He finds insanity plea just a 'Dodge'

By Tom Greenwood

The list of the immortals has grown by one. To the honor roll "graced" by the likes of Ollie Fretter, Mr. Belvedere, Irving Nussbaum and Mickey Shorr, we can now add the name Chuck Riley.

Chuck Riley?

The name may not ring a bell, but the voice, 10 gallon hat and crazed manner of the spokesman for Pointe Dodge, insisting we come down and buy a used car for $99 down "right now" is known to almost everyone living in the Michigan mitten.

Riley loves it. Especially since the loony tune commercials have doubled used car sales. Pointe Dodge at 8001 Mack in Detroit began using the homemade commercials about 17 months ago after owner Ken Meade returned from a trip to California.

"He was impressed by the crazy car commercials they have out there," said Riley, 37. "Guys like Ralph Williams and Guy Worthington do anything to get your attention. Pretty girls, elephants, throwing money around. The important thing is it appeals to the person looking for a used car.

"He wants to know how much it's going to cost per month. Will it fit in his budget? The used car buyer isn't interested in haggling over the sticker price of a new car. No one was trying that approach in Detroit, so we gave it a shot," Riley said.

The tactic worked. After the first commercial was aired, the used car lot was jammed with customers. Pointe Dodge even had to hire new sales people.

One hundred and seventy commercials later, Riley is still acting up before the cameras. The commercials are shot four at a time, with each running for about two weeks. Working with the Detroit based "Capture Live" production company, Riley spends about 45 minutes shooting the commercials.

The ads have no script. It's just Riley hamming it up on camera.

"I never really know what I'm going to do once I get started," said Riley. "I always try and make them a little crazy and with lots of humor. We try to keep people guessing 'What's that nut going to do next?'"

New appeal filed against Pointe reapportionment

By Susan McDonald

Attorneys last week filed objections in U.S. District Court against the congressional reapportionment plan that split Grosse Pointe into two districts, each represented by Democratic congressmen.

John Lauve, unopposed candidate for state Senate in the 1st District primary race, said he is financing the legal battle to restore Grosse Pointe's congressional seat. In the recent reapportionment, a panel of three federal judges split the old 14th District, putting the Park and City in Cong. George Crockett's 13th District, and leaving the remaining Pointes in the 14th, now held by Cong. Dennis Hertel.

The latest legal objections were filed before the July 30 deadline for the appeal, Lauve said.

"I expect it to be dismissed, but then I hope we'll go on to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati," Lauve said. "The purpose of this action is to establish a benchmark so the appeal can continue. I just want them to know this is not going to go away."

The objection, prepared by Harper Woods attorney David R. Haugan, claims the reapportionment plan "overlooks the sensitivities of the ethnic community that is white, and dilutes their voting strength in a clearly callous way.

"The black congressmen even argued to keep the Grosse Pointes out of their district for this very reason. The sensitivities of a white community cannot be ignored by the court just because they are non-black," the objection says.

Lauve says even an impartial observer can recognize the unfairness of splitting an all-white, cohesive community and assigning them to a new black congressman. As an alternative, his objection recommends the reapportionment be changed by recombining the Pointes in the 14th District and correcting the imbalance in size by adding a larger section of Detroit to the 13th District. Because Hertel in the 14th district is not opposed in the upcoming election, the objection states the change in apportionment will not effect the outcome in the primary or general election in November.

Lauve, a contact engineer with Cadillac Motor Car Division, said he has personally financed the appeal so far, but will need help if it is to go any further.

"I just don't understand how this happened to a community like Grosse Pointe. I guess people just aren't tuned in. Things have gone so well in America in recent years, people just don't pay attention to what is happening," Lauve said.

The reapportionment plan that goes in effect Jan. 1, was written by Federal Judges Damon J. Keith, Philip Pratt and Stewart Newblatt and endorsed, according to Lauve, by local state Sens. John Hertel and John Kelly when presented to the legislature.

In addition to Lauve's objections, the Grosse Pointe Concerned Republican Committee filed a brief last spring in Federal Court protesting the division of the five Pointes. That brief also argued the Pointes should be treated as a homogeneous community because of their territorial integrity and strong Republican voting record.

Dapper suspect is nabbed after high-speed chase

Park police were led on a high-speed chase down local side streets last Friday before apprehending a 31-year-old Detroit man wanted by City and Woods police for armed robbery of two specialty shops, according to authorities.

Alvin Lamar Clark, of Promenade Street, was later arraigned on three counts of armed robbery and two counts of use of a firearm during the commission of a felony, police said.

According to police, a well-dressed, soft spoken man walked into Janie's Fashions in the Village last week and engaged an employe in a few minutes of polite conversation. The man then reportedly grabbed the employe, pointed a small revolver at her head and threatened to shoot if he wasn't given all the money.

After emptying bills from the register, the police said the suspect asked the employe to open a security box in the back office. The employe gave the man $47, an envelope with an unknown amount of money and a bank deposit book.

At that point the employe was tied up by the suspect, who reportedly told her "I don't normally tie people up, but I'm afraid you might scream."

Police said the robber gagged the employe's mouth with Kleenex and tied her hands behind her back and sat her in a chair.

Police said at this point another customer entered the store and began browsing when the suspect grabbed her from behind and dragged her into the back office and threw her on the floor. Minutes later, a second customer walked into the store and the suspect told her he would be with her shortly, but the customer apparently left immediately, police said.

Reports said the suspect tied and gagged the first customer and told her, "I'm sorry to inconvenience you, but I didn't tie you very tightly." He then robbed the customer of some jewelry and her wallet, police said.

The suspect also took school I.D. and a park pass from the employe saying he knew who she was, where she lived and would come back to "hurt her" if she reported the robbery to police, according to authorities.

The suspect then left the store in an unknown direction, police said.

The suspect was described as a black male, 30 to 40 years old and well groomed, wearing a three-piece dark blue suit with yellow pinstripes. He came into the store, located at 17100 Kercheval, at about 11 a.m. July 27. The suspect reportedly told the employe he was in the carpet cleaning business.

On Friday, July 30, Woods police received a call reporting an armed robbery at the Fruit Tree, 21131 Mack Avenue. An employe at the store told police she was (Continued on Page 4A)

County board race heats up

There is no love lost between the combatants in this month's county commissioner primaries. Democrats John Hertel and Norbert Wisniewski have traded barbs about each other's records at homeowner candidate nights while GOP hopefuls Barbara Gattorn and Erv Steiner swipe at each other's stand on the home-rule charter.

Wisniewski, commissioner for six years in the now-defunct 2nd District, admits he faces a uphill battle against Hertel, who left his state senate seat to run for the county board. But, Wisniewski said, Hertel's stand on voting down taxes and increasing appropriations at the same time, could spell disaster to the already strapped county.

Hertel, who admits he would like to be governor one day, counters with Wisniewski's inability to deliver services to the area. Wisniewski is silent on such topics as the department head union in the Road Commission and the nepotism in the Civil Service Department, Hertel said. If people knew what kind of services they should get, Hertel said, Wisniewski would not be reelected.

Steiner, 12-year veteran of the Board of Commissioners, and Mrs. Gattorn faced each other in 1978 in the commission primary. Steiner won the primary and the seat that year and faced token opposition in 1980.

Mrs. Gattorn claims Steiner has made "wild statements about the charter" and with his attitude of combativeness will not work effectively with the new county executive officer to reorganize the county. The incumbents, including Steiner, "part of the problem; the cure is to defeat them, she said.

Steiner said he is the only hope the Grosse Pointes have for maintaining their representation on the county board. He is the only person who can beat the Democrat in this November's general election, he said.

He blames the Charter Commission's "lack of guts" for loopholes in the new charter. He has never been an opponent of the idea of the charter, Steiner said, but takes strong exception to parts of it.

The News invited the candidates to talk about the county, its fiscal problems and what they can do about it. In addition, candidates had a chance to discuss the tax increase question on the primary ballot along with the Road Commission's department head union. Their responses follow.

Erv Steiner

Q. Do you support the one-mill tax question?

A. I voted no on it. You should streamline county government rather than raise taxes.

Q. What other options are there?

A. I have said the county government is the best run. Four years ago we had a $360 million budget and a $20 million deficit. Now we have a $280 million budget and we have cut our deficit to $18 million. Take the city of Detroit. They cannot balance their budget. The schools can't balance their budget. Look at the state. They are $600 million in the red. Can anyone say the county is run as badly as the state?

Q. What departments could be streamlined?

A. For nine years I have advocated the elimination of the fire department at Wayne County General Hospital because they worked 87 days. I don't want to (Continued on Page 4A)

Barbara Gattorn

Q. Do you support the tax increase?

A. It's just silliness. The current Board of Commissioners has just waited until the crisis is here and then they try to deal with it.

Q. Other options to save money?

A. You really have to go where the money is and that is in salaries, wages and fringe benefits. I think the new commissioner is going to have to be hard-nosed with the unions and seek concessions, possibly in conjunction with lay-offs. If they aren't receptive to it, the commissioners should get ready for a strike or even consider some type of lock-out.

Q. What departments could be streamlined?

A. Wayne County General Hospital is the biggest money-eater in the county. The Board could meet the charter provision mandating a (Continued on Page 10A)

Norbert Wisniewski

Q. Do you support the tax increase?

A. I originally voted for the lay-offs, but I wanted to see them done across the board. When it came down to the nitty-gritty, the Board decided to prioritize the lay-offs. They wanted to lay off 239 workers at the hospital. All of them would have been eligible to get $7 million in pensions and benefits the county didn't have. The tax question isn't going to fly. It's a matter of buying time until we can get help from the State

Municipal Finance Commission.

Q. What other options are there to save money?

A. First, the county commissioners are not going to balance the budget if the five state constitutional departments overspend their budgets. The Registrar of Deeds could very easily be combined with the County Clerk. The Child Development Center costs the county $300,000 a year. We could sell it or turn it into execu- (Continued on Page 2A)

John Hertel

Q. Do you support the tax increase?

A. I think it's outrageous and gutless for the board to propose a tax increase when most county residents east of Woodward don't get county services.

Q. What other options are there to save money?

A. Number one is the Road Commission. You know that for every department head you lay off, you can hire two line workers to provide services. That's how much these people are getting (Continued on Page 2A)

How well do you know the candidates?

When voters visit the polls in next Tuesday's primary on Aug. 10, there will be dozens of names facing voters for nomination to office — from governor to circuit court judges.

In Wayne County alone, there will be 16 names on the ballot for the county's first executive officer. In Grosse Pointe, voters will be asked to nominate candidates for governor, United States senator and representative, state senator and representative, county executive, county commissioner, Court of Appeals judge and Circuit Court judge. In addition, voters in Grosse Pointe Park will be asked to vote on a proposed street tax in their city.

With all that before them, the News wondered how well voters are informed about the candidates when they go to the polls. The News asked shoppers on the Hill how well local newspapers, along with radio and television, have informed them about the candidates in the Aug. 10 primary. Their responses follow:

Sue Galnor, the Farms: "I must say I haven't read much. I'll have to do a lot more before the election."

Debby D'Arcy, the Woods: "I am woefully uninformed and I'm usually much more informed than this, but there are so many candidates it's hard to separate them. They don't seem to be talking about the issues, only about themselves."

Lisa Blood, "I think I have been well-informed about the candidates. There is always something you can learn in the paper. I would like to see more about the actual issues, maybe profile them more in the paper."

Mrs. C. Worrell, the City: "I'm partially informed. I've always been involved in political parties, though I do more research on my own than what I see on TV."

Paul Stamatakis, the Farms: "No, I don't think I have been well-informed. As we draw closer to the primary, though, we should know more about the candidates."

Margaret Breitenbecher, the City: "I think the papers have done a good job. I think I'm well-informed."

Other responses included:

"Actually, I have been busy lately and I haven't been reading the papers."

"I haven't been keeping up with things. It's not the newspapers' fault."

"No, I haven't kept myself well-informed. Actually, I am sick of politics and the whole thing."

"No, I haven't been well-informed. Nobody can. It's not possible with the brief interviews in the papers. The ignorance of the electorate is what these candidates count on."

"I have been moderately informed about the candidates. I think the papers could have done a better job of informing people about the candidates' views on the issues. That has been poorly done."

"No, I don't feel I have been informed, but I'm going to vote Democrat no matter what."

tive condominiums.

Q. What can be done to clean up the Civil Service, the Road Commission and general county government?

A. About the Civil Service Department, there was an accusation made, and personally I think there was something wrong going on over there, but the commissioners investigated and didn't find anything wrong. The Prosecutor's Office investigated and found nothing. The commissioners can't do much about civil service because it's a creature of the state.

About the Road union, the courts have ruled twice that there was nothing illegal about the new union. We have a supervisor's union now in the county. Morally I think it's wrong, but I can't do anything about it unless it is legally wrong. I'm an officer of the court.

I'm very bitter about one thing, though. Under the present system, you need 18 votes to get anything done. When the pay increase proposal came down, commissioners didn't show up to vote on it. Under the new charter, you'll only need eight votes, which I think will be easier.

Q. How much time can you devote to county business? Will you have an outside job?

A. If I don't put in 60 hours a week, I am down with the flu or something. I work five days a week, 52 weeks a year. I'm a full-time commissioner and in my office by 8 a.m. I can tell you one thing, though, if I had been your commissioner, I would have gotten Lakeshore paved a long time ago.

Q. What are the powers of a commissioner? Could they become puppets of the CEO?

A. The commission is strictly a legislative body now. The executive and administrative functions will belong to the CEO. The powers of the commissioners will be limited because of that, but their action will be more significant because they're representing more people.

I am responsible to my district. I won't be a puppet, and I wouldn't be running if I thought I would be a puppet. Detroit City Council members are elected city-wide, but they build up little power-bases where they can always get elected. I can't, because I'm responsible to a district.

Q. What is the greatest need of the 1st District and how as a commissioner would you help?

A. Anything they want I can deliver. I'm batting 1,000 so far. I have never failed to get something that my people asked for. One problem is that the district will have both affluent and poor people. I know what the poor people want, but I've never been affluent, so I don't know what people here want. I've got to find out by listening to them to discover what their needs are.

Q. If the Road Commission union is upheld, what can you do about it?

A. The Road Commission is a state body, and as an officer of the court, I am powerless to go against it if the court upholds it. But under the new charter, the board only needs eight votes to remove an appointed official from office, and the CEO can ask for removal based on cause. That's going to make it easier than under the old board rules that called for a vote of 18 commissioners for removal. You just can't get them.

The Road Commission budget is strictly separate from the Board's control. We have been told by our council that they submit their budget to us as courtesy, and we can't approve or deny their expenses. We can't say where they should be spending money and how much. We are only in control of the general fund budget.

Q. What qualifies you to run for the commission?

A. A lot of hard work, a perfect attendance record and 100 percent effectiveness. As I said before, no one has ever asked me for something I couldn't deliver for the district.

I think, for a while at least, you'll see commissioners more concerned with what's going on in their districts, and leave the CEO to carry the burden of the policy-making and reorganization.

Q. Outline some of your accomplishments as a commissioner.

A. If you have all day, I can tell you. I've gotten truck traffic banned from a state trunk line, something they told me couldn't be done. I've had the railroad crossings in my districts repaired. That involved the state highway department and the railroads working with me. I've gotten alley lights installed, signs put up and so forth. I had a motorcycle club removed from my district, something the corporate counsel couldn't even do even though they lived a few houses away.

I've had businesses evicted because they weren't compatible with the neighborhood. I kept a methadone clinic out of the Ramona Theater, which is gone now, but at the time was trying to stay in business by showing family films. These are everyday things I've done.

Q. Why are you running for the county commission seat?

A. I love the work. I think if my opponent were half as qualified as I am, I would be more than happy if he won. But I don't want to lose the primary because my constituents don't deserve him.

Q. What can be done about the Civil Service Commission, the Road Commission and general county government?

A. The way to make the changes is through the legislative process. You can introduce a resolution enumerating what can be cut and where, and then get seven others to support you. The problem is that no one has even written up the resolution, let alone tried to introduce it.

You can lay off 60 to 80 percent of the administration at the Road Commission. But when you cut the money, they lay off service workers and the administrators sit in their offices with fewer people to administer.

Wayne County General Hospital could be closed outright. It has the highest cost per patient of any hospital in the state.

I think the civil service system has been greatly undermined by the civil service department. Test answers have gotten out before the tests. The only one who tried to do anything about it was George Killeen and he got no help from the two incumbents.

One thing I intend to do before I leave the Senate is to get a law passed that would make it a felony for test answers to get out before the test. The penalty would be never to hold an elected or appointed office in the county again.

I intend to get passed as a commissioner a code of ethics that would not allow a commissioner to make an appointment if he stood to gain anything from it.

Q. How much time can you devote to county business? Will you have an outside job?

A. I will do the same thing I've done the last five years I've been in the Senate. I will teach government courses at Lawrence Institute of Technology. As a senator, I scheduled time on Monday and Friday mornings when the Senate didn't meet.

Q. What are the powers of the commissioners? Could they become puppets of the CEO?

A. While the budget and all ordinances are initiated by the CEO, the Board has control over all spending and appointment confirmations. There is going to have to be someone who can act as the conscience for the CEO, who is not afraid to tell him and the public when he's wrong.

The commission is strictly a legislative body. They used to make policy, but you can't have 27 people trying to make policy. There's no one to take control, and that's one of the problems the commission has.

Q. What is the greatest need of the 1st District and how will you help?

A. Something has to be done about Lakeshore Road and cutting the grass along the freeway. They are eyesores. There's one appointment in the Road Commission coming up right now, and the first thing I would ask anyone is what do you intend to do about getting the grass cut.

You have to save the taxpayers' money. That won't benefit people in the 1st District alone, but all county residents. I think you can cut the scope of county government by 20 percent and not hurt services.

Another way to do that is through bidding procedures. There are no bidding procedures in the Drain Commission, and they have more money at their fingers than the commissioners.

Q. If the Road Commission union is upheld, what can you do about it?

A. As you know, Killeen and I have filed suit against the outrageous contract and we plan to follow it through to the end. Another is the next appointment. Another is to allocate less money to them so they can't hire as many of those people.

The funding comes from four levels for the Road Commission; local, county, state and federal. The reason the Senate acted so quickly on my resolution against the union was because they found out they were allocating money to pay these salaries.

At the federal level, you can talk with people and let them know what the problems are and see what they can do about it. Anyone who says they can't do anything about the union because it's a different branch of government is either lying or making excuses for not having done anything about it earlier.

Q. What qualifies you to be a commissioner?

The first thing, more than my experience, is my independence of special interest groups and knowing how the county works. Second, of course, is my experience in state and county government. Having run two major committees gave me the opportunity to know the leaders of all 19 departments of the government. To put together something to help the county, you have to be able to work with people in both state and federal offices.

Q. Outline some of the things you hope to accomplish as a commissioner.

A. I would like to reform the Road Commission, the Civil Service Department and the things I've said before. The challenge is monumental and the chance doesn't come along that often.

People don't know what they're supposed to be getting in services, so how can they judge whether or not someone is doing a good job? People say Norbert Wisniewski has done a good job, but how do they know unless they are certain of what they are supposed to be getting?

I would like to cut the cost and size of county government by eliminating duplication of services and unnecessary departments.

Q. Why are you running?

A. It's extremely exciting for me that there's a new charter in the county. I want to help people get the services they pay for and I want to participate in the reforming of the county.

I hope voters here will vote for the individual candidates and not make a choice based on a political party instead of the experience of the candidate.

Patterson Park Pops

Park bans Mack Avenue runs

Future fun runs/walks, marathons, parades and bike-athons must meet Grosse Pointe Park's new general policy regarding these events along with the usual requirements of applicable city ordinances and state statutes. The resolution setting a general policy was presented for review at the Park council's July 12 meeting and unanimously adopted by members Monday, July 26. The new policy is similar to one adopted by the Farms. The new policy prohibits any events on Mack Avenue and requires organizations sponsoring events to gain consent from local businesses, schools, hospitals and churches which may be affected by the event. Policy provisions require: Organizations planning events must apply in writing to the city manager for approval at least 60 days prior to the event and include a map, number and age of participants among other details. Any costs to the city in excess of $250 will be charged to the sponsoring organization. That sponsors of an event will be required to remove any debris which may be associated with or generated by the event. The city may also require from the sponsors of an event the following things:

- Marshals to assist in traffic and crowd control.
 - Traffic safety cones to reroute traffic under the supervision of the police department.
 - Performance deposits in an amount determined by the city.
 - The purchase of an insurance policy naming the city as a party insured in an amount determined by the city.
 - A "hold harmless" agreement indemnifying the city.
- The policy permits City Manager John Crawford to routinely grant or deny requests for a permit or to forward them to the city council for consideration.

Police seek suspects in abduction

Three young women were kidnapped from a Grosse Pointe Park restaurant early Monday, Aug. 2, and taken to a vacant Detroit home where they were held captive for three hours while they were sexually abused and one woman was raped, Park police reported. The three women, including one Grosse Pointe resident, were released by their captors and escaped on foot to call police. They were treated and released at Bon Secours Hospital, according to Police Chief Henry Cooce. Police said the victims, single women in their 20s who work together and live in the Park, Roseville and Oak Park, were having a cup of coffee at the Steak and Egg Kitchen, 15412 East Jefferson Avenue, at about 2 a.m. Monday. They told police they were entering one of the women's car when two black males forced their way into the vehicle and drove to an abandoned house on Chelsea street in Detroit. Two more men joined them at the house, forced the women to strip and raped one of the women while the others were sexually abused, police said. Cooce said the women were on the verge of hysteria when questioned by police. Detroit and state police are assisting the Park department in the investigation. They are questioning neighbors of the Chelsea house and other possible witnesses to the abduction but have no suspects, Cooce said.

