"When you support Christian doctrine, someone is here to support you. That has been very helpful to me. You get the chance to clarify your values and build your integrity."

TAMARA KNOWS a lot of teens don't enjoy the openness she shares with her parents about sex, "but if that's the problem, then there has to be a solution. Parents get angry. Well, of course, they should. The government is giving their kids drugs with their tax dollars."

Although it will not be directly affected by the new law because it is not federally-funded, Becky Reedus, executive director of the Family Life Education Council in Grosse Pointe, worries the regulation will increase the risk of pregnancy among teens.

Less than 10 patients under 18 years of age visit FLEC for oral contraceptives each week, Ms. Reedus said. Number one on their list is the pill.

"It's the most widely requested method of birth control. In fact, when they say birth control, they mean the pill," said Ms. Reedus, who also worries local teenagers will think FLEC has to abide by the new law and therefore open themselves to the risk of an unwanted pregnancy.

"I personally feel (the law) is going to have an affect on teens seeking contraceptive care. Most of the kids that come in here are sexually active or will become sexually active.

"Sexual education and talking to parents is so important. But you can't stuff it down their (teen's) throats. If it's not there by age 15, I don't think it will ever be."

Ms. Reedus added that despite the federal ruling, teens can still get abortions without parental consent.

In the school lunchroom last week, Tamara's friends say they admire her but some don't necessarily agree with what she says.

Friend Marie Haller brags Tamara is "phenomenal." "Hey, I'm proud to know her. It's phenomenal she had the courage to stand up in front of the country and say what she feels."

tions pretty much in stride until they learned of the pink walls. And what goes with pink, all you boys and girls in preppy land? Green alligators!

The stencil for the alligators was designed by Sue Kenyon, married daughter of Farms Lt. Ignatius Backman. The good lieutenant himself sprayed the reptiles on the walls (and door) of the holding room. Then he got out of town.

Chief Ferber, (known for his sense of humor), swears it was all done on personal time.

"Actually, it's been pretty effective so far," said the Chief. "Most prisoners walk in, see the pink walls and preppy alligator and start to laugh. If we can calm them down that way, then we've done what we started out to accomplish."

Unfortunately, the pink walls won't get them into the record books. Apparently Hamtramck was the first Michigan jail to paint its walls pink.

However, the alligators should make them a shoo-in for the Preppy Handbook. Unless the U.S. Supreme Court makes them remove the reptiles. Probably something about "cruel and unusual punishment."

The people of St. Paul Church, where he was a member of the Ushers Club and the Men's Bowling League, also knew Ed Lauer, a World World II veteran, as an outstanding person, according to St. Paul pastor Monsignor Francis X. Canfield.

"Ed always kept up his great interest in young people and the young people all liked him in return."

Many of those young people will return to St. Paul today to say goodbye to their coach, their athletic director, their friend. Some people may have been members of Lauer's first championship team, some may have benefitted from his coaching prowess, but it is sure that all were touched by Ed Lauer, a very special man.

Funeral services for Lauer will be held today, Thursday, Feb. 10, at Van Lebergh Funeral Home, St. Clair Shores. A 10 a.m. Mass is scheduled at St. Paul on-the-Lake Church. Interment will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Lauer is survived by his wife, Mary (Midge); a daughter, Mrs. Paul (Mary) Gnepper; two grandchildren, Bradley and Adam; two brothers and several nieces and nephews.

Workers picket Children's Home

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Child care staff at the Children's Home of Detroit staged an informational picket in front of the facility Friday afternoon, Feb. 4, in hopes of moving management to a more reasonable wage offer, union officials said.

About 30 picketers carried signs in the near-zero wind chill that read "We give support to the children, but we can't support ourselves." "We give them love but we can't live on love" and "Management is bargaining unfairly."

AFL-CIO Local 1640 president John Waller said the picketing was informational and didn't foretell a strike at the 150-year-old facility that offers care for children with emotional disturbances.

"WE DON'T want to strike," he said. "It wouldn't be fair to the kids and would disrupt their lives."

Waller said talks are scheduled to resume between the two sides Monday, Feb. 14. No strike vote is planned by the 65 members of the local, he added.

Children's Home administrator H.E. Tammelaid, through his secretary, said the home "was not in a position to discuss the picketing because we are in the middle of negotiations."

Children's Home attorney James Heimbuch said the facility had a long-standing policy of not discussing labor demands during negotiations.

"Our policy has been that while we are in the midst of negotiations, we do not discuss the issues outside the bargaining room," Heimbuch said, adding the home may make a statement at some future time.

"I don't feel free to discuss the issues absent the authority of the home," he said.

Waller said the child care staff signed a two-year contract last year that had a re-opener clause for wage negotiations in the second year. Last year, workers settled for a lump-sum raise while giving up step-raises, annual raises on the anniversary of the employee's starting date.

"We give support to children, but can't support ourselves"

According to one staff member who wished to remain anonymous, the home was offering workers a 2 percent wage increase.

LAST YEAR, the union had asked for 10 to 15 percent wage increases with cost of living benefits, Waller said, but settled for $600 lump sum raises.

Waller said the staff is one of the most experienced in the state and most workers have college degrees. Waller said he has been at the home for 17 months and earns about $8,400 a year, about $4 an hour based on a 40-hour week.

The facility will not open its books to union bargainers, Waller said, even though the home has in the past said it could not afford to pay the higher wages.

Picketers were from off-duty shifts and Waller came on his day off to walk the line. Workers scheduled to begin work at 5 p.m. would lay down their signs and go to work to keep from disrupting the children in the home's care, Waller said.

Originally called the Protestant Children's Home of Detroit, the facility was founded in 1836 in the wake of a cholera epidemic. Once located on Jefferson Avenue, the home originally cared for seven orphans at an annual budget of $200.

The home now occupies 11 acres in Grosse Pointe Woods and offers care to emotionally disturbed children aged 6 to 12 as a voluntary, non-profit, non-sectarian residential treatment center.

A program of case work, group work, structured group living, special education, psychiatric consultation, medical, recreation, religious programs and summer camp are offered to the residents of the facility that has a capacity of 62.

Farms boathouse gets green light

By Tom Greenwood

Members of the Farms Council last month gave the go ahead for the construction of a new recreation building at the city's Pier Park.

The new building will be built on the site of the old boat house, which was erected shortly after World War I. According to Farms City Clerk Richard Solak, demolition of the structure will begin immediately after permits are pulled from various utility companies.

Solak estimated that obtaining the permits could take as long as six weeks. The city had considered delaying construction of the building until after Labor Day, so that no disruptions of summer activities in the park would occur.

However, the city advanced its construction timetable when it realized that considerable savings could be gained by commencing construction immediately.

"This will result in some hardship and inconvenience to our residents during the summer, as well as to our city operations at the park," said Solak. "We hope to minimize the effect of this construction on those using the park and ask for the cooperation of our residents during this period."

According to Solak, the new building will be one story with approximately 4,788 square feet, compared to the existing building with 4,150 square feet.

The building will be brick and will include a common room big enough to accommodate 110 persons, with a fireplace and studio ceiling.

