

Recall drive enters last days

By Mike Andrzejczyk

As the campaign to remove Gov. James Blanchard from office headed into its final two weeks, recall committee chairman John Lauve said the group had obtained about 420,000 signatures.

The totals were boosted by the publication of the petition form in the Sunday, June 26, edition of the Detroit News at a cost of $22,000. Lauve, in a press release, credited the publishing of the advertisement for bringing in 118,000 signatures in four days.

Initially, the legality of the published petitions was questioned. State Election Division officials said last week that the form was at least proper, since it was simply a photostatic copy of the petition itself.

If the petition form's reverse side is filled out properly by the circulator, they are legal, officials said.

Lauve said his goal is to collect a million signatures by tomorrow at the Recall Blanchard headquarters. Volunteers will microfilm the petitions for presentation to the Secretary of State Elections Division Thursday, July 28, according to a press release from the McMaster public relations firm of Troy.

Lauve said his committee has spent almost $40,000 on its three-month effort to gain enough signatures to force a recall election. According to petition language, the recall of Blanchard is being sought because "he originated and then signed into the law 38 percent state income tax increase."

"The only thing Blanchard and the Legislature have accomplished is record taxes and record spending, and a fake jobs program, which is really a joke," Lauve said. "There have been no reforms made to the causes of the problems in Michigan's economy."

Lauve has repeatedly said he expects the governor to be recalled before he finishes his first year in office. When asked who he would like to see run for governor should his attempt to recall Blanchard be successful, Lauve said, "Anybody who has the determination to fight those politicians. Any of the names on the petitions could do a better job."

After the petitions are filed with the Secretary of State, the department then has 35 days to certify that 760,002 valid signatures of registered voters were filed. If there are enough, then the state must hold a recall election within 60 days.

If the majority votes for the recall, the office of governor would then be declared vacant. Lt. Gov. Martha Griffiths would fill in until another election for governor is held in 60 days. Candidates for the office would be selected by the state party committees.

Lauve, 42, from the Woods, is an engineer with General Motors Corp. He has been an unsuccessful candidate six times for five different offices. Lauve first ran in 1970 for Wayne County commissioner. In 1974, he lost a special election to the state Senate, and the primary election for the state Senate in another district.

In 1981, he lost in a special primary to fill the seat vacated by David Stockman, who had been appointed by President Ronald Reagan to head the Office of Management and Budget. He later lost an attempted write-in campaign for the same seat.

Last year, Lauve faced State Sen. John Kelly in the race for the state Senate's 1st District seat. Although Lauve took Grosse Pointe by a 3-2 margin, he lost the race to Kelly.

Regatta weekend coming up

Cities keep close watch on cable talks

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Cox Cable Shores, St. Clair Shores and Fraser could find themselves watching another cable franchise's programming. That could happen if Cox is unable to get waiver from federal regulations and is forced to sell its local franchise.

Cox's parent company has reached verbal agreement with the board of directors of Detroit's channel 50 for a purchase by Cox. While the boards of directors for the cable company and the independent broadcasting company have reached verbal agreement for the sale, no details have been worked out, Cox corporate public relations director David Andersen said.

Under a Federal Communication Commission regulation first put into effect in 1975, the cable company would have to sell its three-city local franchise should it purchase channel 50, Cox local spokesman Mike Zimmer said.

The FCC cross media ownership rule says a company cannot directly or indirectly own more than one form of mass media in a given area. The regulations covering radio, television and newspapers, took full effect in 1980 and forced some publishing companies to sell off electronic media interests or lose the stations' broadcasting licenses.

It could be as long as a year before the cities know whether Cox was given the waiver, Shores village attorney William Killebrew said. If the company were to fail to get its waiver, it would then probably begin looking for prospective buyers for the franchise, Killebrew added.

The three communities remain very interested in the process, he said. Under the franchise agreement, the three communities would have to give written consent for the sale of the system, giving them some input into what type of service is required, Killebrew added.

Although the cities have to give their consent for the sale, if the purchase were made by what Killebrew called a reputable company, there would be no reason to withhold approval, he said.

The three cities are bound together under the franchise agreement, according to village superintendent Michael Kenyon. One of the three cities could not reach an agreement with a company without the other two, he added.

Also blocking one city from pulling out of the franchise would be the difficulty in the new company tapping into the existing system, Killebrew said. The cities will "definitely have a say in the sale of the franchise" should Cox lose its bid for an FCC waiver, Kenyon said.

Cox Andersen said the company had not yet filed the request for waiver, but plans on doing so. The request would have to come from the company's corporate headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., Zimmer said.

The company has considered the possibility of losing its bid for the waiver of the cross-ownership rule, Andersen said. He said he could not comment on whether the company was looking for buyers at this time.

Some initial inquiries about the sale of the franchise were made to the village, but offers would have to go to the company, Killebrew said.

Quit smoking at Cottage clinic

Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe will host a five day, stop smoking clinic conducted by the American Health Foundation, a non-profit medical organization devoted to health promotion and disease prevention. Free, introductory meetings of the "Stop Smoking System" will be held from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Monday, July 25, in Boardroom B and on Thursday, July 28, in Boardrooms A and B at Cottage, 159 Kercheval Avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms.

The "Stop Smoking System" has been cited in the 1982 Surgeon General's Report on Smoking and Health. Documented research has shown that this program has a success rate three times that of most stop smoking programs.

Those persons who wish to enroll in the program, following the free introduction, will enter into four 1½ hour treatment sessions. The cost for the program is $125 per person.

The "Stop Smoking System" utilizes a systematic series of copyrighted procedures that effectively neutralize one's desire for tobacco. It is a total lifestyle approach to smoking cessation that consists of behavior modification, stress management, cognitive coping skills, and eating management.

For more information on the quit smoking clinic, attend one of the free, introductory sessions on July 25 or 28, or call the Cottage Hospital Education department at 884-8600, extension 2390.

HUDSON'S

Tiger great, Wertz, is mourned

baseball to business so much better than most."

Wertz was a fund raiser for the Boys and Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit. Also for the last three years, he had sponsored a benefit golf outing that raised almost $50,000 for the scouts.

"I don't know a man who was better loved," Beltaire, a Park resident and one of Wertz' many friends said. "Vic was a guy who did everything with such enthusiasm."

Last winter, he sponsored the second snowmobile run from Mt. Clemens to the Mackinac Bridge, which raised more than $30,000 for the Michigan Special Olympics for the handicapped.

Wertz and his wife Lucille were active in several programs with the Detroit Institute of Arts. He was past commodore of the Old Club of Harsens Island where he had a summer home.

In his baseball career which spanned three decades, Wertz played with the Tigers, St. Louis Browns, Baltimore Orioles, Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox and Minnesota Twins. Lifetime, Wertz hit .277, with 266 home runs and 1,178 runs batted in to his credit.

Born in February, 1925 in York, Pa., Wertz broke into baseball in the Piedmont League, playing for Winston-Salem. He joined the Tiger farm system the next year after turning down a contract bonus with another team to play with his boyhood favorite.

Called up in 1947, it took Wertz but two years to become the regularly playing outfielder. His best seasons came in 1948 and '50, when he hit over .300 while hitting over 20 home runs and driving in more than 120 runs both years.

In 1952, Wertz left Detroit and finished the season with St. Louis. In 1954, he played little more than a quarter of the season with Baltimore before going on to Cleveland, while the Indians were leading for their pennant. It was in the World Series that year that Wertz helped make a young New York Giants outfielder by the name of Willie Mays famous.

Wertz pasted a 400-foot drive into deep center field in the Polo Grounds that year, and sent Mays running, his back to the infield, after the ball. Mays caught the ball in full stride to kill the Indians' come-back hopes. The film clip has become one of the most famous in baseball, most recently shown during last week's All Star game pre-game show.

Wertz is survived by his wife, Lucille; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Stratton; a son, Terry; one brother; two sisters; and two grandchildren.

Beltaire described Wertz as a "very simple man, a good tough businessman" who was eager to help when asked and was willing to do for others. Wertz was named Maronite "man of the year" last year after years of active service with the church.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Boys and Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, the Vic Wertz Snowmobile Special Olympics, care of Central Michigan University, 126, Rowe Hall, Mt. Pleasant, Mich. 48859.

Rocky road to Park primary at Bon Secours Hospital and an active Grosse Pointe Rotary Club member. He's seeking his third term on the city council. In the last race, in 1979, he was second highest vote getter, drawing 1,873 votes to win the election.

Dr. McNeill could not be reached for comment on the current campaign.

• John Prost, of Pemberton Road, is an insurance representative with Dominion Life seeking his second term on the city council. He was top vote-getter in the last election and has long been involved in local civic affairs as president of the PTO-PTA Council, founder of Grosse Pointe Jaycees and member of various commissions and committees.

Since he joined the council, he has served as Mayor Pro Tem, chairman of city Ordinance Review Committee, the city's representative to the Grosse Pointe Cable Advisory board and the advisory panel to the Wayne County Community Development Block Grant program, through which the Grosse Pointes receive the majority of their federal funding.

Prost agreed road repairs are a top priority for residents and said the city's two funding applications appear to "be our best bet at the moment" for making those repairs. Public safety is a concern in certain neighborhoods, he added. "There is a general concern over making sure we have adequate police protection, which I think we do. We have an excellent police department," he said.

• John "J.P." Ryan, of Lakepointe Road, is director of marketing for Michigan Condominium Association and a long-time resident of the Park. In the 1979 election Ryan survived the primary, but lost in the general election. He's learned some valuable lessons since then.

"I'm starting my campaign differently this year. Everyone knows me and knows what I'm about in the area that I lovingly call the 'cabbage patch,'" Ryan said. That area, precincts 3 and 5 on the city's west end, contain some 1,800 registered voters, according to Ryan. But there has only been one council member elected from that area in the last 50 years, he added.

Ryan wants to become the second councilman to represent the people in those neighborhoods who, he says, have some different concerns than residents of other areas of the city. "We're closer to each other there, things like keeping the alleys clean are important. Police response time is important too," Ryan said. "We all need better communication with the council."

But Ryan says he is not interested in dividing the city. "We all share common interests in our commercial areas and general city services. It's one town from Cadieux to Wayburn."

• Anthony Spada, of Kensington Road, is a former engineer and Macomb County Prosecutors office staff member and currently works as an attorney in private practice. He has been involved in school affairs through the Maire School PTO and is a U.S. Naval Academy admissions representative.

He is seeking his second term on the council and two years ago sought election as mayor but was defeated by current Mayor Douglas Graham.

Spada is ill and could not be reached for comment.

ENERGY PLUS⁺ Plant modernization. A key ingredient of Michigan's revitalization.

For the past 20 years, Detroit Edison has been involved in a massive program of modernization. Replacing old power plants dependent on diminishing gas and oil with new plants fueled by abundant, cost-efficient American-produced coal and uranium.

Today, this program is near completion. And that's good news. Good for businesses contemplating expansion. Good for attracting new businesses. Good for our state economy. Good for you.

Here's why.

