PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S fact-finding committee for General Motors dispute reported to be about to recommend a 20 cent per hour increase for GM workers. The increase would amount to approximately 18 per cent over the workers present average hourly rate.

A LADDER, believed to have been one used in the Degnan kidnapping has been identified as having been taken from a nursery home only two blocks from the James E. Degnan home from where the little girl was carried out of window. Police start immediately on a hunt for a one-time employee of the nursery and former mental patient at the Manteno, Ill., State Hospital.

DR. LISE MEITNER, an Austrian physicist, whose experiments with uranium atom-cracking led to the atomic bomb, will be flown to the United States late this month from Stockholm because she fears assassination. She said to have been offered the chair of physics at Catholic University in Washington. She feared death at the hands of revenge-seeking Nazi sympathizers.

THE UNITED NATIONS ASSEMBLY takes its first step towards effecting a working organization in London by electing Paul Henri Spaak, Belgian Foreign Minister, as its first president. Spaak, backed by England, elected over Trygve Lie, Norwegian Foreign Minister, backed by Russia, by a vote of 28-23. Clement Attlee, British Prime Minister, wants that with the unchaining of atomic energy the only alternative for the people of the world between life or death, rests upon the outlawing of war by the concerted action of the civilized peoples of the world.

MAYOR JEFFRIES appears before the joint meeting of the Senate Finance Committee and the House Ways and Means Committee at Lansing to plead the cause of Detroit for a larger measure of state aid, vitally necessary to enable it to meet its pressing urban problems. His plea is based largely on the large proportion of all state revenue which originate in Detroit.

ONE OF THE FOUR EXISTING copies of Magna Charta, which has been kept in the Library of Congress for safety since the beginning of the war is to be returned to Great Britain. This is the immortal document which the Barons of England wrested from King John at Runnymede in 1215 and has ever

Five Years of Growth

THE EXPANSION which has been necessitated by the steady growth of the Grosse Pointe News is graphically illustrated in this picture of the three locations of the offices during the last five years. The small building on the left, occupied by the NEWS first started publication in November, 1940, to the first floor location next to the Pumph and Judy theater was a small step compared to the move just made. Last Thursday the main offices were transferred into the beautiful new building under the Great Elm at 99 Kercheval, between McMillan road and Oak street in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Armed Bandits Stage Holdup In Home on Roosevelt Place; All Are Quickly Rounded Up

Party of Eight Interrupted When Trio Enters Armed with Shotgun and Revolver; Cash and Jewelry Taken

Three armed bandits walked into a social gathering of five men and three women in the home of Joseph J. Hayes at 279 Roosevelt place at 12:55 o'clock Wednesday morning covering them with a shot gun and a revolver, relieved them of their wallets. No attempt was made to take anything except money.

As learned later, they scattered immediately after the robbery, apparently having planned to have one of the number return to their car, which was parked in front of the house and collect the other two at some predetermined point.

As soon as the City police received the alarm they surrounded the area with men afoot and in cars from their own force and from the Farms. An hour after the robbery Patrolman Foster Mauck, in the course of checking on the private cars which were numerous at the time in the block, found a man crouching in the bottom of one of the cars and hauled him out. He proved to be Russell Conway, aged 21, who gave his address as room 1013 Milner hotel, Detroit. He was recently discharged from the Navy.

Shortly after, Mauck in company with City Police Officer Rabaut, picked up No. 2 at the corner of Jefferson and Washington, evidently working his way back to their car. This one proved to be Elmer Herbert Gogolin of 22612 Hoffman street, St. Clair Shores. He was also a recently discharged navy man with only 7 months service. He is 20 years old.

With these two in hand it did not take the City Police long to sweat out of them the name of their accomplice. He was Walter Willy, aged 19, of 22436 Dorion drive, St. Clair Shores. The police there picked him up about 9:30 o'clock in the morning. They said he was well known to them as a police nuisance. He was a 4-F and had never been in service.

The victims of the hold-up were loath to say how much money they had lost and it was impossible for the police to determine whether the robbers had thrown any of their plunder away in bushes for later recovery. From what was found on their persons it was estimated to amount to between $50 and $80.

How, Where, When of Duke's Peregrinations Established

Duke Nelson, a 60 year old colored man, was before Judge Belanger in Park police court Saturday for reckless driving. He had plowed into a car belonging to Eugene Kelly of 205 St. Clair while it was parked on Jefferson avenue.

Duke was picked up by the Detroit police and turned over to the Park police. He was in an extremely hazy condition and didn't know what had happened. He didn't even know where the accident occurred. The Park officers cleared his brain on this score promptly.

"Ah really don't know, what's ah is, gemmen," he said. They cleared up this point also, and quickly.

"You see ah works for Mr. Donovan out on Fisher and he has a ver fine private stock and ah guess ah must have got some of it." The police agreed with him on that.

The judge settled the case with a $10 fine and Duke's solemn promise to make full restitution for the damage he had done Mr. Kelly's car.

Coming Events Cast Shadows Before Them

Hope Arises for Hot Meals, Delivered at Door Without Fuss or Furor

"Coming events cast their shadows before them". Which calls for a prediction, forthcoming herewith—the time is not far off when the bachelor wishing to entertain without fuss or furor, Mother fresh from a hot afternoon of bridge, or Father caught with his better half down in bed, can pick up the telephone, order one, two or ten hot meals, and have them sent in like a vitamin jolt out of the purple.

This brainstorm rushed over us as we watched a vision in white dash higher and you while we were having lunch in Al Green's immaculate emporium.

Truck Thieves Are Considerate

The car thieves who stole the truck of George W. Arnold of 2130 Montclair, Detroit, from the rear of the Schettler Drug store at Nottingham and Jefferson between 8:30 p. m. and 12:30 a. m. last Thursday morning, took meticulous care that it should be returned to a place of safe keeping when they were through with it.

Park policemen Enders and Hennig found it in the immediate rear of the Park Municipal building.

Some other car thieves who stole the truck of Robert Cole of 929 Bedford, did almost as well by their temporary victim. They took Cole's car some time after 7:40 p. m. Thursday evening from in front of 998 Nottingham, and left it in front of 997 Nottingham, directly across the street from the place of beginning.

This was believed to have been the work of some boys who needed a car temporarily for some social diversion.

Thieves Visit Three Homes In Park, City

$5,000 in War Bonds, Fur Coats, Jewelry Among Articles Stolen

Burglary in the Pointe area stepped up in tempo over the week end. There were three important robberies, two in the Park and one in the City, besides reports from numerous places of attempted entry or where articles of small value were taken. The Park police are of the opinion that all of the larger robberies were the work of one party, (no small fry thief), and one assistant outside who does not enter the houses but is ready with a car for a quick get-away.

A robbery was reported from the Ray Whyte home at 741 Trombley at 3:05 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Whyte were away for a day or so and a brother of Mr. Whyte was staying in the house. Saturday night he came back he found the place well ransacked. The thieves got in by breaking a window in the library on the north side of the house.

Detective Lieutenant Louwers of the Park police said it was impossible in the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Whyte to tell the value of the articles taken, but it is feared that they will total a considerable sum. It is known that Mrs. Whyte had taken her jewelry with her.

On the same night the home of E. W. Rapalee at 1229 Belmont was entered by burglars.

The same party who raided the Whyte home, again the occupants of the house were out. Here the thief got away with $5,000 in Government bonds and other articles of value. They had been in a small safe embedded in the concrete in a basement room. The thief had chiseled away the concrete. He took the entire contents of the safe, among them personal papers of no value to the thief whatever. That night when Mr. Rapalee and Lieutenant Louwers searched the premises they found some of these which the thief had cast aside when he discovered their character. If he is a wise thief he will divest himself also as quickly as possible of the Government bonds as they are registered and the hottest kind of hot stuff for anyone to have found on his person.

Mr. Rapalee said he doubted whether the other things taken were of special value. He was not able however to make a check.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith of 420 Washington road reported a burglary and entry at their home. They had been away from the house between 11 a. m. Wednesday and 4 p. m. Friday. The thief had gotten in by the simple expedient of breaking a pane of glass in the rear of the house and reaching in and turning the knob on the snap lock. A checkup at last reports indicated that a mink coat, a leopard skin coat, a man's pocket watch with the monogram E. S. on the back, and a man's wrist watch had been stolen. The total value of these articles ran between $1,200 and $1,500.

Police Chief Trombley appeals to the citizens to cooperate more carefully with the police in protecting their property. The "watch list" practice is generally observed by all residents of the Pointe when they intend being away for a protracted period, but in addition to this, Trombley suggests that they also let the police know when they are going to be away until late at night. He also recommends that they pass the word to a neighbor that they will be out for the evening, thus enabling the neighbor to phone the police if he observes any suspicious signs about the place.

ANOTHER DOG BITE
Three year old Beverly Bliss of 866 Rivard was bitten on the left hand last Thursday by a dog belonging to William Pain of 17530 Mack avenue. She was taken to the Bon Secours Hospital for treatment and Mr. Pain was directed to keep his dog confined for a twelve day period for observation by the veterinarian.

Contest Announced To Decide on Form Of Pointe Memorial

Honor Roll Association Offering Prizes for Suggestions to Be Judged By Study Group Members

The first practical steps toward ascertaining the sentiment of the Pointe community on the matter of a War Memorial to the men and women of Grosse Pointe who participated in World War II was taken Tuesday by the Study Group.

The question submitted to the residents is; a) Do we want such a memorial, and b) if we do what form shall it take?

To obtain the fullest possible expression of the people on this question an arrangement has been made through the cooperation of the Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Association for three prizes of $100 each to a World War II veteran, a student in Grosse Pointe township and to any other citizen for the most valuable discussion of the subject.

The Study Group issued the following statement Tuesday:

To all residents of Grosse Pointe:

With the publication of this notice, the Permanent War Memorial Study Group of Grosse Pointe officially opens a contest for the best essay dealing with the question of a permanent War Memorial for the Grosse Pointe Veterans of World War II. The competition will end at noon, June 15, 1946, by which time it is hoped most of those in military service will have returned.