Wash rooms will be enlarged to accommodate the handicapped and the building will be barrier-free. A small kitchen will supply a meal warm up and service area. The building will also contain storage areas, a small office and a maintenance and support service area for park personnel.

The cost of the building is about $400,000, much of which is underwritten by funds received by the city in a bequest from the estate of the late Benjamin Long. The bequest from Mr. Long was the cornerstone in the founding of the Grosse Pointe Farms Foundation, created in May of 1980 to receive and administer funds to provide facilities and services for the benefit of citizens through grants to the city or to established organizations.

"To date, another $80,000 has been received by the Foundation in donations from private citizens to supplement the bequest from Mr. Long," said Solak. "But additional funds will be needed to complete both phases of the park improvements in the future, including a relocated gatehouse and a redesigned entranceway into the park off of Lakeshore Road."

Solak added that those interested in making monetary donations, or "in-kind" services or materials such as bricks for the new structure can contact the Grosse Pointe Farms Foundation at 90 Kerby Road, the Farms, 48236.

County to collect summer levy

The Board of Education of the Wayne County Intermediate School District last week voted to collect its tax levy during the summer as provided by state law, according to a press release.

District Supt. Dr. William Simons, said short term investment of the tax would produce additional funds, particularly for the support of special education programs in the county. The summer collection was termed as a "good business practice since it did not involve any tax increase," the release said.

The Intermediate School District levies 1.1 mills, which includes .03 of a mill for operating tax; .07 of a mill for debt service; and 1 mill for special education. Most of the 1 mill tax for special education is distributed to local school districts, the district said.

Last March the Grosse Pointe Board of Education abandoned a proposal for summer tax collection in the district because authors of the plan were not sure how it would affect residents.

Supt. Dr. Kenneth Brummel told school trustees that while a summer tax collection would lift a financial burden off the schools, the plan might also be a loss for many taxpayers who pay their levy directly and who are knowledgeable investors.

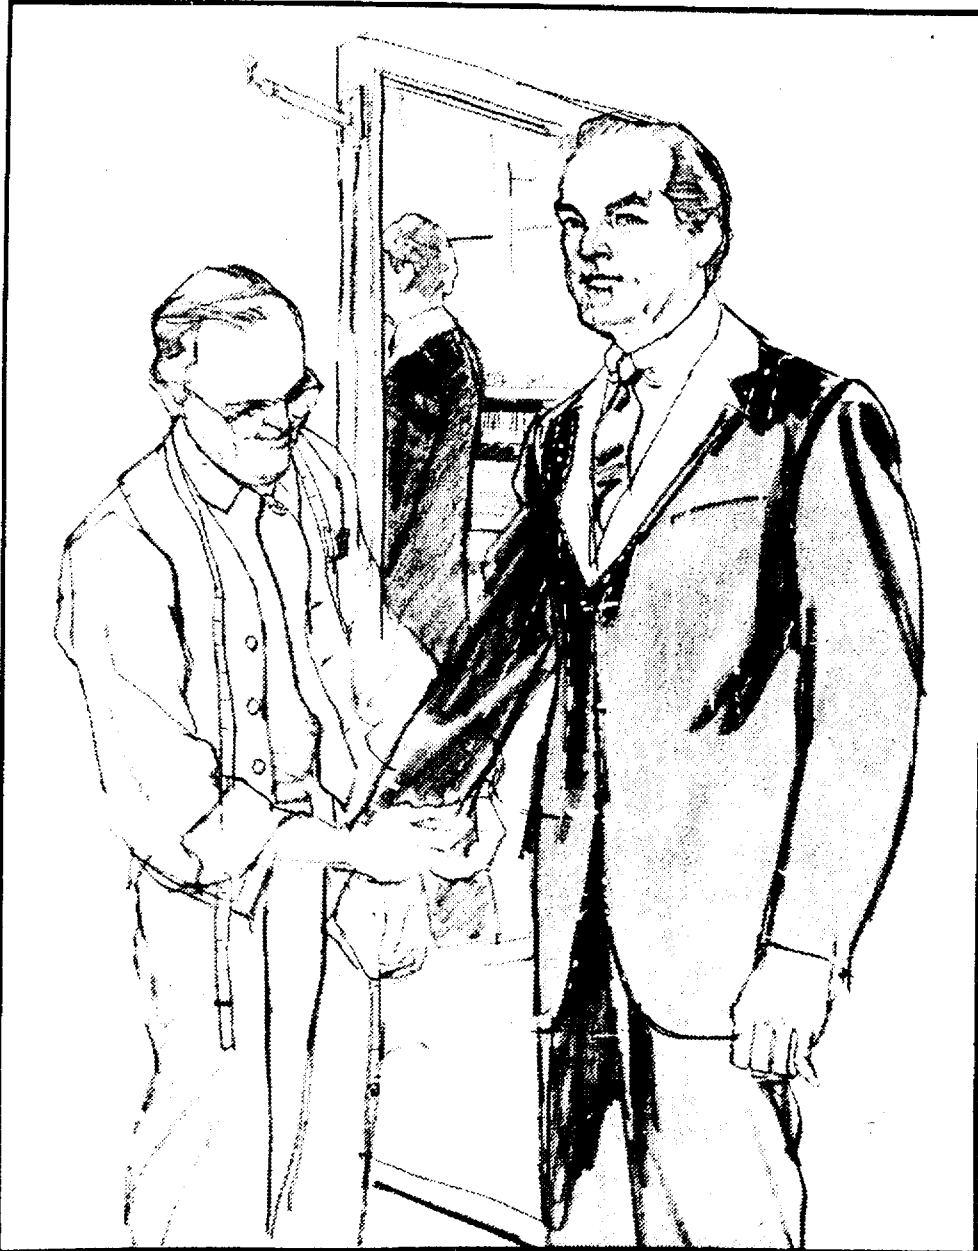

Dr. Brummel introduced the summer tax plan to the board in Dec. 1981 when a technicality in the state school code was removed allowing the district to implement a full or split summer tax collection. A 100 percent summer tax collection would have generated about $2 million for the school system, Dr. Brummel said.

School administrators pointed out a summer tax collection would help pay for many first-of-the-year bills that are currently paid with cash-on-hand or against future tax collections under its current winter tax collection.

Although the Board of Education dropped the summer tax plan, trustees said the plan should not be forgotten as a future revenue source for the district.

"Most folks spend money they haven't got on things they don't need to impress people they don't like." — Dr. Joseph Peck.

Woods has good year

By Mike Andrzejczyk
Grosse Pointe Woods ended fiscal 1981-82 last June 30 with a little more money than the year before, according to an annual financial report prepared for the city by the auditing firm Coopers & Lybrand.
In addition, the city trimmed an estimated $100,000 deficit by cutting back on its capital improvements to end the year with a $60,000 paper deficit.
Fund balances from the fiscal year before and an anticipated contribution of $50,000 from the city's parking meter fund left the city with a general fund balance of just over $76,000 to begin the new fiscal year, about $11,000 less than the year before, the report showed.

The workshop, led by Mary Loomis, Ph.D., a Jungian analyst, will focus on the archetypal foundation of dreams and their therapeutic value. Participants will learn various techniques for working with their own dreams to understand what their unconscious is saying to them.

