Suburban water rates haven't hit high tide yet

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Water bills for Pointe residents may not have hit high tide yet. The exact amount of proposed 1982 water and sewage rate increases won't be revealed until after a Dec. 18 public hearing in Detroit, but once again, it is clear they are going up.

The Detroit Water and Sewerage Department announced the public hearing to discuss the rate increases, but final rates for the Pointes have yet to be set, and preliminary rates have not been released, according to spokesmen.

Director Charles Beckham said the department, which pumps water for three of the Pointes and treats sewage for all of them, has projected a needed 10 percent increase in water rates and a three percent increase in sewer rates to cover the department's seven percent budget increase.

Rates charged to the almost 100 suburban customers vary according to the cost of supplying water to the various municipalities, Beckham said.

An average bill per customer under current rates, based on 3,000 cubic feet of water and sewage and a two month meter charge where applicable, follows:

- Farms and City — $42.30
- Park — $50; $39 for water, plus $11 meter charge
- Shores — $45
- Woods — $50.40
- Detroit — $24.21

The July, 1982 rate increase will be only the second water rate increase since 1976, Beckham said.

The rate hike which took effect in December, 1980 increased water rates charged by the department to the Woods by 57 percent, from $1.96 per 1,000 cubic feet, to $3.07 for the same amount. The Park felt a 65 percent increase, from $1.96 to $3.25 for 1,000 cubic feet. Water rates in the Shores doubled, from $1.96 to $4.32 for 1,000 cubic feet of water.

The Farms and the City get their drinking water from Lake St. Clair after it passes through the Farms' treatment plant at Moross and Grosse Pointe Boulevard.

A CLASS-ACTION suit filed by Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara on behalf of the suburban water customers was recently decided in Wexford County, finding that water rates were not inordinately high, as charged in the suit.

Another seven percent increase in the works

McNamara, who has expressed interest in the elected Wayne County executive position, said a Tuesday, Dec. 15 meeting in the Livonia City Hall will decide whether there is support for another appeal by the suburbs. He said he expects the turnout to be "very good."

The Livonia mayor said the appeal would be financed by a per capita levy on the suburbs of about 2 to 3 cents. If the money isn't forthcoming, McNamara said, the appeal will fall through.

The coalition has already incurred about $100,000 in legal fees, McNamara said.

Village Manager Thomas Jefferis said the Shores is still fighting the "unconscionable" rate increase, noting that village lawyers are attempting to settle the dispute out of court.

Jefferis said he had heard about the meeting in Livonia, but would be unable to attend because of a scheduled council meeting. He expressed doubt, however, that anything would come of the meeting.

Woods City Assessor Comptroller Frederick Hornfisher said the city council there may appoint a representative to the coalition, but couldn't say if the city now had one.

City Clerk-Administrator Chester Petersen said the Woods had contributed to the original lawsuit, paying on a per capita basis directly from the water sewage fund.

Petersen could not say whether the city will contribute to the appeal.

The Park is not making a contribution to the lawsuit, which City Clerk Controller Nunzio Ortesi described as more of a "watch-dog" action. The Park's law firm is representing Macomb County in the suit, so the city receives accurate up-to-date information about the suit, he said.

Court battles over rate increases have two distinct disadvantages, Beckham said. The department hasn't lost yet, and the cost of defending the department adds to the budget, which in turn adds to the water and sewage rates.

"We have been upheld in every lawsuit on water rates," he said.

ALTHOUGH THE city has never lost a court battle, it is now operating under a consent judgment with the Environmental Protection Agency calling for massive clean-ups at the department's West Jefferson Sewage Treatment facility.

That August, 1977 decision mandated $567 million in renovations to clean up the plant's discharge. At that time, the plant was considered one of the worst polluters of Lake Erie, and was threatened with cut-off of federal funds if the discharge wasn't cleaned up.

"That's the kind of thing that drives the cost of sewage to where it is," Beckham said.

Sewer rates have increased a number of times during the last five years. The department charges the Park and the Shores $4.23 and $5.23 respectively per 1,000 cubic feet of sewage. The Farms and the City are charged $5.81 for the same amount. Information was unavailable for the Woods.

Combined rates in the Park have increased from $5.45 in 1977 to $13 in December, 1981 for 1,000 cubic feet. In the Shores, rates have gone from $5.15 in 1977 to $15 as of June, 1981. The Woods has had rates jump from $10.90 per 1,000 cubic feet in June, 1979 to $16.80 as of June, 1981.

BECKHAM SAID the department operates on a "break-even" basis, with all revenue going right back into the system. Money is first spent to cover operating costs, debt service and, finally, capital improvements.

Kercheval renaissance hits a snag

Grosse Pointe Park's plans to redevelop the largest building in its Kercheval business district with public and private funds hit a snag last month when proposed developers failed to close on the purchase of the building.

Developers, Grosse Pointe Renaissance, Inc., said the deal fell through because of the sudden death in October of one investor and a lack of tenants. Renaissance partner William Mierkiewicz said the firm is still interested in purchasing the building and hopes to approach owner David Record with a new offer in January.

Record is seeking a new buyer and has re-listed the property with Lambrecht Realty at $100,000.

The building, former Patmon Olds mobile hump shop, has been empty and boarded up for three years. At 18,000 square feet, it is the largest on the Kercheval business strip and key to redevelopment efforts there.

The city has invested nearly $300,000 in federal funds during the last three years on parking, lighting and sidewalk improvements there.

The Park council agreed in September to work with Renaissance partners to redevelop the site.

The council approved a plan to spend $50,000 of its 1981 Community Development Block Grant from the federal government to purchase and demolish a 6,000 square foot section of the building and construct a 32-car parking lot there.

THE PROJECT WAS approved by a 5-2 vote of the council with Douglas Graham and Anthony Spada opposed. The city's part of the redevelopment plan was contingent on Renaissance making improvements to the facade of the building within 90 days of purchase. The city also was to receive about $25,000 in back taxes owed on the building.

Renaissance partner Mierkiewicz said in September the firm planned to spend $300,000 to renovate the building and create office and retail space for lease. He said last week he will not re-approach Record until he has at least three-quarters of the necessary tenants lined up.

City Manager John Crawford said last week the offer extended to Renaissance could still work with a new buyer.

"We are looking at other proposals similar to Mierkiewicz's. We have 12 months in which to spend the Community Development Block Grant money and the same offer stands," Crawford said.

"Of course the whole project would have to be reviewed again by the council, but we're still looking for any proposal equal to or better than (Renaissance's)."

The Record building extends the entire block of Kercheval between Maryland and Wayburn.

Schools propose 1983 summer tax collection

By Joanne Gouleche

School Supt. Ken Brummel asked Board of Education members Monday to feel out Grosse Pointe's mayors, city managers and councilmen on the issue of summer tax collection, a proposal that was dismissed four years ago after a technicality in the state school code prevented the plan from being carried out.

Brummel told the board recent action by the state Legislature removed the technicality and now allows Grosse Pointe communities to implement a "full" or "split" summer tax collection system.

In 1978 the idea was defeated because Grosse Pointe City collects half its taxes in July and the remaining portion in October, while Harper Woods (Poupard school district) collects all of its taxes in December. The state school code, at that time, said summer taxes must be collected at the same time each municipality collects taxes.

School system attorney Douglas H. West said the Michigan Legislature amended the code last July, and the school taxes can be collected on July 1 regardless of when each city's taxes are collected.

The question of summer tax collection was put on the board table for informal discussion only. Board member Ronald Dalby made that clear Monday night.

"I'm all for examining the issue right now, but I can't say if I am or am not in favor of the idea," Dalby said. "There are consequences from this that we haven't even examined."

Trustee Joan Hanpeter, who was on the board when the tax issue was promoted, then withdrawn in 1978, said: "We better be very clear on what we are saying about the issue."

Last fall the school board approved the issue of summer tax collection as a goal for the administration to examine. If the idea wins approval of the board and Grosse Pointe political officials, the administration would like to see the plan implemented in July, 1983.

Supt. Brummel

New districts drawn

The Commission on Legislative Apportionment will present Republican and Democratic proposals for new house and senate districts to the public Friday, Dec. 18, at a hearing in Detroit.

Maps and descriptions of all four plans will be available. The eight-member commission is charged with reapportioning political districts in line with the 1980 federal census. After several months of work, the commission has generated partisan proposals for house and senate districts.

The Republican proposal for the senate has been praised by local GOP party leaders because it puts the five Pointes in a single district along with a small part of Detroit, Harper Woods, East Detroit and St. Clair Shores. The Pointes are now divided between three senate districts, all held by Democrats, Sens. John Kelly, Gilbert J. DiNello and John C. Hertel.

The new plan gives the party "at least a 50-50 chance of electing a Republican," according to Alfred Reuther, 14th District chairman.

The Democrats have proposed splitting the Pointes between two districts. The Farms, Shores, Woods, Harper Woods and a section of Northeast Detroit form one district; the City, Park and lower east side of Detroit form another.

All five Pointes are now combined in a single district in the House of Representatives. The seat has been held for 11 years by William R. Bryant, Jr., of the Farms.

Under both House versions the Pointes will be divided. The Republicans propose putting the Woods, Shores and part of Macomb County including part of St. Clair Shores and East Detroit in one district. The other three Pointes would be represented in a district including northeast Detroit and Harper Woods.

The Democratic House proposal includes only the Park in a district including most of Detroit's lower east side. The other Pointes, Harper Woods and northeast Detroit form a second district.

The eight members of the apportionment commission were appointed by the two parties. Co-Chairmen are Republican Richard Sanderson of Birmingham and A. Robert Kleiner, a Grand Rapids Democrat. Members are Rosie Board, Detroit; Francis Brouillette, Iron Mountain; Clare Daniels, Muskegon; Erma Lurvey, West Branch; John Payant, Kingsford; and Lou Ann Taylor, Traverse City.

The hearing will be held in Detroit's City County Building auditorium. Hours are 10 a.m. to noon, and between 7 and 9 p.m.

It's a new job for an 'old' volunteer

By Joanne Gouleche

There used to be days in the Marge Nixon household when her five children would fly through the front door and say "Guess what, Mom? We just volunteered you for the PTO Club, the Mother's Club, the Girl Scouts and noon lunchroom duty."

For Mrs. Nixon, those were the beginnings of a 20-year volunteer commitment to the Grosse Pointe schools, spending hours making cookies, counseling Brownies and helping out wherever she could.

But now the tables have turned and Marge Nixon, the schools' new Volunteer Coordinator, is busy volunteering other people for the story hour at the library, as candy strippers at local hospitals and teaching English as a second language at local schools.

"Sometimes you wonder why you volunteered for something and didn't stay at home," Mrs. Nixon says. "But it is really fun and at least you feel you have helped someone."

Court bill passes Senate

Sen. John Kelly's bill creating a Grosse Pointe district court was approved by a 31-0 vote in the Senate last week and has been sent to the House Judiciary Committee, chaired by Perry Bullard. Action on the proposed legislation in the House is not expected until after the new year, according to an aide to Kelly.

The measure calls for abolishing the five cities' municipal courts and electing one district court judge in Nov. 1982 to take the bench in Jan. 1983. The district court will have broader civil and criminal jurisdiction and will save litigants a trip downtown to circuit court for small civil suits under $10,000.

A five-member district court committee representing each of the cities has been meeting for over a year to address the proposed court conversion. The Pointes must voluntarily agree to convert by May of next year or the legislation will expire and municipal courts will remain.

While the committee has agreed on the general form of a new court it has made little progress deciding where it would be located and how it would operate. Many city officials say a court conversion would increase their costs and indicate they may oppose it next May.

The Woods city council will have the district court issue on its Dec. 21 agenda because of a resolution passed last year which called for the item to be considered six months before the May deadline.

Administrative costs are added by the municipalities to cover their own costs, such as repairs and maintenance, billing, meter reading, and pumping.

While Detroit balances its costs, at least two of the Pointes have water and sewage funds with deficits exceeding $50,000, prompting Hornisher to speculate the Woods may add an extra charge on top of its administrative costs.

During the 1980-81 budget period, the Woods estimated revenues for the water and sewage system at $1.42 million, while projecting a cost of $1.48 million, a shortfall of almost $60,000. The system is expected to balance at $1.63 million for the 1981-82 period, according to the city budget.

The Park's water and sewer system ran $56,000 in the red last year according to Ortisi. That system is expected to balance this year at over $1.18 million, according to the city's budget.

mer collection could generate an additional $2.35 million for the school district," Brummel said. "Of course, the local taxpayer will lose interest earnings under either proposal."

BUT THE administration is also proposing in the first year of summer tax collecting that the school board approve "a reduction in millage equivalent to the estimated loss in interest incurred by local taxpayers."

The superintendent said if the tax proposal is defeated a second time, he would encourage the Board of Education to endorse and actively support legislation in favor of a mandatory system.

partment of Community Services staff.

In her four months on the job, Mrs. Nixon has found there is a great potential in the Grosse Pointes for volunteers, particularly through the area's senior citizens.

"There is such potential out there for senior citizens, but they want to make sure it's the right spot for them because some of them don't want to be tied down," Mrs. Nixon explained. "But we like to use seniors as living history in the classroom, to tell how things used to be."

While her target is to solicit seniors, Mrs. Nixon has placed a few middle school students at the library, helping out during story hours. "I tell the kids it's the next best thing when you're too young to get a job."

Mrs. Nixon has also placed three North High School girls at the Georgian East Nursing Home in Grosse Pointe and has received positive results from home administrators.

"Our volunteers aren't big in numbers, but you have to match the individual with the need, so it takes a while sometimes," Mrs. Nixon says.

Mrs. Nixon has also been busy surveying the schools' volunteer needs by meeting weekly with principals, teachers and students. The coordinator said teachers are often surprised by the results and progress with a school volunteer in the classroom.

"It makes you feel good that your time was well spent. That's the key to volunteering," Mrs. Nixon said.

This year more than 100 volunteers were honored by the Board of Education for their efforts in school-related functions and projects. But Mrs. Nixon says her department is independent of those parents who usually volunteer through their children's respective schools.

"Our program here is not meant to take the place of the South High Mothers' Club or any other club," Mrs. Nixon said. "Our program is mainly for adult volunteers who may or may not have a child in the school system."

While her days of making cookies and counseling Brownies may be over, Marge Nixon is not completely out of the volunteering limelight—she still delivers meals once a month through Bon Secours Hospital meals program.

Dec. 10 concert to honor Herman Clein

"As We Remember Christmas" is the theme of a Christmas Vesper Concert presented at St. James Lutheran Church, 170 McMillan Road on Sunday, Dec. 13 at 7 p.m.

The concert is dedicated to the memory of Herman A. Clein, director of Music at St. James until his death this summer. The offering for the evening will be presented in Clein's name to the Organ Improvement Fund.

The Chancel Choir, the Children's Choir, and "His Children, Singing" from St. James Church and The Pointe Chorale from North High School will perform in this musical tribute to a man who believed that the path of love was lined with music.

Selections for the concert were made because they had been particular favorites of Clein.

Soloists for the concert are William Smith, tenor, Marilyn Smith, soprano, and Robert Clausen, flute. Organ accompaniment and incidental music is presented by Karl Osterland. Pastor George Schelter will read passages to supplement the music. The program was planned by Pastor Schelter, Albert Schweitzer and Elizabeth Soby.

Directed by George Beverst, the Chancel Choir singers include: Sopranos—Mary Amluxen, Carmen Beverst, Joyce Blumenstock, Kris Bou, Brenda Brege, Betty Clark, Lillian Ferrier, Ellen Heller, Cathy Richards, Arline Schoenherr, Jill Schoenherr, Marion Schweitzer, Elizabeth Soby, Nancy Swartz, Charlotte Tipton and Phyllis Ulbrich; Altos—Rhonda Bakewicz, Dolores Couser, Ruth Dicey, Andrea Gaw, Joy Disinger, Wendy Honsain, Marge Kamischke, Arleen Kavanagh, Jean Nank and Linda Wortman; Tenors—Tom Couser, James Kuhlman, Robert Livermore, Doug Maus, Albert

Schweitzer, Matthew Seely and Joe Serwach; Basses—Dalton Black, James Brege, Robert Clausen, Frank Dicey, Kirk Lutz, Robert Schoenherr and Donald Ulbrich.

Directed by Ruth Dicey, the Children's Choir singers are: Jennifer Clein, Scott Clein, Mary Keller, Katrina Kuntz, Duane Alan Leininger, Jackie Lighton, Sara Liliensiek, Ashley Moran, Lauren Moran, Carrie Pfendner, Erika Soby, Anne Tipp, John Tipp, Allison Van de Ginste, Emily Van de Ginste and Eric Zenow.

Michael Dixon is the director of "His Children, Singing," a guitar choir, which also includes Rhonda Bakewicz, Debra Dixon, Linda Wortman and Ronald Wortman.

Student suspended after bus incident

A Grosse Pointe Park youth who allegedly leaped out of a SEMTA bus window after the driver ordered students off the bus, was suspended temporarily from school, according to South High School Assistant Principal Bernard LeMieux.

The boy's parents were also contacted about the incident, LeMieux said, that began when a SEMTA bus driver told students to leave the bus after they became rowdy and uncontrollable on Nov. 17.

The driver told Grosse Pointe Park police a few students started a small fire in the back of the bus and when she asked students for their I.D. cards, the youths ran out of the bus, including the Park youth who decided to exit through a rear window. He was not injured, according to police.

The schools' Director of Support Services, Benn Zenn, said such occurrences on SEMTA buses are nothing new, but added they are not "excessive."

The Park youth has since returned to school, LeMieux said.

Park business ass'n elects new leaders

Restauranteur Diamond Phillips was elected president of the Grosse Pointe Park Business and Professional Association at its annual dinner meeting Tuesday, Dec. 1, at the Old Place.

Joining Phillips in leadership of the group for the coming year will be James Blough, of Medical Instrumentation Systems, as vice-president, Marjorie Young, of Grace United Church of Christ, as secretary; G. Gerard Delaere, of Michigan National Bank, as treasurer. Serving as financial and corresponding secretary respectively will be Jim and Clare Odell, Phillips, Blough, Young, Delaere and past president Julian Shoreck will be the group's directors.

Park City Manager John Crawford was keynote speaker at the annual meeting. He discussed the city's renovation plans on Kercheval and Mack Avenues. The business group works to up-grade commercial areas of the Park, and to form a cooperative network between the business community and city hall. It also sponsors collective advertising and promotional events.

The group was formed in 1968 as the Kercheval in The Park Business and Professional Association and expanded to include all the Park's commercial areas in 1977. It is a non-profit group.

Take care in holiday drinking and driving

By Tom Greenwood

For drink and drive "gamblers" this holiday season, life in the fast lane can be a one way street to the hospital or morgue.

According to statistics provided by Comprehensive Care Corp., providers of private alcoholism treatment, more than 2,000 persons killed themselves or someone else by drinking and driving last December.

More than 25 percent of all accidents during the holidays involved drinking. For teenaged drinking drivers, the figures are worse.

They account for about 10 percent of the motoring population but make up a disproportionately high 18 percent of the accidents each year.

More than half of these accidents are the result of drinking. This holiday season, the National Safety Council predicts that 15 percent more teenagers will die on the nation's highways.

INEXPERIENCED both as drinkers and drivers, more teenagers than ever before will be on the road this year. The National Public Service Research Institute reports that in more than half of all the accidents involving teenagers and alcohol, the driver had a blood alcohol concentration of only 0.02 percent.

While they were legally sober, (the legal level of impairment in Michigan is 0.1 percent), teenagers are still twice as likely to have an accident as a sober adult.

Teenagers are also more likely to have a passenger die as a result. Statistically, 16-year-old drivers have the highest rate of passenger deaths, with drivers being killed less often than were the passengers in their vehicles.

While no one condones teenaged drinking, there are several steps parents can take to help face up to this problem.

• Parents should watch their own drinking. They serve as role models for their children. Research has shown that most children develop their drinking habits from their parents.

• Point out the dangers of drinking here and now. Threats of future handicaps in far off years may not impress a teenager. Denial of the family car in case of unwise drinking can strike home.

• Have discussions with other concerned parents and their children. The chance to ask open questions helps relieve peer pressure on children to drink.

• Encourage young drivers to associate with friends who are light or non-drinkers.

• Be aware of your own child's drinking habits. Too many parents are not aware of what their own teenager is doing about drinking.

• Help find constructive outlets during the holidays. A holiday job might keep teenagers busy.

• If you find your child has a drinking or drug problem, don't hesitate to get help. This "phase" may kill them.

Teenagers aren't the only drivers with something to learn about drinking. Adults with years of driving experience and a "it can't happen to me" philosophy are also a menace on the highways.

• Always drink in a responsible manner limiting intake to less than an ounce an hour. Know your limit.

• Don't drink fast. Sip for enjoyment; don't gulp for effect.

• Accept a drink only when you really want one. Try skipping a round now and then.

• If you're depressed, don't drink. Alcohol is a depressant even though you may feel a short-term sense of confidence and well-being.

