Care for lungs is important

"It's never too early to learn about the human lungs," says Dr. Hugh E. Evans, an expert and author in Brooklyn, N.Y. With millions of American youngsters getting ready to return to school, Dr. Evans made several points to the American Lung Association.

The lung is the organ most often subject to trouble in infants and children. Episodes of pulmonary disease account for more hospitalizations, more time lost from school or play, and more disruptions of family activity than illness involving any other organ.

In short, Dr. Evans, author of "Lung Disease of Children," is advising parents and youngsters to learn how to keep their lungs in good shape.

The specialist, director of the department of pediatrics at the Jewish Hospital and Medical Center, explained that "lungs are not protected from the outside environment—they are in direct contact, and susceptible, to toxins and pollutants in the air. Such hazards can be germs, dirt, and dust, specks of soot and other noxious substances."

"How then do the lungs protect themselves? By a superlative defense mechanism that guards sensitive membranes against foreign particles."

Lungs are marvelously intricate organs. Healthy lungs are a birthright of children and should be protected—against such enemies as cigarette smoking—all through life, says the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan (ALASEM).

The Lung Association will be conducting anti-smoking programs in area schools this fall. For information on arranging a free anti-smoking presentation at your school, call the Lung Association's Smoking Phone at 963-3029.

Department of Continuing Education of the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Included in the line-up are two new classes, Advanced French and Italian—Phase IV.

Advanced French is designed for those who have had a year of college French or two years of high school French or who have completed

Phases I through VI of the current Continuing Education program.

Italian—Phase IV is a continuation of the program begun last September and is also open to those with some background in Italian.

Slated to begin on Monday, Sept. 21 are French—Phase IV and Italian—Phase IV. Both are continuations of classes begun last fall. Also scheduled to start is Spanish—Phase I, a class for beginners. All three classes will be taught at South High School, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Four foreign language classes will start at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday evening, Sept. 22. They are French—Phase I at Brownell Middle School, Advanced French and Spanish Conversation II at South High School, and German—Phase I at North High School.

Two classes which will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 23 are Advanced German at North High School and Spanish—Phase IV at South High.

Two foreign language classes begin on Saturday, Sept. 26. They are Italian—Phase I which is scheduled at 10 a.m. for Brownell Middle School and German—Phase IV slated for North High School at 9:30 a.m.

French classes are scheduled to be taught by Nancy Plech and Aphrodite Roumell, German by Irene Roland, Italian by Teresa Galise, and Spanish by Jorge Carrera.

Several years ago the basic foreign language program was divided into a series of "phases" covering a two-year period and based on a standard textbook. During the first year the sequence of classes is Phase I, Phase II, and Phase III to correspond to the three terms of the Continuing Education year.

If enrollment permits, the second half of the course (consisting of Phases IV, V, and VI) will be offered during the second year. Students who have had foreign language experience may enroll at any point in the phase program without having had the classes preceding it.

The fee for each 10-week class is $30. Checks are made payable to Continuing Education and should be mailed to 260 Chalfonte Avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich. 48236.

For additional information call 343-2178.

Cameroon singers appear in Detroit

The Cameroon Choristers, a choral group from Cameroon, West Africa, touring the United States and Canada, will appear at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, 21001 Moross Road, Detroit on Friday, Sept. 11 at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Attired in national dress, this group of 19 young people (9 men and 10 women) will present a program of Cameroonian music complete with African instrumentation which will enable the listener to participate in an authentic part of Cameroonian and personal Christian experience in their presentation.

The Choristers come from different backgrounds and geographical areas and represent a variety of vocations including teaching, nursing, carpentry, the pastorate, and clerical work. A number of them are students.

Fifty-nine concerts have been scheduled across the United States and Canada from September through November. The concert at Ebenezer is the only Detroit-area concert.

The Cameroon Choristers are the second Cameroonian choral group sponsored by the North American Baptist Conference, a denomination of over 56,000 members with international offices in Oakbrook Terrace, Ill. The first group, The College Singers from Cameroon, toured in 1969.

Traveling with the group is the Reverend Stephen Ntief, pastor and former executive secretary of the Cameroon Baptist Convention. The group's director is Miss Cleo Enochson.

For further information, contact the Ebenezer Baptist Church at 882-2728.

Hams meet

all bad, despite some warnings to that effect from a few of Aki's other radio pals. "Many American ham radio operators advised me to avoid certain places, but I have had no trouble," Aki says.

"The United States is very big and beautiful—every place has something new to offer. And the people here are very friendly, kind and beautiful."

Aki camped in state and national parks, commercial camps or stayed in hotels or motels along the way and says he'll take home the addresses of many people he met there—the cyclists, backpackers and students.

After a short stay in the Pointe during the last week in August, Aki headed northeast to Toronto and New York. He'll then bike to Washington, D.C., to spend a few days touring the Smithsonian.

THEN HE'LL fly back to San Francisco to spend a few days there, before returning to Tokyo—taking with him some breathtaking memories.

Aki says his favorite place to visit was the Redwood National Park in California. His favorite memory must have been when he took the United States' general class radio license test and passed it just a few days after his arrival in the country.

"I have a friend who took it five times before passing it," Ellis Merry says.

But then after his island experience who could question Aki's prowess with the radio? He made 1,000 United States and Canadian contacts while on the island; he also is fifth among 200,000 Japanese radio operators in contacts. And since Aki has contacted all 50 American states, he has been honored with the WAS award (Worked All States).

When the trip ends Aki will go back to Japan to face a number of options. "Maybe I'll find a job after this trip," he says, "there are many college seniors in Japan looking for jobs . . . I'm here pedalling around."

Whatever Aki decides to do, he'll most likely spend a great deal of time at the radio contacting friends, old and new. And perhaps he'll do a little remembering about the great American adventure he made, because he thought it "would do well for my character."

Kiwanis holds Kid's Day sale

A community-wide Kid's Day peanut sale to raise funds for activities in our community will be held on Friday, Sept. 18 and Saturday, Sept. 19, by the Kiwanis of Grosse Pointe, it was announced recently by the Club President, Roger Scott of Moran Road.

Activities supported by the sale are scholarship aid to local children, aid to the handicapped and assistance to needy families, to name only a few. Kiwanis buses provide transportation for youth and senior citizens to the Woods parks.

Club members conduct sales on street corners for the two days in an attempt to raise at least $4,500. Peanuts will be given to each person making a donation to support the projects.

September 17 is the date that a SEMTA mini-bus like the one pictured above will begin a loop-route on Mack Avenue between Brys Drive and Moross in Grosse Pointe Woods. The mini-bus idea was suggested by a blight prevention study done last year as a way to relieve parking problems and keep the area commercially viable. The service will run on Saturdays only and shoppers can ride for free with tickets provided by merchants belonging to the Grosse Pointe Business and Professional Association. Otherwise, bus fare is 10 cents.

Friday service will be added during the Christmas season, Association president Al Adams said he hopes the mini-bus will encourage area residents to discover the hundreds of shops and services available in their own backyard. The Association also has entry blanks for the "name the mini-bus" contest. The winner will be selected on Sept. 12 to receive a $25 prize. The Woods is providing $10,908 from state transportation tax credit funds to cover the cost of the mini-bus program until March, 1982. If the service is successful, it will be extended.

Woods resident receives award

The Stroh Brewery Company has named three employes winners of its first Community Service Awards, according to an announcement made by

Peter W. Stroh, president. First place and $500 cash prize was won by Dennis Scanland of Detroit and member of the Stroh Packaging

Production Control Department. Second place and $300 went to Mike DelValle of Grosse Pointe Woods and member of the Stroh Ice Cream Division; and third place, $200, went to Terry Hoffman of Inkster and member of the Packaging Department.

The winners were selected by a panel of judges that included Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Myron Wahls; New Detroit President Walter Douglas; Renaissance Center Foundation Special Events Coordinator Dawn Lynch; Detroit Councilman Jack Kelley; and Blue Cross & Blue Shield Community Relations Director Joseph Lugherno.

Polka at 7 p.m. and It Takes Two to Tango at 8:30 p.m. Fee is $6 per couple.

The Derenoskys will teach two three-week sessions beginning on Thursday, Oct. 15. Foxtrot Fever will start at 7 p.m. and Jitterbug Jamboree will begin at 8:30 p.m. at Barnes School. Fee for each session will be $18 per couple.

Two two-week classes beginning on Thursday, Nov. 5 are Latin American Dancing and Holiday Dance Brush-Up. Fee for each two-week class is $12 per couple.

In addition to the classes listed above, the Department of Continuing Education also co-sponsors beginning, intermediate, and advanced square and round dancing classes with the Grosse Pointe Council of Square Dances. For further information call 884-0039 or 778-5887.

To enroll in dance classes scheduled by the Department of Continuing Education mail a check to the office at 260 Chalfonte, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Call 343-2178 for additional information.

Scanland joined Stroh in 1977. He was cited for extensive religious ministry in helping families in times of sorrow and grief. Since joining Stroh, he has been instrumental in a program at the brewery called "Self-Help," which makes Scanland available for counseling and assistance to employees who have suffered the death of a loved one.

DelValle, a 28-year veteran at the brewery, was recognized for his contributions and activities with the Moslem Temple Shrine and the group's annual circus which raises funds for crippled children.

Hoffman, a member of the Brewery's Packaging Department, has been honored for his work with the Inkster chapter of the Jaycees where he has served in a variety of offices.

Cottage Hospital seeks volunteers

The Volunteer Services department at Cottage Hospital is seeking men and women, 18 years and older, to work with the families of terminal and cancer patients.

Interested persons should attend free four sessions of the Caring for Cancer Patients workshops scheduled Monday evenings at 6:30 p.m., Sept. 14 through Oct. 5, in Boardroom B. The series is conducted by members of the nursing staff and other health care professionals. Afterward, volunteers will receive two additional training sessions to prepare themselves for work with individual families.

"Caring Person" volunteers will act as support persons, telephoning or making personal visits to the home. They will help family members make adjustments to the care needs of the cancer patient and reinforce the instruction received in the Caring for Cancer Patients workshops.

Prospective applicants need not have previous medical training, but should have a caring attitude and a willingness to act as a friend to the family.

"The 'Caring Person' volunteer position is a challenging one which is suited to a mature person who is able to give of themselves at a time of crisis in another family's life. While it makes special demands on a person's time and effort, it also promises great rewards in the satisfaction that you have been of great help," says Margaret Hutchings, director of volunteer services.

For more information about the program, interested persons should contact Mrs. Hutchings at 884-8600, ext. 2455.

Spend afternoon water coloring

One day Water Color Workshops on location under the direction of Carol Lachuisa are being scheduled by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Thursdays.

The first class is Sept. 17 at Romeo. Painters leave the Center, 32 Lakeshore at 9:15. They should bring a sack lunch. The morning is spent watching a water color demonstration by Mrs. Lachuisa. In the afternoon students are coached individually to develop their own style and potential.

On Thursday, Oct. 1, a life class in Studio One at the War Memorial is scheduled. On Thursday, Oct. 8, the workshop is located on the Clinton River to take in the fall colors.

All workshops are $15 each for the day with advance registration necessary in order to get art supplies. The outdoor workshops have rain dates one week later.

Do your personal finances add up?

Two popular courses are offered this fall by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center along with the Financial Institute of America.
 The first is on Personal Financial Planning, Mondays Sept. 14 to Nov. 26 from 8 to 10 p.m. The course is aimed to help identify personal goals and financial priorities, keep a balance sheet and statement of net worth. Also covered will be financial strategies regarding real estate, insurance, investments, fringe benefits, taxation and estate planning.
 The fee is $50 for a five week term. The second course, Tax Shelters and Investment Strategy, is offered on Thursdays starting Sept. 17 to Oct. 22 from 8 to 10 p.m. This course will cover strategies on maximizing return on investments and also minimizing income tax liability. The cost will be $50 for a five week term.
 Both courses will be taught by William C. Halbert. For more information call the War Memorial at 881-7511.

Children's Theatre auditions Sept. 19

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Children's Theatre in its 28th year, under the direction of Sally Reynolds, will open registration at which Mrs. Reynolds will interview prospective members Saturday, Sept. 19.
 Enrollment for new students ages 7 to 11 will be from 10 to 11:30 a.m. New middle school and high school thespians will be interviewed and registered from 11:30 to 1 p.m. Re-enrollment for former members will be 1:30 to 3 p.m.
 Students will be notified following interviews of their acceptance and play assignments. Classes and part reading followed by rehearsals will begin Friday, Sept. 25, 4 to 6 p.m. for apprentices and Saturday 10 to 5 for former and advanced members.
 All Children's Theatre members will learn voice production, acting, will have some choreography and vocal music coaching, and learn make up, something about lighting and sets and stage management.

Evening to benefit Inter-Faith Center

Fr. Tom Krell, formerly co-pastor of St. Ambrose Parish, will lend his theatrical abilities to The Music Connection, a benefit for the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice, on Sunday, Sept. 27.

Fr. Krell, as Master of Ceremonies, will introduce the sparkling lineup of Music Connection talent with his inimitable warmth and wit.

"The Music Connection is sure to be a super evening," said Mary Busse, chair of the event. "We've combined favorites like Maureen and Rich Del Grosso, David Reske, and Gandolf's Paw with fantastic talents, who may be new to our audience. The event will truly be a musical connection."

Rich and Maureen Del Grosso have charmed audiences all over Michigan with their infectious good-time music. Rich, a science teacher at University Liggett, and Maureen have recently produced their first record album called "The Good Times," which is locally available.

Pointer David Reske, a singer-guitarist, is also an accomplished songwriter whose songs are performed by many folk musicians in our area.

Gandolf's Paw is a musical group which has quickly gained an enthusiastic following for its upbeat style.

"The Music Connection will also feature Stanley Johnson, a pianist well-known in jazz circles, as well as Juanita McCray, a talented jazz vocalist. And there will be exciting musical surprises, too," Busse said.

The Music Connection will take place at historic St. Andrew's Hall, located at 431 East Congress, just two blocks off Jefferson in the newly named Bricktown area of Detroit between the Renaissance Center and Greektown.

St. Andrew's Hall is itself an attraction many will want to see. Just 20 minutes away, it has been coined "Detroit's newest old building." Recently refurbished to its original 1907 architectural detailing, visitors can once again enjoy its beautiful bent oak window frames and the machine carved stone above the front door; the first of its kind in Detroit.

The hall has been home for the St. Andrew's Society, a Scottish benevolent society that was organized in 1849 to assist Scots coming into the country and to provide a vehicle for members who wanted to maintain their Scot traditions. Even today the Society offers bagpipe lessons open to all each Saturday.

Presently the hall continues to house the St. Andrew's Society in addition to opening its doors for others to come and enjoy.

Plenty of lighted parking will be available just a few short steps from the front door. Tickets for the Music Connection are $7.50 per person. The price includes a cheese and fresh fruit buffet. A cash bar will also be available. Cabaret style seating will allow guests to relax and enjoy the good food and music.

Tickets may be obtained by writing or stopping at the InterFaith Center's office located behind Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church (17150 Maumee, Grosse Pointe, Michigan 48230). It is suggested that tickets be purchased in advance. For more information call 882-6464.

Musicians Rich and Maureen Del Grosso will perform at the Inter-Faith Center benefit Sept. 27.

Queen of Peace elects new council

The members of Our Lady Queen of Peace Parish have conducted their annual summer election to select a Parish Council for the upcoming 1981-82 year. The Parish Council, which is involved basically in setting the policies, objectives and vision of the parish, represents all elements of the parish community in the decision making process.

Those elected to one year terms include the following: Earl Duigan, president; Virginia Fricke, vice-president; Frank Saad, administrative services chairman; Margaret Ambrozio and Peter McClorey, representatives at large; Rose Evanski, education and commission chairman.

Others are Elaine Bellack, recording secretary; Phyllis Almer, corresponding secretary; David and Marcia Egert, Christian services co-chairmen; Irene Laethem, Christian worship chairman; and Dorothy Koski, senior citizen representative.

Installation of the new council will take place at the 10 a.m. Mass on Sunday, Sept. 13.

Stouffer's launches its season with 'Owl and the Pussycat'

Stouffer's Eastland Dinner Theatre opens its second season of entertainment on Saturday evening, Sept. 12 with the Bill Manhoff comedy, The Owl and the Pussycat. The production will run Friday and Saturday evenings through Saturday, Oct. 31.

The play tells the story of an "owl-ish" writer who is accosted in the middle of the night by a woman of questionable morals in his own apartment. The relationship that follows is the basis for three acts of solid comedy.

Portraying Doris, the "pussycat," is Carol Purdon of Village Lane in Grosse Pointe. The "owl" is portrayed by William Clyne. Clyne and Purdon were seen last season at Stouffer's Eastland in Same Time, Next Year, and recently performed the two-person show, Dear Liar, as a benefit for the Hospice Association of Southeastern Michigan. Clyne and Purdon have also performed Dear Liar at the Attic Theatre's Summer Theatre Festival.

