Anything is possible

Only in America could a Ford get together with a Reuther, join the Hare Krishna movement, buy a mansion built by Fisher Body founder Lawrence Fisher, and turn the whole place into something called the Bhaktivedanta Cultural Center, complete with an art gallery, computer-controlled, multi-media, three-theater exhibition and exclusive gourment vegetarian restaurant called "Gov-

If it all seems a bit confusing and Californian, (like the Hatfields and McCoys opening a taco stand), everything can be explained by attending the grand opening ceremonies of the center on Wednesday, May 25. The ribbon cutting and other functions will be hosted by Alfred Brush Ford (great-grand-son of Henry Ford) and Elisabeth Reuther Dickman (daughter of former UAW President Walter Reuther).

Both are active members of the Hare Krishna movement. and according to a glossy bro-chure provided by the center, were inspired by the spiritual teachings of His Divine Grace A.C. Bhaktivedanta Swami Probhupada to jointly purchase the property in 1975.

Renovation of the mansion and grounds and inclusion of art work which constitutes the Bhaktivedanta Cultural center was conceived and executed by Hare Krishna devotees.

Visitors to the center will be provided with a glimpse of a splendor seldom seen today, including 25 foot high ceilings of the art gallery; formal gardens on four acres of grounds (watch out for the free roving peacocks); grand ballroom; eight large gazebos and an exquisite rainbow-colored water fountain.

The center is located at 383 Lenox Avenue and is open to ne general public on Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 12 noon to 9 p.m. all year round.

Those wishing to enjoy the grounds, "Govinda's" (featuring Italian, Middle Eastern, American and East-Indian cuisine) or simply hoping to raise their consciousness should call 331-6740.

Economics govern Pointe preservation

Berry, Dodge, Whitman, Alger, Trowbridge and Schlotman.

The names evoke a different age in the Pointes when the ribbon farms of the previous century became rolling estates facing the lake. Homes designed by Albert Kahn, George Mason, Frank Baldwin and others emulated the estates and styles of Europe with a distinctive American flair.

It was an age of money and easy living, when Lake Superior granite could be imported for foundations, where fortunes were born with burgeoning industries. Only the names remain now, tagged to vanished monuments to the glory of that age.

There are historical markers dotting the Pointes at the Edsel and Eleanor Ford House, Grosse Pointe Academy, the Wardwell House and others. Many homes that might qualify for the state historical listing have been maintained and preserved by owners able to finance the costs of restoring and maintaining a home built before the worries of fuel efHistoric preservation efforts continue in the Pointes, with his-toric commissions looking at various sites for markers. The old homes along Lakeshore, described by one realtor as "dinosaurs," remain difficult to save because of the cost of purchasing the pro-perty as well as continued maintenance, urban planners agree.

One such home sits just past the curve of Lakeshore in the Farms, where homes begin to pop up on both sides of the street. Built in 1893 for Charlotte Berry Sherrard, the home is on the real estate listing for $285,000. It is small compared to other homes of its age, with only six bedrooms and a small square footage.

What makes the home interesting, according to one realtor, is the architecture and detail the home embodies. Some features include oak paneling and interiors, Lake Superior stone foundation and bowed leaded glass windows. The home is said to be the first built and designed by Albert

The home was originally copied after a Brittany farmhouse, Frankie Kerouc Parker said. Mrs. Parker, a relative of the Sherrard family, said the heirs of the property hope to keep the house intact after the sale.

The family would also like the home designated as a historic site, but because there is joint ownership, the listing can't be made, (Continued on Page 2A)

Shores return two to office

Shores voters went to the polls Tuesday, May 17, in good numbers to return incumbents Daniel Beck and Elizabeth Kuhlman and elect Robert Roney to two-year terms on the village council.

Village officials said 575 residents turned out for the election, better than recent voter attendance at the polls.

Preliminary election results showed Mrs. Kuhlman garnered 403 votes; Roney, 369; and Beck, 368. Trustee Frank Colombo, who has served on the council since September, 1967, received 340

Roney, 49, becomes the latest member of his family to serve in office. His great-grandfather, grandfather and father have all held elected or appointed office.

Interviewed last week, Roney said he was glad to be on the bal lot to give the voters a choice in the upcoming election. An architect who has renovated his 91-year-old Lakeshore Road home, said his engineering experience may be useful to the council as it prepares for the renovation of its municipal offices.

Good Day Sunshine

When warm weather hits, Grosse Pointers believe in taking advantage of the situation. Last week's balmy breezes brought hundreds of persons out during lunch hour intent on soaking up the rays. Over at South High School, these two students escaped the doldrums of the classroom to enjoy ice cream from one of three (count 'em — three) ice cream trucks.

Windemere Place Ford subdivision gets final okay

By Tom Greenwood

The Farms Council granted final site plan approval to Windemere Place, the proposed name of Henry Ford's cluster home subdivision being constructed on Lakeshore Road, at its regular meeting Monday evening, May 16.

The approval was granted dependent upon four requirements; the plans have to be approved by the city's consulting engineer regarding adequacy of existing and proposed utilities (sewer, water) in order to properly provide for existing and additional dwelling units on the site; roadways to be with a minimum of 24-foot width and certain areas are subject to approval by the Zoning Board of Appeals for those two areas on the project where the road is to be less than 24 feet; construction at the site must commence within one year of final site plan approval and a statement of restrictive covenance is subject to review by the city attorney and registered with the Registrant or Deeds for Wayne County.

The Caldwell Equity Corp., builders of the subdivision, were represented at the meeting by company President Philip Caldwell, and Curt Clauser, vicepresident in charge of design and Speaking before the council, Clauser explained a number of changes in the final site plan.

One involved the entry drive from Lakeshore Road, with an increased expanse of traffic island off Lakeshore opening it up. The builders also plan to construct a four-foot high brick and metal fence along the property line fronting Lakeshore.

The fence is to be built to provide a sense of privacy and security, said Clauser. Because of the elevation of the property, residents will be able to see over the top of the fence, while those driving by will see through the fence.

Clauser also said several of the auto courts were revised somewhat because of existing vege-tation and topography and would allow increased yard space for several homes. The company plans to keep a brick wall on Kercheval Avenue and will re-group two lot sites. A roadway from Kercheval will be secured by some type of locked gate and will be used for emergency vehicles only. All other entrances and exits to the subdivision will be from Lakeshore.

Clauser said demolition at the site was about 90 percent completed, with the next step being the solicitation for site work involving the installation of sewers, water and paving.

Contractors hope to have the first basement in by September, with the first occupant living in the subdivision by spring of 1984. Clauser said a total build out of the project is about two years. (Continued on Page 2A)

This will be the third school board campaign for Mrs. Kennel, of the Park, current board president. Mrs. Kennel lost out in her bid for a spot on the board in 1977 by 197 votes, but came in a strong second in the 1979 board race and won a seat. A former kindergarten teacher in Grosse Pointe public schools, she retired in 1975 after 13 years in the system.

Q. What made you decide to run for a board seat?

Two things. I'd have to say that a second term of office is more productive. During your first term, you are still learning. The other reason is that having brought

Historic homes

(Continued From Page 1A) she said. The family is seeking a trict set up by ordinance by a local buyer who sees the value of the home as a historic site and would keep the home standing, she ad-

The home is more than just another Kahn building, though, Mrs. Parker said. The Sherrard family has deep roots in the history of the community as well as in literature. The home appeared as a setting in one of Jack Kerouae's books, titled "Dr. Sax," as well as being a stopping point for the author and Neal Cassidy, the "superman" in Kerouac's

The family's ties to the community include the founding of Grosse Pointe University School. Another member of the family, Louis Maire, founded Wayne Medical School, Mrs. Parker said. remaining estates."

Realtors say the home is in need of restoration. That is one of the problems of preserving older homes, according to urban planner Brandon Rogers. The detail of work sometimes calls for special artisans, he said. People would like to preserve the homes, but costs make it too difficult.

"It's nice to have some tradition, but it comes back to a lot of people not being sentimental anymore," Rogers said. "A lot of people would like to save the old homes, but its too expensive to maintain the larger homes. I don't really have much hope for the remaining estates."

Preservation of historic homes is a balance between the costs of preservation and the value of the homes to the community, urban planner Gerald Luedtke said. While the desire to save the homes is as universal as "apple pie and Mother," the economic realities can make it tough, he

But historical homes add values to the community in different ways, he said. "They enhance the image of the area, save property values in some cases and offer a sense of living history.

"By preserving historical homes, you prevent sterility in the urban fabric," Luedtke said. "Historic buildings provide some feeling of continuity; a sense of living history, giving the community a sense of day-to-day experience."

Saving historic homes shouldn't be done at any cost, he added. Introducing non-conforming uses to a zoned area just to keep a home intact can lead to chaos in the area, Luedtke said.