Woman cut by assailant

A Grosse Pointe Park woman was treated at Bon Secours Hospital last week for severe hand cuts suffered while she tried to fend off an attacker, according to Park police reports.
Chief Henry Counce said the woman, a 27-year-old restaurant worker, cut two fingers of her left hand to the bone when she grabbed the knife wielded by a man who apparently was trying to abduct her.
The incident occurred on Thursday, Feb. 3, after the victim was involved in a minor traffic accident on Mack Avenue near Alter Road, Counce said. The woman's car was rammed in the rear by another auto. She pulled into a driveway to talk to the other driver, but he drove off, Counce said.

But another man, the suspect, approached the woman's car, asked if she was injured and got in, police said. He demanded she drive him somewhere and when she balked he pulled a knife which the woman grabbed, according to police reports. The woman drove down Alter then cut over to Maryland and rolled out of the car when she spotted pedestrians on the street.
The car continued traveling down Maryland until it hit a porch at 1080, Counce said. The suspect fled on foot.

ments is really "a mixed bag" for homeowners.
"A 5.6 percent drop really isn't much of a different. It doesn't mean the values of the community are falling away, but it doesn't mean all's well either, especially when you go to sell your house," he said. "I guess the only thing worse than having values go up is having values go down."

Later that day, Park police arrested a man who fit the description of the suspect. He was turned over to Detroit police on outstanding traffic warrants and may stand in a line-up for possible positive identification later this week, Counce said.

Thieves strike Lakeland home

Grosse Pointe City police this week reported two burglaries over the Feb. 4 weekend.
Police said a thief broke into a doctor's office on Mack Avenue on Feb. 4 and took some syringes. Police report the thief may have hurt himself since blood-spattered window glass was found at the scene.
A Lakeland resident told police someone broke into his home on Feb. 4 through a rear door and took a man's watch, a ring and some coins.
Police are still investigating the incidents.

A little something extra in the search for love

"People look down on you if you're overweight"

By Mike Andrzejczyk

"Help me."
That is a common request from letter-writers and ad seekers at Preferred Singles, Inc., a dating service which began as a way for overweight people to meet and form friendships and long-term relationships, according to company founder Harry Newman.

In a nation that worships thin and svelte, diet food and exercise, overweight people find themselves being rejected simply for being overweight, said Newman, who's 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 240 pounds.

"You don't have to be obese to be overweight," he said. "People look down on you if you're overweight. They think that you're dirty, sloppy and don't wear nice clothes. That's not true. These things happen all the time. People look at it like a disease or something."

Preferred Singles offers a chance to meet other people who will accept the physical aspects of a person and judge after looking at the whole person's personality, characteristics and lifestyle, Newman said.

He got the idea for a dating service for overweight people after he was rejected by both women and other dating services because of his size, Newman said.

One woman, he said, talked with him on the phone, and praised his personality and asked to meet him.

"We sat in a Big Boy for three hours and talked the way you would talk with your wife or girlfriend," he said. "I never saw her again. She kept stalling me. I finally cornered her and asked her why. 'I don't like overweight people,' she said."

On another occasion, he set up a meeting with a woman at a shopping center. Newman told the woman he was overweight, but when they met, the woman walked up to him, said "You're fat. I don't want you," and "left me standing alone in the middle of the mall," he said.

Newman said he was unsure of the response he would get from people when he first started the company, but said interest from the media and the public has reinforced his feelings that a service like his is needed.

Newman has represented the company on the "Sonya" show, WXYZ radio, and has an appearance set for Friday, Feb. 18, on "Kelly & Co."

"I don't think we'd be getting the response we're getting if there weren't a need for this," he said. "Today, the worst thing people can go through is loneliness; feeling that no one wants you. That's far from the truth."

Preferred Singles will be ready to put out its first monthly listing in March, Newman said, and the company is offering a Valentine's special through March 31, cutting $2.50 off its regular advertisement charge.

"We've had a lot of anxious and heart-warming letters," he said, adding one letter-writer had said, "Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah, it's about time."

To place an ad, a person can write to P.O. Box 36291, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236. A 30-word ad costs $16.50 with 35 cents for each additional word, Newman said. A three-month ad costs $40.

Names, addresses and telephone numbers are kept confidential, he added. Each person receives a code number, and replies to that code number are forwarded to the person.

The Valentine special cuts the cost of a 30-word ad to $14 for one month, he said, adding the offer is limited to one month.

The format allows an advertiser to decide what they want to reveal of themselves, Newman said, while giving each person the monthly newsletter to give them a chance to decide which ads they want to respond to. Letter-writers are not exclusively overweight people, he pointed out, and include those who would not be considered overweight who want to meet someone who is.

Other dating services, if they take overweight persons at all, will give a member three of four names and tell them to make contacts themselves, Newman said. His service allows the advertiser to decide who they want to meet or correspond with, he added.

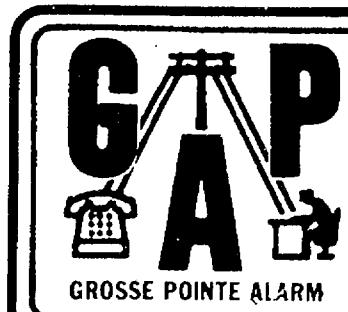

"They're fed up with bars and want to meet someone who will accept them for what they are," Newman said. "The fear is of rejection is quite large in people's minds. None of us like rejection."

"There are a lot of beautiful people out there," Newman said. "The letters make it all worthwhile."

For more information about Preferred Singles, call 771-1900, or write Preferred Singles, P.O. Box 36291, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236.

Group home is LWV topic

The controversial issue of placing developmentally disabled adults in community group homes will be the topic of a forum next week sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe. "New life in our Neighborhood" will be held in South High School's room 164 on Tuesday, Feb. 15, at 7:30 p.m.

League past-president Frances Schonenberg will moderate a panel including Marty Cope, human services provider for the League of Goodwill and president of the board of Housing for Exceptional People; Virginia Knoblauch, chairperson of the local Group Homes Advisory Council, and Ellen Rapkin, manager of the St. Ambrose Project, a group home of League Goodwill. In addition, Dr. Anne Weinstock of the Southgate Regional Center, which covers Grosse Pointe, will also be on hand.

Mrs. Knoblauch's Group Homes Advisory Council was formed last year to serve as liaison between the community and the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Citizens. The latter group has been working for several years toward the goal of opening a group home for some of the area's mentally retarded adults.

There are no residential group homes for developmentally disabled persons in Grosse Pointe at present. The state Department of Mental Health licensed such a home in Grosse Pointe Park in 1981, but the project was dropped after a circuit court judge found evidence of conflict of interest in the licensing process.

For more information call 884-1958 or 343-0403.

Virginia Knoblauch, (left), chairperson of the Group Homes Advisory Council of Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods, will join Frances Schonenberg, past-president of the local League of Women Voters, at a forum about "New Life in our Neighborhood" on Tuesday, Feb. 15, at 7:30 p.m. at South High.

The Grosse Pointe chapter of Parents Without Partners will meet Friday, Feb. 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road.

Vernick who will present his musical photo paintings. Dual projectors will roll the scenes as selected music plays to accent the theme or mood. Vernick returns by popular request, according to the group.