Purdon is active with Grosse Pointe Theatre and East Detroit Civic Theatre. Clyne has appeared at the Attic Theatre in several productions and handled the difficult responsibility of sound in the Attic Theatre/Music Hall joint production of Wings this past spring. Clyne can also be seen in several current television commercials.

The production of Owl and the Pussycat at Stouffer's Eastland is under the direction of Michele Karl. Karl has directed for Grosse Pointe Theatre (Hello Dolly! and Ready When You Are C.B.) and recently received their Clarence Award for their featured role as the Mute in The Fantasticks. Stage Manager for the production is John Guadagnoli.

Price for the evening is $17.50 including dinner, show, tax, and gratuity. Group rates are available. Special performances for groups over 50 can also be arranged during the week, on Saturday afternoon or Sunday evening. Call 371-8410 for reservations and information. Gift tickets are also available.

Stouffer's Eastland Restaurant is located at 18000 Vernier Highway between Kelly and Beaconsfield Roads.

SEMTA slates public hearing on proposed bus fare hike

A Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) public hearing will be held in Wayne County on a proposal to charge full fare on small bus county-wide service during peak hours (weekdays between 6 a.m. and 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. and 6 p.m.).

The public hearing will be held Friday, Sept. 18, at 1 p.m. in the SEMTA Board Room, 13th Floor, First National Building, 860 Woodward, Detroit. Three public hearings will be held in the region to present and hear comments on the proposed change.

The SEMTA Board of Directors will meet in October to take final action on the proposed change in small bus fare policy following the review of public testimony received at the public hearings. The proposed fare policy change would go into effect Nov. 2, 1981.

The fare policy change was initially proposed to go into effect July 1, 1981. The SEMTA Board delayed action for 60 days in June on the proposed change to allow continued discussion of alternatives with elderly and handicapped customers and social service agencies.

"Charging the full fare during peak hours on small bus county-wide services would increase revenues approximately $184,000 annually," said SEMTA General Manager Larry E. Salsci. "If small bus revenues cannot be raised by this amount, fares would have to be raised significantly beyond the increase which went into effect July 1, 1981 and/or major service reductions would have to be initiated," he pointed out.

"SEMTA is currently faced with rapidly increasing labor and fuel costs which are above the current high rate of inflation. And, our revenues are being squeezed because state funding is not keeping pace with inflation and financial aid from Washington is starting to dry up," Salsci explained.

The Friends Film Forum at the Grosse Pointe Central Library will offer an International Film Festival for the 1981-82 series. Countries represented are Czechoslovakia, Canada, France, Hungary, Italy, Poland and the United States.

In the Exhibition Room of the Central Library, 10 Kercheval at Fisher Road, on Thursday, Sept. 10, at 7:30 p.m., the library will present Roman Polanski's first feature film, "Knife in the Water." It tells a moral tale of a sportswriter and his young wife enroute to spend the night on their sailboat. While driving, they pick up a hitchhiker, and the viewer witnesses tensions and counter-tensions rooted in these three characters. All adult residents are welcome; there is no admission charge.

Series catalogs are available at all three libraries.

Carol Purdon of Village Lane in Grosse Pointe and William Clyne star in The Owl and the Pussycat which opens Stouffer's Dinner Theater second season on Saturday, Sept. 12 to run Fridays and Saturdays through Oct. 31.

Learn ins and outs of real estate

An introductory course in real estate business will be offered in Grosse Pointe Farms this fall by the statewide Real Estate Program by The University of Michigan.

The course begins Sept. 18 and runs each Monday and Friday for all sessions from 8:30 a.m. to noon. It will be held at Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road.

Real Estate Business I is a residential sales course, designed as a practical introduction to problems arising in day-to-day real estate transactions, and to introduce students to subject matter included on the Salespersons Licensing examination.

Although advance registration for the course is advised, students may also register at the class site prior to the opening session.

The University of Michigan Real Estate Program, now in its 35th year, offers courses for the professional benefit of both experienced persons and those new to or interested in the real estate field. The U-M Extension Service, the Graduate School of Business Administration and the Michigan Association of Realtors cooperate in offering the state-certified courses, which have been approved for the granting of Continuing Education Units (CEUs) and can lead to the respected U-M Certificate in Real Estate.

For further information on this course and others scheduled this fall at a variety of locations around the state, contact the Real Estate Program, U-M Extension Service, 412 Maynard, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48109; phone (313) 763-2170.

Senior seminar focus on energy

Staying warm in winter and cool in summer without destroying the family budget will be the theme of an upcoming symposium, "Save Energy-Save Money," on Saturday, Sept. 12, at Parcels School auditorium at Mack and Vernier.

Admission is free. The program will run from 9 to 12:30 a.m. Coffee will be served from 9 to 9:30 a.m.

Co-sponsored by SOC (Seniors Onward for Change), Department of Community Services and the League of Women Voters, the Program will feature experts in the field of energy conservation.

Among those speaking on ways to get more for less energy-wise will be representatives from Detroit Edison, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. and Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Bob Matthews (Community Development Director of Harper Woods) will talk on securing grants and low interest rates for residents of the Pointe and Harper Woods. In the field of housing rehabilitation, Darryl Jordan will discuss energy assistance for low and moderate income people.

After the talks, representatives from "Information and Referral" (SOC) will be available to help with various forms needed by senior citizens to secure discounts from the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., home heating rebates and the minor home repair program.

Other features will include tax credit information and guidelines for weatherization. Government pamphlets from Dennis Hertel's office will be available.

A question and answer period will follow the presentation. Although the presentations are geared to residents of Wayne County and in particular to older citizens, anyone interested is welcome and will benefit not only from the discussions but from the amount of information which will be available.

Needlework on display this month

The Grosse Pointe Central Library is featuring a display of needlework by the Metro Detroit Stitchery Guild, which began Sept. 8. The display will showcase the work of their members and the projects and topics to be presented at the monthly meetings during the 1981-82 program year.

The Guild which is affiliated with the Embroiderers Guild of America and the National Standards Council of American Embroiderers will begin its 10th year, Sept. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Pauls Lutheran Church on Chalfonte at Lothrop, Grosse Pointe Farms. Beginning her new term as President, Cathryn Koontz of Mt. Vernon, will be assisted by Kerry Edick of Brys Drive, Program Chairman; Helen Gregg of Barrington, Treasurer; Patti Merrick of Lincoln Rd., Recording Sect.; Susan Beaudry of Bishop, Corresponding Sect.; and Jan Dold of Chester Rd., Registrar. Anyone wishing to attend may call 343-9308 or 882-3548 for further information.

A wall hanging by Cathryn Koontz has been selected to go on exhibit in Duluth, Minn. at the National Convention of the N.S.C.A.E.

Another Guild member, Shay Pendray of Needle Arts, is chairman of the E.G.A. National Convention to be held at the Hyatt Regency, Dearborn in November 1981. This event will bring over 600 needleworkers together for various needle related events. The Art Institute of Detroit will host a dinner and special showing of textile exhibits during the week.

YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO LOSE YOUR MARRIAGE

Many people wait until a crisis occurs before they do anything to help their marriage. Others simply take their relationship for granted and let it slide along without doing much to strengthen it. COUPLE COMMUNICATION offers a program for building stronger relationships which can prevent crises from developing.

BUILD YOUR MARRIAGE

COUPLE COMMUNICATION can help you and your partner to:

- Discover how to talk about sensitive issues.
- Identify and reduce day-to-day tensions before they escalate into problems.
- Say what you think, feel, and want without blaming or attacking.
- Make more satisfying decisions together.
- Have more confidence that the two of you can live through life's crises.
- Share more of your life with each other.
- Learn new ways of expressing care and affection.
- Get beyond ordinary chit-chat and share the deeper meaning of life.
- Have more fun together.
- Gain new appreciation for your spouse and your relationship.

INVEST IN YOUR RELATIONSHIP

COUPLE COMMUNICATION is an educational program designed to teach you and your partner new ways of communicating. The program is not counseling with the aim of solving specific relationship problems. Rather, it focuses on teaching communication skills for dealing more effectively with day-to-day concerns as you and your partner build your relationship together.

Life saving training at Bon Secours

The Friends of Bon Secours Hospital will offer training in two life saving skills in the Bon Secours Hospital Science Hall, 488 Cadieux Road, on Sept. 14 at 7:15 p.m.

Instructors from Bon Secours Hospital will demonstrate cardiopulmonary resuscitation, an emergency treatment for victims of heart attack, shock, drowning or suffocation. Instructors will also demonstrate an emergency treatment for choking victims.

Admission is free, however, reservations are necessary and will be limited to 75 people. Phone 343-1520 for tickets or information.

Individuals already certified in CPR may be recertified on Sept. 14 at 7 p.m. Recertification takes approximately 15 minutes. No tickets or reservations are necessary for recertification.

The health education program is offered by The Friends of Bon Secours Hospital as part of the community health education series, "Town Hall for Health." The activity is presented under the chairmanship of Mrs. Kenneth Adler.

INTEREST ON CHECKING

Come to Standard Federal Savings for Interest on Checking, plus a FREE gift.

If you've put off opening a new interest-earning checking account, now's the time to open one. Because right now, when you open a new Standard Federal checking account with $500.00 or more, you'll get the double advantage of 5 1/4% interest, plus a free gift!

Standard Federal checking accounts earn the highest interest allowed by law.

These accounts earn 5 1/4% interest, continuously compounded, for an effective annual yield of 5.467%.

You may open an account in any amount. However, with a minimum balance of $500.00, OR an average daily balance of $1,000.00, you may write all the checks you wish, with no monthly service charge. (A $5.00 monthly fee is assessed if you go below the minimum or average requirements).

1. Each month you'll receive a detailed statement of your account which lists your checks in numerical order, your deposits, any service charges assessed and the interest earned during the statement period.

Personalized checks are printed free of charge if you choose not to have your checks returned with your monthly statement. There will be a charge for printing personalized checks if you wish to have your checks returned to you. With either option, you may select a style that provides a carbon copy of each check for your records.

3. A permanent record of each check will be kept by Standard Federal Savings. If you need a copy for any reason, microfilm copies of as many as 25 checks per year (or all checks relating to an IRS audit) will be provided at no charge.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS 62 YEARS OF AGE AND OLDER. Customers 62 years of age and older who have direct deposit of social security or other retirement checks into any Standard Federal Savings account will pay no monthly service charge on their checking accounts.

Choose a FREE gift when you open a new Standard Federal checking account with $500.00 or more. Take your choice of a handsome chrome pen and pencil set, beautifully packaged for gift giving; or a pocket-size calculator with handy carrying case.

Gifts are limited to new checking accounts opened with $500.00 or more. Regulations restrict the number of gifts to one per account and no individual may receive more than one gift. No gifts are allowed for funds transferred from one Standard Federal Savings account to another. Gifts cannot be mailed. This offer good for a limited time only.

By Marian Trainor

One of the best friends an older person whose lifestyle has been altered by aging, arthritis, illness or accident has is an occupational therapist (OT). An OT can help a person who has become disabled to return to their former way of life or to cope with the disability if complete cure is not possible.

Take arthritis for instance. With the help of the OT, people can learn to reduce stress in painful joints so that driving, housekeeping, gardening and such common tasks as getting washed and dressed can be accomplished with ease and less discomfort.

Such measures as supports or splints that reduce pain and stress in wrists or thumbs make it easier for patients to be more functional.

Patients with rheumatoid arthritis are taught that gripping things hard when their knuckles are swollen can encourage deformity. They learn to avoid a strong grip during periods of joint inflammation.

People with painful knees sometimes have difficulty getting into a bathtub or even standing in a shower. Placing a stool in the shower so that the person can sit is one method of solving the problem.

Severe hand arthritis can make it hard for patients to feed themselves. OTs have developed several specialized utensils, such as the spork which combines the bowl of a spoon with the prongs of a fork for easier self-feeding.

Jean Melvin, a former director of occupational therapy at Brigham and Woman's Hospital in Boston, Mass., has developed a number of ways to help people help themselves. She suggests that the cook arrange the kitchen to save energy. Store pots at waist level to avoid strenuous lifting. Keep ingredients within reach to save stretching. Wear an apron with big pockets so that one trip to the utensil drawer will be all that is needed. A wheeled cart is useful not only for carrying food to and from the refrigerator but also for putting laundry away.

STRENGTH CAN BE saved while cleaning by using your foot to pick up the vacuum cord or to close a bottom dresser drawer. It is a lot less taxing than bending down from the waist. Use a long-handled basin brush and sit down while cleaning the bathtub. The same goes for brooms, mops and dustpans. Choose wash buckets with wheels on it and a long handle. The important things is to use leg muscles to lift rather than back muscles. When carrying an object, hold it close to the body to avoid strain.

Older people with a heart condition or reduced strength because of illness have a particular need to avoid stress. Diana Baldwin, coordinator of occupational and recreational therapy at the Tri-County Mental Health Center in North Kansas, Mo., offers suggestions on avoiding stressful situations when possible, and coping with them when they must be confronted.

She believes that persons who know what causes them to feel stress is forewarned and can, if they plan ahead, avoid the situation. She says that assuming a relaxation response when you realize you are being affected by stress can alleviate it.

"Breathe in and out slowly, counting to four as you inhale and exhale," she advises. "The second time you breathe out, feel the tension melt, like warm wax from the top of your head and out of your body through your feet."

Another method of warding off stress is doing your most difficult job when your energy is highest. If you are a morning person get your work done early and you will enjoy a worry free day.

When you go shopping, plan ahead so that you don't get worn out just looking. It's easy to get distracted in stores and come home with things you never planned to buy and without the items you really needed.

Lists are not only important for shopping but for day-to-day activities. Make a list of what you must do and what you'd like to do. Do as many of the 'must' responsibilities as you can but leave time for those things you enjoy.

Delegate responsibilities. You don't have to do everything. Others can do them for you perhaps not just as well but the tasks will be done.

THINK ABOUT THINGS that bother you and try to do something about them. If it's waiting in line in a store, for instance, consciously work on reducing the stress that the situation causes you. Amuse yourself by studying the people around you. The supermarket is a great place for people watching. One lady passed the time by imagining what kind of dinners the person ahead served by watching her unload her shopping cart. Sometimes people waiting in line don't feel like being friendly but again sometimes an exchange of comments and pleasantries can brighten the day or at least make the time in line go faster.

At any rate it's better than fretting and once you've gotten through the ordeal without becoming uneasy, you can congratulate yourself on being a patient person and keeping control of those emotions which cause stress.

Actually learning to live with stress is learning to live a better, a more controlled and peaceful life. For those who for reasons of health must deal with the problem, it is necessary to adopt methods of avoiding stress. But these same methods could add immeasurably to making any person's life more enjoyable and rewarding.

Balancing time between work, responsibilities and recreation has long been a prescription for good mental health. Keeping a regular schedule of sleep according to one's need even at the busiest time is also important.

Being good to yourself by doing something you enjoy every day is vital but so also is taking time out to reach out to others. There is nothing better to increase your own self-confidence and energy than doing a favor or helping someone out with a big job.

Sensory experiences are also part of a good mental health program. Stop along the way to (Continued on Page 11A)

Being good to one's self-indulgence if you will—is a form of therapy. For some it is a necessity to ward off the effects stress could have on a body already weakened by arthritic disease, high-blood pressure or heart ailments. For others it is a measure well-taken to prevent problems that can come to those who forget how important it is to relieve life's responsibilities with the pleasures that the only life you will ever live can bring.

Detroit's riverfront Sept. 17 forum topic

"Creating Places for People: What is the Future of Detroit's Riverfront?" is the topic of a Sept. 17 Third Thursday Forum sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice.

Harriet Saperstein, principal planner, City of Detroit Recreation Department, will take viewers on a slide tour by bike, boat, plane and car to illustrate the problems and potential of Detroit's riverfront.

Ms. Saperstein's appearance will kick off the second year of the Inter-Faith Center's Third Thursday Forums. Beginning in August 1980 with a talk by Reese Cleghorn, former associate editor of The Detroit Free Press, the monthly forums have presented current social justice topics to a steadily growing audience in the community.

"How are our Schools Combating Racism?" "How Will You Vote on Nov. 4?" and "Why Are We On Diets While Others Go Hungry?" are just some of the questions raised at Third Thursday Forums.

"The purpose of the forums is to offer people a chance to explore current events and their relation to social justice issues," explains Katie Elsil, co-director of the Inter-Faith Center. "For example, two well-received forums were entitled, 'Urban Revitalization: At What Cost?' which looked at the New Center area near the Fisher Building to see how people were being affected by General Motors' renovation project, and 'Who Commits Crime in Your Neighborhood?' which confronted stereotypes about suburban crime when police chiefs from several communities shared their expertise."

A popular Third Thursday Forum included children when Linda Korver and Carole Suzanne Klein, from the Grosse Pointe School's Special Education department, presented a puppet show about handicaps called "Kids in the Neighborhood."

