What Is Outstanding Success As Students Vie for Charity

With all previous records having been exceeded, the Grosse Pointe Public Schools Community Fund drive for the year 1941-42, which is slightly less than for last year, 1940-41, was probably due to the large number of drives, such as the "defense fund" program in which the students have participated liberally.

Employee contributions, including those from the custodians, janitors, cafeteria workers, messengers, principals and others, ranged from $5.00 to $100.00.

Police Departments of the five Grosse Pointe communities cooperated in the drive to collect and donate the toys and clothing to the Toys for Tots campaign.

Blue Devils End Sad Grid Season

Port Huron Downs Pointers by 32-0 Score in Final Game to Put Local Eleven in Fifth Place in League

Grosse Pointe High school closed its 1941 season last Saturday with a 32 to 0 loss at the hands of Port Huron in a scheduled season last year by the Blue Devils, 67 to 0.

The defeat concluded one of the poorest seasons the High School Blue Devils suffered in some time. The Pointers entered only one victory in eight games. During the season the local lads amassed only 10 points against 153 points for the Port Huron team.

The only game in which the Blue Devils scored was in their victory against Wyandotte when they defeated the Dean River team 13 to 6.

In the Port Huron game both teams played to a standstill on a muddy field in the first period. The St. Clair team scored its first touchdown on a successful march, the first coming as a result of a 8-yard touchdown pass.

The third Port Huron touchdown came late in the third period when an intercepted pass put the ball on the Blue Devil 24-yard line. On the next play Tomlin passed to Vignas in the end zone.

The Port Huron team marked its final lead twice in the final period, the last score coming on a 40-yard punt run back.

Grosse Pointe finished in fifth place in the Border Cities League standings. Port Huron gained first place with four victories, no defeats, and one tie game.

Tuesday evening, November 18, promises to be one of interest to the members of the Grosse Pointe Camera Club when it will be addressed by Ray Cooper on the topic of photographic composition.

He has promised to bring along prints of his own making, to illustrate the points under discussion.

At the last meeting of the club, its members and friends were treated to a grand evening by Dr. Faxon, whose subject was "The Art of Photography."

He was illustrated by natural colored slides and motion pictures, taken by the lecturer during his travels through Europe in August 1939, just as the

Stamp Club Started Here

Heinz Hoffman Named Secretary of Group That Will Stick to Philately

A new type of stamp club, without dues and by-laws was started November 8 in Grosse Pointe. A group of 12 collectors met in the home of Heinz Hoffman, agent collector, and decided to take the name of the Grosse Pointe Stamp Club.

Meetings will be held hereafter twice a month, on the first and third Friday.

An effort is going to be made to eliminate from the meetings all discussions of club business as such, and to turn conversation entirely toward stamps, with possible stamp-trading among members.

Hoffman was elected secretary, the only officer that was felt necessary. His sole duty for the time being at least, will be to notify members of meetings. His address is 1435 Hollywood avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich.

Membership in the club will be restricted to residents of the five Grosse Pointe communities.

Mum Show Draws Large Crowds Here

Anniversary Event in Neighborhood Club Attracts Many Flower Lovers as Exhibitors and Audience

The 25th anniversary Chrysanthemum Show, staged this past weekend at the Neighborhood Club, was an event which will long be remembered, not only for the perfection of material displayed, but also for the floral picture of unsurpassed beauty which was given to the visiting public.

In a pleasing ceremony at four o'clock Saturday Stanley Davies, flower show chairman, introduced Mrs. Dexter M. Perry, Jr., who spoke of her society's work through the years and the important part it had played in the community.

This was followed by Tom Pearson who had expressed the cordial thanks of the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society to Mrs. Perry, who was then presented with the two bouquets by little Joan Mary Cartwright.

The attendance throughout the show was exceptionally good and many were the "ums" and "ahs" expressed by visitors on entering the large gymnasium of the Neighborhood Club; the buff toned walls formed such a pleasing setting for the many choice exhibition blooms and arrangements in all the various of this "Queen of Autumn Flowers".

