Despite the apparent advantage of Siewert's height, the Pointe lads came away the victors.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TAKES IN 68 MEMBERS

Last Sunday the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, meeting at the Main School celebrated its Charter Member Sunday. At that time 68 persons were accepted into the membership of the church.

The sacrament of adult baptism was administered by the pastor, the Rev. C. W. Scheldt, to Mrs. Edward Yeager, Miss Helen Briggs, and Harold McFelin. After the reception of new members the Lord's Supper was served by the pastor.

In the most thrilling game of the season thus far, the Arrows ended out a 33-31 win over the highly regarded Verheyden team taking a ten point lead mid-way in the fourth quarter. The Underdogs seemed to let down and four rapid baskets, two by Norquist and one each by Van Housen and David put the Arrows within striking distance of a win. Two little moments started locally but the Verheyden boys with just one minute left to play, Toppel and Gots made a fine throw and knotted the count at 31 all.

In the overtime, the little but mighty Verheyden boys came through for the Arrows with two fast shots to clinch the game after Ray Van Wassenhoven had put Verheyden ahead on a foul shot.

Herb Norquist, former Cass Tech cager, led the Arrows with 12 points. Paul De Coker, leader forward of the Underdogs, kept his mates in the game with 10 points on the beautiful long shoot.

The Indiana, under the able assistance of Coach Eddie Lever, former U. of T. captain, defeated an in and out Essex five 21-16.

According to Mr. Peterson, this second annual alumni party was much larger than last year's get-together.

"Also," said Mr. Peterson, "this year we had all the alumni: signs a register and in that way we have a check up on what they are doing now."

"Most of the alumni who returned," added Mr. Peterson, "are now students in various colleges and universities."

About 100 alumni from the classes of 1910 signed the register, while over 50 from the classes of 1920 returned. There was only one representative from the first high school graduating class of 1924 to return.

Besides attending schools, other alumni are now employed as tax clerks, stenographers, insurance salesmen, housewives, artists, paper writers, vocalists, electricians, and members of the U. S. Coast Guard.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS GIVE SKIT AT TEA

The girls of the Vaakya Camp Fire Group were asked to stage a skit on January 7 for the benefit of the sponsors of various groups. It was held in Mrs. Coulton's residence, Grosse Pointe Park.

The regular meeting was held last Friday. The girls will go to see the making of a movie picture at a local studio on January 24, and are looking forward to this event with great anticipation.

Another anticipated project is a swimming party in Jackson Intermittent on January 31.

The girls are preparing to receive their Camp Fire Bangle at the Charter Member Sunday. At that time 68 persons were accepted into the membership of the church.

Barbara Holton Becomes Bride Of A. F. Kammer

Charming Ceremony Unites Couple Here

Decorations in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and Gowns of Bridal Party Highlights of Wedding

There were several unusual features about the wedding ceremony of Barbara Holton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Addison E. Holton, of Bishop road, and A. F. Kammer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kammer, of South Orange, New Jersey.

The ceremony was held in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, which was decorated with a beautiful arrangement of white and pink flowers. The bride wore a gown of white satin, and the bridesmaids wore gowns of light blue. The groom wore a tuxedo of black and white.

The bride's father, Mr. Addison E. Holton, gave her away to the groom, Mr. A. F. Kammer, Jr. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Merrill Otis Bates, pastor of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The wedding party consisted of the bride, the groom, the bridesmaids, the groomsmen, the flower girl, and the ring bearer. The ceremony was a beautiful and charming affair.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Addison E. Holton. The guests were entertained with a delicious meal and a variety of refreshments.

Unitarian Church Head Takes Bride

Rev. Merrill Otis Bates and Barbara Taylor Traub are Married in Traub Home in Bloomfield Hills

The Bloomfield Hills home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Christian Traub was a perfect setting for the ceremony Saturday afternoon at which Barbara Taylor Traub became the bride of the Rev. Merrill Otis Bates, pastor of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian church.

Miss Traub wore for her wedding an ivory satin gown made on princess lines, with a high collar and long sleeves. The bride's hair was styled in a simple and elegant manner.

The wedding party consisted of the bride, the groom, the bridesmaids, the groomsmen, the flower girl, and the ring bearer. The ceremony was a beautiful and charming affair.