PWP welcomes new members. To be eligible, a person must be the parent of one or more children and single. PWP meets every second and fourth Friday of the month at the War Memorial. An afterglow follows the meetings at the Knights of Columbus Hall at 10 Mile and Little Mack.

Call the PWP Hotline, 881-5893, for more information on membership and meetings.

Einstein's life is Feb. 15 topic

Two dates remain in the public planetarium show, "The Universe of Dr. Einstein," held Tuesday evening in the public school's community planetarium at North High School.

Planetarium director Tim Skonieczny said that "the stupendous scientific discoveries of Albert Einstein are interspersed with vignettes from his colorful life."

"The Special Theory of Relativity is explored in a series of humorous but powerful examples. The most famous of all equations, E=mc<sup>2</sup>, is explained in easy-to-understand terms," Skonieczny said.

The show, which lasts about an hour, begins at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, Feb. 15 and 22. Fee is $1.50, payable in advance through the public schools' Department of Continuing Education, 260 Chalfonte Avenue.

Registration is necessary as seating is limited. For more information, call 343-2178.

the county board's commission public information office said.

Serving as chairman of the Audit Committee will be Richard Manning. Vice-chairman is former board chairman Samuel Turner. Members include Mary Dumas, Arthur Carter and Bernard Kilpatrick.

Hertel was also named to the Public Safety and Judiciary committee. Chairman of the committee is Dumas, vice-chairman is Jackie L. Currie.

Other committees formed include a Ways and Means committee, trimmed to six members compared to 27 under old commission rules, Human Services, General Government and Public Works committees. A committee of the whole consisting of all board members was also formed.

Senator Kelly to chair economic development committee

First District State Sen. John Kelly "substantially upgraded" his committee assignments this year with appointments to Finance and Municipalities; Corporations and Economic Development; and Administration, Rules and Elections, he said last week.

Kelly, 33, who represents the five Pointes and northeast Detroit, will serve as vice-chairman of Administration and chairman of Corporations and Economic Development. The Democratic senator is beginning his second four-year term in office after defeating Republican John Laue in the November election.

Kelly said he considers his leadership role on the Administration Rules and Election committee to be especially important because that committee will be handling legislation to reapportion legislative districts. A reapportionment plan was approved last year based on 1980 census data, but Kelly said the Democrats will seek to revise the districts in 1983.

"We're not going to accept the Republican plans, I know," Kelly said. "Bills have already been introduced to go through the whole (reapportionment) process again.

Fly high with War Memorial

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial will offer a 15-week Aviation Ground School beginning Thursday, Feb. 10, from 7 to 10 p.m. at the War Memorial, 22 Lakeshore Road, in the Farms.

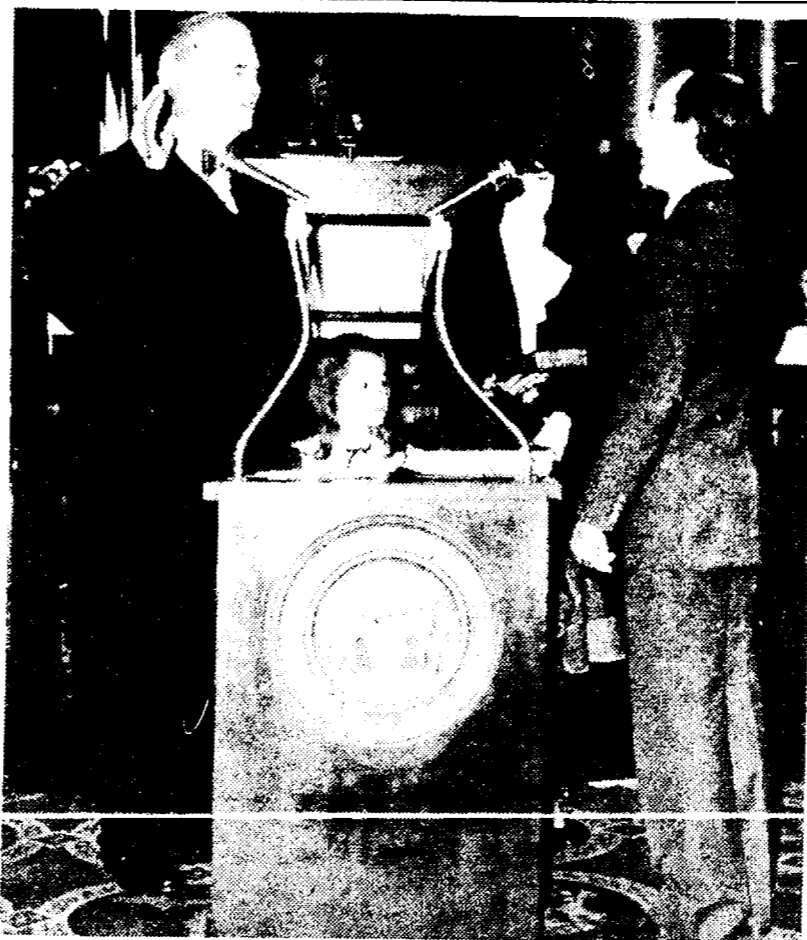

Federal Aviation Administration certified ground and flight instructor Don Jones will teach the course, which is designed to help students pass the FAA examination for a private pilot's license. Fee for the course is $47 plus textbook fee.

For more information, call the War Memorial at 885-7511.

Kelly said his 1st District may be reduced in size if the lines are again redrawn because it's one of the largest in the state.

Kelly said he also thinks his position on the Finance and Municipalities committee will provide him with an opportunity to work closely with the governor on new tax plans to rid the state of its deficit.

Kelly is a resident of Detroit and a father of two. He received his Bachelor's degree with honors from University of Michigan, and Master's in public administration at Wayne State University. He also has studied at Georgetown University in the field of international relations and attends the Detroit College of Law.

State Sen. John F. Kelly was sworn into office by Supreme Court Chief Justice G. Mennen Williams in ceremonies held in Lansing on Jan. 12. Kelly, a Democrat, begins his second term of office representing the 1st District, which includes eastside Detroit, the Grosse Pointes, and Harper Woods. Sen. Kelly will work through his District Office at 16723 East Warren near Cadieux Road, and at 2215 City National Building in downtown Detroit. Sen. Kelly has represented this community for the last four years and has been noted for his authorship of the Wayne County Reorganization Bill; his bill to stop doctors from abusing the Workers Compensation system; and his legislative leadership on the Chrysler Loan.

Tell me about your high gas heating bills and I'll tell you how you can save up to 20%* with Ameri-Therm.

For years I've talked with people who are tired of wasting fuel and money. Gas rates keep going up, so they come to me for advice.

Every day, for homeowners like you, I correct the money-wasting problem of gas energy loss with Ameri-Therm's Vent Dampers.

The problem is very common: When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air is quickly lost up the chimney. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper.

The agenda Park council meets

Grosse Pointe Park's City Council will discuss two issues of particular interest to residents of the west side of town when it meets Monday, Feb. 14, at 7 p.m. The council will solicit comments from the public about an "alternate side of the street" parking plan that would be implemented on Wayburn, Maryland, Lakepointe, Beaconsfield and Nottingham Roads.

