

Fair Method of Assessing Aim of Group

Appointments Are Made Following Special Meeting Of Taxpayers Last May

was appointed Monday night by Paul H. Deming, village president of Grosse Pointe Farms, to study village valuations for the purpose of producing a recommendation on the method to be employed to place the village assessed values on an equitable basis.

The appointments were made pursuant to a special meeting held May 16, 1941 attended by a group of taxpayers headed by H. J. Roesch of 302 Moran road. At that time Mr. Stoen stated his group was in favor of an understandable assessment plan in lieu of the proposed adoption of the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation system, proposed by Francis A. Beaupre, village assessor.

Mr. Roesch promised the complete cooperation of his group in making the proposed study.

It has been stated by Mr. Beaupre that he believed the previous assessment rolls of the village did not reflect equitable assessments for the distribution of the village tax levy and that all assessments prior to his election were in need of adjustment.

At the request of Mr. Roesch

The announcement of the present committee followed a statement President Deming made May that he would formulate a committee of taxpayers who would approach the matter openly and honestly.

Those on the committee are as follows: Harold G. Barthel, 2; McMillan; William J. Bell, 2; Merriweather; Edwin Grosholz, 404 Cloverly; Wallace H. Jensen, 282 Hillcrest; W. Gordon Johnson, 109 Moran; Walter R. Macdonald, 390 Merriweather; Raymond Moore, 352 Moran; John J. C. Briem, 486 Kercheval; W. V. Penoyar, 319 McKinley; James Purdy, 265 Merriweather; and Gordon D. Skinner, 429 McKinley.

Our Sincere Thanks, Everyone

Last Thursday morning, after crawling exhaustedly into bed a little past 5 o'clock after having spent the night getting the News on the press at the printers, the phones of most of the News staff jangled shortly before 8 a. m. to announce a strike of all Western Union delivery boys.

Perhaps you can imagine what it meant to have 12,000 papers ready for delivery and no one to deliver them. It was a crisis. The News would like to pay tribute and offer humble thanks to those who helped meet this crisis.

The faculties and students of the Senior and Junior High schools stepped into the breach in a manner that warmed the hearts of every member of the News staff. The minute school was dismissed more than 60 boys literally raced to the rescue. Routes had been mapped out for them and within a very short time they were in every section of the Pointes, doing their best to see that a copy of the News was delivered to every home.

Offers of help came from every side as residents learned of the strike and realized the problem the News faced. We will remember those offers and the enthusiastic cooperation of those youngsters for a long time. In spite of our fatigue and the understandable chaos of the situation, we had time to "feel good all over" at such a manifestation of spontaneous friendly helpfulness.

The Ever-Youthful Y.M.C.A.

This week the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States are celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of their movement.

Ninety-seven years is a long time. Not many organizations have weathered successfully the wars, social and industrial changes of the past 97 years. The Y.M.C.A. has succeeded because it has remained youthful since that day nearly a century ago in London when George Williams and a small group of his fellow dry goods clerks saw the need for a non-denominational association for young men.

The record of the Y.M.C.A. is one of change, for no organization with inflexible ideas and purposes can exist in full vigor for 97 years. But while its ideas have changed, its ideals have been unchanged. Its ideal of service to youth has held it to no one creed or system of economics. It has opposed no change save those that would deny to youth the full development of personality. It has championed no cause but that of young men and their right to more abundant lives.

America today has great need of organizations like the Y.M.C.A., rich in the wisdom of years, but packing the punch of youth. We are confident that whatever these trying times may bring, want or plenty, security or uncertainty, the Young Men's Christian Association will meet any challenge to the rights of young men to build lives based on Christian principles.

Grosse--Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

Did your eyes deceive you or did we read in this column, last week, that we had a "dold" and therefore we were unable to transmit our thoughts to paper? What a Grosse exaggeration! The fact is that we found a Grosse exaggeration on the staff of the Grosse Pointe News, so we challenged him to a columnist's duel and incidentally gave him half of our weekly stipend to "car off a column—which he did in good style. Don't you agree? Address all letters to A. Pryor—so we can tear up those we don't like!

Incidentalisms: The best way to break the ice with some glib, in a highball... A girl with too many men on the string will never tie a bow properly... The fellow who sells suspects is the one who covers the high spots... You rarely get his feathers from a wild goose chase... It's easy to get a long stretch out of a rubber check.

