Dutch Elm Disease spray offered by Tree Commission

Grosse Pointe Woods residents can order spring spraying to combat Dutch Elm Disease at the reduced rate of $16.25 per tree, the Grosse Pointe Woods Tree Commission announced last week.

Spring spraying, recognized as one of the most effective ways of killing the disease-bearing beetles, reaches the pests when they hatch, killing them before they can cause damage.

The deadline for ordering the spring application of methoxychlor, the safest and most effective pesticide, is March 5. The group rate was arranged through Davey Tree Expert Co. of Troy. Orders can be placed by using the form in the Grosse Pointe News or by forms available at Woods municipal offices, 20025 Mack Avenue.

The Tree Commission urges all residents to protect the elms on their property by taking advantage of the reduced cost for the spraying.

Almost 200 trees a year have been lost to the disease since 1976 in the Woods. Last year alone, 217 trees were infected, according to the commission. Much of the loss was preventable by better control measures, the commission added.

"Beyond spraying," Barbara Hayes, commission chairman said, "it is very important to have infected tree branches trimmed out as early as possible. This prevents the disease from spreading throughout the tree, thereby prolonging the tree's life."

The trimming also prevents the odor of the infected wood from attracting more disease-carrying beetles, Mrs. Hayes said.

The Community Tree Advisory Commission is a group of residents appointed by Woods Mayor George Freeman whose main purpose is to keep the city's title of "Tree City, USA."

Among its activities, the commission seeks to encourage effective management of tree resources; inform and educate the community of programs for comprehensive tree management; and to coordinate the efforts of individual property owners, civic and youth groups, and city government to preserve the trees in the city.

Local piano competition

Michigan pianists between the ages of 18 and 32 who wish to compete should contact the Grosse Pointe War Memorial to request complete instructions for entering. The address is Piano Competition, Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich. 48236. Requests may also be made by calling (313) 881-7511. Deadline for entries is March 7.

The panel of jurors will be led, as it was last year, by internationally-known concert pianists Ilse von Alpenheim and Micha Kottler. Also on the panel will be Oakland University's noted pianist Flavio Varani, Detroit born concert pianist Cynthia Raim, Felix Resnick, conductor of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra, and Andrew Raeburn, artistic administrator of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

and Mrs. Harold B. Leon, of Grosse Pointe.

The Piano Competition was initiated last year through the efforts of Alex Sucek, who is also the founder and artistic director of the Music Festival. The festival, now in its 25th season celebration, is considered as one of Michigan's leading music festivals. Its season opens at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on July 7, with internationally-known pianist Ruth Laredo, a native Detroit. Grosse Pointer Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford will continue in her role as the festival's general chairman for the fifth consecutive year.

The Piano Competition and Music Festival are cultural activities planned by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, headed by president John P. Worcester, and War Memorial executive director Dr. Mark R. Weber.

Farms' Kaess elected to MML position

The newly-elected regional officers for Region III of the Michigan Municipal League are Trenton Mayor Robert L. Bovitz, chairman; Plymouth Mayor Eldon W. Martin, vice-chairman; and Grosse Pointe Farms Councilman Gail Kaess, secretary.

Kercheval

6,000 square feet of the building for $12,100 and will demolish the section for parking. In exchange the city will receive some $25,000 in back taxes on the building.

The Community Development Block Grant program also funded almost $300,000 of improvements to the Kercheval in the Park commercial strip during the last three years. Improvements included bricked sidewalks, decorative street lights, planters, furniture and parking.

The Park council approved the project at its Feb. 8 meeting. Only one councilman, Anthony Spada, voted against the proposal. Spada regularly opposes the use of federal funds for projects that assist individual businessmen.

The agreement with Pointe Hardware is almost identical to one approved late last year with Grosse Pointe Renaissance, a firm that planned to convert the Patmon building to a retail shop-office complex. That proposal fell through in December.

The Patmon building extends the entire block of Kercheval between Maryland and Wayburn.

Helen Milliken will speak at ERA luncheon

The state's First Lady Helen Milliken will address concerns surrounding the Equal Rights Amendment at a luncheon titled "ERA: Issues and Answers," to be held next Thursday, Feb. 25 at noon at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Serving on the luncheon committee are three Grosse Pointe residents: Mary Kay Crain of the City, Constance M. Goodyear and Jean Hudson of the Farms.

The committee, a cross-section of women from Oakland county, Detroit and the Grosse Pointes, has chosen Martha Griffith, former U.S. Congresswoman from Michigan and Chief sponsor of the ERA in Congress, as its guest of honor that day.

Glenda Greenwald and Alice McCarthy have joined forces to head the fund-raiser to support the current efforts in unratified states and to better inform the Detroit business community and others on the significance and implications of this amendment to the Constitution.

Reservations are $100 per person and can be made by calling the ERA Luncheon Committee at 368-5879, or by writing ERA Luncheon, 1960 Cragin Drive, Bloomfield Hills, Mich. 48013.

Angola couple visits church

The Ecumenical Minister program at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church has arranged for Jose and Eva Chipenda to arrive from Angola Feb. 24, and stay in this country until March 29.

Chipenda is the director of the Center for the Study of Theology and Culture in Lobita, Angola, which serves to try new forms of worship, evangelism and life style.

As African Secretary of the World Student Christian Federation, Chipenda helped churches in Africa work among university students and youth. He also served as a youth worker at the Garden City Community Church in Long Island, N.Y., working with student groups from 60 U.S. universities and colleges.

Plant a tree in the Park

The Grosse Pointe Park Beautification Commission is offering limited quantities of the Northern Red Oak, the Red Sunset Red Maple and the tree form of the Amelanchier Canadensis at discount prices for mid-April delivery. Sales will be on a first serve basis. Spring is the recommended time to plant these trees.

The oak and maple trees are suitable for street right-of-way planting as well as yard planting. The Amelanchier, which is the first of the flowering trees to bloom with a red-centered white flower, is suitable only for yard planting.

All three trees have beautiful fall color: the oak a burgundy red, the maple a brilliant red and the Amelanchier a mottled red, yellow and orange.

The oak will be priced at $18, sold bare root, approximately one inch in diameter and approximately six feet tall. The red oak is the fastest grower of all the oaks and at maturity should reach between 80 and 90 feet.

The maple will be priced at $31.20, sold bare root, approximately 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 inches in diameter and approximately 10 feet tall. This maple is an extremely fast grower and at maturity may reach between 60 and 70 feet tall.

The Amelanchier will be priced at $18, sold balled and burlapped, approximately one inch in diameter and approximately six feet tall. This specimen grows very fast the first several years and at maturity may reach 25 feet.

Order blanks may be picked up at the Park municipal building and must be returned there with full payment. If there are any questions call Thomas Arbough of the Beautification Commission at 886-0862 or city hall at 822-6200.

Complete and detailed planting instructions will be given to purchasers at the time of pick-up, the commission cannot guarantee the trees.

For those residents who may wish to have a larger red maple and have all the transporting and planting done for them, the commission has made arrangements with Vidosh Bros. of Sterling Heights. For more information call 264-9492.

Also, they can study the region's amazing birdlife variety.
 The second portion of the exploration will comprise visits to Islamorada Key, with side trips to Lignumvitae Key (a protected, state botanical site) and Indian Key, which played a large part in the early history of the region.
 Optional fun will include boating, sightseeing, hiking, camping in the Dry Tortugas, diving and fishing.
 The no-frill trip cost of $895 includes transportation, hotel accommodations, day trip meals and a $100 tax-deductible donation to the Institute. For further details, call 645-3250.

Dock fees raised at Woods Lakefront
 By Mike Andrzejczyk
 Boaters at Grosse Pointe Woods' Lakefront Park are in for a surprise when they open their 1982 dock rental fees: A 15 percent increase for renters with docks downriver from the Milk River bridge and a 23 percent increase for those with docks on the lake side of the bridge.
 The Woods City Council voted at its Feb. 1 meeting to increase rental fees for docks downriver from the bridge to $180, up from $156, and lakeside dock fees from $264 to $325.

City Administrator Chester Petersen told the council the increases were needed if the city was to consider construction of new docks in the area.
 "IF WE do increase the number of boat docks, we would have to raise the present fees to at least this minimum to finance the increased dockage," Petersen said.
 The action had to be taken, he said, so the city could begin mailing out the notices to boaters concerning the increases.
 The city and its Citizens Recreation Commission are considering at least two plans that would increase dockage at the park. One would call for the construction of new docks, the other for the increased utilization of present dockage. Legal problems have snagged both plans.

