Principal vote goes to board

By Kathy Ryan
 Staff Writer

Moussa Hamka is expected to be named the new principal at Grosse Pointe South High School, pending final approval of his appointment by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education at its June 23 meeting.

Hamka, 33, is currently assistant principal at North Farmington High School.

"I am excited to be considered as a final candidate in the district's process to find the next principal of Grosse Pointe South High School," Hamka said. "I look forward to meeting the South community next week as the process continues. The Grosse Pointe schools have a reputation for excellence and I would be honored to be a part of that tradition."

According to district spokesperson Rebecca Fannon, Hamka was the top candidate in a field of 58 who had applied for the position following the resignation of Matt Outlaw, who is leaving to become superintendent of the Brandon School District.

Hamka graduated from Wayne State University in 2003 with a Bachelor of Science degree in education, and earned a master's degree in educational leadership from Wayne State in 2004. He had been a math teacher at West Bloomfield High School from 2003 to 2010 before serving one year as assistant principal at Canton High School. He has been at the 1,400-student North Farmington High School for three years. Hamka is an adjunct professor in the mathematics

Parking rates take a hike

By Brad Lindberg
 Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE FARMS — Municipal parking rates are going up for the first time in at least 10 years.

Short-term meter rates, which hadn't changed in 20 years, are doubled.

Long-term lot rates — three hours or more — go down. They'd been unchanged for a decade.

Higher rates

Rates for meters on Kercheval and Mack in Grosse Pointe Farms, which cost 25 cents per half hour, become 50 cents for the same time-frame.

Also, one-hour parking at the same meters doubles from 50 cents to $1.

In municipal lots, rates double for the first three hours of parking, yet decline thereafter compared with current pricing.

Rates in lots become 50 cents for up to one hour, $1 up to two hours and $1.50 for three hours.

Rates thereafter are:

- ◆ $3 for four hours,
- ◆ $4 for five hours,
- ◆ $5 for 6 hours and
- ◆ $6 for up to 10 hours.

New lot rates mean parking from four to 10 hours is $1 to $2 less than before.

"Revenue from these sources, especially in the municipal lots, has declined over the past several years," said John Lamerato, Farms controller.

He attributed less parking demand on the Hill to a reduction in businesses that operate mainly during normal daytime hours.

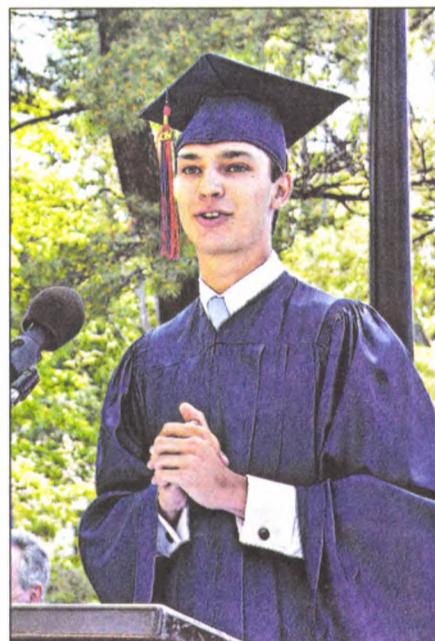

"Occupancy on the Hill (changed) from nine-to-five business-hour establishments to more restaurants and nighttime establishments," Lamerato said.

Longer hours

Hours of operation for meters and lots are extended into evenings.

Councilman pleads guilty to reduced charges

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE SHORES AND WOODS — Lesson learned, says a rookie councilman arrested last year for drunken driving. Eleven months after being arrested beside his wrecked pickup truck at the Ford Estate curve on Lakeshore in Grosse Pointe Shores, Grosse Pointe Woods Councilman Michael Koester, 31, pleaded no contest last week to a reduced charge of visibly impaired driving. Scheduled for jury trial June 11 in Shores

Municipal Court, Koester opted to be sentenced Wednesday, June 4, to one year probation. He paid fines and costs totaling $1,750, according to the court clerk. "While I can't undo this mistake of mine, I have made personal changes to ensure that it is a singular event," Koester said. "I will continue to diligently work on my other positive pursuits to show me, and especially my parents, that this event was an unfortunate outlier." Koester, elected in 2011 to a four-year term on council, is a former corporate automotive financial analyst. He now owns a restaurant in St. Clair Shores. Driving home at about 2:45 a.m. Saturday, July 6, he lost control of his 2004 Ford F-150 in the 1100 block curve of westbound Lakeshore. The truck jumped the inside curb and knocked down a streetlight. Koester registered a .111 percent blood alcohol level. Officers arrested him at the scene for impaired driving. They also cited him for making an improper lane change. "I am very sorry and disappointed with myself to even be in this position to begin with," Koester said. "But, I'm human and I made a mistake. I take full responsibility for it." During a February court hearing, Koester, represented independently by Woods City Attorney Don Berschback, lost motions to dismiss the case. One motion challenged evidence Koester was driving. "I was driving that night," Koester said shortly after last week's plea. "In one of the motions, I believe my attorney included that as a legal maneuver, but I was never a proponent of that strategy. I never had any intention of claiming I was not responsible for the collision." "I'm unable to comment about the relationship with a client, albeit over," Berschback said.

Pipe work continues

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE FARMS — Some water mains being replaced this summer are so clogged with nearly a century of rust that water flows are cut in half.

Other pipes are just old and frail.

"Based upon water main breaks, there's several lines of 1920s vintage that are beyond their life expectancy and need to be replaced," said Shane Reeside, manager of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Bonds payable over 20 years totaling $3,375,000 will fund replacements.

Work involves swapping three miles of iron pipe with non-rusting equivalents made of high-density polyethylene. Almost all work is in the inland sewer district between Ridge and Mack:

- ◆ Fisher, from Chalfonte to Charlevoix;
- ◆ McKinley, from Chalfonte to Mack;
- ◆ Moran, from Chalfonte to Mack;
- ◆ Madison, from Chalfonte to Mack;

- ◆ Touraine, from Charlevoix to Parcels Middle School;
- ◆ Beaupre, from Lothrop to Cloverly and
- ◆ Provençal above Kercheval.

The Kerby Road sewer interceptor, running 50 feet underground between Grosse Pointe Boulevard and Ridge, also is receiving improvements costing $325,000.

"These improvements were identified by the water department as their top priority projects and will address major areas of concerns relating to water main breaks and flows," said John Lamerato, Farms controller.

A mile-long line feeding the private section of Provençal is up to 60 percent choked by rust, according to Scott Homminga, water superintendent.

Water flows from fire hydrants on the block measure 300 to 750 gallons per minute, way below the standard 1,750 gpm to overwhelm fires, he said.

"Water flows were so low, we thought there was a closed valve in the system," Homminga said.

Most of the Farms' 44 miles of water mains were installed between 1920 and 1960, Homminga said.

Pipes last 75 to 100 years, he said.

"Areas where we are placing water mains have reached the end of their lifespan," Homminga said.

A map of water main failures dating back 10 years is a virtual blueprint to this summer's replacements.

Construction this summer resumes city-wide upgrades that were halted a few years ago.

Work shifted at the time to upgrading the Kerby Road sewage pumping station and related infrastructure to combat basement flooding in the inland district during downpours.

"We've not done much water main work over the last few years," Reeside said. "Now it's time. Maintaining infrastructure is an ongoing process."

Water rates are rising in Farms

By Brad Lindberg
Staff Writer

GROSSE POINTE FARMS — Water rates are increasing 9.19 percent effective July 1.

The change boosts the minimum bimonthly water bill by $7.10, or $42.60 annually, based on consuming 700 cubic feet.

"The average residential rate, on an annual basis, will go up about $144 per year," said John Lamerato, Grosse Pointe Farms controller.

Proceeds pay to operate the filtration plant and to replace problematic water mains.

Mains being replaced are in the inland sewer district plus the private section of Provençal. Both areas lead the city in broken pipes and low water pressure due to blockage, particularly Provençal.

"On an annual basis, residents are seeing crews dig up their front lawns repeatedly," said Shane Reeside, city manager. "We want to take care of those areas."

It's an irony of operating a filtration plant that conservation and lower overall water sales often trigger higher unit prices.

"Our rate is based a lot on consumption," Reeside said. "The more consumption, the lower the rates."

"Less consumption, high rates have to go up correspondingly to meet fixed costs."

Frequent rains last year and this spring's moderate temperatures cut estimated water sales to 60 million cubic feet through this fiscal year, ending June 30.

The figure is the lowest in at least 10 years, according to Lamerato.

"Winter was wet and spring is cool," he said. "It snowed in April. May is a washout."

A chart of Farms water consumption records usage at 74.1 mcf in 2003.

Consumption peaked two years later at 83.4 mcf, then headed downward overall, bottoming out at this year's estimate.

A reversal is forecast next year.

"We use a six-year average to estimate about 64 million cubic feet for next year," Lamerato said.

