That's good news

Congratulations to Shirley Pitlock on the Sunday, Sept. 4 birth of daughter Meghan Marie. Meghan is the first child of Shirley and the late Tom Pitlock, of the Standard on the Hill service station on Kercheval.

As you may recall, the Hill and much of the Pointe was stunned by the sudden death of Tom last July. Reports say Meghan is doing just fine, along with mom, and checked in at 7 pounds, 11 ounces at Bon Secours Hospital.

A spokesman at the station said the memorial fund set up in Tom's name is steadily growing with about $5,000 secured so far for Meghan's future.

We've got floats

Help! The Grosse Pointe Village Association is sending out an SOS to anyone with a large garage, bumpshop or warehouse where homecoming floats from North and South High Schools can be stored from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15.

Parts of the floats will also be used in the upcoming Santa Claus Parade slated to be held on Nov. 25 of this year. Please call Beverly Leinweber at 882-7000 extension 116 and leave your name.

The students, merchants and children of Grosse Pointe will really appreciate it if you can help.

CYA

When the going gets tough, the tough won't. That, believe it or not, was the final score of the North High School - East Detroit foot ball game last week. North won, but the tale lies in how they won.

According to officials at North, the game was scheduled for last Saturday, but was supposed to be cancelled because East Detroit teachers were on strike. The Friday night before, coach Frank Sumner was at a banquet where he was advised by other coaches and officials not to cancel, but to cover his tail and not try to out-guess what the state athletic officials would do at play off time.

According to the playoff system, it doesn't make any difference whether a team plays eight or nine games because playoff spots are awarded on basis of what the team did in the games played. Got that?

So, it was decided that North's team would show up for the game, but only after the East Detroit athletic powers were told what was happening. Showing good sportsmanship, North even offered to play the game on Sunday or Monday to help out East Detroit, but ED couldn't do it at all, they said.

So, at 1 p.m., the team dressed, the officials were there and they all marched over to East Detroit Athletic Director Larry Andrews and asked him to field a team. When Andrews said he could not, the officials told North to kick off. They did, and immediately walked off the field with a 1-0 forfeit win.

"As far as we are concerned the win goes in our record and the win-loss column," said North Athletic Director Tom Gaerke. "As far as the state's concerned, the playoff decision (should one need to be made) goes on the basis of the eight games played."

That's it. Case closed, game won and tails covered.

Play it again, Doc.

No good deed should ever go unmentioned, so this one won't either. Word has filtered down

Volunteer probation

Fighting substance abuse on the home front

By Harriet Nolan

If you're a diehard who still believes that the typical alcoholic is an unshaven male walking around smelling up the neighborhood, it's time to update that notion.

Substance abusers can debut earlier than society's sweet sixteeners, wear corduroy pants and shetland sweaters, and appear elegantly coiffured at social functions wearing just the right amount of jewelry, according to Suzanne O'Shea, director of the Grosse Pointe Volunteer Probation Department.

"But in this community, people like to keep private affairs private. The truth of the matter is that there is a tremendous amount of substance abuse and frightened people here."

Mrs. O'Shea comes into contact with Grosse Pointe residents after they are brought before one of the five community courts for such crimes as fighting, malicious destruction of property, larceny or drunk driving. Her department's caseload has risen from 140 in 1978 to 178 for the fiscal year 1983.

The bulk of these crimes, according to O'Shea, are committed as a result of drinking too much alcohol and taking chemical substances such as marijuana, barbiturates, heroin and even the gas used in dentists' offices.

After the offender is tagged by the long arm of the law and found guilty, the probation department is called to investigate the person and the crime committed and submit a report to the court before the offender is sentenced.

The report could include the suggestion for supervised probation which could last from six months to two years, according to Mrs. O'Shea.

"Probation is really leniency from the court," because all the offender is really entitled to is jail," says Mrs. O'Shea. "In effect, the court is saying 'I don't want to see you here again.' Probation requires a tremendous amount of work."

The work involved for Mrs. O'Shea and her staff of three professionals, who work on a contractual basis, and six volunteers could result in recommending the offender for a substance abuse program such as one offered at Marian Manor in Riverview.

Participating could include being an inpatient or outpatient (Continued on Page 14A)

Drop a dime

It doesn't go too far in GP

By Tom Greenwood

Ask the average person what you can acquire in Grosse Pointe for 10 cents and they'll probably tell you "two nickels." Don't believe the unromantic fools!

Grosse Pointe, otherwise known as Pink and Greenland, home of capitalism and the fashionably dressed, has many things to offer for the tenth part of a dollar. You may not want them, but they're there.

Most of the merchants on the Hill and in the Village were up to the question, "What have you got for a dime?" Admittedly, it drew a blank look for some of them, as if they couldn't quite remember what a dime was. But they tried.

"A dime? A dime," said John Keller, manager of Hamlin's Market. "Let's see, there must be something around here." What started out as a casual survey of the store soon turned into a quest.

"Let's see, for a dime you could look at the meat counter," said butcher George Bery, adding two cents worth of help. "Just don't look too long."

"Wait, I've got it," said Keller, resting his hand on a large glass gallon jar. "We sell licorice by the mile. We also sell it by the yard for 79 cents. Let's see, 36 inches into 79... Where's my calculator?"

After pressing a few buttons and writing a few figures, Keller said Hamlin's could provide a customer with a 4 1/2 inches of licorice for 10 cents. "Will that be cash or charge?" said Keller with a laugh.

At Perry's, the closest thing Grosse Pointe has to a PX, the request brought a salesperson to a halt. "A dime you say? If you went up to 15 cents, or 19 cents, I'd have a lot more to offer," she said. "At 19 cents you could at least purchase school supplies. Isn't that something? A dime won't even buy you an eraser for

Liquor question may be on Woods ballot

By Mike Andrzejczyk

When Woods voters go to the polls Nov. 8, they may be asked to increase the number of Class C liquor licenses the city can issue as well as select new political leaders.

The Woods council last Monday asked City Attorney George Catlin to prepare ballot language to be presented to the council next Monday for its approval. The referendum would ask voters to approve the issuance of five Class C licenses and one tavern license.

Under the current ordinance, the city can issue four Class C licenses and two tavern licenses.

A tavern license allows the holder to sell beer and wine for consumption on the premises. A Class C license allows the holder to sell beer, wine and liquor for on-premises consumption. Both types of licenses have to be approved by the city council before issuance.

The council decided to go to the voters for the extra Class C after a holder of a tavern license this week asked to upgrade the license to the Class C.

Edward Barbieri, Jr. of Annie Corporation, doing business as Da Edoardo Restaurant, 19767 Mack, asked the council for the upgrading of the restaurant's tavern license.

The council decided to take action last Monday because of charter provisions that could force it to call a special election should one-quarter of the electorate ask the issue be on the ballot.

There are two ways to get an issue on the ballot, Catlin said; either through council action or the circulation of petitions. Should 10 percent of the electorate come forward with the petitions, the council could approve the change in the ordinance, or call a special election. Were 25 percent of the registered voters in the city to sign the petition, the council would have to call the special election, he added.

Councilman Thomas Fahrner, in making the motion for the preparation of ballot language, pointed out that the city would not have to issue the extra license. If issued, there were no guarantees the license would go to Da Edoardo, he added.

Councilman Frederick Lovelace, pointing out a special election could cost the city about $4,000, said the issue should be decided at a regularly scheduled election on Nov. 8, where more of the electorate would be voting. Special elections tend to bring out voters who approve of the issue, he added.

Councilmen Robert Novitke and John Sabol opposed the ballot language. Novitke said the action would put the council back into the liquor license business, which its ordinance was designed to prevent.

Teachers win 5 percent a year in new contract

By Susan McDonald

Local teachers' new tentative contract with the Board of Education calls for pay increases that could amount to 10 percent over the next two years, depending upon the inflation rate. But the contract also provides management with new language under which it may require teachers to attend workshops and add one period to the high school day.

The contract was tentatively agreed upon last Tuesday morning after Grosse Pointe teachers threatened to walk a picket line rather than go back to school that day without an agreement. It has not yet been ratified by the Board of Education or teachers.

The agreement grants teachers a two percent increase in base pay each year of the two-year pact, and guarantees them Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) checks capped at three percent for each of the two years. Board spokesman Bruce Kefgen said it considers that salary adjustment "reasonable." But some teachers see it another way.

"Many teachers feel the low cap (on COLA) doesn't adequately protect them from inflation," teacher union president Curt Lange said. "Recent studies indicate that in order to attract quality teachers, salaries will have to be improved. The contract makes no recognition of that," Lange said.

The agreement means that the salary of an average Grosse Pointe teacher, with a Master's degree and 10 years in the system, will increase from $33,676 at the end of last school year, to $37,172 in June of 1985, if inflation is at least 3 percent each year, according to the school system's director of personnel, Ronald Tonks. He said the settlement will cost the school system a little under $1.7 million, overall.

Lange said teachers at a meeting last week also expressed dissatisfaction with language pertaining to reassignment of teachers if a school building is closed and the school board's intention to add a seventh period to the high school day.

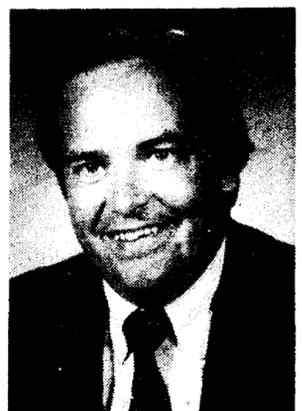

The board had tried to win teacher acceptance of a 45-minute extension of their workday, but instead the contract firmly established the workday at its current seven hours and 15 minutes. The board, however, won the ability to establish a seven-period day at the high school, with employees teaching five periods, using one for preparation and another for professional responsibilities assigned by management.

"Their (teachers') concerns are that if the board goes ahead with the seven-period day, there will be shorter classes and some difficult situations," union president Lange said. "They're just concerned about the change."

But Supt. Kenneth Brummel said the seven-period day may be implemented next September and will give the schools more flexibility and more course offerings at the high school level.

The union had tried to establish a seniority system for the reassignment of teachers in the case of a school closing. But the board insisted and won a contract provision that states such reassignments will be done "in the best interests of the instructional pro-

John Youngblood

Attorney tapped for City council

By Susan McDonald

A local attorney who has represented the city in contract negotiations with police officers was appointed to the Grosse Pointe City Council at a special meeting last week.

The attorney, John Youngblood, 38, of Lakeland Avenue, accepted the position and said he will run for election this November. He was appointed to a seat that was vacated by Lorenzo Browning when he was elected mayor by the council last month. Browning was replacing Mayor David Robb, who recently resigned after he was charged with embezzling $188,000 by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Robb has filed an answer to the SEC civil suit in which he claims the $188,000 missing from a bankrupt securities firm was money owed to him for overseeing bankruptcy proceedings of the firm. A hearing in federal court to determine whether Robb's accounting is in order is the next step in the case.

Youngblood last week said he plans to "sit back and look around" before he considers proposing any changes in city government. "The city is well run by both its administration and its council. I hope I can continue that tradition," he said.

Youngblood is a corporate attorney specializing in labor relations. With a former partner, he represented the city in labor talks with its police union, but now he has a strictly private-sector clientele, he said.

Married and the father of three daughters, ages 5, 9 and 11, Youngblood is a member of the Grosse Pointe Crisis Club and is active in the St. Paul education program. He was a founding member of a group that built a Ronald McDonald House for patients and their families at Children's Hospital of Michigan.

Youngblood's name was one of two placed in nomination. Councilman James Curran nominated Tom O'Rourke, a Lincoln Road father of four children who is past president of the local Little League Baseball program. Curran's motion was seconded by Councilman Arthur Fetters.

Youngblood was nominated by Jeanette Duffield and seconded by William Montgomery. The absence of one councilman, Robert Nugent, placed selection of the new councilman in Mayor Browning's hands. He said he would vote for Youngblood and Curran moved that the vote be made unanimous for Youngblood.

The council met before its public council meeting in a closed-door session, apparently to discuss the appointment.

City takes aim at duck hunters

The Grosse Pointe City Council last week asked the state to outlaw hunting in the community and 1,000 feet from its shore into Lake St. Clair.

The request was forwarded to the Department of Natural Resources, which will investigate the city's claim that hunting endangers persons and property in the area. A public hearing must be scheduled before the regulation is enacted.

Browning said the process will take about six months, so the rule will probably not be in effect when duck hunting season opens Oct. 1.

City police have received several complaints about duck hunters from lake shore landowners. One hunter, a Farms police officer, was charged with dangerous discharge of a firearm, but the city lost the case in Wayne County Circuit Court, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach. The Department of Natural Resources' regulation is designed to provide the city with an alternate means of prosecution.

 "It is a problem for us," Kressbach said. "We have a lot of tame ducks down at our marina. They sit on boats, people feed them and they hatch there. We don't think it's quite cricket for hunters to come here and shoot them. And it's not safe."
 The city council's formal resolution asked that the area be "closed" throughout the year to hunters, discharge of firearms or bow and arrows." It was approved at a special meeting Sept. 8.

Shapedown for teens at center

A weight management program for overweight teens, developed at the University of California, will be offered at the War Memorial beginning Monday, Sept. 19, through Nov. 21. The class will meet from 4 to 5 p.m. and costs $125 plus $12 for the Shapedown workbook.

Group leader Allison Boomer, is a nutritionist with a Master's degree in public health, and can be reached at 822-0502 for more information.

The Shapedown program promotes changes in food and exercise habits, self-esteem and weight. Participants will assess their "fat" habits and their "thin" habits and develop strategies for necessary changes.

"Shapedown focuses on successive small changes in habits that add up to a change in lifestyle," explains Ms. Boomer.

The 10 weekly meetings will include two parent meetings. The goal of Shapedown is to put the teenager in charge of his or her own weight loss, but parents are given support and advice too.

"Parenting a dieting teenager can be a 'no win' situation," says Ms. Boomer. "Parents often feel frustrated and inadequate."

Registration may be made in person or by mail at the War Memorial, 881-7511.

Instruction on how to "Be A Clown" will be offered at the War Memorial on Tuesdays from Sept. 20 to Oct. 25. Classes will meet from 4 to 5 p.m. for 9 to 12 year-olds, and from 7 to 8 p.m. for ages 13 to 16.

Students will learn how to apply make-up, magic tricks, juggling, balloon sculpture and pantomime. Class fee is $40 and includes supplies.

Instructor Jonathan Haglund, can be seen clowning around at the War Memorial's Open House Sunday, Sept. 18, open to all Pointe residents free of charge.

Attack of the killer tomatoes?

You see, Delmer L. Buttrey, of the Woods, likes tomatoes. I mean he really likes tomatoes, and he's sort of got this green thumb. Anyhow, things have gotten out of hand, to the point where he can't see out his back porch anymore. Buttrey planted these seven tomato plants (Bonnie Best and Big Boys) back in the spring, made sure they were fertilized properly, got plenty of water plus a dose of epsom salts every three weeks or so. So far they responded with about half a bushel of their best with another estimated bushel still on the vines. Buttrey hopes to get back in his house by early November when the frost kills off the plants.

SEMTA cuts services to students, commuters

By Mike Andrzejczyk
Students attending two Grosse Pointe schools will lose bus service and those at two others will face reduced schedules beginning Oct. 1 under a Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority proposal aimed at balancing the agency's budget.

Parcells and Brownell middle schools will lose their evening bus service, along with a number of other schools in SEMTA's service area. North and South high schools will have reduced services, director of media affairs Gail Whitty said.

Schedules for the high school service have yet to be worked out, but there will be some service to the schools, Ms. Whitty said.

Grosse Pointe Public Schools director of support services Benjamin Zenn said that further reductions in bus service to the schools will hurt the district. He added that the administration had received no official communication from SEMTA about the proposed reductions, which were tentatively approved by the SEMTA board of directors last week.

Until the district receives official notification about the cut-offs, there will be no discussions about alternatives for moving students, Zenn said.

The transit authority offers the bus services for local schools as a public service, Zenn said. The lines are set up with the cooperation of the school districts, but the maintenance of the service is not bound by contractual agreements, he added.

Reductions in services could hurt the district further down the road as it contemplates the consolidation of the district schools, Zenn said.

SEMTA's budget problems affect more than just Grosse Pointe schools, as the transportation authority is fighting for survival, Zenn pointed out. A number of other schools in the tri-county area, including Bishop Gallagher in Harper Woods, face reduced services.

Among the proposals to balance SEMTA's budget is a youth fare increase, Ms. Whitty said. The fare would be 75 cents minimum after Oct. 1 instead of the current 50 cents, she said.

Other proposals before the SEMTA board of directors are a 30 percent reduction in large-bus service, a 34 percent cut in dial-a-ride service, elimination of commuter trains from Detroit to Pontiac, staff reductions and layoffs and the transfer of a $9.4 million federal transportation grant into $6.2 million for the operating funds.

Pointe commuters will find their wait for the morning bus a little longer under the proposed service changes, but can consider themselves lucky compared to other parts of the service area, where 18 routes are slated for elimination, Ms. Whitty said.

Riders of the Kercheval, Charlevoix, Harper, East Jefferson and Jefferson limited express buses will find their wait increased by a few minutes during rush hour, but non-rush hour service will remain relatively unchanged, Ms. Whitty said.

Riders of the Kercheval buses will find their wait to be 14 minutes, instead of the current 10, according to SEMTA. Off-peak waits will remain unchanged at 80 minutes. Charlevoix commuters will find their wait increased from 7.5 minutes to 10 minutes after Oct. 1 for the bus, while off-peak service remains unchanged.

East Jefferson riders will find their wait to be 30 minutes during the commute instead of the current 20 minutes according to SEMTA. The Harper line will run every 20 minutes during the rush hours, instead of the current 15, SEMTA said.

Riders of the Jefferson limited will have one less bus to catch to and from downtown after the first of the month. Four buses will make the trip downtown in the morning and three will make the return trip under the proposed service. The Jefferson express currently runs five morning buses and four afternoon buses.

A public hearing about the transportation cutbacks will be held Monday, Sept. 19, at 10:30 a.m. in the Veteran's Memorial Building in downtown Detroit. The SEMTA board of directors will vote on implementing the cutbacks the next day.

One job at a time for Hertel

By Mike Andrzejczyk

First District County Commissioner John Hertel said last week he will resign his commission seat if he is appointed the director of the state Agriculture Department.

"I would have to resign, to be fair to both situations," Hertel said. "Because of the size of the commission districts, the residents of the county need someone who can devote their full time to the commission."

Holding both the state agriculture department directorship and the commission seat would not allow him to devote his full energies to either of the offices, he added.

Hertel is the only publicly named candidate for the directorship, currently held by Dean Prigdeon. Gov. James Blanchard earlier this month announced his recommendation of Hertel to the post, which Prigdeon will resign from, effective Nov. 1. There are several other candidates for the office, Blanchard's press office said.

The appointment of the department director is a commission appointment, agriculture commission chairman John Kronomeyer said. A screening committee was appointed Tuesday to begin screening the applicants, with the naming of a new director not expected for more than a month, he said.

Hertel said he would accept the appointment as a way to help the state's second-largest industry, agriculture, and a way to help the state economy as a whole.

During his eight years in the state Senate, Hertel served as chairman of the Environmental and Agriculture Affairs Committee for seven years as well as vice-chairman of the Forestry and Tourism Industries committees. Hertel also owns a small farm near Memphis, Mich. and has won grand championships in the Indiana and Ohio state fair horse shows with his Percheron draft horses.

Hertel said he is also interested in the quality and wholesomeness of the food produced in the state. During his years in the Senate, Hertel was a strong advocate of environmental legislation.

Were he to be appointed to the Agriculture Department seat and resign his county office, it would be the second time he has left the county commission for a higher office.

Hertel was elected to the county board in November, 1972, and began his term the following January. He resigned his seat in March the following year to run for state Senate.

