Racing away

There were a lot of laughs and more than a few tears last month at the War Memorial during a farewell party given in honor of the Reverend and Mrs. Ray Kiely.

Mr. Kiely, pastor of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church for the past 13 years, leaves Sept. 1 for a two-year hitch as interim president of the Near East School of Theology in Beirut, Lebanon.

Mr. Kiely may find his assignment in Beirut a piece of cake compared to the running battle he's fought with the Free Press over their international marathon the past few years. As was stated before, Mr. Kiely (who spoke on behalf of a consortium of Grosse Pointe ministers) never opposed the race as such, just the timing and route of the marathon which always seemed to land lock him and his parishioners during peak service hours.

To show there were no hard feelings over the disputes, (all of which Mr. Kiely and his gang lost), Free Press Senior Managing Editor Neal Shine sent along a farewell letter and gift to Mr. Kiely.

The gift? A Free Press International Marathon T-Shirt presented by a man dressed in a police riot helmet, gas mask, flak vest and wielding a police baton. There were no reported injuries.

We don't suppose anyone has yet had the heart to tell Mr. Kiely about the Syrian-Israeli-Marine Corps International Marathon that runs right by his college? What a nice surprise!

Into the kitty

The City is $1,000 richer this week thanks to the generosity of two former residents. Mr. and Mrs. Stavro Kokline, (he's 93), presented the City with $1,000 in a little green envelope at a recent council meeting.

The Koklines, formerly 30-year residents of Cadioux Road, now live in Southfield. Everyone was touched by the gesture, especially after Mrs. Kokline told the council her 93-year-old husband was "still a little boy to her in her heart."

According to reports, the money is to be divided evenly between a general improvement fund and the police and fire departments for equipment and related improvements.

Thanks, from all of us.

A good scout

It's just work, work, work when you're a public servant. From out of Washington comes the tale of Congressman Dennis Hertel who was vacationing on Mackinac Island last month when he ran into a troop of Girl Scouts.

They were Grosse Pointe Woods Girl Scouts from Troop 327 to be exact. One thing led to another and the girls in green told the Honorable Dennis that they could use an American flag.

"Let me take care of it," he said, and he did. Troop 327 recently received an American flag that flew over the capital, compliments of our man in Washington.

What a guy.

Local School Closings

Parents urge elementary consolidation

By Joanne Gouleche

Sitting on school Supt. Kenneth Brummel's desk this Monday will be a recommendation by some local parents to consolidate elementary school children into other elementary schools in the district and not into the middle school population, as suggested by the administration to solve the school system's declining enrollment problem.

Those parents, members of the Defer Response Committee, say consolidating elementary students with middle school youngsters doesn't alleviate the declining enrollment problem and point out the administration's plan to consolidate the district into a K-5, 6 to 8 plan "leaves too many questions unanswered."

The Defer Response Committee was one of several school groups to organize shortly after Supt. Brummel announced in April his plan to close four elementary schools, including Defer elementary, by next fall. The following month the Board of Education voted to delay its controversial vote on the proposal until its Nov. 14 meeting to allow parents an opportunity to come up with alternatives.

In May Brummel issued a call to those parents to submit the alternatives to his office by an Aug. 1 deadline. In his request, Brummel asked parents to consider keeping the three middle and two high schools intact, and maintaining the neighborhood school concept.

In response to a 6,100 pupil loss over the last 10 years, the superintendent proposed shifting some elementary school children into the school system's three middle schools — Mason students to Parcells Middle School, Defer students to Pierce Middle School, and Kerby third, fourth and fifth graders to Brownell. Barnes students would be moved to Ferry and Monteith schools. Brummel's plan also included expanding the three middle schools into a 6 to 8 grade plan.

The administration says if something isn't done soon, many electives and special programs will be cut because of the severe decline. This fall administrators are predicting about 7,300 students in attendance in the public schools. Last fall about 7,785 students attended Pointe public schools. During the 1971 school year, the school system recorded its highest student attendance with some 13,400 pupils.

Defer Response Committee chairman Anne Schultz said group members concur with the recent Citizens Advisory Steering Committee recommendation in reorganizing the school system. Among other things, that report recommends elementary enrollment districts be redistricted or consolidated and property within the school district should be continued to be owned by the Board of Education.

It's a line up. Try to pick which girls are French, which are from Grosse Pointe. If you said the girl on the far left was Stephanie Purdy, of Harvard Road, next to her friend and French exchange student Isabelle Martin, you'd be right. On the far right is Wendy Willett, of Lockwood Road, with her new friend, Marie-France Paugam, of Ancey, France. The visiting students have been in Grosse Pointe since July 1 and will be leaving for home at the end of this month. All four teenagers are 14.

French find U.S.

Big, friendly, but the food . . .

By Tom Greenwood

Marie misses her dog and cheese. Isabelle misses cheese and nothing else.

Marie is Marie-France Paugam, 14, from Ancey, France. Isabelle is Isabelle Martin, from Lyon, France and both girls are in America for a look see.

Both are staying in Grosse Pointe (with the Howard Willett and Remington Purdy families respectively) as part of the N.A.C.E.L. (North Atlantic Cultural Exchange League), the largest exchange program between France and the United States.

They left France on July 1, with 245 other French students, landed in Maine for customs then flew on to Indianapolis. From there 65 of them boarded buses for Michigan with destinations ranging from St. Ignace to Mt. Clemens.

Once in the Pointe, the girls had Wendy Willett and Stephanie Purdy, both 14, to help smooth over cultural calamities and just generally pal around with.

The nice thing is, there's not as much "viva la difference" to cope with as everyone thought. Teenaged girls are pretty much the same, no matter which side of the Atlantic they're from.

While it's true the girls know just enough of each other's languages to make things confusingly funny, reactions are the same.

Ask one a question, and all four begin to giggle, blush, roll their eyes and whisper to each other. Anything and everything can set them off.

On the serious side, the French connection has found some pretty puzzling aspects to America. The first thing that stopped them dead in their tracks was a big neon "Jesus Saves" sign on a church.

"We don't advertise religion in France," said Marie solemnly. "Also, at home there's not such a big difference between where the rich and poor live like here. There are rich and poor people, but they live closer together."

Isabelle nodded in agreement. "The homes and laws here are so much bigger," she said. "The homes in Lyon are much closer together. Your cars are much, much bigger here too. But you drive too slow compared to the French. French drivers are crazy."

Rock and roll, blue jeans and TV are pretty much the same. The most popular program in France is "Dallas." At home, they have fewer channels to choose from, but also fewer commercials. "Here, every few minutes another commercial," said Marie, with a roll of her eyes.

The teens have been on a pretty busy schedule during their time in Grosse Pointe. Both have visited northern Michigan, gone for a dip in Lake Michigan (which seemed warm compared to mountain lakes at home), Greenfield Village, Lakeside Mall and Tiger stadium for a ball game. The dads took them on that excursion, filling them with hotdogs, Coke and an explanation of the rules that was lost in the translation.

"The French students involve more running" said Marie. "The game confused me." "It confuses me too," added Mrs. Willett.

The biggest difference so far to the visitors involves food. First of all, in Europe, lunch is the main meal of the day. Faced with the traditional light American lunch, the girls ate double their portions, feeling that would be their big meal of the day. When dinner time rolled around, they were in for a surprise.

Also, they don't mix sweet and sour at a meal. No sweet dressings on salads. Only vinegar and oil. A Jello salad placed before them at dinner time was saved until after the meal.

"And everywhere you go in America, burger, burger, burger," said Isabelle. "In Paris, there is only one McDonalds. Here they are everywhere." The thing (Continued on Page 2A)

Candidates running for Park City council in next Tuesday's primary are evenly split over who they will support for mayor when the November election rolls around. Two of them, Vernon Ausherman and incumbent Anthony Spada, said they'll back challenger Palmer Heenan in November. Two others, both incumbents John Prost and Roger McNeill, vow to stick with the current mayor Douglas Graham this fall.

Four remaining primary hopefuls, John Ryan, Robert McCormick, Paul Lechner and David Gaskin, said in recent interviews that they'll wait until later in the campaign to decide whom they'll back.

The city's crumbling roads, recent zoning decisions, the quality of leadership and its court system are among the other issues that were raised by the eight candidates in interviews with the News. Voters will narrow that field down to six candidates in next Tuesday's primary. Those six will compete for three council seats in November.

Current city leadership was criticized harshly by challengers and incumbent Spada because of the poor condition of local streets. More than half the Park's local roads are in need of major repairs, according to a study by the administration. Ausherman, Gaskin and Spada accused the city council of being negligent in not setting aside funds from past budgets to repair the roads. Spada said he tried to establish such a fund four years ago when he was first elected to city council, but his plan was stopped by then-mayor Matthew Patterson.

The candidates agreed, however, that if current efforts for state and federal funding of street repairs fail, some kind of tax increase will be needed to make sure they are resurfaced as soon as possible.

On the zoning issue, six of the candidates, Spada, Prost, Ausherman, Ryan, Gaskin and McNeill said they support the city council's recent decision to remove property currently occupied by public schools from the multiple family to single family zone in the city's new ordinance. The area had been included in the multiple family zone by planners to pave the way for development of "alternative housing" for senior citizens. Planners said that the lack of such housing forces seniors to leave the Park when they no longer need or can maintain large homes. The land was switched to the single family zone after dozens of citizens protested the multiple family designation.

Gaskin, who has been active in earlier battles against lot splits and other zoning matters, said he agreed with the council's decision because it will give city leaders more control over future developments. Anyone proposing such a development will be forced to "bring a concrete, specific plan to council," to seek a zoning variance, instead of simply meeting the minimum requirements for such a zone spelled out in an ordinance.

Two other candidates, McCormick and Lechner, endorsed the idea of providing some kind of alternative housing for seniors in cluster home, condominium or other types of low-maintenance developments.

The old issue of converting Grosse Pointe's municipal court system — one of the only two in the state — to a District Court was revived by two candidates, Ausherman and Ryan. Ausherman, an attorney, said it's ridiculous for the Pointes to claim a District Court would be too costly to operate when every other city (Continued on Page 2A)

AAA taking ACTION in car theft war

By Tom Greenwood

The Automobile Club of Michigan intends to put car thieves and chop shop owners out of business. AAA, the largest auto insurer in the state, proclaimed its new "ACTION" (Arrest Car Thieves In Our Neighborhoods), program at a special news conference at its Mack Avenue headquarters last week.

The club announced a four-part program that requires salvage yards to provide VIN (vehicle identification numbers) for any major parts required; a pre-insurance inspection of higher value vehicles; announcement of a toll free number for persons reporting car thieves and chop shop operations to police to qualify for up to $10,000 rewards and etching of VIN numbers on auto glass for later identification.

"Stolen car claims for the Auto Club skyrocketed 50 percent last year over 1981, with our members losing 14,289 vehicles to thieves," (Continued on Page 2A)

On hand for a demonstration of the Auto Club's new "ACTION" program were Woods Public Safety Officer Pat Fagan (kneeling), AAA Branch Administrative Manager for Grosse Pointe Nita Capitan, Woods Director of Public Safety Jack Patterson and Grosse Pointe Auto Club Claims Manager Joseph Serra. ACTION is a four-step program designed to reduce the number of auto thefts in Michigan.

Park police nab suspect in burglary

A man stopped by Park police for traffic violations was arraigned on breaking and entering charges in Farms Municipal Court on July 25. The man, Terry Holt, of Detroit, was transferred to Wayne County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Robert Pytell, according to police records.

Park Sgt. David Hiller and Ptl. Mark Maple stopped Holt on Saturday, July 23, at about 10 p.m. because a license check indicated the car he was driving had improper plates, according to their report. They found Holt wanted on traffic warrants in Detroit after a check with the Law Enforcement Information Network and took him to the station, police said.

The officers became suspicious when they noticed several items in the back seat of the car including a camera case that was tagged with a card listing a Grosse Pointe Farms address, according to the report. Park Judge Beverly Grobbel signed a search warrant for the car.

In the meantime, Farms police received a call about a breaking and entering in which a movie camera, projector, stereo and speaker, 35 mm camera, lenses, flash, piggy bank loaded with $20 in Kennedy half dollars, baptismal jewelry, gold jewelry and a black and white portable television were reported stolen.

Holt was arraigned in Park municipal court on traffic charges and bond was set at $200. He was turned over to Farms police.

Loners don't take drugs. Such is the claim of a priest who made a study of the matter in the Bedford Stuyvesant area of New York. No drug user thereabouts, said he, is without friends who likewise use drugs.

Parents present new plan

system," Mrs. Schultz said.

The Defer parents say combining elementary school children with other elementary school children will help improve the quality of education.

"If small numbers of students have a negative effect on quality, improved quality is achieved only by grouping larger numbers of elementary students together," Defer parents say.

Other recommendations made by Defer parents include:

- The elementary curriculum should be upgraded to include a science room in each school, a computer specialist, the option of foreign languages, a mathematics specialist, latch-key programs, possible all-day kindergarten and pre-school programs.

- The four corner or anchor schools (Poupard, Ferry, Defer and Trombly) should be kept open in any reorganization plan.

- Sixth graders should be consolidated into middle school structure of 6 to 8.

- Consolidation of the school system's three middle schools into two buildings should be targeted for the 1986-87 school year and not any sooner.

- "The number of schools to be closed if necessary be carefully and cautiously evaluated so that only the minimum number required be closed."

On that last point, the Defer committee says it has "serious reservations" about educational consultant Dr. Stan Hecker's predictions of further enrollment decline in Grosse Pointe's public schools. The Defer parents claim Hecker's projections are too general and are based on "standard computations."

"Grosse Pointe has a higher percentage of senior citizens than most suburban communities. When these seniors vacate their homes, families with children will be moving into them. People move into Grosse Pointe so that their children can attend Grosse Pointe schools. The community will continue to attract large numbers of families with children," the Defer report reads.

The parents also urge school administrators to remember the optimum capacity of the school system is about 10,000 students, not the "overcrowded enrollment of 13,337 students."

Sometime this summer or early fall, the school board and administrators are expected to sit down with those groups who have submitted alternatives to discuss how to reorganize the school system. The administration is expected to present its final school reorganization plan to the board Oct. 10.

That October meeting, however, may be pushed back up, according to the chairman of the schools' Excess Space Committee, which was appointed by the Board of Education in June to study uses for school buildings that may be possibly closed after board action this November.

The committee, among other things, has been asked by Supt. Brummel to look at which building in the school system is a suitable location for continuing education and a central administration location. The committee is expected to report to the board on Oct. 3. Excess Space Committee chairman Karen Knudsen said this week members will approach the superintendent and the board about extending the Oct. 3 deadline to November to allow more time to study the situation.

Storm knocks out power in Shores, Woods

High winds and heavy rains caused a number of black-outs and brown-outs Thursday night and Friday morning in the Woods and Shores. One Detroit Edison lineman was injured slightly in the Shores when the pole he was working on snapped at its base and fell.

Shores police reported a couple of primary power lines down in the village early Friday morning. At one point, all power from Oxford Road to the south village limits was out, according to reports.

In addition, wires were down along North Deeplands and Ballantyne, according to reports. Although there was considerable sparking from downed wires, no fires were reported.

Lightning struck a power transformer on Colonial Road, Thursday evening about 5 p.m. but except for a brief interruption of power, no further damage was reported, reports said.

In the Woods, Michigan Bell wires were reported down at the rear of Anton's Restaurant and along Norwood. Cable television wires were also reported down in some areas.

Power lines were reported down on Cook Road, Morningside and Wedgewood, causing brown-outs, Woods police reports said.

The roof of Mason School was also damaged during the heavy winds Thursday afternoon. Woods police reported a portion of the west wing of the school roof had blown toward the front. Insulation was visible under the damaged portion, according to reports.

they both miss the most is cheese. Americans hardly touch it compared to the French, and the selection isn't as varied.

At home in Ancey, Marie and her parents (dad is a technician and mom a school teacher) spend their summer vacation in the mountains. Based near the Swiss border, Marie spends a lot of time skiing and riding her 10 speed bike. "At home, I need a 10 speed for the hills," she said. "Here, everyone has one, but it's so flat." Marie hopes to be a computer technician when she grows up.

In Lyon, Isabelle lives in an apartment with her parents. Her father is a consulting engineer with his own firm. Isabelle also skis and spends part of her summer at an ice skating camp in the Alps. The family vacations on Corsica.

All in all, the good old U.S.A. has proven to be pretty much what the girls expected.

Tall buildings, big homes and friendly people.

"The French are not very friendly with strangers," said Marie, with Isabelle nodding in agreement. "But Americans are. Perhaps it's because the Americans like the French better than the French like Americans." Both hope to return to America when they're older and live here for a while.

Outdoor jazz concert ends festival series

The Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival will wrap up its series Wednesday, Aug. 3, at 8 p.m. with an outdoor jazz concert featuring James Dapogny's Chicago Jazz Band and blues singer Sippie Wallace.

The concert will be held lakeside at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, in the Farms. In the event of rain the concert will be moved indoors. Tickets are $9 for reserved chair seating, and $4 for grounds admission.

Optional picnic suppers for $6 are also available by reservation three days in advance of the performance, or audience members may bring their own picnic basket. The grounds overlooking Lake St. Clair will open at 6 p.m.

James Dapogny's Chicago Jazz Band specializes in traditional jazz. Their programs draw from early 20th century ragtime, from New Orleans and Chicago jazz of the 1920's, to swing of the 1930's and early 1940's.

The group's eight piece instrumentation is a four-piece rhythm section — piano, bass doubling tuba, guitar doubling banjo, and drums — with a front line of two reeds, trumpet and trombone. This instrumentation allows the Chicago Jazz Band the variation of size and sound necessary to perform the wide-ranging repertoire.

The band traces its musical ancestry to Jelly Roll Morton, Louis Armstrong, Fats Waller, Benny Goodman, Duke Ellington and dozens of other traditional jazz greats.

"We go back to original sources for most of our material," says band leader James Dapogny. "We love this music for its excitement, beauty and variety, not because of some vague notion of nostalgia. So, while I always mention to the audience something about the rich history of the pieces we play, it's the music itself that is the main focus."

"We play the music the way that we think would please its creators, at the same time recognizing that this is a living tradition to which we too have something to contribute," he added.

All members of the Chicago Jazz Band have been professional musicians full time, but like many jazz players, the members hold second jobs. In their occupations, the band members are as versatile as in their music: bassist Ed Wilkinson and drummer Wayne Jones are both full-time jazz musicians based in Chicago; trumpeter Paul Klingler and guitarist Rod McDonald are researchers in neuroscience and genetics respectively at the University of Michigan Medical School; trombonist Bob Smith is a computer systems designer; saxophonist-clarinetist Russ Whitman is a high-energy physicist with appointments at Rutgers University and the Fermi Lab in Illinois; clarinetist-saxophonist Peter Ferran and band-leader-pianist James Dapogny are professors of drama and music respectively at the University of Michigan.

The artists have performed throughout the United States and in Europe and Japan. Collectively, the members of James Dapogny's Chicago Jazz Band are on more than 45 recordings. Also, the band accompanies blues singer Sippie Wallace on her nationwide tours and television appearances.

Sippie Wallace was born in Houston, Texas Nov. 1, 1898. Learning to play piano and organ in her Southern Baptist Church at the age of 7, Sippie began leading choirs and playing for socials.

By the time she was 11 years old, Sippie was already appearing in musicals outside the church and as a teenager spent evenings and weekends performing with tent shows that were traveling through Houston.

In 1923 Sippie made a test pressing of "Shorty George" and "Up the Country." It was released immediately and sold 100,000 copies in the first month. Sippie gained such notoriety that she was allowed artistic freedom that few others enjoyed.

In the months that followed, Sippie enlisted her old friends from New Orleans who also had moved North. King Oliver, Louis Armstrong, Sidney Bechet and Johnny Dods all played on Sippie's records.

