Grosse Pointe News

By Tom Greenwood

Case dismissed

In case anyone was wondering, Grosse Pointe was represented in the Boston Marathon two weeks ago. A fairly reliable source from another newspaper called to report that at least three Pointers were among the thousands living a dream on the streets of Beantown.

The three were Bill Weidenback, 23, (sorry, no official time available); James Campbell, 50, who completed the race in 3:22:40 and Thomas J. DuPont, 38, who finished his second Boston Marathon in 3:06:41.

In a nice bit of irony, it was learned that DuPont was one of several joggers ticketed by the Farms police for running in the street a few weeks back.

Police reports say the incident occurred at about 6:30 a.m. Apparently DuPont went to the Farms Municipal Court ready to do battle over the misdemeanor only to receive a marathon lecture from the judge before being found guilty. His fine was suspended.

DuPont's number one fan reported that he bettered his previous B.M. time and will only lose five toenails instead of six as in last year's effort.

GP bruise missile

Justice of a sort was swift and sure for two would-be bicycle thieves last week when a sharp-eyed resident caught one of them in his garage.

According to Farms police reports, the resident (described as a big, burly ex-Navy officer) saw a 20 to 22-year-old man hop on his son's 10 speed and start to ride away with it.

Charging from the house, the homeowner hit the suspect with a body check and sent him tumbling through a picket fence, snapping a large cedar post in two along with several pickets and a railing.

Not surprisingly, the checkee ran off clutching his ribs. The checker then noticed his second son's bicycle was missing and called in a description to the police. Officers later saw a second man riding the bike and attempted to stop him.

He ran off through several yards before he was arrested. Police have a name and good description of the bruised bicycler that got away. In their bulletin, they described him as a white male with brown hair, a bushy moustache, wearing a blue nylon jacket, brown corduroy trousers and having 'very sore ribs.'

Housewarming present?

A man moving into a house on Lakepointe Road last week apparently bought a little more than he bargained for. Seems the gentleman found a leaking, deteriorating artillery shell resting in his garage.

The brave new homeowner gingerly took the foot long shell to the Park police station where officers even more gingerly took it off his hands.

An urgent call to Selfridge Air Force base in Mt. Clemens brought the disturbing news that the boys in blue didn't have anyone available to dispose of the ordinance.

Believe it or not, an Army Bomb Disposal Unit from Chicago promised to drive up to pick up the 75 mm shell. Sure enough, they arrived at 6 p.m. Monday and, instead of dismantling it on the spot, turned around and drove back to Chicago, bomb and

Cotton candy circus

Opposition to school closings is gaining momentum in districts

By Joanne Gouleche

Opposition to a plan to close four elementary schools in Grosse Pointe next fall is gaining momentum. At least three school groups have formed committees to respond to Supt. Kenneth Brummel's plan to close Barnes, Defer, Kerby and Mason elementaries in the fall of 1984.

Committee members from those schools appeared at the Board of Education's meeting Monday and urged the trustees to delay their vote on the plan until questions about consolidating elementary school children into the system's three middle schools are clarified.

Several parents said they were skeptical about how well elementary children would get along with seventh and eighth graders at Brownell, Parcells and Pierce middle schools.

Kerby parent Jane Fox said she was "appalled" after she took a tour of Brownell school Monday to see where her children would be sent under the plan. Mrs. Fox said the facilities would provide too much contact between older and younger children. "This is not what we consider to be quality education," she told the board.

Trustees will receive Supt. Brummel's final recommendations to close schools at their Monday, May 9, meeting at Defer school. Board members made it clear Monday that those recommendations are not the last word on school closings in Grosse Pointe and can be changed on June 13, when they vote on Brummel's plan.

Trustee Ronald Dalby, however, publicly-stated he was not in favor of the superintendent's proposal and drew applause from the audience. Later, Dalby added "we still have to close some schools

Parents at Monday's meeting also were critical about the June 13 date on which trustees will vote on Brummel's proposal. That day is the same day voters will elect two new board members

Farms resident Charles Glass suggested the school closing vote be delayed. "You are having your cake and eating it too by the method in which you have presented this," he said.

In attempts to get local teachers and principals to sign petitions protesting the school consolidation plan, Glass said several educators and administrators have hesitated to join the opposition because of "fear of penalty" and that it would "reflect poorly on them."

Both Brummel and trustees denied the allegation. "It is certainly not the policy of the board to stifle any conversation on this," Trustee Jon Gandelot said. "Frankly, I am floored by this."

One other resident told the board she understood Supt. Brummel was selected for his post in Grosse Pointe two years ago because he had experience closing schools in Westport, Conn. Trustee Gandelot interrupted the woman and denounced the rumor.

"I resent that as a board member. That's not true," Gandelot

Trustee Catherine Brierly added all 10 candidates for superintendent had experience with school closings in their respective communities.

"I never realized how bad it was. I just wasn't aware of it. I'm sure a lot of other parents would also be surprised.'

Lynn Wargo, South High School parent, admits she never realized how widespread teen alcohol abuse is in Grosse Pointe.

Her outlook changed quickly when she attended a meeting of the Substance Abuse Community Council of Grosse Pointe and discovered that alcohol is the most abused drug in Grosse Pointe among adults and teens.

Now, Mrs. Wargo fears other parents may be ignorant of the problem, too, and unaware that their son or daughter may be guzzling down beer or wine on a regular basis.

Mrs. Wargo, who has since joined the abuse council, is helping to spearhead a petition drive to open parents' eyes to the drinking problem among local teen-

The petition drive may get parents to think twice about letting their teens attend kegger parties. Mrs. Wargo said.

"The problem is prevalent in Grosse Pointe. A lot of parents condone it, unfortunately," Mrs. Wargo said.

The abuse council, formed two years ago to address alcohol and drug abuse in Grosse Pointe, meets monthly and welcomes new members. The group brought David Toma to Grosse Pointe to speak last fall.

Toma, a former New Jersey copturned anti-drug and alcohol crusader, told parents the teen alcohol and drug abuse problem into Grosse Pointe has grown into Grosse 'pandemic' proportions. Later, a survey by the abuse council showed students felt alcohol was more of a problem than drug use at their schools, while others indicated regular drinking was ʻokay.

The Edsel & Eleanor Ford House has a small sign out front that announces its days of operation, times of tours and number to call for more information.

That small sign could lead to a ruling on the legality of the Shores sign ordinance and possibly add a new twist to the ongoing battle between the Ford House, the village, Macomb County and the Lakeshore School district over the tax status of the 60-room mansion and its 87-acre site.

Shores police say the sign is illegal. A hearing in municipal court on the issue was adjourned Wednesday evening, April 27, so attorneys for both sides could prepare briefs, village attorney William Killebrew said. The village ordinance prohibits any sign other than a "for sale" sign or temporary placard during construction of a home that is larger than six square feet, he said.