There are a number of options available to keep the historic building intact while making betstands, Luedtke pointed out. One option is a subdivision that used homes in an architectural style to complement the historic site. Integrating historic buildings in a community not only enhances the image of a community but enhances property values in the area, he said.

The best way for the homes to serve the community is for them to remain in the hands of homeowners, Ferry said. Not only do they then offer a bit of history for the community, but remain viable and maintained by the owners.

Other options to keep homes viable include tax incentives for restorations or resorting to state and federal historic listings, Luedtke said.

The state historical listing is an honorary title that simply allows the owner of the building to buy a plaque, Bill Warden of the Detroit Historical Society said. The federal listing allows for matching funds for restoration among other benfits, he said.

Another option is a historic disgovernment, Warden said. The historic district designation becomes an overlay of the existing zoning for the area, but limits the changes of appearance of the homes. That means they remain standing, he added.

But setting up historic districts isn't easy, he said. The first step is to inventory the homes in the area to determine their historic value. While the only hard and fast rule for such a district is its being 50 years or older, the individual homes have to represent something more than just a group of old homes.

"In short, the whole of a historic district is more than the sum of its parts," Warden said. The homes can represent history without being of a set age, he said. Rose Terrace and the recently felled Chapin estates may have been candidates for the listing because of what they represented, rather than being old buildings, Walden

The national listing of historic sites make the same distinction between age and historic value, Warden said. The question of an Albert Kahn - designed home being of historic value depends not only on the age of the home, but whether it represents a unique facet of the architectect's work. "Is it unique or is it just like 16 other homes on the listing is also important," he added.

Warden was critical of historic preservation in the Pointes, saying they some day could "look like Bloomfield Hills on tiny lots. Grosse Pointe became what it is today because of what it has on

"It's a shame Grosse Pointe hasn't done more about the designating of a historic district," Jim Conway, curator of architecture for the Detroit Historical Society said, "So many beautiful homes have been torn down recently."

Board candidates share views on future of schools

Q. Do you support Supt. Brummel's tentative school consolidation plan? How do you read community opposition to the proposal?

I support it in part. Having gone through the schools I just realized Defer will never fit into Pierce. I am convinced of that. I am not sure that plan is going to be the final plan, though. The people we are hearing from want to keep the neighborhood schools. I think the tentative plan kept that (intact).

Q. The administration has proposed a $34 million budget to run the school system through the 1983-84 school year. Assuming the course of past budgets, should the district operate on a million dollar surplus, especially in light of declining enrollment?

You will find in company budgets that a 5 percent surplus is almost mandatory. I don't think we need more than that. A lot of the (school) surplus is tied up. That money is being used. It's there to be used. I don't think any company should operate on anything less than a 5 percent sur-

Q. The last millage election was voted through by only 225 votes. Do you think that slim margin says anything about the mood of the school community on school taxes?

You could almost read anything into that and still don't know. I was appalled at the number of people who did cast votes. I think it showed that the community is inot going to go on forever in passing millages, but at the same time, I think they wanted us (the board) to get the message to spend their money wisely.

negotiations on a new contract. What specific issues need to be considered in determining whether teachers should or should not be given salary increases?

With the economy the way it is and inflation the way it has been, it should be better this time. A lot of our teachers live in Grosse Pointe. The big increases that they have gotten in the past aren't there anymore. I hope they will be willing to realize that they are going to have to be flexible and not ask for the increases they ahave been asking for in the past.

Q. How would you evaluate Supt. Brummel's performance over the last two years?

We just went through an evalua-tion of Dr. Brummel. Many people don't know the board does that. In my four years as a board member, this is the first time a superintendent has gotten consistently high scores. The purpose (of the evaluation), too, is to show where he needs improvement.

Q. Do you think Dr. Brummel's tentative school consolidation plan should be put to a vote in the community?

No. If people don't like what I'm saying, then they have June 13. I have made no bones about where I stand. I haven't taken a position I'm still listening. I will say, though, there is a need for, school reorganization. I don't see how our schools can operate at 50 percent capacity.

No, I do not. The cited reason (for the administration's report) is to improve the quality of educahave to improve the quality of secondary benefit. to Mason. There have been no alternatives presented to the board for its review. That needs to be done. Overall, the plan is pulling kids into different buildings without affecting them otherwise. It seems to be a money-saving move rather than to (preserve) quality education. I am not convinced the K-5, 6-8, 9-12 plan is the best. The neighborhood school is too important a concept to be lightly dismissed. I've talked to many parents and persons currently not parents and they, too, think the neighborhood school is a very important concept. I am not for a definite postponement on the issue. It's an issue that needs to be dealt with.

As I see it, we have an excellent community, a lot of thinking people who are concerned that we continue to maintain the quality of education for our children. I think the vast majority of all the opposition (to the plan) is directed toward that end. Parents are not convinced the plan will enhance the quality of education for their

The board has refused to discuss what's on the bargaining table. Inflation has been reduced. something that should be considered in the new contract. Our teachers deserve good salaries. You have to consider what they do for their work and look at what their skills are. Our teachers are paid well. Our school system is a good one; we need good teachers. You have to pay the market price district operate on a million dollar for a good teacher. You can't expect to keep good teachers if you don't pay them well.

Q. How would you evaluate Supt. Brummel's performance over the making him an issue.

Q. Do you think Dr. Brummel's tentative school consolidation plan should be put to a vote in the community?

No. That is why we elected the board members. If we did, it would have to be very general.

Sharon Vasher

This will be the second school board race for Mrs. Vasher, of the Farms, president-elect of the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center. In the 1979 school board election, Mrs. Vasher came in third in a field of 11 candidates. Active in the Girl Scouts and Brownies, Mrs. Vasher is currently involved in a school administration study of curriculum needs in the secondary

Q. What made you decide to run for a board seat?

The reason I decided is that I have sort of been bothered the last two or three years. There has been a lot of apathy as far as board positions go. I just felt that in this type of society we live in, it's important to have a choice.

I intend to make myself as available as possible. I have spoken to a lot of people. I am not waging any big campaign with regard to advertisements in the media.

Q. Briefly, do you support Supt. Brummel's tentative school consolidation plan? How do you read the opposition to the proposal?

No, I guess I don't. I am a personal admirer and supporter of Dr. Brummel, himself. He's an excellent administrator and he has a lot of contact with the community. We are in likely for some consolidation of the schools. I don't like the idea of bodily moving kids from Defer to Pierce, for instance.

I think most people in the community realize enrollment has declined and realize, too, that there have been some changes. It's a real hard pill to swallow.

Q. The administration has proposed a $34 million budget to run the school system through the 1983-84 school year. Assuming the course of past budgets, should the district operate on a million dollar surplus, especially in light of declining enrollment?

I think a lot of people don't realize how fortunate and unusual we plan).

are in this situation. You have to realize there are constant, constant repairs at the schools. You never know when something is going to come up. If you cut yourpraise or criticize Dr. Brummel. I don't think he should become an issue in this campaign. I'm

> Q. The last millage election was voted through by only 225 votes. Do you think that slim margin says anything about the mood of the school community on school

> I suppose it must. I know there were some persons in the school system out on (election day) to get people to vote. I'm sorry more people didn't vote. I wish people wouldn't try to make senior citizens the villains in this issue. The ones I have talked to are supportive of the schools.

> Q. This month local teachers will begin negotiations on a new contract. What specific issues need to be considered in determining whether teachers should or should not be given salary increases?

We all have to be concerned with our lifestyles. Our family personally has had to do so. I hope teachers will be willing to under-stand. Sure, we all like to earn more money. I hope we all will be able to work together and come up with something. I would like to see them (teachers) keep up with the cost of living.

Q. What specific ideas do you have to improve the quality of educational programs in Grosse Pointe public schools?

Our high schools have an excellent curriculum. I guess I would like to see it maintained that way. I feel maybe sometimes there are too many frills and not enough concentration on the plain oldfashioned basics. I like to see the 3 Rs strengthened in the elementary schools.

Q. How would you evaluate Supt. Brummel's performance over the last two years?

I think I have already answered that question. He's an excellent administrator.

Q. Do you think Dr. Brummel's tentative school consolidation play should be put to a vote in the community?

No. Because we elected members of the school board to speak for us, the same as we elected legislators in Lansing to speak for us. If you're not willing to let them speak, why have a school board? I think they (board) have been receptive to the feelings of the community. I assumed that is why they delayed the decision (to vote on Dr. Brummel's tentative

Traffic deaths hit 24-year low in state

Michigan's 1982 traffic fatalities dropped to their lowest total in 24 years and the state's preliminary death rate based on miles traveled was the lowest ever, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"A total of 1,393 persons died on state roads last year," said Robert Cullen, Auto Club Safety and Traffic Engineering manager. 'That is 12 percent below 1981 and one-third fewer than the 2,076 fatalities in 1978, the last year the state recorded an increase."

