He's a hero

Once a lifeguard, always a lifeguard! That seems to be the philosophy of former Grosse Pointe Michael Clarke who saved a woman from drowning in California last month.

According to reports, Mike (24, and now living in Encinitas, Calif.) rescued an unidentified woman who developed a cramp in her leg while swimming about 100 yards offshore near someplace called Moonlight Beach.

Clarke, a 1977 graduate of South High School, said he heard the woman screaming and dove in to help. Mike believes she must have panicked when captured by a riptide. The woman, who appeared to be about 24 years old, was uninjured. Authorities don't know who she was since neither Clarke nor the lifeguards recorded her name.

Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Clarke of Yorkshire Road.

Grosse Pointe plates

If all this time you thought it mere coincidence that many residents of the Pointe drive around in cars with license plate initials that match their city, please think again.

The Secretary of State's office at 24208 Little Mack (near 9 1/2 Mile Road) provides such plates to residents of the five Pointes. Those living in the Park can receive plates with a GPP suffix, the Farms, GPF, and so on.

However, the SOS office doesn't advertise this fact and with good reason. It doesn't want residents of other cities to claim that the Pointes are receiving preferential treatment.

You can't go in and request SCS (St. Clair Shores) or say, BBDN (Big Bay de Noc) because they won't have them. This service is provided only because city officials from all the Pointes wrote to Lansing and requested that these suffixes be made available to Grosse Pointe residents at this office only.

The special plates don't cost any more than the regular kind, but you do have to live in the Pointe to rate one. Incidentally, for those not living here, the suffix from that office will be DHG.

Tueber-Two door

Now for a short story that must be handled with tact and discretion. Everyone knows that the Rams Horn Restaurant on Mack Avenue is a very popular spot, especially with local police and state troopers.

According to a friendly source with a good sense of humor, scout cars from the Farms and the state police were parked at the eatery at about 6 a.m. earlier this week enjoying breakfast.

The state troopers finished up, paid up and prepared to saddle up when trouble unexpectedly hit. It seems the state's finest had inadvertently locked themselves out of their scout car. Try as they might, they couldn't get back in.

Finally, they bit the bullet and re-entered the restaurant to ask Farms Cpl. John Winter to open their car for them, which he did with a smile and out of professional courtesy.

Incidentally, our source reports the state police did a lousy job parking their car, straddling a yellow line and taking up two parking spaces. After all, who's going to tell them to move?

Parents demand vote on school closings

PTO organizes to keep Barnes open in 1984

By Joanne Gouleche

Supt. Kenneth Brummel's plan to close four elementary schools by the 1984 school year should be decided by voters and not by the Board of Education, say some local parents.

The idea of a referendum on school closings surfaced several times at a public hearing at Parcels school last week, where parents voiced strong opposition to closing Barnes, Defer, Mason and Kerby elementaries by September, 1984. The hearing attracted about 500 persons and is one of five scheduled meetings for parents in those areas where schools are proposed to close.

"If our school system is No. 1 in the state, why do we need to change it?" Barnes parent Jim Klein asked Brummel, who moderated the meeting. "If it ain't broke, don't fix it."

"The parents here want you to tell us why schools have to be closed. There should be serious consideration given to a referendum as to why schools should be closed in Grosse Pointe. Period."

Brummel's plan includes re-shuffling elementary students to the school system's three middle schools by 1984. The plan calls for transferring Mason students to Parcels, Defer students to Pierce and third, fourth and fifth graders from Kerby to Brownell. Students from Barnes school would be moved to Ferry and Monteith schools under the plan.

The superintendent told parents last week that his proposal maintains quality education and preserves the neighborhood school in Grosse Pointe.

"The administration continues to believe that the proposals submitted to the Board of Education are educationally sound," Brummel told parents. He added, however, "serious thought" is being given to the possibility of sending some elementary school children to Mairé school. The superintendent said there are some questions as to whether Pierce school can accommodate students from Defer.

Brummel also said there is a possibility that all Kerby students would not be transferred to Brownell until 1985.

Under the proposed school closing plan, the school district would be restructured into a K-5, 6-8, 9-12 organization and is estimated to save the school system about $750,000 a year.

The Board of Education will vote on Brummel's plan June 13, the same day of the school board election. Some residents, including board candidate Anthony Skomski, suggested last week that the board postpone its controversial vote until new trustees are sworn into office.

Among those who attended the meeting at Parcels were PTO groups opposed to the school closing plan, including parents from Barnes and Defer schools.

"We believe the neighborhood school has a special place in Grosse Pointe," said a Barnes parent. "(Under the administration's plan), some students would have to travel two miles to school."

Barnes PTO President David Benjamins said that possibility may discourage new families from moving into the area and cause property values to decline. Benjamins said the Barnes PTO would like to see all the elementary schools kept open with a K-7 grade structure, while grades 8-12 could be moved into the two high schools leaving the three middle schools for community and senior activities.

Only a few residents spoke in favor of the plan, including Woods (Continued on Page 2A)

A might small but mighty strong . . .

It was another classic David and Goliath match up and once again David was the winner. The sight of this little tug pulling a jumbo freighter behind it on Lake St. Clair Monday afternoon was an inspiration. While you couldn't exactly water ski behind the freighter, the slow and steady pace of the tug soon had both boats out of sight. Closer to home, warm weather means local boat owners will soon be putting their sail and power boats into berths at the city parks. Residents of the Shores and Park began berthing their boats on April 15; in the Woods and City it's May 1; in the Farms, the official starting date is May 15, although with good weather and sufficient park supervision boat owners can put their boats in the water beginning May 1.

No money for streets

Park may lower property tax rate

Grosse Pointe Park's tax rate will drop a fraction of a mill next year if the council accepts a $4.5 million spending plan recommended this week by the city manager. If it is approved, the tax cut will combine with an average 3.5 percent decline in property assessments to save typical Park homeowners about $25 on their bills to the city.

The budget calls for a $100,000 increase in spending by the city next year to maintain the current level of services. But there's no money in the plan for resurfacing local streets, more than half of which are in poor condition, according to administrators.

CITY MANAGER John Crawford admitted there is a "critical need" for street repairs, but noted there is no money in the budget for construction. Park voters rejected a special tax proposal last August that would have financed a local street improvement program. Crawford said he will ask the council to address the problem again after the budget is approved.

His recommended budget calls for collecting $3.265 million from local homeowners and businesses in property tax revenue — down from the $3.35 million collected this fiscal year. To balance the budget, $234,000 left over from the current year will be allocated to the general fund, according to the document.

The budget proposes spending as follows on 18 general fund accounts: city council, $11,800; city clerk, $25,400; judicial, $88,000; manager, $87,500; elections, $8,500; financial administration, $223,000; general administration, $247,200; police, $1.4 million; fire, $776,400; public works, $532,000; rubbish disposal, $593,000; recreation, $264,000; planning and beautification, $4,600; sewage disposal, $793,800; sewer maintenance, $27,700; water department, $467,500; and other functions (appropriation to other funds and employee fringe benefits) $810,000.

The tax rate proposed by the city manager to finance the budget is 16.75 mills, compared to a rate of 16.80 mills this year. (A mill equals $1 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation of property.)

The city council began work on the new budget at a study session Tuesday, April 26. A public hearing is scheduled for Monday, May 9. Copies are available at city hall.

From the ashes

Helin property site of mansion

By Susan McDonald

The Ford house is a pile of rubble on Lakeshore and there's even less left of the Shelden estate just down the street. People are tearing down Grosse Pointe's grand old mansions, not building them right?

Wrong. A house that may top anything ever built on the lake in size and sophistication will soon rise on the site of Grosse Pointe's most tragic fire, the Helin estate on Windmill Pointe Drive in the Park.

An agreement reached between neighbors and Tambie Homes, Inc. cleared the way this week for construction of a 14,000 square foot dream home for Detroit heart surgeon, Dr. Ingida Asfaw and his family, complete with seven fireplaces, an elevator, 11 bathrooms and lakeside decks stretching out to St. Clair.

Cost of the project may top $1.2 million, according to Brenda Burdge, builder from Tambie Homes. "The house will include everything imaginable. And everything will be done in classic good taste, with attention to detail, nothing trendy," Ms. Burdge said.

The project initially met with opposition from neighbors because Ms. Burdge wanted to build close to the lake so she could avoid building over the underground foundation that remains of the Helin mansion, which was destroyed by a fire in March, 1978. The builder and neighbors reached a compromise after it was discovered that deed restrictions forcing homes to be built at least 200 feet from the lake expired in 1967.

Ms. Burdge said she has agreed to keep the home — but not the decks — 200 feet from the shore and build over the old foundation. Soil samples will be taken this week and she hopes to break ground on the year-long construction project in a month.

The fire that destroyed the original four-story brick mansion owned by millionaire Charles Helin was probably the worst in Grosse Pointe history. Grosse Pointe City Firefighter Richard Tucker was killed while fighting the blaze when a chimney collapsed and crashed through an open doorway, showering him with bricks. Tucker, 45, the father of two, was the only Grosse Pointe firefighter to die in the line of duty.

The late Charles Helin, who bought the estate which was built in 1927, made his fortune manufacturing and selling fishing lures. He was traveling in China when the fire occurred and his priceless collections of cameras, photos and butterflies were lost in the blaze.

Teachers get pink slips

By Joanne Gouleche

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education last week handed pink slips to 20 full and part-time teachers, acting on an administrative recommendation to reduce this fall's teaching staff because of sagging enrollment and shrinking state and federal aid.

At a special board meeting Monday, April 18, Supt. Dr. Kenneth Brummel presented trustees with the names of laid off teachers from all the district's elementary, middle and high schools. The permanent lay offs, resulting in 23 less full-time positions this fall, will not affect any teachers at Kerby Elementary or at Brownell Middle School, according to administrators.

Trustees also approved a recommendation to reduce the teaching assignments for 15 faculty during the 1983-84 school year.

The four-story Helin mansion burned in 1978. Another grand home will take its place.

Cities finally get overdue state funds

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Local governments got some good news from the state last week in the form of checks. The money represents partial payments of deferred state revenue sharing funds held up by executive order by Gov. James Blanchard earlier this year.

The City, Park and Woods are projecting receipt of about 80 percent of the budgeted funds before the end of their fiscal years June 30. The state Department of Management and Budget projects making full payment of the deferred funds by the end of September.

Last February, the governor deferred the state shared revenue payments to municipalities and schools as part of a budget-balancing program. At that time, press secretary Sue Carter said passage of the tax-increase package should improve the state's cash flow so it could make the deferred payments.

The state management and budget office made partial payment on the February deferral of sales, income and single business tax revenue sharing last week. According to the Michigan Municipal League, one third of the remaining balance will be paid in late May, with the final payment made June 30.

The Woods expects to receive about 80 percent of its $749,000 budget for state share revenues, City Administrator-Clerk Chester Petersen said. Before the April 18 payment of about $90,000, the city projected a shortfall of $358,000 in revenue sharing from the state.

"Not counting the June 30 payment, we'll be able to come out in the black at the end of this fiscal year," Petersen said. "And if we accrue the June 30 payment, we'll be in good shape."

Because the June 30 payments of the sales, income and single business taxes would come after the end of the fiscal year, a decision would have to be made whether to record the payments as part of the previous fiscal year or put them in the new fiscal year when they were received, Petersen said.

The Park is projecting receiving $415,000 in state revenue sharing, Park City Manager John Crawford said. The city had budgeted $525,000 for its fiscal year ending (Continued on Page 16A)

Parents want a vote on school closing issue

parent Carl Anderson.

"I think the plan is responsive to the community's desire to close some schools in an orderly fashion. I applaud the plan."

Later, Anderson, a candidate for the Grosse Pointe Board of Education four years ago, said he feels the administration's plan will retain quality education and feels the school board will modify Brummel's plan.

"The (plan) reflects a deep concern for the displacement of children. People will have their neighborhood schools. I think the board is willing to listen to input from the community, and I believe there is a good number of people who probably think the plan proposed by the administration has a good deal of merit," Anderson said.

While some parents expressed concerns about traffic problems, school taxes and flexi-grades, others said they are worried about declining property values if Supt. Brummel's plan is approved. One local realtor believes those residents have some cause for concern.

Dick Borland of Earl Keim Realty in Grosse Pointe City said although there is no hard research to support his claim, he believes school closings reflect partially on local property values.

"We still have the reputation for a good school system and one of the attractions is the accessibility of the elementary schools for smaller children. But I happen to believe that there has not been enough research done on what the true picture is."

Borland said a policeman from another local community moved into the Pointes because his own city was closing schools.

"There has been a lot of turnover in the last six months with younger families moving into (the Pointes)," Borland said. "You ask why? It's because our community has the amenities and the schools are of primary interest."

Upcoming public hearings on the superintendent's school closing plan are scheduled for:

- May 11 — Mason Elementary School
- May 12 — Barnes Elementary School
- May 17 — Defer Elementary School
- May 18 — Kerby Elementary School

Meetings will begin at 8 p.m.

Armchair travelers visit Europe's palaces

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "Let's Cruise from Norway to Leningrad," a 16mm movie by Pierre and Elfrida Palmertier, on Monday, May 2, 8 p.m. in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore Road.

The public is invited to attend the program without charge. The Social Hour following is limited to Cinema League members.

After stops in Copenhagen and Amsterdam, the old Hanseatic city of Hamburg, Germany, with its lakes and Plantenim-Blomen flower displays is shown. In Poland, the ship docked at Gdynia for a visit to Zopot, Gdansk and Oliwa, with its famous cathedral and parks.

The palaces of the Romanoffs are shown near Leningrad, such as Czar Paul's summer residence at Pavlovsk, beautifully reconstructed and refurbished. There also are Catherine the Great's palace at Pushkin, and Petrodvorets, home of Peter the Great, with sparkling fountains.

Helsinki, Finland and the Tapiola Garden City also are filmed. Of special interest to area residents is Hvittask, home of famed architect, the late Eliel Saarinen, which he built in 1904.

A family named Diedrichsen invited some of the cruise passengers to be guests in their home to view paintings and lovely gardens with sculpture by the renowned Henry Moore.

Stockholm, and Sweden's first capital Sigtuna, with its ancient ruins, houses and lakes are filmed. Mysterious pagan burial mounds in Old Uppsala, and one of Europe's most impressive cathedrals at Uppsala also are shown.

The ship cruises the fjords of Norway, with towering cliffs, glaciers and majestic waterfalls, and enters the Arctic Circle to visit the Land of the Midnight Sun, and Europe's northernmost point, the North Cape.

In Hammerfest, many passengers joined the Royal and Ancient order of Polar Bears, and in Tromsø, a group of hang glider enthusiasts prepared for an upcoming competition.

Picturesque Stavanger, busy Oslo, a spectacular train ride and vistas from mountain tops round out the presentation.

An artful spring at War Memorial

All water color artists are invited to seek inspiration from the War Memorial's carvings, sparkling water and profuse garden blooms for six Monday afternoons beginning May 2, with instructor Marilyn Derwenskus.

The course will accommodate traditional as well as experimental attitudes toward materials and techniques, and color and composition will be stressed.

The fee is $60 for six weeks. Call 881-7511 for the supply list and more information.

a decline of 369 students for the coming school year and anticipate further cuts in state and federal aid. A low attrition rate among educators also reflects next fall's reduced teaching staff, administrators said.

The schools' Director of Personnel and Labor Relations, Ronald Tonks, said, however, he expected most of the pink-slipped teachers to be called back to the classroom by this September because of anticipated retirements, resignations and requests for leaves of absences.

Recalled teachers would have to be qualified to fill those vacancies, Tonks said.

Tonks added out of 26 laid off teachers last year, three secondary teachers have not returned to work.

The personnel director said school principals met with the laid off teachers last week. Administrators are required under the teachers' contract to announce upcoming layoffs 60 days before school closes for summer vacation.

War Memorial plans bike trip

A bicycle touring/camping trip is being offered to high school students by the War Memorial. From Aug. 19 to 26 for $215, cyclists will visit the fishing village of Leland, the Sleeping Bear Dunes and Manitou Islands.

Trip leaders are Fred Klingbeil and Lynette Weedfall. Klingbeil, a graduate of University of Michigan, has participated in Outward Bound and National Outdoor Leadership School programs. He has biked from Montreal to Florida, and also led a group that paddled across Canada enroute to Hudson Bay, Ontario.

A detailed trip description is available at the War Memorial's office. Call 881-7511 for information.

Free movies begin Tuesday at P & J

By Phoebe Wall
South High School

Beginning Tuesday, May 3, the Punch and Judy Classic Theater will show the first of its free-movie series. During the months of May and June there will be free movies every Tuesday night. Dennis Feldmann, manager of the Punch and Judy, said, "We're just giving people an opportunity to see movies on the big screen that they wouldn't be able to see at any other movie theater. We'd also like to get people, especially those who don't normally come to the CFT, acquainted with us at no cost. It's our treat!"

The series will begin May 3 with "Grand Illusion." The movie tells of a group of WWI French aviators held captive by the Germans. It is a story of their escape. The movie is French with subtitles. There will be 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. showings.

On May 10, Laurence Olivier stars as Henry V, in a rendition of Shakespeare's drama. It begins in a 16th century London theater and then shifts to the fields of France, where Henry and his troops fight the battle in Agincourt.

A classic film starring Marlene Dietrich, "The Blue Angel," is a German movie with subtitles. It is the story of a nightclub singer who seduces a strait-laced school-teacher and brings about his downfall. "The Blue Angel" will be shown May 17.

French with subtitles, the series continues with "Hiroshima, Mon Amour." The bombing of Hiroshima during WWII becomes linked to a French woman's traumatic memories of her youth in this story of memory and forgetting on May 24.

May 31, Jimmy Stewart stars as a discouraged small town man who is saved from suicide by a guardian angel who shows him the error of his ways. "A Wonderful Life" is a sentimental, heart-warming celebration of the simple joys of life, this is the kind of movie that people see again and again," Feldmann added.

Marlon Brando stars as the sullen, leather jacketed leader of a motorcycle gang that terrorizes a small town in "The Wild Ones," May 10. Responding to "What are you rebelling against?" with "What've ya got?" Brando sets a pace for American teenagers in "The Wild Ones."

June 14, "A Raisin In the Sun" will be brought to the screen. The prize-winning play is about the struggles of an urban black family. The cast includes Sidney Poitier and Ruby Dee.

June 21, the free movies wind to an end with "Invasion of the Body Snatchers." Vegetables, (pods from outer space) duplicate and take the place of human beings in this science fiction/horror film. This is the original 1956 version and not the 1978 remake.

The finale, June 28, will be "The 5,000 Fingers of Dr. T." Dr. Seuss created this unique comic nightmare of a musical fantasy. The plot concerns a young boy who, along with 499 other boys and girls, is imprisoned by a maniacal music teacher and forced to practice on the world's biggest piano.

There will be two showings Tuesday night, one between 7 and 7:30 p.m. and another between 9 and 9:30 p.m. For more information call the GFT at 882-7363.

Inside a CT

Bon Secours and Cottage Hospitals have begun operation of a jointly owned $1.6 million computed tomography (CT) scanner, an advanced diagnostic x-ray device which takes highly realistic cross-sectional pictures of the internal area of the head and body. While the scanner itself is located at Bon Secours, examinations of Cottage Hospital patients will soon be directed from a remote unit at Cottage connected by a cable television hook-up. Here, an unidentified patient works with radiologic technologists Michael Klein (background) and Melanie Nyman. The CT scanner unit was included in a tour of Bon Secours during an open house for the general public on April 24. The opening of the new unit will alleviate a two to three week wait for CT scans in this area, say hospital sources.

Parents organize to stop keggers

The Substance Abuse Community Council, SAC, has begun a petition drive among parents of high school students in grades seven to 12 to eliminate the use of drugs and alcohol at graduation parties.

SAC is composed of members of the medical profession, educators, clergy, lawyers, law enforcement officers, social workers, judges, parents and young people working to increase awareness of alcohol and drug abuse in the community.

Using a subcommittee structure, SAC works with public, private and parochial schools, treatment facilities, education resource agencies, community centers, churches and law enforcement agencies to promote changes in attitude and behavior toward substance abuse.

As high school graduations and the end of the school year nears, the use of drugs and alcohol by students will increase as they attend parties, SAC members said. Substance abuse can cause emotional and physiological damage to young people. Alcohol related deaths are also the number one killer of high school students, SAC added.