New students should enroll

A special 10-day enrollment session will be held over a three-week period in August for new students who plan to attend Grosse Pointe North and South high schools this fall. The schedule for new enrollees is Monday, Aug. 9 to Thursday, Aug. 12; Monday, Aug. 16 to Thursday, Aug. 19; and Monday, Aug. 23 to Tuesday, Aug. 24.

New high school students in the North area should call Florence Miller, assistant principal - student services, at 343-2201 to arrange for an appointment. Those living in the South school district should call 343-2151 to schedule an enrollment conference with a counselor. Students who do not enroll during the 10-day period will have to wait until the first day of school on Wednesday, Sept. 8 to do so and may have some difficulty in scheduling preferred course selections. Students are expected to be accompanied by a parent or guardian and to bring with them their latest report card from their previous school. Records of completed high school courses would aid in the enrollment process. Those who have never attended Grosse Pointe public schools should bring a birth certificate during the enrollment period.

lay them off. You can send them over to the airport and retrain them. Once a man gets 25 years in, you shouldn't lay him off.
Wayne County General Hospital has 1,140 patients and 240 beds. Cottage Hospital has 500 employees and 200 beds. You ask the chiefs out here when was the last time they had help from a Wayne County Sheriff in Grosse Pointe.

Q. What can be done about the Civil Service Department, the Road Commission and general county government?

A. In the Civil Service Department, I think every person who was involved with test answers getting out before the test should be automatically fired. That was absolutely wrong, absolutely wrong.

On the Road Commission union, what can I say? Personally, I think that we have lawyers organized, everyone has organized. If you're going to break one union, you should break them all. I think all of them are wrong. If you are going to say the Road Commission is wrong then all of them are wrong. But the courts have upheld the Road Commission twice.

You're asking me to say that something that is legal is illegal. I can be critical of it. If the courts said it was illegal, I would be the first to break it up.

Q. How much time can you devote to county business? Do you have any outside jobs or interests?

A. Not at all. I have a complete staff that runs my business. As chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, I opened the meetings at 9 a.m. and we stayed until 8 or 9 p.m. The chairman of the board told me I had run the best Ways and Means he had ever seen.

Q. What are the powers of the commissioner under the charter? Could they become puppets of the CEO?

Dapper suspect

taking an order when the suspect came into the shop and announced a hold-up.

A police broadcast said the man was wearing a rust-colored shirt. While on patrol Sgt. William Furtaw, of the Park, observed a man in a car matching that description. As Sgt. Furtaw approached the car, the subject fled in a 1975 silver Chevrolet, police said.

Patrolman Timothy Mink and Sgt. Furtaw apprehended the suspect, later identified as Alvin Clark, at the intersection of Warren and Lozier, in Detroit, after a high speed chase.

Clark is currently in the Wayne County Jail on a $35,000 bond pending his Wednesday, Aug. 11, pre-trial exam in the Woods.

A. I'm on the transition team for the county, and what you're saying I hope doesn't happen, but I would say it is a possibility. We are waiting for rulings on what is right and what is legal and trying to make the transition a smooth one. The powers are very nebulous.

We know the CEO has 200 patronage jobs, and if you want to talk about patronage, look at that. The state says he can staff his office any way he wants to with as many as he wants to.

Let's get this right. I, Erv Steiner, spearheaded the new charter. I have never, never been against it. I am against certain parts of it. I have a letter from Attorney General Frank Kelly that says there is now no debt limit in the county. I hate to think we will be at the mercy of no debt limit. You can thank your Charter Commissioner for not having the guts to stand up.

These are the loopholes I said there were in it.

I am in favor of county reform. I instituted it. I am against that there is no debt limit. I am against the lack of the provision for a county road system.

Q. What is the biggest need of the 1st District?

A. I will do anything for the people. I have stood up and fought for services. Don't tell me I've lost touch with the voters. If I wasn't there, you wouldn't get anything in Grosse Pointe. I am trying to protect us and get the most for the area.

The greatest need is actually being available. I'm available to anyone who needs something done. I know where to go and how to get things done.

Q. What qualifies you to serve as commissioner?

A. Experience. Knowing what to do and where to go. I know I am flexible enough to work the new CEO. I intend to go in with the attitude of making the county good for each one of us.

Q. Outline some of your accomplishments.

A. Let's talk about local things. I worked for the Bon Secours cross-overs. I made sure the barricades were up for the Cottage Hospital Fun Run. I have gotten turning patterns changed with the closing of the Mason Mack turnaround. There's the breakwall and its safety. I got the Road Commission to change the lighting at Moross and Lakeshore. I could go on all day.

Q. Why are you running for commissioner?

A. I think the next two years are going to be the most important in county reorganization. I think we have to have a smooth transition and experience at the roll call. I think we have to work to make the charter work. If that's what the people want, that's what I want.

Insanity plea sells cars

actually keep track of the commercials. "The two most popular seem to be where crew members started throwing snowballs at me," smiled Riley. "We were shooting and Amos Fowler of the Detroit Lions was off camera and threw a big snowball at one of the cars. Playing it back on the monitor it seemed pretty funny. For the next commercial they just started pelting me."

"Another popular spot is the latest pitch in which I start out slow in a normal tone of voice, nothing crazy. Then near the end I start losing it. By the very end I'm jumping all over the place waving my hat. People really seem to like it," Riley said.

Riley is general manager of the dealership and has been with Pointe Dodge since 1971. He and wife Carolyn live on Three Mile Drive in the Park. Son John, 3, sees Riley as just "good old dad."

Carolyn has also taken her husband's notoriety pretty much in stride.

"Oh, she giggled the first time she saw me on the screen," said Riley. "You look and sound different, plus that's not the way I normally act. By now though, it's no big deal."

Although Riley says the "semi-fame" doesn't really affect him, you get the impression he not-so-secretly gets a big kick out of it.

"People don't recognize me all that much," said Riley with a grin. "Once in awhile someone will make the connection. I get a lot of double takes as people try to figure out where they've seen me. I suppose if I wore the hat people would know right away."

The commercials have made Riley a sought after figure. He reports that customers have come from as far as Saginaw and Bay City after watching the ads. When they specifically ask for him, he usually steers them to salesmen to complete the deal.

"The ads are definitely effective," said Riley. "We had one pitch where I told people we'd give them a $500 trade in on anything. We had wreckers pulling up with old beat up cars. Others were towed in on chains. We even had a couple bicycles brought in."

"Another time I sold a Maverick for $99 complete. I said 'Folks, just give me $99 for this little beauty. Forget about the monthly payments. $99 and that's it!' We sold that car within an hour after the pitch first ran. We also got hundreds of calls wanting to buy it."

Riley admits the commercials are somewhat spacey. Most are run after midnight and pitched to the late movie crowd. Riley himself almost comes across like "Art Fern," the only late night pitchman satirized by Johnny Carson on his "Mighty Carson Art Players." Instead of telling people to take the "Engine Freeway" to the Slawson cut off" Riley tells them to "break open that cookie jar and call us right now!"

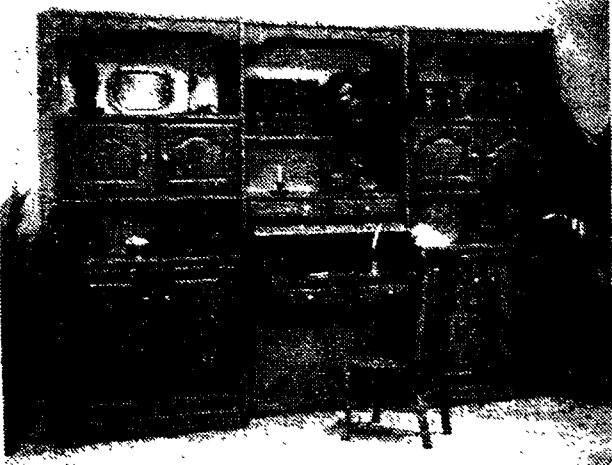

"For awhile we tried to do the commercials very straight, just a regular commercial, but it didn't go over as well," admitted Riley. "We also tried using a pretty girl. She did a good job and everyone liked her, but business really fell off that month. When we went back to loony, business took off again. You can't take good taste to the bank."

Riley intends to keep the commercials going as long as they seem effective. Once they're over, he will return to being a general manager full time.

"Believe me, I have no interest in working in television," he said firmly. "Bill Kennedy's job is safe."

The widely reported case of oldtime radio broadcaster Edwin C. Hill is not unique, but it's extraordinary, nonetheless. Hill got on a streetcar, struck up a conversation with a young lady he'd never before seen, seriously proposed marriage to her, took her directly from the next stop to the marriage license bureau, and then marched her straightaway to the altar.

WCCC to close Austin Center

By Jenna Doe

In spite of the continuing administrative problems and the economic crunch that plague Wayne County Community College, John Grylls, board trustee of WCCC, said that the college is solid.

"There is nothing wrong with the college. There is enough money, an adequate teaching staff, and students are successful," said Grylls, a Grosse Pointe resident.

But, the college has faced some real problems in the past. Two college presidents have been ousted, Reginald Wilson, and recently Richard Simmons. Wilson won a $230,000 settlement. He was fired after an audit revealed $2 million of financial aid was given to students for whom no records were kept, or the records were lost. The college was forced to return the money with interest.

Richard Simmons was fired earlier this summer. Grylls said that Simmons could not work with the board, and he wanted the majority of them to leave. Grylls also pointed out that the four board members who supported his hiring — including Grylls — are the same who supported his firing. Simmons sued the college for age and race discrimination. The case was dismissed in Judge Gilmore's Federal Court last week.

Now, the college is in the process of reorganization. Grylls said the college is administration-heavy. The count is 175 administrators to 175 full-time employees, but there are also 700 part-time employees on staff. This occurred, Grylls said, because five of the seven regional centers had their own administrators. Grylls said the college is now aiming for more centralized administration and will reduce its staff. He said he hopes the cuts will come about through attrition instead of firings and lay-offs.

"WCCC is a vital institution in Wayne County and the greatest hope for the economic situation in Detroit," said Grylls, who has served on the board for seven years without compensation. The college has a goal of teaching students a marketable skill and is constantly changing its course of offerings to comply with that goal, according to Grylls.

"Detroit is not experiencing a depression, but a revolution," Grylls said. "There will never be the demand for unskilled labor that we once had." He said that 50 percent of the classes offered at the college are academic and 50 percent are career-oriented. The college offers a variety of computer classes, health services programs and business classes.

About 10 to 15 percent of WCCC's 20,000 full-time and part-time students are from Grosse Pointe. Less than one mill of Grosse Pointe's tax dollars go to WCCC.

Grylls said that although the student from Grosse Pointe is not considered a traditional WCCC student, more and more often they are finding that they are.

The college serves those students who are not ready for the pressure of a four-year institution. It also offers a much less expensive way to complete the first two years of college. WCCC's tuition this fall is $24 per credit hour compared to Wayne State University's tuition of $96 per credit hour for residents. Grylls said Wayne State works closely with WCCC and most credits will transfer to the university.

WCCC has expanded considerably in recent years. The new East Side Center, located at Conners and I-94 will begin operation this fall. An open house is planned for Thursday, Aug. 12, at 7 p.m. and the public is welcome.

The Austin Center, the closest WCCC facility to Grosse Pointe, will be closed this fall, Grylls said, and all east side classes will meet at the new center.

Chet Bogan's Wolverine Jazz Band will play traditional New Orleans Jazz Wednesday, Aug. 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The Wolverine band is made up of (background, left to right) Hugh Leal, Frank Harrison, Joe Chila, (foreground, left to right) Wally Tronanko, Dixiebelle, Bogan and Jerry Richardson. They have performed throughout the country and have recorded two albums. Admission to the War Memorial grounds, which open at 6 p.m. for picnickers, is $5.

Ebenezer Church presents an outdoor concert

The Ebenezer Baptist Church will present an outdoor concert by Holly and Bryan Hochhalter on Sunday, Aug. 8, at 8:30 p.m. on the church grounds.

Representing North American Baptist Seminary on an extended tour throughout Canada and the United States, the Hochhalter's combine contemporary and traditional sacred music with personal testimony and Bible-based messages. Their theme,

"He's Alive!" is developed to make meaningful spiritual applications to daily life. The Ebenezer Baptist Church is located at 21001 Moross Road.

Church group rides to Niagara Falls

A group of 22 young people from Ebenezer Baptist Church in Detroit are hitting the halfway mark today, Thursday, Aug. 5 on their 507-mile bike trip to Niagara Falls to attend the North American Youth Conference there.

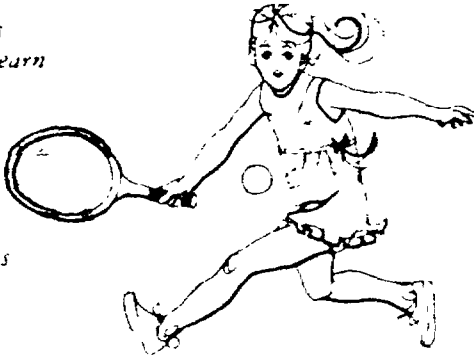

The group, made up of 7 women and 15 men, left last Monday, Aug. 2, and hoped to reach Niagara Falls Monday, Aug. 9. They will average 70 miles per day during the trip, according to youth director David Goncalves.

The group is also trying to raise money for Detroit's Youth for Christ, a Christian organization that works with inner-city and troubled teenagers.

Sponsors have pledged a donation for each mile, or a fixed amount upon completion of the trip. To donate support for a rider, call the church at 882-2728.

Interest can be paid quarterly, paid by monthly or quarterly check, or automatically transferred to a Standard Federal checking or savings account.* †

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal from certificate accounts and also prohibit the compounding of interest on 26 Week Money Market Accounts. *The rate established at the time these accounts are opened is the rate in effect for the full term of the certificate. †The minimum balance is $5,000.00 for Check-A-Month Certificates and $2,000.00 for quarterly interest checks.

SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

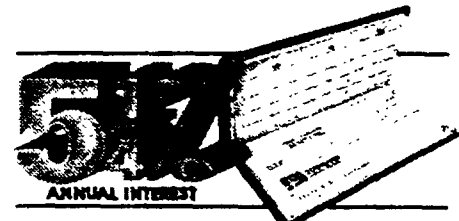

all Savers Certificate

HERE'S WHAT A ONE-YEAR ALL SAVERS CERTIFICATE CAN MEAN TO YOU.

- You can exclude up to $2,000.00 interest from federal income tax on a joint return ($1,000.00 on an individual return). The amount excluded is also not taxed by the State of Michigan.
- You can participate with a deposit of $500.00 or more.
- Interest is determined on a monthly basis and can be paid at maturity, paid by monthly or quarterly check, or automatically transferred to a Standard Federal checking or savings account.

In the event of early withdrawal from an All Savers Certificate federal law and regulations require a substantial early withdrawal penalty and loss of the interest exclusion for federal income tax purposes. The minimum balance is $5,000.00 for Check-A-Month Certificates and $2,000.00 for quarterly interest checks.

Call 885-2114 for the current rates on any of these accounts.

CHECKING ACCOUNTS WITH INTEREST

Standard Federal checking accounts earn the highest interest allowed by law.

These accounts earn 5¼% interest, continuously compounded, for an effective annual yield of 5.467%.

You may open an account in any amount. However, with a minimum balance of $500.00, OR an average daily balance of $1,000.00, you may write all the checks you wish, with no monthly service charge. A $5.00 monthly fee is assessed if you go below the minimum or average requirements.)

1. Each month you'll receive a detailed statement of your account which lists your checks in numerical order, your deposits, any service charges assessed and the interest earned during the statement period.
2. Personalized checks are printed free of charge if you choose not to have your checks returned with your monthly statement. There will be a charge for printing personalized checks if you wish to have your checks returned to you. With either option, you may select a style that provides a carbon copy of each check for your records.
3. A permanent record of each check will be kept by Standard Federal Savings. If you need a copy for any reason, microfilm copies of as many as 25 checks per year (or all checks relating to an IRS audit) will be provided at no charge.

SPECIAL NOTICE: CUSTOMERS 62 YEARS OF AGE AND OLDER:

Customers 62 years of age and older who have direct deposit of social security or other retirement checks into any Standard Federal Savings account will pay no monthly service charge on their checking accounts.

STANDARD FEDERAL MORTGAGE AND HOME IMPROVEMENT LOAN CUSTOMERS:

Your checking account is free of monthly service charges if your Standard Federal mortgage payments or home improvement loan payments are automatically paid each month from your checking account.

Plus . . . Safe Deposit Boxes available at this office.

Savings accounts are insured to $100,000.00 by the FSLIC. Your insured funds are also backed by the full faith and credit of the United States Government.

Medical practice opens in Park

The community may find it easier to obtain medical care as a result of the new Internal Medicine Group practice established by Bon Secours Hospital. The facility is located at 15401 East Jefferson, at Nottingham Road in Grosse Pointe Park, to serve the eastside of Detroit, Grosse Pointe, and adjacent areas.

The Internal Medicine Group is designed to aid those persons who do not have a personal physician, the hospital said. The new facility is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Appointments to see a physician may be made by calling 343-1400.

The hospital says internists emphasize prevention of disease through the education of their patients, who are both teenagers and adults. They also stress the early detection of treatable diseases including hypertension, heart disease, stroke and cancer. For the management of serious illness, internal medicine physicians prefer to provide care in an ambulatory setting unless the patient's condition calls for the acute care provided in a hospital.

The new facility serves as an important part of the recently established Internal Medicine Residency Training Program at Bon Secours Hospital, according to a hospital press release. Resident physicians will be able to follow patients for their entire three-year period of training. Patients will be able to establish a continuing care relationship with the resident physician and the supervising attending physician, the hospital said.

Ralph D. Cushing, M.D., is the director of the Bon Secours Hospital Internal Medicine Residency Program. Dr. Cushing is an associate professor in the Wayne State University School of Medicine. He has published numerous papers on infectious diseases and other topics and his work has been presented at medical conferences.

He is joined by the program's assistant director, Steven D. Gellman, M.D., a member of the clinical faculty at the Wayne State University School of Medicine.

Physicians Cushing and Gellman will instruct and supervise the resident doctors. They will be joined by the Bon Secours Hospital attending physicians who have volunteered their time to participate in the teaching of residents, the hospital said.

At present there are three resident physicians in the program: Stephen D. Hoeller, M.D., chief resident; Michael J. Drona, J.D., and Angela D. Mosley, M.D.

Pointer links high-fat diet with cancer

Norman Nigro, M.D., of Grosse Pointe, Professor of Surgery at Wayne State University School of Medicine, has written an article in the July issue of the Journal of the National Cancer Institute. Entitled "The Effect of Multiple Inhibitors of Carcinogenesis on AOM-Induced Intestinal Cancer," the paper is the result of research in the area of colon cancer treatment and prevention.

Another article by Dr. Nigro, "A Strategy for the Prevention of Cancer of the Large Bowel," was named "Best Conference Paper" when it was presented at the recent annual meeting of the American Society of Colon and Rectal Surgeons in San Francisco. Dr. Nigro also presented his paper at the World Congress held in Stockholm, Sweden, in June.

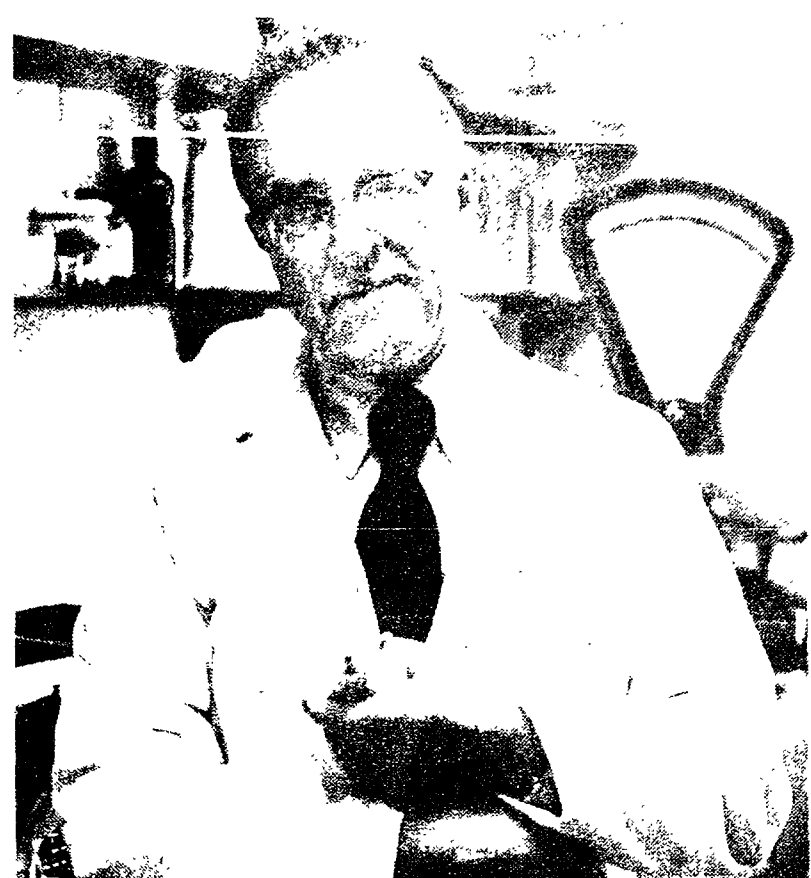

Dr. Nigro's research suggests a link between dietary habits and the incidence of colon cancer. He feels that a program of specific vitamin supplements and restricting fat intake may be a likely way of battling colon cancer, one of the most common types of cancer among men and women.