"Recollections of Martin Luther King, Jr." was another forum. Many people involved in bringing Dr. King to Grosse Pointe in 1968 responded to the Inter-Faith Center's invitation to attend the forum and share their experiences. The 60-minute tape of Dr. King's speech was played and was introduced by former Pointer Jude Huetteman, who commuted from Ann Arbor to introduce the tape and recall the event as seen through her eyes as program chairman for the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council in 1968.

A lively evening ensued when Howard Simons, executive director of the Michigan Civil Liberties Union, addressed the question, "Does the Evangelical Christian Movement Threaten Civil Liberties and Civil Rights?"

Hot air balloons at PWP meeting

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners will present at the general meeting of Friday, Sept. 11, Linden Harding of Highamerica Balloon Centers. His topic will be "Hot Air Balloons." Weather permitting, he will display a balloon on the lawn of the War Memorial and show slides.

The Grosse Pointe Chapter meets

The Third Thursday Forums have been held at Miller Hall, through the generosity of Christ Church in Grosse Pointe Farms. The comfortable living room setting contributes to free-and-easy exchanges between speakers and guests.

"Creating Riverfront Places for People," the Sept. 17th forum, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the hall, 61 Grosse Pointe Blvd. The forum is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

For more information, call the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice at 882-6464.

the second and fourth Fridays of each month at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore in Grosse Pointe Farms. The general meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. with a coffee hour, speaker at 8:30 p.m., with an afterglow following.

Call the Hot Line at 881-5892 for information concerning programs and membership.

Workshop on 'handicap' laws

Do you know what these words mean? Free appropriate education, least restrictive environment, referral, comprehensive evaluation, IEP, IEP, FERPA, PL 94-142, PA 1987? All of these terms and more play a vital part in the education of the handicapped child.

Public Act 199, Michigan Mandatory Special Education and PL 94-142, Education of all handicapped, requires all handicapped students to be identified and served regardless of the severity of the handicap. Specific learning disability often called the "hidden handicap" is included.

An understanding of these laws is essential as parents guide their handicapped children through the school years whether as a participant in an IEP, a conference with a teacher, and as a monitor in making certain the child is getting every service due him by law.

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of the Michigan Association for Children and Adults with Learning Disabilities, (MACLD) along with the Detroit Chapter is providing an opportunity to parents and interested persons to learn the handicapper laws. These workshops will be held at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, 10 Kercheval, for four consecutive weeks beginning Wednesday, Sept. 30 and continuing Thursday, Oct. 8, 15 and 22. No fee will be charged. The only requirement is that you be a paid member of MACLD. You may become a member for $15 at the first session.

To enroll call Sally Giacobbe at 896-8281. Regular chapter meetings will resume Tuesday, Oct. 20.

Framing classes begin at center

Marguerita Ibarluzea will teach picture framing at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial this fall. Classes will be held on Thursdays, starting Sept. 17 and ending Nov. 12. There will be two classes each day, a morning class from 9 a.m. to noon, and an evening class from 7 to 10 p.m.

Students will learn how to mat and frame their own pictures in a professional manner. The course will cost $39 for eight lessons. For more information please call the War Memorial at 881-7511.

Birds are gone, at last
 It took an arsenal of weird weapons to do it: propane cannons, shot guns loaded with delayed action fire crackers, tape recorded shrieks and high pressure fire hoses. But finally, the startling attack on Buckingham Road is over. For the moment, at least.
 The neighborhood has enjoyed a few quiet evenings. The sidewalks have been hosed down clean — a daily ritual on the 1000 block of Buckingham for the last three summers. But this time, they'll stay clean for a while.
 The birds were apparently attracted to that particular area because of the intermingled branches on top of the tall trees that line Buckingham. They came every evening at dusk in small groups. John P. Jagger, one of the afflicted neighbors, said at times there were a few thousand birds hovering over their homes.
 Their incessant noise and waste became a major problem to the neighbors. Residents began advising friends to bring old umbrellas when they came to visit.
 "There was a putrid smell that's so bad the kids can't even go outside," Jagger told the Park Council at a meeting last month.
 The reason for Jagger's appearance at the council meeting was to request special permission to shoot the birds with shotguns. Permission was granted, but wasn't needed.
 It was apparently the firecracker attack that did the job. The birds didn't respond much to blaring records of startling distress calls. "All we accomplished with that was to harass the neighbors," said Fire Chief Philip Costa, whose department was assigned to help the neighborhood with its problem.
 The birds ignored repeated spraying of their nests by the department's high pressure fire hoses as well, according to Costa. Councilwoman Ann MacDonald said the result of that effort was to move the birds over to her block on Devonshire. "It sounded like Hitchcock's film 'The Birds' on the nights they sprayed," she said.
 The propane cannon that made a loud "vroom" every 45 seconds was equally unsuccessful.
 It was a weapon called a cracker-shell that did the job. The shells, really delayed action firecrackers, are loaded in shotguns and aimed in the birds' direction as they come in at dusk to roost.
 No one's asking why, but for the time being the birds are gone.

 Deer Hunter" and "Apocalypse Now," Artist said. He added that the Punch schedule will be relatively conservative with 95 percent of the films rated PG and $2.50 admission.
 Artist admits he's competing with cable TV in the Pointes but is banking on the unique "shared experience" of film-going and a repertory program to "keep the place hopping" seven nights a week.
 If it doesn't work, there is talk of the curtain falling on the Punch forever and converting it to a warehouse, according to owner Edgar.
 But Artist does have the moral support and a financial commitment from the owners on a trial basis, Edgar said.
 "My vibes are good with them (CFT)," Edgar said. "I hope to hell they make it."

 units of government, responsible for 20 percent, according to Youngblood.
 The question of which local unit of government will have to pay that 20 percent share of the project is still at issue, according to some local officials. John Crawford, manager of Grosse Pointe Park, says his city has an agreement with the city of Detroit which makes any changes at the Fox Creek Detroit's responsibility. Crawford said that might be one reason the public hearing has been cancelled.
 The alternatives outlined in the Drain Commission's latest study include construction of an interceptor sewer in East Eight Mile Road between Marter and Hoover, retention basins in Detroit at Connor Creek, retention basins in three Grosse Pointe cities, or new separation sewers in the City of Grosse Pointe.

 who entered a legal battle with the city to stop the construction of a parking lot bordering their neighborhood on Mack Avenue. The group agreed to a compromise settlement but some members say they are still bitter.
 Mary Williams of the Hollywood group said she and others feel the mayor and council "shafted" them on the parking lot and only Councilman Robert Novitke consistently acts in the interest of all the people. Williams said the group will back Jean Rice for council.
 Councilman John Sabol said that he didn't think special interests will have an exceptional impact on the outcome of the election because they represent only a handful of people.
 He said the present administration has done a fabulous job of maintaining low taxes, keeping streets repaired and clean, and planning to beautify the city.
 "I don't see anything wrong with the city that should make people disappointed (with Freeman and the council)," Sabol said.
 Councilman Fahrner could not be reached for comment.

Center will offer fall ballet classes
 Grosse Pointe War Memorial's School of Ballet is beginning its fall term under the direction of Mary Ellen Cooper, president of the Board of Directors of Teachers of the Cecchetti Traditional Italian Method. Cooper has taught both the Center's young people's classes and the adult students for the past 28 years.
 Registration for new students from age 5 through the teens and also new adult students will take place at the War Memorial Center, Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 14 and 15, 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. by interview with Cooper. Students will be placed in small class groups according to ability. Adult classes and instruction begin Monday, Sept. 11 and continues for 11 weeks, Mondays through Thursdays 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for $34.50 covering 11 one hour lessons.
 Young people's classes for age 5 through high school begin Sept. 17. Students study for a 12 week term for $34.50. They are enrolled in small classes according to age and ability for hour long classes, Mondays through Thursdays 4 to 6 p.m. after regular school and all through the day on Saturdays.
 Cooper is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory in Toronto. She has taught throughout Michigan and on the West Coast.

Better debedding plan

From the viewpoint of many Grosse Pointers, the new draft plan to reduce excess hospital capacity in Southeastern Michigan is a great improvement over the 1979 proposal. Perhaps selfishly, many Pointers believe the new plan is an improvement because it will have less impact on hospitals in their own community, and thus they hope it will be approved by the board of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan and eventually by the Statewide Health Coordinating Council.

It is as easy to support the overall purpose of the regional council's plan. It is basically to reduce costs and increase efficiency of area hospitals by eliminating duplicating services and reducing beds that are no longer used or needed. But when it comes to applying the desires for cost cutting and increased efficiency to specific institutions, the decisions become more difficult.

The 1979 proposal, for example, brought a roar of protest over the recommendation to cut 62 beds from Cottage Hospital's 155. While Bon Secours would have been required to cut only 14 from its 320 total and St. John a negligible number from its 573 beds, these hospitals also objected to the original plan. With some reason, they felt the reductions would reduce their services to the community.

ALL THREE are now happier with the revisions. Cottage would be required to cut 19 beds, Bon Secours five and St. John four. But Cottage already has just about met its new target by eliminating its 18-bed obstetrical unit through a consolidation of such service with Bon Secours. So at the moment it appears Grosse Pointe hospitals are fairly well satisfied because they are not being required to make severe cuts.

Cottage Hospital administrators indicated that a greater emphasis on occupancy rate in evaluating hospitals in the second plan helped account for the revision in the recommendation with respect to their hospital. The closure and partial closure recommendations in the plan were based on the scores the hospitals achieved in a rating plan that covered a number of criteria including such specifics as cost of care, occupancy rate, average length of patient stay, financial viability and remaining useful life of the buildings involved.

Overall, however, the revised plan calls for elimination of 2,514 beds in hospitals in the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne, including the city of Detroit. Nine hospitals in the region would be closed which probably means further court challenge by one or more of those targeted for closure even if the plan wins approval at an Oct. 6 public hearing and from the regional and state councils without major revisions.

As in many other issues, competing interests are involved in a joint planning endeavor of this kind. With health care costs soaring, increased efficiency obviously is required. But steps in that direction must be balanced by consideration for the quality of services to the communities involved. So far, both the residents and the hospitals in the Pointes appear to have fared well on both grounds.

Views of the News A color-blind issue

Nobody ever thought the Wayne County charter would automatically be approved in the November election without opposition. But recent reports in the Detroit daily press which indicate opposition from Detroit's black community raise doubts about the extent of support within the city. Even worse, the reports hint that the proposal could become a racial issue. If that should occur, hopes for approval of the reform would be seriously damaged.

Good government certainly ought to be color-blind. And we think the proposed charter is color-blind. Unfortunately, some blacks see the proposed reduction in the membership of the county board and in the number of other elective officers as being designed to cut the proportion of such posts available to blacks. Others fear the proposed county executive officer could become a powerful political rival for the mayor of Detroit.

Yet if the one man, one vote principle is to have meaning, certainly the city of Detroit cannot hope to have as much representation on the county board on a proportionate basis in the future, as it did when the city accounted for a larger proportion of the county population. Furthermore, the majority of the charter commission did vote for the reduction in the number of county commissioners even though the Detroit delegation abstained on the vote. Finally, the reduction is being proposed in the interests of efficiency and improved organization because the county board under the charter would become exclusively a legislative body and would be relieved of its present administrative duties.

Improved government in Wayne County would benefit all residents, white and black. The charter proposal would provide a good foundation for improved and more efficient government, even though even its supporters concede it is not perfect. And either election or appointment of a county executive officer under a charter would mean that somebody could be held responsible for minding the county store at all times.

The charter issue ought to be decided on its merits and race ought to have nothing to do with the decision.

Know Your Schools

Join GP's new school supt. for breakfast

This is Dr. Kenneth Brummel's, new superintendent of schools, first column appearing in the News.

An authority on human behavior once observed that people will be happy in about the same degree that they are helpful. As I begin this school year as the new Superintendent of Schools for The Grosse Pointe Public School System, that thought is one which I want to emphasize.

All of us associated with the public schools want residents of the community to be happy with the educational services we provide, so I hope to give everyone living in our school district many opportunities to be helpful.

We all need to take some time to think about changes that will occur throughout this decade, how our lives and our community will be affected, and how the schools can best operate to prepare people for the changes that will occur. Everyone in the community can be helpful in this regard by communicating and working with us, thus helping us respond appropriately to changing educational needs.

In order to begin communicating about the future role of the schools in changing times, I have met individually with several community leaders since my arrival in town two months ago. The discussions with these community leaders have been most beneficial as we have thought about the future and how we can work together.

Now I want to expand upon those individual meetings and communicate will all segments of the community. Consequently, I have established a series of meetings with the following groups as a start to learning the thoughts of all residents about their schools and seeking their help for the future:

- Former Board of Education Trustees serving in the recent past and retired school administrators
- Members of the Hill and Grosse Pointe Village Associations
- Members of the Grosse Pointe Business and Professional Association
- Principals of private and parochial schools in the community
- Retired school system employees still living in the area
- Members of the Parent-Teacher Organizational Council
- Members of the Grosse Pointe Park Business and Professional Association

- Members of the Grosse Pointe Realtors Exchange
- Presidents of community organizations
- Presidents of senior citizen organizations in the community
- Municipal council members and officials

In addition, and so that everyone in the community has a chance to be helpful and communicate with me, I have scheduled a "Brunch With Brummel" from 10 to 11 a.m. on Sept. 24 and a "Breakfast With Brummel" from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. on Sept. 29. Both are open to the general public and will be held at the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo. (In order to know how much coffee and rolls will be needed, please make a reservation for either meeting by calling 343-2012 by Sept. 22.)

Let me emphasize that I am genuinely interested in talking with members of this community about their schools so I encourage anyone who can't be at one of these meetings to call me or come in to my office — my door is open at all times.

If we can get everyone helping, as noted at the beginning of this column, everyone can be happy and our schools can be most effective in contributing to the quality of this community.

Rehab Center to seek state OK

Hollywood Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Center, Grosse Pointe Woods, has asked the State for approval to establish a physical therapy and rehabilitation agency.

The agency would be located in a leased building after minor renovation is completed, and initially would offer physical therapy services. As the demand dictates, occupational and speech therapy along with medical social work counseling would be added.

The project would cost approximately $49,350, and would be completed in December.

In keeping with State and Federal regulations requiring State approval and action by the local health systems agency board prior to new service, Hollywood Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Center has applied for a certificate of need.

Buckling up benefits

Should the use of automobile seats belts be required in Michigan?

Since all passenger cars now come equipped with safety belts or some other kind of restraint system, it would appear to be sensible for all motorists to use them. But it is obvious to anyone who drives or rides in a car these days that a large percentage of people do not hook up their seat belts.

The mandatory seat belt is becoming an issue in Michigan, however, now that the Automobile Club of Michigan and Secretary of State Richard Austin are seeking legislation to require motorists to use their belts and be subject to prosecution if they don't.

Austin favors such legislation because voluntary efforts to persuade the public to use seat belts have not achieved a very high level of compliance. In the Canadian provinces which have such laws, however, Austin cites increased usage and a reduction in fatalities and serious injuries resulting from auto accidents.

CRITICS FEEL that requiring motorists to buckle up would be another incursion by the government into their private lives but there has been little complaint on that score in Ontario, one of the Canadian provinces having a mandatory seat belt law.

True, when the legislation first became effective in Ontario, a London police officer raised the hackles of some motorists by his rigorous enforcement, which meant that he reached into automobiles to check on whether the belts were fastened. After motorists complained, the officer backed off and there have been few complaints since.

Even a mandatory law does not bring about 100 percent usage, of course. In Ontario, estimates of usage run from 70 to 80 percent which is much higher than the proportion who buckle up in Michigan under the voluntary system. Canadians claim that the law has resulted in a decrease in the percentage of fatalities and serious injuries resulting from auto accidents.

The Auto Club claims that requiring the use of seat belts could cut traffic fatalities in half, substantially reduce injuries and save society and insured motorists hundreds of thousands of dollars in hospital and rehabilitation bills. And the cost of enforcing such a law would be negligible in proportion to the savings it would make possible.

A Windsor police officer says Canadians are slowly getting educated to the benefits of the mandatory law. He thinks a visual presentation of what actually happens inside an automobile when it is involved in an accident is one of the best ways to convince drivers to buckle up.

The mandatory seat belt law deserves a trial in Michigan.

Meathe chosen U of D trustee

The University of Detroit recently announced the appointment of Phillip J. Meathe, president and chief executive officer of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Associates, Inc., of Detroit as a member of the University's Board of Trustees.

Meathe, of Grosse Pointe Boulevard, in addition to heading one of the country's seven largest architectural, engineering and planning firms, is a fellow and former chancellor of the American Institute of Architects (AIA). A past chairman of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, the Detroit Urban League and the Private Industry Council Committee, he assumes his position with the University's governing body effective immediately.

After graduating from the University of Michigan's School of Architecture in 1948, Meathe worked his way up to Associate of Leinweber, Yamasaki & Hellmuth, then founded, and served as president and chief corporate officer of Meathe, Kessler & Associates, Inc., for 13 years. He joined Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates in 1969 as executive vice president and chief operations officer, assuming his present title in 1971.

