Singers and swingers

Well folks, we've got good news and bad news about Grosse Pointe performers this week. On the up-side, GP's very own David Ludwig will be performing the part of Lockit in the Michigan Opera Theatre's touring production of "The Beggar's Opera" by John Gay.

I've been told by someone in the know that the opera is set in 18th century England in a debtor's prison and that it's really a lot of laughs. The MOT describes the opera as a "satirical masterpiece" and Lockit is supposed to be a very meaty role.

The opera begins the week of Feb. 25 with in-school performances in the Anchor Bay School District. The production will be performed in both the upper and lower peninsulas, with the nearest performances to the Pointe scheduled for March 4 at Cooley High School; March 18 at the Detroit Institute of Arts, and April 29 at Pershing High School.

Call for ticket information because apparently ticket prices vary.

Let's also hear it for Mariana Skaff, of the Pointe, who will be one of four singers competing for Entertainer of the Year honors in Channel 4's "Saturday Night Music Machine" program scheduled for this Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

According to our information, Mariana will perform Pat Benatar's "We Belong" in a music video before celebrity judges Thomas McClary, formerly of the Commodores; Lara Jill Miller, of NBC's "Gimme a Break"; and Melissa Brennan, of the daytime "Santa Barbara" soap.

The winner of this championship round receives the choice of a videocassette recorder, stereo system, color TV or microwave and will advance to the next show.

The Entertainer of the Year wins the use of a Ford EXP for a year, 10 hours of studio recording time, and a trip to New York to meet with a major record company executive.

Sing your heart out, Mariana.

Now, here's the bad news. Grosse Pointe is not the home of the Bachelor of the Year. That title belongs to Brian Schultz of Warren.

Our entry in the Bachelor of the Year bash, sponsored by the March of Dimes, was John Brucia, of Moorland Drive. John made the semi-finals, but alas and alack, didn't make the cut to the top five.

However, John's mother said he had a pretty good time, and indeed during an interview with FYI earlier, John said that's all he was really looking for.

Incidentally, the first runner-up was Dr. Herman Glass II, of Detroit; second went to Archie Ellis, of Ypsilanti; third to Joseph Daniels, of Brighton; and first runner-up was Clifford P. Marriott, of Keego Harbor.

In case anyone was interested.

Drink up and vote!

Basically, what we're looking for here are ugly bartenders. Sorry, make that U.G.L.Y. bartenders, as in Understanding, Generous, Loveable and Youthful.

The U.G.L.Y. Bartender contest is a national event to benefit multiple sclerosis and is a competition in which bar patrons may vote (at 25 cents a vote), for their favorite mixologist.

Here in Michigan, a training party for U.G.L.Y. agents is scheduled for tonight at the Southfield Holiday Inn to be followed by an U.G.L.Y. Boxer Shorts Party (females included) on March 4.

Top prize is a trip for two to the Bahamas for five nights and six days.

For more information, call 1-800-292-5865 and let's get U.G.L.Y.

2-for-1 ban won't dampen local liquor sales

By Harriet Nolan

Most local bars don't expect to suffer financially due to the ban on 2-for-1 drinks that went into effect Feb. 13, because they're already in the habit of giving customers discounts on single drinks instead.

Dan Sparks, director of executive services, Michigan Liquor Control Commission, was quoted as saying, "All it (the ban) does is say that no licensee can serve two identical drinks to the same person at the same time for one price."

"The whole intent is to prevent a situation where someone walks into a bar and gets two drinks put in front of them, whether they want two or not. Human nature being what it is, when people get something for free, they take it."

"The point we're trying to make is people, to some extent, have to be responsible for their own actions. If they want that second drink, they have to make a conscientious effort to get it," he added.

Marge DePuys, owner of Marge's in the Park, agrees with Sparks and recalled a similar incident that happened to her.

"I've been to places that served 2-for-1 drinks and wasn't aware of it until they brought me two drinks," she said. "While I really didn't want both, I drank them anyway because they were there."

"I don't feel it's right pushing liquor on people. There are too many with drinking problems in the world today as it is," she added.

Mrs. DePuys compared Marge's atmosphere and clientele to that portrayed on the television program "Cheers," where a family atmosphere prevails, and says her prices are lower than average, so specials aren't warranted.

"People come here for camaraderie, not price reductions and they wouldn't care if the prices were double," she added.

Al Brengman, owner of Captain Two Lounge, said his patrons don't expect any type of discount. "I'm in the restaurant, not the bar business. Anyway, all our drinks are special."

"Banning 2-for-1 drinks is ridiculous, because at some places customers can buy one drink and for a penny get a second, have a beer and a shot or get it for half-price," he added.

At the Irish Coffee Bar and Grill, hamburgers sell for 96 cents and bartender Jim Shefferly said, "We give the food away, so we have to make something on the liquor."

Sparky Herbert's was the only business that previously offered the 2-for-1 drink special, according to bartender Bob Pine. He said a 40 percent-off drink policy was substituted in December in anticipation of the recent ruling.

Sparky's also serves hot hors d'oeuvres, such as meat balls, chicken wings and quiche, to attract happy hour customers and sales and customers haven't lagged, Pine said, because "people understand the discount and realize drinks aren't being forced on them."

The Pirate's Cove, Telly's, J.C. Carly's, Diamond Lil's, The Old Place and the Bronze Door also give happy hour discounts to patrons, according to their management.

At Lounge in the Woods, Tony Alfonsi gives crackers, cheese and other snacks during happy hour.

In the winter, hot drinks like Irish coffee and Jamaican coffee, and wines are discounted. A few weeks ago, all red drinks were reduced for Valentine's Day and St. Patrick Day celebrators will get a break on green drinks, he said.

"The key to the ban is not to stop happy hour, but to promote safe happy hours," said Rod Brown, executive director of the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association.

Brown said the association, which also conducts alcoholic management training seminars to teach bar and restaurant personnel how to recognize intoxicated customers and how to deal with them, wants people to make their own decision regarding how much to drink.

"If you set one drink in front of the individual, whether it's a double or at a reduced price, that person knows what he's doing. It's a lot easier for the licensee to monitor the drinking habits of their customers if they are serving drinks ordered and not more than they ordered."

"I don't think it will hurt the licensee financially. Basically they don't overpour, because they're in the business to make money. And if they water drinks down, that's against the law," he added.

Residents oppose more street closings

By Pat Paholsky

The rash of requests by Park citizens to close their streets at one end has prompted some residents to petition against more closings. Some two dozen signatures were presented to the council at the last meeting.

Supporters, who blame the inclement weather, say they will gather more signatures as soon as going door to door is less hazardous. They seek to persuade the planning commission and city council to give requests for closings more study.

The petition states: We believe the costs to the residents of the city outweigh the alleged benefits. In addition to the initial construction expense and inconvenience to residents, police patrol cars, fire and ambulance vehicles, there will be increased liability incurred by garbage trucks and snow plows backing out of cul-de-sacs, unsightly barriers at the end of closed streets, etc.

"We don't want to build the Wall of China around Grosse Pointe Park," said Harold Suminski of the 1300 block of Buckingham. "What we are trying to say is we want the planning commission and the city council to study this thing fairly and not just be pressured by a few groups who want cul-de-sacs."

Suminski, who has lived in Grosse Pointe for 28 years, the last 13 on Buckingham, said, "We see a lot of problems with cul-de-sacs. On Grayton, the garbage truck has to back out, and maybe one day it will run over a kid."

Lee Faillieres, who lives in the 1300 block of Beaconsfield and is a 26-year member of the Park fire department, said, "It really creates a problem for firefighters and police officers, because it cuts off access. Grayton causes a problem. We need access to our streets and we can't be an island. As a firefighter, I see a problem. Those pieces of equipment are big and they don't turn on a dime."

"It's advantageous to the burglar to have streets closed off and police can't get through," he added.

"We don't want to build the Wall of China around Grosse Pointe Park."

ed. "I think it's more of a problem. There are burglaries everywhere. People just have to be more careful."

Suminski said one of the ways residents can combat crime is through the formation of block clubs.

"Just get to know your neighbors extremely well. Have everyone put on their backyard lights," he said.

Faillieres, a lifelong resident of Grosse Pointe, said, "The council made a grave error when they allowed Grayton to be closed. They didn't consider the hydrants there. It's harder for the police and fire department and easier for the criminal."

"Pretty soon we're going to have a walled-off city," he added.

Guess who's coming to dinner?

Anytime a reader says she has 50-plus robins nesting in her backyard in February, it's worth checking out. Sure enough, there behind a house on Blairmoor Road was a regiment of robins nesting in a tree and gobbling down breadcrumbs. A spokesman for the Department of Natural Resources said they were either birdfeeder robins who didn't wing south or early bird robins returning north on a recent warm front that swept through the state. He also said seeing the harbingers of spring in February isn't all that unusual.

Aim for spot on space shuttle

Teachers shoot for the stars

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Being the first teacher in space is the opportunity of a lifetime and may spark a resurgence of interest in science among students, according to local teachers who've applied for the opening on the space shuttle.

President Ronald Reagan announced the Teacher in Space program last summer. More than 10,000 applications from private and public school teachers were received, including 495 from Michigan.

At least four local teachers applied for the spot. North science teacher John Herrold and Brownell science department chairman William Leleszi agreed to talk about their decision to apply. A third applicant said he would rather "keep it under my hat," and a fourth was unable to be contacted.

Herrold, who teaches physical science and aviation science at North, said the possible shuttle flight represented the opportunity of a lifetime. He is a pilot with a single and multi-engine rating and flight instructor certification. He also has a glider and sea-plane rating.

While his flying experience may be of some importance, it may not tip the scales in his direction, Herrold said. The opening may not call for someone with his credentials in flying, he added.

His interest in the flight "comes both as a science teacher and flyer. The shuttle is the state-of-the-art when it comes to aircraft," he said. "It would definitely be the ride of a lifetime."

His teaching career began in 1964 in Detroit. The nation's space program was burgeoning, and Herrold said he followed its growth from the launching of the first lunar probes through the development of space shuttle.

"I've followed the space program closely," he said. "I remember seeing the live impact of the Ranger probe on the moon. I would bring in a television set to science classes when I felt it was appropriate."

He started teaching in Grosse Pointe schools in 1969-70, the first year there was a senior class at North, Herrold said.

Before he made the decision to apply, he talked it over with Judith, his wife of four years, and his three children. The family was supportive of the idea.

"She said, 'go for it,'" Herrold laughed.

Halfway there

With $115,000 received, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Family Participation Campaign is more than halfway to its $220,000 goal, Dr. Mark R. Weber, director of the center, said. More than 1,800 persons have contributed to date.

The center, which receives no support from taxes, depends upon endowments and individual contributions for 35 percent of its day-to-day operating expenses. The 2,000 to 3,000 programs offered each year make up the remaining 65 percent cost.

Weber said, "Contributions continue to come in daily, but community-wide participation will be vital in order to meet the goal."

All contributions are tax-deductible.

Q: I bought some land on July 1, 1984, as an investment. The hope of attaining my goals has been wiped out by unfavorable zoning laws. If I sell this land on or about Feb. 15, 1985, can I get the benefit of capital gains?

A: Yes. The required holding period for capital assets — like land — used to be one year. Now, for capital assets acquired after June 22, 1984, the holding period is only six months plus one day. So, capital gains treatment is available to you.

Q: I am over 65 years old and my doctor told me to take two aspirin a day to help keep my blood "thin." Can I deduct the cost of these aspirin on my 1984 tax return?

A: No. Now only prescription drugs and insulin may be deducted for 1984 and subsequent years.

Chicoine to chair JA drive

Shores resident Lionel M. Chicoine, vice president of Purchasing and Supply for Ford Motor Co., will serve as general chairman for the 1985 Junior Achievement Fund Drive.

Under his leadership, more than 800 fundraisers from business and industry will assist with this year's campaign. Contacts will be made throughout the seven-county areas of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Monroe, Livingston and St. Clair.

Chicoine has been a member of the Detroit Junior Achievement Board of Directors since 1976 and became a member of the organization's national board in 1980.

In March 1982, he received JA's highest national award — the Gold Leadership Award — for "exemplary national leadership in promoting economic understanding and career education through Junior Achievement." He also received JA's 1983 Annual Achievement Award from the Southeastern Michigan chapter.

Since 1949, Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan has provided economic education to thousands of students. Funds raised during this year's campaign will be budgeted to operate and expand JA's youth programs.

Throughout southeastern Michigan, more than 22,000 young people will participate in JA programs this year, making it one of the largest programs of its type in the world.

Todd named top engineer

Woods resident John S. Todd, PE, corporate engineering consultant for Giffels Associates, Inc., has been selected by the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers, Detroit Chapter, as the recipient of the 1985 Outstanding Engineer of the Year award.

Todd, a practicing mechanical engineer since 1936, has made many design contributions to the engineering field. Career highlights range from the mechanical design of the Tokamak Fusion Test Reactor building at Princeton University requiring capture and treatment processes for radioactive gases, to the design of ultra-clean room facilities with a filtering system designed to capture minute dust particles for a major semiconductor manufacturer.

Other notable achievements include responsibility for the mechanical engineering design planning phase of the NASA lunar receiving lab, designed to provide biological isolation and examination of astronauts and lunar samples.

The award will be presented during Engineers Week, Feb. 17-23, as one of the events scheduled to recognize and promote the engineering profession.

St. Christopher alumni sought

St. Christopher Catholic School will commemorate its 35th year, and the last two weekends in March have been set aside for a reunion with teachers, nuns, priests, students and parishioners. Dinners, dances, displays, alumni basketball games and other activities are planned.

Former students of any class can call the rectory at 584-7460 or Jim Dyc at 937-8879 for more information.

Contest open to accounting students

The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants is sponsoring its second annual Student Manuscript Contest as an opportunity to encourage college accounting students to address those issues which will affect the future of the accounting profession.

The competition is open to all junior and senior bachelor and master accounting degree students attending a Michigan college or university. Cash awards of $500, $300 and $200 will be made for the three best manuscripts. A committee of CPAs in public accounting, industry and education will review the manuscripts.

The first-place winning article will be published in The Michigan CPA, the professional CPA journal. The topic of the contest is "Big GAPP, Little GAPP: Should We Have Both?" Manuscripts must be 1,500 to 2,000 words in length and a 50 to 75 word abstract which may serve as a basis for selection of finalists.

The deadline is March 1. For more information and an application, contact the Michigan Association of CPAs, 28116 Orchard Lake Road, PO Box 9054, Farmington Hills, Mich. 48018. Phone is 855-2288.

Free trees

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving 10 free shade trees to people who join the nonprofit group during February 1985.

A sugar maple, weeping willow, red oak, green ash, thornless honeylocust, pin oak, silver maple, tulip tree, European mountain ash, and red maple tree will be given as part of the foundation's campaign to encourage tree planting.

The trees were selected because they provide flowers, berries and nuts, in addition to shade and beauty, according to John Rosenow, the foundation's executive director.

Members who contribute $10 during February will receive the 10 free trees. The six-to-twelve-inch trees will be shipped this spring between Feb. 1 and May 31 when conditions are right for planting. They will be sent with enclosed planting instructions, and are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free by the foundation.

To become a member, a $10 contribution should be sent to SHADE TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, Neb. 68410, by Feb. 28.

St. Paul's pastor celebrates 40 years as priest

By Pat Paholsky

When he was a young boy, Monsignor Francis X. Canfield wanted to be a missionary and go to India. "There were times I thought being a doctor would be nice," he said, but the basic desire to be a priest remained.

And 40 years ago, he was ordained in the Roman Catholic Church. Since then, he's been busy and his list of accomplishments covers several pages.

He taught history and English for 24 years at Sacred Heart Seminary. During this period, he earned a second master's degree from the University of Michigan and a doctorate from the University of Ottawa. And for eight years each summer, he was visiting lecturer in library science at a college in Los Angeles.

As librarian for Sacred Heart Seminary, he cataloged the entire library. His activities in the field included serving as chairman and also president of the Michigan Unit of the Catholic Library Association.

In honor of his contributions, the rare book room at Sacred Heart was named for him in January 1979.

From 1963 to 1971, he was rector and president of the college. He was a chaplain to the Detroit Police Department from 1965 to 1971.

"I rode a number of times out of cruiser number 13 and saw quite a bit of the life of those men and came to admire them," Father Canfield said. "There would be a long space of nothing and they'd be suddenly called into action in a life/death situation."

The one constant throughout his career has been his love for the printed word. His articles and book reviews have appeared in numerous publications and he wrote a weekly column, "What's New In Books," for the Michigan Catholic for 14 years.

"There were always books in our home," he said. "My mother read a lot and liked to talk about books. I had a very good teacher in the ninth grade and he whetted my appetite for books even more."

"I enjoy words, especially with the strong Latin and Greek background I received at the seminary," he added.

Last year his book, "With Eyes of Faith," was published. Illustrated with water colors by Sister Kinue Matsuzaki, the book contains his reflections on finding God and spiritual values in people and the world around us.

The book came about as a result of a weekly column Father Canfield writes in the church paper.

"I couldn't think what to write and I got to reflecting on the beauty of our neighborhood. I wrote on our water and the trees and the stars and people would say, 'You ought to have those published,'" he said.

The monsignor received the Distinguished Community Service Award from the Grosse Pointe Interfaith Center for Racial Justice in 1979. In 1981 he was named to the board of directors of Bon Secours Hospital where he chairs the Human Values Committee.

When the Archdiocese of Detroit celebrated its 150th anniversary in 1983, Father Canfield wrote a brief history of the church in Detroit, which was distributed throughout the area. He is the founder and president of the American Friends of the Vatican Library, a group that aids the library.

The monsignor, who was appointed to St. Paul's in 1971, said he has tried to instill a sense of community in the parishioners.

"One of the efforts has been to bring people into the operations as much as possible," he said.

The caring by parishioners with the community at large has come about through ecumenical efforts particularly with Christ Church and St. Paul Lutheran, he said.

A Mass of Thanksgiving honoring him on his 40th anniversary will be celebrated this Sunday, Feb. 24, at 1 p.m. A reception in the school will follow. To reply, call 885-8855.

Special Bach concert performed here Sunday

St. Paul's on the Lake will be the second of four churches in the metropolitan area to participate in a program Sunday that will culminate in a gala celebration at Orchestra Hall next month.

The concerts observe the 300th birthday of Bach, Handel and Scarlatti. Planning for the series, sponsored by the Lyric Chamber Ensemble, began more than a year ago.

Fedora Horowitz, artistic director and pianist for the group, said, "These composers worked primarily in the church. It's so beautiful to bring this music back to the church where it belongs, maybe more than a concert hall."

The concert at St. Paul's will be presented Sunday, Feb. 24, at 4 p.m. The host will be David Wagner. Musicians from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, including others from a wide area, will perform.

The concert will feature Scarlatti's Harpsichord sonatas, as well as "Suite for Trumpet and Organ" and Aria "Let the Bright Seraphim" for Soprano and Trumpet by Handel and the Unaccompanied Sonata in G Minor for Violin by Bach.

"The entire program will finish with 'A Mighty Fortress is our God' and everybody in the church will sing," Ms. Horowitz said. "It will be a common celebration."

Tickets are $5 at the door. The church is located at 157 Lakeshore. Admission for members of the congregation, students and senior citizens is $3.

The Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Detroit began the series last Sunday. On March 3, the First Presbyterian Church in Detroit will host the third concert, and the fourth and final church concert will be held in Troy.

The concluding concert, the grand finale, will be held at Orchestra Hall Sunday, March 17, at 4 p.m. More than 100 musicians and singers will perform, including members of the Brazeal Dendard Chorale.

For information or a brochure on the series, call the Lyric Chamber Ensemble at 357-1111.

Local police departments to enter computer age

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods officials are putting the final touches on a program that will computerize some records in their police and fire departments.

Working with funding and representatives from the Metropolitan Affairs Corporation, officials from the six communities have been meeting for about a year to discuss the possibility of computerizing police and fire records to speed formulation of monthly and yearly statistical reports.