- Abundant energy is a prime consideration for businesses interested in expanding or relocating to Southeastern Michigan. That means more jobs. More utilization of an already skilled and proven labor force.
- As more new businesses discover Michigan's plentiful advantages, such as our vast waterways, ideally located industrial parks, state-funded economic incentive programs, and, of course, lots of electricity, they will make our area's economy more vibrant. More stable. Plant modernization has helped to set the stage for economic recovery. And, even now, promising results are beginning to show.
- Naturally, the benefits of more new businesses and a strengthened state economy mean you enjoy a better standard of living. Plant modernization also means you enjoy a healthier standard of living through use of advanced technology to protect the environment.

Completion of our 20-year plant modernization program means the beginning of a new era for Southeastern Michigan. An era brimming with promise, opportunity and assurances of ample energy. Energy today, plus energy that will take all of us into the 21st century.

Soprano sings opera for summer festival

The Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival continues with "Andiamo," a lyrical program of opera and song by soprano Carla Connors and pianist Timothy Hoekman, Wednesday, July 20, at 8 p.m.

Ms. Connors' performances are distinguished by a sparkling stage presence. She has performed major roles in the Michigan Opera Theatre's touring production of Strauss's "Die Fledermaus" and the University of Michigan productions of Monteverdi's "Coronation of Poppea," Menotti's "The Consul" and Offenbach's "Orpheus in the Underworld."

Hoekman has presented solo and chamber piano recitals in the midwest and California, including the prestigious Dame Myra Hess Memorial Concert Series in Chicago.

Together these two young artists present concerts, workshops and school workshops. Their varied repertoire includes art songs, arias from opera and oratorio.

Class reunion set songs from operettas and musical comedy, and solo piano pieces. In their Australian summer tour of 1981, each concert brought bravos and encores.

In addition to maintaining an active concert performance schedule, both are currently involved in advanced graduate studies at the University of Michigan School of Music.

Tickets for the performance are $9 and may be purchased at the War Memorial or checks may be sent to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236. For additional information call 881-7511.

The Summer Music Festival opened July 6 with a performance by pianist Ralph Votapek that demonstrated "not only enormous versatility, but total mastery and assurance at the piano," according to the festival's artistic director, and founder, Alex Sucek. The concert included a Mozart sonata, immediately contrasted by romantic Six Piano Pieces by Brahms and a "syncopated second half" featuring Bulgarian dances by Bela Bartok and music by the moderns Gershwin and Earl Wild.

Votapek won an ardent standing ovation from the crowd and responded with two encores - "Partita" by Ravel and a Chopin Etude.

The festival's second concert on July 13 featured another pianist, William Doppmann, along with Paul O'efsky on cello and Gordon Staples on violin. The series continues on Wednesdays with pianist

Leszek Bartkiewicz on July 27 and an outdoor performance on the lakeside terrace by the James Dapogny Chicago Jazz Band and Sippie Wallace on Aug. 3.

Performing opera pieces for Summer Music Festival audiences next Wednesday, July 20, will be Carla Connors, accompanied by Timothy Hoekman on piano.

A bouquet for Brummel

The high rankings that Supt. Kenneth Brummel received from the Grosse Pointe Board of Education prior to its action to extend his contract through 1986 were well deserved, in this newspaper's opinion.

These have not been the best of times for the Grosse Pointe school system. Rising taxes, declining enrollment and the necessity to consider school reorganization and school closings have created issues of wide public concern. The quality of excellence that is so highly prized in the Pointe school system was even seen by some critics to be imperiled.

Contending with these issues and the diverse opinions in the community, Brummel has remained calm, cool and collected. After school meetings called to consider school reorganization and school closings, he responded well and in detail to questions, whether they were fundamental or frivolous. The written answers the school administration provided were informative, detailed and obviously effective. The school board election proved that with the election of two candidates who had supported the superintendent on most of his policies.

In his personal relationships, Brummel also has been effective. His series of "Brunch with Brummel" sessions and the other informal meetings in which he participated provided opportunities for excellent two-way communications between the superintendent and the community. He learned much about the people and the community from such sessions and Grosse Pointe residents learned much about the superintendent and his policies.

Brummel also accepted with good grace the board's postponement of its decision on school reorganization until later this year in order to give it and the community more time to study alternatives to his original plan to close four elementary schools and relocate their programs in nearby middle schools. Instead of sulking about that setback, he asked for more suggestions and sought recommendations for priorities from interested organizations and individuals.

THE CONTROVERSY over reorganization and school closings is not yet over, of course. The decisions, whatever they are, will not satisfy everyone. But the superintendent is doing his best to provide a solution to the problem created by declining enrollment and empty classrooms and to satisfy as many of the legitimate criticisms as possible. The forecast of an 8 percent increase in school taxes will be unsettling to some citizens although, if it materializes, it also will justify the proposed school reorganization and school closings.

More than any other public official, with the possible exception of Rep. William Bryant, Jr., Brummel represents all of the Pointes and through the school system helps to unify the Pointes. He has served well and richly deserved the extension of his contract, his bonus and his salary boost for his efforts on behalf of quality education in this community.

Seeking fair representation

Since the state apportionment commission has struck out three times in 30 years in efforts to reapportion the Legislature, it is obviously time to propose a constitutional amendment to revamp the present system and establish standards to assure the fair and effective representation of Michigan citizens.

That recommendation is based on a new study of the legislative reapportionment by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, which finds that Michigan currently lacks any basic law to govern this vital concern and then adds:

"CLEARLY A NEW reapportionment process designed to produce legislative districts that are fairly drawn in conformance with specific standards is imperative—the fair and effective representation of Michigan citizens is at stake."

The eight-member bipartisan apportionment commission established under the 1963 Constitution failed to reach agreement on a plan in 1964, 1972 and 1973 with the result that in each case the Michigan Supreme Court had to assume the responsibility. In setting up the apportionment system under which state representatives and senators were elected in 1982, the Supreme Court did say its plan would remain in effect only until the Legislature and the governor or the people provide an alternative plan.

An alternative plan is what is now under consideration by Democratic leaders of the state Legislature who did not think the 1982 reapportionment by the court served the party's purposes in all districts. It especially dislikes the results of the 1982 Senate election that gave the Democrats only the narrow two-vote majority by which they control the upper house. The party also would like to strengthen its hold on certain House seats and improve its margin in 1984 by revamping district lines to benefit Democratic candidates.

The trouble with a legislative reapportionment plan is that it is self-serving for the party in power. The Research Council report points out that standards are needed to endure equal representation, competitive elections through designation of compact and contiguous districts, and representation of communities of interest which means the use of district lines that follow local government boundaries. Such standards are unlikely to emerge from a plan drafted and adopted by a single party.

As a consequence, we agree with the council that "Unless valid constitutional standards are adopted, any redistricting action by the Legislature would occur in a legislatively-devised framework that could be adjusted by the Legislature." And then the council added in a well-articulated understatement that exhibited its own displeasure with a legislative reapportionment:

"It is doubtful that the public interest is served by a situation in which basic standards of legislative apportionment are subject to manipulation by the very body that is to be guided by those standards and whose members have a vested interest in the outcome of the process. Amending the state Constitution is the ultimate solution."

THE COUNCIL report closes with an apt quotation from the 1962 Michigan Supreme Court decision in the apportionment case: "A constitutional democracy cannot exist, however, without a Legislature that represents the people, freely and popularly elected in accordance with a process upon which they have agreed."

It would be instructive for the Democrats now considering a new reapportionment plan to read both the council report and the 1962 decision. That might convince them to propose a constitutional amendment to establish the process and standards required to prevent manipulation of legislative district lines and gerrymandering for partisan advantage.

Enlivening the doldrums

These are the summer doldrums in the newspaper business. Many official bodies, ranging from the Michigan Legislature to the Supreme Court of the United States, are on holiday. Many of the citizenry are vacationing. There just isn't all that much happening on a local or state or national basis. The doldrums usually occur in July and August and so now we're just settling into that news-becalmed period.

DURING SUCH A period, stories that are themselves not all that important or news-worthy often get more attention than they would at a time when more news was occurring and more important events were capturing public notice. One of the stories getting that kind of attention during Michigan's summer doldrums this year is the recall Blanchard campaign.

Some people find other stories in the same category. Some contend, for example, that the summer doldrums explain the attention given by Washington correspondents to the recent revelations about the use by President Reagan's staff of briefing materials taken from or contributed by former President Carter's staff as Reagan prepared for the 1980 presidential debate.

To John Lauve, the Grosse Pointe engineer who heads the Blanchard recall campaign, his drive is deadly serious business which is not just intended to fill the dull news period in the summer doldrums. Lauve still is optimistic that he will get the 760,002 valid signatures that must be presented to the secretary of state's election division in Lansing by July 28 to assure a recall election.

The Lauve campaign also has spawned a number of smaller but similar campaigns against Democratic state senators who voted for the 38 percent income tax increase. Blanchard's role in initiating and signing into law that tax hike is what started the recall campaign against the governor in the first place. The fact that the tax hike was widely but mistakenly described as making the state income tax the highest in the country no doubt contributed to whatever success the campaigns have had.

Whether he succeeds or not, Lauve not only has helped the Michigan news media fill the summer news void but he also has introduced a novel feature into Michigan's recall history. Lauve's committee placed in the June 26 Detroit News a $22,000 advertisement which was in fact a copy of the recall Blanchard petitions being circulated statewide.

Nobody can remember any similar political ploy in the past in Michigan but state election officials say the form met legal requirements. That means valid names signed to copies of the advertisement will be accepted if the circulators fill out the form properly. Lauve says the ad brought in 118,000 signatures in four days, which proves that it pays to advertise in politics as well as in business.

In fact, the recall movement is getting to be a business in itself. McMaster Associates Public Relations of Troy is circulating press releases about the campaign, although whether that is being done as a contribution or for a fee was unknown at the Recall Blanchard Committee office. Overall, the committee says it spent between $39,000 and $40,000 to force the recall.

IF LAUVE SHOULD upset the odds and force a recall election, then we look back at this period as the calm before the storm. But regardless of what happens, the news media owe Lauve a debt of gratitude for enlivening the summer doldrums in the news business. The governor, of course, is unlikely to share that view.

Letters to the Editor

Publish names of drunk drivers

To the Editor:

As a result of the article published in the May 26 edition of your paper about MADD (Mother Against Drunk Drivers), many concerned citizens have stepped forward to become active in our organization. We would like to thank you, and all of those people who are willing to become involved with us to actively work towards making our community a safer one.

There are a few people who deserve special thanks for giving up some of their time to promote MADD in full force: Steve Lesha, class president of North, and Ryndy Detmars, class president of South, who were instrumental in distributing the "pocket cards" at both the proms and for spending time caring about their fellow classmates.

Thanks to Robert Ficano, sheriff of Wayne County, for his concern with our organization and his offer to actively work with our group in the drunk-driving issue.

Thanks to the Grosse Pointe Farms police who followed up on a complaint Saturday, June 4, about youths drinking and driving on Mack, and harassing and endangering other drivers. By serving these youths with the violations that you did, you proved your active involvement with organizations like ours to keep drunk drivers off the road. You most likely also prevented a fatal injury death by stopping these youths.