Dreams do come true with hard work

By Joe Warner
Editor

Tracy Halso Gap has energy for everyone. And that energy has paid off with a new dance studio she will open next week with her husband.

Kercheval Dance, in the Village of Grosse Pointe, is a dream come true for the 26-year-old University Liggett School graduate who grew up in the City of Grosse Pointe and resides there now.

Her joy comes from building the studio with her husband Adam, also a professional dancer.

"We met in Disney World at a dance convention in 2006," Tracy said. "She caught my attention and we talked that day. We were both from Michigan and we started to date long distance. Really long distance."

Adam was a performer for a cruise line and many of their conversations were ship to shore.

On his recommendation, Tracy attended Oklahoma City University, known for dance and a school Adam attended. After five years of dating, they married in 2011.

"We were lucky we found each other," Tracy said. "We work really well together and so we started working on our dream."

The dream was a studio. With her family in Grosse Pointe and Adam's in the Grand Rapids area, they scouted Michigan for the best spot.

"We did our homework because this is our dream," Tracy Gap said. "Grosse Pointe is a great place to raise a family. We decided this is the best."

"This is a very supportive community."

In planning the business, Tracy said the unknown has been a little scary, but she's learned plenty about construction along the way.

"I like to plan," she said. "You don't always get to do that when you start a business. The studio part is they easy part.

We've been around studios all of our lives. But construction on the studio has been a quick learning experience."

The experience for those who attended classes at the studio, will come from years of experience and professional dancing.

Tracy has performed at Walt Disney World, Kings Dominion and Dorney Park. She studied and performed with dance companies, including Dance Magazine's Original Dance Company," Giordano Jazz Dance Chicago, Tulsa Baleet, American Spirit Dance Company and Oakland Dance Theater. She has judged for Dance Masters of America and taught all styles of dance in Michigan, Massachusetts and Oklahoma.

"Tracy and I truly believe that maybe we weren't exposed to all that dance could offer us, so it's what we want to help provide here," Adam said.

"This is a great community with families who value the arts and education."

Tracy said dance helped her with focus and structure.

"It's a joy to share dancing with others," Tracy said. "Some of our students will have dance in their lives forever. It's a true mind and body experience."

Tracy is the artistic director and teacher, while Adam is studio director and teacher. Together, they look forward to being involved in the community.

"We will be a part of Grosse Pointe and we can't wait," Tracy said. "We'll have something for everyone from 2 years old through high school, with adult programs too."

And not to worry, Tracy will lead with energy for everyone.

Duke will patrol the streets

By Brad Lindberg

GROSSE POINTE FARMS — Jazz, the new police dog, has a new name.

He's now Duke, something more, you know.

"We think it's a more masculine name," said John Hutchins, deputy director of Grosse Pointe Farms public safety.

Duke, a 14-month-old German shepherd, is named after Duke Ellington in honor of the K-9 program's benefactor, Gretchen Valade, owner of the Dirty Dog Jazz Cafe on the Hill.

Valade is funding the dog and related expenses for five years.

"Duke's awesome," said his handler, Officer Tim Harris. "He came from Germany."

Harris and Duke are in their fourth week of full-time training at the K-9 Academy Training Facility in Taylor.

same training together," Harris said. "It enhances the bond between us. It's eye-opening how fast he learns."

"He's taken quickly to sniffing out narcotics,"

Hutchins said.

Duke cost $12,000, pooled from all of the Grosse Pointes, to which the dog will be made available for duty.

Harris chose him at a kennel in Ohio coordinated by the academy.

"He seemed the most friendly," Harris said. "He came out and wanted to lick people. We took a walk and played and got a bond going. I've been with him almost every day since."

Duke replaces Raleigh, a K-9 that died of cancer last November in his ninth year of service with City of Grosse Pointe public safety.

Harris and the dog have nearly two more months of training.

During the second four weeks, they spend two days per week at the academy and the rest in the Farms.

After that, academy time drops to one day per week.

"Until Duke gets through his initial 12 weeks of training, he won't be utilized as a police dog," Hutchins said. "He'll just be around the shop."

Refresher training at the academy continues monthly for the dog's working life.

Harris is married with two sons, aged 4 and 6.

Their family's pet dog,

a German shepherd-beagle mix, is 14.

"He's enjoying his golden years, lying around and going outside," Harris said.

As a working dog, Duke is on a health food diet.

"Lou's Pet Shop is supplying food at a discount," Harris said.

Department at Henry Ford College. He resides in Dearborn.

The community is invited to meet Hamka on Tuesday, June 17, from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. in the South Student Commons.

According to school superintendent Tom Harwood, there will be forms available at this event for attendees to fill out to provide feedback to the administration regarding Hamka.

Harwood also said that Grosse Pointe staff and community members will be conducting a site visit on Monday, June 16 to the Farmington school district.

"From the feedback forms, site visit, and reference checks, we are still in the process of determining the recommendation for this administrative position," Harwood said in an email sent out late Tuesday afternoon.

According to Fannon, the district's principal selection committee initially narrowed the field of 58 applicants down to eight, and those candidates were interviewed on May 27.

Following those interviews, four candidates were selected to move forward.

Interviews with those candidates were held on Tuesday, June 3, with Hamka receiving the final recommendation.

Outlaw announced his resignation the end of April, effective June 30.

GUEST OPINION

By Joseph G. Lehman

How to tell what a bill actually does

W e might not have the ObamaCare mess if more people judged legislation by what it actually does, instead of what its proponents hope it will accomplish.

Think of verbs to truly understand what a bill does. There are specific verbs that describe the precise action of any bill.

The Mackinac Center for Public Policy's short, plain-English bill descriptions — found on MichiganVotes.org — are built around those verbs. A great many descriptions include words such as "prohibit," "mandate," "impose," "tax," "require," "restrict," "penalize" and "subsidize."

If those verbs sound negative, it's not because we have a bias against the bills. It's because those verbs simply are the things bills do. A good law to protect citizens from killers does so by "prohibiting" murder. A bad law to "create jobs" won't hire anyone, but it may directly "subsidize" film makers.

ObamaCare's official name is the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. There are three main things the 2,000-page law actually does:

- 1) mandates the purchase of health insurance;
- 2) defines what constitutes acceptable insurance coverage and prohibits unacceptable plans; and
- 3) subsidizes some people's purchase of health insurance and imposes an array of new taxes, fees and regulations.

ObamaCare might be even better understood if we pretend for a moment it involves housing instead of insurance, since most people are more familiar with homes than insurance.

"ObamaHome" would:

- 1) mandate universal home ownership;
- 2) define what constitutes an approved home and require demolition of noncompliant homes; and
- 3) subsidize the new homes of certain people and impose new housing bureaucracies, fees, taxes and regulations.

Political opportunists with ties to home builders would note not everyone owns a home even after public policies propelled home ownership to historic heights. They would lump together everyone who does not own a home — renters, those living with relatives or friends, those saving for a home, those who just prefer not to own a home, and the truly homeless — and label them all "the un-housed."

The truly unhoused — those with utterly no roof over their heads and no one to help them — would constitute a tiny minority. Wise observers would liken their number to those very few who need health care but can't even obtain it at emergency rooms for some reason. A problem, but not one big enough to remake the entire health care market, for instance.

The president would pledge: "If you like your home, you can keep it." Bulldozers would later demolish millions of houses in front of their gasping owners.

The fine for not buying a home would be re-named a tax. New homes would include mandatory features, such as wheelchair ramps and electric car plug-ins, people may not want or be able to afford. All housing costs would jump.

Those needing a housing subsidy would be funneled to a faulty government website that would render hundreds of thousands temporarily homeless.

But "housing the unhoused" would sound a lot better than the Mackinac Center's aforementioned bill descriptions — mandate, prohibit, subsidize and impose — even though those verbs would describe exactly what ObamaHome does.

Lehman is president of the Mackinac Center for Public Policy.

Engraves thanks to G.P. Woods' employees

To the Editor:

We have lived in Grosse Pointe Woods for more than 50 years. And we wanted a way to say "thank you" to our outstanding police, fire and city employees of Grosse Pointe Woods, who have supported all of us and our community.

So what we did was purchase two memorial bricks from the city and engraving a thank you to our police, firemen and city employees; honoring them and thanking them for their outstanding service to our community.

We hope by bringing this note of thanks, other people in the community would also come up with other ways to thank our city employees for making this such an enjoyable and safe city to live in.

School's process

To the Editor:

I have been trying to follow the process our Grosse Pointe Public School System Administration and Board of Education are following in the selection of a replacement for Grosse Pointe South High School's revered principal, Dr. Matt Outlaw.

Hopefully, the true answer to why Dr. Outlaw is leaving the district will become public one day. And those involved will be held responsible for this tremendous loss to our entire community.

The school system is now faced with the daunting task of replacing Dr. Outlaw. This selection process cannot be treated as though we are replacing any other administrator, or follow the same path that we will be following in replacing the principal at Kerby, as South is our flagship school.