Dr. Nigro says that the findings justify the hope of success of this program in preventing cancer of the bowel in humans.

Scientific evidence indicates that diet is one of the most important factors in the development of colon cancer. National diets play a vital role in the overall health of a population, Dr. Nigro says. He points out that colon cancer is far more prevalent in Great Britain and the United States, where the diet is high in fat and low in fibers, than in Africa, where fiber is a more important and common part of the daily diet.

The dietary changes needed to reduce the incidence of cancer would include a significant reduction of fat coupled with a substantial amount of bran intake.

Dr. Nigro suggests that few would adhere to such drastic changes in their daily diets. Therefore, he is attempting to prevent colon cancer by adding specific supplements, shown to inhibit cancer growth, to a program of modest dietary change.

The studies revealed that the combination of three micro-nutrients — selenium, retinoids and plant steroids (beta-sitosterol) — plus fiber given daily did inhibit the formation and growth of tumors in the colon of laboratory animals by more than 50 percent.

The United States has a high incidence of colon cancer. Although lung cancer remains the most prevalent form of cancer among males and breast cancer among females, cancer of the colon is the most widespread cancer in the combined male-female population: About 129,000 new cases are diagnosed every year.

Surgery is the most common way of treating colon cancer, often followed by chemotherapy. When surgery is extensive and the two ends of the bowel cannot be connected, an opening called a stoma is made on the abdominal wall for the elimination of body wastes. This procedure, called a colostomy, may be either temporary or permanent.

Several hospitals and health care agencies have instituted programs to help patients and families adjust to the physical and emotional discomforts of a colostomy. Dr. Nigro, however, hopes to find more effective ways of preventing the cancer before it has a chance to grow and spread.

Future studies will explore the possibility of more effective combinations and dosages of micro-nutrients. Dr. Nigro hopes to begin human studies within a year or two.

Elderly find help at Calvary Center

The Calvary Services for Aging Adults Day Care Center in Detroit is accepting applications for its program which will open this September.

The center is the result of a commitment by Bon Secours Hospital and Lutheran Social Services of Michigan to care for the needs of the impaired elderly. It is an alternative for the frail or elderly adult with social and health care needs that do not require hospitalization.

Through a supportive group setting, the center provides a structured program of therapeutic, social, rehabilitative and maintenance care.

By providing a day program of health, nursing, nutritional and social services, with physician consultation, the center promotes a life of quality and purpose for the frail elderly and disabled adult, according to a hospital press release.

The program is open to adults who are 60 years of age or older, have one or more chronic illnesses or medical disabilities and are currently under the care of a physician, live within an area bounded by Eight Mile Road, Gratiot, Conner and the Detroit River, move with minimal assistance, are continent of bowel and bladder, and are able to use toilet facilities with minimal assistance.

The staff of the Calvary Services for the Aging Adult Day Care Center works with the participant's physician to develop and coordinate an individual program of care.

The hospital says a variety of skilled professionals are involved in the day care center program. They include Rita Munley Gallagher, R.N., Adult Day Care Center program coordinator, Cristie Hicks, registered occupational therapist, and Charlotte Hutz and Sue Silva, registered nurses. Other professionals available from Bon Secours Hospital include pharmacists, dietitians, spiritual support personnel, and other health care professionals as needed.

A fee is based on the participant's ability to pay. Adult day care is not covered by Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Medicaid or Medicare.

The Calvary Services for the Aging Adult Day Care Center is located at 4950 Gateshead in Detroit, near Mack and Moross Avenues. The center is opened Monday through Friday except on holidays. If you would like to learn more about the center call 881-3377.

ORDINANCE NO. 95

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND CHAPTER 37, ADOPTION OF STANDARD BUILDING, MECHANICAL, PLUMBING, FIRE PREVENTION, MAINTENANCE AND ELECTRICAL CODES, OF TITLE VIII, BUILDING REGULATIONS, OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE PARK TO ADOPT BY REFERENCE CERTAIN BASIC BUILDING AND OTHER CODES.

THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE PARK ORDAINS:

Section 1.

Chapter 37, adoption of Standard Building, Mechanical, Plumbing, Fire Prevention, Maintenance and Electrical Codes, of Title VIII, Building Regulations, of the Code of the City of Grosse Pointe Park is hereby amended to read in its entirety as follows:

Section 8.1: Pursuant to the provision of the Section 3(k) of Act 279 of 1909, State of Michigan, as amended, the Building Officials and Code Administrators, International Inc., Basic Building Code/1981, 8th Edition; Basic Mechanical Code/1981, 5th Edition; Basic Plumbing Code/1981, 5th Edition as amended by Part 7, Plumbing Code Rules, promulgated by the Construction Code Commission, Michigan Department of Labor, being Rules 711 through 796; Basic Fire Prevention Code/1981, 5th Edition, and Basic Property Maintenance Code/1981, 2nd Edition, and the National Fire Protection Association, National Electric Code, 1981, are hereby found and declared to be acceptable codes for such purposes and are hereby adopted by reference as in this chapter modified for the purpose of regulating the erection, construction, enlargement, equipment, alteration, repair, moving, removal, demolition, conversion, use, height, area and maintenance of all buildings and structures in the City of Grosse Pointe Park.

Section 8.2: Reference in the Codes adopted in Section 8.1 to: "name of municipality" and "state" shall mean the City of Grosse Pointe Park and Michigan; to "Department of Building Inspection" shall mean the Department of Public Service; to amounts of Fees, Bonds, or Insurance Requirements as required by such codes shall mean the amount of such Fees, Bonds, or Insurance Coverage as may be adopted by schedules of the same by Resolution of the Council from time to time; to "boundaries of the Fire limits" shall mean those areas Zoned Business; to a deep excavation shall mean one made to a depth of more than three feet, six inches, and to a shallow excavation shall mean one made to a depth of less than three feet, six inches.

Section 8.3: All violations of the codes adopted in Section 8.1 as herein amended shall be deemed misdemeanors and punishable by fine or not less than $25 nor more than $500 or by imprisonment of said 90 days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 8.4: All areas of the City are deemed available to public water supply and/or public sewer systems and all water service piping and sewers shall be installed no less than five feet below grade.

Section 8.5: Sections PM 111.4, PM 301.5 and PM 704.2 of the Basic Property Maintenance Code, 1981 are amended as follows:

(i) The number 15 is inserted in Section PM 111.4 of the Basic Property Maintenance Code/1981.

(ii) Section PM 301.5. Sidewalk, Driveway and Garage Slab Maintenance. Sidewalks on public right of way shall be maintained in accordance with the Grosse Pointe Park City Code. All other sidewalks and driveways and garage floor shall be maintained in a manner that prevents them from falling into a state of disrepair or becoming unsafe.

(iii) Section PM 704.2. Fire Alarms: All dwelling units shall contain two or more Smoke Detectors which shall be placed in the basement areas and in or adjacent to sleeping areas on each floor and, in the case of multiple family dwellings, in or adjacent to sleeping areas for each separate living unit. Fire alarms and detecting systems shall be maintained and be suitable for their respective purposes.

Section 8.6: Sections PM 803.1, PM 803.2, PM 803.3 and PM 803.4 are added to the Basic Property Maintenance Code, 1981 as follows:

(i) Section PM 803.1. Certificate of Occupancy, Conformance with Minimum Standards. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to hereafter occupy or for any owner or agent thereof, to permit the occupation of any dwelling or structure or part thereof, for any purpose, unless a Certificate of Occupancy has been issued by the Building Department with respect to such dwelling or structure under a date which is not more than one (1) year prior to the date of such occupation. The Certificate of Occupancy shall state that the Building Department has inspected the dwelling or structure and that said Department has determined that the dwelling or structure may be occupied. The Certificate of Occupancy shall bear this legend in capital letters or bold-face type: "THIS CERTIFICATE DOES NOT CONSTITUTE ANY REPRESENTATION OR WARRANTY AS TO THE CONDITION OF THE DWELLING OR OTHER STRUCTURES ON SAID PREMISES DESCRIBED HEREIN (OR ANY ASPECT OF SUCH CONDITION), AND INTERESTED PERSONS ARE ADVISED AND ENCOURAGED TO MAKE THEIR OWN INSPECTION OF THE PREMISES IN ORDER TO DETERMINE THE CONDITION THEREOF."

This section shall not apply to any lawful occupancy in existence at the time of the adoption of the Chapter.

(ii) Section PM 803.2. Application and Fee. Application for a Certificate of Occupancy may be made by the owner, or his designated agent, of a structure upon a form provided by the Department and the payment of an inspection fees as established from time to time by resolution of the Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Park.

(iii) Section PM 803.3. Inspection; Conformance with Minimum Standards. Upon receipt of the application and fee, an Inspector shall inspect the owner's structure within ten (10) days and, if such structure is in conformance with the minimum standards set forth in Articles 3 through 8 hereof, a Certificate of Occupancy shall be issued. If the structure is not in conformance with the minimum standards set forth in Article 3 through 8 hereof, the Inspector shall request remedy thereof and a Certificate of Occupancy shall not be issued until such standards are complied with to the reasonable satisfaction of the Inspector.

(iv) Section PM 803.4. Conditional Certificate of Occupancy. In the event, for any reason, an owner requests that a Certificate of Occupancy be issued prior to correction of all defects noted by an Inspector and if such defects do not, in the judgement of the Inspector, constitute material health or safety hazards, a Conditional Certificate of Occupancy may be issued upon the condition that such defects be remedied with thirty (30) days after the date of the Conditional Certificate of Occupancy and the owner's assurance that such defects will be remedied by deposit with the Department of Public Service of a cash bond in an amount not to exceed 150% of the estimated cost of remedying such defects. In the event of issuance of a Conditional Certificate of Occupancy, the owner shall notify the Inspector within thirty (30) days after date of issuance that the defects have been remedied, and a Certificate of Occupancy shall be issued and the owner's bond returned if the Inspector is satisfied as to the owner's compliance. If the owner fails to remedy the defects as agreed, the Department of Public Service may use so much of the cash bond as is necessary to remedy the defects and will return any balance to the owner. In the event the thirty-day period above provided is not adequate due to weather conditions or other circumstances, the Inspector may establish a longer period to remedy the defects.

Section 8.7: The National Electrical Code, 1981 is amended to include the amendments adopted by the Reciprocal Electrical Council on March 25, 1981, adopted by this reference with the exception of Article 331 therein. A copy of said amendments is on file in the office of the City Clerk, available for inspection by and distribution to the public and is designated as "Amendments to the 1981 Edition of the National Electrical Code."

Section 8.8: Chapter 11, being Sections 1101-1, 1101-2 and 1101-3 is added to the National Electrical Code, 1981 as follows:

(i) 1101-1 Permits: Permits shall be required for the installation of all electrical equipment in the City of Grosse Pointe Park. Application for permits shall be made to the Director of Public Service upon forms prescribed by the Department of Public Service. Permits shall be denied or revoked in any case in which the electrical work covered thereby is in violation of the National Electrical Code, 1981, as adopted and amended by this Ordinance. Permits shall be issued only to:

(1) Licensed electrical contractors; or

(2) An owner of a single-family residence which is, or will be on completion, his own place of residence, and no part of which is used for rental or commercial purposes nor contemplated to be used for such purposes, provided that such owner performs the electrical work himself in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

(ii) 1101-2 Fees: A permit for the installation of electrical equipment shall not be issued until the permit fee established by resolution of the City Council has been paid.

(iii) 1101-3 Inspection: All electrical equipment in the City of Grosse Pointe Park shall be subject to inspection by the Director of Public Service or his representative for the purpose of determining compliance with this Ordinance.

Section 8.9: Sections P 1505.3 and P 1505.3.1 of the Basic Plumbing Code, 1981 are amended to read as follows:

(i) P 1505.3 Cross Connection Control: The City of Grosse Pointe Park adopts by reference the Water Supply Cross Connection Rules of the Michigan Department of Public Health, being R 325.431 to R 325.440 of the Michigan Administrative Code.

(ii) P 1505.3.1 Inspections: It shall be the duty of the Director of Public Service to cause inspections to be made of all properties served by the public water supply where cross connections with the public water supply are deemed possible. The frequency of inspections and re-inspections based upon potential health hazards involved shall be as established by the City of Grosse Pointe Park and as approved by the Michigan Department of Public Health.

Section 8.10: Sections P 1505.3.2, P 1505.3.3 and P 1505.3.4 are added to the Basic Plumbing Code, 1981 as follows:

(i) P 1505.3.2 Access to Property: The Director of Public Service, through his representatives, shall have the right to request entry from the owner or tenant of any property within the City served by a connection to the public water supply system of the City of Grosse Pointe Park for the purpose of inspecting the piping system or systems thereof for cross connections. On request, the owner, leasees or tenants of any property so served shall furnish to the Department of Public Service representative any pertinent information regarding the piping system or systems on such property. The refusal to furnish information or refusal of access to the property at reasonable times for the purpose of conducting such inspection when requested shall be deemed evidence of the presence of cross connections existing in such water system.

(ii) P 1505.3.3 Compliance Required: The City of Grosse Pointe Park is authorized to discontinue water service after reasonable notice to any property wherein any connection in violation of the provisions adopted by reference in Section P 1505.3.1 exist and to take such other precautionary measures deemed necessary to eliminate any danger of contamination of the public water supply system. Water service to such property shall not be restored until the cross connection(s) has been eliminated in compliance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

(iii) P 1505.3.4 Non-potable Water: The potable water supply made available on the properties served by the public water supply shall be protected from possible contamination as specified by the City Plumbing Code, as amended and adopted by this Ordinance. Any water outlet which could be used for potable or domestic purposes and which is not supplied by the potable system must be labeled in a conspicuous manner as:

WATER UNSAFE FOR DRINKING

Section 8.11: Sections M 717.2.15 and M 810.1.4 are added to the Basic Mechanical Code, 1981 as follows:

(i) M717.2.15 Fixed Draft Restrictors: A fixed draft restrictor device shall be installed in chimneys or vent connectors of liquid or gas burning appliances only by an approved agency in accordance with the terms of its approval. A report of each installation of fixed draft restrictor devices shall be made by such approved agency to the Department of Public Service on forms prescribed by the Department and shall include information as to the safety of such devices and protection against the backflow of gas or fumes.

(ii) M 810.1.4 Central Air Conditioning: Refrigerating systems or units used for central air conditioning purposes and installed outside of one or two family dwellings shall be located to the rear of such dwellings no less than three feet within the plane(s) established by the side(s) of such dwellings. In no case shall such systems or units be installed:

- (1) To the side of the dwelling; or
- (2) Within fifteen feet of an adjoining one or two family dwelling, facility with a smaller hospital and close the main facility. There is an enormous amount of feather-bedding going on there.

 The charter language is flexible enough to allow the leasing of space in current hospitals. I would like to see satellite facilities that can service indigent patients who have no third party paying their costs.

The hospital deficit is $5 million and the county is out of balance $15 million. The time is long gone when government can be involved in such labor intensive industries.

Q. What can you do to clean up the Civil Service Department, the Road Commission and general county government?

A. I plan to suggest to the CEO that he appoint a professional personnel manager who can come in and do what has to be done. He should be from outside the system so he is above the infighting that goes on.

After a year, the CEO should appoint a permanent manager from outside the county to manage the department. Salaries for commissioners should be set at a base level with a per diem for each meeting. That would encourage attendance. The salaries should also be capped to keep them from calling meetings just for the money.

On the other hand, there is more to the job than just meetings. There's a good deal of reading and preparing to be done that should be compensated. But there should be a cap on the salaries. They are grossly overpaid now.

Q. How much time can you devote to county business?

A. My entire week is flexible, so I can devote as much time to the county as necessary. I have no outside job and, although I have three children, they are old enough to supervise themselves.

Q. What are the powers of the commissioners? Could they become puppets?

A. We have control over the budget, and the CEO can't do anything if he doesn't have the money. We hold the purse strings. The commission is strictly a legislative body like the state legislature or Congress. The executive and administrative functions belong to the CEO.

Q. What is the greatest need of the 1st District and how would you help?

A. Because this part of the county has been developed for much longer than the western part, we don't need as much in the way of services as they do.

Obviously, the roads need work. The communities need more help in drainage and water problems. We need the help with prisoners through Wayne County Jail.

Although we pay a per diem for each prisoner sent, it means that the communities don't have to maintain as secure facilities as Wayne County.

Under the charter, services are to be delivered county-wide. If one city wants something special, they are going to have to pay for it.

Q. If the Road Commission union is upheld, what can you do about it?

A. The CEO will appoint the three Road Commission directors who will have virtual control over the department. The commission has to confirm those appointments. The only way those people can be made responsible to provide such a service is to make sure that there is no union. There's no question in my mind that some of the positions in the Road Commission can be eliminated without hurting services.

Q. What qualifies you to be a commissioner?

A. I have been involved with county reorganization for four years and as a charter commissioner for two years. I have become not only very well informed about how this county's government works but with how others work. I have something to compare our county to.

It's because we charter commissioners have taken the time to go back and look at the history of the county and how we got where we are today that we have become more qualified than incumbent commissioners to run the county.

I know it's one thing to be idealistic and another to know the politics of the county, to know the actors in the play. You have to understand what is going on politically. Everybody has their own agenda and you've got to know what's on those agendas.

Q. Outline some of the things you would like to accomplish.

A. I would like to return some civility and integrity to county government. If you have ever attended a board meeting, there's a lot of screaming and name-calling. The present situation is a fiasco.

I'd like to restore integrity to the fiscal dealings of the county. The charter language is so specific that the commissioners would be in violation of the law if they don't bring spending under control.

There have to be major realignments of jobs and staff within county offices. I truly believe the line worker is getting the shaft when it comes to promotions. The civil service goes outside a department to hire someone. I think it would be good for morale if the line worker knew he could advance.

Q. Why are you running?

A. I have a desire to finish the job I've begun with the writing of the charter. I would feel I deserted my duty by walking away from a job half-finished.

My opponent has made absolutely wild statements about the charter since it was enacted. Only three of the present commissioners supported the charter. Mr. Steiner opposed it and when you start out like that, you're not going to have people who are willing to work together. I think to the extent we can exclude the Erv Steiners from the new Board, we can better serve the voters.

The Pointes lose friend in Sgt. Tom Chappell

By Tom Greenwood
The formal services for Sgt. Thomas Chappell were held last Saturday morning at the Verheyden Funeral Home. There, in a room heavy with the smell of flowers and with organ music playing softly in the background, a minister solemnly comforted mourners with scripture and promises of eternal peace.

The real services for Tom Chappell were held later at the Metropolitan Club on Warren Road. There, friends, family and fellow fire fighters came to remember the man they all knew and loved.

Sgt. Chappell's best friend, Fire Fighter Don Easton, recalled their camping trips together. "He was simply a great guy," said Easton. "He loved to canoe and to fish. We spent a lot of time together in Canada. I'm really going to miss him."

Fellow fireman Rob Beers remembered how Tom Chappell made him feel welcome when he joined the Farms Fire Department.

"I was the new guy," he said. "The 'probie.' He always had time to explain things to newcomers. Even though he'd been there years longer than me, he made you feel welcome."

Fireman Don Giles praised Chappell's professionalism. "Calm Tom" is what I used to call him," said Giles. "He was always in control at a fire. No matter how bad the situation was, he was always steady. He never panicked."

Farms Fire Chief Warren Schultz described Sgt. Chappell as a man "who loved helping people and the excitement of the work at hand."

"It'll be difficult replacing him," said Schultz. "It's hard to find a person combining Tom's dedication, pride and dignity."

Sgt. Tom Chappell died Thursday, July 29, in Bon Secours Hospital after a lingering illness. He served the Farms Fire Department 25 years and was planning on retiring in two years. He was 55.

Sgt. Chappell attended Firemanship Training at the University of Michigan and Arson School at Michigan State University. He attended a Fire Inspector's Conference at MSU as well.

Sgt. Chappell was also president of the Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department Association, union Local 1509. During World War II he saw destroyer duty in the Pacific Theater with the Navy.

Sgt. Chappell is survived by his wife, Sharon. Their home is on Neff

Sgt. Thomas Chappell
Road in the City. Sgt. Chappell was cremated.
Flags at the Farms City Hall will remain at half mast the rest of the week.

ROBERT E. FITZPATRICK*

• ON THE REPUBLICAN BALLOT •
AN EXECUTIVE
For Wayne County

"Their best choice cleanly is ROBERT E. FITZPATRICK, economic development director of Wayne County . . . FITZPATRICK is a problem solver not an ideologue. As a County Commissioner, he used his political savvy to engineer a pay compromise with the old 'Zak Pack.'"