Meathe, who is a registered architect in 35 states, has served his profession as a director of the AIA and the Michigan Society of Architects, and as president of the AIA's Detroit chapter. His contributions have been recognized with Gold Medal awards from the local and state architectural associations, and the AIA's national Edward C. Kemper Award for 1969. Meathe is also the recipient of the Robert F. Hastings Award and, for his civic contributions, the United Foundation's Heart of Gold Award.

Meathe serves on the boards of directors of the Detroit Economic Growth Corporation, First Federal Savings of Detroit, Maccabees Mutual Life Insurance Company and the Webber Foundation. He is a trustee of the Detroit Medical Center Corporation and The Adele T. Grosebeck Foundation and a former president of the Central Business District Association.

As a trustee on the University of Detroit's 27 member Board, Meathe will serve a three-year term, with a limit of two consecutive terms.

Transfer funds electronic way

Michigan's largest shared "electronic funds transfer" network went into operation last month as 32 financial institutions, including Michigan National Corp. banks and Manufacturers National Corp. banks, began offering Magic Line service to customers at more than 500 terminal locations in the state.

The developer of the new service is Mac-Link, Inc., which currently has 129 member institutions, including banks, credit unions and savings and loan associations. Many of the institutions are in the final stages of implementing Magic Line service, according to the firm. Over the next two years, the firm expects to have more than 1,000 Magic Line terminals available in Michigan.

Customers using Magic Line will be able to identify service locations through the use of a stylized ML symbol which will be displayed at all Magic Line locations, including banks, supermarkets, shopping centers and office buildings.

Magic Line customers will be able to perform all basic transactions at these locations: deposits to checking accounts and savings accounts, withdrawals from checking and savings, transfer from one to the other, and cash advances from a credit card or line.

The new service "represents a major step by Michigan financial institutions to provide greater customer convenience through electronic banking," according to Michael E. McEvoy, director of Mac-Link, Inc. "The Magic Line service culminates two years of development and is already one of the largest networks of this type in the country," he said in a press release.

In addition to Manufacturers Bank and Michigan National Banks in Grosse Pointe, the following financial institutions are now operational in the Magic Line network:

First National Bank of Michigan, Manufacturers Bank of Livonia, Novi, Saline, Southfield, N.A. The Shores, Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, Michigan Bank-North, Petoskey, Brighton Litchfield, Lincoln Park, Ann Arbor, Central, Grand Rapids, Dearborn, Detroit, Farmington, Grand Traverse, Lansing, Warren, Cassopolis, Midland, Flint, Troy, Southfield, Port Huron, Sterling Heights, Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Livonia, Novi and Wyoming.

Music

Composers of music have been lifting melodies from previous works just about as far back as memory permits. Even that elderly tune "Good Night, Sweetheart" was taken from "Les Preludes" by Liszt.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

Here's a super something to do this Sunday: go Yacht Walking at the Detroit Yacht Club on Belle Isle, where more than 30 watercraft—sailboats, sloops, house and powerboats—ranging in size from 30 to 80 feet will be available for viewing and boarding. The Yacht Walk, a project of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, is the brainchild of Grosse Pointe's Tommy Tompkins, a past DYC Commodore, who was instrumental in persuading many of the boat owners to take part in this fund raiser for the Detroit Symphony.

Tommy is the event's honorary chairman. General chairman is another Pointer, Louise Lee, and Pat (Mrs. Douglas) Gmeiner, also of The Pointe, has shared boat coordinating responsibilities with Margie (Mrs. Patrick) Smith, of Bloomfield Hills.

The Smiths' famous "Yahoo" is one of several Mackinac Race winners on the tour. It's a Tartan 48, one of only six boats of its class in the country and the only one to sail the Great Lakes, 47 feet long and considered one of the most luxurious racing yachts on the Lakes.

Also not to be missed by racing enthusiasts are Robert Neesley's "Sapphire" and the Gmeiners' "Apache," sister ships docked side by side at the DYC. They are of the New York 32 class, 45 feet long and sleep five. The "Apache" has been in the Gmeiner family for 35 years and has raced more than any other boat on the Great Lakes. She is a five-time Mackinac Race winner.

Many of the boats on the Yacht Walk were used during the Republican Convention to host visiting delegates. The Walk is an opportunity for everyone to visit boats they have seen and read about over the years; on hand to pipe guests aboard will be the famous Lily, the soft sculpture mascot of the Symphony Juniors. She will, of course, be wearing her soft-soled shoes and casual clothes for the occasion.

Tickets are $10 per person and may be purchased the day of the Yacht Walk, Sunday, Sept. 13, at the DYC. No children under 10 will be permitted to participate. All proceeds benefit the General Maintenance Fund of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Walk hours are 2 to 5 p.m. Post-Walk, Symphony Junior Women's Association members, their husbands and guests, will gather in the DYC's main ballroom, decorated for the night in a nautical theme of red, white and blue sailboats, for dinner and dancing to the music of the Paul Leash Trio.

Among other Pointe women who have been involved in planning/coordinating the project are Margaret (Mrs. David) Lindner, hostess chairman, and Joyce (Mrs. Rich-

Yo-ho from aboard the Yahoo!...

LOUISE LEE, general chairman of the benefit event planned by the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra to assist the DSO's General Maintenance Fund. For more information on the Yacht Walk, including how YOU can participate, check out this week's "From Another Pointe of View."

Woman's Club will open year

The Grosse Pointe Woman's Club opens its fall season with a tea and program for members and guests next Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 12:30 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom where, following a social hour, Mrs. Milan J. Alexander, the club's first vice-president and program chairman, will introduce guest speaker John Trellay, Safety Education consultant for the Automobile Club of Michigan's Safety and Traffic Engineering Department.

His program, "Driving Techniques: Water Skiing on Four Wheels," includes a sound and color film with tips for driving techniques on wet roads and other suggestions for safe motoring.

Mrs. George Gerow, hospitality chairman, and committee members Mrs. C. P. Cantine, Mrs. Mark M. Loush, Mrs. Ted Jacobs, Mrs. Samuel C. McAllister and Mrs. Robert Morowski will be on hand to welcome everyone to this first meeting of the 1981-82 year.

Mrs. Clifford C. Greenburg and Mrs. Peter Clemente, tea hostess and co-hostess, have chosen an automotive theme, "Our Concern for Safety," for their tea table.

Their committee includes the Mesdames Harold Bates, A. Glenn Duty, John E. Finch, James T. Fitzpatrick, Lee W. Garrett, Forrest Geary, Joseph Gelsinger, Harold Hill, Vernon E. Laidry, Robert MacKay, Joseph G. Maurer, George Petersen, Michael H. Schneider, Christy Sutton, William P. Swan, Melvin L. VanDagens, Edward L. Weber and Mrs. McAllister.

Overall arrangements for the day have been the responsibility of Mrs. Lawrence E. Holmes, social chairman. Woman's Club members serving as co-chairmen with Mrs. Holmes are Mrs. Andrew Bremer Jr., Mrs. Prudent Blancke, Mrs. Walter Lesinski, Mrs. Gordon Liesemer and Mrs. James Stallard.

Heading the club's slate of officers for the year are Mrs. Laddy A. Rice, president; Mrs. Alexander, first vice-president; Mrs. Jack Thorpe, second vice-president; Mrs. Lloyd A. Beemer and Mrs. Ray Smith, recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively; and Mrs. Alexander J. King, treasurer.

Members planning to invite guests for the afternoon are requested to contact Mrs. Gerow, 885-8232, for reservations.

Autumn Enlightenment...

Profound changes in the way we live and how we cope with them always concern thinking people, and among the issues high on people's minds today, three — the rapid and drastic change in personal values, a growing desire for self-reliance and new dimensions in sexual relationships—stand out. These are the topics to be explored by SHERWIN WINE (right) in The Enlightenment Series, a new and provocative program of presentations which opens next week with the first of Rabbi Wine's group of three Wednesday morning discussions of current, best selling books at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. Pictured above enjoying a quiet moment in the War Memorial gardens with the first Enlightenment Series guest lecturer are MARK WEBER, the War Memorial's new director, and CAROLYN MOSHER, chairman of the War Memorial's Council of Sponsors.

Subscriptions to the three-lecture series are $25 per person, $20 of which is tax deductible. The programs run from 9:30 a.m. to noon. Requests for reservations should be sent, with payment, to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich. 48236. The number to call for further information is 881-7511.

"My approach," says Dr. Wine, "is to choose subjects that relate to real problems that people have. I gather all the facts I can and put them into an understandable framework. The idea is to give people an overview that helps to clarify the subject—and helps them to work out their own position on it."

The book to be discussed at the first session next Wednesday, Sept. 16, is "The New Rules" by Yankelovich. The author talks about a revolution in personal lifestyles that is taking place today and examines attitudes people have about their purpose in life. His theme is that people have gone beyond the work ethic to concern themselves with personal fulfillment and self-absorption, and the most dramatic manifestation of this is the behavior of the affluent middle class.

The book for the second, Sept. 23, lecture is "The Aquarian Conspiracy" by Marilyn Ferguson. There have been 15 years of change in attitudes toward psychotherapy and personal development, according to the author. The trend has been described as "humanistic psychology" by writers like Abraham Maslow, and in the new movement for holistic medicine; it reflects a broad, new interest in developing the power of the mind to control the body and a desire to get away from dependency on experts.

People seem to want to regain self-reliance. There is a whole new network — one could even call it an ideology — of organizations and attitudes that are revolutionizing how people take care of their own needs, finding new ways to manage their health care, diet, mental experiences, attitudes toward nature and mystical values. Primarily, people have begun to sense that they can be more powerful as individuals and more in charge of their own lives.

The book to be discussed Sept. 30 is "The Hite Report," a very extensive, interview study of male sexuality. This book is intended only to serve as a point of departure for Wine, who will explore the range of diversity of men's sensual attitudes and experiences and speculate on the fact that those experiences and attitudes appear to be very different from popular perceptions.

"Male human beings," Wine observes, "have proven to be very malleable creatures of their environment, and as their environment changes, so does their behavior. Part of that environment, of course, consists of the attitudes and interactions of women. This allows insights into dynamics of men's relationships to women in and out of the marriage relationship."

As a lecturer, Wine is appealingly informal, always open to questions and willing to pursue any point his listeners wish to pursue. In addition to welcoming questions as he talks, he will invite discussion afterwards.

Summer golfing daze for Lochmoor ladies

The women golfers have been in force at Lochmoor Club this summer, teeing off, driving and putting through June, July, August and into September. One hundred and 44 women participated in the club's Eighth Annual Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament, largest women's invitational in the District, held July 30 and 31.

It was planned by Betty Crawford and Helen Zurschmiede and executed by Sandy King and Betty Davis, with prizes selected by Kae Jaskolski and Lorraine Fraser.

Betty McDonald and Marianne Evatz were responsible for the imaginative menus. Rosalie Watrick, Evelyn Scott, Barb Cavanaugh and Cathy Andary handled finances. Barb Krauss and Joanne Maxon were charged with scoreboard duties, and decorations were created and made by Ann Schmidt and Jan Hennessy.

Sharn DiGiulio and Virginia Viviano directed a veritable army of hospitality workers. Stan Crawford, Bob Batten and Jim Doil were awarded special accolades for their excellent manning of the all-important 19th Hole.

Elaine Freitas and Lorraine Glynn won the Marguerite Giroux Award for Lowest Net. Their names will be engraved on the silver trophy and kept at the club.

First place winners (prize: a brass ginger jar) were Elaine Freitas and Lorraine Glynn, Championship Flight; Ginny Schnurr and Mary Hamlin, First Flight; Rosalie Watrick and Carol Reed, Second Flight; and Joann Stringari and Margie Carr, Third Flight.

Second place winners (prize: a brass trivet) were Elaine Feeser and Sue Sprague, Championship Flight; Kaye Payne and Erna Reindel, First Flight; Betty Ryan and Connie Redmond, Second Flight; and Eva McDougall and Betty Enzmann, Third Flight.

Third place winners (prize: brass candleholders) were Sandy King and Betty McKee, Championship Flight; Barb Cavanaugh and Pat Dunn, First Flight; Pat Cosgrove and Madeline Lokar, Second Flight; and JoAn Mihelich and Diane Swick, Third Flight. Daily winners, each of whom received a brass key holder, were Nat Gamble and Mary Lou Stroh, Ann Claravino and Linda Lester, Championship Flight; Mary Simon and Carol Gneiser, Bette Rothis and Penny Melonas, First Flight; Lorette Clune and Betty Wild, Sally Brownlee and Lorraine Nelson, Second Flight; and Lydia Eugenio and Genevieve Carne, Aileen Markward and Jane Hajduk, Third Flight.

Closest to the Pin and winning ice buckets were Nat Gamble, Championship Flight; Rosalie Black, First Flight; Connie Redmond, Second Flight; and JoAn Mihelich, Third Flight.

Longest Drive winners, who also received ice buckets, were Lynette Warnars, Championship Flight; Ann Moore, First Flight; Rose Pagel, Second Flight; and Margie Carr, Third Flight.

Other prizes ranged from sweaters to golf balls. No one went home without a gift; each woman received a brass picture frame for just being there. The car offered by Norm Merollis and Don Wood to anyone who made a hole-in-one on Nos. 8 or 16 remained unclaimed.

ADDING EXCITEMENT to the Lochmoor Ladies Club Championship Tournament in mid-August was a sudden death Championship Flight playoff between Lee Merollis and Lynette Warnars. Lynette won on the second hole of overtime play. In the same Flight, Ann Claravino won First Place Low Net, with Barb Jacoby taking second place.

First Flight Low Gross was won by Lorayne Sinclair and Bea Marantette, with Mary Simon and Jo Meyers taking Low Net. Second Flight Low Gross winners were Mollie Wysocki and Cathy Andary. Dodie Wright and Barb Cavanaugh took Low Net.

Third Flight honors went to Debbie Wysocki and Mary Hall for Low Gross, to Donna Zmyslowski and Mary Batten for Low Net.

LOCHMOOR'S LADIES Senior Tournament was held in conjunction with the Championship Tournament. Senior Tournament winners were Bea Marantette and Louise Fromm, Low Gross, Mary Simon and Edie Thumann, Low Net, First Flight; Dodie Wright and Donna Zmyslowski, Low Gross, Bette Crawford and Mary Batten, Low Net, Second Flight; and Joann Stringari and Grace McCormick, Low Gross, Marianne Evatz and Betty McDonald, Low Net, Third Flight.

Explore Couple Communication

Couple Communication, an educational program designed to teach partners new and effective ways of communicating, will be offered at Assumption Cultural Center this fall on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m., beginning Sept. 22, by Tina and Ron Boland, Certified Couple Communication Instructors.

"Communication is the key to successful relationships," says Tina, "and the success of Couple Communication proves that anyone can become an effective communicator. The program demonstrates how we can share our deepest feelings and express anger without attacking or blaming our partners, how we can head off fights and create mutually satisfying solutions, how we can use tension to get closer rather than to move apart."

Couple Communication was developed by Drs. Sherod Miller, Elam W. Nunnally and Daniel B. Wackman at the University of Minnesota Family Study Center, in cooperation with the Minneapolis Family and Children's Service. Miller, Nunnally and Wackman have received awards for their work from the National Council in Family Relations and the Association of Couples for Marriage Enrichment.

The program is offered throughout the United States and Canada and in a dozen other countries by a network of more than 2,000 trained instructors. Registration information may be obtained by calling 779-6111.

Tri-Sigmas poised for fall State Day

Grosse Pointe Sigma Sigma Sigma alumnae have been invited to attend Michigan State Day Saturday, Sept. 12, from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the campus of Eastern Michigan University where the program will include workshops, seminars and an address by Laura Callow, co-chairperson for ERAmerican, on "Women: Where We've Been — Where We Are."

Tri-Sigmas need not be affiliated with an alumnae chapter to attend. Requests for further information should be directed to Mrs. Robert Schuch, 636 Cook Road, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich. 48236.

To open Shores Gardeners' year

The Grosse Pointe Shores Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will hold its first meeting of the 1981-82 season tomorrow, Friday, Sept. 11, at the Lewiston Road home of Mrs. William Champion who will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Karl Bertram, of Oldbrook Lane, and Mrs. Anthony Vinci, of Lakecrest Lane.

The post-luncheon program, Flowers and Their Perfumes, will be presented by the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's Ellen Probert.

Collegiate Sorosis Rises Again

Collegiate Sorosis, the well-known, local Ann Arbor sorority founded 95 years ago and supported all those years by The Sorosis Club of Michigan, its alumnae governing board, should adopt the Phoenix as its symbol. For this year, after several years of inactivity during which the former Sorosis House on Washtenaw Avenue was sold, along with all its furnishings, Collegiate Sorosis is rising again, coming back on campus with a flourish.

There's a new Sorosis House on Cambridge Road at Baldwin Avenue which will serve as headquarters for the active chapter. Grosse Pointe alumnae of Collegiate Sorosis will be making a bee-line for it tomorrow, heading off to Ann Arbor for a luncheon and garden party, bringing with them articles for a huge sale to take place on Saturday in the utility areas of the house. Sale proceeds will go toward the house's restoration and furnishing.