Second in record sales only to Bessie Smith, Sippie's success can't be measured in record sales alone. She became a star on the vaudeville circuit traveling from New York to San Francisco and back again dozens of times in her very own Pullman car with a "Sippie Wallace - Texas Nightingale" banner stretched across the side.

Twenty-seven hit records and seven years of memories later, Sippie retired from vaudeville and moved to Detroit. She performed in the theaters around Michigan until 1933 and then remained active only as a gospel choir leader.

Sippe came out of retirement in 1965 when Ron Harwood discovered her living in obscurity and convinced her to begin singing blues again. In 1970, Sippie suffered a stroke, which left her paralyzed and without speech for almost a year. Two years after her stroke, Sippie sang her first concert with Bonnie Raitt in Ann Arbor.

A preview of their music can be heard on WQRS — Timeless FM 105.1 Monday, Aug. 1, at 8 p.m. on the Paine Webber Detroit Showcase. For more information about the concert, call 881-7511.

Summer Music Festival performers

James Dapogny's Chicago Jazz Band will perform at the final concert of the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival Wednesday, Aug. 3, at 8 p.m. at the War Memorial. The outdoor concert will be held lakeside at the War Memorial but will move inside in case of rain. Tickets are $9 for reserved chairs, $4 for grounds admission, and optional picnic dinners are available for $6.

Village sets sidewalk sale this weekend

"Friday Night Live and Saturday, Too" will return to the Village along Kercheval Avenue this Friday and Saturday, July 29 and 30.

Kercheval between Cadieux and Neff Roads will close down to traffic to allow merchants to sell clearance and overstock merchandise on the street beginning at 6 p.m. Merchants will offer price reductions of between 20 and 80 percent, according to the Grosse Pointe Village Association, sponsor of the event.

"The Standard Five," a local senior citizen musical ensemble will provide entertainment from 6 to 7 p.m. The 50-member East Side Sweet Adelines Barbershop group also will provide shoppers with entertainment. Ice cream, hot dogs, popcorn and desserts will be available.

On Saturday, Kercheval will be open to traffic with sales continuing from sidewalk storefronts from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Community blood drive is Thursday

The War Memorial will open the doors of the Fries Ballroom to blood donors, Thursday, Aug. 4, from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m.

According to a recent report, baseless fear is preventing the Red Cross from obtaining the blood it needs to service the people in Southeastern Michigan.

"Too many would-be blood donors, misled by publicity about the malady known as AIDS, have been needlessly frightened about the possibility of contracting the disease," said the report.

The article added that there is virtually no possibility of blood donors acquiring AIDS.

Summer is normally a slow time for donations since schools are closed and there are fewer blood drives. But this summer the blood supply is even more seriously diminished.

Donors who are on a tight time schedule may make an appointment by calling the War Memorial at 881-7511. Walk-ins will also be accommodated.

The blood drive is in cooperation with the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Council and the American Red Cross.

In the Old West, you could tell where a cowboy came from by the way he shaped his hat. Example: The Wyoming block has its brim turned up on the side but sloped down both front and back.

Blanchard recall drive continues

By Mike Andrzejczyk

The campaign to recall Gov. James Blanchard will ignore a state law that limits the validity of signatures on recall petitions to 90 days, and continue collecting signatures until it has enough to force a recall election.

In addition, the Recall Blanchard campaign is trying to join forces with other recall campaigns against state senators and legislators who supported Gov. Blanchard's tax increase to coordinate the circulation of petitions for the recalls, according to the chairman of the Blanchard recall campaign.

Under state law, signatures on the recall petitions are valid for 90 days. Petitions can be circulated after the three months, but signatures older than 90 days are invalid, according to Detroit attorney Gary Parker, who is chairman of a committee seeking the recall of state Sen. John Kelly, Detroit.

Recall Blanchard chairman John Lauve, 42, of the Woods, said the 90-day limit on the validity of signatures is unconstitutional. The committee will continue to collect signatures until it has enough, then ask the state to waive its 90-day limit, he said. The committee has collected more than 400,000 signatures, short of its original goal of 900,000.

Lauve had said the group hoped to collect 900,000 signatures before a self-imposed deadline of July 15 to give the committee a "cushion" against the invalid signatures that may turn up.

In a press release, Lauve said the 90-day limit violated both the state and federal constitution. The Michigan Constitution authorized the legislature to enact laws to provide for the recall of all elective officers except for judges of courts of record.

The state constitution, enacted in 1963, said that the number of signatures necessary to force a recall is 25 percent of the total vote in the last gubernatorial election in the electoral district of the official being recalled. Since the governor is elected state-wide, 760,002 signatures are required.

In addition, the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution provides for the petitioning of the government for redress of grievances. The state legislature had limited the rights of citizens to petition their government, Lauve said.

Parker will argue the case should the state refuse the 90-day limitation. Attorneys are now digging through the history of the deliberation of the state constitution in order to determine what the writers had in mind when drawing up the recall provision, he said.

Parker said the legislature, in enacting the recall legislation, failed to take into account the constitution.

Lauve also said the group was teaming up with other committees seeking the recall of state legislators and representatives who supported the tax increase. Also, petitions are available by calling the committee's headquarters at 445-1776, or by stopping at the building, located at 16116 Twelve Mile Road in Roseville.

Parker said there had been some discussion of coordination of efforts between the Recall Kelly and Recall Blanchard committees. The idea is to have circulators of Recall Kelly petitions carry recall Blanchard petition and circulators of Recall Blanchard petitions in Kelly's northern Detroit, Harper Woods and Grosse Pointe district to carry recall Kelly petitions.

This way, Parker said, a person can sign both petitions for the recall of the officials. There are currently 14 state senators and representatives who face recall drives, he added. Parker added that Recall Kelly petitions should be ready for circulation beginning in early August.

One-way street plan approved in Woods

By Mike Andrzejczyk
One-way signs should begin appearing in the northwest area of the Woods next month. The city council approved the changes for some streets after requests by residents to limit the amount of traffic in the area.

The council authorized the change at its Monday, July 19, meeting after petitions circulated by residents showed that 80 percent of those polled by circulators approved of the change.

The traffic sign changes will turn Brys, Roslyn, Hampton and Ridgmont into westbound one-ways from the alley west of Mack to Helen. Helen will be one-way southbound from Brys to Vernier. Right turn only and no left turn signs will be posted at Hawthorne, Hollywood and Anita along Helen to limit turns during the afternoon rush hour.

Circulators handed in signed petitions showing 80 percent of the residents contacted on Ridgmont approved of the change. Hampton residents contacted by circulators approved the change by 80 percent, while 65 percent of Roslyn residents approved of the plan. All Brys residents contacted by circulators approved of the changes. The council also authorized City Administrator-Clerk Chester Petersen to begin taking bids and purchase the necessary signs from the lowest bidder without coming back to the council. The plan was initiated to expedite the changes, councilmen said.

Petersen told the council that under the city's charter, purchases of more than $1,000 need to be approved by the council. By keeping the purchase orders below $1,000, the city administration can handle the purchases and speed the placing of the signs, which should take about four to five weeks, Petersen said.

The council also asked that after the first 90 days of the program, a report be made to the council. In addition, the Department of Public Safety is to give special attention to the area to help enforce the new traffic patterns for the first three months.

Public Safety director Jack Patterson told the council that special attention could be given to the area, but because the department is short an officer, a directed traffic enforcement program could not be kept in the area.

In a letter to the council, Patterson asked that the city consider hiring another officer 45 days earlier than planned to allow the department to post a special detail in the area.

The department has been operating one man short since John Dankel left last year as director to take a post in Georgia. For the coming budget year, the council granted the request for hiring one officer in October, although Patterson has requested hiring at least two new officers "to place patrol units and have proper fire personnel to guarantee the safety of our citizens," he said.

The replacement for retired Lt. Allen Selby is now in the police academy and will graduate in late August, Patterson said. Because of orientation to department procedures, he will be of little use for at least six months, he added.

"The first 90 days of any resigning are very important," Patterson said. "I wholeheartedly endorse the hiring and positioning of the patrolman in the area."

Councilman Robert Novitke agreed, saying that drivers in the area had to be made aware of the changed patterns. "If we're going to have a dramatic change in the traffic in the area, we need to give special attention to the area."

Councilman John Sabol disagreed, however, saying the budget did not allow the hiring of another officer 45 days earlier than planned. In addition, because the area is patrolled frequently by regular officers, there is no need for a directed traffic program in the area, he added.

The council compromised and authorized "special attention" for the area without the additional officer. Patterson agreed and said it would be "no problem."

City plans renovation

The Grosse Pointe City Council last week studied sketches of a proposed $107,900 renovation to the city's public safety offices and gave its approval to architect John Stevens Associates, Inc. to draw up specifications to bid out the project.

The refurbishing will include modernization of the first and second floors of the 55-year-old building and some exterior improvements.

In his presentation before the council, architect Stevens, who is a resident of the City, said plans were made a year ago for the renovation to make the public safety building a "more efficient and secure environment."

Presently, the building's holding area for prisoners is cramped and in view of the public, Stevens said. The renovation calls for the room to be expanded and out of view from the public.

Other renovations to the first floor include a new central dispatch area, new offices for police chief Bruce D. Kennedy and other police personnel, suspended acoustic ceiling, vinyl flooring and recessed fluorescent lighting.

Renovations to the living quarters of public safety officers will include an enclosed dormitory, carpeting on hardwood floors and new guard rails around fire poles.

Stevens said the renovation project would take about six months to complete.

The City has allocated about $120,000 in its 1983-84 budget for the project, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach.

Shores officers agree to three-year pay freeze

The village and public safety officers in the Shores have reached agreement on a three-year contract. The "status-quo" agreement offers no wage increases, but adds a tuition credit and retirement plan improvements similar to those for command officers, village officials said.

The base salary and cost-of-living provisions will remain the same as under the previous agreement, which expired recently, village attorney William Killebrew said. A provision allowing officers to retire at age 50 or after 25 years of service was added to give the officers parity with a similar plan for command officers, he said.

The contract also offers a tuition reimbursement provision for officers who complete degrees in law enforcement, Killebrew said. Currently, one officer is working toward the degree, he added.

A desk position for a public safety officer was eliminated under the agreement, allowing the department to hire a third public safety clerk. The retirement of one officer allowed the hiring of the clerk.

Killebrew said the negotiations were very amicable, adding the public safety officers were "very professional."

In the Woods, the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Association has filed for arbitration in its continued negotiations with the city over a third year base salary increase, union officials said. A recent meeting with a mediator failed to bring the two sides together, the officials added.

Under the present contract in the Woods, base salary was open to negotiation in the last year of the three-year agreement. The present agreement expires next July. Negotiations for the upcoming contract are scheduled to begin in February, union officials said.

Sheriffs will patrol lake

The Wayne County Sheriff's Marine Safety Division is now patrolling county waters. Sheriff Robert Picano reinstated the division after a two-year absence.

The sheriff's department will enforce marine law on county waters this year with the help of the Marine Advisory Task Force, an advisory council composed of marina, yacht and boat club owners, local police agencies whose communities border water, the U.S. Coast Guard and the Department of Natural Resources.

The patrol will consist of eight officers operating four boats on the county waterways, which include the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair, Lake Erie and Belleville Lake. Although all marine patrol officers are trained in search-and-rescue operations, the sheriff's patrol will enforce boating laws.

The Marine Patrol is responsible for enforcement of wake law, checking for proper registration, crime prevention around boat clubs, marking valuables aboard boats and inspecting for safety violations.

A smiling tribute to Feighner

This year's final meeting of the North High School Parents Club found president Tom Cappas (left) unveiling a portrait of retiring North Principal G. Bruce Feighner as Mr. and Mrs. Feighner smiled their approval. The portrait by Grosse Pointe artist Betty Prudden was commissioned by the Parents Club to commemorate the retirement of Feighner. It will be hung in the office area of the school. In addition, the Parents Club established the G. Bruce Feighner enrichment fund for students. Contributions can be sent to the Grosse Pointe North Parents Club, 707 Vernier, Grosse Pointe Woods. Checks should be made out to the Foundation for Academic Enrichment, which will administer the fund.

Preserving the past

It was George Santayana, the Spanish-American philosopher, who wrote, "Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it." Those words could well stand as a tribute to the libraries of the world because they are the keepers of the history, culture and tradition of the past not only for today's generation but for future generations. Without libraries, most of us would be among those who cannot remember the past and are condemned to repeat it.

THE OCCASION for these somber comments is the current plight of libraries in such big cities as Detroit where staffs are being reduced and branches closed because of the budget crunch. Those impacts of the recession on Detroit also should remind Grosse Pointe residents of their good fortune in having an excellent library system which is operated as an arm of the public school system.

A couple of days ago the Detroit Free Press reported that Detroit in 1982 spent $11.60 per capita on its libraries and no doubt will spend less this year because of the budget crunch. In comparison, the Free Press reported that Grosse Pointe spent $18.60, a substantially higher per capita figure, even though that figure was exceeded by Dearborn's $23.10 and Flint's $19.90.

However, William Peters, director of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries, points out that per capita spending for the library system here amounted to $24.67 when the revenues from the local library millage, state and county aid, and fines and other receipts generated by the local library system are taken into consideration. What the comparable figures would be for Detroit, Dearborn and Flint aren't known but it is clear that Grosse Pointe is spending much more per capita on its libraries than does Detroit.

The Grosse Pointe library system harbors 121,318 books and subscribes to 546 magazines and newspapers. In the year ending last June 30, it reported a circulation of 509,502 items, which means an average of 8.73 items for every one of the 58,330 people in the school district, which includes all of the Pointes and a sliver of Harper Woods. Circulation hit an all-time peak of about 515,000 a decade ago, but that was at a time when the district's population was 10 percent greater than it currently is. So per capita use is higher now.

SO FAR, CUTBACKS in the Detroit library system have not had much effect on the local system, but Peters expects several results. Because suburban libraries rely heavily on Detroit's main library to fill the demands of some highly sophisticated library users, there will be more pressure on libraries like those in the Pointes to meet such needs when Detroit no longer can afford to do so. In addition, more Detroit residents may call on the Grosse Pointe library for service they are unable to get in Detroit. Such service is free although non-residents must pay $25 a year for library cards entitling them to borrowing privileges.

A visitor to the Grosse Pointe libraries finds a representative slice of life from the Pointes ranging from pre-schoolers looking for their special books to the retirees seeking their favorite newspaper in the reading room. But not every user is a reader or book borrower. The main library also loans an extensive collection of garden tools, video cassettes and chamber music in both records and sheet music. Yet such items also tell us something about our history, culture and tradition.

Because unemployment has not been a major problem in the Pointes, there has not been the increase in the residents who frequent the library daily that there has been in Detroit and less fortunate suburbs. The irony is that there is greater use of libraries generally during a recession as the unemployed seek information on job opportunities and cost-free entertainment, and yet the recession requires a cutback in library services.

FORTUNATELY, that's not true in the Pointes, with the result the library system remains a popular place for most members of most families, whether they are interested in books, magazines, tools, video cassettes, music or the copying machine. Overall, however, the most important role for any library is in helping preserve the past, for without knowing where we have been, we have no guideposts as to where we are or where we are heading.

To the Editor:

We had the pleasure of attending the Detroit Concert Band program conducted by Dr. Leonard B. Smith at the Grosse Pointe North High inner court during the past week.

It was a very enjoyable concert which was attended by a capacity crowd of residents both young and old during both performances. The music as well as the guest singers were excellent with many selections receiving standing ovations. After the rendition of John Philip Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" the audience responded with an applause that was deafening.

When the music director of Grosse Pointe North High School spoke and suggested that this concert be an annual event, the entire audience were in full agreement.

Colonial Federal Savings Loan Association should be highly commended for sponsoring such fine performances.

School taxes elicit response

To the Editor:

Isn't it a wonderful feeling knowing that our school taxes will be increased again? I'm sure if the school system was down to 150 students, the school board would still want to raise the school tax. We the taxpayers are sacrificial lambs. Remember now, we must keep the school taxes high so we can maintain our property values.

Senator's view from Lansing

State branch banking for the future

By John Kelly
State Senator

One of the most discussed concepts in the area of financial institutions is the issue of statewide branch banking. Just prior to the Legislature's summer recess, I introduced Senate Bill 369 designed to permit statewide branch banking, as well as limited interstate banking, in Michigan. In constructing this bill, attention was given to increasing banking competition and providing an infusion of new capital into Michigan, thereby benefitting consumers statewide.

There are aspects of Michigan's banking code that simply do not address the complexities of our economy or society. At a time when our laws should be encouraging competition in the banking industry and promoting the investment of new capital in the state, we are abiding under laws that discourage the very factors that would enhance economic recovery. Furthermore the law undermines the best interests of consumers and that in itself is reason for us to consider revising that law.

In 1977 the Governor's Advisory Commission on the Regulation of Financial Institutions recommended statewide branch banking to provide customers in all parts of the state with the benefits of increased services and more competitive charges and deposit returns. At least 20 states in the nation are allowing unlimited branch banking. This statewide branching service is already permitted among savings and loans associations and credit unions in our state.

Senate Bill 369 would also allow holding companies headquartered in other states to acquire or gain controlling interest in a Michigan bank following approval of the Financial Institutions Commissioner. Such approval would be contingent on reciprocating action on the part of the state in which the institution is based. I believe by relaxing our interstate banking regulations we will benefit consumers and Michigan based holding companies.

During the last session of the legislature I proposed that we allow statewide branch banking. The proposal was voted out of committee, but was stalled on the Senate floor by a collection of small but collectively powerful special interest groups. Because the bill amends the Banking Code of the state, it requires a two-thirds vote of the Senate, 26 votes, (most bills only require a majority of those serving, 20 votes).

It is my hope that we can move beyond this stalemate by highlighting the benefits of increased competition and by encouraging other states to welcome Michigan banks into their marketplace. If we are successful then this proposal will have a positive impact on Michigan's economy within a short period of time.

I plan to spend a considerable amount of time this summer working for the passage of this bill. While it is not a bill that has the glamour or emotionalism of many other issues, I believe it is in the best interests of the citizens of this state that we catch up to other states in this area. The bill is currently in the Senate Committee on Corporations and Economic Development. As chairman of this committee, I hope to schedule a hearing on Senate Bill 369 before the end of the year.

SEMTA's pig in a poke

Back in the days before the private automobile became so popular in this country, transportation systems were privately owned and profitable enterprises. Not so any longer. Now most transportation systems, whether trains, bus systems or light rail transit, are publicly owned and directly subsidized in one way or another by the taxpayers. Costs have risen despite increased usage, with the predictable result that farebox receipts no longer meet expenses. Hence, federal, state and local subsidies are required.

The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority that provides bus service in the Pointes and other suburbs is no exception. It already has been subsidized by the state and federal governments as well as by taxes on license plates and title transfers in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Now that it has proposed a $2.2 billion expansion of its regional transit plan, even more subsidies would be required to make it financially feasible.

CONSTRUCTION costs would be borne largely by the state and federal governments. But less than half of the operating expenses would be funded by farebox and other miscellaneous revenue. The state and federal governments would cover almost half of the costs but even with that aid there still would be a deficit of about $40 million. So SEMTA is considering some additional form of tax in the tri-county area of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties which the expansion would serve.

In a series of public hearings on the expansion plan, most of the testimony has supported expanded service but few witnesses supported any tax increase. Downtown business representatives backed the plan but were noncommittal about tri-county taxes to support it. Some users complained about the quality of the present SEMTA service. And some witnesses said SEMTA should provide more specific information on taxes and financing before asking the public to support the plan.

We tend to agree with that complaint. While the SEMTA board has discussed various methods of taxation, it has not yet agreed upon any specific financial plan to raise more operating funds. Most talk to date has centered on a proposed one percentage point increase in the sales tax in the tri-county area but even that would require authorization by the Legislature and a vote by the people in the area. So far the SEMTA board has only said that a referendum on the tax proposal, whatever it is, should be held by next April 1 to meet the deadline imposed by the Oakland County Board of Commissioners.