The sign was put up in front of into the capital improvement fund the Ford House last December to cut the city's dependence on and was done without getting a timely receipt of the money, variance from village trustees, which had been held up by pre- Ford House attorney Joseph Sullivious executive orders from the van said. The Shores is enforcing an ordinance that faces its first legal challenge, Killebrew said. "The ordinance allows signs only for certain instances. We don't have any businesses as such in the village," he said. "It's a question of whether or not the sign meets the ordinance's requirements.

The sign story began in April, 1982, when Ford House representatives came before the village council asking for a variance to put up a sign. Trustees voted unanimously to reject the request. The Ford House returned the next month with a different design but was again turned down.

Trustees said the sign would pose a possible traffic hazard because it would distract drivers negotiating the Lakeshore curve. One trustee said the sign "would look all right for a bank but not in a residential area.'

Sullivan said Ford House administrators redesigned the sign and put it up in December. The village cited them for violation of sign ordinance and the fight was

The sign and the battle over the tax-exempt status of the home as a charitable institution are "vitally connected," Sullivan said.

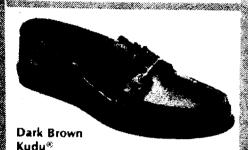

It is "inconsistent" of the village to argue the home is not sufficiently open to the public to merit tax exempt status then deny them the means of advertising the home's openess, Sullivan said. Asking for the sign was a way of making known the home was open to the public, he added.

Killebrew said the sign case was "totally independent" of the tax cases. The tax appeal by the Ford (Continued on Page 2A)

DURING THE late evening hours of last Feb. 19, Dorothy and Walter Radulovich of Grosse Pointe City were jolted by the news that their daughter Nada was lying in the Bon Secours Hospital emergency room with severe head injuries, a punctured lung and broken ribs resulting from an automobile accident earlier that evening. An empty beer can had been found at the accident scene.

Nada, 17, a senior at South High School and a serious student of music, was riding in a truck with friend when it suddenly struck the curb and tipped over. Reckless driving charges are still pending against the driver who admitted drinking, according to police.

Nada's mother said she often talked to her daughter about drinking.

"I was always extremely op-posed to it," Mrs. Radulovich said. "I am certainly opposed to the parties in the various hotels and homes where parents are aware drinking is involved.

Cluster occupancy a year off?

By Tom Greenwood

Developers of the 18 cluster home subdivision destined for the Lakeshore property owned by Henry Ford II hope to have their first occupants of the project settled in by May, 1984.

Curt Clauser, vice-president of design and planning for the Caldwell Equity Co., developers of the property, said design schedules are being met.

"We're pretty much on schedule," said Clauser. "They're demolishing the basement now and two of four buildings on the Kercheval side of the lot are now down. The chauffeur's building is gone and the gardener's house is next. The demolition crews are scheduled to be out by the middle

"THEN WE HOPE to have sewer, paving and things of that nature going by the first of July. We'd like to see the first occupants in by May of next year. Of course, this schedule was drawn up last January. Lots of unforeseen things can hold it up. Destruction of the Ford home, located on nearly eight acres of prime real estate stretching from Lakeshore Road to Kercheval Avenue, began several weeks ago. The demolition of the 76-room mansion, originally built in 1928 by Hudson Motor Car President Roy Chapin, drew media attention in the state and throughout the country.

The sidewalk fronting the property was often lined with dozens of onlookers viewing the destruction of the home.

Ironically, the demolition has spurred buyer interest in the 18 cluster type homes scheduled to be constructed through the coming year.

"The minute the wrecking equipment went on the site interest in the subdivision really picked up," said Clauser. "It was like people saw that we were really serious about this. Before, all the talks with the city seemed to generate a 'wait and see' attitude.

'Since then we've had lots of interest from prospective buyers. People are calling or contacting us by mail." Design plans presented to the Farms council last August showed the 18 cluster homes to be connected by a meandering road running through the property with single entrance and exits on Lakeshore and Kercheval.

THE HOMES themselves would sign floor plans, offering two and three bedroom homes with at-tached two car garages. Three of the homes would be constructed along the 390 foot frontage paralleling Lakeshore Road, with some homes attached at a common garden wall, or a common corner. Clauser said a name for the subdivision would soon be coming. "We've narrowed it down to about two choices," he said. "The decision will be made by Mr. Ford once he comes back into town."

Clauser confirmed that there has been a lot of speculation lately about whether the Ford subdivision would expand to include the Webber property located next door at 437 Lakeshore Road. The Caldwell Company had previously confirmed that it was interested in acquiring the 5.5 acre parcel

"I've heard from several people that we've acquired the property, from others that we're no longer interested and from others that someone else has acquired it and is putting in a separate project, said Clauser.

"I don't really know what the status is. I've been devoting all my time to the Ford subdivision. Right now all I'm concerned with is 18 cluster homes on Lakeshore Road."

Clauser did indicate, however, that clarification of the question of the Webber property should be available in two or three weeks.

The end of the road gang

Wayne County Executive William Lucas won and Mary Ann Banks, a Romulus councilwomone and lost one last week in his continuing campaign to bring order and financial stability out of the chaotic county government.

His victory was an important one. It came when Circuit Judge Irwin Burdick upheld Lucas' right to fire three incumbent members of the Wayne County Road Commission and appoint his own commissioners instead. Burdick ruled that both state law and the new county charter gave Lucas the "power to remove, at will, the incumbent road commission and to appoint their successors.

The road commission long has been regarded as one of the most powerful of the many independent fiefdoms that Lucas is trying to bring under this control. The commission has fought Lucas and the new charter every step of the way in its efforts to protect its little empire of high-paying jobs, fucrative fringe benefits and cozy relationships with influential political and union leaders.

'Judge Burdick's decision is an important confirmation of the authority of the charter,' Lucas said when informed of the ruling. "The voice of the people, as overwhelmingly expressed in the charter, has been recognized by the court.' Now it will be up to Lucas and his commissioners to prove that they can remove the political taints and inefficiencies from the road commission. The three new commissioners are Boeller, supervisor of Brownstown Township, and deserve.

an. None of the three is well known on a county basis but now will have the opportunity to make records and reputations of their own in operating the road commission. Most people think the new body will have no way to go but up after the sorry record of the past.

However, Lucas' loss of the week also was a serious one. The largest county employe union's members rejected a tentative agreement that would have cost them their cost-ofliving increases, but would not have materially reduced their income even though Wayne County employes as a whole are the highest paid in the nation. Whether Lucas will be able to achieve his fiscal goals without concessions from the county union employes remains to be seen but he is at least making a major effort to achieve fiscal sanity for the county

SOME COUNTY officials grumble that the county is just exchanging one set of political bosses for another by granting so much power to Lucas. There is some truth to that criticism but the charter does hold the county executive responsible. That means that Lucas will have to face the voters himself and they can then determine whether he has done an acceptable or unacceptable job. Furthermore, the charter itself was approved by an overwhelming margin, which means that Lucas and his subordinates have strong public support as they start their reform mission. So far we think Lucas has made an excellent start toward achieving the Janice Frazier, a member of Lucas' staff; Curt kind of government most county voters want

That is the date on which the Oakland County Elections Committee approved his recall petition. Yet there is no question that the general public reaction to the size of the tax increase has been negative.