• Eat food or drink milk before drinking. When dining out, have drinks with dinner and not after.

• Follow the rule of allowing one hour of recovery time for each cocktail, beer, or ounce of alcohol consumed before trying to drive.

• Remember that champagne is absorbed into the bloodstream faster than any other alcoholic beverage. It is followed by hard liquor, wine and beer.

• Don't drink if taking cold remedies. Most cold remedies contain antihistamines which can double or triple alcohol's impact.

• Intersperse juice, soft drinks or water to give you the extra fluids you'll need. Besides dehydrating the body, alcohol destroys sodium and potassium.

• Be aware of the weather conditions, extra traffic and other drivers who might not follow these tips.

• Drive defensively. Call a cab for yourself or guests too impaired to drive.

Alcohol slows the reflexes, impairs vision and coordination, makes concentration difficult, dulls caution and slows reaction time.

More than 50,000 persons died on the nation's highways last year. Over 10,000 of those deaths involved teenagers.

State hears Creelman tenure appeal

By Joanne Gouleche

A hearing before the state's Tenure Commission began last week in Lansing for former Grosse Pointe teacher Frank Creelman, who was fired by the Board of Education last March for insubordination and other charges of misconduct.

Attorneys for the Parcels Middle School shop and social studies teacher appealed the local board decision to the Tenure Commission claiming there was insufficient evidence to support Creelman's dismissal and that the schools failed to show Creelman's alleged actions of insubordination adversely affected students and the school system.

Attorney for Creelman, Steven Amberg, said his client called for reinstatement to his former teaching post because the school board did not show "just and reasonable cause" for his dismissal from the school system. Amberg said he filed a motion for dismissal of the charges in Lansing last week.

The schools' Director of Personnel and Labor Relations Ronald Tonks said the schools argued against the motion and will have two weeks to file a written response against a dismissal in the case.

Creelman's attorney will have 10 days to file a reply brief, according to tenure hearing officer Lauren Harkness. At that point, the five-member Tenure Commission will decide if the motion is to be upheld or denied. If it is denied, the case may go to trial, Harkness said.

Fourteen separate charges were leveled against Creelman at tenure hearings before school board members last January, including charges he harassed and intimidated school administrators, he allegedly taped private conversations with administrators and he refused to say why he showed the film "The Guyana Tragedy: The Jim Jones Story" to his seventh and eighth grade social studies classes.

Board attorney Doug West claimed Creelman showed "unprofessional and inappropriate conduct" and showed "complete inability to respond to the most reasonable directives."

State hearing officer Harkness said because of a backlog of cases before the Tenure Commission, Creelman's case may not be heard until June.

Park, firefighters agree on pact

Grosse Pointe Park firefighters, who have been working without a contract since June 30, reached a tentative agreement with the city last week, according to city manager John Crawford.

Crawford and union representatives would not discuss details of the two-year package, but Crawford said he hopes to take it to the council for approval at its next public meeting, Monday, Dec. 14.

The settlement was reached Wednesday, Dec. 2, after an all-day bargaining session with a state-appointed mediator, Crawford said. The average Park firefighter now earns about $21,800 a year.

The Park is still negotiating with its police officers' union, also with the assistance of a state mediator. Policemen's contract expired June 30.

Public safety officers in three other Grosse Pointe communities, the Woods, Farms and City, also are working without contracts. Earlier this fall, the Woods reached a tentative agreement with its public safety union, but that package was rejected by the council as too costly. Negotiations are continuing in the City and Farms, according to spokesmen there.

Holiday Hookup Bonus-One Month's Free Service.

Order installation before Christmas and get your second month's service free. Act now. Offer ends December 11.

Kids hunt up Yuletide help

Christ Episcopal Church associate Rev. Jeffrey Dugan and youth group officers Colin Barr, president, and Suzanne Zinn, vice-president, were looking for a service project they thought would focus on the plight of Detroit's hungry and cold, reflect their concern for all mankind, and still be fun for those who took part.

They came up with one — a Christmas benefit Scavenger Hunt.

Twenty members of the youth group called on numerous Grosse Pointe families the night of Sunday, Nov. 27, and collected 1,200 pounds of canned goods, rice, beans, soups, dried milk, coats, shoes, used shirts, pants, gloves, warm socks, and other items.

The winning team of Andy Clay, Paul Decker, Richard Ralph and Chris Lucander collected 321 pounds of donations for Crossroads, and won gift certificate tickets to the Woods Theater, 19269 Mack Avenue.

Crossroads is the social service unit of the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Paul which maintains a general practice of service and assistance to Detroit people struggling to survive in the face of alcoholism, unemployment, drug abuse, inadequate housing, hunger or other problems.

Adult leaders included Ben Daume, Nancy Nicholson, Pat Jeffs, David Gaskin, Ed White, and Ernest and Marilyn Tudman.

"The spirit of the youth group members and the many families who responded to the ring of their doorbell Sunday will go a long way toward making this a joyous Christmas for all," Dugan said.

An Irish evening at Dominican High

The International Travel-Adventure Film Series will present Robert Davis' "Ireland" on Friday, Dec. 11 at 8 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 12 at 1:30 p.m. at Dominican High School Auditorium, McKinney at Whittier.

There will be an Irish Stew Dinner prior to Friday's presentation at 6 p.m. Tickets are $6.50 and reservations are required.

Woods down, not out of census fight

By Mike Andrzezyk

Final figures from the Bureau of Census show the Woods dropped below the 20,000 mark in population during the 1970's, but city officials are still fighting the tally, calling on one of Michigan's U.S. senators in hopes of reopening their appeal.

City Administrator Chester Petersen said U. S. Senator Carl Levin's Detroit office had been contacted in hopes it will look into the matter and pressure the bureau into reopening the city's file.

A spokesman for Levin's Washington office said Levin was being contacted and had begun "looking into the problem," but admitted there was little the senator could do.

The final figures show the city has dropped below the 20,000 mark to 18,886, putting it into a lower Community Development Block Grant classification, possibly costing the city $21,000 in block grant funds and an unknown amount in state and federal revenue sharing.

REGIONAL Director Robert McWilliam said final counts of population and housing show increases from the final preliminary figures, but still fall short of what the city claims.

The city's local review, done in September, 1980, used five sources for its information: park permits, since by city ordinance, all residents over 6 years old have to apply annually for a permit to get into the city's Lake Front Park; water billing records; voter registration records; tax assessor's records; and the Grosse Pointe Public School System census records.

The review found the city had 20,689 residents and 6,732 housing units, but those figures were rejected by the Bureau because the information was not detailed enough.

"The evidence you provided is not sufficiently detailed for further action," a letter from the Census Bureau dated Oct. 7, 1980 read. "The census figures have been checked and rechecked, and, in many instances, people have been added since the 'working figures' were provided to you for local review."

The "working figures" showed the city with a population of 18,663 and 6,630 housing units.

"At the current stage of processing," the letter continued, "additional checks are possible only if you provide, on an enumeration district basis, specific names and addresses of people and housing believed to be missed."

Petersen said the information was not sent since the city had no way of knowing what had been counted and what hadn't.

"If the Census Bureau could have provided us with their list, we could have checked it," he said. "Not knowing who they counted, there was no way to show them a list."

Petersen said the bureau had been less than cooperative in the appeal. "We showed them where their errors were, and they come back and tell us that it's not sufficient," he said.

Recourse for the city is limited, both Petersen and McWilliam agree. Both say the only route would be through the courts, a route Petersen said he was reluctant to take because of the lack of success other cities have had in changing the figures.

St. Paul sets Christmasfest

Saint Paul School will present its 1981 Christmasfest tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 11, from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the school's all-purpose room. It is sponsored for the first time this year by the Teacher-Parent Guild.

According to Co-Chairmen Shirley Callahan and Mary White, there will be a large bake sale featuring holiday breads, cookies, candies and other Christmas specialties and a "bigger than ever" raffle, with prizes donated by local merchants and school parents.

Breathers' Club meets Dec. 15

Prices start at 10 cents in the Children's Shop, where all gifts have been selected with the younger shopper's list and pocketbook in mind. Open to both young and old, each purchase will be gift wrapped.

There will be other special offerings, such as St. Paul Lakers ski caps, personalized Christmas ornaments and numerous other craft items. Coffee and bagels will be served throughout the day. Call 886-6496 for more information.

Breathers' Club meets Dec. 15

Bruce Dubin, D.O., will be guest speaker at the December meeting of the American Lung Association's Breathers' Club. The meeting will be held Tuesday, Dec. 15, at Georgian East Extended Care Facility, in the second floor lounge, 21401 Mack in Grosse Pointe Woods at 1:30 p.m.

Dr. Dubin, a chronic obstructive pulmonary disease specialist and member of the Lung Association's Board of Directors, will discuss ways to cope with the special problems of lung disease during the holiday season.

Breathers' Club is a community service of the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan (ALASEM) made possible through the support of Christmas Seals.

TAX-FREE

all Savers Certificate

If you elect to receive interest at maturity there is no compounding and the interest rate on your All Savers Certificate will be 8.34%. If you wish to have interest payable monthly or quarterly, the annual simple interest rate on your All Savers Certificate will be 8.010% and interest retained in your All Savers Certificate will be continuously compounded for an effective annual yield of 8.34%. These rates are available for All Savers Certificates opened through December 24, 1981. Rates for accounts opened after December 24, 1981, will be announced later. However, the rate established at the time an All Savers Certificate is opened is the rate in effect for the full one-year term of the account. You should also know that in the event of early withdrawal from an All Savers Certificate federal law and regulations require a substantial early withdrawal penalty and loss of the interest exclusion for federal income tax purposes. The All Savers rate of 8.34% is equivalent to the yields for taxable investments shown in the table. This table demonstrates how the All Savers Certificates can provide you with a higher after-tax yield than you may be earning from a money market mutual fund or on other investments. The deposit needed in your All Savers Certificate to achieve the maximum allowable deduction is $23,980.82 for a joint return and $11,990.41 for an individual return.

Compare the Tax-Free All Savers Rate of 8.34% with Yields on Taxable Investments.

TAXABLE INCOME ON A JOINT RETURN	COMPARABLE YIELD ON TAXABLE INVESTMENTS	TAXABLE INCOME ON A JOINT RETURN	COMPARABLE YIELD ON TAXABLE INVESTMENTS
$10,000.00	10.17%	$ 70,000.00	18.13%
20,000.00	10.97%	80,000.00	18.13%
30,000.00	13.24%	90,000.00	20.34%
40,000.00	14.63%	100,000.00	20.34%
50,000.00	16.35%	110,000.00	23.17%
60,000.00	16.35%	120,000.00	23.17%

The yields shown in this table are based on 1981 tax rates but do not reflect the effects of any tax credits that may be available in 1981, nor do they take into account the 50% maximum tax rate on salary and wages. If tax-free interest is received in 1982, the comparable yield on taxable investments should be calculated using 1982 tax rates. In addition, the yield for the All Savers Certificate actually will be somewhat higher because the amount excluded from federal income tax is also not taxed by the State of Michigan.

Here's what the one-year All Savers Certificate can mean to you.

- You can exclude up to $2,000.00 interest from federal income tax on a joint return ($1,000.00 on an individual return). The amount excluded is also not taxed by the State of Michigan.
- Your All Savers Certificate is insured to $100,000.00 by the FSLIC.
- Your interest rate is guaranteed for the full term of the certificate, unlike other investments such as money market funds where rates fluctuate daily.
- You can participate with a deposit of $500.00 or more.
- Funds in your Standard Federal 26-Week Money Market Certificate can be transferred to an All Savers Certificate without any early withdrawal penalty on the transferred funds.

Yule tree cutting a family tradition

Searching for that "perfect tree" on a frosty day at one of the state's cut-your-own Christmas tree farms is a family tradition shared by thousands of Michiganders each holiday season, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"That annual trip to the country and wagon ride through fields of perfectly shaped evergreens is the way many families kick off the holidays," according to James Drury, Auto Club Travel Operations manager.

Families visiting one of the 63 tree farms on Auto Club's 1981 guide will find nearly 500,000 trees in almost 20 varieties.

"Many growers have trees at prices unchanged or only slightly above last season," Drury said.

Tree prices start at $3 for Scotch pines, unchanged from last Christmas. Seven farms also sell by the foot, ranging from $1 to $3 depending on tree type, also unchanged from a year ago. More expensive trees such as Douglas firs and blue spruces, cost an average $5 more than last year and sell for up to $35.

Sizes vary from pre-decorated tabletop models for apartments or mobile homes to Japanese, Austrian or French pines large enough for any corner or picture window. In addition, 38 farms list trees up to 25 feet tall.

"Nine farms sell hot cider and donuts or cookies, and many have farm animals for children to feed and pet," Drury said.

At farms near Grass Lake, Dryden, Montrose, Otisville and Sturgis, Santa Claus greets youngsters on certain weekends.

Free potted blue spruce seedlings await young visitors at Arend Tree Farms near Chelsea and Brooklyn. An old-time country store and kitchen will delight both young and old visitors to Ruby Tree farm near Godells.

"Ismond Tree Farm near Otsego even has its own groomed cross-country ski trails, and visitors at Aspin Farms near Lennon can listen to a live country music radio show on weekends," Drury said.

"To make tree-searching easier, cut-it-yourselfers can reserve trees at 22 farms. Nearly half of the farms will wrap trees with twine so branches will not break during transport. Eleven operations will clean trees by machine.

Auto Club offers these tips for those visiting choose-and-cut farms:

• If going on a weekend, bring a hand saw. Most farms lend them but they could be in use. Axes are banned.

• Most pines and Douglas firs hold needles well, but balsams and spruces shed quickly if not properly cared for.

• After making a choice, saw the tree close to the ground.

• Although most farms have twine to tie trees to cars, bring some just in case. Be sure to tie the base facing forward.

PIPER'S ALLEY - KING CRAB - PIPER'S ALLEY - KING CRAB - MAKE A HERO OUT OF YOURSELF AT PIPER'S ALLEY

YOUR HOST (and Manager) Bill Demorest

Presents the MOST SPECTACULAR FREEBE IN THE LAST DECADE. Simply bring in this ad (with as many people as you like) and everyone will be served a complimentary mouthwatering King Crab Cocktail (and a big one at that.)

No more loud rock bands — no cover. We have been closed for remodeling and we now have spanking new carpeting — freshly painted walls and a brand new parquet dance floor, soft taped music for dancing and listening and still an even newer menu with Fresh Oysters and Avocados and Crab.

P.S. Don't forget to tell your college girls and guys that we'll be open with dancing on Wednesday the nite before Christmas Eve as well as the Wednesday nite before New Year's Eve with just cocktails being served.

P.S.S. My new slogan for the end of '81 and the start of '82 is "If Piper's Alley is open (Thurs.-Sunday only—with Dinner) Bill Demorest will be there to reassure you that every dish will be presented as fine as it was 7-1/2 years ago. In other words, Good OLE PIPER'S ALLEY, from days gone by, is back!"

P.S.S.S. Piper's Alley is available for rent free of charge for holiday parties or whatever so book now while dates are available — Call Monday or Friday for info.

HAPPY HOUR 2 for 1 5-7 PM
NEW HOURS THURSDAY - SUNDAY 5 - 2

Prime Time

For Senior Citizens

By Marian Trainor

It's too small. It's not the right color. I've got one. I really don't have any place to put it.

Is there anything more upsetting to a weary gift giver than to hear, "thank you, I love it but" — followed by any one of the above statements or a reasonable facsimile. It's enough to make a worn out shopper wish that little Cindy Lou had not convinced the Grinch to bring back Christmas.

Graciously you smile while you mentally do some quick figuring on whether it is better to give the object of your remembrance the bill (providing you can find it), let the person return it or offer to take it back and replace it with "something you would like, dear."

If you opt for the first consideration, your friend (I guess) will find out you bought it on sale and your status as a big spender will be severely diminished. If you chose the alternative, the problems are just too horrendous to even think about. To begin with, there are armies of people with the unfortunate talent for picking the wrong items and they are all standing in a line waiting to return the evidence of their bad judgement. In this situation misery does not love company and every person there is out to prove it.

The minimum punishment you can expect for your insistence on surprising rather than asking your recipient what they would like, is sore toes from being stepped on, tired aching legs, a few body bruises from being elbowed and a mild, but temporary hatred of the entire human race.

About the only comforting aspect is the thought of how easy it is to err when you choose something that pleases you and believe it will please someone else.

Talk about the innumerable combinations of the Rubic Cube, have you ever contemplated how many colors, sizes, textures and weaves, of the clothing, accessories, linens and other items can be purchased in various combinations? Perfumes, jewelry, china and other acceptable Christmas gifts are also varied.

Another source of comfort if you find yourself in this sorry plight is a little self-pity. Go ahead. You're entitled. Try this one on for size.

I went out in the snow-rain-wind (choose one, two, three or a combination of all three) to choose a gift. I searched for hours — days — weeks. I was tired — had a cold — depressed. I borrowed the money — went without lunch for three weeks — went the limit on my charge plate to buy this gift.

Such ruminations could take up a lot of standing-in-line time. However if it is really a long line you could string out your grievances by tallying up the miles you drove, how much you spent for gas, how long it took to choose attractive wrapping, the time it took to wrap the gift and ad infinitum. If you had to mail the gift you have yourself a whole new set of "how unappreciated I am" thoughts to nurse, not the least being the cost of postage and the long lines at the post office.

After you've run through this agenda, you will probably be at the counter, providing some boor hasn't shoved in ahead of you. Once there, you shouldn't have much trouble getting the attention of the sales clerk even if the competition for her favor is rough. After all, how many customers does she see with tears running down their face? You mean you're not weeping after reliving all those hardships? Then you are indeed a strong character.

NO MATTER. You've made it and victory is yours. But is it? It just happens that this is the wrong department for this item. Hysteria will get you no place. Either begin over in a new location, take the item home and keep it, wear it, look at it or save it for someone else for next year.

PTA/PTO sing-a-long Sunday

Michigan Supreme Court Justice and former Gov. G. Mennen Williams along with other notables, will lead Grosse Pointe parents, teachers and children in singing Christmas carols at the third annual Christmas Sing-A-Long Sunday, Dec. 13, at 6 p.m. on the front lawn of Grosse Pointe South High School.

Michigan Court of Appeals Judges George N. Bashara, Jr., John Gillis, Vincent Brennen, Sen. Gilbert DiNello and Sen. John Hertel, will also be on hand for this year's community sing.

The event is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe PTA/PTO and Associated Groups Council, an umbrella organization consisting of parent groups from the various 17 Grosse Pointe schools, and co-sponsored by several community organizations.

Individual school parent organizations along with the Grosse Pointe Lawyers Wives, the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center, Friends of FLEC and the Junior League of Detroit, will join in co-sponsoring the event.

The Sing-A-Long is planned as a "good old fashioned" family get-together to help kick off the coming holiday season, according to council president Edward Deeb.

"The community sing will help foster the holiday spirit and family and community unity, while at the same time be a fun event," Deeb said.

Free hot beverage refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited to participate.

Other council officers are Sharon Carlson, vice-president; Joy Williams, treasurer, and Vincent LoCicero, secretary.

Santa hosts party at War Memorial

Santa Claus invites the pre-school and kindergarten set in Grosse Pointe to visit him in the ballroom of the War Memorial on Saturday, Dec. 12, from 2 to 4 p.m. Each boy and girl will have a chance to visit with Santa and receive a candy cane.

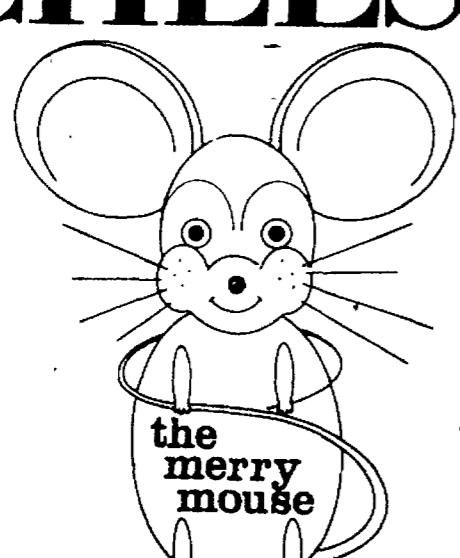

Santa's helpers will assist the children in fishing for a gift at the "North Pole" fishing pond. While enjoying cocoa and cookies, they will be entertained by a story teller who has a special Christmas tale to tell.

Complimentary tickets should be picked up in advance at the Center's office to insure plenty of refreshments to go around.

Prime Time for seniors

If you've had enough of this nonsense and you're ready for a little tip on how to beat this aggravation, here it is: Buy books for gifts. If you know a person well enough to give him or her a gift you know them well enough to choose a book that suits their interest. One visit to your local book store can make it possible to do all your shopping with one stop. Actually you can find the right book for everyone on your list without even leaving your home. Book clubs send out monthly bulletins listing their offerings. Department stores run ads listing book buys. One local entrepreneur sends out a brochure with suggestions and the promise of getting you any book you want whether it is in the brochure or not at a 20 percent discount. If you are interested you can reach Carolyn Savary by writing to her at 33721 Lincroft, Farmington Hills, Mi. 48018)

As an off-and-on book reviewer, if you have nothing definite in mind I have some suggestions to offer.

