Wind storm's victim

Winds gusting up to 45 mph brought this long time resident of the Pointe to an untimely end earlier this week when it crashed down in front of a home in the 170 block of Ridge Road. No one was injured in the mishap, although one small window was broken on the home and minor damages were reported to one car. Damages were relatively light throughout the community with police reporting several downed power lines and a rash of false burglary alarms from the high winds.

Woods supports new district court

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Grosse Pointe Woods City Council became the first of the five Pointes to support by resolution the creation of a district court in 1983.

The council voted at its Jan. 4 meeting to send the State Court Administrator's office a resolution voicing its support for the court that would replace the five municipal courts in the Pointe, even though questions of funding and location have yet to be settled.

In a letter to the council, City Administrator Chester Petersen said that after a cursory review of the operating budgets for other district courts, he estimated the annual budget of the new court, if established, would be $265,000 which included the leasing of a building.

"Assuming the costs were prorated among the five participating cities on a population basis," the letter read, "the city would pay 38.99 percent of the court's total operating budget, or approximately $98,434 for the first year."

That would be a 72 percent increase over the present municipal court budget, he said.

Those increases could be offset, Petersen wrote, by increases in revenues generated by the district court. If the building selected had enough room to house a centralized public safety dispatching center, the city could also save an extra $65,000, he noted.

But, Petersen warned, the city would have no control over salaries, fringe benefits and the number of court employees, and added that the new district judge could, if case-load required, appoint a magistrate, with the cities picking up the additional costs.

Councilman Robert Novitke offered a tabling motion that failed, 4-3, on the basis, he said, that the city may find itself in a position of having a court it can't afford.

"BEFORE WE adopt this resolution," he said, "we should be sure we can afford this district court. I think we're doing a disservice by passing this resolution without knowing the cost."

Novitke also asked whether the five municipal clerks would be grandfathered in, or hired by the new district judge, leaving the court with one judge and five clerks.

Councilman Frederick Lovelace, who worked on the committee which put together and discussed the legislation dealing with the new court, said only three clerks who were involved full-time with the present municipal courts could be grandfathered into the new court.

He also expressed confidence that, like the present municipal court in the Woods, the proposed district court could generate more in revenue than it costs.

Councilman Jean Rice supported Lovelace on the resolution and, although voting for the tabling motion, said that possibly the other municipalities were just waiting for one city to take the initiative.

"I don't pretend to realize all the ramifications of this," she said, "but you can never get a hold on what it's going to cost. I think we have to move slowly, carefully, cautiously."

Later in the discussion, Mrs. Rice said "if it takes a resolution like this passed by all the councils to get the city managers to talk about it, then I think we should pass it, because that's what we have to do—talk about it."

All five Pointe municipalities must pass resolutions similar to the Woods' by May in order for the district court to be put in place. If that happens, election of a judge will be held in November, and the court would go into operation Jan. 1, 1983.

The Grosse Pointe court bill was sponsored by Sen. John Kelly and has been approved by the Senate.

Board will take stand on tax issue in March

By Joanne Gouleche

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education was asked Monday to take a position on the issue of a summer tax collection in the school district by this March.

School Supt. Ken Brummel told the board, in the meantime, to review a list of 22 questions he and other school administrators had prepared that would likely come up in discussions with Grosse Pointe's city managers and council members about the tax issue.

Last month Brummel recommended the board begin testing the waters on a summer tax collection with Grosse Pointe politicians.

BRUMMEL IS proposing that half of Grosse Pointe's school tax be collected in the summer, a procedure that would net the school system an additional $1.05 million a year, according to the superintendent. Brummel said a full 100 percent summer tax collection would put an extra $2.35 million in the system's coffers. Local property taxes fund 90 percent of school system expenses.

Rationale behind the plan is that under the schools' current winter tax collection, many expenses incurred the first of the year must be paid with cash-on-hand or against future tax collections, say school officials.

School officials also point out that the cost of borrowing is becoming "excessive due to increased interest rates" and that fewer lending institutions are "actively bidding on tax notes."

While the schools admit taxpayers will lose interest earnings under a summer tax collection, they are proposing a millage reduction if the plan is implemented.

Board member Ronald Dalby Monday said he had some "personal problems" with a summer tax collection, especially when the school system is sitting on a $1.8 million surplus this year. Dalby said it will be hard for some taxpayers to understand that they must pay their school taxes earlier in the year with the promise that the school system will give them back the money later.

"How many times have we heard that promise?" Dalby said.

Schools' Director of Business Affairs Larry Rankens said the system must borrow money each year to stay afloat.

Park faces a video dilemma

The big attraction these days for kids at the Esquire Theater on Jefferson in the Park is not what's on the movie screen, but the video parlor that has been recently expanded into the lobby.

Just down the street from the theater in city council chambers, administrators are wrestling with ordinances to control the video parlor business. A second draft is slated for discussion at the council's first meeting of the new year, Monday, Jan. 11, at 7 p.m.

The council discussed and tabled an ordinance last month that would have required business owners to get a $50 license for every game and would limit any establishment to five games.

"We're trying to address the fact the games are becoming very popular," said councilman John Prost. "We don't want to totally restrict them."

But Mayor Douglas Graham made it clear the city does not care to have a video arcade, with several machines and crowds of youngsters playing them.

"We want to have something on the books before that becomes a problem," he said.

"The ordinance was tabled in December on a 6-1 vote, with Graham dissenting. Other council members were swayed by arguments put up by the Esquire Theater owner Ron Demers, who said the theater may be forced to close its doors or switch to X-rated movies to stay open.

"The theater business is very depressed. Cable TV is killing us. More than 1,000 closed their doors in the U.S. this year," Demers said. "We're barely making it at the Esquire and the games are what's keeping us open."

Demers said because his attorneys found no codes on the books in the Park on the subject of mechanical games they decided to knock out a wall in the lobby and move in 10 machines in early December. Since then, five more have been added. City manager John Crawford said about 10 bars and restaurants in the Park also have installed games. Those establishments have about five machines each, he said.

City attorney Herold "Mac" Deason said the city could force the Esquire to get rid of the games because "the only businesses allowed in the community are those allowed in the code." Crawford said the city hasn't taken any action against the theater because it hasn't received any complaints from residents about the games.

If the Park approves its ordinance Jan. 11, it will be the first Pointe to put a video code on the books.

The Farms faced a similar situation last year when Tom Shaker, manager of the Punch and Judy Theater moved several games into the lobby there. Shaker was fined $1,000 for a zoning code violation by Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell. His decision was overturned in Wayne County Circuit Court, however. Farms attorney Kathleen Lewis said she does not know the basis for the Circuit Court ruling and has been unable to get a transcript. Until the matter is clarified, she said the games are illegal in the Farms.

The Park ordinance was scheduled for discussion at a closed meeting of the Ordinance Review Committee on Jan. 6. That committee will make a recommendation to the full council Jan. 11.

Hospice of Southeastern Michigan

A place to die -- with dignity

By Tom Greenwood

"Loss and possession, Death and Life are one. There falls no shadow where there shines no sun."—Hilaire Belloc

Rage and resistance to death have always been accepted attitudes in Western society. Death is often looked upon as a thief, a foe to be wrestled with and defeated.

The "defeat of death" concept is nowhere stronger than in the medical profession, where doctors and nurses are dedicated to prolonging life, even when all hope of recovery is gone.

While life saving advances in the medical field are made almost daily, hospitals are also learning how to care for dying patients and their families.

Believing that death is a part of life, and that persons with terminal illnesses and their families should have the community's support, the Hospice of Southeastern Michigan was established as a non-profit corporation in November, 1978. St. John Hospital was one of seven hospital corporations founding Hospice, with the idea of providing intensive human services to patients whose remaining lifetime is measured in weeks or months, and to their families.

Two persons directly involved with Hospice at St. John are John Staub, Vice-President and Chief Operating Officer of St. Clair Ambulatory Care Corporation (SCACC), which performs home care services for hospice patients on the east side and Sister Joyce DeShano, Vice-President for Congregational Sponsorship for St. Clair Health Services Corporation.

Both Staub and Sister DeShano are Hospice board members and are leaders in the hospice movement in Southeastern Michigan.

"HOSPICE IS care oriented, not cure oriented," said Sister DeShano. "There are no respirators, no extraordinary means to save patients, no radiation or chemotherapy. They've already gone through all of that. They come in with an acceptance of their condition."

"We try to give dying persons control over their lives, helping them to live their lives in comfort and with a sense of personal worth," said Staub. "The emphasis is on quality of life coupled with extended care to the family through emotional support, encouragement of participation in patient care and support during the bereavement period."

Actually, the hospice is an idea whose time has come again. Originally, they were places of rest, food and care for pilgrims by the Middle Ages religious orders had assumed the care of travelers, pilgrims and the sick. Eventually, hospitals evolved from these hospices.

St. John offers three levels of hospice and home care related services to its patients—Hospice of Southeastern Michigan, a 40-bed facility located in Southfield reserved for the use of terminal patients; home care hospice service for the terminal patient living at home; and home care services for non-terminal patients suffering from conditions such as diabetes, stroke or heart disease.

Patients admitted to Hospice of Southeastern Michigan live in color coordinated rooms with 24-hour visiting privileges. Patients are allowed to bring in favorite pictures, easy chairs or pets to provide them with more personalized comfort. Family members are also allowed to cook favorite foods for patients and a family-like atmosphere is encouraged.

Hospice provides pain control, comfort measures and spiritual and emotional support to patient and family, accentuating human, rather than technological services in a homelike atmosphere.

Other caregivers at Hospice include social workers, pharmacists, clergy, child specialists and specially-trained volunteers. Community agencies, such as the Junior League, have an important part in the program.

Because Hospice does not use laboratory tests or equipment to prolong life, costs are about one-third less than daily care in a hospital.

"Long range plans call for a number of Hospice centers throughout the metro area," said Staub. "Eventually we'll have one on the east side."

Hospice care is also provided to terminal patients living at home. Visits are made by doctors and nurses at designated periods or whenever needed. Medication is provided or administered, blood samples taken and ambulatory needs seen to.

AIDES HELP bathe patients, make beds and generally provide comfort. Patients also receive visits from non-professional volunteers who want to help people.

St. John Occupational Therapist Janet Doody helps Robert Artner in a simple exercise aimed at increasing his range of motion, strength and coordination while at home. Ms. Doody is one of several specialists at St. John dedicated to home care recovery.

"For instance, the volunteers can allow family members to get out of the house, and be off by themselves for a while," said Sister DeShano. "Other times they're an ear to talk to, a fresh face providing friendship and company. They help people feel like people again."

The third level of home care services offers professional help to non-terminal patients suffering from disabilities such as diabetes or stroke. Patients are shown how to administer medications or maintain physical therapy regimens to help stroke affected limbs recover.

"Economically, it's a very inexpensive way of providing good health care," said Staub. "It's the cost of a visit from a nurse versus hundreds of dollars per day spent in a hospital. Plus the home environment versus the sterile, institutional feeling in a hospital. It's life lived with those you love instead of with strangers."

Anyone can be referred to Hospice by their family, doctor, social worker or home care coordinator at the hospital where the patient is being treated. The number for Hospice of Southeastern Michigan is 555-9209. The number for home care services in the east side area is 343-3738.

The Junior League will hold a meeting Wednesday, Jan. 13, at 1 p.m. in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Open to the public, the meeting will feature hospital organizers, and volunteers from Bon Secours, Cottage and St. John Hospitals.

"Hospice care is for the dying, but it's not like being on death row," said Sister DeShano. "It's a happy, active, peaceful place, not somber. You see more life than death. There's no denial, no psychic energy wasted by covering up or pretending."

"We're coming of age. We're maturing in our care of those in the last stages of life."

Winter driving can be safe

Since winter presents drivers with a number of hazards, they should adapt their habits to fit winter weather, especially those who recently switched to small cars.

That is the advice from Gilbert Drake, training consultant for motor vehicle safety at Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., who offers tips to drivers to avoid winter hazards, in addition to being "super cautious and alert."

• Icy patches present the chance of skidding. This is especially true for front wheel drive cars since weight distributions gives the rear end a tendency to sway. To avoid this, drivers should not brake suddenly, which could lock the tires. Instead, ease up on the gas, steady the steering wheel and drive through. If you're stopped on the ice, take off slowly so the wheels don't lose traction and spin.

• Don't panic if your car begins to spin. Keep your foot off the brake and gas pedals, and if the car begins to spin, turn the wheels in the direction you want to go. When the wheels gain traction, lightly pump the brakes.

• Make sure the windshield, rear and side windows, are free of dirt, snow and ice. Small cars have a shorter sight distance on hills and curves.

• Brush snow off the hood and roof of the car so it doesn't blow back on the rear window or windshield.

• Turn on your low beams in bad weather.

• Keep steering clear and even. Make turns slowly, particularly on ice and wet areas. Never brake taking a curve, since this locks the wheels. Since ice and snow increase stopping distance, allow extra space between you and the car ahead of you.

• Make sure the car is winterized. The car should be equipped with snow or all-purpose tires, the battery fully charged and the exhaust system checked for leaks. Brakes and wiring should also be kept in good working order.

• Always use your seatbelts. This is a good habit year-round, and gives extra protection if an accident should occur.

• By following the tips and keeping the car in good working order, winter should be simply the season between fall and spring, and not one of accidents.

You can learn Chinese cooking

"Chinese Cooking -- Advanced" has been added to the roster of cooking classes for the winter term by the Department of Continuing Education. It will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesdays in room C-3 of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte, Grosse Pointe Farms, beginning Jan. 28.

Fee for the five-week class, to be taught by Mrs. Hsiao Mei Chen, will be $15. Chen promises all-new recipes for those enrolling. The class is open to all interested persons whether or not they have had "Chinese Cooking-Beginning."

"Chinese Cooking -- Advanced" is one of 28 cooking classes scheduled this term by the Department of Continuing Education. Others are "Brown-Bag Your Way To A Three-Star Lunch," "Cake Decorating," "Candy Molding," "Charity Snek Presents Recipes From The Three-Star Restaurants of France," "Chinese Cooking-Beginning," "Cupcake Creations" and "Desserts Around The World."

More cooking classes are "Discover California Wines," "Easy Bread-Making," "Fondue For You," "Highlights of Italian Provincial Cooking," "Learn To Use Your Food Processor Correctly," "Microwave Cooking-Basic," "More Fabulous Party Foods" and "Natural Foods (Soups, Entrees, Desserts, and Breads).

Others are "Puff Pastry," "Soup Ideas," "Stuffed Pizzas," "Survival Tips For Singles," "Wine Tasting: What's It All About," "Tofu For You" and "Workshop In Creative Cooking For Parents And Children."

Full details of the winter program are found in the green flyer mailed to all homes in the school district the week of Dec. 28. Copies are available in the public libraries. For more information call 343-2178.

Single parent seminar Jan. 21

A six-week seminar directed toward single parents will be held at St. Paul Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop. Thursday evenings beginning Jan. 21, from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The seminar will explore the effects of divorce on children and parents, the myths and realities of single parenting, the stresses of single parenting and discipline.

Clinical social worker Sean Hogan-Downey will conduct the seminars. Fee is $65 and registration is limited. For more information call 882-3894.

Citizens demand crossing guard

By Mike Andrzejczyk

The Grosse Pointe Woods City Council last month tabled consideration of a proposed school crossing at Vernier and Wedgewood near North High School until Jan. 18, putting off a decision until after a board of education meeting Jan. 11.

Councilman Robert Novitke made the tabling motion, saying the council should wait for input from the school board before making a decision.

The present entrance and crossing have been called unsafe in a high school newspaper editorial, and horrendous by residents who live across the street.

The proposed crossing at Wedgewood and Vernier was panned in a letter from the traffic safety officer to the public safety director. He recommended no new crossing be established because it would not conform with traffic control procedures.

The recommendation was based on conversations with Automobile Club of America traffic engineer Robert De Corte who said "it was not an acceptable policy to have two school crossings for one school on the same street in close proximity to each other," according to the letter.

"Further," the letter read, "the Michigan Manual of Uniform Traffic Control Devices does not recommend the installation of traffic controlled intersections within 300 feet of each other."

The matter first came to council attention on Dec. 7, when Dr. Frank Brandon talked to the council about a letter he had written to several organizations protesting inaction concerning the high accident rate at the high school entrance.

In the letter, Brandon said the school crossing sign on Vernier Road faced eastbound traffic, with lights accommodating crossings to the west side of the entrance.

"The problem is," Brandon wrote, "no one—students, school or police—pay the slightest attention to the arrangement. Most young people coming from the west on Vernier cross Vernier from the private driveway west of the school entrance. From this (west) side, traffic lights are a positive invitation to disaster for foot traffic."

Brandon also wrote that the school administration knew of the situation and has done nothing to remedy it.

Brandon also read excerpts from a school newspaper editorial published Nov. 20 titled "Unsafe crossing."

"As a pedestrian," Brandon read from the editorial, "one can never tell if one will become a victim of a speeding teenager trying to beat the yellow light."

"You don't hear about one in 10, one in 20 (accidents) that don't happen" because students are agile enough to avoid oncoming traffic, Brandon said.

He proposed establishing a crossing at Wedgewood, complete with signs and lights, and opening the fence at the end of the street that empties onto the school parking lot to foot and bicycle traffic. Students would use the new walkway because it is closer than the present crossing, Brandon said, and would eliminate students running into traffic on Vernier.

Councilman William Wilson, who lives on Wedgewood, disagreed, saying Wedgewood residents had been told by the school the fence would not be opened, a concession won when the school was first built.

In addition, Wilson said, funneling the student body into the parking lot at the same time cars are either looking for or leaving parking places would be more dangerous than the present situation.

School principal Bruce Feighner said the several groups have been involved in doing something about the lights at the entrance for the last 11 years, and the present lights are the best solution to date.

School superintendent Kenneth Brummel said that although the matter wasn't on the school board's agenda, the board was still interested in the recommendations of the public safety department.

Curran to lead national association

Wayne County Director of Inter-governmental Affairs and Management, James Curran, a Grosse Pointe City Councilman, has been elected President of the National Association of County Community Development Directors, an affiliate of the National Association of Counties.

Curran, 39, was elected at the organization's sixth annual County Community Development Conference, held last month in Lancaster County, Pa. He has held a variety of positions within the Wayne County Government since 1972.

Formed in 1978, the Community Development Directors Association provides a formal and permanent structure for sharing information, experiences, and organizational support among counties concerning community development and federally assisted housing programs.

Composed of the principal county community development staff, the Association was organized because of the extensive participation of counties, particularly urban counties like Wayne, in the community development block grant program, under the Congressionally-enacted Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

This year 91 urban counties are receiving nearly $500 million of the $3.7 billion federal community development block grant program.

