Where's my money?

Farms police caught themselves a junior con man last week who rapidly discovered you can't fool all the people all of the time ... but he tried.

Seems the 16-year-old Detroit youth was soliciting businesses on Mack avenue on behalf of the March of Dimes "Super Ride 83". One sharp cookie at FLEC (Family Life Education Council) became suspicious when the "Artful Dodger" asked for the money in advance, instead of wanting to wait for a pledge.

Farms police found the lad further down Mack, preparing to hit a few more businesses and took him into custody. Officials at the March of Dimes told the officers that while the teen had worked for them last year, he hadn't participated in their funding drive this year.

To make matters worse, the last "Super Ride 83" took place on the first of this month. At the station, the subject's pledge sheet and $65 in cash was confiscated and his mother was informed. Told that she couldn't pick him up, the "solicitor" was taken to a bus stop and sent home to mom.

The topper to the whole story is that the next day the kid had the chutzpah to call up the police and ask for his money back. He was rather upset when Lt. Ignatius Backman sweetly informed him that the money had been donated in his name to the March of Dimes.

And why shouldn't he be upset. He stole that money fair and square, didn't he?

Trustworthy

In keeping with the above story, the United Foundation Torch Drive small business campaign is now underway in the Pointes and will continue through Friday, Oct. 28. So if any really small businessmen ask you for money, you know it's legit.

A. Ben Kline, director of personnel at Fruehauf, is serving as chairman, aided by Bill Johnstone of Johnstone and Johnstone and Ed Hickey, of Hickey's Mens Wear.

The trio, (all normal sized), will call on businesses asking for contributions, so start pulling out that money hidden away in your mattresses, (or in your waterbeds, if you're really strange), for a really good cause.

About the race

It sure was a fine day for the Free Press Marathon last Sunday. I managed to show up about 15 minutes before the first runner came through and strategically stationed myself near the Over the Rainbow Ice Cream Parlor to brace myself periodically with hot chocolate.

While there primarily as a photographer, I took time to jot down some notes on the runners and those urging them on. At first I was a bit disappointed by the tenor of the race. Hundreds of grim faced runners streaked by, all sleek as greyhounds but somehow lacking any spirit.

It wasn't until the last third of the race that things started loosening up and the "weird ones" turned the marathon into a parade. The tip-off that the event was turning into a real "fun run" was when a patriotic lad came running by carrying a flag sporting the Canadian emblem on one side and Old Glory on the other. He received a nice round of applause from the crowd for his imagination.

Speaking of flags, while many runners did sport the American flag on or as their shorts, I saw one outfit that stopped me cold. The runner was dressed in big baggy running tights emblazoned with the flag of Great Britain. To make it even more bizarre, the guy wearing it was a punk ... I mean a punk runner! He had black hair with huge patches of blond scattered over it.

The punk was followed a short time later by a man covered from head to foot by a "Spiderman" costume. And Halloween is two weeks off yet.

Hard on Spiderman's heel was a guy with balloons wrapped around his head and a man wearing a shirt with "Veni, Vedi, Vici" written on the back. If I had been running, my shirt would probably read, "I came, I saw, I got discouraged and went home."

I also liked the trio with orange and white shirts reading "Clarkston Larry," "Clarkston Jim" and "Clarkston Ed." Does this mean next year we can expect a "Clarkston Larry, Moe and Curly?" I loved it when some members of the South High School band started a conga line on the steps of the library. Even better was when an enthusiastic flag major knocked off the drum major's tall, show white hat with a wild swing. No harm done.

There were 46 wheelchair entries this year, all to be admired. Why doesn't somebody like Adidas come up with a special racing wheelchair made especially for marathons? You know, kind of low, sleek and sexy to cut down on air resistance. It could be teflon coated with no-slip hand grips atop special racing tires produced exclusively by Michelin, in France.

Of course, if the racer was a handicapper from Australia, his chair would probably have some secretly designed keel just below the seat, that he'd cover with a Hefty trash bag until just before the race.

Finally, in the seen-but-not-believed category was the guy handing out water in front of the Punch and Judy Theater. Pacing himself alongside of a marathoner, he got tangled up by one of the traffic cones, tripped and took a header onto Kercheval but still managed to hand off to the runner gaping down at him.

Hey, some people are made of the right stuff and some aren't.

P.S. A nice round of applause should go to Farms resident Trudy McSorley, of Kerby Road and her running partner Sister Jean Weiss, who were running to raise funds for Jennifer Miller, who needs $5,000 for a hip replacement.

Trudy's mother said her daughter was hoping to complete the race in under four hours, but just missed her goal by finishing at 4:10. Final tabulation on the fund raising isn't in yet, but word has it that the "dynamic duo" did a pretty good job.

Meter madness

There was a bit of a comic confrontation in the Farms Police Department Monday morning, Oct. 9. A Farms woman walked into the station and sweetly inquired if this was the right place to pay a parking ticket?

Told that it was, the woman slammed an envelope down on the counter and strode out. As she retreated from the station, someone asked her if the money was all in change. "Right!", retorted the woman. "I'm paying you all in pennies."

"We don't accept pennies," said an officer. "Neither do your parking meters," replied the woman, "but that's how I'm paying you." With that she left.

After they finished laughing, officials at the station explained that loose change can't be accepted because the dispatchers don't have time to wrap the money, nor will the banks accept it unwrapped from the police.

Looks like the pennies were unwrapped, just like the woman who delivered them.

One school closed in new plan

Opposition is threatening legal action

By Susan McDonald

Several hundred chanting, placard-carrying parents Monday heard Supt. Kenneth Brummel recommend a much-reduced school reorganization plan and cheered when one school board member announced his opposition to closing any elementary schools.

Carrying posters that read "10 schools K-6" indicating their support for the status quo in the public schools, hundreds of members of the Committee for Neighborhood Elementary Schools picketed Parcells Middle School as the Board of Education gathered inside to hear the superintendent's latest proposal.

Brummel recommended the following reorganization plan to begin in the 1984-85 school year:

- Sixth grade students be moved to the middle schools and placed in an educational environment designed to meet their unique academic as well and physical and emotional needs.
- Barnes Elementary School be closed and the Barnes student body be transferred to neighboring elementary schools, Ferry and Monteith.
- Those students now attending

Text of Supt.'s speech

Following is the text of Supt. Kenneth Brummel's statement to the Board of Education.

Since 1971, the number of children attending the Grosse Pointe Public School System has declined steadily and dramatically. Where we once had 13,529 students present in our 15 buildings we now have 7,358. This represents a system-wide drop of 45 percent in 12 years. During this same time span our elementary enrollments have declined by over 50 percent.

And yet, we have continued to operate our programs and building as if there has been no such appreciable decline. Though our peak enrollment did represent an overcrowding in many instances, we nevertheless find ourselves operating our schools at about 75 percent of their comfortable design capacity.

In recognition of this problem the board appointed a Citizens Advisory Steering Committee whose charge it was to study the impact of enrollment decline and its effect on quality education in the schools. This committee was composed of 33 men and women from every area of the district and representing every group and sub-group within the community. There were professional educators in their ranks to be sure, but also parents, realtors, senior citizens and a host of others who had no vested interest in the project except the desire to make our school system the very best that it could be.

The committee studied the problem for a full year before making its recommendation to the board in January of this year. Based upon their recommendations, the administration drafted a plan for the reorganization of the Grosse Pointe Public School System in April of 1983. Following a series of public hearings held in addition to regular monthly meetings, the board agreed not to take final action on the proposal until citizens and community groups had the opportunity to respond in writing and give recommendations as to what should be done. An Aug. 1 deadline was established for the responses.

Village liquor issue: hardly a stir

By Harriet Nolan

"Bite the bullet and put it on the November ballot," was the advice former Grosse Pointe City mayor John King gave to the city council at a study session held Thursday, Oct. 6, to discuss his clients' petition for tavern licenses.

King represents merchants from the Merry Mouse Inc., Jacobson's Inc., and the Clairpointe Restaurant, who want to serve beer and wine to customers to their premises.

The council has several options. It can approve the petition, put it on the November ballot as an "advisory referendum vote" to test public opinion, or, hold the petition until the presidential election in 1984 when a greater voter turnout is expected.

However, attorney King told council that it had no reason to wait until 1984. He said there has been plenty of "accurate reporting," plus petitions signed by residents to get a feel of public opinion.

"Tonight we've had a lot of publicity and only four people are here," said King.

Of the four City residents who came to the meeting, Vincent Ames of Notre Dame, Tom Gutath of Rivard Boulevard and Edward Poncraz of Neff agreed that being able to serve alcohol would give business a boost. They also said that the community should be completely informed and be given plenty of time before deciding the matter.

However, Paul McLaughlin of Rivard Boulevard said the City doesn't need liquor to exist.

He pointed out that the Bronze Door on Kercheval and the Wellington Restaurant on Mack Avenue both sold liquor and have changed hands several times.

"I suspect, it's bad management and not the lack of liquor," said McLaughlin.

"I really don't think people ferring sixth graders to middle school," she said. "We are all reduced and all vulnerable to closure within a short period of time."

Trustee Jon Gandelot assured the audience that the transfer of sixth graders to middle school is being done for educational purposes, and not as an "argument for school closings."

Mrs. Brownscombe indicated the committee will now work to take legal action against the school board, but she could not say if that action will involve seeking an injunction to stop closings or a recall drive. To force a recall vote, petitions must be signed by a number of registered voters equal to 25 percent of those who voted in the last gubernatorial election.

Unionist Mazey dies

By Jamie Cook

Whether it was battling for increased wages in Detroit during the Depression or leading the goals of the international United Auto Workers, Emil Mazey was a fighter.

His slogan, which he had framed on his desk, was "consider the turtle. He makes no progress until he sticks his neck out."

After a years-long battle with cancer, Mazey died Sunday at 70 in Detroit's Metropolitan Hospital.

A resident of Grosse Pointe Park, he was born in 1914 in Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada.

ULS headmaster resigns

Raymond Robbins often talks to students and faculty about the importance of change as he walks the halls of University Liggett School. The headmaster stresses the importance of taking well-considered risks, and of challenging oneself with new situations.

"Frankly, I was starting to feel a bit hypocritical," Robbins said this week. "After 15 years as headmaster here, I feel I must practice what I preach."

Robbins, 47, submitted his resignation to University Liggett's Board of Trustees and announced this week he will leave his post at the end of the current school year. The decision to leave ULS was "one of the most difficult of my life," he said. He and his wife know what it means. Once we issue the license, the state will call the shots and then we don't know what will happen," he added.

Steve Scandalis, owner of the Rams Horn on Mack Avenue, said he doesn't feel selling beer and wine will make much of a difference to his business.

"I've already proven that I can make a go of it for the past nine years," said Scandalis. "But beer and wine complement a meal."

"I haven't seen any problems occurring with the businesses across Mack Avenue that sell

Woods mayor, municipal judge named to posts

Woods Mayor George Freeman was elected president of the Michigan Municipal League at its recent meeting. He succeeds Trenton Mayor Robert Bovitz.

outgoing League president.

The selection was made Thursday, Sept. 29, by the MML board of trustees during the organization's 85th annual convention held Sept. 28 to 30 in the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel, Grand Rapids.

The president of the league is elected annually at the MML September convention. Also this year, the delegates elected six municipal officials to serve three-year terms as trustees.

Freeman, 58, is running unopposed for his third term as Woods mayor in the November municipal election. He was first elected mayor in 1979 after serving nine years on the council. A father of five and a grandfather, Freeman is a former regional chairman of the league and was elected to the board of trustees in 1981.

Freeman is associated with Offerman & Co., a securities broker dealer located in the Woods, as a financial consultant. He left A.J. Obie and Associates of Southfield recently to join the local company.

Freeman was employed for 25 years by the Aid Association for Lutherans, and from October, 1980 until September, 1981, he was director of the Lutheran Center Association. He was a delegate from the state to the White House Conference on Aging and serves on the advisory council of the Detroit Area Agency on Aging.

The Michigan Municipal League, organized in 1899, has a membership of 470 cities and villages throughout Michigan and is dedicated to the advancement of home rule and to the improvement of municipal government through cooperative effort.

Also, Woods Municipal Judge Patricia Schneider was named a director of the Grosse Pointe Business and Professional Association of Mack Avenue recently. Judge Schneider, who is running unopposed for the municipal judgeship this November, joins Al Adams, Angelo DiClemente, John Nelson, Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell, Vern Van Kehberg and Ron Vitale as director of the business and professional association.

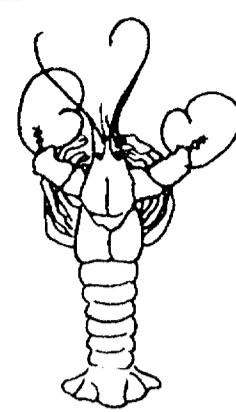

Carol T. to speak at PWP meeting

Speaker at the Friday, Oct. 14 Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners meeting will be Carol T., whose column appears in the Detroit Free Press. Her topic "Confessions of a Columnist" will take PWP members behind the scenes and reveal some of her journalistic adventures.

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of PWP meets the second and fourth Fridays of each month at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Coffee and conversation begin at 7:30 p.m., followed by an orientation of new members. The general meeting with guest speaker is scheduled for 8:30. An afterglow follows at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Ten Mile and Little Mack, St. Clair Shores at 10 p.m.

A semi-formal fund raising dance "Moon Over Lochmoor," is being planned for Friday, Oct. 21 at Lochmoor Country Club, 1016 Sunningdale, Grosse Pointe Woods. Member tickets are $6, guests, $8. Alumnae are welcome. For information, phone 881-5892.

New date for teen dance

Because of a conflict in scheduling, the youth dance which was scheduled for Oct. 15, at the War Memorial, has been cancelled.

To replace that dance, another one has been scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 30, from 5:30 to 8:30. Students may come in costume if they wish.

"J. R. Entertainment" will provide continuous music and a light show. Though checkroom service will be available, it is strongly recommended that girls not bring their purses unless it is absolutely necessary. As usual, no student will be permitted to leave the dance early unless one of their parents personally comes in and picks them up.

Any parents who would like to volunteer to chaperone either this dance or a future one, are requested to call the War Memorial at 881-7511.

Dinner-dance slated by DYRs

Detroit Young Republicans will host their monthly dance on Saturday, Oct. 15, from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Holiday Inn in Southfield.

Admission is $4 for members; $5 for non-members and proper attire is required. The Holiday Inn is located at 26555 Telegraph Road, between 10 and 11 Mile Roads, south of I-696.

They're all winners

It was a perfect day for a marathon. Blue skies, sunshine and crisp temperatures brought out thousands of Grosse Pointers to cheer on nearly 4,000 competitors. To top it all off, a Pointer, Bill Weidenbach, came in second in the race, just a minute or so behind the front runner. While everyone who competed in the race deserved every cheer they received, others earned extra laughter and applause as they ran. Among them were a "Spiderman" look alike a runner waving the American and Canadian flags and a marathoner who took Julius Caesar's words to heart. A tip of the hat should go to all the Pointe policemen and their auxiliary units that did a fine job directing traffic and dealing with drivers angry over delays. For more information and photos on the marathon, be sure to read Peggy O'Connor's story in the sports section.

Cat burglars stalk Park in morning

A pair of cat burglars are operating in Grosse Pointe Park during the early morning hours according to Park Police Lieutenant Thomas Martin.

Several complaints have been lodged by residents on Barrington and Pemberton during the last two weeks, police records show.

"It appears they gain entry to houses by cutting holes in screens and pushing in screened doors," said Martin. "They also are breaking into garages looking for tools."

Officers assigned to the area caught a glimpse of one of the suspects, but were unable to apprehend him due to the heavy fog that had blanketed the area that day.

Members of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra are tuning up for the first concert of its 31st season, to be played on Sunday, Nov. 6, at 3:30 p.m., in Parcells Auditorium, with long-time conductor Felix Resnick on the podium.

The guest artist for the performance will be pianist Jonathan Shames, winner of the 1980 Beethoven Competition and finalist in the 1982 Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow.

Other soloists scheduled for the 1983-84 season are: Feb. 12, clarinetist Brian Schweickhardt; March 25, violinist Suzanne Lai Leon; and May 6, pianist Leszek Bartkiewicz.

Maestro Resnick, who is also a violinist with the Detroit Symphony, recently said, "experienced orchestral musicians, especially string players, are welcome to apply for an audition.

We're always on the look-out for new talent to augment the Grosse Pointe orchestra." Interested artists may contact orchestra representative Pamela Rapalee-Ford at 839-6454.

Russell Nahat, a symphony player, is the new president of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society, which directs the business affairs of the orchestra. Other officers are first vice-president, George Coury; second vice-president, Lenore Marshall; secretary, Johanna Gilbert; and treasurer, Irene Blatchford. The board members include Fred J. Flom, Thaddeus Gudsen, Audrey Jennings, Ruth Kaiser-Scherer, John Lazar, William T. Peters, Alice Reisig, Roy Scharfenberg, Mahie Skaff, Edwin R. Stroh III, Dorthea Vermeulen, George Vincent and Janet Young. Mary Evelyn Self represents the Women's Association and Ms. Rapalee-Ford, the orchestra.

Grosse Pointe Symphony season tickets for four concerts are priced at $16 for adults and $6 for students, substantial saving over single ticket prices. Benefactor, sponsor, patron and sustaining season ticket rates are also available. Telephone 886-6244 for further information. A reception, to which all members of the audience are invited, follows each concert.

Two City homes hit by robbers

Thieves broke into two homes and drove off with two autos in Grosse Pointe City over a three-day period last week.

A Lincoln Road homeowner told police someone apparently forced open the back door of his home between 7:20 and 9:43 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 4, ransacked the place and escaped with a Mexican coin on a gold chain, silver dollars and other jewelry.

The second breaking and entering was reported at 1:20 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 6. Police said the thief apparently used a ladder he took from the garage to climb up through a rear window of the University Road home. The resident, who left home for work at 8:30 in the morning, said a ship-to-shore radio, two chairs, three television sets, a tuner, amplifier, cassette player, seven band equalizer, 35 mm camera and leather vest were missing.

A 1977 Lincoln was reported stolen from 18020 Mack Avenue at about 1:20 p.m. on Oct. 4, and a 1982 Buick was stolen from 17500 Mack between 9 p.m. and midnight the day after.

Lakeshore home robbed

A Lakeshore Road home was broken into some time Oct. 3, Shores police said. The thief or thieves escaped with an estimated $31,000 worth of jewelry.

Officers were called to the home about 11 p.m. by the owners, reports said. The person or persons had entered the home by unknown means and removed about two dozen pieces of jewelry from the second floor master bedroom of the home, reports said.

The owner told police he found the home's security alarm system turned off, although he was sure he had set it before leaving earlier in the evening, reports said.

Articles of jewelry lost in the break-in include an amethyst ring in a gold setting, a ruby and diamond ring encased in a gold cage, an aquamarine and diamond ring and a gold charm bracelet with assorted charms, including an engagement locket, gold ring and a 25th anniversary disc, according to reports.

The Oct. 2 break-in is the fourth in three months in the Shores and the second in a month in which only jewelry was reported missing. Another Lakeshore Road home was broken into Sunday, Sept. 11, with an estimated $30,000 worth of jewelry taken.

Woods considers joining Dial-A-Ride

In an attempt to save its Dial-A-Ride program from the South-eastern Michigan Transportation Authority's threatened cuts, the Harper Woods city council voted unanimously Monday night, Oct. 3, to seek the expansion of its program by including Grosse Pointe Woods.

The Woods city council will make its decision next Monday, Oct. 17, the day SEMTA's threatened service cuts are scheduled to take effect.

In a Sept. 22 letter to Harper Woods City Manager-Clerk Elinor Cramer, SEMTA said it was reducing its funding for the program from 100 percent of the program's net losses to a flat $7,500, the city's municipal credit balance.

If the city is unable to expand its service area to make its program more cost-effective, the Connector buses will stop rolling, SEMTA said. Should Harper Woods be able to expand its service with the consent of Grosse Pointe Woods, SEMTA may give Harper Woods $30,000 to help cut the program's projected $93,000 deficit by June, 1984.

The Woods Council, though sensitive to the time factor, wants to be sure it knows what it's getting into, members said. "The $64 question," as City Administrator-Clerk Chester Petersen put it, would be how to fund the city's share of the operating deficit.

In a budget projection from Oct. 17 through the end of next June, Harper Woods expects the program to run $93,000 in the red, based on a $122,000 operating cost offset by $29,500 revenue. The $30,000 pledged by SEMTA for the merger funds and $15,000 of Municipal Credit funds from both the Woods and Harper Woods would cut the red ink to about $47,000, McNamara said.

One woman lost her purse before the robbers sped away when the other woman ran screaming for help.

On Thursday, Oct. 6 at 8:44 p.m., a robber grabbed the purse of a Park resident who was walking on Beaconsfield near Mack.

Then on Friday at 1 a.m., a couple going into Sparky Herbert's was robbed by knifepoint by two males described to be 18 or 19 years old.

In all instances, police report that they have no suspects. Lar- cies to garages and porches were reported on Harvard, Bedford, Windmill Pointe and Way- burn.

CITY OF GROSSE POINTE MICHIGAN
NOTICE OF NOMINATING PETITIONS
For The
GENERAL CITY ELECTION
To Be Held On TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1983

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the qualified electors of the City of Grosse Pointe, Wayne County, Michigan, and all other interested persons that a GENERAL CITY ELECTION will be conducted on Tuesday, November 8, 1983 for the purpose of balloting upon the following elective offices:

ONE (1) MAYOR (TWO-YEAR TERM)
THREE (3) COUNCILMEN (FOUR-YEAR TERM)
ONE (1) MUNICIPAL JUDGE (FOUR-YEAR TERM)

All persons desiring to seek any such elective office in such election may secure proper, legal nominating petitions from the City Clerk, 17147 Maumee Avenue, during established office hours. Such nominating petitions, properly executed, must be filed with the City Clerk at 17147 Maumee Avenue not later than twelve o'clock (12:00) Noon, Saturday, October 15, 1983.

THOMAS W. KRESSBACH

to subsidize it."

It costs about $3 a rider to maintain the service, Mrs. Graham said. The only way to make money with it would be to hike fare substantially over the current rates of $1.50 or 75 cents for students and seniors, she noted.

Several years ago, Harper Woods did fund one-third of the operating deficit, with SEMTA picking up the rest, Mrs. Graham noted.

What Grosse Pointe Woods would get for its money is a transportation system available to all its residents at a reasonable cost, McNamara said. In addition, the city would have none of the burden of setting up the system or adding employees to its payroll, he said.