Under the proposal, parking would be allowed on one side of the street (as it is now) six days a week, but banned on one day between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Parking would then be allowed on the opposite side of the street during those hours. The purpose of the proposal is to clear both sides of the street for public work crews collecting leaves, snow and cleaning pavement. A similar plan was tested on Nottingham Road for a short time last year, but was abandoned.

The council also will discuss a proposed fee of $25 per household for new mobile trash cans that will be distributed later this year to some 1,200 households adjoining alleys in the Park. The mobile trash system has been tested at 600 Park homes since last summer. Pick up of the totes is semi-automatic and is expected to improve the efficiency of workers. The totes have snap-on lids which protect them from gangs of dogs and rodents which often rip into trash bags left in alleys.

The council meeting will be held on the second floor of the municipal building, 15115 East Jefferson Avenue.

Gerda Bielitz, on violin, will join Josephine Brummel, on piano, for the next concert sponsored by the Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe.

Chamber Players feature Mozart

The Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe will present a Sunday afternoon concert on Feb. 13, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 2:30 p.m.

Gerda Bielitz, violinist, and Josephine Brummel, pianist, will combine talents and perform Sonata in G Major by Mozart.

Also appearing will be the Detroit Woodwind Quintet, the oldest woodwind chamber music group in Detroit, according to the Chamber Music Players. The quintet is a resident performing group of the Detroit Community Music School.

The Sunday program also will feature Sonata for Flute, Oboe and Continuo by Sebastian Bodinus with Linda Dobbstein, flute; Sylvia Starkman, oboe; Michael Wieland, bassoon; and Doris Eubank, piano.

Refreshments will follow the program. Admission is $3 at the door.

Board seeks Cook school pupils, photos

The Grosse Pointe Woods Historical Commission has plans to secure a historical marker for the old Cook School on Mack Avenue. Dating to 1890, the property for the school was purchased from the farm of Louis and Matilda Cook. The price was $160 for one-third of an acre.

Officially it was Fractional School District No. 9 of Grosse Pointe Township and was one of the original school districts consolidated into the Grosse Pointe school system when it was organized in 1922.

In anticipation of a dedication ceremony this fall, the commission would like to locate former students and pictures of the school when it served the families of this area. If anyone has information, call John Hammel, historical commission chairman, at 881-9504. The building is now owned by Marc Alan who has been working with the historical commission project, the commission said.

In California, you have to have a driver's license to run an electric golf cart or a self-propelled wheelchair, if you take it onto a public thoroughfare.

Park trash fires

Vandals are believed to be responsible for setting fires that destroyed three mobile trash totes in alleys on the west side of Grosse Pointe Park recently.

The new totes have been in use at about 600 Park homes adjoining alleys since last summer. The city council decided to extend their use to all 1,200 Park homes near alleys in January.

MORAL DISASTER IN DETROIT!

TEN YEARS AFTER COURT LEGALIZED ABORTION ARCHBISHOP SZOKA ACCEPTS COLLABORATION IN NEW AUSCHWITZ FOR PRENATAL BABIES

SZOKA LETS NUN OVERSEE PAYMENT OF TAX MONEY TO DEATH CENTERS FOR PRENATAL CHILDREN

BABIES DISMEMBERED, POISONED, INCINERATED AT TAXPAYERS' EXPENSE; NO BAPTISM OR BURIAL

Archbishop Edmund Szoka of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit said on Thursday, Dec. 30, 1982, that he will not oppose the appointment of a nun who publicly supports the use of tax funds for abortion to be director of the Michigan Department of Social Services (DSS), where she will oversee such Medicaid payments to prenatal baby killers and killing centers.
 The Catholic nun, Mercy Sister Agnes Mary Mansour RSM, publicly stated her opposition to laws to protect the lives of prenatal babies saying: "Individual consciences [of mothers and abortionists - not the babies] must be respected and laws restricting personal behavior [killing babies before birth] must be based on a greater consensus than presently exists on abortion." Sister also wrote: "I would support the use of federal funds for abortion." (Agnes Mary Mansour, 1982 Candidate for U.S. Congress, 17th District of Michigan, Position Paper on Abortion and Legislation.)
 In spite of Ms. Mansour's public rejection of Church teaching, Archbishop Szoka does not object to her appointment and even offers the nun the classic Adolph Eichman, "just-following-orders" defense for approving and overseeing Medicaid payments (of conscientiously objecting citizens' and legislators' tax monies) to prenatal baby killers and killing centers: "...in her job she has to follow the laws of the state, even if she doesn't [but she says she does] agree with them." (Archbishop Edmund Szoka, quoted in The Detroit News, December 31, 1982.)
 The Guttmacher Institute of the Planned Parenthood organization, the foremost worldwide promoter of legalized and state funded abortion, reported that in 1981, Michigan provided over 5 million dollars ($5,452,000) of its taxpayers' monies to the killers of 19,400 prenatal human beings. (An average of $281 per killing). The amount of money thus spent was exceeded only by California and the number of prenatal babies killed in Michigan with public funds was only exceeded in the far more populous states of California and New York. MERCY SISTER AGNES MARY MANSOUR, RSM, IS TO ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE PAYMENTS FOR THIS HOLOCAUST!

Ostrich-like: "Archbishop Szoka said he prefers to focus on the other responsibilities Sister Mansour will have in her new post. To make such a big issue of this one thing seems a bit sensational," he said. (Detroit Free Press article by Charlotte W. Craig, Dec. 31, 1982) (Archbishop Szoka in a letter published in the Detroit Free Press, Jan. 5, 1982 wrote that Charlotte W. Craig had "...quoted me correctly and honestly.")

Good Germans also preferred to focus, during the Nazi era, on full employment, autobahns, Volkswagens, and the rebirth of Germany.

WHAT does the Catholic Church have to say about killing children before they are born?

WHAT does the Catholic Church have to say about public officials who favor the legalization or public funding of such killing with YOUR TAXES? "...man can never obey a law which is in itself immoral and such is the case of a law which would admit in principle the licitness of abortion. Nor can he take part in a propaganda campaign in favour of such a law, or vote for it. Moreover, he [she] may not collaborate in its application." (DECLARATION ON ABORTION, Vatican's Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, Nov. 18, 1974.)

"Those who hold the reins of government should not forget that it is the duty of public authority by appropriate laws and sanctions to defend the lives of the innocent, and this all the more so since those whose lives are endangered and assailed cannot defend themselves. Among whom we must mention in the first place infants hidden in the mother's womb. And if the public officials not only do not defend them, but by their laws and ordinances betray them to death at the hands of doctors or of others, let them remember that God is the Judge and Avenger of innocent blood which cries from earth to Heaven (Genesis iv, 10)." (Encyclical letter on CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE, Pope Pius XI, Dec. 31, 1930.)

