Puck Luck II

Apparently there is some justice in this world, although it's too little too late. To put it simply, Peggy O'Connor got hit by a hockey puck.

As you may recall, a few weeks ago I spent some time moaning and groaning about being whacked in the chest by a puck launched by a player during the first North-South hockey

While the pain wasn't too bad, what really hurt was the fact that Peggy, our sports editor, saw me fall in the line of duty yet still stayed at her post behind the safety glass because "she didn't want to give up a great spot" at the sold out game.

She was contrite and apologetic and even offered to make it up over lunch because she knew "the big guy could take it." The variously hued black and blue mark faded away after about a week, but the hurt in my heart has a half life of about 50 years.

Now, back to Peggy. She was sitting alone in the stands during warm-ups for last week's Fraser-North hockey game when a Fraser shot left the rink and hit the upper edge of the glass. It floated high into the seats and kissed Peggy in the shoulder, barely grazing her and landing at her feet.

She said she wasn't even aware what had happened. The only thing that tipped her off was the sound of the puck rolling

She then tossed it back to the players who gave her a little round of applause. Applause

"Hey, what's the big deal?" she later asked me. "It didn't hurt at all, you big crybaby!

Kiss off, O'Connor.

A nice pat on the back (and a served bucks in the pocket) went to Pointe residents Steve Basile and Karl Gigante recently when they were honored by the Farms Police Department and Perry Drugs for their part in the arrest of a robbery suspect.

Basile and Gigante helped Farms police apprehend a robber who fled from the Perry Drugstore on the Hill with $30 in stolen money last August.

Both men jumped in the suspect's car and pulled it over when the thief tried to make his escape. They then held him until the boys in blue showed up.

For their efforts Steve and Karl received $400 each from Perry for their assistance as well as a commendation from Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber who said their actions were what "good citizenship is all about.

Way to go guys.

Speaking of police, Chief Ferber also notified us that all 29 members of his police department recently completed an eight hour CPR training course at Cottage Hospital under the direction of Sgt. John Winter. Just thought you'd like to

Mellow yellow

Has spring sprung? From the looks of these tulips on Mack Avenue, it appears so. The bright yellow flowers have had drivers doing double takes ever since they appeared a few weeks ago, nestled in among the mounds of snow. Sorry to burst your bub-ble, but the flowers are artificial although the snow is real enough. The flowers were "planted" there by Don Jensen of the Flower Arrangement shop just across the street. Jensen says he does it every year just to cheer people up. We're happy to report that it's working.

Bonus promotes big staff turnover

Grosse Pointe parents can expect to see new faces in many public school administrative offices next year, as the management staff undergoes its greatest turnover in years. Almost a fifth of the schools' administrative staff — including its library director and two principals — have announced they will leave at the end of this semester, induced into retirement by a bonus offer that expired last week.

A similar retirement incentive for teachers, which expires April 2, may lead to an equally large turnover in their ranks, as well.

Administrators who announced their plans to retire include William Peters, director of Grosse Pointe's three libraries, Benjamin Zenn, director of support services, Reginald Sienkiewicz, director of special education services and Jane Colsher, supervisor of instructional media services.

Building leaders who plan to step down include Parcells Middle Supt. Kenneth Brummel said it will be difficult to "lose seven people with the talents and skills these people have:

"It's a sacrifice," Brummel said.

"They will all be missed."

The incentive for administrators offered by the Board of Education includes $400 a month through age 69. Teachers were offered $300 a month. They must be 55 years old and have served 15 years with the school system in order to qualify. A teacher union spokesman said that could include between 75 and 100

While the bonus offer may sound expensive, it could save the Board of Education thousands of dollars, according to a spokesman. The staff has been dwindled by layoffs because of the system's continuing decline in enrollment and a relatively older, highly paid group remains. The average age of Grosse Pointe teachers is 52, according to a union spokesman, and average pay is more than $33,000 a year. New teachers are hired at about $16,000 a

Besides savings, the large number of retirements may present other benefits as well, a school spokesman said.

This gives us some flexibility, some options. We can transfer people over, move people up or bring in new people to fill positions," said Bruce Kefgen, assis tant to the superintendent. "Or, who knows, we may even be able to visit some college campuses for recruitment this year. It's been a long time since we've done that."

Kefgen said Supt. Brummel is also studying the possibility of con-solidating some of the positions so that the number of administrative jobs may be reduced from its pre-

Baird said the arrests were the result of three and a half months of surveillance by COMET and that the other arrests took place in St. Clair Shores and Centerline

Detroit and Grosse Pointe Park police assisted the task force in the Park raid. Henry Coonce, Park police chief, said those charged with the sale and delivery of a controlled substance were Donald Jezak, 29 of 1316 Wayburn, George Regul, 24, of 17258 Keystone, Detroit and Robert Wilkes, Jr., 23 of 6893 Lozier, War-

Jezak was released on $5,000 bond to his attorney's custody. Regul and Wilkes are being held on $10,000 bond in the Wayne County Jail, according to Coonce.

Board race promises to be lively

By Susan McDonald

This June's school ballot promises to be the most crowded in several years as some of the more vocal opponents of reorganization line up to race for two seats on the Board of Education.

Seven nominating petitions have been picked up from the schools' central office and there's still a month to go before the official filing deadline. No one has formally announced candidacy, yet, however.

The seats held by board president and 12-vear veteran Joan Hanpeter and Roger Mourad, the only trustee who opposed reorganization, are both up for election June 9

Neither of the incumbents have indicated if they will run again.

It is still not certain if questions pertaining to the recall of three school board members who did support Supt. Kenneth Brummel's plan to close Barnes Elementary School and transfer sixth graders will be on the June ballot. David Easlick, Jr., recall chairman, said this week the group has more than 5,000 signatures on recall petitions naming trustees Catherine Brierly, Jon Gandelot and Ernest Buechler More than 6,700 names are needed to put the question on the ballot.

Recall workers appear anxious to line up for election to the board. Easlick said his group plans to hold a "mini nominating convention" next week to pick candidates for the two seats in the annual election and three more candidates to run if the recall is successful.

Supt. Brummel proposed the reorganization at the request of the school board which has seen enrollment in the system's 15 schools drop almost 40 percent since 1972.

Olympic dream There's hope despite problems

By Tom Greenwood

The Russians are coming! The Russians are coming! Also the Bulgarians, Romanians and Czechoslovakians. They're all coming to the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles this summer.

The Bulgarians and Russians are rated numbers one and two in a new Olympic sport called rhythmic gymnastics. Unlike competitive gymnastics which emphasizes the rings, vault, beam and uneven bars, this sport involves floor exercises with pennants, ribbons, jump ropes, balls, small Indian clubs and hula hoops.

A very demanding sport involving years of training, rhythmic gymnastics is unknown to most Americans. Also unknown to most Michigan residents is the fact that the two best U.S. gymnasts are from Michigan. In all, five members of the U.S. national team are from Michigan.

'Detroit and Los Angeles are the two hot spots in the nation for rhythmic gymnasts," said Dr. Zina Miranov, of Lathrup Village. "The U.S. champion is 17-year-old Michelle Berube, from Rochester, and Wendy Hillier, from Detroit. They are tops and just glow with talent."

Dr. Miranov should know. She and husband Vladimir coached champions for the Soviet Union before they immigrated to the U.S. in 1975. And they brought impressive credentials with them.

Zina obtained a Master of Sports title while in Russia and holds a Ph.D. in Physiology and Gerontolgy. She is an international judge of gymnasts and is only one of three world class judges in the U.S. She's also co-director of gymnastics in Detroit and holds a full time position as a physical education instructor at Detroit Country Day School.

Vladimir, who takes great care to emphasize he's Ukranian and not Russian, is a gymnastics instructor for Detroit and taught champions in the Soviet Union as well. They're both U.S. citizens, along with daughter Natasha, 14.

'Quite frankly, the problem is one of money," said Zina, in clear but heavily accented English. "The

Boy fights illness with spunk

By Harriet Nolan

Adam Tibaudo is 412 years old and carefully divides his admiration between Billy Sims, Michael Jackson and Mr. T. who, he says, 'punches the pain outside.

The pain he refers to is brought on by a rare form of leukemia that, when discovered, had already crept into 50 percent of his bone marrow and rested a tumor on his spine.

Doctors told the Tibaudo family. of Grosse Pointe Woods, that Adam has American Burkette Leukemia, says Marylou, his mother "It's very rare and one of the most rapid growing. Maybe 40 people contract it a year in the United States and the prognosis is not good, compared to the other types

The first inkling the Tibaudos had that something wasn't quite right with Adam came a few days. before Christmas. Severe abdominal pains and high fever caused them to bring him to Bon Secours Hospital emergency room. Told he had the flu, they took him home only to return Dec. 31 when the pain didn't go away.

The family pediatrician had Adam admitted to St. John Hospital on Jan. 1. Tests for abdominal and small bowel problems all came back negative, according to Mrs.

However, a fever of 104 degrees put him back in the hospital Jan. 18. A subsequent CAT and bone marrow scan pinpointed the problem, says Mrs. Tibaudo "His condition was changing every 24 hours. He couldn't walk before he got his first doze of chemotherapy on Jan. 26.

"Another scan, to see if his condition had improved, was done and a second chemotherapy treatment followed three weeks later. Treatment now is week-by-week and if new tests indicate it's helping he'll get more chemotherapy in a couple. of weeks," she adds

Adam is no newcomer to illness He's been on seizure medication for epilepsy since he was 18 months old. He also attended a speech and predevelopmental program last year at Monteith for delayed communication skills that may have been attributed to the epilepsy

But his latest bout with illness and pain has left him confined to the house where he takes delight in cooking spaghetti for himself each morning. He can't go to school or mingle with strangers because his immune system, in its present condition, can't protect him from sick-

Learning that Adam had leukemia has been a blow to the family, admits Mrs. Tibaudo, who says "information like this absolutely takes your breath away. At first you don't want to sleep or think, you forget things like where you're driving, and all your energies go to that bit of information.

"But after so long, you sit down, are quiet and think how to handle it. We feel blessed for our faith and strength, not elation or happiness. because I'd like nothing better than to have my son strong again, but for

Cars target of thieves in Park

Grosse Pointe Park police re-ported several cars and hubcaps were stolen Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 22 and 23.

Hubcaps were taken from cars parked in the 800 block of Beaconsfield, 1200 block of Wayburn, 1100 block of Maryland and 800 block of Trombley. The total items were values about $1,800.

White Tower is robbed

Thieves, armed with guns, robbed the White Tower Restaurant on Jefferson Avenue, and its patrons Friday, Feb. 17, at 10:30 p.m., reported the Grosse Pointe Park

Evidently, two men entered the restaurant and put other customers off guard by striking up a conservation with them, said Richard Wedding, Park detective. After that, they ordered everyone to lay on the floor and took about $30 from the group before escaping.

Wedding said one of the robbers was described as a white man in his mid-30s, having a heavy build and wearing a stocking knit cap. He was carrying a full length shot

The other, also reported to be in his mid-30s, had mid-length red hair and a mustache. He was wearing a burgandy hip-length vinyl or leather jacket, dark sweater and pants and carried a pistol.

Wedding said the case is under investigation.

Cottage fills two hospital positions

Kathleen M. Maslanka, of Detroit, had joined the Cottage Hospital staff as their new public rela-tions director, replacing Madge Lawson who moved on to a new position in Rochester. Ms. Maslanka came to Cottage from the Psychiatric Center of Michigan where she was director of Community Relations. She is a graduate of Oakland University and is currently enrolled at Michigan State University. In related news, Cottage also announced the appointment of Barbara Chery, B.S., C.S.L.T. to the position of chief medical technologist at the hospital. She replaces Carolyn Thomson, of the Pointe, who recently retired after a 27-year career at Cottage Hospital.

Ms. Chery came to Cottage in 1978 as a senior technologist in hemotology. A resident of Windsor, she received her Bachelor's degree from the University of Windsor and is currently working towards a

A 1977 Camaro was stolen from the driveway in the 1300 block of Whittier and a 1982 Pontiac was taken from a parking lot in the 15200 block of Charlevoix.

On Feb. 23, Park police spotted a cab cruising in the area at 4 p.m and attempted to stop the occupant for questioning, said Henry Coonce, Park police chief. However, the driver eluded police before being stopped at Jefferson and Eastlawn Ave. in Detroit.

Police arrested the man for reck-less driving and then discovered that several warrants from neighboring suburbs had been issued for his arrest, said Coonce. They also found more than a dozen hubcaps in the trunk of the taxi, some which matched the description of those taken on Feb. 22 and Feb. 23 from the Park.

The man has been turned over to authorities in the suburbs where arrest warrants were issued. He has been charged by Park police with receiving and concealing stolen

Stop smoking at Cottage

The Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe will host free introductory meetings of the "Smokeless System" conducted by the American Institute for Preventive Medicine. Monday and Tuesday, March 12 and 13, from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., in the Cottage Hospital Nurses' Residence at the rear of the parking lot, 159 Kercheval.

The "Smokeless System" has been cited in the 1983 Surgeon General's Report on Smoking and Health. Documented research has shown that this program has a success rate three times that of most stop smoking programs.

The "Smokeless System" utilizes a systematic series of copyrighted procedures that effectively neutralize one's desire for tobacco. It is a total lifestyle approach to smoking cessation that consists of behavior modification, stress management, cognitive coping skills, and eating management.

For more information on the quit smoking clinic, attend one of the free, introductory sessions, or call the Cottage Hospital Education department at 884-8600, extension

Results indicate abuse a touchy issue

M.D.s' poor response affects survey

By Harriet Nolan

A study released Feb. 7 on physician attitudes and experiences with child abuse indicated 31 percent of them might ignore state law that requires it be reported. Another 83 percent indicated they would report it when the parents directed anger toward them.

The survey was developed by the Michigan State Medical Society's Committee On Child Abuse and Neglect. Of the 513 Michigan physicians randomly mailed questionnaires, 136 anonymously answered some or all of the questions.