It is, we suppose, a public relations ploy to try to sell the benefits of expanded transit service in the tri-county area before explaining what the additional costs to the public would be. Yet a trade-off is involved here. People in the metropolitan area might be willing to pay something for improved transit service but they are not about to buy a pig in a poke. They need to know as soon as possible just what the additional tax burden of the improved service would be. Then they can decide whether that is too high a price to pay for that service.

SEMTA OUGHT TO decide just how it plans to raise the additional operating funds required and make its sales pitch at the same time it is describing the expanded service it is proposing. The cost cannot be separated from the benefits and until the two are joined the public is unlikely to support the plan at public hearings or at the polls.

Action on the car lots

Buying a new or used car these days is a lot more exciting than it was six months ago, a friend discovered when he visited several Mack Avenue lots a few days ago.

The lots were full of people inspecting the cars inside and out, talking with salespersons, asking for prices and, in many cases, finally making purchases. Sales people were busy on the lots and on the telephones and many were trying to accommodate several customers at the same time. It was, as one salesman said, just like the good old days.

THE EVIDENCE continues to mount that the worst of the recession — makes that depression in Michigan — has passed and this economy is beginning to get moving in Detroit as well as the rest of the nation. Jobs still are not plentiful but when sales of cars begin to rise in the Detroit metropolitan area, the general outlook improves for the entire state. That doesn't mean that all sales occur spontaneously. Price and the sales pitch are still important. The sales person who seeks to find what the customer is looking for, offers interesting options and then provides specific prices is the sales person who does the best even in the improving market. In fact, it was just such a salesman who sold a used car to our friend.

Headlines in the daily newspapers tell the optimistic story. "GM to up output, call back workers," says the Detroit News. "Chrysler: has best quarter ever," says the Detroit Free Press. Even the New York Times offers an optimistic report on Detroit auto sales, for a change.

BACK ON THE lots, however, it is the individual sales person dealing with the individual customer who starts the action. The domestic auto industry may not yet be in a boom but it obviously is out of the busted stage. Credit the sales people with a major assist to the manufacturers, designers and financing organizations that are cooperating to reclaim the Motor City title for Detroit.

Park primary hopefuls go on the record about the issues

The News editorial writer and a reporter sat down with all eight candidates in the Aug. 2 primary election to discuss their qualifications for office (or, their accomplishments in office if they are incumbents); the city roads; recent zoning decisions; the quality of city leadership; school closings; the mayor's race and their programs. Their responses have been edited and appear below.

Anthony Spada

Anthony Spada, of Kensington Road, has served four years on the city council. He is a practicing attorney.

Your accomplishments?

I've been constrained by being on "the outs. One man, by himself, can't do much. Sometimes I can't even get a second to my motions.

Roads?

I'm critical of the attempts being made now for funding of street repairs from the standpoint that I think we should have had some long range plans for dealing with this. I think our management failed us in that regard. I began looking into this issue four years ago when I was first elected and proposed a combination long-range plan for building up our reserves and short-range plan to issue bonds, as minimal as possible, to get a start (on repairs). (Then mayor Matthew) Paterson was the strongest influence in stopping it. But that's the approach I think we should take now.

Zoning?

I've been a proponent of maintaining the single family character of this community. It has not been shown to me that there is a need for alternative housing. Nine out of 10 senior citizens I have talked to say they don't want alternative housing in the city. Only one caller to me said she felt it was needed. My personal opinion is that they're quite satisfied with the way housing is now.

Leadership?

I would say the people who are coming to me and talking to me are not pleased with current city leadership. I reflected that when I opposed the raise in the city manager's salary (earlier this year). I received a great response to that. People are concerned about crime, taxes, roads and zoning. I got almost half the votes in the mayoral election two years ago. I lost by only 350 votes. I think opposition to the current leader has grown since then.

Mayor?

I'm not going to support Graham. I will support Heenan. I don't really know the man, but he is a formidable businessman and a long-time Grosse Pointe. He

John Prost

John Prost, of Pemberton Road, is an insurance representative with Dominion Life. He has completed one four-year term on the council.

Your accomplishments?

My purpose is to establish a greater sense of community in the Park. And, to develop greater communication, I began using a form to get people's concerns on paper and to help me get a response back to them. I think a lot more people have had a chance to develop a working relationship with city government because of that. I feel good about creation of the recreation commission, they have done a lot of good for the parks, and the beautification commission. Those people have made a big difference in the appearance of the city. I feel good about the block grant program. That has contributed a great deal to our commercial areas and to the restoration of many old homes, although not many people know about the latter.

Roads?

We have to determine now if the interest rate on the state bonds (that the city can borrow) is acceptable, something we can af-asked me about my programs and I think he is a serious man.

School closings?

I would be the slowest man to close those schools. I'm involved in the U.S. Naval Academy in the high schools and I have a deep interest in education. We have a beautiful garden here in Grosse Pointe and some beautiful flowers growing in that garden. I want to keep it that way.

Your programs?

We have to concern ourselves with the roads, first. We're going to have to look at the crime problem, too. I've always been a proponent of cost-efficiency studies and I intend to keep pushing in that direction. We can't expect people to keep paying these high taxes. I have demanded reports from each department on cost-efficiency and I still don't have them.

ford. If it's not and we can't get the state funding, then I see no reason we can't go back to the community with a good, well laid out program telling voters what it will cost and giving them another chance to approve a tax increase.

Zoning?

I don't think it's necessary to provide "alternative housing." As chairman of the ordinance review committee, I was among the first persons to sit down with (the planners) and discuss what direction we want to go in. I think what we can anticipate in the next 15 to 20 years is single family housing. If the feeling of the community changes in the future, we can change the zoning ordinance. These laws are not irrevocable.

Leadership?

In general, I get a pretty good feeling when I go door-to-door talking to people. When you have a community where the big issue is streets — hey, that's not a bad community. We don't have a lot of problems. I think people like what's going on. I'm getting very positive responses to the park, to Mack Avenue and Kercheval. I am hearing a lot of complaints about Jefferson Avenue, though, where there are many vacant buildings.

Robert McCormick

Robert McCormick, of Bishop Road, is a professor at Detroit College of Law and a professional arbitrator. This is his first bid for elected office.

Why run?

I've lived in many different communities and it's my estimation that this is the finest community in which I've ever lived for myself and my family. The quality of life — schools, services, parks, recreation — are all of the highest quality. This is my effort to make some contribution. I would be a good choice for council because I'm a lawyer, professor of law, particularly familiar with labor relations as a neutral. I would take a measured approach to operations of city government.

Roads?

About half the roads need repair and it's going to cost about $2 million. Voters turned down a tax increase for roads and one has to wonder if that reflects the views of the majority of citizens. If neither (grant application) works, we'll have to go back to the people and see how badly they want them repaired.

Zoning?

That's a very sensitive issue. Whenever the question of multiple family housing comes up it raises questions about over crowding, which is not conducive to the type

Your programs?

We still have to do more to make the community more secure. I see a lot of doors open and garages left empty and open. We're starting a crime prevention program, but we have to do more. In the future, I'd like to do what we did this year and cut taxes again. We reduced them by 3.9 percent, dollar-for-dollar. The big variable in that is the labor contract. It's hard to say what's going to happen there with police and fire fighters.

I also want to continue working on the parks. You know, we're putting a boat launch ramp at Patterson Park this year and I'd like to see a beach there too. I also want to continue to work to develop a sense of community here.

Mayor?

I'm supporting Doug Graham. He's done a good job.

John "J.P." Ryan

John Ryan, of Lakepointe Avenue, is making his second try for city council, having run in 1981, won in the primary and lost in the general election. He is marketing director of Michigan Condominium Association.

Why run?

I think sometimes we have to overcome our personal feelings and do what's best for the entire community. I'm in management, supervising and training many people. It's a world of compromise and I am fully able to work with people, which is what you do on city council. My work has made me familiar with property values, taxation and related issues.

Roads?

I think bonds, extra millage and assessments are, by alternatives. I think they're going to have to do one of those things. I think a bond issue would be best. It requires immediate action or it's just going to cost us much more.

Zoning?

There are other housing alternatives — cluster housing, planned unit developments such as co-ops, that would provide seniors with a nice two bedroom home and let them not worry about maintenance. I would support asking voters to decide if land should be zoned for alternative housing for seniors. I would go with the will of the people. I support the council's decision to remove the schools from the (multiple family) zone. People have not yet stated their will.

It's a very sensitive issue. Many people in my neighborhood have been displaced from Poletown and are hoping to spend the rest of their lives here. They become very emotional about this and we have to be very careful with it.

Leadership?

People are not pleased with the current leadership. That's why I decided to run again. Nothing has changed from three years ago. People are still talking to me about the demonstration house — the city spent $50,000 on it and barely got its money back when they sold it. I think communications need to be improved.

Your programs?

When I'm elected I will strive again to make sure the agenda for council meetings is printed in advance so the public can know what is on it. I think we should make better use of our recreational facilities. There were 6,800 people in Windmill Pointe Park on July 3 and 4. It's impossible that they were all residents and guests. I don't think our residents, who pay for them, are getting the most use of our parks. I also fail to see why the council will not take affirmative action on the District Court issue. Eventually the state will tell us we need a District Court. Why wait for an outside community to tell us to do this? I'd just as soon have all five communities do it, but if the Park has to go it alone, I think it should. There's property at the Mack city limits and the AAA building on Jefferson is empty.

Mayor?

I'm supporting John Ryan for council. I'll make that decision later.

Hospital receives bomb threat

Grosse Pointe City police believe a man making a collect call from a phone booth in front of the Grosse Pointe News office last Friday evening, July 22, may have been the individual calling Bon Secours Hospital with a bomb threat.

According to reports, a hospital operator received a call that evening from a Michigan Bell operator who asked if she would accept a collect call. At that point, the person at the other end of the line making the request interrupted the operator and said, "There's a bomb in the hospital and it's going to go off any minute."

The Michigan Bell operator then said, "Excuse the call, operator" and the line went dead. Michigan Bell security called Grosse Pointe Farms police who said the call originated from a phone booth at 99 Kercheval, in front of the News office.

Bon Secours security checked the hospital and found no bomb, according to police reports.

Farms police located a witness who was near the News office on July 22 about 9:15 p.m. who said she observed a man making a collect call from the nearby phone booth. She described the man as a white, in his 20s, about 5 foot, 9 inches tall and 160 pounds. He was wearing blue slacks.

Police have no suspects, but are continuing their investigation.

Business group sponsors parade

The East Warren Business Association is sponsoring flea markets every Saturday and Sunday through Sept. 11 in the Standard Federal Savings and Loan parking lot at 16430 East Warren between East Outer Drive and Kensington.

The flea markets will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tables can be rented from the association's Festival Committee for $12.50 per day or $22 for both days. Those interested in renting tables should call Clyde Hipwell at 882-2225.

The East Warren Business Association is also planning its 10th annual parade for Sunday, Sept. 18 down East Warren Avenue from Alter Road to Balduck Park beginning at 2 p.m.

On Sept. 16 and 17 the association will sponsor an outdoor auction at East Warren and Courville at 7:30 p.m. each day. There will be entertainment each evening before the auction begins.

The Friendship Lions Club will sponsor a "run" on Sunday morning, Sept. 18. For further information on the event, call Dave Mitchell at 895-2374. Other information about the parade can be obtained by calling the East Warren Business office at 881-2957.

Children's home receives grant

The Children's Home of Detroit recently received a $15,500 grant from the Skillman Foundation, home officials announced.

The grant money has been earmarked to provide camping experiences for youngsters served by the Home. Money will also be used for renovation projects, including the painting of children's cottages and replacement of fire ladders.

The Skillman Foundation, with offices in Detroit, has a record of assisting youth and social agencies, educational institutions and health care research facilities in the area, Children's Home officials said.

The Children's Home of Detroit is a residential treatment center that cares for troubled youth. The home is located at 900 Cook Road in the Woods.

The view at midpoint

By Ron Hart

Halfway through 1983 — the third year of the presidential term — the stock market is repeating the typical strong "up" pattern of a pre-election period. The Dow Jones industrial average rose 16.8 percent in the first six months of the year, while the broader Standard & Poor's 400 stock index climbed 20.7 percent.

Although the market may be vulnerable to some setback after its rapid rise since last August, the Dow Jones Industrial Average has not experienced a full-year decline in the third year of a presidential term since the outbreak of World War II in 1939.

Moreover, what started last year as a disinflation, value-oriented bull market has, in usual fashion, shifted to cyclical growth leadership as economic recovery has taken hold. Among the strongest-performing groups in the first half of 1983 were apparel and textiles, communications equipment, semiconductors, department stores and general merchandisers, and paper containers.

In addition, the prolonged decline in energy stocks, unwinding their over-owned 1982 status, appeared to be reversing late in the half. On the other hand, the so-called defensive growth soap and soft-drink shares actually declined in the face of the general advance.

These shifts in group leadership made life difficult for performance-minded money managers, many of whom failed to match the market performance because they were committed to a disinflationary cycle or were late to embrace recovery at all.

An intermediate correction at this juncture could cause portfolio managers additional grief. Moreover, since the economic upswing is likely to continue for at least another year or two while expansion of price/earnings multiples may not, this combination should place even greater premiums on stock selection over the balance of the current cycle.

For our part, we continue to look for potential earnings leverage and market leadership from basic industry, energy, and other cyclical issues.

Pointers join Alma board

Two Grosse Pointers, Judith Pierce Fountain, of the Farms, and Charles L. Guess, of the City, were recently elected to the board of trustees of Alma College.

Mrs. Fountain, an Alma graduate, is currently on education leave from her position as product market manager for Dow Corning Corp. She has a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in chemistry from Alma and a Master of Arts degree in psychology from Central Michigan University. In January, 1984, she plans to enter law school. As an Alma trustee, she will serve on the committee for annual fund and constituent programs.

Guess is assistant investment officer in the Bank Investment Division of National Bank of Detroit. He has served in the past on the Alma board.

NEW AUTOMATIC HEARING AID
A truly advanced and innovative sound amplifier.

The UATOMATIC SOUND PROCESSOR (ASP) was developed especially for those people who have difficulty in hearing speech in noisy environments. For years, hearing aid wearers have avoided restaurants, theaters, church and parties because of the inability of an ordinary hearing aid to control back-ground noises.

The A.S.P. is simply and uniquely designed to normalize background noise so that speech is more easily understood.

If you do not believe that the A.S.P. will let you understand speech more clearly in noise: take advantage of our 90 day trial and prove it to yourself.

Mack to be rezoned

By Mike Andrzejczyk

After a year and a half of work, the Woods Planning Commission submitted to the council recommendations for rezoning the city's Mack strip. Under the proposal, some commercial districts will be rezoned for office use.

The changes, according to planning consultant Brandon Rogers, reflect changes in the classification in areas of the city's Mack strip where the predominant use is office space instead of commercial frontage.

Also, the changes try to meet the city's land use plan and other recommendations that have called for the concentration of office uses in the central city while moving heavy commercial uses to the ends of the city.

The restricted office district, provided for under the city's revised zoning ordinance, allows for medical offices, professional offices, publicly owned buildings and utility offices along with accounting, banking, and clerical uses.

The commercial district allows for retail, service and restaurants, along with similar uses under the city's zoning ordinance. Other uses include business offices, mortuaries, service stations, lodges and clubs.

The areas considered for rezoning from commercial to restricted office are:

- Harper, from Stanhope to Alldard
- West side of Mack, Severn to Broadstone
- West side of Mack, Littlestone to Stanhope
- East side of Mack, Blossom Place to Cook Road
- East side of Mack, Dorthen to Huntington
- West side of Mack, from Kenmore to the edge of city property
- East side of Mack, from the southeast corner of Fair Court to about 200 feet south of Lochmoor. The northeast corner at Fairholme is zoned vehicular parking, while the 200 feet south of Lochmoor are zoned one-family residential.
- West side of Mack, Oxford to Norwood
- West side of Mack, Lennon to Van Antwerp
- South side of Vernier, from the intersection of the beginning of the housing
- West side of Mack, Brys to just short of city limits. Remainder is zoned for planned multiple family residential development.

The map also codifies the city's existing municipal lots, private off-street lots, lots behind businesses and an existing church lot. The only new vehicular parking, or P-1 district is a vacant lot on the northeast corner of Mack at Fairholme.

The planning commission tried to concentrate the restricted office areas to the center of the city for a number of reasons, Rogers said. First, office districts tend to generate less traffic and less demand on the city's already lacking off-street parking facilities. Also, offices tend to generate less noise and waste than commercial uses, he said.

Since there is still a strong demand for office space, the city is protecting its investment in the office areas by offering them some type of protection, Rogers said.

At the same time, the city has no wish to hamstring businesses along the strip, which offer the city a solid tax base as well as a source of local employment, Rogers said. While he conceded there may be a few commercial buildings that may become legal non-conforming uses, or uses grandfathered in after the rezoning, most of the affected properties will probably remain commercial buildings, Rogers added.

The concentration of commercial usages and restricted office districts have been recommended in both the city's land use plan and by a study done for the city by Gerald Luedtke. Luedtke said the concentration of offices near the center of the city would decrease traffic, noise and offer a more uniform look to the strip.

Under state law, the planning commission will hold the public hearings on the matter. It will then make a recommendation to the council. The council can then schedule hearings of its own, or decide the matter based on the commission's recommendation.

The council and planning commission had scheduled a joint meeting for last Tuesday night.

Last October, the planning commission and council considered the rezoning of 40 residential lots behind the city's north Mack business strip. After a massive turnout by residents to protest the move, the rezoning was dropped.

In the present proposal, no residential lots are being considered for rezoning as commercial or vehicular parking, Rogers said.

DeTurk to guest perform Sunday

Director of music at Grosse Pointe Memorial Presbyterian Church, William DeTurk, will be guest carillonneur at Christ Church Cranbrook on Sunday, July 31, at 4 p.m.

DeTurk and Betty Buchanan, carillonneur at the University of Michigan, will perform a carillon duet featuring "A Carillon Concerto for Two to Play," five classical country dances, Ms. Buchanan's arrangements of Handel's "Musical Clock Tunes" and Mozart's "Minuet" from Symphony No. 39.

The evening also will include Liszt's "Evening Bells," Brahms' waltzes and John Philip Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

There will be guided tours following the concert of the 50-bell tower. All events are free, as is parking in the Christ Church parking lot, located at Cranbrook and Lone Pine Roads in Bloomfield Hills.

Hertel calls for probe of defense profiteering

Angered by reports of overpricing and defense contract profiteering, Congressman Dennis Hertel (D-Harper Woods) recently called for the formation of a special House Select Committee to investigate the multi-billion dollar problem.

The Select Committee proposed by Hertel would have broad investigative powers to look into defense contract profiteering. It would consist of 21 members appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Hertel said in a press release that he has been looking into reports of huge overpayments for spare parts for engines, flight simulators, radar test station equipment and a variety of other military contract overcharges.

"Over pricing has inflated the cost of parts by thousands of percent. Auditors for the Pentagon's Inspector General's Office estimate overpayments on military spare parts cost taxpayers millions of dollars per year. In just one instance last year, the Navy paid more than $100 for several simple aircraft simulator parts available for four or five cents in the government's supply system," he said.

The Congressman, who represents Grosse Pointe Farms, Woods and Shores, sits on the House Armed Services Committee.

Hertel proposed the Select Committee in the wake of President Reagan's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, which stated the Department of Defense can achieve a three-year cost savings of up to $92 billion without impairing the defense program. According to the task force report, almost 40 percent of the savings — nearly $36.8 billion — can be derived from improved management of the weapons acquisition process.

"Nothing so undermines the nation's security or demoralizes the nation's will more quickly than unrestrained profiteering at the expense of our national defense. Wiping out this profiteering is one very effective way to reduce our federal deficit," Hertel said.