Curran was elected councilman in the City on Nov. 3, and is president of the City's Little League.

Educational tours planned for 1982

Six educational tours will be offered in 1982 to limited numbers of War Memorial patrons beginning Feb. 19 with a cruise through the Panama Canal on Sun Lines flagship Stella Solaris.

There is a trip by air to New Orleans April 29 at the time of the World Jazz Festival and Spring Fiesta of Tours of Homes and Gardens. This is followed by an overseas tour to the Netherlands at tulip time to take in the International Flower Exhibition held only one every 10 years.

The tour to Holland will be explained in an illustrated presentation by Brian Maitland-Smith of New York and London on Monday evening, Jan. 25, at 8 p.m. in the Fries Ballroom. He will also show slides of a two-week cruise around Britain and the seldom visited British outer islands scheduled for July 20. The interested Grosse Pointe public is invited to attend.

On Monday evening, Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. in the Alger House there will be a movie on New Orleans in preparation for the center's trip there.

A trip to Spain will take place June 4 and an illustrated presentation of the trip will be given on Tuesday, April 20 at 8 p.m. in the Fries Ballroom.

All presentations are accompanied by light refreshments.

A special bargain Student Tour of Europe for high school juniors and seniors and junior college students takes off for three weeks on June 20 with supervisors, guides and educators. It includes air fare from Detroit on Pan Am and transportation, meals, lodging (three to a room with private bath) and an itinerary including London, Paris, Lucerne, Rome, Florence, Venice, Salzburg, Danube cruise, Vienna, Munich and the Romantic Road at $1,467.

There are two trips around Britain — one by sea July 20 for two weeks and one by land Aug. 18 designated to coincide with the opening Tattoo and Music Festival in Edinburgh.

The Around Britain Tour is conducted by Swans who secures the services of the best Oxford and Cambridge professors to accompany the group. Excursions are made into Britain from the ship to take in antiquities, architectural gems and gardens and also the outer islands of the Selkirks, Orkneys, Hebrides, Seilies and Channel group are explored. It is all inclusive including shore excursions and there is no tipping.

The Aug. 18 land tour around England, Scotland, Wales and Cornwall is deluxe including meals, the choice inns, castles and hotels for lodging and tickets to the Music Festival, Tattoo and Stratford Upon Avon with a special banquet at the Compleat Angler.

All trips are limited to either 25 or 40 to insure maximum pleasure and educational opportunity.

Alcoholics and families find help at Maplegrove

An alcoholic may drink alone, but he or she does not suffer alone; the entire family also suffers. To help families participate in the patient recovery process, Henry Ford Hospital's alcoholism treatment center, Maplegrove, recently began a family education and therapy program.

The first group of 10 families is currently participating in the program. During the following three weeks, 12 new patients and their families will join the family program each week until it is fully operational. "Our philosophy at Maplegrove is that the family is the patient, not just the drinker," said Jeanne Knopf DeRoche, the center's head family therapist. A Plymouth resident with an M.A. from Oakland University, she has specialized in family alcoholism treatment for the past four years.

Knopf DeRoche pointed out that an average of four people in each alcoholic's life are adversely affected by the drinker's problem, with 80 percent of all reported acts of domestic violence related to alcohol or drug use. "Most alcoholism treatment programs offer education to family members," Knopf DeRoche continued, "but as far as I know, requiring parallel treatment for the family and the patient, using both education and therapy as Maplegrove does, is unique in southeast Michigan."

The program calls for a minimum of 35 hours of family participation on an outpatient basis. The word "family" is loosely interpreted in the Maplegrove program. For the alcoholic without a close family, it might be a significant other person — a roommate, friend, co-worker or employer — who participates in the family education and therapy program.

The program also recognizes the important role which family treatment may play in reducing future alcoholism. Children of alcoholics run twice the normal risk of becoming alcoholics or having a serious alcohol-related problem. According to Knopf DeRoche, with 12-15 million American children under 18 living in a home with at least one alcoholic parent, the family harbors the source for the next generation of alcoholics.

Patients enter Maplegrove in groups of 12 to 14 each week, remaining together as a group with the same team of therapists throughout their 28-day stay, followed by a year of weekly aftercare sessions.

The family program begins with an evening orientation. Patients are not present. A lecture and discussion precede an Al-Anon meeting. (Al-Anon is a self help group for families and friends of alcoholics and a primary resource for the Maplegrove program.)

"We try to get families to focus on themselves, to realize that each person has a separate set of needs," Knopf DeRoche explained. "We know the alcoholic's behavior has become a dominating force in their lives and that they are hurting and sometimes very angry."

"Alcoholic families tend to be closed systems. They keep a lot of secrets. Parents don't talk to each other. Kids don't fit in. They need to get back in touch with their own feelings." She explained that just having the therapist enter this closed system is a step in the right direction. Meeting with other families which have similar problems is another step — a step towards what is sometimes referred to as "collective recovery."

The Maplegrove program begins gradually, stepping up family involvement to parallel the recovery process of the patient. A special late afternoon session is held for children in grades one through six and their parents.

The first full day of treatment comes during the third week. Families look into their own co-dependency — a pattern of actions and reactions they have developed which, usually unwittingly and often in the name of loyalty or caring for the drinker, actually enables the drinker to go on drinking. Phoning in to work to report the drinker "sick" is one of the simplest examples.

Family members do autobiographies at this time much as the patient does. Multi-family group therapy includes family sculpting where the patient and other family members physically place themselves next to the person or persons to whom they feel closest emotionally. In these sessions both the family therapist and the patient's primary therapist are present with the group of families.

During the aftercare planning, families whose members have customarily gone separate ways each evening may plan to set aside some "family nights." Parents may decide to make decisions together about the children. Husband and wife may discuss ways to avoid conflict over finances. The family decides together a course to take if the drinking should start again.

Treatment gives the alcoholic an "intense initial start" on recovery, explained Knopf DeRoche. The day the recovering alcoholic leaves the residential program is a tense one, and family involvement relieves some of this tension. Going home is less threatening because the alcoholic knows the family has gained some understanding, and the family members feel more capable of dealing with the recovering alcoholic than they would have without the education and therapy which they have received.

Maplegrove is a 50 bed residential and outpatient center for the treatment of alcoholism opened in February, 1981. Maplegrove is located at 6773 West Maple Road, West Bloomfield, Mich. 48033. For more information, contact the center at 661-6100.

Summer tax

was turned down in Grosse Pointe four years ago after the state school code said school taxes must be collected at the same time each municipality collects its taxes. Grosse Pointe City collects half of its taxes in July and remaining portion in October while Harper Woods (Poupard school district) collects all of its taxes in December.

The state Legislature, however, amended the code last July and the school system would be free to collect its taxes on July 1 regardless of when each city collects taxes.

School administrators say they would like to see a summer-winter tax collection implemented by 1983 and a 100 percent summer tax collection by 1985.

Woman's death accidental, police say

The drowning death of a 48-year-old mother of six in Lake St. Clair last week has been ruled an accident by Shores police.

The woman's 1978 Pontiac was dragged from the lake about 200 feet north of Woodland Shore Drive at about 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 22. Police had received a call from a cross-country skier who said she spotted the car about 10 feet offshore in three feet of water while she skied along the shoulder of Lakeshore Road.

The woman, Elaine Muszynski, of East Detroit, was reported missing by family members who said they hadn't seen her since the day before.

After they removed the car from the lake, police searched the scene and found Mrs. Muszynski's body about 100 feet from the car near the break-wall, according to reports.

Investigators theorize Mrs. Muszynski was driving alone north on Lakeshore at about 10:30 a.m. the day before when she lost control of her car and ended up on the shoulder with the back of the car toward the lake.

Police said the car may have slid down the bank into the lake while Mrs. Muszynski was trying to rock the car free of snow. The car transmission was in reverse when pulled from the lake.

Police said Mrs. Muszynski crawled through the car window after it hit the lake and headed toward shore where she tried to climb the break-wall. She finally lost consciousness and drowned, they theorized.

The Wayne County Medical Examiner's autopsy showed no traces of alcohol, no bruises, cuts or any signs of foul play, police said, and listed the official cause of death as drowning.

Police say the investigation was hindered by the heavy snow Monday night that wiped out car tracks.

It was not unusual that the car wasn't spotted until the next day, since the car wouldn't have been visible to passing traffic on Lakeshore, police said.

"It was just a fluke ... a tragedy," one investigator said. "She had everything to live for."

Mrs. Muszynski's death was the fifth drowning reported in 1981 in Lake St. Clair off the Pointes.

New year rings in break-in victim

A home on Country Club earned the dubious distinction of being either the last home to be broken into in 1981, or the first to be hit in 1982.

Police were called to the house about 12:30 a.m., just a half hour into the new year, by the owner, who said he had returned home and found it broken into.

Searching the area, police discovered two sets of footprints in the snow leading through the backyard of the adjacent house, to a fence, and then to the bedroom window of the victim's home. Pry marks were found around the outside storm window and ledge.

Entering the home, police discovered the southwest bedroom and the living room ransacked. Items initially reported missing were $30 in cash and silver from a small safe found open on the couch, a camera valued at $35, a 50-pill vial of Valium with the prescription, and $25 from the bedroom.

A brown leather china box was found intact on a living room chair.

Police reports indicate the family had left the home about 5:30 p.m. New Year's Eve, and returned home shortly after midnight.

Join the cigaret send-off

When you're making your list of New Year's resolutions, don't forget to commit yourself to healthier lungs by kicking the habit, says the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan (ALASEM).

There are several techniques that can be used to help a person keep their New Year's resolution to kick the habit. One technique is to simply quit "cold turkey." In quitting cold turkey, the Lung Association offers these suggestions:

- Choose a day within the next month to quit.
- Determine to quit on that date. Spend plenty of time getting used to the idea.

- In the waiting period, get yourself out of ruts. Rearrange your habits. Don't carry cigarets with you. Make it tough to get at them.

- Take mid-morning walks around your office or block.
- Try deep breathing.

- When the date arrives, boost yourself off on a positive wave.

- Throw away your cigarettes.

- Buy a new camera, go bowling, or take in a movie to reward yourself for maintaining a non-smoking life-style.

Some smokers may want the support of a group clinic to help them kick the habit. For them, the American Lung Association is sponsoring the third annual Great New Year's Cigaret Send-Off on Sunday, Jan. 17, at 1 p.m. at the Community Arts Auditorium at Wayne State University.

The "Cigaret Send-Off" combines the most effective smoking withdrawal techniques known into a three-hour comprehensive clinic to help smokers quit forever.

Hypnosis, medical and audio-visual presentations, as well as behavior modification techniques are combined into a carefully planned clinic in an attempt to appeal to a variety of smokers.

Tickets, priced at $15, may be purchased at all CTC outlets, the Wayne State University Bookstore and by mail order from the American Lung Association.

To order tickets, send a check or money order to: Cigaret Send-Off, c/o the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan, 28 West Adams, Detroit 48226. All orders must indicate the number of tickets requested and a return address. Checks should be made payable to American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan. Deadline for mail orders is Jan. 10.

For more information call the Lung Association's "smoking phone" at 963-3029.

Meter stealers hit the Woods

There's one way to avoid getting a parking ticket in the Woods — steal the parking meter.

Eight of the parking sentinels have been stolen in the last two weeks from four different lots in the Woods, leaving police with nothing but a two-foot stump where the meter heads used to be.

Even though such theft is a common occurrence, it still is a nuisance, Acting Public Safety Director Jack Patterson said, since the city pays more than $125 to replace each stolen meter and post.

The monetary benefit isn't great either, Patterson said, since the meters are too small to hold more than a few dollars in change.

"Whoever is doing it is not getting rich at it," Patterson said.

Having one for a souvenir may get the person more than first bargained for, Patterson said, since those caught possessing the stolen city meters could get 90 days in jail.

School's IMC purchase signed

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education has officially signed the purchase agreement for Old Kerby School located near Grosse Pointe Farms municipal offices.

Last July, the school system sold the building to the Farms for $80,000 and terms of that agreement stated $40,000 was to be paid when the school board signed the purchase agreement. The balance will be paid off when the school system turns the property over to the Farms next September, according to school administrators.

The school system used the building as an instructional materials center. Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer has said the city intends to raze the building for a parking lot.

Pierce Middle School pupils and staff members received a special treat earlier this week when cast members from Up With People staged a day-long rehearsal in the auditorium in preparation for tomorrow night's concert at South High School. Students had the opportunity to watch the rehearsal and have a question-and-answer period with some of the cast members.

Tickets for the Jan. 8 concert at SHS are $5 and $7 and are available at the Bookshelf, Chesney-Leonard Agency, Lochmoor Chrysler Plymouth and Mike Maher Chevrolet. The 450-member cast of Up With People also will perform at half time in this year's Superbowl Jan. 24, in the Pontiac Silverdome.

Enroll in a foreign language phase program this month

Opportunities abound in the winter program of the Department of Continuing Education for adults in the community who wish to learn or to brush up their skills in French, German, Italian and Spanish. Nine classes at several different levels begin the week of Jan. 18.

Several years ago the basic continuing education foreign language program was divided into a series of "phases" covering a two-year period and based on a standard textbook. During the first year the sequence of classes is Phase I, II and III to correspond to the three terms of the continuing education year. If enrollment permits, the second half of the course, consisting of Phases IV, V and VI, will be offered during the second year.

Students who have not had previous foreign language experience may enroll at any point in the phase program without having had the classes preceding it. Fee for all 10-week foreign language classes is $30.

"French—Phase V" is the fifth part of the two-year program. It may be taken by those whose skills are somewhat lacking but who wish to maintain and expand their linguistic knowledge. The class is taught by Aphrodite Roumell, and begins on Monday, Jan. 18.

"French—Phase II," a continuation of the beginning class which started last September, will begin on Tuesday, Jan. 19, with Richard McMullan as the instructor.

"French—Advanced" is a class for the person who has successfully completed a year of college French or has had two years in high school and who wishes to maintain or refresh his or her skills (through selected readings and directed conversation). It will begin Jan. 19 with instructor Aphrodite Roumell.

"German—Phase II" is the second term of the proposed two-year program and is a continuation of the class begun last September. It will meet Jan. 19, with instructor Irene Roland.

"German—Advanced" is a continuing class for those who have had a year of college German or two years in high school. Taught by Irene Roland, it begins Jan. 20.

"Italian—Phase V," a continuation of the class begun in September, 1980, is open to those who have completed the preceding terms or who have some knowledge of Italian. Taught by Teresa Galise, it begins Jan. 18.

"Italian—Phase II" is a continuation of the class begun last September and is the second part of the proposed two-year program. Taught by Teresa Galise, it begins Jan. 23.

Two classes in Spanish will be offered in the winter term, both taught by Jorge Carrera. "Spanish—Phase II," a continuation of the class begun last fall is slated for Jan. 18. "Spanish—Advanced" is for those who have completed two years of Spanish in high school or a year in college and who wish to maintain their skill. The class begins Jan. 19.

In addition, a new offering, "French For Travelers: Introduction," will begin on Wednesday, Feb. 17. Taught by Richard McMullan, its focus is on basic survival vocabulary for a traveler bound for a French-speaking area. Fee is $12 for the four-week class.

Call Continuing Education at 343-2178 for additional information.

Be prepared for disability claim

Applications for disability benefits take longer to process than other types of Social Security claims, according to James T. Moslener, district manager of the local Social Security office.

The Social Security Administration must determine if an applicant has a severe physical or mental impairment that will last at least year or result in death. It also must consider an applicant's capacity to work. However, people can speed up the process if they gather certain information before they apply, Moslener said.

The following information can help speed the interview and enable Social Security to process the claim faster:

- Social Security number
- Date last worked
- Date sickness began or injury occurred
- Nature of the illness or injury
- Dates and places of treatment, including names, addresses and telephone numbers of doctors, hospitals, institutions or clinics
- Military service serial number and VA claim number if medical care was received in a military service or VA hospital
- The kinds of jobs worked at most in the 10 years before disability began

- The compensation number if he or she filed a claim for workers compensation
- Social Security numbers and dates of birth of spouse and minor children
- Telephone number

There is a waiting period for disability benefits. No benefits can be paid for the five full calendar months after the beginning date of the disability.

However, by following the above advice, applicants can help the Social Security Administration make payments at the earliest possible date.

More information about Social Security disability benefits can be obtained either by contacting the local Social Security office located at 17420 Mack Avenue or telephoning the Social Security information number at 493-1111.

Bashara quits Appeals Court

Michigan Court of Appeals Judge George N. Bashara Jr. announced last month he will resign from the bench Feb. 12, 1982 to accept a position in a Detroit law firm.

Bashara, a Woods resident, was appointed to the Appeals Court Jan. 1, 1973. He will become a partner in the firm Dykema, Gossett, Spencer, Goodnow and Trigg.

"I've enjoyed the state court system," he said. "It's been a rewarding experience, but at my age, 47, I decided to move on to private practice." He likened his decision to "a fish taking the bait."

The prestige of the firm was a factor in his choice, Bashara said.

"I have always felt that someday I would return to private practice," he said. "The opportunity to associate with such a firm while at the height of my productive working life was a major consideration."

"Private practice offers a challenge," Bashara said.

Bashara, who received his degree in 1960, said his resignation will not take him out of public life. He said he would be able to become more active as a private citizen than as a public figure.

Bashara also served as a Wayne County Probate Judge for almost four years, during which time he began a drug program which he said was meant to show Wayne County youngsters what really happens to drug addicts

By bringing junior-high schoolers to his courtroom, to the jails and by visiting schools, Bashara said he must have talked to 130,000 students in the metropolitan area about substance abuse.

The Grosse Pointe schools participated in the program.

In 1971, Bashara was awarded the Gabriel Richard Institute's national "Power of One Person" award.

"My hope is that I have contributed to the judicial process in a meaningful way," Bashara said. "I look forward to the future in private practice with anticipation and enthusiasm."

One-night stand, anyone?

The winter schedule of the Department of Continuing Education of The Grosse Pointe Public School System contains a total of 79 One-Night Stand classes, including 58 that are new for 1982.

One-Night Stands are single-session classes offered morning, afternoon or evening, as well as day-long workshops. Popular since their inception several years ago, they are designed for adults who do not wish to enroll for long-term offerings.

Although most of the long (eight and 10-week) offerings have already begun, a full complement of One-Night Stands are "Basic Bicycle Maintenance and Repair" and "Basic Principles of Investing." Also new are six bridge clinics: "Defensive Bids," "Penalty Doubles," "Play of the Hand," "Popular Conventions," "Pre-Emptive Bids" and "Slam Bidding."

Other newcomers to the roster are "Brown Bag Your Way to a Three-Star Lunch," "Candy Molding," "Consumer Awareness: How to Buy a Used Car," "Creative Imagery," "Cup Cake Creations," "Dance Brush-Up," "Deserts Around the World," "Divorce — For Women Only" and "Do the Cha Cha Cha and Rumba."