Douglas A. Sargent, M.D., Pointe psychiatrist, is a member of the committee that developed the survey. He finds some of the statistics useful. But because the response was low "10 percent less than the committee expected," takes exception to some others.

Eighty percent of the respondents answered they would be likely to report abuse if they thought they might have to testify in court. "That." said Sargent, "should put

Wine to lead talk on Freud

Sherwin Wine, director of the Center for New Thinking, will discuss author Bruno Bettelheim's book which sets out to demonstrate how the English translation of Sigmund Freud's writings have distorted some basic concepts of psychoanalysis. The lecture will be Tuesday, March 13, at 8 p.m. at the War Memorial.

Bettelheim, a world-renowned psychoanalyst and child psychologist, maintains that the distortion of Freud's work makes it impossible to recognize that Freud's ultimate concern was man's soul. According to Bettelheim's interpretation, each person's soul is the basic element of our common humanity, which manifests itself in everything we do and dream.

The discussion of Freud is the second of a series of "Heroes Under Attack." On March 20, the findings of Charles Darwin will be reviewed, and on March 27, the philosophy will Mao Tse-tung

THE STUDY ALSO indicated that eight percent reported histories of abuse and neglect as a child while 8.1 percent expressed similar experiences with their

This 8 percent involves no more than four cases, according to Sargent, who felt the references were vague in some instances as to whether the abuse was ongoing.

"In at least one instance, the respondent hinted the child being abused or neglected was from a former marriage, now living outside the home.

The preliminary survey should be refined because some of the questions were not specific enough regarding present abuse in families. We need to tease out exactly what those replies mean," he

However, in an earlier interview, he said, "the range of milder forms of psychological abuse to extreme forms of brutality are to be found in every socio-economic class.

According to state law, any health care professional, teacher, or law enforcement office must report suspected cases to the Department of Social Services. Child Protection Law, Act. Park bar robbed

Two men armed with guns robbed Gallaghan's Bar at 15412 Mack Avenue, early Monday afternoon, Feb. 20, according to Park police.

According to reports, the bar was empty except for a waitress. The pair ordered drinks and then told her to lay face down on the floor while they took $300 from the cash register.

The robbers were described as white males, between 20 and 25, about 5 ft, 8 inches tall, with brown

'You can't say it will go away and physicians have the poorest record of reporting incidents," he

According to the survey, 60 percent of the physicians would be less likely to report abuse if they thought the injury was accidental, 54 percent if it might make matters worse for the child, and 49 percent if they were only involved on a consulting basis.

Factors that would influence reporting included having parents express anger toward them, 83 percent; having to testify in court. 80 percent; and uncertainty about how the injuries occurred, 72 percent.

Specialty areas of the respondents ranged from internal medicine and obstetrics/gynecology where the child patients are rare, to family practice, pediatrics, emergency medicine and general practice where children are often seen.

Eighty-five percent indicated they saw fewer than five cases of child abuse in the past year and another 42 percent hadn't seen any. Almost half indicated that nurses brought suspected abuse to their attention, closely followed by other physicians and social workers aler-

"These numbers do no more than tell us that physicians are willing to answer these questions, that they are vulnerable to abuse and that they can abuse in rare instances,' Sergant said.

"On the other hand, if physicians have a wide-spread ignorance about reporting laws, they may be reluctant to respond. But we don't know if they are, so a wider survey is needed.

Sargent plans to present these findings at a meeting of the American Medical Association Council on Child Abuse this summer. As chairman of the organization, he hopes to get its support for future research in this area.

Whittier in Detroit. Five candidates are vying for support from Michigan delegates to the national convention on July 16 to 19. Walter Mondale, Sen. Gary Hart, Sen. John Glenn, Sen. George McGovern and the Reverend Jessie Jackson all seek their party's nomination for president.

Hart's metropolitan Detroit headquarters will be in the district offices of State Sen. John Kelly at 16723 East Warren. Kelly said he is renting space to the Colorado senator for the district headquarters which covers the 14th and some of the 13th Congressional dis-

Kelly said he chose Hart because Democrats are looking for the new answers and solutions Hart offers to traditional Democratic goals. The First District senator said he thought that although there is a generation between Mondale and Hart, age is not as important as policy differences. "I think there's definitely a generation gap between the two candidates," Kelly said. "More importantly, (Hart) offers new solutions through which traditional policies can be enacted."

Hart represents a break from the tax-and-spend policies, the big government programs and other tenets of traditional Democratic goals, Kelly said. The caucuses are open to all registered voters who declare themselves Democrats at the caucus site. Participants will sign a certificate listing name, address and presidential preference in addition to their certification as Democrats.

Actual delegates and alternates for the presidential convention will be selected April 14 at Congressional District Conventions and a state central committee convention April 28.

To participate in the April 14 meeting, a person must be an elected precinct delegate for a 1983 to 1984 Michigan Democratic Party member.

Tickets are $7 and are available from any of the 86 members of the Chapter, or at the door the night of each show.

Three top Barbershop quartets and the sponsoring chapter's Lakeshore Chorus, directed by Russ Seely, headline the show. The theme music, performed in barbershop style, will include a number of Academy Award winning songs from the 1940s and 1950s and will feature specially choreographed productions of such favorites as "Over the Rainbow, "Lullaby of Broadway," "Zip A Dee Do Dah" and others.

Members of the cast will be made up to look like movie super-stars of the past and present, with cameo parts designed for the person they portray.

Advance tickets can be obtained by calling Joe Bichler at 884-6838; Bill Lane, 884-2333; or by writing Grosse Pointe Chapter, P.O. Box 521, E. Detroit, Mich. 48021.

Evergreens subject of garden talk

Lee Lichtenwalner will address the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe on Thursday, March 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the Central Library and the topic is broadleaf evergreens. The major emphasis of his talk will be on Azalea, Box, Holly and Rhododendron, which are the most interesting plants comprising this horticultural group.

Lichtenwalner is the manager of Westcroft Gardens of Grosse Isle, a position he has had for 11 years. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in forestry and wildlife management in 1972 from the University of Maine.

Westcroft Gardens are the largest grower of broadleaf evergreens in this area, established 62 years ago by Ernest Stanton.

ago by Ernest Stanton.

The program will include identification of hardy plant species, selection of plants which provide the most colorful display, all the cultural requirements for good growth and the importance of proper planting. Included with the discussion will be three dimensional slides to better illustrate the speaker's ideas. A question and answer period will conclude the program.

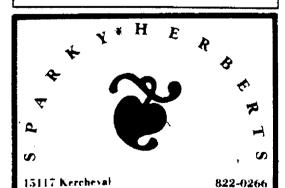

All area residents are welcome to the meeting.

Membership open to new artists

The board of directors of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association (G.P.A.A.) will meet at the War Memorial Monday, March 12, to jury the works of new applicants.

Any Pointe artist interested in joining the group may obtain further information by contacting Carol Sinclair, 886-8468, before March 12.

In addition to monthly meetings featuring presentations by prominent artists and critiques, the G.P.A.A. sponsors the annual allmember juried show at the War Memorial in May, the Village art show in conjunction with the village merchants in June and the fall festival on the grounds of the War Memorial in September.

Woods says 'no' again to new drainage office

By Mike Andrzejczyk

It's been about a year since the Milk River Inter-County Drainage District board came to the Woods planning commission to seek approval of plans to build a prefabricated office building at the

That year included one planning commission rejection, one planning commission request for an attorney general's opinion, one lawsuit, numerous hearings and one court order on the matter.

The planning commission again turned down the proposal on Feb.

Realtors hear presentation on formation of group homes

The Group Advisory Council of Grosse Pointe, organized to inform the community about efforts to create group homes for developmentally disabled persons here, took its case to the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Exchange at a Feb. 21

A Canadian documentary film, "Exploding the Myths," was shown and discussed. And a panel commented on topics such as the State of Michigan's role in group home development, real estate law and the role of the realtor in development of group homes. Panel members were Gary Andrusiak, Anita McIntyre and Robert Johnston.

Cathy Champion Dillaman, chairperson of the Real Estate Committee, Education Virginia Knoblauch, chairperson of the Group Home Advisory Council Education Committee, agreed that an important step had been taken at the meeting toward harmonious development of group homes in the 28 because the building plan did not meet the side yard set-back requirements of the city's zoning ordinance for community facilities.

The side-yard in the site plan is four feet according to the city. The zoning ordinance requires a side yard of 35 feet for community facility buildings. Woods Administrator-Clerk Chester Peterson said.

The night before, the Woods council gave immediate certification to part of its minutes, passing on to the planning commission a court order signed by Wayne Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman Feb. 6 which ordered the commission to review and either reject or approve the site plan of the building.

Kaufman's order denied the request of Harper Woods and Grosse Pointe Woods for a preliminary injunction against the construction of the building. The cities had argued the pre-fabricated office building was a capital improvement and as such needed the approval from the cities of the drainage district.

Kaufman rejected that argument, saying the building was part of upkeep and maintenance at the site. He did grant the Woods power of site plan approval, requiring the building to meet zoning ordinance and other building and safety

The Woods had filed suit to block the construction of the building in December. The Woods and Harper Woods pay the lion's share of the drainage district's expenses.

When first proposed, the price-tag on the office building was $15,000, city officials said. The latest cost estimates are $59,000,

The planning commission's refusal was based primarily on the building's failure to meet the zoning requirements, Petersen said. It was unknown whether the drainage district would appeal to the city council for a variance from the zoning requirements.

The new building will correct problems of storage, restroom facility and barrier free construction the current building has, according to the drainage board.

The Milk River Drainage District includes Harper Woods and Grosse Pointe Woods, which pick up 95 percent of its operating expenses. The drainage basin, pumping station and office building are located on Parkway near Marter Road.

Hart attacks in Michigan suffered a couple of severe Hart attacks, the first as a result of the New Hampshire primary and the second as a consequence of the Maine

In both states, Sen. Gary Hart of Colorado upset the former vice president who had won the Iowa caucuses and appeared headed for the Democratic nomination for president. The results were a shock to Michigan Democratic leaders, ranging from Gov. James Blanchard to Mayor Coleman Young of Detroit, because they had joined with the Michigan UAW and the national AFI-CIO forces in seeking to wrap up the nomination early for Mondale.

WHAT DOES THE NEW challenge by Hart mean to the Democratic Party in Michigan as it approaches its caucuses on March 17?

Nobody really knows whether the momentum that Hart gained in New England will spread to more distant areas such as the Southern states that will name delegates next week on Super Tuesday or even to Michigan the following week.

But what is apparent is that many undecided Michigan residents are taking another look at Hart and some of the Democratic Party leaders who had crawled out on an early limb for Mondale are beginning to reassess their positions. At the moment, it appears to be a two-man race for the Democratic nomination with Hart having the popular edge nationally, but not in Michigan.

There may be a lesson in this Democratic campaign for Michigan union leaders. They often have been heavy-handed in expressing their preferences and in exercising their vetoes in

In Michigan as in some other states, backers of former Vice President Walter Mondale last week of Mondale last October, Michigan union leaders pushed for an early endorsement of Mondale by their state party leaders. And they got what they wanted. Now it may not be so easy for them to live with that decision, especially if there is a groundswell for Hart.

Furthermore, the early labor organization endorsements of Mondale made it easy for his foes, even in the Democratic Party, to picture him as a captive of the labor bosses. If Michigan labor organizations continue their strong backing of Mondale in the upcoming party caucuses, they could be accused of attempting to dictate Mondale's nomination despite popular support for

While Hart himself remains something of an unknown quantity, Mondale is trying to close that information gap by providing his own assessment of the Colorado senator on a number of controversial issues. But Hart does seem to have a special appeal to young people and, in fact, to people under 60. If he should win the nomination at 47, then the nation would have an interesting contest between a man seen by some people as too young to be president and another who, at 73, is regarded by others as too old.

Francis Bacon (1561-1626) once described the differences between youth and age this way:

"Young men, in the conduct and manage of actions, embrace more than they can hold; stir more than they can quiet; fly to the end without consideration of the means and degrees . . . Men of age object too much, consult too long, adventure too little, repent too soon and seldom drive business home to the full period but content themselves with a mediocrity of success.'

Are those the choices we face in November?

The polling firm also cautioned that the sample polled was not a representative one. It had

A poll of voters in Southeastern Michigan supports the general belief that the public is strongly opposed to any tax increase—either local or state—to finance the operation of a mass transit system in the Detroit metropolitan area.

The survey found that a majority of the respondents opposed any tax increase even when faced with the prospect the SEMTA system will have to close down unless it finds new revenue sources. The opposition was uniform through the region which covers Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and the other four counties served in part at least by the transit system.

A similar question on whether citizens would yote for a $60 per household state tax to maintain and improve a statewide transportation system fared no better. In fact, it aroused even more opposition than did the proposal for a local tax hike to finance SEMTA's regional service.

YET THE SURVEY did show support for improved transit service. More than 70 percent of the respondents said they would like to see extra buses at rush hours, 63 percent favored better bus service between suburban communities and 58.2 percent endorsed expanded commuter train service. The respondents apparently were not asked whether they would be willing to pay higher fares to continue or improve the SEMTA

From the favorable responses to the questions about expansion of services, SEMTA officials reportedly are drawing some satisfaction and some hope for future support for new financing. That reasoning is difficult to follow because people usually will favor improvements in service up to the point that they are asked to pay for them. Then, in this current tax-conscious era at least they rebel and say no.

Too much bad news?

The complaint that the news media overplay bad news at the expense of good news and thus hurt the community has been voiced frequently by Mayor Coleman Young of Detroit and occassionally by suburban residents, even those in the Pointes.

The mayor took off against the Detroit newspapers at least twice last week. First, he whacked the Detroit Free Press for reporting on the front page that Detroit's homocide rate led the nation in 1983 and thus made the city once again the nation's "murder capital." Then, later in the week, he said the Detroit News and the other media "overreacted" to a News story reporting that a substantially larger amount of spoilage had occurred in the food intended for the poor than had been originally reported.