"I would feel bad about leaving the commission," Hertel said. Currently, the board is in the midst of budget deliberations as well as questions about what should be done with the Wayne County General Hospital.

The budget, not due until November, is "more difficult than in other years" to prepare because of changes in the structure of county government, Hertel said.

The commission is the legislative arm of county government and the holder of the purse strings. The county executive makes budget proposals to the commission, which is empowered to make changes. Taking the administrative functions away from the county commission has had a positive effect on the preparing of the budget, Hertel said.

Hertel was one of six commissioners who voted recently against overriding Executive William Lucas' veto of an ordinance that would have put the county hospital under the administration of the commission. The ordinance, which was proposed by Westland commissioner Kay Beard, would have set up an administering board for the hospital which would have a majority of members appointed by the commission.

The override of Lucas' veto of the bill would have had a detrimental effect on county government, Hertel said. "The override would have dealt a terrible blow to both the reorganization and the county executive," he said.

The county could begin negotiating with the state and possibly the University of Michigan to draw up a plan to gradually turn over the hospital to the university as a teaching facility while maintaining it as health care facility, Hertel said.

Restaurant law goes into effect

By Harriet Nolan

A possible lawsuit for loss of income, a wait-and-see attitude and a terse no-comment were the responses from the three Grosse Pointe Park eateries affected by the new ordinance halting business between the hours of 2 a.m. and 5 a.m.

"I lost $300 last week and may have to lay off a couple of employees," said Bruce Russell, owner of the Tower Restaurant on Jefferson, explaining reasons for his possible lawsuit against the city.

Russell called the move by council members approving the early morning restriction "strictly political during election time." He also voiced concern that a lot of older people who have used his restaurant as a haven from the early morning darkness and cold won't be able to do so anymore.

Tony Milana, owner of Mama Rosa's on Mack Avenue, says it's too soon to tell how his business will be affected.

"I had to turn away some unhappy customers the first night and won't be able to tell how much business I'm losing for awhile," he said.

The Steak 'N Egg Kitchen, located on Jefferson Avenue, issued a simple "no comment" through attorneys Brian McMahon of the law firm of Honigman, Miller, Schwartz and Cohn located in Detroit and Diane Spears, attorney based at the firm's headquarters in Memphis, Tenn.

The ordinance was approved by the Park council after neighbors complained of noise and unruly behavior in the neighborhood of the Steak 'N Egg Kitchen.

General Motors Vice-President in Charge of Industrial Relations, Alfred S. Warren, Jr. will speak to the Junior League of Detroit on Tuesday, Sept. 20, on "Love, Labor and Voluntarism." He is scheduled to speak at 7:30 p.m. at the South High School auditorium. Warren has been with General Motors since 1955 and was appointed his current position in September, 1980. He is very active in community affairs and is president of the Boys' and Girls' Club of Metropolitan Detroit. He resides in Grosse Pointe.

Woods will host planning workshop

Letters will soon be going out to planning commissioners in the Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores inviting them to attend a Michigan Municipal League-sponsored workshop to be held in the Woods City Hall in October.

The workshop will focus on recent court decisions on zoning ordinances and how they affect the area, Woods planning commissioner Robert Frederick, who chaired the Aug. 23 meeting, said. The speaker at the workshop will be Dr. Robert Hotaling.

Keeping the number of commissioners small will cut down on the lecture atmosphere to the workshop, commissioner John Kennedy said. In addition, the contiguous communities face many of the same zoning problems, commissioner Peter Gilizan said.

The cost of the workshop to the city will be $25 per participant, according to the MML. The workshop will begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 13, in the Woods city hall.

Blood pressure
 tests are free

Cottage Hospital registered nurses and licensed practical nurses will take blood pressure readings for anyone in the community on an informal, drop-in basis on Thursday, Sept. 22, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. in Boardroom A, on the lower level of the hospital, 159 Kercheval Avenue.

There is no charge. Free literature on high blood pressure and related illnesses will be available. For more information about this and other community programs offered by the education department of Cottage Hospital, call 884-8600, extension 2390.

Bands will battle Friday

Grosse Pointe's most successful and largest music event for students returns to the War Memorial on Friday, Sept. 23, when the 11th annual Grosse Pointe Battle of the Bands rocks the Fries Ballroom and Auditorium.

For 10 previous battles, sellout crowds of more than 1,000 watched six local high school bands compete for top honors, and those in attendance voted for their favorite. Many former winners have gone on to successful careers as bands including Adrenalin who now have gained statewide recognition and have made an album.

Auditions for the battle were held throughout the summer by high school students headed by Mike Dotson. On Sept. 1, they chose the six bands they thought the best to compete in the finals the night of the battle. To qualify, bands must be non-professional and at least half the members must be Grosse Pointe residents and be of high school age or younger.

The six bands to compete in the 1983 battle are Dirty Trixx, headed by J. T. Harding, Graphix, headed by Tony Ugval, Venture,

Teen dance
 tomorrow

J.R. Entertainment will be featured at a War Memorial dance open to students of all Grosse Pointe public, private and parochial schools, in grades 7 to 9, on Friday, Sept. 16, from 8 to 11 p.m.

Jack Dotson, War Memorial youth director, thanks all the parents who have chaperoned past dances and notes the need for more parent participation in the future, not only for this dance, but for "The Battle of the Bands" scheduled for Friday, Sept. 23, for grades 7 to 12.

Chaperones are asked to call the center at 881-7511 to volunteer for an evening or two this school year.

headed by Dave Simon, Airborne, headed by Tim Holland, The Tourists, headed by Doug Avedisian and Conflict headed by Eric Warezak.

Each band will play one 40 minute set with three playing in the ballroom and three in the auditorium. In this way the music will be continuous and the crowd can move from up to down to hear the different bands competing simultaneously. Voting is done by paid admission only and the winners receive a percent of the ticket receipts.

Tickets for the battle are available at the War Memorial and from band members for $4 and are strictly limited to 1,000 due to fire laws. For further information, call the War Memorial at 881-7511.

League offering stress workshop

The Junior League of Detroit is sponsoring a workshop titled "Managing Stress? Coping Positively with Daily Life" on Tuesday evening, Sept. 27, at the University Liggett Upper School Cafeteria, running from 7 to 10 p.m. Cost of the program is $3 for materials.

Workshop leader will be James J. Scott, president of Wellness Consulting, Inc., and regional director of Living Well, Inc. He will cover the symptoms of stress, coping with guilt, hurt and anger and the importance of nutrition, exercise and relaxation.

The workshop is the first in a series titled "Building Blocks for You" to be sponsored by the Junior League of Detroit. Reservations for this workshop may be made by sending a check for $3 payable to the Junior League, 32 Lakeshore Road, the Farms, 48236. Deadline reservation is Wednesday, Sept. 21. # Closing Schools Won't Make Our Kids Smarter.

The proposal by Dr. Brummel and the Board of Education at their St. Clair, Michigan, meeting to close selected Grosse Pointe Elementary Schools (in their quest for "quality education") has come under much scrutiny since the plan was announced. Various groups that include parents, homeowners, teachers and concerned citizens have been meeting regularly in an attempt to understand the rationale behind the proposal. The conclusion? Unless someone can prove otherwise, schools are closed for one reason: lack of funds. The truth is, this isn't the case in Grosse Pointe. In fact, in the 1982-83 school year . . . The Grosse Pointe School System ended up with a surplus of 1.3 million dollars.

We appreciate that education in America will face many challenges in the coming years. But we must remember, Grosse Pointers have always supported their schools. In good times. And in bad. After all, isn't our School System the primary reason we chose our community as the place to buy a home and raise a family?

Now we're asked to sacrifice 30% of our neighborhood elementary schools whose enrollment has decreased a mere 5% . . . when the middle and high schools are down more than 30%. This raises some other questions. Why drain 6th graders out of the grade schools and thus create empty class rooms? Especially when these students are at an age when many parents feel they're growing up to quickly. And hasn't the Middle School concept of having 6th, 7th and 8th graders lumped together — been tried before in our School System . . . and failed?

Here are some other things that just don't make sense.

Item: What is being done to halt the exodus of Grosse Pointe students to local private and parochial schools? These students already represent 25% of our school age population. This trend is sure to increase dramatically if our public schools continue to offer less and less. This fall, in fact, (1983-84 school year) many of the areas private and parochial schools have added "extra" kindergarten and 1st grade classes.

Item: How can we allow kindergarten and early elementary grade children to walk over two miles to school every day . . . across major thoroughfares . . . past unpatrolled corners . . . in their quest for a "quality education?" Children's safety — to our knowledge — has never been a topic of consideration in the Proposal.

Item: Why can't we offer our senior citizens social and educational programs in the neighborhood schools that have available rooms? Rather than close schools, most senior citizens that we've talked to wouldn't mind "sharing" facilities with students. Their biggest concern is on how school closings will impact on their property's value. If we expand our community programs where feasible, we would be achieving the most good for all of our citizens. And we wouldn't have to sacrifice our elementary schools.

If somebody could prove to us that closing schools would make Grosse Pointe kids "smarter," we would be all for it. But closing our neighborhood elementary schools, we feel, is not the answer. It would, however, lead to community imbalance, declining property values and the loss of the parent/teacher/school involvement that has been unique in Grosse Pointe Schools.

There was a time when a Grosse Pointe education was used as a benchmark for Public School education. We think it's still within our grasp. That's why we're fighting so hard.

But we need your help. If you can support us in any way, our address is conveniently located at the bottom of this ad.

Complaint filed against Kelly recall group

By Mike Andrzejczyk

The recall campaign against state Sen. John Kelly, D-Detroit, has drawn the fire of a political committee that claims the recallers violated the state's campaign finance laws.

Meanwhile, the chairman of the Committee to Recall Sen. Kelly, Mt. Clemens attorney Gary Parker, said the committee will have no problems gaining the 21,700 signatures necessary to force a recall election for the two-term senator.

The Committee for F.A.I.R. (Fair And Intelligent Representative) Government filed an official complaint with the Secretary of State which outlines a minimum of eight possible violations of the Campaign Finance Act by the recallers, F.A.I.R. spokesman Edward Egnatios said.

Many of the charges against the recall campaign committee stem from the group's failure to file a statement of organization with the Wayne County Clerk's Office as required by law after spending more than $200 on the recall, Egnatios said.

The F.A.I.R. committee alleges the recallers would have spent $200 within 10 days of forming the committee because of legal aid required in the preparations of the recall petitions against Kelly, Egnatios said.

Under state law, a political group seeking the recall of a state official would have to file with the county clerk a statement of organization listing the officers in the group after it has spent $200. Parker said the recall committee filed its statement of organization Aug. 29 when the group came close to the $200 limit.

The F.A.I.R. committee claims the recall group would have spent more than the $200 within 10 days of forming because of its numerous involvement with attorneys in the formation of the petition. Even if the time was donated as a contribution-in-kind, the group would have gone over the $200 limit long before it filed, Egnatios said.

Parker called the allegations untrue. The group began circulating its petitions against Kelly about the third week of August, he said.

said, and has until Nov. 18 to present the signatures to the county clerk for certification. The committee is also ready to make a big push to collect signatures, he added.

Kelly recall workers also have recall petitions available against Gov. James Blanchard, Parker said. Under an informal agreement between recall committees, petition circulators may carry both the petitions against the local official and the governor, depending on their convictions, Parker said.

The recall committee has accepted only contributions from individuals, Parker said. No money has been contributed by the state Chamber of Commerce, Michigan Banking Association, state GOP or other recall committees, he said.

Under the Campaign Finance Act, a recall committee doesn't have to file campaign statements of contributions and expenditures until after its issue reaches the ballot, or the group dissolved. Should the group become a permanent political committee, it would have to file yearly reports of contributions and spending.

The Committee for F.A.I.R. Government has nothing against recall, Egnatios said. The use of the recall in this case, however, is a matter of a difference of opinion, not of breaking the law and subverting the political system, he said.

"The capricious and abusive use of the recall dissuades qualified, honest people from entering politics," Egnatios said. "Politics is becoming the last-choice occupation" because of the use of recalls against representatives over differences of opinion, he added.

Recall of elected officials was designed to remove from office those lawmakers who had broken the law or in some way attempted to subvert the system, Egnatios said. In this case, the recall is an attempt to clear up a difference of opinion, and there are proper channels through which to clear up that difference without resorting to a recall, he added.

Egnatios, who ran against Rep. Curtis Hertel last year, said the F.A.I.R. government committee will aid any eastside official who faces recall because of the tax increase vote.

Parker is attempting to recall Kelly because of his vote on the state income tax increase. Had Kelly abstained, the bill would not have passed and no increase would have been levied, the petition says.

Under state Senate rules for roll-call voting, however, a senator cannot abstain from voting unless he has a conflict of interest or "takes a walk" and leaves the chambers to avoid voting.

Shores B & E nets $30,000 in jewelry

A jewelry box containing an estimated $30,000 worth of jewelry was taken last Sunday from a Lakeshore Road home, Shores police said.

Police were called to the home about 10:41 p.m. that day by the owner, who told them a brown wooden jewelry box was missing from a dressing table of the master bedroom.

The box was described as being 12 inches high, six inches deep, and eight inches high, with two drawers in front and a pull-up lid, according to reports.

The complaint reported seeing the box at about 1:30 that afternoon. Various members of the family were in and out of the home during the day, leaving the home empty from 2 to 4 in the afternoon and again from 7:30 to 9:30 that night, reports said.

Police said the thieves may have entered through an unlocked side door. There were no signs of a search and only the jewelry box was reported missing, although numerous small items such as stereos, home computers and other appliances were in full view, reports said.

A list of the missing jewelry was being compiled. The items were described as being gold and semi-precious metals, reports said.

Some give and take

As is usually the case in labor disputes, there was some give and take by each side before the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and the Grosse Pointe Education Association reached agreement on a new two-year contract that averted a teachers' strike.

The board felt it had reached a "reasonable" settlement on salaries but obviously was disappointed that it had not been able to achieve a 45-minute increase in the length of the school day. It did, however, win the right to establish seven instead of six periods in the school day, a provision the teachers are still concerned about.

THE TEACHERS WERE more disappointed, however, by their inability to write into the new contract specific language to require the use of seniority to protect teachers affected by closing of schools. Instead, the board won the right to develop procedures to make sure the best interests of the instructional program will dictate any transfers.

Curt Lange, teachers union president, felt that in general the board had been quite aggressive in its take-away and rollback proposals but conceded that in any contract dispute, neither side is happy with all of the provisions worked out in negotiations.

He also expressed disappointment with the salary increase of 2 percent per year, plus a cost-of-living allowance of up to 3 percent each year. The COLA payments will be rolled into the salaries, however, which means that the second-year increase will be figured on the basis of the first-year salary hike, plus the COLA for that year. If inflation exceeds 3 percent per year, of course, the teachers would be losers because of the 3 percent cap on COLA, another contract feature that disappointed Lange.

From these and other postmortems on the contract, it appears that the board did hold the line fairly well even though some critics might complain that the 5 percent annual increase, assuming inflation of 3 percent, is more than should have been paid in view of the current supply of teachers. But if Grosse Pointe schools are to maintain their quality, the first line of defense must be the teachers who with the administrators and the board bear the responsibility for the final product.

The second factor in which the general public is most interested, in this newspaper's view, is the effect of the contract settlement on the millage levy. While the 5 percent salary increase possible in the contract is believed to be somewhat higher than anticipated, the board Monday night adopted the 9.9 percent tax increase that it had set tentatively at an earlier meeting. The percentage increase was higher than some observers believed necessary but was required, the board emphasized, because it had held the line on the tax levy last year and used up most of its surplus.

WITH THE STRIKE averted and a higher tax levy in place, the district now has faced up to two of its three major issues. Whether the teachers contract and the tax levy will satisfy everyone is a different matter, but at least those matters have been disposed of for the moment. But still left for disposition is the school closing issue which continues to draw reaction both from those who object to any closing and those who feel that change is required to maintain quality education.

Now a new factor appears likely to further confuse the closing issue. That is the threat of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority to reduce bus schedules that serve the Grosse Pointes and, specifically, Brownell and Parcels middle schools and North and South high schools. None of these schools currently is targeted for closing and while few if any elementary pupils ride buses, the proposed reduction in public transportation could possibly affect the long-range closing plans.

Too often, however, the school closing issue is clouded by self interest. Too many parents simply contend that the schools attended by their children should be kept open, without regard to other factors. And too many of those who favor school closings do not appreciate the plight of the parents of small children who may be required to walk greater distances to school if and when some buildings are closed.

THE SCHOOL BOARD, caught between these opposing views, has studied the problem carefully and after receiving parent input has changed its original solution to meet criticism. It is obvious that both sides in the controversy cannot be completely satisfied but it is also clear that the board believes some schools will have to be closed. That still leaves the board with the knotty issue of deciding which schools to close — and when — in order to serve the best interests of the children, the parents and the other taxpayers in the community. This newspaper is confident the board will keep those interests in mind while making its final decision.

Close buildings, then look at real issues

To the Editor:

In regard to the closing of four elementary schools in Grosse Pointe, a variety of issues are involved which should not be confused. Many have voiced concern over possible lower property values. There is no evidence that closing unneeded schools lowers property values. We are one of the last districts to face declining enrollment. Lessons from history, ancient or modern, teach that failure to bend to the winds of time causes only catastrophe. We have to ask if a community which throws away over $700,000 in tax monies is really attractive to home buyers.

elementary students and too lax for secondary? What is being done about teacher and principal burn-out? Can our teachers and principals pass proficiency exams?

We should ask these questions as citizens. We should not be lulled to complacency by test scores which can be read in many ways. Public schools may soon be in competition with private schools. How are we preparing?

When was the last time citizens knew or cared enough to fight against poor English honors instruction or against social studies which is a pap replacing history and geography? The outcry over closing four schools has awakened the emotions, yet it must be decided on the basis of reason. All the questions above are more vital because they are concerned with the heart of the matter which is educational excellence for our children, guaranteed to keep property values high.

Elise W. McCartney
Grosse Pointe Shores

Kids endangered by closing plan

To the Editor:

As a parent of young children, I find the proposed school closings alarming. Surely it is evident that many young elementary students are not capable of walking these greater distances, sometimes more than two miles.

While people either drive or carpool their children to school, the result has to be more cars on the road causing great congestion at already crowded school accesses. While there are more cars on the road, there will also be more children zig-zagging their way through traffic on their bikes.

Added to this is the fact that greater numbers of children are crossing a greater number of busy streets and that the oldest safety patrol guards would only be fifth graders. The potential for serious accidents or death is certainly much more concrete than any promised benefits from this plan.

Barbara Saari
Grosse Pointe Park

Do schools need to be closed?

To the Editor:

As a strong critic of the first school closing plan, I express my congratulations to the Board of Education in being willing to consider an alternative to the poorly-conceived plan originally presented by Supt. Kenneth Brummel. A larger issue than the alternative plan, however, still needs to be addressed.

The basic issue that must be resolved is whether it is in the best interest of Grosse Pointe to follow the school closing trend of other districts. The issue that needs to be discussed before we decide which schools to close is whether any schools should be closed. That discussion must involve far more than simply reciting declining enrollment figures and making vague statements about curriculum.

The public trust held by the Board of Education requires that this issue be specifically and thoughtfully addressed rather than that a solution be forced on an unwilling community.

Food stamp use is 'sickening'

To the Editor:

An incident took place yesterday which I fear is more commonplace than anyone might suspect.

Yesterday, I visited Krogers in the Village. Ahead of me in line was a well-dressed man who proceeded to "purchase" $33 worth of steaks plus a bag of charcoal, with food stamps. The check out person confirmed he had used food stamps and that it really bothered her when people purchased lobster tails, etc., with food stamps.

I saw him outside getting into his Cadillac Seville. I find this sickening. And I resent having to support people like this.

Winter shipping on the Lakes?