AAA acts against car theft

 said Jack Piana, AAA's Grosse Pointe manager.
 "That's 39 vehicles each day — a $54 million problem for the club last year. With these steps and two anti-theft bills introduced in the Michigan Senate this spring, the lives of those who steal cars for fun or profit could become more difficult."
 Also present at the news conference were Woods Public Safety Office Patrick Pagan and Woods Director of Public Safety Jack Patterson who praised AAA's efforts at cutting losses to car thieves.

Chief Patterson was especially impressed with plans to etch the vehicles' VIN number on the front and back windows of the cars. He urged citizens to also etch the number on wheel covers, stereos, radios and especially T-tops.
 "We often recover stolen items from a car, but the owner can't readily identify it," said Chief Patterson. "T-tops are an especially hot item in this area. T-tops for some cars can cost over $1,000. Etching your VIN number in it is a sure way of identifying it later."
 Patterson added that the police department has etching kits available free of charge to citizens who wish to mark their valuables at home. "The kits can be kept for up to a week," said Patterson. "They're good for marking TV's, stereos, cameras, appliances and so on. Unfortunately, not many people come in to check them out."

 AAA announced that a statewide action hotline, 1-800-222-5677, (AAA-LOSS) has been established to receive information at any time from anyone who has made a police report and wishes to qualify for the Auto Club's reward.
 Persons can also communicate through a special post office box at The Automobile Club of Michigan, ACTION Program, P.O. Box 6006, Dearborn, Mich. 48121.
 AAA requests that informants provide a summary of the information given to police, including the name of the police agency and identity of the chop shop. Unless anonymity is required, a tipster also is asked to provide a name, address and phone number. Otherwise, a code name or identification number.

City okays front yard parking law

If in the future residents of Grosse Pointe City want to park their cars on parking areas in front of their homes, they will have to comply with a new ordinance limiting the number and types of vehicles on their property.
 The Grosse Pointe City Council approved an ordinance last week that allows only private cars to be parked on a front parking area for no more than 12 hours in a 24 hour period.
 The new law also prohibits the parking area from not exceeding 30 percent of front yard property formed between the front lot line and front setback line. The ordinance specifies that semi-circular driveways shall not be permitted on lots less than 60 feet in width. No more than two vehicles may be parked on such areas, according to the ordinance.

 Vehicles such as vans, motor homes, campers, boats, boat trailers, trucks, including pick-up trucks, are prohibited on the parking areas under the new ordinance.
 Residents will be required to landscape any new parking area, and fences used to screen the parking area should not exceed three feet in height and cannot be located closer than three feet from any public sidewalk.

 "The intent of this landscaping and fencing is to create a suitable year-around attractive screen of the parking area from view from public rights-of-way and adjacent properties," the ordinance reads.
 New parking areas must also be paved with asphalt, concrete or other suitable materials, according to the ordinance.
 City Manager Thomas Kressbach said about seven residents have such parking areas in front of their homes.

Park physician is speaker

Plans for an ongoing patient support group for persons who suffer from Parkinson's Disease were outlined yesterday by Dr. Raymond B. Bauer, neurologist at Harper-Grace Hospitals.
 Dr. Bauer, of Grosse Pointe Park, spoke on Parkinson's Disease at the Whittier Towers. The talk was sponsored by the Patient Education Department at Harper-Grace Hospitals, Wayne State University, the Michigan Parkinson's Foundation and Whittier Towers.

VINs, a series of letters and numbers that trace a vehicle's origin, will be etched on Auto Club members' car glass at all claim centers and branch offices from noon until 5 p.m. weekdays (7 p.m. on the normal evening of late closing at each facility) and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

Offices will not be open for other business Saturdays. The free etching will not be done in rainy weather or on the Saturday (Sept. 3) of the Labor Day weekend.

Almost all Civil War photographs pictured unsmiling people. Camera exposures then lasted from 10 to 30 seconds. A smile held that long tends to look artificial, but a solemn face doesn't.

Primary hopefuls face off

 in Michigan is doing so. Ausherman said the jurisdictional gap created by the lack of a District Court in the Pointes for civil cases between $1,500 and $10,000 is an unfair inconvenience for residents. He added that "there's a good chance the Pointes could be included in the already over-burdened Detroit District Court" if the cities don't act soon.
 Ryan agreed and said he'd like to see all five Pointes work cooperatively on a District Court but, he added, "If the Park has to go it alone, I think it should." He suggested that vacant buildings on Jefferson Avenue or Mack Avenue would be good locations for such a court.
 While several candidates, including Spada, Gaskin, Ryan, and Ausherman, said they think there is substantial dissatisfaction with the quality of leadership in the city, incumbent John Prost defended the current council and city administration.
 "I think a lot more people have become involved in our city government and done a lot of good for the city through our beautification commission, recreation commission and the citizens group recently appointed to study roads," Prost said. People are very pleased with the work being done at the city's parks, Prost added. "I think they like what's going on."

 Incumbent McNeill, who said he wants to be elected to only one more term in office, is most pleased with the sound financial state the city is now in.
 "We reduced taxes by 5 percent this year and I think that's a pretty good accomplishment," McNeill said. "We're in a financially sound position, while many cities in Michigan are in trouble. Keep in mind, too, that our gas and weight tax revenues are down, our assessed valuation of property is down, and yet we've managed to overcome those handicaps and do some long over-due capital improvements."
 Voting booths open next Tuesday at 7 a.m. at city hall, Trombly, Pierce and Defer schools. Interviews with the eight candidates appear on page 7A and 14A.

Asthmatics receive assistance

What causes an asthma attack? The American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan's (ALASEM) Family Asthma Program will explore the variety of causes for asthma episodes at its Thursday, Aug. 4, meeting at Eastland

Shopping Center, in the Concourse Auditorium. Bruce Dubin, D.O., will discuss the hereditary component, the role of allergies, infection and emotions with Family Asthma Program members. The program meets at Eastland on the first Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. There is no fee and all area families who share the problem of living with asthma may attend. Call the Lung Association, 961-1697, for more information.

Count Basie, Ella Fitzgerald, Oscar Peterson and Stan Getz top the star-studded 1983 lineup for the fourth Montreux Detroit Kool Jazz Festival to be held Aug. 31 through Sept. 5. Robert E. McCabe is president of Detroit Renaissance, the organization producing the festival. "We have expanded the festival to include 11 concert sites. Baker's Keyboard Lounge, the world's oldest jazz club, will be utilized by the festival to showcase former Detroit area jazz great, Elvin Jones, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. Jones will remain in town to play Hart Plaza and Detroit Jams IV on Monday night at the Westin Hotel. Historic St. Andrew's Hall, a second new location, will feature two evenings of jazz film clips compiled by David Chertok followed by a New RAPA House Reunion jam session," explained McCabe.

Local artists, will headline free concerts made possible by a grant from The Stroh Brewery Company. More than 70 concerts featuring Detroit's finest jazz ensembles and top-flight national college and Michigan high school bands will be presented admission free at Hart Plaza and Grand Circus Park.

Symbolizing the Detroit and Montreux International Jazz Festival alliance, Detroit's Contemporary Jazz Quintet (Kenn Cox, Charles Moore, Leon Henderson, Ron Brooks and Danny Spencer) will appear at the prestigious Montreux, Switzerland festival on July 14.

St. John graduates 30 residents

St. John Hospital recently held its annual resident staff graduation ceremony in the Peter A. Whyte Memorial Auditorium, graduating 30 persons whose medical careers will take them all over the U.S.

They will be practicing in Idaho Falls, Idaho; Chicago, Ill.; Cleveland, Ohio; Lawrence, Mass.; Atlanta, Ga.; Rochester, Minn.; while many will remain in Michigan to practice.

Pointer Robert E. Birk, M.D., of Stratford Place, director of Health Education, welcomed the graduates and guests.

Glenn A. Wesselmann, of Lake Shore Lane, St. John executive vice-president and chief operating officer, spoke to the residents and wished them well in their medical careers.

Presenting certificates for their particular specialties were John H. Burrows, M.D., transitional program; Lucian Capobianco, M.D. and Christopher Goldsby, M.D., family practice; Francis M. Wilson, M.D. and Steven E. Minnick, M.D., internal medicine; and Dr. Wilson and Ali Rabbani, M.D., combined medicine pediatrics.

Dr. Rabbani and Hadi Sawaf, M.D., pediatrics; Joseph A. Grady, M.D. and Larry Lloyd, M.D., general surgery; Minuchehr Kashaf, M.D. and Michael Prysak, Ph.D., obstetrics and gynecology; and James J. Humes, M.D. and Herbert Krickstein, M.D., pathology, also presented certificates.

One of the highlights of the evening was the presentation of the Clinic Day Awards by Dr. Robert Birk and Dr. William McIntyre, president of the medical staff. Tying for first place with their papers were Stephen G. Ruby, M.D., "Blood Group Antigens in Urothelium in Transitional Cell Carcinoma," and William E. Baubie III, M.D., and Mark S. Hamilton, M.D., "Patient Turnover at the Family Medical Center: A Comparative Survey of Former vs. New Patients."

Tying for third place were Jawaharlal M. Vachhani, M.D., "A Comparison of Stapled and Sutured Right Colon Operations at Saint John Hospital: A Five Year Study," Bruce A. Jones, M.D., "Alpha-1-Antitrypsin Deficiency in Adults with Chronic Active Hepatitis, Chronic Persistent Hepatitis, and Hepatocellular Carcinoma," and Cedric M. Bautista, M.D., "Upper Gastrointestinal Bleeding in 100 Consecutive Patients Secondary to Peptic Ulcer Disease at Saint John Hospital from 1972-1981."

First place winners received $500 and third place $100 each. These papers will also be published in the next issue of the St. John Hospital Medical Bulletin.

Among the graduates who plan to stay in Michigan to practice medicine are Mark Hamilton, M.D., family practice, St. Clair; Michael McMillin, M.D., emergency medicine, Detroit; Carol Voytas, MD., family practice, Kalamazoo; Kumara Rama, M.D., vascular surgery, Detroit; Christopher Cassell, M.D., general surgery, Detroit; and William Carion, M.D., internal medicine, Detroit.

More are John Eckenrode, M.D., internal medicine, Detroit; Michael Post, M.D., internal medicine, Fremont; Robert Wilson, M.D., internal medicine, Detroit; Richard Joseph, M.D., internal medicine, St. Clair Shores; Mohamed Khan, M.D., internal medicine, Clinton Township; Cristina Trinidad, M.D., internal medicine, Livonia; John Emo, M.D., obstetrics and gynecology, Kalamazoo; Mary Ann Grobbel, M.D., pathology, Mt. Clemens; and Scott Hawley, M.D. pediatrics, Port Huron.

Dr. Birk announced that St. John Hospital has admitted into its residency programs 32 new residents and fellows for the 1983-1984 academic year. A reception followed the ceremony.

Don't let the heat beat you

The dog days of summer can be the most dangerous time of the year, according to American Red Cross spokesman Kevin Killeen.

"Torrid temperatures can affect the body in various ways," he explained, "and the manifestations include heat stroke, heat cramps and heat exhaustion." The Red Cross offers the following tips on handling such emergencies:

Heat Stroke — This condition, which is a breakdown of the body's ability to perspire, can be fatal and medical attention should be sought as soon as possible. A heat stroke victim has an extremely high body temperature; a rapid and strong pulse; and red, hot, dry skin. The person may be unconscious.

The first step is to take measures to cool the body. Undress the victim and sponge off the skin with wet, cool towels and moistened with water or rubbing alcohol.

The victim can be placed in a tub of cool water until the body temperature is sufficiently lowered. Use a fan or air conditioner to maintain the cool body temperature. Be sure not to give the victim stimulants. The cooling procedure may have to be repeated. It is vital that the victim receive medical care.

Heat Cramps — This condition is characterized by muscular pains and cramps, an early sign of heat exhaustion. Leg and abdominal muscles are likely to be affected first. Give the victim sips of water, half a glass every 15 minutes, over an hour's period. Exert pressure with your hands on the cramped muscles or gently massage. Use warmth (heating pad or hot water) to relieve the spasms.

Heat Exhaustion — A condition characterized by fatigue, weakness and collapse. Heat exhaustion victims usually complain of great weakness, nausea, dizziness and perhaps cramps. The skin is pale, cool and clammy.

The victim should be placed in a shaded, cool place and provided sips of salt water. Clothing should be loosened and the victim placed in a prone position with the feet raised about a foot above head level.

To prevent heat exhaustion before it occurs, Killeen says Red Cross recommends people stay in the sunlight only for brief periods; avoid exertion; those who must work in the sun take frequent rest breaks; drink plenty of non-alcoholic, non-stimulant beverages; and use a fan to circulate air, open windows to promote circulation.

Killeen also recommends eating nutritious meals during warm weather to maintain strength and to see a doctor if you have special health problems or are on a special diet.

For more information or to register for a Red Cross first aid course, contact Safety Services at 494-2746. Advice on these conditions and others can be found in any Red Cross first aid textbook.

Cost-of-living change delayed

The automatic Social Security benefit increase based on the cost of living, previously effective each July, will be delayed for six months, to January 1984 because of a recent law designed to strengthen the Social Security system, according to James T. Moslener, Social Security district manager of the office located at 17420 Mack Avenue.

The purpose of the delay is to save the system money and help it regain its financial strength, Moslener said. Largely because of economic conditions in recent years, Social Security has had an increasingly severe financial problem.

The changes in the law are designed to meet the problem both in the near-term and into the years after 2000. Other changes provide additional income to the system. They include:

- The Social Security tax rate increase scheduled under previous law for 1985 will go into effect in 1984. The new 1984 rate will be 7 percent each for employees and employers, up from the previous rate of 6.7 percent. But, employees will receive a tax credit against 1984 taxes of 0.3 percent, which will be given when taxes are deducted from wages. In effect, 1984 employe taxes will remain at the level set under previous law.

Nissan plant ahead of schedule

Trucks will start rolling off line in June

SMYRNA, Tenn. — The first trucks for American consumers from Nissan Motor Manufacturing Corp. U.S.A.'s new manufacturing facility will be rolling off the assembly lines here in June instead of August, as originally scheduled.

The early startup is attributed to the progress of the construction work and equipment installation and to the "excellent results of the extensive training program for the work force which has been underway since October, 1980," says company President Marvin T. Runyon.

"Daniel Construction Company, the general contractor for the project, and the subcontractors are completing the construction of the facility ahead of schedule," says Runyon. "We also have found that our work force is mastering the skills necessary to build the Nissan trucks much sooner than we had projected through the cooperative venture in training Nissan has with the state of Tennessee."

Launched in February 1981 under an accelerated construction schedule, the $660 million plant located 15 miles southeast of Nashville will build 156,000 light trucks annually. The 3.2 million square-foot facility, one of the most technologically advanced automotive manufacturing operations in the world, will employ over 2,000 people.

According to Runyon, Nissan has already begun the first in a series of start-up phases designed to ensure that the first trucks off the line in June are equal in performance and quality to the counterparts currently being built by Nissan in Japan.

In the first phase, a coordinated equipment trial, Nissan is building test trucks. Plant technicians are being trained as they test out metal stamping apparatus and painting and assembly equipment. They check to ensure, for instance, that door moldings installed in the trim area fit the metal prepared in the body plant and that the approximately 2,500 parts necessary to construct a truck move easily and freely along the 10 miles of overhead conveyors and the multitude of assembly lines.

The second phase of the start-up process, which begins this month, will be a more detailed plant tryout. "Once we complete the equipment trial, we move to the vehicle trial in which we take the newly stamped or assembled parts and make sure they fit together properly. In this second phase, plant technicians receive further training under more stringent conditions," said Runyon. "In both of the first two phases some of the test trucks are sent to Japan for a quality check and to Texas for durability testing. The majority will remain in Smyrna to be dissected so that necessary adjustments can be made in both the assembly and training systems."

In May technicians will begin stamping and assembling vehicles which will be coming off the line in June for distribution to over 1,100 Nissan dealers throughout the U.S.

SUPPLIERS TO NISSAN IN U.S.A.

As of December, Nissan Motor Manufacturing Corp. U.S.A., which starts to build small trucks this year at a new plant in Smyrna, Tenn., had 24 U.S. suppliers, whose total value of annual contracts were $108,486,000.

Park primary hopefuls go on the record

Paul Lechner

Paul Lechner, of Devonshire Road, is a student at Wayne State University. This is his first try for elected office.

Why run?

I was an intern for U.S. Sen. Don Riegle when I was in high school. I think I could do a good job at this and provide a forum for people to express their views. Some people think young people like me are easier to deal with and more accepting of change. There are a good number of young professional people living in the Park. Young blood on the council wouldn't hurt a thing.

The roads?

I'm a jogger and I'm well aware of the problem. The grants being sought by the council now are a good solution. If they don't come through, we'll have to reapportion the budget to start building a fund. We can fix a little at a time that way. Maybe we should also propose another tax increase to voters. If we don't do something now, the roads are going to have to be rebuilt.

Zoning?

I do think there are a lot of old people who'd like to stay in the Park. They should have a place where they can feel safe and secure. There's paranoia about HUD — people think we're going to bring in blacks and other low income people. Well, that didn't happen before. I think making an area at one of the schools for senior citizens would be good. Keep the rest for single family development.

Leadership?

I think the people are fairly pleased with the current leadership. There hasn't been any reason for dissatisfaction. I think they're content.

Your program?

I'd like to see current services continued, be they leaf collection or having police watch your home while you're on vacation. I'd like to see the police department work more on prevention of crime by informing citizens of ways they can improve the security of their homes and starting neighborhood watch groups if people feel they need them. I also think a users fee for the park — maybe $25 a year for the family — should go into a fund for improvements, such as buying new equipment, picnic tables. The fund should be supervised by the recreation commission.

School closings?

I think the schools in the Park should remain open. There are younger families moving in and they will be needed.

Mayor?

I know both candidates and I think Graham has a lot of experience and is a good man. I think Palmer Heenan could also do a good job. I'm not supporting either, now.

David Gaskin

David Gaskin, of Bishop Road, is a partner in the law firm Dahlberg, Mallender & Gawne. This is his first bid for elected office in the Park.

Why run?

I believe I'm qualified based upon my background, my law degree, my partnership in a law firm involved in major issues such as labor relations, construction and business. I've been a resident of the area my whole life and an observer of Park politics for some time, most recently with respect to opposing detrimental lot splits that have been proposed. I've observed the planning commission and city council in action and I want to do what I can to bring my personal commitment to the community. The campaign is a personal challenge. City politics affects all of us so closely, but people pay so little attention.

I feel very strongly the present council has allowed a void to occur between its positions and the people it represents. It hasn't made itself very clear. It has allowed rumors to start and people to become very upset about things there was no reason to get upset about.

Roads?

I feel we shouldn't have had to go to the state or federal governments for grants in the first place. You cannot rely upon someone else to pave your streets for you. There should have been money set aside to pave the roads. We, for some reason that escapes me, let the reserves we had go by the boards. If the applications fail, there is no question in my mind we're going to have to have a tax increase. It's a failure on the part of the council, but we've got to do something about it. I would favor a direct tax to avoid the expense of bonds.

Zoning?

There is no question that at some point, some large parcels of land will come available. Then it's appropriate for whomever it is seeking change to bring a concrete, specific plan to council for developing this parcel. The developer has to come hat-in-hand to the council. They have to be very specific. The difficulty that can occur if certain areas are set aside for development is that all the developer has to do is meet the minimum requirements and then the council has no control over esthetics, etc.

Leadership?

I think people are worried. I get the feeling that they're concerned whether the city can live within its budget. Obviously that relates to the streets. I don't think there's a huge degree of unrest, but a degree of unwarranted suspicion about the council. I think people just aren't being informed, aren't getting a straight answer to their questions. The worst thing in my mind was to vote for a tax increase (last summer) and then not support it.