"The city would have none of the burden of running the system, but would get the benefits," McNamara said. "It is already operational. (Harper Woods) has four buses now and will add two more if we join."

Harper Woods also agreed that the new drivers to be hired would be Woods residents, McNamara added.

Were the federal government to change its stance in the funding of public transportation systems and grant moneys be increased, SEMTA could find itself in a position to once again fully fund the operating losses, McNamara said.

Once small-bus services are established, cities find they are services they like to continue to offer even if funding is done through a property tax millage, McNamara said. The city could put a question on the 1984 ballot and ask voters to decide the continued operation of the system, he added.

Council members questioned the need for the system, the benefits and the projected ridership as well as continued cost of the system of the city.

Councilman John Sabol pointed out that when the city first considered the Dial-A-Ride program a number of years ago, "we found it was a losing proposition from day one." The city should try to make its subsidized cab program more available to residents instead of getting in on a program with as many unknowns as the Dial-A-Ride, he and other council members said.

The subsidized cab service allows residents over age 65 to call one of two cab companies, Shamrock or East Side Cab, and get a $2 break on the fare. The coverage area is unlimited.

The program, however, has never caught on, McNamara said. A soon-to-be-released survey of senior residents' attitudes shows only 9 percent have used the program so far, he said.

Raising the subsidy or lowering the age limit will have only a minimal effect on the programs' use, McNamara said. The "overwhelming" reason seniors don't use the cabs is because they prefer the convenience of using their own vehicles, he said.

The council recently rejected changes in the program's guidelines that would have lowered the age for riders to 55 and opened the program to the physically and mentally impaired.

The city's decision on the service would come the day the cuts are scheduled to take effect.

Now another school plan . . .

In its third attempt to solve the controversial school closing problem, the Grosse Pointe school administration has pulled back from earlier plans to close as many as four schools and now is proposing to close only one elementary school in the fall of 1984. Yet even this greatly reduced plan faces strong opposition, if early reaction is any indication of community opinion.

The new plan proposes to close only Barnes elementary school in Grosse Pointe Shores but retains the earlier recommendation to move all sixth grade students into middle schools. Barnes, already the smallest school in enrollment in the Pointes with only 191 students, would lose its sixth grade, too, under the proposal.

IN VIEW OF THE controversy aroused by earlier plans, this limited closing plan may be about all the school board will be able to approve when it finally makes its decision next month. Some of the administration's assumptions in arriving at its earlier plans already have been successfully challenged by parents and other interested citizens. So this third plan might be the most acceptable that could be proposed at this time.

Yet even before the third plan was offered to the board Monday night, the Barnes Parent-Teacher Organization was circulating a letter to the board rejecting the new proposal as well as the two earlier ones. Instead, it argued for keeping all 10 elementary schools open and maintaining the present K-6 grade structure.

The Barnes PTO contended closing a given school would affect children's safety in attending distant schools, damage property values near the school, hurt the attractiveness of Grosse Pointe to young families within the existing school neighborhood and lessen the community's faith in the public school system. Those are the arguments raised time and again by the opposition.

A victory for party politics

Michigan's political parties have now succeeded in killing Michigan's presidential primary which means, in effect, that party organizations will regain control of the presidential nominating process in this state. Political parties approve the move, of course, but some private citizens will regret the end of the primary in this state.

It is true, as the critics said, that the Michigan primary has come so late in the presidential primary campaign that it had little influence on the final choice in either party. George Bush, it will be remembered, won the Michigan primary in 1980 but dropped out of the race shortly afterward because it was apparent he had little chance at that late date of heading off Ronald Reagan's successful campaign.

IT IS TRUE, TOO — again as the critics said — that both parties on occasion have used Michigan's open primary to embarrass the opposition. Thus in 1972, George Wallace, Alabama's then-segregationist governor, won Michigan's Democratic presidential primary in part, at least, because of crossover voting by Republicans hoping to embarrass the Democratic Party. Democrats, too, have been guilty of similar crossover voting when it served their purpose to vote Republican in the presidential primary. Observers even gave Democrats some credit for Bush's 1980 victory over Reagan.

Rather than eliminating the presidential primary, Michigan party leaders might have given more thought to improving it. There is little reason the primary could not have been moved to an earlier date. And there could have been more discussion of ways to close the primary and thus satisfy the Democratic Party which limits convention delegates to declared Democrats and thus made the 1980 presidential primary in Michigan inoperative for its party members.

For despite its flaws the presidential primary did make it possible for wider participation by the voting public in the presidential nomination process. Independent voters and other citizens who did not join either political party could and did take part in the selection. That, of course,

What has happened — or so it appears to us — is that in its efforts to react constructively to community criticism, the school administration has satisfied some critics — but aroused new ones. Barnes, Defer, Kerby and Mason were targeted for closing in the first plan. Pierce middle school and Maire, Mason and Barnes elementary schools were named in the second plan. The switch may have quieted some critics from Defer and Kerby but it brought out new opposition from Pierce and Maire. And now Barnes parents, encouraged by the success of earlier protests, strongly oppose any change, a position probably shared by other PTOs looking ahead to possible closing of their schools.

What the school administration seems to be saying now is that schools will be targeted for closing if enrollment falls below 200 students, as Barnes has even without the loss of its sixth grade. Trombly, the next smallest school with only 250 students this fall would be given an infusion of students from the Defer district under the school administration's new plan. That presumably would enroll enough students to keep Trombly open for the foreseeable future, even if enrollment declines continue. And the 200-pupil minimum would give parents some hint of future prospects in all schools losing enrollment.

Whatever happens, it will not be easy to heal the breach between those who insist that quality education and property values demand keeping all schools open and those who contend that schools with low enrollments should be closed or reorganized in order to preserve the flexibility of programs which contributes to quality education. Yet in the long-range interests of the school system and its dedication to excellence in education both sides ought to stand ready to compromise in order to arrive at a satisfactory if not perfect solution.

Weakened party control and that is a major reason for the death of the primary in Michigan.

To their credit, both parties readily admit there will be less participation in the caucuses at which the Democrats will pick their national convention delegates and in the county and state conventions by which the Republicans will elect their delegates than there was in the primaries. That's the way the parties want it and that's the way it will be.

But presidents, regardless of party, represent all of the people. And the old system, to which Michigan now has reverted, will narrow the choice of candidates chiefly to those approved by the party organizations. To some extent that also means the range of issues will be narrowed. The fewer candidates in the field, the fewer the issues that will be discussed.

In view of the criticism of the primary in Michigan and in other states, perhaps the regional primary offers some hope as an alternative. That would cut down on the number and the cost of the state primaries and yet would still permit more voters to participate. And even if a form of a closed regional primary were adopted, it still could offer the public more opportunities to consider more candidates than the system of closed caucuses and closed conventions that now will be Michigan's practice.

IN THE OLD DAYS, political party leaders and bosses often selected presidential nominees in smoke-filled rooms and then called on complaisant delegates to ratify their choices. If political parties were to have their way, that practice would be revived nationally as it is being revived in Michigan. But will that assure the nation of a wider choice of candidates than those nominated under the presidential primary system that selected more than 70 percent of the delegates in the 1976 and 1980 conventions of both parties? We doubt it.

Some observers believe the presidential nominating process is too important to be left to the political parties. Thus, it can also be said that the death of the presidential primary in Michigan is a victory for party politics and a defeat for the individual voter.

After 60 years of Time

Time magazine, observing the anniversary of its birth in 1923, has published a special issue describing "the most amazing 60 years in history." It is always instructive for us to look back because it is difficult to know where we are going if we do not also know where we have been. But we suspect that the people and institutions that live through any 60-year period find them "the most amazing" in their lifetimes. And so it has been for Time.

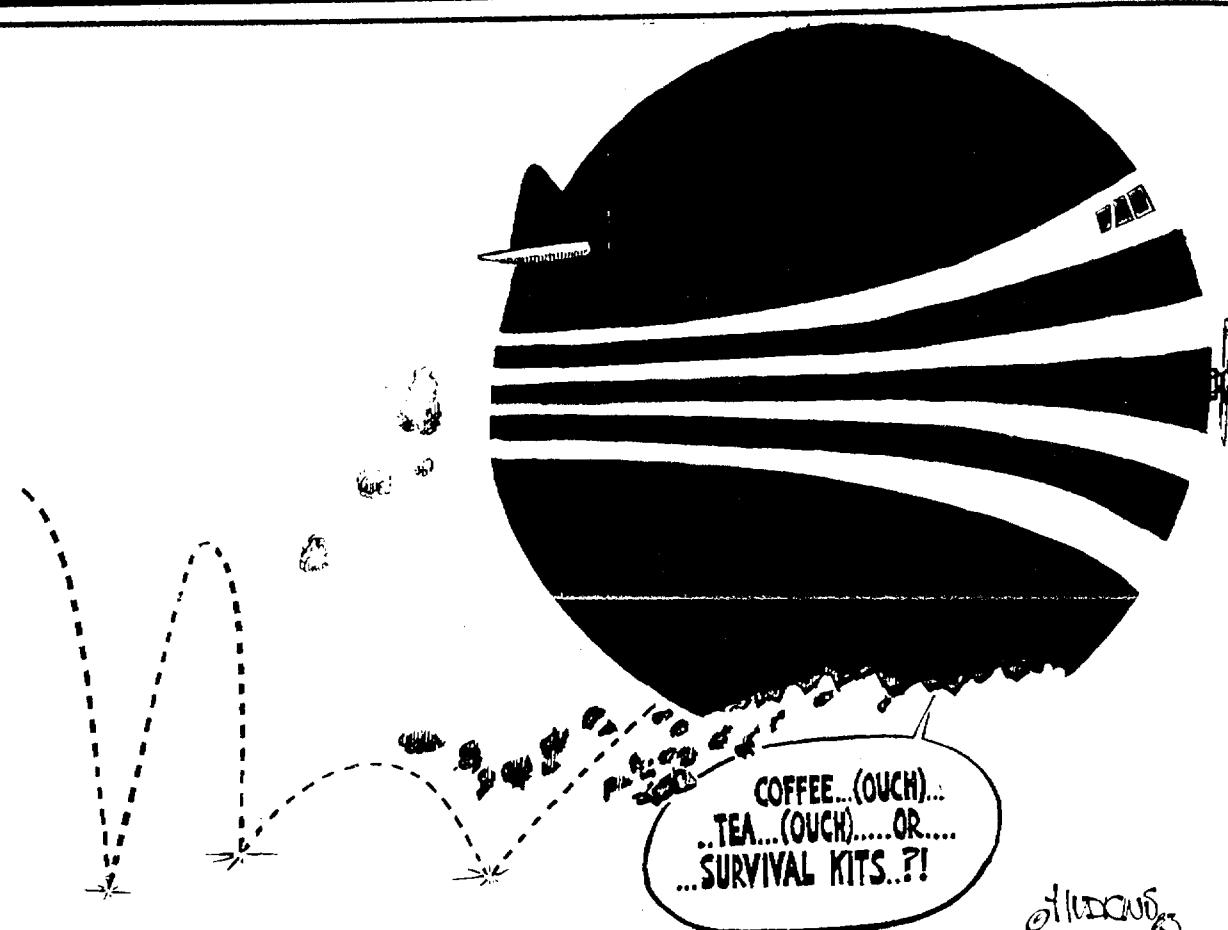

HENRY GRUNEWALD, the editor-in-chief of the magazine, admits, however, that what Time presents in its anniversary issue "is not history, but points to it." So even the editor concedes that Time exaggerates, as it so often does, in describing the events of the past 60 years as the "most amazing . . . in history." As for a description of what Time has offered, we prefer the comment by the late publisher of the Washington Post, Philip Graham, who defined journalism as "the first rough draft of history."

In a long and discursive essay in the anniversary issue on "What Really Mattered?" in those 60 years, Roger Rosenblatt of Time's staff took a look backward and found it difficult to answer his own question. He did write, however, that "At least, one could say with confidence that it has been quite a time." So it has been, but just how will the past 60 years stand the test of time in the long reach of history? Today's pilgrims on the planet will never know but instead we can only speculate, as Rosenblatt did.

He points out that the difficulty in assigning historical significance lies in two places: one is never sure how or why something big happened and one is no more sure how big it was or in what way. And so, after he weighs the importance of the modern civil rights movement, the splitting of the atom, the discovery of DNA, the development of penicillin, the domination of the state, the first walk on the moon, the world wars and other developments of the past 60 years, he comes to this view: "What may have mattered most about those years is not how close the world came to self-destruction, but that it did not happen, that the individual's claim on survival took precedence over all the wilder forces he let go." Yet survival is hardly a memorable mark for an age or an era of 60 years. And so he concludes with a discussion of freedom and the question of how free men can be:

"WHEN PEOPLE OR IDEAS are unfettered, they are freed but not yet free. To be free, in fact, seems to require an attitude opposite that which sets one free: a sense of reasonable limitations, of self-governing restraint, the acknowledgement that one is able to escape from anything except his skin. Nothing new in such a lesson, of course. But it will have mattered to learn it."

The question still is, of course, whether we have learned that lesson. The evidence to date hardly proves it.

Open schools to other cities

To the Editor:

Our elementary school closing crisis comes at a time when all schools, public, private, colleges and universities are struggling to maintain academic standards in spite of reduced enrollments. The choices we make now will effect the quality of our community and of our children's lives for years to come. It is important that we explore all the options.

I am opposed to the school closings and would prefer to see our educational standards maintained with a reduced enrollment. However this may not be economically wise if the enrollments continue to decline in the future. And so, I would like to propose an alternate plan.

Instead of closing our elementary schools why not open all of our schools to neighboring communities. Surely there are some Harper Woods, St. Clair Shores and Detroit students who would be willing to pay a pro-rated "tuition" or school tax fee in order to benefit from Grosse Pointe's excellent school system. It would

JA will miss late Ross Roy

To the Editor:

Ross Roy was well known, both locally and nationally, as the founder of one of the foremost advertising agencies in the United States. He was equally well known as a civic leader. His name was synonymous with such local civic groups as the United Foundation, Boy Scouts and Boy's Clubs, but it was through Junior Achievement that I had the opportunity to meet and know him.

In 1949, a group of Detroit business people, including Ross, became concerned with the quantity and quality of economic education that was being taught in our high schools. As a result, a large group of business people, in cooperation with our local high school administrators, started a local chapter of Junior Achievement. Ross often mentioned that Junior Achievement is the only youth organization that has as its goal the teaching, by doing, of the American system of business.

During the 1949-50 school year, 200 high school students participated in the program. It was judged to be a success and has since provided economic training for over 250,000 students in southeastern Michigan.

Since 1949, Ross served continuously on our Board of Directors. He has also served on Regional Boards and on J.A.'s National Board. During his 34 years on the board, Ross gave liberally of his time and talent, as well as supporting J.A. financially. His firm, Ross Roy, Inc., produced several J.A. training films directed to businessmen, executives and achievers. These films were used nationally, as well as locally.

In 1979, Ross established a college scholarship fund for outstanding achievers. To date, 30 students have had the opportunity to participate in these scholarships.

even be more convenient for many border-line residents who are closer to Grosse Pointe schools than their own. We could determine how many out-of-town students would be necessary to keep all the schools running at maximum efficiency and devise a test to insure grade level competency.

In this way we could keep all of our schools open and full. And it would allow for flexibility so that if Grosse Pointe has a mini-baby boom (as has been predicted) we could simply reduce the number of openings for out-of-town students whenever necessary.

Maybe we won't have out-of-towners banging down the proverbial door to Grosse Pointe schools but we would only need 2,700 more students to reach a perfect 10,000. This plan would not only allow these students a chance at a better education than they might otherwise receive, it would insure that the Grosse Pointe schools remain a first-rate educational system.

Barnes parents oppose closing

To the Editor:

At the October executive board meeting of the Barnes Parent-Teacher Organization, it was unanimously agreed that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education should:

- Reject (Supt. Kenneth Brummel's April, 1983 proposal, his August, 1983 proposal, and his Oct. 10 recommendation).
- Maintain the K-6 grade structure in all Grosse Pointe elementary schools.

• Maintain the neighborhood school concept for all Grosse Pointe children and not subject a particular school to unwarranted sacrifices.

• Keep all 10 elementary schools open and develop shared-use programs to deal with excess space, if available, in each individual school which would benefit the entire Grosse Pointe community.

Closing a given school would have negative impact on the following:

- Children's safety in going to distant schools.
- Value of property near the school.
- Attractiveness of Grosse Pointe to young families.
- Community's faith in our public school system for the future.

For all these disadvantages will we improve the quality of education in Grosse Pointe? We think not. The closing of an already quality education facility like Barnes School for an estimated savings of $9.25 per household is ludicrous to consider, and would be extremely unwise on your part to act upon.

Sharon Masek,
Barnes School P.T.O. President

From Florida: Don't close schools

To the Editor:
I am sending a copy of this letter along with a check to the Committee for Neighborhood Schools supporting them in their fight to save local schools.

My interest in the Grosse Pointe public schools is strong as I worked there for 34 years and upon my retirement in 1963 I was featured as Pointer of Interest in your paper as I was Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

My daughter attended our schools, graduating from Grosse Pointe high school, and my two grandchildren and three great grandchildren also attend Grosse Pointe schools. With four generations involved in the school system, I'm certain you can understand my interest.

As a senior citizen (I will be 86 in November), property owner in the Woods, and member of the Grosse Pointe Senior Men's Club, I can not understand the reason to close schools. Furthermore, it seems ridiculous to close a school located in Grosse Pointe and force young children to cross a hazardous expressway to attend a school located in Harper Woods.

The school board is elected by the people to represent their wishes and it appears from the many meetings held, the people they represent wish the schools to remain open.

Too many communities are finding, to their sorrow, they moved too quickly allowing their schools to be closed and now find it necessary to construct new ones at today's costs.

The Grosse Pointe News, which I receive here in Florida, stated the parents were wrong to involve children in this issue. Just who do you think is involved the most? They are the ones who will have to walk the distances, experience the hazards and be crowded into classes that I feel certain will soon be overfilled.

Let's keep our Grosse Pointe schools intact and get on with the business of giving our children and grandchildren and great grandchildren the quality education always provided in Grosse Pointe.

Woodcarvings are a plus

To the Editor:

I would like to address the people on the subject of the artist who does woodcarvings. I feel it would be interesting to see something other than flowers decorating streets.

I doubt quite a bit that people would get so involved that they would have an outrageous number of accidents.

Yea teens

To the Editor:

Accolades and hats off to our wonderful teens who worked so hard for their place in the sun among their peers. These teens competed in the "Battle of the Bands" at the War Memorial on Sept. 23. They competed against close friends, neighbors, school chums and strangers with a striving determination that would weaken the knees of the strongest man.

I am the mom of one of the boys who competed in this contest.

I was allowed back stage into the lives of these teen hopefuls. They let me cart equipment, provide food and transportation, listen to their music and never dare an opinion. I watched these young people work the entire summer four to five hours a day with all of the tenacity they could muster.

I saw the pain of frustration, tired psyches and bodies, but never for one moment a waning of enthusiasm.

Even though the different bands were competing fiercely against one another, they took the time to encourage, critique and learn from each other.

If this is a glimpse into our future generation's qualities, I know I can speak for all of the parents who participated in watching this self-inflicted crash course in discipline and character building.

We say "hooray and go for it." We think every one if you are just super. We wouldn't have missed a moment of this experience for the world.

The winner of the competition was the "Dirty Tryx Band," with John Lowery, 13, lead guitarist, J.T. Harding, 13, vocalist, Bob Sherman, 16, bass, and Richard Waller, 15, drums. The real winners, though, are the moms and dads of teenage people.

Politics and the Strategic Fund

By William R. Bryant, Jr.
State Representative

The Strategic Fund proposal of the Governor is a strange and complex one. It creates a new authority purportedly to aid companies in development which will create new jobs in the state.

This is a worthy goal and coordination and expansion of present activities is needed. The proposal, however, lacks any significant finance mechanism other than $9 million in funds budgeted for it by the Legislature.

The fund will repeal and replace the existing Economic Development Authority, which could have been made to do all that the new fund could do.

At issue really, it appears, is another chance for the Governor to do two things he has been doing frequently.

First, it lets him get rid of present authority board members and appoint new ones to the new board.

Second, it lets him do a favor for an old fraternity brother by virtually assuring that the Strategic Fund will hire the law firm for which the Governor's buddy works.

These motives severely call into question, again, the judgement and the crass partisan political tactics of this Governor.

We are not having trouble accepting a Democratic Governor. We are having trouble accepting the highly questionable antics of one James Blanchard. And I feel very comfortable that if Blanchard were a Republican we would be just as harsh in the face of the same facts.

I was never accused of being easy on Milliken when I felt he was wrong. Should I really do less now just because the new Governor is of the Democratic Party?

Transportation service for seniors

By John Kelly
State Senator

I have always felt that adequate transportation is essential to the vitality of a community. This holds true especially for senior citizens who often lack the resources and security to travel on their own.

In 1978 I started the Senior Citizen Area Transit (SCAT) program for the eastside of Detroit. This program was initiated primarily as an anti-crime program aimed at providing local senior citizens with safe transportation to basic locations such as, doctors, grocery stores and banks.

This program has expanded and flourished over the years to the point that it has four vans providing a total of over 4,000 rides annually and covers most of east and northeast Detroit. It is a unique program in the state and we are proud of it.

But transportation needs are obviously not confined to Detroit. The Grosse Pointes have approximately 7,000 senior citizens, 4,000 of them living in Grosse Pointe Woods. Grosse Pointe seniors have the same transportation needs and problems as those living in other communities, such as, security concerns, mobility and resources.

With the massive cuts in SEMTA recently, and more projected, the mobility question has become a serious one to many senior citizens. One community, Grosse Pointe Woods, is using a portion of their transportation appropriation from SEMTA to assist senior citizens handle this reduction.