Opposition is rising in Michigan to a bill pending on Congress to extend the Great Lakes shipping season into the winter months, a proposal that would have an adverse impact on Lake St. Clair as well as the rest of the Great Lakes system in the minds of environmentalists, boating and sailing enthusiasts and property owners along the affected waters.

Two Minnesota congressmen are responsible for having revived the idea of winter ship navigation on the Great Lakes in order to benefit the grain and iron ore interests that favor year-around shipping. The bill already has been approved by the House Committee on Public Works and Transportation and is expected to come to a House vote by the end of October.

HISTORICALLY, the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River have been largely closed to shipping during the three to four months of ice cover, according to the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. Under the legislation, the Great Lakes would be open to commercial shipping 12 months a year and the St. Lawrence River would be open 10 months a year.

The Lake St. Clair Advisory Committee, also opposed to the project, is urging interested citizens and organized groups to bombard Congress with letters and petitions of disapproval. This committee and the MUCC point out that a winter navigation demonstration program that ended in 1979 at a federal cost of $23 million raised more questions about the new project than it answered. Among the questions raised are the following: How would the corps contain and clean up an oil spill under ice in a river especially during a winter blizzard since even the corps admits such a spill could be "locally devastating to fisheries and wildlife"?

How does the corps answer the charges of a Michigan Department of Natural Resources biologist that the proposed rock dikes at the head of the Detroit River opposite Peche Island would unduly interfere with sport fishing and probably eliminate the traditional concentration of walleye and muskellunge fishing in that area of Lake St. Clair?

UNTIL THE CORPS of Engineers and other supporters can answer these and other questions to the satisfaction of environmentalists, boating and sailing interests, and the affected property owners, the entire project ought to be shelved. That conclusion does not even consider the financial costs which the Corps of Engineers estimates, at $451 million for the initial outlay, plus $52 million in annual costs for 50 years.

It surely sounds like a costly boondoggle as well as a threat to the environment on the basis of what we currently know about it.

More power to Lucas

Slowly but surely, Wayne County Executive William Lucas appears to be winning control of the antiquated machinery of county government which has been responsible in large part for the county's precarious financial situation.

Last week Lucas won another of the many battles being waged against him, chiefly by those who have profited from the old political way of doing things in Wayne County government. The Wayne County Board of Commissioners failed to override Lucas' veto of a new hospital ordinance which would have shifted control of Wayne County General Hospital in Westland back to the board. The vote was 8 to 6 in favor of overriding the veto but the board needed 10 of the 15 votes to override.

THE ORDINANCE originally was passed by a vote of 11 to 2, which indicates that the majority of commissioners still have not accepted the major principles embodied in the new charter. That charter converts the county board from an administrative and legislative body to an exclusively legislative one, a shift that does not sit well with holdover board members accustomed to wearing both hats and profiting politically by that situation.

However, it was not a complete victory for Lucas because, to win the support of some commissioners and defeat the override attempt, he had to agree to keep the existing members of the board of institutions in office until their terms expire. He also had to compromise further by agreeing that the commissioners would be able to review any future decision he might make with respect to the sale or lease of the hospital. Yet those compromises add up to a small price to pay for the defeat of a measure that would have undermined the county executive's authority.

What was at stake in the controversy was Lucas' intent to sell or lease Wayne County General Hospital unless he can substantially reduce the institution's financial burden on the county. Lucas' budget eliminated a $14 million county subsidy and he has been exploring alternatives to county operation of the institution. But some board members, wedded to the hospital and pressured by hospital employees, have opposed any change, and especially any revision that might cost hospital jobs.

Here, again, the concern of the majority on the county board appeared to be the welfare of the county employees in the hospital, not the county taxpayers they are elected to serve. Similar concern for employees rather than for service too often has motivated not only the county board but other county officials in the past. County Executive Lucas, even though he himself was the elected county sheriff and thus a part of the county's establishment, has dedicated himself to the reforms imposed by the county charter and has shown surprising strength of character in demanding a new order in county government.

SO MORE POWER to Lucas. While some critics already are calling him a dictator, it must be remembered that he can and will be held accountable when he comes up for reelection. The county's experience under the charter and the county executive to date tends to support the judgment of those who voted by an overwhelming margin to put the charter into existence two years ago. The county now does have someone minding the store.

Hagar and Garfield are tree-mendous

To the Editor:
Attention officials of Grosse Pointe Farms and Grosse Pointe Woods: The solution to your problems with the Wayne County Road Commission regarding the repair of Lakeshore Road potholes and the trimming of weeds along Mack Avenue is so simple. The Road Commission, in its infinite wisdom and appreciation for art, has given an East Jefferson resident 30 days to remove tree-stump sculptures of Hagar the Horrible and Garfield from the county right-of-way or they will move the stumps for him.

There's the answer to your problems, don't you see? All you have to do is get those offending pot holes and weeds to develop and grow in the shape of lovable cartoon characters and within 30 days the road commission will act to remove them. Now why didn't we think of that before?

Sue Steiger
Grosse Pointe Park

To the Editor:

I must enter my complaint about the pending removal of Hagar the Wonderful, the removal of which would be hazardous to our health.

It has been proven that laughter as inner jogging can not only remove pain and stress but possibly cure disease. Therefore, I vote that Hagar remain along with Garfield.

The "I" in my vote also includes six married children, which is 12 plus 10 grandchildren for a total of 23 people. Our happiness and laughter at seeing him must also brush off on others and in these difficult times, he is needed.

I'm sure the Golden Lion near Mack and the Bulldog a little south have never caused an accident, so why pick on Hagar?

Mary Bell Kiley
Grosse Pointe Park

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on the Wayne County Road Commission's concern regarding the Hagar the Horrible wood sculpture on Jefferson Avenue.

My family, especially the children, find it delightful. It would be very sad if it or the Garfield sculpture were removed.

I find the remark that it is a traffic hazard confusing. If it is a visual hazard to traffic, wasn't it a hazard before when it was a tree? If it is a distraction, then that is ridiculous. It is certainly less distracting and less offensive to the eye than are billboards and flashing signs.

If nothing else, it causes you to smile when driving past and that alone should warrant it staying.

Mary Molinari
Grosse Pointe Park

To the Editor:

The Wayne County Road Commission should perhaps begin to do some constructive work rather than destructive by demanding "Hagar the Horrible" be removed. I look forward to seeing the sculptures which are on several properties as I go to work and return each evening — they add a little "lift" to the tedious drive and think they should be allowed to remain.

Perhaps the Wayne County Road Commission should take a tour of Detroit, there certainly are many things that should be removed and replaced to make it more attractive.

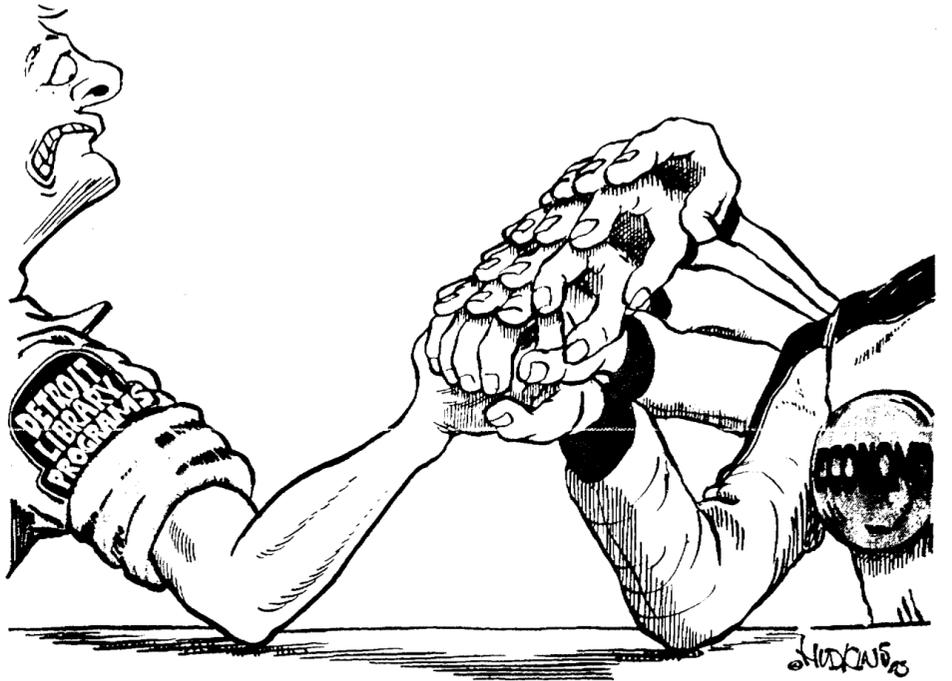

Also, I wasn't too happy with the cartoon of J.P. McCarthy's show — he has the very best and I enjoy the guests he has on his programs, find them interesting — so there.

One view from the Capitol

GOP endorses competency tests

By William R. Bryant, Jr.

Graduating high school seniors and new teachers alike would be required to pass competency tests under a comprehensive Republican education proposal that sets tougher curriculum and certification standards for Michigan public schools.

The proposal also earmarks 1.5 percent of the revenue generated by the state's individual tax to more adequately and directly fund K-12 education.

By dedicating part of the income tax we not only pump $420 million into the schools, but we clearly state that education is our number one priority.

Over the past decade education funding has declined seriously. We can reverse that trend by reordering the budget, but money is only part of the solution. A comprehensive program that insures that teachers are well prepared to teach and that high school graduates have met specific educational standards is essential.

This three-pronged program can produce the educational quality that parents are demanding, that children in our state deserve and that most teachers want to deliver.

In addition to competency tests, the program addresses certification standards for teachers, effective classroom time and teacher preparation programs.

It would ensure that children with weak skills are identified long before they reach the 12th grade and that the people who are teaching them every step of the way are the most capable, best educated teachers we can produce.

Michigan's statutory graduation requirements — a single class in civics — are the most lax in the nation. The state is

Pointers extend a helping hand

Three Grosse Pointers were among 300 college and high school students who served this summer as volunteers with Glenmary Home Missioners of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The three, Chip Farrar of the University of Notre Dame, and Michael Donnelly and Robb Young, students at the University of Detroit High School, ministered in eastern Kentucky by helping a poor rural family renovate their house.

"Because of the poverty conditions in which they work, the men often find their personal values questioned," according to a new release from Glenmary Home Missioners.

"They see the mountains rich in beauty, but the people poor. They learn about the vast wealth of natural resources that has been drained by absentee ownership. They discover that the advantages of good schools, decent jobs and spiritual nourishment are unknown to many," added the news release.

Glenmary Home Missioners was founded in 1939 to establish the Catholic Church in rural America and to conduct a continuing program of outreach to the poor and to those who live outside any church.

one of only four states without periodic teacher preparation program approval and one of only 12 states that have taken no action in the area of teacher competency.

Our proposed program, which is a response to the "Nation at Risk" report commissioned by the U.S. Department of Education, calls for competency testing as a condition for graduation by the 1986-87 school year, extending the school year from 900 hours to 1,140 hours by 1988-89, establishing instructional audits of every school building, and mandating the minimum curriculum content outlined in the "Nation at Risk" report.

It also calls for mandating an intensive study of average daily attendance; financing summer institutes for the gifted, and establishing scholarships to state institutions for students scoring in the top 25 percent of those taking the ACT to qualify for the Michigan Higher Education scholarship test.

It would require competency testing for new teachers, a three step certification process for all new teachers and establish three forms of endorsement on teacher certificates, requiring that from the sixth grade on subjects be taught only by a teacher with a major or minor in that subject.

Tax incentives for contributions to colleges and universities would be extended to K-12 school systems, and a statewide network of Industrial Education Councils would be created to guide and advise schools.

This program can bring Michigan into statewide educational excellence in the 80's, and achieve a new and brighter opportunity in education for our students and our teachers.

Our caucus is proud of our proposal and we are hopeful the Governor and other Democrats will accept and support it, even though it comes from Republicans.

Shooting was accidental, Woods police say

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Warren police reservists and line officers gathered last Thursday morning to pay their respects to Arthur G. Zmudczynski, 28, a three-year veteran reservist who died Sunday, Sept. 4, after he shot himself at a party in the Woods.

Woods police are still investigating the case, trying to find out what happened when Zmudczynski, joking with friends at the party that night, cocked a .38 caliber automatic handgun and put it against his head. The weapon discharged, and Zmudczynski was pronounced dead an hour later after being treated at St. John Hospital.

"It happened very fast," Det. Lt. Peter Thomas said. "He didn't put it up to his head and say, 'Hey, look at me.' He cocked the weapon, put it up there and it went off."

Police have sent the weapon to the Michigan State Police Criminal Laboratory for testing to determine whether the weapon was defective, Thomas said. None of the witnesses to the accident recalls seeing Zmudczynski pull the trigger, he added.

Police do know that it was a new weapon. Police also know that Zmudczynski was familiar with weapons.

Lt. Albert Ingles of the Warren police, liaison between the department and the reserve officers, said Zmudczynski received weapons training when he joined the reserves in 1980.

As part of his reservist duties, Zmudczynski carried a police-issued firearm, Ingles said. Reservists are not allowed to carry outside weapons while on duty, he added.

"Art was with the reserves since 1980, and he was very generous in volunteering his time to help the residents of the city," Ingles said. Warren reservists and a contingent of line officers attended both the service and burial at St. John Cemetery for Zmudczynski, who was married and the father of two daughters.

Zmudczynski was attending a party in the Woods that Sunday night, a general gathering of friends, according to police. At about 9:40, he was joking with some friends in the back yard and pulled out the hand gun. He continued to joke with the friends and he slid the internal hammer back to cock the weapon. As he placed it to the right side of his head, the weapon discharged.

Police and emergency medical technicians who arrived at the scene found Zmudczynski lying on the concrete near the rear of the house, being administered CPR by another guest at the party. He was taken to St. John Hospital, where he died.

Police discount reports that

Zmudczynski made a reference to "Russian roulette" when he placed the gun to his head. "Anytime they put a gun to their head, someone calls it 'Russian roulette,'" one officer said.

Thomas said he doubted the roulette theory. "Anyone familiar with handguns knows you can't play 'Russian roulette' with an automatic. And we know he was familiar with weapons."

Center teaches dance for kids

Three separate dance classes for young people will begin this Saturday, Sept. 17, at the War Memorial.

Registration for Classical Ballet, open to children 5 years through high school, will be held by interview with the instructor Mary Ellen Cooper on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 12 and 13, from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. Students will be assigned to classes according to their age and ability. Actual times and days of classes will be worked out between each student and Miss Cooper.

A course in Modern Jazz Dance, for 12 to 15 year-olds, will meet from 11 a.m. to noon beginning Sept. 17. The course is designed to introduce students to the vital and vigorous jazz and musical comedy idiom, a contemporary dance form.

Instruction in tap dancing will be offered for ages 6 to 8, from 10 to 11 a.m. No previous dance training is required in this basic tap dance class. Students will learn such techniques as brushes, shuffles, fall changes, flaps, camp rolls, soft shoe and time steps. Tap shoes will not be needed for the first class.

The fee for the jazz and tap classes is $33 each. For further information call 881-7511.

Suit claims police roughed-up boy, 12

By Mike Andrzezyk

A Detroit attorney is representing his son in an $800,000 Circuit Court lawsuit against the Detroit Free Press, two of its employees, Grosse Pointe Woods, its public safety department and several of its officers.

The suit, filed in February, stems from a February, 1981, incident in which the boy, then age 12, claims to have been assaulted by two Free Press deliverymen while he stood in front of Merit Drugs in the Woods.

According to police reports of the incident, the boy was spotted by two delivery men at about 5:40 a.m. The boy was allegedly holding a bundle of papers and, when he spotted the truck, dropped them and headed for his bike, reports said.

The lawsuit, filed by attorney Walter Kurz, claims the boy was sitting on his bike in front of the drug store "performing directed family business" when he saw the van pull up and two men get out. The two men began to assault the boy and tried to pull him into the truck, the suit alleges. In the struggle, the boy had his hair pulled, was dragged to the pavement and sat upon by one of the delivery men.

According to police reports, one of the men asked the boy his business in the area. The boy said he was helping a friend deliver newspapers in the area. When the delivery man tried to get the boy's name, the 12-year-old tried to ride away, reports said. The delivery man grabbed the back of the bike and the boy and bike fell to the ground, according to reports.

During an interview with police, the delivery man said the company had experienced repeated shortages of papers at the site where they were dropped for carriers. A favorite ploy by carriers was to sign on more customers than they had papers for, then steal the rest from another location, reports said.

The suit alleges police arriving on the scene pulled the boy up and roughly placed him and his bike in the scout car, taking the boy to the station. There, the suit alleges, the boy was imprisoned in a small locked room where he was interrogated by officers for a "prolonged period of time" without benefit of notification of rights.

According to reports, the boy was taken to the station and placed in the holding room, while officers notified his father. The boy was picked up at 6:15 a.m., reports said.

Later that day, the boy and his father came into the station and formally signed assault complaints against the two delivery men. Charges were dropped and records cleared by the late Woods Municipal Court judge J.

Patrick Denis in March, 1982.

The five-count lawsuit charges police brutality, assault, false arrest and imprisonment, violation of civil rights and violation of the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments of the Constitution. The suit asked for $800,000 in actual damages for the injuries to the boy, "medical costs, expenses, loss of employment, school, income, damage of/to bicycle, etc."

The suit also asks that punitive and exemplary damages of $325,000 be assessed against the defendants for the five counts.

9.50%	annual interest rate on the amount OVER $50,000.00
9.92%	Effective Annual Yield*

Rates above are currently offered by Standard Federal on Money Market Plus Accounts and may change based on market conditions. For future interest rate information, call 643-9583.

*Effective annual yields stated above are based on monthly compounding and assume funds are reinvested at the same rate.

Here's how the bonus interest plan works for you:

Assuming that the above rates remain in effect for a complete statement period, if your average daily balance during your monthly statement period is $35,750.00, you'll earn 9% per year on the first $25,000.00 and 9.25% per year on the additional $10,750.00.

If your average daily balance during your monthly statement period is $65,625.00, you'll earn 9% per year on the first $25,000.00, 9.25% per year on the next $25,000.00 and 9.50% on the last $15,625.00.

If the average daily balance (the sum of the daily balances divided by the number of days in the monthly statement period) goes below $2,500.00 during a monthly statement period, interest will be paid at the rate of 5 1/4% per year for that month.

The pirates attack tomorrow

A rollicking slapstick version of Gilbert and Sullivan's classic "The Pirates of Penzance," is the first offering of the dinner theater season by Dennis Wickline Productions, Inc. at the Golden Lion Restaurant, on Moross Road. The musical farce, which opens Friday evening, Sept. 16, and runs Friday and Saturday evenings through Oct. 29, includes 16 puppet performers known as "The Wickets" (the Wickline Performing Puppets).

The musical fable tells the tale of a young man, Frederick, who is mistakenly apprenticed to a band of pirates by his maid, Ruth. Ruth wishes to marry young Frederick, even though he is 21 and she is 47. Since Frederick has never seen another woman, he consents, until he spies lovely maidens on the beach. There the plot thickens and ripens. Twenty-eight musical numbers are featured. The production is under the direction of Dennis Wickline, who recently won Grosse Pointe Theater's Clarence Award for Best Director for his work on their production of "Bri-gadoon."

Price for the evening is $19.50 per person which includes a prime rib dinner, tax, gratuity and the show. Cocktails are served at 7 p.m., dinner at 7:30, with the show following the apple pie dessert.

Call 886-2420 for reservations. A fish alternative to the beef dinner is available if requested at time of reservation. Gift tickets and group rates are available. This year's group rates have been expanded: 13 persons and over, $1 off per person, 21 persons and over, $2 off per person. Special group performances are also available. For further information contact the Golden Lion, 886-2420.

Open house Sunday at War Memorial

The War Memorial's annual open house will sport a new look this year. In lieu of the January newcomer's gathering, there will be a community open house for all residents of the five Pointes, including newcomers, on Sunday, Sept. 18, from 1 to 4 p.m.

