Toppled by the snow

The beauty of this year's winter storm proved disastrous for the newly-built garage at 479 St. Clair in Grosse Pointe City, A neighbor told police he watched the garage collapse at about 8 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 20. A Lincoln Continental and a Chris-Craft boat were damaged extensively, police said. The owner was not home at the time of the incident.

Storm takes a toll on city budgets

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Michigan may be a winter wonderland, but for municipalities digging out from under the 50 inches of snow, this season has been an expensive trip through the wonderland.

The snowfall recorded this year as of Friday, Feb. 19 has been the most since 1970 when 61.7 inches fell. City managers, public works directors and finance departments are still figuring up the damages.

Although final totals are not in, the severe cold and heavy snow have forced the five Pointes to spend more for snow removal, salt and overtime for public works employes who manned the equipment during clean-

Grosse Pointe City Treasurer Dennis Foran said the city is nearing the top of its budgets for both overtime costs and salt purchases. When the spring thaw arrives and the City plans street repairs and resurfacing. he added, the budgeted funds may not cover the work needed.

Foran also said overtime costs were running about 50 percent over last winter's totals.

City Public Works director Doug Collinson said the city has about 100 tons of salt on hand, enough for five passes on all the city streets. The snow removal equipment has had some problems, he said.

"The Jeeps have taken a beating this year," Collinson said, adding frames on the vehicles were bent during sidewalk clearing. They have been repaired, "and the rest of the fleet is in good shape," he said, and ready in case there is another heavy general, residents responded well, he said.

"The citizens responded very well to the snow emergency," Kennedy said. "They all understood when they were asked to move their cars so plowing could be done."

Kennedy lauded the public works department for keeping the streets clear, which he said helped keep accidents down.

Grosse Pointe Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer said that although final cost totals are not ready yet, they are far and away more than last year.

"We're a little scared of it," he said. The Farms spent $1,000 more this year than last year on salt, according to Carroll Locke from the Farms' Finance Department.

Police seek suspect in weekend Woods shooting

A 63-year-old Grosse Pointe Woods woman was shot and wounded while she stood in the front door vestibule of her West King Court home Sunday night. Feb. 21, by a man police believe was posing as a pizza delivery man upper lip, and unshaven. He was wearing a brown-rimmed hat over dark hair and spoke with an unidentifiable accent. Police said he appeared at Ms. Dedes' home carrying a white pizza box and attempted to gain entry after Ms. Dedes answered the door.

The man tried to edge past Ms. Dedes into the home, police said. When Ms. Dedes became frightened and tried to close the front door, the assailant drew a gun and pointed it at her chest, police said, Ms. Dedes pushed his arm and the gunman fired one shot, striking Ms. Dedes in the left shoulder.

Cities warned of state revenue cut

State House Minority Leader William Bryant, R-Grosse Pointe Farms, sent up danger signals to Pointe mayors and city administrators this week warning that the first calendar year quarterly payments of state revenue sharing may be delayed and others could be cancelled.

In a meeting Monday, Feb. 22 with municipal representatives, Bryant warned the payments may be delayed as the state looks for ways to cut its deficit, according to local officials. Bryant said the state finished fiscal 1981 with a $225 million shortfall.

First quarter payments of the single business tax share of the funds will be going to the city at the end of February, according to Michael Hamlin of the state's Office of the Budget, but sales tax and income tax shares will be delayed about three weeks.

"It has been determined that there are not sufficient funds to make the payments at this time," Hamlin said, adding there was no intent on the part of the state to try and get away without paying.

Sales taxes and income taxes should be coming to the cities by March 22, Hamlin said.

"He (Bryant) just put us on alert this might happen," Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer said, adding that all the five communities except Grosse Pointe Shores are now preparing their 1982-83 budgets.

Bremer could not put a dollar figure on the possible loss, but said if Grosse Pointe Farms budgeted $503,000 in state revenue sharing for its general fund during the current fiscal year.

Grosse Pointe Woods Mayor George Freeman stressed no funds are now in jeopardy, but delays in payments could be caused by the worsening financial condition of the state.

"I'm not surprised," Grosse Pointe Shore Village President Gerald Schroeder said, "That means there is just that much less revenue for the cities.'

Grosse Pointe City budgeted $416,-000 in its 1981-82 budget for state revenue sharing, about 12 percent of its total general fund budget.

Grosse Pointe Park expected to receive $590,900 in revenue sharing from the state for fiscal 1981-82, more than 10 percent of its general fund revenues. That figure is down from the previous year's $736,000.

Grosse Pointe Woods budgeted $877,810 for the state revenue sharing funds, 15 percent of its fiscal 1981-82 general fund budget.

Gattorn pushes for union suit

The Wayne County Charter Commission may enter the legal battle against the county's newest union, the Association of Road Commission Administrators, according to the Grosse Pointe representative to the Charter Commission.

Barbara Gattorn said she has petitioned the president of the commission, George Ward, a co-plaintiff in an earlier unsuccessful legal challenge to the union, to call a special meeting of the Charter Commission for Tuesday, March 2, to discuss whether or not to bring suit against the union.

A suit filed last January by County Commissioner George Killeen, state Sen. John Hertel, R-Harper Woods, Ward and Justine Barnes, vice-president of the Charter Commission, was dismissed by Visiting Circuit Court Judge David Vokes last week who said the four did not have proper legal standing to bring such a suit.

of district court switch

By Susan McDonald

The Woods City Council started the ball rolling on plans for a new Pointe district court last month when it became the first community to endorse pending legislation abolishing the area's antiquated municipal justice system. This week, however, it threw a monkey wrench into efforts to implement the new court when it refused to fund a proposal to conduct a study of the system.

The council voted unanimously Feb. 22, to deny a $1,400 allocation for the study. All other Pointe com-munities, the City, Park, Shores and Farms, earlier agreed to spend that amount as their share of a $7,000 analysis of the costs, revenues, facility needs, policies and financing methods for the court.

The Pointes are among only two communities in the state that have not yet converted municipal court op-

Jobless rate up one point

The unemployment rate in Grosse Pointe communities increased by between one and two percentage points from November to December, according to figures released last week by the Michigan Employment Security Commission. The local rates varied from a high in the Park of 10.6 percent to a low in the City of 6.9 percent, according to MESC. Those rates compared to an 18.4 percent unemployment factor in the city of Detroit, and a rate of 15 percent in the six-county metropolitan area. The national rate during that period was 8.8 percent.

December and November rates for each city follow:

	November	December
City	5.7%	6.9%
Farms	6.9%	8.3%
Park	8.7%	10.6%
Woods	7.6%	9.5%

erations into a district court, which has broader civil and criminal jurisdiction. The other is East Detroit. The local communities operate part-time courts that are not courts of record. Legislation that allows them to convert to a district system is currently pending in the State House and has been approved by the Senate. It is expected to be approved also, but will not take effect unless all five Pointes formally endorse the changeover by May. Only the Woods has made that endorsement.

Other city leaders say they need more information about the conversion before they vote on the resolution and the proposed study was to provide that But the Woods' representative to the community-wide district court committee, Frederick Lovelace, said Feb. 22, that he doesn't think the study is necessary.

"I don't feel there's a need for an additional expense, because not all five Pointes have approved (consenting resolutions) and the information has already been passed on to us free of charge by the State Court Administrator's office," he said.

The other cities agreed to contract the accounting firm of Coopers and Lybrand, which handles audits of four local communities, for the district court study. According to a memo from City Manager Thomas Kressbach, of Grosse Pointe City, the cost of the study was estimated at about $15,000, but the accountants agreed to perform it for $7,000 as a community service.

Among the item Coopers and Lybrand would analyse are costs, including personnel, contractural, supply, material and facility; revenue estimates; allocation of costs; facility needs, including several alternative sites for the court; and administrative policies. Kressbach said the managers agreed it would be helpful to have an outside party conduct the study to avoid any bias toward one city or another.

Kressbach said the managers hoped to complete the study by April 1 in order to give council members ample time to consider its implications before the May deadline on the legislation.

After the Woods' rejection of the proposal, Kressbach said he did not know what approach to take. A request for more funds may be made to the cities which have already approved the study.

Pointer's book salutes a true Michigan hero

By Tom Greenwood

During these hard times when Michigan residents could use a shot in the arm, a Grosse Pointe resident thinks he may have found us a man to cheer about.

Dr. Harlan Hagman, Professor of Higher Education at Wayne State University, has written a ook entitled "Bright Michigan Morning: the years of Gov. Tom Mason.

If the name Gov. Tom Mason doesn't immediately ring a bell, don't feel bad about it Most persons have never heard of him, even though there's a statue in his honor in Capitol Park in downtown Detroit.

"Gov. Stevens Thomson Mason was a tremendous Michigan hero." said Dr Hagman, of Kensington Road "He was acting governor of the Michigan territory when he was only 19. He was our first elected governor when Michigan became a state in 1837. At that time he was only 24. They called him the boy governor."

Things were a little different then. The Michigan territory consisted of our present state, stretching down to include Toledo and west to the Mississippi.

Detroit's population of 9,000 was stretched mostly along the river. The area where Cadillac Square now stands was considered a wilderness The entire population of the state was about 200,000 and people were ready to go to war over Ohio's annexation of Toledo.

"At that time, Ohio was a state and we were only a territory," said Dr. Hagman. "They had political clout in the senate, although Toledo legally belonged to us. The citizens of Michigan were mostly rough and tumble frontiersmen. Toledo was a point of honor with us since we had earlier lost part of our territory to Indiana and Illinois. Militias on both sides were called up, but it never progressed beyond occasional brawls and midnight foraging raids on chicken coops.

We lost Toledo and, in compensation. President Andrew Jackson gave us the Upper Peninsula. We turned it down. After all, everyone knew it was a worthless hunk of rock and ice. Eventually we accepted it and this lead to our becoming a state. By rights, the U.P. should belong to Wisconsin.

Another accomplishment during Mason's term was the founding of the public school system in Michigan. "The governor would be amazed and pleased by the development of the University of Michigan," smiled Dr. Hagman. "He saw the first buildings go up, one of which was named after him."

Mason also established the railroads in Michigan and took a fly at digging a canal from Mt. Clemens to Kalamazoo. The project got only as far as Rochester, before running out of money. Parts of it can still be seen today at Bloomer State Park.

Mason also played a big part in establishing Michigan as the first state to outlaw capital punishment. "He was very disturbed at the spectacle of the only public hanging in Michigan," said Dr. Hagman. "The condemned was a man named Simmons who killed his wife in a drunken rage. People flocked to Detroit from all over the area. Bleachers were set up and the citizens brought picnic lunches to make a day of it.

"Simmons supposedly sang a hymn on the gallows and asked for forgiveness before he swung. A few years later another man was hung in Sandwich, Ont. It was later proven that he was innocent. This also helped sway the decision against capital punishment. The Detroit hanging took place in the old territorial prison which was located on Gratiot, near where Hudson's stands today."

Mason also did away with debtors' prison and extended voting rights to more Michigan citizens.

Tired of fighting the good fight, and hounded by political foes. Mason retired from politics and moved his family to New York. He died of pneumonia on Jan. 4. 1843. He was only 31.

More than 60 years later, his earthly remains were brought back to Michigan and interred at Capital Park (at Griswold and State streets, site of Michigan's first capital building) in a vault below the statue erected in his honor.

"Such daring and insight in a young man is truly remarkable," said Dr. Hagman "He had only one year of college but such a beautiful way with words. His script and wording is highly reminiscent of the Declaration of Independence.

"Mason School in the Pointe is named after him, and we have the statue in Detroit, but who pays any attention to statues? It's too bad we don't teach more about this man. He was a real person. A true Michigan hero. We need our heroes

Hagman's book "Bright Michigan Morning" is published by Green Oak Press, Brighton, Mi.

Vokes said, however, if the Board of Commissioners, the Charter Commission or the state legislature were to bring action against the Road Commission union, the facts in the case could be heard at the circuit court level.

A resolution brought before the Board of Commissioners to begin legal action against the union was sent to the General Government Committee, joining an earlier resolution to study whether appropriate charges exist for the removal of the two members of the governing board who voted for the union pact.

Committee chairman Paul Citkowski said he expected the committee to report back to the full Board by mid-March on both the resolutions.