 The commission voted at its Tuesday, Feb. 9 meeting to present its planned construction to a property owner who has stalled construction efforts since it would interfere with his view of the lake.
 A 25-year-old agreement between the city and the former property owner said the city would keep landscaping below four feet in the owner's line of sight, and would construct no permanent structure over four feet, nor substantially increase the grade of the property.
 IF THE property owner is unresponsive, the commission asked the council to pursue a declaratory judgment in the case, described by City Attorney

George Catlin as a friendly court action, to see if the city can pursue its dock work.
 Petersen, who attended the meeting, told the commission that if improvements were planned, the increases would be necessary to build up money for them.
 Based on 80 boatwells downriver and 113 on the lakeside, the increases will generate about $8,800 more revenue than in 1981.
 Recreation director Donald Hallmann said the money could be put to use now to repair and replace rotting pilings at the marina, and to build four new docks.
 Hallmann said the marina would have a new water line put in this year for about $10,000, and engineers were looking at a new floating dock to see if one would be suitable for the Milk River area.

Sears security guard stabbed

The Farms was the scene of two serious crimes last week, according to police reports.
 On Saturday afternoon, Feb. 6, a security guard at the Mack and Meross Sears store was stabbed and seriously injured by a shoplifter, police said. Guard Steve Breeden, 24, told police he chased the shoplifter through the store after seeing him steal tools from the automotive department, reports say.
 The suspect fled the store and was chased by Breeden through the Kroger supermarket next door and into an alley behind Mack Avenue. As the security guard grabbed the thief, the man turned and stabbed Breeden in the lower left rib cage with a five inch switchblade knife, police said.
 Reports say the suspect ran off and made his escape in a dark blue 1968 Chevrolet Camaro driven by a second man. Breeden was taken to St. John Hospital where he was reported in temporary serious condition.
 His assailant was described as a black male, 5 feet 11 inches tall, 185 pounds, 25 to 30 years old. He had a full beard and a three inch moustache. He reportedly was wearing a dark blue nylon jacket, blue sweat-shirt, blue jeans and rubber boots, according to police.
 On Tuesday evening, Feb. 9, two Woods residents were robbed at gunpoint by two men in the parking lot

Woods tries to recoup federal fund loss

By Mike Andrzejczyk

If at first you don't succeed, try again.

That's what Grosse Pointe Woods has done in hopes of regaining about $20,000 in Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds lost last year when a challenge to their 1980 census figures failed.

The city was left with a population of 18,886, and put the Woods in a lower CDBG classification. Cities with populations more than 20,000 receive $120,000, while cities with less than that get $99,000.

The Grosse Pointe Shores Council passed a resolution at its Jan. 26 meeting that would allow Grosse Pointe Woods to use the village's population and demography in filing 1982, 1983 and 1984 CDBG applications.

The Shores' 3,012 population will put the Woods over the 20,000 mark and back into the higher CDBG classification.

The resolution is a preliminary step, Woods City Administrator Chester Petersen said, since applications are yet to be filed and approved by the CDBG Advisory Board.

THERE IS NO precedent for such a move, said Terry Jarvis, of the Wayne County Office of Intergovernmental Affairs. Applications from the Woods which included the Shores population and demography would be sent to the Advisory Board to see if such applications would be allowed, he added.

Grosse Pointe Shores is eligible to receive $80,000 under the CDBG program as a municipality with less than 10,000 people, but the village has never applied for funds with a program that has met the guidelines of funding for low-income housing development, combatting urban blight, or funding for a project that meets an urgent public need, Jarvis said.

The money is then sent back to the Advisory Board for reallocation to other projects in other parts of the county, Jarvis said.

Petersen said that the Woods was only doing what the county had been doing.

"The county uses the (Shores population) to add to their total (county) population to get funds from the federal government," he said, "then allocates them in other parts of the county."

"If the county can use them (Shores population) for the money involved," Petersen said, "we ought to be able to justify adding their population (to Woods applications)."

Petersen said the extra money may possibly be used to refurbish water and sewer lines along the Woods-Shores boundary.

"We think there is (precedent for such a move)," Petersen said. "That's what the county has been doing."

The deadline for filing CDBG applications is April 1.

Some doctors say no baby under age 1 should be fed honey. Honey is known sometimes to contain dormant botulism bacteria spores. Newborn babies do not have the bacterial defenses against it that they develop later.

Park will form recreation panel

The Park Council voted last week to form a recreation commission to advise the city on matters concerning recreation programs and facilities. The group, under Councilman Patricia M. Forster, will include eight members—five citizens of the city, a member of the council, a member of the Planning Commission and administrative officer. All members will be appointed by Mayor Douglas Graham. The group will meet on the third Monday of the month and its meetings will be open to the public, according to the resolution.

Mayor Graham asked council members to make suggestions of names of potential commission members at the Jan. 25 meeting when the resolution was approved.

The workshop will aim at expanding insight into the meaning of marriage relationships and their psychological reasons through discussion, lecture, exercises and sharing. Since all areas of intimate relationship are involved in the lecture, workshop, the program is designed to allow both single and married persons to participate.

The workshop is limited to the first 25 persons who register and pre-pay their fee by Monday, March 1. Member fee is $35, non-members, $45. Lecture alone is $2 and $4.

He plans to bring animals to the meeting for close-up observation. Visitors are welcome to attend the meeting at 260 Chalfonte.

Ahee family benefit for Capuchin soup kitchen

Ten thousand dollar greenbacks are floating out of the hands of Grosse Pointe's Ahee brothers and into the hands of supporters of the Capuchin's Soup Kitchen. The greenbacks are invitations to their party on Friday, Feb. 19, at 8 p.m. at the Roostertail. Over $10,000 worth of prizes will be raffled with all proceeds going to the monastery soup kitchen.

Lowell, Ed, Pete, Greg, Chris and John Ahee of Edmund T. Ahee Jewelers are the hosts of their party. For their guests, they have provided excellent entertainment including WNIC's morning radio show personality Jim Harper as well as the popular band, Ivy Sweet.

Complimentary hors d'oeuvres and snack food will be served with a cash bar to quench the thirst of the guests as well as to satisfy the hunger of many of Detroit's poor who will be served daily at the Soup Kitchen from the donations received at the cash bar.

"We hope to have a good turnout that night, in order to raise a large amount of money for such a good cause," said Peter Ahee. "Maybe we, in turn could present a real $10,000 bill to the Soup Kitchen from the proceeds that we will receive."

If one of these greenbacks find their way into your pocket, you must make a reservation by contacting the Roostertail at 923-RSVP in order to attend. There is no admission charge and dress is casual, but proper attire will be required.

Piano concerts at Ford House

The Tuesday Musicales and the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House are co-sponsoring two concerts Monday, March 8, and Tuesday, March 9, at 8 p.m. in the Gallery at the Ford House.

The selections will consist entirely of music for two pianos. The audience will be seated "in the round" about the two Ford House Steinways.

Artists and music to be performed include Virginia Shrover and Janet Young in pieces of Lecuona and Rachmaninoff and the Scaramouche from Milhaud; Harriet Gerlach and Frances Wilson in music of Schuman and a suite by Arensky; Blodwyn Stephenson and Martha Welton in Souvenirs by Barber and several Caribbean pieces by Benjamin; and Doris Eubank and Fontaine Laing in DeBussey's Fetes and a suite by the modern Rieti.

A year ago, the same artists gave a pair of concerts at the Ford House to capacity audiences and were invited back to this return engagement.

Because the Gallery seating is limited to 150 persons, reservations should be made in advance by calling 885-3030 to verify availability and to be placed on the Gatehouse reservation list to insure admission.

The gate opens at 7:30 p.m. The concerts will be followed by a wine and cheese reception with the eight artists in attendance. Admission is $8 to be collected at the door.

MichCon assists senior energy needs

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's Speakers Group and Energy Answer Retirees offer the opportunity to learn more about a variety of energy-related topics.

The Speakers Group is available to help the public learn more about topics such as natural gas decontrol, conservation and customer services offered through MichCon. More than 40 professionals from all levels of company operations participate on a volunteer basis. In the past three years, more than 25,000 consumers have received information from Speakers Group presentations.