Because of people like you and everyone that we have received inquiries from, our community will be safer and lives will be saved.

Perhaps a weekly published list of names of drunk-driving offenders that have been arrested could help even more.

Debbi Gryn
Vice-President MADD

Mack is our 'Main Street'

To the Editor,

Kudos to city of Grosse Pointe Woods workers for their admirable efforts to improve and maintain the appearance of the handsome boulevard which constitutes Mack Avenue from Pointe Plaza north to Old Eight Mile Road.

After having experienced considerable and obvious neglect this spring and early summer, it is heartening to see this important thoroughfare in such visually pleasing and inspiring condition.

Fine welcome to the Woods

To the Editor:

I wish to commend the city of Grosse Pointe Woods for its beautiful landscaping. It's an absolute pleasure to drive around the city and view the glorious flower beds and well manicured median strips, trees and shrubs. I'm proud to

One view from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant Jr.
State Representative

After a few days of debate over the Social Services budget bill, the state budget for the next fiscal year has been passed and the Legislature is in recess.

It has been a difficult six months of session, especially for the taxpayers who must pay the 38 percent income tax increase.

Fortunately most of the increase did end up going for education and mental health programs where more money was needed. Some went to social services but only for meeting the cost of higher numbers of welfare cases.

One significant new program, one I strongly supported and co-sponsored, will begin next year. The new program will provide a modest grant to families of low to middle income who care for their severely disabled children in their own home.

Families with special children have special needs in many ways, and those special needs involve sometimes major special costs. It makes sense to me and feels right, to tell these families in a modest way, you are not alone, we are and we appreciate the specialness of your child and the special care you are giving your child.

It is not intended to say there is anything wrong if a family decides it should not try to continue to care for a special child at home. The other needs of the family or special program needs of a child can be perfectly appropriate reason for a special child to be placed in a different living environment.

But now, for those who bring a special child back home or who keep the child at home to be cared for by the family, there will be help, help in the form of a monthly grant.

I consider this new program to be of very high priority. It is something we should have been doing, and the mere fact it is new can never justify saying no to its beginning now.

Senator's view from Lansing

By State Senator John Kelly

The Legislature finished action last week on the state budget of over $5 billion consisting of 17 appropriations bills. Of the 17, I only voted in favor of three of the bills and "no" on the remaining 13. I believe the projections for future revenues are too optimistic to sustain this level of spending, particularly with the automatic "ratchet-down" of the income tax next year.

The bases of my objections to most of these budget bills was the continuation of the unfocused direction of state government that I witnessed under the Milliken administration. Money was thrown at programs willy-nilly with the participation of the Crim-Faust leadership of the Legislature. In my case I voted "no" during the last administration almost 33 percent of the time. (A record which also reflects my own non-participation in the multi-billion dollar over-spending of the Governor and the Legislature).

As each of the appropriations bills came up this time I read them with the objective of finding some long-term strategy in the short-term allocations. For example, in higher education I saw increases being granted while the 16 state colleges and universities plunge headlong into more building outlays and upward tuition surges. In the past my column in this paper has carried my views as to the necessity of reconstructing our educational establishment to prepare for the future rather than continuing the higher education policies developed in the 1960's for the "baby-boom" generation.

During the debate on the higher education budget I offered an amendment to the bills that would have required the Governor or Legislature to appoint a commission to "down-size," reorient towards poly technical education and reduce the number and size of campuses to a more efficient scale. The amendment was defeated on a 13-22 vote (with six Democrats and seven Republicans voting in favor). The Governor got the message however, and announced shortly thereafter that he will appoint a commission to do what my amendment would have required. The Governor is currently working on the development of that commission.

So, we are making progress on reshaping state government bit by bit, but it takes time. It has taken several decades to shape the present system of state government but if we continue the guerilla war we can see it rebuilt in a shorter time-frame.

Hertel praises county charter

The Loren Pittman controversy proves that the new county charter does work in matters between the legislative and executive branches of government, 1st District Commissioner John Hertel said.

His comments came during a special committee of the whole meeting of the commissioners last month at which Executive William Lucas, in a letter to the commissioners, announced the acceptance of Loren Pittman's resignation from the county Office of Emergency Preparedness directorship.

Applauding the new form of government, Hertel said the incident is the first to show how well the charter can work in matters between the legislative and executive branches. The Pittman conflict was an example of the commissioners' exercising restraint, which produced good results, he added.

"If we had voted on Mr. Pittman, it would have been a vote to reject Mr. Pittman that would have led to confrontation in court or a confrontation at budget time, which might have driven a wedge between the Chief Executive and the Board of Commissioners affecting other issues as well," he said.

Lucas appointed Pittman director of the office of Emergency Preparedness in late May. Pittman, who served as under-sheriff under Lucas, was described as a "highly qualified individual whose talents and abilities make him an excellent candidate for an appropriate county position, according to Lucas' office.

The appointment drew quick fire from the commissioners, who decried the decision to appoint Pittman to the $41,000-a-year job as nepotism. At one point during the controversy, Hertel hinted the commissioners may take Lucas to court over the matter.

Adding fuel to the fire as a move by Lucas to withdraw Pittman's name for commissioners approvals by saying the appointment job would be handled from a position on the executive staff, making commission approval unnecessary.

Hertel, according to county officials, then called a special meeting to give commissioners more time for deliberation of the matter, that meeting "bought a week's worth of time and allowed a more appropriate solution to the problem," Hertel said.

Hertel: no withholding

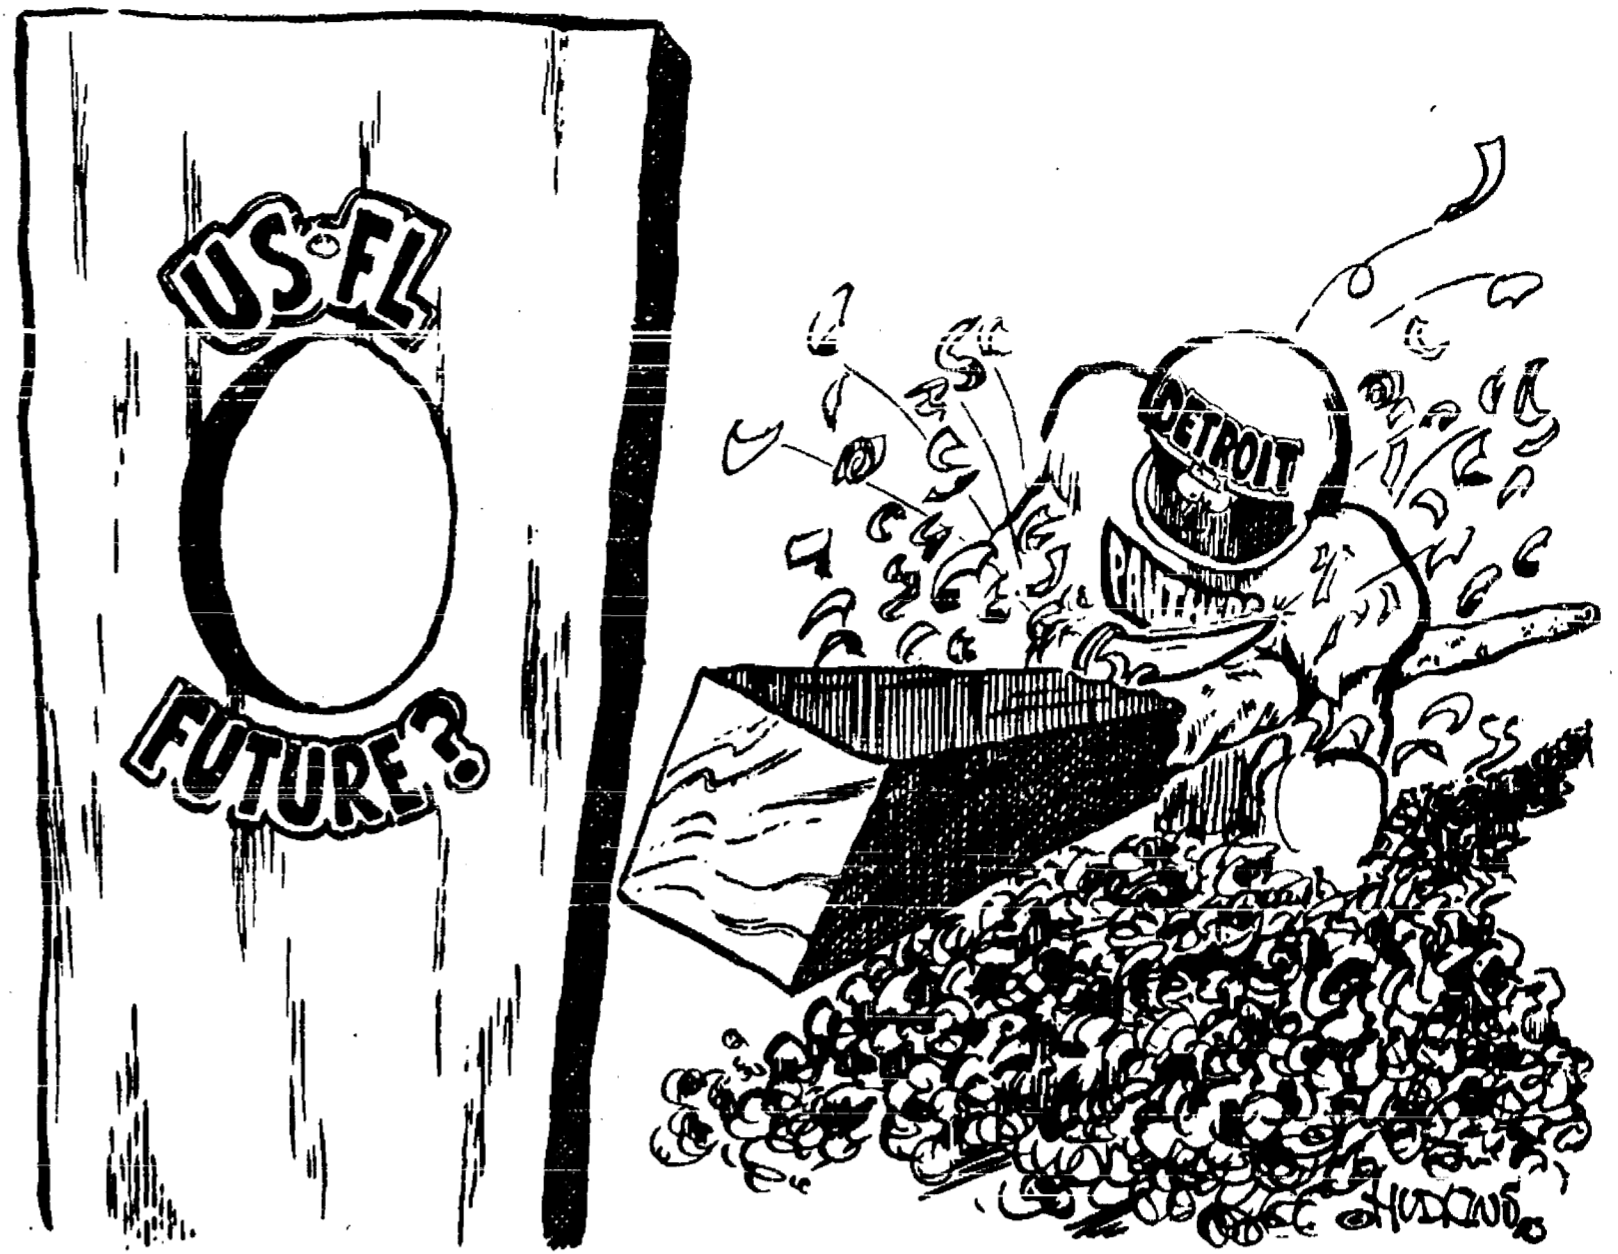

Rep. Dennis Hertel, D-14th Dist., was one of the many members of the U.S. House of Representatives who voted to repeal the 10 percent withholding tax on interest and dividends which was passed as part of President Reagan's tax increase program.