In the awarding of the prizes due regard will be given to how well these important questions are answered: (1) Is or is not such a Permanent War Memorial necessary? (2) After it has been built what will be your plan to maintain it and what will be the maintenance cost? (3) How practical is your plan and how can it be made to work? (4) How fitting and appropriate will your plan be for honoring our veterans and would it be a credit to our community? (5) How well written, readable and presentable is your plan? (Should be clear and brief—not over 1,500 words).

The decision of the Permanent War Memorial Study Group will be final and not subject to review. In the case of similar suggestions the award will be made on the basis of first received, all other qualifications being equal.

A prize will be given to the winner in each of the three below classifications. Each prize will be a $100 Victory bond.

Class I—Any World War II veteran who is a resident of Grosse Pointe.

Stranger Pays For Ignorance

Clyde Nelson, 19, will be sentenced January 23 for forcing his way into the car of a Pointe woman last October 30 and threatening to kill her unless she drove him where he ordered.

Nelson, blames his lack of knowledge of Detroit geography for his trouble. After he entered the car of Mrs. Irma Vawter of Buckingham road, he directed her right past police headquarters.

When abreast of the police building, Mrs. Vawter slammed on her brakes and screamed. Officers nabbed Nelson and charged him with assault. He entered a plea of guilty before Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Groat.

Commissioners Plan to Cut Figure with Ladies in Park

The risibilities of the Park village commissioners were much aroused at the meeting Monday night when an application was presented by the Perfect Figure Studio for permission to carry on its business in the Park. The concern, which is about to build an ultra modern establishment in the village has its main headquarters on Washington boulevard and wishes to edge a little nearer the source of many of its most cherished clientele.

"Well," said Commissioner Goddard, "I'm interested myself in a better figure."

"I think most of us could profit by a little skillful refiguration," ventured Commissioner Ulrich.

Then, after the Commissioners had voted unanimously to welcome the beautifying institution to their midst, President Parshall remarked, with a grin of deep satisfaction on his face, "we have certainly done something that should please the ladies of the Park, and just before election, too. What a happy coincidence!"

Mack Avenue Section Kept For Business

Scheme of Small Group of Residents Snowed Under By Vote of 1090 to 173

The voters in the Woods last Monday blasted the proposal to rezone a section on lower Mack avenue into residential area. The vote to rezone was a paltry 173. Those who didn't like the idea of cutting out "a substantial chunk of the village's sole remaining area for commercial development, made their opinions known by a vote of 1090. There were only three ballots that had to be cast out because of faulty marking.

The net result of the special referendum vote on Monday is that the 71 lots, which a few citizens owning homes back of Mack avenue in the rear of these lots wanted forever removed from business uses will now remain available for business sites. The action of the voters, Monday will give the go-ahead signal for several developments which had to be postponed pending the outcome of the election.

It had been feared until a few days prior to the election that the citizens in general in the village would permit the measure to go by default and that the interested residents in the immediate vicinity of the lots would be the only ones to develop any real interest in the matter. This did not prove the case.

Under the last hour agitation of parties who owned lots in the affected area, who saw their values destroyed if the rezoning was permitted, and the late hour

Township Tax Suit Started

Summons Served on Schwei-kart and Damman in Case to Lower Assessments

Summons were served on Township Supervisor Schwei-kart and Township Treasurer Damman Tuesday morning in the name of 25 complainants in the action that has been inaugurated to compel the township to reduce the assessments on lakefront properties.

The attorneys representing them are Fred A. Behr and John R. Watkins.

It is understood that a total count of 41 suits will be started.

Young Rowdies Visit Drug Store

The Cunningham Drug Store at Kercheval and Notre Dame was visited by a gang of young rowdies last Thursday night. They made such a nuisance of themselves the store manager called the police. The boys were kicking over boxes and disturbing the merchandise.

The youngsters apparently got wise to the police call, for they all disappeared just prior to the arrival of the officers.

Explosion

Mr. Benney, of 698 Neff road, phoned the City police one evening last week that there had been a tremendous explosion in his cellar. The firemen reported that his furnace had back-fired and the force of the explosion had blown the stove pipe out of the chimney. No fire had resulted, however.

Students Tangle At High School

A fight among the students at the Grosse Pointe High School was reported January 9 to the Farms police. The boys fled when the police arrived and the fighting ceased.

David Bideau, 16, Robert Elrich, 15, and Robert Roland, 16, were taken into custody for being too unruly.

They were lectured and their respective fathers, who promised no further trouble from their offspring, were phoned to remove the offenders to their homes.

WHITE POLICE CARS
The Park village is going to re-advertise for three new Ford police cars. The cars will be white, Chief Piel giving it as his opinion that this would conduce to more satisfactory police patrol service.

Bernard Hawkins, local vice president, said the strikers here formed the lines "to prevent the telephone company from packing employees inside the exchanges" also said the short notice given by President Weaver made it impossible to change their plans.

Monday has been postponed for one week... it is also announced that new offers, still undisclosed, have been made by both the Steel Workers and the U. S. Steel Corporation... President Truman, in an optimistic mood, believes an agreement will be reached and the strike prevented.

STRIKE OR NO STRIKE in the Nation's communications system hangs by a thread... a conference in progress in Washington this morning may decide the issue... the Telephone Operators' Union is taking a threatening attitude in insisting on compliance with its demands, intimating through one of its spokesmen that the taking over of the telephone and telegraph service of the Nation by the Government would be defied by the communications operators... "a piece of paper will not operate the nation's telephone system."

ALL FORMER SUSPECTS in the Suzanne Degnan kidnapping case are released... a new suspect, "the likeliest clew," a negro handy-man named Wilbur Phillips, aged 45, who had been doing odd jobs in apartment houses less than a block from the Degnan home last week but disappeared immediately after the murder, is placed under arrest for investigation... had been in previous trouble on sex charges and had worked in the identical houses where Suzanne was murdered less than a week earlier.

F. of L. members called for tomorrow will involve none of the 5,000 Detroit members of the union, spokesmen say.

THE 17 1/2 PER CENT WAGE increase looms as the basis for settlement of all wage disputes in the automotive industry... the figure set by the President's fact-finding board in G. M. is under consideration by Ford and will be urged on the Chrysler organization by the union.

Woods Council Is Studying New Parking Lot Ordinance

An ordinance has been prepared by Woods Attorney Julius Berns, at the direction of the village council, which will authorize the Commissioners to grant parking lot privileges to an owner of real estate whose property embraces in a single unit both zone "A" and zone "B" property and where there are no private reservations prohibiting such use.

The ordinance would permit the village commissioners in such case to allow a parking lot on zone "A" property.

Woods to Change Registration Law

The Woods village intends to start proceedings for a change in its charter which will not permit voters to register hereafter right up to the day of voting in ordinary village elections.

The present practice caused much delay and confusion in the referendum vote on Monday. It is the purpose to make the registration provision conform to the usual practice in the other Pointe communities, where a minimum of at least twenty days must elapse between the registration and the election.

POST-HOLIDAY ACCIDENT

The Farms police removed Michael Gleeson, 22, of 14906 Dexter boulevard from the Charles A. Balanger residence, 54 Merriweather road, on January 12 and took him to the Cottage hospital. Mr. Gleeson was chopping up a Christmas tree when the hatchet head came off and hit his right leg, cutting it badly.

Premium Offered For Park's Bonds

A representative of McDonnell, Moore and Company, with offices in the Penobscot building, made an offer to the Park village commissioners at the meeting Monday night to purchase Park village bonds aggregating $40,000 representing the remainder of three different issues which the village holds in its own sinking fund.

Due to the tax free character of the bond's the investment company was able to make a most attractive offer. The high premium which the Park's bonds carry indicates that the bid for issues might be converted into U. S. Government bonds with a profit to the village of $6,633.20 for the average run of twelve years.

The matter was referred to the finance committee, of which Commissioner Karl B. Goddard is chairman. It was decided however that if the village decides to sell the bonds it would have to be subject to bids.

Airplane Motor Given to School

Grosse Pointe High School has been given a 450 horse power Pratt and Whitney aircraft engine. The 9-cylinder radial model has the engine frame cut away to permit students to see the entire workings while being instructed.

Marcel Mahieu and Joseph Moran, donors of the engine, taught radial aircraft mechanics in the Army Air Corps. Mr. Moran is a former graduate of Grosse Pointe High School.

Mathieu and Moran are proprietors of the Harper Auto Service, 20775 Harper at Anita, where they are specializing in the servicing of radial aircraft engines. They also have retained a Willys-Overland automobile agency which the firm held prior to the war.

The Harper Auto Service, which Mr. Mathieu founded in 1938, is the second oldest business establishment in Gratiot Township.

Three Pay Fines In Traffic Court

In Grosse Pointe City police court on Saturday Judge Uvick disposed of the following cases:

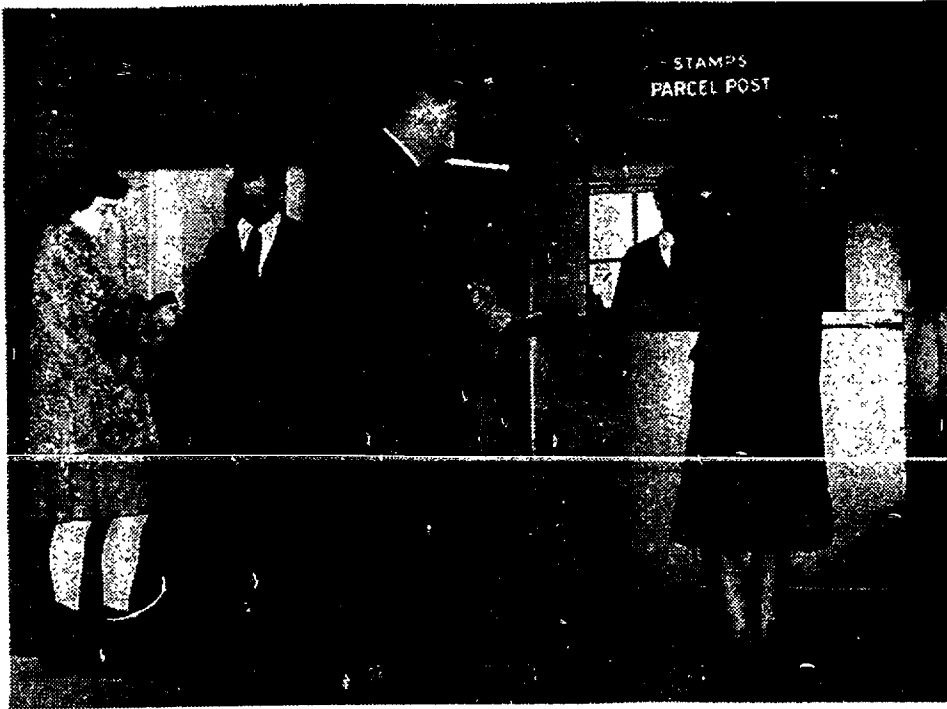

Edward D. Schumacher, for failure to have car under control, causing an accident, was fined $5 and $3.50 costs.