Your programs?

I'd like to see some sort of official communication to residents on a formal basis, potentially printing minutes of meetings, maybe, in the paper. I think that then maybe some more innovative programs could be generated by the police department. I think we're on the conservative side of having our police going out and getting involved in the community, particularly with teens. There may be some better methods of police work, new processes such as looking into the use of cable for crime protection.

Schools?

I think that the decision to close a school is one that's going to be made by the school board. The concerns of the citizens of the Park should be heard. There is a place for the city government of Grosse Pointe Park to have input into the decision and to act as coordinator of views of citizens of the impact of the closing of Defer. As for the actual decision, we'll have to rely on the school board's expertise.

Mayor?

I'm not supporting anyone for mayor yet. I want to see what both candidates have to say.

Roger McNeill

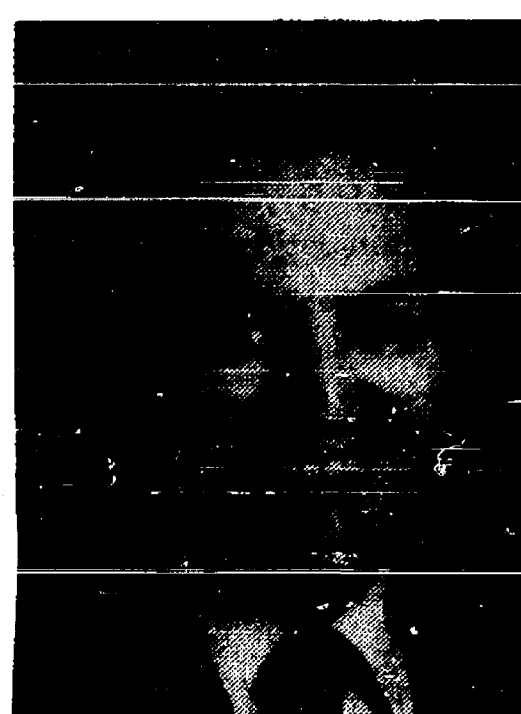

Roger McNeill, of Windmill Pointe Drive, is head of surgery at Bon Secours Hospital. He has served on the city council for 10 years.

Your accomplishments?

The thing that pleases me most is the two years I have been councilman for finance. We are now in a financially sound position, while many Michigan cities are in trouble. We've reduced our taxes, even though assessed valuations are down 5 percent and, despite all those handicaps, we were able to do some long over-due capital improvements. We have also done a good job on the marina and Patterson Park. The recreation commission has helped tremendously.

Zoning?

I think we did a pretty good job on zoning. We had at least six public meetings on it and a lot of citizen input. A lot of changes were made and I think that is the end point of city government. Some people like Carol Ward had some very sharp suggestions. I think we have a good new plan. Citizens made their point. The school was removed from the multiple family zone and that's good.

Roads?

We've got good people on the (citizens advisory) committee who know how to get the job done — a road engineer, a bonding man and top attorney, John Fildew. If we don't get the money (from the state and federal government), we'll have to go back to them and ask what our next best bet would be. We have to look carefully at their recommendations. The committee is another indication of the larger number of people who've gotten involved in city government, like the recreation and beautification commissions.

Leadership?

I see a lot of complacency on the part of citizens. Someone can get them all whipped up with a bunch of lies and then they check it out and are satisfied with the answers they get. I think the reason is they're fairly well satisfied with city leadership. I think Grosse Pointe Park is efficiently run.

Your programs?

I think the most important things are to keep the community financially sound and to revitalize Jefferson Avenue as we have Kercheval. I think that will do a whole lot to help the surrounding neighborhood. What we really need there is not big business, but small ones that serve the community. My goal from the beginning was to do something about Jefferson Avenue. That's the gateway to the Grosse Pointes and we'd be doing a whole lot to improve the quality of life here if we would clearly demark that from Detroit.

Mayor?

I think Doug Graham has done a good job as mayor. I compliment him on the way he runs a meeting and I respect the fact he's increased citizens involvement and gotten us on financially sound ground. I think he deserves another term.

McCormick

of community we have now. It may be a good idea to have alternative housing available for people who cannot afford or are physically unable to keep up large homes. Housing of that type, if it is carefully planned, executed and managed, could be a real asset.

Schools?

I think that the school board and superintendent are simply facing reality. The school population has dropped from over 13,000 to under 6,000 in just over a decade. What really counts is that the quality of education be of the highest caliber and I think it is. If the schools have to close in order to maintain the quality of education, that will have to happen.

Leadership?

There's certainly some dissatisfaction with government. I'm not sure I know the source — if it's a feeling of lack of confidence or what. I am satisfied with city leadership. I have not been in a position to critically assess the performance of the city manager, but I have found him to be open, forthright, accessible. I have no particular axes to grind.

Your programs?

One issue that is of substantial concern to me is the expired collective bargaining agreement with both police and fire associations. The wages and fringe benefits are over $2 million out of a budget of just over $4 million — about half. Obviously what happens with that contract is very important to the city. These things often end up with an arbitrator who often decides them. I hope to some degree to become involved in that process.

Also, I think there are certain efficiencies that can be reached through the use of central dispatch and jail facilities. I would support some consolidation of services between the Park and other Grosse Pointes.

Mayor?

I don't know yet. I've met both Graham and Heenan. I'm going to have to wait to hear what they say.

Vernon Ausherman

Vernon Ausherman, of Lakepointe Road, is an attorney who is making his first try for elected office.

Why run?

I've had an interest in local government and since I've retired I've got the time to contribute. With a financial and business background, I thought I'd have something other than political views to contribute.

Roads?

There are three approaches: millage, which hits everyone; an assessment, which hits those people whose streets need fixing and which isn't really fair because some people have had theirs fixed for free; and bond issue, paid over a long period of time. From the people I've talked to, most lean toward the assessment as being the lowest cost of all.

There's been apparent neglect in this issue. I don't know why we're facing a $2 million repair bill. Some provisions should have been made for an ongoing program of street repair. Mayor Graham said we're between a rock and a hard place. I think the fault belongs to the council for getting us there. I think, also, that the council is trying to avoid making the tough decisions on this by appointing a commission to look into this.

Zoning?

I have lived both north and south of Jefferson, in lower cost housing. Most of the people feel at present there is a dense enough population there and they are the people who primarily objected to (the multiple family zoning of school properties). Try to park in those neighborhoods. Those people don't feel higher buildings and more people are going to make life better there.

Schools?

I don't think you'll find a more densely populated area in the school district than the Defer neighborhood. I would think there would be more possibilities of savings by consolidating the high schools. The neighborhood around Defer is an area where a lot of young people enter the Pointes. Don't close Defer.

Leadership?

If I was enchanted by the present council, I wouldn't have run.

I think the present council rubber stamps issues. A lot of people are lethargic. Whenever anything controversial comes up, the city council has a tendency to table things. I think they should step up to face these issues.

Your programs?

More efficiency. One area that can be studied is consolidation of police and fire departments, and other services. I'm in favor of a district court. I had a case in Harper Woods just recently because there was no place in Grosse Pointe to hear it. It's the only community in Michigan besides East Detroit that says it can't afford a district court. This may scare some people, but there's a good chance the Grosse Pointes could be included in the already over-burdened Detroit district court. If I were elected I'd work to that end.

Programs?

I'd like to see some evaluation of departments. The most immediate way to gauge efficiency is to compare people, jobs and wages. I think there is also a possibility that some departments are getting top heavy. This should be another area of inquiry.

Mayor?

If I were happy with the ins, I'd support Graham. But since I'm on the outside, and this is a contest between the ins and the outs, I'm supporting Palmer Heenan. I think he's interested in good, efficient government, preserving the life in the Park in the way we've been accustomed to it, avoiding increases in population density and paying your own way without great reliance on government funds.

(NOTE: Following is text of Ordinance No. 225 adopted by City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe at a regular meeting held July 18, 1983.)

CITY OF GROSSE POINTE MICHIGAN

ORDINANCE NO. 225

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE BY ADDING A NEW CHAPTER, WHICH CHAPTER SHALL BE DESIGNATED AS CHAPTER 56 OF TITLE V OF SAID CODE.

THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE ORDAINS:

1. That Title V of Grosse Pointe City Code is hereby amended to add thereto the following Chapter 56:

CHAPTER 56

RESIDENTIAL PROPERTIES: PARKING BETWEEN FRONT LOT LINE AND FRONT SETBACK LINE

Section 5.280. DEFINITIONS. As used in this Chapter the following terms shall have the described meanings:

(1) The terms "motor vehicle" shall mean every device in, or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a highway or street which is self-propelled by an internal combustion engine or electric motor or designed or intended to be drawn by a self-propelled vehicle.

(2) The meaning of the term "front lot line" shall be as defined under Section 5.9(10) (a) of Grosse Pointe City Code.

(3) The term "front setback line" shall mean the line formed at the outer surface of a building where the building wall meets the surface ground level, not to be construed to be the minimum required front yard setback established under Section 5.176 of Grosse Pointe City Code, and such line shall extend the width of such lot parallel to the front lot line.

(4) The term "parking area" shall mean that portion of a lot located between the front lot line and the front setback line, as defined herein, and including semi-circular drive but excluding driveway which is used for motor vehicle parking.

(5) The term "fence" shall mean any artificial partition, structure or gate erected as a dividing marker, barrier or enclosure.

(6) The term "landscaping" shall mean the treatment of an area of land or part of site design with plant materials, earth, rocks and water for the purpose of enhancing property, screening or separating land uses, or lessening noise levels.

Section 5.281. PROHIBITIONS. It shall be unlawful for the owner or person in possession of any motor vehicle or for any owner or tenant of any property zoned R-1A, R-1B, R-2, R-T or RO-1 District located within the City of Grosse Pointe to allow or to permit the parking of any motor vehicle in the area between the front lot line and the front setback line, as defined herein, of any such lot except upon the parking area as herein defined.

Section 5.282. PARKING AREA REQUIREMENTS. It shall be unlawful for any owner, tenant, or occupant of any residential lot to allow the use of a parking area for motor vehicles as herein defined, which, including the driveway and garage apron, exceeds thirty (30) percent in coverage of the area formed between the front lot line and the front setback line, as defined, for any lot. Such permitted parking area may consist of said driveway and garage apron, a semi-circular drive and/or a separate parking area having up to a maximum of three hundred sixty (360) square feet for a two (2) vehicle parking area, and one hundred eighty (180) square feet for a one (1) vehicle parking area. Semi-circular driveways shall not be permitted on lots of less than sixty (60) feet in width, nor may more than two (2) parking spaces be permitted separate from the driveway or garage apron. Said semi-circular driveways shall not exceed ten (10) feet in width. The above allowance does not exempt a property owner from compliance with requirements of Section 5.91 (4) of Grosse Pointe City Code specifying an enclosed two-car garage on site for each dwelling unit in a R-1A, R-1B or R-2 District.

Only private passenger automobiles with current year license plates and registration may be parked in any parking area, and further, such automobile may not be parked longer than twelve (12) hours in any twenty-four (24) hour period. The term "private passenger automobile" specifically does not include "junk automobiles of motor vehicles" as defined at Section 5.27(1) Grosse Pointe City Code, and vans, motor homes, travel homes, campers, trailers, boats, boat trailers, trucks, including pickup trucks and other types of commercial, industrial, recreational or agricultural vehicles, trailers or buses. (See Section 5.44 of Grosse Pointe City Code).

Section 5.283. SITE PLAN REVIEW AND PERMIT. No such parking area shall be constructed until permit has been issued by Building Inspector. All parking areas and driveways proposed to be located between the front lot line and the front setback line, as defined, shall be reviewed by the Building Inspector to permit a determination that all requirements of Grosse Pointe City Code are complied with and that environmental concerns are considered regarding surrounding properties.

More specifically all parking areas and driveways located in the area between the front lot line and the front setback line, as defined, shall comply with general intent of the following submittal requirements and design and development standards:

(1) APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS. Drawings and plans shall be submitted at a scale sufficient to illustrate clearly the design for which approval is sought. Such plans shall show the following information:

(a) Existing conditions, topography where appropriate, trees and other natural features, all structures and uses on the subject lot and the immediately adjacent lots, public street right-of-way, sidewalks, and any publicly and private easements and restrictions.

(b) Proposed parking area, driveways, topographic changes, if any, landscaping and natural features retained, trees that are to be removed or to be retained, and sufficient other information to demonstrate the proposed development.

(c) Architectural elevations of all structural improvements such as walls, fences, and railroad retaining features, and other ornamental or decorative landscape material to the parking area.

(2) In carrying out the purpose of this Section, the Building Inspector shall consider the following standards in reviewing the plans, sketches and other documents in each case. These standards are intended to provide a frame of reference for the applicant in the development of the parking area site plan, as well as a method of review for the Building Inspector. These standards shall not be regarded as inflexible requirements, nor are they intended to discourage creativity, invention and innovation. To assure compliance with approved development plans a performance guarantee may be required by the Building Inspector pursuant to Section 5.188 of Chapter 51, Grosse Pointe City Code.

(a) LANDSCAPING AND SCREENING. Landscaping shall be required for all new parking area development. Such landscaping shall be completed within six (6) months after the issuance of the permit unless an extension of time, not to exceed six (6) months, is authorized by the building inspector owing to seasonal weather conditions. Such landscaping shall thereafter be maintained with permanent plant materials in healthy condition to enhance and complement the parking area on the site and to provide a screen to abutting properties. Existing landscape shall be preserved as practicable by minimizing tree and soil removal and any grade changes shall be in keeping with the general appearance of neighboring developed areas.

Fences (opaque or of an open post and rail type), hedges, and ornamental masonry walls used to screen parking areas shall not exceed three (3) feet in height, nor be located closer than three (3) feet in height, nor be located closer than three (3) feet from any public sidewalk. (See also Section 9.8, Chapter 110, Grosse Pointe City Code.) The intent of this landscaping and fencing is to create a suitable year-round, attractive screen of the parking area from view from public rights-of-way and adjacent properties.

(b) DRIVEWAYS, PARKING AREAS: CIRCULATION AND SURFACING. For vehicular circulation and parking areas, consideration shall be given to location and number of curb cuts and access points, and arrangement of parking areas that are safe and convenient and, insofar as practicable, do not detract from the design of the building on the lot and the neighboring properties. All driveways and parking areas shall be either (1) hard-surfaced with a pavement having an asphalt or concrete binder as provided under Section 5.94 (2) of Chapter 51, Grosse Pointe City Code, or (2) provided with brick or other paving stone material set in concrete or compacted sand base.

(c) SURFACE WATER DRAINAGE. Special attention shall be given to proper site drainage so that removal of surface waters will not adversely affect neighboring properties or the public storm water drainage system.

Section 5.284. APPEALS AND REVIEWS. Appeals and reviews may be taken to Board of Zoning Appeals in accordance with provisions of Article XVII of Chapter 51 Grosse Pointe City Code.

2. The effective date of the within Ordinance No. 225 shall be ten (10) days after the date of publication thereof.

It's midsummer, time to plan ahead for fall which (hardly seems possible, but there it is) will be upon us almost before we know it. And after this year's hazy, humid, HOT summer season, the crisp, clear days of autumn will be especially welcome.

Cross your fingers and hope for a crisp, clear Saturday, Sept. 10. That's the date of the 24th Annual Fall Art Festival co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Artists Association and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Mark your calendars. Tell your friends. Hope for a perfectly delightful early autumn day, for although the show goes on rain or shine from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the War Memorial grounds, shine is by far the best background for it.

Hundreds of artists and craftsmen have been reviewed to select the best of the best as exhibitors. They'll offer objects of every description: wall hangings and unique pottery, oils, acrylics, watercolors, pen-and-ink drawings, macrame and woodwork, weavings, leather-goods, baskets, creative glass and fine jewelry.

Make a day of it. Bring your Christmas List and enjoy choosing the perfect conversation piece for each of your friends and relatives. Relax over a light lunch. Listen to a lovely carillon concert, from next-door Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, and the sounds of Grosse Pointe's own Music Makers.

You know you'll have a wonderful time; after all, Corinne Dolega, general chairman of the Fall Art Festival for the past 16 years, is back on the job again this year, and her assistant general chairmen are George Howell and Evelyn Snyder. Assisting them are committee chairmen Molly Flintermann, Bette Prudden, Deborah Lass, James Stelma, Elizabeth Delmage, Chloe Boehm, Kay Smith, Shirley Arbaugh, Wanda Warezak and Lee McKinley.

Looking farther ahead to autumn arts and crafts activities at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, mark Saturday, Oct. 1, on your calendars. That's the date of the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters' Seventh Annual Arts Bazaar, to run from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Fries Crystal Ballroom and Alger House.

Local area political candidates and elected officials are always invited to and always attend this event, which welcomes exhibitors with quality crafts. Applications for table space reservations have been sent to all of last year's participants and many artists and craftsmen who have not previously exhibited in the LWV Arts Bazaar. If you're in the latter category, and you'd like to be on the application mailing list, a call to 884-1958, 822-9348 or 774-6851 will put you on it.

Welcome aboard the Detroit Symphony League! . . .

It was a hot (when this summer hasn't it been?) and bright (when this summer hasn't it been? — the rains come in the late afternoon or evening) and beautiful morning at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club: perfect setting for the Detroit Symphony League's Nautical New Member Coffee. And some prospective members and committee members DID elect to drink coffee, although iced tea got a bigger play (it's been that sort of summer) aboard the three boats tied up just below the GPYC swimming pool. Pictured above, left to right, on "Summer Wine" are FLORENCE EDGAR, DSL President CAROL ANN MAY, TRUDY RHOADES, SUSAN SHIPMAN, SUE KOZARA and BARBARA JUNE who, as vice-chairman in charge of marketing for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra/WQRS Radio Marathon, is delighted with the news that Michigan's Lieutenant Governor Martha Griffiths has agreed to serve as honorary chairman for this major symphony fund raising event, to be broadcast Feb. 8 to 12, 1984. The Radio Marathon is just one volunteer opportunity available to DSL members, and Marathon volunteers work in many capacities, from premium and sponsor money acquisition to party planning to accounting/billing. Other projects that call for DSL volunteer help include hospitality (pick-up and/or entertainment of guest artists) and the Music Box Boutique, expecting a great group of new items this year according to buyer Linda Williamson. There'll be re-stocking of old favorites, of course, but some things won't be re-ordered; if you have a brown and beige Music Box Boutique scarf, hang onto it! There are and will be no more, and you're the proud possessor of a potential collector's item. Linda, incidentally, is one of a growing number of DSL members married to a DSL member. Ten percent of the league's membership is male now — which is one reason why the league's first meeting of the 1983-84 season will be an evening affair. The Christmas Walk, Decorators' Showhouse, Chorales, Beethoven's Basement Rummage Sale . . . these, too, are DSL volunteer opportunities, but no member is required to volunteer. In the Detroit Symphony League, you can do as much or as little as you want. If you missed the New Member Coffee, and would like to learn more about the league, give Kathy Groustra, East Side membership chairman, a call at 822-1257. If you'd like to see more of what you missed, turn to the Feature Page for pictures of the partying aboard the other two boats.

ces, and carried Colonial bouquets of freesia, asters, daisies and baby's-breath.

Thomas S. Wilson was his brother's best man. Ushering were Douglas A. Timm, of Clearwater, Fla., and John C. Timm, of Sarasota, brothers of the bride; Timothy Ellis, the bridegroom's Western Michigan University roommate, Christopher Ellis and Kevin McCarthy, Grosse Pointe South High School friends, all of The Pointe; and Steven Ladsdin, of Kalamazoo, a Western Michigan University classmate.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length dress, lavender in color, featuring a bodice of cut-out embroidered organza with re-embroidered accents. Cymbidium orchids formed her corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a long gown of periwinkle blue chiffon, styled with long, sheer sleeves, and pinned her corsage of cymbidium orchids to her purse.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Howard Wilson, of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mills, of Nobe, W. Va., Texas residents Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson and Scott Luahiwa and Jeffrey Parthum, both of The Pointe.