What To Believe

Probably no word in the spoken or written language of the moment is more frequently misapplied or generally misunderstood than "propaganda." If any statement is made regarding events with which the listener does not agree or with which he fails to understand the common disposition of the issue is to pass it over airily as "propaganda."

There is a wide divergence in the meaning and spirit of the word as applied to the congregation or society of Cardinals of the Roman church organized in the early seventeenth century to supervise the foreign missionary field and the later institution of the College of the Propaganda for the preparation of young priests for the missionary services, and the bureau which Herr Goebbels heads in Berlin. The function of this melodious outfit is to issue so-called information to the German people and the world at large with complete disregard of truth or falsity.

An unfortunate sequence of this mental habit which has laid hold on the American people is to make more difficult a rational understanding of the epochal events that are in the making week by week on the European continent and throughout the world. One of the main purposes of this German propaganda is to confuse the American mind and incapacitate it for the formation of a true understanding of the causes and effects that are at play in the political and social world of today. Germany, more than any other country fears the cooling of public opinion in this matter in a true and correct pattern precedent to its definite and unclouded stand. Its chief aim is to prevent this very thing and assure, for her own purposes, a condition of disunity and confusion. It is high time that the American people become wise to this situation.

Fortunately, for the better understanding of the world issues as soon as the American people have brushed the cobwebs from their eyes, the German government has itself, with characteristic ingenuousness, presented to the world, ready made, a complete blueprint and pattern of its policies and objectives. It is there where all who may wish to give the devil due it can be said that Herr Hitler has adhered with marked fidelity to his original plan. It has stood frankly before the eyes of the world since he wrote his Mein Kampf 18 years ago and since 1933 it has been in rapid process of realization. Much of it is already fast accomplished. The inexplicable thing in the whole panorama is that there should have been such a large group of so-called intelligent persons in America, and until recently, in England, and who so easily failed, and continue to fail, to see the working out of this plan, like a political comedy, perfect in order and arrangement. It is all so plain as to direct itself of any suspicion of being propaganda in the present acceptance of the word.

When Hitler announced his purpose of making Germany militarily strong to achieve living room, to absorb into the Reich all neighboring peoples of German blood, to break down piecemeal the Versailles treaty, these were simply promises and fulfillment. When he announced himself the protector of the Nordic races, albeit as our President so aptly put it, it was the embrace of death, he proceeded to overrun and conquer the most purely Nordic races in Europe. He assured both Belgium and Holland of their safety and inviolability and then blasted them into submission; he entered into a ten year non-aggression pact with Poland and within a few months annexed Poland, and enslaved the people. With the acquisition of the Sudetenlands of Czechoslovakia he gave his solemn pledge that this terminated German territorial aggrandizement in Europe, and in six months he took over all of Czechoslovakia. This pledge we listeners in America heard from Hitler's own lips over the radio. These are but limited few of the episodes in the recent months of the reign of the Dictator. We can picture the policies and promises, and the quiet, but there is not in his whole career a single mitigating circumstance which indicates that he would not go through with his entire program if in his power to do so.

Here are some of the items on the German agenda yet awaiting achievement:

To make Germany the "master race" of the world and to place a large part of the most purely Nordic races to Germany and all of it under her economic control;

The Monroe Doctrine in a "Place of Yankee Incompetence," with the plain implication that it will be attended to in due time.

The British Empire must be destroyed. Britannia delenda est is the most recent Hitlerian motto.

The "Have nays" claim the right and intention to take from the "Haves" any of their lands or resources they deem desirable for themselves.

To take over the Russian Ukraine, the wheat granary of Europe.

The rights of small states shall not oppose the interests of great states. (vide Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Denmark, Norway, Belgium and Holland), a doctrine first enunciated by Frederick the Great, National Hero of Germany.

Finally, Hitler's most recent statement that there is not room in the world at the moment for both the Democratic scheme of government and the Totalitarian scheme as practiced by Germany. This is a direct undiluted challenge to America.

These are things that have been done, and things that are being done, and the one thing that the German leader himself, "There is not the slightest hope that he will not attempt to achieve the whole program, if he can, and as suits his time and purpose.

Unless Americans have lost their red blood and have degenerated into a race of flabby muscled nitwits, they must recognize now that all men who love freedom have a common cause, and must act accordingly.