Alumnae have been working like beavers all through the summer to have everything ready for the actives when school opens. Locally, Mrs. R. John Bradfield gave a kitchen shower to help collect culinary utensils, and received many checks for new glasses for the dining room. Another Grosse Pointer's labor of love was hanging wallpaper in several rooms.

One Ann Arbor member was spotted, most uncharacteristically, scrubbing floors. Others found they could paint woodwork like pros. Among Pointers pitching in to get it all done, in addition to Ruth Bradfield, are Mrs. Henry Earle III, Mrs. Paul Decker, Mrs. Gordon Maitland, Mrs. Edward S. Evans III, Mrs. Wyman Barrett, Mrs. Harvey Kulka, Mrs. Frank Friskhorn, Mrs. Philip Alber, Mrs. Edward T. Gushee, Mrs. Thornton E. Waterfall, Mrs. Ronald Pair, Mrs. James A. Lafer and Mrs. William B. Lafer, an Associate Sorosis Member who helped with rushing last spring.

Lovely Days on Little Neebish

"The longer I stay," writes Lydia Lampman from her summer retreat on Little Neebish Island 'way up north in the Saint Mary's River, "the less enthusiastic I am to go home!" Not to worry: Lydia will be local again this fall after another long, lovely summer of freighter watching and fresh air breathing, and we trust, before she packs up and sets off for The Pointe, she'll get her wish: to see a Great Grey Arctic Owl.

"They came to the island about three years ago," writes Lydia, "and to everyone's surprise and delight have stayed." Isn't that a lovely bit of news?

Nursery School meets at Center

Enrollments are now being accepted for the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Nursery School's fall term which begins Monday, Sept. 21, and continues through Friday, Dec. 18, in the Terrace Room of Alger House. The school accepts children from three to six years of age, on a two, three or five-day weekly schedule, from 9 to 11 a.m. or 1 to 3 p.m.

The Nursery School room is equipped with miniature furniture, a dollhouse, games and books. There is easy access to the terrace and lake-side lawn for outdoor activities.

The school's goal is to enrich each child's life by offering a climate conducive to enjoyable learning with other children of the same age. The development and maintenance of friendships is stressed. Activities include art, music, games, drama, science, reading and number readings, and are rotated so that a quiet time follows an active period.

Ronna York, school director, holds a Master degree from the University of Michigan and Michigan Nursery School Teacher Certification. Dianna Bell, program director, has a degree from Northern Michigan University; she, too, is certified by the state.

Registration and other information may be obtained by calling the War Memorial, 881-7511.

Children's classes at Macomb YWCA

The Macomb YWCA is now accepting registrations for its fall children's classes which begin the week of Sept. 14 and are eight weeks long. Fee schedules and further information may be obtained by calling 772-4435 or stopping in at YWCA headquarters on East Ten Mile Road in East Detroit.

Kiddie Kampus is an opportunity for children ages three to five to engage in a structured program of creative play and sharing experiences. Activities include group and individual play, snack preparation, painting, songs, stories, arts and crafts and outdoor fun. Boys and girls may enroll for one, two or three days per week. Classes are held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Super Saturday is a recreation and enrichment program for children ages six to 12. Art and nature experiences are planned. Additional activities will be designed to meet the special needs and interests of those who enroll. The program meets Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon.

No previous experience is necessary for Tiny Tumblers, an early gymnastics approach for children ages three to five, which meets Wednesdays from noon to 12:45 p.m. The course is designed to develop basic physical skills as well as to teach simple stunts and tumbling routines.

Slate Memorial Church barbecue

The annual autumn barbecue will be held at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church this Monday, Sept. 14, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Theme of the evening is country-western, and there'll be live entertainment by local folk singers Rich and Maureen DelGrosso. Reservations for tickets, at $4 for a complete chicken dinner for adults, $2 for children 10 and under, may be made by calling the church office, 882-5330.

Fall card luncheon date at St. Joseph

The Saint Joseph Carmelite Guild of Saint Joseph Home for the Aged has scheduled its fall luncheon and card party for next Tuesday, Sept. 15, at the Home on Cadieux Road in Detroit. Reservations for the event, which begins at 12:30 p.m., may be obtained by calling 882-3800. Donation is $4.

GP Park Garden Club will lunch

Mrs. H. Sanborn Brown will welcome Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club members to her Meadow Lane home Monday, Sept. 14. Ann Cook is co-hostess for the noon luncheon, after which Ernest Strzelak, of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, will acquaint the group with new garden books.

Private First Class JOHN P. DAY, son of CLARENCE E. and NORMA J. DAY, of Cranford Lane, has reported for duty with Headquarters Battalion, Second Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Fall focus is on art...

Looking forward to this Saturday, Sept. 12, and another fabulous Grosse Pointe Fall Art Festival on the grounds of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial are (left to right) WANDA WAREZAK, CORINNE DOLEGA, EDNA BAKEWICZ and CHLOE BOEHM, members of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association which traditionally co-sponsors the outdoor exhibit with the War Memorial Center. Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. One hundred and 70 artists and craftsmen will be featured. There will be demonstrations, a carillon concert and a special section of crafts for children. Light lunches will be available. Corinne Dolega is general chairman of the 1981 Festival—the 22nd one in a row—and reminds everyone that there is NO admission charge.

Open House slated by Sweet Adelines

The East Pointe Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., under the direction of Linda Liddicoat, will hold an Open House for prospective members next Thursday, Sept. 17, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the Choir Room at Lakeview High School, located at Eleven Mile Road and Little Mack Avenue in St. Clair Shores.

Anne Hoffa, the chapter's newly-elected president, invites all area women who enjoy singing to attend. Carol Morris, membership chairman, reports that the Open House will feature a regular rehearsal, to acquaint prospective members with the music East Pointe is learning in preparation for a November show.

The evening will close with a program of songs designed to demonstrate four-part harmony, barbershop style. East Pointe is the third place medalist chorus in Sweet Adelines' Region Two, which includes 30 chapters in Michigan and southwestern Ontario, Canada.

Ghostly concert at Orchestra Hall

Friends of Orchestra Hall will present Ossip Gabrilowitsch, one of the Hall's legendary greats, in a benefit concert for the Hall at the Hall Sunday, Sept. 13, at 2 p.m. It will be a first unusual recital, for Maestro Gabrilowitsch, one of the noted pianists of the early 20th century and the man for whom Orchestra Hall was built in 1919, has long "passed on" to play on another plane.

Before departing, however, he, along with many other artists of his time (Debussy, Paderewski, Prokofiev, Rachmaninoff, e.g.), produced a great number of rolls for the Duo-Art Reproducing Piano. One such piano, a seven-foot, 1922 Steinway, will be featured at this month's afternoon concert, and the audience will be transported back to the early days of Orchestra Hall when Gabrilowitsch, first conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, often performed as soloist.

Admission to the concert is a minimum donation of $5, to help in the operation of acoustically-perfect Orchestra Hall. Reservations may be made by calling the Hall's box office, 833-3700, weekdays from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. and from noon on the day of the concert.

A new year begins for Alpha Mu DKGs

A busy 25th anniversary year begins with the busy day awaiting members of Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma International, an honorary fraternity for women teachers, this Saturday, Sept. 12, at the Cloverly Road home of Janice Kay, where the group's annual fall breakfast will be followed by the initiation of Alma P. Fleming, Grosse Pointe South High School English Department chairman, and the highest award Alpha Mu can bestow upon a member, "Woman of the Year," will be presented to Laura Makeben, former Social Studies teacher at Grosse Pointe North and South High Schools.

Eva Jane Koch, the chapter's 1980-82 president, will preside. Other current officers are Virginia Johnston, Defer School, and Janice Kay, Brown, ell Middle School, first and second vice-presidents, respectively; Julie Smart, Poupard School, and Jean Rusing, Mason School, corresponding and recording secretaries, respectively; and Karen Kope, Pierce Middle School, and Florence Miller, Grosse Pointe North High School, treasurer and parliamentarian, respectively.

Parenting class at Bon Secours

Bon Secours Hospital will offer "Adventures in Parenting," a five-week course designed to meet the changing needs of parents or soon-to-be-parents of children or teenagers, on Thursday evenings starting Sept. 24. The free-of-charge programs will be presented by local health care professionals. Parents will have the opportunity to meet other parents who share their concerns.

Sessions will begin promptly at 7:30 and end at 9:30 p.m. in Bon Secours Science Hall. The public is invited to attend just one or all of the programs.

Sister Ruth Ann Belfi, C.B.S., R.N., opens the series Sept. 24 with a discussion of child development from infancy through toddlerhood. Sister Ruth Ann is a Pediatric Nurse Clinician at Henry Ford Hospital and president of the Bon Secours Hospital board of trustees.

Thomas Heinrichs, M.S., R.D., an instructor at Bon Secours, will suggest additions to junk food diets that can mean good nutrition on Oct. 1. Cal Worrell, M.D., member of the Bon Secours medical staff, will address health topics pertinent to young children on Oct. 8.

Bethany Parsons, R.N., explores the dangers of poisonous substances taken by children and young adults, both accidentally and deliberately, in her Oct. 15 presentation. Bethany is coordinator at Children's Hospital's Poison Control Center.

Genealogical Society meets September 12

The Detroit Society for Genealogical Research will meet Saturday, Sept. 12, at 2 p.m. in the Explorers Room of the Detroit Public Library on Woodward Avenue to hear Leroy Barnett, reference archivist of the Michigan State Archives, speak on Michigan Land Grants and Settlement Patterns. Individual genealogical problems may be discussed in the Burton Historical Collection prior to the meeting.

Pewabic Pottery class registration has begun

Registrations are being accepted for beginning and advanced ceramics classes at Detroit's historic Pewabic Pottery, the nationally renowned, almost 75-year-old ceramics learning center located on East Jefferson Avenue, across from Detroit's Waterworks Park.

The 11-week courses are scheduled to begin this week, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 9 and 10. Persons interested in registering may do so at the pottery; registration forms and information may also be requested by calling Pewabic, 822-0954, between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Four course sessions are being offered this fall term. Jim Powell will teach Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m., plus Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. His classes may be taken as either non-credit courses or, for those eligible, as credit courses through Michigan State University. Marie Woo will teach a strictly non-credit course Mondays and Wednesdays, from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Cost of tuition, basic materials and registration fee for students electing to take the classes as non-credit courses is $175. Cost for those registering for MSU credit is $205.

At Pewabic, students have available one of the best-equipped facilities in the nation for all aspects of work in clay: handbuilding, wheel throwing, extrusions, glaze composition, electric firing, reduction firing, vapor firing and fuming, pit firing and raku.

The pottery has been operated as an education facility for more than a decade, ever since it was donated in 1966 to Michigan State University. MSU is now in the process of transferring ownership and operation of the pottery to a non-profit Detroit group, The Pewabic Society, under whom the pottery will be owned beginning this fall term. MSU will continue its academic involvement at the pottery.

Pewabic was founded in 1903 by the then-Mary Chase Perry (later Stratton), who built a national reputation over the next half century for the iridescent glazes of her tiles and pottery. Under her direction, Pewabic designed distinctive tiles for such facilities as Christ Church Cranbrook, the Guardian Building, the Stroh Brewery, Saint Paul's Cathedral and Holy Redeemer Church, the Detroit Public Library and Institute of Arts, the former Women's City Club on Park Avenue, Belle Isle's Scott Fountain and many Detroit area homes, including a number in The Pointe.

In addition to educational courses, Pewabic maintains a museum of Mrs. Stratton's works and a gallery, exhibiting contemporary work by local and national potters, in its two-story, English Tudor style, stucco and timber pottery building.

Drema Kalajian to be July bride

The engagement of Drema Marie Kalajian and Gregory John Houpt was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Kalajian, of Bishop Road, in mid-August, at a champagne brunch at the Barrister House. The wedding is planned for next July.

The bride-elect, a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate who holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Communication from Kennesaw Polytechnic Institute and a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Detroit, is currently attending the University of Michigan Law School.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hughey Houpt, of Allen Park, was graduated from General Motors Institute with a Bachelor of Industrial Administration degree. He is a senior Industrial Engineer at Chevrolet.

Phase I begins season Sunday

Phase I, the organization for single, young adults, ages 20 through 39, who meet regularly Sunday evenings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, begins its 11th season this Sunday, Sept. 13, at 7:45 p.m. with a program featuring Detroit Free Press columnist Bob Talbert. Title of his talk is "Everything You Wanted to Know about Writing a Column and Didn't Know Who to Ask."

Phase I Volleyball returns to the Church Fellowship Hall tomorrow, Friday, Sept. 11. Games run from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., after which players and friends adjourn for pizza.

Theatre Arts Scholarship Tea . . .

Theatre Arts Club of Detroit, the all-woman drama group, opens its season next Thursday, Sept. 17, with its traditional, annual Eva Woodbridge Victor Donation Scholarship Tea, to be held this year at the home of MRS. ROBERT T. WIERINGA, flanked above by MRS. J. ROSS BUSH, the club's current president (left), MRS. LESLIE C. PUTNAM, scholarship chairman (right), and committee member MRS. ROBERT F. WEBER. The party begins at 2 and ends at 4 p.m. Receiving members in the foyer will be the Mesdames Bush, Wieringa and Putnam. Assisting in the home and its charming gardens will be the Theatre Arts board members.

The club has provided a yearly grant to a woman drama student at Wayne State University since 1952. Current Eva Woodbridge Victor Scholarship recipient Jennifer Roberts, who spent the summer at Opryland in Nashville, Tenn., as an acting, singing and dancing ingenue, will be presented to the members during the afternoon. Jennifer is a senior in WSU's Theatre Department.

Mrs. Putnam has appointed Mrs. James B. Doll in charge of invitations, Mrs. Weber in charge of the tea table and Mrs. William H. Bundeson in charge of photography and name tags.

Mrs. James B. Steep is chairman of the traditional committee of past-presidents who will preside at the tea table; these include the Mesdames Glendon H. Roberts, Julian G. McIntosh, Edmund R. Shurly, Francis B. Van Deusen, W. Victor Benjamin, Frank W. Hausmann Jr., Kenneth P. Locke, Bernard Whitley, Diamond T. Phillips and Paul Koch, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Doll and Florence Steep herself.

Checking reservations will be Mrs. William J. Coyle and Mrs. Richard P. Locke.

Serving with Mrs. Bush in the 1981-82 season are Mrs. Doll as vice-president, Mrs. William S. Turner as recording secretary, Mrs. Ellwyn Gilbert as corresponding secretary and Ruth E. Wrock as treasurer. Board members and their specific responsibilities are Mrs. Elsworth W. Allison, music and telephone; Mrs. Albert M. Berteel, costumes; Mrs. James J. Conti, scripts; Mrs. John F. Diebel, forward planning; Mrs. R. Gerald Jordan, hospitality; Mrs. Milton W. Volkens, membership; Mrs. Theodore Worthman, properties; Mrs. Putnam, scholarship; and Mrs. Doll, publicity and programs.

GP Symphony Women are busy

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association under the leadership of a new president, Mrs. Kim K. Lie, is starting the fall season with characteristic vigor. A first fall event has already taken place; another is planned and ready to go on Saturday, Sept. 19, when a champagne benefit reception will salute new Association members in the spacious rooms and on the lovely terrace of Kim and Mado Lie's Windmill Pointe Drive residence.

Mrs. George Cotichio is chairing the reception. It will feature hors d'oeuvres to compliment the champagne, soothing background music and a parade of new fall fashions from the Margaret Diamond Shop, modeled by professionals and members of the Pointe Symphony Women's Association.

"Nineteen eighty-one is a season of fabulous fashion, and the clothes have never been more feminine," says Margaret Diamond. "There's something flattering for everyone to wear and lengths are a choice, from the knee to the ankle." Mrs. Chester Bogan is taking reservations for the affair. Mrs. Lyndie R. Martin headed the invitations committee. Mrs. William H. Bundesen has asked Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drettmann, Mrs. Joseph N. Jennings, Mrs. Winfield S. Jewell Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Allen Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Reising, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Whitley and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Young Jr. to serve as hosts and hostesses.

Others with reception responsibilities are Mrs. John M. Lazar, in charge of models; Mrs. J.C. Hurley, hors d'oeuvres; Mrs. John R. Edgar, champagne; Mrs. Bogdan Baynert, music; and Mrs. Joseph J. Marshall, publicity.

On the first Tuesday in September, Mrs. Marshall E. Collins, concert season ticket chairman for the Women's Association, and Mrs. Young, membership liaison for the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society, invited a group of faithful workers to the Collins home to address announcements about the Pointe Symphony's upcoming season, which will feature pianist Flavio Varani, violinist Misha Rachlevsky, contralto Johanna Gilbert and pianist Stephanie Leon.

The season ticket committee includes the Mesdames Elmer L. Barber, John J. Nolan Jr., Roy Scharfenberg, Joseph M. Scanlon and Mrs. Whitley. They were aided and abetted at the coffee and homemade coffee-cake session by the Misses Marion Louise Hopson, Hazel Thomas and Katherine Wasserfallen, the Mesdames Alexander Pietra, E.D. Flintermann, Henry P. Cope, Pierre Palmentier, Paul D. Grubbs and Ram Fahim, and by Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Lie.