Also under consideration is a program to computerize the departments' "contact cards" to allow cross-indexing and access by other local departments.

Purchase of the software is the first step of the program, with development of hardware necessary for networking to be done later, city officials said.

Buying the software and training employees to use it will cost about $5,000, to be split among the six cities, city officials said.

While cost-savings haven't been determined yet, police officials say computerization of the monthly and year-end reports will save a lot of pencil-and-paper work.

Computerization will mean great speed in retrieving information from storage and easier record-keeping, according to Woods public safety director Jack Patterson, who co-chaired the subcommittee that studied the program.

The Woods currently has computer hardware it can use to bring the record-keeping on line, Patterson said.

One of the goals of the committee is to have all departments concerned generate a uniform crime report, according to City public

Monsignor Francis X. Canfield poses with his companion, Sam. Despite its size, the St. Bernard has a childlike dependence on its caretaker, according to the priest.

Lenten program focuses on hunger

Five Wednesday Lenten events will focus the attention of St. James Lutheran Church on the needs of hungry people and the church's response. From Feb. 27 through March 27, each event will include an austerity supper at 6:30 p.m. a study of a Christian's responsibility to combat world hunger at 7:15 p.m. and worship and prayer at 8 p.m. The study and worship will also be offered each Wednesday morning at 9:30 and 10 a.m.

Each of the austerity meals will include a subsistence diet from a country whose food needs are great. Nourishing soup and bread follow.

The five-week study, "God's Food: The Relationship Between Holy Communion and World Hunger," will be led by Pastor Robert Rimbo and Pastor George Schelter.

A highlight of the five weeks will be the presence of Grosse Pointe Woods resident Bonnie Nasr, on Wednesday, March 6. Employed by the Contact and Resource Center, a Lutheran/Christian agency in Beirut, Lebanon, she divides her year between working among those left disabled and hungry by war in Lebanon and people in this country who have resources to help.

The church, located at 170 McMillan Road, in the Farms, welcomes the community to attend. Call 884-0511 to reserve a place at any of the austerity meals.

Dancers delight academy students

The Ishangi Family Dancers from West Africa made an appearance at the Grosse Pointe Academy recently to give students an exciting look at African folklores. According to a spokesman for the academy, the students have been studying Africa, concentrating on its art, dance and folktales. The dance troupe, which gave a spirited hour-long performance, was brought in through the Detroit Youththeatre of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Here, the dancers demonstrate an ancient dance devoted to the importance of bamboo in African culture.

Students sought for LIT summer science program

Applications are being accepted for Lawrence Institute of Technology's 17th Annual Summer Science Institute (SSI) scheduled for June 17 through July 26.

The six-week program is open to current high school juniors who are interested in science, computer science, mathematics or engineering, have maintained at least a B average, and have received no grades lower than a B in math and science. Applicants should have completed one year of both chemistry and geometry, and two years of algebra by the end of the 1984-85 academic year.

LIT's program is limited to 60 students who have demonstrated superior achievement and who have been recommended by their counselor or principal and science or math teacher.

Participants receive tuition-free instruction by full-time faculty members of LIT's School of Arts and Science in topics ranging from chemical kinetics to computer techniques on LIT's campus in Southfield.

In addition to classroom instruction, participants will use the college's digital computer, visit research laboratories, and attend lectures by some of the nation's leading corporation executives, researchers and engineers who are brought to LIT for special interaction.

The program is funded each year by LIT and grants from local corporations and foundations. The only cost to the student is a $60 non-refundable registration fee. All materials will be furnished.

Applications must be postmarked by April 26. Admitted applicants will be notified by May 10 and must accept by May 20. For applications or further information, students should contact their high school mathematics or science chairperson, guidance counselor, or Dean Zaven Margosian, School of Arts and Science, Lawrence Institute of Technology, 21000 West Ten Mile Road, Southfield, Mich. 48075.

Local police help arrest gunmen

Three armed men were captured inside of Big Boy's Restaurant at Nine Mile and Jefferson in St. Clair Shores, with the help of police from the Farms and Shores, according to Detective Robert Williams of the St. Clair Shores Police Department.

Williams said police were called to the restaurant at 3:25 a.m. by an employee who reported a robbery in progress. When they arrived they observed one man at the cash register, and after entering the building, arrested two suspects.

A search of the back of the building resulted in the capture of a third suspect hiding under a counter.

Customers still in the restaurant after the 3 a.m. closing had been ordered into the back room by the gunmen, while employees were confined to other areas, said Williams. None were hurt.

The men have been charged with armed robbery and were arraigned by Judge William Couchman. Cash bond has been set at $50,000 and the prisoners will be transported to the Macomb County jail.

In mourning

The flags flew at half-staff in Grosse Pointe Park last week in memory of Matthew C. Patterson Sr., former mayor who served the city for 22 years. Funeral services were held Feb. 12.

"You Don't Own A Yacht?"

Few parents of University Liggett School students do. As a matter of fact, about twenty percent of our students receive financial aid. Most of our parents are stretching to offer their children a University Liggett education, because they know that a top-notch education is the most important gift anyone can give a child.

No, you don't have to be wealthy for your child to attend ULS. You DO have to feel that each child has only one chance for an excellent education and that the choices you make now for your child can affect the rest of his life.

If you want your child to have the quality education that ULS offers, but feel you can't afford ULS, then investigate our financial aid program. It works like the program of many colleges and universities — you fill out a form, and we use the School Scholarship Service to help determine the amount of tuition you are able to pay. Then, looking at the academic promise and special talents of your child, we try to come up with a package you can afford.

A top-notch education is the most important gift you can give your child. If you feel this way, too, investigate University Liggett School.

Come and learn more at our all-school Open House on Sunday, February 24th, from 2:00-4:00 p.m.

Young pianists sought

Young concert pianists in the state have an opportunity to compete for concert bookings and more than $2,000 in awards at the fifth annual Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival. The event will be held Saturday, April 13, and Sunday, April 14, at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Drive.

Competition chairman Alex Sucek announced that a major grant from the Michigan Foundation for the Arts and the continuing participation of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society will again make the competition possible.

As in the past, the jury will include concert pianists and conductors. Chief juror and artistic director of the competition is Mischa Kottler, Detroit's pianist laureate and longtime pianist of the Detroit Symphony. With him will be concert pianist Flavio Varani and Felix Resnick, conductor of the Grosse Pointe Symphony. Also participating will be concert pianist Fedora Horowitz.

Any pianist between the ages of 18 and 32 currently living, studying or working in Michigan, or who has been a Michigan resident is eligible.

The requirements call for a Bach prelude and fugue and a romantic or impressionist work for the preliminaries on April 13, and a Beethoven sonata, a contemporary sonata and a concerto for the finals, Sunday, April 14.

Entries are due Friday, March 29. For complete instructions, entrants may call or write the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Drive, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich. 48236. The phone number is 881-7511.

Each finalist will receive a $200 stipend. The winner will receive an award of $1,200 made possible by a grant from the Michigan Foundation for the Arts and $250 from the Grosse Pointe Symphony, in conjunction with performance engagements. These will include a recital with the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival in July 1985, and a concerto performance with the Grosse Pointe Symphony.

The purpose of the competition is to aid and encourage Michigan talent, to gain experience in competing and to provide the most promising performers opportunities to perform with established programs.

The Rovers

... will return to the Macomb Center for the Performing Arts for their traditional St. Patrick's Day warm-up with two performances — Tuesday, March 5, and Wednesday, March 6. Tickets are $13 for adults and $11 for senior citizens and students and may be obtained at the box office or reserved on credit card by calling 286-2222 during the week.

24-hour teller bandit caught

A 28-year-old Detroit man is being held in Wayne County Jail under $1 million bond after his arrest Monday, Feb. 4, in connection with armed robberies in the Park, Farms and Detroit.

Anthony Adams was arraigned Wednesday before Harper Woods District Court Judge Roger LaRose on three counts of armed robbery stemming from incidents that occurred Jan. 19 and 23 and Feb. 2 at the National Bank of Detroit at Mack and Moross.

LaRose set bond for Adams at $1 million.

Adams was arrested Monday by Detroit and Park police in connection with armed robberies that occurred in those cities.

According to reports, a woman in the 1200 block of Beaconsfield told police she was walking to work that morning when confronted by a man, who produced a gun and demanded her purse. The woman gave her purse to the thief, who escaped in a late model Dodge, police said.

An area broadcast of the robber's description was made. It was learned that a man answering that description had held up a man at an automatic teller at the Comerica Bank at Mack and Hillcrest and took the man's car, police said.

A car matching that description was spotted near Manistique by Detroit police. Detroit and Park police apprehended a man they identified as Adams after a chase, reports said.

Adams was also arraigned on armed robbery charges in Detroit Recorder's Court, Park police said.

Farms detectives believe that Adams is responsible for three armed robberies at the automatic teller machine at the NBD office across from Sears.

On Saturday, Jan. 19, a Detroit man was robbed of $70 at the bank's machine. The robber tried to take the victim's car, but was thwarted by the vehicle's kill switch.

Four days later, a Stanhope Road resident lost $30 and a vehicle when robbed at the machine.

On Feb. 2, a robber accosted another customer at the machine, taking $85 at gunpoint, and attempted to break into a second customer's automobile, according to reports. The robber didn't get the car and escaped on foot, reports said.

Isabelle's robbed

Isabelle's, a women's clothing store on the Hill, was robbed on Sunday, Feb. 17, according to Grosse Pointe Farms Police.

Police were called at 11 p.m. and found the front door open and two white blazers on the sidewalk.

A large sledge hammer, which police said they suspect was used to break down the front door, was inside. The rear door had a deadbolt lock and was intact. An inventory of missing items is incomplete, said police.

Consolidate for efficiency

A fourth Grosse Pointe municipality appears likely to consolidate its police and fire protection services into a single public safety department as a result of the thoughtful report of the Grosse Pointe Park Citizens Commission on Public Safety.

If the Park either by council action or a public vote adopts the recommendation, only the Farms would be left with separate police and fire departments. The Farms, however, already is in negotiations with its police and firefighting unions on the issue.

The report stressed that the recommendation is made to expand the availability and improve the quality of service to the community. It recommended additional training for both police and firefighters if the plan is adopted. It suggested basic firefighting instruction in a Detroit fire station for police personnel and completion of the basic police academy training by the firefighters.

As the report said, the major aim of the consolidation is to increase the number of employees on patrol performing public safety duties and to reduce the number of firemen standing by in the fire station. Use of the combined force as public safety officers would make it possible to increase both foot and motor patrols, an important factor in curbing crime in any community.

The report also stressed that faster response to fire incidents would be possible, a single chain of command could result in more efficiency, more personnel would be available for several emergencies, improvement of prevention programs would be possible, officer morale would be improved and a single records system and a single personnel structure would provide better control of manpower and improve recruiting and selection.

In its report, the commission did offer the arguments advanced against the consolidation proposal, but provided answers that convinced the majority of the commission to recommend the public safety department. The major criticisms appear to be that you cannot teach one man to do two jobs and the effectiveness of the police and fire protection services will decline because the professions are so different.

Two commission members who opposed the recommendation also cited the statement of the National Fire Protection Association that "there is no advantage either from the point of view of economics or efficiency, in combining police and fire department functions," and that consolidation "results in poorer police service and poorer fire service."

Overall, the report indicates the commission did its homework, studied the problem and the factors involved and then made a recommendation in an effort to serve the best interests of the entire community. On the basis of our study of the report, we would agree with the commission that the recommendation is a sensible one that ought to be implemented if the contractual and other obstacles can be overcome without too much difficulty.

There is a further factor that recommends support for the commission's findings. If and when all of the Pointe municipalities finally achieve consolidation of their police and fire departments, cooperation among the public safety departments ought to be further improved. Cooperation already is undertaken by police and fire departments and existing public safety departments, but further consolidation ought to ease the red tape and paper work that too often impede such common endeavors.

The Park's commission did not address several questions, including whether the consolidation issue should be decided by the council or the voters. But the fact that the issue already had been widely discussed during the last city election campaign and now has been studied further by a citizens commission ought to weigh heavily in support of a decision by the city council after taking citizens' opinions into account.

The school board pay hike

The increase in pay that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education voted itself last week is obviously defensible in terms of the inflation that has occurred since the old $400 a year schedule went into effect 29 years ago. But we wonder a bit about the timing of the action that raises the board pay to $30 a meeting and to the maximum of $1,560 annually set by state law.

It is true that the total board pay still will be an insignificant proportion of the school budget and that it will be only a nominal return for the time, study and work the board members invest in their positions.

But Pointe residents do not serve on the school board, on the city councils or in other part-time posts in the Pointes for the money or prestige they receive. They serve because of their interest in and concern for the community, its schools and its other institutions. We think the public understands these motivations and agrees with us that the Pointes have an unusually large number of well-qualified and dedicated people serving in such part-time posts.

Our only question about the pay hike is that after the controversies of the last two years over the closing of schools, the rise in school expenditures and the hiring of the new superintendent, the action could subject the board members to new criticism. In other words, is the small increase worth the trouble it might cause, even though it only amounts to some reimbursement for expenses not otherwise reimbursable?

It is true, of course, that the pay scale is not out of line with the level of pay in effect for service on the councils in the Farms and the Woods, the only Pointe communities to pay their members. Councilmembers get $600 a year and the mayors $900 in those two cities. Since the school board, like those councils, usually meets twice a month, its members are unlikely to receive more than $720 a year.

There is no uniformity on pay and meetings in the Pointes, however. The councils in the City and the Shores meet regularly once a month, while in the Park, as in the Farms and the Woods, the meetings are twice a month.

The question we raise obviously is not a very serious one. We still think the Pointes are fortunate in attracting the kind of service provided by the school board members and the city councils. By and large, they are worth far more than their communities can afford to pay them and so their reward must come from the public appreciation of their services.

An invitation to crime

It is difficult to understand why Mayor Coleman Young of Detroit takes such an inconsistent position with respect to crime in the metropolitan area.

On the one hand, he acknowledges that crime is a major problem and has recommended new moves to combat it, including putting more policemen back on the streets. But on the other hand, he recommends a measure that will increase crime in the Detroit metropolitan area. That, of course, is his renewed campaign to legalize casino gambling in Detroit.

Even if it can be argued, as the mayor does argue, that Detroit is likely to go down the tube unless more revenue can be obtained, there is strong evidence from other communities that any profits from casino gambling will be offset by an increased penetration of crime and the increased costs that will mean to the people of the metropolitan area.

Atlantic City is often cited as a city that has benefited from casino gambling. But while casinos have provided additional employment there, most of the employees have come from elsewhere. The casinos are making money but the retail stores are not sharing in the bonanza. Organized crime is not unknown in Atlantic City despite regulations supposedly aimed at keeping it out. And many poor and elderly people have been forced to move because of the land speculation, rezoning and building of new parking lots resulting from the casino invasion.

Residents of the suburban communities surrounding Detroit have a strong interest in what happens in Detroit. They know that a healthy and prosperous Detroit is good for the suburbs and the entire state. But they also know that Detroit's crime does not stop at the city limits and they fear that legalization of casino gambling downtown will simply increase the crime problem for both the city and the suburbs.

Detroiters opposed casino gambling in advisory referenda in 1976 and 1981. The Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce which made a study of the issue two years ago still opposes it. And so do many religious leaders in the community. Now reportedly a bill is being readied for the state Legislature to legalize casino gambling without a vote of the people. Even though Detroit's city government may need the revenue, such legislation is just another invitation to crime in Detroit.

Teens need a gathering place

To the Editor:
I am writing in regard to the lack of activities provided in our community for teenagers. The question of "what's there to do tonight?" is very common among teens on weekend nights, and that's because there are very few activities set aside specifically for teenagers. There should be a place for teens to go to be with their friends in our community.

One of the main reasons that teenagers need a place to go today is because of the lack of activities that they already have. Very few establishments in Grosse Pointe will allow a group of teenagers to congregate, no matter how harmless the nature of their activities may be. In fact the congregation of teenagers alone causes alarm for many adults. Besides "hanging out," there are very few alternatives for teens, all of which quickly become repetitive. This all leads back to the fact that there is a need in our society for a teenage gathering place.

Diverting teens from other harmful actions is another reason for the need of a "teen-center" type place. There have been many protests about teenage alcohol and substance abuse in Grosse Pointe recently. The forming of a teenage gathering place could help curb this abuse among teenagers. Other harmful actions such as vandalism and violence of any kind could also be restrained if teenagers were provided with alternate activities.

One of the simplest reasons that teenagers need a gathering place is that teens, like adults, simply like to be with their peers. Most teenagers just want to be with their friends, no matter what they're doing or where they are. The school dances are always packed. Why should teenagers have to wait for these monthly dances to find a place to accommodate them all? A teen center would provide a place for these young adults to gather under supervision to be with their friends.

All of these reasons, and many more that are unstated, justify the need for a teenage gathering place. If other activities are provided, they can become alternatives for substance abuse and other harmful activities, as well as simply giving teenagers a place to be with their peers. If adults of Grosse Pointe are genuinely concerned about the action of the teenagers today, why don't they help provide safe alternate activities for them?

Wildlife — a valuable asset

To the Editor:
I would like to comment on the response by Penny Gruber titled "Why encourage, then eliminate?" which appeared in the Jan. 17 issue of the paper.

I, too, agree that there is no reason for the Grosse Pointe Woods police department to release squirrels (trapped in the area) in Harper Woods. With all the money being invested in upkeeping Grosse Pointe grounds, one would think it normal to remove the creatures who play havoc with the land. But, squirrels and other wildlife need homes, also, and if Grosse Pointe so happens to have an inviting habitat for them to live, why not let them?

Over this past summer, I too, had a squirrel caught in my house. I did not rely upon the police to get it out, for fear of the way they would handle the situation. Instead, with a little patience, I finally succeeded in getting the creature out, and let it go freely.

I feel that wildlife is one of the more valuable assets on land today, complimenting its true beauty. Animals are just as much entitled to live freely as we are. What right does anyone have to rob them of what rightfully belongs to them?

Background is questionable

To the Editor:
Signing Darryl Rogers as head coach of the Detroit Lions is typical of the caliber of the Lions front office — hiring a man with such a questionable background.

Rogers is clearly remembered when he used to be head coach at Michigan State University. He left the University in 1979, a week before the national letters of intent went out, weakening the program because many fine football players who were considering MSU decided against it when he left. MSU's football program still hasn't recovered from his quick departure. Rogers has done the same thing to Arizona State University (he coached them before he took the Lions job). He has left, again a week before the national letters of intent went out. Their program will probably suffer too.

Darryl Rogers has proven himself as an opportunist. He seems to have no loyalty; he too will eventually leave the Lions. Pressure seems to be his Achilles' heel.

Clarification

To the Editor:
In regards to an article in your newspaper of the week of Jan. 28, I wish to point out an inaccuracy. The article on page 14A, "Fun Run Approved," states the run is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Business and Professional Association of Mack Avenue. This is incorrect. The run this year and for the past six years has been sponsored by The Pointer newspaper. A clarification would be most appreciated.

North wants more stories

To the Editor:
I am very disgusted with your one-sided sports publication. There are many articles about South, while North has very few articles.

For two years, I have personally witnessed the biased publication of South's sporting results compared to North's. Many times I have waited for the Grosse Pointe News to arrive at my home to find no mention of my teams — swimming and tennis.

In the future, I would be pleased to see equal publication of sporting events. If this happens, more people would be inclined to read the sports section to see how their teams are doing.

Brad Cooksey
Grosse Pointe Woods

Editor's note: As the News has noted before, the individual schools are responsible for submitting weekly sports summaries. At last check, both North and South were submitting equally extensive stories to this paper.

Pavilion on the Hill is useless, ugly

To the Editors:

I am writing regarding the pavilion on the Hill. Certainly, by now most of us have seen it, on Kercheval across from Grosse Pointe South High's grounds. At best, it provides a place to sit for people walking around there. This is its only benefit, however, and there are a number of faults that make the structure impractical.

