

Bed cut suit stops hospital parking deck plans

By Tom Greenwood

Officials at Bon Secours and Cottage Hospitals have expressed regret at the legal roadblock set in their paths to acquiring certificates of need from the state for three related projects.

A temporary restraining order was filed last month in Ingham County Circuit Court preventing the Executive Committee of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan (CHPC-SEM) from giving the go ahead to the three projects submitted to the council by Bon Secours and Cottage.

The projects include the joint purchase of a full-body Computer Assisted Tomographic (CAT) Scanner at a cost of $903,000 to both institutions; the transfer of Cottage's obstetric service to Bon Secours and the construction of a $3.5 million, four level parking structure at Cottage.

TENTATIVELY proposed to front Muir Road, the structure (underwritten solely by Cottage), would house 350 cars and contain an underground warehouse and office area that would connect to the main hospital via an underground tunnel.

Without the okay from CHPC-SEM,

Cottage, Bon Secours joint ventures stymied

Cottage and Bon Secours are prevented from approaching the Michigan Department of Public Health (MDPH) for final approval of their projects and granting of certificates of need.

All hospitals in Michigan must obtain the certificates before advancing any projects, or face possible loss of license.

The restraining order was issued by Ingham County Circuit Judge James T. Kallman in response to a request in a suit filed by Brent General and Doctors Hospitals in Detroit, and Dearborn Medical Centre Hospital, Dearborn.

The three institutions have been targeted for consolidation or merger in CHPC-SEM's Second Cycle Plan for the Reduction of Excess Hospital Capacity in Southeastern Michigan, which was approved by the Statewide Health Coordination Council (SHCC) last month.

Bon Secours and Cottage, along with the three hospitals filing the restraining order, are among 61 hospitals in six over bedded sub-areas in Wayne, Macomb and southern Oakland counties.

Pending a Jan. 27, 1982 hearing, on that suit, CHPC-SEM, MDPH, and SHCC have been restrained from any actions in implementing excess capacity plans, including reviewing projects submitted by any of the 61 hospitals in the six overbedded sub-areas.

According to Madge Lawson, director of Public Relations at Cottage Hospital, the institution still remains fully committed to the projects coordinated with Bon Secours, plus the proposed construction of the parking deck.

"We have a number of deeds on file," she said. "Hopefully this problem can be cleared up quickly and we can get the ball rolling. Until then, we're stopped and there's absolutely nothing we can do, no matter how eager we are to begin work."

Panel rules Ford House is taxable

By Tom Greenwood

The Edsel & Eleanor Ford House in Grosse Pointe Shores lost the first round in its bid to be declared a tax exempt charitable institution.

In a Tuesday, Dec. 1 opinion, the Michigan Tax Tribunal ruled the property is not a totally charitable estate and must pay taxes to the Shores, Lake Township and South Lake schools.

The home paid its 1980 taxes ($55,000 to the schools and $28,000 to the Shores) under protest and has not yet paid its 1981 taxes, according to Shores officials.

In her will, Eleanor Ford suggested that a private foundation be created to oversee the property and directed that the foundation be organized exclusively for charitable purposes.

Among her suggestions were that the estate be used for activities such as conference and receptions, exhibitions of works of art, lectures and symposiums, concerts, recitals and other musical events, transient quarters for artists, lecturers, authors, scientists and other prominent people visiting Michigan.

Mrs. Ford left a $15 million endowment for maintenance and operation of the estate.

In testifying before the tribunal, Paul Alandt, executive director of the Foundation, said that only non profit organizations are permitted to use the Ford Home facilities. Many of them are charged a $1 per member "preservation fee," he said.

He also said members of the public wishing to tour the house and grounds can do so only by prior arrangement and are not admitted unless their names appear on the guard's list at the gate house.

A fee of $3 for adults, $2 for senior citizens and $1 for children is charged. Alandt said the fee would be waived if a person were unable to pay. He also testified the home was open to the public on specific dates, and on the average, had been available for public visits (usually Sunday) twice a month since Nov., 1980.

In offering the opinion, Presiding Hearing Officer Claris Kaye Cwirko ruled that while the home was partially charitable, it failed to meet all four requirements used to test and qualify for tax exempt status.

To qualify, an institution must be incorporated under the laws of Michigan; be a non-profit theater, library, educational, scientific or charitable institution; be the owner and occupant of the real property; and occupy the property solely for the purpose for which the institution was incorporated.

The tax tribunal, while conceding the validity of the first and third criteria in applying to the Ford home, nevertheless had trouble accepting the second and fourth requirements.

IN EFFECT, the tribunal said that though the estate had declared itself a charitable institution, that did not on the surface qualify it as such.

Drawing on definitions from Webster's New World Dictionary of the American Language defining charitable and charity, the tribunal said the home would be considered a charitable institution if it was "kind and generous, in giving money or other help to those in need."

The tribunal said the estate was acting as a charitable institution when it allowed the premises to be used for fund raising efforts by the Ronald McDonald (a non-profit support facility for Children's Hospital in Detroit), but these efforts were outweighed by the use of the property by groups such as employees of Sabena Airlines, the Site Selection Committee for the Republican National Convention, the Used Car Guidebook Publishers of North America, the Lawyers Wives of Michigan, the Veteran Motor Car Club of America, the American Wine Society, the American Natural Resources Company, the delegates to the Republican National Convention, the Venezuelan Ford dealers, the Grand Trunk Eastern Railroad company and other similar organizations.

In reviewing the scheduled activities at the home between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31, 1979, the tribunal said it found that of a total of 80 events, only 31, or 38.75 percent could clearly be identified as fund raising benefits for charitable organizations.

For the calendar year 1980, the figure was even lower, said the tribunal. Only 32 out of 138 activities could be so classified, for a 23.2 percent average.

In response, Foundation representatives testified that "99 percent of the sponsoring organizations were non-profit, charitable organizations whose purpose in using the Ford House facilities was to raise funds."

In judging that the property was not exempt from taxation, the tribunal affirmed the 1980 and 1981

Tips on kerosene care

Heater issue runs hot, cold

By Tom Greenwood

"Now is the winter of our discontent" — and it appears things are going to get worse. As outside temperatures drop and gas bills rise, more and more consumers are scrambling to find ways to keep warm and save money.

Many believe they've discovered the answer in portable, kerosene heaters. Light weight, portable and fueled by pure kerosene, the heaters are undergoing great popularity at the moment.

They vary in size from 8,200 BTU's (British Thermal Units) at $169 to 19,500 BTU's at around $280. Supporters claim the smallest unit can heat a 15 foot by 15 foot by 8 foot room from zero to 70 degrees in an hour.

Area retailers report brisk sales, with some stores selling all they can get their hands on.

"We've probably sold 80 of the units in the last two months," said Tom Charbeneau, manager of Maskell Hardware. "In fact, I'm selling all I can get in. They're really popular because they help hold gas bills down."

Lochmoor Hardware reported good sales, while Nelson Frolund Lawn and Garden Center reported it sold at least 75 of the units in recent weeks.

"THE MOST popular heaters appear to be in the 8,200-9,600 BTU range," said Jeff Krum, assistant manager.

"The only complaint we've received is that the fuel tank isn't large enough. It can hold up to 1.99 gallons of fuel good for about 25-30 hours of constant use. Federal law prevents the tanks from holding more than two gallons."

Dammon Hardware in the Village reported they've sold out of the units, but more are on the way. "The items are popular and new," said store manager Henry Feys. "But some people may expect too much of them. They can't take the place of a furnace, and you do have to buy fuel for them. Kerosene can sell for as little as $1.70 a gallon bulk, or $3.99 pre-packaged."

"But for carrying a family through during a power outage or for heating a garage while you work on the car, the units are just perfect."

The only area hardware store that doesn't carry the heaters is Bachman Paint and Hardware. Store owner Herb Bachman has doubts about the units.

"I've seen a lot of ads about them, and we've had some inquiries from customers, but they don't seem like a good item to us," he said.

"I have real doubts about the economy of the heaters. Kerosene can cost as much as $5 a gallon in prepackaged containers. While bulk kerosene is cheaper, it's a fire hazard that must be stored in separate fire-proofed buildings.

"I also have doubts about their safety. I don't like the idea of any burning unit in a closed building. Anything that burns gives off carbon monoxide. Maybe I'm wrong, but that's the way I see it."

That's not to say many kerosene heaters haven't been tested.

County begins reapportionment

By Susan Coppa

At a Wayne County Charter reapportionment meeting Monday, Dec. 14, County Clerk James Killeen read a letter from Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner which stated Steiner's continued request that the First District, which includes all the Pointes, remain the same under the new charter.

"If the district cannot remain unchanged, then I support the adoption of Hubert Holley's plan for the redistricting," Steiner's letter continued.

Holley is the Democratic party appointee to the five-member reapportionment commission. Other members include Killeen, serving as chair; County Treasurer Raymond Wojtowicz; County Prosecutor William Cahalan and Michael Legg, replacing Pat Ganzberger as the Republican party appointee.

The Wayne County Charter is drawn in accordance with the Michigan Charter County Act which states that all county districts must "be as equal in population as practicable." The total population for Wayne County deems that each district shall represent 155,000 residents.

According to 1980 census figures, the total population for all the Grosse Pointes is just under 52,000.

Under Holley's plan, the Grosse Pointes would be included in a district with Harper Woods (representing 68,350 suburbanites) and an area of northeast Detroit that would give the first district a total of 155,770 people represented.

Holley's First District would be: west on Eight Mile Road along the county line in the Woods, up to an imaginary line between Hoover and Van Dyke, south to Six Mile Road, along Six Mile to Bedford in Detroit, Bedford to Mack Avenue and Alter, and Alter down to the River.

Holley's plan could have Steiner face a fellow commissioner in next November's election, Norbert Wisniewski from Harper Woods.

Steiner said Thursday that he is definitely running for the commission seat next fall. "It's going to be a very tough election. The Grosse Pointes will lose their representation (due to the redistricting). We commissioners now have twice as much area to represent as does a state senator. If there were 21 districts, instead of 15, we'd be okay."

Steiner has opposed the new charter from the beginning, saying that it is badly drawn, and will eliminate the three Republicans currently on the county government. The new charter was approved by voters Nov. 3.

Steiner also voiced disappointment in fellow Pointer Barbara Gattorn for not giving Grosse Pointe more consideration when the Wayne County Charter was drawn.

"It's a shame that our own Charter Commissioner was the one who blew our representation," he said.

At Monday's meeting Gattorn said that at the time that the Charter Commission was considering the number of districts, she also favored 21 instead of 15. However at the voting time, 21 was not a number under consideration and rather than have the number remain at 27 and defeat the purpose of the Charter, she chose to endorse the 15.

She also said that if Holley's plan is accepted, the Grosse Pointes could conceivably have a louder voice in county decisions than under Killeen's plan, due to the combined strength of Grosse Pointe's and Harper Woods' population count. Only 87,000 residents of Detroit would be needed to comprise the district, as compared to more than 113,000 under the plan Killeen presented.

The Commission agreed Monday that it would next meet on Wednesday, Jan. 6, 1982.

Holley's redistricting plan for the county isn't the only plan currently under consideration by the commission.

At the Dec. 7 meeting James Killeen presented a plan to the board which would include the Pointes in a district without Harper Woods.

Parents propose Messner Field pool

By Joanne Gouleche

Residents for a community pool at South High School were back before the Board of Education Monday with more than 2,000 signatures in support of the idea. This time, they are proposing an olympic-size swimming facility on Messner Field near Richard School in Grosse Pointe Farms.

School administrators say it has now become impossible and costly to build a swimming pool adjacent to South's Industrial Arts building, where the pool was first proposed, because of problems with water and sewer lines. When the $2 million industrial facility was constructed two years ago, architects laid foundations for a pool next to the building.

Joan Bartoszewicz, chairman of Citizens for a New Pool at South, told the school board more than 50 persons have been out in Grosse Pointe neighborhoods soliciting signatures for a 50-meter pool. The group is looking for at least 4,000 signatures to place the pool issue on the June 14 school board ballot.

"We are a first rate community. We should have a first rate pool," Mrs. Bartoszewicz said.

The proposed $3.5 million pool facility on Messner Field would house locker rooms, a first aid room, weight room and a small cafeteria, according to pool spokesman and parent Art Colton.

PARENTS, students and coaches have long complained that South's old 20-meter pool is too short for high school varsity competition. South swimmers now practice and compete in North's pool. The school system also has pools located in Brownell, Parcels and Pierce schools, but those pools are either too narrow or too short for varsity competition, according to parents and coaches.

Mrs. Bartoszewicz said the proposed pool would also make provisions for handicapped swimmers and senior citizens.

School board reaction to the proposal was not favorable.

"Those 2,000 signatures don't convince me (that we need a new pool)," said board President Jon Gandelot. "Do you think residents would be willing to approve a bond issue to fund this?"

Trustee Dorothy Kennel pointed out Messner Field is used everyday by Richard students and community groups.

Parent Art Colton said the group has been before the Grosse Pointe Woods Council to consider a bubble top over that city's pool at Lakefront Park, but has met considerable opposition to the plan.

Hot and cold on heaters

of Northbrook, Ill., has put its seal of approval on a number of heating units after testing them for automatic shut off mechanisms in case of tip overs; carbon monoxide emissions; risks of explosion; high surface temperatures; smoke and odor build up.

UL also requires manufacturers to include a complete set of instructions dealing with operation, flame adjustment, refueling, lighting procedures and maintenance.

"The safety features on UL listed kerosene heaters greatly reduce the risk of fire," said Enno Toomsalu, associate managing UL engineer, responsible for the testing of kerosene heaters.

"The consumers' role in the safe use of these heaters is important since the chimney portion of the heaters, through which the hot gases escape, may get as hot as 500 to 600 degrees Fahrenheit."

Toomsalu added that the consumer should always be present when the heater is operating. Keep children and combustibles, such as clothing, furniture or newspapers away from an operating heater.

"Concern has been expressed about smoke, odor and the risk of carbon monoxide build up," said Toomsalu. "Units meeting UL's requirements do not indicate the development of high concentration of carbon monoxide. They also burn virtually clean and odorless."

Pianists will compete in GP this spring

The Michigan Foundation for the Arts announced it will again help sponsor the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival's statewide piano competition next spring at the War Memorial.

Michigan pianists between the ages of 18 and 32 are invited to compete. Call the Memorial, 881-7511, or write to Piano Competition, 32 Lakeshore Road, the Farms, 48236.

The competition was organized last year in order to give young pianists recognition. The winner of the first award was Grosse Pointer Stephanie Léon.

Once again concert pianists Mischa Kottler and Ilse von Alpenheim will lead the panel of jurors. Also judging the musicians will be pianist Flavio Varani from Oakland University, Felix Resnik, music director of Grosse Pointe Symphony, and Andrew Raeburn, artistic director of Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Prizes will include $1,000 in fees for a recital performance at next summer's local music festival and a concerto performance with Grosse Pointe Symphony. The winner also will have an audition with the music director of Detroit Symphony.

A new feature in this year's competition will be the presence of music directors of other community orchestras who will choose soloists to perform during their regular seasons. Soloist selections will be made before the competition award winner is picked. Every finalist will receive an award.

The 1982 competition will include an expanded repertoire. Entrants will be asked to perform both a baroque and a romantic work in preliminary auditions. Finalists will be asked to play a classic, romantic and contemporary work and may, at their option, enter the concerto category separately. Preliminary auditions are scheduled April 16, finals on April 19. The event is open to the public.

REQUIREMENTS for UL listed heaters limit carbon monoxide emissions. For an average size heater rated at 10,000 BTU's per hour, the amount of carbon monoxide that can be produced is less than normally produced by a single burner on a gas cooking range, Toomsalu said.

"In an average size room (12 feet by 12 feet by 8 feet), one complete change of air is needed every 12 hours in order not to significantly deplete the oxygen by using the heater," said Toomsalu.

"The average residential house undergoes a half to one and a half complete air changes through general infiltration every hour."

Toomsalu recommended using the UL listed heaters in well ventilated areas only. To insure good ventilation, UL recommended raising a window one inch or keeping the door to adjacent rooms open.

"Never use any other fuel than pure kerosene," said Toomsalu. "Refill the fuel tank outdoors and never when the heater is operating or still hot from use. Don't use a kerosene heater in an area where there are other flammable gases; and store kerosene only in approved containers, away from living space."

"The risks can be reduced by following these common sense safety precautions."

Dance faculty concert slated in the Woods, following south along the Detroit Riverbank to East Grand Boulevard, north to the Ford Freeway, along the east-bound Freeway to Conner, south on Conner to Warren Avenue, following Warren to Mack and north on Mack to the county line in Grosse Pointe Woods.

The County Clerk's plan could match Steiner against Democrat Jarrette Simmons, who currently represents the lower east side of Detroit, in the election next fall.

As stated, the charter will reduce the number of elected commissioners from 27 to 15. The Charter Commission's reasoning for the reduction is that the individual commissioners would be more visible and, therefore, more accountable to the people. In addition, proponents of the smaller board feel that the board would be able to conduct its business more efficiently.

According to the charter, the Commission has 30 days after certification of official census figures to approve and file an apportionment plan with the County Clerk and the Secretary of State. Monday, Dec. 14 was the last day with which the commission could adopt their own plan.

However, if the Commission does not act on a plan within that 30 days, and does not get an extension approved, any registered voter may submit a plan to the Commission for approval. The Commission would then approve a plan that best meets the requirements of the law, and file that plan with the County Clerk. The deadline for all plans is Jan. 13, 1982.

To further complicate matters, the filed plan could be appealed by any registered voter, and the Court of Appeals would have to determine if the plan complied with the law and the Charter.

However, once a final apportionment plan is approved and in effect for the county, that plan can be changed only after the next official U.S. census figures are released. Only at that time can a new apportionment plan be adopted.

Ford House put on tax rolls

tax years and notified both parties they have 20 days within which to file exceptions and written arguments with the tribunal.

IN THE SHORES, city officials were gratified by the judgment, but something less than elated. "We're not surprised by the findings, but this thing can drag on until I'm past retirement," said Shores Superintendent Tom Jefferis.

"The Foundation will undoubtedly appeal, and if they lose again, can take it as far as the Michigan Supreme Court. It could take a long time until the settlement is reached."

Joseph Sullivan, attorney for the Edsel and Eleanor Ford House, echoed Jefferis' reaction.

"We're in the process of filing objections now," he said. "We're disappointed naturally. There's probably a lack of understanding that pervades at that kind of an administrative hearing. Any administration will look at it from the perspective of a tax authority."

Sullivan said he thought there was a misunderstanding that the property was reserved for use by exclusive groups and was seldom utilized by the public.

"I thought we had resolved that misconception, but apparently we didn't," he said. "The home is open to anyone by reservation only, not by invitation only. Henry Ford II, Mayor Young, J. L. Hudson, Laurance Harwood, Joyce Garrett and others all testified they thought the Foundation was a non-profit charitable institution."

"We receive bulk mailing rates from the post office; the home is listed as a national historical site and is listed under the IRS as a charitable organization. It's also classified as a charitable foundation of the Michigan Attorney General's list," added Sullivan.

"It would seem we have all the requirements. If we lose the appeal, I'm sure we'll take it to the courts. This could take quite a while to resolve."

Residents sue city, company after Woods traffic accident

Grosse Pointe Woods and a company the city subcontracts to remove heavy garbage and appliances were named as defendants in a lawsuit filed in Wayne County Circuit Court recently on behalf of the victim of an accident involving one of the company's vehicles.

Fred and Linda Kay VonGuntzen, both Woods residents, filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court against the city, Brian Vanopdenbosch, and Vanopdenbosch Construction Co., of Detroit, seeking an unspecified amount of damages for injuries sustained by Mrs. VonGuntzen in an Oct. 8 accident with a front end loader driven by Vanopdenbosch.

The suit alleges negligence on the part of Vanopdenbosch in the operating of the vehicle "while his ability ... was visibly impaired because of consumption of intoxicating liquor," and varying "his course of travel without a proper signal ... causing his vehicle to crash into" Mrs. VonGuntzen's 1976 Pinto.

The city, the suit alleges, is guilty of creating "a dangerous and intolerable nuisance in the allowing of large equipment to be used on the city streets without adequate supervision."

Vanopdenbosch Construction Co. is subcontracted by the city on an hourly basis to provide a front end loader and an operator because the city has no such equipment. City Clerk Administrator Chester Petersen said it is used to remove heavy refuse and appliances and to repair water main breaks.

The accident occurred Thursday, Oct. 8 at about 1:30 p.m., the last day of the city's quarterly rubbish pickup, at the intersection of Roslyn and Charlevoix.

Police reports of the incident indicate Vanopdenbosch was driving a Massey-Ferguson front end loader on Charlevoix approaching Roslyn. Mrs. VonGuntzen was driving south with her right turn signal on, according to one witness.

Witnesses said Mrs. VonGuntzen turned off her turn signal just before reaching the intersection, and continued south on Charlevoix through the intersection.

Reports say Vanopdenbosch was making a left turn onto Roslyn when the accident occurred. The front bucket of his vehicle struck Mrs. VonGuntzen's car in the left front fender, crushing the car and trapping her inside.

Mrs. VonGuntzen was taken to St. John Hospital where she was treated for a broken hip, jaw and leg, a concussion, and cuts and bruises.

Witnesses told police Vanopdenbosch, who told officers he was checking side streets for work crews, made the turn into VonGuntzen's car.

Vanopdenbosch told police he had two beers with his lunch that day, but no breathalyzer test was given. According to a police spokesman, although the driver's breath may have smelled, there were no other visible signs of impairment.

Hearings on a citation Vanopdenbosch received for improper lane usage in connection with the accident and an earlier citation in an unrelated incident will not be heard in Woods Municipal Court because a change of venue request by the defense has been granted. A new location for those hearings has been set.