Last year's total was the lowest since 1,382 persons were killed on state roads in 1958. rate of 2.3 per 100 million vehicle miles compares to a projected national death rate of 2.9. Last year was the fourth straight that the state had fewer than three fatalities per 100 million vehicle

Through September, Michigan's 1956. death rate was the fifth lowest inthe nation. The state ranked sixth nationally in 1981, fifth in 1980 and eighth in 1979.

The Michigan Department of Transportation estimates motorists drove 61.3 billion miles in Michigan in 1982, down 1 percent from the 1981 total of 62 billion miles.

"Besides reduced travel, the economy is one of the major reasons for the continuing drop in highway deaths," Cullen said.

National Highway Traffic Safety Administration figures show that in states severely affected by the recession, including those in the Northeast and Midwest, 1982 traffic deaths dropped between 12 and 22 percent.

ate roads in 1958.

"We have tracked that trend for mearly 30 years and found similar drops during other Michigan economic downturns," Cullen said. In 1974 and 1975, deaths in Michigan fell 15 and 18 percent, respectively, compared with 1973. In 1957 and 1958, deaths dropped 41 and 21 percent, compared with

"During recessionary periods, people tend to live — and drive more conservatively, and we believe that conservative driving is synonymous with safer driving,' he said.

The Auto Club also credits innovative police techniques with helping to reduce deaths. Among those is use of the State Police's Michigan Accident Location Index (MALI) computer program as well as county, township and municipal programs which pinpoint high-accident and violation

"Those programs allow police to concentrate traffic enforcement efforts on roads where their presence does the most to help reduce accidents and deaths," Cullen said.

Many of Michigan's most traveled highways also have been made safer, in the last decade, the Auto Club pointed out.

Among couples who want children, about 25 percent of the wives conceive during the first month, then 50 percent within six months, another 80 percent within 12 months, and 90 percent within 18 months.

Dr. Honn wins honor at WSU

Dr. Kenneth V. Honn of Grosse Pointe Woods, associate professor in the departments of Radiation Oncology and Radiology at the Wayne State University School of Medicine, was recently awarded a Career Development Chair from the Wayne State Fund at the university.

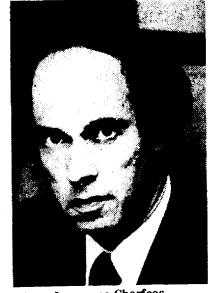

Dr. Honn, 37, was one of three younger tenured faculty members honored with the awards established by the Wayne State Fund last year to increase support for outstanding faculty as part of a long-range development program.

Each chair is supported with a grant of $26,600, freeing recipients from teaching and administrative duties and providing funds for research work during the year.

The Wayne State Fund is a volunteer organization consisting of nearly 300 persons who assist in various fund-raising projects for the university.

Wellness — a new path to health son Secours Hospital has appointed Dwight D. Gaal, a specialist in physical fitness, to direct its new Health Directions wellness program.

Gaal's duties will include development and coordination of projects stressing good health. The wellness program, financed by a $50,000 grant from Detroit's Skillman Foundation, is a new venture for Bon Secours Hospital. The main thrust of the program will be in the areas of health promotion, life-style modification. and disease prevention.

Wellness programs, now under development, will be directed to the general community, employes of local business, industry and Bon Secours Hospital.

"Health Directions is a demonstration of Bon Secours Hospital's desire to contain the rate of increase of health care costs by educating people to accept responsibility for a healthy life-style and providing the means to do so." Bon Secours Executive Director David Benfer said. Gaal comes to the hospital with extensive experience in many aspects of health maintenance. He most recently has served as manager of Lansing General Hospital's sports medicine center and was employed as director of Fitness Planning Group.

As a director of the Health Directions program, Gaal will work out of offices in a renovated gymnasium formerly connected to Jefferson Junior High School in St. Clair Shores. An outdoor fitness course is under construction next to the gymnasium site. The course was paid for through a $5,000 grant from the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco. The remainder of the school, which was purchased by the hospital following Jefferson's closing last year, has been demolished to make way for The Sisters of Bon Secours Nursing Care Center, scheduled to open in fall of 1984.

Time for a final say

The superintendent is asking that interested citizens and groups submit their listing of used in considering school reorganization as well as any specific alternatives to the tentative plan drafted earlier by the school admini-

SOME INDIVIDUALS and organizations already have submitted their own alternatives or suggestions. But others have simply said they didn't like Dr. Brummel's proposal and didn't think any schools should be closed or any other changes made in the status quo despite the declining enrollment. Now these people have a responsibility to do more than just complain about proposed changes. They should offer some input of their own.

The board postponed action chiefly in response to public complaints that people needed more time to study school reorganization and to give the board itself more time to study the overall reorganization plan, but it did not accede to the wishes of those who want little or no critics. action taken on school closings and other mat-

Instead, the board's president, Dorothy Kennel, stressed that the board "remains firm in its resolve to form a plan for coping with declining enrollment" and "believes a plan for the next four or five years must be adopted soon." So while the revised schedule calls for

Like a good soldier, Supt. Kenneth Brummel protesting against any school closings have won is now regrouping his forces to accommodate the day. The decision is simply postponed to himself and the school administration to the give these protesters time to come up with school board's action in delaying a decision on valid plans of their own that would recognize Grosse Pointe school reorganization until next the need for reorganization in view of the major decline in enrollment that already has occurred.

The list of priorities suggested by the superpriorities on the criteria they believe should be intendent is a good one. It includes many of the arguments made by those objecting to the proposed plan. But it is a legitimate question to ask Grosse Pointe citizens as to just how they would list these issues in importance. Is maintenance of the elementary school concept, for example, more or less important than cost efficient operation of the school system? And where in the scale of values would citizens put the maintenance of real estate values, which some people argue is a dividend from keeping all schools open?

> IN VIEW OF THE schedule the board of education and the school administration has announced for the period running up to the Nov. 14 date of decision, it is clear that both are rethinking Dr. Brummel's original proposal. While the Grosse Pointe News had thought-his tentative plan was a good one, some flaws have been detected by both the board and outside

So in effect it's back to the drawing board on the reorganization plan except that it is clear the board intends to take some action to cope with declining enrollment and its impact on the quality of education in the Grosse Pointe public school system. That ought to serve as useful advice for those who now are being asked to submit specific and informed input by offering the school administration plan to be offered to the board Oct. 10 and the board to vote on Nov. 14. that doesn't mean that parents and others of school reorganization.

Pointe News believes it has a responsibility to report and comment on news of interest and significance in the community. For that reason, it once again is covering the school board election campaign in both its news columns and its editorial page.

Our school reporter has covered board meetings, public discussions and other sessions where school problens have been discussed. The reporter and an editorial writer also have interviewed all seven candidates and, beginning today and continuing next week, the News will carry a condensed account of the answers the candidates offered to a series of questions. And next week the News will offer its own editorial opinion about the candidates.

From our reporting and interviewing, we have collected information that we are passing along to or readers to help them arrive at their decisions when they go to the polls June 13. For the same reason, we will offer our own opinions about the candidates based on the information we have collected and the interviews con-

ONE CONCLUSION WE'VE already reached is that the Pointes once again are fortunate to attract so many quality candidates to seek positions on the board. With only two positions to be filled, there are seven candidates in the field. That number of candidates and their ex- campaign.

As a community newspaper, the Grosse cellent quality assure a healthy discussion of the issues, and especially the major issue, which is, of course, schoool reorganization and proposals to close up to four elementary schools next year.

> Only one of the candidates is running as an avowed foe of the school administration and its original school closing plan. The other six in varying degrees believe that the original plan proposed by the school administration should be revised but that some school consolidation probably will be required because of the continuing decline in enrollment. All the candidates want to retain and even improve the quality of education offered in the Pointes. The major differences emerge on how that might be achieved.

We urge our readers to study the candidates' statements and campaign literature, listen to their campaign talks, read the interviews with them in the News and obtain other information that may be available in order to prepare themselves for the decision they will have to make in the voting booths June 13. We offer our own opinions to explain our own conclusions which may or may not reflect the entire district's views. But because we have had this exposure to the candidates and the issues, we think that as a community newspaper we have the responsibility to offer our opinions as well as our news coverage of the school election

Republicans and recalls

That recall campaign against Gov. James Blanchard that was started by John Lauve, the Grosse Pointe Woods Republican, continues to win a lot of ink and other media coverage and for good reason. It has now aroused a new controversy over whether the Republican Party is getting involved in the recall campaigns against Blanchard and several Democratic state legislators who supported the governor's 38 percent income tax increase.

