A COMMUNIQUE from the Big Three was issued simultaneously last night at 10 o'clock from Moscow, London and Washington, summarizing the results of the conference in Moscow between the American Secretary of State Byrnes, British Foreign Minister Bevan and Russian Foreign Minister Molotov. . . the announcement marks the termination of a deadlock that has existed in the relations of the three countries for three months. They agree: on the necessity for a unified, democratic and independent government in China under the National Government now headed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek; the establishment of a provisional government in Korea, with the promise of complete independence of that country in five years, and the broadening of the governments of Romania and Bulgaria and plans for concluding peace treaties with them, along with Italy, Hungary and Finland. . . most important of all Russia accedes to the Anglo-American viewpoint for the control of atomic energy by the United Nations, the latter appearing to have been the result of a deal whereby a four-power control will be set up over Japan, composed of the United States, Britain, Russia and China, in which MacArthur will still play a dominant role as the American representative, the council chairman and the "sole executive authority" for the Allied Powers in Japan.

A THAW, aided by salt applications on the principal thoroughfares, has melted the ice but all minor thoroughfares and cross streets remain dangerous for traffic. . . garages cluttered with cars with damaged bodies.

ROBERT F. SMITH, confessed murderer of Roy Gordon Beh of Grosse Pointe Farms, and his partner in kidnapping, have been indicted in Federal Court in Chicago where the Federal authorities say they will try them first on the kidnapping charge. . . Smith has been charged with murder by the Ottawa, Michigan, authorities. . . the extreme penalty under Michigan law would be life imprisonment whereas the Federal law could impose the death penalty.

THE BIGGEST DAM in the world is to be built in China. . . plans now in preparation in the Denver office of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation. . . the development in the Yangtze Kiang Valley also call for the greatest hydroelectric plant in the world.

THE GENERAL MOTORS COMPANY announces its decision today to withdraw from the hearings of the fact-finding committee named by the President. . . the decision was made, according to G. M. officials because the committee has ruled that ability to pay will be a factor in the hearings on wage disputes.

Saturday, December 29

PRESIDENT'S FACT-FINDING BOARD resumes its hearings of the General Motor's strike issue despite withdrawal of GM because of the Government ruling that inquiry into ability to pay is a legitimate approach to wage settlements. . . John D. Small, Civilian Production Administrator, says that beginning January 15, GM will have to defer its orders for February delivery of materials for new car production. . . the regulation is designed to prevent materials from continuing to flow to strike-bound factories after a strike has lasted 30 days.

EIGHT MINERS have been rescued alive from the Pineville, Ky., mine; a ninth dies before being brought out. . . the fate of the 22 remaining in the mine unknown. . . absence of smoke in the mines indicates all fires have been extinguished.

THUGS ATTACK A PASTOR of the Trinity Methodist Church in Detroit and a few hours later set fire to the church, doing $4,000 damage. . . church authorities declare it to be a manifestation of anti-religious sentiment by the vandals.

Sisters are Hostesses at New Year's Party

Tragedy Which Killed G.I.'s Five Children Starts Drive In Pointe to Provide Help

Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker Heads Group Seeking to Get Aid to Otto Winkelman and Prostrated Wife

Shocked by the tragedy that befell the little family of Private Otto Winkelman while he was in the army in Tokyo, a group of patriotic Pointe women, headed by Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker of 445 University place have undertaken to do what they can for the distressed family.

A pathetic part of the tragedy is that not one of the children are left alive; all five of them having perished in the fire which destroyed their home in Roseville in the morning of December 22. Mrs. Winkelman is prostrated with shock at the home of her mother in Fraser, Mich. The father only heard of the tragedy when his attention was called to an article in "Stars and Stripes" by a fellow soldier while he was still in Tokyo.

The War Department flew him across and he arrived at the Fraser home in the middle of the afternoon on Monday.

The family had bought the old farm house in the outskirts of Roseville but with the breadwinner of the family away at war, they were unable to keep up the payments on it and lost it. They had also purchased some furniture on the installment plan and this went the same route.

The grief stricken mother and saddened soldier father are in destitute circumstances. There is no government agency which seems to be placed to fit into such an emergency, and it is Mrs. Hooker's purpose to see what can be done for them, and quickly, by private effort. Already little boxes have been placed in conspicuous places inviting contributions.

Stork Cheats Farms Police Officer out of Second Win

The stork cheated Farms police officer Bill Dansbury out of being a two-time winner in the Grosse Pointe News annual First Baby Contest. Bill is once again a proud father, though a little disappointed this time.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dansbury in Cottage Hospital at 9:45 p. m. on December 30, thus ruining Bill's chances for a double win.

Two years ago the Dansbury family shut out all competition when Donald John was born in Cottage Hospital at 1 a. m. on January 1, 1944. As winners of the contest, baby and parents received all the gifts offered in the contest that year.

Bill has been noising it around during the last week or so that he had the contest all sewed up again this year. The stork must have heard about it and been mad. Bill's fellow officers in the Farms police station received a call for help at about 9 o'clock Sunday night and they hurried around to the Dansbury home at 79 Mapleton road to rush the expectant mother to the hospital.

Bill is being kidded plenty by his pals. Mother and son are doing nicely, thanks.

OFF TO SLOW START

New Year's Day was one of the quietest days in months at the Farms police headquarters. Only two entries were made on the blotter all day. One was "family trouble," which didn't amount to anything, but a bad way to start the new year, and the other a report of a parked car that required investigation.

City Wants Credit for More Babies

How's Protest Against State's System of Keeping Vital Statistics

City Clerk Norbert P. Neff of Grosse Pointe City, who, as clerk of a City municipal corporation, acts as registrar of vital statistics for the state and reports to Lansing, is highly displeased with the misleading figures on births and deaths which appear against the City.

"Because there is no hospital in Grosse Pointe City, and because it is a well known universal habit with the young mothers to have their babies in hospitals now," he says, "one might think from the figures recorded here that we were a decadent and dying municipality."

The death reports are gathered in with accuracy but births to parents of City residents are reported from the municipalities in which the hospitals are located. With Cottage Hospital in the Farms the births there are meticulously entered up to the credit of that incorporated village. Prospective mothers who don't go to Cottage but do go to some other hospital where maternity cases are handled make no contribution to the City's birth rate and in any event the City's fecundity rate stands away below par.

If a baby, whose father and mother were both born in the City and have lived here all their lives, should happen to be born in Timbuctoo, then the population of the African desert would get the boost and the old home town be left out in the cold.

Mr. Neff threatens to talk it over with Harry Furton, clerk of the Farms, and see if something can't be done about it. Meanwhile, Furton's birth records are growing fat at the expense of its hospitable neighbor.

Figures of the City are that while there were 64 deaths reported in the City this year up to Christmas Day there were only five births reported as occurring in homes here, with no credit for the hundred and more that occurred in hospitals in Detroit where Grosse Pointe City fathers and mothers were the principal actors.

COMPENSATION

The Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission paid $3,115,643.30 in benefits to Michigan's unemployed for the week ending December 22.

WAC Leaves Party With $1,300 Haul

Attractive Service Woman Caught in Bar After Robbing Her Host

What started out as a mildly exuberant New Year's night party wound up with a good burgher of the community being robbed of $1,300 and an attractive WAC getting herself into more trouble than she will probably be able to dig herself out of for a long time.

About 11 o'clock New Year's night a call came into the Park police station from V. Lester Overman of 1011 Maryland that he had been robbed. Patrolmen Hennig and Enders investigated and learned:

During the evening there had been a party of sorts at the house during which James Overman, a son of the household, had gone to the refrigerator to either add to or take from a roll of money kept there for cool preservation. The only witness to the monetary transaction was a Miss Margaret Marshall, an army WAC, aged 30. Later on the party left for other parts and it was sometime after that that father Overman discovered the loss of the roll.

The police got hold of son James and it was from him they learned of the transaction at the refrigerator and of the sole witness. Young Overman had not taken the money. An intensive hunt then started among the drinking places of the neighborhood and in a short time, Miss Marshall was picked up. She was taken to the police station and her story was taken down.

Mr. Neff, who is a practicing attorney at the Wayne County bar, was flabbergasted when he and his friend were picked up. He told a perfectly straight story which was afterward authenticated by the police. He had been with a party and came from it to the Smith place with Miss Marshall where he decided he needed a little more money for the continuation of the New Year's festivities.

Not being known at the Smith bar he announced his intention of going to the Yacht Club to get a check cashed. At this moment his new found friend volunteered she might cash his check for him, which she did.

When the couple were arrested they were taken to the Detroit police station in company with a Detroit officer, as the arrest had been made in Detroit. There Miss Marshall immediately disgorged $1,148. She also had on her person a check for $10 made out to cash and signed by Mr. Neff. This was strong verification of the truth of Mr. Neff's statement. They were both brought back to the Park police station where Mr. Neff was released but Miss Marshall was held.

The next morning, Mr. Overman refused to sign a complaint after her relatives out here had made up the difference between what the police had recovered from her person and the amount alleged to have been taken from the refrigerator.

After the party had left the Overman house Miss Marshall had returned alone to the place and forced open the back door. The house at this time was void of occupants.

Miss Marshall has been married at least once before but is now using her maiden name. She is the stepdaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson of 216 Moran road, Grosse Pointe Farms.

She has been in the Women's Army Corps for some time but at present is detailed to the Percy Jones Hospital. She was taken back to her base at Shelby Field by Military Police Wednesday afternoon.

One Is Injured

About 2 a. m., Jan. 1, a car owned and driven by James Fisher of 1152 Wayburn ran into a parked car on St. Paul near Grayton. The latter car is owned by Virginia H. Angell of 969 Balfour.

Peggy Fisher, aged 12, daughter of Mr. Fisher was caught and bruised and taken to the Bon Secours Hospital.

Six Cars in Tangle Highlight Wave of Traffic Accidents

One Man Suffers Broken Leg in Wild Series of Crashes; Other Mishaps Crowd Pointe Police Blotters

Of all the hundred and one incidents of automobiles skidding and slithering over the highways of the Pointe on Thursday and Friday of last week, much the most complicated was one where six cars in order mixed it up on Mack near Balfour late Thursday afternoon.

While a Chevrolet truck and a Chevrolet sedan owned by William Scherer of 20650 Vernier Circle, and Tony Bommarito of 386 Kensington respectively, were trying to unlock their bumpers, a DeSoto tudor driven by Charles F. Mechoir of 617 Eastlawn, almost succeeded, in stopping before he hit them and might have, had not a Packard sedan driven by Leo W. Clemens of 5270 Grayton, pushed him into the two stamined cars.

While the confusion was at its height, a Chrysler station wagon clipped into the mixup. Before the untangling process had got under way a Buick sedan gave the DeSoto an additional bump. The icy roadway was the cause of it all, except, according to the police who looked things over, in two cases, where they said the drivers should have proceeded with more caution. These were given tickets.

The only personal injury was suffered by Mr. Scherer, who was found by the doctor to whom he was taken, to have a broken leg. Other car accidents appearing on the Park police blotter were: Peter Klawns, 410 St. Clair, collided with a late model Buick in front of 1900 Kercheval, who got a ticket.

A car driven by Jane R. Wood of 18775 St. Paul slowed down for traffic at Jefferson and Bedford, 85 feet east of Harcourt, skidded and was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Iva L. Leidy of 910 Whittier. At this moment car No. 3, driven by Arthur H. Buhl, Jr., of 390 Provençal, also going east on Jefferson, skidded into the Leidy car. All three cars were more or less crumpled up, but no personal injury resulted.

An hour later, also on E. Jef-

Uninvited Guest Cold and Weary

When the members of the Hartman family at 1211 Bedford returned home New Year's eve they found the house ransacked. They calculated the theft had occurred between five o'clock and 9:45 o'clock p. m.

The thief had gotten in through a rear bathroom window. The amount of the theft was not known immediately but was not believed to be extensive.