IT IS UNLIKELY, in our opinion, that Lauve can pull off the recall election but he will gain two benefits even in losing. He will help make the tax increase a political issue in 1986, when the governor is up for reelection, as well as in 1984 when state House members will next face the voters. Quality education threatened by plan

To the Editor:

We are expressing our sincere alarm regarding Supt. Kenneth Brummel's tentative recommendations to the board of education pertaining to the reorganization of the Grosse Pointe school System.

Dr. Brummel has not proven to the community that a consolidation of schools is required at this time. We strongly oppose the superintendent's proposal and the closing or consolidation of any schools.

Our primary concern are that the proposed reorganization does not adequately address the continuation of quality education and the needs of material published to date, attending his presentation of April 11, and the public hearing on April 21, we have not board of education a concern about these issues.

There is no doubt that the school system is presently solvent and that it will remain so if the superintendent and the board of education are perceived to act in the best interest of the young people of this community. The students of Grosse Pointe and their parents deserve no less. Dr.

Brummel's plan provides less. In addition to the issues of quality education and the needs of the young students. further issues which have not been adequately addressed are: the social and psychological problems faced in schools serving students ranging from K-8 grade, the loss of the neighborhood school concept at the elementary level, maintaining all services and programs currently in existence, administering a school serving grades K-8, the obvious adverse effects on property values and what appears to be an almost certain potential of school busing.

At the November 4, 1982

held by the Committee to Study the Future Organization of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, these questions were asked. "Why not house certain elementaries in adjacent middle schools? "The committee's response was "This would result in inequity of facilities and would still not solve the problem of numbers at any level.' When asked "What are the disadvantages of Plan B (K-8)?", the committee stated "Given the present middle school program, the middle schools would be extremely crowded if they accommodated grade K-6 as well. To place grades 7 and 8 in an younger children in Grosse elementary school would ser a sent Dr. Brummel.

schools Dr. Brummel has projected if Mason, Defer, Kerby and Barnes schools are closed, the savings to Grosse Pointe taxpayers will be $6.65 per $10,000 of State Equalized Value. Or, $33.25 per year school tax savings to a family owning a home with a State Equalized Value of $50,000. We do not believe the amount of money at issue in Dr. Brummel's proposals warrants the major change in the school system he has recommended.

We believe there is a certain suspicion within the com-munity that the superintendent's recommendations have already received the approval of certain board members. If this is true, for whatever reason, we find an apparent lack of voracity in the method both the superintendent and the board have chosen in approaching the community on this issue. This only means a closer look must At the November 4, 1982 be given to any plan proposed Community In-Put session by Dr. Brummel. In addition, we believe it inappropriate and improper that the board has scheduled its vote on Dr. Brummel's proposal the even-ing of the day on which the community will vote to fill Ronald Dalby's position and whether to retain Dorothy Kennel on the Board.

We believe the recommendations made by Dr. Brummel, in combination with the manner and time they were presented, show a degree of lack of consideration for the needs and desires of Grosse Pointe citizens. We remind the board that it was elected to represent the best interests of the citizens and the children of this community, not to repre-

sibility it demands. Anything

Say 'No' to school closings

To the Editor:

We urge the school board not to accept the recommendation of the administration. We urge the board to keep Barnes School open.

We believe that Barnes School has been an excellent educational facility for our children, and we believe that it can continue to be an excellent facility for future classes of children. We do not want to lose this superb combination of physical plant and grounds and skilled and caring staff and administration.

Barnes School also has been an excellent resource for the community for many groups

Girl Scout's punishment too harsh

To the Editor: Local newspapers have recently carried news articles and letters to the editor regarding Girl Scout cookie sales and an unfortunate incident which occurred in a neighboring Girl Scout Council in Macomb County. The Michigan Metro Girl Scout Council (Wayne and Southern Oakland counties) wishes to reassure the community that, should a similar situation arise in this council, we would not condone punishment of children for their performance in cookie sales. Our board of directors has re-affirmed this principle and its support of Girl Scout national policy which, as we interpret it, clearly indicates that a girl's membership in her troop depends only upon payment of registration dues and adherence to the Girl Scout Promise and Law, which make absolutely no reference accountable for making full to selling cookies.

Because of the dedication and competence of our 3,600 adult volunteers working on the cookie sale with 25,000 Girl Scouts and their parents, Michigan Metro Girl Scout Council is able to operate as a partially self-supporting organization. In addition, Girl Scout cookie sales provide the opportunity to teach girls many valuable things, among them: self-confidence, service to the troop and the Council, cooperation, setting and meeting of goals, handling success and failure, dealing with the public, managing money and, of course, responsibility.

Because the individual Girl Scout cookie order form is signed by the parent of the girl, we feel strongly that it is the parent who must be held payment for the order as promised. In any instance where a parent cannot pay, the Michigan Metro Girl Scout Council makes every effort to be accommodating in clearing up the matter with the adult.

Therefore, while we certainly strive to teach a girl the tremendous importance of being responsible, we do not believe that cancelling her membership in her troop is the way to teach it. Only with a girl's continued membership and eligibility for troop activities do we get our chance to help her learn such values and hopefully grow and benefit from all the good experience Girl Scouting has to

Can we afford two high schools?

To the Editor:

As a concerned resident and parent, I cannot support any of Supt. Kenneth Brummel's recommendations. School reorganization may be necessary due to declining enrollment, but the method proposed is the least desirable.

Many parents, whose apathy was apparent by the low attendance at the April 21 hearing, have not taken the time to thoroughly investigate the recommendations. They are content because their schools are not being closed. They are not looking beyond the next several years, when their children will join those middle schools and high schools severely weakened by this proposal.

The basic premise that two high schools must remain open is the true issue to be discussed. Projected enrollment for 1988 indicate that the high schools will be reduced to 200-250 students per class. Will these numbers be sufficient to maintain the variety of electives, advanced classes and specialty programs as they are now being delivered? If one high school were closed, the savings would far surpass schools. It could serve as a community center and offices for the Board of Education and still provide additional classrooms, if needed, for a few high school specialty classes.

Dr. Brummel cites Livonia, Southfield and Birmingham as communities where schools already have consolidated. What he cleverly neglects to mention is that their consolidations were elementary plus elementary, middle school plus middle school and high school plus and programs we eliminate high school. Doesn't this make now. We must be willing to go more sense in the long run?

Dr. Brummel's plan recommends incorporating the sixth grade into the middle school. In the late 1980s, however, he advocates the return to a K-6 program and the adoption of a 7-12 program. Why should 6-8 middle schools be implemented now, then scrapped in several years to fill up the two high schools?