City Attorney George Catlin said it was not unusual for the city to be sued concerning actions of subcontractors, and added that the city's defense is connected with Vanopdenbosch's.

Plaintiff's attorney Joseph Puzzuoli said Mrs. VonGuntzen suffered permanent injuries as a result of the accident, but could not say how much the family had incurred in medical costs because of the accident.

Because of the backlog in the Wayne County Circuit Court, hearings may not begin for between 30 to 40 months.

Woods will go Scrambling

The Woods will replace two six-year-old pick-ups in the Public Works Department with two new AMC Scramblers, described by City Administrator Chester Petersen as more versatile, at a price tag of just over $17,000.

The City Council authorized the purchase of the two vehicles at its regular meeting Monday, Dec. 7 to replace two supervisor's trucks, called the "oldest the city owns" by City Assessor Comptroller Frederick Hornfisher.

The Scrambler, a Jeep with a pick-up truck bed, can be used the same way the pick-ups are used, and can also plow sidewalks in the winter if the regular plowing equipment breaks down, Petersen said.

Coon Bros., on Plymouth Road in Detroit, was awarded the contract over objections of council members who questioned whether the dealership was too far away for the vehicles to be serviced properly under warranty.

Councilmen William Wilson and Jean Rice asked Petersen if the difference between the bids of Coon Bros. and Grosse Pointe Motors on Mack, about $90, wouldn't be offset by the increased distance to the Plymouth Road dealership if warranty repairs were necessary.

Petersen said warranty work could be done locally if any is needed.

A gift of love for kids

The Detroit Child Care Occupant Protection Committee has noted that the law will require drivers to secure children under four years of age in an approved child car seat beginning in April, 1982. With demand far in excess of current supply, the committee is urging purchase of the seats now as holiday gifts to encourage car dealers and retailers to expand inventories so the special restraints will be available. Pictured left to right, Arthur Gibson, Manager of Community Relations for the Automobile Club of Michigan, Ross Roy, chairman of the board, Traffic Safety Association (TSA) and W. Howard Cox, President of the TSA, review one of the 10,500 gift-suggestion posters now being distributed to area establishments. The AAA, Ross Ray, Inc., and the TSA produced the posters.

Local Rosary movement plans Capitol vigil Jan. 21

Catholics, from Mother Teresa of India and Michigan prelates to those in the Grosse Pointes, are trying to return the Rosary, "a time-honored dimension of prayer," to Catholic life.

Grosse Pointe Children's Theater director Sally Reynolds is founder of the movement, coinciding with one around the world to restore the prayer to Catholic life, which has been designated "Mother of Mary" (MOM). Ann Gnaster is co-director and Rev. Thomas McGowan of St. Augustine church is spiritual director.

Fifty thousand key signatures, representing more than a million participants from every American state, will be presented in petition form during a national all-night vigil in the national Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C.

In addition to Mother Teresa's signature, those of Rev. Patrick Peyton, Fatima authority Rev. Messias Coelho of Portugal, bishops Thomas Gumbleton and Walter Schoenherr, and Monsignor Edward Hickey also appear on the petition.

A recent article in a national Catholic newspaper about the petition drew a flood of response to the Grosse Pointe headquarters of MOM at 1250 Grayton Road, according to Mrs. Reynolds.

"We are completely overwhelmed by the hundreds of letters and phone calls from throughout the nation," Mrs. Reynolds said. "We are looking forward to one of the most devout religious demonstrations ever in our nation's Capitol."

The vigil will begin at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 21 and continue through the night, culminating in a high Mass and "March for Life" scheduled the following day. In a "living rosary," delegates from the states will light a candle for the intention "that the dignity of womanhood, motherhood, marriage and family life be restored in God, and for a spiritual healing of our land."

A four-day bus pilgrimage to the capitol from Detroit is planned for Jan. 20-23, allowing time to our Catholic and historic shrines. A fee of $200, covering meals, bus fare and accommodations, is asked. Those interested in the pilgrimage may call Grace Cusumano, 881-1196, or Bertha Putt, 349-7824.

Those wishing to place their names on the Rosary petitions should call Mrs. Reynolds, 885-6219, or Mrs. Gnaster, 527-4968, or write MOM National Rosary, 1250 Grayton Road, Grosse Pointe, Mich. 48230.

CRC elects 1982 leaders

The Concerned Republican Committee held its annual meeting Tuesday, Dec. 1 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Joan Woodhouse, CRC president, welcomed the membership and introduced guest speaker, State Rep. William R. Bryant, Jr., House Minority Leader.

Speaking on the state of Michigan's economy and the Governor's recovery plan, Bryant said, "Michigan is on the edge of what could be a deep and lasting depression ... a time when 500,000 are unemployed and demands for social services are going up while revenues are going down."

Bryant said he felt that revision of the Workman's Compensation and Unemployment Insurance package were two of the most important pieces of the Governor's plan and deserved the most attention. He encouraged the public to become involved by communicating their feelings to their legislators.

Following Bryant's speech, election of officers and the 1982-83 CRC Nominating Committee was held. Elected to retain their positions as officers were Mrs. Woodhouse, president; Barbara Gattorn, first vice-president; James Perry, second vice-president; John Weiss, secretary and Priscilla Brown, treasurer.

Elected to serve a two-year term on the 1982-83 Nominating Committee were John Danaher, Yvonne Holz, Rosemary Look, Leonard MacEachern, Neil Massong and Margaret Nickell.

Mrs. Woodhouse also announced the appointment of Rosemary Look as CRC Membership Chairman and congratulated CRC members Jean Rice, Grosse Pointe Woods councilwoman, Mark Valente, Park councilman and Jim Haley, Harper Woods mayor, on their recent election victories. Mrs. Woodhouse also congratulated Mrs. Gattorn, Wayne County charter commissioner, on her hard work and asked Mrs. Gattorn to give a review of the charter as passed by the electorate.

Mrs. Woodhouse said the CRC is encouraged by the community's continued interest in its efforts and is working on plans for programs of educational value and ones which will stimulate participation in the legislative process.

Woods home robbed while owner away

A home on Blairmoor in the Woods was broken into Friday, Dec. 11 while the owner was away attending the funeral of her husband.

Police were called to the scene by a next door neighbor who said the rear door of the house was open. Police checked the house and found the front door had been forced open and the inside door jamb was broken.

Reports indicate the entire house had been searched. A television set was missing from the family room, and jewelry was missing from the bedrooms, but a complete list of losses had not been compiled.

The next door neighbor told police he had walked around the house the night before, and all seemed in order. Later the night, he looked across the street, and saw nothing unusual.

At 6:30 the morning of the report, the neighbor noticed the yard gate was open, but had been closed the night before. Later that morning he walked around the house for a closer look, noticed the rear sliding door wall open and the owner's TV missing, and called police.

Police, while searching the scene, found a clock radio on the kitchen floor which was unplugged and stopped at 7:32.

Several pieces of silverware were removed from a wall hutch in the dining area. A secretary and a chest of drawers in the living room was also rifled.

Although final loss reports have not been filed in either case, police say jewelry was missing from both homes.

Save on holiday travel expenses

The Michigan Association of CPAs advises whether you are vacationing or visiting friends and relatives this holiday season, there are steps you can take to make your travel more economical and enjoyable. This includes planning your trip carefully and researching costs before you complete your plans.

These are the busiest times of the year for domestic flights and reservations are made as early as July. If you have thought this far in advance you may have set up a budget for the trip, which would allow for transportation, accommodations, meals, tips and sightseeing costs.

When making reservations, ask different airlines about their discount fares. Since discount fares are sometimes cancelled during peak travel times, be specific about available dates. Some discount airfares, such as Supersavers, are offered on a limited basis and even then need advance payments. These fares are unavailable at the last minute.

Competition has generated lower fares that are usually offered for short periods of a month or two. If one airline advertises low fares, others are apt to respond with competitive prices, even if they do not advertise them. Most discount fares apply to heavily trafficked routes where competition is fiercest, such as coast to coast or to key vacation areas.

If you travel on a route where discount fares are not available, contact a travel agent to see if you can lower your cost of travelling by making a connection where such fares are available. For example, if rates are lower from Houston to your destination, but Dallas is a more conveniently located airport, see how much a commuter flight between Dallas and Houston costs, the CPAs say.

In addition, if you book flights in advance and pay full fare, then discover that the airline has since lowered the cost, exchange your ticket. If the airline balks, cancel your reservation and make a new one at the lower rate. Likewise, it is good to pay for any reservation as soon as possible to avoid fare hikes.

On shorter trips, look into alternate means of transportation such as buses, trains and car rental outlets. Take into consideration the time and money involved in travelling to the airport or station. Sometimes, the time you save going to the train station balances out the extra time taken by travelling on the train.

If you're travelling to an area that is difficult to reach, consider taking mass transportation to a nearby city and then renting a car for the remainder of the trip. For long time periods, this may be more costly, but for weekend visits the rental may be less than the extra fare. Car rental agencies frequently offer special weekend rates or lower rates by the week.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. Paul Evangelical Church in the Farms.

Entombment will be in Gethsemane Cemetery.

Mrs. Florence M. Sutherland

Services for Mrs. Sutherland, 83, of Lincoln Road in the City, were held Friday, Dec. 11, at Verheyden Funeral Home.

She died Tuesday, Dec. 8, at Moroun Nursing Home.

A native Detroit, Mrs. Sutherland is survived by two brothers. Tributes may be made to Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

Cremation was at Forest Lawn.

George A. Netschke

Services for Mr. Netschke, 71, of Harcourt Road in the Park, were held Monday, Dec. 14, at Old St. Mary Church and Verheyden Funeral Home.

He died Thursday, Dec. 10, at Cottage Hospital.

A native Detroit, Mr. Netschke was in the hotel management business in Detroit for more than 30 years, including the Book Cadillac, Webster and Whittier. He was past president of Hotel Greeters of America, Father's Club at Mercy College and University of Detroit High School.

He was a Cottage Hospital volunteer and an usher at St. Mary Church.

Mr. Netschke is survived by his wife Viola, a son George A. III, four grandchildren and four sisters.

Tributes may be made to Cottage Hospital or St. Mary Church.

Interment was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Mrs. Bessie V. Koinis

Services for Mrs. Koinis, 67, of Beaconsfield Road, were held Tuesday, Dec. 15, at the Verheyden Funeral Home and Assumption Greek Orthodox Church.

She died Saturday, Dec. 12, in Bon Secours Hospital.

Born in Chicago, she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Sophia Stephenson, Mrs. Emily Fay and Mary; and two grandchildren.

Interment was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Celia J. Pelkey

Services for Mrs. Pelkey, 82, formerly of Grosse Pointe, late of Centerline, were held Tuesday, Dec. 15, at the Verheyden Funeral Home and St. Paul Church.

She died Saturday, Dec. 12, in the Father Murray Nursing Home, Centerline.

Born in Grosse Pointe, she is survived by three sons, Robert, Timothy and Thomas; three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Jones, Mrs. Henry Meurer, Mrs. Raymond Indreica and 12 grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the St. Joseph Home, 4800 Cadieux, Detroit.

Three generations of Mazer family musicians joined Grosse Pointe Children's Theater director Sally Reynolds (left) in production of "Cheaper by the Dozen." Julie Mazer Schmidt holds her own Kenny, Jr., who will play the role of the youngest member of the Gilbreth clan in the play, while grandmother Mrs. John Mazer, music director, looks on. The three-act musical will play at the War Memorial on Jan. 7, 9 and 10.

Kids present holiday musical

The Grosse Pointe Children's Theater will present "Cheaper by the Dozen" Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 7, 9 and 10, in the Fries Auditorium at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Performances are scheduled Thursday at 7 p.m., Saturday at 2 and 7 p.m., and Sunday at 2 p.m.

The three-act musical is based on the story of the Gilbreth family of 12 children.

Tickets, called "great stocking stuffers for children of all ages" by the Theater, are priced at $2, but are cheaper by the dozen, at $1.75 each. Theater parties for children, senior citizen groups, classes or teams are available by calling 886-6152.

Anyone wishing to be an angel to the theater can make a tax-deductible purchase of a block of tickets which will be distributed to children at Sarah Fisher Home and other charitable organizations.

A Philippine Christmas at Calvary Center

The Philippine community in Michigan will hold its fourth annual Christmas party on Saturday, Dec. 19, at Calvary Senior Center, 4950 Gateshead at Mack. The party will be hosted by 14 different community clubs.

At 2:30 p.m. there will be a children's Christmas party with games, presents, and a visit from Santa.

At 3 p.m. the Philippine American Community Center (PACC) will begin a licensed Millionaires party that will culminate later in the evening in a drawing for prizes.

At 7 p.m. there will be a community potluck dinner. Guests should bring food to share with others. At 9:30 p.m. there will be a disco dance.

Further information can be obtained by calling Rev. Fred Baliad, president of the 2,000 member Samahang Pilipino ng Michigan at 661-0198.

Woods bakery loses dough

Woods police are investigating the robbery of a Woods bakery Monday, Dec. 7 in which entry may have been gained by using a store key taken about six weeks before the robbery.

Police were called to Josef's Bakery, 21150 Mack about 9 that morning by the owner of the store, who told police his store had been broken into sometime between closing time the night before and opening that morning.

Police reports indicate some unknown person used a key or otherwise picked the front door lock of the store, and then used a store screwdriver to pry open the top drawer of a four-drawer filing cabinet where the cash register tills were stored.

Taken was $537, about $500 of that in bills which were taken from cash bags and the tills. Other drawers in the cabinet were untouched.

The owner told police the key had been missing for about six weeks, and Sunday night was the only time there were no employees in the store.

Rare wheels stolen on Kercheval

Four chrome wire wheel covers valued at $1,860 were reported stolen from Specialty Motor Sales and Service on Kercheval Avenue in the Park Thursday, Dec. 10.

According to police, the wheels are specially made to fit a 1967 Ferrari. There are only 10 cars in the country that could use the wheels, they said.

Police said the wheels were locked in the trunk of a 1981 Saab on the showroom floor. The headrests were apparently removed from the rear seat of the Saab and it was pulled down to gain access to the trunk, police said.

There were no signs of forced entry into the building, according to reports.

Yule church services televised

During Christmas week, the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Association will sponsor several Christmas television programs on Grosse Pointe Cable Television's channel 28.

On Monday night, Dec. 21, at 8 p.m., the annual "Christmas Music Worship Service" of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will be featured. The hour-long service will include the church's Chancel Choir and Handbell Choir in such beautiful Christmas music as "Puer Natus," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Te Deum" and "Lo, the Messiah."

Flutist Martha Donaldson will join organist Helen McConachie for "A Little Shepherd Music," and Woods Church's pastor Robert Linthicum will preach on the theme, "God's Christmas Gift." The Chancel Choir will be conducted by Richard Johns and the Handbell Choir by Russell Reed.

The Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church is located at 19950 Mack Avenue.

On Wednesday night, Dec. 23, a Christmas worship service will be televised from the First Christian Reformed Church of Grosse Pointe. This service, also seen on channel 28 at 8 p.m., will feature the Rev. Mr. Douglas Warners preaching on the theme, "The Forerunner of Christ." Their choir will present the selections "Torches" and the popular "Coventry Carol." A particularly touching part of the service will be the ceremony surrounding the lighting of the Advent candles. First Christian Reformed Church is located at 1444 Maryland in Grosse Pointe Park.

Store makes state shine

Jacobson Stores, Inc. will represent Michigan by creating 75 Christmas ornaments which will decorate the state tree at the National Pageant of Peace in Washington, D.C. beginning today, Dec. 17, with the lighting of the National Christmas Tree.

The theme of this year's pageant is "Gifts" and for the first time trees will be symbolically decorated with ornaments that depict and reinforce the heritage and identity of the states, jurisdictions and the District of Columbia.

Ornament themes run from each area's flower, bird, tree, flag, emblem, and seal to historic sights, parks, buildings and prime industries. Different materials such as blown glass, hand carved wood, cornhusks, sewn fabrics and colored bread dough will be used to make the ornaments.

Traditionally, the President of the United States officially lights the National Christmas Tree, a living 30-foot Colorado blue spruce, and President Reagan and his family have been invited to participate.

Dodge them if you can

Do the ever-increasing potholes in streets and highways annoy you? They should; they're expensive, to the tune of $5.6 billion in added repair costs to motorists annually.

Carry a winter kit for survival

Preparing for a winter emergency and knowing how to react when stranded could be a lifesaver, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan. "Motorists should keep some basic items in their car's trunk to help them cope if their vehicle breaks down or gets stuck this winter," said Robert Tellier, Auto Club's Emergency Road Service manager.

"Stay home if the weather report is bad, but if you must travel let others know your itinerary and route," said Tellier. It is also important to keep the fuel tank full so the car's engine can run longer and to give the vehicle more traction in snow.

For warmth in a winter emergency, Auto Club suggests a blanket or sleeping bag, a coffee can with candle and matches for a makeshift furnace and newspapers for insulation between the skin and clothing.

A flashlight, bright cloth, flares and reflectors can be used to signal for help. For digging out of snow or ice, boots, portable shovel, an ice scraper and brush are valuable aids. Cat litter or sand, carpet strips and tire chains can be used to increase traction. Other items include jumper cables, a first aid kit, nonperishable food and tools such as pliers, screwdriver and adjustable wrench.

"These may seem like a lot of items, but they all serve an important purpose, and if packed properly, can be stored in a normal-sized box," said Tellier. The approximate cost of the items is $75.

Auto Club reminds stranded motorists to stay with their vehicles because it increases their chances of rescue and provides good shelter. Clear the snow from around the radiator and exhaust pipe to guard against an overheated engine and carbon monoxide.

Tie a bright cloth to the antenna or hang it from a window. Run the engine long enough to remove the chill and keep a window cracked away from the wind for fresh air. Never sleep with the engine running.

Ration food and drink, but avoid alcoholic beverages because they tend to lower the body temperature. Don't over-exert yourself by trying to push your vehicle out of the snow. Save your energy.

Persons with citizen's band radios can call for help by using Channel 9 and asking for the local REACT team.

Save-a-life Sunday

When you're making up your holiday gift list, don't forget to include a gift of life — a donation of your blood is a gift of life to someone who needs it.

For the eight consecutive year, the American Red Cross Services Southeastern Michigan Region will sponsor Save-A-Life Sundays. This year, the special two day blood collection will be held on Dec. 27 and Jan. 3.

All 10 regional blood centers will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on both days. Donor centers are located in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Wash-tenaw and St. Clair counties. In Grosse Pointe call 833-4440.

The Save-A-Life Day program began in 1974 as a means of averting a blood shortage during the holiday season when collections are down. Many businesses, industries and schools which supply much of the community's blood supply are closed during the holiday season. But the need for blood continues.

Giving blood is easy, relatively painless and takes less than an hour. Donors say they feel good about themselves after making a blood donation.

Blood can be donated by anyone in good general health between the ages of 17 through 65 years old. Parental consent is necessary for 17-year-olds to donate. A donation of blood includes a free mini-physical including iron blood count.

Among the Pointe residents on hand at the first meeting of Congressman Dennis Hertel's Academy Nomination Committee are left to right, Committee Chairperson Dr. Joseph Posch, Jr., Hertel, and Chairperson of the Army Subcommittee Joan Woodhouse. After reviewing the qualifications and interviewing this year's 14th District military academy applicants, the committee will recommend one principle and nine alternate nominees for each of the nation's three military academies.

Hertel forms committee

In an effort to provide more comprehensive and objective appraisal of the ever-increasing number of applicants to the U.S. military academies, Congressman Dennis Hertel recently established a special Academy Nomination Committee to oversee the 1982 appointment process in the 14th Congressional District.

Among the Pointers who have agreed to serve on Hertel's committee are: Dr. Joseph Posch Jr., chairman of the committee's executive board; Joan Woodhouse, vice chairman of the executive board and chairperson of the Army subcommittee; Karla Fink, serving as secretary; Doris Cook, a Grosse Pointe teacher and former president of the Grosse Pointe Education Association; Marge Dupuy, Marlene Hudson, Joanne Leonard and Alice Fine.

In addition, City Mayor David Robb, and a former executive director of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce are members.

The committee, which held its first organizational meeting in late November, is made up of 100 nonpartisan representatives from business, labor, neighborhood groups, service groups and the community.

Meeting in three major sessions, the committee will review the qualifications and interview each of the 36 applicants seeking admittance to the academies. With interviews of the young men and women slated for early December, it is expected that the Academy Nomination Committee will make its selection of one principle and nine alternate nominees for each academy by early 1982.

In all, the committee will recommend individual nominees for acceptance to the U.S. Naval Academy (Annapolis), the U.S. Military Academy (West Point) and the U.S. Air Force Academy.

"In these days of rising educational costs and increasing emphasis on our nation's need for well-trained military personnel," Hertel said, "I have sought to incorporate the combined judgment of area citizens from all walks of life in making my recommendations for this year's appointments to our military academies."

By Marian Trainor

What can be said about Christmas that has not already been said? Poets and preachers, essayists and editorial writers, song writers and composers of hymns have expressed in beautiful prose and music the thoughts that fill the hearts of all of us in this season like no other.

Yet each of us has thoughts and feelings that are ours alone. Each of us reacts in our own way to the bright, twinkling lights, to the holly and greens, and to the beautifully arranged wreaths that deck the streets, the stores and our places of work. Every person is stirred differently by the sonorous renditions of Silent Night and other traditional hymns of the season.

We differ in our preparations for Christmas. There are some who take great pleasure in wandering through stores, selecting gifts and wrapping them artistically in carefully chosen tinsel and bows. There are others for whom this is a chore but who do it anyway as an expression of love.