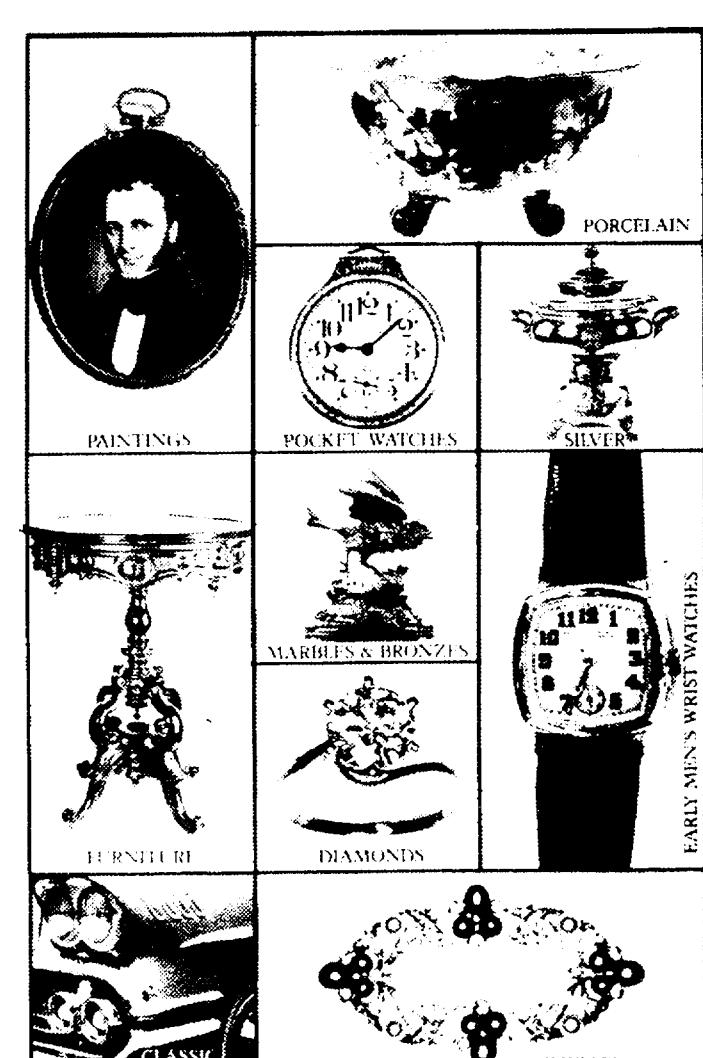

The Woods has contracted with the Eastside Cab Company to provide a subsidy to Woods seniors who use cabs. Any senior resident of Grosse Pointe Woods will have their cab fare reduced by $2 every time they use an Eastside cab regardless of the distance they travel. This service not only allows seniors safe, affordable transportation but it also encourages them to shop locally.

For instance, a senior can ride to the Village shopping center, or to the Hill, and pick up their groceries, fill prescriptions and shop at the local retail stores and if their cab fare would normally be under $2 they will ride for free.

There is no limit on the number of times a senior citizen can receive the discount, every time they ride they will receive the discounted fare.

Senior citizens, who are considered easy crime targets, are especially impacted by reductions in public transporta-

Woods won't actively fight Edison increase

By Mike Andrzejczyk

The Woods will watch the proceedings in Detroit Edison Co.'s rate hike hearing before the Michigan Public Service Commission but will not take an active role in intervention, City Attorney George Catlin said.

The city will "maintain a level of minimum participation" in the case unless the power company attempts to shift some of the burden of the increase onto street lighting class customers, Catlin said in a letter to the council.

The Park and Woods councils both filed petitions of intervention in the case, arguing new rates proposed for street lighting customers are incorrect.

Edison wants to increase revenue by almost $1 billion over the next three years. The company has asked for a 3 percent hike no later than Jan. 1, 1984, followed by a 24 percent increase when its Enrico Fermi 2 power plant is brought on line. Another 9.3 percent increase would be needed when the Belle River 1 power plant comes on line, the company said.

Without the $969 million, the company said it will "experience a substantial revenue deficiency, will be unable to arrange debt financing at reasonable rates, will incur unreasonable and harmful loss of revenues and will suffer irreparable harm as a consequence of the loss of such revenues during the expected extended period of hearings."

The company had proposed percentage increases for its major classes of customers, residential, general service, large general service, primary power and street lighting, ranging from 35 to 39 percent, Catlin said. Street lighting customers are slated for a 36 percent increase, although the Woods' rate would increase 42 percent, according to a system distribution analysis done of the city.

The cost of service apportioned to the street lighting class, one of about two dozen classes for which rates are set, is based on charges for power maintenance and a portion of the costs of heavy equipment and generators necessary to maintain the system, Catlin said.

An analysis done by Edison shows that the street lighting class will receive a percentage increase roughly equal to other major classes of customers, Catlin said. Should the PSC grant rate increases smaller than those requested, the company will prorate the decreases across the rates, he added.

Catlin said he has met with representatives from other cities who have funded interventions in other rate cases. They agreed their municipalities should continue their intervention, but limit it to analyzing the positions of other rate classes to make sure no added burden is shifted to street lighting customers, Catlin said.

Liggett headmaster resigns

committee will review candidates for the headmaster position, Mrs. Glancy said in a press release from the school. Joel has been with ULS for two years and is currently director of studies. He has been designated assistant headmaster for this year to insure a smooth transition.

Mrs. Glancy said Robbins' resignation was accepted with "sincere regret."

"Our school has gained an enviable national reputation under Ray's leadership," she said. "We are deeply aware of his great ability as an educator and administrator."

Robbins, who did his undergraduate work at Dartmouth College and received his Master's degree in education at Harvard, has been headmastering for 22 years. He started out young, at 25 years old, as headmaster of the American School in Switzerland, a co-educational boarding school.

He was hired in 1969 to head both Grosse Pointe University School, on Cook Road, and the Liggett School, on Briarcliff. A merger of the two institutions was in the planning stages then, and after a year, Robbins completed the transition to the present school.

ULS has 912 students in attendance this year, the highest enrollment since court-ordered bussing boosted enrollment past the 900 mark in the mid-1970s. Its program includes pre-kindergarten, lower, middle and upper schools.

Under Robbins' direction, a new creative and performing arts wing was added to the school last year. The wing realized Robbins' particular aim to strengthen the position of the arts in the school's core curriculum.

"Building improvements mean little in themselves," he said. "They only assume importance as they help us better realize our educational goals."

Fords dedicate new hospital

Henry Ford II and his son Edsel II will be the keynote speakers at 1 p.m. Friday, Oct. 14, when Henry Ford Hospital (HFH) dedicates its 78-acre West Bloomfield site as the Edsel B. Ford Center.

Edsel Bryant Ford was the only child of the Hospital's founder, auto-pioneer Henry Ford, and was vice-president of its Board of Trustees from its inception in 1915 until his death in 1943. Records show that, as a hospital board member, he exhibited a keen understanding of the needs of the medical staff and supported physicians' involvement in the community.

"Once we issue a license, we lose control to the commission," said Hinks. "If the licensee decides to change the type of business to a dance hall, entertainment or movie format, they only need to get the okay from the state, not us."

"I'm worried the voters are not aware of the upgrading possibility to a Class C license," he added.

One school closed in new proposal

Brummel at its regular November meeting.

Barnes Elementary School, in the Woods, has the lowest enrollment of all 15 public schools this fall, with 191 students. There is only one section in each grade at Barnes this year, and one "split" section with students from grades one and two.

Brummel's first reorganization plan, presented in April, would have closed four elementary schools, including Barnes. The other schools targeted in that plan, Mason, Defer and Monteith, would have been relocated from their present buildings to near-by middle schools: Parcells, Pierce and Brownell, respectively. Parents opposed that plan primarily because of concerns about housing

Residents cool to liquor issue

Hinks told of a recent decision handed down by the Michigan State Court of Appeals. A restaurant in Oak Park, Mi., challenged the City Council after it published a resolution which allowed the council to refrain from considering any requests for liquor licenses.

The court upheld the council's decision saying the decision-making process rests with the community.

Mayor Lorenzo Browning and council members Jeanette Dufield, Arthur Fettner, William Montgomery and John Youngblood all expressed concern that citizens be given enough time to decide the issue.

Councilman Robert Nugent abstained from comment and Councilman James Curran was absent.

Council adjourned without making a decision.

TAXATION WITHOUT REPRESENTATION.

We are sorry to announce that Dr. Brummel, Mrs. Joan Hanepeter and the other members of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education seem to be flunking their American Government class this year.

While they profess to have keen insights regarding the educational and fiscal needs of the community they've been elected to serve, they tend to speak in generalities about how closing schools will make kids smarter.

We assumed that the passage of the millage in March, 1983, was a vote of confidence that we liked the way our schools were operating. Apparently, not so.

The school closing proposal, however, has triggered a number of community-wide meetings of homeowners, parents, senior citizens and members of the educational and business community. The conclusion: the Board is totally out of touch with the community on this issue.

So how do you get the message across to the Board? First we tried rhetoric. But anyone attending any of the school hearings soon realized this was hopeless. So we decided to go to the people in order to prove our point: that this issue had such far-reaching social, educational and cultural implications . . . it would require much more thoughtful study before it got community-wide approval.

We took it upon ourselves to conduct an Opinion Survey. Here was our methodology. We went door to door in all five of the Grosse Pointes. We asked the question "Do you agree that all current Grosse Pointe Elementary Schools should remain open?" If the answer was 'no,' we merely thanked the homeowner for the time and made a notation of the address. If the answer was 'yes,' the homeowner was asked for their signature and asked some other opinions including (2) If the consolidation goes through would you consider a private school? and (3) Would you consider a recall if the proposal goes through? Here are the facts: As of Friday, October 8th, we had signatures of over 000 homeowners. The results: DO YOU WANT ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS OPEN — YES 00%

Another sidelight of our survey was the strong support received from retirees. They represented about 25% of our sampling. Their primary concern was the deterioration of quality of life and property values if neighborhood schools were closed. The results: DO YOU WANT NEIGHBORHOOD SCHOOLS OPEN — YES 00%

A word on opinion polls. When Gallup does a poll, they consider a sampling of 1400 adults adequate in order to predict a trend or public sentiment. Most national markets or political organizations would consider the results of a phone sampling of 500 adults sufficient for their needs. As further evidence that our Opinion Survey reflects the mood of the community, we submit the results of the Detroit Free Press survey published Thursday, October 6th. It showed that two out of every three Grosse Pointers surveyed . . . do not want schools closed.

The results of our Opinion Poll will be presented to the Board for their study. But we must say, we find it ironic that concerned citizens must spend their time . . . and their money . . . in order to provide information which the School Board should have obtained in the first place.

In closing, we think that we've come a long way from our forefathers . . . who demonstrated their anger at being taxed . . . but not represented . . . by dumping the Crown's tea into Boston Harbor. But we are still motivated by the same basic tenet: if you are going to tax us, you will, indeed, represent us.

THE COMMITTEE FOR NEIGHBORHOOD ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

364 University Place, Grosse Pointe 48230

Text of superintendent's speech to Board of Education

On Aug. 4 and 5, the board again convened to study the citizen's responses and make revisions in the reorganization plan which were in keeping with the responsibility they felt they had to maintaining quality education, practicing fiscal responsibility and making effective use of system resources both human and physical. This second plan calling for the closing of four buildings and the transfer of sixth grade students to the middle schools were presented to the public at the regular board meeting of Aug. 8.

Once more the board of its own initiative sought to address the community's questions and concern at three additional public hearings as well as at regular meetings of the board in September and October. Every attempt was made by the administration to accommodate every citizen and every question as it became known. Parents asked that we listen, and listen we did. More importantly, we heard them. As proof, what I will be recommending this evening is a modified version of the present plan.

The movement of the sixth grade to the middle school is one of the most important parts of the board's reorganization thinking because it is based solely on the welfare of the preadolescent students in our community. Unlike the closing of any facility which has definite fiscal overtones, this type of consolidation is predicated on putting our youngsters in the most challenging and rewarding program possible while in the company of those students whose needs and concerns most clearly match their own.

Recent national studies such as "A Nation At Risk" sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education have urged renewed and increased emphasis on basic subjects, particularly in science, math and foreign language, and improved academic expectations for all students. Moving sixth graders to the middle school will increase academic emphasis and improve expectation for high performance.

When some critics suggest that sixth graders are too young for the middle school, the Board should recall that the overwhelming majority of middle schools in Michigan favor the 6-8 grade alignment pattern. In many districts a grade 5-8 pattern is preferred.

One reason that our program needs this change is that our students are maturing faster. According to several researchers, facts show that early adolescence begins sooner these days. Since 1830, primarily because of better nutrition, the onset of puberty has occurred four months earlier with every passing decade. Exposure to television has also sped their social development and knowledge of the world.

The Grosse Pointe organizational pattern, while called a "middle school," is really the same "junior high school" pattern we have employed since Pierce was constructed in 1939. Were it not for the advent of North High School in 1969 that 7-9 pattern might likely remain. It would seem that our world, our knowledge and our children are changing, but we are not.

A middle school pattern of grades 6-8 is supported by research and in various educational publications.

- Most contemporary research shows significant areas of physical, mental, emotional, and social similarity existing for students in the 11 to 13 age groups.

- William Alexander, whose considerable research and writing in the 1950's and 1970's has been a catalyst for the middle school movement, states emphatically that a 5-8 or 6-8 grade organization is preferable for children passing from childhood to adolescence.

- Louis Romano, Professor of Education at Michigan State University and a national authority on education during the middle years, cites similar research and emphatically states that grades 6-8 should make up the middle school.

While Grosse Pointe did at one time make an effort to incorporate the sixth grade into the middle school, it should be remembered that such a move was never fully implemented before sixth grade was returned to the elementary level because of declining enrollment. Many of the sixth graders were taught in self-contained classrooms which could have been located in any facility. In short, the true incorporation of the sixth grade into the middle school has not been tried. The current plan of the board differs dramatically from any past efforts because it proposes to establish a more specialized curriculum while making use of the better facilities our middle schools can offer.

In addition we believe, based upon research, that a greater commonality exists between a sixth grade student and seventh and eighth graders than exists between a sixth grader and those in the lower grades.

To deny our pre-adolescent students the best program, facilities and socialization opportunities that are available to meet their unique intellectual and emotional needs is educationally unacceptable.

It is apparent from public reaction to both reorganization plans that the community does not favor any reorganization plan which includes the closing of schools whose population is not reflective of dramatic decline. It is clear from even the most vocal critics that the concern over school reorganization is not so much of a concept as it is execution.

The Citizens Advisory Committee in its report to the Board in January of 1983 stated:

"It is the conclusion of the committee based on its recommendations and findings relating to quality education and educational opportunity that elementary enrollment districts be re-districted and/or consolidated. This may result in one or more elementary schools not being used for elementary education."

That same committee further recommended "there are significant advantages" to having multiple sections per grade. Some of those advantages include:

- Placement options for students among staff.
- Organization of groups within grades or section (reading).
- Opportunities for interaction among groups at the same level.
- Opportunities for cooperative staff planning and team teaching.

With this in mind, the Steering Committee recommended that "it is desirable to have a minimum of two sections per grade wherever possible."

The Board has stated on several occasions that it wishes to make better use of school system resources, both human and physical. The maintenance of all schools now in operation results in these educational problems:

- larger class size sections in some grades
- split staff assignments
- less opportunity for team-teaching
- needless duplication of library and audio-visual equipment
- unnecessary utility costs for unused space
- increased per pupil costs.

Further the board has correctly identified a demand on the part of the community to be more fiscally responsible. While the savings from the closing of any one building is not significant in and of itself, it is true that a savings can be realized and reinvested in the program; thus helping to improve the quality of education in the community.

A major problem with closing any elementary school building is the negative response of the parent groups with that building. The Board has realized from the outset that no plan will find unanimity of approval in the community.

If the Board accepts the recommendation of the Citizens Advisory Committee that "one or more" elementary schools be closed, the most logical closure would be Barnes Elementary. While this single closure would somewhat negate the concept of system-wide reorganization, it does provide one viable solution to this complex issue.

Some reasons for the closing of Barnes are these:

- Closing Barnes will be educationally advantageous and in the best interest of running an efficient school system and in the best interest of the community as a whole. Five of the seven grades (K-6) at Barnes have single sections. Fewer students and teachers will be displaced here than in any other building in the district.

- There has been much concern about the distances children would have to travel to school under a school consolidation plan. The facts are that currently six children have to travel more than 1.5 miles in order to attend Barnes School. When Barnes is closed, 17 to 20 children will have to travel over 1.5 miles. While I am personally sorry that any child in our community has to travel more than 1.5 miles, it is not educationally nor financially sound in a community of 55,000 people, in a school system of 7,500 students, to run a school system for the convenience of 12 to 15.

- Barnes area families are less dependent on their facility than other parent groups. At the present time 35 percent of school students in the Barnes district attend private and parochial schools. This is a greater percentage of private and parochial attendance than in any other elementary district.

The educational program at Trombly school is also one of our serious concerns. We feel that steps should be taken to balance the enrollment at that school so as to give the principal and staff greater flexibility in scheduling as well as communicate to the entire community that we will do whatever is reasonable to keep that school strong and healthy.

By transferring 45 students who now live in an area bordered by St. Paul, Balfour, Jefferson and Wayburn to Trombly, we can assure the continuation of a fine educational program at that school.

For a number of years the Board has perceived the need to address the problem of declining enrollment in this community. Educationally the administration can support all of the plans or modifications under consideration as being beneficial to the quality of education in the system.

Union activist Mazey, of the Park, is dead

Canada, and brought to Detroit at the age of 2 by his parents and graduated from Cass Technical School.

By his 1980 retirement as UAW secretary-treasurer, Mazey completed 33 years in the UAW and established a record for the longest continuous service by an active UAW officer. It also marked more than 40 years as a union activist, organizer, negotiator and battler for labor, which often led to his firing.

His first step in labor experience was organizing unemployed workers in the "Unemployed Citizens League," and he participated in the 1933 Briggs Manufacturing Co. strike in Detroit, mobilizing pickets from among the unemployed.

After winning substantial wage increases for fellow workers at the Gulf Refining Co. in 1934, Mazey was fired. Again, in 1935, he was fired after attempting to organize a union at the Rofary Electric Steel Co.

While employed again at Briggs, Mazey was fired in 1936 for leading an organizational campaign at the plant.

He then became an International representative for the UAW and led a successful organizational drive at the Briggs plants in Detroit. He served as president of Briggs Local 212 from 1937 to 1941.

He played a leading role in the organization of the Ford Rouge plant in 1941 and directed wage negotiations which established the highest wage rates in the automobile industry at 55 Ford plants throughout the country.

He returned to the presidency of Briggs Local 212 from March 1943 to March 1944, where he entered the army and began a short journalist career.

Stationed in the Philippines, Mazey became a feature for the Army newspaper, The Tagalog Times, while serving as a buck sergeant to the Information and Education Section of the Army. A series of newspaper stories exposed chaotic shipping and demobilization. He organized a worldwide demobilization protest rally of soldiers.

After appearing before the Mead Committee and stating there was tremendous waste in the Army, Mazey was sent to the island of Ie Shima, five miles west of Okinawa.

While stationed at Ie Shima, Mazey was elected to the International Board of the UAW at the 1946 convention. The following year he was elected as secretary-treasurer. He was reelected at every convention until his 1960 retirement.

Beginning in 1953, Mazey led the UAW bargaining team which negotiated the first contract with Kohler Co. A year later, talks for a renewal of that contract led to a strike.

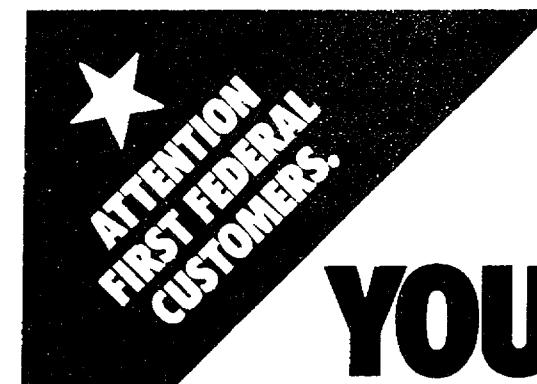

"We'll walk the last mile with the Kohler strikers," he said.

Throughout the 12 year dispute, Mazey never waivered in his determination to bring justice to Kohler workers. He negotiated the final back pay settlement that included $3 million back pay plus another $1.5 million for the striker's pension benefits. It was the largest settlement of its kind in U.S. labor history, and ended the union's dispute with Kohler in 1965.

Mazey's wife of 45 years, Charlotte, was a strong union supporter. She met Mazey while she was working as a secretary for UAW local 212.

Mazey also is survived by his mother, Wilma; son Larry; two grandchildren; sister, Catherine, and brother, William, all of the Detroit area.

His body was cremated Sunday in accordance with his wishes. Memorials can be made to the American Cancer Society.

New technique cuts time and pain

By Harriet Nolan

Physicians at St. John Hospital in Detroit are using a new method to remove kidney stones that eliminates major surgery and its discomforts, and cuts down on hospital and home recuperation time.

"Percutaneous nephrolithotomy is an alternate method that probably can be used on over 90 percent of kidney stone patients," said Robert DiLoreto, M.D., staff urologist.

"It cuts the usual seven to 14 day hospital stay in half and reduces home rest from six weeks to 10 days," he added.

DiLoreto and associate, urologist James Boutrous, M.D., performed the hospital's first percutaneous nephrolithotomy on Monday, Oct. 3.

The technique involves passing a needle through the patient's side into the center portion of the kidney, according to DiLoreto.

A pathway or tract is then dilated and a nephroscope, (a small telescope) is placed into the tract allowing surgeons to see inside.

Once located, the stone is manipulated through the nephroscope and pulled out using grasping forceps or a snare-like instrument called a stone basket.

In cases where the stone is too large, an ultra-sonic lithotripter which uses sound waves to break up the stone can be used. After, the fragmented stones can be pulled through the nephroscope.

Kidney stones are actual stones formed by precipitation of chemicals found in the urine. They can be jagged or smooth and the color is usually black and tan, according to DiLoreto.

Sizes range from the head of a tiny straight pin to filling the entire collective system of the kidney," he said.

Symptoms of kidney stones range from intermittent pain, blood in the urine, nausea, vomiting and recurrent kidney infections.

A person could think that they are having a backache, with slowly radiating pain around the lower abdomen, then to the genitals before subsiding.

Also, a person could have more than one type of stone or could have them and never suffer from them.

This is the way patient Harold Ferus, 40, of Warren discovered he had stones. He had his first attack 17 years ago and didn't have any more problems until 1980.

"After that, they came more often and since I like to ride my bike, camp and take long trips, I couldn't afford to be stuck in the woods having an attack and not being able to get help," said Ferus.

"The only way I can describe the pain is to say that it was so bad that it was a real high when it stopped," he added.

New sophisticated equipment makes the kidney stone removal surgery possible at St. John Hospital.

Do we need a community center?

A panel discussion to explore what a community center could do for Grosse Pointe will be held at the annual meeting of SOC (Services for Older Citizens, Inc.), at 9 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 20, at the Grosse Pointe Congregational and American Baptist Church, 240 Chalfonte. The public is invited.