The Energy Answer Retirees are former MichCon employees who specialize in addressing senior citizen and retiree groups. As retirees themselves they are aware of the needs of their fellow senior citizens.

Among the programs they are able to discuss or assist customers in making application for are the senior citizen rate, senior shutoff protection, double notice billing and the availability of local, state and federal funds for seniors.

"We are very pleased to provide these services to the public throughout Michigan Consolidated's service area," said Raymond Lozano, manager of public issues and planning for the utility.

"It is vital for the company to get out in the community and hear the questions that are asked," Lozano added. "This not only enables us to learn what's on the public's mind, but gives us a chance to let the company's views be presented in an informal manner."

Interested groups in the metropolitan Detroit area who wish to arrange for a speaker, or who would like to learn more about the program may contact Michigan Consolidated's public affairs office at 965-2430, Ext. 4928.

14th District speaks out through survey

Congressman Dennis Hertel received the results of his first district survey last week, showing his 14th District constituents have the economy, jobs and crime on their mind.

Hertel's office received 8,710 responses to the November, 1980 survey, and received well over 25 percent response from the Grosse Pointes.

Respondents listed the three most serious problems facing the nation as, in order of importance, the economy, jobs, and crime.

When asked about the decontrol of natural gas and oil, 75 percent said they were not in favor of such a move. Twenty-four percent favored natural gas and oil decontrol.

Seventy-six percent of the constituents said they felt the administration's policy of promoting large tax cuts for oil companies would not increase gas and oil production. Administration policy on tax cuts for oil companies to increase production was favored by 24 percent.

Off-shore oil and gas drilling in the Great Lakes was favored by 53 percent of the respondents with 47 percent disagreeing.

An increased tax deduction for residential energy conservation from its present limit of 15 percent to $2,000 was favored by 63 percent of those answering. Thirty-seven percent said they didn't favor such an increase.

On national defense, 93 percent said they favored President Reagan's proposal to have the United States and the Soviet Union reduce the number of nuclear missiles in Europe. Seven percent were against the proposal.

The volunteer army was favored over the return to the draft by a 59 to 41 percent margin, and a negotiated nuclear arms control pact with the Soviet Union was favored by a 91 to 9 percent spread.

Ninety-five percent of the respondents felt Japanese and European allies were not paying their fair share for the defense alliance. The production of the B-1 bomber was favored by 36 percent of those answering, while 84 percent said they were against production.

When asked if they were better off economically today than they were last year, 82 percent said no. Eighteen percent said they were better off.

To strengthen the auto industry, 92 percent favored lower interest rates, 64 percent favored limits on foreign imports and 74 percent were in favor of higher tariffs on foreign imports. Eighty-three percent of the people in the district believed the United States was falling behind other industrial nations in productivity.

When asked about mandatory wage and price guidelines if the recession continues, 59 percent were in favor of such guidelines while 41 percent were against such controls.

Almost 80 percent of the respondents said they thought Michigan's economy would not improve in the next six months.

Asked about Reagan administration proposals to cut or change the Social Security system, 78 percent of those answering were against raising the age of eligibility; 87 percent opposed reducing the benefit levels 25 percent for those retiring at 62; 77 percent opposed reducing the cost of living allowance for all recipients; and 54 percent felt the federal government should be allowed to borrow between the separate Social Security accounts.

Asked if they would spend more, less, or about the same amount for programs, respondents returned the following answers:

• Jobs Programs—46 percent said they would spend more, 28 percent less, and 26 percent about the same;

• Health Care—42 percent said more, 19 percent less, and 39 percent about the same;

• Education—42 percent said more, 23 percent less, 35 percent about the same;

• Veterans' Benefits—34 percent would spend more, 13 percent would spend less, and 53 percent would spend about the same amount;

• Alternative Energy Research and Conservation—53 percent would spend more, 14 percent would spend less, and 33 percent would spend the same amount;

• Environmental Protection—29 percent would spend more, 26 percent less, and 45 percent would spend about the same as is being spent now.

• Technological research and development—41 percent would spend more, 18 percent would spend less, and 41 percent would spend about the same amount.

The 14th District is made up of the Grosse Pointes, parts of Detroit, Harper Woods, Hamtramck, East Detroit, Center Line and Warren.

Lakeshore scouts honor leaders

Each year, the adults who guide the Boy Scouts of America's Lakeshore District gather to assess the year's progress and recognize those who made it possible.

At the 1981 Lakeshore District Dinner, held recently at American Legion Post 570, very positive reports were made on the state of the district from David Steele, district chairman, Carter Billeu, district commissioner, and Tom Fitzgibbon, district executive, and a number of awards were presented to scouts.

District Vice-Chairman Jim Furlong received the Silver Beaver Award for his many years of service, and three other volunteers were honored with District Awards of Merit. They were Steele, Troop 96 scoutmaster and Lakeshore District chairman; Wayne Smith, scoutmaster of Poupard School's Troop 44; and Goldie Balgorth, coordinator for Pack 81 and Troop 42 of St. David's Catholic Church.

Named as the District's outstanding units were Cub Scout Pack 451 from Queen of Peace School and Boy Scout Troop 418, headquartered at St. Brendan's Catholic Church.

Next year's officers, installed by The Honorable Walter P. Cynar are Steele, district chairman; Jim Furlong, vice-chairman and Billeu, district commissioner.

Billeu was also presented with the Westphal Award for outstanding service to Lakeshore District.

Wayne Intermediate District recommends program change

The Wayne Intermediate School District's Catchment Area Realignment Task Force recently made recommendations that could affect the future of the school program for Trainable Mentally Impaired students in the Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods school districts. To save transportation costs two proposals were recently made:

The local program should be discontinued and Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods students transferred to the Detroit center program; or the local program should be expanded to serve Detroit students who live nearby.

Currently, 38 students from the Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods attend a trainable program that is housed at Poupard School in Harper Woods.

The Wayne Intermediate School District's recommendations were rejected by parents and other members of the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Citizens at its January meeting.

Reginald Sienkiewicz, director of Special Education Services for the Grosse Pointe Public School System, said he is optimistic that the Poupard program will survive the recommendations if all those concerned work together. An ad hoc committee was formed to ask support of local city councils.

Breathers Club will meet at Unitarian

The American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan (ALASEM) has announced a new meeting site for its monthly Breathers' Club programs for chronic lung disease victims.

The meetings, formerly held at the Georgian East Extended Care Facility, will now be held the third Tuesday of every month at Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee between Neff and St. Clair. The meeting time has also been changed to 2:30 p.m. The first meeting of the New Year will be Tuesday, Feb. 16.

Bon Secours Hospital has joined the American Lung Association in sponsoring the program at the new location.

"We are very pleased to be a part of the Breathers' Club Program," said Raymond Ingham, R.R.T., director of Cardio-Pulmonary Services at Bon Secours Hospital and coordinator of the Grosse Pointe program, "and to join the Lung Association in providing help and support for emphysema and chronic bronchitis victims and their families in coping with lung disease."

The topic for the first meeting at the Unitarian Church is oxygen therapy. Raymond Ingham will discuss how oxygen is used in the care of Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease victims.

South students win math award

Four Grosse Pointe South High School students were named award winners by the Michigan Section of the Mathematical Association of America for placing in the top 100 out of 34,000 high school students participating in the 25th Annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition.

The honored South students include three seniors and one junior. They are Elizabeth Hirt, senior; Shigeto Kotake, senior, an exchange student from Japan; Bruce Thomas, senior; and Christopher Whitney, junior.

Donald Yerkes, Mathematics Department chairperson, served as the high school supervisor for South students participating in the competition.

The students were honored at an award program in Mt. Pleasant at Central Michigan University Saturday, Feb. 13. The program featured presentations by Dr. Joseph Kruskal of Bell Laboratories, speaking on "Reflections of a Pure Mathematician Who Applied Himself," and Professor Frank Harary, who talked on "Mathematical Games Designed from Theorems and Concepts."

College scholarships will be awarded to more than 40 of the winners at the awards banquet. The scholarships and the awards program are supported, in part, through contributions by the Burroughs Corporation, which provides scholarships for the first place winners, Michigan Bell, the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the Kuhlman Corporation.

William Shakespeare repeatedly described his ideal woman. At least, many of the women he wrote about had similar characteristics: Black hair, black eyes, blue veined breasts, a breathless way of talking, and a peculiar manner of hopping instead of walking.

The woman whose handwriting shows long large loops on her y's and g's is known to be especially affectionate, say the graphologists.