Its performance and operation bring our entire school system national visibility; South's national reputation serves as a magnet in bringing new families to all of our Grosse Pointe schools.

The selection process of South's new principal to date has been shrouded in secrecy. Search committee members are sworn to secrecy and their names are not available to the residents.

More important, the identities and resumes of the final four — or even final two — candidates are not being revealed to the community. Instead, and unlike the process followed in Dr. Outlaw's selection, the public will never have a chance to meet or comment to the school board on the top candidates, as apparently the school system is only presenting one candidate to the community in a "meet and greet" next week.

I am not writing out of concern for their final choice whoever that may be; this person may very well be the "principal of principals" and dwarf Dr. Outlaw's incredible integrity and true concern for our children. My concern is with a process shrouded in secrecy.

For the 80 percent of us living in the Pointes no longer having children in our schools, this is unsettling at best.

Instead of giving us the feeling of being vested in the future of our schools, we have been put in a position of being totally left out of the process.

This is a huge public relations mistake, and a lesson that should have been learned from the bond vote a few months ago.

AHMED ISMAIL
Grosse Pointe Woods

Done deal

To the Editor:

The search process to replace Grosse Pointe South High School's beloved principal, Dr. Matt Outlaw, seems to be complete.

A June 17 "Meet and Greet the South Principal Candidate" meeting announcement posted on the Grosse Pointe South High School website indicates a done deal.

Likewise, the Grosse Pointe Public School System's website states that a hiring recommendation could go to the Grosse Pointe Public School Board of Education as soon as June 16 or June 23.

In my view, the selection process was rushed and lacked transparency.

Rushing to begin the search process late in the school year, when most potential candidates are already locked into commitments with their respective schools, could not have produced the broadest and deepest talent pool possible.

While the finalist might be well qualified, is he or she the best qualified?

Unfortunately, we don't know the answer to this question because the process has occurred behind closed doors.

First, the Grosse Pointe schools has not released the resumes of any candidates. And, as recently as today, Superintendent Dr. Harwood denied my request for the name and resume of the finalist.

Second, the results of the Grosse Pointe Schools Principal Search Survey have not been shared. So even if we did know the finalists' credentials, we would not know how compatible they are with the wants and needs identified in the survey.

Finally, community members selected by central office staff to serve in the search and interview process were instructed to keep all interviews, discussions and materials confidential. What's the secret here?

Our Grosse Pointe high schools are our community's calling cards and much of the basis for the strong property values we enjoy. So it follows that the selection of Dr. Outlaw's replacement is a critical decision for our entire community.

This decision must not be made in haste behind closed doors.

I urge the school board to appoint an interim South High School principal for the coming year — perhaps current Assistant Principal Terry Flint — so a more thorough search can be conducted in the open for all to see.

GUEST OPINION By Matthew R. Rumora

Jury service attendance

A new law went into effect Feb. 18 regarding jury service attendance.

Prior law allowed the chief judge of the court to serve a person from excusing on the jury when it appeared the interests of the public or the individual juror would be materially injured by his or her attendance. The law also allowed an attendance excused if the health of the juror or a member of their family required their absence from court.

The law also requires the chief judge to postpone the juror's attendance until the end of the school year if the person is a full-time student in high school.

Under the new law, the chief judge, if requested, shall also postpone the prospective juror's service until the end of the school year if the person is a full-time student at a college, university, graduate or professional school, vocational school or any other accredited educational institution, upon receipt of satisfactory proof jury participation will likely interfere with his class schedule.

Prospective jurors must also meet other qualifications.

A person must be a citizen of the United States, 18 years or older and a resident of the county or municipality.

Also, the person must be able to communicate in English and be physically and mentally able to carry out the functions of a juror. And a prospective juror must not have served as a juror during the preceding 12 months, and have not been convicted of a felony.

A person age 70 or older can request to be exempt from jury service, and a nursing mother may claim exemption from jury service if she provides written medical verification.

Rumora is the municipal judge for Grosse Pointe Farms and Grosse Pointe Shores and an attorney in private practice. He can be contacted at (586) 779-7767.

Kercheval Dance coming

Kercheval Dance opens in the Village Saturday, June 21, with a grand opening event.

Snacks and refreshments, presentations and performances and a question and answer session with the owners will be part of the opening.

The new state-of-the-art facility will feature 14-foot ceilings and the highest quality sprung dance floors, used on So You Think You Can Dance and Dancing with the Stars. A stage-size studio as well as the professional sound and lighting systems are part of Kercheval Dance.

Tracy Halso Gap, artistic director, grew up in Grosse Pointe and admires the community's focus on families and a well-rounded education for children. Tracy met her husband and studio director, Adam Gap, at Walt Disney World during a dance intensive.

Tracy Gap graduated with a bachelor's degree in dance from Oklahoma City University. After studying dance at Oklahoma City University and Grand Valley State University, Adam Gap graduated with a bachelor's degree in business administration from Merrimack College in Boston.

The Gaps have numerous professional performance credits world-wide, including Royal Caribbean International, Walt Disney World, Cedar Fair theme parks, Tulsa Ballet and more.

The studio offers classes in all styles of dance for ages 2 to adults.

For more information on the company and the grand opening, visit kerchevaldance.com.

City of Grosse Pointe

Pay up

A 51-year-old Grosse Pointe Farms woman, driving a blue Chevrolet Volt four-door, is in trouble for the way she protested receipt of a parking ticket at 11:04 a.m. Saturday, June 7, in the 17100 block of Kercheval in the Village.

Police logged her actions as assault and battery against a female parking enforcement officer.

"The suspect approached, yelling and waving money in her face," said a patrolman. "(The officer) put her hand up and the suspect's hand touched (her) hand."

There were no injuries. Police traced her through her vanity license plate.

Nicotine fit

For the second time in two weeks, an unknown man shoplifted cigarettes from a store at Mack and Moross.

At 4:49 a.m. Sunday, June 8, the thin, white man, wearing an orange shirt ran away with four packs of Newport 100s worth a combined $32.01.

Public Safety Reports

He crossed Mack through the Pointe Plaza parking lot in Detroit and from there unknown, according to a store cashier.

Ill suited

A Grosse Pointe Park woman accused a 27-year-old male coworker of unlisted residence of vandalizing her car parked during the evening of Wednesday, June 4, near their employer's restaurant in the 16800 block of Kercheval in the Village.

Damage totals $400, she told police.

"(The suspect) has asked her out on several occasions and has become increasingly aggressive because she has always declined his advances," said a public safety officer.

The man told her, "You make me crazy," police said.

She reportedly saw him lingering near her car five hours after his shift, she added.

"(She) was advised to seek a personal protection order against the suspect," said an officer.

Grosse Pointe Farms

Lush life

A 59-year-old Farms woman's .196 percent blood alcohol level helped explain her traffic crash last week, according to police.

The level is 2.45 times the state legal maximum to operate a motor vehicle.

At 10:45 p.m. Thursday, June 5, a public safety officer investigated her regarding a collision in the 400 block of McKinley.

A passing motorist said she backed from a driveway into traffic, hitting the side of the motorist's vehicle.

"(The suspect) stated she was backing out of a driveway on McKinley, just north of her residence, because she had missed her driveway when attempting to drive home," said the officer. "She stated that while she was backing out of the driveway, the other car hit her."

The other vehicle had the right-of-way, said the officer.

"(The Farms woman) should have yielded," he said, arresting her for drunken driving.

Blown chance

At 3:05 a.m. Friday, June 6, an officer cruising Lakeshore checked the welfare of a man sitting on the sidewalk near Carmel Lane.

"(He) started to stand up and stumbled," said the officer.

The man, 19, of Grosse Pointe Shores, had a .216 percent blood alcohol level, police said.

He said he was walking home from a party in the 1000 block of Audubon, Grosse Pointe Park.

"He claimed that a year ago he was given a break for (being a minor in possession of alcohol) and was driven home with a warning," said the officer. Not this time.

Drugged out

A male driver, suspected of being high on drugs, was arrested on eastbound Lakeshore at Moran in the Farms within minutes of causing a wreck in the City of Grosse Pointe, according to police.

Police said the 35-year-old suspect from Detroit drove a 2006 Pontiac Grand Prix with front-end damage.

Although a roadside investigation at 7:05 p.m. Thursday, June 5, cleared him of drunken driving, he failed a series of sobriety tests and was taken to a hospital for his blood to be tested for narcotics.

No license

A 20-year-old man from Detroit attracted a patrolman's attention at 2:11 a.m. Thursday, June 5, by driving a 2005 Saturn Vue erratically through a construction zone on westbound Moross near Hereford. "(I) observed the vehicle swerving in and out of his lane," said the officer. "(He) almost hit a traffic cone. The vehicle's speed was very inconsistent. The driver was hitting his brakes for no reason."

Police arrested him for lacking a driver's license.

11 suspensions

While patrolling eastbound Mack shortly before 6 p.m. Wednesday, June 4, an officer noticed a woman driving a 1995 Jeep Grand Cherokee with driver-side door lock damage common to a stolen vehicle.

