Aaron, 13, has won seven U.S. national championships in singles and doubles. This year he took first place in the Eastern Bowl in boys' 14 and under, and was runner-up in the U.S. Clay Court Championships.

Express vs. 'best' at ULS

On the one side we have the pros—the "greatest." On the other side we have the students and coaches—the guys that start you out, give their time, teach the basics—the greats!

In this case the greats are some of Grosse Pointe's finest soccer players; the Greats, The Detroit Express Soccer Club.

The teams will meet on Wednesday, Sept. 2, at 6 p.m. at the University Liggett field on Cook Road in a benefit soccer game for Friends of F.L.E.C.

Serious-minded are these brave Grosse Pointe souls, holding staggering practices. They must uphold their honor with a win, knowing friends and neighbors will be there to watch.

For this first soccer benefit, University Liggett School has allowed the use of its field on Cook Road and pregame sales indicate huge success for Friends of F.L.E.C.

A raffle will be held to give away signed soccer balls, and give fans a chance at those most sought after Express autographs.

As if that's not enough, pregame clinics by Express players offering technique and drills will also be available.

Some of Grosse Pointe's finest shaping up for the Big game include Ray Tirikian, John Braithwaite, Guido Regalbrugge, Tom Smith, Augie Hardin, John Case, Al Bruce, Jean-Claude Elie, Luis Gomez, Howard Parmentier, Paul Papalexio, Eudoro Coello, Michael Fozo, Abe Van der Wygaard, Andy Stoddart, Michael Reece, Dave Backhurst and top high school players.

And Detroit Express Players include Mike Powers, Frank Fuchs, Paul Turin, Walter Schlotthauer, Ray Schmittgepcke, Rob Collins, Alex Drebbaj, Steve Westbrook, Eddie Dietz, Larry O'Connor.

The date is Wednesday, Sept. 2, at 6 p.m., at the ULS field on Cook Road. Cost is $3 adults and $2 children under 12 years. Clinic price is $10 for one hour.

Advance tickets may be purchased and clinic information may be obtained by calling 835-3510. Clinic reservations must be made in advance.

Each of the races featured very close finishes. Race chairman, Past Commodore Herbert J. Mainwaring, was assisted by Marie Mainwaring, Edwin Boothroyd, John C. Groschner, Jo Dan Hartingh and William Sadler.

The perpetual trophy is a memorial for the late Mr. Scherer, of the Park. It is in recognition of his achievements in developing the junior sailing program in the area.

Trophies were presented by Mrs. J. Otto Scherer.

Shores crowned its doubles champions recently in the Shores Doubles Tournament held at the George C. Ivis Tennis Courts.

Andy and Delores Bonior defeated Gregg and Judy Catalano, 6-9, 7-6, to capture the adult mixed doubles championship.

In women's doubles action, Cheryl and Mary Ellen Boyle defeated Terry Deterich and Delores Bonior, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Don Nichol and John Secco claimed the boys' doubles title by beating Dennis and James Kim, 4-6, 7-6, 6-4.

The girls' doubles championship went to Shirin Armani and Buz Renick, as they defeated Sue Rinke and Sue Francis.

Mike Powers, (above, left) and the rest of the Detroit Express will be at ULS next Wednesday, Sept. 2, for a F.L.E.C. benefit soccer game.

Scherer win goes to BYC

Skipper Stephan Cost and his crew Dan Grow, of the Bayview Yacht Club, took two firsts and a sixth for a total of 7 1/2 points to win the 18th Annual J. Otto Scherer Memorial Junior Sailing Championship on Aug. 23 at the Crescent Sail Yacht Club.

A 15 to 18 knot southwest wind provided the competitors with ideal weather conditions. The three races were sailed in 15-foot Flying Junior sloops.

Skipper Dave Lyons and crew Robert Scoville, of the Edison Boat Club finished second with nine points. They took two seconds and a fifth. Third place was won by skipper Scott Nagro and crew Greg Gerhardtstein of Crescent, with a first, a third and an eighth for a total of 11 and 3/4 points.