Going out to the country to choose and cut down a Christmas tree is a tradition in some families. They relish plowing through the snow-filled tree farms to choose a tree they are sure will last longer and be more fragrant than one bought on the corner lot. Other families are happy just patiently piecing together the plastic branches of a facsimile because they can't abide the after-Christmas chore of cleaning up needles.

When it comes to decorating trees, folks really become individuals. There are those who decorate in all white ornaments. Others prefer blue. Some families have bulbs and lights of various hues which they have saved and added to throughout the years, and there are those who decorate in handmade velvet bows or tiny toys.

Yes, Christmas is universal but it is also very personal, particularly when it comes to memories of Christmas past for it is in the recollections of family and friends who have shared the joys of Christmas with us in other years that the season becomes our own.

No one but ourselves can share the memories of years when we celebrated Christmas as a child with our parents, our first married Christmas, Christmas with our first child and the other children who came later and the years when those children returned home as adults with their families. Memories of Christmas past are forever a part of Christmas present.

We are particularly exposed and vulnerable to those memories in this season when all frets and grievances are submerged and we become one in spirit with the joy that permeates the air. A card with a special message can bring into total recall happy times shared. A family letter, a Christmas carol that someone we knew loved to hear, a gift from someone who remembers us on this special day can bring into focus the treasured happenings that made Christmas so special.

THERE'S SOMETHING warming and wonderful in Christmas memories even if some of the dear ones who made Christmas so special are no longer with us. They can still be with us in recollection to add to the perfect joy of Christmas. And because they are still with us in memory we embrace this blessed time with hearts truly grateful for what once was and still is.

For many of us when we recall Christmas celebrations of other years, the ones that we remember with deepest gratitude are those when our children were all with us. Christmas is a child-centered holiday. Children, untouched by the wear and tear of life, are most representative of what Christmas should be. Their laughter, their wonder, their eager anticipation are what makes the day so special.

And even among those precious years when the happy voices of children made Christmas such a joy, there are some that haunt the memory like Marley's ghost.

One such Christmas stands out in my mind. It was not a happy time in the world for there was a war going on. There were shortages, and there was fear for those who had left their home to fight that war.

But on this one day, those worries were shut out. We were a young family. We were together and our whole world was, for that short time, centered within our home. There was a tree, fragrant and green, adorned with sparkling lights that cast off the glow of brightly-hued ornaments; there were presents chosen from a list dictated by a four-year-old too young to write and a list carefully printed by a five-year-old and still another proudly written in shaky but still legible first attempts at cursive writing. Gifts for our year-old baby girl were chosen for her.

As with most families, the idyllic scene of Christmas perfection had not been arrived at easily.

Toys were scarce that year when production for the war effort was a first priority. After considerable searching, not to mention denting the Christmas budget, an electric train was found. There were dolls and a doll carriage and stockings hung by the chimney with care. There were games and puzzles and trucks made of wood.

There was snow on the windowsills that glittered under the still lit street lights in those early hours when eager children would not stay in bed a minute longer. At the sound of their insistent voices, we dragged ourselves out of our bed where we had rested for a whole three hours to lead them to their own fairyland. Josie, the baby was not yet walking. We carried her down the stairs and set her on the rug. The lights of the tree were turned on and, the children began to tear open the packages Santa had left for them. It was a happy time watching their faces light up with each gift. Before long the room was buried in tissue and ribbons.

We turned on the radio for some Christmas music to complete the mood. A song I was never to forget came over the airways — "I'll be Home For Christmas But Only in My Dreams." I thought of the mothers whose sons were away at war, and I felt badly for them. But my thoughts were broken by excited voices exclaiming, "Look Josie's walking!" It was on that Christmas day, that she took her first step. In the background the song was still playing.

THERE WERE many other memorable Christmases that followed. Our family grew until there were twelve of us: mother, father, seven sons, three daughters. You can imagine what glorious Christmases we celebrated together.

But the world will not be shut out nor will time stand still. Children grow to have homes and families of their own and Christmas is, as it should be, a special time for them alone.

I am grateful for those still at home who make Christmas a wonderful holiday. I am happy that those who can come home and bring with them the best Christmas gift of all and that is having them gather together around a tree decorated with the same ornaments they chose as children. Those who can't come, visit by telephone and talking with them across the miles, reunites us in a special way.

But there are three who cannot be with us—a beloved father and husband who so loved Christmas: a son whose gentle nature added a special touch to the Christmas times we spent together and Josie, the little girl who took her first step that Christmas day and who never lived to grow up.

Missing but not gone. Along with those who are still at home and those who visit and those who call, they, too, will be home for Christmas, not in dreams but in cherished memory.

Con men coming for Christmas

With the Christmas season upon us, children — even moms and dads — are preparing their traditional Christmas lists. After all, it is the time of giving. Con men are also preparing some special holiday lists because for them it is the time for taking.

Thus, with the advent of the Christmas season, flim flam artists attempt to convince people they are Santa's helpers in disguise in order to pull off some yuletide con games and Christmas capers. Santa always comes with a bag of toys and goodies — these imposters are out and about with a bag of tricks and you know who's left holding the bag — you! However, unlike the Grinch who stole Christmas, their aim is not only to remove the joy from your heart, but also the "jingle" from your pocket.

While most of the populace is concerned about good will and "peace on earth," this segment of society concerns themselves with taking a "piece of the action." So even in this joyous season, it is always prudent to examine carefully anything that sounds like a good deal and remember it's not a deal if:

- The seller insists on cash — Use credit cards and checks since both provide you with a receipt and, unlike cash, can be replaced if lost.
- The merchandise is sold out of the back of a truck, out of the trunk of a car, or between cars in a parking lot — Transitory operations such as these obviously do not have complaint departments.
- The so-called salesman tries to convince you that he has "hot" merchandise to sell at below cost. — Usually, the merchandise is watches, jewelry, or perfume. In the latter case, you may discover the perfume has a "fowl odor" when you get home and the whole transaction will leave you with a bad taste in your mouth and an empty wallet besides.

• Someone comes up to you on the street and explains that he or she has just found a substantial sum of money and you are to share in this "find". — It more than likely is an attempt to set you up for the classic pigeon drop flim flam. Advice: Depart quickly and report the incident to police. Whatever you do, don't let anyone convince you that you can share some of the money by investing some of your own!

• The advertisement states "Fifty Percent Off Manufacturer's Suggested Price" and other merchants normally sell the product for this lower price every day — Don't be misled by these gimmicks. Survey some businesses in your area and then decide what the going price for the product is. Children with limited budgets and the urge to give an expensive present often fall victim to the phony pricing ruse.

• An item is on sale and you don't need the item — Ads stating, "Snowblowers — Last Chance At This Price Closeout" are meaningless if you already have three snowblowers. Don't be an impulsive buyer. Before making a decision on a major purchase, get a good night's sleep.

It's a "Bah, humbug" deal if:

- You receipt for a package for yourself or neighbor and pay $15 cash only to discover neither was it ordered nor wanted.
- You do not save your credit card receipts to compare them with the monthly statement. Some unscrupulous salesperson may raise the amount of your purchase after you have left the store.

• You leave your Christmas presents in your car. Thieves like to window shop in cars parked at shopping centers. Place these presents in the trunk of your car or move the car to another location. The inconvenience of moving the car is small compared to the inconvenience of having your Christmas ruined by a slick thief.

• On Christmas day you discard the microwave oven carton or the portable TV crate on your front porch. It is a sure giveaway to burglars which family has the best merchandise worth stealing.

• You order a gift via mail and the manufacturer's claims of pre-Christmas delivery are not realized. If you order by mail, only do so with reputable firms.

• You drop a goodly sum of money into a kettle tendered by a con artist. Reputable charities solicit with employees who carry an identification card. Ask to see it.

Remember in business there is no Santa Claus. Merchants do not give away their merchandise. Legitimate merchants offer their products at a fair price — their purpose is to give you value for value received — you can't expect to receive more.

So during this season, follow some advice:

- Use common sense — if it sounds too good to be true, it's probably a ruse.
- Don't be an impulsive buyer.
- Be cautious in shopping centers and on the street — Santa watches the good boys and girls but con men watch for victims.
- Be on your guard, otherwise you may end up gift-rapped.

Widowed group meets Dec. 20

Widowed Persons Service of Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods will meet on Sunday, Dec. 20 at 3 p.m. in the lounge of the Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack.

The group especially invites newly widowed persons to come and share their feelings and concerns with others who have had a similar loss. Plan and share the holiday season together.

Road-Building

After the bombing of Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941, the United States assigned 10,000 soldiers to build a 1,500-mile highway from Dawson Creek, B.C., to Fairbanks for the transportation of sorely needed military supplies to defend Alaska against the Japanese. Some civilian engineers laughed when they learned the road was to be completed within a year. More like a five- or six-year project, they said. The dedicated soldiers did the job in slightly over six months. Then, within another year, a force of 14,000 civilian workers upgraded the trail to an all-weather gravel road with steel bridges. Later, paved stretches were added. Eventually, the entire length will be straightened and hard-surfaced.

She's still high on Up With People

Jan Sturges was a 22-year old Denison University senior when she saw her first Up With People show almost 10 years ago.

"You know what it was like then, in the late 1970s, on college campuses," she explained. "It was the Kent State Era. We were all very idealistic, we wanted to help, but somehow things were getting twisted around, in a negative sense."

Jan was idealistic, but the negativity of the student movement turned her off. She was looking for a more constructive approach to the world around her. At the Up With People show she found it.

"When I saw that show I saw a positive group and a real opportunity to go out into the world and do something worthwhile," she said. With her Denison music degree in hand, Jan joined the Up With People cast, traveling around the world, for the first four years until, in 1975, she joined the UWP permanent staff.

Jan is still working with the group, and is in her hometown this week making arrangements for the more than 400 UWP cast members who will be coming to town for performances, workshops in local schools and a Superbowl concert date.

The 1967 University Liggett School graduate, who's staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Sturges on Shorecrest Circle, is now alumni director for UWP.

She now lives in Tucson, Ariz., UWP international headquarters, and edits the 100,000 circulation UWP News, in addition to keeping track of the group's 6,500 alumni in 45 countries.

She's as enthusiastic about the group now as she was as an idealistic 22-year-old.

"It's a wonderful thing for young people who are interested in the world around them and have curiosity about people," she says. "We have five international casts of 100 people. They literally travel all over the world, presenting shows, conducting workshops, meeting people and listening to their points of view."

When a group comes to town, cast members usually stay with host families, one of the "best features" of the program, according to Jan. Locally, Lakeshore Optimists are sponsoring the program and we are still looking for hosts in the Pointe. Call 884-2200, 882-5330, or 884-1176 for information. The cast will be in town from Jan. 3 until Jan. 23.

UWP also will be recruiting while they're in town. Tuition is $5,300 a year, but there is a scholarship program, according to Jan.

"We're always looking for young people between 19 and 26 who are motivated and want to learn. Many of our cast members are high school or college graduates who come with us and then decide what they want to do." The cast travels extensively but the work is "interesting, not grueling."

"I've watched so many young people come with us and develop such poise, and assurance in a year. It's a great experience."

Interested people can call Mike Knowles, 556-2394, for information about joining.

In addition, the group will recruit after its performance in Grosse Pointe, scheduled for Friday, Jan. 8, at 8 p.m. at South High. The program will be a two-hour, family oriented musical production featuring original compositions, hit tunes and a collection of folk songs and dances from around the world.

Tickets, at $7 for adults, $5 students and seniors, are available at the Bookshelf, Village Record and Tapes, Chesney-Leonard Insurance Agency, Lochmoor Chrysler Plymouth and Mike Maher Chevrolet.

Up With People was founded in 1968 by J. Blanton Belk to build bridges of understanding among peoples, cultures and countries, and to give young people a learning experience that broadens the intellect and matures the person. Its "experiential" education program has been recently expanded by a $378,000 grant from the Kresge Foundation.

St. Clair Shores adult ed. classes begin in January

Registration for St. Clair Shores Adult Education 1982 Winter Term will take place from 4 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 4, 5, 6 and 7 at South Lake, Lakeview and Lake Shore High Schools.

The 1982 winter term includes classes in the areas of Business, Vocational, Consumer and Homemaking Education, Drama, Language, Music, Arts & Crafts, as well as a wide selection of courses in general and community oriented education. In addition, classes in Adult Basic Education and High School Completion will be offered.

Classes will begin the week of Jan. 11. For additional information call 294-8300.

Register now for pre-school nursery

St. Clair Shores Pre-School Nursery is now registering three- and four-year-olds for the Winter 1982 term. The youngsters participate in a program where they have the opportunity to learn, play, and work with peer-age children in a professionally supervised setting.

The Winter term begins the week of Feb. 1, and runs for 14 weeks. Three-year-olds attend on Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 to 11 a.m. Four-year-olds attend from 9 to 11 a.m. or 1 to 3 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Tuition is $120 for the 14 week term. The limited enrollment is on a first come, first serve basis. The school is located at 20000 Avalon.

Police, firemen agree on contracts

Grosse Pointe Park's police officers reached a tentative settlement with the city on a new two-year contract after a session with a state mediator Tuesday, Dec. 8.

The city and its firemen also have reached a tentative settlement. Both new contracts will be presented to the council at a closed meeting on Thursday, Dec. 17, according to city manager John Crawford.

Neither side would discuss details of the agreements until after the council has reviewed them.

Fire, police and public safety officers in three other Grosse Pointe communities are still negotiating, with no other tentative settlements reported so far. Contracts in the Farms, City and Woods as well as the Park expired June 30, but workers have remained on the job.

The Shores is the only Pointe community to have current employment contracts with all city workers.

Clothing store locks doors

Representatives of Hughes & Hatcher Inc., recently confirmed the indefinite closing of the Farms branch of Hughes & Hatcher, located at 18920 Mack Avenue.

The store, which officially locked its doors Monday, Nov. 30, is one of five Hughes & Hatcher stores closed recently in the Detroit area.

Del Bright, vice-president of advertising and promotion at the firm, said the move was economically timed to increase overall profitability.

"We have not been quiet in our efforts to make Hughes & Hatcher a leaner and more efficient corporation," said Ms. Bright. "That was one of the chief intentions of Gerald Donnelly, chairman of the company, when he took control earlier in the year."

The closing of the Mack Avenue store leaves 23 Hughes & Hatcher clothing stores in Michigan, with others located in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

The Friends Film Forum Christmas special will feature Frank Capra's "It's A Wonderful Life," Thursday, Dec. 17, at 7:30 p.m.

The comedy-drama stars James Stewart, Donna Reed, Henry Travers, Beulah Bondi, Ward Bond and Lionel Barrymore. On Christmas Eve, a man is prevented from committing suicide by an awkward, elderly angel, who takes him back in time in an effort to show him what good he has done and how important it is that he stay alive.

Ferry singers have concert

Ferry Elementary School presented its annual Christmas concert last night Wednesday, Dec. 16, with grades kindergarten through sixth participating under the direction of Judith Bailey, Nathan Judson and Barry Seates. Carolyn Zysk's kindergarteners, accompanied by pianists Beverly Bedell and Sandra Joh, sang "Santa Claus," "Christmas is Coming," and "Me and My Teddy Bear." The first and second graders sang "Little Drummer Boy," while the third graders performed a Hawaiian rendition of "The 12 Days of Christmas."

All three grades combined their efforts in singing "We Wish You A Merry Christmas."

Peter LaSala's third, fourth, and fifth graders performed several instrumentals featuring maracas shaken by Kris Treflezer and Beth Carson, claves played by Julie Mertz and Tina Theodorou, congo-drums beaten by Jimmy Kim, cymbals crashed by Kristine Peterson and Gina Villani, and sleigh bells rung by Leslie Sea gram.

The 72-member Ferry Choir sang traditional Christmas carols, including the Wassail song, after which a toast was offered by Hassan Azar, Ben Black and Chris Roney.

Star of the Sea slates concert

What do the fourth graders at Our Lady Star of the Sea elementary school have in common with Perry Como? Answer: Two holiday songs, "Christmas" and "O Bambino," which Como made popular. The fourth graders will be singing the Como renditions this evening, Dec. 17, at Stars' annual Christmas Concert.

Stars' primary music teacher, Sr. Rosemary Zuccaro, O.P., taped the children singing the songs during rehearsal and mailed the tapes to Como to share with him the children's versions of his hit tunes.

There is no admission for the concert, which begins at 7:30 p.m. in Stars' gym.

The concert will include secular and sacred musical selections as well as dances, skits and dramatic readings. Eighth graders will also portray the Nativity scene while leading the audience in a sing-along of Christmas carols.

ULS debaters move to finals

Forceful debates last week by University Liggett School novice debaters during preliminary competition at the University of Michigan clinched a spot for state final competition on Dec. 19 at Central Michigan University.

ULS debaters Harold Colby, Jeff Sweet, Jack Hunter, Marc Lie, John Rim, Bill McFeely and Norman Issa will represent the school for the championship.

Consider real cost, CPA's say

How much does a two-dollar magazine really cost? The price may be on the magazine cover, but the real cost, measured in terms of purchasing power, varies according to your tax bracket.

If you are married and your joint taxable income—that's what you pay tax on after deductions and exemptions—is between $20,000 and $24,000, you fall in the 28 percent tax bracket and you pay $2.78 in pre-tax income for a $2 publication.

The difference lies in the amount of spendable income left to you after meeting tax obligations. The higher the tax bracket, the more you must earn to have $2 available to spend. Viewed in these terms, taxes become a significant factor in every financial decision.

One can figure out the impact of taxes on purchasing power, once the taxable income is calculated. To do this, the cost of the item you want to purchase must be divided by one minus your tax bracket. For instance, if you want to buy a $20 ticket to a concert and your taxable income is in the 43 percent marginal tax bracket, you should divide 20 by one minus 43. This equals 20 divided by .57 and that comes to $39.09, so that's what you need to earn before spending the $20.

The difference between just getting by or becoming rich can be attributed to the financial wisdom exercised. For example, one can earn $80,000 a year, but wind up with no capital, while others with the same income grow wealthy. If you are among those few who are in the 50 percent tax bracket, a $12,000 automobile would cost you $24,000 of income. In five years, its value would be $2,000. If instead of buying a car you had purchased a tax shelter, investing the whole $24,000 with only a 10 percent return, that would grow to $38,640 over five years. There are two options — one leads to $2,000 and the other leads to $38,640, or about 19 times as much.

Tax planning should be a consideration in all of your spending. Not only do you need to calculate your purchasing power according to your tax bracket, but you should consider other ways to reduce your tax liability. For example, when buying durable goods, consider the future value of the item. Spending more initially may actually result in more value in the long run.

The easy credit of our former "buy now, pay later" society encouraged people to buy more things than they really needed. Quality, future value, or the tax implications were not considerations in the throw-away society.

The more carefully you plan discretionary spending, the more you will have for the future.

Park honors employees

The Park Council handed out awards for service to employees in the police, fire, water and public works departments at its Monday, Dec. 14 meeting, followed by a reception in the city hall.

Among those cited were: William G. Griesbeck, Building Inspector, 30 years service; Emil DuFour, Water Department Supervisor, 15 years; Robert Vandeputte, Maintenance III, 15 years; Camiel Gelhof, Maintenance I, 15 years.

In the Police Department awards went to: James LaPratt, Detective Sergeant, 25 years; Walter Paton, Sergeant, 20 years; William Furtaw, Sergeant, 20 years; Andrew Meeker, Patrolman, 15 years, and Robert Michael, Patrolman, 15 years.

Fire Department commendations went to: Lieutenant William Hunt, EMT; Lieutenant Lee Fallieres, EMT; Sergeant Anthony LaBonty, EMT; Sergeant Joseph Clarke, EMT; Firefighters Michael Clancy, EMT; Joseph Bialk, EMT; Michael Smith, EMT; Charles Henrich, EMT; John Viviano, EMT; Martin Buss, EMT, and William Hiner.

Police Letters of Commendation were given to citizens Alfred Mayer, Walter Schortmann, Edward Langs, Johannes Meingast, Mrs. Johannes Meingast and Mr. and Mrs. Albert McKay.

Police Letters of Commendation also went to Sergeant Furtaw, Patrolman Randall Cain, Howard Carl, Eugene Adamezyk, Robert Michael, Steven Johnson, Alan Pretly and Edward Serwach.

Commendation Certificates were awarded to Sergeant Furtaw, Sergeant Paton, Patrolmen Richard Warren, Timothy Mink, Steven Molitor, James Smith, Paul Konefke, David Hiller, Norman Gangola and Mark Maple.

Jewell Chorale concert Dec. 20

The Kenneth Jewell Chorale will present a family Christmas Choral Concert Sunday, Dec. 20, 8 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore Road with director Eric Freudigman.

Admission is $4 for adults, $1 for students and $2 for senior citizens (group of 10 or more). Sanctuary doors open at 7:30 p.m.

Memorial church director of music, William De Turk, will perform pre-ludial music "Carols on the Carillon" at 7:30 p.m.

Chorale will sing at AARP meeting

The Grosse Pointe Chapter No. 2151 of the American Association of Retired Persons will meet on Monday, Dec. 21 at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore Road.

During the meeting, the Grosse Pointe South High School Chorale, under the direction of Charles Gleason, will present "Christmas in Song." A social hour and card playing will follow the meeting.

City will consider zoning change

The Grosse Pointe City Council next week will consider changing the community's zoning ordinance to prevent future non-retail businesses from locating in the Village.

Actually the proposed amendment to the ordinance would prohibit service-oriented businesses such as real estate and insurance offices, travel agencies and medical offices from setting up shop on the ground floor or first floor of a building in the Central Business District section of the city.

The proposed amendment would not apply to the First Federal Savings of Detroit and National Bank of Detroit buildings, (not zoned central business) but would apply to future banks, savings and loans and other types of financial institutions on Kercheval Avenue.