One of our new brides in Grosse Pointe set up housekeeping in a modest way and furnished her apartment with things bought at one of the larger, lower priced stores. After she was "settled in," she hired a maid, who after a week turned out to be a gem. One day the maid said to her young mistress, "How nice that your furniture came from Sisson's store. My husband works for them." That night, the bride told her husband what the maid had said, and he asked the maid's name. When his wife told him, he said, "That's just dandy. He happens to be my boss!" Needless to say, it was necessary to can the little gem of a maid.

Reports from the kitchen: Last week two women told us of amusing incidents that have to do with cooks. One woman telephoned a friend of hers and the cook happened to answer the phone. The woman asked in her sweetest tones, "May I open to Mrs. Blank?" The cook who was calling and when the woman gave her name, the cook said, "Well, she's just about to eat now, so you better call her some other time. Goodbye." And she hung up without further ado. The other woman telephoned a friend of hers to accept a dinner invitation which she'd received from the friend a few days previously. She got the cook on the phone and gave her the message, because the woman wasn't in. When she'd finished, the cook said, "I don't think Mrs. Whatnot wants you for dinner." The startled woman uttered as how that was beside the point. Mrs. Whatnot had invited her and would the cook please give her the message. The cook then lowered her voice to an intimate pitch and explained, "You see Madam, Mrs. Whatnot couldn't get all the people she wanted, so we have to postpone the dinner." Into the silence that followed, she added in dulcet tones, "We're awfully sorry."

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

The bond issue for the addition to Mission School has been approved by the voters of the entire School District by majority such as to make it practically unanimous.

This can largely be attributed to the fact that all of the people have been kept well informed of the vital need for this addition.

The Grosse Pointe News with its complete coverage in circulation of the whole district has played a very large part in bringing the facts to the people of Grosse Pointe. For that service, and your cooperative editorials the residents in the Mission School area wish to thank you.

Adding my personal thanks to yours and wishing for your continued success, I am,

Yours sincerely,
Alois A. Ghesquiere, President
Village of Grosse Pointe Woods

Observations at Random—

These days—or nights—you sit with a chap discussing the momentary yawnsome trivia—and the next time you see him he is in Army or Navy uniform and somehow you have the feeling that pleasant, light talk is out of order... I sat playing rummily with a high-ranking Naval officer in from Washington the other night... He was in mud and I whipped the living pocket change out of him... In his formidable uniform, he might have found me a profitable push-over for I am one of those misanthropes who shudder in awe at the sight or threat of authority... Goes back to the time our neighborhood letter-carrier threatened to send me to reform school for emptying a mouse trap's tenant into his mail pouch.

Remember the old gag about the fellow who tried to give away a $5 bill and almost landed in the crazy house? Well, Buddy Fogelson, millionaire Texan oilman and sportsman who helped Herbert Hoover run the Finnish Love—Mary Baker Eddy.

relief, after much trouble, finally managed to buy a ringside seat in the first row for the Louis-Nova fight. Then, on the night of the fight, it suddenly occurred to him that it might be fun playing Haroun-Al-Raschid and give the ticket to someone who never had seen a championship fight. He offered it first to a Negro bootblack.

The boy was overwhelmed—but refused. "Boss," he said, "when they see me comin', they'll sure call the cops and kick me out hold fast. Nawah, I ain't no type to be settin' down there."

Fogelson then tried to donate the ticket to a waiter who thought he was drunk, to a girl waitress who said she had a date with her steady and wouldn't break it, to a hotel clerk who said he'd rather hear the light over the radio because crowds made him nervous—and several others. Finally, he found a sailor who was willing to accept. Even then there was the threat of trouble when a policeman, watching, came over gloowering and demanded to know what was going on. It took plenty of persuasion to convince him everything was on the up and up.

Who that has felt the loss of human peace has not gained stronger desire for spiritual joy? The aspiration after heavenly good comes even before we discover what belongs to wisdom and Herbert Hoover run the Finnish Love—Mary Baker Eddy.

She'll Have Picture on Magazine Cover

Sarah Kanter, Grosse Pointe High School senior, has been notified that her picture, taken in Washington last spring when she attended the National Convention of the Junior Red Cross, will appear on the cover of the November issue of the Junior Red Cross Journal. Sarah's picture also appeared in the May issue of the Journal.