Not any of this is remotely associated with the idea of propaganda. These are facts already proven out of contemporary history. In his fidelity of performance to promise Herr Hitler has been one of the most truthful leaders in the world. In his relationships with other peoples one of the most unimpaired characters and deliberate liars in history.

These are things we must believe.

This Week IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Jan. 16—Now that the first week's session of the 77th Congress have passed into history, the last lingering doubt of the terror of legislation and debate has been resolved. Was "dominant" the picture for 1941—and to Britain, our chances of participation, ways and means to finance our industrial effort. All other questions and practical things hinge on how they affect the war effort.

Although Congress held but two meetings, feverish behind-the-scenes activity is taking place. Committees are meeting to draft enabling legislation to carry out President Roosevelt's "Lend-Lease" plan. Other groups are gathering to fight for modification of the proposed Democratic party leaders are desperately striving for a united front with the President, while the Republicans, realizing the impossibility of presenting a united front, are declaring that the old American policy of "policy stop at the water's edge" will hold true for Republican members.

To Watch Spending
On some major laws, the coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans which has united to curtail spending bills in the past, will be revived. Preparing legislation, Representative Woodrum, Democrat of Virginia, is proposing the creation of a joint committee of the Senate and House Ways and Means Appropriations Committees to prevent any non-defense spending expenditures under the guise of defense needs.

This proposal is expected to get early consideration in the Senate, where all revenue proposals must be bi-partisan and is assured of Republican support by Representative Martin Dies, Republican of Texas. The avowed purpose of the committee is to effect an early balancing of the non-defense part of the budget and eventually to pay off the deficit by increasing taxes or cutting down on income as is conceivably possible.

The proposed committee are expected to affect relief and public works construction bills. They will be given Presidential support in regard as doubtful, but it is doubtful that they will meet with White House resistance. The House Committee on Education and Labor Policy, which has been given encouragement to the economy bill by using a state-aided program, is expected to break the back of unemployment legislation in the near future. The Secretary, in his annual report, estimated that $500,000,000 to $600,000,000 would be needed in the next eighteen months.

It is expected that the committee will be needed on construction jobs, "aid in shipyards or in factories engaged in making military products like airplanes and engines, tanks and shells. Some 2,200,000 man-years of labor will be needed primarily to supply the contractors with materials. Labor will be extended back into the mines and forests, and other carriers engaged in carrying goods, and in the collection of scrap in administration offices.

Proposal for Housing
Yet with all the talk of strict construction, a proposal for government construction of low cost housing has been quietly dropped in the House of Congress. The United States Housing Administration, reported that $24,000,000 would be spent on such projects in 1941; this construction program is being cut back.

WALTER WINCHELL Says:

NEW YORK HEARTBEAT

Faces About Town: Virginia Bruce, being beautiful at Fifty-fifth and Fifth. Oughtn't a ticket for obstructing sidewalk traffic like that. . . Ben Bernie, the poor man's Toccata. The very, very poor man's. . . Jimmy Walker, who is doing a musical comedy with Robert Stolz, who composed "Two Hearts in Three-Quarter Time." . . Oscar Levant, the Milton Berle of the intellectualists.

Midtown Vignette: Two months ago a young man and a girl met after reading for roles in "The Corn is Green," and admitted they were discouraged about their chances of making the cast. "Tell you what," she said, by way of brightening up the conversation. "If I get into the show I'll buy you a bottle of champagne, and if you get in you can buy one for me." "Okay," he said. . . The other Saturday night a boy and girl bought two bottles of wine and split the check. . . They were Richard Waring and Thelma Schaefer.

Memos of a Midnighter: George Jean Nathan's new Oriental firstnight friend is Kimi Toy of Club Watkins. Says she intrigues him because she looks so bored. . . Horace Schmullapp, the millionaire producer, is breakfasting over Countess Ilia Willing, a Hungarian pretty. . . There was a flat-tight between former S.A.'s D.A. St. Angelo and the editor of the East Side News. . . Salting Baruch Jr. says it must have been some other Baruch, he was in no Longchamps flight. . . S. Skolsky has worried so much about the war, they are calling him "Bundle of Nerves for Britain." . . Hollywood etiquette, columns Hubbard Reavy, expects you to introduce wedded actresses by their screen names—never as Mrs. . . Too often you'll be speaking not only out of turn—but also out of date.