As county board chairman, he presided over balanced budgets and attempts to get accountability from the regional park board. As a thinker, FITZPATRICK had the vision to be among the earliest advocates of a county executive.

In his current job he has found new uses for the old Child Development Center in Northville Township and the historic old County Building."
—Livonia Observer & Eccentric, July 29, 1982

EXECUTIVE: FITZPATRICK now is executive director of Economic Development Corporation, Wayne County

BUSINESSMAN: He has 22 years' executive business administration experience.

GOVERNMENT LEADER: Respected by peers, FITZPATRICK was elected to four consecutive terms as Wayne County Commission Chairman. Managed county budget into $12 million surplus by time he left office in 1974.

Two Democrats compete to challenge Rep. William Bryant, Jr.

The two candidates in the 13th District race for Rep. William Bryant Jr.'s seat agree on one thing: the 10-year House Republican has not delivered on promises of tax relief for his constituents.

Although both have conducted low-keyed campaigns up until this point, Democratic candidates James R. Friesema and Jane E. Stevens say they would work hard in Lansing to make lower taxes a reality in the 13th District if they are elected in the Tuesday, Aug. 10, primary.

Friesema, chairman of Wayne

County's Soldier's Relief Commission, vows he is ready to wage a door-to-door campaign against veteran Bryant if he comes out on top in the primary. A former vice-president of a family-owned printing firm, Friesema unsuccessfully ran for councilman in Harper Woods last year. He is married with two children.

Taxes, a commitment to helping out the small businessman and enticing new business to Michigan, are campaign issues for Friesema. He has not sought endorsements because "I don't want to be obligated to particular selfish or self-interest groups."

Ms. Stevens, an attorney in private practice, criticizes Bryant for his yes vote on the recent workers' compensation legislation. She believes there were no real gains for workers and would seek some other kind of reform. A Grosse Pointe Woods resident, Ms. Stevens also points the finger at Bryant for not helping to alleviate Michigan's budget woes.

Ms. Stevens, like her opponent, is interested in attracting new business to the state. She is a former candidate for the Wayne County Charter Commission and has been endorsed in the Aug. 10 primary by the UAW and the Central Citizens Committee.

The 13th District stretches through the five Pointes and a new 5,000 person of Detroit bounded by the Ford Freeway and Cadieux Road.

The News invited Friesema and Ms. Stevens to its office last week to talk about the state's finances, property taxes, abortion, the death penalty and Reagan's new federalism. Their responses begin on this page.

James Friesema

Q. Why are you running for office? What in your background qualifies you to serve in the state House?

A. I am running because I think the current representative does not reflect upon the needs of the constituency in this area. Under the democratic process elected representatives are supposed to represent the needs of the people in the area they were elected. I don't think people in this area are for increased taxes. I think someone should make an attempt to hold down costs. Property taxes should be rolled back and utility bills should remain the same. If the Ford Motor Company isn't declaring any dividends, then the utility companies shouldn't be either. I have been involved in government for many years. I'm a former supervisor of Wayne and resigned as chairman of the Detroit Port Authority before taking on my present position.

Q. What will be the major issues facing the House during its 1982-83 session? What positions will you take on these issues?

A. Not being there, I think certainly taxes are an issue. I realized everybody talks about it. Something should be done to entice business to invest in Michigan. I like to get involved with the workers' compensation bill and unemployment compensation and reduce costs to the businessman. As a former businessman, I think it's important to find out what the businessman out there on the mile roads need and see what kinds of business can be brought in to help these men. I'm a little concerned about everything. Things don't look good. You can't spend money you don't have. If it means you have to do without frills, then you do without. As a temporary measure, I would like to see the sales tax eliminated on new vehicles — even though the media says car sales are down because of the interest rates.

Q. Would you have voted for the state income tax increase this spring? Do you favor more state spending cuts instead?

A. I would not have voted for it. I think the elected officials in state government pulled the wool over our eyes on the tax increase to the extent they didn't tell my employer or your employer when the increase was to take effect. I don't think I could prophesy where cuts could come until I was privy to departments and budgets to see where the money is coming from and where it is being spent. I just don't believe in throwing taxpayer's money away.

Q. Do you favor use of state funds to pay for abortion?

A. I discussed this matter with my wife and daughter. Outside of incest and rape, it is my position that a woman has the right to do with her body as she wishes. When there is a complete fetus, I would be against an abortion.

Q. Do you favor the death penalty?

A. I'm not sure. My feelings would be pro-death penalty, but I'm always scared about that particular individual who was not guilty and who would be put to death by the state. I would believe the death penalty would curb a lot of crime we do have.

Q. What could you do in the House to improve economic opportunities in Michigan and improve economic conditions in the state?

A. I would like to concentrate on the forgotten guy — the small businessman needs a lot of help, too. If he isn't selling the small components the car companies need, how can he exist? I'm also a firm believer we have a waterway system that is not being used to

Jane E. Stevens

Q. Why are you running for office? What in your background qualifies you to serve in the state House?

A. I am running because I believe the incumbent (Rep. William Bryant Jr.) hasn't done anything for the district or the state of Michigan. He has not alleviated the budget problems in the state. We are facing an $800 million deficit in the Michigan budget right now. He has done nothing to lower property taxes and he has fouled up the workers' compensation bill. I am qualified because I am an attorney and have lived in Wayne County most of my life. I am also aware of the problems the state faces right now and the lack on the part of the administration to stop these problems.

Q. What will be the major issues facing the House during its 1982-83 session? What positions will you take on these issues?

A. Part of the problem is the workers' compensation legislation. I'm not satisfied with the way it has worked out. I don't believe there were any real benefits or changes, but I'm in favor of some kind of reform. I believe property taxes are an issue. Property in the state is unfairly assessed. The state budget is a mess right now, too.

Q. Would you have voted for the state income tax increase this spring? Do you favor more state spending cuts instead?

A. No, I would not have supported the tax. I believe state spending could be trimmed in several areas. Secondly, if property were assessed at more realistic levels, people would be able to pay their taxes. Also, if we were able to attract business into the state, we could raise revenues.

Q. Do you favor use of state funds to pay for abortion?

A. I haven't really thought that one through. I couldn't give you a definite answer right now.

Q. Do you favor the death penalty?

A. I'm not sure it would do anything. If it could be used as a deterrent to crime, maybe. I would like to see more of a focus on rehabilitation.

Q. What could you do in the House to improve employment opportunities in Michigan and to improve economic conditions in the state?

A. I think attracting new business to the state is important. If you look around, vacant industries are sitting out there. The facilities are available, the workforce is available — it would create more of a tax base and aid in the collection of taxes.

Q. Do you favor the property tax as the best tool to finance education?

A. I don't think so partly because assessments are not correct. I don't exactly know what areas the money would come from, maybe from increases in the state's nuisance taxes on cigarettes and alcoholic beverages, for example.

Q. What do you think about Reagan's new federalism?

A. I don't approve of it. It has not helped Michigan at all. Cities are not getting help. In Michigan the unemployment problem is not being considered by the federal government as it should be.

Q. Anything else to add?

A. The workers' compensation issue is very crucial. The incumbent really messed it up. The state has economic instability and it has to be corrected. I don't think the incumbent has done anything for the district or for the state. He doesn't seem to be aware of the problems.

Commissioner Steiner responds to open letter slators have passed a statute that allows cities to eliminate county tax base. Furthermore, Poletown was destroyed and Wayne County loses on the property tax base on every home that was in Poletown and General Motors is getting a 12 year moratorium on paying property taxes — which means Wayne County will get no property taxes from this area for another 12 years. Mr. Leith, I hope you use the Ren Cen often and I also hope you work at General Motors, because you are supporting these buildings with the property taxes on your home. This is just one of the reasons your taxes are going up and I will give you others as we go along.

I am glad you brought up the pay raises. It is a matter of public record that I voted against the pay raise and I am the only commissioner out of 27 who, since an expense account was voted in, has never taken a penny of expense money. Every other commissioner has taken his expense money — even those who have gone on TV saying what a bad thing the expense money and pay raise is — they still take it. You can be proud that I have the courage of my convictions.

I am pleased to see that you know the Road Commission is completely autonomous. I would like to let you know how the Road Commission has treated the Grosse Pointes. Grosse Pointe received the last complete, free repaving job done in Wayne County — East Jefferson between Alter and Fisher and Moross Road from Lakeshore to Mack, at no cost to the cities involved. When I called them to discuss the crossovers for St. John Hospital, in three days they convened a meeting and worked out the crossovers on

Erv deserves his county job

To The Editor:

In answer to Vivian F. Massa's letter in the July 29 issue of the News, doesn't it seem strange that only Erv Steiner is mentioned by name, when Senator Kelly, Senator Hertel and Sheriff Lucas' signs cover Erv Steiner's signs, but Ms. Massa does not mention them?

I feel Erv Steiner wants the job, is working for the job; that is how he has worked for us in the past — diligently and hard.

Gerry Mez
Grosse Pointe Farms

Moross Road which, I think you will agree, are very efficient. Cottage Hospital needed cones for traffic control for its fun run. It took three days to get this approved. Bon Secours needed identification for its parking lot on East Jefferson. It took a few days to get that approved. When I requested the Road Commission work with Grosse Pointe Woods on the new traffic flow on Vernier Road, they worked diligently with the Woods safety people and are still upgrading the area.

In Grosse Pointe Farms, at Moross and Mack, the Road Commission is working on a new plan of traffic flow with Chief Robert Ferber and the Farms Council. When Councilman Joe Fromm, of the Farms, told me there was a serious hazard to the safety of our children with the crossing spotlight at Moross and Lakeshore, the Road Commission upgraded the light immediately in response to my request. When Fromm notified me that the turning radius from Lakeshore on to Moross was dangerous, the Road Commission looked at it with Chief Ferber and everyone agreed on the hazard. The Road Commission reconstructed the turning radius and the situation is now corrected.

When Lake St. Clair flooded Lakeshore so many times, I went to the Road Commission for help. They responded immediately and constructed a breakwall to alleviate the problem, at no cost to our community.

Leon Sehoyan called me to tell me how dangerous the breakwall flat top was to young people riding bicycles. I called Chief Ferber, of the Farms, and Chief Joseph Vitale, of the Shores, to monitor the situation and evaluate the danger riding this breakwall would be to the children of our area. They concurred that danger existed; I contacted the Road Commission and they installed curbs within five days, for the safety of our people.

When Sr. Virginia King, principal of St. Clare of Montefalco School called me to tell me the danger their children had with the light crossing at Outer Drive and Mack, I intervened and the Road Commission corrected it within two weeks.

Lakeshore was re-paved for the Shores and would have been done for the Farms at exactly the same time, but the mayor and the council were standing on a principle, which is their prerogative.

I would also like to advise you (and it is a matter of record) that I instigated the lawsuit against the Road Commission to have the Farms section of Lakeshore re-paved, at my personal expense.

I feel the Road Commission has been very responsive to the needs of the residents of the Grosse Pointes and I have many other incidents (such as beautification plans of Grosse Pointe garden clubs) of how the Road Commission has serviced the Grosse Pointes and tried to fill all their needs.

On a grass roots basis, when three local establishments had problems with county red tape, I intervened and the problems were settled amiably for all three parties — each in one day. I spoke out openly to the hospital board against the proposal to reduce beds at Cottage Hospital. Cottage Hospital was running at 100 percent occupancy at the time and to reduce beds there was ridiculous — I stood up and was counted to support Cottage Hospital.

On a personal nature, there was a young lady in Grosse Pointe Woods who was going to be married on a given Saturday and her fiancé was coming from the east and the doctor did not send the blood test. She came to me when everything else failed and I am pleased to say she was married on the given Saturday, through my intercession on her behalf.

I am most pleased that you want to bring up the Sheriff's Department. I think the best testimonial supporting me is a Detroit Free Press editorial, "For years courts have ruled that county sheriffs are not obligated to operate road patrols. In addition to putting the deputies back to work, the Commissioners have agreed to pay the half-million dollars in unauthorized overtime that resulted from the long feud. Only one Commissioner, Ervin Steiner of Grosse Pointe, voted against this complete cave-in." I was proud and I am sure you are of me too, for standing up. If you missed the article, I have copies available.

Now let us get into the new charter. I first want one thing cleaned up. I spearheaded the new charter; I pushed for the new charter and I wanted the new charter.

The only thing I think you should know is that I am against some of the things that were blatantly left out. Things that you and I are going to suffer dearly for and the community will need me more than ever to stand up and fight for correction of these oversights.

I quote from a letter from Attorney General Frank J. Kelley's office to Gov. Milliken, pointing out "No provision is expressed for the continuation of the road system within the county. No provision has expressed that responsibility for the determination of the expenditure of all funds for the road construction and road maintenance, and for carrying out the powers and duties pertaining to a county road system."

Mr. Leith, this is the one that bothers me more than anything. The county operates with a tax limitation of 16 mills. Paragraph E of the letter to Governor Milliken says "The charter does not specify a debt limit." This means our charter commissioner has just taken the lid right off the amount we can go into debt. By taking the lid off of the debt, it now means you, the taxpayer, will have to pay more to satisfy that debt and you can thank your charter commissioner from this area for a yes vote for that. There are seven pages in this letter of what Attorney General Frank Kelley's office feels is wrong with the new charter and what was left out and what was not properly covered.

The new charter has mandated we shall run a Wayne County General Hospital, which has 220 beds and 1145 employees. By contrast, Cottage Hospital has 200 beds and approximately 500 employees. Now, they will probably run as a $20 million deficit. Thanks to our charter commissioner's yes vote on this one, too.

Furthermore, you talk about county pork-barrelling. Under the new charter, the county executive will appoint 200 patronage jobs. Again, thanks to our charter commissioner for another astute yes vote.

Mr. Leith, you can give another vote of thanks to your charter commissioner for selling out the Grosse Pointes by placing us in a position where we will have no personal representative on the Board of Commissioners, unless I am re-elected, and therefore no one to fight for the needs and services for our community. By reducing the size of the commission and consequently enlarging our area to a size twice that of the area of a state representative, we could be disenfranchised.

Ervin A. Steiner,
County Commissioner

Democrat — Thirteenth District — August 10th Primary

Education — Graduate — Grosse Pointe North High School. Wayne State University — Bachelor or Arts. Honors English Program. University of Detroit — Law School — Juris Doctor. Attorney licensed to practice in Michigan and federal courts.

Endorsements — United Automobile Workers. Central Citizens Committee.

Program — Provide a stable state government; tax relief for homeowners; change school financing; reduce income tax; provide adequate workmen's compensation; give new hope and a better life to taxpayers, women and senior citizens with a responsible government; eliminate the chaos of an $800 million budgetary deficit. Demand an explanation of what the incumbent has done and where he has been while the $800 million deficit occurred. Where was he while the $2 billion debt to the federal government occurred? The incumbent has failed to seek any tax relief. He was for a tax increase. On 7-31-80 the G.P. News indicated the incumbent was acutely aware of the state's gloomy financial picture and its expected deficit. The G.P. News also reported criticism of the incumbent because of his support of the "due on sale" clause. His failure to act contributed to the chaos, the deficit and the problems in the housing market and economic conditions generally.

Jobless rate up slightly in Pointes

More than 1,700 persons were reported out of work in Grosse Pointe during the month of June, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported last week.

June's jobless rate of 1.750 persons was up slightly over May unemployment figures, a MESCOM spokesman said, when 1,725 residents were reported out of work.

The state unemployment rate was reported up slightly in June at 14.3 percent compared to May's figure of 13.3 percent. The national jobless rate in June was reported unchanged from May's 9.5 percent.

June jobless figures for the Pointes follow:

	Percent	Persons out of work
City	7.0%	175
Farms	7.3%	300
Park	10.0%	575
Woods	8.6%	700

Figures are not recorded for Grosse Pointe Shores.

Phone blitz for Brickley

Two dozen prominent Grosse Pointers got together Tuesday, Aug. 3, to conduct a telephone blitz for the Brickley for Governor Campaign. James Perry, local chairman of the campaign effort, and Joan Woodhouse, steering committee member, organized the event.

The phones were manned by Woods Mayor George Freeman, Grosse Pointe City Councilwoman Jeanette Duffield, Park Councilman Mark Valente, Wayne County Charter Commissioner Barbara Gattorn, and two local businessmen, Bill Anton and Ed Hickey.

Other workers were Woods residents Tim Scallen, Church Schreve, Gail Perry and Bob Cleary. City workers included Bonnie and Marvayne Klein, Sandy Wakefield, Pam Gladstone, Mark Hollerbach, Rosemary Look and Stu McCubrey.

Workers from the Farms included Florence Stahl, Barb Finch, John E. Dahner, Jr., Jim and Priscilla Bolton. Shores residents who manned the phones included Lynn Jamieson and Gary Franco.

Fuel for the phoners was donated by Mr. C's Deli on Mack Avenue in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Blood drive at War Memorial

The American Red Cross will sponsor a blood drive Thursday, Aug. 12, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road in the Farms.

The Red Cross reminds donors that blood can be donated every 56 days and up to five times a year. In southeastern Michigan, all the blood used in the 75 area hospitals comes from volunteer donations through the American Red Cross Blood Services.

The average daily need, they said, is between 950 and 1,000 units of blood.

Blood can be donated by anyone in good general health between 17 and 65 years of age. The donation takes less than an hour from registration through a free mini-physical, drawing the blood and post-donation snack.

For an appointment to donate blood at the War Memorial, call Ms. Goolsby at 756-8922.

It's party time for Reading Club

The Grosse Pointe Public Library's Summer Reading Club will be hosting a series of parties next month for members at local branches.

The theme for this year's Summer Reading Club was "Camp-Wanna-Read-A-Book." Children registered for the club in June at local branches and were assigned to read as many books as they liked between June 1 and Aug. 14.

During party festivities Aug. 11 to 13, children who have read 10 or more books will be honored with certificates. Children are asked to come dressed in camp-type clothing (T-shirts, shorts or slacks) and to design their own funny hats. Parties begin at 10:30 a.m. with games outside followed by entertainment by the Mime Workshop, Inc.

The party at the Park library branch is scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 11; the Woods branch party is Thursday, Aug. 12; and the Central branch party is Friday, Aug. 13.

Forms available for beauty awards

Nomination forms for the eighth annual Grosse Pointe Woods Beautification Awards program are now available at the Woods municipal offices, 20025 Mack.

For further information about eligibility requirements, call beautification awards chairman Angelo DiClemente at 884-9400.

Award winners will be honored at a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club Wednesday, Nov. 10.

Park youths robbed

Two Grosse Pointe Park youths were robbed of their bicycles and a watch at about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, July 21, near Barrington Road and Korte, according to Park police records.

The victims told police they were approached by two youths in their teens who told them to give them their bicycles or they would be killed. The local youths complied and the thieves drove off on the bicycles, according to Chief Henry O. Coonce.

Prime Time

For Senior Citizens

By Marian Trainor

A response made in a local newspaper to a question of etiquette regarding the proper manner of addressing an older hospital patient highlighted an attitude that has become increasingly irksome to senior citizens. It has to do with the condescending manner in which older patients are addressed by young staff members.

The query contained a question about whether it was proper for physicians and nurses to call an older person by their first name.

The writer was incensed because every morning the resident physician would come by and say: "How are you today, Mary?"

"Is there no respect left in the world for one's elders?" she wrote.

She went on to say that the doctor was young enough to be her grandson and that she resented that "twerp" calling her by her first name. She pointed out that she wouldn't dream of addressing him as "Jim." He was Doctor Smith to her, (both names are fictitious).

She also included other hospital personnel. "They may think it's friendly and cute, but I don't!"

The lady went on to say that in the era in which she was raised, one didn't call someone by his or her first name until invited to do so or a friendship developed and she thinks the rule is a good one.

The expert agreed that her view was not old fashioned and that she merited being called Mrs. as a badge of respect.

Not long ago in this same vein, a feisty elder citizen complained about this same condescending manner. She objected to being treated the same as a young child. She wrote in no uncertain terms that she was perfectly capable of directing her own life and communicating with adults as an adult. She particularly objected to being talked down to and cited instances where clerks and hospital personnel had used baby talk to her. "Old ladies are not old babies," she vehemently declared.

So much for respect and ridiculous condescension.

However, there is another side to that coin. There are older people, particularly those who are long-term patients in hospitals and nursing homes who complain of being neglected and would welcome any kind of attention whether it be out of context with the expected plane of adult communication or not. In other words, they wouldn't care whether they were called by their first name or sweet-talked in nursery terms just as long as someone recognized their existence by giving them personal attention.

Good medical care, nourishing food and a clean bed are necessities, they agree, but they also feel that a bit of conversation, a smile, and a hug are the extras that make the difference between being a bed number and a feeling of worth. Experts concur. They also feel that these extras make a sick person want to get well, a troublesome patient is less demanding and those patients who see no reason to keep up personal appearances, recognize the therapeutic value of looking as well as possible.

This question of attitude toward older patients is also becoming of increasing importance among those who are in the field of gerontology.

The findings in a recent article on nurses' attitudes toward older patients highlighted some concerns. The question raised was whether nurses' attitudes towards aging and the aged are influenced by the age of the nurse, education and the percentage of time spent with elderly clients. It was felt that the values and attitudes held by nurses determined the degree of knowledge and humanistic care that is delivered to older patients.