"The registered owner was wanted (on an unspecified misdemeanor warrant from 36th District Court) and suspended," the officer said. "Her license expired in 1999. She has 11 current suspensions."

During a traffic stop near Prestwick, the officer cited the driver, a 44-year-old Detroit resident, and impounded the Jeep.

Apothecary

No charges have been filed yet in the case of a 16-year-old girl from Grosse Pointe Park accused of having amphetamine and psychoactive drugs in her locker at Grosse Pointe South High School.

"In a multi-colored bag, a Versace eyeglass case was found containing prescription drugs (two Adderall and one Alprazolam)," according to an officer summoned by an assistant principal to campus shortly before 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 3.

Officers notified the girl's father.

"(He) positively identified the bag as (his) daughter's," said the officer.

Weaving

A 37-year-old Southfield man, driving a green, 1966 Oldsmobile Delta 88 four-door, was pulled over at 11:26 p.m. Friday, June 6, in the 1100 block of northbound Lakeshore for weaving within a lane.

Resulting charges consisted of drunken driving

Suspended

A 20-year-old Detroit man, investigated at 10:42 a.m. Wednesday, June 4, for sitting in a 2003 Mercury Grand Marquis parked on lower Hampton for an extended period of time, was cited for violating a suspended driver's license.

"(He) stated he was waiting for his boss to

A rude awakening

While on routine patrol at 4 a.m. Monday, June 9, a Woods officer noticed a white Ford with parking lights on parked on Littlestone. A check of the license plate showed the car had been stolen out of Detroit the day before. A check of the occupants showed two men sleeping in the car. Upon awakening, one told police he had just been released from the Harper Woods jail where he had been held following an arrest for stealing tires. While searching the car, police located a floor jack, several lug nuts and a cellphone. A LEIN check showed the keys to the car had been taken during a home invasion the day before in Detroit. Both men were arrested and the car impounded.

Suspects detained

Woods police had been advised to be on the lookout for suspects wanted in the robbery of a gas station in St. Clair Shores. Shortly after midnight Monday, June 9, the car was spotted by a Woods patrol officer as it was leaving a drive-thru food restaurant on Harper near Eight Mile. The officer followed the car, and when it stopped on Roslyn to drop off an 18-year-old Rosedale Court resident, the officer with backup apprehended the three other occupants of the car. All were taken into custody.

Chrysler models targeted

It wasn't a good week to own a Chrysler product with a touch screen radio system. Overnight Friday, June 6 and into the early morning hours of Saturday, June 7, at least three in-dash touch screen radios were stolen. Driver-side windows were smashed on a 2009 Town and County minivan parked in the 1000 block of Wayburn and on a 2008 Dodge Caravan parked in the 1100 block of Wayburn. The same night a 2008 Town and Country parked in the 1000 block of Maryland was entered.

There was an attempted theft of a 2005 Town and Country during the late night hours of Sunday, June 8. The ignition on the minivan, which was parked in the 1100 block of Kensington, was punched, but the car would not start. Thieves did make off with a sweatshirt.

UDAA

Sometime between midnight and 6:30 a.m. Friday, June 6 a black Ford Fusion was taken from the 1300 block of Balfour.

Bike thefts

Sometime between 4:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. Tuesday, June 3 a boys bike was taken from the side of a house in the 1100 block of Wayburn.

Sometime between 7 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. Saturday, June 7, a woman's Schwinn blue Schwinn bike with a black basket on the front was taken from a garage in the 1100 block of Lakepointe.

—Kathy Ryan
Information on these or other crimes should be reported to Grosse Pointe Park public safety at (313) 822-7400.

Jury acquits

A Wayne County circuit court jury in May acquitted Grosse Pointe Woods resident Roger Ferworn on two third degree criminal sexual conduct charges, while a third charge of criminal sexual conduct in the third degree was dismissed prior to trial.

Ferworn, 56, was charged in September, 2012 with three counts of criminal sexual conduct in the second degree in Grosse Pointe Woods municipal court and was bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Know Your Skin

By Lisa A. Manz-Dulac, MD

Botulinum toxin A or BOTOX* was introduced over forty years ago for treatment of patients suffering from crossed eyes. It began to be used for cosmetic purposes when it was discovered that it also could be used to relax facial muscles that caused wrinkles around the eyes and on the forehead.

In 2002, official FDA approval of Botulinum toxin A was issued for cosmetic treatment of facial lines. Since then, BOTOX* injections have become the most sought-after cosmetic treatment in clinics nationwide.

Treatment is done by injecting very small quantities of the toxin into the appropriate facial muscles.

After a muscle is injected, the effects are not usually seen for 3 to 5 days. The effects are temporary, usually lasting three to four months before re-treatment is required.

Patients desiring treatments should seek a well-trained physician who has experience in this treatment, as well as being knowledgeable of other cosmetic treatments to ensure they are properly screened as good candidates for the treatment vs. another procedure that may be more suitable. Also, certain patients should not receive treatment, such as pregnant women or patients who have had adverse affects with prior treatment.

To learn more about treatment of facial wrinkles with Botox*, contact your dermatologist, or contact us at Eastside Dermatology, Dr. Lisa Manz-Dulac.

Eastside Dermatology has offices in New Baltimore and Grosse Pointe. You can reach them at (313) 884-3380 or (586) 716-1291.

School's out!

Stash that backpack under the bed. Put the books and papers, tablets and power points out of sight.

"Not so fast," savvy parents say.

They realize brains are muscles and need to be exercised throughout the summer to retain what their children have learned during the past nine months. It is also a good time to introduce new ideas, encourage interests and bolster lagging academics.

"There are many studies that suggest that the average child loses about two month's growth over the summer without some type of enrichment, especially math," said Mary Petersen, a local psychotherapist and mother of a 13-year-old daughter and 15-year-old son.

Mary Beth Garvey, psychotherapist and mother of three, added, "There is a wealth of research that highlights summer learning loss and educators speak often to the concerns associated with it. Research spanning 100 years shows that students typically score lower on standardized tests at the end of summer vacations than they do on the same tests at the beginning of summer vacation."

Before jumping into a high energy, academic-filled summer, Petersen recommends first checking with the Grosse Pointe schools website or your child's teacher for suggestions, then get creative. Puzzles, cooking, painting or taking an enrichment class are just a few ideas she cited.

A toddler would benefit from swimming lessons, not just for the skill but to learn to follow directions, listen and exist in a structured environment.

"(These are) skills that are imperative for academia," Petersen said.

Seven-year-old Sofia Boddy will be taking swimming lessons at the Neighborhood Club and Rania Routisis' two children also are enrolled in swimming lessons.

mother, said she makes sure both her daughter, and son, Marcus, are enrolled in one physical and one creative activity each summer.

"Summer is the opportunity for us to apply everything that they have learned. We try to mix it up during the summer so they don't get bored," Grosse Pointe Woods resident Gabriela Boddy said. She has a variety of tools to encourage learning, including an app to help her daughter work on math skills and telling time and challenges her friend, who has the same app, to beat her score.

Grosse Pointe Park resident Garvey provided a personal example of how she addresses summer learning.

Her middle-school aged daughter must put a lot of effort into math. Last year, Garvey, on the advice of her daughter's teacher, found a high school student to tutor her daughter two or three times a week. The two clicked.

"She (the tutor) didn't make her feel she couldn't do the work," Garvey said. "She had an older student to look up to."

"It's wise to get them extra support because so much of kids' self esteem is tied to how smart or competent they think they are. It's important to give them the message that you are pursuing this because you know they are capable and they can manage the demands."

Without parental encouragement, Garvey's daughter requested the tutor again this summer.

However, Garvey said she believes there should be a time limit set for summer studies, especially for high school students who are frequently taking tests, writing essays and ticking off books from summer reading lists.

"Preserve summertime to disengage and pursue what interests them," she said.

"Keep in mind the child's interests and talents," Petersen said. "What they want to strengthen, as well as what they should strengthen for their best shot at success. Present it to your child as a strengthening tool, not a sentence."

Both Garvey and Boddy have found social interaction helps cement the lesson, Delaney Garvey, left, and Elaina Calisi use their workbooks, Summer Math Skills Sharpener, to help retain the math lessons they learned during the school year.

Marcus Boddy practices the piano because music is known to enhance math skills.

Have a booming good time reading this summer

It's going to be a noisy reading program this year.

The Grosse Pointe Library's summer reading program, Fizz, Boom, Read, kicks off Friday, June 13, for children from the read-to-me stage through 12 years old. Teenagers, 13 through 18, can be a part of the Spark a Reaction program and Literary Elements is the adults summer reading program. Science is the common thread in this year's program. The special events include face painting from noon to 2 p.m. at all branches and a Scierific program with Joel Tacey at 11 a.m. Friday, June 13, at the Ewald branch. During his Scierific comedy show, he will help children discover a secret lab and bring to life eight books. To register, call Kathleen Gallagher at (313) 821-8830, ext. 204.