Four Drapery-Making Workshops are planned: "Introduction Pleats and Linings," "Shirring and Sheers" and "Valances."

Other single sessions are "Easy Bread-Making," "Fondue for You," "Foxtrot Fun," "Getting Ready to Go: Paris," "Getting Ready to Go: Spain" and "Glass Etching."

More One-Night Stands are "Guides to Effective Leadership in Work and Volunteer Organizations," "Heartworm Disease of Dogs: Detection, Treatment and Prevention," "Highlights of Italian Provincial Cooking" and "Harbinger Dance Company: A Demonstration."

Others are "Jitterbug Jump," "Keep Your Snow Blower Blowing," "Learn to Read a French Menu," "Listening with Your Ears and Eyes," "Macrame for Beginners" and "Macrame Home Decorations."

One-Night Stands also include "Medicine for the Layman: The Cardiovascular System," "Nail Grooming" and four in natural foods: soups, breads, desserts, and entrees.

More classes are "Puffy Pastry," "Roman Shades," "Say 'Hello' to Your Creative Self," "Self-Protection for Women," "Soup Ideas" and "Special Self-Hypnosis Clinic."

Other new One-Night Stands are "Special Sugar and Sweets Aversion Clinic," "Stuffed Pizzas," "Survival Tips for Singles" and "Touching Others with Deeper Insight."

Six single-sessions on woodworking techniques will cover "Joining Wood," "Portable Power Tools," "Table Saw Band Saw," "Using Hand Tools," "Using Nails and Woods Screws" and "Using the Wood Lathe."

One-Night Stands in the winter program which have been offered successfully in the past include "Blood Pressure" and "Vital Signs," "Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR)," "Building Two-Way Communication," "Do I Hear a Fast Waltz?," "Do I Hear a Slow Waltz?," "Furniture Maintenance," "Handwriting Analysis" and "How To Make the Most of Your Time."

Also being repeated this winter are "It Takes Two To Tango," "Medical Terminology: An Introduction," "Motivating Yourself and Others," "Patchwork Clothing Construction Workshop," "Pressed Flowers," "Roll Out the Polka" and "Seminole Patchwork Workshop."

Others are "Stop Smoking Clinic," "Understanding the Hand-Held Calculator," "Voluntarism," "Weight Control Clinic," "Wine Tasting: What's It All About" and "Workshop in Embroidery on Perforated Paper: Revival of a Victorian Craft."

Full information on all classes scheduled by the Department of Continuing Education is found in the green flyer sent in the mail.

Call the hot line 881-5892 for information about programs and membership.

IRA accounts at Standard Federal Savings help you save more for your retirement.

The new tax law provides that every working person under age 70½ can contribute to an Individual Retirement Account for taxable years beginning in 1982. You can have an IRA Account even if you are covered by another retirement plan. Your contributions to an IRA Account are tax deductible. This allows you to accumulate more money with an IRA Account than with a taxable investment.

Regular IRA

Allows a working person to contribute up to a maximum of $2,000 per year. A husband and wife who are both working may each contribute up to a maximum amount of $2,000 from their annual income.

Spousal IRA

A working person with a non-working spouse may contribute up to $2,250 per year.

IMPORTANT: at Standard Federal Savings . . .

- YOU CAN transfer ("roll-over") the funds you receive as a lump sum distribution from a qualified retirement fund and defer taxation on the transferred funds until your retirement years.
- YOU CAN transfer funds from an IRA Account established elsewhere.
- YOUR EMPLOYER CAN also contribute funds to employee IRA Accounts by establishing a Simplified Employee Pension Plan (SEP).

IRA Accounts are insured to $100,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Special Retirement Savings Programs Available for IRA Accounts

Current rate
Fixed Rate Accounts: 12.50% per year

Standard Federal Savings now offers 1½ year fixed rate certificate accounts with quarterly compounding and a minimum balance of $100. The interest rate established at the time an account is opened is the rate in effect for the full 1½ year term of the account.

Ask about our payroll deduction plans for IRA accounts.

2401 W. Big Beaver, Troy, MI 48084, (313) 643-9600

Current rate
Variable Rate Accounts: 11.658% per year
Available thru January 11, 1982

You can also choose a 1½ year variable rate certificate account with quarterly compounding and a minimum deposit of $10. Interest is paid at a rate equal to the average auction rate on a discount basis for 13-week U.S. Treasury Bills. Each Tuesday during the 1½ year term, the rate will change on your account based on this Treasury Bill rate.

Additions in amounts of $10 or more can be made to your variable rate account at any time without extending the account term. If your employer has a payroll deduction plan with Standard Federal Savings, your IRA contribution can be made automatically each pay period and deposited to this account.

Also Available for IRA Accounts:

- 26-Week Money Market Certificates
- Savings Certificates of $100,000 or More at Market Rates
- 2½ Year Money Market Certificates
- Regular Passbook Savings Accounts

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal from certificate accounts, and withdrawals from your IRA Account prior to age 59½ may result in tax penalties. When you withdraw the money in your IRA Account at retirement after age 59½, your withdrawals will be taxed as ordinary income at a time when your tax rate is likely to be lower.

For further information on the retirement plans available at Standard Federal Savings, please call or visit any of our convenient offices.

INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNTS (IRA)

From wages earned beginning in the 1982 tax year, you can deposit in your own IRA each year 100% of your annual earnings up to $2,000, up to $2,250 for yourself and your spouse if only one of you works, up to $4,000 if both are working.

You can put your IRA deposits to work in two different ways

VARIABLE-RATE IRA ACCOUNT

The interest rate on this 18-month certificate account is indexed to the 13-week U.S. Treasury Bill average discount rate and is adjusted to match each weekly auction, allowing you to earn the most current market rate available

The minimum deposit for this account is just $100. But you can add as much as you like (up to the allowable limits) at any time without extending the maturity date, and the interest your extra deposits earn will be at the rate available when those deposits are made.

FIXED-RATE IRA ACCOUNTS

The interest rate on this account is established when it is opened and stays in effect during the entire term of the certificate. It is opened for a fixed amount of as little as $100. Additional fixed-rate accounts may be opened at any time.

Remember, your retirement plan at First Federal is insured to $100,000 by FSLIC.

KEOGH RETIREMENT PLANS

Keogh Plans are available to self-employed persons. Every year, beginning with plans established for tax year 1982, you can deposit in your Keogh Account 15% of your annual income or $15,000, whichever is less. Of course, Keogh deposits and their earnings are tax sheltered until you retire and start to withdraw them.

Keogh Retirement Plans are available in both variable- and fixed-rate accounts as described above.

ALL SAVERS CERTIFICATE

Our third way of reducing the bite on your income tax is the One-Year Tax-Free All Savers Certificate. First Federal will pay you the highest interest allowed by law on this certificate, and if you file a joint return, up to $2,000 of the interest it earns is free of federal and Michigan income tax (up to $1,000 if you file an individual return)...no matter what your other income may be.

Open your First Federal All Savers Certificate as soon as possible.

HOW TO PULL THE TEETH FROM YOUR TAX BITE.

The bite your income tax takes out of your earnings every year can be pretty painful. But First Federal Savings of Detroit can help make your tax bite hurt a whole lot less in future years.

We can do this with three kinds of tax shelters— Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA), Keogh Accounts and the Tax-Free All Savers Certificate.

When you open an IRA or Keogh Account, you take your deposits right off the top of your gross income. By reducing your gross income, you reduce your taxes. Then, your IRA and Keogh deposits and the interest they earn are tax sheltered until you retire, which can be as early as age 59½. At which time you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket. How's that for taking the edge off your tax bite?

In addition, First Federal does not charge a service or maintenance fee for any of these accounts, and at First Federal you don't need to make your IRA or Keogh deposit in a lump sum. You can do it in installments as your finances allow. Remember, your retirement plan at First Federal is insured to $100,000 by FSLIC.

Stop in at any office of First Federal Savings of Detroit for all the details. Or fill out the coupon and mail it to our main office address, or call our IRA/Keogh hot line at 965-3622, and we'll send you the necessary forms. Then open one or any combination of these tax shelters and pull the teeth from your tax bite.

Federal regulations require a substantial penalty for early withdrawal from certificate accounts.

I am interested in establishing an Individual Retirement Account with First Federal Savings of Detroit. Please send me the necessary forms.

Grosse Pointe City police say the only clue in last month's Jacobson's store robbery is this wooden ladder, which thieves perched against a second-story window to enter the store and steal about $12,000 in fur coats. Det. Sgt. John Drummond (pictured) said the 12-foot double

Learn new craft this winter

"Crafts-a-Ganza," sponsored by the public schools' Department of Continuing Education, will be held tonight, Jan. 7, in the cafeteria of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte.

It's a get-acquainted evening for those who are interested in learning more about the department's 28 arts and crafts classes this winter. Those who attend may enroll for the classes and examine examples of handicrafts made in last year's classes.

Some of the 1982 winter offerings include "Basic Basket Weaving," "Glass Etching," "Macrame for Beginners" and "Tiffany Lamps."

Full details of the winter program can be found in the green flyer mailed to all homes the week of Dec. 28. For more information, call 343-2178.

City approves zoning change

The Grosse Pointe City Council last week unanimously approved a zoning ordinance amendment prohibiting non-retail businesses from occupying first floor office space in the Village.

City Planner Brandon Rogers, in recommending the council approve the zoning change, expressed concern that the Village shopping district could very well follow the path of the declining 7-Mack shopping district or turn into a service-oriented avenue of businesses much like that on Kercheval in Grosse Pointe Park.

"I think we have the second best shopping district on the east side, next to Eastland," Rogers said. "We want to continue to have a small-store shopping center."

The amended ordinance does not allow businesses such as real estate, medical or insurance offices to occupy first floor space in the Village, but those same businesses are permitted to occupy the rear of a building if special approval is granted by the city's Planning Commission.

The amended ordinance also applies to banks and other financial institutions in the City's Central Business District on Kercheval Avenue.

Councilman Jeanette Duffield was absent from the Dec. 21 meeting.

EFFECTIVE RATE 12.00% CUT YOUR TAXES

AND HAVE A BUNDLE WHEN YOU RETIRE YOUR NUMBER.

You don't have to be a Hall of Famer to retire with a bundle. An IRA, Individual Retirement Account, from D&N gives you a big tax break every year. And a sizable supplement to your Social Security when you retire.

You can deduct $2,000 from your taxable income every year and put it away in a tax-sheltered IRA. Your money accumulates tax free until retirement.

The earlier you start, the more money you'll end up with. But even if retirement is only five or ten years away, you can still build up a bundle.

Anybody who works can, and should, have an IRA. You're eligible even if you have a pension plan where you work. If you're a two-income family, you can deduct $4,000 a year and build up twice as much. If not, you can contribute $250 extra for a non-working spouse.

We can show you what an IRA can do for you. And help you choose the certificate that's right for you: fixed or floating rate, or a combination. Get in touch with a D&N IRA expert today. So when you're ready to retire your number, you'll have some big numbers to play with.

Model 701 Fireplace Insert
 Finally, a woodstove that looks as good as it heats! Protruding only 10-1/2 inches into your room, the 701 Insert, when teamed with the recommended blower, will match the heating capacity of our Model 501.
 Using natural convection, cooler room air enters the lower passage of the Insert, is heated by the fire, and recirculates in a continuous flow of warmth.
 The 701 includes a full 1/4 inch steel plate firebox, full baffles, airtight cast iron double doors and internal damper. It comes complete with firebrick lining, See-Thru screen doors, heat deflector, insulation and fireplace cover panel - features our competitors often charge extra for.
 Built into the base of an attractive fireplace tool holder, the optional 135 CFM electric blower can be installed on either side of the stove, has a quiet, variable speed motor drive and best of all, costs less than 10¢ a day to operate!
 Your fireplace must be a minimum of 30-1/2" wide, 23-1/2" high and at a depth of 14" from the face of your fireplace - 27-1/2" wide and 23-1/2" high.

Pianist Rose at Mercy College

Master pianist Jerome Rose, artist in residence at Bowling Green State University, will appear at Mercy College of Detroit as the first in a series of four "Premiere Pianists of the Great Lakes Area." Rose, who built his reputation with the music of Franz Liszt, will perform Tuesday, Jan. 26, at 8 p.m. in Mercy's McAuley Auditorium.

Recently returned from a concert tour of Europe, Rose has received unanimous praise from critics and audiences on five continents for his superb performances with orchestras, and in recitals and chamber music programs. The recipient of many coveted international awards, including the Grand Prize International Busoni Competition and the Grand Prix du Disque of the Franz Liszt Society of Budapest, he has performed over 50 concerts from Bach to Schoenberg.

Rose has also been featured on BBC Television in Britain and PBS in America. He has appeared with many distinguished orchestras including the Berlin Philharmonic, London Symphony, Royal Philharmonic, Vienna Symphony, San Francisco and Baltimore Symphony Orchestras. A Vox recording artist, he has recorded over 15 albums and is engaged in recording the complete piano works of Liszt.

Other artists in the series include Philip Adamson, of the University of Windsor on Feb. 23; Flavio Varani, of Oakland University on March 30; and Ralph Votapek, of Michigan State University on April 13.

Tickets for individual performances are $5 per person; $2 for students and senior citizens. Series tickets are $18 per person; $7 for students and senior citizens. For information or reservations, call Mercy College at 392-8200.

The United States Postal Service, with 687,000 employees, is the nation's third largest employer behind only AT&T and General Motors.

Obituaries

Mrs. Evelyn B. Dilloway

Private services were held for Mrs. Dilloway, 85, formerly of Grosse Pointe, late of St. Clair, Mich., on Sunday, Jan. 3, at First Congregational Church in St. Clair.

She died on Monday, Dec. 28, in Mercy Hospital in Port Huron.

Mrs. Dilloway was a member of the St. Clair Garden Club, the St. Clair Study Club and the Winthrop Circle of the Church.

She is survived by her husband, Warren; two sons, John E. and Richard W.; one daughter, Mrs. Barbara D. Pointer and four grandchildren.

H. G. Yesayanmd

Services for Dr. Yesayanmd, 87, formerly of Grosse Pointe, late of Lathrup Village, were held Monday, Dec. 28, at the Armenian Congregational Church in Southfield.

He died Monday, Dec. 21, in his home.

Dr. Yesayanmd was a general practitioner in Detroit for 62 years and was still seeing patients until his death. He was a graduate of the Detroit College of Medicine and Surgery, now Wayne State's Medical School. Dr. Yesayanmd was the oldest practicing physician at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, now Samaritan Hospital in Detroit.

Dr. Yesayanmd was a Lt. Colonel in the Army Medical Corp, a member of the Masonic Temple for 65 years and a founding member of the Knights of Vartan.

He is survived by his wife, Merin; two daughters, Esther Howell and Pauline McNeill and four grandchildren. Memorial tributes may be made to the Armenian Congregational Church, 26210 W. 12 Mile, Southfield. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Tekla Leavey

Services for Mrs. Leavey, 88, of Van Antwerp in the Woods, were held Saturday, Jan. 2, at A. H. Peters Funeral Home.

She died Wednesday, Dec. 30, at Clintonview Care Center in Clinton Township.

Mrs. Leavey is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Harry (Victoria) Urban, and two grandchildren.

Interment was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Florence M. Reno

Services for Mrs. Reno, 88, of Hampton in the Woods, were held Saturday, Jan. 2 at A. H. Peters Funeral Home.

She died Tuesday, Dec. 29, in St. John Hospital.

Mrs. Reno is survived by two daughters, Leona Harris, and Lorraine; one son, Lewis O.; one brother and two sisters.

Interment was in Woodmont Cemetery.

Mrs. Martha P. Reynolds

Services for Mrs. Reynolds, 76, of Beaconsfield Avenue, were held Wednesday, Jan. 6, at the Verheyden Funeral Home.

She died Sunday, Jan. 3, in her home.

Mrs. Reynolds had no survivors. Interment was in White Chapel Cemetery.

College credit with no class

The College Without Walls program at the St. Clair Shores Library, 22300 Eleven Mile Road, helps adults earn college credit without attending classes by offering study materials and practice tests for College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) exams.

CLEP exams are given nationally and recognized by many universities and colleges as a way of demonstrating knowledge in any of 52 subjects. The amount of credit awarded depends on the exams and the individual college, but up to nine hours of credit can be earned by passing one exam.

A wide range of subjects, frequently introductory level, are covered by the CLEP exams.

Mary Leech, a Grosse Pointe Woods resident, is a counselor for the program, working two evenings a week offering help in choices of exams and materials.

Ms. Leech, who has worked as a counselor for two and a half years, said the program is an alternative method of earning college credit for those people who are unable to attend formal classes, who enjoy studying independently, who read a great deal, and who are looking to earn college credit in the shortest amount of time.

She said participation in the program was down last fall, but added the program had increased participation last year over the previous year.

Ms. Leech said she deals with about 250 people yearly who come in because they learn they can earn college credit without attending classes.

Independent study at the College Without Walls can begin any time and last as long as necessary to prepare for an exam. Transfer students with non-transferable credits, people who have work experience in a particular subject and are looking for a degree in that subject, and those who want to fulfill prerequisites or electives, find CLEP exams useful to save time and money, she said.

There is no cost or residency requirement to use College Without Walls material. CLEP exams are $35 each, the only fee charged to earn the credit. The exams are given monthly in several locations in the metropolitan area.

For more information about the program, call 771-9020, or drop in during Ms. Leech's office hours.

 For Senior Citizens

January is a very special month. It's more than just a new page on the calendar. It is a herald and a promise of all the possibilities that a New Year can bring. Weatherwise it doesn't have much to offer unless you enjoy slippery walks, snowdrifts and mean winds that bite and chill. But it does present a perfect excuse for staying inside where it is warm and indulging oneself. With a clear conscience freed of all those nagging little reminders of what should be done, you can snuggle down on a comfortable chair, wrapped up in an afghan to enjoy whatever you like best, whether it be reading, handiwork or watching television.

January provides a once-a-year opportunity to shut out the world and let it go on without you while you catch up with yourself. Most people need that time release after December's whirlwind of activity.

However, part of that respite could include some soul searching about what we plan to do with all those days that lay ahead in 1982 and what changes we would like to make in ourselves and our lives to make this a banner year.

For some, the status quo is fine. Having settled into a satisfactory pattern of life, they wish only to maintain the comfort and security they have established for themselves.

BUT THERE are those restless others for whom life is a continuous search for more, for greater achievements and new satisfactions. The years may slow them down, but in no way are they content to watch from the sidelines.