According to City Manager Thomas Kressbach any of the above businesses could only occupy first floor space if special approval is given by the Planning Commission. Non-retail businesses may be permitted to occupy at the rear of a building, but only again if approval is granted by the Planning Commission, Kressbach said.

The city manager added there are currently only two non-conforming non-retail first floor occupants in the Village.

Village Association President Ed Hickey said the zoning change would be "a favorable move ... in maintaining the Village as a viable shopping district."

The council will meet to discuss the zoning issue at a public hearing, Dec. 21, 7:30 p.m. at municipal offices, 17147 Maumee.

$1,000 ring stolen in Woods

It was a clean job.

That's the way Woods detectives described the break in at a home on Hampton Road in the Woods about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 8.

The house wasn't ransacked. Only drawers in a desk and dresser in one of the bedrooms were rifled. The only item police say is missing is a diamond ring in a small white ring box valued by the owner at $1,000.

Police were called to the scene that night by the owner of the home, who told them that upon returning home, he had found it broken into. The owner searched the house before calling police.

Officers discovered that the thieves had broken a window pane out of a rear door, reached in, and unlocked the inside door. There was a broken window on the second floor, but reports indicate entry was through the rear of the home.

Business dinners can be deducted

When you invite your associates over for dinner or to a party you probably don't think of the evening as business. But if you are using your home to entertain business associates and prospective clients, you may be entitled to claim the money spent as a business expense.

Deductions for home entertainment follow the same standards for entertainment outside the home. Deduct expenses for entertainment directly related to business as well as any cost for business meals. Keep track of your expenditures for home entertainment when its purpose is to promote the good will of your business associates, says The Michigan Association of CPAs.

Although many employers reimburse employees for entertainment expenses, the costs for home entertainment are more often borne by the employee. For example, if you are expected to "court" certain clients on your own time to improve your relationship with them, you may have to absorb the cost yourself. If you own the company, or work freelance, entertaining at home might offer a more personal atmosphere to woo customers. Those expenses are deductible if they fulfill the requirements of entertaining for business purposes and you claim the tax benefits.

Mixing social acquaintances and business guests at a gathering is apt to provoke challenges from the IRS about the legitimacy of your claim. However, you should at least deduct the percentage of expenses allocated to business guests.

At a social gathering where business associates are invited as a matter of etiquette, such as a wedding reception or anniversary party, the costs are not deductible. You can protect your expense claim for home entertainment by providing a quiet atmosphere to discuss business, however, a larger party with music and dancing might be harder to justify.

Beverages and food costs qualify as deductions for home entertainment. Since a record of expenses must be kept, using stocks of food already in your house may complicate your bookkeeping. All items connected with entertaining, such as bartenders, servers, caterers and possibly the music are also deductible.

The United States had a lot of President in William Howard Taft. He weighed 352 pounds.

Shores man loses $1,200 T-roof

A Shores man had the $1,200 T-roof stolen from his 1979 Camaro last Friday, Dec. 11.

Shores public safety officers were called about 7:30 a.m. to the home on Lakeshore by the 19-year-old owner of the car, who showed police where robbers had smashed the driver and passenger side windows out of the car, and removed the roof.

The owner said he had parked his car in the drive the afternoon before, and also told police his parents, who had gone out the night before, had seen the roof intact about 1 a.m. Friday.

Police checked the area for people who may have seen or heard something but found nothing.

Police reports estimate it will cost $1,200 to replace the roof, and $220 to replace the two broken windows.

Stuck for a last minute Christmas gift idea? Consider "View from the Veranda: The History and Architecture of the Summer Cottages on Mackinac Island," 70 pages of fascinating photographs and facts compiled by Phil Porter. There is, after all, no one more qualified to report on Mackinac's "cottage" life than Phil. He's lived it, and loved it, ever since he spent his first summer on the island at his family's cottage.

Winters, he was home in The Pointe, on Hampton Road, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Porter, his brothers and sister. Came the first signs of spring, and the whole lot of them began looking forward to "This Summer on Mackinac."

Phil started working for the Mackinac Island State Park Commission in 1972, as a tour guide at Fort Mackinac. Two years later he picked up his Bachelor of Arts degree from Kenyon College. He's since added a Master of Arts from the Cooperstown Graduate Program of History Museum Studies to his degree collection.

Today's he's a permanent Mackinac Island resident. He was appointed curator of collections and interpretive staff supervisor at Fort Mackinac in 1976, and he's happy as a clam winter and summer on the dot of land in the middle of The Straits. So are both his brothers. Armin Porter is a carpenter and painter, and an Emergency Medical trainee on the island. Matthew Porter is president of his own company, Straits Construction, which specializes in renovating old homes and cottages.

Their sister remains a "southerner"—southern Michigan, that is. Julie Porter has become an accomplished potter. Her parents hosted a showing of her pottery, with wine and cheese, at their Hampton Road home last Sunday.

Christmas on The Island

Bill and Lornie Porter will be spending Christmas on Mackinac, with their three sons and daughter-in-law Valerie, Phil's wife, who'll be giving the family a very special post-Christmas present. Phil and Valerie's second child is due January 1. Their first, a son, William Nicholas (named after both his grandfathers) is two-and-a-half—and he's the fifth generation in the Porter family's Mackinac Island tradition.

Little Will's parents were married on the island in 1975. Valerie, originally from Cheboygan, was a Mackinac tour guide, too. That's how she and Phil met.

A glorious Creche for Christmas...

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Auxiliary has filled the rooms of Our Town's community center with special decorations, flowers, greens and festive ribbons, in honor of the holiday season, and in this setting, in the place of honor, is a glorious creche: a unique, 10-figure depiction of the Manger Scene. Two women—Mrs. Lawrence Cain, who built the detergent bottle dolls, and Mrs. Carl J. Kasza, who dressed them in period costumes and did hair and facial features—are responsible for the 21-inch high figures. The five-inch Baby Jesus is the gift of local doll maker Mrs. Mark Brown, who fashioned the porcelain figure especially for the creche. All three women are members of the Windmill Pointe Questers as well as the War Memorial Auxiliary. In the close-up of the creche above, note the sheep the shepherds are bringing, with flowers, as gifts to the Holy Child: the sheep, too are handmade. Completing the scene (not pictured), on pedestals on either side of the Manger are two angels, one in silver, one in gold, the feathers in their wings poised for flight.

A dozen dates for 'Nutcracker'

This year, in response to past sell-out performances, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra is offering 12 Jacob Laszlo-choreographed performances of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Ballet," with special guest dancers joining Dance Detroit, the resident ballet company of Marygrove College (Laszlo is its director and choreographer), and the DSO for these fully staged and costumed productions.

Conductor tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 18, Saturday, Dec. 19, and Sunday, Dec. 20, will be Kenneth Jean, the DSO's resident conductor. Special guest dancers are Merrill Ashley and Sean Lavery, of the New York City Ballet Company. Performances will be at 2 and 8:30 p.m., and will also feature the Cray School Singers of Detroit, Deborah Smith, director.

Murray Gross, DSO assistant conductor, will be on the podium for "Nutcracker" performances Tuesday, Dec. 22, at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 23, at 2 and 8:30 p.m., and Thursday, Dec. 24, at 11 a.m. with Lavery and Melinda Roy, of the New York City Ballet, as special guest dancers.

Special guest dancers Saturday, Dec. 26, at 2 and 8:30 p.m. will be Cynthia Harvey and Kevin McKenzie, of the American Ballet Theatre.

Featured in the Gross-conducted Dec. 22, 23, 24 and 26 performances will be the McKenny School Singers, Shirley Benyas, director. All performances are at Ford Auditorium. Information on tickets, ranging in price from $12 to $8 (half-price at all matinees for children under 12 and senior citizens), may be obtained by contacting the Ford Auditorium box office, 962-5524. VISA and MasterCard customers may order tickets by phone.

Saint Jude Singles meet each month

The Saint Jude Singles Club welcomes all single, Catholic adults, ages 25 to 50, at its meetings, held at 8 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at the Saint Jude Gym on East Seven Mile Road just west of Kelly Road. Further information may be obtained by calling 872-0049, 527-5910, 778-9279 or 546-1930.

Harper Auxiliary toasts 30 years

Harper Hospital Auxiliary members and their friends celebrated the auxiliary's 30th anniversary Sunday, Dec. 13, at an invitational, champagne brunch at the Roostertail. Pointers on the party committee included Mrs. Lyndle R. Martin, chairperson, Mrs. Dennis Lenahan, Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Clinton Scharif and Mrs. L. Murray Thomas.

All proceeds from the event, reports Mrs. Martin, will benefit Harper-Grace Hospital's Comprehensive Cancer Center of Metropolitan Detroit: one of only 20 such designated cancer centers in the country.

The Harper Auxiliary was formed in 1951 and has since had 18 presidents, several of them Pointers, many of whom were present for the brunch and all of whom were honored during the party. The Choraliers provided musical entertainment.

"The auxiliary has given the hospital gifts in recent years amounting to more than $300,000," noted Mrs. Donald F. Rue, the group's current president. "Monies have gone toward such items as a new telemetry monitoring system for heart patients, beautification of the plaza fronting the hospital entrance and expansion of the volunteer service department."

"The amount of auxiliary volunteer hours is worth much more than this," she added, "when volunteer time and fund raising efforts are included in the total."

School for the Deaf Christmas pageant

The annual Christmas pageant presented by the children of the Lutheran School for the Deaf, located on East Nevada in Detroit, will be staged this year on Wednesday, Dec. 23, at 1:30 p.m. at the school, and will be followed by a Christmas tea sponsored by the Lutheran Ladies Auxiliary for the Deaf. The public is welcome, at no charge, at both the pageant and tea.

Personalized SAT instruction offered

Personalized instruction for individuals who plan to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test college admissions exams in January, 1982, will be offered by the Oakland University Division of Continuing Education in a series of Saturday sessions, Jan. 9 and 16, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (with an hour off for lunch).

Tuition, including materials, is $65 per series. Registration information may be obtained by calling Oakland's Continuing Education Office, 377-3120. The next SAT test is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 23.

Science Center features films

The December series of films in the Detroit Science Center's demonstration theater focuses on energy and natural resources, with showings of "The Empty Ark" scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 19 and 20, and of "Hottest Show on Earth" scheduled for the following Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 26 and 27.

The films are free with regular admission to the Science Center, located on John R. behind the Detroit Institute of Arts, in the University/Cultural Center.

Day-after-Christmas treats at Cranbrook

As an after-Christmas treat, fiction lovers of all ages can enjoy Jules Verne's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" at Cranbrook Institute of Science Saturday, Dec. 26, at 2:45 and 3:45 p.m. The half-hour Walt Disney adaptation features Captain Nemo and the submarine Nautilus. Included is a harrowing battle against a giant squid and the breathtaking climax that shows how Nemo's atomic power plant is destroyed.

The classic film is included in museum admission of $2.50 for adults, $1.50 for students and senior citizens. Also included in museum admission that day are planetarium demonstrations entitled "Holiday Skies and the Christmas Star" at 2, 3, 4 and 7:30 p.m. and observatory demonstrations from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

Saturday museum hours are 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Further information may be obtained by calling 645-3210.

Cranbrook Institute of Science is the Detroit area's natural history museum, open daily except on major holidays. It is a division of Cranbrook Educational Community.

Love is Colony Town Club gift

Members of Colony Town Club work with love throughout the year, fashioning the special gifts they give each Christmas. Recipients of their warm lap robes and bed socks, pretty bed jackets and utility bags are patients at the Arnold Home, Luther Haven, the Evangelical Home and Saint Mary's Nursing Home, and Northeast Guidance Center clients.

Some of the handmade gifts are earmarked for the Cancer Loan Closet, which Colony Town Club established in 1947 and continues to support via proceeds from a variety of fund raising projects.

Their gift of love goes out all year long to their foster child in The Philippines, 10-year-old Rommel Panganiban. Rommel and his mother correspond regularly with the club and are very appreciative of the financial assistance given them. They report on Rommel's progress in school (he is a good student) and are proud of the fact that, though their income is limited, they save $6 cents each month.

The Colony Town Club also makes annual contributions to the Methodist Children's Guardian Angel Home, the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and has purchased a seat in Orchestra Hall to aid in the restoration of that acoustically perfect auditorium.

Motor City ABWA meets Wednesday

Members of Motor City Chapter of the American Business Women's Association gathered Wednesday, Dec. 16, at the University Club on East Jefferson Avenue for their monthly meeting.

Cocktails at 6 p.m. were followed, by dinner, served at 6:30, and a program featuring guest speaker Theresa Dixon, R.N., coordinator of Nursing at Northville State Hospital, and vocational speaker Emma Claypool.

A quarter century of memories . . .

GLADYS GIES (left), historian of the Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma international honorary fraternity for women in education, and VIRGINIA JOHNSTON, Alpha Mu's program chairman, look back through a quarter century of scrapbook memories at Alpha Mu's 25th anniversary celebration, held in mid-November at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House. Virginia was in charge of coordinating plans for the evening, which began with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. to background music by the Jack Brokensha Trio. Betty Durkin, mistress of ceremonies, presided at dinner. The invocation was given by Myra Koppin. Eva Koch, the chapter's current president, presented the honored guests, including Marie Grassa, DKG state president. Mary Jo Johnson introduced Julie Corbett who, with her husband, Dr. John Corbett, visited the People's Republic of China last summer, taking the pictures Julie featured in her slide presentation for Alpha Mu: "People at Work in China." The Alpha Mu Chapter was installed on Nov. 10, 1956. Of the 13 founding members, four—Gladys, Virginia, Maurine Allan and Mercedes Jacobs—are still active and were on hand for the anniversary festivities.

Cesarean Birth classes offered

Cesarean Birth Information, a division of Childbirth Information Service, Inc., will offer a series of five weekly classes, for couples preparing for the birth of their baby by cesarean section, starting Wednesday, Jan. 6, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at Bi-County Hospital.

The classes cover information, progressive relaxation and other exercises for the mother during pregnancy, as well as "the fourth trimester" coming home from the hospital. Some of the exercises, such as progressive relaxation, can be useful in reducing the father's tension during surgery, whether he is with his wife or not.

Registration for the series opens Monday, Dec. 28, and continues through Monday, Jan. 4. Further information may be obtained by contacting Judy Cheney, registrar, at 293-9312.

Pinocchio day for Youtheatre

Detroit Youtheatre will celebrate the 100th birthday of one of childhood's favorite characters with performances of "Pinocchio" by the Robin Reed Marionettes of Wales, Wis., this Saturday, Dec. 19, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium.

Tickets at $2.50 per person ($1.50 each for groups of 10 or more), may be purchased in advance at the DIA's ticket office, 832-2730, and at the door.

The Robin Reed Marionettes are noted for their open stage style, in which the puppeteers are visible to the audience. They will perform live, without the use of recorded voices, and promise a faithful rendition of the story as originally written and performed a century ago.

"Pinocchio" is designed for families with young people five years of age and older. Children younger than five will not be admitted to the auditorium.

A detailed brochure of all Detroit Youtheatre, "Something Every Saturday" performances through May may be obtained through the DIA ticket office.

Colonial herbs tempt Questers

Windmill Pointe Questers gather Monday, Dec. 21, at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Lydia Lampman where, after a coffee hour, Mrs. Erwin Goring, chapter president, will conduct a business meeting and Mrs. Howard Harrison will present a program on Colonial Herbs and their uses through the year—especially at the Christmas season.

Set Salvation Army Auxiliary's meeting

The Auxiliary to the Salvation Army met Monday, Dec. 14, at 11 a.m. at Salvation Army Headquarters on North Main Street in Royal Oak, to enjoy Kerry Gower's musical program, "Clowns." Reservations for the day were accepted by Enid Gee, 642-5145, and Mrs. Frank Voorheis, 646-2309.

publication list. It's Number 8 in a series of Mackinac Island State Park Commission Reports in Mackinac History and Archeology. It's available locally at Frank Sladen's Book Shelf on-the-Hill and Jacobson's in-the-Village, or may be ordered at $7.50 per copy, postpaid, by writing the Mackinac Island State Park Commission, Mackinac Island, Mich. 49757.

Particularly fascinating are the turn-of-the-century photographs of "cottage" life in the days when affluent Americans brought not only their families but the cook, nursemaid, indoor and outdoor servants with them on their annual summer exodus from the city.

And those "cottages"! Today, they'd be classed as mansions, with their bays and towers, porches and verandas. As Phil Porter writes in his conclusion to View from the Veranda: "... the summer cottages are physical reminders of the past. Their style and appearance evoke thoughts of full skirts and top hats, liveried coachmen and side saddles, wicker chairs and formal parlors."

Isn't it nice to know that there remains a place like Mackinac Island, where the past continues in the present? Wouldn't you just love to be spending Christmas there?

Another Book Gift Idea

Now that we've taken care of the history/architecture buffs on your Christmas gift list, how about checking off the "professional volunteers," those people—and there are many of them in The Pointe—without whose help the hospital/school/church worlds would have a tough time going 'round?

"Making Things Happen: The Guide for Members of Volunteer Organizations" is tailor-made for these pro-vols, and its author, Joan Wolfe, is, like Phil Porter, a Pointe Product: daughter of former Grosse Pointe City Councilman and Mrs. William Luedders, of Harvard Road. Joan, who lives in Belmont now, is a dynamic volunteer leader and community organizer whose own experience provided the background material for her handbook.

It's wonderful resource material for anyone involved in volunteer work, covering everything from the importance of holding a meeting in the right-sized room to controlling the telephone to a chapter on "Successful Publicity" that I would like to make required reading for every publicity chairman with whom I personally deal. It's also fun to browse through, written in a bright, breezy, relaxed style. I particularly like Wolfe's Rules of Order (for those many times when Robert's are simply too much) and Joan's tips on how to make board meetings NOT meetings of the bored!

"Making Things Happen" retails for $4.95. It's published by Brick House Publishing Company, 34 Essex Street, Andover, Mass. 01810.

Joan: A Bit of Background

If you're interested in what Joan Wolfe has been doing recently, be advised that she is currently the only woman member of the Michigan Natural Resources Commission. She's been active in Audubon and League of Women Voters organizations in the Grand Rapids area, and was instrumental in coordinating Michigan environmental groups to insure the passage of several major pieces of environmental legislation.

Keep an Eye Out for Brad

Speaking of Pointe Products and what they're doing now... Bradford Blazar, a graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School (his family lives in Dallas, now), currently attending the University of Texas at Austin, will appear in the Hollywood movie "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas," a Universal Studio production starring Burt Reynolds and Dolly Parton.

Brad shot with actor Reynolds on a small ranch outside of Austin. The film is scheduled for release next fall.

Make Wassail plans for 1982

It began in 1972, with two evenings for 500 guests—and this year, a decade later, the Detroit Institute of Arts' mid-winter Wassail Feast brings a record 2,800 revelers to the museum on eight nights spread over two weeks in December.

If you don't have your admission tickets for this year's spectacular, forget it. The 1981 Feast is, as always, a sell-out; in fact, now is the time to order tickets for next year's Feast. Nearly 5,000 advance reservations already are placed across the years through 1989.

The Wassail Feast is open to the public as well as to members of the museum's Founders Society. Reservations for 1982 and the years beyond may be obtained by sending a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ticket Office—Wassail Feast, Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48202.

"We present a somewhat idealized step back into the splendor of the time of Queen Elizabeth I," explains Dr. Audley Grossman, curator of the museum's Performing Arts Department which presents the event. "Our Wassail Feast, largely a celebration of friendship, is patterned after traditional merriments held during fall and early winter, when people gathered indoors for their celebrations, to be entertained and fed on a grand scale.

"The courts of Europe were, depending on the disposition of the ruler, often sites for such revelry and minstrelsy.

"At the DIA we have created a mood of the Renaissance, where artistic elements are recreations borrowed from a number of countries over the period of a century. From there, we have built an evening of what we like to think it might have been."

At the sound of trumpet fanfares, 800 guests are ushered each Wassail Feast evening into the museum's Great Hall for the grand march to dinner.

The menu includes modernized recipes of favorites of an earlier period: Scotch broth, roast prime beef with Yorkshire pudding, pork, leek and vegetable pie, roast capon, marinated raw root vegetables (instead of salad), figgy pudding with brandy sauce—and, of course, the Wassail cup.

Each course is preceded by a formal presentation: the silver Wassail bowl, the boar's head in fancy dress, the nested pheasant and flaming trays of pudding.

Sixty lavishly costumed artists who specialize in the Medieval and Renaissance periods perform throughout the evening. Among them are madrigal singers, a magician and a scer, court jesters, strolling minstrels, acrobats, a Renaissance orchestra, playing antique instruments, a six-member court festival dance ensemble and the Master of the Revels.

The Detroit Institute of Arts' Wassail Feast boasts sell-outs yearly.

Anne Walsh

Jones-Walsh betrothal told

Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Walsh, of Shorepointe Lane, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Anne Elizabeth, to Kurt Lloyd Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Jones, of Flint.

Miss Walsh was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School and from Albion College, where she affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority. She is an account specialist with International Business Machines in Lansing.

Her fiancé, a magna cum laude graduate of Albion College, where he was president of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, is also a cum laude graduate of the Law School at Washington and Lee University, where he was an editor of the Law Review. He is now with the Legal Department of Michigan National Bank in Clawson.

April wedding date is made

A late April wedding is being planned by Kristine Morris, daughter of Farmington resident Thomas Morris and the late Ruth Morris, and David Johnson, son of Park resident Victor Johnson and the late Elizabeth Johnson.

Miss Morris holds a Masters degree from Wayne State University and has been a librarian with the Grosse Pointe Public Library for six years. Her fiancé, a Certified Radio Technician, is currently employed in the Communications Department of Macomb County.