TIMOTHY SCOTT KRAUSE, son of MR. and MRS. DUANE K. KRAUSE, of The Woods, has been initiated into Valparaiso University's chapter of Mortar Board, the national senior honor society.

Leslie K. Mullen to be fall bride

Mid-October wedding plans are being made by Leslie Kathleen Mullen and John Frederick Breitmeyer III whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Mullen, of Kenwood Court.

Miss Mullen holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Wayne State University, where she majored in Art History and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Breitmeyer Jr., of Mount Clemens, is a Cranbrook alumnus who holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Michigan, where he majored in Human Resources Development and Criminal Justice.

Kappa Alpha Theta Alumni party slated

Kappa Alpha Theta Alumni III will hold a fall cocktail party Friday, Sept. 18, from 7 to 9 p.m. Further information may be obtained by contacting Sue Carpenter at 824-4490.

Fall bridge date for Pointer Girls

The Pointer Girls' Bridge Club meets at 11 a.m. next Thursday, Sept. 17, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Alger House where luncheon, served at 11:30 a.m., will be followed by an afternoon of bridge. Mrs. John J. Kelly and Mrs. John J. Schneider are co-chairing this first meeting of the new season. Members unable to attend are asked to call 881-7683 by this Saturday, Sept. 12.

Memorial Church School to resume

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church welcomes members back to Church School classes this fall with a Sept. 13 Sunday morning breakfast in which the theme "Take My Hand and Follow Me" will be carried out through decorations and activities planned by Jessie Davies, Betty Young and Mary Anne Evans, director of Christian Education.

Post-breakfast, parents will meet teachers and join hands for a teacher commissioning service to be held in Harbour Chapel.

Children's classes, for 3-year-olds through 13-year-olds, begin at 9:30 a.m. Sunday morning. Child care is provided for infants and toddlers. Materials used for classes are "Christian Education: Shared Approaches" — "Living the Word" and "Interpreting the Word."

Educational opportunities are provided for all ages at 10:30 a.m. in a program entitled "Adventures in Living and Learning — A.L.L. Program." Courses offered for the fall term are:

- Do You Love Me? — stewardship education in the learning center style, for Grades One through Six, led by Alice Gordon.
- Stewardship for All Life — stew-

Fort Pontchartrain DAR to open year

Fort Pontchartrain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, opens its fall activities with a boutique and bridge luncheon Friday, Sept. 18, at the McFadden Ross Museum in Dearborn. The group will meet at 11:30 a.m. for a social hour preceding lunch. Members may make reservations by contacting Mrs. Adrian Roff, Mrs. Edward K. Sampson, Mrs. Frank McKinnon or Mrs. Bruce K. Reynolds.

Learn to master tricks of magic

The Macomb YWCA, located on Ten Mile Road in East Detroit, will offer a course in Magic instructed by Charles Deak, a professional magician who has studied at Eotvos College in Budapest and the Sorbonne in Paris and has performed and taught extensively in the Detroit area, on Monday evenings, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., starting this Monday, Sept. 14.

The class, eight weeks in length, is open to adults and teens age 15 and over and is limited to 12 students. Registration information may be obtained by calling 772-4435.

Women's Fitness at Macomb YWCA

A pair of women's fitness programs, Creative Aerobics and Body Benders, begins the week of Sept. 14 at the Macomb YWCA, located on East Ten Mile Road in East Detroit. Each class will run for eight weeks.

Creative Aerobics, designed for the non-dancer to limber muscles and tone the cardiovascular system via simple dance movements set to music, provides a balanced program of exercise. Classes are held on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Body Benders is a twice-a-week shape-up program to firm general muscle tone and work on special problem areas. Classes are held on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

School to resume

ardship as an attitude toward living, for Grades Seven and Eight, led by Mary Anne Evans.

• Confirmation Education — for Grades Nine through 12, led by The Reverend David Antonson and John Mazer.

• Growing with Television — a look at lifestyles and worldview as portrayed by the media, for senior high school students, led by Claudia Thomas.

• Focus on the Family — Dr. James C. Dobson's popular film series, for adults, with discussion led by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sterr.

• New World Emerging: Peace, Energy, Weapons, Middle East — featuring a guest speaker each week, including Dr. Richard Ward, of Wayne State University; Dr. Allin Luther, professor of Persian Studies, University of Michigan; Dr. Richard Mitchell, professor of History, University of Michigan; Dr. Omar Abd-Allah, University of Michigan; and Dr. Alvin M. Saperstein, Wayne State University.

Cancer screening clinics available

Cervical and breast cancer screening clinics are available at the Michigan Cancer Foundation's East Service Center on Mack Avenue, near Aline Drive, on Mondays during September from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Pap tests will be given next Monday, Sept. 14. Breast examinations may be scheduled for the following Monday, Sept.

21. Appointments may be made by calling 881-2413.

Nominal fee charges are $10 for the initial breast examination, $7 for each repeat breast examination, $5 for each pap smear, but arrangements can be made according to one's ability to pay. The MCF, the state's only cancer research and control agency, is a Torch Drive-United Way Agency.

Arts and crafts fair information sought

The Michigan Council for the Arts is seeking information on state arts and crafts fairs and festivals scheduled to take place in 1982, for inclusion in the Michigan Arts and Crafts Fairs and Festivals Directory.

This popular publication contains listings of over 250 art fairs across the state, including multi-media and single media shows. It is scheduled for release in mid-January. Sponsors must complete an application in order to be listed; applications and information may be obtained by contacting the Michigan Council for the Arts, Office of Extension Services, 1200 Sixth Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48226 (256-3732).

FIRST OFFERING

English two story with the option on the adjacent buildable 60 foot lot. Located in the Windmill Pointe Drive area. Three bedroom, bath and a half two story with gracious living room, large formal dining room, good kitchen with breakfast room, plus a very pleasant screened porch. Two car garage, priced under $90,000.00. Lot $22,000.

FIRST OFFERING

PRICED TO SELL . . . Four bedroom house on ever popular Lincoln Road in the City. Completely updated heating system with central air, remodeled baths and kitchen. Very spacious first floor rooms, with eating area in the kitchen and a cozy den. Finished basement, full walk up attic and three car garage for just slightly over $100,000.

OPEN SUNDAY 2 - 5

ONE OF THE BEST REASONS WE KNOW OF TO COME INSIDE . . . is what we have to offer at 194 Merriweather. The unusual octagon foyer leading to all the major first floor rooms, paneled library, living room, both with fireplace, den with wet bar plus a beautiful screened and glass garden room overlooking a patio and landscaped yard. The kitchen is equipped with built-in refrigeration. The second and third floor have six bedrooms and four full baths.

OPEN SUNDAY 2 - 5

Stop in Sunday to discuss the liberal financing terms available on this large Farm colonial at an affordable price. Impeccable condition plus quality construction make this four bedroom house well worth seeing. 25% down on a land contract. Priced at $127,000. 23287 N. Rosedale.

OPEN SUNDAY 2 - 5

PRICE REDUCED . . . LAND CONTRACT TERMS. If you are scaling down this is the home for you. Conveniently located on a secluded Farms lane, easy walking distance to shopping, churches and schools. The master bedroom and full bath on the first floor, plus two more bedrooms and bath upstairs. In addition we have a paneled library, living room with fireplace, dining room with wet bar and country kitchen. 89 Handy.

CASUAL ELEGANCE. A house for the different ways we live . . . Authentic reproduction of Thomas Jefferson's Monticello. The hearth room with its solid oak beams, brick walls and hand pegged floors provide all the warmth for a cozy gathering of friends or family. The gracious foyer to a step down living room is perfect for even the most elegant entertaining. For those moments of quiet solitude a most private library. And to get away from it all the master suite offers a bath with jacuzzi and french doors leading to the formal gardens. Where else but on PROVENCAL ROAD could you find this dream come true. $475,000.

DO YOU LIKE BIG WONDERFUL ROOMS?? The hospitality is warm . . . the location is private . . . the house is 37 Beverly. The large entrance hall creates the setting, leading to the living room with fireplace and dining room. Additional first floor rooms include: library with fireplace, garden room recently updated, kitchen with butler's pantry. The second floor features a master suite with sitting room and natural fireplace plus three more bedrooms and baths . . . Third floor maid's quarters.

BACK ON THE MARKET . . . Excellent terms and immediate occupancy are just two of the many reasons why you would find this custom built Cape Cod with 4 or 5 bedrooms just the right house for your family. The first floor features a circular staircase, charming family room with a brick fireplace, spacious kitchen, and laundry room. The extras include: central air, attached garage and custom landscaping. $171,500.

LAND CONTRACT TERMS . . . Definitely for the family that has adjusted to the more casual life style. Large family room off the kitchen with beamed ceiling and brick fireplace that further opens onto a 30 foot redwood deck. For the more formal occasions there is a lively paneled sitting room and a formal dining room. Four bedrooms, two and one half baths.

A TURN OF THE CENTURY DUTCH COLONIAL . . . offering all the legendary quality of the older homes and this one is no exception with loads of personality and personal touches. Located on Moran Road just off of Kercheval. A classic screened and glassed front porch, natural wood floors, true country kitchen, plus a mud room and a cold room. Upstairs are four bedrooms. Completely insulated in 1980 for economical heating. $138,000.

"Vive la difference." Not a classic colonial, not an English tudor, but a real old fashioned farm house. Loaded with charm and personality. The spacious living room features an enormous recessed fireplace plus a window seat, large formal dining room with built-ins, family room with lots of sunny windows and a very functional kitchen. Upstairs you will find more window seats in the four bedrooms and the two full baths. Owner transferred and anxious to sell. $169,000.

CONDOMINIUM . . . We have two to choose from: a delightful two bedroom townhouse style in Lakeshore Village with a recent price reduction. Corner unit with new kitchen and a high balance assumable mortgage. The alternative would be a pleasant two bedroom, two bath apartment style condo in ever popular Riviera Terrace. Freshly decorated and once again a high balance blended rate mortgage available. Both units provide swimming pools and club houses.

TWO EXCELLENT BUYS IN HARPER WOODS . . . An attractive three bedroom brick bungalow with all aluminum trim, new furnace, new roof for $57,500. The other offers Grosse Pointe Schools, three bedrooms, brick ranch that you can either buy for $62,900 or rent for $450 per month or better yet rent while buying.

DRASTICALLY REDUCED . . . unusually large three bedroom, two bath bungalow. The 20 foot living room has a natural fireplace, 14 foot dining room, and 16 foot square kitchen has plenty of eating area. The additional living areas include a family room and a completely finished basement. Priced at $75,000 with terms available.

OWNER ANXIOUS . . . This charming Mt. Vernon Cape Cod the owners have put a lot of care, time and money into the vast improvements and decorating. New family room, new furnace with central air, new driveway and patio. Completely redecorated and ready to move right in. $99,500

TWO FIRST OFFERINGS

TERRIFIC TWO FAMILY

Start with a spacious well maintained two family, with modern kitchens, recently new carpeting and paint throughout. Since both units have fireplaces, large dining rooms and good location, the fair market value rents are excellent... $400 up and $450 down. Now get this — how about a simple assumption $54,000 mortgage at 11%? Lower now vacant for owner occupancy!

BLOCK TO VILLAGE LOCATION

Would your Mom, Dad or one of your children just starting out like a prime location, attractive 3 bedroom restored cottage just a block away from Jacobson's in the Village? Excellent financing is available, including land contract terms. With immediate occupancy and a $54,900 price, what are you waiting for?

OPEN SUNDAY 2-5

- SUPERB COLONIAL — REDUCED PRICE 910 LAKEPOINTE
- ESTATE SALE! 278 MT. VERNON
- It's difficult to describe a three bedroom colonial this special in words; there's just so many outstanding features to see. Like 2½ baths, big closets, paneled library and spacious family room, plus great decor... now priced below appraisal at $95,000 with both land contract and generous blended rate terms. This "Jewel" isn't going to last long... See you Sunday!
- You haven't seen an exciting three bedroom, two bath, Cape Cod in impeccable condition until you've seen this desirable location beauty! Where else can you find such a prime location, prime condition residence for a modest $78,500? Come early and bring your checkbook.

"BUY APPOINTMENTS" PLEASE

THE PRICE OF AN EXCITING RESIDENTIAL INVESTMENT ON THE COUNTRY CLUB JUST WENT DOWN! And when you consider the very generous land contract terms, the dollars on this investment make exceptional common "cents"! Beyond good economics expect a superb, beautifully appointed four bedroom, 2½ bath residence with a host of special features that are guaranteed to please some fortunate family... like attached greenhouse, library, plus enclosed Florida room, central air and a jacuzzi-hot spa overlooking the 10th green of the Country Club of Detroit $238,500!

WOODS CONTEMPORARY — PRICE SLASHED — Spacious three bedrooms, 1½ bath contemporary at a new low price of $124,900... call for details.

BIG RANCH/REDUCED PRICE — Start with a newer ranch just a few blocks into St. Clair Shores... chop the price down to $85,900; add land contract terms, three bedrooms, 1½ baths, air conditioning, attached two car garage and big family room — super deal!

FINE COLONIAL — INCREDIBLE PRICE! Three bedrooms, 1½ bath colonials are the fastest selling, most desirable "first homes" you can purchase — and when a min. condition brick colonial with a detached two car garage can be yours for only $68,000 near St. John's... it means you'd better hurry, right?

Planning to sell your house? Talk to a professional. Call any member of the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Exchange. They have the know-how!

"Well, it was fun while it lasted, kid. We beat 'em all, but nobody beats old Father Time."

Something to fall back on.

The first time I ever saw him step into a ring I knew he was a winner. Left jab like a pneumatic drill and a powerhouse right hand. He was a carefree kinda kid who really enjoyed boxing. But when he was in trouble he could fight like an alley cat.

Out of the ring he believed everyone. Trusted everyone. Lent money to people who never paid him back. Invested in all sorts of dumb schemes his "friends" talked him into.

"Your biggest problem," I told him, "is you think this will never end. That your legs will carry you forever. Start putting something away for tomorrow."

He'd just laugh. "Max, you worry too much. Hey, I'm still fighting the main event, right? I'm good for a lotta more years. Don't worry, I gotta live up to my place in the profession. Then I'll open up a little restaurant where I can entertain my pals."

Finally it was over. He couldn't go the distance anymore. He could see the sucker punches coming but couldn't react in time. I tried to cheer him up. "Well, it was fun while it lasted, kid. We beat 'em all, but nobody beats old Father Time."

He was staring at his swollen hands through half-closed eyes. "I can't believe it. I'm broke. I'm washed up in the ring and I'm broke. The only way I can get into the restaurant business is as a dishwasher."

"Well, not really. Remember when I asked you to start buying Bonds years ago? You laughed and said you didn't care, that I could buy 'em for you if it would keep me from worrying. Well, I went ahead and took some out of every purse and put it into Bonds for you. To you it was just another investment a 'friend' talked you into. But I knew if you got your hands on it, you'd blow it."

"You been buying Bonds for me all these years?" he asked.

"Yeah, but it was your money. Seeing you had something to fall back on was the least I could do as your manager. Maybe now you can open up that little restaurant you're always talking about."

He tossed his gloves in the air and shouted, "Hey, all right, Joe and Maxie's... opening soon!"

"What's with the Joe and Maxie's?" I asked.

He gave me a playful punch in the shoulder and said, "We're a team, Max. I gotta have a manager. He smiled for a second then added, "Ya know, I never thought of Bonds as a way to make a fast buck."

"They're not fast, kid, they're kinda slow and steady...but very reliable." I reassured him.

He looked at me and gripped my hand real hard. "Like you, Max. Just like you. And that's the best."

Savings are a vital part of any financial plan for the future. And Bonds are one of the safest, surest, easiest ways to save.
So help yourself while you help your country.

Givenchy Signature Collection . . . has beautiful color themes. At Walton-Pierce this fall you'll love the way dove gray is used alone or in combination with deeper gray and soft pink tones. For example, a delicate gray floral print is used for a ruffle jabot blouse and knife pleated skirts to wear right now and south later. A gray knit sweater with a satin applique bowknot combines with a solid gray skirt. The skirt would also go with a nubby knit gray and pink sweater and a silky gray blouse. Givenchy does a sophisticated separates line that's delightful to put together. Nipon couture is the name of the line of coats from Albert Nipon. The coats are as distinctive as the dress collection. We like the black wool with an interesting sleeve treatment. It is single breasted with a smooth high rise collar. A deep brown wool coat in petite sizes features a hidden closing. From the Jamison Boutique has come a red and navy plaid dress with ruffle collar and cuffs. Topping off the fashion picture this fall are smart felt hats. At Walton-Pierce, you'll find a wide selection in so many fall colors. Little cocktail hats too!

Everything . . . you want to know about kitchens. Free kitchen clinic, September 24 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. No obligations. Reservations required. Call 884-3700. Mutachler Kitchens, 20227 Mack Avenue.