From the testimony of neighbors it is believed the thieves arrived at the place in a two-toned coupe.

Couple Suspected In Recent Thefts

Lieutenant Detective Louwers of the Park asks the residents of the village to be on the lookout for a couple of strangers. He is convinced that most of the robberies that have happened in the Park over the New Year's period have been the work of a man and woman working as a pair on the same operations.

He does recall that he was exceedingly cold and was greatly concerned with getting warm. The Marxer front door was found open, so in he walked and down he lay.

Souvenir of Police Chief Tip-Off to German Nature

Police Chief Joseph Trombley of the Farms has been digging into his locker of World War I souvenirs. Two of them are being aired on the wall of his office in the Farms municipal building on Kerby road.

One of these is a civil police club he acquired while serving with the Occupation Army in the German city of Coblenz after the war ended. Either the innate German love for brutality or a fear of the victim, must have influenced the manufacture of this lethal weapon.

About the same size as a standard American police "Billy", the German counterpart is enhanced by rows of rough iron nailheads, as effective as spikes, at its business end. With proper application, it could make a head resemble a cubed steak.

Fallen Plane Still Missing

Lake St. Clair Hides Craft Seen Plunging into Water Off Pointe Yacht Club

The search for a small airplane which was seen to crash into Lake St. Clair off the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club at 5 p. m. on Wednesday, continued as the NEWS went to press Thursday afternoon.

Officials at the club reported they could still see the wings of the plane, sticking up above the water, when darkness fell. All efforts to locate the "phantom" plane were frustrated. The Coast Guard ice breakers scoured the icy waters throughout Wednesday night.

A check with all airports in the vicinity failed to disclose any missing planes, though it was pointed out the small craft might have flown from as far away as Cleveland.

House Ransacked On Bedford Road

When the members of the Hartman family at 1211 Bedford returned home New Year's eve they found the house ransacked. They calculated the theft had occurred between five o'clock and 9:45 o'clock p. m.

The thief had gotten in through a rear bathroom window. The amount of the theft was not known immediately but was not believed to be extensive.

End of War Outstanding Event of '45

Review of Activities of Last 12 Months Discloses Many Achievements

The outstanding dates in the life of Grosse Pointe in 1945, as with every other city and hamlet in America, were May 8 and August 14, the dates that marked the end of the fighting in Europe and Japan, respectively.

These were the dates from which the fathers and mothers and wives and sweethearts of the Pointe could begin to figure with some assurance on the probable return of their loved ones from the war fronts on land, sea and air all over the world.

And Grosse Pointe homes had members of their circle on all of these fronts. There were about 3,500 men and scores of young women who represented the Pointe in every theater of operation. Already hundreds of them have returned home with more coming back with every incoming train and plane.

Aside from the ending of the war which is and will remain for years to come the great event in the life of the community, many other events of great local interest appear on the community record. Some of these are entered below in a summary reference to the events of the year.

JANUARY 4th the announcement was made that the Automobile Club of Michigan had not given up its purpose to build a beautiful clubhouse in Grosse Pointe. An effort to undertake such a project more than a year before had been spragged by the refusal of the Park village commissioners to amend its zoning ordinance to accommodate such a structure at Jefferson and Somerset. The purpose is to build on the same location after arrangements have been made with the village commissioners and the owners of the site.

JANUARY 11—Letters received in Pointe homes from boys at the front express deep discontent with the attitude of many workers on the home front, particularly with the strikers in war industry plants.

JANUARY 18—Increasing battle casualties steps up the need for blood donations. . . the St. Clair parish Red Cross unit sets a remarkable record in blood volunteers and percentage of donations. . . the Grosse Pointe Honor Roll now carries 66 Gold Stars. . . Bon Secours' new hospital now functioning with 32 beds already in use.

Barkley Baby Leading Field

Official Winner of Annual NEWS Contest to be Announced Next Week

While an official winner of the NEWS annual First Baby Contest will not be made until next week, little John MacMurray Barkley, born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dale Barkley of 274 McMillan road, at 6 a. m. on January 1, appears to have at least one baby finger wrapped around the 1946 title.

Prizes which await the official winner and his parents include a five dollar bank account at the Grosse Pointe Bank, a special gift not yet announced from Jacobson's, a Dorothy Gray baby gift box from Kopp's drugstore, a pair of baby shoes from Ryon's Juvenile Shoe Store, a complete case of strained baby food from the Rislyn Market and a basket of fruit from Davidson's Market.

Pointe Looks Back on Full Year Marked by War's End

national food outlook is more alarming than in 1942. . . . Farms village calls a special meeting for the explanation of the new proposed employees pension and retirement plan to the taxpayers.

FEBRUARY 8—The Pointe is feeling the coal shortage. . . . requests for fuel are being processed by the village clerks. . . . a sixteen year old Grosse Pointe boy, picked up by the City police for a youthful escapade, boasts that he has driven his car 50,000 miles in the past year and the OPA takes a hand at investigating.

FEBRUARY 15—The policemen of the four Pointe villages are up in arms over the new regulation of the township radio which will compel them to take examinations as police radio operators. . . . the threatened loss of the little Grosse Pointe Post Office on Maumee is averted, with every prospect that the promise of the Government to erect it into a full status classified office will carry through. . . . The heaviest draft from the Pointe in several weeks will induct 37 men from the Pointe on Feb. 28.

FEBRUARY 22—Farms retirement plan to be placed on the March 12 ballot. . . . Trustees vote to purchase the Hook property to enlarge the Beach Park.

MARCH 1—Councils of Grosse Pointe City begin study of a pension plan for its employees. . . . an advertisement in a Detroit newspaper offering a property in the residential area of the City as ideal for a "rooming house" is discovered to be the old mansion at 314 University place, whose occupancy by Pearl Adams, a Detroit rooming house keeper, led to prolonged legal complications. . . . three robbers who held up an herb merchant in St. Clair Shores on Washington's Birthday, are overhauled and captured on Jefferson avenue near Audubon at pistol point by Officers P. Conion and G. Boone of the Park Police Department.

MARCH 8—Charles Cain, aged 17, is killed in an automobile accident on Lake Shore drive March 2 when he and a car full of young people are returning home from a basketball game. Bon Secours Hospital raises its quota of $50,000 for an addition.

MARCH 22—The President of Grosse Pointe Park, William Van Deusen, who made an unsuccessful effort to unseat William Stammen as village clerk, regards the result of the recent election as a no-confidence vote by the people and resigns. . . . Henry Couvreur, aged 46, of 425 Roland road, was shot and killed by Camille Dewerd, aged 52, of 5771 Radnor, as Couvreur was leaving a party in the home of Couvreur's brother. . . . Dewerd says Couvreur had been too attentive to his wife for a number of years.

MARCH 29—Ward S. VanDeusen, resigned as president of Grosse Pointe Park, is succeeded by Howard P. Parshall, one of the Commissioners. . . . one of Parshall's first acts is to ask for early study of the pension plan for village employees. . . . Farms village residents in arms against a development project which they fear will depreciate property in the residential area. . . . term it a war project and argue that after the war it will bring into the village an undesirable class of residents. . . . Macomb county officials are continuing to dump sewage into Lake St. Clair and polluting the water at the various Pointe bathing beaches.

APRIL 5—Local Draft Board gets orders to re-classify many Pointers in 1-A. . . . Lieutenant David Loughlin to be honored posthumously in ceremonies in the High School. . . . the hero died when his plane was shot down over Germany. . . . United Nations' Clothing drive is launched for the destitute of Europe.

APRIL 12—Macomb County authorities divert sewage away from the lake into the big interceptor sewer. . . . Park village water rates are severely criticized and Village Manager Lane defends them. . . . Park Commissioners at the same meeting demand a complete list of personal property assessments, following charges that discrimination has been practiced. . . . former Village President Karl B. Goddard is drafted as a commissioner to take the place of former Commissioner Parshall, elevated to the village presidency.

APRIL 26—Patriotic, civil and fraternal organizations in the Pointe take steps towards forming an organization to aid veterans on returning to civil life. . . . Park Village acts to stop water leaks that are costing the municipality $14,000 annually.

MAY 3—National clothing drive for the destitute of Europe ends in a deluge of clothing. . . . Grosse Pointe doubles its quota. . . . truckloads from the "Gold Coast" are given gangway at receiving centers downtown. . . . A check up reveals that Victory Gardeners in the Pointe are all set for a big season.

MAY 10—Victory in Europe, May 8, is celebrated throughout the Pointe in varying moods from church attendance to shooting off fireworks.

Auto Accidents

Thirty minutes later at Lakepointe and Mack, Tucker Duane of 3530 St. Jean, Detroit, struck a Packard sedan driven by James J. Cornella of 3854 Balfour, as it was backing away from the curb. Both cars were seriously damaged, but no personal injury.

Gloria McLeod, of 8100 E. Jefferson, skidded around into west bound traffic on Jefferson between University and Rivard and hit the car of James Langworthy of 14443 Mayfield, Detroit. In the Langworthy car three young children suffered minor injuries. They were Irene Case, 10, Pat Case, 14, and Freddie Case, 6, all of 1702 Hubbard, Detroit. They were treated at the Bon Secours Hospital. Miss McLeod was given a ticket.

And so the merry game of skid and slide went on.

In mid afternoon the day after Christmas, Frank Dillon of 14431 Waveney, Detroit, going east on E. Jefferson between University and Bishop, skidded around into a parked car belonging to Herbert H. Todd of 14945 Cherry-lawn, and crumpled up fenders on both cars.

The same afternoon several hours later, Blair Morehead of 1374 Anita, skidded around at Jefferson and Woodland, and hit the front end of another car. Both, fortunately, were traveling at slow speed. No personal injury and only fender damage.

Even the Holy Orders got tangled up in the physically slippery surface of the Pointe. The Rev. Otey B. Berkely, of 431 Lakewood, going east on Jefferson on Thursday afternoon, while preparing to make a left turn into Washington, was bumped by a car driven by Kathleen Cullen of Mt. Clemens, which skidded around and bumped into the front end of the Reverend's car.

Also on Thursday a delivery truck belonging to the Verbrugge market, going south on Fisher, had stopped for a red light at Maumee and was bumped by a car driven by Gerald Martindale.

of 1212 Beaconsfield. This time the police ruled that Martindale was at fault and he drew a ticket.

At 2:00 o'clock the next morning Martin S. Taylor of 14550 Ilene, Detroit, went through a stop sign at Rivard and Goethe, either by skidding or inattention to the sign, and was hit in the rear at right angles by a car driven by W. P. Kerr of 55 Touraine. Kerr's car spun around and did a complete job within the next split second, striking a mail box, a tree and a stop sign. Taylor was given a ticket for failing to have his car under control.

Police Seeking Hit-Run Driver

A hit-run driver was reported to Farms police December 30, when Mrs. Paul Lynch of 118 Moran road telephoned that someone had run into their parked car and left the scene of the accident.

The car was in front of the residence all through the night of Dec. 29-30. Mrs. Lynch said no one heard any crash and the accident was not discovered until the next day. The left rear fender of the Lynch car was crumpled. The police are investigating.

St. Paul's Basketball Team Scalps Third Victim In Row

St. Rose Goes Down in Defeat, 35-14, in Lop-sided Game; Bernie Allor Is Individual Star of Contest

By FRED RUNNELLS

In the CYO League play last Sunday afternoon, at St. Clair Community Center, St. Rose became the third straight victim to fall before the powerful St. Paul basketball quintet. Bernie Allor paced his team to a lopsided, 35-14, victory by contributing 9 points to the total to lead both teams in points scored. John Towney was high for the losers with 4 points.

St. Paul wasted no time in putting the game on ice in the first quarter by hitting the hoop for 11 points while St. Rose had to be contented with an insignificant 2. St. Paul began to find the range in the second quarter and outscored their rival 7 points to 6 but St. Paul held the advantage at the intermission, 17-9.

