For those who want to get a head start on the Great Pumpkin, merchants in the Village on Kercheval Avenue will celebrate Halloween on Friday, Oct. 30, instead of Saturday. Stores with bright orange pumpkins in the window will treat local youngsters between 3:30 and 5:30 p.m. Friday. As a safety precaution, all children wearing masks must be accompanied by an adult.

Park will pick new mayor, councilmen

By Susan McDonald

Park voters have a clear choice before them Nov. 3, when they select a man to replace retiring Mayor Matthew Patterson and three councilmen. Mayoral candidates Douglas Graham and Anthony Spada are two very different men who are taking divergent approaches to their campaigns and to the office they seek to hold.

Graham, 57, of Bishop Road, is an attorney with 14 years on the council. He's a softspoken moderate, who promotes a positive image of the community but warns of the dangers ahead for city governments in face of the twin evils of inflation and reduced aid from state and federal sources.

His approach to most concerns is increased citizen involvement: Neighborhood Watch groups to combat crime, advisory boards to keep "a watchful eye" on the park system and more educational efforts on the city's attempt to stop Dutch Elm disease.

If Graham falls Nov. 3, he will no longer have a council seat because his term has expired.

Spada, 57, of Kensington Road, is an attorney also. He won his first council seat two years ago as a founding member of POP (Proud of the Park), in a bitter campaign that centered around the city's use of HUD funds. That issue died since then, while the city continues its involvement in the program, but Spada is on the attack again, criticizing "deteriorating public property" (mainly streets), what he calls a "decline in public services," lack of efficiency in the police and other city departments, and a lack of responsiveness to voters.

At a candidates' forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters last week, Spada told the audience he was aware of a pending state Attorney General opinion saying the city acted improperly when it transferred money from the marina to general fund to balance its budget earlier this year.

In a taped interview following the forum, Spada said he was informed of the Attorney General's opinion by State Rep. William Bryant Jr. Bryant, however, denied making that statement and said he has no idea how the Attorney General's office will rule in the question, if it does decide to issue an opinion.

Spada says his opponent "represents the existing order."

"I think our citizens are truly disgusted with the council and administration. Doug doesn't come across as responsive to citizens," Spada said. That's why I have a viable chance to be elected mayor."

Graham characterizes his opponent as "negative."

Anthony Spada

Douglas Graham

"At this time, with budget pressures from state cuts and inflation, we need someone who'll come up with positive responses and positive programs," Graham said.

Although no formal slates have been formed with council candidates, there are some informal alliances. Spada's former campaign manager, Eugene McKinney, of Buckingham Road, is also running for council. Other candidates are incumbent John Fildew, of Harvard Road, John Ryan, of Lakepointe, Carroll Evoia, of Audubon, Patricia Forster, of Yorkshire, and Mark Valente, III, of Whittier.

McKinney, 46, is former mayor of Westland, where the job was a full-time paid position. He was defeated in a bid for re-election by Westland's police chief and has lived in the Park for about three years. He is Director of Communications for the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

McKinney is similarly critical of the Park's current administration and claims an apparent decline in city services and facilities, and increasing crime indicate the Park is a "changing community."

McKinney says if elected he will take a close look at the performance of the city manager, police chief and treasurer and, banking on his experience in city government, analyze every city expenditure and revenue source.

FILDEW, who worked on the Park's planning commission for 10 years before being appointed to fill a vacancy on the council last year, stressed in his campaign speeches and literature that the Park is "essentially a strong and attractive community." But, he warns, "we're not an exception when it comes to financial problems."

An attorney who has lived in the Park for most of his 47 years, Fildew says sound financial planning and efficiency will be important factors in maintaining the level of city services and physical environment of the city. He points out that the city budget increased at about the same rate as inflation for the last four years before 1981, when the budget increase was lower than the inflation rate. "Balancing the books is a challenge, and it's something I think I can contribute to."

Tax hike goes to vote in Woods

By Gregory Jakub

In times of relentless inflation and bleak economic forecasts it would probably take a matter of life and death to make voters favor a tax increase.

That's the decision Woods voters will make on Tuesday, Nov. 3 when they decide whether to raise their taxes by one half mill to upgrade the Woods ambulance service.

The Woods ambulance is now designated at the lowest of three levels recognized by the state. The millage increase would upgrade the service to an Advanced Life Support system (ALS) that would add personnel and equipment that could mean the difference between life and death for some heart attack patients, experts say.

AN INFORMAL telephone survey done by the News last week showed 16 out of 25 voters contacted said they would approve the tax hike, which would also provide the upgraded ambulance service free of charge to Woods residents. Non-residents who use the ambulance would be charged under the plan.

Another question on the ballot asks voters whether they favor a one-mill (Continued on Page 2A)

Bogus flyer reappears; no arrest

By Gregory Jakub

A Wayne County prosecutor Monday refused to issue arrest warrants against two men Grosse Pointe Woods police say were observed distributing illegal campaign literature on parked cars Saturday, Oct. 24.

The prosecutor determined that a satirical political flyer that has been distributed in the Woods during the last several weeks does not violate state campaign laws, according to Woods Public Safety Director John Dankel.

However, the flyer signed by the "people for better government" has disturbed a Woods councilman whose address was listed as the source of the piece.

The flyer has become a thorny issue in the Woods where seven city council and two mayoral candidates are campaigning for election on Nov. 3.

At a candidates' forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters on Monday, Oct. 26, all candidates denounced the use of such political tactics.

Police investigation of the flyer began three weeks ago when the Woods city attorney determined that the piece violated a state law by not properly identifying its source, Dankel said. At that time, all Woods political candidates were interviewed by detectives assigned to investigate the case.

On Friday, Oct. 23, the literature again appeared on the windshields of cars parked at the Woods Hunt Club and North High School, Dankel said. Detectives assigned to the case were asked to observe the North High lot the next night when a stage show was being held in the auditorium, Dankel said.

While stationed in the lot, a detective saw a car pull in and observed the passenger place the bogus literature on a car windshield, Dankel said. The two men were confronted by the detectives who identified themselves as police officers and told the men a warrant for their arrest would be sought, Dankel said.

Woods police took their findings to the Wayne County prosecutor to obtain an arrest warrant but the prosecutor found the literature did not meet the criteria which requires it be properly identified and no warrant was issued, Dankel said.

Dankel said requests for warrants are refused "reasonably often" by the prosecutor and that the evidence supporting the request is submitted by police in sworn affidavits.

"They (the prosecutor's office) said the alleged offense did not support the issuance of a warrant," Dankel said.

Former police chief retires after 32 years

By Joanne Gouleche

It was becoming difficult for Robert Van Tiem to eat three square meals a day when June of 1949 rolled around.

His coaching job at St. Paul's school in Grosse Pointe Farms, well, he did enjoy it. But he would have enjoyed it more if his salary would have allowed him his fair share of U.S. recommended daily allowances.

So, fate stepped in—at a funeral where Coach Van Tiem heard of an opening with the Grosse Pointe City Police Department. He applied and was official hired as a patrolman on June 1, 1949 by the then Police Chief Thomas Trombly.

NOW, 32 YEARS and four months later, Det. Lt. Van Tiem is saying goodbye to the job he traded coaching for so he could eat those three square meals a day.

Van Tiem says there may have been a little influence from brother George, a detective sergeant with the Grosse Pointe Farms P.D., to join the City's rank of blue. But he isn't regretful for the encouragement. "I'm certainly not sorry to have chosen a career as a police officer," Van Tiem confirms.

Friends and colleagues are already making plans for his retirement party Dec. 14 at Alcamo's Castle in St. Clair Shores. That's all right by Van Tiem because he began to clean out desk drawers and file cabinets two years ago in preparation for Oct. 31, his official last day on the job.

"There's not much really when you look over the years. You know, the usual trials and tribulations," Van Tiem says.

But tucked away in the memories of his police career is Van Tiem's fond association with Little League baseball, something he helped get off the ground in the late 1950s. He looks back on it as a deterrent for many youngsters who may have otherwise chosen to dabble into crime during their leisure hours.

Then there's his 32-year friendship with local and statewide police departments and the opportunity to watch Grosse Pointe City grow that made the job "a challenge to get to work everyday," Van Tiem says.

Born in Grosse Pointe Farms 60 years ago, Robert Van Tiem lived on Grosse Pointe Boulevard and later attended St. Paul Grade School and High School, where he excelled in sports and was named class president. After graduation in 1940, he was assistant athletic coach at St. Paul and the following year joined the Army Signal Corp, training at Camp Crowder in Missouri.

He was made a staff sergeant and assigned to the China-Burma-India Theater and spent three years in Persia, China and India. Van Tiem left the military in 1945 and resumed his coaching position at St.

Lt. Van Tiem

Paul before joining the Grosse Pointe City Police Department in 1949.

Three years later Van Tiem was assigned to his first murder case, although "here, it's a group deal, everyone works on the case," according to the detective lieutenant, who served as Interim Chief from 1976 to 1977.

Van Tiem blames a permissive society for taking the teenagers of the 1950s and '60s from crimes of drinking and vandalism and bringing the juveniles of the '70s and '80s to crimes of burglary and larceny.

"They (today's youth) have graduated to bigger and better things," Van Tiem says.

When the final desk drawer is free of remnants of his 30 years of police work this Saturday, Van Tiem will set his sights on deer and turkey hunting.

"I have no plans to get another job. That's for sure. I have a lot of projects I've been putting off too long."

There's a contest in the Farms

By Tom Greenwood

Faced with competition from the World Series and school activities at South High School, members of the League of Women Voters were disappointed, but not surprised at the light turnout at the candidate forum held last Wednesday night in the Farms council chambers.

Running Nov. 3 for the four open seats on the Farms council are Andrew Dahl, James Mast, Jack Cudlip, Joseph Fromm, Gail Kaess and Nancy Waugaman. Cudlip, Fromm, Kaess and Waugaman are incumbents and Mast is a former councilman and mayor pro-tem.

The race for municipal judge pits incumbent Robert Pytell against Anthony Penta Jr. All the candidates were present at the forum and faced an audience of about 25 residents.

Before fielding questions from the audience, the candidates were asked what they felt were the most pertinent issues facing the Farms, and what would be their approach to solving the problems they consider the most pressing.

In summary: Jack Cudlip said he felt maintaining reasonable services within reasonable costs, coping with increasing wage costs, energy and other services the Farms purchases, plus maintenance of Farms esthetics with respect to lot size, property development, zoning, street resurfacing and blight caused by Dutch Elm disease were the major problems facing the city.

Cudlip said he thought the greatest challenge was in the control of costs versus services rendered. "Particularly in government where about two-thirds of the budget is for wages, salaries and fringe benefits," said Cudlip. "Eighty percent of that two-thirds is negotiated or arbitrated. It requires a firm hand not only at budget time, but throughout the year. I think we can respond to challenges from the future through responsible planning."

Cudlip, of Moross Road, had an MBA from Harvard University and is employed as a vice-president at McLouth Steel. He has served on the council for the past eight years.

James Mast said he felt the main problem was balancing the benefits we wish to enjoy and the taxes we are willing to pay. He added he is concerned with maintaining the quality of life in the Farms in respect to ordinance variances; present and future effects of subdividing larger remaining parcels of land; development of the Cottage Hospital-Hill area; Pier park and level of city services.

Mast pointed out he resigned from the council earlier due to business reasons, but keeps abreast of developments on the council and within the city. "I'm up to date on matters and ready to be productive," said Mast. "With my experience in land use, zoning laws, and construction I feel I can contribute much to the council.

Mast, of Cloverly Road, is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is a designer and builder of custom homes. He served on the council from 1971-1979.

Nancy Waugaman, who has been on the council for the past 12 years, said she felt the council must find creative ways to preserve and upgrade the commercial districts, residential areas and recreational facilities; provide a high level of governmental services as economically and efficiently as possible; control property taxes and encourage citizen involvement in city issues.

"I support consolidation of Farms fire and police forces into one unit, plus the inter-community sharing of services to lower revenues," said (Continued on Page 4A)

Hellman play to open at Attic

Lillian Hellman's "Watch on the Rhine" opens at the Attic Theatre on Nov. 6 and runs through Dec. 19.

Showtimes are Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m., Saturday at 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. and Sunday at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $6 and $8.

An anti-Nazi German engineer brings his American wife and their children out of the brutality of Germany in 1940 into the comfortable household of his mother-in-law in Washington D.C.

The play highlights the political tensions of the period as they affect the characters involved. Seen basically through the eyes of the wife, the story has a strong moral message.

"The play is very relevant," said director Yolanda Fleischer. "The political issues remain important today."

Group rates are available. The Attic Theatre is located at 525 E. Lafayette at Beaubien in Detroit's Greektown. For ticket information, call 333-7733.

Tax ballot may be a question of life and death

(Continued from Page 1A) tax hike over four years to finance a series of long-range park improvements to be designated later by the recreation commission and city council. A mill generates approximately $302,000 so the park plan could use up to $1,208,000 in new tax revenue.

News survey respondents reacted less favorably to the park question by voting six in favor, 12 against, and seven undecided. Woods city administrator Chester Petersen declined to endorse the park plan and said it was up to the voters to decide.

He added that interest in the election seemed to be high judging by the 300 absentee ballots that had been filed as of last week. A mayor and three councilmen will also be elected on Nov. 3.

Woods Public Safety Director John Dankel said he supports the ambulance ballot question and urges its approval. He said that while the city has been progressing toward establishing an ALS system, there are no funds to support it.

Dankel estimated that about $15,000 is needed to hire four new staffers and equipment for the ALS system. If the one-half mill is approved it would mean about $15 a year in extra taxes for a Woods home with a State Equalized Value of $30,000, Dankel said.

"To me that's a bargain," said Dankel adding that the EMS service would be greatly improved and delivered at no charge to residents. Ambulance runs now cost residents $60.

The ALS system uses state-of-the-art equipment to monitor heart attack victims' condition and radio that information to physicians waiting in the hospital emergency room. The physician then makes recommendations for treatment on the way to the hospital.

Although $15,000 is the projected start up cost of the new ambulance system, Dankel said additional funds are needed to maintain equipment and train personnel. If the system is operating more efficiently than expected in future years, the millage could be reduced, Dankel said.

ANOTHER TAX increase is proposed on the Nov. 3 ballot to make citywide park improvements. A list of suggested projects known as the Phase Two Park Improvement plan will be the starting point for city officials if the measure is approved, according to City Manager Petersen.

Some of the suggested projects include new tennis courts at Ghesquiere Park, new equipment for Chene-Trombley Park, health and exercise facilities at Lake Front Park, and others.

Petersen said a senior citizen center would qualify under the plan as long as it was proposed for one of the parks. He added that input from the recreation commission, council, park and recreation director, and public would be considered in determining what projects could be implemented.

He added that if the tax measure is approved, only half the money might be used in the first year. The balance could be saved and used to pay cash for another park project in the future. If approved, funds generated by the new tax would be earmarked for park improvements only, Petersen said.

A third local question faces voters on the ballot but involves no tax money. It is an advisory question asking voters whether they authorize the council to allow construction of additional boat docks to be financed by boat dock rental fees.

Survey respondents voted 20 in favor, four against, and one undecided on the boat dock question.

But the spokesman for the Woods Boat Club, Larry Sullivan, said he questions if approval will help the city solve the problem of what to do about the Milk River Bridge which prevents some boaters from using 53 docks on the other side because of high water.

Sullivan said that a survey done last year clearly shows that 85 percent of Woods boaters favored moving the bridge. But the city was never able to implement a plan to do so.

"There is general confusion by boaters as to why the (dock) question is on the ballot . . . We view it as further evidence that the council and mayor are really confused on the issue and don't know how to solve it," Sullivan said.

Daniel Evola, directing the junior choir of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, has the children make full use of their bodies when singing hymns.

Evola: Pointe's own Music Man

By Susan Coppa

Orff. No, nobody sneezed, or coughed and a dog didn't just bark. If you attended a rehearsal at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, or sat in on a music class at Mason elementary or Parcels middle schools, you'd know that Orff is a method of teaching music to children. And in Grosse Pointe, Orff is almost synonymous with Daniel Evola.

On Thursdays after school, Evola has the 34 members of the church's junior choir clap their hands, stomp their feet and snap their fingers while singing. The style is infectious; few choir members contribute less than 100 percent when they are given such accompaniment.

The Orff method of teaching music, or "movement in music," as Evola refers to it, has been taught in the United States for the past 20 years, and for the last five in Grosse Pointe. In addition to using hands and feet as aids to percussion, special Orff instruments are employed, such as the triangle, tambourine and xylophone. Children are encouraged to dance to the music, and while services at the church don't result in a style typical of a "revival tent meeting," some hand clapping is part of one of the choir's songs.

Evola displays so much enthusiasm for music that it is possible for his students to learn a song's complete melody and lyrics in just one session. He has been with the Grosse Pointe Public School System for 18 years, and currently he is the chairman of the music department for the school system.

A graduate of the Detroit Institute of Music and Art, now known as the Detroit Community School, he also holds a higher degree from Wayne State University. He is a member of the American Orff Schulwerk Association and continues to attend workshops that will enhance his teaching.

Evola isn't the only member of his family with musical talent. His son, David, plays baritone saxophone and attends Oakland University. Daughter Susan plays flute in the Sterling Heights High School marching band and is a member of the First Colonial Fife and Drum Corps, one of only two in the state, who perform while clad in colonial American buckskins and donning 18th century style caps.

The interest in America's early history is shared by the entire Evola family. Dan and wife Joan's summer vacations are partially spent searching for antiques while touring historic American sites. "Now I have to build a case for all these things," he says. However, his carpenter role takes a back seat to his work with the church choir.

Sunday, Oct. 25 was the premier concert for the young choir, and Evola was putting the kids' excitement to good use on the day of their final rehearsal.

"Oooo-kaay. let's not have the girl's singing drown out the boy's. Come on you guys, show everyone that you're just as strong!" Evola, somehow playing the piano and waving his hands with directions at the same time, creates friendly competition among choir members which results in harmonic, vocal instruments.

"Dan just started working with the junior, junior high and senior high school church choirs this fall," said Lisa Gandelot, who assists Evola at the rehearsals, "and already membership is up in the junior choir."