Our schools attract newcomers to our community. If we destroy the quality of our education with a poorlyplanned and hasty program of consolidation, the entire community will be adversely affected. If our schools are number one, let's keep them there and not regress due to lack of foresight. The proposed timetable is too rushed to insure adequate preparation for any changes we may need to make because of declining en-

Change is not the issue. The timing and the implementation of any change is crucial. To maintain as many of our elementary schools as possible in the closings of four elementary spite of any consolidation would ensure our community's commitment to neighborhood schools as well as the quality of education.

> People in this community had better get involved now. On June 13, the Board of Education will vote on Dr. Brummel's plan. The entire plan must be delayed until a more fully developed plan addressing community concerns has been formulated. We will not be able to go back to buildings the distance for quality education. If the board refuses to hear our outcry, we must be ready to continue our battle after June 13 through all means available to us. Recall and referendum are not dirty words when we consider what is at stake — the children, the quality of their education and the viabilty of our community.

Jane Nutter Grosse Pointe Park

We reject the idea presented in the administration's recommendation that because a school is small it necessarily affords a poor educational opportunity for children. Despite the fact that Barnes is the smallest elementary school in the district, our children score among the highest academic achievement.

We believe that the educational milieu fostered by a neighborhood school more important than having two sections per grade.

Under the proposed plan some of our children would have to go long distances to school making it impossible for them to walk to school or come home for lunch. We beleive that this factor will discourage new families with children from moving into our neighborhoods and may result in lower property values.

We ask the board to consider other plans which would put more students into the local elementary schools. We believe it is more important to improve the use of these facilities rather than concentrate on filling the middle schools. We propose keeping all of the local elementary schools open containing Kindergarten through seventh grade. Grades eight through 12 would be noused in the two nigh schools, leaving the middle schools for community centered activities, especially for senior citizens.

We believe that preservation of the neighborhood elementary schools, especially Barnes, will enable the Grosse Pointe schools to continue the proud tradition of academic excellence which we will support.

We should abide by board's vote

To the Editor:

I, as well as many residents of this fine community, concur with your editorial that we should abide by the decisions of the school board members who were chosen and elected to serve on this board because of their ability and knowledge. On many occasions, the results of a general election are based on personal gains or biased opinions by residents who do not acquire full information.

When the present school system had twice the student attendance, it furnished quality education and it will be able to continue with the same standard when the number of schools are reduced to conform with the present atten-

Maintaining and operating more schools than are required is comparable to requiring General Motors, Ford or Chrysler to operate plants when their production of vehicles is drastically reduced in order to ease the unemployment situation.

Legislators are supposed to be problem solvers. They bring to their tasks all their experience and education, all that they are, and yet most find the demands on them truly monumental.

The complexities of our society grow and with that number and complexity of issues grows.

Some require extensive technical knowledge, some of the wisdom of Solomon and others the patience of Job. These qualities not being in great supply it is nevertheless necessary for the Legislature to try

Last fall I got the idea. Why not provide such workshops to enhance the job-related skills of legislators and staff?

No other state has tried it, but I felt that better skills must result in a better process for problem solving.

We have now started the L.E.A.D. (Legislative Education and Development) Program, which I am coordinating, providing skills workshops for legislators and staff through a non-profit corporation funded by attendance fees and private contributions. We hope to gain tax exempt status before year end.

This spring workshops will be provided in Stress Management, Time Management Communication Skills and Respect Relationships in an organization.

Wake up and smell the coffee, Bill

Senator's view from Lansing

By State Senator John Kelly

Once you strip away the veneer of civility from my colleague in the lower house of the Legislature, we perceive that his view from the capitol is one of tunnel vision, limited by narrowness of scope and frantic in his quest for personal survival. Grosse Pointe would be better served if he stopped wood by the best of Puffer and beat weeping in his box of Puffs and kept his attention focused on the needs of our constituency.

Most of the 600 plus words expounded by my colleague in last week's column were the disjointed thrashings of an individual without an ideological gyroscope and as such do not require comment. However, three issues were raised that may leave doubts in the minds of readers, and I will try here to untangle the web of distortions woven by my colleague.

Let us begin with the issue that really worries my minority colhigher percentage of votes in the Democrat. It is Grosse Pointer's does the average Grosse Pointe Pointes in my State Senate district, even though it makes it a less-Democratic voting district and thus more competitive. (Previously the Grosse Pointes were cut into three parts to minimize Republican votes).

If the former minority leader of the State House is worried about keeping his seat, he had best attempt more "high level" negotiations and hope they are not futile. Since each house customarily apportions itself, his threats and puffery are best aimed at his coworkers in his own chamber.

Secondly, the time-worn red herring that Detroiters are tax consumers and Grosse Pointers are providers is a nice attempt to whip up the "us versus them' syndrome. But in 1983 it just doesn't fit. He incorrectly states 'The constituency that elects league - reapportionment. Could he (Kelly) is a tax consuming conbe afraid of having to compete in stituency." Northeast Detroit is an election based on issues rather predominantly a working middle than the spoon-feeding possible in class community and 75 percent of a solid Republican district? He the 1st Senate District is 80 perasserts that Grosse Pointe should cent home occupied, and it is 40 not be divided, but conveniently percent senior citizens (who are gives no reasons lest they appear hardly getting what they've put too self-serving. I encourage keep- in). With the added burden of the ing the Grosse Pointes together 3 percent city income tax and the because Grosse Pointers have 5 percent utility tax, they are actbeen receptive to me as their ually the most heavily taxed peostate senator and gave me a ple in the state. Northeast Detroiters don't draw last election than any other local resources for higher education as receptivity to independent voting family, and like Grosse Pointers that has me lobbying hard — and successfully — to keep all of the school aid but proportionately pay an additional premium beyond property taxes in that three quarters of their children are in parochial schools. It is a vastly different picture west of Mack but that is due to voters who pay higher percentages of tax in relation to their income and draw less, not more, in terms of services. Their adherence to independent voting hardly qualifies them as a "given" in any election. Finally, my colleague uses an array of code words to frame my voting pattern a lock-step parti-san. It's true I voted "no" on the Milliken tax. It's also true I voted "no" on the Coleman Young tax. It's also true I opposed the House sponsored income tax, first because I felt a sales tax proposal that would have returned any excess revenue to citizens in the form of property tax relief was more equitable and, secondly, because it did not provide for an automatic, but reasonable, reduc-

It is unfortunate that such valuable informational space must be sacrificed to correct the misperceptions of my lachrymose minority colleague. There are far too many serious issues confronting the state that should spark more meaningful dialogue and debate in the future. Let's get down to work and begin exploring the root causes of Michigan's quandary and the ways to solve it and keep the rest of this drivel for cocktail

Lucas seeks tax hike to pay county debt

Wayne County Executive Bill Lucas, acting on recommendations from his reorganization commission, will ask voters for a one mill property tax renewal and a one mill increase to pay off the county's debt, estimated at $331

Park man faces arson charges A 21-year-old Park man was charged with arson last week in connection with two garage fires just four doors apart on Whittier Road. The man, identified as William Yott, 21, of Barrington Road, stood mute in municipal court April 29 on two charges of felony arson. He was released from Wayne County Jail after posting $1,000 bond.