But it must be admitted that the mayor's complaints have been echoed in the Pointes on occasion when readers take issue with this newspaper's own reporting and commentary. Some contend that newspapers should adopt the traditional chamber of commerce view, "If you can't boost, don't knock. The problem, of course, is that newspapers are supposed to report what is happening in the circulation area they cover. So if the Free Press discovers that Detroit has regained the "murder capital" title, that is news even if it is embarrassing to a mayor already preparing to run for reelection. And similarly, if the Detroit News finds new evidence of sloppy handling of food for the poor, that is news even if it makes the city administration look bad. And isn't the public entitled to know the facts about such developments? People who live or shop in Detroit deserve to know about the safety of the streets, even if most manslaughters occur as a result of quarrels between people who know each other. Similarly, all Michigan residents more income and education, for example, than the population generally. Walter DeVries, whose firm conducted the poll, told the press that this kind of sample also would include those most likely to vote in a special election that would be required on financing SEMTA. And that may well have been the reason that kind of sample was chosen rather than a more representative group from which the opposition also might have been greater. The SEMTA system would include a light rail operation from Detroit to Pontiac, a similar train from Detroit to Mt. Clemens and a commuter train from Detroit to Ann Arbor. In addition, the system would include 250 new connector (dial-a-ride) buses and 180 fixed-route large buses, some of them operating in new routes, especially in the suburbs. The federal government would pay for most of the construction costs but has fied its approval to SEMTA's ability to guarantee about $140 million a year in operating funds. Those would come from the tax proposals now being considered by the SEMTA

PERHAPS IT IS TIME for the powers that be in the metropolitan area to scale down their plans, and forget about any hope for a partial subway which would be extremely expensive to build. Detroit planners see the entire transit program as a construction project that would run on for years and provide many jobs in the city. But there is no point in building a new mass transit system unless someone can figure out ways and means of financing its operation even if the federal government picks up most of the tab for construction. In these days, an additional transit tax does not appear to be a realistic possibility.

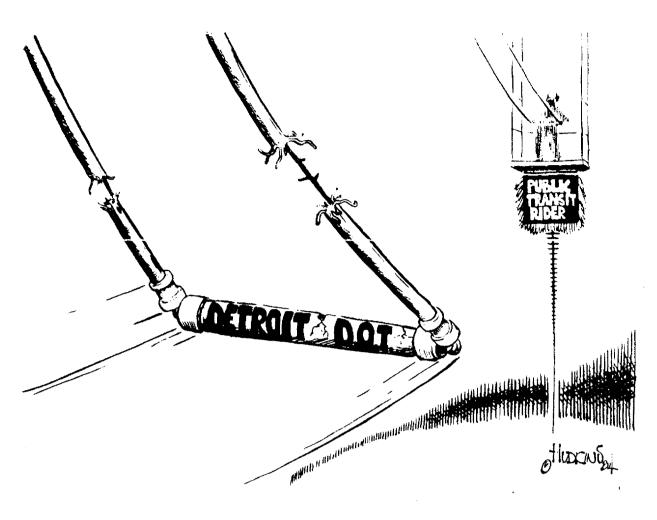

deserve to know whether there is waste in the food distribution program because they pay taxes, federal and state as well as city taxes, too, in many instances, and those taxes support the distribution of the food surpluses made available

SIMILARLY, PEOPLE in the Pointes are entitled to know about accidents, fires and even cases of malfeasance or misfeasance by their public officials although community newspapers like this one do not sensationalize such news developments. The people have a right to know about how well their police and firemen performed, and news stories give them one basis for making judgments about their public safety personnel. People on the public payroll do tend to lose some of their privacy but that is one price of public employment.

Occasionally, newspapers make mistakes, as other institutions do. Sometimes we offend our readers. Sometimes we offend our advertisers. But we do not intentionally do so. Instead, we try to report the news and comment on it with as much fairness and balance as possible. But we also welcome letters to the editor in which people voice their complaints, find fault with editorial opinion or call attention to failures to cover the

In truth, however, newspapers do have a split personality. They are in business to make a profit but they also report stories and make comments that sometimes upset the very people on whom they rely for their existence, their readers and their advertisers. Most readers are tolerant because even if some stories are offensive or in error, they want their newspapers to tell them what is happening and they know the alternative—any attempt at cover-up of bad news-would be even more distasteful. It also would result in poorer newspapers.

Mayor Heenan is an embarrassment to the Park

To the Editor:

I read with great interest the report on the Feb. 27 Park council meeting which was published in the Grosse Pointe News on March 1. The report indicated that Mayor Palmer Heenan felt that some of the council members were at-tempting to usurp his powers because they did not agree with his appointments to Economic Development Corporation.

Obviously, this "bloc of four"

— Carroll Evola, John Prost, Patricia Forster and Mark Valente — is a dangerous element, just as the "gang of four" was in China. They are out to subvert the mayor's power, wreck havoc in the Park, grab the mayor "... by the ... behind," and serve only in the interests of self agrandizement.

How dare they disagree with the mayor; how dare they attempt to act in a responsible the appointment of all Heenan's cronies to the EDC; how dare they act like elected representatives to the council?

But, in the end, the mayor showed them who has the power, who controls the meetings and who can "... run the city like a private club." As Heenan said, "... the chair has so much leeway, it can put the opposition in difficult cir-cumstances. They didn't know what to do in a time of crisis and leadership prevailed."
Heenan gives new meaning to the term ''leadership'' - intimidation and fear. Having the audience filled with his supporters was a stroke of genius. They could not only boo, hiss and give catcalls to the "gang of four," they could also shout out threats of recall, a new theme for intimidating elected officials.

Heenan's power seems to be centered on forcing his opinion way; how dare they challenge on anyone who had the audacity to disagree with him and to ignore the majority of the city council. One question I have is, who is trying to grab whom "... by the ... behind?"

Heenan's actions and statements seem all too familiar. If I am not mistaken, this is the position taken by another mayor in the metropolitan area. Heenan's role model, Coleman Young, would be proud of him. However, as a resident of the Park and a taxpayer, I wish he would afford the office of mayor with the dig-nity that it calls for and not be an embarrassment to the community.

Just remember, the true power rests with the voters and, if you will review your election returns, you should realize that, since you do not represent all of the voters of the Park, there are other valid opinions.

Exchange Club joins fight against crime

To the Editor:

Thousands of members of the service organization, The National Exchange Club, including the local chapter, the Grosse Pointe Exchange Club, are observing National Crime Prevention Week as a reminder of the importance of vigilance against crime.

This occasion presents a fine opportunity to expand our awareness of the great importance of citizen volunteers in crime prevention. Americans demonstrating concern for their neighbors by watching for and reporting crime to law enforcement agencies have made significant inroads against crime in communities throughout the nation.

National Crime Prevention Week brings deserved attention to the need for all of us to become involved in this effort. The is "Keep the Watch-Neighborhood Watch Works." This theme will inspire us to do what we can to prevent ourselves and others from becoming victims of crime. Crime prevention is truly every citizen's job.

Tribute was well deserved

To the Editor:

Being subscribers to your paper and former residents of Grosse Pointe Woods in the 1940s, we enjoyed reading the article on Dr. Harold Cross (Prime Time for Senior Citizens, Feb. 16).

Dr. Cross delivered two of our children, James Jr., 40 years old, and Gretchen 37 years old. They are both married and have families.

We were very fond of Dr. Cross. He was very professional as well as being kind and compassionate.

Our best wishes for good health to a fine doctor.

Church blind on communism

To the Editor:

The article in your March 1 issue about Pastor William Phillippe's trip to Cuba was interesting, but!

Let me explain. It is well known that much of the Soviet thinking is based on Karl Marx and an oft quoted statement by Marx says enough about him. "My object in life is to dethrone God and destroy capitalism.' Lenin said, in 1918, "It is inconceivable that the Soviet Republic should continue to exist for a long period of time side by side with imperialist states, ultimately one or the other must conquer." Lenin also said, "Promises are like pie crust, made to be broken.

Each of the Soviet leaders have repeated that the Soviet goal is world domination, with Breshnev expressing it as follows, "We must never forget that the mission which falls to the Communist party is the grandiose complex mission of revolutionary domination of the entire world."

On Dec. 6, 1961, after the Bay of Pigs fiasco, Castro publicly announced what the world already knew, saying, "I am a Marxist-Leninist and I am taking Cuba into the Communist Bloc." I have no quarrel with

Sympathy to Memorial Church

To the Editor:

I extend my sympathy to the congregation of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church who have a pastor who thinks a country great which officially denies the existence of God.

In my work with my own church (United Church of Christ) I have reached the conclusion that if church members knew what their donations support they would immediately cease all support of their church, and Reverend Phillippe supports my view.

I am sorry to hear that he had to return to this tired, old country after leaving the vibrant Cuba.

Caught in Shores speedtrap

To the Editor:

Last week I was shocked into reality. I was one of the unfortunate victims to get caught in the Grosse Pointe Shores "speedtrap." I was surprised when I was stopped and given a ticket for speeding which I ticket for speeding which I knew I was not guilty of. So, thinking justice would prevail and never being in traffic court before, I decided to take my case to court.

I then started hearing rumors that the Grosse Pointe Shores police officers would give their own grandmother a ticket to make their quotas. I began to have my doubts. When I arrived at court, there were about 30 people there. I then woke up to reality when, after telling my side of the story, I was found guilty. It seemed that the words, "not guilty" were not in the judge's vocabulary, as each case was found guilty. I had always thought a person was innocent until proven guilty. Well, in Grosse Pointe Shores you are guilty before you even walk into court.

The law abiding citizens who make the mistake of driving in Grosse Pointe Shores are probably the same ones that are footing the bill for Grosse Pointe Shores' new court house. I would like to know why law abiding citizens are harassed about traffic tickets when the real criminals are never caught. You have to wonder why a person can take another person's life and get probation while a person getting a traffic ticket is threatened with jail.

I hope the citizens wake up and start voicing their opinions on the judicial system or otherwise this country will not be worth saving.

Citizens lack courtesy

To the Editor:

It's sad the residents of Grosse Pointe Woods couldn't show some common sense and courtesy during this bad snow storm. I doubt there is a car in this city that couldn't have used off street parking for the short time needed to clear the snow away. Now we are all penalized with messy, heavy snow until mother nature decides to dispose of it.

We all benefit from many prompt, efficient services in this city provided by our city workers. Isn't it a shame that we couldn't be considerate enough to help in this monumental task of clearing our streets by simply removing one or two vehicles.

Social Services budget. Such a possible underestimation of caseload is still under study.

But, this week, we finally figured out what the Governor did. And it was ingenious — and totally and flagrantly fraudulent. The Governor took a group of revenue items. non-tax revenues, which have been going into the General Fund and have been expended as part of "General Fund-General Purpose" expenditures. So what did the Governor do? He moved that revenue into a restricted, not have to count either the revenue or the items on which it is spent as part of the "General Fund Budget.'

The Governor assumes in his budget proposal that $76.6 million will be so transferred out of the General Fund. It will still be raised. It will still be spent. But it won't count in the General Fund Budget.

And, guess what? If one takes $76.6 million out then one shows a proposed expenditure level below that of this year.

The bottom line is that the Governor is not telling the truth. His proposed budget exceeds the spending level of this

It is difficult when we can not accept as true anything the Governor says.

One View from the Capital

Governor's fraud exposed

By William R. Bryant, Jr.

State Representative The Governor has done it again. As you may have heard the Governor has been loudly and proudly declaring that his proposed spending level for next year is below the spending level of this year. This week the fraud became known.

We had been trying to discover whether he was using falsely low estimates of welfare

(Continued from Page 1A) up as guinea pigs to help determine the effects of zero gravity on living organisms. Among other things, the Israelis want to know how the weightlessness of space will affect the hornets' eating habits, metabolism rate and egg laying abilities. The Israelis hope the hornets will help them determine why 50 percent of all astronauts suffer from space sickness.

It's all very interesting, but what I can't wait to see is how they get in those little space

And will they be wearing varmulkas?

Adam

Adam's sisters know things aren't quite right, even 2-year-old Lindsey. Natalie, 7, is aware, says Mrs. Tibaudo, "but we have good talks, strong faith and continue to pray for strength. Whatever way this goes, we're going to get through

When the leukemia was diagnosed, the Tibaudos allowed a week for Adam to receive balloons, flowers and gifts, but put a stop to that "because a child knows it's not usual behavior to get an outpouring of gifts."

Both Marylou and Frank come from large families and both have lent support and cooperation by keeping visits and phone calls to a minimum, allowing some semblence of routine to everyday activities.

They are all overwhelmed by the support they've received from people they hardly know. Mothers at Mason School have volunteered to cook dinners for them if they need it, an x-ray technician offered to donate blood and groups at the hospi tal and church have offered support. They say they're thankful their finances and medical insurance adequately cover Adam's treatment, thus relieving them of additional worry

They are grateful to the doctors and staff at St. John Hospital who tuse no tears or sympathetic behavior toward Adam. They just give him treatment like any other kidwho is going to be there and then leave a short time later," says Mrs. Tibaudo.

As for Adam, she says "I know he's got to be uncomfortable, but he has his own understanding about Jesus. He talks about death and sickness. He said he's not atraid and that he's going up North to see

"But he does say he'd like us all to-Grosse Pointe Woods die together, "she adds.

Election time at the athletic club

Donald Lindow, (center), came out on top when some 1,027 members of the Detroit Athletic Club cast their ballots for 1984-85 president during the club's recent election. President Lindow is chairman of the board and director of Michigan Mutual Insurance and its affiliates. He recently retired as chief executive officer of the parent company. He'll be joined in leadership at the DAC by (from left to right) W. George Kramer, Jr., secretary, of the Farms, partner-in-charge of the Detroit office of Price Waterhouse; Ronald J. Kowalski, second vice-president, of Bloomfield Hills; Lindow; Robert D. Lund, first vice-president, of Birmingham; and Earl R. Boonstra, treasurer, a resident of Grosse Pointe Shores and senior partner of Dykema, Gossett, Spencer, Goodnow and Trigg. Among those newly elected to the DAC's board for a three-year term was B.A. (Bud) Gates, of Grosse Pointe Park, vice-president and chief financial officer of R.L. Polk and Co.