For That Football . . . tailgate party, stop at the Notre Dame Pharmacy where you'll find U of M and Michigan State paper party goods including napkins, plates and plastic glasses.

September . . . is the month of the sapphire. Tony Cueter showed us beautiful jewelry set with sapphires and diamonds. He also told us that he has a good supply of loose sapphires to set in one-of-a-kind designs, specially made for you. If you want a memorable present for a September birthday stop at Bijouterie, Grosse Pointe's fine jewelry store, 20445 Mack Avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods. Open daily 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. except Mondays.

The Pointe Fashions . . . is featuring a Kimberly knit in the window. It's just a smart sample of the Kimberly knit dresses you'll find in beautiful fall colors such as spruce blue, copper and beige. There is no charge for alterations and the size range is 6-18. Stop at 15112 Kercheval in the Park, 822-2818.

Face Facts . . . from Woods Optical Studios. Many people are uncertain of the shape of their face. The opticians at Woods can show you how to discover yours and tell you the three proportions that should be considered when selecting styles and shapes of eyeglass frames to enhance your looks. Stop at 19589 Mack Avenue between 7 and 8 Mile Roads for expert help . . . 882-9711.

At Last! . . . At the Mole Hole, the ONLY official University of Grosse Pointe T shirt and beer mug. They are $6.95 each. The T shirt comes in sizes for children and adults and in navy and green. Stop and see the new location, 17100 Kercheval.

Wright's Gift And Lamp Shop . . . is the place to bring your lamps for repair and to pick out new shades. Most repairs can be done while you wait. Take advantage of the convenient FREE PARKING next to the building . . . 18650 Mack Avenue.

KIMBERLY HORNER . . . Lilly's fall ideas are blooming. Picked to please, they add a lot of color and enjoyment to everyone's life. Lilly Pulitzer, Mack and Lochmoor. Informal modeling Wednesdays during lunch. Pulitzer's fashion show for Welcome Wagon will be October 15 at 12 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Michelle's Boutique . . . welcomes Fran Alcamo as part of the sales staff. Fran will also be the makeup consultant for the Versage line of cosmetics at Michelle's, 17864 Mack Avenue.

Kenner's Strawberry Shortcake . . . and all her friends are now at the School Bell, 17904 Mack Avenue.

Valente Jewelers . . . is offering 25% off Gerber hunting knives. In stock items only . . . 16601 East Warren corner of Kensington.

At The Arrangement . . . pick up a dozen carnations for $6 or a bunch of cut flowers for $3.50. This is a weekend special. Cash and carry Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Mack at St. Clair. 885-6222.

Up Up And Away . . . Soar high above South Eastern Michigan in a hot air balloon. Enjoy champagne sky tours from Rochester daily, $75 per adult. Call Travel Galerie Ltd. for more information, etc. . . . 886-0111.

Connie's & Simi Place . . . has a great selection of back-to-school fashions for girls that include Calvin Klein wide wale corduroy skirts, Dijon tops, Oshkosh corduroy jumpers, overalls, jumpsuits and skirts, Jordache, Bonjour and Gloria Vanderbilt jeans and oxford button down shirts in pink, blue, lavender, cream and yellow . . . Chinese exhibits at WSU Gallery

Two Chinese exhibits open at Wayne State University's Community Arts Gallery, Cass at Kirby, during the Moon Festival observance, Saturday, Sept. 12, and will remain on view there through Friday, Sept. 25. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Featured will be paintings, sculpture, photography, calligraphy and illustrations by Michigan artists of Chinese descent, plus "Early Chinese Settlers in Detroit" presenting Detroit area Chinese photographed before 1940. Many of the photos are reproductions of old family photographs. They were collected by the Archives Committee of the Chinese American Educational and others.

Pointer of Interest

By Peggy O'Connor

Working for the success of any charitable event is time-consuming and energy-sapping. Working for Tennis & Crumpets as tournament chairman and overseeing 100 courts and over 1,000 players through four levels of play — well, to put it mildly, can sometimes take your breath away.

Most people would say Judy Flowers is a masochist; Judy says it's her love of tennis and her personal interest in T&C's beneficiary, Children's Hospital, that makes her work so hard and love every minute of it.

This is Judy's first year as tournament chairman. "They just called up and asked. This is probably the only thing of this size I'd ever take on—and that's because it's a benefit for Children's Hospital." Tennis & Crumpets will donate monies raised to the Allergy and Clinical Immunology Service at Children's Hospital.

Judy's nephew is very dependent upon Children's Hospital care, especially since Toronto is the next closest place he could receive the treatment he needs. "We're very grateful to have the services of Children's Hospital," Judy says.

JUST AS TENNIS & Crumpets should be grateful to have Judy Flowers' services. She's managed to take on all the work her chairmanship brings, in addition to keeping her family (which includes Jay, principal at Defer School, and sons Gordie, 18, John, 17, Joel, 16, and Josh, 10) happy. Not to mention the fact that school began just before the tournament started and Judy is a schoolteacher.

She teaches math at Grosse Pointe South High School. She's quite interested in math, and holds Bachelors and Masters degrees in the subject from Central Michigan University. And this year, faced with the huge job of keeping track of 100 tennis courts, 1,000 players and lunches for all of them—she put her love of math to a new use.

As part of a computer programming class she took this summer, she programmed all her work for T&C. She says it has made things easier for her, but isn't sure the next tournament chairman will be able to use the program. "Hopefully, it will make things smoother in the future; I hope my work isn't in vain."

Judy says last year's tournament chairman, Phoebe Grylls, also used a computer program, but she didn't use it this year. "It would have been nice to have the computer printout, but then I wouldn't have had the fun of doing it myself," Judy says.

"I enjoy this kind of thing . . . I've really enjoyed doing the computer program, that's been the fun for me."

ENJOY? FUN? While working on a committee for anything? Yes, Judy says, and made most enjoyable by the people with whom she has worked since being contacted about serving as tournament chairman last spring.

"I've had lots of help from women who have given a great deal of time to chairing different committees, such as Terry (Mrs. William) Dellings, open and A court chairman; Gail (Mrs. Arthur) Williams, B and C court chairman; Katy (Mrs. Robert) Yaklin, private court coordinator; Elena (Mrs. Norbert H.) Opyd, court procurement; and Phoebe (Mrs. John R.) Grylls, tournament advisor.

"There's such cooperation and enthusiasm from all the people I've contacted . . . it makes this something special and exciting. There are those whose names are never seen who do a lot of little jobs to make the tournament a success," Judy says.

As for the T & C tournament, which is, of course, all mixed doubles competition, Judy says everything is going along well. There are four levels of play: Open—which is for any level player; A—top club players; B—amateur players and C—novices.

THE FIRST ROUND of play, in which everyone participates, is set for this Saturday, Sept. 12, at participating courts. The field is narrowed down on Sunday, Sept. 13, to players who will continue to participate through the quarterfinals.

On Saturday, Sept. 19, the semi-finals for the Grosse Pointe district will be held. The Superfinals, which feature the Tennis & Crumpets championship for the entire metropolitan area, will be held Sunday, Sept. 20, at the Wimbledon Racquet Club.

Although the registration date has passed, the tennis fee is $12.50 per player, $25 per couple. Judy says T&C welcomes and will accommodate players.

And once again, Judy adds, Seymour Cadillac will sponsor the LUV RUN in conjunction with Tennis & Crumpets. The LUV RUN, a 5,000 meter fun run, begins at Berkshire Road and Windmill Pointe Drive at 9:30 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 19. Entry fee for the race is $5 and includes a T-shirt, refreshments and awards for runners.

There's plenty of room for runners, who should call 882-4743 or 885-8128 for entry forms.

Come Sept. 20, Judy's duties will be over and another Tennis & Crumpets benefit will have been a success. But the biggest success will belong to Judy—who managed to have fun while working hard for a good cause. Hopefully, Judy says, she will even get a chance to play her favorite sport, tennis.

"I'm going to pay to play, but whether I find the time, I don't know," she says. "But if I don't, I won't mind and I don't mind the work, simply because of where the money will go . . . and because it is a fun day. It really is."

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol—and penny-wise—cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth continuing this week, a series of columns on COOKING WITH OATMEAL.

Now that there's a nip of autumn in the air, you're probably ready to turn from salads and aspic molds to more hearty fare. Here are two recipes guaranteed to please September palates:

COTTAGE CHEESE AND OATMEAL CASSEOLE

- 1 cup low-fat cottage cheese
- 1 cup cold cooked oatmeal
- 1 cup skim milk
- ¼ cup Egg Beaters, well beaten
- 1 Tbsp. margarine, melted
- Salt and pepper
- 1 tsp. poultry seasoning
- ½ to 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 Tbsp. onion, chopped
- ½ cup unsalted peanuts, chopped
- 1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) tomatoes
- 1 sliced onion
- 8 cloves
- 3 Tbsp. margarine
- 3 Tbsp. flour

Mix the cottage cheese and oatmeal in a large mixing bowl. Add the skim milk and well beaten "egg" which have been well blended. Add skim milk mixture, melted margarine, salt, pepper, poultry seasoning, Worcestershire sauce and chopped onion; mix well. Stir in the chopped peanuts and place in a well-oiled casserole. Bake in preheated 350° oven until brown.

Cook the tomatoes, sliced onion and cloves in a saucepan for 20 minutes. Melt the margarine in a skillet, stir in the flour; cook until lightly browned and smooth, stirring constantly, and add salt and pepper to taste. Slowly stir in the tomato mixture and heat through. Serve over the oatmeal mixture. Serves 6.

Calories about 240 per serving. Cholesterol—4 trace.

OATMEAL HOTCAKES

- ¾ cup quick oats, uncooked
- 1½ cups skim milk
- 1½ cups sifted, unbleached flour
- 2 Tbsp. sugar
- 1 Tbsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 eggs, beaten
- ¼ cup unsalted margarine, melted

Combine oats and milk; let stand 5 minutes. Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt; add to oats mixture. Add beaten eggs and margarine to oats mixture. Stir only until combined.

Bake on hot, lightly greased griddle or fry pan until golden brown. Turn when tops are covered with bubbles and edges look cooked; turn only once. Serve very hot with syrup, jam, jelly, preserves or fruit sauce. Makes 8 to 10 pancakes.

Calories about 185 per pancake. Cholesterol about 49 mgs.

VARIATIONS: Sprinkle one of the following on pancake before turning: chopped apples, finely chopped ham, cooked whole kernel corn or other finely chopped fruits in season. Turn pancakes and cook on the other side.

Inter-Club winners crowned

Indian Village was the Inter-Club honoree this day as Roger Muller (above, center) president of the Grosse Pointe Men's Tennis Inter-Club, presented the winner's trophy to Bruce Shull, (left), captain of the Indian Village Tennis Club, Pete Davidson, captain of runner-up Lochmoor Country Club looks on. The Inter-Club league featured a tie as Indian Village and Lochmoor each finished the year with 32-8 records. Indian Village captured first place by beating Lochmoor in best of four men's doubles play. The Grosse Pointe Hunt Club was in third at 20-20; Country Club of Detroit was fourth at 17-23, and 11-29 mark gave fifth place to the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and ULS-Racquet Club was sixth at 8-32. The Inter-Club is a men's doubles league in its third season. The teams play five home and five away matches on Monday nights. Most of the teams from each club recently competed in the men's invitational tournament at Country Club of Detroit.

Boccis are Alongi racewalk champs

Park residents Jeanne and Gerald Bocci represented the Poite in last month's third annual Casimiro Alongi International Racewalk in Dearborn. And they were fine representatives, too, both placing first in their divisions.

Gerald Bocci won the 20KM Masters division with his time of 1:50. Jeanne Bocci finished first in the 5KM Women's division with her time of 25:35.

The event drew competitors from Italy, Canada and across the United States. Maurizio Damilano, of Italy, the 1980 Olympic gold medalist for the 20KM, set a new record in the Dearborn event with his 1:25. Damilano was accompanied to Dearborn by his twin brother Giorgio and Vittorio Visini.

Members of the U.S. International Team who participated included Steve Pecinovsky, Marco Evoniuk and Jim Heiring. John Padrick, of the U.S. Junior Team was also present.

The racewalk was organized by the Wolverine Pacers and the City of Dearborn's Parks and Recreation Department. The first racewalk was held in 1979 in commemoration of Casimiro Alongi, brother of Frank Alongi, athletic director of the Wolverine Pacers.

Registration is Saturday

Selecting teams in the GPHA

This is the third in a four-part series of interviews with Brad Tisdale, director of publicity for the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association. In our last session, Tisdale covered the costs of hockey and the equipment needed by the children. It was also learned that the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association women's auxiliary will be conducting a used equipment sale in concert with the upcoming registration to provide an excellent opportunity to get equipment at low prices.

The 1981-1982 registration takes place between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 12 and Saturday, Sept. 19 at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink. Members of the hockey association will be on hand to answer any questions during the registration and to pass out information packets. Parents are asked to bring a birth certificate to verify the age of their children. Bill Alcott, the director of the registration activities can be reached at 779-7676 to answer any queries.

This week Tisdale will discuss the ways the teams are selected and how the "house league" program assures each child of equal ice time. He will also discuss the coaches and their assistants who supervise the "on ice" activities.

Q: How are children selected for team play?

Tisdale: Each year our Intra-Association (house) league conducts an open draft for team selection, other than the son or daughter of a head coach, who can be protected (pre-selected) for a team—all other children are placed in the draft for individual selection. It is the intent of the association to allow each child the opportunity to play on a competitive team so that the games are close and exciting. The draft formula assures this balancing. Children playing on the Grosse Pointe travel teams are selected after a series of competitive tryouts.

Q: I'm sure children and parents are concerned about ice time—just how much playing time can a child expect once they are selected?

Tisdale: On the Grosse Pointe "house teams" at the Mite and Squirt level, every player is guaranteed equal game time. The rules require that each team be divided into three lines of players. The "first line" must include the five strongest players on the team who must play against the five strongest players on each opposing team.

The "second line" consists of the next strongest players who must play against the similar second line of each opposing team. The "third line" is developed in the same way. Each period of each game is divided into three sections. At the end of each section a buzzer signals the stoppage of play and the lines change. At the end of the game each line has played exactly one-third of the game—every player participates equally.

Travel teams on the other hand play on the fly with free substitution occurring continually during the game. Ice time in this type of game format is left to the discretion of the coach, who must best assess when a child should be competing.

Q: How are coaches selected for the hockey program?

Tisdale: All coaches are selected, approved, and reviewed by a coaches review board. Most are fathers of players who have served as assistant coaches in the past. All coaches, like all officials of the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association are volunteers, generally parents or enthused adults who enjoy working closely with kids hockey. Special emphasis is placed on the abilities and personalities of those working with our youngest children.

The Grosse Pointe Hockey Association expects to attract more than 400 youngsters this year. To help support the program and educate the community on the safety and fun of Grosse Pointe hockey, a special T.V. program will be aired by Grosse Pointe Cable. The 30-minute show will be shown at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 10 and Tuesday, Sept. 15.

Next week will be the concluding part in our discussion of Grosse Pointe Hockey. Tisdale will discuss the role of the parent along with the social and motor development of the children.

'Name the Presidents' for Nickelodeon

How well do you know your American history? Which President chopped down the cherry tree? Which gave the Gettysburg Address? And what President was a Hollywood actor?

The correct answers may make you a winner in the "Name The Presidents Sweepstakes" launched by "Nickelodeon." The Young People's Channel on Aug. 9, it was announced by Richard Guilmetot, Vice President, Marketing for Warner Amex Satellite Entertainment Company.

"Nickelodeon" is sponsoring the Sweepstakes to create greater awareness and excitement among young people across the country about the critically acclaimed "Nickelodeon." "We want to let people know that

"Nickelodeon" is available on their cable system, that they are being offered award-winning entertainment as part of their basic package, said Richard Guilmetot. "That is what this promotion is all about."

Selected winners will receive fabulous prizes. The Grand Prize is a weekend for the whole family in the winner's choice of one of two great cities. Choose New York and see the Broadway show, "Annie," sightseeing which includes the Statue of Liberty and a visit to the "Nickelodeon" studios. Choose Los Angeles and there is Disneyland, great Hollywood movies and a look inside the Warner Brothers Studios.

There will be five second prize winners. Each will be given an RCA 19-inch color television set. Colorful, highflying "Nickelodeon" kites will be presented to each of the 1,000 third prize winners. The first 10,000 entries to correctly answer a special question about the only baseball player to hit four home runs in one World Series game, will be sent five "Nickelodeon" stickers.

"Nickelodeon" ran four color half page promotions ads in the Sunday comic sections of 29 selected newspapers beginning Aug. 9. The promotion was repeated Sunday, Aug. 23 and will again appear Sept. 20. During the same period of time, the Nickelodeon channel will run on-air promos for "Name The Presidents Sweepstakes."

399 REASONS TO PLAY HOCKEY THIS YEAR

These boys and girls had fun last year learning to skate, playing the game of hockey and just plain having fun. Look over the list . . . many are neighbors and friends of yours. Call them up and ask them just how much they enjoyed the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association Program.