First of all, it surely isn't located in the most beautiful area of Grosse Pointe. The traffic from Kercheval and the view of South from afar at a strange angle doesn't make up most people's idea of "scenic." More attractive locations for it could be something off the lake, maybe a park, or maybe around Windmill Pointe. Even if it were to be relocated, other faults still exist, for example, the pavilion itself.

The structure of the pavilion can be described as an ugly, metal, cage-like thing surrounded by benches, a fountain, various plants and the like. The walk past the pavilion is filled with a number of curves, half-circles and other distractions for the passer-by, who by the way just noticed a change in pavement from the standard concrete to red bricks.

Usefulness is another thing the pavilion lacks. Ask yourself this question: "Have I ever seen anybody sit in it?" Why would anybody want to? The roof doesn't provide adequate protection from the elements, the "antique" fountain never works, and there are always some loose bricks around. Is this really worth the cost to taxpayers? No, of course not.

A possible alternative to the pavilion would be a flower garden, or possibly a small park area. If there must be a pavilion, relocate it, make it more practical, and get rid of the fountain. As it is now, the pavilion is as useless as it is ugly.

Schools should have closed

To the Editor:

Recently the Grosse Pointe school administration made an irritating decision. The administration decided to keep schools open even though the temperature dropped well below zero. I have heard many complaints throughout the community and I feel the administration made the wrong decision. The administration ignored the many children who must trudge to school each day. Some children get rides, but some must walk.

One day of school isn't as important as the health and safety of many children. I'm not saying that every time the temperature goes down, school should be closed. When the temperature reaches a certain extreme, the decision to close schools should be considered more thoroughly. Remember, administrators, you drive to work.

Part of Social Security benefits may be taxable

Starting with 1984, if Social Security beneficiaries have substantial income in addition to their Social Security benefits, up to half of their annual benefits may be subject to income tax.

About 90 percent of the Social Security beneficiaries will not be affected by the new rule, however. If a person's only source of income in 1984 was from Social Security and/or SSI benefits, he or she probably will not have to file a federal income tax return.

The amount of benefits subject to tax will be the smaller of:

- one-half of a person's Social Security benefits, or
- one-half of the amount by which the adjusted gross income, plus tax exempt interest, plus one-half of the Social Security benefits, exceed the base amount.

To figure out if he or she will have to pay tax on their benefits, a person would need to determine which of the following base amounts apply to them:

- $25,000 if the person files as a single taxpayer.
- $32,000 if the person is married and the couple files a joint return; or
- $0 if the person is married and lives with his or her spouse at any time during the year, and files separate tax returns.

If total income does not exceed the base amount, Social Security benefits will not be taxable.

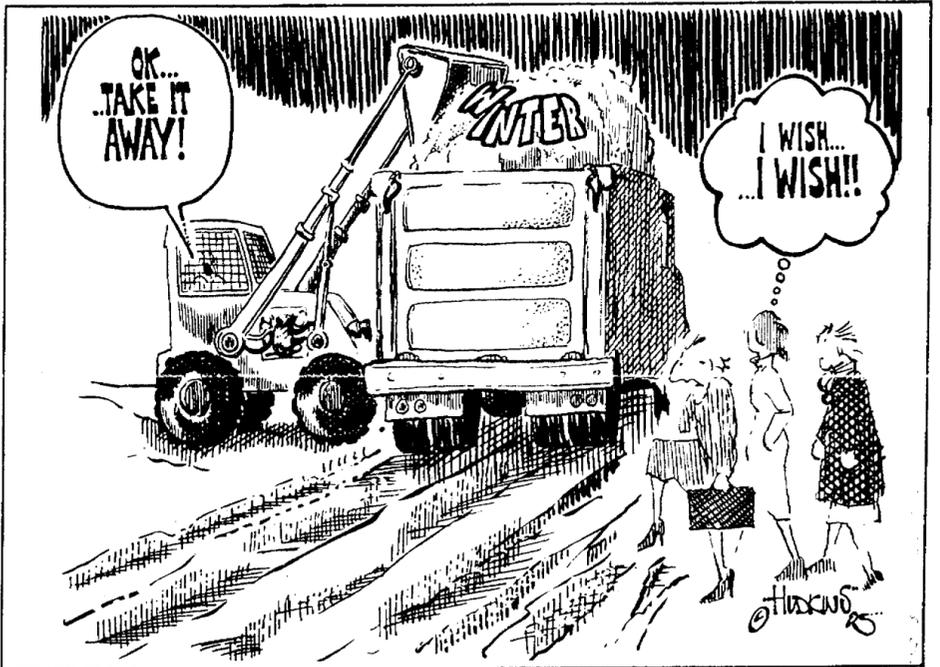

Between Jan. 5 and Jan. 29, 40 million beneficiaries will receive a form in the mail showing the amount of benefits received during 1984 — Social Security Benefit (Form SSA-1099). A worksheet (IRS Notice 703) will be enclosed with the form to help figure whether Social Security benefits may be subject to tax. The purpose of these forms is to help determine if and to what extent benefits may be taxable.

In figuring total Social Security benefits, individuals must be sure to include all benefits received in 1984 as well as spouse's benefits if they are filing a joint return. This includes:

- Any Medicare medical insurance premiums that have been deducted from checks.
- Any overpayments to the extent they were not repaid in the year received.
- Any lump-sum payment of monthly benefits. A lump-sum that includes payment for periods in earlier tax years may be prorated to the year for which it is paid. Any amounts prorated to tax years before 1984 are not taxable and need to be reported.
- Any worker's compensation which cause a reduction in Social Security disability checks.

Questions about how to figure out taxable income should be directed to the nearest IRS office. Toll-free numbers for IRS offices are listed on the reverse of IRS Notice 703. A toll-free number is available at the Social Security Administration for questions related to Social Security benefits. The number is 1-900-200-1099.

I say

Reading, writing and reporting

In social situations, I love it when people ask what I do for a living. When I say I'm a reporter, there's usually one of two reactions.

Either they immediately clam up, believing they'll otherwise be quoted in the National Enquirer the next day, or they press forward and tell me how lucky I am.

Why am I lucky? Because I do something "different" every day, while they're stuck in jobs filled with routine tasks.

In a way they're right. Oh, every job has a certain amount of routine to it. I often find myself writing stories I've covered before. One year-end crime report or fundraising bash is pretty much like another after a while.

And there are times I wonder where I went wrong when writing an in-depth story on a potato festival in Sponge Cake, Okla. while other reporters track down leads on Jimmy Hoffa's whereabouts.

But most of the time I wouldn't trade reporting for anything. I've never worked for a major daily, but even at smaller papers a reporter can do, see, experience, talk to and write about fascinating people and events.

On one occasion I wrote about scuba diving classes and the safety training the students received. They wanted me to experience the class first-hand, so I ended up on the bottom of a high school pool in full diving gear. Try that at the bank.

Another time I conducted a prison cell interview with a man jailed for throwing snowballs at his neighbors. He couldn't make his $10,000 bail, so I visited him in his cell. He was nuttier than a California fruit cake, but it made a good story.

And a long time ago on a paper far, far away, I toiled as a photographer. One afternoon I was sent to Tiger Stadium for a "Meet the Tigers" day for the press only. I was in heaven! I was there as Tom Greenwood, the photographer, and little Tommy Greenwood, the fan.

I burned a lot of film that day, then I became a tourist. I nonchalantly strolled into the dugout and grabbed a long drink of water from the fountain. Then I sat on the bench and surveyed the field. The next thing you know, I had myself batting cleanup.

I also had my photo taken sitting on first base, with the stands in the background all dark and slightly out of focus. It was very unprofessional of me, but I didn't care. An enlargement of that photo hangs on my wall at home and I'm absurdly pleased with it.

I was also in the stadium on "Al Kaline Day" when No. 6 was honored for his class and 3,000-plus base hits. The stands were filled and members of the media were lined up on the first and third base lines.

I stood on home plate. All by myself. Although it was perfect for photos, I kept thinking of the players who had been there. Men like Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle.

At one point I laid down full length to grab a shot of Kaline with the centerfield flag in the background. None of the other photographers even glanced at me. They knew it was part of the job, but I could hear some fans screaming at me to stand up.

I ended up with a nice shot of Kaline waving his cap at the crowd with the flag snapping in the background. Sometimes you look like a jerk, but how many others can say they've laid down on home plate at Tiger Stadium? And got paid for it?

There are down sides to this job too. Writing obituaries and talking to the families of accident or murder victims, for a start. I was once on the scene where a young boy had been killed by a drunk driver, and another time I stood by when they hauled four charred bodies out of an auto crash.

It was grim, but slightly easier to accept because the victims were beyond pain. My worst assignment occurred at Christmas time. I was sent to cover a party at a home for retarded children.

No one told me they were profoundly retarded, and most of them weren't children. They were middle-aged, wore large diapers and were strapped into wheel chairs with their heads slumped over the side.

They didn't know it was Christmas. They didn't know anything. They were misshapen humans, but that's not what got to me. It was the sight of their parents, some in their late 60s, unwrapping presents for their children. They'd hold it before them, making over the tinsel and glitter, talking and chattering away with these empty shells they carried through life.

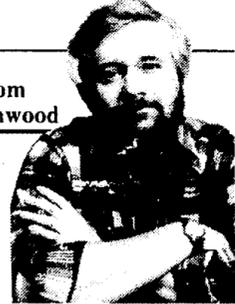

I never want an assignment like that again.

Anyhow, this is what I do. I've met presidents and politicians, heroes and villains, sports stars, weirdos, victims and some genuinely nice people.

Sometimes I get tired of being paid off in romance, but there's really nothing else I'd rather do.

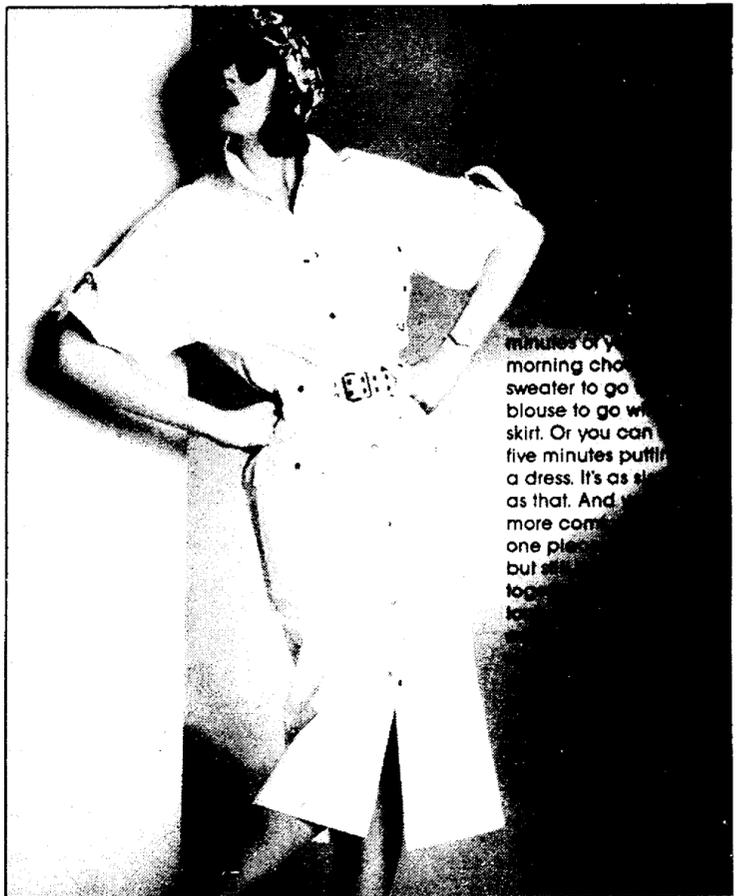

The way I look at it, God couldn't be everywhere at once — that's why He made reporters.

Also next month, clown corps members will attend a performance of the Shrine Circus and will meet afterward with the circus' clowns to discuss make-up and swap ideas.

For more information, call corps chairman Arthur Kuehnel at 881-8186.

Sherrie Jones, high ability teacher at Maire and Richard, talks about using and organizing a computer for various classroom tasks. Her presentation was one of 15 mini-sessions offered to elementary faculty at Idea Rama, an inter-building meeting held recently at Poupard School.

Local teachers share techniques, ideas

Grosse Pointe elementary school teachers got together two weeks ago in Poupard School's gymnasium for an inter-building Idea Rama, where their peers discussed various teaching techniques and ideas.

Teachers attended three, 20-minute mini-sessions of their choice during the faculty meeting. Fifteen sessions were offered and teachers received packets of information from all of them.

The district held an Idea Rama about four years ago and decided to repeat the format after the favorable opinions from the participants, director of elementary curriculum Dr. Alfrida Frost said.

The sessions are an effective way to disseminate successful teaching techniques throughout elementary schools, she added.

Among the sessions offered were "Budget Basics; or Numbers Are My Life," an explanation of the school system's budget process by director of business affairs Christian Fenton; and "Pink Panther vs. Ernie of Sesame Street," where Poupard first grade teacher Betty Durkin discussed the use of current television characters to encourage reading or math skill drill practice.

Other sessions covered the integration of music in the classroom, creative writing beginning strategies, the use of puppets as a teaching aid and to enhance the elementary curriculum, and planning a day trip to the Toronto Science Center.

Teachers were also able to attend sessions on creative ways to reach reading skills, organization of a computer for computer-aided instruction, math, spelling and reading, how to tell parents their children have problems in schools, methods for teaching quotation marks, how students can help each other learn writing and editing skills, and how to use the library.

Governor seeks volunteers for board

Gov. James J. Blanchard is asking for citizens to volunteer to serve on the state's selective service boards.

The boards are currently experiencing vacancy problems, and although it takes an act of Congress to activate the boards, membership should be maintained to avoid any frustration in service selection in the event of a national emergency.

People from all walks of life participate on the boards. Members must be U.S. citizens who are at least 18 years of age. Governor Blanchard is encouraging all Michigan residents who are interested in serving to write to him.

Men's Glee Club

The Capital University Men's Glee Club from Columbus, Ohio, will perform at St. Paul's Evangelical Church in the Farms Sunday, Feb. 24, at 10 a.m. The performance is part of the group's 10-day, 12-city tour of Ohio and Michigan. Shown directing the group above is Rob Engelhart of Grosse Pointe Farms, who earned an undergraduate degree from Capital and a graduate degree from Ohio State University. Founded in 1830, Capital is the oldest educational institution of the American Lutheran Church. The singers entertain with a variety of music including sacred, secular, popular, musical comedy, folk and novelty numbers.

Art auction

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees have scheduled the annual Art Exhibit and Auction for Saturday, March 9, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House, 1100 Lakeshore Drive.

Preview hours are 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. with champagne and hors d'oeuvres served. The auction begins at 8 p.m.

During the preview, there will be 200 pieces of art on display. Original oil paintings, lithographs, and etchings and sculptures will be included in the display. Artists' work being shown are Edna Hibel, Boulanger, Mary Vickers, Charlene Mitchell, Dali, Rockwell and Nieman, to name a few.

For ticket information, call Jean Wenn, auction chairperson, at 885-4008 or contact any Grosse Pointe Jaycee.

AARP meeting

Grosse Pointe Chapter 2151 of American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) will meet Monday, Feb. 25, at 1 p.m. at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore Road.

Capt. Rudy K. Peschel of the U.S. Coast Guard will speak on the Great Lakes, with an emphasis on Lake St. Clair.

A social hour and card-playing will follow the meeting.

Lenten concert

The Festival Choir and Orchestra of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will present parts II and III of Handel's Messiah Sunday, Feb. 24 at 7:30 p.m. This presentation of the Lent-Easter series of the oratorio will be completed, unlike most performances where the entire oratorio is attempted and deletions then become necessary.

The Festival Choir consists of 65 voices from the church and community accompanied by an 18-piece chamber orchestra. Both are conducted by William De Turk, director of music at Memorial Church.

As part of the 10th anniversary season of the church's Musica Series, this concert celebrates the 300th anniversary of the birth of George Frederic Handel, which occurs on Feb. 23. The performance date is also the first Sunday in Lent.

Tickets are available at the door or the church office in advance. Prices are adults, $5, senior citizens, $3, and students $1. For more information, call 882-5330.

Topic is apartheid

"What is the role of the U.S. in South Africa?" is the question to be discussed at the Third Thursday Forum on Thursday, Feb. 21, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice. The community will have the opportunity to hear a number of knowledgeable speakers discuss this question.

The forum will take place from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, 211 Moross, in the Farms.

Admission is free and the public is welcome. For further information, call 882-6464.

Bach to visit

An appearance by renowned organist and composer J.S. Bach has been scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p.m. at Peace Lutheran Church, East Warren at Balfour.

Bach, who will celebrate his 300th birthday on March 21, will be portrayed by Charles Krutz, professor of music at Concordia College, Seward, Neb.

The program will consist of a series of scenes from Bach's life and will include his works, some performed on authentic reproductions of 18th century instruments.

For more information, call Edwin Aufdemberge at 882-3030, during business hours.

Mediterranean trip

The General Motors Women's Club will present a film on the Mediterranean in conjunction with a 16-day holiday including a cruise which departs Detroit on May 4. The trip will highlight a one-week tour of Italy, a seven-day cruise of the Mediterranean featuring Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Sicily, North Africa and France, plus one night's stay in Monte Carlo.

The preview is set for Wednesday, Feb. 27, 7:30 p.m., at the GM Training Center, located at the GM Technical Center in Warren.

For further information, contact Mary Ann Conforto-Gallina, 556-3614, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Camera Club

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will meet Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 7:45 p.m. at the Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte, in the Farms.

The club will host the Greater Detroit Camera Club Council pictorial slide competition. The public is welcome.

Romeo, Juliet

The University Liggett School Players will present "Romeo and Juliet" in the main auditorium, 1045 Cook Road, from Thursday, Feb. 28 to Sunday, March 3.

Performances are Thursday at 4:30 p.m., Friday at 7:30 p.m., Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m. Admission is $2 for adults and $1.25 for students.

For more information, call 884-4444.

Austria film, food

The War Memorial's Adventure Series will take its armchair travelers to Austria, as seen through the camera of Frank Nichols, Monday, Feb. 25.

An optional regional dinner will precede the 8 p.m. screening and will include an Austrian baked pork chop with raisin sauce, carrots vichy, kirschen soup (red cherry soup), kugel (savory baked noodles), and Indianerkrapfen, otherwise known as an Indian puff with whipped cream.

Tickets for the film only are $4.15 each. The complete evening of dinner and film is $16.75. Dinner reservations must be made at least three days in advance.

Bethany Together

Bethany Together, an organization for the divorced and separated, will sponsor a dance Saturday, March 30, at the Acorn VFW Hall at Fourth and Troy in Royal Oak from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Admission is $6 and includes music, beer, set-ups and snacks. For further information, call Janet at 886-2282 or Jim at 425-1424.

Notre Dame benefit

In order to update the Notre Dame High School reading lab, a fundraiser has been scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 28, at The Barton House in St. Clair Shores.

A welcome is at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. The menu consists of chicken, four original pasta dishes, a salad bar and rum cake dessert, all you can eat. Entertainment will be provided by Frank Conti and the Lanterns.

Cottage receives accreditation

Cottage Hospital laboratory and blood bank recently received accreditation from two national organizations.

The laboratory was awarded a two-year accreditation by the Commission on Laboratory Accreditation of the College of American Pathologists, based on results of an on-site inspection.

"The ABB's inspection and accreditation procedures are voluntary," Wilgarde said. "It is not legally necessary for a blood bank or transfusion service to be accredited, but like many others, our facility has sought accreditation because it represents a level of professional and medical expertise that meets and exceeds government regulations."

Seminary offers retreat for boys

Sixth- and seventh-grade boys are invited to participate in the St. Lawrence Seminary Super Action Retreat '85 scheduled for June 24-27 at the seminary in Wisconsin. Last year 310 boys from Michigan, including the Archdiocese of Detroit, participated in the retreat.

The retreats are planned to help the boys gain a sense of their own self worth, a better awareness of the spiritual side of themselves combined with a dose of good fun while interacting with their peers. The boys take part in sports including softball, billiards, ping-pong, racquetball, handball, soccer, tennis, basketball and volleyball.