In the last two periods St. Paul really turned on the heat, scoring 18 points to St. Rose's 5 to remain undefeated this season.

St. Paul will meet St. Margaret Mary at the CYO Community Center, Maxwell and Mack avenues, at 7 p.m. Sunday, January 6. According to manager Bruce Allor, St. Margaret Mary will be the stiffest competition his team has faced so far, but he feels St. Paul will still be undefeated after next Sunday's game.

Two are Hurt In Car Crash

Two persons were injured on December 30 at 12:55 a. m. when a car failed to stop at Moross road, going east on Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Merrill E. Liebold of 1859 Lochmoor boulevard, driver of the car, fractured his right knee cap and Mrs. Liebold, a passenger, suffered cuts on her left knee. Both were treated in Cottage Hospital by Dr. McCall, before being taken to their home by Farns police officers Jarrett, Seelow and Hilgendorf.

The car crashed over the east curb on Moross and rammed into a utility pole. The police report says no damage was done to the pole, but the Liebold car was wrecked to the extent of about $300.

Start New Year With Burglaries

There was a forcible entry and burglary at the home of M. G. Brinkerman at 1013 Balfour New Year's morning. The family had been out during the evening and returned about 3:30 a. m.

When the daughter of the house came in about 5 a. m. she noticed a drawer in her desk in her bedroom slightly opened. This led to an investigation which revealed that three portable radios had been taken, and a ring and a camera.

It was later found that the telephone wires in the rear of the house had been cut.—Entrance was gained through a basement window.

Another New Year's eve robbery occurred at the Claude Jorgenson house at 1211 Bedford. It looked as if the thieves had just started their operations, as the house was only partially ransacked. They may have been scared away by the arrival of the family. The residents said the thievery was inconsequential in value.

Detroit Inherits Taxi Argument

Arthur Champine, a driver for the Grosse Pointe Cab company, phoned the City police last week that he had a "lady passenger" who was causing him considerable trouble and, who, incidentally owed him $8.00 cab fare.

The collection bureau of the Grosse Pointe Police department held a hurried conference on the technique to be employed. Learning from Champine that both the fare and the argument were of Detroit origin, they decided to turn the case over to the Detroit police, and welcome to any commissions they might be able to earn.

Home Front Group Ceases Activities at Year's End

The Home Front Committee and the Breakfast Club function which has been giving sendoff celebrations for the boys going to war from the Pointe for more than five years, will cease its work with the end of this year.

This group, which is a department of the OGD, has functioned continuously since before the war. It actually dates from the time when the National Guardsmen and volunteers were out for military training back in 1940.

Norbert P. Neff, the City Clerk of Grosse Pointe City, has been the chairman of the group from the beginning of the war preparation work. Even before the set-up of the Selective Service and the establishment of the Draft Boards, Mr. Neff and the City Clerks of the cities of the State, processed the volunteers under directions from Lansing.

From the beginning of the preparation for war, through the war period and up to the present time, more than 60 groups of young men have been given a farewell sendoff. A part of this function has been a breakfast served at the Neighborhood club just prior to going down for induction. This group of patriotic women has had three presidents since its organization. There were, in order, Mrs. Richard Campau, Mrs. Cassius Teague and Mrs. William Bedell, the present chairman.

Various civic and official groups have sponsored the affairs. Among these have been the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the School authorities, the Police and Fire Departments of the different Pointe municipalities and the councilmanic groups of the Pointe. The officials of the Neighborhood Club have always served prominently in these affairs.

Pointe Loses Dr. Torrey

Death Takes One of Community's Most Prominent Residents

The Pointe lost one of its most prominent and beloved residents early Saturday with the death of Dr. Henry Norton Torrey of 575 Lake Shore road. Dr. Torrey suffered a cerebral hemorrhage in his home early Friday morning. He was taken to Jennings Hospital but never regained consciousness. He was 65 years old.

Dr. Torrey was born in Creston, Ia., October 7, 1880, and was educated at Knox College, the University of Michigan and Johns Hopkins University. During World War I he served overseas as a major in the Army Medical Corps with the Harper Hospital Unit of Base Hospital 17.

During a number of years as a practicing physician he was associated with Michigan Mutual, Charles Godwin Jennings and Harper Hospitals and was affiliated with numerous medical organizations.

He was well known as a sportsman and was a member of the Country Club of Detroit, St. Clair Flats Shooting Association, Yondotege Club, Savannah (Ga.) Golf and Country Club, Oglethorpe Club, Detroit Club and Grosse Pointe Club. He maintained a winter home at Ossabaw Island, Georgia, where Herbert Hoover visited during his presidency.

Survivors include his wife, Nell Ford Torrey; a son, William Ford Torrey; a daughter, Eleanor Torrey Shallcross; and a sister, Bernice Torrey Grimes of Ann Arbor.

Funeral services were held in the home at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, with the Rev. Dr. Frank Fitt of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church officiating. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Peter Koenig, founder

The first Koenig office and yard in 1870, corner of Rivard and Gratiot

In Our Diamond JUBILEE YEAR

Seventy-five years ago when Koenig Coal & Supply Company had its beginning, the Civil War was over only five years. Detroit had just reached its first 100,000. Eleven states still were to join the Union. The telephone, electric lamp and automobile were yet to be invented.

"Since 1870," Koenig has kept pace with Detroit's expansion. From a small woodyard on Gratiot Avenue at Rivard Street, it has grown into one of the largest organizations in its field, with branches located throughout the city. It has grown and prospered by giving succeeding generations of Detroiters dependable service in fuel, building supplies and ready-mixed concrete.

In celebrating this, our 75th year, we express sincere thanks for the confidence and cooperation of so many thousands of loyal customers and friends. To our customers, we give voice to the hope that the business relations which we have enjoyed have been as pleasant to you as they have been to us. We are particularly appreciative of your patience during the war years when the traditional Koenig service was hampered by conditions beyond our control.

But we want everyone to know, as we round out three-quarters of a century, that the new era of peace will bring a full return of Koenig's highest standards of quality and service.

Happiest New Year

The face of the whole world is alight with hope as it looks towards the New Year. Even with those peoples who are still enduring the wounds of hunger and want inflicted on them by the ravages of the greatest war in history, there is the solid promise of a world peace that will endure at least for many years, and well supported by a hope that it will be the last great war. With all the world, except our own favored country, the immediate problem is that of food, raiment and shelter. Even in their present despair they know these will be forthcoming. The great dread of enslavement that has hung over them for the last five years has been definitely removed.

Our own problems are almost wholly those of economic readjustments. We have no physical ravages of war staring us in the face. We know we possess ample stores of the elemental necessities of life and with means at hand for continuous production. Our basic position is so secure that our immediate concern is to provide for an even more abundant life than we had before we assumed the chief burden in a war of unparalleled magnitude.

The present position of America at the beginning of this new year presents a miracle in the history of peoples. There is no other circumstance comparable to it in the whole long story of the past.

We do stand in need of a revival of the old spirit of America. We need a renewed realization that we are one people, with common aims and problems; that classes, as they have existed in the rest of the world, have no place in our scheme of life. The innate common sense of the American people with their natural sense of justice and equality can be depended upon to presently correct a current of thought that has momentarily gone awry.

Before long we will look back to this date and subconsciously realize what a happy new year this was despite the transient concerns that loomed so large in our imaginations at this time.

America was never so sound at its core as it is today. Whether all of us can see through the fogs that seem so thick at the moment we can all, with deepest truth and confidence, hail the day as

AMERICA'S HAPPIEST NEW YEAR.

Washington's Maxim

Members of Congress are reported to be going slowly in making up their minds on the question of compulsory military training. If this is a part of the regular biennial ear-to-the-ground tactic preceding each general election to ascertain public opinion, the law makers may be excused. As representatives of the people in the national legislature, it is their constitutional duty to heed this opinion and translate it into law when it aims at the national welfare and conforms to the basic law of the constitution. It is equally their duty to ignore a noisy and uninformed minority.

But provision for the national safety comes first of all and the yet undetermined question of its association with the peace time training of all of the youth of the land to move quickly and effectively in the nation's defense in time of war, is an issue of the utmost importance at this time.

It is natural for any people just emerged from a war to experience a revulsion against all things that savor of further fighting. They are tired and weary of the whole thought of it. This has been a notable weakness of Americans. After every war of the past we have let our naval and military establishments lapse into uselessness—for the great tasks which they presently faced.

During the Civil War we built up the strongest navy in the world and ten years after Appomattox it had rotted at its wharves and we had sunk to ninth place among sea powers. Our regular army we cut down to 25,000 enlisted men, equivalent to the present police force of New York city. We repeated the same folly after the First world war and made a grand gesture of goodwill and friendliness by scrapping $400,000,000 worth of new and building naval vessels to accommodate the wishes of Britain, who saw herself losing the first rank in sea power, and Japan, who was then preparing for the war we had to fight with her 20 years later.

The League of Nations failed as an instrument for world peace, chiefly because America failed to keep herself strong militarily. Although we did not join the league formally it would eventually have evolved into a strong and efficient organization for peace had America remained strong to reinforce the principles for which it stood.

The United Nations Organization, upon which the peace-loving peoples of the world are now setting such great store, will fail as certainly and as tragically as did the old league unless America keeps herself strong and ready to lay a shining sword in the World's scales for peace whenever the spirit of war dares to lift its ugly head. This is as certain as the passage of time.

Every patriotic American, every man and woman in the land who love peace and the safety of their country and long for the banishment of war from the future path of civilization, should exert every effort by written and spoken word to prevent a repetition of the two tragedies that have threatened civilization within a single generation. The world cannot survive a third such error.

History has shown that the most solemn covenants entered into among nations rarely endure beyond the lifetimes of their makers. The best assurance that this second experiment in world peace will live will depend more upon the keenness and readiness of America's might than any other factor. All of the inanimate material for war we can accumulate will avail nothing unless we have, and the world knows that we have, a trained personnel instantly ready to use it.

This whole question of our own security and future world peace is rapidly settling directly in the laps of our lawmakers at Washington. Let there be no misunderstanding of this fact. We need literally millions of young men trained for war before war comes. If we have them we will possess the best assurance that war will not come. The theory is simple and sound. It is up to the people and their representatives to implement it.

Let us never forget one of the greatest truths bequeathed to us by our greatest American. "In time of peace prepare for war."

True in 1797; a hundred times more true a century and a half later.

Grosse- Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"If you should tire of loving me
Some one of our far days,
Oh, never start to bide your heart
Or cover thought with praise.
For every word you would not say
Be sure my heart has heard,
So go from me all silently
Without a kiss or word;
For God must give you happiness,
And Oh, it may befall
In listening long to Heaven-song
I may not care at all!"

(Margaret Widdemer)

First story of the New Year going the rounds, concerns a big shot auto-magnate who, with his wife, visited friends in Akron over the weekend. He'd never been in Akron before and in all honesty looked forward to his visit and to seeing the place. On the last night, his friends gave a huge, formal dinner party in his honor and naturally enough, called upon him for a toast.

Our hero rose to his big automotive feet and gave a toast to his hosts and the guests who'd entertained him so royally. . . then he ended the toast in a flourish by saying, "And I'm happy to say that I FINALLY got a chance to visit the beautiful city and the grand people of Dayton!"

By popular request, (as the big shots say), we are hereby starting a series of those non-sensical things we used to do when the News first started, called, "Impressions in Arsenic." Not everyone understands them, but that isn't our fault or is it? However, no malice is intended, no matter HOW they might read . . . and it's really all in fun. Try it yourselves and see if your friends can guess who you're pointing at. You don't necessarily have to know the person to write your impressions . . . it's just a matter of what comes to your mind when you look at them or think of them . . . and soooooo, here we go:

MRS. JOHN R. SUTTON, JR.: The "Madonna" in the High School play . . . flat-heeled bedroom slippers . . . orchids pinned on a tweed suit . . . peach trees in blossom . . .