2. Keep drapes, walls, ceiling & furniture clean.
3. Beautify your home.

Shores police nab Battle Creek man

Grosse Pointe Shores police arrested a 24-year-old Battle Creek man, wanted in Battle Creek for carrying a concealed weapon, after stopping the car he was driving Sunday, Feb. 7 during an investigation of prowler reports on Lakeshore Road.
Shores police were called about 11:20 that night by a Lakeshore resident who said she had seen a car pulling in and out of driveways.
Patrolling officers spotted a car matching the description given by the resident at Roslyn and Lakeshore 15 minutes later and gave chase. The car, a 1975 black Chevrolet two-door, headed south on Lakeshore to Vernier and then west on Vernier into Grosse Pointe Woods.
Police reports indicate the driver failed to stop even after police activated their overhead flashers, siren and used spotlights on the car.
The car turned south on Morning-side and pulled into a driveway on Glen Arbor. When police asked the driver for his license, he said he didn't have one, and police placed him under arrest.
A search performed before putting the man in the car turned up three metal throwing discs. Two of them had eight points on each and sharpened edges, reports said. Also, a knife in a belt scabbard was found.
While running a computer check, police discovered a warrant issued by Battle Creek police in the man's name for carrying a concealed weapon. The warrant had been issued in December of 1981.
The man was released after posting bail, pending a March municipal court date.

Cold? Call the frostbite hotline

The recent Arctic cold may be back up in Siberia where it belongs, but the danger of frostbite will continue for some time.
That's why Henry Ford Hospital is continuing its "Frostbite Hotline," a three-minute taped telephone message for area residents. In just one week of zero-level temperatures, this community service message has logged more than 3,000 calls.
The "Frostbite Hotline" will continue to run 24 hours a day until weather conditions ease. The number is 876-7100.
During times of unusually cold weather, it's important to be aware of frostbite symptoms, says Dr. Michael Tomlanovich, head of HFH's Division of Emergency Medicine.
These symptoms include a painful, cold sensation; burning or tingling; numbness (which indicates that tissue damage is progressing); and redness of skin, followed by a white or blanched look.
If frostbite is suspected, initial treatment should include: getting in out of the cold; rapidly and completely rewarming the affected areas of the body, but only once; covering the exposed areas with warm clothing and a part of your body (for example, warm your feet or ears with your hands); immersing the affected area in warm water (105 to 110 degrees F.).
"It's very important that you re-warm a frozen area completely and rapidly only once," says Dr. Tomlanovich. "You must not allow a rewarmed area to get cold again or refreeze. If this is likely to happen before you arrive at a hospital or your doctor's office, initial rewarming should be withheld."

Thinking about buying a condo?

Thinking about buying a cooperative or a condominium? If you are, you should know the two differ and what effect those differences have on your ability to borrow and on the tax incentives they might offer.
Tax incentives may be a major reason why condos and co-ops are a fast growing segment of the housing industry. But, taking advantage of the tax opportunities entails some careful decision making.
The main difference, is that you buy the condo unit itself, whether it's an apartment, townhouse or separate residence. But, when you buy a co-op, you only buy shares in the cooperative managing the building. This affects your financing and tax deductions.
Buying a condominium is less complicated than paying for a co-op. For example, with a condo you figure out your down payment, then apply for a mortgage to cover the balance. Those interest payments and any property tax are tax-deductible.
Because you don't actually purchase a co-op, there's no mortgage. A portion of the monthly payments is applied to the mortgage interest and tax payment of the co-op. The money applied to these expenses is tax-deductible.
An alternative method of financing is often available for both co-op and condo buyers from developers willing to help you finance to help sell units. The money they use, is loaned to them by the project's sponsor, such as a bank, pension fund, or private company. (Low interest rates they advertise are possible, in part, because they are not paying an individual's interest rate and, sometimes, because neither the rates nor the mortgage are guaranteed for extended periods of time.)
Prospective owners should understand what's contained in a financing agreement. If you finance through a developer, note the term of the mortgage and the length of the guarantee for proper planning. Today it might be necessary to borrow the money at the adjustable mortgage rate.

WOOD LOUVER DOORS OFFER ALTERNATIVES

Closet doors don't have to be mundane. Wood louver doors, for example, available as folding or sliding units, are ideal for closets in narrow hallways or foyers where there is little space for conventional swing-out doors. The louvers also permit the free circulation of air, which makes them ideal for high humidity areas like laundry rooms, kitchens and baths.

CONSIDER SAFETY WHEN REROOFING

Fire safety can be an important consideration when choosing a roofing material, since the roof can be vulnerable to fire from overhead sources. Asphalt shingles are manufactured to meet Underwriters Laboratories Class C standard or better, which means the shingles will not ignite easily, will not support the spread of fire over the roof and will not add to a fire hazard by emitting burning brands.

NEW WINDOWS COME IN MANY STYLES AND SIZES

If your home improvement plans call for the replacement of one or more windows, don't be misled into thinking you are limited to the same styles and sizes in the new units. Modern, factory-engineered windows come in many styles as well as sizes. A homeowner's choices in window design are limited only by his imagination. Depending on the size of the opening, choose from double-hung, casement, gliding, awning, angle-hay and bow windows or gliding doors. Andersen Corporation, a leading manufacturer of windows and gliding doors, reminds homeowners to replace the entire unit, not just the sash. If frames and sills are showing age, replacing only the sash will probably mean that half of the problem remains. Just as important as the size and style of windows is the material that goes into them. Wood or wood sheathed in vinyl are most often used in the manufacture of quality-made windows because both offer superior insulating qualities. Other elements of a well-built window include factory-applied weatherstripping and double-pane insulating glass—two panes of glass with an insulating air space between. Andersen Perma-Shield windows and gliding doors are twice as weathertight as acceptable industry standards for allowable air infiltration. And, double-pane insulating glass—standard in Perma-Shield—guards against excessive heat loss through the glass areas.

PLAN ADDITION TO SERVE VARIETY OF FUNCTIONS

Adding a room is a good way to get extra living space. When the addition is planned to serve more than one function, you get a bonus in diversity. When thinking about adding a room, the National Home Improvement Council suggests you make a list of the activities that will take place in the room. An adult bedroom, for example, ought to do double duty as a quiet retreat for reading, sewing or just relaxing. A dining room might also serve as a library, sitting room or music room.

Consider mood

Another thing to consider, adds the Council, is the mood you wish to express. Should the new room be formal or informal? Should it serve as a quiet background for people, or as a strong reflection of your personality?

Once the decision has been made regarding function and mood, draw a simple floor plan using graph paper and patterns of your furniture cut to scale.

In laying out room arrangements, adds NHIC, keep in mind open traffic areas, a center of interest, conversation groupings, adequate lighting and storage space.

For professional help

For skilled, professional help in building a room addition, contact the local NHIC chapter. Contractors belonging to the Council pledge to observe the highest standards of integrity, frankness and responsibility.

Cut fuel bills

A 16-page booklet on how you can reduce the costs of your hot water or steam heating system is available from Weil-McLain. The booklet gives information on heating system efficiency, how it affects heating costs and what choices are available for cutting your fuel bills. In addition, the booklet offers tips on how to choose a new energy-efficient boiler and gives an easy-to-understand example of how the cost of fuel and the BTU/Hr. heat loss of your home influence the annual operating cost of your heating system. For a copy of "What are your Choices?" send 50 cents to Weil-McLain, Dept. JFR, Blaine Street, Michigan City, Ind. 46360.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

Two years ago, the Dance on the River was one of the biggest social events of the season, and on Friday, March 5, this year, friends of the Detroit Artists Market will Dance On . . . this time in the Crystal Room of Detroit's Masonic Temple. Why the change in location? Well: two years ago, the co-chairmen had to turn away 150 people from the Dance on the River — simply because there was no room for them!

There's more room, and there'll be just as much (if not more) fun in the Masonic Temple's Crystal Room. This year's party will feature seven top chefs from the Michigan Chefs de Cuisine Association, creating their dessert specialties. It's a black tie evening, with an open bar, running from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. A special event will be an exhibition of work by the Market's local artists.

Tickets, at $75 a couple, are going very, very fast, for this is a night that brings together the young and lively set from all over town: the fun couples who love a good party with dancing to Big Band music. Most of the committee members will be hosting dinner parties beforehand in their homes. What a great way to start off a TGIF!