Cost is $50 and includes charter transportation, meals, lodging, use of the equipment and facilities at the seminary and all retreat activities. For more information, write: Super Action Retreat, 1820 Mount Elliott Ave., Detroit, Mich. 48207, or call 579-2100.

Orchestra fellowship open

The Michigan Orchestra Association is seeking applicants for its Michigan Orchestra Management Fellowship Program for Minorities. This program is designed to train qualified minority candidates in the field of orchestra management.

This multi-faceted profession involves the planning and implementing of a symphony's activities. Areas of concentration include programming, ticket sales, concert production, fundraising, accounting, advertising, public relations and contract negotiations.

Selected candidates will receive on-the-job training consisting of three four-month assignments with three different Michigan orchestras and a $12,000 stipend. After successful completion of the program, the fellow will be expected to work with a Michigan orchestra for at least one year.

Applicants should have an undergraduate degree, an appreciation of classical music, knowledge of basic business procedures and the ambition to enter the field of orchestra management. For a brochure and application, contact: Chairman, Michigan Orchestra Management Fellowship Program for Minorities, Michigan Orchestra Association, c/o Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Ford Auditorium, Detroit, Mich. 48226.

Applications must be received by March 15.

The Michigan Orchestra Association's purpose is to encourage, promote and mutually assist the development and needs of orchestras throughout the state of Michigan.

This program is made possible in part by funds from the Michigan Council for the Arts.

School sponsors scholarship contest

The Detroit Engineering Institute announces its 1985 High School Drafting and Electronics scholarship competition.

The contest is open to any Detroit-area high school senior who has demonstrated an aptitude in either drafting or electronics, physics and related subjects and is planning to pursue a higher education in one of these career areas.

Entries should be submitted no later than Friday, April 12. Judging will take place Monday, April 15, and three winners from each division will be presented with scholarships and plaques at an Awards Luncheon/Ceremony in May.

The Detroit Engineering Institute, established in 1910, is Michigan's oldest private technical institute and offers programs in mechanical engineering technology, design drafting, electronic engineering design and air conditioning, refrigeration and heating.

For more details, seniors should consult their high school counselor or industrial arts instructor, or call William Nocita at 222-7468.

Tennis tournament to benefit FLEC

The Family Life Education Council will be the beneficiary of this year's Western Open Indoor Mixed Doubles Tennis Championship March 6-10 at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

FLEC has been a strong volunteer social service agency in the community, since the late '60s, offering counseling, a medical clinic and a legal center. More recently, FLEC developed and presented through the schools an alcohol awareness program for students.

The open is the only United States Tennis Association sanctioned mixed-doubles tournament in the Midwest. It has included many local pros and junior players, such as rising stars Aaron Krickstein and Susan Mascarin during its 12-year history. This is the first open to benefit FLEC.

An opening night party Wednesday, March 6 will feature an exhibition match between Murphy Jensen and Ola Malmqvist, followed by an auction to play doubles with these two tennis stars.

Jensen is currently USTA #2 — 16 and under, as well as the #1 doubles — 16 and under, for indoor and clay courts. Malmqvist is a Swedish-born pro who holds the 1983 NCAA doubles championship. Tickets for the opening night are $10 per person.

Qualifying rounds will begin March 6 at 8:30 p.m. and will continue Thursday and Friday evenings. Championship play will take place Saturday and Sunday. For reservations and ticket information, call 884-9090.

Running in the paper race

While students throughout the district took a day off Friday, Jan. 27, public school teachers, like South's Robert Button, above, spent the day working to compile grades. While their charges may not appreciate the results, teachers often work evenings and weekends to get through the paperwork to meet the grades deadline.

Health forums scheduled

Bon Secours Hospital will present a series of Family Health Forums. The first will be held Wednesday, March 27, 7 p.m., at Dominican High School, Whittier west of I-94 in Detroit. The topic will be "Hypertension" by Donald Bignotti, M.D., who will discuss the causes and treatment of high blood pressure.

Other topics scheduled for future forums on Wednesday evenings include:

• April 10 — "About Child Abuse" by Patricia Sikora, A.C.S.W. Learn how family dynamics may lead to child abuse and what you can do to prevent or stop it.

• April 24 — "A Child Views Death" by Melinda Karam, M.D. Discover how children of various age view death and how to recognize children's expression of grief.

• May 8 — "Successful Aging" by Archie Bedell, M.D., Ph.D. Learn about the changes caused by normal aging and ways to encourage active and meaningful lives for elderly people.

Reservations are recommended. Call the hospital at 343-1668.

Prime Time for senior citizens

By Marian Trainor

"I didn't cook it, but I prepared it," is an attitude that has proliferated in the sales of frozen foods and alleviated the guilt feelings of homemakers who were brought up on the credo that if you truly loved your family, you spent hours in the kitchen cooking and baking everything from scratch.

Now, in this enlightened age of microwaves, we find families who were only content with dinners and desserts like "mother used to make," eating and enjoying special frozen dishes franchised by well-known restaurants, whole diners processed by food companies and baked goods such as we used to buy at a favorite bakery.

Too expensive for a growing family, prepared foods are a boon to working wives, singles living on their own and to empty-nesters.

Older people have found it convenient to keep varieties of frozen dinners, vegetable dishes, desserts and pastries around to pop into the oven or microwave in bad weather when it is a hardship to go out to shop.

Who wants to gear up against winter winds with sweaters, scarves, boots and mittens, not to mention a bulky winter coat that adds five pounds to what you must carry before you even begin to buy bags of groceries?

And then there are the vagaries of the family car. Will it start? Will it skid on unexpected icy spots, and no small consideration, how many times will it be necessary to drive around the block to find a parking place?

That's just for openers. Alighting from a car that has just warmed up enough to add some measure of comfort to the expedition is not a fun scenario either.

If you park on the street and get out on the driver's side, you will, by the law of averages, get splashed by slush as some over-confident and inconsiderate driver whizzes by in a hurry to get to the stop light.

If you are more circumspect and crawl past the steering wheel, the center arm rest and resistant upholstery to get out on the passenger side, you will, by the same law of averages, put your foot down into slush just deep enough to seep over the top of your boots or deposit your foot on an icy surface making it necessary to grab onto the hood of the car to inch your way to a shoveled space on the walk.

Inside the store, you are met with another hazard — wet and slippery floors. Once beyond the entrance, however, you are on relatively safe ground.

But all is not well on this trek to secure the wherewithal to keep the home fires cooking. There are not carts in the store. They are all out in that frozen wasteland, the parking lot.

So out you go, slipping and sliding, clutching your coat closer, furtively watching for drivers backing in our out, to the farthest reaches, looking and hoping.

Ultimately your search is rewarded. You spot some lucky shopper who has completed the test of endurance, and is unloading a piled-high basket.

In an effort to speed up the process, you volunteer to hand the items to her as she places them in the car. After she has transferred what seems like enough food to feed all of the five Grosse Pointe areas, you claim your prize.

For some reason the entrance to the store seems to be farther away than it was when you first trudged this bumpy path down a wasteland of slush and motor-driven steel hazards, but you push on, ignoring the chill that penetrates your gloves. There's nothing as cold as metal that has been tempered to a fine degree of forstiness from zero-degree temperature.

Once back in the store, you cling tightly to the cart, afraid to leave it to walk to a shelf for fear someone will adopt it wistfully thinking it is abandoned.

For one brief moment, faced by congested aisles and faces made grim and determined by the effort of it all, you are tempted to do just that, abandon it and forget the whole expedition.

But you reason, you've come this far. You might as well tough it out.

A moment of panic hits as you search for the list that you may have left on the table at home, followed by "thank God for small favors" as you find it. But all is not perfect in this imperfect world. You forgot the coupons and it's double-coupon week.

Should you buy the needed items or come back again with coupons? Again? You shudder and throw caution to the winds.

Get what you want. Be extravagant! You're worth it!

All good things, and bad things too, come to an end and so after being bumped in the shins by a cart, pushed by a shopper going one way and looking another, losing half-a-pound of coffee in a coffee grinder that is malfunctioning, not being able to find an item that made this trip necessary, you pull up, you hope, to a line that looks like it is moving toward the check-out counter. At this point, the lines are so meshed together, it's difficult to tell.

Luck is with you. You've made the right choice! However it is a little unnerving as you come into sight of the escape route after 15 minutes of maintaining a cool composure over the inconvenience of the set up, to hear an unidentified voice announcing the opening of a new line. You fume as you watch the last be first as they deftly wheel their cart into a first-to-be-served position.

Let us not dwell on the rugged experience of pushing a locked-wheel cart laden with groceries through snow and slush, or the ordeal of transferring bags of food from a point where piled up mounds of snow makes it impossible to get within a convenient distance of the now chilled-again car.

Despite over-packed bags that tear, leaving contents to be picked up from hazardous surfaces, you manage, fighting back tears of frustration and epithets unworthy of a lady, or a gentleman for that matter.

There's no point in dwelling on the ordeal of getting bags weighted with groceries from the car to the kitchen. Let's just say it fell in with the rest of the story.

Now comes the time of reckoning; too much money spent, a necessary item forgotten, no room in the refrigerator for the gallon of milk that was not needed.

Such are the woes of the would-be creative cook. Authors Rombaur and Becker, who wrote "Joy of Cooking," must have had someone else do their shopping for them.

It must be admitted that when it comes to cooking, there is joy and a sense of accomplishment engendered in putting a dinner on the table that is nourishing and appetizing. Wives and mothers built enviable reputations doing just that. With modern conveniences, Mix-masters, Cuisinarts and reliable ovens, it is not as time consuming as it once was.

Not too long ago, there were no such conveniences. Arms grew muscular creaming butter and sugar. Fingers got shredded along with the cabbage. Knuckles were skinned pounding dough to insure an even-grained bread.

A yellowed-by-time book bearing the date 1892, titled "Queen of the Household" followed by a subtitle, "Repository of Useful Information on Subjects That Constantly Arise" is a compendium of recipes that starts out with "The Queen's Alphabet," a series of one-liners for every letter. "A" advises the housekeeper to "avoid cheap baking powder as you would the evil one, and better still make your own."

Among hundreds of interesting recipes is one for making pie crust with suet, "Jowl (pig's cheek) with spinach" and detailed instructions on cleaning and trussing poultry.

There is a section on "Diseases and Home Remedies" which gives recipes featuring roots and herbs for healing asthma, coughs, burns, chilblains, colic and cramp.

On the subject of cuts, the author advises "doing it up in its own blood is the best remedy". "If a stitch is necessary — take it with silk threaded in your needle — press a cork against the flesh where the needle is to come out."

Yes, life has been tougher on the home front than driving to the local supermarket in bad weather to pick up the makings of meals.

But that is no reason not to take advantage of modern packaging and the frozen food section. Fortify yourself against those days when you would rather not go out or when you don't feel like cooking a whole meal.

Keep a supply of your favorite frozen foods on hand, thaw, heat and enjoy.

We've come a long way from kitchen drudgery. Take advantage of it.

The four leads in "Grease," to be performed next weekend by the Grosse Pointe North Concert Choir, are from left, Greg Preston as Kenickie, Francene Ferris as Rizzo, Joe Paluzzi as Danny and Jill McCormick as Sandy.

North choir to present rock musical

All of the members of Grosse Pointe North Concert Choir will perform in the '50s rock musical, "Grease," to be presented next weekend. More than 90 students, under the direction of Ben Walker, choral director at North, will dance and sing in the play which has a high school setting.

The play will be performed three days — Thursday, Feb. 28, Friday, March 1, and Saturday, March 2 — at 8 p.m. at the Community Performing Arts Center, 707 Vernier Road.

Tickets are available from any choir student or at the ticket outlet at All Pointes Bookshop, Mack south of Vernier. Tickets are $4 for reserved seats, lower house only, and

$3 for general admission, balcony only. By mail, send a self-addressed envelope to Grease Tickets, 1293 Blairmoor Court, Grosse Pointe Woods 48236, with checks payable to Grosse Pointe North.

Local students win math honors

Two seniors at North and South high schools have been named award winners in the Michigan Section of the Mathematical Association of America.

Chris Bardeen, a senior at South, and Michael Cressman of North placed among the top 100 out of 23,000 high school students who participated in the 28th Annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition.

Bardeen and Cressman will be honored at an awards program to be held in Alma at Alma College Saturday, March 2. The program will feature presentations by Dr. Shlomo Halfin of Bell Communications Research, speaking on "Mathematics of Waiting Lines" and Dr. Peter Hilton, who will talk about Combinatorial Mayhem. College scholarships will be awarded to about 50 of the winners at the banquet. The scholarships and awards program are supported in part through contributions from business, the Michigan Association of Teachers of Mathematics and the Kuhlman Foundation.

South student wins Nester competition

Trombone player Stephen King, an eleventh grade student at South High, was named one of three winners in the Grosse Pointe Symphony's annual Thomas Nester Memorial Scholarship competition, held in honor of the orchestra's late founder.

King, who has been studying trombone for six years, is now a pupil of Raymond Turner of the Detroit Symphony.

The other winning candidates are harpist Claudia Valsi, a Huntington Woods resident who is in the tenth grade at Waldorf School of Detroit, and marimba player Richard Lupesco, who lives in Troy and is a junior at Avondale High School.

"These three young musicians were exceptional, and it was difficult to choose among them," said Grosse Pointe Symphony conductor Felix Resnick, who shared the judging responsibility with Ralph Miller, Nester committee chairman and director of the Instrumental Music Department at South. "We decided to recommend that all three be given identical awards."

Each student will receive $300 in cash, as well as an opportunity to be featured in a Grosse Pointe Symphony concert during the coming season.

The Nester competition is a tribute to the man who not only played with the orchestra and was a motivating force in its founding, but also had a keen interest in its progress and its service to the community.

The Grosse Pointe Symphony is now in the middle of its 32nd season. Its next regular concert will be held Sunday, March 10, at 3:30 p.m., in Parcels auditorium, Mack at Vernier, Grosse Pointe Woods, with pianist Edward Zilberkant as soloist.

North schedules enrollment session

Students from local non-public schools who expect to attend North High in September are invited to special enrollment sessions at the school.

Anyone expecting to enroll as a freshman this fall should report to the school cafeteria at 1:30 p.m. Friday, March 1. Parents should make sure students bring birth certificates and any records available from the current school to the Friday session.

Transfer students entering as sophomores, juniors or seniors will be enrolled by appointment. Call the office of the assistant principal/administrative services at 343-2205 for an appointment.

Letters explaining the procedures were mailed out weeks ago with programs of study for the coming year. To get a copy of the booklet, go to either high school, or ask for the assistant principal/instruction at North.

South musicians get high ratings

Grosse Pointe South sent 37 entries to the District 16 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Solo and Ensemble Festival Saturday, Feb. 9, at Chippewa Valley High School in Mount Clemens.

Students performed for judges for a rating of I to IV, with I as top score.

Students who received I division ratings were Robert Elrick on trombone, Peter Nicholson, cello;

George Snow, violin; Laura Grego, violin; Elizabeth Lazorowitz, violin; Chris D'Alessandro, viola; Erika Soby, cello; Jennifer VanHorne, piano; Steve King, trombone; Paula Thompson, flute; John Wack, trombone; Deidre Calacro, clarinet; George Charbonneau, cello; Robert Jelic, trumpet; Michael Lawrence, trumpet; James Ward, trumpet; Kirk Sanders, French horn; Mike Ward, trombone and baritone; Curt West, tuba; Ben Hein, oboe; Lisa Hathaway, oboe; Dante DiTommaso, cello; Elizabeth Blum, piano and viola; and Tyson McNamara, baritone.

Receiving II division ratings were Elizabeth Ward, piano; Richard Stephens, violin; Dan Harbold, trombone; Amy Walston, piano; Kristin Johnson, violin; Jila Shafadeh, piano; Dan Etschmann, flute; Mardi Abell, piano; and Kim Metz, flute.

Receiving III ratings were Laura Duquet on clarinet and Paul Blum on trombone.

Students who received a I rating are eligible to attend the state Solo and Ensemble Festival at Eastern Michigan University March 23.

Cross selected for master class

Grosse Pointe resident Tony Cross was selected as one of four winners of a competition to take part in a master class conducted by Josef Gingold, internationally recognized violinist. The session will be held from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in the Dalton Center Recital Hall at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

The 14-year-old violinist competed with high school students from six states. He is a student of Stephen Clapp.

The session is free and the public is welcome to attend.

Register for ACT

High school juniors, seeking assistance from the State of Michigan Scholarship Program, should take the ACT Assessment Saturday, April 20. Registration postmark deadline for the test date is March 22. Students who miss the regular registration deadline may postmark their registration as late as April 9 but will be charged an additional $10 fee for handling.

Students who want to be considered for state scholarship assistance must list Code Number 2076 as one of the college choices in block U of their ACT Assessment Registration Folder.

To be assured consideration, applicants planning to enroll in college during 1986-87 and interested in state scholarship consideration must take the April 20, June 8 or Oct. 26 ACT Assessment.

Counselors are available to answer any questions that might arise regarding the State of Michigan scholarship.

Pierce's Inklings wins award

Pierce Middle School's Inklings, the student literary magazine, was a medal-winner recently in competition sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Medalists are selected from first place winners who have scored better than 80 percent on the association's evaluation, according to Inklings advisor Rae Kuhn.

This is the fourth year Pierce has submitted Inklings to the competition. The previous three years, the middle school was a first-place winner.

The 120-page magazine contained 88 different selections from more than 65 students, Mrs. Kuhn said. Just about 40 illustrations by students also appeared.

All of the school's students were eligible to submit work to the magazine, which is then reviewed and decided upon by the Inklings staff.

The winning edition was the first of the school's 40 or so to have a theme, which was welcoming the sixth graders to the middle school, Mrs. Kuhn said. Inklings editors wrote a preface in which they pointed out to sixth graders that other students there "are very much like you" and used that to bind together the different selections, Mrs. Kuhn said.

Paper drive

Troop 86 from Trombly School asks residents in the neighborhood to begin saving newspapers and magazines for its May 5 paper drive.

Scouts will go door-to-door in the Trombly area throughout the day. Special pick-up can be arranged by calling Richard Dorman at 822-9151.

Low Back Pain

Grosse Pointe Woods Chiropractic Clinic
881-7677

Q Please give me some information concerning low back problems.

A Low back pain can not only be painful but frustrating and debilitating. Low back pain has reached epidemic proportions. The state of Wisconsin reported 75% of workmen's compensation payments are paid to back injured patients who constitute only 3% of their claims. Unfortunately in many cases conservative means of treatment for low back pain, sciatica, and disc herniations (slipped disc), have not always been tried and the patient quickly opts for surgery. Chiropractic is a conservative and highly effective treatment for all types of low back problems. Chiropractic deals with the integrity of the spine and the nervous system. The role of the spine is to stand upright, move forward and backward, and from side to side. The spine also protects the spinal cord and nerves which emanate from it. These nerves exit the spine between the vertebrae (bones) and continue onward to every tissue and organ of the body. Due to a variety of causes subluxation (abnormal mobility and alignment of the spine) can develop and cause a whole complex of problems to arise. When subluxation exists normal nerve transmission can be altered and the body will not be in an optimum state of health. The Doctor of Chiropractic is a specialist of the spine and not only recognizes problems dealing with the mechanical structure of the body but also with other parts of the body that can be affected.

Lake level

Lake St. Clair at the end of January was at elevation of 575.14 feet or 41 inches above chart datum; this was about 9 inches above one year ago, and the January monthly mean of 575.07 feet was 28 inches above its long-term average for January. The Great Lakes forecast shows that Lake St. Clair is expected to be 34 inches above chart datum or at elevation 574.53 feet at the end of February.

Cabins available

Whatever winter recreational sport you're enjoying this time of year, these cabins, equipped with gas lights and crackling wood stoves, provide a close, cozy quiet place to stay while enjoying those activities for just $20 a night.