Classical ballet, open to 5-yearolds on up through high school students, will begin in mid-March. Students are assigned according to age and ability by instructor Mary Ellen Cooper. Groups meet on Saturdays, or during the week after school. The 12-week workshop costs $36.

On Saturday, March 24, four classes will begin. Modern Jazz Dance Teen Workshop for ages 12 to 15, and Tap Dancing or 6 to 8 year olds, will be taught by Claudanne Cooper. Each class is $33 for 11 weeks.

Separate voice classes for teens and children will be taught by Doris Pagel. Eight, two-hour voice sessions cost $48.

For information call 881-7511, Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Issues in Aging subject of talk

We're all going to get there sooner or later, so let's find out about it now. What is the subject? Age — everyone is aging or has aging parents to be concerned about.

Dr. Jonathan L. York, executive director of the Northeast Guidance Center, will speak on "Issues in Aging" at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, at the corner of Maumee and Neff, Wednesday, March 14, at 7:30 p.m.

The free program is open to everyone.

York will cover topics such as planning for your own later years, dealing with aging parents and avoiding some of the common pitfalls associated with aging

Before coming to the Guidance Center, York was Director of Older Adult Services, an innovative mental health program for the elderly in Lansing. He received his Bachelor's degree from Yale University. His Master's and Doctorate in psychology are both from Michigan State University.

Call the church office at 881-0420 for more information.

Single parents hear suburban speaker

The local chapter of Parents Without Partners (PWP) will hear Tom Powell, a member of the Birmingham-Bloomfield PWP, talk about "The PWP Megatrend: Is there a Power-Pac in Our Future?" when it meets Friday, March 9, at 7:30 p.m. at Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

PWP is a non-profit, non-secterian educational organization with 202,916 members nation-wide.

Citizens named to Park commissions

Grosse Pointe Park Mayor Palmer Heenan, with council approval, appointed Shirley Kennedy as planning commission representative to the beautification commission at the Jan. 23 council meeting. Also appointed to that same commission was citizen Helen Laitner. Mrs. Kennedy's term expires November, 1984, and Mrs. Laitner's in November, 1985.

Other appointments include planning commission representative John Sheoris to the recreation commission. His term will expire November, 1985.

Patricia Forster has been named alternate councilmember to John Prost on the Wayne County Community Development Block Grant Program advisory council, a one year term.

Duo pianists play March 11

Duo-pianists Grant and Winn will perform on two seven-foot grands on Sunday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. The program consists of four works: Sonata in F Major by Mozart, Kaleidoscope by John Corigliano, Rondo in C Major by Chopin and Symphonic Dances by Rachmaninoff.

Tickets are priced at adults $5 and students $1. A reception will follow the concert in the lounge.

Cameron Grant and James Winn took top honors in the Munich International Two Piano Competition in 1980, which yielded both a cash award and a live televised performance with the Bavarian Radio Orchestra. The Munich stated: "The Americans had enormous stylistic and technical security, and were very well matched."

Standing ovations and full houses have characterized Grant and Winn performances in over six years of touring and more than 300 concerts in the U.S., Canada and Europe. The vitality and artistry of these two soloists merge to form one of the most exciting piano duos on the concert circuit today.

Grant and Winn last appeared in Grosse Pointe in 1980 as part of Memorial Church's Musica Series. In addition, James Winn has appeared several times on the Series as both soloist and accompanist for Grosse Pointer, Elizabeth Parcells, coloratura soprano.

Madcap farce on Fries stage

Grosse Pointe Theater's third show of the 1983-84 season, "Move Over, Mrs. Markham," opened yesterday and runs through March 17 at the Fries Auditorium at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

"Move Over, Mrs. Markham," by Ray Cooney and John Chapman, is a madcap farce of marital and extra-marital mix-ups. The plot develops when the publisher of children's books lends his flat for an evening to his partner, unaware that his wife has lent the flat to his partner's wife for the same evening. Complications increase with the arrival of a prim author of children's books, an "interesting" interior decorator and an "au pair" girl, all becoming involved in a giant catastrophy of misunderstanding. Morality triumphs in the Kathleen Keating plays Joanna Markham and Mike Evans, her husband Philip the "lenders" Sally Frakes Cusenza and Clarke Scholes play Linda and Henry Lodge, the "lendees." Alistair Spenlow, the interior designer, is played by Tony Amato. Alistair is chased by Sylvie (Terri Turpin). And Walter Pangbourne (Harry Stutt), Miss Wilkinson (Colleen McNulty) and Mrs. Olive Harriett Smythe (Phyllis Reeve) are wrapped in and around the crossed wires and mistaken identities.

Director Bob McKenna and producer Mary McLeod keep everything and everyone untangled with a crew which includes Hank Houston (stage manager), Francis Dall'Acqua (technical director), Tom Stein (stage manager), John Casey (assistant stage manager and apprentice director), Iris Moore (make-up), Susan Laforet (costumes), Nancy Bashara (properties), John Wisely (set dressing), Peter Walilko and Rob Witulski (lighting), and Liz Baker

Music For A While ends season

The chamber music series, Music For a While, will present the final concert of its ninth season Sunday, March 11, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House.

The concert, thematically titled "Mostly French" will present music of Saint-Saens, Damase, Duvernoy, Faure, Carpenter, and Ravel and will be performed by Barbara Hawksley, soprano, Nicolai Lemberg, flutist, Karen Wingert, cellist, and Janet Young.

pianist. Soprano Hawksley began her singing career at the age of 3 when she began singing on radio station WHDF in the upper peninsula. She studied voice and piano at Suomi College and has coached at the University of Michigan.

Lemberg is a recent addition to the music scene in the Detroit area. Born in Moscow, he graduated with honors from the Moscow State Conservatory with a degree of Master of Music. He was principal flutist with the Moscow Opera Orchestra and with the Moscow Radio and Television Symphonic Orchestra having played under conductors including Maxim Shostakovich and Mstislav Rostropovich.

Ms. Wingert is a graduate of the University of Michigan in cello performance having studied with Samuel Mayes. She has performed with the Toledo Symphony, Brunch with Bach, the Tuesday Musicale of Detroit and the Kithara Guitar Series. She is currently a member of the Dearborn Symphony.

Ms. Young, co-founder and co-producer of the Music For a While series, is a graduate of Hastings College. She has done advanced study with Pearl Turner Hoy in San Francisco and locally with Eugene Bossart and with the late Gizi Szanto. She has appeared as duopianist with the Detroit Women's Symphony and with the Grosse Pointe Symphony with whom she currently serves as official pianist. The 3 p.m. concert will be followed by a wine and hors d'ouevures reception and will include the opportunity to view the house and grounds. Tickets are available at $7.50 and may be obtained by calling 884-7815 or 885-8100.

Star of Sea will hold a parish mission

A parish renewal mission will be conducted by the Capuchin Fathers Sunday to Friday, March 18 to 23. at Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

Daily masses will be held at 7:15 and 8 a.m. The main program in the evening begins at 7:30. The onehour program includes a hymn, announcements, the main talk and a brief service of prayer related to the theme of the evening.

Themes are faith on Sunday: prayer. Monday: formation of Christian consciousness. Tuesday; family life communication, Wednesday: reconciliation, Thursday: and celebration of the Eucharist. Friday.

Seniors to meet

Grosse Pointe Woods senior citizens will hear James Lyons, director of the Ecumenical Institute. talk about the crisis in the Middle East when they meet Thursday. March 15, at 3:30 p.m. at North High School.

St. Paul plans Jubilee Mission

take time out of their busy schedules to renew their Faith Commitment, Monsignor Francis X. Canfield, Pastor of St. Paul Catholic Church announced that a Jubilee Mission would begin in the parish on Sunday, March 11. The mission will be preached by Ca-puchin Fathers Thomas Schmied and Michael Zuelke, and will run from Sunday, March 11 through Friday, March 16.

The Capuchin priests will preach at all the Masses on the weekend of March 10 to 11, to explain in detail the purpose of the mission. They will also outline what will take place at each of the evening renewal services which will be held in the church beginning Sunday evening and ending Friday evening. March 16. The evening services will begin at 7:30 p.m. Monsignor Canfield said that the mission had been planned to take place during Lent in the hope that more people would participate.

During Lent the church calls on us to do penance and to put our spiritual lives in order and this

Citing the need for Christians to mission provides us with a special the present St. Paul Church. opportunity to do that," Monsignor Canfield said. "Fathers Schmied and Zuelke will help us focus all of our attention on the faith dimension of our lives. They will help us better understand the Christian faith that we claim unto ourselves. They will give us a clear picture of what our lives should be if we are living up to our Christian commit-

Father Schmied explained that their purpose was not to condemn people for their shortcomings in living the life that God demands of all who profess to be Christians.

"Our purpose is to help people understand where they are making the grade and where they are falling short." Father Schmied said.

Other activities of the St. Paul Jubilee will include St. Paul Heritage Day, Sunday, April 8. All are invited to visit St. Paul School, where historical memoribilia will be on display from 1-5 p.m. On May 28, there will be a 9:30 a.m. Mass in St. Paul Cemetery and the dedication of the new grave marker for Father John Elson who built

The 150th anniversary celebration will close with a Mass of Thanksgiving at 1 p.m., Sunday, June 24. The principal celebrant will be Archbishop Edmund Szoka.

Bishops Joseph Imesch and Patrick Cooney will concelebrate the Mass as well as priests who have served the parish.

The homilist will be Father John Nienstedt, a "son" of the parish, who currently is assigned to the Vatican. There will be a reception following the Mass.

Auditions start for South Pacific

Auditions for Grosse Pointe Theater's production of "South Pacific" will be held Saturday, March 10, at 1:30 p.m. and Sunday, March 11, at 2:30 p.m. at the theater studio, 315 Fisher in the

NEW FROM COMERICA...

THE SMART CARDS FOR LARGE BALANCES.

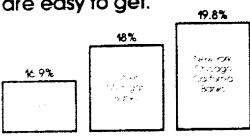

Comerica

Comerica

Comerica now offers an annual percentage rate of 16.9% interest.

One of the principles behind good money management is smart use of your credit. But most people would agree that there's nothing very smart in paying 18 to 24% interest, plus a service charge on top of it. That's why Comerica now offers a new Visa or MasterCard to the frequent charge customer at an annual percentage rate of just 16.9% interest. The lowest bank card rate in the state, and a rate you can count on throughout 1984.

The difference is easy to see. The cards are easy to get.

Goldpead, compare Then act. You can even transfer vour Visa and MasterCard balance from another bonk to Comerica, and start saving on the interest charges instantly.

Plus, we'll pay your first $30 of interest charges.

For the next two years, Comerica will apply your annual card fee to the interest paid on your account. Meaning, if you pay at least $30 in interest for the year, you actually wind up paying nothing for the card.

$450,000 in travel accident insurance.

Besides the lowest bank card rate in the state, and an annual fee that's credited to your interest, these cards offer you and your family additional security in your travels. When you use the cards to charge plane, bus, boat, or any common carrier tickets, you receive $150,000 in travel accident insurance automatically and at no additional cost.

Add it all up. The lowest bank card rate in the state, an annual card fee that's credited to your interest, travel insurance, easy to obtain. Comerica is helping frequent charge customers save on the necessary tools they need for better moriey management. Smart.

Marten named to CDBG commission

Jane C. Marten was appointed to the Woods Community Develop-ment Block Grant Advisory Commission at the Monday, Feb. 27, council meeting.

The appointment was made by imayor George Freeman and confirmed by the council.

Mrs. Marten is a 1967 graduate of Marygrove College. She also holds a Master's of Social Work from the University of Michigan. The Hampton Road resident is a board member of St. Paul Lutheran Nursery School and a room mother at Mason School.

Mrs. Marten said she is very interested in being more closely involved with the city and would like to have a voice in some of the decisions that are made that will affect the Woods' future.

St. Clare will offer classes

The St. Clare of Montefalco Continuing Education Department will offer a number of courses in conjunction with the Family Life Committee and Workshop Commission.

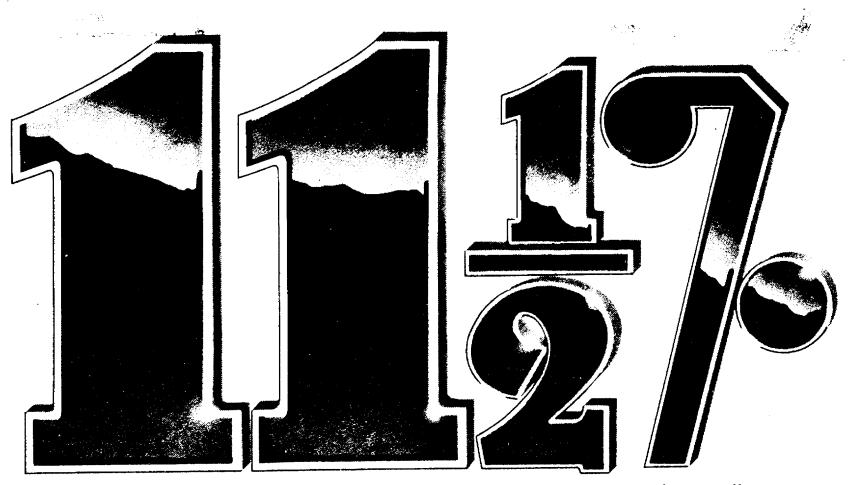

The course is designed to help parents relate more effectively with their teenage children. The text will be available at the sessions. Fee is $12 per series or $2 a

A Theological Reflection II will begin Sunday afternoon March 11 at 1:15 and run through Friday, May 18. The series will cover the continuing revelation of the contemporary church. Fee is $3 per session. Bring a bible.