Park firemen were called to the first working blaze at about 2:26 a.m. on April 28, in the 1300 block of Whittier Road. A second fire was reported minutes later in a garage down the street and a second alarm was called. Grosse Pointe City public safety officers responded and damage was limited to charring on the inside of both structures, according to fire reports.

Yott was arrested by police just 10 minutes after the first alarm after he was seen driving a motorcycle on Westchester Road. Police said he matched a description of a man seen leaving the scene of the fire by neighbors.

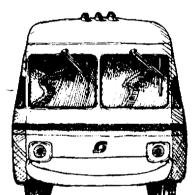

Yott faced examination on the charges Wednesday, May 4, after presstime.

We wipe out weeds the others miss.

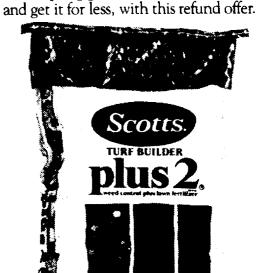

When you use Turf Builder Plus Two*, you're controlling weeds and feeding your lawn as no other weed-and-feed can. You see, to work, most weed controls have to be absorbed through the weeds' leaves. That's why Scotts particles are small and lightweight. So they stick to the weeds' leaves better. So the weed control is absorbed better. So it works better. And only Scotts puts weed control in every particle, to get even the smallest weeds that other brands may miss.

And there's more. Turf Builder Plus Two feeds your lawn while it weeds, because it contains Turf Builder* fertilizer—the fertilizer engineered just for lawns.

You can't get all that from "bargain" brands. Only from Scotts.

No wonder Scotts guarantees your satisfaction absolutely.

Support grows for foam insulation ban

More than 20 Congressmen from all parts of the nation joined with Congressman Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, in calling upon the Consumer Product Safety Commission "to do whatever it can to prevent the ban on the use of the urea formaldehyde foam insulation from being lifted.'

BSH to replace radiology units 2003

Bon Secours Hospital has received approval from the Michigan Department of Public Health to replace and upgrade radiology units at a cost of $752,400.

The hospital is expected to have the new radiographic/fluoroscopic units installed by this December.

In a letter, drafted and circulated by Hertel, the Congressmen urged the Commission to "take strong action" on the 5th Circuit Appeals Court recent ruling to end the ban on the use of the insulation. Citing its adverse health effects, the Congressmen label the insulation as "a dangerous substance that must be kept out of Urea formaldehyde foam insulation, which was installed in as many as 70,000 Michigan homes during the 1970's, was banned by the Consumer Product Safety Commission in August because of health risks. It is associated with eye, nose, throat and other irritations and has been linked to cancer in laboratory animals.

In its April 8 ruling, the U.S. Court of Appeals agreed with the industry that the resulting for-maldehyde gas levels found in test homes were inaccurate indicators and that results reached in animal experiments had doubtful applications to humans.

In its response to Hertel's April 20 letter, the Consumer Product Safety Commission informed the Congressman that, on Thursday, April 21, the Circuit Court had granted a two-week extension to file a petition for rehearing of the April 8 insulation ban decision.

In its response, the agency said; "The Commission believes the Court made a number of significant factual errors and mistakes of law ... The extension of time to file a petition for rehearing means that the Court's mandate overturning the ban is stayed until May 5, 1983. Until that time, it remains illegal under the ban to install urea formaldehyde foam insulation in homes and schools.' Hertel said he was pleased the Commission was taking decisive action to maintain the insulation ban. "The government has an obligation to protect its citizens from dangerous substances such as urea formaldehyde insulation. The use of this product has helped to reduce energy consumption, but it unwillingly resulted in health hazards to the very people who were trying to be energy conscious," Hertel said.

Hertel, whose district contains numerous homes insulated with urea formaldehyde foam, recently introduced a measure which would permit a federal tax credit of up to $10,000 to homeowners for removal of the substance. Hertel's bill is the only such legislation pending in the current session.

URGENT NOTICE — SCHOOL CLOSINGS

On Monday, a meeting was held at Kerby School by concerned citizens, to discuss the ramifications of Dr. Brummel's current consolidation proposal. It is the emphatic consensus of this group that there is not sufficient justification to approve the school closing plan. They therefore organized into Action Committees to draft a Position Statement, to communicate our position to the School Board and Dr. Brummel and delay a vote.

Our greatest concern, as residents of the Kerby School District is to maintain the quality in our public schools and the character of our community.

In reviewing all published material to date, we find no evidence that the Board of Education or the administration has demonstrated the fiscal necessity for the proposed school closings nor have they attempted to evaluate the impact of such closings on the quality of education and the character of our community. Therefore:

• We urge the Board of Education to DELAY taking any action on the proposal for one year;

• We OPPOSE the administration's current proposal to close neighborhood schools; and

• We urge the Board of Education to give due consideration to the patent conflicts between the report of the Citizens Advisory Steering Committee and the administrations current proposal and to EXPLORE other alternatives.

We are reaching out to the community to gain support of this vital issue.

We believe that both the substance of the proposal and the manner in which it has been presented pose a grave threat to the well-being of our children and our neighborhoods.

"As I prepared this budget, it became evident that we must formate a policy so that operating funds do not depend on state shared revenues," Petersen said. By moving the revenue sharing into a special fund, normal city operations will be unaffected by delays in payment by the state, he added.

Budgets for the general government, public works, public safety and park and recreation were approved by the city's finance committee during four days of preliminary hearings on the budget.

Parks and Recreation was allocated $391,336 for 1983-84, compared to $372,094 for the year before. Public safety will receive $2,376,285 in the next fiscal year, compared to $2,337,637 the year before.

The general government budget, which funds commissions, council and office personnel, was allocated $540,229 for next year, compared to $478,060 the previous fiscal year. Public works allocations decreased from $1,593,181 in fiscal 1982-83 to $1,401,548 in the coming fiscal year. The finance committee, made up by councilmen Frederick Lovelace and John Sabol and Mayor George Freeman, unanimously recommended sending the budget to the council, which will hold a public hearing May 16, at 7:30 p.m. on the document before its adoption. Changes in revenue and expenses could be made at the public hearing.

STATEMENT OF POLICY FOR PROPOSED EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL REVENUE SHARING MONIES

Federal Revenue Sharing Monies in the amount of $89,900.00 are anticipated to be received in the City of Grosse Pointe Woods during the fiscal year 1983-84. Such monies are anticipated to be utilized for the maintenance and repair of the City's Local street system.

TRUTH IN TAXATION STATEMENT

Last year (1982), the City of Grosse Pointe Woods levied 10.57 mills ($10.57 per $1,000 SEV) for general operating purposes. Because of an estimated average 5.1% (.9484) decrease in the State Equalized Valuation of all existing residential properties within the said City for the year 1983, the City of Grosse Pointe Woods, in order to maintain essential City services and programs, finds it necessary to increase its tax levy to 11.11 mills ($11.11 per $1,000 SEV) for general operating purposes. This results in a .54 mills ($0.54 per $1,000 SEV) or a 5% tax levy increase, but because of the decrease in the State Equalized Valuation, a net reduction of $1.33 in actual tax dollars is anticipated for the average home having a $40,000 SEV assessment!