"Sarah was chosen because of her outstanding ability shown in local activities and in leadership at the National Convention last spring," said Miss Jean Bowtell, district chairman of the Junior Red Cross. "We are all very proud of her, and feel she is a fine example of the Junior Red Cross National motto, 'We serve.'"

Three plays later Wilfred Benjame crashed down to the Royal Oak one foot line. The Royal Oak line broke up this dash when they caught Beres behind the line for a seven yard loss.

Few of Royal Oak scored his team's two touchdowns, one in the early minutes of the first period, and the second just three minutes and 10 seconds before the end of the game.

This Saturday the Blue Devils face a rather weak Monroe team on the local field at 2 p. m.

Boy Scouts Spend Weekend In Camp

Sixteen members of Troop 74, Boy Scouts of America, spent last weekend on a camping trip to Waterloo National Park near Chelsea, Mich. Various scouting activities were engaged in under the direction of Scoutmaster Charles B. Lord and Committee-men James Curlo, J. Randolph Kennedy and Robert D. Bice.

Two assistant district commissioners, H. Thompson Stock and Harold O'Neill visited the boys in camp. The troop, which is sponsored by the PTA of the Richard school, was organized with 16 members less than a year ago.

Since then one member has moved out of the Pointe but the troop was brought back to its original strength with the transfer of Harold O'Neill, Jr. from Troop 32. New members will be taken in next month from the boys of the Richard Cub pack who have reached the age of 12 during the summer.

Joan Crawford Setting Style For Movie Stars

JOAN CRAWFORD is setting an original style for stars this season, by presenting a new type on the screen. A type, both physically and psychologically in contrast to anything she has ever done before, and which, incidentally, it took great courage to play. For in "A Woman's Face," opening Friday at the Alger Theater, the actress takes the part of a woman horribly scarred.

To appear in the story, it meant that she must wear a facial makeup which would hide her features, her beauty, instead of accentuating them. To the part she accepted it eagerly, because she believed in Anna Holm.

When the makeup experts tried to "pretty up" the dreadful scar which the character is supposed to display during early episodes in the picture, Miss Crawford scorned their attempts as silly and insisted upon playing the part in all its ugly reality.

That she was right has already been proved by the rave notices she has received in cities where advance showings of the picture have taken place. Many of the New York City reviewers, for example, praised her dauntless spirit, adding that in this film she scaled the heights of her acting career.

Have some reverse English on the traditional case of the comedian who wants to do Hamlet, George Zucco is the man, and he is fulfilling his wish in the Hal Roach mystery-comedy, "Tupper Returns," which comes on Friday to the Alger Theater.

Getting Ready For Close-up

One ounce of pantomime is worth a pound of superfluous dialogue. At least that's the opinion of director Frank Capra, whose current film "Meet John Doe," stars GARY COOPER and BARBARA STANWYCK, coming to Vogue on Friday. Pantomime always plays an important part in Capra productions. Remember the two daffy old sisters in the courtroom scene of "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town"? With virtually no lines to speak, they almost stole the picture. In "Meet John Doe" Capra introduces another wacky character who has no lines at all—yet he is probably one of the standouts of the picture. It's the sign painter, played by Gary Owen, who goes through a long sequence with nary a line to speak. But under Capra's guidance, his pantomime speaks louder—and funnier—than words.

Tops All at Box Office

Today, one of Hollywood's brightest personalities, MICKEY ROONEY, who plays the famous Andy in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Life Begins for Andy Hardy," coming Friday to the Cindarella Theatre, is a two-time winner of the No. 1 spot in the world's box-office attraction poll. When but seven months old, Mickey made his first appearance on the stage. At only fifteen months he sang a song over the footlights. It happened when his mother forgot to close the dressing room door. Mickey toddled right out onto the stage. Sid Gold and Babe LaTou were doing their act and Mickey promptly broke up the number by standing on his head. Romantic Cesar Romero meets up with a beautiful and beautiful Carole Landis in the new 20th Century-Fox comedy, "Dance Hall," which will be the new attraction starting Friday at the Cindarella Theatre.