John J. Jennings, Jr. for leaving scene of accident paid $25 and $10 costs.

Mrs. L. C. Robinson, for reckless driving, paid $7 fine and $3 costs.

Down in the Park there was but one case on Court Day, Wednesday morning. Peter Klawson of 410 St. Clair avenue, charged with reckless driving pleaded not guilty and was discharged.

Post Office Gets New Equipment

At long last the new fixtures for the Grosse Pointe post office are in place. The little office has a very businesslike and up-to-date appearance. Much of the delay has been caused by the difficulty of obtaining materials by the manufacturer. Every job of this character has to be especially built for the place in which it is to be used. The equipment consists of the metal front across the end of the office, with the usual windows and cages, and of file cases and storage drawers in the adjoining office where Superintendent Lindow has his desk. It is all metal work with a quartered oak finish. City Clerk Norbert Neff is shown waiting his turn to mail some letters.

14 Draftees Leave Jan. 23

A group of 14 draftees from Local Board 57 will report for induction on January 23, it has been announced. The group will report at the local offices in the Park Municipal Building at 15115 East Jefferson avenue, at 7 a. m.

This is the first group of local draftees which will not be given the customary sendoff party in the Neighborhood Club. The Home Front organization which sponsored these parties with the aid of the Breakfast Club, ceased holding these programs as of the first of the year.

The list being inducted includes: Harry R. Brinck, 950 Teasdale; Duane A. Drew, 20082 Washtenaw; Raymond J. Maurer, 474 Colonial Ct., N.; Thomas J. Kelly II, 905 Balfour; Bryan J.

Custodian Sought For Park's Bonds

The Park village commissioners were notified at their meeting Monday night that the Detroit Federal Reserve Bank will not accept for custody bonds other than those of the United States Government.

Previously the commissioners thought an arrangement had been made with the bank to accept and care for all of the village's bonds. The matter has been referred to the finance committee.

The Park has $890,000 of U. S. Government Bonds, which represents purchases of various issues in the successive Victory loan drives, from both the Sinking fund and General fund accounts. These the Reserve bank will continue to serve for the Park in the same manner as it handles its own holdings. There remains however $70,500 of the Park's own bonds for which another depository will be arranged.

Gift Exhibited In Wrong Place

Last Friday a 16 year old Miss went into Pongracz's jewelry store on Kercheval on an errand. "That's a nice ring you have there," remarked the jeweler, apparently in deep admiration of a heavy gold "Remembrance Ring" the young lady was proudly displaying on her finger.

"Where did you get it?" "Oh," said the Miss with much becoming confusion, "I gave it to me."

"That was sweet of him," said Mr. Pongracz.

The next day he went into a huddle with Police Chief Trombly, the outcome of which was a call by the City police on the amatory youth, who with most unbecoming confusion, acknowledged that he had stolen it from the Pongracz jewelry store three weeks before.

The ring is back on display in the store.

It's when we begin to see the consequences Christianity would have for us that we begin to look for arguments against it.

Milk Chute Burglar Scared Away by Dog

Mrs. Harold Wurster of 855 Balfour reported to the Park police last week that someone had tried to enter her house through the milk chute. She recalled that a dog had barked loudly about 1:30 o'clock in the morning. It is supposed the barking of the dog had scared the marauder away. There was no evidence of his having gotten in to the house although the milk chute was considerably damaged.

Another Taxicab Concern Starting

Albert Atchieny and John P. Hardy, of Detroit, appeared before the Grosse Pointe Park Commissioners Monday night, through their attorney, Miles Culehan, and requested permission to operate a taxicab service in the Park village. The name of their concern, he said, is the Pointe Taxicab company.

Permission was granted them to start business at once, subject however to the provisions of a general ordinance regulating the operation of a taxicab service which the village is now in course of enacting.

Prior to operating however the men operating the cabs will be fingerprinted and photographed for purposes of identification. This procedure is a provision of general law.

Arrangements have already been made by the principals to park their cabs in the rear of a business establishment on East Jefferson near the Park municipal building. Later on a permanent stand will be assigned to them by the Park police department.

Burglar Leads Scene As Family Returns

Mrs. James Henry of 1314 Yorkshire road, reported to the police Thursday evening that just as the family returned to the house they saw a burglar run out of the back door. They had a good view of the marauder.

He was a young man, with no hat, had light hair and wore a light colored jacket. They were not able to discover whether anything had been taken and the belief is that the return of the family had scared him away before he got down to work.

Murray-Reuther Split

However much public opinion may be divided as to the method of the approach to a settlement of the General Motors strike taken by Walter Reuther, head of the General Motors Division of the UAW, and President C. E. Wilson of General Motors Company, everybody whose recollection of strike settlements in the past will easily recall that "inability to pay" has been one of the most common defenses of the employer in opposing wage-increase demands.

Mr. Wilson's curt refusal to admit this as a factor in the wage settlement issue savors of the hard boiled attitude of some of the old time industrialist which has latterly been pretty well squeezed out of the contacts and relationships of employer and employee. President Truman and, obviously, his fact-finding panel, have taken the position that "ability to pay" is a factor in wage disputes worthy of consideration.

The Wilson position, without any further amplification, is one which probably the great majority of persons in this country will not, by itself, approve.

If Mr. Wilson had frankly stated to the General Motors employees and the country at large that he was doubtful whether his company could pay the wages demanded and still remain sure of having enough left to make a reasonable return to its 425,000 stockholders and had borne down strongly on this point, his appeal for popular support for his position would have been infinitely stronger. Every fair minded person in the country, except of course the out and out communist who holds for complete state capitalism, agrees on the justice and rightness of private investment earning a fair return.

Even Mr. Reuther himself, who is commonly regarded as a smart young man with a flair for figures, recognized the basic soundness of private capital's claim. He labored mightily to establish the fact that improved elements, such as greater volume of business, improved manufacturing technique and coming advantages accruing to the company by abatement of taxes, would enable the company to meet his demands and still make satisfactory earnings for its stockholders without increasing the price of cars.

If Mr. Wilson had been able to present figures showing the financial inability of General Motors to meet the strikers' demands and did not do so merely because it suited his whim to take a "none-of-your-business" attitude he made a major tactical mistake. A single industrial unit as large as General Motors with upwards of a half million stockholders is a very different thing from a small manufacturer who must in self defense, because of over threatening competition, zealously guard many of the trade secrets of his business. It is difficult to see why the entire country, including General Motors' own 200,000 employees, should not know what 425,000 people of the country already have the legal right to know.

The mood of the people of this country is not such as to accept with indifference the old Commodore Vanderbilt dictum of "the people be damned." The country has moved far beyond that archaic age.

Of course, the people have had meagre information as to the inner discussions between the company and its employees, upon which to base an enlightened opinion as to the merits of both sides. Such as has come out has appeared chiefly from the labor side of the argument.

It is obvious however that the inclination of public goodwill towards General Motors' side of the controversy has not been strengthened by its lack of open and above-board discussion of an issue, which because of its very magnitude has assumed national proportions.

On Labor's side of this question it has recently disclosed a new policy which will no more appeal to public good will than does the reluctance of General Motors to get down to a frank discussion of all matters that concern a just settlement of the strike. Philip Murray, the supreme head of the CIO and as such in a sense the overlord in the automobile strike situation, is reported to have seriously disagreed with Reuther's presentation of the issue. According to this report he wants left out of the controversy all reference to ability to pay. He counsels the jungle law and wants labor to get all it can, regardless. He holds that organized labor's province is to get more wages and that ability to pay is the employers' own private problem.

He baldly states that there is no issue in the controversy, so far as the worker is concerned, that won't yield to more take home pay in his envelope. He says he wants less economics in the discussion between employer and employee. This is certainly primitive and uncompromising. It will occur to many on the side lines that this is the tactic which might be pursued by those who aim at nothing less than the destruction of private enterprise and the nationalization of all functions of production.

It will strengthen the suspicions already held by many that the big thought behind all the seething and confusion that now pervades the industrial world aims at nothing less than the ultimate and maybe quick destruction of all those economic processes which have carried this country thus far to the pinnacle of greatness and wellbeing never before realized in the history of the world.

Marshall's Triumph

General Marshall has apparently achieved one of the greatest personal triumphs that has come to any individual in modern times. Word came last Sunday that he had succeeded in persuading the Nationalist and Communist factions in China to call off a civil war that has progressed intermittently for the past generation. The communists have been a thorn in China's side, with few pauses, since communism raised its head in Russia in 1917.

General Marshall has succeeded in doing what many other Americans both civil and military have failed to do. The same qualities of patience, persuasion and tact which enabled him to bring about unity of action among the allies in the war have carried him successfully through one of the most difficult diplomatic missions, in by far the largest field, ever assigned to any one man.