The position of the administration was that the measure would assist the IRS in collecting the estimated $3 billion in taxes on interest which go unreported each year.

Hertel said he voted against the measure because according to the IRS nearly 90 percent of interest earnings are already reported. Also, depositors would lose approximately $1.5 billion each year in compound interest payments, the measure would merely increase overpayment of taxes and would most hurt those elderly people who rely on interest and dividends as retirement income.

The House voted down withholding by a margin of 382 to 41.

Hertel said that everyone realizes the inevitability of taxes but that few people are willing to bear an unfair or unreasonable share of the tax burden.

The question is, where to spend it? The problem could be solved if there were no restrictions on time, money, state of the unpredictable family car, summer wardrobe, sports equipment and family preferences as to what constitutes fun and games.

The list of "ifs and ands" could extend like one of those diagrams that used to be part of learning English grammar.

To simplify matters, why not take a historic tour of Michigan. Unless you live in a cave, your eyes, ears and very being have been infused with "Say Yes to Michigan." It's not an empty thought. Michigan does have much to offer as the slogan implies — great fishing, swimming and beaches — but you know all that and may have experienced much of it.

This year, however, if you decide to "go for it" in Michigan besides enjoying what our state has to offer, you could add a new perspective to your travels by looking at the sights from a historical viewpoint.

Take Sleeping Bear Dunes in the Leelanau Peninsula on the shores of Lake Michigan. Its shifting golden sands were likened by historian Bruce Catton to the Beethoven "Emperor" piano concerto. He grew up not far from the dunes and wrote about what it was in a book called "Waiting For the Morning Train." He also wrote "Stillness At Appomattox" a Civil War Classic.

Another famous author who spent 20 of his first 21 summers at a cottage near Petosky on Walloon Lake is Ernest Hemingway.

The Hemingway cottage called Windemere is still there. This part of the country was the basis for 10 short stories and his first published novel, "The Torrents of Spring."

In Manistee is an impressive structure called the Ransdell Theater, named for Thomas Ransdell. (Continued on Page 8A)

Prime Time for senior citizens: Say 'yes' to Michigan

a civic minded lawyer who built it in 1903. Opera houses were popular in those days. The Ransdell, one of the few that survived, was one of the grander, with a ceiling mural depicting Venus in a golden chariot, drawn by doves, and a curtain with a scene described as a "Grove Near Athens." The theater has good acoustics, one of the highest stage grids in the nation and a movable paint rack often used by Chicago theater operators for making scenery. It is the only such facility in the United States.

In Leland, the county seat of Lelanau County, you come to "Fishtown" the only unmodernized fishing village left on the coast.

It is not a scenic attraction but an utilitarian collection of ice houses, smoke houses and a net shed. There are only three families who fish there now. Once there were eight. It is rumored that one fisherman caught 3,000 fish in one day in 1890.

You've heard of Beaver Island but did you know that James Strang formed a Mormon colony called The Kingdom of St. James there in 1850?

He founded a newspaper there that was known as one of Michigan's better newspapers. However some of his views expressed in the paper enraged the mainlanders. They stormed the island, threw Strang's library into the street and assassinated him. That shop is now owned by the Beaver Island Historical Society.

Closer to home are the logging museums in Saginaw County. The oldest are in the east central area. Paul Bunyan and Babe, the Blue Ox — 42 ax handles and a plug of tobacco wide beneath the horns — are said to have operated in Saginaw County.

White Pine was favored by Michigan loggers and much of Michigan White Pine forest fell under the ax. In 1890 there were 1,957 sawmills in Michigan.

Somewhat the loggers passed by 85 acres of white pine a few miles northeast of Grayling. The trees still stand — some 150 feet tall and four feet across the bolts. The largest "Monarch" towers 155 feet along with oaks and hemlocks more than 100 foot high.

Other places of interest are the store where Tom Dewey, once a presidential candidate, grew up in Owosso; Frank Murphy's home in Harbor Beach (he was once a governor, U.S. Supreme Court Justice and confidant of presidents); chemistry genius Herbert Dow's home in Midland; writer James Oliver Curwood's house in Owosso; the Mackinac Point lighthouse at Mackinac City that guided thousands of ore vessels through the treacherous straits; and finally our state capital in Lansing, said to be an elegant example of the type of state capitals built in the nineteenth century.

Even closer to Detroit, trips to while away a day might include a trip to Howell to tour the Livingston County Courthouse, where the old courtroom still has its shuttered windows and old oak tables; a Greek Revival home with columned portico in historic Ypsilanti, which once housed a ladies' literary group in 1842; Bronson Park in Kalamazoo where a few Indian mounds that served as burial sites and platforms for Indian orators remain; the old mill in Linden on the banks of the Shiawassee, which was erected in 1850 and ground grist until 1956; the octagon house in Washington, a unique structure that had a brief vogue a century ago.

If you have only a day to spare, there are historical sites to visit in Detroit, such as Fort Wayne which was constructed after the War of 1812 to shield Detroit from invasion from Canada, or Parents Creek, known as Bloody Run in Elmwood Cemetery. In 1763 when Detroit was under siege by Chief Pontiac, 250 British soldiers moved through the darkness to surprise the rebellious chief. The Indians were waiting. In a few minutes the British leader and 20 of his men were dead. Parents Creek ran red with blood. The remaining stretch now lies in Elmwood Cemetery, where lie the bodies of six Michigan governors, 29 mayors of Detroit and General Charles Larned, aide-de-camp to George Washington during the American Revolution.

If you want to concentrate on one particular aspect of local historical edifices, you could choose to visit the old churches in Detroit that have architectural and historical significance.

The oldest of these is St. Anne's Roman Catholic Church. It has occupied eight structures from a log cabin in 1701 to the present twin-spired Gothic structure completed in 1887. The interior has a French motif and the fleur-de-lis, or French lily is repeated throughout. All the windows are inscribed in French.

The woodwork is noteworthy. The communion rail is handcarved and depicts the seven sacraments. A smaller wood altar is carved in the likeness of modern day saints. Mother Teresa of Calcutta stands among them. Father Gabriel Richard's body lies in a glass-and-marble crypt in a chapel that connects the church to the rectory.

St. Anne's is the oldest parish but S.S. Peter & Paul is the oldest building. It dates back to 1848. For 29 years it was the cathedral of the Archdiocese of Detroit. The altar is made of marble imported from Italy. Three life-sized paintings behind the altar tell the story of the church.

The third oldest parish is St. Mary's in Greektown. The main altar is of carved wood. There is a massive circular canvas on the ceiling of the Immaculate Conception of Mary. Most noticeable are 10 polished granite pillars originally intended for the Lansing State House and bought by the parish for $4,000.

Across from the Stroh's Brewery, off Gratiot Avenue is St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church. Its spires rise 300 feet in the urban skyline. Three naves nearly equal in height are supported by 12 northern Michigan pine pillars to represent the 12 apostles, the pillars of the church.

The First Presbyterian Church on Woodward, built in 1889 was modeled after Trinity Church in Boston. Its location was once the outer limits of Detroit.

Christ Church on Jefferson, "The Westminster Abbey of Detroit," was built in 1845. It is known for the beauty of its sanctuary. The woodwork throughout the interior is all of butternut.

Cathedral Church of St. Paul is home to one of the city's largest Episcopal congregations. Among the treasures it holds are an altar carved in Oberammergau, Germany; larger than life oak figures of the crucifixion and a wood minstrel gallery set high in the south transept copied from the stone gallery in The English Exeter Cathedral. The Pewabic tiled floor, dark brown at the vestibule, lightens to pale yellow at the sanctuary to signify the coming out of darkness into the light of Christ.

As you make your visits to historic places near or far, you may want to personalize history by taking pictures of your traveling companions at the site. If you have a camera which automatically focuses on your subject, you will be free to concentrate on composition since this type of camera also controls shutter-paced and lens opening. Take plenty of film since you may not get what you want on the first shot.

POSH

For the modest price of $52,400 (and up) you can own an extraordinary lifestyle and a new home.

It's true.

You can live in the Royal Windsor Terrace, Windsor's finest, luxury condominium residences. And what, ask you...makes this living so extraordinary?

Easy enough.

A choice of 21 floor plans. Large, luxurious, spacious. Many larger than single family homes. Some two level residences...and all with distinctive character.

Most important... Each of these fashionable homes was created to ensure a lifestyle that you can hold dear to your heart.

Who knows...our royal tour just may be your royal homecoming.

INSIDE THE GOOD LIFE GETS BETTER

Your home inside the Royal Windsor Terrace won't be just any home. It can't be. It's a place with all of life's material comforts and conveniences.

You can play ping pong or sink a few billiard balls in the games room. Work out in the gym. Relax in the whirlpool and sweat it out in the sauna. Take a refreshing dip in the pool and drive yourself hard in the squash or racquetball courts.

For the special occasions, there's a party room 26 stories above the city with a magnificent view of the Detroit River and skyline. If you want...take a romantic stroll through either of two rooftop gardens. Under the sun or under the stars.

A FEW LITTLE INCENTIVES

Talk about greenie grass! Here are some extra incentives to whet that quenchless appetite for the good life. You get a 5 year HUDAC warranty against major structural defects in your condominium. Being the principal resident, you qualify for a $3,000 Home Ownership grant. PLUS... All residences are being offered at low prices and very attractive mortgage financing.

Add all of these extras: imaginative design; quality construction; a good life of fun and leisure; an exceptional investment value in a prime downtown location.

Mack business leaders elected

Woods searches for beauty

Nomination forms for the ninth annual Woods Beautification Awards have been mailed to business owners and professional buildings in the city. Those who have done extensive renovation, repairs or additions to buildings or landscaping are eligible for awards.

Also eligible are those who have continued maintenance of their establishment to present a beautiful appearance throughout the year.

A review of the nominations by the Woods Beautification Advisory Commission will determine the recipients of three Mayor's trophies in one of four categories. Classes One to Three are for large, medium and small businesses while the fourth goes to a church or school. The trophies are presented to the winners for the best overall contribution to the beauty of the city.