Last December, a Farms keg party drew between 200 and 300 youths. Five Farms officers, including the chief of police, responded to the party scene to break up the gathering. The family was later charged with boisterous conduct in connection with the party. An auto accident in which two youths received injuries was attributed by police to the party.

The petition which will be circulated by SAC reads:

"In a public display of unity because we care about the safety and well-being of the young people of this community, we parents will:

• Promote and encourage creative social activities for youth

without alcohol or other drugs.

• Not serve alcohol to minor guests nor allow them to bring alcohol or other drugs into our homes.

• Allow only well-supervised parties for young people in our homes.

• Support school and law enforcement policies regarding the use of alcohol and other drugs by youth and encourage appropriate and consistent consequences."

SAC plans to publish the names of those willing to publicly support the petition at a later time. If you would like to voice your support for the above policy, send this article and your name the way you want it to appear to Substance Abuse Community Council, 674 Lakeshore, Grosse Pointe Park 48230. Deadline is Friday, May 6. You can also call 343-0555 to voice support.

Symphony closes season Sunday

The final concert of the Grosse Pointe Symphony's 30th anniversary season is scheduled this Sunday, May 1, 3:30 p.m., in the Parcels School Auditorium, with pianist Brandt Fredriksen as featured guest artist.

Fredriksen, of Highland, Mich., a senior at Indiana University, was the concerto winner in the 1982 Summer Music Festival Piano Competition sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Part of his competition is Sunday's opportunity to solo with the Grosse Pointe Symphony.

Fredriksen, who has performed extensively in recital at Indiana University and at the Banff Festival of the Arts in Canada, began music at the age of 6 in Detroit, and for a 10-year period, was a pupil of the renowned Mischa Kottler, who was pianist for the Detroit Symphony for many years.

In addition to his Grosse Pointe War Memorial prize, Fredriksen's excellence has been honored on several occasions. He received the Bryce Scholarship at Mannes School of Music, a music performance scholarship at Banff, and won the Indiana University concerto competition in February, 1982.

Fredriksen will perform Concerto No. 23 in A for Piano and Orchestra by Mozart as well as Richard Strauss' Burleske in d minor for Piano and Orchestra. Two selections by Saint-Saens and one by Tchaikovsky will round out the afternoon's program.

A meet-the-artist reception, to which all members of the audience are invited, will immediately follow the concert, arranged by members of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2 for students. Tickets available at the door or call 886-4084 to reserve in advance.

Parents want a vote on school closing issue

parent Carl Anderson.

"I think the plan is responsive to the community's desire to close some schools in an orderly fashion. I applaud the plan."

Later, Anderson, a candidate for the Grosse Pointe Board of Education four years ago, said he feels the administration's plan will retain quality education and feels the school board will modify Brummel's plan.

"The (plan) reflects a deep concern for the displacement of children. People will have their neighborhood schools. I think the board is willing to listen to input from the community, and I believe there is a good number of people who probably think the plan proposed by the administration has a good deal of merit," Anderson said.

While some parents expressed concerns about traffic problems, school taxes and flexi-grades, others said they are worried about declining property values if Supt. Brummel's plan is approved. One local realtor believes those residents have some cause for concern.

Dick Borland of Earl Keim Realty in Grosse Pointe City said although there is no hard research to support his claim, he believes school closings reflect partially on local property values.

"We still have the reputation for a good school system and one of the attractions is the accessibility of the elementary schools for smaller children. But I happen to believe that there has not been enough research done on what the true picture is."

Borland said a policeman from another local community moved into the Pointes because his own city was closing schools.

"There has been a lot of turnover in the last six months with younger families moving into (the Pointes)," Borland said. "You ask why? It's because our community has the amenities and the schools are of primary interest."

Upcoming public hearings on the superintendent's school closing plan are scheduled for:

- May 11 — Mason Elementary School
- May 12 — Barnes Elementary School
- May 17 — Defer Elementary School
- May 18 — Kerby Elementary School

Meetings will begin at 8 p.m.

Armchair travelers visit Europe's palaces

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "Let's Cruise from Norway to Leningrad," a 16mm movie by Pierre and Elfrieda Palmentier, on Monday, May 2, 8 p.m. in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore Road.

The public is invited to attend the program without charge. The Social Hour following is limited to Cinema League members.

After stops in Copenhagen and Amsterdam, the old Hanseatic city of Hamburg, Germany, with its lakes and Plantenim-Blomen flower displays is shown. In Poland, the ship docked at Gdynia for a visit to Zopot, Gdansk and Oliwa, with its famous cathedral and parks.

The palaces of the Romanoffs are shown near Leningrad, such as Czar Paul's summer residence at Pavlovsk, beautifully reconstructed and refurbished. There also are Catherine the Great's palace at Pushkin, and Petrodvorets, home of Peter the Great, with sparkling fountains.

Helsinki, Finland and the Tapiola Garden City also are filmed. Of special interest to area residents is Hvittrask, home of famed architect, the late Eliel Saarinen, which he built in 1904.

A family named Diedrichsen invited some of the cruise passengers to be guests in their home to view paintings and lovely gardens with sculpture by the renowned Henry Moore.

Stockholm, and Sweden's first capital Sigtuna, with its ancient ruins, houses and lakes are filmed. Mysterious pagan burial mounds in Old Uppsala, and one of Europe's most impressive cathedrals at Uppsala also are shown.

The ship cruises the fjords of Norway, with towering cliffs, glaciers and majestic waterfalls, and enters the Arctic Circle to visit the Land of the Midnight Sun, and Europe's northernmost point, the North Cape.

In Hammerfest, many passengers joined the Royal and Ancient order of Polar Bears, and in Tromso, a group of hang glider enthusiasts prepared for an upcoming competition.

Picturesque Stavanger, busy Oslo, a spectacular train ride and vistas from mountain tops round out the presentation.

An artful spring at War Memorial

All water color artists are invited to seek inspiration from the War Memorial's carvings, sparkling water and profuse garden blooms for six Monday afternoons beginning May 2, with instructor Marilyn Derwenskus.

The course will accommodate traditional as well as experimental attitudes toward materials and techniques, and color and composition will be stressed.

The fee is $60 for six weeks. Call 881-7511 for the supply list and more information.

Teachers get pink slips

a decline of 369 students for the coming school year and anticipate further cuts in state and federal aid. A low attrition rate among educators also reflects next fall's reduced teaching staff, administrators said.

The schools' Director of Personnel and Labor Relations, Ronald Tonks, said, however, he expected most of the pink-slipped teachers to be called back to the classroom by this September because of anticipated retirements, resignations and requests for leaves of absences.

Recalled teachers would have to be qualified to fill those vacancies, Tonks said.

Tonks added out of 20 laid off teachers last year, three secondary teachers have not returned to work.

The personnel director said school principals met with the laid off teachers last week. Administrators are required under the teachers' contract to announce upcoming layoffs 60 days before school closes for summer vacation.

War Memorial plans bike trip

A bicycle touring/camping trip is being offered to high school students by the War Memorial. From Aug. 19 to 26 for $215, cyclists will visit the fishing village of Leland, the Sleeping Bear Dunes and Manitou Islands.

Trip leaders are Fred Klingbeil and Lynette Weedfall. Klingbeil, a graduate of University of Michigan, has participated in Outward Bound and National Outdoor Leadership School programs. He has biked from Montreal to Florida, and also led a group that paddled across Canada enroute to Hudson Bay, Ontario.

A detailed trip description is available at the War Memorial's office. Call 881-7511 for information.

Free movies begin Tuesday at P & J

By Phoebe Wall
South High School

Beginning Tuesday, May 3, the Punch and Judy Classic Theater will show the first of its free-movie series. During the months of May and June there will be free movies every Tuesday night. Dennis Feldmann, manager of the Punch and Judy, said, "We're just giving people an opportunity to see movies on the big screen that they wouldn't be able to see at any other movie theater. We'd also like to get people, especially those who don't normally come to the CFT, acquainted with us at no cost. It's our treat!"

The series will begin May 3 with "Grand Illusion." The movie tells of a group of WWI French aviators held captive by the Germans. It is a story of their escape. The movie is French with subtitles. There will be 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. showings.

On May 10, Laurence Olivier stars as Henry V, in a rendition of Shakespeare's drama. It begins in a 16th century London theater and then shifts to the fields of France, where Henry and his troops fight the battle in Agincourt.

A classic film starring Marlene Dietrich, "The Blue Angel," is a German movie with subtitles. It is the story of a nightclub singer who seduces a strait-laced school teacher and brings about his downfall. "The Blue Angel" will be shown May 17.

French with subtitles, the series continues with "Hiroshima, Mon Amour." The bombing of Hiroshima during WWII becomes linked to a French woman's traumatic memories of her youth in this story of memory and forgetting on May 24.

May 31, Jimmy Stewart stars as a discouraged small town man who is saved from suicide by a guardian angel who shows him the error of his ways. "A Wonderful Life" is a sentimental, heart-warming celebration of the simple joys of life, this is the kind of movie that people see again and again," Feldmann added.

Marlon Brando stars as the sullen, leather jacketed leader of a motorcycle gang that terrorizes a small town in "The Wild Ones," May 10. Responding to "What are you rebelling against?" with "What've ya got?" Brando sets a pace for American teenagers in "The Wild Ones."

June 14, "A Raisin In the Sun" will be brought to the screen. The prize-winning play is about the struggles of an urban black family. The cast includes Sidney Poitier and Ruby Dee.

June 21, the free movies wind to an end with "Invasion of the Body Snatchers." Vegetables, (pods from outer space) duplicate and take the place of human beings in this science fiction/horror film. This is the original 1956 version and not the 1978 remake.

The finale, June 28, will be "The 5,000 Fingers of Dr. T." Dr. Seuss created this unique comic nightmare of a musical fantasy. The plot concerns a young boy who, along with 499 other boys and girls, is imprisoned by a maniacal music teacher and forced to practice on the world's biggest piano.

There will be two showings Tuesday night, one between 7 and 7:30 p.m. and another between 9 and 9:30 p.m. For more information call the GFT at 882-7363.

Symphony closes season Sunday

The final concert of the Grosse Pointe Symphony's 30th anniversary season is scheduled this Sunday, May 1, 3:30 p.m., in the Parcels School Auditorium, with pianist Brandt Fredriksen as featured guest artist.

Fredriksen, of Highland, Mich., a senior at Indiana University, was the concerto winner in the 1982 Summer Music Festival Piano Competition sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Part of his competition is Sunday's opportunity to solo with the Grosse Pointe Symphony.

Fredriksen, who has performed extensively in recital at Indiana University and at the Banff Festival of the Arts in Canada, began music at the age of 6 in Detroit, and for a 10-year period, was a pupil of the renowned Mischa Kottler, who was pianist for the Detroit Symphony for many years.

In addition to his Grosse Pointe War Memorial prize, Fredriksen's excellence has been honored on several occasions. He received the Bryce Scholarship at Mannes School of Music, a music performance scholarship at Baniff, and won the Indiana University concerto competition in February, 1982.

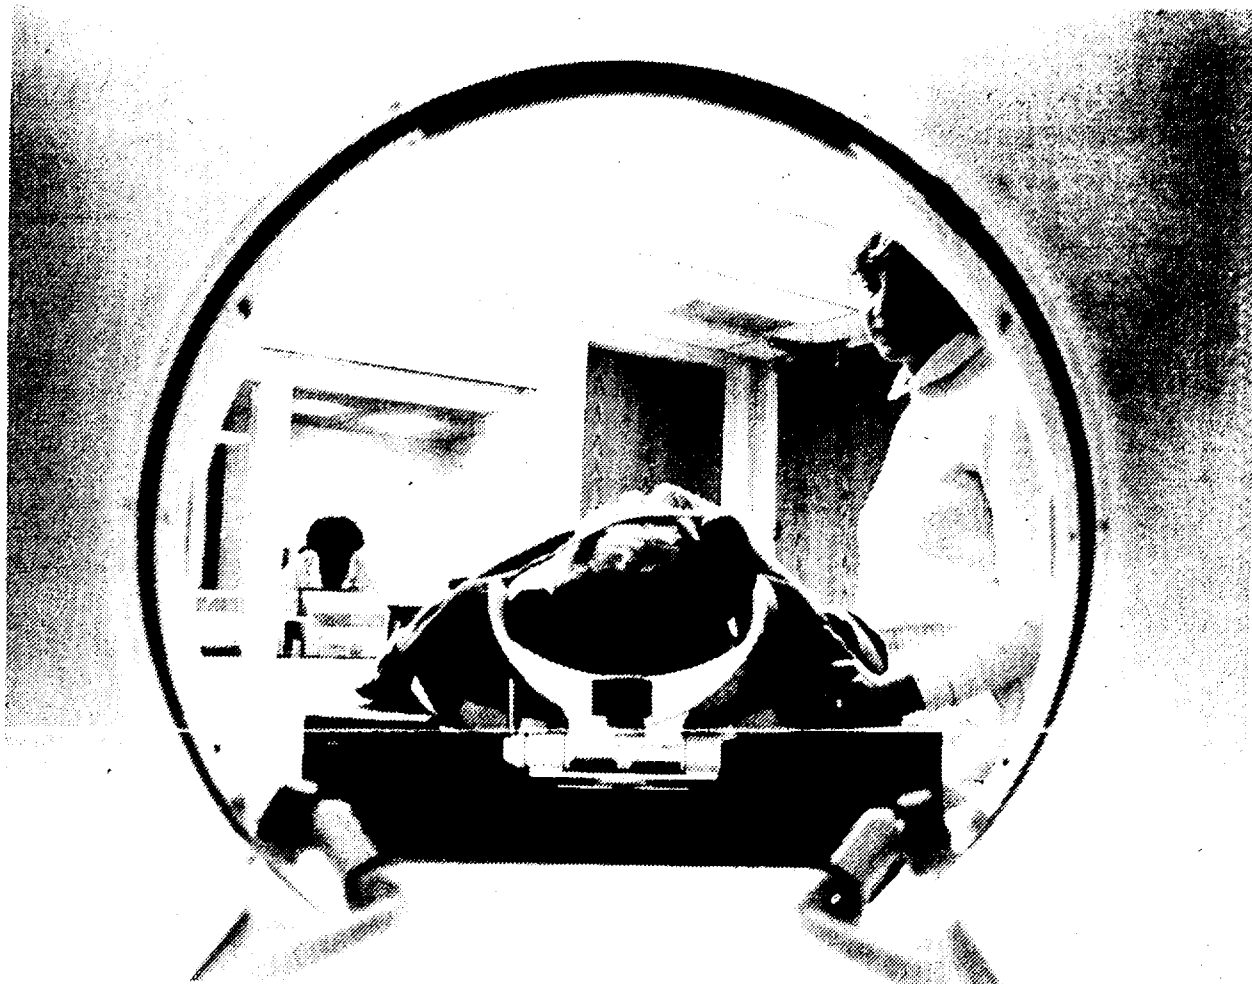

Fredriksen will perform Concerto No. 23 in A for Piano and Orchestra by Mozart as well as Richard Strauss' Burleske in d minor for Piano and Orchestra. Two selections by Saint-Saens and one by Tchaikovsky will round out the afternoon's program.

A meet-the-artist reception, to which all members of the audience are invited, will immediately follow the concert, arranged by members of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2 for students. Tickets available at the door or call 886-4084 to reserve in advance.

City '83 budget hearing May 16

The Grosse Pointe City Council has scheduled a public hearing on the city's 1983-84 budget on Monday, May 16, 7:30 p.m., in council chambers, 17147 Maumee Avenue.

The budget will be available for public inspection beginning next Thursday, May 6. The council will adopt the budget at its regular meeting on Monday, May 23.

Inside a CT

Bon Secours and Cottage Hospitals have begun operation of a jointly owned $1.6 million computed tomography (CT) scanner, an advanced diagnostic x-ray device which takes highly realistic cross-sectional pictures of the internal area of the head and body. While the scanner itself is located at Bon Secours, examinations of Cottage Hospital patients will soon be directed from a remote unit at Cottage connected by a cable television hook-up. Here, an unidentified patient works with radiologic technologists Michael Klein (background) and Melanie Nyman. The CT scanner unit was included in a tour of Bon Secours during an open house for the general public on April 24. The opening of the new unit will alleviate a two to three week wait for CT scans in this area, say hospital sources.

Parents organize to stop keggers

The Substance Abuse Community Council, SAC, has begun a petition drive among parents of high school students in grades seven to 12 to eliminate the use of drugs and alcohol at graduation parties.

SAC is composed of members of the medical profession, educators, clergy, lawyers, law enforcement officers, social workers, judges, parents and young people working to increase awareness of alcohol and drug abuse in the community.

Using a subcommittee structure, SAC works with public, private and parochial schools, treatment facilities, education resource agencies, community centers, churches and law enforcement agencies to promote changes in attitude and behavior toward substance abuse.

As high school graduations and the end of the school year nears, the use of drugs and alcohol by students will increase as they attend parties, SAC members said. Substance abuse can cause emotional and physiological damage to young people. Alcohol related deaths are also the number one killer of high school students, SAC added.

Last December, a Farms keg party drew between 200 and 300 youths. Five Farms officers, including the chief of police, responded to the party scene to break up the gathering. The family was later charged with boisterous conduct in connection with the party. An auto accident in which two youths received injuries was attributed by police to the party.

The petition which will be circulated by SAC reads:

"In a public display of unity because we care about the safety and well-being of the young people of this community, we parents will:

• Promote and encourage creative social activities for youth

without alcohol or other drugs.

• Not serve alcohol to minor guests nor allow them to bring alcohol or other drugs into our homes.

• Allow only well-supervised parties for young people in our homes.

• Support school and law enforcement policies regarding the use of alcohol and other drugs by youth and encourage appropriate and consistent consequences."

SAC plans to publish the names of those willing to publicly support the petition at a later time. If you would like to voice your support for the above policy, send this article and your name the way you want it to appear to Substance Abuse Community Council, 676 Lakeside, Grosse Pointe Park 48230. Deadline is Friday, May 6. You can also call 343-0555 to voice support.

Pianist Brandt Fredriksen, recipient of the concerto award in last year's Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival Piano Competition, will be the featured guest artist at the final concert of the Grosse Pointe Symphony this Sunday at Parcels school.

120 seek post at North High

A national search to replace North High School Principal G. Bruce Feighner next fall has attracted about 120 applicants, according to school officials.

Feighner is retiring this June from a 28 year career as a secondary administrator in the Royal Oak and Grosse Pointe school systems.

The appointment of a new principal at North will be made by the Board of Education on the recommendation of Supt. Dr. Kenneth Brummel.

A new North High School principal is expected to be selected in late May, school officials said.

Seminar helps nurses cope

A conference for nurses featuring two nationally recognized nursing professionals is set for Wednesday, May 18 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The conference is sponsored by Bon Secours Hospital's education and staff development department.

"Renaissance conference: self-concept" is designed to help nursing professionals recognize the external forces which impact on their present personal and professional self-concept, according to the hospital. The program also will help nurses identify current perceptions of self, determine areas for further development, and help discover methods of attaining an envisioned self-concept, the hospital said.

Speakers include Beatrice J. Kalisch, Ed. D., F.A.A.N., Titus Professor of Nursing and chairperson, parent-child nursing, University of Michigan, and Philip A. Kalisch, Ph.D., professor of history and politics of nursing, University of Michigan. Conference leaders are staff members from Bon Secours Hospital's department of education and staff development.

Attendance is by pre-registration only with a deadline of Monday, May 4. Fee is $50 per person. For more information, call 343-1868.

Shores plans June move to Vernier School

By Mike Andrzejczyk

The Shores has put a new coat of paint on the inside of the Vernier School and the village offices will move into the building by June when the renovation of the village's 67-year-old municipal building begins.

Because the municipal building is basically being rebuilt from the outer walls in, public safety and general government offices will have to be moved, Village Superintendent Michael Kenyon told village trustees at their April 19 meeting.

The move will begin after the village's Tuesday May 17 election, Kenyon said. The village uses the school as a voting precinct.

Under a tentative schedule for construction proposed by construction managers Charles Fromm and Co., the renovation and construction of an elevator tower, parking lot and access from Lakeshore Road, could take eight months to complete. A company representative told the trustees in March that the cost could be $1.15 million, adding that was a "very tentative estimate."

Under the renovation project, the interior of the building will be totally revamped, with the wiring, plumbing and insulation being brought up to current codes. In addition, the council/court room will be enlarged.

The public safety department will take up most of the first floor. Municipal offices move to the second floor.