Ms. Gattorn said the referral to committee of the resolution was as good as killing it, and added the Charter Commission still had to decide some points before bringing suit.

The biggest question is money, Ms. Gattorn said, since two members of the commission have questioned the use of Charter Commission funds to finance the legal action.

"At this point, it's up to the Charter Commission to carry the ball," Ms. Gattorn said.

Road Commission director of pubhe information Lou Sugo said he was most pleased with the court's decision, adding the terms of the union contract were already in effect.

Sugo was unable to confirm or deny published reports that Road Commission governing board chairman Michael Berry was planning to resign from that post.

Serious crime in City stays near '80 level

The rate of serious crimes in Grosse Pointe City remained relatively unchanged in 1981 as compared to 1980, although the number of all reported crimes decreased 86 percent during the year.

According to statistics presented to the City Council at the Tuesday, Feb. 16 meeting, police reported 346 serious crimes in 1981 compared to 351 the year before for a reduction of 0.1 percent.

Serious, or Part I crimes are defined by the FBI as murder, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, larceny, auto theft and arson.

The city reported no rapes or murder for 1981, and no cases of arson. In 1980, one case of arson was reported Burglaries dropped from 76 in 1980 to 55 in 1981, and larcenies more than $200 dropped 30 percent, from 68 in 1980, to 47 in 1981. Larcenies under $50 also dropped to 52, compared to 64 the year before, an 18.7 percent decrease.

Robberies jumped from 4 reported in 1980 to 9 in 1981, and assaults increased to 4 in 1981, up 3 from the year before. Non-aggressive assaults also increased, from 5 in 1980 to 18 last year.

Auto thefts increased slightly, from 15 in 1980 to 17 in 1981. Statistics show, however, that 4 reported attempts are included in the 1981 figure.

Larcenies of between $200 and $50 increased 23 percent. Statistics show 144 reported incidents in 1981, while 197 were reported the year before.

Grosse Pointe Farms reported a 9.3 percent decrease in serious crimes in 1981 compared to the year before. For the same period, Grosse Pointe Park reported a 14 percent increase, while Grosse Pointe Shores and Grosse Pointe Woods reported drops of 16 and 20 percent respectively for 1981 as compared to 1980.

Rep.'s daughter is runner-up in national model contest

Jennifer Bryant, the daughter of Lois Anne and state House Minority Leader William R. Bryant, has been selected as a runner-up in the 1982 Miss Love's Baby Soft teen model contest. Jennifer was one of 4,000 entrants in the national contest.

Jennifer, 14, is a student at South High School, where she has been an honor student and was nominated for Homecoming Court. She has studied dance for five years, and enjoys playing soccer and softball.

The Miss Love's Baby Soft contest is in its fifth year. Judges in the contest included Eileen Ford of Ford Models in New York, the beauty editors of Teen and Seventeen magazines and Albert A. Marks Jr., chairman of the Executive Committee of the Miss America Pageant.

The three national finalists were flown to New York where they spent several days enjoying beauty makeovers, model auditions and photography sessions. Their special week from Love's Fragrances also included a Broadway show, breakfast with Kylene Barker, Miss America 1979, and dining at some of New York's most exciting restaurants.

At the conclusion of the week, one young woman was named as the Teen Model of the Year and received a $1,000 modeling contract from Love. The other national finalists received $500 contracts. All three will appear in a portion of Love's 1982 advertising campaign. In addition, the na tional winner will appear on a segment of the television show, "The Love Boat." The 1981 model contest winner, Heidi Helmer, recently signed a contract with NBC and has appeared in the television series "The Facts of Life."

Park seeks beautiful businesses

The Grosse Pointe Park Beautification Commission has announced an Awards Program for businesses in its city that improve and beautify themselves through painting, landscaping, neatness, architecture and rear entrance appearance.

Winners will be honored at an "Awards Night" with trophies. Maria Valente, chairman of the commission, urges all interested businesses to submit before and after photos for judging.

Applications should be sent to the City of Grosse Pointe Park, 15115 East Jefferson Avenue, 48230. Phone 822-6200 for more information.

PWP will present investing in art

The Grosse Pointe chapter of Parents Without Partners will hold a general meeting Friday, Feb. 26 at 7:30 p.m. Ernie Du Mouchelle, vice-president of Du Mouchelle's Art Galleries, will speak about "Investing in Arts and Antiques" and will also evaluate any "treasure" free.

Elections will also be held at the meeting and chapter members are urged to vote for their favorite candidate.

The Grosse Pointe chapter meets the second and fourth Friday of each month at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore, Grosse Pointe Farms. The general meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. with a coffee hour, a guest speaker at 8:30, and an afterglow following the presentation.

Village gets okay for 'Greatest Garage Sale'

The Village Association won approval from the City to turn the parking garage behind Jacobson's into a massive flea market that is expected to attract some 10,000 shoppers on Memorial Weekend, May 30 and 31.

The event, "Grosse Pointe's Greatest Garage Sale," is being organized as a fund-raiser for the merchants' annual special events which include a Christmas parade and Halloween trick-or-treat for youngsters.

the leadership of Ed Hickey, president of the association.

The Grosse Pointe City Council approved the plans at its Feb. 16 meeting. The city will provide aroundthe-clock police protection of the garage so sellers can leave their setups overnight. The city also will assist with traffic control and clean-up, billing the merchants for extra services, according to Samuel.

In addition to booths, food conces sions also will be located in perimeter spaces around the garage. Food booths will be assessed a percentage of sales and will be offered first to local service groups, Ms. Samuel said

Berkshire homes are burglarized

Thieves last month burglarized three Berkshire Road homes, accord-ing to Grosse Pointe Park police.

Chief Henry Coonce said someone entered two homes in the 800 block of Berkshire through rear doors, Saturday, Jan. 30 and took miscellaneous jewelry and money. Another homeowner in the 700 block reported silver missing from his residence.

Police believe the same person committed at least two of the burglaries since footprints leading to two of the homes matched.

Winter Wonderland puts a strain on city budgets

Farms Public Works director Patrick Cosgrove said the city has about 200 tons of salt on hand, good for three times around the streets. That's the normal amount the city keeps on hand, Cosgrove said, since there is limited storage space.

The equipment is in the process of being shaped up, Cosgrove said, noting that "even though it was strained at the time," the fleet would be ready to handle another heavy snowfall.

The police in the Farms have taken the weather in stride, Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber said. One officer was injured when he fell on the ice checking out Kerby School, and no other major injuries were reported.

During the worst of the snow, Ferber said, a four-wheel drive Jeep owned by one of the officers was used for patrol, but that was only for one night. The rest of the fleet of patrol cars is reaching the top of their useful lives, but they were able to stay in service, Ferber said.

Police have found that snow decreases the number of burglaries, Ferber added, but larcenies have increased in the winter months.

Grosse Pointe Park has reached the end of its $42,000 budget for winter maintenance, City Manager John Crawford said. The salt purchase budget of $14,000 is depleted, with the city spending about $16,000 this winter.

Some money could be borrowed from the major street repair budget if another storm hits, Crawford said. Funding for major street repairs is down because of losses in state revenues, Crawford said, so the city is planning minor road repair, rather than major resurfacing in spring.

"Come this spring, we're going to have a lot of maintenance work on our streets because of the heavy snow and salting," he said, "but no money has been budgeted for major street resurfacing."

James Ellison of the Park Department of Public Works said the city has used about twice as much sait this year as last, but has enough on hand to cover a major fall.

The equipment has been holding out, he said, since an in-house repair crew has been able to fix breakdowns as fast as they occur to keep the fleet at full working strength.

"We came through pretty well," Ellison said, "and did a fairly good job keeping the streets clean. During that one period (in February), we had to go into a great deal of overtime."

The roads that are in good shape will remain in good shape, he said, while those in need of paving he hopes can be done.

"We may have to do a little more patching this year," he said.

Response time for the Park police officers was handicapped slightly by snow, Police Chief Henry Coonce said, but the fleet, equipped with snow tires with chains available, was able to stay in service during the winter.

Four officers were injured in falls, he said. One officer who struck his mouth in a fall has not yet returned to service. The others were minor in nature, he said.

More than 60 cars were towed during the winter, Coonce said, with all costs being charged to the owners, to be removed from the streets so plowing could be done. Crime rates, however, dropped.

Break-ins, larcenies and other crime rates have fallen, Coonce said, because the weather kept most people inside. Family trouble crimes also showed no increase, he said.

Grosse Pointe Shores DPW director Frank McQuerter said the crews have made 215 passes on city streets this year, a figure he considers high. The village still has about 35 tons of salt on hand, good for two or three applications, he said.

"The police department, per se, has been running very smooth," Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale said, adding there had been no patrol problems, injuries or overtime costs incurred by the department during the heavy snow.

Grosse Pointe Woods City Manager Chester Petersen said that final cost figures will be compiled by next week, but they were higher than last year's expenses in the areas of labor and private contractors.

The city has budgeted $200,000 for resurfacing of Sunningdale Park to a point past Fairway, and for some work on Oxford, Petersen said.

The city is sending a bill to the Wayne County Road Commission for labor and costs incurred when the city plowed Mack Avenue, a county road, during the heavy snow. Petersen would not say whether or not the bill would be paid by the Road Commission.

The city offices closed for only two hours during the worst of the snow, Petersen said, the only manhours lost this year. DPW director Leonard Ocelnik said the city had about 600 tons of salt on hand, enough for 15 passes on the city's streets. The department has used about 1,400 tons so far this year, compared to 1,240 tons last winter, Ocelnik said.

The Woods averages about 2,400 tons per winter, Ocelnik said, adding this year's consumption was well below the average.

The fleet has been damaged and repaired, Ocelnik said. Clutches were burned out of Jeeps, one Jeep's engine was ruined, and all the plows have had to have blades replaced because of the amount of plowing done this year.

Of all the damaged vehicles, only one Jeep with the burned-out engine and one truck remain out of service, Ocelnik said, adding the city would more than be ready for a major snowfall if one was on the way.

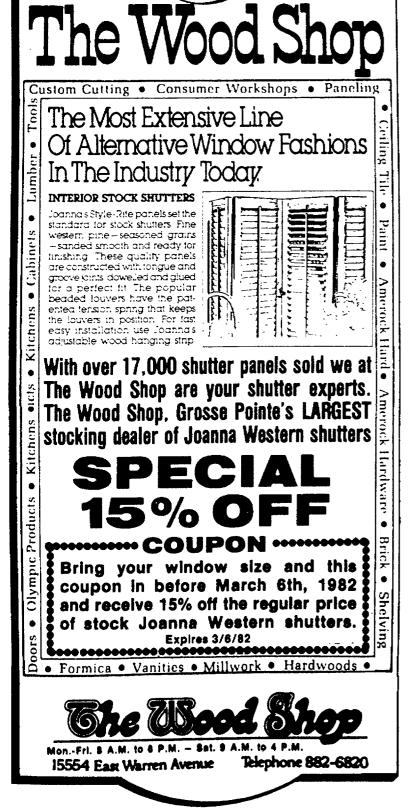

One Woods public safety officer was seriously injured in a fall, according to Woods Acting Public Safety Director Jack Patterson. Corporal Gerald Kensora slipped on the ice and broke his collarbone and remains off duty. There have been slips, strains and falls because of the snow, but nothing serious, Patterson added.

Patterson added that fire hydrants could be adopted by residents, and kept clear on at least the street side so there would be quick access to them in case of a fire.