Panel speakers will include Louise TeWalt, past president of SOC, and George Eddington, director of community education for the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

SOC, founded in 1978, supports the concept of an intergenerational community center as an opportunity to continue to broaden the concept of education to enrich the lives of all people in the community, not just the traditional student population.

The annual meeting will include election of officers and new directors, reports from SOC's four programs: Food & Friendship, which provides nutritional meals in a group setting; Meals-At-Home, which serves homebound seniors;

Minor Home Repair and Chores for those of low and moderate income; and Senior Citizen Information, which links seniors with needed services and community agencies.

Farms police searched the area around 157 Lakeshore Monday night, Oct. 3, after receiving a call that two men were pushing a car into Lake St. Clair.

Responding officers found a 1975

Cadillac with its front end in the lake, the rear portion resting on the sea wall. Witnesses told police they saw two men push the auto into the lake then leave the area.

While one was listed only as a scribed as a white male, 20 to 30 years old, with dark hair. He was wearing a white shirt and jacket.

After the car was removed from the lake, the vehicle was found to be stolen from a family in Berkley.

TV series on nutrition

Two Grosse Pointe nutritionists will team up to present a television series this fall to be aired on Grosse Pointe Cable TV, channel 17. Alison Boomer, M.P.H., and Linda B. Rhodes, M.S., R.D. will host the six nutrition shows titled, "A New Style of Eating." Filmed and produced in the Pointe, the nutrition series features a cast of local residents.

"Our approach is one of moderation," explains Rhodes.

"A New Style of Eating" was designed to help consumers sift through the available nutrition information, decide what is accurate and reliable and then adapt their own diets, not just for today, but for a lifetime of healthful living."

The first segment will be aired several times during the week of Oct. 10. The subject of this program is sugar. Updated research information on this controversial topic will be presented, along with a review of the skills consumers might need to reduce sugar in their diets. A trip to Hamlin's Market will highlight the show.

Lakeshore YMCA

The Lakeshore Family YMCA will be having an open house on Saturday, Oct. 15, at 23401 East Jefferson, St. Clair Shores.

During this time, walk-in registration for members and non-members will take place from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. A 20 percent discount on new memberships purchased will be offered through Oct. 22. Contact the YMCA at 778-5811 for further information.

The Lakeshore YMCA will hold its Fall II registration through Oct. 18. Classes that are being offered include swimming, preschool, fitness, Y's way to a healthy back, dynamic aerobics, body toning, pre-natal fitness, children's gymnastics, stained glass, where marketing tips like menu planning and label reading will be discussed.

Gerry Crowley will be the featured gourmet cook. She will prepare low sugar dessert crepes and other reduced sugar treats before a studio audience at the Pointe Pedlar in the Farms. Recipe adaptations will provide viewers with insight into how their favorite recipes can become part of a new style of eating for them.

Children, too, will receive nutrition advice as three local young chefs cook up simple snack recipes for their friends to duplicate at home.

Rhodes and Boomer created, directed and participated in the editing of their program. Segments to be aired in the future will feature other controversial issues including salt, fat, weight control and energy balance, fiber and vegetarianism. A second series is in the planning stages.

Recipes for each of the six shows will be available from Grosse Pointe Cable TV, Grosse Pointe, Mich.

New cancer therapy center is dedicated to Shores' Gaskin

The recently completed Radiation Therapy Center at South Macomb Hospital in Warren, was dedicated in a ceremony honoring Mervyn G. Gaskin, a prominent industrialist and resident of Grosse Pointe Shores. Gaskin served as board chairman of the Detroit-Macomb Hospital Corporation for 18 years before his retirement in 1972.

The center makes South Macomb Hospital the only hospital in Michigan and one of only five in the U.S. with the capacity for Intra-Operative Radiotherapy, the treatment of cancerous tissue during surgery.

In opening remarks at the dedication ceremony, James W. Duff, chairman of the Board of Directors, said the Board believed it appropriate to break with tradition and honor an individual before that honor would have to be referred to as a "memorial."

He added, "certainly with respect to Detroit-Macomb Hospital Corporation we could find no more deserving recipient than Merv Gaskin."

Attending the ceremony were DMH directors, together with

Neighborhood Club goes to Alaska

Roy and Marjorie Collins, Marion McLeod, and Hiram and Irene Devinney will take visitors on a trip to Alaska via their slides Wednesday, Oct. 19, at 1:30 p.m. at the Neighborhood Club.

The Alaskan cruise begins in San Francisco aboard the luxury liner Fairsea. First port of call will be Victoria and Butchart Gardens.

From the top of Mt. Hayes at Prince Rupert, the participants will get a look at the Pacific Princess, the Love Boat, anchored off-shore as well as the Mendenhall Glacier at Juneau and a "Salmon Bake" near the Gold River Mine.

Other sights of interest shown during the program will be Marathon Mountain at Seward, a drive through the Chugach National Forest and the Portage Glacier.

Admission is free to seniors as part of the Neighborhood Clubs' ongoing weekly programs.

Jaycees will open Hill Haunted House

Beginning Wednesday, Oct. 19, through the end of the month, the Grosse Pointe Jaycees will operate a Haunted House on Kercheval next to the Bronze Door Restaurant in the Farms.

The House will be open Monday through Friday, 6:30 to 11 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, noon to 11 p.m. The funds raised by the Haunted House will be donated to various community charities.

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees will also be selling pumpkins in front of the Haunted House.

hospital staff members, employees and guests, as well as members of Gaskin's family. Jack Ryan, M.D., president of DMHC, praised Mr. Gaskin as "one of those rare individuals who gives freely of his time and talents and money" and as a person with "a quick and decisive mind, a warm and endearing personality, a devoted and tireless public servant."

The invocation was given by the Reverend Edward A.M. Cobden, Jr., rector of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

A plaque commemorating the event reads: "In grateful recognition of his 26 years of leadership as a member of the Board of Directors of the Detroit-Macomb Hospital Corporation, 18 of which were as president, and in appreciative acknowledgement of his generous contributions making possible the provision of vital radiation therapy treatments to the people of Metropolitan Detroit, including his funding of the first hospital-based Cobalt therapy unit in Michigan, this service shall be known as The Mervyn G. Gaskin Radiation Therapy Center."

Gaskin, a native of Georgetown, British Guiana, moved to Detroit in 1925. He is chairman of the Board of Directors and a founder of Taylor & Gaskin, Inc., a manufacturer of conveyor systems shipped throughout the world. Gaskin's other affiliations include: trusteeship at the Association of Episcopal Colleges and also at St. Augustine's College, Raleigh, N.C., past president and director emeritus of the Automobile Club of Michigan; past director of the Automobile Association of America and Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit; past president of Music Hall, Inc., and Michigan Ordnance Association; and past commodore at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

He is a member of the Circumnavigators Club, the Economic Club of Detroit, Engineering Society of Detroit and the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts. He maintains the Mervyn G. Gaskin Foundation.

Woman dies in car crash

Grosse Pointe Park Police and Fire Departments responded to a call for help on Jefferson Avenue and Alter Road after a car hit two other cars Saturday, Oct. 8, at 7 p.m.

The driver of the car, identified as Dennis McDonald of Newport, Detroit, was driving at high speeds according to Detroit police. He hit the car driven by James Reardon, 50, of Redford Township. Reardon's wife, Dorothy, 49, was critically injured.

Three other people in the second car sustained injuries and were taken to Detroit hospitals.

McDonald is being held in Detroit police custody.

Church of Christ will offer free lecture on healing

"Spiritual Healing and the Church Today" will be the subject of a free lecture Friday, Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 282 Chalfonte, Grosse Pointe Farms.

The lecturer, George Louis Aghamalian, of New York, will review the early years of the Christian church, its healing ministry and how that ministry is being carried out today.

Aghamalian, a Christian Science lecturer since 1971, recalls that "the early Christian Church, for some 300 years following Jesus' ascension, healed as the Master taught. Healing through prayer was an essential part of its ministry. The early church truly fulfilled Jesus' instruction for all time 'heal the sick...'"

He also discusses the place of Christian Science in the Christian healing movement. The Church of Christ, Scientist, has devoted itself to Christian healing since its founding in 1879, he notes.

Gattorn is named to GOP board

Barbara Gattorn, of the Shores was recently named to the newly-formed GOP Equity Economic Commission. Mrs. Gattorn is currently serving as the Republican member of the Wayne County Civil Service Commission, appointed by Executive William Lucas.

The GOP/EEC is a group of 50 Republican women who are "united on the common ground of economic equity for women." Their goal is to lead an education, information and communication project on the positive accomplishments of President Ronald Reagan and the Republican Party.

"We plan to reach out to all women in our fields, not just Republicans, and bring back to our elected officials the needs and concerns of women in today's economy," Mrs. Gattorn said.

Dr. Martha Seger, former commissioner of Financial Institutions in Michigan, developed the plan with Jackie McGregor, first vice-chair of the Michigan Republicans.

"The vast majority of women realize that women's concerns today are in the economic arena," Mrs. Gattorn said. "It's time women have an opportunity to demonstrate their knowledge of economics and their ability to express a wide range of economic concerns."

She added that the GOP/EEC can be a vehicle through which President Reagan's recognition of women can be communicated.

"The president has not done a good job in 'tooting his own horn' in this respect," Mrs. Gattorn said. "In addition to his appointments of highly visible women, such as Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, he has at this point in his presidency also appointed more women to serve in top policy-making positions than any other president in a comparable period of time."

According to the Michigan Republican Committee, Reagan has appointed 106 women to positions in his administration, compared to 101 appointed by Jimmy Carter.

Other appointees to the GOP/EEC include Dorothy Comstock-Riley, Lenore Romney, Sen. Connie Binsfield, Nancy Boykin, Barbara Dumouchelle, Rep. Ruth McNamee and Peace Corps director Loret Ruppe.

GROSSE POINTE CITIZENS WE NEED YOUR HELP

As established merchants in Grosse Pointe Village we are here to serve you, make the Village a viable and attractive shopping center, and make an honest living while accomplishing these goals.

One important way we feel this can be better accomplished is by offering more adequate food and beverage service. We would like to offer you a glass of wine or beer in our established restaurants and in the potential European Style Cafe the Merry Mouse plans to open. This service along with good food is a proven drawing card to shopping areas. It is also a service many residents and customers have requested. We want the Village to thrive for the benefit of all. We must be competitive to other shopping areas, and we are willing to invest our time and money to better serve you.

To accomplish this, necessary and proper steps have been taken with the City Council by The Merry Mouse, Jacobson's and Clairepointe Restaurant. Indications are that the City Council might postpone action on this matter for another year. All we are asking is that this issue be placed on the November, 1983 ballot for the citizens of Grosse Pointe City to decide.

Quick action from Grosse Pointe citizens before the Monday, October 17 Council Meeting could help. You can help in one or several ways:

- Fill out attached coupon and mail or deliver to City Council on or before Monday, October 17, 1983. Should you wish, a personal letter would be more helpful.
- Call the City Offices to express your opinion on or before Monday, October 17, 1983 - 885-5800.
- Attend the Council Meeting to express your support on Monday, October 17, 1983 at the Grosse Pointe City Offices, 17147 Maumee.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR ACTION AND SUPPORT

Pierce parents bid to school

Pierce Middle School will hold its annual Back-to-School Night for parents of students on Thursday, Oct. 20, at 7:30 p.m.

Parents will attend their children's classes in six 10-minute periods. They will meet teachers and hear about curriculum, class procedures and expectations.

"We feel that parents can understand and participate in today's educational process much more effectively after they have visited the school and met our faculty and administrators," said Donald Bassett, Pierce principal.

Back-to-School Night has traditionally been one of the best attended evening events at Pierce. The program will end with refreshments in the gymnasium at 9:30 p.m.

South mothers will discuss eating disorders

"Target: Timely Topics," a new program offered by the Grosse Pointe South Mother's Club, will present the first of a two-part series on compulsive eating disorders Friday, Oct. 21, at 1 p.m. in Clemson Hall at the high school.

Peggy Debelak, a recovered anorexic and director of the Institute for the Study of Eating Disorders, affiliated with the Orchard Hills Psychiatric Center will tell, through slides and a skit, how society's image of beauty has changed in the last few decades and what life is like for an anorexic.

Anorexia nervosa and bulimia are eating disorders that affect more than 3 percent of the female college population with a mortality rate of 10 to 15 percent. The anorexic's refusal to eat or the bulimic's binging on 10,000 to 50,000 calories a day can result in endless power struggles between the victim and her family and doctors. Early diagnosis and appropriate treatment can aid in lessening the severity of the illness and improve the condition.

The illnesses and treatments from a medical point of view will be explored by Dr. Cal Worrell on Friday, Nov. 4, at 1 p.m. at 280 Touraine. The second part of the series will help participants learn the symptoms of the disease and realize it affects more than just teenage girls.

No reservations are necessary at either meeting. The public is invited.

Pumpkin sale is Saturday at Maire

Maire School's annual Pumpkin Sale is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 22, on the front lawn of the school, 740 Cadieux Road, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

All sizes of pumpkins will be available and priced from 60 cents to $3.50.

Proceeds from the sale will be used towards enrichment activities for the school children.

Happy Halloween

The sophomore class of University Liggett School will sell more than four tons of pumpkins at the Field House on the Cook Road campus on Friday, Oct. 14, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Saturday, Oct. 15, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Pictured here are class officers Meg DeRonghe and Oscar Alcantara (front row, left to right) and Marc Hunt, John Birgbauer, and Susie Andrews (back row, left to right), with their favorite customer, pre-kindergarten student Meredith McGuire.

South NHS plans blood drive

*Wendy Honstain
South High*

South's National Honor Society will kick off the school year with its annual fall blood drive tomorrow, Oct. 14. Donating will take place from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. at South in the girls' gym.

The first of two yearly blood drives at South, the fall drive usually has less participation." There are two major reasons for the lower number of donors in the fall," said Wendy Flynn, chairperson of the event. "One is the high number of people involved in fall sports, especially football. Scheduled games, meets, so forth, prevent kids from giving."

"The second is the age requirement. Applicants must be 17 years old in order to be eligible. Students with late birthdays cannot give until the spring," she said. Parents are also welcome to support the drive by giving blood at the school.

Ken McMillin, a South counselor and NHS sponsor, is enthusiastic about the club's first activity.

"South has traditionally come through very well with a high percentage of donors," McMillin said. This fall, the goal is 180 pints, considerably higher than the amount received last autumn.

As a bonus this year the Southeastern Michigan Blood Donors Service is holding a contest between schools. The winner will be the school with the greatest percentage of eligible students who donate. Guidelines for the contest are still being worked out.

The NHS has spent hours making appointments, setting up schedules and baking cookies to be ready for the drive. "They're a hard working group and we are all looking forward, hopefully, to another success," McMillin said.

The team, composed of Julie Ferris and Ihab Hanna on the affirmative and David Chilingirian and Pamela Colby on the negative took first place. Pamela Colby received a fourth place speakers trophy.

Other novice debaters, Philip Issa, Mark Koegler, Jack Ferris and Lancelot Lie also turned in a good tournament performance.

For the varsity debaters, Charles Colby took the first place speakers award.

All sizes of pumpkins will be available and priced from 60 cents to $3.50.

Proceeds from the sale will be used towards enrichment activities for the school children.

Pompon parties turn into work

*Martha Keane
South High*

Homecoming 1984 is gradually sneaking up on us, and pompon parties are in full swing. In recent years, South pompon parties have taken on a new name; pompon work sessions.

The difference between the two is obvious. One is an open party, while the other is a gathering of students who perform the tedious job of making one pompon after another, hour after hour.

Mrs. Randolph Agley, junior class parent sponsor, is pleased so far with this year's work sessions.

"Everything has gone well. We haven't had any problems. Kids are surprisingly enthusiastic and arrange for the work sessions with their parents which makes our job a lot easier," she said.

Newspointe to publish again

*By Kip Monahan
South High*

Beginning its fifth year, the South High School Newspointe class is writing again for the Grosse Pointe News.

The class was created in 1979 to handle the students who didn't get into the class which writes The Tower, South's newspaper. Bob Button, the adviser to Newspointe and the Tower, explained, "The Tower had reached its maximum enrollment, and we need a place for additional students to gain experience in journalism."

Before creating Newspointe, Button consulted with the South administration and the Grosse Pointe News.

Newspointe staff members live by the same rules as a large paper, having to meet deadlines and edit their own and others work. The members of the 1983-84 Newspointe staff are Mark Forelich, Bif Ream, Jane Kornmeier, Laurie Smith, Martha Keane, Kip Monahan, Wendy Shauman, and Wendy Honstain.

"It lets us get the valuable experience without all of the after school work of the Tower," said Ream. "This has a big impact on some students who are bound by after-school sports and activities. It also helps those students with part-time jobs after school."

Newspointe staff members also do the design and production for South's literary publication "Imprints."

Liggett juniors plan rummage sale

The officers of University Liggett School's junior class have been preparing for their rummage sale, and they've got everything to offer — even a kitchen sink.

Officers Chris Liakonis, Howard Fauntroy, Kate French, Steve Eberhardt and Ralph Hoenle will be helping with the sale at the McCann Rink on Friday, Oct. 14, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Saturday, Oct. 15, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Some differing views on pompon work sessions come from junior Anthony Eugenio, who said "they're worthless because no one gets anything done."

But Agley said, "the kids accomplish a lot and quite a few pompons are made at each session."

Sophomore Becky Steffes added, "I think we get the needed work done, but the parties would be more fun."

Although the latter may be true, there were more cons than pros concerning pompon parties. There were numerous complaints: Too many people attended them, there was a lot of drinking, little work was accomplished and many parents became irate when they found out what their children actually did at the parties.

Without any major complaints, the transition from the traditional pompon party to the highly productive work session has been a smooth one. Turnouts have been better and the majority of South students are happy with the change.

Haitian dancers visit Liggett

Beginning students in dance history and technique at the University Liggett School were treated to the exotic rhythms and movements of Afro-Haitian dance on Sept. 21 and 22.

Penny Godboldo of the dance faculty at Marygrove College and drummer-accompanist Madibo spoke to students about the religious and theatrical elements in Afro-Haitian dance. After a demonstration, the students were invited to imitate the complex Haitian rhythms.

"The kids loved it," said Jennifer Noyer, director of dance in the ULS Creative and Performing Arts Department. "Many students stayed after class to ask questions, and several are interested in studying the Haitian rhythms further." According to Ms. Noyer, the visitors received a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts to research and recreate authentic Haitian dances.

Commenting on the complicated dance techniques he tried in class, 10th grader Rafal Zielinski said, "I'm really sore, but I'm glad I'm sore. It was great."

Ms. Noyer said that the students will present an Afro-Haitian dance in their Dec. 9 dance concert.

New counselor comes to South

By Jane Kornmeier
South High

As time passes at South High, teachers, counselors and administrators come and go, and this is a story about both. After 27 years of service, Vorita McClure has retired from her job as a student counselor. Her replacement, Marna Beard, is new to South, but not to her job as a counselor.

"We are all saddened that (Mrs. McClure) left, but after almost 30 years of devotion and service, she certainly earned the right to resign," said Russell Luttinen, assistant principal. Because her husband had recently retired and because they both wanted to move to a warmer climate, Mrs. McClure stepped down July 31.

The new counselor, Mrs. Beard, comes to work at South with 10 years of counseling experience behind her, her former jobs being at Chippewa Valley High School in Mount Clemens and at L'Anse Creuse Middle School.

"It was a last minute deal," said Mrs. Beard. "They called me on Tuesday, the day before school started, and told me I could have the job. At the same time, I held another job. So, I made a couple phone calls, and on Wednesday I called South back and accepted. I started counseling on Friday, and to tell you the truth, I don't think I know half the attendance policies yet."

Before she started working, Mrs. Beard met with Mrs. McClure. "After introducing myself, I asked her, 'Are you the lady with the big feet?'" said Beard. "She is such a special lady, and so fascinating to talk with."

Although following in Mrs. McClure's footsteps is not an easy task, Mrs. Beard does not feel intimidated. "I am glad to follow her. I see it as a challenge to do my best helping the kids."

Torch starts fire that destroys home

A fire that destroyed more than a third of an expensive Grosse Pointe Park home earlier this month demonstrates one of the lessons Grosse Pointe Park firefighters are trying hard to teach residents during fire prevention week.

The lesson is to avoid using torches to strip your house of paint. A propane torch is believed to have been the cause of the Park's third fire in less than two weeks, on Oct. 2 at a Kensington Road home.

The torch was being used to burn paint off the exterior trim of the house and, according to Park Fire Chief Phillip Costa, sparks from its flame traveled up the inside walls of the house and started it on fire.

Firefighter William Hunt suffered smoke inhalation at the scene and was hospitalized for three days, Costa said.

"I can remember a dozen house fires in the last 11 years that were caused by torches used by painters," Costa said. "You're just asking for a fire if you use that method of removing paint."

Another fire also did about $10,000 damage to a home on Berkshire Road in the Park this month. The home, valued at $300,000 was not insured. The blaze got its start when a television in a second floor bedroom exploded, according to the homeowner.

Late last month, a fire reportedly started by a downed electric wire virtually destroyed a home on Bishop Road in the Park.

Fire prevention week runs from Oct. 9 through 15. During that time, firefighters from the Park are going door-to-door making voluntary inspections of homes for fire hazards. For an inspection or more information, call the department at 822-6400.

Top painter teaches class

A new, intensive watercolor workshop will be offered at the War Memorial in October under the direction of watercolorist, Richard Jerzy.

The workshop is designed for the experienced painter and will be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 14 and 15 from 9 to 4 p.m. The first day will focus on still life experiments and the second day figure composition will be emphasized.

Jerzy is a professor of drawing and painting at the Center For Creative Studies, has studied under Sankis Sarkisian and Charles Culver and has had many one-man shows, the most recently at The Sheldon Ross Gallery.

The two-day workshop is $65, plus a one day model's fee. For details call 881-7511.

DIA curator leads a tour

Professor Michael Farrel, adjunct education curator of the Detroit Institute of Arts, and art history professor at the University of Windsor, will lead a two-hour walking tour of the Toledo Museum, Saturday, Oct. 15.

Tourists will leave the War Memorial Center at noon and be transported to the museum in a deluxe motorcoach. Enroute home, following the tour, a gourmet box supper, including wine, will be served. The group will return at about 5:30 p.m.

During the tour of the Toledo Museum, which houses a small, but impressive collection of art, Farrell will discuss the religious, political and social background of major historical periods, and will highlight significant works within the collection.

The cost for the day trip is $35, and includes transportation, food and the tour. For more information call 881-7511.