Father Sal Briffa will return to St. Clare Thursdays March 15 and 22, at 7.30 p.m. to lead participants through certain Biblical themes. Father George Follen returns Thursdays, March 29 and April 5, to present a two-part series that considers the Biblical background for reconciliation.

A scripture study series, designed to appeal to the beginning as well as the more advanced Scriptures students, begins Tuesday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. and runs through Tuesday, May 22. The fee is $8 per series.

Earn extra-high interest on a 5-year IRA from NBD opened by April 16.

NBD's 5-year IRA investment pays 111/2%, compounded semi-annually for an effective annual yield of 12%. After 5 years, a $2,000 IRA deposit will be worth $3,524.61.

If you don't already have your 1983 or 1984 Individual Retirement Account, now is an estra green to an to open one at NBD. Through April 16, we're offering an even higher rate on our 5-year IRA investment than we've ever offered before.

NBD offers you a wide choice of IRA investments.

Our special 5-year IRA savings plan features our highest interest rate. But we know that doesn't make it the best plan for everyone.

You may want a shorter term IRA plan. We offer many choices ranging from a 6-month Money Market Certificate to a 4-year IRA investment. All of these plans carry a $1,000 minimum deposit. The exact interest rate depends on which one you choose.

NBD offers you alternative plans. If you want your IRA plan to be an a sea so that you can diversify your investment, we have a self-directed IRA planthat lets you invest in stocks or mutual funds. It allows you to change your investment strategy when you feel it necessary. The minimum deposit varies with the types of investments you choose.

When you invest in any IRA plan, there are two important things to remember. First, if you withdraw funds from any time savings plan before it matures, federal regulation requires a substantial interest-forteiture penalty. Furthermore, if you withdraw funds from an fRA plan before you reach age 59%. the IRS imposes certain tax penalties.

NBD talks with you in plain English. We think our IRA plans are the best around, and we want to make it easy for you to compare all of the IRA plans we have available. NBD bankers are trained to help take the confusion out of choosing one. We give you all the information you need. No tricky figures. No surprises, Just Straight facts. And that's part of what makes NBD an exten-

Tax-free income

The Ohio Company's seminar on "Tax-Free Income" has been designed by investment specialists to show the general public the advantages of tax-free investments.

Our seminar will answer such questions as:

- Are tax-free securities only for the rich?
- How safe are municipal securities?
- What types of tax-free investments are available?
- Are tax-free securities for me?
- *May or may not be subject to state or local taxes

Tax sheltered income

How present tax laws permit generous sheltered income and, in fact, encourage it.

This portion will explain:

- The wide range of IRA and Keough retirement vehicles available
- •The safety and attractive income afforded by Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA) certificates
- · How limited partnerships work in a conservative environment

Woods applies for this year's block grants

The Woods council sent its proposed 1984 block grant program to the county for approval after a public hearing at the Monday, Feb. 27, council meeting. The applica-tion splits the city's funding bet-ween business-oriented programs and minor home repair.

Two grant applications were made, one for $88,000 and the other for $99,000. Each proposed the funding of minor home repairs under a contract with Services for Older Citizens, an interest subsidy loan program, architectural fees for facades, facade zone and off-street parking improvements.

The grant amount the city will receive based on its population has not been set, awaiting the decision by the federal government, coun-

Using $7.500, the city proposed to pay up to $500 in architectural fees to property or business owners who wish to improve their facades based on the city's master storefront design plan. The grant would reimburse the owner upon presentation of paid invoices after the start of

The city also proposed using $8,700 in a program to lower the interest rates for businessmen who borrow to proceed with facade improvements, CDBG commission members said.

By depositing the funds with a local bank, the city can help businessmen who borrow to improve their storefronts under the city's storefront guidelines pay a lower interest rate on the loans, the CDBG commission said.

Other projects that might be funded in the coming year include fire extinguishers and front-porch repairs for low or moderate income families, energy audits for low or moderate income households, installation of bike racks and signs identifying businesses in the blocks along Mack, and providing wheel chairs, walkers and canes to those with low or moderate incomes, according to the commission.

South gains high marks

By Wendy Houstain South High

South's instrumental music department recently sent 41 events to the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association District Solo and Ensemble Festival.

The competition was held at L'Anse Creuse High School Feb. 18. Each event was viewed by an adjudicator and rated on a scale "Nutrition; A Lifelong Commitment," sent a self-addressed, busiof I through IV, with I being the highest possible rating. Acts were judged on tone, intonation, rhythm, technique, and interpretation. Brownell bands plan rummage sale

The Brownell bands and orchestra will hold their annual rummage and bake sale Saturday, March 17, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the school's gymnasium at 260 Chalfonte in the Farms.

Household items and clothing are needed and can be brought to the music department during the week of March 12. Home pickup may be arranged by calling 882-5898.

The money raised each year from the sale is used to supplement the instrumental program at Brownell to make possible special instrumental clinics taught by visiting university faculty musicians and provide scholarships for summer music camps.

Brownell's instrumental program under the direction of Christina Judson is busy these days. They are preparing for the District 16 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Festival Competition. The Orchestra will be performing at Warren Lincoln High School in Warren Saturday, March 10. The Concert Band will be performing the same day at Algonac High School in Algonac.

If you want to see how hard the North concert choir is working to present the musical "Godspell," get up before sunrise one school morning and go directly to the choir room or auditorium stage. You will see either dancers, actors or soloists working hard to perfect their performance. And if that is not enough, try after school and in individual homes for extra rehearsals.

'Godspeil'' is a musical based on the Gospel of St. Matthew. It is a lively interpretation of Christ's parables to the people, ending with his death and ascension. It will be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, March 13 and 14.

Most of North's 80-voice choir attended a live, professional performance in London, Ontario. This gave them a good perspective of the characters, soloists and mood of the musical, although choir members are lending their own personalities to the interpretation.

direction of Ben Walker. He has produced a band with piano, drums, guitar and bass, and a graduate student choreographer all to make the performance more professional. The choir's hair and make-up is done by Hair Unlimited.

The main cast members are: Gregory Preston, The Christ, Scott Hess, John the Baptist, and Chris Schade, Judas. The readers are: Sheila St. Amour, Monica Joseph, Jill McCormick, Blair Schoof, Bruce Veenstra, Roberta Willison, Tom Zielinski, Adam Brady, Tina Marcaccio, Ward Szerlag and David Kreher. Soloists are: Karen Drew, Roberta Willison, Michelle Leone, Francene Ferris, Sande Joseph, Martha Huetteman and Joe Paluzzi.

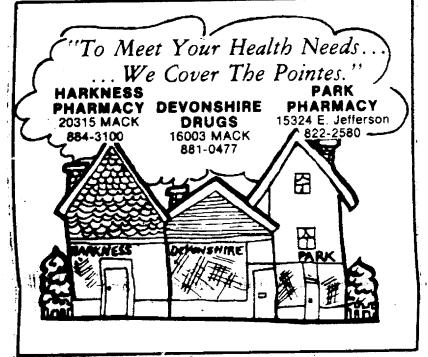

For this special occasion the lower house will have reserved seating only. Reserved tickets are $3 each. General admission seats in the balcony are $2.50 each. Tickets may be purchased from the choir students or the ticket outlet, Grosse Pointe Coiffures (across from Woods Bowling Alley). Tickets may also be ordered by mail making checks payable to Grosse Pointe North High School and mail ing to "Godspell" Tickets, 1293 Blairmoor Court, Grosse Pointe Woods, 48236.

Pancake dinner set at Parcells

Parcells Middle School will host its 14th annual pancake supper and open house on Thursday, March 15. All the pancakes and sausage you can cat will be served between 5 and 7 p.m. for $2.50 per person.

After dinner, the Parcells staff will be available in their classrooms for informal visits with parents.

'Godspell' opens today

By Brigitte Koegler University Liggett

"Hot and stellar" are the words director Philip Moss uses to describe University Liggett School's next dramatic production, "Godspell." Helping Moss with the show, which takes place on March 8, 9 and 10, are assistant director Rita Drath and stage manager Brion Fox.

The cast includes senior Ron Hull as Jesus and Oscar Alcantara, Robyn Burns, Meg DeRonghe, Susan Edwards, Howard Fauntroy, Erica Frederick, Rob Healy, Stephanie LaRose, MacKethan, Bridget McKeever, Agu Nwosu, Catrise Paige, Eric Pinder and foreign exchange student Cecelia Cornejo.

"Godspell" uses parables from the Gospel according to St. Matthew and relates them to world problems including nuclear war, hypocrisy, and "man's inhumanity to man." The one line, "This nation, this generation shall bear the guilt of all," is representative of the concepts dramatized.

The musical will be performed in the school's main auditorium, 1045 Cook Road, at 4 p.m. on Thursday, and 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. Tickets will be available at the door at $1.50 for students, $2 for adults. For information call

SHS Latin Club came, saw and won

By Wendy Honstain South High

Recently, four members of the South Latin club brought home first place honors from the first Ludi Detroitenses, hosted by the Detroit Classical Association.

The competition was held at Sacred Heart Seminary, and 12 Detroit area Latin Clubs attended. South's club was represented by 30 of its members.

Ludus Primus was a "quiz bowl" with nine four-person teams competing for trophies and glory. South's team composed of Eric Loudermilk, Bradford Peterson, Chris Bardeen and Tobias Higbie won first place, defeating both Cranbrook and Lutheran East decisively.

Another event, the Ludus Secundus, was a "skit, show and surprise." South's Latin-Thespians presented a skit about the Trojan Aeneas leading his family from burning Troy. Carl Ranno was Aeneas, Michael Ward as Father Anchises, Dante di Tommaso played young Julus Ascanius, Peggy Psahos as Cruesa and Louis

"It was very educational, we hope the Detroit Classical Association will grow as strong as the Michigan Junior Classical League," said Charbonneau, presi-dent of the M.J.C.L.

Ray Repp to visit area

Arrangements are in the making for Ray Repp, one of the renowned figures in folk music for congregational worship, to make his first Detroit-area appearance in more than a decade.

Plans are tentatively set to have Repp give a one-man workshop in liturgical music at 1:30 p.m., and a concert at 7 p.m. - both March 11 - at Dominican High School, 9740 McKinney at Whittier, two blocks from I-94 in Detroit. Repp's appearance is co-sponsored by Cominican and the Association of Contemporary Liturgical Musicians, a grassroots group of musicians working primarily in the folk Repp's songs of the 1960s including "I Am The Resurrection, "Allelu," "Peace My Friends" and others are sung in churches and prayer groups throughout North America. His pioneering in the folk music field paved the way for the music of the St. Louis Jesuits, Marty Haugen, Carey Landry, Joe Wise, and others to be more readily accepted by congregations.

Ray Repp is new vice president of K&R Music (he's the "R" of K&R), based in central New York State, which distributes his recent recordings and those of other liturgical music artists.

Plans are being made for Repp to appear the weekend of the Dominican workshop and concert in Rose. ville and Toledo, Obio, under the sponsorship of other organizations. He will be available for interviews, either by phone in advance of his coming to Detroit or while he is in the area.

Prime Time for senior citizens

By Marian Trainor

In a lengthy, somewhat convoluted document, the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) set forth in February, 1983, proposed guidelines to limit "Political advocacy" by non-profit organiza-

It was termed OMB Circular A-122, and contained proposals which would virtually eliminate 'political advocacy" by non-profit organizations. It drew wide negative responses by organizations as diverse as the National Association of Manufactures and the Girl Sc-als in March, 1983. However, a second version of A-122 was issued in the Federal register on November, 1983. It dropped many of the outrageous, and in many cases unconstitutional, proposals that were contained in the outs. OMB withdrew those propos-

first version. The new version is not too palatable either. It also poses serious threats to non-profit agencies that work in various ways to aid and protect those in need of special services, including the aged. The main thrust of the new A-122 is to prevent non-profit organizations from using grant money for advocacy or lobbying. Lobbying is a basic function not only of non-profit organizations but private sector organizations to explain and define groups to members of Congress.

An indication of how far-out such proposals can become unless re-futed was a stipulation in the original proposal that would have barred the use of federal funds for any communication with a public official, even to request a zoning variance or call a policeman. It also barred reimbursement for all overhead if any portion supported such communication.

The new proposal, while not as stringent does inhibit grantees' attendance at legislative sessions and hearings and limits their capacity to gather and analyze information pertinent to legislation. This, in spite of assertions by members of Congress that information from non-profits was useful in policy making.
Rep. Frank Horton, R.N.Y., and

ranking minority member of the Government Operations Committee had this to say:

These people provide ideas that help in evaluating thoughts of our own: they aid in drafting docu-ments so that those statements are technically correct and have as few unforeseen consequences as possible; and they give an impression to us of how different groups of society will view our work

The view that political advocacy is important to the successful operation of non-profit organization is seconded by the National Council on Aging (NCOA) and the NCOA units.

These organizations point out that the January, 1983 version of proposed revisions to A 122 appeared to be unconstitutional and the November 1983 revision exceeded the authority of the OMB A Legal Analysis of OMB Circular A 122 of the Congressional Research Service is cited:

"The proposed restrictions are couched in terms of internal management policy with respect to clarifying current and constitutional mandates. In this manner the agency would argue that it is not legislating 'new' policy but merely providing guidance in contract and good management under existing law. Federal court cases and statutory language, however, indicate otherwise.

The NCOA argues that on the basis of the CRS analysis the new proposal should be withdrawn. They have other arguments as well, one for every assertion made by the

On the accusation that non-profit organizations have abused federal grants or contract funds for lobbying, it is pointed out that when the OMB was requested by the Committee on Government Relations to produce evidence, it failed to do so.

Another reason OMB gave for issuing limitations was that it is indefensible to cover contractors under tough guidelines while effectively exempting non-profits grantees from any regulations.

NCOA was quick to come back ith: Non-profit agencies are presently regulated by the Internal Revenue Tax Code. Therefore the disagreement is how much nonprofit agencies should be regulated.