New holding cells, conference rooms, offices and reception desks will be added to the public safety department. Facilities will also be added for the fire marshal and the detective bureau, currently sharing a basement office.

An elevator tower will be added to the north side of the building to make municipal offices accessible to handicapped persons. A stairway to the second floor will also be added.

Construction is expected to begin around the first of June when the village administration is fully moved out of the offices, Kenyon said.

A 31-car parking lot with access from Lakeshore Road and a new entrance will be added to the north side of the building after the demolition of an adjoining home. The village will not allow parking along Vernier for the city offices after the project is completed, Kenyon said.

Municipal offices on the second floor include facilities for a building inspector, who now has a basement office. In addition, offices will be added for the treasurer and village superintendent, whose first floor office will become part of the council chambers.

Trustees also decided to pay for a preliminary landscape sketch from John Grissim and Assoc. The $750 fee will be deducted from the cost should the company be contracted for the work, village officials said.

Lauve starts recall drive

Grosse Pointe Woods Republican John Lauve can begin collecting signatures to recall Gov. James Blanchard, the Oakland Elections Commission ruled last week.

The commission approved the wording of the recall petition Monday, April 18, the first step in the recall process. Lauve, a Woods resident and General Motors engineer, now has 90 days to collect the necessary signatures to force a recall.

CERTS plans area meeting

Citizens Engaged in Removal of Toxic Substances, CERTS, will hold a meeting for area residents interested in urea formaldehyde foam insulation and its possible health hazards Tuesday, May 3, at 7:30 p.m. at Kerby School.

The foam insulation, which estimates say may be in as many as 70,000 Michigan homes, was banned by the Consumer Product Safety Commission in 1982 as a health hazard. That ban was recently lifted by a federal appeals court.

Federal legislation offering up to $10,000 in tax credits for homeowners to remove the insulation was recently introduced by Congressman Dennis Hertel, Detroit.

For more information about CERTS, call Nick Saputo at 777-2944.

To recall a state official, petitions must bear 25 percent of total vote for that office. In the governor's case, 760,000 signatures are needed. If the signatures are collected and certified, a recall election would be scheduled for 60 days later. Should Blanchard lose the recall, Lt. Gov. Martha Griffiths would assume the governorship until a special election.

Lauve began the campaign recall against Blanchard for the governor's role in the 38-percent income tax increase legislation which took effect recently.

The governor has 10 days to file an appeal of the ruling. Press secretary Sue Carter said no appeal has been filed.

Lauve has tried unsuccessfully six times for five different political offices. He first ran in 1970 for Wayne County commissioner. In 1974, he lost a special election for the state Senate, and the primary election for the state Senate in another district.

In 1981, he lost a special primary to fill the U.S. Congressional seat vacated by David Stockman, who had been named budget director. He later lost an attempted write-in campaign for the same seat.

Lauve was a candidate last year for the state Senate. He lost the election to John Kelly.

Driver ed. begins June 20

Two four-week sessions in driver education will be offered this summer by the Department of Continuing Education of the Grosse Pointe public school system. Instruction is available, free of charge, to high school students who reside in the Grosse Pointe public school district who are at least 15 years of age.

Application blanks, which must be signed both by a student's parent or guardian, as well as by a school official, are available at the five public secondary schools, as well as at Star of the Sea High School, University-Liggett Upper School, and the Department of Continuing Education, located in Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte Avenue.

The first session begins June 20 and ends July 15; the second begins July 5 and ends July 29. Both sessions will be held at North High School, 707 Vernier Road.

Students wishing to enroll in the summer driver education program must complete an application form and return it to the Department of Continuing Education by 4 p.m., Friday April 29. Application forms received after the deadline cannot be considered for the 1983 session.

After completing the application and prior to enrollment, students must consult the schedule for class, range, and road time.

Enrollment for both sessions will be held as follows:

- Tuesday, May 3 — Students with birth dates between June 20, 1965 through June 30, 1967.
- Wednesday, May 4 — Students with birth dates between July 1, 1967 through December 31, 1967.
- Thursday, May 5 — Students with birth dates between January 1, 1968 through July 5, 1968.

On each of the three dates, students or their parents may call the Department of Continuing Education at 343-2178 from 7:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or register in person in room A-22 of Brownell Middle School.

Students also may enroll at the registration table in the hallway outside the Counseling Center at both North and South High Schools from 7:45 p.m. to 9:15 a.m. on the three dates. Students will not be excused from class to register.

After May 5, enrollments will be taken by phone or in person in room A-22 of Brownell Middle School. Students who do not enroll on the date for which they are scheduled may still register any time until June 10, although the choice of class sections may be limited.

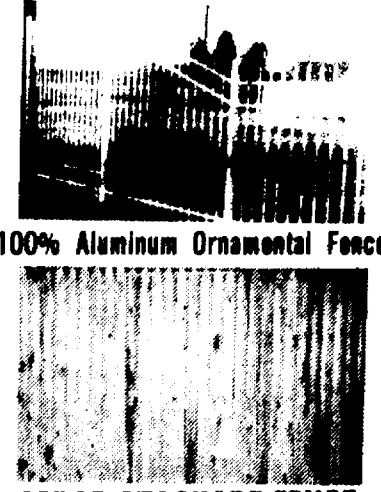

Call 343-2178 for additional information.

A vote on school closings?

The proposal to close some school buildings because of declining enrollment is proving to be no less controversial in the Pointes than it is in Detroit and other communities faced with the same issue.

As Grosse Pointe citizens join in the debate over the school administration's proposed schedule for school closings, one interesting question has been raised as a possible alternative to having the school board make the decision at its June 13 meeting, as now planned.

That alternative is to subject the issue to a public vote. Some people would prefer a vote on every school closing proposal. Others would simply be satisfied with putting the question of reorganization and consolidation of schools to the voters.

Either alternative is a poor one, in this newspaper's opinion. We endorse the school administration's response to the question:

"THE BOARD of Education members are elected to represent the Grosse Pointe school district citizens in making educational decisions, no matter how difficult. To ask board members to abdicate that responsibility would not be in keeping, in our opinion, with the purpose for which they were elected."

The administration's plan for closing is becoming one of the issues in the school board election. In our view, it is appropriate for citizens to ask how board members stand on the closing issue. And if the voters don't like the responses they get, or the votes the board members cast, the board members can be replaced.

But to suggest that individual citizens would be able to come up with a better solution on such a policy matter is to ignore the lessons of representative government. Citizens should and do hold public officials responsible for their actions and can vote them in or out, but voters should not try to serve as public officials themselves.

Rumors on reapportionment

There are rumors in the daily press and even a hint in Rep. William Bryant's column in the Grosse Pointe News that the Democrats are gearing up for a new legislative redistricting plan to solidify the party's hold on the state.

The theory is that with the Democratic Party controlling the governorship, the state's congressional team, both houses of the Legislature and even the "nonpartisan" state Supreme Court, now is the time to take action to make certain that kind of control can be not only preserved but extended if possible.

The 1982 legislative reapportionment was determined by the Michigan Supreme Court after it held that the Commission on Legislative Reapportionment was in effect unconstitutional. The Democrats never were happy with the plan which they contended was "unconstitutional and unfair," and unsuccessfully appealed it to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Democratic fears that the 1982 legislative reapportionment plan would help the Republicans were borne out, at least from the Democratic view, when the GOP picked up four Senate seats and one House seat in the November election. While that still left the Democrats with a 63-47 majority in the House and a 20-18 lead in the Senate, they now feel they could do better by tinkering with the districts.

Some Democrats believe that certain Republican districts that continue to elect GOP House and Senate members could be broken up and the pieces attached to strongly Democratic areas. That tactic was followed successfully last year when a panel of federal judges, with the Democrats in control, approved a congressional reapportionment that split the Republican Grosse Pointe community in two, and put half in Rep. John Hertel's 14th District and half in Rep. George Crockett's 13th District. That diluted the GOP strength in the 14th District to such an extent that the party could not even field a congressional candidate.

WHETHER THE Democratically-controlled Legislature could simply replace the 1982 reapportionment by enacting a new one or whether the state Supreme Court would have to take the lead in any new redistricting plan is not clear. But even the talk about such a proposal offers further evidence that reapportionment, whether at the level of legislative districts, congressional districts or even commissioner districts, often reflects power politics as much as it does the population shifts that such redistricting is supposed to accommodate in order to carry out the one-man, one-vote principle.

An up-beat state budget

Michigan's roller coaster economy is apparently on the up-beat once again with the auto industries reporting increased profits in the first quarter of the year and other business indicators showing signs of recovery.

At the same time, Gov. James Blanchard is proposing a 12.5 percent increase in state spending for the next fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 in what he calls a "maintenance plan" budget that would still boost the overall budget to a new record. So spending once more is on the up-beat, too.

Those served by or connected with the major agencies that will benefit from increased state spending — meaning the primary and secondary schools, higher education, mental health and social services — in general applaud the governor's plan, although some complain their particular agency did not get enough of the increase.

ON THE OTHER hand, some private citizens are still fearful that the economic recovery just getting under way would not raise sufficient revenues to meet the expanded budget. So they are worried about a new tax increase to help raise additional funds, because the tax increase voted this year will begin to drop next Jan. 1.

In short, there are the usual mixed feelings about the budget. Those who will benefit in one way or another from the higher spending applaud it. Those who fear they will have to pay more taxes now or in the future express concern. Yet it is true that at some time the cuts made in recent years in state services ought to be restored, at least in part. And that is what the governor appears to be doing.

In fact, the Detroit Free Press claimed that the proposed spending would only match the 1972 budget in constant dollars, which means that the funds restored to specific state agencies would not provide the same level of support as a decade earlier before the recession really began to hit Michigan.

Blanchard conceded that the economic recovery in Michigan will proceed more gradually and more slowly than the nation's and predicted high unemployment — now the highest in the nation — will continue to plague the state during the next fiscal year.

Unfortunately, the needs of the state's schools and colleges are so great that any further delay in the restoration of some of their cutbacks would seriously damage those institutions as well as the young people being trained to help bring about and share in the fruits of recovery.

In addition, grants for recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children and general assistance have been cut sharply since 1981 and the restoration recommended in the budget still would not offset the cutbacks when inflation is taken into consideration. The same kind of argument can be used to support increased spending for the Department of Mental Health and the Department of Corrections.

It is true, however, that legislators and the public will have to make certain, as they study the governor's budget, that it does not simply serve as the first step toward raising spending to such a high level that the state cannot afford it without imposing taxes that will drive business out of Michigan, make it impossible for business and industry to expand or even make it difficult to operate profitably.

IN OTHER WORDS, just because Michigan is now seeing some light at the end of the economic tunnel, the state should not resume any wasteful spending practices that might blunt the recovery before it arrives. The Blanchard budget does not appear to do so but any further increases proposed ought to be monitored closely. As the recovery occurs, the state needs to keep a tight rein on its spending to make certain it does not contribute to a new downward trend in Michigan's roller-coaster economy.

High cost of closing Mason School

To the Editor:

I am a parent with a child at Mason School. The proposal to close elementary schools in this school system is of concern to me.

It is true that I have interest because my child attends one of the targeted schools, but I also believe that I can be objective, and the following comments are offered in that view.

For the past 50 years in American public education, professional practice, methodology, and organizational systems to a large degree have evolved in accord with an undercurrent of philosophic thought termed humanism. In the absence of time and space for a discourse on this philosophy, let it be said that one of the ironies and problems in humanism is that it has a tendency to be dehumanizing. Its basic focus is process. Conversely, the antithesis of humanism is that which focuses on the individual person. Perhaps the two are illustrated in education by comparison of methodology in the classroom.

The first method seeks to achieve precast sets of behavioral objectives for students. The second method seeks to develop each unique individual to his or her fullest potential.

A recent example will be illustrative. Two months ago on my way to work, my automobile broke down in front of Mason School. I entered the building to use the phone and struck up a brief conversation with William Mestdagh, the principal. As we started to talk he looked at me in rather an odd manner with vague recognition, whereupon he then uttered my last name and associated it with my child's. This may not seem uncommon except, you see, I had never once met or spoken with Mr. Mestdagh. The only conceivable association was my attendance at several PTO meetings. The implication is simply that students, as well as their parents, are known as persons in this school by the school administration, staff, and teachers. Countless other similar examples could be cited by other parents.

The second example is the excellent individual instruction which my child has received this year at Mason. This instruction has been over and above the normal material and has been tailored for her educational development as a person.

I would suggest that these examples are simple illustrations of quality public education which begins with the recognition of the uniqueness of each individual student. Much has been made in words about quality education in the Steering Committee Study. This is "real life" quality education which is occurring now at Mason School.

The proposal to close Mason School and relocate classes down the street at the middle school is, in many respects, easy to understand. The Mason School building, with its architecture and appointments, is an asset to the school system, either as prime real estate for resale or use as school system offices, et al. It is common sense in an age of economic decline and shrinking enrollments to exercise business savvy and close schools. In short, it is the expedient course of action to be taken. I would not suggest that closure is not expedient.

However, I would offer the following observations. Everything in life has a cost. This is true at the grocery store and it is true in human relationships. The cost in loving someone is that one becomes vulnerable. The same could be said of truth.

If Mason is closed it will be the end of the very finest quality elementary education environment in this public school system. Make no mistake, if elementary classes are shifted to the middle school, there will be a marked reduction in quality. Mason School relocated will change. The principal will change. The philosophy of education will change, as will the school organization. The methodology will change. Some of the teachers will change. The school relocated will become process-focused versus person-focused.

Other costs could be elaborated. There is a cost in the political arena to do that which is not popular. There is the added economic burden involved in providing quality public education above the norm.

There is always a cost to parents who choose to pursue private or parochial alternatives in education in lieu of public school.

There is a very real cost and yet that which defies quantification with elementary children which are exposed to process-focused versus person-focused education. This cost is hidden and the tragic results may not be apparent until years later.

More to the point, I would suggest that the following are pertinent questions:

- Is the real impact of quality elementary education on a child's life a quantifiable value?
- In the cost-benefit analysis methodology employed, is there a variable which measures this value of quality elementary education?
- In decision-making, does the readily available cost data in economic and demographic form outweigh the value of quality elementary education in the lives of students?

Sincerely,

Bruce E. VanFarow

Social change is abrasive

To the Editor:

After the public hearing on school reorganization at Parcels last Thursday, a parent remarked to me that what she had heard was a recitation by other parents of their reluctance or inability to adjust to social change. That was a very astute and timely observation. When Harold Howe left the U.S. Office of Education, he summed his experience in that office by saying "social change is abrasive."

Little if anything was said about students, who, by contrast possess a remarkable capacity for adjustment to social change.

It was very disappointing to hear so many parents support a regression to the one room grammar school syndrome and the mystique of the alleged "neighborhood school."

Little did they realize the damage that could be inflicted on their children by limiting the scope and depth of instruction offered in primary grades. Perhaps the parents of today's students received an education adequate to their adult working life, as did I one generation earlier.

The acceleration of technology and complexity of today's and tomorrow's world requires a more comprehensive program in primary grades. The trustees will implement the recommendation of the administration. Parents will accept the change as constructive rather than abrasive. Students will be better prepared to respond to the demands of the 21st century.

Keep an eye on Kelly
One view from the Capitol

By William Bryant Jr.
State Representative

For the last two weeks, Sen. Kelly has spouted off in articles he wrote for the Grosse Pointe News about what a hero he is, how he never lies and always does what's good and right, all to try to justify his vote for Gov. Blanchard's 38 percent income tax increase.

Our dear senator almost acts as if he thinks he won't have me watching him anymore, like he thinks he can succeed in the goal he and Blanchard share, to re-appportion the state legislature and perhaps even succeed in denying the Grosse Pointe representation by carving them into parts of two or three Detroit Democratic districts. John, I strongly suggest you not try it.

Kelly gives me so much material to cover, it is hard to know where to start.

But let's start with last spring, when Kelly decided to go to Europe and play economic developer rather than vote on the tax bill. The senator did take a position though, and said he could not support the six month tax increase because it was not enough. It took such courage, senator, to propose a larger increase. Our senator was the only legislator to oppose increasing taxes because it wasn't enough. Brilliant.

Now, to this year and the explanation by our senator why he simply had no choice but to increase our income tax 38 percent, well really 50.7 percent for the rest of this year.

First, the senator says he wanted to cut the budget instead of raising taxes and he has his list for cuts of $390 million. I would like to see that list, wouldn't you? Then he said Republicans were afraid to cut the budget, afraid even to write a list, afraid of the special interest groups.

Well we did have a list, in writing, and the Detroit Free Press published much of it. Also it is hard to figure what special interests we might fear since they are all tax money consuming groups and all support Democrats.

Republicans tried to get the governor to consider further cuts. Our last offer was to ask for just $42 million more than his $225 million, but he wouldn't budge.

John Kelly is elected in Detroit. The constituency which elects him is a tax consuming constituency. The tax providers in Grosse Pointe will have difficulty believing the senator wanted to solve the budget problem with cuts when it is the provision of services, spending, which he depends on for his votes in Detroit.

Our senator then says he proposed an alternative to an income tax increase, a 2 percent increase in the sales tax. He acts as if the legislature could have voted such an increase. One little problem exists with that. The sales tax can't be raised without a public vote. And that, as the senator well knew, would have taken over 100 days and the tax couldn't have started before July 1. Aside from the fact the sales tax increase would probably have been defeated on the ballot, the state would have gone bankrupt prior to July 1. Anyway, a 2 percent sales tax would have yielded only about $270 million, not nearly enough to balance the budget.

So, with the governor refusing to cut further than $225 million and with a sales tax option unworkable, that left the income tax.

Kelly says all this was necessary because of voodoo bookkeeping and Republican spending programs and ridiculous Republican economists' projections. That's very interesting, since the Democrats always raised the governor's budget and the Democrats always underestimated welfare costs, forcing deficits, and the little added fact that governors don't appropriate money. Legislatures do, especially Democrat legislatures.

John Kelly decries the lack of "participation" by Republicans in the tax vote. The senator might not know since he was never in on attempted high level negotiations, but we tried for weeks to get the governor or the Democratic leadership to negotiate. It was simply futile. There was no hope for compromise as long as the Democrats, Kelly among them, stuck together to see how high a tax they could pass without negotiating with the Republicans.

John Kelly, self proclaimed hero, labels those who opposed the tax increase bill as "cowards." And, he says Republicans retreated in the corner and sulked. We wept for the state, perhaps, but never retreated and never sulked.

Letters to the Editor

Building an economic foundation
Senator's view from Lansing

By John Kelly
State Senator

After two decades of lip service to the concept of "diversification" in the economy of Michigan, the policy-makers in Lansing have decided to begin reorganizing the state's resources to accomplish that goal. By marshalling all our resources the Democratic Party will have its long waited chance to prove that it can forge a working alliance between the private sector and state government to reshape our destiny.

The foundation of the new economic model for Michigan will be built upon four cornerstones — the Governor's Cabinet Council on Jobs and Economic Development, the private sector Commission on Jobs, and Economic Development, federal funding distributed through the Job Training Coordinating Council, and the Legislative Committee on Economic Policy.

On March 16, the Governor established the Cabinet Council on Jobs and Economic Development. Ralph Gerson, director of the Department of Commerce, will chair the 11-member council which includes the Attorney General, State Treasurer, the Directors of the Departments of Management and Budget, Agriculture, Labor, Licensing and Regulation, Natural Resources, Transportation and the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The council will be the focal point for coordinating all economic development programs in state government and will actively review all proposals and programs to encourage the retention, attraction and expansion of business activity in Michigan. The council will break into subcommittees and consider areas such as public works, job training, finance and regulatory reform, with basic industry and high growth industry considerations cutting across each area. It expects to call on experts in economic development, industrial policy and related fields both to expand the range of alternatives to be considered and to help design the new programs that are recommended. This council will work closely with the Legislature in reviewing current and proposed governmental programs and will be subjected to oversight by the Joint Committee on Economic Policy which I proposed (I also proposed it last session but the former governor actively opposed it).

The council will also work closely with the second major cornerstone of the Democratic Party's economic development efforts, a private sector Governor's Commission on Jobs and Economic Development. On March 17, Lee Iacocca, chairman of the board of Chrysler Corporation, and Douglas Fraser, president of the UAW, were named as co-chairs of the commission.

The newly-formed commission will bring together members of business, labor and education communities to directly advise the state government on economic development issues.