Locally we have such fine examples of post retirement activity as Walker Ciesler who heads up a group of retired executives who travel to other countries to advise them on engineering projects and Harold Misteles who, at 67, has set six world aviation records in 40 years of flying seaplanes.

Not everyone has such spectacular avocations or the means to sustain them. But such examples can inspire those who have set aside personal ambitions because they feel they are "over the hill."

It is one of the most regretful aspects of our society that older people are made to feel this way. Hopefully, as the older population grows this attitude will change and those who have the wisdom and experience that only years can bring will become more valued.

In the meantime it is important that the individual who truly wants to remain in the mainstream and has something to offer not become discouraged. That is why it is encouraging to consider contemporaries who have neither retired nor plan to retire from an active life.

Besides the ego-building satisfaction of still being an important cog in society, there is the personal gratification of sharing skills with younger people who would like to acquire the same competency.

There is a saying that you are never too old to teach. A survey a few years ago by the prestigious Academy for Educational Development (AED) of public school districts, colleges and universities, museums, senior and community centers and libraries found that better than three-fourths of those surveyed were using the services of older adults.

The survey also showed that more than 85 percent of those involved were rated as excellent or very good. They taught in order to keep busy and, of course, for money, but also because they felt the role of the teacher was the most valuable contribution to society.

ONE SUCH PERSON is Floyd Shafer who retired from Proctor and Gamble where he was in management. While still working he acquired a Masters degree in science. After retirement he earned a doctorate in biology. At 69 he was picked as "Elder Scholar of the Year" and received a $10,000 check from Colonial Penn Group Inc. in competition with students 50 or older in colleges across the U.S.

He plans to continue teaching, probably in an underdeveloped country, because he doesn't want to displace a young person in a job.

Not many people would choose to leave their own country and environment to find a job but for those who do the opportunities are there.

The Peace Corps is one program that welcomes retirees. It takes into consideration the problems older volunteers might face and tries to assign them to areas where there are good medical facilities. If they speak only English, they are sent to areas where English is understood. In its twentieth year, the Peace Corps is actively recruiting retirees. Age has become a major asset for volunteers. The organization has found that many of the most effective volunteers are older people.

Volunteers include a 76-year-old retired high school teacher who now trains young teachers in Paraguay, a former Spanish professor and her husband, a retired minister who set up an agricultural and home extension center in Paraguay, a retired engineer who is helping Paraguayans design a new cooperative community. They agree that one of the satisfactions of living so far from their native land is the respect accorded older people in the country where they are working.

To leave behind the familiar terrain of one's homeland to work in a foreign country would be a frightening prospect for many. Happily there are prospects within our own borders.

Large colleges often offer extension courses or specialized night courses. Frequently adjunct positions are available to qualified people to flesh out a curriculum alongside full-time tenured faculty.

Schools, churches and other organizations that offer adult-education courses are another source of employment for those who like to teach. Oftentimes it pays to go through the listing of what is offered and if there is a skill which is not included and in which you have expertise, design a course of your own and present it.

Then there is always the possibility of teaching on your own, which has the advantages of allowing you to set your own hours of work. In this category opportunities range from tutoring students in a foreign language, to music, to cooking, or event auto mechanics.

Perhaps you feel that your past employment did not provide you with a skill worth passing on to others. But if you use your imagination and consider your many aptitudes, you will more than likely come up with a talent others would like to possess.

The story is told of Arthur L. Mayer, motion picture pioneer who during the years jotted down notes on the growth of the movie industry. After retirement he started a course on the economics of the film industry at the University of California, later taught at Columbia, Fordham and other distinguished universities. He finally retired at 90.

Not a teacher, but one who well could be, is Marie Chino, who utilizes a skill that came down to her as part of her cultural heritage. Marie is an Indian woman who raised the ancient art of pottery to a new high. Employing traditional Indian motifs, she covers vases, bowls and plates with enchanting fish, deer and geometric designs. She has been working with pottery for more than 50 years. She mixes the clay herself and grinds pot shards into temper. She adds the temper to the clay and forms the vase. She lets the vase dry in the sun for three days or on a stove which she fires with cow or sheep manure. The results are masterpieces which are on display in museums throughout the world.

And then there was "Grandma" Moses who began painting when she was 78 years old. For many years "Grandma" Moses embroidered pictures on canvas. When her fingers became too stiff to use a needle, she began painting in oil. Her pictures hang in museums throughout the U.S.

There are many ways to go for those who are lonesome for the "fast track" in life. We can't all be teachers or geniuses nor do we all have the capacity for unique and outstanding contributions. But we can all take heart from those who are examples of unusual fortitude and perhaps gain courage to make the most of what we, as individuals, have to offer.

'81 milestone year for county

Year 1981 was a time of great change for jurisdictions of Wayne County government — it was a transition period approximated in county history only by the 1969 transformation of the former 135-member Board of Supervisors into a 26-member Board of Commissioners later increased to the 27 on the existing Board.

That is the year-end judgement of the Chairman of the County Board of Commissioners, made during a review of events last year which included voter approval of a new county charter. Effective January, 1983, the charter allows for election of a Chief Executive Officer, elimination of the three-member County Board of Auditors, and further reduction of the board from 27 to 15.

Board Chairman, Samuel A. Turner, said that this week the County Apportionment Commission will complete the drawing of new Commissioner districts, each encompassing about 155,000 people to be represented by 12 fewer incumbents decided in the coming November election.

Turner also said that court reorganization, disposal of the sheriff's 250-person road patrol unit, and a new hospital management plan were other major changes making 1981 a milestone year. In addition, it was a year in which the Board adopted a balanced budget without need to borrow on tax anticipation notes as it had in previous years in order to meet payroll and vendor obligations, Turner emphasized.

Late in October, the Board adopted a budget of $285.9 million for 1981-82, down from $301.3 million the preceding fiscal year. The current budget eliminates $20 million deficit as well.

With court reorganization, the previous system special to Wayne County in the state's criminal system was abolished and replaced with a more typical court structure promising less expense and greater efficiency. The result is a new 36th District Court that absorbs prior functions of the defunct County Common Pleas Court, Detroit Traffic Court, and the misdemeanor division of Detroit Recorder's Court.

The remainder of Recorder's Court is merged with Wayne County Circuit Court.

A $5 million to $8 million saving is anticipated this year from elimination of the Sheriff's 250-person road patrol after a lengthy series of court battles challenging the board's authority to dismiss the unit. Although Sheriff William Lucas may yet appeal, an October decision in Circuit Court upholds the board's right to exercise employer prerogative, and also exempts the board from attorney fees incurred by the opposition in the suit.

Since then the board has worked to implement a tentative agreement with deputies to restore some functions of the unit for secondary road patrol and policing of the Detroit-Metropolitan Wayne County Airport, but the new conditions would be entirely without cost to the County general fund governed by the Board of Commissioners. Terms of the proposed restoration agreement would require that all costs be paid from state grants or highway fees and gasoline tax revenues received by the County Road Commission which operates the airport.

In just four months last year, revenues at the County General Hospital in Westland were up $4.7 million after the medical services plan took effect permitting the 60 physicians there to incorporate and provide care on a contractual basis rather than as employees. Patient bed-days also increased nearly 1,000 per month more than previously when the board considered several other alternate management plans along with possible sale of the institution to private interests.

Turner pointed to other events that he considered outstanding in affairs of Wayne County government last year:

- Formation of an advisory committee for county-wide planning of solid-waste disposal.

- Approval by the board's Ways and Means Committee for partial conversion of the former County Child Development Center property into a senior citizen village.

- Success in acquiring $8 million in federal community development block grant funds, totaling $28.5 million for the County since inception of the program.

- Resolution of a jail population crisis, pending completion of the new County Jail months ahead of construction schedule with a surplus of funds.

- Recent authorization for Sunday retail package liquor sales after noon.

Fighting post-holiday blues

The St. Clare Divorced Catholics group will sponsor a presentation and discussion of "the after-holiday blues" on Friday, Jan. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Teen Room of Sweeney Center (on Mack at Audubon).

The presentation will be given by Alfred Cavaiani, a therapist in private practice who has addressed groups throughout the state. Cavaiani is a certified marriage counselor, social worker and alcoholism counselor. He is married and the father of three children.

In his presentation, Cavaiani will give special attention to the experience of separated and divorced persons dealing with post-holiday depression. He will include practical advice.

Admission is $2. The general public is welcome. For more information, call Father Joe McCormick at 885-4960.

Tax-Deferred Retirement Savings.

There's just one place with a department of experts ready to help you.

Why you should have a Tax-Deferred IRA.

There's never been a better time than right now to start saving for the future. Thanks to a new tax law effective January 1, 1982, it is possible for anyone with a wage or salary income to open a tax-deferred Retirement Savings Account... even those who are already covered by qualified pension plans. The new rules allow a working couple, filing jointly, to tax-defer up to $4,000 of their 1982 income. These investments and any earnings on them are tax-free until retirement. Then, because income probably will be reduced from what it is right now, it's likely taxes will be assessed at a lower rate.

Here's a chance to supplement your company's pension plan as well as your Social Security benefits, and receive both a tax deduction and a tax deferral at the same time.

Why it should be at NBD.

Only National Bank of Detroit has a Retirement Savings Department staffed by experts in the field. A department that's knowledgeable about the regulations and conditions relating to various retirement savings programs.

This insures that NBD customers have the most current information necessary to make the right choices with regard to their specific retirement needs. Why is NBD the only bank in town with a Retirement Savings Department? Because NBD thinks your retirement security is that important. NBD has a variety of retirement savings accounts—all protected by the FDIC—as well as the expertise to help you choose the best plan. Let NBD simplify the complexities of retirement savings for you.

At NBD, an IRA can get you more than retirement savings and a tax-deferment.

NBD is the preferred bank for tax-deferred retirement savings. And no wonder. When you open an IRA at NBD you get the benefits of the Unibank System that can make your banking more efficient and economical. With a specified minimum deposit, you'll be eligible for no-service-charge checking, no annual fee on charge cards, and no-service-charge Interest Checking. Plus, you have access to more branches throughout metropolitan Detroit and more convenient 24-Hour Bankers than with any other bank in town.

If you're thinking about opening a tax-deferred Retirement Savings Account, it's time you did something about it. Come see our experts at your nearest NBD branch today and find out which NBD Retirement Savings Account will fit into your future.

Introducing the newest IRA plan: NBD's 1 1/2 Year Flex-Rate.

Current Rate:

12.824%
ANNUAL INTEREST RATE

NBD now offers the all-new 18-month Flex-Rate Retirement Savings Plan that lets your interest rate change weekly to keep pace with the short-term money market. Rates effective Jan. 5 through Jan. 11, 1982. Minimum deposit $10.00

2 1/2 Year Special Savings Plan: An NBD Fixed-Rate IRA.

Current Rate:

13.00%
ANNUAL INTEREST RATE

Subject to change at renewal

$10.00 minimum deposit.
Qualifies for no-service-charge Unibank Checking Account with $1,000 balance.
Qualifies for no-service-charge Unibank Interest Checking with $5,000 or more.
Rates effective Jan. 5 through Jan. 11, 1982. Automatically renewed at maturity at the then applicable rate.

Federal regulations require substantial interest penalties for withdrawals made prior to maturity. IRS regulations provide for substantial penalties for withdrawals before age 59 1/2.

A test of Reagan's 'mandate'

Jan. 20 will mark the first anniversary of Ronald Reagan's presidency. Jan. 30 will be the 100th anniversary of Franklin D. Roosevelt's birth. And in November will come the 50th anniversary of FDR's election as president. Apparently unrelated, there is a link among those anniversaries.

The connection is that the Reagan revolution of the past year has resulted in the first major reversal of the social programs that began under FDR and came to be known as the New Deal. This counterrevolution launched by the 40th president is generally regarded as having slowed if not halted the growth of the federal government that had been expanding irresistibly ever since FDR's day.

THE IRONY IS that the Republican counter-attack is being directed by a president who himself was a Democrat and admirer of FDR a half century ago. As almost everyone knows by now, the conservative Reagan won a 25 percent, three-year cut in federal taxes, trimmed government programs and dominated Congress in his freshman year to an extent no president had done since Lyndon Johnson.

As to whether Reaganomics and supply-side economics will succeed in curbing inflation, bringing down interest rates and turning the economy upward again, the jury is still out. The President's confident prediction of a balanced budget by 1984 already has been proved impossible to achieve. And even the smaller goal of reducing the deficits may prove to be beyond his powers and capabilities if he seeks further cuts in social programs that hurt the poor and the unfortunate in society. Even a Congress that has been comparatively complacent may refuse to further reduce benefits to its constituents, especially in an election year.

Yet the President's personal popularity remains high. He is regarded as an amiable, likeable man who reads his speeches superbly well—probably better than any chief executive since FDR—and whose grasp of the details of domestic politics and issues is usually much better than his understanding of complicated foreign policy issues.

In effect, 1982's congressional elections will be a national referendum on Reagan's policies. The political experts believe the Republicans will continue to control the Senate but doubt that even the President's popularity will win control of the House for the GOP. In fact, a loss of GOP House seats would not be surprising in a mid-term election unless the President can go over the heads of Congress to the people to win additional support for his conservative policies.

THE 1982 election also could provide an answer to one continuing controversy about the President. That is the extent to which his 1980 victory was a "mandate" to cut into the bone and not just trim the fat from federal social programs and to grant bigger tax benefits to the wealthy than to the middle class in American society. Reagan did talk during the 1980 campaign in terms of cutting back on government and reducing taxes to stimulate the private economy but the effect of federal cutbacks on social programs only now is beginning to be felt. The congressional election could serve as an endorsement of Reaganomics—or as a warning that the program has gone too far.

Not over the hill

A story in the Detroit News last Sunday reporting that "the recessionary tide has hit the affluent Grosse Pointes" has drawn the wrath of some merchants who contend the story was unnecessarily gloomy about the business picture in the Pointes.

The story said the Pointes "are not immune to the effects of the prevailing high unemployment and interest rates" but it conceded that "the commercial strips in the Pointes are faring better than those in areas where shoppers have much less to spend."

Nobody in the Pointes is arguing that this area is "immune" to the national economic turnaround and to Michigan's recession but the merchants felt that most of the emphasis in the story was on the negative.

On the basis of its own reporting of Christmas business in the Pointes this year, the Grosse Pointe News would agree with the merchants that the picture in the Detroit News accentuated the negative.

Under the heading, "Yule sales jingle for merchants," last week's issue of the Grosse Pointe News cited a number of merchants who said they had record sales before Christmas and others who said sales were up over last year. Among the businesses reporting optimistically were the Book

Village, Pongracz Jewelers, Merry Mouse, The Pointe Pedlar and the Ten O'Clock Scholar. None of these firms were mentioned in the Detroit News story.

SEVERAL MERCHANTS on the Hill were incensed over the contention in the Detroit News story that the Hill was "formerly one of the most exclusive shopping stops in the Pointes." Here, too, the response is that the Hill isn't over the hill even though several shops have closed in recent months.

Several people told the Grosse Pointe News they had talked with the Detroit News reporter and given her information of a positive nature that did not appear in her story. They felt that she had adopted a point of view in advance of collecting information and that, as a consequence, was looking for substantiation of the conclusions that eventually appeared in the paper.

As we've noted before, the Grosse Pointes are often subjected to criticism and ridicule. Even President Kennedy, who himself was far from underprivileged, liked to call the area the "fat Pointes." By and large, Pointers have become accustomed to media nitpicking but they do think reporters ought to let the facts speak for themselves instead of trying to fit information into preconceived and inaccurate conclusions.

No tax relief in sight

It does not appear that 1982 will be a happy new year for property owners in the Pointes and elsewhere in Michigan. Even though property sales have slowed down and prices have sagged, 1982 assessments are likely to continue to rise, chiefly because of the use of a 30-month factor in figuring average selling prices which influence assessments.

Furthermore, it is unlikely that there will be any property tax relief at the state level. Gov. William Milliken last week vetoed a $155 million property tax relief bill passed by the Legislature on the grounds that the state budget cannot afford such a reduction in revenue.

That bill would have increased the relief provided under the Homestead Property Tax Credit program which offers rebates to persons who pay more than 3.5 percent of their income in property taxes. The bill would have increased tax relief by lowering the qualifying percentage from the current 3.5 percent to 3 percent, but only if state revenues increased by 6 percent over this year's projected revenues. If state revenues had not increased by that amount, the tax cut would have been delayed until October, 1983.

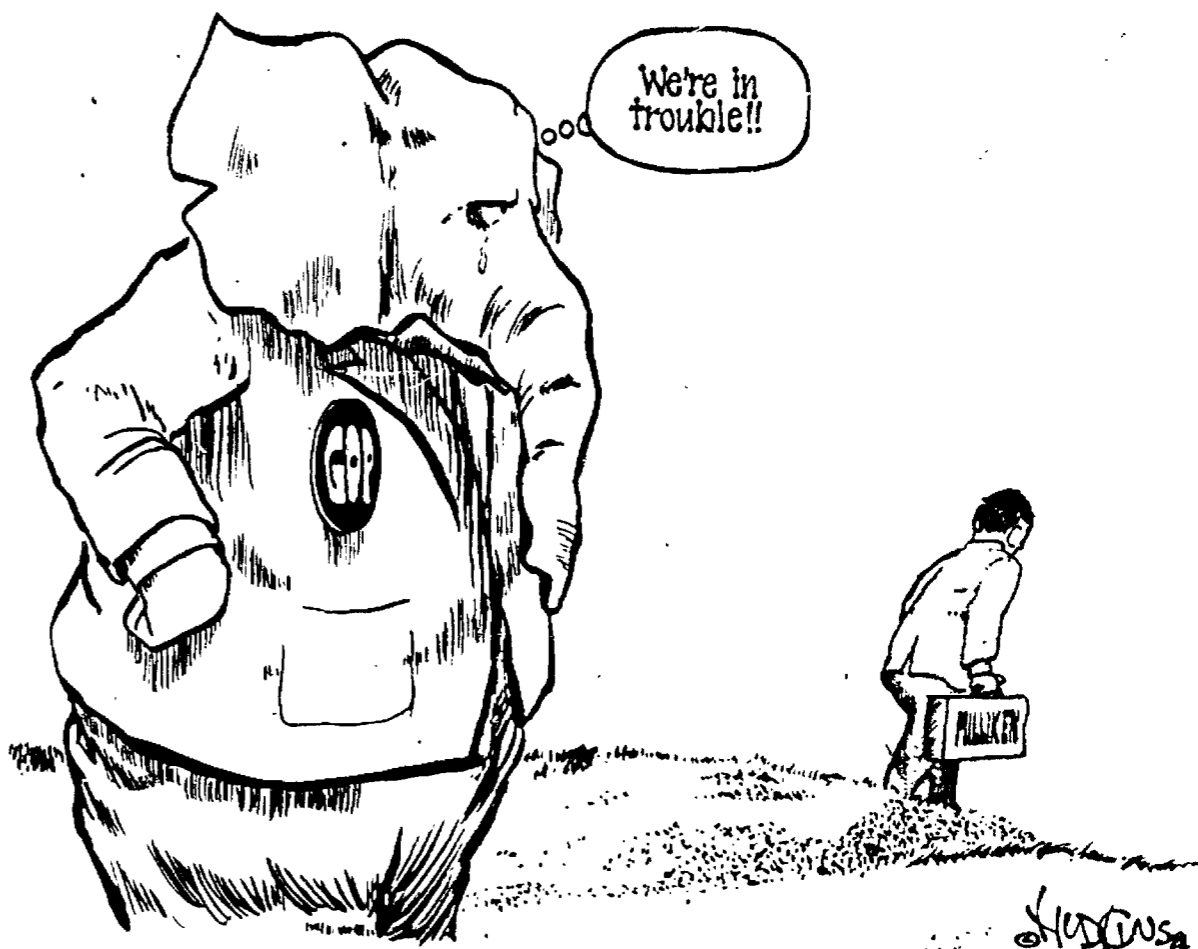

As Milliken himself found earlier when he proposed an even larger property tax cut and then withdrew it, the state's revenues are hit so hard by Michigan's recession that the state simply lacks the money to reimburse local governments and school districts for any additional tax cuts. State services and programs already have been cut back sharply and face new reductions because of the continuing revenue decline.