Ribbon Farms Chapter of the Quilters meets at noon next Monday, Dec. 21, in the Merriweather Road home of Mrs. Joseph Scanlan for a show-and-tell program featuring Old photographs brought by members. A grab bag gift exchange is also on the day's agenda, and each member has promised to bring a can of food to be donated to the needy.

Pets make perfect gifts AFTER Christmas Day

Animals have always been part of Christmas legends. There are stories about the animals of the manger being the first to see the Christ Child. A carol tells of the cow who gave the baby Jesus his bed, the sheep who gave wool from his coat for a blanket and the doves who cooed Him to sleep from the rafters of the stable.

The volunteers of ARK, Inc. (a Humane Education Service) are thinking about animals this Christmas: about all that pets can give to people, but also about what people should give to animals to keep them safe and contented.

If you are thinking of giving a pet to someone for Christmas, the animal welfare experts generally say DON'T. A much better idea — IF the pet is expected and wanted, and IF the person has the time and money it takes to own an animal — is to give some things the pet will need, wrapped in a box, with an IOU for the pet which will be presented after the holiday excitement is over.

Puppies, kittens, birds, gerbils and even fish should be introduced into a household when everything is routine and ordinary. This does not describe most households around Christmas time. Animals brought into the middle of bustling company and active children will be bound not to get the care and attention they need to start off life with the family on the right paw.

ARK recommends getting an animal only from a breeder or from an animal shelter. Reputable breeders will not allow people to take animals home for Christmas Eve or Day. Good breeders will sell pets only at a time which is right for the animal.

Animal shelters must put the animals which are not adopted to death. You can save the life of an otherwise unwanted dog or cat by adopting it. Good animal shelter policy, however, will not allow placing an animal at Christmas time, since the shelters are inundated with unwanted live Christmas "gifts" weeks and months after the holidays are over. Some shelters may not release pets for Christmas Day giving.

If you give a parakeet as a pet, give the receiver a cage and other supplies for Christmas, the bird later. The parakeet will need the right size cage. The small ones are for finches and smaller birds; the parakeet will be cramped. The large cages are for cockatiels and larger birds; the parakeet will not feel secure. It may even starve when it cannot find its food.

The parakeet will need a balanced variety of seeds (which you may need to buy from a breeder); sprays of millet; escape or endive greens; gravel; gravel paper on the bottom of the cage; a mirror on the bottom of the cage until the bird starts to eat; perches near the cage bottom and a swing for placement in the cage

AFTER the bird begins to eat; water with the tiniest drop of iodine in the dish to prevent tumors (you can substitute grated carrots in a cup if the bird will eat them); cups; a honing stone and a cuttlebone to keep his beak in shape. The bird and his necessities may cost up to $50.

A gerbil or hamster might cost an average of $40 for the animal and all the things it needs to live and be healthy and contented. For a gerbil, for instance, you would need a cage with a screen top at least 15" by 20" in size (cost about $16); bedding and litter (which should be changed at least once a month); commercial seed containing sunflower seeds, breakfast cereal, wheat, oats, corn, barley and pellets; vitamins; a water bottle and wood treats; and an exercise wheel.

For a cat you will need a litterpan and kitty litter; a scratching post; a food dish and a water dish; commercially prepared cat food (ask your veterinarian about the ash content of certain brands); an elastic collar and identification tag; a brush; a basket; box or bed; and a toy.

Include the name of a veterinarian with your cat gift. Recommend neutering and inoculations for all the upper respiratory diseases cats are prone to.

A dog can be most expensive to own, whether it was "free to good home" or purchased at a costly price from a breeder. Feeding alone can run several hundred dollars per year.

If you are giving a dog as a present this is what should be in the gift box — MINUS the dog: rawhide chews, bowls for food and water; at least two different sized collars to allow for growth; an identification tag; a leash; commercially prepared food (100 percent nutritionally complete as stated on the label); a book on house-training and care; and the name and address of a reputable veterinarian.

You should include recommendations on inoculations for parvovirus, distemper, hepatitis, leptospirosis, kennel cough and rabies, plus information on heartworm, worming and neutering. No responsible pet owner should breed his pet dog or cat, according to ARK volunteers who deal with cruelty to animals every day in their work.

Christmas gift animals also may include turtles, fish, reptiles and tarantulas. All require special housing, special temperatures and environments, special food and care.

If a live animal is your choice for a gift, ARK asks you to be kind. Study the animal and think about how it will be cared for. Kindness should mark this holy season. Animal suffering should not and need not be part of the Christmas celebration.

If you are looking for an ideal gift this Christmas, consider a membership in KIND Club (Kindness in Nature's Defense).

Winter is busy at Assumption

Assumption Cultural Center, located on Marter Road at the border of Grosse Pointe Woods and St. Clair Shores, has announced a winter program of activities featuring more than 100 class offerings for adults and children.

Assumption's popular total body fitness program, Kalosomatics, begins the week of Jan. 11, with 22 different sessions scheduled. The program incorporates aspects of aerobics, calisthenics, isometrics, jogging and yoga into an hour long routine done to music.

Kalosomatics is progressive in difficulty. It places special emphasis on cardiovascular fitness. A new Teen Class has been added for this winter, as well as new Tapes Two and Three.

Another offering for residents interested in keeping fit is a class on Race Walking, to be conducted by marathon runner Frank Soby. Additional winter activities at Assumption include Karate, Yoga, Golf, Tennis, Volleyball, Tap, Ballet, Modern Dance and a Florida Learn-to-Sail Vacation package.

For the needleworker there are classes in Needlepoint, Macrame, Bobbin Lace, Weaving, Quilting, Yarn Basketry, Knitting and Crocheting. Craft lovers may take Batik, Calligraphy, Porcelain Doll Making, Stained Glass, Photography, Antique Clock Repair, Dip and Drape Clowns or Hand Painted Mallard Ducks.

Those interested in self-improvement may enroll in Rapid Reading, Folk Guitar, Basic Italian or Greek. They may learn to prepare their own Income Tax, take CPR or attend seminars on Fashion Co-ordinating or Investing.

Some new Assumption offerings under the self-improvement classification include Contract Bridge, All About Flying, Estate Planning and a class on learning how to professionally manure your own nails.

At Assumption you can also learn how to use your new Micro-wave oven, bake delicious Greek recipes, become a Natural Food buff or create your own Valentine chocolates.

The winter Youth and Teen programs are highlighted by a class on Television Production, an introduction to summer Travel-Study seminars, Teen Driving School, a course in Baby-Sitting, the new Teen Kalosomatics, Karate (pee-wee version), Calligraphy, Needlepoint, Theater, Art and Tennis.

Assumption's gymnastics program for youngsters, under the direction of Notre Dame High School Gymnastics Coach Ken Parent, is offered in three levels, for both boys and girls. Dance classes include Creative Dance for three-and-a-half to five-year-olds, Tap, Ballet, Modern Dance and Jazz.

Assumption's Nursery School and Toddler Center continues its full program at 22150 Marter Road. Information about this program may be obtained by calling 772-4477.

Registrations for winter classes are being taken now at Assumption's main branch, 21800 Marter Road. Phone reservations may be made for all classes, except Kalosomatics, at 779-6111. Most of the non-fitness classes begin the week of Jan. 18.

A Christmas dinner Swedish Club date

Reservations for the Swedish Club's traditional Christmas Dinner, set for Friday, Dec. 18, at 7 p.m. in the Finnish Cultural Center on West Eight Mile Road in Farmington Hills, at $10 per person were accepted until Wednesday, Dec. 16, by Dorothy Lind, 476-4599. All proceeds go to the club's building fund.

The menu will feature Lutefisk, baked ham, vegetables and dessert, with a cash bar available. The program includes a Lucia Ceremony, with Mae Wickham as soprano soloist, Robert Ballard as piano accompanist and Ingrid Anderson as the club's 1981 "Lucia."

The Scandia Women's Chorus will sing a medley of Christmas songs in Swedish and English.

Hail, full of grace . . .

NANCY REED (left) and SUE VANNEMAN, members of Les Papillons Liturgical Dance Company, enact the Annunciation in a sensitive portrayal of the story as told by Saint Luke. Les Papillons are presenting a program of six selections from their repertoire of 16 dances today, Thursday, Dec. 17, at the Grosse Pointe Branch American Association of University Women's annual Christmas tea, which begins at 1 p.m. at Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church. The innovative dance group, sponsored by the Woods Church, has appeared at five area churches during the past six weeks, and danced at the Service held by the Detroit Presbyterian Association in Redford early in December.

Les Papillons are unique in that they dance to scripture readings as well as to music, or to a combination of the two. Their patterns employ forms and gestures derived from ancient and modern Israeli dances as well as techniques found in both ballet and modern dance.

Among the selections chosen for today's program are "Yahweh Called Me," based on Isaiah 42 and 43, and "The Vine and The Branches," based on Saint John 15. Others are "Psalm 23," in which the soloist proclaims her faith and is joined by two dancers portraying Goodness and Mercy, and "Christ the King," which symbolizes the unity between God and mankind and ends in the shape of a crown to signify the risen, reigning Christ.

Les Papillons dancers, in addition to Sue and Nancy, are Lizzie Bolden, Jenny Eshleman, Ellen Probert, JoAnne Spencer, Mary Lee Strother, Brooke Bessert and Eunice Whitaker, director and choreographer. Steve Honkanen is in charge of audio. Russell Reed is the group's photographer.

Singing Sunday for Phase I

There will be no regular program meeting this Sunday, Dec. 20, for members of Phase I, the organization of single, young adults, ages 20 through 39, who gather regularly for Sunday evening sessions at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Instead, Phase I'ers will attend the Kenneth Jewell Chorale's fifth annual Christmas Concert in Memorial Church's sanctuary, meeting in the hallway from the parking lot, near the cloak room, to go into the church at 7:40 to be sure of getting seats, for this concert, which begins at 8 p.m., is usually a sell-out.

Tickets are $4 and can be purchased at the door. Post-performance, the Phase I group will converge on the hallway once again, to go out together for a snack.

Burczyk to play for scholarships to Interlochen

By Irene Moran

"Scholarships to Interlochen" was the topic of discussion for members of Detroit Area Friends of Interlochen during a recent wine and cheese party held in the Grosse Pointe home of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick G. McKeever.

Chairperson Mrs. Kurt C. Drath, also of Grosse Pointe, announced plans for the Friends' upcoming presentation of pianist Ruth Burczyk in a benefit recital for the National Music Camp Scholarship Fund. The event is scheduled for Friday, Feb. 5, 1982, at 8:30 p.m. at the Edsel and Eleanor Ford House.

The fund is to provide scholarships so young, qualified students in the Detroit area may have the opportunity to attend the world renowned National Music Camp at Interlochen Center for the Arts.

Present at the party/meeting was artist Burczyk, a camp faculty member for several years, who related the importance of the scholarships. Mrs. Drath introduced the Friends' co-presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bradley and Edward P. Frohlich, an Interlochen Board of Trustees member, all of Grosse Pointe. Unable to attend was Interlochen President Roger E. Jacobi — but he sent a message, stating that "Ruth Burczyk's Grosse Pointe recital will be a major 1982 event for Interlochen in the Detroit area."

Calling attention to the fact that Interlochen maintains a vast student representation, along with enthusiastic supporters and benefactors, in metropolitan Detroit, Mrs. Drath added: "Gaining means for Interlochen scholarships is always most gratifying. We look forward to a 'full house' success."

Benefit guests are welcome to arrive as early as 7:45 p.m. for an opportunity to visit and enjoy the beauty of the Ford House. A check guest list with the security guard will serve as entry to the grounds.

Assisting Mrs. Drath with benefit duties are Grosse Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bradley, reception; Mrs. William O. Bradley Jr., mailing, and Irene Moran, consultant. More are Mrs. George J. Zeitz, of Dearborn Heights, in charge of tickets, and Mrs. Roy Zimmerman, of West Bloomfield, public relations director.

Concert pianist Burczyk made her professional debut at age 16 with the Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra. Her artistry on the concert stage has earned her continuous high praise throughout the United States and Canada.

She has appeared as soloist with the Rochester (Minn.), Milwaukee and International Symphony Orchestras, and is familiar to Detroit audiences for her many appearances with orchestras in this area, including repeat performances with the Detroit Symphony. She has also appeared with chamber groups and is one of the Detroit area's most highly respected teachers.

She is looking forward to her seventh summer on the Interlochen campus as a faculty member. "Each season is a new Interlochen experience,"

The Grosse Pointe home of MR. and MRS. PATRICK G. MCKEEVER (left) was the setting for a recent meeting of the Detroit Area Friends of Interlochen, during which plans for the Friends' presentation of pianist RUTH BURCZYK (seated, center), in a benefit recital for the National Music Camp Scholarship Fund were announced by MRS. KURT C. DRATH (right), chairperson. Looking on at the rear is EDWARD P. FROHLICH, an Interlochen Board of Trustees member—and, like everyone else in the picture above, a Grosse Pointe resident.

she says. "The enthusiasm and dedication of the students is incredible!"

A Certified Teacher — Michigan Music Teachers Association, Ruth recently was honored as "Teacher of the Year" by the Detroit Musicians League. She serves on the Staff of Adjudicators of the National Guild of Piano Teachers and is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon international music fraternity. In private life she is Mrs. Walter J. Burczyk, and resides in Grosse Pointe.

Her recital program will consist of works by Scarlatti, Schubert, Chopin, Ravel and Liszt. She will perform in the magnificent Gallery of the Ford House, and a reception in her honor will follow in the Dining Room.

Interlochen Center for the Arts is a year-round operation with its National Music Camp (NMC) during the summer months and the Interlochen Arts Academy (IAA) during the academic year. Both are non-profit educational institutions supported solely by tuition and gifts.

Since its founding in 1928 by the late Dr. Joseph E. Maddy (1891-1966), the National Music Camp has challenged and prepared America's young people for careers in the visual and performing arts. Each summer, for many years, the camp has enrolled approximately 1,500 students, ages eight through college level, from nearly every state and a score of foreign countries.

The University of Michigan and NMC jointly, in a two-week All-State Program, bring an additional 1,000 (250 each session) Michigan students to the campus. A distinguished faculty of 185 educators provides classroom as well as individualized instruction in music, art, dance and drama. Edward J. Downing is camp director.

The Academy, founded in 1982 on the philosophy "Curriculum Geared to Talent; Promotion Geared to Attainment," is an independent, college-preparatory fine arts boarding school for grades nine through 12. Bruce W. Galbraith is its director.

The Friends of Interlochen, organized in 1974 as a non-profit group, consists of people who are enthusiastic about Interlochen. Their purpose is to promote Interlochen in the Detroit area, to raise scholarship funds and to provide a forum for sharing information about Interlochen.

Everyone's favorite things go on the Christmas tree

By Ink Mendelsohn
Smithsonian News Service

All that glitters may not be gold, but in this case it was. James Clements, a railroad brakeman who struck it rich in the Klondike in 1897, decorated his Christmas tree that year with $70,000 worth of gold nuggets.

On the other hand, the next year, a Pennsylvania farmer trimmed his tree with stuffed squirrels and chipmunks — simply proving that all manner of favorite things, be they serendipitous gold nuggets or stuffed trophies of the hunt, are likely to turn up as ornaments on American Christmas trees.

Many people cherish as Christmas ornaments family keepsakes, gifts from friends and especially the creations of their children. "I treasure all the Christmas decorations the children made at school down through the years," says Nancy Reagan.

As an advocate for America's artists, Joan Mondale always made certain that during the holiday season the Vice President's House was filled with their handmade ornaments. As for her personal favorites: "The ornaments our children have made over the years are treasures, and I think if I must select one, it is the shiny metal rim of a mason jar framing a photograph of our three children."

The Christmas tree becomes a kind of evergreen family album to be admired anew each holiday season. This year, what do you suppose Stanley Marcus, spirit behind the fabulous Nieman-Marcus Christmas catalog, will be admiring on his own tree? A miniature, diamond-studded comboy hat? A tiny pair of platinum boots? Actually, his favorite ornament is a simple, natural wood angel.

Angels are the favorite ornaments of several other well-known Americans. "I sprinkle them on my tree," mezzo-soprano Shirley Verrett says of her special collection of paper and ceramic angels. As for tennis champion Tracy Austin: "Every year the Austin family gathers around our tree and puts the angel on top, and that angel's my favorite."

An ornament with wings is also the favorite of actor Paul Winfield. It's a white origami bird "that looks so perfect on its natural tree with small twinkling white lights."

"I love anything that twinkles," reveals the general director of the New York City Opera. That's an appropriate statement coming from a star like Beverly Sills.

Frank Mankiewicz, president of National Public Radio, is fondest of his family's homespun treasures. He hopes they will become family heirlooms. "Each year my wife makes patchwork ornaments for the tree. Her first one, made years ago, is my favorite."

Family tradition and candlelight have always been important ingredients in achieving a warm holiday mood. Another diva, Roberta Peters, counts among her most precious possessions the Hanukkah menorah given her when she was in Israel during the Six-Day War.

The young Superman may have had memories of a shimmering, green crystal, but Christopher Reeves, according to his mother, Mrs. Tristram

Johnson, of Princeton, N.J., loved "the real candles on his childhood Christmas tree."

Mothers and fathers and all the rest of us have fond holiday memories. Goldie Hawn's mother, Laura Hawn, recalls the Christmas Goldie decided she was unhappy with the way the dining room wallpaper looked for the holidays. Her parents came home one night to find that Goldie had made a gigantic gift out of the entire dining room — papering all the walls with Christmas wrap.

That greatest of Christmas keepers, Charles Dickens, in a "Tale of Two Cities" remembered: "It was the best of times, it was the worst of times." And so it was for actor Robert Redford. "I remembered the Christmas I got the most presents. And I remember the Christmas when our family was far from home, and I got no presents at all."

Some Christmas memories are hittersweet. Former Interior Secretary Cecil Andrus recalls his favorite Christmas tree. It was the one his wife Carol saved for him until February the year he came back from Korea.

Weekend shop at Cranbrook

Christmas shoppers can mix the business of gift buying with the pleasures of exhibition viewing from now until Dec. 23 at Cranbrook Institute of Science and Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum, 500 Lone Pine Road.

In addition to its regular museum store open daily, Cranbrook Institute of Science will unveil a new "Weekend Shop" from 1 to 5 p.m. weekends. Stock will include imported toys, books, puppets, stamp blocks and games galore for children, plus varieties of exotic jewelry and textiles, porcelain and baskets from far-away places for adults.

Located in the museum's Northwest Coast room, the "Weekend Shop" also will feature pottery, jams, creches, Christmas ornaments, gift boxes and wrapping paper.

Shopping is included in regular admission of $2.50 for adults, $1.50 for students and senior citizens, which also entitles visitors to enjoy exhibitions that trace the history of earth from its beginnings to the cultural development of man. Currently showing at the Institute are "Masks From Around the World" and "World of Illusion," about optical illusions and the differences between what the eye sees and the mind perceives.

Anxiety has been called "the disease of our age." No wonder! The desire for success, popularity, and status can become an inner ache. Questions about society, values and our threatened world can turn into a gnawing helplessness. Day after day it chips at us.
What can be done? Is there any antidote for anxiety? Life isn't always easy or pleasant. No one told us it would be. When Jesus said, "I'll never leave you or forsake you," He is recognizing the presence of anxiety. But he helps us face it squarely, deal with its causes, and move beyond its power. He offers Himself and His resources to sustain us, and help us grow in every situation of life.

Ferlito-Lucido rites are read

At home in East Detroit are Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ferlito, who vacationed in Las Vegas after their marriage Saturday evening, November 14, in the Saint John Hospital Chapel. The 6 o'clock ceremony was followed by a reception at the Gourmet House.

The bride, the former Noralisia Lucido, daughter of the Alex Lucidos, of Van Antwerp Road, Harper Woods, wore a high-necked gown of satin, styled with a five-foot train, and a matching picture hat. Her flowers were red and white silk roses.

Honor attendant Sandy Curtis and bridesmaids Kris Mattes, Rosanne Ferlito, Sue Ferlito, Sandy Lucido and Cindy Palumbo wore high-necked, formal length dresses, burgundy in color, accented with satin belts. They carried fans, with burgundy silk orchids, apple blossoms and greens.

Frank Ferlito acted as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Komlenovich, of Marter Road. Ushering were Nick Lucido, Johnny Brucia, Alex Lucido, Joe Lucido and Don Licavoli.

The mother of the bride wore a beige, sequinned evening gown, and a wrist corsage of beige and brown orchids. The bridegroom's mother selected a pink evening gown, with a sequinned belt, and a rose orchid wrist corsage.

Anthony Lauri to claim bride

The engagement of Susan M. Pixley and Anthony P. Lauri has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Pixley, of Rochester. The wedding is planned for early January, at Saint Andrew's Catholic Church in Rochester.

Miss Pixley, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Management and Economics from Albion College, is currently a buyer for Country Peddler, Inc.

Mr. Lauri, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil J. Lauri, of North Renaud Road, received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Marketing in 1976 from Michigan State University and was graduated in 1977 from Wayne State University's Department of Mortuary Science.

He is a staff director at Pixley Memorial Chapel in Rochester.

Series of special treats for the uncocktail party

It's sometimes hard to believe, especially during the holidays, but one out of every three adults in this country does not drink alcohol. These are the forgotten people of Christmas parties past. These are the sober people, tucked under the mistletoe, sipping from soft drink cans while their hosts graciously presides over the champagne punch bowl at the other end of the room. These same people are harangued every year by well-meaning hosts to "have a drink for the holidays."

But no more: enough is enough. With the growing popularity of physical fitness, party goers will be grabbing (with gusto) more bubbly mineral water than bubbly champagne.