The type of facility where they worked was also a major factor in attitude. For instance, the study showed that the differences in the degree of favorable attitudes toward the aged among registered nurses varied. Hospitals, nursing homes and home health agencies, directed by visiting nurse associations and private home agencies were considered.

It was generally found that nurses employed in nursing homes had a less favorable attitude toward older patients than those who worked in other settings and that nurses employed in visiting nurse associations have more favorable attitudes than nurses employed in private home health agencies. It was conjectured that a nurse in a private home health agency chose to work in that setting because of monetary and fringe benefits rather than because of motivation to work with elderly clients.

Regarding nurses who worked in nursing homes it was concluded that they often work under what is termed "burden of care" such as short staffing, low salary and poor fringe benefits. They are confronted daily by challenges of care for a number of elderly clients who have multiple physical and emotional problems. Subsequently they come to view their patients as more dependent and may actually foster dependence rather than rehabilitation.

The answer to these problems of older patient-nurse relationships would appear to be some corrections in the ratio of nurses to patients which would allow nurses to spend more time boosting the patient's morale, but also more importantly, training patients to help themselves.

This is essentially what both the writer who complained of disrespect and the author who was upset by being addressed as an "old baby" had in mind. They felt that implicit in the way they were addressed was an attitude of disrespect for them as a person and low expectation for their potential recovery.

They felt they were capable adults and a temporary illness did not make them less so. They were not looking to perpetuate dependency. They were seeking treatment that would put them back in the swing of activity. They were "women" not "old ladies" and, as such, should not be relegated to the same bedside manner as that is practiced in the pediatric ward.

To remedy the attitude that all old people are stereotypes of helplessness and childishness is no big deal. Some instruction in social relationships can take care of that.

However, expanding a nursing staff to make it possible to spend more time rehabilitating a client involves time and costs money. This is not to say that nurses or anyone else entrusted with the care of older patients are self-seeking or money grubbers. While they may sympathize with the patients' need and be aware that restorative care is the best care, they can only spread themselves so far. Nor should they be expected to subsidize additional staff by accepting less than they deserve.

There are no easy answers to the problem. Generally hospital costs have risen. Maintenance, equipment and supplies eat away at the budget leaving less for personnel.

It is not likely that there will be money coming from Washington to alleviate the situation in the form of support services that might make it possible for patients to leave the dependency of hospital care to go home where they would receive rehabilitation training to make it possible to care for themselves.

All possible independence is so important. A person receiving extended care during or after an illness often has a sense of frustration at their need to depend on others for basics. They feel themselves a burden and this complicates their medical problems.

Most older patients rely on Medicare or Medicaid to cover the larger share of medical expenses. It is not probable that those benefits will be raised to the point where hospitals, nursing homes or visiting nurse programs can expect more income from those sources.

Right now the budget situation is confused in Washington. The Senate has rejected the Reagan budget and passed a somewhat different version of its own. The House has not acted yet. Of the $30 billion in reductions in the now-rejected administration's fiscal 1983 budget, $17 billion would have a direct impact on programs affecting the elderly. Over half of the proposed savings would come from cuts in Medicare, Medicaid, food stamps and tax increases from households with incomes below $10,000.

The U.S. House Aging Committee recently conducted a survey concerning the reduction in or elimination of state programs under the Social Services Block Grant in fiscal 1982. Seniors would receive disproportionate cuts in social services, particularly the health impaired and home bound elderly.

We tell our youth, "be all you can be" and provide them with incentives in the way of education to reach that goal.

Should any less be done for the elderly? They need help also in the form of nursing programs that will help them to achieve a sense of personal worth. They need help and encouragement to do for themselves, to operate as independently as possible rather than sinking into a stereotype of being old, sick and helpless.

They are not "old ladies" (or "old men") or "old babies." They are special people who have earned the right to respect and dignity.

December Deadline

School study group on schedule

The steering committee and the various study groups of the Future Organization of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools have begun putting together their first preliminary report based on data, findings and suggestions made from the community, according to Edward Deeb, the steering committee chairperson.

Mission of the committee, as outlined by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, is to study such topics as enrollment projections, cost analysis by school and per student, facility utilization, finances, program offerings and staff. A full report is to be made and presented to the school board this December.

"We are fortunate to have such a fine group of dedicated citizens volunteering their time to help put this report together," Deeb said. "They have been meeting regularly and putting in countless hours pouring over suggestions and data. Because they care so much about the school system and public education, we are confident our report will be in the best interests of the total community."

Deeb said the Facilities Study Group is reviewing present facility room utilization of each building and projecting unused capacity through 1987. Current student enrollment is 8,198. Enrollment is expected to be 7,007 in the 1984-85 school year, and projected to be 6,287 in 1987-88, Deeb said. Vincent LoCicero is chairman of the subcommittee.

Alternate uses of school buildings, if any are sold or leased, are also being studied. Deeb said any alternative use will face the possibility of a zoning change requirement. Possible alternative uses are:

School-related: Administration building, continuing education, community services, playgrounds.

Community: Community Centers, parks.

Housing: Residential, senior citizen and multiple.

Commercial: Stores, nursing homes, hospital clinic, parking. Transportation costs, not now incurred, and cost (gross) per pupil for the past 10 years, and projected for the future are also being studied under a variety of circumstances, Deeb said.

The Finance Study Group is analyzing any increase or decrease in expenditures through 1987 and how it would impact the school system, among other things. Presently, the school and library budget is around $32½ million annually, Deeb said.

Chaired by Ruth Zinn, the finance group will also be projecting the school system's bonded indebtedness. Presently all school buildings are fully paid for, with the exception of North High School, South High School additions and Brownell Middle School, according to the steering committee chairman.

The Staff/Program/Instruction Study Group is reviewing education courses and opportunities related to enrollment decline, based upon possible school closings, number of classes per grade, flexibility of student placements and scheduling of subjects.

Chaired by Charles Weidig, the committee will also be studying special courses as instrumental and vocal music, physical education, library skills, foreign languages, and vocational education. Deeb said the committee is studying the most effective utilization of personnel in the future.

The Public Information Study Group has been seeking input and suggestions from the citizenry through suggestion boxes in the libraries, newsletters, and through community and parent organizations. They have organized a speakers' bureau, whereby members of the committee will appear before group meetings to explain the purposes of the committee in detail.

Chaired by Sharon Carlsen, the committee is planning a community public forum next fall to communicate the preliminary recommendations and seek additional ideas before the final report is submitted to the school board.

Committee chairman Deeb said that although the group has only been meeting since March, he did not foresee any problems in meeting the deadline for the report as requested by the school board.

"We are about on schedule at the present time," he said, "and barring any unforeseen road block, the report will be delivered on time."

Deeb serves as president of the Grosse Pointe PTA/PTO and Associated Groups Council.

Steering Committee members include Jeff Berry, Mary Ellen Floer, Deputy Supt. Dr. James Hoeh, Howard Hush, Jerry Keith, Barbara Shapiro, Suzanne Suski, Leo Warras, Joy Williams, Thomas Youngblood, school trustee Jon Gandelot (ex-officio), trustee Ronald Dalby (ex-officio alternate) and Lynne Kogel.

Staff/Program/Instruction Study Group members include, Jan Arndt, Dick Gross, Ron Thomas, Dr. Alfrida Frost, Robert Weich, Katherine Mulaney, Lois Smith, Joann Cullen, trustee Dr. Ernest Buechler (ex-officio), and board president Dorothy Kennel (alternate).

Finance Study Group members include William O'Keefe, James Waterston, Carl Lord, Therese Domienick, and trustee Joan Hanpeter (alternate, ex-officio).

Facilities Group members include Ed Haug, Fran Schoenberg, Tom Sine, Benjamin Zenn, John Lambka, David Boyle, and trustee Roger Mourad (alternate, ex-officio).

Public Information Study Group members, in addition to Mrs. Carlsen, include Alice Mtry, Carl Schossel, Frances Bassett, Diana Hunsinger, Anthony Stocki, Henry Clay, and trustee Catherine Brierly (ex-officio).

A winning idea

Michigan State University advertising student Marylisa Germain (fourth from left) and her classmates recently participated in national competition in Atlanta, Ga., sponsored by the American Advertising Federation. The MSU team won the regional competition last April in Chicago for its three-year corporate advertising campaign for Corning Glass Works. The team was one of 15 district winners competing for the national award. In all 100 colleges and universities participated in this year's contest. Ms. Germain is a 1978 graduate of Grosse Pointe North High School. Standing beside her are (left to right) Lisa Cleland of East Lansing, Todd Smircina of Grand Haven, Paul Turcotte of Livonia and Duane Crawford of New Haven.

Salaries in line with top districts

By Joanne Gouleche

In recommending salary increases for school administrators last month, Supt. Dr. Kenneth Brummel told the Board of Education Grosse Pointe should remain competitive with comparable school districts.

The board's approval of a 10 percent salary increase over the next two years leaves 37 administrators with an average yearly salary of $43,600. That figure puts Grosse Pointe near the top of the list with school districts like Dearborn, Farmington, Southfield and Troy when comparing annual salaries of elementary, middle school and high school principals.

The school system recently conducted an informal salary survey of metropolitan Detroit area school districts, according to Supt. Brummel. "Grosse Pointe is a good paying community," he told trustees. "Others are higher, some are lower."

Board members approved a 10 percent salary package which extends into the 1983-84 school year. Administrators received a 10 percent salary increase in 1981-82.

A six percent salary hike in 1982-83 leaves the highest paid administrator with an annual income of $55,169. Lowest salary paid to an administrator is $36,668. Thirteen administrators work a 12-month year while 24 are employed by the school system for 11 months.

Salary ranges for elementary school principals are between $40,580 and $45,108. High school assistant principals and principals receive salaries between $54,531 and $38,944.

Administrator raises do not include performance pay to be distributed later in increments of $250 to a maximum of $1,000.

Last year's teacher negotiations left a teacher with a bachelor's degree and no experience making more than $15,000 (minus cost-of-living allowance) at the end of the 1983 contract year. A teacher can expect to be paid more than $33,000 a year if he has a Ph.D. and 11 years tenure (minus COLA payments).

At last month's meeting, the board also approved a 12 percent pay hike for the district's non-instructional employees and other personnel for the next two years.

Trustees recently approved a $2,000 salary increase for Supt. Brummel leaving him with an annual salary of $51,000, including use of a school-owned house on Grosse Pointe Boulevard and paid utilities as part of his contract.

This year the Birmingham Board of Education gave the district's top seven administrators 3 percent raises for the 1982-83 school year. Trustees also approved between 5 to 7.7 percent raises for six of the administrators for 1981-82 retroactive to last July 1. The board's action leaves Birmingham's top school officials with salaries ranging between $47,827 to $39,140. The administrators will also receive $1,000 tax-sheltered annuities at the close of each school year.

its fullest extent. There are billions of dollars that could come into Michigan if the proper channels were used to tell Europe, the Middle East and Asia about the Port of Detroit. We have the materials, the know-how — the question is, how can we sell the Port of Detroit?

Q. Do you favor the property tax as the best tool to finance education?

A. I think we should be dependent more on the federal government. With the birth rate down and the number of school closings in our area, things are not the same as they were years ago. I still like to know what is happening to the money from the state lottery that was suppose to help finance education.

Q. What do you think of Reagan's new federalism?

A. President Reagan was elected by the people to cut back costs of running government. This is what the people asked. Federal government has become too big, strapping down the taxpayer. I'm not sure the taxpayers of the 13th District or of the state for that matter, are getting a $1 value for a $1 spent.

Dance ensemble plans workshop

The eighth annual, nine-day Nonce Dance Ensemble Summer Workshop will be held Monday, Aug. 16 through Thursday, Aug. 26, in St. Andrews Hall, 431 E. Congress in Detroit's Bricktown.

The workshop will offer 12 different classes for children and adults at various levels of skill. Tumbling, creative movement, exercise, modern, jazz and ballet are some of the classes that will be available. Classes are offered beginning at 9:30 a.m. through 9 p.m.

Prices for the series of nine classes are: $31 for 45 minutes; $42 for one hour; and $54 for one-and-a-half hour classes. Enrollment is limited and applicants will be accepted in the order of application. Tuition is due in full upon registration which can be done by mail or on the first day of the workshop if space is available.

For class schedules and registration information, call 776-3593.

In addition, the dance ensemble will hold auditions for new members at 3 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 26.

REELECT State Senator John KELLY

- Authored the bill to balance the budget and reform mis-managed Wayne County.
- John Kelly voted "NO" on both the Detroit and state income tax increases, to force government away from inefficiency and crisis-management solutions to long term problems.
- To put our depression level unemployed back to work, John Kelly proposed a public works program funded by the sale of surplus state land, not with your tax dollars.

The next step in reform

To guarantee that the next step in the reform of Wayne County government is carried out, Wayne County voters this year must elect not only a strong county executive but a Wayne County Board of Commissioners that will support county reorganization under the charter adopted two years ago.

Effective next Jan. 1, the board will shrink from 27 members to 15. Under the recent reapportionment required by the cut in the size of the commission, Harper Woods and a large chunk of territory in Detroit were added to the 1st District. This move threatens Republican control of the 1st District seat held for the past 12 years by Erv Steiner during the period when the Grosse Pointes were a much larger proportion of the district's residents.

In fact, there are four well-known candidates this year, two in each of the partisan primaries, and all four have previous experience in elective positions. Steiner faces Barbara Gattorn, who was elected to the commission that drafted the charter, while another incumbent commissioner, Norbert Wisniewski, dispossessed from his old district by reapportionment, is battling state Sen. John Hertel in the Democratic primary.

MRS. GATTORN, WHO reminds us more than 70 percent of the county's voters voted for the county charter she helped draft, wants to be elected to the new county commission to finish the job she feels the charter writers began. She is well qualified by her work on county reorganization for four years and her service on the charter commission for two years which enabled her to learn a great deal about county government.

She seeks to restore a spirit of civility to the county board so that it can work with everyone, other officials as well as citizens, to bring some order out of the county's chaotic civil service system and to bring integrity to the county's fiscal problems. It is clear that the county administrative organization needs a housecleaning which can be carried out by the new executive only if he gets strong support from the new county commission. Mrs. Gattorn pledges that kind of support.

Steiner, on the other hand, while claiming to support the charter, tended to denigrate it in his interview with The Grosse Pointe News. He claims the new commission's powers are "nebulous." He contends the new county executive will have 200 jobs to distribute by "patronage." He says the charter sets no debt limit for the county. He says no county road system is "specified" in the charter. He often sounds like a defender of the status quo.

He also sounds defensive about some recent developments in county government. He says nobody proved a leak in the civil service department was responsible for test papers being circulated in advance of an exam but still thinks everyone involved ought to be fired. He doesn't think county road administrators ought to be organized into a union but says other unions of professionals that include supervisors among their members also ought to be criticized.

Steiner says he voted against putting the proposed one-mill property tax increase on the ballot Aug. 10 and also proposed a 10 percent salary cut for all county employees and elected officials. He said his plan was voted down but the Democratic majority later adopted a similar cutback which was never put into effect because of court challenges.

Mrs. Gattorn says the proposed tax hike is "ridiculous." She believes the board should have insisted on more concessions from county labor unions, including reductions in salaries and more layoffs, plus cutbacks in extravagant fringe benefits and tighter control of pensions. She believes feather-bedding is still "outrageous" in many parts of county government and requires much tougher negotiations with county unions.

Steiner, never known for excessive modesty, says the district never will get "a better county commissioner" and warns Republicans that if he isn't nominated, "the next commissioner will be a Democrat." Steiner sees his job as "being available" for constituents who need help and insists his long experience makes it possible for him to get the county to do things nobody else could get done in the Pointes.

This newspaper believes, however, that the overriding issue is the need to elect someone who will give strong and continuous support to the county reorganization that will be required under the charter. Despite Steiner's contention he will, if reelected, help make the charter work, we think Mrs. Gattorn is the Republican candidate who would give the stronger backing to county reform as a member of the new county commission.

Hertel's surprise entry into the commissioner race no doubt was prompted in part by the reapportionment which makes the district much more attractive for a Democratic candidate. But he says he is running because he supports the new charter, because he wants the people to get the services they pay for and because he wants to participate in reforming the county government.

Like Mrs. Gattorn, Hertel believes the county board's action in proposing a one-mill tax increase at a time when most county residents east of Woodward Avenue don't get any services is "outrageous and gutless." He is extremely critical of the Wayne County Road Commission and its personnel practices and he thinks more can be done to eliminate duplication of county services by combining departments and services now offered by several departments.

He sees the new county commission serving as a "conscience" for the new county executive officer and as a strong legislative body because of its power to approve the budget and ordinances proposed by the CEO and confirm the executive's appointments.

Wisniewski, the second incumbent in the race, says he voted to put the one-mill property tax boost on the ballot in order to buy time until the board could get help from Finance Commission.

Wisniewski sees the new commissioners as being more concerned with what's going on in their districts, now that they will be a legislative body, which means they will leave the CEO to carry the burden of policy-making and reorganization. That is the way Wisniewski sees his job under the old commission too, for he talks in terms of service to his constituents, such as getting truck traffic banned from a state highway in his district, getting the railroad crossings in his district repaired and doing other chores for people in his district.

SO FOR THE DEMOCRATIC nomination this newspaper prefers Hertel as the better informed candidate about the charter reorganization and as the one who is more motivated toward solving the county's problems rather than simply serving individual constituents' needs.

A look at the 13th District race

Even though the 1982 legislative reapportionment added about 5,000 residents of Detroit to the 13th District, Republican Rep. William R. Bryant, Jr. is still strongly favored to win reelection, especially since he does not face any primary opposition.

That prospect, however, has not deterred the campaign efforts of two candidates who are running in the primary Aug. 10 to win the Democratic nomination to oppose Bryant in the November election. They are James R. Friesema, chairman of the Wayne County Soldier's Relief Commission, and Jane Stevens, a recent law school graduate who is now an attorney in private practice.

Both are making their second race for elective office. Miss Stevens was an unsuccessful candidate for the Wayne County Charter Commission two years ago and Friesema also ran in a contest for the Harper Woods City Council last year.

While the two Democrats differ on several issues, they are united on one matter: they dislike Rep. Bryant's record. Both are critical of Bryant's vote in favor of the six-month increase in the state income tax voted by the Legislature. Both favor more property tax relief and further cuts in state spending to help balance the budget. Both also see the need for state government to do more to attract business and industry to the state.

In addition, Miss Stevens is especially critical of Bryant's support for the new workmen's compensation legislation which, she claims, does not require payment of the supplemental benefits it supposedly was designed to provide. She feels Michigan has an excellent work force and good plant facilities but state government needs to do more to publicize Michigan's advantages outside of the state. She says nuisance taxes, such as those on cigarettes and alcoholic beverages, might be further increased in order to provide more relief from property taxes that support the schools.

On Reagan's new federalism, which would return some services to the states, the two Democrats are divided. Miss Stevens thinks the new federalism has not helped a state such as Michigan which has been hard-hit by the recession while Friesema says President Reagan was mandated to cut back on the costs of government and that's what he is doing.

Friesema, who had experience in the automobile business and the printing industry before taking his present job, feels that one of the state's most important responsibilities is to improve the business climate, especially for small businessmen. He favors the elimination of the state sales tax on new automotive vehicles in order to reduce prices and improve sales.

On state welfare programs, Friesema says he would favor more investigations into all phases of welfare spending in order to eliminate cheaters but believes there still are many people who need such aid. On the use of state funds to finance Medicaid abortions, a controversial issue in Michigan for many years, he favors giving the choice of an abortion to the woman involved which implies state financing for those who can't afford abortions themselves. On this issue, Miss Stevens said she had not yet reached a decision.

Both candidates couch their campaigns in general terms at the present time and neither currently would appear to threaten Bryant's hold on the 13th District seat. While we do not find too many differences between them, we endorse Friesema for the Democratic nomination on the basis of his broader experience in government and private business.

Views of the News

Who will succeed Milliken?

Probably the hardest-fought battles in this year of tough primary contests are being waged in the Republican and Democratic primaries for governor in which 10 major candidates are lambasting each other for the right to succeed William Milliken.

With Milliken stepping down after 13 years in office, it perhaps is not surprising that there would be so much Republican competition to succeed him. But on the Democratic side it is surprising that such strong challenges are being made to James Blanchard, the choice of the Democratic powers-that-be and the labor union stalwarts.

Blanchard's strongest test seems to be coming from former state Sen. William Fitzgerald. Although he now lacks the statewide party organization support given to Congressman Blanchard, he has made a contest of it and is even given a fair chance of being nominated. Blanchard's problem has been his lack of name recognition outside of his old 18th District and the Detroit metropolitan area, while Fitzgerald's unsuccessful campaign against Milliken four years ago won him a statewide reputation but not victory. Zolton Ferency and state Sens. Ed Pierce, David Plawecki and Kerry Kammer have stayed in the race to the end but are not widely regarded as likely winners.