A special award will also be given to the business which best reflects year-round cleanliness and neatness in both landscaping and external appearance. A plaque is also given for the best landscaping, renovation of landscaping or continuing maintenance.

Another award is given to the best new construction or renovation conforming to the architectural requirements of the city. Recognition is also given to the building with the most pleasing rear facade and entrance.

Several years ago, the awards program was expanded to include the residential community. Beautification certificates are awarded to residents who have significantly improved and enhanced the appearance of the city by their efforts to improve and maintain their homes.

Business people who have received their nomination forms are asked to either nominate themselves or their neighbors. Forms should be mailed to the Beautification Commission, 20025 Mack, Grosse Pointe Woods 48236. Deadline for filing is Aug. 1.

Thomas Pitlock, station-owner

Shock and dismay swept over the Hill this week with news of the sudden and unexpected death of Tom Pitlock, owner of Pitlock's Standard on the Hill service station.

Mr. Pitlock, 40, of St. Clair Shores, died Sunday, July 10, in Bon Secours Hospital of a heart attack. Merchants in the area were stunned at news of the death.

"It's a shocker," said Sladen. "The first thing I'd like to say is that he was always an active participant in anything the Hill was planning. He was a darned good mechanic and knew how to pick the right young people to work in his station."

Co-workers at the station, located near the intersection of Kercheval and McMillan Road, went about their work in a stunned silence Monday morning.

"He was one of the most generous persons I've ever met," said an employee named Bob. "He let friends use his home, his cottage, his car — anything they needed. He gave totally of himself."

"He loved the station," added another co-worker. "He loved the business. He knew all his customers names and everyone was his friend."

According to sources close to him, Mr. Pitlock had been involved with the service business for 10 years, beginning with his first location at Mack and Dickerson. He later moved to the Hill area with his station on Kercheval near Muir Road.

He later moved up Kercheval to his present location after the property was sold. According to reports, Mr. Pitlock suffered his attack on Saturday, July 9, after playing a game of softball.

Mr. Pitlock is survived by his wife, Shirley, who is seven months pregnant with their first child.

Services for Thomas Pitlock will be held at 10:30 a.m. today, July 14, at St. Joan of Arc Church, with interment in White Chapel Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Shirley Ann; his mother, Mrs. Valerie Pitlock and one brother.

Friends of the Pitlock family have established the Thomas Pitlock Memorial Fund, c/o Pitlock's Standard on the Hill, 66 Kercheval, the Farms, 48236.

Christopher Rodriguez and Mark Bente, both of the Woods, saw Paul Hurley again recently, but under more pleasant circumstances. Rodriguez, at left, and Bente, right, are flanked by their parents, Arthur and Nancy and George and Anne respectively, after the two received the Exchange Club Young Citizenship Award from club president Ric Rutan, rear center. The two young men gave aid to Hurley, front center, after the 9-year-old Woods boy was seriously injured in a fall last July.

'Saved my son's life'

Young citizens win award

By Mike Andrzejczyk

It was Friday evening, July 30, 1982 when 8-year-old Paul Hurley was playing at Mason School. According to police reports, he climbed and then fell from a backstop on the grounds, breaking his wrist, arm, leg and skull as well as cutting his face and head.

Two Woods youths, Mark Bente and Christopher Rodriguez, both 13 and students at Brownell Middle School at the time, saw Hurley and ran to his aid. They persuaded a passer-by to call police while they offered what help they could and kept Paul quiet.

Within minutes, Woods emergency medical technicians were on the scene, and took the 8-year-old Woods boy to St. John Hospital, where Paul spent the next couple of days in intensive care and months recovering from his injuries.

Today, Paul runs with a limp and, except for a bump on his lip, you wouldn't know he had been so badly injured, said his father, Mike Hurley, a karate instructor. Hurley credits Bente and Rodriguez for saving his son's life.

The Exchange Club of Grosse Pointe also honored the two young men recently with the Young Citizenship Award. In presenting the awards to Bente and Rodriguez, club president Ric Rutan said their action was the type of conduct which the Young Citizenship Award of the National Exchange Club was meant to recognize and honor.

Hurley agreed with the honors given the two young men. "I thought it was terrific. I hope more kids do things like this," he said. "If they hadn't come along, my son probably would have died."

The Exchange Club regularly honors scholastic and civic achievements.

Photographer and lecturer Joseph P. Messana will conduct a one-day workshop at the Edsel and Eleanor Ford House on Monday, July 25, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The class, sponsored through the continuing education department of the Grosse Pointe public schools, is limited to 20 persons.

The class will cover by slides and live lecturer examples of how to "see" a picture. Students will visit local marinas and the Renaissance Center and learn how to shoot interesting pictures. Cameras, lenses, film and filters also will be discussed. Fee is $8.

For registration, call 343-2178.

Fire strikes twice on Nottingham

Park firefighters spent an hour bringing a blaze in a garage in the 900 block of Nottingham under control on Saturday, June 9. The garage was a complete loss, reports said, and the fire also did minor damage to an adjoining structure.

It was the second fire reported at the garage in three months, according to fire reports. Officials believe that both blazes began the same way, in a plastic garbage dumpster parked behind the garage.

When firemen arrived at the scene at about 2:30 a.m. on June 9, they found the entire garage in flames. Five officers from Grosse Pointe City were called in to help protect neighboring houses. A garage next door was slightly charred when the fire burned its face board, according to reports.

Woods man wins King's College grant

Grosse Pointe Woods resident Timothy M. Mucciante has won a grant through the British Consulate to study law at the University of London, King's College, London, England this summer.

Mucciante, son of Anthony and Ida Mucciante, will also work as a research assistant to David Alton, M.P. in the House of Commons. Alton, a member of the Liberal Party, was reelected to the House in the British General Election on June 9. This trip will be Mucciante's second experience of studying and working in London. In 1981 Mucciante also worked for Alton while studying political science and comparative politics at the University of London, Bedford College.

Mucciante will study international and comparative law while composing a law review article concerning the role of international law in diplomacy. Part of the research for this article will be interviewing U.S. and British Embassy officials in London, Paris, Brussels, Geneva, Vienna, Venice and cities in eastern Europe. The purpose of the interviews is to determine the practitioner's view of the interaction between international law and diplomacy.

Detroit Concert Band performs

The Detroit Concert Band with conductor Dr. Leonard B. Smith (above) will visit North High School on Wednesday, July 20, and Friday, July 22, for free concerts beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday and at 7 p.m. on Friday. Musical selections will include Strauss' "Overture Die Fledermaus," Tschalkowsky's "Waltz from Nutcracker Suite," Schubert's "Marche Militaire," excerpts from the "The Sound of Music" and conductor Smith's arrangement of the "The Star Spangled Banner." Smith has been conductor of the Detroit Concert Band for 38 years. He is remembered for his playing of the familiar trumpet call announcing the popular "Lone Ranger" radio program. Currently, Smith is host of a radio program on Detroit's classical music station, WQRS-FM Sunday afternoons at 3 p.m. The concerts at North are co-sponsored by Colonial Federal Savings & Loan Association in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Lochmoor home robbed

A Lochmoor Road home in the Woods was broken into and ransacked Sunday afternoon, July 3, police reported.

Officers and detectives responded to the scene to find a kitchen window broken out. According to reports, the thieves apparently broke out the window, reached in and unlocked it to gain entry to the home.

Reports said all the rooms showed signs of being searched. In some rooms, the contents from drawers in dressers and cabinets were strewn on the floor.

It was unknown whether anything had been taken, reports said.

OWL will hear about pensions

The Detroit East chapter of the Older Women's League will hear Karen Ferguson, lawyer and director of the Pension Rights Center, when it meets Thursday, July 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church.

The Pension Rights Center is a Washington-based, non-profit organization that provides information about pension system issues. The center's goal is a pension system that is fair, adequate and responsive to the needs of individuals and the economy, according to OWL spokesman Nell Barbour.

The meeting is open to the public and refreshments will be served. For more information, call 885-3690.

Bells, bagpipes sound Tuesday

Scottish music for carillon, bagpipes and drums will be featured on Tuesday, July 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. The artists are Beverly Buchanan, carillonneur of Christ Church Cranbrook, and Pipe Major Vernon E. Mathews, Pipe Sargeant William Burns, Drummer Dick Buchanan. The pipers and drummer are members of the 42nd Highlanders of Michigan.

The program will consist of Scottish music arranged for solo carillon by Mrs. Buchanan, music for pipes and drums, and music employing all of the instruments.

The free concert is part of the Tuesday evening summer series of carillon recitals at the church. The audience may bring lawn chairs and enjoy the beauty of Lake St. Clair, sit in their cars to listen, or stroll their grounds.

For those who come early, there is a Prelude Potluck Picnic beginning at 6:30. Hotdogs and lemonade are provided for a cost of $1. Picnickers should bring along a favorite picnic food to share with three or four other people.

For further information, call 882-5330.

Center will take you up and away

If it's a warm summer night and you find yourself with nothing to do, why not consider hopping into a hot air balloon and sipping some champagne to liven up the evening?

The invitation comes from the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, which will offer four sunrise and sunset hot air balloon rides in July and August. Licensed commercial balloon pilot Dennis Kollin will take five or six people on each flight, according to the center's program director Carolyn Mosher.

The $95 per person fee includes champagne and round-trip transportation from the War Memorial to the flight area in Rochester. There will be no refunds, according to the center.

For early birds, sunrise flights are scheduled for Saturdays, July 30 and Aug. 20, with a departure time of 5:30 a.m. Sunset flights have been planned for Fridays, July 29 and Aug. 19, with a 5 p.m. departure.

According to Mrs. Mosher, flights are subject to wind and weather conditions and will be rescheduled as needed. Private parties of five or six may schedule mid-week flights.

For more information, call 881-7511.

Teens bid to 'Beatles' dance

Three dances, especially for Grosse Pointe students in grades seven through nine, have been scheduled at the War Memorial this month.

The first will be held Thursday, July 21, and will feature "J.R. Entertainment." Admission will be $2.

On Thursday, Aug. 11, the theme will be "Back to Back Beatles" at $2.50 per person.

Six bands will compete in the center's annual "Battle of the Bands" on Sept. 23. Tickets will be $4.

Bands wishing to audition for the "battle" should write to Jack Dotson, youth director, Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236, before Aug. 1.

All three dances are chaperoned and police protected, and will take place from 8 to 11 p.m. Refreshments will be available at a nominal cost. Any parent wishing to volunteer to chaperone one of the dances may do so by calling 881-7511.

North graduates set July reunion

North High School's class of 1978 has planned a five year reunion on Saturday, July 16, at the Barrister House, 21801 Harper between Eight and Nine Mile Roads.

Doors will open at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. Price is $12.50 per person, which includes dinner, beer and entertainment.

Graduates reunite on Sept. 10

The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club will be the site of the 25th class reunion for 1958 graduates of Dominican High School on Saturday, Sept. 10.

For further information, call Gerrie Zito Chomicz at 751-0263 or Mary Remondino Soldan at 882-9177.