Trailside cabins accommodate up to six people and are available at Wilderness, Porcupine Mountains, Rifle River and Cheboygan State Parks. Bunk beds, mattresses and limited cooking facilities are provided.

For large families or groups of up to 18, there's the frontier cabin. These cabins also are equipped with gas lights, wood stove and bunk beds and are available at Bald Mountain, Brighton, Island Lake, Ortonville, Waterloo, Fort Custer, Van Riper, Wilderness, Wells and Yankee Springs State Parks.

Outdoor plumbing facilities are available at both trailside and frontier cabins. Dishes and cooking utensils are not furnished at frontier cabins.

Hundreds of Michigan families each year reserve these cabins for long or short vacations the year-round, so early reservations are suggested.

Further details and applications may be obtained by calling the State Parks listed, or contacting the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Parks Division at 517-373-1270.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

Anna Maria Alberghetti, singer, actress and Tony Award winner for Broadway's "Carnival," will open the 1985-86 Grosse Pointe Celebrity Series. She's the first of four speakers to be presented next season by the Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League which, for more than 30 years, has brought national and international personalities to The Pointe.

She'll appear Thursday morning, Oct. 10, in the Parcels Middle School Auditorium. A month later, on Thursday, Nov. 14, Camelia Sadat, daughter of Anwar, will tell the Celebrity Series audience "What It Means to be a Woman in Moslem Society."

After a holiday break, the Series resumes in 1986 with Nora Ephron, critic, author of the bestselling "Heartburn" and co-screen writer and Academy Award nominee for the film "Silkwood," speaking on Jan. 9, and closes with a Mar. 13 program by Peter Howard, composer, music director, dance music director ("Mame," "My Fair Lady," "Sound of Music"), conductor and concert pianist.

All programs are at 11 a.m. on Thursday mornings, at Parcels, where tickets for the new Series may be purchased next month, on Thursday, Mar. 14, prior to the final lecture of the current Series by Judith Viorst, humorist, author and "Redbook" magazine contributing editor.

The Celebrity Series is always sold as a series, rather than by individual lecture ticket, and there's always a discount for those who order early. Tickets for the 1985-86 lectures are $25 if purchased before May 1, $30 thereafter, and may be ordered by mail as well as at Parcels on Judith Viorst's lecture day.

Checks, payable to the Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League, should be sent to Mrs. Ernest Moeller, 801 Lakeland Avenue, Grosse Pointe, Mich. 48230. Tickets will be mailed in September. Chairman for the 1985-86 Celebrity Series is Sally Bernard. Co-chairman is Kaye Jaskolski.

Take A Look at Liberty

Make it a point this month to take a look at Liberty at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, where a display by the Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, salutes the Statue of Liberty Centennial — and February, as American History Month.

"Liberty Enlightening the World," designed by Frederick Auguste Bartholdi, was given to the United States by the French Government as a token of friendship between the two countries and as a symbol of the liberty and brotherhood citizens of a country enjoy under a free form of government.

It was presented to the American Ambassador in Paris on Aug. 5, 1884, brought to the United States in 1885, erected on a pedestal built for it and formally unveiled on

Noah's Ark comes sailing into Christ Church

... well, maybe not exactly SAILING in: you can see for yourself how it gets there when you attend a Mar. 1, 2 or 3 (Friday, Saturday, Sunday) performance of Benjamin Britten's "Noye's Fludde" at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe. For now, all we'll tell you is that the ark WON'T be there when you arrive. Frederic DeHaven, Christ Church organist/choirmaster, is directing this ambitious production which utilizes the talents of 140 actors, singers and musicians — and the audience — to show-and-tell one of the Bible's greatest stories.

Dorothy and William Ludwig have organized a behind-the-scenes production staff of 50 to support the on-stage activity. For a look at some members of the cast, turn to this week's Feature Page and check out this week's Pointer of Interest, which profiles Sem, Ham and Jaffett and their wives.

Tickets for the Christ Church production of Britten's opera are $7 for adults, $3.50 for children. They're available, along with performance time information, at the Church Office, 885-4841.

"Noye's Fludde" was written in 1957 and first performed the following year, at the Orford Church in Adleburgh, England. Its text is from one of the Chester Miracle Plays. In the Middle Ages, miracle and mystery plays, popular dramatizations of Bible stories, were performed by craft guilds on special feast days. On one Corpus Christi Day in Chester, 24 such plays were presented.

"Noye's Fludde" dates from the 16th century, but represents a form that had earlier reached its zenith. Britten retained all the 16th century spellings, including that of the title, but asked his performers to follow modern pronunciation except for sounding the final "e's" in certain words, such as "shippe."

Phase I faces full weekend

A full weekend faces Phase I, the single, young adults, ages 25 to 40, who gather regularly for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Activities begin tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 22, with a Volleyball and Game Night at the church. Set-up is at 7:15 p.m. Play starts at 7:30 p.m. Non-athletes are invited to bring card or board games. After play, at approximately 10 p.m., the group will adjourn for a snack.

Phase I is off to Wayne State University's Hilberry Theatre Saturday night, to see "The Rivals." Car pools will leave the church parking lot at 6:45 p.m. for the trip downtown.

There'll be cross-country skiing at Sylvan Glen Golf Course from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 24, weather permitting. Ski rental, including four hours of skiing, is $7.50. Dinner at a local restaurant will cap the afternoon.

If the snow melts by Sunday, skating at the Farms Pier will be substituted for skiing. Either way, Phase I will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday evening in the hallway by the Memorial Church coat room, to attend the Festival Choir and Orchestra's 7:30 p.m. presentation of Handel's "Messiah," Parts II and III, in the church sanctuary. Tickets will be available at the door.

A 'Star Auction' date in March

WSU alumni to look back

The "how-to" of genealogical research will be the theme of a special program sponsored by the Wayne State University Alumni Association on Saturday, Feb. 23, at the Burton Historical Collection, housed in the Main Detroit Public Library on Woodward Avenue.

Activities begin at 10 a.m. with a workshop and tour of the collection conducted by its chief, Alice Dalligan, aided by members of the Detroit Genealogical Society. After a box luncheon, researchers will be able to work on individual projects until 4:30 p.m., when the program concludes.

Cost is $7.50 for Alumni Association members, $8.50 for non-members. Information and reservations may be obtained by calling the WSU Alumni House, 577-2168.

Progressive Artists to meet next week

Daniel Keller, on the staff of the Center for Creative Studies, will give an oil painting demonstration at the Progressive Artists' Club meeting next Wednesday, Feb. 27, at 8 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The public and non-members of the Artists' Club are welcome, for a $1 charge.

MPWN to sponsor getaway weekend

Reservations for a Saturday and Sunday, Mar. 9 and 10, Great Getaway Weekend at the Livonia Holiday, presented by the Michigan Professional Women's Network and Joan Akey-Fitness Company, must be made by tomorrow, Friday, Feb. 22, by contacting Janet Nyovich at 851-6469. The $110 package price includes overnight accommodations, all meals and activities ranging from body fitness and awareness classes to fashion, make-up and color analysis, plus motivational sessions.

"Tonight we're honoring excellence; we're honoring the achievement of a man who led a very talented group of players to the very pinnacle: the World Championship!"
— Master of Ceremonies Dick Purtan

Dick Purtan's opening comments express the enthusiasm shared by local and national celebrities who gathered early in the year at the Westin Hotel to honor George "Sparky" Anderson, the only baseball manager to win a World Series in both the National and American Leagues.

The evening's festivities were taped by WDIV-TV for a special two-hour family entertainment program airing this Sunday, Feb. 24, at 7 p.m. on Channel 4. Earlier in the day, at 3 p.m., Channel 4 will re-broadcast the final game of the 1984 World Series.

Among those on hand to honor Sparky, in addition to Mort, the Schoeniths and Amy McCombs, Channel 4 president and general manager (she's half-hidden by Sparky and Mort's clasped hands in the top picture), were NBC Sportscaster Joe Garagiola and Detroit Symphony Orchestra Music Director Gunther Herbig.

A premiere at Hilberry

Wayne State University's Hilberry Repertory Theatre has received the rights to present the Michigan premiere of a new comedy, "Chekhov in Yalta" by John Driver and Jeffrey Haddow, which will open Apr. 12, replacing "Hotel Paradiso" in Hilberry's spring performance schedule.

This new American play about the visit of a famous Russian theatrical company to Chekhov's villa in Yalta has been successfully produced in regional professional theaters including the Cleveland Playhouse, where the cast included former Hilberry actor John Morgan Lund.

Hilberry tickets printed for "Hotel Paradiso" will be good for "Chekhov in Yalta" on their printed dates. Exchanges for another play can be made in advance upon request. Further information may be obtained by calling the theatre box office, 577-2972.

Poison Prevention can avert tragedy

Thousands of children are victims of accidental poisoning each year. Some become sick—and many die—because of the carelessness of adults. National Safety Council statistics show that nearly 80 percent of deaths from poisonings by solids and liquids happen in the home.

Here's a check list to help you avoid accidental poisonings:

- Store medicine and household products high up, away from children.
- Lock up all toxic products.
- Be certain child-resistant caps are closed properly.
- Keep original labels on all products, so the correct steps can be taken in the event of an accidental poisoning.
- Keep syrup of ipecac in the medicine cabinet, and use only with the advice of a Poison Control Center or your physician.
- Keep the phone number of your local Poison Control Center near your phone.

Slate Detroit Rose Society's meeting

A program on Miniature Roses will be presented at the Detroit Rose Society's meeting this Sunday, Feb. 24, at 2 p.m. at the Tel-Twelve Mall. Dick Schmidt, the Rose Society's own expert on miniatures, will explain their culture requirements and discuss the latest guidelines on judging them at American Rose Society Accredited Rose Shows.

He will also make recommendations on the best miniature roses to grow in local gardens, and will illustrate his talk with slides. The program is free and open to the public.

From Another Pointe Of View

Oct. 28, 1886. Since then, the great torch held aloft by the Statue of Liberty has symbolized America's light and hope to all the world. It also serves as a beacon light for ships and planes.

The story of the Statue of Liberty, now under repair and reconstruction in preparation for its centennial, is fascinating, and beautifully told in the Elizabeth Cass display, which will remain at the library through the month. Make it a point to stop by to see it.

Andrea to Make Her Bow

Andrea Frodien, daughter of Eugenie Frodien, of The Park, and Juergen Frodien, makes her debut in the Grand March and Polonaise of the Austrian Society Straussball this Saturday, Feb. 23. Her escort will be Michael Gasiewicz, also of The Park.

The Straussball, largest event of its kind outside Vienna where the annual Opera Ball, on which it is modeled, is held in January, is presented each year by the Austrian Society of Michigan to honor the daughters of families that trace their roots to countries historically associated with Austria.

Among the 14 debutantes and their escorts who will appear this season before more than 2,000 guests in the Cobo Hall Ballroom are representatives of Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Germany as well as Austria. Honored guests will include Michigan Governor James Blanchard, the Austrian Consul in Detroit and the Austrian Consul General from Chicago.

The ball begins with a presentation ceremony, performed by 40 couples, which opens with the introduction of the debs followed by elaborate formations to the Radetsky March and an elegant, ballet-like dance to a Chopin Polonaise. The group concludes by dancing the Emperor Waltz, in a giant circle. Then the debutantes' fathers are invited to waltz with their daughters. Then everyone is invited to take to the floor.

Music for the evening will be provided by a Strauss orchestra under the direction of James Tamburini, artist-in-residence at the University of Windsor. Decor will feature lavish arrangements of red and white (Austria's national colors) carnations.

Anniversary Celebrations

Over 100 guests accepted the invitation of the Academy Alumni Association, Grosse Pointe, to attend the Helen Healy, RSCJ, and Academy Alumni Scholarship Funds cocktail buffet benefit at the Grosse Pointe Academy's Lakeshore Building on the last Sunday of January, and every one of them had a super time!

The party honored past-presidents of the Alumni Association, stretching back to the days when it was an Alumnae Association, for the Grosse Pointe Academy, celebrating its centennial this year, was originally the Academy of the Sacred Heart, dedicated to educating the daughters of Grosse Pointe. When it evolved into the present Grosse Pointe Academy, it also evolved into a coeducational institution.

But it remains as proud of its past as it is of its present, as evidenced by the fact that the center of attention at the buffet benefit was a Centennial Gallery Exhibit. And although the Religious of the Sacred Heart no longer own/operate the Academy, the honorary president of today's Academy Alumni Association is Sister Catherine Owens, RSCJ.

Lisa Nowak, Harbinger Dance Company's founder and artistic director, will blow out 15 candles on Harbinger's birthday cake when the company celebrates 15 years of dance in Detroit at the Music Hall Center this Saturday. The afterglow, a benefit for Harbinger, will be held in the downstairs lobby following Harbinger's 8 p.m. performance on the Music Hall stage.

Honorary chairmen for the event are Grosse Pointe's Gayle and Andrew Camden and Sheila and Eugene Mondry, of Franklin. Honored guests will be Harbinger's current and past dancers. Reservations for the anniversary afterglow, at $15 per person, may be obtained by calling Harbinger, 477-7014, or the Music Hall, 963-7680.

Historic Memorials benefit

Miss Zeidler is fall bride

Sandra Joyce Zeidler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald W. Zeidler, of Buckingham Road, and William Ross Murray, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Murray, of Lakeland Avenue, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, October 13, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The Reverend Dr. David B. Antonson presided at the double ring ceremony during which Darlene Clifton, of Anderson, Ind., sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by William DeTurk, Memorial Church organist.

The rites were followed by a reception in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom. The newlyweds, both graduates of Grosse Pointe South High School and Michigan State University, vacationed in The Bahamas during the Christmas holidays.

They are at home in Anderson, where the bridegroom is employed by Delco-Remy Division of General Motors Corporation.

For her fall wedding, the former Miss Zeidler selected a traditional gown of silk taffeta, styled with a high, sheer, lace-appliqued neckline and puffed, cap sleeves tapering at the elbow into lace. Seed pearl embroidery accented her fitted bodice. Matching lace appliques bordered her full skirt and cathedral length train.

Her four-tiered illusion veil fell from a beaded pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of cymbidium orchids and white roses, accented with silk stephanotis.

She was attended by her sister, Debra Dixon, as matron of honor, and by bridesmaids Lisa Murray, the bridegroom's sister, and Barbara Penoyer, of Seattle, Wash., who carried cascades of silk lilies accented with satin streamers.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Murray

Hannah Dixon was flower girl for her aunt.

The attendants wore floor length dresses featuring point d'esprit lace capelets over fitted, Empire waists, the bridesmaids and flower girl in a daphne rose shade, the honor attendant in cranberry.

Gordon Bradford Murray acted as best man for his brother. Ushers were Michael Kyle, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Mark Ferrick, of Hamtramck. Ring bearer was Nicholas Zeidler, the bride's nephew.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length dress of beige chiffon, styled with a jeweled lace neckline. The bridegroom's mother also chose a floor length dress, dusty rose in color, with a lace camisole bodice and a matching lace jacket. Each mother wore a wrist corsage of double cymbidium orchids.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. G.M. Rose, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Wayne Rose, of Toronto, Ont., and, from Anderson, Robert Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fleming, Ross Fleming and Michael Smith.

Miss Couden speaks vows

At home in Richmond, Va., are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith Radcliffe who were married on the wedding anniversary of her parents, Saturday, December 29, at a 6 o'clock candlelight ceremony in Saint James Lutheran Church. The Reverend George Schelter presided at the rites, which were followed by a reception at the Detroit Club.

The bride, the former Margaret Frances Couden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael N. Couden, of Lochmoor Boulevard, wore a gown of white silk taffeta, its open, shaped neckline edged in Alencon lace trimmed with pearls and sequins, its double pouff sleeves accented with tiny medallion appliques of matching lace.

The dress featured a deeply V'd back waistline and a full, gathered skirt, extending into a chapel train. A Juliet cap of re-embroidered Alencon lace beaded with pearls, sequins and crystals held a fingertip length, two-tiered illusion bridal veil. The bridal bouquet was a Colonial nosegay of white Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and white freesia, with green holly.

Pamela Gillespie came from Atlanta, Ga., to serve as her sister's honor matron. Bridesmaids were Elizabeth Couden, of Irvine, Calif., their sister-in-law, Cynthia Radcliffe, of Richmond, the bridegroom's sister, and Mary Louise Hundley, also of Richmond, the bride's college roommate.

Their floor length gowns of red taffeta were full-skirted and self-shaded, styled with scallop-necked, embroidered bodices and short, pouff sleeves, each with a carriage pleat at the shoulder. They carried Colonial nosegays of red and white miniature carnations and green holly.

Mr. Radcliffe, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Radcliffe, of Richmond, asked his father to act as best man. Richard Radcliffe, of Richmond, the bridegroom's brother, Lawrence Couden, of Irvine, the bride's brother, and William Hooper, of Baltimore, Md., a college friend, ushered.

Mrs. Stephen S. Radcliffe

The mother of the bride wore a long-sleeved, V-necked, floor length dress of amethyst crepe. The bridegroom's mother's dress, also floor length and long-sleeved, was sapphire blue in color and featured a draped neckline. Eucharis lilies formed each mother's corsage.

Among members of the bridegroom's family who traveled from Richmond to The Pointe for the wedding were his sister and brother, Alison Radcliffe and Edward Radcliffe Jr., and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Lewis.

Frederic Gillespie, the bride's brother-in-law, accompanied his wife from Atlanta. Other special guests were the bride's grandfather, Francis Urban, and her uncles and aunt, Donald Urban, a California resident, and Mr. and Mrs. William Signor, of New York.

Lisa Bishop and Michael Bishop, cousins of the bride, came from Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beard (she was an attendant for the bride's mother) traveled from Frankfort, Ind., to attend the second generation ceremony.

Mind Abuse is destructive, Digest says

These are the bruises that don't show: scars in the mind that haunt a child into adulthood. There are no statistics on children who are victims of emotional child abuse, but the problem is widespread.

According to an article appearing in the February Reader's Digest — "Emotional Child Abuse: The Invisible Plague" — emotional abusers are prompted not by children's misbehavior but by their own psychological problems.

Schedule spring DGC class series

A series of spring classes begins Wednesday, Mar. 6, at the Detroit Garden Center, located in historic Moross House on East Jefferson near Riopelle, a few blocks from the Renaissance Center.

The programs, continuing through Apr. 24, run from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Pre-registration with payment of fees, refundable up to one week before a scheduled class, is required. Participants should bring a brown bag lunch. Coffee and tea are provided.

Fee for the Mar. 6 slide lecture "What's Bugging You?" to be presented by Dr. Dean Krauskopf, new director of the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, is $7.

The series continues with craft classes. "Duck Egg Jewel Box" with Betty Haynes will be offered

Mar. 13, for a $13 fee. "Counted Cross Stitch Name Tag" with Nancy Carlson is scheduled for Mar. 20, for a $10 fee.

Fee for Sue Abbott's Mar. 27 "Straw Bonnet Doorhanging" is $9. Rosemary Day and Rose Smitka will join forces to present a $10 "Easter Basket with Fresh Flowers" Apr. 3, and Julie Robinson will offer instruction in "Basket Weaving" Apr. 17, for $15.

The series closes with Caroline Jamison's "Fragrance in the Kitchen and All Through the House," an Apr. 24 workshop on the many facets of herb cooking and decorating, offered at $14. Each class fee includes a non-refundable $3 registration fee and covers the cost of materials. Registration information may be obtained by calling the DGC, 259-6363.

Pops dates for Mancini

Henry Mancini takes the podium at Ford Auditorium as guest conductor of Detroit Symphony Orchestra Merrill Lynch Weekender Pops Series concerts Friday, Mar. 1, at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, Mar. 3, at 3:30 p.m.

The programs will feature favorite selections from Mancini's film and television scores, including music from "The Thorn Birds" and such standards as "Days of Wine and Roses" and "Moon River."

Appearing with him will be a group of five instrumentalists: Jack Gilroy, drums, Cecil Welch, trumpet, Skip Lane, saxophone, Royce Campbell, guitar, and Steve Dokken, bass.