The mercurial situation that exists in China makes it too early as yet to enter his work there as finished, but the cease firing order that went out from the headquarters of both Nationalists and Communists last Sunday is the most substantial gesture of peace in that teeming quarter of the world that has appeared thus far.

Veteranews

from the Office of Veterans' Affairs Lansing

That there is a housing problem is without question. Veteran counselors are all too familiar with the returning veteran who needs housing and is unable to find any. Many reasons have been advanced for the housing shortage. The following is a summary of the principal reasons:

- Natural increase in population.
- The lack of building during the war years.
- The migration of populations, particularly to our large urban centers.
- The general increase in prosperity, thus resulting in the separation of family groups, who, in hard times, tend to double up in houses.

There are only three possible solutions to the housing problem. They are:

- Public building.
- Private building.
- Intensive use of existing facilities.

Both public building and private building are severely handicapped because of lack of building materials and building artisans. This condition will not be alleviated for some time. Building materials in ample quantities will not be available until the supplying industries reconverge to a point where their output is sufficient to meet the pent up demand. The shortage of building artisans will not be met until more men are discharged from the armed forces, and a readjustment of other industries releases workers so that they are interested in accepting building jobs. There are other factors, of course, which affect both the supply of materials and workers, but at best it can be said that public building or private building is something which provides only long-range solution to the housing problem.

A long-range solution is an adequate answer for the housing of our population in the next five or ten years, however, the problem is one that is immediate, and a long-range solution is not adequate because veterans need housing and they need it now. It is a poor answer to a veteran who does not have living quarters for his family in the zero weather of a Michigan winter to tell him that he will have a new house five years from now.

This brings us to the third possibility, namely, INTENSIVE USE.

Intensive use means the greater and more complete use of the existing housing in a community. It means persuading those individuals who have excess space to rent those extra rooms to the veteran and his family. In every community there are many cases of widows living alone in eight and ten room houses, and of single families occupying large houses with extra rooms for which they have no immediate use. Every community has a few homes the owners of which could be persuaded to convert a part of their homes into apartments.

Intensive use is a program that can only be carried to a successful conclusion by the community itself. It is primarily a job of salesmanship. It means persuading individuals who have no financial need for extra rent to bring strangers into their homes and disrupt their normal routines and mode of living. In selling this program, it would not be out of line to stress the patriotic aspects; to call to the attention of citizens of the community that they owe a patriotic duty to provide housing in some form for these returning veterans who have sacrificed on the battle fields of this war, continuation of their way of life.

The program is of such importance and so much a community problem that it can only be solved by community-enterprise.

As has become an American tradition, a group of public-spirited citizens in your county and in other counties throughout the nation, have again volunteered their services in behalf of a great cause. The cause is not a new one to you... it is the March of Dimes to raise funds for polio victims carried on each year from January 14th to January 31st by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The members of your County Chapter are giving freely of their time and talents to make this year's campaign a success, but without your cooperation their efforts will be wasted. Your support of this campaign in the past proves that you understand the desperate need for funds to carry on the battle... to make sure that each tiny victim is rescued and treated so that one day he may walk and laugh and play again... to relieve the suffering in each home where the tragedy has struck... to educate doctors and nurses and physiotherapists in the best known methods of treatment... and eventually, through our research to find a means of prevention and a cure for the dread disease.

Naturally, as a newspaper man you also understand—better than anyone else—the important part publicity plays in raising these funds. We don't mean publicity in the Hollywood sense of the word. We mean bringing to the public the facts. Unfortunately, infantile paralysis is an expensive, unpredictable, seemingly never-ending affair and until we can crush it out it will continue to be our responsibility to care for its victims. And so once more we are asking you to help us in our fight, by bringing to the attention of the public in any way which is compatible with your editorial policy, the need for funds to fight the polio menace.

Post War Crime

The predictions made by practically every competent police authority in the country that the end of the war would see a revival of crimes of violence is being fulfilled daily in the columns of the newspapers throughout the country. Detroit's latest instance of this situation is in the confession of the nineteen year old ex-soldier who strangles to death a woman whom he picked up in a drinking saloon who was old enough to be his mother.

These crimes are in no way indicative of the composite character of the young men who have just fought and magnificently won the greatest war in history.

The logical explanation is that millions of young men were taken from the quiet and more or less protected surroundings of home and school and workshop and catapulted into the most barbarous and savage calling the man animal can lend himself to; organized murder under the legalized caption of war.

The character of millions of these young men was still in a plastic state. Their first instructions were to kill, quickly and skillfully, or be killed themselves.

The unavoidable devastating moral effect of this kind of maturing experience is being exhibited in the daily records. It is impossible to prescribe a fixed formula for meeting the situation. While justice cannot be passed by in the immediate treatment of these cases the first responsibility rests on the fathers and mothers and older relatives of these reckless youths to point the better way of living by example rather than by mere precept. With these boys, as certainly as with youth in all periods of the past, the delinquencies of the younger generation find their roots in the example and precepts of the older groups.

The unhappy woman who was the victim in this case, particularly as the mother of a son in the service, had no business to mix up in a saloon with a boy of probably her own son's age.

Biting the Hand

Harold Lasky, chairman of the British Labor Party says that the "America of big business is reactionary in international relations."

Reactionary, of course is a word admitting of varying interpretations. Currently, from Mr. Lasky's position at least, it means all who do not subscribe to government by pressure groups such as the present labor government in Great Britain, but more particularly to the dictatorship scheme which prevails in Russia where no parties not agreeing with Communism are tolerated.

It will occur to many on this side of the water that Mr. Lasky's pet opinions at the moment at least are tactless, to put it mildly. Despite our "reactionary" position Mr. Lasky's own government in Britain is desperately anxious to obtain a loan of some $4,400,000,000 from us reactionaries. They consented to accept the loan the other day in Communism with suspicious alacrity. And Russia, that other beau ideal in human government, let it be known many months ago that as soon as the fighting was over her hand would be extended in the same direction for a trifling matter of $6,000,000,000.

And all from a country which has 50,000,000 capitalists and every dollar of whose wealth had its origin in private and free enterprise.

Mr. Vinson, our Secretary of the Treasury, says we will have to let Britain have the money to stave off economic world chaos. Maybe so; and doubtless Britain will get her handout. The loan to Russia merely still exists as our ace in the hole. This is the real, though yet scarcely mentioned factor, which gives us an edge in our efforts to persuade the chesty Muscovite to play the civilized man's game in the attempt to arrange a world cosmos rather than world chaos for the future. The atomic bomb intrigues the public thought of the world but the little "accommodations" are the substances in which both the Briton and the Russian are sinking their teeth.

It is unkind of Mr. Lasky to suggest biting the hand that feeds him.

January 15, 1946

Sir:

As a subscriber, I am writing this in protest against your definition "the and feathers" article about young William Dietlers. It is hardly fair in a community where children are given better than the average opportunities that you devote your largest front page space to the persecution of a boy who is more child than adult.

The youngster made one mistake and it was a very bad mistake but, from what I understand, it was still one mistake. Why not give him the same break other juvenile law breakers have had from their community?

For instance, several years ago another boy, older than Bill Dietlers, was given a car by a dating father and because he lacked maturity of judgment in the use of the car, he snuffed out the lives of two very fine old people. That boy was not railroaded. In fact he later became known that his father had bought him a new car to replace the one wrecked destroying irreplaceable lives. There was no public appeal to throw either father or son out of Grosse Pointe. Was that because of lack of advertising, compassion for youth, or parental influence?

When the tragic affair took place last spring I asked my high school son and his friends about the Dietlers boy. They were shocked too, because Bill Dietlers had seemed to be an "all right guy" except that he was always reading murder and crime stories. So, somebody had slipped up on the job at an age when boys need the most help and affection. A psychiatrist or perhaps a little closer supervision would surely have averted tragedy for two children and their families.

I was thankful to hear, this fall, that the Stahl boy had recovered sufficiently to return to school. With sane guidance he is less likely to become neurotic than to outgrow and forget his terrible experience.

The Dietlers youngster is the victim now—one young boy who made one bad mistake being persecuted by adults. What do these neurotic people want done? To put him away in a criminal institution to be sure his life is ruined completely? It makes me very ashamed because these same people would feel so very differently about a child of their own.

How nice it would be if your paper had the courage to give the youngster a fighting chance to become a normal citizen. You will find more people in Grosse Pointe who feel compassion for this poor, mixed-up young boy than those whose vindictiveness would lock him up. Surely the boy must have suffered more than is right for one so young. Grown-ups simply don't fight children—or do they?

Yours truly,
(Mrs. George) Dorothy A. Beranck.

Rabaut Announces Exams for Point

Congressman Louis C. Rabaut announces that an examination to determine eligible candidates for the 1946 appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point will be held on February 6, 1946, in Detroit and certain other designated places.

It had not been expected that the Civil Service Commission would be able to give the examination at this time, and therefore the announcement is delayed.

Young men residing in the 14th Congressional District for at least two years (although they may now be serving in the armed forces), who are interested in such an appointment should write immediately to Congressman Rabaut, 1227 House Office Building, Washington 25, D. C. Because of the late date of the examination such letters should be received by him by January 14th.

Under a new law, approved December 11th, boys, who have served honorably in the armed forces, may be up to 24 years of age at the time of their admission to West Point.

They will be given a competitive examination by the U. S. Civil Service Commission on February 6th, and the winner and alternates will be nominated by the Congressman. A letter of admission to the examination will be mailed to all those addressing Congressman Rabaut on or before January 14th.

the other noon. "What," we asked, "is going on?"

Al explained his latest venture into the realm of satisfying man's inner man. He has signed a contract with United Airlines to supply meals for five flights a day leaving Detroit. This calls for 120 meals per diem, all prepared in the famous Green kitchens. The vision in white was Miss Jeanne Wasem, dietician for United, who advises, oversees, and praises the manner in which things are being handled.

We hustled to the United Air Lines section of Al Green, Inc., and arrived in time to see a crew preparing a tasty pear salad with cream cheese balled up in the proper place. We were shown the containers in which complete trays, each containing a full meal, are transported to the air terminal. There is a hot container for the entire, vegetable and potato, and counter-sunk spaces hold the coffee, salad, salad dressing, dessert, salt and pepper, cream, sugar, etc.