Skipper Timothy Askew and crew Brad Valka in Edison Boat Club's boat No. 2, finished fourth with 12 points.

Each of the races featured very close finishes. Race chairman, Past Commodore Herbert J. Mainwaring, was assisted by Marie Mainwaring, Edwin Boothroyd, John C. Groschner, Jo Dan Hartingh and William Sadler.

The perpetual trophy is a memorial for the late Mr. Scherer, of the Park. It is in recognition of his achievements in developing the junior sailing program in the area.

Trophies were presented by Mrs. J. Otto Scherer.

GPHA hockey: it's for everyone

"Nearly 400 children played hockey in the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association last year and we're expecting even greater participation this year," says Brad Tisdale, GPHA publicity director.

"The program is just plain fun, with the emphasis on teaching skating," he added. Hockey provides an opportunity for children aged 5 to 20 to meet new kids, learn team play and increase individual skills through motor control development.

Tisdale was asked to discuss some of the most frequently asked questions about the Grosse Pointe Hockey program. His discussions will be featured over the next few weeks in advance of the upcoming fall registration.

Q: You mentioned that hockey is fun for everyone... just who can play? Tisdale: Any boy or girl 5 or older. Teams will be available to children in several age brackets, including: Mite—5 to 8; Squirt—9 to 10; Pee Wee—11 to 12; Bantam—13 to 14; Midget—15 to 18, and Junior—17 to 20.

Q: What if a child has never skated before—how can he expect to be able to play on a hockey team? Tisdale: "The vast majority of our new registrants every year have never skated before. Previous skating experience is not necessary and is not a prerequisite. The emphasis of the program is the teaching of skating. The gradual and subtle introduction of the game (hockey) develops a hand-eye-foot coordination through the use of the stick and puck. At first, all children realize that nobody can stand up for long, let alone skate. However, the improvement is very fast and by season's end parents will marvel at the improvement in their youngsters' skating skills."

Q: How long is the hockey season and how often do children skate each week? Tisdale: "After the September registration, the children are divided into teams by age brackets. They use the next 30 days to get acquainted with those awkward things on their feet—skates. Team play, in the form of games, usually begins in October and runs through the end of February."

"District and State championships are conducted in March, as are league playoffs. The actual season is six months, although parents and kids sometimes feel it goes by much quicker. The children skate three to four hours each week, including practice games. Younger children skate right after school; older children in early evening."

"Practices and games are held at either the Grosse Pointe Community Rink on Canyon between Warren and Mack, or at the McCann Rink, on Cook Road."

Q: Where and when do kids sign up for September registration? Tisdale: "Former players in the GPHA will be contacted this week by mail and can register by return mail. All newcomers should come to the community rink on Saturdays, Sept. 12 and 19, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m."

"To register, parents will be asked to fill out a registration form. Those registering for the first time will be asked to bring a copy of their child's birth certificate for confirmation of birth date. Anyone needing additional information or having further questions should contact the registrar, Bill Alcott, at 779-7676."

Next week, Tisdale will discuss the costs of the hockey program and describe the equipment children need and the protection it should give them.

Nite Moves, coached by John Feola and Eric Smedes, led their team to an 8-7 victory over Thomas Rug Carpet Installation in the final game of the Yellow Division championship of the Neighborhood Club Women's Softball League.

Earlier in the playoffs, Nite Moves had defeated Thomas Rug, 14-11, which dropped Thomas Rug down to the losers' bracket. Through team work and determination, they won the remaining games of that bracket and earned the playoff spot against Nite Moves.

The game was very close with Nite Moves scoring four of its eight runs in the first inning, including a triple by Helen Conlan. Thomas Rug then scored one run in the second and four in the top of the fifth to make the score 5-4.

Nite Moves countered with two more runs in the bottom of the fifth to make the score 6-5. The pressure was on in the top of the seventh