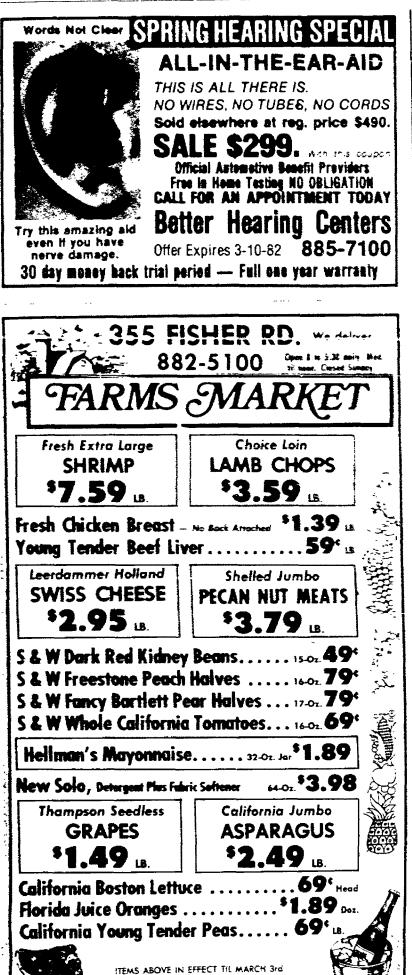

There have been more accidents, more ambulance runs, but in general less crime through the winter. Patterson said, "We have enjoyed a respite from our normal workload. Bad weather has its good points."

City applies for $240,000 grant

Grosse Pointe City hopes to spend more than half of its three-year, $240,000 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) on roadway improvements, according to a list of projects submitted to the council on Feb. 16.

The funds are administered by Wayne County and originate with the federal department of Housing and Urban Development. The City is entitled to an $80,000 annual allocation providing its proposed projects meet HUD approval. HUD has asked cities to submit three-year plans for the funds. The City plan covers 1982, 1983 and 1984.

Among the projects and costs submitted at the hearing last week were the following:

• Seniors Onward for Change Mi-nor Home Repair-$21,000 • Tree preservation, planting and removal---$12,000 • Commercial area tree grates and guards---$3,000 • Trash compactor for a block in the Village shopping area-$12,000

• Parking lot lighting-$15,000 • Resurfacing Neff between Jeffer-son and Kercheval, reconstruction of St. Clair-Mack intersection, widening of St. Clair-$142,500

· Energy conservation for cityowned buildings-$8,500 • District court study-2,000

ULS sets date for admission tests

University Liggett School has set March 6 as the date for administering tests for admission to its Upper, Middle and Lower Schools. Entrance exams for all three divisions will begin at 8:30 a.m. with testing for grades 9 through 12 and grades 1 through 5 held at 1045 Cook Road in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Testing for grades 6 through 8 will be held at 850 Briarcliff Drive also in the Woods.

Testing helps the school determine the applicant's scholastic aptitude and to ascertain if the student will have success at ULS. Admissions committees also look for other qualities in their applicants including good character, integrity and seriousness. To register for testing, call ULS Admissions Coordinator Ethel Burwell at 884-4444. Mrs. Burwell can also arrange for a tour of the University Liggett campus.

ORDINANCE NO. 216

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 10.4 OF THE CHAPTER 126 OF TITLE X OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE BY AMENDING SECTIONS 5.15, 5.158, 5.15b, 5.15c, 5.15d OF THE UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE FOR CITIES, TOWNSHIPS AND VILLAGES.

THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE ORDAINS:

1. That Section 10.4 of Chapter 126 of Title X of the Grose Pointe City Code is hereby amended to add the following additional subsections: Sec. 5.15. Amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5.15. Operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance.

(1) A person, whether licensed or not, who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, shall not operate a vehicle upon a highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles within the City of Grosse Pointe. A police officer may, without a warrant, arrest a person when the police officer has reasonable cause to believe that the person was at the time of an accident, the driver of a vehicle involved in the accident and was operating the vehicle upon a public highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, in the City of Grosse Pointe while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination of an intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance. A violation of this subsection is punishable as provided in subsections (3) and (4).

(2) The owner of a vehicle or a person in charge or in control of a vehicle shall not authorize or knowingly permit the vehicle to be operated upon a highway or other place open to the general public. including an area designated for the parking of motor vehicles, within the City of Grosse Pointe by a person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance. A violation of this subsection is punishable as provided in subsections (3) person of his or her own choosing administer one of the chemical tests, as provided in this section, within a reasonable time after his or her detention, and the results of the test shall be admissible and shall be considered with other competent evidence in determining the innocence or guilt of the defendant. A person charged with a crime enumerated in subsection (1) who is required by the police officer to take a chemical test as provided in subsections (1) and (2) shall be informed that he or she has the right to demand that one of the tests provided for in subsection (1) shall be given him or her, and the results of the test shall be admissible and shall be considered with other competent evidence in determining the innocence or guilt of the defendant.

(4) The person charged shall be advised that the person's refusal to take a test as provided in this section shall result in the suspension or revocation of his or her operator's or chauffeur's license or his or her operating privilege.

(5) This section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question of whether or not the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, a person requested to take this test shall be advised that he or she has the option to demand that only a breath test shall be given, in which case his or her refusal to submit to another test shall not constitute a refusal for the purposes of sections 5.15c and 5.15d.

(7) If a jury instruction regarding a defendant's refusal to submit to a chemical test under this section is requested by the prosecution or the defendant, the jury instruction shall be given as follows:

"Evidence was admitted in this case which, if believed by the jury, could prove that the defendant had exercised his or her right to refuse a chemical test. You are instructed that such a refusal is within the statutory rights of the defendant and is not evidence of his guilt. You are not to consider such a refusal in determining the guilt or innocence of the defendant."

Sec. 5.15b. Amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5.15b. Operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs while ability impaired.

(1) A person shall not operate a vehicle upon a highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, within the City of Grosse Pointe, when, due to the consumption of an intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, the person has visibly impaired his or her ability to operate the vehicle. If a person is charged with violating section 5.15, a finding of guilty is permissible under this section.

both, together with costs of the prosecution.

Sec. 5.15 a. Operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor; tests; admissibility; presumption; liability for withdrawing blood; refusal to take test; other evidence; option to demand breath test only; jury instruction.

(1) In a criminal prosecution for operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or for operating a vehicle while visibly impaired, the amount of alcohol in the driver's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of the person's blood, urine. or breath shall be admissible into evidence. If a test is given, the results of the test shall be made available to the person charged or the person's attorney upon written request to the prosecution, with a copy of the request filed with the court. The prosecution shall furnish the report at least two (2) days before the day of the trial and the results shall be offered as evidence by the prosecution in a criminal proceeding. Failure to fully comply with the request shall bar the admission of the results into evidence by the prosecution. The amount of alcohol in the driver's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of the person's blood, urine, or breath shall give rise to the following presumptions:

(a) If there was at the time 0.07% or less by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(b) If there was at the time in excess of 0.07% but less than 0.10%by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant's ability to operate a vehicle was impaired within the provisions of section 5.15b due to the consumption of intoxicating liquor.

(c) If there was at the time 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol in. the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(2) A sample or specimen of urine or breath shall be taken and collected in a reasonable manner. Only a licensed physician or a licensed nurse or medical technician under the direction of a licensed physician and qualified to withdraw blood acting in a medical environment, at the request of a police officer, may withdraw blood for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content of the blood under this section. Liability for a crime or civil damages predicted on the act of withdrawing blood and related procedures shall not attach to a qualified person who withdraws blood or assists in the withdrawal in accordance with this section unless the withdrawal is performed in a negligent manner.

(3) A person charged with a crime enumerated in subsection (1) who takes a chemical test administered at the request of a police officer, as provided in subsections (1) and (2), shall be informed that the person will be given a reasonable opportunity to have a section 5.15c. Implied Consent.

Sec. 5.15c. Amended to read as follows:

(1) A person who operates a vehicle upon a public highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, in the City of Grosse Pointe is considered to have given consent to chemical tests of his or her blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content of his or her blood if:

(a) The person is arrested for a violation of section 5.15 or 5.15b.

(2) A person who is afflicted with hemophilia, diabetes, or a condition requiring the use of an anitcoagulant under the direction of a physician shall not be considered to have given consent to the withdrawal of blood.

(3) The tests shall be administered at the request of a police officer having reasonable grounds to believe the person was operating a vehicle upon a public highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, in the City of Grosse Pointe while in violation of section 5.15 or 5.15b.

(4) If after a highway accident the driver of a vehicle involved in the accident is deceased, a sample of the decedent's blood shall be withdrawn in a manner directed by the medical examiner for the purpose of determining blood alcohol content. The results of an examination of the blood of a deceased driver shall be used for statistical purposes only.

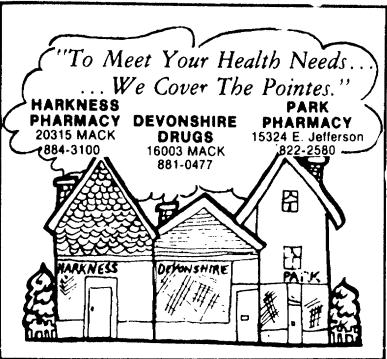

Sec. 5.15d. Amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5.15d. Refusal to Submit to Test; Report.

(1) A person who is requested pursuant to section 5.15c(3) to take a chemical test shall be advised of the right to refuse to submit to chemical tests; and if the person refuses the request of a police officer to submit to chemical tests, a test shall not be given without a court order. A sworn report shall be forwarded to the Secretary of State by the police officer. The report shall state that the officer had reasonable grounds to believe that the person had been operating a vehicle on a public highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, in the City of Grosse Pointe while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or that the person had been operating a vehicle while his or her ability to operate a vehicle had been impaired due to the consumption of intoxicating liquor and that the person had refused to submit to the test upon the request of the police officer and had been advised of the consequences of the refusal. The form of the report shall be prescribed and furnished by the Secretary of State.

Librarians look toward computerized future

By Joanne Gouleche It was bound to happen. Patrons of local libraries have for years relied on the card catalog to direct them to topics ranging from Alaska to alligators. The trouble is, books on Alaska aren't always where the card catalog says they are-ask any student. Enter the computer, which has already touched on every aspect of daily life, and say hello some day to a computerized card catalog at Grosse Pointe's Central Library.

"A card catalog will not tell you if a book is available or how many copies are on file. It's always behind," admits William Peters, Grosse Pointe's library director.

"When the library discards a book, the catalog cards remain outdated until they're pulled. What we are headed towards at this library are touch screen terminals that will take the place of the library card catalog," Peters said.

The director explained in the not-too-distant future, depending on fund-ing, patrons will be able to sit down at a terminal and find their book on Alaska or alligators in a matter of seconds by pressing a few buttons.

The library's computerized book charge system has been in service since 1980 and has already made library life much easier. Peters said "For the first time we are able to tell if a book is in circulation, how many copies we have and who our patrons are," Peters said. But the computer is able to send out overdue notice more quickly, too.

The computer has also increased names on reserved book lists about 200 percent, Peters said. A few years back, patrons had to wait until the book showed up on the shelf againa slow and frustrating process.

Peters said the library also has its eye on a new INFORM system that would be able to tell patrons what community activities are planned a month away.

National Smoker Study confirms MERIT taste sparks switch from higher tar brands.

The bottom line: taste. That's the result of the latest wave of research with smokers who have switched from higher tar cigarettes to 'Enriched Flavor', MERIT.

MERIT Earns Taste Trophy.

Nationwide survey reveals over 90% of MERIT smokers who switched from higher tar are glad they did. In fact, 94% don't even miss their former brands.

Further Evidence: 9 out of 10 former higher tar smokers report MERIT an easy switch, that they didn't give up taste in switching, and that MERIT is the best-tasting low tar they've ever tried.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

MERIT By Wide Margin.

In addition, extensive unmarked pack tests confirm that MERIT delivers a winning combination of taste and low tar when compared with higher tar leaders.

Confirmed: The overwhelming majority of smokers reported MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading higher tar brands.

Confirmed: When tar levels were revealed, 2 out of 3 chose the MERIT combination of low tar and good taste.

Year after year, in study after study, MERIT remains unbeaten. The proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking—is MERIT.

Time to stop the union

the new charter will become effective in Wayne County government—but it can't come too soon for the citizens of this county.

The reason is that it is clear the current county government is going to continue with its old practices until it is forced to change. And while the millenium will not arrive with the charter, changes will be required in county organization, county departments and county employes and officials,

Thus in recent weeks the current Wayne County Board of Comissioners, whose 27 members will be replaced next year by a new commission of 15, has effectively killed an investigation of a civil service cheating scandal by failing to ap-propriate money for its own investigating committee.