Blanchard told Detroit newsmen last week that the GOP was backing the recall efforts by "sending in outside money and pretending it's some sort of local taxpayer revolt." But Spencer Abraham, the state GOP chairman, denied the charges and accused the governor of "irresponsibly lashing out at any innocent but convenient target." Abraham insisted there is "no organized involvement" or funding of the recall drives which he called "spontaneous, grass-roots efforts of disenchanted taxpayers.

WHAT WORRIES THE governor, of course, is that the Democrats hold only a 20-18 edge in the state Senate and the successful recall of only one senator with his replacement by a Republican could complicate Blanchard's efforts to get his programs through the Legislature. And while the recall of the governor himself still must be regarded as a long shot, it still is within the realm of possibility that the required 760,000 signatures could be obtained. So that remains a second Blanchard worry.

What fuels the recall and petition campaigns, of course, is the unpopularity of the income tax increase and the fact that the withholding from paychecks has increased not only 38 percent but up to nearly 50 percent because the effective date of the tax was retroactive to Jan. 1. Whether the Republican Party officially or unofficially is helping to fund any of the recall movements or not, the GOP can say it didn't have much to do with enactment of the income tax increase because it won the support of only one Republican in the entire Legislature. Successful or not, the recall movements and the publicity they are getting helps promote the income tax increase as a campaign issue for 1984 and beyond. And that is why the GOP is so pleased with all the media attention the recall movements have been getting, even as the party disclaims responsibility for funding them.

Savings don't outweigh losses

To the Editor:

I wasn't sure. I showed up for all the meetings. I read all the reports. I listened to all the people who should know and the people who think they know. But for a long time, I just wasn't sure.

The School Board decided to do "something" about declining enrollment. The steering committee determined that it costs more money to educate fewer children. The parents demanded that their schools be left open for their kids. And I wasn't sure.

On Monday, May 2, at 8 a.m., I attended Dr. Brummel's meeting with local Realtors. At 3:30 p.m. I toured Parcells Middle School with the principal, Morris Hanzek. At 5:15 I spoke to a St. Clair Shores teacher. And now I'm sure. Shifting elementary school children into the middle schools is a dumb idea. Let me suggest that the cost of raising children also rises when there are fewer children in a home. But generally the quality of life/education rises proportionate to the cost.

Besides, why would sending 35 third grade students from Defer into Pierce eliminate the need for flexigrades or increase the enrollment in seventh grade French?

Let me also suggest that February 1984. electives may not be a valid tells me that the thing I've called a butter-cutter for 15 years is really a pastry blend-

Candidates must take a stand

To the Editor:

I do believe the Grosse Pointe News was correct in To the Editor: stating that the appropriate referendum on school closings public referendum.

The thing which disturbs me, however, is that most of the candidates for the two vacant positions have not taken a public position on the issue of elementary school closings. The school board position is a public trust and the electorate in the Grosse Pointe community have a right to be informed.

The issue has far reaching implications, not only for quality education but for the quality of life in the Grosse Pointes for years ahead.

I suggest that some hard questions be asked of the candidates prior to the school board election. Really, the Grosse Pointe News is the only extensive public forum in the community. Despite some of the flak that the paper is taking at the hearings, I have always found it to be faithful in giving a good account of the news

> Bruce E. VanFarowe Grosse Pointe Woods

I used baking soda in my banana nut bread as fresh as the baking soda I put in the kitty litter, I would not bake banana bricks. That is not worth closing a school to find out.

Dr. Brummel claims that the curriculum and staff are what makes the Grosse Pointe School system good, not the buildings. But at the same time he states that closing the middle schools would not be advisable because the facilities are superior to the elementary schools. However, to the parents of a small child, the proximity of that building is far more important than a swimming pool is to the parents of an older child.

At the Realtor's meeting with Dr. Brummel, I asked him what I should tell a client who is considering a house a block from a school that may soon be vacated: He told me that (1) studies show that property values only decrease when the school building is boarded up, and (2) that a decision on what would be done with these buildings would be made by the School Board in February 1984. Great! Present and future home owners can think of a fate worse than "boarded-up" long before

Some applause for the board

As a citizen and taxpayer in Grosse Pointe, I am appalled is the school board election in at the rude behavior shown by June, rather than a general some Grosse Pointe citizens at recent public meetings concerning suggested changes by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. People normally resist change, and in this particular case, it is understandable that some people will want to protest. But, there is never an excuse for rudeness.

Members of the Grosse have worked long and hard to serve our community with little or no praise from anyone. So, when a controversial issue arises, all of their years of solid effort to make the Grosse Pointe school system so outstanding are quickly forgotten. er. And she has learned that if save the property taxpayers of this school system an average of $15 per year, if we don't find another use for it. But what will we do to our property values and to our children?

Leaving the May 2 meeting, another realtor reminded me that four years ago, when everyone was paying top dol-lar for real estate, no one warned us what would happen to market values. And 10 years ago, when everyone was increasing facilities, no one warned us what would happen to enrollment. You might be advised to consider what might happen in another four to 10 years, before we have to buy back the facilities at cur-rent market prices, if such property is still available, and then bring them up to local and federal codes.

If the School Board and the community feel we must do something about declining enrollments, we should give far more consideration to the alternatives.

Get positive about schools

To the Editor:

It is with growing apprehension that I feel compelled to address the Grosse Pointe community at large regarding the proposed school reorganization.

I support Dr. Kenneth

Brummel's plan, as he is a professional educator, and the plan appears to be quite rational. The reorganization is long overdue and has been studied to death. The next millage election may not succeed if nothing is done. I am very concerned that this issue, if allowed to deteriorate to its lowest and ugliest level, will di-vide the community, destroy the excellent reputation of our schools, and precipitate the departure of a fine educator. I believe the community should support our superintendent in this plan and strive to make a smooth transition to the new organization. We should project a positive attitude to the educational community at large - national, state, and most importantly Pointe Board of Education our own young people. I believe the school board should support our superintendent and follow through with the plan as proposed. I would indeed be very, very disappointed if emotions were allowed to sway the board regarding the decisions ahead. The Parent-Teacher Organizations should be in the forefront of supportcision until this fall on the ing the school system and help closing of some schools is a everyone make a positive and good one. Detoxification of PBB from residents

Senator's View from Lansing

By John Kelly State Senator

Are we ticking chemical timebombs? What has been, and what will be, the future effects of dioxin. PBB and other toxic wastes that have contaminated our environment? Unfortunately, we don't know. But SR 90 (Kelly) creates a Select State Senate Committee to find out what can be done about Michigan residents who have been exposed to these chemicals.

As residents we have the right to know what these toxins will do to us. We also have the right to know how to get them out of our body. The chemical companies tell us "their" research shows we have nothing to fear. Of course what do you think they would say, and if it's valid, objective, scientific research, why isn't it available to the public for review?

In 1975-76 while I was working as a staffer in the U.S. Senate while attending Georgetown University, there was a chemical nightmare similar to our PBB ucation in Los Angeles, has done problem in a little town near my preliminary work on a research company was producing a substance known as "Kepone." Its effects were not known until someone began to inquire as to why all the pregnancies in the town were aborting, and normally healthy children and teenagers became sickly and weak. After extensive investigation it was found that the workers in the plant were bring-ing home the Kepone on their shoes and contaminating the whole town and their families. In a combined emergency effort the plant was shut down and cleaned up. The families underwent a rig-orous detoxification program that included physical exercise, dietary supplements and pharmaceutical aids. The program "purged" the Kepone from their bodies and restored the townfolk to almost complete normal health.

In regard to the Michigan PBB problem, the Foundation for Advancements in Science and Ed-home in Northern Virginia. In Hopewell, Va., a large chemical company was producing a subcentrated vitamins, poly-unsaturated oils, sauna baths, and aerobic exercise the PBB concentrations of Michigan residents were lowered from 35 to 50 percent! In addition, in a separate study Mead-Johnson Corporation has been experimenting with a drug which when taken internally "binds" itself to foreign substances in your body and neutralizes them!

Our first committee meeting will be dedicated to hearing from the toxicology doctors and specific plans for the detoxifying Michigan residents from PBB. The committee will begin this week exploring the recent developments in toxicology that can help us get these unnatural substances out of our body. Hopefully, the answers we find will tell us if we need SB 182 (Kelly) presently before the Senate Committee on Health and Social Services that would create a permanent State Detoxification Committee.

One view from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant Jr.

Gov. Blanchard has made his speech on "Jobs and Economic Development" but it remains to be seen what program it pronounced.

The most solid program is one for 60,000 jobs for poverty-level youth this summer, but details are not worked out. State Treasurer Bowman insists that it is not designed to put these youth on unemployment compensation at the end of summer. We will try to assure he is correct.