Evola sees his role of choir director as more than a music teacher for the children, who range in grades from third to sixth. "It's not just singing, it's worship. The children learn from doing songs like 'Make a Joyful Noise' that worship isn't an unpleasant or required task."

Leaders urge yes vote on 'Proposal 1'

Several Grosse Pointe officials have come out in support of "Proposal 1," the Nov. 3 ballot issue which would provide for an elected Wayne County chief executive, according to a release from George Ward, chairman of Citizens for an Elected Wayne County Executive.

State Sen. John Hertel, Shores Board of Trustees President Gerald Schroeder, City Mayor David Robb, Farms Mayor James H. Dingeman, Woods Mayor George S. Freeman and State Representative William R. Bryant, Jr., are supporting the measure, Ward said.

Wayne County voters next Tuesday will be asked to approve a new charter for the county as well as decide whether the chief executive should be elected or appointed.

On the ballot voters will see two proposed home rule charters that are identical in every way except one provides for an elected chief executive officer and the other provides for an appointed chief executive officer.

Voters can vote either "yes" or "no" on either or both of the proposed charters. The charter receiving the greatest number of "yes" votes, provided it is a majority, will go into effect.

Ward said he is particularly pleased with the support from officials throughout the Wayne County area.

Ward said, "We are delighted with this overwhelming expression of support from local government leaders for the notion that 'Proposal 1' represents a better way of governing Wayne County."

The proposal is also supported by Wayne County Charter Commission members Barbara Gattorn and Robert Florika, who represent the area.

Bon Secours Sisters celebrate 100 years

The Sisters of Bon Secours in Grosse Pointe welcomed friends and employees to a special Eucharistic Liturgy and Open House in celebration of their Centennial on Sept. 20. Fr. Michael O'Leary, a member of the pastoral care department, celebrated the Eucharistic Liturgy in the Science Hall.

Employees, retirees, members of the Board of Trustees, medical staff, Assistance League, Guild and the Friends of Bon Secours Hospital joined with the sisters to celebrate their first 100 years in the United States. The sisters have cared for the people of this community since 1919.

Following the liturgy, the 250 guests were invited to the convent to visit with the sisters and share light refreshments.

A weekend of activities celebrating the Centennial began on Oct. 2 at the Marriottville Spiritual Center in Maryland, which is the Provincial House of the Sisters of Bon Secours.

Members of the community of the Sisters of Bon Secours traveled from France, Ireland and Italy to participate in the celebration. Internationally, there are over 500 women who are members of the Sisters of Bon Secours, of whom 83 reside in the United States. Nearly all of the members residing in the United States traveled to the Provincial House for the weekend.

The celebration opened Friday evening with a prayer service. Saturday, the Sisters of Bon Secours, executive directors from each facility and members of the board of directors and other guests took part in the Eucharistic Liturgy, celebrated by the Archbishop of Baltimore. A formal dinner followed the Liturgy.

On Sunday, friends and family members visited the Provincial House for an open house featuring special displays, and archive exhibition and a film detailing the history of the sisters. Guests also strolled about the grounds surrounding the Provincial House.

Blood drive at Woods church

The Grosse Pointe Community Blood Council will sponsor a blood drive for the community on Thursday, Oct. 29, from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. The drive will be held at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack Avenue.

"We have set a goal of 100 donations for our community blood drive," said Harriet Kamm, coordinator of the drive. "No appointments are necessary which means that walk-ins are welcome. You don't have to be a member of the council to donate blood."

Kamm explained that donations are especially needed during this time of short supply at the American Red Cross Blood Services Southeastern Michigan Region. Increased utilization of blood therapy by hospitals has resulted in a short supply of blood in the community.

Blood can be donated by anyone between the ages of 17 to 65 and in good general health. Parental consent is necessary for 17-year-olds to donate. A donation of blood takes less than 45 minutes from registration through mini-physical and the actual donation and then stop at the canteen for light refreshments.

Candidates compete Nov. 3 for Farms council positions

Waugaman. "I would also like to see a broad based citizen participation in such matters as recreation to help upgrade the Pier Park facilities, or to help in combating Dutch Elm disease."

Waugaman, of Ridge Road, is a graduate of Cornell University and is currently Director of Food Services for First Federal Savings of Detroit.

Gail Kaess, who has served a single two-year term on the council, stressed maintaining fine municipal services while minimizing homeowners' tax burden. She said she believed in constant vigilance to insure that control of the Farms remains with residents and elected officials.

"Inflation is a problem, but the Farms continues to be effective with no cutbacks," she said. "That's because of good team work between the city administration, employees and the council. But we can improve. Areas of concern are the Pier Park, senior citizens, commercial areas and shade trees."

Kaess said she also thinks sharing knowledge with other state officials would be beneficial. Kaess, of Irvine Lane, is a graduate of Michigan State University and is a member of the National Urban Reinvestment Task Force.

Joseph Fromm, a councilman since 1973, said he felt inflation and increased dependence upon the state were two of the biggest problems facing the city. He pointed to state-mandated district courts and over-ruling of local zoning ordinances for group homes, along with higher sewage rates imposed by Detroit and the failure of Wayne County to maintain deteriorating roads.

"Efficiency and fiscal responsibility by the city administration will be essential to keep expenditures below general inflation," he said. "I also approve exploring alternatives for providing services, such as a public safety division as an alternative to separate police and fire departments." Fromm also pointed out he voted against the tax abatement for the Hill project because he doesn't believe "government should subsidize business," not because he was "against the project itself."

Fromm, of Belanger Road, is a graduate of Harvard business school and is employed as assistant treasurer for American Motors.

Andrew Dahl, who moved to the Farms three years ago after living in the City for seven years, said he was most concerned with development of the Hill shopping area; blight at the Mack-7 shopping area and with the upgrading of parks and other public areas.

"I am worried about the development of the Hill area," he said. "The shopping area has become less of a useful resource than it could be. There's a change in the type of services available now as opposed to 10 years ago. The blight affecting the Mack-7 area will continue to be a major problem in years to come."

Dahl lives on Elm Court, earned a Master of Public Administration from Cornell University and is executive vice-president of St. Clair Health Services Corp., parent organization of St. John Hospital.

In the race for Municipal Judge, Anthony C. Penta, Jr., a trial lawyer and former FBI agent, said he felt the major problem common to all courts is one of administration and time allotment. He said he would attempt to realign court hours to afford a more expeditious handling of cases and thus give proper attention to all matters.

"I have a varied background in the law," said Penta. "I've taken bites out of many different apples, serving in trial and appellate practice, as assistant Oakland County Prosecutor, traffic court referee in Detroit, as an investigative aide in New York City."

"I feel I'm qualified because I wouldn't be a judge who's had the same experience a thousand times, but a man who's faced a thousand different experiences."

Penta, of McKinley Road, obtained his law degree from St. John's Law School.

Incumbent Robert Pytell said he saw three basic problems facing the court: unnecessarily long delays between date of offense and actual trial and sentencing; disparities between the offense and the sentence; and crime victims not informed of trial or sentence date.

Pytell said he has encouraged police to set early trial dates; has obtained in depth background on defendants before sentencing and has insured that accident and crime victims are notified of sentencing dates.

"In my 29 years of practicing law, I have seen many unnecessary delays between offense and trial dates," said Pytell. "Sometimes up to nine months, when the trial date could have been set in two months. The case is more meaningful if (the trial is) closer to the offense. I also believe in obtaining background information on defendants before sentencing to help detect attitudes."

"I also believe victims should be notified of trial dates and sentencing. It lets them see justice at work." Pytell said he also favored the legislature raising the small claims jurisdiction from $100 to $1,000.

Pytell, of Kenwood Court, obtained his law degree from the University of Detroit and has a law practice in the Farms.

Questions from the audience dealt mainly with the Hill area, Pier Park renovation, and city services. The question that evoked the most unanimous and vocal response from the candidates dealt with the condition of Lakeshore Road.

With almost a single voice, the council contenders condemned the Wayne County Road Commission for not re-paving the road at no cost to the Farms. They all agreed with the city's decision to take the county to trial over the dispute.

"I'm in total agreement on that, and the people seem to be 100 percent behind us," said Kaess. "I'm digging my heels in on this one," said Cudlip. "The Farms has moxie not to put up with it," said Dahl. "Everytime I drive over Lakeshore I say 'sock it to 'em.' The road from Fisher to Warner is ours and we paved it," said Waugaman. "That section's not bumpy. We did our share, let them do theirs."

Fromm pointed out it would cost the Farms $12,000 to pay for its portion of the Lakeshore repaving, out of a road budget repair of $73,000 for the entire city. "That would just be the beginning," he said. "The road commission would also want us to help pay for repaving Moross Road and Mack Avenue too. No way."

Adding a little levity to the subject, gaman Mast noted he had half-seriously recommended putting signs on either end of Lakeshore telling motorists the jolting journey ahead of them was courtesy of the road commission. "We would include their names and phone numbers so travelers could talk to them directly," he said. His suggestion drew laughter and applause from the crowd.

GP's Vaughan is sworn in

Secretary of Energy James B. Edwards administered the oath of office Oct. 21 to six top-level Department of Energy officials including former Grosse Pointe William A. Vaughan.

Vaughan is now the assistant secretary for environmental protection, safety and emergency preparedness.

The swearing in ceremony almost completes the roster of the Department of Energy's presidential appointees. The only unfilled position is the deputy director's post.

Vaughan was nominated by President Reagan on June 15 and confirmed to the $52,750 a year post by the Senate on Sept. 18. He is responsible for ensuring that the Department's programs are in accord with national environmental, health, and safety regulation and directs the department's energy emergency and contingency planning efforts and has responsibility for the Naval Petroleum Reserves, the Oil Shale Reserves, and the Strategic Petroleum Reserve.

Vaughan was the director, energy management, manufacturing staff for General Motors since 1978. From 1971 to 1976, he was GM's attorney-in-charge, environmental and energy law section. During his tenure with GM, he taught courses in environmental law and energy law at the University of Detroit.

Vaughan, 48, lived in Grosse Pointe since 1970 with his wife, two daughters and a son.

DIA features African film

Ron Shanin spent 10 years of his life as a world-wide flight engineer for Pan American, moved into the position of interrogator for Air Technical Intelligence Command of the U.S. Air Force, and suddenly changed his career pursuits for his hobby pursuits. He became an explorer and travel-adventure film maker/lecturer.

Shanin will be making his first appearance on the renowned World Adventure Series at The Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium theater Sunday, Nov. 1, at 2:30 p.m., presenting his live stage and film program "High Adventure Beyond The Zambesi," which was two years in the making.

The film will feature the search for a shy and elusive tribe called the Wadoma, who are alleged to have only two toes on each foot. Viewers will watch Shanin's landrover go to the bottom of a Tanzanian river during an attempted raft crossing, and experience his hike for rescue, even joining him as he steals meat from a pride of lions for his own use and much more.

Kenard Lawrence, co-ordinator of World Adventure Series, says there is still time to purchase a season ticket and a chance to win an all-expense-paid seven-day trip to England-Scotland-Wales, for two, via British Airways and Globus Tours.

For tickets and information call The Institute box office, any day between 9:30 a.m. and 5:15 p.m., at 832-2730.

Child restraints required April 1

Beginning April 1, a new Michigan law requires you to place children under four years of age in restraint devices when transporting them in a motor vehicle. As an alternative, a child over one year of age may be secured in the back seat with a seat belt.

A restraint device is a padded seat or infant carrier specially designed to provide a child under four years of age maximum protection in an accident.

Restraint devices can be purchased at most major department stores for $35 to $50 or can be rented for as little as pennies a day from hospitals and private organizations with rental programs. In some instances, insurance companies furnish restraint devices at little or no cost as part of their coverage plans. Restraint devices also can be purchased second hand from private owners.

Cuba biggest country?

There are those in the People's Republic of China who cutely call Cuba the biggest country in the world now. Because, they say, Cuba's government is in Moscow, its graveyards are in Angola, and its people are in Miami.

An armed robber escaped with $140 Wednesday, Oct. 21 from the Miracle Mile Service Station on Mack in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Two station employees told Woods Public Safety Officer Jack Treppa that the culprit walked into the station office and asked for change for a $20 bill. When one employee returned with the change the culprit asked for all the money, pulled out a silver hand gun and put it to the employee's head, police said.

The culprit took both employees to the back room and told them to kneel on the floor then left on foot going west on Kenmore, police said.

Thieves hit two Farms homes

Two break-ins were reported over the Oct. 24 to 25 weekend, according to Farms police.

Late Saturday or early Sunday, a home on McMillan was burglarized, by unknown thieves breaking the back door, and entering the kitchen.

A television and jewelry, which included two watches, silver pins, a ring and a pearl necklace and earrings, were taken from the bedroom. Although the dining room was also searched, nothing was missing, police said.

The resident was not at home at the time of the break-in.

On Sunday, a home on Mirabeau, several blocks from the Farms police station, was entered when someone broke a basement window. Police said it appeared that an assailant then went to the garage door to let an accomplice into the house, which set off an audible alarm.

A neighbor, hearing the alarm and other noise outside, reported to the police that he saw two white males, possibly young, running away.

Transcendental Meditation discussed at War Memorial

Most people have probably heard a little bit about the Transcendental Meditation program but not too many are sure what it is about.

Maybe they saw a television talk show program featuring the founder of the TM program, Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, or heard interviews with celebrities enthusiastically endorsing the TM program. Still, there are bound to be misconceptions about the program.

Four qualified teachers of the TM program, who have been personally trained by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, will be offering a free, public, introductory lecture on Thursday, Oct. 29, 8 p.m., in Room F of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Explanations of what the TM program is and what it is not (it is not a religion, philosophy, nor does it require a change in lifestyle) and the benefits people can expect to gain from the practice will be discussed. The points will be made in the light of the extensive scientific research conducted on the TM program.

Bill Marr, one of the four teachers, emphasizes that the program is not just for a select few to enjoy. The practical benefits of TM can be enjoyed no matter what the level of achievement or happiness individuals have been able to attain. "We all like to gain more in life. This is a fundamental characteristic of all life. The person with $10 and the person with $100,000 in the bank both enjoy gaining $100,000 more. And the payoff with the TM program is immediate benefits that are cumulative with time," Marr said.

The lecture will explain Enlightenment and the systematic unfolding of unlimited human potential in relation to each person's mental potential, health, social behavior and their effect on world peace. New studies showing reversal of aging will be discussed.

Rusty Holeman, another teacher, explains: "The TM technique is a simple, natural, completely effortless mental technique that provides profound physical rest to the nervous system. This rest is at least twice as deep as sleep which allows deeply rooted stress, tension and fatigue to be eliminated. In effect, a normalization of the nervous system occurs."

Grosse Pointe man is Village robbery victim

A 64-year-old Grosse Pointe Woods man told City police last week he was a victim of armed robbery and assault in front of the Damman Hardware store, 17120 Kercheval.

The man, who police did not identify, said he parked his car in front of the store about 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 21, made a purchase and returned to the car where he was confronted by a man with a gun.

According to police, the suspect forced the man into the car and ordered him to turn over his wallet. The man said that was the last he remembered of the incident and woke up two hours later with cuts to his eyes and mouth, say police.

The man told police his car was moved ahead four spaces and his wallet was missing, including $80 in cash. Police said the man drove home, called his wife and was admitted to Cottage Hospital with a broken jaw.

The man describes his assailant as black, about 30 years old, with a husky build. He was wearing a brown cap and brown leather jacket. Police are asking anyone who may have seen anything suspicious in the area to call 888-3200.

Police grab B&E suspect

Grosse Pointe Park police surrounded a house on Beaconsfield Road shortly after midnight Thursday, Oct. 22, and arrested an 18-year old man in connection with breaking and entering.

The man, Eric Jackson, of Manistique in Detroit, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Beverly Grobbel Oct. 23, on a charge of breaking and entering an occupied dwelling. Bond was set at $5,000.

According to police reports, a 33-year old woman who lived in the Beaconsfield home was awakened at about 12:30 a.m. Thursday and confronted a man in her second floor bedroom. The man ran downstairs and the homeowner called police.

Park officers Sgt. William Furtaw and Ptl. Timothy Mink, Steven Molitor, Richard Warren and James Smith responded and surrounded the house before the alleged burglar could escape. They demanded the man surrender and made the arrest as he was apparently trying to escape through a basement window, according to Police Chief Henry O. Coonce.

Jackson was armed with a shotgun he found in a closet in the house and had several shells in his pocket when he was arrested, Coonce said.

In addition to the woman, there were two young children on the second floor of the house during the incident. One, a 9-year-old, awoke, while a 6-year-old slept through the event, police said. The homeowner called police later in the evening to thank Ptl. Mark Maple who took her call and kept her on the phone while police were outside. She said he did an "outstanding" job calming her down.

Muir home fire is two-alarm

A discarded cigaret tossed into a wastebasket was the probable cause for a two-alarm fire on Muir Road, Sunday, Oct. 25, according to Farms officials.

Farms Fire Chief William Schultz reported that when the fire department arrived at 2:35 p.m., the second floor of the home was full of smoke and the front bedroom was on fire.

After seeing the extent of the fire, a call was made to the Grosse Pointe City fire department for assistance. The fire was extinguished an hour later.

No injuries were reported.

Group home on the market

The home on Bedford Road that was the center of a court battle when the state attempted to convert it to a group home for retarded individuals is back on the market, according to a spokesman at Wilcox real estate.

The house, at 1030 Bedford, is being listed $149,000, with a simple assumption of the mortgage, according to the agent.

The home is owned by Andrew Barrer, a former department of Mental Health employee who signed a lease with the department for $2,100 a month so the home could be occupied by six mentally retarded adults from the Plymouth Center for Human Development. It would have been Grosse Pointe's first group home for retarded persons.

A neighborhood group fought the state's plans, however, and last summer Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Robert Colombo ruled the lease null and void because of possible conflict of interest.

On Oct. 21 the state Department of Social Services formally withdrew its application for a license to operate a group home at 1030 Bedford, according to Park attorney Herold Deason.

Barrer apparently collected rent from the state from March until August of this year but the home was never occupied. According to a Wilcox real estate agent, Barrer now resides in the Springfield, Ill., area.