From Another Point Of View

By Janet Nye

Plan on giving yourself a late summer treat: popping out to the Meadow Brook Music Festival grounds at Oakland University Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 23, when the Festival Women's Committee, in conjunction with Saks Fifth Avenue, presents a collection of designer fashions by Adolfo, Nipon, Ralph Lauren, Mary McFadden, Calvin Klein, Bill Blass, Geoffrey Beene, Anne Klein, Carolina Herrera . . . and don't be surprised if Saks comes up with a few more star designer names for the collection between now and late August.

You will also enjoy "The Fragrance Affair," savoring perfumes by Oscar de la Renta, Halston, Estee Lauder, and others in a gaily-striped tent. Representatives from the great perfume houses will present everyone with samples of their most exciting fragrances.

A $15 ticket entitles you to a reserved seat for the fashion extravaganza in Baldwin Pavilion, followed by punch and cookies. If you'd like an elegant basket lunch, purchase a $25 patron ticket. Benefactor tickets, at $50 per person, give you the best seats in the house and reserved lunch seating in Trumbull Terrace's Cafe Promenade.

Names of patrons and benefactors will appear in the program. All contributions are tax deductible, within the limits of the law. Members of the Festival Women's Committee will serve as hostesses, helping you find your seat in the pavilion, guiding you to the Fragrance Affair and directing you to the hospitality area for your punch and cookies. Any questions? A call to 377-3316 will bring the answers.

Up, Up and Away . . .

If you're considering The Great American Balloon Adventure, sunrise and sunset champagne flights with round trip transportation from the Grosse Pointe War Memorial to the flight area in Rochester, take this advice from Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Duffy Jr., of Handy Road: stop considering — just do it!

The Duffys went up, up and away into the sunset recently thanks to daughter Deborah. The trip was a belated Father's Day present for Ray and an early surprise birthday present for Camilla, who waxes positively rhapsodic when she recalls it. "The magic of soaring through the air and floating over the beautiful countryside at sunset, waving to people below, close enough to see them sipping cocktails . . . shouting 'Hello!' to kids on bicycles . . . the view of life and activities below, so serene and peaceful as you glide overhead.

"A never-to-be-forgotten hour of fun and adventure as you float over trees, traffic, farm land, golf courses . . . everything so neatly arranged in patterns below. You are really up, up in another world. We can't think of when we have had such a fun-experience, thanks to Debbie."

Two sunset flights and two sunrise flights with depar-

Ready for Symphony under the Stars . . .

Tomorrow's the big night, and among those waiting for Felix Resnick to raise his baton, opening the Grosse Pointe Symphony's program of light classics and show tunes at 8:30 p.m. in D'Hondt Way behind Jacobson's in-the-Village on Friday, July 15, are Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association members (left to right) MRS. WAYNE WISEMAN who, with Mrs. Gerald Stoetzer, was in charge of invitations for this year's music-on-a-summer-night event, MRS. ROBERT REISIG, who arranged for a group of association members and husbands to model fashions during the pre-concert dinner at Jacobson's, MRS. ROBERT BUHL, general chairman, MRS. VERNE ANSEL, who shares reservations responsibilities with Mrs. Elmer Barber, and MRS. JOHN NOLAN, Mrs. Buhl's co-chairman. Tickets, ranging from $50 benefactor to $30 patron to $20 regular admission (all including dinner) to $6 for the concert only, may be obtained from Jacobson's, which co-sponsors the annual event with the Symphony Women, or by contacting Mrs. Barber, 885-3932. If it's a rainy evening, the concert will be performed at Parcels Middle School.

ANN B. ALBRECHT, daughter of former Pointers MR. and MRS. WILLIAM H. ALBRECHT Jr., was recognized recently for outstanding achievement at the annual Awards Day at Converse College. Ann, a junior majoring in History and applied art, was the recipient of the Art Club Award for Ceramics. She is active on campus as secretary for Judicial Board, president of the Art Club, art editor for Concept, the campus literary magazine, and as a representative to Judicial Board.

SIGN OF THE LION

This turn of the century building in Indian Village was restored and occupied by Sign of the Lion back in 1963 when Ross & Seeley supplied lamps, accessories, and furniture to top interior designers and better shops all over the world.

20th ANNIVERSARY SALE — 20% OFF

The Sign of the Lion — Established by Ross & Seeley in 1963 is having its FIRST EVER Storewide - 20th Anniversary Sale. 20% off ALL ITEMS - to Celebrate 20 years. Items include home accessories, lamps, furniture - wall decor - selected by our interior designer staff. Every item in the store is included - sale continues through July 23rd.

— 1983 —

In July, 1963, Dick Ross and Jack Seeley began a new business of manufacturing designer lamps and importing accessories; sold to fine interior design firms throughout the country; operating showrooms in Chicago, New York, Dallas, and San Francisco. They quickly outgrew their quarters in a downtown Detroit building and moved into a turn of the century factory loft in Indian Village.

They gradually opened several retail stores. Their first retail store was in Leland, Michigan. Shortly after they opened stores in Grosse Pointe, Birmingham, and Clarkston.

Last year Sign of the Lion moved their Grosse Pointe store to their new quarters on Kercheval & St. Clair in the Village, photo at right.

In August, 1982 Sign of the Lion opened their new store at Kercheval and St. Clair, in-the-Village — offering complete interior design service and beautiful gifts for the home.

Feature puppet shows at DIA this summer

Group reservations are now open for Detroit Youtheatre's Summer Puppet Shows, which will feature the return of Chicago's Melikin Puppet Theatre at the Detroit Institute of Arts Recital Hall for two weeks in mid-July. Summer, nursery and church school groups — and individual families, of course! — may reserve seating by calling the museum's business office, 832-2730, during business hours, seven days a week.

Tickets at $2 for both children and adults, $1.50 each for groups of 10 or more, may be purchased in advance or at the door.

Two different programs will be offered throughout the two-week engagement, at 9:40 and 10:40 a.m. Tuesdays through Friday and 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturdays. No Sunday or Monday performances are scheduled.

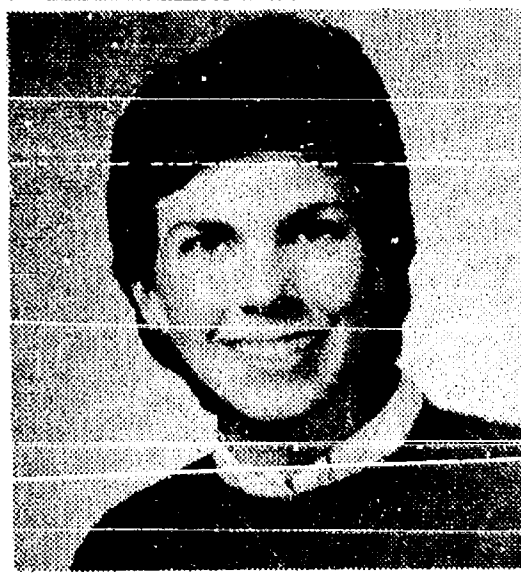

For children three years of age and older, "Three Fairy Tales" (Goldilocks and the Three Bears, Chicken Little and Little Red Riding Hood) will be presented July 12, 13, 15, 16, 20 and 21.

"Dragon Feathers," tales of famous dragons across the ages, will be performed for children age five and up on July 14, 19, 22 and 23.

Children younger than the age recommendations will not be admitted to the theater.

The Melikins have brought their giant hand puppets to Detroit Youtheatre for well over a decade, playing in Youtheatre's regular October through May season, both in the museum auditorium and in community locations throughout the state as part of the DIA's Show on the Road touring program.

The troupe is one of the few year-round, professional theaters of its kind in the country, and has been honored by its peers in national and international puppetry festivals, for excellence of production.

Cathryn Starnes

Nixon-Starnes rites planned

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Starnes, of Lochmoor Boulevard, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Cathryn Lynn, to Scott Sherman Nixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd S. Nixon Jr., also of Lochmoor Boulevard. A late August wedding is planned.

Miss Starnes and her fiancé are both graduates of Grosse Pointe North High School and Michigan State University. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communications. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration/Pre-Law, and expects to receive his J.D. from the University of Denver College of Law in 1984.

Busy Meadow Brook agenda

Meadow Brook's next star-studded week, which includes jazz, rhythm and blues and symphony, opens this Tuesday, July 19, with a concert by Glen Campbell and Tammy Wynette.

Featured Wednesday, July 20, will be Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians. Chuck Mangione plays flugelhorn and trumpet with his group Friday, July 22, and Lou Rawls sings Saturday, July 23.

Detroit Symphony Orchestra concerts Thursday, July 21, and Sunday, July 24, featuring French, German and Russian music, will be conducted by Myung-Whun Chung, with violinist Miriam Fried appearing as soloist Thursday night.

Evening concerts start at 8 p.m. in Baldwin Pavilion on the Oakland University campus. Information on tickets, lawn coupon books and programs is available at the festival box office, 377-2010. Tickets also are available at Hudson's, all CTC locations and any Triple A location.

Details on group discounts, available for most concerts, and reserving party tents may be obtained by calling 377-3316.

Meadow Brook's grounds open at 7 p.m. before evening concerts for picnicking and waited or cafeteria style dining on Trumbull Terrace.

Freeman-Leslie troth revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Leslie, of St. Johns, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Stephanie Ann, to Brent G. Freeman, son of Grosse Pointe Woods Mayor and Mrs. George Freeman, of Briarcliff Drive. A fall wedding is planned.

Miss Leslie, a 1977 graduate of St. Johns High School, has attended Lansing Community and Alma Colleges. She is employed at Michigan State University.

Her fiancé, graduated in 1977 from Grosse Pointe North High School, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Accounting from Michigan State University. He is accounting supervisor at Systems Research Inc., located in Okemos.

Call Professional Women's Network

Bernetta Miller, M.S.W., a psychotherapist with 10 years' experience in private practice, currently associate director of the Center for Contemporary Psychology, Birmingham, spoke on "How Women Can Help Men Survive in a Woman's World" at a Michigan Professional Women's Network meeting last Monday, July 11, at Somersett Inn.

The network is a two-year-old, non-profit organization designed to provide professional women with the opportunity to assist each other to advance their careers. Its meetings are held monthly, at 6 p.m., and are open to the public. Additional information on the group may be obtained by calling Linda Russell, 355-5580.

Form Transcultural Nursing association

The Michigan Transcultural Nursing Society, founded by Madeleine Leininger, R.N., Ph.D., F.A.A.N., elected Joy Mousma, R.N. and Rita Munley Gallagher, R.N., co-chairpersons during its May meeting.

Patricia Smith, R.N., will serve as secretary. Bonnie Neuman, R.N., will serve as arrangements coordinator.

The local group meets bi-monthly to explore the new practice and educational field of transcultural nursing, and welcomes all interested persons at its programs.

Rhonda R. Panfilli, R.N., M.S.N., will present her work on "Discovering the Ethnographic and Nursing Care Needs of the Urban Mexican-American" at the society's next meeting, scheduled for today, Thursday, July 14, from 4 to 6 p.m. in the First Floor Lounge of Wayne State University's College of Nursing Cohn Building.