ALL PERSONS OF GOOD WILL WHO STRIVE TO PROTECT THE LIVES OF OUR PRENATAL SISTERS AND BROTHERS ARE URGED TO:

1. DEMONSTRATE VISIT, CALL, OR WRITE TO ARCHBISHOP EDMUND SZOKA TO CONVINCE HIM OF THE DEPTHS OF THE MORAL DISMAY HIS ACTIONS, AND THE PROSPECT OF SISTER AGNES MARY MANSOUR DISPENSING MILLIONS OF TAXPAYERS' DOLLARS FOR THE KILLING OF TENS OF THOUSANDS OF PRENATAL BABIES, HAVE CAUSED. (address: 75 East Boston Blvd., Detroit, Michigan 48202, telephone: (313) 237-5816
2. SEND THIS STATEMENT AND A REQUEST FOR THE HOLY FATHER'S INTERVENTION IN THIS MORAL DISASTER TO POPE JOHN PAUL II. (address: ATTENTION: MONS. STANISLAW DZIWISZ, Vatican City, Europe, postage: 40¢ per half ounce)
3. PRAY THAT GOD WITHHOLD HIS DIVINE WRATH AND JUSTICE AGAINST US AND OUR COUNTRY FOR KILLING MILLIONS OF OUR OWN CHILDREN AND FUNDING THE ENCOURAGEMENT AND TECHNICAL APPLICATION OF THIS PRACTICE THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. (The UN is now estimating 55 million abortions annually, worldwide!)
4. USE RESOURCES AND MONEY YOU DEVOTE TO THE CHURCH IN ORDINARY TIMES TO CONVINCE YOURSELF AND AS MANY OTHERS AS YOU CAN OF THE PHYSICAL REALITY (check the telephone yellow page ads under: "Birth Control" and "Clinics") AND MORAL CONSEQUENCES OF KILLING A LARGE PORTION OF OUR CHILDREN BEFORE BIRTH. (For example, pay to have this statement placed in a weekly or daily newspaper again, or to reprint and distribute copies of it at your parish or church.)

"The most merciful thing that the large family does to one of its infant members is to kill it." Margaret Sanger, founder of Planned Parenthood

"I would support the use of federal funds for abortion [killing prenatal infants]. This for me [but not for the infants] would be a vote for the poor [to make it more profitable for wealthy abortionists to kill poor prenatal children] rather than a vote for abortion." ## All residents have stake in millage

By Dr. Kenneth Brummel
Supt. of Schools

As recent news accounts have reported, at its January meeting the Board of Education unanimously adopted a resolution asking the electorate to grant the authority to establish millage rates for the next three years. The reason that this action was taken in January is because the entire operating millage which the community approved three years ago expired with the December, 1982 tax collection.

As a result of the board's action, voters will be presented with two millage propositions on March 7. One proposition is for the general operating fund for schools, and the other proposition is for the public library operating fund. Both propositions present voters with millage rates lower than those approved in the 1980 election.

If approved, these 1983 millage propositions will assure financial stability for the schools and public libraries over the next three years. However, if situations which influence the financial condition of the school systems should change over that three year period of time, our citizens can expect the board to adjust accordingly as it has done for the last four years.

During each of the previous four years when tax revenue was greater than the amount needed to operate the schools and libraries, the Grosse Pointe Board of Education demonstrated its fiscal responsibility by voluntarily rolling back millage rates beyond that point required by the 1978 Tax Limitation (Headlee) Amendment, which was designed to protect citizens from out-of-line tax increases. And, the board's tax roll-backs have been substantial, even to the point where in 1982-83, tax revenues were held at the same level as they were in 1981-82. That means residents overall saw a zero increase in this year's school taxes compared to last year's taxes.

New fall freshmen should enroll now

Grosse Pointe North High School Assistant Principal James Cooper this week announced enrollment dates for students from schools other than Brownell and Parcels who will be entering North for the first time in September.

Incoming freshmen will be enrolled on Tuesday, Feb. 22, at 1:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. At that time, counselors will confer with students and parents, and course selections for next fall will be made. Recommendations from previous schools would be welcome. Students also are requested to bring with them their most recent report cards and a birth certificate.

New students entering grades 10 through 12 will be enrolled on either March 3 or 4. Parents are invited to call 343-2201 to establish an appointment time with a counselor.

Those who wish to receive a copy of next year's Program of Studies, in which courses are described and requirements are outlined, should call Assistant Principal Kathleen Herschelmann at 343-2203.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

Tune in to the Metropolitan Opera broadcast of "La Gioconda" this Saturday afternoon, and don't be surprised if the intermission speaker's voice sounds familiar. It should. It belongs to Bridget Paolucci — and you knew her, when she was growing up in Grosse Pointe, as Bridget Rizzo.

Bridget lives in Larchmont, N.Y., now, with her husband, Bert. They have two children: Anne Marie and John. That's private life, and very, very important, but Bridget has a public life, too, as a broadcaster, writer and lecturer whose specialty is opera. She is a New York music correspondent for National Public Radio, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and the Australian Broadcasting Commission.

She was an intermission speaker on the National Public Radio broadcast of "La Boheme" last season, and was subsequently invited by the Dallas Opera to give a musical and dramatic analysis of "Madama Butterfly" for its 25th anniversary season of broadcasts on NPR.

Bridget lectures regularly on opera appreciation for the Metropolitan Opera Guild, both at Lincoln Center and throughout the New York area. She is the first person ever asked to give an entire series of pre-performance talks at the New York City Opera; her third series was in the fall of '82, and she will be lecturing during the '83 season. She teaches a course on opera appreciation at Manhattanville College, her alma mater, annually.

Since 1977, her articles have appeared frequently in "High Fidelity/Musical America" magazines. They include profiles of such musical personalities as Placido Domingo and Pinchas Zukerman. Her profile of conductor Andrew Davis appeared in the March '82 edition of "Opera News."

In January, she was once again a judge for the Metropolitan Opera Regional Auditions. This is the sixth year she has been asked to serve as a Met Regional Auditions judge. In addition to Manhattanville, she is a graduate of the University of Michigan and recipient of a Fulbright Grant for study in Rome.

The "La Gioconda" broadcast begins at 1 p.m. Bridget's intermission talk will take place immediately following the first act. The broadcast originates live from the Met, and is heard throughout the United States and Canada. It is carried locally by Station WQRS-Timeless FM 105.

The promise of spring: pear trees will blossom . . .

Hang in there, all you Grosse Pointers who haven't flown south! Soon it will be spring: bare branches will become as leafy as those in the picture above, pear trees will burst into blossom — and won't you feel SUPERIOR to those who fled rather than endure another Michigan winter!? Never doubt that the pain's worth the pride of proving oneself a hardy soul. The Pear Tree Chapter of Questers is thinking spring and, working with the Grosse Pointe Historical Society, has begun a serious study of the location of The Pointe's Old French Pear Trees. They were once almost a trademark of the area. Now only a few remain. The Pear Tree Questers plan to locate and mark these trees, and are studying early deeds and other records on which plantings may have been noted. The trees will certainly be mentioned next Monday, Feb. 14, at 8 p.m. at Monteith School when the Grosse Pointe Historical Society presents an illustrated talk on early Grosse Pointe by Historical Society Curator JEAN DODENHOFF (fourth from left), pictured with Pear Tree Questers MARY LOUISE TEEG, ELIZABETH NAGELKIRK and MARIE CHRISTIE (left to right, at Jean's left), DOROTHY TEGATTI, AGNES LAWNS, MARY JANE WICKLUND, GRACE McLELLAN and BARBARA STEFANOVICH (left to right, at Jean's right). Jean promises to include a number of fascinating anecdotes in "The Pointe You May Not Know." Following her talk, the audience is invited to visit Historical Society headquarters, located in the school, where refreshments will be served. There will be a $2 admission charge. The Grosse Pointe Historical Society welcomes new members at any time. Its rooms are open to visitors on Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

DR. LAWRENCE VAN KIRK, of The Pointe, was inducted as a Fellow of the International College of Dentists at the annual College Convocation preceding the annual meeting of the American Dental Association in Las Vegas Nov. 6. Dr. Van Kirk was given a membership plaque and gold key symbolic of his membership in the College for service rendered the Arts and Sciences of Dentistry.