Films of Ernest Lubitsch, Rene Clair at Art Institute

"The Satire and Comedy of Ernst Lubitsch and Rene Clair" will be presented in the Detroit Institute of Arts' Afternoon Film Theatre's new October through May series in the museum auditorium.

Paralleling the works of the two directors, the series will include early films made in France, Great Britain, Germany and the U.S. from 1919 to 1946.

Highlighting the new series will be Clair's 1941 "The Flame of New Orleans" (Nov. 24-29), with Marlene Dietrich in the title role, and his 1942 "I Married a Witch" (Dec. 1-6), starring Veronica Lake and Frederic March, the Lubitsch 1933 adaptation of Noel Coward's play "Design For Living" (Jan. 26-31) featuring Miriam Hopkins, Gary Cooper and Frederic March, and "Ninotchka" (Feb. 2-7), played by the legendary Greta Garbo.

Eight features and shorts have been scheduled for December in a mini-series, "A Very Mary Pickford." Director William Beaudine's "Little Annie Rooney" (Dec. 15-20), and "Sparrows" (Dec. 22, 23, 26, 27) will be teamed with D.W. Griffith shorts including "An Arcadian Maid," "As A Boy Dreams" and "The Light That Came."

Each film offering will be shown Tuesday through Sunday, changing each week. Showtime will be 1 p.m. each day.

Tickets at $1 each will be available at the door only.

will be featured at Detroit Film Theatre on Friday, Oct. 30. There will be two showings, at 7 and 9:30 p.m. in the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium.

Tickets at $2 each and D.F.T.'s $15 10 ticket discount coupon books — good for 10 admissions to any D.F.T. weekend movie through Dec. 20 — may be purchased in advance through the Art Institute ticket office (832-2730) and at the door.

Set to a reggae or "rockers" beat, this musical comedy is about one of Jamaica's leading drummers who battles a local mob's hold on the island's music industry. The cast of professional musicians perform reggae hits of the day.

"Once Upon A Time In The West,"

director Sergio Leone's 1969 classic western epic, will be shown on Saturday, Oct. 31, at 7 p.m. only. This Leone masterpiece stars Jason Robards, Henry Fonda, Charles Bronson and Claudia Cardinale.

Alfred Hitchcock's 1935 spy thriller, "The 39 Steps" will be offered on Sunday, Nov. 1 at 7 p.m.

For ticket information and a detailed D.F.T. weekend movie schedule, call the Detroit Institute of Arts ticket office at 832-2730.

The singer who introduced the most Oscar-winning songs in films, as you might guess, was Bing Crosby, with: "Sweet Leilani," "White Christmas," "Swinging on a Star" and "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening."

Fall's sunny days and cold nights bring on nature's colorful show

The question comes up every year about this time: Why do leaves change color in the fall? Autumn's cooler temperatures and shorter days cause chlorophyll — which gives leaves their green color in spring and summer — to break down and other pigments to form in the leaves.

The National Wildlife Federation monthly publication notes that "a spectacular show of fall colors depends on the right amount of sunshine, rain, and cool temperatures." New England falls are often so beautiful, because the region's weather is usually dry, bright and cool.

Like everything else in nature, no two leaves are alike, and none of them will have the same color combination each season. However, all the color variations are based on the following pigments:

● Yellow and Orange — These pigments are in the leaves all year long, but can't be seen in the spring and summer because they are covered by the green chlorophyll. These are the same pigments that make egg yolks yellow and carrots orange.

● Red and Purple — The bright red and purple colors of fall only show upon leaves of trees that produce a lot of sugar.

Because trees need very cool and dry temperatures to produce sugar, these colors are mostly found in New England's trees. Red maples, which normally produce a lot of sugar, usually have red and purple leaves in autumn. But if fall temperatures are too warm, or there isn't enough sugar in the tree, a red maple's leaves will turn orange or yellow.

● Brown — Some leaves, like those on oak trees, do not change to bright colors in the fall, but become brown and drab. This is due to the presence of the chemical tannin, which mixes with the yellow and orange pigments, and turns the leaves brown.

And why do leaves fall? Fall's cooler weather also causes the food products stored in the leaves to flow to safer quarters — the trees branches and trunk. A thin layer of cells, called the "abscis layer," then forms across the stem which connects leaf to twig.

Freshmen: It's not too early to look at college choice now

By Brooke Reuther South High

High school is seen as a fun-filled experience for many freshmen, but it should also be a time to plan for the future. It is advisable for freshmen to begin college preparatory courses and consider taking at least two years of a foreign language. This will give them the best possible preparation for admission into college.

Sophomores should continue to plan their course work although most students have not thought about which college they might attend.

During a student's junior year, he must take the first step to go to college — testing. Juniors usually take the PSAT in the fall. The test is a practice test for the SAT which is taken in the following spring. The PSAT may also be taken to qualify for merit scholarships.

"If a student does poorly on the SATs in the spring, the student will have a second chance to retake the SAT in the fall," according to Jean Campbell, South High counselor. Most Michigan schools require only the ACT, while the SATs are required for most of the out-of-state schools. However, some Eastern schools will require that a student take either the SAT or the ACT.

Once a student reaches "senior status," he must face the realization that it is time to decide upon the one of several colleges which he wants to attend.

According to Teresa Lloyd, a guidance counselor in the Career Resource Center at South, there are many things a student should take into consideration when selecting a college. "I think a lot of what students look for in a school depends on value," Lloyd said. "The programs they wish to take are always a major factor; their intended major is also important. The size of the school, the kind of student body which it holds, the location, and the student life are the most important considerations."

There are many resources available which are used to assist a student in choosing a college. Among them are Barron's Profiles of American Colleges, The National College Databank, College Admissions Data Handbook and The Index of Majors.

Barron's Profiles of American Colleges has a comprehensive list with over 1,400 colleges and universities. Within its some 1,000 pages, the schools are listed by state. The character of the school is reviewed and all accredited colleges are included with a brief summary of each school. The following information is also included: Admissions requirements, student population, SAT averages, financial aid, programs of study, student life, campus environment, sport offerings and transfer information.

Barron's also groups all schools into one of seven categories, from most competitive to those requiring only a high school diploma.

The National College Databank is another helpful resource to use when selecting a college. It includes over 2,400 colleges indexed according to nearly 200 characteristics such as co-ed housing, three-year degrees, study abroad, open admission, summer credit and unusual majors.

College Admissions Data Handbook (CAD) is a resource which covers one of the four regions in the United States. The number of the secondary school class rank of freshmen is included along with the percentage and number of the freshmen and their scores on the SAT and ACT, composition of the student body, cost, academics, extracurricular activities, regulations and general information.

A student should consider his interests, and choose the college which best fits those interests. The Index of Majors by the college board is a good resource, containing major programs of study at more than 2,500 two-year and four-year colleges. It also lists colleges that have religious affiliations, special academic programs and special admissions procedures.

These college resource books can be found at most local bookstores and also at the Career Resource Center at South.

Besides offering excellent references, the Career Resource Center at South also offers career counseling, which involves interest and skills analysis, training in job application skills and occupational information. All Grosse Pointe residents are welcome to visit or call the Resource Center at 343-2302.

After a student takes the SAT and ACT, and chooses several colleges which interest him, he is ready to apply. All college applications for Michigan schools can be obtained from any one of the high school counselors. All of the out-of-state applications must be obtained by the student.

Juniors' float 'rose above 'em'

By Tom Streicher and Megan Bonanni South High

A clear and brisk autumn day set the scene for the Grosse Pointe South 1981 homecoming celebration as hundreds of students and members of the community participated in the activities.

"Through the hard work of the Junior Class we were able to attain success with our float," said Junior Class president Charles F. Dass, as the juniors captured the 1981 best float award. The winning idea was a blimp floating above a football field with the slogan "Rise Above 'Em."

The Sophomore Class captured the 1981 Spirit Jug with a tremendous display of class unity. The Spirit jug was awarded on the basis of the performance of the class in the pep rally and spirit march through the halls on their spirit day. The freshmen were awarded the best banner and the seniors were awarded nicest try and runner-up in the float competition.

The band led the parade down Kercheval Avenue, starting the homecoming celebration first in line for the floats were the seniors, followed by the lower classmen's floats and club floats.

The varsity football team didn't fair well on the field and was beaten 10-6 by Port Huron Northern. Even though the team lost, the events of the day were not, as a very happy and surprised senior Melanie Manos was crowned homecoming queen by Grand Marshal William Ehrlich. Seniors Liz Wachter and Sue Tucker were also contestants.

South's Tower earns top honors

For the first time ever, the Tower newspaper at Grosse Pointe South High School has won the triple crown of high school journalism, having received the highest honors given from all three national scholastic press associations for papers published last year.

South journalists won All American recognition from the National Scholastic Press Association for the 25th consecutive year, earning marks of distinction in all five aspects of the evaluation and advancing to a second evaluation which will determine the six Pacemaker papers. The Five Star All American distinction was achieved by only 42 high school newspapers in the country.

In one of the highest evaluations ever given the Tower, the NSPA judge used an option for bonus points to award 700 points of 700 for coverage and content, 925 of 900 for writing and editing, 680 of 700 for opinion content, 750 of 700 for design, and 705 of 700 for photography, art and graphics. Added to 190 points for student work, the Tower totalled 3,950 points.

In the evaluation by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, the Tower was given Medalist distinction for overall quality and All Columbian honors for exceptional achievement in writing and editing, design and display, and creativity.

The George H. Gallup Award was given to the Tower by the Quill and Scroll international society for high school journalists. That honor is given for special distinction to papers which have been given the International First Place Rating for superior achievements. The judge gave special note to feature writing and newspaper design.

Editors of the Tower last year were Paula Kukucka, who is now at Marquette, and Sharon Ruwart, now at Yale. Design editor was Eric Steinhauer, now at Amherst, and editorial chairman was Sue Price, now at Ohio State.

Marcy Tayler was news editor, Michelle Spivak opinion editor, Paula Hanpeter and Lisa Kressbach feature editors, Jeff Spivak sports editor, and Stacy Rotta business manager.

Meet ULS computer whiz kids

By Mark Van Osdol
ULS

"Oh no! Your faser masers blew up my star ship!"

The computer room at University Liggett School houses five computers and a printout machine. Two of the five computers are designed for both programs and computer games, which often evoke cries of dismay over lost starships or evil faser masers.

A small group of skilled students spend a great deal of time in the computer room playing and creating all sorts of games and programs. Overseeing the equipment and the independent study curriculum is ULS teacher Douglas Werkema, a computer whiz.

Programs are usually from math classes but some students also create their own. One of the biggest and most complex programs ever written was by senior Mark McKinnon. His program, when printed, was over four feet long.

Generally, the computers are used for math and science classes, but sophomore Jim Kitchen is currently working on a program for his French II class. Entitled, French Tutorial Program, it provides translations from English to French and French to English. Jim works on it in his spare time and will get extra credit for it when he is finished.

A popular class with computer-lovers is called Independent Computer Study. It is similar to the Computer Science class, but course work is done on the student's own time. The only catch is that the programs must be turned in on time.

A few ULS students are also working with computers outside of school. Mark McKinnon organizes data for the Detroit College of Law and senior Randy Gibson helps his father, a cardiologist, by filing patients' records on a computer disk file which is at his home.

Sometimes people who frequent the computer room give advice to ninth grade algebra students who are having difficulty with their programs. The skills of the computer buffs are also in demand by students who are having difficulty manipulating their programs.

South High parents meet

South High Parent Discussion Groups are starting again to give all parents an opportunity to know exactly what is going on at school.

Throughout the year there will be a series of speakers who are connected with the school. Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, South principal, spoke at the first daytime discussion group on Thursday, Oct. 15 at the Balfour home of Barbara Ward.

The evening discussion group met Oct. 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Barr. Judy Walker (885-4585) and Arlene Hoeting (886-2817) are program coordinators, and have information regarding future dates and speakers.

Circus comes to town for ULS youngsters

University Liggett School second graders didn't need any prompting recently when they tackled an assignment to celebrate the word "circus." Teacher Janet Hansen's bulletin boards were soon filled with newspaper clippings about a circus' arrival in Detroit and lists of descriptive vocabulary words.

Interest remained high during the month long unit as students read circus books, made posters, designed T-shirts to be sold at a circus and pantomimed circus characters for others to guess.

A student-produced assembly culminated the celebration. Against a lively backdrop painted in art class, each second grader talked about "what I would be in a circus." Student presentations were accompanied by original illustrations. Especially popular was the future snake tamer who liked it best "when they crawled all over my body."

In Japan, if you want to talk more than three minutes on a public telephone, you have to hang up, insert more money, and dial the number again.

Academy trustees welcome members

The Board of Trustees of The Grosse Pointe Academy recently welcomed James T. McMillan II, and Manuel J. Moroun to its ranks.

Other board members include Mrs. Walter B. Robinson, president; Michael J. FitzSimons, first vice-president; Alfred J. Fisher, treasurer; Mrs. John R. Schneider, secretary; Edmund M. Brady Jr., Mrs. Craig H. Curtiss, Mrs. Edward S. Evans III, Hali Giessler, George A. Haggarty, Maryellen Harmon, R.S.C.J., Mrs. Leo A. Marx, Mrs. F. Dennis McCarthy, Mrs. Angus A. ### South's Cleminson Hall is restored

By Brooke Reuther
In the last few years, Cleminson Hall at Grosse Pointe South High School has been used for dinners, as a reception room for the National Honor Society, as a hospitality room for Career Nights, as well as for many other school-related events.
Many who have used Cleminson Hall have commented on the attractiveness of the room.
However, many changes are taking place to restore Cleminson Hall. Among these are repairing water damage, cleaning carpeting and hanging new draperies. The bookshelves were recently enclosed with glass to display awards, including athletic, music, literary awards for the magazine, Imprints and many others. Not only students and teachers but graduates can enjoy the display.

University Liggett first graders Amanda Hamlyn (left) and Kristin Buckler along with fourth grader Chris Frederickson have a slightly different view of the old idea of the three Rs—They prefer to relax, read and react! Their expressions, however, are an invitation to the ninth annual Liggett Book Fair Nov. 11 and 12 in the Lower School Library from 8:15 a.m. to 9 p.m. The Children's Book Mark will supply the school with a selection of new books suitable for pre-kindergartners to adults. In addition to a variety of hardcover and paperback books, the fair will offer other educational items.

Tangelos benefit South musicians

South High School's Instrumental music department is once again holding its annual fruit sale now until Nov. 20. Fruit will be delivered the week of Dec. 5.
Both tangelos and grapefruit are being sold in the 2/5s or 4/5s bushels for $7.50 and $13.
Proceeds will be used by band and orchestra students in the forms of scholarships and awards.
For more information, call 343-2140 or contact any instrumental music student.

Dinner benefits foreign students

The University Liggett School Foreign Exchange Program will sponsor a Coney Island Dinner to benefit foreign students on Nov. 6.
The dinner will be served in the school cafeteria from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. A complete dinner with one Coney Island Hot Dog will be $2.25, while a two Hot Dog Dinner will be $2.75. Topping off the evening, the ULS Players will be presenting Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap" at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium at 1045 Cook Road.
Pickup trucks have a lower accident rate than cars, slightly, but the pickup wreck injuries are seven times more severe, statistically.

Enriching trips enhance classroom instruction

University Liggett Lower School students agree that each of their recent field trips to the Detroit Zoo, St. Clair Shores Fire Station and Stoney Creek Nature Center were "a great opportunity to see different things." Field trips are an important resource for the Lower School curriculum, in that they provide diverse activities and enrichment for youngsters while enhancing classroom instruction.
Second graders in Barbara Bidigare's class visited the zoo and were particularly impressed with baby monkeys riding on their mother's backs, ostriches that walked right up to them for a closer look, and a baby giraffe whose spots had just begun to show.
Before going to the zoo, the class had talked about where animals live and how they protect themselves, seen in the geographical grouping of zoo animals and the protective white coat of the arctic fox. They also wrote stories, "If I had at Pet From the Zoo," read animal books, created pictures and wrote descriptions of the habits of imaginary animals.
After learning about fire prevention, ULS kindergarten classes visited the St. Clair Shores Fire Station. For many, the highlight of the trip was hearing the alarm and seeing the firemen slide down the fire pole. Children also visited living quarters where the firemen sleep and do their own cooking and cleaning. The firemen explained the use of different fire trucks and such equipment as boots and helmets. Pictures drawn after the visit now decorate the classroom.
"I had a 10-foot boa constrictor around my neck!" That was the most memorable moment of the third grade trips to Stoney Creek Nature Center. Also impressing the youngsters were a rattlesnake (in a cage) and turtles which they could handle. On a walk through the woods, nature center guides pointed out poison ivy, burrs that stick to clothes and animal fur, and a caterpillar that rolls up inside a leaf to make a home.
Europe substituting fuel
A fuel changeover from gasoline to liquified gas, which requires an engine conversion costing $900, is gaining favor in Europe. Impact is felt particularly in Italy (which has 1,800 liquified gas stations). The Netherlands and Germany.

Hertel offers energy session

Congressman Dennis Hertel will sponsor a special Energy Forum, Saturday, Nov. 7, from 9:30 a.m. to noon at Kelly Junior High School in East Detroit, 24701 Kelly Road, one block south of Ten Mile Road.

Hertel explained that the program entitled "Coping with Energy Costs" will focus on presentations about: ways to conserve energy in the home, special energy programs to assist senior citizens, an overview of U.S. energy use, and alternative sources of energy.

"The purpose of this public forum will be to provide residents of my district with information on some of the ways in which they can better cope with burgeoning energy costs," Hertel said.

"As residents of the frost belt, we are particularly hard hit by every increase in home heating costs. It is not unheard of for an average resident in my district to pay more than $700 per year to heat his (her) average-sized home," he said.

Hertel said he has invited a cross-section of local resource people to discuss energy issues and conservation measures. These experts are expected to provide those present at the Forum with the most up-to-date information available on residential energy matters.

Hertel said that the forum is open to all residents of the 14th Congressional District. Additional information is available from Hertel's district office, 892-4010.

The 14th District includes: northeast Detroit, Harper Woods, the Grosse Pointes, East Detroit, Hamtramck, Center Line and the southern half of Warren.

During week 2, "The Performer's World," marks a new weekly theme for ARTS, and is launched with the television debut of today's most popular ballet ensemble, The Neighborhood Dance Theatre.