Even the Dance On . . . invitation is special. It's a reproduction of "A Warm Leaded Glass," window done by Trish Boyle, who has displayed her work at the Detroit Artists Market. The original is on view there now, and since the Market is also the place to get Dance On . . . ticket information, why not run down to the galleries on Randolph Street and take a look around? That's much more fun than a phone call.

Funds raised via the party will go to the Detroit Artists Market for scholarships to be awarded to students at the Center for Creative Studies, Cranbrook or Wayne State University. Co-chairing Dance On . . . (which is, incidentally, a celebration of the Market's 50th anniversary) are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Booth II, William Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Farbman, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Knudsen, Mr. and Mrs. John Rakolta and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stroh.

A Dancer Dances On

Ever wonder what happened to Dennis Nahat, who graduated a while back from Grosse Pointe High School and went on to the Juilliard School of Music, on a scholarship in dance? Well . . . he then went on to perform throughout the world as a principal dancer with American Ballet Theatre and The Joffrey Ballet and to choreograph major works for ABT, the Royal Swedish Ballet, the London Festival Ballet and the Cleveland Ballet, which he co-founded and where he now works closely with Ian Horvath, artistic director.

On Broadway, Dennis choreographed both the Tony Award winning musical version of "Two Gentlemen of Verona" and Tom Stoppard's "Jumpers." He performed a featured role in Bob Fosse's "Sweet Charity" with Gwen Verdon. He choreographed "Tommy," starring Bette Midler, for the Seattle Opera, and directed "Meeting Mr. Ives," a musical play by the New Yorker's Brendan Gill, for the San Francisco Civic Spring Opera and the Lenox Arts Festival.

Good ballet, Dennis believes, is good entertainment. He emphasized theatricality in the works he choreographs for the Cleveland Ballet, highlighting the technical achievements of the dancers and creating visually exciting effect for audiences. His "Some Times" is seen frequently in film version on European and south American television.

Dennis also serves as associate director of the School of Cleveland Ballet. He teaches there, too, and, when his schedule allows, performs as a guest artist with American Ballet Theatre. He maintains a home in Cleveland Heights and an apartment in New York City, has performed at the White House, has conducted seminars in choreography throughout the United States and is a talented musician, playing both the piano and the viola.

A fabulous Interlochen fund raiser . . .

Slippery streets and falling snow made no difference: the Scholarships for Interlochen benefit concerts Friday and Saturday, Feb. 5 and 6, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House went on as planned, and they were super successful, super delightful evenings. Pictured above at a post-performance wine and cheese reception are (left to right) LIANA (Mrs Kurt C.) DRATH, benefit chairperson, ANN (Mrs. Robert W.) BRADLEY, who with her husband is co-president of the Detroit Area Friends of Interlochen, and pianist RUTH BURCZYK, whose playing brought a standing ovation each night, with DR. ROGER E. JACOBI, president of Interlochen Center for the Arts, and his wife MARY JANE, whose drive down from Interlochen took twice as long as usual — but they DID make it: after all, they're used to piled-high snow conditions in the frozen but friendly north.

Short and to the Pointe

Among 108 Wayne County Department of Social Services employees recently cited for 20 or more years of service were HERBERT GRIF-FITH Jr., of Vernier Road, honored for 25 years of service, and BARBARA BRUNO, of Manchester Road, SUSAN JOHNSON, of Grosse Pointe Boulevard, GERALD HIGGINS, of Ridgmont Road, and GERALD BOCCI, of Grayton Road, 20 years of service.

Several Pointe residents were among those who received degrees from Western Michigan University at the end of the 1980-81 school year. They included MARY ELIZABETH COYLE, of Maumee Avenue, KELLEY ANN DOELLE, of Bedford Road, GEORGE ALBERT FERRIS, of Rivard Boulevard, KEVIN CHARLES SORENSON, of Rivard Boulevard, GWEN E. CHRISTINE TOLLESON, daughter of ROY M. TOLLESON, of Kenwood Road, played the forward-thrust position on the Lady Foresters, Lake Forest College's 1981 women's field hockey team. A 1981 graduate of University Liggett School, Christine is a freshman at Lake Forest College.

Pointe history is their focus

Members of the Grosse Pointe Historical Society, looking ahead to expansion in society membership and to a series of programs to be presented in the community interest, will elect new officers and finalize program planning details this month.

The local Historical Society, founded in the mid-1940s, has occupied its present quarters on the second floor of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Alger House since February of 1980, when it became a private, non-profit organization and moved from the Grosse Pointe Central Library where it had been temporarily housed.

The purpose of the society continues to be the stimulation of interest in local history, the collection and preservation of books, papers, photographs, artifacts and memorabilia of Grosse Pointe's past and the presentation of programs and displays of community interest.

Visitors are always welcome at the society's headquarters, which are open every Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Membership is open to all; the only requirement is an interest in historic preservation.

Pointe Alliance presents actress

The Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe, an organization which fosters French culture, will present Mme. Danielle Netter, stage and television actress who has performed extensively in European capitals, in a presentation of poetry and prose in French, as written by outstanding French woman authors, this Sunday, Feb. 21, at 3 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Included in Mme. Netter's program will be works of George Sand, assumed name of the Baroness Dudevant, friend of the eminent composer Frederic Chopin. The presentation, which will be followed by a social hour, is open to the public as well as to members of the Alliance.

Come to the Mardi Gras! . . .

PAT BARLOW (left), president, Project HOPE, and SONNY ELIOT, who will be King of the project HOPE Mardi Gras celebration Sunday, Feb. 21, from 7 to 11 p.m. at Northland Center, are completely in the New Orleans carnival mood, but PHYLLIS MARRA (center), "Come to the Mardi Gras!" committee member, says it's not NECESSARY to wear costumes to the party. Just a lot more fun . . . In any event, for a $25 advance ticket donation ($35 at the door) party goers will receive their very own, very colorful masques, complimentary champagne and a Creole buffet, enjoy dancing to the music of the New McKinney Cotton Pickers and listening to the music of the Bess Bonnier Jazz Trio, have an opportunity to "win big" at a millionaires' party and use those "winnings" to bid at an auction hosted by media celebrities, and get a free 1982 Northland valet parking pass. Those who hold the 500 special $100 donation tickets (each good for admission for two) have a chance to take home a 1982 Pontiac Firebird Trans Am.

Honorary chairmen of the event are P. Gerald Mills, J.L. Hudson Company president, and Mrs. Mills. Betty Bahr is general chairman, in charge of a committee including fellow Pointers Diane Schoenith, Esther Muncie, Edye Longyear, Gertrude Draves, Penny Simon, Alice Johnston and Marce Haney. Sonny's wife, Annette, will — of course! — reign as Mardi Gras Queen.

Top prizes in the auction include a golf and tennis clinic and weekend for two in Innisbrook, Fla., and a weekend for two at Bay City's Bay Valley Resort, plus three days and two nights for two at the Traverse Hilton in Traverse City.

All party proceeds go to Project HOPE, the international health care organization. Tickets are available now at both Hudson's Northland ticket office and the Project HOPE office. Reservations may be made and further information obtained by calling 649-4775. Sponsors of the benefit, along with Project HOPE, are the Northland Center Merchants Association, Hudson's Northland store and Penney's Northland.

The troupe has performed on three occasions at international meetings in Hungary, as well as in Ohio, Toronto and New York, and took second place in Folk Fair '81, a statewide dance competition.

Also on this Sunday's program are a travel film and a chance to sample home-cooked Hungarian delicacies, including Szekeley (goulash), gyulia (sausage and bread), pogasca (cheese, bacon or ham flavored hors d'oeuvres) and a selection of pastries.

Dancers Hungaria promise a program of traditional Hungarian village dances, including the Sztaner Dance, taught to the troupe by the Hungarian State Folk Ensemble when it toured the United States, as well as the Chair Dance, which features male performers dancing on chairs, and the Bottle

A Midwinter Night's Dream . . .