Hosts and hostesses should plan accordingly by serving non-alcoholic punch, a budget saver that's sure to please both careful drinkers and non-alcohol drinkers alike. Comprehensive Care Corporation, the largest private provider of alcoholism treatment in the country, recommends the following non-alcoholic recipes from "A Toast To Sober Spirits and Joyous Juices" by Jan Blexrud.

Offer guests these warming punches on cold winter nights. They're easy to make — and the guests will appreciate your thoughtfulness this holiday season.

CRANBERRY CIDER

1 quart cider
1 quart cranberry juice
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cinnamon stick
4 whole allspice
dash of salt
Heat, strain and serve. Makes 8 mug size servings.

MULLED CRANBERRY SWIZZLE

3/4 cup brown sugar
4 cups water
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. allspice
3/4 tsp. ground cloves
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
2 (1 lb.) cans jellied cranberry sauce
4 cups unsweetened pineapple juice
Combine salt, sugar, spices and 1 cup water in a saucepan and bring to a boil. In separate bowl, beat cranberry sauce, pineapple juice and 3 cups water until smooth. Add to the syrup and simmer 5 minutes. Garnish with butter and cinnamon sticks.

Makes 10 servings.

Russian Tea or Friendship Tea is a favorite gift between tea lovers. A rich combination of tea, orange and lemonade, this dry powder can be mixed anytime and given in an attractive container as a present.

RUSSIAN TEA

2 cups orange powdered breakfast drink
1/2 cup instant tea powder
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 (3 oz.) package pre-sweetened lemonade mix
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. ground cloves
Mix dry ingredients and store in an air tight container until ready to serve. Measure 1 1/2 heaping teaspoons of mixture into a mug and add hot water.

For cold punch lovers, offer a flavorful and colorful mixture of fruit juices as a refreshing treat.

CELEBRATION FROST

1 (6 oz.) can frozen lemonade concentrate
1 (6 oz.) can frozen orange juice concentrate
1 (6 oz.) can frozen pineapple juice concentrate 2 quarts water
1 1/2 cups apricot nectar
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 quart lemon sherbet
2 (28 oz.) bottles gingerale
Combine concentrates with water, nectar and lemon juice. Mix until smooth. Add sherbet just before serving. Makes 24 (8 oz.) servings or 48 punch-size servings.

CRANBERRY SNAP

4 cups cranberry juice
2 cups orange juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup crushed pineapple
1 cup water
1/3 cup sugar
1 tsp. almond extract
Combine ingredients. Chill and serve over crushed ice. Makes 8 (9 oz.) servings. ALTERNATIVE: Can also be heated and served warm. These recipes and others can be found in Miss Blexrud's book, published by CompCare Publications, Minneapolis, Minn., which lists for $6.95 and can be ordered from CompCare by calling toll free 1-800-328-3330.

Grants for arts are available

The Michigan Council for the Arts has announced grants deadlines for Fiscal Year 1983. Michigan arts organizations, community groups, schools and universities, civic and municipal organizations and other non-profit organizations sponsoring arts activities are eligible to apply for funding under these programs. Michigan artists may also apply under several grants categories.

Guidelines, applications and information about the programs are available through the Office of Programs, Michigan Council for the Arts. Applicants are urged to discuss programs with MCA staff prior to applying for funds. Fiscal Year 1983 program deadlines for activities taking place October 1, 1982, through September 30, 1983, are:

- Jan. 8, 1982: ARTS ORGANIZATION SUPPORT (formerly Operational Support). Provides a portion of established arts organizations' yearly budget.
- Feb. 25, 1982: STAFFING SUPPORT. Supports employment of first full-time staff in an arts organization.
- Feb. 25, 1982: ARTIST-IN-RESIDENCE (formerly Artists-In-Schools). Supports long-term artist residencies in Michigan Schools.
- Feb. 25, 1982: DEVELOPMENTAL ARTS PROJECTS. Supports locally planned and sponsored arts projects, Arts-in-Education programs and folk art activities.
- May 7, 1982: ARTIST APPRENTICESHIP. Allows a developing Michigan artist to work with a professional artist in their chosen field.
- May 7, 1982: CREATIVE ARTIST.

Supports work-in-progress, new work and career development of professional Michigan artists.

- May 7, 1982: EXTENSION SERVICES PILOT GRANTS. Supports six areas of activity: Touring, Market Development, Facilities Improvement, Cultural Preservation, Pilot Programs, Economic Development, Program assistance organizations which serve minorities, the handicapped and culturally or economically disadvantaged.

- June 25, 1982: MINI-GRANTS, round #1 (for projects beginning Oct. 1, 1983-Dec. 31, 1983). Modest grants support local arts activities, consultancies and residency programs.

- Sept. 17, 1982: MINI-GRANTS, round #2 (for projects beginning Jan. 1-March 31, 1983).

- Nov. 5, 1982: CREATIVE WRITERS IN SCHOOL. Places professional authors in Michigan schools for short residencies.

- Dec. 17, 1982: MINI-GRANTS, round #3 (for projects beginning April 1, 1983-Dec. 31, 1983).

- March 25, 1983: MINI-GRANTS, round #4 (for projects beginning July 1, 1983-Sept. 30, 1983).

The Michigan Council for the Arts is still accepting applications for the following Fiscal Year 1982 programs

- Dec. 18, 1981: MINI-GRANTS (for projects beginning April 1, 1982-June 30, 1982).

- March 19, 1982: MINI-GRANTS (for projects beginning July 1, 1982-Sept. 30, 1982).

More information and application materials may be obtained by contacting Michigan Council for the Arts, Office of Programs, 1200 Sixth Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48226 (256-3717).

Boston-Edison Christmas Walk

The seventh annual Historic Boston-Edison Christmas Walk is scheduled for this Sunday, Dec. 20, from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Detroit's Boston-Edison area, the nation's largest residential Historic District, located about a mile north of the Fisher Theater.

Many of the area's 929 homes, built between 1904 and 1928 and rich in Victorian, Georgian, Italianate and Tudor detailing, once were the residences of Detroit notables, among them Horace Rackham, Henry M. Butzel, William A. Fisher, Clarence Burton, James Couzens and Henry Ford.

Six houses representative of the neighborhood's architectural types will be open for viewing Sunday. Each has been decorated by a member of the Allied Florists' Association of Metropolitan Detroit. Walkers will be asked to vote for the best-decorated home.

In addition, exteriors of many of the Boston-Edison homes will be decorated for the holiday season.

The 1981 Christmas Walk will depart in 20-minute intervals from Blessed Sacrament Cathedral, Woodward Avenue at Boston Boulevard. Advance reservations are required, at $6 per person, and may be made by contacting the Detroit Historical Society, located at the Detroit Historical Museum on Woodward Avenue, where further information may be obtained by calling 833-7934. Time of departure will be indicated on each ticket.

Give the gift of education

Saint Mary's College, Orchard Lake, has come up with a unique idea for an ideal gift for any occasion: a gift certificate towards an education. "The idea struck me as a good one," says Randy Berd, Admissions officer at Saint Mary's, "because I know parents who want to be practical in their gift giving this year on account of the economy."

"A gift certificate for a certain amount of tuition to cover a son's or daughter's education is both practical and helpful."

"Sometimes," he adds, "you know a person who is hard to buy for and may have wanted to take a college course. Here is the chance to take that step. The cost of one three-hour course at Saint Mary's is $150—reasonable compared to other private schools."

Gift certificates toward education may be in any amount, not necessarily the full tuition cost. Saint Mary's non-refundable certificate is good until October, 1982, and may be used for any of the next three semesters: the upcoming winter term or the 1982 spring or fall terms. Further details may be obtained by contacting the Admissions Office of the college, 682-1885.

Registration for the winter semester at Saint Mary's will be held on Friday, Jan. 8, from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday, Jan. 9, from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Classes begin Monday, Jan. 11.

Christ Church bells ring at Cranbrook

Christmas carols from around the world will ring out on Christ Church Cranbrook's 50-bell carillon Sunday, Dec. 20, beginning at 4 p.m. In her eighth annual tribute to Christmas, Christ Church carillonneur Beverly Buchanan will perform music from England, Germany, France, The Netherlands, Australia, South America and Spain.

The public is invited at no charge to listen to the carillon recital from the church lawn or their cars. The church will be open in case of inclement weather, although the concert is best heard from outdoors.

In addition to the spiritual "Go, Tell It on the Mountain" and Appalachian "I Wonder As I Wander," other favorites from the United States will be "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Jingle Bells."

Also on the program are "The Huron Carol" from Canada; "The Day that Christ Was Born on Earth" from Australia; "Now Be Welcome" from The Netherlands; "O Sanctissima" from Sicily; "Come All Ye Shepherds" from Bohemia; the Welsh tune "Deck the Halls;" and English selections.

FIRST ADVERTISED

THE NEEDLE IN THE HAY STACK! Probably the hardest house to find is an attractive "condominium-sized" two bedroom ranch in excellent condition under $60,000. Especially when an exceptional residential neighborhood and generous land contract terms are included. The Needle? We have it. Call while it's still available.

OTHER GREAT LAND CONTRACT OPPORTUNITIES

COUNTRY CLUB VIEW — GENEROUS LAND CONTRACT TERMS! This handsome four bedroom, 2½ bath colonial is loaded with custom features that set it above the competition. Wouldn't you enjoy an attached greenhouse, a Jacuzzi-hot spa incorporated in the wraparound redwood deck which overlooks the 10th green, to mention a few. Owner will consider $150,000, 11% land contract and the full price is just $238,500! $238,500!

SUPERB COLONIAL — PRICE CHOPPED! Classic Farm colonial — with all the modern conveniences — central air, elegant modern kitchen, a library and family room, too! Owner will consider $20,000 down on a land contract!

FINE COLONIAL — INCREDIBLE PRICE — Three bedrooms, 1½ bath colonials are the fastest selling, most desirable "first homes" you can purchase — and when a mint condition brick colonial with a detached two car garage can be yours for only $68,000 near St. John's... it means you'd better hurry, right?

ESTATE SALE

First floor living in Grosse Pointe Woods at a rock bottom price of $71,500! Spacious living room, three bedrooms and den plus two car garage and central air. Immediate possession!

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial ... through new eyes.

On October 1 John Lake began his well-earned retirement, and Dr. Mark Weber took over as Executive Director. This folder reports on some of his early impressions of our unique Grosse Pointe institution.

"It's a center for learning throughout the lifespan."

"I've seen pre-schoolers and seniors – and every age group in between – doing and learning here. There's really no limit to the educational opportunities we can offer."

"...a center for the arts and individual creative activities."

"In the Fries Auditorium we have a marvelous facility for the performing arts. In the Art Wing people can find self-expression of all kinds. Our cultural contribution can be tremendous."

"...a center for people with community interests and needs."

"Almost daily I see civic-minded groups meeting in unselfish efforts to give service to the Grosse Pointe community. Perhaps there are even more ways in which our members can serve."

"...a center for all ages."

"Whether it's children's ballet, teen ski trips, an adult lecture series or senior bridge, there is something here for every age. And that's as it should be."

Dear Grosse Pointer:

It may seem strange to receive this Family Participation solicitation at this time of year.

There are two good reasons.

First, we have a new Executive Director, Mark Weber, whom you have met in this folder. We hope you have gained a feeling for the kind of thrust he will give the Grosse Pointe War Memorial in coming years.

Second, there are new financial considerations for our membership. For some the new tax law will make it more beneficial to make their deductible gifts before January 1. Others will benefit from giving after the first of the year. And for many it is more comfortable to do their parts after Social Security withholding is out of the way.

Please remember that our $180,000 goal for 1982 will be met by over 6,000 families – and that every pledge of every size is important. In 1981 over a quarter of a million people will have taken advantage of the educational, cultural and civic opportunities offered by the War Memorial. It is a vital asset to our community – and a value to you and your family.

You may be familiar with the War Memorial's connection with Grosse Pointe Cable Television, but you should be aware that it will be several years before that association will produce any income for us. Please consider your pledge now – payable either this year or next. And please return your card as soon as you can.

Thank you.

Christmas Red . . . for the chiffon top styled with a V neck edged with beading found in the Separates Collection at Walton-Pierce. Another new arrival just in time for the holidays is a black crepe blouse with fan shaped jet beading at each shoulder. For relaxing during the season there's a ruby red satin velour hostess gown with a wide ruffle collar and push-up sleeves. Royal blue with gold piping and gold frogs is another choice for at home wear. If you're planning a vacation south, you'll want to see the new coordinates from Ciao. We like the sludgy textured 100% silk fabric used for the no button, new line jacket, skirt and pants. It is an important material that will be seen for cruise, spring and summer. The color choice is cream, fuchsia, purple, taupe and cafe. There is also a jacket in cafe with a hidden closing. All pieces are not in all colors but all colors go with the cafe, fuchsia, purple and taupe print top. The color falls into a soft fold and the closing is to the side. For those of you who like Gabar swimsuits, there are many new styles at Walton-Pierce. A blouson in a bright print, a skirted swimsuit in a floral water print and a printed pucker one piece suit . . . some with matching wrap skirts. If your gift list has hit a snag, come see the new gifts in the "glass house." There are elegant fabric disk sets for very special ladies.

Christmas Pictures . . . will need frames and there's a good variety at the Notre Dame Pharmacy in the Gift Department. Choose from plain, mosaic pattern, floral and others in single and multiple.

For That Last Minute Gift . . . Tony Custer suggests 14K and 18K gold chains are always treasured. Bijouterie has virtually every style, every length and every weight at very competitive prices . . . by the gram weight. Stop at Bijouterie, 20445 Mack Avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods. Open 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m., Monday thru Saturday, 886-2050.

KIMBERLY KORNER . . . You can cross a lot of names off your list when you stop at Lilly's. You'll find pillows, cosmetic cases, place mats, frames, robes, totes, baby bonnets, racquet covers, a new Christmas cookbook from Patchwork Pantry. Also there's a small bright volume brimming with wisdom to drop in a stocking. Lilly Pulitzer, Mack and Lochmoor.

KIMBERLY KORNER . . . Lilly's Holiday Sale now includes the popular Lilly jeans, sizes toddler through 14. Lilly Pulitzer, Mack and Lochmoor.

A Gift . . . of savings for you, when you shop at the Pointe Fashions these days. You'll save 20% to 30% off all fall and holiday fashions including suits and dresses at 15112 Kercheval in the Park, 822-2818.

At Forster's Interiors all that glitters is not gold during their pre-Christmas Accessory Sale, for that special teacher on your gift list, select from a wide assortment of apple boxes, bells, and paperweights in solid brass or crystal. Experience a festive alternative to holiday shopping at Forster's. You'll get that gleam in your eye at the 20% savings before Christmas, on all gifts and accessories. At both Drexel Heritage Showcases stores, 19435 Mack Avenue, and 12200 Hall Road (M-59), Sterling Heights.

Very Welcome Gift . . . for ladies who can't put on makeup without glasses. The Magic Focus mirror comes in compact form for $5.95 and free standing for $16.95 and will let you see clearly to put makeup on without glasses. Optically designed, of high quality it's available at Woods Optical Studios, 19599 Mack Avenue between 7 and 8 Mile Roads . . . 882-9711.

Special Savings — up to $300 per couple to Acapulco in January, includes air, hotel, transfers, taxes. Call 886-0111 or stop by Travel Galerie, Ltd., 16980 Kercheval.

The Village Pro Shop . . . makes gift giving easy. Gift certificates are now available at 16900 Kercheval, 885-1134.

The Pre-Christmas Sale . . . at Michelle's Boutique offers all coats and suits at 30% off. Dresses for day and evening are marked 20% off and many gift items are on sale. Open Thursday and Friday nights until 8 p.m. till Christmas. Free gift wrapping . . . 17864 Mack Avenue.

Charvat The Florist . . . is holding the line on prices. Beautiful poinsettia plants are priced the same as last year with no delivery charge between the lake and Kelly Road and Alter Road and 9 Mile . . . 18590 Mack Avenue, 881-7800.

For That Little Office . . . or house gift, the Mole Hole is featuring charming, imported wooden boxes with Christmas designs. They can be filled with candy from the Lolly Shop or Christmas pot-pourri. The boxes are priced from $3.25 to $4 at 17100 Kercheval.

Pre-Christmas Sale . . . at White's Old House! Save 20% or more during the store-wide sale. White's parking lot is convenient to stop and shop. Open Thursday and Friday till 9 p.m., Sunday 11 a.m.-4 p.m. until Christmas . . . 26717 Little Mack, 776-6230.

Many Christmas Shopping Needs . . . can be fulfilled at Wright's Gift and Lamp Shop. For your home, you'll find a wide selection of lamp shades. Lamp repairs usually can be done while you wait. Hallmark cards, paper party goods, collector's plates and figurines are all part of the picture at 18650 Mack Avenue with convenient FREE PARKING next to the building.

Hi-ho, home from the fair . . .

For a while there, it seemed as if every day was a Christmas fair day in Grosse Pointe. 'Tis now the season to wrap all those gifts and goodies you picked up here, there and everywhere, to stuff the stocking stuffers made by members of church women's organizations and hospital auxiliaries into the stockings, to put the gingerbread houses like the one two-and-a-half-year-old ALEXANDRIA BRENNAN, of Bishop Road, found at the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice's Holly Mart in the center of the dining room table—and to relax! Aren't you glad?

Bangkok-Detroit connection lives in Mark Stevens

Mark C. Stevens, of Moross Road, has for years been Honorary Royal Thai Consul in Detroit, and his pride in the Motor City — especially in his "home town" part of it, Grosse Pointe — is equalled only by his pride in another city on the other side of the earth: Bangkok, Thailand's capital.

The occasion of Thailand's National Day celebration early this month set Mark to thinking about Bangkok, and that thinking set him to writing . . . and we're delighted that he's chosen to share what he's written with NEWS readers:

"Detroiters quite understandably take pride in their city's history. Having been founded on July 24, 1701, Detroit is the oldest of the interior cities founded by the British and French colonists when they opened up the country.

"Dec. 5 is Thailand's National Day. It is therefore perhaps of special interest at this time for Detroiters to know that Bangkok, the capital of Thailand and one of the great cities of Asia, was founded in April of 1782, so that it will celebrate its 200th year next spring, somewhat before Detroit has its 281st birthday.

"Bangkok" is a conversion into the Roman alphabet from the Pali, an alphabet descended from ancient Sanskrit, committing to writing a language with five tones — high, low, medium, rising and falling. Actually, spoken in Thai, "Bangkok" sounds more like "Krung-tep" or "Krung-deb." It means "City of Angels" — like Los Angeles.

"The erection of Bangkok on the east bank of the Chao Phraya River was military in its inspiration. The older Thonburi on the west bank was too accessible to invading Burmese. The Chao Phraya River empties into the Gulf of Siam, an arm of the Pacific, about twenty miles from Bangkok.

"Siam" is the older European name for Thailand. It was mistakenly applied to the whole country by exploring Portuguese who asked where they were and were given the name of a small fishing village. "Thailand" is probably the only national name today including a foreign word. It means "Land of the Free" and would be "Thai Muang" in the native tongue, but the Thais doubted the ability of "farang" to pronounce "muang" and substituted the English "Land."

"Thailand, unlike the other Asiatic nations, was never colonized, except for the Japanese occupation in World War II. It has a long tradition of friendship with the United States, going back officially to the year 1833. Many Thai students come to this country for their education. Actually, His Majesty, King Bhumibol Aduldej, was born in Cambridge, Massachusetts, on Dec. 5, 1927."

Delicious day for Alliance

Dr. and Mrs. Kim K. Lie's Windmill Pointe Drive home will again be the setting for the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe's Christmas Dessert Contest, featuring tortes, pastries, pies, et al. made by the Pointe Alliance's junior members.

It's set for Sunday, Dec. 27, from 2 to 5 p.m. All area high school and college students are invited to become members of the Alliance ($5 annual dues per student) and to participate in the event. All those planning to participate are asked to call 1-791-1985 in advance of the contest date, and to bring their recipes, with their desserts, to the Lie home no later than 2 p.m. on contest day.

The five dessert categories are Creme, Biscuits, Gateau, Bonbons and Tartes. A prize will be awarded in each category.

Admission to the contest party is free to Alliance members, $2 to non-members. Reservations are requested, as a courtesy to the hostess, by calling 1-791-1985. Deadline is Christmas Eve, Thursday, Dec. 24.

While the judges select the winners, Sharon Ruwart, of Deming Lane, winner of the Pointe Alliance's 1981 summer scholarship to France, will tell of her experiences in Paris. The singing of French Christmas carols will follow.

ful package for $6.50 in Kimberly Flowers, Mack at Lochmoor, 886-0300.

A Gift . . . for your favorite teacher is at the School Bell, 17904 Mack Avenue.

Rings . . . for men and women are marked 30% off at Valente Jewelers. For example, an 18K gold signet ring for a man, regularly priced $850 is now $595, a man's diamond ring regularly $450 is now $315. A lady's diamond cluster ring regularly priced $1,600 is now $1,120. A genuine emerald ring for a lady, regularly $195 is now $135.50 at 16601 East Warren corner of Kensington . . . 881-4800.

Connie's & Son's Place . . . is the largest children's and teen's specialty store in the area and it's ready for Christmas with crew neck sweaters for boys and girls, oxford cloth button down shirts in pastel and traditional colors up to size 20 for boys and girls, Calvin Klein and Jordache jeans up to a size 38 waist. There are holiday velours, ribbon barrettes in all sizes and colors plus custom colors that can be ordered, Michigan and Michigan State tops, Alligator night shirts by Izod. Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth concluding, this week, a series on SPECIAL TREATS for the HOLIDAY TIME.

IDA BAKER'S BUTTER COOKIES

The most delicious of cookies, so light, so luscious that we suggest you double the recipe! Actually, they melt in your mouth.