IN WHAT HAS become rather common board practice, the members voted 12 to 3 in favor of spending $6,000 on the investigation but eight commissioners abstained, leaving the motion two short of the 14 needed for passage. In other words, the board did what it so often does: It gave lip service to a principle-in this case for the integrity of civil service-but then failed to back the principle with the required action. This incident, coming after the recent organi-zation of a union of highly paid supervisors in the Wayne County Road Commission, offers further evidence of the need for a real housecleaning in county government. So far neither the county commissioners nor the road commission nor many county employes seem to realize that county voters last fall voted for reform and against the costly business-as-usual policies and practices which have created so much red ink on county books in recent years.

It is true that visiting Wayne Circuit Judge David C. Vokes dismissed the suit challenging the road commission's contract to protect the jobs of its managerial staff. The suit was brought by Commissioner George Killeen, State Sen. John Hertel and George Ward, president of the County Charter Commission, but the judge ruled that they had no legal standing to sue. In his decision, the judge said that "standing has nothing to do with whether a matter is one of great public moment, that it might be a case of first impression or that there has been a violation of the home rule charter for the County of Wayne." Instead, he continued, "Standing means that the party has suffered a definite injury and has a right of action against the defendants named in his lawsuit. The plaintiffs have not met these requirements."

From his ruling, however, it appeared that the charter commission itself, the board of countycommissioners or the state senate would have standing to authorize a suit. As a consequence. Barbara Gattorn, the Grosse Pointe representative

It's still a long time until Jan. 1, 1983, when on the charter commission, joined with two of her colleagues to petition for a meeting of the commission to consider an appeal of the judge's decision, to file its own action against the road commission action or take some other action to block it, Sen, Hertel and Commissioner Killeen also have considered an appeal and thus the litigation over the contract still may be continuing.

And the challenge should be continued. For the merits of the issue of whether the road com-mission acted properly in approving a "quickie" contract which attempts to protect the jobs of highly paid supervisory personnel still have not yet been argued in court.

THAT DUES not stop county and road commission employes and officials from criticizing charter reform, of course. The Grosse Pointe News last week received a letter of complaint signed only by "The Phantom" but enclosed in the same envelope were several news releases from the Wayne County Board of Commissioners. The implication was clear that the letter came from an official or employe.

The anonymous letter, which would have been published in full had it been signed by someone who could be identified, attacked a recent Grosse Pointe News editorial, "A threat to county reform," as "a prime example of the ignorances of the media in reporting on Wayne County politics."

It went on to contend that there has been a supervisors' union within county government for years, that unions cannot guarantee jobs and cannot usurp the charter's mandates, and that the organizing of road commission supervisors "is nothing more than a paper tiger." Why? Because "the road commissioners are still at the mercy of the board of commissioners and-beginning in 1983—the CEO" (meaning the county executive officer to be elected next fall).

In a postscript, the letter also recommended that we turn our "guns on the reintroduction of the spoils system to Wayne County government, courtesy of the new charter." Supporting this argument was the contention that prospective CEO's "are already promising job3 for support," which, the writer contended, means that "next year promises to be amateur hour at the City-County Building."

Whether the letter is from county sources or not, it expresses the kind of cynicism and criticism of the charter being made in official circles in county government. While it was not intended that way, in effect it shows that a housecleaning is needed not only to improve the efficiency of county government and increase the effectiveness of its services but also to eliminate the staffers whose main function these days appears to be to protect their own jobs.

One WASP's view of FDR

Would President Franklin D. Roosevelt's speech asking Congress to declare war on Japan the day after the attack on Pearl Harbor have been so indelibly engraved on our memories without the ringing phrase, "a date which will live in infamy?"

ing "the nation to shoulder the responsibilities of an active great power directly involved in the changing world's affairs and future." Alsop calls that Roosevelt's "magnificent and unforgettable feat in the field of foreign policy," a verdict many other observers would share.

Police need dog training

I agree 100 percent with the letter published in your Feb. 4 issue on the shooting of the Doberman Pinscher. I think it was a cruel act by the policeman to shoot the dog.

The dog was only doing what he thought was best, protecting his home and his master's home from what he thought was a burglar. How did the boy go up to the house to deliver the paper? Did he run up to the house? Did he walk up to the house? If the boy ran up to the house the dog could mistake him for a burglar, and would therefore want to attack.

Was there some other way the dog could have been put under restraint? Did the officer really feel the dog was a terrible threat and should be shot?

This is why I think that all policemen should be taught animal restraint techniques. That would keep the animal alive until all the facts against it are in. Then the police could figure out what to do with the animal. We should try to save all the animals in all the Grosse Pointe area.

In these terribly depressing times of economic uncertainty and human frustrations caused by unemployment and escalating prices, I find it surprising, refreshing and most of all humanistic to read of a pay increase refusal.

Perhaps not. But it is true that the phrase was not part of the original draft of the speech. Instead, the original phrasing was a pedestrian, "a date which will live in world history," and the substitute, "infamy," was pencilled in by the president himself.

That is just one of the sidelights of Roosevelt's long reign that appears in "FDR, a Centenary Remembrance," by Joseph Alsop, a book that is one of the special publishing, television and other events marking the 32nd president's 100th birthday and the 50th anniversary of his first successful campaign for the presidency.

ALSOP WROTE the book and others compiled the collection of more than 200 picturessome of them previously unpublished photographs from the Hyde Park archives-that provide a once-over-lightly of FDR's career. Alsop writes from an unusual vantage point. He was a Washington reporter for the New York Herald Tribune during most of the Roosevelt presidency, starting out by covering the U.S. Senate in 1935. And, equally important, he writes as a distant relative of the president himself, although his connections appear to have been closer to the Theodore Roosevelt (Republican) branch of the family.

Those circumstances give him, at any rate, an opportunity to see and view FDR and his family in a way that was not usual, even for Washington correspondents. In addition, Alsop had also followed Roosevelt to both Groton and Harvard and thus had an understanding of the future president's background and educational experience that was shared by few other writers.

As might be expected, it is a friendly and admiring assessment. Among FDR's most important achievements, in Alsop's view, was persuad-

As to FDR's central achievement on the home front, Alsop contends that the 32nd president "included the excluded." He writes that the America that Roosevelt was born into in 1882, and even the America of 1932, "was an entirely White Anglo-Saxon Protestant nation by any practical test." History, culture, the economy, politics-all were WASP dominated and controlled the New Deal when FDR took office, in Alsop's view. And so, he contends, "To Roosevelt, therefore about 40 percent of all Americans now owe the fact that they have become undoubted "citizens with a full share."

This achievement, in the writer's view, "prepared the way for the long effort, still happily in progress, to give a full share to those who none the less remain partly excluded." And thus "He gave tens of millions their full and rightful share at last" seems to Alsop "an honorable epitaph" for FDR even though he did not finish the job.

Alsop's emphasis on the point that FDR ended the WASP domination of this country helps explain, of course, why many of the rich and influential regarded FDR as a traitor to his class. It also offers additional evidence why the poor, still downtrodden and otherwise "excluded" revere FDR's memory. Alsop himself accepts this view, even though he himself is a WASP

Cthers have their own opinions of Roosevelt's contributions, especially on the home front. But Alsop's views are worth reading, especially by those who lived through those days, because they provide one version of what the world was like at home and abroad before the "age of Roosevelt" and how much it has changed for the better and, unfortunately, for the worse as well in the last half century.

To the Editor:

I am responding to your article, "Time to end the New Deal?" in the Feb. 4 issue. Thank you for deeming the subscribers of the Grosse Pointe News educated enough to form their own opinions from the thought-provoking questions presented in your editorial.

I am very much in favor of ending the New Deal, Returning these New Deal programs to the states will not only cut out the inefficient red-tape of the Federal government but will also give tighter control of these programs to the people themselves. On the national level, the services offered by these programs cannot be molded to meet the needs of different areas, which the states could do very easily. This is a necessary step in keeping the American government in control of the people, and in this matter President Reagan has my total support.

From Another Pointe Of View By Janet Mueller

Those marvelous musical Leons are at it again. Last year Stephanie, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Leon, of Ridgemont Road, took first place in the first Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival Piano Competition. Now Kelly, a junior at Grosse Pointe South High School, one of 12 outstanding young violinists selected nationally to compete in the finals of the Seventeen Magazine and General Motors National Concerto Com-petition, is off to Rochester, N.Y., where, at the University of Rochester's Eastman School of Music. she'll be showing her stuff.

This is the only national music competition specifically for high school srtists. It is open to young men and womenin grades nine through 12 who are United States citizens, studying with a music instructor, at the time of the fi-nals, in the three instrumental categories of piano, violin and flute.

Several hundred young musicians from across the country entered the competition, submitting audition tapes in November. They were judged by professional musicians, in blind tape auditions. A dozen finalists were selected in each category and awarded all-expense paid trips to the finals, which open tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 26, and will run through Monday, March 1.

From the 12 competitors in each category, one first place winner will be awarded a $5,000 music scholarship. donated by General Motors. One grand prize winner may also be selected from among the three categorical first prize winners, and awarded the opportunity to perform as a guest artist with the Philadelphia Orchestra, under the direction of Riccardo Muti, at a subscription concert during the orchestra's 1982-83 season.

A Bit about Kelly Herself

Kelly Leon may only be 16 years old, but already she's a veteran musician. She's been a member of the Grosse Pointe Symphony, and soloed with them last year. She's performed with the Detroit Civic Orchestra, both as a soloist and as a member of the string section, and is currently first chair in South High's orchestra. She also plays the flute and piccolo in South High's symphonic band.

"I think I was two years old — maybe two-and-a-half — when I first started studying violin," Kelly recalls. "My mother was already driving my oldest sister and brother to music lessons, and she'd just take me along

Pfeiffer-Queen rites are read

In the gown her mother wore 26 years ago, in the church in which her mother and father were married, Kristin Elizabeth Queen spoke her own marriage vows to Ned Curtis Pfeiffer. The gown, Princess style, was fashioned with a V-neck and cap sleeves of Schiffli-embroidered tulle. Tiny flowers covered the bodice and front panel. At the back, five tiers of the embroidered tulle extended into a chapel length train.

A circlet of pink Sweetheart roses and baby's-breath, matching the flowers in her bouquet, caught a fingertip veil at the back of the bride's head. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Queen, of West Emory Court. Mr. and Mrs. Harley Pfeiffer, of Spring Lake, are the bridegroom's parents.

Dr. Ray Kiely officiated at the 6 o'clock ceremony Saturday, October 3, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. A reception followed at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. The newlyweds vacationed in northern Michigan before traveling to Texas. They are at home in Houston, where the bridegroom is a financial analyst with Southern National Bank and the bride has a teaching position.

has a teaching position. Honor maid Karen Queen, of Houston, and bridesmaids Sandra Rudert, of Lansing, the bride's former Michigan State University roommate, and Cheryl Hamilton, of Houston, Diana Maxey Gestow, of Evanston, Ill., and Patricia Blazer Kloka, of Mount Clemens, all former Grosse Pointe North High School classmates of the bride, carried nosegays of pink miniature carnations, burgundy Sweetheart roses and baby's-breath.

Diagonal capelets covered the spaghetti-strapped bodices of their long gowns of burgundy georgette, styled with diagonally layered skirts. Each wore a single burgundy silk rose, with baby's-breath, in her hair. Mark Baeverstad, of Fort Wayne, Ind., was best man for his former Hope College roommate. Ushering were Dr. Paul DeWeese, of Grand

Slate string competition for state's talented young artists at Orchestra Hall

The first biannual Competition for String Instruments sponsored by the Junior League of Detroit in cooperation with the Friends for Orchestra Hall will bring 21 Michigan artists between the ages of 16 and 26 to acoustically perfect Orchestra Hall early next month.

Preliminary auditions, which are closed to the public, will be held Monday and Tuesday, March 8 and 9. Final auditions are scheduled for Wednesday, March 10, at 8 p.m. at Orchestra Hall, and the public is invited to attend them and to stay on for a post-performance reception. There is no admission charge

The winner of the competition will be awarded $2,000 and a recital appearance at Orchestra Hall during the 1382-85 season. In addition, a special award of $500 will be given, at the discretion of the judges, to a musician showing special potential.