Discussion and refreshments will follow her presentation.

Slate Metropolitan Rose Society Clinic

The Metropolitan Rose Society will hold its Annual Summer Garden Clinic this Sunday, July 17, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Mayer, 27827 Park Court, Madison Heights (three blocks north of 11 Mile Road and five blocks west of Dequindre).

The public is welcome. Topics and demonstrations will include: spray programs, fertilizers, summer pruning, garden photography, budding hybrid tea roses, miniature roses and roses from cuttings. Consulting Rosarians will be available to answer questions.

Mrs. Dennis McKenna

Patricia Turner married in May

Patricia Jane Turner, of Brys Drive, and Dennis Michael McKenna, of Berkeley, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, May 28, in Saint Joan of Arc Catholic Church. The 3:30 o'clock ceremony at which Deacon Gene Di-Cresce presided was followed by a reception at the Detroit Golf Club, after which the newlyweds traveled in their Scorpion Christ-Craft to Stag Island in the St. Clair River. They are at home in Grosse Pointe Woods.

The bride, supervisor of Broadcast Business and Production, Ross Roy Advertising, Inc., is the daughter of Mrs. Robert A. Smart, of Palm Harbor, Fla., formerly of The Pointe, and the late David C. Turner.

The bridegroom, a New Equipment sales representative with Otis Elevator Company, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney F. McKenna, of Farmington, Conn., formerly of Birmingham.

Sharron Turner Beaupre came from Rolling Meadows, Ill., to act as honor matron for her sister. Bridesmaids were Susan Turner Goodnow, of Bethlehem, Pa., another sister, and the bridegroom's sisters: Lynne Marie Hoss, of Annandale, N.J., Mary Elizabeth Raimondi, of Trumbull, Conn., and Maureen Therese McKenna, of Ann Arbor.

Best man was Guy F. Mas-trangel, of Drayton Plains. Guests were seated by the bride's brothers, David C. Turner Jr., of Dearborn, and James P. Turner, of Troy, and the bridegroom's brothers, Patrick C. McKenna, of University City, Mo., and Christopher J. McKenna, of Farmington, Conn.

Michele Keys wed in June

Michele Marjorie Keys selected a cap-sleeved gown of white organza, its portrait neckline outlined with leaf trim and pleating, its heavily-appliqued bodice extending to a dropped torso waist, for her evening wedding Thursday, June 9, to Dr. Del Charbonier.

Appliques of leaves, roses and lilies-of-the-valley accented her full skirt, with its pleated border hemline, which ended in a chapel length train. Her matching veil fell from a headpiece of the leaf and lily-of-the-valley appliques, and she carried an arrangement of white roses, ivy and baby's-breath.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crowley Keys, of Broadstone Road. The bridegroom is the son of Drs. Luis and Mercedes Charbonier, of Fordcroft Road.

The 7 o'clock ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, at which The Reverend Ray H. Kiely presided, was followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, after which the newlyweds left to travel to Florida.

They will make their home in Miami, where the bride will be pursuing pre-Medical studies in the University of Miami Honors Program and the bridegroom, a recent Wayne State University Medical School graduate, will be doing his residency in Internal Medicine at Jackson Memorial Hospital.

Honor maid Linda Charbonier, the bridegroom's sister, and bridesmaids Elizabeth Ann Parsons, the bride's first cousin, Martha Ann Pollock and Mary Jane Schuby wore floor length dresses of soft pink taffeta. They carried lavender roses with lavender baby's-breath.

Flower girl Amanada Ann Litchfield, in a long dress of cotton eyelet, carried a white wicker basket filled with lavender roses and lavender baby's-breath.

Rodolfo Rodriguez came from Georgia to act as his first cousin's best man. Ushering were Dr. Jose Rodriguez, Dr. Vinu Patel, Anthony Joseph Kasab, Miguel Arellano, Alberto Manzor and Kevin Kuznia.

The mother of the bride wore a two-piece, floor length dress of moire taffeta, in alternating shades of soft mauve. The bridegroom's mother selected floor length, periwinkle blue lace. Both wore wrist corsages of lavender roses with lavender baby's-breath.

Tobin-Jickling betrothal told

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jickling, of Birmingham, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Amy Carland, to Robert James Tobin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Tobin, of Stephens Road. The wedding is planned for early September.

Time to prepare for fall meetings

The Detroit Unit, National Association of Parliamentarians, is sponsoring a summer course in parliamentary procedure for beginners and advanced students. Classes are held on the third Wednesday of each month from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Federation of Women's Clubs, located on Fenkell Avenue in Detroit. Registration may be made through Mrs. Nathaniel Banks, 532-7435, Mrs. Clyde Kell, 835-0455, or Mrs. C.J. McInerney, 841-8854.

Marymount College of Virginia student PENNY SIMON, daughter of GEORGE and PENNY SIMON, of The Pointe, played tennis for the second year at the school. Penny majors in business administration, is active as president of Rowley Hall Council and co-curricular secretary, and enjoys computers and photography at Marymount.

Fall wedding date is made

October wedding plans are being made by Linda Henigson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Henigson, of Larchmont, N.Y., and J. Thomas Stanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Stanley, of Yorkshire Road.

Miss Henigson received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Italian and Art History cum laude from Vassar College in 1981. She studied at Syracuse University in Florence, Italy, during her junior year.

She is now assistant to the director of Arts and Education at Altos de Chavon, an arts village in the Dominican Republic, sponsored by Gulf and Western Industries Inc., working out of the New York office.

Her fiance received a Bachelor of Arts degree cum laude from Western Michigan University and a Master of Business Administration degree from the Columbia University Graduate School of Business.

He is an assistant vice-president at Merrill Lynch Money Markets Inc., in New York, and a former administrative officer at Brown Brothers Harriman and Company, in the international financial advisory service in New York.

ture from and return to the War Memorial are scheduled for the remainder of the summer. Sunset flights, leaving at 5 p.m. with return by 10:30 p.m., are scheduled for Friday, July 29, and Friday, Aug. 19. Sunrise flights, leaving at 5:30 a.m., returning by 10:30 a.m., are scheduled for Saturday, July 30, and Saturday, Aug. 20.

All are, of course, for passengers' safety, subject to wind and weather conditions, and will be rescheduled as needed. They're expensive ($95 per person, no refunds), but those who've been up, like Ray and Camilla Duffy, don't begrudge a penny of the price. Private parties of five or six people can schedule for mid-week sunrise or sunset flights through the War Memorial, too, by calling 881-7511.

Quarter Century of HOPE

Project HOPE (Health Opportunity for People Everywhere), the principal activity of the People to People Health Foundation, an independent, non-profit organization dedicated to health care in America and abroad, is 25 years old this year, and the Greater Detroit Project HOPE League plans to celebrate this quarter century of service with an elegant evening at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House Saturday, Aug. 6.

You're invited. A $25 donation covers terrace dancing under the stars, a tour of the house, hors d'oeuvres and an open bar. Hours are 7 p.m. to midnight. Admission is by advance reservation only. Reservation information may be obtained through the Project HOPE office, 649-4775.

Watch the Walls!

Harper Hospital patients and employees are richer for having met John Feight. In just one weekend, last weekend, the 43-year-old Atlanta artist painted four murals in Harper's cancer treatment areas, welcoming help from employees, patients, visitors — anyone who happened to be passing by and happened to want to lend a hand. Which was just about everyone.

Three women, including Lucie Jenkins-Johnson, A.C.S.W., of The Pointe, medical social worker for Harper's cancer patients, and a physician are responsible for Feight's Detroit assignment. The quartet (Mrs. Jenkins-Johnson, Karen Goldman, R.N., Ann Allen, who directs cancer patient education at Harper, and Laurence Baker, D.O., Chief of Oncology at Harper-Grace Hospitals) was also instrumental in setting up the new Harper Hospital Center for Living with Cancer.

The center, which now has one of Feight's nature scene murals, is used by cancer patients and their families for informal gatherings, for small group educational meetings and for holiday parties designed by the nursing staff for cancer patients.

There'll be more wall watching going on in downtown Detroit tomorrow, Friday, July 15, when friends and supporters of the Detroit Artists Market gather at its gallery on Randolph Street in Harmony Park for a 5 to 7 p.m. summer celebration to dedicate the Market's new wall mural by Kurt Novak.

A Wider Opportunity

Fourteen-year-old Patricia Ellison and Mary Trybus, both of The Woods, are having a fine old time in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia right now. They're participants in "Pioneers, Peaks and Presidents," a Girl Scout Wider Opportunity that has brought 75 young women from the United States and four foreign countries to Terrium College to learn a pioneer craft, such as candle-making or rug braiding... to ride horseback, tube on the Smith River, tour historic Virginia and discover America's heritage.

The program runs through July 24. The girls will also spend five days in the home of a local family and two nights at Virginia Skyline Girl Scout Council's camps.

Wider Opportunities throughout the United States and around the globe are available to both adult and teen Girl Scout members. Participants are selected on the basis of an interview, written character references, appropriate skill levels and Girl Scout experience.

Clark-Grimes rites in fall

Mid-September wedding plans have been made by Kathleen E. Grimes, of Village Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Grimes, of Kensington Road, Detroit, and Michael P. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Clark, of Sterling Heights.

Miss Grimes, an alumna of Wayne State University and Macomb County Community College, is a Registered Nurse.

Her fiancé was graduated from Kalamazoo College and the University of Detroit Law School. He is a member of the Detroit and Michigan Bar Associations, the Kathleen Grimes Michigan Trial Lawyers Association and the Kalamazoo and University of Detroit Alumni Associations.

Help at hand for overeaters

Overeaters Anonymous meets Friday mornings, at 9:30 a.m., at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church on Maumee Avenue, between Neff Road and St. Clair Avenue. The meetings are open to the public.

Josiah Harmar DAR will meet July 16

Mrs. Robert R. Bell will present the program, "A Pair of Deerskin Moccasins," when she hosts a noon luncheon at her Sterling Heights home this Saturday, July 16, for members of the General Josiah Harmar Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Daniel Leipprandt and Miss Mildred Skaglin. Further information may be obtained by calling 422-0006.

Summer fun for Phase I

Mid-July is a busy time for Phase I, the organization of single, young adults, ages 20 through 39, who gather regularly fall through spring for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, for although those meetings are suspended during the summer, the group has social and sports activities scheduled throughout the warm weather months.

Tomorrow, Friday, July 15, Phase I members plan to rendezvous at 8 p.m. at "Irish Joe's" table near the rear of the Emerald Isle Irish Pub on Harper Avenue, near Outer Drive, for an evening of songs and suds.

The following Friday, July 22, Phase I car pools leave The Pointe at 7 p.m. for Hilberry Theatre, where the curtain will rise on Frederick Knott's "Dial 'M' for Murder" at 8 p.m. Tickets are $6. Reservations are limited. Additional information may be obtained by calling 884-1661.

Outdoor volleyball at East Detroit Park, Stephens Road at I-94, is on Phase I's agenda next Wednesday, July 20. Game time is 7 p.m. Beginners are welcome.