In addition to being rewarded for hours spent reading, children can participate in any number of activities the library has planned. Throughout the summer, children can participate in craft making, story time, experiments, a summer festival, watch movies, listen to speakers and experience a planetarium.

world of chemistry at Ricard at (313) 343-2072. Chemistry in the animal kingdom is the topic of the 2 p.m. Wednesday, June 18, program at the Ewald branch. To register, call Gallagher at the aforementioned phone number.

The Level Up program is designed for fourth through sixth graders. They read classic and award winning books, coupled with book discussions and field trips. During the first meeting, June 13, participants watch "The New Adventures of Pippi Longstocking." The second book is "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" and a visit to the Morley Candy Factory.

The final event, Aug. 8, is a visit to the Detroit Institute of Arts having read "From the Mixed Up Files of Mrs. Basil E. Frankweiler."

Children can sign up for Level Up at any of the three branches.

This year the library program brings back paper reading logs for children up to 12 years old. The logs are laid out like a game board, and are done in the Fizz, Boom, Read theme. Children and families have two options about how they log their time: online or on paper.

Whether reading three hours of mysteries, non-fiction, adventure or historical fiction, a child earns a prize.

Invest Now or Wait for a Correction

Suzanne Antonelli, CFP®
 Senior Portfolio Manager

Today is a difficult time to make an investment decision. Currently at issue is the extent of the market recovery since the Financial Crisis. The Dow Jones Industrial Average (DJIA) hit its peak on October 9, 2007, closing at 14,164.

On March 5, 2009, it had dropped to 6,594 and lost more than 50% of its value. Although this was not the largest decline in history, the market declined 90% during the Great Depression, it was the most violent taking only 18 months, while the Great Depression took over 3 years to hit bottom. Last Friday, the DJIA closed at 16,924, from the bottom to current levels a gain of over 156%.

In addition to worrying about lofty markets, there is an almost endless litany of international events that may have near-term or long-term effects on market valuations. Unrest in the Middle East, sabre rattling by Russia along its borders, China's efforts to extend its influence into international waters, and turmoil and instability in a number of countries.

The question many investors are asking is whether it is smarter to continue to sit on the sidelines or wait for a correction. If the market does weaken, they believe the key question becomes, "how extensive will the correction be and when is the best time to step in".

Here is the true crux of the problem of trying to time the market; you must make two correct decisions. When to sell and when to buy back in. I know of no one who can accurately time the market on a consistent basis.

So, what do we know? Over the last 15 years the DJIA has yielded a total return (including dividends) of just over 5% per year, approximately 50% below the long-term average since 1901. Markets fluctuate; we live in an uncertain world. The world will continue to grow. People continue to innovate and strive to raise their standard of living.

We must accept that no one, not your neighbor, advisor or a clairvoyant can say with absolute certainty that "now is the perfect time to invest" or "the bubble is getting ready to burst". Getting ready to invest is a long-term process, not a spur of the moment exercise. Work to develop and implement a long-term strategy that meets your requirements and reflects your financial situation.

Fixating on the latest news flash is unlikely to be a useful substitute for a carefully developed, thoughtful approach. If you are feeling apprehensive or uncertain, get a second opinion. All questions or comments are welcome.

AREA ACTIVITIES

BNI

Business Network International meets at 7 a.m. Friday, June 13, at Assumption Cultural Center. For more information call Olga Tecos at (313) 423-0087.

Historical society

The Grosse Pointe Historical Society brings together four events from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 14, at the Provençal-Weir House — Second Saturday, a book signing, jewelry sales and open house.

Historical society member Michael Goodell, a writer of fiction, essays and travel narratives, signs copies of his latest novel, "Rebound." It tells the story of a private investigator who left his native Grosse Pointe for Detroit. Here he lives a life as bankrupt as the city. Grosse Pointe remains a blot on his memory and those memories become dangerous when he investigates the death of a boyhood friend. Despite the danger, he finds renewal, life and love, on the rebound.

Janice Hendrie, also a historical society member, will be selling her one-of-a-kind jewelry created from semi-precious stones.

The third event is the Second Saturday program for children 7 years and older making individual apple pies. Advanced registration is required. There is a fee for this event.

Fourth, experienced docents lead tours of the nearly 200-year-old farm house. They lead the visitor through the history of the Provençal-Weir House, beginning in 1823, and moving through the 1850s, 1900s to the 1960s. Each room has a different story.

For more information or to register, visit info@gphistorical.org or call (313) 884-7010.

NAMI

The National Alliance on Mentally Ill Eastside meets at 7 p.m. Monday, June 16, at Henry Ford Cottage, 159 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Piggly wiggly worth the effort

Jackson Road House is a quaint bar/restaurant nestled in a town called Seafood, a fishing harbor located on the south shore of Long Island, N.Y. The food is incredible. My go-to menu favorite is an appetizer called the piggly wiggly — a sea scallop and a shrimp tucked into through the center of the scallop and shrimp. Place on a bake sheet. Repeat with remaining scallops, shrimp and bacon. Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Bake bundles for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, heat grill to high heat.

Remove skewers from oven and carefully dust bundles with Cajun seasoning. Make bundles as spicy or not so spicy hot as you like.

Place skewers on prepared grill and cook 4 to 5 minutes. Flip over and grill a few more minutes. Serve straight from grill with a drizzle of wasabi ranch dressing and several drops of the sweet chili sauce.

To make wasabi ranch dressing, place wasabi paste in a little dish with warm water.

Stir until paste is completely blended into water leaving no chunks of the paste. Stir mixture into ranch dressing until well combined. Store in refrigerator until ready to serve.

You'll find many ways to enjoy this fancy ranch.

The flavor combination of the seafood, sweet bacon and heat from the dressing will dance in your mouth. Really.

At Jackson Road House, the piggly wiggly's come on a long skewer with three tasty seafood bundles and are served over fried spaghetti, adding yet another dimension to the plate.

A community devastated by hurricane Sandy, Seafood Harbor continues to push forward.

My thanks to Jackson Road House owner Amy Breidenbach for sharing this awesome recipe.

This little piggly wiggly was worth the effort.

Piggly Wiggly (Jackson Roadhouse)

- 12 short grilling skewers
- 12 sea scallops,
- 12 large shrimp, peeled and deveined
- 6 slices thick cut bacon, cut in half
- 2 teaspoons Cajun seasoning (give or take)
- 1 cup ranch dressing (preferably homemade)
- 1 1/2 teaspoons wasabi paste
- 1 tablespoon warm water
- sweet chili sauce for garnish (optional)

Begin by soaking skewers in water to prevent them from burning, about a half hour.

Tuck a piece of scallop into a shrimp then wrap tightly with a bacon (1/2) slice. Secure with a skewer making sure it goes

Notice suicide's warning signs

Q. After a loved one committed suicide, I hear many people report feeling guilty because they did not notice any warning signs prior to the incident. Could there have been signs someone failed to notice?

A. Suicide is difficult to predict, sometimes even with professional mental health training. Many people are depressed or isolated, but despite those traits often being referred to as potential "signs" of suicide, those conditions in and of themselves will not necessarily lead to suicide. In addition, suicidal people also have feelings of pervasive and persistent hopelessness. They believe life won't improve, and they lack the emotional endurance to tolerate what seem like insurmountable obstacles to recovery. Suicidal people also often lack emotional connection and intimacy with others, either because proper support is unavailable, or they can't access support. There is also often a sense of self-loathing, failure, or lack of purpose, as well as the belief that others will somehow be better off without them. Combine these risk factors with thoughts of suicide as a real option, a plan, intent, means, and opportunity, and the result can be disastrous.

Suicidal people often don't tell because they fear (or actually experience) any combination of ridicule, shame, judgment, denial, pity, platitudes, or a minimizing of their concerns. They fear others won't offer understanding, acceptance, or compassion. In the saddest, most dire circumstances, suicidal people don't tell because they're intent on following through with suicide, and others may interrupt their plans. Those who are adamant about taking their own lives will usually succeed, if not after one attempt, then subsequent attempts. And those who've made up their minds to end it all may be misleadingly cheerful in their last days, because they see their suffering as finite.

Other risk factors include impulsivity, mental illness, family history of mental illness, chronic physical illness, substance abuse, or having loved ones who've attempted suicide. Sometimes certain people who are not serious engage in suicidal gestures "for attention," but the obvious concern is that they may succeed accidentally.

Unfortunately, those who would be most able to spot signs of suicidal risk are often not close enough to see it. Those who are closer don't want to believe such a horrific possibility, and often will not see the signs except through hindsight. Keeping a candid, open dialogue between yourself and those you love sets the best stage for them to reach out if they need support.

William Mitchell Shirar

Former Grosse Pointe resident William Mitchell "Skip" Shirar, 62, of Sanibel, Fla., died Monday, June 2, 2014, in Sanibel.

He was born Jan. 22, 1952, in Lakewood Ohio, to Nancy and Paul T. Shirar and graduated in 1970 from Grosse Pointe South High School. He earned undergraduate and graduate degrees from Michigan State University.