If you have children on your list and you want to send a Christmas book, Richard Scarry's "Best Christmas Book Ever!" (Random) would be a good choice. It is a colorful book with Christmas stories, that are short and fun to read and look at. It also has a board game and lyrics and music. Hilary Knight's "The Twelve Days of Christmas" (MacMillan) brings a new look at an old favorite Christmas song with a young bear as the gift giver. Merry Mouse books are popular with young readers. If you want to give a favorite child their first book of nursery rhymes, A Merry Mouse book of Nursery Rhymes will be sure to please (Doubleday).

Another favorite author is Tasha Tudor. Her delicately illustrated books have been treasured by young readers for many years. McKay has boxed three of her inspirational classics; "First Prayer," "First Graces" and "More Prayers" making a set that will be a welcome gift. For children of all ages you can't go wrong with Shel Silverstein's new book of humorous rhymes and cartoons "Light in the Attic" (Harper & Row).

MOST GIRLS ARE Judy Blume fans. She has an empathy for their concerns and knows how to deal with their problems in stories that appeal. Girls who have read "Are You There God, It's Me Margaret" will welcome receiving "Tiger Eyes," a timely story that deals with the effects on a teenage girl and her family when her father is killed during a robbery at his store (Bradley).

Encyclopedia Brown books by Donald Sobel (Delacort) are favorites with boys. For those fans there is "Encyclopedia Brown's Second Record Book of Weird and Wonderful Facts".

The best method of choosing a book for adult readers is to know their interests.

If they are cooks, they will like "The New York Times 60 Minute Gourmet" by Pierre Franey (Times Books) that offers a selection of desserts and appetizers that, as the title claims, can be whipped up in 60 minutes.

One of the great authorities on food in America has put a lifetime of experience and more than 1,500 prize recipes into "James Beard's American Cookery" (Little Brown).

Biography has a great fascination for many readers. One of the well-received biographies published this year is "Mornings on Horseback" by David McCullough (Simon & Schuster). It takes the reader up to 1886 when Theodore Roosevelt returned from the Badlands determined to make a career in politics. It is a beautifully told story that explains how the ailing child became known as the great T.R.

Fiction readers will be pleased with Colleen McCullough's new book "An Indecent Obsession" (Harper & Row), a powerful novel of six men and a woman in the confines of a military hospital on a Pacific Island at the end of World War II. This one heads the best seller list.

Cynthia Freeman, the popular author of "Come Pour the Wine", has also written a best seller "No Time For Tears" (Arbor House), a multi-generation novel of a family led by a dauntless woman who takes them from Czarist Russia to Palestine to New York's diamond center.

For mystery and excitement chose Lawrence Sanders "The Third Deadly Sin" (Putnam).

If you have an animal lover on your list, James Herriot continues the story of his veterinary practice in Yorkshire in "The Lord God Made Them All" (St. Martin). An added dimension is his visit behind the Iron Curtain.

"Cosmos" by Carl Sagan (Random) explains in a brilliant book 13 billion years of the universe's evolution.

A READER INTERESTED in history will not want to miss "At Dawn We Slept" by Gordon W. Prage (McGraw Hill). It is the untold story of Pearl Harbor from both the American and Japanese points of view. Thirty seven years of research make this the fullest account of the preparations, attack and immediate aftermath as told by the actual participants.

Christ Church concert set

A Christmas concert featuring music by J. S. Bach will be given at Christ Church Episcopal, located at 61 Grosse Pointe Boulevard on Sunday evening, Dec. 13, at 7:30 p.m.

The Christ Church Chorale, Orchestra, the Choir of Men and Boys and the Girls' Choir with guest soloists will perform the Magnificat in D and Cantata 140 "Sleepers Wake," conducted by Frederic DeHaven, musical director at Christ Church.

Guest Soloists for the performance will be Penny Steyer, soprano, Wendy Bloom, alto, Charles Witmer, tenor, James Patterson, bass and Steven Mattar, baritone. Penny Steyer is a member of the Kenneth Jewell Chorale, has performed as soloist with the Christ Church Chorale and is well known for her coloratura soprano voice. Wendy Bloom comes from Ann Arbor, and Charles Witmer, Steve Mattar and James Patterson are graduate students in the School of Music at the University of Michigan. Mr. Patterson won the semi finals of the Metropolitan Opera Auditorium held in Detroit this past month.

Donald Baker, principal oboe of the Detroit Symphony and David Brown, principal trumpet of the Toledo Symphony will be soloists in the orchestra of twenty-five players. Bach scores the Magnificat for piccolo trumpets (or baroque trumpets) oboe d'amore, flutes, strings and organ.

Tickets for this concert, at $5, are on sale at the church office. For reservations and reserve seating, call 885-4841.

Film Series takes Tunisian Holiday

"Tunisian Holiday," will be featured at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 13, 1981 on The World Adventure Series in the auditorium/theatre of The Detroit Institute of Arts. This will be the first Detroit showing of the film by Kenard Lawrence, coordinator of World Adventure.

The film represents a departure for the series in having its coordinator featured as the lecturer with a film co-produced by DIA.

Scenes include a sand-storm created by the same atmospheric conditions that caused the failure of the American rescue attempt of the hostages in Iran, a camel ride through an oasis, wildlife in the Sahara Desert, the fabled island of Djerba where the Sirens of the Odyssey of Ulysses are said to dwell, the ruins of Carthage, Berber tribesmen, an ancient Gloriana hotel comprised of 700-year old grain-bins, and much more.

A dinner of authentic Tunisian cuisine will be offered following the program at the Matchpoint Restaurant on West Fort in Trenton.

Tickets for the show are $3.25 at the door, or by calling 832-2730 any day between 9:30 a.m. and 5:15 p.m. Reservations for the dinner can be made by calling the same number.

Christmas features a Central Library

The Central Branch of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, 10 Kercheval, will present two Family Films, "The Little Drummer Boy," and "The Night Before Christmas," on Saturday, Dec. 12, at 2:30 p.m. in the Exhibition Room. All ages are invited to the free one-hour presentation.

The Exhibition Room will also be the setting Thursday, Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m. for the special Friends Film Forum feature, Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life," a comedy-drama starring James Stewart, Donna Reed, Henry Travers, Beulah Bondi, Ward Bond and Lionel Barrymore.

Stewart plays a man prevented from committing suicide on Christmas Eve by an awkward, elderly angel, who takes Stewart back through time in an effort to show him what good he has done and how important it is that he stay alive.

There is no admission charge, and everyone is invited.

Ford tenders resignation

Henry Ford II's letter of resignation as chairman of the Detroit-Wayne County Port Authority was released recently to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners by its Chairman Samuel A. Turner.

Turner, in accepting Ford's resignation, said it was with regret that the City and County have lost a person of his calibre with the capacity to spark the hoped for expansion of this area as a primary port of call.

"As you may have noted," Ford's letter explained, "I have accepted the Chairmanship of Detroit Renaissance. I really do not have the time to chair both the Port Authority and the Detroit Renaissance... in view of my long association with that organization and my need to withdraw from one... I feel it appropriate for me to relinquish my duties with the Port Authority."

PWP lists holiday meets

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners will present Banjos East at the general meeting on Friday, Dec. 11 with one hour of banjo music in the art wing.

The group will celebrate Christmas on Wed., Dec. 16, with a semi-formal champagne ball in the Crystal Ballroom of the War Memorial from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. All single parents are invited.

There will be no meeting, Friday, Dec. 25. Parents Without Partners meets the second and fourth Fridays of each month at the War Memorial. The general meetings start at 7:30 p.m. with a coffee hour, speaker at 8:30 p.m., followed by an afterglow. Call 881-5892 for more information.

Liggett admission test dates set

University Liggett School will be offering several testing opportunities for candidates seeking admission to its Middle and Upper Schools beginning with its first test date Saturday, Dec. 12. Additional testing has also been scheduled for January, February, March and April.

University Liggett's Lower School follows a similar admissions procedure. That division will begin its testing in early February.

For further information about the school, or its testing procedure, call Mrs. Burwell, admissions coordinator at 884-4444.

Village parade on cable

Grosse Pointe's Community Cable Television (COMCAT) isn't sending Christmas cards this year. Its gift to the community will be a special Christmas program "Christmas Greetings from COMCAT."

The first part of the show will feature the Grosse Pointe Santa Claus Parade that took place the day after Thanksgiving. A crew of 18 covered this fifth annual event in the Village. Detailed coverage was provided by four cameras: one on Jacobson's roof, one on top of the van, and two roving. The parade included local scouts, athletic groups, schools, old cars, marching bands and, of course, Santa who received the key to the City from Grosse Pointe Mayor David Robb. Cameramen and assistants included Tony Henrichs, Ed McDonald, Bill Schulte, Bob Priebe, Eric Steiner, Laurie Parres, Herman Guevara and Les Linder. Audio engineer was Ron Johnston and his assistants were Connie Dank, Bill Hanna and Michelle Leone. Diane Crea and Nancy McDonald were the commentators.

The second part of the Christmas program was taped at the War Memorial on Dec. 2 at the "Family Night Around the Christmas Tree." Amidst beautiful traditional decorations, both inside and out, local families gathered together to trim a tree, share a special holiday dinner, and enjoy the festive music of the Pointe Singers. The group is from Grosse Pointe South High School and is directed by Charles E. Gleason and accompanied by Jo Brummel. Special guest, Santa Claus, gathered the children to join in the singing and presented them with a treat from the cookie tree.

In addition to the parade crew, the other COMCAT members who helped tape the program were Gus Gallagher, Richard Carter, Michael Pfandtner, and Bonnie Walker.

The entire program, "Christmas Greetings from COMCAT," was co-produced by Dennis Lofreda and Ann Linder. It will be seen on Grosse Pointe Cable, Channel 3, on Monday, Dec. 14 and Wednesday, Dec. 16 at 6:30 p.m.

Poupard hosts holiday bazaar

The Poupard Elementary PTO will sponsor Breakfast with Santa, along with a Christmas Bazaar on Saturday, Dec. 12 at 20655 Lennon. The bazaar will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., with the pancake breakfast being served from 9 to 12.

Children may visit the Santa Shop and purchase gifts for family and friends. While the children are busy, mom and dad can visit the Craft Shop for some Christmas shopping of their own and the Bake Shop. Be sure to wear a smile so you can have your picture taken with Santa.

Industry leaders say hotel costs are up 20 percent this year, and occupancy levels are down up to 15-20 percent at some major locations.

Official total U. S. 1980 population is 226,504,825, up 23.3 million since 1970. Seven of every 10 Americans live in metropolitan areas.

Front door decorations. Every neighborhood has them, and perhaps your own door is the pride of the block because of its clever wreath, broom or Indian corn arrangement that tells all who enter the house "inside lives one very imaginative, artistic person."

But that decoration could mean more than you think. Materials on file at Wayne State's and the University of Detroit's Folklore Archives show that the tradition of hanging items on front doors stems from various folklore beginnings. Let us consider the broom.

Adorned with seasonal flowers, they make pretty good additions for a threshold. They also help cover ugly little windows that door manufacturers think are nice. However, brooms were originally hung on doors because of their "magical controls."

smart, eh?

By the way, another useful folk legend that employs the broom is for getting rid of unwanted guests. All you have to do is stand the broom upside down and stick a fork into it. Try it at your next party. You'll probably get a few people to leave—and a few strange stares, too.

Seeing that we've just celebrated Thanksgiving, we can't overlook that beaded jewel, Indian corn.

Chances are that you think the multi-colored corn signifies a bountiful harvest from the past summer's crops. Nope. Folklore archivist Phil LaRonge writes that Indians hung the corn to induce fertility. In fact, our native Americans refer to the corn as squaw corn, one of the earliest generic drugs to aid in conception.

Of course, gynecologists will scoff at such legend, but don't be surprised to see a few corn arrangements ripped off front doors this week, and just as many hung on other homes.

Now, with Christmas at our doorstep, wreaths are the seasonal hot items being draped on portals everywhere.

We have the good old pagans of the pre-Christian era to thank for this idea. They considered the wreath a sign of immortality. Immortality must have been a popular idea, and the idea of hanging wreaths spread to Europe.

Traditional use of evergreens are, in German folklore, a symbol of wishing for the warmth of summer to be never ending. That's not a bad thought, but the British wanted to be a little more practical.

For one thing, they chose holly for one of their greens. English folklore says that holly discourages witches (yes, they're around in December too) and, our favorite of January people, the tax collectors.

The British have used a lot of ivy for holiday decorations, as do many Pointers nowadays. But how many of you know that originally ivy was associated with Bacchus, the Greek god of wine? Hanging ivy sure sounds better than stabbing brooms with a fork at a holiday party.

In fact, the British are not allowed to hang ivy in church, because of the link to pagan practices involving the god. It sounds like there were some pretty good holiday celebrations back then.

Regardless of the English churches' viewpoint, the people of that nation have taken their holly and ivy seriously in the past.

In Oxfordshire, it was the custom for the household maid to ask the master for holly and ivy with which to make a wreath. If he didn't provide her with the materials, the servants had a unique way of letting him know they were upset.

During the night, the servants of the house would sneak into the master's bedroom and steal his pants. Come daylight, passersby would notice the trousers displayed on the front door or on the front gate by the roadside. So much for the warm spirit felt between employer and employee.

It is doubtful that the pants idea will catch on in this area this season, but think twice before telling the maid not to bother hanging some Christmas greens on the door.

She just might hang some corn instead.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE.

TAX RELIEF HAS ARRIVED! NOW YOU CAN OPEN AN IRA FOR 1982.

On January 2, 1982, new laws make tax-sheltered Individual Retirement Accounts available to anyone under 70½ with earned income (such as wages, salaries, fees or commissions). Even if you're covered by another retirement plan—especially if you're not.

DEDUCT UP TO $2,000 FROM YOUR TAXABLE INCOME EVERY YEAR! UP TO $4,000 FOR A WORKING COUPLE.

As long as you qualify, you may deposit up to $2,000 into your IRA each year; a working couple may deposit up to $2,000 each*. At tax time, every penny deposited in your IRA can be deducted from your taxable income—right off the top. That could even put you in a lower tax bracket.

SAVE TAXES ON YOUR INTEREST, TOO.

The interest earned on your IRA is tax deferred. Without annual taxes, your savings will grow much faster and you'll end up with a far larger retirement fund. Your IRA funds are not taxed until you actually use them, and you may begin withdrawing them as early as age 59½.

YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT AN IRA.

Social Security benefits and your present retirement plan may not be able to keep up with inflation. The supplemental savings and tax benefits can make an IRA essential to a fuller retirement.

GET OUR FREE BROCHURE AND GET INSTANT ANSWERS FROM THE IRA HOT LINE: 1-800-552-0369.

Establishing an IRA is a big commitment. That's why our new brochure covers the potential tax savings and retirement income benefits in detail. Ask for your free brochure—and feel free to ask any other questions about the IRA—by calling our toll-free Hot Line any weekday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

LET OUR EXPERTS OPEN AN IRA FOR YOU.

Come in for a personal visit and we'll show you why an IRA is the smart choice for you. You'll pay fewer taxes and wind up with a much richer retirement. You really can't afford to be without one.

*Or total earned income, whichever is less. A wage earner and unemployed spouse may open separate accounts and deposit up to a combined total of $2,250.

Substantial penalties and tax liabilities are imposed for withdrawals from Individual Retirement Accounts prior to age 59½, except in cases of death or disability. Withdrawals must begin by age 70½.

Yule catalogs help local business

By Susan Coppa

Catalogs at Christmas. Letter carriers cuss at them, frenetic shoppers love them. What better way to shop than sit at home with a warm cup of something, lounging in a snuggly, while obtaining endless paper cuts from turning pages of the latest gift book to hit the mailbox?

The 1933 Sears Christmas catalog offered pure silk stockings for only 48 cents a pair and cotton broadcloth shirts for $1.59. The catalog idea caught on, and now, 48 years later, Grosse Pointe merchants have jumped on the Christmas catalog bandwagon. The result for the merchants from sending out their own picture books of wares has been an encouraging boost for business.

Maryann Harvey, of Harvey's Complete Traveler, says that their catalog for Christmas has done a world of good. "It's turning on the faucet of business for us."

The hottest items this year for Harvey's has been a "match mount" for those who collect match book covers, a brass valet and wood rocking chairs.

Maryann is looking forward to this December being as good a month as it has in the past, and suggests that people shop early for a better selection of gifts.

Over at the Squirrel's Nest, manager Vi Weber says that customer response to the catalog triples business for the store. Seasonal items, such as "precious moments figurines" and nativity sets, have been the Squirrel's Nest biggest sellers.

And what about the Persnickety Pedlar's catalog response? "Excellent," says Barbara Reed. "Nancy Shirar writes the catalog I think is attractive and witty."

Reed says that their Christmas-tree-shape ice cube makers are very popular this year, as are "preppy" beachtowels. Another hot item is a Christmas dishplate depicting Grosse Pointe's St. Paul's on the Lake.

Pat Rayburn, of B. Siegel's in the Village, agrees that more and more people shop through catalogs these days. "We have more sales on unusual items, and the sequined items are very big this year."

"In fact, anything in the metallic style is a hot item."

Jacobson's goes beyond just sending out catalogs for the holidays. Susan Beaudry of Jacobson's offers "The Personal Shopper." People call her, tell her what type of item is needed for whom, and she takes it from there.

"It's a productive sales tool for shut-ins and busy executives," she says.

This year's most desired item at Jacobson's has been an Ann Klein V-neck sweater with appliqued leaves around the neck. Beaudry also notes that this year there are more glamorous items, such as fine jewelry and furniture, being sold.

Their catalog and personal shopping service are not limited to the Grosse Pointe area for their convenience, Beaudry adds.

"One woman previously from Grosse Pointe calls every year from Texas for Christmas gifts." What? Not Neiman-Marcus?

Actually, who needs that silly Texan wish book when Wright Kay has published a nifty little catalog titled, "Where the Best Surprises Begin..." Items range from a very elegant round diamond solitaire set in platinum for only $75,000, to a first edition Santa bell for only $15.

The Wright Kay catalog's theme is that the best surprises come when the perfect gift is combined with the perfect moment of giving. Of course, nothing is said about the BIGGEST surprise one receives — when the charge card bill is delivered after Christmas by the walking-tall-again letter carrier. Perhaps that bill's delivery is a light weight means of revenge.

A date that lives in infamy

For many Americans, Dec. 7, 1941, remains, as President Roosevelt called it, a date that will live in infamy. The description was apt because the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor came on the very day Japanese envoys were still conducting peaceful negotiations with U.S. officials in Washington.

Even after 40 years, those old enough to remember the day can usually recall exactly what they were doing when they heard the radio announcement of the Japanese assault. Even after 40 years, those people recall how that attack plunged the United States into another war and altered their lives and their families' lives forever.

In an editorial Dec. 11, 1941, in its first issue after the attack, the Grosse Pointe News predicted America would win the war and called on all Americans to support it. "Until Dec. 7, 1941, some of us may have viewed with more or less detachment the struggle of the free people in Europe to retain freedom or regain a freedom lately lost," the editorial said. "Thenceforth we share with them this struggle." And it continued:

"THE TASK IS to make safe for ourselves, for our children, for their children, through the long generations yet ahead, that freedom which we have come to call the American way of life; for the preservation of human dignity and for all those privileges and qualities which have evolved with the advancing civilization which Germany and her imitators would black out with the stygian darkness of medieval tyranny."

That editorial no doubt spoke for a majority of Grosse Pointers and Americans then and it probably speaks for them still. Unfortunately, we have learned through two world wars and smaller wars since that we cannot "make the world safe for democracy" or even achieve peace after winning "the war to end all wars." In the nuclear age which this nation unleashed, there is no national security. There remains only a balance of terror which apparently can be maintained only by a balance of destructive capability. Ironically, Japan and Germany today are allies of the United States and the free world. But today Japan can now lay claim to being the world's foremost industrial power, at least on a per capita basis. Japan's wartime hopes for a sphere of co-prosperity in East Asia have been supplanted by the success of its postwar strategy for invasion of the world's markets. One of the results, as we know too well in Michigan, is that Japan has wrested from the United States for the second year in a row the distinction of being No. 1 in motor vehicle production in the world.

YET COMMERCIAL competition is preferable to military confrontation. Japan and West Germany benefited both from postwar aid from the United States and from U.S. protection. It may seem curious and even significant that Japan, the only nation to renounce the right to wage war in its postwar constitution, led the way to an economic postwar revival. But it achieved its economic goals under a protective military umbrella provided and financed by the United States. Today's economic competitors from both Japan and Germany sometimes forget about that U.S. aid.

Yet this country's aims, although not often spelled out specifically in Washington, still are those expressed 40 years ago in that Grosse Pointe News editorial: "to make safe for ourselves, for our children, for their children, through the long generations yet ahead, that freedom which we have come to call the American way of life; for the preservation of human dignity and for all those privileges and qualities which have evolved with the advancing civilization..."