That's when the idea came to us... standing there watching those trays being loaded, ready for the airport. What a break for the bachelor, Mother, etc.

We broached the idea, delicately, to Monsieur Green. "Could be," he ejaculated with his usual over-abundance of wordage. So, don't place your orders yet, but one can hope, can't one?

Certain Vitamins

By FRED M. KOPP, R.7h.

Because Vitamins in their natural or prepared state are necessary to life itself, it is a mistake to think that doing one's self with them will work miracles.

Vitamins are essential to life and health. They keep the body tissues in good condition, they assist in obtaining energy from the food you eat. They are vital to proper assimilation.

But you must know what you are doing, what specific Vitamins are needed by your own system, where your particular deficiency is; and how many and how often to take them.

Otherwise you may be wasting your money. Let your doctor check for your particular needs.

A good druggist stocks the freshest, purest, most dependable Vitamins.

Good Pointes and Bad

by RAY HENRY

The Name is Ed
ED HUNT, the man in our town who—in record breaking time—fashioned the huge Chrysler Tank Arsenal out of a growing corn field, was appointed top production man for the new Kaiser-Frazer cars. TIME magazine carried the story, listing him as Edward J. Hunt. This was a boner. Ed was christened ELGAR. We doubt if Ed would answer either to Edward or Elgar, having always been called by friends and co-workers all along the line just plain, solid, one syllable Ed.

Of the People

THE ERNEST C. KANZLERS are making such extensive repairs to the Stephens home they purchased on Lake Shore road, it is believed a year or longer will elapse before they can call it home sweet home. . . . HUGH LOUGHNA, who came through the wars unscathed, broke an elbow the first month in civies—the cast comes off this week. . . . CHUCK CLEMENTS of Neff road was honored by election to the board of directors of Canada's Beach Grove Country Club. . . . OUR FAVORITE announcement during the holiday season was the engagement of MARY LOU MURPHY to JOHN (PETE) FEACOCK. Mary Lou, who had more admirers than sticks to shake at them, made the right choice—friends heartily agree. . . . when she chose Pete, Pete, who was in the Navy, is now studying law. During the past year he quietly edited the PUNCH & JUDY GAZETTE, GI sheet that proved to be one of the big home front successes of the Pointe. We take special pleasure in congratulating the happy couple.

Incidentally, the final issue of the GAZETTE will go out this week under the sponsorship of MRS. GLENN ANDERSON at her home on Merriweather road. Guest editors will be a group of returned GI's who have received the mag in fox holes and front lines the world over. They will include OE JENNINGS, KEN DUFFY, brothers JOHN and TOM HATCHER, GEORGE BROOKS, JOHN HUME, JR., DICK FRANZEN, PAUL PER-SHACK, FRANCIS MORAN, and Grosse Pointe's budding humor-ist, CHIP WILLIAMS. The last issue promises to be a four star final.

Their Move

WHEN MRS. EDWARD REIG-LER found that her hubby would return from the wars on Febru-ary 1, it started which she thought was a housing problem. She has been living with her parents, the CHRIS HANSENS on McKinley road, and now that ED would be home, they'd want possession of their own home in Grosse Pointe Woods. Mrs. Reig-ler was reluctant to serve notice on the people renting the house because they had been careful,

A surprise party was the order of the day on Saturday, January 5. SUSAN JOHNSTONE and SARA STEPHENSON were the guests of honor, for their birth-days happened to fall on that day. So Pat Day invited all of their friends over for a pot-luck supper and a slumber party. Ileana Lindh, Jo Singer, Jennie Quirk, Verna Roberts, Joy Wil-liams, Cynthia Blean, Mary Mason, Shila Macomb, Mary Nebel and Jean Kimbrell offered their congratulations to Susan and Sara.

BARBARA LAWSON invited a few of her Liggett classmates over for luncheon on Monday, January 7, before school started. Eating spaghetti and talking over vacation doings were Julie Mar-shall, Izzie Baxter, Nancy Roehm, Joy Stienbauch, Cubby Rockle-man, Joyce Crawford, Phyllis Fraser, Christine Boomer, Punky Bryant, Ann Doegehold and Sue Casper.

Welcoming home PEDER FIELD from Florida, a group of his friends gathered at MARGIE BULL'S home on Friday night. While she was wondering in her own kindness what to do about it, the tenants called and apologetically explained that sudden changes in their little world made it imperative that they give up the house by Feb-ruary 1, and would Mrs. Reigler mind? The housing problem that wasn't there was solved, and the Reiglers will be reunited under their own roof on schedule.

MARY TRUMBULL asked a few of her friends to lunch with her on Saturday. Afterwards, Shirley Somers, Mary Lou Ew-ing, Andy Klingbiel, Donna Dahlen, Ione Hedges, Barbara Galliano, and Ann Leininger could be seen deeply engrossed in a game of bridge.

EVIE OSBORN gave a "coke-tail" party before the Senior Prom on Saturday. Frank Mc-Brum was there with Evie, Mary Butterfield with Ray Bandemeier, Barb Moran with Al Forest, Maggie Hanson with Don Barrett, Alma Larson with Chuck Hilgen-dorf, Sue Hoffmann with Joe Bracken, and Barb Blair with Bob Axford.

Ginger ale and cookies were served to many a dancer at the Senior Prom. The dance was given by the 12B class at Grosse Pointe High School in honor of the graduating seniors. Macky Macpherson and Marilyn Buck wrote the invitations, while Jeff Welsher secured Bill Gail to supply the music, and Butch Skau, Alex Jemal and Bob King took care of the refreshments. Leading the Grand March were the 12A officers, President Dick Finch and Vice-President Betty Jo Faulk, Secretary Joan Fast and Bill Lord, and Treasurer Alma Larson and Chuck Hilgen-dorf.

DEBBY HERSHLEB celebrat-ed her birthday on Sunday by asking some of her pals to come over after supper.

Donation Made By Salem Guild

The Salem Memorial Ladies Guild has started the New Year by donating $25.00 towards the purchase of the Altar brass for the new church. The money will be put into the Altar fund which the Salem Branch Church has begun for the purchase of Altar necessities. All contributions are gratefully received.

The new church is progressing rapidly in spite of set-backs due to weather conditions. The congregation of the Branch Church is looking forward to first services in the new building on or before Easter Sunday. The structure is located at Chester avenue and East Seven Mile road.

The Ladies Guild has also planned the first Valentine Box Social, to be held in the home of Mrs. Melvin Neuman, 1556 Hollywood, Grosse Pointe Woods.

The members regret that this must be a closed affair for members and their husbands. The Guild has increased so rapidly in membership since its organization in September of last year that it is quite impossible to include the members' many friends at this time. They are looking forward to the opening of the new church to remedy this condition.

Young Eatons On Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Berrien Eaton, Jr. left for Charlottesville, Va., following their marriage Saturday in St. James Church in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Eaton, who is the son of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Berrien Eaton, of Bishop road, met his bride in Brisbane, Australia in 1943. She is the former Mrs. Betty Carita Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McDonald, of Queensland, Australia.

The Pointer was a captain in the First Cavalry Division stationed in Brisbane, while Mrs. Eaton was attached to General MacArthur's staff. They met again in Manila last spring. The captain went on to Tokyo and returned to the States on terminal leave in November.

Mrs. Eaton arrived here for the holidays. She was unattended at the wedding, and Mr. Eaton's only attendant was Lieut. Col. Douglas Horning.

A reception in the Casino Club preceded the ceremony.

The newlyweds will return to the Pointe to make their home with the senior Eatons until spring, when Mr. Eaton will continue his law studies at the University of Virginia.

Betrothed to Navy Flier

Owens of Highland Park, Ill. Claire is a senior at Olivet College and the bridegroom, formerly in the Naval Air Corps, will soon resume his studies at Indiana University.

Adult Dramatic Group Very Busy

The Adult Dramatic group, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, is taking on the character of a well rounded play group. Although the membership is small, the group is working on three one-act plays.

"Parted on Her Wedding Morn," by Leland Price, is an old-fashioned melodrama. "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet," by Charles George is a comedy for the fair sex. "The Devil and Daniel Webster," by Stephen Vincent Benet, is a bit more ambitious in character and requires a larger cast. It is planned to present these plays to the public late in February or early March.

Several former Pointe players have joined the group, among them Mrs. Janet Butterfield, Lois Ann Neumeyer, Thomas Crowley and Bruce Mehlenbacher. Other members, who have already proven their talents in other organizations are Mrs. R. D. Hummel, Mrs. D. Worley, Helen Welsh, Ann Webster, Richard Diers and Thomas Hedges.

Pointers are Elected To Head Two Leagues

Mrs. Henry Hubbard and Mrs. J. Stewart Hudson Honored By Planned Parenthood Organizations

The Michigan and Detroit Leagues for Planned Parenthood held their annual meetings at the Detroit Leland Hotel on Monday, January 14. Other officers are Mrs. Edward R. Rothman, Birmingham, recording secretary; Mrs. T. Taylor Maxwell, Detroit, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Harry W. Kerr, Grosse Pointe Farms, treasurer. The new chairman of the financial advisory committee is James Inglis, of Ann Arbor. New board members include Mrs. Campbell Harvey, Orchard Lake, and Mrs. Charles S. Mott, Flint.

In the Detroit League, Mrs. James McEvoy of Detroit was named honorary chairman and Mrs. J. Stewart Hudson of Grosse Pointe Farms was elected chairman. Also elected were Mrs. David Levy, Detroit, vice-chairman; Mrs. Edward P. Wright, Grosse Pointe Farms, recording secretary; Mrs. Melville Welt, Detroit, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles H. Symington, Grosse Pointe Farms, treasurer, and Mrs. L. Butler Higbie, Grosse Pointe, asst. treasurer. Dr. George Kamperman is chairman of the medical advisory committee.