Judges for this inaugural String Competition are Byron Hanson, conductor, Interlochen Arts Academy, a world renowned chamber music pianist; Samuel Mayes, internationally known cello virtuoso, recently retired, University of Michigan School of Music; Andrew Raeburn, artistic administrator, Detroit Symphony Orchestra, past-chairman of the Rockefeller American Music Competition; Isador Sasiov, internationally known concert artist, past concertmaster, Baltimore Symphony Orchestra; and Gordon Staples, violin virtuoso and concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The repertoire which the entrants, some of whom are currently performing with nationally known orchestras, must be prepared to perform includes Baroque, Romantic, Classical, Contemporary and 20th Century works chosen for the violin, viola, cello and bass.

This year's competition is for strings only, but plans call for it to be followed every two years by competitions for different instrumental categories.

The String Competition at Orchestra Hall is part of the free Daytime Performance Series that was begun as a project of the Junior League of Detroit. The League has designated $52,000 to this series, which enables senior citizens, handicapped persons and school-aged children to experience fine cultural events in Orchestra Hall, built in 1919 under the direction of the great pianist and conductor Ossip Gabrilowitsch, saved from destruction in 1970 by a group of concerned musicians, architects and music lovers to once again become the nome of great music

The Daytime Performance Series, now in its second season, has brought approximately 14,000 people to 14 performances. The 15th, this morning. Thursday, Feb. 25, at 10:30 a.m., is a special Afro-American History Month concert featuring four outstanding black vocalists with a wide range of musical training and experience.

The Voices of Rank, returning to their hometown, Detroit, are Marion Ewing Wright, soprano, Delores Ivory-Davis, mezzo-soprano, Michael Hendricks, tenor, and Conwell Carrington, bass. Their program, scheduled to last approximately one hour, includes a wide variety of vocal offerings, from hymns and spirituals to operatic arias and musical drama

Those attending should plan to arrive 30 minutes prior to the concert, to facilitate seating. Further information may be obtained and reservations made by calling Orchestra Hall, 833-3702.

Debut at DSO for Ferencsik

Janos Ferencsik, music director of the Hungarian State Opera, makes his Detroit Symphony Orchestra conducting debut in 8:30 p.m. concerts at Ford Auditorium tonight, Thursday, Feb. 25, and Saturday, Feb. 27. He will be joined by Hungarian born violinist Gyorgy Pauk, also making his DSO debut.

The program includes the Overture to Weber's opera "Der Freischutz." Dvorak's Violin Concerto in A minor Op. 53. Kodaly's "Variations on a Hungarian Folksong" (The Peacock) and Liszt's symphonic poem "Les Preludes."

Tickets, ranging in price from \$7 to \$12.50, may be purchased at the Ford Auditorium box office. VISA and MasterCard customers can order them by telephone $\langle 962-5524 \rangle$. In addition, a limited number of \$4 tickets will be available at the door starting at 7:30 p.m. on each concert night.

Ferencsik, born in Budapest in 1907 and educated at the National Music Conservatory, has twice been honored with the Kossuth Prize: Hungary's highest state decoration. He was awarded an honorary doctorate by Chicago Conservatory College on the occasion of his 70th birthday. He served from 1957 until his resignation in 1974 as general music director and chief conductor of the Hungarian State Opera, returning again in 1979 to con-duct special gala performances such as Mozart's "Magic Flute" in 1980. He conducts yearly at the Vienna State Opera House. He made his American debut in 1962 with the San Francisco Opera, and conducted the Los Angeles Philharmonic during the same period. Pauk, now a British citizen, was the youngest pupil of Professor Zathureczki, Weiner and Kodaly at Budapest's Liszt Ferenc Academy. He toured Eastern Europe while still a student. He won three major international competitions: the Paganini in Genoa in 1956, the Munich Sonata Competition in 1957 and the M. Long-Jaques Thibaud in Paris in 1959. He settled in London in 1961, and made his orchestral and recital debuts there that same year. He has given several performances of 20th century works with Pierre Boulez and the BBC Symphony.

Russell-Keith vows are said

Grosse Pointe Baptist Church was the setting Saturday, December 5, for the wedding of Marcia Rene Keith, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Donald J. Keith, of Bournemouth Road, and Ed-ward J. Russell III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Russell Jr., of Fairford Road

The Reverend William O. Taft officiated at the 11 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a noon reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

The bride chose a gown of crisp white taffeta for the late morning rites A pleated ruffle of matching fabric formed her stand-up collar. Matching ruffles edged her wrists and the hem of her chapel length train, and a wide satin ribbon circled her waist

A matching bow held a pour of bri-dal illusion to the back of her hair, with ribbon streamers falling to the hem of her floor length veil She carried an arrangement of deep red and white silk roses, greens and baby's breath She was attended by her only sister,

Janice M. Keith, as maid of honor, and by bridesmaids Mariann Russell Graves, the bridegroom's sister, Karen S. Marshall, of Lansing, and Susan D. Babcock, of Traverse City. Karen and Susan have been friends of the bride since second grade

Pleated ruffles edged the high necklines of their white silk blouses. Their tea length skirts were fashioned of softly pleated, cranberry moire. Their bouquets were clusters of assorted silk flowers in shades of red, cranberry and white

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Russell III

The bride was preceded down the aisle by three-year-old Marla Middleton Cummings, in an ankle length frock of cranberry moire. She carried cranberry and white silk flowers in the same basket the bride had carried 18 years before at her uncle's wedding. Best man was Earl D. Black Groomsmen were I. Scott Graves, of Grand Rapids, David H. Barron, of South Carolina and Washington, D.C., and James D. Brewer.

The mother of the bride wore pearl grey georgette. The bridegroom's mother selected beige chiffon. Their flowers were silk roses

They newlyweds are at home in Grosse Pointe Woods after a vacation in Florida and St. Thomas.

Fall wedding date is made

Recommend extra premarital testing

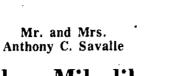

If you're in the doctor's office for a the probability of passing the trait on remarital examination, don't be sur- to their children. premarital examination, don't be surprised if your physician asks you to take one or two additional precautionary tests.

The Michigan State Medical Society is encouraging its member physicians to screen premarital exam patients for sickle cell trait and or rubella While the tests are not mandatory, the information gained may be very impor-tant to couples who wish to bear children

Many black men and women may not have been previously tested to determine if they are carriers of sickle cell trait By consenting to this test, black couples will be alerted if they are carriers and may be counseled on

The second test will determine whether the measles a woman may have had as a child were rubella. Females who are not protected from rubella should be immunized as a precaution in the event they become pregnant. A simple immunization may spare a child from deafness and or other physical disabilities that may occur when pregnant women are exposed to rubella.

Doctors note the tests can be conducted with blood samples drawn at the same time as the state required sample needed to obtain a marriage license

Debra Mihalik wed in Pointe

Monsignor Francis X. Canfield officiated at the ceremony in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore at which Debra Lynne Anne Mihalık, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mihalik, of Hollywood Avenue, and Anthony Charles Savalle, son of the Anthony Savalles, of Roseville, exchanged marriage vows.

The 4:30 o'clock rites Friday, June 5, were followed by a reception at the Gourmet House. The newlyweds vacationed in Lauderdale-by-the-Sea, Fla. They are making their home in St. Clair Shores.

The bride wore a gown of Alencon lace, silk and pearls, made by Betty Amara, and a traditional veil, and carried a bouquet of roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath. Honor maid Karla M. Krager, in a dress of strawberry chiffon and silk, and bridesmaids Pamela Mihalik, Carin Zeunen, Laura Benson, Susan Ciesliga, Carin Mirch, Nancy Savalle, Debra Brown, of Houston, Tex., and Katrina Novak, in three-quarter length dresses of ice pink chiffon and slik, coardid arrangements of roses (Sarna) carried arrangements of roses, carna-tions and baby's-breath.

Best man was Albert Barbera. Guests were seated by Mark Savalle. who makes his home in California, Joel Savalle, Dale Savalle, Kevin Conti, Steven Savalle, Jack Cammaretta, Carmen Raciti and Dean Raciti.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of off-white lace, with pearls. The bridegroom's mother chose blue chiffon, with a beaded bodice. Both mothers selected double cymbidium orchid corsages.

decided to enroll me and my sister Suzanne, who is four years older than I am, in Suzuki classes, too." The Suzuki program, Kelly explains, is a special system of teaching violin to very young children. "I really don't remember much about those first few years of classes. I only took lessons for about seven minutes at a time. because that was the extent of my concentration."

She doesn't remember much about playing for Suzuki himself, either, when he came to Flint to conduct a workshop. She was, after all, only two — but she performed well, despite the fact that her mother had to lift her on stage. Kelly couldn't quite manage the three steps up from the auditorium floor by herself.

Lately, Kelly admits, her practice and study schedule has gotten considerably more intense. She is presently studying with two violin instructors, Derek Francis, of the Detroit Symphony, and Boro Martinic-Jancik, an in-structor at the University of Michigan.

"I also play the flute and piccolo, but I don't take it as seriously as the violin," Kelly says. "Right now, I don't have time to take private lessons for flute, but I've been playing around with it since the fifth grade. I wan-ted to take an instrument in school, when everyone else was just learning, but I didn't want to go back and go through all the basics on violin again. I had to pick another instrument or be left out of the fun, so I started studying flute." studying flute."

Planning for the Huture

Flute and piccolo are Kelly's musical diversions. She enjoys them both, but she doesn't know if she'll keep them up once she goes on to college. She does, however, DEFINITELY plan a career in music. "I'd love to be able to solo with different orchestras. I know there are just so many good soloists, I know it's not an easy thing to do - but I'm sure going to try!'

After she graduates next year from South High, Kelly hopes to attend a music conservatory or major in music at a university. "I'd like to try out at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, Indiana University... and while I'm at Eastman for this competition, I really want to look around at their program.'

Eastman may be a new experience for Kelly. Participating in music competitions isn't. She won a Grosse Pointe Symphony-sponsored competition last year and was a state winner in the Stillman-Kelly National Music Competition. She's won awards at several summer music camps, incuding Interlochen here in Michigan, Red Fox in Massachusetts and the Meadowmount School of Music in upstate New York.

She's a teacher as well as a performer. "I've been teaching violin since I was in the seventh grade. This year, I only have about four or five students. Last year, when I had a little more time, I had about 10 or 12 students. Teaching is something I really enjoy — and something that helps me with my own playing: a lot of what I do as a teacher is to help the students correct bad habits, so, while I'm telling them to watch out for this and that, I'm reminding myself to work on my own problems."

And teaching has other advantages. It was one of Kelly's students who told her about the National Concerto Competition and convinced her to enter. She's one of only two finalists selected from the state of Michigan, the only Michigan student in the violin category.

Credit Where It's Due

Kelly credits much of her success in music to her parents and family. "My parents have always been very supportive and encouraging. As a result, my brother and both sisters all play music very seriously. My sister Suzanne has really been my most important inspiration. Since she's four years older than I am, and also plays the violin, she's always seemed to be playing a concerto that I wanted to play as well as she did. Just trying to keep up with her has been a great way to keep me practicing!"

In the National Concerto Competition, Kelly will perform a Bach partita, a Beethoven sonata and a sonata by Charles Ives. Judges in the violin category will be Eudice Shapiro and Charles Treger, concert violinists, and Franz Bibo, conductor and music program director of the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts.

clinging, terrified, hysterical child. She cried and fought and refused to go outside to play. She wouldn't let her parents out of her sight for a minute. She would throw a tantrum when it was time for school, and would scream uncontrollably when left.

Her parents were frightened and shocked They were at a loss to understand what had caused the sudden change in their child Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter, calls this phenomenon "separation anxiety." It is a fairly common stage among chil-dren in preschool years and often marks the child's first separation from home and parents.