Grobbel-Oliver rites revealed

A reception at the bridegroom's Shoreham Road home followed the Saturday, May 21, wedding of Karen Lisa Oliver, daughter of Nell T. Oliver, of Neff Road, and the late Vincent H. Oliver, and Christopher Curran Grobbel, son of Cyril and Judge Beverly Grobbel, of Three Mile Drive.

Presiding at the 10 o'clock ceremony in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore was Monsignor Francis X. Canfield. The bride wore a white, all-lace gown, styled with a cathedral train. Her veil fell from a wreath, and she carried a rainbow cascade of orchids and mini-carnations, with white Fuji mums.

Grace Oliver, who came from Los Angeles, Calif., to serve as her sister's honor attendant, wore a street length dress of violet chiffon. Bridesmaids, dressed identically but in a rainbow of colors, were Bridget Oliver, of Greenbelt, Md., another sister, in peach, Cathy Hinsberg, in pale blue, Dr. Melea Grobbel, the bridegroom's sister, in mint green, and junior attendant Ami Couck, Bridget Oliver's daughter, in yellow.

They carried arrangements of orchids and mini-carnations, in colors matching their gowns, with white Fuji mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher C. Grobbel

Jason Grobbel acted as best man for his brother. Guests were seated by Eric Oliver, of Houston, Tex., and Irwin Oliver, the bride's brothers, Steven Simon and Thomas Oliver, the bride's godfather, who escorted the bride's mother down the aisle.

Mrs. Oliver selected a long dress, lilac in color, for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother also chose a formal length dress: a floral print with long, chiffon sleeves. Orchids formed both mothers' corsages.

After a Caribbean cruise to the Bahamas, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, the newlyweds are at home on Shoreham Road.

Miss Pollard is May bride

Patricia Ann Pollard wore a princess style dress of lace and nylon and a veil, held by fresh flowers, for her late spring wedding to Nial K. Raaen. Her bouquet was fashioned of phalaenopsis orchids.

The 4 o'clock ceremony Sunday, May 29, in Ann Arbor's Westside Methodist Church, Elwood Berkompas presiding, was followed by a reception at Weller's Carriage House in Saline. The newlyweds have just purchased a home on Pineridge in Ann Arbor. The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Pollard, of Blairmoor Court, was attended by two sisters: Elizabeth Jane Pollard, of

Mr. and Mrs. Nial K. Raaen

Lake Geneva, Wis., as honor maid and Susan Pollard Schultz, of Houston, Tex., as bridesmaid. They wore magenta-colored jacket dresses.

The bridegroom, son of the Vernon Raaens, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., asked Adam Weinberg, of Minneapolis, Minn., to act as best man. Ushering were Robert Pollard, of Lansing, brother of the bride, and Robert Parks, of Chicago, the bridegroom's cousin.

Mrs. Pollard chose a silk dress featuring stripes and flowers in bright blue for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother selected a fuchsia-colored dress.

Lewis-Carroll rites planned

Vincent P. Lewis and Ella Carroll, both of Hillcrest Lane, were joined by friends at a Sunday brunch at Le Cafe Francais in mid-July. Host and hostess were James F. Alter and Irene E. Bratek, who will attend Vincent and Ella at their wedding in early August at Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore. The Friday rites will be followed by a reception at the Detroit Boat Club.

Burtons make home in Pointe

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Webster Burton, who spent several days at Benmiller Inn in Ontario and later vacationed in Coconut Grove, Fla., following their noon wedding Saturday, February 12, in Saint John's Episcopal Church, are at home on Somerset Road.

Mrs. Burton is the former Carole Marie Schumacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Schumacher, of Washington Road. Mr. Burton, son of the Ralph M. Burtons, of Marine City, is an independent financial consultant and is actively training for the 1984 Olympics in sailing.

Their wedding, at which The Reverend Thomas Frisby, of Saint John's, and The Reverend Albert Hillebrand, of Saint Matthew's Church, a close friend of the Schumacher family, presided, was followed by a reception at the Lawyers Club in the Book Cadillac Hotel.

The bride designed her gown: two layers of white satin covered with white chiffon, ruffled at neck and sleeves and accented with pearl beading at neck, sleeve and waist seams. Her veil fell from a satin and chiffon pillbox, embroidered with beads and featuring a rosette in back. She carried an arrangement of white silk roses and ostrich plumes.

Honor maid Constance Robinson and bridesmaids Jane Schumacher, who came from Connecticut to attend her sister, Ellen Schumacher, another sister, Joann Hillebrand and Eileen Fitzgerald wore Victorian style dresses of dark moire taffeta, trimmed with white ruffling at neck and sleeves, and carried white lace fans with red silk roses and stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Burton

Bruce J. Burton was his brother's best man. Ushering were Steve Wandschneider, Hazen Schumacher, brother of the bride, Monty Najjar and Eddie Putnam, both of Boston, Mass., with escorts Robert and Stanley Schumacher, two more brothers of the bride. The bride's nephew, four-year-old Abram Schumacher, was ring bearer.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom both selected pieated, cocktail length dresses, the former's of silver grey silk, ruffled at neck and sleeves, the latter's of royal blue chiffon, and white orchid corsages.

Park Garden Club to meet

Mrs. Walter Levick, of Fair Lake, Walter, and Mrs. Albert Mzzzei will host the Monday, Aug. 1, meeting of the Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club, and will direct a garden tour after the noon luncheon and business meeting.

Home in west for Stewarts

At home in Topanga, Calif., are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wayne Stewart Jr., who vacationed in the southern United States following their marriage Saturday, June 11, in Watch Hill Chapel, Watch Hill, R.I. The 2 o'clock ceremony at which Judge Haige Beorosan presided was followed by a reception at "Bayswater," Watch Hill.

The bride, the former Deborah Katherine Christensen, daughter of Thomas S. Christensen, of Pompano Beach, Fla., and the late Katharine McCarroll Christensen, was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Anne Bolen Stewart, of New York City.

Mr. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Stewart, of Moross Road, was attended by F. Gregory Ahern, of Providence, R.I.

The newlyweds are both employed by the Los Angeles Times, he as a reporter, she as a copy editor, and both hold Master of Arts degrees from Syracuse University. She received her Bachelor's degree from Colby College, Waterville, Me. He was graduated from Brown University, Providence, R.I.

of RenCen's Westin Hotel at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 13, with cocktails. Luncheon will be served at noon.

The afternoon fashion show will feature clothes and accessories from RenCen's own World of Shops. There'll be an opportunity to take home a prize, a weekend trip, perhaps, or a lovely piece of jewelry, along with memories of an especially pleasant day chaired by Grosse Pointe's Mrs. Emil C. Grob whose committee assistants include a pair of fellow Pointers, Mrs. Gerald Gattorn and Mrs. C. Bradford Lundy Jr.

Reservations at $18 per person, including FREE PARKING, may be made now by sending checks, payable to the League of Catholic Women, to league headquarters at 120 Parsons Street, Detroit, Mich. 48201. If you need/want more information, the number to call is 831-1000, the person to ask for, Pam.

Some Seasonable Activities

If you don't feel like "thinking fall" just yet, there are still plenty of summertime activities to consider, especially in the vicinity of Meadow Brook Hall and Music Festival. Victor Borge returns to Baldwin Pavilion for the third time in five years this Monday, Aug. 1, in a benefit for the Meadow Brook programs, appearing with the Metropolitan Symphonic Band under guest conductor Ernie Jones.

Concert proceeds will go to the Hall, which hosts 75,000 visitors, participants in tours, conferences, seminars and educational programs, each year, and to the Festival, with a full schedule of folk, pop, jazz and classical music that attracts an audience of more than 150,000 each summer. Information on lawn, pavilion and patron tickets, at $9, $14 and $50 respectively, may be obtained by calling 377-2010. The concert begins at 8 p.m.

The following Sunday, Aug. 7, the Meadow Brook Concours d'Elegance will find 150 of the finest classic, antique and collector sports cars from four states and Canada competing for awards in 11 different categories on the grounds of Meadow Brook Hall. In recognition of General Motors' 75th anniversary, the Cadillac has been selected as theme marque for this year's Meadow Brook Concours.

Nearly two dozen Classic Cadillacs will be featured, including two owned by Woods residents: J. Warren Weller's 1934 Cadillac Convertible Sedan and Gilbert A. Mack's 1937 Cadillac 7029 Convertible Sedan.

Grosse Pointe will be represented in the Concours' European Classics including Rolls Royce 1925-1929 Class, too, by Shores resident Richard C. Mertz's 1937 Mercedes Roadster. Harper Woods resident Clifford A. Weidenbenner plans to show his 1916 Packard (twin six) Touring Car in the Vintage 1916-1924 Class.

This year's event also includes an expanded automotive art exhibit/sale, offering dozens of original works by 16 nationally and internationally known automotive artists plus Ken Ebert's smashing souvenir commemorative poster.

The Concours runs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is $5 for adults, $2 for children 12 and under. All proceeds are used for the preservation of 100-room Meadow Brook Hall, the architectural treasure built in 1929 by Alfred and Matilda Dodge Wilson at a cost of $4 million, and virtually impossible to reproduce today. Additional information may be obtained by calling the Hall, 377-3140.

Midsummer picnic for Lehigh alumni

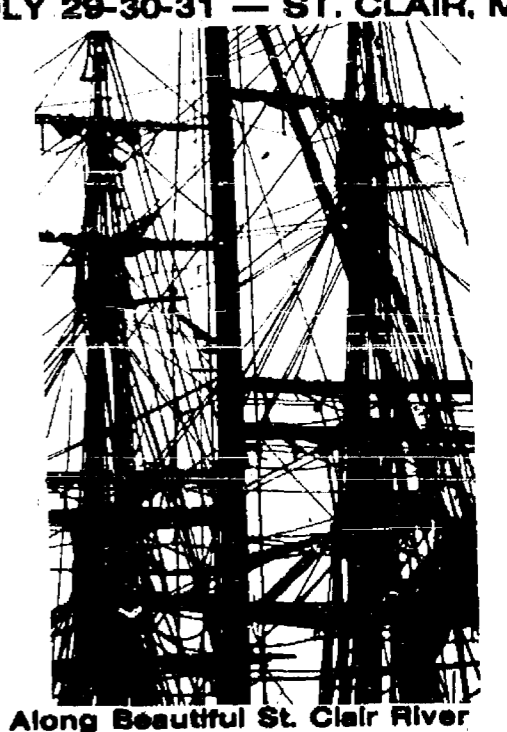

The Lehigh University Alumni Club of Michigan presents its seventh annual summer picnic for undergraduates, alumni and their families on Saturday, July 30. Place is the home of Dr. Norbert Bittrich, Lehigh '28, on Orchard Lake. Activities, which begin at noon, will include swimming, boating and children's game.

JOHN HESSBURG, son of DR. and MRS. PHILIP HESSBURG, of Park Place, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from Saint John's University, at May 22 commencement ceremonies at Collegeville, Minn., school.

Open Cranbrook House on Sundays

Cranbrook House, located in 40 acres of flower gardens, pines, statuary, woods and streams, part of the Cranbrook Educational Community on Lone Pine Road in Bloomfield Hills, is open for Sunday tours this summer through August from 2 to 4 p.m.

The former home of George and Ellen Scripps Booth and their five children, designed by Albert Kahn in 1908 with portions added in the early 20s, is furnished with treasures from around the world and classic art pieces. Guides will be present to describe the house's historical significance and answer questions about furnishings and structure.

Admission is $2 for adults, $1.50 for students and senior citizens. Cranbrook House is also open to groups of 10 or more weekdays by appointment. Information on group tours may be obtained by calling 645-3149.

Welcome Wagon aids students

Each year, the Welcome Wagon Club of Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods awards scholarships to local high school graduates interested in health-related careers, following an interview with each applicant and a review of his/her application. This year's awardees, flanked at left and right respectively by MRS. VAL COLUNI, the club's 1982-83 scholarship chairman, and MRS. ROBERT SMITKA, incoming scholarship chairman, are (left to right) ELIZABETH SEAGRAM, a Grosse Pointe North High School graduate who will be a freshman at Madonna College in the fall, CHERYL NELSON, a 1981 Grosse Pointe South High School graduate who will be a junior at the University of Michigan (this is a repeat Welcome Wagon scholarship grant for Cheryl), and TERESA SUSAN BRENNAN, a 1983 Lakeview High School graduate who has chosen Mercy College. The young women received their grants and were honored at Welcome Wagon's June meeting at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Offer Vacation Bible School

The theme of Vacation Bible School to be offered Aug. 15 through 19, Monday to Friday, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. for children ages 5 through 11 at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, is "Jesus is having a party and you are invited." Each day's songs, activities and games will relate to a Bible story illustrating some aspect of the ministry of Jesus.

Pets of parishioners and any other interested members of the community will be blessed near the rose garden at the church on Wednesday, Aug. 17, at 12:45 p.m., immediately following the Bible School.

The week's program culminates Friday, Aug. 19, with a celebration of the Holy Eucharist appropriate for the children's participation, and a gala picnic. Registration should be made by calling Christ Church, 885-4841, by next Tuesday, Aug. 2. A donation of $7 per child is suggested.

Summer festival Hilberry days

Frederick Knott's suspense thriller "Dial 'M' for Murder" and Milan Stitt's gripping courtroom drama "The Runner Stumbles" have joined the Hilberry Summer Theatre Festival's repertory. "Dial 'M'" will alternate with "See How They Run" on the Hilberry main stage through Aug. 6, while "The Runner Stumbles" rotates with "Key Exchange" in the Studio Theatre, downstairs at the Hilberry.

Performances are scheduled at 8 p.m. Wednesdays through Saturdays. Tickets and further information are available at the WSU Theatre box office, 577-2972. Discounts are available for students, senior citizens and groups.

Two Detroit Symphony League volunteer projects were in the spotlight on each of the three boats which hosted the DSL's New Member Coffee in mid-July. Pictured above, left to right, aboard "Michigander," where Beethoven's Basement and the Christmas Walk were chief topics of conversation, are JANETTE ADAMS, SUSAN ECKERT, Rummage Sale Chairman SUE BRATKOWSKI holding "her" sign, MARY LEE ROGERS, KATHY GROUSTRA, ELAINE BITTERMAN and DEBBIE DAVIS.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, SUGGESTIONS FOR SPICING UP SUMMER MEALS.

BARBECUED LIMA BEANS

1 cup dried baby lima beans
2 oz. Canadian bacon, trimmed of all fat, diced
¼ cup chopped onion
1 large clove garlic, minced
¼ cup pureed tomatoes
1 Tbsp. prepared mustard
1 Tbsp. cider vinegar
2 tsp. brown sugar
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. chili powder

Wash beans. Cover with 3 cups water, bring to a boil, cook 2 minutes, remove from heat, cover and let stand 1 hour before cooking further. Add water to cover, simmer 1 hour or until tender. Drain; reserve ½ cup cooking liquid. Put beans in small, covered casserole or bean pot.

In a small skillet, saute the Canadian bacon until lightly browned. Add onion and garlic; cook until onion is tender. Stir in remaining ingredients and reserved bean liquid. Simmer 3 minutes; pour over beans. Bake in preheated 350° oven 45 minutes. Makes 4 servings. Calories about 73 per serving. Cholesterol about 3 mgs.

HOMINY AND TOMATO CASSEROLE

1 can (16-oz.) tomatoes
1 can (29-oz.) hominy, drained
1 Tbsp. margarine
¼ cup pasteurized, processed cheese spread, with garlic
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine tomatoes, hominy, margarine, cheese and salt and pepper to taste. Pour into well-oiled, 2-quart casserole. Bake in preheated 400° oven for 45 minutes. Makes 8 servings. Calories about 97 per serving. Cholesterol about 3 mgs.

QUICK ZUCCHINI CASSEROLE

2 cans (16-oz.) Del Monte zucchini with tomatoes
1 cup whole wheat crumbs, made from toasted bread*
3 Tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese

Pour contents of both cans into a greased 2-quart casserole and place in preheated 350° oven. When mixture becomes bubbly, remove from oven and sprinkle with the bread crumbs, which have been thoroughly blended with the grated cheese. Bake uncovered another 10 to 15 minutes, or until crumbs are well browned. Makes 8 servings.

Calories about 40 per serving. Cholesterol about 4 mgs.

*Toasting the bread crumbs seems to greatly improve their flavor.

HERBED GRILLED CORN

6 Tbsp. unsalted margarine
2 Tbsp. minced parsley
2 Tbsp. minced chives
Dash of pepper
8 ears corn, husks and silk removed

Soften margarine; blend with parsley, chives and pepper. Spread each ear with ¾ Tbsp. of margarine mixture. Wrap individually in heavy-duty foil. Grill over glowing coals 15 to 20 minutes, or until tender, turning occasionally. Makes 8 servings.

Calories about 145 per ear. Cholesterol 0.

RHUBARB STRAWBERRY JAM

2 cups thinly-sliced, fresh rhubarb
2 cups sliced, fresh strawberries
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 pkg. (1 ¾ oz.) powdered fruit pectin
5 ½ cups sugar
12 drops red food coloring

Place first 4 ingredients in large saucepan; cook and stir until mixture comes to a fast boil; add sugar and stir to dissolve. Add food coloring; bring to a full boil. Boil hard for 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; skim off foam and quickly pour into hot, sterilized glasses to within 1/2 inch of top. Seal. Store in cool, dark place. Makes 6 1/2 pints.

sional levels, and the doll categories have also been expanded.

In addition, a Best of Show ribbon will be awarded in all sections at the 1983 State Fair. A Home-maker of the Year, who accumulates most points in the baking, canning and needlecraft divisions, will be honored; only ribbon winners in all three divisions qualify for this award.

Those who are not quite so handy, but would like to be, may participate in a series of "Make It and Take It" workshops, in quilting, basket making, flower arranging, doll making, cake decorating and candy making. Instructions and materials to complete a project in one session will be offered.

State Fair Community Arts events also include daily demonstrations in chair caning, Japanese embroidery, machine knitting, stained glass making, silk flower making, pottery, quilting, porcelain painting, prints and drawing, sculpture and photography and new-this-year wildlife painting and drawing.

Community or Fine Arts Premium Books may be obtained by writing to Community Arts Section, Michigan Exposition and Fairgrounds, 1120 West State Fair Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48203 (368-1000).

Greenfield Village returns to 1890s

Summer weekends enjoyed by Victorian families nearly 100 years ago return this Saturday, July 30, and Sunday, July 31, at Greenfield Village, where visitors will have the opportunity to dance the waltz, schottische and polka at an 1890s outing.

Adults and children may test their skills in such games as hop-rolling, stilt, dutch pins and croquet. Vignettes, located at various village sites, will depict period picnics. Turn-of-the-century bicycles will be ridden by people in authentic cycling costumes, and a bicycle egg-in-spoon race and parade of decorated "wheels" will be held.

Carriage driving demonstrations will be featured on the Village Green, while an Ice Cream Social is underway outside the Riverfront Restaurant. A brass band will perform march tunes and concert music.

All are welcome at the 1890's outing, for which there is no additional charge beyond the regular village admission fees.

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

There is no better time than vacation time to either lose track of what mess the world is getting itself into, or become obsessively curious and keep careful watch on the world.

I did a bit of both on my vacation, keeping tabs on the sports world in particular. (But then, you could have guessed that, right?) Anyway, the denizens of the sports world so distinguished themselves in recent days, that I felt I just had to come up with some way to recognize them. So in their honor, here are the first (and hopefully, last) annual Midsummer Unofficial Dubious Deeds (MUDD) sports awards.