Broadway Vignette: Garbo's visit to "Panama Hatbox" was eventful. First, a photograph cornered Greta in a perfect spot, while she was standing at attention during the national anthem. Garbo pulled down her skirt to hide her knees. . . When she was about to enter a cab with Gavioli Hauser, an autograph-camera pest snapped her, and Greta seized. She hit the camera, but the girl got on to it. . . Hauser then slapped it to the sidewalk. . . As Garbo started to enter the taxi again, the girl threw the camera at her—hitting Greta right in her humble seat—while the crowd howled.

REPORTER'S PRIVATE PAPERS

Verne Marshall is groaning out loud our state department allegedly high-batted Hitler's peace memo. . . Marshall doesn't mention that Hitler's war is notoriously unpopular even among his own allies. . . At any rate, Marshall took his privacies to the networks and blundered. . . He heaved back at the editorial page of the Herald Tribune so violently that people went right out and bought that edition—to read the shelling Marshall got. . . When Verne has had a few more scraps perhaps he will know that it is pretty amateurish to mention the names an enemy calls you. . . It not only gives those words circulation, but Marshall would be surprised how grateful people are to learn about them.

Glenn Swanson is on her way to being the wealthiest woman in the nation. . . Her new business is financing refugee interests, who arrive here with not much coin, but full of ideas—the one thing the Nazis cannot rob. . . She bankrolls them for a percentage of the earnings. . . Every time she gets a new idea, she gets a new business. . . South America was not a pleasure jaunt, as she told the gazettes, but a business trip to interest mine owners there in her new alloy. . . It is supposed to be much lighter than the stuff now used in planes—and much stronger. Her big backer is an ambassador.

Responding to a recent emergency call of invasion, seven giant American bombers came down at Croydon, near London, after a non-stop transatlantic passage. . . "Are we in time?" was the anxious query. . . "Yes," was the casual answer, "as is just being served."

Funny thing, but "Gone With the Wind," the greatest grosser in the history of movies, was a severe blow to the industry. . . Of the approximately $100,000,000 spent by the film fans yearly, "GWTW" grabbed $32,000,000—which left only a mere $68,000,000 in the pot for other movie-pitchers.

One of the correspondents back from Europe brought this story, which he says was censored when he tried to send it. . . During one of Churchill's appearances in parliament, a member of the opposition got up and demanded that Churchill explain why RAF did not bomb Berlin citizens as well as German military objectives. . . The prime minister replied: "I assure you nothing would give me greater pleasure than to instruct the RAF to bomb the Wilhelmstrasse, but, unfortunately, with me business before pleasure."

Very truly yours,
J. S. BROWN

Grosse Exaggerations

By A. PRYOR

Dear Mr. Edgar:
In my spare time I'm making an art painting of some of the gales that are given here in Grosse Pointe. I'm a woman who lives in an ocean front house, gave a dinner dance complete with out-door dance floor, ballroom and all the usual decorations including a group of floats that came up from the ocean. The moon was submerged by a couple of moon-silvered clouds, and as a given moment, when a button was pressed, by a couple of button presses, the moon was supposed to rise out of the sea and dance pavilion via a hidden cable. It all sounds too little except that the cable or something needed cutting. As the orchestra melted into the strains of "Twinkle the Moon and You," said moon, instead of rising, jerked to its feet to the accompaniment of drums, sirens and whistles from the faculty cable, all the windows of the moon continued to jerk; the orchestra was an overture with a couple of moon-silvered clouds, and as a given moment, when a button was pressed, by a couple of button presses, the moon was supposed to rise out of the sea and dance pavilion via a hidden cable. It all sounds too little except that the cable or something needed cutting. MIMICS HEAD ROYALE SHOW

Coming to the Club Royale directly from the Chicago theater and a month at the Roxy in New York, the Weston Brothers are making their first Detroit appearance. Still in their teens, the boys have a gift of double mimicry which has established them as the most "find" of the current season.