At a joint luncheon meeting of the two leagues, which followed the business meetings, the guest speaker was Dr. Clarence Tosach, chairman of the Maternal Health Committee, Michigan State Medical Society. Dr. Tosach explained in detail the several methods of overcoming sterility in married couples desirous of having babies. Work in this field has progressed tremendously in the past few years, it was pointed out by Mrs. Henry Hubbard in her introductory talk as chairman of the Michigan League.

Referral service in the field of fertility is now part of the three-fold function of the League for Planned Parenthood. Mrs. Hubbard said, the other aims being to continue to give marriage counseling and to maintain three clinics where married couples may come for information on how to space their babies according to their individual needs.

Five members of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America on January 22 and 23 at the Waldorf Astoria in New York City. Mrs. J. Stewart Hudson and Mrs. James McEvoy will go from the Detroit League; Mrs. Henry Hubbard, Mrs. Edward R. Rothman, and Mrs. J. Howard Stephenson will represent the Michigan State group.

Their son, Harry, was here for the holidays, but has resumed his studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston.

Schedule Talk By Allen Haden

"Is South America a Friend or Enemy?" This question will be answered by Allen Haden, brilliant correspondent in South America for the Chicago Daily News, who will lecture at Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning,
January 23, at 11 o'clock.

Haden recently returned from his latest assignment in the neighboring Republics after filling intimately revealing newspaper stories of the latest developments in the disturbed political set-up there. During his 10 months' stay, he divided his time between Argentina, Uruguay, Chili, Bolivia, Colombia and Brazil.

The noted correspondent received his high school education in Detroit, later graduating from the University of Chicago. His first post in the foreign service was as junior vice-council to Genoa, Italy. In 1933 came an assignment as secretary of the American delegation to the abortive London Conference, and immediately after, he went to Buenos Aires.

Haden resigned from government service to organize the Diplomatic News Bureau in Washington. His association with the Chicago newspaper dates from 1940, and since then he has covered all the significant South American events. He is a fluent speaker, and has been heard frequently over the air on the Chicago Round Table programs.

An Easy Menu to Prepare When Company Is Coming

By BETSY NEWMAN

I've been thinking of the brides who are new to the business of keeping house, and who are entertaining the friends of the returned soldier-husband as well as the old pals of both.

A roast is the easiest meat to cook for a guest dinner, as it is just put in the roaster in the oven, and cooked at proper temperature, seasoned appropriately and is ready to serve.

Today's Menu

Fruit or Tomato Cocktail
Roast Beef Roasted Potatoes
Baked Squash
Celery, Olives, Raw Carrot Sticks
Currant Jelly Ice Cream
Cake with Cocoa Whipped Cream
Frosting
Coffee

Roast Beef

4 or 5 lb. standing Rib Roast
Salt, pepper
1 or more onions
Bay leaf
Wipe roast with damp cloth, and put into oven set at between 325 and 350 deg. F. It is best to put it on a rack in the roasting pan. Do not cover, and allow about 20 mins. roasting time to the lb. of meat, unless you like it very well done when you might allow 25 min. to the pound. After one hour, add one or more small onions (according to whether you intend just to season the meat or to serve the onions with it. Salt and pepper the meat and add 1 or 2 small bay leaves if you like the flavor; try it, anyway, if you have never used bay leaves with a roast of beef before.

Add peeled potatoes, arranging them around the meat, and sprinkling them with salt, continuing cooking until potatoes are tender. If there is much fat in the pan, pour off all but about 2 tbsp., add 3 tbsp. flour, blend until smooth, add warm water, and stirring all the time, mix to a smooth gravy.

Taste to be sure it is seasoned enough, strain through a wire strainer into the gravy boat. The potatoes should be brown and toothsome by the time the meat is done if you add them from 45 to 60 mins. before the meat is finished. Use the frozen squash, season well with butter, pepper and salt, put in casserole and bake.

Cocoa Whipped Cream Frosting
1/2 tsp. unflavored gelatin
2 tsp. cold water
1/4 c. confectioner's sugar
1/2 c. cocoa
Dash salt
1 c. heavy cream, chilled
Few drops vanilla

Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 mins., melt over hot water, cool slightly. Sift sugar, cocoa and salt together. Whip cream until just stiff, add cocoa mixture gradually, then vanilla, and gelatin, and beat until stiff enough to stand in peaks. Spread on cake at once.
This makes enough for two layers.

Mother of Six Writes

By Garry Cleveland Meyers, Ph.D.

"Dear Dr. Meyers: I have been reading your daily column in the paper for nearly two years now and wish to thank you for the great help you have been to me in bringing up my family.

"We have four boys, 9, 7, 5, and 8 months, and two girls, 6 and 2.
So you see I started on them early when it does the most good.

"Since I have no outside help, you can see how necessary it is for the children to do what they can to help keep things going. By using your suggestions, I have been quite successful.

Oldest Boys

"During school last term, the two oldest boys were in the first and third grades. Before leaving for school in the morning they each made their own beds. On the one or two occasions they 'forgot,' they had to sit for fifteen minutes at noon when they were eager to be back early to play.
They also dressed and combed their hair themselves and frequently got their own breakfast.

"When summer vacation started, I divided the daily 'brush-up' work among the eldest four, each one to be finished not later than 10:30 a. m. The time limit was put on after the first few days of dawdling half the day. So now, even with six small children, I don't have to be ashamed of the house if some one drops in unexpectedly. Of course, on Saturday, I work right with them, inspecting, instructing, and helping so that everything gets a thorough cleaning.

Teach Ironing

"I am teaching the same four to iron too. They do their own play clothes, of course not too well as yet, but they are getting better. It takes more time to teach them than to do it myself, but I am looking forward to future dividends.

"I am especially grateful for the chair-sitting idea. Have been quite successful with only an occasional spanking thrown in for extra impression.

"Needless to say, the boys as well as the girls dust, make beds, do dishes. Even the two-year-old wants a dust rag when she sees the others doing their jobs."

"Don't you admire this mother for the way she is teaching those children to help her? See what must be happening to these youngsters inside. She is helping them win treasures which moths can't corrupt nor thieves steal, moral treasures they can keep as long as they live.

Another Mother

Another mother writes: "Since my husband travels a great deal, I have had to learn to be alone a great deal and have found it not only pleasant, but very profitable to my nerves and morale. I decided to try it on my baby when I realized how much a little peace and quiet would do for me, so I have made a habit since she was three months old to place her in a quiet room and a safe bed for 15 minutes before her nap time.

She plays without fussing during this time and goes on to sleep when naptime comes without my ever going back into the room.
The rest of the day, we visit friends, play together or alone as we wish. She is a well-balanced baby, has no fear or shyness, plays and reacts normally for her age, and has never shown the slightest nervousness." This looks good to me.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. How can I break my daughter, fifteen months old, of the habit of being rocked to sleep?

Our Heartfelt Thanks

It is fitting, on the occasion of moving into our new home, that we, the owners and management of the Grosse Pointe News, should express our appreciation for the many things that have made this move both necessary and possible.

The NEWS was founded in November 1940, as a business venture, but with the sincere purpose of serving the people of the five Pointe municipalities. We did not dare dream then, that within a little more than five years, our acceptance in the community would make it possible to erect this building. We are deeply grateful:—

To our readers, for their encouragement, their helpful criticism, their contributions to our news and editorial columns, their whole-hearted interest and cooperation.

To the civic leaders of the Pointe, municipal officials and employees who have been most helpful in enabling us to gather and disseminate the news of the community.

To the religious, educational and social leaders and organizations which have co-operated with us so splendidly.

To our advertisers, without whom the NEWS could not have long survived.

To the military and to patriotic organizations whose help has enabled us to carry so complete a coverage of our men and women in service.

Especially to those men and women in service, who kept America free and made such enterprises as the NEWS possible.

To all of our employees, past and present, for their enthusiasm and cooperation.

To all the others who have contributed in large ways and small to the success which the NEWS has enjoyed, our sincere thanks.

Several thousand of our very dearest friends have coyly suggested that now is the time for a house-warming party. The idea is a commendable one and not to be cast aside lightly.

However, while we have moved into our new building, we are far from settled. Workmen still creep out from under desks. All the furniture has not arrived. Piles of unsorted records from the old office still clutter corners. The cup that cheers is very difficult to fill.

We are very proud of our new home, even in its unsettled state, and we are most anxious to have all of our friends see it. We shall be happy to welcome any who care to drop in. The party will have to wait, but the latch-string is out to all. The address is 99 Kercheval, or just look for the Flower-Pot, the building with the tree growing out of its center.

He loitered there for nine days before he was informed that the boat he was to be assigned to was back at Norfolk. Back to Norfolk was the next step in his odyssey. He was there so few hours it was hardly worth mentioning when he was on his way again to Pearl Harbor, this time through the Panama canal. He is outward bound there now. Ensign Burchenal was graduated at the Grosse Pointe High School in '42. He has an older brother, JOHN SELDEN BURCHENAL, who is a Signalman 2/c in the Navy. At present John is at Sasebo, Japan.

JAMES STEIN, seaman, first class, USNR, 519 Barrington road, Grosse Pointe Park, has been discharged, after honorable service in the Navy, at the personnel separation center in San Diego, Calif.

In civilian life he was owner of the Art Window Cleaning Co. in Grosse Pointe.

HOWARD P. BALLANTYNE, from the Army and is home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Ballantyne of 35 McKinley place.

He was in service 33 months, 18 of which were spent in combat duty in the ETO. He was with the famous "Thundering Herd," the Eighth Armored Division, which was a part of the Ninth Army under Simpson. He has a unit citation and three battle stars.

PEARL HARBOR, T. H.—CPL. MICHAEL W. DILLON, son of Mrs. Edward J. Dillon, of Rivard boulevard, Grosse Pointe 30, Mich., is home.

Dillon is one of 300 high-point Marine veterans whom the "Magic Carpet" brought back to the States aboard the U.S.S. Roi. The U.S.S. Roi—one of more than 250 carriers, battleships, cruisers, and attack transports in the Navy's famed "Magic Carpet" fleet—left Pearl Harbor, Saturday, December 1.