The governor says "Michigan will do more to help our businesses grow and prosper than any state in the country" but he has no program to back it up. He lists some existing programs and announces an Investment Fund, but his staff can't figure out if the Fund is a state bank or not. And the fund, to provide venture capital to business, is to have $60 million, enough capital to build one plant, perhaps.

The governor says what wonderful things he will do for export and unemployment compensation but the $10 million he touts is really only a 1 percent increase, hardly something to brag about.

He claims we will guarantee everyone the skills they need to hold the jobs of the future. Such a guarantee may sound nice but can only be a cruel hoax.

And on the subject of summer jobs for young people, Blanchard claims, "we will offer a full 100 percent Michigan State Tax Credit." However, since the federal government credit will be 85 percent already, it appears the credit really would be 15 percent, 100 minus 85, not 185 percent, 100 plus

The governor conveniently claims as part of his program all the road and housing jobs which come from the new dollars flowing into the road fund from the gas tax increase of last year and new sales of Housing Authority

A few carrots are held out to see how hungry business is. Be good boys and girls and be nice to your governor and he may feed you.

"We will consider," he says, "a proposal for a human capital investment credit" for on the job training. And he says, "I will consider two additional measures" in the form of long pending credits for research and of removing the tax on a tax inclusion of workers in the single business tax base.

He promises the state wants to be a "partner with business." Isn't that comforting?

He fails to mention the bio tech, genetic engineering area at all. Could it be that some of his supporters oppose genetic engineer-

Our governor is so encouraging, he offers "the prospect of hope." guess that means there is a good hope that there may be hope someday. Hooray.

Lastly, you will be overjoyed to know that our governor has promised "a government committed to solving your problems.'

Just what you wanted to hear, I

Somehow I would have felt better, though, if he had said government would let business solve its own problems and government would get the heck out of the way.

School proposal leaves questions

To the Editor:

My husband and I were educated in the Grosse Pointe Public schools and because of its excellence chose to locate in Grosse Pointe and offer our own children an equally fine education.

We believe the quality is now threatened by the proposed school consolidation plan. We have many questions that we feel must be answered and with the June 13 deadline, we know that time will not allow us to have the answers we need.

We urge the school board to carefully study the Kerby School position statement and to vote "no" against the reorganization plan.

Why don't we preserve our local heritage?

To the Editor:

James Hartzell's letter in the May 12 issue of the Grosse Pointe News put into words the concern I feel over the demolition of the memorable old homes in Grosse Pointe. With the loss of each home (Rose Terrace, Henry Ford's, etc.), we lose a part of the architectural and cultural heritage which makes our community unique.

Why have other cities, especially in the east and south, gone to such great lengths to preserve their heritage, while in Detroit we more often tear down and build new? Newer is not necessarily better.

According to a recent article in Historic Preservation, some large estates have been kept intact by dividing the mansion itself into condominiums and adding other units in a complementary architecture. They are economically feasible alternatives to demolition.

My hope is that future developers consider not only the economics of their projects, but their impact on our community as a whole.

SAC council says thanks to parents

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the hundreds of parents who responded to our petition to publicly state a unified position on safe social activities for our young people. There were many more parents who wanted to have their names included in the ad which appeared in the Grosse Pointe News, but we received them too late to meet the newspaper deadline. The outpouring of support was very gratifying.

Our thanks, too, to the Grosse Pointe News for their assistance in our effort to publish the ad. We appreciated the editorial comments of the newspaper. They were timely and reinforced our reasons for

While circulating the petition, we found parents who chose not to sign it because they do serve alcohol to their own children and minor guests on occasion. They feel it is safer to have the young people consume alcohol in a supervised environment rather than have them drinking outside the home. While parents have the right to make decisions about serving alcohol to their own children, they ought to ask themselves the following questions before serving to minor guests:

• Have you asked the parents of your minor guests for their permission to serve alcohol to their child?

• If you consider beer the "safer" alcoholic beverage for young people, do you know that a 12 oz. can of beer, a five oz. glass of wine and a 11/2 oz. serving of hard liquor all contain the same amount of ethyl alcohol?

• Do you know how much alcohol the minor guests may have consumed during the hours prior to visiting your home? Are you aware that alcohól

Memorial Day will kick off Michigan's 1983 tourist season

Memorial Day weekend should help propel Michigan to a $1.5 billion summer tourism season and give the state's economy a 3 percent boost over last summer, according to the Automobile Club of

'Such tourism barometers as expected increased holiday travel, a bigger demand for AAA routings, greater interest in camping ane fishing and stable travel costs indicate we should have a very good summer season," said James Drury, Auto Club's Travel Operations manager.

Requests from Auto Club members for routings to Michigan destinations and the volume of out-of-state AAA members served at our 56 offices statewide are both up about 9 percent so far this year over 1982," said Drury.

The Michigan Department of Highways estimates motorists on state roads will log 700 million miles, up 3 percent over the 1982 Memorial Day weekend. The 78hour holiday officially begins at 6 p.m. Friday, May 27 and runs through midnight Monday, May 30. All four Michigan regional tourist bureaus report an upsurge in travel inquiries this year. The Upper Peninsula Travel and Recreational Association has received double its usual amount of summer tourism inquiries. Some 400,-000 additional pieces of literature, one-third above last year's level, have been distributed by the Southeast Travel and Tourist As-tourism activity is expected by the West Michigan Tourist Association. The East Michigan Travel Association expects plentiful gamefish in Lake Huron and inland waters to lure increased visitors to northeast lower Michigan this summer.

A 10 percent rise in summer

The Michigan Travel Bureau received a 20 percent increase in tourism inquiries during the first quarter of this year compared to 1982. Early requests for summer tourism information, which began in April, are equal to last year.

Requests for AAA's Michigan campground guide are up nearly 20 percent over last year. Private campground reservations for the Memorial Day holiday are at least equal to last year, with southern Lower Michigan areas expected to fill first.

Steady gasoline prices should help encourage Michigan travel this summer, Drury said. Despite the 5-cent-a-gallon federal tax increase on April 1, the average monthly cost of self-serve no-lead rose only 1.7 cents from April 1982 to April 1983 and is down 20.6 cents from the same period in Michiganians also should find travel costs beginning to stabilize. The current travel cost per night is estimated at only $2.50, or 4 percent, about the $63.50 per night cost for Michigan travel in 1982. Travel costs in the state increased by 12 percent in 1981 and by 20 percent in 1980 as reported through the Travel Price Index.

Drunk driving laws should increase arrests suspend a driver's license have had the greatest success in cracking down on drunk drivers. That provision, which was pioneered in Minnesota, gives police the au-laws should increase arrests while reducing alcohol-related deaths, if other states' experiences hold true, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Seven states surveyed by the Auto Club increased drunk-driving arrests and had fewer alcoholrelated fatalities within the first year of implementing new laws.

Michigan's new statutes took effect March 30. A "per se" law makes it illegal to drive with a blood-alcohol concentration (BAC) of .10 percent or more. The use of preliminary roadside breath tests are allowed and harsher driver's license sanctions are provided for drunk driving convictions or refusing to take breathalyzer tests.

The Auto Club survey found increases in arrests ranged from 1 percent in California to 45 percent in Maryland. California law provides mandatory minimum jail terms while Maryland raised its drinking age from 18 to 21 and allows roadblocks known as "sobri-ety checkpoints."

"The most encouraging news is the first-year reductions in alcohol-related traffic deaths," said Robert Cullen, Auto Club's safety and traffic engineering manager. "They ranged from 11 percent in California to 24 percent in Maine."

The long-term safety picture appears even better. Oregon, which began its drunk driving crackdown in 1971, had a fatality rate drop of 35 percent in the 1970s despite a 62 percent increase in the number of registered vehicles. The Auto Club said those states thority to automatically and immediately suspend the driver's license of a drunk driver. The automatic license suspension is one of several legislative recommendations contained in the Auto Club's 1982 study, "Under the Influence."

"That sanction is an important step in controlling what the study shows as the real villain of drunk driving - the repeat offender,' Cullen said. "It also helps speed up the enforcement process which takes hours to complete.

"While we are confident that Michigan's new laws will increase drunk driving arrests, there is room for improvement," he ad-ded. "Our report showed that only 21 percent of 1,273 drunk driving cases we studied resulted in convictions on the original charge."

The Auto Club said preliminary

Michigan's new drunk driving with administrative authority to figures from Tennessee and Maine show impressive conviction rates on original drunk driving charges of 85 and 87 percent, respectively.