Separation anxiety is a very natural response for a child, but one that is not easy to cope with. The child is ex-periencing her own shortcomings for the first time. She recognizes her own dependence on her parents. She is test-ing herself, trying on her dependence-independence for size. And she is testing her parents as well. Sometimes the change can be re-lated to a parent's illness that requires sion and permissiveness to firm action must be accompanied by careful explanation on the preceding day or weekend. The child should be gently but firmly told that she is too young to make a decision about going to school; that mom and dad decide when she goes to bed, what she eats, where she plays ..., and that they have decided that she will go to school Tell her that you know she will enjoy being with other children, that you are sorry she isn't happy about it, but the decision has been made. her. Although she may fight against the new situation for a short time, she will feel secure in the knowledge that her parents care enough to make grown-up decisions on her behalf. Her world will no longer be a scary place with no protective boundaries to keep her safe. It will be an orderly world in which, by making small decisions first, she can grow up learning how to make more important ones. The Growing Child newsletter fol-lows a child's development monthby-month. Church women hold meetings

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational and American Baptist Church held group meetings last Tuesday, Feb. 23, with Lydia Group convening at 10 a.m. in the Lakeland Avenue home of Mrs. Paul Butterfield, who was assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Frank Standish and Mrs. Paul Blackburn. Each member was asked to bring "one thing she cannot do without.

Mary Group members met at 11 a.m in the Audubon Road home of Mrs. Bernice Bates, where luncheon was served by co-hostesses Mrs. George Helm, Mrs. Ervin Meyers and Mrs. Benjamin Prescott and Mrs. Robert Choate was in charge of the program

Also meeting at 11 a m. were Naomi and Sarah Groups. The former group, under co-hostesses Mrs Mark Loush and Mrs Alfred Tapert, brought brown bag lunches to the church, where they worked on nems for next fall's Christmas Mart.

Sarah Group worked on cancer pads, in the church's Friendly Service Room. Soup was served (each member had been advised to bring her own mug). Co-hostesses were Mrs. William Reid and Mrs. Joseph Dingman.

Cranbrook House tour set Sunday

Cranbrook House, the 1908 home of George and Ellen Scripps Booth, will be open for a public tour this Sunday. Feb. 28, from 2 to 4 p.m., after a three month hiatus. Admission is $1.50 for adults. $1 for students and senior citizens. Guides will be available to answer questions relating to the Albert Kahn-designed manor and its treasures, which include Chinese figurines. Gothic tapestries. Italian and French paintings, antique clocks, religious icons and Oriental rugs.

The house reflects an era when ele-gance mixed easily with comfort and close attention was paid to every artistic detail. Old World craftsmanship at its best can be noted in hand-carved furnishings, linenfold paneling and stained and leaded glass windows. Even most of the books in the extensive library are handbound.

Information on the tour may be ob-tained by calling 645-3152. Cranbrook House is part of Cranbrook Educational Community, located on Lone Pine Road in Bloomfield Hills, which also includes Cranbrook Institute of Science. Cranbrook Academy of Art and the Cranbrook Schools.

Colony Town Club plans party ...

Experience has taught the members of Colony Town Club that the most effective antidote for midwinter boredom is to get together and do something: preferably fun, preferably for the benefit of others. Both ends will be met next Tuesday, March 2, via a cocktail and dinner party benefit for the maintenance of the Cancer Loan Closet, established by Colony Town Club in 1947. The ladies have invited their husbands and some friends to Federal Savings and Loan Association Building on Mack Avenue at Blossom Lane. MRS. EDWIN SECORD (standing, left), is chairman of the party. MRS. HARVEY GROEHN (standing, right), the club's second vice-president, chairman of social af-fairs, promises musical entertainment. Seated (left to right) are MRS. OSWALD ZEIDLER, the club's current president, MRS. BICHARD PARKS, party cochairman and MRS. ALERED RICHARD PARKS, party co-chairman, and MRS. ALFRED MASSNICK, in charge-of publicity. The Mesdames Secord and Parks co-chair the club's project committee, which is responsi-ble for all fund raisers. Mrs. Zeidler will serve as official hostess for next week's cocktail/dinner.

The Michigan Weavers' Guild Exhibit and Sale, featuring handwoven items including fine art objects and functional articles such as baskets. rugs, pillows, blankets and throws of all sizes, will be held Thursday through Sunday, March 4, 5, 6 and 7, at Somerset Mall during regular mall hours: 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Highlights of the show will, as al-ways, be one-of-a-kind clothing and jewelry pieces. There will be demonstrations of various fiber techniques, with emphasis on spinning and weav-ing, and visitors may try their hands at the loom or wheel. Handspun yarns will be available. Guild artists will be on hand to answer questions regarding techniques, fibers, material sources, educational opportunities and guild membership. There is no admission

Pair exhibit at Pewabic

An exhibition of recent works by Michigan ceramists Carolyn Dulin and Ray Katz is on display now through March 14, from noon to 4:30 p.m. daily (including Sundays), in the gallery of Pewabic Pottery, located on East Jefferson Avenue across from Detroit's Waterworks Park. Admission and parking are free.

Dulin, who works in porcelain, retains the soft quality of the white clay through form, surface treatment and glaze coloration. Her slab-built vessel forms are incised and combined with "thrown" cylinders to enhance the surface. Her soft colors are achieved through the use of colored clays and air-brushed glazes, integrating surface and form

Katz produces grid constructions, reminiscent of white picket fence variations. His low-fired, white-on-white sculptures are often formed in circular designs. He also incorporates the grid motif in plates.

Dulin, who lives in Rochester, holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Ohio Wesleyan University and a Mas-ter of Fine Arts degree from Cran-brook Academy of Art. Pontiac-based Katz, an instructor in Sculpture and Ceramics at the Auburn Heights campus of Oakland University, holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Eastern Michigan University and a Master of Fine Arts degree from Wayne State University Pewabic Pottery, the 75-year-old, nationally renowned ceramics learning center, museum and gallery, was recently transferred to the non-profit Pewabic Society, Inc., from Michigan State University, which had to divest itself of the Defroit facility because of cutbacks in state funding Pewabic was founded in 1907 by Mary. Chase Perry Stratton and Horace Caulkins. The pottery achieved worldwide fame for the iridescent glazes of its handcrafted pottery and architectural tiles.

'Earnest' effort at Bonstelle

"The Importance of Being Earnest," generally acknowledged as Oscar Wilde's masterpiece and one of the most brilliant comedies in the English language, opens Friday, March 12, at the Bonstelle Theatre, and will play there for two weekends: Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m. through March 21.

Tickets and information are availa-Theatre box office, 577-2960, and at most Detroit area colleges and univer-sities. Group rates are available.

Wilde's farce, subtitled "a trivial comedy for serious people," has been described as "an Alice in Wonderland drawing room comedy." The plot re-volves around a pair of Victorian dan-dies, Jack (Mark Corkins) and Alger-non (Robert E. Lambert), and the double lives they lead in their pursuit of morrigen of marriage.

Take the calls for Channel 56

Volunteers are needed in the Channel 56 studios to answer telephones during March 6 to 21 "Festival Nights:" the public television station's public awareness and fund raising campaign. Individuals and groups, including block clubs, community and civic organizations, are invited to contact Carolyn Meldrum. Channel 56 volunteer coordinator, at 873-7200, Ex-tension 201, for further information Days and times are flexible

Also in the cast are Jeanne Dingeman as Cecily, Ann Klautsch as Gwendolen and Sheri Nichols as Lady Bracknell The production is directed by Robert Emmett McGill, with cos-tumes by K. L. Alberts, settings by David Kuykendall and lighting by Joseph P. Grigaitis.

Wilde, born in Ireland in 1854, died in Paris 46 years later, after a life fil-led with fame and scandal. He is credited today with the revival of the comedy tradition of Congreve and Sheridan. Among his greatest successes are the plays "Lady Windemere's Fan," "A Woman of No Importance" and "An Ideal Husband," and the and "An ideal Ausband," and the novel "The Picture of Dorian Gray." About "The Importance of Being Earnest," his last and greatest play, Wilde noted that its first act is "ingenious," the second "beautiful" and the third "abominably clever."

By Peggy O'Connor

"Born of the urban violence in Detroit in 1967, the Inter-Faith Center is a non-profit organization which promotes racial understanding, confronts and challenges all prejudice and works toward equal opportunity for all, regardless of race, religion, sex or ethnic background.'

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice uses these words to describe itself, but the Inter-Faith Center is, at its root, a group of concerned individuals and organizations dedicated to working for a better life for all.

Katie Elsila is one of these concerned individuals. She shares the director's job at the Inter-Faith Center with Gail Urso. The two women divide the frustrations and difficulties of such a job. . . and share the triumps and rewards that working for meaningful change has to offer.

Community concern and in-volvement is nothing new to Katie. She and her husband David were active in the Civil Rights and Anti-War movements during their 10-year residence in Washington. D.C., where they moved after meeting while each taught junior high school in Livonia. Katie is a native Detroiter and an alumna of Mumford High School and the University of Michigan.

The Elsilas and their children, Mikael, 9, and twins Jamie and Kari, 7, moved from Washington to The Pointe five years ago. It was about that time that Katie began her involvement with the Inter-Faith Center. 'I WAS FLIPPING through the 'Little Blue Book' looking for preschools when I saw the Inter-Faith Center. I was interested in some volunteer work. I called and Gail Wingarde (who directed the Inter-Faith Center at that time) talked me into coming over I've been involved ever since," Katie savs She started at the Inter-Faith Center as a volunteer. That was enough for a while, until the program coordinator's position opened up a year-and-a-half ago. Katie and Gail Urso applied for the position on a job-sharing basis. They got the job and were program coordinators for six months, until executive director Ed Egnatios moved on to another job last year. Katie and Gail got the co-director's job; with the job-sharing plan each works about 30 hours per week. So far, things have been working out great. "We make a good team." Katie says. "The job-sharing helped. I could never have done her job.' Gail Urso works with the volunteer representatives and coordinates special events and fund raising efforts. Katie is responsible for the Inter-Faith Center's newsletter, public relations and the Third Thursday Forums. As things turned out, the job-sharing not only divided jobs, it divided talents. "Gail has strong administrative skills and I was more interested in writing. I've learned a great deal from working with Gail ... she's got good skills in matching people with the right job. Katie has probably had to use every bit of what she has learned in her role at the Inter-Faith Center, because she is, most of the time, a very busy lady. Basically, we carry out the decisions and policies the board decides on. We are responsible for the daily organization and operation of this office ... and since this is a volunteer group, that organization is very important.' IN ADDITION TO her writing work, Katie represents the Inter-Faith Center at meetings and speaking engagements and serves as liaison to its special task forces

'The Inter-Faith Center's role involves education ... we are a resource center and people look to us for support. We are also trying to educate the community at large, to work with the schools and the police departments in a positive way. We want to make this the kind of community where everyone feels comfortable and welcome . . . where they feel they will be treated with dignity, Katie says.

The Inter-Faith Center's task forces are a very important part of that effort to educate. Katie says that the Education Task Force participated in an evaluation of textbooks used locally and was able to make a contribution in deciding what kinds of texts are used in area schools.

"And we've recently begun to work with the police force ... one of our task forces met with the chiefs of the five Pointe communities in an effort to maintain amicable police-community relationships.

"We try to work in a positive vein and according to our three main themes; that the future of the Grosse Pointe area and the future of Detroit are linked together: that racial, religious and ethnic diversity enriches the quality of life in our community; and that our children must be prepared to live in a multi-racial, multi-cultural world." Katie says. "We hope we've made progress. It is difficult to gauge whether the Inter-Faith Center has made their support ... to the children real progress. Katie says because

MUSHROOM CONSOMME

3/4 lb. mushrooms

6 cups beef consomme

Chop-the mushrooms coarsely. Simmer them in the hot consomme for about 15 minutes. Strain if you like. We prefer to serve with the mushroom pieces in the broth, with 1 Tbsp. of sherry in each cup. Makes 6 servings.

WHEAT GERM CRACKERS

1¹/₂ cups unbleached flour 34 cup toasted wheat germ 1/2 tsp. baking powder ⅓ tsp. salt 2 Tbsp. corn oil cup buttermilk

1 Tbsp. sesame seeds

Preheat oven to 350*. Mix flour, wheat germ, baking powder and sait. Stir together the oil and buttermilk. Mix thoroughly with the flour mixture.

Place the dough on lightly olled 12x18inch baking sheet and press with your fingers until it is very, very thin -- about is inch in thickness or thinner. The crackers' snappiness and crispness de-pends on the thinness of the dough. Use another cookie sheet if necessary. Sprinkle sesame seeds evenly over the crackers; press into dough with hand or rolling pin. Score dough with a knife into 2x3-inch rectangles. Prick tops with tines of a fork. Bake 10 minutes or until golden brown. Cool on wire rack. Makes about 3 dozen. Store in airtight tin can to retain freshness.