Star of Monologue Will Appear Here

When Ruth Draper, internationally famous solo actress who is now on a coast-to-coast tour, appears on the stage of the Fisher Theatre to open the Detroit Town Hall season Wednesday, Oct. 15, her costumes will consist of a few assorted shawls, coats and hats. Her "props" will include two kitchen tables, two chairs, two mirrors, two hall trees, and two dressing table lights.

With this limited paraphernalia, Miss Draper has dispensed monologue magic for two decades throughout America's theatres and all over the world. To most people the exciting aspect of Ruth Draper's performance is the completeness of her characterizations. At the final curtain the stage is empty with people as real to the mind's eye as Miss Draper's solitary protean figure constantly visible in the theatre.

In her exclusive Town Hall appearance, the creator of the one-woman theatre will present "Opening a Bazaar," the same sketch which she gave on a New York to London tour last January 29th; "In County Kerry"; "Doctors and Diets"; and "In a Church in Italy."

Carl has returned from the R.K.O. Studios in Hollywood to open his studio here.

Ilka Chase Coming To Cass Town Hall

Ilka Chase, distinguished star of stage, screen and radio, is the speaker for the Second Detroit Town Hall in the Cass Theatre, Friday morning—October 17, at 11 o'clock, giving her delightfully diverting talk, "Let Us Be Gay."

Ilka Chase's charming voice is known to every movie goer and radio listener for she is heard every Saturday noon as hostess on the "Lunchbox on the Wall" radio show for which she writes the script, selects the guests and conducts the program. This summer her Friday night parties from Hollywood over the air, "Fest House Parties" have again displayed her sparkling personality, originality and rare wit.

Detroit Town Hall's office is at the Book-Cadillac Hotel. A fashion show luncheon will be held in the grand ballroom of the Book Cadillac following Miss Chase's lecture.

Human pride is human weakness. Self-knowledge, humility, love are divine qualities.

"Sarah Is So Sensible"

By Marian Eddy Standish

CHAPTER SIX

Sarah was driving with her mother, that daily drive of an hour or two was never omitted on Monday afternoon. Today was the day of the Monday Club.

They drove slowly up Jefferson Avenue. Mrs. Sturgis looked at her mother with a look of rather wistful resignation.

"Dear, dear," she said, "How it all changed. I can hardly believe it. You know, Sarah running down the street."

"Can you, dear?" encouraged her mother.

"She loved to hear about it. She loved to hear about it. She loved to hear about it."

A POINTER IN HOLLYWOOD

PRIVATE JAMES N. MOTT, of Grosse Pointe is spending his leisure time developing a wide acquaintance among Hollywood's movie greats. Jimmie is located at Camp Haan in California and when he is not serving in his regular capacity as secretary to the Camp Chaplain, the Rev. Edward T. Haskins, he is frequently to be found rubbing elbows with the stars.

On a recent visit to the R.K.O. Studios, he met Kay Kyser, Harold Lloyd, Irene Dunne, Dolores Costello, and a host of other personalities who are just names to most of us.

Drugging in on the set where Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen are making "Call Out the Marines," Jimmie got a close-up view of the way pictures are made and had his own taken with these two stars, famous for their war pictures based on the last great fracas.

Between Lowe and McLaglen are Corporal "Joe" Foster, Harry James, and Private Jimmie Mott. Jimmie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mott, of 1403 Three Mile drive.

Royale Keeps Popular Show

Peter Higgins has proven so popular at the Club Royale that he is being held over at the night spot on Eight Mile road near Gratiot.

Maurya and Renee Gunetti, French show girls, also remain, having made another hit here after their successful engagement at the Ritz and Whitehall hotels in Palm Beach.

Marilyn Stuart, the Raleigh Girl, whose picture has graced magazine covers and billboards, sings herself into the hearts of her followers.

Others in this great show include the Tait-Kee-nov dancers, six lovely girls in novel dances; routines; the Kurtis Marionettes, long a favorite number; Jimmy Ray, the soft shoe artist who does whispering numbers; Don McGraw and his orchestra with Pamela Brown; and Dick Worthington as master of ceremonies.

Betty Wright Lovely Bride

Betty Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, of Ann Arbor, was united in marriage in a beautiful ceremony in the Missionary Alliance Church on Ashland avenue, Detroit, on Saturday evening, September 27, to Alvin C. Miller, son of the Rev. and Latimer Brooker officiating. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a classic white silk jersey, green-tinted gown with long full sleeves and a sweetheart neckline, with the skirt extending into a long train. Her finger ring was a diamond set in a white metal band and she carried a bouquet of white roses, lily of the valley, and carnations. The bride's hair was styled in a classic bob. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a bouquet of white roses. The ceremony was held at 8:30 p. m. and was attended by a large number of guests. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom will live at 1595 Ashland avenue.