Especially keen was the competition in the garden club section in which members of the Garden Club of Michigan, The Little Garden Club, Junior League Gardeners, Grosse Pointe Branch of the American National Farm and Garden Association and The Detroit Garden Center took part.

Jurors for these were Mrs. David Dunlop, Mrs. Cyrus Kinsman and Miss Clara Shaw.

In class calling for a "Thanksgiving arrangement of Fruit, Vegetables or Plant Material, suitable for centerpiece, the arrangement to stimulate any fest", the well merited blue ribbon went to Mrs. William D. Thompson, Bloomfield Hills, for her "Penguin Group".

Class II, Arrangement of Succulents in Metal Containers:

1st—Mrs. John S. Newberry.

2nd—Mrs. Herman Kuster.

3rd—Mrs. Dexter M. Perry, Jr.

Class III Arrangement of Dried Material:

1st—Mrs. Dexter M. Perry, Jr.

2nd—Mrs. Graham Grady.

3rd—Mrs. Charles Wright, Jr.

Class IV—Chrysanthemums in shades of Brown in Metal Containers and blue ribbons were awarded to:

1st—Mrs. Dexter M. Perry, Jr.

2nd—Mrs. Ernest Briler.

3rd—Mrs. John S. Newberry.

Class V—White Chrysanthemums in White Containers was a popular class with 17 entries.

1st—Mrs. Alfred Grady.

2nd—Mrs. Nell McMillan, Jr.

3rd—Mrs. G. B. Wiernman.

No awards were made in a class calling for Silver Anniversary Arrangements but some pleasing competitions were presented by Mrs. Henry E. Candler, Mrs. Dexter M. Perry, Jr., Mrs. John S. Newberry, Mrs. Raymond H. Berry.

Mrs. James Scripps Booth, Mrs. Joseph G. Standford and Miss Marie Louise Anderson.

A section devoted to arrangements by children of the Grosse Pointe community and under the direction of Miss Pauline Makus, was an interesting feature.

In the general flower show schedule the following classes with gardeners were prize winners:

Mrs. Edgar B. Whitcomb (William Crichon).

Mrs. Truman H. Newberry (Roy Berry).

Mrs. Lawrence D. Dahl (Theodore Kunkeloff).

Mrs. Walter O. Briggs (Stanley Marsh).

Mrs. Charles T. Fisher (Elizabeth Davies).

Mrs. E. A. Turnbull (William P. Thomas).

Mrs. Henry B. Joy (Hugh Westcott).

Mrs. John S. Newberry (Richard Hayward).

Mrs. E. S. Evans (Fred Martin).

Mrs. Carl Brer (Clarence Parsons).

Mrs. J. B. Ford (Charles McDonald).

Mrs. Anne Reinhardt (George Marsh).

Judges were Harry Cartwright, William C. Jones and Ernest Wolf.

As usual the stage setting was occupied by an outstanding display of cut blooms and potted plants by Vincent R. DePetr's nationally known hybridist and included many of his latest chrysanthemum introductions.

Silhouettes

As a nominee for the position of Republican National Committee Woman for Michigan, one of the highest honorary positions, she will be honored at a luncheon today, Thursday, in the Hotel Statler.

She is undoubtedly one of the busiest women in club activities, General chairman of the Detroit Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale last year, she is again contributing her services to make true the phrase, "No Christmas letter or package without its seal."

It is one of her greatest pleasures to meet new people and she candidly admits people are a hobby with her for nothing makes her happier than acquiring new friends. Her sparkling sense of humor makes her dislike having people take themselves too seriously.

A resident of Michigan for the past fifteen years, she organized the Women's Division of the Republican Finance Committee of Michigan in 1938.

To publish a complete list of her club affiliations would almost require an extra stenographer!

Her favorite pastime is weaving rugs. The entire second floor of her home is covered with these colorful results of her labor, and still she finds time to preserve tempting fruits and vegetables.

Her friends call her... Regine.

Her name is... Mrs. Dudley C. Hay.

Congratulations To... Shoot the Works Ball Proves Gay

The Shoot the Works ball is over and there is not the slightest doubt that it was one of the gayest parties ever held.