Calories about 31 per cracker. Cholesterol 9.

She adds that people sometimes let the Inter-Faith Center know they're glad it exists, but sometimes things happen that make Katie and other supporters wonder about how much they have progressed.

"A MAN CALLED recently to ask what type of community Grosse Pointe was. He was thinking of moving his family here and wanted his kids to grow up in a multi-ethnic community. It was kind of strange ... you'd think in 1982 you wouldn't have to ask that," Katie says.

But Katie says she is refreshed rather than frustrated by her work — and that is due mainly to the Inter-Faith Center's staff and volunteers. "There's a lot of energy around the Center . . . a lot of dedicated volunteers. It feels like we're working toward goals we believe in. I don't feel frustrated

"In the past few years it seems as if there's been a surge of energy with these new people . we've sort of orchestrated a lot of people's talents and we're using what everybody has to offer.

And Katie says she feels most encouraged by the community support the Inter-Faith Center enjoys. The Inter-Faith Center is run on a very low budget with no funding other than that from individual support and two major annual fund raisers - the Holly Mart. conducted in 1981 for the seventh annual year, and the new Auction Unlimited, which had its very successful debut last year

MITE DIVISION

The Canadiens wrapped up the second half championship to sweep the Mite house division this year. Up to the final night's last two games, any one of five teams could have taken first place. The powerful Canadiens solidly defeated the Flyers and the Rangers overtook the Storks to give those teams the first two places. The Maple Leafs and Red Wings ended in a tie for third. The Seals, Flyers and Storks round out the standings.

The Mite division round robin playoffs began last weekend as the teams are vying for the top two spots in each of two flights of teams. The winner of each flight will play the runner-up of the other flight in the semi-finals, with the winners facing each other in the championship game at GPCR on Saturday, March 13. The losers in the semi-finals will play a consolation game before the championship.

Flight A includes the Canadiens, Rangers and Flyers and Flight B has the Seals, Red Wings, Maple Leafs and Storks battling for playoff spots. Red Wings-Seals

Jay Berger's first period goal was all the Red Wings needed to shut out the seals, 1-0, in a fast paced game that featured fine defensive play by both teams. Peter Antonenko fended off numerous attacks on his net by the Seals to notch a shutout.

Canadiens-Flyers

Emillano Lorenzini bagged two goals and Bart Kocik, Hari Rao and Scott Van Elslander each contributed a goal to control the first two periods of this 5.2 Canadien win. DeSeranno and Hartingh scored for the Flyers in the third period, but it was not enough to overcome the strong Canadiens defense.

Rangers-Storks The Storks opened up the scoring in the second period with goals from Tom Rajt and Brad Warezak, but the Rangers retaliated with four straight goals to win, 4-2.

Ranger goals came from David Auld, Peter Bourke, Brian Quinn and Matt Moroun. The strong finish brought the Rangers to a runner up trophy for the second half. Maple Leafs-Red Wings

The Leafs opened the playoffs with three straight goals after the Wings took the lead on a goal from Robbie the top two teams in the overall season continued as the Canadiens and Seals tied 2-2. Emiliano Lorenzini opened the scoring in the second period and T.R. Youngblood countered for the Seals with one second left on the clock at the end of that period. Mike Klobuchar put the Seals ahead on a perfect pass from Louie Tallerico, but Colin Fitzsimon tied it up for the Canadiens.

Rangers-Flyers

Stephen Tucker's two goals made the difference for the Rangers as they topped the Flyers 3-1 in their first playoff game. Matt Moroun added an empty net goal as the Flyers pulled goalie Billy O'Keefe to put an additional skater on the ice to try to even the score. The Flyer goal came from Michael Owens early in the first period. Stefan Teitge defended the nets for the Rangers and held the Flyers back for two periods. Rangers-Storks

The Rangers romped to their sec-ond playoff victory, beating the Storks 5.2. Pete Morgan opened the scoring followed by another goal by Peter Bourke. Richle Harder brought the Storks back into the game with a second period tally, but Stephen Tucker, Brian Quinn and John Ferguson added goals for the Rangers. Brad Warezak came back with one more goal for the Storks.

Seals-Red Wings

Louie Tallerico put the Seals out in front in the dying minutes of the first period and the 1-0 score held until late in the third period when Peter Bogos tied it up for the Red Wings. Less than a minute later the Seals first line rushed the Wings' net and Jeff Osborne took a pass from Greg Semack and Mike Klobuchar and stuffed in the game winner in this 2-1 contest. The game saw two hard skating teams move the puck up and down the ice only to be thwarted by outstanding defensive plays. Flyers-Canadiens

Marcel Chagnon took a pass that came from a play created by Patrick Alle and Matt Smith to score the only goal of the game in a 1-0 Flyer victory. The Flyers, in a daring strategic play, had first time goalie Don DeSeranno abandon his net to help his teammates in their defensive zone throughout the game. Two Canadiens shots hit the posts but the bounces didn't go their way.

The road to Houghton is paved with...cereal?

By Peggy O'Connor

Question: What has 28 legs, 14 mouths, a voracious appetite for Rice Chex cereal and plays hockey very, very well? Answer: The Grosse Pointe Whalers, the Grosse Pointe Hockey Associa-tion's Squirt B representative to the state championship playoffs in Houghton in March,

Okay, one might ask, the legs, mouths and hockey talent are obvious . . . but where do the Rice Chex fit in? It's simple. While most teams check their way to the playoffs, the Whalers will "Chex" their way to the state championship in faraway Houghton. Many of the 14 team members on the Whaler squad have never been that far away from home, not to mention get into the championship. We'd had a great year . . . we've won 14 in a row." Winning was the easy part. Getting the 14 players, 20 chaperones and assorted others to Houghton on an almost non-existent budget was going to be the real trick.

"One of the mothers heard about this great offer, that Republic Air-lines and Ralston-Purina would fly children aged 2 to 16 to any one of 200 cities free, with just five proof of purchase seals per child. Then the offer appeared on one of the boxes. It seemed like a good idea since the team will be in Houghton for four days, plus there'll be rooms to rent and a bus to rent and keep on call to transport the boys to play in two arenas," Gloria said.

With the means of getting there decided, manager Gloria had to do the dirty work: rustle up 90 boxes

'I had to go to the manager to ask if it was okay, because the Detroit News had come along and wanted to take my picture. The manager called Farmer Jack's public relations department and they said it was all right.

"I took every box off the shelvesthey even had to open up a check out line just for me. People in the store were laughing and asking me what this was all about."

By now, the Whalers and their families know what it's all about . . . it's about eating five boxes of Chex per family to help send a kid to the championships. Gloria doled out the cereal to the players and their families last week. And despite the prospect of eating cereal for every meal for a long time, (even the most ardent cereal lover would have to admit that 90 boxes is a lot of Chex) fund raisers," Gloria said.

After a couple of weeks of serious cereal-consuming, the Whalers will take off on March 11 for Houghton. The round-robin tournament runs March 12 through 14 and is a threegame elimination series. But the Whalers don't see themselves being eliminated.

Whaler center Doug Wood credited the team's coaches, Don Grundman, Greg Nowiecki and Gary Weid, with the squad's success and said his team "will win." Jason Weid agreed and added that the Whalers are "super good." "We'll do good up there," Cecil Lepard concurred.

All the Whalers agreed upon another point-they never, never want to see cereal again. One player suggested letting the family dog share in sending the team to Houghton by making it eat a box or three. Another

Sailboat racing: the care and 'feeding' of a crew

Good help is hard to find-especially when you don't pay them, yell your orders and then severely abuse the King's English when they make a mistake. Why do hundreds of adults put up with this every week during the summer as crew members on the many sailboats racing on our lake? "It's a ball!" "Just being out there ..." "Put me on a boat, and who cares if it was a rotten day at work!" These are a few of the many reasons crewing on racing sailboats becomes an avocation for people from all walks of life.

For the skipper, finding crew is one of the toughest parts of boat racing. It need not be . . . lots of folks would love to have the opportunity but just are not asked. The crew on one 27-foot boat consists of a magazine editor, an Air National Guard pilot, a printing salesman and an automotive engineer. How do these diverse types get together? Some are acquaintances from work, others have kids on the same hockey team and one is a friend of a neighbor. They all got together because the boat's owner just asked if they wanted to try.

Good crew does not just get on the boat and make a winning combination. The skipper has to teach them how things work and what everyone's job is. It takes patience and a few tricks. Some of the helpful learning aids are things like a list of all the sails and when they are used and what color bag they are stored in. A diagram of the deck hardware and each piece's function and well labeled lines and winches helps, too. On one boat, each crew member has a numbered list of assignments for each type of maneuver printed on a small

Still confused? Whalers' team manager Gloria Nowiecki can explain everything. "We beat Fraser, 7-2, to of Ralston-Purina cereal. Gloria popped over to Farmer

Jack's on Feb. 17 and as other shoppers looked on, loaded up her carts with an assortment of Ralston-Purina's Wheat, Rice and Corn Chex.

Gloria was pleased, but not surprised at the support from the parents.

"This year we have super participation . . . 100 percent. Some years you don't even meet the parents, this year we've had bake sales and was less diplomatic in his opinion of the whole affair.

It's Western Open doubles time again

Grosse Pointers Susie Mascarin and Aaron Krickstein join a field of 40 teams of nationally ranked tennis players who will vie for a $3,000 purse at the Western Open Indoor Mixed Doubles Championship matches Wednesday, March 3 through Sunday, March 7 at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club on Cook Road. Mascarin, the United Foundation Sportswoman of the Year, is ranked 42nd in the world in women's tennis and is the U.S. Clay Court Championship 1981 semi-finalist. Her partner Aaron Krickstein is a national 14 and under junior singles champion.

The Western Championship which includes Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin, is sanctioned by the United States Tennis Association and the Western Tennis Association. Tobey Hansen, Hunt Club tennis professional, says that in these slow economic times many small tournaments have been dropped and the Western Open, with its cash purse and fine players, will provide tennis enthusiasts five days of watching championship play. This is the ninth consecutive year the Hunt Club has sponsored this event.

The 1981 winners, Jerry and Kathy Karzen, a brother and sister team from Northbrook, Ill., return to defend their title. The runner-up team from Grosse Pointe, Renee Krickstein, nationally ranked doubles player, and her partner Chuck Brainard, Lochmoor Club professional, will also rcturn.

Other local teams include Meg Mac-Mahon, South High tennis team member and her partner. Joe Shaheen of the Wimbleton Racquet Club: Doug Graham, Lochmoor Club champion and partner Isabell Owens; and Eva Lucido, ranked 21st in the 16 and under singles in the country, and partner Joe Fodell, Lakeshore-Wimbledon professional.

Food and bar service are available throughout the event, with a special buffet dinner served Saturday evening. Also on Saturday evening, March 6, Harold Bidigare, Hunt Club Tournament Director, has arranged for a fur fashion show presented by Dittrich Furs. Ginger Smith is in charge of club members who will model an outstanding array of furs for men and women. Other committee members are Barbara Bidigare, Andy and Dolores Bonior, Audrey McConachie. Frank and Shirley Piku, Carol Scripps and Bruce Vaughan.

Leading up to the weekend semifinals are three days of preliminary matches from 6 to 11 p.m. Wednesday through Friday. Ticket prices are $3 each day. Championship play is 9 a m. to 5 p.m. and 6 to 11 p.m. Saturday at S4 and S5 respectively; the semi-finals and finals will be from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday at $6, all-inclusive.

Special Youth (12 and under) tickets are $2 per day. All Event Student tickets are $5. Tickets are available individually or in All Event packages at the door or by calling 884-9090.

Neighborhood Club men begin cage tourney

After a record-setting season, the Neighborhood Club's men's basketball league has completed its regular season. Thirty-nine teams and over 400 players participated in the league this year -a Neighborhood Club record. A total of 209 games were plaved.

All teams are presently participating in the post-season double elimination tournament. Team placement in the tournament is by team ability. Each tourney will have its own champion and runner-up with each player on those teams receiving trophies Final league standings follow.