MRS. CARSTEN TIEDEMAN: Black-eyed Susans . . . glazed chintz in the drawing room . . . Mimosa . . . pale dry sherry . . . petite point hassocks . . .

MRS. LLWYD ECCLESTONE: Cocoa, with lots of whipped cream . . . very high French heels . . . La Tabac Blonde perfume . . . Jade green mittens . . . Amber necklaces . . .

MRS. ROY D. CHAPIN, SR.: Huge star sapphires . . . portrait of a lady dressed in pearl grey chiffon . . . sipping an aperitif, on the veranda of a ski lodge . . . Park Avenue . . . The music of Tchaikowski and Irving Berlin . . .

MRS. RAY JOHNSON: Nelle Gwynn, going to market in a station wagon . . . pale aquamarines . . . small town Carmen Miranda . . . Champagne . . . costume jewelry . . .

MRS. JOHN STROH: Olives dipped in gold dust . . . an anticancer on the back of a modern chair . . . lavender sweetpeas . . . fine china teacups . . . rubbed-soled shoes . . .

MRS. CHARLES MERKEL: Shiny new head embossed on an old coin . . . magenta-colored camellias . . . hard-toed ballet slippers . . . a pewter goldfish bowl . . . barberry bushes, covered with snow . . . swizzle sticks for champagne.

Out of the holiday and into the here, comes the story this week of one of Grosse Pointe's most 'sheek' matrons. She attended an after Christmas party at which the Rev. Dean Kirk O'Ferrall officiated. A little late and slightly full of the spirit of good cheer, she spotted the straight back of a gent she thought was her cousin . . . so without hesitation rushed up to him, planted a moist kiss upon the back of his neck and murmured, "Hi, honey!" Before there was time for a response, a guest 'dragged' her away to chat. A few minutes later, the cousin she smacked so resoundingly turned around . . . our heroine let out a lady-like yelp. You're way ahead of us . . . but you're right . . . IT WAS the Rev. Kirk O'Ferrall, whom the woman had never seen before. They tell us the Dean was most gracious about the incident, which substantiates the fact that he is a g-r-a-n-d person.

MacArthur in Japan

At the moment of writing it is difficult to envisage the repercussions that are apt to follow General MacArthur's blast from Tokyo, anent the decisions made at Moscow for a four-power administrative council for the government of Japan.

One thing certain is that MacArthur is not pleased. His assurance that he will try faithfully to carry out such policies and decisions as may come to him from higher authority, merely accentuates his doubts as to the workability of the proposed arrangement.

Another speculation on the side is that the anti-MacArthur group at Washington has lost no time in furthering a situation that would work to his embarrassment and eventual undoing. It is no secret that the great military leader in the war with Japan has accumulated a lively group of critics, who may just now be coming out into the open.

It is nevertheless true to most impartial observers in this country that General MacArthur has gone far afield from the province of a temporary military administrator in his work over there. To confiscate private property, to set up a new procedure for the entire economic control of the country and finally to disestablish the state religion of a nation of eighty million people, would seem to indicate the assumption of functions rather far in advance of those of a mere military commander. These are decisions that should await the action of competent political authority. The General's direction of affairs over there, however right they may eventually prove to have been, have savored of the acts of personal dictatorship, one of the plagues of the world which sent us into the second world war.

The American people would regret to see General MacArthur removed as top man in the control of Japan, but the confidence of many would be fortified if he acted under the direction of an international commission, which afforded a voice to all of the affected great powers, not losing sight for an instant that the war with Japan was won by America and that in all decisions for its future the voice of America should continue to speak with the loudest authority.

Are you becoming just a little deaf? Is it difficult for you to select noises? Do you have to shout the telephone from one ear to the other in order to hear?

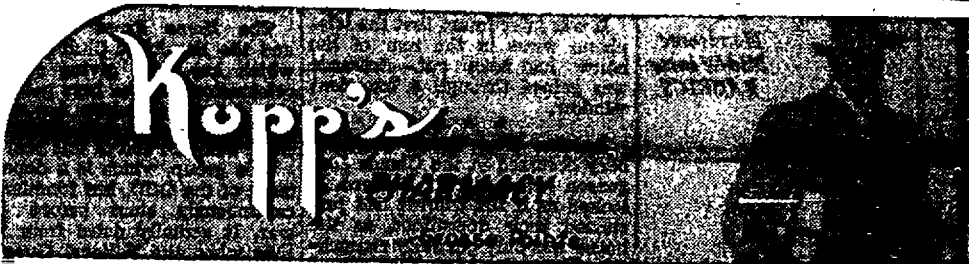

These are signs of a handicap which may be averted if you act in time. The trouble may be very slight and easily remedied. It may be no more than an accumulation of wax in the inner passage of the ear.

Expert attention may relieve you of the haunting fear of deafness, may postpone for all time any need of wearing a hearing aid. It is worth any amount of time and expense to protect and prolong your good hearing.

Select a specialist who can provide expert advice. Medication must be the best available, and should be obtained from a reliable pharmacist.

Southern Style

"Southern Style" used gastronomically usually means savoury, crisp, and sometimes sweet. Used fashion-wise, the idea is the same; as one look at our going-south collection of clothes will tell you. Wherever you're going ... if it's warm ... if you want fun ... and want to look wonderful, we have the clothes for you.

The DRESS with PRINT skirt

Here's what you'll simply have to include in your going-south wardrobe ... the dress with the printed skirt. It's a pet of ours and should be of yours. We've had it done in several versions.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by
Jane Schermerhorn

After the first real debutante season in years . . . the dazzled young buds are returning to school . . . or to careers . . . With their pretty heads still filled by holiday fun . . . Peggy Zeder arrived yesterday at her studies in North-western . . . and could be a delighted deb, indeed . . . For it was the consensus of sisters debs . . . that her coming out luncheon and cocktail party at the Country Club was the grandest of all the deb "do's" . . . Another party the young set is still exclaiming about . . . is the dance which Mr. and Mrs. Alger Sheldon gave for the friends of their sons, Alger, Jr. (just out of the Navy) . . . and Frank . . . The dance took place in the ballroom of the Sheldon home on Lake Shore road . . .

LAST PARTY OF YEAR GAY ONE

Of course today . . . a party for the debs . . . is hard to find . . . pages of empty calendars loom . . . but there'll be the June parties to which to look forward . . . The last party we've heard about . . . was on New Year's day . . . when two cocktail parties . . . ending with dinner at the Country Club occupied debs and their escorts . . . The first cocktail party was given by Woody Crouse . . . (who was discharged from the Navy the day before Christmas) . . . at the home of his parents . . . Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beecher Crouse of Provincial road . . . This crowd went down to Indian Village . . . for cocktails with the young Henry Reynolds . . . and then on to the Country Club . . .

Dramatis Personae of The Last Day Of Parties included: Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Rankin . . . Mary Cupper . . . Jim Donovan . . . Ann Woodhouse . . . Ernie Kretzek . . . Jack Cudlip . . . Elise Cosgrove and Henry Distin (who leaves this week-end for his home in Philadelphia after a visit with Elise's family, the Alvin Shermans) . . . Mary Mater . . . Donald Finnie . . . Mamie Semmes . . . Merrill McClintock . . . Charles McKean . . . Ted Ewald . . . and Jim Fry . . .

ENGAGEMENT NEWS

Lots of engagements and weddings dotting the social calendar this post-holiday season . . . David Osborne Hamilton of Beverly road . . . announced the engagement of his daughter, Elizabeth Mary . . . Air Force Captain's Bride

MILDRED FISCHER, daughter of Mrs. Henry Fischer of Grand Marais boulevard, Grosse Pointe Park, became the bride of Capt. Andrew Robertson Clark, USAAF, in St. Clare Church on Thursday morning, December 27. The bride chose a winter white crepe afternoon dress, fashioned with gold color beaded yoke, and carried white and yellow roses. June Breneman was bridesmaid and Lieut. Ira Breneman was best man. A reception for the immediate families and close friends was held at the home of the bride, after which the couple left for San Antonio Texas, where Capt. Clark is to be stationed.

MRS. LOUIS MENDELSSOHN of New York was the holiday guest of her son-in-law and daughter, the C. HENRY BUELS, of Ellair place.

It's been a glorious week for JACKIE REVIE, of Arlington, Va., who enjoyed a winter holiday with her classmate, GLORIA MORIARTY, of Three Mile drive. Both girls attend the Moore Institute in Philadelphia, Pa.

The EDWIN W. BAKER household on Lincoln road was a festive one this holiday season with three young BAKERS home. FRANCES, armed with her discharge from the Waves, landed from Puget Sound. PETER, an electrician's mate third class, USNR, arrived from his station at Minneapolis. SALLY came from Westhill School in Boston.

Looking forward to spring, when he will attend Yale, is CLARENCE E. (BUD) DAY, JR., who is back in civvies in the Cadieux road home of his parents, the CLARENCE E. DAYS.

Among the young Pointers home for the holidays are MARY JO TAIT, vacationing with her mother, MRS. WALTER W. TAIT, of Neff road, from Connecticut College, and Pat Coulter, daughter of the GLENN COULTERS, of Merriweather road, on deck from Radcliffe College.

LIEUT. JAMES FINKENSTADT'S first holiday season in the Pointe in two years was an especially joyous one, with his brother BILL home from Princeton and sister BETSY from the Master's School in Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. The family gathered, in the Woodland place home of their parents, MR. AND MRS. HARRY S. FINKENSTADT.

SHIRLEY JEAN SEARLES, daughter of MR. AND MRS. GLENN L. SEARLES of 457 Cloverly road, and MARY LOU WATSON, daughter of MR. AND MRS. J. GORDON WATSON of 365 McKinley road, both appear on the Dean's List at Albion College for the first half of the fall semester.

Another holiday vacationer is KENNETH CUNNINGHAM, who is stopping with his parents, the K. W. CUNNINGHAMS, of Berkshire road. Ken's alma mater is Culver.

Incentive for DR. AND MRS. JOHN G. MATTERS' cocktail party Sunday afternoon was the arrival of their daughter, MARY, from Boston, where she is on duty at the School of Occupational Therapy. The gathering was in the MATTERS' home on Maumee road.

Although MR. AND MRS. HAYWARD THOMPSON, of Lewiston road, journeyed to Farmington, Conn., for Christmas, they hurried back to the Pointe to fete daughter SALLY at a dinner party in their home over the week-end. In the East they were the guests of Mr. Thompson's father, JOHN THOMPSON, where SALLY joined the family gathering from the Milton Academy. Another daughter, ELIZABETH, is in nurse's training at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York.

Saturday night hosts were MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM F. CONNOLLY, Jr., of Moran road, whose gala buffet supper was in the way of a farewell party for MR. AND MRS. RAY WHYTE, soon-to-be Southern travelers.

MRS. FRANCIS McMATH, of Merriweather road, jaunted to Cleveland to holiday with her sister, Mrs. Thomas P. Howell.

Welcoming the New Year in their pre-war home on Bedford road were CAPT. AND MRS. ROBERT COLEMAN and their daughter, CAROLYN. The captain has just returned from two years in the ETO. To make the holidays perfect, his brother, LIEUT. RICHARD COLEMAN, USNR, was on hand from his station in Newport, R. I.

LIEUT. COMDR. AND MRS. CHARLES C. CREEDON and Mrs. Creedon's son, DEWITT E. TAYLOR, JR., of Cloverly road, spent the holidays in Akron with Mrs. Creedon's brother and sister-in-law, the CARL MARKLES, DEWITT is on vacation from Hotchkiss.

A happy reunion took place in New York last week when Mrs. Walter Scotten, of Edgemont park, met her daughter, MRS. PAUL MARDEN, after a separation of six years. Mrs. Marden sailed from Cairo, Egypt on the Gripsholm with her two children, PAUL and SANDRA. Also on deck to greet his sister was CAPT. OREN SCOTTEN.