1/2 lb. unsalted margarine
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 1/4 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup chopped pecans or English walnuts
1/2 tsp. vanilla

Blend together thoroughly all the ingredients. Break dough into pieces the size of a walnut and press with the tines of a fork. Bake in pre-heated 375° oven for 10 to 12 minutes. The cookies may be sprinkled with powdered sugar while warm. Makes about 42 cookies.

Calories about 69 per cookie. Cholesterol 0.

CHRISTMAS HOLLY GOODIES

Extremely attractive . . . the bright note on any plate of Christmas cookies . . . and oh, so delicious!

1/2 cup margarine
30 large marshmallows
1 1/2 tsp. green food coloring
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla extract
4 cups corn flakes

Red cinnamon candies

In 2-quart saucepan melt margarine and marshmallows over moderately low heat, stirring constantly. When melted remove from heat and stir in food coloring and vanilla. Stir in corn flakes. Drop mixture onto wax paper, 1 tablespoon at a time. Decorate with red cinnamon candies. Let stand 30 minutes, until cool. Makes about 40 goodies.

Calories about 47 per goodie. Cholesterol 0.

HONEY CRACKLE

Sinfully delicious and sinfully high in calories, but cholesterol-free and containing only the purest ingredients.

3 quarts fluffy popcorn
1 cup pecans or peanuts
1/2 cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup honey
1 tsp. vanilla

Place warm popcorn in a buttered 9x13-inch pan. Add nuts. In a saucepan, melt margarine, stir in sugar and honey. Boil gently, stirring occasionally, 5 minutes. Add vanilla. Pour over popcorn. Stir well to coat evenly.

Bake at 250° for 1 hour, stirring every 15 minutes. Cool completely. Break into pieces and store in a tightly covered container.

Christmas concert date at Cranbrook

Christ Church Cranbrook's annual Christmas concert will feature the 50-member Cantata Academy of Metropolitan Detroit singing songs synonymous with the season this Saturday, Dec. 19, at 8 p.m. Their theme is "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," encompassing the great sounds of Christmas music beginning with Rachmaninoff's "Gloria to God" and ending with "Gloria Deo Per Immensa Saecula" by Canadian composer Healey Willan.

Other selections range from a 16th century "Hosannah to the Son of David" by Orlando Gibbons to the modern "A Babe is Born" by the English composer William Matthias, who wrote music for the royal wedding.

The program's highlight will be audience participation in a trio of Christmas hymns: "O Come, O Come Emmanuel," "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks" and the English folk-song "What Child Is This?" or "Greensleeves."

Bruins bid for Silver Stick title

The Grosse Pointe Bruins hockey team will play for the Bantam AA Michigan regional Silver Stick championship this Saturday, Dec. 19, at 3:45 p.m. at St. Clair Shores Civic Arena.

Coach Tom Costello's Bruins qualified for the finals by defeating Taylor, 4-3, last week. The Bruins' opponent in the final will be Lansing, a team which pulled off a major upset by eliminating Sterling Heights in the semi-finals, 2-1.

Prior to the semi-finals against Taylor, Grosse Pointe completed a sweep of its division by blanking Lansing, 6-0, behind goalie Peter Muer's third shutout. The line of captain Stacey Rickert, Mike Brykalski and Tom Davis scored five goals to key the victory. Rickert produced the three goal hat trick while Davis and Brykalski each contributed one goal and two assists.

Rankin Barker scored the opening goal against Lansing, John Russell and Marty Sanelemente assisting. Defensemen Jeff Garrett and Chris Lungo also earned assists in the Lansing contest.

In the semi-final game, the Bruins defeated Taylor, 4-3, after falling behind, 2-0. Rickert started the comeback when he deflected a Russell pass high into the net. Russell produced a 2-2 second period tie five minutes later when he converted passes from Sanelemente and Tom Madden.

Entering the third period, Barker broke the tie with a strong backhanded shot after a solo rush to give the Bruins the 3-2 lead. Sanelemente added a goal from in front, assisted by Barker, for what proved to be the winner. Taylor scored again with one minute remaining. Goalie Dino Masella protected the margin to give the Bruins their shot at the championship.

All Pointes is eighth

By Earl Duignan

Sometimes it helps to be multi-talented. For example, it's sometimes helpful for swimming coaches to be schooled in the art of juggling. Not the kind of juggling that involves objects, but the kind that involves swimming event schedules.

The annual Macomb Marlin Holiday Invitational Relay tournament held at Mt. Clemens High School is an excellent case in point. Missing several key swimmers, All Pointes Swim Club coach John Temrowski spent most of the weekend juggling relay team line-ups to compensate for missing swimmers.

As a result, All Pointes captured 98 points, good for a lower-than-expected 8th place finish in a field of 10 teams. The host team Macomb Marlins, sparked by the efforts of a seemingly endless supply of accomplished butterfly strokers, walked off with first place honors just as they had done in the 1980 meet. Their total of 548 points far outdistanced the second place Utica Shelley team, which captured 361 points.

Without question the best scoring age bracket in this well organized event was the eight and under contingent. Despite suffering disqualification in the 100 yard breast/fly and back/free mixed relays, they nevertheless managed to record one first and two seconds in their five events during the two day meet.

Receiving three medals apiece for their efforts were the team of Andrew Bucciero, Sheri Buydens, David Arbury and Becca Suzor. They captured the 100 yard mixed free style relay in a time of 1:13.5 while recording seconds in the 100 yard mixed back and mixed medley relays with times of 1:32.72 and 1:29.29, respectively.

Efforts of the 10 and under group resulted in one second, a third, three fourths, a fifth, and a sixth in the 12 events it entered. In the very first event contested, the team of Kelly Duignan (back), Nora Brooks (breast), Ann Llewellyn (fly) and Denise Vittiglio (free) got the locals off to a good start by recording a 2:45.45 in the girls' 200 yard medley relay. The finish was good for a third place finish and medal.

Shortly thereafter, the team of Duignan, Amy Osborne, Kim Taylor and Kris Peslar captured a fourth place ribbon in the girls' 200 yard back/free relay with a time of 2:45.58.

The first day scoring in the 10 and under age bracket was completed when the mixed team of Dan Shante, Mike Bucciero, Vittiglio and Brooks captured a fifth place ribbon for their efforts in the 200 yard free relay with a time of 2:22.23.

The second day also began successfully for the All Pointes' 10 and under group as the team of Brooks, Llewellyn, Vittiglio and Peslar recorded a 2:25.47 enroute to capturing a second place medal in the girls' 200 yard free relay. Other 10 and under teams adding to the point total included Bucciero, Llewellyn, Brooks and Shante with a fourth place ribbon in the 200 yard mixed breast/fly relays (2:44.06); Duignan, Bucciero, Shante and Vittiglio with a sixth place ribbon in the 200 yard mixed back/free relay (2:34.8); and Shante, Bucciero, Llewellyn and Brooks with a 2:40.06 good for a fourth place finish in the 200 yard mixed medley relay.

In the over 10 age bracket only three All Pointes teams placed in the top six in their respective events. In first day action, the 200 yard boys' medley relay of Jim Berg, Jim Ledyard, John Bourget and Van Fleming swam to a third place finish in 2:16.17. The same foursome recorded another third place finish of 2:26.0 in the 200 yard back relay for their second medal winning performance of the day.

In the second day action Berg and Bourget were joined by Amy Abram and Sue Benoit to capture fourth place in the 200 yard mixed relay with a 2:10.37.

ULS to host tournament

University Liggett School will host its third annual Holiday Invitational Ice Hockey Tournament on Friday, Dec. 18 and Saturday, Dec. 19.

This year ULS will play Southgate Aquinas High School on Dec. 18 at 6 p.m., while at 8 p.m. Vincent Massey Secondary School from Windsor will take on Ridley College from St. Catharines, Ontario. In the past two years ULS has met Massey in the finals.

On Dec. 19, the consolation game will be at 6 p.m. and the championship game will be at 8 p.m. ULS varsity hockey coach Jay Peacock says this is one of the best line-up of teams and looks forward to the week-end competition.

ULS girls' basketball: The University Liggett girls varsity basketball team is enjoying a very successful season. Their record is currently 10-3.

In early November the girls entered the Huron Valley Invitational and won. This is especially significant because the team they defeated had been playing since August. University Liggett does not start girls' basketball until the first week in November.

This year, for the first time, the girls played in the state Class D tournament. They made it to the finals of the districts before losing to East Catholic.

The 1981 team consists of seniors Janet Bristor, Kathy Duff, Kathy Hull, Amy McDonnell, Kelly Kirkpatrick; juniors Andrea Kincannon, Tina Beizai, Gia Cherpes and Karen Walker; sophomores Ruth McCrary; and freshman Samantha DeSmet.

JV basketball: The University Liggett School girls' junior varsity basketball team won its last three games to bring its record to 5-1. The squad overpowered Kingswood, 24-11, with 14 points coming from sophomore Lisa VanDellian, and two each from junior Lee Salot and freshman Gillian Darlow.

The team then beat Academy of the Sacred Heart, 13-7. Points were scored in that game by Van Dellian eight, Cherpes, three and juniors Dianna Alcantara and Suzy Catry, one each. Alcantara and freshman Laura Stefanski did a fine job of controlling the offense.

On Dec. 11, the Knights defeated Maumee of Ohio, 15-14. That game went into double overtime and ULS pulled it out in the last minute. A great display of rebounding was put on by senior Katja Witstok and freshman Gina Dodge. Points were scored by junior Monica Brane, six, Cherpes five and Darlow, five.

Norsemen win second

By Paul Regelbrugge
North High

After falling to Utica Ford, 44-36, North's varsity basketball team rebounded to defeat L'Anse Creuse 48-47 in overtime last week. The win gave the Norsemen a 2-1 record with both wins coming at home.

North trailed at the half, 26-22, against L'Anse Creuse before taking a 34-31 lead into the fourth quarter. In this quarter North's guests managed to tie the score and send the game into overtime. Chris Neal's three point play and Dan Sheridan's last second bucket earned the Norsemen the important victory.

Seniors Neal and Sheridan led North's scorers with 17 and 12 points respectively while Marty Alwardt of L'Anse Creuse hooped 16 points.

In the Utica Ford game, Sheridan scored 14 points and Keith Thams hauled down six rebounds in the losing effort. Thams played very well defensively.

"Losing by eight points against Ford isn't at all indicative of the way the game was played," said coach Ray Ritter. "We played a good first half, especially on defense and I was pleased with the way we performed being that it was our first road game, but we seemed to lack intensity in the second half."

After the L'Anse Creuse game coach Ritter said, "Coming back made me happy. We played well again defensively and Neal's three points in overtime really lifted us. Our scoring is pretty much spread out right now which is good but we'll need more consistency from our big scorers (Sheridan, Pflaum and Neal). I'm not really concerned about it though because it'll come."

North's next home game will be on Jan. 15 against Clintondale at 7:30 p.m.

North Wrestling: North placed fourth out of eight teams in the East Detroit Invitational before winning two of three matches in its second triple-dual match of the young season. The wins came over Troy Athens, 46-15, and Warren Woods, 42-26, prior to a loss at the hands of Southgate Aquinas, 45-19.

Junior Greg Fleming returned as champion for the second consecutive year at East Detroit, winning the gold medal. Getting second place finishes were Matt Simon, Jon Baker and Todd Leigh while Dan Armstrong was third.

Against Troy Athens the Norsemen got pins from Dave and Greg Fleming, and Jon Baker. Other big winners were Matt Simon, Pat Marlow, Dave Baleirak and Dan Armstrong. Getting their second pins of the evening against Warren Woods were the Fleming brothers while Pete Moody, Marlow and Craig Pascoe also notched pin wins. Simon and Armstrong were victorious as well.

Armstrong won his third match of the night against Aquinas while Moody and heavyweight Leigh, who won despite giving up 30 lbs. to his opponent, aided the Norsemen.

The junior varsity won its first match of the year when it downed Troy Athens, 32-24. Pinning their opponents were Armstrong, Cedric Patton, George Kasa and Tad Dickie. Other big winners were Frank Sgroi

Shores' Polizzi ends brilliant field hockey career

Vibion College senior Tomasine Polizzi, of the Shores concluded an outstanding intercollegiate field hockey career early in December as a participant in the U.S. Field Hockey Festival '81 national tournament in Orlando, Fla. Polizzi played on the Great Lakes region first team.

Polizzi, already named an honorable mention selection on the USA Field Hockey's Mitchell and Ness College All-American team, closed out her career at Albion as the most prolific scorer in the school's history and holder of four Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) scoring records.

"Tomasine's records prove her to be an excellent scorer," said coach Charlotte Duff. "But I want to emphasize the fact she's an unselfish total team player. She is a leader by example on and off the field as a superior player, fine sportswoman and excellent student."

Polizzi's career MIAA records include: most points (99); most goals (46); single-season record for most goals (17); and the single game record for goals in a game, achieved when she drilled home seven shots against Olivet in 1980.

During her four-year career at Albion, Polizzi led the Britons through three undefeated league championship campaigns, two regional playoff berths, and a 24-2-2 four-year league record. In 64 career matches she has scored 73 goals, including 17 goals in 17 matches this season. She was named Most Valuable Player in 1979 and selected as co-captain for the 1981 season.

This fall marked the second time that Polizzi was selected for the Great Lakes team. As a freshman she earned a position on the Great Lakes region second team; Albion's team participation in Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) regional tournaments prevented her from tryouts during her sophomore and junior years.

Polizzi is the only MIAA player on the Great Lakes first team. The team is primarily comprised of college graduates and current Division I and II players from Michigan.

As Polizzi finishes her athletic career at Albion, she will also exit with a number of other extracurricular and academic accomplishments. She is a member and vice president of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and president of Albion's Panhellenic Council. A history-management double major, her honors include Mortar Board, Albion's scholarship and service honorary, Omicron Delta Epsilon, the honorary for economics, a two-time recipient of the President's Project 250 Award, a member of the 1981 Homecoming Court and community service recognition.

She is a 1978 graduate of the University Liggett School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Polizzi, of Webber Place. Another Polizzi daughter, Angela, also attends Albion as a member of the class of 1983.

Hornets' Caputo honored

Grosse Pointe North High School graduate John Caputo has been named "Most Valuable Freshman" by his Kalamazoo College football teammates. Caputo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Caputo, of Roslyn Road, received the honor at a November awards dinner at the college. He played defensive right tackle as a starter for the Hornets, who finished fourth in the MIAA this season.

Warm up for winter fun

A full season of winter sports fun should be the reward for sports buffs who get a head start on conditioning their bodies, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

and agility and increases the odds for falls which may result in injury.

"Cross-country and downhill skiing and other winter sports activities require sports enthusiasts to get in shape before beginning these strenuous activities," states Walter Zeiler, Auto Club's MemberLife manager. "Lack of proper preparation could cause injuries severe enough to halt a person's winter sports participation."

"Conditioning the muscles used in a particular sport is the best way to avoid injuries and work toward peak performance," Zeiler says. "Amateurs should not expect overnight results since world-class skiers often put in 15 years of work before qualifying for Olympic teams."

Cross-country skiing primarily is an endurance sport which requires strength and stamina. It involves heavy use of arms and shoulders and the muscles which control the waist, abdomen, buttocks, calves and ankles.

"Jogging is a good conditioner for building up endurance for cross-country skiing," Zeiler notes. Downhill skiing requires power, balance and agility. It places the greatest stress on the waist, abdomen and thighs.

Leg strength is important to safe and skillful downhill and cross-country skiing. Fatigue reduces balance

Pointe's Coluni in Wooster role

Grosse Pointe's Barbara "Bohbi" Coluni is a member of the College of Wooster's Scotties, a team which earned a first-place seed at the national field hockey tournament. The Scotties won the midwest regionals and finished in second place in the Ohio finals after compiling a 18-4 record. They fell in the national semi-finals, 1-0, to the Lynchburg Hornets then defeated SUNY-Brockport, 2-1, to finish in third place in the nation—the highest finish ever recorded by a Wooster hockey team. Coluni, a sophomore Urban Studies major, scored four goals at her forward position on the Scotties. A Pittsford, N.Y., native, Coluni is the daughter of Valentine and Virginia Coluni, of Lincoln Road. The College of Wooster Scotties connected for 109 goals in 222 games while holding their opponents to 18 goals, enroute to their second appearance in the nationals in the past three years.

Grosse Pointe Hockey Association

By Brad Tisdale

Grosse Pointe hockey has produced its first National Hockey League player. John Van Biesbrouck, who played Bantam travel hockey for the Grosse Pointe Community Rink in 1976-77, is a member of the New York Rangers. Van Biesbrouck was called up from the minor leagues two weeks ago. He started in the nets for the Rangers against the Colorado Rockies last week and posted a 2-1 win while stopping 20 shots.

Leonard Smith, Grosse Pointe Hockey Association secretary, was Van Biesbrouck's coach in 1976 when the team was District III and state minor champion. "John was an outstanding goalie for us . . . something special," Smith said.

Grosse Pointe community hockey is alive and well through the efforts of dedicated coaches who put forth the many hours of on-ice training; and through the help of sponsors, who pay the costs.

"It takes a lot of money to keep the program going," says Ron Warezak, director of sponsors for the GPHA. There has been tremendous support from the community and from local merchants who donate a minimum of $400 to sponsor a GPHA team. Among the sponsors who have made the GPHA's program possible through their support of 27 teams are, for the Mites: Canadiens—Lake-side Dental Supply, Jay Kiskalt, coach; Flyers—Continental Aluminum, Evans Telegadas, coach; Maple Leafs—G.P.D., Inc., John Ban, coach; Rangers—Central Transport, Bill Quinn, coach; Red Wings—Merrill-Lynch, Toby Leith, coach; Seals—Joe Muer Sea Food, Rick Semack, coach, and Storks—B & H Deliveries, John Hall, coach.

Sponsors and coaches in the Pee Wee division include: Hawks—Dunkin Donuts, John Aley, coach; Flyers—Sonar Professional, Peter Hoffman, coach; Islanders—Taylor Gaskin Co., Ben Chapman, coach; Red Wings—Conner Park Florist, Lance Gottfredson, coach; Titans—Spirits of Grosse Pointe, Gary Berger, coach.

At the Bantam house level, sponsors and coaches are Blues—Colonial Federal Savings, Lou Suvak, coach; North Stars—Mourad and Elrod, Arnie Stenzel, coach.

In Midget house play, it's the Blues—M & B Products, Rick Carlson, coach; and the Wolverines—Garrett Computer Service, Earl Cleland, coach. In Junior, Blues—Bonanza, Grosse Pointe Woods, Bill Wilson, coach.

In GPHA travel hockey, the Squirt AA Blues are sponsored by K Tool, and Valerie Jewelers and coached by Bob Nesler. The Pee Wee A Blues are coached by Harry Jewett and sponsored by Michigan Truck Spring. The Pee Wee AA Blues are sponsored by Northern Group Services and coached by Dick Bohan and Rick Carlson. The Bantam A Marlies are coached by Sam Clogg, Dick Bohan and Bob Nesler and sponsored by Michigan Truck Spring. The Bantam AA Bruins are sponsored by William C. Dietzel, Co., and coached by Tom Costello.

A seven game week resulted in big changes in the Mite House standings. The Canadiens continue to lead the league at the midway point of the first half of the season. The Seals and Rangers each took two wins to move into a fourth place tie, with the Seals holding a slight advantage in statistics.

Team	W	L	T	Pts.	GFGA
Canadiens	5	0	1	11	7
Flyers	4	2	0	8	19
Red Wings	2	1	3	7	15
Seals	2	3	1	5	16
Rangers	2	3	1	5	14
Storks	1	3	2	4	18
Maple Leafs	0	4	2	2	9

Rangers-Seals
Peter Bourke and Brian Quinn each scored a goal in the third period to lead the Rangers to a 3-1 victory over the Seals. Mike Klobuchar opened up the game with a goal in the first minute for the Seals. The Seals used six attackers in the last three minutes of the game, but Stefan Tietge stood his ground in the Ranger nets and held on for the win.

Star teams open 1981-82 basketball season with wins

Our Lady Star of the Sea's seventh and eighth grade boys' basketball team opened its season against St. Jude last week with a 30-29 loss. Star jumped to a quick 5-0 lead, then gave up 13 unanswered points. Pat Brennan hit for six points late in the second quarter to put Star back in the game. At halftime St. Jude led Star, 18-10.

St. Jude held on to its six point lead for the entire third and most of the fourth quarter. In the closing minutes of the game, Star's press forced costly St. Jude turnovers allowing Star the opportunity to score and tie the game with the help of Craig Coma's free throw shooting. In the final seconds of the game Jim St.

Seals-Maple Leafs

The Seals rebounded to capture their first win of the season, topping the Leafs, 3-1. Jeff Osborne opened the scoring in the first period, Danny Lefebvre assisting. A second period goal by the Leafs' Cullen McMahon, assisted by Lanny Tracy and Kip Gottfredson, tied it up, but Klobuchar took a pass from John Morreale to score the winning goal in the third period. Greg Semack added an insurance goal on a breakaway in the final period.

Storks-Flyers

The Storks hit the win column for the first time, beating the Flyers, 5-2, in a fast-moving game. Gabe Erickson and Tommy Rajt each notched a pair of goals after Brad Warezak had opened the scoring. Don Deseranno had both Flyer goals. Goalie Jeff Torrice kept the high-scoring Flyers to two goals with the strong defensive help of Jason Hall, John Okray, Kevin Boehm, Brian Dennis and Chris Crain.

Canadiens-Rangers

The Canadiens overcame a 1-1 tie at the end of the second period to win, 2-1, and record their fifth win of the season. The game featured strong defensive play and tight checking.

Rangers-Maple Leafs

The Rangers bounced back to turn the tables on the Maple Leafs, 4-1. The Rangers mounted a strong attack and held the Leafs to just one goal.