Melba Moore hosts week 3, "The Creative Drive," and Peter Strauss ("The Jericho Mile," "Rich Man, Poor Man") hosts "America, Where It All Happens" in week 4. During week 5, "Of Plays and Playwrights," brings four new feature length programs to television with documentaries of Lillian Hellman and Henrik Ibsen, a performance of MacBeth, and a one man play about Vincent Van Gogh.

ARTS, designed to meet the programming needs of viewers keenly interested in the arts, offers three hours of programming every night, beginning at 9 p.m., following the conclusion of Nickelodeon's programming day, on Grosse Pointe Cable TV channel 24.

WEEK 1 —

"THEIR WORLD, OUR WORLD"
Hosted by David Birney

Monday, Nov. 2, Repeated Nov. 3, 6 — Spirit Of Asia: Vietnam — The reorganization of Vietnamese culture around Marxist philosophy threatens the essential artistic and religious elements of this nation. Vietnamese enclaves in Paris and southern France struggle to preserve and develop their culture.

"Claes Oldenburg" — A profile of one of the leaders of the Pop Art movement. Oldenburg visits his boyhood town of Chicago and retraces some of the inspirations for his later work. The artist also discusses and displays his soft sculpture drawings, theater happenings of the early '60s and ray-gun collection.

Wednesday, Nov. 4, Repeated Nov. 5 — Schumann's "Carnival" Opus 9 — Pianist Gabriel Tacchino performs Robert Schumann's "Carnival: Scenes mignonnes sur 4 notes." Schumann was one of the greatest composers of pianoforte, enriching the literature with a series of works in which classical structure and romantic expression are combined.

"Spirit Of Asia: Bali" — The interface between art and religion is indistinguishable on the island of Bali. Shiva, Vishnu and Brahma motivate perpetual artistry. Observance of the Hindu religion creates a succession of overlapping ritual ceremonies and festivals.

"Portrait Of A Star" — Documentary of Gislaine Thesmar, etoile of the Paris Opera Ballet, who is famous for her interpretation of Romantic era ballets, and the ethereal quality which imbues her technique. The star is seen in segments from three ballets: "The Lady of the Camellias," "La Fille Mal Gardee" and "Coppelia." Ms. Thesmar is also seen at home, backstage in her dressing room and in class.

Saturday, Nov. 7, Repeated Nov. 8 — "Carmen" — A live, lavish performance of Georges Bizet's opera from Verona, Italy's open air theatre, starring Viorica Cortez.

WEEK 2 —

"THE PERFORMERS WORLD"
Hosted by Richard Thomas

Monday, Nov. 9, Repeated Nov. 10, 13 — "Creation of A Ballet" — Jiri Kylian is choreographer and artistic director for The Netherlands Dance Theatre, the most popular ensemble ballet company in the world today. In this documentary Kylian is seen creating his 1981 premiere, "Overgrown Path," to music by Leos Janacek. The program includes a performance of the finished work.

Beethoven "Symphony No. 7" —

One in a series of live performances of Beethoven's great symphonies from the Theatre des Champs Elysees. Beethoven is responsible for the full emergence of the symphony as a repository for the composer's most important ideas. "Symphony No. 7" had its first performance in 1813, and here is performed by the French National Orchestra, and conducted by Lorin Maazel.

Wednesday, Nov. 11, Repeated Nov. 12 — Luciano Pavarotti: "King Of The High Cs" — A portrait of Pavarotti drawn from interviews, scenes in his home, and in performance. Excerpts from live performances include "Rigoletto," "Turandot," "Pagliacci," "La Boheme," "Il Traviatore" and others.

Saturday, Nov. 14, Repeated Nov. 15 — Puccini's "La Boheme" — Luciano Pavarotti and Ileana Cotrubas with La Scala Opera perform Giacomo Puccini's most popular opera, a masterpiece of characterization, sentiment and craftsmanship.

WEEK 3 —

"THE CREATIVE DRIVE"
Hosted by Melba Moore

Monday, Nov. 16, Repeated Nov. 17, 20 — "Spirit Of Place" — Lawrence Durrell, author of "The Alexandria Quartet," is host for a tour through the Greece he knew and loved in his youth. The author revisits Corfu, Hydra, Rhodes and Crete — the locales where his unique personal vision crystallized.

"A Lesson From Aloys" — A documentary about South African playwright, Athol Fugard, which ran on Broadway to rave reviews, is here chronicled from its first day of rehearsal through opening night in Johannesburg. All of Fugard's plays expose his country's unjust apartheid policy.

Wednesday, Nov. 18, Repeated Nov. 19 — "Marigolds In August" — A play by South African playwright, Athol Fugard. "Marigolds In August" explores the conflicts that arise when a poor, but employed Black South African is confronted by a jobless compatriot.

"An Engine Of Revolution" — A profile of one of the least known founders of Modernism in painting, Gustave Courbet. Courbet was the first artist to reject the classical and allegorical traditions of his time (mid-19th Century) in favor of everyday life.

Saturday, Nov. 21, Repeated Nov. 22 — "Cathedral At Amiens" — A visualization of Francis Poulenc's "Concerto In G minor" for organ and strings. Performed by Jean Martinu and his orchestra, the music is brought to life with striking scenes of the Picardy region's landscape and the breathtaking height of the High Gothic cathedral at Amiens.

"La Sylphide" (Acts I & II) — Peter Schaufuss' recreation of Auguste Bournonville's classic version of Phillipe Taglioni's ballet of 1832. "La Sylphide" launched in the era of Romantic ballet—the marriage of reality and fantasy within the ballet narrative. A live performance from the London Coliseum, with the London Festival Ballet, stars Schaufuss as James, and Eva Evdokimova in the Marie Taglioni role of the sylph.

WEEK 4 — "AMERICA, WHERE ALL HAPPENS"

Hosted by Peter Strauss

Monday, Nov. 23, Repeated Nov. 24 — "A Music Lesson With Cathy Berberian" — A master class with the American singer who is one of the leading interpreters of 20th Century vocal music. Berberian guides three students in Mimi's Aria from "La Boheme," Messager's Aria from "Orpheus," a piece by her husband Luciano Berio, and also performs her own avant-garde composition, "Strip-sody."

"Roy Lichtenstein" — A documentary of the Pop artist, known for his enlarged copies of single frames from comic strips, often those depicting violent action and sentimental love.

Wednesday, Nov. 25, Repeated Nov. 26 — "Norman Rockwell's World ... An American Dream" — A profile of the late artist's life in Stockbridge, Mass. and a retrospective of his work from the 1920's to the 1970's.

Saturday, Nov. 28, Repeated Nov. 29 — "Concerto Barocco" — The New York City Ballet performing George Balanchine's "Concerto Barocco," a ballet in three movements set to Johann S. Bach's "Concerto in D minor for two violins," featuring principal dancers Patricia McBride, Carol Sumner and Peter Martins.

"New World Symphony" — Upon invitation Antonin Dvorak came to America for three years to serve as director of the National Conservatory of Music in New York City. He composed some of his finest works in America, including "From the New World," a symphony in the nostalgic key of E minor influenced by Black melodies and his homesickness for Prague. Edward Cupak, the Karlovy Vary Symphony Orchestra and the Czechoslovak State Song and Dance ensemble are directed by Vladimir Sis.

WEEK 5 —

"OF PLAYS AND PLAYWRIGHTS"
Hosted by Estelle Parsons

Monday, Nov. 30, Repeated Dec. 1, 4 — "Lillian Hellman" — Interviews, film clips, scenes from her plays and photographs depict the life and work of Ms. Hellman, America's great playwright. Ms. Hellman discusses her plays and the tragic effect which Senator McCarthy's Committee on Un-American Activities had on her life.

"Vincent" — A one man show starring Leonard Nimoy, of "Star Trek" fame, as Theo, Vincent Van Gogh's devoted brother. The play, taking place one week after the artist's death, is a sort of eulogy by which Theo reveals the true Vincent, the one the public never knew.

Wednesday, Dec. 2, Repeated Dec. 3 — "Certainties And Doubts" — March 1898, Henrik Ibsen turned 70, and was acclaimed as the greatest writer Norway had ever known, the world's leading dramatist. This documentary details the dialogue between Ibsen's public fame and private guilt with segments from his plays, his 70th birthday celebration, and three voices that debate the virtues and vices of Ibsen.

Saturday, Dec. 5, Repeated Dec. 6 — "Macbeth" — Philip Anglim, who starred in Broadway's "The Elephant Man," stars as MacBeth, and Maureen Anderman plays Lady MacBeth in Shakespeare's classic. The production marks the directorial debut of Sarah Caldwell, conductor/director of the Boston Opera. Kirk Browning, who has directed over 700 television programs, is television director.

DCB's music is heavenly

It would come as no surprise to early astronaut Wally Schirra if the Detroit Concert Band, headquartered on Mack Avenue in Grosse Pointe Woods, should become the first musical organization to perform in space.

A few years ago, after hearing the DCB at Ford Auditorium, Schirra announced: "I was told this music would be out of this world. Having been out of this world, I agree."

'The Mousetrap' on Liggett stage

By Susan Anslow
ULS

The University Liggett Players have been hard at work getting ready for their production of Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap," which goes on stage next week.

"The Mousetrap," which opens its 30th season in London next month, is one of Christie's best-known works. Not quite so well-known is the fact that between 1920 and her death in 1976 at the age of 85, Agatha Christie wrote 68 novels, 17 plays and more than 100 short stories.

In addition to her popular detective stories and thrillers, Christie also wrote romantic novels, under the pseudonym of Mary Westmacott. In fact Christie said she enjoyed writing these romances more than she did the others, although they never gained widespread popularity.

"The Mousetrap" certainly has gained popularity throughout the years and can be seen in Liggett's new auditorium Nov. 6 and 7 at 8 p.m. and on Nov. 8 at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 and can be purchased in advance or at the door.

CFT premiers Kappa's latest

On Oct. 30 and 31 and Nov. 6 and 7 the Classic Film Theatre will present the Midwest Premiere of Frank Zappa's latest feature film "Baby Snakes."

Zappa, the musical mastermind behind the Mothers of Invention, came on the music scene in 1965 with his first album "Freak Out." Since that time he has released 34 albums and three films: 200 Motels, A Token of His Extreme and now Baby Snakes.

In Zappa's own words "Baby Snakes" is a tribute to people who do stuff that is not normal, for without the activities of the not normal people in every town, life would be boring. Baby Snakes is a movie for people who don't particularly enjoy car crashes and farous personages cavorting in the midst of multi-billion dollar splendor."

The independent film was produced, financed, directed, edited and scored by Frank Zappa. It is highlighted by the incredible clay animation of long-time Zappa collaborator Bruce Bickford who has spent years animating lumps of clay and making them do unbelievable things. The sharply filmed concert footage is performed by Zappa, Adrian Belew, Terry Bozzio, Tommy Mars, Peter Wolf, Pat O'Hearn and Ed Mann.

Library features November films

On Thursday, Nov. 5, in the Exhibition Room of the Central Library, "Il Deserto Rosso" (The Red Desert) will be shown.

Written and directed by Michelangelo Antonioni (better known for his film "Blow-Up"), this is a distinctive photographic work which uses subtle color in an urban landscape. The setting is an Italian industrial city where places and things are more interesting than people. Starring Richard Harris and Monica Vitti, it is a tale about a young woman having difficulty adjusting to life after a nervous breakdown. This selection is subtitled. There is no admission charge.

The Saturday Family Matinee for this month will be on Nov. 14 at 2:30 p.m., featuring the arch musical, "The Little Prince," with music by Lerner and Lowe.

Based on the best-selling novel of the same title by Antoine de St. Exupery, a small boy leaves the asteroid he rules to learn of life on earth. Ninety minutes of outstanding performances are provided by Gene Wilder, Bob Fosse and Richard Kiley. All ages are welcome free of charge.

B&E try in City

A house on University Place was the scene of an attempted burglary early Sunday, Oct. 25, according to police records.

City police report that entry into the home was attempted through the basement and first floor windows. The screens were off the basement windows, however none were broken. Windows on the first floor were locked and still intact.

Hawthorne hit by burglars

Grosse Pointe Woods police are investigating two breakings and entering that occurred between Saturday, Oct. 17 and Sunday, Oct. 18 on Hawthorne.

Woods police were called to a Hawthorne home about 1:10 p.m. Sunday by a woman who said she returned home to find it had been entered. Upon investigating police said a kitchen window was forced open and the home was searched by the culprits. An ON TV box was reported missing.

While checking for neighbors who might have witnessed the burglary, police found another home had been entered through a kitchen window. The resident was not home at the time.

Actor Robert Mitchum has composed music. An oratorio of his was performed at the Hollywood Bowl.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL COUNTY ELECTION

WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN

Tuesday, Nov. 3, 1981

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN:

Notice is hereby given that a Special Election will be held in every Election Precinct in the County of Wayne, State of Michigan from 7:00 A.M. O'clock in the forenoon until 8:00 P.M. O'clock in the afternoon, eastern standard time, to vote on the following propositions:

AN ELECTOR MAY VOTE YES OR NO ON EITHER, OR BOTH, OF THE CHARTERS. A charter shall be declared adopted by the electors if it receives more yes votes than no votes. If both charters receive more yes votes than no votes, the charter which receives the higher number of yes votes shall be declared adopted.

BRIEF CHARTER EXPLANATIONS

Both proposed County Charters, among other things, provide for:

1) A reduction of the number of County Commissioners from 27 to 15.

2) The elimination of the Board of Auditors.

3) A balanced budget and an annual audit.

These proposed Charters are substantially the same except that "Proposal 1" provides for a county executive elected by the voters of Wayne County; and "Proposal 2" provides for a chief administrative officer appointed by the Board of County Commissioners.

COUNTY CHARTER PROPOSAL No. 1

Shall the proposed home rule charter for the County of Wayne containing the provision for an elected county executive be adopted?

YES NO

COUNTY CHARTER PROPOSAL No. 2

Shall the proposed home rule charter for the County of Wayne containing the provision for an appointed chief administrative officer be adopted?

YES NO

JAMES R. KILLEEN
WAYNE COUNTY CLERK

It's time for the county to change

When Grosse Pointers go to the polls Tuesday, the major issue confronting them will be the charter proposal designed to reform Wayne County government and make it more accountable to the public.

Grosse Pointe's Barbara Gattorn and the other 26 charter commissioners have fashioned a charter that for the first time will give a single, accountable executive the authority to reorganize and manage county government through his power over the budget and personnel policies.

While the ballot will offer voters two versions of the charter, one with an elected county executive and the second with an appointive administrative officer, this newspaper favors the elected official who could provide the political leadership needed to reorganize and restructure county government.

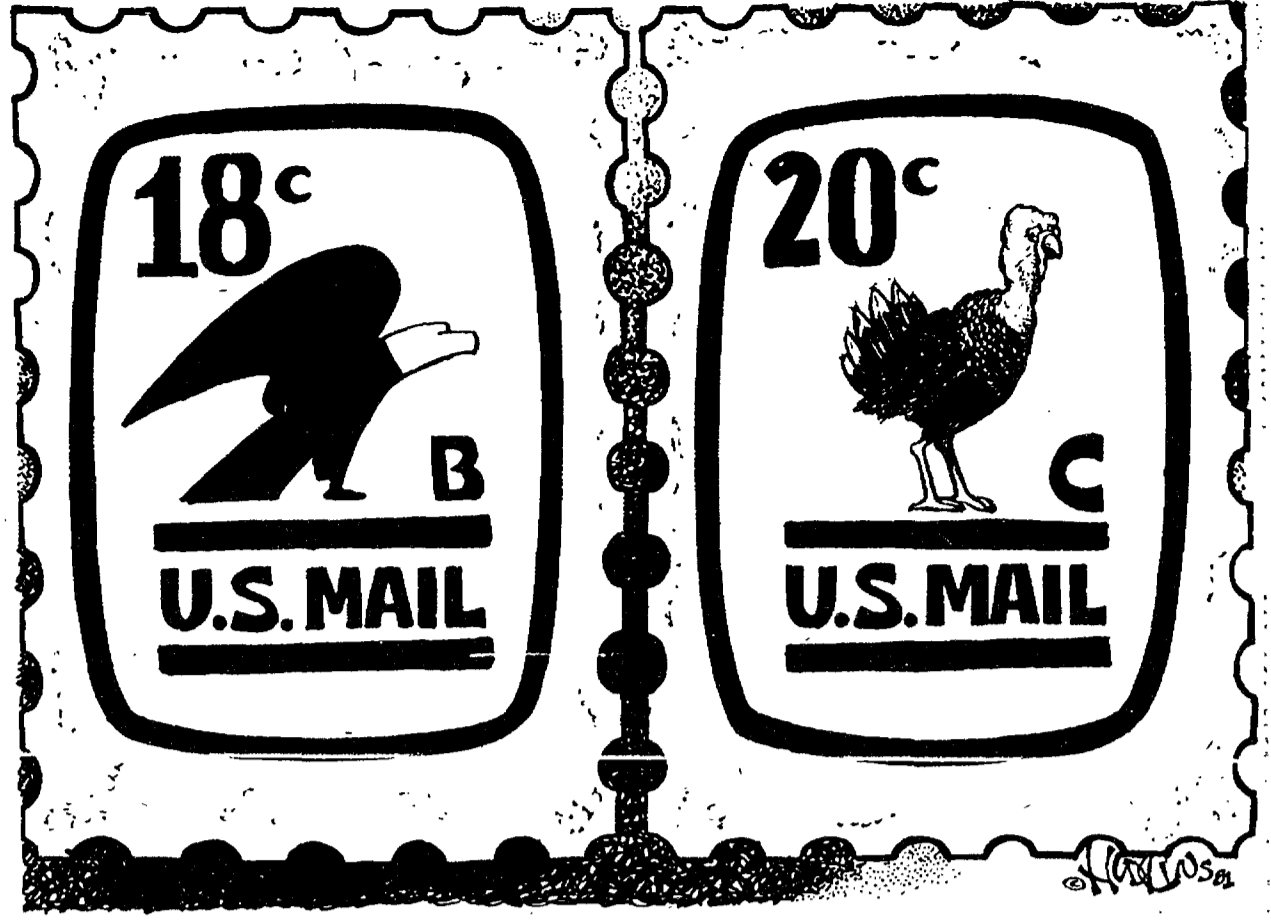

Under the charter proposal, the chief executive officer would take over most of the administrative duties now handled by the board of county commissioners. The board, in turn, would be reduced in size from 27 to 15 members, would give up its present administrative duties and would become chiefly a legislative body with power to approve all contracts, confirm appointments by the executive officer and appoint an auditor general.