NCOA is upset because of the comparison between contractors and non-profit organizations. Most contractors are business firms whose purpose is to generate pro-fits. Advocacy by such firms is di-rected toward generating more federal contracts On the other hand, federal grants to non-profit agencies have a different character. The grants assist organizations to carry out programs for the disadvantaged. The purpose of advocacy is not profit but to ex-plain and clarify work that is being carried out.

There is some belief that OMB is basically hostile to lobbying by non-profit organizations regardless of the source of money used. To sub-stantiate this, a section in the January issue is cited which says commentators urged that non-profit organizations should be ineligible for any federal funding in they engage in any lobbying activity.

How such a comment can be justified is unexplainable since it conflicts with the First Amendment right to free expression.

In response, Milton Socolar, special assistant to the Controller General, testified before the Committee on Government Operations; "The OMB proposal went too far - we think its important that OMB treat lobbying costs the same as any other allowable costs

Not only does Circular A-122 attempt to restrict lobbying by nonprofits, it also reaches into such acmeetings and conferences.

OMB argues that organizations which schedule large blocks of "open time" during Washington meetings for lobbying make the allocation approach impractical.

NCOA points out attendees at conferences can visit members of Congress if they wish since it is free time there should be no cost allocano legislative history to show that this has ever been a Congressional came back with: "Given inherent difficulties in using cost principles to deal with this problem, agencies should adopt more stringent policies regarding the funding of meetings and conferences when they are liable to finance lobbying activities. This assertion is made without presenting a case why cost allocation is not appropriate for meetings ind conferences. However, OMB does set forth exceptions which are not unallowable." In accompanying material, these stipulations don't necessarily make such costs allowable; allowability or unallowability of such costs will be determined by the terms of the grant, contract, or other agreement involved.

Circular A-122 does not authorize costs or expenditures. It merely lists costs or expenditures. Such convolution of language and logic is bound to generate confusion rather than clarification. An example of tortured language is the phrase, "are not allowable" rather than are allowable.

'Not unallowable" is providing technical advice to Congress or state legislatures in response to a written request by a member of the legislative body. The word "writ-ten" is important because if the request comes by telephone, it could be disallowed.

Another "disallowance" involves attendance at legislative sessions or committee hearings, to gather information on pending legislation. except to the extent that such activities do not relate to lobbying. Under present law such costs are allowable

The OMB proffers this explanation. "When legislative activity is performed in preparation for lobbying, it would contradict the revision's intent to make such activity allowable.

They ignore that in most cases fact gathering, analysis and attending hearings are necessary to make a decision when to lobby on a particular piece of legislation.

Another OMB argument is that suggested restrictions would reduce paperwork. No explanation is given to the obvious fact that a lobbying report must be prepared for the Internal Revenue Service and the proposal would impose another set of reporting requirements.

While it is not light reading. Circular A-122 should be studied by those who work with non-profit organizations in order to be alerted to the restrictions which are outlined

Such restrictions would surely hamper those who give their time and energy in their work to alleviate social injustices. The NCOA knows livities as the cost of conduting how important it is to lobby for older citizens. But that organization represents only one of those who stand to lose if such proposals as those in Circular A 122 are allowed to go unchallenged. There are many groups as there are needs who would be af-

One wonders why such rules as those proposed in that documents are deemed necessary. Why should tion problem. Furthermore there is groups who are working for the good of others be singled out for re-strictions? Non-profits don't deserve this harassment. They need to be left alone.

Tuesday Musicale of Detroit's regularly scheduled concerts feature performances by the Musicale's own talented active members throughout the year, but a highlight of the Musicale's year is always the Artist Concert, which brings very special performers on-stage before members and

This year's Tuesday Musicale Artist Concert will take place Tuesday (well, of course!...when else?), March 20, at 10:30 a.m. in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, and will feature pianist Stephanie Brown, recipient of the Mortimer Levitt Development Award for Women Artists and the Guiomar Novaes Memorial Prize, which sponsored a recital at Kennedy Center.

Ms. Brown has studied with Ania Dorfmann, Rudolph Serkin and Leon Fleisher, has soloed with the Detroit Symphony and other major orchestras and has toured nationally with Music from Marlboro. She has performed at Lincoln Center with the Mostly Mozart Festival Orchestra and recorded the Brahms piano quartets for Vanguard with Alexandra Schneider, Leslie Parnas and Walter Trampler.

The New York Times has extolled "the element of quiet rapture" in her playing. The New York Post has termed "the breadth, nobility and sparkle of her keyboard work"

Her recital here will be followed, per Tuesday Musicale tradition, by a luncheon in the Fries Crystal Ballroom overlooking Lake St. Clair. Guests will be greeted by the Musicale's current president, Mrs. Clark E. Pardee, and social chairman, Mrs. Michel Skaff, with committee members Mrs. Russell Axsom, Mrs. John Bielawski, Mrs. William Bundesen, Mrs. Ellwyn Gilbert and Mrs. William Bradley.

The tables will be decorated with a profusion of spring flowers. Mrs. Rose Lee Tyler is in charge of reservations. Recital ushers, under chairman Mrs. John Trute, will be Mrs. Donald Launs, Mrs. Walter Mihier, Mrs. Robert Mathews and Mrs. David Rieven. Mrs. Harry Peets, a well-known local pianist, the Musicale's first vice-president, is general chairman of the day.

The free, open-to-the-public preview series, cosponsored by the Detroit Symphony League and WQRS-FM, is designed to give an informal introduction to the symphony's weekend programming. Johannes Brahms will be the featured composer next Wednesday.

Miss Lesesne speaks vows

A small reception at the Country Club of Detroit followed the Saturday, January 28, marriage of Juliette Mitchell Lesesne, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John M. Lesesne, of Fair Acres Drive, and Scott David Moeller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Moeller, of Berwyn,

The bride selected a high-necked, tea length dress of ivory embroidered lace and English netting for the 4 o'clock ceremony in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, at which The Reverend Ted Cobden presided.

She wore a garland of ivory and yellow silk blossoms in her hair and carried white roses.

Jacqueline Ann Lesesne, honor attendant for her sister, and bridesmaids Elizabeth Lesesne, another sister, and Susan Moeller, sister of the bridegroom, wore puffsleeved, boat-necked, tea length dresses of ivory silk organza, sashed in apricot satin. Each carried a small bouquet of spring flowers.

Best was Eric Beyer.

Guests were seated by Ory Eshel, Carroll Lesesne, brother of the bride, and Robert Quartel.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom both wore street length

Picasso prints on view now

The full span of Pablo Picasso's remarkable career is presented in 253 prints selected from the private collection of the artist's granddaughter, Marina Picasso, of Geneva, Switzerland, on view now through Sunday, March 25, in the Detroit Institute of Arts' Schwartz Graphic Arts Galleries.

It is the first exhibit in recent years to focus entirely on Picasso's achievements as a printmaker and includes the 1904 etching "The Frugal Repast" as well as rare proofs of Picasso's Cubist prints from the Minotaur series and prints inspired by the women in his life: Olga Koklova (his first wife), Marie-Therese Walter, Dora Maar, Francoise Gilot and Jacqueline Roque (his second wife).

Lithographs, serigraphs, etchings, woodcuts, linoleum cuts and monotypes are presented, for the artist, working in a variety of print media from 1904 to 1972, was as experimental and inventive in printmaking as he was in painting. sculpture and ceramics. For some prints, comparisons of various state and edition impressions are shown with the actual plates.

Mardi Gras for Villagers

The Grosse Pointe Hunt Club was the setting for the Villagers Dance Club's third dinner dance of the season, a Mardi Gras party chaired by B.J. and Charlie Dowd, Villagers secretary. Costumes and/or masks were optional. Prizes for the best attire went to Betsy Boynton and Porter Strother.

Delmonico steak was the dinner entree, and music was provided by the Blue Notes. Guests included Arthur Rose, Margaret Liddane, Margaret and Brendan Rogers, Betty and Bill Cranmer, Ginny and Ray Bauer, former Villagers President Jim and Bev Lisotto, who came from Chicago, and Bloomfield Hills

Members of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of Questers meet at 10 a.m. tomorrow, Friday, March 9, in the Lakeshore Road home of Mrs. Robert Palmer, who will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Frederick Schumann and Mrs. Stuart Crane, for Mrs. Clyde Reed's program on how art fields reflect cultural patterns and changes. Elaine Reed, long interested in the arts (music, theater, architecture and painting), has, for the last 16 years, used painting as an outlet for continued learning and relaxation while remaining active in her profession of social work.

She will open her program with an outline of the periods in art, as described by historians, together with prints, leading into a deeper discussion of late 19th and 20th cenresident Dolores Richardson.

New members from The Pointe were welcomed, among them Henry Kane, Ernie and Julia Charboneau, Ardith and Bob Brown, Mildred Pierce and Eric and Kathy Dale.

The Villagers' next party, the annual members' pre-paid dinner dance, will be held in April at the Detroit Yacht Club and will feature, by popular demand, music by the Joe Vitale Trio. Hazel and Jim Rose are chairing the event.

Anyone interested in further information on the Villagers is invited to contact the president couple, Betsy and Dick Boynton, at 886-2621 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Met Week Preview in Pointe

Reservations are, however, VERY necessary for a sixsession series at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial covering the historical background, plot and musical highlights of the 1984 productions to be presented by the Metropolitan Opera Company May 28 through June 2 in Detroit's Masonic Auditorium.

Course instructor is Wayne State University's Dr. Jack DuBois, familiar to area music lovers for his various lecture series, former author and host of WDET's Detroit Opera House. He'll present "Metropolitan Opera '84" in the War Memorial's Veterans Room on Mondays, April 2, 9 and 30 and May 7, 14 and 21, from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

He'll repeat the program on Tuesdays at Lawrence Institute of Technology in Southfield and on Wednesdays at the University of Michigan-Dearborn. The idea is to reach as many metropolitan area residents as possible, and to make it possible for anyone who must miss a session in his/her area to "catch up" on another evening in another

Fee is $35 for the six sessions. Checks should be made payable to the Detroit Grand Opera Association, sponsor of the Met's performances in Detroit. The DGOA presents the pre-Met Week lecture series as a service to operagoers who are interested in broadening their background and knowledge of the performances they will see in late

It is VERY important to indicate the course location desired on the registration check, and it is VERY important to register as far in advance as possible, as enrollment is limited. Checks should be sent to Metropolitan Opera '84, Detroit Grand Opera Association, 500 Temple Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48201. If there's anything more you want to know, the DGOA's phone number is 832-5200.

A Distinguished Visitor

Martha Griffiths, Lieutenant Governor of the State of Michigan, is coming to town, to be speaker and guest of honor at the annual meeting of the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women on Saturday, March 17, at Lochmoor Club.

The day begins with cocktails at 11:30 a.m., followed by brunch at noon ($12 per person) for which reservations must be made by Monday, March 12, by calling 886-3496. Those wishing to attend the meeting only should arrive by 1:15 p.m. Lieutenant Governor Griffiths, who has a law degree from the University of Michigan and 26 (!) honorary degrees, will speak on "Political Trends for Women." It's a topic in which she's well-versed, for she has been personally involved in Michigan politics since

In addition, there'll be a special musical salute, written by Bonnie Randolph Gibson with accompaniment by Betty Sue Campbell, and the branch will honor Anita Z. Unger, of Audubon Road, for her dedication to AAUW and the community, presenting a $1,500 Anita Unger Fellowship to Project Renew, the AAUW's Educational Foundation program which provides funds for women who wish to resume interruped academic work or update course work toward employment goals.

Art-ful Destinations

881-1285

If you're heading up the lake anytime between now and April 5, you might make it a point to drop in at the Algonac Art Gallery in the Algonac Mall, where Pointers Chloe Boehm and Bette Prudden are featured in a two-artist exhibit entitled "Reflections." If, on the other hand, your early spring peregrinations take you in a different direction, toward the northern suburbs, you might be interested in stopping off at the Birmingham-Bloomfield Art Association galleries on South Cranbrook Road, where the current show's first prize work of art is by Park resident Nels Olson. The BBAA show runs through mid-March.

View of Woods Boat Club Bridge

Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club Past Commodore Dewain Belote presented flags to the new Bridge - JERRY HENSON, Commodore, NORINE DILLON, treasurer, ED WEISS, Vice Commodore, and WALTER NIKESCH, secretary (left to right) — at the Woods Boat Club's 24th Annual Commodore's Ball, held in January at the Gourmet House. Belote then presented Henson with the Homuth Memorial Trophy, traditionally awarded to the incoming Commodore, and Dillon with the Koppin Award for exceptional service to the club. The party drew 168 members and guests, who enjoyed cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, dinner, dancing and a program emceed by Walt Cramer. Cramer introduced the 1984 Bridge officers and their spouses and recognized numerous special guests, among them Woods Mayor and Mrs. George Freeman, Councilman and Mrs. John Sabol, Grosse Pointe Power Squadron Commander and Mrs. John Colombo and Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club Commodore and Mrs. Gary Dysert. Several past Commodores and officers of the Power Squadron and Farms Boat Club were also recognized, and special recognition was given to the Woods Boat Club's nine attending Past Commodores and the club's new board of directors. Plans for the 1984 boating season are underway, with several rendezvous scheduled. Information on the club, now in its 25th anniversary year, may be obtained by contacting Commodore Henson at 885-6789.

It was some season...

Little did I know, back in January of 1983, when Grosse Pointe parents were mustering their great effort to get the schools to offer hockey as a varsity sport at North and South, that there would even be a 1984 varsity hockey season. Needless to say, I hadn't the foggiest notion that the season would turn out the way it has And that is, in a word,

If someone had told me before this season that South and North would finish well over .500, earn spots in the state's top 10 teams, in South's case, earn a regional title, draw more than 2,000 fans in their games with each other and perform more than admirably in playoff action . . . I'd have wondered what planet they were from.

So much has happened in Grosse Pointe's first season of high school hockey that I would be remiss (and we all know how I hate to be remiss) in not mentioning some of the highlights (and a few of the lowlights) by way of my "First Annual Hooray for Hockey in Grosse Pointe" awards

The envelope, please...