Two brothers home for the holidays were Electrician's Mate Third Class QUIMBY SMITH, JR., and Electrician's Mate Third Class ROGER SMITH, who came from New York to visit their parents, the E. QUIMBY SMITHS, of Berkshire road.

Dr. Frank Fitt Performs Ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; Young Couple to Live in Chicago

Candles gleamed in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Thursday evening, Dec. 27, when Evelyn Adair Kuivinen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Victor Kuivinen, of Lincoln road, became the bride of Robert H. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Snyder, of Newark, N. J.

Dr. Frank Fitt performed the 8 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the Kuivinen home. For her wedding Evelyn wore a simple gown of white marquisette, fashioned with high, round neckline, short, puff sleeves and full skirt. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a lace Dutch cap, and she carried sweet peas, stephanotis, and carnations in her white bridal bouquet.

Suzanne Kuivinen was her sister's maid of honor, and Lois Akerstrom served as bridesmaid. Their marquisette gowns were made alike, with round necklines, puff sleeves and bouffant skirts. Suzanne was in yellow and Lois in pale green. Both had matching hats of veiling and carried sweet peas and carnations.

William Oliver Hopkinson came from Newark to be best man, and guests were seated by Russell Diekron, of Morristown, N. J., David Justice, of Logansport, Ind., and the bride's brother, Lieut. William Kuivinen, USAAF.

Mrs. Kuivinen chose a gown of cornflower blue taffeta with a blue plume headdress, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Raymond Minard, of Newark, a frock of blue marquisette.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Snyder left for a wedding trip to Chicago, where they will make their home while Mr. Snyder is working for his doctor's degree in chemistry at the University of Chicago.

Wedding Unites Pointe Families

An engagement announced over the holidays was that of Marion Jarves Mill, daughter of Mrs. Sidney T. Allen, Jr., of Provincial road, to Edward Freeman Smith, Jr., son of the Howard F. Smiths, also of Provincial road.

Marion is a graduate of Foxcroft School and studied at Bennington College in Vermont. She is a member of Tau Epsilon and the Junior League and made her debut at a dance in the Country Club in June, 1942.

Howard was graduated from Hotchkiss School and Yale University, where he was affiliated with the Fence Club and the Skull and Bones society. He has just been discharged from the Marine Air Corps and served as a fighter pilot in the Pacific. He is now in the United States Army and is assigned to the First Marine Air Wing.

One Moore Home; Other Enroute from China

Home for the holidays were Lieutenant and Mrs. Richard R. Moore, enroute to North Carolina, from where Lieut. Moore will leave for overseas duty.

There is great rejoicing in the Moore household at this time, as their son Donald is on his way home from China where he has been for the past two years.

Republican Meeting Is Arousing Interest

Session Will Be Held in Home of Mrs. Fred T. Murphy Starting at 2 O'clock on Friday, January 7

Interest is running high in the coming meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe, which is scheduled for 2 p. m., January 7 in the home of Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, 17820 East Jefferson avenue.

Congressman George A. Dondero of Royal Oak, home from Washington on holiday vacation, will be the speaker. He has been in Congress since 1933. He has served as mayor of Royal Oak, assistant prosecuting attorney, and has been a member of the Board of Education for 18 years.

The local club has picked him for speaker because it feels he is well acquainted with the problems of this area. An aggressive fighter, he was a bitter opponent of the fourth term for President. He is a member of the Congressional Committee on Rivers and Harbors and is a champion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Congressman Dondero is also a member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs and the Committee on Education. It is felt he will be able to answer any question the club members may ask.

Mrs. Edwin Kriehoff, chairman of the committee on arrangements, has announced the following will assist: Mrs. Donald Melville, Mrs. Harold Davis, Mrs. Joseph Manderano, Mrs. Shirley Snow, Mrs. Stanley McKenzie, Mrs. Cameron Waterman, Mrs. Kenneth Thomas, Mrs. A. Patch. Also, Mrs. Julius Huebner, Mrs. H. Lipski, Mrs. R. King, Mrs. H. J. Clemens, Mrs. Wilber Brucker, Mrs. Otto Lundell, Mrs. James McEvoy, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Crouse.

A new set of officers will be elected at this meeting. The tea which will follow will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Douglas Crane.

Women who drive to the meeting are requested to park their cars on Jefferson avenue. Jefferson avenue buses stop at the entrance.

GIBBS-SCRIPPS WEDDING JANUARY 19

It'll be a Manhattan wedding for Shirleyann Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Gibbs . . . and Ensign James E. Scripps III, son of Mrs. Lester F. Ruwe and the late James E. Scripps II . . . on January 19 at 11 a. m.

Because they love New York . . . they've chosen St. Vincent Ferrer as the scene of the wedding . . .

The chapel is described to us as being a lovely quaint old English one . . . with old world stalls making it all the more picturesque . . .

Lester F. Ruwe will be Jimmy's best man . . . and Ensign William H. Gibbs, brother of the bride-elect . . . and Thomas K. Fisher will be groomsmen . . .

We predict right here and now . . . that this wedding should be one of the most charming of the Winter season . . . and we do think it's a shame that Grosse Pointe will have to miss the wedding . . .

For it isn't every day that one of our young men of the stag line captures the heart of a real Powers' model . . .

HOT OFF THE PRESS!

You'll have to wait a bit for your 1946 copy of the Michigan Social Register . . .

The first day of 1946, however . . . found the titian haired editor hard at work . . . rushing to get out the new books as fast as possible . . .

Josephine Roche To Give Lecture

Josephine Roche, former assistant secretary of the United States Treasury, and one of the country's most influential women, will speak at Town Hall, Wednesday morning, January 9 at 11 o'clock in the Fisher Theatre. Her subject will be "Women in Industry."

The career of this remarkable personality has few if any parallels. Her great talent for administration and unusual record of achievement in industrial relations moved President Roosevelt to ask her to take a leave of absence from her business and serve as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. The following year, 1935, she was appointed chairman of the Executive Committee of the National Youth Administration.

In private life, Miss Roche is president of the Rocky Mountain Fuel Company, a legacy inherited from her father. In this capacity she has been brought into stormy conflict with reactionary elements within the company. Her handling of labor problems there won executive national recognition.

Endocrine helps the face and throat to be more youthful looking

Would you like to look younger than your age? Well, for most women, ENDOCREME can accomplish this beautifying result to a degree hitherto thought impossible. Eight years of use has proved ENDOCREME helps to improve the skin itself, not just its superficial appearance. It is the one face cream that contains ACTIVOL®. This ACTIVOL® is a scientific replacement for woman's own skin-vitalizing substance. Absorbed by the skin, it helps to restore normal growth to cells and tissue. This aids the skin to regain its firmness, freshness, smoothness and radiant charm. Introduced as the first scientific face cream 8 years ago, ENDOCREME is today assisting thousands to regain youthfulness of face and throat. Isn't this the biggest value any cosmetic dollar can buy? If you agree, try ENDOCREME. Many get marked results in only 30 days.

Try ENDOCREME Hand Lotion, $1.25 plus tax.

D. A. R. MEETING
Elizabeth Cass Chapter, D.A.R., of Grosse Pointe Farms, will meet in the Women's City Club on January 7 at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Walter R. Fruit, regent, will preside. Mrs. George F. Neal will be in charge of the program.

Awarded Bronze Star

JEAN CLAYTON HATCHER, American Red Cross staff assistant and former Pointe girl, has been awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in the European theater. Miss Hatcher, who was assistant manager of the Sign of the Mermaid, Inc., until her Red Cross appointment, is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and the University of Michigan.

Holiday Wedding For Pointe Girl

Among the Pointe's holiday weddings was that of Mildred Ellen Fischer, daughter of Mrs. Henry Fischer, of Grand Marais boulevard, and Capt. Andrew Robertson Clark, son of the Andrew Clark, of Edmonton road, in St. Clare's rectory.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Breneman attended the couple in the simple morning service.

An afternoon dress of off-white crepe with matching hat and a shoulder corsage of white roses was Mildred's choice for her marriage.

Following the ceremony Mrs. Fischer was hostess at the wedding breakfast in the Whittier. The young couple headed for San Antonio, Tex., after the ceremony, where the captain will report for further duty. He has just returned from four years in the ETO. A member of the USAAF, he was formerly attached to the RAF.

Newcomers Plan Many Activities

Plans for January and February parties were made at the executive board meeting of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lundgren, 1237 Harvard road, Friday evening, December 28.

Following reports from the treasurer, Russell Near, and the membership chairman, Frank Lister, a committee composed of Mr. Lundgren, Mr. Lister, and Mrs. W. A. Naragon, secretary, was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws.

Winter entertainments will include a bridge party, to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Burgoon, Jr., 1182 Grayton road, on January 11; and a smorgasbord and bingo party scheduled for January 2. Male members of the group are planning a "sweetheart" dinner dance for February with George Lyons as chairman.

Newcomers to the Grosse Pointe area who are interested in joining the group are reminded to telephone Frank Lister, the membership chairman, NI. 4324.

It's when we're unwilling to change ourselves that we think the other fellow is unchangeable.

Peggy Zeder Honored At Debutante Party

Luncheon in Country Club Introduces Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Zeder of East Jefferson Avenue

Before the evergreen-banked fireplace in the Country Club, Peggy Zeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Zeder, of East Jefferson avenue, welcomed guests at her debut luncheon last week.

Miss Tobin Wed To Capt. Murphy

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Tobin, of Balfour road, announce the marriage of their daughter, Patricia Elizabeth to Capt. Harry Joseph Murphy, USAAF, on Dec. 14.

The captain, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Murphy, of Glenfield avenue, was captured when his fighter plane was shot down over Africa and spent more than two years as a German prisoner.

Patricia was graduated from Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., last February.

Harry trained and flew with the Royal Air Force in air battles across the English Channel and over France before his enlistment in the USAAF.

The young couple will make their home in Ypsilanti.

Peggy wore a royal blue crepe dress, distinguished by a peplum lines in fuchsia, with a head band in the same shade. Two deep purple orchids, the gift of her father, were pinned to her shoulder.

Mrs. Zeder wore orchids in the same deep purple on her brown crepe frock, accented in coral. A tiny brown hat completed her costume.

Contrasting with the holiday greens were the table bouquets of blue iris and yellow daffodils. The deb's gift bouquets added more color to the room.

Peggy's assistants were Anne Fletcher, who was in deep purple crepe, and Ann Whitehead, who chose a black wool blouse and black satin skirt. Both had corsages of orchids.

Also aiding the deb was her sister, Mrs. John Posselius.

a dinner before the Boat Club dance. His date was Carol Lecklider, and the other guests included Barbara Greenleaf, Eric Anschuetz, Barbara Golla, and Alex Jemal.

A MAMMOTH CHRISTMAS TREE greeted the dancers as they entered the Detroit Boat Club for the annual Sons and Daughters Dance. Gene Fenby provided the music, and refreshments were served upstairs in the bar. Ellie Hewitt was there with Earl Lapp, Annie Wake-man with Bill Kerr, Julie Marshall with Bill Boales, and Donna Dahlen with Dick Seymour.

JOAN MULFORD's home was the scene of much excitement Thursday night, when she and SALLY FROST gave a dinner party for about thirty of their friends. Place cards read—Carrie Carter, Charley Morris, Martha Johnson, Elliot Peck, Ann Hicks, Chud Edwards, Sue Reekie, Gunny Jarre, Marion Wilbur, John Woodhouse, Jan McMillan, Sid Miller, Nancy Pierson, Ted O'us, Sue Towar, Bill Moll, Pat Candler, Peter Spencer, Connie Preble, Bob Finnie, Sally's date, Sammy Kilner, and Joan's date, Bill Mackey.

Two alternating orchestras provided the music at a dance given for FRANK SHELTON Thursday night. The dance was held at the home of his parents, on Lake Shore drive.

A SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY was given for Harvey Reyst by Harold Haupt on Thursday night. The guests included Nancy Boales, Nancy Wood, Lorne Norton, Lorraine Hewitt, David Bull, Bill Nelson, Alex Bardy, Marilyn Hirt, Tom Wilson, Jane Rogers, Don Lewis, Sue Rogers and Bill Siebert.

MARGIE BULL held an open house Thursday night from 8 to 1. The guests were served cokes, ham, salads, cheese, crackers, and cup cakes. Bob White, Jim Hild, Betty Brooks, Debby Herschleb, Kay Morris, Dick Lamb, Chick Fleck, Don Olivier, Nancy Balkema, Shirley Drake, Kirk and Cline Walsh, Dave Hunter, Andy Klingbiel, Ted Likert, Nancy Dalrymple and Bill Drew were a few who attended.

NANCY LIGHTBOY invited some of her friends over for punch on Friday afternoon. Debby Herschleb helped her serve to Margie Smith, Shirley Drake, Jayne Balcom, Rosemarie Johnson, Helene Hemeline, Mary Roney, and many, many more.

Joan Wilcox gave a tea Friday afternoon for Nan Lavis who is visiting from Ann Arbor. Just a few of the guests were: Sue Matson, Marion Anderson, Janie Shaeffer, Joanie Williams, Dale Ramsay, Florence, Welsh, Marilyn Lamb and Martha Armstrong.

The DAC was the scene of many parties Friday night. There were several large parties and many small ones. Some of the kids seen dining and dancing included Beth Klavon 'n Don Hiles, Barb Molyneux 'n Dick Phillips, Annie Leininger 'n Don McPhail, Mary Lou Ewing 'n Bob Nette, Bugs Borgman 'n Johnny Snell, Sally Baker 'n Bill Chapman, and Harriet Howenstein 'n Butch MacKendrick.

BETSY FINKENSTADT gave a dinner at the Grosse Pointe Club on Friday night. Her guests were Jerry Gillette, Kay Curtis, Carter Sales, Sally Waters, David Jobb, Marion Chapin, Peter Detwiler, Annette Sheldon, Murray Dodge, Joan Young, Sid Miller, Jan McMillan, Bill Edwards, Suzanne Alger, Freddie Farr, Connie Woodall and Macky Woodhouse.

A dance was given for SUZETTE ALGER by her parents, at their home on Lake Shore drive. The guests were all of Suzette's friends from Grosse Pointe.

CYNTHIA VOSSLER gave a luncheon at the Detroit Boat Club on Saturday to celebrate her birthday. Her guests included Barbara Wicking, Jo Squier, Barbara Moran, Pat Robinson, Maggie Hanson, Ann Ortegren, Jackie Ward, Mary Chkoreff, Martha Butterfield, Alma Larson, Nancy Mathewson, Marietta Kujath, Barbara Klenk and Kay Wood.

NORA GUY gave a tea Sunday afternoon for the girls in her class at Grosse Pointe High School. Barbara Ogden, Lois Redmond, Barbara Smith, and Betty Winston were there to help her pour.

NOISE MAKERS AND PAPER HATS were given to all those who attended the annual New Year's Eve Dance at the high school. Co-chairmen of the dance Betty Auch and Don McPhail, appointed Judy Harger, Denny Thomas, Louis Champine, Jeff Welscher, Frankie Kretschmar, and Mary Hudson to help them make the dance a success. Some of the dates who came were Vonnice Wegman and Kirk Walsh, Margie Moschell and Gobby Bartlett, Margie Bull and Jack Leverenz, Marilyn Lamb and Ched Swenson, Sue Hughes and Tom Mercier, Bobbie Towar and Tom Stock and Doris Buser and Dan Beck.

After the New Year's dance, Jo Squier invited six of her friends over to her house. Barb Wicking, Wend Knight, Cynthia Vossler, Jud Ingram and Dick Moore were her guests.

Most of the parties recently were of a festive spirit, and with a certain Christmas air. Miss Annie Ward Foster's CHRISTMAS BALL was held Dec. 21 at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club from 7:30 'till 12:00. The dancers used the large ballroom, and refreshments were served in the dining rooms.

About 150 people came altogether, including dancing students, former students, and their parents. Among those seen at the dance were Julie Ford, Dick Lord, Peter and Janet VanOsdol, Pierre and Celeste Belanger, Tom Pierce, Peter Klavon, Molly Moll, Ted Fuger, Victor Hughes, Barbara, Buffy and Bert Wicking, Web Knight, Frank Wilton, and Bill Cunningham.

Another dinner party was given at the Yacht Club by Harriet and Sally Noble. Seated at the table were Theresa Font, Carol Smith, Jimmy Jacobs, Dick Gallagher, Raymond Bolo, and Jack Beresford.

NANCY PIERSON sent out invitations to dinner to a few of her friends who were planning to attend the formal dance at the Little Club. The place-cards read Artie Davis, Martha Johnson, Sue Reekie, Gunny Jarre, Shirley Jerome, John O'Hair, Gloria Roberts, Skippy Cook, Joan Mulford, Ted O'us, Sally Frost, Chud Edwards, Libby Powell, Bob Finnie, and in case you're wondering, Malcolm Sutherland was Nancy's date.

Other dinner parties before the same dance included one given by Peggy Book, and one which Mrs. John Woodhouse, Mrs. Henry Buhl, and Mrs. Carter Sales gave for their sons Macky, Henry and Carter.

One of the most exciting moments at the dance was during the contest in which, one by one, the dancers were called off the floor. The lucky couple which was the last to be left dancing was to receive a prize. As it happened Shirley Jerome and Johnny O'Hair were the last to be called, and the prize for Shirley just happened to be a beautiful pair of nylons.

JOY WILLIAMS and JENNIE QUIRK invited their friends over for a little pre-Christmas get-together on Dec. 21. Joy's home on Lincoln road was the scene for the party. Munching on delicious home-made cookies, candy, and cake, were Ileana Lindh, Susan Johnstone, Miriam Ryan, Joan Mason, Shila McComb, Verna Roberts, Sharon Arnold, Barbara Hart, Jean Kimbrell, and Mary Nebel.

SUE BOGLE gathered her friends together at the Country Club for luncheon on Dec. 22. Around the table were Ione Hedges, Sue Hughes, Fanny Kitson, Ann Leininger, Mary Lou Ewing, Mary Trumbull, Shirley Somers, and Donna Dahlen.

BARBARA MORAN gave a luncheon party at Al Green's for nine of her friends on Saturday, Dec. 22. The guests included Barbara Wicking, Cynthia Vossler, Pat Robinson, Maggie Hanson, Joanne Squier, Ann Ortegren, Marty Butterfield, Alma Larson, and Jackie Ward.

BARBARA BLAIR hung out the welcome sign Dec. 22 when she gave a dinner for some of her senior classmates. Marge Botts, Barb Dill, Betty Jo Faulk, Joan East, Pat Fell, and Ann Ortegren were there, along with Nancy Mathewson, Marietta Kujath, Betty Winston, Barbara Klenk, Babs Ogden, Nora Guy, and Barbara Smith.

JAYNE BALCOM's friends gathered at her home for a caroling party on Dec. 22. Jack Galdoni was with Jayne, Carolyn Morris with George Cherpelis, Mary Roney with Bob Beupre, Flo Michie with Don Olivier, Betty Brooks with Bob White, Nancy Balkema with Bob King, and Andy Klingbiel with Ted Likert. After caroling, the gang went back to Jayne's for hot cocoa, sandwiches, and dancing.

A progressive dinner was underway Saturday, Dec. 22, beginning with soup at Bobbie Towar's and after much traveling from one house to another, ending up at Joanie Williams' for dancing and Pepsi. Barbara Greenleaf and Eric Anschuetz, Bobbie Towar and Tom Stock, Barbara Golla and Alex Jemal, Carol Lecklider and Walt Smith, and Joanie Williams and Bob Brinker were the originators of the idea.

The first of the Senior Teas was given on Sunday, Dec. 23, by BARBARA WICKING. Cynthia Vossler was helping her, and she asked Ann Ortegren, Pat Robinson, Joanne Squier, and Barbara Moran to pour. The decorations were in red and white, with a big Christmas tree to give the room a holiday effect. Barbara's guests included the girls who are members of the senior class at the high school. Former members of the class, Sally Putt and Kay Wood were also included.

PEPPERMINT STICK ICE-CREAM with chocolate sauce was the dessert SUE HUGHES chose for her guests when she invited them to luncheon on Dec. 28 at the Detroit Boat Club. The guests were Sue Fitzsimmons, Ann Haggerty, Ann Stringer, Ione Hedges, Sue Bogle, Bunny Kitson, Joan and Jane Taylor, Babe Byrnes and Mary Couzens.

MARIETTA KUJATH and NANCY MATHEWSON combined forces to give a senior coke party on Dec. 26. Some of the seniors who attended were Joan East, Betty Jo Faulk, Marty Butterfield, Maggie Hanson, Mary Chkoreff, Elaine Grove, Ellen Allington, Barbara Devory, and Alma Larson.

JOE DOUGHERTY gave a small dinner party before the Yacht Club dance. He invited Betty Auch, Don Hiles, Janie Gehlert, Ray Shumann, Carolyn Robinson, Ched Swenson, and his date was Patty Erskine.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT was the title of the dance held at the Detroit Yacht Club on Dec. 26. This biggest dance of the year for the Yacht Club members lasted from 8:30 to 2:00. Carol Lecklider was there with Walt Smith, Barbara Greenleaf with Eric Anschuetz, Joan Crowley with George Curran, Marilyn Lemb with Tom Megargle, and Cee Castelyn with Paul Friesse.

The Country Club was the scene of much gaiety Dec. 28 night when the Paul Strasburg dancing classes took over for the evening. Dinner parties before the dance were given by Judy Mann, Mimi Thompson and Sara Woodruff, and Sue Wheelock and Jane Kuhlman.

P. S.—If you're giving a party don't forget to call me at Niagara 8850. Calls to the Grosse Pointe News office are not included in this column.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Pointe A.A.U.W. Plans Schedule

With the beginning of the New Year, the Grosse Pointe A.A.U.W. will resume its regular schedule of meetings.

The general meeting for January 3 has been changed to January 10 at 1:30 p. m. The hostess, Mrs. Edward F. Wright, 593 University place, will be assisted by Mrs. T. E. Eger, Mrs. Hubert Goebel and Miss Florence Severs.

The date of the Social Studies Group has been changed from Jan. 10th to January 9th at 8 p. m. Mrs. Raymond Wertz, 1058 Balfour road will be hostess. Mrs. Abram Brown, leader for the evening, will discuss "President Truman's Recent Legislation, Full Employment".

On January 16, the International Relations Group will meet at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. John Pear, 707 Trembley road. Mrs. George Waldbott will lead the meeting. The subject will be "Trusteeship—Will We Share The Atom Bomb?".

The International Relations Group is assisting in the collection of canned food for the needy people of Europe. It is necessary that all food be in tin cans as glass containers are not acceptable due to breakage in shipment. All donations should be delivered to the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lake Shore road, at the rear entrance any week day.

St. James Lutheran Guild to Meet Jan. 9

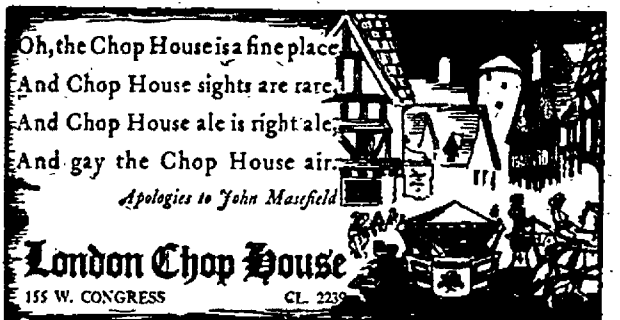

The Ladies Guild of St. James Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Flemming, 285 Moross road, for a pot-luck luncheon on Wednesday, January 9, at 12:00 noon. The regular business meeting will follow at 1:30 p. m.