The purpose of the open house is to acquaint residents with the War Memorial, a non-profit community center, and to have fun in a relaxed, family-type atmosphere. Everyone who comes will have an opportunity to meet with the War Memorial's board of directors, class instructors and officers of groups sponsored by the center. There is no admission charge. However, hot dogs and other refreshments will be available at a nominal charge. Free helium balloons will be distributed to all the children who attend.

The event will make use of the land, sea and air surrounding the War Memorial. Featured on land will be the Red Garter Banjo Band; a fire engine display by the City of Grosse Pointe Farms; a juggling, tightrope walking, fire eating clown; and performances in the auditorium by Grosse Pointe Children's Theater, the Corps de Ballet and the drama group, Encore.

At 2 p.m., off the shore of the center, the U.S. Coast Guard will demonstrate a helicopter sea rescue in Lake St. Clair. The air will feature the Cloudbusters skydiving exhibition team which will parachute onto the War Memorial green at 1:30 p.m., weather permitting.

Woods Seniors hold fall meeting

The Grosse Pointe Woods Senior Citizens invite all Woods senior citizens to their fall meeting on Thursday, Sept. 15, at 3:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria of Grosse Pointe North High School. Refreshments will be served.

Is it time for a freeze, please?

In an effort to recruit new members and volunteer workers, members of "Symphony for Survival" will conduct a meeting at Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church at 7:30 tonight.

According to coordinator Wendy Watson, "Symphony for Survival" has been established for the benefit of educating the public to the dangers of nuclear weapons and war.

On Nov. 6, Antal Dorati will conduct over 85 of Detroit's finest symphonic musicians, most of them members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, in the performance of a "Symphony for Survival" at 3:30 p.m. in Orchestra Hall.

Funds raised in this event will help to sustain and expand the educational outreach of the Nuclear Weapons Freeze campaign and Physicians for Social Responsibility.

The Benefit Committee for "Symphony for Survival" is chaired by Helen Milliken and Janet B. Hart, and number over 100 leaders in the business, civic, medical and religious community.

Call out for future Scouts

The Detroit area council of the Boy Scouts of America will hold its annual "School Night to Join Cub Scouting" next Thursday evening, Sept. 22, at every public and private elementary school in the metropolitan area starting at 7:30 p.m. Cub Packs assigned to the neighborhood schools have the chance to expand and strengthen their program by being on hand to accept new boys and parents into their Packs.

Clown Corps will hold sale

The Grosse Pointe Clown Corps will hold a honey and jelly sale Saturday, Sept. 24, at J.C. Penney's in the Woods beginning at 10 a.m. The proceeds will be donated to the Ann Arbor Burn Center.

On sale that day until 9 p.m. will be "honey bears," a package of two jars of marmalade and one of honey, or a package of honey, jelly and mango butter.

Also this month, the Clown Corps will hold a new member re## gistration Wednesday night, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the Woods Public Safety Building, 20025 Mack.

Any child in the first through 12th grade can join the Corps, which offers members a chance to learn make-up and other phases of clowning. Adults are also welcome. For more information, call Corps chairman Arthur Kuehnell at 881-8186.

Baha'is to hear Mercy psychologist

Dr. Curtis Russell, associate professor of psychology at Mercy College of Detroit, will be guest speaker at the Baha'i fireside this week. Dr. Russell will give a brief history of the Baha'i faith and discuss the purpose of this religion which the Baha'is believe to be the latest in God's continuing dialogue with mankind.

The fireside will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 16, at 1390 Whittier in Grosse Pointe Park. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited to attend.

CLASSES ARE HELD AT THE GP UNITARIAN CHURCH ANNEX ON MAUMEE

Square dance benefits Foundation

The Parents Group of the Foundation for Exceptional Children is sponsoring a Hoe Down Square Dance to benefit the program.

It will be held on Saturday, Sept. 17, at Our Lady of Redemption Church, 8529 Cole, in Warren, (between Hoover and Van Dyke, off 12 Mile Road). Hours are 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. and dress is informal. Tickets are $8 each and can be obtained by calling 885-8860.

The price includes beer, pop, chips and pretzels. This benefit is for beginning square dancers as John Karwin calls the steps.

No-fear computer class by experts

On-site, personalized training in the use of microcomputers will be taught at the War Memorial Thursdays, Sept. 22 to Nov. 10, from 6 to 8 p.m.

The instructors, Joan Dunaj and Florence Lesnau, are professionals in the data processing field with 23 years experience. The goal of this $85 course is to make the micro-computer "user-friendly" for each student. Call 881-7511 for details.

A new documentary film is entitled "Hush, Hoggies, Hush!" It only lasts four minutes, but it shows about 40 years of patient effort by one Tom Johnson of Bentonia, Miss., who steadfastly during those two-score years tried to teach his pigs to pray before they ate.

Professor Michael Farrell, (above) will lecture on the art of India, China and Japan at the War Memorial. He stands beside a Hindu demon figure.

Oriental art is lecture topic

Professor Michael Farrell, adjunct education curator of the Detroit Institute of Arts, will present three slide illustrated lectures on the art of the Orient at the War Memorial. All three sessions will meet from 8 to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday evenings. The fee is $18 for the series, or $8 for a single lecture.

Farrell's lecture on Sept. 21, "Images of the Ideal: Sculpture in India," will focus on the Indian sculptors' realization of Hindu, Buddhist and Jain deities in ivory, stone and bronze.

"Imaginary Landscapes: Painting in China" will be the topic Sept. 28. The lecture will deal with the Chinese view of the cosmos and one's place within it captured in paint on paper and silk.

The final lecture, "Space Imagined: The Shinto Shrine in Japan," will be Oct. 5. This lecture will explain the development of the Shinto shrine as a reflection of the religious, political and cultural evolution of the Japanese people.

These lectures are sponsored by the War Memorial's volunteer group, the Council of Sponsors, whose purpose is to enrich the lives of community residents by featuring speakers on a variety of topics. Linda Ford is chairwoman of this event.

For more information call 881-7511.

Moped law demands license, helmet

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin has joined local police officers in expressing concern about apparent confusion of some moped operators who are driving on public highways without a license.

According to Austin, all moped operators on public highways must have a drivers' license or a special moped license, be at least 15 years of age and register their moped with the Department of State.

Moped operators under 19 years of age must wear helmets.

Austin said that a new law defines a moped as any two or three-wheeled vehicle that does not exceed 30 miles an hour, has no more than two brake horsepower and no transmission.

Under the Michigan Vehicle Code, mopeds are prohibited from operating on freeways, must share a traffic lane with other vehicles and are prohibited from operating on sidewalks.

Austin encouraged all moped dealers to inform buyers of the requirements and furnish them with a copy of "What Every Motorcycle and Moped Operator Must Know," published by the Department of State.

Chamber Music at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House

1100 Lake Shore Road, Grosse Pointe Shores

For the fourth consecutive year, Renaissance Concerts is presenting a chamber music series in the magnificent Great Gallery of the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House. The entire house is permeated with the warm atmosphere and love of the Arts which predominated when the Fords were actually in residence. The audience is invited to view the main floor of this unique home before and after the performance. A post-concert wine reception with the featured artists is held in the formal dining room.

You will enjoy a journey into bygone times and experience chamber music in a setting very much as it was when this music was originally written and performed.

High-yielding stocks

By Ron Hart
Last year as summer approached, bearish sentiments clouded the Wall Street skyline, leaving the bulls still very much out in the cold. Among those lonely few eagerly anticipating the beginning of a thundering bull market, Dean Witter Reynolds' Investment Policy Committee un-hesitantly laid out the case for a dramatic and sustained resurgence in equity prices.

Now that the first anniversary of this bull market has passed, where do we stand? Since the bull roared out of the chute last August, the Dow has soared by over 50 percent. Price/earnings ratios, having also expanded by some 50 percent, are currently about where they should be, signaling that rising corporate earnings will be the primary force propelling stock prices higher in the future. But before the market regains its upward momentum, it must loosen the ropes that bind it — namely, fears regarding interest rate levels, Federal Reserve policies, excess government deficits, and the strong dollar.

Because of the increased uncertainty in the market, individual stock selection is now especially important. Those investors who don't want to assume the risk of not being in the market but also wish to take careful approach to investing should consider high-yielding very well researched stocks that, because of their above-average yields, offer a degree of downside protection along with significant price appreciation potential.

When considering high-yielding stocks, the group that immediately comes to mind are the utility stocks. Because of their historically stable revenue and earnings flows as well as modest growth rates, the utilities can safely pay out a high percentage of earnings as dividends. Given their high yields, they are particularly attractive when interest rates plunge, since investors then revalue their current income stream, driving prices higher.

Although Dean Witters' scenario projects that interest rates may trend downward, the firm is somewhat bearish toward the utilities group as a whole. I believe prospects for the utilities are favorable for the long term, but a number of factors suggest that they will underperform the market over the next several months.

First of all, 1983 may prove to be a year of difficult comparisons, following especially strong earnings performances in 1982. During the first three months of 1983, kilowatt-hour sales dropped at an accelerating rate due to both the mild winter and reduced industrial usage, causing earnings to decline. In the second quarter, earnings momentum was restrained because industrial sales did not climb in step with GNP growth. This lag in demand partially reflects the slow recovery of many heavier users of electricity but also illustrates quite clearly that American industry has learned to conserve energy.

Looking ahead to the next few years, the transition to a disinflationary environment may, ironically, prove difficult for the utilities. Despite falling interest rates, these companies will experience an increase in total capital costs. Declining fuel prices will provide only scant relief to profit margins in the near term, since fuel cost savings will flow through to customers, and in many cases, existing supply contracts lock in higher prices.

This Week in Business

McBride is K&E vice-president

Kenyon & Eckhardt associate creative director Robert Z. McBride, of Grosse Pointe, was elected a vice-president of the advertising company last week. McBride began as director of copy at Kenyon & Eckhardt's Detroit office in 1977 after relocating from Cincinnati, where he was vice-president and creative director at Fahlgren & Ferriss. He also has held positions at N.W. Ayer, Inc. and Loe Burnett Co. McBride is a graduate of the University of Detroit.

Paper firm names Duncan

Farms resident William J. Duncan has been appointed Michigan Area Director for Printing Paper Marketing of Mead Merchants, a distributor of paper, packaging and supplies from 33 locations in the midwest and south. In his new assignment, Duncan will be responsible for state-wide development of fine paper marketing plans, sourcing, area-wide purchasing opportunities as well as management of the Detroit Fine Paper Department. Duncan joined Mead Merchants in 1959 and has served the company in several capacities.

Pointers work for Chamber

Eight Grosse Pointe residents have been named chairmen of committees for the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce that will work during the coming year to improve southeast Michigan's economic health. Grosse Pointe City's George A. Nicholson III, a partner in Arthur Andersen & Co., will head the economic development strategy planning committee; the Park's Walker L. Cislser, president of Overseas Advisory Associates, Inc., will head the Detroit Metropolitan Industrial Development Corp.; the Farms' David W. Bianchi, president of Johnson & Higgins in Michigan, will serve on the workers' compensation, unemployment compensation and labor law panel; the City's Richard Platt, senior vice-president of First Federal of Michigan, will serve on the metropolitan public transportation committee; the Park's Don C. Becker, president of the Detroit Free Press, will serve on the legislative conference panel; the Woods' Wayne L. McBride, president of Mason McBride Insurance, will serve public safety; the Farms' William T. McCormick Jr., president of American Natural Resources, will work on Leadership Detroit; and the Woods' E. Daniel Grady, vice-president of personnel at Michigan Bell Telephone, will serve on the Greater Detroit Alliance of Business.

Announcing . . .

Ray Laethem will announce his inventory of new cars next Thursday, Sept. 22, with a special event featuring Johnny Trudell and His Big Band, T-Shirt give-aways and refreshments under a huge tent at his Pontiac GMC dealership at 17677 Mack Avenue. GM's new mid-engine two-seater, the "Fiero" will be unveiled . . . The Wooden Nickel Restaurant on Mack Avenue near Brys in the Woods opened Sept. 12 with a complete sandwich menu, plenty of salads and desserts. Bob Bashara is the host.

Calling all old Jaycees

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees are looking for members of the Detroit chapter of Jaycees, from which the Grosse Pointe chapter formed 15 years ago, to participate in an anniversary dinner to celebrate its years of community service.

The 15th anniversary dinner is planned for Friday night, Nov. 4, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. Members of the organizing committee are John Prost, Grosse Pointe Park mayor pro-tem, and Ric Rutan, co-chairmen, Ray Fink, printing material, and Arthur Kuehnel, publicity.

If you are a past member of either the Detroit or Grosse Pointe Jaycees, and would like to be a part of the anniversary dinner, call Kuehnel at 881-8186.

Clown Corps will hold sale

The Grosse Pointe Clown Corps will hold a honey and jelly sale Saturday, Sept. 24, at J.C. Penney's in the Woods beginning at 10 a.m. The proceeds will be donated to the Ann Arbor Burn Center.

On sale that day until 9 p.m. will be "honey bears," a package of two jars of marmalade and one of honey, or a package of honey, jelly and mango butter.

Also this month, the Clown Corps will hold a new member registration Wednesday night, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the Woods Public Safety Building, 20025 Mack.

Any child in the first through 12th grade can join the Corps, which offers members a chance to learn make-up and other phases of clowning. Adults are also welcome. For more information, call Corps chairman Arthur Kuehnel at 881-8186.

Dominican class of '53 sets reunion

Dominican High School's class of 1953 will gather for a 30-year reunion on Sunday, Sept. 25, at the Lochmoor Country Club.

The event will be a brunch, starting at 11:30 a.m. Tickets are available from Sally Hull Toenjes at 881-9065.

Organizers said they have been unable to contact several class members. If you know of someone who graduated from Dominican in 1953 who has not been contacted call Ms. Toenjes, Patti Lynch Carroll at 886-0534 or Janet Allard Larkin at 775-8839.

What can you get for a dime?

school anymore. There must be something here."

After a few moments she returned with two choices; three large pretzels at 3 cents each, or a Mallo Cup candy bar for a dime. Where have you gone, Five and 10?

Caroline's Candy Shoppe was no contest. "I've got a few things," said owner Caroline Schulte modestly, sweeping her hand across rows of jars filled with penny candy. Candy's dandy, but what if you're not hungry?

The Punch and Judy Toy Shop, located in front of Caroline's wasn't much help at all. Rubber balls, toy soldiers, butterfly stickers all came to naught. The cheapest item came to about 59 cents. "Wait a minute," cried out a saleswoman as this reporter walked out the door. "I think I found something," she said triumphantly, holding up a solitary balloon. "Does this qualify?" Yes, and just in time.

The new guys on the Hill, Something Special and Solutions, Etc., were stymied at first, but were able to come up with a small portion of a potpourri blend called "Lavender Flowers." A small price to pay for beauty.

Never at a loss, the Over the Rainbow Ice Cream Parlor offered two packages of soup crackers, a sugar cone without the ice cream, sprinkles (sans ice cream) or cup of ice.

"If you think I'm reaching for these items, you're wrong," said owner Stacy DeLisle. "We sell them all the time, especially the sugar cones to kids. And I can't keep ice in here during the summer time."

In the Village, Sanders managed to come up with peppermint patties for 7 cents. "Oh boy, that's all I have for a dime or under," said Manager Veronica Lesko, with a smile. "Wait, we've also got little paper hearts that can be used for name tags or place settings. Way back when, we used to sell cones for 13 cents, but no more."

Volunteer probation

and might follow a program of detoxification, counselling, lectures and recreational therapy.

Alternative programs might require the offender to travel to another state for treatment and the person given probation must abide by the agreed-upon conditions or he can land back in court, says Mrs. O'Shea.

But in most of the cases, where the average age ranges from 17-years to 25-years, the hardest problem is getting the family to admit there is a problem.

"Parents don't want to believe," says Mrs. O'Shea, "because they're afraid that they'll lose the kid, that he'll drop out of school, go live with the drug dealers or even die."

Often parents say her evaluation is all wrong. It's only a little problem and their kids have to concentrate on more important things like tennis, piano lessons and school.

"If a kid had an appendicitis attack, you'd send him to the hospital to save his life so he could return to school," says Mrs. O'Shea. "I tell them now their kids have got to get well first and return to school and play hockey later."

Mrs. O'Shea says parents often find it easier to deal with their children's alcohol problems than with drug addiction.

She has seen drug abuse cases involving kids as young as 11-years-old and she believes that very few kids here have not tried or been exposed to drugs by the time they reach 13 years of age.

Teachers win a pay raise

gram" and not seniority. Procedures for reassigning teachers were also established.

A major element of the new tentative contract is a retirement incentive clause which provides teachers who retire with $300 a month from age 55 through 69. Teachers must apply for the benefit by April 1 of next year in order to qualify, however. The benefit will not be in effect for the following school year. Union president Lange said there are more than 120 teachers in the system who are eligible for the benefit this year.

Another new contract provision allows the board to require teachers to attend workshops for specialized training. Board spokesman Bruce Kefgen said that language "is viewed as important as we go through the process of altering our curriculum" as the system moves to a new organizational pattern because of declining enrollment. Kefgen said the new contract also allows management to consolidate and redefine some departments and eliminate

Judge dismisses Christian Scientist lawsuit

By Mike Andrzejczyk

The Christian Science Church and its doctrine of Christian healing are protected by the First Amendment of the Constitution and cannot be held responsible for the death of a 16-month-old child, a Wayne County Circuit judge ruled last week.

Judge Richard Kaufman, in dismissing the lawsuit filed by former Park residents Douglas and Rita Swan, said the church could not be held responsible in the death of Matthew Swan of spinal meningitis in 1977 because of the constitutional protection for freedom of religion.

Kaufman dismissed all allegations contained in the Swan's lawsuit against the church, which they filed in 1980 after the death of their son Matthew following treatment by two Christian Science practitioners in June, 1977. In hearings held the next day, Kaufman dismissed allegations against the practitioners on the same grounds.

The decision by Kaufman brought to an abrupt close the first hearings on what attorneys Pointe high school, Mrs. O'Shea was "astonished to see kids ask each other for a fix and pills while adroitly concealing it from teachers passing by.

"The sooner they become addicted, the sooner they stop growing emotionally, socially and psychologically. It takes longer to show the effects because they have young bodies," she adds.

Spotting these kids in trouble might be hard for the uneducated parent, says Mrs. O'Shea. Often they doze themselves with alcohol and use it as a mouthwash to keep parents off the track.

One big problem is getting parents to realize that their kids aren't any different from the kids they read about in the newspapers.

"It doesn't make any difference what took the kids down that beaten path," says Mrs. O'Shea. "In Detroit, the problem is some kids don't have enough. In Grosse Pointe, they often have too much."

And for Mrs. O'Shea, losing a kid from Detroit doesn't hurt any less than losing a kid from Grosse Pointe.

Her eyes watered as she told about the young girl she had tried to help last year. Her body was found on Gratiot Avenue several months ago after being kicked around by eight cars before anybody stopped or even noticed.

But her eyes lit up as she told about the young man who stopped back to tell her how much he hated her and how much she did for him.

"That makes it all seem right," says Mrs. O'Shea.

middle management at the junior high school level. Both moves are designed to help the system cope with its declining enrollment, he said.

Union president Lange said the board was "quite aggressive" in its attempt to take away fringe benefits at the bargaining table. "In any contract there are changes that neither side is happy with. This one is no exception," Lange said. "The contract doesn't contain the aggressive changes that the board proposed. Our job action (strike threat) stopped that and it's a credit to the teachers that they were able to do it."

Supt. Brummel acknowledged that it was a "difficult negotiation."

"It's not fair to say either side was the winner. I do think our negotiators did a good job in representing the board's interest at the table," he said.