DESPITE THE recession, costs of schools and local governments continue to rise, chiefly because of inflation. Since these units of government rely chiefly on property taxes, they cannot afford to cut taxes, either, and, in fact, would be in some difficulty if property assessments were to be reduced. Many of these local units would simply have to raise tax rates if that were to occur.

So about the only consolation Pointe property owners have as the new year begins is that their taxes do serve good causes. They support the local school system which is one of the best in the state and they finance the costs of local governments which are not believed to be out of line in view of the quality and range of services provided.

Word to school board members

To the Editor: Do you mean to tell the people of Grosse Pointe that the Board of Education has known for five years it could have saved more than $2 million a year by collecting taxes once a year and not borrowing money? (Such a proposal is currently under consideration by the board.)

Here I am, 72 years old, my grandchildren out of college, married (scattered all around the country), and I have to sustain a great whacking tax increase every year for the schools. The schools are making absolutely no effort to lower our taxes at all. And they talk about the bureaucrats in Washington. A great many of these men and women are in business locally. How do they keep their businesses going? Well all of them don't, as one can see by the vacant property in Grosse Pointe. If people are that stupid in public affairs, how can they run businesses?

Well, you get the kind of public servants you vote for.

Several years ago, I tried to warn the Grosse Pointes of the stupid duplication of various adult education programs at War Memorial, Neighborhood Club and Board of Education. So how do you like this situation now? Yes, they are still spending unnecessary money. Mrs. Clarence D. Blessed Grosse Pointe Farms

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

Local Questers begin their new year with a combined meeting of all Grosse Pointe chapters next Wednesday, Jan. 13, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, where members and guests will gather at 11:30 a.m. for luncheon followed by a program about the unique roles of women in the development of American Folk Art.

A film, "Anonymous Was A Woman," will be shown, with commentary by guest speaker Marsha MacDowell, curator of Folk Art for the Michigan State University Museum and co-author of "Artists in Aprons." Ms. MacDowell will share her knowledge of a variety of popular art forms that flourished in America from the 17th through the 19th centuries, among them theorems, fractur, rugs, mixed media painting, samplers, quilts and other textile and needle arts.

General chairman for this combined meeting is Mrs. Richard Rinke, East Area coordinator for the State of Michigan Questers. The East Area is comprised of seven chapters: Fox Creek, Grand Marais, Grosse Pointe, Pear Tree, Pettipointe, Ribbon Farms and Windmill Pointe. Interested members of the community who do not belong to a local Quester chapter are welcome at the luncheon and program, too. Reservations for the day, at $10 per person, may be made by contacting Mrs. Rinke at 884-5172.

Among fund raising projects for the Questers' historic restoration and preservation activities is the sale of stationery: notepaper printed with historical quilt patterns.

TV Auction Art Appraisal Day

Artists, art collectors and others wishing to donate artwork to this spring's Channel 56 Auction can have their donations appraised by experts at the station, located at Second and Bethune in Detroit's New Center Area, from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 16, during a special Art Appraisal Day.

"Five appraisers, three of them members of the Detroit Art Dealers Association, will be available to evaluate donations and determine the current market value of artworks, including paintings, sculptures, antiques, jewelry and more," explains Grosse Pointe's Dottie Doerer, the '82 Auction's art chairman.

"Donors to the Auction get significant tax benefits based on the actual appraised value of their works," she adds. "Perhaps your taste has outgrown your art collection. Maybe you're moving. Whatever the reason, donating to the Channel 56 Auction benefits you as well as Detroit's only public television station."

The experts on hand during Art Appraisal Day will be Allen Rubiner, director of Rubiner Gallery, Gary Turla, director of London Arts Gallery, Ray Fleming, director of Robert Kidd Gallery, Leonard "Buzz" Wachler, gemologist, vice-president of David Wachler & Sons, and Leonard Berry, of Leonard Berry-Gordon Greek Antiques. Rubiner, Turla and Fleming are the Detroit Art Dealer Association members.

Theme of the 14th annual Channel 56 sellathon, scheduled for Jan. 16, is "Art Appraisal Day."

Grand Marais Club to meet

Mrs. Donald Miller, of Fleetwood Drive, will entertain members of the Grand Marais Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association this Monday, Jan. 11. After her co-hostesses, Mrs. Ellsworth Allison and Mrs. Arthur O. A. Schmidt, serve luncheon, a pair of representatives from the Audubon Society will tell "How to Attract Birds to your Garden."

East Kappa Delta Alumnae to meet

Detroit East Alumnae of Kappa Delta meet next Wednesday, Jan. 13, at 12:30 p.m. in the Lincoln Road home of Mrs. Arthur Fetters. Dessert will be followed by an afternoon of cards and games, proceeds benefitting the Detroit Panhellenic Scholarship Fund.

All local Kappa Deltas are invited. They may make reservations by contacting Mrs. Fetters at 884-5441.

To launch Alpha Phi lollipop sale

When January comes, Detroit East Suburban Alumnae of Alpha Phi and their many long-time customers know it's almost time for the chapter's annual sale of heart-shaped lollipops. Members will kick off this year's campaign next Tuesday, Jan. 12, at the Washington Road home of Margaret Kennedy Dietz, with Pat Ott, head nurse at Saint John Hospital's Heart Catheterization Laboratory, as speaker.

Each year the sale of lollipops, priced at 25 cents each, benefits Alpha Phi's international philanthropy: Heart Projects. Proceeds from last year's local sale were contributed to the Catheterization Laboratory at Saint John. This year's projects are earmarked for purchase of a Bentley Blood Oxygen Saturation Meter.

Lollipops will be available, starting Saturday, Jan. 23, through Alpha Phi's and at many local stores and businesses. Further information on the sale may be obtained and reservations for next Tuesday's meeting made by contacting Margaret Dietz at 882-8712.

Mrs. F. Martin Monforton

Paula D. Giorgio is autumn bride

Paula Denise Giorgio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Giorgio, of Lakeshore Road, chose a gown of organza, silk satin and Alencon lace, accented with hand-rolled, organza flowers, for her autumn wedding to P. Martin Monforton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Monforton, of Peachtree Lane.

The dress featured a deep neckline and off-the-shoulder, cap sleeves. The full skirt, detailed with Alencon lace and flowers and bordered with triple bias satin bands, flowed into a chapel train.

She wore a long, matching veil, accented with hand-rolled flowers, and carried a sheaf of long-stemmed white orchids, with natural leaves.

The 6 o'clock ceremony Saturday, October 3, in Holy Family Church, with Father Hector J. Saulino presiding, was followed by a reception in the Detroit Plaza Hotel's Grand Ballroom.

The newlyweds vacationed in the west, visiting San Francisco and Lake Tahoe. They are at home in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Rosanne Giorgio was honor maid for her sister. Bridesmaids were Dorothy Fournier, Mary Gwen Molyneux, of Grand Rapids, and Rose Venditti, the bride's cousin. Junior bridesmaids were the bride's two nieces, Karen Dilorenzo and Mari Pellegri.

They wore Georgian style ball gowns of fuchsia taffeta, and long gloves, and carried arrangements of silk roses and lilies, accented with baby's-breath, feathers and long streamers of pink and fuchsia ribbon.

Dr. Ronald Uppleger was best man. Groomsmen were Doug Monforton, the bridegroom's brother, Tony Giorgio, the bride's brother, and Timothy Clogg. Ring bearer was six-year-old Nick Christopher Giorgio, another brother of the bride.

The guests were seated by Michael Giorgio and Toby Monforton.

The mother of the bride wore a formal gown of layered, dusty rose chiffon, featuring a rhinestone-studded bodice, and a wrist corsage of cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother selected a long gown of powder blue Qiana and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark C. Stevens

Queen of Peace is wedding site

The 5 o'clock ceremony Friday, August 7, in Our Lady Queen of Peace Church at which Pamela Ann Richardson and Mark Christopher Stevens exchanged marriage vows was followed by a reception at Lochmoor Club, after which the newlyweds left to vacation on Bermuda. They are at home on Somerset Road in Detroit.

The bride, daughter of Mildred Richardson, of Berden Street, Detroit, and the late Bertram Richardson, is administrative supervisor in the Administrative Services Department at Burton Advertising.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Stevens, of Fairholme Road, is an assistant branch manager at First Federal Savings of Detroit.

Father Ron Jozwiak officiated at the wedding, for which the former Miss Richardson chose a traditional gown, featuring an Alencon lace bodice, with a Queen Anne neckline, and a georgette skirt. Matching lace bordered her ivory illusion mantilla. She carried six long-stemmed, ivory roses, with baby's-breath.

Paulette Shaw came from Ann Arbor to serve as her sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Patricia Richardson, another sister, Sherrill Richardson, their sister-in-law, and Joanne McClory. Their cap-sleeved dresses of sun yellow georgette were fashioned with sheer chiffon yokes. They carried multi-colored assortments of long-stemmed flowers, tiger lilies and yellow daisies with baby's-breath, tied with ribbons.

Michael Stevens was his brother's best man. Ushering were two other brothers, Ralph Stevens, of Houston, Tex., and Robert Stevens, and Gregory Hull.

Mrs. Richardson selected a dress of beige marquisette, shadow-striped with gold thread, for her daughter's wedding. She pinned miniature tiger lilies and baby's-breath to her purse. The bridegroom's mother wore a tiered dress of willow green georgette, each tier bordered with matching willow green lace, the top tier forming a cape over her shoulders. She, too, pinned miniature tiger lilies and baby's-breath to her purse.

False charge for poinsettia

After receiving many inquiries, the Professional Florist Institute has released a public statement answering the question: are poinsettia plants really poisonous?

Wesley Berry II, area florist and Institute director, explains that the poinsettia was first falsely accused of being poisonous in 1919, due to a story about the two-year-old child of an army officer stationed in Hawaii, who died after consuming a poinsettia leaf, called a bract. This unfortunate and unfounded story has led people to believe that the poinsettia is poisonous.

The Society of American Florists and Ohio State University have collaborated on a Poinsettia Research Project. "They found that when a rat was given unusually high doses of various portions of the poinsettia, it showed no mortality, no symptoms of toxicity and no changes in dietary intake or general behavior pattern. The USU research on the poinsettia plant has effectively debunked old wives tales that the poinsettia is harmful to human and animal health if parts of the plant are ingested," says Berry.

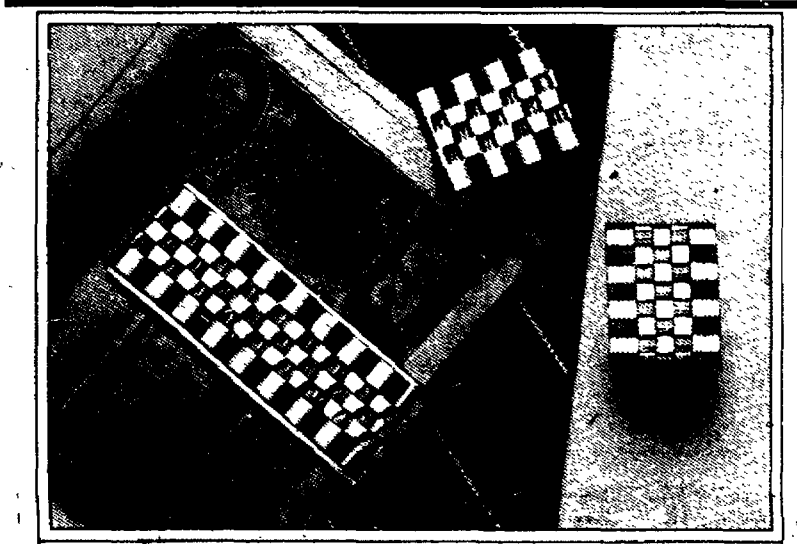

In 1975, a citizen living in New York State filed a petition with the Consumer Products Safety Commission demanding poinsettia plants carry caution labels when offered for sale to the public. "The petitioner charged that the poinsettia is poisonous and potentially lethal to humans and animals. In December, 1975, the Commission issued a statement denying the petition to require caution labeling. It did so after reviewing all available information relating to the poinsettia. The Commission's press release pointed out that poinsettia leaves, like those of many other plants, may cause varying degrees of discomfort if eaten, and should be placed out of the reach of small children," adds Berry.

He also points out that in 1974 the Poison Control Center, Food and Drug Administration, United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare stated that not a single human being was hospitalized and no one died as a result of ingesting parts of any plant sold by commercial florists in the nation, including the poinsettia.

Winter classes at Marygrove

Registration for Marygrove College's winter term of Continuing Education classes opened last Monday, Jan. 4, and will continue through Saturday, Jan. 16, when the classes begin. Programs include medical career preparation, computers, professional and management education and developmental learning, as well as personal enrichment, travel, arts and recreation and dance.

Registration information may be obtained by calling 862-8000, Extension 243.

Marygrove's Division of Continuing Education also is beginning a new program for gifted and talented children on Saturday, Jan. 16. Most classes will be held on Saturday mornings. "Mathletes" (advanced math), Renaissance reading, creative writing, computer for kids, philosophy for children, sculpture, chamber music and investments are among the courses offered.

Another specialized series this winter at Marygrove offers one and two-day seminars and short classes in professional management education, conducted by leading management trainers in the metropolitan area. Sessions will focus on employe supervision, time management, hiring and firing, black women in management, communication skills, memory training and computer and finance skills for non-technical managers.

A special workshop, Economics as if People Matter, will be conducted on two Saturdays, Jan. 23 and 30, by Amata Miller, IHM, Ph.D. Cost is $35, or $25 each for two or more people from the same agency. The program is designed to give participants a working knowledge of economic realities, even if they have not had formal training in economics.

DIA schedules more '82 tours

The Detroit Institute of Arts has increased its free guided tours; effective Jan. 1, both daily tours for the public and monthly tours for visitors with special needs are available.

The free, daily introductory tours meet at the museum's Farnsworth entrance at 12:15 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays. Tours begin at 1 and 2:30 p.m. Sundays, in the Great Hall.

Free tours in American Sign Language, completely wheelchair-accessible, jointly sponsored by the Art Institute and the Detroit Hearing and Speech Center, meet at the Farnsworth entrance at 1 p.m. on the first Saturday of each month.

All tours are conducted by the museum's volunteer Docent guides, who are assisted by interpreters from the Hearing and Speech Center during special needs tours. Further information on the museum's services to visitors with special needs may be obtained by calling the Education Department, 833-7980. A special phone device for the hearing-impaired is operated at 833-1454.

The Art Institute is open Tuesdays through Sundays from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Summer rites are revealed

Marriage vows were spoken Friday, August 21, on the veranda at the Detroit Yacht Club by Tara Maxine Youngquist and Scott Gardner Strawbridge. The 3 o'clock ceremony, at which Dr. Ray H. Kiely, of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, presided, was followed by a reception at the DYC.

Songwriter Diane K. Pryor flew in from California to perform an original wedding song for the bride and bridegroom.

The former Miss Youngquist, daughter of former Grosse Pointe Woods residents Dolores Youngquist, who now makes her home in Harper Woods, and Patrick Youngquist, of Lakewood, Calif., wore a Gatsby-hemmed dress of eggshell chiffon, accented with an antique lace jacket, and clasped her grandmother's pearls around her neck.

Help at hand for overeaters

Overeaters Anonymous meets Friday mornings, at 9:30 a.m., at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church on Maumee Avenue, between Neff Road and St. Clair Avenue. The meetings are open to the public.

Her chapel length veil fell from an arrangement of silk flowers: orchids, stephanotis and ivy. She carried a bouquet of fresh cymbidium orchids, yellow roses, stephanotis, baby's-breath and English ivy.

Honor maid Lisa Eyres, in a floor length dress of aqua chiffon with a matching, mid-length, chiffon cape, and bridesmaids Katy Sargent, of Cincinnati, O., and Kathy Johnson, cousin of the bride, in seamist chiffon with matching capes, each wore a satin ribbon centered with a yellow rosebud around her neck.

They carried tropical straw fans with arrangements of daisies, yellow roses, carnations and baby's-breath.

Mr. Strawbridge, son of Mrs. Mary Rose, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who wore a floor length dress of turquoise chiffon, clasped a strand of pearls around her neck and pinned an orchid to her handbag for the wedding, and of William Gardner Strawbridge, of Satellite Beach, Fla., asked Theodore J. Sweeney, of Grosse Pointe, to act as best man.

Guests were seated by Michael Johnson, David Youngquist and Shelley Hutchison.

Out-of-town guests included Bernard J. Rose, who came from Fort Lauderdale with his wife, the bride-

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Strawbridge groom's mother, and Mrs. William G. Strawbridge, who came with her husband, the bridegroom's father, from Satellite Beach.

The newlyweds vacationed first at Mackinac Island Yacht Club, then flew to Cozumel, Mexico. They are making their home in Fort Lauderdale.

Chisanbop offered at Macomb YWCA

The Macomb YWCA, located on East Ten Mile Road in East Detroit, will follow up its popular Chisanbop workshops with a series of 1982 mini-classes designed to teach this method of Korean finger calculation in more depth.

Two sessions, each four weeks in length, have been scheduled for Wednesday evenings, from 7 to 9 p.m. Fee is $15 per session for YWCA members, $20 for non-members. Enrollment is limited to adults; a separate class will be offered for children, if enough interest is shown.

Advance registration is required and may be made, and further information obtained, by calling 772-4435.