Assisting Mrs. Flemming and Mrs. William Fenske, the co-hostesses will be Mrs. Herman Kroll, Mrs. Leonard Schneider, Mrs. George Kurz and Mrs. Otto Deiner.

DR. JOSEPH BARKLEY of Moross road, who is still in the service stationed at Northwestern University, was home for the holidays.

CORPORAL MICHAEL W. DILLON, formerly of the Third U. S. Marines, has received his discharge and arrived home in the Pointe Saturday. He is with his mother, Mrs. Edward Dillon of Rivard boulevard.

He missed out on meeting his brother DAVID on Guam, who arrived there only two days after Michael had sailed for home. David is a seaman 1/c and is still on Guam.

Good Pointes and Bad

by RAY HENRY

Of All People FRANK MARSACK, of the Marines, spent New Year's Eve on the high seas. He became engaged to LOIS MCHESNEY, of OAK STREET, while on leave here last month. ART WHITT-STOCK was doing ship repairs in Hagushi Bay, off Okinawa. SALLY VAN SIMAE celebrated in Hawaii, where she is working for the government. OSCAR LABADIE, who has been with the Farms Fire Department for 25 years and is eligible for pension, is now eligible for a career in the hotel business—he has just received his diploma from the Lewis Hotel Training School. DOROTHY DRYSBECK and VERA ZORINA are look-alikes. MIKE BEAUPRE, back from the Aleutians for good, and EILEEN HARRIS, his bride of last summer, are happily settled on Ridgmont. Overheard: Dr. Kamperman telling a patient that PEGGY WEBBER is a natural at nurse's aid, and one of the most efficient in the hospital. It will be a happy new year for the JOSEPH DE GRIMMES. They are snugly settled in their new apartment at the Whittier. CHIP-PY WILLIAMS is home from both European and Pacific battles. You will see him around with lovely HENRIETTA KERNAN. Brother GEORGE WILLIAMS is home with his young bride, Desdie, from Minneapolis, and celebrated New Year's, hereabouts and then will get along with their schooling. JOHN WARREN, currently residing at the Country Club, just completed four and a half year's service with the Third Army. The Warren home on Lake Shore road is being readied for the young CHARLES BECHER. WARRENS who are still in Washington, but will rush Pointeward as soon as Charlie is released from the army. Savory.

NEIL McEACHIN on Hilcrest and JOE BEAUFIT on Kensington tripped down to South Dakota for the hunting. Around Cavour the weather was 12 to 20 degrees below zero—colder than the recent refrigeration in the Pointe—but Neil and Joe got plenty of what they went after. Their card reported: "We are a shootin', and the pheasants are a fallin'". They brought back 50 birds and 50 cottontails. When they prepare the pheasant for the table, your scribe will add a little patte de fois gras to the menu by way of squaring a bet lost to Neil.

Another savory dinner we're looking forward to is the venison special that JACK REED will serve on Kerby road early in the New Year. It's as annual an affair as Jack shoots a buck—which is just about every year. The boys play shoot-the-moon—vermacular for cut-throat euchre—and the wee small, morning hours are never begrudged or missed.

To help insure a Happy New Year, warnings of over-indulgence were issued by the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit. HENRY FORD II, of our village, is chairman. Warnings tell the legend that Drunk Drivers Go To Jail. The association has posted several thousand notices, offering $1,000 reward for the apprehension of hit and run drivers. They informed thousands of holiday shoppers by way of handbills that more than 10,000 Michigan drivers lost their licenses last year because of bad records. In the Detroit area, traffic fatalities are up 7% over the same period last year; the national

Frances Baker Is Recent Bride

When Frances Baker arrived home for the holidays, she brought the news of her marriage Oct. 20 to Edward Alexander Muir, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Muir, of Chicago.

Frances, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Baker, of Lincoln road, has just been discharged from the Waves. Her husband is a former ensign in the USNAC.

The young couple were wed in a chapel in Seattle, Wash., attended by Ensign and Mrs. R. E. Anderson.

The bride attended Grosse Pointe Country Day and St. Genevieve's in Montreal and was presented to society at a tea in 1938.

The ensign studied at Wooster College and will continue his work at the University of Chicago, where they will make their home.

record is up 53%. The Safety Association is justified in its campaign, and Hank's warnings are worth heeding.

Pointe Yacht Club is Scene Of Merry New Year's Party

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club members and their guests welcomed the New Year with a top-flight party at the clubhouse on New Year's Eve. In the setting of Christmas greens and huge lighted Yule trees, two orchestras kept the dancing continuous except for that short pause at 12 o'clock when 1946 was toasted. There was an informal floor show and breakfast was served from midnight until dawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Cummings were hosts at dinner preceded by cocktails in their home on Hillcrest road before their group went to the club. In this party were Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Coe, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laurie, Maj. Harry Calcutt and Richard Brodhead.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nixon, of Sunningdale Drive, entertained a large group at cocktails in

Schedule Lecture By Bourke-White

Margaret Bourke-White, one of the world's greatest photographers and a speaker of great vivacity and charm, will lecture on "Has Germany Begun To Live Again?" at Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, January 9, at 11 o'clock.

Miss Bourke-White recently returned from Germany and Italy, where she has been taking post-war pictures for Life magazine, substitutes for Josephine Roche who has notified Town Hall that she is unable to keep her early January engagement.

Since the war ended, the noted camera expert and writer has been collecting first hand material for her new book on the Germany of today. She has talked to men and women from all walks of life in the conquered country in an effort to discover if the warlike Nazi spirit is really subdued.

Margaret Bourke-White has spent the past ten years shooting pictures where the fighting was thickest, risking her life on bombing raids with the Air Force, and flying with the Piper Cub as an observer. Her graphic photographs are rated among the best of the war, and her camera studies hang in the Library of Congress, Museum of Modern Art in New York, and the Brooklyn Museum.

Care of Gloves Lengthens Use

Care of women's gloves is almost as important as care of shoes if they are to give their maximum amount of service, says Leona MacLeod, specialist in the department of textiles and clothing at Michigan State college.

When putting on gloves, each finger should be "worked" down separately. In removing gloves, first loosen the fingertips by pulling them slightly. They may then be turned inside out and eased off over the hand, but they should be turned right-side-out and the fingers smoothed out before being put away.

Many leather gloves today are washable, but unless they are so marked, washing may ruin them. Use lukewarm, mild soap suds. If the gloves are made of firm, smooth leather, it is best to wash them on the hand. Suede-finished gloves should be carefully washed off the hands. This prevents tearing the leather which is softened by the moisture.

After washing and rinsing, the excess moisture should be pressed out in a towel. The gloves should then be blown up like a balloon to shape the fingers and prevent the leather from sticking together. Place the gloves on a towel to dry in a cool, shady place. Never place any leather article over a radiator or in the sun to dry.

When the gloves are almost dry they should be fingerpressed. This is done by grasping the glove with both thumbs and forefingers and massaging gently.

Club Sponsoring Second Lecture

The second in the series of lectures which is being sponsored by a group of the women in the Neighborhood Club, will be held in the clubhouse on Tuesday, January 8 at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Mildred James of the Detroit Board of Education, will speak on the subject, "Getting Along With Your Child."

Telegram Tells Of Engagement

A telegram delivered to Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Henry Warren Jones, of Whittier road, at their silver wedding anniversary party in the DAC Saturday night revealed the engagement of their daughter, Betty Ann Jones, to John Vincent Lufkin, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elgood Moulton Lufkin, of Rye, N. Y. and Norfolk, Conn.

Cass Town Hall Books Chemist

Hilton Ira Jones, A. M., Ph. D., distinguished chemist, psychologist and author, is being returned by unanimous request for his second lecture for the Detroit Town Hall in the Cass Theatre on Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Jones is internationally known for his specialized chemical research and is the head of a large laboratory. His monthly articles in "The Rotarian" foretell the phenomenal progress of industry when aided by science and give glimpses of the science of tomorrow.

Dr. Jones' subject, "Vibrations," follows his talk of last year and is an analysis of vibrations as they progress from sound, heat and light waves to cosmic rays.

Woods Planning Family Reunion

Mrs. Logan Wood, of Cranford lane, is looking forward to a real family reunion after the first of the year, when her sons, Sgt. Jack Wood and Sgt. Bob Wood, will arrive from Casablanca and Marseilles.

Other members of the family were on hand for the holidays. Air Cadet Don Wood came from his station at Amarillo, Tex., and his sister, Barbara, from the Marjorie Webster School in Washington.

Mrs. Wood's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Reece Hatchitt, and their youngsters, Rickey and Bobbie, of Notre Dame avenue, added to the group, as did Mrs. Bill Wood, and her son, David, of Hawthorne road, and Mrs. Jack Wood with Windy.

THERE ISN'T ALWAYS ROOM FOR ONE MORE—

Ol' "Leaping Lena" ain't what she used to be. One more bobby-soxer and Lena would give up with a well-earned wheeze and a sigh. Likewise, homes wired for yesterday's electrical needs are inadequate for today's electrical living. Yet many home owners have become accustomed to inadequate wiring—to frequent blown fuses because of an overloaded circuit. Making sure that your home wiring is up to date is your assurance of being able to use the electrical appliances you want in your home when you want to use them—where you want to use them. It means having your home furnishings arranged to suit your taste, with outlets always convenient. It also means that it should accommodate a new frozen-food cabinet, electric range, automatic laundry, electric dishwasher and many other electrical appliances. And, of course, if your plans for tomorrow include a brand-new home, adequate wiring is an "A-1" item to check in plans and specifications.

This is one of a series of advertisements prepared in cooperation with the Electrical Association of Detroit in the interest of insuring adequate wiring for every home in this area. Be sure your home is properly wired. When you are planning a new home, for wiring recommendations, call:

1ST LT. CHARLES R. MCKINLEY, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McKinley, 41 Colonial road, Grosse Pointe Shores, received orders placing him on an inactive duty status with the Army Air Forces.

This post, one of a network conducted by the AAF Personnel Distribution Command, is designed to expedite a speedy return to civilian life for the veteran.

While at this post Lt. McKinley was invited to enjoy the many recreational facilities available for his entertainment during the short period of his stay.

ARNOLD J. CHAMPINE, who served with the Navy for three years and was most recently a pharmacist's mate 3/c on the LST 647, has been given his honorable discharge and is back in the Pointe. He spent his first Christmas in three years at home.

Champine was in Wales and Scotland for a year before being sent to the Pacific Theater. His last month there was spent in Japan, which he left on November 2. He was separated at Bainsbridge, Maryland and arrived home the week before Christmas after stopping in Philadelphia to pick up his wife and their 20 months old son, whom he has brought to the Pointe. They are living temporarily with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Champine of 119 Oak Street. Frank is a member of the Grosse Pointe Farms police department.

Another son, HAROLD is a quartermaster in the Navy and is still in Saipan. He is attached to the ARL Menelaus, a relief ship. He has been in the service two years.

ROBERT S. SMITH, fireman, first class, 5 Woodland place, Grosse Pointe, served aboard the submarine USS Guitaro, which has been decommissioned and placed in a reserve status at Mare Island, Calif.

During the war, the Guitaro made five combat patrols in the Philippine area and the Indo-China Sea, sinking an estimated total of 71,000 tons and damaging an additional 11,500 tons of Japanese shipping. A heavy cruiser, a light cruiser and three destroyers were among the victims.

CORPORAL ROBERT W. JEAN, JR., was discharged from the Army last week. He was in the European theater for 2½ years. He is at present home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Jean of 1040 Kensington road.