From the minute everyone arrived in the ballrooms until the final chorus of "Home Sweet Home," everyone had fun. The floor show was superb and the walls coated around much hilarity from the participants and spectators.

Here's hoping that this will not be the last party to be given by the Four Forts committee, as they have so definitely stated.

Boat Club Plans Big Games Party

The Detroit Boat Club will give its annual dinner and games party on Saturday, November 16. The dinner will be served buffet style followed by an evening of games.

Schneck, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Tappan, Mr. and Mrs. James Trudell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Davies, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Vawter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Arbury, Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. F. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. E. Q. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Galen B. Ohmert, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Merker, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Wolden, Mrs. E. J. Beers, Mrs. A. F. Fridrich and her daughter, Dorothy.

Wayne Provides Request Music

Request music is a specialty of Charles Wayne and his orchestra, playing nightly for dinner and supper dancers at the Olive Wayne Club.

On the dias in the Green Room, Charles receives many requests for favorite pieces of the patrons who enjoyed his long entertainment here last season, with "Begin the Beguine" leading all others in popularity. Varying his dance sets with rumba, conga, waltz and mince enjoyment.

For-ty rhythms, Costello weaves and provides smooth tempos for Detroit's dance enthusiasts.

The McGill Tunes, Madeleine and Marguerite, sing and away in front of the orchestra, harmonizing on the hit tunes of the day, while Jack London takes over during interludes and cocktail hour with his piano medleys. Music is broadcasted through the entire club over the new frequency-modulated public address system.

Chief Harvey Girard supervises the kitchen, turning out culinary masterpieces to complete an evening's enjoyment.

Among the many sets built for "Pot O' Gold," the largest was for the country club set, representing the veranda, lawn and arbors of a mythical Eastchester Country Club.

Pointe Players To Do Mystery

"Kind Lady," a mystery drama adapted from a story by Hugh Walpole, has been selected as the fall production of Pointe Players. Grosse Pointe High School dramatic club.

It will be presented on the evenings of November 26, 28, and 29. The play will be a revival of one of the most successful of the past Pointe Players' productions. It was presented six seasons ago with Dorothy Miller in the leading role.

Fourteen characters are in the cast, seven to be played by boys and seven by girls. Some of the parts will be double cast, following the pattern of last year's production, to enable more students to participate.

This unusual mystery, in which no murders are committed and no deaths are to be seen, is full of exciting suspense, and the success of the play depends largely upon the ghostly atmosphere that is created, according to Mr. J. H. Horton, sponsor.

"Kind Lady" was first produced on Broadway in 1936 as a starring vehicle for Grace George, who received the play in a long run last winter. It was made into a highly successful motion picture, and it has also been presented over the radio a number of times.

In commenting on the play, Mr. Horton said: "Kind Lady" is one of my favorite plays. I was fascinated by it when I saw it for the first time. I consider it tops in entertainment. If one likes a play with an abundance of suspense and an unusual plot, its novel plot and situation are refreshing when compared to the usual mystery.

"Kind Lady" will provide variety in our program after "The Town and June Mad," the major productions of last year. Furthermore, it should provide a real challenge for high school actors. I have every reason to believe it can be well cast.

Magician Stars at Club Royale

Speed and rapid-fire chatter mark the work of Gai-Gai, who heads the bill at Club Royale with his magical illusions. An Egyptian, his tricks seem to have the mysticism of the Nile as their base. His tiny disappearing chicks reappear unexpectedly in the pockets of the patrons and his knot untying tricks are real stunts.

Dancers Lydia and Joe have an ethereal quality in their graceful, gliding numbers. Ginger Bernice Marshall has a low, pleasant voice and good arrangements and young Jerry Vane varies her acrobatic numbers with touches of gay humor. The Taft-Kretlow Girls have smart new routines. Bob Hopkins dances, and it's Sister Palmer's music.

Congo Stars Show Unusual Schooling

Regina, "Queen" and Rhythm are the three stars of the Congo Stars. They were the Three T's absorbed by St. Claire and Lefty in their school days. The two special comedians, who head the new bill at Club Congo, provide a complete entertainment bill of fare in themselves. dancing, dancing, prying comedy thrusts and playing several musical instruments.