Miss Wilson to say vows

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Wilson, of Lewiston Road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Beth, to John Terrence Lennon, son of Mary Kay and Peter Maxson, of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and John and Susan Lennon, of Novelty, Ohio. They plan to be married early next May.

Miss Wilson, a Grosse Pointe

South High School graduate, received a Bachelor of Arts degree in English (Writing) from Denison University this year. Her fiancé, an alumnus of Gilmore Academy, Gates Mills, Ohio, received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from Denison University, where he affiliated with the Delta Chi fraternity, last year.

Grand Sociable Scoundrel Time

The Sociable Scoundrels gathered in the main dining room of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club in mid-June for their 27th annual banquet. Mrs. Warren Wickstrom, in charge of the event, arranged for decorations in her favorite pink and purple color combination.

All-pink table settings were centered with purple violets in miniature crystal decanters. A single silk violet was attached to each name card. Assisting with arrangements for the evening were Mrs. Robert Horn and Mrs. George Cowden.

Officers for the 1983-84 season, introduced by Marvin Merrill, outgoing president, include Robert Shaffer, president, Don Duchene, vice-president, and Laura Cowden, social secretary.

Continuing in office for a fourth term as bowling secretary and treasurer, respectively, are Ida Tassos and Bonnie Mannie.

Successful Dressing seminar at Cottage

Dorothy Kay, corporate wardrobe consultant for Casual Corner, who presents wardrobe seminars, free of charge, to the business community, clubs and organizations throughout the metropolitan area, conducted a Successful Dressing program for the staff and ambulatory patients at Cottage Hospital last week.

You can now quit smoking in 5 days. No butts about it!

AHF Stop Smoking System

First, Fifth or Fifteenth Attempt

It doesn't matter how many previous attempts you've made at quitting: this time you will stop smoking for good. Through the AHF Stop Smoking System, your desire for nicotine will be neutralized... calmly, comfortably and quickly. The method is based on the most advanced scientific research and has proved to be successful even with the most hardcore smokers.

No need to worry about gaining weight or climbing the walls after you've quit. Our graduates (and there are thousands of them) tell us they experience few, if any, withdrawal symptoms. Quitting is a lot easier when you know how to do it.

Signs of Not Smoking

The immediate payoffs are numerous: fresher breath, more money in your pocket, less anxiety about your health. Add to that the sense of accomplishment and new found self-respect that come with finally freeing yourself from the habit and you'll see there is no longer any reason not to quit.

Come to a free introductory meeting. And bring your cigarettes. In 5 days you won't need them anymore. No butts about it!

Grosse Pointe North High School loses a principal and a pair of counselors this year, accounting between them for 58 years' experience within the Grosse Pointe Public School System, as Mr. Feighner, Mrs. Garr and "Father Devine" formally retire.

The principal is the baby of this trio of system retirees. Mr. Feighner came to the Pointe Schools just 13 years ago, from Royal Oak where he'd served as principal of Dondero High and Jane Addams Junior High.

A native of Detroit, he'd attended those same Royal Oak public schools where he taught, coached and later "principaled."

He earned his Bachelors degree from Albion College, which honored him as a Distinguished Alumnus in 1980. He earned his Masters degree in Education from Wayne State University in 1953, and was a Doctoral candidate at Michigan State University.

He's a member of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, and of the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals which presented him with a Service Award in 1978, and of the American Society for Curriculum Development.

He retires after 37 years in education and 3.5 years in the United States Army. His wife, Maryhelen, is also a retired school teacher. "Both of us were music teachers in our early teaching years," Mr. Feighner says. "Now I'd like to get back into music in some way."

THE FEIGNERS WILL continue living in Grosse Pointe, and Mr. Feighner looks forward to more time to participate in local activities. "I'll miss the interaction with the kids," he says, "but I won't miss the deadlines. I don't think any of us will. I don't think educators are basically clerical people."

"If it has a handle on it, I can use it," says Bonnie Garr. Born in Bay City, daughter of an engineer, she thought she'd like to follow in her father's career footsteps. Bonnie was the first girl ever to take drafting in her high school.

Some things change: Mrs. Garr, who retires as a Career Education Counselor at North High after 19 years with the Grosse Pointe Public School System, eventually went on to Wayne State University, where she earned a Bachelor of Science and Master of Education degrees, and, eventually, a second Masters in Career Guidance.

Some thing remain the same: Mrs. Garr, who can do plumbing, wiring, wield a wrench or screwdriver with the best of them, designed her home in Port Huron. She drew the blueprints. She glazed the windows.

The house is right on the St. Clair river, which is just great as far as Bonnie is concerned. She loves to sail. She's learning to snorkel — not in the treacherous river currents, of course; Bonnie picked up the rudiments of her latest skill on a recent trip to the Dutch Antilles.

During her career as an educator, she received three different summer school grants. At

Grosse Pointe North High School Retirees G. Bruce Feighner, Bonnie Garr and (not pictured) Joseph R. Devine

Cornell, she helped write a manual for commercial food teachers. At Rensselaer Polytechnic, she studied solar energy. At Oakland, under Detroit Edison sponsorship, she studied careers in industry.

At Grosse Pointe South High School, she wrote the course for commercial foods. At North High, she started the courses for Medical Aides and Child Development.

ALONG THE WAY, she served as president of Beta Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, a national organization for women in education. She also served as president of the Home Economics society at Wayne State.

Bonnie has two sons, one living in Farmington Hills and one, working for Martin Marietta with the space program, in Baltimore, Md., and two grandchildren, both courtesy of Number One Son.

Retired, she's "going to go!" She bought an RV this spring. She's a member of the Nomads travel club. She plans a five-week trip, ranging from the Caribbean to Morocco and the Mediterranean, in the fall.

Mrs. Garr believes in only planning one day at a time. She believes in looking forward to tomorrow, not back to yesterday. "Certainly I'll miss my friends on the North High staff," she says. "And I didn't realize until I saw the kids on-stage at the reception the school system gave for this year's retirees how much I'd miss THEM (the students)."

But there's so much to look forward to. Not the least of which is a farewell to regimentation: one thing Bonnie Garr never liked was "having to do something when the bell rings."

The reason Joe Devine is not pictured in connection with this article is that in order to get a picture of Joe the NEWS would have had to send a photographer north of The Straits, to the town of Dafer, 10 miles south of Sault Ste. Marie.

Put aside the questions of expense and time involved in such an excursion, and consider the likelihood of the photographer even FINDING Dafer — despite the fact that with the permanent addition of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Devine, its population has swelled from 150 to 152.

JOE, BORN IN COPPER City, raised in Copper Country, graduated from Calumet High School, has gone home, taking his wife of 31 years with him. His future plans call for extensive travels to the Two-Hearted and Fox Rivers, Monuscong Bay, Isle Royale, "and a few side trips to Texas and Arizona, if we can fit them in."

They'd better. Put aside the fact that midwinter snow in Copper Country can be really DEEP, and consider how daughter Karen, a paralegal secretary in Houston, would feel if her parents never paid her a visit.

Both Karen and her sister Cheryl, an accountant for Michigan Jewelers Supply Company in Troy, are married. The Devines also have a married son, Joe, assistant producer and announcer with WCUZ Radio in Grand Rapids, and a son Robbie, a senior at Sault Area High School.

Through the years, 26 with the Grosse Pointe School System following Byron Center, Brimley and Roseville, "Mr. Devine" became "Father Devine." He earned his Bachelors degree from Western Michigan University, his Masters degree from the University of Michigan. He taught Science and Biology before providing "Devine Guidance" to North High students.

They'll miss it. They miss him.

This is the second in a series of three articles this year's Public School System retirees. The final article, focusing on South High's Ruth Bentzen and Julia Meighan, appears next week.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, delectable main courses for SUMMER BARBECUES.

BARBECUED TURKEY

Turkey isn't just for holiday tables: it can be a treat throughout the year and often is very reasonably priced. When barbecued on a spit, the meat will be deliciously moist — and what a tempting aroma permeates the air!

- 1 small turkey (9 to 11 lbs.), preferably self-basting
- ½ cup dry white wine
- ½ cup vegetable oil
- 1 tsp. rosemary, crushed
- ½ tsp. salt
- ¾ tsp. pepper

Truss and balance turkey in center of spit, securing it with the prongs at ends. Combine wine, oil, rosemary, salt and pepper in a bowl. Roast over hot coals, basting every 15 minutes or so with wine mixture for about 4 to 4½ hours, or until juices run clear when the thigh area of turkey is pierced with a fork. Serves 8 to 10.

About 176 calories for 3½ ounces of white meat; about 203 calories for the same amount of dark meat. Cholesterol about 60 mgs for meat, (if skin is eaten along with meat, double the amount of cholesterol).

CHINESE-BROILED BREAST STEAK OF TURKEY

- 1 turkey breast or 6 turkey breast steaks, cut 1 to 1½ inches thick
- 1 tsp. grated fresh ginger
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- 1 Tbsp. honey
- ½ cup soy sauce
- ¼ cup salad oil
- 3 cloves garlic, minced

Combine all ingredients except steaks and blend thoroughly. Let mixture stand at room temperature 24 hours, then pour over turkey steaks; cover and refrigerate for several hours or overnight. Drain steaks and cook quickly on both sides on barbecue grill, allowing about 8 minutes per side. Brush occasionally with marinade, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Insufficient nutrition information available, but low in calories and cholesterol.

BARBECUED MINTED LEG OF LAMB

- 1 6-lb. leg of lamb, boned and rolled
- ½ cup orange marmalade
- ¼ cup minced fresh mint leaves
- 3 Tbsp. minced fresh chives
- ½ cup dry red wine

Combine marmalade, mint and chives; spread over meat. Roll up meat, tucking at the ends. Tie securely with cord. Center roast on spit; securely fasten holding forks. Attach spit and turn on motor (hot coals at back of firebox, drip pan under roast). Roast about 3 hours or until meat thermometer registers 175° to 180°. For the last hour, pour wine into drip pan and mix with drippings; baste meat with mixture frequently. Skim excess fat from wine mixture and pass with the lamb. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

ORANGE PORK CURRY

- 1 4 to 5-lb. pork loin roast
- 1 orange, cut in thin wedges
- 1 cup pineapple juice
- 6 Tbsp. brown sugar
- ¼ cup vinegar
- 1 Tbsp. curry powder
- 2 Tbsp. salad oil
- 2 Tbsp. soy sauce

Have butcher loosen backbone from ribs — but leave attached. Trim away excess fat — but leave sufficient so that roast will not become too dry. Cut to within 1 inch of backbone in 1-inch chops. In each slit, insert orange wedge, peel side out. Insert skewer lengthwise through chops and fruit. Tie roast with cord, end to end, in 2 or 3 places between. Insert spit; balance meat, securing with holding forks. Season meat very lightly with salt and pepper.

Roast on rotisserie, with hood down, over medium coals for 2 to 2½ hours, or until done. Combine remaining ingredients for sauce. Raise hood during last 30 minutes and brush meat with sauce at least 3 or 4 times. Makes 8 servings, with leftovers.