Session I (Jan. 13, 20 and 27 and Feb. 3) will teach the basics of addition and subtraction. No previous experience with Chisanbop is required. Session II (Feb. 10, 17 and 24 and March 3) will cover multiplication and division. Session I or previous knowledge of Chisanbop addition and subtraction is required.

Instructor for both sessions is Muri Eddy, of Mount Clemens, a Certified Chisanbop Instructor who has used the method widely with his public school classes.

Herbs open year for garden club

Windmill Pointe Garden members began the new year with a meeting yesterday, Wednesday, Jan. 6, at 11:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Noyes. The program was a potpourri workshop, led by herbalist Judy Cornellier.

Saint Jude Singles meeting in January

The Saint Jude Singles Club invites all single, Catholic adults, ages 25 to 50, to attend meetings held on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. at the Saint Jude Gym on East Seven Mile Road, just west of Kelly Road. This month's meetings are scheduled for Jan. 12 and 26.

Further information may be obtained by calling 872-0049, 527-5910, 778-9279 or 548-1930.

The Singles Club has scheduled dances on two Saturdays this month, Jan. 9 and 23, starting at 9 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Harper Avenue, near Eight Mile Road. Admission is $3 for members, $4 for guests. A cash bar will be available. Munchies will be provided.

Begin Church Women's year

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational and American Baptist Church has scheduled its first meeting of the new year for next Tuesday, Jan. 12. The program begins with a business meeting at 11:15 a.m., conducted by Mrs. William Reid, after which new and continuing officers will be installed.

Luncheon will be served by the Naomi Group in the social hall at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Howard Price and Mrs. Bernice Bates, program chairmen, have invited The Reverend Roger Pohl, formerly a missionary, stationed in The Philippines, now a minister at Bethany Church, to be guest speaker. He will address the group at 1:30 p.m.

All women of the church are welcome at this meeting, but reservations are required. They must be made by tomorrow, Friday, Jan. 8, at the church office.

Association officers to be installed include Mrs. Raymond Offerman, president; Mrs. Herbert Kohls, first vice-president; Mrs. Price and Mrs. Bates, second vice-presidents; Mrs. Edward Schuler, third vice-president; Mrs. Charles Holt and Mrs. Charles Long, recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively; and Mrs. Myron Mountz, treasurer.

The following committee chairwomen will also be installed: Mrs. George Polen, Spiritual Life; Mrs. Clifford Kuhl, Friendly Service; Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Paul Weber, Social Concerns; Mrs. Frank Turpin and Mrs. Ralph Bressler, culinary coordinators; Mrs. Benjamin Prescott, publicity; Mrs. Richard Allor, special projects; and Mrs. Polen, Martha Group.

Medical pros needed in north

Mercy College of Detroit has received a $31,583 Department of Health and Human Services grant to implement a program to prepare physician assistants for clinical practice in the Upper Peninsula. The long range goal of the program, according to Mercy Physician Assistant Program Professor Harriet Gales, is to improve access to health care services in the UP.

Mercy College Physician Assistant students and medical students in the Upper Peninsula Medical Education Program (the rural arm of the College of Human Medicine at Michigan State University) will participate in a common learning experience in the clinical stage of their medical education.

"By introducing shared learning and team building early in the clinical stage of medical education, it is hoped that positive collegial and employment relationships will result," Mrs. Gales explains. "This in turn should lead to improved access to health care for rural families."

In spite of the increasing numbers of physicians nationwide, rural areas such as the Upper Peninsula continue to have significant problems with access to health care. According to a 1978 survey, there is approximately one physician for every 1,350 patients in the UP; this exceeds the ratios recommended by the American Medical Association (1:800) and the Michigan Health Council (1:550).

In addition, the majority of physicians are clustered near the score of hospitals that serve the UP, leaving many residents more than 30 to 50 miles from health services. Poor weather during the fall and winter months can dramatically increase the driving time to a health care facility.

Due to the access problems, many patients see physicians only when severe symptoms or life threatening illnesses occur, reports Mrs. Gales. "Routine health maintenance, prenatal, well child and adult care, problems of daily living, some chronic illnesses and geriatric care are all deferred due to time, distance and trouble involved in seeking medical help or information," she observed.

Mercy Physician Assistant (PA) students and Upper Peninsula Medical Education Program (UPMEP) students will be educated to work together and to concentrate on the unique problems of rural health care. Initially, six students from the Mercy PA program will participate in the joint learning venture, which begins this January.

Steven Messimer, a 1981 Mercy PA graduate, is presently developing various aspects of the program in his position as on-site clinical coordinator. Mercy students will conduct their clinical rotations at two sites: the Bay de Noc Family Health Center in Escanaba and a private family practice in Gladstone.

UPMEP, Messimer explains, is unique to medical education. "Most medical schools are located near big hospitals," he notes. "This (medical school) is really community based medical education."

PA and UPMEP students will participate in joint clinical experiences as well as seminars, didactic family practice rounds and other educational activities.

Although at this time only one Mercy student participating in the program is from northern Michigan, a facet of the project is recruitment of PA students from the Upper Peninsula. Messimer, a native of Chicago who says he prefers working in a rural area to an urban one, is now actively involved in that aspect of the program. It is believed that these students would be more likely to return to the UP or other rural areas to practice.

The project could have positive results for other medical shortage areas, Messimer says. "It is important to note that while it (the program) is targeting underserved areas in the UP, it can be generalized to other underserved regions."

Mercy College has been educating Physician Assistants for nearly a decade in one of only two such programs existing in Michigan. The rigorous, two-year curriculum leads to a Bachelor of Science degree and prepares students who have had previous education and experience in a health related profession to provide services under the supervision and direction of a licensed physician.

To extend Macomb secretaries' hands

The Macomb Chapter of Professional Secretaries International has scheduled its Hand of Friendship dinner meeting for next Wednesday, Jan. 13, at Eddie Pawl's on Little Mack Avenue in Roseville, where a sit-down dinner of Chicken Marco Polo, at $11 per person, will be served at 6:30 p.m. The cocktail hour begins at 6 p.m. January is the month in which PSI chapter members sponsor Future Secretaries Association members. It is also the month in which each chapter's Secretary of the Year is selected.

Friends and guests are welcome at this open meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. John Michael Bodeau

Saint Francis By the Sea Cathedral, oldest building in Laguna Beach, Calif., was the setting for the late afternoon, candlelight wedding of Margaret Anne Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Graves, of Walla Walla, Wash., and John Michael Bodeau, son of the Arthur Bodeaus, of Hidden Lane.

Presiding at the 4:30 o'clock rites Saturday, September 26, was Father William Duff. The ceremony in the Spanish Mission style church was a small, intimate gathering of family and close friends. It was followed by a larger, evening reception, with a 1940s theme, at the Sea Terrace Club House in Dana Point, Calif., overlooking the harbor and the Pacific Ocean.

The bride wore a 1940s style, street length dress of white, textured silk, styled with pearl buttons and edged in white satin, and a wide-brimmed, white hat, covered in veiling and accented with orchids. Her bouquet of white and sterling roses, centered with mauve orchids, was accented with white mums and greenery.

She was attended by honor maid Claudia Roscamp and bridesmaid Sandra Rosania, both of Laguna Beach. They, too, wore 1940s style dresses: two-piece ensembles of mauve and pink georgette. White and mauve mums and greenery accented their bouquets of white and sterling roses.

Best man and usher, respectively, were David Squires, of Venice, Calif., and Stephen Terry, of Laguna Beach.

The mother of the bride chose an ivory-colored dress, styled with a high, lace neck descending into a V. The bridegroom's mother selected a pale beige suit with a V-cut blouse. Both mothers' flowers were sterling roses and ferns.

The newlyweds vacationed for two weeks in New England at the height of the autumn color season. They are at home on Cypress Drive in Laguna Beach.

Irene Cotzias will be bride

Irene C. Cotzias and Trip Wingfield, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris J. Cotzias, of Chalfonte Avenue, are making plans for a mid-May wedding.

Miss Cotzias, a Grosse Pointe South High School alumna who holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary Education from Western Michigan University, is a flight attendant with Republic Airlines, based in Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Wingfield, son of Mrs. Alvin Wingfield Jr., of St. Simons Island, Ga., was graduated from Lanier Senior High for Boys in Macon, Ga., and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Georgia Southern College, Statesboro, where he affiliated with Kappa Alpha Order.

He is employed by the Title Insurance Company of Minnesota in Atlanta, where he is president of the Young Mortgage Bankers Association.

Elizabeth Cass DAR begins a new year

Members of the Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, gathered last Monday, Jan. 4, for luncheon in the Cloverly Road home of their regent, Mrs. Robert Becker, and a program, "Historical Effects of Drugs on the World Today," by Anne Wood who has had years of experiences with anti-drug coalitions in educating young people and parents on drug abuse.

DIA campaign led by Ford president

The 1981-82 Corporate Campaign of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts to raise $400,000 - a 60 percent increase over last year's successful campaign - will be led by Donald E. Petersen, president of Ford Motor Company.

The museum's annual budget, encompassing capital projects as well as acquisitions of works of art, is now approximately $22,000,000. Some $12,000,000 is supplied by a State of Michigan appropriation. The remaining $10,000,000 must be generated by the private Founders Society.

The Art Institute is midway in a Five Year Improvement Plan which seeks to beautify and modernize the museum by its Centennial Year of 1985.

Boat and Fishing Show Preview
Grosse Pointe's Mr. and Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley are anxiously awaiting the opening of the 1982 Greater Michigan Boat and Fishing Show. "This is our second year as chairpersons of the Boat and Fishing Show, and we couldn't be more enthused about this year's show," Barbara Wrigley said recently. "It is bigger and even better than last year. And the fantastic variety of entertainment will be fun for every member of the family."

The 25th annual Greater Michigan Boat and Fishing Show premieres Friday, Jan. 29, with a Gala Preview designed to highlight many of the activities that will take place during the Show's nine-day public run at Cobo Hall, Jan. 30 through Feb. 7. Preview proceeds benefit the Detroit Historical Department's Dossin Great Lakes Museum.

"This is my opportunity to share my interest in some of the history that has built the character of our city," explains Mrs. Wrigley, who has been appointed by Mayor Coleman Young to serve a second year as a Detroit Historical Commissioner. "I have a great personal interest in maritime history. My husband and I are glad to serve in an area which is dear to us."

Featured entertainment at the Gala Preview includes a challenge of media personalities, each urging his personally-designed, seaworthy craft to victory in the Newspaper Sailboat Contest, and a performance by Twiggy, the water skiing squirrel.

Duglass, of Resaurant Duglass, will preside in the Gourmet Galley, demonstrating his interpretation of a sailing family's epicurian delights. Lynn Portnoy will present the season's newest cruisewear fashions. Robert J. Hemming will autograph his book, "Gales of November," which documents the sinking of the Edmund Fitzgerald. "Shanty," the strolling nautical singers, will offer chanteys. There'll be an exhibition of work by Michigan marine artists.

All events have been scheduled at different times, so that everyone can participate. The Preview starts at 5 p.m. Hors d'oeuvres will be served. A cash bar will be available. Tickets may be purchased at the door, at $25 per person.

They're Thinking Spring

In the midst of this year's January snow, a group of Pointers thinking spring includes Mrs. Frank P. Jacobell, Mrs. Robert Nicolini, Mrs. Ignatius Voudoukis, Ms. Antoinette Dawood, Mrs. Lucian Jacobell and Mrs. Donald Austin, all of whom have agreed to chair various committees for Hutzel Hospital's 1982 dinner dance. The 11th annual black tie party will be held May 8, at the Detroit Golf Club. Tickets are $150 per couple.

Last year's Hutzel dinner dance raised over $100,000 toward completion of the hospital's current building and modernization program.

Hutzel is a full service general medical and surgical facility located in the Detroit Medical Center. The 419-bed hospital has a national reputation for leadership in the fields of obstetrics and gynecology. It is also well known as a treatment center for infectious diseases and renal problems, and as a pioneer in the area of xeroradiography.

Helping in Honduras

Julia Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling P. Berry, of Lakeland Court, has been selected by DePauw University to participate in its 17th annual Winter Term in Mission Program. Julia will be serving with DePauw's team to Flores, Honduras, this month; there, DePauw students, working with medical doctors, nurses, dentists and engineers, will provide health care treatment to 2,000 persons while building a high school for the Roman Catholic Church's Franciscan Missionaries.

This January, DePauw is sponsoring seven medical and five construction teams, in Honduras, Jamaica, Peru and Mexico. The teams will provide medical service to more than 15,000 persons and will construct schools, churches, irrigation systems and farm-to-market roads requested by mission agencies.

Offer Cesarean birth support

Christ Lutheran Church on Schoenherr Road in Warren, between 13 and 14 Mile Roads, will be the setting for a 7:30 p.m. Cesarean Birth Support Group meeting this Monday, Jan. 11. Parents who have experienced or are anticipating having a baby by cesarean section are welcome to attend. The meetings, sponsored by Cesarean Birth Information, a division of Childbirth Information Services, are free of charge. They provide an opportunity for parents to share questions, concerns and feelings about the birth of their babies. Further information may be obtained by contacting Sharon Stempfle, 527-8049, or Kim Tocco, 792-5608.

Royal Doulton is Quester topic

The Grand Marais Chapter of Questers gathers tomorrow, Friday, Jan. 8, at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Elaine Cain who will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph P. Thompson, of Radnor Circle. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Cain will give a talk on Royal Doulton.

Farm, Garden Club to meet

Mrs. Wilbur Davidson will present a program on North American Birds at the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club's meeting Monday, Jan. 11, at 2 p.m. in Miller Hall, behind Christ Church. Hostesses will be Mrs. Harrison T. Watson, Mrs. Cecil W. Lepard and Mrs. Frederick H. Kross.

Nursing Job Fair opens January 14

Area nurses and nursing students will have an opportunity to meet with recruiters from more than 120 hospitals, including at least 50 in the Greater Detroit area, at the third annual Detroit Nursing Job Fair, which opens next Thursday, Jan. 14, and will run through Saturday, Jan. 16, at the Westin Hotel in Renaissance Center.

Fair hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday and Friday, Jan. 14 and 15, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 16. The main focus of the program is to allow nursing students, nurses and hospital representatives a chance to meet in an informal atmosphere.

Autumn rites for Miss Martin

Grosse Pointe Congregational Church was the setting Saturday, October 17, for the candlelight wedding of Margaret Louise Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Martin, of Lochmoor Boulevard, and James Charles Rohrkemper, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Rohrkemper, of Country Club Drive.

The Reverend Roy R. Hutcheon, D.D., officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a dinner reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. The newlyweds vacationed in Montreal and Quebec City. They are making their home on Laing Street in Detroit.

For her wedding, the former Miss Martin chose a gown of ivory satin, styled with a high-necked, Empire bodice of Alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls. Appliques of matching lace accented the wrists of her long, tapered sleeves and trimmed her skirt and chapel length train.

Her double tiered, cathedral length, illusion veil fell from a Juliet cap of lace embroidered with pearls. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath.

Catherine Leverenz, honor attendant for her sister, and bridesmaids Barbara Martin, of Washington, D.C., another sister, and Janice Stevens, sister of the bridegroom, wore dresses featuring long-sleeved, sheer ivory bodices, tucked and trimmed with lace, and burgundy crepe skirts sashed with satin ribbons.

Pink-tipped carnations, white chrysanthemums and baby's-breath formed their Colonial bouquets.

Brian Rohrkemper acted as best man for his brother, Randy Arickx and Kenneth Stevens, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, ushered.

Virginia Shover, the bride's former piano teacher and family friend, played the organ. Soloist was Natalie Valle, an Albion College friend of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a long gown of pale pink chiffon, fashioned with a high neckline, long, cuffed sleeves and tiered skirt. She pinned a corsage of gardenias to her wide, pleated belt. The bridegroom's mother selected a long gown of burgundy Qiana, featuring a draped neckline and long, fitted sleeves. She, too, wore a gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rohrkemper

Beyer-Jarema betrothal told

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jarema, of Goodrich, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carol Margaret, to David Craig Beyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beyer, of Norwood Drive. A September wedding is planned.

Miss Jarema and her fiancé, a Grosse Pointe North High School alumnus, both hold Bachelor of Business Administration degrees from Northwood Institute. He is southeastern district manager of Valley Industries, a division of Scott & Fetzer, and resides in Atlanta, Ga.

Genealogical Society to meet January 9

"Being Dead Yet Speaketh" is the title of the program to be presented by Fern Freeman, of the Detroit Historical Society, at the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research's meeting this Saturday, Jan. 9, at 2 p.m. in the Explorers Room of the Detroit Public Library on Woodward Avenue, opposite the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Society members will be available to assist with personal genealogical problems prior to the meeting, in the Burton Historical Collection.

Yachtswomen meet Jan. 14

Hostesses for Yachtswomen's meeting next Thursday, Jan. 14, at 8 p.m. at the Great Lakes Yacht Club will be Nancy Randall, of St. Clair Shores, and Jean Bartos, Marlene Bohlinger and Bette Savage, of Grosse Pointe Woods. The program will be presented by John Polasek, curator of Marine History at the Dawson Great Lakes Museum.

Parenting session at Macomb YWCA

The Macomb YWCA, located on East Ten Mile Road in East Detroit, will sponsor a one-time workshop, Parenting: Meeting the Needs of Parents and Children, Monday, Jan. 18, from 7 to 9 p.m. Instructor is Kay Bradley.

The workshop, designed primarily for parents but also useful for grandparents and others who have children in their lives, will discuss the traditional view of children and their place in the family as well as the view of children in today's changing family patterns. Focus will be on finding ways to meet the needs of both parents and children in today's family.

Fees are $4 for YWCA members, $6 for non-members. Further information may be obtained by calling 772-4435.

If there is sufficient interest, a longer term parenting class will be offered at a later date.

FOR SOME . . . THE MARKET IS GOOD

The 1981 figures are in and the combined figures at McBrearty & Adlloch show the best sales year in our history. What about all those articles about how tough it is? The answer is that we showed clients how they could cope with the market through creative financing and superior knowledge of the local market. Call one of our Professional today and set up an appointment to discuss our ideas further.

EXECUTIVE RANCH in excellent condition. Three bedrooms, two baths, natural fireplace in family room & living room, central air, sprinkler system, updated kitchen, attached garage, great floor plan, land contract 25% down.

ASSUMPTION - FARMS. Why buy on land contract when you can assume a long term fixed-rate 10% mortgage on this lovely English in the Farms. Three bedroom, 2 1/2 baths, family room, priced to sell - it won't last long!