Cocastar on the present show is Violet, singer of sophisticated songs, who last appeared in Detroit in the Fox theatre two years ago. Recently returned from musical comedy engagements on the west coast, McDonald and Ross, young mimic artists, are entertaining Detroit with their tricky routines. Also making her Detroit debut is Anita Lane, versatile dancer who has appeared in night spots in various European capitals.

Thany Demetry and his band continue to supply the music. Roy Taylor is master of ceremonies and Louise Martell supplies the vocals. The George Bernard Danvers offer more of their graceful routines.

PUNCH BOOKS 3 TOP FILMS

This Friday and Saturday the Punch is presenting Dick Powell and Ellen Drew in "Christmas in July," directed by Preston Sturges. Sturges is the latest directorial genius to gain recognition. He has the happy faculty of taking a simple story and with clever dialogue and well-placed satire producing a really memorable picture.

The new romantic and dramatic film of Norma Shearer and Robert Taylor makes its first film appearance in "Escape," pictureization of the Ethel Vance best-seller which plays the Punch this Friday, Monday and Tuesday. Braving these two stars is a "name" cast of almost unprecedented brilliance including Conrad Veidt, Nazimova, Felix Bressart and Albert Basserman.

On Wednesday and Thursday the Punch will present Bing Crosby's latest hit "Rhythm in the Streets," supported by Mary Martin and Basil Rathbone.

Girl Scout Mothers Discuss Camp Plans

The Mothers Club of the Girl Scouts of Grosse Pointe Woods met recently in the home of Mrs. Sam Lewis of Hampton road, to discuss plans for the summer camp. Tea was served, with Mrs. George Gorge and Mrs. Peller assisting.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the home of Mrs. Wayne Bloomfield, at 1031 Anita.

Paired For First Time

Robert Taylor and Norma Shearer play opposite each other in the fine screen work taken from Ethel Vance's best seller, "Escape."

Star Has Seductive Role As Belle Of The Tropics

Marlene Dietrich Has First Starring Film Since "Destiny," Playing Opposite John Wayne in "Seven Sinners"

Marlene Dietrich, in her first starring film since the triumphant "Destiny" which she played in the screen in Universal's "Seven Sinners," now showing at the Cinerama Theatre.

John Wayne, one of Hollywood's foremost young male stars, plays opposite Miss Dietrich in "Seven Sinners" at the head of an imposing cast that includes Albert Dekker, Broderick Crawford, Mitcha Auer, Billy Gilbert, Anna Lee, and Oscar Homolka.

"Seven Sinners" was produced by Joe Pasternak, who likewise was the producer of "Destiny Rides Again" as well as all the Deanna Durbin successes. The veteran Jay Garnett, known as the "Command of the Directors," was the director of this romance of the South Seas and is credited with one of the crowning achievements of his career.

As a lovely cafe singer who goes laughingly from one tropical island to another, leaving romantic trouble in her wake, Miss Dietrich essays the role of a beautiful and naive girl who is seduced by a handsome sailor. The picture with her as a world temptress, also filling an important role is Albert Dekker as a disolute young ship-doctor who is reformed by his love for stars.

Anna Lee, young British star, makes her debut in American films in the role of the blind governor's woman daughter, and the governor is portrayed by Samuel S. Hinds, who scored impressively as the crooked mayor in "Destiny Rides Again."

Sturges Hit Coming

"Christmas in July," with Dick Powell and Ellen Drew Booked By Vogue

"Christmas in July," which opens Friday at the Vogue Theatre, co-starring Dick Powell and Ellen Drew in the second picture to be written and directed by Preston Sturges. His first picture was "The Great McGinty," a political comedy that was hailed with enthusiasm throughout the country as a masterpiece.

His current picture is another equally hilarious farce developed from a simple story of a boy and girl in love trying to get enough money ahead to get married. The hero is added to solving national problems of a short road to fame and fortune. He has never won one, but figured that every one who loses makes his chances so much greater than most.

Some practical jokes and him a wire announcing that he has won the $10,000 prize contest for a nationally known brand of cologne. The picture is the product of the company he collects the check, although the committee judging the entries is still trying to make up its mind about a winner.

Armed with the check he goes on a spending spree buying presents for everyone, even the neighborhood children. The department store is unable to cash so large a check but let him have the merchandise on credit. The coffee company president, finds him late, notices the store and both the president and the hero are in a bit of a jam.