There are about 500 teachers in Grosse Pointe's 15 schools. A ratification vote on the new contract will be scheduled within the next few weeks, according to Lange.

for the Swans called an unprecedented lawsuit.

David Christensen, partner in Charfoos, Christensen, Gilbert & Archer, said he will appeal the decision. The church is operating an alternative health care system which should not be protected by First Amendment religious protections, Christensen said.

Kaufman commended the Swans for bringing the suit because it highlighted the costs associated with First Amendment protections, Christensen said.

The Swans filed suit against the church and two practitioners after their son died following treatment by the practitioners. Christian Science faith holds that healing is a spiritual, not a mechanical process. Healing is not miraculous intervention, but the spiritual awakening and as such is incompatible with medical processes that seek physical causes for illnesses, according to church literature.

Illnesses are treated by practitioners, who receive two weeks of spiritual or theological training before being listed by the church.

In le petit gourmet and Crabtree and Evelyn, owner Ingrid Teetzel tapped one perfectly manicured finger on a countertop and looked around her shop. "A dime? In here? You've got to be kidding," she laughed. After searching a few moments among the perfumed soaps, imported coffees and teas, special oils and vinegars Ingrid managed to offer imported Cote d'or Belgian chocolates at 20 cents and French lollipops for 30 cents.

"Perhaps if you could find another friend with a dime you might share a chocolate," she said helpfully.

A final stop on the quest was at Damman's Hardware, where assistant manager Andy Hayden confidently took charge, offering assorted screws and nuts, wire by the foot, plus copper conduit hangers. "We've also got plastic tubular hangers for your clothes at 13 cents," he said. "If you can get someone to float you a loan."

All in all, the search turned up a wide variety of items from a number of stores in the cities. Pretzels, potpourri, balloons, name tags, candy bars, hangers, sprinkles and ice. All for a dime. Oh yes, before someone points out the obvious, a dime will also buy you time on a parking meter. Fifteen minutes on the Hill, and the tenth part of a dollar will buy you one half part of an hour in the Village. For now.

FYI

to the News about Park resident Dr. Gerry Coyle, who recently said "Yes to Michigan" and purchased a new Chrysler.

Reports say the good doctor was so pleased with its looks and performance that he drove to the Chrysler plant on East Jefferson, parked his car and thanked the workers there on break, telling them they had built a really quality product.

Pleased and a bit amazed at this simple display of appreciation, word spread throughout the plant, gradually working its way up to Chairman of the Board Lee Iacocca to whom all things come eventually, anyway.

Iacocca in turn sent Dr. Coyle a letter of appreciation, telling him he was happy that the doctor was happy. Nice to hear.

While we're at it, Mrs. Coyle also mentioned that son Bob, (an actor previously highlighted in the News as a Pointer of Interest) is currently playing the Humphrey Bogart role in Woody Allen's play "Play It Again, Sam" at the Gaitey Theater in Dublin, Ireland.

So, if you're looking for something to do Saturday night.

Exceptions to Christian healing are the setting of broken bones, optometric and dental care, having doctors present at childbirth and use of hypodermics for relief or severe pain.

The Swans called on the services of two practitioners when their child fell ill. After 12 days during which the child grew progressively worse, practitioners ministered to the child, before the Swans took him to St. John Hospital, where he died a week later following emergency surgery.

Christensen contends the church's system of health care should not be protected constitutionally, especially when the protection of the lives of minors is involved. Both the courts and legislature have been quick to protect the rights of minors, he added.

Some scientists believe the dinosaurs were warm blooded. They think the beasts that carried their heads high above their hearts needed a warm-blood pumping system.

The work on the Shores municipal building (above) is right on schedule and should be completed next March, village officials said. The interior of the 67-year-old building has been gutted and shored up where necessary, and workers should be ready to begin remodeling and replacing the wiring, plumbing and walls, they added. Expansion of the ambulance garage at the back of the building is continuing and the foundation for the elevator tower on the north side of the building has been laid, Shores officials said.

Prime Time for senior citizens

Marian Trainor

So, you've had your vacation. Except for a few holidays there is nothing to look forward to until next year — some 50 weeks away. That's the world of work.

For retirees this time limitation is not necessarily so. They can not only travel when it pleases them but they can go in the off-season when plane tickets are cheaper and hotel rates are reduced. But there is a rub here also. The small budgets of many retirees limit their travel even at bargain prices. It's the old Catch-22: if you have the money, you don't have the time and if you have the time you don't have the money. Then of course fenced in by inflationary prices, there are those with neither time nor money.

For all of these "I wish I could" travellers, why not do just that — wish?

Gardeners have done it for years. With just enough space for tomatoes, beans and cucumbers, they read seed catalogs all during the long winter months wishing they had room for any number of the new untried varieties of flowers and vegetables. Never mind that growing space is limited and the time and expense of caring for hybrids is beyond their reach. They enjoy playing the botanical Walter Mitty role. Besides the vicarious fun they have choosing, rejecting, plotting and transplanting their current dream garden, they become more knowledgeable about choosing what variety is best for the growing conditions of their particular locations and more adept at plotting out space. So much for horticulture. It's only mentioned as an example for would-be travellers.

Why not read about those far-away places with strange sounding names, as well as the nearby sites with familiar names? You may never make a trip to see them but you certainly will end up having a broader base to choose from when it comes time to plan your real trip. You will know the best time, the best and most reasonable accommodations and whether or not the area offers the diversions and recreation you are seeking.

You might even begin reading up on a journey you would never think of making. Think of the relief when you finish your make-believe expedition and can say: "Thank goodness, I'll never get caught doing that!" At the same time, you admit that for some, it would be a fun trip.

For instance, there are those who would be less than thrilled with the prospect of traveling in an 18-foot inflated raft on the Tashenshni River in the Yukon Territory, a river that runs down a mountain slope through northwestern British Columbia and Alaska's Glacier Bay National monument to the Pacific. Yet, seven times in the summer, a different group of 18 climb into four separate rafts to travel the rough waters, sleep in sleeping bags and tents and enjoy the camaraderie of camping and viewing the awesome scenery. These adventurers come in all ages. On one of the trips the youngest was a 9-year old boy. The oldest was a 76-year old man.

Another possibility that could be on a no-thank-you list for some is a two-wheel vacation. Yet each year 1,000 members of the International Bicycle Touring Society travel by bike here and in foreign countries, combining exercise and comfort.

Members cycle and sightsee in small groups by day. Their baggage is carried in a small van. Evenings the bikers settle in at a good hotel, enjoy a good meal, a little socializing and a comfortable bed.

These enthusiasts are not young bicycle fanatics. Members are primarily past 50, many past 60 and a number are in their 70s. They call themselves the "huffers and puffers."

Members say that bicycling is the only way to go to really see a country. Traveling the back roads to avoid traffic, they ride through the smaller communities and come to know the area and the people on a personal basis. This is even true in foreign countries where they have been invited into homes for coffee and freshly baked bread. The average cost of these tours including hotel accommodations and dinner is $45 a day. Those interested can write International Bicycling Touring Society, 2115 Paseo Dorado, La Jolla, Calif. 92037. A 10-speed bike is required for the tours. It is recommended that would-be cycle tourists who are not used to long distances build up gradually for several weeks before the trip.

As rugged as shooting the rapids in the Yukon and as strenuous as biking the world can be, in the framework of exciting vicarious vacations, it would be difficult to match a photo safari in Africa. If you have that yen, the Lindblad Travel/Pan Am Holiday Kenya Wonder Safari is for you. Lindblad offers an 18-day itinerary that takes in the game-rich areas of East Africa such as Masa, and Ambosellie. East Africa is still abundant with game. You can see elephants, lions and herds of impala, zebra, gazelle and more.

The travel vehicles are so designed that everybody has an opportunity for hundreds of great pictures. Each person has a window seat and the vehicles also have roof hatches to enable photographers to stand. If you want to know more write Lindblad Travel Inc., P.O. Box 912, 8 Wright St. Westport, Conn., 06881.

Adventure and excitement are a good combination if you are just doing some armchair travelling but for a real dream vacation, you can't beat a cruise. How about driving to New York in October to board Scandinavian World Cruises' new "Scandinavia" any Saturday or Thursday. You can take your car with you when you sail South to Freeport in the Bahamas, where you and your car may transfer to another ship of the same line, one bound for Central Florida, the other to Miami.

If you only yearn to escape wintery winds by going to Florida and you'd just as soon drive as go by ship, then you might like to plan an itinerary that will keep you moving and one that will put you in touch with other attractions than sunning yourself on the beach.

With 8,000 miles of coastline it is possible to visit not only the most popular attractions such as Disney World but lesser known spots such as St. Augustine, the site of Ponce de Leon Fountain of Youth, or Ravine Gardens to view 85 acres of azaleas, camellias and roses in bloom.

Going south on U.S. Highway 17, you come to Epcot (Experimental Prototype Community of Tomorrow). After seeing Epcot, you can head toward the coast via Interstate 4 and the Bee Line Expressway. A short ride ends at the National Aeronautical Space Administration John F. Kennedy Space Center, home of America's space flight.

If you really like a driving vacation, you might like to travel across the country to the Pacific side where you can see the scenic wonders of the west as well as some splendid sights along the way.

California, unlike Florida, contains every kind and feature of weather and terrain you can imagine. It is 1,000 miles long and you will find there raging coasts, snow-covered mountains, lofty redwoods, deserts, vineyards, orchards, big cities, small towns, fog and smog.

The best introduction to California is to begin with San Francisco, the states favorite city. Follow the 49-mile scenic drive which passes through the best views and sites from the posh mansions of Pacific Heights to the mossy gravestones of Civil War heroes in the Presidio military base to the breathtaking Golden Gate Bridge. Some of the stops you will want to make are Fisherman's Wharf, still a working wharf where you can watch the fishing fleet put out to sea, Chinatown, the world's largest Chinese settlement outside the Orient, Little Italy where the city's largest ethnic group lives, works and shops.

A fascinating city, San Francisco is difficult to leave but there are many attractions beyond its borders awaiting the intrepid traveller such as the wine country of Napa Valley, Yosemite National Park, the Hearst Castle, Los Angeles where you can visit television and movie studios, San Diego where homes built in 1700 have been restored in "Old Town" and Disneyland and those seven imaginary lands, Fantasyland, Main St. 1890, Adventureland, Tomorrowland, Frontierland, Bear Country and New Orleans Square.

And since this was a fantasy trip, this is a good place to end it, here where the aura of fantasy has been given the substance of reality.

Cancer program helps you cope with disease

The "I Can Cope" program, designed to help people battle the effects that cancer has on their lives, will be offered for eight consecutive Tuesdays, beginning Oct. 4 and ending Nov. 22 from 7 to 9 p.m. at St. John Hospital.

Through the efforts of American Cancer Society volunteers, the objectives of the patient classes are three-fold: to increase the cancer patient's knowledge of the disease; to increase the patient's control over his or her life, and to decrease the anxiety the patient feels about the disease.

The weekly sessions are designed to help participants increase their awareness about cancer, physical anatomy, and the potential health problems that may arise.

Patients also learn about nutrition, communication skills, stress awareness, physical fitness, utilizing community resources and the essential role patients play in their own treatment.

Cancer patients and family members can register by calling the Patient Service Department at St. John Hospital at 343-3870 or the American Cancer Society at 557-5353. The program is free, however class size is limited and participants are expected to attend all the sessions.

Information about courses at other tri-county locations can be obtained by calling the American Cancer Society office.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

Hildegard deGrimme told her she should do it. After all, she'd already written one book. But "Is Your Publicity Showing?" which Alice Partlow Curtis published shortly after moving from newspapering to public relations, is a far cry from the sort of book Hildegard, a cat lover like Alice, had in mind.

The subject of this new book would be (ahem!) Cat Houses, about which Alice probably — I would like to say undoubtedly, but the journalist's ethic prevents me: I have not conducted a worldwide survey, and there may be someone in Toowoomba, Australia, who is a match for Grosse Pointe's resident Cat House expert — knows as much as anybody anywhere.

"Every Cat Should Have A House" is the fruit of Hildegard's suggestion and Alice's desire to share with other cat lovers a skill that has brought hours of fun to her and to her own two cats. A reluctance to deprive them of their natural instinct to take possession of an empty box prompted the author and pet photographer to turn boxes into Cat Playhouses worthy of People House living room space.

The Cat Houses became conversation pieces. Soon, Alice found herself in the Cat House business, supplying friends with quarters suited to the personalities of their favorite felines. For the elegant cat, a Townhouse. For the regal cat, a Castle. For the cuddly cat, a Cottage, complete with windowboxes!

"Every Cat Should Have A House" is a how-to book, based on Alice's belief that many pet owners would enjoy building their own Cat Houses. Simple, illustrated, step-by-step directions explain how a bottle of glue, contact paper, posterboard and a few scraps of cloth can turn an ordinary packing box into a residence fit for the most fastidious of felines. All in a matter of three or four hours.

The photographs, some 100 of them, are the work of the author. Her own cats, Missy, 13, and Adey, 7, posed for many of them. Their predecessor, Mr. Cat (the black cat on the cover; the white one is Virginia Scherriwitz' Scrap), who went to Cat Heaven at the age of 18, started his mistress on her sideline of pet photography.

Alice decided several years ago to devote full time to writing and photography. She will be autographing copies of "Every Cat Should Have A House" a week from tomorrow, Friday, Sept. 23, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. at The Book Shelf on-the-Hill. Stop by and meet her. There'll be refreshments (no catnip, Frank Sladen, The Book Shelf's proprietor, promises) and a chance to chat with the author on the fine points of Cat House creation. Adding a garage, for instance, to a Roaming Cat's residence, or a front porch from which a Curious Cat can survey the neighborhood.

Schedule DSO Civic Orchestra audition dates for new season

Fall auditions for young musicians interested in becoming members of the pre-professional youth training Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra will be held at the Detroit Community Music School Saturday, Sept. 17 (2:30-4 p.m., violins, violas; 4-5 p.m., cellos, basses), Sunday, Sept. 18 (1-2 p.m., strings; 2-4 p.m., woodwinds; 4-5 p.m., brass), Tuesday, Sept. 20 (7:30-9 p.m., woodwinds, brass) and Saturday, Sept. 24 (2:30-3:30 p.m., percussion; 3:30-5 p.m., all instruments unable to attend earlier auditions). Michael Krajewski, assistant conductor of the DSO, is music director of the Civic, which plans three Sunday afternoon concerts during the 1983-84 season. Any musician in Michigan who is currently participating in a high school or college orchestra and is sincerely interested in receiving professional career training is eligible to audition for the Civic. Applicants will be asked to play a solo work of their choice and sight read music. A piano will not be available for accompaniment. Benefits to orchestra members include tuition-free training through weekly rehearsals with Krajewski, regular sectional coaching by a DSO member, rehearsals with DSO guest conductors and readings of standard symphony repertoire. Financial assistance will be available for private lessons with DSO members, scholarships for summer music camp and assistance in instrument acquisition. All proceeds from concert ticket sales go to the Civic Orchestra Scholarship Fund. Civic Orchestra 1983-84 concerts, each lasting approximately one-and-a-half hours, are scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 4, at Martin Luther King High School, Sunday, Feb. 19, at Ford Auditorium, and Sunday, May 13, at Orchestra Hall, all at 3:30 p.m. General admission seating is $4.

JESSICA McCLINTOCK EMBELLISHES THE DROPPED-WAIST DRESS

Lace graces the dropped-waist dress for a very refined, but not-as-innocent-as-it-may-look silhouette. Plus extra special details like pin-tucking down the front and lightly puffed shoulders. Made in navy wool with white lace, sizes 4 to 14, $155. Perfect for attending the symphony or a fall wedding. In Woodward Shop Dresses, at Eastland only.

Miss MacColl is a fall bride

The Reverend William Mullen, assisted by The Reverend James Robertson MacColl, of Wellesley Hills, Mass., the bride's cousin, presided at the Saturday, September 10, wedding of Susan Herron MacColl and Kenneth Buckley Walker in the Church of Saint Thomas the Apostle, West Hartford, Conn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Alexander MacColl Jr., who moved recently from Washington Road to Sunset Farm, West Hartford, where they entertained at a reception following the 2:30 o'clock ceremony.

Guests from Grosse Pointe included the Douglas Campbells, Jonathan Waltons, Paul Townsends and Robert Hydons. Special guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Paul Montgomery, of Siesta Key, Fla., and Wianno, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. MacColl, of Saundertown, R.I. The former Miss MacColl selected a floor length wedding gown of ivory organza and beaded, re-embroidered Alencon lace, styled with a Queen Anne neckline and a bodice falling to a swallowtail back embellished with pearls. Lace appliques accented her long sleeves. Her A-line skirt featured a deep lace panel tapering to a border that swept around her heirloom chapel veil of Duchess lace trimmed with Rosepointe medallions.

She carried a cascade of stephanotis, white roses and dendrobium orchids.

Honor maid Louise Kimbark MacColl, of Wellesley, Mass., the bride's cousin, and bridesmaids Faith Wilcox, Elizabeth Carey and Lynn Cohen, of Boston, Mass., Kimberly Stein, of Mystic, Conn., Katherine Borda, of Philadelphia, Pa., and two more cousins, Dore Thomas, of West Hartford, and Ashley DuBose, of New York City, carried rubrum lilies.

They wore jewel-necked dresses of ecru Chantilly lace, sashed in lilac overlaid with Chantilly lace.

Mr. Walker, son of Mrs. Thomas Riggs Cox Jr., of Bloomfield, Conn., and the late Paul Frederick Walker, asked Daniel Dyer, of New York City, to act as best man.

Guests were seated by David Garrett, of Mount Kisco, N.Y., Charles Glassmire, Quentin Lyle and Paul Walker, brother of the bridegroom, of West Hartford,

Mrs. Kenneth B. Walker

Michael Mulligan, of New York City, Curtis Barnard, of Short Hill, N.J., Jay Francis, of New Haven, Conn., and Norman Alexander MacColl III, the bride's brother.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom both selected tea length dresses, the former's of pale grey chiffon, banded in pale grey silk, the latter's of rose-colored Chantilly lace. Each pinned an ivory cymbidium orchid to her purse.

The newlyweds will return from a Bermuda vacation to make their home in West Hartford.

The new Mrs. Walker, until recently a sales manager at Jordan Marsh, was graduated from Wheaton College with honors in English Literature. She is a member of the National Advisory Susequential Committee for Wheaton College, Omicron Delta Epsilon honor society, the Sigma Gamma Association and the Junior League of Hartford.

Her father is a senior vice-president at the Union Trust Company, her mother, Nancy Fuller Herron MacColl, director of the Hillstead Museum, Farmington, Conn., and president of the Wadsworth Atheneum's Womens Committee. Both are descendants of Richard Warren.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late John William Herron, nephew of President William Howard Taft. Her paternal grandfather, Norman Alexander MacColl, was the president of Lorraine Manufacturing Company, Providence, R.I. Her maternal great-great-grandfather was Edward Everett Blodgett, founder of Blodgett, Jones & Burnham and director and counsel for the First National Bank of Boston. Her great-great-grandmother, Mabel Fuller Blodgett, was the author of numerous children's stories.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University where he captained the tennis team, holds a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Hartford. He is in institutional sales at Conning & Company, Hartford. He is currently nationally ranked in platform tennis. He was recently elected to the Ohio Wesleyan Hall of Fame.

His father, a Yale graduate, captained football, basketball and baseball teams and was All-American in football.

Vows spoken in The East

Hope Bulkeley Woodhouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Macauley Woodhouse, of Renaud Road and Falmouth, Mass., was married Saturday, September 10, in Old Christ Episcopal Church, Middletown, N.J., to Richard Joseph Canty, son of Mrs. John Murray Canty, of Boston and Ipswich, Mass., and the late Mr. Canty.

The Reverend Robert L. Counselman, rector, Trinity Church, Woodbridge, N.J., presided at the 1 o'clock ceremony. A reception followed at Sunnyside Farm, Lincroft, N.J., the home of the bride's maternal grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hobson Neuberger.