Perhaps it would be better for all of us if we remembered Pearl Harbor less as a date of infamy and more as a time at which we as a nation dedicated ourselves to aims such as those set out in that editorial in December, 1941.

The winter of our discontent

It was the cities' turn for a trip to the Reagan administration woodshed last week as further cuts in federal aid programs of benefit to the cities were described at the convention of the National League of Cities in Detroit. These warnings followed similar descriptions of more cutbacks in federal aid to the states in the previous week.

The prospect of continuing cutbacks in federal aid has led to a good deal of criticism, even by Republican officials. Gov. Richard A. Snelling of Vermont, a conservative Republican himself, warned that the President's "new federalism" is leading the nation toward an "economic Bay of Pigs." Snelling and other critics are worried about the deteriorating financial position of many states and cities.

What is happening is that the federal government is reducing its aid to states and cities and thus abandoning its responsibility to help finance programs that benefit people served by the states and cities. In many cases, it is easier for the federal government to cut back its financing than it is for local governments to abandon programs.

In addition, many cities in the North and Northeast have lost population under the 1980 census. That means they will get less per capita aid for even the retained programs. Such cutbacks even affect a community like Grosse Pointe Woods which is disputing 1980 census figures which will cost that city government Community Development Block Grant funds and other federal and state grants. If the census figures are not revised as requested by the Woods, the city will cut back on sewer and street work for which most of the Community Development Block Grant funds are earmarked. Similar cutbacks will be required by other Grosse Pointe communities which lost population, although the Shores presumably would escape this kind of a slash because it gained in the 1980 head count.

A decline in revenues from the small business, gasoline and motor vehicle weight and sales taxes also is cutting into revenues received by cities from the state. The city of Grosse Pointe Park has cut its estimate of estimated revenues from the state by more than $100,000 with further reduction a possibility because of Michigan's continuing budget crunch. The state decline in revenues shared with cities will adversely affect other Grosse Pointe municipalities, too.

WHAT THESE MOVES mean is that cities will provide fewer or poorer services. They will be unable to maintain their streets and facilities as well as they would like to do. They may have to lay off employees and even end programs that do not rate high on a cost-benefit basis. Such actions appear likely to increase demands for welfare, unemployment and other forms of assistance at a time when funds for such programs are drying up, too. Under these circumstances, local property tax relief is highly unlikely.

It becomes, indeed, the winter of our discontent. The only light at the end of the tunnel is the hope that the "new federalism" will achieve two of its major purposes: slowing inflation and reducing the growth of the federal government. Unfortunately, the pain and suffering caused by the efforts to achieve those goals will not be spread equally. This apparent inequality of sacrifice could even prove to be the administration's Achilles heel in the 1982 congressional elections.

A proclamation recognizing 28 years of public service was presented to Shores Chief of Police Joseph Vitale. Making the presentation were: (left to right) Wayne County Commissioner Erv Steiner; Park Municipal Judge Beverly Grobbel; Gene Glenn, Assistant Special Agent in charge of Michigan for the FBI; Chief Vitale and Shores Superintendent Thomas Jefferis. Chief Vitale was also recently elected president of the Southeastern Michigan Chiefs of Police Association.

Is culture taking a back seat?

To the Editor:

Last week we took an ambitious group of Parcels orchestra students to Chelsea, to attend a day-long String Clinic for seventh, eighth and ninth graders from around the state. In a very small town with a very small school system and one small high school, we were amazed not only to learn that one whole building on the high school "campus" is devoted to music, but that the Chelsea band has performed in a Michigan-wide tour, at Washington, D.C., Cedar Point, and Mexico City, Mexico in the last four years.

We asked ourselves why such cultivation of enthusiasm among the musicians is lacking in the Grosse Pointe System. For a pastime that lasts a lifetime, the talent of music seems to take a backseat to sports for example.

which is the foremost entity that overshadows the promotion of musicianship in the Grosse Pointe schools.

Whose move is it to try to achieve more balance between sports and music? This is not to say that good musicians are only turned out if they perform at great distances—only that more promotion of the music department might add more prestige among peers to being a musician in a Grosse Pointe school.

H. Clein Center would be fitting

To the Editor:

I was truly appalled to read in the Grosse Pointe News (Nov. 5) that the Board of Education, in all its pusillanimous ultra-conservatism, is against naming the Grosse Pointe Center for the Performing Arts in honor of Herman Clein. The argument that if one person is to be honored in this way, then all must be is as absurd as saying that if one scientist wins a Nobel Prize, then all must.

Clein was a man of tremendous talent and as a teacher, he was one of those rare individuals capable of imparting both his knowledge and enthusiasm to his students. When Clein was my music teacher at Pierce Junior High nearly 20 years ago, I never learned more about music nor enjoyed it more in my entire life, and I know I am not alone in these sentiments.

To deny this honor to the memory of a man who was in so great a part responsible for the vast amount of recognition young Grosse Pointe musicians have received, both locally and nationally, seems unbelievably petty. Furthermore, Clein was the first choral music teacher to teach Grosse Pointe North students who performed in the Performing Arts Center and spent nearly half his career there.

Herman Clein's untimely death is the loss of the entire community, and I feel it is only fitting that his memory be preserved in the name of the building he put to such marvelous use.

Police posting 'ideal' for North

To the Editor:

In response to past accidents and more specifically to a recent one, when a North student was struck and seriously injured by a motor vehicle several weeks ago, it has been suggested to post a traffic policeman near the intersection of Vernier and the North entrance exit in order to prevent anymore needless accidents at this intersection.

This proposal is the ideal solution to this crossing hazard benefiting both the pedestrian and the driver. The mere presence of the policeman would be enough to make drivers aware of the speed limit and pedestrians of the proper school crossing. In addition, his presence would only be needed for approximately 20 minutes of the entire school day and probably wouldn't cost the city as much as a crossing guard which isn't necessary at a high school.

The city's officials would be foolish not to seriously consider this or another equally effective solution to this grave problem.

Free pets are doomed

To the Editor:

E. J. Sullivan's letter appearing Thursday, Nov. 19, entitled "Dog fight promoters, researchers use unwanted pets" was a welcome warning.

I never realized that free pets were doomed. If we want good homes for our pets, it would be better if we sell them. People who can afford pets are willing to care for them. Wouldn't you hate to know your pet died with a blood-curdling cry as dogs ripped it apart because you gave it away free?

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

The traditional Lucia Festival will be observed this Sunday, Dec. 13, at 5:30 p.m. in Immanuel Lutheran Church, Chandler Park Drive at Dickerson, where Grosse Pointers of Swedish ancestry continue to worship, as their parents and grandparents did before them. Tradition is important at Immanuel. It's continuity: a sense of family, of roots. It's warmth and fellowship. But it's not exclusive.

Although this event is a high point in the lives and memories of congregation members who are of Swedish descent, non-Scandinavians also find it interesting—and meaningful. And at Immanuel, at the Lucia Festival, everyone is welcome.

The Light of the Northland

In homes throughout Sweden, early on the morning of Dec. 13, the eldest daughter, robed in white, a crown of seven lighted candles set in lingonberry leaves on her head, wakes her parents and offers them coffee and fancy currant buns known as "lussekatter." In Sweden, the Christmas season begins with this Lucia Day.

Why Dec. 13? Move backward in time, to the days when the Julian calendar was in use, when the 13th of December was the first day after the longest night of the year in the far north. This day marked the defeat of darkness. The return of light was a cause for rejoicing among the pagan Northmen, and so they celebrated a Feast of Lights.

Why Lucia? She lived, and died, after all, in sunny Sicily. Move farther back in time, to the third century A.D. . . . move south, and see Lucia going, with her mother, to bring food and clothing to the poor. As Christians they were subject to persecution, so these visits were made at dark, in great secrecy. Lucia, to free her hands to carry the gifts, wore a candle on her head to light the way.

Eventually she was caught, sentenced to be burned—but the wood would not catch fire; the element refused the sacrifice of an innocent young girl. It was left to man to carry out the sentence. Lucia was killed by a sword thrust on Dec. 13, the very day the Swedish people believed light returned to their land.

The legend of this lovely Christian Santa Lucia was brought north by travellers. Her moral integrity aroused the nobility of the Northmen. Her tragedy captured their hearts. Soon she belonged to them, and made the Feast of Lights a new and more meaningful time of celebration. The pagan and the Christian traditions blended. Today, Lucia appears as the Queen of Light on Dec. 13 throughout Sweden.

Welcome to Bethlehem . . .

What more appropriate stop on the Grosse Pointe Christmas Walk than Bethlehem, at the Grosse Pointe Academy, where Walkers enjoyed refreshments and the peace of the Academy's jewel-like French Gothic Sacred Heart Chapel? Here the creche, backed by pines and palms, was a focal point. The Pointe Walk, held last Sunday and Monday, drew thousands to a series of holiday-decorated homes and the Academy Chapel. This coming Sunday and Monday it's Birmingham/Bloomfield's turn to welcome Christmas Walkers. Both Walks are a fund raising project of the Detroit Symphony League, formerly the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Charity Knights roster swells

Three prominent civic leaders, two men and one woman, will be honored as PIME Knights of Charity at a black tie dinner dance at Fairlane Manor, Dearborn, Friday, Dec. 11. This is the 24th anniversary year of the benefit dinners which annually single out persons who have made outstanding contributions of time, talent and finances in their philanthropic endeavors.

The 1981 awards go to Maria Lalli (Lady of Charity), president and treasurer of the Universal Wine and Liquor Company, to Grosse Pointe's Robert B. Semple, honorary chairman of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Inc., and retired chairman of the board, BASF Wyandotte Corporation, and to James H. Wineman, president of the Wineman Investment Corporation.

General chairman for the dinner is Frank D. Stella. Ladies' chairperson is Mrs. William E. Johnston. Honorary chairmen include Max Fisher, Henry Ford II, Lee A. Iacocca, James V. McLernon, Governor William G. Milliken, Roger B. Smith and Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young.

Vice-chairmen include Thomas V. Angott, George Ferris and David Pollock. Channel Seven's Bill Bonds will be the emcee.

Proceeds from the dinner will go to help train young men for lives of dedication as missionaries in underdeveloped nations around the world, as well as to provide immediate relief to leprosy sufferers, the aged and infirm and orphaned and abandoned children. The PIME Missionaries work in the most backward regions of India, Burma, Thailand, Brazil, The Philippines, Hong Kong, Africa and Melanesia.

The Knights of Charity awards dinners date back to 1954 when the first recipient was Pat O'Brien. In the intervening years many luminaries have been designated Knights, among them Danny Thomas, George Meany, Al Borman, Benson Ford, Frank Gerbig Sr., Paul Zuckerman, Lee A. Iacocca, Stanley S. Kresge, Walker L. Cisler, Alfred R. Glancy, Joseph Z. Nelderlander, John J. Riccardi, Mrs. Alex (Marie) Manooogian and Thomas A. Murphy.

Josiah Harmar DAR lunches Saturday

Mrs. Louis Grabill, of Madison Heights, will entertain members of the Josiah Harmar Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution this Saturday, Dec. 12. The program, which begins at noon, includes a Christmas party, business meeting and luncheon.

Theme of the social gathering is "Our Early American Christmas Heritage." Further information may be obtained by contacting Florence Davis at 422-0006.

August wedding for Miss Dossin

A knee length dress of ivory georgette, styled with a ruffled neckline, was Marlena Ellen Dossin's choice for her summer wedding to Kevin Paul Hanlon in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lake-shore. The gown was trimmed with satin ribbon, tied at the neck and stitched on the cuffs.

The bride also wore a necklace of sea pearls and carried a cascade of rubrum lilies, stephanotis, white roses, ivy and baby's-breath.

Monsignor Francis X. Canfield presided at the 6 o'clock ceremony Friday, August 21. It was followed by a dinner at The Old Place hosted by the bride's mother, Ellen Dossin, of Shoreham Road.

The new Mrs. Hanlon, an alumna of University Liggett School and Endicott Junior College, Beverly, Mass., who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Interior Design from Michigan State University, is also the daughter of Richard Roy Dossin, of St. Clair Shores.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dossin hosted a reception Sunday, August 23, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The bride was attended by Jane Grant Braley, of Boston, Mass., as maid of honor, the bridegroom by his brother, Arthur McColgan Hanlon, as best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hanlon, of Saginaw.

The newlyweds vacationed at St. Clair Inn. They are at home in Des Moines, Iowa, where the bridegroom, a graduate of Saginaw's Douglas MacArthur High School and Michigan State University, is attending Medical School.

Woman's Club ready to welcome holidays with tea and music

The traditional Christmas tea for members of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club and their guests has been scheduled for next Wednesday, Dec. 16, at 12:30 p.m. Also traditional is the setting for the party; the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom.

Mrs. John E. Engstrom, Mrs. William Kabbush, Mrs. Joseph Montecarlo, Mrs. Boyce M. Tope, Mrs. Dick Warner and Mrs. Vene L. Whims have been asked to pour during the tea hour preceding the entertainment, arranged by Mrs. Milan Alexander, the club's program chairman and first vice-president.

A trio — Mrs. Eugene Ignasiak, soprano, Mrs. Edward Wilson, piano, and Mrs. Peter Cubba, violin, all members of Tuesday Musicales — will present a program of Musical Melodies.

Assisting the afternoon's tea hostess, Mrs. Augustus J. Christie, and co-hostess, Mrs. Joseph M. Scanlon, is a committee including the Mesdames James E. Allen, L. Verne Ansel, Robert C. Becker, Irving D. Bennett, John T. Condon, Russell G. Cushing, Laurence B. Einfeldt, A. Gerald Gabriel, Ralph E. Glahn, Roy W. Jacobs, Harold B. Lee, Mark Loush, John J. Kelly, John W. Murphy, Harry M. Knapp, Fred T. Roberts, E.J. Scallen, Cecil G. Shuert, Philip J. Skillman, Richard G. Stoner and Miss Marion Hopson.

Members planning to invite guests are requested to make reservations by contacting the hospitality chairman, Mrs. George E. Gerow, at 885-8232.

They've made a merry Christmas . . .

The Christmas spirit came alive for 605 guests at two parties hosted by the Junior League of Detroit, Inc., last week, thanks to SHIRLEY (Mrs. J. Stephen) GAGNE, SUSAN WHYTE, SHARON (Mrs. Anthony E.) KENNY, JILL (Mrs. John D.) MORAN, MARJEAN (Mrs. Luis H.) TOLEDO, MILO (Mrs. Richard J.) SCHULTE (standing, left to right); PEGGY (Mrs. Arthur W.) HERMANN, DIANE (Mrs. Lyle A.) HEAVNER and CARLA BUTTERLY (seated, left to right); plus Trina (Mrs. Steven C.) Dannecker, Mrs. J. Marr Ford, Kathy (Mrs. Lawrence) MacDonald, Nancy (Mrs. Richard C.) Rappa and Mary (Mrs. John W.) Tipp. Marjean and Shirley served as chairman and assistant chairman, respectively, of the Junior League's Detroit League for the Handicapped/Goodwill Industries and Adult Service Centers Christmas party committee this year. Trina was the committee secretary.

The first celebration took place last Thursday, Dec. 3, from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at League/Goodwill. The 265 guests were handicapped individuals receiving vocational training and counseling to promote their independent future employment.

Many of the 340 guests at the Adult Service Centers party, held Sunday, Dec. 6, from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Butzel Middle School on Detroit's East Side, reside in nursing homes and foster care facilities.

Both parties featured a traditional turkey dinner, a special gift for each guest, fruit and a bag filled with items donated by numerous small businesses, corporations and individuals. Each guest received a corsage or boutonniere, made and donated by members of Grosse Pointe and Detroit garden clubs. Candy rolls made by local Brownie and Girl Scout Troops decorated each place setting.

Door prizes were given out by Santa. Greetings were extended by Barbara Willett, the Junior League's current president.

The Junior League Gardeners decorated the League/Goodwill facility and donated a gift for each client. Junior League volunteers, with assistance from the Women of B'Nai B'rith, served the meals at League/Goodwill, where featured entertainment and invited guests included the Detroit Police's "Cochons Bleus," Joe Vitale and his quartet, television personality Sonny Eliot and Detroit Piston Isaiah Thomas.

The Adult Service Centers program also featured "Les Cochons Bleus," plus a fashion show presented by the seniors themselves. Invited guests included Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, Daniel H. Krichbaum, director of the Detroit Recreation Department, and members of the Detroit Recreation Board of Commissioners.

The Detroit League for the Handicapped, now combined with Goodwill Industries, was founded by the Junior League of Detroit in 1921. Adult Service Centers, Inc., formerly known as the Senior Center, was established in 1953 by the Junior League of Detroit to provide recreation and rehabilitation for the elderly.

Pointer Bridge Girls to meet

The Christmas meeting of the Pointer Girls Bridge Club has been scheduled for next Thursday, Dec. 17, at 11 a.m. in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center's Alger House. Luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Robert M. Brent is chairman of the day.

Members unable to attend the luncheon and afternoon of cards are asked to call 886-7422 by this Saturday, Dec. 12.

Christmas lunch for Five Pointes

Lochmoor Club was the setting yesterday, Wednesday, Dec. 9, for Five Pointes Garden Club's annual Christmas luncheon. Hostess was

Mrs. Edward Weber. Mrs. James R. Lindsay was in charge of the program.

Quester focus is 'Memories'

Mrs. Robert Palmer will lead the Grosse Pointe Chapter of Questers No. 147 in a program of Christmas Memories tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 11, at the Balfour Road home of Mrs. Bert Lindzay who will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Frederick Schumann and Mrs. Hugh Stalker. Each member will participate, bringing a Christmas treasure from the past—ornament, toy or an event in her life—to share with the group. Of course, a special Christmas luncheon has been planned.

New members who have joined the chapter this year are Mrs. George Bay, Mrs. Derrill Manle and Mrs. Thomas Reghanti.

Old-fashioned fun for Questers

There's going to be good, old-fashioned Christmas fun Friday, Dec. 11, at 9:30 p.m. in the Stanton Lane home of Mrs. Robert Dice when members of the Grand Marais Chapter of Questers gather for their holiday party.

Mrs. William S. Potter, of Mount Clemens, will discuss Christmas traditions. Later, there'll be a carol sing-a-long, with guitar accompaniment by Mrs. John Makara. The day's program also calls for a gift exchange and a potluck luncheon.

Christmas tips for single parent

Holidays can be the best of times; they can be the worst of times. But they need special consideration—and a lot of tact—when the children are "shared" by separated parents. To make these transitions as smooth as possible, the December issue of Families magazine offers a number of suggestions from family experts.

Parents Without Partners advocates advance planning with your ex-spouse so that there are no surprises, no confusion. PWP also recommends that youngsters have plenty of time with both parents every Christmas. Custody on alternate holidays may work well for some parents, but to a child a year is a long way off.

Make use of your extended family, if you have one; if not, make one up! John Kinnane, a Washington, D.C., psychologist, says, "Having other people around is absolutely essential. The worst eventuality is to wake up Christmas morning in a little apartment: just you, your kids and the separation papers in the bureau drawer." If your parents aren't available, maybe your ex-spouse's are. Even if you may feel things are a bit strained you needn't deprive your children of their grandparents' company.

Friends help, and many organizations plan special events around the Christmas season. PWP, church groups and other single-oriented organizations offer activities so you won't have to go it alone.

If you have a friend the kids like, include him or her in holiday activities. Father James Young, founder of the North American Conference of Separated and Divorced Catholics, cautions that it is risky to spring such a friend on your youngsters for the first time at Christmas, but the warmth of the celebration can be enhanced by the presence of a known friend with whom you exchange gifts.

As time goes by the holidays get better. "Single-parenting is something you improve at," says June Karger, a Boston mother of three. She recalls that her first holiday season as a single parent was her worst, "and as far as I know, that's the case for almost everybody. But you learn; you improve by practicing."

Dottie's in charge of TV auction art

Grrosse Pointe's Dottie Doerer will serve as co-chairman of this spring's 14th annual WTWS Channel 56 fund raising auction, scheduled to run for nine full days, April 16 to 24. CKLW radio personality Dick Puritan is returning as official auction host.

Andi Wolfe, of Birmingham, 1982 auction chairman, reports that this year's theme is Lights, Camera, Auction! "So we're hanging up our spurs (from the 1981 'Auction Rides Again') and donning a new look for Auction '82," she says, adding that, even though it's still some months away, work is already well underway for the giant on-the-tube sell-a-thon.

"We're enthusiastic about the early response we are getting from the community and area businesses," says Dottie. "For example, a number of Special Board items already in-house include land in the Upper Peninsula, donated by realtor James Montgomery, and apartment leases from Mc-Kinley Properties.

"These and other Special Board donations already received are worth over a total of $20,000."

In addition, early commitments to support the auction via underwriting grants have come from Jules R. Schubot Jewelers, Fretter Appliance and the Stroh Brewery Company. Each has pledged $4,500 to help cover the cost of running the auction during "their" day.