Other legislative recommenda-tions made in "Under the Influence" include a requirement that drunk driving charges not be reduced to less than driving while impaired; using BAC levels to determine the type of penalty (some states require mandatory jail for drivers with BACs above .20); allowing preliminary breath test results to be used as legal proof of BAC; and requiring alcohol highway safety classes to be taught by certified alcohol coun-

AAA calls food drive a success

The Automobile Club of Michigan last week reported its recent food drive fed an estimated 13,000

"We sincerely thank everyone who donated so generously to 'Operation: Food Basket' to help feed Michigan's hungry in response to the state's human emergency. said Michael Wild, Automobile Club's public relations director.

More than 72 tons of food has been collected during the fourmonth statewide program.

AAA members, employes and other citizens began donating canned goods and non-perishable boxed food Dec. 27 at the Auto Club's 60 offices and claim centers statewide.

The Service Station Dealers Association of Michigan also established 300 collection sites at member locations. Auto Club efforts also were bolstered in many communities by businesses and civic groups.

The Auto Club's Ypsilanti office trust coordinated more than 47 drop-off points while AAA safety patrollers conducted drives in more than 100 Michigan schools.

"Donors throughout the state showed that they genuinely cared about the less fortunate in their communities and we are proud to have been part of this sharing," Wild said.

Although the statewide drive ended April 15, food collection by local Auto Club offices is continuing where need and community. interest remain high.

The new credit applies toward the first $3,000 in earnings per qualified employe, Taylor said. Consequently, depending on the employer's tax bracket and assuming the employer is paying the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour, the credit could mean some employers would actually be paying as little as 50 cents an hour for qualified youth.

To qualify for the tax credit, employers must hire youth who

Local city budgets

In the revenue column, the City expects to collect $1.9 million in property taxes, representing 71 percent of the City's revenues. Kressbach said state shared revenues continue to "reflect the distressed Michigan economy" with an anticipated allocation of $285,750 to come into the city cof-

Some city councils adopted budgets for the coming fiscal year this week. Here is a rundown of council action.

The Farms

The Farms City Council unanimously adopted the 1983-84 budget at its regular meeting Monday evening, May 16. City residents will see their taxes maintained at the same level for the upcoming year as for the past two years, according to city officials.

Proposed expenditures for the Farms budget are projected at $5,417,725, a 2.8 percent increase over last year.

Because the city saw a decrease in the state equalized valuation of property (the first in the last 20 years), the millage rate in the Farms will be raised from $12.71 per thousand to $13.41 in order to raise the same amount in property taxes.

The Park

The Grosse Pointe Park city council Monday adopted the 1983-84 budget which calls for a $4.5 million spending plan. The budget includes a tax cut which combines with an average 3.5 percent decline in property assessments to save typical Park homeowners about $25 on their bills to the city.

The council adopted the budget with the provision that $50,000 within the plan to be reallocated to the highway fund to begin funding much-needed repairs on Park city streets.

Mayor Douglas Graham had earlier told the city administration that at least a modest amount of money had to have been found for street repairs before he would vote to approve the budget.

City administrators Monday also asked the council to further seek funding for $2 million in repairs through the governor's transportation bonding program. Graham agreed with the proposal and said he would appoint a citizen committee, which would include City-Comptroller Nunzio Ortisi and at least one councilmember, to determine the best way to proceed before the June 6 deadline for applying for funds.

ment of Transportation authority to sell $60 million in bonds to help cities resurface roads. City Manager John Crawford said the Park may apply for $2 million under the program.

Gov. Blanchard's emergency

The tax rate to finance the 1983-84 budget is 16.17 mills, compared to 16.80 mills this year.

The Shores

Shores trustees will hold a public hearing on the village's 1983-84 budget Tuesday, May 24, at 8:30 a.m. The Village is projecting a 4 percent increase in property taxes to fund the village operations.

The village has proposed spending $2.425 million balanced by revenues in its coming fiscal year, an increase in spending of about 9 percent over the year before. While the trustees approved the budget tentatively last March, the public hearing will set the tax rate for the coming year.

Last year, the village levied 12.43 mills for operating purposes, or $12.43 per $1,000 assessed valuation. After the reassessment and a lowering in the state equalized value for property in the village, state law allows that base rate to be increased to 12.50 mills. That millage would produce the same amount of taxes as the previous

In addition, the village is asking for an additional .5 mills for operating purposes, bringing the proposed rate for operating the village to 13.001 mills. That rate does not include debt service millage assessments for the $1.3 million renovation bond issue approved by voters last year.

The Woods

The Woods City Council approved its 1983-84 general fund budget Monday night, May 16. The council approved a tax rate that should give homeowners in the city a $1.33 decrease on their tax

The $5 million general fund budget for the coming fiscal year includes expenditures for the city's four major departments along with debt service. The city's capital improvement program of more than $1.7 million will be financed with state shared revenue as well as other special funds.

The Woods decided to limit its dependency on timely receipt of state shared revenue by placing the funds in the capital improvement fund, Woods City Administrator Chester Petersen said. If those funds are held up by the state as they have in the past, the general operations of the city won't suffer, he added.

Body found in Shores

The body of a 20-year-old St. Clair Shores man reported missing last January was washed up on a Lake St. Clair beach Thursday morning, May 5, about a half mile north of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club in Grosse Pointe Shores.

The body of Bradford C. Wedd, of Colonial Court in St. Clair Shores, was found about 10:40 that morning by a Lakeshore Road resident. According to Shores police reports, the body was clothed in a red, white and blue bathing suit and thermal underwear. The body appeared to have been in the water for some time, reports said.

St. Clair Shores police said Webb was reported missing Tuesday, Jan. 11. His family reported to police he had not been seen since about 5 a.m. the day before. He left the house after getting distraught over a family squabble, detectives said.

The Wayne County Medical Examiners office reported the cause of death as drowning. There was no outward signs of foul play, Shores reports said.

Lucas gives CRC overview of county

By Mike Andrzejczyk

County Executive William Lucas made his first post-election visit to the Pointes count Thursday night, May 12, when he spoke at University Liggett School. Lucas' appearance was sponsored by the Concerned Republican Commit-

Speaking to about 50 people, Lucas outlined his progress in office as well as discussing his fiscal integrity plan for the county. He also answered general questions about county operations.

"People seldom change governments," Lucas told the group," but in our case, the county got so bad that you, the voters, voted overwhelmingly in favor of change." With commission passage of his reorganization plan, Lucas said the first pillar was in place for county reform. The plan clearly designated the changes that would be made and where the responsibilities for making those changes would lie, he added.

One of his responsibilities was the development of a fiscal integrity plan, Lucas said. The 10-point plan would cut expenditures and raise taxes to wipe out the county's debt, which Lucas said was $331 million.

The media has only focused on the request for a tax increase, Lucas said, while giving little no-tice to the rest of the plan, which he said would cut $50 million from the county's budget.

"For your benefit, so you know you didn't elect an idiot, I'd like to discuss that plan," Lucas said. "If there was ever a bad time to even mention tax increases, it is now."

Because the charter called for preparation of a fiscal plan, the tax proposal had to be broached, he said. The fiscal integrity plan notwithstanding, the millage in-crease request would not have save $14 million is the halving of been made until next February, he added.

The one-mill increase would raise $18 million dollars annually, or about $30 on the average county home. He conceded the homes in Grosse Pointe were at higher assessments than the average county home and would cost the Pointes more.

The millage would go to debt reduction only, Lucas said."
Meanwhile, the other nine points of the fiscal plan would help reduce the county's expense yearly.

Sycamores to line Jefferson

The entrance to Grosse Pointe on Jefferson Avenue will be landscaped with 40 big new Sycamore trees in the coming days, thanks to efforts by Park Beautification Commission members Dottle Miller and Jerome Abbs.

The two approached the city council last month asking it to purchase the two to three inch balled and burlapped Sycamores. The council agreed to finance the $2,500 purchase from the city's contingency fund. Commission members said they made arrangements to have the Wayne County Road Commission plant the trees. But after the 40 Sycamores were delivered last week, they were informed the county had no time to help in the project.

City Manager John Crawford agreed to have city workers plant the trees within the next two weeks. Both sides of the street will be planted, beginning at the city limits and extending as far as the trees will go.

The county will no longer have also because the county will not be a second to the county budgeted to th county will no longer pay exorbitant average per patient day costs for patients under the program, he said. The limit for such payments would be set at $300, instead of the current $800 the coun-

The county will not close the hospital, Lucas said. If it can't be run at no cost to the county, it may be turned over to a private firm on a leasing basis with guarantees for the care of indigents. he added.

Other savings include the elimination of the county's air pollution control board, which Lucas said will be picked up by the state, saving the county $800,000.

The county also expects to tighten its wage contracts and reorganize departments to increase efficiency, Lucas said. Reorganization has brought him face to face with the former power base in the county that is so entrenched it feels itself unassailable under the charter, he said.