The former Miss Woodhouse, given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin, its sweetheart neckline featuring an insert of heirloom lace, its skirt fashioned with a cathedral train, and the veil of princess lace first worn by her maternal great-grandmother. Spray orchids, lilies-of-the-valley and stephanotis formed the bridal bouquet.

Amy Hobson Woodhouse, of Washington, D.C., honor maid for her sister, and bridesmaids Jane Baumgardner and Judith Donahue, of Greenwich, Conn., in tea length dresses of shocking pink moire faille, styled with scoop necklines and lantern sleeves, carried rubrum lilies.

John Murray Canty Jr., of Swampscott, Mass., was best man for his brother. Ushers were Frederic Bartek, of New York, Christopher Gallagher, of McLean, Va., and Henry Macauley Woodhouse Jr., brother of the bride.

Fall wedding date is made

Mrs. Robert J. Skulstad, of Battle Creek, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Jean Elizabeth, to Ronald J.A. Carpenter, son of Mrs. Ursa A. Carpenter, of St. Clair Avenue. The wedding is planned for mid-October.

The bride-elect, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Albion College and taught in the Roseville Schools for three years, is presently working as a Branch Service Representative for Deluxe Check Printers in the Detroit area. She is secretary of Grosse Pointe Kappa Alpha Theta Alumni III, and a Provisional Member of the Junior League of Detroit.

Mr. Carpenter, an alumnus of Macomb Community College and the University of Michigan (Real Estate), is an active real estate broker and appraiser, presently an Associate Broker with John S. Goodman Inc.

Feature Art in Park in mid-September

Art in the Park, a community festival of the arts to benefit Common Ground, will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 24 and 25, at Shain Park in Birmingham.

Mrs. Richard J. Canty

The new Mrs. Canty, an associate at Salomon Brothers Inc., New York, attended University Liggett School and was graduated from Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and Georgetown University. She received a Masters degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in May. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson Woodhouse, of Grosse Pointe, as well as the late Mr. and Mrs. Neuberger, of Lincroft and Falmouth, Mass.

Mr. Canty is a vice-president and division executive at the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York. He is a graduate of Boston College and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

The newlyweds will make their home in New York.

Mrs. John D. Stanek

Miss Coyle speaks vows

Exchanging marriage vows Friday evening, July 22, at Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore were Mary Elizabeth Coyle, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Edwin Coyle, of Maumee Avenue, and John Dominic Stanek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic M. Stanek, of Country Club Drive.

The ceremony at which The Right Reverend Monsignor Francis Canfield presided was followed by a small, family reception and dinner at the Country Club of Detroit, after which the newlyweds left for a brief vacation in northern Michigan. They are at home in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Melody Medley to benefit DSO

A Medley of Melody, the Detroit Symphony League's first major fund raising event of the 1983-84 season, will run from 3 to 7 p.m. this Sunday, Sept. 18, at Wiggs Furniture of Birmingham. It will feature introduction of the Yale Collection: authenticated reproductions of antique furnishings from originals displayed at the Yale University Art Gallery, plus entertainment by the Grunyons, a men's close harmony singing group of Yale alumni, and a Detroit Symphony Orchestra string quartet.

Wine, cheese and fruit will be served during the afternoon, which reflects a new involvement of the business community with the DSO. Chairing the event are Virginia (Mrs. Lawrence) Hatzenbeler, of Troy, and Deborah (Mrs. Howard M.) Tischler, of The Pointe.

A 'Riverfront' debut for DIA

Riverfront, the new $77 million twin tower luxury apartment development, first residential community to be constructed along the river in downtown Detroit, will welcome an expected 300 guests to a special preview party this Sunday, Sept. 18.

The black tie event initiates the Founders Society fund raising match for a $500,000 grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation to create a permanent endowment for the Detroit Institute of Arts' Conservation Services Laboratory which provides care, preservation and restoration of the museum's collections and those of more than 30 institutions throughout the region.

Guests at the preview will enjoy cocktails, a buffet supper and a first look at the five designer-decorated model apartments on the newly completed ninth floor of Riverfront, with its private marina, health club, specialty food store, banking facility and hair salon. A gatehouse, concierge, covered parking and valet service will be among the self-contained community's featured amenities.

Occupancy of Riverfront is scheduled to begin in the spring. It will be open for private viewing by appointment (962-0300) from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on weekdays and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekends beginning this Monday, Sept. 19.

Mid-Century opens year next Tuesday

Mid-Century Toastmistress Club, after a summer hiatus, resumes meetings at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval Avenue at Fisher Road, at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday mornings with a program next Tuesday, Sept. 20. Thereafter, the club will meet on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Guests are welcome at any Mid-Century session. Meetings are open to all women of the community who wish to learn how to communicate effectively and interrelate with others through an exchange of ideas and experiences. Further information on the Toastmistress program may be obtained by contacting Mary Fitzpatrick at 884-4473.

Make FLEC Friends at tea . . .

Ready to open the door to welcome new, old and prospective Friends of FLEC to the Friends' annual membership tea are (left to right) JAN DUFFY, co-chairman, projects, MARCIA RUSSELL, membership chairman, and JANE MARSHALL, president of the Family Life Education Council's volunteer organization and fund raising auxiliary. This year's tea will run from 1 to 3 p.m. next Thursday, Sept. 22, at the Washington Road home of Barb Edwards, co-chairman, projects. FLEC is an independent, non-profit organization founded in 1966. It is dedicated to solving problems that threaten the community and family life. From its beginning, FLEC has concentrated on youth and the problems of youth; it was one of the first community organizations in the Detroit area to start drug treatment programs. FLEC services, made possible by contributions from individuals, organizations and foundations (FLEC receives no federal, state, local or Torch Drive funds), are geared to providing immediate response to youth or family crisis, a listening ear for an emotional upset, educational workshops and general information on community social services. All are welcome at next Thursday's tea, and a special invitation is extended to any residents new to the area who would be interested in joining Friends of FLEC. Present members of the group, founded in 1979, are urged to bring prospective members. Further information may be obtained and reservations made by calling 885-3510 or 882-2555.

Blooming Saturday in Indian Village

The Indian Village Men's Garden Club presents its first Fall Flower Show and Garden Walk this Saturday, Sept. 17, rain or shine, from noon to 5 p.m. Representatives from seven organizations, including the Grosse Pointe Rose Society, will be on hand to answer questions at the flower show and plant sale, to be held at Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church on the corner of Burns, where a light lunch will be available. The walk features the gardens of six IVMGC members, four in Indian Village and two in nearby West Village.

Tickets for the show and walk at $3 per person ($2 for senior citizens) may be purchased at the church the day of the show. Those who wish to enter the show may call 822-1475 for division and rules information.

Open Women's Connection year next Thursday

The Women's Connection of Grosse Pointe will hold its first meeting of the new season next Thursday, Sept. 22, at University Liggett School's Cook Road campus. Dinner at 6:30 p.m. will be followed by a program running from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., featuring The Honorable Patricia Schneider, Grosse Pointe Woods Municipal Judge, as guest speaker.

Judge Schneider's topic is "A View from the Bench — Understanding Justice." She will share her experience as a woman functioning in a traditionally male profession and her knowledge of law, focusing primarily on the relationship between the individual, his society and the laws that govern his life.

Laws do not mysteriously change; they are a product of ideas, of social change. Judge Schneider addresses such issues as:

- How laws change — through quiet persistence or dynamic action.
- Why laws change.
- The individual's responsibility to improve the quality of the law through understanding.

The primary objective of the Women's Connection is to promote the personal and professional growth of women. The organization focuses on the needs of women, sharing through networking and support groups, bringing together women from diverse backgrounds and professions, with different experiences and goals, who share a common bond: a desire for personal growth.

The Connection will offer a wide

Ribbon Farms meets Monday

Ribbon Farms Chapter of the Questers opens the 1983-84 season with a noon meeting this Monday, Sept. 19, at the Moran Road home of Mrs. Paul Knopf. Mrs. Ralph Glahn will give a program on Phoenix Bird China.

Chapter officers for the year are Mrs. Vene L. Whims, president, Mrs. Knopf, vice-president, Mrs. Edward Gruca, recording secretary, Mrs. Joseph Monterosso, treasurer, Mrs. Joseph M. Scallan, membership, and Mrs. Glahn, historian and publicity.

Members joined President Whims at her Troy home in June for a visit to the Allen House, a white frame home on Maple Road, built in 1822, and the Hunter House Museum in Birmingham.

Five Pointes Club to meet

Mrs. Leslie Jones will open her University Place home to members of the Five Pointes Garden Club at 12:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 19. Following the meeting, the group will adjourn to tour the Harold B. Lees' Lakeland Avenue gardens.

variety of programs this year, addressing various aspects of women's role in society. Meetings are informal and casual; guests may attend a dinner and program or the program only. All women are welcome. Membership fee is $25 per year.

The meeting fee for non-members is $4. Fee per dinner is $8. Reservations for next Thursday's dinner must be made by this Sunday, Sept. 18, by contacting Bonnie Gibson at 881-0610. Bonnie will also be happy to provide additional information on the group.

Sandra Riley: Another Native Author

For the past 25 years the south has been her home, but Sandra Riley was born and brought up in Grosse Pointe, and the ties remain. Her mother, Florence Riley, associated with Walton-Pierce for many years, then proprietor of her own shop, still lives here. Her brother is a familiar face (and voice) throughout the metropolitan Detroit area: Chuck Riley of the Pointe Dodge TV commercials.

So what's Sandra been doing with herself? Well... after picking up a Bachelor of Arts degree from Barry University and a Master of Arts degree from the University of Michigan, both in Theater, she made her career in theater — until an opportunity to do historical research in The Bahamas came along.

"Bloody Bay," a novel about the lives of pirates Anne Bonny and Mary Read, was the result. Now Sandra's 10-year study of American Loyalists in the Bahama Islands has culminated in a new book, "Homeward Bound," just out and available in local bookstores.

She recalls some her most vivid experiences in the Bahamas: "Flying in a small plane, wedged between truck tires and batteries with my feet propped up on boxes of groceries... chopping my way through the dense bush with the thorns of the haulback vine snatching at my clothes on the way to an Out Island plantation ruin... straining my eyes on faded, illegible documents in the stifling Nassau library... sitting on the porch of a native hut, talking to the island people... above all, watching the color of the sea."

Was it worth it? "A stroke of chance brought me into this work — and nothing could induce me to give it up!"

There's a fascinating new project in Sandra's future. As research historian for the Albert Lowe Museum at Green Turtle Bay, Abaco, she looks forward to involvement in prehistoric archaeological explorations of the Lucayan Arawak Culture in the Abacos. Florence Riley, knowing her daughter, says, "It figures."

Picnic in Harmonie Park Tonight

There'll be movin' and groovin' in Harmonie Park tonight as The Popular Mechanics (formerly Captain Crunch & The Funky Bunch), a group of synchronized street dancers, interrupt the hot dog, chili-eating and drinking crowd to instruct them in the fine art of street dancing during the Detroit Artists Market's third annual Picnic in the Park.

There'll be a raffle, winning tickets drawn every 15 minutes throughout the 5 to 8 p.m. party, with dinner reservations at four of Detroit's popular ethnic restaurants as prizes.

The event also will preview "Say Yes to the Detroit Artists Market," the opening exhibition and sale of the 1983-84 season. You're all invited. Admission tickets at $12.50 per person, including Detroit Artists Market membership for new members, will be available at the picnic grounds, Randolph and Grand River in downtown Detroit.

JOHN ANDREW WILBERDING, of Waverly Road, earned a grade point average of 4.0 for the spring semester at Colorado State University.

Dancing, dinner Phase I dates

Phase I, the organization for single, young adults, ages 20 through 39, who gather regularly fall through spring for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, has arranged for a series of beginner square dance lessons with The Solo Star Square Dance Club, Ron Shaw, caller, at Simonds Elementary School in Madison Heights.

The first lesson, at 7:50 p.m. next Monday, Sept. 19, is free. Car pooling (departure: 7:30 p.m., from the church) can be arranged at Phase I's square dance this Sunday, Sept. 18, at 7:45 p.m., at the church.

Reservations for Phase I's dinner at 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 24, at the Holiday Inn in Windsor are a must, and may be made by calling 884-4066 evenings.

Miss Fruehauf wed in August

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church was the setting for the late summer wedding of Kimberly Allen Fruehauf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Richard Fruehauf Jr., of Provincial Road, and James Robb Baubie, son of William Edward Baubie II, of Mirabeau Place.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza, its portrait neckline decorated with appliques of silk Venise lace in a leaf design. Appliques of leaves, lilies-of-the-valley and roses covered the dropped torso bodice and were repeated on the skirt and train.

The former Miss Fruehauf also wore a chapel length mantilla of Brussels lace. She was attended by her sisters, Lynn Fruehauf Charlton and Nancy Berns Fruehauf, as matron and maid of honor, and by bridesmaids Anne Cudlip, Ellen Fitzgerald, Nene Johnson, Eloise Henkel, Gina Baubie Park and Renee Robb.

Their tea length dresses of pink and white Laura Ashley fabric were trimmed with ruffles of reverse print fabric. They carried white baskets of rubrum lilies, roses and ivy.

Bill Baubie was his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Matt Pierce, Howard Semmler, Gerry Schilling, Jeff Harness, Eric Farnell, Bill Dahling, Rick

Among Converse College students named to the Dean's List for the 1983 spring term is ANN B. ALBRECHT, daughter of MR. and MRS. WILLIAM H. ALBRECHT, Jr., former Pointers. Ann is a junior at Converse.

Stan Wilson presided at the 3:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday, August 27. A reception followed on the bowling green at the Country Club of Detroit, where giant pink umbrellas shaded the refreshment tables and ivy-garlanded white trellises framed the bandstand and entrance.

Pink and white cloths, centered with flower-filled white baskets, covered small tables surrounded by white bentwood chairs. The wedding cake was displayed in a large, white trellis gazebo, decorated with flowers.

Guests, serenaded by bagpipers on their arrival, were later entertained by the dance music of Phil Cole.

The newlyweds vacationed on Bermuda. They are making their home in The Park.

THE ANN ARBOR ANTIQUES MARKET

Ann Arbor, Michigan

Margaret Brusher, Manager

FEATURING 300 quality dealers (all under cover) in the finest antiques and select collectibles. Very importantly, The Antique Market is Not A Flea Market, but a place where anyone can buy fairly priced antiques and collectibles with a full money back GUARANTEE as to authenticity provided by the antique dealers or the show manager. This is the nation's only Antiques Market where all the items are carefully screened to warrant this guarantee and to assure your buying confidence. No frustrating driving from one dealer and state to another inasmuch as 300 dealers are brought together from New England, the east, and midwest and west to this location for your convenience. Always several dealers every month who have never shown in the midwest before. Another unique feature of the market is not having the sellers set up the day before which may have precluded other purchasers from having equal opportunities. You will find much furniture including early country, painted and decorated, fine period Heppelwhite, Chippendale and Queen Anne, folk art, textiles, silver, Canton, porcelains, glass incl. Sandwich flint and pattern, china, special collections, pocket watches, miniature lamps, stoneware, pewter, spatter, clocks, buttons, pistols and guns, jewelry, paper, Oriental rugs, advertising - bottles, art glass, dolls, toys, American Indian baskets, folk art, early oils and prints.

Circles' year is underway

Members of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Circles were welcomed by Mrs. Carl Meyering, Circles' chairman, when they gathered last Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the church lounge for a combined fall kickoff meeting.

The Parables are the new subject for Circles' Bible Study this fall. Purpose of Tuesday's session was to discover what parables are and how to interpret them, to learn what resources are available to assist in the study of parables and to receive tips on how to present them at a Circle study.

Mrs. Stanton Wilson and Mrs. Marshall Collins presented an example Mission Study to the group. The evening began with fellowship and dessert and ended, following the program, with Communion in Barbour Chapel. Dr. William Phillippe, Memorial Church's senior interium minister, conducted the service.

Memorial Church Circles meet the first Tuesday of the month, October through June, in the morning, afternoon and evening in members' homes.

Miss Morrison is August bride

A gown of white organza, styled with a Brussels lace-embroidered yoke and a ruffled neck featuring a Chantilly lace flounce, was Nancy Beth Morrison's choice for her midsummer marriage to Bradley Houck.

Her skirt featured double tiers of Chantilly and banded lace extending into a cathedral train. Matching Chantilly and banded lace trimmed her elbow length, puff sleeves. Her veil was fingertip length, her bouquet fashioned of stephanotis, white rosebuds and baby's-breath.

The new Mrs. Houck is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morrison, of Whittier Road. The Robert Houcks, of Farmington Hills, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend George Seafort, of Western Michigan University, assisted Dr. David Antonson at the 5 o'clock ceremony Saturday, August 6, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. A dinner reception followed at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Honor attendant Martha Dasef

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Houck

Weaver, of Blacksburg, Va., and bridesmaids Mary DuFour, Cynthia Thomas Fletcher, of Chicago, and Lyndee Houck, of Houston, Tex., the bridegroom's sister, in floor-length dresses of yellow chiffon, carried bouquets of yellow roses, white daisies and baby's-breath.

Douglas Nastally, of Chicago, was best man. Ushering were Gary Morrison, of Sayre, Pa., the bride's brother, Robert Lawson, of Tecumseh, and Scott McDaniels, of Saline.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom both selected floor length dresses, the former's of blue chiffon, the latter's of mauve chiffon, and cymbidium orchid corsages.

The newlyweds, who vacationed in northern Michigan, are making their home in Kalamazoo.

Spring wedding date in October

Planning a spring wedding in October in Melbourne, Australia — think, now: October 15 spring in Australia! — are Sheryl S. Krawchuk and William N. Sandford, of Melbourne, who met in Tahiti.

Mrs. Stanley Krawchuk, daughter of Mrs. Krawchuk, of North Brys Drive, is a 1975 graduate of the University of Michigan and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

She has been most recently employed by the Pacific Area Travel Association, in San Francisco. Her fiancé is finance director for Armstrong York in Melbourne.

Southeast MAHA meeting scheduled

The Southeast District Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries' meeting next Tuesday, Sept. 20, at the Wayne County Medical Society, located on Antietam in Detroit, starts at 10:30 a.m. when guest speaker Dr. William E. Powers, chief of the Radiation Oncology Center, Harper-Grace Hospitals, reports on "A Promise of Hope."

Nancy A. Deham, ROC Department head, and Irene Walt, art advisor, address the group at 11:30 a.m. Their subject is "Design of Hospital Facilities and the Interaction of Art to Reduce Stress in Patients."

Luncheon follows at 12:50 p.m. The program is open to all Southeast MAHA member auxiliaries.

Mr. Wilberding weds in East

Elizabeth Carol Hermance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Hermance, of Riverside, Conn., was married Saturday, August 20, in The First Congregational Church, Old Greenwich, Conn., to Daniel J. Wilberding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Wilberding, of Waverly Lane.

The ceremony at which Dr. Thomas Stiers and The Reverend Vincent O'Connor presided was followed by a reception under a tent at the Greenwich Country Club.

The bride was attended by Frances Truss, of Old Greenwich, as maid of honor, and by bridesmaids Karen Wilbur, of Riverside, Kathleen Grady, of Greenwich, Elizabeth Hurst, of Denver, Colo., and Jeanine Holway, of Wellesley, Mass.

Benjamin Burton, of Grosse Pointe Farms, was best man. Ushers were Eric Grimes, James Winfield and John Wilberding, all of The Farms, and Thomas Hermance, of Riverside.

The bride and bridegroom are both Colorado State University graduates. She is employed by Pulte ICM Mortgage Company in Denver. He is employed in the Engineering Department of The May Company in Denver, where they are making their home after a vacation on Mackinac Island.