SUE BARTLETT, SW, of The Pointe, a patient referral services supervisor at Saratoga General Hospital, was a member of the steering committee for the hospital employees' program, "The Giving Tree," where co-workers gathered non-perishable groceries for Detroit's needy.

Receiving a Bachelors degree at Dec. 14 Wayne State University commencement ceremonies was WILLIAM MICHAEL SOSNOWSKY, of Cranford Lane. Sosnowsky, who is the son of WILLIAM P. SOSNOWSKY and of MRS. ANASTASIA SEDORAK-SOSNOWSKA, majored in psychology and computer science at WSU. He is enrolled in the masters program at WSU.

Les Papillons in rehearsal . . .

Twice-a-week rehearsals for Les Papillons Liturgical Dancers are fast-paced, very detailed and fun, with review of their varied repertoire and the learning of new dances part of each session at their sponsor church, Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian. Les Papillons, a quartet of whom are pictured above in rehearsal, perform in churches of all denominations. Over the past four years they have danced in more than 50 metropolitan Detroit houses of worship. This Sunday, Feb. 13, they will participate in an "Adventure in Celebration," sponsored by the Presbytery of Detroit, at Village Presbyterian Church in far northwest Detroit. On Thursday, Feb. 24, they will present an evening program at the First United Methodist Church of Birmingham.

"A Sacrament of Marriage" will be performed for the first time at Village Presbyterian and again at First United Methodist. This work, choreographed by the Festival Dancers of Detroit, is based on a text from St. Matthew and accompanied by a haunting Hebrew melody.

Other dances to be performed at Village Presbyterian and First United Methodist include Psalm 137, an intense drama of a captive people seeking revenge, and Psalm 23 in which the soloist proclaims her faith and is joined by two dancers signifying Goodness and Mercy.

These Psalms are presented in sequence to illustrate the transition from darkness and despair to light and faith.

Also on the program are "A Dance for Baptism," accompanied by the reading of a text from First Corinthians, and "Praise God for the Body-Praise God for the Son," a circle dance illustrating the unity of God with His church.

Les Papillons combine the techniques of modern and interpretive dance with forms used in classic ballet and in both ancient and modern Israeli dance, accompanied by scripture readings or music, or by a combination of the two.

The dancers who will be performing next week are Lizzie Bolden, Jenny Eshleman, Ellen Probert, JoAnne Spencer, choreographer-director Eunice Whitaker and Steve Honkanen, who is also in charge of audio. Liturgist is The Reverend David Eshleman.

Farm, Garden Club to meet

Betty Frankel will speak on "East Meets West" at the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club's meeting this Monday, Feb. 14, at the home of Mrs. Charles Doderhoff. Co-hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. Richard Durant and Mrs. William Ledyard.

Colleen Townsend Evans to speak for Renewal Day

Colleen Townsend Evans, who 30-some years ago traded an up-and-coming career as a motion picture actress for the role of wife to The Reverend Louis H. Evans, now pastor of National Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C., will be Day of Renewal leader when the women of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church meet for their annual retreat a week from tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 18.

The program runs from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and is open to all women in the community, who are invited to hear this nationally known speaker and Bible teacher. Nursery care will be available. Luncheon and nursery reservations may be made by calling 882-5330.

Karen (Mrs. Thomas) Winger, the Memorial Church Women's program chairman, will introduce Mrs. Evans, who will use "Attitudes from the Beatitudes" as theme for the day. The speaker, mother of four and a grandmother, has written for "Guideposts" and "Decisions" magazines.

She is the author of eight books, including the best sellers "A New Joy" and "A Deeper Joy." She serves on the boards of trustees for Wooster College, Union Seminary, World Vision and the Coalition of Christian Colleges.

Dining room chairmen for the Day of Renewal luncheon are Margaret (Mrs. H. James) Gram, Nancy (Mrs. Ralph) Stevens and Doris (Mrs. Gust) Jahnke. Patricia (Mrs. George) Brand and Mrs. Amelia Sanders will chair the kitchen committee.

Grand Marais Club to meet

downtown Detroit, and will remain there through a week from tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 18.

Judge Giovan, an avid camera hobbyist, was recently awarded first and third place trophies in separate categories in the area-wide, year-end Greater Detroit Camera Club Council competition. Portraits, selected from a series of photographs of actors who have appeared in Grosse Pointe Theatre productions over the past several years, are featured in his Detroit Camera Show.

A Well-Deserved Honor

Grosse Pointe's Ruth (Mrs. Joseph A.) Vance has been selected to receive the Detroit Historical Society Guild's 31st Patriotic Award, and the public is invited to join the Guild in paying tribute to Mrs. Vance next Tuesday, Feb. 15, at the Detroit Historical Museum.

The program will begin with a musical interlude, featuring Jack Qualey's Trio, at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Milton Osgood will preside over the evening's activities. The Reverend Dr. Kenneth W. Kettlewell, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation.

Guild President Elizabeth Huffman will make the formal presentation, and Detroit Historical Society President Donald A. Lindow will speak for his group, acknowledging Mrs. Vance's service as trustee, secretary and vice-president of the board plus her assumption of responsibility on numerous standing and special event committees.

Joining them in paying tribute to a great, and charming lady will be Charles V. Hagler, president of the Detroit Historical Commission; J. Roland Wilson, producing director and general manager, Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts; Melodee DuBois, vice-president and managing director, Detroit Grand Opera Association; and Warren T. Burt Jr., vice-president, United Foundation. That's a lot of Motor City community service "brass," but that's precisely as it should be. As chairperson Sidonie Dossin Knighton observed, announcing the name of the Guild's 1983 Patriotic Award recipient: "Every major Detroit cultural and civic organization has been the beneficiary of Ruth's dedicated and conscientious involvement. You see her name on the working committees of the most glamorous benefit balls — and on the daily problem solving committees of the city's cultural and service institutions."

And it's axiomatic throughout the Detroit area that when you see Ruth's name on a committee, you also see Ruth.

Reservations for next Tuesday's Patriotic Award presentation may be made by calling the Detroit Historical Society office, 833-7934. Mrs. Henry B. Joy was the first Patriotic Award recipient, in 1952. Among the honorees since have been George W. Stark, Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, Thomas I. Starr, Alfred M. Pelham, Stanley S. Kresge, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ludington, Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery and Walter Greene.