"I'm determined to make this charter work," Lucas said. "My staff and I take a perverse pleasure in saying that for once the voters will get exactly what they voted for. If you want change, you're entitled to it."

During the question and answer session that followed, Lucas was taken to task by one member of the audience for asking wage concessions from county employes while accepting a large salary and chauffeur himself.

"How can you ask workers to give up money when you go from $45,000 to $72,000 and get a car and a chauffeur?" he was asked.

The change in responsibility was the reason for the increased salary, Lucas said, adding the chauffeur and county car were "accouterments of the office."

The labor contract, negotiated and approved by the AFSCME local leadership was turned down overwhelmingly by the rank and

The county is renegotiating the contract, without adding any money to the package, Lucas said. The county also is investigating the possibility of starting a health maintenance program for employes, he added.

Asked what he thought the economy would be like in the next couple of years, Lucas said he looked for a recovery.

"I see people coming back to Michigan. I see a stable economy with a rebound in both the auto and service industries in the state." Lucas said. "In general, I see things getting better.'

WANTED: At least 1,000 volunteers for the largest research and conservation project ever attempted for breeding birds in Michigan — The Breeding Bird Atlas.

Do you enjoy a walk through the woods and fields on a spring morning with the sunlight filtering around you and the birds singing? Are you a businessman, homemaker, factory worker, administrator, secretary, student, truck driver or retiree who wants to escape the tedium of the everyday world? Would you like to help col-lect information needed to plan for better management of our environment? Do you know the birds around you, or do you want to learn them?

If so, your help is needed for the Michigan Breeding Bird Atlas project.

For the next five years, data and observations on the birds nesting in Michigan will be collected from people in designated quarter townships of every county in Michigan. Each quarter township is three miles (4.83 km.) on a side or nine equator. side or nine square miles in area.

Sponsors of the Breeding Bird Atlas are the Michigan Audubon Society, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (Wildlife Division), the Kalamazoo Nature Center (which will manage the project), the Detroit Audubon Society, and many local nature clubs. Knowledge is needed as to what species nest here in Michigan before it is too late and many of these species are gone or have drastically declined in number. Special attention will be given to species on the Michigan Bird Watch List as well as already threatened and endangered species. For dozens of other species, the Atlas will provide the first comprehensive analysis of their distribution statewide. The data are being collected by hundreds of volunteers throughout Michigan. These participants range from individuals with the skills and time to survey entire quarter townships to individuals reporting casual observations from their own backyards.

It is easy to participate. Each volunteer will receive a set of instructions and report forms. These forms describe which observations indicate evidence of breeding and how to classify the observed activities into three

Build float for July 4 Parade

The Grosse Pointe Park Civic Association's Fourth of July parade has always been an old-fashioned combination of music, clowns, kids on bikes and - of course - floats. This year the Civic Association hopes more residents will join neighbors on their block to build a float for the Fourth of July parade.

In order to provide help and en-couragement to those afraid that a float might be too difficult, too expensive, or too time consuming, the Association is sponsoring, "How To Build a Float Night," Wednesday, May 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the Recreation Building at Windmill Pointe Park.

Dennis Sibthorpe, Civic Events Director for Hudson's and Director of the Michigan Thanksgiving Parade, will help unravel the mysteries of float construction. Charles King will give practical advice on how small groups of neighbors with limited manpower and resources can take an idea and translate it into a first-rate entry.

Cottage offers summer speech therapy session

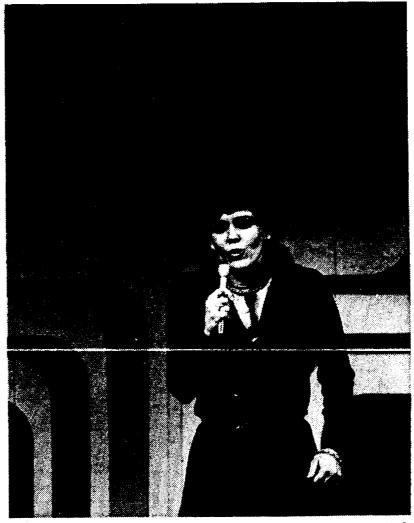

Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe, will hold a summer speech and language program for area children, beginning June 20 through July 27. The summer program supplements individual speech therapy sessions which are offered throughout the year at the hospital.

The program is a six-week session of group and individual work with youngsters ages 3 to 15, who are being treated for speech, language, or hearing problems.

It is designed for children with mental handicaps, cerebral palsy, stuttering, cleft palate, delayed speech and language, hearing impairment, vocal abuse and diffi-culty with perception. Children who have problems spelling, reading and writing because of learning disabilities are also given special attention.

The speech therapy program can help some youngsters maintain and continue progress begun in school speech therapy programs. It can also help many parents identify and obtain guidance in the early diagnosis and treatment of speech and learning problems, the hospital said.

Just maybe members of the Detroit Symphony League will find time to smell the flowers and think lovely, lazy, spring thoughts this year . . . but it doesn't seem likely. For the Symphony League, spring is shaping up as the busiest season of 1982-83.

Read it, and discover how to make Mort Crim's "Crim de la Custard" (sorry about that; it was Mort's idea, not mine), Mischa Raschlevsky's borscht, Jean Pierre Rampal's stuffed, baked mussels (eat your heart out, Cadieux Cafe). Order it by sending $12, plus $1.50 shipping and handling charge, to Culinary Counterpoint c/o Detroit Symphony League, 20 Auditorium Drive, Detroit, Mich. 48226.

If you prefer to peruse before you pick up permanently, you'll find copies of Culinary Counterpoint at the DSO's Music Box Boutique and its "branch store" at the $1.5 million, 25-room Detroit Symphony ASID Showhouse which opens next Tuesday, May 24, and may be toured daily (except Mondays) through June 22.

The Showhouse is located at 1711 Morningside Way in Wabeek North, Bloomfield Township. Wabeek, the former James Couzens estate, is an Indian word meaning "the best place" - and that certainly applies to the second Symphony ASID Showhouse, brand new and 10,000 feet square, built by the Malcolm Leventen Corporation and decorated by 26 members of the Michigan Chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers with some $1 million in furnishings.

Among the home's many outstanding features are an island plantation solarium and a three-story foyer with a curved, oak staircase. The grounds plan was designed by landscape architecture students at Lawrence Institute of Technology. There'll be a Greenery and Tea Room in addition to the Music Box Boutique, and pottery and other handcrafted items by Michigan artisans will be for sale during the month-long tours.

Showhouse hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, noon to 6 p.m. Sunday. Evening hours are 6 to 9 p.m. Thursday. Admission is $4 through this Monday, May 23, $5 at the door, $3.50 per person for groups of 20 or more. Tickets are available at Hudson's and other CTC outlets or by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Detroit Symphony ASID Showhouse, P.O. Box 36262, Grosse Pointe, Mich. 48236. If you're ordering by mail, include your check, or course.

It's Had A Week to Rest

All you fine wine mavens who know that a good vintage needs time to settle down after travel, be advised that the case of 1964 Chateau Haut Brion flown in from London by Tim McCarthy, proprietor of Eastern Market's Cost Plus Wines, for tomorrow evening's Rare Wine Tasting at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial has had a week to rest.

The reason the '64 vintage had to be flown in is that it's VERY scarce — and all you fine wine connoisseurs who, up on your vintage years, sniff, "Who cares? I mean: it's ONLY a '64, after all," be advised that although '64 was not, in general, one of the greatest years for wine, the weather at the Haut Brion vineyards in Bordeaux was excellent, the result a superb vintage.

So how come it wasn't so hot for other Bordeaux vineyards? Well . . . you know Bordeaux; there can be rain in one valley while there's sunshine in the next.

Although I'd love to take credit for this definitely classy vintage information, I'd never get away with it. Too many people know the kind of wine I like is "white." But you can trust my source; I'll even reveal him to you. The inside story on the '64 Haut Brion came straight from the horse's mouth, aka Alex Suczek, who, as partowner of a Bordeaux vineyard, ought to know what's going on in the fields of France.

Alex is directing the May 20 Wine Tasting. His mother, culinary expert Charity deVicq Suczek, will be on hand to share her knowledge of the rare wines and cheeses, the latter to be supplied by Andrew Moquin, owner of the Merry Mouse, at room temperature, of Admission to the Wine Tasting is by reservation, at $35 per person.

Off to The Eisteddfod in July

The Wayne State University Chamber Singers will be crossing the Atlantic in July, to represent the United States at the International Musical Eisteddfod in Wales, but those of us who live in The Pointe only have to cross a street or two to hear them this Sunday.

They'll be appearing at 4 p.m. in a special pre-tour concert, sponsored by the Women of Wayne Alumni Association, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Tickets at $5 single admission, $25 (covering two admissions) patron, including a post-performance meet-the-artists reception with complimentary refreshments, may be obtained by calling 577-2301

Proceeds from the May 22 concert will help send the Singers across the sea.