Forget the back breaking snow shoveling — forget the spinning wheels as you're stuck getting out of the driveway — forget the cabin fever — and close your eyes. Imagine you're wandering through a beautiful English mansion. Outside, there's frozen Lake St. Clair . . . but you're inside, and you're feeling cozy and pampered. Fireplaces are blazing. Friends are gathered in the spacious foyer. Hostesses LINDA SHAALAN and MARILYN WHEELER (left and right, above) are attending to every detail of your "dream" evening. Handsome men and beautiful women drift down the grand staircase, modeling the latest spring styles from Jacobson's Grosse Pointe store. Among them are JOHN O'HARE (pictured at the top of the stairs at right) and CHRIS and SHARYN MANNINO (the couple flanked by Marilyn and Linda on the staircase). The ladies' hair and make-up have been created by Paul Azar of The Greenhouse. There are glasses to sip from, hors d'oeuvres to nibble on. There's dancing in the ballroom, to the music of Bob Durant and his trio. A dream, you say? It will all be a reality a week from tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 26, when the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center presents "A Midwinter Night's "Dream" from 7 p.m. to midnight at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House. Donation is $25 per person. Proceeds benefit the community's mental health center. Reservations are limited. Further information may be obtained by contacting Marilyn Stedem at 884-4499.

No threat to earthlings in planetary rendezvous

By Joy Aschenbach
National Geographic News Service
March 10, 1982. That's the day that all nine planets will be closer together than they have been in about 500 years — but nothing earthshaking will happen.

A day in 1982 was supposed to be the time, according to the 1974 book "The Jupiter Effect," that all the planets would line up in a row and trigger a chain of events that would result in the worst urban earthquake of the century, destroying Los Angeles.

"As far as we know there's never been such a 'Grand Alignment' and probably never will be," says astronomer LeRoy Doggett of the United States Naval Observatory. "Studies of planetary motion over millions of years have not uncovered a time when the planets would ever be in a straight line, or even very close."

But even if the planets were to line up one behind the other, he points out, there is no known scientific evidence that their gravitational attraction is linked to earthquake activity. At worst they would raise the tidal forces on earth — but not even enough to "trigger" an earthquake that was already about to erupt.

What will happen on March 10 then? "An unusual celestial phenomenon with no cosmic consequences or significance," Dr. Doggett says. "It won't be at all earthshaking," agrees astronomer Kenneth L. Franklin of the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium, "just enough of a planetary lineup to make people ask if the solar system will tip over."

All the planets will be on the same side of the sun. Viewed from the sun, they will form a jagged line within a 98 degree arc. Earth will be sitting on the outer edge on one side, Uranus and Neptune farther from the sun on the other side.

From earth it will be possible to see the other eight spread across the sky just before dawn on March 10. Most will start to appear late the night before. Venus will be the brightest. Mercury may be difficult to detect. Neptune and Pluto will be visible only through a telescope.

This is the first time all the planets will have come this close together and to earth since the late 15th century. It won't happen again for about another 500 years: according to calculations by a Belgian astronomer, Jean Meeus, the last time all the planets lay within a slightly narrower 90 degree quadrant was the year 949. The next time will be 2492.

If Pluto, the outermost and smallest planet, is excluded from the lineup, the other eight come into rough alignment more frequently — about once every 179 years. The closest these eight are known to have been was within a 40 degree arc in 1128.

What brings the planets into alignment? It's all a matter of celestial mechanics. The planets travel at different rates, depending on their distance from the sun. The fastest, Mercury, lies closest to the sun and circles it in 88 days. The slowest, Pluto, takes 248 years. "The planets therefore overtake and pass each other in a cyclic fashion that over a long period of time brings them together in one broad area," Doggett explains.

So far, scientists have found that although such alignments increase the tidal forces on earth, they are insignificant compared with earth's principal tide-raisers: the moon and sun. At most the tidal forces affected by the planets would be only about 0.0001 of the ordinary tidal action of the moon and sun.

At the Naval Observatory in Washington, D.C., March 10 will be observed by routinely tracking the planets as part of the observatory's continuing study of planetary motion. "It will be business as usual as long as it's a clear night," Doggett says.

Across the country in Southern California, there should be no earthly reason to sell those condominiums on the coast.

men's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Hudson's "Salute Spring" starting at 11 a.m. Wednesday, March 17, at Fairlane Manor, Dearborn.

And there's a bonus to the popular annual luncheon and fashion show this year: Hal Oakley's "Salute to Broadway," a fast moving, high energy musical extravaganza that dramatically presents the female lead costumes of top Broadway hit shows from 1937 to 1967.

And, for those who have already purchased patron and benefactor tickets, there was an additional bonus: a "haffle" of Lebanese delicacies, including tabboule and homus, served by Heidi Brancheau Stein yesterday at a patron luncheon in her contemporary, lakefront home at Wabek. In Lebanon, when guests are invited for a traditional "haffle," they know their hostess has spent many days preparing, planning and cooking. That's just what Heidi did, personally preparing the traditional dishes of her homeland for her guests.

Information on tickets for what general chairperson Mary Lou Bagley describes as "a truly exciting show, saluting spring, the Great American spirit and the Classic American look," priced at $22 general admission, $35 patron and $75 benefactor, may be obtained by contacting Ida Krandle at 851-4524. All proceeds benefit the Detroit Symphony.

The Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra has been a vital cultural force in Detroit since it was organized in 1928. Its membership includes women from all walks of life dedicated to encouraging concert attendance, increasing public enthusiasm and securing friends and financial support for the DSO.

Another DSO Fund Raiser

Just before the fabulous fashion Salute comes another major Detroit Symphony fund raiser: the Detroit Symphony's Marathon '82 running for eight days, March 6 through 14, on WQRS Timeless FM 105. A goal of $225,000 has been announced for this year's Marathon, which is coordinated by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony and the Detroit Symphony League (formerly the DSO's Junior Women's Association) as a joint benefit activity on behalf of the orchestra.

Three major elements will highlight Marathon Week. In addition to on-air Marathon programming, including celebrity interviews and the sale of premiums and bid items, there'll be a special newspaper advertising supplement saluting the orchestra — and, to climax the week, a Thank You, Detroit concert, donated by the DSO musicians and music adviser Gary Bertini, on Sunday, March 14.

A Writer Is at Work

A chapter of the novel "The Education of Tom Weber" (N.Y., Banner Books, 1977), the story of a boy in military school, in the throes of adolescence, by T.R. Peters Sr., of Moselle Place, is included in a just-out anthology, "The Third Coast: Contemporary Michigan Fiction," published in both hardcover and paperback by Wayne State University Press.

Tom Peters, who lectured at Grosse Pointe North and South High Schools during Fiction Week 1979, has also written short stories and poetry. He occasionally reviews books for Monthly Detroit Magazine, and his speeches on education have appeared several times in Vital Speeches of The Day. He is currently working on a second novel, about a teenager growing up in the streets of Detroit in the 1940s, with several Detroit area locations, including Old Eastern High, the Gotham Hotel and The Chesterfield Supper Club, figuring in the plot.

One chapter takes place in Grosse Pointe, and includes scenes at Sacred Heart Convent, South High School, Francois Restaurant and the Punch and Judy Theater.

Special Science Center features

The development and birth of a human baby is graphically illustrated via life size models in a new, three-part exhibit at the Detroit Science Center, made possible by a grant from Birmingham's Educational Center for Life. Using slides, models and a sound system, the display shows the development of the embryo within the female reproductive system.

One section shows a normal birth in model forms. Another includes a chart on when to expect the baby. "Human Development," one of over 50 participatory exhibits at the Science Center, is on permanent display in the exhibit hall. The Center also features special weekend programs. "Close Encounters of the Wet Kind," demonstrations on marine life and photography, are being conducted by Elwood Cook, certified scuba diver and underwater photographer, on Saturdays in February.

Cook, a Central Michigan University graduate, specializes in sunken wrecks and operates an underwater recovery operation. He is a member of the Professional Association of Diving Instructors, International College at San Diego; the Michigan Skin Diving Council and the Ford Seahorses. He was a participant in Project Ocean Search and is a rescue diver for the Detroit Hydroplane Races.

The Hazel Park Amateur Radio Club will be at the Science Center from noon to 8:30 p.m. this Saturday, Feb. 20, and Sunday, Feb. 21, to demonstrate equipment and make world wide contact with stations. As stations are contacted nationally and internationally, they will be pinpointed on a wall map. Club members will explain the operation and illustrate the range and scope of amateur radio, including the emergency network known as Skywarn.

Information will be available on interference problems and how they may be controlled.

Both voice and Morse Code transmission will be used, and advice on setting up a station will be given.

Admission to "Close Encounters of the Wet Kind" and Ham Radio Days is included in the regular Science Center admission of 75 cents for four and five-year-olds, $3 for those aged six and up (including adults) and $2 for senior citizens. Admission also includes the Space Theater, now showing "Nomads of the Deep" and "Ocean." Information on group and family rates may be obtained by calling 833-1892.