Pointers lead diabetes group

Iris J. Whitehouse, of Grosse Pointe Woods, was reelected secretary of the American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate at the association's annual meeting last month in Lansing. Mrs. Whitehouse was re-elected to a three-year term on the board of directors and elected delegate to the 1984 Central Council of the American Diabetes Association.

David F. Kruger, of Grosse Pointe Park, a clinical nurse specialist at Henry Ford Hospital, was elected to a three-year term on the board of directors.

The ADA-M is a voluntary, nonprofit health organization which offers services that include patient and professional education programs, a summer camp for children with diabetes, support of research in diabetes.

Disappearing memories

There were more than a few tears shed last week when wrecking balls began to pound down the walls of the 65-year-old building that housed St. Ambrose School on Wayburn Road near the Detroit-Grosse Pointe Park border. The building came down because maintenance costs were too high for the parish to sustain, a spokesperson said. The St. Ambrose family said its formal "goodbye" to its school with a prom party last June. The three-story building housed St. Ambrose's elementary and high school for several decades and later became headquarters for Operation LINC, religious education and a day care center. "I went to school there and I had tears in my eyes when I came in this morning and saw the wreckers," said Joan Convery, secretary for religious education at St. Ambrose. The church has talked to city and Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority officials about possible uses for the land the school occupied, but for now the property will probably be used for parking, the spokesperson said.

From Another Pointe Of View By Janet Mueller

The seventh annual art show and sale sponsored by Soroptimist International of Grosse Pointe on Sunday, Oct. 23, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will feature work by 28 artists AND two top local art students: Grosse Pointe North High School's Bryan van Assche (wood, metal and clay sculpture) and Grosse Pointe South High School's Lydia Pallas (ceramics).

Other media represented will include watercolor, blown glass, Chinese brush work, stained glass, primitive tole work, baskets, gold jewelry and silver. Artists will also display Victorian porcelain and stoneware, acrylics, decorated eggs, pen-and-ink drawings and weavings from 1 to 5 p.m. throughout the War Memorial's first floor.

Admission to the show is via a $15. tax deductible, donation. Champagne and hors d'oeuvres will be served throughout the afternoon. Proceeds will benefit Grosse Pointe's Cottage Hospital. Ticket information and reservations may be obtained by calling 881-9099.

Magnify Your World

The Friends of Vision of the Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology join with the Greater Detroit Society for the Blind to present Magnify Your World, a low vision aids and large print book fair, this Saturday, Oct. 15, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the B. Siegel Court at Eastland Mall. Anyone with permanently reduced vision is encouraged to come and look over the books and periodicals, and the many appliances available to assist those whose sight is poor.

Representatives from organizations which assist the visually impaired (among them: Benson Optical Company, Commission for the Blind, Detroit Radio Information Service, Detroit Receiving Hospital-Rehabilitation Center for the Visually Handicapped, Greater Detroit Society for the Blind, League for the Handicapped-Goodwill Industries and Talking and Visual Aids) will be available with displays and information. Short films concerning low vision will be shown throughout the day in the auditorium, and there will be demonstrations of many arts and crafts for the visually impaired.

It's a marvelous idea and a marvelous project, and the co-sponsoring organizations deserve the community's thanks for their efforts to magnify the community's world. They'll even provide transportation to the fair, if needed. Call 824-4710, Extension 65, for this service, and for further information.

Silver Anniversary for Holiday Mart . . .

This year marks the 25th anniversary of the Holiday Mart to benefit the Planned Parenthood League. It will be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, open for public shopping from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday, Oct. 20 and 21, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 22. There is a general admission fee of $2. Luncheon and free parking will also be available. To celebrate this Silver Anniversary, the Mart's 1983 co-chairmen, MRS. VERNE C. HAMPTON II and MRS. GILBERT E. GOVE (left and right), honored past chairmen and Mart founders at a luncheon in mid-September at Mrs. Hampton's home. Mike Carney is coming in with his orchestra from New York City for a preview dance next Wednesday, Oct. 19. Benefactors, sponsors and patrons will dine and be entertained, after a private peek at this year's Mart goodies, by Carney's wonderful sounds at the Grosse Pointe Club. Since 1958, the Holiday Mart has brought distinctive shops from across the country, offering a variety of items, to the Detroit area. Carroll Reed, the famous sporting clothes store, was here at the first Mart, and continues to return. This year's assortment of select shops will feature everything from fine antiques and sporting goods to specialty clothing, handcrafted toys, beautiful jewelry, delicious foods and holiday items. Early Christmas shoppers may purchase wool blankets, throws and pillows from over two dozen countries at Monhegan of Boston, or find unique evening clothing at Maryland's Clothes Line. Cincinnati's Bissinger's satisfies the most discriminating sweet tooth. Lil' Worth Avenue of West Palm Beach has just about everything for the heaven-to-seven set, and Marblehead Handprints, famous for highly identifiable printed fabrics, also stocks glassware, handknit sweaters and socks. Warrenton Old English Plum Pudding is bringing its famous fruit and rum cakes — and of course, plum puddings! — from Nashville, Tenn. And this is just a flavoring of what will be available at the 1983 Mart. With a total of 22 shops, there is really something for everyone. In this Silver Anniversary year, the Mart continues to sparkle for the continued benefit of Planned Parenthood League, which promotes family planning through its programs including fertility awareness and disease detection. Also offered are teen counseling and discussion groups and a speakers' bureau program for parents, schools, churches and community groups. For several years, Planned Parenthood League has been a resource for Catholic Social Services and the Catholic Youth Organization in Detroit, providing information, special workshops and rap sessions for professionals, parents and teenagers. Planned Parenthood has four clinics located in the tri-county area.

Family affair for Alliance

Fern Freeman, of the Detroit Historical Society's volunteer staff, will discuss "French Families of Early Detroit" at an Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe meeting Monday, Oct. 24, at 8 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, touching on several names that continue to be well-known in the area: the Moroses, Campagnes, Beaubiens, Riopelle, Rivards, Provencals and Navarres.

She'll spice her historical perspective with interesting stories about the people involved in the development of the Greater Detroit area, all gleaned from extensive personal research in the Detroit Public Library's Burton Historical Collection, word-of-mouth anecdotes and newspaper clippings.

Fern, who resides in Royal Oak, is a retired school teacher who has devoted much of her free time during the last four years to lecturing for the Historical Society. "The more I looked into Detroit's past," she explains, "the more valuable and fascinating it became." She is one of a corps of volunteer speakers for the society, and has two slide presentations, "What's In A Name?" and "Being Dead Yet Speakeath," that she regularly takes to interested groups.

Arthur Rooks, the Pointe Alliance's 1983-84 program chairman, made the arrangements for Fern's appearance at the War Memorial.

Needleworkers meet Oct. 17

The Embroiderers' Guild of America, Metropolitan Detroit Chapter, will celebrate its 10th anniversary with a color and design lecture by Jane Lamont this Monday, Oct. 17, at 7:30 p.m. at Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, Chalfonte Avenue at Lothrop Road. The chapter meets at the church at 7:30 p.m. on the third Monday of each month, September to May. Anyone interested in any form of needlework is welcome to attend as a guest or member.

Various programs are presented on quilting, needlepoint, candlewicking, cross stitch — any art form done with a needle.

Officers of the Metropolitan Detroit Stitchery Guild in this 1983-84 season are Kerry Edick, of Brys Drive, president; Jan Dold, program chairman; Krista Parsons and Susan Kraethe, recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively; Joyce Martin, treasurer, and Esther Melucci, hospitality chairman and registrar.

A celebration for Pear Tree

The Pear Tree Chapter of Questers celebrates its 20th anniversary next Thursday, Oct. 20, with a special meeting to which Fox Creek and Pettipointe Quester Chapter members have been invited at 10 a.m. in the Clubhouse of the Eastland Apartments. Hostess will be Mrs. Leo Cowling.

One charter member, Mrs. Oscar Teeg, and several 18 and 19-year members are still active in Pear Tree, which has invited Edgar Hagopian, of the Hagopian Oriental Company, to present the program at the anniversary meeting. He will show slides of how oriental rugs are made, and will bring examples for members and their guests to examine and admire.

Both the speaker, a graduate of the University of Michigan and a member of the American Society of Interior Designers, and his father have degrees in Chemistry, Pharmacy and Textiles.

A parade of fashions from the Shops of Walton-Pierce begins at 1:30 p.m. Tickets for this only fund raiser the Altar Society sponsors during the year are $20, in advance, and may be obtained through Judy (Mrs. Delmar A.) Flanz, 886-5454. This year, for the first time, the party has an honorary chairman: Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery. Advisory chairmen are Mrs. John L. King and Mrs. Everett M. Scranton. Mrs. Wilbur P. Kay is the current Altar Society president.

'Saving' fund raiser for Alpha Xi Delta

How can you save money on your food budget and, at the same time, serve exciting new dishes to your family?

This is what guests will learn at "Luncheon Is Served," presented by the Grosse Pointe and Macomb County Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta at noon Thursday, Nov. 3, at the Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church on Moross Road.

Valuable coupons from several food companies will be given to each guest. New recipes will be featured by home economist Jane Payne. Prizes will be awarded following the luncheon. Proceeds from the fall fund raiser will go to current philanthropic projects of the alumnae: the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan and the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Exceptional Children.

The program is open to all Alpha Xi Deltas and their friends, and to members of other local groups with an interest in seeing how this type of event could aid their organizations' fund raising. Ticket information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Norman counted cross stitch for holiday gifts. Participants should bring scissors and a small Kerr jar with a two-part top.

Mrs. John Rini and Mrs. Robert Shannon are co-hostesses for this meeting. Further information may be obtained by calling 778-0067.

The Resource Center is just one step in a multi-phase effort by the Detroit Fashion Group to promote the fashion industry in Michigan. Along with granting scholarships and conducting seminars, the Group last year organized the successful "Say Yes to Michigan Fashion Designers Week."

The Center is the first of a two-part Fashion Group commitment to the Historical Museum. Efforts are currently underway to raise funds for a new Fashion Gallery to house the museum's costume collection, appraised at over $1 million. The Group is seeking donations for the future Fashion Wing as well as the Fashion Resource Center.

Galli-Mashhour rites are read

Carmel and San Francisco, Calif., were the vacation destinations of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Nicholas Galli following their marriage Saturday, September 24, in Old Christ Church, Detroit. The 5:30 o'clock ceremony at which The Reverend Ervin A. Brown III and The Reverend William R. Fleming presided was followed by a reception at Red Run Golf Club. The newlyweds will make their home in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Mrs. Galli, the former Christine Ann Mashhour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mashhour, of Blairmoor Court, chose a bridal gown of China silk trimmed with Lyons lace and seed pearls, pouff-sleeved and styled with an illusion neckline of English net.

Her train was chapel length. Her lace-edged veil fell from a floral crown, and she carried a bouquet of Royal Crown orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

She was attended by a sister, Susan Lynn Mashhour, as honor maid, and by two other sisters, Mrs. Roger Basse and Mrs. William Walker, who served as bridesmaids along with Lisa Staif, a cousin, and Margaret Richards, of San Antonio, Fla.

The sleeves and shoulders of their floor length gowns of mauve tissue taffeta were detailed with flat, self-fabric bows. They carried cascades of cymbidium orchids and ivy.

Michael Galli acted as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Galli, of Mount Clemens. Groomsmen were Steven Galli, another brother, George Alexander Mashhour, the bride's brother, David Kinnear, of Houston, Tex., the bride's cousin, Robert Karinsky, of San Antonio, Fla., Anthony Perrotti, of Boston, Mass., and Dennis Seipke.

Mrs. Christopher N. Galli

The mother of the bride wore a pleated, tea length dress of crystal grey silk and carried a magenta cattleya orchid. The bridegroom's mother selected an afternoon length dress of aquamarine silk and a wrist corsage of cattleya orchids.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's aunt, Mrs. Virginia Worden, of Charleston, S.C., and the bride's cousins, Erica, Robin and Greg Worden, and Steven Walton; the bride's uncle and cousin, Joseph George and Danny Georges, of St. Louis, Mo.; the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Mashhour, of Miami, Fla.; and from Jacksonville, Fla., the bride's aunt, Mrs. Dan Paul, the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack George, and the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saig and Jerry Isaac.

More were Debra Claeys, of Louisville, Ky., Paul Schneider, of Port Orange, Fla., and Nora Romo, of Xicotencate, Mexico.

Renewal Day set for Oct. 15

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Women's Association will sponsor an ecumenical Day of Renewal this Saturday, Oct. 15, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. for all women of the community — especially working women and young mothers. "Setting the Right Priorities in a Christian Family" is the morning's theme.

Following a continental breakfast, program chairman Karen Wininger will introduce Peg Rankin, guest speaker and discussion leader, who will talk on "Establishing a Christian Home" and "Setting Personal Priorities." The sessions will be Bible-oriented, so participants are requested to bring their Bibles. Mid-morning stretching exercises will be led by Helen Huber.

Assisting Mrs. Wininger with plans for the day are Adele Huebner, Sue Decker, Carol Nelson, Alice Pepper, Nancy Irwin, Susan Klingbeil, Mary Grace Adams and Ruth Scott; committee members drawn from local churches, Christ Episcopal, Grosse Pointe Baptist and Christ Fellowship, as well as the host church, Grosse Pointe Memorial.

Child care is available. Reservations should be made through the church office, 882-5330.

Fort Pontchartrain bridge lunch date

A bridge luncheon at the McCadden-Ross Museum in Dearborn has been planned for Friday, Oct. 21, by the Fort Pontchartrain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The group gathers at 11 a.m. with Mrs. William E. Garrett, regent, for a social hour and boutique. Luncheon at noon will be followed by an afternoon of cards.

Area residents planning to attend include the Mesdames Robert Calloway, Robert Brines, Gordon N. Cameron, Paul Honderick, Leonard L. Jensen, George E. Kilien, Frank S. McKinnon, Charles Ross and Bernard L. Sietz.

Lakeshore, received her religious education at Our Lady Star of the Sea and is a graduate of Grosse Pointe North High School.

Last year, she left her home on Woodland Shores Drive for a six-month time of preparation in Rome, Italy, at the Motherhouse of the Angelic Sisters of St. Paul, a 100-year-old Order of Catholic Nuns which had three convents in the United States — but no novitiate where candidates for the Sisterhood could be formed and trained.

That was last year. This year, the Angelic Sisters received permission to open their first novitiate in America, at Saint Mary's Convent in Easton, Pa. It was officially inaugurated and blessed by The Reverend Robert M. Forst, pastor of Saint Anthony of Padua Church in Easton — and on August 15, Flora Cusmano, clad in a light blue habit and carrying a huge, wooden cross, America's first, and only, postulant for the Angelic Sisters, made her first vows in America's first Angelic Sisters' novitiate.

Her parents, Dominic and Grace Cusmano, were proud observers at the impressive ceremony. Flora will spend two years training under Novice Mistress Sister Lina before she is able to make her final vows of poverty, chastity and obedience and, perhaps, be accepted as a full sister of the Congregation of Angelic Sisters. When they get her, they'll not only get a "first" — but one of the best.

PR workshop set for Oct. 22

Wayne State University will offer a one-day, noncredit workshop in Public Relations on Saturday, Oct. 22, at its Northeast Center, located on Schroeder, in the former Saint Basil School, in East Detroit. The program, which runs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., covers the basic how-to's for beginners, volunteer publicists and those wishing to prepare for careers in the field of public relations.

The morning session with Leonine K. Cadieux, WSU Information Officer, as lecturer, deals with

Alpha Chi Omegas celebrate

Metropolitan Detroit area Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae will celebrate the 75th birthday of their sorority's Detroit Alumnae Chapter at a Founders' Day Dinner tonight, Thursday, Oct. 13, at 6:30 p.m. at Botsford Inn. Chairperson for the evening is Pat Phillips, of Plymouth.

The Detroit Chapter, founded in 1909, in 1910 was hostess to the first national convention of the sorority not held on a college or university campus. Delegates were housed at the Tuller Hotel. Activities included a train trip to Ann Arbor, a cruise to the St. Clair Flats and an auto ride.

Through the years, the chapter has been cited for its work with national Alpha Chi Omega altruisms, which included a program for French orphans during World War I and the Cass Child Care Center during World War II. Today, the sorority helps support the MacDowell Colony for the Arts, the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and the Easter Seal Society. The Detroit Chapter also supports collegiate chapters at the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Western Michigan University, Central Michigan University, Albion College and Northwood Institute.

Presiding over the birthday program will be Darlene Krato, of The Farms, president of the Detroit Chapter, and Barb Castanana, president of the Birmingham Chapter. Each will present a short talk on the heritage of her chapter, highlighting those who enabled the Detroit Chapter to reach this milestone.

They will honor past-presidents from each of the chapters, including Pointe area residents Helen Reade Walker, Elizabeth Snow Frolund, Mary Ruth Doughtry Johnson, Elaine Roger Ross, Dorothy Malcom Schmidt, Carolyn Royce Tock, Joan Baynes Armbruster, Donna Hixenbaugh Johnson and Ruth Verduin McMahon.

Also to be honored are the Golden Girls, those who have supported the sorority since initiation as collegiate members. Golden Girls from the Pointe area are Helen Metzger Carter, Mrs. Ross, Neva Goldenbogen Reuger, Phyllis Reynolds Scherer, Mrs. Frolund, Connie Berry Hodgman, Gertrude Grow Powers, Shirley Verner Denise, Eleanor Rumpf Kelly, Gladys Catherwood, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Walker.

Highlights of the 43rd national convention of Alpha Chi Omega, held in Philadelphia in mid-June, will be presented by the two presidents, who were delegates along with Donna Johnston, who serves on the National Housing Board of the sorority.

Alpha Chi Omega is preparing for its upcoming Centennial Celebration in 1985. The sorority was founded at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., on October 15, 1885. Today, there are 118 Alpha Chi Omega collegiate chapters and 235 alumnae chapters and clubs throughout the United States and Canada.

Some of those from The Pointe area who will attend this 75th birthday celebration, which will feature a special cake decorated with the Red Carnation of Alpha Chi Omega, are Joan Ketterman, Detroit Chapter vice-president, Mrs. Fioliund, treasurer, Donna Weinlie, membership chairman, Mrs. Armbruster, newsletter publisher, Mrs. Tock Sr., Panhellenic delegate, Maryhellen Feighner, Junior Panhellenic delegate, Judy Livingston, historian; Aline Laferty, in charge of resource development, and Ms. McMahon, group chairperson.

Short and to the Pointe

JENNIFER KUZEL, daughter of MR. and MRS. WILLIAM KUZEL, of Fairford Road, has been awarded the Slater Merit Scholarship by the University of Michigan, where she will begin studies in the fall. The four-year award is given in recognition of outstanding academic ability and accomplishments.

Jennifer is valedictorian of the 1983 Grosse

Poind North High School graduating class.

KATHARINE T. FORD, daughter of MR. and MRS. GORDON T. FORD, of The Farms, was named to the Dean's List of Distinguished students at the University of Richmond for the 1983 spring semester.

Slate Writer's Conference '83 in mid-October

The 22nd Annual Writer's Conference, co-sponsored by the Division of Continuing Education, Oakland University, and Detroit Women Writers, is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21 and 22, on Oakland's Rochester campus.

Brochures with details of the open-to-the-public program which offers both novice and published authors an opportunity to explore all facets of writing may be obtained by contacting Oakland's Division of Continuing Education, 377-3120.

The Friday conference sessions provide an arena for writers who wish to have their writing critiqued by professionals. Manuscripts submitted in advance by conferees will be discussed during 10 consecutive sessions, on fiction, non-fiction, poetry, outdoor writing, reviewing, writing for children and the teen market are also offered, along with programs on and displays of word processing equipment and electronic typewriters as "the state of the art" writers' tools.

Manuscripts to be evaluated must have been received by the Division of Continuing Education no later than Friday, Sept. 30.

Saturday sessions feature 33 separate workshops covering everything from how to break into various writing markets and what a literary agent can do for a writer to the fine arts of gagwriting and legalese.

Workshops in writing proposals and query letters, time management, research and turning notes into finished articles, plus the dif-

Plan pre-business women's seminar

A Pre-Business Workshop for Women for new or prospective owners or managers of small businesses will run from 8 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 22, at Wayne State University's Northeast Center located on Schroeder in East Detroit. The sessions, designed specifically for women, will focus on financing, record keeping, marketing, advertising and legal concerns.

After an introductory film, "Women and Business," attorney Susan J. Carlson will present "Planning and Organizing Your Business" and CPA Gloria Buciero will focus on costs and record keeping. The morning continues with a session on "Insurance Considerations" by Patricia Cook, of Michigan Mutual Insurance Company.

Afternoon workshops deal with "Financing Your Business," under the direction of Diane Seaman, loan officer with National Bank of Detroit, and "Promoting Your Business," presented by Jeanne Paluzzi, APR, president of JGP Public Relations.

The workshop leaders have invited other successful women owner/managers to share their experiences and answer questions in the concluding session.

Fee for the program, co-sponsored by WSU's College of Lifelong Learning and School of Business Administration's Small Business Development Center and the United States Small Business Administration, is $35. Registration information may be obtained by contacting Nancy Grose at WSU, 557-4710.

ferent aspects of fiction, non-fiction, poetry, outdoor writing, reviewing, writing for children and the teen market are also offered, along with programs on and displays of word processing equipment and electronic typewriters as "the state of the art" writers' tools.

Among professionals who will discuss their areas of expertise are New York Times Senior Editor Deborah Pines, Doubleday Editor Shaye Areheart, Harlequin Editor Wally Exman, Working Woman Magazine Editor Julia Kagan and Tony Schwartz, journalist/editor, plus numerous published authors and agents Steven Axelrod and John K. Payne.

Guest speaker following a 6 p.m. dinner Friday at Meadow Brook Hall, an event which offers conferees an opportunity to meet and talk with professionals in attendance, will be columnist Leola Floren.

Saturday registration begins at 8:30 a.m. Sessions are scheduled to start at 9 a.m. Keynote speaker Judith Guest, a member of Detroit Women Writers, author of the best selling novels "Ordinary People" and "Second Heaven," will address the group after a noon luncheon; conferees are invited to hear Guest whether or not they attend the luncheon.

Start Cesarean Birth classes

Cesarean Birth Information, a division of Childbirth Information Service, Inc., starts a new series of five weekly classes at Bi-County Hospital in Warren, for couples preparing for the birth of their baby by cesarean section, next Wednesday, Oct. 19.