Acting under the authorization of federal law and with concurrence of the Legislature, the Governor appointed a State Job Training Coordinating Council. This council will oversee the distribution of nearly $200 million in federal funding for job training under the Job Training Partnership Act of 1982. This Council, in consultation with the Cabinet Council, will coordinate and focus the state's efforts in developing public and private job training programs appropriate for the business and industrial activities in Michigan in the years to come.

Finally, the Michigan Senate has SCR 7 (Kelly) in the Committee on Administration and Rules and should act shortly on a Joint Committee on Economic Policy. This committee will bring together all standing committee chairpersons of both houses of the Legislature in order to assure that all bills and proposals for reform are evaluated for all their consequences, both intended and unintended. It will also allow the collective experience and expertise to be brought to bear on the subject matter. As the chairman of the Senate Committee on Corporations (banking) and Economic Development I expect to be both a leader on this committee and at the forefront on development efforts.

Is there room for John?

To the Editor:

For the past two summers, 1981 and 1982, our 11-year-old autistic son, John (a resident of Grosse Pointe Woods) has been denied access to the local Grosse Pointe Public Schools Community Services Division summer recreation program for special education students which is limited to the Trainable Mentally Impaired only.

Accordingly, we have filed both Federal and State Civil Rights protests which are currently under investigation.

To deny a handicapped child access to a program solely on the basis of his handicap (a program from which he would otherwise benefit) is a clear violation of both the Federal and State Civil Rights Laws. We hope that community awareness will help us in our struggle to bring the Grosse Pointe Public School System into compliance by obtaining a change in its 1983 program entitlement which should read "Developmentally Disabled Summer Activity Program."

School plan is applauded

To The Editor:

We support the tentative plan proposed by Dr. Kenneth Brummel to reorganize the Grosse Pointe public schools. In all but two instances, students will be transferred to that middle school which they would have eventually attended, anyway. Some Defer students will be transferred to Trombly, and Barnes students will be divided between Monteith and Ferry.)

It seems to us that every effort is being made so far to 1) preserve the "neighborhood school" concept, 2) make the best use of school facilities in the face of declining enrollment, and 3) provide for an enriched curriculum for all students in the Grosse Pointe public schools.

System saves books at SH library

By Mike Bauer
South High School

The newly-acquired 3M Book Detection System in South High School's library is success, according to school librarians.

The system was installed last September, at a cost of $9,000.

The system operates with a small sensitized strip in each book throughout the library. When a student leaves the library, the book must be checked out or desensitized before the student is permitted to leave with it or a buzzer will sound off.

Last year alone, 800 books were reported missing from the South library, not including a number of stolen reference materials. "If the books are not checked out," said Nancy Boytor, head librarian, "then we have no way of getting them back."

The average book in the library costs about $12 each. Reference materials and encyclopedias are about $42 each.

The library was allocated $17,000 this year to replace the missing books and buy new ones, according to school officials. More than half of the money was used to repurchase the stolen books, leaving less to purchase new materials.

Since the system was installed, circulation of books has increased about 40 percent, which is about 25 more books a day, Ms. Boytor said. "Now we know that students are starting to check out more books rather than steal them," she said. "That makes us feel better."

Why would a student want to steal a library book? There are really only three reasons, said Ms. Boytor. Students don't want to pay the overdue book fines, they don't want to be hassled by overdue notices, and they don't want to be harassed by teachers about their overdue books, Ms. Boytor said.

"We are not out to get anyone," said Ms. Boytor, "We just want the students to know that we mean business."

One of the main reasons for the installment of the system was to send a message to the students, letting them know the value of the books and the value to others. "It's all psychological," said Ms.

Boytor.

"We will always give the student the out, if they are caught stealing a book," said Ms. Boytor. "We don't want to prosecute anyone."

Pierce students take first place

Thirteen students from Pierce Middle School received first, second and third place recognition in the Michigan Industrial Arts Education Society's competition for school projects.

Student Joe Velthuysen took a first place and the regional grand award in the competition.

Other students who placed in the competition were Tony Fadell, first place; Mark Kramer, third place; Peter Hanfert, second and third place; Brett Hanson, second place; Andy Housey, first place; Jeff Metry, first place; Scott Morketter, second place; Chris Nevison, second place; Mike Rogers, first place; Cindy Tewes, first place; Steve Trowern, second place; and Jason Whelan, third place.

All it took was the word "tumultuous" and Our Lady Star of the Sea seventh grader Caitlin Murray (above) became the new champion in the Knights of Columbus spelling bee on March 16. Displaying the traveling school trophy is Patricia Carsley, while English coordinator Patricia Stumb proudly looks on.

Merit scholars are announced

Five local students are among 1,800 winners nationwide of National Merit Scholarships of $1,000 each.

Recipients of the scholarships, awarded by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), will receive single payments of $1,000 scholarships include Evelyn Bittner, University Liggett School; Dianne McBrien, University Liggett School; Robert Waldvogel, University of Detroit High School; Chris Whitney, South High School; and Alice Youn, University Liggett School.

The 1983 merit scholarship competition began 18 months ago when more than one million high school juniors in 18,600 high schools took a qualifying test.

Nearly two-thirds of the National Merit $1,000 Scholarships awarded this year are underwritten by 218 corporations, company foundations and other business organizations.

Woods plans Memorial Day observance

"Display Your Flag" is the theme for the first Memorial Day observance ceremony in Grosse Pointe Woods to be held Monday, May 30, at 10 a.m. in the Circle of Honor on Veteran's Memorial Parkway.

The city's Circle of Honor is dedicated to those Americans who served their country in order to insure the blessings of life and peace.

Planning this event, which will become an annual ceremony, are Dr. Albert Howe of the city's Beautification Commission, and John Hammel, chairman of the Historical Commission. Assisting are Ailene Hoshish and Mrs. Jon Cook.

The Circle of Honor was designed by Howe. The central flag pole is ringed by nine auxiliary flags denoting major military engagements in the nation's history.

The memorial parkway has been a project of the Beautification Commission since the original west wall was erected in 1977 and dedicated in 1981.

Alumni dinner honors Addy

The second annual Christian Brothers Dinner, will be held Thursday, April 28, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, to honor John L. Addy Jr., class of 1934, friend and benefactor of De La Salle Collegiate High School and the Christian Brothers.

Chairman of the event is alumnus John Potvin, class of 1954, and master of ceremonies will be the Honorable Vincent J. Brennan, of the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The purpose of the annual affair is the help perpetuate the Christian Brothers teaching philosophy in the Detroit area. There are some 6,500 alumni of De La Salle and the former St. Joseph's High School, and the dinner committee is comprised of alumni from both schools.

Tickets, which are limited to 400 men and tax-deductible, are $150. Reservations can be made by calling 778-3356.

An active member of the alumni association since his own graduation in 1934, John Addy joined the Board of Advisors in the mid-40s, a stay which culminated by his holding the position of president chairman of the board of trustees from 1958 through 1973 when he retired after 30 years of active service.

Kids present 'Sound of Music'

It is not only in front of the cameras but also 'behind the scenes' that Mort Crim (left) and his wife, Nicki, (right) find enjoyment. Perhaps their biggest reason is their 11 year old daughter Carey's (center) participation in Grosse Pointe Children's Theater where she has appeared in many roles in the past few years under the direction of Sally Reynolds (center). Like her theatrical mom and dad Carey loves every minute and every part of theater whether on stage or off.

Carey will soon be seen in Grosse Pointe Children's Theater production of the musical, "The Sound of Music," which will open Saturday, May 7, at William Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Behind the scenes are many dedicated parents such as Crim and his wife, who will head the make-up committee. Behind this all as artistic director and producer is Sally Reynolds, who is Children's Theater founder.

Tickets for "Sound of Music" may be purchased at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 881-7511. Admission charge is $4 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens. Group rates may be obtained by calling 886-6152 after 5 p.m. Mail orders will be filled by sending checks made payable to Grosse Pointe Children's Theater, 1250 Grayton Road, Grosse Pointe Park, 48230.

Those playing leading roles in "The Sound of Music" are Cori Carrier and Eileen Kent as Maria Ranier, with Paul Corbett and Greg Preston as Captain Von Trapp. Martha Kolojeski and Beth Paczesny will share the role of Reverend Mother. Connie Coquyt and Kristin Martin will both play the ingenue lead of Liesl with Marjorie Weitzel as understudy.

Tamara Lapo and Karri Luxton will be seen as Elsa, with Ed Stevens and Andy Clay as Max. Jim Reimer and Jeff Barry will each enact the role of Rolf. Children in the Von Trapp family will be played by Heather Cross and Marjorie Weitzel as Louisa, Jon Hammond and Brian Vick as Friedrich, Marla Kurz and Carey Crim as Brigitta, Bill Genter and Michael Schoenith and David Bryant as Kurt, Lissa Oswald and Miles Vick as Marta and Stephanie Shock and Laura Wing as Gretl. Those playing the role of nuns are, Donna Grundman, Karri Luxton, Anne Young, Ann Vick, Marge Carrier, Beth Gross, Marci Denau, Pauline Mastramato, Nicole Buffo, Krissy David, Megan McKeever, Mary Bryne, Michelle Gasperut, Nicki Crim and Kathy Papatriantafyllou.

High honor

Grosse Pointe Farms resident V.J. Winfield (right) was recently the recipient of a distinguished service award from the County Road Association of Michigan. From 1956 to 1982, Winfield was associate editor and editor of Michigan Contractor & Builder, a weekly construction trade magazine of Contractor Publishing Co. This year Winfield was appointed editor of the firm's Michigan Investor, a weekly publication serving the state's banking industry. County Road Association President H.W. Reincke (left) presented Winfield his award at the association's annual meeting last month.

H&H becomes Perry outlet

Perry Drug Stores, Inc. this week announced it will open another store in the Farms in the now empty Hughes and Hatcher clothing store on Mack Avenue near Moross Road.

Scheduled to open June 24, the store will operate under the name A.L. Price (Always Low Price) and will be of the "deep discount" variety accenting health and beauty aids.

"We do realize there's another Perry Drug Store on Kercheval Avenue only about a mile or so away," said Perry spokesman Bernie F. Thomas. "But we don't expect the stores to hurt each other's business since they will offer different types of merchandise."

"Neither do we expect the Sears store to have much effect since it is a warehouse outlet. An F&M store would be more our type of competition."

The new store will be a 17,700 square foot unit compared to the 10,600 square foot store on Kercheval Avenue. Perry's has suggested that retail prices at the A.L. Price store will be substantially lower than manufacturers' suggested pricing and added that the store will also incorporate warehouse activities within the store itself.

The store's open hours will be 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sundays and holidays.

Perry currently operates 118 stores in three states; 101 in Michigan, 16 in Illinois and one in Wisconsin.

Big Boy restaurant celebrates spring

The Big Boy himself was on hand to pass out balloons and free food coupons on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 22 to 24, at the Elias Brothers restaurant on Mack near Cadieux Road.

Manager Rick Jabalee said he arranged for the festivities "because it's spring and I wanted to do something fun for the kids around here." The bigger-than-life Big Boy also visited the pediatric ward at Bon Secours Hospital while he was in town, Jabalee said.

Night manager Michael Szesniak also helped organize the event.

Zachary Taylor delayed his inauguration as U.S. President for a day because he refused to work on Sunday.

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Farms MICHIGAN

NOTICE OF HEARINGS ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the City Hall at 90 Kerby Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, on MONDAY, MAY 16, 1983 at 8:00 p.m. to hear the following Appeals:

1. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson, owners of the premises located at 38 Lakecrest Lane, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the construction of an addition to the residence located at the foregoing address. Such permit issuance was denied for reason that the proposed addition would infringe upon the required rear yard of 30 feet, leaving a rear yard of approximately 19 feet, and thereby requiring a variance from the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance.

2. Mr. & Mrs. Robert Hannon, owners of the premises located at 154 Vendome, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Building Permit to install an air conditioning unit in the side open space of their home located at the foregoing address. Such permit issuance was denied for reason that the air conditioning unit is proposed to be located in the side yard while Article IV, Section 404 of the City's Zoning Ordinance requires installation in the rear of the structure between the extreme sides, thereby requiring that a variance be granted from the aforesaid provisions.

The Hearing will be public. Interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

Artists plan 45th annual spring exhibit

Members of the Grosse Pointe Artist Association submitted their work for acceptance in the association's 45th annual juried exhibit Thursday, April 21.

Jay Yager, head of the art department of Eastern Michigan University, juried the entries.

Accepted work will be exhibited in the art wing of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial from May 7 through May 15.

The opening reception will be held Sunday, May 7, from 2 to 6 p.m.

Taxes and fees mean increases

State fuel taxes and license plate fees should produce $680 million in net revenues for the state in this fiscal year for highways, roads, streets and other transportation programs, the Michigan Department of Transportation said.

The total will be $4 million less than three years ago, but $72 million ahead of last year, MDOT said.

Projections indicate net revenues distributed to state and local road agencies and state-supported bus and rail lines should total nearly $789 million by fiscal year 1984, starting Oct. 1 that year. That would be a gain of $109 million over fiscal 1982.

The Grosse Pointes will receive $927,000 from the state this year, according to MDOT. Over the next two fiscal years, however, the Pointes will receive $2.2 million. The Woods, in two years, will receive $728,000, while the Park receives $575,000. The Farms will receive $454,200 in the next two years and the City will collect $263,800 as its share. The Shores will receive $145,400 as its share in the next two years.

The higher yield is the result of increases in highway user fees approved by the Legislature last December. The legislation reverses a steady decline in transportation revenues brought about by the switch to lighter, more fuel-efficient cars, the department said.

The money distributed to transportation agencies is what remains after deductions for collections costs and grants are set by state law, as well as $5 million earmarked each year for repair and replacement of critically deficient bridges.

In addition to providing more income, the state Legislature changed the formula for distribution of funds among the various transportation programs.

The share of money reserved for the state's Comprehensive Transportation Fund, mainly for bus and rail lines, went up from 8.3 percent of the total to the maximum 10 percent allowed by the state constitution. The fund also receives $25 million this year from auto-related sales taxes.

Starting Oct. 1, counties and municipalities will also collect a larger share, while the state's portion for work on the state highway system goes down. The actual dollars the state receives for state highways will increase, however, from $256 million in fiscal 1983 to $277 million in fiscal 1984.

Speaker looks back 50 years

The second of two pilot programs scheduled by the Department of Continuing Education of the Grosse Pointe public school system under the topic "Issues of Our Times," will be held at 8 p.m. on Thursday, April 28, in the cafeteria of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte Avenue.

The speaker at the April 28 session will be Eugene V. Ivanso, retired registered professional metallurgical engineer with a wide scope of work and contacts with a variety of industries. Ivanso, former director of Adult Education at Wayne State University, will speak on "The Past Fifty Years or So — in Technology, Research and Development." His presentation will include examples of materials, processes and products which have emerged and their effects on society now and in the future.

Moderator for the program will be Bernice Zilly, president of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons, Chapter 2151.

John J. Schonenberg Jr., a consultant and actuary, last month presented the first program, "The Baby Boom and What It Means to America."

"The Grosse Pointe community is fortunate in having a relatively high percentage of residents with 30 to 40 years of professional, technical or executive experiences in a variety of fields," Schonenberg said. "Much of the social, economic, educational, political and industrial life of today has origins in developments occurring during the active working life of these individuals and in which they played a vital role both as participants and as observers."

Dr. George T. Eddington, continuing education supervisor, said his office is recruiting retired residents to share their considerable knowledge and experience with the community during the 1983-84 year.

Fire hits Park flat

Park fire officials said they believe smoking in bed was the cause of a fire in a four-family flat on Wayburn Road early in the morning Sunday, April 17.

Fireman responded to the blaze at 5:41 a.m. and pumped water to the second story apartment for an hour, according to their report. A bed, dresser, carpet and "large accumulation" of clothing were destroyed by the blaze, the report said. The flat is owned by a Farms man. No one was injured and damage was limited to one apartment, firemen said.

Among those issued patents since the early 1800s, the ratio of men to women has run about one to 1,000.

Help near for the learning disabled

By Michael Raveane

Can your child talk about life on Mars but have trouble with his multiplication tables? Does he have a short attention span or have trouble reading?

Many children who are above average in intelligence have trouble coping with the normal classroom activities others take for granted. They are the children with learning disabilities.

The Michigan Association for Children and Adults With Learning Disabilities (MACLD) estimates that between 4 and 5 percent of the total population in the United States suffers from learning disabilities. In the fall of 1982, the Grosse Pointe school system had 387 of its students out of a total student body of 7,805 listed as having learning disabilities.

The causes for learning disabilities are numerous. Some that have been identified by the National Institute of Mental Health include pre-birth maternal malnutrition, disease during pregnancy, lack of oxygen before or after birth, sickness at an early age and head injuries resulting from a fall.

Children with learning disabilities can learn and can be taught with the proper educational resources. Improved communication and encouragement are necessary to make a better student of the child with a learning handicap, according to two Woods women who are active in the Grosse Pointe chapter of the MACLD.

"They have to learn to compensate for their deficiencies," said Sally Giacobbe, past president of the chapter. "Some parents can help their children, some can't."

Because these children often have a short attention span and become frustrated easily, handling them can be difficult. Ms. Giacobbe said that self-restraint on the part of the parent is very important.

For the parents' part, such things as encouragement and motivation of their children are important to help their children overcome their disabilities, Ms. Giacobbe said. She added that parents can further help their children by helping them find a hobby or another activity that they are good at to compensate for their failures at school.

Ms. Giacobbe and the chapter's current president, Gail Arnold, both emphasized that children with learning disabilities are not retarded and that they can overcome their handicap and go on to a successful life. Job instability has been associated with learning disabilities, but Ms. Giacobbe said that she knows of a teacher with two Master's degrees who is affected with learning disabilities.

"The potential is there," Ms. Giacobbe said. "What they're achieving in school is below average."

Reginald Sienkiewicz, director of the school system's Special Education Services department, said the 387 students classified as having learning disabilities are currently receiving special help in classrooms limited to 10 students in grades one through 12.

The Association of Children and Adults with Learning Disabilities serves as a forum for people with a learning disabled person in their families. It is a worldwide organization that has a membership exceeding 60,000. There are 12 active chapters in Michigan. The Grosse Pointe chapter currently has 30 members.

The Grosse Pointe chapter provides members with speakers familiar with the problem, information through newsletters and a forum where parents can meet each other and discuss the problem. There are 260 patients and educators on their mailing list.

"It helps give you that information you need to understand your child," Ms. Arnold said. "It helps to talk to someone else." She became active in the chapter after her son was identified as being learning disabled before he entered kindergarten.

Ms. Giacobbe, who also has a child with learning disabilities, agreed that contact with other parents is one of the advantages of belonging to the chapter. "It helps to know you're not alone."

The chapter, which meets the third Tuesday of every month at the Central Library from October to April, would up its last meeting of the school year on April 19. Over the last year, the chapter has helped get a "Parent Handbook" of basic information for parents of handicapped students published by the school system. It has also participated in conferences on the subject.

The chapter charges a yearly fee of $17 to cover minor expenses. People interested in obtaining further information on the chapter can call Ms. Arnold at 881-8321.

Grosse Pointe Public Schools

1840 school days

Hardwood benches, slates and chalk greeted these fourth graders from Monteith elementary school and teacher Joanne Case (right) when they recently visited the one-room McGuffrey school house at Greenfield Village. To make the day more fun, the students dressed in 19th century clothing. The McGuffrey school was made of logs from the barn of the Holmes farmstead in western Pennsylvania, where William Holmes McGuffrey was born. The log building was designed to represent the type of schoolhouse typical of the ones built on the American frontier.

Pay board asks increases for Woods officials

It took 27 years, but the mayor and councilmen along with the municipal judge in the Woods may get a pay increase this year.

The Local Elected Officials Compensation Commission voted unanimously Saturday, April 23, to increase the compensation paid to the mayor from $600 to $900. In addition, each councilman will receive $600, up from $400, if the recommendation is passed. The municipal judge will receive $5,000, up from $3,000.

The commission, chaired by E. Daniel Grady, made the recommendation after two Saturday meetings at city hall. The report of the meetings and the recommendation will be forwarded to the city clerk. The council will then have 30 days to reject the findings. If the council doesn't act, the recommendation will take effect.

Commission members said the increases were comparable to honorariums paid in other cities of similar size. A percentage adjustment would be insignificant and would give the idea the compensation was a type of salary, they said.