Mr. Shirar retired from EDS Corporation after having worked for the company in Detroit, Plano, Texas, Germany and Brazil. He traveled extensively and loved music, boating and mountain biking.

His family said he was a great father, son, brother and friend who will be missed by those who knew and loved him.

Mr. Shirar is survived by his wife, Sabine; daughters, Julia and Linda; sister, Laura O'Conner, and brothers, Paul and Byron.

He was predeceased by his parents.

A memorial service will be held June 28 at Homewood Cemetery in Pittsburgh.

Donations may be made to the American Cancer Society at cancer.org.

George Emerson Brady

George Emerson Brady, 80, of Grosse Pointe Farms, passed away Wednesday, June 4, 2014, at Hospice Hiland Cottage in Petoskey.

He was born Feb. 7, 1934, in Detroit, to George Francis and Germaine (nee Marechal) Brady and graduated from St. Paul Catholic High School in Grosse Pointe Farms. He attended the University of Detroit and Wayne State University.

A U.S. Army veteran, he was a sergeant with the Le Clerc Rifle Team stationed in Germany during the Korean War.

Mr. Brady retired as sales manager from Masland Carpets, Automotive Division in 1995 after 25 years with the company. Prior to his tenure with Masland, he worked for Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

He was an avid boater and fisherman and also enjoyed woodworking and gardening. He loved working on and restoring boats.

His family said he was a devoted family man and caregiver for his wife, Rita.

Mr. Brady is survived by his loving wife of 56 years, Rita M. (nee Fincham) Brady; children, Michael Brady (Cathy), Meghan Pionk (Michael) and Mary Wadsworth (Guy); grandchildren, Mike and Katie Pionk; brother, Jim Brady (Joyce) and many loving in-laws, nieces and nephews.

He was predeceased by his son, Daniel Joseph Brady; parents; sister, Betty Brady and twin brother, John Myler Brady.

A funeral Mass will be celebrated at noon Friday, June 20, at St. Paul on the Lake Catholic Church, 157 Lakeshore, Grosse Pointe Farms. Visitation begins at 11 a.m. at the church.

A burial ceremony will take place at 11 a.m. Saturday, June 21, in the church's columbarium.

Donations may be made to Red Cross of Petoskey at redcross.org/donation; St. Paul on the Lake Catholic Church, 157 Lakeshore, Grosse Pointe Farms, MI 48236; or Hospice Hiland Cottage, One Hiland Drive, Petoskey, MI 49770.

Mary Deborah Lefebvre

Grosse Pointe Farms resident Mary Deborah Lefebvre, 72, passed away peacefully Sunday, April 13, 2014, surrounded by family.

Known as Debbie to friends and family, she was born Sept. 10, 1941, in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, to Jeremiah and Mary Elaine O'Connor. She had a passion for life, people, travel and, most of all, family.

Following graduation from high school, she ventured on a few different career paths until she met and married her lifelong partner, Robert Lefebvre (affectionately Bobby) June 5, 1965, in Windsor, Ontario. The couple had two sons, Jeffrey David and Daniel James.

Mrs. Lefebvre found her calling when she took a position in the offices of United Airlines where she spent more than 30 years. Her position combined three of her favorite things: meeting new people, traveling the world, and helping people resolve their problems. She especially enjoyed the socializing with co-workers and made many lifelong friends, whom she cherished dearly.

Her time spent with United allowed her to travel the world with her husband and sons and share her infectious smile and love for life with people around the globe. She traveled extensively internationally to countries including China, Japan, Australia and Mexico and throughout the United States, especially to her ever-favorite, Las Vegas.

Her family said Mrs. Lefebvre's love for her family was unconditional and evident each and every day. She always saw the silver lining in any situation and was an eternal optimist and a staunch supporter of people seeking happiness. She made friends wherever she found herself and took advantage of all that life had to offer. Her belief that cake should be eaten before dinner made her a favorite of her grandchildren.

Mrs. Lefebvre is survived by her husband, Robert; sons, Jeff (Ty) and Dan (Careena); sister Roxanna (Terry); grandchildren, Connor, Lauren, Luc and Catalina and many in-laws, nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass will be celebrated at 11 a.m. Saturday, June 14, at Assumption Catholic Church, 350 Huron Church Road, Windsor, Ontario, Canada.

Jeanette M. Chaffee

Grosse Pointe Farms resident Jeanette M. Chaffee, 58, passed away Tuesday, May 20, 2014, at her home.

She was born Oct. 2, 1955, in Flint, to Joseph II and Evelyn (nee Buck) Toth and graduated from Pinconning High School in 1973. She earned a Bachelor of Science degree in physical therapy from Wayne State University and worked in the Detroit area at many healthcare facilities as a physical therapist.

Ms. Chaffee enjoyed gardening, camping, traveling on many international trips and raising and enjoying her cats.

Her family said she will be remembered for her love of art and antiques.

Ms. Chaffee is survived by her sister, Jackie Gudkese (Dick); brother, Joseph Toth III; nieces, Jessica Duranczyk (David Draper) and Airelle Toth; nephew, Hunter Toth and by many aunts, uncles and cousins throughout Michigan, Ohio and North Carolina.

A Celebration of Life will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. Sunday, June 29, at Rivertown Funeral Chapel, 209 S. Huron Road, Kawkawlin.

Sara Mary Sullivan Clarke

Sara Mary Sullivan Clarke, 92, died Tuesday, June 3, 2014.

Known as "Sally" to friends and family, she was born Aug. 12, 1921, in New York, one of four children born to Zaida and Fraser Sullivan. She moved to Grosse Pointe as a child and attended Country Day School, Grosse Pointe High School and St. Genevieve Finishing School for Girls in Montreal. As a child, she traveled the world with her grandmother.

She met Edwin Dubel Clarke while both were students at Grosse Pointe High School and married in 1943. The couple had five children, all of whom are four years apart, in keeping with what her family said was her motto of, "No two in diapers or college at the same time."

Mrs. Clarke was a real estate agent for Champion Real Estate for 30 years. She was a life member of Lochmoor Club, loved to play bridge and read books from the Grosse Pointe libraries. She also was a member of Sigma Gamma, Junior League of Detroit and Christ Church Grosse Pointe.

by her children, Pamela, Sally (Nick), Thomas, Jeffrey (Tracy) and Michael (Polly); grandchildren, Rinda, John (Nicole), Patrick (Theresa), Whitney (Andrew), Mallory, Tyler, Casey and Hailey; great-grandchildren, Kaia, Cullen, Chloe, Trenton, Hunter and Harrison; brother, Donald and sister, Nina.

She was predeceased by her husband and her sister, Patsy.

Robert Alvin Kiess

Longtime Grosse Pointe Woods resident Robert Alvin Kiess, 84, died Monday, June 2, 2014. He is survived by his daughter, Rebecca VanWalleghem (Paul) and grandchildren, Sarah and Stephen.

Originally from Williamsport, Pa., he was an athlete and Eagle Scout. His plans to become a professional baseball umpire changed as a result of the Korean War. He enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and was a staff sergeant NCO, special services.

While stationed at Ramey Air Force base in Puerto Rico, his commanding officer directed him to help the base's school teacher set up for an event. He was smitten upon meeting the teacher, Marianne Reed, from Detroit. Upon discharge from the service, Mr. Kiess moved to Detroit and the couple married a year later.

Mr. Kiess studied at Wayne State University. In 1958, he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education and science, followed in 1959 with a master's degree in physical education and administration. He was the camp director at YMCA Camp Ohiyasa in Holly. He also taught at elementary schools in Detroit.

In 1960, he became director of campus activities at the Detroit Institute of Technology. He also served as associate professor of physical education, athletic director and varsity basketball coach. Additionally, he was chairman of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, Michigan District No. 23.

Mr. Kiess was a faithful and devoted member of Calvin Presbyterian Church and later, Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church. He also served as a counselor for the Billy Graham Crusade at Pontiac in 1976.

One of the most important parts of his life, however, was running. From 1967 until he hung up his running shoes many years later, Mr. Kiess ran more than 63 marathons, including his favorites, the Boston Marathon, the Midnight Sun Marathon in Nanisivik, Northwest Territories, Canada, and the Detroit Free Press Marathon. While he shared his love of running with most everyone he met, his favorite running partners were his daughter, Rebecca, and longtime friend, Jerry Coyle.

His family said Mr. Kiess touched the lives of those he met and will be greatly missed.

Ruth Joy Outland

Longtime Grosse Pointe Woods resident Ruth Joy Outland passed away Wednesday, May 21, 2014. A memorial service will be held at noon Tuesday, June 17, 2014, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Mrs. Outland was a retired educator, having worked for The Japhet School in Madison Heights from 1975 to 1996. She was also an active community volunteer, contributing her time and managerial skills to many non-profit organizations including several groups associated with the Grosse Pointe Public School System. She was an active member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Grosse Pointe Farms for 50 years.