Tenor Orlando Robinson is held over for still another week, since tunes from the hit parade in a confidential manner, and the Three Businessmen of "Thum also stay, offering their tricky tap routines and acrobatic turn. The Congo Four put on a few raps for first prize in jesterdom, and the Congo Dancers have smart new production routines directed by producer Teddy Blackman who also masters the comedians. Music is by the Club Congo orchestra.

Plan to Make City of Park Year's Biggest Political Issue

Willkie Is Elected In Pointe Voting

Farms Is Scene of Taxation Battle; City Amends Charter On Tenure of Office of Councilmen

By ROBERT E. LUBICK

Probably the greatest single political issue which developed in Grosse Pointe during the first year of the News' publication was the consolidation plan in Grosse Pointe Park; a proposal to change the village form of government to that of a city.

Suggested and announced originally by the Citizens Association of Grosse Pointe Park, the plan met with such great opposition that it was defeated on a special election held by more than a three-to-one margin.

Before the proposal went to the ballot, campaigning by both the Citizens Association and the opposition, The Minute Men of Grosse Pointe Park, provided many heated discussions.

For more than six weeks preceding the voting, the News carried page stories each week with facts and figures from the rival camps.

Volens Appellate

Apparently voters in the Park were little concerned with the important issue of changing the village status, for less than a quarter of the registered voters entered the polling booths.

Late in May Grosse Pointe Farms became the scene of a taxation battle which hinged around the proposal of Amos T. Francis, treasurer to change from the past system of taxation whereby the village assessor makes his own assessments, to that of using the method employed by the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation in assessing real property.

More than 200 citizens attended a mass meeting in the council chambers to protest the proposed plan. In response to the unfavorable reception Mr. Francis's plan received, it was decided no change would be made in the method of assessment for at least a year.

City Charter Amended

Next in importance politically was the amendment to the city charter in Grosse Pointe City which regulated the term of office for councilmen on the basis of the number of ballots cast.

The amendment provided the term of office for councilmen would be determined by the number of votes they received. The three councilmen receiving the highest number of votes were elected for a term of four years while the remaining three elected councilmen would serve in office for two years.

The proposal was accepted by Grosse Pointe City voters by more than a three-to-one margin in a special April ballot.

Other interesting political highlights developed early in April when Commissioner Archie Dammann of Grosse Pointe Park desired a mysterious number of $400 to make his recommendation for the granting of a liquor license.

In a council meeting Commissioner C. A. Pfeiffer disclosed to Commissioner Dammann he had knowledge of the rumor but was unable to get anywhere with his investigation. Commissioner Dammann denied the allegation that he accepted money from the liquor establishment at 1809 Charlevoix.

Council Bled By Him

After further investigation and conferences by the Park committee in executive chambers, President Earl H. Goddard announced that speaking for the entire council was a single member on the body questioned Commissioner Dammann's integrity for an instant.

Late in September Commissioner Henry E. Beyster of the Park resigned his position as commissioner of public works after charges had been revealed in the News that he had been inactive in his office.

Increased defense work in Mr. Beyster's business had caused him to be unable to attend a regular council meeting from June to September.

Early in October in Grosse Pointe Farms all standing committees in the village were dissolved by a unanimously adopted resolution of the council. Department heads gained sole authority and were answerable only to the general board of commissioners.

Primary and general elections throughout the year attracted little attention in any of the Grosse

Pointe municipal or township elections.

Little Change—Councils

There was little change during the year in the ruling bodies of the five communities. Candidates for council offices, municipal jobs, or township offices attracted in most cases only the necessary number of men needed to fill the vacant jobs. Several communities did not even have to hold primary elections to reduce the number of candidates in the general election.

On Oct. 11 in GROSSE POINTE, ONLY Wendell Willkie defeated President Franklin D. Roosevelt, by almost a three to one margin.

Garden Center Finds New Home Ideal Location

The Detroit Garden Center is finding its new home at "The White House," on Belle Isle an ideal place for every kind of activity.