To tell the tales of Mount Vernon

Christ Church Seniors and their guests celebrate George Washington's birthday today, Thursday, Feb. 18, in the church Undercroft where, following luncheon, Mrs. Alexander L. Wiener, Michigan's vice-regent for The Mount Vernon Ladies Association of the Union, will present a film on Washington's home, commenting on the history and preservation of Mount Vernon and how the Ladies Association was founded.

Convene School of Government

The School of Government, Inc., in the midst of its 41st year, will meet next Wednesday, Feb. 24, at the Detroit Boat Club on Belle Isle for luncheon at noon followed by a program of special interest to all senior citizens and all who want to learn the latest news concerning senior citizens.

Mrs. Ralph L. Mason, the School's president, will introduce Mrs. John T. McMullen, a past-president and current program chairman, who arranged for the speaker of the day: Senior Citizen Counselor Marie E. Wentela.

Miss Wentela's talk will focus on "Social Security and Vital Issues for all Senior Citizens."

The speaker has just returned from Washington, D.C., where she attended the National White House Conference on Aging. She was recently appointed member-at-large of the Michigan Senior Advocacy Council, and member of its Transportation Sub-Committee and its Senior Power Day Steering Committee.

Reservations for the luncheon and program must be made by Monday, Feb. 22, by calling 822-6238, 824-7267 or 867-3440.

Pointe is HQ for American Friends of Vatican Library

A national organization to provide support for the 500-year-old Vatican Library has been established in Detroit with the encouragement of Pope John Paul II. The American Friends of the Vatican Library — the first auxiliary group of its kind in the long history of the scholarly institution — will provide continuing assistance through the dues and contributions of its members.

Funds will be used for the maintenance and upkeep of the huge collection of ancient manuscripts and rare books, to improve the modest salaries of library employees and to purchase research materials and equipment.

Cardinal Agostino Casaroli, Vatican Secretary of State, wrote that Pope John Paul II sees in the establishment of the American Friends of the Vatican Library a monument and symbol.

The Most Reverend Edmund C. Szoka, Archbishop of Detroit, is honorary president of the Friends. His predecessor as Archbishop, Cardinal John Dearden, is honorary chairman. Monsignor Francis X. Canfield, pastor of Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore, who headed the group of interested people who formed the organization, has been elected its president and has opened temporary offices at 157 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms.

The Catholic Library Association, of which Monsignor Canfield formerly was president, is undertaking national sponsorship of the Friends.

The Very Reverend Alfons Stickler, prefect of the Vatican Library, has actively participated in formation of the American Friends. "This is an historic step," he said, "that promises to be a model for similar associations in other countries."

Pope Nicholas V founded the Vatican Library in the 15th cen-

ture, although collections of manuscripts had been housed in papal offices from the earliest times. In the same century, Pope Sixtus IV consolidated the collection and arranged permanent quarters in the Vatican.

The collection includes the "Codex Vaticanus," dating from the fourth century, believed to be the oldest text of almost the entire Bible in Greek. It contains one of the oldest and most extensive selections of early manuscripts of Greek and Latin literature. Sixteen language groups are represented in the shelves and stacks, including Chinese and Turkish.

The priceless holdings have been maintained on a restricted budget that limits the use of the library and provides little to enlarge the collections or to make them more widely accessible to scholars throughout the world.

"Hopefully, the American Friends will be able to provide regular financial assistance on a continuing basis to alleviate some of the operational problems the library has encountered in these times of inflation," Monsignor Canfield said. "If we are successful in attracting support and involvement in the United States, other nations may well wish to emulate us in this effort to enhance the usefulness of a treasure house of knowledge."

Interested individuals who enroll in the American Friends will receive from the Vatican Library a full color reproduction of a page from an illuminated manuscript of the 11th century. Additional privileges will include special tours of the library for those visiting Rome and discounts on library publications.

Information about membership may be obtained from the American Friends of the Vatican Library, 157 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan, 48236. (313 885-8855).

To open Camp Fire candy sale

Approximately 4,000 Camp Fire members will be selling candy throughout Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Livingston counties starting tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 19, and continuing through Saturday, March 6. The sale, largest single fund raising effort of the Detroit Area Camp Fire Council, provides 38 percent of the Council's yearly operating budget and helps maintain Camp Wathana: a 370-acre resident facility, located near Holly, which is open 10 months a year for a variety of camping experiences for non-members as well as Camp Fire members.

This year, the Council has increased its candy sale goal to $55,000. Two

Music program focus is Haydn

The New York based Mozartean Players — Richard Luby, violin, Steven Lubin, fortepiano, Myron Lutzke, cello, Rebecca Troxler, flute — will celebrate the 250th anniversary of Haydn's birth by performing his music on period instruments that produce a sound close to that of his era this Saturday, Feb. 20, at 8 p.m. in the Detroit Institute of Arts' 18th century gallery.

Tickets for this concert, first performance ever given in the museum's 18th century gallery, at $7 per person are available from the DIA's ticket office (832-2730).

Total woman in their care

The most often thought of part of obstetrics and gynecology, the delivering of babies, is actually only a small portion of the practice. An obstetrician-gynecologist is the woman's health care specialist — a physician with special education, training and skills, both medical and surgical, in women's health, says the Michigan State Medical Society.

Singularly, obstetrics is the care of a woman through pregnancy, labor and delivery and immediately following childbirth. Gynecology involves all other areas of health care involving a woman's reproductive organs. Physicians in this field are trained in both obstetrics and gynecology; while most combine the two specialties, some concentrate in only one or the other.

For many women, obstetrician-gynecologists are the primary care physicians — the doctors with whom they have regular contact and who provide them with general medical advice and counseling. In this patient-physician relationship, a woman's overall health condition can be evaluated in addition to the care which is within the physician's expertise. The physician may also refer the patient, when indicated, to other medical specialists, such as a cardiologist or an internist.

The obstetrician-gynecologist is also concerned with such needs as birth control, treatment of infertility, pregnancy and childbirth, screening and treatment for cancer and other communicable diseases, abortion, care of rape victims and therapy for conditions related to menopausal years.

In dealing with an expectant mother, the physician's primary concern is the delivery of a healthy baby from a healthy mother. The physician carefully monitors the mother's health, noting and correcting any changes that might affect the fetus' health. Diabetes, high blood pressure, epilepsy or a history of miscarriages all represent potential danger to the fetus and are thus of great importance to the physician. Proper nutrition is also an important factor. These physicians must be able to teach it to their patients.

In addition to a four-year medical school education and three years of post-graduate training (residency), obstetrician-gynecologists may have further credentials identifying themselves as specialists in women's health care. They may be board-certified — meaning that they have successfully passed a certifying examination, conducted by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology, testing their knowledge in obstetrics and gynecology.

New look for Les Papillons . . .

Wearing striking new leotards, swirl skirts and veils in a deep, vibrant red, and performing to the accompaniment of drum, cymbals and a 12-string guitar, Les Papillons Liturgical Dancers presented the newest number in their repertoire, Psalm 137, at their sponsor church, Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian, Sunday. The dance has been videotaped, and will be shown soon on Grosse Pointe Cable TV in connection with a videotaped church service. The psalm, sung by guitarist Charlotte Kirkpatrick accompanied by percussionist Jeanne Zech, is a dramatic portrayal of destruction, bitterness and revenge by a people made captive, whose only hope lies in their faith in God. Pictured above in performance in the chancel as part of a Sunday Worship Service are (left to right) Papillons JoAnne SPENCER, WENDY HEAVNER, NANCY REED and ELLEN PROBERT. JoAnne, Nancy and Ellen participated in the Psalm 137 performance, along with Jenny Eshleman, Mary Lee Strother and Eunice Whitaker, the troop's director and choreographer. Auxiliary dancers are Wendy, Sandy Guarella, Jessica Tussley, Christi Buell, Allison Jones and Lizzie Bolden. Dress-makers for Les Papillons, who continue to enlarge their repertoire and look forward to several scheduled appearances at area churches this spring, are Mrs. Helen Jort and Mrs. Sydney Schnuur. The Reverend David Eshleman and Steve Honkanen are in charge of audio.