So will proceeds from the Mu Phi Epsilon/Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia-sponsored dinner at the Hotel St. Regis honoring Renata Scotto and Ara Berberian next Wednesday, May 25, prior to the 8 p.m. Metropolitan Opera rmance of "Lucia Di Lammermoor" at Masonic Temple.

Fortunately, neither of the opera stars will be singing that evening (Mme. Scotto appears in "Macbeth" on Tuesday, Berberian in "Boris Godunov" on Thursday); how could they after a meal of cold cherry soup, chocolate-covered pears and piece de resistance "Rollatini di vilello a la Renata Scotto" in its premier appearance?

St. Regis Chef Jan Emous created this veal dish prepared in the Italian style - but minus garlic and onions, since Mme. Scotto is allergic to those seasonings.

The Wayne State University professional music fraternities will honor both artists at the dinner. Mu Phi Epsilon will present its Lyre Award to Mme. Scotto. Berberian will receive the Orpheus Award from Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia.

And there will be music. As a "thank you for helping us get to Wales," the WSU Chamber Singers will serenade guests as part of the evening's entertainment.

It has become traditional for the Grand Marais Chapter of Questers to close its year with a "mystery trip," and this year was no exception. The program, arranged by Mrs. John MacKay, took 21 members on a tour of Franklin Village's historic houses and shops last Friday, May 13.

"Antiquing" was followed by luncheon at Peabody's in Birmingham. The delightful day ended with a visit to the George Booth Home on the grounds of Cran-

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, lowcholesterol - and penny-wise cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featur-ing, this week, WONDERFUL WAYS with LEEKS.

Leeks were cultivated in Prehistoric times in North Africa and the Mediterranean area; today, they are much sought-after for seasoning in all sorts of gourmet creations. Leeks are prominently used in the Eastern Hemisphere (France in particular considers the leek an essential vegetable in every kitchen), and are fast becoming popular in the United States now that they are commercially grown here and more easily obtainable in our markets.

The leek, a member of the Lily Family, contains calcium, potassium, magnesium, B-complex vitamins and minerals. Suggested seasonings include basil, curry, ginger, caraway seed, thyme and

If North High athletic director Tom Gauerke had gotten his way, there wouldn't have been girls' soccer at the varsity level this season. And Gauerke wouldn't have had a successful girls' varsity soccer team to boast about.

Local soccer boosters are fond of saying that the reason Gauerke and South High athletic director Chuck Hollosy voiced their objections to adding girls' soccer this season was that they just didn't want to bother with the expense and trouble of adding another varsity sport.

That, as they say in Leningrad, is bolshoi.

Gauerke admits he didn't want to add the girls' soccer program to the high school athletic schedule this year . . . but for some very different reasons.

"The biggest problem was that we didn't have an east side league to play in. We asked that the girls' varsity soccer program be held up for one year because we anticipated that more east side schools would be adding soccer and that's exactly what's happening," Gauerke said re-

In the meantime, the Pointe's hungry-for-soccer faction didn't want to wait - and they didn't have to, as it turned out. Soccer was added to the girls' varsity program for the 1983 season. But when it came time for the girls at North and South to don their soccer cleats, they learned they'd also have to put on their long distance running shoes.

Because the east side soccer league, as expected, did not materialize this year, North and South joined the Expressway Soccer League and ended up playing teams as near as University Liggett School, Regina and Bishop Gallagher and as far away as Garden City, Livonia, Ladywood, Dearborn Fordson and Madison Heights Bishop Borgess.

Aptly named, that Expressway Soccer League.

Soccer is alive and kicking . . .

Despite the rigors of what occasionally has amounted to two-hour round trips to matches, the fledgling Pointe varsity soccer squads have exceeded even the most optimistic of expectations.

Coach Guido Regelbrugge's North team was undefeated until it lost a 1-0 heartbreaker to Regina on May 10. To Regelbrugge, who doesn't believe in losing, the setback was just as much a victory as the six wins North had earned previously.

"The girls had been so used to losing (in community soccer play) that the thought of winning was inconceivable to them," Regelbrugge said. "I told them: 'I have never lost a game. It's all in your mind. If you go out there and think you're going to lose, you will.""

"Their whole mentality changed after we won one, then two, then a third game," Regelbrugge said. "Now, the girls said: 'we can't lose.' After the loss of Regina, I first told the girls to give me a big smile. Then I let them know that we'd just had a small setback, that next time, we'd go out and get 'em."

Regelbrugge, whose boys' teams have been known to go out and get a championship or two, says that this inaugural girls' soccer season has turned out better than anyone could have believed.

"To me, it's been absolutely delightful . . . from a soccer point of view and from an educational point of view. I've found that girls are every bit as competitive, as eager to win and as willing to improve as boys. That's what has been the delightful part of it."

Even the expressway trips haven't dampened the enthusiasm of Regelbrugge and his charges.

"The girls just love it. After the games, we stop for a hamburger or a pizza and the girls sing and laugh all the way home. It's been fun."

If South's girls haven't had as much fun as their North counterparts, it isn't because of a lack of effort ... or numbers. A total of 72 girls turned out for coach John Case's team, and the 21 who made the cut have managed to turn in a respectable .500 record in their first season.

Case himself has a 30-year background as a player in the United States and Europe, including his native Great Britain. But even his extensive soccer background couldn't help him overcome South's major stumbling block this season: the weather.

'Actually, things have gone very well . . . as well as you could expect considering the terrible spring weather," South athletic director Hollosy said.

The major problem was, and is, not having local opposition. At the junior varsity level, we have to play in the Warren Youth League because there aren't any local JV teams," he added.

But despite the travel, the poor weather and the general inexperience of the participants, both North and South seems to be coming out of his first season in fine shape -North may even have a shot at a regional title.

And that's certainly nothing to kick about.

Board to decide

Varsity hockey

By Peggy O'Connor

The long-hoped-for interscholastic ice hockey program may become a reality this fall, if the central administration and the Board of Education approve the installation of a varsity hockey program in the two Pointe high

Approximately $50,000 has been allocated in the proposed 1983-84 school budget to cover costs of starting an interscholastic ice hockey program at North and South.

There has never been a varsity-level hockey program in the Grosse Pointe public schools. Last year, the school administration directed high school athletic administrators to develop an in district, intramural ice hockey program. The resulting program began last November and ran through this March, and was highly successful, according to school officials.

If the program is approved, North and South will play an independent schedule, rather than be part of a league, at least for the first season.

"If it is approved, we won't be in a league. That's not un-common and it won't pose a problem, in terms of state playoffs," North High athletic director Tom Gauerke said last week. "We'd play an independent schedule for the first year. and apply again for a position in a league for the second

NORTH, SOUTH AND three other schools were not accepted into the Michigan Suburban Ice Hockey League for the 1983-84 season. But league officials promised to keep spots open on the schedule for North and South, as did a number of league teams, Gauerke added.

Both Gauerke and South High athletic director Chuck Hollosy have voiced objections to the creation of a varsity-level ice hockey program.

"My major concern is the fact that neither the community nor the school system owns a hockey rink. The rink our teams would be using is out of the community and that concerns me in terms of a control factor," Gauerke said.

"We don't have a rink in our community," Hollosy concurred. "And there's been a history of poor conduct associated with the sport — but controlling that is our problem.'

(Both Gauerke and Hollosy reported that last season's intramural program was extremely successful in terms of student interest, participation and conduct.)

Gauerke added that the central administration and the board will look at each of the objections to the programs posed by the athletic administrators in making their final decision.

If the decision is in favor of adding ice hockey to the interscholastic sports program, the athletic administrators will begin development of the program immediately, Gauerke

"The very next day, in fact. If we're going to do it, then we're going to do it right." Gauerke said that tentative contacts have already been made with potential coaches.

'We're waiting for the budgetary process to be completed," Gauerke said.

A public hearing on the budget is planned for Monday, June 6. The Board of Education is expected to adopt the 1983-84 budget at its June 20 meeting.

Assists went to Kevin Watson (two), Jon Bell, Stefan Teitge and Jeff Jensen. Jason Hall, playing his first game in goal, posted the shutout.

On May 11, the Blues faced a bigger and stronger Fraser Panther team. The Pointe squad used speed, defense and accurate passing to take a 3-2 victory. Frederickson scored twice and Watson added the winning goal. Warezak, Kuna. Brian Crane and Scott Berger collected assists.

Also making offensive contributions were speedy skaters Emiliano Lorenzini, David Auld, Andrew Van Deweghe and Dustin Kolodge, Goaltender Hall stopped several scoring opportunities to preserve the victory.