THE DAVID AND GOLIATH AWARD: To North High's Norseman, who managed to tie No. 1 — ranked Trenton, beat No. 15 Brother Rice and No. 12 Midland Dow, and hang tough with No. 4 Howell.

BEST NICKNAME: "The Big Zim," the handle attached with all due respect, of course — to South coach Tim Zimmer-

BEST COACHING: A tie, with Zimmerman and North's Mike Manzella sharing the honors. Each had approximately three weeks to get their squads ready to play teams which had played together for three years. Their excellent results speak for themselves. (Continued on Page 2C)

Surprise! South wins ice regional

By Peggy O'Connor

The second most surprised person in St. Clair Shores Civic Arena last Saturday night was South High varsity hockey coach Tim Zimmerman. The first was Fraser goalie Phil Sahutske.

Sahutske watched as Blue Devil senior left winger A.J. Gibson's shot sailed past him into the net to give South a 4-3, overtime win over the defending Class A state hockey champions. The victory gave the Blue Devils a regional championship and a spot in the state playoff semi-finals. (South faced No. 1-ranked Trenton at Wyandotte's Yack Arena Wednesday night, after press time.)

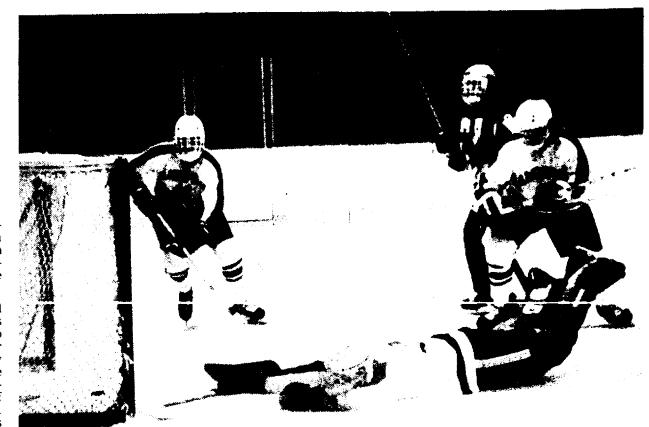

"I still can't believe it," Zimmerman said Monday. "The kids just put it into their minds that they were going to win. And they did.'

Fraser outshot South, 12-10, in the first period and led, 2-0, on goals that resulted directly from two spurts of sustained pressure. The Bulldog goaltender appeared to be "fighting" the puck for most of the game, but never more than when he surrendered a goal to South's junior center Phil Pitters. Pitter's unassisted goal was a low slapshot from about 40 feet out.

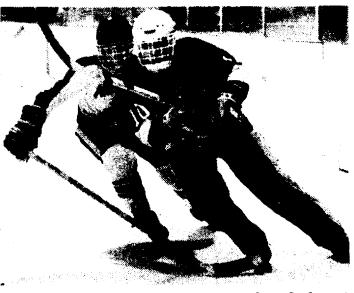

"When they scored those first two goals all I could think of was: 'uh, oh, it's going to be a blowout',' Zimmerman said. "But then Pitters scored and we got back in the game. We didn't lose our composure and that made a difference.

Pitters scored another unassisted goal and Gibson assisted on Suhrheinrich's goal Suhrheinrich returned the favor on Gibson's heroic goal at 2:52 of the overtime period.

THE FACT that Fraser fell in overtime was also a surprise to (Continued on Page 2C)

South's A.J. Gibson celebrates as the puck slides past the Andover goaltender. South's easy victory over Andover was followed by a 3-1 win over Lakeview and a 4-3, overtime victory over defending state champ Fraser; Gibson scored the winner in that contest.

Anthony Eugenio, junior winger for South High, breaks into the Bloomfield Andover zone in regional action last week. South best Andover, 6-1, to advance in the regionals:

THE "VAUDEVILLE AIN'T DEAD" AWARD: To an unidentified gentleman at the second North-South clash. He was overheard commenting that the Mite practice held before a growing South-North crowd must hold the attendance record for all Mite practices. Give that man a seltzer

THE AYATOLLAH KHOMEINI AWARD: A couple dozen hockey moms and dads can share this honor. Famous for reminding me that the word "fan" is indeed derived from the word "fanatic" this group's tough stand against folks (namely, me) they thought biased about hockey, would make even the rabid Iranian leader look like Mary Poppins.

THE "CALL ME COLLECT, ANYTIME," AWARD: To every South and North parent who applauded good sportsmanship, displays of skill and talent, and in general, just enjoyed the season without worrying about outdoing other teams, or impressing other parents or griping about newspaper coverage. I wish there were more of you

THE SPIRIT OF 1865 AWARD: This one goes to your's truly. Trying to strike a balance between my coverage of South and North this season (and in the eyes of a few folks on either side of the Pointes, failing to do so) I think I discovered just how Abraham Lincoln felt during the Civil War. And we all know what happened to him.

CUSTODIAN OF THE TWINE AWARD: Another tie, this time between talented goaltenders Bill Tecos and Rick Lass. You can't have winning hockey teams without consistant goaltending and Tecos and Lass provided that for North and

BACKUP NETMINDER AWARDS WITH HONORARY PINE BROTHERS MEMBERSHIPS: This one goes to North's John Corrado and South's Rob Rose, for gallantly riding the pines as reserve goaltenders for the Norsemen and Blue Devils.

BEST CHECKS OF THE SEASON: Another tie (you people are beginning to get the idea, aren't you?) with South's John Mikesell and North's Bob Nelson sharing the honors. Each is vastly different in style, but each managed to dish out a couple of the best checks I've seen in years.

MOST BRILLIANT SUGGESTION HONORS: To all the folks who have suggested scheduling future North-South hockey games at the St. Clair Shores Civic Arena. Watching high school bockey in the bright, clean, spacious, Civic Arena is a treat that all South-North fans (and certain sports reporters) deserve at least twice a year.

BEST JOB BY SCHOOL OFFICIALS: This honor is shared by North's Tom Gauerke, South's Chuck Hollosy and all the coaches, teachers, dads, moms and assistants who volunteered their time to serve as crowd marshalls and helpers at this year's games. It's a tiring, tough job, but these people did it well.

LEAST BRILLIANT SUGGESTION AWARD: To all the folks who have told me to take my eyesight, talent, opinions, columns, comments and suggestions and send them "where the sun don't shine." Not only do I think this would be physically impossible, I also think I've been insulted.

DUMBEST QUESTION OF THE YEAR AWARD: This one goes out to everyone who has asked me: "Have you seen any of our (pick one) North/South games this year?" NOOOOOO, Limit to proved the office and dream me everything I write.

SECOND DUMBEST QUESTION OF THE YEAR AWARD: To the guy who saw me taking notes at a hockey game and asked: "Are you writing about the game?" No buddy, I'm scouting for the Montreal Canadiens.

BEST QUESTION OF THE YEAR AWARD: To everyone who asked: "Do you like hockey?" I think so, but ask me again next November, when next season is gearing up. I should be thawed out by then.

THE "ALL THE BEST TO THE FIRST" AWARD: All the best should go to the 37 members of the very first varsity high school hockey teams in Grosse Pointe. No matter how many hockey teams come after them, these guys were the first. And, in a way, the best. They managed to excite a lot of people in Grosse Pointe this winter, putting on a good show, overcoming injuries and inexperience and showing everyone that at least the players were ready for a varsity hockey program.

Like I said, all the best.

North faculty bounces seniors By Julie Blankenhorn North High Tension was high as coach Tim Sheridan's and Coach "Sugar Senior starters included Paul

Mike Hall.

Sumbera's scoring dominance, Sheridan substituted class president Amy Treder, Bill Wiebelhaus and Fred Schultz. But during the next play Treder was knocked down by Sumbera.

By half-time the faculty had built a small lead thanks to the usual blocking jumps by Jeanne Bocci.

Illegal shots were commonplace throughout the game as "Dr. J' was tackled twice, once by Bilkovic and once in a scuffle under the senior net. Steve Walker's block of Sumbera initiated the only technical of the night and Mrs. Leonard and Sumbera were guilty of mistreating "President" Treder.

Fouls were rampant through the game as seniors Rich Portwood, John Matouk, Germain, Binkowski and Tom Spazzia stacked up 11 and faculty members Sumbera, "Magic Man" Matchko, "Mr. T" Teetaert and Coach Letzman responded with seven. The game's high scorers were Coach Letzman with 27 and Frank Sumbera with 23. Notso-close behind were seniors Germain with nine, Bilkovic with eight and Spazzia with seven.

Seniors who saw action included "Twinkle Toes": Flynn, Craig Cappas, Binkowski, Bilkovic, "Oh I know!" Germain, Treder, Wiebelhaus, Schultz, Cedric Patmon, Kristen Lehman, Frank Martilotti, Shawn Dowden, Kris Kuntzman, Jill Sine, Paul Merlo, Walker, Matouk, and Dave "Chancellor" Kaiser.

Faculty players also included Ritter, "Captain Ken" and "Com-puter Whiz" Gutow.

After all the fouls were sorted out, it was discovered that the Faculty had beaten the Seniors, Zimmerman. "I had told the team that the longer the game went, the more in Fraser's favor it would be. They have the bench strength, the depth that we don't have.

What Zimmerman does have is spirit. "Number one, we've got a great bunch of kids. They've all got great beart. All year long they were willing to do what I asked. They were very coachable.

"It helps a lot when you've got guys like Pitters — he's got a heart the size of Mt. Olympus — and Tecos. Tecos was just outstanding for us in the nets," Zimmerman

Regardless of the outcome of last night's game, Zimmerman feels that South's success in its first season of varsity hockey just couldn't be improved upon. Going into the Trenton contest, Zimmerman said that neither he nor his squad felt much pressure.

"We look at it this way: if we go farther, fantastic. If we don't, that's great, too. Because we've already had a terrific season.

'The feeling I had after Saturday night's game ... well, I've never experienced anything like that before. It was just great.'

Fine first year ends for North

A gallant North High hockey team stayed close to the defending state Class A champions for two periods in regional playoff action last week, but couldn't overcome a rash of injuries or a strong Fraser attack, losing to the Bulldogs, 6-3.

North, which trailed by just one goal going into the final period of the March 6 contest, scored first. Senior left wing Mark Phillips took a great set-up pass from defenseman Bob Nelson and fired a shot past goaltender Phil Sahutska to give the Norsemen a 1-0 lead. The goal came after great pressure put on the Fraser defense by the starting line of Mark Young, Phillips and Frank Vento.

Fraser tied it up less than a minute later when Mark Petri wasted little time scoring on a power play. Phil Carnaghi made it 2-1 on another Fraser power play, this one with Brad Heavner in the penalty box for tripping.

The first period was fast-paced and featured good checking and excellent goaltending by both Sahutske and North's Rick Lass. Sahutske made three saves in a row, stopping shots by Young, Craig Cappas and Marc Tirikian. And Lass stopped Fraser's dangerous Carnaghi on a breakaway late in the period.

North scored twice in the second period, once on a power play. A shorthanded goal by Fraser made it 3-3, and just six seconds before the second period ended, Fraser's Al Virgilio scored from a scramble at the side of the net to send the Bulldogs to the locker room with a 4-3 lead.

North came out in the third period to the sustained cheers of Norsemen boosters, but couldn't get anything going and the Bulldogs put the game away with two more goals.

The Norsemen finished the regular season with a 12-7-3 record.

Week of firsts for South

By David Loffredo South High

Last week, in their last stretch as a team, South's girls' varsity volleyball team had a lot of firsts. The team began the week with a 15-1, 12-15, 6-15 loss to North, a first for South because it had been unbeaten. On Thursday, South qualified for the districts by downing Detroit Martin Luther King 15-1, 15-2.

Then came a first, not only for the girls, but also for South. For the

GPHA hosts bantam tourney

The Grosse Pointe Hockey Association (GPHA) will host the Bantam AA State Hockey Tournament, Thursday through Sunday, March 8 to 11, at the Crosse Pointe Com munity Rink.

Teams from around the state will compete for the coveted state championship award. The eight districts scheduled to face-off against each other are Wayne, RFB (this team is made up of players from Romulus, Riverview, Brownstown and Flat Rock), Fraser, Waterford, Flint, Kalamazoo, Calumet and Grosse Pointe.

These second year Bantam players won their district championship award early in February. The winner of this state tournament will move on to Buffalo, N.Y., to represent Michigan in the national tournament which is to be played in early April.

The public is invited to attend and give support to these Michigan teams. The Grosse Pointe Community Rink is located at 4831 Canyon, directly behind the AMC dealership on Mack Avenue.

Admission is $2 per session or $7.50, tournament pass, for adults; student/senior citizen - $1 per session, $3.50, tournament pass; children 6 and under — free.

first time, South won an undisputed Eastern Michigan League volley-ball title. The girls accomplished that by topping L'Anse Creuse North 15-9, 2-15, 15-11. South finished the league competition with a 14-0 league record.

A day later, on March 3, the districts were held. In the first match, South destroyed Detroit Finney 15-0, 15-0, for its first complete shutout this year.

In the semi-final round, South toppled Detroit Kettering 15-0, 15-6, and a regional berth looked eminent, but it wasn't to be.

South's last competition would be the powerful team from Bishop Gallagher, which had just beaten North. In the first game, South fell behind early and just couldn't catch up, losing 10-15.

The second game was the same story as South failed to capitalize in the early moments and fell behind 7-14. But then it was time for a comeback. Three points later, the score was 11-14, but then the bottom fell out.

After a bump and a set, the ball was spiked and landed just outside of the line, with it went the hope of a regional playoff spot.

It's too bad that the playoffs are designed so that a team with a 22-2 record doesn't even have a chance to play in the regionals. Although the state rankings didn't think much of South's squad, they'll always be No. 1 in their fans' heart.

Local platform tennis courts were used; the quarterfinals and finals were played at the Country Club of Detroit. Dick Haverland and Dud Humphrey, of the Cleveland area, defeated John Brownlow and Mark Coffin, also of the Cleveland area. The tournament was sponsored by Meade Leasing of Grosse Pointe.