On the Republican side, Lt. Gov. James Brickley, running as a moderate and the logical and endorsed successor to Milliken, got a break when three conservatives filed against him in the primary. They seem likely to split the conservative vote and enable Brickley to win the nomination but Oakland County prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson, insurance executive Richard Headlee and Sen. Jack Welborn are battling down to the wire. Former Gov. George Romney endorsed Headlee earlier and joined in campaigning with him last week but whether much of Romney's one-time magic can be transferred to Headlee is questionable.

Even if Brickley and Blanchard are nominated, both will be well tarred with mud from the nasty primary campaign which could leave the November election up for grabs. This newspaper sees Brickley and Blanchard as the best choices in the primary but it is not certain either or both will be nominated. If they win, the opposition in each case will have plenty of ammunition for use in the November election from the abuse dealt to each candidate by his primary foes.

A tough fight is also being waged in the GOP primary for U.S. senator for the right to challenge Democratic Sen. Donald Riegle in the fall. Riegle, a renegade Republican who served as a GOP congressman before jilting his party, is being accused, with reason, of having been on both sides of many major issues. However, he has won wide attention in the media as a Washington battler for jobs and aid for Michigan. With his background, experience and drive, he will not be easy to beat.

But four Republican challengers are making strong campaigns although, as in the GOP gubernatorial contest, they are spending more time attacking each other than the Democratic foe. This newspaper believes former congressman Phillip Ruppe is the best qualified of the challengers who also include another former congressman and legislator, Robert J. Huber, as well as Deane Baker, a University of Michigan regent, and William S. Ballenger, a former state legislator with administrative experience in Washington and Lansing.

Erv Steiner replies to open letter

To the Editor:

I would like to thank Mr. Leith of Grosse Pointe Park for giving me the opportunity to give you facts and dispell many of the misconceptions that have been perpetrated on the people of Grosse Pointe.

Mr. Leith says he was intrigued by my statement that the county is the best run government in the state. "If this statement is true, the state of Michigan is in more serious trouble than anyone realizes." Mr. Leith, you have finally grasped the situation. I have explained this to newspaper people and no one will put it in print.

Four years ago, the county had a budget of $360 million and a $20 million deficit. In 1981-82 the county has a budget of $280 million — a drop of $80 million of budget income and we have an $18 million deficit. What other governing agency can make this statement?

The county has no additional taxing power on the residents of Wayne County. So its budget income has dropped $80 million and its budget deficit has dropped $2 million.

The government of the city of Detroit admits to a $200 million deficit and has placed an income tax on the residents of Detroit plus an income tax on the suburban people who work in Detroit, increased property taxes and still cannot balance its budget.

The Detroit school board admits to a $40 million deficit, and has been voted several different operating millage increases and still cannot balance its budget. The state of Michigan has a $600 million deficit and all the taxing power in the world, a lottery, an income tax on all the residents plus an additional "temporary" income tax (which I will guarantee you will be extended right after the election, by your able legislators). If you still think the state is better run than the county, you'd better take another look at the facts.

I would like to expand briefly on the decrease in county budget income. Did you know the city of Detroit voted to forgive the property taxes on the Ren Cen building for 12 years? The county receives nothing on the Ren Cen building and this is because your state leg-

Sick and tired letter writer

To the Editor:

Upon return from my vacation, I have been going through back copies of your paper and I see the clown prince of letter writers is on the move. I am really getting sick and tired of seeing letters from this Roger Stanton, always running down everyone and everything.

If he knows so much about everything and how things should be done, why doesn't he enter government? My guess is that he doesn't have the backbone to stand up and be counted. It is much easier to hide behind the written word.

I have a mental picture of this man: small of mind, unhappy with his lot in life and therefore being envious of those in positions reached by achievement.

Perhaps the community would be better served if this person busied himself with some gainful work or charitable task and The Grosse Pointe News stopped printing his inane and childish letters that have no point, no information and serve no purpose except to insult the intelligence of your readers.

Pointes need condominiums

To the Editor:

This is written in support of Mrs. Terry Lizza's excellent proposal for rental/condominium housing to be made available to older Grosse Pointers, one of the options to be considered when the Farms council meets on Aug. 23 to consider re-zoning the Henry Ford II property.

Single-family dwellings are the ideal, certainly. But when the kids finish college, marry and move away, the family home becomes a bit too much to handle. Older Grosse Pointers, many of them, love the area but welcome the opportunity to move into smaller quarters with fewer maintenance problems.

Farms residents might explore Grosse Pointe City's success with condominium rental housing before opposing Mrs. Lizza's proposal. The beautiful Jeffersonian between Neff and St. Clair Avenues on Lakeshore/Jefferson is a splendid example of "how to do it."

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

It's August: summer's turned the corner, and the road ahead leads straight into fall — and fall could be said to officially begin in Our Town with the Annual Art Festival presented by the Grosse Pointe Artists Association and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The 23rd Annual Grosse Pointe Art Festival will be held Saturday, Sept. 11, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the War Memorial, rain or shine. One hundred and seventy artists and craftsmen have been selected from numerous applicants to exhibit this year. A waiting list of over 80 remains to be rotated into the fair in future years.

It's a far cry from the first "festival," a curbside art fair in the early 50s on Kercheval Avenue, opposite what was then Best's Store in The Village. Today's Grosse Pointe Fall Art Festival is a community event of importance, attracting artists and craftsmen from all areas of Michigan and some surrounding states.

But some things remain constant. From the beginning, new artists venturing on careers were encouraged to exhibit their work. Some of these exhibitors have gone on to become teachers, professors and directors in the arts. Some have won national recognition. Many have their own galleries. Robert Rathbun, Lorraine McCarty, Sam Sottle, Yosuke Haruta, Edgar Yaeger . . . these are just a few of the now well-known artists who have been Grosse Pointe Festival exhibitors in the past.

Pray that the sun shines Sept. 11. The Festival's grounds, but it's absolutely super outdoors. The foundations of Alger House are the perfect place to spend an autumn day browsing among fine, colorful displays, checking out oils, watercolors, acrylics, pen-and-ink sketches, chalks and photographs. Numerous crafts — ceramics, jewelry, enamel, leather and metal work, weaving, woodcarving — are featured, too.

Decorating a child's room? The Festival is The Place to find fabulous soft and wooden toys and whimsical wall hangings. Fact is: it's The Place to find a conversation piece for any room in your home, and it's a fine place to find unique Christmas gifts for family members or special friends. I can vouch for that; I picked up an enameled ladybug necklace (for someone who long ago "adopted" the ladybug as her personal motif) at last year's Festival, and it was one of my better Christmas '81 gift ideas.

As an added attraction, this year's Festival will offer a fascinating display of miniature rooms in the War Memorial's Studio I. Sixteen exhibitors will present 30 small worlds, ranging from an Arab tent to the wheelhouse of a Great Lakes freighter, from a country store to an adobe dollhouse, from a knit shop to "Pefe's Saloon."

There's no charge for looking. Admission to the Festival has always been free. Parking is free, too — but as an Old Festival Hand, I'd advise you to get there early (Continued on Page 4B)

Grosse Pointe resident KEITH CRAIN shows off one of the 120 rare and beautiful classic cars that will be part of the 1982 Meadow Brook CONOURS D'ELEGANCE Sunday, Aug. 15, at Meadow Brook Hall on the Oakland University campus in Rochester. Crain, publisher and editorial director of "Automotive News," is in charge of the program committee for the Concours, which will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is $5 per person. The event is a fund raiser for the 110-room, Tudor style Meadow Brook Hall, one of Michigan's historical and architectural treasures.

JULIE BRIDGET BLAKE, daughter of DR. and MRS. FRANCIS P. BLAKE, of The Woods, is among 45 St. Mary's College freshmen designated as Presidential Scholars. These students were selected on the basis of outstanding high school achievement and contributions to their high schools and community.

MR. and MRS. JOHN MOROSI, former residents of The Woods who now reside in Negaunee, announce the birth of their first child, a son, JON PAUL MOROSI, May 17. Maternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. PAUL GARVEY, of Lexington Road. Paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. GENE MOROSI, of Cadieux Road.

MARK VAN SILE, son of MR. and MRS. ROBERT VAN SILE, of Barrington Road, was a December, 1981 graduate of the University of Detroit, where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration, cum laude. A 1978 graduate of Austin High School, Van Sile is currently in his masters program in business administration at U of D. He also serves on the board of directors of the Emil Van Sile Company.

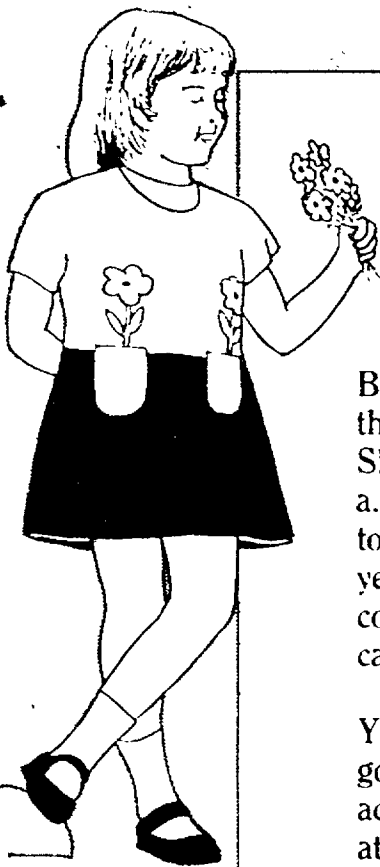

JAYNE MARIE BEACH, daughter of DR. and MRS. ALLEN R. BEACH, former Moran Road residents who now reside in Sand Pointe, Mich., and Laguna Hills, Calif., was recently graduated from Cooley Law School, Michigan State University. A graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School and Alma College, where she holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Religion, Ms. Beach will practice with David A. Williams, Attorney at Law, in Eaton Rapids.

Degree recipients at Kenyon College's 154th commencement ceremonies held May 23 included JOHN H. KAY Jr., of Grand Marais Boulevard, LOUISE MOONEY, of Washington Road, ELIZABETH C. TUDOR, of Grand Marais Boulevard, ROBERT J. BRADFIELD III, of Warner Road, MICHAEL W. JONES, of Vendome Road, and CHRISTINE E. SCHRASHUN, of Kenwood Court.

PETER TECOS, of Balfour Road, a 1981 graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School, departed for Greece June 10, where he will now reside. Tecos, whose trademark was the wearing of tails and tennis shoes, has enraptured audiences for the past three years as a violinist with the local band, "Jebazz." Tecos also performed at the 1981 Montreux-Detroit Jazz Festival.

Family picnic for Newcomers

The Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club will hold its Second Annual Family Picnic Saturday, Aug. 14 (rain date: Sunday, Aug. 15), at the Three Mile (Patterson) Park. The fun begins at 3 p.m., with beer, wine and pop provided by the club, as well as games and prizes for the children.

All members are asked to bring their own entrees — and a dish to pass. Reservations may be made by calling Don and Jeanne Harbold at 881-9587. Assisting the Harbolds with party plans are co-chairmen Russ and Jane Yamazaki and committee members Allen and Sara Burke, Jim and Marjie Berg, Jay and Carol Hackleman and Dave and Ruth Johnston.

Couples who have recently moved from an area not touching the boundaries of Grosse Pointe are eligible for membership in the local Newcomers organization and invited to contact the membership chairmen at 881-2890 or 824-2219 for further information.

Election of officers for Belle Biscayne

The American Business Women's Association's Belle Biscayne Charter Chapter will gather next Thursday, Aug. 12, at the Royal Touch on Groesbeck Highway for a social hour at 6:30 p.m., dinner at 7:30 p.m., a meeting featuring Metro Cable TV's Karen Friedman as guest speaker and Dolores Grzegorzewski as vocational speaker and election of officers for the coming year.

September will bring Belle Biscayne's Fall Enrollment Event, designed to recruit new members. Theme for this event will be "Transitions." ABWA is an organization designed to provide business women with group encouragement, professional input and friendships, and to promote self-awareness.

While membership in ABWA is by invitation only, further information on the Fall Enrollment Event may be obtained by contacting Belle Biscayne's membership chairman, Cheryl Bedner, evenings at 296-7346.

Charlevoix to host a summer art fair

Grosse Pointers vacationing in the north this month may want to drop in at Charlevoix Saturday, Aug. 14, when the 24th Annual Charlevoix Waterfront Art Fair will present 165 fine artists and craftsmen displaying their wares on a terraced park sloping from Bridge Street to the edge of Round Lake Harbor's yacht basin.

'Keeping Time' exhibit focus

The masterpiece of Detroit clockmaker Louis Meier, a 13-foot, 2,500-pound carved mahogany clock, was formally presented to the Detroit Historical Museum, installed in the Museum's Round Hall, by his grandson, Louis Meier Jr., in mid-July.

The massive timepiece was introduced in company with a display of turn-of-the-century American clocks lent by the Great Lakes Chapter of the National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors. "Keeping Time" will continue at the Museum through October.

The great Meier clock was completed in 1907, after 15 years of work. Louis Meier constructed every piece himself, working in the shop behind his jewelry store at Grand River and Gratiot. The elaborately carved mahogany case houses a large plate glass dial, a moon phase and 12 smaller dials giving the time in major cities of the world, a music box and a large globe which follows the diurnal movement of the earth.

The accompanying "Keeping Time" exhibit features American-made wall and shelf clocks produced by such well-known names as Seth Thomas, Elias Ingraham, W.L. Gilbert, Ansonia, Sessions and Waterbury.

Admission to the Museum, located on Woodward Avenue at Kirby Street in Detroit's University-Cultural Center, open Tuesday through Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., is voluntary. Additional information may be obtained by calling 833-1805.

New Christmas Store at Greenfield Village

It's midsummer — and Greenfield Village is helping visitors plan an old-fashioned Christmas right now via a new Christmas Store in the Village Craft Store.

The Christmas Store features Victorian era holiday postcards and unusual tree decorations made of tin, wood and cardboard, plus Thomas Nast's famous Christmas prints, plus miniature books and special cards featuring winter views of the Village's annual 19th century style holiday celebrations. This year's holiday program will run from Dec. 4 to Jan. 2.

The Christmas Store is open to Village visitors every day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Food shopping fine in August

Michigan food shoppers will find August 1982 one of the best months of the year. A wide selection of seasonal state-produced fruits and vegetables is coming to market. Beef prices are slightly lower, poultry prices are steady and egg prices have increased less than predicted.

While the United States Department of Agriculture wrestles with the definition of barbecue, America's backyard cooks are proving that almost any meat can be grilled. First-cut chuck roasts (wrapped in foil), top-round steak (marinated first for best results) and porkburgers are some of the more economical cuts replacing traditional steaks.

Budget-minded cooks may have to continue this economical action as retail pork prices continue to climb and retail beef prices are only slightly lower. Analysts say the high cost of money is one key factor holding down pork production.

The June USDA report showed pork supplies running below last year as much as 15 percent through mid 1982. This reduced pork supply is helping to maintain beef prices, so further reductions in beef will be minimal. Total cattle on feed in the 13 major feeding states is up four percent over a year ago but, considering high cow slaughter rates, beef industry analysts believe herd expansion this year will be small.

Broilers and turkeys will continue to be economical choices during August. Shoppers may want to add eggs to the shopping list more often as an inexpensive meat alternate.

Fresh produce shoppers will find Michigan's harvest basket filled to overflowing this month. For starters, sweet cherries and red tart cherries are still available. Inquire at any farm or orchard market with freezer facilities or in the produce department of the state's largest retail cooperatives.

Blueberry production is at the seasonal peak this week and will continue until September. Blueberries are widely available from supermarkets, city markets, roadside markets and U-pick operations. Blueberries are an ideal fruit for beginning pickers, since they literally can pick a bucket full in a few minutes.

Michigan's peach crop will peak about the third week in August. Although the national crop is down about 25 percent, Michigan has a larger crop than last year.

Calls to buyers indicate excellent quality cantaloupe are coming from local growers. More and more Michigan growers are also producing some of the specialty melons, such as Crenshaw and Persian.

Apple fanciers who have had it with out-of-state imports will want to look for Paula Red (or Paulared) apples, a home-grown, late-summer apple with all the good qualities of a top fall apple. Its slightly tart flavor is so thirst-quenching it could inspire a new pop flavor.

A backyard cookout wouldn't be complete without a salad. Start with a head lettuce from California or a combination of greens (endive, escarole, Romaine) grown right here in Michigan. The cucumber slices, tomato wedges, green pepper rings, carrot slivers and radish roses probably all originated on a Michigan farm.

Antique show/sale in Mount Clemens

The second annual Mount Clemens Antique Show and Sale will be held Saturday, Aug. 14, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Macomb Place, the shopping plaza just off Gratiot between Cass and New Streets in downtown Mount Clemens.

Mrs. Alfred J. Shaheen
Shaheen-Cosio
vows spoken

A reception at Lochmoor Club followed the early evening wedding of Mary Cosio, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jose Cosio, of Saddle Lane, and Alfred Joseph Shaheen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shaheen, of Audubon Road, Saturday, July 24, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

The Reverend Raul del Valle, who had presided at the bride's parents' wedding 27 years ago in Havana, Cuba, came from New York to officiate at their daughter's 5:30 o'clock marriage ceremony.

The newlyweds vacationed in Cancun, Mexico. They will make their home in Mexico City while the bridegroom continues his medical studies there.

The former Miss Cosio wore a traditional wedding gown, accented with lace, and a lace-edged, cathedral length veil trimmed with hand-embroidered beads. She carried a cascade of white roses centered with three Jaffet orchids.

Honor attendant Margaret Cosio and bridesmaids Melissa Cosio, Kim Gunlock, of Chicago, and Margaret Shaheen wore lavender dresses and carried free-form arrangements of lavender roses with white, miniature carnations.

Jorge Coppen, of Miami, Fla., was best man. Michael Cosio, Mark Cosio and Tom Reygaert seated the guests.

Flower girl was Erin Davies. Ring bearer was Wahib Mashini Jr.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of smoke blue chiffon. Miniature roses formed her headpiece. The bridegroom's mother selected a peach-colored dress and a white orchid corsage.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's grandmother, Stella Shaheen, and the bride's great-aunt, Julieta Fuentes, both of whom reside in Miami Beach, and Dr. and Mrs. Amado Grabel, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Help at hand for overeaters

Overeaters Anonymous meets Friday mornings, at 9:30 a.m., at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church on Maumee Avenue, between Neff Road and St. Clair Avenue. The meetings are open to the public.

Pat Kimmel, chairperson, reports: "We plan to have 35 quality dealers exhibiting a variety of antiques including furniture, glassware, jewelry, china and porcelain." Miss Kimmel adds that only quality antiques will be displayed. No reproductions are allowed.

Mrs. Palmer T. Heenan Jr.
Miss Clements married in July

First Presbyterian Church, Rocky Mount, N.C., was the setting Saturday, July 31, for the wedding of Sarah Alice Clements, of Grosse Pointe Park and Rocky Mount, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Clements, who were Maryland residents, and Palmer Tracy Heenan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Tracy Heenan, of Bishop Road.

The 7:30 o'clock ceremony at which The Reverend John Tenjack, of Detroit, and The Reverend Ron Crews, of Rocky Mount, presided was followed by a reception at Harmingdale Plantation. The newlyweds will return from a Bermuda vacation to make their home in The Pointe.

The bride wore a traditional gown of English net and peau de soie, its U-neck edged in silk Venise lace matching the lace edging of the puffed, elbow length sleeves, full, circular skirt and train. Her fingertip veil fell from a lace caplet.

Caroline Clements, of Evanston, Ill., was her twin sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Betsy and Page Heenan, sisters of the bridegroom, Leslie Hardy, of Houston, Tex., Stepany Collier, of Richmond, Va., Melinda Middleton, of Dallas, Tex., and Mary Ward Robbins, of Rocky Mount.

Their floor length, short-sleeved dresses of periwinkle blue chiffon were tucked at the hems and sashed in matching satin.

Best man was Richard B. Courson Jr., of Grosse Pointe. Ushering were Earl I. Heenan III, also of Grosse Pointe, a cousin of the bridegroom, Rogers Clements, of Charleston, Md., and D. Clark Clements, of Brookline, Mass., brothers of the bride, former Grosse Pointe Leet Edward Denton III, who now makes his home in Philadelphia, Pa., James A. Tommins, of Dallas, Eric A. Nord, of Jacksonville, Fla., and J. Russell Moore, of Montgomery, Ala.

Flower girl was Jane Ann Schmidt, daughter of the bride's sister, Mrs. Stephen Schmidt, of Rocky Mount, who wore a floor length gown of raspberry chiffon. The bridegroom's mother selected a street length, beaded, pink chemise.

The new Mrs. Heenan received her Bachelor of Science degree in Biology and Chemistry cum laude this year from Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va. She is affiliated with Iota Sigma Pi and Tri-Beta honor societies.

The bridegroom, a 1979 Washington and Lee University graduate, is now a senior at Detroit College of Law and employed as a mortgage analyst at Detroit Mortgage and Realty Company. He is a member of Sigma Chi and Phi Delta Phi law fraternity.

Mr. Bushnell weds in East

Cynthia Marie Horgan and Christopher Gilbert Whelden Bushnell exchanged marriage vows Saturday, July 17, in Saint Mary's Church, Newport, R.I. The Reverend Peter J. Maquire presided at the afternoon ceremony, which was followed by a reception at Christie's on Naragansett Bay.