Another Well-Deserved Honor

Among the nine recipients of this year's Hearts of Gold, awarded annually for outstanding voluntarism within the metropolitan Detroit area, is Grosse Pointe's Patricia (Mrs. John Jr.) Young. Like Ruth Vance, Pat Young really deserves her honor.

As chairman for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra-WQRS-Timeless FM 105 1982 Marathon, her responsibilities included recruiting and coordinating nearly 100 volunteers, developing the overall program and acting as treasurer of monies received via the radio fund raiser.

She is also an active volunteer for the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra and an active member of Saint Clare of Montefalco Parish. She taught journalism at Saint Clare School, providing an innovative program which brought keynote speakers to the students.

As a board member of the Young Women's Home Association, she has raised funds to provide services for battered women, abused children, the elderly and the retarded. Saint John Hospital added 300 members to its Fontbonne Auxiliary as a result of two membership teas Pat coordinated. In 1981 she chaired the annual University of Detroit High School and Academy Auction. It brought in $82,000, largest amount raised in the auction's history.

Pat received her gold, heart-shaped charm bearing the Spirit of Detroit emblem at the 16th annual Heart of Gold Awards Luncheon, co-sponsored by the Heart of Gold Awards Council and Women for the United Foundation, last Tuesday, Feb. 8, at Cobo Hall. Like the other honorees she had no idea, until her name was read out, that she'd been voted the award.

Those who know her could have predicted it, however. Those who know her say, "It's about time!"

Approximately 1,500 tri-county residents attended the luncheon, chaired by Ruth (Mrs. Alfred R. III) Glancy with assistance from fellow Pointer Barbara (Mrs. Dean E.) Richardson as vice-chairman. Guest speaker was United States Ambassador to Mexico John Gavin.

Charles Crettien to speak Feb. 17

Charles Crettien, director of the Press and Information Service of the French Embassy in New York, will lecture in English, under sponsorship of the Consul General de France, the French Institute of Detroit and the Center of Peace and Conflict Studies, Detroit Council for World Affairs, Wayne State University, on "French Domestic Policy: Its Impact on Foreign Policy" next Thursday, Feb. 17, at 8 p.m. at the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Advance tickets for the program, at $6 per person including a 7 p.m. reception and refreshments at 9 p.m. following M. Crettien's talk, must be reserved by Tuesday, Feb. 15. Further information may be obtained by contacting the French Institute at 644-4110 or 292-2750. A limited number of tickets will be sold at the door for the lecture only.

LAWRENCE CRANE, M.D., of The Park, chief of the section of infectious diseases at Harper-Grace Hospitals, recently co-authored two papers, one published in the "Reviews of Infectious Diseases"; the other, in press for "Archives of Internal Medicine." Dr. Crane has lectured on diabetic infections for the Southwest Michigan Annual Infectious Disease Day; on antiviral agents for the American College of Physicians Regional Meeting in Traverse City; and at Heritage Hospital, on antibiotic resistant anaerobic bacteria and emerging problems.

Sellars-Caruso rites are read

Jo Anne Caruso selected a traditional, floor length gown of white satin and silk organza, styled with a bodice of Alencon lace and silk organza bishop sleeves accented with matching lace, for her wedding to Mark Crain Sellars Friday evening, December 10, in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

Her train was cathedral length. A Juliet cap of Alencon lace held her silk illusion, fingertip veil, and she carried a Colonial arrangement of white roses and baby's-breath, with holly leaves.

The new Mrs. Sellars is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Caruso, of Lochmoor Boulevard. Dr. and Mrs. Harry George Sellars, of Briarcliff Drive, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend David Eshleman presided at the 7 o'clock service. Mrs. E. Donald Snow, who came with Mr. Snow from Lima, Ohio, for the wedding, contributed the musical selections. Scripture reader was Eric W. Hall, the bride's uncle.

After a reception at the Caruso home, the newlyweds left to vacation in northern Michigan, returning to reside in Detroit until the bridegroom, scheduled to go into the service after the first of the year, receives his assignment.

Mrs. Thayer Arthur, a Grosse Pointe North High School classmate of both the bride and bridegroom, was matron of honor. Maid of honor was Cathy Caruso, the bride's sister. Bridesmaids were Lynn and Wendy Sellars, the bridegroom's sisters.

Their puff-sleeved, square-necked dresses of Christmas green taffeta were sashed with cummerbunds of matching material. Each carried a Colonial bouquet of red miniature carnations, baby's-breath and Christmas greens.

Bruce Sellars acted as best man for his brother. Ushering were Kevin Snyder, the bridegroom's cousin, who seated his aunt, and Bob Arthur, who seated the bride's mother. The bridegroom also was attended by Milton Arvanitides, Chris Dellas and

St. James rites for Miss Reisig

Saint James Lutheran Church was the setting for the Saturday, August 7, wedding of Barbara McLean Reisig, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert O. Reisig Sr., of Lakeland Court, and Gregory William Beer, son of the Edward Beers, of Harbor Springs.

Pastor George Schelter presided at the 11:30 o'clock service. Organist was The Reverend Robert Rimbo. The late morning ceremony was followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, after which the newlyweds left to vacation in Toronto. They are at home in Adrian.

The bride wore a spaghetti-strapped gown of white chiffon and a peplum-waisted jacket embroidered and accented with pink satin ribbon and featuring chiffon bishop sleeves.

A matching cap held her veil, and she carried an arrangement of white silk roses and carnations with pink miniature roses and baby's-breath.

Honor matron Mrs. John Ulrich, of Mt. McKinley, Alaska, and bridesmaids Janet Reisig, of Pellston, and Carolyn Reisig, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Dennis Gannon wore street length dresses of grey, white and shocking pink plaid crepe de chine and jackets of pink linen and silk.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory W. Beer

Douglas Beer came from Harbor Springs to act as best man for his brother. Ushering were Randd Van Gass, of Tecumseh, James McBride, of Harbor Springs, Gary Harpell, of Green Bay, Wis., Russ Cieslak, of Pellston, Frank Deptula, of Grand Rapids, and Dr. Robert O. Reisig, of New Baltimore, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a pale beige crepe camisole dress with a matching petal-sleeved jacket, with lace inserts, featuring a lavender, pink and beige tie belt. The bridegroom's mother chose a long-sleeved, wrap dress of Wedgwood blue crepe. Her corsage was a white baby orchid with baby's-breath.

Does your child have a special learning disability or does he/she experience general frustration in learning? Marygrove College's Learning Clinics, open to students ages 7 to 18 who have not graduated from high school, offer two programs for slow learners during the winter semester.

Tutoring in both programs will be held on Mondays and Wednesdays. 'Who's Who' night for Alpha Mu DKG

A variety of wines and cheeses were served during the evening, which was highlighted by the challenge of answering a list of "Did You Know?" questions about each member. Mercedes Jacobs, Mary Jo Johnson and Gladys Gies compiled the lists of mini-mysteries, drawing information from a variety of sources, including spouses, parents, friends and the members themselves who worked in teams to find the answers.

Alpha Mu, currently in its 26th year, draws its membership from past and present employees of the Grosse Pointe schools, both public and private, and from educators who are residents of Grosse Pointe but employed elsewhere in education.