BIGGEST DEAL MADE ABOUT NOTHING AWARD: This one goes to the folks who got all bent out of shape about Gov. James Blanchard using a state-owned plane to fly to his son's Little League baseball game. Even though Blanchard promised to pay the plane fare for the two flights he made from his summer retreat in Mackinac to Jackson, folks are still on the guy's back. It wasn't a T-Ball game, gang. Blanchard's kid Jay was playing in a district championship game. Now what self-respecting pop would miss his kid's Little League title game? Besides, Blanchard needs all the help he can get . . . he wouldn't want to see little Jay Blanchard passing out recall petitions in front of the Lansing K mart, would he?

MOST PEOPLE JUMPING ON THE BANDWAGON WITHOUT GETTING HURT AWARD: This one has to go to all the Michigan Panther football fans. When the United States Football League squad was going belly-up with a 1-4 record early in the year, finding Panther fans would have made bigger news than when Stanley found Livingstone. But when the Panthers began to play and win consistently, and there were championships to be won and goalposts to be torn down, EVERYBODY and his brother began to lay claim to the Panthers as their team. Word is that next season, Panther owner Alfred Taubman might just get a bigger bandwagon.

COUNTED OUT BEFORE THE FIRST FUMBLE AWARD: This one goes to the Detroit Lions, who Panther fans will remember are those other guys who play football between tractor pulls and concerts at the Pontiac Silverdome. Besides the obvious problem of taking a third-rate NFL team, into the season, they have to do it right after all those Panther fans saw their team win a second-rate USFL championship in a first-rate way. Add to that the fact that star running back Billy Sims is already seeing himself in another uniform, and the Lion defense is so new, they have to wear nametags . . . and the Lions look like they'll have to punt before the season starts.

These may be the MUDD awards, but let's not get dirty . . .

Okay, so it wasn't all dubious distinction. For example...

THE GIVE THAT GENETIC MAKEUP AN 'A' AWARD: I don't know what the Wood family has been eating, but whatever it is, they've bought out the store . . . and it has netted them an unusual distinction in the tennis world.

It seems that every 25 years, a Wood wins a state tennis championship. In 1933, it was Gordon Wood winning the state singles title. In 1958, 25 years later, Gordon's son, Bob Wood, won the state double with George Haggarty. This year, 25 years later, Gordon's grandson and Bob's nephew, John Birgbauer, was on the University Liggett School team which won the state tennis title and set a national record with its 12th consecutive state championship. The sons of Wood's 1958 doubles partner Haggarty, Kirk and George, were also members of the 1983 team.

"It's better than Ripley's Believe It or Not," Wood told USA Today, which printed the unusual bit of Wood history in its July 20 issue. And even better than that, Wood's son Robby could have been on the 1963 squad, but opted for the baseball team instead.

Wood says he's not sure about what will happen in 2008, the next scheduled appearance of a Wood champion. It might just be that Grandpa Bob Wood will be watching yet another Wood take a state tennis title. Believe it . . . or not.

THE BEST ALL-OUT GRIN OF THE YEAR AWARD: The normally stoic-looking Chet Lemon of the Detroit Tigers runs away with this prize. Lemon's fantastic catch which robbed California Angel Rod Carew of a game-winning, two-run homer last Sunday put smiles on a lot of faces. Eut the grin on Lemon's face was so wide, you'd have thought that he was an 8 year old catching his first Little League pop-up.

BEST JOB BY A NEWS REPORTER TURNED RELUCTANT SPORTSWRITER AWARD: News reporter Mike Andrzejczyk can take this one home and paste it in his scrapbook. The courageous Andrzejczyk filled in for your's-truly during my two-week vacation. Despite a few skirmishes with the rabid soccer faction of Grosse Pointe, and ignoring the nervous disorder that goes with this job, he handled things admirably. (And, my spies tell me, with only a few sobs and whimpers).

PAL will hold golf tourney

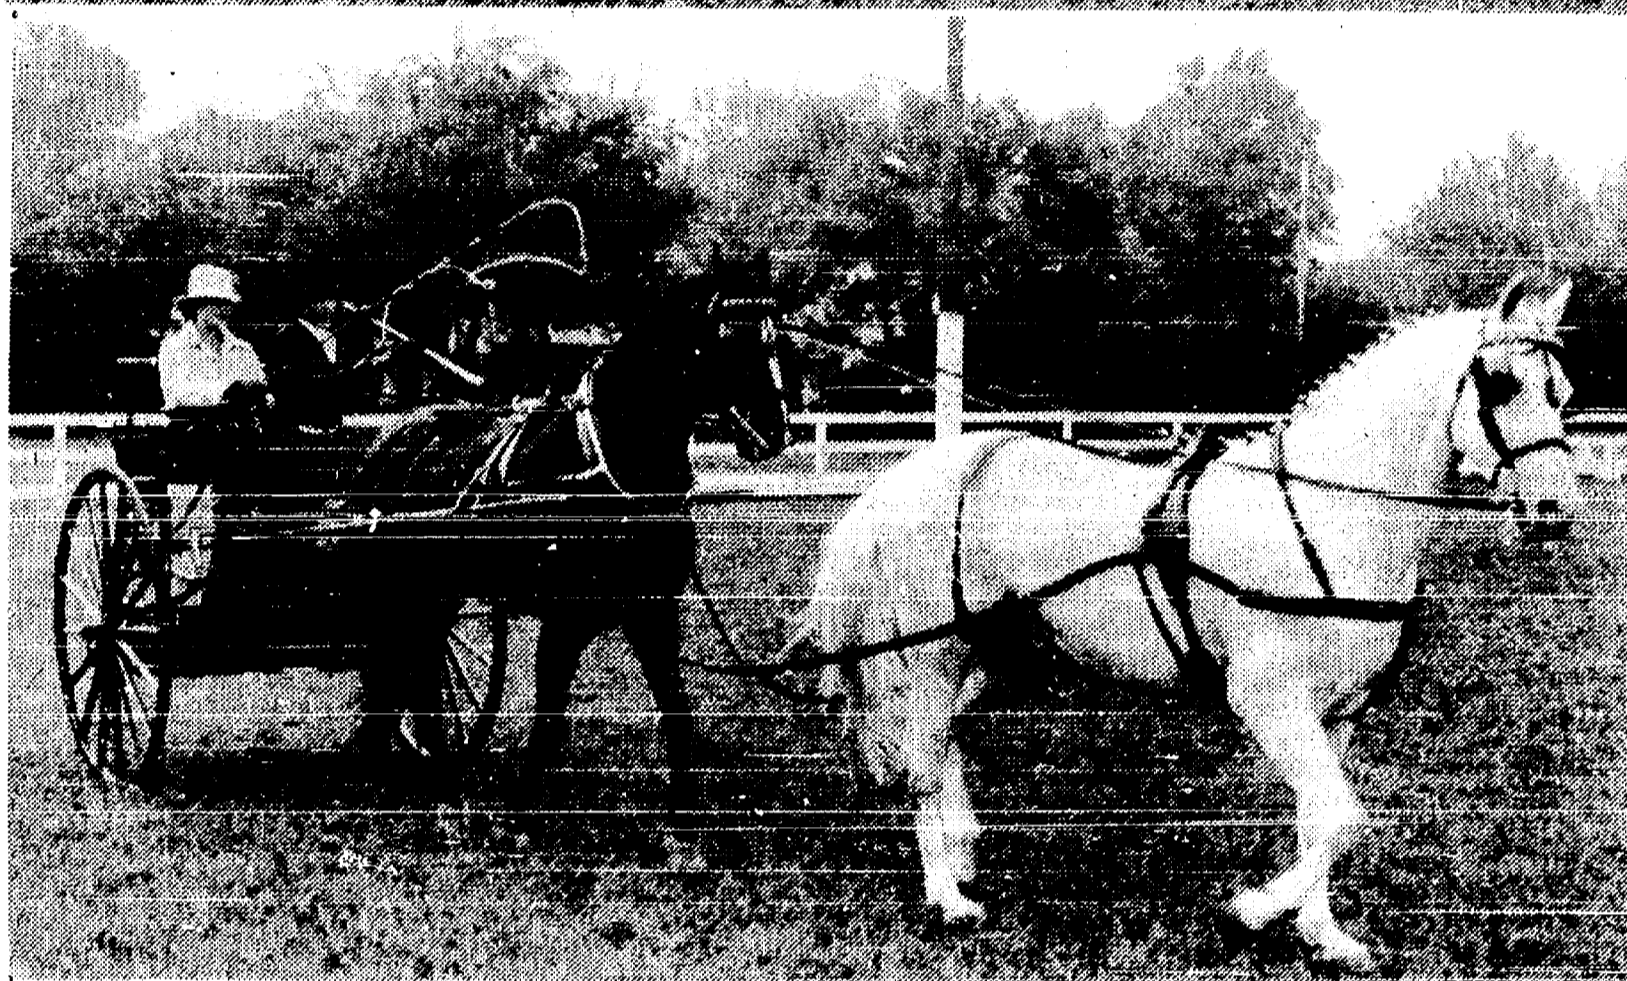

The Detroit Police Athletic League will hold its seventh annual Youth Golf Tournament beginning with qualifying rounds Wednesday, Aug. 17, to be followed Friday, Aug. 19, with championship play at the Rackham Golf Course in Royal Oak.

The age groups for the girls and boys divisions will be 10-11, who play nine holes; 12-13, 14-15, and 16-17, who will play 18 holes.

Qualifying rounds will be held at Chandler Park for the east side, Palmer Park for the central, and Redford (Rogell) for the west side.

There is a $3 entry fee. For more information, call 935-3312.

The nearly 500 horse lovers who battled the heat and humidity July 15 to catch a glimpse of what the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club offered in its second annual horse show exhibition had plenty to "ooh-and-ah" at. The majority of that excitement was generated by the Detroit Mounted Police Drill Team, (top), shown performing a lance charge. Above, all-around horsewoman Carol Becker is pictured giving a sample of her best: tandem driving. Known as the most challenging and exciting form of driving, the tandem arrangement Becker uses adds to the excitement. Instead of the usual side-by-side position, Becker places horse Silver King in front of All Spice, a chestnut saddlebred. The results of the horse show continue on Page 2C.

SRO for Hunt Club horse show

Standing room only prevailed at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club Exhibition July 15, as between 400-500 spectators, not to be deterred by 90 degree weather, came to see highly-skilled dressage feats and the Detroit Mounted Police Drill Team perform.

The Exhibition, a benefit for the Detroit Institute for Children, was staged in the club's main outdoor ring and opened with a demonstration of obstacle course driving by Sue Ashley of Oxford, who performed with her pony, Jersey Joe, attached to a two-wheeled vehicle.

Carol Becker, also of Oxford, followed, demonstrating the challenging sport of "combined driving." She displayed her specialty in this carriage sport by driving tandem, with her two horses, Silver King and Anderson's All Spice, positioned one in front of the other. In this fashion, she led her horses through intricate dressage movements.

Then came the award-winning Detroit Mounted Police Drill Team, consisting of 19 men and horses, led into highly-disciplined and complex maneuvers by their commanding officer, inspector Patrick H. Muscat. Highlights of their performance were dramatic pistol and lance charges. Also appearing with the group was Executive Deputy Police Chief James Bannon in uniform and mounted.

Since it was the last "hurrah" for drill team member Robert Rachas, exhibition commentator Rob Mahr, made a special announcement of Rachas' last drill and a rousing salute followed.

As the drill team left the ring, Sue Ashley reentered for a formal dressage ride on her horse, Protege. Among her achievements are the United States Dressage Federation's Silver Medal and the Midwest Dressage Association's Horse of the Year for Fourth and Prix St. George levels.

MARI ZDUNIC, a Grand Prix level rider, who has participated in three Olympic dressage trials, then led her horse Prussian Dudley, through a series of intricate dressage movements to the name "New York, New York." In the finale, her horse bowed and laid down on command.

The event brought out such horse world notables as James Bellissimo, president of the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club and his wife, Ruth; Bob Brown, BOH show manager; and Chuck Grant, regarded as the "father of dressage in America." Grant has trained a number of riders who have represented the United States in the Olympics. He is also the author of three books on dressage. He began his career in the 1930s and still rides 10 horses a day.

The July 15 exhibition served as a prelude to the next day's "Schooling" Dressage Horse Show held in the Club's three outdoor rings beginning at 8:30 a.m. and concluding about 5 p.m. Lillian Zimmerman of Birmingham, served as a judge. She is a past president of the Midwest Dressage Association and is designated a Big "R" Judge licensed by the American Horse Show Association.

Rosemary Gordon, overall chairman for the two-day event, expressed delight at the number of show entries (60) and at the enthusiasm and interest shown by the spectators both at the exhibition and the show.

Gordon admitted to a moment's anxiety when U.S. Equestrian Team rider Carol Grant had to stay

Rough winds for Farms regatta

Strong winds and a threatening thunderstorm combined to make an exciting finish for the Farms Boat Club's 31st annual regatta. Only 26 of the 32 boats entered were able to complete the course. Following are the top three finishers in each category.

PIRF: James Gang, James Kordas; Quicksilver, George Gerow; SonSet, Sonny Gorenflo.

JAM A: Windswept, Walt Klein; Jai de Vivre, Tom Palmer; Toots, Ken Domanski.

CENTERBOARD: Bryan Brieden's boat; Sunset, Jeff Smith; Fairwinds, Stan Davis.

In the Boat Club's Regatta '83 5K run, temperatures had already hit the 80's in time for the 10:30 a.m. start of the July 16 event. But the hot, humid weather didn't stop overall winners Thomas Lapsch and Kathy Hundley from completing the course in 17:05 and 23:56, respectively.

Race director Jim Hastings was aided by assistants Herb Lueders, Ann Gerow, Betty Lueders, Joe Bretz, Meleze Ragland, Tom Sheils and 40 marshalls. Following are the winners in each division.

14 AND UNDER: Kevin English, 21:49; Erik Lindsay, 24:26; Toby Ott, 24:35; Britton Stebbins, 25:11; Ann Llewellyn, 27:05.

15 TO 19: Richard Campbell, 18:35; David Dysert, 20:33; Kathy Keller, 25:13; Karen Campbell, 27:01.

20 TO 29: Sean English, 17:38; Brian Vier, 18:44; Jim Palmer, 20:56; Jenna Doe, 25:48; Kim Novak, 26:24; Patti Boss, 26:53.

30 TO 39: Mike Sobak, 17:07; Frank Heaphy, 18:07; Raymond Schneider, 18:16; Evelyn Everette, 25:12; Marie West, 25:59;

Dora Jones, 26:35.

40 TO 49: Dr. Ed Kane, 22:09; John Dodds, 22:58; George Ruzeto, 25:45.

50 TO 59: Harry Buck, 27:07; John Damm, 32:48.

Fred Gerow turned in a group of 33:56 in the 60 and over age group. In all, 61 runners started the Kerby Field event, with 57 finishings.

Cops collar softball title

The Macomb Metro Police Softball Team successfully defended its national title of 1982 by winning the competition again recently in Dayton, Ohio.

The Metro team, made up of players from the Pointes and Macomb County cities, outlasted 76 other entries in the annual tournament to take home the title.

Players from the Pointe departments include Woods Sgt. Michael VanDeGinste and Farms Det. Mark Brecht. The team is coached by Michael Maion from the Roseville Police Department.

On their way to victory, the Metro Police defeated Richmond, St. Louis, New York City, Cleveland, Washington D.C., Delaware Metro and Columbus twice, taking the second game from Columbus 27-10, in the finals. The victory is the fifth straight police tournament the Metro Police have won. They took the Buffalo International Classic for the fourth time.

Next up for the Metro Police is the second Detroit Classic in August, to be held at the State Fairgrounds.

Pistons move starting time

The Detroit Pistons have moved their games' starting time up one hour to 7:35 p.m. Fan request was cited as the reason for the change.

Pistons Executive director Thomas Wilson said the team has state-wide appeal and that fans who have to drive long distances will be able to come to the games and still be home by 11 p.m.

Claim is that within the next 20 years all the salmon in the Pacific Northwest will come from hatcheries, none from the native wild.

Park Ruth team drops final

The Park's 13-year-old Babe Ruth All-Stars reached the state finals July 20, before bowing to Detroit-West 7, 7-4, in the title game.

Prior to their loss in the title fray, the Park had won five straight tourney games, including a 5-3 decision over the same team in an earlier game, after losing the opener.

On July 18, GPP won two games, ousting Alpena, 14-4, and North Farmington, 8-6. George Ayrault was the winner in the Alpena game, yielding three hits. Marcux Wysocki had three hits and four RBI. Mike Paull had three hits to drive in two runs.