Seals-Storks

Klobuchar scored seven seconds after the opening faceoff to lead the Seals to a 6-3 victory. Brad Warezak scored two for the Storks and Klobuchar added another Seal goal before Jeff Osborne and John Morreale put the Seals ahead for good. Morreale's goal came when he took a pass from Matt Spicer and whistled a shot from center ice. Gabe Erickson, Gary Spicer and Louie Tallierico scored final goals.

Flyers-Red Wings

The Red Wings struggled back from a 3-1 deficit, but came up just short of a tie, losing to the Flyers, 5-4, in a thriller. The Flyers' "B" line did all the scoring with Jody Hartling recording four goals and Marcel Chagnon adding one. Robbie Wiercerkowski scored a hat trick for the Wings; Jason Battaglia added the other Red Wing tally.

SQUITS

Team	W	L	T	Pts.
Canadiens	6	1	1	13
Whalers	6	2	1	13
Bruins	4	3	0	8
Islanders	2	5	0	4
North Stars	1	7	0	2

Whalers-Canadiens

Cecil Lepard scored the first goal for the Whalers, who went on to defeat the Canadiens, 3-1. Shannon Peralta and Jason Weid drew assists. Lepard scored again in the first period, Peralta assisting. Doug Wood scored an unassisted goal in the third period. Billy Aurand played well in goal for the Whalers. The Whalers' Dan Grundman was named outstanding player of the game.

Whalers-Islanders

Lisandro Lorenzini scored five minutes into the game, Wood and Weid assisting, to lead the Whalers to a 5-2 win over the Islanders. Other Whaler goals came from Lepard, Peter Cueter and Lorenzini. Assists went to Peralta and Lorenzini. Aurand was in the nets for the Whalers. Lorenzini was named the game's outstanding player for his two-goal performance.

PEE WEE

The Pee Wee House Red Wings had a busy week, collecting two wins, one loss and one tie. Mike Crain, Robbie Hydon and Tim Jerome were Red Wing stars this week; each notched several scoring points.

The five-team Pee Wee House division will be featured in the News next week. Each team carries 15 skaters. Pee Wee hockey is open to children 11 or 12 years of age. There are also two Pee Wee travel teams entered in the GPHA this season.

Nuyen plays for Smith

Lisa Nuyen, a sophomore at Smith College and the daughter of Kim and Carolyn Nuyen, of Moran Road, has completed her second full season on the Smith College tennis team. The spring, 1981 recipient of the most improved player award, Nuyen has played the No. 1 doubles position with Karen Kester this fall. Her coach, Christine Davis is pleased with Lisa's performance. "She is a highly coachable and hard-working player who has learned solid doubles positioning. She has a good dual match record dropping matches only to Tufts, Brown, UMASS, and Springfield." In addition to enjoying the best season in Smith College history with a 9-2 record last fall, Smith's tennis team ranked sixth among 39 colleges participating in the 1981 New England Women's Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament.

Marlies fall in tourney semi-finals

The Grosse Pointe Marlboro Bantam A hockey team played excellent hockey to reach the semi-final round of the Silver Stick Tournament—only to lose a 3-2 heartbreaker to Fraser on Dec. 13.

The Marlies had reached the play-off round on Dec. 11 by virtue of a 2-2 tie with Livonia. Grosse Pointe broke out on top in this game and again led midway through the second period, only to have Livonia come roaring back for the tie.

Walter Connolly provided all the Marlie scoring, with Greg Henchel and Bob Rogers assisting on the first goal and Joe Sullivan and George Jerome setting up the second tally.

The Dec. 13 semi-final game was a see-saw battle with Grosse Pointe coming from behind twice to tie the contest. Fraser and the Marlies each scored twice in the first period. Jamie Parker got the Marlies' first goal after taking a nice pass from Sullivan.

After Fraser took a 2-1 lead, Kevin Tisdale set up Jeff LeFebvre at the blue line and he blasted a 40-footer to tie the game before Fraser scored in the third period for the win. Goalies Coley Connolly and Al Vandeweghe split the net-minding chores and were outstanding for the Marlies in tournament play.

St. Paul cagers win two of four

In a see-saw battle, St. Paul's 58er boys' team No. 1 outlasted Star of the Sea to a 23-19 basketball victory. This brings their record to 2-0. Tim Fellows led the attack in the fourth quarter with seven points, followed by Matt Frame and Mike Coffey with six points each. Sam Steinhel and Mike Finch sparked the team with exceptional defensive play.

Also increasing their record to 2-0 were the 78er girls' who defeated Star of the Sea, 24-9. Leading scorer in that contest was Becky Steffes with seven points.

In other basketball action, the 58er boys' team No. 2 lost to Our Lady Help of Christians, 34-20. Paul Chase lead all scorers with 12 points, followed by Bill Ishey, Tim Clark and John Colby. Sean Cleland, Lew Echlin and Ulysses Cruz had fine defensive games. The 58er girls suffered the same fate against a strong Star of the Sea team, 16-4. The 78er boys also lost to Star of the Sea, 32-22.

Star led the entire first half but couldn't manage a bucket in the third quarter allowing St. Jude to go ahead, 15-14. Four Star players hit key fourth quarter buckets while the defense held St. Jude scoreless to give Star the 23-15 win.

Michelle McCarron had 11 points to pace Star's offensive attack. Michelle Calceatara added six points, Marybeth Simon hit for four and Marissa Bautista rounded out the scoring with two. C. Gerbe was the high scorer for St. Jude with six.

In a miraculous win Star's fifth/sixth grade girls overcame an 8-0

South cagers win first

South's varsity cagers finished up their second week of play with one loss against Notre Dame, 39-28 and one win against Utica Ford, 54-49.

On Dec. 8, the boys took on Notre Dame. South was leading through the first half and in the beginning of the fourth quarter. Later in the fourth quarter they fell behind. "We lost because we just did not execute," coach George Petrouleas said after the game. Top scorer was Bill Winzer with 12 points.

The game against Utica Ford was more successful. In spite of 28 turnovers, the cagers succeeded in beating Ford.

"This game was better than the Notre Dame game. We played aggressively with integrity and we responded well. We executed well," Petrouleas said. Top scorers were Dave Neager with 14 points and Tom Gentile with 13.

The team visited Warren Cousino Dec. 15 (after press time).

JV basketball: Opening against three very tough teams, South's junior varsity basketball team closed its first week of play at 1-2. The JV lost its opener to Highland Park, 65-32. Steve Carrier scored nine points and hauled down five rebounds in a losing effort.

The next game proved to be just as disappointing, as 18 turnovers cost the Devils dearly in a 57-33 defeat to Notre Dame. The JV finally got it together Dec. 11, winning a 43-41 squeaker over previously undefeated Utica Ford.

Pete Toenjes blocked seven shots and Carrier snatched 13 boards and scored 12 points to highlight the performance. Shawn Whelan also dished off three assists and Tom King and Chip Ranno played well off the bench. The JV was scheduled to face Warren Cousino away at 6:30 on Dec. 15 (after press time). By Kevin Roberts.

Freshman basketball: Finishing the week with a 500 record, the freshman basketball team polished off Notre Dame, 37-27, in the season opener on Dec. 8, before falling, 46-42, to Oakwood on Dec. 11.

In the Notre Dame win, Alex Mellos scored 13 points to lead the team and Rick Whitney and Rick Waugaman pumped in 12 and seven points in the victory.

Despite coming out on the losing end of the Oakwood contest, the frosh still had two players in double figures. Rich Lochbiller and Whitney each scored 10 points and Waugaman contributed seven. The freshman will take on Bishop Gallagher today, Dec. 17 at 4 p.m. (By Kevin Roberts).

South sports awards: South High School ends a successful season of fall sports competition this week and several teams have already given out awards.

Girls' cross country: Most Valuable were Juniors Jill Tingley and Suzanne Cebrowski. Most Improved was sophomore Kathy Mastrolanni. Named to All-League status were Tingley, Cebrowski and freshman Megan McCoy.

Boys' cross country: Senior captain Chris Pellerito finished seventh in the RML (Eastern Michigan League) championships. Most improved was Gerry Rebeschini and Most valuable was Nigel Orton.

Varsity football: Named to All-League status were senior Tom Keane and junior Ken Fromm on first team defense and senior Steve Srebernak on first team offense. Second team members were Jim Hartman on defense and Jim Arnold and Steve Westcott on offense. All-League honorable mention nominations went to Harold Cote, Steve Carrier and Jamie Keogh.

Team awards went to Hartman as Most Valuable Player and Cotes as Most Improved. Named as outstanding defensive front was Keane and Fromm as outstanding defensive back. Outstanding defensive linebacker was Srebernak, and outstanding offensive linebacker was Keogh. The outstanding

Pointers play for Kalamazoo

Four Pointe athletes will play for Kalamazoo College winter sports teams this season. On the men's basketball roster for 1981-82 is senior Norm Van Sile. Van Sile is a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate and a Kalamazoo College letter winner. He plays guard for the Hornets.

Another South alumnus, Steve Klonke, returns this year for his third season on the Hornet swim team. Klonke swam the backstroke. Abbey Frame is another Kalamazoo swimmer. The Park native swims the freestyle and breaststroke events for the Hornets. She is a senior and a Kalamazoo letter winner.

Kalamazoo freshman Mike Clune will wrestle in the 194-pound class for the Hornet wrestling team. Clune is a North High graduate.

deficit to pull out a 10-8 victory over St. Jude.

Star's girls couldn't penetrate the key the first half, however, during half-time they reworked their offense and played flawless defense in the second half to win.

Kristin Parish and Nancy Schulte each hit for four points in the game while Beth Allor contributed two points for Stars' total output.

and Buster Lucido.

Varsity Cheerleaders: Coach Linda Ritter's varsity cheerleaders attended the National High School Cheerleading Championships Regional Competition at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio two weeks ago. There were 38 squads from 10 states vying for the prestigious title.

North won the Blue Ribbon in the first round, automatically qualifying the girls for the final round of competition. In this round Greenup County, Ky. emerged as champion. Greenup was last year's national winner.

The North team members include: Sue Houtekier, Mary Ann Elanges, Pam Clune, Cathy Stoekel, Kathy Gowen, Karen Gowen, Laura Joseph, Gayle Gagliardi, Suzie Dickinson, Tammy Johnston, Amy Shea and Susanne Snow.

JV Cheerleaders: The junior varsity cheerleaders, headed by Marie Ulmer, went to a competition at Madison Heights High School on Nov. 22, and placed second in Class "A." The freshmen also finished in second place in the same competition for ninth graders. Sally Snethkamp is this year's freshman coach.

The JV then went to Pontiac's Silverdome and again placed second out of 36 squads from throughout the state.

Basketball: The junior varsity Norsemen fell to Sterling Heights, 54-53, with just four seconds left on the clock. The team dropped its second straight to Utica Ford, 50-38.

Tim Sheridan and Mike Hall led the way with 21 and 20 points respectively against Sterling Heights. The Utica Ford contest saw Chris Bingham score 12 points and Sheridan 10 in the defeat.

The freshmen were routed by DeLaSalle, 58-32, despite Art Szymanski's 18 point performance.

Japanese says U.S. students more independent

By Megan Bonanni

"I came here to become more independent. If I have any difficulties, I have to solve them myself. This will help me become more independent," said Shegeo Kotake of Fukui, Japan. As an exchange student, at South High School, Shegeo's home for the next year will be Grosse Pointe.

Shegeo, 18, is sponsored by AFS (American Field Service), and he is staying with the James Nicholson Family of Cloverly Road.

Shegeo admits that his decision to come to the United States was difficult. "At first it was really hard for me to make friends," Shegeo said. "Now it's easy to make friends. Everyone is so friendly."

Shegeo, however, does not miss Japan. He feels this is the case because of his host family. "My family here is so nice. I am part of the family so I don't really miss Japan."

Shegeo, a senior at South, says there are differences between school in Japan and school here. For example, in Japan you can only choose a few classes.

Shegeo also feels the whole school system is different. In Japan you don't change classes. Instead you are in a classroom with the same 40 students all day long for the whole year and teachers move from class to class. Shegeo feels this system has certain advantages and disadvantages. "When you are in a class with the same people, you can make very close friendships. On the other hand, if you meet someone that is in a different classroom it's hard to see those friends," he said.

Shegeo was also shocked to find that tests are given often in American schools. In Japan, each student takes six large tests a year for each class.

Homework is another thing that Shegeo feels is different in Japan. "In America the teachers give you a lot of homework. I also found that the American students seem to work harder at their homework," he said.

Shegeo says the United States is different in numerous ways other than school. He believes that the kids here are more independent. "American kids have part-time jobs, whereas in Japan part-time jobs are rare. American kids make their own money for themselves. This makes them more independent." This independency is one of the main reasons Shegeo came to this country.

Traditions are a major part of Japanese culture. Here Shegeo has found that these strict traditions don't exist. "In Japan, some people feel they have to follow these strict traditions. But I believe that the Japanese are slowly becoming more like Americans." Even if Japan is becoming more and more American, there are some traditions still practiced after thousands of years, including arranged marriages. Shegeo says that this is practiced by approximately 30 percent of the people.

Shegeo is fond of American food. He is used to the traditional Japanese food, consisting of fish and rice three times a day. Here, he has found a liking for popcorn, peanut butter and cookies.

With all of the differences between the American and Japanese cultures, Shegeo has found one thing is universal — the people. "In detail, people may be a bit different, but at large, people are the same no matter what country they come from. This has been my big discovery here," Shegeo said.

Shegeo feels that his year in the United States will be very special. He knows that the friendships that he has made here will be lasting. "Even when I return to Japan, the people that I have gotten to know here will still be my good friends and will not be forgotten."

Holiday tax deductions for business owners

Even the good cheer of the holidays spreads throughout the office these days. Businesses give time off and many owners and managers give gifts or bonuses to clients and employees. Important tax dollars can be saved if the guidelines for federal tax deductions on those gifts are understood, according to The Michigan Association of CPAs.

The annual ceiling on deductions for business gifts is $25 per recipient, not including the price of monogramming or personalizing the present, gift wrapping, insurance, mail or delivery, unless this adds value to the gift.

It's important to note that a gift to a spouse or family of a business associate or employee is still counted as a gift to the person you dealt with, unless you have a second, separate business relationship with the spouse or family members. Only people associated with you professionally are entitled to tax-deductible gifts.

A similar situation exists when you give a gift to a business associate and a separate gift to the company. If your associate is an executive and your company gift is meant specifically for this person, although it is in the company's name, the IRS still views it as a gift to the person. However, it is a separate deduction if you give the gift for the general use of all employees, the CPAs say.

There are exceptions to the $25 limit, and several items which you should not count in the tally for gifts.

For example, many small business owners, as well as larger corporations, give away display racks or posters that constitute merchandising aids. Do not include the cost of these when figuring your expense for gifts. Items with the company's name permanently and clearly displayed do not count as business gifts if they are promotional items which cost no more than $4 apiece. Promotional items include such things as cigarette lighters, calendars and pens.

Some business gifts such as liquor, food, tickets to the theater and sporting events can be deducted as either entertainment expenses or gifts. For example, if you buy wine as a gift for business associates but celebrate the holidays by drinking it together, the wine must count as an entertainment expense on which there is no limit. When you give such gifts and do not share with the recipient, the cost can be counted as either a business gift or an entertainment expense.

As generous as you may feel during the holiday season, don't forget your gift expenses must be justified to the satisfaction of the IRS to qualify for deductions. Keep track of gift expenses as for all other business deductions. Also keep a journal of amounts spent and what they are for.

Twelfth car gone from 7-Mack lots

A Harper Woods woman became the twelfth victim of auto theft this year Tuesday, Nov. 24, in the parking lots of St. John Hospital and the 7-Mack shopping center.

The woman, a J.C. Penney employee, told Harper Woods police she parked her white 1981 Dodge Mirada K-car in the west parking lot next to the St. John lot about noon that day, and upon returning to the lot about 9 p.m. that evening discovered it missing.

The woman told police she had parked in the lot after being told by her employers that during the Christmas season, J.C. Penney employees were to park in that area. The theft occurred on the first day of the order.

Harvard home hit by robbers

A Park home was robbed by a very determined thief or thieves early in December who broke two windows, pried a door and forced open storm screens before gaining entry by climbing up a downspout to a second floor porch, according to police reports.

Coins, jewelry, a child's piggy bank and television set were reported missing in the burglary which occurred between 6 and 10 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 4, on the 1100 block of Harvard, according to Police Chief Henry Coonce.

Coonce said the thief dumped a bag of garbage on the floor and apparently used the bag to carry his loot. Neighbors reported seeing no unusual activity around the house while its residents were out. One nearby resident said their doorbell was rung, about 8 p.m., but when they answered, no one was in sight.

as well as the business title of the person you send them to and the business relationship you share.

While most business gifts are given to associates in other companies, you can take a deduction for business gifts within your own organization. For example, if you are a district sales manager who gives your traveling salespeople business gifts to enhance your working relationship, you can deduct these costs as a business expense. The same $25 limit per person applies. However, if you give cash to your workers as holiday bonuses, they must report this gift as income and pay taxes on it, the CPAs say.

Watch hobby, says Social Security

An activity pursued as a hobby, and therefore not covered under Social Security, should not be confused with a trade or business, according to James T. Moslener, district manager of the local Social Security office at 17420 Mack Avenue.

For example, an individual may buy and sell postage stamps or raise pigeons, but these activities do not constitute a trade or business unless the person is engaged in it primarily to make a profit.

Although there is no specific definition for trade or business, there are a number of guidelines that can help determine one, Moslener said.

First, the activity must be started and carried on with the intention of making a profit or producing an income.

Second, the activity must be carried on with some degree of regularity; that is, it must be a continuing operation.

Third, it must be the individual's regular line of work or occupation and one engaged in intending to earn a living or make a profit.

Finally, the person must present him or herself to the public as selling of goods or services, or both.

The conclusion whether a person is actively engaged in a trade or business is drawn from all these factors; while all do not have to be satisfied, any one of them standing alone is insufficient to show the existence of a trade or business.

"The owner of a business need not be personally and directly involved," Moslener said. "He or she can carry on the business through employees. The length of time the person devotes to the activity is more important in determining whether a trade or business exists. However, time is a less important factor where the activity is seasonal in nature."

Additional information about the distinction between a hobby and a business, and about Social Security coverage for self-employed people, can be obtained from the Social Security office, or by telephoning the Social Security information number at 493-1111.

Rising hospital costs hike Medicare insurance

Last year, hospital costs continued to rise, and as a result, the Medicare hospital insurance deductible and daily amounts paid by inpatients must go up for 1982, according to James T. Moslener, district manager of the local Social Security office, 17420 Mack Avenue.

For benefit periods in 1982, the Medicare hospital insurance deductible and daily amounts paid by inpatients will be:

• $260, up from $204, for the first 60 days in the hospital (hospital insurance deductible).

• $65 a day, up from $51, for the 61st through the 90th day in the hospital.

• $130 a day, from $102, for the 91st through the 120th day in the hospital.

• $32.50 a day, up from $25.50, for the 121st through the 100th day in a skilled nursing facility.

According to Moslener, the increased deductible represents the higher average cost of one day of hospital care. The daily amounts paid for a hospital stay of more than 60 days or for a long stay in a skilled facility represents a percentage of the deductible.

Because of the increase in hospital costs, Medicare will be paying more for care for inpatients.

The law requires an annual review of the cost of hospital services under Medicare. When these costs go up, law requires the same rate of increase

Math students take test honors

Ten of North High School's top mathematicians recently participated in the 24th Annual Santa Clara Mathematics Examination. The examination is open only to regularly enrolled students in high schools of the United States and Canada or American School abroad, who have not received a high school diploma. The students participating from North this year include: William Aro, Douglas Bastianelli, Kimberly Cooper, David Fobare, Stanley Kong, Margaret Krolkowski, Alex Rothlis, Michael Skaff, D'Ann Stemmlen and Matt Wishart.

The examination tests general mathematical potential and ingenuity. An attempt is made to keep the amount of formal knowledge required for this test as small as possible so that all interested students, regardless of their year in school, have an opportunity to compete successfully. Prizes are awarded to the top two entrants, and an honorable mention list is also published.

in the hospital insurance deductible and daily amounts paid by inpatient beneficiaries to help keep the program financially sound.

More information about Medicare changes can be obtained either by contacting the Social Security office or by telephoning the Social Security information number at 493-1111.

ULS biology class visits Wayne lab

University Liggett School's ninth grade biology class attended "An Afternoon with the Scientists" at Wayne State University Nov. 13, and toured a comparative anatomy lab where they observed the dissection of a cat. The instructor also gave a brief lecture and demonstration on the evolutionary relationship of animals.

After viewing the electron microscope lab, upper schoolers listened to an explanation about the various equipment and were allowed to operate one of the highly complex instruments. Each student was given an electron photomicrograph to take home.

A scientist involved in research on sickle cell anemia explained his work to the upper schoolers and showed on a TV monitor how cells sickle under different oxygen conditions. The mini-lecture was followed by a tour of the research lab and demonstration of a computer graphics printout on a protein sample.

A tour of the Natural History Museum was followed by a brief explanation of how specimens for the museum were prepared.

"This trip was taken to broaden the experiences of science-oriented students and to see in real life the labs and activities of different kinds of scientists," said biology teacher Doris Ranke.

Pointers elected

The Board of Trustees of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan (CHPC-SEM) recently elected 21 of its members to one-year terms on the agency's Executive Committee.

Included were Grosse Pointes Roger Mecum, of the Farms, executive director of the Wayne County Medical Society, and Barbara Gattorn, of the Shores, a Wayne County Charter Commissioner.

Their terms begin Jan. 1, 1982.