Three exhibits have been given since September 9 and a fourth one opened on Saturday, November 9. This is an exhibit of "Growth." This will continue for two weeks longer if the grounds remain in good condition.

On Sunday, November 9 the Annual Christmas Show opened at the Belle Isle Conservatory displaying a gorgeous array of these fall flowers.

The Center is open every week day from 10 to 4 p. m. and on Sundays through November from 10 to 5 p. m. The director, Mrs. George L. Bouton, welcomes visitors who have garden problems which need to be solved or to answer any questions over the telephone.

New Volume Lauds State

Michigan Glorified in 682 Page Book as American Guide Week Starts

America Guide Week has begun. Persons interested in writing and writers will be pleased to learn that our government, through the efforts of Federal Writers' Projects everywhere, has published 51 splendid guides to its many states and U. S. possessions.

These informative documents perform every service from steering a bewildered tourist to the best camp in North Carolina to describing the grandest vacation spots in Michigan. Each book deals exhaustively with both historical and contemporary aspects of life in its particular state, as well as little known facts that took perceptive researchers many months to bring out.

Michigan is represented by a 682-page volume entitled Michigan—A Guide to the Wolverine State, published by the Grand University Press. Containing more than 200,000 words, Michigan's guidebook took over four years of research, writing, re-writing, editing and proof-reading. It is said that more Michigan history, folklore and present-day information is between the covers of this volume than ever has been printed in one book.

Mrs. William K. (Adelaide) Williams, is now with the Michigan Writers' Program in a supervisory capacity; and in her last of publicizing the guide is receiving hearty encouragement from many of her writing friends. Mrs. Arthur Maxwell Parker, president of the Detroit Women Writers' Club is joined by Mrs. Mableman Plante, Mrs. William Herbert, Mrs. DeWitt Travis and Mrs. Stevens T. Mason, Jr., in observing American Guide Week.

Mrs. Mason has a special interest in the section of the book describing the pioneering days in Michigan; she is a descendant not only of James K. McKim, Michigan's first governor but also of Douglas Houghton, first state geologist, who discovered iron, copper and gold in the Upper Peninsula.

Pointe's Unitarian Church Shows Remarkable Growth

The Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, organized in May, 1920, grew out of the desire of a number of liberal minded persons to have a church that would be free from ancient creeds and dogmas; also to have a church school where children could be taught a religion that would not have to be discarded when they were confronted by scientific facts in their higher education.

They desired for themselves and their children a religion that was soundly integrated with man's growing knowledge and conscience. Unitarianism in Detroit had its beginning in the early 1820's. Among the prominent members of that church were Jeremiah Moor, Silas Bane, Charles Merrill, Samuel Pitts, William Wiley, all "men, more or less prominent in the life of the town."

The most recent ministers were the beloved Reed Stuart, E. H. Shippen, Augustus P. Record, who aided generously in the establishment of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church. The officers elected at the first parish meeting were: Fred H. Whelden, president; John R. Decker, treasurer; Ellis H. Master, clerk. Board members included: James K. Watkins, Mrs. Rosa Williams, Jr., Mrs. Thomas P. Henry, Jr., Charles R. Nevins, Stewart H. Stanton and Emil Ledlich.

In June, 1920 the Reverend Otis Bates, Massachusetts, from Berkeley, California, educated, was called to the pulpit from Jamaica, New Hampshire, where but three weeks before ground had been broken for a new church. Mr. Bates took up his duties in Grosse Pointe in September, 1920.

During the summer the religious education committee headed by Mrs. Dorothy Angvine, present president of the Wellesley Club, planned the church school which opened on the first Sunday after Labor Day in the Grosse Pointe School for Little Folks on Moore Avenue.

Due to the vast increase in enrollment the church school has been moved to the Kirby School, 104 Kirby road, and is now under the direction of Mrs. Angvine as superintendent, and Mrs. A. Boynton Hart, chairman of the religious education committee. Included on the committee among others are: Clifton O. Page, headmaster of the Detroit University School; Charles R. Mussey, principal of three Grosse Pointe schools; and Mrs. Dean Draper, formerly of Merritt Palmer.