Dick Puritan, who is serving as official auction host for the third year, has been an auction personality since the first Channel 56 Auction, held in 1969. Ms. Wolfe, in her second year as auction chairman, has worked for nine years as a Channel 56 volunteer.

Dottie, a five year auction veteran, has responsibility for the Art Division of the auction, now known as The FiftySix Collection.

is sung, the chosen girl proceeds down the aisle, dressed in the traditional white robe and red sash, the lighted crown on her head. She carries a tray of coffee and rolls. Preceding her are two star boys and her court of attendants, also dressed in white.

Sunday's program also will include old Swedish and favorite American Christmas songs, sung by the guests and the Scandia Women's Chorus. Lucia will serve coffee in Immanuel's Fellowship Hall after the church service. There'll be a refreshment table, featuring Christmas cookies and gingerbread, plus demonstrations and workshops on making the traditional Swedish Christmas tree candies, nut baskets, straw ornaments and the very special holiday cookie known as "rosettes." Jultome, the Swedish Christmas sprite, will distribute candies to everyone.

Among the Grosse Pointe residents involved in Immanuel's 1981 Lucia Festival are Mrs. Carl Thomas, Mrs. Carl Ohman, Mrs. Jerome Driscoll, Mrs. Marvin Peterson, Mrs. David Steele, Mrs. Mark Peterson, Stephanie Logan, Paul Peterson, James McCormick, Mrs. Charles Brown, Lori McWatt, Mrs. Ronald Cinder, Mrs. Darrel Johnson, Emily Bendure and Donna Lynn Umphenour.

Julotta on Christmas morning

The joyous season that begins at Immanuel with Lucia culminates there on Christmas day with Julotta, the church's 62nd traditional early morning Swedish candlelight Christmas Service. It starts at 7 a.m. Dr. Constantine Trued will officiate, and bring the Christmas message in English. The Swedish Arpi Male Chorus will be among those providing special music, and everyone's invited to enjoy coffee and refreshments and an exchange of "Merry Christmases!" before heading home to the tree and the turkey.

Caroling, Caroling . . .

Christmas caroling at the homes of Pointe area shut-ins has become a favorite tradition of Phase I, the young adults (ages 20 through 39) who gather for programs and just-plain-fun times on Sunday evenings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. They're meeting this Sunday at the church at 6 p.m.—that's early, but shut-ins go to bed early—to form car pools and get maps showing their destinations.

A few hours later they'll be back, hoarse-voiced, no doubt, but happy-hearted, converging on the second floor church lounge for relaxed conversation and holiday refreshments. The party's expected to begin shortly after 8 p.m. and, as a special Christmas project, Phase I is asking each party-goer to bring some canned goods and non-perishable items to pack into food baskets to be distributed by Father Cunningham's FOCUS: HOPE organization. Part of Phase I's regular $2 program meeting fee this Sunday will go to help purchase the hams for the food baskets.

A 'Making Music' Bazaar

The Grosse Pointe Band and Orchestra Parents Club presents its first annual Yuletide Bazaar this Saturday, Dec. 12, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center at Grosse Pointe North High School. Exhibitors from southeastern Michigan and Ohio will offer handcrafted items for sale. There is no admission charge, and a light lunch will be available.

The Joy of Giving

Remember the legend of the little stable boy at the inn who, when he learned that three kings were presenting gifts to the new-born Child, asked, "What can I give?" It's a question many of us ask every holiday season, but for members of Colony Town Club it's not relevant. They've known for a long time just what they are going to give, for they've been meeting throughout the year to sew and knit their special presents.

Some have used nimble fingers to fashion warm bed socks for patients in nursing homes and hospitals. Others have knitted attractive, colorful lap robes to bring warmth and cheer to patients in wheelchairs. Those ladies who do not knit have been patiently and expertly fashioning hand-sewn bed jackets, their edges bound in satin ribbon.

Others are making utility bags which can be attached to wheelchairs, so patients can have their very personal belongings with them at all times. And Colony Town Club members who neither knit nor sew have been putting together beautifully illustrated books of Christmas cards, to delight the small patients at Children's Hospital and the boys and girls at the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Exceptional Children.

Last Monday, in the Woods home of Mrs. William B. Fox, all the gift-makers got together for one of the nicest events of their club year: the annual gift-wrapping session. Mrs. John E. Engstrom, Mrs. Bruce Berckmans, Mrs. Donald S. Colwell, Mrs. William B. Hall, Mrs. Richard Parks and Mrs. George Negri assisted the hostess. The wrapping of the gifts began at 10:30 a.m. The laughter and conversation continued through luncheon, served at 12:30 p.m.

This Sunday, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, the Colony Town Clubbers will get together again. It's one of the times members gather just-for-fun, and they've asked husbands to join them at 12:30 p.m. for a Christmas brunch. Mrs. Henry E. Mertins and Mrs. Harvey G. Groehm are co-chairing the affair, with the assistance of a committee including Grosse Pointers Mrs. Calvin J. Gauss, Mrs. Robert J. Hutton, Mrs. Alfred W. Massnick, Mrs. Thomas J. Murphy, Mrs. Fred A. Rohn Jr. and Mrs. Edwin Secord.

A Christmas carol sing-a-long will add to the festivities. Mrs. Oswald Zeidler, of Buckingham Road, is the current president of the Colony Town Club.

DIA organizes major exhibit

Detroit won't see the show for two years, but a major exhibition conceived and coordinated by the Detroit Institute of Arts will premier in the East Building of the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., on Sunday, Dec. 20, run there through May 9, then tour four other United States cities before opening Nov. 7, 1983, at the DIA.

"Between Continents/Between Seas. Precolumbian Art of Costa Rica" features 293 gold, jade and terracotta objects created as early as 500 B.C. "It is perhaps the most important exhibition of its kind ever organized," says Michael Kan, deputy director and curator of African, Oceanic and New World Cultures at the DIA.

"North American audiences will be stunned by the beauty, the imagination and technical brilliance of the artists from these early American cultures," he predicts.

The treasures of the Central American democracy will travel to San Antonio, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh and San Diego before arriving in Detroit, where they will remain through Jan. 29, 1984.

A fully illustrated catalogue with 100 color plates ($22.95) has been published by Harry N. Abrams, Inc., in association with the DIA.

Bertini finishes series for DSO

Gary Bertini, Detroit Symphony Orchestra music adviser, will conclude a three-week-long conducting appearance with the DSO with 8:30 p.m. concerts at Ford Auditorium tonight, Thursday, Dec. 10, and Saturday, Dec. 12. Vocal artists from the University of Michigan will be featured.

The program includes the Overture to Rossini's "Italian in Algiers," Gershwin's "American in Paris" and a concert performance of Ravel's "Bewitched Child."

Tickets for both concerts, ranging in price from $15 to $8, are available at the Ford Auditorium box office, where VISA and MasterCard customers may purchase them by phone (962-5524). In addition, a limited number of $4 tickets for students and senior citizens will be available at the door concert nights, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Maestro Bertini is scheduled to return to Detroit in March and April. A highlight of his spring concerts will be special performances of Handel's "Messiah" at Orchestra Hall.

Robin Henritzky

Robin Henritzky will be a bride

Robin Ann Henritzky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Henritzky, Grosse Pointe residents for more than 20 years who moved recently from Peachtree Lane to Shore Club Drive, and Wayne Anthony Accardi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Accardi, of Buffalo, N.Y., are planning to be married next August, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The bride-elect, an alumna of Our Lady Star of the Sea High School, is in her fourth year at Western Michigan University, where she is majoring in Industrial Design. Her fiancé, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Buffalo State and a Masters degree in Art Education from Ball State University, is a professor in Industrial Education at Western Michigan University.

Grand Marais Club to meet

It will be Christmas party time for members of the Grand Marais Branch of the Woman's National Farm & Garden Association when they meet this Monday, Dec. 14, at the Park Lane home of Mrs. Paul Nagel, who will be assisted by Mrs. Ellsworth Allison and Mrs. Carlisle Rueger. Mrs. Clinton Hardy, program chairman, promises a stockingful of holiday surprises, plus entertainment.

Perfect President's Day for Detroit Review Club

A large basket of red poinsettias and Christmas greens centered the speaker's table at Plum Hollow Golf Club yesterday, Wednesday, Dec. 9, as Detroit Review Club members and friends gathered to honor DRC's current president and past-presidents at a traditional holiday party: the DRC President's Day Luncheon.

Entertainment featured accordionist Tony Dannon and several of his musical friends. Mrs. Charles U. Hauer, who did the beautiful speaker's table arrangements, also created a jeweled Christmas tree centerpiece for the past-presidents' table.

Mrs. Justin Emery, a former Grosse Pointe now living in Mount Clemens, served as chairman of the day. Mrs. Emery is also this year's DRC social activities chairman.

Official hostess for the President's Day party was Mrs. James Mullaney, DRC's current president, a former Grosse Pointe teacher who remains active in the Delta Kappa Gamma international honorary fraternity for women in education.

Before she took on the DRC presidency, Mrs. Mullaney had chaired the Gift Shop at Cottage Hospital: the fund raising arm of the hospital volunteers. She co-chaired this year's highly successful Holiday Mart fund raiser for Cottage. Many DRC members have joined Mrs. Mullaney in volunteer work at the Pointe hospital.

Mrs. Mullaney's immediate predecessor as DRC president, Mrs. Robert Kefgen, of Wicks Lane, is also a former Grosse Pointe teacher. Mrs. Kefgen remains active as a volunteer in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools—when she isn't busy with club activities, playing bridge or the piano.

She was Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma's "Woman of the Year" in 1977. She is a past-president of the College Women's Club. She is a reading expert, and founded the Wayne County Reading Association.

She is on DRC's board of directors, currently serving as the club's program chairman, and was in charge of hostesses for DRC's recent 90th Anniversary Party at the Detroit Yacht Club.

At that anniversary celebration, Mrs. Mullaney received a framed plaque, presented by Mrs. Eugene Hunter, current president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit. "The Detroit Review Club has completed 90 years of achievement as a pioneer Detroit Women's Organization and a CHARTER member of the Federation of Women's Club of Metropolitan Detroit," the plaque reads. "It is hereby resolved by the Board of Directors of the Federation that the Detroit Review Club be granted the highest commendation for four score and ten years of significant contributions to the enhancement of Detroit Clubwomen and of service to the community."

DRC was born Nov. 30, 1891, at a time when Grosse Pointe was comprised of farms and an occasional summer cottage. It was not until 1957 that a Grosse Pointe became president of the club. She was Mrs. Aaron E. Wilcox, of Lorraine Road, who had joined DRC in the mid-40s while selling advertising space for the Playgoer magazine for the Cass Theater. Through the years, Lou Wilcox has served the DRC in many capacities. She was program chairman for several years. She's been on the board. She's been the club's publicist for more than 20 years.

Prior to her DRC involvement, Lou had been active in the Michigan Writer's Club, subsequently the Women's Advertising Club, and an area captain for the March of Dimes. She worked as secretary for Forrest Geary at the Grosse Pointe Board of Education during the World War II years.

She put together the largest CARE party given in the United States, under sponsorship of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs, when she was the federation's chairman for International Clubs. As program chairman for the Women's City Club of Detroit, Lou was in charge of that club's Celebrity Series. She has served on the board of the Detroit Women's Council of the Navy League and is an active member of the Neuro-Muscular Institute Boosters Club for Crippled Children.

Grosse Pointe's Mrs. Marvin Dahnke served as DRC president from 1964 to 1966. Active in her church, Faith Lutheran, she has spent the years since her DRC presidency working in the business world, as an assistant to her husband.

The Dahnkes now spend a great deal of time in Arizona and in northern Michigan, where their son is the owner of two condominiums.

Mrs. Robert G. Kales, of Cloverly Road, was DRC president from 1966 to 1968, during the period of the Detroit Riots, when the minutes, scrapbooks and memorabilia of the born-in-the-1890s club were boxed and sent to the Detroit Public Library's Burton Historical Collection for safekeeping. They remain part of the Burton Collection.

Mrs. Kales, like Mrs. Wilcox, is a former Women's City Club program chairman. She has been president of the Detroit Women's Council of the Navy League, and has served as a Navy League Ball chairman. She has been active with the Grosse Pointe South High School Mothers Club.

She is a member of many organizations, and has sponsored the DRC at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and the Country Club of Detroit.

Mrs. Frank Scott Perkin, a former Grosse Pointe who now divides her time between the Shore Club and Hawaii, served as DRC president in 1974-75. She was active in many capacities at the Women's City Club, including second vice-president, program committee member and director.

Mrs. Perkin is a former teacher. She has been involved in organizations related to the medical profession, for her late husband was a physician. She is active in the Colony Town Club. She was unable to attend the President's Day Luncheon for the best of reasons—she's in sunny Hawaii—but expects to be on hand for DRC's benefit and the annual meeting.

Miss Vera Brown was DRC president from 1975 to 1977, while living in The Pointe. A member of a well known Pointe family, she has been active in club affairs and church work for years; with a background as executive secretary for a noted Detroit company, she used her business acquired skills to run a happy and "professional" DRC board.

Miss Brown, who resides now in Detroit's lovely Hannan House, was on hand for yesterday's party.

Other past-presidents enjoying the lovely day were Mrs. Louis Hopping (1951-52), Mrs. Benjamin Springborn (1949-51), Mrs. William Bondesen (1953-54), Mrs. L. James Keller (1960-62), Mrs. Marion Cramer (1970-72) and Mrs. Wayne Garrett (1977-78).

Birmingham Bloomfield Christmas Walk today

It was Grosse Pointe's turn to sparkle last Sunday and Monday, as the Detroit Symphony League (formerly the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra) presented Act I of the 1981 Christmas Walk. Act II, featuring six holiday decorated homes in the Birmingham Bloomfield area plus a chance to visit Saint Hugo of the Hills Church, is set for this Sunday, Dec. 13, from noon to 5 p.m., and Monday, Dec. 14, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Both Walks benefit the Detroit Symphony. Information on tickets for Act II, at $7 advance sale, $8 at the door, is available by calling 882-7901, 882-6930, 846-8439 or 855-1789.

Pointers who decide to go Walking on the other side of town this year will find a charming blend of old and new in an 1840s farmhouse moved to its present site on West Long Lake Road in West Bloomfield in the late 1970s. A modern addition came with the move.

The Colonial blue facade continues the original wooden siding look and flows to wrap around the new addition. The original house contains bedrooms, living and dining rooms and kitchen. The addition presents a more modern feeling, with a two-story breakfast room and a family room with a stunning, brass inlaid marble bar, plus an upper master bedroom suite with a library balcony room overlooking the breakfast room.

The house is liberally decorated with antiques and has been extensively decked for the holidays.

Just south of the center of Franklin, on Hawthorne Road, sitting atop a hill in a multi-acred, heavily-treed setting, is a lovely Georgian Colonial: a delight for all who love crafts and collections. Crewel, needlepoint and paintings are on display throughout this house.

The living room is elegant, painted a very dark green. The den contains African artifacts collected by the owners on their travels. The family room displays an English loom and primitive American antiques, along with an antique clock collection.

The tables will be set here for a holiday meal, and there will be a Christmas tree, with a unique theme, in every room.

A wonderful architectural openness, achieved by the use of horizontal blinds which allow the outside landscaping to interact with and become the background for the living and dining rooms, greets all who enter the third 1981 Birmingham/Bloomfield Christmas Walk home. This house, located on Timberbrook Lane in Birmingham, features a living room tete-a-tete area.

The wandering design of the marbled wallpaper in the foyer is repeated in a hand-glazed marble finish applied to the railings leading to the second floor. This luxury, four bedroom condominium has been professionally decorated and will be lavishly trimmed for the Christmas season.

White carpeting contrasts with dark hardwood floors in a New Orleans Colonial, decorated in blue and white Queen Anne style with modern accents, on North Cranbrook Road in Birmingham. There'll be two Christmas trees here, and the dining room table will be set for a holiday meal.

The contemporary home on Redding Road in Birmingham originally built by an architect for himself in a traditional area is a traffic stopper. The present owners, who bought the house last year, have continued the modern feeling, stressing warmth and comfort.

The kitchen cabinets are of the European design that won the 1981 award for excellence in design in Stuttgart, Germany. The gallery foyer opens to the living room and dining room, with a dramatic turret style stairwell capped by a skylight. An open-sided balcony overlooks living room, dining room and foyer.

Crowning a ridge line one mile west of the Cranbrook Institutions, on Lahser Road in Bloomfield Hills, is one of the five remaining stone buildings in Bloomfield. The original section of the house, built in 1839 by John Vaughan, one of the area's earliest settlers, was refurbished and expanded during the 1920s by James Vernor, of Vernor's Ginger Ale.

Also on the grounds are a carriage house, caretaker's cottage and smoke house.

Within the spacious home itself are molded plaster appointments, wide window and door casings and arched ceilings. The solarium added by the Verners, with expansive curved windows and a stone fountain set in one wall, is particularly delightful. Legend has it that this fountain was once a watering trough for animals; when the room was added, Mr. Vernor kept it for added charm.

Saint Hugo of the Hills Church in Bloomfield Hills will open its doors to Christmas Walkers from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday. Its style is representative of the Norman Gothic period: beauty subtly expressed by materials used for construction rather than through excessive ornamentation. Hand-cut and shaped stone, some still bearing the marks of the laborer, is the primary material used throughout.

The stained glass windows were hand-blown in England and carefully selected to admit a maximum amount of light. Overhead beams, pews and entrance doors are built of cypress timbers.

Saint Hugo's is located on what was originally a part of the Theodore T. MacManus estate, and the MacManus family are benefactors of the church. The crypt, located directly below the front steps, was assigned by Papal dispensation as the resting place of the MacManuses, and will be open both Walk days.

The Detroit Symphony League's Choraliers will be performing at Saint Hugo's on Monday, at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Pointe Garden Club to meet

Members of The Pointe Garden Club will gather at 3 p.m. this Monday, Dec. 14, in the Grosse Pointe Garden Center Room at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, to celebrate their club's 40th anniversary. Four charter members are still active; three club members have served as president of the Pointe Garden Center.

Decorations will be in keeping with the party theme: "Tis the Season to be Merry!" Hostesses will be Mrs. Arthur Beaumont, Mrs. James L. Schueler and Mrs. Hansel D. Wilson. A gift exchange will be part of the program.

Farm, Garden Club to meet

Mrs. William Lafer's Hamilton Court home will be the setting for the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club's Christmas meeting and tea next Monday, Dec. 14, at 3 p.m. The program will feature Christmas music by pianist Ruth Neville. Hostesses include Mrs. William H. Denler, Mrs. Richard E. Hinks and Mrs. John A. Tompkins.

Belle Isle Friends need tree trimmers

The Friends of Belle Isle invite everyone to participate in a metropolitan Detroit community tradition, the trimming of the Belle Isle Christmas tree, this Sunday, Dec. 13, from 1 to 3 p.m. on the island. Carol singing is encouraged. Tree trimmers are asked to bring bio-degradable ornaments; birds, squirrels and deer, the tree's most frequent visitors, like strung popcorn, gingerbread men and bird feeders best of all.

Opera talk over coffee...

ANN (Mrs. John) LESENE was among a group of Pointers, members of the Detroit Grand Opera Association's 1981-82 Metropolitan Opera on Tour Program Book Advertising Committee, who traveled out to Bloomfield Hills early in November for an advertising campaign kickoff coffee at the home of Barbara (Mrs. Harold M.) Marko, DGOA general chairman. The Met will perform May 24 through 29, 1982, in Detroit's Masonic Temple Auditorium. The Program Book advertising campaign will continue through mid-March, when the book goes into publication.

Yachtswomen meet tonight

Woods resident Helen Jean Reichling is in charge of Yachtswomen's annual Christmas party meeting, set for tonight, Thursday, Dec. 10, at 6:30 p.m. at the Emerald City Boat Club.

New Yachtswomen officers, elected at the group's November meeting, are Emily Abele, president; Barbara Madden, vice-president; Kay Crowe and Beatrice Burke, recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively; Lore Kettler, treasurer; Sharon Stewart, assistant secretary/treasurer; and Dolores Shelfoon and Bonita Hernan, members-at-large.

Mid-Century to hold Christmas program

Mary Evelyn Self's Grosse Pointe home will be the setting for Mid-Century Toastmistress Club's Christmas program and meeting next Tuesday, Dec. 15. Per tradition, the entire group will participate in a Christmas choral reading; this year's selection is "Christmas Bells."

Venison harvest is ready for pot

With the firearm deer season one of the best — if not the very best — in the state's history, Michigan families may well consume more venison this fall and winter than ever before.

All of that venison is waiting to be prepared, and household cooks will find a welcome ally in the "Wildlife Chef," the perennially popular cookbook published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. Among its nearly 400 recipes for game and fish dishes are more than 50 for deer alone. In addition, the cookbook offers information on care of venison, butchering, freezing and storage.

Copies are available for $5.15 apiece, postage and tax included. They may be ordered by sending a check or money order to MUCC, Box 30235, Lansing, Mich. 48909. All proceeds are used to support MUCC's conservation and education programs.