INVESTMENT - $10,000 down two bedrooms, two baths, kitchen with appliances, central air conditioning. Must be sold, $49,900. Rentals average $475

WASHINGTON - Lovely English in prime location, modern kitchen with eating area, den, newer furnace, walk-up attic storage, land contract available with low down payment.

GREAT STARTER HOME - Imagine a new kitchen, three bedrooms, new 12.75% mortgage with 20% down, move-in condition, super price. $10,000 down moves you in.

FAMILY HOME - $77,000 - Four bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, family room, newer kitchen, land contract terms available, near Kerby school.

MERRIWEATHER ROAD - Beautifully decorated home with many custom features. Modern kitchen with built-ins, new furnace and central air conditioning, paneled family room, land contract terms or interest rebate. Reduced.

LAKESHORE LANE - Spacious energy efficient, five bedroom custom built home, large family room & library, first floor laundry, 3 car attached garage, priced to sell at $192,000.

FIRST OFFERING - Williamsburg colonial offers an exceptional country kitchen, family room and library, four bedrooms, two fireplaces, a 9% simple assumption mortgage, and within two blocks of the lake.

POINTE CONDOMINIUM - UNDER $50,000. Popular Grosse Pointe Pointe Villa. First floor apartment with low maintenance fee of $69 which includes central air and heat cost. This former model apartment is well decorated and offers an updated kitchen.

GREAT LAND CONTRACT TERMS - A nice bungalow with four bedrooms, 2 full baths, and a natural fireplace.

FARMS ENGLISH - 30% down on land contract terms, assumption or blend rate on mortgage. Charming English 4 bedroom with tasteful decor. Close to everything. It's been a long time since we were able to offer such a nice family home in the Farms.

Thief robs pizza parlor

A Little Caesars at 18619 Mack in the Woods was robbed Tuesday, Dec. 22, by a young black man who escaped with $140, according to police. An employe at the pizza parlor told Woods police the man, when she described as being about 6-feet tall, with a thin build and between 20 and 23 with an afro hair style, came in about 6:30 p.m., ordered a pizza, then pulled a gun and ordered the woman to give him the money.

City homes are hit by burglaries

Grosse Pointe City police are investigating three burglaries last week which netted thieves more than $60,000 in goods on Rivard Boulevard. Police said thieves broke into a home Dec. 28 by smashing a rear glass door window and hauled away several pieces of antique furniture, including an English oak dresser, a late 19th century walnut center table and a Victorian sofa. The owner told police several pieces of jewelry, including an $8,000 man's gold watch, a candelabra, a $2,800 handmade wool and silk rug, a $5,000 Oriental rug, $5,600 in sterling flatware and various paintings were missing. Police said about $60,000 in items were taken out of the home during the burglary.

Police theorize someone may be furnishing a home with the stolen goods, according to Det. Sgt. John Drummond. Drummond said thieves responsible for the theft may be involved in another Rivard Boulevard burglary Dec. 30. There thieves pried a burglar alarm and entered the house through a rear door, according to reports. Police said closets and dresser drawers were searched and about $650 in items were taken, including a phone, a pocket calculator and a 9 by 12 foot Oriental rug.

Police found a distinct set of prints outside the house leading from the front and rear doors and over a fence to a rear yard, according to reports. A wooden ladder was propped over the back fence leading into a rear yard on University Road, police said.

City police report thieves broke into a third Rivard residence Jan. 2. Police said burglars ransacked bedrooms and closets, apparently entering the home through an unlocked rear door. Police are still investigating what may be missing from the home.

Sgt. Drummond said anyone with information about the burglaries should call the police department at 886-3200.

Suspect flees from hospital

A 40-year-old Leamington, Ont. man, wanted by Grosse Pointe Park police on a larceny charge, last week escaped from his hospital room after he was injured in a high-speed chase, according to police reports.

told his mother he was going to a school so he could straighten himself out and would contact police in a few weeks, police said.

Police later found Buckner's clothes in plastic bags near the hospital's main desk in a rubbish container.

City police will charge Buckner with reckless driving, according to Det. Sgt. John Drummond. Park police Det. Rodney Wedding said a warrant has been approved by the Wayne County prosecutor's office for Buckner's arrest, but has not been signed by Zerilli.

Only fish with a body temperature higher than the sea around it is the tuna.

Frederick Buckner was placed in the intensive care unit at Bon Secours Hospital after he became involved in an accident at the intersection of St. Clair and Waterloo in Grosse Pointe City Dec. 21, police said.

Police said Buckner was being chased by a Mack Avenue businessman, Joseph Zerilli, who allegedly saw him siphoning gas behind his building at 15310 Mack in Grosse Pointe Park.

Buckner ran a red light, struck another car and suffered face and chest injuries, police said. He was admitted to Bon Secours for treatment as a police prisoner, according to reports.

City police said they received a call from the hospital about 8 p.m. Dec. 28 indicating Buckner was missing from his room. Nurses said Buckner was last seen in his robe walking down a hospital hall with a man holding two plastic bags. Buckner's companion was described as 40 years old, 5 feet 11 inches tall and 160 pounds with wavy blond hair.

Buckner's hospital roommate told police he overheard Buckner on the phone talking to his mother, saying he was leaving the hospital to avoid arrest. The roommate said Buckner

Mort Crim, host of WDIV's "Free 4 All" and anchor on the 6 and 11 p.m. "News 4" editions was recently named the 1981-82 recipient of the Detroit Urban League Guild's "Community Service Award."

The citation, established by the volunteer arm of the Detroit Urban League in 1976, is presented to individuals the group feels "have demonstrated a commitment to the principles of equal opportunity and broad concern for civic, community and educational issues."

In citing Crim's qualifications, Guild President Marjorie Anderson said his "unbiased reporting of civic and community issues which affect all mankind and his fine moderation of Free 4 All certainly constitute a community service."

DiChiera heads OPERA America

Dr. David DiChiera, founder and general director of Detroit's Michigan Opera Theatre, was re-elected to a two-year term as president of OPERA America during the organization's 12th annual conference in San Francisco. Representatives of more than 60 North and South American companies attended the Dec. 7 through 11 conference.

Dr. DiChiera also was presented a key to the city by San Francisco Mayor Dianne Feinstein, who welcomed the conferees by pronouncing Dec. 7 through 11 OPERA America Week.

"I am honored by my colleagues' vote of confidence and was delighted by the warm welcome the city of San Francisco gave to us all," says Dr. DiChiera. "OPERA America faces the challenge of helping member companies accommodate a burgeoning interest in opera in the face of economically troubled times."

He is the third president in OPERA America's 12-year history. Michigan Opera Theatre joined the all-America organization in 1973. Dr. DiChiera was elected to its board the following year.

OPERA America functions as a forum for professionals to share ideas and solve mutual problems. It sponsors special programs, including national and regional auditions for singers and an annual showcase of new works. It offers education programs, promotes opera as a popular artform and sponsors management seminars, consultants' services and legislative lobbies.

The themes of the San Francisco conference were the use of the electronic media by opera companies and the future of opera as companies confront inflationary costs and a reduction in public support.

Other OPERA America officers elected during the conference were Michael Bronson, Metropolitan Opera, vice-president; Plato Karayannis, Dallas Opera, vice-president; Edward Purrington, Tulsa Opera vice-president; Robert Driver, Opera Theatre of Syracuse, secretary; and Robert Herman, Greater Miami Opera, treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were David Bamberger, Cleveland Opera; Robert Darling, Central City Opera; Richard Gaddes, Opera Theatre of Saint Louis; David Gockley, Houston Grand Opera; Martin Feinstein, The Washington Opera; Ardis Krainik, Lyric Opera of Chicago; Lorin Moore, Edmonton Opera; Glynn Ross, Seattle Opera; and Beverly Sills, New York City Opera.

Concurrent with the last two days of the OPERA America Conference was a meeting of the International Association of Opera Directors. Its membership includes the directors of 17 major European houses. At a joint meeting, mutual problems regarding unions, artists and the state of opera were discussed.

Whitman day for Questers

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of Questers No. 147 will meet tomorrow, Friday, Jan. 8, at the Hampton Road home of Mrs. Richard Mertz where Mrs. M.L. Co-hostesses for the luncheon following the program are Mrs. Stuart Crane and Mrs. Manuel Papista.

Agog over cars and stars...

Over the river and through the Woods . . . and the Park, the Farms, City and Shores, enthusiastic volunteers for the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center, the Easter Seal Society and Boys and Girls Clubs of Metro Detroit are beckoning fellow Pointers to follow them to the Detroit Auto Show's Charity Preview Night at Cobo Hall Friday, Jan. 15. The three charities share Preview Night proceeds. Donation is $15 per person, and the entire amount is given to the charity each ticket holder designates. Pictured above (left to right) are a trio of NEGC Assistance League promoters of the black tie preferred party: CHARLOTTE (Mrs. Troy W. Sr.) MASCHMEYER, honorary chairperson of the evening for the NEGC, KATHY (Mrs. Jerome) DeMEYER, chairman of the afterglow supper party that will bring NEGC participants back to The Pointe, to the home of Robert and Cheryl Waldeck, League president, after the Preview—reservations for the afterglow are necessary—and MARY LOU (Mrs. Archie) GRIEVE, general chairperson. The gala night is an opportunity to preview all the new cars, enjoy a variety of entertainment and do a bit of celebrity watching. Keep an eye out for Frank Sinatra in Lee Iacocca's party. If you'd like to order your tickets for this year's Auto Show Charity Preview through the NEGC and or make reservations for the afterglow, call 824-8000, Extension 246.

1/8 tsp. pepper
1/8 tsp. dill (optional)
Cut ends from beans, wash and cut in 1/2-inch diagonal slices. Peel onions and cut in very thin rings. Heat oil in teflon skillet; add green bean slices; cover and cook over moderate heat for about 2 minutes. Stir beans well in order to coat each bean piece with oil; add remaining ingredients and bring to a boil. Turn heat to low and simmer until beans are crisp-tender, about 20 minutes. Makes about 7 servings.

Young widows offered support

The Northeast Guidance Center's Community Services Program will offer a support group for young widows early in the new year. The program is aimed at women ages 20 to 45 whose husbands have died within the past three years.

It is designed to provide opportunities for participants to share feelings and concerns with others who have had a similar loss, find help in facing the realities of everyday life as a single person, receive and give understanding to others, meet new friends, exchange ideas and get the encouragement and support needed to move on.

The group, being organized by Jeanne Lancaster, an experienced group leader and social worker at the NEGC, will meet Monday evenings, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., for eight weeks, Jan. 25 to March 15, at the NEGC, located on East Warren Avenue in Detroit, one block west of Cadillac.

Registration may be made by calling 824-8000. Extension 290. A $1 per session donation may be made to the NEGC, to help defray meeting expenses.

Among those appointed to the Michigan State Board of Barber Examiners for a two-year term expiring in 1983 and subject to state Senate confirmation, was JIMMY V. VENTO, of Hollywood Avenue, Vento, who is a barber in Detroit, was appointed as a professional member of the board.

ULS second in hockey tournament

The last weeks of 1981 were very good ones for the University Liggett School hockey team. On Dec. 16 the Knights played host to Detroit Country Day School and won, 3-2, giving up two power play goals in the last three minutes of the game.

On Dec. 18 and 19 University Liggett School hosted its third Holiday Invitational, a tournament which brings two Canadian and two American teams together.

The first game pitted ULS against downriver team Southgate Aquinas, while the second game had the Canadian teams of Vincent Massey Secondary School of Windsor, last year's champions, take on Ridley College from St. Catherine, Ont.

In the opening game ULS handed Aquinas a 7-4 loss as the Knights came from a 2-0 and then a 3-1 deficit to a big victory that carried them into the championship game. John Kulka led all scorers with two goals and two assists. Tom Dow also had two goals while Jim Raymo, Rick Roberts and Brian Valice each added one tally. Marty Wittmer had two assists and Ramsey Gouda, one.

The second preliminary game saw Ridley hand Massey a 2-1 overtime loss. Both teams scored early in the first period but it took 16 seconds of a sudden death overtime period to settle the contest.

In the consolation match Saturday, Southgate beat Vincent Massey, 3-1. Massey got the only tally of the first period but Aquinas came back to score one goal in the second period and two more in the third to lock up third place.

The championship brought ULS together with Ridley in a game that had all the excitement fans could ask for.

Ridley struck early and fast scoring three goals in a 28 second span. ULS came back to score four unanswered goals and by the end of the second period had a 5-4 lead.

Ridley tied it in the third, before ULS came back to take a 6-5 lead. With less than five minutes left, Ridley struck twice to take a 7-6 victory and the championship trophy. Ron Schocker and Raymo paced the ULS attack with two goals each; Wittmer had three assists and Kulka had a goal and an assist. Dow had the other ULS goal while A. J. Gibson added an assist.

The All-Tournament Team consisted of Massey goaltender Steve Sapardanis; Massey defenseman Mark Pougnet, ULS defensemen Brian Valice and Jamie McMillan and forwards Greg Stedman from Southgate Aquinas, Darren Hamilton from Ridley College and Wittmer from ULS.

ULS' next game will be Saturday, Jan. 9 at 6 p.m. against South Lake High School at the McCann Rink.

'Get Dancin' starts Jan. 11

Dance Slimnastics, Ltd., the nationally-recognized aerobic dance exercise organization, is offering area residents a special opportunity during the new eight-week series of dance classes beginning here the week of Jan. 11.

During the new session, titled "Get Dancin'," any current club member or potential member can earn a $5 discount on the class fee for each friend who joins the Club and enrolls in the dance exercise program.

In class, students receive a complete aerobic workout, resulting in an improved cardiovascular condition as the heart and lungs are strengthened as they work to deliver oxygen efficiently throughout the human system.

Members enjoy the freshly-choreographed routines which are an integral part of each session. These routines are easily learned and students need no previous dance experience to enjoy the activities. Although the pace becomes brisk in class, members are encouraged to perform in accordance with their own capabilities. A noncompetitive atmosphere prevails.

The classes meet two times per week for full 60-minute sessions. In addition, members may take advantage of an Open Class Policy, in which they may attend as many additional classes per week as they wish at no extra cost.

Experts recommend three to four complete workouts per week for maximum aerobic effectiveness. Other benefits derived from the Dance Slimnastics, Ltd. regimen include improved muscle tone, balance, joint flexibility and coordination.

Dance Slimnastics, Ltd. offers a program for everyone interested in developing aerobic fitness. In addition to the regular classes, there are programs designed specially for men, children and handicapped persons. In many areas, an AquaFit program is offered for those preferring an aerobic workout in the swimming pool.

For further information on class times and locations in this area (classes are held in the Eight Mile-Mack area) call 886-7534 or 882-8208.

This bit of surrealistic skiing is a still shot taken from the film "Off the Edge," filmed by Jeff Campbell, of Birmingham. The movie won an Academy Award nomination in 1977 and will be shown at the War Memorial this month. The story is at right.

'Off the Edge' is Center film offering Jan. 13

A spectacular, academy-award-nominated film on skiing and hang gliding in New Zealand's Southern Alps is coming to Grosse Pointe Wednesday, Jan. 13.

Titled "Off the Edge," it will be shown at the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium at 8 p.m. by the Grosse Pointe Ski Club. Admission is $2.50.

Breath-taking and death-defying sequences of skiing and hang gliding in the spectacularly beautiful mountain wilderness of New Zealand earned this film an academy award nomination in 1977. The feature-length documentary was also a gold medal winner at both the Festival of the Americas and the Virgin Islands Film Festival.

"Off the Edge" was filmed by Jeff Campbell of Birmingham, Blair Trenholme, of Canada and Mike Firth, of New Zealand. Campbell, currently at work on another film in San Juan Mountains of Colorado, personally made arrangements for the film to come to the area for this showing.

Tickets may be purchased in advance, to insure seating, by mailing a check for $2.50 per seat payable to Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe, Mich. 48236. Tickets may also be purchased in person at the War Memorial. Further information may be obtained by phoning 881-7511.

Star cagers win three of four

Our Lady Star of the Sea's seventh and eighth grade boys' and girls' teams each won by one point over St. Ambrose teams last week. The Star girls won, 20-19, after trailing 8-7 at the half. Meagan O'Toole hit for 10 points to lead the Star offense while Marissa Beautista added five and Michelle Calcaterra and Laurie Marks contributed three and two points, respectively.

The 78'er girls from Star, now 2-1 in regular season play, are led by coach Margaret Spindler, teacher at Our Lady Star of the Sea Elementary School.

Star's seventh and eighth grade boys' team followed the girls' thriller with an equally exciting come-from-behind victory over St. Ambrose. St. Ambrose had jumped out to an early first quarter lead and increased the lead through the third quarter to 20-10. Star's boys came back in the fourth quarter with a full court press which kept play at their end of the court. With under two minutes left, Star tied the game up and a free throw put them ahead with a minute left in the game. The Star boys froze the ball only to lose possession with 21 seconds left. Craig Como intercepted a St. Ambrose pass to regain possession of the ball and give Star the 24-23 victory. The 78'er boys' record is 2-1 in league action.

In fifth and sixth grade action, the Star girls easily handled St. Ambrose, 21-6. Star jumped to a 12-0 first half lead. Kris Parish led Star's offensive attack with six points while Beth Abood hit for four. Buffy Stumb, Nancy Schulte, Julie Mott, Beth Kreuter and Connie Paglia rounded out Star's scoring.

Star's 58'er boys lost the only game of the four game contest with St. Ambrose, falling, 25-9. The Star team could not hit for a basket in the first half and was unable to overcome the deficit. Paul Pugliese had four points for Star, Brian Peltz and Jim Boutrous each hit for two and Tony Patek added one.

The Star girls play this Saturday, Jan. 9 at home against Our Lady of Good Counsel at noon. The boys' contest is Sunday, Jan. 10 at 2 p.m. at home, against Good Counsel.

G. P. Swim Club excels

The Grosse Pointe Swim Club dominated the morning events at the recent United States Swim Association meet for "A" swimmers held at Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School. The meet included teams from 35 clubs from across the state as well as a visiting team from Minnesota.

In the 10 and under category, Grosse Pointe's Greg Cooksey won the high point trophy with his 26 individual points. Cooksey scored victories in the 200 yard individual medley (2:37.47), the 100 yard backstroke (1:13.13) and the 100 yard freestyle (1:03.65). Cooksey also finished second in the 50 yard butterfly (32.34).

Paul Wilson, of the Pointe also scored well, earning fourth place overall in individual points. He took third in the 100 yard backstroke (1:19.0) and the 100 yard breaststroke (1:26.60); fifth in the 50 breast (40.1); sixth in the 200 IM (2:47.7) and in the 50 fly (34.74).

Teaming with Wilson and Cooksey to win the medley relay were Anthony DeLuca, fifth in the 50 fly (34.66), and Mike Montagne. Cooksey, Wilson, DeLuca and John Cartwright also took first in the 200 yard free relay with a winning time of 2:02.72.