The Rotary Club entertained three men just returned from service at the Monday meeting. They were there as the guests of Ray H. Wurtz and all had had long and distinguished service in the fighting forces.

Bandits

It is believed however that there is more somewhere still unaccounted for.

All three of the men entered the house masked, one armed with a shot gun and a second with a revolver. The third man did the collecting.

When they left the place, according to their statement, they all scattered in a northerly direction. The shotgun was found in some bushes where the men told the police they had thrown it.

It was the shotgun man who covered the party with the warning that "this is a hold-up."

The hold-up occurred next door to the home of City Police Commissioner Clarence D. Blesed.

Victims of the stick-up in addition to Mr. Hayes, were his niece, Mrs. Carl E. Kane and her husband, who live in the Hayes home, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Hart of 246 Hillcrest road, Robert C. Kales of 1730 Burns avenue, Detroit, and Dr. Edward K. Carmichael of Hillcrest road.

Dr. Carmichael had gone into the house when the robber carrying the shotgun and with a sweater pulled over his face, burst in and leveled the gun at him. The doctor thought it was some sort of joke and brushed the muzzle of the gun aside, with which the robber struck him over the head with the butt of the gun, inflicting a severe bruise.

In a search of the area surrounding the scene of the robbery during the day Chief Trombly of the City and officers with him picked up several of the purses belonging to the party. By the end of the day all of the missing wallets had been recovered except that belonging to Mr. Hayes. One recovered belonged to one of the ladies and still had in it some of her jewelry.

At noon the chief took Conway and Gogolin down to the county prosecutor's office where Prose-

Woods Studying New Park Plan

The Woods Village Planning Commission has asked the Village commissioners to meet with it Monday evening in the Council room for an informal discussion of the progress that has been made in studying the development of the 42 acre tract the village purchased a year ago on Mack avenue opposite Torrey Woods.

The Planning Commission has retained landscape architect Albert E. Munson of Detroit to consult with the members.

The purchase was authorized by a vote of the citizens of the Woods, and the property was acquired for development as a fine village park and also with the thought in mind that eventually a suitable village hall would be erected there also.

Mr. Munson is sketching the development in such manner as to preserve as far as possible the many fine trees on the tract.

In the first 4,394 pages in the record of the Pearl Harbor investigation, 1,219 pages were necessary to record the inquiries of Senator Ferguson.

IS PUBLIC EDUCATION COLLAPSING?

An exhaustive study by Allen Shoenfield of The Detroit News staff reveals an alarming situation in Michigan.

Teachers are leaving, buildings are deteriorating. From one-room schoolhouse to state university, education is being starved by neglect, lack of funds and political scheming. Education is at a crisis.

What are you going to do about it? First, read the Shoenfield articles. Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, says: "I think this is the best popular exposition of the school problem I have ever seen in print."

As Told to Mary Madison

SYNOPSIS OF THE STORY SO FAR

I thought of Miranda. The Play-boys were playing a waltz. One of those tunes that if shaken up with too much syrup is unbearably schmaltz. But they made a good toddy of the waltz. I could see Miranda in the lift of that melody as I'd seen her on this same dance floor early Sunday morning. And when I thought of her, I thought not of swaying fannies and distracting legs. I thought of the cascade of flame-tipped hair, the gleam of white shoulders. I thought of the clear intense blue of the eyes above those imperiously arched white shoulders, thought of love, and how it was like nothing so much as an ecstatic kiss of a sword in your vitals. I knew. I felt the sword. Hell, was I getting maddled after two drinks? Was I feeling so sophomoric that I had Miranda all mixed-up poetry and music and—yes, heaven.

She was here in this ballroom tonight. I could feel her. I could feel her when Jack had been riding that platinum horn, feel the eerie swish of her gay young ghost: anathema to the young man was earthbound, trembling to the raper's kiss of those trumpet notes as I myself was trembling.

I hardly noticed that the band had stopped playing. I saw Jack Pendleton swinging up to our table with one of his celebrated convivial smiles, cordial but a bit on the wane side right now. He sat down with us, ordering a pot of black coffee.

Carroll said: "That's quite a band you have, Pendleton. I

The song was a mongrel blues, hot and heavy with the longings of the New Orleans black belt and Sue sang it with a nostalgia no white girl should have registered. "You burn me up, and You knock me cold". I thought, they could never censor that song by cutting the banal words; they could only censor it by cutting that white throat of hers.

The slim, dark figure, before the microphone crumpled, falling swiftly, softly, as a misty black wraith to the floor. Jock Pendleton was at her side. He was signalling to the band to hit a crescendo; to ignore her collapse. Remember, you're still on the air! But by some ghostly hand, they stopped.

So this was Carroll’s strategy. Get her to talk, here, spontaneously, with eyes focused mercilessly on her, so she wouldn’t have the chance to concoct excursions in her story. In a low steady voice, step by step she went over her version of her movements, stressing as she had in her talk with me, her feeling that the man she had seen coming up from the pier was the one who had murdered Miranda.

Grosse Pointe's Natators Swamp Royal Oak by 60-24

Local Tank Stars Win Eight Out of Nine Events on Schedule To Take Victory By 60-24 Score

By FRED RUNNELLS

Winning eight out of nine events the Grosse Pointe High School swimming team humbled the Royal Oak Acorns, 60-24 last Friday in the Blue Devils' home pool. Buster Pinkston was the star of the afternoon in winning the 40 yard free style and the individual medley relay events to become the only double winner of the meet.

Royal Oak's only victory came in the 100 yard back stroke event when Rumbel touched out Earl Lapp by a fraction of a second. The finish was so close that the time keepers were split in their decision on the winner until the official starter cast his vote for the Royal Oak boy.

Buster Pinkston and Marty Beer gave the Blue Devils a lead (which they never relinquished) in the first event, the 40 yard free style. Pinkston was first off the mark and was in first place all the way with Marty Beer close behind for a one-two finish. Freshman Bob Jenks kept the ball rolling when he won the 100 yard breast stroke event. Bill Kildow received a scare for the first 100 yards of the 200 yard free style event when Harmes of Royal Oak matched him stroke for stroke but Harmes tired under the fast pace and steadily dropped back and finished third behind Kildow and Gerhart Gainsley, another freshman on the squad who will give Kildow trouble in the very near future in this event.

Dan LaFerte gave the fans the thrill of the meet in the 100 yard free style event. LaFerte looked like a beaten boy at the 80 yard turn because Mosner from Royal Oak had a three yard lead at this point. LaFerte put on a terrific burst of speed in the last lap, made up the three yard deficit and added three more yards for his margin of victory. This was the outstanding swimming feat of the afternoon, LaFerte gained six yards in the last twenty yards of the event.

Buster Pinkston dominated the individual medley relay event by holding a five yard lead at the end of the breast stroke leg of the race and continued to increase the lead to ten yards on the back stroke leg and win the event by twenty yards with a phenomenal burst of speed in the free style leg. Teammate Cobby Bartlett soundly whipped the Royal Oak boys in this event when he finished second by a good seven yards.

Don Duncan won the diving event easily for the Blue Devils, over Watson and Butler, who finished second and third respectively. (At this point this writer wishes to make a retraction. Several weeks ago I said Bob Johnson was Grosse Pointe's No. 2 diver. That is not true, I was informed. Coach Banach rates Duncan and Johnson ever as far as diving ability is concerned.)

The 180 medley relay team, composed of Lapp, Jenks and Wolf, attempted to break the pool record but failed. They did succeed in making the Acorn team look bad. Earl Lapp grabbed a three yard lead on the first lap and Bob Jenks increased it to fifteen yards. Bill Wolf, swimming free style, lapped the Royal Oak boy and won the event by twenty five yards.

Paul Friese, Dave Kaiser, Dan LaFerte and Marty Beer closed the meet with a five and a half yard victory in the 160 yard free style relay.

Grosse Pointe will travel to River Rouge next Friday afternoon in an attempt to keep its victory string alive. The meet will be held in the River Rouge pool at 4 p. m.

School News

TROMBLY SCHOOL

Canada, our neighbor across the lakes, has been the central theme of the social studies in Mr. Welchenbach's 5B-1 class during recent weeks. Reference books from the school and public libraries provided information about geographical, economic, historical, literary and social aspects of Canada and Canadian life. The class organized special "resource committees" for each Canadian Province and the Northwest Territories.

Vivid color shots of historic sites and monuments, beauty spots, buildings, churches, recreation areas and natural features such as rivers, lakes, islands, rapids, waterfalls and harbor facilities in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec helped to give the class a more intimate and clearer understanding and appreciation of the heart of Canada.

Human interest pictures of the roving butcher and his meat cart, the outdoor ovens, the woodcrafter at work, the river boats, Habitant farms and quaint houses and narrow streets especially interested the class.

As a part of its culminating work, the class was privileged to see a colorful selection of slides from the slide-library of Mr. C. E. Silver of 817 Bedford road. Mr. Silver loaned two of his Canadian travel studies—"Georgian Bay" and "The St. Lawrence Saguenay Cruise."

Russian Chorus Coming Jan. 26

The General Plaffoff Don Cossack Chorus, one of the most famous body of singers in the world, who appear on Saturday, Jan. 26, at Masonic Temple, will sing their way into the hearts of Detroit in just the same way they have done in all the most important cities of the world.

The reputation of this band of 27 Russians, who are sometimes picturesquely known as the "27 singing horsemen of the Steppes," has preceded them wherever they have traveled, a fame which is due not only to their brilliant phonograph recordings and sound films, but to their remarkable stage successes.

The chorus has built up a repertoire of songs, including old Cossack melodies, legends of folklore, battle songs and beautiful lullabies.

In addition to the brilliant singing, the Plaffoff Chorus will give a display of Cossack dancing that will add to their astonishing artistic repertoire.