From Another Points Of View By Janet Mueller

Seven private gardens, featuring stately trees and evergreens, flowering dogwood, crabapple, magnolia and masses of spring bulbs and wildflowers, plus the formal garden at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, will share the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council 10th Annual Garden Tour spotlight May 20, 21 and 22.

The flowering shrubs will include rhododendrons, azaleas and forsythia. There will be a few garden sculptures, interesting landscape schemes, one bi-level garden and one that is geometrically designed, formal and informal beds.

Wall-enclosed gardens, terraces and patios offer a sense of privacy and intimacy. The Detroit Garden Center's Upstairs Shop will have crafts for sale at one of the gardens. Refreshments will be served at another.

The tour runs from 1 to 5 p.m. all three days, rain or shine - and speaking as one who splashed and giggled through the Hampton Court maze less than three weeks ago, in a rather heavy English Mist, may I say: Do not let rain deter you. Pull on your boots, put up your umbrellas, and just go to it!

Tour tickets, at $5 each, may be purchased in advance at the Garden Center Room in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Tuesday through Thursday, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., or by calling the ticket chairman, Ms. M.P. Wiant, 881-4173. A brochure with a map of the area and description of the gardens accompanies each ticket.

Tickets also will be available at each of the gardens during tour hours only. For directions or further information concerning the tour, call 881-4173, 886-2096, 881-8574 or 886-8913.

The Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council is composed of representatives of 19 garden clubs. For the past 35 years, education, conservation and beautification have been the council's prime concerns: $2,500, money made possible by last year's Grosse Pointe Garden Tour, will be spent this spring on planting and maintenance of Lakeshore Road.

Marigolds on-the-Hill

Meanwhile, up on-the-Hill, mid-May will find members of The Garden Club of Michigan, an affiliate of The Garden Club of America, planting yellow marigolds in various sizes from Hall Place to Fisher Road. "We'll even do window boxes, if people have them," says Mrs. Earl I. Heenan Jr., who dropped by last week to report on another Garden Club of Michigan project: a Flower Show, celebrating the opening of The Performing and Creative Arts Center at University Liggett School.

The Flower Show debuts Wednesday evening, May 11, with a 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Sponsors Preview. The public is invited to admire and enjoy blooming beauty created by members of The Grosse Pointe Garden Club and The Junior League Gardeners as well as the sponsoring Garden Club of Michigan next Thursday, May 12, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., in the spectacular new addition to ULS' Cook Road campus.

The Marigold Plant-in is a Garden Club of Michigan beautification project. The Hill Association will provide upkeep for the flowers, which should be well-rooted and nodding their little yellow heads off by June 2, when The Garden Club of Michigan sponsors an Herb Sale in the vacant lot between The Persnickety Pedlar and Picard-Norton on-the-Hill.

The Herb Sale is a very-early-on fund raiser for The Garden Club of America's 75th anniversary celebrations, to be held in Detroit in 1988.

Paper Cuttings Display

Back to the-bottom-of-the Hill, where the Grosse Pointe Public Library is featuring a special display of paper cuttings on fabric this month in its showcase exhibit. The display is presented by members of the Michigan Chapter of the National Guild of Decoupeurs.

The paper cutting technique, which dates back to the 16th century, is one of many recognized in the field of authentic decoupage. Some of the cuttings are pre-colored prints. Others are black-and-white prints which have been hand-colored using oil pencils, much as one would paint with a brush.

The on-fabric technique is used not only on boxes, but for wall hangings, lamp shades, bell pulls, screens and murals.

According to Mrs. Howard Poppen, of Dean Lane, this special exhibit was shown recently at a National Decoupage Exhibition in Alexandria, Va., which drew hundreds of viewers. Other Pointe residents who have objects in the exhibit are Fernande Biglin, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sartor, Helen Albertson, Elizabeth Pongrace, Florestine Schmidt, Madeleine Shetler, Eleanor Young and Ann Standish.

May Tea — Treasured Lace

Over to Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, where "A May Tea — Treasured Lace," five words spoken by Kay Drummond as a possible fund raising project for the Princess Beatrice Chapter DBE, inspiring 11 ladies to share a common interest, promise a delightful afternoon next Thursday, May 12.

The program begins at 1 p.m. with tea, music and a bake sale. "Treasured Lace of Yesteryear" will be introduced at 2:30 p.m. by the chapter members, who raided their attics, closets and family memories to create a collage of stories, skits and modelling designed to bring lace "treasures" into a new era.

The Inspired Eleven are Beulah Wells, chapter president, cornerstone of Princess Beatrice's strong foundation ... Mary Sue Cheek, "Ms. Inspiration" Kay Drummond, Rose Barton, Maisie Holstin, Betty Potter and Reba Hammond, who will provide the tea table delectables and act as tea and bake sale hostesses ... Christine Schlorff, pianist ... Marge Linsdeau, collector, noted for her doll and Teddy Bear work as well as lace . . . Vera Hurd, model (and a talented dress designer) . . . and Agnes Weitzel, artist and coordinator.

The program is open to all by reservation, at $3 per person donation, with proceeds going to support The Brookfield Home for the Elderly. There IS a reservation deadline, however — this Monday, May 9. Reservations may be made and further information obtained by call-

Vows spoken in Annapolis

Lynne Elizabeth Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Montgomery, of Washington Road, was married Saturday, March 26, in the Great Hall of St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., to Girard Bradford Davidson, son of Joan K. Davidson, of New York City, and C. Girard Davidson, of Portland, Ore.

The 5 c'electromagne at which

The 5 o'clock ceremony at which The Reverend J. Winfree Smith presided was followed by a reception in St. John's Randall Hall, after which the newlyweds left to vacation in the Virgin Islands.

They are at home in Annapolis where the bride, a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate who holds a degree in Urban Planning from the University of Michigan, is an urban planner for Anne Arundel County. She studied Architecture at the Academy of Arts in Copenhagen and is presently a candidate for a Masters degree in Urban Planning at George Washington University. The bridegroom was graduated from the Dalton School and St. John's College. He is an Alderman on the Annapolis City Council and a stockbroker with Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith. The former Miss Montgomery selected a traditional wedding gown, styled with a portrait neckline edged in scalloped Alencon lace. Matching lace detailed her long sleeves and molded her bodice to a corselet waist above a full skirt of peau de soie, bordered in the scalloped lace and flowing into a chapel

She wore her mother's wedding veil of antique Florentine lace, and carried an all-white spring bouquet of iris, tulips and snapdragons.

Mrs. William W. Montgomery, of Evergreen, Colo., honor matron for her sister-in-law, and bridesmaids Mrs. John Matthew Davidson, of Chappaqua, N.Y., the bridegroom's sister-in-law, and A. Elizabeth Davidson, of New York City, his sister, wore daytime length dresses of magenta silk, styled with square necklines, dropped waists and long, full sleeves, accessorized with offwhite English straw hats decorated with fresh flowers in coordinated snapdragons and tulips, in shades of rose and pink.