The girls' 10 and under relay team of Katie Young, CeCe Rettig, Deanna Butler and Tracy Teetart placed first in the 200 yard medley relay (2:23.1). Individually, Young was first in the 100 free (1:04.71), third in the 50 breast (38.58) and fourth in the 50 fly (34.14).

In the 11 and 12 years olds' competition, Ann and Laura Verona, Nancy Woods and Kelly Bartsch finished second in the 200 free relay (1:54.08) and Bartsch and the Veronas teamed with Sandy Smith to capture second in the 200 yard medley relay (2:08.95).

Individually, Bartsch was sixth in the 50 breast (36.41) and third in the 50 free (26.89). Ann Verona also placed for Grosse Pointe, capturing sixth in the 100 yard butterfly (1:09.99).

Eleven and 12-year-old boys Augie DeLuca, Brad Cooksey, Ian Thompson and Jim Boutrous placed second in the free relay (4:54.22); Cooksey, Boutrous and DeLuca then teamed with Bill Thompson to win the 200 yard medley (2:05.85).

Boutrous placed fifth in the 100 fly (1:07.78) and sixth in the 50 free (27.38) while DeLuca was fifth in the 50 free (27.34).

Enter now for Feb. 13 'Vasa'

As the number of entrants in the North American VASA Race continues to grow, procrastinating would-be entrants are reminded that a fee schedule change is rapidly approaching. Prior to Jan. 1, the entry fee was $20, but the fee is now $25. Michigan's premier cross-country ski race, the VASA, is set for Feb. 13, in Traverse City.

The number of entries is well ahead of last year's pace, and right on schedule for the 1,500 skiers earlier predicted by VASA officials.

"By the time we get this next big surge of entries, we'll be well over the 1,000 mark," predicted Ted Osterstrom, race chairman.

Included in the entries so far are skiers from all over the world, the U.S. Ski Team, the Peugeot Rossignol Team, the Adidas-Kniessel Team, and the Great American Ski Chase Team.

The competition is divided into two categories: 50 kilometers for world class and USSA sanctioned racers, as well as the more serious skier, and 25 kilometers for citizen racers who like a shorter distance or are more interested in a good tour.

Both VASA officials and its sponsor, Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Michigan, urge anyone interested to sign up. Cross-country skiing is an individual sport which allows each person to establish his own pace and goal, they emphasize.

Anyone interested in registration forms or further information should call (616) 946-4272 or write: VASA, Box 581, Traverse City, Mich. 49684.

Learn computers at Cranbrook P.M.

How to use a computer, make snowshoes, fly a plane or search for peace can be learned through Cranbrook "P.M." January classes.

Those interested in a working knowledge of computers can select from one of four popular classes — comprising five-sessions each — beginning Jan. 19, 21 and 22. Fee is $40.

"Flight Plan," a nine-week course preparing students for the FAA private pilot written examination begins Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. Fee for the class which also is designed for those who need a biennial flight review, is $50.

A one-session workshop on how to make snowshoes is offered Jan. 23 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. by Cranbrook P.M. and Cranbrook Institute of Science. In addition to hearing a lecture on the history of snowshoes in North America, participants are taught how to tie their own Ojibway-designed snowshoes. (One shoe is made during the workshop, so that a second can be finished at home). Fee of $52 includes materials needed to make two shoes, excluding bindings.

Soviet affairs specialist and former WDIV Channel 4 commentator Dr. Fred E. Dohrs returns with a four-session course in foreign policy beginning Jan. 26 at 8 p.m. Discussions include a search for peace through global perspectives in the U.S. (during Reagan's administration), the Kremlin, Middle East and Southern Africa. Fee is $25 ($12.50 for second member of the same family).

Coming up Feb. 3 is a continuation of the educational program on China which began last fall. Political science professor Dr. Michel Oksenberg discusses current policies and prospects in contemporary China. Fee is $7.50. Also to be presented in February is a lecture series on Chinese art.

Twice each year Cranbrook P.M. presents a series of classes generally unavailable elsewhere. Proceeds benefit the Cranbrook Schools' scholarship programs. Further information may be obtained by calling 645-3635.

After school help from Camp Fire
Camp Fire Detroit Area Council has designed an "After School Enrichment Program" for elementary students in grades one through six. This program is being carried out in conjunction with the In-Service Youth Employment Program and with Detroit Public Schools: Durfee Middle School, Roosevelt Elementary and Central High.

Teens, ages 14 through 17, from Durfee Middle School and Central High have been trained as tutors for the program. They conduct the program under the supervision of educators Mrs. Marilyn Mayberry and Mr. James McDonald, both teachers at Durfee Middle School.

The program is servicing approximately 50 fourth grade students from Roosevelt Elementary School. The teen tutors meet with these children twice a week from 3 to 5 p.m. for 10 weeks. The children are assigned in teams of two to work with a teen tutor.

The program is designed to increase reading, writing, and math skills. A second focus is a self-reliant course, "I Can Do It!" which was designed by the Buffalo Council of Camp Fire and teaches children how to handle a series of situations from having to be alone; not having enough money; having to be in charge; or being afraid.

The third part is the Detroit Area Council's nutrition program, "Discovering New Foods," which helps the children to discover and taste a variety of new and nutritious foods.

Teens in the program are given the opportunity to develop job skills and are held accountable for their performance on the job. They are involved in much of the daily program planning for the children and the evaluation of their progress.

For further information about the "After School Enrichment Program," call Camp Fire at 833-2670.

Meet the Bantams...

Only two teams represent Grosse Pointe in the Metro East League's Bantam house division, but two better representatives could not be found than the GPHA's Bantam Blues and North Stars. The North Stars are the league leaders and the Blues aren't far behind, occupying third place in a very tough league. The Bantam house Blues and North Stars, comprised of players 13 and 14 years of age, are pictured at right.

Marlies are runners-up

The Grosse Pointe Marlboro Bantam A travel hockey club earned runner-up honors in the annual Dearborn Christmas Classic Tournament. Sterling Heights won the championship contest, beating the Marlies, 7-2.

The Marlies were awarded a trophy for their outstanding tournament play and each boy received a runner-up medal. Grosse Pointe scoring leaders during the tournament were Kevin Tisdale, Walter Connolly and Jeff LeFebvre, with three goals each; Greg Henchel, with two goals and Joe Sullivan, with one.

The North Stars are the second Bantam House team entered in the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association this season. Sponsored by Mourad and Elrod, the Stars include, from left to right, (front row) Randy Bower, John Petrilli; (second row) Tom Gebeck, Matt Wietrzykowski, Eddie Brady, Scott Quatro, Casey Quick, Steve Elie; (third row) Jack Frakes, assistant coach, Chris Albright, Scott Stenzel, David Rice, Evan Frakes, Peter Guzzardo and Arnie Stenzel, coach. Manager Jane Stenzel was not pictured.

The Marlies kicked off the new year with a 4-3 Adray League victory over the Flint Icelanders on Jan. 3. Grosse Pointe jumped out in front when Walter Connolly beat the Flint goalie from close in after taking set up passes from Henchel and Jerome. Midway through the second period, Henchel broke a tie game when he converted passes from Connolly and Tisdale.

Henchel tied the contest again in the third period with his second goal, as he faked the goalie in a one-on-one situation. Connolly and Tisdale drew assists on the play.

Late in the game, the Marlies' Ugval worked his way between the Flint defense to score the winner after linemates LeFebvre and Sullivan had worked the puck loose with some aggressive forechecking.

The Flint victory left the Marlies with a 6-6-1 league record.

Grosse Pointe Hockey Association
By Brad Tisdale

This week, the Center Ice spotlight is on the two teams which comprise the "Bantam house" division of the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association. Bantam hockey is for 13 and 14 year-olds, "many of whom have been playing organized hockey in Grosse Pointe for as long as eight years," says Bill Quinn, Bantam division director.

The North Stars, coached by Arnie Stenzel, and the Blues, coached by Lou Sovik, represent Grosse Pointe in the tough Metro East Hockey League. Each of the eight teams in the league plays the other four times during the season, in addition to participating in tournament and exhibition contests.

The league includes teams from Sterling Heights, Romeo, Fraser and Warren. Currently, Grosse Pointe's Bantam house entries are playing great hockey, with the North Stars leading the league and the Blues in third place.

Except for selected tournament play, most of the Grosse Pointe house teams were idle during the holiday period.

THE GROSSE POINTE Hockey Association's Mite "B" Rangers were active over the holidays, participating in the St. Clair Shores Civic Arena Christmas Tournament.

The first tournament game for the Rangers pitted them against the St. Clair Shores Red Barons on Dec. 27. The Rangers wasted little time in dominating the game as Peter Bourke scored less than one minute into the contest. Bourke followed with three goals, the last assisted by Matt Moroun, to earn a hat trick in the first period.

Derek Garden scored two second period goals for the Rangers, each assisted by Brian Quinn, and Quinn closed the scoring, assisted by Garden, in the second period. The 7-2 Ranger win featured strong goaltending by Stephen Tucker, solid defense by Peter Morgan and Julian Shaya and a consistent offense from Sean Darke and Teddy Hanawalt and Adam MacDonald. Bourke was awarded the game puck for his scoring effort.

BETWEEN TOURNAMENT games, the Rangers scrimmaged the St. Clair Shores Roadrunners on Dec. 28, winning 3-2. Bourke put the Rangers on the scoreboard early in the third period, then scored again less than two minutes later. Moroun and John Ferguson assisted. The final minutes of the game featured exciting end-to-end play with Ferguson scoring the winning Ranger goal with 41 seconds remaining in the game. Jay Auld and Bourke were credited with assists.

Stefan Teigte was brilliant in goal, stopping numerous point-blank shots in the third period to preserve the victory. Teigte was awarded the game puck for his effort. Jay and David Auld, Tim Kazul and Todd Frederickson played exceptionally well on defense.

The next tournament action for the Rangers came on Dec. 29 against the Warren Blues. Warren, undefeated and leading the tough Metro East Hockey League, scored twice in the first period and once in the second en route to a 9-1 victory. Bourke scored with 29 seconds left in the second period to ruin the Warren shutout.

Warren scored six goals in the final stanza as the tired Rangers were no match for the eventual tournament winners. Quinn, Auld and Kazul highlighted the Ranger effort with their strong forechecking effort.

The final tournament game for the Rangers came on Jan. 2 and pitted Grosse Pointe against the St. Clair Shores Blazers in a fight for second place. Early in the first period, a hard-skating Ferguson scored for the Rangers, Moroun and Auld assisting.

WITH FIVE MINUTES remaining in the period, Ferguson scored to put the Rangers up 2-0 after converting a rebound of Bourke's shot. But the Rangers relaxed long enough to allow the Blazers come back with three quick goals. Trailing 3-2 starting the second period, the Rangers had numerous shots on net but were denied until Bourke tied the game at 3-3 with less than two minutes left in the period. Kazul drew an assist.

The tie was short-lived, however, as the Blazers scored with 18 seconds left in the second period to take a 4-3 lead. The Rangers put it all together in the third period as Moroun scored the tying marker, assisted by Bourke. Bourke scored what proved to be the winning goal on an unassisted effort.

Ferguson scored the insurance goal with five minutes left to earn a well-deserved hat trick and secure a 6-4 Ranger win. The game was highlighted by the strong goaltending of Tucker and consistent backchecking by the forwards. Game pucks went to Tucker, Bourke, Ferguson, Moroun, Auld and Kazul. (Compiled by Bill Quinn).

Wonders of world at Cranbrook

For the first time, Cranbrook Institute of Science offers teenagers a course in cross country skiing, along with children's classes that explore the wonders of the natural world, beginning the week of Jan. 11 at 500 Lone Pine Road.

"Wonders of the World Around You" is for preschoolers who are at least four years of age. Classes for kindergartners are "Museum Explorers" and "Physics Fun." First and second graders can enroll in "Animals With Fur," "Wonders of Weather," "Reptiles and Amphibians" and "Other People, Other Places: China, Japan and Indonesia."

A new class entitled "Natural Wonders" offers second and third graders a special introduction to the natural world. For third and fourth graders there are classes about "Star Worlds," "Junior Rockhounds" and more.

Hospital costs up 12 percent

The most recent data developed on community hospital cost increases from the American Hospital Association's annual survey shows that Michigan ranked third best in the nation among all states and the District of Columbia in controlling the rise in hospital costs between 1979 and 1980.

Data released by the Lansing-based Michigan Hospital Association also showed Michigan total hospital expenses increased 11.9 percent during that period, a quarter less than the 16.4 percent registered for the U.S. average. Only Alaska and New York registered smaller increases.

Also noteworthy was the fact that Michigan's total cost increases were substantially lower for the same period than other Great Lake states. The other Great Lake states (Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin) recorded increases of approximately 16 percent or higher.

The Michigan Hospital Association says in a press release, that much of Michigan's favorable performance can be directly attributed to voluntary prospective payment programs. These programs, which are in place with Blue Cross and Medicaid, were designed and supported by the hospital community. They control how much hospitals can be paid. If a hospital cannot keep its costs below an established ceiling, it suffers a financial loss which provides a strong management incentive to control cost increases. Before prospective payment programs, hospitals were paid whatever costs they incurred in delivering health care services. There was never a lid on how much they were paid.

Also credited for limiting the increases is Michigan hospital's concern with cost containment. Virtually every Michigan hospital has a board-level committee on cost containment. The committees work with hospital management and governing boards as well as medical staff to find ways to control costs. Other innovations, particularly in the area of shared services among hospitals, have also been important in controlling costs, the association says.

Other data also shows Michigan is holding the line on health care cost increases. The medical care component of the Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers showed that between October 1980 and October 1981, Detroit experienced a 7.6 percent increase, the U.S. overall, however, registered an 11.7 percent increase.

The American Hospital Association's annual survey is the most comprehensive survey of its kind. It includes hospital expense and utilization data from over 5,800 community hospitals registered in 1980.

Average score among women bowlers is 131. That's amateurs'. This average lady amateur is 37 years old with two children.

A SCHEDULE OF MOVIES, SPORTS AND SPECIAL INTEREST PROGRAMING.

PROGRAMS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

movies

FRI, JAN 8

10-11PM NBC (9 Central/Mountain)
PALMS Sharon Gless and Steven Ryan as police inspectors investigating corruption in the Federal Narcotics Agency. Here come the bribes.

SAT, JAN 9

8-9PM CBS (7 Central/Mountain)
MAN'S HUNTING INSTINCT

Ludwig von Drake, Duckdom's most distinguished professor of cartoon merriment, with an able assist from several Disney stars leads the way in this animated adventure.

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain)

The Late Show

Art Carney & Lily Tomlin

THE LATE SHOW Oscar winner Art Carney co-stars with Grammy and Emmy-winner Lily Tomlin as, respectively, a semi-retired private eye and the kooky client he reluctantly agrees to help. Loony and fun... and one of the best films of 1977. Directed by Robert (Kramer vs. Kramer) Benton, the top-notch cast includes Eugene Roche, Joanna Cassidy, Howard Duff and John Considine. Dark deeds in sunny Southern California with strong intimations of Raymond Chandler and Dashiell Hammett.

9-11:30PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)

"FOUL PLAY" Goldie Hawn Chevy Chase

FOUL PLAY Goldie Hawn and Chevy Chase in a Hitchcockian send-up about a daffy librarian who unwittingly gets involved in a scheme to assassinate the Pope. A comedy-thriller co-starring Dudley Moore, Burgess Meredith, Rachel Roberts, Billy Barty, the ubiquitous Eugene Roche and the city of San Francisco.

SUN, JAN 10

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain)

WILL G. GORDON LIDDY

WILL G. GORDON LIDDY Robert Conrad portrays the former attorney and FBI agent who joins the Committee to Re-elect the President and is ultimately arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to 20 years in prison for his role in leading the break-in at the Democratic National Committee Headquarters in Washington's Water-gate Hotel. A world premiere based on Mr. Liddy's autobiography.

9-11:30PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)

JAMES BOND Diamonds Are Forever

DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER Sean Connery's swan-song as 007 and not bad Bondage, as these things go. With Jimmy Dean, Jill St. John and Charles Gray as the baddie, Ernst Stravo Blofeld. And, yes, James Bond and the girl wind up, as always, in the water for the finale.

MON, JAN 11

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain)

ICE CASTLES Robby Benson and Lynn-Holly Johnson in a romantic drama about two teen-agers whose common love for ice sports is challenged when one suffers a severe fall. Colleen Dewhurst and Tom Skerritt co-star. At times it's skating on thin ice.

9-11PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)

VICTIMS Four women stripped of their humanity by the same rapist, join in a desperate hunt to trap the man the courts set free. Kate (Eye of the Needle) Nelligan, Ken Howard and WKRP's Howard Hesseman star. Parental discretion is advised.

TUES, JAN 12

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)

WASHINGTON MISTRESS Drama about an ambitious U.S. Senator's aide who falls in love with a charismatic married lawyer with children, and the effects the secret affair has on her private and professional worlds. Stars Lucie Arnaz and Richard Jordan. Love and seduction, power and illusion.

WED, JAN 13

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)

AN INNOCENT LOVE An unusual romance blossoms between two college students—he is 14 years old—she's 19. Hummm! Melissa Sue Anderson, Doug McKeon and Rocky Bauer co-star.

SAT, JAN 16

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)

HELP WANTED: MALE A romantic comedy about an unconventional marriage of convenience between a busy career gal who desperately wants to be a mother, and a sports-writer after easy money. Suzanne Pleshette and Gil Gerard. And if this sounds a bit like a twist on a recent Burt Reynolds movie, who's to say?

SUN, JAN 17

9-11:35PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)

THE UNION FIELD One of the unsung films of 1979—a harrowing tale (based on Joseph Wambaugh's factual story) of a cop killer who uses the system to pervert justice and make life hell for the police officer whose partner he murdered in cold blood. Strong performances by Ronny Cox, James Woods, Franklin Seales, John Savage and Ted (Body Heat) Danson. A rough one all the way.

WED, JAN 20

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)

PRIME SUSPECT Drama about a happily married, apparently law-abiding citizen whose tranquil life is shattered as he becomes the prime suspect in a police hunt for a sex murderer. Mike (M*A*S*H) Farrell, Teri Garr and Veronica Cartwright star. How a cookie crumbles.

THUR, JAN 7

specials

Fame

8-9PM NBC (7 Central/Mountain)
FAME Premiere of a series based on the Oscar-winning movie of the same name. This too focuses on a group of students at New York's High School for Performing Arts and features Lee Curreri, Erica Gimpel, Valerie Landsburg, P.R. Paul, Carlo Imperato, Lori Singer and Gene Anthony Ray. This one Metamorphosis is charged with hope, comedy and explosive music!