Phase I focus on newspapers

"Newspapering — and Where We're Coming From" is the topic selected by David Lawrence, executive editor of The Detroit Free Press, for his talk this Sunday, Feb. 21, at the regular program meeting of Phase I, the organization of single, young adults, ages 20 through 39, who meet regularly at 7:45 p.m. on Sundays at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Phase I has another activity scheduled for this weekend. Volleyball games start at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 19, in Memorial Church's Fellowship Hall. There'll be a post-play pizza session, open to non-athletes as well as players.

Plan fund raiser for Spina Bifida

Roseville's Athena Hall on Gratiot Avenue will be the setting for a Saturday, Feb. 27, dinner dance to benefit the local chapter of the Spina Bifida Association of Michigan. Information on tickets at $17.50 per person, including dinner, dancing and an open bar, may be obtained by calling 882-8396 or 779-4055.

Funds raised via the event, sponsored by the Skeeter Beeters Camping Club, will finance a variety of activities for children with spina bifida (open spine): the second most common birth defect. More than 11,000 American children are born each year with spina bifida which, until 10 years ago, usually was fatal.

Polish Genealogical Society will meet

"Detroit's Polish Catholic Parishes," a color slide lecture on the city's historic Polish parishes including Poletown's recently razed Immaculate Conception, will be the program for the Polish Genealogical Society of Michigan's meeting this Saturday, Feb. 20, at 2 p.m. in the Explorers Room of the Main Branch Detroit Public Library on Woodward Avenue. Co-sponsor of speaker Allan R. Treppa's presentation is the Polish-American Ethnic Committee. The program is open to the public.

Slate Faculty Wives' bridge

Members of the Grosse Pointe Faculty Wives Bridge Group gather Monday, March 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Leslie Reames for their monthly meeting. Dessert and coffee will be served, courtesy of Mrs. Maynard Leigh.

The meeting is open to all Faculty Wives interested in playing bridge, who are invited to contact Mrs. Gordon Morlan, group chairperson, 822-8251, for further information.

Glass ensemble to play at DIA

Contemporary composer Philip Glass and his ensemble will give their only Michigan performance in the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium this Sunday, Feb. 21, at 7 p.m. Information on tickets, at $7.50 per person, may be obtained by calling 832-2730. Selections from "Glassworks," the composer's soon-to-be-released album, will be given their area premier at this concert.

Glass received international acclaim for his opera "Satyagraha," based on the life of Mahatma Gandhi, when it was performed last fall at the Brooklyn Academy of Music. His first opera, "Einstein on the Beach," received its American premier at the Metropolitan Opera House in the fall of 1976.

Oriental Overture in Mount Clemens

"An Oriental Overture," the Art Center in Mount Clemens' sixth annual dinner for current and aspiring sustaining members this Sunday, Feb. 21, begins with champagne and Oriental delicacy hors d'oeuvres at 5:30 p.m. at the Center on Macomb Place, where guests may view the current Oriental exhibits including Chinese Door Guards: a folk art tradition used, much as we use Christmas cards, to signal and celebrate the arrival of the Chinese New Year.

The party moves over to Gents III at 7:30 p.m., for a French gourmet dinner with wine. Reservations for the evening, which will end with the awarding of art work prizes, at $50 per person sustaining membership fee plus $25 for the dinner, may be made by calling the Art Center, 469-8666, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The Community LINC

By Susie Rohde

It's 8 a.m. and Sara is getting ready for a busy day. She's drying her hair with her blow dryer — and, suddenly, it goes out. Next door, David is getting ready to brew a cup of coffee — when his coffemaker goes out on him.

What do these two people have in common? They have broken electrical appliances that can be repaired and, thanks to a program now underway at Operation LINC (Linking Individuals to Needs in the Community), broken appliances of any kind can be repaired and placed with Wayne County agencies that come to us for help.

For many years, Detroit Edison has been in the business of repairing small appliances for its residential customers. Recently, however, this program was discontinued. As a result, Edison has been able to donate work manuals, benches, chairs, hand tools and replacement parts for all brands of small appliances.

In turn, Challenge House, a residential substance abuse facility in Detroit, participates in a training program, as part of rehabilitation, to repair broken appliances.

The director of Challenge House, Julius Dodson, is thankful to LINC for helping to coordinate this most worthwhile program. His facility, which houses 25 residents, is now able to provide these young men with marketable skills.

This is another example of LINC's service to the community at large. Amazingly, this project was begun with NO expenditure of money.

So please don't throw out your broken electrical appliances.

LINC desperately needs your donations of toasters, toaster ovens, lamps, hair dryers, can openers, vacuum cleaners and the like.

In addition to broken appliances, LINC needs twin beds and mattresses, linens, chairs and any household furniture you can part with. According to I. Roy Jones, director of the Detroit Transit Alternative, DTA is opening a new facility which will house 12 runaway teenagers. LINC has been asked to help furnish it.

LINC also needs to locate three pianos. They've been on request for quite a while. Three agencies have specifically asked for pianos, and we would like to be able to give one to each. Youth Living Centers and House of Hope Community Center, both of which serve the mentally handicapped, need pianos for their facilities. The other agency which would like a piano, for their new facility, is the Detroit Transit Alternative.

LINC will hold its annual membership meeting on Thursday, March 18, at 9:15 a.m. The 1982-83 slate of officers will be announced and a speaker will be present. Coffee and rolls will be served. We would like to see all our membership and interested parties. The meeting will be held in the lower level conference room. LINC is located at 13340 East Warren Avenue, in Detroit.

If you can help with any of the items mentioned above, please give our office a call at 331-8700. We need your support. All donations are tax deductible.

LINC column space is provided monthly by the Grosse Pointe News as a community service.

Junior League hosts Semple

Guest speaker at the Junior League of Detroit's general membership meeting yesterday, Wednesday, Feb. 17, at Grosse Pointe North High School was former Pointer Robert B. Semple Jr., foreign editor of the New York Times. He served as the Times' White House correspondent during Richard M. Nixon's first term, was then appointed deputy national editor and later named London Bureau chief. He has been seen frequently on NBC's 'Meet the Press.'

Mr. Semple spoke at 8:15 p.m., following a 7:15 p.m. business meeting. His topic was the Mideast. His program was open to the public.

Slate Macomb Art Society's meeting

The Macomb Art Society has scheduled its monthly meeting for next Tuesday, Feb. 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the Spindler Park Recreation Building, 1-94 at Stephens Drive. The program, a demonstration of Sumi-e (Japanese brush painting), will be presented by Mary Bowman, who has studied with several Sumi-e artists in Japan. Visitors are welcome. There is a $1 guest fee.

On October 1 John Lake began his well-earned retirement, and Dr. Mark Weber took over as Executive Director. This folder reports on some of his early impressions of our unique Grosse Pointe institution.

"It's a center for learning throughout the lifespan."

"I've seen pre-schoolers and seniors and every age group in between - doing and learning here. There's really no limit to the educational opportunities we can offer."

"... a center for the arts and individual creative activities."

"In the Fries Auditorium we have a marvelous facility for the performing arts. In the Art Wing people can find self-expression of all kinds. Our cultural contribution can be tremendous."

"... a center for people with community interests and needs."

"Almost daily I see civic-minded groups meeting in unselfish efforts to give service to the Grosse Pointe community. Perhaps there are even more ways in which our members can serve."

"... a center for all ages"

"Whether it's children's ballet, teen ski trips, an adult lecture series or senior bridge, there is something here for every age. And that's as it should be."

Dear Grosse Pointer:

It may seem strange to receive this Family Participation solicitation at this time of year.

There are two good reasons.

First, we have a new Executive Director, Mark Weber, whom you have met in this folder. We hope you have gained a feeling for the kind of thrust he will give the Grosse Pointe War Memorial in coming years.

Second, there are new financial considerations for our membership. For some the new tax law will make it more beneficial to make their deductible gifts before January 1. Others will benefit from giving after the first of the year. And for many it is more comfortable to do their parts after Social Security withholding is out of the way.

Please remember that our $180,000 goal for 1982 will be met by over 6,000 families - and that every pledge of every size is important. In 1981 over a quarter of a million people will have taken advantage of the educational, cultural and civic opportunities offered by the War Memorial. It is a vital asset to our community - and a value to you and your family.

You may be familiar with the War Memorial's connection with Grosse Pointe Cable Television, but you should be aware that it will be several years before that association will produce any income for us. Please consider your pledge now - payable either this year or next. And please return your card as soon as you can.

Thank you.