Classes run from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Series fee is $30. Registrar Margie Rosenow may be reached at 776-

The course runs the gamut from the reasons for cesarean birth to "the fourth trimester," coming home from the hospital. Admission procedures, comfort measures and the father's role are discussed, along with testing for fetal maturity and the signs of labor. Two slide presentations will be offered.

Merry-Go-Rounder season set to begin

Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. The year will close with a Spring Affair April 28, at the GPYC.

Membership in Merry-Go-Rounders, now in its 34th season, is open, and the charter permits members to invite guests to any or all functions. Through the years, the club has sponsored elegant dinners with dancing music from the Big Band Era to the '80s. Chairman Alan, 886-9675, welcomes membership inquiries.

Founders luncheon for KKG Alumnae

The Detroit East Suburban Alumnae Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma celebrates Founders Day Tuesday, Oct. 18, with cocktails at 11:30 a.m. and luncheon an hour later at the Renaissance Club. The program will feature Ron Alpern, of the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation, speaking on Detroit's Riverfront.

Kappas will make birthday gifts for patients at the Detroit Rehabilitation Institute at a 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. workshop Tuesday, Nov. 8, in Emily Moellering's home. All KKG alumnae are welcome at both the luncheon program and the workshop, and encouraged to contact Ann Hathaway, association president, at 822-4160 for further information.

Slate Big Band benefit dance

Sentimental music by the Austin Moro Big Band will swing for metropolitan area needy children at Christ Child Society's "Big Band Celebration" dinner dance Friday Nov. 4, at the Club Venetian on John R in Madison Heights.

Proceeds from the $50 per person ticket donations, covering a prime rib dinner and complimentary beverage service throughout the evening, will support Christ Child House, a shelter for abused and neglected children, and the 550-member society's seven other service projects for underprivileged youngsters.

The party is open to the public. Reservations deadline is Friday, Oct. 21. Further information may be obtained by contacting Christ Child House, 584-6077, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays.

Yachtswomen meet tonight

Yachtswomen gather tonight, Thursday, Oct. 13, at 8 p.m. at the Great Lakes Yacht Club for a business meeting and pre-Halloween costume party, with judging and prizes for the best costumes. Hostesses for the evening are Jean and Nancy Krantz, Sandy Bauer, Carol Gregory and Marie Michaelson.

BRIAN J. SCHULTE, son of MR. and MRS. GEORGE A. SCHULTE, of Bournemouth Circle, and DONALD G. CALCATERRA, son of MR. and MRS. DONALD CALCATERRA of Oxford Road, were named to the Dean's List at Villanova University for the spring, 1983 semester.

THE ANN ARBOR ANTIQUES MARKET

Ann Arbor, Michigan

Margaret Brusher, Manager

FEATURING 300 quality dealers (all under cover) in the finest antiques and select collectibles. Very importantly, the Antique Market is Not A Flea Market, but a place where anyone can buy fairly priced antiques and collectibles with a full money back GUARANTEE as to authenticity provided by the antique dealers or the show manager. This is the nation's only Antiques Market where all the items are carefully screened to warrant this guarantee and to assure your buying confidence. No frustrating driving from one dealer and state to another inasmuch as 300 dealers are brought together from New England, the east, and midwest and west to this location for your convenience. Always several dealers every month who have never shown in the midwest before. Another unique feature of the market is not having the sellers set up the day before which may have precluded other purchasers from having equal opportunities. You will find much furniture including early country, painted and decorated, fine period Hepplewhite, Chippendale and Queen Anne, folk art, textiles, silver, Canton, porcelains, glass incl. Sandwich flint and pattern, china, special collections, pocket watches, miniature lamps, stoneware, pewter, spatter, clocks, buttons, pistols and guns, jewelry, paper, Oriental rugs, advertising - bottles, art glass, dolls, toys, American Indian baskets, folk art, early oils and prints.

Tour Boston-Edison homes in October

Boston-Edison Historic District residents have decided to replace their traditional Christmas home tour with a fall one this year, on Sunday, Oct. 16, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., with bus departures from Sacred Heart Seminary, Chicago Boulevard and Linwood, every 20 minutes.

The walking and shuttle bus tour of five houses is a trip back to the turn of the century via an excursion through the largest single-family residential historic district in the United States. Among familiar names from Detroit's past who resided there are Henry Ford, Horace Rackham, S.S. Kresge, James Couzens and Clyde Burroughs.

Resident tour guides will point out the district's fine exterior and interior architecture, and offer histories of the houses and the area. Cookies and refreshments will be served in the seminary's Bishop Gallagher Room.

Tickets for this Ninth Annual Boston-Edison Historic Home Tour are $6 per person and must be purchased in advance by sending checks, along with the time you would prefer to take the tour, to Historic Boston-Edison Home Tour, P.O. Box 06666, Detroit, Mich. 48206. Since tour sizes are limited, tickets should be ordered early to ensure the tour time of your choice.

Further information may be obtained by calling 357-0181. Tour proceeds will be used for beautification projects within Boston-Edison.

Invitation issued by Sweet Adelines

Women interested in singing barbershop harmony are invited to a Greater Detroit Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., guest night Tuesday, Oct. 18, in the Gabriel Richard Building on the University of Michigan-Dearborn campus.

The program begins at 7:30 p.m. Guests will be encouraged to participate in planned activities, learning a song in four-part harmony along with the chorus of 41 members representing 26 communities in the metropolitan area.

The chorus will present a mini-version of the "Stage Door Memories" show it will present Saturday, Nov. 26, at Orchestra Hall. The group also performs for senior citizen and church organizations and community-sponsored events. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Betty Gerlach at 671-0489 or 676-0482.

The Trial Gardens' best of the best . . .

The Grosse Pointe Garden Center, which holds its one fund raising event of the year, the annual Tour of Grosse Pointe Homes, this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 15 and 16, from 1 to 5 p.m., has been responsible all summer long for another civic project: the famous Trial Gardens at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Each year, garden clubs affiliated with the Garden Center tend the various Trial Garden plots with loving care — and great competition. The gardens are judged three times during the summer, and awards are presented at the end of the season. Accepting their awards for this year are (left to right) MRS. LAWRENCE WICKSON, for the Windmill Pointe Garden Club, second place; MRS. F.

LEWIS BARROLL, for the Garden Club of Michigan, first place; MRS. CHARLES BIGELOW, Trial Garden chairman; MRS. ARTHUR COLTON, for the Grosse Pointe Shores Farm and Garden Club, special maintenance award; and MRS. HAROLD SMITH, for the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club, third place. Tickets for the 1983 Tour of Homes may be purchased in advance at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, Vintage Pointe in-the-Village and Grosse Pointe Florists on Fisher Road. Further information may be obtained by calling the Garden Center, 881-4594, on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Red carpet for 'La Traviata' in Pointe . . .

Marshall, arrangements chairman, Marjorie Fahim, invitations chairman, Camilla Duffy, who will assist with advance ticket sales, Angela Cummings, who will assist with publicity, and Darlene Soave, who will assist with decorations, and Jan Duffy, who will assist with promotion. Admission is $10 per person, tax deductible, by advance ticket purchase only. Checks, payable either to Friends of FLEC or the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association, should be sent to Barbara Edwards, 315 Washington Road, Grosse Pointe, Mich. 48230. Please include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Valet parking will be available for $1 at the Grosse Pointe City Park on East Jefferson Avenue, at the foot of University Place, from where a shuttle will run to and from the theatre from 7 to 11:30 p.m.

GP Democratic Women to meet

The Grosse Pointe Democratic Women's Discussion Group will meet at Joyce Sander's home on Yorkshire Road this Sunday, Oct. 16, from 3 to 5 p.m. for a potluck dessert. Michigan Supreme Court Justice Patricia Boyle will speak and introduce Judge Patricia Schneider, appointed to the Grosse Pointe Woods Municipal Court in 1982 to fill a vacancy, now seeking election to that court in the non-partisan, uncontested race on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Helen Graves is chairing the afternoon program, at which husbands and friends are most welcome. Donations will be received for the group's work on Women's Issues.

Interested persons are also welcome at the group's regular monthly meeting next Wednesday, Oct. 19, at 7:45 p.m. in Dr. Graves' Buckingham Road home.

Rae Kuhn will lead a panel discussion on the Economic and Retirement Equity Act of 1983 for women and men. Ewa Bielski, chair of the Citizen's Commission on Pension Policy, will act as consultant.

H.R. Bill 2090 will have hearings in the United States Senate this month. Senator Donald Riegle can be contacted regarding these hearings. In the House, each section will be introduced as a separate bill by their authors. Representatives Geraldine Ferraro, Barbara Kennelly, Patricia Schroeder, Barber Conable, Barbara Mikalski and John Dingell.

Members of the Congressional Caucus for Women's Issues have worked with senators and consulted with major women's and civil rights organizations to develop reforms in private and public pension laws, tax policy, child support enforcement, insurance, child care policy and government regulation.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thryra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, THRIFTY MAIN DISH MEALS.

PENNY-WISE GARDEN CASSEROLE

Penny, calorie and cholesterol-wise, this unusual casserole is terrific. One-half pound very lean ground beef serves 4 to 5 persons generously.

6 cups sliced zucchini (about 1 1/4 lbs.)
1/2 lb. lean ground beef
1 small clove garlic, minced
1/2 tsp. salt
1 can (8 oz.) tomato paste
1/4 tsp. oregano
1/4 tsp. basil
1 cup small-curd skim milk cottage cheese
1/4 cup egg substitute, well beaten
1 Tbsp. parsley flakes
1/4 cup dry bread crumbs
1 cup shredded Mozzarella cheese (4 oz.)

Cook zucchini in boiling water in saucepan until tender-crisp, about 5 minutes. Drain. Cook ground beef and garlic in teflon skillet until beef is browned, about 5 minutes. Stir salt, tomato paste, oregano and basil into beef mixture.

Stir together cottage cheese, beaten "egg" and parsley. Place half of zucchini in greased, 8-inch square baking pan. Sprinkle with half of bread crumbs. Spread with half of the cottage cheese mixture, then with half of the beef mixture, then half of the Mozzarella cheese. Repeat layers, but reserve remaining Mozzarella cheese. Bake in preheated 350° oven 25 minutes. Sprinkle with reserved Mozzarella cheese. Return to oven just long enough to melt the cheese, about 3 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

STUFFED ESCAROLE

2 medium heads escarole
3 Tbsp. olive oil
5 extra-large olives, chopped
4 filets of anchovies, chopped
1 Tbsp. pine nuts
1 Tbsp. seeded raisins
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 pound very lean beef, ground
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 Tbsp. minced parsley

Saute meat about 10 minutes, or until slightly browned, in 1 Tbsp. olive oil. Remove from fire. Add nuts, raisins, chopped olives, chopped anchovies, a pinch of salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly. If too dry, add 2 Tbsp. hot water.

Remove outer leaves from escarole. Wash heads thoroughly; flatten them out. Place half of mixture in center of each. Close heads and tie with string so stuffing does not fall out. Arrange in a pan. Pour balance of oil over all. Cover tightly and cook over low flame about 20 minutes, or until escarole is tender. Turn occasionally to avoid burning. If needed, add another Tbsp. olive oil. Makes 4 servings as an entree. Calories about 241 per serving. Cholesterol about 40 mgs.

STIR-FRY TURKEY WITH WALNUTS

1 egg white
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
2 Tbsp. white wine
2 cups leftover turkey, cut into strips
2 Tbsp. vegetable oil
3 slices ginger root, sliced 1/4-inch thick
1/2 cup walnut halves
1/2 cup snow peas
1 cup bean sprouts
1 cup bok choy or celery, sliced 1/4 inch thick
4 to 5 water chestnuts, sliced 1/4-inch thick
2 Tbsp. diced pimiento
1 Tbsp. soy sauce
Cooked brown rice

In small bowl, combine egg white, cornstarch and wine and beat lightly with a whisk. Dip turkey strips in mixture and set aside on waxed paper. Place oil and ginger root in wok or large skillet at room temperature; turn on heat under pan and stir-fry until ginger is slightly brown and oil is hot. Remove ginger and discard; add walnuts and stir-fry until browned. Remove walnuts and set aside; add turkey, stirring until warm. Add peas, bean sprouts, bok choy and water chestnuts. Stir-fry about 3 minutes, or until vegetables are tender but crunchy. Add pimento and reserved walnuts. When ready to serve, add soy sauce. Serve with fluffy brown rice. Makes 4 servings.

Calories about 318 per serving.
Cholesterol about 54 mgs.

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

I found out last week that Dow Chemical, U.S.A., reads this column.

If that's not enough to send chills up and down a person's spine, I don't know what is.

I discovered this interesting bit of information when I received a letter from Dow asking me not to confuse their product Styrofoam with the plastic foam substance used to make everything from disposable dinnerware to Howard Cosell's toupee holder. I had done that previous deed in print in a column which poked fun at football fans who wear those silly-looking gigantic foam cowboy hats to be conspicuous enough to get a sideline TV camera focused their way.

Well, Dow didn't like that. The company sent me a nice little brochure detailing how Styrofoam is made (now that I know, I can sleep at night), why Dow employs a national clipping service to scan periodicals for mentions of its product, and a stern little paragraph on why I was incorrect in my usage of the product brand name, Styrofoam.

It was a clever little brochure and pleasant enough, I guess. But the undertone was clear: DO NOT EVER MISUSE OUR PRODUCT NAME AGAIN, YOUNG LADY!!!! And after all the notoriety Dow has endured over the years, it was hard not to worry just a little when I realized that a giant company like Dow is reading little sports columns from unimportant Grosse Pointe, written by one so unassuming as me.

It got me to thinking that names we use for lots of ordinary, every day things also belong to companies who use them, and protect them, as trademarks for their products. In its brochure, Dow emphasized that the reason it was contacting me on this minor point was that it was legally bound to protect its trademark in order to keep that trademark.

Then that got me to wondering about what would happen if every company, large and small, took exception to the way in which certain words were used . . .

Those tricky trademarks . . .

What would happen if those companies monitored a program like, say, "Monday Night Football?"

Howard Cosell: "Good evening, ladies and gentlemen."

(Voice Over: "Sorry. The term ladies and gentlemen is a registered trademark of the International Public Restroom Identity." (Continued on Page 2C)

They came, they shivered, they ran . . .

Last Sunday was "Marathon Day" in Grosse Pointe and like every year, marathon watchers were out in full force, despite 17 mile per hour winds and 47 degree temperatures.

They started gathering on street corners along Jefferson, Kerby and Kercheval as early as 9 a.m., starting time for the sixth annual Detroit Free Press International Marathon. It would be another hour and a half before the first runner came into sight, but the Pointe's marathon fans were ready.

A Stroh's Light van had been parked on Jefferson just below Whittier, dispensing water to the runners and a carnival-like atmosphere to the spectators. A brightly-colored sailboat sail marked another refreshment point, whipping in the stiff breeze on Lakeshore Road near Moran.

The ladies of the Grosse Pointe American Association of Business Women had set up shop too, long before marathon winner David Olds streaked down Kercheval-on-the-Hill enroute to his Boston Marathon qualifying time of 2:16.10.

"We're enthusiastic about the runners and we want to make our contribution to the community," said Judy Roarty, ABWA's chapter secretary. Chapter members Pat Artz, chapter treasurer; Yvonne Nutter, chapter president; Rose Graff and Patricia McAlinden spent pre-race time in front of Richard School's playground, filling cups of water, giggling about the temperature and containing their pre-race excitement.

The objects of their affections, the leaders of 4,100 runners entered in the event, hit Grosse Pointe at 10:15 a.m., and among them, 96 marathon finishers from Grosse Pointe. Following are the names and finishing times of those Grosse Pointe runners.

Weidenbach is runner-up

By Greg Lapinski

Grosse Pointe Woods resident Bill Weidenbach was the runner-up in Sunday's 6th Detroit Free Press International Marathon with a time of 2:17:17 — good enough to qualify him for the 1984 U.S. Olympic Trials.

Weidenbach, 23, of River Road, finished just one minute and seven seconds behind winner David Olds, who finished the 26.2-mile race in 2:16:10.

"I thought I had a chance to catch him (Olds), but I just didn't react in time," Weidenbach explained. "He made his move at just the right time. He just reacted quicker."

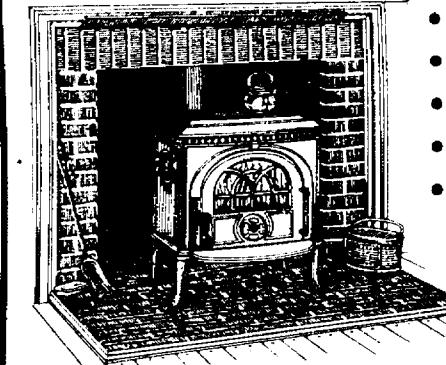

While obviously disappointed at not winning, Weidenbach did find reason to be pleased with his performance. "Of course, I'm disappointed. But I beat my PR (personal record) by four minutes and made the Olympic Trials, so I'm pleased with that," he said.

Most runners said the brisk wind was a factor and Weidenbach was quick to agree. "It was just terrible," he said.

He also said that because of the strong winds, the early pace was "so slow it was scary. The split time was 1:09:30, so we had to pick it up to make the Olympic Trial time (2:19:04). But when we got to Kerby, the wind was at our back and we were on our way."

Weidenbach is a University of Michigan graduate and also ran track there. He logged about 100 miles a week in preparation for Sunday's race, his third marathon.

The No. 2 ranked South girls' tennis team competes in the regional playoffs today and tomorrow, Oct. 14 and 15.

South's Blue Devil football squad faces its toughest test so far this season this week when they hit the road for L'Anse Creuse North. LCN is undefeated in the EML and sports a 5-0 record just like South. Game time is 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 14.

It's not Michigan versus Michigan State, but it'll do. North's varsity soccer squad takes on cross-town rival South tomorrow, Oct. 14, at 4 p.m. at South.

Well, you see what I mean. It could tend to get really ridiculous after a while. As a good reporter, I'll admit I should keep a better vigil against the occurrence of such terrible things as "the misuse of the Dow trademark" as Dow put it in its brochure. But with all apologies to Dow, let's not get fanatical about this.

But, I'll be careful. Especially when the thought of another communication from Dow (the Mr. T. of the chemical world) makes my insides turn to Jello. (I know, I know. Jello is a registered trade name for a sweet, gelatinous dessert and not to be used to describe the intestines of a nervous human being.)

There are still several openings.

Pointe trio earns skateboard honors

Bill Tocco, Bill Danforth and Andy Rogers are Grosse Pointe's best skateboarders - and the rest of Michigan knows it after the trio's performance in the recent skateboard tournament, the state's largest, held at Endless Summer Skatepark in Roseville.

Tocco, 14, of Lochmoor Boulevard, finished in fourth place in the Sept. 24 event. He was first in the pool division, first in the ramp division and third in freestyle in addition to taking the best overall trophy in his division. Tocco, a former BMX racer, has been skateboarding for one year.

Rogers, 15, of Moran Road, a two-year veteran, took first in freestyle, and second in both ramp and pool. Danforth, 17, of Rose Terrace, has been skating for three years and is sponsored by Madrid/Tracker. He took first in ramp, second in pool and fourth in freestyle in the recent tournament, held at the only functioning skatepark in Michigan.

Rogers practices nearly every day for the tourney, according to Tocco's mother. Danforth and Tocco both have built ramps at their homes for their practice sessions. Tocco plans to build a one-quarter pipe ramp sometime in the near future.

More than 40 skateboarders from all over Michigan participated in the event.

North loses one in mud

By Rick Markel

When it rains, it pours, and last week Dearborn rained on North's varsity football team.

The Norsemen not only had to go against a good team but it also had to fight through a first half downpour. After five North turnovers and a 65-yard touchdown play, the Norsemen had come up on the short end of a 10-7 score.

Despite the poor weather conditions, North Coach Frank Sumner wasn't about to make any excuses. "We were our own worst enemy" said the coach. A lot of penalty yards and the numerous turnovers were exactly what the coach was talking about.

North spotted the Pioneers a first quarter field goal and held them until the final quarter. A one-yard touchdown run in the second quarter by North's Fred Schultz gave North a lead which stood up for most of the game. A rare defensive mistake allowed the Pioneers to take a 10-7 lead on a 65-yard flea-flicker pass with only seven minutes to play. North's offense, which had a hard time because of the weather and Schultz's injuries, couldn't make up the three-point deficit.

North's strength was in its defense. The Norsemen's secondary also contained the Pioneers' top receiver but defense just wasn't enough.

North will get another chance on Saturday as it returns home for the annual homecoming game. North will take a 4-1 record into the battle against Lakeview. One major concern of Coach Sumner is not to let the distractions of homecoming affect the team, he said. A hard fought contest is expected. Kickoff, as usual, is 1 p.m.

JV, frosh fall

Playing the Pioneers to a scoreless first half North just ran out of gas in the second half, losing 21-0. The loss dropped the JV Norsemen to 2-3.

The freshman football team lost to Port Huron Northern, 20-6. Chris Rodriguez scored North's one touchdown on a three-yard run. The team's record dropped to 2-2.

Swimmers drop two

In what has proved to be a rollercoaster season, North's swim team has suddenly fallen on the downside. Its record is a respectable 2-3, but considering the facts, the Norsemen have to be feeling somewhat empty as a result of two recent meets.

North started out its season by winning two of the first three meets, but since then has gone just 1-2.

Ann Arbor Pioneer, ranked second in the state, was a recent Norsemen opponent. Though North lost, the meet was close (North trailing by only six points) until the last four events. The final score was 102-68, but the score wasn't indicative of North's performance. Rival South also managed to get its licks in as they defeated North, 105-67.

Well, you see what I mean. It could tend to get really ridiculous after a while. As a good reporter, I'll admit I should keep a better vigil against the occurrence of such terrible things as "the misuse of the Dow trademark" as Dow put it in its brochure. But with all apologies to Dow, let's not get fanatical about this.

But, I'll be careful. Especially when the thought of another communication from Dow (the Mr. T. of the chemical world) makes my insides turn to Jello. (I know, I know. St. Clare 15-0 in volleyball

St. Clare ran its volleyball record to 15-0 with wins last week over Warren St. Anne, East Detroit St. Veronica and Detroit's Assumption and St. Matthew.

Service leaders for St. Clare included Paula Hines, Roseanne Salomone and Theresa Vitale. The offense was paced by Jeanne Purrenhage, Cece Rettig, Megan Keller and Chris Schulte.

In the 15 match wins, St. Clare has yet to lose a single game in 30 straight attempts. The depth of the team has been controlled by the consistent play of Mari-Jane Garling, Kim LaBranche, Karyn Valenti, Lila Wajeeh and Lynn Mazure.