The commission discussed the possibility of deferring part of the compensation, but after committee reports, discovered the amounts involved weren't worth the added bookkeeping costs and tax benefits for the elected officials.

The compensation, paid on a quarterly basis, would represent a $3,500 increase over the year before, the commission said.

"It should be pointed out that it is being done to bring the city into line with other cities," Grady said. "It's not intended to be a salary. It's meant to be an honorarium or stipend, not a living wage."

The compensation commission will meet again in the next odd-numbered year, 1985, to again review compensation.

Councilmen in Grosse Pointe Farms receive $600 per year; the mayor, $900; and the municipal judge, $5,000. The mayor and councilmen in Grosse Pointe Park, City and Shores receive no salary. The City's municipal judge receives $3,335; the Park municipal judge receives $6,000.

DeLaSalle plans 20-year reunion

The DeLaSalle Collegiate High School class of 1963 is making plans for a 20-year reunion this November.

Former class members are asked to call Dr. Marty Quinta at 731-1920.

State aid

June 30. Grosse Pointe City expects to receive $192,000 before the end of its fiscal year, City Treasurer-Assessor Dennis Foran said. Another $59,000 is expected after June 30, bringing the projection up to $251,000, he added.

Foran pointed out the amount the cities receive in state shared revenue has been dropping since 1979. That year, the City received $320,000, compared to this year's $251,000, he said.

The Farms projected receiving $493,000 in state shared revenue this year, Farms official Carol Lock said. The city has no projection of the amount it would actually receive before the end of the fiscal year, he said, adding the April 18 payments from the state totalled $54,400.

Payments of state shared revenue beginning Oct. 1 are expected to be made in full and on time, the Michigan Municipal League said.

That projection is based on a couple of assumptions, the MML warned. The withholdings from the newly-enacted 38 percent income tax increase could affect the timely payments. State officials won't know until late May whether the increased cash flow is enough to make the payments on time, the MML said.

In addition, the state will have to pass its 1983-84 budget by Sept. 1 so it can issue short-term notes to ease any cash-flow crunch, the MML said. The state borrowed $500 million last year through notes underwritten by a letter of credit from five Japanese banks.

Park court gets serious about dogs

Grosse Pointe Park's municipal court is cracking down on dog owners who let their pets run free. Officers delivered contempt of court citations to six dog owners last weekend who have ignored tickets and warning letters from the court.

One man on Grayton Road owes the city more than $100 for eight tickets he has received because his dog was found running at large without license, court officials said.

The names of all six persons have been entered into the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) as being in contempt of the municipal court. Bond on such a charge is $250, or 10 percent. The six persons served have a Wednesday, May 4, court date to clear the charge or pay the tickets.

THE SCOTTS DIFFERENCE

We wipe out weeds the others miss.

When you use Turf Builder Plus Two*, you're controlling weeds and feeding your lawn as no other weed-and-feed can. You see, to work, most weed controls have to be absorbed through the weeds' leaves. That's why Scotts' particles are small and lightweight. So they stick to the weeds' leaves better. So the weed control is absorbed better. So it works better. And only Scotts puts weed control in every particle, to get even the smallest weeds that other brands may miss.

And there's more. Turf Builder Plus Two feeds your lawn while it weeds, because it contains Turf Builder* fertilizer—the fertilizer engineered just for lawns.

You can't get all that from "bargain" brands. Only from Scotts.

No wonder Scotts guarantees your satisfaction absolutely.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

Let's hear it for the loyal volunteers, without whom our hospitals, schools, community centers and the like could, certainly, function — but it would be hard, very hard, and what would become of the personal services volunteers provide? . . . and how well would those hospitals, schools, community centers and the like function without the money those volunteers save?

A case in point: Grosse Pointe Park's Elizabeth Vineyard who, in mid-month, at Children's Hospital of Michigan's "Blue Ribbon Event" honoring the more than 400 men and women who volunteered an estimated 45,000 hours to the pediatric hospital during the past year, received her Five Thousand Hour Pin for service as treasurer of Children's Gift Shop. During the past year alone, Mrs. Vineyard devoted over 630 hours to that position.

She came to volunteer at the hospital in 1974. She has handled the Gift Shop's bookkeeping ever since. Her friendship with Trudee Munro, a fellow Park resident and the shop's volunteer manager, plus a love of working with figures have combined to keep Mrs. Vineyard happy in her work through the years. Also, of course, there's the satisfaction of knowing that her services are needed, and appreciated.

As Gift Shop treasurer, Mrs. Vineyard is responsible for recording sales slips, keeping and filing the proper tax records, making monthly reports et al. She also assists Mrs. Munro with the merchandise buying, fills in at counter sales whenever needed and, in her capacity as shop treasurer, sits on the board of directors of Children's Auxiliary, an important fund raising arm of the hospital. The auxiliary underwrites such programs as television sets for all young patients.

She's one of many, who volunteer in some 34 areas of patient care and service at Children's. If you're interested in joining them, the person to contact for further information is the hospital's director of Volunteers, Nancy Fife-Gibson. Mrs. Gibson may be reached by calling 494-5326.

More cases in point: Barbara Adams, Marian Proffitt and Diane Sullivan, a trio of exceptional Grosse Pointe Girl Scout volunteers. Barbara, currently leader of Senior Girl Scout Troop 327, has, in addition to her weekly meetings, volunteered to help out the field executive at University Liggett School. Marian, who leads a Junior Troop at Kerby School, supervises GS leaders at three local elementary schools. Diane donates her time as a trainer; she has spent many weekends in the woods, taking Scouts camping and training leaders.

All three realize that volunteer work can be a valuable complement to personal and professional lives. All three say working with the Girl Scouts is an extremely enjoyable experience. If you're interested in joining them, the

Focus on Family, Community and Mental Health

Grosse Pointe's LENORE MARSHALL (center) and CAROLE LaFOND (right) discuss the Children's Center's fourth annual spring conference, scheduled for next Wednesday, May 4, at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in downtown Detroit, with Dr. PAULA JORNE, conference coordinator. The program, running from 8:45 a.m. through 4:30 p.m., will explore the theme "The Family, the Community and Sharing Responsibility for Mental Health" in a choice of 40 workshops designed to be of special interest to human services professionals, educators, teachers and day care providers. Reservation information may be obtained by calling 831-5535. Featured speaker at the opening session is Dr. Nancy A. Humphreys, director of the School of Social Work, Michigan State University, who will report on "Involving the Community in Mental Health, Family and Children's Services." Luncheon hour panelists, offering points of view on the subject of the day, will be The Reverend Dr. Troy Allen, pastor of People's Missionary Baptist Church, Sister Sue Sattler, IHM, past-president, Southwest

Community Mental Health Board, Dr. Richard C. Hertz, Temple Beth El, and The Reverend Dr. Charles G. Adams, Hartford Memorial Baptist Church. Among specific areas to be explored in the workshop sessions are Treatment of Sexually Abused Children and their Families; Rape: The Victim and The Offender; The Assaultive Child; The Impact of Parental Alcoholism; Parenting Other People's Children or Therapeutic Foster Care; Children Living in Violent Families; Teenage Pregnancies; Joint Custody and Divorce Mediation. The Children's Center, headquartered on Alexandrine East in Detroit's Medical Center, is the oldest and largest community-based provider of mental health services for children (infants through teens) and their families in Michigan. Dr. Jorne is the Center's director of Training and coordinator of Family Services. Patricia Harkness, a member of the Center's board of directors, is chairing the conference. Serving on the conference committee from The Pointe, in addition to Lenore and Carole, is Louise TeWalt.

Many Grosse Pointe residents will be among more than 400 delegates and guests from the 132 Michigan chapters of the P.E.O. Sisterhood gathering at Western Michigan University May 10, 11 and 12, Tuesday through Thursday, for the 64th Michigan State P.E.O. Convention.

State President Sandy Sinotte, Chapter CN, Kalamazoo, will preside at "Keep A Dream in The Making." General chairman is Anne Becker, Chapter AK, Birmingham. Honored guests include Ann Johnson, editor of the P.E.O. Record, keynote speaker at Tuesday's Welcome Luncheon, and Kay Polzin, chairman of Study and Research, International Chapter.

Tuesday activities include a Projects Dinner, Wednesday's Honors Luncheon will recognize 50-year P.E.O. members and chapters, Cotey Golden Anniversary Chapters adn past-state presidents.

The P.E.O.s will be joined by their husbands Wednesday evening at the B.I.L. Banquet, Stephen Sinotte presiding, with musical entertainment provided by B.I.L.s Jim Bump and Phil LeMense, of Kalamazoo, and WMU's Gold Company.

Gwen Frostic, Chapter BJ, Frankfort, will be Thursday's guest speaker.

P.E.O., organized by seven young women as a college sorority on the campus of Iowa Wesleyan College in 1869, now a community organization for women, is an international Sisterhood devoted to bringing increased opportunities for higher education to women.

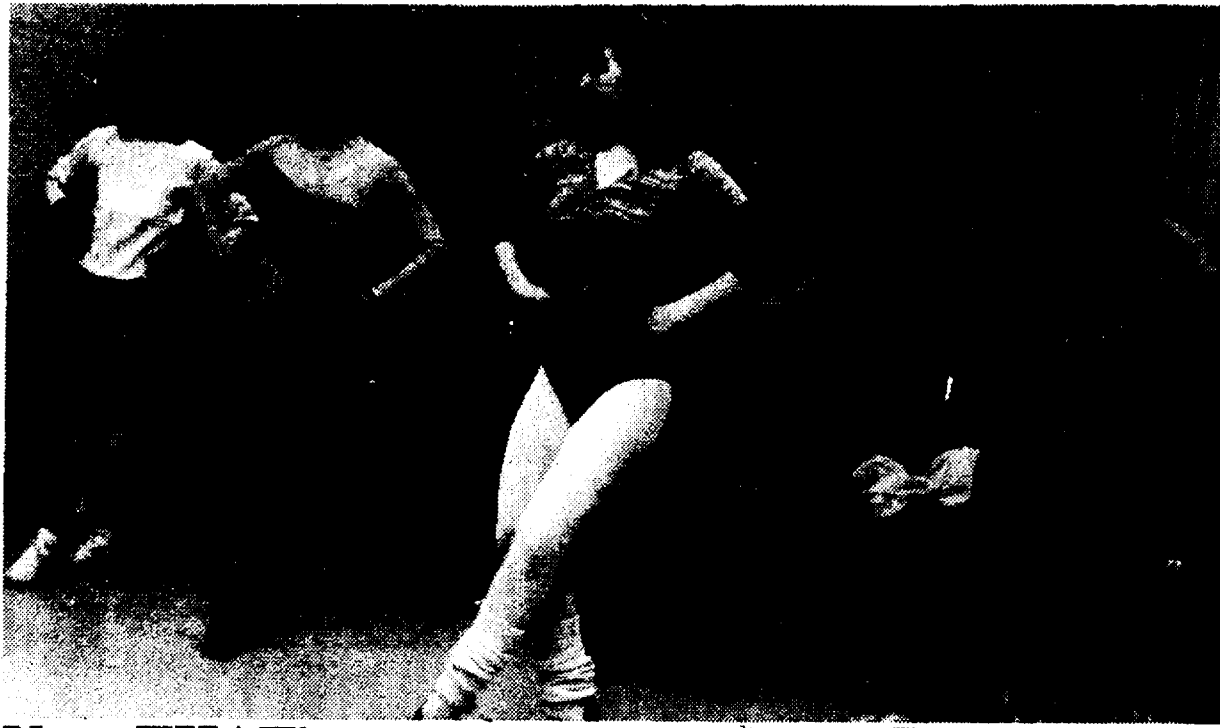

Its 5,085 chapters in the United States and Canada encompass more than 219,000 members, over 5,000 of them in Michigan. P.E.O. maintains four educational projects:

- The Educational Fund — a revolving low interest loan fund established in 1907 to lend money to women needing it for education beyond high school.

- Cotey Junior College for Women — a fully accredited liberal arts college located in Nevada, Mo., owned and supported by the Sisterhood since 1927.

- The International Peace Scholarship Fund — established in 1949 to provide scholarships for foreign women to pursue graduate studies in the United States and Canada.

- The Program for Continuing Education — P.E.O.'s newest project, established in 1973 to provide grants to mature women to continue their education. Applicants are recommended and sponsored by P.E.O. chapters.

Now THAT's a chorus line, 'Dear Boy'...

"Dear Boy," an original musical revue based on the life, works and songs of Noel Coward, debuts tomorrow evening, Friday, April 29, at The Players Playhouse on East Jefferson Avenue, with a full Fine Arts Society of Detroit cast in a variety of roles. The dancers, choreographed by Sue Adelberg, include (first row, left to right, above) SHERYL WHITSTON, MAUREEN BRUCE and KARLA FINGER, (second row, left to right), DIANE MILLENBACH, JENNIFER LAFER, KAREN BOKRAM and SARAH PETERS and (not pictured) Amy Ryberg. The entertainment was conceived by Arthur W. Gohle, of The Pointe, former Fine Arts president, who started with the idea of building some Coward songs and lore around his one-act play "Ways and Means." The result, a colorful revue in three parts, features Gohle in the role of Coward (Art doubles as director) with Jeffrey Kurtz as Cole Lesley, and intersperses life-vignettes with biographical narrative — and even the presentation of slides from "The Master's" rich and wonderful life.

It's a Fine Arts dream night, because it allows so many members (and some guest performers) to do their thing: sing, dance, act, play in the orchestra. There are the quick-trip slides of Coward with celebrities, and in roles around the world. There are the cameo vignettes dramatizing pertinent aspects of his life and times. There are the wonderful Coward songs, like "I'll Follow My Secret Heart" (sung by Monica Parks), "Zegeuner" (sung by Alice Truscon), "I'll See You Again" (Patricia and Sterling Seaton) and "20th Century Blues" (Parks), plus the bevy of fast-stepping dancers.

Other songs include: "Mad Dogs and Englishmen" (sung by Heather Denler and Al Berteel), "I've Been To a Marvelous Party," (sung by Mildred Avedesian) and "Mad about The Boy." The biography, singing and dancing come in Acts I and III. Act II is the actual presentation of Coward's one-act "Ways and Means," with Joann Koch and Roy Adelberg in the feature roles and a cast including Joann Davis, Paul Gracey, Irene Gracey, Robert Davis, Stephen Shrader and Miranda Herbert. This segment is directed by Mr. Adelberg, produced by Dorothea Bush and Norma Gohle. Backing up the musical numbers in the orchestra pit are pianist Audrey Jennings, sax Mel Stander, guitar Jim Steima and violin Bernard Whitley. Joe Lackey photographed and will project the slides. Book holder is Joann Horner.

Others who appear in various roles in "Dear Boy," are Sarah Peters, Patrick Petz, Maureen Bruce, Heather Denler, Aaron Drucker, Edward Hoot and Albert Berteel. Actors in Act III are Jeffrey Montgomery, Thomas R. Peters and Haig Avedesian. Act III also features more songs by previously mentioned Fine Arts' singers.

A special feature of this exciting night for Fine Arts, now in its 77th season, will be the Arts and Crafts Committee's presentation of works by well-known artist Patricia Burnett, a new member of the Society, in the Players' Board Room.

Fine Arts' 1982-83 president, Frederick Neumann, will start the evening with his traditional remarks. The night culminates with culinary delights prepared and served by members of the House Committee, under the direction of Chef William Rohloff.

Others who appear in various roles in "Dear Boy," are Sarah Peters, Patrick Petz, Maureen Bruce, Heather Denler, Aaron Drucker, Edward Hoot and Albert Berteel. Actors in Act III are Jeffrey Montgomery, Thomas R. Peters and Haig Avedesian. Act III also features more songs by previously mentioned Fine Arts' singers.

Modeling sportswear from the Gowanie Pro Shop (Jack Clark, professional) were Gert O'Connell, Lynn Christel, Joyce McKenzie, Beverly Kjos and Geri Rossi. All models are Gowanie members, and were supervised by Pat Mayernik.

Entertainment featured Cheryl Waldeck at the piano. Reservations were handled by Doris Lattin and Jeanne Zink. Marion Maurer and Bonnie Scratch were in charge of prizes.

Northville tour date in May

The Grosse Pointe Woman's Club Discussion and Garden Group has scheduled a trip to Northville Historical Village and a tour of the Northville Laboratory for Wednesday, May 11. Luncheon is included in the plans for the day. Tickets will be available at the next meeting. Tickets may also be obtained, along with additional information, by contacting Mrs. Wayne Anderson.

Schedule personal finances seminar

A workshop to help individuals begin to structure their finances toward a more secure future will be directed by Albert Spalding, attorney, C.P.A., under sponsorship of the Wayne State University College of Lifelong Learning, Monday evening, May 16, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at WSU's Northeast Center, located on Schroeder in East Detroit.

Topics to be covered include IRAs, savings budget, tax planning, liquid asset accounts, insurance and equities. Fee is $15. Further information may be obtained by contacting Nancy Grose or Karen Leigh at 577-4710.

To pay a call on Romeo. . .

Setting the mood for the Grosse Pointe Historical Society's Home and Church Tour of Romeo, scheduled for Saturday, May 7, is the mannequin above, dressed in an actual 1904 calling costume. The silk suit, parasol, and outsize hat were shown recently at the Society's annual meeting; an Edwardian dinner party at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. They are from the antique clothes collection of MRS. SIDNEY PROBERT (left). Pictured above with Ellen Probert and her friend are MRS. FRANK WELCENBACH (seated), program chairman, and MRS. ROBERT MALECEK, a member of the Society's board of directors.

The tour departs by chartered bus from the parking lot of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, located on Chalfonte Avenue, promptly at noon, and will arrive in Romeo in time for a sandwich and dessert lunch at the Congregational Church there.

After Mrs. John Martin's slide presentation on the houses and buildings of Romeo, the Grosse Pointe Historical Society group will tour the church, parsonage and museum before boarding the bus to return to The Pointe.

Cost of the expedition is just $4 per person. Reservations may be made by calling 886-2066 or 331-4066 or — on Wednesdays only — the Society's headquarters at Monteith School.

Visiting Nurse work goes on

Next week, May 1 to 7, is National Nurse Week, set aside to recognize the 1.3 million employed registered nurses who provide professional nursing care to patients in hospitals, nursing homes, clinics and a variety of other settings, including patients' homes.

The Visiting Nurse Association of Metropolitan Detroit, a United Fund Agency, will be giving special recognition to its 200 registered professional nurses during National Nurse Week.

Though National Nurse Week is an event of recent years, VNA nurses have been providing professional care in homes of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb county residents for 85 years. VNA health care team members include not only registered professional nurses but also physical and occupational therapists, speech pathologists, registered dietitians, social workers and home health aides.

VNA service is available Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Evening, Saturday, Sunday and holiday services are available by pre-arrangement.

Patients, family, friends, hospitals, physicians and community agencies can request services or further information by calling the central VNA number, 875-7736.

The Community LINC

Response: the kind of positive and favorable reaction Operation LINC (Linking Individuals to Needs in the Community) receives each month when it reaches out for support... something that still takes us by surprise when we publicly request specific goods and are overwhelmed with — response.

Response that makes us the kind of agency whose good works precede it, all the way to the state of Maryland. Response from heads of other agencies who so believe in our services that they go out of their way to help us help others. Response that reaches beyond our confines of Wayne County, that causes a daily newspaper to think of us when a reader calls with a donation. This is what Operation LINC is all about: connecting people. Those who need with those who care.

In each of these instances, it was the response that made April a good month for LINC.

Our request for file cabinets last month resulted in the delivery of 31 cabinets distributed to five agencies: American Friends Service Committee, Harper/Gratist Multi-Service Center, Youth Living Center, Northeast Guidance Center and Help Elderly to Maintain Independence and Dignity (HEMID).

Our requests for Faith Community School met with a most caring response: reams of paper, paint sets and books that will help the organization provide after-school and evening entertainment and education for inner city residents.

"Your reputation precedes you," remarked the daughter of a Grosse Pointe resident who called LINC from her hometown in Maryland for help in dismantling her mother's estate. Would we meet her at the home and determine what goods Operation LINC and its agencies might make use of?

"Sure, but why us?" was our response.

"I remembered your help the last time my mother moved," the woman said.

LINC volunteers spent two days working in the home, gathering a treasure of goods we are still in the process of dispersing. Among them were a library's worth of books given to the Grosse Pointe American Association of University Women for their annual used book sale; tables, an ironer and lawn furniture which went to the Coalition on Temporary Shelter (COTS) and a sculptor's wheel, now at the Rosa Parks Community Art Center.