These changes would make it clear that the executive officer would be in charge of administrative matters and thus would be the person to be held accountable for administrative decisions. At the present time, it is difficult to determine responsibility with credit or blame being allocated among 27 board members. In short, nobody minds the store for county citizens.

As most people know, the county has been teetering on the brink of bankruptcy for years. Yet that hasn't stopped the present board from playing politics in making appointments, granting contracts and making other decisions. The charter gives the voters of the county the opportunity to obtain more control over their county government, restore it to fiscal sanity and thus improve the efficiency of its services. In the long run, it also should save money for taxpayers.

Nobody pretends the charter is perfect. The Legislature made certain that it wouldn't be when Lansing bowed to the political power of some elected officials and the road commission in drafting charter legislation. But the point is the charter should bring about major improvement. It offers the opportunity for reform that will even bring the road commission to heel. In view of their experience with the present form of government, voters certainly have the right to say it's time for a change.

Plenty of choices in cities

Contests for public office in the Grosse Pointes as in other communities usually resolve themselves into confrontations between the "ins" and the "outs." The "outs" usually have two choices about the way in which they can conduct their campaigns. They can either join forces with the "ins" as a whole and become almost indistinguishable from those running for reelection. Or they can run against the "ins" and the so-called political Establishment. The "ins" usually run on their records, defend what they've done and promise even better things for the future because of their experience.

The most visible examples of the "outs" who are running against the Establishment in next Tuesday's elections in the Pointes are found in the contests for mayor in the Woods and the Park. In the Park, Douglas G. Graham, councilman for 14 years, is pitted against Anthony J. Spada, a councilman for two years. Graham is endorsed by Matthew Patterson who is voluntarily stepping down as mayor after 17 years of service and perhaps that explains Spada's comment that he is running against the Establishment in the Park. In the Woods, the example is even more noticeable. Mayor George S. Freeman, mayor for the past two years and a council member for 10 years before that, is running for reelection against Timothy Mucciante who, true to the tradition of a candidate out of office, is challenging the Establishment as well as his opponent.

Normally, most voters tend to vote for the reelection of incumbents if they are satisfied with their records. In other words, in politics as in other matters, people do not tend to favor change just for the sake of change. The voters need incentive to risk change if they are satisfied with the status quo. The News agrees with that view. So in both of these contests for mayor, we think it is up to the challengers of the Establishment to show that they can do a better job or prove there are flaws in the records of their opponents.

In these days of continuing inflation, recession, unemployment and concern about high property taxes, we sometimes wonder why any one is willing to undertake an elective job. It is to the credit of the Pointes that such a highly qualified group of people has offered to take on the burdens of office with little expectation of financial or other reward except the satisfaction of helping improve the community.

So before expressing its own choices, the News does wish to tip its hat to all of the candidates for public office in the Pointes. In picking and choosing among them, the News simply expresses its own opinion which may or may not be representative of the majority opinion on election day. But we do regard it as part of the responsibility of a community newspaper to express its views about candidates and issues as it sees and understands them from its position as an observer on the political sidelines.

The endorsements were made after interviewing the mayoral candidates, discussing specific issues with them and checking their records as well as their responses to the League of Women Voter questionnaire. On this basis, the News endorses DOUG GRAHAM for mayor of the Park and the reelection of GEORGE FREEMAN as mayor of the Woods.

We have no specific criticism of the opposing candidates and, in fact, think they deserve commendation for running for office and thus forcing a better discussion of the issues than would have been possible if there had been no competition. Both communities can profit from increased discussion of the issues and the challenges raised to current policies.

Graham possesses impressive credentials. A University of Michigan business school and law school graduate, he has been a strong force on the council during his 14 years of service. He is concerned about maintaining city services in a period of inflation, cutbacks in state and federal aid, and protests at high property taxes. But he believes the Park is a quality community and wants to keep it that way. He supports efforts to set up a district court in the Pointes as well as a plan to unite the police and fire dispatch service for all the Pointes in order to save funds and manpower. He says the city's deficit has been reduced and will be wiped out by year's end.

In the Woods, Mayor Freeman defends his administration and says it benefits from excellent communication between the citizens on one hand and the mayor and council on the other. He believes good teamwork between the council and the mayor have made possible the continued improvement of city services, such as ambulance service and police protection. He sees the Woods as a model community made up chiefly of single-family dwellings and he wants to keep it that way. He sees no problem with the present city budget even though taxes have been kept at a low level.

With three positions to be filled on the Woods council, the News believes the preferred candidates are the two incumbents seeking reelection. One is JOHN SABOL, who has eight years of council service and is a Chrysler Corp. management employe on the cost planning staff, and THOMAS J. FAHRNER, who is employed by Pullman Industries as a sales engineer and who has served on the council for four years.

In addition, we find three other candidates well qualified. They are DOUGLAS B. MUNRO, director of procurement for the Research and Development Center of the U.S. Army Tank-Automotive command; JEAN RICE, a past chairwoman of the Grosse Pointe Woods Beautification and Tree Commissions as well as of the Grosse Pointe Shade Tree Council, and FREDERICK MADDOCK, who was elected councilman in 1961 and 1963, and is a practicing attorney in Mount Clemens.

In the Park, the News regards as the preferred council candidates JOHN H. FILDEW, an incumbent who is an attorney in private practice, and CARROLL F. EVOLA, a homemaker with business experience who has been active in community organizations.

Other candidates who are well qualified in the News' view are PATRICIA MORAN FORSTER, a partner and treasurer of Organizational Consultants, Inc., who also has been involved in community organizations, and MARK VALENTE III, a young law student who also works for a law firm.

In the Farms, the News regards as the preferred council candidates JOSEPH L. FROMM, a councilman since 1973 who is assistant treasurer of American Motors Corp., and W. JAMES MAST, a former councilman with eight years of service who is a designer and builder of custom homes.

This newspaper also sees three other candidates as well qualified. They are GAIL KAESS, who has two years of service on the council and is active in community organizations; JACK M. CUDLIP, a council member for eight years who is vice-president of McLouth Steel Corp., and NANCY WAUGAMAN, who has served for 12 years on the council and often is an effective watchdog on community issues.

The sixth candidate, Andrew W. Dahl, is obviously involved in the community and possesses excellent qualifications. He is executive vice-president of St. Clair Health Services Corp., which is the parent organization of St. John Hospital. But Mayor James Dingeman serves the same organization as a consultant. Important as the hospital is to the Pointes, we doubt there should be two people with such close connections with that institution on the Farms council.

One View from the Capitol

The road to recovery

By William R. Bryant, Jr.
State Representative

The State of Michigan is headed for economic disaster unless Governor Milliken's recovery package is passed. Massive unemployment, inflated welfare rolls and the loss of business and industry to competing states are conditions that must be changed as soon as possible. Today I am calling upon my Democratic colleagues to join with the 46 Republican members in the House to give Michigan a chance for the future.

The Governor's eight-bill package was introduced in the House on Thursday, Oct. 22. I urge citizens to contact legislators who do not support the recovery plan and lobby them for the good of the state.

The action we take in the next two months will profoundly affect the lives of every Michigan citizen. It could mean the difference between a job or no hope for a job; a chance at a decent education, or further school closings; a healthy business climate or a stagnant economy that puts Michigan at a further competitive disadvantage.

If the Legislature does not pass the Governor's plan, our opportunities for renewed economic vitality will be diminished and perhaps die.

The influences of organized labor on the House Taxation and Labor Committees may doom the bills before they even get a hearing. Therefore, a strong legislative strategy must be devised to assure passage. We have to see that our standing committee system works, and works well, and that these essential bills do not languish and die because of the biases of individual committee members.

The cornerstone of this package is reform of the workers and unemployment compensation systems. In the past, labor leaders have opposed major revision of these laws because they felt the more liberal interpretation favored their members. But with 500,000 people out of work — and most of them union members — it is unreasonable to continue opposing reform of these laws. They are costing union members tens of thousands of jobs, while, proportionately, only a handful of union members are benefiting.

I want to assure a fair hearing of these bills — a fair shake for those union members out of work.

The Governor's plan is aimed at stimulating the state's critically depressed economy through a detailed legislative recovery program. Included is a strict new definition of disability to replace the current definitions drawn from precedents established in court cases; full coordination of workers' compensation benefits with other benefits to avoid duplication; the creation of a $100 million Economic Development Fund financed by revenue bonds that would provide loans for research and development facilities, industrial projects and high technology projects.

Changes in the Single Business Tax would remove payments for unemployment and workers' compensation insurance from the SBT tax base, and increase the exemption from $40,000 to $60,000. Other bills would encourage foreign investment in Michigan.

We are running out of time in this state. We no longer have the luxury of playing partisan politics with Michigan's economy.

The year of the handicapped?

To the Editor:

Much to my surprise and disappointment, on the evening of Sept. 14, I was rejected by a trainer (named Ray) at a pre-season orientation meeting for dog owners planning to enroll in the 10-week Dog Obedience course at Grosse Pointe North High School under the co-sponsorship of the Southeast Michigan Obedience Training Club and the Grosse Pointe Adult Education program.

The reason for rejection? As this trainer explained it, that, because of a paralyzed left hand and a large dog (whom I frequently walk), I would not be eligible to begin the training course.

Trying to swallow this information, I left and immediately took five giant steps backwards from my personal goal and medical instructions to be as self-sufficient as possible.

The purpose of this letter is not to be accepted in that particular class but only to inform others of the incident. In this, perhaps, I can prevent other "inconvenienced" people experiencing the humiliation and demoralization I encountered on the evening of Sept. 14, at Grosse Pointe North High School.

Pointe has three historic markers

To the Editor:

The Oct. 15 issue of the News described the historical marker (recently dedicated) at the site of the Wardwell House as the second state marker in Grosse Pointe. Not so. The first and second markers were installed almost simultaneously four years ago. One, established on the site of the Grosse Pointe Academy, acknowledged the oldest educational site in the community dating back to 1885. The second, erected on Windmill Pointe Drive, commemorated the site of an Indian massacre.

In the future, let's hope there will be many more markers as residents come to appreciate Grosse Pointe's historical value. Mary Fran Galvin, Grosse Pointe Farms

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

Many Grosse Pointers are involved in the concert to be presented by the Stockholm Boys' Choir a week from tomorrow, Friday, Nov. 6, at Christ Church Cranbrook as a benefit for the Detroit-Swedish Council-sponsored Carl and Olga Milles Scholarship. Mrs. Charles J. Koebel, of Shelden Road, is honorary chairman of the evening. Mrs. Walter W. Wood, the Council's scholarship chairman, and Mrs. James D. Tracy, both of The Pointe, are general co-chairmen.

Forty Choir members, ages nine to 21, arrive in New York tomorrow and will perform in various parts of the United States before returning to Stockholm Nov. 20. They will be coming to Detroit from Cincinnati, and leave Detroit for Chicago the day following the Christ Church Cranbrook concert.

The Choir has 150 members in all and is divided into four groups: First Year Members, Sopranos, Concert Choir and Voice Change Group. The Concert Choir, consisting of 24 sopranos and 16 counter tenors, tenors and basses, is the group that will be touring the United States.

Honorary president of the Stockholm Boys' Choir is Queen Silvia of Sweden; no wonder, then, that the Choir performs often on royal occasions, weddings and baptisms. Its repertoire includes works by Bach, Haydn, Schubert, Britten, Handel, Bruckner, Grieg, Stenhammar, Alfvén and other noted composers. Its director is Roland Nilsson. Organist is Per Tunarf, who has been on tour with the Choir, sponsored by the City of Stockholm, for many years.

General admission to the Choir's concert at Christ Church Cranbrook is $5. Tickets may be obtained through the Mesdames Koebel, Wood and Tracy, through Marvin R. Anderson, of South Deeplands Road, Sweden's Consul in Detroit, or by contacting Signe Karlstrom at 399-8166.

Another Christ Church, Another Program

All Saints' Sunday will be celebrated at Christ Church Detroit Nov. 1 at 10:30 a.m. with a performance by Hugo Distler's morality play "Totentanz" (Dance of Death) in an English translation by Grosse Pointe North High School's Dr. Brigitte Rauer, adapting the characters originated by the 15th century German poet and mystic, Angelus Silesius, to 20th century concepts.

The play had been revised and edited many times over the centuries when, in 1934, the young organist-composer Hugo Distler (1908-1932), inspired by the stained glass windows of the Marienkirche in Lubeck, Germany, wrote the musical settings for Silesius' short verses. Johannes Klocking, a friend of Distler, wrote the dialogue. The work in English was edited by Malcolm and Marian Johns, of Rivard Boulevard, and given its first United States performance in 1967.

Malcolm, now organist-choirmaster at Christ Church Detroit, is in charge of the music for this Sunday's "Totentanz" (Continued on Page 4B)

All we want for Christmas . . .

The young man at Santa's far right obviously has his two front teeth by now, for the picture was taken last year at Assumption Cultural Center's Annual Christmas Fantasy Bazaar, but we predict there'll be more toothless smiles—and fanciful stares—at this year's Assumption holiday extravaganza. It's set for Nov. 13 through 15, Friday through Sunday, at the Center on Marter Road at the edge of Grosse Pointe Woods. Friday and Saturday hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday, the bazaar, featuring many handmade items among its unique gift selections, delicious Greek luncheons and dinners and a Children's Only shop for the little ones, will be open from noon to 4 p.m.

Toys are off to England . . .

Grosse Pointe's DONALD A. LINDOW (right), president of the Detroit Historical Society, and Detroit Historical Museum staff member ED MILLER crate a child-size, 1920 Dodge pedal car to prepare it for shipping to England. Toys from the Detroit Historical Museum and its affiliate, the Detroit Antique Toy Museum, a collection owned by Lawrence Wilkinson, will be exhibited at the Bethnal Green Museum, a branch of London's prestigious Victoria and Albert Museum, devoted to toys and dolls, starting Dec. 2. The Detroit toys, 170 in number, valued at more than $100,000, will tour Great Britain as good will ambassadors from the Motor City. The trip was made possible through a grant from the Detroit Historical Society, and under British sponsorship of the American Museum in Britain and the John Judkyn Memorial.

Britain crates include a rare plush Teddy Bear (c. 1905), a handmade pine doll cradle, a toy stove made by the Detroit Stove Works (c. 1870) and the Dodge pedal car pictured above.

Also included are a complete Schoenhut Circus, a model of Fort Sumter including soldiers, flags and cannon, numerous cast iron mechanical banks and a broad representation of American electric trains by Lionel, American Flyer, Reed and Ives.

Many of the toys which will be shown in London were on view at the Detroit Historical Museum Nov. 26, 1979, through June 9, 1980, in a "Toys of Yesteryear" exhibit. Outstanding pieces in the bound-for-

Shops galore at St. Matthews

Is it that time of year already? Christmas shopping time approaches and what a better way to enjoy a pleasant experience than browsing during St. Matthew's sixth Holiday Boutique to be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 6, 7, and 8.

An "old Fashioned Christmas" is this year's theme for the boutique, which will be held in St. Matthew's Auditorium at Whittier and Harper. To entice the eager shoppers are hundreds of handcrafted items, beautifully designed and personalized. Over 300 men and women have contributed their talents for this presentation, which starts each day at 10 a.m. The boutique closes at 8 p.m. Nov. 6; 6 p.m. Nov. 7, and 2 p.m. Nov. 8.

Of special interest are the five new shops this year. The Bag It Shoppe features handpainted pencil cases and corduroy "puff" purses, and the Personalized Shoppe will have "resident artists" on hand to personalize their unique crafts.

Mrs. Virginia Adams, of Lakepointe Avenue, manager of Meldrum and Smith, feels her booth, the Et Cetera Shoppe, offers fresh opportunities for the artistic shopper with its matted oils and watercolors and original notepaper. Volunteer Chairperson, Mrs. Carter Billiu, of Westchester Road, urges all to visit the Mothers' Apronstrings Shoppe for handquilted and appliqued Mother-Daughter sets. Not to be slighted is the new Skirting Around Shoppe which has wrap-arounds for everyone.

Naturally, the always popular old favorites are back again this year. Dolls and Toys has over 90 dolls — each exquisitely dressed; while Chef's Corner offers cookie jars and raffia chefs. Plaid flannel wreaths and Christmas mouse doorknobs highlight St. Nick's Nook.

Even the Raffle has something — an I Love Detroit basket with articles made or produced in the Greater Detroit area, including a Stroh's Bar clock and certificates to area restaurants.

Chairpersons Barbara Donahue, Amy Motyka and Pat Trojanowski suggest you come early and stay late. The St. Matthew's Holiday Boutique promises to be a delightful shopping treat for all.

St. John Armenian to present bazaar

Moving is a learning experience for infants

Everything babies do teaches them something about themselves and the world. Moving is no exception.

Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter, reports that as soon as a baby is born he experiences the pull of gravity. His body, head, arms and legs now have weight, and he must learn to live in a world where everything he does is affected by his weight and the weight of the objects he handles.

To learn to live with gravity, a baby begins moving his arms and legs. His head weighs about one-fourth as much as his whole body; that's why he doesn't move it too much at first. The early fist clenching, arm waving and leg kicking a baby does are mostly reflex responses to hunger or discomfort. When he has been fed he usually goes back to sleep. But there are a few periods each day that the very young baby spends in just moving.

As a baby develops from week to week, these moving periods become longer. The movements become stronger and more frequent. The kicks and waves may seem aimless but the baby is busy learning how his legs feel when he kicks, when he stiffens them, when he stretches.

He learns how his arms feel as they change position. He learns that when he moves against gravity he must work harder than when he moves with it. He begins to learn that there is a difference between himself and everything else in the world that is not himself.

As a baby kicks and waves, a constant stream of sensations is fed back into his brain from his muscles, joints, tendons and skin. These are sorted out, matched with similar sensations and filed. This is the basis for the building of coordinated skills like reaching, grasping, crawling, creeping, walking and running.