Tickets for the pops concerts, ranging in price from $13 to $19, are available at the Ford Auditorium box office, 567-1400, Hudson's and CTC/Ticket World outlets.

Sunsations II at Dominican

The Dominican High School Alumnae Association will present Sunsations II, a fashion show in the school auditorium, on Sunday, Mar. 24, at 2 p.m. The fashions, provided by Bayberry Hill Classics on-the-Hill, will be modeled by all age groups, teens to grandmothers. How to change the "look" of a garment with accessories will be a feature of the show.

Wine, cheese, bread and hors d'oeuvres served in the school cafeteria will complete the afternoon arranged by Rosie King and her co-chairmen, Ann Welles and Jan Larkin. Admission is $7.50 ($3 for students and senior citizens). Ticket information is available at the Dominican Alumnae Office, 882-8503.

Trowel, Error Club to meet

The Trowel and Error Garden Club will meet next Thursday, Feb. 28, at the Ballantyne Road home of Mrs. Ken Davis. Title of the program to be given by the Audubon Society's Betty Simek is "Sharing Our Space."

Set Indian Village antiques' display

Twenty-three dealers from three states will be participating in the 14th Annual Indian Village Antique Show, running from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. this Saturday, Feb. 23, and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 24, at The Whittier Towers.

February meeting for Detroit's PSI

Evelyn R. Phillips, M.S.N., Clinical Specialist at Henry Ford Hospital, will give a presentation on osteoporosis (bone deterioration) at the Detroit Chapter of Professional Secretaries International's meeting next Wednesday, Feb. 27, at the Detroit Athletic Club.

All interested secretaries and guests are invited to attend the program, which begins at 5:30 p.m. with a social hour. Dinner will be served an hour later. Reservations may be made by calling 354-2943.

Pointer of Interest

by Janet Mueller

Mrs. Sem was, unfortunately, seasick... so only Mr. and Mrs. Ham, Mr. and Mrs. Jaffett and Mr. Sem, accompanied by a trio of birds who escaped from below-decks, were available for the interview. It began with the obvious question: How do you like life on the ark? Consensus answer is: We like it fine.

In fact, Noah's three sons and their wives are delighted to be aboard as principal participants in the Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, production of Benjamin Britten's "Noye's Fludde," a 20th century opera in the format of a medieval miracle play.

It's a bit crowded, of course. "Noye's Fludde" may not have a cast of thousands — but it does have a cast of hundreds: actors, singers and dancers accompanied by an orchestra of strings, percussion, hand bells, 20 recorder players, four-hand piano, organ and four bugles.

One hundred and 40 animals will be portrayed. They'll assist nine principal singers. There are sing-along parts for the audience, which joins in three times with familiar hymns including (think a minute, and you'll know it HAD to be this one), "Eternal Father, Strong to Save."

The Young Noahs, Sem, Ham, Jaffett and their wives, are all young people, participants in Frederic DeHaven's Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, Choir Program. DeHaven, Christ Church organist/choirmaster, is directing the opera and coaching the audience in its part through the effective device of scheduling "Noye's Fludde" sing-along hymns for congregational singing during Sunday services at Christ Church this month.

NOT THAT YOU must be a member of Christ Church to be a member of the "Noye's Fludde" audience. All are welcome at the Mar. 1, 2 and 3 (Friday, Saturday and Sunday) performances, and welcome to sing-along in the appropriate places. Tickets at $7 for adults, $3.50 for students, are available at the Christ Church Office, 885-4841.

"This production is important to me," says Julie Henderson (Mrs. Jaffett), "because it will be my last as a member of the Christ Church Girls' Choir." The 17-year-old Grosse Pointe South High School senior has been in Fred DeHaven's Choir Program for seven years. She's a veteran of two prior Christ Church productions, "H.M.S. Pinafore," in which she sang in the chorus, and "The Pirates of Penzance," in which she played Kate.

She plays flute in South High's Symphony Band. She'd like to continue both her choir and band activities in college.

Julie, like the other two "wives," toured Europe last summer with the Girls' Choir. She counts singing in the Sistine Chapel a highlight of her life (who wouldn't?). She's not the only member of her family participating in "Noye's Fludde." Her mother, a member of the Christ Church Chorale as is her uncle, is in the hand bell choir, and her aunt and uncle and two cousins will be among the "animals" climbing aboard the ark.

Adriel Fenton (Jaffett) also has a family member in the "Noye's Fludde" production. His brother, Kenny, is playing a rodent — a rat or a mouse, Adriel isn't sure which, although he tends to think rat has more character than mouse, and is therefore more suitable for Kenny.

Fourteen-year-old Adriel, an eighth grade student at Burton International School, has been in the Christ Church Choir Program for two years. He also sings in his school choir. He had a grand time in the Christ Church production of "The Mikado" and is thoroughly enjoying "Noye's Fludde."

WHEN HE'S NOT singing, Adriel's into sports, all sorts, but especially basketball. He's looking forward, as are the other two "sons," to the Christ Church Men and Boys' Choir's trip to Paris and England this summer, to singing in Canterbury and York Cathedrals. Adriel will, hopefully, be taking along more than one camera. He wants to make sure to get a picture of the Eiffel Tower.

Grady Avant (Ham) will definitely be taking three cameras (Polaroid, Nikon and movie) abroad with him. Grady leaves nothing to chance. Things go wrong a lot even if you plan them out to the last detail, Grady figures, so you should do all you can to mini-

imize the expected debacle.

Grady, 13, is an eighth grade student at Brownell Middle School. He's in his seventh year with the Christ Church Choir Program, and is Head Chorister. He sings, too, in his school choir.

Like Julie, he's appeared in the Christ Church productions of "Pinafore" and "Pirates of Penzance." Like Adriel, he has a sibling in the "Noye's Fludde" production. "My sister, Mary, was supposed to be a dodo bird — but the dodo bird costumes didn't come in, so now she's a flamingo."

Grady's been on the road with the Christ Church Choir, in Washington and Colorado, so he's prepared for England this summer. Not blasé, exactly. Just prepared. When he's not singing, he likes to "create," especially electrically. Grady's great at making things. "His home," says Adriel, with a touch of awe, "is wired!"

"I'VE BEEN IN the Christ Church Choir Program almost two years now," says Susan Kunert (Mrs. Ham), "and I've enjoyed every minute of it." Like Julie, she had a wonderful time with the Girls' Choir in Italy and Switzerland last summer. Like all of Noah's sons and their wives, she's having a wonderful time in "Noye's Fludde."

"I've always enjoyed and participated in various forms of the performing arts — violin, acting, dance and voice — and this type of opportunity is something I'm going to grab and give my best shot."

Susan, 16, in the 11th grade at Grosse Pointe North High School, has appeared with the Children's Theatre of Grosse Pointe ("Alice in Wonderland," "Winnie the Pooh," etc.) and in the Christ Church "Mikado." She takes private voice lessons and hopes to attend the University of Michigan, majoring in Broadcast Journalism and minor-ing in Music Theatre.

At 11, Pierce Middle School student Benjamin Braun (Sem) is the youngest of the "husbands," but he's been in the Christ Church Choir Program about five years. That's almost half his life.

In addition to "Noye's Fludde," he's working now on a solo part in a very contemporary piece by George Crumb, "Ancient Voices of Children," to be performed in Ann Arbor. He also plays the piano and viola.

Like Adriel, Benjamin is into sports. He likes to swim and bike in the summer, to downhill ski and play hockey in the winter. He's excited about the trip to England — but it's never occurred to him to take more than one camera. If worse comes to worse, he can always buy some shots off of Grady or Adriel.

THIS WILL BE the last major Christ Church play for Catherine Boyer (Mrs. Sem), who has participated in the Choir Program from the fifth grade, "devotedly" from the ninth grade... so despite the fact that she was confined to her sickbed on interview day, we think she deserves her share of "Noye's Fludde" ink.

Catherine is 17, a senior at Grosse Pointe South High and the Christ Church Girls' Choir Head Chorister. She solos often on Sundays, has soloed with the choir when it has appeared with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and soloed in the Sistine Chapel.

She was Mabel in Christ Church's "Pirates of Penzance," was scheduled to appear as Yum Yum in "The Mikado" but missed that performance due to mononucleosis. She is a member of the Grosse Pointe South High School Orchestra and the Christ Church Chorale, and plans to go back to Europe this summer.

Short and to The Pointe

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shammass, of The Shores, celebrated their 59th wedding at the Tampa Hyatt on Feb. 3 with their daughter Janet and son-in-law George Lakis, former Pointers who now live in Tampa, Fla. The Lakises hosted a cocktail buffet for the Shammasses, their relatives and friends that evening.

Scotland. Among the guests present were daughter Christine Cowan Hauser, of Vernier Road, and Mrs. Cowan's sister Christine McGleish Gustifson, of North Renaud Road.

Francis J. and Gladys J. Gildea, of Barrington Road, celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary on Feb. 2. They renewed their wedding vows at morning mass, followed by a breakfast at Pernie's and an evening reception at Penna's in Warren. The Gildeas are the parents of sons Thomas and Gary, and daughters Joan, Marilyn and Denise.

Among Alma College students who are volunteers in the school's Student Support Group is sophomore Karen Sullivan, daughter of Thomas and Mary Sullivan, of Brys Drive. A 1983 graduate of Regina High School, Karen is majoring in history and business administration at Alma. The Student Support Group hosts Alma's admissions office, gives tours to prospective students, makes phone calls, and participates in student panels.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — collection of Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, FOODS RICH IN VITAMIN C.

There has been controversy over Vitamin C in the past years, but the experts all agree: we need it. Vitamin C is a powerful antioxidant. It fights infections, makes wounds heal faster, enhances the skin and destroys nitrite, a cancer-causing agent in food. A deficiency of Vitamin C causes malfunction to the immune system.

Foods high in Vitamin C include green pepper, melon or cantaloupe, broccoli or kale, strawberries, cauliflower, oranges and spinach. It is in most fruits and vegetables in lesser amounts. Vitamin C is water soluble. A considerable amount is lost in cooking. Since the body does not store it, a fresh supply is required daily.

SOUTHERN STUFFED PEPPERS

- 6 large green peppers
- 1/2 cup chopped onions
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 lb. very lean ground beef
- 1 Tbsp. margarine
- 1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained (reserve liquid)
- 3 cups cooked brown rice
- Salt and pepper
- 1 can (10-3/4 oz.) cream of mushroom soup
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes
- Sweet paprika

Cut a thin slice from stem end of peppers. Remove seeds and ribs. Parboil peppers in boiling water for 2 to 3 minutes; drain. Meanwhile, saute onions, celery, garlic and ground beef in margarine, until vegetables are tender and meat is no longer pink. Add mushrooms, rice, salt and pepper to taste. Add enough water to mushroom liquid to make 3/4 cup. Blend with soup and bouillon cubes. Heat. Stir 1/2 cup of the blended soup into rice mixture. Stuff peppers. Place in shallow baking pan. Pour 1/2 cup water around peppers. Bake in preheated 350° oven 20 to 25 minutes. Remove from oven, sprinkle lightly with paprika. Serve with remaining heated soup mixture as a sauce. Makes 6 servings. Calories per serving about 292. Cholesterol about 53 mgs.

FRESH BROCCOLI SALAD

- 1 bunch very fresh broccoli
  - 2/3 cup olives, chopped
  - 1 small onion, grated
  - 4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
  - 1 cup mayonnaise
  - 1 Tbsp. lemon juice
  - 1/2 tsp. sugar
  - Salt and pepper
  - Red lettuce leaves
  - Fresh mushrooms, sliced
- Cut broccoli, including peeled stems, into cubes. Add olives, onion, and chopped eggs. Combine mayonnaise, lemon juice, sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Toss broccoli mixture with dressing. Serve on a bed of red lettuce leaves and garnish with fresh mushroom slices. Serves 6 to 8.

SHERRIED FRUIT CUP

- 4 large oranges
  - 1 can (13-3/4 oz.) pineapple tidbits in heavy syrup
  - 2 Tbsp. lemon juice
  - 1/3 cup dry sherry
  - Mint leaves, for decoration
- With paring knife, cut oranges in half using zigzag lines; separate halves carefully. Remove orange segments with grapefruit knife, reserving juice and segments and leaving shells intact. Clean 6 half shells and slice thin piece from rounded bottom of each; reserve for fruit cups.
- Cut orange peel slices into thin, small pieces; mix in saucepan with orange juice, pineapple tidbits (with syrup) and lemon juice. Heat to boiling, reduce heat to medium. Simmer uncovered, stirring occasionally, until thick and syrupy, about 25 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in sherry. Heat oven to 350°. Place shells in muffin tin. Spoon about 1/3 cup fruit mixture into each shell. Bake 20 minutes. Garnish each cup with mint sprigs. Makes six servings. Calories per serving about 94. Cholesterol 0.

To celebrate spring at Marist benefit

Join treasure hunt at DIA

"The Mystery of the Five Fragments," a free, self-guided gallery activity which involves use of a guide book and kit to lead families on an archaeological expedition through the Detroit Institute of Arts' Ancient Art Collection, is available to museum visitors beginning this month.

Goal is to identify five mysterious fragments that have "arrived" at the DIA. The activity simulates the methods of archaeological examination, generating the feeling of adventure and excitement associated with "finds." Through a series of visual exercises, each participant learns about specific works in the collection and about the archaeological process.

This is the first in a series of three gallery activities designed to unite parents and children in a museum experience that both teaches and entertains, with the ultimate objective of promoting future visits to the Art Institute.

"The Mystery of the Five Fragments" was developed at the DIA by project coordinator Janet Landay, Education Department; project designer Stan Resnicoff, California; consultants Linda Downs, curator of Education, Elsie H. Peck, associate curator of Ancient Near Eastern Art, and William Peck, curator of Eastern Art; and Detroit sculptor Sergio DeGiusti.

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

Blue boat covers? Shocking!

You know what I like about Grosse Pointe? We're never without a controversy here. Oh, we're no Detroit, with major corporations bailing out of the city ever other week. But we can hold our own in the "let's-see-what-we-can-get-upset-about-this-week department."

First it was school closings, then finding a school superintendent. If that wasn't enough, there was always the liquor in the City discussions or "what are they taxing us for this week" debates. Now it's blue boat covers. That's right, the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club is using blue boat covers on its wintering boats.

Oh, the shame, the degradation.

Two weeks ago, a reader from the Woods wrote the News a letter to the editor complaining about the "highly unacceptable" blue boat covers at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Seems a number of folks are up in arms over the GPYC's use of shocking blue covers. (The temptation here is to say that residents are revolting. Maybe they are, but not as revolting as the covers.)

Anyway, what I want to know is, where are Time and Newsweek on this issue? This is big news. I mean, blue boat covers in Grosse Pointe? Next they'll be telling me that Grosse Pointe Shores is going to raze the old Vernier School and put up a Wendy's or a White Castle.

The GPYC, in the form of Commodore James Daoust, was quick to allay fears that the club has gone "video." In a Feb. 14 letter to the News, Daoust explained that the covers were new and not reusable and that blue was the only tint available at the time the present covers were ordered.

That's a relief. For a moment, I had a picture of gaudily-striped boat covers that blind becoming permanent Lakeshore Road fixtures. Or boat covers with advertisements on them. After all, you let a few blue covers in and then what have you got? Who wants his view of the lake spoiled by a giant Day-Glo green yacht cover hawking "Cinzano," or "STP" or "Best Burgers in Town?"

Boating is the Pointe's biggest sport and as sports editor, I can understand the feelings of those who caught a glimpse of those Art Deco covers and felt weak in the knees and light in the head. This is the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club we're talking about here; the standard-setters for the Pointe, some say. What if somebody from outside the Pointe should see the covers? Oh, woe. Oh, mortification. Sell the house and send the kids away to military school, Buffy, we've been humiliated.

Why, I'll bet even Birmingham wouldn't be so tacky as to have bright blue boat covers. If they had boats in Birmingham.

And the headlines! "Pointe in Slump, Uses Blue Boat Covers," — Wall Street Journal. "Residents Threaten to Secede from Community, Cite Blue Boat Covers as Cause," — N.Y. Times. "Space Alien Forces Affluent Community to Use Shocking Blue Boat Covers," — The National Enquirer. Just imagine the embarrassment.

In his letter, Daoust hinted that the inconvenient "Blow 'Em Out of the Water" blue covers weren't going to be around forever and gave evidence that the GPYC is doing its level best to beautify its little corner of Lakeshore.

That sure puts my mind to rest. I didn't want to have to drive down Lakeshore Road and have my beautiful view of the lake spoiled by those appalling blue boat covers. And as we all know, the Constitution guarantees us freedom of speech, freedom of religion and freedom from unsightly blue boat covers spoiling our view of bleak, frozen lakes. Thomas Jefferson saw to that.

I just hope they pick the right colors to replace the shocking blue. Not transparent covers — it'll look like a refrigerator full of leftover boat down there. Or green. Watching a green-swathed boat bobbing and bobbing around on that gray lake is enough to produce seasickness in Lakeshore-bound drivers and that could be dangerous. Certainly not white; nothing gets dirty as fast as white — didn't your mothers tell you that?

Red? RED in Grosse Pointe? Be serious. And not pink or green. We don't want to become cliché, do we?

It's going to be a very difficult choice, that's obvious. But we've taken the first step back to respectability in the boat-covering department — we've admitted that shocking blue just won't do.

What's my suggestion for the new color? How about Tempest-In-a-Teapot Tangerine? I think it fits perfectly.

'Disappointed' Star looks to states

The varsity volleyball team at Our Lady Star of the Sea saw its Catholic League championship hopes disappear quickly last week — in the form of a 16-14, 10-15, 12-15 playoff loss to Pontiac Catholic.

"You could see the pressure building," assistant coach Margaret Spindler said. The girls had a 15-0 record going into the match. "It wasn't as much that Pontiac Catholic took the win... we gave it away. The girls were really disappointed."

Star had leads in both the second and third games, but failed to get the serve and watched as Pontiac Catholic stormed back in both contests.

"But you know what? The girls learned a lot and the loss has fired them up as much as they were before. They're talking state tournament championship now," Spindler added.

The state volleyball tournament begins Saturday, March 2 at Wyandotte Mt. Carmel. Star will participate in the eight-team Cardinal Mooney Tournament this Sunday, Feb. 24.

New game plan fights drug abuse

Athletes lead way

By Peggy O'Connor

A high school's "star" quarterback, hockey captain or No. 1 singles player might soon be counted on for much more than touchdowns, goals and victories, if an ambitious new program aimed at combating drug abuse by prep athletes is successful.

The program, called DAP (Drug Abuse Prevention) is being operated by the National High School Athletic Coaches' Association (NHSACA) in conjunction with the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA). In Grosse Pointe, University Liggett School is the first to participate, according to athletic director Bob Wood, second vice president of the NHSACA.

There are more than 160,000 high school coaches nationwide, Wood says. The state coaches' associations form the NHSACA. Within the NHSACA, there are eight regional vice chairmen, to whom the representatives from each state report. There also are national sports chairmen for 19 different areas — 18 girls and boys sports, plus athletic directors. It's a complex organization, and more.

"We are more than just a body of X's and O's," Wood said of the NHSACA. "We're involved in many things — the Drug Awareness Program, major national awards programs, the Special Olympics. We got the Southwest Conference not to televise football on Friday nights because of the damage it does to high school sports programs. We're talking about... millions of dollars. It wasn't easy."

The NHSACA's latest project won't be a breeze, either. The DAP seeks to increase awareness of teenage drug abuse — and hopes to succeed by attacking the problem through coaches and athletes.

"It's the biggest and most comprehensive project we've undertaken," Wood said. "I think it's an excellent program. By going through the athlete, we've zeroed in on the group which can be the key to the success of the program."

So far, the NHSACA and the DEA have the cooperation of the National Football League, the NFL Players' Association and the International Chiefs of Police. The NHSACA also expects to receive some support from groups like the National Hockey League, the National Basketball Association, the Special Olympics and other national athletic organizations.