The newlyweds vacationed on Bermuda, at The Coral Beach Club. They will live in Manhattan.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Henry Horgan II and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Lehane and the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Horgan, all of Newport, is a graduate of Manhattanville College and a former aide to Representative Fernand St. Germain of Rhode Island. She is now assistant beauty editor of "Mademoiselle" magazine in New York.

Mr. Bushnell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bushnell Jr., of Vendome Court and Leland. Mr. Bushnell Jr. is a senior partner in the Detroit law firm of Bushnell, Gage, Doctoroff & Heizen. The bridegroom's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Whelden, of Grosse Pointe and Leland, and the late Justice and Mrs. George E. Bushnell, of Detroit.

The bridegroom, a graduate of University Liggett School and Connecticut College and former aide to Senator Edward M. Kennedy, Senate Judiciary Committee, is now in advertising sales for "Energy User News," a Fairchild publication.

The former Miss Horgan was attended by Margaret Ann Rooney as maid of honor. The bridegroom's best man was his brother, George E. Bushnell III, here on holiday with his wife, Stephenie, from their home and his law practice in Abidjan, Ivory Coast, Africa.

Stephenie Bushnell was among the bridesmaids, as were Robin Bushnell, sister of the bridegroom, Nancy Condon, Valerie Pelzman, Mary R. Rail and Elizabeth Ryan-Pepper.

Ushers were Harry, Patrick and Kevin Horgan, brothers of the bride, Philip Alandi, Jeffrey Bauer, Jonathan Graham, Daniel Gregory, Laurence Fernberg and Charles Meehan.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of silk bombazine and Alencon lace, styled with a sweetheart, off-the-shoulder neckline, double-tiered, puff sleeves and a chapel length train, and an Alencon lace mantilla. Rubrum lilies and freesia formed her bouquet.

Her attendants' white pique and eyelet dresses were cocktail length and sashed in strawberry velvet. They carried bouquets of bolvardia, strawberry-tipped lilies and freesia.

Help for job hunters offered at Oakland

The Oakland University Continuum Center provides a variety of job-seeking services, including counseling and access to a career library, for people who are laid-off, unhappy in their present jobs or re-entering the work force.

This month the Center is featuring two one-day workshops, each slated to run from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on a Saturday. "Job Hunting Skills" (Aug. 14) will cover the basics of how to get a job. "Assertiveness Interviewing" (Aug. 28) concentrates on how to successfully interview for a job.

There is a $35 fee for each, including luncheon, and pre-registration is required. Further information may be obtained by calling the Continuum Center, 377-3033.

Strike Up the Band!
 If you've ever dreamt of leading the band, now's your chance: the Detroit Concert Band, as part of its 1982 fund raising campaign, is offering a Very Special Reward for the largest contribution received by noon tomorrow, Friday, Aug. 6. Yes, you've got to act quickly, but if you're the grand prize winner you'll receive:

- Conducting instructions from the leader of the band, Maestro Leonard B. Smith.
- A rehearsal with the band.
- A baton with which to lead the band yourself, in concert, in Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" next Wednesday, Aug. 11, at the Michigan State Fair Grounds' John Philip Sousa Band Shell.

There's a second prize, a 10-record set of Sousa's marches as recorded by the DCB, and a third prize, the four-record set of Gems of the Detroit Concert Band plus the Soloists of the DCB album. Checks should be made payable to the Detroit Concert Band and mailed to DCB American Heritage Campaign, P.O. Box 36163, Detroit, Mich. 48236.

Pointes of Interest
 Lisa Marie Marco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Marco, of South Deeplands Road, and Marian Secco, daughter of the Oscar Seccos, of Willison Road, enjoyed dinner with Prince Albert of Monaco after the Monte Carlo Grand Prix this spring. The girls, both Class of '81 Grosse Pointe North High School graduates, were abroad as participants in Michigan State University's French Art/History spring term program in Paris.

A Voice of America panel of senior editors has chosen John M. Burns, Grosse Pointe High School Class of '43, son of the late John McNeil Burns and Hattie Grace Burns (his sister, Mrs. James H. Allen, still lives in The Pointe, in The Woods), to join their roster of guest commentators critiquing world and national issues in a new series, "American Viewpoints." Mr. Burns, a former four-term member of the New York State Legislature from Manhattan's Silk Stocking area, has held executive positions with Westinghouse Broadcasting and Cable Company and Young and Rubicam Advertising Agency. He was previously a public affairs commentator for NBC Monitor.

If you heard J.P. McCarthy's morning show on WJR radio July 20, you already know that the Edward A. Smith Jr. family, of The Farms, was one of four families to win $100 in the "Say Yes" to Michigan Camping Sweepstakes. Campers qualify for the contest by registering for a day or more at any participating Michigan Association of Private Campground Owners facility (the Smiths were registered at Fitchburg Wilderness Park, Stockbridge) and may enter the sweepstakes, which continues through Oct. 31, as many times as they wish. J.P. will draw more $100 winners on Aug. 17 and Sept. 21, and will draw the grand prize winner on Nov. 16.

Twelve-year-old Erin Bruce, of Devonshire Road, has received honorable mention for her entry, "A Winter View from My Window," in Camp Fire's 1982 National Art Competition. This year's contest focused on photography as the art medium. Past competitions have been in fibers, printmaking, photography, clay, paper and painting; next year's medium will be clay. Locally, Erin's "View" took first place honors.

DIA committee seats officers
 Retiring chairman Mrs. Richard E. Hinks conducted the annual meeting of the Activities Committee of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts at the Country Club of Detroit in June. Speakers were Boris Sellars, head of the Founders Society, and two DIA Modern Art curators: Jay Belloli and Divira Taragin.

Belgrave plays Aug. 6 at DIA
 Trumpeter Marcus Belgrave returns to Detroit for 7 and 9:30 p.m. performances in the Detroit Institute of Arts' Jazz at the Institute series tomorrow, Friday, Aug. 6. Tickets for his concerts in the museum's Kresge Court are $6, available from the DIA's ticket office, 832-2730. Wine, beer, soft drinks and snacks will be offered at nominal charge.

East Pointe Adelines earn commendation
 The East Pointe Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., received an honor in the form of a resolution, commending the chapter for capturing the championship at Sweet Adelines' Region Two convention and competition in Detroit this spring, from the Mayor and Council of St. Clair Shores at a recent council meeting.

Saleswomen plan an August meeting
 The National Association for Professional Saleswomen's Greater Detroit Chapter has scheduled its next meeting for Wednesday, Aug. 11, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Ramada Inn on Telegraph Road in Southfield. Guest speaker will be Patti Lieckfeldt, ex-school teacher who is now associated with the Dale Carnegie Courses.

Reservations are required, at $8 per person, and may be obtained by calling 261-0410 or 355-2929.
 NAPS was founded in Sacramento, Calif., in June of 1980. There are now approximately 50 chapters throughout the United States. The association is non-profit, designed to offer training and education for women in professional sales and marketing careers and provide a forum for the exchange of information on professional sales techniques and potentials.

Two summer Phase I treats

A pair of summer treats is in store for members of Phase I, the group of single, young adults, ages 20 through 39, who gather regularly fall through spring for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

A Day in Frankenmuth has been planned for this Sunday, Aug. 8. Participants should meet at the side of Cunningham's in the Eastgate Shopping Center, Gratiot and Frazho, at 10:45 a.m. (look for a yellow bow on a car antenna). Departure is scheduled for 11 a.m. Those who wish may rendezvous with the group in Frankenmuth, in front of the Bavarian Inn, at 1 p.m.

Phase I's second annual picnic on the lakeside terrace at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial is scheduled for next Wednesday, Aug. 11, at 7:15 p.m. It's a brown bag affair, with everyone meeting at Alger House's front entrance circular driveway. Entertainment will feature Chet Bogan and the Wolverine Jazz Band, with vocals by Dixie Belle. Tickets are $5 per person. The concert will be held in the ballroom if it rains.

Dr. and Mrs. David B. Barker

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas J. Rudd

Barker-Loring rites are read

At home in Warren are Dr. and Mrs. David Bradford Barker who vacationed at Castle Harbor, Bermuda, following their Saturday, May 22, wedding in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe. The Reverend Jeffery S. Dugan presided at the 7 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception at Assumption Cultural Center.

Mrs. Barker, the former Joanne Frances Loring, daughter of Mrs. Gerald Stefanich, of Houghton, is a graduate of Michigan Technological University and is employed as Blood Bank supervisor at Sinai Hospital of Detroit.

She was escorted down the aisle by her brother, Robert C. Loring. She wore a traditional gown, pale ivory in color and featuring a cathedral train, and a cascade veil, and carried an orchid bouquet.

Pink orchids formed the bouquets of honor attendant Mary M. Yageman, of Farmington, and bridesmaids Sandra A. Luckins, of Belleville, and Judith C. Archibald, of Houghton, whose dusty rose dresses were floor length.

Flower girls Sara and Leah Yageman, daughters of the honor matron, and Melanie Kenny, daughter of bridesmaid Judith Archibald, also wore floor length dresses, rose pink in color. They carried baskets of daisies and baby's-breath.

Dr. Barker, a graduate of Kalamazoo College and Wayne State Medical School, currently in private practice in the Detroit area, son of Dr. and Mrs. David H. Barker, of Kerby Court, asked John L. Zuilkowski, of Wichita, Kans., to act as best man.

Groomsmen were Kendall H. Barker, of St. Louis, Mo., and Randolph Barker, of Seattle, Wash., brothers of the bridegroom. Ushers were Stephen W. Loring, of Marquette, and Robert Loring, of Jackson, brothers of the bride.

Miss Conrad is June bride

A long, princess style gown, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long, lace-covered chiffon sleeves caught at the wrists with satin buttons, was Deborah Lynn Conrad's choice for her marriage Saturday, June 26, to Douglas Jay Rudd.

Crystal pleating trimmed the bottom of the gown and continued around the train. The bride wore a full length veil, trimmed in matching lace and held in place by a lace-covered cap, and carried an arrangement of white roses, white carnations and baby's-breath.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Conrad, of Manor Avenue. The J.D. Rudds, of Lakepointe Avenue, are the bridegroom's parents.

A reception at the bride's grandmother's home on Barrington Road followed the 11 o'clock rites in Ebenezer Baptist Church, at which Pastor William Cummins presided. The newlyweds vacationed on Mackinac Island and are at home in Grosse Pointe Park.

Honor attendant Tracy Swatkiewicz and bridesmaid Rebecca Conrad, sister of the bride, wore floor length dresses, pale blue in color, accented at shoulder, hem and bustle back with ruffles. White roses, white daisies and baby's-breath formed their bouquets.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Daniel Rudd, and John Daugherty. Ushers were Mark Rudd, another brother, Steven Graham, their brother-in-law, Stirling Conrad, the bride's brother, and David Conrad, the bride's uncle.

The bride's mother wore a violet-blue dress. The bridegroom's mother chose beige silk. Each selected a cream orchid wrist corsage.

TAMRA S. NILLS, of Tonnancour Place, received a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree, cum laude, from Capital University May 16.

Linda E. Korver to wed in fall

Mid-October wedding plans are being made by the Grosse Pointe Public School System Special Education Department's Linda E. Korver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Korver, of Brutus, Mich., and Stephen W. Goodroe, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Goodroe, of Griffin, Ga.

The bride-elect, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Michigan State University and a Master of Social Work degree from Wayne State University, is a member of Delta Delta Delta, the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Citizens and the Junior League of Birmingham.

Her fiance received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Georgia, where he affiliated with Sigma Chi. He is central division sales manager for Procter & Gamble in Cincinnati, O.

Officers installed by Alpha Mu DKG

Bayview Yacht Club was the scene of festivities as officers of Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, an international, honorary organization for women in education, donned their gold-trimmed red robes to initiate two new members: Mary Beth Carduck, English teacher at Brownell Middle School, and Mary Jane Failla, music teacher at Richard and Trombly Elementary Schools.

Installation of officers for 1982-84 followed the initiation ceremonies. The chapter's new president is Barbette Balcirak. First and second vice-presidents, respectively, are Betty Durkin and Arlene Nowak. Corresponding and recording secretaries, respectively, are Doris Zenn and Blanche Keften.

The annual meeting and luncheon program also included a Founders' Day ceremony, planned by Virginia Downs and Betty Durkin, honoring Dr. Effie Downer, one of DKG's state founders, and announcement of this year's Alpha Mu "Woman of the Year" award recipient. She is Marion Hendee, a past chapter president and former Social Studies teacher at Par-

Cottage hosts nine students

Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe is again conducting summer orientation programs for area college students pursuing health care careers. Nine undergraduates are spending two months in a departmental rotation program which introduces them to all facets of community hospital activities.

Cottage is one of the few Detroit area hospitals to offer this program to pre-Med or Public Health students.

Participating in the program from Grosse Pointe are David Jankowski, of The Shores, and Roger Shammass, of The Woods, both Michigan State University students, and Robert Jones, of The Park, a student at Albion College.

From Harper Woods comes Brian Murphy, a student at Wayne State University. Timothy McNally, a student at Northern Michigan University, is from St. Clair Shores. Joyce Blazewski, Wayne State University, and Gary Stano, Alma College, are from Detroit.

Alma College student Frederick Reynolds is from St. Clair. Daniel Sherrill, a student at Michigan State University, is from Augusta, Md.

Summer strolls through history to end Oct. 31

The Detroit Historical Society's Sunday Strolls program of casual — but educational — walking tours through metropolitan Detroit's historic neighborhoods, business districts and cemeteries, now in its fourth year, has grown from the first year's four walks to the current program of 15 three-hour guided tours starting at 2 p.m. on designated Sundays, running from April to October.

Tickets for the walks ($3.50 per person, $2.50 for members of the non-profit sponsoring organization) are sold by advance reservation only. There is a limit of 70 strollers per tour.

The second half of this season features two tours which have been added this year: Woodmere Cemetery (Aug. 22) and the Boston-Edison Historic District (Oct. 3).

The Woodmere tour will be guided by Society volunteer Fern Freeman, who specializes in colorful anecdotes about early Detroiters and local folklore. She will trace the background of the non-denominational cemetery, founded in 1867 on what was once a favorite Indian hunting and camping place. Woodmere is the burial place of lumber baron David Whitney, Rabbi Leo M. Franklin and businessmen Benjamin Siegel and James Vernor.

Miss Freeman is one of the Society's most popular tour guides. She also conducts tours of Elmwood and Mount Elliott Cemeteries, and has prepared a slide talk which includes a walk through Detroit's most interesting burial grounds.

Prominent local architect Gordon Bugbee will re-introduce tour participants to Downtown West on Aug. 29. His stroll covers the Beaux Arts-inspired Silvers Building (formerly Manufacturers Bank), the Art Deco Guardian Building, the WPA Classic Federal Building and other prominent structures in the area.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the Detroit Historical Society, 833-7934, between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Chili Cook-Off slated Aug. 22

Detroit area chili cooks gather Downriver, in Lincoln Park's Memorial Park at Fort and London Streets, Sunday, Aug. 22, to compete in the first annual American Lung Association Chili Cook-Off.

The program runs from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will include a full day of activities for children and adults. In addition to sampling the creations of 30 chili chefs, the public will be treated to the music of "Kentucky Fiddler" Burgess Broyles and his group and the country sounds of the B.C.B.'s.

There'll be arts and crafts booths, square dancing, games, clowns and plenty of food. The American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan will be offering free lung tests.

ALASEM is now accepting applications from contestants for the cook-off, a district competition sanctioned by the International Chili Society. First, second and third place prizes will be awarded. The first place winner also gets a contestant seat at the State Chili Cook-Off in September.

Admission to the Aug. 22 cook-off is $2.50 for adults, $1 children under 12. Entry fee for accepted contestants is $25. Further information and contestant applications may be obtained by calling the Lung Association, 961-1697, between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Make plans now to see puppets

The largest display of puppets ever assembled in North America, a double bill of two of the country's most successful touring exhibitions, starts a six-week run at the Detroit Institute of Arts Saturday, Sept. 11.

Advance reservations are recommended for the show, which continues through Sunday, Oct. 24. Tickets ($3 for adults, $1.50 for children 12 and under) are on sale now, with date and choice of entry time specified at half-hour intervals so that families and individuals may enjoy the huge exhibition without waiting in line. There is a special student group rate.

Mail order coupons will appear in newspaper advertisements. Tickets also can be bought at the Art Institute's Puppet Ticket Office or charged by phone (832-2730) on Visa, MasterCard or American Express.

The exhibition brings together for the first time in one city "The Art of the Puppets," displaying 25 years of Jim Herson's creative group, and "Puppets: Art and Entertainment," organized by the Puppeteers of America to show 800 years of puppet magic.

The museum will use two floors of its Ford Wing to install this assembly of more than 300 puppets in colorful displays, along with historic TV replays of famous puppets in action. Howdy Doody, Kukla and Ollie and such Muppet characters as Kermit the Frog and Miss Piggy will be among the stars.

There will also be frequent daily demonstrations of the development of puppetry as an art form. "All in all," says Dr. Audley Grossman, the DIA's curator of Performing Arts, "there has never been a puppet extravaganza like this in the United States — possibly it is the largest of all time. It's a feather in Detroit's cap to have both exhibitions at the same time."

View Lamaze film at Cottage

The movie "Nan's Class," illustrating the Lamaze method of prepared childbirth, will be shown at 8 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, Aug. 6, in Conference Room A at Cottage Hospital. No fee or reservation is required.

The film is presented as a public service by Childbirth Information Service Inc., a non-profit, volunteer group providing childbirth preparation classes to expectant couples in the northeast metropolitan Detroit area. Information regarding CIS classes may be obtained by calling the registrar, Nancy Todorovich, at 731-0277.

Gowanie Golf Ladies hold July tourney

Theme of the Gowanie Golf Club Ladies Association's annual invitational tournament, held this year on Thursday, July 15, was "Dell of the Daisies" (a translation of the Scottish word "gowanie"). Following a continental breakfast, bagpipers in full regalia heralded the tourney's start. Luncheon and the awarding of prizes followed play.

Flight A winners were Lou Bowling and Betty Davis, of Lochmoor; Martha Cartledge and Elsie Kasper, of GAM; and Helen Ryan and Madelen Hutchison, of Burning Tree.

Flight B honors went to Irene Clegg and Jaz Maxwell, of Salt River; Gert O'Connell and Carol Schwartz, of Hillcrest; and Pat O'Connor and Margaret Van Goethem, of the Country Club of Detroit.

Flight C winners were Jo Chynowski and Eva McDougall, of Lochmoor; Mary Kramer and Virginia Burchett, of the Country Club of Detroit; and Bev Kjos and Diane Simmons, of Lochmoor.

Flight D winners were Linda Hamilton and Fern Brent, of Lochmoor; Rosemary Quasarno and Betty Kimmont, of Black River; and Aileen Swaney and Pat Cosgrove, of Lochmoor.

The event was co-chaired by Lee Grainger and Janet Schummel, with assistance from Ardeth Brown and Florence McDonald. Luncheon hostesses were Irene Cornillie and Dorothy Clute. Linda Hamilton and Gert O'Connell were in charge of prizes, and Gowanie members John Hodge and his committee assisted the ladies during the tournament.

Artists Market funds go to WSU students

Three graduate and one undergraduate Wayne State University art majors have received tuition awards from the Detroit Artists Market Scholarship Committee, chaired by Grosse Pointe's Mrs. John C. Emery Jr.

The $1,500 Frances Sibley Alexander Award went to painter James Pudjowski, of Dearborn, the $1,500 Katharine Preston Dennes Award to printmaker Janet Sutherland, of Ferndale. Ella Immerman Foundation Awards of $500 each were given to undergraduate ceramist Sandra Berlinger, of Fraser, and painter Robert Hyde, of Warren.

To encourage young talent, the Artists Market rotates its awards each year, alternating among WSU, the Center for Creative Studies and Cranbrook Academy of Art. The awards are named in honor of long-time members of the Market's board of directors.

New American Shapes for hair

Classic bobs and short, shingled cuts have been updated with permed volume by hairstyling authorities of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association to compliment the fashion world's current emphasis on the 20s. Labeled American Shapes, the new bobs are featured in medium and above the shoulder lengths. Short cuts feature modernized shingle shaping on the nape together with volumized tops.

Special effects lift hair volume off the scalp, creating graduated free-flowing texture.

"The popular bobs and shingled cuts of the 20s were the winning shapes of that decade. The influence of award winning films about the 20s has created a fashion focus on winning looks for fall-winter, both in apparel and hair design," says Doris Williams, styles director for the association of 50,000 cosmetologists and hair stylists.

"The beauty of the volumized bob and short, shingled cuts is their versatility," says Ms. Williams. "The bob can be styled to reflect a 20s look or combed into fresh, new shapes that enhance architectural fashion shapes and the new mini skirts as well as over-the-calf dresses and riding pants looks of today."

To achieve the new textured looks on the bobs and shingled cuts, cosmetologists and hair stylists will be using clippers, thinning shears, razors and scissors. Ms. Williams explains. Perming is described as a most important ingredient of the bobbed shingled looks, allowing more versatility and newness.

Golden glistening adds special sparkle to the Fall-Winter American Shapes. Other fashionable hair-colorings for the new season include polished lights, petal lights and color progressions.