Auxiliary's meeting

The Auxiliary to the Salvation Army will meet next Monday,

May 9, at 11 a.m. at the Edwin Denby Children's Home, where luncheon will be followed by singing and a performance by the Home's young residents. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Milton Schimpke at MI7-2323.

Merry-Go-Rounders close 33rd season

Merry-Go-Rounders and their guests will close out a 33rd season of getting together four times a year for good food and dancing in an atmosphere of casual elegance with a black tie evening this Saturday. May 7, at the Detroit Boat Club.

Cocktails at 7 p.m. will be followed by dinner an hour-and-ahalf later. Dancing, to music by the Hi-Tones, starts at 9:30 p.m. Assisting host couple Mark and Trudy Alan are Al and Dottie King, John and Ann Lazar and Ralph and Mary-Jane DeCender.

A limited number of openings exist in the Merry-Go-Rounders organization. Membership information may be obtained by contacting the secretary at 886-

Okay, okay, I confess. Everybody probably knows about it anyway, so I might as well talk. The undersecretary of the Department of Closets, Drawers and Cubbyholes was dispatched to my home last week. Rumors of Closet Meltdown and Nook and Cranny Overload had reached high-ranking officials and by the end of the week, President Reagan had declared my Sports Memorabilia Collection an environmental disaster and sent in clean-up crews. Even James Watt couldn't help me cover this one up; it's all true.

Well, maybe not all true. I may have exaggerated the part about the undersecretary and the president, just a little bit. But the rest is absolutely true. Really.

In my younger days, I was an avid collector of what some people might call "sports memorabilia." Most people might call it "junk." Actually, it's quite difficult to tell the difference since the problem of the collector of sports memorabilia would realize the value of junk like bobbing-head dolls in official team colors or rusty "Sock-it-to-'em Tigers!" pins.

My particular collection began with those souvenir baseball programs they sell at Tiger Stadium. You know, the ones you're supposed to throw away on your way out after the game, or use up all the pages making paper airplanes to sail at the third base coach.

It has grown to gigantic proportions due to numerous souvenir hunting trips, well-meaning friends and relatives who buy the junk, er, memorabilia, for gifts, and because of my own stupidity. I know, it's hard to believe. . me, being stupid. (Well, try to pretend it's hard to believe). I used to work as a souvenir salesperson at Michigan State University one fall and until my brother wised me up, I used to spend nine hours selling the junk, then spend my day's wages on what was left over. I used to be dumb.

Making the sanitation department happy. . .

As a result of my former foolishness, I have billions of bobbing-head dolls, trays of trinkets, piles of pins, mounds of magazines and much too much memorabilia. Even without Reagan and the undersecretary I knew it was time to CLEAN THE CLOSET.

After researching and abandoning some of the clean-up procedures employed by the Environmental Protection Agency, I hit upon a unique sorting process of my own which I was sure would reduce the critical mass my closet had become. I would Keep It, Toss It, or Sell It.

SELL IT

1) Bobbing-Head Dolls — Variety A: Bobbing-head dolls, for the uninitiated, are those cute little ceramic statues in football, baseball, basketball, soccer or hockey uniforms. Their heads are attached to a coiled spring, which enables them (the heads) to wobble and bob crazily at just a touch. Who wouldn't want them, especially Variety A: the ones with the heads intact? They make great lawn ornaments.

2) Pucks: I have the largest stockpile of hockey pucks east of Moosejaw. If they don't sell in my garage sale, I might just contact the Red Wings to see if they would have any use for them (although I may have to include an instruction booklet).

3) Pins and buttons: I never really did like those sports pins. I always felt like a jerk wearing them (if you did wear them, you looked a little like those seedy characters who stand around on streetcorners downtown and to whom you never want to get close enough to read what their little pins or buttons say). And if you just carry them around, you run the risk of lockjaw from getting picked by the rusty pin on the crummy button. Sell at any price.

KEEP IT

1) Bobbing-Head Dolls — Variety B: This type of bobbing-head doll is invaluable in the protection of my home. I merely place a few hundred of the Variety B's (no heads, just a coiled spring protruding from a ceramic neck) at strategic points around my home. No self-respecting burglar would have anything to do with stepping into a "Twilight Zone" atmosphere like that. And those springs are always useful for mailholders, impromptu sword fights,

2) Magazines, clippings, autographed photographs: I have the cover of every Sports Illustrated issue from Jan. 1, 1972 through Dec. 31, 1980. Someday, I plan on papering my walls with the colorful covers. In lieu of that, I can always use them to line a cat box.

My clipping collection includes newspaper headlines from such epic sports events as the 1968 World Series, the 1972 pennant race, Mark "The Bird" Fidrych's short but interesting career with the Tigers, and much more. The newspaper is yellowed now, but I'll keep the clippings forever... or to clean out the aforementioned cat box, whichever comes first.

3) Autographed photographs and everything else: For a while, I concentrated on collecting autographed photographs of anyone even remotely connected with sports. I now have hundreds, nay, thousands of photos of sports stars, near-stars and stadium maintenance people whose names, (if they weren't printed on the photo by some cheesy photo process rather than hand-written) I would never remember. But you never know when they might come in handy.

TOSS IT

Which is exactly why I put the garbage bags away and decided to keep everything I just listed, as well as the rest of the junk. . . I mean, memorabilia. It took me a long time to build up that collection and someday, the pennants, pencils. photos, dolls, pins, buttons, banners and baubles might be worth more than the 35 cents they're valued at today.

I just hope the EPA doesn't hear about it.

Look who's undefeated: ULS nine!

The top-ranked varsity tennis team usually draws most of the springlime sports attention, but University Liggett School's based ball team is putting in its supplied.

Was a bit more satisfying: Plymouth Christian was the only team to beat ULS in league play last season.

Last week the Knights lost two 4-3 decisions to Brother Rice and to Cranbrook. In both matches the ball team is putting in its own bid for rave reviews by running its record to 6-0 to stay unbeaten on the year.

The Knights shut out Plymouth Christian, 12-0, and topped Southfield Christian, 7-2, last week.

On April 26, Dwight Kelsey won his second game in as many starts and Costa Papista pitched one inning of no-hit relief against Plymouth Christian. Dave Chamberlin led the offense with two hits and one walk, scoring three runs and batting in two more. The win

The team opened the season against Huron Valley Lutheran and had a hard time, losing, 17-5. On Saturday, April 23, the team played a doubleheader against Glen Lake. In the first game, playing with only 10 players, the girls lost. However, in the second game, the team came back to win

On Friday, April 29, the girls lost a hard-fought game to Kingswood School, 6-4.