Mason School To Be Scene Of Big Party

Parent-Teachers Group Sponsoring Halloween Event For Whole Community

Halloween will be celebrated by the members and friends of Mason PTA at a dancing party, Friday evening, October 24, 1941, in the Mason School Gym, Paul Rowe, president, announced this week.

"This is an annual affair," said Rowe, "and provides an opportunity for the community to meet socially and at the same time realize some income to finance the various activities of the Association during the current school year."

Boy Scout, Girl Scout, and Child welfare programs, particularly, are aided through the Mason PTA. Rowe pointed out, in urging neighbors in the Woods and adjoining communities to join in a gala evening of fun.

Parents and teachers alike are working enthusiastically in making plans for the party so professional and business men are invited to donate prizes for the Grand March, and the various games that will be among the features of the evening's entertainment.

MRS. JOHN B. MAAS and her daughter, Mary, of Washington road have left to spend several weeks with Cadet John B. Maas, Jr., at Pensacola, Fla.

MAURICE and HAROLD REHM, sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rehm of Groyton road have returned to school. Maurice is now a senior at Princeton and Harold is a freshman at U. of M.

Cottage Hospital Knows
Another Romantic Moment

In the shortly hours of last Thursday morning an overly tired editor and an equally tired compositor left half of a Page One story lying quietly in the alley as the News "went to bed." With all due apologies to the members of the board of the Cottage hospital, with which the story had to do, the News repeats the story this week ... in full.

By A. PRYOR

The breaking of ground which took place last Friday, September 26, for the new wing to be added to Cottage Hospital was as romantic a moment as it was a significant one.

In 1917, during the last war, at the time when the flu epidemic was rampant in Detroit, Miss Adelaide Mason and Baroness Von Kepler, members of the Board of Directors of the old neighborhood club on Oak street persuaded the board to purchase a little white frame house; turned it into a hospital and since many trained nurses had gone overseas they enlisted the aid of their friends and so was born the first Cottage Hospital. Here they were able to take care of all the school children and maternity cases.

Bought Adjacent House

A few years later, they bought the adjacent house and branched out in order to take care of the increasing number of patients in the Grosse Pointes.

In 1928, the land on which the present hospital now stands was given to them and the present building was subsequently erected by voluntary contributions from the Hospital Board and interested friends. Since then the need for a larger hospital in Grosse Pointe has become increasingly necessary.

In the past two years admittance of patients has increased tremendously with the majority of the patients coming from the Grosse Pointes area. As new wing is now being added to the hospital which will double the size of the X-ray department and will contain twelve beds.

Public To Pay For It
Money for the new addition is being collected by public subscription and no contribution will be too small to give to this worthy and very necessary part of our community. Cottage Hospital is one of the few class A hospitals in metropolitan Detroit, operating without an endowment fund. It is completely modern in every

Speaks Her Vows

Adelaide Houghton Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven T. Mason of Kenilworth avenue spoke her marriage vows to Clyde Nelson Comstock of Pottery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Comstock of Pottery on Saturday afternoon in Christ Church chapel with Madam Willy and white tapers forming the simple decorations for the ceremony. The Rev. Francis B. G. Gummer read the service at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Harold T. Ellery, Jr., was her sister's matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Elizabeth Edith, and Beatrice Hooker of Baltimore and Mary Gage.

Christopher Frederick Curtis of Pottery was best man and seating the guests were Thomas Chalmers Curtis, also of Pottery; Horace Noyes Robert of Marquette; and Edward Kirk Warren of Three Oaks; Harold Thomas Ellery, Jr.; Louis Hankey of Pottery; and Avon Lockhart Newcomb of Birmingham.

way and is equipped to care for all types of cases, except contagion. The expense of caring for the sick has been greatly increased in the last few years by many new technical demands and equipment as well as the increased cost of food, drugs and labor.

It is a sincere desire of the Board of Trustees to continue to serve this community by maintaining a hospital of the highest standard and the new wing which is under construction at present will greatly add to the welfare of the community.