The new American Shapes for Fall-Winter are especially designed for the active life and are perfect for winning athletic endeavors, including running and aerobic dancing. "The volumized styles fall back into place due to the endurance of today's new innovative perming processes," says Ms. Williams.

The 20s influence also moves into hairfashion looks for fall-winter, calling for a well proportioned American Shape Extra volume in the front allows the versatility of wearing the hair down over the forehead or swept back away from the face for a more formal look. The style can be worn with or without a part.

Additional volume in the male American Shape is achieved through special textured perming techniques.

American Shapes were premiered in mid-July in New Orleans at the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association's Annual Show of Shows and Convention.

★ ! HELP WANTED! ★

Local Realtors are losing their "FOR SALE" signs at an alarming rate. Since there is about $50.00 investment in each one, we ask your help in retrieving them. If a prankster deserts one on your property, would you return it, please, to any local real estate office? (No questions asked!)

Many Thanks!

As a member of a local exchange, a REALTOR has the opportunity to trade information and ideas on a regular basis with fellow professionals and to work with them for community improvement. REALTORS often serve on planning boards, zoning groups, city county commissions and other organizations that promote community well-being and progressive development.

When it comes to price, locating buyers, maintaining your privacy and peace of mind, making the sale... make it easy on yourself. Call a member of the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Exchange today.

A REALTOR is a licensed real estate broker who is a member of the local exchange, state association and the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS. Through their membership, they voluntarily pledge themselves to an established Code of Ethics.

A REALTOR is a professional. He or she has a lot of background in the field, and is better equipped to do what is called "strategic marketing." Today's marketplace requires that kind of sophistication. Get some for yourself. Call a REALTOR.

It's Not Enough Just To Have Your Blood Pressure Checked!

If it's high, you have to stay on your medication to keep it under control. Some 34 million Americans have high blood pressure, but only half of them know it. And of those who know it's high, more than half of them don't have it under control. Left uncontrolled, high blood pressure may lead to stroke, heart attack or kidney failure. The Michigan Heart Association is fighting to reduce early death and disability from heart disease and stroke through free blood pressure screenings, research, and educational programs. For free pamphlets about high blood pressure control, contact your local Michigan heart office.

Toujours Trigere

Vintage Rolls-Royces and vintage Trigere clothes shared the spotlight at the elegant Pointe home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Yates II this summer, as the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Jacobson's of Grosse Pointe gave a Preview Party for Benefactors of the Saturday, Sept. 11, "Toujours Trigere" fashion fund raiser for the DSO. The vintage autos are owned by Mr. and Mrs. Yates. The clothes were brought here by JEAN-PIERRE RADLEY (above), Pauline Trigere's son and president of Trigere, and modeled by members of the Women's Association including a trio of local ladies: MADO (Mrs. Kin K.) LIE, pictured with Mr. Radley, DEE (Mrs. Ramon) BRINKMAN, at right, above, and STEPHANIE (Mrs. Frank A. Jr.) GERMACK, left, president of the DSO Women's Association. Other Grosse Pointers in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. John E. Young Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. LoCicero, Judge and Mrs. Peter Spivak, Dr. and Mrs. Michael Bucciero, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Simonds and Clarence Wascher, manager of Jacobson's Grosse Pointe. Ms. Trigere will be here in person to present her current fall collection along with the vintage collection at Jacobson's in-the-Village Sept. 11. Mrs. E. David Auer is chairing "Toujours Trigere." Arrangements are being handled by Mrs. Young, invitations by Mrs. Charles Dalgliesh Jr., reservations by Mrs. John St. Clair.

ELEGANT EATING

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth presenting, this week, a second pair of SALADS WITH CHICKEN.

CALCUTTA CHICKEN AND RICE SALAD

- 3 cups cooked rice
- 2 cups diced cooked chicken
- 1 cup diced pineapple, canned in juice
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1/2 cup diced green pepper
- 1/2 cup low-calorie mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup skim milk yogurt
- 1/4 cup low-sugar apricot preserves
- 3/4 tsp. curry powder
- 1/2 cup grated cholesterol-free cheese

Combine rice, chicken, pineapple, celery and green pepper. Blend together remaining ingredients except cheese. Stir into chicken mixture. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Chill. Serve on salad greens. Garnish with grated cheese. Makes 6 servings. Calories per serving about 324. Cholesterol about 35 mgs.

HOT CHICKEN SALAD

- 4 medium-sized potatoes
- 3 cups cooked diced chicken or turkey
- 3 strips cholesterol-free bacon
- 3/4 cup onion, thinly sliced
- 2 Tbsp. flour
- 1 Tbsp. sugar
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. prepared mustard
- 1/2 tsp. celery seed
- 1/2 tsp. paprika
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 3/4 cup water
- 1/3 cup vinegar
- 4 stuffed olives, thinly sliced

Scrub potatoes thoroughly, place in steamer and cook until tender. When cool enough to handle, peel potatoes and thinly slice them into a salad bowl. Add chicken or turkey.

Fry bacon according to package directions until crisp, drain on paper towels; when cool crumble. Save 2 tablespoons of oil from bacon and saute onions in the oil until tender. Add flour, sugar and seasonings. Stir to blend thoroughly. Stir water and vinegar slowly into onion mixture over low heat. Boil 1 minute.

Pour dressing mixture over the potato and chicken mixture and mix lightly. Chill in the refrigerator at least 1 hour to blend flavors.

Reheat over low heat. Garnish with crumbled bacon and sliced olives. Makes 6 servings. Calories per serving about 250. Cholesterol about 46 mgs.

Have you tried one of Elegant Eating's past recipes, loved it — and lost it? T.G. Open Moross House Aug. 8

Moross House, headquarters of the Detroit Garden Center, located on East Jefferson Avenue, opposite the University Club, will be open to the public Sunday, Aug. 8, from noon to 4 p.m. Mrs. Joseph A. Neaton, a charter member and past-president of the Greater Detroit Chrysanthemum Society, will be present as guest garden consultant. Anyone is welcome to bring a small specimen of a "problem" plant to her for diagnosis.

The House, oldest brick residence (circa 1840) in Detroit, restored to its original graciousness between 1971 and 1973, will also be staffed for tours. The building is a property of the Detroit Historical Department. Further information on the DGC may be obtained by calling 259-6363 any Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

To present Career Options workshop

Maryann Mahaffey, Detroit City Councilwoman and ex-social worker, will be the keynote speaker at a career transition workshop entitled "Career Options in Business and Industry for Human Service Professionals" running from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, Aug. 6, at the Northfield Hilton Hotel.

The program, presented by Career Consultants, includes a panel discussion featuring area corporation representatives reporting on the corporate response to "social workers" who apply to their organizations.

Afternoon sessions, presented by experts with human service backgrounds, will focus on resume reconstruction, time management and the professional job search, "career decisions you won't regret" and skills transfer for today's job market.

Lunch and career transition materials are included in the registration fee of $50 at the door. Further information may be obtained by calling 863-9551.

Computers hum in classrooms across America this fall

The new technology in the classroom, centering on computers, will be old hat to many students in more than half the nation's 16,000 school districts this fall.

According to a study by the Department of Education, approximately one of every four public schools (about 22,000) currently has at least one microcomputer or computer terminal for instructional use by students.

The schools represent one-half of all secondary schools, 14 percent of all elementary schools and 19 percent of all other types of schools, such as vocational, special education and combined elementary and secondary schools, according to the government's 1981 survey.

"Computers in the classroom mark a significant change in the educational process," says National Education Association President Willard McGuire. "It is natural for teachers to have a number of questions about them. The so-called 'human issue' — whether computers will possibly replace teachers — is one of these questions, while a second is the effectiveness of the new instructional techniques."

Many children have had their first introduction to computers through computer games, complete with sound, color, explosion, striking targets and other such phenomena. The problem of changing the mind-set of a child exposed to Star Wars, Pac-Man, Galaxy and similar games to be receptive to a computer programmed for reading, arithmetic and other academic subjects — and to make the subject equally, or more, interesting — is one of the major challenges faced by teachers.

"Currently, teachers are spending hours adjusting computer programs, often written by computer company employees who aren't teachers, to classroom work, to the objectives of the academic courses and to the learning experience of the student," notes Javetta Richardson, program coordinator and member of NEA's Instructional and Professional Development staff.

Many NEA teachers have taken part in organized discussion panels on quality control in the educational computer world. They've analyzed and debated how teachers can help manufacturers of computers and computer programs better meet the needs of classroom teachers and individual students.

In the near future other emerging technologies are expected to join computers in the classroom. The NEA and the American Broadcasting Company have been working cooperatively on SCHOOLDISC, a program that permits videodisc instructional material to be used with or without a computer hookup. A nationwide pilot program involving SCHOOLDISC is being carried out by the United States Department of Education.

The NEA has also announced publication of an important new book designed for teachers of all content areas and at all grade levels, "Computers in the Classroom," edited by Henry S. Kepner Jr. and with a foreword by Bruce E. Brombacher, 1982 Teacher of the Year, gives full attention to instructional uses.

Tigers win Farms title

For the third time in the last four years, the Tigers have won the Farm-City Babe Ruth League Championship, capturing the title with an overall 18-2 record. The league record for the fewest losses in its 25-year history was shattered by this year's hard-charging Tigers.

Leading the Tigers in pitching wins this year were Rob Wood with seven, Jeff Cunningham with six, Matt Lane with three and Bob Gillooly and Rick Leonard with one each. Heavy hitters were evident throughout the Tigers' season with 15-year-olds Matt Lane (.439), Jeff Cunningham (.403), Lee Bauer (.340), and Anthony Eugenio (.366) leading the way. The 14-year-olds also provided very strong support with Wood (.455), Gillooly (.306), Bill Adlhoeh (.393) and Peter Muer (.271).

"Rookie" first baseman Tom Fellows led the team in putouts with 93 while committing only one error in 20 games. Brother Dave Fellows, also a "rookie", was the team's most versatile fielder as he served as a starting outfielder most of the year as well as the back-up catcher spot.

Rick Leonard and Jeff Steele both played flawless defense as Tiger outfielders. Rick Jungwirth played extremely well in the second half as he played flawlessly at third base and avoided striking out even once throughout the last 10 games. Tim Nugent, "rookie" shortstop, broke his leg just prior to the start of the season but found his way back onto the field with four games to go.

The Tigers were managed by John Hoben and coached by Dick Nugent and Don Eugenio.

Hockey camp at local rink

The Grosse Pointe Community Rink will sponsor an ice hockey training camp from Monday, Aug. 23, to Saturday, Aug. 28, and again Monday, Aug. 30, to Saturday, Sept. 4.

The camp consists of four sessions, with two for B classification players, one for travel-oriented players and one for the over-12-year-old player.

Each session has three hours of on-ice instruction and two hours of off-ice instruction. Each session costs $90 with a special price for goaltenders.

The camp is directed by Jay Peacock, varsity hockey coach at University Liggett School. Assisting will be Tom Costello, Grosse Pointe Bruins coach, Mike Costello, Marquette University goaltender and an ex-Junior Red Wing, and Mark Fabray.

Top archery spot goes to Ms. Grindler

Lisbeth Grindler, 28, of Detroit finished in the top 10 among women archers at last week's National Sports Festival in Indianapolis, Ind. Grindler, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, of the Park, compiled 2,408 points for a seventh place finish. Grindler was the only Michigan woman to place in the top 10; she finished 102 points behind the winner, Luanne Ryon, of Parker Dam, Colo., who had 2,510.

Grindler will travel to Oxford, Ohio, this week to compete in an archery tournament at Miami University. The tourney is one of the top three archery tournaments in the United States.

Braves take Babe Ruth title

The Braves won the Park 1982 Babe Ruth title by beating the Dodgers two games to one in a rematch of the 1981 series which the Dodgers had won. Both teams combined for a record 58 runs and 43 hits during the three games.

The Dodgers won the first game, 7-2, behind the five-hit pitching of Richie Waller, who struck out four and walked one while allowing only one extra-base hit. Meanwhile, the Dodgers got four hits off losing pitcher George Nemech but were aided by seven walks and four Brave errors.

Rick Whitney led the Dodgers offensively with a single and two RBI. Chris Ross, Tim Fordree and Al Ament had the other Dodger hits.

Game Two was a different story as the Braves won a 14-12 slugfest. J.B. Valente led the Braves with three hits and four RBI. "Rico" Cordova also had three hits for the Braves, two of them a double and a triple, as the Braves banged out six extra-base hits. Dan O'Grady scored the winning run after he doubled home two other runs with two out in the bottom of the sixth. Dan Kohur scored two runs and knocked in two more for the Braves. Alex Mellos had the other extra-base hit for the Braves.

Cordova got the win for the Braves in relief of starter Mellos. Whitney lead the Dodgers for the second game in a row at the plate going three for five with a double and four RBI.

Fordree and Ted Centers chipped in with two hits each. Chris Ross took the loss for the Dodgers in relief of starter Rick Whitney.

Game Three was a 12-11 come-from-behind win for the Braves. Andy Bedsworth's sacrifice fly with one out in the bottom of the seventh scored Alex Mellos from third base to cap a four-run rally. The win gave the Braves the series.

The game looked like a walk for the Dodgers, who scored 10 runs in their first inning. The Braves battled back with five runs in their own first inning, and kept chipping away at the Dodger's lead.

Braves' starting pitcher George Nemech found his control and settled down to go the distance and pick up the win. At one stretch, Nemech retired 12 consecutive batters, striking out three and walking only one after the first inning.

Valente lead the Braves at the plate with a single and four walks. Alex Mellos had two hits and Cordova, Mike MacMichael, Mark Sabella and Kurt Liebold had two RBI each for the Braves. Dave Arnold was the big hitter for the Dodgers, going three for four.

The Braves are sponsored by Valente's Formal Wear and are managed by Mark Valente. Coaches are Dean Valente, Joe Younes and John Bedsworth. Members of the 1982 champion Braves include Dan Kohut, Alex Mellos, George Nemech, J.B. Valente, Andy Bedsworth, Rickie Cordova, Kurt Liebold, Mike MacMichael, Rodney Goin, Steve Mellos, Dan O'Grady and Mark Sabella.

Woods-Shores takes twin bill

Brian Nettle pitched an opening game no-hitter against the L'Anse Creuse 13-year-old All-Stars as the Woods-Shores team took the first game of the best of three series 12-1. The team banged out 15 hits against L'Anse Creuse.

Colin McNeill led the team's hitting attack by going four for four while Nettle went three for three. Catcher Mike Trombley, who caught 11 straight innings, chipped in with 3 hits in five at-bats. Shortstop John Laskarides saved the no-hitter in the sixth with a good defensive play.

In the second half of the twin bill, pitcher McNeill almost emulated Nettle's opening game by holding L'Anse Creuse hitless through five innings. Woods-Shores continued its hitting streak by scoring six runs on six hits in the first inning. The team won 17-4.

McNeill was relieved in the fifth by Jay Messner, who held the L'Anse Creuse team hitless for his two innings of work.

In the seventh, Woods-Shores scored seven runs on two hits. Each base runner stole his way around to third base and scored on a passed ball — except for Scott Reiter — who stole home.

McNeill went three for four with Jack Williams, Dan Wood, and Nettle adding two hits a piece. Woods almost pulled the play of the game with a throw to first base to pick off a runner after he netted a line drive to right field.

Manager Dick Wasung and coached Dick Reiter and Dale Wood agreed the team conducted themselves well and that the Woods-Shores Babe Ruth League had every right to proud of the young men representing the League.

The All-American League 13-year-old All Stars are: Mark Jacobs, Mark Bente, Scott Reiter, Colin McNeill, Brad Cooksey, Michael Trombley, John Laskarides, Jack Williams, Brian Nettle, Chris Rodrigues, Brian Reid, Brian Metry, Jay Messner, Dan Wood and John Heilscher.

The Woods-Shores team was coached by Dick Reiter and Dale Wood and managed by Dick Wasung. Savos Laskarides was the team's scorer.

Krickstein is top tennis seed

More than 275 young male tennis players are at Kalamazoo College's Stowe Tennis Stadium this week for the USTA National Junior Tennis Championships. The tournament began with match play on Saturday, July 31 and will end with the finals on Sunday, Aug. 8.

This year's top seed in the age 16 division is Aaron Krickstein of the Pointe. At age 14, he is one of the youngest players in the 1982 tournament. Krickstein won the Clay Court Championship, defeating Richey Reneberg, and reached the semi-finals of the National Hardcourts. Krickstein was the 1982 Class C-D Michigan high school state tennis champion.

John Ross of Gainesville, Fla., and Jonathan Canter of Beverly Hills, Calif. are this year's top seeds in the 18 age division. Top-seeded Ross won the Easter Bowl defeating Charles Willenborg. He was a finalist in the Clay Courts, losing to Willenborg, and reached the semi-finals of the National Hardcourts. At Wimbledon, he reached the quarter-finals and got to the doubles finals with partner Rick Leach. Ross is ranked No. 9 nationally.

Canter, the No. 2 seed, is the youngest player ever to have computer points. This year he concentrated his play on the men's tournaments. On the junior circuit, he was a finalist at Wimbledon and played in the Italian Open.

The No. 3 seed in the age 18 division is Tim Pawsat of Santa Ana, Calif. He won the National Hardcourts, defeating Brad Ackerman, the 1981 National Boys' Champion. Pawsat was undefeated in round robin play at this year's Junior Davis Cup camp.

G.P. City tennis champs crowned

Grosse Pointe City crowned tennis champions in seven divisions at the annual tennis tournament at the Elworthy Field Courts on July 25. Following are the divisional winners.

In the boys' 12 and under division, Philip Orton defeated David Rivard, 6-2, 6-1. Chris Coddens defeated Kelly Rivard, 4-6, 6-4, 7-6, in the girls' division.

In the men's singles play, Bruce Shull topped Todd Liebbrand, 6-2, 6-3, to earn the title. Shull then teamed with John Lund to defeat Curt and Todd Liebbrand in men's doubles action, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

In women's doubles, Fay Robb and Emily Baker took the title by beating Crit Liebbrand and Tom Robinson, 6-2, 6-1. Jean Rivard and Ward Krull beat Ruth Stuberouch and John Lund, 6-1, 7-6, in the mixed doubles portion of the tournament.

In the Parent-Child division, Jean and Greg Rivard edged out Bob and Michelle Coddens, 7-6, 5-7, 6-3, to take the title.

Hydro driver on win track

Dick Delsener, of the Farms, is on his way to another fine season of hydroplane racing. Delsener owns and drives "South Paw," an 850 cc. limited class hydroplane. So far this year, he has finished third in the Eastern Divisionals and taken first place in the Wolverine Regatta at Raleigh, N.C. June 20.

In 1981, Delsener competed in six races, including the nationals, and placed third or better in five of the races. His outstanding performance in 1981 earned him the Marine Prop Riders' Rookie of the Year Award.

GPHA program opens this month

Although last winter seems like it was just last week, it's that time of year again — time for the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association to kick off its 1982-83 program. More than 400 players are expected to participate in the GPHA's various divisions this season.

The GPHA has prospered over the years, as Pointe area merchants have continued to support the hockey programs in its entirety by offering to sponsor the various house and travel teams. Their assistance has been a critical factor in the success of the program and the results which have been attained.

Last season, the GPHA Midget House team won the state championship, while the Squirt House team traveled to Houghton and finished in the second spot in the state. The GPHA's travel teams were also worthy opponents in all divisions as the Pee Wee "AA" team reached the semifinals and the Bantam "AA" team was a finalist in the state playoffs.

The GPHA's 1982-83 program begins with a series of clinics which will be held at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink in August. There are clinics being scheduled for every age and level of experience with the emphasis on the development of skating skills, hockey expertise and fun for the player. Many of the clinics are designed to hone the skills of new and returning players prior to the tryouts, which are staged from mid-August through early September.

Registration for the GPHA's 1982-83 season will be Saturdays, Sept. 11 and Sept. 18, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe Community Rink on Canyon between Warren and Mack Avenues. Any questions regarding registration should be directed to Rick Semack, at 882-5011, or Tim Sullivan, at 886-4033.

The times and dates of the various pre-season clinics will be released at a later date. The clinics will be conducted and supervised by experienced hockey coaches familiar with coaching and training techniques, including coaches who have lead successful GPHA teams.

GPHA president Semack notes that tryouts for the Midget "A" team will be held this month. Tryout dates are Tuesday and Thursday, Aug. 17 and 19, at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Aug. 25, at 10 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 29, at 7 p.m. and Thursday, Sept. 2, at 6 p.m.

Any player interested in the Midget "A" tryouts should contact coach Tom Costello at 839-6754 or 964-2565, or report to the rink at the designated times.

The GPHA's program is designed for all players between the ages of 5 and 18, with special consideration paid to each age level. Fees are nominal and the experience is rewarding for the player and his family, the GPHA says. Anyone interested in sponsoring a Pointe team this season should contact Ron Warezak at 881-5923.

Morketter earns Leelanau award

Jill Morketter, of the Park was honored during Leelanau School's spring sports banquet May 30. Morketter was named the softball team's Most Valuable Player.

Morketter, daughter of Mrs. Janet Morketter, of Bedford Road, did not confine her talents to the Leelanau softball field this season. As one of Leelanau's top female runners, Morketter participated in the Leelanau Challenge, a 25 kilometer race, on May 29. Morketter finished the race in 2:50:40.