When told we had more than two dozen file cabinets to move, Jim DuBose of Jefferson-Chalmers pitched in and saw to it that all were delivered to satisfied customers. His response elicits our sincere thanks.

Our thanks also to the Detroit Free Press and Action Line for contacting us when a reader called to donate 20 file cabinets "File cabinets are pure gold," commented LINC Coordinator Fran Mumma when she received the call.

This month, LINC is on the lookout for typewriters and a check protector (a machine that engraves the payee and amount on checks).

Sales of LINC trash bags are going strong. We are pleased with community support in this endeavor to help fund our operating expenses. This month, LINC volunteers have been contacting area businesses, asking them to purchase bags. "Our merchants are responding very positively," commented LINC President Gabriele Pluhar. "We welcome their business and increased participation."

The bags, both 1.5 and 2.0 mil, come in packages of 100, priced at $10 and $12 per roll respectively. Delivery is FREE by calling the LINC office, 331-6700, between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday.

LINC's annual volunteer luncheon will be held Thursday, May 26, at the home of Sue Kvale on Middlesex Boulevard. All volunteers are encouraged to attend this meeting, at which a special Outstanding Service to LINC Award will be presented. Interested volunteers should call the LINC office for more information.

Extra special thanks to the Grosse Pointe News for providing monthly column space to Operation LINC. LINC's pipeline to the community would not be possible without the generosity of the News.

Operation LINC is a non-profit volunteer organization which serves numerous Wayne County agencies and depends on your support. To volunteer or to donate usable items, please call us at 331-6700. Our office hours are 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday, throughout the year.

End Saturdays at Four series

The last concert in Marygrove College's Saturdays at Four chamber music series will feature pianist Maria Meirelles this Saturday, April 30, at 4 p.m. in Denk Chapman Hall of Marygrove's Madame Cadillac Building. It is the sixth concert in the sixth season of the popular series, partially funded by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Information on tickets, at $5 general admission, $2.50 for students and senior citizens, including a post-performance meet-the-artists hors d'oeuvres and wine reception, may be obtained by calling 862-8000, Extension 316 or 390.

Grosse Pointe's Lawrence LaGore, pianist, founder and artistic director of Saturdays at Four, a faculty member at both Marygrove and Macomb County Community Colleges, and cellist Mario DiFiore, member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will also be featured in this final concert of the current series.

Theme of the 1983 concerts has been a celebration of the 150th anniversary of Johannes Brahms' birth. Each program, January through April, has included a well-loved work by this great 19th century composer. The April 30 concert will present Brahms' "Sonata in F Major for Piano and Cello, Op. 99," which runs the gamut of musical expression, from heroic declamation to the simple lyricism of folk-like material.

Also featured will be Giovanni Sammartini's "Sonata for Cello with Piano Accompaniment" and Rachmaninoff's "Suite for Two Pianos, Op. 17."

There's nothing like a mother's love. Celebrate with this mother and child.

Salad samplers . . .

It's that time of year again! Salad lovers have begun to hone their taste buds in anticipation of the 17th Annual Kappa Kappa Gamma Salad Sampler, to be presented Thursday, May 12, at noon at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. On the left above is LAURIE HUETTEMAN, general chairman of this year's luncheon, with MARCIA WINZER (center), president of the local KKGs, holding a cleaned-out salad bowl — due to her exalted position, she got to "preview sample" — and SHARON MERTZ, kitchen co-chef of the event with Ann Hathaway (not pictured). The KKG Salad Sampler is famous for its delectable displays of seafood, tossed, molded, vegetable and fruit delights, seasonal blossom garnishes, bright geranium table decorations and pert and efficient waitresses. This year, a parade of Kappa models will feature smart, wearable fashions for spring and summer, from the Shop for Papagallo, Kercheval Avenue on-the-Hill. The only unfortunate thing about the Salad Sampler is this: just 150 tickets are available. They're priced at a modest $7 each, with all proceeds earmarked for the Detroit Rehabilitation Institute: the local Kappas' pet charity. The tickets may be obtained (as long as they last) from Dottie Ludwig, 885-4982, or any Kappa. This year's Salad Sampler committee heads include Gail Hart, commissary, Petey Leete, waitresses, Suzanne Nicholson, decorations and set-up, Emily Moeller, clean-up and after-sales, Lois Potter, fashion show, and Mary Harwood, publicity.

Morse and Mrs. George Tuttle, are earmarked for purchase of cardiovascular equipment for the Grace Division of Harper-Grace Hospitals. Reservation information may be obtained by calling 851-7655 or 646-6313.

Farm, Garden Club to meet

The afternoon of Monday, May 2, will find members of the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club at the Cloverly Road home of Mrs. John A. Dodds. The program is the club's annual Flower Show, with entries in four categories. Assisting Mrs. Dodds as hostesses will be Mrs. Wesley Johnson and Mrs. Alfred Warren Jr.

Offer Dance Slimnastics

The aerobic dance fitness boom is in full swing, as more and more people find aerobic dancing an enjoyable way to get into shape. Dance Slimnastics Ltd., offers classes in The Pointe and Harper Woods starting May 2, at the following locations:

- Christ the King Lutheran Church, Mack Avenue, Mondays and Wednesdays at 9:30 a.m. and Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6:45 p.m.
- Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, Mack Avenue, Mondays and Thursdays at 5 p.m.
- St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Sunningdale Park, Tuesday and Thursdays at 5 p.m.
- Harper Woods JFK Library, Harper Avenue, Mondays and Wednesdays at 7 p.m.

Current members of Dance Slimnastics Ltd. will receive a $5 gift certificate for each new member they bring in. Enrollment and further information may be obtained by calling 886-7534 or 885-4706.

As fun as aerobic dance is, it is still essential that care be taken to select a safe and effective program. When choosing yours, ask a few basic questions:

Is the program truly aerobic? Aerobic exercise demands large quantities of oxygen for prolonged periods and ultimately forces the body to improve those systems responsible for transporting oxygen — namely, the heart and lungs. For the best results, these exercises require a person to get his or her heart rate up to 60 percent of maximum for at least 30 minutes, three to five times a week. Programs meeting once a week will not improve fitness, and may be a greater risk than benefit.

Is the program progressive in nature? Does it allow enough time for adaptation of the body to the training regimen? Anyone starting a program of dance-exercise (especially a person who has been sedentary) should not go "all-out" from the start. Begin easily. After becoming accustomed to a certain level of exercise, go on to something more demanding. Research shows that 12 weeks is the amount of time necessary for a training effect to take place. Courses that allow individuals to pay a fee per class or purchase any number of classes often do not provide the participant with knowledge of the hazards and benefits of exercise, and should be avoided.

What methods of control are used to protect the participant from overexertion? Pulse monitoring or heart rate response is a simple method of ensuring proper pace, and should be properly taught. A target heart rate cannot be arbitrarily set. A 10-second pulse method should be used with adults, because the six-second method leaves too large a margin for error. Low-to-moderate intensity within the target heart rate range is more productive if the purpose of participation is weight control, for the preferred fuel for the body at this level of intensity is stored fat. Since little is to be gained from elevating the heart rate over 80 percent of maximum reserve, high-intensity exercise programs should not be chosen.

What type of movement or choreography is used? Ballistic or jerky movements can cause injury. They are particularly bad for the older or underexercised individual. Avoid programs of this type.

What is the format of the exercise session? A properly designed exercise program should always include a warm-up, workout and cool-down phase.

NMI Boosters schedule May benefit evening

Grosse Pointe area members of the Boosters Club of the Neuromuscular Institute for Crippled Children who are making plans to attend the sixth annual NMI Dinner Dance, scheduled for Saturday, May 7, at the Birmingham Country Club, include Mr. and Mrs. Emil Grob, Mrs. Paul Grubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Howe, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hyman Jr. and (pictured at right) MR. and MRS. AARON E. WILCOX.

All are charter members of the Boosters, committed to support of Dr. Maurice Castle's concept of a facility that deals with the whole child in relation to his or her physical problems.

The NMI was founded by Dr. Castle, Chief of Orthopedic Surgery, Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital, in 1968. Since that time he has donated his Wednesdays to the evaluation team project, for he believes that handicapped children — especially those with cerebral palsy — need the combined services of clinical psychologists, physical and occupational therapists, speech and language pathologists and social workers as well as the medical specialties of orthopedic surgery and pediatrics.

With the help of the Boosters Club, founded six years ago, and Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital, Dr.

Castle's dream has come true. NMI now has a suite of rooms at the hospital, all the specialists that are needed and, thanks to the Boosters, "extras" such as social workers to assist parents, special equipment for the handicapped, new furnishings and electronic equipment.

Most recent addition to NMI's facilities is a Toy Lending Library, brainchild of Boosters charter member Edward Turner. All the toys have been especially selected to help the handicapped. The library stocks items for infants and toddlers, schoolage and older children who are interested in electronic devices.

At the dinner dance, it will be formally announced that the new library will be called the Edward Turner Toy Lending Library.

And, as in past years, one special child will be honored at the dinner dance as NMI's Inspiration Child. This year she is Paulette Poma, of Madison Heights, born prematurely, weighing in at two pounds, one ounce, and seriously handicapped with cerebral palsy, on July 1, 1975.

Paulette was two-and-a-half years old when the Madison Heights Health Department suggested that she check in with Dr. Castle and the NMI. She was unable to stand, because her legs were crossed.

Now, after two surgeries changing muscles and tendons to allow her to use her feet properly, she can walk with the aid of a walker. Dr. Castle says she will need additional surgery, but can expect to walk by herself in the future.

"Paulette has come a long way since we first saw her," he says. "She has been upgraded in all areas. She is a beautiful little girl, with a lovely smile and a very outgoing and winning personality."

Mrs. Nelson Poma, Paulette's mother, only wishes she had heard about the Neuromuscular Institute sooner. As a child grows, tendons and muscles tend to tighten, making therapy harder and longer. But Mrs. Poma is grateful that she brought Paulette to NMI when she did. "There has been such a change in the child's personality . . . She is very self-sufficient, and has gained tremendous confidence through her years with Dr. Castle and the NMI group. We feel Paulette's progress is a true miracle."

Paulette was delighted when told she was to be an honored guest at the NMI party. But one thing worried her: would she be able to dance with her walker?

It didn't take Dr. Castle half a minute to lay that fear to rest. "Yes," he said, "of course you will dance — with me!"

Also at the dinner dance, Charter

Booster Walter Schwartz, father of five, will receive NMI's Humanitarian Award for his generosity and fund raising skills. And Charlotte Steffes will accept an award in honor of her late husband, Ron, a talented artist and architect and a dedicated Booster, killed last year in a plane crash.

The party begins at 7 p.m. with cocktails. Dinner will be served at 8:30 p.m. The Pete Baltrus Orchestra will play for dancing. WCZY's Mark Avery will act as toastmaster. Mrs. William Greenberg, a former NMI Humanitarian Award recipient, will emcee.

Reservations for the evening may be made by sending checks ($75 per person; $150 per couple) payable to Boosters Club, Neuromuscular Institute for Crippled Children, to 19966 Old Pond Court, Birmingham, Mich. 48009.

If you can't attend, send a check anyway; contributions in any amount are most appreciated, and will be put to very good use.

Capitol visit for Cottagers

Mary Streit, president of the Cottage Hospital Auxiliary, and Ella C. Carroll, president-elect and legislative chairman, were among 260 auxiliaries from throughout Michigan who visited their legislators early in March during the annual Day at the Capitol program sponsored by the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries.

Mrs. Carroll explains that the purpose of the Lansing program is to maintain a close line of communication with legislators on issues which affect the health care delivery system in the state. "Because of economic conditions in Michigan, budget cuts may have a direct effect on local hospitals, so we feel it is especially crucial this year that our hospital people make their concerns known to our legislators," she says.

Gaps and higher prices for food in Michigan's outlook for May

April and March showers will bring gaps in fresh vegetable supplies throughout May and June. Statewide plantings of six commodities for spring harvest declined 16 percent according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting Service; the most serious supply gaps will occur in late May and early June.

Vegetable crops affected most include all varieties of head and leaf lettuce, spinach and other leafy vegetables, asparagus, broccoli, cauliflower and celery. Prices for these vegetables will be higher. Quality will generally be lower throughout the shortage.

Reduced supplies of salad vegetables (cucumbers, green bell peppers and tomatoes, as well as lettuce and other greens) will be especially pronounced throughout May. Tomato plantings for processing will largely result in a delayed harvest rather than a short crop. Salad onions are plentiful, while more and more radishes are becoming available.

Spring potato production is estimated at 13 percent below last year. Prices have already advanced twice. Declining supplies also have raised the price of fresh cabbage.

Carrots and cooking onions remain plentiful supply. Most of our carrots come from California, where growing conditions produce carrots that generally are sweeter than those grown elsewhere.

May is the single largest month for fresh strawberries. Florida has been supplying the bulk of them to date, but California now becomes the chief source. Rains in California have not appreciably shortened the strawberry crop; over one million packages will be shipped per week throughout May, so look for many features on strawberries during the month.

Fruit crops damaged in California include cling peaches and apricots. Apricots were hit hardest. Many canners expect to run out of apricots before the fall canning season.

Fresh fruits lovers will have apples, navel oranges and a variety of grapes to munch on. By the middle of May, they can add California nectarines, Southern peaches and early blueberries from North Carolina.

Meat prices have almost settled out from the post-Easter volatility experienced each spring. Cattle on feed are down by 10 to 12 percent from last year, but the number of animals coming to market has been higher; this leads analysts to anticipate beef will be in short supply by the end of spring or early summer. The shortage this year will be more acute than usual, because there is less beef in the pipeline.

More hogs are being produced and carcass prices have dropped significantly. Retail pork prices have about bottomed out for the foreseeable future. Hog producers have not increased production enough to bring about even lower retail prices.

Egg prices remain substantially below last year's levels.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person who is convicted of a violation of subsection (1), (2), or (3) is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days, or a fine of not less than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars nor more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, or both, together with costs of the prosecution. As part of the sentence for a violation of subsections (1) or (2), the court shall order the secretary of state to suspend the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person for a period of not less than six (6) months nor more than two (2) years. The court may order the secretary of state to issue to the person a restricted license permitting the person during all or a specified portion of the period of suspension to drive only to and from the person's residence and work location; in the course of the person's employment or occupation; to and from an alcohol or drug education program or treatment program as ordered by the court; to and from the person's residence and an educational institution at which the person is enrolled as a student; or pursuant to a combination of these restrictions. The court shall not order the secretary of state to issue a restricted chauffeur's license which would permit a person to operate a truck or tractor, including a trailer, which hauls hazardous material. The court shall not order the secretary of state to issue a restricted license unless the person states under oath and the court finds that the person is unable to take public transportation to and from his or her work location, place of alcohol or drug education or treatment, or educational institution, and does not have any family members or others able to provide transportation. The court order and license shall indicate the person's work location and the approved route or routes and permitted times of travel. The person shall pay for the costs of the screening, assessment, and rehabilitative services.

(7) Before accepting a plea of guilty under this section, the court shall advise the accused of the statutory consequences, as possible as the result of a plea of guilty in respect to suspension or revocation of an operator's or chauffeur's license, the penalty imposed for violation of this section, and the limitation on the right of appeal.

(8) The operator's or chauffeur's license of a person found guilty of violating subsection (1) or (2) shall be surrendered to the court in which the person was convicted, and the court shall immediately forward the surrendered license and an abstract of conviction to the secretary of state. The abstract of conviction shall indicate the sentence imposed. Upon receipt of, and pursuant to the abstract of conviction, the secretary of state shall suspend or revoke the person's license and, if ordered by the court and the person is otherwise eligible for a license, issue to the person a restricted license stating the limited driving privileges indicated on the abstract. If the license is not forwarded to the secretary of state, an explanation of the reason why the license is absent shall be attached. If the conviction is appealed to the circuit court, that court may, ex parte, order the secretary of state to rescind the suspension, revocation, or restricted license issued pursuant to this section.

Section 5.15(B). Criminal prosecutions for driving under influence of intoxicating liquor; tests; admissibility; presumption; liability for withdrawing blood; refusal to take test; other evidence; option to demand breath test only.

(1) The amount of alcohol or presence of a controlled substance or both in the driver's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of the person's blood, urine, or breath shall be admissible into evidence in a criminal prosecution for any of the following:

(a) A violation of Section 5.15(A)(1), (2), or (3), or 5.15(B).

(b) Felonious driving, negligent homicide, or manslaughter resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle while the driver is alleged to have been impaired by or under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance or a combination of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, or to have had a blood alcohol content of 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol.

(2) If a test is given, the results of the test shall be made available to the person charged or the person's attorney upon written request to the prosecution, with a copy of the request filed with the court. The prosecution shall furnish the report at least two (2) days before the day of the trial and the results shall be offered as evidence by the prosecution in a criminal proceeding. Failure to fully comply with the request shall bar the admission of the results into evidence by the prosecution.

(3) Except in a prosecution relating solely to a violation of Section 5.15(2), the amount of alcohol in the driver's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of the person's blood, urine, or breath shall give rise to the following presumptions:

(a) If there was at the time 0.07% or less by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(b) If there was at the time in excess of 0.07% but less than 0.10% by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant's ability to operate a vehicle was impaired within the provisions of Section 5.15-9b due to the consumption of intoxicating liquor.

(c) If there was at the time 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(4) A sample or specimen of urine or breath shall be taken and collected in a reasonable manner. Only a licensed physician, or a licensed nurse or medical technician under the direction of a licensed physician and qualified to withdraw blood acting in a medical environment, at the request of a peace officer, may withdraw blood for the purpose of determining the amount of alcohol or presence of a controlled substance or both in the person's blood, as provided in this act. Liability for a crime or civil damages predicated on the act of withdrawing blood and related procedures shall not attach to a qualified person who withdraws blood or assists in the withdrawal in accordance with this act, unless the withdrawal is performed in a negligent manner.

(5) The tests shall be administered at the request of a peace officer having reasonable grounds to believe the person has committed a crime described in subsection (1). A person who takes a chemical test administered at the request of a peace officer, "as provided in this section," shall be given a reasonable opportunity to have a person of his or her own choosing administer 1 of the chemical tests described in this section within a reasonable time after his or her detention, and the results of the test shall be admissible and shall be considered with other competent evidence in determining the innocence or guilt of the defendant. If the person charged is administered a chemical test by a person of his or her own choosing, the person charged shall be responsible for obtaining a chemical analysis of the test sample. The person charged shall be informed that he or she has the right to demand that a person of his or her own choosing administer 1 of the tests provided for in subsection (1), that the results of the test shall be admissible and shall be considered with other competent evidence in determining the innocence or guilt of the defendant, and that the person charged shall be responsible for obtaining a chemical analysis of the test sample.

(6) The person charged shall be advised that if the person refuses the request of a peace officer to take a test described in this section, a test shall not be given without a court order. The person charged shall also be advised that the person's refusal of the request of a peace officer to take a test described in this section shall result in the suspension of his or her operator's or chauffeur's license or operating privilege, and in the addition of 6 points to his or her driver record.

(7) This section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question of whether or not the person was impaired by or under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, or whether the person had a blood alcohol content of 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol.

(8) If a jury instruction regarding a defendant's refusal to submit to a chemical test under this section is requested by the prosecution or the defendant, the jury instruction shall be given as follows:

"Evidence was admitted in this case which, if believed by the jury, could prove that the defendant had exercised his or her right to refuse a chemical test. You are instructed that such a refusal is within the statutory rights of the defendant and is not evidence of his guilt. You are not to consider such a refusal in determining the guilt or innocence of the defendant."

(9) If after an accident the driver of a vehicle involved in the accident is transported to a medical facility and a sample of the driver's blood is withdrawn at that time for the purpose of medical treatment, the results of a chemical analysis of that sample shall be admissible in a criminal prosecution for a crime described in subsection (1) to show the amount of alcohol or presence of a controlled substance or both in the person's blood at the time alleged, regardless of whether the person had been offered or had refused a chemical test. The medical facility or person performing the chemical analysis shall disclose the results of the analysis to a prosecuting attorney who requests the results for use in a criminal prosecution as provided in this subsection. A medical facility or person disclosing information in compliance with this subsection shall not be civilly or criminally liable for making the disclosure.

(10) If after a highway accident the driver of a vehicle involved in the accident is deceased, a sample of the decedent's blood shall be withdrawn in a manner directed by the medical examiner for the purpose of determining blood alcohol content or presence of a controlled substance or both.