Exercise periods are good for a baby. Dress him in loose clothing or just a diaper and give him freedom to move. Gentle roughhousing will encourage activity. Roll him gently from side to side. Gently hold one foot, then the other, then both feet so he must pull or push to free himself. Resist him gently—but don't frustrate him. Talk to him all the while and make a happy game of it.

Moving is learning for a baby. Not only does he learn from the movement itself, but he learns that when he moves purposefully he can make something happen. This is a giant step toward gaining confidence in his ability to change.

For more information on the physical and social development of children up to the age of 6, write to Growing Child, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Ind. 47902. When writing, include your child's birthdate.

Ticker Club tots . . .

Two of the little members of the Ticker Club are MICHAEL TESTA and ALISON MOFFET, both of The Pointe, both of whom have undergone cardiac surgery at Children's Hospital of Michigan and now, thanks to such a place as CHM, can look forward to playing and being just like "all the other children," to growing up to live normal adult lives. Ticker Club, Inc., a non-profit organization founded in November of 1979 to support CHM's Cardiology Services, will hold its second annual Heart to Heart dinner dance benefit Saturday, Nov. 14, at the Troy Hilton. The fun begins at 7:30 p.m. Guest celebrities who plan to be there include Marilyn Turner and John Kelly, Ron Clemmer, Colleen Burcar, Jerry Hodak, Byron and Jo-Jo MacGregor and Joe Weaver. The evening offers a good menu, good dancing to music by the Dan Yessian Arrangement and an array of prizes. Tickets, at $30 per person, are available by calling Community Relations, Children's Hospital, 494-5373.

Ticker Club's two goals—financial support of the Cardiac Services and parental support for families of cardiac patients—are equally important. To date, the club has raised nearly $25,000, designated by the Cardiac Department to purchase equipment for cardio-vascular surgery and the Intensive Care Unit.

Ticker Club seeks to raise $22,000, for additional diagnostic equipment, this year.

Recent March of Dimes statistics show that eight out of every 1,000 children born in the United States are born with heart defects. Children's Hospital, with its fine staff of specialists, has the largest Pediatric Cardiology Department in Michigan. It also boasts a mortality rate as low or lower than any Cardiac Service in the nation.

Last year, of the 8,041 children who received cardiac evaluation at Children's, 483 had heart catheterizations and 421—more than one per day—underwent cardiac operations.

Ticker Club's fund-raising efforts include the annual dinner dance and an art auction as well as various craft sales and a fashion show. Another portion of the club's income is realized through memorials and private donations.

The majority of Ticker Club members are parents and relatives of cardiac children, but anyone concerned about children with heart defects is most welcome to join.

Tito-Smith rites read in August

A reception in the Renaud Road home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Tito, followed the late August wedding of Barbara Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Smith, of Harper Woods, and Douglas Anthony Tito.

Dr. Robert Ward presided at the 3 o'clock ceremony, Saturday, August 29, at Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church.

The bride chose a Priscilla of Boston gown of white silk organza which featured a Queen Anne neckline, short sleeves, an Empire waistline and appliqued skirt. Alcon lace accented the bodice of the gown and the bride's fingertip lace veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of baby's-breath, Sonia roses, miniature carnations and ivy.

Honor maid Bridget Jane Smith, a sister of the bride, wore a full length gown of pale coral and carried a bouquet of daisies and Sonia roses. Dressed in short white eyelet dresses and carrying baskets of rose petals were flowergirls Amie Beth Humphries, of Detroit and Kara Marie Groesbeck, niece of the bridegroom.

Christopher Emil Tito served as best man for his brother. Ushers were

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Tito

Mark Mueller and Anthony Misereadino.

The mother of the bride wore a street length jacket dress and carried one long-stemmed Sonia rose. The bridegroom's mother chose a soft green print, street length dress and she, too, carried one long-stemmed Sonia rose.

The newlyweds vacationed in Newport Beach and San Francisco, Calif., and will make their home in Ann Arbor, where the bridegroom is a junior economics major at the University of Michigan.

Still at Church: Children Helping Children

The Sunday School children of the Grosse Pointe Congregational and American Baptist Church have recently "spiritually adopted" a second child through the Foster Parents Mission Club, headquartered on Moravian Drive in Fraser: an organization dedicated to aiding destitute children in underdeveloped nations of the Third World.

She is seven-year-old Claudia Bobitha Hasdak, of Dinajpur, Bangladesh. Claudia's parents are both living but the family income is only about $40 per month, which her father earns as a clerk, and this is not enough to provide proper care and schooling for his four children. And this is where the Grosse Pointe Congregational and American Baptist Sunday School children come in: the $8 a month they donate towards Claudia's care, plus $5 per year to help defray office expenses in Fraser (that makes for an annual total of $101—or less than 28 cents per day!) will help insure that she is fed, clothed and, hopefully, receives at least a basic education.

The adoption support fee is purposely kept at the barest minimum so that a greater number of children will receive some supplemental aid. The Foster Parents Mission Club operates, literally, on a shoestring. The idea is to get the money out to children who need it, through the PIME Missionaries who are dedicated to helping those who need help, regardless of race, color or creed.

No funds are spent to hire administrators, secretaries, social workers or interpreters in their mission fields so, although the Pointe Sunday School children can write to Claudia (and the "adopted" children do appreciate mail, which is translated for them as best as possible, and they are told that there is someone far away who cares for them), they can't be promised anything in the way of correspondence or progress reports in return.

That's all right with the Pointe Sunday school children. It's the helping that counts, not the acknowledging of it in a formal fashion. They know that Claudia is their "adopted" sister, and Claudia knows . . . it's the same relationship the Pointe Sunday School children established a while back when they "adopted" their Foster Parents Mission Club "brother," an 11-year-old Thai boy. They're still helping him.

Incidentally, there's no provision in that shoestring club budget for paid advertising. The club gets its message out through stories such as this and, although there are presently about 4,600 youngsters adopted by some 3,100 individual and group members, hundreds of other needy children from Bangladesh, Burma, India, Thailand and West Africa remain on the waiting lists. Complete details on the program may be obtained by contacting the Foster Parents Mission Club, 35750 Moravian Drive, Fraser, Mich. 48026. All donations are tax deductible.

Lucky LINC Casino Opens November 7

Interested in taking off on a trip for two to Las Vegas? How about a close-to-home evening of games, good times, food and drink? Come to the Lucky LINC Casino Saturday, Nov. 7, from 7 p.m. to 1 p.m. at the Friendship House on Kelly Road, north of Seven Mile Road in Harper Woods, and even if you don't leave with the grand prize Las Vegas tickets in your hand, we guarantee you'll have yourselves a ball!

This is the second year for the casino, held as a fund raiser for Operation LINC (Linking Individuals to Needs in the Community). Proceeds go toward maintaining the non-profit, volunteer organization, headquartered in the Northeast Guidance Center building on East Warren Avenue, that links donors of goods, services and funds to numerous Wayne County agencies.

A $25-per-person, tax deductible donation covers an open bar and buffet dinner, entrance to the General Store where guests may use their winnings to "purchase" prizes donated by local merchants and an auction scheduled for just before midnight, when the Las Vegas trip will be awarded. Western dress is not obligatory—but it's kind of fun.

Information on tickets (they're limited, so early reservations are advised) may be obtained by contacting either of the Lucky LINC Casino chairmen: Sue Stein, 885-9422, or Vickie Fuger, 885-3559.

Kappa Alpha Theta group makes plans

The Spring of 1981 was the birth of the Grosse Pointe Kappa Alpha Theta Alumni III. Twenty-five very interested and enthusiastic Theta's attended a salad dinner at the home of Ann Ryan, Mrs. Louise Simpson, Alumnae District President, was present to cover the guidelines of an alumni club.

Four social events were selected including a cocktail party, Meadowbrook tour and dinner, tour of Stroh's/Canadian Club facilities and progressive dinner. The officers elected for 1981-1982 were president—Trudy Rhoades, copresident—Mary Szymanski, treasurer—Ann Weidig, secretary—Jean Skulstad.

The first "getting to know each other" social event was the cocktail party on Sept. 19. This was planned by Mary Szymanski, Susan Carpenter, Susan Howe, Susan Sadler and Gabby Pluhar. Formal invitations were sent to 60 Theta alumni.

The upcoming events are planned for Nov. 20 at the Meadowbrook Hall. The Stroh's/Canadian Club tour will take place in February. The Progressive Dinner in May of 1982 will celebrate the first anniversary of the group. Any new Theta's in the area who have not been contacted should contact Jean Skulstad at 881-7288.

Pointe office personnel honored

Mrs. Geist thanked Public Schools and Libraries and presented them with a small gift.

Douglas Korney, attorney, was also elected at the meeting to represent the Association at upcoming negotiations.

Among students who have been accepted as students for the 1981-82 academic year at Interlochen Arts Academy is SHANNON YOUNG, daughter of MR. and MRS. THOMAS I. YOUNG, of Loraine Road. Shannon is currently a Grosse Pointe South High School student.

Fear is very real to small children

One cannot expect a small child to overcome fear just because someone says there is nothing to be afraid of.

Fear of a swimming pool full of water is a case in point, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter. Nothing is more certain to produce lasting fear of water than a parent's determination that his or her child will overcome fear of getting in the pool—immediately.

Such a fear is not a shameful thing to be forced out into the open and conquered. Water is a known quantity to the child — but it has been known up to now in the limited amounts of the bathtub or puddle. A pool is a new, large, and to him or her, seemingly endless amount of water. It is different. He or she wants to approach it gradually, to explore it on his or her own terms and in his or her own good time.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information on the social and physical development of children from birth to six years old, write to Growing Child, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, Ind. 47902. It's Assistance League Christmas Mart time again

The Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League is hoping to make Christmas shopping more pleasant than ever this year.

The League's second annual Christmas Mart is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 2, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Tuesday, Nov. 3, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Science Hall of the hospital.

To lend a helping hand to Mart-bound shoppers, the League has arranged shuttle bus service during the daytime hours and valet parking in the evening. Chairman Mrs. Leo A. Marx notes that a blue bus will pick up shoppers who park in the City lot at Jefferson and University Place and whisk them to the hospital on the two sale days, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. On opening day, when a wine and cheese reception is one of the evening attractions, valet parking will be in effect from 4:30 p.m. until closing.

All 280 members of the Assistance League will be involved in the Christmas Mart, expanded to two days this year because of its success last year. Gift Shop Co-chairmen Mrs. Hamilton Kotcher and Mrs. Phillip J. Meathe traveled to Chicago late in the summer to buy merchandise especially for the Mart.

Every ornamental object imaginable, including Christmas wrappings, brass and crystal accessories, Christmas table arrangements, Harbor Sweets chocolates, handmade clowns and toys, Nao and Zaphir (Lladro-designed and owned) figurines, holiday cocktail napkins and towels — they'll all be there, displayed on beautiful Jacobson props. Green-covered, ribbon-trimmed display tables will line the Science Hall, set off by a beautiful, hand-wrought Christmas tree contributed by Mrs. Victor Breidenbach and available for sale to some lucky buyer.

On Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, prior to the Mart volunteers will transform the business-like Science Hall into a Christmas fairland, complete with airborne angels outside the door. By Nov. 4, things will be back to normal.

Here is the Santa's Helpers list: Financial Chairman: Mrs. Neil Patterson.

Financial Assistants: Mrs. Eugene Fisher, Mrs. William Hurley, Miss Frances O'Reilly, Mrs. S. W. Sorensen, Jr.

Cash Register Advisory: Mrs. A. V. Kinner, Candy: Mrs. George H. Williams, Mrs. Max Stofor and Mrs. Harold Usdek. Cards and Stationery: Mrs. David Henes and Mrs. Arthur Schultz.

Bradford Mast weds in fall

A reception at the Red Run Golf Club in Royal Oak followed the mid-September wedding of Denise Faye Blum, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert B. Blum, of Southfield, and Bradford Hutson Mast, of Beaconsfield Avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. James Mast of Cloverly Road.

The Reverend Paul Aiello officiated at the 6:30 o'clock ceremony, Saturday, September 12, at the First Baptist Church of Detroit, for which the bride chose a white gown of Venice lace accented with pearls. The gown's Queen Ann bodice featured an organza Brussel insert.

Venice lace appliques accented the brides bishop sleeves and the scalloped hem of her Empire organza skirt. Venice lace appliques also covered the bride's Juliet cap, which held her chapel length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, Cymbidium orchid and variegated greens.

Mr. Mast asked William Couger, a former resident of The Park who now resides in Okemos, to act as best man. Ushers included Steve Waters, of Mt. Clemens, Kevin Mercer, of East Lansing, and Terry Mast, a brother of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford H. Mast

The mother of the bride wore a street length dress of mauve chiffon with watching accessories, tier towers were pink Sweetheart roses and stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother's dress was a cornflower blue chiffon. She carried silver accessories and her flowers were white Sweetheart roses with stephanotis.

Out-of-town guests included former Pointers Kathryn E. Mast, of Chicago, Ill., a sister of the bridegroom; Charles O. Watkins, of Orange City, Fla., the bridegroom's grandfather and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Horn-effer, of Kalamazoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Mast vacationed in the Pocono Mountains and will make their home in The Park.

Father Fred Schwehofer officiated at the 3 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception at Penna's Restaurant in Warren.

The former Miss Milam wore a Murray Hamburger gown of white chiffon trimmed in Schiffl lace. Her veil was a waltz length mantilla and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Dressed in rust Qiana gowns trimmed in white lace were honor matron Jennifer Milam, of Elkton, Md., sister-in-law of the bride, and bridesmaids Leslie Pickering and Lynne Stapleton, and Patricia Bradley, Colleen Goodwin and Margaret McGillen, all sisters of the bridegroom. They carried bouquets of assorted fall flowers.

Paul Kopitzke, of Venice, Fla., served as best man. Ushers included Timothy, Thomas and Sean McGillen, brothers of the bridegroom, and Russell Milam, brother of the bride. A nephew of the bride, Daniel Milam, served as ringbearer.

The mother of the bride wore a coffee-colored Qiana dress with a matching jacket. She chose a wrist corsage of yellow rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother's dress was a pale peach Qiana. She wore a Cymbidium orchid corsage.

Following a vacation trip to Washington, D.C., the newlyweds will make their home in Warren.

Pointer of Interest

By Peggy O'Connor

Just like Christmas itself, this year's Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Old Fashioned Christmas Fair is a family affair. The families of Women's Association members have been just as involved as the women in gathering items tailored for everyone in the family to be sold at the fair. Best of all, fair proceeds will again go to help many families in need.

But the surest sign that this year's fair is indeed a family affair can be found in the delightful "Christmas morning" scene adorning the stage at the fair. The scene depicts the traditional family gathering around the Christmas tree. The rest of the decorations, including the antique sleigh pictured at right, complete the family picture.

The family theme of this year's fair is being carried out by someone who has a bit of an idea what that's all about, fair chairperson Jan Wright, of Fisher Road. Mrs. Wright is the mother of five, grandmother of six and great-grandmother of one. A 35-year resident of the Pointe, she is also the wife of Charles Wright III, an attorney with Clark, Klein and Beaumont.

"I think the whole idea is very lovely. I feel very strongly about the family," Mrs. Wright says. Visitors to the family affair will probably agree. The fair is set for next Thursday, Nov. 5 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the church, 16 Lakeshore Road.

The Old Fashioned Christmas Fair is the major fund raiser of the Women's Association of Memorial Church. This is Mrs. Wright's first year as general chairman, but she has "worked on one thing or another" in past Christmas fairs since 1947.

Mrs. Wright brings a wealth of experience to her chairmanship, having served as trustee at the Children's Home of Detroit and at the Detroit Community Music School, as well as a former Sunday school teacher, Girl Scout leader and trustee for the Neighborhood Service Organization.

She is treasurer of the Church Women United of Detroit, finance chairman of Church Women United in Michigan, a member of Tau Beta, Questers, Ixex and the Morning Music Club. And somewhere between doing all that, she's found the time to act as Ruling Elder, Deacon and former Adult Education instructor at Memorial Church.

Mrs. Wright also sews, and if there's time, gets in a round of tennis and perhaps a little bridge.

When this year's chairmanship came up, Mrs. Wright was in the process of moving into a new home. "I spent two weeks moving in, then I got going on the fair," she says. The result should be fantastic, with attractions for the entire family, and a display of hundreds of handcrafted items and antiques.

Proceeds from the fair will be shared, as always, with many missions, chaplaincies and scholarships to church-related colleges. For many years, Memorial Church sent medical assistance and financial support to the Appalachian area. Two years ago, however, the church discovered that there were many people in the Breathitt, Ky., area who could support themselves with their craft skills if a market for their product could be found.

Hudson-DSO Metro Concerts set

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will present a series of six concerts in suburban Detroit locations during the third annual Hudson-DSO Metro Concerts Series, Nov. 3 through 7. The series is sponsored by the J. L. Hudson Company and will offer programs of classical music to audiences in Gibraltar, Fraser, Livonia, Farmington Hills, Ferndale and River Rouge conducted by DSO assistant conductor Murray Gross.

The repertory for the series includes Beethoven's Symphony No. 8, a suite from Bizet's opera "Carmen," Haydn's Symphony No. 94 ("Surprise"), Rachmaninoff's Capriccio on Gypsy Themes Op. 12, Ravel's "Tombeau de Couperin," the overture to Rossini's opera "Cinderella," and the overture to Verdi opera "The Force of Destiny."

Two of the week's concerts are presented in cooperation with the Downriver Council for the Arts of the Downriver Community Conference: Tuesday, Nov. 3 at 8 p.m. in the

Pictured with a few of the many hand crafted items which will be available at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Old Fashioned Family Christmas Fair on Thursday, Nov. 5 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. are chairperson MRS. CHARLES WRIGHT III (right) and co-chairperson MRS. EDGAR B. GALLOWAY (left). Mrs. Wright (at bottom) also poses in an antique sleigh she found. The sleigh has been refinished and will be part of the display at next week's fair.

With the help of Memorial Church's Christmas Fair and similar efforts from other churches, the Morris Fork Craft Center was established in Breathitt. Today, over 30 craftspeople work there, supporting themselves through their talents.