Team members include senior Mary Fisher, juniors Thena Cherpes, Mary Hoyos and Michelle Stief, sophomores Samantha DeSmet, Simone Early, Gillian Darlow, Peggy Hoyos, Hilary Kubista, Lubna Jafri, Barb Roman and Laura Stefanski, and Grashman Lugas Differences and freshmen Ivana DiTommaso and Cheri Kavan. set records South's girls' varsity track team established two meet records en route to an overall fourth place finish at the 43rd annual Central Michigan University Relays April

Sophomore Meg Moisen pulled away from the field on her way to a meet record in the 3200 meter (two mile) run. Moisen was clocked in 11:32.2, only four seconds off South's all time record set by Jane Wilson in 1981.

Moisen later teamed up with seniors Sarah Bernard and Val Stone, and freshman Nancy Solterisch to win and set a meet record in the 3200 meter relay. Each girl ran a one-half mile leg. To add to South's dominance in the distance events, Stone took a second place finish in the 1600 meter (mile) run.

In the spring events, South took fourth's in two events, including the sprint medley team of Moisen, Stone, Karen Campbell and Jen Meehan; and the 1600 meter relay team of Moisen, Stone, Meehan and Barb Giroux.

A total of 18 class A and 24 Class C schools were represented at the meet. The top five finishes were: Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, first; Lansing Sexton, second; Traverse City, third; South, fourth; and Detroit Denby, fifth.

"Persons who have been inactive during winter, weekend-only exercisers and individuals seeking overnight fitness often attempt to do too much too quickly and soon develop sore muscles and joints or even injuries," stated Walter Zeil-

Cardiovascular exercises year-old person would multiply such as bicycling, swimming, 190 by .6 for a 114 beats-per-minrunning and brisk walking are the best summer activities for improving the body's ability to transport and use oxygen. These aerobic exercises are rhythmic, the wrist or neck within five seccontinuous and involve the large muscles of the body, such as the

'Cycling five miles in less than 20 minutes has the same conditioning value as swimming 600 yards in under 15 minutes or running one mile in less than eight minutes," Zeiler added. The Auto Club's "Guide to Summer Fitness" lists moderate and vigorous activities for improving the cardiovascular system and burning calories. For weight loss, the length of exercise is more important than the speed. For example, running one mile will burn nearly the same number of calories whether it is run in six minutes or 12 minutes.

Moderate-paced exercises can be continued longer and performed with less fatigue, so more distance can be covered and more calories burned.

To know how hard to exercise, determine the minimum and maximum work the heart must do to improve fitness. Although a stress test performed under a physician's care is the ideal guideline, individuals can subtract their age from 220 and multiply the resulting figure by .6 and .9 for the minimum and maximum training heart and lung capacity," Zeiler heart rate. For example, a 30ute minimum and by .9 for a 171 beats-per-minute maximum.

To determine your exercise heart rate, place two fingers at onds of stopping the exercise. Count the pulse beat for 10 seconds and multiply by six for the heart beat per minute

Individuals who have been inactive should exercise at the minimum level and gradually work up to the middle of the heart rate training range. The Auto Club also advises warming up and cooling down with 10-minute stretching exercises that use large muscle groups to avoid cramping, injury, and to gradually increase the body temperature and heart rate second-leading hitter to a level that will fit into the exercise activity without strain.

Always exercise in light, loose-fitting clothes at a level at which you can talk comfortably and stop at the first sign of pain.

Avoid dehydration and nausea by drinking plenty of fluids, especially water, before and during exercise and by not eating for mas, of Audubon Road.

Pellerito in good form

By Dawn Locniskar

For a high school athlete, throwing even one no-hitter in a season is a rare event. Two in the same season is even more rare. So it was that senior varsity softball pitcher, Lynn Pellerito became one of a select few last Wednesday, April 27, when she pitched

The Grosse Pointe Squirt "A" Tiege assisting. Fraser added another goal before the Blues yays in spring hockey action last Michael Crane tied the game after Blues continued their winning ways in spring hockey action last week, posting three victories in three days to run their first place record to 7-0 in the post-season league at Fraser Hockeyland.

On April 22, the Blues faced a determined Fraser Road Runner squad. Fraser opened the scoring, but the Blues cane right back when Andrew VanDeweghe scored, Kevin Watson and Stefan converting passes from Brad Warezak and Tiege.

The Blues dominated the remainder of the contest, beginning with Warezak's tie-breaking tally on assists from Crane and Jeff Jensen. The Blues closed out the 6-2 win with goals by Crane, David Auld and Jay Auld. Goal-tender Dustin Kolodge notched his fifth victory in the nets.

The Blues' April 23 opponent was a tough Fraser Panther team, over which Grosse Pointe posed a 3-1 victory. The Blues continually frustrated Fraser with the fine defensive play of John Bell, Scott Berger, Jay Auld, Jensen and Van Deweghe. Helping on defense were backchecking forwards Todd Frederickson, Watson and Crane. The Blues closed out April with five more wins.

Matches will be held at the Country Club of Detroit, the Grosse Pointe Club, Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and Lochmoor Club.

League Chairwoman Ann Gannon expressed her appreciation for the overwhelming interest from the club representatives who volunteered their services to chair special functions, in addition to previously compiling their lists of eligible club players.

Club representatives included Ann Roberts and Helen McKnight from the Country Club; Diane Kurtz and Cress Meier from the Grosse Pointe Club; Chris Kirchner and Mary Tremonti from the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club; Gerry

CITY OF Grusse Huitte MICHIGAN

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES AND ON THE PROPOSED CITY BUDGET

The City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe, Michigan will hold a public hearing at 7:30 P.M. on Monday, May 16, 1983 in the Council Chambers at the Municipal Offices, 17147 Maumee, on the proposed 1983 city tax levy and on the proposed 1983-84 City budget. Copies of the proposed budget are available for public inspection during regular business hours in the office of the City Clerk beginning May 9, 1983.

City operating purposes. Because of an estimated decrease in the State Equalized Value of existing property in the City, state law (Act 5 of 1982) provides that the base rate for 1983 City operating taxes be increased to 14.9600 mills ($14.96 per $1,000 SEV). This is 0.3100 mills ($.31 cents per $1,000 SEV) higher than the 1982 operating tax rate. The City is concerned that because of the State of Michigan's budget and cash flow problems, delays in payments or cuts may be made in State shared revenues with cities. Previous delays in state payments and a fall

Last year (1983) the City levied 14.6500 mills ($14.65 per $1,000 SEV) for off in such revenues have caused a loss in City revenues for the current For these and other reasons, in order to fund the City's proposed 1963-84 budget and to maintain essential City services, the City finds it necessary to increase its operating levy. Although the City has complete authority under its charter and state law to establish the number of mills to be levied within its fully authorized millage rate, the City proposes to levy an additional millage rate of only 0.51 mills ($.51 cents per $1,000 SEV) above the 1983 base operating millage rate. This will provide an estimated 3.4% increase in City operating property tax revenues. Individual property taxes may increase greater than or less than the estimated average, with residential properties averaging a 1.2% increase. Public comments, oral or written, are welcome at the public hearing on the proposed additional millage rate and on the proposed City budget.