Here is a sampling of venison recipes from "Wildlife Chef."

VENISON AU VIN

- ¼ pound salt pork
- 1 pound venison (stew meat)
- ½ tsp. black pepper
- 1 tsp. parsley flakes
- 2 medium onions, quartered
- 2 cups fresh mushrooms
- 1 cup white wine
- ½ cup red wine
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 small bay leaf
- 2 cups diced potatoes
- 3 cubed tomatoes

Fry cubed salt pork until crisp. Remove meat and drain. In the hot fat, brown cubed venison, rolled in flour. Put wine, salt and seasonings in a Dutch oven. Bring mixture to almost a boil and put in the browned meat along with onions, potatoes, tomatoes and mushrooms.

Bake in 350° F oven for 3 hours. Check to make sure it does not go dry; add more wine if it is.

Serve over wild rice or mashed potatoes with a crisp green salad. Serves 6.

SPECIAL OCCASION VENISON

- Mix:
- 2 cups red wine
  - juice of 1 lime and 2 lemons
  - 2 bay leaves (crushed)
  - 2 cloves, bruised
  - 1 clove garlic, mashed
  - 2 stalks celery, chopped
  - 8 slices onion
  - 6 slices carrot
  - 6 peppercorns
  - 1 pinch thyme
  - ½ tsp. salt

Soak 3-pound piece of lean venison in this brew for an hour or so. Remove meat and cut into 1-inch cubes. Fry in butter until brown. Finally, set meat aflame with 2 tablespoons gin and keep hot.

In another pan, brown 3 tablespoons pork, cubed small. Add this to venison. Strain the marinade and pour enough of it over the meat to moisten. To the meat mix, add 1 cup mushroom buttons and 1 cup small white onions that have been par-boiled and tenderized. Cover the whole tightly and simmer for 30 minutes.

In another pan, saute 6 chicken livers and add these to the meat mixture. Serve hot, garnished with croutons that have been fried in butter.

A double debut at Saint John . . .

Saint John Hospital's new Birthing Room made its debut on Thanksgiving Day with the debut, at 2:58 p.m., of ANDREW FROMM, first child of FREDERICK and KATHLEEN FROMM, of Audubon Road, who are pictured above admiring their seven-pound, 13-ounce, 21-inch-long son immediately after his arrival. BETH SCHAEFER, R.N., Labor and Delivery, who was with the Fromms all the way, indicated that Mrs. Fromm's labor was shorter than average, as is the case with most "prepared" mothers—that is, prepared through Saint John's seven week Prepared Childbirth Education Classes and the Birthing Room Orientation Class required of prospective parents who elect to use the Birthing Room.

It's a "real" room, as opposed to a "hospital" room, furnished in Early American decor, with an Early American style bed (that can be elevated), rocking and lounge chairs, a cradle, a television set and pictures on the walls.

"We decided to have our baby in the Birthing Room because it's more private and comfortable, and we did not have to move from the Labor Room to the Delivery Room," the Fromms (he's an attorney for General Motors; she's a native Grosse Pointe, a Class of 1969 Grosse Pointe South High School graduate), explained.

"The baby stayed with us the whole time." Immediate skin-to-skin contact between mother and baby is encouraged in the Birthing Room. Immediate care for the baby is done in the Birthing Room, by the attending nurse. Visitors, who may include the baby's siblings and grandparents, are permitted after the delivery. Cameras are allowed, too.

"It was," said Andrew's proud new papa, "just like having a baby in our own home—but with the security of the hospital and its fine staff behind us."

Christmas daze has just begun for Supermom

There's always one person who is busier than Santa Claus each Christmas. She's Supermom, a combination breadwinner, maid, cook and cuddler, and her ranks are growing in record numbers.

This year, over 45 percent of married women with children under six are working outside the home. Twenty percent of today's schoolchildren live in a one-parent home — eight out of 10 times with a Supermom.

It's a stressful situation at best, but during the holidays it is far more intense. Providing a memorable holiday for her children, complete with gifts, decorations and the special Christmas dinner, becomes one of Supermom's primary jobs along with her other 9-to-5 job and her daily household chores. It's not easy.

Most Supermoms complain that there's not enough time during the holidays to get everything done. The added stress can cause insomnia, irritability, depression and fatigue. What can Supermom do when the holiday stress starts getting her down?

Dr. Edward J. Carels, vice president of Comprehensive Care Corporation (the STRESSCENTER people) and a noted stress expert, recommends the following for today's Supermom:

- Work off stress. Physical activities like tennis, running or walking provide an outlet for mental stress.

- Learn to accept what you cannot change. There may not be enough time on Supermom's lunch hour to get Christmas shopping done, but there's always tomorrow.

- Avoid self-medication. Many chemicals, including alcohol, can hide symptoms of distress. In so doing they only delay resolution of the underlying problem and can cause serious physical distress. Remember that handling stress comes from within, not from outside.

- Get enough sleep and rest. Most of us need seven or eight hours out of every 24. It's easy during the holidays to forget about sleep. The only time Supermom has to wrap presents, bake stocking-stuffer cookies and write Christmas cards is after the children go to bed. But try to remember that lack of sleep will cause irritability which lessens ability to deal with stress.

- Balance work and recreation. Even though the holiday rush gives little time for relaxation, make time for yourself. It's important, especially during this time of year.

- Take one step at a time. Rome wasn't built in a day, and neither are Christmas traditions. Tackle the most urgent jobs first; set the others aside for another time.

- Give in once in a while. Sometimes the source of stress can be relationships with other people, like grandparents, ex-husbands, or other family members. If you give in occasionally they will too—which will certainly make the holidays a little more pleasant for everyone.

According to Carels, you should also be aware of your body's signs of stress. "Loss of appetite and difficulty in sleeping are two early signs of unresolved stress. Watch for those signs. Be aware of them and do something about them."

Deeplands Club plans a potluck

Deeplands Garden Club will gather Monday, Dec. 14, to end the year with a Christmas potluck luncheon at the Harvard Road home of Mrs. Richard Stein, who will be assisted by Ms. Dorothy Evenden. Members are bringing gifts for the young residents of the Children's Home of Detroit.

Park Garden Club to meet

Mrs. Donald Sweeny will open her Lee Gate Lane home Monday, Dec. 14, for a Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club luncheon meeting and a White Elephant Auction, coordinated by Mrs.

Ramon Brinkman, benefitting the Grass Bay Project of the Nature Conservatory, through the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan. Inc Mrs. Howard Poppen will be Mrs. Sweeny's co-hostess.

Detroit Genealogical Society will meet

The Detroit Society for Genealogical Research will meet Saturday, Dec. 12, at 2 p.m. in the Explorers Room of the Detroit Public Library on Woodward Avenue. Dr. Richard Santer, professor of Geography at Ferris State College, author of "Heart of the Great Lakes" and "History and Geography of Jackson, Mich." will speak on "Contemporary Glimpses of Michigan Settlement . . . from Wilderness to Sprawling Cities."

Society members will be available for consultation.

Dolls, drums, sugar plums belong on Christmas tree

By Ink Mendelsohn
Smithsonian News Service

"Bah! Humbug!" you may say. But believe it or not, there really is something in America this inflation ridden Christmas season that costs less than it did 150 years ago. In 1830, an advertisement in the York, Pa., Republican notified the public: "Tickets will be sold for 6 1/4 cents, which will admit the bearers to the 'Christmas Tree' during the time it remains for exhibition."

Today, as any mother's child knows, it costs not a penny to see delightfully decorated Christmas trees during the holiday season everywhere in the land. As late as 1840 however, the Christmas tree was still such a curiosity in America that people were willing to pay for the privilege of seeing one.

At least entrepreneurs like Mr. Goodridge, of York, Pa., hoped they were. He advertised: "Christmas Trees. For the amusement of the ladies and Gentlemen of York and its vicinity, GOODRIDGE, will exhibit at his residence, in East Philadelphia Street, a CHRISTMAS TREE, the exhibition of which will commence on Christmas Eve, and continue, Sunday excepted, until New Year. Tickets to be had at his store."

No tickets are required for the Smithsonian Institution's annual Trees of Christmas exhibit which opens this month at the National Museum of American History in Washington, D.C. These 12 trees, decorated with thousands of handmade ornaments by the Smithsonian's Office of Horticulture and 400 volunteers, can be seen absolutely free until just after New Year's Day.

The Christmas tree, a familiar sight today, grew slowly in America. In Massachusetts the Puritans outlawed the celebration of Christmas for much of the 17th century. Banned in Boston, the Christmas tree first took root in Pennsylvania, transplanted by German immigrants to "Penn's Woodland" in the 18th century.

The Pennsylvania "Dutch" (anglicized for "Deutsch," meaning German) tree was a small juniper lighted with tiny tapered candles and decorated with apples, nuts, strings of popcorn and cranberries and, most important of all, cookies.

These were no ordinary cookies. They were works of art; in fact, a few of these elaborately decorated cookie ornaments actually survived hungry children and can be seen today in American museums. Pennsylvania Dutch women cherished their cookie cutters and tried to save at least one design that was theirs alone, resulting in the creation of a dazzling variety of styles and shapes. When that new American character, Uncle Sam, came along in the 19th century, he too, became a cookie.

With his arrival in the Pennsylvania Dutch country it was evident that the rest of America had reached these isolated farm people; in turn, their Christmas customs began to spread beyond the countryside, to Philadelphia and on to the rest of America.

In 1825, Philadelphia's Saturday Evening Post reported seeing "trees visible through the windows, where green boughs are laden with fruit richer than the golden apples of the Hesperides, or the sparkling diamonds that clustered on the branches in the wonderful cave of Aladdin." A best-selling children's book, "Kriss Kringle's Christmas Tree," published in Philadelphia in 1845, introduced a Santa Claus figure and his Christmas tree to tots across the land.

German immigrants and influences carried the Christmas tree north, south, west and east, even — horrors! — to Boston. In a widely read penny pamphlet anti-slavery champion Harriet Martineau described the tree that Charles Follen, a Harvard professor of German had decorated for his son in 1832. She concluded with a prediction that might have shocked the Puritans: "I have little doubt the Christmas-tree will become one of the most flourishing exotics of New England."

To the south, in Vicksburg, Miss., a niece of Jefferson Davis, Mahala Eggleston Roach, created a tree in 1851 for her children from her imagination. "I never saw one," she wrote, "but learned from some of the German stories I had been reading."

Botanist William Brewer reported from California in 1862 that in San Francisco, despite the unfortunate lack of Christmas snow, "Christmas trees are the fashion." From its first planting in a Pennsylvania community fertile with tradition, the Christmas tree has spread its branches from coast to coast.

Two popular magazines, Harper's Weekly and Godey's Lady's Book, gave the Christmas tree a further boost. The December 1850 cover of The Lady's Book was an Americanized version of a picture, from the Illustrated London News, of Queen Victoria, Prince Albert and the royal family around their Christmas tree at Windsor Castle.

Mrs. Hale, the editor, had removed both the queen's coronet and the prince's royal insignia and sash. Mysteriously, she also had removed his moustache; nonetheless, the little Christmas tree's royal connection impressed fashion conscious Victorians. Once accepted, Kriss Kringle's decorated evergreen grew faster than Jack's beanstalk — at least it grew fuller.

The Christmas tree of a well-to-do Victorian family, a symmetrical fir, was a miniature world of tiny houses, ships, animals, furniture, flowers, fruits, flags, dolls, drums, sugar plums

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial ... through new eyes.

On October 1 John Lake began his well-earned retirement, and Dr. Mark Weber took over as Executive Director. This folder reports on some of his early impressions of our unique Grosse Pointe institution.

"It's a center for learning throughout the lifespan."

"I've seen pre-schoolers and seniors - and every age group in between - doing and learning here. There's really no limit to the educational opportunities we can offer."

"... a center for the arts and individual creative activities."

"In the Fries Auditorium we have a marvelous facility for the performing arts. In the Art Wing people can find self-expression of all kinds. Our cultural contribution can be tremendous."

"... a center for people with community interests and needs."

"Almost daily I see civic-minded groups meeting in unselfish efforts to give service to the Grosse Pointe community. Perhaps there are even more ways in which our members can serve."

"... a center for all ages"

"Whether it's children's ballet, teen ski trips, an adult lecture series or senior bridge, there is something here for every age. And that's as it should be."

Dear Grosse Pointer:

It may seem strange to receive this Family Participation solicitation at this time of year.

There are two good reasons.

First, we have a new Executive Director, Mark Weber, whom you have met in this folder. We hope you have gained a feeling for the kind of thrust he will give the Grosse Pointe War Memorial in coming years.

Second, there are new financial considerations for our membership. For some the new tax law will make it more beneficial to make their deductible gifts before January 1. Others will benefit from giving after the first of the year. And for many it is more comfortable to do their parts after Social Security withholding is out of the way.

Please remember that our $180,000 goal for 1982 will be met by over 6,000 families - and that every pledge of every size is important. In 1981 over a quarter of a million people will have taken advantage of the educational, cultural and civic opportunities offered by the War Memorial. It is a vital asset to our community - and a value to you and your family.

You may be familiar with the War Memorial's connection with Grosse Pointe Cable Television, but you should be aware that it will be several years before that association will produce any income for us. Please consider your pledge now - payable either this year or next. And please return your card as soon as you can.

Thank you.

He is a member of the U.S. Small Business Administration, the Michigan Advisory to the U.S. Business Administration and the Economic Club of Detroit.

CYNTHIA KACHMAN, daughter of NICHOLAS and ISABEL KACHMAN, of McMillan Road, was recently graduated from the Brooks Institute of Photography, Santa Barbara, Calif., with a Bachelors degree in photography. She is presently employed with one of California's leading glamour photographers, HARRY LANGDON.

The 1980-81 second semester dean's list at Wheaton College included LISA HANSEN, sophomore, daughter of MR. and MRS. TOBEY HANSEN JR., of Crescent Lane and LISA LUNDELL, junior, daughter of MR. and MRS. ARVID LUNDELL, of North Duval Road.

Among the 25th anniversary class graduates from Le Mans Academy of Indiana last spring was MAJOR WILLIAM HENRY YATES III, son of MR. and MRS. WILLIAM HENRY YATES, II, of Ellair Place. Major Yates was awarded the Brother Vincent Award for citizenship at Le Mans.

Carols for School of Government

A special Christmas luncheon with a musical program featuring the Detroit Symphony League's Choralliers will bring members of the School of Government, Inc., to the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club next Wednesday, Dec. 16. The social hour begins at noon. Lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Ralph L. Mason, president, will introduce Mrs. Cassius McIntyre, the day's program chairman. Members of the holiday party committee include Mrs. Paul D. Grubbs, Mrs. John T. McMullen, Mrs. John Nolan, Mrs. Emerson Houtz, Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker Jr., Miss Antoinette Imposmato, Mrs. Helen McIntyre, Miss Wanda Sepanski, Mrs. Harry Taylor and Mrs. Betty Gerisch.

Members may make reservations for the day by calling 822-6238, 881-1999, 822-1474, 824-7487 or 867-3440 on Monday, Dec. 14.

The Choralliers, directed by Margaret Lindner, have been in existence since 1968 and have performed for many local groups through the year. Any fees received go to support the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The singers, who promise Christmas music for the School of Government, are Maralyn Domzalski, Edith Petrosky, Joanne Marcell, Marge Kalin, Kay Fulgenzi, Jean Halat, Agnes Borchak, Sally Murray, Joan Davis, Kim Urbauer, Monica Locke, Mary Webster, Sandy Fulgenzi, Kathy Grousta, Suzanne Zielinski, Mary Belanger, Karin Quanstrom, Carolyn Shaff, Pat McKeever, co-director and accompanist, and Margaret Lindner.

Selman-Blum rites planned

The engagement of Terry Lee Blum and Jerrold Allen Selman is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blum, of Balfour Road. The wedding is planned for mid-February, in the Birmingham Temple, with a champagne luncheon following in the temple's party room.

Miss Blum, a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate, has her Grande Diplome from Paris' Cordon Bleu and is working toward a degree in Business, at Wayne State University. She is employed as a chef at Little Harry's Restaurant, was partner in a catering service and has cooked for several well known restaurants in the area.

Mr. Selman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Selman, of Oak Park, holds a degree in Engineering from Wayne State University and is currently employed in the field of electronics.

Holiday celebration for Sigma Kappas

Grosse Pointe Alumnae of Sigma Kappa will celebrate Christmas next Tuesday, Dec. 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the McMillan Road home of Maryn (Mrs. John) Horn. Proceeds from the $2 donation requested of each Sigma Kappa attending will be sent to the Sigma Kappa National Endowment Fund, for use on the collegiate level for housing.

Once again, the alumnae extend an invitation to the holiday open house to any area collegiate Sigma Kappa who will be home for Christmas. Refreshments will feature hors d'oeuvres and dessert specialties of active alumnae.

Alumnae and collegiates planning to attend, and those wishing further information, are asked to contact the hostess at 884-3018 or the co-hostess, Carrie (Mrs. John) Maliszewski, 885-3973, by Sunday, Dec. 13.

Nancy Streicher to wed in June

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Streicher, of Deming Lane, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Lynne, to Steven Scott Swanson, son of former Park residents Mr. and Mrs. Donald Swanson, who now reside in Randolph, N.J. The wedding is planned for late June.

Miss Streicher and her fiancé are both Grosse Pointe South High School graduates. She expects to receive her Bachelors degree in Business Administration in May from the University of Michigan, where she is president of her chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority, treasurer of Greek Week and a member of Michigan Business Women.

Her fiancé received his degree in

Miss Stewart to be a bride

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Stewart, of Kenwood Court, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lindsey Robertson, to Jonathan Forbes Peabody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malburne J. Peabody, of Falls Church, Va. A late June wedding is planned.

Miss Stewart attended The Liggett School and was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School. She received an Associates degree from Colby Sawyer College, New London, N.H., a Bachelor of Arts degree from George Washington University, Washington, D.C., and a Masters degree in Business Administration from the American Graduate School of International Management, located in Arizona.

Pear Tree ready for champagne

Members of the Pear Tree Chapter of Quilters will meet next Thursday, Dec. 17, at 10:40 p.m. at the Washington Road home of Barbara Stefanovich for their annual champagne luncheon and homespun auction. Chairman of the day is Marie Christie.

Nancy Streicher

Cure rate rises in cancer cases

When a cancer treatment has been completed and five years have passed without remission, most doctors would agree the disease is cured: using this yardstick, about 41 percent of this year's new cancer patients will be alive in 1986, excluding accidental and non-cancer related deaths.

Many factors have combined to produce this result. The stage at which the disease is discovered is directly related to the chances of survival; for example, more than 80 percent of the women with cancer of the uterus, detected before it spreads, will be cured.

In addition, new discoveries in diagnostic techniques and cancer treatment methods are helping to increase survival rates.

The recent discovery that a substantial number of breast tumors require estrogen to grow is a significant development in treatment. Testing for "estrogen receptors" (ERs) in the tissue of breast cancer patients aids physicians in selecting the most appropriate form of therapy for the disease.

Newly approved methods of cancer treatment through surgery, radiation and chemotherapy (the use of drugs) have given patients hope and extended life. Certain drugs can now rid many victims of a number of 12 select cancers for five years or more; these cancers include acute lymphocytic leukemia in children, advanced Hodgkin's disease and advanced testicular cancer.

Adjuvant therapy, which involves the use of drugs in combination with surgery and/or radiation, is increasing the disease-free survival rate.

Kappa Alpha Theta smiles . . .

The smiling faces above belong to Grosse Pointe's 1981-82 Kappa Alpha Theta Alumni III officers (left to right) TRUDY RHOADES, MARY SZYMANSKI, JEAN SKULSTAD and ANN WEIDIG, and the reason they're smiling is the fact that their group's Meadow Brook dinner/tour was a smashing success. They're grateful to all those who planned and made it so. They're smiling in anticipation, too, looking forward to an equally successful Stroh's/Canadian Club Tour in February.

Greens on sale at Christ Church

Fresh greens—boxwood, juniper, long-needle pine, roping and wreaths—are being gathered by the Episcopal Church Women of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, in preparation for their Mid-December Christmas Greens Sale this Friday and Saturday, Dec. 11 and 12, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Miller Hall.

Co-chairmen Mrs. C. Keyser Eaton and Mrs. Calier H. Worrell have arranged for several workshops to take place during the two-day sale. Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips, Mrs. Lloyd A. Semple and Mrs. John B. Ford III are among those planning to demonstrate the use of greens. Mrs. Robert Henry Lees will work with ribbons and bows. Mrs. T. Denny Hoag will show children how to make something for grandmother.

Grapevine wreaths, poinsettias and partridge wreaths from Conway, N.H., also will be available during the sale. Miller Hall is located behind Christ Church, off Grosse Pointe Blvd. All are welcome to enjoy fellowship and refreshments.

To hold Master Gardener class

Grosse Pointers who are experienced gardeners, and willing to help others, may qualify for training under Michigan State University's Master Gardener Program. A choice of daytime or evening classes is offered in early 1982 at the Wayne County Extension and Education Center on Venoy Road in Wayne.