Grosse Pointe High Basketball Team Outscored By Opponents, 45-34

By FRED RUNNELLS

Royal Oak was determined to win this game and employed a fast break and passing attack coupled with a decided height advantage to conquer the Pointe High basketball team by a 45-34 score in Royal Oak on Saturday.

With one minute of the first quarter remaining Wuerker and Rummel put Grosse Pointe in the ball game with baskets, but Royal Oak held an 11-10 advantage at the end of the quarter.

Throughout the second quarter each team scored every time it got the ball and the lead changed hands constantly until Royal Oak put on a scoring spree with only two minutes remaining in the second quarter. The Blue Devils gradually whittled away at this lead and baskets by Jim Bailey, Dick Wuerker and Johnny Rummel pulled the Devils to within three points of a tie as the horn sounded, ending the first half with Grosse Pointe on the short end of a 24-21 score.

Zauchin, a six foot four inch center, was the thorn in the side of Grosse Pointe's basketball hopes all evening long. He personally accounted for 12 of his team's 24 points in the first half and continued his scoring during the second half to become high point man of the evening with 21 points. After the game it was learned that Zauchin had never scored more than four points in any game before. It was uncanny to watch him make impossible shots, and Zauchin, not Royal Oak, defeated Grosse Pointe.

The Acorns' new man-for-man defense was clicking and up to the intermission the Blue Devils hadn't solved it. Grosse Pointe's own defense was working well but Royal Oak's height took its toll.

Just to prove they weren't just a flash in the pan Royal Oak started the second half with a rush and popped in four points before Grosse Pointe got its hands on the ball. Throughout the third period the Acorns kept pecking away at the scoring column and piled up nine points while Grosse Pointe garnered three, all by Dick Wuerker and held a commanding 33-24 lead going into the last period.

Zauchin went on a rampage in the last quarter and almost outscored the entire Blue Devil team. Zauchin's height controlled the ball off of both back-boards and Royal Oak was gathering in the field goals while the Blue Devils had to be content with free throws. Six of Grosse Pointe's ten points in the last period came on free throws but these points were too few and Royal Oak scored the season's upset.

Grosse Pointe's high point man for the evening was Dick Wuerker with 11, followed closely by big Don McPhail with 9.

The Blue Devils will meet Ford Trade School in a non-league contest at the Trade school gym next Friday evening. The Blue Devils are still very much in the running for the Border City basketball championship because they have lost only one league game. The first game of the season against Pontiac, which the Devils lost by one point, was a non-league game.

There isn't always room for one more

Triplets are an expensive addition to any family. There isn't always room for another in the buggy—or in the budget. And there isn't always room for the extra lamp or appliance you want to have—if your wiring is inadequate. An inadequate wiring system means frequent blown fuses, resetting of circuit breakers and a loss of electricity which you pay for in both money and benefit. Having that recreation room you've always wanted may be a grand idea—that is, until you discover that you can't have lights without a network of "drop cords." And your plan to get Junior's electric train from underfoot by putting it in the attic won't be thwarted if you've modernized your wiring system to meet such needs. Adequate wiring means even distribution of outlets on each circuit, that does away with "overloading" and frequent blown fuses. It means the "full light" of satisfaction in your home.

This is one of a series of advertisements prepared in cooperation with the Electrical Association of Detroit in the interest of insuring adequate wiring for every home in this area. Be sure your home is properly wired. When you are planning a new home, for wiring recommendations, call:

THIS WEEK in SPORTS

By FRED RUNNELLS

Thursday, Jan. 10

DETROIT YACHT CLUB was assured today by Eric R. Greenleaf, secretary of the American Powerboat Association, that it would be permitted to sponsor the 1946 Gold Cup Regatta if one is held this year.

DETROIT RED WINGS did it again. Bill Quackenbush and Harry Watson scored goals within 41 seconds of one another to give the Red shirts another last period victory over the Boston Bruins. The victory puts the Wings just two points behind the deadlocked first place Montreal and Chicago clubs. Just a week ago the Wings were deeply entrenched in fourth place in the NHL standings.

Friday, Jan. 11

MICHIGANS' WOLVERINES set a scoring record when they defeated the much beaten University of Chicago basketball team, 81-23. The previous record was 74-41. The loss was Chicago's fifty-third successive setback.

U of M'S UNDEFEATED hockey team rang up its eighth straight victory in an overtime decision, 5-4, over Colorado College.

BERT BELL, co-owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers, signed a three year contract as commissioner and president of the National Football League. He succeeds Elmer Layden, who has been offered $20,000 a year to remain with the league as adviser.

Saturday, Jan. 12

TORONTO MAPLELEAFS scored a lop sided, 6-1, victory over the Detroit Red Wings to nip the Detroit team's bid for the league lead. It was the Red Wings' first defeat in four games.

WORLD FOOTBALL PRO CHAMPION Cleveland Rams transferred its franchise to Los Angeles. Owner Dan Reeves said despite his team's winning the world title he lost $40,000 during the 1945 season.

BOSTON RED SOX regained the services of two of its pre war stars with the release from service of Ted Williams and Dominic Dimaio.

Sunday, Jan. 13

WILL GAHAGAN, secretary of the United States Trotting Association for the past 34 years, died today. He was a native of Hudson, Michigan.

BYRON NELSON won the $15,000 Victory Bond San Francisco Open Golf Tournament for the third successive year. It was his second major tournament victory of 1945. Last Monday he won the Los Angeles Open which netted him $2,666.67.

Monday, Jan. 14

DICK WAKEFIELD, sensational Tiger outfielder, recently discharged from the service, signed his 1946 contract to play left field for the World Champions. Wakefield cast no light on the terms of the contract. Whether his salary for 1946 was $30,000, $35,000, $40,000 or $45,000 was anybody's guess.

ALOYSIUS "WISH" EGAN was honored by 70 selected guests at a banquet at the Hotel Statler for his services as talent scout for the Detroit Tigers for the past several years. The majority of Tiger stars, past and present, have been the choices of Egan during his tours through the bush leagues and sandlots throughout the nation. Hal Newhouse, Mike Tresh, Dick Wakefield and Barney McCosky were among the players at the dinner who were Egan's "discoveries."

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND students formed picket lines about the classrooms in protest against Football Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant leaving the institution. Classes were suspended.

Tuesday, Jan. 15 MICHIGAN STATE and Wayne University have met in football for eight of the past 10 years, but the series has been terminated by the Spartans with no signs of an early renewal. It is believed Wayne was dropped from the schedule until the school gets a football reputation.

Fertilizer Salesman Meets Rebuff in Park

A salesman for a certain type of lawn fertilizer applied to the Park village Commission for permission to solicit business in the village.

The application seemed to arouse the ire of Commissioner Sage. "These are the chaps who come around to your home and talk you into trying out their prescription and the first thing you know they have sprinkled your lawn with a few handfuls of some evil smelling stuff and then you get a bill for $40 when you could have done it yourself for twenty cents."

Baha'is Hear Guest Speaker

"Where do we go from here?" was the topic of the talk given by Mrs. Dudley Blakely of Bloomfield Hills, guest speaker at a gathering of Pointe Baha'is and friends Monday evening.

"Peace cannot be brought about by legislature alone," said Mrs. Blakely, "for the law courts deal with obvious criminals only. The subtle criminal who finds the loophole of evasion is the one who is hard to catch. We cannot, either, legislate away prejudices and hatreds, which are the cause of our difficulties."

Pointe Reserves Drop First Game

By FRED RUNNELLS
On the bus ride over to Royal Oak Saturday the Blue Devil basketball reserves were giving one another the old pep talk because they realized they had an unbeaten record to defend. For five straight games the reserves had enjoyed the long end of the score and all the boys were all hepped up to add number six to their record.

Although the Blue Devils were at a height disadvantage they out-played their taller rivals throughout the first half and held a 12-11 advantage at the intermission.

During the first half of the game the reserves had trouble with only Don Burke of Royal Oak, who scored nine of his team's 11 points and it looked as though the Blue Devils were a cinch to win their sixth straight game to remain undefeated. What they didn't count on was the pep talk the Royal Oak coach gave his team between periods.

The Acorns came back in the second half and held the Blue Devils to one field goal in the last two periods while the entire Royal Oak team counted three field goals and a free throw in the third period and two free throws in the last period to win.

Refund of Taxes Refused by Park

A petition was received at the Park village Commissioners' meeting Monday night, from the estate of Doris McMillan Hoover, for a refund of $148 in taxes on a property belonging to the estate on Three Mile drive.

The matter had previously been referred to Village Attorney McGraw. He gave it as his opinion that inasmuch as the property on which the refund had been asked had been dismantled subsequent to the making of the assessment, the taxes levied on the assessment could not legally be refunded.

Pursuant to the attorney's opinion the commissioners denied the petition.

Rotarians Hear Edison Speaker

W. B. Hurley of the Detroit Edison company gave a most interesting talk before the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club last Monday on the new and expanding uses of electricity. He told the members of things electrical with which we are just now inaking a bowing acquaintance and will shortly be coming into common use.

He mentioned a type of fan to be placed in either the basement or attic of a home which will completely change the air in the house quickly and quietly without dangerous drafts. Deep freezes of generous capacity will soon be an integral part of every household refrigerator. Fluorescent lighting with any shade or degree of light desired will soon be the accepted mode of house lighting. Most home lighting will be concealed. Television will quickly come into common use, although for some time the radius of transmission will probably be limited to about fifty miles. Sets for family use will soon be on the market for about $250.

One device which Mr. Hurley predicted was on the way was a gadget intended originally to extract tobacco smoke or other objectionable odors from the atmosphere of the home, but now is further developed to possess germicidal powers for many forms of common complaint.

The ubiquitous electric current will come more and more into the status of a great therapeutic agent.

Mr. Hurley said his company had 400,000 horses working to produce electricity at the foot of Lycaete street and extended an invitation to the club members to be the guests of the company at some early date to be decided.

Estimating that 12,000,000 new housing units are needed in the next decade, the Government is moving to facilitate the construction of dwelling units at a maximum cost of $10,000.