The church school enrollment steadily increases, for its standards are high—trained teachers make up its faculty and the material used is the best of the newest material now selected by the registered child educators, Mrs. Sophia Fols of Columbia University.

The Young People's Religious Union now affiliated with the national organization and known as the Pointe's Club, was formed in the late fall of 1920. Philip Leitch was the first president. Miss Katherine East is now holding that office. This organization, more than doubled since its birth, holds its meetings the first and third Sundays of each month, carrying on discussions of religious and social import under the direction of Mrs. Harry Kerr.

The Women's Alliance was formed in the fall of 1940. The president, Mrs. Gilbert Curran, vice president, Mrs. Fred Schumann, with their committees have arranged interesting activities, wide in scope, purposeful in meaning. This organization, like the others, connected with the church, are not confined to members of the church. The meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month in the homes of the members.

The Men's Club, organized in the spring of 1941 with John W. Brown as president, holds its super meeting in the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on the third Thursday of every month at 6:45 P. M. Guest speakers talk on current subjects with open discussion following the address.

Church supports, the first held a brief time ago, was followed by a panel discussion in which seven church members participated. The subject discussed was "Our Church in Our Community." The supper planned for January will be followed by a panel on Unitarianism.

A series of old-fashioned dances, which began on November 5th is sponsored by the Social Committee and will be held in the Detroit Boat Club. The Wars and Music Committee have planned a variety party to be held on the evening of November 14 in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Spalding.

The membership of the church has doubled since its conception and services are held each Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Alper Museum on Lake Shore drive. On Mothers' Day, 1941, a site for a church building was presented to the society by Mr. and Mrs. Stantish Ba-kus. Plans drawn by Ralph Adams Gram of Boston are now reaching the final stage. Plans for construction may be somewhat delayed because of building prices.

There is no such way to attain to greater measure of bliss as for a man to live up to the little grain he has—James Gordon Brooks.

Girl Scout Mother's Club Conducts Annual Election

The Grosse Pointe Woods of Scouts Mothers Club conducted its annual election on Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. A. Marshall, chairman. The officers were elected for the year: Mrs. A. Marshall, chairman; Mrs. V. C. Fellers, secretary; Mrs. V. C. Fellers, treasurer; Mrs. V. C. Fellers, treasurer; Mrs. V. C. Fellers, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held December 2 in the home of V. C. Fellers of Hampton Rd.

High School Chalks Up Amazing List of Activities In Year

Family of 1500 Boys and Girls Leads Full Life

Added to Plant, Defense Work, Increased Curriculum Just a Few of Accomplishments Since News Was Born

By DORIS K. TROTT
Director of Publications
Grosse Pointe High School

In a family of some 1500 young sons and daughters great many things happen every hour of every day; the number of events that take place in a year is so large that it is almost impossible to list them all. Of them all the most significant is the slow but sure growth of young minds and powers. Assisting this growth is the natural chief accomplishment of Grosse Pointe High School in the last year, as it is in any year.

From the beginning of the year, the school has been working to make the most of its resources. The school year is divided into four quarters, each with its own special projects and activities. The first quarter is devoted to the study of the history of the United States, and the second to the study of the history of the world. The third quarter is devoted to the study of the sciences, and the fourth to the study of the arts and letters.

Twenty-five years ago, November 16, 1916, the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society received its charter. Blind

The fact that a substantial percentage of our war material production is now going to Russia has apparently contributed little or nothing to the laying of the strike menace in these same plants. It was a common cry a very short time back that most of these strikes were instigated by Communist or Nazi sympathizers. The Nazis are still properly under suspicion but the red flag brethren have at least a partial out in the continuing retardation of war production, intended in part for the defense of Russia.

The situation also supports in a measure the stout denial of many labor leaders that they were not Communists. The most reasonable deduction, the one which makes most sense under all the circumstances, is that these workers in defense plants who are willing to quit work for the most trivial causes, or for no cause at all, care little about any of the isms which plague Europe, and still less for the safety and defense of America. The depth of their interest in the tragic movements under way throughout the world, is measured by the size of their next pay check or that their particular union may be able to monopolize the jobs in their particular plant.