The course will run for 10 weeks, beginning Wednesday evening, Feb. 3, and Thursday morning, Feb. 4. Cost is $25, including all instructional materials.

Requirements for certification as a Master Gardener are a passing grade on the classroom instruction and 20 hours of volunteer work. Application forms may be obtained by calling the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, 721-6550 or 536-2400.

Each application will be reviewed, and the applicant notified if he/she is accepted. Deadline for enrollment is Jan. 20.

Trio of holiday pops scheduled

Kenneth Jean, Detroit Symphony Orchestra resident conductor, will conduct three pops concerts of holiday favorites this weekend at Ford Auditorium: one on Friday, Dec. 11, at 8:30 p.m., two (at 3:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.) on Sunday, Dec. 13.

Joining the orchestra in these programs will be the New Swingle Singers, performing carols and holiday songs. Information on tickets, ranging in price from $14.50 to $10, may be obtained by contacting the Ford Auditorium box office, 962-5524.

Historic Memorials Society enjoys tour

Members of the Historic Memorials Society of Detroit gathered last Friday, Dec. 4, for their second meeting of the year: a luncheon and tour of the Botsford Inn, plus a mini-fair featuring Christmas items.

The society's first meeting, in October, was at the Saint Andrew's Society of Detroit. The group will celebrate its 90th anniversary Feb. 25, with its annual Heritage Day Fair at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

INTEREST RATES DROPPING???

This week, a major local lender announced a further reduction in mortgage rates. Some banks are as much as 3% lower than 2 months ago on mortgages. More good news is that the prime rate continues its decline. "All-Savers" are lower again this month. In general the cost of money to the lenders is down and they will be able to pass this savings on to home buyers.

Keep in mind that as interest rates decline, prices will rise again. If you finance at today's rates, you will save on price. When rates fall, you can re-finance and save again, this time on a lower monthly payment. You can save both ways by considering a new home today.

START BY CONSIDERING OUR TWO FIRST OFFERINGS

EXECUTIVE RANCH — FIRST OFFERING — Beautiful ranch in excellent condition. Three bedrooms, two baths, natural fireplace in family room & living room, central air, sprinkler system, updated kitchen, attached garage, great floor plan, land contract 25% down. Immediate possession. OPEN SUNDAY 2-5.

FARMS LOCATION — FIRST OFFERING on a cozy dead-end street with a first floor master suite. Seller will provide land contract financing at 30% downpayment.

RANCH HOME — $68,500 — FARMS — Just like a condominium in that it has very little, if any, maintenance. Two bedrooms plus a third in the basement, two full baths, all new carpeting and decorating. Close to a convenience store, two blocks from the Farms Park and perhaps most important, bank financing at 12.75% with only 20% downpayment.

LOW PRICED INCOME — 1080-82 Maryland. 5 rooms down, 6 up. Upper rented at $300, lower vacant. Redecorated inside and out. Good carpeting. Includes appliances. Separate furnaces. Only $55,000.

"SIMPLE ASSUMPTION" OR "BLEND" MORTGAGE — Assume at 12.5% this 3 bedroom colonial in the Farms with excellent Standard Federal financing.

CHECK THIS PRICE AND TERMS! — Imagine a 2,000 sq. ft. brick 3 bedroom home in top condition. Add a library and recreation room. Place it on a large lot with lovely gardens and trees. Then price it at $85,000 on a 10 year land contract, 20% down. A best buy!

GREAT LAND CONTRACT TERMS — A nice bungalow with four bedrooms, 2 full baths, and a natural fireplace.

PRESTIGIOUS SUNNINGDALE DRIVE — WOODS — Near Lochmoor Country Club, semi-ranch with French influence, front courtyard.

"GRACEFUL ELEGANCE" — Describes this stately French colonial located in a prestigious Grosse Pointe location near Lake St. Clair. A lovely terraced garden within this 125 x 216 foot lot, four fireplaces, hardwood floors and leaded glass throughout await your viewing, as well as a large simple assumption, mortgage at 8.5%.

INEXPENSIVE, BIG FAMILY HOME! — 2,300 square feet living area, 5 bedrooms, many plusses. Good land contract.

FIRST OFFERING — 131 MORAN — 30% down land contract terms, assumption or blend rate available. Charming English, four bedrooms, tasteful decor.

SUPER PRICE — GREAT FINANCING — If you are looking for a home with $10,000 down and $467 total payment, 3 bedrooms, Grosse Pointe.

MERRIWEATHER — OUTSTANDING DECOR — Seller has bought another home and is ready to "deal" on this three bedroom colonial which includes such features as a den, central air conditioning, modern kitchen. Showing it is a pleasure. Will consider all terms. Price reduced.

WILL CONSIDER SMALLER HOME AS DOWNPAYMENT — Unique opportunity for bungalow owners to use your smaller home as a downpayment on this larger 4 bedroom Farms home under $80,000.

NEWER WOODS COLONIAL — Four bedroom, 2 1/2 bath home with family room and land contract terms.

Pointe Counter Points

By Pat Rousseau

Taking A Peak . . . into the fashion future is fun this time of year because you see light, fresh, bright sunny things in the cruise collections. Take for example the new arrivals at Walton-Pierce. From the Jamison Boutique has come many breeze light polycotton blend dresses. We like the white on white stripe shirt dress embroidered with little green valley lilies. The waist is circled with a green grosgrain belt. A sky blue scoop neck dress with tucking on the bodice is scattered with white daisies that have colorful centers. The belt is a self-tie. A white shirt dress printed with tiny green bows comes with a matching scarf for neck or head and a white knit blend dress with a V neck is dotted with colorful buds and comes with a coordinating border print scarf. A chic sleek white linen-look dress by Jerry Silverman is trimmed with buttons on the shoulders and sleeves and down the sides of the slender skirt. A teal knit dress combines a blouson top with dolman sleeves and a gathered skirt. These smart pieces are from Chatta B. A pretty little dress from Charles Allan is styled with a circle of narrow pleats around the neck. The waist of this lavender crepe is elasticized for a slight blouson effect. Another dress from the same designer is in delicate mauve. The knit top with push up sleeves is joined with a jersey skirt and the look is tied together with a pewter leather belt.

Mutschler Kitchens . . . is back on its fall schedule. It is now open Saturdays from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m. . . . 20227 Mack Avenue

Furniture Gleaming . . . for the holidays? Choicest English beeswax polish . . . fragrant, easy to use . . . imported by J. L. Harwood. Call 882-1296. A great stocking stuffer, also.

Find . . . useful little gifts in the Gift Department of the Notre Dame Pharmacy such as an illuminated screwdriver, metric converter mug, Fold-A-Way book rack that holds cookbooks, etc., or a cosmetic organizer. Lots more too.

Tony Cueter . . . knows December is also the month for romance. When your lonely days are over an elegant bridal set from Bijouterie will always be cherished. Fine quality diamonds . . . a promise that has become a tradition. Bijouterie, 20445 Mack Avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods. Open 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Monday thru Saturday . . . 886-2050.

The Pointe Fashions . . . has lovely cocktail dresses for the holidays. An enchanting black all over pleated chiffon dress by Jack Bryan with one shoulder styling and a cape effect on the shoulder is sure to collect compliments. No Charge for alterations. Open Friday evenings until 8 p.m. till Christmas . . . 15112 Kercheval . . . 822-2818.

KIMBERLY KORNER . . . Lilly's transition fall into winter fashions are now 50% off. While enjoying the bargains, please note the shop also abounds with Lilly's very special gifts for very special people . . . Mack at Lochmoor.

Forster's Interiors . . . At Forster's Interiors all that glitters is not gold during their pre-Christmas Accessory Sale. Of particular interest is the Austrian pettipoint bellpull, hand-assembled in Italy with soutache braid and bronze ormolu trim. Available in two sizes and three colors it is obviously wall decor. But, it can do double duty as a belt for that "little nothing" dress or velvet evening skirt. Dress your home or yourself or yourself for the holidays, with 20% savings on gifts and accessories before Christmas. At both Drexel Heritage locations, 19435 Mack Avenue, and 12200 Hall Road (M-59), Sterling Heights.

By Popular Request . . . The School Bell is now offering "Public Assistance," the game that is. This talked about item is available at 17904 Mack Avenue.

So Many Goodies . . . at White's . . . rockers in variety, scatter tables and lamps, just arrived beautiful duck decoys. Choose also from curios to hall trees to desks. A wondrous selection for the home . . . Christmas SALE priced. Special note . . . all Harden floor samples are reduced 35% to 50% at 26717 Little Mack. Closed Mondays. Open Thursday and Friday nights till 9 p.m. and Sunday from 11 a.m.-4 p.m. . . . 776-6230.

You Haven't Experienced Christmas until you've visited the Mole Hole. Find unusual tree skirts, stockings, bibs, aprons, hand-crafted ornaments, cards and even humorous commode seat covers. For one nice thing after another shop the Mole Hole. 17100 Kercheval.

Christmas Walk reveals holiday beauty of Grosse Pointe homes

DSO to present Maurice Ravel's 'Bewitched Child'

Maurice Ravel's "The Bewitched Child" will be sung in English in Auditorium tonight, Thursday, Dec. 10, and Saturday, Dec. 12. The dramatic treatment, conceived and directed by Gary Bertini, DSO music adviser, will feature singers from the University of Michigan's School of Music, including the U of M Chamber Choir, Thomas Hilbish, director.

Appearing as The Child is young American singer Sondra Stowe, in her debut with the DSO. She sang The Child last year when Maestro Bertini conducted performances of the Ravel work in Israel, with the Jerusalem Symphony.

Miss Stowe has been heard in concert throughout the United States, and in France and Switzerland as well as Israel. Her operatic career has taken her to Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Scotland and Israel. She performs next week in Grenoble, France.

She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Music, Phi Beta Kappa and magna cum laude, from UCLA and a Masters degree from the California Institute of Arts. Her studies were not confined to music. She speaks five foreign languages and has studied acting, classical ballet and modern dance.

The remainder of the program for the 8:30 p.m. performances will be the Overture to Rossini's "The Italian in Algiers" and Gershwin's "American in Paris." Tickets for both concerts, ranging in price from $15 to $8, may be purchased at the Ford Auditorium box office, where VISA and MasterCard customers may order them by phone (982-5524).

In addition, a limited number of $4 tickets for students and senior citizens will be available at the door starting at 7:30 p.m. on concert nights.

Ravel composed "The Bewitched Child" in the early 1920s, to a text by Colette. The work, a fantasy about a child pursued by fairy tale characters who came to life, has been a favorite both in the opera house and on the concert stage since its first performance in Monte Carlo in 1925.

The music is characterized by parodies of the various popular music of the 20s. The DSO previously performed "The Bewitched Child" in 1975, and Maestro Bertini has conducted it in March as well as in Jerusalem during the last two years.

The graphic designs held by members of the cast, representing the characters, were created by Sylvia Strahammer, of the Bavarian State Opera in Munich.

"The Bewitched Child" is the second collaboration this season between the DSO and the U. of M. at Ann Arbor, and has been made possible through the cooperation of the School of Music, Paul Boylan, dean.

The Pre-Christmas Sale . . . at Michelle's Boutique offers all coats and suits at 30% off. Dresses for day and evening are marked 20% off and many gift items are on sale. Remember Michelle's makeup service for all those special holiday parties . . . 886-1814.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol—and penny-wise—cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth continuing, this week, a series on SPECIAL TREATS for the HOLIDAY TIME.

MERINGUE KISSES

4 egg whites, at room temperature
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
1 cup sugar
3/4 tsp. vanilla or 1/4 tsp. almond extract
1 or 2 drops red or green food coloring (optional)

Preheat oven to 250°. Line baking sheets with foil. Beat egg whites with electric mixer at moderate speed until foamy. Stir in cream of tartar and salt. Add sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. Add vanilla, and food coloring if you desire, to tint meringue a pastel color. Beat hard at highest mixer speed until meringue is glossy and forms peaks that stand up straight when beater is withdrawn. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls two inches apart on prepared baking sheets; leave surface peaked or smooth into round edges. If you prefer, pipe meringue through pastry tube fitted with medium-sized plain or star tip making each kiss about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Bake 35 to 45 minutes until creamy-white and firm. For crisp kisses: turn off oven and let kisses cool in oven 2 to 3 hours without opening door. For chewier kisses, lift foil and kisses to wire rack to cool. Peel kisses from foil, using a spatula to help loosen them if necessary. Store airtight. Makes about 42 kisses. Calories about 20 per kiss. Cholesterol 0.

MERINGUE CHEWS . . . Prepare kisses as directed. Preheat oven to 325°. Bake 10-12 minutes until tops are just firm to the touch. Cool on foil or wire racks. About 20 calories per chew. Cholesterol 0.

NUT KISSES . . . Prepare kisses according to above directions, then fold in 1 cup finely chopped nuts. Shape, sprinkle tops with a few little pieces of nuts and bake as directed. Calories about 45 per kiss. Cholesterol 0.

BROWN SUGAR KISSES . . . Prepare meringue mixture substituting 1 cup light brown sugar; 1 teaspoon of maple flavor may be used instead of vanilla. About 20 calories per kiss. Cholesterol 0.

COFFEE KISSES . . . Prepare meringue mixture as directed, then beat in 1 teaspoon vanilla and 4 teaspoons instant coffee. Shape and bake as directed, then let stand in turned-off oven at least 4 hours, or until crisp and dry. About 25 calories per kiss. Cholesterol 0.

TOFFEE NUT BARS

BOTTOM LAYER:
1/2 cup unsalted margarine, softened
1/2 cup brown sugar
Mix above ingredients until very thoroughly blended. Stir in 1 cup unbleached flour which has been sifted twice.

Press and flatten with your hands to cover the bottom of an ungreased 9x13x2-inch oblong pan. Bake in preheated 350° oven for 10 minutes. Remove pan from oven and spread with the following:

ALMOND-COCONUT TOPPING:
2 large eggs, well beaten
1 cup brown sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
2 Tbsp. flour
Pinch of salt
1 cup moist coconut
1 cup slivered almonds or coarsely-chopped walnuts
Stir brown sugar and vanilla into beaten eggs until well blended. Mix in flour, salt, coconut and nuts. Spread mixture evenly over the baked bottom layer. Return to oven and bake for about 25 minutes.

ULS icers win first

The University Liggett School varsity ice hockey team recorded both its first win and its first loss to bring its record to 1-1-2 last week.

The University Liggett School varsity ice hockey team recorded both its first win and its first loss to bring its record to 1-1-2 last week.

The Knights earned their first win with team work, beating Ann Arbor Pioneer, 4-0. Bill Scarfone, who led the scoring with two goals, put in the first goal in the opening period. In the second period, both Tom Dow and Scarfone tallied short-handed goals for ULS. John Kulka and Marty Wittmer got credit for the assists.

A. J. Gibson put the game out of reach when he took a Brian Valice pass and rifled it past the Ann Arbor goalie from about 35 feet out. ULS goalie George Zinn stopped 21 shots in his shutout performance.

On Saturday night, Dec. 5, ULS played host to Allen Park Cabrini and Cabrini handed ULS a 4-3 loss. The Cabrini Monarchs scored first just two minutes thirty seconds into the first period, but before the stanza ended, Dow finished off a Wittmer rush and tied the game, 1-1. The second period saw the downriver team take a 3-1 lead before the Knights were able to again find the Monarch goal. Jim Raymo made it 3-2 when he pushed his own rebound past the Cabrini goalie.

In the third period, Dow knocked home a faceoff pass from John Kulka to tie the score with 10 minutes left. With four minutes to go, a Cabrini defenseman slipped a long slap shot past the screened ULS goalie Zinn, to put the Monarchs back on top to stay.

Coach Peacock said, "As much as the Ann Arbor game was a big win, the Cabrini game was a disappointing loss. There are a number of people that are playing very well for us, but we have to come and play every game," coach Jay Peacock said after the loss.

ULS travels to Trenton Dec. 11 for a 7:30 p.m. game and then plays host to last year's Class B state title winner, Detroit Country Day School, on Dec. 16 at 4 p.m.

ULS' Tom Dow jumps in the air after pushing the puck past the Ann Arbor Pioneer goalie.

University Liggett School went on to defeat Pioneer, 4-0, last week.

Bruins in Silver Stick semi-finals

The Bantam AA Grosse Pointe Bruins began play in the St. Clair Shores' Silver Stick Tournament last week and the team continued its winning ways by blanking Plymouth, 3-0, and defeating Flint, 3-1, to qualify for the tournament semi-finals.

Earlier in the week, Grosse Pointe had Adray league games against Warren and Port Huron. Led by a stingy defense, the Bruins defeated Warren, 5-1, and shut out Port Huron, 3-0. Rankin Barker and Tom Davis paced the Warren victory with two goals each; Robby Wood scored once.

John Russell picked up three assists against Warren; Chris Luongo had two and Keith Barich, one.

The Bruins posted their shutout against Port Huron behind the goaltending of Peter Muer. Russell led the offense with two goals and captain Stacey Rickert netted one. Barker notched two assists; Tom Madden, Luongo and Davis had one each.

In the opening game of the Silver Stick tournament, Dino Masella recorded his third shutout of the year in a 3-0 decision over Plymouth. Marty Sanclemente scored the first goal in the second period when a long pass from Russell sent him in alone. Russell scored the second goal on a pass from Wood before Luongo finished the scoring late in the third period with his strong unassisted effort.

Facing Flint in the next game loomed as a tough assignment for Grosse Pointe, but the Bruins responded with another strong effort to support the great goaltending turned in by Muer.

After Flint shocked the Bruins with a goal 11 seconds after the opening faceoff, Grosse Pointe displayed its character by bouncing back for the 3-1 win. Heavy pressure produced the equalizer when Russell converted passes from Wood and Barich.

Entering the second period at 1-1, John Hirschfield broke the tie when he outtraced the Flint defenseman to a loose puck and fired it into the net. The final goal was scored by Davis from Sanclemente and Russell. Strong defensive play by Jeff Garrett, Eric Grant, Luongo and Madden highlighted the victory.

The two Silver Stick wins assure the Bruins of a semi-final berth in the prestigious tournament. Semi-final play begins in St. Clair Shores on Sunday, Dec. 13.

Marlies win one of three

The Grosse Pointe Marlboro Bantam A hockey travel team experienced a period of highs and lows last week — winning one, losing one and tying another.

The week began with a 2-2 tie against Avon in Adray League play. The Marlies, outplayed badly in the first period, found themselves on the short end of a 2-0 score. Jamie Parker got Grosse Pointe started when he rifled in a 20-foot shot after taking passes from Walter Connolly and Jeff LeFebvre.

Joe Sullivan tied the contest late in the second period when he converted great forechecking efforts by Kevin Tisdale and Tom Ugval. The Marlies dominated the play for the remainder of the contest, although the game ended in a tie.

Last weekend, the Marlies competed in the preliminary rounds of the Silver Stick tournament in St. Clair Shores. The Marlies opened the tournament with a close, 2-1 win over Plymouth on Dec. 4. Plymouth scored first early in the third period before Grosse Pointe iced the contest with two late goals by Ugval and LeFebvre. Sullivan assisted on both goals.

In second round play, Grosse Pointe lost a heartbreaker to Sterling Heights, 2-1, with less than 30 seconds to play in the game. The Mar-lies, playing probably their best game of the season, carried the play to Sterling Heights and broke out on top when captain Greg Henchel buried a 15-footer after a set-up from linemate Connolly. Sterling Heights didn't tie the score until the third period, although they had begun to pepper the Marlie nets with shots.

Goalies Al Van Deweghe and Coley Connolly performed brilliantly in the nets, keeping the Marlies in the contest. The last minute game-breaker was a disappointment after the fine Marlboro effort.

The Marlies continue in Silver Stick play this weekend with a game against Livonia. If Grosse Pointe wins or ties, it will advance to the semi-final rounds.

Wolverines' Tech is honored

Karl Tech, of the Shores will play his final game for the University of Michigan Wolverines at the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl on Dec. 31. Tech, who received his senior Michigan Club ring for four years of service on the U of M football squad, was among those honored at the U of M football bust at the Westin Hoel on Nov. 30. Tech played on the special teams in every game this season for the Wolverines. He will receive his varsity football letter this year. A 1978 graduate of North High, Tech is the son of Mrs. Kurt Tech, of Sunningdale Drive. He is scheduled to receive a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from U of M in May.

Ask a mermaid—Star Tunas are champs

Our Lady Star of the Sea High School's varsity basketball team won the Class C district title on Nov. 24 at Lutheran East High.

After the Tunas' easy first round victory against Hamtramck High, they met their arch rival St. Clements which had lost to the Tunas twice in regular season action. The game was quite close, but the Tunas prevailed, 44-43, breaking the five year jinx of losing to rivals in the third meeting. Star's team was then up against first round winner, Lutheran North, for the finals. Although a see-saw battle ensued, the Tunas came back from a 10 point deficit to win the District Championship.