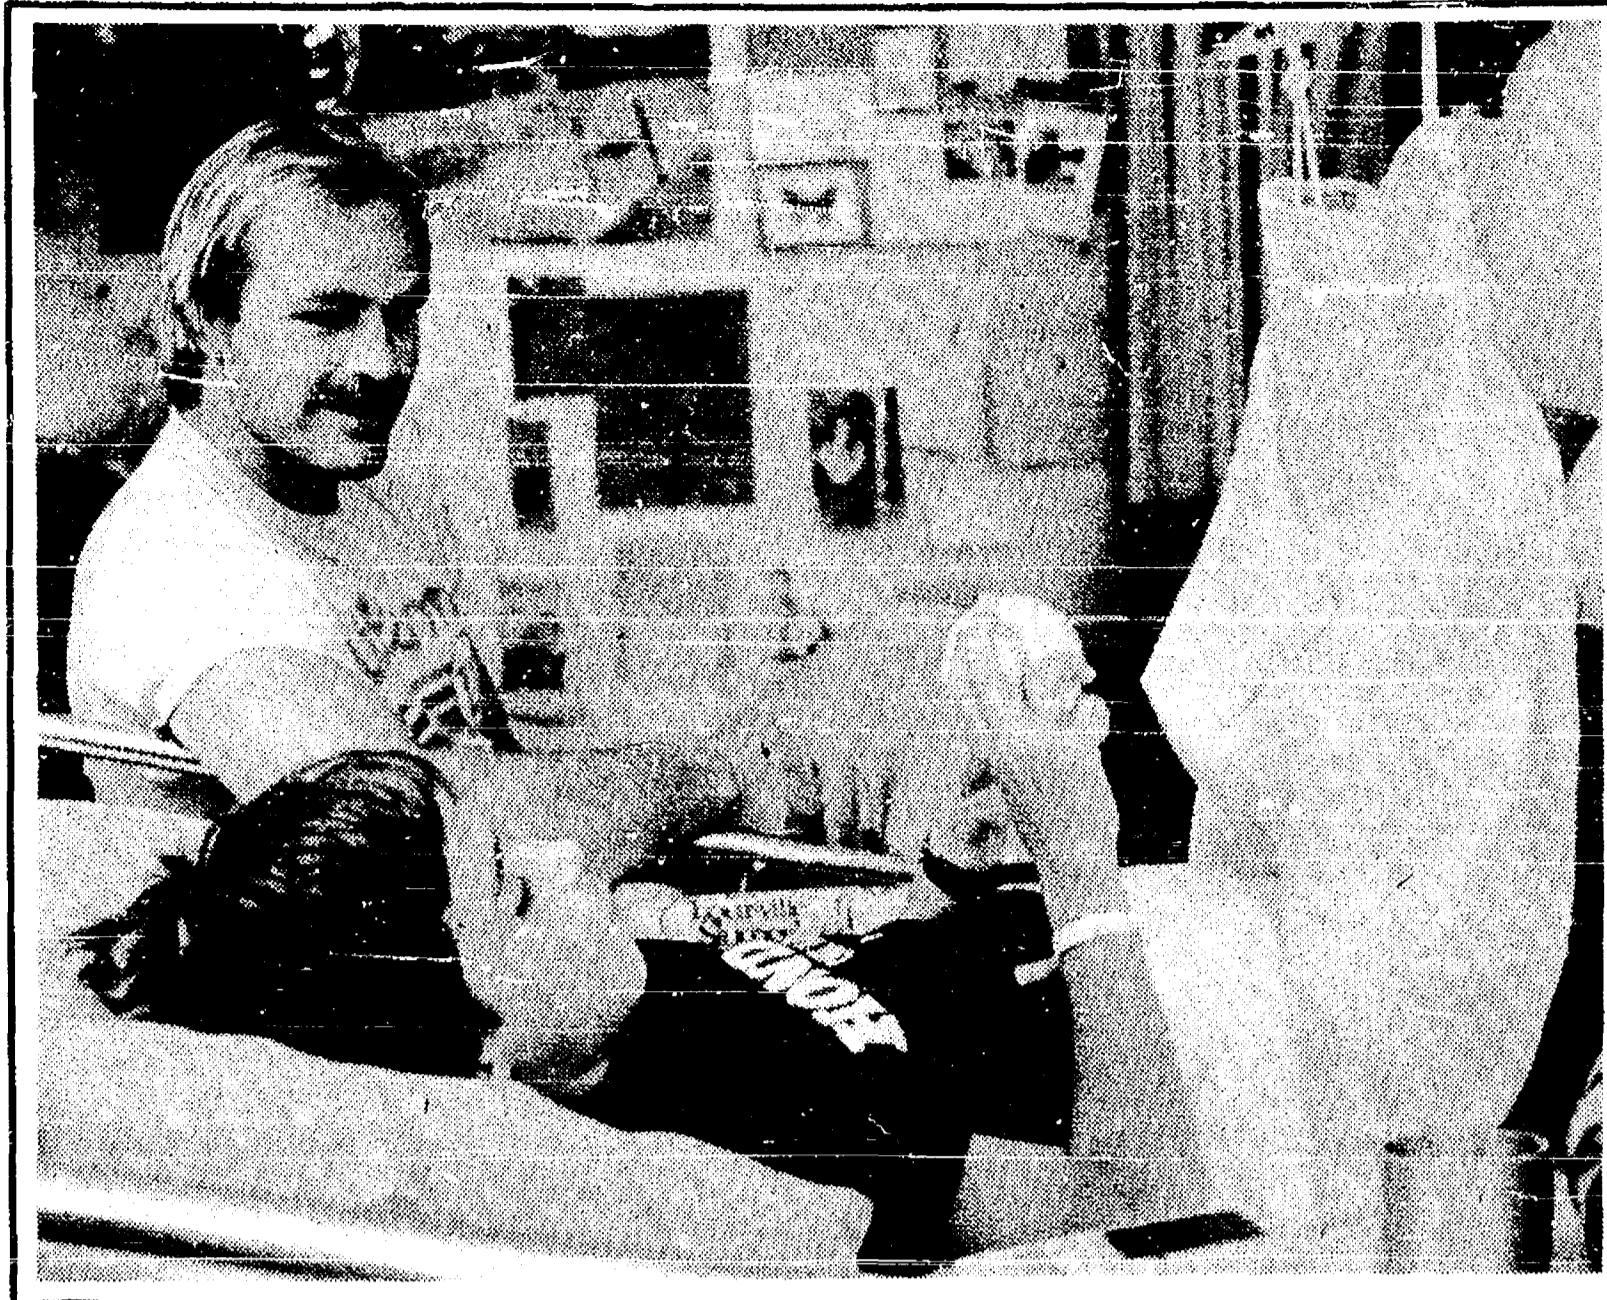

Wysocki was the winner in the North Farmington contest, although he needed help from Dave Salkowski in the seventh, when North Farmington rallied for six runs. Paull had two hits and two RBI for the Park.

Benton Harbor bowed to the Park, 11-7, on July 19. Doug Lucas was the winner. He aided his own cause with a triple and a single, while Ayrault drove in three runs. Ayrault was on the mound in the 5-3 verdict over Detroit, although Wysocki came on in the seventh to cut short a rally. Ayrault and Lucas each notched two hits; Lucas' hits drove in two runs. The Park victory gave the Detroiters their first loss, forcing a showdown in the two-game elimination tourney.

Eight Park errors, however, spelled doom, as they accounted for four unearned runs which was all Detroit needed to gain a 7-4 decision and the state crown. Lucas shared the pitching with Salkowski, who was tagged with the loss. Paull, Ayrault and Marty Saad garnered two hits apiece for the Park, while Lucas drove in two runs with a double.

The second-place finish was the best ever for a Park Ruth team, which was led by Manager Paul Pellerito and coaches Dave Ayrault and Gene Wysocki.

Tiger treatment

Nine-year-old accident victim Denny Egan of the Farms got a pleasant surprise the other day when auto dealer Joe Ricci, a friend of Denny's parents, stopped by St. John Hospital with his buddy, Detroit Tiger Kirk Gibson, to visit Denny. Gibby, of the Park, brought Denny an autographed Tiger baseball and a real "Gibson Model Louisville Slugger" bat, signed by the Tiger star outfielder with hopes of a speedy recovery for Denny. Denny, a catcher on a local Little League team, will be Kirk's guest at a Tiger game in August when Denny's up and about again.

Farms-City wins district tourney

The Babe Ruth League of Grosse Pointe Farms-City hosted and won the District Tournament at Kerby Field for the 14 and 15 year old All Star teams from Grosse Pointe Farms-City, Park, Woods, L'Anse Creuse, L'Anse Creuse North and Roseville from July 15-20.

GAME ONE: Grosse Pointe Woods defeated the Park. The Woods offense was paced by Craig Engel and Bryan Ulatowski with three hits each. The Park's attack was led by Rico Cordova and Joe Samborski with three hits each. Chris Ross and Kevin Aardema had two hits each.

GAME TWO: Farms-City defeated Roseville, 12-8. The Farms-City attack was led by Rob Wood with three singles and two RBI; Jason Colegrove with two singles and four RBI; Steve Kinsley with a double and three RBI; Dave Fellows and Costa Papista each with a double; and Bill Adilhook with two RBI. The Roseville offense was paced by Jim Lintz with two hits. Winning pitcher Costa Papista struck out five.

GAME THREE: L'Anse Creuse North defeated the Woods, 11-8. North's offense was paced by Joe Trombley with three hits and Kevin Legue with two hits. The Woods' attack was led by Bob Marshall and Ulatowski with two hits each and Brian David with a home run.

GAME FOUR: Grosse Pointe Farms-City defeated L'Anse Creuse 16-14. The Farms-City held off a late L'Anse Creuse drive to gain its second straight tournament victory. Both teams had 16 hits. The Farms-City offense was paced by Jason Colegrove and Costa Papista with three hits and four RBI each. George Ghazal had three hits and three RBI, Mike Hennessey had two hits and two RBI, Kinsley and Rick Leonard with two hits each, and Adilhook had two RBI. The L'Anse Creuse attack was led by Duane Wruble with four hits, while Rick Snow and Ron McCracken had three hits each. Jerry Joliet was credited with the win for his four innings of fine relief.

GAME FIVE: The Park defeated L'Anse Creuse, 9-8. The Park's attack was led by Cordova with two hits, Scott Fischer with a triple and Dave Arnold with a double. The L'Anse Creuse offense was paced by Snow, Matt Tesch, Wruble, McCracken and Rich Von Almen with two hits each.

GAME SIX: The Woods defeated Roseville, 10-4. The Woods' offense was paced by Ulatowski and Bob Rogers with three hits each. The Roseville attack was led by Jim Lentz and Steve Misch with two hits each.

GAME SEVEN: The Farms-City came from behind to defeat L'Anse Creuse North, 9-6. The Farms-City offense was paced by Kinsley with three hits and two RBI as Papista and Eric Doelle each contributed a double, and Wood and Ghazal each added a single to round out the seven-hit attack. North's attack was led by Jim Fowler, Kevin Le Gue, R.E. Shipley and Kevin Metter. Adilhook, Wood, and Doelle played an excellent defensive game for the Farms-City. Papista, the winning pitcher, allowed only four hits and struck out six.

GAME EIGHT: The Park defeated the Woods, 10-4. The Park's attack was led by Al Shaheen, Cordova and Brian Benavidez with two hits each. The Wood's offense was paced by Tim Rice with three hits, and Craig Engel and Rob Marshall with two hits each. Aardema was the winning pitcher.

GAME NINE: The Park defeated L'Anse Creuse North, 9-8. The Park's offense was paced by Cordova with two home runs and Shaheen's double and a single. North's attack was led by Joe Trombley with two singles and Walt Potoroka with two doubles. Dave Arnold was the winning pitcher.

GAME 10: The Park defeated the Farms-City, 9-8, in eight innings. The Park's attack was led by Arnold and Aardema with two hits each and Shaheen with a double. The Farms-City offense was paced by Kinsley, Adilhook and Papista with two hits each. Arnold singled in the eighth inning to score Shaheen with the winning run after the Farms-City had tied the score 8-8 in the bottom of the seventh inning on a single by Papista with the bases loaded. Shaheen was the winning pitcher. This victory moved the Park into the championship game with the Farms-City.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME: The Farms-City defeated the Park, 10-3, to win the District Tournament. The Farms-City offense was paced by Papista, Leonard and Ghazal, with two hits and two RBI each, Kinsley and Bob Gillooly had two hits each.

A sacrifice fly by Colegrove and a double by Kinsley drove in two first innings runs to provide the Farms-City with a lead that they never relinquished.

SRO for horse show

in Gladstone, N.J., for trials leading to her participation in this August's Pan Am games. Her place as a featured rider in the exhibition was graciously and expertly filled by Mari Zducic.

When asked to reflect on the Hunt Club's two-day event, club president Richard Shenkus expressed delight at the turnout, which will translate into funds to help The Detroit Institute for Children in their work as an outpatient diagnostic and treatment facility for physically and neurologically impaired children. Founded in 1920 by the Sigma Gamma Association, it is located at 5447 Woodward, near the Detroit Institute of Arts.

"Our intention is to continue community involvement and support. We are a social club, but I believe we have a purpose beyond entertaining ourselves, and that is to contribute to the metropolitan Detroit community in a meaningful way whenever that is possible."

MEMBERS OF the Exhibition and Horse Show Committee included Rosemary Gordon, chairman; Richard J. Shenkus, Grosse Pointe Hunt Club president, honorary chairman; Leslie Weller, program booklet and community relations; Sue Snethkamp, exhibition; Lynn Ghesquiere, secretary; Mary Jane Frederickson, secretary; Linda Ryan, flowers; Deborah Mullan, trophies; Betty Anderson, public relations; Chuck Bachrach, show announcer; Rob Mahr, exhibition announcer; Mike Ghesquiere, facilities; Mrs. Sterling Graham, Sigma Gamma Association president, honorary director; Terence Vaughan, administrator of the Detroit Institute for Children, honorary director.

Following the show, the committee sent special acknowledgements to Max Linder, The City of Grosse Pointe Woods, Winkelman's, The Westin Hotel in cooperation with Planterra, The Arrangement, Bobby Thomas and his band, Grosse Pointe Cable TV, Dorothy Turri, Tommy Smith, Dave Barrick, Ralph Unger, Gerald Rycraft, William Wolfington, Dave Babcock, James B. The Grosse Pointe Gunners took the under-14 Major Championship from the Silver Streaks, 3-2, in a well-matched game. Over the Fourth of July weekend, the team was invited to play in the Wolverine tournament with 170 teams from the East and Midwest. The Gunners overcame physical and weather disadvantages to mark up a tie and two losses. The Gunners are, left to right (front row), John Hilscher, Ben Black, Louie Melner, Sam Steinhelb, Eric Miller, (back row) Coach Abe Van der Wyngaard, Chris Eshenbun, Michael Finch, Jeff Johnston, Steve Trowern, Robert Keyes, George Sparrow, and Charles Johnston, coach. Not pictured are John Andary, Brian Curtiss, Brian Grieve, Rob Koehler and Eric Restum.

Swim finals set for NYC

The Michigan Inter-Club Swimming Association (MICA) will hold its championship semifinals and finals this Saturday and Sunday, July 30 and 31, at the Detroit Yacht Club on Belle Isle.

The finals feature competition for boys and girls aged 8 to 16 in 46 A.A.U. sanctioned swimming events. Some of the youngsters hold MICA and even state records. The MICA is an association of 14 golf, country and yacht clubs in the Detroit area which compete in dual swimming meets during the summer months.

South swimmer will attend Mount Union

Former Grosse Pointe South High swimming standout Matthew T. Van Tiem will attend Mount Union College to continue his athletic and academic career, announced Coach Larry Kehres, head swimming coach at Mount Union.

A member of the varsity club, Van Tiem was a four-year letter-winner in swimming at South High. He was also a member of his high school Symphony Band.

The son of Thomas A. Van Tiem, Sr., of Chalmers in Detroit, and Helen Van Tiem, of Village Lane, in Grosse Pointe, he plans to major in business administration at Mount Union.

SINCE 1965

Supplement to the GROSSE POINTE NEWS

Now Through September 12, 1983

Harden.
A tradition of fine craftsmanship
since 1865.

Today, Harden artisans are keeping alive a tradition of fine craftsmanship which began over 100 years ago in the tiny village of McConnellsville, New York.

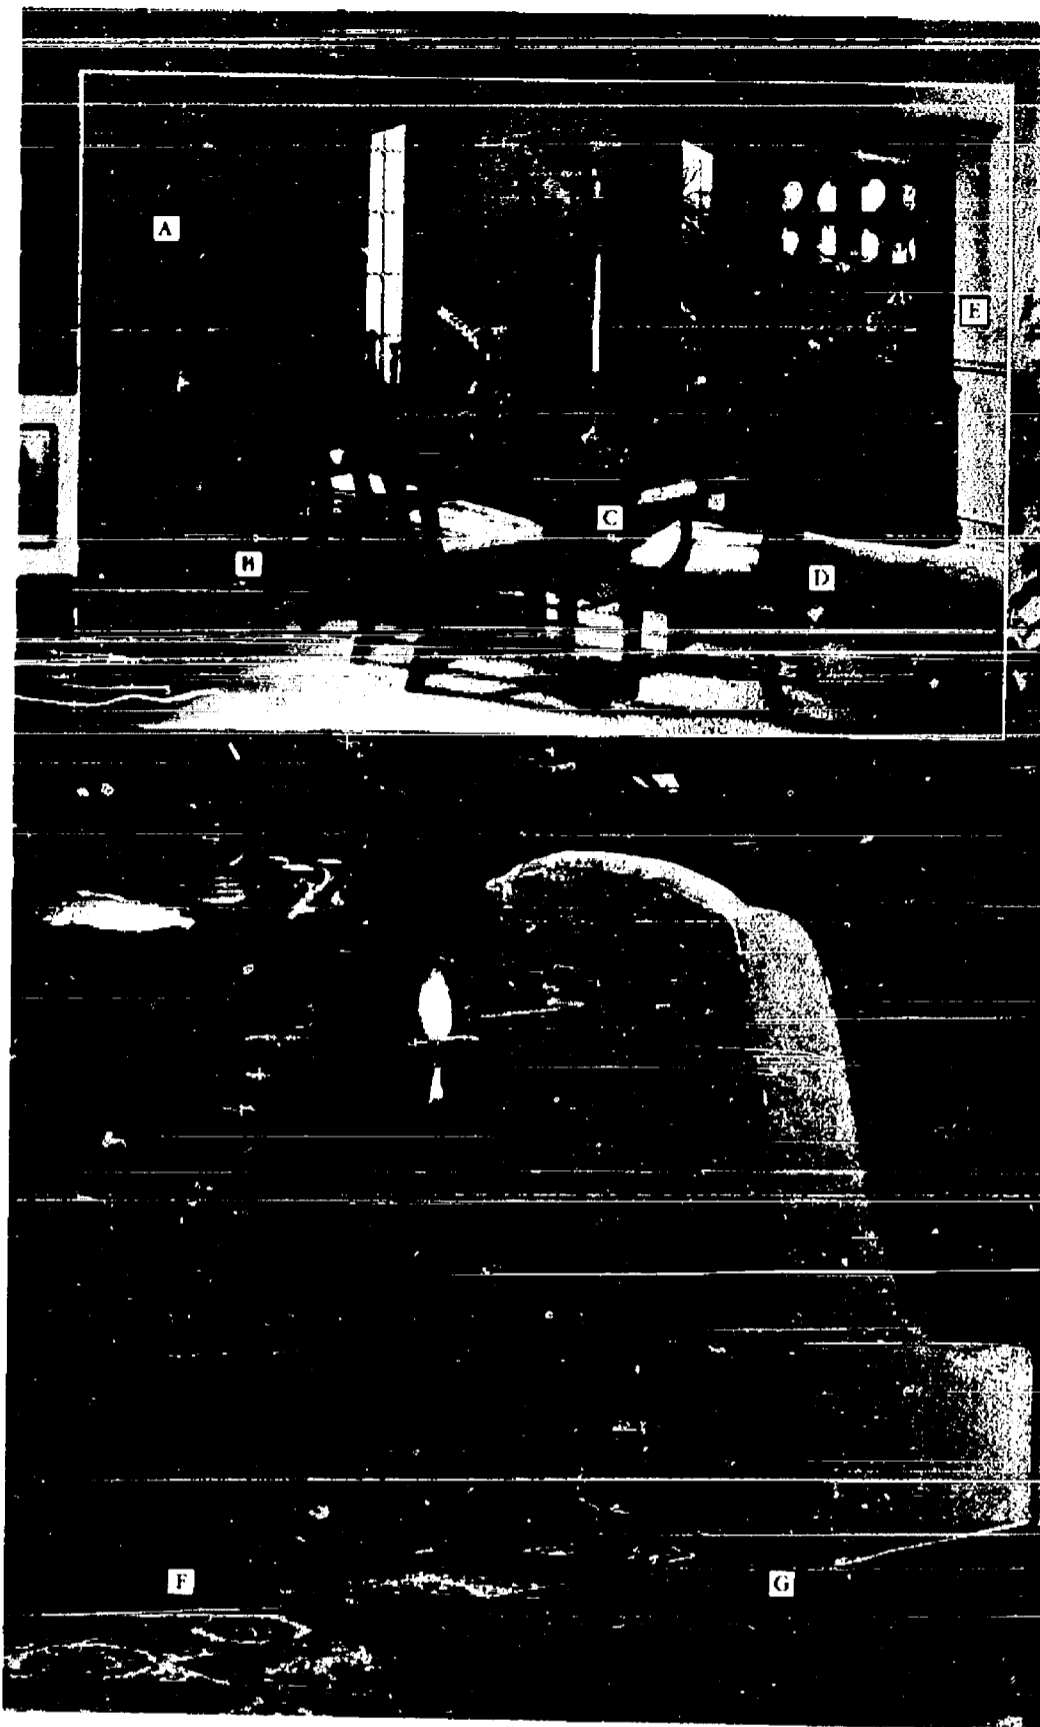

As it was in 1865, Harden's guiding principle is to make each piece of furniture "the best way we know how."

It starts with Harden's own forests of native American cherry trees. Logs are cut and carefully selected for the character of grain which best suits their use in solid cherrywood furniture.

Although modern furniture manufacturing techniques are used where practical, what distinguishes Harden furniture from most other makes is the extraordinary amount of hand-crafting that goes into every piece.

The result is furniture of uncompromising quality that truly will be handed down from generation to generation.

The Harden Harvest Sale offers an exceptional opportunity to own this fine furniture at very attractive prices.

Save now! Custom covered sofas as low as $949⁰⁰...chairs from $299⁰⁰

More than 75 sofa styles in a choice of over 800 fabrics at prices as low as $949 plus a wide selection of chairs from $299.

Fine hand tailoring and extraordinary seating comfort are the first things you'll notice in Harden's upholstered furniture. But it's only after you've lived with it awhile that you'll appreciate the quality craftsmanship that goes into each piece. Kiln-dried northern hardwoods are used in the frame which is assembled with screws, glue and double hardwood dowels for unsurpassed sturdiness and durability. Each piece is then custom-covered in your choice of over 800 luxury fabrics.