St. Clare will defend its Bishop Gallagher Tournament championship title for the sixth straight year this Saturday, Oct. 15. St. Clare will then host the first round of the CYO playoffs on Saturday, Oct. 22.

St. Clare grid mark is 5-0

St. Clare of Montefalco scored twice in the second quarter, then held on to defeat St. Ambrose, 16-12, last Sunday, for its fifth straight football win.

Fullback Doug Lucas plunged in from the three to climax a 13-play, 54-yard drive, then booted the first of two decisive extra point kicks, to give St. Clare an 8-0 margin.

The Cavaliers fumbled the ensuing kickoff, which was recovered by Mike Paull. On the first play, QB Rodger Hunwick sprinted 21 yards for another Falcon tally. Lucas' conversion made it 16-0.

St. Clare had two more scoring opportunities in the second quarter, giving up the ball both times on the 19-and 10-yard lines. St. Ambrose's Allen Mays took the second half kickoff and raced 63 yards to paydirt. The attempted run for the extra point failed, and the Falcons' lead had been cut to 16-6.

In the fourth quarter, Lou Dobbs recovered a fumble on the Cavaliers' 44. A penalty moved the ball to the 29, but the Cavs defense dug in and stopped the Falcon drive at the 20. On the next offensive play, Alex Greene streaked 80 yards, breaking several tackles for another St. Ambrose score. An attempted run for the extra points failed, but the Falcons' margin had dwindled to four points, 16-12.

Following the kickoff, St. Clare moved to the St. Ambrose 18 where it was stopped. After two plays, St. Ambrose fumbled and the clock ran out.

St. Clare's offense rolled up 227 yards rushing, including 105 by Paull and 76 by Lucas, and 27 yards passing. St. Ambrose was held to 81 net yards on the ground and only six in the air.

WOMEN FINISHERS

No. 3 to No. 417 — Ann Schmidt, 2:56:14; P. Vernon, 3:19:21; Ilse Hamers, 3:20:11; Margie Fahim, 3:46:34; Laura Gallagher, 3:47:23; Danielle Varga, 3:54:40; Carolyn Ortevin, 3:55:22; Carol Mansfield, 3:56:51; Linda Aronson, 3:58:00; Susan Youngblood, 4:05:55; Kathleen Wood, 4:14:41; Janet Graetz, 4:15:53; Kathleen Speck, 4:16:14; Maureen Bruce, 4:20:38; Margaret Appelle, 4:26:04; Patricia Chargot, 4:44:55; and Ann Sullivan, 5:00:02.

A total of 3,553 runners finished the marathon. In the wheelchair division, Marty Ball, of Rhinebeck, N.Y., finished first in 2:11:55, to take the wheelchair trophy.

Pointer Ann Schmidt's 2:56:14 was her best finish ever; she's run 13 marathon races. But Schmidt was still a bit disappointed.

"I had hoped to do a lot better than I did. It just wasn't my day, I guess. But I'm happy."

Schmidt added that like other runners, she had to fight the strong wind ... and like other runners, she was buoyed by the great Grosse Pointe reception the runners got.

"It means a lot. It's the high point of the race, I think," Schmidt said Monday.

Spectator Jean Carey, who watched the race with her parents, Tom and Esther Carey, of Charlevoix, agreed.

"I was out there running last year and the crowd is really a lifesaver. It's a neat feeling."

Pee Wee Bruins

win opener

The Grosse Pointe Pee Wee Bruins, a brand new travel team coached by Gary Weid, won their first two Little Caesars Amateur Hockey league games last week.

Opening their season at home Oct. 6, the Bruins defeated a strong Windsor Club 240, 3-2. After a scoreless first period, John Deacon scored in the second period after taking passes from Patrick Bond and Robert Bourbeau. Patrick Bond scored in the third period; Brian Kiernicki and Andrew Bond assisting.

Windsor came back with two quick goals to tie the game, but with 1:22 left, Deacon put the Bruins out in front with a pass from Patrick Bond and Kiernicki. Strong defensive play by Jason Weid and Michael Coello was instrumental in containing the Club 240 team.

The Bruins traveled to the Detroit Skating Club Oct. 7 to take a 2-1 victory over the Bloomfield Hills Bandits. Beltz started the scoring in the first period with a handoff from Brian Kroenke. The Bandits tied it up early in the second only to fall behind for good on a pretty goal by Deacon, who tipped in Bourbeau's shot. Strong defensive play from Peter Donaldson and the ever-quick glove hand of Marc Orsini were too much for the Bandits in the scoreless third period. Bobby Beltz is also a member of the Bruins.

The Bruins are sponsored by Ken Meade of Meade Leasing and Pointe Dodge.

Marlies split exhibitions

The Grosse Pointe Marlboro Midget A travel hockey club opened last week with a convincing, 5-2 exhibition win over Romeo Oct. 5.

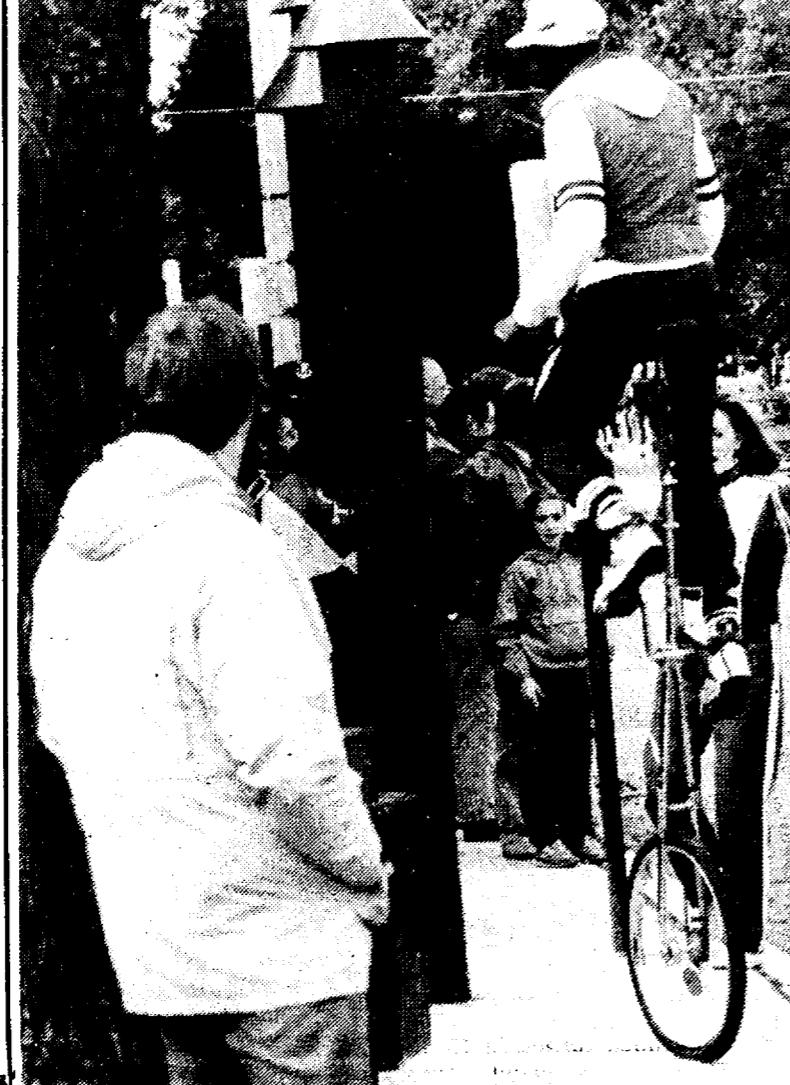

The visitors twice broke out on top before the Marlies settled down to dominate the rest of the game. Scoring hero was winger John Hirschfeld, who led the attack with three goals. Joe Sullivan and captain Mike Brykalski provided the other Grosse Pointe scoring.

Defenseman Chris Valicevic contributed to the Marlie cause as he assisted on three Grosse Pointe goals. Jamie Parker had two assists and Ugval, Brykalski and Amore each had one set-up.

The Marlies got a little ambitious, stepping up to the AA bracket to play an outstanding Fraser club in exhibition play. The Marlies played well in a 2-0 loss.

South still perfect

It was cold and raining last Saturday, but the sun was shining on the Blue Devil's varsity football team when it routed Port Huron Northern 28-0 for its third consecutive shutout. The win was South's fifth in a row and gave the Devils a perfect 4-0 EML record.

Paul Hawk got the team rolling with a 47-yard touchdown run on the second play from scrimmage. Dale Graham added the extra point and South led, 7-0. Quarterback John Williamson then guided the team scoring on one- and 13-yard runs as South took a 21-0 lead at the half.

John MacDonald then capped off the scoring in the third quarter with an eight-yard touchdown run. In the fourth quarter second stringers Tim Caputo and quarterback Terry Ayrault shut the Huskies down with long time consuming drives.

The Blue Devils will take on perhaps their toughest opponent, L'Anse Creuse North, this Friday night, Oct. 14, at 7:30 p.m. L'Anse Creuse North is also unbeaten and has the home field advantage in this EML battle.

JV, freshmen split

The JV football team downed Port Huron Northern, 20-8, last week, increasing its record to 3-2. Chris Astfalk led the team with a 75-yard kickoff return for a touchdown. The JV will take on L'Anse Creuse North today, Oct. 13, at home at 4 p.m.

Golfers win

The boys' golf team raised its EML record to 6-3 last week, winning two of three matches. On Oct. 3, the golfers beat Port Huron, 201-250. Jud Kotas was the low scorer for South with his 40 for nine holes.

South then edged L'Anse Creuse North, 207-227, as Kotas was again spectacular with a 38. On Oct. 6, the team lost to Port Huron Northern, 205-207, as Kurt Liebold led South with a 38. The team will compete in the regionals this weekend. The top four teams from each region will compete in the state tournament.

Netters win EML

For the 10th year in a row, South's varsity girls' tennis team won the EML tournament. This year's team won with 21 points, followed by Port Huron Northern with 14. Earlier in the week, the girls leveled Kingswood, 7-0. The girls are competing in regionals today and tomorrow, Oct. 13 and 14.

The JV tennis team also won the EML, totalling an incredible 15 points, followed by Port Huron with five. Sarah Mayer, Beth Brumme, and Ann Nicholson played well for South.

A cross country first

South's boys' cross country team beat North for the first time ever last week. The 25-32 triumph left South with a 3-1 record.

Jon Roberts led the team with a 15:58, followed by Jim Nicholson at 16:23 and Ricky Campbell with a 16:24. Earlier in the week, South finished 16 out of 28 teams in the Pioneer Invitational. Roberts again led the team with a 16:58 followed by Campbell with a 17:06 and Nicholson with a 17:23. The team will continue its season next Tuesday home at 4 p.m. against East Detroit.

Later last week, sophomore Nacy Solterisch set a South record, breaking 19 minutes (18:57) in the 5000 meters as the girls' cross country team finished second among 18 teams. Only about five Class A girls have run under 19:00 in the 5000 meters this season.

The girls also lost to North; their record is now 4-1. They will host East Detroit at 4 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 18.

Blue Demons pick team

The Grosse Pointe Blue Demons, the GPHA's Mite "A" travel team for 1983-84, was recently selected. The squad will be led by the returning Cullen McMahon and Chicago transfer Kevin Brennan. Mike Klobuchar, Marcel Chagnon and Sean Darke, three of the highest scoring players in the GPHA Mite House history, are also on the team.

Chris Chagnon will coach the Blue Demons; he led last season's Mite House champions and compiled the highest winning percentage. He will be assisted by John Klobuchar, Steve Keenan and Frank Taylor.

The coaches feel that despite the loss of 11 players to the squirt level and the transfer of three to Compupware, the Demons have the potential to return to Adray finals.

The Blue Demon roster includes Lanny Tracy, Bradley Eickhorst, Kip Gottfredson, Michael Carron, Brennan, McMahon, Darke, Klobuchar and Chagnon, from the Pointe; Mark Tapp, Troy Taylor, Steven Solaka, Joey Provenzano, Marc Primeau and Jumane Benton, from outside the Pointe.

Red Barons drop three

The talented Denby Bulldogs used speed and size to take victories over the Grosse Pointe freshman, JV and varsity Red Baron teams Oct. 9.

In the freshman game, Bob Kutscher introduced a new offense, led by quarterback Brandon Cromar, who started his first game at that position. Mixing his plays well, Cromar used backs Mark Cepedes and Drew Woodruff to set up passing plays to Rob Koenle and Kevin Raymond.

The Barons moved the ball well on offense, but were shut out by a tough Bulldog defense. On defense, the Barons couldn't contain Kevin Haynes, who quarterbacked Denby, using his backs to pound the Baron line and working the passing game for three touchdowns and take a 20-0 win.

Playing well on defense for the Grosse Pointe freshmen were Mike Koenigbauer, Cromar, Koenle, Jim Kutscher, Kenny Barfield, and Harlan Camps.

The JV ran into the same problem — a big, quick Denby squad — in losing its game to the Bulldogs, 20-7.

Denby's Len Holmes ran wild, scoring two of the Bulldogs' touchdowns. The Baron defense played tough but could not contain the multi-offense Bulldogs. The tone of the game was set early when Marty Wayman put a rock-hard tackle on Holmes and set the stage for hard hitting the rest of the day.

Steve Horn, Cam Pyle and Steve Crapotta played well on defense. Offensively, Steve Shumerski had another great day, running well and nearly breaking two tackles for touchdowns. Jason DeYonker set up the only Baron score with his running as Brian Letscher scored on a quarterback sneak with just a minute to play.

Rolland Lorbach, Rob Rinaldi, Dave Monette, Matt Mogk, Jamie Osborn and Bryan Ford played well for Grosse Pointe.

The varsity game proved to be the most exciting of the afternoon as Denby was able to eke out only a 14-12 win.

Rick Moore returned to the coaching ranks for the first time in two years and the Barons played a typical Rick Moore game — inside the tackles.

Denby again showed great size and speed as they shot out to a 14-0 lead before the Barons roared back. Scott Smith quarterbacked his first game and drove the Barons down the field time after time, only to be stopped by the Bulldogs.

Rich Regalado ran amazingly well, totalling over 100 yards against a team that has blown out each of its opponents this year. Jay Binder and Rob Crane also added valuable yards as the Barons scored twice late in the game to make things close.

The entire varsity played extremely well — from John Baal, Jason Bliss and Matt and Mike Montagne in the "trenches" to pass catchers Lance Harding and Matt Dillenbeck — as the squad never gave in to a Denby team that was favored to win by 30 points.

G.P. Swim Club will open year this week

Thirty-two area swimmers will travel to Lahser High School in Bloomfield Hills this weekend as the Grosse Pointe Swim Club starts the 1983-84 Michigan-U.S. Swimming short course (25-yard indoor pool) season.

The Birmingham-Bloomfield Atlantis A-B meet is the first of some 30 meets the club will contest, all leading to the Michigan Girls' and Boys' state championship in March.

Swimmers will pick up orders for distribution Saturday, Oct. 22, at Jim Saros Agency, 17108 Mack Avenue, between 2 and 3 p.m.

Pierce selects cheer squad

Pierce Middle School selected 11 cheerleaders from a field of 35 hopefuls to form the 1983-84 team, according to Fran Ralstrom, team sponsor.

Those selected include Kari Dierkes, captain; Bonnie Berschback, co-captain; and Elizabeth Emery, Elizabeth Ranno, Tracy Loverde and Martha Hearn, for the eighth grade.

Seventh grade team members are Liz Murphy, captain; Naunie Coddens, co-captain; Becky Fordree, Megan Smith and Karen Trefzer.

Lisa Tucker, a cheerleader from Grosse Pointe South High School, coached the Pierce cheerleading aspirants since late August in preparation for team tryouts.

The 11 girls will lead their classmates in cheers at Pierce athletic events during the current school year.

Prep Bowl '83 is Nov. 6

Prep Bowl '83, the annual prep football, cheerleading and band extravaganza, is set for Sunday, Nov. 6, at the Silverdome.

Four high school championship football games, C.Y.O. middle school action, hundreds of cheerleaders, pompon performers and colorful bands highlight the action, which will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through the last game kickoff at 8 p.m.

Tickets are $3 each and are on sale at the Silverdome, CTC outlets, Little Caesars stores and the Catholic League offices. Further information may be obtained by calling 237-5980.

Woods receives commendations

It was awards night Monday, Oct. 3, at the Woods council meeting, with city officials receiving commendations from the National

New rules for taxing benefits begin in 1984

Starting in 1984, part of the Social Security benefits received by people with substantial other income may be subject to the Federal income tax, said James T. Moslener, District Manager.

This change in the law was part of the 1983 Social Security amendments which were designed to strengthen the Social Security program for many years into the future, Moslener said.

The city received its award for its continuing Arbor Day program of handing out tree seedlings to fifth grade students at area grade schools, Mrs. Hayes said. The commission has also been involved in other programs, including gypsy moth identification programs for students, she said.

The city received a Certificate of Conformance in Financial Reporting from the MFOA for its annual fiscal report for its fiscal year ending June 30, 1982. City Assessor-Comptroller Frederick Hornfisher also received an award of Financial Reporting Achievement for his work in making sure the city met reporting standards.

The amount of benefits subject to taxes will be the smaller of: one-half of the Social Security benefits, or one-half of the amount of the person's combined income — adjusted gross income, nontaxable interest income, and half of the Social Security benefit — exceeds the base amount.

Some adjustments in benefit payments may be possible, said Moslener. Any overpayment that person repays during the year can be deducted.

Also, any lump sum received can be prorated to the year for which it was paid if that is an advantage. Any Medicare medical insurance premium deducted must be included in total benefits.

The Internal Revenue Service will provide complete instructions on how to file tax returns. Social Security has a free leaflet which briefly explains about taxing benefits.

Copies of the leaflet can be obtained at any Social Security office.

More information about this tax can be obtained by contacting the Social Security office located at 17420 Mack Avenue or by calling 493-1111, the general information number.

Arbor Day Foundation, Municipal Finance Officers Association, American Automobile Association and the Building Officials and Code Administrators International.

Building Inspector Earl Wakely received a certificate of recognition from BOCA for his service as chairman of the Basic Fire Prevention Code Changes committee for 1982 and 1983.

The Woods also received the Grand Award for Excellence from AAA for its pedestrian safety record. The award was presented to Mayor Freeman, Director of Public Safety Jack Patterson and Traffic Safety Officer Patrick Fagan.

AAA manager of safety and traffic engineering Robert Cullen said the city placed first of 1,006 cities of its size in the safety of pedestrians. The city has won six grand awards from AAA since 1963, he added.

Also at its Monday night meeting, the council concurred on Freeman's appointment of Lenora Stone to the city's Beautification Advisory Commission.

Ms. Stone is a 2-year resident of the Woods with a bachelor of arts degree from Marygrove College. She is also associated with the American Association of University Women and Grosse Pointe Theater, according to her biographical sketch presented to council at the meeting.

Child abuse must be reported

It is estimated by the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect in Washington, D.C., that if comprehensive reporting existed in all jurisdictions, there would be as many as a million reports of abused and neglected children each year: approximately 200,000 abused and 800,000 neglected.

Deaths each year from child abuse and neglect-related injuries are estimated at 2,000.

In Wayne County the Department of Social Services recorded some 6,769 new abuse and neglect cases and handled 1,438 repeat cases, totaling 8,207 cases in 1978. Of these cases, 1,343 were reported to the Detroit Police Department. As a result, 112 warrants were issued.

Every year the Department of Social Services receives an increasingly alarming number of child abuse and neglect referrals. Along with this increase, deaths attributed to abuse also have risen substantially.

Their definition of child abuse is harm or threatened harm to a child (under the age of 17) which occurs through non-accidental physical or mental injury, sexual abuse or maltreatment.

The four major types of abuse are physical, emotional, sexual and verbal.

Child neglect is harm to a child which occurs through negligent treatment including failure to provide adequate food, clothing, shelter, medical care and adult supervision.

Michigan law requires that physicians, coroners, dentists, medical examiners, nurses, audiologists, certified social workers, social work technicians, school administrators, school counselors or teachers, law enforcement officers, or regulated child care providers who have reasonable cause to suspect child abuse or neglect to make a report immediately by telephone or otherwise.

Within 72 hours, the reporting person must file a written report.

The person acting in good faith who makes a report will be immune from civil or criminal liability.

ULS soccer streak ends at seven

The University Liggett School varsity soccer team's winning streak came to an end Oct. 4, with a 5-3 loss to the Cranbrook School "Cranes". The loss, only the second in two years, was particularly disappointing for the Knights since the team dominated the Cranes in the first half of the game on three goals by forwards Johannes Homan, Rick Roberts and fullback Dan Bowen. ULS led 3-2 at the half.

In the second half the Knights' attack stalled, as the bigger and stronger Cranes controlled the game, battling back to score three unanswered goals. ULS goalkeeper Jeff Jucas made 19 saves, 13 of them coming in the second half. Coach David Backhurst noted after the game, "Our performance in the first half was excellent, but the second half was difficult. This was a learning experience which should help us in future games."

ULS will travel to Southfield Christian on Friday, Oct. 14, to determine the championship of the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference. The next home game will be a first round state tournament game on Saturday, Oct. 15, at 10:30 a.m. against Lutheran North. The Knights' record is now 7-1-1.

Golfers win

The ULS linksters continued their roller coaster golf season on a high note. On Sept. 22, the Knights defeated Dearborn High, 165-179. Dain French led the field with a 40 on the front nine at Lochmoor Country Club.

On Oct. 4, the Knights continued their winning ways at Lochmoor by defeating both Cranbrook and Bishop Gallagher. Liggett's leading players were Jim Valice (39), John MacLeod (40), Peter Dahlberg (42), and French (43). The final score was ULS, 164; Bishop Gallagher, 171 and Cranbrook, 175.

"The whole team was proud of this victory. Cranbrook has a strong golf program and this is the first time we've beaten them," Valice said.

Liggett's record is now 8-4. At 4 p.m. today, Thursday, Oct. 13, the Knights will face North at Lochmoor.

Cagers fall

ULS' girls' varsity basketball team lost a squeaker, 32-30, to Huron Valley Lutheran last week. ULS led in the scoring throughout the game until HVL garnered a one point advantage with just 46 seconds to go in the final period. Then a technical foul was called against ULS with two seconds remaining and Dawn Warden made the shot for the two-point victory.

Susan Cleek led ULS with 13 points, followed by Sam DeSmet (10) and Thena Cherpes five. Amy Luedtke was high scorer for HVL with eight points. Coach Mary McAfee commented that "The game was won on free throw shots which accounted for almost half of the total points."