Grosse Pointe Hockey Association Presents HOCKEY FUN FOR KIDS

1981/1982 REGISTRATION DETAILS

WHO: Any boy or girl ages 5 to 20. You don't have to be able to skate . . . most first-time participants have never skated before. Teams will be formed in each of the following divisions:

- | | | | |
|---------|-----------------|--------|-----------------|
| Mite | 5- 8 years old | Bantam | 13-14 years old |
| Squirt | 9-10 years old | Midget | 15-16 years old |
| Pee Wee | 11-12 years old | Junior | 17-20 years old |

WHAT: Grosse Pointe Hockey is fully supervised with trained coaching staffs to teach the skills of skating and the game of hockey. The children skate 3 to 4 hours a week from mid-September through early March.

WHEN/WHERE: Registration will be held at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink on Canyon between Warren and Mack on Saturday, September 12, and Saturday, September 19, between 9:00 A.M. and 1:00 P.M.

HOW: Children should bring one of their parents to help fill out the registration form. The registration fee will be $50 for the first child . . . $30 for each additional child. At the time of registration, a copy of your birth certificate must be presented for age confirmation. Former participants in the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association have been contacted by mail and can register by return mail.

Watch "HOCKEY FUN FOR KIDS" on Grosse Pointe Cable at 7:00 P.M. on Thursday, September 10, and Tuesday, September 15, on Channel 17 . . . a 25-minute program explaining Grosse Pointe Hockey, including interviews with children who participate.

Ski Club plans lawn party date

The Grosse Pointe Adult Ski Club kicks off its season with a lawn party on Sunday, Sept. 20 at 4 p.m. on the War Memorial's lakeside grounds.

Members and prospective members will have a chance to get acquainted and join fellow skiers for a light buffet supper and refreshments. Please make your check ($5 per person) payable to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Information booths will also be set up to answer questions on the ski trips, weekend and western, cross-country skiing and other club activities. Metropolitan Detroit Ski Council information will also be available.

Ski trip dates to put on your calendar include Boyne Highlands, Jan. 8 to 10; Boyne Mountain, Jan. 29 to 31; Collingwood, Feb. 12 to 14 and Steamboat Springs, Colo., Feb. 27 to March 7.

The Ski Club's next regular meeting will be held Oct. 14. Annual dues are $11 per person. Further information about the ski club may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

Racquetsports tourney set

The "world's largest tennis and racquetball tournament" — expected to draw 1,000 players — comes to Michigan this month courtesy of Hughes & Hatcher and Jockey International sportswear.

The Hughes & Hatcher World Class Junior/Senior Tennis and Racquetball Tournament will be held at the Franklin Racquet Club in Southfield.

The event includes Junior Tennis, open to players 10 to 18 years old, and held Sept. 25 to 27; Seniors Tennis, Oct. 9 to 11, and Seniors Racquetball, from Oct. 8 to 11.

"We're particularly pleased about putting this event together," said Hughes & Hatcher President Thomas E. Dokter, "because it promotes a good, healthy activity — one that gives the whole family an opportunity to participate."

Tennis and racquetball entry fees are $20 per person and must be accompanied by an entry application. Applications are available at all Hughes & Hatcher stores.

Deadlines for entries are Friday, Sept. 18 for Juniors, and Friday, Oct. 2 for Seniors.

Prizes include trophies for all finalists and T-shirts and certificates for each entrant. Grand Prizes of a week at Florida's Colony Beach and Tennis Resort (transportation included) will be awarded through a drawing at the Seniors' Tennis and Racquetball events. Only registered players in the Seniors' events are eligible to participate in the drawing.

The tournament is sanctioned by the United States Tennis Association and will be played according to United States Tennis Association and United States Racquet Association rules.

Stop flare abuse, Guard says

Many people don't know it, but among the phone numbers listed under Emergency Numbers in the inner jacket of most phone books is the Coast Guard number for Search and Rescue.

It can be found in the phone directories for Detroit, Downtown Detroit, East Area, West-Northwest Area, Downriver Area, Saginaw Area and in the Detroit Business-to-Business and Consumer Yellow Pages. For all except the Saginaw Area phone books the number listed is (313) 331-3110. For the Saginaw Area the number is (517) 684-3343.

However, rescue efforts can be seriously hampered by the thoughtless actions of some careless pranksters.

The Coast Guard has been plagued recently with a rash of false alarms caused by people who needlessly shoot off emergency signal flares. Federal regulations clearly state that maritime signal flares are to be used only in "a situation where assistance is needed because of immediate or potential danger to the persons on board." Yet some foolish people have been launching flares for fun or pranks.

SUPERIDE '81

Robert and Marianne Kless, of the Woods, volunteers for the Metropolitan March of Dimes, posed with poster children David and Bonnie Haller at the kickoff held at Vernors Bottling Plant for the 11th annual March of Dimes SUPERIDE '81, scheduled for Sept. 12. A great jogger and cyclist, Kless is a member of the Executive Board of the Metropolitan chapter and volunteer for the public health organization. A total community event, SUPERIDE '81 attracts families, clubs, organizations and individuals who obtain sponsors for their 75-kilometer ride. Co-sponsored by Vernors and radio station WDRQ, SUPERIDE will begin at 8 a.m. at both Belle Isle and Grosse Ile. Sponsor forms are available by calling the March of Dimes at 863-3000 or through participating bike shops, including Pointe Cyclery and Hobby Shop, in the Woods.

Soccer school for Buhl

Lawrenceville School in New Jersey. The school featured instruction by former NASL coach Hubert Vogelsinger, (center). Vogelsinger has been involved for 20 years in the development of soccer plays at all levels.

Express top GP's best

The rain held back for a few hours on Sept. 2 to accommodate the Friends of FLEC first annual soccer benefit. A very capable organization committee also helped make the event a success, as the Detroit Express Soccer Club came to the Pointe to take on some of the area's finest soccer players and coaches at the University Liggett School field.

By game time the large crowd in attendance sensed the match would by no means be an easy win for either side. The intense warm-ups indicated both sides intended to win. Play was furious, hard and fast with the Detroit Express finally overtaking Grosse Pointe's best, 3-2.

Overall, the night's winner was Friends of FLEC — the successful event provided proceeds which will continue to support FLEC and its services.

Scott skis to second

Woods resident Scott Eaton, 17, took up this summer right where he left off last year. Last year, Eaton finished in second place in the boys' division of the Crooked Lake Open water skiing competition.

This year, Eaton faced 45 competitors in the Men's Division of the Crooked Lake Open on Aug. 2 and finished — you guessed it — in second place. A jump to the Men's Division is difficult and it is unusual to do well so soon, Eaton's mother says.

One week later, on Aug. 9, Eaton placed first in the Cedar Lake Marina Open at Traverse City. He competed in a 20-skier field.

Eaton, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Eaton, of Blairmoor Court, is a senior at Grosse Pointe North High School. During the summer, he resides at Mullett Lake, where he has plenty of opportunity to practice.

COMCAT sailing feature next week

Wally Scotten, a retired commercial film director and COMCAT (Community Cable Television Club) member, has spent much of his summer filming "I'd Rather be Sailing."

The result of 60 hours of local filming has been a series of shows on cable TV about local sailing. The final segment of "I'd Rather be Sailing" will be shown on Grosse Pointe Cable, channel 3 at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 16 and again on Monday, Sept. 21 at 7:15 p.m.

VITAL OPTIONS, INC. B-FIT Exercise Studio 377 Fisher Rd. - 867-2349

Scotten, a Park resident, filmed Grosse Pointe Sail Club sailor Ledyard Mitchell, Bayview Yacht Club instructors Stu Argo Jr., and Miga Rossetti, four Crescent Sail Yacht Club members and others during his summer of work.

Next week's show will feature the serious racing done by the Grosse Pointe Sail Club. Dan Schaitberger covers one of their regular "Tuesday Night Sundown Series" from the Park.

GROSSE POINTE WAR MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING OF MEMBERS

The Annual Meeting of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association will be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms on TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1981 at 6:30 p.m. to hear reports of Officers, to elect Directors and to transact such other business as may properly be before the meeting.

Four Directors will be elected to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of office of Mrs. Bruce K. Bockstanz, Mrs. William W. Cunningham, Mr. John M. Rickel and Dr. V. J. Von Berg.

All persons who have contributed funds to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association are Members of the Association and will be entitled to vote at the meeting.

A last look at summer

A cold, rainy first week of September is a not-so-gentle reminder that summer is fast disappearing. We decided that this last look at summer was an appropriate way to get rid of that gloomy feeling. That last look, above, was Cottage Hospital Auxiliary's Summer Ice Cream Social for hospital employees held on a sunny July day on the hospital's rooftop garden. The event featured plenty of balloons, music and of course, ice cream, so the employees could get in a last "lick" at summer.

Sumi-e painting at War Memorial

Sumi-e Japanese style mood painting will be offered in two Tuesday classes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, Sept. 29 through Dec. 8, an afternoon class from 3 to 5 p.m., and an evening class from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The instructor will be Mary Bowman who studied Sumi-e in Japan with Beika Inada, a famous 91-year-old artist in the Wakayama Prefecture.

Sumi-e is an ancient Zen art in which a mood can be created with a few brush strokes. No previous art training or special materials are required.

Artists create simple asymmetrical composition using various dilutions of Japanese black ink with a feather-light bamboo handled brush on sensitive rice paper.

The fee for the course is $80 for 10 lessons. Call the War Memorial at 881-7511 for more information.

Harris returns to play Arthur in 'Camelot'

Richard Harris will star as King Arthur in Lerner & Loewe's fabled musical, "Camelot," which opens at the Masonic Temple Theatre for a limited engagement Friday, Sept. 11 through 27.

Harris' appearance in "Camelot" will mark his second association with the musical which provided him with his first lyrical role when he portrayed King Arthur in the 1967 Warner Brothers film.

"Camelot" is a musical tale of paradise touched by love, magic and dramatic fate. Producers Mike Merrick and Don Gregory are presenting this lavish new production with a full Broadway cast of brilliant actors, singers and dancers.

Starring opposite Harris is Meg Bussert as Queen Guenevere. Miss Bussert recently won a Tony Award nomination on Broadway for her role as Fiona in "Brigadoon," and acclaim as Marion in "The Music Man."

In the role of the gallant Sir Lancelot is Richard Muenz who was highly acclaimed for his portrayal of Joe in last year's revival of "The Most Happy Fella." The role of eccentric King Pellinore is played by Barrie Ingham, a former Royal Shakespeare Company member, who garnered rave reviews for his portrayal of Uriah Heep in the Broadway musical "Copperfield."

Also featured in this new production are James Valentine as Merlyn, the magician, and Albert Insinnia as the evil Mordred.

Richard Harris, known in the U.S. primarily for his many films, made his motion picture debut in 1958. His film credits include "The Guns of Navarone," "Mutiny on the Bounty," "Hawaii," "A Man Called Horse," "Cromwell," "The Cassandra Crossing" and "Orca." His latest film was "Tarzan" in which he starred opposite Bo Derek.

Director Frank Dunlop staged this new production of "Camelot." Sets and costumes are designed by Desmond Heeley with lighting created by Thomas Skelton and choreography by Buddy Schwab. Frank Allers is musical director.

Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, who respectively wrote the book and lyrics, and the musical score, composed some of their most beautiful songs for "Camelot," including "If Ever I Should Leave You," "How to Handle a Woman," "Camelot," "What Do the Simple Folk Do?" "I Wonder What the King is Doing Tonight" among others. Other Broadway musical credits include "My Fair Lady," "Brigadoon," "Gigi" and others.

Producers Merrick and Gregory are also responsible for the current production of "My Fair Lady" with Rex Harrison and "Clarence Darrow" with Henry Fonda.

Tickets for the Detroit engagement of "Camelot" at the Masonic Temple Theatre are on sale now at the Box Office and all CTC ticket outlets, as well as by phone with MasterCard or Visa — call 832-2232.

Performances Tuesday through Thursday at 8 p.m., Saturday at 2 p.m. and Sunday at 2 and 7:30 p.m. are priced at $21, $18 and $13. Friday and Saturday evening shows at 8 are scaled $24, $20 and $15.

Special Wednesday matinee performances at 1 p.m. are priced $18, $15 and $10. Group rates are also available for most performances, call Joe D. at 832-7100.

For further information call 832-2232.

Thrilling the fans

Detroit Tiger star Champ Summers puts his "John Hancock" on a baseball for Lucy Zielinski of Detroit during "Baseball Fever Week" at Patmon Oldsmobile in Grosse Pointe Park. Summers, accompanied by fellow Tigers Milt Wilcox and Lynn Jones, was on hand to greet fans and play electronic games against young challengers during the week-long celebration Aug. 22-23. Other activities included Tiger ticket giveaways, Little League clinics, films, and service and sales specials.

Religious landmarks offer peaceful sights

Whether it's a momentary respite from a busy world, historical curiosity or a forested communion with nature, there is a Michigan religious shrine or landmark for nearly every occasion, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

French missionaries played key roles in the state's early history and four shrines pay homage to these voyageur-priests.

Michigan's best known pioneer priest—the Rev. Jacques Marquette, also known as Pere Marquette — has two memorials dedicated to him. On a Lake Michigan bluff south of Ludington's harbor, the Marquette Memorial Cross marks the spot where he died in 1675. At St. Ignace, a church built in the early 1700s is now a museum at the priest's gravesite. The city's annual Labor Day weekend Black Gown Tree Pageant celebrates Marquette's life and his founding of St. Ignace in 1671.

Baraga County in the western Upper Peninsula commemorates another famous missionary-explorer, Frederick Baraga, the first Catholic Bishop of Marquette. He gained the nickname of "Snowshoe Priest" for his work with Chippewa Indians. Marquette's St. Peter's Cathedral is his final resting place.

Detroit's St. Anne's Church, second-oldest continuous parish in the nation, contains the tomb of The Rev. Gabriel Richard, a pioneer educator and co-founder of the University of Michigan.

Northern Lower Michigan's forests and Great Lakes tourist cities are home for at least six other religious landmarks.

Towering nearly six stories above a hill overlooking Burt Lake near Indian River is the world's largest crucifix, a Catholic shrine honoring an Indian girl who died 300 years ago. Mass is offered in a nearby open-air church.

To the south near Grayling and Roscommon are two nondenominational log structures. The Chapel in the Pines at Hartwick Pines State Park is in one of the state's last stands of virgin white pine. It is reached by a short walk on a wood-chipped trail.

Near Roscommon, the unique Mason Chapel, reachable only by canoe or boat, overlooks the trout-filled Au

Sable River's South Branch in the famed Mason Wilderness Tract.

East of Roscommon, Mio's Our Lady of the Woods Shrine is an open-air Catholic church and composite of the major Marian shrines of the world. Weather permitting, Sunday mass is offered in summer.

Another shrine can be seen only by divers. The Underwater Shrine is 80 feet below the surface of Little Traverse Bay near Petoskey. This life-sized figure of Christ weighs nearly one ton and is made of white Italian marble and black walnut.

The Vesper Cruises at Mackinaw City are unique. A ship carrying 500 worshippers sails onto the Straits of Mackinac at 8 p.m. each Sunday in July and August.

One religious landmark near Reed City is the result of a song. A large wooden cross erected along old U.S. 131 identifies the home of the late Rev. George Bennard, a Methodist minister who wrote the famous hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross," in 1913.

A second favorite highway landmark is the Wayside Shrine of St. Joseph along U.S. 12 in the Irish Hills near Onsted. An enlargement of a stone chapel built by the area's Irish settlers in 1854, it is noted for outside stations of the cross and life-sized crucifixion tableau.

Michigan has long been home for religious sects large and small. One famous small sect, is the House of David, headquartered near Benton Harbor. Established in 1903, it claims descent from the 12 lost tribes of Israel. The group is supported largely by farms, vineyards, fruit processing, and other industries it operates.

What started as a church to serve 15 German Lutherans settling along the Cass River in Saginaw County has blossomed into one of East Michigan's premiere tourist attractions. Frankenthum was founded in 1845 with that simple log church. The present St. Lorenz Church, built in 1880, reflects the town's Old World heritage and welcomes visitors.

The beautiful Kirk-in-the-Hills Presbyterian Church in Bloomfield Hills has a 77-bell carillon which is believed to be the world's largest. Concerts are held each Sunday in summer.

A first-hand view

United Foundation Vice-President Robert M. Surdam, (right) chairman and chief executive officer of National Bank of Detroit and a resident of Grosse Pointe Farms recently met with Margaret Smith of Grosse Pointe and her Leader Dog, Joshua. Margaret is an employee of the Health Care Institute. Members of the United Foundation Board of Directors visited a number of Torch Drive-supported agencies to learn first hand more about the work of the health and community services charities. Leader Dogs for the Blind is just one of the 135 charitable organizations that benefit from the United Foundation Torch Drive where Margaret and Joshua received their training. This year's campaign will run from Oct. 12 through Nov. 5.