Section 5.15(C). Impaired driving; violation as misdemeanor.

(1) A person shall not operate a vehicle upon a highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, within the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores when due to the consumption of an intoxicating liquor, a controlled substance, or a combination of an intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, the person has visibly impaired his or her ability to operate the vehicle, if a person is charged with violating section 5.15(A)(1) or (2), a finding of guilty is permissible under this section.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person convicted of a violation of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Mid-Century sends Fran to Dearborn

"A marvelous experience." These are the words Fran Pastoria used to describe her participation in the International Toastmistress Clubs' speech contest held April 9 in Dearborn.

Mrs. Pastoria, a resident of The Farms, is a first-year member of the Mid-Century Toastmistress Club which meets the first and third Tuesday of each month at the Grosse Pointe Central Library. She earned the privilege of competing in the regional contest by winning Mid-Century's contest last March.

The aspect of the regional competition Mrs. Pastoria enjoyed most was the interaction between contestants. She enjoyed observing their different styles and creativity in composing and delivering speeches.

Contestants represented Toastmistress Clubs from Michigan and Ohio. Although Fran was not among the winners, she was pleased to have been selected by her club to participate in the competition.

controlled substance, or while having a blood alcohol content of 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol.

(2) A person who is afflicted with hemophilia, diabetes, or a condition requiring the use of an anticoagulant under the direction of a physician shall not be considered to have given consent to the withdrawal of blood.

(3) The tests shall be administered as provided in Section 5.15(B).

Section 5.15(E). Refusal of chemical test.

(1) If a person refuses the request of a peace officer to submit to a chemical test offered pursuant to Section 5.15(B), a test shall not be given without a court order. A written report shall be forwarded to the secretary of state by the peace officer. The report shall state that the officer had reasonable grounds to believe that the person had committed a crime described in Section 5.15(D)(1), and that the person had refused to submit to the test upon the request of the peace officer and had been advised of the consequences of the refusal. The form of the report shall be prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state.

DSO 70th Anniversary Season

In honor of its 70th anniversary, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra has announced a 1983-84 subscription concert series featuring a roster of distinguished conductors and highly acclaimed soloists, plus a wide variety of traditional and well-known classical works, highlighted by the appearance of four highly esteemed musical leaders who have played significant roles in the orchestra's development.

They are Sixten Ehrling (1963-73), Aldo Ceccato (1973-77), Antal Dorati (1977-81) and Gary Bertini (1981-83).

Also in celebration of the 70th anniversary, a black tie dinner and grand ball have been scheduled for Friday, Nov. 18, at the Westin Hotel. The following Saturday, Nov. 19, Conductor Laureate Dorati will lead the DSO in a special anniversary concert at Ford Auditorium.

Subscription ticket prices for all classical series remain the same as last year, providing a savings of up to 38 percent over single ticket prices. As an extra bonus, season ticket subscribers receive a booklet, including program notes and artist biographies for the entire season, in advance.

Renewal orders must be received with payment by June 3. Seat assignments for new orders will be made after June 29—but new ticket orders are being accepted immediately.

Season ticket brochures and order forms may be obtained by contacting the DSO Subscription Department, 567-1400. The symphony will guarantee parking spaces for all season ticket holders who buy the parking plan, except those who have Chamber, Young People's and Orchestra Hall Series. Single tickets for all DSO concerts go on sale Sept. 19.

Speaking of symphonies . . . Congratulations to Carol Rahm, of Provencal Road, who captured the Consolation Prize in the New England Backgammon Club's sixth annual benefit for the Boston Symphony Orchestra, held in mid-April at the Hyatt Regency in Cambridge, Mass. It's SO satisfying to see a midwest banner flying high in the east.

A Golden Anniversary Gathering

The Edsel & Eleanor Ford House was the setting last Sunday for a very special reception, celebrating the Golden Anniversary of the Junior Group of League for the Handicapped-Goodwill Industries and honoring all Junior Goodwill members—47 of them!—who joined the organization between 1933 and 1940.

Among those attending were Jean (Mrs. Edwin O.) Bodkin, founder of the organization, and Carol (Mrs. Nobel) Travis, the group's first president, as well as Betty Mae (Mrs. John) Bartlett, present president, and her husband, Dr. Bartlett.

Thirty-two women gathered for the Junior Group's first meeting, on Feb. 22, 1933: the day Detroit's banks were closed in the financial crisis of The Depression. Today, the Juniors are 200-plus strong, and have raised over $1 million for League-Goodwill during a half-century of service.

Chief fund raiser has been the Group's Annual Antiques Market, held every year for the past 35. Other fund raisers through the years have ranged from cookbooks to amateur theatricals, fashion shows to craft fairs.

Group-raised monies are used by League-Goodwill to support many projects, including the St. Ambrose Home, a live-in facility for the mentally retarded, sponsorship of the Jolly Cheers, a recreational and rehabilitational program for clients, and purchase of needed equipment for the League-Goodwill plant in Detroit.

Most recently, the Juniors have contributed to support the Job Club program, which develops interview skills for League-Goodwill clients seeking outside employment.

Options at The Ford House

Honored guest at the Saint Mary's College Detroit Alumnae Club Scholarship Fund Raiser Saturday, May 21, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House will be Dr. John M. Duggan, president of Saint Mary's, located in Notre Dame, Ind. One of the nation's oldest Catholic colleges for women, it draws heavily from The Pointe area in terms of alumnae and current students.

Two options are available for this gala evening. Number One, at $30 per person, provides a sit-down dinner at 6:30 p.m., a tour of the Ford House at 8 p.m., a champagne and hors d'oeuvres reception and live music for dancing. Number Two, at $20 per person, provides everything BUT the sit-down dinner (you can always pick up a burger and fries on-the-way; just be careful not to drip ketchup on your party clothes).

Judy Gavoor may be contacted at 851-0692 for reservations and further information on both options.

Chrysanthemum Society to meet

The Greater Detroit Chrysanthemum Society meets this Sunday, May 1, at 2 p.m. in the Community Room of the Tel-Twelve Mall where Angie Ratledge, Wayne County Co-op Extension Service horticulturist, will present a program on "Soils and Insecticides" and Paul E. Machuga, the society's horticulture chairman, will report on "The Proper Way to Plant and Fertilize Mums." The meeting is free and open to the public.

The society's annual Chrysanthemum Plant Sale is scheduled for Saturday, May 28, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Neaton, 22653 Nona, Dearborn (east of Telegraph Road and south of Michigan Avenue), where society members will be potting over 5,000 rooted cuttings the week of May 9.

Pointer of Interest

By Janet Mueller

"I think it's fun. I know it's a lot of work — probably more than I originally asked for — but if you do it every year, it does get easier..." For the past two years, William F. Zoufal has chaired the Auction portion of Fash Bash, the annual fashion/auction/great good time event sponsored by the Junior Council of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts to benefit museum programs.

This year, he's sharing the general Fash Bash co-chairmanship with Terry (Mrs. John Jr.) Rakolta, of Bloomfield Hills. They expect (hope!) that 1983 attendance will surpass last year's 3,000-guest record.

The glittering party, scheduled for Thursday, June 23, in the Grand Ballroom of the Westin Hotel, has "Rising Stars" as its theme. Honorees, to be announced that evening, will be outstanding personalities in creative and community service areas.

We're all invited: for cocktails and music, with mimes, magicians and celebrity guests at 5 p.m., a silent auction running from 6 to 7 p.m. when Hudson's lavishly staged fashion extravaganza featuring dozens of models takes center stage, and a fast-paced (8:30 to 9 p.m.) live auction offering extra-special items, ranging from a private fireworks party and hot air balloon rides to computer software and a diamond ring.

With live music for dancing throughout the evening.

It's just about the best people-watching night in town. "Because Fash Bash is probably the biggest fashion event in Detroit each year, almost everybody into fashion in Detroit shows up," Bill Zoufal explains. And how they show up! The outfits selected by certain guests are a show in themselves.

It's all tax deductible. Tickets may be purchased in advance at $15 from the Art Institute ticket office (832-2730), Hudson's Woodward Shops all over town and Nemo's in the Renaissance Center.

They don't have to be purchased in advance. "We know a lot of people don't decide until the last minute," Bill says. Not to worry: last-minute tickets will be available at the door, at $18, and last-minute ticket purchasers are most welcome. "We've gone from 50 at-the-door tickets three years ago to 440 last year," Bill observes. That's that much much-needed money more for museum programs.

Similarly, Fash Bash Auction proceeds have risen, from $10,000 in 1980 to $29,000 in 1982.

Chrissie and Bill Zoufal, parents of Natalie, 5, and Laura, 1, are both Pointe-bred. Chrissie is a Grosse

CHRISSIE AND BILL ZOUFAL, OF MERRIWEATHER ROAD, WITH THEIR DAUGHTERS, NATALIE AND LAURA.

Pointe University School alumna, Bill a Grosse Pointe South High School Class of '63 graduate — and that means his 20-year high school reunion is coming up, and that means Bill, being the sort of person he is, is involved in reunion activities.

Two days after Fash Bash, the Zoufals will host a reunion cocktail party in their Merriweather Road home. They expect about 200 guests.

Earlier in the month, Chrissie, active with the Detroit Artists Market, will be working on the Annual Artists Market Garden Sale.

You get the idea: June is literally busting out all over at the Zoufal household!

Not to mention May. With Fash Bash fast approaching, Bill's co-chairmanship becomes a four to five-night-a-week commitment. For instance: starting May 10, for five nights straight, about 40 Fash Bash volunteers will be down at the DuMouchelle Galleries on Jefferson Avenue, writing up Fash Bash Auction items.

Ernie and Liz DuMouchelle are in charge of the Fash Bash Auction this year. Like Chrissie and Bill Zoufal, the DuMouchelles are Founders Junior Council board members. The two couples are personal friends.

"Every year," Bill says, "we 'buy' a vacation at either the Grosse Pointe Academy Auction or Fash Bash, and we usually go on it with Ernie and Liz."

Every other year, Chrissie and Bill go skiing in Aspen. Summers, they try to get away for a week or so in northern Michigan. They like Harbor Springs, and both have family in the Leelanau area.

The Zoufals serve together on the Entertainment Committee of the Country Club of Detroit. Chrissie is a member of the Planned Parenthood Associate Board. Bill, general manager of The Roostertail in the mid-60s, is now in Real Estate Investing: one of the owners of the Marquette Building in downtown Detroit. His other investments include two service stations.

Currently, he's taking night classes in Real Estate Syndication at the University of Michigan, and going to the Blitz School during the day for securities... and working... and working on Fash Bash, and his high school reunion...

He is, you might say, a high energy kind of guy. Someone who gets a great kick out of life, and enjoys everything he does.

Like serving on the board of the Founders Junior Council of the Detroit Institute of Arts for the past nine years. It's been a learning experience. "Chrissie graduated from Wayne State in art, but me — what did I know about art? Well... a few years after we became involved with the Junior Council, we went to Russia (in 1977), on our own, and visited the Hermitage and other museums.

"I was amazed at how much I had learned in just a few years!"

Enough, certainly, to be appalled when he entered a room full of Rembrandts and found the windows open, sunlight streaming in, the paintings unprotected from the glare.

The Junior Council is the largest (1,100 members) auxiliary of the museum's private, fund raising arm: the Founders Society. It's also the cheapest, at $5 per member annual dues. For years, there were no annual dues at all; when the Junior Council decided to charge annual dues, to help defray rising mailing costs and more clearly identify its membership, a primary consideration was to keep them low, within easy reach of young adults and families on young budgets.

"We don't want monetary considerations to deter anyone who has an interest in the museum. We have found that the friends we make for the Detroit Institute of Arts while they are young will be with us always."

Learning about art, educating others about art and encouraging collecting are prime Junior Council objectives. Wine-and-cheese and/or dinner receptions prior to private tours of special exhibitions, "behind the scenes" explorations of the museum (always including the conservation department and photography lab), one-day or weekend trips to nearby cities for tours of their museums and local private collections are among Council-sponsored activities.

Chrissie and Bill Zoufal have taken advantage of these programs, and they've had a wonderful time doing it.

Which is, when you come right down to it, what the Junior Council is all about: promotion of the enjoyment of art. The Junior Council has a lot of fun with its projects, like the Fash Bash fund raiser which will (hopefully!) raise $50,000 this year for museum programs.

Where is it written that you can't support a serious purpose with a little pizzazz?

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

We join ace autograph hunter Merlin Parkins and his assistant Billy on their hunt through the wilds of professional sports ... in search of the elusive autograph.

MERLIN PARKINS: "Well, Billy, I hope you are prepared. This autograph safari may turn out to be the most dangerous hunting trip of all. We're going after the big game: Kirk Gibson. Some folks say he's the meanest, cagiest prey we autograph hounds will ever stalk. That's why people claim the Gibson autograph is rare."

BILLY: "But I thought the Gibson was one of the kindest, most gentle of the autograph species. I have a friend who said Kirk was really nice, he even patted my friend on the head when ..."

PARKINS: "That's just legend, Billy. In reality, the wild Gibson is just too unpredictable to approach without benefit of safety precautions. Did you bring the stuff I told you to bring?"

BILLY: "Yes, but I really feel kind of funny about these things, Mr. Parkins. Couldn't we just ..."

PARKINS: "Nonsense, Billy. Run through the checklist with me now. Okay, how about the bullhorn to shout at Gibson as loud as we possibly can?"

BILLY: "Check."

PARKINS: "And the list of crude things to shout at him when it looks like he isn't paying attention?"

BILLY: "Check."

PARKINS: "Did you remember the elbow pads and spiked shoes to help us get past any inexperienced adolescents who get in our way?"

BILLY: "Yes, but ..."

PARKINS: "Good. Now the most important of all our survival items: the list of Detroit television stations and gossip columnists to call when the Gibson attempts to refuse our advances. Did you bring it?"

BILLY: "Uh, yes. I guess it's all here, Mr. Parkins."

PARKINS: "Fine, then we may begin. You must remember, Billy, that there is no sure thing when it comes to stalking a Gibson. No matter what time of day or night, no matter where he is or what he is doing, you must get the jump on him before he can turn on you."

BILLY: "Could I just ask one thing, Mr. Parkins? Why are we doing this? Why are we going to all this trouble to hunt down Kirk Gibson for his autograph?"

PARKINS: "What a ridiculous question, Billy! We hunt down the autographs because it's so necessary. Because trophies like a famous baseball player's autograph are so hard to come by in life. Because if he doesn't give us his autograph, we'll move in for the kill ... we'll tell everybody what a really rotten ballplayer Gibson is."

BILLY: "Well, if he's so rotten, then why bother getting his autograph?"

PARKINS: "Okay, Mr. Know-It-All, if you're so smart, you tell me. Why do you think we do it?"

BILLY: "Well, I think it's because sometimes people want to be near somebody who is so famous. The crummy piece of paper doesn't really mean anything, it's just that when you ask for an autograph, you feel like you're really talking to the famous person. Kids like that, Mr. Parkins. That's because kids have a lot of heroes. And besides, I'm not so sure that a species like Gibson might not just be happy to give an autograph, if you ask the right way. And if he's still 'elusive' as you call it, then forget it. Who needs an autograph from someone like, that?"

PARKINS: "Yes, well that's very interesting, Billy. But, look! Here comes our target now, get out the bullhorn. Wait, Billy, don't go in alone, it's too dangerous ... Oh, the poor lad!"

Billy: (Huffing and puffing) "I got it, Mr. Parkins. I got it. I just went up to him when he wasn't too busy and smiled at him and called him Mr. Gibson. He was really meek and gentle. He told me that it was a pleasure to give an autograph to a nice kid like me."

PARKINS: "Yes, well ... ahem. It's a shame how so many of these ballplayers are domesticated these days. It's not like the old days when ballplayers would spit on you and tell you to get lost. Now that was a real challenge. Why, that's how I lost my arm. Billy, wouldn't you like to hear about the time one of the New York Yankee species closed the bus door on my arm? Billy? Billy? Well, that's a kid for you. Just didn't have the stomach for a really dirty business like this one."

Bocci takes walking win

Pointe teacher Jeanne Bocci, of the Park, won the 5 KM Blue Cross/Blue Shield Walking championships in Cleveland, Ohio, last Saturday, April 23, with a time of 27:15.

Bocci's teammate, June MacDonald, finished second in the event with her 28:58 total. Prior to the men's national 35 KM and the women's walk, hundreds of participants joined in to complete a 1 Mile fitness walk.

Walking, Bocci's favorite subject, will be the topic this Saturday, April 30, at the Midwest Clinic for Fitness and Walking sponsored by Cottage Hospital. Bocci will serve as one of the clinics instructors. "I think this clinic is excellent and the community is fortunate to have some of the best walking experts in the country come to speak," Bocci says.

The walking clinic is set for 2 to 5 p.m. at Cottage. A $3 fee for the clinic includes instruction in brisk walking, race walking, competitive race walking and certification for race walk judging.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Madge Lawson at Cottage, 884-8600.

U of D honors for Palumbo

By Peggy O'Connor

They don't make football players like they used to.

There aren't any more triple-threats, no stalwart 170-pounders who can play the two-team system. There aren't many people who can even remember what the two-team system is.

Ed Palumbo can. He played safety on defense in the two-team system initiated by University of Detroit football coach Gus Dorais. He was a triple threat on offense: he could run, pass and kick better than most. And he did all of that and more during some of the best years of U of D football.

A spacious parking lot now occupies the football stadium grounds where Palumbo performed his football magic between 1935 and 1939. College football has long since forgotten about triple threat players and 170-pound halfbacks. But U of D never forgets, and it didn't this year, honoring the Woods' Ed Palumbo by inducting him into the seventh University of Detroit Sports Hall of Fame class in ceremonies held April 14.

Ed Palumbo hasn't forgotten about those days, either.

"I broke in as a sophomore against Manhattan College. I threw two touchdown passes and hit Andy Farkas with one to beat a great Duquesne team, 14-7. I could throw on a run or I could pivot and throw — only about one in 100 could do that. And we played both ways — in those days, that's the way you did it," Palumbo says.

'Triple threat'

HIS BEST GAME was against Tulsa in 1938 when he tossed three touchdown passes and ran in for two more scores. His most memorable game was touchdown pass led U of D to an upset victory over Santa Clara, knocking the California school out of a post-season bowl.

"Santa Clara was unbeaten. It was the biggest team I ever saw. They had a Hawaiian kid who could jump like some of these basketball players do today and I had to cover him. Dorais told me to stick to him — to follow him into the ladies' room if that's where he went.

"We beat 'em, 7-6."

Palumbo followed that performance with two All-Star game appearances; the first in August, 1939 as a member of the Philadelphia Inquirer All-American Eastern College All-Stars who played the Philadelphia Eagles. His performance in that game got him a spot on the Shrine All-Star team which played the New York Giants in September, 1939. It was, as it turned out, a pretty good career for a guy who wasn't even recruited for college football.

Palumbo lettered in track, basketball and football at Cathedral Latin High School, an all-boys' school of 3,000 in Neighborhood Club ends basketball season

The Neighborhood Club's youth basketball leagues ended their seasons last month with tournament games for grades four through 12. More than 500 players participated on 57 teams. In the high school league alone there were 17 teams. In all, more than 250 games were played from January to March.

In the fourth grade Collegiate League, Indiana and Notre Dame tied for first place with a record of 6-2. Although Indiana was only fourth in the league in scoring, it held its opponents to just 61 points. Notre Dame led the league in scoring and was second in defense.

The fifth and sixth grade level featured leagues for both boys and girls. In the boys' Pro league, the Jazz finished league play undefeated at 11-0, leading the league in scoring as well as in defense. In the tournament they defeated the Warriors, 22-8, to take the championship. The Warriors had finished fourth in the league, but played hard in the tournament to reach the finals.

In the girls' Midgie League, the Rockets were the dominant team, leading the league in scoring. They defeated the Spirits in the tournament finals, 19-12. The Spirits had finished third in the league.

In the Giant League (seventh and eighth grade boys), U. of D. led the league in team scoring honors with a record of 10-1. In the finals they defeated Michigan State in a close contest, 34-33. Leading 18-16 at the half, they made their free throws count in the end. Michigan State finished fourth in the league, but played exceptionally well in the tournament.