Show Warren Arts work at Eastland

The Warren Society of Arts juried show of oil paintings, watercolors, pen-and-ink drawings, charcoals and pastels, plus pottery, will run from Thursday, Sept. 22, through Sunday, Oct. 2, at Eastland Mall. The admission-free exhibit will be open to the public during mall hours. Artists will be on hand to explain their various techniques.

Park Garden Club picnics

Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club members enjoyed an end-of-summer outing and luncheon last Monday, Sept. 12, at the Harsens Island home of Mrs. Frederick Schumann who was assisted by co-hostess Delma Loyer. After a short business meeting, the women spent the afternoon gathering weeds for dry arrangements.

GREAT LOCATION

FIRST OFFERING

Speaks for itself — what a house! Living room, family room, and paneled library all have fireplaces; modern kitchen and screened porch. Attached garage, sprinkler system, rec room, plus 4 bedrooms and 3 baths.

Do it yourself special — won't last! Structurally sound; detached garage, close to high school, has 2 bedrooms downstairs and 1 up; dining room, and first floor laundry — all for only $23,900!

Owner really anxious to sell! We dropped the price to $54,000 — sound reasonable? It is for this outstanding 3 bedroom bungalow in Grosse Pointe Woods. You'll love the Florida room and decor.

$76,500 for 4 bedrooms? We have it and what a delight! The kitchen has been remodeled with all new appliances, the basement is completely finished with a workshop — a pleasure to inspect!

Fantastic starter or retirement house! Well located, features 2 bedrooms and stepdown family room that opens to lovely patio and grounds; utility room on first floor. Priced under $50,000 so don't miss it!

Need that tax shelter? Here's a super investment: $59,900 takes a 2 family with living room (fireplace), dining room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms, den, and full bath downstairs; same upstairs. Has newer roof, separate utilities, and aluminum storms and screens — fantastic!

$55,900 buys you $1,700 square feet of house that's close to schools, shopping, and transportation! Features 3 bedrooms plus bath and modern kitchen downstairs, sitting room and bath upstairs. Has gas heat and 2 car garage. Basement is semi-finished.

Grosse Pointe Woods — owner transferred. Well appointed Bungalow with 2 bedrooms downstairs plus 1 upstairs. Room for expansion. There's a screened breezeway, full dining room, nice desk, fireplace in the living room, plus much, much more.

1ST OFFERING — Charming residence on 103 foot lot in the Farms. Family room. First floor bedroom and full bath. Three bedrooms and full bath on 2nd. Gas forced air heat. Breezeway connects 2 car garage. Priced in low 90's.

1ST OFFERING-A rare find near the Village. First floor condominium unit. Two bedrooms. New kitchen. Completely redecorated within past year including the carpeting. Central air. Priced in the 70's.

1ST OFFERING — Spacious Colonial on Three Mile Dr. Newly painted interior. Beautiful 23 foot library with fireplace. First floor den, laundry room, hobby room and 2 bedrooms. 3 bedrooms on 2nd. 3 car attached garage.

1ST OFFERING — Touraine Road. Beautifully landscaped grounds surround this center entrance Colonial. Library and garden room. 3 bedrooms & 2½ baths. Attached garage.

FURNISHED RENTAL available for the winter. 2 bedroom 2½ bath ranch with family room and indoor swimming pool. Located in Harrison Township just off Jefferson. References required. $650 month.

BALLANTYNE ROAD near Stonehurst in the Shores. 3 bedroom 3 bath residence. Living room overlooks rear yard. Family room with fireplace. Terrace. 2 car attached garage.

Pointer of Interest

By Peggy O'Connor

Both the Grosse Pointe War Memorial and John Rickel got a break when Rickel's parents moved from Detroit to Grosse Pointe while their son was a student at the University of Michigan. Rickel dropped in to visit his new community and the center of that community — the War Memorial — and the rest, as they say, is history.

One day Rickel was touring the War Memorial and, understandably, looking a bit lost. That's when the center's director John Lake walked up and asked if he could help . . . and a friendship was born.

It was a friendship that saw the War Memorial grow and flourish under former director Lake's 30-year care and one which saw Rickel emerge from young patron status to that of president of the War Memorial. It is a relationship Rickel recounts fondly.

"I've seen John Lake in a number of different aspects. I've come to respect and appreciate his boundless energy in the community and his desire to make the War Memorial the finest anywhere," Rickel says.

"Were it not for John Lake, I'd have never taken the War Memorial's trip around the world for students. I also took the War Memorial's ground school . . . I wouldn't be a pilot but for him."

IN THE YEARS since his first meeting with John Lake, Rickel became much more than a pilot. He went from working for Rickel Maltng Company while a student at U of M's business and law schools, to working in two law firms, to owning his own. That law firm keeps him pretty busy, but when he isn't working, he's commuting to Manhattan, N.Y., where his wife Annette, an assistant professor of clinical psychology at Wayne State University, is on sabbatical at Columbia University. Or he spends his precious free time growing citrus trees, (he's Cloverly Road's leading berry producer) sailing, boating, playing paddle tennis . . . and piloting.

And he spends some time recalling the influence John Lake had on John Rickel and on the War Memorial.

"To the extent that any single person can develop a community activity . . . John Lake IS the War Memorial," Rickel says.

And it is because John Lake was, for so many years, the force behind the success of the War Memorial, that Rickel and his committee have worked so diligently for the success of the scholarship benefit concert.

"Louise TeWalt made the committee happen. Her idea was that John Lake had been such a marvelous community asset. The committee realized that he'd made Grosse Pointe a good place to be. And since he, probably more than anyone else, had epitomized the commitment to education as a life-long process, it was quite appropriate that there be a scholarship in John Lake's name," Rickel says.

"BUT IT WAS Louis TeWalt and Hixie Sanford who were the original people behind the idea and the fund-raising effort."

Rickel adds that the committee has raised $10,000 for the scholarship fund. Grosse Pointe South High School graduate Steven Suminski was the first recipient of the John Lake Scholarship this year; he begins studies at Michigan State University this fall. "We can award one scholarship per year at present, but our goal is to have one each from North and South."

In order to achieve that goal, Rickel estimates that the committee will have to raise $25,000 — something he hopes will happen via the benefit recital, set for Saturday, Sept. 24 — where else? — in the War Memorial.

Pianist Flavio Varani will perform at 8 p.m., followed by a reception in the Crystal Ballroom. Tickets, at $4 for students, $8 general admission, $25 patron and $50 benefactor, are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope and with checks payable to the John Lake Scholarship Fund to Mrs. William O. Bradley Jr., 1670 Ford Court, Grosse Pointe, Mich. 48236. Further information on the benefactor or patron tickets may be obtained by calling 886-0079 or 885-7214.

"It will be a fun event. It's also an important contribution to the community, helping Grosse Pointe remain a community that stresses excellence, diversity and educational accomplishment," Rickel says.

AS ONE WHO HAS seen the War Memorial grow, Rickel knows the important role John Lake had in making it retain the excellence and diversity of Grosse Pointe. He saw it as a young tax attorney employed by Butzel, Long and Van Sile who helped the War Memorial through an Internal Revenue Service audit. He saw it as president of the War Memorial and partner in his own law firm, Rickel and Earle. And he sees it now as president of Grosse Pointe Cable and John Lake Scholarship Fund committee member.

Rickel knows well the total commitment made to Grosse Pointe and the War Memorial by John Lake. "No subject was barred in terms of inquiry and enthusiasm by John Lake . . . he just had complete commitment." Rickel hopes that the same kind of commitment can be made to the John Lake Scholarship Fund and benefit recital.

Even the requirements for scholarship recipients seem to echo the standard set by John Lake at the War Memorial.

"We look for scholarship, certainly, but we're also looking for people for whom a John Lake scholarship would make a difference, both economically and in terms of ego enhancement. Someone whom the scholarship might help achieve future success," Rickel says.

Not unlike the way John Lake and the War Memorial made a difference for John Rickel . . . and the way Rickel hopes they will continue to make a difference for a whole new generation of War Memorial patrons.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, CULINARY DELIGHTS using CORN.

Corn, or maize, has never been found anywhere in a truly wild state. It is believed to have been an hybridization of two grasses in pre-historic Mexico. Corn as we know it was found by Columbus in Cuba; he took it back to Europe, where it is especially prized in Italy and Roumania. Mexico has continued its love affair with corn, using it in many delicious ways.

The home gardener knows the true value of sweet corn-on-the-cob's garden to table flavor. America, from the time of the earliest settlers, has enjoyed corn in a variety of recipes. The famous cornbread of the Southern States is without equal. Corn relishes are a delight, and corn comes to American tables in souffles, casseroles and soups as well as in seasoned vegetable dishes.

Nutrients: Potassium, B-vitamins, Vitamin A, Iron, Zinc, Carbohydrate (corn, potatoes and winter squash have about the same carbohydrate content).

Calories: One cup, canned, drained — 137.

Suggested Seasonings: Basil, Rosemary, Marjoram, Ginger, All-Spice, Anise, Cumin, Vegetable Flakes, Peppers, Chives.

FRESH-CORN PUDDING

Use the freshest corn possible for this: the juicier the better!

- 3 cups corn cut from cob (6 to 8 ears)
- 1 egg, separated
- 2 tsp. sugar
- 1/8 tsp. salt
- Dash of pepper (optional)
- 3 Tbsp. margarine, divided

With a sharp knife, slit down center of each row of corn kernels. With dull edge of knife, press out pulp and juice into bowl. Add egg yolk, sugar, salt and pepper and 2 Tbsp. margarine, melted. Beat egg white until stiff peaks form: fold into corn mixture. Turn into greased, shallow 1-quart baking dish and dot with remaining margarine. Bake at 350° 45 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes 6 servings.

Calories per serving about 137. Cholesterol about 40 mgs.

CORN PANCAKES

- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 Tbsp. sugar
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- Pinch of salt
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup skim milk
- 2 Tbsp. safflower oil
- 1-1/3 cups freshly cut corn kernels

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt into medium size bowl. Beat egg slightly in small bowl; stir in milk and oil until well blended. Slowly stir into dry ingredients, along with the corn, only until just mixed (batter will be lumpy).

Preheat griddle over moderate heat until a few drops of cold water will dance on it. Using a 1/4-cup measure, pour batter onto hot griddle, spreading each pancake to a 4-inch diameter. Cook until bubbles form over surface; gently turn and brown the underside. Keep warm in a slow oven (250°) while preparing remaining pancakes. Serve with maple syrup. Makes 10 pancakes. Calories per pancake about 94. Cholesterol 0.

STIR-FRIED

CORN AND PEPPERS

This colorful vegetable melange is especially enhancing to broiled fish, barbecued and roasted meats.

- 1 medium red pepper, halved, seeded, and cut into strips
- 1 medium green pepper, halved, seeded, and cut into strips
- 2 medium zucchini, thinly sliced
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- 4 ears cooked corn
- 1 tsp. leaf basil, crumbled
- 1 tsp. leaf thyme, crushed
- Salt and pepper to taste

Saute red and green peppers, zucchini and garlic in oil in large skillet just until tender, about 5 minutes. Cut corn kernels from cobs. Add with basil, thyme, salt and pepper to mixture in skillet. Cook, stirring until thoroughly heated. Makes 6 servings. Calories per serving about 143. Cholesterol 0.

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

Discussing small town sports . . . or how not to make friends in Indiana

"Don't blink when you drive past the McDonald's on the corner," my cousin said, "or you'll completely miss the town."

"The town" is Logansport, Ind., a quaint little burg in the middle of Indiana. What else besides quaint can you call a town of around 20,000 situated too far away from those hot spots of Indiana — South Bend and Indianapolis — to matter?

I spent a week there one recent weekend and found that, yes, Logansport, Ind., IS all it's cracked up to be. It's quiet, lazy, homey, comfortably small-town and the home of some of my favorite relatives in this world . . . but it is definitely not the place to go to see or be seen. Nor is it the place for a sports fan, hungry for sports news of the outside world, to get too far from a television or an out-of-town newspaper.

I should have known what I was getting into when I checked into my hotel, turned on the TV and found the Chicago Cubs game on three local channels.

They take their sports very seriously in Logansport, Ind. It's just that the sports they take so seriously in a little town where everybody in the Taco Bell knows your name aren't the sports most of the rest of the country takes seriously.

Like wrestling. Sure, I know, Grosse Pointe North had a great wrestling team and Greg Fleming won a state title and all . . . but nobody's going to write a song about a wrestling team here in Grosse Pointe . . . or anyplace else.

Except in Indiana. After high school football and college basketball, wrestling is THE sport in Indiana. And the next time I'm in Logansport, I'll remember that, thanks to several hefty Hoosiers who happened to overhear my ill-timed, less-than-complimentary remark about the overabundance of wrestlers at the function I was attending. All I can say is: thank goodness they don't practice wrestling holds at formal weddings in Logansport, or I might be wearing a member of the 187-pound weight class around my neck even as we speak.

It's still a bit too early for college basketball, so there was only one story about college cagers in the Sunday edition of the local newspaper, the Pharos-Tribune. There were, however, four pages of high school football results for me to peruse. I don't think I could have gotten through the weekend without knowing that since Anderson High School defeated Logansport High in the first game of the season for both teams, Anderson now has a 1-0 record and Logansport is now 0-1. Thank you, Pharos-Tribune.

Want to catch up on some hot pennant race scores while in north-central Indiana? They're on page 19, just below the Peru-Maconaquah final tally and the rest of the football scores for the entire state of Indiana — all 144 teams. (Seventy-two of those teams won and 72 lost, just in case the Pharos-Tribune wants to know).

Care to find out how the New York Yankees did? Buy an out-of-town paper or wait until the end of the local TV news sportscast. The Yankee score might just be in there . . . somewhere between the cross country scores and the results of the Chicago Cubs game.

But don't hold your breath. Because Logansport is Cubs' country, buddy. The White Sox may be 15½ games in front of their division and the Cubbies 10 behind, but people don't talk American League — that's reason in these parts.

In lieu of its own major league baseball team, Indiana has adopted other cities' teams. There's a real struggle going on in Ft. Wayne, just a few miles over the Indiana-Ohio border. The International House of Pancakes there sells both Cleveland Indian and Detroit Tiger coffee mugs. When I was there things were just about even . . . nobody wanted either one.

In Logansport, it is a clear-cut victory for the Cubs. After wrestling, country music and the fortunes of Indiana and Purdue universities, the Cubs own Logansport — or at least three of its television channels.

All in all, my visit to Logansport wasn't too bad (once we managed to turn around and get back to the McDonald's — I blinked). They talk a little funny, those denizens of Indiana; sort of a cross between Midwestern Flat and Ohio Valley Drawl — but that's okay. With proper medication, I could even take the Chicago Cubs, twice a week on three channels. And I suppose wrestling isn't too bad, once you get used to it.

But I don't think I could ever stay for more than just a visit; it would be too hard not to have four or five professional sports teams and watch them all flop at once like we do here.

And I don't think I'd be able to stand people calling me a Hoosier. I don't even know what a Hoosier is.

But if it means living in a state where a place called Kokomo is considered a "hot town" . . . I'd just as soon not be one.

Friendship Run set for Sept. 18

The third annual Detroit Friendship Lions Club's Friendship Run is set for Sunday, Sept. 18, with 5K and 10K runs and racewalk competitions starting and finishing at Baldock Park and following a course along East Warren Avenue and Outer Drive.

The 5K (3.1 mile) race starts at 12:15 p.m.; with the 10K (6.2 mile) race beginning at 1 p.m. Awards in the 5K race include trophies to the top three male and female overall finishers and custom medals to the first 50 finishers. 10K awards include trophies to the top three overall finishers and top racewalkers plus custom medals and plaques to the top three in each age group.

All participants receive a T-shirt, race certificates, refreshments and a ringside seat for the East Warren Parade and Festi-tival events which follow the races.

Runners may register up until race time. Entry fee was $7 until Sept. 14; $9 for late registration. Entry forms may be obtained by calling 885-2374 or 885-9847, or may be picked up at Richard Buick, 16700 Harper; Ray's Deli, 15801 East Warren; Total Runner on Mack Avenue near Vernier; Perry Drugs on Kercheval Avenue and many East Warren Avenue businesses.

Thirty-one Pointers participated in last year's event, with former Pointer Peter Hallop winning the 10K race. Paul A. Szabo of the City won his age group and John Boddow of the Farms and Anne K. Eshelman and Mary Kraft of the Park also won age group medals.

Michael Blake, of the Farms, finished third in his age group in the 5K event.

North wins football opener in forfeit

By Rick Markel

North's football season started last week but East Detroit's didn't and North got credit for a 1-0 forfeit victory.

The Shamrocks were forced to forfeit due to a teacher strike in the East Detroit school district. Norsemen head coach Frank Sumner, summed it up as he said his squad was, "... very disappointed and discouraged." North had been practicing for the game since Aug. 15. North will get a chance this Friday, Sept. 16, when it visits Sterling Heights.

There was some football action at North last week, as the freshmen football team downed Warren Lincoln, 32-0. A nine-for-13 passing attack, along with a solid ground game, yielded an astounding 369 yards of total offense for North.

Kickers win two

There was also plenty of soccer action, as North's varsity squad got off to a 2-0 start. The Norsemen won their opener impressively with a 10-1 victory over Mt. Clemens. Kurt Hielscher, Steve Zink, Mark Kreuter and Dave Waldeck scored two goals apiece in that game. North then pulled out a very tough 2-1 win over Chippewa Valley. Chippewa, North coach Guido Regelbrugge's choice to win it all, jumped out to an early 1-0 lead, but a tenacious and aggressive defense, which held Chippewa's top scorer to just one shot on goal, kept North in the game.

Mark Kreuter got the Norsemen going as he put in his first goal of the game. The goal came off a long set up pass from Scott Orhan, mid-way through the first half. Then late in the first half, Kreuter scored the winning goal on what Regelbrugge called a "great individual effort." Depth and defense did it the rest of the way, as North substituted freely to keep fresh players in the game. With eight of the 11 starters new to the team, and star Mark Tirikian out, Regelbrugge said he was very pleased that his team, "gave a superb effort."

North has a tough game on Thursday, Sept. 15, against Utica Eisenhower.

The J.V. soccer team also got off to a 2-0 start, beating Mt. Clemens, 5-0, and Chippewa Valley, 1-0. Goalie Brian Grieve recorded both shutouts for North.

Harriers are sixth

The girls' cross country team fared well as it beat L'Anse Creuse North, 15-50, and finished sixth in the West Bloomfield meet. A confident coach Charles Buhagiar said, "this team could be as good as last year's team." Last year's North team went undefeated. The 1982 team is led by six top runners: Stacy Williams, Janet Wesselmann, Kelly Fournier, Patty Loeher, Christine Drummy, and Barbara Mezger. With first, second, and third place finishes already turned in by Drummy, Wesselmann, and Williams respectively, it might be an extremely good year for North, but they will get tested quickly as they compete as host team in the Fall Sports Invitational. As many as four of the teams competing in the meet could place in the state's top 10.

Netters start slowly

North's girls tennis team got off to a slow start, as it finished fourth in the Monroe Invitational.

"I'm a little disappointed. I thought we could have finished second or third," said coach Beth Manojlovich. Kathy Ashore and Martha Nicholson won No. 4 doubles, while No. 1 singles player Lisa McCormick finished third. The No. 1 doubles team of Cathy Caruso and Amelia Dugan finished third and the No. 4 singles player Mary Garcia finished second.

Fall invitational set

For the fourth consecutive year, North High School will host the annual Girls' Fall Invitational, this Saturday, Sept. 17. Featured will be exciting competition between 11 different schools; besides North and South, Brighton, Birmingham Groves, Marion, Mercy, Regina, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Bishop Gallagher, Dearborn, and St. Clair Shores Southlake will be in the action.

Events on tap for Saturday are tennis, swimming, diving, cross country and a basketball tournament. There will be no competition points rewarded for basketball. All events are to be held on North's campus with the exception of the cross country meet. Cross country races will be held at Vernier Hill Park, at the corner of Vernier and Jefferson.