The thrust of the DAP program, eight regional three-day training seminars beginning this spring and running through August, will be of the "how to" variety, detailing the planning, conducting and follow-up of DAP workshops for coaches and teachers.

"We're trying to get the 100 school districts in each region to each send one representative. Our purpose is to train that person to go back to his or her district and conduct a similar workshop. This way, the individual in each district is the one who knows what resource people to contact, and can pass this information along. It's a real grass roots movement," Wood said.

The long-term objective of the DAP program is to train coaches and athletic personnel to identify students with drug problems, provide preventive drug counseling, develop instructional programs to assist coaches in counseling students about drugs, offer alternatives to substance abuse and develop community education programs.

AT ULS, the program began with a coaches' workshop in November which consisted of coaches taking a sample drug/alcohol survey of their own and cooperating in a planning meeting for the next step in the process: a similar survey for ULS athletes.

"We met with the athletic councils before Christmas, talked about the program with them, and why we wanted athletes to participate," Wood said. "We feel that athletes are respected, that kids will listen to them. If you can get the athlete on your side, you can have a tremendous impact."

"Our athletes responded well. There was no doubt in their minds; this was what they wanted to do," he added.

Just as there was no doubt that increased substance abuse among students and athletes was the impetus for the NHSACA and the DEA to begin this prevention program.

Included in the DEA's informational booklet, "For Coaches Only: How to Start A Drug Prevention Program," are statistics compiled in the 1983 high school survey done by the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research which showed that 87 percent of those surveyed used alcohol, 42 percent used marijuana, 25 percent used stimulants (other than cocaine) and 11 percent used cocaine.

Other studies showed that 80 percent of student athletes surveyed used alcohol at least once per year, 30 percent used alcohol at least once per week and 17.4 percent used marijuana regularly.

A star athlete in Grosse Pointe who also happens to be a substance abuser? It's entirely possible, despite what parents and school officials might hope.

"I think quite a few people look at the starting quarterback or the No. 1 singles player and say he or she couldn't possibly use these substances and still perform so well. In many cases, they may be right. But there are some athletes who do and get away with it," Wood said.

"I think that the potential for this type of abuse is even greater at a school like ULS, where the competition isn't as great. It's not as if we're a bigger school, where there is always someone waiting to take the spot of an athlete — even a star — who can't keep up," he added.

Bob Wood

Wood and the NHSACA are convinced that the best way to communicate the general concern over drug abuse to the student population is through the athlete. That's where that quarterback or the No. 1 netter comes in.

"In most high schools, the athlete is greatly respected. We feel it's a natural step to go through the coaches and athletes. Peer pressure is a strong tool... if we get the athletes' support, it's going to have an effect on the other students," he added.

ULS will distribute a confidential alcohol/drug survey to its athletes sometime before spring vacation in mid-March, after meeting again with the athletic councils to get

North cagers' winning streak reaches four

By Bill Hoover

North High

North's varsity basketball team (9-7) extended its winning streak to four by defeating Lake Shore, 59-39, on Feb. 12 and Roseville Brablec, 59-37, last Thursday.

The Lake Shore game was never close. The first quarter, slow-paced and filled with poor shooting, saw North hold a 13-6 lead. In the second quarter, the Norsemen picked up the tempo and after Chris "Swish" Dudeck buried a jumper, North was up by nine. After a Lake Shore time-out, the Shorians scored four quick points. With 2:15 to play in the half, Art "The Wizard" Szymanski's pass to Kevin Weidinger for a three-point play ignited the Norsemen who finished the half strong, taking a 25-16 lead into the locker room at the half.

Weidinger, who scored 16 of his 27 points in the third quarter, opened the second half with a quick score to put North up by 15. The quarter ended with North leading, 48-28. The Norsemen widened their lead in the fourth while not allowing the Shorians to score until three minutes into the quarter. A late surge by the Shorians' substitutes pulled Lake Shore within 10 points; but North took the 59-39 win.

Weidinger led the Norsemen with 27 points and nine rebounds; Szymanski added 13 points.

Against Brablec, fine outside shooting from Dan "Master D" Kopitzke brought North within two points where they stayed for about two minutes before Rob "Skinhead" Skuras tied the score at 10-10 on a power lay-up. Kopitzke's hot hand matched Brablec basket for basket; and at the quarter's end, the teams were tied 16-16.

Both came out gunning in the second quarter. Szymanski gave North the lead for the first time in the game with 4:11 left and "The Wizard" scored again at 3:39 on an alley-oop pass from Dudeck. Brablec whittled away at North's lead from the foul line and were down only two, 28-26, with 2:44 to play in the half. The Cougars tied the score on a transition basket, but a Weidinger lay-up with four seconds to play gave North the 32-30 half-time lead.

One minute into the second half, Brablec tied it up before North ran off seven straight points. Szymanski caught on fire late in the quarter and put North up 45-34 at 3:29. A strong finish by Brablec brought the Cougars within three points, 45-42, at quarter's end. Three and a half minutes into the fourth quarter, Brablec free throws put the Cougars up by one, 51-50. Szymanski's three point play and bank shot on a break put North up by four.

Jon "Sweet J" Palazzo made the play of his life when he crushed the Cougar's open court lay-up off the glass. The Norsemen, pushing the ball down the court, lost it this time to one of the game's many questionable calls, setting up the Cougar's bucket with 31 seconds left to tie the score at 50-50. A missed jumper at the horn by North sent the game into overtime.

Szymanski stole the ball from Brablec and 30 seconds later North was up two on a basket by Weidinger. Brablec scored but had another shot blocked by Palazzo. That set up the game-winning jumper by Kopitzke from 15 feet with five seconds to play.

Szymanski led North with 30 points and eight rebounds. Weidinger added 13 points and 14 rebounds while Kopitzke finished with 10 points.

North's next game is at Lakeview on Feb. 22. Tip-off is at 7:30 p.m.

JV, frosh win

North's JV picked up two wins last week by defeating Lake Shore, 59-39, and Roseville Brablec, 58-42.

Marlies in JLA shootout

The Grosse Pointe Marlies and Ecorse will shoot it out on March 20 to determine the Midget AA champ in the first Greater Detroit Chrysler - Plymouth/Detroit Red Wings Shoot-Out.

The Marlies and Ecorse survived competition among teams in 20 divisions to make the finals. They'll fight it out for the title at the Red Wings-Los Angeles game on Wednesday, March 20 at Joe Louis Arena.

"I'm enthused about the shoot-out program. It's a great way to help kids improve their basic hockey skills," says Red Wing head coach Nick Polano.

Winners...

... of the Grosse Pointe Soccer Association's poster contest are, left to right, Wesley Waterson, first place; Nick Karabetsos, second; Nick Verilinden, third; Jason Verilinden, fourth; and Dimitri Karabetsos, fifth. The posters can be seen in local stores reminding kids ages 6 to 10 to register for spring soccer at Barnes from 6 to 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 27.

Bowdoin College freshman Elizabeth A. Danaher of Grosse Pointe is among those who received athletic awards from the college during the recently completed fall sports season. Danaher, a graduate of Cranbrook School Kingswood, earned junior varsity numerals in field hockey. She is a resident of Cloverly Road.

Pointer Betty O'Connell won second low net in the second flight recently in the 30th annual Harder Hall Womens' Invitational Golf Tournament in Sebring, Fla. The tournament, held at the Harder Hall Resort, is the first of four Orange Blossom Tournaments. Results count toward selection to the Curtis Cup Team which represents the U.S. against a combined squad from Ireland and Great Britain.

North High varsity baseball coach Frank Sumner has been elected president of the Michigan High School Baseball Coaches' Association. Sumner was chosen at the annual M.H.S.B.C.A. clinic held at the Plymouth Hilton Hotel, sponsored by the M.H.S.B.C.A. and Domino's Pizza. Feature speakers included Detroit Tiger pitcher Milt Wilcox, and Dean Kreiner and Tom Tresh of Central Michigan University as well as Dick Finn and his Ohio State University staff. More than 300 coaches from all levels of baseball gathered for the two-day meetings. Sumner, who has served as the Norsemen's head coach for 11 years, has been M.H.S.B.C.A. vice-president for two years.

Northwestern University tennis star Eva Lucido, of the Woods, led her squad to a victory over No. 3-ranked San Diego State in January. Lucido, the 16th-rated player in the ITCA-Head poll, captured the No. 1 singles match with a 4-6, 6-1, 7-5 triumph over Jennifer Prah. Then Lucido and partner Diane Donnelly, of Portage, beat Prah and Heather Ettus, 6-1, 6-2, at No. 1 doubles.

Lochmoor tennis pro Marc Galina has been named 1984 Michigan "Pro of the Year" by the United States Professional Tennis Association (U.S.P.T.A.) for his outstanding contributions to the game. Noted as an excellent clinician, Galina has been a featured speaker at coaches' clinics, tennis teacher workshops and seminars across the midwest. He is currently director of tennis and head pro at Lochmoor and serves as president of U.S.P.T.A. pros for eastern Michigan. He is also on the National advisory board for AMF Head.

The Park's Jeanne Bocci will be competing in the Indoor National T.A.C. championships in Madison Square Gardens this Friday, Feb. 22. She qualified for the event by playing eighth (7:03.1) in the 1,500-meter race walk at the mason Dixon Games in Louisville, Ky., on Feb. 9 (Qualifying time was 7:20 or better).

The Farms' Vito Cusenzo will receive the Tower Award this Saturday when the University of Detroit honors alumni at its 1985 Homecoming. The Homecoming events will include the game, awards dinner, ceremony and dance. UD alumni Dave DeBusschere, who starred in the NBA, will also be honored.

Steven Linn only went to the Smokey Mountain Marathon on Feb. 8 to try for a qualifying time for the Boston Marathon — he ended up winning the event and running his fastest time ever, 2:40.37, despite a hilly course set in the mountain's foothills. Linn, 32, lives on Fisher Road. This year's Boston Marathon will be his first ever; he qualified for the 1984 event but was unable to run due to an injury.

South on both ends of upset

February has been a month of basketball surprises in the Eastern Michigan League. And now coach George Petrouleas' South High Blue Devil squad knows how it feels to upset and to be upset.

Port Huron handed out the first surprise, a 38-34, win over South on Feb. 8. The loss was only South's second of the season. Then on Feb. 12, the Devils took on unbeaten Mount Clemens in a rematch and beat the top-ranked Bathers, 71-62. South then ended the week in a rather unpleasant way, dropping one to the Tars of Anchor Bay, 59-58, in overtime on Feb. 15. Against Mount Clemens, South broke open a tie game in the fourth period to coast to the victory. Big Al Arment led all scorers with 33 points, 14 rebounds, three steals, three assists and two blocked shots in what may have been his best performance this season.

Rick Whitney had 20 points and guard Sean Bruce chipped in with 10 assists, eight points and two steals for South. With the Friday night loss to Anchor Bay, South's overall record dropped to 13-3. The Devils are 7-3 in the EML, behind league-leader Mount Clemens, which is 9-1. South hosts Roseville on Feb. 22.

South's JV team got a surprise of its own: its second win of the year, 64-49, over East Detroit. Dave Arnold led South to victory with 18 points and seven rebounds. David Caldwell had 14 points and four assists and Brady Kraushaar had 14 points and six rebounds.

South then lost to Port Huron, 69-44. Kraushaar led with 10 points; Tom Liliensiek added nine. Doug Lucas hit six of eight from the line and had nine rebounds.

Mite Division

MAJOR MAGICS-RANGERS
The Major Magics skated to a 2-1 win. Nate Cook scored both Magics' goals on assists from Cliff Czerwinski and Kevin Baskel. Michael Hendrie made it close with his goal for the Rangers from Phil Descamps. Behi Rabani played well in goal for the Magics.

MAJOR MAGICS-SEALS
Goaltender Riekey Gokenback got the shutout in the Magics' 4-0 win. Scoring for the Magics were Michael Andris (two), Rabani and Baskel. Carl Rashid earned two assists on the day.

RED WINGS-SEALS
The Wings topped the Seals, 4-1, on four second period goals. Marty Hage, Chris Gibson, Billy Crandall and Steven Andris scored for the Seals; David Pulis, Lucien Hudson, Sebastian Yofre, Andris and Crandall earned assists. Goaltender Leo Salvaggio played well for the Wings, as did Seals' goalie Geoffrey Kimmel and skaters Chuckie Schervish and Peter Brown. Joe Berger scored for the Seals.

PENGUINS-RED WINGS
Goalie Kevin O'Malley shut out the Penguins, 7-0. Goal scorers were Salvaggio, Hudson, Crandall (two each) and George Massu. Earning assists for the busy Red Wings were Gibson, Hage, Brian Fehling, Joseph Wernet, Massu and Pulis. The Wings' strong defense on A-line came from Ryan Meir and Hage. B-liners Francois and Edith Berube skated well, as did C-liner Steven Owens.

RED WINGS-RANGERS
The Wings edged the Rangers, 4-3, in this very physical game which saw the Rangers double-shift their gutsy players. Scoring for the Wings were Gibson, Pulis (two) and Yofre. Salvaggio (two), O'Malley and Hudson earned assists. Pulis' second goal was the game-winner with 55 seconds left. The Rangers made it close on goals from Jason Santo, Hendrie and Bryan Belanger; Descamps drew an assist. Meir played well in the Wings' net.

Squirt Division

SABRES-BLACK HAWKS
The Sabres beat the hard-skating Hawks, 2-1. Sabre Gabe Eriksen and Black Hawk Ryan Perkins kept the game scoreless for two periods. Mike Pitters scored from Mike DeNardis and Jeff Adams for the Hawks before John Maycock tied it up, unassisted. Maycock got the winner from Garrett Ryan. Bill Cass, Bryan Cass and Stephen Wesley played well for the Sabres, as did T.R. Youngblood, Omar Sawaf and Riley McCormack for the Hawks.

(Correction: An item in the Feb. 7 edition of Center Ice should have noted that Stephen Wesley of the Sabres scored his second hat trick of the season, not his first.)

G.P. BLUES-FLYERS
The Blues and Flyers played to a 3-3 tie. The Flyers' Kris Hoglund opened the scoring from Tom Best before Bill Bufalino tied it up, then put the Blues ahead 2-1 on his second goal from Matt Carrier. Peter Antonenko tied it for the Flyers with nine seconds left in the period, assisted by Mike Ugval and Dan Bombich. Eric DeMeulemeester scored from Tim Kazul and the Flyers tied it up on Matt Spicer's unassisted goal. The Blues' goalie Scott Cook and the Flyers' Miller played well in the nets.

BLUES-BLACK HAWKS
The Blues skated to a 5-0 win over the Black Hawks behind the shut out goaltending of Scott Cook. Scoring for the Blues were Carrier, Joe Sucher, (two) DeMeulemeester and Bufalino. Assists were awarded to Nick Giorgio, Pat Allen and Carrier (two).

Pee Wee Division

BLACK HAWKS-LEAFS
Defense was the key in this 1-1 tie in a game which both the Hawks and Leafs needed to win to insure advancement in the Little Caesar's playoffs. After a scoreless first period, Renato Roxas put the Hawks on top on passes from Scout Soule and Greg Semack. The Leafs' Brian Dennis and the Hawks' Jim Bunn were equally stinging in the nets, making great saves. Palazzolo scored from Scott Nesom and George Petersmark for the tie. The teams went on defense after that, with the Leafs' big men — Juan Ganum and John McGlone — matching the Hawks' Jeff Antonenko, Dan Grundman, David Chute and Bill Wilson.

BLACK HAWKS-NORTH STARS
The Hawks rose the occasion in the Little Caesar's playoffs with a 5-1 win over the Stars. After an even first period, Roxas gave the Hawks the lead with a shorthanded goal from Chute and Soule. Soule scored from Roxas and Gabe Benvenuto added a goal from Zack Van Auker and Josh Ferry, while the defense of Grundman, Antonenko, Chute and Bill Wilson held off the surging Stars. Peter Masouras and Benvenuto added the other Hawks' goals from Roxas, Soule, Chute and Ferry. With 1:30 left, Derek Smith intercepted a pass and put one past goalie Brad Hea. Hea stopped Kevin McCracken's breakaway attempt with time running out.

BLACK HAWKS-BULLDOGS
The Hawks beat the Avon Bulldogs, 3-2, on Benvenuto's goal with 1:30 left in the game. Also scoring for the Hawks in this very close game were Soule and Roxas from Grundman, Masouras and Wilson. The shorthanded Hawks battled back after Avon tied the game and took the Little Caesar's playoff game victory. The defense of Grundman and Wilson and the goaltending of Jim Bunn, as well as the outstanding play of McCracken, Semack and Van Auker led to the victory.

North hockey team ends slump

The North High School hockey team was sailing along with a winning record and lots of promise — until late January came along and the Norsemen started a string of eight straight losses. The Norsemen broke that slump last Saturday night by beating Livonia Bentley, 4-1.

North overpowered Bentley with 53 shots on goal and dominated the visitors in all facets of the game, but again had difficulty scoring. North has dominated several recent opponents in every meaningful statistic over the last three weeks... except the final score. On Saturday, Bentley took the lead on a goal from a goal mouth scramble midway through the first period after North had bounced several shots off the goalposts. Casey Quick finally tied the contest on a nice set-up from linemates Frank Vento and Greg Henchel. Quick put North ahead for good later in the period when he slammed home a Bob Rogers pass from behind the net.

vided an insurance tally when he pounced on a rebound of John Russell's shot. Captain Greg Henchel closed out the scoring in the third period on a pretty pass from Rogers.

North's final home game prior to regional play will be this Friday, Feb. 22 at 7:20 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe Community Rink. The Norsemen will host Ann Arbor Pioneer, which won the Michigan Class A state championship last season.

The classes meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays; students will be accepted through March 13. Fee is $16 for first family members, $8 for each additional member. Registration is Feb. 27 at 7 p.m.

Novice and experienced boaters are welcome. The course includes boat handling, legal requirements, charts and compasses, piloting, navigational rules and more.

Further information may be obtained by calling Pete Burkhardt at 777-8134 or Nick Dutts at 465-5344.

Squirt Bandits stay hot, keep winning

The weather's still cold but the Grosse Pointe Squirt AA Bandits are hotter than ever and hoping to stay that way.

In the next three weeks, the Bandits will be involved in Little Caesar's League playoffs which will culminate in the championship game at Joe Louis Arena on March 3. In addition, the Bandits are currently participating in the district tournament which will lead to the state playoffs in Port Huron, as well as the Silver Stick Tournament hosted by Sarnia, Ont.

In the league playoffs, the Bandits beat the Michigan Dynamos, 4-0. Scoring for Grosse Pointe were Todd Frederickson, Brian Crane, John Gorney and Brad Warezak. Scott Berger, Corby Leith, Andrew VanDeweghe, Brady Miceli and Ty Tegedegs drew assists. Jason Hall got the shutout in goal for the Bandits.

Grosse Pointe then moved on to district play with games against Compuware and the Macomb Bulldogs, winning both games, 5-1 and 5-2, respectively. Scoring against Compuware were Gorney (two), Michael Kuna, Scott McMillan and Crane. Warezak, Crane and Frederickson drew assists.

Nothing goals against the Bulldogs were Warezak, Frederickson (two), Kuna and VanDeweghe. Kuna and Stephan Teigte (two each) and Harvey, McMillan and Warezak earned assists. Hall and Jon Bell shared goaltending duties.

The Bandits sent out get well wishes to teammate John Gorney, the squad's high scoring center who was in Bon Secours Hospital suffering from pneumonia.

Park Little League makes plans

For the first time in Grosse Pointe Park Little League (G.P.P.L.L.) history, the Park Little League will accept 7-year-old boys and girls, according to league president Sue Petersmark. The new age limit is now 7 through 12, consisting of players born between 8-1-72 and 7-31-78.

G.P.P.L.L. has three levels of competition: Instructional, Minors and Majors. The Instructional level provides the beginning 7-year-olds a baseball learning experience. The youngsters begin with T-ball and are hitting the pitched ball by season's end. The league has also approved a complete new uniform for the Instructional League.