In the girls' Midi League (seventh and eighth grades), the Chicks led the league in both offense and defense. Playing the Ladies in the finals, they led the entire game, winning, 27-18. The Ladies finished the regular season with a record of 4-7. The Chicks ended their season with an 8-3 record and the championship.

The High School League turned out to be quite competitive, with the Junglers taking the top honors with a record of 12-1. In play-off action, the teams were divided into two tournaments, the N.C.A.A. and the N.I.T. In the N.C.A.A., the Junglers continued their winning form by defeating the Indiana Hoosiers. The Hoosiers led the league in scoring while the Junglers were the top defensive team. In the N.I.T., Fikany Realtors pulled an upset defeating the Tea Men, 38-27. Fikany was 4-8 during regular season play.

Among volunteer coaches sent thanks by the Neighborhood Club were Collegiate League coaches Robert Kutscher, Dave Cromar, Walter Schoenegge, Richard Dorman, Dale Brockie, Paul McLaughlin, Joe Craparrota, Doug Luttenberger, Mark Lorenger and Victor Alessi.

Instructional League coaches were Mike Shaw, Tom Lowry, William Smith, Leonard Rancillio, Michael Shapiro, Hank Galnor, Bill Fox and Larry Sabol.

Other Club coaches were Frank Tatomir, Bill Taylor, John Gustafson, Robert Kutscher, Don Cook, Al Wright, Joe Butala and Trevor Dinka in the Midi League; and Fred Smith, Len Rancillio, J.R. Van Syckle, Ed Moore, Jim Davey and Paul Prozaki in the Giant League.

South is 2-0 in track

South's girls' track team upped its record to 3-0 and turned in an outstanding second place finish in the Port Huron Northern Relays in track action last week.

South first defeated Mt. Clemens, 70-53, in dual meet competition April 19. The team got fine performances from freshman Julie Boyt in the 100 meter dash, Carin Seyler in the hurdles, Theresa Schulte in the high jump and Nancy Solterisch in the 3200 (two mile) run; each girl turned in her personal best.

At Port Huron Northern, South's distance runners had the best day, taking two first place finishes, two second place finishes and one third place in the distance relays. The girls also scored points in three other relays. South took a second place overall finish as 24 Class A, B and C schools competed in the Relays.

South's distance medley team of senior Val Stone, sophomores Barb Giroux and Meg Moisen and freshman Nancy Solterisch, broke the meet record in this event with a 13:36.8. Earlier, those four had smashed the 9600 meter relay record by one full minute.

Stone and Moisen teamed up with senior Sarah Bernard and sophomore Jen Meehan to win the 4800 meter relay with a time of 16:47 only 10 seconds off the meet record. Meehan, Stone, Moisen and sophomore Megan McCoy finished the meet with a third place in the 1600 meter relay.

In the field events, South's long jump team of Janice MacMichael, Cathy Trombley and Barb Giroux, and the high jump team of Theresa Schulte, Adele DiNatale and Betsey Meagher each placed in their events.

Other South runners adding to the final score were Kathy Mastroianni, Kelly Riehl and Karen Campbell. South has dual meets against East Detroit and North and competes in the Central Michigan Relays on April 30.

National honors for Valerie Stone

Not many cheerleaders ever receive national recognition — but Grosse Pointe South High School cheerleader Valerie Jean Stone has done just that.

Valerie has been recognized by the United States Achievement Academy as a 1983 National Award winner in cheerleading.

The Village of Grosse Pointe Shores ordains:

Section 1. DUTIES OF THE BUILDING INSPECTOR

A. The Building Inspector shall have the power to grant zoning compliance and occupancy permits, to make inspections of buildings or premises necessary to carry out his duties in the enforcement of this Ordinance. It shall be unlawful for the Building Inspector to approve any plans or issue a zoning compliance permit or a building permit for any excavation or construction until he has inspected such plans in detail and found them in conformity with this Ordinance. To this end, the Building Inspector shall require that every application for a zoning compliance permit for excavation, construction, moving or alteration or change in type of use or the type of occupancy be accompanied by written statements and plans or plats drawn to a scale of not less than one (1) inch equals fifty (50) feet, in duplicate and showing the following in sufficient detail to enable the Building Inspector to ascertain whether the proposed work or use is in conformance with this Ordinance.

- (1) The legal description, actual shape, location, and dimensions of the lot.
- (2) The shape, size, and location of all buildings or other structures to be erected, altered or moved, and of any buildings or other structures already on the lot.
- (3) The existing and intended use of the lot and all such structures upon it.
- (4) Such other information concerning the lot or adjoining lots as may be essential for determining whether the provisions of this Ordinance are being observed.
- (5) Existing and proposed grades to an extent necessary to allow the Building Department and the Village Engineer to properly determine the results of the proposed work.

B. If the proposed excavation, construction, moving or alteration, or use of land, as set forth in the application are in conformity with the provisions of this Ordinance, the Building Inspector shall issue a zoning compliance permit. If any application for such permit is not approved, the Building Inspector shall state in writing on the application the cause for such disapproval. Issuance of a permit shall in no case be construed as waiving any provisions of this Ordinance.

C. The Building Inspector is, under no circumstances, permitted to grant exceptions to the actual meaning of any clause, order or regulation, contained in the Ordinance to any person making application to excavate, construct, move, alter or use either buildings, structures or land within the Village.

D. The Building Inspector is, under no circumstances, permitted to make changes to this Ordinance nor to vary the terms of this Ordinance in carrying out his duties as Building Inspector.

Section 2. PERMITS. The following shall apply in the issuance of any permit:

A. Permits Required. It shall be unlawful for any person to commence excavation for, or construction of any building structure, or moving of an existing building without first obtaining a building permit from the Building Inspector. No permit shall be issued for the construction, alteration or remodeling of any building or structure until an application has been submitted in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, showing that the construction proposed is in compliance with the provisions of this Ordinance and with the Building Code.

No plumbing, electrical, drainage or other permit shall be issued until the Building Inspector has determined that the plans and designated use indicate that the structure and premises, if constructed as planned and proposed, will conform to the provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 3. INSPECTIONS AND TIME LIMITS ON HOW LONG PERMITS WOULD BE VALID.

In order to insure compliance with the provisions of this Ordinance, the Building Inspector will be notified as construction or alteration reaches the following stages:

1. Prior to completion of the footings and prior to the erection of any foundations.
2. Upon completion of all work authorized by the building permit. Until inspection is completed, no further work shall be accomplished. At each inspection, the Building Inspector shall insure that all work accomplished complies with the applicable provisions of this Ordinance. If he determines that any provision of this Ordinance has been violated, he shall immediately suspend the building permit, and such suspension shall remain in effect until correction of all violations shall have been approved by the Building Inspector.
3. All permits not executed within 90 days after issuance are void.

Section 4. FEES.

Fees for inspections and the issuance of permits or certificates or copies thereof required or issued under the provisions of this Ordinance shall be collected by the Village Treasurer in advance of the issuance of such permits or certificates.

The amount of such fees shall be established by the Village Council, from time to time, and shall cover the cost of inspection and supervision from the enforcement of this Ordinance. The fees shall be paid to the General Fund of the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores.

GPHA names new officers

The election of new board members and a reflection of the 1982-83 season highlighted the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association's recent annual meeting.

U of D honors Woods' Palumbo

Cleveland, Ohio. He originally intended to play basketball at U of D until he met Gus Dorais.

"My roommate's father was a friend of a Ford dealer who was a buddy of Dorais'. I met Dorais one Sunday and we spent the next couple of hours throwing the football around. They asked me to try out and that was the start of it..." Palumbo says.

And the finish of it was a great college football player for the U of D Titans and a lifetime full of memories for No. 5 — Palumbo.

"Gus Dorais — what a guy! He was kind of like Pop Warner. He did things passing that were amazing. And the spirit he created on those teams was fantastic. But then you had more spirit in college those days, and you didn't have the mistakes. Dorais' teams didn't make mental mistakes."

DORAI'S TEAMS ALSO had plenty of tough competition. "We used to travel a lot because Dorais' teams were so open people wanted to play us. We used a lot of double spinners... plays that were unique. Dorais could throw a beautiful pass. He taught me to throw that soft ball, with your finger on the end so the ball goes right where you want it to go."

Most of the time during his career, Palumbo wanted — and got — the ball to go to Andy Farkas. "He led the nation in scoring and Dorais always used to tell me: 'If two men are open, hit Farkas.'"

Andy Farkas, later an All-Pro back with the NFL Washington Redskins, was Palumbo's target in one particularly tough game against Duquesne. "We were on our own 30 yard line, I dropped out of the pocket and saw Farkas go into that triangle (the way fields were marked at the time). I saw those hands — he had beautiful hands — and I just drew him out and hit him for the touchdown."

To say that Duquesne games like that one were tough is redundant. Duquesne's teams were characterized by big players who always meant business. Many were from Pennsylvania's coal mines, most were older than their Detroit counterparts and all of them were tougher. It was during one of those games that Palumbo the triple-threat became Palumbo the quadruple-threat.

A Duquesne tackle by the name of Kritchfield broke through the line and applied a sort of choke hold to the then-170 pound back Palumbo. The big tackle held on for dear life — until Palumbo sank the fourth part of his quadruple-threat talents, his teeth, into Kritchfield. He never used the move again, although he and his former teammates still joke about it. Kritchfield, who didn't think it was funny, complained in vain to the referee, who did. And the big tackle, when finding himself on the same all-star team as Palumbo a while later, protested loudly that he was not going to play with "that guy" who bit him.

TRIPLE-THREAT PALUMBO was drafted in the first round by the then - Pittsburgh Pirates, but the pros were not the place for a 170-pound back, even if he could bite. "First of all, my mother told me to go back and finish school. Secondly, at 170 pounds I was too small for the pros; my forte was passing and kicking and that's for college."

"The beating I took without a facemask... I'd stop and think: what the hell is a 170-pound halfback doing taking a beating from these 230-pound guys? No, thanks," Palumbo recalls.

He also drew interest from the New York Giants. Philadelphia Eagles and the old NFL Brooklyn Dodgers, but turned them down and after a five-and-a-half year stint in the U.S. Army's anti-aircraft division stationed in the Aleutians, he settled down. He and his wife Mabel had three children and Ed worked first as a sales representative for Graham Paper Company and then for the Choche-Stevens Paper Company.

Palumbo retired in January, but still puts in a lot of time playing golf. He recently won his flight in the Burning Tree Country Club golf tournament ("I've never been as proud of anything else," he says) and in general, tries to stay close to what he holds so dear: sports.

"I missed it. That's why I coached at St. Ambrose, St. Charles and St. Leo. That St. Ambrose team won the city championship. I used to get out there with those kids and play. They'd really hurt me sometimes and I'd just say: 'harder next time.'

"I always have loved sports and I always will... and there's not a thing wrong with that."

They really don't make football players like Ed Palumbo anymore. They can't. They threw away the mold.

Boat safety classes set

Michigan boating season has arrived and with it comes the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary's Safe Boating Class.

The St. Clair Shores U.S.C.G.A. Flotilla 12-01 will present a Boating Safety and Seamanship Class for Powerboaters on Monday evenings beginning May 16. The fee for the eight-week class which takes place at Lakeview Tackle and Sport Shop at 24317 Jefferson Avenue, is $14 for the first family member and $7 for each additional member.

Further information may be obtained by calling 775-9547.

ULS netters drop two

University Liggett School's tennis team had a tough time last week, dropping two close matches.

On April 20, the University Liggett School varsity tennis team traveled to Ann Arbor Huron to take on the second-ranked team in class A. The Knights, playing with Aaron Krickstein, Steve Pack and Frank Crociata, lost a hard fought, 4-3 decision. Ann Arbor won all four singles and ULS swept the doubles. Winners for ULS were John Polizzi and Brian Hunt. No. 1 doubles; George Haggarty and John MacLeod, No. 2 doubles; and Kirk Haggarty and John Birgbauer, No. 3 doubles.

On Friday and Saturday, April 23 and 24, ULS hosted its fourth annual Tournament of Champions. This tournament featured seven out of the top 10 teams in Michigan and 11 nationally-ranked players. ULS coach Bob Wood and coaches of other participating teams felt this tournament was the best high school tournament ever held in Michigan, and was better than any state tournament because the state divides its tournament into three classes. The ULS Tournament of Champions had the best teams and players from all classes — and when there are nationally-ranked players playing in the consolation, the competition must be tough.

ULS held two points shy of Ann Arbor Huron. ULS' Aaron Krickstein won the No. 1 singles flight. Ann Arbor Huron won the No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4 singles while Birmingham Brother Rice swept all three doubles. ULS' Steve Pack, No. 2 singles, John Ekelman, No. 4 singles and George Haggarty and John MacLeod, No. 2 doubles, lost in the finals of their respective flights. The final team standings were as follows: Ann Arbor Huron, 26; University Liggett, 24; Brother Rice, 23; East Grand Rapids, 15; Three Rivers, 12; Catholic Central, 9; Kalamazoo Loy Norrix, 8 and Grosse Pointe North, 2.

"We lost a couple of three-set matches that could have turned things around," commented ULS coach Bob Wood. "However, when you are playing this type of competition week in and week out, we can't expect to win every match. We must be realistic and know that there will be minor setbacks along the way."

The Knights' schedule does not get any easier. On Wednesday, April 27, ULS hosted No. 2 ranked Class A Brother Rice, (after press time). Then on Friday, April 29, it's off to East Grand Rapids to participate in an invitational.

Trackmen open year

The ULS boys' track team opened its regular season against Oakland Christian on Thursday, April 21, with a 84-48 loss.

Senior Steve Jackson won the 110 meter high hurdles, the 100 dash, the 300 low hurdles and anchored the 800 relay. It was a great effort by the team's only senior. Sophomore Carl Bradley was the second highest point-getter for the Knights, winning the long jump, the 200 dash, and running a leg for the winning 800 relay team. Bradley also placed third in the 100 dash.

Other fine efforts came from junior Jim Kitchen who ran the first leg of the 800 relay and placed second in the 110 high hurdles. Sophomore Jack Ferris took second in the pole vault and freshman Tom Redmond placed second in the high jump while teammate Jim Cargas took third. Cargas also took a third place in the 400 dash. John Hadjisky placed second in the 300 low hurdles and Norm Issa and Steve Vreken placed third in the 200 m dash and the 3200 run, respectively.

The Knights have their youngest team in recent history with only one senior and five juniors on a squad dominated by freshmen and sophomores. ULS' next meet is Friday, April 29 against Class D power Greenhills School.

Pointe athletes make their mark

A trio of Pointe athletes are making their presence known at their respective colleges these days.

College of Wooster freshman Dina Dajani, of the Park, will step right into the starting second base for the Wooster women's softball team this season. Dajani, a South High School graduate, will lend her right-handed batting talents to help Wooster improve upon its 1-14 overall record of 1982.

Glenn Piche's season is finished — but the 5-11 sophomore guard made the most of his year on the Grand Valley State varsity basketball team. The South High alumnus earned the Hustle Award for averaging 2.7 points per game and finishing with 32 assists and 16 steals.

And Brian Vier finished seventh in the 400 meter hurdles at the recent rain-shortened Ohio Relays. The Farms resident turned in a 56.4 time for his Central Michigan University track team. Vier is a CMU sophomore.

Hessburg is All-American

Pointer John Hessburg earned All-American honors at the NCAA Division III national swim meet March 17-19 at Canton, Ohio.

Hessburg, son of Dr. and Mrs. Philip Hessburg, of Park Lane, placed 10th in the 50 freestyle and was a member of the 11th place 400 meter freestyle relay team.

Top time for Brian Vier

Grosse Pointe South High School graduate Brian Vier is still turning in the top track times that made him a track star for the Blue Devils.

Vier's 15.4 took the 110 meter hurdles in recent competition for the Central Michigan University track team. Vier, of the Farms, is a CMU sophomore.

That eminent lawyer Clarence Darrow at the age of 80 said, "I don't even believe in blondes anymore."

Grosse Pointe Soccer Association News

Last weekend marked the opening of spring soccer season for the Grosse Pointe Soccer Association, as 49 teams of boys and girls took to the fields under bright April skies. There are over 600 players involved in soccer this season, ranging in age from 6 to 19.

In the boys' under 8 division, the Eagles and Cosmos played to a 1-1 tie. In this particular division there are many novices whose enthusiasm and energy are always a delight to witness. The boys' under 10 division contest saw the Blackhawks pull ahead of the Falcons to take the game, 2-1. Both goals were scored by Garrett Ryan with fine assists from Eric Ryan, Todd Fredrickson and John Okay. Tough defensive play by Blair Gavan and John Woods for the Blackhawks was a definite factor in the win. The Eagles and the High Numbers also played, with the High Numbers taking the game, 2-0.

The Grosse Pointe Gunners from the under 14 travel league opened their season with a solid victory against the San Marino

Titans of Troy, 5-0. The Gunners, under the direction of A. Van Dee Wyngaard, a former World Cup player, attributed their success to the ability to play as a well-tuned unit, and to the exceptional play by center halfback, George Sparrow.

The Sailors, under 14 travel minors, went up against the Roseville Raiders and won 4-2. Goals were scored by Link Bessert, Brad Egan, Matt Dennis and Brady O'Toole. Behind the great ball control and start-off plays by Adrienne Hess, the Grosse Pointe Foxes scored a resounding victory over the Fraser Furies in the girls' under 14 travel division, 4-1. Goals were shared by Kim Woods, Beth Edwards, Casey Steffes and Roseanne McConnachie.

The Utica Pikes hosted another travel team of under 14 boys, the Grosse Pointe Wolverines, and are still reeling as the Wolverines overwhelmed them, 6-1. John Wack banged in four for a hat trick plus one and one goal each went to Mike Hartnett and Chris Herman. Assists went to Chris Herman, Jim Ryszewski, Tom Mack and Jeff Raynal.

Menzo hurls no-hitter

By Paul Regelbrugge
North High

North's varsity baseball squad had a three-win week beginning with Detroit Kettering, which proved to be no more than a stepping stone as North handily swept a double-header, 11-1 and 8-2, last week.

Senior Dave Babcock tossed a one-hitter while striking out nine batters and Kevin Dundon smacked a grand slam home run to spark the first win. Marty Mitchell and Dave Waldeck supplied the firepower in game two as Mitchell homered and Waldeck walked two triples.

North saved the best for last as John Menzo staked his claim to fame, hurling his second consecutive no-hitter in a 2-0 triumph over Lake Shore on April 22. Dundon pounded a home run to give Menzo the only runs he needed.

Utica Eisenhower split a double-header with North's junior varsity, winning 1-0 in nine innings and losing, 4-2. North was then blanked by Clintondale, 4-0.

Dennis D'Agness, Frank Vento, Doug Stander, Joe Weidenbach, Tim VanEckoute, Art Szymanski and Kevin Weidinger excelled for the JV Norsemen through the set.

Girls open year

Coach Bill Taylor's Norsemen were trailing just 1-0 after five innings before Regina exploded for four runs in the sixth en route to 6-0 victory to spoil North's season opener. Jan Hamilton pitched four scoreless innings in her pitching debut.

The junior varsity lost to Regina 16-3 despite a commendable pitching performance by Ellen Gouin.

Good tennis start

Coached by Tom Berschback, North's varsity tennis team won its first two matches, 4-3, over Rochester, and 5-2, over Trenton before losing to Grand Blanc, 5-2.

Senior singles aces Chris Brown and Marc Andris won all three of their matches to lead the way for North. Roger VanPelt was also a winner against Trenton, as were the No. 2 doubles combo of Jeff Lepley and Todd Kilgus.

North back on track

North's track squad manhandled an old nemesis in Lakeview, 92-40, as North swept three events.

Outstanding performances were turned in by the entire distance squad, including Steve Saigh in the long jump and 100 meter dash, Darryl Launius in hurdle races and Ken Sanders in pole vault.

Sweeping all three relays, the girls' track squad dominated Lakeview as well, 84-39. Double winners included Stacie Williams, Sue Roland and Janet Wesselmann. The freshmen outscored Mt. Clemens, 78-51. Michael Lancaster was first in the 400 meter run, Dave Roush in the 300 meter low hurdles, Lee Carrasco in the 800 meter run, Eric Walters in the 100 meter dash and Taki Paros in the 3200 meter run.

jection with Arbotech in the prevention of Dutch Elm Disease.

A slide and film presentation will show the role of Arbotech in the DED program. Merck & Co. representatives also plan to return in June for hands-on demonstrations of the injection technique so homeowners can do it themselves, the Shade Tree Council said.