Athletes will check in at 8 a.m. and the actual competition will get underway at 9 a.m. when tennis preliminaries take place. Diving prelims begin at 10 a.m., while cross country and basketball start at 10:30 a.m. and 11 a.m., respectively.

One admission fee will be charged for all events. Tickets cost $2, $1 for seventh and eighth graders; there is a maximum fee of $5 per family. Children in sixth grade and under accompanied by parent will be admitted free as will senior citizens.

Monteith School student Rebecca Damm, 9, displays some of the fancy footwork she learned in a University Liggett School Soccer Clinic this summer. Nearly 200 youngsters from 6 through 15 attended the three sessions led by coach Dave Backhurst. Earning skill and spirit trophies this summer at the clinics were Glenn Nadeau, Mike Klobuchar, Andy Bramlage, Bryce Emo, Christophe Schilling, Paul Geist, Paul Fozo, Adam Rhodes, Whit Spencer, Jeff Backhurst, Joshua Brown, Dougie MacKelcan, Norm Rice, Delanie Boon, Matt Smucker, Peter Mertz, Cullen McMahon, Todd Frederickson and Jimmy Campagna.

Red Barons open season

The Grosse Pointe Red Barons opened the 1983 season with three games against the Northeast Detroit Shamrocks at North High field Sept. 11.

The Red Baron freshmen played well before falling to the Shamrocks, 28-7. The Shamrocks opened the scoring on a long pass from Bakanraa Johnson to Lamar Chapman. The Red Barons got the ball back but had to punt. The game saw-sawed back and forth between the two teams before the Shamrocks' DeVaughn Pollard fielded a Grosse Pointe punt on his own 47-yard line and ran it back to up the Shamrocks' lead to 14-0.

Outstanding Red Baron plays came from Jim Kutcher, Brad Cromar, Tom Dinverno, Chris Bagari, and Brian Nattoli, who kept the first half score down with their defensive play.

Cromar stopped a Shamrock drive to the Red Baron 19-yard line as the second half began and the Barons began to mount a drive behind the passing of Rob Khoenle and the running of Cromar, Drew Woodruff and Mark Cespedes. The Shamrocks stopped this drive and several others, and near the end of the third quarter, the Shamrocks' Chapman took a Red Baron punt on his 36-yard line and scored to put his squad up, 21-0.

Cespedes took the ensuing kick-off on his own 30-yard line and ran 70 yards for the Red Barons first touchdown, fighting off tackles all along the way. But the Shamrocks' Greg Elliot ran 72 yards after the Barons kicked off to finish the scoring at 28-7.

The Red Baron JV also lost, falling to the Shamrocks, 19-0. The score would have been higher but for the fine work of the defensive unit led by Jason DeYonker, Rob Rinaldi, Steve Crapprota, Marty Wayman and Jason Bedsworth. The Barons couldn't get anything going; Steve Sumerski, Chris Stebbins, and Cameron Pyle ripped off long gainers only to be stopped by the Shamrocks.

Long scoring plays and a good defense provided the win for the Shamrocks, led by the long runs of Keith Barnett and Dejuand Reynolds.

In the varsity game, the Shamrocks scored first on a 35-yard pass and the first quarter ended with the Detroit squad leading, 6-0. In the second quarter, the Red Barons' Darin Hopp blocked a Shamrock punt and the Red Barons began a drive which was stopped by a fumble. The Shamrocks gave up the ball and the Grosse Pointe varsity drove to the nine — and were stopped again. They were stopped once more on the four just as the half ended.

The second half began with the Shamrocks controlling the ball and scoring the day's final touchdown behind the running and passing of James Cooper. The remainder of the game was a defensive struggle, with the Barons stopping the Shamrocks on the 4 yard line when the game ended, 30-0.

Led by Jamie Acord at quarterback, the Red Baron offense showed a little promise behind the work of Scott Smith, Dom Martilotti, Brian Simons, Darin Hopp, Brian Keinig, John Baal, Lance Harding and Brian Moody. Defensively, Robert Straske, Rob Regalado, Joe Mancuso and Chris Meathe played well.

ULS kicked off its 1983 football season in decidedly un-football-like weather last Friday, Sept. 9. The Knights weren't as hot as the temperature (88 degrees) or their Carsonville-Port Sanilac opponents (who took a 34-18 victory) . . . but the outnumbered ULS gridgers still turned in several fine performances. ULS' Steve Georgi had an outstanding day, including his 86-yard touchdown run to put ULS on the scoreboard in the second quarter.

ULS drops grid opener

Playing before a home crowd on Friday, Sept. 9, the University Liggett School football team dropped its season opener to Carsonville/Port Sanilac 34-18. Although the ULS Knights are a spirited team, they are small in number, and plagued by inexperience.

Carsonville showed strength on its first drive, scoring on an 18-yard run by Dave Maxwell. J.D. Lechnyr completed the two-point conversion, giving Carsonville an 8-0 lead that held for the first quarter.

In the second quarter, ULS tailback and team captain Steve Georgi, scored on an 86-yard isolation play. Carsonville quarterback Don Thomas retaliated with two 40-yard touchdown passes to John Williams to take a 28-6 lead at the half.

The Knights' defense finally came alive in the third quarter, denying Carsonville any points. Depth on the line was supplied by tackle Tom Giftos and Colin Barr, who played linebacker and tight end with a broken hand. Thomas' passing was also held off by the Knights' secondary, led by safety Jim Kitchen. Georgi, who rushed for 194 yards Friday, scored in the third period from the Carsonville 28-yard marker.

ULS scored first in the final quarter on a 15 yard play-action pass from quarterback Andrew Ottaway to freshman receiver Agu Nwosu. Carsonville scored once more to give them a 16-point margin and the win.

Coach Janiga was generally pleased with his team's performance, and believes the younger players will give their opponents problems as they gain in experience. The Knights will play again on Sept. 16 at Saginaw St. Mary.

Kickers open with wins

On Tuesday, Sept. 6, the ULS boys' soccer team played the opening game of its season and the defending state champion Knights defeated a tough Inter-City Christian team, 3-2.

The Inter-City team jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the first half and carried the lead into halftime. Mark Kraatz scored the Inter-City goal.

In the second half, ULS' Walter Connolly passed a long ball to right wing Rick Roberts. Roberts sent a perfect shot into the left lower corner of the net, stunning the Inter-City goal tender.

Inter-City came back with a goal scored by Lyle Whensley on a breakaway to take the lead with about 20 minutes to go. The Knights had some tough breaks, but with 10 minutes to go they made the tying strike.

Then Roberts, speeding down the right wing, took another ball from Connolly and hit a 15-yard blast into the lower left. The last 10 minutes of the game were scoreless, but hard fought and in pouring rain. The Knights' defense was highlighted by tough play from Kirk Haggarty, Dan Bowen, Jamie McMillan and Rob Healy. Jeff Lucas played an outstanding game in the net.

The Knights won the second game of their season on Friday, Sept. 9 against Huron Valley Lutheran, 8-1. After a rather sluggish start the Knights burst the game wide open with four goals in the first half. Johannes Homan.

Superide '83 takes off Oct. 1

March of Dimes Superide '83, a 75-kilometer bike-a-thon against birth defects, will happen Saturday, Oct. 1 at three locations: Belle Isle, Camp Dearborn and Stony Creek Metropark.

All proceeds raised by Superide '83 help the March of Dimes fight birth defects via medical research, educational programs and community service projects.

Superiders who an official sponsor form to the event will receive a free bike patch.

There are also prizes for persons who raise large amounts of money for the fight against birth defects by collecting pledges per kilometer from family and friends. Prizes range from T-shirts and hand-held calculators to radios, televisions and ten speed bicycles.

To sign up, call the Superide Hotline at 423-3232.

Two-year letterman Ken Stockwell, of the Pointe, returns to the Michigan State University football line-up this fall as the Spartans' second-string center.

Netters take two

ULS' girls' varsity tennis team opened its season, Sept. 9 with a convincing 8-0 shutout of the "River Rats" of Class A Ann Arbor Huron.

The Lady Knights of ULS demonstrated their depth by sweeping all four singles and all four doubles matches. Singles winners were Paula Mighion, Leslie Mackey, Charu Nautiyal and Amina Ali. Seniors Mighion and Mackey both scored convincing victories.

All four doubles teams displayed fine teamwork as they posted easy wins in their opening matches, including Maria Rodriguez and Marie Ali, Windy White and Laurie Evans, Jenny Peck and Paula Rodriguez and Merritt Meade and Susie Andrews.

Although ULS coasted in the first match of the season, it barely squeaked by a tough Pioneer team from East Grand Rapids Sept. 10. The perennially strong Class B Pioneers were edged out, 5-3, in a match which came down to the third set of the No. 3 singles match. Sophomore Charu Nautiyal scored her second consecutive come-from-behind win as she garnered the decisive point for the Lady Knights by overcoming her opponent, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1. Nautiyal's perseverance was the key as she refused to buckle under to the pressure. Freshman Amina Ali, No. 4 singles, and the doubles teams of Captain White and Evans (No. 2), Peck and Rodriguez (No. 3), and Meade and Andrews (No. 4) also turned in strong performances for the Knights, who now are 2-0 for the season.

Coach George Andrews was pleased with his team's two wins. "It is great to pull out the close matches. I attribute our victory over the Pioneers to the girls' hard work and determination. Yes, we do have work to do, but we are pulling together as a team."

The ULS girls' junior varsity tennis team also defeated Ann Arbor Huron, 8-0. The Knights, under the leadership of coach Carol vonStade, dropped only one set on their way to victory.

Golfers open with win

In a close season opener at the Chandler Park Course, Sept. 7, the ULS golf team defeated Bishop Gallagher, 141-145. Jim Valice was medalist, shooting a strong 33.

Stockwell back at MSU

Two-year letterman Ken Stockwell, of the Pointe, returns to the Michigan State University football line-up this fall as the Spartans' second-string center.

"Kenny will be very competitive in the center position" said offensive line coach Buck Bystrom. The 6-1, 223-pound Stockwell, a South High graduate, started the Spartans' final six games last season.

Bevier honored

Central Michigan University linebacker Mike Bevier, of the Pointe, was one of three Chippewa players who earned "Player of the Week" honors for their play in CMU's 31-14 loss to Kentucky Sept. 3.

Bevier, a junior, participated in 14 tackles, including 11 "first-hits." He also chipped in with a touchdown-saving tackle on a punt return.

WHAT IN THE WORLD? What in the World has been going on at the Colonial Shop? If you'd read the news you'd know. Yes, Detroit News special reporter, Margaret Riethmiller, didn't quite believe Wacky's place was everything he cracked it up to be, so she came out here to check it out for herself. Her story, published August 24th, should convince even the biggest skeptic that the crazy man isn't just whistling Dixie when he says he's got the area's largest selection of exciting, unusual, antiques, gifts, and collectibles. Just wait till you see what he's got lined up for this week! A crystal Steuben decanter, a collection of Fiesta ware including mugs, tumblers, a mustard pot, a water pitcher, after dinner coffee cups, utility trays, and lots of red. There's a Chinese reverse painting on glass, a Cloisonne bowl, a small Gouda vase, lots of beautiful Haviland including covered serving dishes, a McKee glass range top coffee maker, a handpainted Nippon vase, two luster finished sarregumines vases, a Chinese mud man, an Art Deco table lighter shaped like an airplane, a variegated Venetian glass fish sculpture, a Fostoria baroque console set, a Prince of Wales Investiture mug, a collection of Wade figurines including animals and fairytale figures, an old diamond quilted Fenton cranberry glass bowl, several art books, a French bronze figure of Mercury, an interesting group of ladies rings and much, much more! Join those folks in the know: visit the Colonial Shop, 26701 Jefferson near 10 Mile. Monday - Saturday, 11-6. 772-0430. Your Master Charge and Visa are welcomed and please don't forget, we buy and appraise too!

Pointers named to Compuware

The Compuware Mite Hockey Club has announced the selection of five pointers to its 1983-84 team. Compuware is the defending Little Caesar's Amateur Hockey League Champion, champion of the prestigious Wheatfield, N.Y., International Mite Tournament, which it won against a strong 32-team field from the U.S. and Canada.

Pointers selected to the team were Tom Rajt, of the Park, a third grader at St. Paul's; Brad Dunlap of the City who attends Maire School; and David Tucker, a Grosse Pointe Academy student from the City, each of whom played last year on the Grosse Pointe Blues Mite Travel Team. Brian Quinn of the Park, a Maire School student who has recently returned from Kalamazoo; and Joe Orlando of the Woods, a Ferry student who played in the GPHA House League last year are the others.

The five Grosse Pointers are the largest group from any community on the squad which was selected on the basis of attitude, desire, skills and ability from premier players from throughout the metropolitan area. Their selection is, according to coach Bill Williams, a tribute to the boys' ability, dedication and prior good coaching.

Other members of the team which will play out of the Compuware-Oak Park Arena are David Vance of Roseville, David Irwin of Sterling Heights and Jason Saal of Detroit, all of whom played for St. Clair Shores Mite Travel; Ky Williams and Leo Centofani of Sterling Heights and Joey Peake of Shelby who are hold-overs from the 1982-83 Compuware team; David Lambeth of Clarkston who played for Rocco's Bulldogs; and Jeff Mitchell of Wayne and Teddy Hughes of Taylor from the Southgate Mite Travel squad.

Liggett senior's lead top scores

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation on Sept. 14 named 15,000 outstanding high school seniors nationwide as semifinalists in the current Merit Program and nine University Liggett students earned that recognition in the first step of scholarship competition.

The students honored are Michael Brozowski, Charles Colby, Brian Fox, Johannes Homan, Ronald Hull, Brigitte Koegler, Marc Lie, Jeffrey Lucas and Sandra Yonkoski.

They are among the highest scorers in Michigan and represent the top half of one percent of this year's senior class nationwide.

According to Stephen Clem, Head of the ULS Upper School, the nine scholars must continue to document high academic performances through the remainder of high school, must receive the endorsement of their principal, and must supply complete information about their interests, accomplishments, and goals.

"We're extremely proud of their achievement so far," Clem added. "Every one of them is a credit to our school."

The Semifinalists will advance to further testing in the annual competition for over 5,000 scholarships, worth more than $18 million. The grants will be awarded in the spring of 1984.

North High greets freshmen

Parents of North High School freshman are invited to attend a program on Wednesday, Sept. 21, at 7:30 in the school cafeteria.

John Kastran, the new principal, will welcome everyone to the school and introduce various school personnel and explain their services.

After the presentations, parents will meet with their son or daughter's counselor for a question and answer period.

All parents are urged to attend.

AARP will hear Bell Executive

The Grosse Pointe Chapter No. 2151 of the American Association of Retired Persons, (AARP), will meet Monday, Sept. 26, at 1 p.m. at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore Road.

Laird Spencer, division manager of transition implementation for Michigan Bell Telephone Co., will speak on "Divestiture." A social hour and card playing follows the meeting.

The chairman of the chapter's community services committee is Elizabeth Gruenfeldt, who informs the chapter about meetings on subjects of special interest to members, including Michigan rent credits, Social Security reforms, mandatory retirement, Dial-A-Meal and child abuse.

Read to your kids

Dr. Craig Roney, above, a professor of Education at Wayne State University's Children's Literature Center, reads some classics outside on the campus. He will conduct a seminar on great classics of children's literature at the War Memorial on Fridays, Sept. 23, 30 and Oct. 7. The lectures are from 9 to 11 a.m. and the fee is $25. Dr. Roney will explain to parents why they should read to their children. Call 881-7511 for information.

Pointers host party honoring banker

About 700 persons are expected to attend a benefit dinner Sept. 22 at the Westin Hotel Renaissance Center to honor Pointer Dean E. Richardson, chairman and chief executive officer of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, and to raise funds for the National Jewish Hospital and Research Center-National Asthma Center.

The $300-a-couple benefit for the Denver-based respiratory and immune disease center will begin with a reception at 6 p.m., followed by the dinner program at 6:45 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by Le Clique, a nationally known mime troupe.

Richardson will receive the organization's National Humanitarian Award, which is presented in Detroit and other cities to recognize persons who have demonstrated great humanitarian concern and outstanding community service.

Also involved in the benefit as co-chairmen are Pointers Peter W. Stroh, chairman and chief executive officer of The Stroh Brewery Company; David K. Easlick, president of Michigan Bell and E. Paul Casey, president and chief executive officer of Ex-Cell-O Corporation.

Proceeds from the benefit will help fund patient care, research and medical education programs at the medical center, which is a nonprofit, nonsectarian hospital and the only medical center in the world focusing its full resources on respiratory, allergic and immune diseases, including asthma, emphysema, chronic bronchitis, tuberculosis, bronchopulmonary dysplasia, occupational and environmental lung diseases, juvenile rheumatoid arthritis and immune-deficiency disorders.

Additional information about the benefit is available by contacting Cynthia Gatten, 237-8234.

Learn to promote your organization

"Promotional Skills for Community Organizers" will be taught at the War Memorial by Michael Luck, senior vice-president for development and public affairs at Wayne State University. The class will meet on Tuesdays, Sept. 27, and Oct. 4, from 7 to 9 p.m. The cost is $35 per person.

Some of the topics that will be discussed include the use of advertising, publicity, direct mail and personal contact.

Dr. Luck was formerly president of the Rutgers University Foundation, and director of development at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He has produced television programs, written and published books, pamphlets, flyers and invitations, directed major special events and raised money for countless organizations. His most recent book, "Alternative Fund Raising Strategies for Community Colleges" has won national praise.

Dr. Luck will also lecture on American humor, Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the War Memorial. He will discuss where humor came from and explore the meaning of the statement that "humor is man's survival kit."

Shape up at War Memorial

Five programs designed to get bodies in shape this fall will be offered at the War Memorial.

Aerobics for men and women over the age of 50 began Sept. 12 and will meet on Monday and Wednesday mornings until Nov. 30. Classes, at 9:30 a.m. for beginners and 10:30 a.m. for continuing students, will be paced according to the needs and capabilities of each participant. A doctor's consent form must be presented upon registration.

Aerobics instructor Alice Belfie holds an M.A. in Recreational Therapy from Wayne State University. The class fee is $48, and for those who wish to meet three times weekly, an optional Friday session is available for an additional $24.

Basic Self Defense will be taught by karate expert Paul Fayad, on Wednesdays beginning Sept. 21, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. This class is for people of all ages regardless of physical condition.

Participants will learn to speed up reactions and increase power. The goal of this non-competitive course is to gain increased confidence in one's ability to remain calm during a crisis. The fee is $20.

Of similar interest is Tae Kwan Do Karate, taught by members of the Karate Club under the direction of Sang Kyu Shim. This class will meet on Fridays, Sept. 16 through Nov. 4, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The cost is $28 for eight weeks.

To increase awareness of body and mind, Yoga will be offered on Thursdays from Sept. 22 through Nov. 17, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Instructor Betty Locke says the yoga postures revitalize internal organs, awaken and purify energy centers, develop stamina, flexibility and body-mind feedback. Students are asked to bring an exercise mat or rug to this $30 class, and to wear loose-fitting clothing.

Registration for any of these classes may be made in person, or by mail, with check made payable to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Drive, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236. For further information call 881-7511.

Liggett educators consider morals

About 125 teachers, administrators and counselors from University Liggett School met informally at the Eleanor & Edsel Ford House recently to discuss the "moral dimension" in education, according to the school.

The one-day conference looked at the school's role in moral development, teachers' obligation and influence in value formation, the implications of recent national studies on school effectiveness, and the ULS commitment to education as growth of a personality rather than just the training of a mind.

"We are concerned about the whole child," said ULS headmaster Ray Robbins. "We can't forget that academics are directly related to personal development. We want our students to become responsible, sensitive, decent people," he added.