Registration will be March 12 and 13 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Pierce Middle School (back entrance). Registrants should bring a birth certificate. At this time, tickets for the Sandlot Benefit game between the World Champion Detroit Tigers and the Cincinnati Reds, set for 7 p.m. Monday, May 6, may be purchased. The tickets are priced at reduced family rates with all proceeds going to the G.P.P.L.L.

Mrs. Petersmark emphasizes that all levels of G.P.P.L.L. play are well-coached, organized and provided with uniforms and the best equipment. She adds that she is looking forward to an excellent season, beginning with the Opening Day parade at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, May 4.

North winning streak at four

Rob Olds and Tom Shehab each scored in double figures.

On Feb. 14, the Norsemen collected their sixth win in a row. Shehab led North with 16 points and 11 rebounds. Paul Altobelli added 10 points, K.C. Gutow finished with eight points, and Olds collected 10 rebounds.

North's freshman basketball team split its games last week, losing to Bishop Gallagher, 81-52, then beating Chippewa Valley, 52-43.

Against Gallagher, Mark Demanigold led North with 19 points. Todd "The Tower" Dessinger added 11 points and 11 rebounds while Steve Neiman finished with 10 points.

In the Chippewa Valley game, North was led again by Demanigold (20 points). Dessinger and Dominic Martilotti each added 10 points, Steve Langs finished with nine points.

Tankers qualify

North's varsity swim team hosted a tri-dual meet against Brother

Rice and Brablec recently. The Norsemen lost a heartbreaker to Brother Rice while routing Brablec.

Qualifying for the state meet in two individual events was Dave Chadwell. "I was really psyched up. It's all I thought about all day in class," said Chadwell, who qualified in both the 50 and 100 free.

The medley relay team of Chadwell, Greg and Brad Cooksey and Mike Woods also made state consideration cut-offs.

The green and gold then faced arch rival South High. The older and more experienced squad from South proved to be too much for the young North tankers. Woods, however, provided a bright spot for coach Les Roddis by qualifying for the state meet in the 200 yard individual medley.

North beat Lake Shore on Feb. 14. (By Eric Hess).

Spikers shine

North's varsity and JV volleyball squads beat Bi-County opponent South Lake at home last week.

The varsity spikers won, 15-3, 15-10, behind the excellent spiking and serving of Celeste Sartor (13 points).

The JV was victorious, 15-9, 15-1. Lisa Ficarra had seven service points and Heather McDonald had five. The win improved the JV record to 16-1. The girls traveled to the Regina Tournament last Saturday, losing in a tough semi-final match, 15-3, 13-15, 14-16, to end up in third place.

Julie Cook had eight service points and four kills in the final game.

In freshman volleyball action, North lost to East Detroit Oakwood and saw its record drop to 4-9. Cindy Kotsonis made several excellent plays.

St. Clare sets mark with titles

St. Clare ended the regular league basketball season Feb. 10 with four of its five teams on top of the C.Y.O. East-Side Division. St. Clare became the first school in the CYO to accomplish such a feat. The Falcon squads will now advance to the citywide playoffs which begin next week.

St. Clare's varsity girls' ran their record to 14-0 by beating St. Joan of Arc, 15-13, on Feb. 10. Theresa Vitale scored on a last second basket off a crucial pass assist from Kristen Kasprzyk. Vitale and Kasprzyk combined for 10 points while Heather Adragna added five points.

The Falcons varsity boys topped St. Joan, 64-36, to clinch the division championship. Frank Zielinski paced St. Clare with 22 points while controlling the boards. Paul Mogielski added another 15 points. The championship is St. Clare's fifth in six years.

St. Clare's boys' fifth/sixth grade team put its undefeated record on the line and came away with a 27-24 win over St. Joan. Mark Evans and Tim Gramling hit key overtime buckets while Ted Goolsby iced the game with a clutch free throw with seven seconds left.

John Temple, Danny Fannon, Joe McCarthy, and Mark Cheltenham each played a fine game.

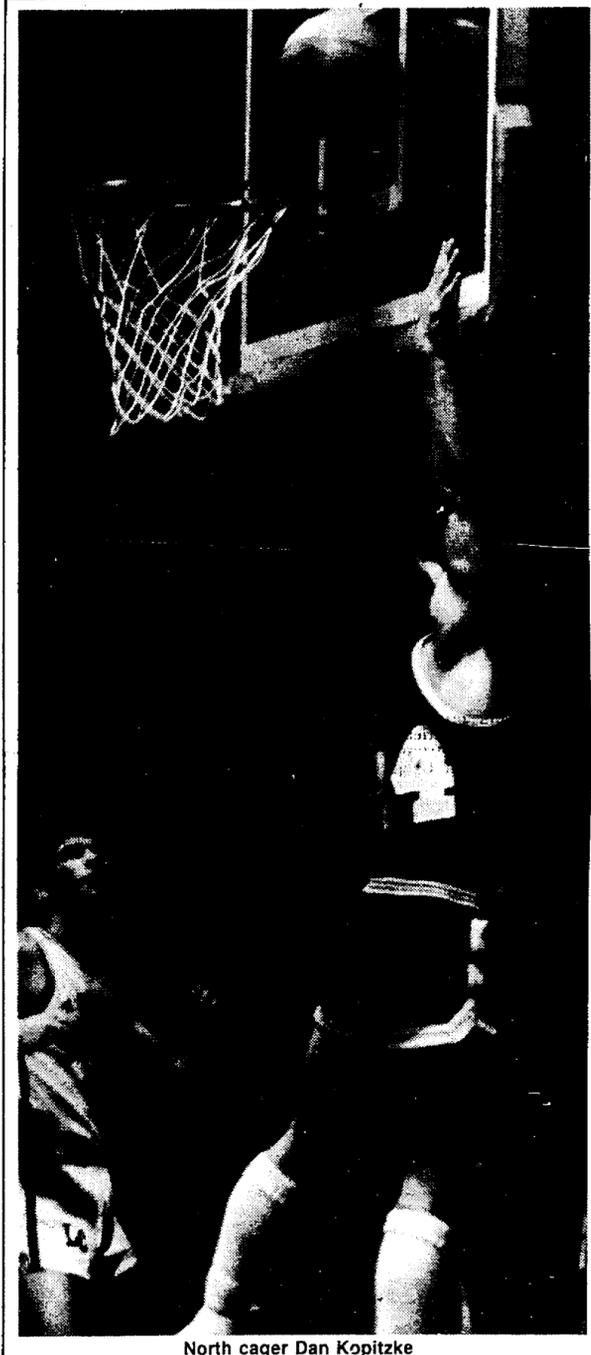

St. Clare's girls' fifth/sixth graders captured the division title by defeating St. Joan, 27-10. Annie Sullivan and Jill Johnson led all scorers. Jenny Lisowski and Erika Gretzen scored other baskets. Amy Figoli and Beth Wronikowski were tough on defense; Heather Bendure and Amy Munerantz also showed their defensive strength.

The Falcon boys' JV squad avenged an earlier three-point loss to St. John by defeating them, 51-19. Ten players contributed to the scoring attack, including Dane Lupo (14), Erik Kinning (10), Jeff Whitty, Mike Rentz, Durmon Ransom, Dave Kerfoot, Bill Dailey, Jim Pote, Charlie Bibeau and Frank Firrnstone.

Soccer sign up Feb. 27

The Grosse Pointe Soccer Association announced it will conduct its spring registration for players 10-and-under and 8-and-under on Wednesday, Feb. 27 from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Barnes Community Center, 20090 Morningside.

Parents are requested to bring a photo and birth certificate of their child to the registration. Fee is $35.

North cager Dan Kopitzke

ULS volleyball captain Barb Roman (35) goes up for a high one. Senior Simone Early (33) and sophomore Kathy Bianci (29), stand by ready to help.

Liggett spikers win again

The University Liggett School varsity volleyball team beat Bethesda in two close matches on Feb. 13.

Both contests were tight, with Bethesda's persistence forcing ULS to play hard. In the first game Gerri Ocampo served and spiked her way to the Lady Knights' 15-12 win. In the next game Barb Roman was high scorer. Kara VanDellen had four fantastic spikes in the second 15-12 win.

In match No. 2, Gillian Darlow was the high scorer in the first game, a third 15-12 victory for ULS. In the last game of the night, Coach Shelley Owens' team played their best match. Gerri Ocampo scored a team record of 11 successive points served. In this game ULS pulled together for a 15-6 win.

ULS hosted Academy of Sacred Heart (ASH), Feb. 20, after press time. (By Simone Early).

In earlier action, ULS beat Oakland Christian, 2-0 and 2-0. Sophomore Cindy Paul and Kathy Bianchi had plenty of opportunities to set the ball for some excellent offensive plays.

On Feb. 5, the girls hosted Southfield Christian. Despite an intense effort, the Lady Knights lost both matches. Captain Gerri Ocampo had two outstanding contests, serving and spiking well.

ULS lost to North High, Feb. 8. Setters Bianchi and Rebecca Boone made excellent use of spikers Kara VanDellen and Ocampo, but ULS wound up on the losing side. (By Barb Roman)

JV is even

The ULS JV volleyball team lost to Southfield Christian, 15-11, 8-15, 12-15. Freshmen Lesley MacLeod and Beth Birgbauer were the key's to ULS's play, each contributing fine serves.

On Feb. 8, coach Theresa Durand's spikers hosted an experienced North High JV, losing by identical 15-3 scores. ULS's record stood at 4-4 entering action on Feb. 20.

GPW boaters to gather down South

For the third straight year, former members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club who have retired to Florida are sponsoring an afternoon buffet reunion. This year the gathering will be held on Friday, March 15 at 2 p.m. at the residence of Herb and Elsie Gould, 1830 Flame-tree Lane, Venice, Fla. 33595.

Any present or former member of the GPW Boat Club who will be in the area is welcome to attend.

A buffet will be provided with the cost to be pro-rated among those attending. Refreshments will be BYOB with mixes furnished.

A letter giving further details including a map has been sent to the Commodore of the Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club, and also to Past Commodore Don Bentzen.

Further information or reservations, may be made by contacting the Goulds or George and Becky Tuttle at 303 South Pebblebeach Blvd., Sun City Center, Fla., 33570 (Telephone 813-634-3871).

Entry open for doubles

Entry forms for the first Ford National Mixed Doubles Championships, an amateur tennis tournament featuring qualifying play in 33 cities leading to a three-day final round at the prestigious PGA National Resort in Palm Beach, Fla., are now available at the Franklin Racquet Club, the site of the March 15 through 17 local tournament.

The winning teams will receive all-expense paid trip to the tournament championships at the PGA National Resort in Palm Beach Gardens, Wednesday, April 3 through Friday, April 5.

Ten-time Grand

Slam mixed doubles champion Billie Jean King is serving as national director of the tournament, which is open to club level players 21 and over with National Tennis Rating Program scores of 5.0 and less. All entrants will receive a valuable gift bag with additional prizes going to semi-final and runner-up teams.

For further information, contact Dave Holderness of the Franklin Racquet Club at 313/352-8000 or Elkay Sports, the organizers of the Ford National Mixed Doubles Tournament and the Ford Challenge Cup, at 800/828-2260.

New game plan ...

their input on any changes to the survey.

The key to the program at ULS, according to Wood, is the manner in which the questionnaire is distributed. He feels it should be done in small groups from the individual sports teams. That way, the gravity of the topic can be impressed upon the student athletes.

"HOW YOU GIVE a survey like this is important. We want to create a serious atmosphere, so the athletes will take it and fill it out honestly. From there, we'll take the results — and if we feel there is a problem, based on what we hope is an honest response, we'll contact the parents with the general results. Then we'd probably want to set up meetings with the parents to continue with the program," Wood said.

"If we find that we don't have a problem, we'll just continue our normal stance against substance abuse. If we do have a problem, we will take steps to help the students obtain professional help. We'll do what we can to show what harm such abuse can do and why we believe so strongly in not abusing alcohol or drugs."

The NHSACA, which Wood will lead as president in 1986-87, is deeply involved in the project. As is the DEA, which has committed approximately $160,000 to the effort and will fund the program entirely.

Wood sees the DAP program as becoming an integral part of the sports program at ULS. "This is more important than teaching kids the proper way to shoot a puck or serve a tennis ball. This has a direct bearing on the rest of their lives."

Increasing national and local awareness of substance abuse by students and athletes won't be simple. But Wood feels the effort would benefit from the assistance of still another group: parents.

"What bothers me is that even with all the literature and legislation we have on drug abuse and drunk driving, there are still parents who actually provide or allow the use of alcoholic beverages or drugs by teenagers in their homes. As long as we have that kind of consent, it's going to make our problem that much tougher."

"We think that with this DAP program, we've found a way to combat peer pressure ... with peer pressure. Now if we can get parents to help and support, to become more aware of their kids' activities, we can have a tremendous impact."

Sports benefits

The month of March will bring a pair of sports-oriented benefits to the Grosse Pointe area.

On March 9, 60 Campbell-Ewald advertising employees will swim from 9 a.m. until noon with all proceeds targeted for African famine relief. All swimmers will have sponsors who pledge a certain amount of money for every lap their swimmer completes.

All pledges will be turned over to the Catholic Relief Services. Sponsor pledges may be made any business day before the event at Campbell-Ewald headquarters, 574-3400.

Then on Monday, March 18, hockey fans can help the Tri-County Easter Seal Societies by spending an Evening with the Detroit Red Wings at Fairlane Manor.

Further information may be obtained by calling 722-3055.

Luxury and Privacy in harmony with nature. In the development of Bingham Woods Condominiums, we went to great lengths to develop an architecture that would complement the natural beauty of the area. The result? A truly unique environment with cedar siding, rustic brick exteriors and open, spacious living areas in harmony with the surrounding woods, ravines and Franklin River. But for many, the real beauty of Bingham Woods is in the lifestyle it affords - where the quality and comfort of your life can truly reflect the beauty of the environment. We're as committed to that as you are. Priced from $175,900. Take I-94 west to northbound Lodge, exit Telegraph north. Take Telegraph to Thirteen Mile Road. Go east on Thirteen Mile for 500 yards. Bingham Woods is on the south side. For more information call: 645-6240 A Robertson Bros. and Robertson Jamieson Corp. Development

Focus on ice safety

This is the time of year when those who venture out on ice should be thinking about ice safety, says Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Law Enforcement personnel.

Winter freezes and thaws render ice unsafe for any type of traffic, particularly as temperatures rise, in March and April. "In 1983 alone," says Frank Opolka, Chief of DNR's Law Enforcement Division, "12 Michigan residents lost their lives in ice accidents. In 1984, DNR reports show six fatal ice accidents occurred in Michigan."

What constitutes a safe depth of ice is difficult to pinpoint. While three inches of ice on a farm pond may hold a person with little danger, that same three inches on a moving stream or a lake with springs, stumps and currents, could be very dangerous. On the Great Lakes, one step from three foot thick ice may lead to nothing more than skim ice.

The following measures are suggested to reduce the risk of ice accidents:

- Do not drive on ice.
- Test the ice continually with an ice spud or similarly heavy bar or staff, especially for ice skating and ice fishing.

- Stay away from stream mouths and lake inlets and outlets.
- Be suspicious of gray or dark spot in the ice, these may be soft areas. Note: ice deteriorates along shoreline and around pilings and docks first.

Rescue gear should be available. A ladder is a good tool and at least 50 feet of good line, a tree limb or even an article of clothing can save.

If you work on ice, two large spikes carried on the body can be used as a hand hold on the ice when crawling from a hole.

Those who can avoid ice travel should do so, says Opolka, particularly snowmobilers, cross country skiers and snowshoers, who can enjoy these sport on solid ground. In 1982, four snowmobilers traveling on a lake and unfamiliar with the conditions crashed through the ice and drowned.

If travel over ice is unavoidable, as in ice fishing or is work-related, some of the factors that should be weighed are: type of ice, recent weather, a person's own knowledge of conditions and area, and the body of water you are crossing.

What do you do when you go through the ice? Opolka offers these suggestions:

- Turn on your back and kick to work your way out of the hole; your clothes will offer some flotation.
- Get out of the ice in the direction you walked on.
- Do not stand, rather roll away from the hole until you feel you can safely stand.
- Work fast, it takes only a few minutes before the cold water will affect reasoning.
- Your clothes will soon freeze; walk to safety quickly. If you are going to your car, remove your keys before they freeze in your pocket.

What do you do when assisting someone who has fallen through the ice? Stay on solid ground; avoid getting on the ice if possible. If a person must assist from the ice, he should lay flat and spread his weight as much as possible. Rescue gear (ladder; rope, tied around victim, etc.) should be utilized.

A person removed from cold water may appear to be beyond help, but still may be successfully resuscitated. Start cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and transport immediately to a hospital.

G.P. Academy teams in winter action

The girls' volleyball and boys' basketball teams from the Grosse Pointe Academy are well into their winter schedule, with each team earning victories in recent action.

After opening their season with a loss to Ann Arbor Greenhills on Jan. 19, the GPA girls' volleyball team bounced back to beat Detroit Country Day, 16-5, 15-3, 15-10. High scorers for the Academy were Ellen Boomer (six points in the final game) and Lisa Walke (11 points in the second game).

Then on Feb. 8, the girls beat Southfield Christian, 15-6, 3-15, 15-9. The Academy had trailed, 7-0, in that third game but rebounded for the victory. Meghan Brady's defense sparked GPA's comeback.

GPA's boys' basketball team started out with a 25-22 loss to Southfield Christian on Jan. 24. Mike McMechan had 12 points, Brent McMahon, six, and Chris Hurd and Ray Tumacder, two each. A hot Kingsbury team beat GPA, 42-27, on Feb. 4; GPA's Mike Bucciero was high man with 10 points. Tumacder, Hurd, Doug El-liard and the Academy's guards played well.

GPA's B team took an overtime to defeat Kingsbury's B team, 12-10. Anthony DeLuca scored the winning basket. Steve Horn, Peter McDermott and Russell Inman had baskets for GPA; Jeff Horn and Craig Bowman played well on defense.

GPA rebounded on Feb. 5 with a 26-14 victory over ULS, behind the stellar play of Lamar Wilson and Steve Horn. The B team, led by Bowman, Inman and Greg Sanchez, topped ULS, 12-10.

The teams closed out the week with two losses: The A team fell to Greenhills, 34-17, and the B team lost, 45-24. Steve Horn led GPA's A team in scoring and McMahon, Wilson and Sanchez each played a good game. Tumacder scored 14 and Bucciero had 10 for the B team.

Winning week for ULS

The University Liggett Middle School varsity basketball team had a productive week recently, winning three games and losing one. Coach Josh Schmidt's team took second place in the Greenhills School Invitational Tournament, and extended its season record to 10-3.

On Jan. 29, the ULS squad traveled to Allen Park to defeat Inter-City Baptist, 44-26. Daniel Shanle and Anthony Abiragi shared scoring honors with 13 points each, followed by Bill Lucken with six. Lucken also contributed six assists. Dike Ajiri scored five and gathered seven rebounds. Bucky Drewek added five points nine rebounds.

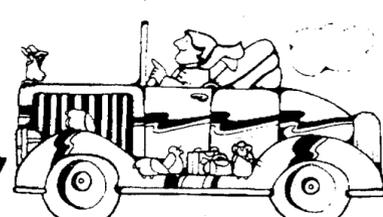

Then on Jan. 31, the Knights hosted Cranbrook, greeting their visitors with a 48-37 drubbing. Abiragi and Ajiri each scored 15 points, followed by Drewek's seven, Lucken's six (and six assists), and good support from Shanle, Brad Bartos, Mike Cogan and Ivan Monclova.

On Feb. 2, the Knights defeated Maumee Valley, 30-13, in the first round of the Greenhills Invitational. Ajiri had an exceptional game, garnering 17 points and gathering 10 rebounds, while Abiragi added eight points. Mike Barnes had a good game at point guard.

In the finals of that tournament, host Greenhills proved too strong for the Knights and cruised to a 43-32 victory. Abiragi scored 13 in the losing effort. Ajiri added 9 points and seven rebounds on his way to selection to the All Tournament team.