Yet another feather was placed in Bill Babcock's highly decorated baseball cap when he was presented with his All-American certificate at halftime of North High's basketball game with Lake Shore on Feb. 12. Babcock was selected as a 1981 All-American by the American Association of College Baseball Coaches.

Frank Sumbera, Babcock's baseball coach at North, spoke of Babcock's honor. "Bill Babcock was the greatest player ever to play baseball at North," Sumbera said. "I think he's so great I named my son after him (William John Sumbera).

Babcock's amazing record at North speaks for itself. He pitchen in 31 games and 185 innings while allowing only 80 hits and 23 earned runs. He walked just 82 batters and struck out 304, for an average of 11.5 strikeouts per seven innings. Babcock compiled a 26-1 career record and a microscopic 0.87 ERA.

He also earned 13 shutouts and pitcher four one-hitters and three no-hitters. Babcock was a unanimous All-Bi-County selection in 1979, 1980 and 1981. He also was the Bi-County MVP in 1980 and 1981 and was se

The Marlies: energy and excitement

Energy and excitement are the words which best describe a boy at 13 or 14. The Grosse Pointe Bantam A travel hockey club, the Marlboros, made up of 13 and 14 year olds, typifies this energy and excitement.

The Marlies have been skating as a travel team for five years, although they were initially organized as and named the Li'l Wings for the first three years. Each year the GPHA conducts tryouts in the late summer and then selects the team in early September. After 30 or so days of parctice, the team begins its league play-as well as its participation in exhibition play.

Practice continues each week during the entire season, which normally lasts until late February and includes approximately 60 games, including league, exhibition, tournament and district play. Most of the Marlies have been skating for eight years or more and have developed superior skating skills.

While many of the current team members have skated with the Marlies for several seasons, only three boys have been with the organization since its inception in 1977—Mike Fulgenzi, Joe Sullivan and Kevin Tisdale.

The Marlboros compete in the tough Adray League, which includes 27 Detroit area and outstate teams. To "spice up" the season, the Marlies venture off to Toronto and other Canadian cities each year for invitational tournament play. Last year the Marlies had the thrilling experience of competing at the Convocational Center on the campus of Notre Dame University, against travel teams from Indiana, Illinois and Ohio. The Marlies breezed through undefeated and came home with the tournament championship.

Travel hockey is a major time and training commitment for the kids, and the hundreds of ice hours cost lots of money, as well. The Marlies are fortunate to have major financial support given to their organization by their two principle sponsors. Masco Corporation and Detroit Truck Spring. Without community financial support from the business sector, travel hockey programs like the Marlies enjoy would not be possible.

The Marlboros have enjoyed a good year in 1981-82 compiling a record of 25-19-6 through mid-February. The Marlies are certainly one of the state's top teams, but have been bracketed in a division with the three teams ranked number one, two and three in the state for most of the year. Thirteen of the Marlies' 19 losses have come at the hands of those teams.

The Marlies have had outstanding coaching all season long from four individuals. Coaches Dick Bohan and Bob Nesler guided the team in the early fall in addition to fulfilling their other coaching responsibilities. Bohan and Nesler gained the support of assistants Sam Clogg and Rick Zutell, who took the reins on Jan. 1.

Head coach Sam Clogg has a tremendous hockey background having played competitively for seven years right up through Senior A levels. He also has assisted on several teams, ich won a state including years of hockey has developed Rogers into a fine skater. Aggressive checking and effort mark his style of play. Joe Sullivan: 5 feet, 4 inches, 115 pounds, center. A dynamo on the ice. Sullivan does it all with his aggressive style on both the offense and defense. An eight year veteran of Grosse Pointe hockey, Sullivan also spent one season with Munich.

Kevin Tisdale: 5 feet, 95 pounds, center 'right wing. Small but mighty, Tisdale is a beautiful skater with slick moves. He has played five years of travel hockey in Grosse Pointe and eight years of hockey overall.

Toni Ugval: 5 feet 3 inches, 110 pounds, left wing. A good shooter, skater and checker, Ugval is a complete hockey player who works hard each time he's on the ice. Ugval began his hockey eight years ago in the GPHA and is now completing his third year of travel.

Allan Van Deweghe: 5 feet, 6 inches, 135 pounds, goaltender. A five year veteran of travel hockey competition, Van Deweghe has played most of his hockey for Grosse Pointe, but has also competed in post season play for St. Clair Shores and Fraser. A feisty competitor in the nets, Van Deweghe has allowed just 1.32 goals per game this year.

Eric Warezak: 5 feet, 3 inches, 100 pounds, left wing/center. A talented skater and scrappy team player, Warezak has only been skating for three years, yet this season marks his second year of travel competition.

The Marlie organization has great support from the players' parentsparticularly from Tim Sullivan, who manages the team and from Mike Kramer, who schedules ice and competition.

Ed. note: Brad Tisdale, who writes game summaries for the Markes, should also be commended for his great support of the Marlboros.

Brownell cage squads honored

The eighth and seventh grade boys' basketball teams were honored at an awards ceremony held at Brownell Junior High on Feb. 23.

Eighth grade coach Al Devine presented Rob Skuras with the most valuable award. Captain Drew Mc-Skimming and Ricky Leonard were named most improved players. Cocaptain Mike Zrimec received the team player award and Jimmy Curran received the team spirit award. Others receiving awards were co-captain Ryan Hoeh, Bill Adlhoch, Jeff Barry, Lee Carrasco, Chuck Dale, Don Del-Place and Tom Jones.

Other honorees were Fred Kaleal, Jeff Knapp, Jeff Webb and Rob Wells. Brownell seventh grade coach Paul Pomaski presented Brady Kraushaar with the most valuable player award and Todd Hastings most improved player award. Doug Hagen received the team player award, while Jim Caven West was awarded the 'Windex' award.

Others receiving awards were Mark Bente, Bill Gryzenia, Tom Liliensiek and Taylor Lincoln. Others were Eric Miller, Tim Piche, Eric Restum, and Paul Williams. The Bullets finished at 8.4.

Let's meet the Marlies:

Coley Connolly: 5 feet, 94 pounds, goaltender. Connolly has been skating eight years in Grosse Pointe and four years in travel hockey. He is exceptionally agile and quick in the nets and has allowed less than 1.4 goals per game.

Walter Connolly: 5 feet, 6 inches, 125 pounds, center/right wing/defense. Connolly has been skating for 10 years and for two years in travel play. A natural team leader, this exceptional player leads the Marlies in scoring.

Mike Fulgenzi: 5 feet, 1/2 inch, 112 pounds, right wing defense. Fulgenzi has skated for eight years in Grosse Pointe, including five years of travel. A tremendous skater and aggressive checker, he is one of the Marlies' spark plugs.

Greg Henchel: 5 feet, 9 inches, 120 pounds, forward/defense, A versatile athlete and team captain, Henchel has played travel hockey seven years in Grosse Pointe.

George Jerome: 5 feet, 8 inches, 153 pounds, defense. "Big George" controls the blue line for the Marlies with his aggressive play and strong checking. Jerome has been playing hockey in Grosse Pointe for eight years.

Mike Kramer: 5 feet, 4 inches, 105 pounds, left wing defense. A versatile skater who can play forward or defense. Kramer has eight years of hockey experience in Grosse Pointe. including four years of travel play.

Jeff LeFebvre: 5 feet, 7 inches, 130 pounds, defense 'right wing. A solid skater with a booming slap shot. Lefebvre has been skating for seven years in the GPHA. This is his first year of travel hockey.

Mark Nesler: 5 feet, 2 inches, 120 pounds, left wing. Nesler began his hockey in Grosse Pointe seven years ago and is completing his second vear of travel hockey. A scrappy, heady player. Nesler has a knack for being in the right place at the right time.

Jamie Parker: 5 feet, 3 inches, 115 pounds, center/left wing. A tireless skater and forechecker, Parker makes things happen when he's on the ice. He first started skating in the Grosse Pointe program eight years ago and is enjoying his third year of travel competition.

ULS Knights win Ohio tourney

ULS hockey: The University Liggett School varsity ice hockey team has worked its way into second place in the Eastern Division of the Michigan Metro High School Ice Hockey League.

In two recent road games with Allen Park Cabrini and Brother Rice, the Knights came out on top by a goal in each contest-4-3 and 5-4, respectively.

Against Allen Park Cabrini, ULS took a 3-1 lead after the first period on two goals by Marty Wittmer and one by John Fern. Cabrini made the score 3-2 before Brian Valice scored the Knight's fourth goal of the evening. The third period was the key to the game, as Cabrini scored early in the stanza to clase within one goal. ULS senior Ted Maitland's superior goaltending was the winning margin of victory.

On Saturday, Feb. 20, the pucksters traveled across town to Birmingham to take on the Warriors of Brother Rice. ULS had not beaten Brother Rice on its rink in the last three years. The Knights were led that evening by the performance of John Kulka, who had a goal and an assist. Wittmer also had a goal and an assist. Other goals came from Fern, Dan

While less than an outstanding set of statistics, the three wins are notable for two reasons. Last year there were no victories, and the team's enthusiasm and hard work have brought success this year. Should the team win or tie one of its last two games, a modest yet important goal will have been attained-a new goal for JV teams in the future to measure

Star cagers win three of four

The Our Lady Star of the Sea girls' 78'er basketball team took control of first place in the league by defeating St. Ambrose, 25-22, recently. After the first half, the Star girls held a slim, 14-12 lead. But the third quarter proved to be Star's when the girls hit for nine points to take an eight point lead in the game.

Michelle McCarron led the Star offense with eight points; Maurisa Bautista had five, Michelle Calcaterra and Mary Beth Simon, four and Ann Caste and Sandra Nowak, two each Hotter than ever, the girls' gymnastic team pulled off an incredible fifth and sixth victories in a row last week, defeating Warren Lincoln, 111.8-107.8 and Lake Shore High, 107.9-107.0.

Placing against Warren Lincoln were Phyllis Ayoub with second place on vault and Cookie Stronski and Andrea Bay with second and third places on bars. Sweeping the beam were Karen Howe in first, Martha Young in second and Ayoub in third. On the floor it was Bay in second place and Young in third.

Placing against Lake Shore were Ayoub and Bay with first and third places on the vault and Stronski and Bay with second and third places on the bars. On beam it was Young and Howe with first and third places and on floor it was Bay in first place and Stronski with third place.

Receiving Regional qualifying scores this week were Bay with her first on the bars and her third and fourth on the floor, which qualifies her for Regional competition in that event. Others with qualifiers were Howe with her first and second on the beam; Young with her second and third on the beam and her second on the floor and Stronski with her second and third on the bars and her second on the floor.

and varsity volleyball teams challenged Port Huron on Feb. 16 and Mt. Clemens on Feb, 19.

The varsity lost both matches, 11-15, 8-15 against Port Huron and lost 15-13, 1-15, 12-15 to Mt. Clemens.

In the game against Port Huron, Ilene O'Shee served seven points and Jill Dalby had two kills. Sue LePlae served eight points and Pam Pillsbury had two kills and two blocks. The JV lost to Port Huron, 13-15, 15-11, 12-15 but beat Mt. Clemens, 15.9, 6.15, 15-6.

Top scorers in the Port Huron game were Bev Zuelch who served 13 points and had two kills and Marion Addy who served 12 points. Karen Fellows had two kills.

The overall record for the varsity is 3.9 and 9.3 for the JV. The league record for the varsity is 3.8 and 8.3 for the JV.

On Feb. 26, the volleyball teams will play at Port Huron Northern. (By Brooke Reuther).

South basketball: Sweeping both games in last week's action, the JV played solid basketball in defeating Port Huron, 59-47. Pete Toenges continued his fine play by leading the team with 17 points.

The JV followed that win by edging Mt. Clemens, 56-52. Toenges was again the leading scorer with 19 points. The JV will meet Port Huron Northern at home at 6:30 p.m., tomorrow, Feb. 26.

The freshmen once again played intense, exciting basketball as they came from behind and then held off a late comeback in beating Tower. 39-38, last week. Mike Williams led a balanced attack with 11 points and Rick Whitney and Alex Mellos each contributed eight points.

The frosh will take on Tower away at 4 p.m. on March 2. (By Kevin Roberts)
