Ford Wisdom

Ford Wisdom

The statement by Henry Ford that he favors wage boosts in automobile plants and intends to raise wages in his own plants as coun as the Government will let him lifts hopes for the settlement of some of the most perplexing questions that loom on the immediate poet war horizon.

Mr Fird will probably be best remembered in the in dust al instory of America as the man who thirty years ago set the whole employing world into a dither by more than doubling the minimum wages of his employes. At that moment Mr Ford was about as popular with the big employers of the country as a queck doctor at a convention of the American Medical Assoc ation. But Mr Fords as the was prompted by his hard common sense and keen appreciation of justice and fair plas turned out right. Some slyly said at the time he was increasing the buving power of his employers to broaden the market for his cars but be that as it may his eximple carried far wider implications. He set the pace for the market do not go the state of the market for the great masses of the American people with the consistent carrying out of a belief he has held for many years. Long ago he made the statement that the great is the highest level of wages the must be the has held for many years. Long ago he made the statement that the great set benefactors of their fellow men were those employers who gave work to their employes in gainful occupations at the highest level of wages ther businesses could support No statement ever issued by any American past or present was weighted with a greater understanding of social and natural justice He said the form of his medicine was weighted with a greater understanding of social and natural justice He sought most of own home a piece of land and acar.

It is quited probable that Mr Ford when he made his trial justice. His latest word on the wage query and should make enough money to own a home a piece of land and a car.

It is quite probable that Mr. Ford when he made his "wage statement the other day also had in mind certain vage statement the other day also had in mind certain question of the statement of the control of the statement of the statement

War Criminals' Trials

Without questioning the truth of the numerous stories that are flooding the country at this time was the press and air regarding German atrocties it is peculiarly significant that they appear at this moment when all signs indicate the fast approaching collapse of Germany.

With the rijud control which both these bearing and the war either near or remote it seems unlikely that this flood of horror rectal could have just happened. It may be that both President Roosevelt and Mr. Church Il wish a stiffening of popular support for the carrying through of an unpleasant task which they wished upon themselves when they proclaimed more than two years ago that those individuals in Germany who were guilty of of the held to a strict personal accountability.

This theory appears the more blieby in a news dispatch from London recting the disfingulates being encountered by the War Crimes Commission in collecting evidence which from London recting the sdifficulties being encountered by the War Crimes commission in collecting evidence which would be admitted in an international court of justice.

There is almost a sadistic suggestion in the scarce concaled hope that such a tral body may be largely rolleved estitionary of those countries which have been the sufferers of the enemy's barbarity

It appears to be a buttle to see which side can get its buildings up first. Picture by Fred Runnells