Representatives of the craft center now come to display and sell their work at the Memorial Church Fair. It's a unique feature of the fair and, church women feel, a demonstration of the benefits reaped with fair profits.

The Morris Fork work will be just a small part of the 35 booths available at this year's fair. Mrs. Wright notes that in addition to the "Tried and True" booths with sewn, smocked and knitted items, there will be some new and unique booths, featuring puppets, Christmas decorations, gingerbread houses and much more.

Mrs. Wright has also arranged for Memorial Church's director of music, William De Turk, to provide organ and carillon music throughout the event.

It's been a chore, but of course, she hasn't done it all alone. Co-chairpersons Mary Galloway (Mrs. Edgar B.) and Lucy Kenn (Mrs. Stanley E.) have no doubt been matching Jan Wright stride for stride and getting the job done.

And even when things got rough, the promise of a family event and the benefits achieved through the fair were enough to keep things fun for Jan Wright.

"Fun? Absolutely—that's the only way to go. You enjoy things a lot more when you take that attitude."

FAMOUS EARLY AMERICAN PUNCH

Among the original 30 members of the Fish House Club founded in 1732 in Philadelphia were George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, the Adams, John Eager Howard of Maryland and other prominent early Americans. Their favorite libation was "Fish House Punch," the recipe of which was not to be disclosed for 200 years.

- 2 quarts water
  - 2 fifths dark rum
  - 1 fifth Cognac or brandy
  - 3 cups fresh lemon juice
  - 1 cup superfine sugar
  - ½ cup peach brandy
- Combine all ingredients; mix thoroughly so all sugar is evenly dissolved; let stand several hours to mellow; then cool in refrigerator for a few hours or overnight. Pour over block of ice in punch bowl.

Instead of floating orange slices, Elegant Eating suggests draining canned Mandarin orange segments and solidly freezing them. Then slip two or three in each stemmed glass to serve as additional ice. Makes 20 to 25 servings.

EGGPLANT DIP

Extremely popular in Mediterranean countries, this delicious dip is often called poor man's caviar!

- 1 medium eggplant (about 1 lb.)
- 1 small onion, coarsely chopped
- 1 clove garlic
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1 Tbsp. olive oil
- ½ tsp. light salt
- 2 Tbsp. plain low-calorie yogurt

Prick eggplant 3 to 4 times with a fork. Bake in 400° oven until tender, about 40 minutes. Cool. Pare eggplant; cut into cubes. Place eggplant and remaining ingredients in blender container. Cover and blend at high speed until smooth. Makes about two cups of dip.

South comes back, 20-13

By Tom Streicher
South High

Sophomore Paul Hawk, senior Jamie Keogh, and sophomore Jim Arnold scored one touchdown each as the South Blue Devil football team beat L'Anse Creuse North last Friday night, 20-13.

As the game started, it looked as if L'Anse Creuse North was hot, scoring on its first drive of the game. But Keogh kept the Devils alive as he ran for a touchdown early in the second quarter. South missed the extra point and was behind only 7-6 when the Crusaders scored again late in the second quarter. The extra point attempt was no good, and the score was 13-6 in the Crusaders' favor. The Blue Devils then fumbled with about a minute left in the half but the Crusaders were unable to capitalize.

In the second half, the Blue Devils defense came alive despite the cold, and held the Crusaders scoreless. Senior Kip Saile came into the game in the second half and rallied the team for 14 points on two touchdowns. The first came in the third quarter when Arnold caught a Saile pass to score. The extra point was good and tied the game at 13-13.

The second touchdown came in the fourth quarter when a combination of long passes put the Devils inside the 10 yard line where Hawk ran it in. The touchdown and kick ended the scoring at 20-13.

Several fourth down conversions in the second half were keys to keeping the Devils alive on the scoring drives. The defense performed well in the second half to secure the win.

The victory gave the Blue Devils their third win and improved their EML record to 3-3 and their overall record to 3-4. The home field advantage has not proved lucky for the Blue Devils as their three victories have all been on the road.

This Saturday's game against Port Huron, which lost to East Detroit 6-3 last Saturday, will prove exciting as the Blue Devils hope to win their last league game of the season and sustain a winning record in the league. The game will start at 1 p.m. Oct. 31, on South's home field.

South basketball: A sad loss against Port Huron Northern, 51-47, was followed by a triumphant victory against Roseville 37-8 bringing the cagers' record to 2-5 in the league and 3-9 overall.

On Oct. 20, against Northern Carolina Hoski led team scoring with 14 points.

On Oct. 22, the team pounced on Roseville. Top scorer was Eileen O'Shee with 14 points.

Currently in sixth place, the girls will take on East Detroit today, Oct. 29. (By Megan Bonnani).

South cross country: South's boys' cross country team shut out Roseville, 20-43 on Oct. 15. Nigel Orton ran with a time of 16:12, Chris Pellerito with 16:42, and Chuck Gray with 16:54.

On Oct. 17, South placed eighth of 12 teams at the Henry Ford Invitational. The team competed in a tri-meet on Oct. 20 against Romeo and Clarkston and defeated Romeo, 20-43. South and Clarkston faced a tie 28-28 and a tie-breaker was needed to determine the winner, with the Blue Devils taking the tie-breaker.

At the Regionals on Oct. 24, they placed seventh of 22 teams. Orton qualified for the state meet. (By Brooke Reuther).

South golf: The Blue Devil team finished off its season last week, placing second in the city regionals, and earning a seventh place position in the state competition. Medalist in both matches was Jud Kotas with scores of 83 and 80. (By Tara Sendelbach).

South j.v. football: Tony Tocco rushed for two touchdowns of three and two yards as a fine defensive effort by the JV turned L'Anse Creuse North away in a 16-0 whitewash. Nino Corrado had an outstanding game, with three fumble recoveries and a key sack. Steve Reynolds also played well and recovered a fumble.

Jim Corbett set up the eventual winning touchdown with an incredible one-handed interception and a good run back. Corbett also scored on a two point conversion.

The JV (5-2) will play Port Huron away at 3:30 today, Oct. 29.

South freshman football: Suffering its first loss, 22-14, in almost a month, the frosh team fell to Oakwood last Wednesday, Oct. 21. The loss ended a four-game winning streak. Rick Waugaman turned in a fine day in a losing effort, rushing for 55 yards, catching an 81 yard touchdown pass from quarterback Terence Ayrault, returning a kickoff 70 yards for another score, and running for a two-point conversion.

Carroll is Rocket hopeful

Detroit De La Salle graduate Mark Carroll, of the Pointe, shown here with Toledo coed Dawn Damasco, is a freshman member of the University of Toledo football team. Carroll will be attempting passes of a different sort this season as he is listed as a Toledo Rocket hopeful at quarterback. Carroll and the rest of the Toledo squad opened the 1981 home schedule on Sept. 19.

Brownell cagers take first place

The Brownell seventh grade girls basketball team moved closer to the championship with two wins last week.

Brownell first beat L'Anse Creuse Central, 26-10. High scorer of the game was Brownell's Julie Cook with 14 points. Others scoring for Brownell were Marcia Wright and Mary Wachter with six points each.

In the second game, Brownell beat

Parcells, 33-19. High scorer of the game was Brownell's Cook with 12 points. Others scoring for the victors were Wright with seven, Wachter and Roma Testa with six points each. Christel Millican scored two points for Brownell.

"We are getting better and better with every game we play. These girls are really winners," Brownell coach Al Devine said after the wins. Brownell is now 7-1.

Norsemen win easy one

Gaining almost 400 total yards, the Norsemen handed Roseville Brablec its seventh consecutive defeat, 37-6, last week. Senior tailback Matt Lehmann scored three touchdowns on runs of 22, 14 and three yards.

Also scoring for North were Tom VanPelt on a four yard touchdown pass from Chris Bingaman; Dave McCarron on a one yard run, and Steve Wheatley on a 30 yard pass from senior quarterback Jay Hazen. Brablec scored its lone points late in the fourth quarter.

Amazingly, the Norsemen never punted in the game while the defense recovered four interceptions, and three fumbles to lead the attack. Getting the interception were Joe Haas with two, John Talos, and Scott DeClaire.

"We played very well," said North coach Frank Sumner. "It was really our first easy game of the season and our kids were up for it. We now have to prepare to play Lake Shore and South."

North's last home game of the season will be against Lake Shore this Saturday at 1 p.m.

North varsity soccer: The high-scoring Norsemen concluded their regular season by winning the divisional title for the second straight year with an 8-0 whitewash of Bishop Gallagher. North then destroyed Dearborn Fordson to boost its overall record to 14-1.

Having won 13 straight games, the Norsemen will begin league championship play against Bishop Foley. Their first state cup game will be played this Saturday, Oct. 31 at home against either Livonia Churchill or Livonia Stevenson, both recognized soccer powers.

Scoring for North last week were Marc Tirikian with seven goals, Bill Bryce, three; Dave Waldeck, three; Gerry Deeney, two, and Paul Regelbrugge, Ray Azar and David Regelbrugge with one each.

North j.v. soccer: North's j.v. soccer squad clobbered Bishop Gallagher, 10-0, to earn the junior varsity divisional championship. The 8-0-2 Norsemen got goals from Regelbrugge and Chris Nearhood with three each. Joe Cuter, Walter Preisz and Scott Orhan put in the others.

North cross country: Joe Schmidt, Brian Boutell and Joe Carroll led the Norsemen to the Bi-County Dual Meet Championship with a 15-50 route of L'Anse Creuse. The junior varsity, paced by John Mager and Mark Przeslawski also defeated L'Anse Creuse, 15-50, to earn the Bi-County championship. The girls finished an undefeated Bi-County season by placing six runners in the top eight positions to lead them to a 21-37 victory over L'Anse Creuse. Junior Martha Whitaker finished in first place for the champions.

North football: After playing to a 0-0 tie with Lakeview, North's j.v. suffered a devastating 12-8 loss to Roseville Brablec. Now 0-6-1, North played excellent defensively against Lakeview with interceptions by Tim Sheridan and Todd Binkowski. Brent Roose scored on a 30 yard touchdown run in the Brablec shocker while Chip Moore got an interception. The freshmen upped their record to 2-3-1 with a 7-6 win over Utica Ford. North scored late in the fourth quarter when quarterback Joe Weidenbach hit Dan Kopitzk with a 65 yard pass.

North j.v. basketball: North's girls' fought hard but unfortunately dropped their overall record to 3-10 with losses to Utica Eisenhower, 56-37, and the Lakeview Huskies, 35-30. Loree Pakarek had a combined total of 22 points in the two games, while Michelle Witt had 17. Renee Garkinos led the way for the Norsemen against Lakeview with 10 points.

North girls' freshmen basketball: Avenge an earlier 27-26 defeat, North's freshmen beat East Detroit Oakwood, 22-15, to lift their overall record to 7-4. Celeste Sartor led all scorers with eight points while Dawn Cartwright tipped in six more. Pam Boesiger played an outstanding defensive game to hold Oakwood to its lowest scoring output this season.

North varsity tennis: After winning the league meet in all categories, North's tennis team qualified for the state championship by placing second in the regionals behind rival South. Both members of the No. 2 doubles' team of Kris Boll and Maria Rodriguez made it to the finals. The state competition will be held this weekend.

North golf: North's golf team concluded its season by finishing second in the city championship. The Norsemen's overall record for the year was 13 wins and three losses.

North girls' swimming: With victories in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle races, June Beck led North's swimmers to a 105-67 win over Lakeview. Other victors for the Norsemen were Christie Loehr, Ann Vanker, Jill Figley, Ann Mitchell, Wendy Woods, and Janet L'Heureux. (By Paul Regelbrugge).

South comes back

Keith Kovalick had an interception for the defense, and Joe Scicluna and Steve Goodrich also turned in good performances. (By Kevin Roberts).

South varsity soccer: Sweeping the last two games of the regular season, South's varsity kickers took a 3-2 victory from U of D High at home and beat Catholic Central 5-3 last week. The team finished the season with a 10-4 overall record and an 8-2 league record.

By virtue of this record, the kickers advanced to the Metro Suburban League (MSL) playoffs and the state playoffs, both of which take place this week. The team faced Immaculate Conception in the first round of the MSL playoffs Oct. 27 (after press time) and will play at Bloomfield Hills Lahser in the first round of the state playoffs on Oct. 31.

Scoring in the U of D game were Joe Lafata with two goals; Andy Landauer with one goal and one assist and Jim Dolan and Greg Jones each with an assist. Scoring in the Catholic Central game were Lafata with two goals; Tedd Aurelius, Bill Gilre and Jones each with one and Mike Connell and Tod Anthonasiou with an assist each.

South J.V. soccer: Completing an undefeated season, South's junior varsity soccer team played to a 1-1 tie on Oct. 21 at Catholic Central High and shut out U of D High at home Oct. 19, 4-0. The team finished the season with a 8-0-3 overall record and 4-0-3 in the league, which cost them the league championship taken by North (-5-0-2).

Scoring in the Catholic Central game was Vic Lafata, Rick Whitney assisting. Scoring in the U of D game were Jim Corno and John Dolan, each with one goal and one assist; J. J. Imesch and Lafata each with one goal, and Steve Landuyt and Whitney each with an assist. (By Dawn Locniskar).

A story of Spirit...

By Peggy O'Connor

"We love our team." It's as simple as that to Kristy Beers, who plays the position of "hitter-setter," for St. Clare of Montefalco's varsity volleyball team. But what's not to love—the Falcons won the Catholic Youth Organization (C.Y.O.) volleyball championship every year since 1977, until losing it this year in the finals. The Falcons' four year mark is 129-3, including the championship loss. The girls had their best regular season of the four this year, when they went undefeated at 21-0. St. Hugo is the 1981 C.Y.O. champion.

Co-captain and hitter-setter Amy Vitale, whose loud cries of "defense, defense," undeniably mark her as the team leader out on the floor, had to think a moment before she finally decided what makes St. Clare so good.

"We've got lots of spirit, good attitudes and we work together. There are a lot of other teams which are improved, so we can't get big heads—we have to work together."

Hitter-setter Theresa Schulte said winning was a matter of "playing our own game." "We always have to know where we are on the floor, who to follow and where our positions are."

But Vitale, Schulte, Beers and the rest of the squad point to their coach, Larry Hines, as a major reason for the team's success. Vitale says there wouldn't be a team without Hines, who has coached at St. Clare since 1973, or his wife, assistant coach Fusako Hines, and assistant coach Lori Morgan, or the team managers.

Hines himself takes St. Clare's winning ways in stride.

"I teach the girls to learn to play the game and play to win. We are trying to prepare them for high school and hopefully, to get a (college volleyball) scholarship," Hines said.

"In getting them ready for high school play, I sometimes must push them to see if they can reach that level. If they can't, I lower that standard. I'll never take them beyond a point they can't reach."

Beers agrees, saying "coach teaches and pushes us, but it's up to us to decide to do it."

Hines added that understanding played a big role in the Falcons' success over the last four years. "Understanding each other's way of doing things is as important in life as it is in sports. The girls know when I criticize them that I've played, officiated and given clinics on the sport, so I have the knowledge. I'm criticizing to correct, not to make them look bad—and they understand that from the beginning."

"I've found that knowledge helps, but understanding helps more."

St. Clare athletic director Steve Zaraneck also had nothing but praise for the Falcons and their coaches. "The coaches really make it fun for the kids—and that's what it's all about."

And St. Clare's kids had fun this year with their winning streak, despite the obvious pressure such a string of wins brings. "The girls were well aware of the streak, but they handled it remarkably. Once they got on the court, they forgot the pressure," Coach Hines said.

They sure did. In four games played against St. Veronica and St. Matthew last week, the Falcons took large leads at the start of the games, faltered a bit in the middle and came on strong for the finish—yelling and screaming all the while. Each time St. Veronica or St. Matthew got a point, the shouts of encouragement from the bench got louder.

Hitter Jamie Agney explained how that helped. "There's no team without team spirit."

And the spirit of this team is in winning and having fun and learning a little bit about each other in the process. It's a group of lively 12, 13 and 14 year-olds, their coach, team managers and scorekeepers and an athletic department that manages to build that spirit into a season of fun and some wins along the way. Spirit? The Falcons wouldn't let anyone on the team settle for anything less, according to Kristy Beers.

"This team is the best because we want it to be."

Ski Hi Club plans trips

The forecast for winter is snow and the War Memorial Ski Hi Club has planned nine ski trips for its members. This year promises to be a great season and students in the Grosse Pointe Schools in grades seven to 12 may join the Ski Hi Club at the Center's office now.

Membership fee for new members is $7 and includes the patch and $8 for former members who already have their patch. Twilight trips are planned to Pine Knob and Mt. Holly, two day trips to Mt. Holly and a weekend trip to Collingwood, Canada for students in grades nine thru 12.

The Friday night twilight trips to Pine Knob are set for Dec. 18, Jan. 15 and 22, and Feb. 12 and 26; the twinghter to Mt. Holly is Feb. 5. The fee is $14.25 for each trip plus $1 mandatory insurance. Lessons and equipment rental are also available for a small charge. Bus leaves the Center at 4 p.m.

The two day trips to Mt. Holly are scheduled for Friday, Jan. 29 and Monday, Feb. 22 when the students will have a holiday from public schools. These trips will leave the Center at 9 a.m. and return around 5 p.m. and are $14.75 each plus $1 mandatory insurance.

A three day weekend trip to Collingwood, Canada, is planned for Friday to Sunday, Jan. 8 through 10. Students will stay at the Highwayman Inn two nights and ski both Blue Mountain and Georgian Peaks. The trip is limited to 72 and beginning to fill now. Reserved spaces are on a first come, first served basis. The trip includes bus transportation, shuttle to slopes, two nights lodging, two full days skiing on the slopes and chaperonage for $110. A deposit of $75 will hold a place on the trip.

Separate busses for junior high students grade seven and eight and senior students grades nine through 12 will again be scheduled this year. Included in all trips are the tow tickets and bus transportation and chaperonage.

Skiers advance in the lessons and receive patches of novice, intermediate, and advanced allowing them on slopes of their skiing ability. The patch system has helped to cut the injury rate down and most students learn to ski properly by taking the lessons. Students may buy lessons for $1.50 for the Pine Knob twinghters when they sign up for the trips.