She was born June 2, 1929, in Chicago, to Floyd and Mildred Strickland. After graduating from Oak Park High School in 1947, she attended DePauw University in Greencastle, Ind., graduating in 1951 with a bachelor's degree in home economics. While there, she served as president of the Independent Women's Association, business manager of the school paper, a member of the school's publications board, the Council on Religious Life and the Religious Education Club, and was secretary and president of the DePauw Christian Science Organization. In 1951, she was awarded the school's Theta Sigma Outstanding Service Cup.

After college, she worked at Illinois Bell Telephone Co., managing 27 of the company's in-house cafeterias. Also active in a local Christian Science Monitor Youth Forum group in the Oak Park area, she met Robert John Outland there, and they married Oct. 25, 1953.

After leaving her paid employment in 1955, she continued to volunteer for local neighborhood, political, and Christian Science church organizations until the family moved to Washington, D.C. in 1961.

whether it's using a tutor or with a friend using an electronic game.

While there are good electronic learning devices, Petersen, Garvey and Routsis advocate limiting time on them. And Boddy reminded parents to research the app prior to purchase.

Routsis said she has found LeapFrog successful in supplementing academics, as are workbooks and a schedule, pursuing physical activities in the morning and academics in the afternoon. A favorite time of the day in their Grosse Pointe Woods house is the evening story time.

Her 7-year-old son, Christos, is enthralled with the Magic Tree House series, which her 4-year-old daughter, Penelope, enjoys, too.

"We do our story time together so all four can have quality time. We take turns reading," she said.

Grosse Pointe Public Library assistant director Kate DeMeester added, "Our programming can be a great way for parents to introduce new hobbies or interests for their kids. We always have materials for kids who want to learn more about why they just saw. Kids also frequently visit the library to pursue interests they already have and gain a depth of knowledge they didn't before.

"An added benefit of this is that when kids are reading about topics they are highly motivated to pursue, they are practicing their reading and building highly specialized vocabulary skills."

Boddy said her children check out stacks of books.

"Reading is a pleasure," she said. "You don't want to turn something as amazing as reading into a chore. Don't force the aspect with a book list, let them pick as many as they want."

Marina Southers said her two sons look forward to the summer. Travel is one tool their family uses to enhance education, followed by writing about the trip.

The Grosse Pointe Farms family travels both locally and nationally, most recently to Boston.

"We took the train to landmarks to what they were learning and it resonated," she said.

Eastern Market is a local site Southers likes to visit with her sons.

"We looked at the graffiti art in the Eastern Market. (I ask) where do you draw the line of defacing versus edgy art? Is the connotation negative? The Eastern Market is a great adventure. It has great places to eat, but they (also) are experiencing the smell, culture, ethnicity. In their minds they are going for pizza."

Being a fan of the Detroit Institute of Arts, the family takes in classic art, as well.

"You must make it relative to them. Make them find things," Southers said. "Make them think. Contribute by asking, 'Tell me what you see.'"

Encourage students to take a risk, try new things, Garvey said.

Through the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Southers' sons are taking sailing lessons from which they will learn how to read the water and wind, make decisions, stay calm in a dilemma and know how to act and react on the water.

"Whether this is a three season (interest) or a life-time interest, it's a life skill and they will feel more confident on the water," she said.

Both psychotherapists remind parents summer is also a time to go slower.

"Let them be kids with some reasonable responsibility," Petersen said.

"Part of the beauty of summer is just seeing what unfolds and ignites our interest, so there needs to be a balance between learning opportunities and good, old-fashioned down time," Garvey said.

Teens have opportunities to win gift certificates for reading. If they complete 15 hours of reading, students can enter a drawing to win an iPad mini.

Adults can win Barnes & Noble gift certificates and have a chance to win the grand prize of one of three $50 gift certificates to The Hill.

The non-tangible rewards from reading include following interesting characters, experiencing adventure in exotic locales and keeping reading skills sharp for the fall.

South, Liggett win regionals

Blue Devils beat Cubs

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

For the first time since 2005, Grosse Pointe South boys' baseball team can call itself regional champions.

South played the Division 1 regional tournament at nearby Grosse Pointe North and beat Detroit Western International 10-0 in the semifinals and U-D Jesuit 4-2 in the title game.

"The guys played a couple of really good games and it's nice to finally win a regional title which has eluded us the past few years," head coach Dan Griesbaum said.

In the semifinal, Jimmy Menchl earned the win, pitching the first three innings.

He gave up only three hits and one walk and struck out one. Richie Kish tossed the final two innings and gave up only one hit with one strikeout.

The Blue Devils scored single runs in the first and second innings, but put the game away after scoring seven runs in the third inning.

South senior Jimmy Menchl pitched two good games to help the Blue Devils win a Division 1 regional championship.

In the big inning, Jacob Stone had a two-run single and James Fishback hit a two-run triple.

Others with RBIs were Kish, Ron Williams, Justin McMann and Zach Thalgott.

Next was the Cubs. These squads met in the regionals the past few years with the Blue Devils coming out on top in 2012 and losing last spring.

This time, it was Menchl pitching another great game. He went seven innings, giving up only five hits, two earned runs, zero walks and four strikeouts.

"Jimmy has been very good on the mound the past few weeks and he is leading our staff right now," Griesbaum said. "He threw really well against U-D and we scored some runs for him."

Menchl had the Cubs shutout until the final inning.

McMann and Brett Bigham had sacrifice flies to score runs, while Ryan Liagre and Fishback had run scoring singles.

Grosse Pointe South improved to 25-17.

Knights oust Foley

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

Head coach Dan Cimini's heart skipped a couple of beats in the last of the seventh inning in last weekend's Division 3 regional championship game against three-time defending state champ Madison Heights Bishop Foley.

The Knights went into the bottom of the seventh with a comfortable 5-0 lead and 15 minutes later, it was 5-4 and Bishop Foley had all the momentum.

Cimini's heart paced and after a few hits, a walk and mental mistake on a ground ball allowed the four runs to score.

However, the Knights got a break when the runner rounding third base lost his footing trying to stop and Gehrig Anglin applied the quick tag to record the final out.

"Our guys played the best game of the season against the three-time state champ, but getting the final out was tougher than it should have been," Cimini said. "We had total control of the game for 6 2/3 innings, but then it got interesting.

"We held on to win a huge game and end Bishop Foley's run at three titles in a row."

Matt Gushee was in control on the mound, going all seven innings. He gave up the four earned runs, but the mental mistakes made it closer than it should have.

The Knights used Anthony Simon's two hits and two RBIs and Cole Zingas's two hits and two runs scored to win.

"Gushee pitched a strong game and came out from a shutout," Cimini said. "We were definitely the better team and we showed it on the field. It's a big win and now we're one win away from a fourth straight trip to the Final Four."

In the regional semifinals, Liggett blasted Ann Arbor Greenhills 10-2 as Anglin earned the win on the mound, going all seven innings.

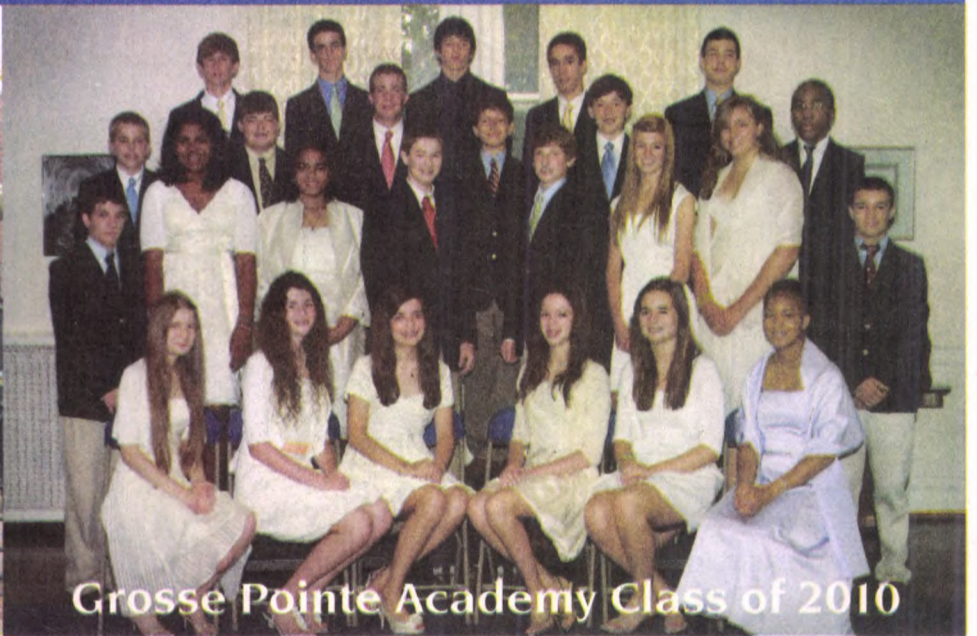

Simon had two hits and three RBIs and Nick Azar had a couple of RBIs as the Knights easily bounced their Michigan Independent Athletic Conference foe.