"Kiss of Death"

By LAWRENCE RANDALL

As Told to Mary Madison

SYNOPSIS OF THE STORY SO FAR

Coming home to Grosse Pointe, brilliant young publicist

LARRY RANDALL finds Grosse Pointe shocked by the sensational murder of MIRANDA AMES, the girl he so madly loves he vows to kill the killer. The fabulous beauty and heiress of the world's greatest motor fortune is found slain, wearing a string of $50,000 pearls, on the pier of The Grosse Pointe Golf Club. LARRY assumes charge of suppressing publicity on the murder for FAY AMES, Miranda's stepmother, a champagne blonde with a colorful past, now sole heiress of Consolidated Motors.

CORNELIUS DUNN, publicity counsel for Consolidated Motors, sends suave

GUY ZINGLER, ace New York detective to aid Grosse

Pointe Police, headed by

LIEUTENANT CARROLL, scientific homicide expert.

LARRY suspects MIRANDA'S friends know more of the crime than they admit, especially

ROGER BROOKS, aimless aristocratic fiance of the dead girl.

MISS SNEED, MIRANDA'S former governess, who distrusts everyone.

JOCK PENDLETON, Big Name Band Leader of PENDLETON AND HIS PLAYBOYS, retains LARRY to extricate him, being involved in the murder by his autograph found near the body, a forgery of his check and a threat to his life.

DON MONACO, Spanish clarinet player with the band, spouts philosophy

IMOGENE GARDNER, coy charming crook promotes a mysterious scheme and

BIRDIE MACLEAN, the Grosse Pointe Golf Club caddy traces a haunting tune he heard whistled just before the murder. Emotionally pent up LARRY pursues his search for the murder by quizzing

SUE MANCHESTER, red hot torch singer with the band, who ensnares him, after confiding she saw the murderer slinking from the pier. As the morbid MISS SNEED is struck down by the killer, $15,000 REWARD FOR THE MURDERER is offered by FAY AMES to speed the manhunt, with Grosse Pointe engulfed by fear, in the grip of a killer at large.

"Either way, I'm inclined to think this Pendleton is too one hundred percent certified. He's been galahading it around for years. Me, I say being in your own quota of hot water tends to sterilize a fellow."

"Well, I never thought of him as being offensively pure."

"Just ostensibly so. All the press build-up. One thing you've got to remember about Pendleton. He's a high strung musician. You can feel his rapid pulse beat in his trumpet playing. A man can bring out of him just what's in him. He was in love with Miranda Ames. She was all set to marry Roger. Pendleton is all hooped up about her. Maybe he went berserk. Maybe he thought he'd rather get along without her dead, than without her alive, married to someone else."

"I said, 'What have you got against Sue Manchester?'"

"She's a Bacchanalian babe. Oh, I know, it's the usual thing for girls from Miss Price's school to take jobs in night clubs, but they all do it with a patrician pose of having huge fun. They never let you forget for an instant that it's all good natured slumming. Even accepting their pay checks is just a harmless form of Peter Pan-handling. Not this Manchester girl. Brother, take it from me that hitting the gutter was an alpine climb for that baby."

"You're being pretty rough on her, Zing. After all, she's still the belle of Beacon Hill."

Zing sniffed, "Sue Manchester would do anything for money."

It crossed my mind that she sometimes did anything without money. Or had I inadvertently opened a charge account?

"What would be her take in murdering Miranda?"

"In Sue's life, Miranda was the magnificent obstruction. She told you herself that Miranda annexed all her beaux. Sue didn't need beaux. She could use a husband, a very rich one, Pendleton, say. But she couldn't get him while Miranda was alive. This marriage to Roger wasn't going to dim her attraction. Now, Sue is known to be as jealous urgent. He has a great system, though. His suspects move right in with him. Tonight, then."

Zing was sitting up now, I gave him the setup on the reward. Then he swung his type-writer up on the desk for me, and I wrote the reward releases for the papers. I rang Western Union.

"Want to come out to the Grosse Pointe Golf Club with Carroll and me tonight? Jock Pendleton and his Platinum Horn will be sending, and Sue Manchester's going to struggle out of bed long enough to scorch a torch. Maybe the clues will drop right into our drinks."

"Sure, I'd like to go."

There wasn't any knock. The door just clicked open with a key. Imogene Gardner came tripping into the room. She had on a tailored chateau suit, aimed to the last darts to accentuate her attractions. She was carrying her hat and her soft brown hair clung in damp tendrils at her temples. She was the little girl who drank Coca-Cola in the night clubs when the diamond bracelets were being passed out until their wearers passed out to be rolled.

"Hello, Zing. Hello, Larry Randall."

She gave us that soft smile of hers that was like a heaping teaspoon of strawberries, parted by whipped cream.

Zing said, "Shall I ring for Coca-Cola for you?"

"Would you? Try to make them understand that I want it with straws and without a glass. Lemon juice on the side."

Zing could have landed five cases of Heideck Twenty Three Champagne with less preamble than it took to get the coke setup. He turned from the phone, "They haven't got any straws. They say they can send up a medicinal drinking tube with the order."

"Tell them to send out for a carton of straws," Imogene instructed him. He repeated her order insistently to the operator.

The Western Union boys were at the door. I handed them the envelopes with the reward releases for the city desks. As I turned from the door, I could see Imogene reading a carbon of the reward story I'd left on the desk. Zing went over to the cabinet, poured out two more falloping drinks.

"Here's to your other kidney," he said, handing me a glass. A waiter came, breathlessly bearing Imogene's coke order and a carton of straws from the drug store downstairs.

The phone on the desk buzzed and I took the call. This time it was for Imogene. I recognized the voice but I didn't say anything; handed the phone over to her. After a guarded and monosyllabic conversation she hung up and went back to her coke straws.

When she finished two bottles, she stood up. "I hate to drink and run, boys, but I've got to go to my room. I've got an engagement to go out in a few minutes. She walked over to the desk, flattered the carbon of the reward statement.

"Larry," she cooed, "Where's the cashier's cage where I go to collect this reward money?"

You mean you know who killed Miranda?" I thumped down my glass.

"—and you've been holding out on us?" added Zing.

Ten Medals

One of the Pointe's most decorated soldiers is LIEUT. COL. C. UPTON SHREVE, III, of Renaud road, Grosse Pointe Shores. The four medals he has been awarded in World War II, added to six he acquired in World War I, add up to a grand total of 10 decorations.

In World War I it was Lieutenant Shreve, aged 20. His six medals came during nine months of service with an ambulance company in the French Army in 1916 and 1917. A severe wound brought him the Croix de Guerre, Medaille Blanche, Ancien Combattant, Battle of Verdun Medal, French Foreign Legion Medal and the American Victory Medal.

Colonel Shreve's World War II record started when he was called to active duty as a captain of field artillery on January 7, 1942. He served in Europe with the famous Tomahawk Corps, anti-aircraft, in a campaign that carried him from Omaha Beach in Normandy on D-Day plus 3, to the Elbe river, where the Americans and Russians met.

His World War decorations include a Purple Heart, a European Theater Medal with five stars, a Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster and another American Victory Medal.

The Pointer was one of those who was in on the big secret of the European invasion plans. His outfit had intensive amphibious training before Normandy Beach. On July 5, 1944 his outfit faced direct enemy fire on the Seine before St. Lo and fought it out for nearly 12 hours.

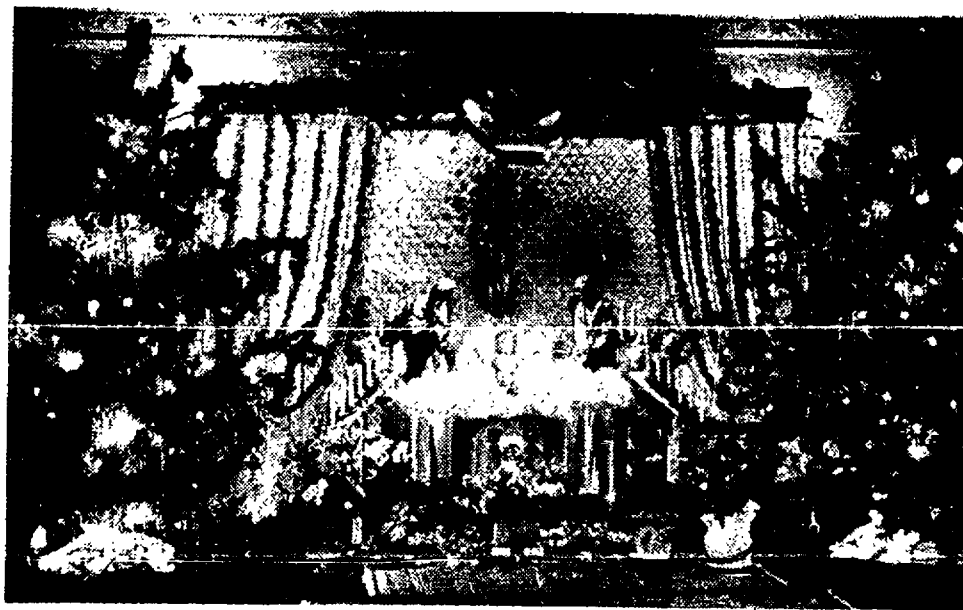

Eben, Emael, Masstricht, Heerlen were all on the path of this fighting corps, plunging it on December 16, 1944 into the Battle of the Bulge. Two weeks later the outfit had its greatest day when it shot down 63 planes in 24 hours, believed to be a record for an anti-aircraft group.

The stand at Aachen, the crossing of the Rhine at Westel and the dash to Magdeburg on the Elbe followed, bringing the long campaign to a victorious ending.

Colonel Shreve is a former law partner of Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy. This relationship continued from Justice Murphy's first term as mayor until his appointment to the United States Supreme Court. Between wars Shreve was active in veterans' organizations and was a committeeman of two national conventions held in Detroit.

DISTRICT NURSING SOCIETY
The District Nursing Society will hold its annual meeting in conjunction with its sewing session at 11 a. m. January 9 in the Country Club. Luncheon will be served.

Outstanding Christmas Decorations

ought to chime now that skilled repair men are back at their old jobs ready to put new life into any ailing clock that has been silent during the war years for lack of parts and repair! PONGRACZ, 17008 Kercheval, has a full force in his repair department ready to do expert work on your clock whether it is a prewar model, an antique or an old French clock. Let him fix that set of hall chimes that is in need of a spare part or a little repairing to make it chime again. And there's no excuse for not having the alarm go off anymore because spare parts are now available for certain types of alarms. Get some expert advice as to whether or not it is worthwhile to have your old alarm fixed or to wait for the new ones that are coming soon. Your clock will be picked up, repaired and delivered back to your home after you've called Niagara 7788. If your order has been neglected because of the holiday rush, PONGRACZ hasn't forgotten it—the order will be filled and your clock will be ticking or chiming again before 1946 is very old.

Imagine having a toothbrush that can reach into every corner of your mouth the way your dentist's mirror does when it's searching for a cavity! That's what the new Squibb's angle toothbrush does! It is bent at just the right angle to get into more places than the old fashioned straight toothbrush can and it's made with genuine bristles to stand a lot of rubbing for a long time. Park Will Buy New Fire Truck

At a brief special meeting of the Park Village Commissioners last Friday morning bids were opened for an aerial fire truck. The contract was awarded to Peter Pirsch and Son of Kenosha, Wisconsin. The price is $13,850. As an evidence of the long time required now-a-days for delivery of specially built apparatus the time for delivery specified in the contract is 325 days. An allowance is made of $500 for the old truck, conditioned on the Park not being able to sell it for more. Manager Lane believes that more will be obtained from a private buyer.

Edward Schmidt Is Dead at 80

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Edward J. Schmidt, 80, of 16960 East Jefferson avenue, who died last Friday. Burial was in Elmwood cemetery.

Mr. Schmidt was president of Traugott Schmidt & Sons, furriers. He was born in Detroit July 22, 1865. Surviving are a brother, Albert H., and two sisters, Mrs. Alma S. Hoffman and Mrs. Hugo Scherer, all of the Pointe.