Skiers will use the Mt. Holly patch system and grading there as well. A student card will entitle members to ski at the special student rate if they decide to go up on their own Mondays through Fridays from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Members will again earn patches through taking lessons to ski on the runs of their ability. The lesson card is $3 and entitles the bearer to two lessons as well as the special student rate.

Sign up now at the War Memorial office since there will be a limited number of spaces available for students on the busses.

Lutheran East donkey game is set for Nov. 13

Advance tickets, at $1.75 for students, $2 for adults, may be obtained at the high school, by calling 371-8750, or from participating teachers at Lutheran Grade Schools. Tickets may be purchased the day of the game for $2.50 for adults and students.

In connection with the game, Lutheran East's St. Thomas Guild will serve an all-you-can-eat spaghetti dinner from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Prices are $2.75 for adults and high school students, $1.75 for grade school and no charge for preschoolers. A special family price of $10.50 for dinner only is also offered.

OU offers help for couples

An Oakland County couple who have learned how to resolve differences and to express appreciation and affection will lead a Communication for Couples workshop on Friday, Nov. 13, 7:30 to 10 p.m.

The Continuum Center staff and surroundings provide a supportive atmosphere conducive to personal exploration. Since enrollment for Communication for Couples is limited, call the Continuum Center at 377-3033 soon to register.

The evening, sponsored by the Continuum Center of Oakland University, will help couples to understand basic communication skills and how they affect partners who are important to one another. Couples will practice listening and communication techniques in private dialogue and then hear these techniques discussed in the total group. It is not a marriage counseling group, but rather for those who want to enhance a basically good relationship.

Knights win, reach 5-2

The University Liggett football team raised its season record to 5-2 last week with an easy 24-14 victory over visiting Ubyly from the northern thumb area.

Senior co-captain Jeff Peters led the team with 18 tackles. He has been the Knights' leader in this department for each of the team's seven games. Other standouts were tailback Dave Van Elslander who rushed for 72 yards in 18 carries and quarterback Jeff Parks who completed eight of 22 passes for 102 yards.

Van Elslander and John Polizzi each recovered an Ubyly fumble. Parks and David Chamberlin each intercepted a pass. The Knights scored early in the opening quarter on a 58-yard drive. The big play was a 27-yard pass, Parks to Chamberlin. The touchdown came on a five yard run by Van Elslander. Parks sprinted in for the two-point conversion.

In the second quarter ULS sustained another touchdown drive, this one for 45 yards. Parks scored on a one-yard quarterback sneak and Polizzi kicked the extra point.

Just before the half, Ubyly attempted a punt from its own end zone, but Peters tackled the punter before he could get his kick away. The safety gave ULS a 17-0 lead.

The Knights went to the air for their third and last touchdown. It came early in the third quarter on a 20-yard toss from Parks to senior end Mike McCarthy. Again, Polizzi booted for a point.

With a 24-0 lead, coach Tom Taber was able to give some playing time to the younger Knights. Ubyly found the going easier against Liggett's reserves and scored two touchdowns, both by tailback Terry Messing on runs of 10 and 12 yards, to cap the scoring.

ULS varsity golfers: The ULS linksters completed a highly successful week by finishing as runners-up in the Michigan High School Association State finals held at Oak Lane Golf Course in Webberville. ULS was led by Murray Sales' excellent 75. The team total of 324 was supported by rounds of 80 by senior co-captain Jay Hirt and an 81 by junior Brian Valice.

Coach Paul Butler expressed his feelings about the season. "The team ended the season on a very high note. The fact that we have seven returning lettermen next year will mean we'll have an excellent shot at the state championship."

"We are losing two fine golfers in co-captain Chip Farrar and Jay Hirt, but our sophomores which include our second, fourth and fifth lowest averages Jim Valice, Dan French, and John MacLeod should more than fill the void."

ULS surprised both North and South by displaying its depth winning the Grosse Pointe City Golf Championship at Lochmoor Country Club on Oct. 20.

ULS, led by the championship's medalist, Valice (80), totalled 419 to North's 425 and South's 432.

ULS's supporting scores included 83's shot by Sales and MacLeod, and 86 and 87 carded respectively by Valice and Hirt.

The linksters completed their dual match season with its best record in the history of the school — 13 wins and four losses.

ULS field hockey: Goalie Tracy Edwards noted that she had a record number of shots on her when the ULS field hockey teams played their toughest competition of the year, Ann Arbor Greenhills.

The ULS varsity girls field hockey team picked up where they left off last week, continuing to show strong teamwork. ULS scored two goals early in the first half off shots by Kris Mighion. The final goal of the first half was scored by captain Kelly Kirkpatrick.

Senior Page Heenan shot the last goal making the final score 4-1 for ULS.

Marlies are 3-1 in league

The Grosse Pointe Marlboro Bantam A travel hockey club completed an excellent week of Adray competition, winning two games and losing one. The Marlies are now 3-1 in the league.

Grosse Pointe hosted Flint at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink on Oct. 20 in what was billed as a repeat of last year's "close encounters" between the two teams. Flint took the lead in the first period before the Marlboros came roaring back to dominate, 5-3.

Greg Henchel opened the Marlie scoring, Walter Connolly and Mike Kramer assisting. Henchel and Connolly teamed up again later in the first period with Connolly getting the goal this time. George Jerome drew the second assist on the play.

Connolly beat the Flint goaltender for the second time early in the second period when he converted beautiful centering passes from Eric Warezak and Henchel. Grosse Pointe's Tom Ugval broke up a tie when he scored an unassisted goal late in that period after stealing the puck out in front of the Flint goal.

Kevin Tisdale and Ugval combined on a nice series of passes to teammate Joe Sullivan, who blistered a shot to complete the Marlie scoring.

The Marlboros lost their first league game to undefeated Fraser. Fraser scored midway through the first period and pretty much carried the play to the Marlies. Grosse Pointe took a series of penalties in the second period and played shorthanded for more than seven minutes. After keeping Fraser off the scoreboard during that time, the Marlies dominated play for the remainder of the game, but failed to score. Fraser iced the 2-0 win with an empty-net goal with less than a minute to play after the Marlies had pulled the goalie in favor of an extra attacker.

Grosse Pointe completed the week's play with a 5-3 victory over a big and tough Lakeland team. The Marlies' talented right winger Connolly keyed the win with a three-goal hat trick performance. Ugval, Jerome and Henchel provided assists on Connolly's goals.

Marlie forward Eric Warezak tallied an unassisted goal, as did Jeff LeFebvre, to round out of the Grosse Pointe scoring. Marlie goaltenders Coley Connolly and Al Van Deweghe are key reasons for a fine Marlie record, limiting the opposition to less than two goals per game.

The Marlies have compiled an overall record of seven wins and three losses.

Star seniors win powder puff game

By Shannon Mullen
Star of Sea

On Oct. 17, at Notre Dame High School's field, Our Lady Star of the Sea High School's seniors, coached by Maurice Hogan, beat Dominican High's seniors in powder puff football, 8-0.

The score was 0-0 almost through the entire game. The pressure was on as the clock read only two minutes left. It was then that Joyce Hogan scored a touchdown. Star's quarterback, Lisa Agney, made the two extra points with a quarterback sneak play.

Dominican's offense was held in check by Star's great defensive play, and the game ended with an interception by Sheila Ward. This was Dominican's first defeat in six years of powderpuff play.

After the game the Star seniors carried Coach Hogan off the field.

Mascarin up for honor

Grosse Pointe tennis player Susan Mascarin has been nominated for Sportswoman of the Year by the United Foundation Sports Day Committee, chaired by Ray Lane, WJBK-TV Channel 2 Sports Director.

For the 13th consecutive year, the United Foundation will present the Sportsman and Sportswoman of the Year awards to the man and woman who have made the greatest contribution to the community through athletics.

Mascarin established herself as a well-known tennis player when just a junior at University Liggett School. She has won numerous honors, including the highest honor for a junior tennis player, Number One International Junior Player of the Year in 1980.

She is currently ranked No. 32 in the World's Women's Professional Tennis Circuit, and has won 10 national tennis championships and seven state titles.

On Jan. 1 of this year, Mascarin became a professional tennis player and has already boosted a successful career. She was a semi-finalist in the U.S. Clay Court Championship in Indianapolis, and reached the quarter finals in the Burnett Classic in Atlanta this past September.

She was selected by the Women's Tennis Association as the Most Impressive Newcomer of the Year, and "Tennis Magazine" has named her "Player to Watch" in 1981. She was also United Foundation's Sportswoman of the Year in 1980.

Mascarin is one of four nominees for UF Sportswoman of the Year. Other nominees are bowler Cheryl Daniels; Mary Knechtges, basketball coach at Bishop Gallagher High School in Harper Woods and bowler Mary Mohacs.

The Sportsman and Sportswoman of the Year was to be announced at a Sports Day Luncheon on Oct. 30.

Red Barons win two, tie

The Red Barons won two and tied one in games played against the Shelby Lions at Utica Eisenhower High School on Sunday, Oct. 25.

The freshman unit battled a previously undefeated Lion squad to a frustrating scoreless tie, despite several long drives. The defense did not give up a first down in preserving the third shutout of the season.

The "Big Hit" honor was awarded to Jason Whelan as he jarred the ball loose on the Baron one yard line to thwart a Lion scoring drive. Brad Watkins recovered the fumble. Chris Mazy, playing his finest game as a Red Baron, performed brilliantly at quarterback. Head Coach Ray Demeulemeester commented that the game was a total team effort and it would be impossible to single out any one player for special recognition.

The junior varsity defeated its opposition, 12-0. Mike Miller and Chuck Thomas each scored one touchdown behind the solid blocking of Jay Tobias, Todd Hastings, Chris Liagre, Mike Hagen and Steve Szymanski. Matt Smith, Gary Cichocki, Tom Smith, Kevin English, Mike Miller, Jay Binder and Joe Binkowski played well defensively as the Red Barons notched their fifth shutout of the season. Head Coach Richard T. Moore noted the smooth play execution of Richmond McCloud, forced into service as substitute quarterback for the injured Rob Rochon, as a key factor in the victory.

The varsity crushed its Utica counterparts, 26-0, as David Kopitzke scored two touchdowns and Scott Stafford and Chris Dudeck added one each. Paul Altobelli, returning from an injury, gained needed yardage in crucial situations.

Jeff Cornell, Jamie Pangborn, Sal Manzo, Harvey Hilgendorf, Mark Bente and Mark DeManigold were defensive standouts. Head Coach Werner Lueckhoff commented that the players have continued to improve steadily each weekend, with two consecutive victories, momentum is building.

The final game of the Red Baron season will be played this Sunday, Nov. 1 at North High School against the archrival Troy Cowboys.

Bruins begin league play

The Bantam AA Grosse Pointe Bruins travel hockey team began Adray Community League play last week by winning two of three games. The Bruins shut out Warren, 6-0, on the shutout goaltending of Dino Masella. The offense was paced by Robby Wood, who had two goals. Keith Barich, defenseman Tom Madden, Tom Davis and John Hirschfield scored single goals.

The Bruins then traveled to Southfield, where they posted a 5-1 win. Scoring for Grosse Pointe were Chris Luongo, Marty Sanelemente and Mike Brykalski. Captain Stacey Rickert turned in a two goal performance. A last minute Southfield goal prevented goalie Peter Muer from posting a shutout.

On Oct. 24, the Bruins entertained Sterling Heights in a game which featured top grade Bantam AA competition. Goals by Hirschfield, Luongo and Brykalski produced an early Bruin lead of 3-1 before Sterling Heights scored two late second period goals to tie the game at 3-3.

The contest remained tied through the final period until with one minute to play, Sterling Heights scored a power play goal to defeat the Bruins, 4-3.

The week's results left coach Tom Costello's team with two wins and one loss in league play and an overall record of 5-1-1.

Star's cagers take first place

By Lucie Cooper

Our Lady Star of the Sea High School's basketball team is on such a roll that not even snake eyes can put an end to their streak. Margaret Spindler and Warren Gravelin, coaches for the Star teams, are very excited about their teams' performance.

The varsity bounced back from a very tough two point margin loss 36-38 to St. Ladislaus on Oct. 6, to defeat St. Florian two days later, 42-38.

Star defeated tough Pontiac Catholic on Oct. 13.

St. Paul boys lead C.Y.O. soccer teams

The St. Paul boys' soccer team is leading the C.Y.O. league after winning a game last weekend against Our Lady Queen of Peace, 1-0. It was a tough game, with the only goal coming from P. J. Imesch in the first half.

The low scoring game was mainly a duel between the two defenses. Those who played exceptionally well in that department for St. Paul's were Dave and Tim Fellows, Peter Droste and Ray Echlin.

The boys will play their final game of the season against Star of the Sea Sunday, Nov. 1 at 3:30 p.m.

By David M. Maxwell
 Smithsonian News Service

It has been called a disease, but in its most advanced stages it is nothing but a pleasure.

Collecting, as art historian John Rewald once put it, may take hold of the mind and soul to a degree where there is no escape from it; the fatal symptom of the true collector is his strong acquisitive and possessive instinct: an instinct that rarely reaches a point of saturation.

But unlike any other disease, he added, there are plenty of rewards — the joys of discovery, the delights of conviction, the indescribable pleasures once a coveted object has been secured. "Possession," he said, "not only enriches the owner's experience and enjoyment; it also enables him to share his happiness with others."

For some people, the collecting addiction becomes so severe that it begins to control the direction of their lives. One of the 20th century's most prominent art collectors, the late New York corporate lawyer John Quinn, was so taken with modern paintings that in 1923-24 he sold off his valuable collection of rare books and manuscripts at a "fearful slaughter" to buy a new stock of Picassos, Seurat's, Rousseaus and other modern masters.

Quinn, "an avid reader of medical literature, surely understood the seriousness of his own condition," critic Aline B. Saarinen once remarked.

Such art collecting moguls as Quinn, J. Pierpont Morgan, Charles Lang Freer and Peggy Guggenheim, who years ago voraciously bought everything from Rembrandts to Renoirs, are now a vanishing breed. The dollar doesn't go as far today, of course, and the masters and pioneer modern paintings are now mainly at home in the nation's public museums.

Yet major collections of art continue to be put together all over the country; in a way, such institutions as banks and law firms have assumed the role of the influential private collector as they buy prints, paintings and sculpture for their offices. Other collectors, meanwhile, continue to look for specialized or "undiscovered" art to satisfy their acquisitive appetites and stretch smaller budgets.

Today's collections are as diverse as their owners. From the 19th century's staid focus on the masters, rare books and fine objects, an eclectic collecting frenzy has boomed that now encompasses everything from seashells and fishing flies to baseball cards and truck medallions; from fountain pens and paperweights to tribal masks and native pottery; from fine prints and drawings to primitive furniture and ancestral portraits. In fact, almost anything, it would appear, can be collected.

But why? Why do we do it, even when there is little room, if any, left to display all the stuff picked up at flea markets, auction houses and antique shops or discovered along the beach and up in the attic? "I often wonder what makes people collect things," Smithsonian Secretary S. Dillon Ripley has also asked in his collection of essays on museums, The Sacred Grove.

"It seems certain that collecting is at least as old as culture."

After a summer of observing two tribes, the Ndani and Ubuundani, living in Stone Age conditions in the mountains of New Guinea, Ripley concluded that their desire to collect was "as highly evolved as any professional coin or stamp collector could wish." Though these people collected for religious, medical or economic reasons, there appeared to Ripley to be another reason in back of the urge for humans to amass things. "Skill and aesthetics enter at an early age," he noted. "The objects made have beauty, style and economy of line."

Today's American collectors share this love of beauty, says Edward P. Lawson, education director at the Smithsonian's Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, and are motivated by the "love of discovery, owning things, completeness and acquisitiveness."

Interestingly, many contemporary collectors say they do not buy an object strictly for its potential to increase in value, but if that happens so much the better. Instead, they are drawn first by a work's aesthetic appeal and a fascination with their own specialty, be it glass sculpture or tortoise shell boxes.

The novice collector, once he gets the bug, begins to think about specializing in a certain area, Lawson says. "And after a while, he looks at things bought early and says, 'That's not my style now.'" At that point, one collector jokes, "it's time to move things upstairs."

Some collectors think out their goals in advance, Lawson adds, and devise a "rational plan" for buying. Others, he says, buy out of instinct — "they are the more emotional purchasers." Joseph Hirshhorn, for example, whose donated collection of 6,000 paintings, drawings and sculptures became the core for the Smithsonian museum that bears his name, is admittedly that type of collector.

"I buy if I get a gut feeling," Hirshhorn said recently. "It starts with the head, then the gut, and the heart... I buy very fast... I will go into a gallery sometimes and see 35 or so paintings. I'll walk around once or twice and I'll say: 'Gee, that looks interesting, that looks interesting and that one and so on.' Maybe I'll select five or six, and they'll take them out and put them aside."

Hirshhorn and other collectors also say they have a strong desire to help out their favorite artists, to get to know them, to be their friends. During the 1930s, Hirshhorn assisted scores of artists, "talented men" who were in "bad shape" with bills piling up during the Depression.

Some artists eventually come to play a strategic role in directing and refining the collector's taste. Mrs. Potter Palmer, one of the nation's major collectors at the turn of the century, was guided in selecting 19th-century impressionist paintings by her artist friend Mary Cassatt, then living and working in Paris. Today, the Palmer collection is a jewel in the Art Institute of Chicago's unsurpassed collection of impressionist works.

Mary Cassatt also helped shape another great American art collection at this time, that of Henry O. Havemeyer and his wife, steering them to then little-known modern painters such as Courbet, Degas, Cezanne and Manet. The Havemeyer collection is one of the treasures at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

As often as not today, art collections are built from scratch — and quickly — for specific settings, such as bank and corporation offices. A case in point is the acquisition by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond of 415 works purchased between 1977 and 1981 to grace the offices and public spaces of the bank's soaring new office tower alongside the James River.

The guiding concept behind the acquisition program was that the art, most of which was chosen by the "consensus" of a five-member committee, would come from the Mid-Atlantic region the bank serves, according to Jackson L. Blanton, an assistant vice president who served on the selection panel and who administers the bank's art program. The collection was to reflect the spectrum of contemporary art in that area.

Both Blanton and Lawson point out that there are important differences between building private and public collections. "The private collector really can do anything he wants," Lawson says.