Liggett is 22-8 overall.

Knights' offense soars to quarters

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

The University Liggett girls' softball team flexed its muscles to crush its way to a second straight regional championship last weekend at Manchester High School. "The girls played very well offensively and defensively," head coach Ted Alpert said. "The girls just crushed the ball and they made every play in the field to help Zarine (Minwalla) on the mound." The Knights played only five innings due to the mercy rule beating Riverview Gabriel Richard 17-5 in the championship game.

Minwalla earned the win, pitching five innings. She gave up 11 hits, four earned runs, one walk and did not strike out a hitter. Her defense made the plays.

Seniors Angelia Evangelista and Emma Nicholas led the way at both ends of the field. Offensively, Evangelista was 2-for-4 with three runs scored and an RBI, plus made two nice catches in centerfield to prevent the Pioneers from scoring.

Nicholas was 3-for-5 with three runs scored and four RBIs, including a long home run. She also was stellar at short-stop.

Sophomore Anna Majewski was 3-for-3 with three runs scored and one RBI, while sophomore Emily Kanakry was 3-for-4 with one run and four RBIs.

Junior Taylor Slayton was 2-for-5 with three runs scored and two RBIs, and junior Kacie Wuthrich was 3-for-3 with two runs and two RBIs.

Wuthrich's sound defense at third base was also a turning point in keeping the Pioneers from scoring more than five runs.

Sophomore Kayla Strong was 2-for-4 with a run scored and RBI, too.

In the first semifinal, Liggett beat Grass Lake 9-2 as Minwalla went seven innings, giving up seven hits, one earned run, zero walks and three strikeouts.

The Knights started the regional tournament off with a bang, scoring five runs in the first and three in the second to grab an 8-0 lead.

Wuthrich was 2-for-3 with two runs scored and one RBI, and Slayton was 2-for-4 with two runs and two RBIs.

Majewski was 2-for-4 with two runs and two RBIs, and hit a first-inning home run which spurred the Knights to the five-run inning.

Kanakry was also 2-for-4 with one run and two RBIs.

During the Knights' five state playoff games, they outscored their opponents 97-8.

Liggett improved to 25-9 overall.

Regional final loss

The Grosse Pointe South girls' soccer team came so close to winning a Division 1 regional championship last week.

However, the offense couldn't get the clutch goal and in the end they couldn't convert in a shootout as the Blue Devils lost 1-0 to Macomb Area Conference Red Division foe Utica Ford in the regional title contest.

Head coach Gene Harkins and his Blue Devils were ready to go in the rubber match. South beat Ford on the road and lost to the Falcons at home.

Both teams knew each other well and there would be no surprises in this game.

It was not surprising the game went to overtime as defense and goal-tending was the name of the game.

In the shootout, Ford goalkeeper Nikki Topping stopped all three of South's attempts. Ford's offense converted its first three to clinch the regional title game.

Grosse Pointe South finished the season 12-6-5 overall.

South senior Kathy Collins, right, scored the game-winning goal in the Blue Devils' 1-0 win over Macomb Dakota in a regional semifinal game.

In the regional semifinals, South edged Macomb Dakota 1-0 on a first-half goal by senior Kathy Collins, assisted by senior Carly Ventimiglia.

It was another successful season for Harkins, but another disappointing finish.

Harkins loses several seniors to graduation; Collins, Ventimiglia, Dee Dee Burns, Emily Rubens, Sydney Calhoun, Ellie Zak, Annika Nixon, Mary Weipert, Franny Weber, Dani Ventimiglia and Cathy Caputo.

THE GROSSE POINTE PUBLIC SCHOOLS SYSTEM

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON BREAKFAST PROGRAM

A provision of the Michigan School Laws requires all K-12 school districts to provide breakfast programs unless the district provided less than 20% of its lunches at free or reduced rates at any of its schools during the prior school year. In that event, the District may opt not to offer a breakfast program, but it is first required to conduct a public hearing which seeks input from parents and pupils on the issue.

The Superintendent of Schools will be recommending that the Grosse Pointe Public School System not provide a breakfast program except at Defer, Mason and Poupard Elementary where the free and reduced lunch exceeds 20%. The reason is that it would be cost prohibitive due to the small number of participants and would require local tax dollars to supplement such a program in the other schools.

Therefore, the required public hearing will be held on Monday, June 23, 2014 at 7:00 p.m., as a part of the regular meeting of the Board of Education. The meeting will be held at the Brownell Multi-Purpose Room, 260 Chalfonte Ave, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan. All parents, students and other interested citizens are welcome to attend.

Knights finish in top 10

By Bob St. John
Sports Editor

It was a good weekend of golf for University Liggett boys' team.

The Knights, under head coach Dan Sullivan, finished in the top 10, taking ninth, in the Division 4 state finals tournament at Bedford Valley in Battle Creek.

White Pigeon won the state title with a 654, followed by Charlevoix with a 663, Lincoln Alcona with a 663, North Muskegon with a 665, Auburn Hills Oakland Christian with a 668, Traverse City St. Francis with a 671, Clarkston Everest Collegiate with a 673, Kalamazoo Hackett with a 673 and Liggett with a 684.

Six other squads, Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart, Pentwater, Fowler, New Lothrop, Gobles and EPBPL finished behind the Knights.

Stephen Campau earned All-State honors by finishing tied for eighth with White Pigeon's Andrew Mann after posting a two-day total of 158.

Campau shot an 82 on day one and followed with a 76 on the second day.

Thomas Peracchio (91-81) and Paul Sidhu (89-83) each shot a 172, while Luke Soyka (93-90) was next with a 183. Jeff Shell (92-95) also competed and shot a 187. All five of the Knights return next season for what could be a top 5 finish.

Grosse Pointe South boys' golf team finished 15th in last weekend's Division 1 state finals tournament at Michigan State University's Forest Akers East.

Swartz Creek won the championship with a 584, which was only one stroke ahead of Novi Detroit Catholic Central. Rockford was a close third, firing a 589.

The rest of the teams in order of finish were Grandville with a 596; and Jon Theros with a Plymouth with a 597;

White Lake Lakeland with a 598; Detroit U-D Jesuit with a 604; Battle Creek Lakeview with a 605; Saline with a 610; Ann Arbor Skyline with a 613; Clarkston with a 618; Macomb Dakota with a 621; Grand Blanc with a 624, Warren DeLaSalle with a 628; and Grosse Pointe South with a 635.

Head coach Rob McIntyre and the Blue Devils were led by Teddy Schooff with a 155, Reis Becker with a 157, David Szymanski with a 160 and Jon Theros with a 165.

All eyes turn toward the cars

A 1957 Ford Fairlane convertible, with its sleek look and plenty of chrome, was one of Ford's most popular models. The vibrant color, the abundance of chrome and long fins are noted as Symbols of American Optimism.

The 26th annual EyesOn Design Automotive Design Exhibition is open 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Father's Day, Sunday, June 16, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House.

EyesOn Design celebrates automotive design, rather than vehicle rarity, restoration or celebrity ownership.

This year's theme is Revolution over Evolution, highlighting changes in auto design.

Cars complementing were chosen for their original design or modified into something new. They influenced the look of the movies and TV shows in which they were seen, playing supporting roles in the cast. They were selected (or created) by movie-makers because they seemed to symbolize the traits of the heroes (or villains) who drove them.

This year's overall EyesOn Design theme is meant to evoke a nostalgic look back at how cars have influenced the popular culture of their day.

The vehicles, some seen on-screen and some exact replicas, include:

A 1928 Indian 101 Scout motorcycle was built with a longer wheelbase and lower seat height, noted for its handling and used by racers and in stunt exhibitions.

Whoville family sedan from "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" (2000). This vehicle looks like it was de-

Vision impaired Nino and Marie Pacini "feel" the look of this 1940 Buick Roadmaster pickup by running their white-gloved hands over the vehicle. The roadmaster was built in Flint and is one of the earliest luxury pickups.

The Pontiac Chief hood ornament and medallions were introduced in 1928 and thought to be used as a symbol of pride.

Bruce Lee.

1977 Pontiac Trans Am from "Smoky & The Bandit" (1977). This special black "T-top" Trans Am was driven by Burt Reynolds in the movie and almost doubled the sales of Trans Ams.

Automotive artist Steven Macy created this year's poster and program cover. His original painting showcases a green 1948 Tucker in front of the gate house garage of the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House. The poster links the innovative car and the Ford House since the Tucker's steering column and the interior door releases were actually from Lincolns, the car item most closely associated with Edsel Ford.

The Tucker in the poster comes from the Ted Stahl collection and is one of 51 cars built by entrepreneur Preston Tucker after World War II. Because of its styling and many innovative features, the Tucker was billed as "the car of tomorrow" when it debuted. The car and John Tucker, grandson of the company's founder, were at the unveiling of the poster in April at the Automotive Hall of Fame.

Tickets cost $20.