"This is the farthest any Star basketball team has ever gone," said head coach Margaret Spindler. "I'm so proud of the girls." Star's team is also coached by Warren Gravin. The girls hold a 15-9 record overall.

ULS earns 5-5 hockey tie

The University Liggett varsity ice hockey team gained another point in the Michigan Metro High School Hockey League's East division by tying Lake Shore High School, 5-5, on Nov. 25 at St. Clair Shores Civic Arena.

The ULS team never took the lead until its fifth goal. Lake Shore tallied first in the opening minute of play when a Shorian player scored on a breakaway. ULS forward Ramsey Gouda didn't waste any time retaliating when he slapped home a Tom Dow pass just a minute later. Lake Shore regained the lead at 7:51 of the first period on a scramble in front of the net. Dow scored his first goal of the season when he converted a rebound shot off the Lake Shore goalie.

The second period saw Lake Shore take a 4-2 lead but before the period ended, Brian Valice turned a Lake Shore power play into disaster and a Marty Wittmer pass into a goal. The third period saw Jim Raymo find paydirt with a Gouda pass and Wittmer put ULS in the lead with an unassisted goal. Lake Shore pressure proved too much for the Knights when a Shorian put the puck past ULS goalie George Zinn with 3:39 left for the tie.

The Knights took 31 shots on the Lake Shore goal while Zinn played an excellent game, stopping 31 shots.

Pointes' Troop 96 scouts its history

In two years, Boy Scout Troop 96, headquartered at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, will celebrate its 50th anniversary.

As part of the observance, the troop is compiling a scrapbook which will chronicle a half-century of scouting in Grosse Pointe. If you have any Troop 96 memorabilia, such as patches, badges, photographs, or scoutbooks that you would like to donate, call Scoutmaster David Steele at 882-0627.

South J.V., frosh cagers ready for '82

By Kevin Roberts
South High

was Bill Winzer with nine points.

After posting a phenomenal 17-2 record as freshmen, the class of 1984 will attempt to come storming back this year as sophomores as they take over the JV basketball squad.

However, the South JV must take the court without two players who helped last year's frosh team to its astounding season. Brian Rathsburg and Jim Arnold will play with the varsity this year.

But the team is still confident of a successful season. "Despite the losses of Jim and Brian, we're still going to be a pretty solid ball club," said JV guard John Williamson.

Although repeating their record of last year will be a difficult task, Williamson pointed out, "Basically we'll be playing the same teams as last year, most of which we blew out."

The JV will need good rebounding and inside play from Pete Toenjes, coupled with accurate outside shooting from the entire team to succeed. Also, the playmaking of Williamson will be a key factor.

Beginning their careers on South's basketball courts, the freshmen are ready to open the 1981-82 season.

Coach Tom Malloy, who took last year's frosh to a 17-2 record, predicts the team will be "somewhere between 19-0 and 0-19."

"We've got unusually good average height," commented Malloy. "We're a tall team." Freshman guard Jon Roberts predicted, "We'll be pretty good because we've got a lot of talent and depth."

The success of the freshman team depends on the inside play of Steve Paffy, coupled with the outside play of Rick Waugaman and the passing of Rick Whitney.

The freshmen began their season on Tuesday, Dec. 8, against Notre Dame (after press time).

South varsity basketball: South's varsity basketball team opened its season Dec. 4 with a loss to Highland Park, 77-22.

Coach George Petrouleas commented, "It was a close game in the first quarter, but after that we fell behind. It was the toughest game of the season." Top scorer for South

Although regular team rankings have not come out, many experts expect Highland Park to rank among the top three teams in the state. "A very good team," Petrouleas said.

"I think that we can have a good season. All we have to do is keep improving," Petrouleas added.

The team takes on Sterling Heights Ford Dec. 11 at home at 8 p.m. JV play starts at 6:30. (By Megan Bonanni).

South Skiers: The Blue Devil Ski Club at South will once again hit the slopes at Blue Mountain in Collingwood, Ontario, Canada on Jan. 20 to 31.

The cost of $160 includes two night's lodging, meals Friday and Saturday and Sunday morning breakfast, all ski lift tickets for three days of skiing and a round trip to Canada and back.

Departure will be on Friday, Jan. 29, after school. Skiers will depart Blue Mountain and head home at 5 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 30. A maximum of 43 persons will be allowed to go on the trip. (By Brooke Reuther).

South swimmers: Of the girls who traveled to East Lansing Dec. 4 for the preliminaries to the state swim championships, the 200 yard medley relay team of Cheryl Chase, Amy Bartoszewicz, Lara Measelle and Gretchen Ream qualified and finished 13th.

Also qualifying for individual events were Bartoszewicz, 100 yard breast stroke, who came in 12th; and Ream, 100 yard fly, who placed 22nd.

Although the team turned in respectable finishes, the event was marred by Sara McLeod's disqualification in her best event, the 100 yard breast, which Bartoszewicz ended up swimming in substitution.

McLeod had qualified for both the 100 yard breast, which is her best event and one she holds a South varsity record in, and the 200 yard free. She also decided to drop the 200 yard free event to focus her attention on the breast stroke, an event in which she was seeded sixth in the state.

According to an NCAA rule however, a swimmer who drops one event is disqualified from any others. (By Trevor Dinka).

Mini-clinics planned for New Year's Eve run

The Belle Isle Runners will present mini-clinics at all area Hughes & Hatcher stores from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Dec. 14. The mini-clinics will feature tips on running in preparation for the 12th annual New Year's Eve Run. Entries for the run will be accepted at that time.

Hughes & Hatcher, the Belle Isle Runners and the Detroit Recreation Department, co-sponsors of the popular event, cited the need for more space for the run and for the giant spaghetti dinner that follows as the reasons for the change of location for the 12th annual New Year's Eve Run.

"We wanted to make sure that we could comfortably accommodate everyone who wants to join us on the 31st," said Gerard Donnelly, Hughes & Hatcher chairman. "Each year the number of runners—old, young, amateurs and the handicapped—swells, and we're making room for them all."

This year runners will start at Larned and Sherby, continue east on Larned to McDougall and then return to Congress, looping Cobo Hall and finishing 20 feet inside Cobo Hall.

The four mile run/walk begins at 4:30 p.m. on Dec. 31. A special one-mile children's run/walk, open to youngsters 12 and under, will be held at 3:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the run go to the Detroit Recreation Department "Partners" Program. Last week a check for $6,000, proceeds from last year's Run, was presented to the Recreation Department to symbolize the start of registration for this year's event. All children and handicapped runners will receive trophies. Plaques will be awarded to the first 1,000 finishers in the four mile event.

The entry fee is $5 for children and $7 for adults and includes the dinner and a T-shirt. Dinner for non-runners is $5. Entry blanks are available at all Hughes & Hatcher stores. Early registration is encouraged.

For further information, call Hughes & Hatcher at 965-7900.

These members of the Belle Isle Runners are getting an early start on the 1981 New Year's Eve Run by delivering the proceeds from last year's Run to the City of Detroit's Partners

Program. The runners, led by the Park's Jeanne Bocci (third from right), co-sponsor the annual event along with Hughes & Hatcher and the Detroit Department of Recreation.

Pompon-a-thon benefit is Dec. 12

Colorful pompons . . . aerobic dancing . . . the Detroit Pistons' Classy Chassis — all will be a part of the March of Dimes Pompon-a-thon set for this Saturday, Dec. 12, at the Macomb Community College Athletic Fieldhouse. Tickets are available at the door for $1.

Girls from all over the state will collect pledges from family and friends for each hour they take part in the event, co-sponsored by MCC and the Mid-Michigan Pompon Association. Action gets underway at 8:30 a.m., and lasts until 4 p.m. WNIC-FM 100 disc jockey Mark Rider is the Honorary Chairman of the pompon-a-thon. Proceeds raised by the event will help the March of Dimes support medical research, educational programs and community service projects relating to birth defects. For further information, call the Metropolitan March of Dimes at 864-6000.

ULS cagers win opener

By Jeff Peters
ULS

The University Liggett School Knights took their varsity basketball act on the road Dec. 4 and won the season opener against Harper Woods High School, 51-48. Leading the Knights to victory was J. T. Parks, who topped all scorers with 23 points.

Rounding off the Knights' offensive attack were Michael (Snatch) Paolucci and Larry Van Kirk with 15 and eight points, respectively. On the defensive end of the court, both Mike McCarthy and Jeff Peters ripped down 10 rebounds, McCarthy accounting for most of his in the first half before he fouled out.

The contest started in the typical opening-game way, with tentative play and turnovers dominating much of the first quarter. Then the Knights' offensive machine got on track for the second quarter and the ULS netters reeled off 10 unanswered points for a 31-24 half-time advan-lage. Play resumed in the third quarter with hesitancy on both sides, but the Pioneers were the first to find the groove and pulled to within two before Van Kirk sank a 15 footer in the closing seconds. The fourth quarter saw the tired-up Pioneers and the struggling Knights play give and take, with the Pioneers again pulling to within two.

The score stood at 50-48 with 10 seconds to play and the ball in the Harper Woods end of the court. Parks intercepted a pass, raced down court and was fouled in his layup attempt. He sank one of the two free throws and the game ended, 51-48, with a futile last shot by Harper Woods.

ULS coach Tony Gallaher said of the victory, "It's always nice to win the first one, but I think it's evident we need a little polish before taking on the likes of Country Day." The Knights host Country Day on Dec. 8.

Van Kirk is all-stater

University Liggett School junior Larry Van Kirk has been selected by the Michigan Soccer Coaches Association to join the first Michigan All-State soccer team at high school level.

The coaches represented 92 high schools, Class A, B, C and D, who work with varsity soccer teams. Van Kirk was co-captain of 1981 ULS varsity team which, under coach Luis Gomez, won both the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference League and Tournament championships for the third consecutive year.

He also was elected by his teammates and coaches 1981 as the Most Valuable Player and by the Metro Suburban Soccer League to be a member of the All-Star soccer team. Van Kirk was voted the top soccer player of the All-Star soccer team of the MIAC.

Van Kirk has been a member of the ULS varsity soccer team for three years. "He is a player who combines mind and body when he plays. On the field he is the leader, the one who moves the game to an exciting stage," said ULS coach Gomez.

Camper show wants 'best' on road

The 1982 Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show will recognize the individuals and a family best representing the ideals and fun of camping in Michigan's great outdoors at this year's show.

To do that, the Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show is holding statewide contests to select the Michigan RV Family of the Year, Michigan's King or Queen of the Road, and a club which will be designated Michigan's RV Club of the Year.

Entry blanks for the contests may be obtained by calling or writing: Dove Pickering, show director, Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show, 19045 Farmington Road, Livonia, Mich. 48152. The phone number is (313) 477-3434. Deadline is Dec. 31, to allow sufficient time for judging in advance of the show opening.

Farms Boat Club will light tree

The Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club will hold its annual tree lighting ceremony Sunday, Dec. 13 at 5 p.m. at the Farms Pier Park boathouse.

Jerry Malooly will serve as master of ceremonies as the tree lighting crew of Mike Farnsworth, Bill DeGalan and Jerry Janisse turn on the Christmas tree lights. The Semack family is in charge of refreshments and Walter Klein will lead the caroling on the accordion.

All Farms residents are invited to this family affair.

Correction

An item on the Grosse Pointe Foxes, a girls' 12 and under travel soccer team from the Grosse Pointe Soccer Association, in the Dec. 3 sports section incorrectly credited the Foxes with finishing their schedule with a 7-2 record. The Foxes finished the year undefeated, totaling seven wins and two ties, while outscoring their opponents, 42-10.

Shake up follows ND losses

The Notre Dame hockey team is having what could be called an up and down year. After a good start, the Irish have dropped to eighth place in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association with a 4-7-1 mark.

Varsity hockey coach Lefty Smith, in an effort to get the Irish back on the winning side gave the team a good shake-up last week when he split up the forward lines. Among the changes was one which sent senior right-winger Jeff Logan, of the Shores, to play on a new line.

Logan, who had eight goals and five assists in his first 14 games, will now play on a line with junior center Kirt Bjork, of Trenton, and senior left-winger Jeff Perry, of Sudbury, Ont.

Notre Dame will travel to Marquette to face league-leading Northern Michigan in a Thursday-Friday series next week, prior to the Christmas break.

'Holiday Magic' at Cranbrook

An aura of "Holiday Magic" will envelope Cranbrook House Dec. 12, 13 and 14 when Cranbrook House and Gardens Auxiliary combines its annual Christmas Walk with a panorama of 10 festive tables created by area notables.

Hours for the "Holiday Magic" celebration will be Saturday, Sunday and Monday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tickets, at $3.50, (including an elaborate tea) are available at the door, 380 Lone Pine Road, or by calling Mrs. James Holmes at 644-3797. For further information, call 645-3147.

In addition to viewing tables set in various rooms throughout historic Cranbrook House, visitors can enjoy traditional Christmas decorations—including old-fashioned trees, wreaths and floral garlands—plus antique creche and toy collections belonging to Auxiliary members Mrs. Frederick (Barbara) Erb and Mrs. Maxwell (Janet) Fead.

"Holiday Magic" chairman is Mrs. Colton (Ruth). Committee members include Mrs. E. C. (Emmeline) Waldsmith, decorations; and Mrs. Allan (Shirley) Geddes, Mrs. Mark (Susan) Smith, Mrs. Mahlon (Jeanne) Benson, Mrs. William (Marian) Mitchell, Mrs. H. R. (Shirley) Nitz, Mrs. Arthur (Lolly) Lewry, Mrs. Andrew (Shirley) Park and members of the Cranbrook House Auxiliary.

Proceeds will be used for restoring and refurbishing Cranbrook House.

St. Paul teams start C.Y.O. play

The 1981-82 C.Y.O. basketball season opened Dec. 6 for all St. Paul School teams. More than 110 boys and girls from St Paul Parish are actively involved in C.Y.O. programs. St. Paul teams came out the victors in three separate contests against St. Ambrose. In a defensive battle, sparked by a six point output by Lynn Vismara, the 78er girls won their basketball game, 15-8. Julie McGann helped with fine rebounding, and teammates Backy Steffes and Patty Molloy also contributed in the scoring. The fifth and sixth grade girls also began their season on a winning note, topping St. Ambrose, 18-4. Excellent passing made the difference in the win with Casey Steffes leading the team in scoring 12 points, followed by Holly McHugh with four points. The fifth and sixth grade boys were also victorious in their contest against St. Ambrose, 24-12, displaying an aggressive defense and good scoring ability by Mike Coffey, Tim Fellows and Sam Steinhelb. St. Paul's 56ers No. 2 team could not overcome St. Florian, losing 23-8. John Colby and Paul Chase performed well in the loss.

North cagers open season with win

By Paul Regelbrugge
North High

North's 1981-82 basketball campaign got off to a fine start Dec. 4 when they outgouged Sterling Heights, 40-37. The Norsemen started the game by falling behind 5-0 before ever getting possession of the ball, but came back to outscore their opponents in each of the last three quarters.

North senior Andy Pfau was the game's high scorer with 12 points, while fellow seniors Dan Sheridan and Chris Neal trailed with eight points.

"We didn't play that well offensively but we were good on defense," said North varsity coach Ray Ritter. "I was especially proud of the way we stuck together in the end when they pressured us."

The Norsemen will entertain L'Anse Creuse at North tomorrow, Dec. 11, at 7:30 p.m. The junior varsity plays prior to the varsity at 6 p.m.

Wrestling: After defeating Southfield, 33-30, and Roseville, 53-17, coach Larry Aceto's Norsemen fell to Lutheran East, 33-27, in a triple-dual match Dec. 1.

The Lutheran East match was a showdown between two unbeaten teams to decide who would become the triple dual champions; unfortunately North fell short. Getting pins in their matches were Pat Marlow, Todd Leigh and David Fleming, while other big wins were provided by Greg Fleming and Greg Fobare.

In the Southfield squeaker, Leigh won by an 11-8 decision over his opponent after Dave Fleming, Greg Fleming and Dave Balcirak pinned their rivals.

Against Roseville, Greg Fleming and Balcirak turned in their second pins of the night while Marlow, Gary Cornell, Jim Seagram and Leigh added pins to their credit. Senior Matt Simon trounced his opponent, 23-1, to add to North's triumph.

North boys' swimming: First year North coach Les Roddis' boys' swimming team won its first meet of the season when it defeated Royal Oak Kimball last week, 91-76.

Senior Mark Stoyka won the 100 yard breaststroke while Joe Schmidt's 500 yard freestyle victory and Bob Luberto's first place finish in diving paced the Norsemen. The medley relay team of Stoyka, Luberto, Tim Monahan and Jim Strong was also victorious.

North will not swim at home until after the Christmas break when it hosts perennial powerhouse Dearborn on Jan. 5, at 7 p.m.

April's art shown in December

Mt. Clemens artist April Guthell will show her collection of watercolor through Dec. 31 at Goeddeke's Studio Garden Gallery at 48 New Street, Mt. Clemens. Gallery hours are 10:30 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, 10:30 until 9 p.m. Fridays. Further information may be obtained by calling 1-468-7913.

Guthell began her career in art as an apprentice in Detroit art studios in the early 1960's. For 15 years, she experimented with various styles of designs, finally deciding upon realistic illustration. She left advertising in 1980 to devote full time to watercolor.

Grosse Pointe Hockey Association

By Brad Tisdale

After the holiday break, the Mite house division resumed its schedule with the Canadiens ending the week still undefeated and leading the division. The Red Wings and Flyers are right behind the Canadiens, in second and third place, respectively.

Team	W	L	T	Points
Canadiens	4	0	1	9
Red Wings	2	0	3	7
Flyers	3	1	0	6
Maple Leafs	0	2	2	2
Storks	0	2	2	2
Seals	0	2	1	1
Rangers	0	2	1	1

Canadiens-Flyers
The Canadiens "C" line led the attack in this 2-1 win over the Flyers. Eric Kisskalt scored two second period goals and Scott Van-Elslander and goalie David Tucker held the Flyers to one goal—that by Don Deseranno in the third period. Ty Telegades was in goal for the Flyers.

Seals-Red Wings
The Red Wings jumped out in front with first period goals by Wiercerkowski and Battaglia, then had to hold on for the tie, 2-2. The Seals countered later in the first period when Greg Semack scored his first goal of the year. The Seals' Pat Pisogna and the Wings' George Petersmark had a goaltenders' dual for most of the game until late in the second period, when Mike Klobuchar tied it up for the Seals. John Morreale and Shawn Phillips drew assists.

Storks-Rangers
Matt Moroun's first period goal for the Rangers opened up this game, which ended in a 4-4 tie. Tom Rajt scored for the Storks in the second period before Sean Darke scored for the Rangers. The five-goal third period saw Brad Warezak, Gabe Erickson and Rajt tally for the Storks and Brian Quinn and Peter Bourke connect for the Rangers. Jeff Torrice was in the nets for the Storks and Stefan Teitge for the Rangers.

Red Wings-Rangers
Goalie Peter Antonenko earned the first Mite division shutout of the year as he held the Rangers scoreless in a 4-0 Red Wing win. Jay Berger led the Wings' scoring effort with two goals while Peter Bogos and Jeff Giacobbe scored one goal each.

Canadiens-Storks
Tucker scored the three-goal hat trick as he led the Canadiens to a 5-1 victory. Van-Elslander and Nicky Lorenzini added the other two goals. Warezak converted a Richard Harder pass for a Stork goal to wipe out Canadian goalie Colin Fitzsimon's potential shutout.

Flyers-Maple Leafs
Ryan Perkins held the Maple Leafs to one goal as the Flyers earned a 2-1 win. Chad Yates assisted on the Perkins' goal. Deseranno and Marcel Chagnon each scored unassisted goals for the Flyers. Tripp Tracy, in his first time as goaltender for the Leafs, turned in a valiant effort in the losing cause. The Flyers received outstanding defensive play from Brian Brenner and Andrew Stroble; the Leafs were helped by the defensive efforts of John Ban and Duncan McMillan.

The five-team Pee Wee division for 11 and 12 year olds played six games last week. The Hawks, Flyers and Red Wings are in a close race for league honors—only two points separate the three teams.

Team	W	L	T	Points
Hawks	7	2	3	17
Flyers	7	3	1	15
Red Wings	7	4	1	15
Islanders	3	8	1	7
Titans	1	8	2	4

In games played last week, the Red Wings beat the Titans, 5-0; the Flyers topped the Red Wings, 4-3; the Hawks edged the Islanders, 4-3; the Red Wings beat the Titans, 4-3; the Flyers outlasted the Islanders, 3-1 and the Hawks and Red Wings played to a 4-4 tie.

SQUIRTS
Five teams comprise the Squirt division in the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association. Squirts include boys and girls 9 and 10 years old. The GPHA experienced high interest at the Squirt level this year with 73 children participating in the house league and 15 playing in the travel bracket. Many of these kids are beginning to be "old pros" on the ice—most started skating at the age of 5 or 6. Their skills are improving at this level and the enthusiasm is always a factor in their play. The five teams which make up the Squirt division are pictured above.