It is impossible to get the presents back, but the coffee executive will spend an extra $50 for the gift. The film is one of the funniest pictures of the year.

Sturges directed the supporting cast, for Dick Powell and Ellen Drew, and the picture is a masterpiece. It includes Raymond W. Barnard, Ernest V. Williams, David M. Stewart, and Cary Franklin Pangborn.

Sturges touches that distinguishes a Sturges picture is, in addition to the naturalness of the situation, the use of the camera to great effect in making the audience feel as if they are there. He will work for several hours with a cat to get just the right scene. He will spend a great deal of time with the camera. Often he will not be satisfied with the making of a scene, he will be at the other end of the set of the picture merely watching the work from various angles.

Starring At Cinderella

Jack Benny and Fred Allen chase madly about the country picking fights and fighting their way out of them in the film "Love Thy Neighbor," now showing in the Cinerama theatre.

Ethel Vance's Best Seller Brings New Team to Screen

"Escape," the Ethel Vance best-seller which had thousands of readers enthralled by its suspense, comes to the screen as one of the most gripping adventure stories of all time, its collective cast, headed by Norma Shearer and Robert Taylor, reaching the peak of their dramatic careers in masterful characterization.

This picture will be seen in both the Punch and Judy and Vogue theatres.

Miss Shearer has never done finer work than as the world-weary Countess von Treck, who finds herself involved in the attempt of a secret service agent to escape a death sentence in a concentration camp. Robert Taylor, as Emory Ritter, Mark Freeling, advances still further from the new status gained as an actor in "Waterloo Bridge."

Freeling, returning to the screen for the first time in fifteen years, as Emory Ritter, re-establishes himself as a name still to conjure with in Hollywood. It is a portrayal which ranks with his previous ability and that she is assured of a new place in the Hollywood sun.

To place one principal above another in this superbly knit drama is hard for there are at least three names which contribute almost equally to the fascinating unfoldment of the plot: Conrad Veidt as the epileptic of epileptic villain, the General, lover of the Countess, Dutch newcomer Philip Dorn as the concentration camp physician, Dr. Ditten, who refuses to let the new ideology of his country blind him to human obligations and sympathy.

Felix Bressart as the stubborn yet loyal family retainer, Fritz. The casting is inspired throughout: Albert and Etha Baserman as the couple who are the Countess's friends; the Countess's maid, Edgar Barrier as the sadistic prison guard; Benita Grenville as Dr. Ditten's assistant, the Countess's finishing school; Blanche Yurka as the brutal hospital nurse who is all super.

Pointe Bar Offers Famous Song Team

The Pointe Bar on East Jefferson announces the return of the famous song team, Cole and Korte, who appear nightly in two shows at the club. Also during the Club's Sunday matinee, Mel Steckley's band supplies the music for dancing every evening, and also for the very popular Sunday afternoon dances.

HEADS SETTLEMENT MEET

Mrs. George Klein, of De la Platte, announced the settlement of the all-day meeting of the members of the Detroit Settlement, which was held yesterday.

Mrs. Helen Hall, head resident of the Henry Street Settlement in New York, who is Mrs. Klein's house guest, was speaker. Mrs. Charles B. Williams, first back to Princeton last week after spending Christmas vacation in Grosse Pointe.

FLY BACK TO CLASSES

Maurice Pate Behm, son of Col. and Mrs. H. W. Behm of Detroit, will return to his school, the University of Wisconsin, after his vacation in Grosse Pointe.

Benny and Allen In Great Battle

Famous Fued of Famed Comedians Caught in Cinerama by Paramount to Make Amusing Movie of Cinderella

Well, here it is at last! The picture you've been waiting for, the battle of the century between those feuding radio comedians, Jack Benny and Fred Allen! Paramount captured them on film in a fun-filled, fast and funny musical farce titled "Love Thy Neighbor," which opened today at the Cinerama Theatre. Between the gags that kept the audience in hysterics there were some jolly jazz, swing and jazz and dances that were beautiful to watch.

And there's Mary Martin, that charming and talented Broadway musical comedy star. She sings the song that she made famous and that made her famous in turn, "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," as only Mary can sing it. It's the finale to a swell picture in which she's accompanied by the cast of the century between those feuding radio comedians, Jack Benny and Fred Allen!