The girls' next home game is Friday, Oct. 14, at 4:30 p.m. against Oakland Christian.

On Oct. 4, University Liggett School's field hockey team tied the very aggressive, well-schooled Ann Arbor Pioneers. The play was wide open throughout most of the game, until the last 10 minutes of the game when the Pioneers began to dominate. The defensive skills of goalie Ruth McCrary, halfback Ann Ciaffone, and fullback Barry Hamilton allowed ULS to retain the tie.

The girls' next home game will be on Oct. 14, at 4 p.m. against Greenhills.

Morris tapped for IHL camp

South High graduate Bob Morris was invited to the International Hockey League's (IHL) referee training camp in Windsor, Ont., Sept. 24 and 25.

North cheerleaders cheer Lions on North cheerleaders spirited the Detroit Lions to victory Sunday, Oct. 9, sharing the honor of cheering at the Silverdome with three other enthusiastic squads. Enjoying the chance to cheer at the Silverdome were North seniors Kelley Brady and Tina Partmentier; juniors Dana Deacon, Chrissy Jara, Kathleen Mazey, Twenty Michigan high school varsity squads have been invited to cheer for the Lions this season.

lack in skill we make up in determination and enthusiasm."

The team lost its opener to Cranbrook, 2-1, on a fluke goal which ricocheted off of a Liggett defender. In the tightly-fought contest, the sole ULS goal was scored on a curving, picture-perfect "direct" kick by Bucky Drewek.

ULS battled Detroit Country Day School to a 0-0 tie Sept. 27, in a game dominated by tough defense on both sides.

The team's victory came Sept. 29, with a 4-1 win over Southfield Christian. During a 10-minute sprint late in the first half, ULS players Bill Luchen, Bob Scoville and Tristan Guevarra scored all four goals.

Coach Wright feels that his most important role this season is to develop his players rather than simply achieve a certain win-loss record. "We are emphasizing skill drills rather than scrimmaging," explained Wright. "Good sportsmanship on the field is also a primary objective, and don't forget we also have a lot of fun! We enjoy what we do."

We are sorry to announce that Dr. Brummel, Mrs. Joan Hanpeter and the other members of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education seem to be flunking their American Government class this year.

While they profess to have keen insights regarding the educational and social needs of the community they've been elected to serve, they tend to speak in generalities about how closing schools will make kids smarter.

We assumed that the passage of the millage in March, 1983, was a vote of confidence that we liked the way our schools were operating. Apparently, not so.

The school closing Proposal, however, has triggered a number of community-wide meetings of homeowners, parents, senior citizens and members of the educational and business community. The conclusion: the Board is totally out of touch with the community on this issue.

So how do you get the message across to the Board? First we tried rhetoric. But anyone attending any of the school hearings soon realized this was hopeless. So we decided to go to the people in order to prove our point: that this issue had such far-reaching social, educational and cultural implications . . . it would require much more thoughtful study before it got community-wide approval.

We took it upon ourselves to conduct an Opinion Survey. Here was our methodology. We went door to door in all five of the Grosse Pointes. We asked the question (1) "Do you agree that all current Grosse Pointe Elementary Schools should remain open?" If the answer was 'no,' we merely thanked the homeowner for the time and made a notation of the address. If the answer was 'yes,' the homeowner was asked for their signature and asked some other opinions including (2) If the consolidation goes through would you consider a private school? and (3) Would you consider a recall if the Proposal goes through? Here are the facts: As of Friday, October 8th, we had signatures of over 6,525 homeowners. The results:

DO YOU WANT ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS OPEN — YES 93%

Another sidelight of our survey was the strong support received from retirees. They represented about 25% of our sampling. Their primary concern was the deterioration of quality of life and property values if neighborhood schools were closed. The results:
DO YOU WANT NEIGHBORHOOD SCHOOLS OPEN — YES 89%

A word on opinion polls. When Gallup does a poll, they consider a sampling of 1400 adults adequate in order to predict a trend or public sentiment. Most national markets or political organizations would consider the results of a phone sampling of 500 adults sufficient for their needs. As further evidence that our Opinion Survey reflects the mood of the community, we submit the results of the Detroit Free Press survey published Thursday, October 6th. It showed that two out of every three Grosse Pointers surveyed . . . do not want schools closed.

The results of our Opinion Poll will be presented to the Board for their study. But we must say, we find it ironic that concerned citizens must spend their time . . . and their money . . . in order to provide information which the School Board should have obtained in the first place.

In closing, we think that we've come a long way from our forefathers . . . who demonstrated their anger at being taxed . . . but not represented . . . by dumping the Crown's tea into Boston Harbor. But we are still motivated by the same basic tenet: if you are going to tax us, you will, indeed, represent us.

Traditional

collection

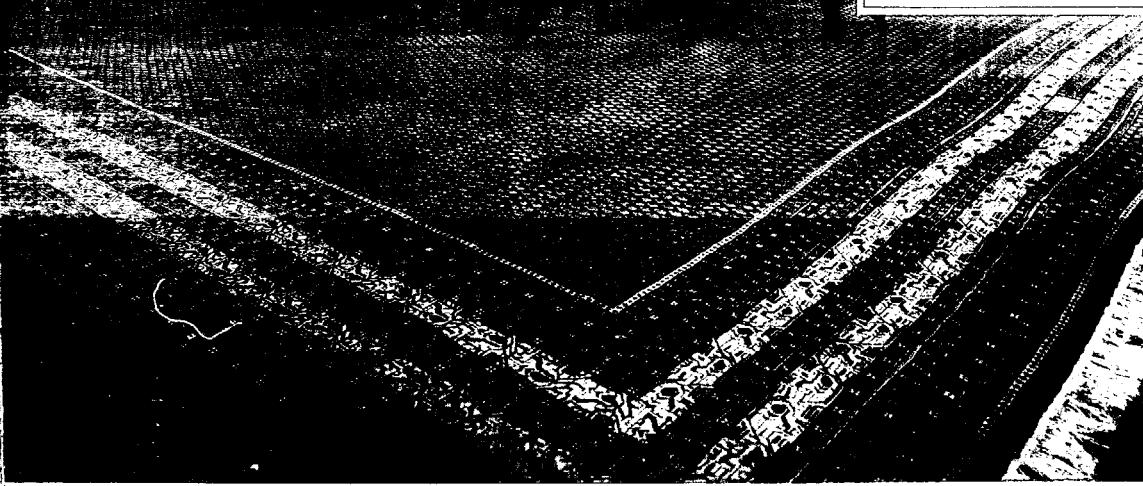

From our front cover:

We asked Fritz and La Rue, the nation's oldest importer of quality Orientals, to find the perfect carpet—one that would fit beautifully into any setting from traditional to contemporary. They brought us Khamariah. With its generous assortment of pastel coloured flowers in two asymmetrical bouquets, it is indeed a complement to any colour scheme. All wool Khamariah has been woven by hand in India in three lovely colours; Seamist, Woodrose and Cream.

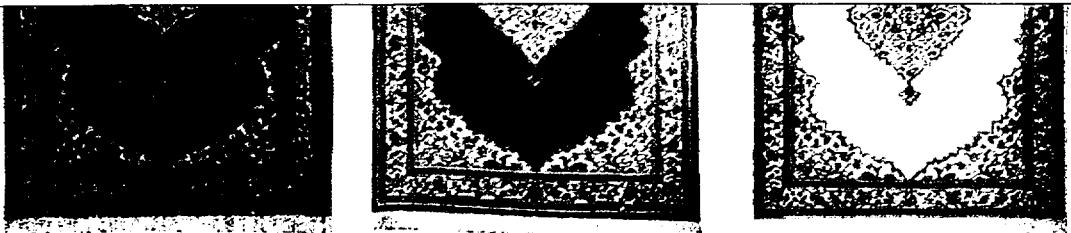

The fascinating boteh, a traditional pineapple shape motif, has been interpreted in a variety of ways throughout the centuries. Here, in our Indian Kaimuri, the boteh has been woven by hand in a graceful overall geometric pattern in a variety of dramatic colourations. A brilliant addition to any decor, Kaimuri is available in these deep, traditional colours: Dark Blue, Light Blue, Red, Rose, Ivory and Green.

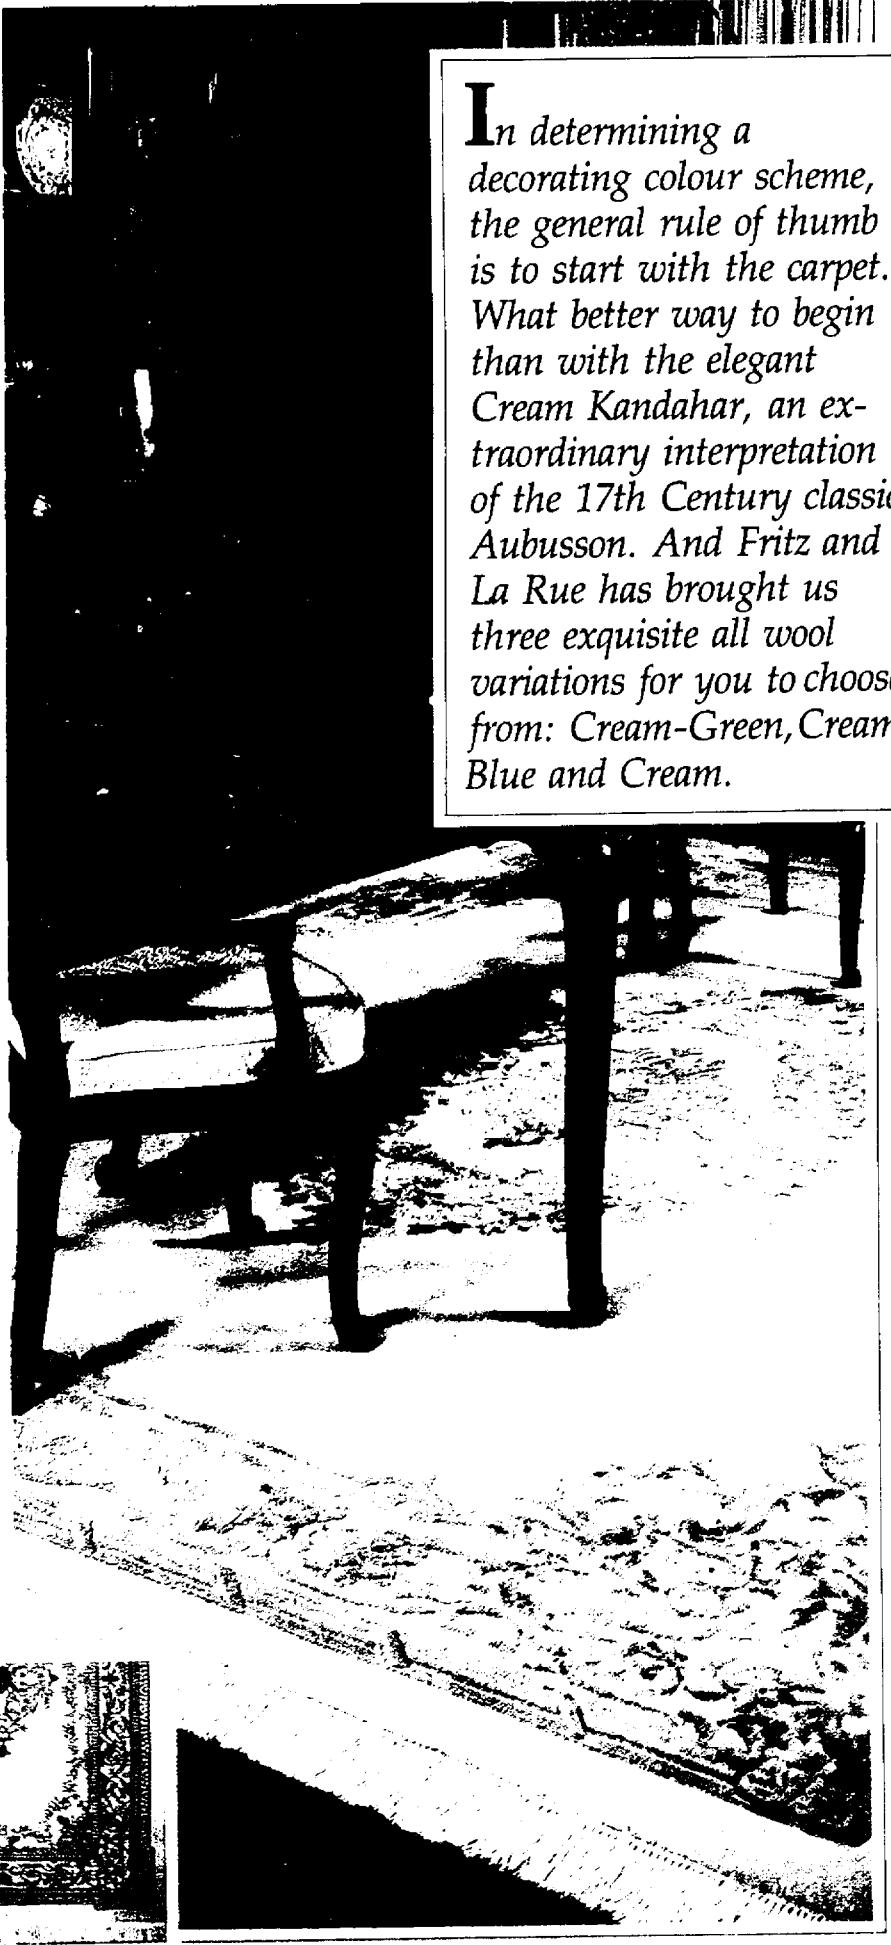

This exquisite example of a Kaimuri was custom made by Fritz & La Rue for Christ's College, Cambridge, England.

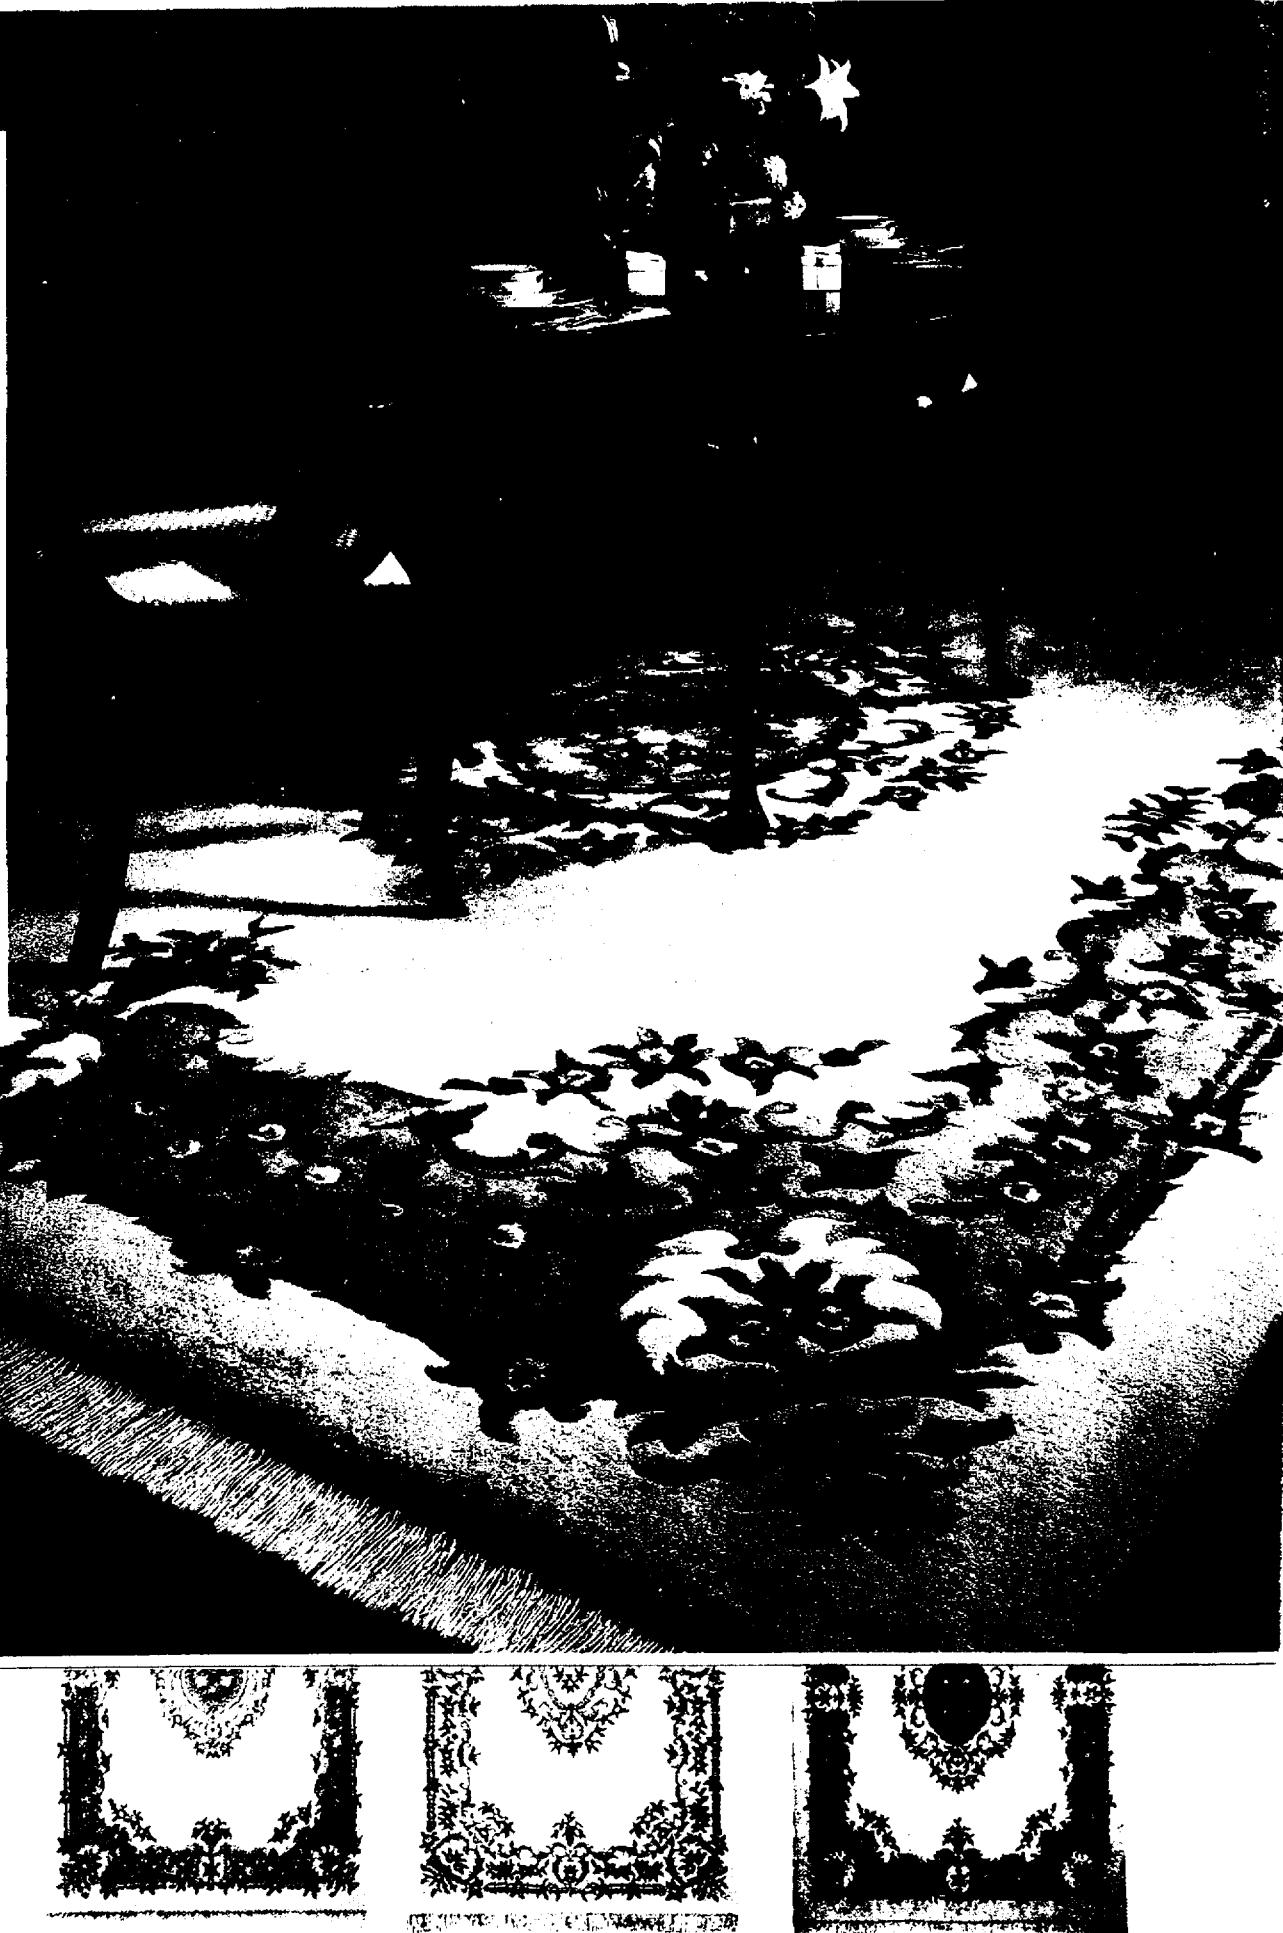

Here, two basic decorative elements are skillfully blended to create this rich carpet pattern. Stylized flowers and leaves combine in an enchanting silhouette reflecting the graceful lattice work of India's Taj Mahal. An elegant and refined pattern, Kandahar KYB is equally at home in traditional as well as contemporary settings. Pure wool. Handwoven in India in today's subdued decorator shades of Celadon, Soft Coral, Soft Blue and Cream.

In determining a decorating colour scheme, the general rule of thumb is to start with the carpet. What better way to begin than with the elegant Cream Kandahar, an extraordinary interpretation of the 17th Century classic Aubusson. And Fritz and La Rue has brought us three exquisite all wool variations for you to choose from: Cream-Green, Cream-Blue and Cream.

With all the elegance and luxury of the 17th Century originals, Khamariah is our simplified, yet rich adaptation of the French Aubusson. Khamariah has been designed for today's interiors. The muted earth-tones in its floral pattern lend a natural grace and charm to any traditional setting. Woven by hand in pure wool, and imported from India by Fritz and La Rue, it is available in Pale Sienna, Cream, Cream-Green, Cream-Blue.