ULS ends on high note

The University Liggett School volleyball season came to an end Saturday March 3 when the Catholic League champions, St. Clements, defeated the Lady Knights 15-4, 15-4. On Thursday, March 1, ULS defeated Academy of the Sacred Heart, 15-9, 15-7, 15-2. But the true "grand finale" for Coach Candy Bousquet and the ULS volleyballers came Feb. 29; when for the first time in four years, ULS defeated Kingswood, 4-15, 15-13, 15-6.

at the three centers in Wayne, Oakland and University Liggett School captured second place in the Michigan Further information Independent Athletic Conference may be obtained from with a league record of 8-4. First the Easter Seal Society place went to Southfield Christian, of Wayne County, with a 12-0 record. ULS' overall record was 14-11.

Special congratulations go to junior Simone Early who received this year's Most Improved Player award. Simone's hitting skills progressed rapidly, and she became the team's leading middle blocker.

Freshman Kim Wood received the Most Valuable Player award. A hard worker, Kim led the team in hitting and had the second best serving percentage. She played steady defense and kept the team psyched in difficult situations.

Co-captains for next year are Wood and junior Gerri Ocampo. Gerry was the team's leading server and "quarterback," setting up the ULS attack.

Cagers fail

The ULS varsity basketball team spit two games last week to end the season with a record of 11-9.

On Wednesday, Feb. 29 Coach Tony Gallaher's Knights defeated Harper Woods, 48-43, in a sloppy game marked by poor shooting and frequent turnovers. ULS opened a 13-7 lead after one quarter, but had only a three point advantage at the half, 21-18. The game stayed close throughout the second quarter with ULS ahead 32-30 at three quarters, and by only one with two minutes remaining Crucial turnovers by Harper Woods in the closing minutes allowed the Knights to pull away in the closing moments. Junior forward Harold Colby led ULS with 15 points and 9 rebounds. Senior center Brian Hunt added 10 points.

On Friday, March 2, ULS was defeated by Michigan Independent Athletic Conference co-champions Southfield Christian, 67-42. The Knights were unable to slow Southfield's running game in the first half, and fell behind 16-7 at the quarter and 32-14 at the half. The team regrouped at halftime and slowed the game down with more intense play under the basket, better transition and a zone defense. The Knights closed the margin to 11 but could get no closer, as Southfield pulled away in the closing minutes behind torrid shooting. hitting 60 percent from the floor and 13 of 14 free-throws in the second half. Brian Hunt was the leading scorer and rebounder for ULS with 17 points and 10 rebounds.

Icers ousted

The ULS varsity ice hockey team ended its season March 3 with a 10-6 loss to Detroit Country Day School (DCDS) in the regional championship game at Southfield Civic Arena

DCDS jumped to a 1-0 lead just 23 seconds into the game. But two minutes later, ULS team captain Dan Bowen knotted the score when he stole the puck from DCDS defenseman Todd Moilanen and tallied on a breakaway with a shot to the lower left hand corner of the net. DCDS countered with two unanswered goals in the next two minutes. With time running out in the first period, Steve Georgi knocked in a rebound after a scramble in front of the DCDS net to pull ULS within one. ULS' leading scorer Rob Wood added a goal late in the second period, but a DCDS explosion sent ULS to the locker room down 8-3 at the end of that period.

In the third period, Dan Bowen and Dain French added three more goals, but the final was 10-6. "They didn't give up until the final buzzer. In many ways, this was an extremely frustrating season but the boys kept fighting, right to the end," coach Rich Lacca said.

Icers split pair

The University Liggett Middle School Bantam ice hockey team split a two game series against the Stanley Clark School of South Bend, Ind., Feb. 25 and 26. The Bantam Knights were out to avenge a loss and a tie they suffered at the hands of Stanley Clark in January

In the Feb. 25 game, the Knights jumped out to an early lead on a tally be defensemen Mike Rollins and went on to take a 64 win. On Feb. 26, Stanley Clark came back to take a 3-2 win.

Tankers take league meet

By Rick Markel North High

Some things never change ... like North's boys' swimming team. They dominated the Bi-County league all year long so it came as no surprise when North thoroughly dominated the league meet. It marked the 15th time that a Norsemen swim team has won a league meet.

Coach Les Roddis summed up their performance by saying that they swam very well. Indeed it was one of their best efforts of the season. A top notch outing like this one comes at a great time as the state championships roll around this weekend.

The big thing on the mind of all team members naturally is the state tournament. North already has qualified a medley relay team although no announcement has been made as to who will make up the squad. It is hoped that additional people will qualify this week. The relay team, coach Roddis feels, "... has the potential to finish in the top 12."

Next year's squad will really miss people like seniors Tim Monahan, Blair Schooff, Erich Zimmerman, and Scott Hess.

Fleming sixth

The Norsemen wrestling team members put their best foot forward as they competed in the state championships. Dave Fleming who set a team record for most victories with 50, led the Norsemen as he placed sixth in the state. The other two Norsemen representatives, Ken Werenski and Steve Taugher, drew very difficult op-ponents and faired well against big competition. Easily handling Detroit Osborne,

15-2 and 15-11 in their first match, the Norsemen took aim at a very good Bishop Gallagher squad. After losing the first game against Gallagher 15-4, North (11-5) had a lead in the second game but just couldn't pull it out.

The team, as Coach Ann Anderson said, "can be real proud." They put forth a tremendous effort but lost to a great team (Gallagher eventually won the district). Coach Anderson's squad has nothing to be ashamed of.

The Norsemen were hurt by the absence of Celeste Sartor who was ill. A fine match by Marlene Preisz did help North overcome the dif-

Clock ticks North's way

North's varsity basketball team is used to having its games decided in the last seconds. On the down side, most last season games nave gone against North, at least until Warren Woods Tower came to

It was different against Tower, thanks to Dan Kopitzke who hit a jump shot at the buzzer which gave North a 52-51 victory.

You didn't have to be a basketball fan to understand how big a win it was. Just look at the circumstances. North trailed Tower 30-13 at the half in what Coach George Olman called a Doctor Jekyll/Mr. Hyde game. The Norsemen came out far more intensified in the second half, but trailed by 12 at the end of the third quarter.

A 24-point scoring spree in the final period by North pushed the Norsemen over the hump and into a celebration. "It was real good for the kids," said Olman of the exciting win.

Gymnasts win league

North's gymnastics teams won its league meet in fine style, topping Fraser 134.9-127.35.

No. CFI-121.81

(Under authority of Act 230, P.A. 1925, as amended)

SIZE LIMIT ON BASS

The Natural Resources Commission, at its meeting on July 11, 1980, under authority of Act 236. P.A. 1925, as amended, set the size limit on smallmouth and largemouth bass at 12 inches for a period of five years beginning January 1, 1981, on all Michigan waters including the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

G.P.N. 3-8-84

COMMISSION ORDER NO. CFI-112.82

(Under authority of Act 230, P.A. 1925, as amended) OPEN SEASONS AND CATCH LIMITS ON PIKE, WALLEYE, SAUGER AND MUSKELLUNGE The Natural Resources Commission, at its meeting on October 8, 1982, under the authority of Act 230, P.A. 1925, as amended, ordered the following order become effective on January 1, 1983, and remain valid until March 31, 1988.

It shall be unlawful to take the following named species except within the open seasons and daily limits prescribed statewide regulations apply unless otherwise restricted): Statewide open seasons on all waters not otherwise closed to fishing shall be from May 15 through February on walleye, sauger, northern pike, and muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge). The daily catch limit shall be five singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike: one for muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge).

The above regulations apply statewide except that walleye and sauger may be taken at any time from the Detroit and St. Clair rivers. Lake St. Clair, and Lake Erie: and that muskellunge in Lake St. Clair. St. Clair and Detroit rivers may be taken only from the first Saturday in June through December 15 of each year. Also, the daily catch on Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie and the Detroit and St. Clair rivers shall be six singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike when the catch includes at least G.P.N. 3-8-84 one walleye or sauger.

Center Ice in the G.P. Hockey Association

Mite Division

The Blue Dragons began the playoffs with a 4-0 victory over the Rangers. Bill Cass opened the scoring in the first period, after fine passing from Pat Brennan and T.R. Youngblood.

Second period action saw Brennan make it 2-0 on passes from Amy Steckel, Matt Summers and Tommy Waldron. George Christensen made it 3-0 when he converted passes from Cass and Jason Chute. the Rangers played strong defense in the third period, marred only when Bill Cass scored his second goal after fine plays from Youngblood and Tony Marl. Bryan Cass got his first-ever shutout in goal.

MAJOR MAGICS-BLUE

DRAGONS The Magics' C-line led them to a 3-1 win over the Dragons. Billy Faber opened the scoring, with Leo Salvaggio assisting. Lucien Hudson made it 2-0 on an assist from Kevin O'Malley in the second period. Youngblood scored from Cass for the Dragons, but R. Wieczorkowski iced the game with his goal, Sawaf and Fox assisting. Dunlap and Sweda played well in goal for both teams.

RANGERS-MAJOR MAGICS

The Magics pushed their playoff record to 2-1-0 with a 9-1 win over the Rangers. Faber scored from Salvaggio in the first period and Chris Fox added a goal to give the Magics a 2-0 lead. Rick Gokenbach got his first of the season in the second period and O'Malley and Matt Spicer added two goals each before Adam MacDonald put the Rangers on the board. Hendrie assisting. Carl Rashid and Hudson closed out the scoring.

BLACK HAWKS-RANGERS

The Hawks opened the Mite Division playoffs with a 10-1 victory over the Rangers as strong defensive play hampered the Ranger offense and opened things up for the Andy Baskel scored twice and Ryan Meier added one goal in the first. Nate Weid scored midway through the second period before Baskel added his third goal; that was his fourth hat trick of the year.

Waterman, Nate Cook and Meier

also scored.

KINGS-BLACK HAWKS The Hawks came back with a 4-2 win over the Kings. Baskel scored twice in the first period on assists from Waterman and David Pulis. The Kings tied it up in the second period, but Jimmy Andary and Baskel scored the game-winners in the third, Pulis assisting. Wesley played well in goal. Peter Morgan. assisted by Mike Ugval, and Agustine Yofre, unassisted, scored for the Kings.

KINGS-MAJOR MAGICS

The Art Van Kings pushed toward a berth in the finals by beating the Magics, 1-0. After a scoreless first period. Agustine Yofre scored the only goal of the game when he made a rink-long dash to put the puck in the net; Brent Kunar assisted, Magics' goaltender Fox and the Kings' Paul Megler played very well in the nets; the win was Megler's fourth consecutive shutout.

KINGS-BRUINS

The Kings remained undefeated with a 6-0 victory over the Bruins. The Kings got a first period goal from Jamie Brock, a second period tally from Jacob Thomas, and third period goals from Ugval, Eric Kisskalt, Morgan and Brock. Matt Van Elslander. Bobby Rahaim, Danny Bombich, Evilasio Covacha and Ugval earned assists. Netminder Megler extended his shutout streak to five games.

BRUINS-SEALS

Every Bruin contributed to this 1-0 Bruin victory over the Seals. Tom Best turned in some excellent goaltending in the shutout. He had plenty of help from each player: Mike Owens, Chris Regier, Damon Manetta, Marty Hage, Jamie Mc-Millan, Jamie Bufalino, Ken McIntyre, Jeff Adams, Bryan Belanger, Chris Gibson (who scored the goal), David Gracey and Frank Zimmer (assists), Mike Weyhing, and Danny Magdowski.

Pee Wee Division

USA's Jim Bunn turned away several breakaways and point blank shots as the Olympians defeated the Sabres 5-0.

USA took the lead with 30 seconds gone into the first period when Jonathan Davis beat the Sabres' netminder, converting a pass from Peter Cueter and Renato Roxas. Before the first period was over Davis also gained an assist. feeding a perfect pass to John McGlone who quickly buried the puck. With one second left in the opening period Eric Ryan fed a perfect pass to a streaking Blake Crawford who got behind the Sabre defense to give the USA team a 3-0

In the second period Crawford scored again, this time with the help of Roxas' second assist of the night. For the balance of the game the USA defense, led by Nancy Alcott, completely shut down every attempt by the Sabres.

ISLANDER-OLYMPIANS

The Pee Wee Islanders shut out the Olympians, 8-0. Juan Ganum and John Olmsted opened the scoring: Olmsted scored twice more in the third period for a hat trick. Brendan Rohan, Shannon Nowi-ecki, Andy Vyletel and Gabe Benvenuto also scored and goalie Chris Stebbins got his second shutout of the year.

SABRES-ISLANDERS

Six Islanders scored goals as the team beat the Sabres, 9-1. Alfie Fisher, Olmsted and Rohan scored two goals each and Nowiecki, Vyletel and Pete McDermott scored one apiece for the Islanders. Frank Lucido earned a playmaker, getting assists on the Fisher and McDermott goals. Other assists went to Nowiecki (two), McDermott (two), Benvenuto, Rohan, Ryan Conboy, Billy Wilson, Olm-sted and Fisher. Stebbins played another outstanding game in goal.

NORTH STARS-USA The Stars depended upon a strong offense and a good defense as goaltender Jeff "Hollywood" Blum notched his second shutout of the season in this 4-0 win over USA. Defensemen Will Chave, Kelly Reed, Brad Hea and Aaron Grose played well and Kevin Nugent had his second four-goal game of the year on offense. Assists came from Tre Morgeson, Jimmie Alderton and Ronnie Sables

Bandits are state champs

The Grosse Pointe Bandits' season ended last week in the best way possible: with a state Squirt A championship.

The Bandits' road to the championship began with a 2-2 tie with Birmingham. Brian Michalik opened the scoring after taking passes from Stefan Tietge and Bob Cass. Kevin Watson scored the squad's second goal, Mark Sliwinski assisting. With just 50 seconds left in the game, Birmingham scored on a deflection to gain the tie.
